This text is for questions number 11 to 13.

Dear Titi,

It seems that we didn't write each other for a long time. I'll tell you about my visit to Wakatobi.

This was my second trip to Wakatobi, first July 2011 with 2 girl friends then back in Jan 2012 with another friend. Both times I toured around Bali before the stay at the resort, visiting temples and my good friend Amy who lives in Sanur.

The flight from Bali to the resort was 2.5 hours long and I saw beautiful sights on the way. On board, I was served a snack and drinks, it was very good. Once I touched down a van was waiting for me to take me to the dock to board a boat, about 5 min drive. The boat ride was 15 min long and then I was at my vacation destination, Wakatobi!

A man carried my luggage to my hut and I was amazed how beautiful it was, wood walls and flowing drapes around the bed. I did not have any problems with bugs of any type the 17 days I was there. I had a small refrigerator and electric tea pot, I made coffee every day, I got up pretty early. I was in a garden hut, but also had a partial view of the ocean. Air-conditioning was as cool as I would like, and a ceiling fan was also available.

I like macro, but I also like wide angle, not a problem with the diving area. The reefs are the best I have seen anywhere, and that is why I will return time after time.

Cheers,
Caroline

Sweet Coconut Rice Balls (Klepon)

Ingredients :

- 1½ cups glutinous powder
- ¾ cup lukewarm water
- 2-3 drops green food coloring
- 8 tsp. grated Java dark brown sugar
- 1 cup fresh-grated coconut, mixed with ½ tsp salt

How To :

1. Mix the rice powder with the lukewarm water and green food coloring into a firm but flexible dough.
2. Pull off one full teaspoon of the dough and shape it into a ball with approximately 1-inch in diameter.
3. Push a finger into the center of the ball to make a hole, and put in approximately ½ tsp. of the grated sugar. Seal, and roll it back into the ball shape with the palms of your hands. Prepare all the balls and set them aside.
4. Prepare a pot half filled with water and bring it to a boil.

Perhaps the only truly traditional transportation left in Jakarta, delmans (horse-drawn carriages) are getting harder to spot in Jakarta nowadays. They are most commonly used to transport goods from major markets. Delmans can often be found around Pasar Palmerah, Kemanggisan, Cipulir, around big pasar run by PD Pasar Jaya (the city market authority).

On Sundays you can rent a delman in the roads surrounding Monas (the national monument). The locals pile in the kids and have the delman driver take them for a fun ride around the Monas park.

Delmans are often rented by a Betawi family to transport kids around the neighborhood to celebrate a sunatan ceremony (circumcision). When the family rented for parties such as this, the delmans are often decorated with traditional Betawi ornamentation which lends a very festive air.

Delmans have been used by the expatriate community in Permata Hijau for years to carry their kids around the housing complex. They provide great fun for an expat child's birthday party as well.

When renting them, you should bargain to settle on a price as the price varies depending on the distance.

22. What is the text about?
  - A. The traditional means of transportation in Jakarta.
  - ☒ B. The traditional Betawi ornamentation for Delman.

A Pink Coupon from the Sky

Last Sunday, I woke up early. But, I didn't get up because it was a holiday. Suddenly my mobile phone was rung. It was Winda, my best friend. Winda asked me to go out at 09.00 o'clock. She wanted to buy something in the supermarket near my house.

Finally, we were go out at 09.00 o'clock. On the way to go to the supermarket, I saw a piece of pink coupon on the road. Interested with its colour, I took it. Then we read this out. We were absolutely shocked. It was a receipt of three night tour to Bali. The expired date was tomorrow.

We were fully surprised again, the name was Winda Kusumawati and the birth date was exactly the same like Winda, my friend. and it was valid for two persons. Oh, my God! We were thinking that perhaps the coupon just fell from the sky and it was there for me and Winda.

Then, we were in hurried to the address of the tour agency that issued the coupon. We were happy that the tour agency took care of everything. We went home and still could not believe what was going on.

