

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 1 – Royal Summoning

---

"Huh?"

I was dropping by the neighborhood library for a quick read.

I, Iwatami Naofumi, am a sophomore from a local university. I'm quite self-conscious about being somewhat more of an otaku compared to other homo-sapiens.

I've embraced countless anime, games, and other aspects of otaku culture, but I do take my studies seriously so that I could lead a proper life.

Actually, my parents had swiftly given up on me and invested their hopes onto my little brother by sending him off to attend some famous cram school.

This brilliant eyesore of a brother finally snapped one day and transformed into a delinquent due to all the accumulated stress. He bleached his hair and went full yankee mode once he arrived home one fateful day, and thus marked the start of our family's dark age.

That was when I, the messiah, made his debut!

I tenderheartedly welcomed this ill-humored and tongue-clicking brother of mine and recommended him to a famous galge.

"Haha!? Would you look at this mess!"

"Wut, I was fooled, just wait until I get the hang of this and you'll see."

I knew it all. All about the cause of my delinquent brother's transformation.

On one hand you have me, who grew up doing whatever the hell he wanted, while on the other hand my brother was forced to study like a mad man.

Therefore, once a slacking-specialist like me baited him with a few games, he instantly became hooked like an addict.

As far as I was concerned, the world's otaku count had once again increased by one.

Afterwards, his room turned into a castle of galge goodies from the games I recommended.

However, the vexing part was that once all the steam and stress vanished from his system, he graduated from that certain famous cram school with ease and headed straight down the road to becoming one of society's top dogs.

Nonetheless, thanks to my heroic achievements, my parents pampered me to an even greater degree. I was granted a fulfilling college life with the utmost freedom included.

To sum it all up, I am the useless leech of the Iwatami household.

Now enough with the rant, I was dropping by the neighborhood library for a quick read.

My monthly war chest, funded by my parents, amounted to 10,000 yen.

Such a meager amount lasted only for a moment when faced against manga-adaptions-of-light-novels, erogé, erogon, and other great products from far and wide.

Part-time jobs during the summer and winter seasons got me another 50,000 yen worth of war funds, but when one decided to partake in the local festival, this amount of money would soon disappear.

Yet when my brother desperately begged as if his life depended on it, our parents agreed to provide us with lodging within the festival's general vicinity for its entire duration, but that still wasn't enough...

Well, to maintain one's livelihood, one has no choice but to learn how to conserve one's wallet; just barely enough for tuition and basic life necessities.

Thus in order to save money, even though it pains my heart to do so, I have to read old books from second-hand bookstores and the library.

During my free time, I usually play net games that proved to be infinitely time-consuming as I tried to master each one of them.

I'm the type that likes to play around with a wide array of trivial knowledge to begin with.

Reaching max level in a game wasn't as interesting and addictive as hoarding money to me. Even right now, the character which I created was currently vending on the streets while trying to sell off rare items.

Hence, the real me with nothing to do was quite bored.

That's the reason.

The reason behind the incident that was about to occur.

I was lurking around the section that dealt with old fantasy books.

At any rate, when compared to mankind's history, the fantasy aspect seems to be quite outdated. Even the Holy Scriptures could be considered a phantasm of sorts.

"Four Heavenly Weapon's Manual?"

For some reason, only this ancient looking, retro-sounding book had fallen from the bookshelves.

Most likely, some random guy must have quickly shoved this book onto the shelf and went on his merry way.

This must have been a sign of destiny calling.

I sat down on a chair and started reading the Four Heavenly Weapon's Manual.

Flip... Flip...

The story began with the description of a parallel world.

To summarize, it prophesied the world's demise.

Sooner or later, waves of disaster will assault this world one after another until it's finally destroyed.

To escape the impending doom, they have to summon heroes from other worlds and request their aid.

... Ok. The plot's a bit overused, but since this is a retro-fantasy book, it doesn't seem to be out of place.

The four summoned Heroes all possessed their own respective, unique weapons: Sword, Spear, Bow, and Shield.

Aiya ~ to begin with, a shield can't even be considered a weapon, right? ~

I chuckled sarcastically as I continued with the story.

The heroes then ventured separately, in order to gain power in preparation against the waves of disaster.

"Fuwaaa"

Crap, I'm getting sleepy.

A regal urge to sleep swept through my body. Even though this book is ancient, there has been no cute heroine appearing at all.

Although, even if a princess were to appear, she would undoubtedly smell like an irritating slut in heat with a harem involving the four heroes.

Enough with the princess, let's take a glance at the heroes' characteristics, onto the first one.

The Sword Hero probably had overwhelming combat strength, while the Spear Hero was probably the considerate type of guy.

I wondered if the Bow Hero would be able to get rid of a horrible dictator like Robin Hood did.

Huh? The story was shifting towards the Shield Hero.

"A-re?"

As I flipped to the next page, I instinctively let out a voice.

The page concerning the Shield Hero that spread out in front of me was white.

No matter which angle or direction I looked at the page, it was pure white through and through.

"What the heck?"

Right when those words left my mouth, my consciousness drifted away.

Never in my wildest dreams would I have ever thought that I would awaken in a parallel world.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 2 – Hero Introduction

---

"Oooh..."

A voice full of admiration brought me back to my senses.

As I settled down, what filled my view was a bunch of men wearing robes, looking in my direction with dumbfounded expressions.

"What?"

Following the robed men's line of sight, I found three others who also seemed to have trouble grasping the situation.

I inclined my head as I thought: What on earth happened?

A while ago I was in the neighborhood library... where was I now?

I restlessly checked my surroundings, and all that I found were brick walls in every direction.

So this place was made out of bricks? I didn't recall seeing anything like this place before. It certainly couldn't be the library.

Below me, there was an altar and various geometric patterns that were painted with fluorescent paint.

They resembled what magic circles or alchemic formulas may look like in a fantasy setting. It was that sort of vibe which they gave off.

And on top of the altar stood the four of us.

That's the gist of it... but, why do I have a shield attached to me?

The shield fit perfectly and was strangely light. Worried about why it was stuck to me, I slammed the shield against the floor with all my might, but it refused to dislodge from my arm.

"Where is this place?"

The guy with the sword gave into his anxiety and asked one of the robed men.

"Ooh, Please brave heroes! Please somehow save this world!"

""""""WHAT!?"""""""

All of us said unanimously.

"What did you mean by that?"

What was with this cliché line? I felt as though I may have read it in a web novel before.

"Many things happened, and due to our justified motive which is driven by certain circumstances, we were able to summon you brave Heroes through an ancient spell."

"Summoned."

Mhmm. That's the word. The chance of a shocking revelation for this situation was oddly high. But for now, we'll keep listening to their story to see what it has to offer.

"This world is currently facing a global state of crisis. Brave Ones, please lend us your might."

The robed man bowed deeply to us while saying so.

"Well... This is a bit sudden--"

"What a pain."

"Is that so?"

"Can I just go back to my old world? I already heard this kind of story before."

While I was engrossed with their story, the other three interrupted me midway.

Wait?

Did they just immediately give an answer to this desperate guy who's bowing so low as if giving the ground a mooch?

They jumped the gun after only hearing the intro of this story.

The other three were all glaring intensely at me now while I was pondering in silence.

... I gave them a half smile. The tension in the room was rising to a delicate level as time passed.

Aren't you jerks actually happy?

Well isn't this a cherished, world-leaping dream come true here...

Your attitudes are pretty cliché, huh? But dudes, this is the part where you need to hear them out.

"Aren't you people guilty over summoning us without our consent?"

The guy with the sword, who looked like a high school student, pointed his sword at the robed men.

"For instance, we won't just fight for world peace and then return to our old world empty handed, right?"

The guy with the bow scowled at the robed men's direction.

"You guys don't seem to take much consideration into our own plans, do you? Depending on what you have to offer, we might end up becoming this world's enemy instead, got it?"

So that's what was up. They were demanding tribute after confirming their social standings.

These guys are quite macho, I felt like I've lost in a very meaningful department.

"Well first, I'd like you all to have an audience with the king. We can discuss your reward then."

The representative of the robed men opened the heavy looking door to guide us through.

"...Guess it can't be helped."

"Right."

"Duh, the guy we'll be meeting changes, but I bet the story's still the same."

The macho bunch arrived at their own conclusions before following. I hastily trailed behind them.

We left the dark room and passed through a corridor made out of stone.

...I wonder why? Was it due to my limited vocabulary that the atmosphere here could only be described as 'delicious'?

Our breathes were taken away as we took a peek at the scene outside of the window.

Spanning off into the horizon, a town much like one from Medieval Europe could be seen.

All too mesmerized by the townscape laid before us, we walked down the corridor and reached the audience chamber in no time flat.

"Hou, are these fellows the Ancient Heroes?"

On the throne in the audience chamber sat a prideful grandpa who began evaluating us when we arrived.

For some reason, our impression wasn't too good...

I personally despise the act of licking other person's boots.

"I am the king of this country, Aultcray. The thirty-second ruler of Melromarc. Brave ones, please raise your heads."

I wasn't even looking down! Damn, I felt like punching this bastard, but I'll refrain from doing so for now.

Speaking as if he was superior in our first meeting, I guess it couldn't be helped since he was a king and all.

"Now then, let us explain our situation. This country, and moreover, this whole world is facing its demise."

To summarize the king's story.

At the present, words of demise had once been prophesied. This world will be assaulted by waves of calamity which will one day turn everything to ruin. To save the world, these waves must be repelled before they can be dispersed.

This era marks the prophesied year, according to the words of demise.

There exists a giant, ancient hourglass which continues to drip down ceaselessly. It has the ability to forecast when the waves will arrive and began its warning one month ago. According to the legends, each wave will come in roughly one month intervals.

Initially, the residents of this country didn't show much concern over the prophecy. However, the hourglass had completed its first turn and a wave of disaster occurred just as the words of demise foretold.

A dimension crack appeared in this country, Melromarc, where hideous and brutal demons crept out in large quantities.

Other adventurers and knights barely managed to repel them. However, the next incoming wave would be even more powerful.

It seemed like the worst case scenario was about to occur.

At this rate, the disaster won't be repelled.

That was the basic outline of their situation.

By the way, it looked like our legendary armaments had the ability to translate languages for us.

"I understand your dilemma. But who gave you the right to summon us into doing manual labor for free?"

"That is one hell of a convenient story."

"... Even if that is the case, and this isn't me being selfish or anything, but if this world is going into ruin then let it be destroyed. This matter doesn't even concern us."

The person in front of me laughed loudly. Aren't you also secretly jumping for joy inside that heart of yours, dude?

Well, I guess I'll take advantage of this situation too.

"Certainly, we have no obligation to help you. In the end it'll just be fruitless labor for us. And once peace comes, you guys will just go 'sayonara'<sup>[6]</sup> as if nothing happened. So to prevent such a sad outcome from occurring, I'd like to hear some form of insurance from you. Surely you have something to present us, right?"

"Fumu..."

The king sent his vassal a glance.

"Of course, we planned on rewarding the Brave Ones fully for their efforts."

Including me, the Heroes made a guts pose<sup>[8]</sup> with a clenched fist.

Jackpot! First phase of negotiations complete.

"I had already made arrangements to aid your cause with money. And surely, since the Brave Heroes will be protecting our world, housing is necessary. For that purpose I have already prepared a fitting place for you Brave Ones to rest."

"Eh~ ... Those are all well and good promises then."

"Don't think that we can be tamed with only this much though. You'll have to continue giving your cooperation if you don't want us to turn rogue."

"... That's right."

"Righto~"

What was wrong with these guys? Always looking down on people.

The immediate threat right now was us becoming the kingdom's enemy.

Well, we need to stay on top of things or else all our efforts will be in vain, with nothing but empty pockets to show for it.

"Well then, Heroes. Let us hear each of your names."

Hold on a sec. Wasn't this just like the book, the "Four Heavenly Weapon's Manual," that I read a while ago?

We have the sword, spear, bow, and shield.

Coincidentally, we were also called Heroes. So doesn't that mean we got sucked inside the book's world?

The Sword Hero stepped forward and began his self-introduction.

"My name is Amaki Ren. Age 16, a high schooler."

Hero of the Sword, Amaki Ren. First impressions: a bishounen high school student would best describe him.

He seemed to have taken great care of his facial features. Although he was a bit short, only about 165cm.

If this guy cross-dressed, no one would ever doubt that he was a girl. A perfect trap. His short-cut hair was a light brown color.

Long, slated eyes and white skin, he somehow gave off a cool vibe.

He looked like a slender swordsman.

"Okay, next up will be yours truly. My name's Kitamura Motoyasu. 21 this year, a university student."

Hero of the Spear, Kitamura Motoyasu. First impressions: he looked like the carefree type yet gave off the vibe of a real man.

I've lost. His face was too refined even for a handsome guy. At least one or two girlfriends, that was his image as an experienced playboy.

He was sporting a ponytail: a hairstyle that didn't match a male, yet somehow it didn't look out of place for him.

He had a caring older brother kind of feel.

"It's my turn next. My name is Kawasumi Itsuki. 17 right now, another high school student."

Hero of the Bow, Kawasumi Itsuki. First impressions: a timid boy who enjoyed piano lessons.

He seemed to lead a fleeting life yet also possessed a reliable, tenacious strength. His aura was quite vague and mysterious.

A few curly hair strands made him look like he had a wavy perm hairstyle.

He gave off the feeling of a docile younger brother.

Everyone looked Japanese. It was quite surprising with the whole foreign setting.

Whoops, it was my turn already.

"And lastly, I'm Iwatani Naofumi. Age 20, university student."

The king casually looked past me.

A weird feeling shot through my spine.

"Fumu. Ren, Motoyasu, and Itsuki, huh?"

"Your liege, you forgot about me."

"Oh sorry, Naofumi-dono."

Seriously, this old man had some short-term memory issues. That was just... Somehow, I was feeling out of place here; please don't forget about me at least.

"Now then, everyone please confirm your own status. As a matter of fact, I would like you all to visually check for yourselves."

"Eh?"

Just what is this 'Status'!?

"Etto<sup>[12]</sup>, how do I go about seeing this?"

Itsuki timidly asked for the king's guidance.

Well duh, you don't just go around throwing the word 'Status' without a proper explanation!

"The hell, man. You guys didn't even notice that much after coming to this world?"

Ren was utterly shocked by his colleagues' ignorance.

How should I know! It was like, what exactly was there for me to notice, your face?

"Well whatever, do you see that icon in the corner of your vision?"

"Eh?"

When he said that, I noticed a weird, dim icon along the edge of my vision.

"Focus your mind on it and you'll see."

Pikon~ And as it light lit up silently, a browser with bigger icons similar to a PC's popped into my view.

Iwatani Naofumi

Occupation: Hero of the Shield Level 1

Equipment: Small Shield (Legendary Armament), Parallel World's Clothes

Skill: None

Magic: None

There was a bunch of other data but let's omit that part.

So this was the 'Status'.

But what the hell was this! It was strangely like a game.

"Level 1 huh... this doesn't look very reassuring."

"Right, I don't even know if it's possible to fight like this."

"That's exactly what I meant."

"Tools like these don't exist in the Brave Ones' world? This Status magic can be used by everyone in this world, helping to improve ourselves."

"Is that so?"

Your real body's prowess was represented by numerical values and could be naturally raised through these numbers. This was quite surprising.

"So then, what should we do now? Our current values seem rather troubling."

"Fumu. From now on, you Brave Heroes will need to venture forth so that you may hone and strengthen both yourselves as well as your legendary armaments."

"Strengthen? Does that mean that our starting equipment isn't strong enough?"

"Yes, the legendary weapon of each summoned Hero has their own special method of enchantment. By doing so they can become very powerful."

"Legend this, legend that. It's fine not to change weapons as long as it can function properly as a weapon, no?"

Motoyasu whirled his spear around while commenting.

That was indeed correct. But mine was a shield. It wasn't even a weapon and was something that needed to be upgraded regularly.

"That doesn't matter right now, so we can leave it for later. More importantly, what we need is to improve our own abilities, right?"

This was a moefic situation where Heroes from parallel worlds were summoned.

Like a springtime of youth where one's reckless emotions swelled up from deep inside.

The number one dream filled with exciting adventures that will never cease.

Focusing on their weapons was usually the case for everyone that was involved in such a situation.

"So are we going to form a party with the four of us?"

"Brave Heroes, please hold for a moment."

"Huh?"

Even though we were advised to set out right away.

"Each of you Brave Heroes will need to recruit your own companions and begin your adventures separately."

"And the reason for that is?"

"Yes. According to legend, it's said that the legendary armaments will reject one another should you Brave Heroes band together, interfering with the growth of both the owners and the weapons."

"I don't really get it, but if we act together, we can't increase our power?"

Huh? Wasn't it suppose to be something along the lines of: 'If we group the legendary weapons together, they will help each other?'

Everyone shared a glance with one another.

Attention. If those who possess the legendary weapons worked together on a united front, a repulsing reaction will occur. Therefore, let us move individually as much as possible.

"That really does seem to be the case..."

Just what was up with this game-ish explanation?

It seemed like I have entered a completely game-like world.

The usages of this weapon were conveniently lined up for me and were described in great detail. Though sadly, I didn't have the time to read in its entirety right now.

"Improving ourselves and recruiting comrades. Which should be done first, I wonder?"

"Please allow me the honor of preparing your comrades. At any rate, the sun is already beginning to set. Brave Ones, please take your time and rest for the day. You may depart for your journey tomorrow. During that time I shall make arrangements and scout for talented individuals who can accompany you on your destiny."

"Thank you very much."

"Thank you."

We each expressed our thanks. And the king, having decided our course for today, prepared our guest room for us to rest.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 3 – Heroes' Discussion

---

Sitting on the luxurious beds inside the guest room, everyone was staring intensely at their own weapon as they went over its description.

The sun outside the window had already set before I even noticed.

That was how focused everyone was at reading the descriptions.

Etto, unlike regular weapons, the legendary weapons didn't require routine maintenance.

Based on the owner's level, the weapon will be able to absorb different raw materials; the Weapon Manual will also fill up as we defeat monsters.

At a glance, it seemed to contain a variety of branches which the weapon could change into.

I clicked on my Weapon Icon which opened up the Weapon Manual.

Tada-----!

Tons of picture icons popped up and spanned onwards, even beyond the menu window in front of me.

I didn't have the ability to change into any of these shields right now, but they were all described in detail.

Incredible...

Fumu fumu, it seemed that some arms could only be unsealed by evolving its predecessor first.

This type of setup; wasn't this similar to the skill trees utilized in online games?

Learning new skills was like evolving the weapon, as both were necessary to unlock your true potential...

Seriously, this was just like a video game.

"Yo, doesn't this all seem pretty game-like?"

Might as well request some aid from my other colleagues. However, my question was only met with silence.

"Seriously dude, isn't this an actual game? I've known some which are like this."

Motoyasu proudly boasted.

"Eh?"

"Are you saying that you don't even know about this famous online game?"

"Well no, but was there a game that even a splendid otaku such as myself didn't know of?"

"So you scrubs really don't know? This is Emerald Online, man."

"What's that? Never even heard of that one."

"Just how ignorant can you guys be? It's such a famous title too."

"Of course I know games like Odin Online and Fantasy Moon Online, aren't these pretty popular too?!"

"What are those? This is the first time I've heard of them."

"Eh?"

"Eh?"

"If I may interject, everyone. This world isn't a net game, but more like a console game!"

"That's wrong, bro. This is a VRMMO, right?"

"Hah? Well for instance, isn't this world similar to games where you click and use a controller to operate?"

Confused, Motoyasu tilted his head with a dumbfounded expression during our conversation.

"Click? Controller? What kind of retro games are you referring to? Don't people usually mean VRMMO when they say 'net game' these days?"

"VRMMO? As in Virtual Reality MMO? What kind of sci-fi world setting are you trying to create? Are you daydreaming here?"

"HUH!?"

A loud sound of disagreement was released.

Come to think of it, this Ren guy was the first to notice our "Status" magic. He gave off the impression of someone who was accustomed to this.

"Well then... gentlemen, I'd like to ask each of you to name a game from your world which bears the closest resemblance to this one."

Itsuki requested with his hand slightly raised.

"Brave Star Online."

"Emerald Online."

"None. I mean, this is simply a game-like type of world, right?"

I could understand that this place felt game-ish. But seriously dudes, you guys thought that I couldn't even tell the difference between a game and reality?

"Ah. As for myself, this world is like a console game called Dimension Wave."

A game title which no one else knew of yet again.

"Hold on for a minute, let's reorganize our information."

Motoyasu said while putting a hand on his forehead as he tried to calm us down.

"Hey. Tell me what you know about the situation with VRMMO, will you?"

"It's common where I live."

"Itsuki, Naofumi. What about you guys?"

"If I recall correctly, it only exists in Sci-fi."

"I remember reading about it in a light novel before."

"Is that so. I suppose I did get that vibe off of you. Then back to you, Ren, what's this Brave Star Online? Is it a VRMMO?"

"Yeah that's right, VRMMOs are ones like Brave Star Online. It has a world system very similar to this world's setup."

Just for reference, VRMMO involved a technology where one's brain waves were analyzed and deconstructed into data, which allows that person to dive into another world produced by a computer. That was my understanding of it more or less.

"If that's true then, does that mean the world that you two came from only has retro games like the ones you both mentioned earlier?"

He said with his head inclined.

"Reviewing what I know about gaming history, those type of computer games clearly did exist at one point. But for some reason I don't recognize any of those supposedly famous titles which you guys mentioned."

Motoyasu and I both nodded.

Without question, not knowing a popular online game was certainly strange. And while there was a chance that our preferences were simply too different, it was blatantly impossible not recognize a single renowned title between all of us.

"Let's try asking a common question. What's the name of the current Prime Minister?"

"Hai hai."

Everyone nodded.

"Let's say it together."

Gukurin...

"Yuda Masato."

"Yawahara Tsuyoshi Tarou."

"Odaka Enichi."

"Itsufuji Shigeya."

"""" ... """"

These were Prime Ministers I had never even heard of before. It's not the kind of mistake I would ever make in a history class test.

After that we asked about famous internet slang, net pages, and more online games.

And thus, we arrived at the same conclusion of not knowing anyone else's information.

"Apparently, it seems that we all came from different Japans."

"Looks that way. You guys definitely didn't come from the same Japan as me."

"This means there's another Japan for each distinctive world."