The next day we left home and flied to Denpasar, Bali. We stayed in a big and luxurious hotel near Kuta Beach. We laid in the sun warmth in Kuta Beach. We played on the white sands. We rode banana boat. We took some beautiful scenery. We also bought some souvenir for our family and friends.

We enjoyed the holiday very much. We were very happy.

Wait Next to the Tree for the Rabbit

Long ago, there was a lazy rice farmer. One day after he had worked for a little while in the hot sun, he went to take a break underneath a shade tree not far from his rice paddies.

While he was leaning against the tree trunk, closing his eyes to rest, suddenly he was disturbed by a loud thump! A rabbit had crashed into the tree on which he was resting. A wild animal had been chasing the rabbit, and the rabbit died from the impact with the tree. The farmer was thrilled at his unexpected fortune.

He picked up the rabbit and took it home, even though there was work for him in the rice paddies. He cleaned the rabbit and cooked the meat for supper. Then he took the rabbit skin to the market and sold it for a good price. The farmer was very happy. He thought to himself, "Hmm, if I can find a rabbit every day, I will not only have delicious rabbit meat to eat, I will also have more money than I can make working as a farmer in the hot sun!"

The next day, the lazy farmer didn't work in his rice paddies. He sat under the same tree and waited for another rabbit to come. But no rabbit came crashing into the tree.

From then on, he waited under the tree every day. He completely ignored his farm work. Eventually, his paddies grew full of weeds.

When his friends finally talked him into going back to work, he was still full of hope, saying, "If I can get a rabbit every day, it is much more comfortable than working in the hot sun."

In the end, he had nothing-neither a rabbit nor a grain of rice from his rice paddies.

HOANG NHU TRAN is a former Vietnamese refugee who was recently chosen as one of America's twenty outstanding college students. When he graduated from the U.S Air Force Academy, he was accepted by Harvard Medical School. His life is a remarkable story of his escape from war-torn Vietnam to success in the United States.

Hoang was born in Saigon in 1966 and spent the early part of his childhood there. When Saigon fell in 1975, Hoang and his family escaped on a boat with two hundred other people. They sailed for three days, and then they were picked up by a rescue ship and taken to Guam. They stayed there for a month. After that, they went to California as refugees. Later, they settled in a trailer park in Fort Collins, Colorado, and Hoang started school.

While he was at school, Hoang studied hard and was an outstanding student. After he graduated from high school, he won a full four-year college scholarship. However, he chose instead to enter the U.S. Air Force Academy. With a double major in biology and chemistry, Hoang made the dean's list six times. He also became the school's wrestling champion, played on the rugby team, and was an expert marksman.

And what are Hoang's plans for the future? He says, "Maybe I'll be in aviation medicine, maybe an astronaut. But at the end, I want to serve the world, to help all mankind."

LOOP-THE-LOOP PAPER PLANE

Materials needed :

- A sheet of heavy paper
- A pencil
- Sharp scissors
- A paper clip
- Crayons

Method :

Here's a paper airplane that will fly in circles.

- First fold the paper in half the long way.
- Then draw an airplane with wings and tail on it.
- Next draw a line about an inch away from the fold on each side the full length of paper.
- Then cut out the airplane, but do not cut on the fold.
- After that spread out the airplane and colour it. You can draw airplane markings near each wing tip.
- Next refold your airplane. Now fold each wing down along the line drawn on it.
- Then add a paper clip to the nose. You can change the way your airplane flies by changing the wing shape and putting more than one paper clip on the nose.

40. What do you need to colour the paper plane?
 A. A pencil.
 B. Scissors.
 C. Crayons.
 D. A paper clip.
41. What should you do before you refold the airplane?
 A. Draw a line on each side the full length of paper.
 B. Fold the paper in half the long way.
 C. Spread out the airplane and color it.
 D. Add a paper clip to the nose.
42. 'After that spread out the airplane and colour it.' What is the synonym of the underlined word?