"There's a high chance that each of them belong in a separate era too, since they don't match each other at all."

This was an explicit gathering of four weird individuals.

But even so, we all came to an understanding that everyone here was an otaku. So there was no need to panic.

"Based on this pattern, I think everyone has a different reason for being here."

"Idle conversation isn't one of my hobbies, but I guess it's necessary for us to obtain information."

Ren awkwardly scratched his nose; though I was totally cool when people revealed their insecurities.

"I was walking back home from school, when I unfortunately encountered a troubling murder incident."

"Fumu fumu."

"I tried helping my childhood friend who was with me at the time, and somehow I managed to capture the killer, but that's as far as I can remember."

... Ren explained his circumstances while rubbing at his side the whole time. Saving your childhood friend; what kind of hero were you trying to make yourself out to be? I had a strong urge to play the straight man but showed some restraint for now.

Look man, capturing the perp was good and all, but if you got your sides stabbed at the end then what good does that do?

Such a false display of chivalry here; this fellow Hero needed to be placed in the untrustworthy category. Though I'll let it slide this time.

"I was already in this World before I even felt a thing."

"I see, a heroic situation<sup>[9]</sup> where you save your childhood friend."

I coolly feigned while complimenting him with a chuckle. I've already heard enough, bro.

"Then I'll go next."

Motoyasu pointed at himself and began to speak.

"For me, it was because I had too many girlfriends<sup>[11]</sup>."

"Yeah yeah, that totally was the case."

This guy seemed like the annoying onii-san type who gave off a booty-chasing image.

"And after doing a bit of this and that..."

"Did you get stabbed for two-timing or three-timing?"

That idiot Ren asked with a straight face.

Motoyasu's eyes blinked with surprise before he gave a small nod.

"Man... Girls are really scary, aren't they?"

"GOD DAMN IT!"

I was overcome with anger and shoved my middle finger into his face.

Die, asshole. I mean, were you summoned into this world because that's how you died?

Otto. Itsuki had a hand on his chest and was already beginning his confession.

"I guess it's my turn now. When I was crossing the street on my way home from cram school... a dump truck took a sharp corner turn. And afterwards..."

"" ... ""

In all likelihood he was run over... that was one hell of a pitiful ending.

Eh?

Wait a second, these stories didn't seem to mesh well with mine?

"Um... Do I absolutely have to recount my story on what happened before I came to this world?"

"Well duh, we already told you ours."

"I suppose so. Sorry to say, guys. But as far as I remember, all I was doing was reading a suspicious book inside the library."

"" ... ""

Everyone's gaze felt so cold.

What? We couldn't be friends just because I came into this world without a tragic ending?

The three of them began to secretly whisper amongst each other while leaving me out of the loop.

"But... that person... has the shield..."

"Right... same as our place?"

"Oh..."

Why did I feel like I was being treated like a fool?

Let's try changing the topic.

"Well guys, how would you rate this world now that we know the rules and how its system works?"

"So-so."

"It's not that bad."

"It's nice in its own way."

I see how it is... I was being treated like a total noob here!

That was mean.

"Hey, hey. Can't you guys teach me how to fight and stuff? Since my world didn't have this kind of game after all."

How can you guys be so cold-hearted? Motoyasu and Itsuki were staring at me with awfully charitable eyes.

"Alright, Motoyasu onii-san here will teach you the very basics at least."

Motoyasu raised his hands up to his putrid phony face.

"So first, according to my knowledge from Emerald Online, Shield... people who use shields as their main weapon are usually..."

"Yeah?"

"First of all, you have high defense. Secondly, even though your defense is high, if you keep on taking damage like an idiot, you'll die."

"Okay..."

"So your loser class will never be able to reach a high level."

"NOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!"

I didn't want to hear that part!

What kind of death flag was this?! I was stuck with a deadbeat occupation right off the bat. OI!

"Update! Shouldn't there be a patch update?!"

There was a thing called job balancing, right?!

"Nope, it's a totally pitiful class when pitted against Bosses and even common mobs. That's why they just leave it alone. And also, there was that class-abolishing decision..."

"Aren't there job upgrades?!"

"Perhaps that only happens when you die?"

"Then how about a job change option?!"

"You can't change to another class skill tree anyways, right?"

GEH!? If all of this was true then I was stuck with this backbreaking occupation and somehow had to make do?

I glared at my shield as I thought.

Hey you, why do you have such a bleak, chocolate-colored future?

"How about with you guys?"

I look imploringly into Ren's and Itsuki's eyes.

Both of them casually averted their eyes.

"Sorry..."

"Same here..."

EK! Did this mean that I was condemned to be a failure?

The three of them were giving me side glances while they talked about each of their respective games.

"So how's the geography?"

"The names are different but hardly anything else. It's very likely that the performance and distribution of demons are the same here too."

"Our weapon hunting locations are roughly the same, but let's not hunt at the same place as each other."

"True enough, we need to take efficiency into consideration as well."

Why was it always them? Why didn't I also awaken with a hex ability? That was what I had been brooding over.

... That's right.

If I was weak, then couldn't I just find companions to rely on?

How come I hadn't thought of this sooner?

Even if I'm no good, I can still grow stronger by joining a party.

"Fufu... It's all good. This is a special parallel world. So even if I'm weak, I'll be able to manage somehow."

The three of them looked at me as if I was a pitiful existence. But fear not, I won't be defeated by you guys. To begin with, my equipment was only a type of armor so it was different from a game. I could just focus on strengthening another weapon and ignore this shield's special growth.

"YAY! I'll work hard at it!"

I shouted to invigorate myself.

"Brave Heroes, your meals have been prepared."

Oh? Apparently we'll be eating dinner now.

"Hai hai"

Everyone stepped out of the door, the guide then lead everyone to the knight's dining room.

The castle's banquet hall was like a scene from a fantasy movie.

A complete feast filled the table in a buffet-like fashion.

"Everyone, please go ahead and eat whatever you desire."

"What the? Are we eating the same stuff that your knights eat?"

A small grumble was heard, whoever said that sure was rude as hell.

"Of course not."

The guide shook his head.

Eh?

"This cuisine was specially prepared for the Brave Heroes and will be divided once you have eaten."

I looked around as he said so.

I noticed that the noisy bunch of people were actually cooks.

I see, so there was also a ranking order when it comes to meals.

Eating here was a form of initiation, meant to introduce us to the knights.

"Thank you, let's dig in."

"Umm."

"I suppose."

And thus, we thoroughly enjoyed this parallel world's cuisine.

The smell and taste was a bit odd, but there was nothing that couldn't be eaten.

Well, the food had a unique kind of twist to them, like an omelet type food which tasted like an orange.

After finishing our meal, we headed back to our room for some rest.

"Do they have baths here?"

"This place is pretty medieval-ish... So I guess the chance of it being an open air bath is fairly high."

"Personally, I don't think they have any."

"Well it's only our first day right now."

"I suppose. Time to hit the sack. We'll begin our journey tomorrow, so let's give it our best."

Everyone nodded at Motoyasu's words and went to bed.

My epic adventure will start tomorrow!

The other three and I went to bed, awaiting impatiently for the next day to arrive.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 4 – Specially Arranged Gold

---

Good morning.

After breakfast, we were impatiently called upon by the king.

As expected, there wasn't much noise this early in the morning; it should be around 10 AM based on the position of the sun... We received the summons just as I was thinking that.

We quickened our steps, our chests filled with excitement while we made our way towards the audience chamber.

“The honored Heroes have arrived.”

The audience chamber doors swung open, and inside were twelve people clad in various styles of adventurer outfits.

There were also those dressed in knight-like garb.

Hoh... The king's influence sure is amazing.

We bowed down to the king and listened to what he had to say.

“As promised yesterday, I have recruited companions who will accompany you on your journey. Apparently, everyone gathered has already decided which hero they wish to follow.”

Each of us should be getting three people if we divided them up evenly.

"Now then, future champions. Please set forth with the Hero to whom you shall swear your allegiance to."

Eh? We didn't get to choose?

It was a surprising development.

Oh well, if we seriously considered it, this parallel world's customs might weigh the citizens' wishes more heavily than orders from its regime.

We were lined up in a sequential order.

Our future allies then walked over and gathered in front of each of us.

Ren, 5 people

Motoyasu, 4 people

Itsuki, 3 people

Me, 0 Homo Sapiens

"Ou-sama, PLEASE WAIT A MOMENT!"

What the hell! Isn't this clearly straight up, simple harassment?

Cold sweat ran down the king's face when I voiced my complaint.

"We-well. Dear me, I would never have thought such a situation could occur."

"There's quite a difference in charisma amongst them."

The minister painted his whole face with amazement.

A robed man then began to secretly whisper into the king's ear.

"Fumu, did such a rumor spread..?"

"Did something happen?"

Motoyasu put up a sympathetic face and asked.

Like I thought, this reeked of extreme prejudice.

What the hell, this was like being the only kid left out when children were forming sport teams in elementary school.

I wanted to ignore this feeling which existed even in a parallel world too.

"Fumu. To be honest... there seems to be a rumor spreading around the castle about you Heroes, or more specifically the Shield Hero."

"Hah!?"

"According to the legends, Heroes that come to this world must meet a certain condition. It appears you alone didn't fulfill this condition, such is the rumor."

Motoyasu poked me with his elbow.

"Did someone eavesdrop on our chat yesterday?"

Is it because I didn't know about the games? Was that the reason why everyone was repulsed by me?

I mean, what's wrong with these legends?

Even though I'm unfamiliar with them, I'm still the Shield Hero, you know!

I might have a loser's weapon according to the other heroes, but that doesn't mean I'm playing around, okay!

"Hey, Ren! Give me someone since you have five people."

The female adventurers, including one man, shrank behind Ren and looked at me like frightened lambs.

For some reason, Ren was roughly scratching his head before he shook it.

"I hate being tagged along by others. Anyone who doesn't have the resolve to follow me, please leave."

And even after saying such a heartless statement, absolutely no one showed any signs of moving away from him.

"Motoyasu, my friend! Don't you think that this is too cruel?"

"Well..."

By the way, there seemed to be an oddly high ratio of women in here.

This smelled like a Harem declaration of war.

"This is such a shit load of bias."

And why were Motoyasu's companions all women? This guy seemed to be a chick magnet wherever he went.

Itsuki also wore a worried face, which revealed his reluctance of parting with any of his beloved companions.

"I guess you've got your fair share of 3 people... so it's not good to take someone by force."

Itsuki nodded his head, at a loss for words.

"So then, do I really have to depart alone?!"

It's a shield, yo! A loser's weapon according to the theories, yo!

Just watch me grow stronger even without comrades!

"Ah, Yuusha-sama, I'd like to accompany the Shield Hero instead."

One of Motoyasu's former female companions raised her hand and expressed her candidacy as my ally.

"Oh? Really?"

"Yes."

A lovely girl with semi-long crimson hair.

Her face is pretty cute, isn't it? She has youthful facial features, yet she's slightly shorter than me.

"Is there anyone else that wishes to fall under Naofumi-dono's protection?"

At this scene... no one showed any sign of moving.

The king let out a grieving sigh.

"So, there is no one else. Unfortunately Naofumi-dono, it appears you will need to scout for additional talent yourself. But fret not, for I shall be giving you a bonus on your monthly war fund which will soon be distributed."

"Ye, yes!"

A wise decision.

Since I'm the one with the least amount of allies, I'll be the one with the largest financial budget.

"Now then, here are your monthly war funds. Brave Heroes, please use this with a clear goal in mind."

Four pouches full of money were distributed to us. And a slightly larger moneybag was handed over to me.

I heard heavy chinking sounds coming from inside.

"Naofumi-dono will receive 800 silver coins, while the others will receive 600 each. Please use this money to buy equipment for yourselves."

" " " "WOAH!" " " " "

Every one of us each gave a salute, and thus the king's audience was concluded.

Afterwards, our self-introductions began.

"Errr Shield Hero, Mein Sophia is my name. Let us work together from now on."

"Yo, Yoroshiku."

Mein is such a splendid person for talking to me without a hint of bias.

But after that unsightly incident from earlier, it's kind of awkward to start a conversation. On the bright side, however, such a caring girl is now my ally.

I have to treasure this companion of mine. Therefore, I won't lose to the other heroes by upgrading my legendary weapon.

"Let's go then, Mein,-san."

"Okay~"

Mein vigorously nodded and followed behind me.

Crossing the bridge connecting the castle to the town, a splendid city laid before me.

Even though I caught a curious glimpse of it yesterday, seeing it up close made me realize the vivid charm of this parallel world.

The streets were paved with stones and there were signs hanging on the buildings.

The place was shrouded with the savory fragrance of food. I was truly moved, both deeply and emotionally.

"What should we do now?"

"First, we should go to some Item Shops, and probably a Weapon Shop in order to gear ourselves up. This will consume most of our funds."

Right, the first order of business should be me, who only has a shield, to acquire a weapon.

Without one, it'll be difficult for me to fight monsters and catch up with those guys.

After all, they have actual weapons that can evolve.

In order to get a head start, we definitely need to resolve this problem quickly.

"Alright. I know of a good shop, so allow me be your guide."

"Are you really okay with that?"

"Most certainly."

Mein was skipping about as she led me to the Weapon Shop.

After 10 minutes of walking from the castle, Mein stopped in front of a conspicuous store with an oversized sword printed on its sign.

"Here is my recommendation."

"Oh..."

Stepping through the door, one could see weapons hanging from the walls, exactly as one would imagine when mentioning a Weapon Shop.

There were also other necessities for adventuring, such as complete suits of armor.

"Welcome!"

The shop owner cheerfully greeted as I entered the shop. He was just like I had imagined, someone ultra-buff who stood behind the weapon store counter. It would have been rather revolting if the owner was a flappy fatty. This really is a parallel world.

"Heh... so this is a weapon shop..."

"Oh, a first time customer. It seems that you came in without knowing what you're looking for."

"Yeah, I was introduced to this shop by her."

I said while pointing at Mein. She raised her hand and waved back lightly.

"Thanks a lot, Meinu-chan."

"No problem~ It's simply that Oyaji's shop is famous around here."

"Oh ma'am, you're flattering me. But isn't the outfit of your boyfriend over there a bit weird?"

Right, my current clothes are: "Parallel World's Clothing."

Can't you see that this is a classy attire, weird dude?

"Oyaji thinks so too?"

"Does that mean you're a Hero!? Wow!"

Oyaji took a long, hard look at me.

"He doesn't seem to be very reliable..."

So snide.

"Just spit it out already."

I didn't know what he wanted to say, yet I already knew I was unreliable right now. That's why I wanted to become stronger.

"You need better equipment."

"I suppose..."

Hahaha... It's not the personality but the appearance.

"Are you... that misfit?"

Piki,

I felt like my cheeks were cramping.

Rumors about me seemed to be traveling unexpectedly fast.

Well whatever. Only losers would care.

"My name is Iwatani Naofumi, the Hero of the Shield. I'll be troubling you from this point onward, so please take care of me."

I gave my introduction to Oyaji just in case.

"So, Naofumi. It's good to hear that I'll have your patronage from now on. Best regards!"

Again, he sure is an energetic one.

"Well, Oyaji. Do you have any good equipment?"

Mein leered at Oyaji as she asked.

"Right... How much do you have to spend?"

"Let me see..."

Mein began appraising me.

"Around the range of 250 Silver Coins."

We had 800 Silver Coins yet we'll only be using 250... I guess she considered the value of hiring our future comrades.

"Oh? If that's what you're looking for, then how about this here?"

Oyaji left the counter, picked up some of the weapons on display, and came back.

"So lad. Which one of these do you want?"

"Nope, I have no idea which is good."

"I would suggest swords since they're good for beginners."

I looked at the swords aligned on the counter.

"These are my new recommendations since they all have blood-clean coating."

"Blood-clean?"

"It's a coating which prevents dullness due to gore."

"Heh..."

I remembered that back in the old world, I once heard that if a knife was used to butcher meat, over time its sharpness will fade.

In other words, the edges of these swords will never dull.

I guess it's like a "Sharp Sword".<sup>[15]</sup>

"From the left we have: Iron, Magic Iron, Magic Steel, and finally Silver. Each of their performance is guaranteed to be top notched."

Does the material used affect its durability?

These weapons seem to belong in the ore based category.

“There are better weapons around here, but these are the ones which fit your budget of 250 Silver Coins.”

I see.

Console games usually don't have better equipment in the first town.

Despite that fact, this place has quite a good line-up.

This world once again resembled an online game. Usually, big countries had better stocks of weapons, this seemed to be the case for this parallel world too.

“Iron Sword, huh..?”

I slowly grasped the sword's handle.

Ah, it truly was heavy.

I hadn't thought about the weight since my shield was extremely light. But weapons seemed to be considerably heavy, huh?

So I'll be using this to defeat the monsters...

- BACHIN!*

“Ouch!”

A sudden, intense surge of electricity repelled the Iron Sword in my hand and sent it flying.

“Oh?”

Oyaji and Mein were staring alternately between me and the sword with mystified looks.

“What the..?”

I picked up the fallen sword.

No sign of that strange thing happening.

What was all that about?

My previous thoughts returned as I recalled them.

- BACHI!*

“Ouchie!”

I glared at Oyaji, thinking he was playing a trick on me. Yet he shook his head repeatedly.

It shouldn't be Mein, but I turned toward her anyways.

“Did you see how it was suddenly repelled?”

Such bullshit.

I stared at my palm while thinking about such impossibility.

Then, words began to emerge into my view.

[Violation of Legendary Weapon's Convention: you had touched another specialized weapon with the intent of possession.]

What the fuck?

I quickly located the help option to summon up the description.

Found it!

[Excluding their own Legendary Weapon, the Hero cannot equip any other weapon for combat purposes.]

What did you say!?

My benevolent self couldn't use anything else besides this shield!?

How in the world could I fight with only a shield?

"Etto. Thanks, but it seems that my shield is the possessive type."

I laughed bitterly while looking up.

"How does it function? Can I take a look?"

Seemed Oyaji had taken an interest in my shield as he held it up with his hands.

It'll never come off because such a method doesn't exist.

The Weapon Shop's Oyaji chanted something under his breath, then a small ball of light flew towards the shield.

"Fumu. Even though it looks like a Small Shield, there's something mysterious about it..."

"Ha, did you find out anything?"

I know that it's a Small Shield.

It was also called by that name in my Status window, with the (Legendary Weapon) tag attached to it.

"Probably this jewel engraved in the middle? I can sense a strong source of power from there. While I could somewhat identify it through my Appraisal magic... I couldn't fully grasp it. It seems to be a type of curse."

After finishing his appraisal, Oyaji faced me while playing with his trademark beard.

"You've shown me something interesting. Then do you want to buy some armor instead?"

"Yes please."

"You're buying armor instead of weapons within the 250 silver coin range, then I guess this armor will do."

Since I already possessed a shield, it doesn't seem like I have many options. Oyaji brought back several pieces of armor that were on exhibit.

"The full plate armor isn't very popular with adventurers since it's quite chunky, a chain mail would provide better movement."

With that said, I reached out towards the chain mail.

- Jing-a-ling...*

Looks like cloth sewed with metal chains.

This seemed fine. But I wondered if it only increases the defense of the protected areas?

Huh? An Icon opened.

[Chain Mail Defense Power Up Tolerance against enemy's slash attack (small)]

Fumu fumu, the sword's description didn't pop up before since I couldn't equip it.

"How much is this worth?"

Mein asked the shop owner.

"At a discount, it'll only be 120 Silver Coins."

"Should I buy it?"

"Hm? I suppose... if it's still relatively new, I guess I can resell for 100 Silver."

"What's wrong?"

"Since this is indispensable for Shield Hero-sama's growth, I just want to reconfirm the price, that's all."

That makes sense... I'm only at Lvl 1, but I'll have to upgrade my equipment as I grow stronger after all.

This seemed like low-level gear, but it was also the best I can get in my current state.

"Okay then, I'll be buying this."

"Thank you! I'll be sure to give you a bonus for next time!"

The shop owner expressed his thanks while sending me words of gratitude. 120 Silver Coins was handed over and the Chain Mail was obtained.

"Do you want to put it on now?"

"Yep."

"Then please come this way."

I was led to the changing room, and I donned the Chain Mail over my undergarments.

My old clothes were put inside a bag provided by the shop owner.

“Oh, don’t you look quite handsome now.”

“Thanks a lot.”

Keep the compliments coming.

“Then shall we go hunting now, Yuusha-sama?”

“Let’s!”

Looking like a true adventurer, I loudly exited the shop while Mein accompanied me.

We then headed over to the gate, about to leave the castle walls.

On the way, the guard knight bowed to me and I happily returned it with a nod.

The start of my exciting adventure was about to begin.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 5 – Shield's Reality

---

Upon exiting the gate, one could see the green meadows spreading far into the horizon.

Now, I was only one step away from leaving the stone paved streets and entering the trail which led into the boundless, uncharted grasslands.

This was like a field trip to Hokkaido.

It was the first time I had personally experienced how vast the sky and horizon truly were.

With only this much excitement, a Hero needed to stay composed.

"Now then, Yuusha-sama. Shall we engage in some mock battles against the weaker demons inhibiting this area?"

"Right. This'll be my first combat experience, so I got to fight to the best of my abilities."

"Please give it your all."

"What? You're not going to fight with me, Mein?"

"If I fight then I won't be able to gauge Yuusha-sama's potential."

"Th-that's true."

Come to think of it, Mein should have more battle experience than me; I didn't even know how much I was capable of right now.

Let's try fighting against a monster that Mein had marked as a safe choice.

I wandered the grassland for a while. Then some weirdly conspicuous, orange balloon-like creature came into my view.

“Yuusha-sama, please wait. Over there is an Orange Balloon... and although it’s one of the weakest monsters, it’s very aggressive.”

That was some crude naming sense. You called it an Orange Balloon just because it was orange and round?

“GAH!”

With an atrocious cry, a pair of hostile, villainous eyes were staring directly at me.

Originating from the meadow, the balloon-shaped thing charged at me like a beast upon spotting my presence.

“Yuusha-sama, please do your best!”

“OOOO!”

I've got to show her my good side.

With my right hand, I used the blunt side of the shield to strike the Orange Balloon.

Bash!

Boyon~!

It rebounded off my shield at the point of impact. This monster is surprisingly elastic!

Even though I thought that it would break right away...

The Orange Balloon bared its fangs and started biting me.

"Hii!"

Kang!

I heard a solid impact.

Yet it didn't hurt, it barely even itched.

The Orange Balloon was biting my arm, but it had no effect at all.

It seemed that the shield was gently emitting a protective barrier around me.

I looked wordlessly at Mein.

"Go on, Yuusha-sama!"

"ORAORAORAORA!"

... I didn't receive any damage, but I couldn't deal much of it either.

So I continuously stuck the Orange Balloon like a Kung-Fu master.

Five minutes later...

Pop!

A faint sound was heard followed by the Orange Balloon bursting.

“Hah... hah... hah... ”

The [EXP: 1] value popped up along with a “Pikon” sound.

I think I received a single experience point.

Seriously, all this work just to kill one balloon... I couldn't help but pity myself.

That was a tough fellow. My bare hands could only do so much.

Pachi Pachi Pachi.

“I’m proud of you, Yuusha-sama.”

Mein gave me her applauds, yet it somehow felt hollow.

Suta suta suta!

Then I heard footsteps.

Looking behind me, I saw Ren along with his companions jogging onward.

I thought they would be chatting amongst themselves along the way, but all of them were wearing a serious expression while moving silently.

Ah, three Orange Balloons appeared in front of them.

Zuba!

With one swing of his sword, Ren sent an Orange Balloon popping.

1-hit kill!? Hey dude... just how different could our attack powers be?

"..."

Mein awkwardly turned her head away multiple times, avoiding my eyes.

"It will be alright. Every Hero has their share of struggles after all."

"... Arigato."

It's my first fight anyways. And I suffered zero injuries since my defense is super high, even with the Orange Balloon biting me for five whole minutes. Just as I started ransacking the remnants of Orange Balloon, the Shield let out a 'Pikon' sound.

When I brought it closer, the shield glowed gently with a pale light and absorbed the remnants.

[GET: Orange Balloon Skin]

As this line popped up, the Weapon Book Icon also blinked.

I opened it to confirm, then the Small Orange Shield Icon popped up.

While I couldn't transform into my shield yet, I now knew what materials were required.

"So that's the power of the Legendary Weapons."

"Yep. Looks like it needs to absorb materials in order to transform."

"I see."

“By the way, how much could I get from selling what was dropped earlier?”

“It should be about 1 Copper Coin.”

“... And how many Coppers do I need to get 1 Silver?

“100 Copper Coins.”

Oh well, it couldn't be helped. It was a weakling monster so of course it'll drop equally poor loot.

“It's your turn next, Mein.”

“Hm, I suppose so.”

At that moment, some Orange Balloons approached us.

Mein took out her sword from her waist and swung twice.

The Orange Balloons then burst with a pop.

Uwaa... Am I that weak..?

My name is Iwatani Naofumi. A 20-year-old university student. Right now, my mouth is being covered by both of my hands.

I had been summoned to a parallel world and became its hero for 2 days now.

After 5 minutes of combat with a suitable monster, I had come to perfectly understand my role.

「Hero Aptitude Test」

Four people were given this test. The most rational result shall be swiftly delivered.

CHECK!

>>What is your hunting aptitude?

Whoopsie, looks like I lost myself for a moment there.

Anyways, I had become painfully aware that I am, or rather my shield, was super weak.

It seemed that it was more efficient to simply let Mein do the fighting.

“Okay then, Mein. Please attack while I'll be in charge of defense. Let's see how far we can go with this setup.”

“Hai.”<sup>[13]</sup>

Mein readily gave her immediate answer.

After that, we roamed around the meadows until the sun began to set. We encountered more Orange Balloons and some Yellow Balloons, where it seemed their strength differed by their color.

“We can encounter slightly stronger monsters if we press onward, but it will soon be nightfall if we don't return to the castle.”

“Mhm. I wish we could keep on hunting a bit more though...”

I had yet to receive any damage, what with the Balloons' attacks being so easy to defend against.

"Since we're returning early, let's take another look at the Weapon Shop. Because upgrading my equipment will allow us to go even farther than today."

"... Come to think of it, that makes sense."

I was able to improved myself and gain a little exp for my starting level, so I suppose we've made good enough progress for the day.

By the way, the shield also absorbed enough to satisfy the transformation requirement; I now had a Balloon shield equipped to my arm.

In the long run... I guess I could still level up and transform my shield some more.

Oh well. As the first day of adventuring ended with many uncertainties, we began heading back to the castle town.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 6 – The Trap & Arts of Betrayal

---

That evening, we dropped by the Weapon Shop again after returning to the castle town.

“Hoh, well if it isn't the shield lad. The other heroes had also dropped by earlier.”

Did everyone buy from this shop?

Oyaji greeted us with a pleased expression.

“Oh right. Do you know where we can sell this?”

I presented Oyaji with an Orange Balloon skin and he pointed towards the front of his store.

“There's a shop that buys most of the monster drops if you bring them over there.”

“Thank you.”

“So, what sort of business do you have with me?”

“Haha, it's for Mein. I want to gear up my companion.”

Mein was quietly staring at the equipment inside the store when I turned toward her.

"So what's your budget?"

I had 680 silver coins remaining on hand. I wondered how much I should spend?

"Mein, how much should I use?"

"..."

Mein was comparing equipment with an extremely serious expression.

So serious that my words didn't reach her at all.

Since I didn't know the cost to rent a room at an inn, I couldn't estimate how much we would need for a month's worth of lodging.

"Your companion's equipment? Hmm... I suppose anything that looks good while providing decent stats would be fine, right?"

"Sounds good."

Since I had next to nothing in terms of firepower, it was a better idea to focus on gearing Mein up.

"You can give me a discount on expensive equipment since I've been accompanying you twice today, isn't that right?"

"Hoh, please keep those hilarious fantasies to yourself, dear brave hero of ours."

"80% discount!"

"Please don't be unreasonable! 20% discount!"

"We can go a bit higher, no? 79% discount!"

"Never in my wildest dreams would I have guessed that you were the type to haggle on products!"

"Wha-whatever! 90% discount!"

"Tsk! 21% discount!"

"At least give me a better deal! Full discount!"

"What the hell, Yuusha-sama<sup>[1]</sup>! FINE! 50% discount."

"Too small! 92%——"

Then, as this continued for a while, Mein brought over a set of armor with a cute design and a seemingly useful metal sword.

"Yuusha-sama, I would like these."

"Oyaji, what's the total? 60% discount."

"The total is 480 silver coins including the price reduction, which is a 59% final discount."

Since I had been haggling with Oyaji before Mein made up her mind, the price was greatly reduced.

Yet as expected, being left with only 200 Silver Coins was a bit rough, no?

"Mein... can't you wait a bit longer? I'm trying to save us as much money as possible for our lodging."

"Isn't it fine, Yuusha-sama? If I get stronger, then we can defeat bigger and more dangerous monsters, which also means more income, right?"

Her eyes sparkling, Mein pressed her breasts against my arm as she pleaded with me.

"I-I suppose so..."

With 200 silver coins remaining, I wondered what Ren, Motoyasu, and Itsuki would do to get their hands on this amount. Their original funds could only take them as far, barely covering the initial gear for their entire team. It seemed like 200 silver coins is an amount which will let a person live comfortably for a whole month.

Recruiting companions, leveling them up, and increasing your own income doesn't sound like a bad idea.

"Alright Oyaji, please take care of this."

"Thanks for your patronage. Really, you're one hell of a hero."

"Haha, not like money has eyes to see."

I had always been a money hoarder in net games.

Buying items at the lowest price from auctions and reselling them at the highest price possible.

Nothing is as easy as haggling with another person. Money will blind their eyes after all.

"Thank you, Yuusha-sama."

Mein teasingly kissed my hand.

This meant 'Intimate UP'!

Tomorrow's adventure will be a walk in the park!

After we bought Mein her equipment, we headed over to the town's inn.
30 copper coins a night per person...

"Two rooms, please."

"Wouldn't one room do just fine?"

"Yuusha-sama..."

Mein silently pressured me.

We-well it couldn't be helped.

"Two rooms then."

"Hai hai. I owe you a favor."

The inn owner was rubbing his hands together as he led us to our rooms.

The price was standardized based on the number of people. After that we went out for dinner in the inn's tavern.

We were charged 10 extra copper coins for our meals.

"In other words..."

I spread out the region map which I purchased along the way and asked Mein.

"Today, we were hunting in this meadow over here?"

This map showed the geographic landscape of the surrounding region. If I had asked before, Motoyasu would have definitely shown me the ropes. But looking back at his attitude yesterday, that didn't appeal to me at all.

I also had no reservations in outwitting my other competitors. I wanted to get ahead of them by learning where powerful demon lairs were located first.

Therefore, I asked Mein to teach me the area of this region.

"Yes. That's correct."

"Earlier you said something about if 'we had pressed onward', were you talking about this forest that's within walking distance from the meadow?"

With this map I could get a rough understanding of this country's geography.

There's a highway that cuts across the castle meadows and leads into a forest. From there, mountains appear along the edges of the map with a river nearby.

Since this wasn't a very big map, I couldn't see any other villages that might have been further ahead.

As expected, this map doesn't provide any information beyond the forest; it would be suicidal to fight without knowing what monsters spawn in there or the safe path through the area.

"Yes. Although it isn't recorded in the map, there's a village called Raffan inside the forest. This is where we should go next."

"Fumu... interesting."

"There's also a novice dungeon outside of the village."

"Dungeon..."

The dream land! Although there was nothing to do besides killing the monsters inside when it came to net games.

"The rewards won't be too bad either. Yuusha-sama would at least gain a few levels from that place."

"I see."

"We're also well equipped, and along with Yuusha-sama's superb defense, it should be a breeze."

"Oh ho, why thank you. I'll use this as a future reference."

"Not at all. By the way, Yuusha-sama? Why haven't you touched your wine?"

I had gotten carried away with the tavern's atmosphere and ordered a glass, but I hadn't even taken a sip yet.

"Ha ha, I'm not very fond of alcohol, you see."

It's not that I couldn't drink. As a matter of fact, I could hold my liquor quite easily.

I just wasn't interested in drinking.

Back in my college fraternity when there was a party and everyone, including me, was chugging down drinks like alcoholics, only I stayed sober while the rest had gotten beastly drunk. After that certain event, they all came to hate my guts.

"Is that so... but one cup wouldn't hurt, right?"

"Sorry. But I really, truly hate to drink."

"Buuut..."

"I'm sorry."

"O-Okay."

Mein dejectedly withdrew the glass of wine.

"Well then, I'll be retiring for today. Please take care of me tomorrow as well."

"Hai, see you tomorrow."

I hastily finished my meal inside the noisy tavern and returned to my room. As expected, I had to remove my Chain Mail since it was uncomfortable to sleep with it on.

I hung it on a chair afterwards.

"..."

I then placed the bag of silver coins on the table.

So I had 200 silver coins remaining, huh... Actually, make that 199 silver coins since I paid the inn in advance.

Unable to calm down, I couldn't help but feel anxious the whole time. It must've been my beggar blood acting up since I've always been lacking in the cash department.

Like a stealthy, Japanese tourist who's on vacation, I hid 30 silver coins inside my shield.

Yep. I could finally feel secure.

Much had happened today.

So this is the feeling you get from defeating monsters.

Those balloons didn't inflict any pain though.

I was sitting on the bed, so I lied back down without a second thought.

What an unfamiliar ceiling, and it was only yesterday that I came into this world.

I needed to relax.

From now on, the curtain to my glorious daily life will open.

Although I had a late start compared to my fellow heroes, I would be walking on my own path. I didn't need to become the strongest, just doing the best to my abilities would be enough.

For some reason... I suddenly gotten so sleepy... I could hear a cheerful voice coming from the direction of the tavern.

I think I heard voices similar to both Motoyasu and Itsuki conversing in the next room. Are those guys lodging here too?

I reached out my hand to extinguish the room lamp.

It's a bit early tonight, but let's just hit the hay...

Chari Chari...

W-what in the world is that sound?

Are the tavern's drunkards making more ruckus again?

Munya...

Scratchy scratch...

It was so hot... these clothes were so sticky.

"Huh?"

It was cold...

The sun shined brightly on my face, as if announcing a new morning.

Disoriented from drowsiness, I got up and took a look outside the window.

It seemed that I had fallen asleep before I knew it. The sun had already risen quite high.

According to my biological clock, it should be around 9 AM.

"A-re?"

I was only in my underwear. Did I unconsciously take my clothes off?

Oh well, whatever.

As I eyed the scenery outside my window, I spotted crowds of people come and go as if it was the most natural thing in the world.

It was quite the spectacle seeing busy restaurants and food stalls cooking their ingredients for the day's lunch rush. There were also carriages being pulled along the street; and I unwittingly fell into a trance of sorts.

Haha, this really is a wonderful parallel world.

It seemed that the bird or horse drawn carriages were the two most popular types. The bird looked like a particular type of ostrich; I believe their official name in a certain game would be a Chocobo.

If anything, the horses seemed to be more of the luxurious type.

Once in a while, a carriage appeared to be pulled by a cattle; this medieval setting is unbelievably wonderful, isn't it?

“Now then, it's time to start breakfast and quickly depart for another adventure.”

I searched the bed for my clothes which I supposedly removed during my slumber.

... Weird. There weren't here?

The chain mail that was hung on the chair...

Could not be found.

The bag of silver coins on the table was gone too!

Not only that, even my original spare clothes were gone!

“What the...”

OH SNAP!

Nighttime invasion!?

I was robbed during my sleep!

This inn had some serious problems with their security!

Anyways, I had to hurry over to Mein and warn her!

Bam! I rushed out and knocked on the door next to my room.

“Mein! There's a problem! Our money and my equipment--!”

Don don don!

There was no sign of Mein coming out no matter how hard I knocked.

Tah tah tah!

Noisy footsteps could be heard approaching my direction from a bit further down the corridor.

The castle knights came over and stared at me.

Since I was the victim of a night-raided invasion, they were going to help me arrest the culprit, right?

This thief must have been quite a fool to rob a hero in his sleep.

"You guys are knights from the castle, right? Please hear me out for a moment!"

I faced the knights and eagerly appealed to them.

Mein, please come out of the room quickly, I'm in serious trouble right now.

"It's the Shield Hero!"

"Well, yeah. That's me."

What in the world? They seemed to be strangely hostile towards me.

"The king has requested your immediate presence. We are to accompany you along the way."

"Requested my presence? No, I have a reason for looking like this, I was a victim of a bedroom invasion. The Culpri—"

"Come along now!"

Squeeze.

"That hurts! At least listen to my story."

The knights forcefully gripped my arms and took me by force.

I'm still in my underwear here. What kind of treatment is this?!

"Hey, Mein! Come quickly--"

The knights refused to listen to my situation, and thus I had to leave Mein behind at the inn while I was being dragged back to the castle.

A carriage like the ones I saw earlier was there waiting for me.

I had no idea what was going on. All I knew was that I was being treated like a criminal while the real one was somewhere roaming free.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 7 – False Charge

---

Things happened and so on and so forth. I was abducted while being dragged through the castle walls, and within the audience chamber, the knights had their spears pointed at me.

Inside we have a pair made of an ill-mannered king and his minister.

As well as...

“Mein!”

Itsuki, Ren, and Motoyasu, along with their respective merry companions, were also gathered here.

After calling out to Mein, she hid behind Motoyasu and I was dumbfounded.

“W-what’s with that attitude?”

Everyone was staring at me as if I was a villain.

“You really don’t remember?”

Motoyasu cross-examined me with an imposing posture.

What in the world was his problem?

“Remember what? Wait a sec... that chain mail!”

That bastard Motoyasu was wearing my bloody chain mail!

"So you're the bedroom intruder!"

"Who the hell is a bedroom intruder?! Don't even think of escaping from your sins using that nonsense!"

"Sins? What sins?"

As if in response, the audience chamber began emitting an atmosphere much like a criminal trial.

"Now then, what is the charge against the Shield Hero?"

"Charge? Charge for what?"

"Sniff... Hic... Shield Hero-sama got drunk yesterday... Hic... Th-then he suddenly bursted into my room, giving into his beastly desires while forcing himself on me."

"Huh?"

"The Shield Hero said that, 'The night is still young' and violently tore my clothes off."

Motoyasu then comforted the sobbing Mein.

"I-I was horrified... I ran out of the room, screaming for my dear life when Motoyasu-sama appeared and defended me."

"... What?"

What was that?

Yesterday evening after I separated from Mein, I headed straight to bed. So when did all that happen?

The mortified Mein did nothing but sob.

"What are you saying? After dinner last night I went straight to bed."

"Stop spewing such lies, you bastard. It's clear as day that the reason Mein's crying is because of you."

"What secret motives do you have for protecting Mein? Forget that, where did you steal that chain mail from?!"

You only met once yesterday, no?

"Er, well, yesterday I found Mein drinking alone in the tavern, and she gave me this chain mail as a gift."

"Huh?"

That was mine no matter how you looked at it.

Of course, there's the possibility that it was bought by Mein with her own pocket money, but Motoyasu got one right when mine disappeared. This was all too suspicious.

Motoyasu's story was full of shit. I had to convince the king of that.

"Right! Your highness! My bedroom was raided and everything inside was stolen except for this shield! Please arrest the culprit."

"Silence, you fiend!"

The King flatly declared and ignored my plead.

"You brutally committed rape against my dear countryman, villain! If you weren't a hero, I would've executed you on the spot!"

"This is a huge misunderstanding! I didn't commit any crimes!"

Unfortunately, everyone here had already judged me guilty before the trial had even begun.

I could feel my blood boiling and my fury rising.

What the hell? What the hell is this? What the hell is this shit?!

I don't recall any of this crap, so why should I be abused like this?!

I locked eyes with Mein while trying to convey my plea for help. In response, Mein mirthfully stuck her tongue out while everyone was focused on me.

... That was when I realized it.

I glared at Motoyasu.

I could feel a deep, dark emotion swelling up from within me, seeping into my guts.

“You fiend! You must have thrown away your clothes and money to create an alibi for your crimes!”

Motoyasu pointed at me and accused with an extremely loud yell.

“What! Are you trying to say that I’m a serial rapist?!”

Motoyasu shielded Mein with his body, trying to uphold his fake heroic act.

“Don’t fuck with me! I’ve already spent all of my money to gear up my comrade!”

It seemed that Mein, who originally intended to be Motoyasu’s companion, plotted this beforehand. Since I was the loser who could only use a shield, I bought her all of the good equipment. And after acquiring everything she wanted with her sweet flattery, Mein then ditched me and stole the rest of my money. She later came back crying to the king, acting like the victim, and driving me into ruin.

... This is so messed up.

Ever since the beginning, Mein had always called me by my title, Yuusha-sama, while she called Motoyasu by name.

If this isn't enough evidence then what is?

Does that mean this world only needs one hero?

"Even after coming to a parallel world, I still have to put up with this garbage of an associate."

"Yeah, I guess, but I hold no sympathy towards you."

Ren didn't hesitate to condemn me as guilty.

I see... So everyone here was in on the conspiracy from the very beginning... Since I used a shield, since I was weak, and since I didn't know anything; they had already intended to get rid of me because I was nothing more than dead weight to them.

——Cheap bastards.

No matter where I go, these types of filthy maggots always pop up.

The people of this country held no regard towards me from the start.

You know what?! Why the hell do I even need to protect you people?!

Perish already! This god forsaken world!

"... Fine, I don't give a shit. Just return me to my old world already, won't you? After that, just summon a new Shield Hero."

A parallel World? Hah!

I wouldn't even want to come to here in the first place if I knew this kind of shit would happen!

"Running away when it's inconvenient? What filth."

"I suppose you're right. But as long as I fulfill my obligations properly, then a few forceful relationships with women shouldn't be that much of a problem..."

"Go home, be gone! I refuse to accept this kind of trash as a fellow hero!"

Ren, Motoyasu, and Itsuki glared at me with bloodlust.

It was a fun experience, I suppose, being in a parallel world. Yet it was all ruined by this jerk.

"Okay! Now send me back to my old world already!"

Then, the King groaned as he held his head.

"Unfortunately, there isn't a known method to send heroes back to their own worlds... Even if we wanted to re-summon new heroes, then all of the current ones would first need to perish."

"... Wh-why?"

"What the..."

"I-It's got to be a lie..."

The other three heroes, bewildered, responded in unison.

There's no magic that could return us to our old world?

"Then I can't go back home now?!"

Don't fuck with me!

"Give me a proper explanation!"

I violently shook off the knights' restraint.

"Hey! Stop resisting!"

"Let me go!"

One of the knights hit me.

Guh!

A nice sound was heard, but it felt kind of ticklish rather than painful.

I quickly punched that knight back, but instead of hurting him, my hand grew numb instead.

"So, King? What's my punishment?"

I asked as I held my hand, waiting for the numbness to pass.

"... Right now, you shall not receive any discipline due to your value as our trump card against the incoming wave. However, we will spread the rumors of your crimes to the citizens. That will be your punishment. Don't even think about finding suitable work in my country."

"Haha, thanks oh so much for your lenience!"

That meant I was only left with adventuring in order to level up and prepare for the incoming wave.

"The next wave is predicted to come in one month. Even though you're a criminal, a fiend like you is also the Hero of the Shield. You won't be able to escape from your role."

"I know! Since I'm weak and all that. Time is pretty precious to me, you know!"

Chari...

Ha, as expected. Even after everything, only this shield stayed loyal to me.

"Yo! You wanted this, didn't you?!"

I took out my pouch with all my remaining 30 silver coins and threw it in Motoyasu's face.

"Uwa! What are you doing?! You bastard--!"

I just pretended that Motoyasu's disparagement didn't reach my ears.

After leaving the castle and entering the main road, people looked and pointed at me while gossiping amongst themselves.

Really, word sure travels fast.

Isn't that just amazing?

Whatever, everything already looks hideous in my eyes.

That's why I'll only place my trust in cold hard cash... and nothing else. So now the curtain of my new adventuring arc rose in the worst possible way.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 8 – Fallen Fame

---

One week had passed since then.

Yet I was still hanging around the castle's vicinity.

“Hey, Shield lad.”

“Wah!?”

After storming out of the castle, I was called out by Oyaji from the Weapon Shop, half-naked with nothing but my underwear on...

To be more accurate, I was strolling past the entrance to his store.

“I’ve heard about your exploits. You raped that companion of yours, didn’t you? Mind letting me get a punch in?”

He seemed to have heard the rumors and was boiling over with rage, announcing his intentions while grasping his fist.

“You too, asshole?!”

This guy's probably the same as everyone else, they'll never listen to my side of the story.

Ah yes, I had absolutely no idea what passed off as common sense in this country - no - this world when I first arrived. But raping a woman must have been one of the cardinal sins.

Ah, damn... When I saw Oyaji, the face of that slut rose into my mind.

I was about to get beaten into a pulp.

He violently grabbed me and scowled.

"Hu... Bastard..."

"What? Don't you want to hit me?"

Oyaji loosened his fist and dropped his stance.

"No... I won't do it."

"That so? Sure was cutting it close."

I was pretty confident that despite my low attack power, I could still go blow for blow and outlast anyone in a fight.

Unfortunately, pulverizing people will never convince them to believe me. That's why I chose to focus on saving money for any future occurrences. Although, venting my frustrations on the balloons did help clear my mind.

"Hold on a second!"

"What do you want?!"

I was about to leave through the town gate when was stopped by Oyaji.

A small bag was thrown at me.

"You won't get very far with that appearance. At least let me give you this parting gift."

Inside the bag contained some cheap linen clothing and a worn out mantle.

"...How much are you charging?"

"Let's say 5 Copper Coins. It's on a bargain sale."

"...Got it. I'll come back to pay you later."

It was a bit weird moving around in my underwear. Guess the old man never passed up a chance to do business.

"Remember to pay me back in full, since the only thing I believe in is cold hard cash."

"Ah, sure thing."

I put on the clothes and donned the mantle, then I headed to the meadows. After that, I went in and subjugated a horde of Balloons.

"ORA ORA ORA ORA ORA ORA ORA!"

It took roughly 5 minutes to kill one of them, but it wasn't too much of a problem since I received 0 damage no matter how hard they bit me.

In order to distract myself, I fought all day long and obtained some Balloon's skins as a result.

Level UP!

I'm now at Lv 2.

Conditions for Orange Small Shield and Yellow Small Shield have been released!

Now then, time to carefully do my various daytime chores.

I became hungry as evening approached.

Reluctantly, I returned to the castle town, heading straight for the Merchant's Shop where they buy various materials from monster drops.

The merchant was a little chubby, and he let out a phony, unpleasant laugh upon seeing my face.

……Looks like he was looking down on me.

I understood him with only a glance.

There was a prospective customer ahead of me who had come to trade in some goods.

Coincidentally, he was also selling Balloon's skins.

"Let's see…… how about I buy these for one copper per two pieces?"

The merchant assessed while pointing at the Balloon's skins.

2 pieces for each Copper Coin……

"Please do."

"Thank you for your patronage."

The customer left and I was next in line.

"Hey. I've brought some monster materials to sell today."

"I humbly welcome you."

Thought I didn't hear your little laugh at the end, you moron?

"So you do have some. Balloon's skins, I see. How does ten pieces for a copper sound to you?"

One fifth of the original amount! This bastard's looking down on me way too much.

"Didn't you buy two pieces per copper from that other guy just a little while ago?"

"Did such a thing happen? Why can't I seem to recall..?"

Bullshit, he keeps making up some dumb excuses…… so you want to do THAT kind of business.

"Hmph. Fine then."

I grabbed the merchant's collar and pulled him toward me.

"Guh, wh-, what——"

"You want to buy THESE guys? They're still alive and are very energetic, you see."

Gupu!

I took one of the Orange Balloons that was hidden inside my mantle and let it bite the merchant's nose.

"GYAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA!"

After pulling the Balloon away from his face, I kicked the stumbling merchant down.

"The meadow's a pretty dangerous place as you can tell. So, you feel like doing some proper business now?"

I flipped open my mantle a little to show him the 5 Balloons hidden underneath it.

Since it doesn't hurt at all when they bite me, I figure that they can be quite useful in case some asshole picks a fight with me.

Regrettably, since my attack power is close to 0, I'm not much of a threat.

But thanks to my ingenious strategy, the negotiations were successful.

This pig understood his position. With this little demonstration, he could picture a future where none of his bones remained once these balloons were done with him.

"I'm not demanding any extravagant costs from you. I just hate being looked down upon with people trying to exploit me."

"You won't get away with this——"

"Tell me, if a merchant was extorting money from an adventurer, and others were to find out about this, I wonder what will become of him?"

Trust was a merchant's greatest ally, so he would have already defeated your average adventurer. But sadly for him, his opponent was me.

Which is why I kindly provided him with the alternative of going bankrupt from lack of customers instead.

"Guh……"

The merchant glared resentfully at me with bloodlust lingering in his eyes. However, he soon gave in.

"……I got it."

"Haha, please don't be so obvious when overcharging people in the future. From now on I'll be a regular of yours, so I'll be expecting some reasonable deals from you.

"I'd very much like to refuse your offer, but I suppose money holds no sin, no matter where it's from. I'll look forward to your business."

I guess he was the type of villain who knew when to call it quits. My Balloons were then purchased at a price slightly below market value.

“Haha. Feel free to proclaim my greatness by spreading it to others. It'll serve as a good lesson for the merchant who tried fooling around with the Balloon industry.”

“Yeah, I got it. You, dear sir, are one bloody hell of a customer!”

And thus, I received enough money to pay for the clothes that Oyaji threw at me.

I stopped by at a restaurant for dinner. However, the food didn't have any taste. At first I thought that I was scammed by the restaurant, but it seemed there was an actual problem with my taste buds.

How about the Inn? Since I didn't have money, I had to sleep in the meadows! But that was no problem since I wouldn't feel any pain even if a Balloon attacked me all night long.

The next morning, there was also this bird-like creature which joined in along with the Balloons. So I pounded on it to relieve my stress.

And I got myself some morning pennies!

A person will learn how to treasure money once they madly struggle to acquire some.

First, I looted some tradable goods from the Balloons.

I then saw some herbs clustered together in the meadows.

I remembered that the Pharmacy in town sells medical herbs, so these should add up to quite a sum.

While I was clearing away the surrounding weeds, the shield reacted. I slowly let the shield absorb them.

The requirement of Leaf Shield had been unsealed.

Come to think of it, I totally forgot about the Weapon Book.

I went ahead and checked the shields that were lit up.

Small Shield

True power unsealed! Increases Defensive Power by 3+!

Orange Small Shield

True power sealed·····Equipment bonus: 2+ Defensive Power.

Yellow Small Shield

True power sealed····· Equipment bonus: 2+ Defensive Power.

Leaf Shield

True power sealed·····Equipment bonus: Collection skill 1+.

I opened the Help menu for more details.

「Weapon Transformation and seals on their True power」

Weapon transformation refers to: the instance where the legendary weapon takes on a different shape.

In order to perform weapon transformation, the owner must place their hand on the weapon and silently conjure the desired weapon's name.

True power unsealing refers to: the instance where the user receives permanent stats and abilities from the transformed weapon.

「Equipment Bonus」

Equipment bonus refers to: the abilities that will be given to the user if they equip this certain weapon.

For example, when equipped a weapon with 'Erst Bash' the user will be able to use the skill 'Erst Bash'.

If 3+ Attack Force is the bonus when equipping that weapon, the user will be granted 3+ attack power.

I see, so by unsealing their true power I'll permanently receive the bonus even without equipping that particular weapon.

Perhaps in the long run, it would be wiser to gather materials along the way instead of just blindly massacring enemies.

Just how much more game-like will this world get?

After contemplating matters, I became interested in the equipment bonus of Leaf Shield.

Collection skill 1+

This skill will most likely be giving me some sort of bonus when I gather herbs.

Right now I have no money.

With all things considered, this seems like an easy, high paying job.

I equipped the Leaf Shield without a shred of hesitation.

Shun…… a sound like something cutting through air was made, and my shield transformed into lush green, earthy leaves.

……There's no decrease in my Defensive Power. The Small Shield was too weak to begin with.

Now then, should I begin collecting these clustered medical herbs?

Puchi.

A nice sound was heard as I easily collected one of them.

Pa……

The herb really did glow when I picked it up.

Collection skill 1+

Aero Herb : Normal Quality -> Great Medical Value

Its icon also shined and changed its form.

Heh……a nice, brief description, this will be surprisingly useful.

Sunset quickly came as I wandered around the whole day, stuffing my bag with medical herbs.

By the way, I don't know if it was due to all the collecting or its short time requirement, but it seems the Leaf Shield's true power was successfully unsealed.

Other colored Small Shield Series were also unsealed that day.

I returned to the castle town, planning to sell the big bag of medicines in my hand.

"Hou……This is quite a collection here. Where did you get them?"

"From the meadow spreading outside the castle. You don't know about these?"

"Fumu……you do indeed have a lot of them…… but it seems the quality is a bit bad……"

I then sold the herbs after some small talk. Today's profits were 1 Silver Coin and 50 Copper Coins.

A considerable amount compared to my previous days: a new record.

On a side note, there was this one fellow that came over to me while I was eating, saying that he wanted to be my companion.

I was getting tired of these guys with their nefarious faces.

……Today's food didn't have any flavor either.

Since I couldn't taste anything, I just ordered enough food to fill my stomach.

"Shield Hero-sama, please let me be your companion."

He came over and spoke to me with an air of superiority.

Speaking as if you're my boss, that meant nothing but trouble. And after taking another look, she was a goddamn woman like that slut from before.

"Well then, let's confirm the terms of our contract, shall we?"

"Hai."

Gah!!!!

Calm down, this is the part where I withdraw, just like how I practiced it beforehand.

"First of all, it'll be a full time job. I suppose you know what that means, right?"

"Nope."

I want to kill him already!

"We'll be distributing income obtained from adventuring. For example, let's say we get a fund of 100 Silver Coins, I'll be taking at least 40% of it, and the rest will be given out: depending on your efforts. Since you're the only other party member right now, the amount will be divided between you and me. But since we won't know anything until I see you in action, I'll be distributing the money at my own discretion for now."

"What the heck, aren't you just trying to hog all the money with this roundabout talk?!"

"Didn't I say it depends on your efforts? If you work properly then you'll get paid appropriately."

"Well then, I suppose that's all well and good. Let's go buy some equipment then."

"..... Go buy it yourself; I have no obligation to buy YOUR equipment."

"Tsk!"

Most of the time, these type of people are only after the chance of scamming free equipment off of me.

I see right through their facade. They'll just ditch me the moment I pay for their stuff.

Such scum. Just like that bitch.

"Fine then. Hand over all your money."

"Ah, why is there a balloon here?!"

Gabuu!

"No! Stay away!"

A Balloon was wreaking havoc in the tavern, but it's not any of my business. After pulling the Balloon off of his hilariously bitten nose, I put away my meal and exited the establishment.

In the end, there are no good people in this world.

All they think about is how to prey upon others.

Anyway, I continued earning money as my daily routine. And before I knew it, the second week had already begun.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 9 – Something called a Slave

---

One, two, three...

Two weeks and only 40 silver coins.

I gathered a bit more than what I had thrown at that bastard spear hero, it seemed.

This was all pointless.

The places I could go with my attack power was extremely limited.

But I did try going into the forest once since I wouldn't take any damage.

---

Was that a Red Balloon?

When I struck it with my bare hands, I received a shock similar to hitting a can.

Even after 30 minutes of whaling on it, the monster wasn't getting any closer to dying.

I had enough and left the forest.

Basically, I couldn't fight any monsters beyond what was found in this grassland.

---

By the way, after two weeks I was now at level 4.

Though I don't know how much those other bastard heroes have leveled.
The Red Balloon was still relentlessly biting my arm, trying to sever it.
Had it already been a week since I went into the forest?
Maybe I should give it another shot.

BANG!*

"Hah..."

Nope. My attack power was still too low.
Since I couldn't deal any damage, I couldn't defeat any monsters.
And since I couldn't defeat anything, I received 0 experience points.
And with 0 experience points, I couldn't raise my attack power.
What a detestable loop.

---

From the tavern, I was walking through a back alleyway which led into the meadows.

However, today was a tad different compared to all the other days up until now.

"Looks like you're facing quite a predicament."

"?"

A strange man wearing a tailcoat and a hat, which looks to be made of silk, stopped me.

This eccentric gentleman was wearing - how should I say this? - a pair of super obese sunglasses.

He really is a weird guy.

He left the impression that deviated away from the medieval theme.

It's best to simply ignore him.

"I don't have enough manpower."

Bull's eye!

A direct hit right into my weak spot.

"I can't defeat any monsters."

He was the type that continued making unwanted conversations.

"If that's the case, then I have something just for you, kind sir."

"And here's where you're gonna advertise some companionship service to me, right?"

I don't have the time or luxury to babysit some loser who's only after my money.

"Companion? No no, I'm not providing such an inconvenient substitute."

"Huh... Then what are you providing?"

That man swiftly came closer and asked.

"Are you interested?"

"Don't get too close to me! It's disgusting."

"Fu fu fu, I like the look in your eyes. Good, I'll tell you!"

The weird gentleman teasingly shouted while waving his cane.

"A slave, of course."

"A slave?"

"Yes, a slave."

'Slavery is a system where certain people are are forced into labor and treated as tradable property. Slaves can be held against their will; deprived of their basic freedoms such as leaving, demanding compensation, and refusing to work.'

This was written on a Wikipedia page, I think.

So slave trade exists in this world. Wow.

"Why would I want a slave?"

"In order to have a person who's both competent and loyal."

Twitch...

"We cast a curse that will castigate the slave to death should they ever betray you."

"Huh..."

Very interesting.

Die for disobedience. Someone who wouldn't foolishly think about taking advantage of me was exactly what I needed.

I had low attack power, so I wanted party members. But they were all disloyal money mongers.

Therefore, I couldn't afford to keep them around.

But slaves will never betray you. Because betrayal means death.

"What's your reply?"

"Let's have a look."

Smirking, the slave trader led the way.

---

We walked through the back alleys for awhile.

It seems this nation has its own state of corruption.

Ducking into a dark, hidden side street, we came across what looked like a circus tent.

"Right this way, Sir Hero."

"I'm coming."

The slave trader walked creepily. How should I describe his steps? They were too big to be called hops, at least.

Then, as expected, the slave trader led me inside.

"Now, I'm gonna say this just in case. But if you're thinking of conning me..."

"That must be the so-called 'Balloon Release' which has made you infamous around town. Planning to escape amidst the chaos, are you?"

Huh... They're calling it by such a nickname now.

Well, it was a convenient way to punish idiots. So its fame was only understandable.

"There was a customer who wanted to enslave a hero. So I intended to approach Sir Hero with that open possibility, but I've changed my mind. Oh yes."

"?"

"You have the qualities of a fine customer, both good and bad."

"What do you mean?"

"Who knows? What do you think?"

I don't get this slave trader. What does he expect from me?

GACHANG!

The heavy gate opened from inside the circus tent.

"Huh..."

The interior was dimly lit with a faintly necrotic odor hanging in the air.

Because of the strong, beastly smell, I could easily tell that the environment wasn't clean.

Within the numerous cages, humanoid shadows wriggled and squirmed.

"Now, this one here is my recommendation."

I approached closer to the cage and checked what was inside.

"Grrrrrrr... GRAR!"

"It's not human."

Inside the cage partially resembled a human with fur, fangs, and claws.

"This is a beastman. It's classified as a humanoid, more or less."

"Huh, a beastman."

A species which shows up fairly often in fantasies, mostly as enemy monsters though.

"I'm a summoned hero, so I'm not well-informed regarding this world. Tell me more."

Like those bastard heroes, I'm completely clueless when it comes to this parallel world.

But without a doubt, I've noticed people with dog or cat ears in town. And I do get a phantasmic feel when I look at them, since they are rare.

"The Melromarc kingdom has a human superiority custom, which makes it a difficult place for demi-humans and beastmen to reside in."

"Huh..."

While I certainly do see those species around, they're only venturing merchants or vagabond adventurers. In other words, they are segregated from society and can't hold a proper job.

"So, what are demi-humans and beastmen anyway?"

"Demi-humans closely resemble humans, yet they have defining non-human traits and features. Beastmen are even less humanoid than demi-humans. Oh yes."

"I see, so they belong in the same category."

"Correct. And since these demi-humans are thought to be closely related to monsters, they have trouble living in this nation. Therefore, they are often treated as slaves."

Every world has its own darkness. And in this place which is fully aware of the non-human sentiment, there's no creature more convenient to use than them.

"And you can punish a slave."

The slave trader snapped his finger. A magic circle appeared on his arm while a similar circle implanted into the werewolf's chest started to glow.

"GRAAAARRR! GHAAAAA!"

The werewolf held its chest and twisted in pain.

When the slave trader snapped his fingers again, the magic circle disappeared.

"With one simple action, as you can see."

"A very convenient spell."

I whispered, looking at the werewolf who fell on its back.

"Can I use it too?"

"Certainly. You can change the trigger command, so it doesn't need to be with a snap of your fingers! The trigger can be implemented as a conditional clause as well."

"I see..."

It's got a pretty convenient design.

"However, a ceremony to input your body's innate code into the spell will be necessary."

"So it won't be confused by commands from other owners?"

"Your sharpness on this subject is greatly appreciated."

The slave trader smirked creepily.

What a weird guy.

"Anyways, how much does this cost?"

"As you know, this werewolf is from a capable species..."

When it comes to money, I'm sure there are many rumors about me.

"How does 15 gold coins sound?"

"I'm not sure about the market price... But you're stating a modest fee, I trust?"

1 gold coin is equivalent to 100 silver coins.

There's a reason the king delivered them with roses. Because of their high value, the gold coins are hard to exchange.

The shops in town mostly dealt with silver coins, since they were more commonly used as the form of currency.

"But of course."

...

The slave trader smiled as I stared back.

"You showed this to me knowing I couldn't afford it, didn't you?"

"Yes. You will become a prominent person one day, and it'll be inconvenient for us if you aren't aware of our high standards. We can't have some other incompetent trader sell you inferior goods."

He's a peculiar guy either way.

"This is the status of the slave, for your reference."

The slave trader showed me a small crystal. An icon began to glow and words appeared.

Battle slave Lvl. 75. Species: Werewolf.

Other skills and techniques are displayed as well.

75... Almost 20 times my Lvl.

How easy will fighting be with someone this powerful under my command?
It's likely stronger than any of the other heroes right now.

Though the pricing was iffy for its quality.

Because of its poor state of health, it was probably still a drawback even if it could follow my orders.

And does this price include all the other troublesome fees?

"It had previously been fighting at the Colosseum. I picked it up when it was discarded due to its broken arms and legs."

"Huh."

So this is an inferior model.

Weak despite its level.

"Now that you have seen our best product, what kind of slave is to your liking?"

"Something cheap and not crippled."

"Neither for fighting nor labor? So according to the rumors..."

"I didn't do it!"

"Hu hu hu, either way is fine with me. So what other qualities are you looking for?"

"Being domestic will be inconvenient. And of course a sex slave is out of the question."

"Huh... Seems like the rumors were indeed false."

"... I didn't do it."

Yeah, I can say it, since I didn't actually do it.

What I need now is simply someone who can defeat monsters for me, as long as they're usable.

"Gender?"

"Male would be preferable, but I won't stress over it."

"Huh..."

The slave trader scratched his cheek.

"The quality won't be good enough to be deemed as a pet. Is that alright?"

"What do I care about looks?"

"Even though its level may be low?"

"If I want strength, I'll train it myself."

"... A humorous answer for someone who doesn't trust in people."

"A slave isn't human, is it? Training a slave is no different than practicing with this shield of mine. So long as it doesn't double-cross me, then I can train it."

"You've got me there."

'Pft pft.' The slave trader held back his laughter.

"This way, please."

We walked through the cage-filled tent for several minutes, passing the chaotic area into one which was less noisy.

I turned my gaze and saw both decrepit youths and the elderly with forlorn faces.

After walking a bit more, the slave trader stopped.

"These are the cheapest slaves which we can provide to Sir Hero."

He said while pointing to three caged slaves.

The first one was a bunny-eared guy around the age of 20 with an arm bent at an odd angle.

The second was a bony girl around the age of 10 with circular dog-like ears and a strangely fat tail, shuddering and coughing in fear.

The third was a blind lizard man. He radiated a strangely evil aura, however, he looked much too human to be a lizard man.

"From the left, we have a rabbit species with a genetic disease, a raccoon species afflicted with panic and ailment, and a beastman lizard man.

Ah, so the third is a beastman.

"All of them seem problematic."

"Only these fulfill your requested conditions. Anything lower than this, well frankly..."

The slave trader looked to the back. I did the same.

I could tell even from afar: the stench of death. That highly concentrated smell similar to a funeral. Something in there...

The necrotic odor was coming from there too.

I didn't want to look: it would be mentally scarring.

"What's the price, by the way?"

"From the left: 25, 30, and 40 silver coins."

"And their level?"

"5, 1, and 8."

Looking at the current standings, the beastman lizard man seemed to be the best. But the price and genetic disease, not to mention he was very thin.

Although the rabbit guy can't use one of his arms, the rest of his body should be fine. His expression was awfully grim... though it was the same for everyone else here.

"Speaking of which, they're very quiet."

"They'll be punished if they make noise."

"I see."

Either they were well trained, or the trader didn't show me the untamed ones.

The lizard man was probably useful in battle, but not for anything else.

"Why is this middle one so cheap?"

Although she was skinny and scared, she was still a girl. Her face wasn't all that pretty, however.

A raccoon species, literally a raccoon dog.

But a girl closely resembling a human could be sold for other specialties.

"The raccoon species is somewhat inferior aesthetically. If it were the fox species, then it could be sold at a high price despite any problems."

"I see..."

Too inferior to be a pet then.

"Her face is below standards and she panics during the night, so we're having difficulties with her."

"So this is one of your goods in stock?"

"Wow, right into the heart of the matter."

Not suited for labor compared to the other two. Her level was the lowest as well.

It's hard to decide which of these three is the best.

My eyes met with hers.

Then. I noticed my emotions suddenly swelling deep inside.

Yes. This one is a girl, the same sex as that bitch.

Looking at its frightened eyes, I can feel the intense desire to dominate her.

It's good to imagine her as if I enslaved that woman. So even if I die, my soul also won't bear as much of a grudge that way.

"Then I'll buy that slave in the middle."

"Your immensely wicked smirk is very gratifying to see."

The slave holder took out the key, let the raccoon girl out of the cage, and chained her to a leash.

"Hee!?!"

Looking at the fearful girl, I felt extremely satisfied.

What a nice feeling to imagine that woman making this face.

Dragging the girl along, the slave trader returned and called someone from inside the semi-opened circus tent to retrieve a vase.

Then, he poured some ink into a small saucer and directed it towards me.

"Mr Hero, please share some of your blood. Then the ritual process will be complete, and this slave shall become yours."

"I see."

I used a knife to slightly cut open a finger.

If someone else tried to stab me, the shield would respond. Yet it was unresponsive if I ever harmed myself.

Furthermore, it won't activate outside of battle.

I waited for blood to ooze out, then dripped several drops into the saucer.

The slave trader used a brush to soak up the ink, then he tore the slave's clothes down to her waist and painted the stigma on her body.

"GYAAAAAAAAAAAA!!"

The slave stigma started to glow, and an icon appeared in my status window.

Obtained a slave.

A message with terms of service agreement appeared.

Numerous terms and conditions are listed.

I skimmed through it and set the punishment for betrayal to extreme pain.

I checked the companion icon next to the slave entry.

Since her name was unknown, 'Slave A' was written in there.

It seemed like I can change the specifications however I wanted. I'll read it closely later.

"Now this slave is yours, Sir Elderly Hero. Please complete your purchase."

"Yeah."

I handed over 31 silver coins.

"There's 1 extra."

"It's for the ceremony service. You were going to demand it anyways, weren't you?"

"... You know me quite well."

If I pay the service in advance, he can't complain about it later either.

Though if he planned to demand more, what should I do?

"Well, it's fine. Since we cleared out our inventory too."

"How much were you going to charge for the ceremony, by the way?"

"Haha, our services were included in the 30 silver coins."

"Is that so, who knew?"

The slave trader laughed, so I chuckled back.

"You really are too sharp! I'm shocked."

"Feel free to say whatever you want about me."

"We're looking forward to your next visit."

"I'm sure."

---

I commanded the slave to follow and left the circus tent.

The slave trailed behind me with a dark expression.

"Tell me your name."

"...*Cough*..."

She turned her face away, refusing to answer.

But that reaction was foolish.

The slave disobeyed, so the punishment was activated.

"A, UGHHHHHHH!"

The slave held her chest in pain.

"Now then, say your name."

"Raphtalia...*Cough* *cough*!"

"Raphtalia? Okay, let's go."

After announcing her name, the pain stopped and Raphtalia was able to breath again.

Holding her hand, I continued to walk through the back alley.

"..."

Raphtalia looked up to me, at the hand which held hers, and walked along as well.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 10 – Kid's Lunch

---

"You...."

Oyaji was completely dumbstruck when I brought Raphtalia along with me to the Weapon Shop.

Yep, in order for her to fight efficiently... she needed more offensive power. So it would be absurd not to buy her a weapon.

"Give me a weapon within the range of 6 silver coins that this girlie can use."

"... Hah."

The Weapon Shop's Oyaji lets out a deep sigh.

"Is this country really that corrupted, or did you become completely rotten to the bone... but whatever, I'm getting 6 silver coins out of this."

"Do you still have any left, things like ordinary clothing or a cape?"

"... It's fine. I'll add those in as a freebie."

Oyaji muttered with a detested tone while bringing out several knives.

"These fall under the 6 silver coins and below category."

From left to right, we have knives made from: Copper, Bronze, and Iron.

They all have the same attack range but different prices.

I made Raphtalia hold each of the knives a few times before choosing the one which she was most comfortable with.

"This one's good."

Raphtalia's face paled as she looked at me and Oyaji with the knife in her hands.

"Here, your free clothes and mantle."

Oyaji handed them over with a brusque shove and guided us to the changing room.

I seized Raphtalia's knife and then instructed her to wear the donated clothing.

Raphtalia tottered into the changing room while coughing; she then got changed.

"She still looks rather messy... let's give her a bath later on."

There was a river flowing near the meadow.

In this country, the river splits into various branches as it flows downstream. My camping grounds have recently been relocated in that area.

It's a great spot since I can always fish for food.

Some of the fishes that I caught were absorbed, unsealing the effects of the 'Fish Shield' and acquiring Angling Techniques 1 as a result.

Raphtalia timidly tottered over to me after she finished changing.

It seemed she understood that disobeying will bring about pain.

I squatted down to Raphtalia's eye level and spoke to her.

"Now then, Raphtalia, this here is your weapon. From now on, you and I will be fighting monsters together. You get what I'm saying?"

"..."

Raphtalia nodded at my words with frightened eyes.

Good, because it'll be painful if she didn't understand.

"Now then, with that knife in your hand——"

I took out the Orange Balloon that was hidden within my cloak and placed it in front of Raphtalia.

"Hack and slash this thing."

"Hii!?"

When I showed her the hidden demon, Raphtalia screamed in shock and dropped her weapon.

"Eh... N-...No."

"That's an order. Do it."

"I-, I can't."

Raphtalia shook her head vigorously. However, she was then struck with a surge of pain due to her disobedience from the slave spell.

"Guh..."

"Come now, it'll only continue hurting if you don't stab this thing."

"*Koho...koho!*"

Raphtalia's face contorted in pain as she firmly gripped her weapon.

"You..."

Oyaji was rendered speechless as he witnessed our little theatrics.

Raphtalia firmly steeled her will to kill as I shoved against the Orange Balloon that was biting on my arm.

Buni...

"That's weak! Put in some more effort!"

"..!? Ei!"

Startled, Raphtalia recoiled back for a moment. Then immediately using the momentum, she once again charged at the Balloon with great force.

POP!*

The Balloon burst with a loud noise.

EXP 1

For the first time, a text box popped up and indicated that my ally had defeated an enemy.

Yet again, my head was filled with bloodlust.

That bitch. She never had any intention of staying with me or teaching me how the system works.

“Good, you did well.”

I patted Raphtalia.

She then looked up to me with a mystified expression.

“Alright, the next one will be this.”

The strongest balloon that I’ve encountered was still attached to me, trying to devour me with its bites. I held out the munching Red Balloon just like I had done with the last one.

The Red Balloon didn’t eat or drink anything for about a week, so it should have been weakened considerably.

But even so, this thing could probably endure an attack from a sick, newbie girl.

Steadily, Raphtalia nodded her head and pierced the Balloon’s eye more firmly than before.

POP!

EXP 1

Companion EXP 6

It was then that the icon caught my attention.

“Good, from now on, just keep fighting like this; let's go.”

“... *Koho*”

Following my orders, Raphtalia sheathed her weapon around her waist and obediently followed me.

“Hah, hey buddy. I have something to say to you.”

“And that is?”

Oyaji grumbled while scowling at me.

“Don't YOU, EVER, DIE, DISHONORABLY, you hear?”

“I'll take those kind words to heart.”

I returned his sarcasm with one of my own.

Quickly heading towards the meadows, I noticed some stores and street stalls along the side road which continue stretching into the horizon.

While Raphtalia held my hand and walked beside me, she glanced around the town restlessly.

The food stalls were releasing a delectable aroma.

Remaining money after my purchases: 3 silver coins... Speaking of which, my belly was a bit empty.

- Gu...*

Such a sound was heard from Raphtalia's direction.

She averted her gaze with an:

"Ah!"

While trying to deny what just happened...

I wondered why she was holding back.

Right now, if Raphtalia doesn't have the strength to fight enemies, then I won't be getting income anytime soon either.

A dull knife is useless. She won't be able to muster any strength when she's hungry.

I went inside a restaurant which seemed affordable enough for our budget.

"Wel-...come!"

Our server guided us to a table with a displeased look, due to our shabby appearance.

Along the way, Raphtalia looked over at a parent/child pair who were sitting elsewhere.

With a finger to her mouth, Raphtalia seemed quite envious of the child digging into that kiddie lunch.

I guess she wanted to eat that.

We sat down and quickly ordered before our server left.

"Etto, I'll have the cheapest meal on the menu, while this little lady will get whatever that kid over there is eating."

"!?"

Raphtalia stared at me with clear astonishment. Was it so surprising for me to order that lunch for her?

"Understood. That comes to a total of 9 copper coins."

"Here."

Handing over a silver coin, our server then gave me back the difference.

I looked around the store absentmindedly while waiting for our lunch to be served.

...

People around us began to gossip after noticing my presence.

Yep, it's totally a parallel world in here.

"Wh-,y?"

"Hm?"

I lowered my gaze towards Raphtalia after hearing her voice.

She was staring up at me with a face full of wonder.

"You looked hungry for that meal, no? Or did you want to order something else?"

Raphtalia shook her head so fast that a bustling sound can be heard from the movement.

This is quite a delicate topic for her.

"Wh-, why, would you let me eat that lunch?"

"Like I told you, I ordered it since you seemed to want it."

"But..."

How come she was being so persistent on this subject?

"Anyways, eat some food and get some nutrition. You'll die if you're too skinny, you know."

Well, since I just bought my new slave, I can't have her dying on me before she paid me back with interest.

"Sorry for the wait."

Our meals have finally arrived.

That's the lunch which I ordered for Raphtalia? It's a bacon meal set (?) about as big as a person's arm.

Mhm. The presentation is in pretty good taste at least.

"..."

Raphtalia froze on the spot while having thoughts like "is this kid's meal really meant for me?"

"You don't want to eat?"

"... Is this really alright?"

"Hah... it's fine, so eat up."

Raphtalia's face contorted a bit upon hearing my instructions.

"Okay."

Raphtalia timidly began eating her kid's lunch with her bare hands.

Well, it couldn't be helped since she grew up in a harsh environment.

It somehow seemed that the amount of gossip floating around had grown once more. Though it's not a matter worth concerning myself with.

Raphtalia adoringly held the flag which had stood at the chicken rice-like summit of her meal.

Mumble mumble mumble*

Raphtalia then began savoring each and every morsel of her lunch.

So I'll be eating my meals with this slave from now on... just a solitary thought which crossed my mind.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 11 – Slave's Accomplishments

---

After our lunch inside the restaurant, we headed off into the meadow.

Raphtalia was humming cheerfully by the way.

However, upon seeing the meadow, she began to tremble with fear lingering in her eyes.

"It may be scary but I will definitely protect you from the monsters."

She tilted her head upon hearing my words.

"C'mon, these small fries can only make me itchy when they bite, I don't even feel any pain."

Raphtalia was dumbfounded when I showed her the gallery of Balloons hidden under my mantle.

"That's not, painful?"

"Nope."

"Then..."

"I'll tank."

"Yes... *Koho*..."

I was a bit concerned over her coughing, but she seemed to be fine.

We picked up medicinal herbs along the way while heading towards the forest.

Oh, here they come again.

Three Red Balloons came flying out from a bush inside the forest.

I sacrificed myself to make sure that none of them bit Raphtalia.

"Alright, just do it like we had done it a while ago."

"... Hai!"

A motivated Raphtalia vigorously charged and backstabbed the Red Balloons.

POP!* POP!* POP!*

With this, Raphtalia raised her Level to 2.

The requirement for Red Small Shield has been unsealed.

Red Small Shield

True power sealed ..... Equipment Bonus: 4 Defensive Power

I immediately changed my shield.

Raphtalia's eyes popped out when she saw my shield transform.

"Goshujin-sama... just who are you?"

She didn't seem to know that I was the one and only Shield Hero. Well up until now, she was nothing but a demi-human slave after all.

"I'm a Hero. The Hero of the Shield."

"The legendary hero?"

"So you know?"

Raphtalia timidly nodded.

"That's right, I'm a summoned Hero. There are 3 more people like me... but I'm the weakest of them all!"

I began biting my fingernails, trying to contain this sudden outburst of rage. My head was filled with nothing but bloodlust when the face of that fucker popped up.

Raphtalia was frightened by my eyes, instinctively knowing that she shouldn't dig any deeper into this.

"For the time being, today's task will be hunting monsters in this forest. I'll seize them and you'll pierce them."

"Hai..."

She had become somewhat accustomed to this as Raphtalia nodded obediently.

And then, whenever we encountered enemies inside the forest, we'd always use the common tactic where I aggro'ed and disabled them while Raphtalia went in for the kill.

Midway through, we encountered an enemy other than Balloons for the first time.

Roux Mush

A white, moving mushroom. It had sharp slanted eyes, and was roughly the size of a human head.

I experimentally hit it, and it gave off a response identical to a Red Balloon's. Raphtalia then knocked this one down too.

This type of mob also appeared in different shades of color, there were Blue Mushes and Green Mushes.

Requirement for Mush Shield has been unsealed.

Requirement for Blue Mush Shield has been unsealed.

Requirement for Green Mush Shield has been unsealed.

Mush Shield

True power sealed ..... Equipment bonus: Plant Identification 1

Blue Mush Shield

True power sealed ..... Equipment bonus: Simple Compounding Recipes 1

Green Mush Shield

True power sealed ..... Equipment bonus: Apprentice's Compounding

There were no status bonus; all of them gave level-based skill bonuses.

Compounding... Mass producing medicine will be very valuable.

By the end of the day, Raphtalia's Level increased by three, so in total she was now at Level 5.

We walked through the meadow and camped around the riverbed in the evening.

"*Koho*..."

Raphtalia arrived at my side without voicing any complaints.

I suppose it would do her some good if she learned to appreciate money by experiencing the difficulty of making some.

After we lit a campfire with some firewood by the river, I took out a towel from inside my bag and gave it to Raphtalia.

"Go wash yourself for now. After you're done, come back here and warm your cold body with the fire."

'... Hai."

Raphtalia removed her clothes and dove into the river, where she then began cleansing herself.

During that time I began fishing in order to prepare our dinner.

I properly kept an eye out for Raphtalia while doing so.

There should only be weak Balloons lurking around this area, but it would be wise to never let my guard down.

I took a look over today's harvest.

An abundant amount of 'Meadow's Wild Medical Herb'.

A splendid amount of 'Medical Herbs that don't usually grow in the Meadow'.

A reasonable amount of 'Balloon's Balloon'.

A reasonable amount of 'Assorted Mush'.

Number of shields unsealed: 4 types.

Mhm. An obvious difference in efficiency.

Buying a slave was the right choice.

That's right. I should try to challenge compounding.

I called forth some simple recipes.

A window popped up, showing combination formulas that can be made with the medical herbs which I collected.

As for equipment... I suppose I can only make a limited amount using the rocks and pebbles on the riverside. So let's try the recipes that can be made from a mortar.

However, the simple recipes didn't have any record of mixing techniques within it.

Gori gori gori*...

I tried imitating how the pharmacy owner mixed his medicine in order to witness the results.

Heal Pill has been made!

Heal Pill Quality: Bad -> A Bit Bad A pill that hastens a wound's recovery, needs to be applied on the wound to receive effects.

This type of Icon floated in front of my eyes.

Nice, it was a success.

The shield was reacting, but I decided to hold onto the medicine for now.

Alright, time to challenge an unfamiliar recipe.

Sometimes the compounding failed and the stuff turned into a jet black waste. This was more fun than I expected.

Pachi pachi pachi*...

The sound of fire crackling could be heard.

Raphtalia finished washing and had gone to warm herself up by the campfire.

"Are you warm yet?"

"Yes. *Koho*..."

This looked very similar to a cold. The slave dealer did say that she was plagued with an illness.

Coincidentally... there was a cold medicine amongst the experimental remedies.

Regular Medicine Quality: Somewhat acceptable. This medicine is effective against a mild cold.

"Hey, drink this."

I was a bit anxious, but this was better than nothing.

"... So bitter, dislike it... guh..."

Raphtalia tried to say something selfish but held her chest in pain instead.

"Here."

"Y-, Yes."

Raphtalia trembled as she swallowed the medicine that I passed to her.

"Haa... Haa..."

"There there, good girl."

Raphtalia once again gave me a perplexed stare when I patted her head.

Ah, these tanuki ears sure were fluffy.

She hugged her tail while blushing, refusing to let me feel it. Did she think that I would try touching her tail when I looked at it?

"Here, this is your dinner."

I handed a grilled fish over to Raphtalia, and then returned to compounding medicine.

I've always loved to work on these kinds of delicate projects.

The sun set completely yet I kept on compounding, using the campfire for light.

Fumu... This was fun in a lot of ways.

Having already finished eating her fish, Raphtalia drowsily stared at the campfire while letting out some subtle snoring sounds.

"Go to sleep."

Upon hearing my order, Raphtalia repeatedly shook her head.

Was she being shy? She was refusing to sleep like a spoiled child... Well, I guess she was one.

Anyways it seemed like she would fall asleep eventually.

Come to think of it, was the medicine effective? I hadn't heard her cough since then.

Afterwards, I examined the remedies which were made from my experiments, and most of them had simple effects.

Those deemed inferior were absorbed into the shield.

Requirement for Petit Medicine Shield has been unsealed.

Requirement for Petit Poison Shield has been unsealed.

Petit Medicine Shield

True power sealed ..... Equipment bonus: Raises Medicine's Effects.

Petit Poison Shield

True power sealed ..... Equipment bonus: Poison Resistance ( Small )

Both of them seemed to be related to the Leaf Shield and Mush Shield.

Though I had no idea how 'Raises Medicine's Effects' works.

Does it increase the effect of the medicines that I use on myself, or the effect of the medicines which I create?

Well, whatever.

There was no mistake that today's harvest was a good one.

"No... help me..."

Raphtalia let out a strange voice.

The sleeping Raphtalia seemed to be having a nightmare.

"NOOO!"

I felt like my ears went deaf for a moment there.

This sucked. Balloons were coming our way; they probably got attracted by her screaming.

I quickly went over to Raphtalia and covered her mouth.

"H—————!"

However, a loud noise could still be heard, I then recalled the slave dealer's concern about this dilemma.

This certainly was problematic.

"Calm down, just settle down already."

I held the sobbing Raphtalia in my hands and cradled her.

"Noo...a-san...o-san."

Was she calling for her parents? Raphtalia could do nothing but cry and stretch out her hand, begging for help.

"It's fine... it's alright, you're safe now."

I patted her head and continued cradling her.

"Don't cry. Be strong."

"Huhu..."

I continued to hug the weeping Raphtalia.

"Grah!"

A Balloon that was attracted by her cries appeared.

"Fu..."

Really, even at a time like this.

I held Raphtalia close to me and charged at the Balloon.

"Uwoooooooooooooooooooooooooooooo!"

Chun... Chun!*

"Is it morning?"

What a terrible night.

By the time I finished with the horde of Balloons that appeared, Raphtalia's cries had also begun to quiet down. But when I tried to separate myself from her, if even a little, she would start wailing out loud again.

Then the Balloons would appear once more.

Which is why I was unable to get a wink of sleep.

"Nn..."

"You awake?"

"Hiii!?"

Raphtalia widely opened her eyes in surprise since I was holding her up in front of me.

"Ha... I'm tired."

There was still some time before the town's gate opened. So I planned on taking a quick nap for now.

Today, I would be selling the medicine which I had made yesterday; this should yield more profit than the raw medical herbs.

If the herbs' value were higher than the medicine's, then there would be no point in people making them.

"I'll be sleeping for little while. As for breakfast... would the leftover fish from yesterday suit your taste?"

Raphtalia timidly nodded.

"Then good night. Call me if any monsters appear."

It was painful just to keep my eyes open, so I was quickly invited into a slumber full of dreams.

I still didn't know the reason behind Raphtalia's panic attacks. And I wasn't interested in hearing about it either.

It's most likely due to the shock of being sold by her parents, or maybe from being kidnapped.

Even if it was the latter, I had no obligation to return her. This gentleman here had paid big bucks for this slave after all.

It was fine if she held a grudge over this. I needed to do all I could in order to survive.

I have to find a way to return to my old world, that's all there is to it.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 12 – What's Yours is Mine

---

Around high noon, I opened my eyes and Raphtalia was there waiting for me.

"Are we going to the castle town? *Koho*"

"Ha ha."

She's coughing once again.

I silently handed her the 'regular medicine' and Raphtalia took it while frowning.

After that it was time to drop by the pharmacy to do some business.

"Fumu... the quality of these isn't bad. Yuusha-sama, are you familiar with pharmacology?"

Since I was no longer a stranger to the store, I was able to catch glimpses on some of the medicine's production.

"No, it was my first time making some yesterday. Compared to selling raw medical herbs, which one is more profitable?"

"That's a difficult question. Although medical herbs are cheaper to use, medicines can usually save lives."

Although the pharmacist frowned when he saw Raphtalia, I knew from observation that he didn't use cheap lies and was speaking honestly.

"The price of medicine has skyrocketed recently due to the prophecy, so demand for them is very high right now."

"Fumu..."

Either risk failing to craft them for better sales, or selling raw materials to their product line directly; it's debatable on which of the two will yield more gold.

However, everything has its own silver lining. There's no disadvantage in continuing to collect more.

"Hey, does this mean you're not coming anymore?"

"... Didn't I say something along the lines of: 'For two weeks, I'll be selling medical herbs around town'."

The pharmacist understood my answer and looked at me with an odd expression before laughing.

This time around he gave me some hand-me-down equipment and taught me how to use them, taking my medical herbs as his payment while still buying the medicine off me.

I received various tools besides the mortar.

Laboratory equipment like: measuring device, flask, and distiller.

These should last me for quite a while before I have to get some new ones.

"Since these used goods were only collecting dust in the warehouse, you won't know when they might break."

"I suppose it's a good enough set for beginners."

Anyways, with this I'll be able to challenge more formulas.

I just have to dispose of the Balloon skins now.

While on my way to the Balloon buyer, I caught sight of some children from my peripheral vision.

It seemed those Balloon skins that the merchant bought were used as material to make actual, marketable balloons. The children were playing around with one of those as if it was a ball.

Raphtalia was looking at those kids with envy.

"Naa, what's that?"

"Yes?"

I pointed at the ball those children were playing with and asked.

"Well, that's one of the practical applications of what we do with the Balloon skins."

"I see, then can you make another using the goods we're about to sell?"

"Eh, well... if you really want one."

We headed over to the buyer to sell our goods and left with money in hand.
He then let me have one of the balls that was made from a Balloon skin.

I threw the ball and Raphtalia caught it.

「ほら」

受け取ったボールを

俺はラフタリアに
投げ渡した。

ラフタリアは

ボールと俺の顔を

何度も交互に見て、
目を丸くさせる。

「なんだ？ いらないのか？」

「う、ううん」

With wide eyes, Raphtalia alternated between the ball and my face several times.

"What? You don't want it?"

"M-, Mhm."

Raphtalia laughed merrily, waving her head around.

She laughed for the first time.

"Once we're done with today's work, you can go play around with it."

"Yay!"

She was somehow very energetic. This is good progress.

Because an energetic Raphtalia will be more beneficial for me.

After that we returned to the forest, exterminating monsters and collecting herbs just like yesterday.

We were able to go in deeper thanks to my enhanced defense.

... Apparently there is a village if we continued to advance into the forest. However, I refused to follow that bitch's advice.

It was profitable and we discovered various things. It was likely due to the fact that we were approaching the foot of the mountain range.

Oh? We've found a new enemy.

An egg-like creature.

This thing looked like it belonged to a branch of the Balloon family.

"We're fighting this monster for the first time. I'll be going in first. Once I give you the signal, rush in for the kill."

"Un!"

That's a good answer.

I charged at the monster; it also noticed me and bared its fangs my way.

Gan!*

It really did no damage. There wasn't any pain or so much as an itch.

Rapharia's blade flew through the air and easily impaled it.

"Taha!"

We cleared monsters more vigorously compared to yesterday.

An Egg.

Another one of the earlier enemies.

Followed by a 'Parin*' sound, Egg crumbled into pieces with egg yolk splattering everywhere when it died.

"B-ue, this is nasty!"

Couldn't the shell be sold? This was such a waste.

It smells rotten so I guess it's inedible.

I absorbed the shell pieces into the shield.

Since she got used to it, Raphtalia was able to pierce the Egg in an experienced manner.

Requirement for Egg Shield has been unsealed.

Egg Shield

True power sealed ..... Equipment bonus: Culinary 1

Another level based skill bonus.

This time was cooking, huh?

We continued hunting the different color variations of this monster.

Requirement for Blue Egg Shield has been unsealed.

Requirement for Sky Egg Shield has been unsealed.

Blue Egg Shield

True power sealed ..... Equipment bonus: Judgement 1

Sky Egg Shield

True power sealed ..... Equipment bonus: Beginner Cooking Recipes

Weird, it has only been skill bonuses lately.

Does it depend on which type of enemy we defeat?

Oh well, in the meantime I'll just utilize my herb collecting skills more.

The day seemed a little bit longer while up in the mountain.

Still, I was a bit concerned over Raphtalia's equipment.

Here are today's results:

Me: Level 8

Raphtalia: Level 7

Damn. She almost caught up to me already.

This was undoubtedly due to Raphtalia dealing the finishing blows.

Gu*...

"My stomach's empty..."

Raphtalia made a troubled expression as she said this to me.

"I guess you're right, let's head back for our meal."

We ended our exploration and headed back to town.

After returning, I sold the Egg Shells that looked unusable for compounding.

We made 9 silver today, including what we sold this morning.

It was doubtful that we could make much from these shells. However, they were bought from me for an unexpectedly high price.

The medicine and herbs also fetched a good price, making me reconsider what we should eat today.

Well, considering that Raphtalia had been drooling all over the food stalls for a while now...

I had no intention of pampering her, but she should be rewarded for her good work. So, why not?

"Let's drop by, just for today."

"Eh? Is it okay?"

"You wanted to eat here, right?"

Raphtalia nodded fiercely at my question.

She had become quite honest.

"*Keho*..."

She's coughing once again.

I silently handed her a 'regular medicine', then I ordered what looked like hardened mashed potatoes on a skewer from one of the stalls.

"Here, you worked hard today."

After swallowing the medicine, Raphtalia happily accepted the skewer I held out and stuffed her face with it.

"Thank you!"

"N-, no prob..."

... I'm glad that she had become so energetic.

I looked around for a cheap Inn while eating and walking.

"Do you want to stay here tonight?"

"Aaah."

Raphtalia crying all night long was troublesome enough already, please at least spare me the fights with the Balloons.

We went into the Inn.

Upon entering, the Innkeeper blatantly scowled, however, he instantly switched on his business smile.

"There's a chance my companion here will be crying at night, is that alright?"

I dangled the Balloon concealed under my cloak threateningly in front of the other party as I asked.

"Tha-, that's a bit——"

"I can count on you, right? We'll be keeping the noise at a reasonable level."

"Y-, yes."

Ever since coming to this world, I had learned that blackmailing was an important part of business.

This whole damn country had made me into a target of ridicule; the damn king couldn't even fully comprehend how much damage his actions caused me.

No, even if he did, he would probably say something like 'it couldn't be helped'.

Seriously, all these parallel world elitists.

I paid the fee and then unloaded our luggage inside the room we rented.

Raphtalia's eyes sparkled while looking at the ball.

"Come back before nightfall. Also, stay as close to the Inn as possible."

"Yaaay!"

Good grief, she really did act like a child her age.

Demi-humans seemed to be the object of contempt, but there shouldn't be any problems if she was seen and treated like an adventurer.

Looking out of the window, I saw Raphtalia playing with her ball. I then did research on more methods of compounding.

Approximately... 20 minutes had passed since then.

That was when I heard a loud, childish scream.

"Why is a Demi-human playing in our turf!"

What was that? I peered out of the window.

No matter how I look at it, all I saw was some shitty bullies pointing at Raphtalia and harassing her.

Good grief, no matter where you go there will always be these type of kids lurking around the place.

"This brat. You have a nice toy, so hand it over."

"Eh-, a-, that's..."

Raphtalia seemed to be aware of the demi-human's low standing in society. So their reaction wasn't strange to her either.

Ha...

I went out of the room and headed downstairs.

"I told you to hand it over."

"N-, no..."

These fucking punks were intending to use violence as they encircled the frail and defiant Raphtalia.

"Hold it right there, you little shits."

"What do you want, old geezer."

Guh, old geezer he says!

Whatever, I'm only 20 this year and I don't care about this world's standards for age.

I don't even care if I'm an old geezer to them.

"What reason do you have for demanding other people's belongings?"

"Hah? That isn't your ball, is it?"

"It's mine. I'm lending it to this girl. If you stole it from her then that means you stole it from me."

"Just what are you saying, damn geezer."

Sigh... It seemed they couldn't even understand that much with all the blood rushing into their brains.

Even if he was a kid, I never intended to forgive him. Those that steal from people deserved to be punished.

"I see I see, then I'll give you an EVEN BIGGER BALL."

Noticing my demeanor, Raphtalia squeezed out her voice, telling the startled children.

"Run away!"

However, the eyes of those little shits underestimated me.

I silently snickered deep down while I took out the Balloon that was biting my arm.

GABU!*

"MY ASSSSSSSSSSS!"<sup>[11]</sup>

The Balloon immediately paid the brat a visit with a bite on his ass.

"So kids, that one was a REAL ball, you guys want some too?"

"Ouuchhhhh!"

"That was not a joke. Dumbasses!"

"Die! Retard!"

"I'll kick your ass too, you little shit!"

I turned back towards the Inn with the brats cursing me as they ran away.

"Er, umm..."

Raphtalia grabbed my mantle.

"Oi, there's a Balloon still living in there."

The frightened Raphtalia quickly flinched her hand away, her timid look making me laugh.

"Arigatou."

What was she talking about?

"Oh..."

While stroking Raphtalia's head, we both returned to the Inn.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 13 – Remedy

---

The day died out and the night grew cold; it was about time for Raphtalia's stomach to grumble. Leaving the luggage behind at the inn, we went to a nearby restaurant for dinner.

We had some snacks just a while ago.

Raphtalia got them from an unfamiliar shop, though I had no idea what was so good about them.

Good grief, I needed a way to fatten up my wallet. I guess camping out will be our plan from now on.

So I'll let you eat your fill for now!

"Let's see, Delia-set for two people and a Neapolitan please."

After giving the order to our server, our dinner soon arrived.

"Let's dig in."

"Un."

Raphtalia began eating by stuffing food into her mouth with her bare hands again.

Judging from her growth, I would say that she was roughly 10. She had been eyeing my plate, so I went ahead and ordered extra.

"Eat up while you can since we'll be camping out from tomorrow onward."

“Ha-gu-i!”

Nodding and eating at the same time is bad table manners. But since she’s eating so gratefully, I’ll excuse her behavior this time.

After that, we returned to our room where I took note of Raphtalia’s appearance yet again.

“Your hair is a mess, let’s trim it a bit.”

“... Hai.”

I patted Raphtalia head with a 'pon*' since she was making an uneasy face.

“It’ll be fine. I’m not going to give you a weird haircut.”

Besides, it was her current appearance that looked weird.

Using a knife, I began trimming off the excessive hair with a ‘gushi*’.

I trimmed her hair to about shoulder length before I was done.

“Alright, this much should be good, right.”

Compared to her old hairstyle, this one was at least more presentable.

With this, she would look quite nice after dressing up.

Raphtalia began twirling around, her face swelling with confidence.<sup>[4]</sup>

I wonder what she's so happy about.

The shield reacted when I was cleaning up the leftover hair.

...

I never would have imagined that.

Suuu*...

I opened my status to confirm. Though it appeared that my Lvl and 'Tree' were still insufficient.

"Hm?"

Crap, she turned around.

"Now then, you should hurry up and go to bed."

"Un!"

She was being strangely honest, unlike yesterday.

Well, that's good.

She might weep again, so I busied myself by compounding inside the room.

...

Nutritional Supplement was created.

Nutritional Supplement Quality Bad -> A Bit Bad A medicine that relieves fatigue, it is also effective as a method of rapidly recovering from malnourishment.

Recovery Potion was created.

Recovery Potion Quality A Bit Bad -> Normal A medicine that treats certain illnesses. It will be less effective against more severe diseases.

Fumu... there are various things that can be made using the mountain and forest herbs.

Because of this, I can trade these at the pharmacy for a splendid sum of money.

It was just that the materials were consumed at a fearsome rate that was borderline hazardous.

Altogether, I made 6 Nutritional Supplements and a few other remedies.

However, it was still very difficult to make high quality medicines; I had no chance of winning against a specialist.

Since I'm the Shield Hero and not a Pharmacist.

... Let's absorb some of them into the Shield then.

The requirement for Calorie Shield has been unsealed.

The requirement for Energy Shield has been unsealed.

The requirement for Energetic Shield had been unsealed.

Calorie Shield

True power sealed ..... Equipment Bonus: Stamina Boost (Small)

Energy Shield

True power sealed ..... Equipment Bonus: SP Boost (Small)

Energic Shield

True power sealed ..... Equipment Bonus: Stamina Consumption Decrease (Small)

For the time being, all of them gave status related bonuses.

Just what is 'stamina' anyways? Is it like physical fitness?

It seems that I'll need to experience this for myself.

Next we had the medical herbs, but... I wonder if it'll become more difficult if I continue to recklessly learn more crafting skills.

I want more combat bonuses.

Or maybe it's because I can't meet the unsealing requirement with only the herbs I had collected.

Well, that's fine.

"Nn~..."

While stretching and preparing to go to sleep, I spotted Raphtalia squeezing her eyes tight. Looks like she wasn't able to get a good night's sleep; that was a sign she was about to weep.

"Kya——"

I covered her mouth right before she screamed, then I held her in my arms while gently patting her with a 'pon pon*'.

Phew, I was somehow able to calm her down tonight.

But she would cry her eyes out if I tried to let go of her now.

Guess it can't be helped. Let's sleep together then.

... It felt kind of chilly.

Feeling the sunlight shining on my face, I opened my eyes.

Raphtalia, who was supposed to be sleeping next to me, was trembling in a corner of the room.

"What's wrong?"

"Gomennasai gomennasai, gomennasai gomennasai!"<sup>[11]</sup>

I furrowed my eyebrows at Raphtalia who was desperately muttering apologies; I could roughly guess the reason due to this damp chilliness which was coming from underneath me. I see... Raphtalia wet the bed.

Haa...

She thought I would be angry.

I had never heard of a 10 year old wetting the bed, but there was no way I could be angry after looking at those frightened eyes of hers.

I went over to Raphtalia.

I reached my hand out, startling Raphtalia as she curled herself up into a ball and shielded her head.

"Good grief..."

I used that hand to pat the shoulder of a trembling Raphtalia.

"Wetting the bed wasn't something that you can control, right? Come now, hurry up and undress so you can wash yourself up."

She'll need a spare change of clothes too, I suppose.

"Eh..."

Raphtalia looked at me with a mystified expression.

"You're not angry?"

"How could I lash out at someone who's been regretting their actions? You reflected on what you did, so I'm not angry."

The sheet was stained. I wondered how much I'll have to pay the Innkeeper... we'll keep it as a piece of cloth for the time being.

After that, I explained the situation to the Innkeeper, paid for the damages, and then rushed off to buy some spare clothes from the Weapon Shop.

Although the well water was a bit cold, I washed the sheet clean and packed it in our luggage bag.

It seemed like a great idea to dry this sheet by tying it on a branch and hanging it as we walk through the meadow.

"Now then."

It's getting a bit irritating to walk with Raphtalia, who continues apologizing.

"I told you not to worry about it!"

"... Hai."

Haa... She really was an obedient child.

However, it would also be troublesome for me if she had no motivation.

Guu*...

Raphtalia's stomach grumbled again.

Oh, and her face was flushed with shame.

"I guess it's about time for breakfast."

"Un..."

Raphtalia walked besides me while holding onto the hem of my shirt.

"...*koho*"

“Alright then, you'll need to take this medicine as punishment.”

I handed a ‘recovery potion’ over to Raphtalia.

It seems like a persistent illness, one which required a regular intake of medicine, so this is exactly what she needs.

Raphtalia’s face turned extremely sour after just a sniff. However, she was very enthusiastic about drinking it since this was her punishment.

“Uwaa... So bitter...”

“Just bear with it.”

Gokugokugoku*

Raphtalia, who finished drinking the whole thing, had a blenched face and looked about ready to vomit.

By the way, that compounded medicine seemed to fetch a good price. But since the quality was poor, the intensive taste was even worse.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 14 – Taking a Life

---

Exiting the meadow, we arrived along the fringe land between the mountain and forest.

Raphtalia's fighting style had greatly improved thanks to her experience, and her movements were more skillful too.

Our herb collecting was going well. Monsters steadily kept on coming and provided us with exp, while our luggage was being overstuffed with all the item drops.

But then 'it' happened.

Before we had only fought fable-like monsters. But now we had finally encountered our first animal class creature.

A one-headed... chestnut rabbit?

Usapiru.

That's a weird name.

"Pyo!?"

The Usapiru spotted our presence and leaped at us, attacking with its huge buck teeth.

"Watch out!"

It targeted Raphtalia after judging she was weaker.

I jumped out to protect her like usual.

Chomp! Chomp!

It seemed that my defensive power was still higher than its attack.

"Alright! Stab it."

"A... Aah..."

"What's wrong?"

"A, a living thing, will, will have blood, right..?"

I was barely able to make sense of Raphtalia's stuttering words.

"Deal with it, we'll be fighting these kind of enemies from now on."

"B-,but."

Chomp! Chomp!

Usapiru repeatedly bit me with its teeth.

"Brace yourself and bear with it. Or else you'll become too much of a burden that I'll have to abandon you."

That's right. Even if she's my cherished slave; if she can't fight then she isn't needed.

I'll just have to visit that perverse slave dealer and buy another slave, one who can fight properly.

"N-, no!"

Frightened with her eyes shut tight, Raphtalia stabbed the Usapiru multiple times with her knife.

Blood began spewing after she pulled her weapon out.

"Ah..."

The Usapiru died with a thud and laid motionless on the ground.

Raphtalia stared at her own knife while trembling, the scene thoroughly burnt into her eyes.

Her complexion pale, she looked as if she wanted to escape from all of this.

However, we mustn't feel any remorse.

Because we'll be fighting monsters like this again and again for hundreds, even thousands of times.

"Pyo!"

Another Usapiru appeared out of a bush and it leaped at Raphtalia, trying to bite her.

"Ah——"

I immediately prevented the attack by jumping in between the two.

Chomp!

"... Sorry. To be honest, I had to push you. Because I can't do anything but protect others. So I have no choice but to leave you with all the dirty work."

The Usapiru was chewing on my arm while I told this to Raphtalia.

"There's no other alternative but for me to grow stronger. For that purpose, I need your help."

If I don't, then there won't be a future for me. The time limit is fast approaching and the waves of disaster will soon appear.

I had no confidence in my survival with how things stood now.

"... But..."

"Within one week, a world-ruining wave will spawn."

"Eh!?"

"Because of that, I want to become stronger, even if it's only a little bit."

Raphtalia was trembling as she listened to me.

"Are you... fighting against that disaster?"

"Haha, I was told that this was my role. So I'm not doing it because I want to... Guess we're similar in that regard. I was forced to defend against the wave; there's no sense of obligation or duty in it for me."

"..."

“So, please try to understand that I don't want us going our separate ways.”

Having to raise another slave will definitely be a waste, and sending her back into that cage won't make me feel good about myself either.

But unfortunately, I have no money. If I want to buy a new slave, then I'll have to sell her.

“... Understood. Goshujin, -sama, I... will, fight.”

Color gradually returned to her pale face. She slowly nodded her head and thrust her blood-stained knife at the Usapiru's vital point.

For some reason, her demeanor was the polar opposite of what she was like before, her eyes now shined with determination.

At the sight of the Usapiru squirming and convulsing, Raphtalia silently closed her eyes.

Then a moment later, she changed her grip on the knife and began skinning the rabbit.

“Let me do that. I don't want you handling all the grunt work.”

“Hai.”

I took out a knife used for dismantling, and with that the body of the Usapirus was soon dismembered.

This is reality, not a game.

It was understandable for someone to want to look away.

But after killing a living creature for the first time, I truly understood what it means to be alive in this world.

With the Usapiru's blood staining my hand, I was able to understand what Raphtalia had just gone through.

I dismantled both rabbits and absorbed the pieces into the shield.

The requirement for Usa Leather Shield has been unsealed.

The requirement for Usa Meat Shield has been unsealed.

Usa Leather Shield

True power sealed...Equipment bonus: 3 Agility

Usa Meat Shield

True power sealed...Equipment bonus: Dismantling Techniques 1

I equipped the latter shield then stood up.

"Goshujin, -sama. Please, don't abandon me."

Raphtalia begged me while raising her face.

She probably hated the mere thought of going back to that place, where she cried at night and was sick and famished.

Without proper care, she'd probably die in there. That would certainly leave a bad aftertaste in my mouth.

Although I'd love to imagine ridiculing that bitch until the climax of her death, it would be impractical for it to actually happen.

"You've properly fulfilled your role, so I won't abandon you."

Besides, I would be troubled if Raphtalia were to die.

But then again... That's right. She's a creature of the similar gender just like that bitch... the exact same as that bitch!

I shook my head repeatedly.

I need to stop thinking like this. It's bad for my heart.

Right now, I have to find a way to grow stronger with this slave of mine, even if just a little.

EXP 7 x 2

"I want to, lend my strength, to goshujin, -sama, desu."

From then on, Raphtalia was unbelievably enthusiastic about charging in and skewering the monsters which appeared.

Someone who I always needed to keep safe was now being so aggressive without any inhibitions.

This was some good development, but it seemed like... she was motivated for the wrong reasons.

The way I handled matters could never be praised.

It was entirely for self-interest.

But still... these sort of things needed to be done no matter what.

When the evening came, we decided to rest within the forest. For that purpose we found a spacious area, lit some firewood, and began setting up camp.

We made a stew out of the Usapiru's meat and edible herbs which we collected.

The remaining meat was grilled over the campfire.

Although our plan was to return back to town by tomorrow evening, we have no concrete proof that the monsters' meat will even sell.

Since I was a bit skeptical, I used the 'Judgement' skill to identify the food and see if it was safe to eat.

I cut a piece of the cooked meat to confirm that there was nothing wrong with it. But I still had no idea what it tasted like.

They were just grilled and boiled so it couldn't be considered a proper cuisine.

I also activated my 'cooking' skill, and the quality turned from 'normal' to 'a tad good'. So they shouldn't taste terrible either.

"Here, eat up."

Raphtalia then began devouring the cooked stew and grilled meat.

"O-, Oishii!"

Her stomach grumbling in anticipation a little while ago, Raphtalia heartily ate with shining eyes.

After today's fights, I became a Lvl 10 and Raphtalia also became a Lvl 10. She finally caught up with me.

Oh well, it couldn't be helped.

I started compounding under the light of the campfire.

Our immediate goal is to gradually save up money, then to gear ourselves up. Which is why I'll try to create the most expensive medicine in order to sell it.

grind grind grind

I grounded the medical herbs with the mortar, then mixed the extracts together before transferring the solution into the beaker.

Recovery Potion was made.

Nutritional Supplement was made.

Again, these recipes were ones which I had already discovered.

This was the limit of "Simple Compounding Recipes 1". Even though these two drugs were miracles made earlier from other intuitions.

The shield's power - which was fueled by an 'eternal torch' that will-, who am I kidding - of 'compounding' had reached its limit.

Basically, most of the qualities were somewhat bad.

“... Ah chou*”

Did the effect of the medicine run out?

I silently passed her a ‘recovery potion’, and Raphtalia drank it while frowning.

Anyways, in order to acquire new sources of income, we will need to grow stronger.

“I’ll watch over the campfire, you go ahead and sleep. So yeah... I’ll wake you up after a while.”

“Understood.”

She was strangely obedient. One could see a huge difference between this and our first meeting.

“Good night.”

“Haha, pleasant dreams. Oh right, we’ll be selling those tomorrow. So go ahead and use the fur as a blanket.”

I passed Raphtalia the fur, which was fumigated while I was cooking in order to drive away fleas.

It was a little small, but it should keep the body warm after bundling yourself up, right?

"Hai."

Raphtalia frowned a bit after sniffing the fur's scent.

"Is it smoky?"

"Yes. It's very smoky."

"I thought so."

"But, it looks very warm."

Raphtalia snuggled up to me, leaned against my back, and closed her eyes.

Oh well, this was fine.

I continued to make medicine and threw more wood into the campfire, just waiting for the moment when Raphtalia would begin shrieking like a banshee.

... sigh.

I wondered how long this lifestyle would continue.

It might only last for one week more, huh.

Although I shouldn't be thinking about dying anytime soon, I should always be prepared for that possibility.

... It's about time. Since we've been together for three days, I could somehow sense when she was about to make another uproar.

"Nn..."

Raphtalia gently rubbed her eyes and slowly got up.

"Are you awake?"

She didn't scream.

Ah, I see. It was because she was contently sleeping against my back.

It may be a trauma, but it seems like she'll be fine if there's another person's warmth besides her while she slept.

Guu*...

"... My stomach's empty."

She got hungry again right after the feast she just ate.

"Hai hai."

I gave Raphtalia the grilled meat which was meant to be reserved for tomorrow's breakfast.

Raphtalia delectably stuffed her mouth full of the meat.

"Well then, I'll be going to sleep now. Wake me up if anything happens."

"Hai!"

Raphtalia nodded while munching her food.

Good grief, she became a lot more energetic. But look at how much of a glutton she turned into.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 15 – Demi-Human's Traits

---

We took turns sleeping until morning came.

At around noontime, a certain incident occurred.

We were hunting some Usapiru which had appeared before us.

“Ah...”

The bladed knife in Raphtalia's hands had snapped off completely. *pokin*

“Show it to me.”

It couldn't be helped. The knife had done its job and broke only after killing the last Usapiru which had been gnawing at my arm.

“I'm sorry.”

“Nothing lasts for an eternity. So it was inevitable for this knife to break.”

It was a cheap knife, not to mention it had never even been polished.

“We'll stop here for now before returning to town.”

“Hai.”

The bag that Raphtalia carried was splendidly stuffed full of loot.

On a side note, I've become a Lvl 11 and so has Raphtalia.

Along the way we had encountered several monsters, but we somehow managed to get by with my spare knife.

Later on, we sold off our spoils, including the compounded medicine, for a grand total of 70 silver coins.

Chari chari*...

"I wonder which one we should get."

"You mean a knife?"

Raphtalia murmured while eating her lunch inside a street stall.

We should be able to cover our living expenses by camping outdoors.

And there wouldn't be a problem with food if we skinned the Usapiru<sup>[2]</sup> for their meat.

I stopped thinking about that for now.

Since I didn't have a favorite store or know of any other good places to shop, I at least wanted to know more about the details of our purchased equipment.

"Well, guess we should go over to the Weapon Shop."

"Un."

- Guu...*

I heard a grumbling noise coming from behind me.

"My tummy's empty."

"Didn't you just eat a moment ago!?"

Is it a growth spurt!?

Just how many times a day were you planning to eat!

"Haa..."

Right, Engel's Coefficient would skyrocket with her in the equation.

We need to start hunting again as soon as possible. At this rate our food expenses alone will bring us to ruin.

---

"--And that's what happened, Oyaji. I'd like some weapons and protective gear within the range of 65 silver coins, plus a cheap knife."

For some reason, Oyaji groaned with his palm on his head.

"Well..... it's none of my business, but please properly maintain your equipment at least."

"Sorry about that. I thought the blood-clean coating would take care of everything, so I didn't plan for it beforehand."

Right. The Balloon, Mush, and Egg were creatures made from inorganic substances after all. And the bodily fluids of the Egg could definitely be wiped off without much effort.

However, the blood of the Usapiru stained the weapon.

Not only that, but the blade seemed to deteriorate even faster because of improper care.

"But I'm amazed this girl's complexion is so much better after just three days. And haven't you gotten quite plump now?"

Raphtalia nodded at him with a proficient smile. Just what was Oyaji talking about?

"Hoh? That's a fine expression."

"Un!"

Alright, let's get down to business.

"Oyaji, please prioritize the weapon's durability when you show us the wares meant for her."

"And how about you?"

"I don't need any."

"You don't want anything?"

Raphtalia looked up at me and asked.

"Does it look like I'll be needing any gear?"

Up until this point, I had yet to receive a single wound from a monster's attack.

Didn't those dipshit Heroes once say that: 'shields are easy at the beginning, but suck towards the endgame?'

That's why I didn't feel the need to buy myself equipment until we got to the point where I start taking damage.

"Uun."

Raphtalia groaned, looking unconvinced. Her hands were preciously holding onto the ball which I had bought for her before.

"Well, I guess this must be karma at work. I'll give you a little something as a bonus."

"I'll be haggling if the cost is too high."

"I'm already selling to you at dirt-cheap prices here. Or else you'll be throwing those Balloons around after being pushed too hard, won't you?"

The merchant incident from before must have started that rumor. Well it's fine, since the end result will be the same either way.

"An eye for an eye, that's all I'm doing."

"... Not that it matters to me. But even if I came up with a countermeasure, you'll just find another way around it. That'll be just like you, right?"

"You certainly know me well."

"Anyone can tell with a glance: That you, sir, are a shrewd businessman under the guise of a Hero."

"I'll take that as a compliment."

"Well then..."

Oyaji rubbed his chin while looking at Raphtalia.

"It looks like this Jou-chan will soon be assessing herself with a sword rather than a knife."

"Will it be alright?"

"Seems she's quite enthusiastic about it. A sword proves to be a rather fine weapon for a beginner, no?"

Oyaji searched through a corner of his shop. *gacha gacha*

"So that's it."

"Will I be using this sword?"

"Looks like it."

"I'll be tutoring her on how to use one."

Then a tanned hide breastplate was brought to us from the back of the store.

"An iron short sword and a hide breastplate. Although they're a bit old, please bear with it. The size fits you at least."

Oyaji handed Raphtalia the sword while the breastplate was worn on top of her casual clothes.

Guu*...

"Again!?"

"Duh, she is a demi-human, right? Since she's still a child, this much difficulty should be expected if she keeps leveling up."

Wait, what? Is that common sense around here? This world sure worked on weird standards that I couldn't comprehend.

A long time ago, I did hear about the tale of Hina the crow, where she'd die if she wasn't continuously fed.

"So there is some truth to that story... guess it can't be helped. Just stay here and listen obediently to the lecture, I'll go buy you some food while you practice."

"Haaai!"

Seeing our conversation, Oyaji bursted out laughing for some reason.

*gahaha*

"Okay listen up, I'll now teach you all about the basics--"

I left the Weapon Shop and hurried towards the market.

Demi-humans are truly a strange race, using hunger to compensate for level raising.

Although her condition grew favorably and her self-consciousness also gradually became more resilient.

But still, the food expenses were no joke.

To make a long story short, I bought some food from the vending stalls and returned to find Oyaji teaching Raphtalia how to grip and swing a sword.

"Here you go."

"Thank you!"

She then munched away as Oyaji diligently taught her evasive maneuvers.

Even in such a situation, the mood didn't change at all.

"What about you?"

"I've got those evasive moves memorized."

"Well, you do seem like the blocking type. It would be rather dangerous for you to gawkily upset your balance."

That marked the end of Oyaji's crash course on sword handling, I then paid the bill.

After that, Oyaji passed me a small slab of white stone.

"What's this?"

"A whetstone. The 'coating' wasn't applied on the weapon this time. So it'll break in no time if you don't regularly maintain it."

"Hmm..."

The shield reacted when I slowly grabbed the whetstone.

Which is why I ended up absorbing it.

"H-,Hey!?"

The requirement for Shield of Whetstone has been liberated.

Oh? This was the first shield that wasn't in English.

Well whatever, it's still a shield.

I should absorb more minerals from now on.....

Ah I see, this isn't a new branch, but one that's combined with the Sky Egg Shield and Usa Meat Shield.

Was it because the whetstone was as indispensable as a kitchen knife?

The huge defensive power of the Egg Shield was quite frightening.

It's likely that I would get the 'Usapiru Shield' if I absorbed the whole Usapiru without dismembering it.

Shield of Whetstone

True power sealed ..... Equipment Bonus: Mineral Identification 1+

Special Effect: Automatic Polishing (8 Hours), High Consumption

A Special Effect?

I clicked the 'help' confirm button.

「Special Effect」

An exclusive effect that will only be usable when equipped with a specific weapon.

The effect won't be usable by other weapons even if its true powers have been unsealed. Therefore, one will need to fit a specific weapon into a slot for this special ability to take effect.

So it's something like that?

A type of effect that grants immense power like in those ○○ games.

I quickly changed my shield.

“Huh!? What the, heck is that?”

Shield of Whetstone, it looks like the Small Shield but is a whole lot bigger.

A huge shield made of whetstone.

But there's a pattern of slots on top of the shield, with the multiple holes varying in shapes and sizes. Some are fat while others are thin.

"Hey, you! Tell me what's going on."

Fumu... Just what did 'Automatic Polishing (8 Hours), High Consumption' mean?

Although, I am expecting it to do what it's advertised...

"Hey!"

"Huh? What's up, Oyaji."

"What on this flat Melromarc is that shield?!"

"Don't you know already? It's the legendary shield."

"I've never seen or heard anything like this!"

"You saw it before, though it was a Small Shield back then."

"Huh!? Then why on Melromarc did it turn into a whetstone?"

"I guess it's because it absorbed the whetstone?"

"..."

At this rate, Oyaji wouldn't be able to comprehend this situation anytime soon.

"You must have heard that the Legendary Weapon hold mysterious powers. This is just one of its powers."

"... You didn't hear this from the other Heroes?"

"I hadn't seen them recently. You were the first one to transform your weapon right in front of me."

Our natural adversary will be spawning in about one week. So shouldn't they be sharing what they know with others, even if just a little? It seems those bastards were too selfish to even assist their peers properly.

I don't even have an ounce of trust for those type of people either.

... But then again, it may not be necessary for them, since they weren't in the 'loser' category like me.

"So, what are you troubled about?"

"Haha, it seems to have an effect of 'Automatic Polishing (8 hours) High Consumption'. But I don't know if it's really possible to polish without using anything else."

I didn't know what would be consumed.

"Fuuumu..."

Oyaji went to grab a rusty sword from within his shop and inserted it inside one of the slots in my shield.

"I'll give you this trash weapon as a bonus. Use that and see what it does."

“Ooh, you have my thanks.”

There was an icon which popped up in the corner of my screen:

「Polishing」.

There was a lot of pressure.

Then, I felt a heavy weight on my shoulders.

I immediately glanced at the Icon and opened up my Status. In there, I saw my ‘SP’ gradually reducing.

I previously thought that something physical would be consumed, but I guess this shield can be used in this way too.

“Now then, guess we'll be taking our leave.”

“We’re going?”

“Haha.”

Stepping out of the Weapon Shop, I continued to stroke Raphtalia’s head for a short while.

So now, in order for us to raise our level and procure food for the ever-growing Raphtalia, I'll need to go on another journey.

“Ah right, Oyaji.”

Glaring heedlessly at me, Oyaji said with an exasperated tone.

“... You still need something?”

"Do you know about the dungeon that's located near the forest village?"

I asked while opening up a cheap map and pointing at the spot where that bitch had recommended.

I want to have another person's reference just in case. Though actually trusting them is another matter entirely.

"The monsters are different from the forest; I heard they're more similar to the ones which show up along that village's highway."

"I see, guess we'll see for ourselves once we get there."

Right now, we have to evolve my shield and earn as much money as possible before the next wave.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 16 – Preparations for the Wave

---

Requirement for Rope Shield has been released

Requirement for Pikyu Pikyu<sup>[1]</sup> Shield has been released

Requirement for Wood Shield has been released

Requirement for Rock Shield has been released

Requirement for Butterfly Shield has been released

Requirement for Pipe Shield has been released

ETC...

Rope Shield

Unsealing<sup>[2]</sup> completed.....Equipment Bonus: Skill - 「Air Strike Shield」

Pikyu Pikyu Shield

Unsealing completed.....Equipment Bonus: Beginner Rank's Weapon Repair Techniques I

Wood Shield

Unsealing completed.....Equipment Bonus: Lumbering Techniques I

Butterfly Shield

Unsealing completed.....Equipment Bonus: Paralysis Resistance (Small)

Pipe Shield

Unsealing completed……Equipment Bonus: Skill - 「Shield Prison」
ETC...

It had been eight days since then.

After parting with Oyaji, we journeyed to the new village.

The village's name was Riyuuto. It seemed like a good, operational base for adventurers. But since there was only one Inn around, the fee was one silver coin per night.

The Merchant Buyer<sup>[3]</sup> dropped by this place only once every two days.

There was no pharmacy store, so I had to sell cheaper medicine directly to the villagers in order to compete with the castle town's pharmacy imports.

To compensate for this, the medicines I sold were all subpar in quality.

By the way, my notoriety had spread quite far. When I first I arrived, I had to punish quite a few morons with my 'Balloon Release'.

And that's the gist of it.

Thanks to the monsters around town, the medical herbs, and the lumber, I was able to absorb them all and create multiple shields. I also learned a lot of new skills and techniques.

There were also various stat increases, but I won't go into that since it's such a hassle.

“Wait—!”

Raphtalia began chasing the porcupine-like monster who, upon realizing its disadvantage, fled the battle.

Raphtalia's level had raised considerably. I was now at Lv 20 while she was at Lv 25.

Her growth was surprisingly fast.

... On a side note, I was still fighting in my ordinary clothes.<sup>[4]</sup>

And since I had yet to take any damage, not to mention all the monster attacks seemed quite weak up until now, this incident became a real head scratcher when I thought about it.

Yet it served as a painful experience for me.

Overestimating my defense, I went into battle with a weak shield, and it hurt like hell when I had gotten hit.

Astonishingly, I had received some small scratches from this Porcupine's ambush attack.

"Ouch, that hurt a bit. It's been awhile since I last felt like this."

I promptly smeared the wound with a 'heal pill' to prevent the bleeding.

That needle sure stung when I got hit, naturally.

I've already forgotten about these sort of sensations ever since coming to this world and receiving the shield's protection.

"Like I said before, it hurts, right? Naofumi-sama should just give in and buy some equipment already."<sup>[5]</sup>

"No... It was only because I was using a weak shield."

Since when did Raphtalia start calling me 'Naofumi-sama' instead of 'Goshujin-sama'?

Well whatever. It wasn't such a bad thing since it had a nice ring to it.

Anyways, my shield could cover up my whole body. So it wouldn't make any sense to also wear individual pieces of small protective gear.

Just in case, I had always defended with the sturdiest part of my shield, and I hadn't received a single injury up until now.

So this is my very first time experiencing damage. That's all there is to it.

I watched the Whetstone Shield's auto-polishing at work. It really was quite a convenient shield, one that I always used.

The polishing time period was 8 hours. There'll be no effect if I pulled any weapons out beforehand.

The only drawback was that while in use, my SP won't recover since I'll be continuously drained.

Ah, speaking of which, I guess I should try utilizing the other abilities in my skill set...

"Air Strike Shield!"

It's the first skill which I learned. It summons a shield within a range of about five meters.

But it served no purpose if I was alone.

It felt like everyone was forced into having a specialized role.

I focused my mind, imagining the desired location to call forth my Air Strike shield; this mysterious ward which will vanish once its duration time is over. Alright, just a little bit more.

The porcupine stumbled in surprise due to the sudden appearance of my conjured shield.

However, it immediately regained its balance and resumed its escape once again.

Kuh...<sup>[6]</sup> And here I thought that five meters was more than enough distance to catch up with you; this one was surprisingly fast at fleeing. Guess I'll have to use this.

"Shield Prison!"

A skill which allows me to summon an enclosed cage<sup>[7]</sup> anywhere within a six meter radius.

This time around, I'll be dropping it directly on my target, the porcupine. Although this skill was intended for protection, it could also be used as a restraining device to trap a target inside.

Indeed, it was both an offensive and defensive skill.

"Kii!"<sup>[8]</sup>

No longer able to escape, the Porcupine rampaged inside 'the Shield Prison'. Its duration period was 15 seconds.

During that time, Raphtalia rapidly approached the 'Shield Prison'. Then right as its effect had ended, she pierced the Porcupine with her sword.

"Kii!?"

"I did it!"

Raphtalia triumphantly returned while gripping the dead porcupine.

"Nice!"

EXP 48

An adequate harvest.

We defeated our quarry, properly dissected its remains, and then absorbed the pieces into the shield so that it would undergo transformation. I only discovered this last week, but it seems the Balloon, Mush, and Eggy were all classified as 'material'<sup>[9]</sup>. Well, that hadn't been anything worth noticing back then, really.

I immediately dismantled the porcupine into needles, meat, and skin. It was quite easy after learning the trick to it.

All of them were precious materials and must be handled with care.

I absorbed the leftovers into the shield.

The bones belonged to the bone category, which required several other bones from different monsters, while the skin belonged to the pelt category and granted some additional stats through equipment bonuses. Of course, there were some cases where I lacked the required Lvl or category in order to unseal.

The meat belonged to the cuisine category. A topic which certainly caught my attention.<sup>[10]</sup>

I'm looking forward to what the needles will do. They are a porcupine's trademark after all.

Requirement for Animal Needle Shield has been unsealed.

So it's a shield made of an animal's spikes. A needle shield... I'm excited to see what the unsealed effect will be.

Animal Needle Shield

Sealed<sup>[11]</sup>.....Equipment Bonus: Offensive Power 1+

Special Effect: Shield of Needles (small)

Hell yeah! An increase in my offensive poweeeeeeeeeeeeeeer!

Yeah. I know. It's only a measly increase of 1+.<sup>[12]</sup>

Although I didn't know what 'Special Effect: Shield of Needle (Small)' could actually do, I was able to acquire an offensive shield, which is far more important.

This is just the beginning. From now on I'll be able to attack too if I kept absorbing items which are connected with this shield type category.

The defensive force was slightly lower than the others belonging to the mineral category, but that should be alright.

"How did it go?"

"Haha, it seems that this shield will increase my attack power."

"So you finally got one, good for you. But how about its defensive force?"

Raphtalia pointed at my wound with a dubious look.

"It's so-so, I guess."

"Is that so... Um, I wanted to ask if my sword could be polished but..."

"Got it. Let's end our hunt and return to the forest for now."

"Hai!"

I equipped the 'Whetstone Shield' and inserted Raphtalia's sword into one of its slots.

Currently polishing...

Now then, our levels rose considerably after a full week's worth of extensive money making, and we saved up a grand total of 230 silver coins.

A moderate amount of medicine was sold, and the business on lumbering and mining was booming thanks to my new shield skills.

There was a shallow cause for concern, however, as it seemed that my online gaming tendencies were influencing how I had been acting.

Well, I was too preoccupied with choosing the best possible method in order to earn money.

And I didn't waste time on pointless actions which didn't strengthen me either. So it couldn't be helped since this was what I needed to do to survive.

"Well then, we should return soon and upgrade your gear, Raphtalia."

"... Naofumi-sama?"

Huh? For some reason, Raphtalia was softly smiling at me. Yet I couldn't help but feel a strange, spine-freezing chill at the mere sight of her.

"Although, I very much welcome the idea of buying new equipment, but can you please pay a little more attention to yourself and how you're dressed?"

"Do I look weird or something?"

"Except for that shield, you look like a common villager."

"W-...well, it wasn't really necessary... but I guess a small change in my attire should be alright?"

Gashi!*[13]

Raphtalia threateningly gripped my shoulder with a smile.

"Didn't you just get injured a short while ago?"

"Like I said, I was deliberately using a weak shield... so it should still be fine, right? Your weapon's much more important than me right now, so it's better to invest our——"

“Naofumi-sama? Do you know that you'll be dying very soon if you keep on joking like this?”<sup>[14]</sup>

“Death!?”

With spare sword in hand, Raphtalia was poking me with it forebodingly.<sup>[15]</sup>

Although, I supposedly couldn't be harmed by her due to the slave's restraining spell.

“... To begin with, shouldn't you worry more about your own equipment? The deadline is approaching, isn't it?”

“... haha.”

Come to think of it, she's right.

There were only a few days left before the wave of calamity spawns.

I'll need to continue growing stronger until then.

Though I've certainly become anxious about dressing up like your average townie.

The ends and the means had truly been misplaced.<sup>[16]</sup>

“Haa.....”<sup>[17]</sup>

Even though I wanted to raise my offensive power a bit more...

“Instead of me, let's hurry up and find Naofumi-sama's equipment right away.”

"I guess so, we'll be buying my equipment for the time being. But we'll use the remaining money to get your weapon."

"Hai."

Although it's fine with me since I've gotten use to it, she sure has become rather cheeky...

Her violent actions have escalated recently along with her stubbornness. I really wanted to know why our positions were somehow reversed.

She's become quite a bossy slave if I do say so myself.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 17 – The Barbarian's Armor

---

“Oh well, isn't that the shield lad? It's already been over a week now.”

After returning to the castle town, we had gone straight to the shopping district.

Yet for some reason, Oyaji had his mouth wide open when he looked over at Raphtalia.

“We're only meeting again after a short while... and look at how much of a beauty you've become.”

“Haah?”

Just what was he saying? Why was Oyaji mumbling incoherently like this?

“You've developed so nicely... this is far too different from your previous, famished complexion.”

“Please don't phrase it as if I'm getting fat.”

Seemingly bothered by his statement, Raphtalia fidgeted while fiddling with her fingers.

That reaction of hers was repulsive!

She reminded me of that bitch of a woman.

“Gahaha, you grew up into such an adorable mink.”<sup>[1]</sup>

“Grew up? Well, her level certainly rose.”

A week ago she was at Lvl 10, and now she was at Lvl 25. But did her physical appearance really change that much?

“Fuumu... you’re quite cynical, you know that?”

“I have no idea what nonsense you're talking about.”

It was true that anyone would find a little 10 years old girl cute<sup>[2]</sup>. But since she had only been eating meat, meat, and more meat all day long, it might have made her a bit chubby.

Every time her stomach grumbled, we would immediately cook up the meat from the monsters we had encountered.

I was afraid she might turn into one of those beriberi people<sup>[3]</sup> due to her unbalanced diet. So I started adding medical herbs into her meals, even though it broke my heart and wallet by doing so.

She hadn’t been coughing recently, probably thanks to the recovery potions finally taking effect.

"What were you up to this past week? Hunting?"

"The village inn staff had taught me some table manners. Since I wanted to be able to dine as elegantly as Naofumi-sama someday."

"Looks like you're well on your way."

Unexpectedly, Oyaji was in a real good mood. At this rate he'll probably sell us some high quality wares.

So keep on flattering him, Raphtalia!

"So, what's your business with me today?"

"Haha, I plan on purchasing some equipment."

I said while pointing at Raphtalia. In response, she firmly gripped my finger with an eerie smile on her face.

"Please consider Naofumi-sama and his protective gear this time around."

"Gotcha. But for what reason?"

"I'd like to ask that you take a moment to ponder it over yourself."

"Mmm... Well, to prepare for the incoming wave, I guess?"

"Just what are you two getting at? I seriously don't have the slightest idea of what this Jou-chan is saying here..."<sup>[4]</sup>

Just what in the world were these guys even talking about?

Both Raphtalia and I had already decided that we'll be buying my equipment, right?

"So, seems like we'll be getting you some armor. Around how much are you looking to spend?"

"Within the range of 180 silver coins, if you would."

Raphtalia rattled off our budget range without my consent.

Now, that had ticked me off some.

If we settled for that price, then we couldn't buy a new weapon for her!

"Let's see... well, my best balanced armor for that amount would be this chain mail here."

"That chain mail... BAAH!"

Dark emotions began creeping up from deep within my gut.

It'd be utterly humiliating for me to re-buy a piece of equipment which had originally been mine.

"Well... if the shield lad hates this so much, I suppose we should go with something else."

Oyaji replied while scratching his head, understanding my reaction, as he turned to his other armory in stock.

"To be honest, it's kind of hard to find an appropriate gear within this price range. How does an iron plated mail sound to you?"

He asked while pointing at the armor in question.

It was a huge sheet of iron morphed into... a full guarded plate. The armor was decorated with the castle town's symbol.

I knew about this! Back in my old world, this was what people called a 'full plate mail' or something like that. This type of armor was said to be extremely tedious to move in; the wearer couldn't even stand by themselves; and finally, they were the fastest to sink in a swamp.

"Some physical stamina will be needed in order to wear this. Its only fault is that the 'Air Walk' feature isn't applied to it."

"Air Walk feature?"

"A function which allows the wearer to lighten their weight by consuming their own magic power. A truly magnificent ability."

"I agree."

Basically in this world, if a full body armor didn't have the Air Walk function then it was nothing more than an immobile sandbag.

That's not quite right. If the wearer was physically capable then they should be able to move around somewhat.

However, I don't have much stamina at this point in time.

“Seems like we can make it lighter and cheaper by removing the bulkier looking parts...”

“So lad, you were thinking along those lines after all.”

“Isn’t that a given?”

“Iron breastplates are indeed cheaper to buy. But their protective coverage is very limited.”

“Fumu... While high defense is a must, losing your mobility in exchange would make it meaningless.”

It was good and all to become as solid as a wall, but it would be a huge problem if I could barely move at all.

I'd like to refrain from equipping gear which decreased mobility as much as possible.

The Air Walk feature, huh? I wonder how much it would cost to add that function on.

“With that said... I might be able to craft a custom made armor if you can bring me the materials...”

“Sounds good, I enjoy doing these sort of things.”

“You have a satisfied expression there, lad... Guess we'll go with this plan.”

Oyaji spread out a parchment with the names of various materials written on it.

"I can't read this."

While it was possible to communicate directly thanks to the shield's translation feature, I still couldn't read the writings of this world.

Oyaji looked troubled, so he went ahead and explained everything to me.

"You can buy some cheap copper and iron from the atelier over there. After that, bring me some Usapiru and Porcupine hides, and then a few Pikyupikyuu feathers."

"Here are the hides and feathers."

With a smile, Raphtalia happily took out the hides and feathers from inside our luggage sack.

Those were used as our blankets and bedding since they were warm and fluffy. But... well, I suppose it's fine either way.

"The quality of the armor will be a bit bad. But it's still good for practical use."

"Then what's the reason for making it?"

"This is the Barbarian Armor. Its performance is on par with the Chain Mail and covers the majority of the body. It may be a bit cold to wear but it's very strong."

"Oh..."

Barbarian Armor... Somehow the phrase sounds a bit unpleasant.

"There's a trick to add some magical options as a bonus, but this step can be done later when you've finished with gathering the other materials."

"That's reassuring. Well then, let's go and buy some iron and copper."

"Let's go! Let's go right away!"

Raphtalia energetically pulled my hand along while rushing me outside.

"What's the big deal?"

"Naofumi-sama is going to look like a real adventurer. I can't wait to see it."

"W-well... I guess so."

She did say that I looked exactly like a villager.

Although the equipment would be a bit barbarous, it wasn't like I had much choice.

We then headed towards the metal atelier and bought the required amount of iron and copper.

They seemed to have heard about us from Oyaji, so they sold us the goods at a surprisingly cheap price.

They also said that Raphtalia was cute and gave us a little extra.

The ossan<sup>[5]</sup> from the metal atelier was grinning widely while looking at her. Raphtalia graciously waved back at him in return.

I didn't even want to start preaching about the pedophilia morality to this world.

"That was some quick material gathering."

"It's all thanks to your own efforts, isn't that right, lad?"

"Well, yeah. Since a lot of Oyaji's acquaintances are lolicons. I can already point out two or three of them."

"Lolicon? What on Melromarc are you saying?"

"You don't understand what lolicons are? I thought you would understand this word through the shield's translating feature."

"Not that, I just don't get why you think my co-workers' preferences are for young girls..."

"They said that Raphtalia was cute so they sold even cheaper goods to us."

"Lad... could it be that you seriously don't know?"

"Don't know what?"

"Oyaji, it's fine for now."

Raphtalia said for some reason while shaking her head.

Oyaji somehow understood. Resigned, he slumped his shoulders and threw me a glance.

"It'll be done by tomorrow, so please wait until then."

"That's fast, I thought it would take at least two days minimum for you to finish."

"Hmm, that might be the case for some stranger. But it's different for you, lad."

"For once, you have my gratitude."

"Wahaha, that sure was a butt-scratcher<sup>[7]</sup> of a reply."

He sure was making fun of me just because I showed him a little appreciation.

"So, what's the price of this custom made armor?"

"Including the fee for copper and iron... about 130 silver coins. In addition, you can add some optional enhancements."

"Is that the base cost? I thought it would be fine so long as I got the required materials."

"Waha, those were already taken into account at the 130 coins price tag, I can't go any lower than that."

"I understand. Then it's good enough for me."

I took out 130 silver coins and handed them over to Oyaji.

"Thanks for your patronage."

"Ah, that's right. Oyaji, I want to buy a weapon within the range of 90 silver coins."

"I guessing it's for this Jou-chan here?"

"Haha..."

That's right. The ordinary sword which we bought last week was newly polished now. So we should ask for a trade-in?

"Raphtalia."

"Hai."

Raphtalia pulled out the sword from her waist and put it on the counter.

"I want to ask for a resale. So here, include this sword into the payment amount."

"Fumu... looks like you've properly maintained it this time around."

"All thanks to my shield."

The polishing maintenance would end by the next morning if we inserted the weapon inside the whetstone shield before going to sleep.

It also kept the blade nice and sharp for ease of cutting.

"That's a convenient shield... I want one too."

"You won't be able to equip any other weapon, you know."

I'm just a moving wall without any attack power.

I would gladly hand this over to anyone who wanted it. If only that was possible.

"That part is quite bothersome."

I waited for the trade-in to commence while enduring Oyaji's obnoxious laughter.

"There's not a speck of rust on the blade. As expected of the legendary shield, its performance is superb."

Oyaji stated his open admiration while inspecting the sword's durability.

"Let me see... with this much left over, I can sell you a magic iron sword."

Magic iron sword was definitely higher than an iron sword in terms of weapon ranking.

"It should be a given that blood-clean coating is included, right?"

"Urg, I'll add that as a bonus. I know full well that you're working hard, lad!"

Oyaji sure was a great guy. If you think about, he had been giving me various extras ever since the day I had gotten robbed and been left with absolutely nothing.

"Thank you..."

From the bottom of my heart, I expressed those sincere words of gratitude to Oyaji.

"Lad. It's good news to see that same glint in your eyes just like the first time we met. You've shown me some fine stuff today."

Oyaji somehow seemed satisfied as he handed the magic iron sword to Raphtalia.

"Good weapons will only become powerful in capable hands, while they'll only turn into worthless junk in the hands of the talentless. However, I believe that you'll be able to fully master their strength. Give it your best shot, Jou-chan."

"Hai!"

Raphtalia sheathed the sword on her waist with sparkling, motivated eyes.

"Now then, please come again around this time tomorrow."

"Aarg."<sup>[8]</sup>

"Thank you very much!"<sup>[9]</sup>

"Until then."<sup>[10]</sup>

And thus, we left the weapon shop.

With our business there done, we headed off thinking about what to eat and what we should do for the remaining day.

Even though I couldn't taste anything, I still needed to eat since I got hungry like everyone else.

In my hands were 10 silver coins. What we managed to save up in one full week had vanished instantly.

Oh well. This was well within expectations, and these coins should be good enough to make our future investments.

Fortunately, there were plenty of ways to earn money.

"Ah, that's right. Do you want to eat at the shop which we went to awhile ago?"

"Are you sure it's alright?"

"I'm looking forward to seeing Raphtalia's gluttonous manners as she devours the food off her plate again."

"Please stop that! Mou<sup>[11]</sup>, I'm not a child anymore!"

The previously cheerful Raphtalia was now getting angry as she puffed her cheeks.

Why would you suddenly try to be an adult when you were acting like a kid only a week ago?

It looked like our little girl had just hit puberty.

"Yeah, yeah. You honestly want to eat. I understand that, I truly do."

"Naofumi-sama isn't even listening to a word I'm saying."

"It's okay. You're totally an adult. With that being said... you really want to chow down, don't you?"

"You think I can't see through your true thoughts behind those kind eyes used to patronize children?! I don't need that kind of sympathy!"

Good grief, she sure was at a difficult age.

Should we still get a Kid's Lunch for her? We entered the same shop which served those.

"Welcome!"

Oh? Our server courteously guided us to our table this time.

Was this the effect of changing Raphtalia's hairstyle? People sure were cruel over the smallest things back then.

"I'll be ordering the cheapest meal set you have, while this girl will get the lunch for kids, the one with the little flag on it."

"Naofumi-sama!"

The employee confirmed our orders with a perplexed expression while alternating between me and Raphtalia.

"Err, please give me the cheapest table course meal as well."

"Y-yes."

Our server nodded at Raphtalia and returned to the kitchen.

"What was that for? Do you really dislike the kid's lunch that much?"

"As I said before, I've already grown up."

“Um... okay?”

Guess it couldn't be helped. I'll let Raphtalia indulge in her selfishness for now.

I suppose my only current obligation is to let her eat what she wants to eat.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 18 – Engraved Dragon Hourglass

---

The next day, we showed up at the weapon shop.

"Well, if it isn't the lad."

"How's our order coming along?"

"Done! I finished it a long while ago."

Oyaji said while bringing out a set of armor from behind the counter.

What came out was a rather rough and lawless looking... set of unrefined armor; there was a wild vibe to it.

The Usapiru hides made up the fluffy wool portion around the neck, while the chest area was comprised of a metal plate.

The joints weren't connected by metal, but by the Porcupine skins. Putting my hand in, I could feel the Pikyupikyu feathers fully stuffed between the dual skin layers.

"... I'm going to wear this?"

How should I say this, it looked like the type of armor that bandit lords would wear.

Just what were they thinking by calling this the 'Barbarian's Armor'? I would look like one of those small time yankees back in the 90's if I wore this.

"What's wrong, lad?"

"No, I'm just thinking this looks like the armor of a wicked scoundrel."

"What are you saying at this late hour, lad?"

Huh?

"Are you implying that I'm already a wicked scoundrel to begin with?"

I certainly made the most efficient choices when it came to making money, but that didn't make me a villain, okay?

"It will definitely suit you, Naofumi-sama!"

"Raphtalia... you--"

Wasn't that like admitting I was one of them?

"Anyways, just try it on for us."

"Urg... I would avoid it if possible... but there isn't any other choice since we went through so much trouble in making this armor."

I immediately got changed after entering the dressing room.

... I couldn't even begin to describe my amazement on how perfectly fitted the size was.

It truly was something that could only be made by Oyaji, a true owner of a store who deals with weapons and armory. He could tell my specific sizes just by looking.

I came out of the dressing room and presented myself to both Oyaji and Raphtalia.

"Fumu... your face may not give off that barbaric vibe, but I can see the glint of a lawless thug within your eyes."

"Hah? Are you saying that I have nasty looking eyes?"

"Lad, you sure are quick on the uptake regarding important details."

Damn it, just what did you mean by that?

"Naofumi-sama, it suits you so well and you look so COOL!"

Raphtalia gushed over with a smile.

I glared at Raphtalia in silence.

Using the meanest look and most hurtful eyes as possible...

... That was my intention anyways.

Just what kind of environment did she grow up in?

Ah, I forgot that Raphtalia was a Demi-human. It was probably because she had a different aesthetic sense compared to me.

I confirmed through the status that this armor's defense was on par with the chain mail. Rather, it was a bit higher.

Oyaji sent me a wink. So this was his bonus for us, that was quite considerate I must say.

"Haah... Thank you."

Franking speaking, this kind of thing wasn't a hobby of mine, but I couldn't do anything about it since I had to prepare for the incoming wave.

I convinced myself using that reasoning.

"Now then, what should we do?"

"That reminds me, the town's atmosphere had been kind of tense lately."

"The wave will probably be coming very soon, but where and when will it spawn?"

"Huh? Nobody told you, lad?"

"About what?"

Information that Oyaji knew but I was ignorant of... that should be this country's counter measures against the calamity. I secretly cursed while listening to what Oyaji had to say.

"You've probably seen this country's huge, famed clock tower in the town plaza, right?"

"Well, only a glimpse. I've usually been operating around the outskirts of town."

"The Dragon Engraved Hourglass is inside that building. When the final bit of sand from the hourglass drips down, the Heroes along with their merry band will be teleported to where the wave of great calamity will occur."

"Oh..?"

Without a doubt... that shitty king probably told this tidbit of info to the other heroes and their companions beforehand.

"If you don't know when the wave will appear, why not stop over and take a look for yourself?"

"I... guess."

It'll trouble me greatly if I had no idea when I would be warped.

I planned on dropping by that place for some reassurance.

"Well then, Oyaji."

"So long then!"

"Until next time."

We said our farewells and headed for the clock tower.

Throughout the town, the clock tower was the tallest structure around. It would rival the height of modern city buildings from up close.

For some reason, the clock tower roof was dome-shaped much like a church.

It seemed there was no entrance fee; the gates were wide open as other people were coming to and fro.

Wearing an outfit similar to a nun, the female receptionist was eyeing me suspiciously. She probably recognized my face.

"You're the Hero of the Shield, are you not?"

"Haha, as you can see, I'm here since the time limit is just around the corner."

"Then, please come this way."

I was then guided towards an hourglass enshrined in the middle of the church.

A gigantic hourglass with a whopping height of approximately 7 meters. It was decorated and gave off an indescribably divine aura.

... What was it? My spine felt tingling, like a surge of electricity was rushing up.

Just by looking at it, my instincts kicked in and a strange sensation began to stir from within my body.

The color of the sand... was red.

I turned my gaze upon the smooth, dripping sand.

I immediately understood what would happen once the last grain fell.

Letting out a "piin*" sound, a single beam of light flashed from my shield and into the center of the dragon engraved hourglass, striking the jewel from within it.

Then a digital clock appeared in my peripheral vision.

20:12

The 12 value soon turned into 11 after a short while.

I see, so the exact time remaining was translated for my own understanding.

Using this will allow me to act accordingly.

However... the things that I could do within a 20-hour time frame were extremely limited. All things considered, the best option was to gather as many meadow herbs as possible for the rest of the day.

I also needed to prepare some healing medicine.

"Huh? Isn't that Naofumi over there?"

A loathsome, despicable voice resounded from within the tower's interior.

Walking around with a huge harem of women, the Spear Hero Motoyasu casually came over to me.

What a pain, I want to immediately send his ass flying. But considering the time and place, I restrained myself from doing so.

"Did you also come here in preparation for the wave?"

That was one hell of an indescribably lascivious look. He looked me over from top to bottom with a single, scornful glance.

"What the hell, man. Are you planning on fighting with equipment of that level?"

And what if I am?

Who do you think I have to thank for putting me in this situation? You and that goddamn bitch behind your sorry ass.

Motoyasu's gear was vastly different from a month ago, one can tell how high-leveled he was with a single glance at his equipment.

It wasn't iron-based, but a shiny armor made from silver. He wore cloth underneath which emitted a beautiful pale green tint, most likely due to the extra effects blessed by those clothes. Not only that, but there was the layer of chain mail worn in between those two; it was as if Motoyasu was boasting his absolute defense.

His legendary weapon wasn't in its original, sorry state either. And although it is vexing to admit, the spear's design was simply downright awesome to be honest.

It was a pike... well, I guess that was still a spear.

"..."

Talking with this guy was such a pain.

I turned my back on Motoyasu and ignored him while heading back to the clock tower's entrance.

"What in the name of Melromarc, Motoyasu-sama is talking to you! Open your ears wide and pay attention to him."

A fangirl bitch from behind Motoyasu said as they all glared at me with eyes full of contempt and bloodlust.

After that came the stereotypical mockery. They began to provoke me by sticking out their tongues and jeering.

This bitch, I'll kill her someday.

"Naofumi-sama? Who are these people...?"

Raphtalia inclined her head and pointed at Motoyasu's group.

"..."

I tried to walk away, deciding that it was best to simply leave and not answer her.

At that same moment, Itsuki came waltzing through the entrance.

"Tsk."

"Oh, Motoyasu-san and... Naofumi-san."

Itsuki seemed displeased with me clicking my tongue at him, but his 'good boy' features soon returned.

"..."

Ren had also come and walked up to us in silence, pretending to act cool. His equipment was undoubtedly much stronger than when his journey began.

And then, both of their companions popped up one after another.

The population within the clock tower quickly escalated.

4 + 12 + 1

We, the four summoned heroes, along with the twelve adventurers chosen by the king, and finally Raphtalia.

That added up to a grand total of 17 people, a rather disappointing amount of troops for the impending threat.

"Haa..."

"Just who is this beauty? She's simply adorable."

Motoyasu pointed at Raphtalia and uttered.

This guy, he's fine with anyone as long as they're female?

To think that a hero would lust after a little girl... this country was finished.

On top of that, he approached Raphtalia with filthy motives while affectionately introducing himself.

"Nice to meet you, young miss. I was summoned to this world as one of the four great heroes. Please call me by my name, Kitamura Motoyasu. I'm honored to make your acquaintance."

"Ah, yes... so you are one of those heroes."

Raphtalia nodded timidly while her eyes eluded his gaze.

"May I have the pleasure of knowing your name?"

"Umm..."

A troubled Raphtalia looked over at me and darted her glance back to Motoyasu.

"I'm Ra-Raphtalia. It's nice to meet you."

She had probably guessed that I was quite ticked off. I understood that much from the cold sweat running down her face.

This girl also wanted to ditch me and join Motoyasu's fanclub, didn't she?

Goddamn it, I already tried making a peaceful retreat here, so why did these bastards still have to fuck with my heart?

"What's your business here today, cutie? For what purpose are you carrying around such a dangerous sword and equipment?"

"I am here to fight along with Naofumi-sama, that's why."

"Hah? For Naofumi?"

Motoyasu turned and stared at me with eyes full of suspicion.

"... The hell are you looking at?"

"You fiend, why are you dragging such a cute girl into these dangerous places?"

Motoyasu said while looked down on me with his eyes.

"I don't need to tell you the reason, asshole."

"And here I thought you would shoulder this battle alone... so you're just leeching off Raphtalia's kindness in the end."

"Damn, delusional retard."

The trash spewing out from this son of a bitch, who trusted this parallel world's biggest whore more than a fellow hero, was seriously beginning to piss me off.

I headed toward Itsuki and Ren's direction in order to make my exit.

Those two and their merry companies opened up a path for me.

"Let's meet again during the wave."

"Don't be a burden to us."

I walked pass them with Itsuki giving off a professional response, while Ren gave a cruel, bossy one like a real lone wolf hero.

Surprised by my suddenness, Raphtalia quickly rushed over to my side while looking around restlessly.

"I'm going."

"Ah, hai! Naofumi-sama!"

After hearing my voice, she finally returned to her energetic self.

Good grief, that was painfully unpleasant.

Exiting the clock tower at long last, I quickly pass through the castle town and made a beeline towards the meadow, growing more and more frustrated with each passing second.

"Um, Naofumi-sama? What happened to you?"

"Nothing really..."

"Back then..."

"What?"

"Never mind..."

Sensing my awful mood, Raphtalia hung her head dejectedly as she followed behind me.

... Then a wild Balloon appear!

Raphtalia immediately unsheathed her sword.

"Wait, let me handle this one alone."

"Eh... but--"

"Just let me!"

Raphtalia cowered in surprise from my sudden shout.

The Balloon appeared before my eyes.

"Ora ora ora ora!"

Shit! Shit shit shit shit shit!

Distracting myself by pummeling the balloon, I was able to calm down a little.

I checked the remaining time from the corner of my vision.

18:01

18 more hours.

I needed to do what I could until then.

After that, I went on a Balloon Hunt and collected medical meadow herbs along the way.

They still needed to be compounded into beneficial medicine in preparation for the incoming wave.

Then came the evening... after returning to the inn to rest, Raphtalia humbly spoke to me.

"Naofumi-sama."

"... What?"

"This morning, those people were heroes just like Naofumi-sama, right?"

"... Urg."

She had to remind me of that terrible experience.

And here I had finally forgotten about it after all that diversion.

"Just... what happened between all of you?"

"I don't want to talk about it. If you want to know then go to a bar and ask around."

No one believed me when I told them the truth anyway. This girl was probably the same as the lot of them.

However, a big difference between Raphtalia and others was that she was my slave.

If she refused my orders, tried to escape, or rebelled against me then she would be tormented by the curse.

Judging it was for the best, Raphtalia didn't press the issue since I wasn't going to talk.

To prepare for tomorrow, I compounded medicines until I fell asleep; I continued doing so for a long while.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 19 – Memory/Black Beast

---

00:17

In just another 17 minutes, the anticipated wave will spawn.

This news should already be well-known around town.

Squadrons of knights and adventurers were geared up and ready to dispatch at a moment's notice, while the civilians barricaded themselves in their own houses.

Since I was a hero, I couldn't even attempt to escape from the wave's outbreak due to the hourglass' power.

The same was applied to my party member; it was likely that Raphtalia would be teleported along with me.

"It's almost time, Raphtalia."

"Hai!"

Raphtalia nodded with a strangely enthusiastic and excited response.

Well, I didn't voice any objections since it was a blessing to have her so motivated.

"Naofumi-sama... may I talk with you for a while?"

"Hm? That should be fine, what's your concern?"

"Ah no, somehow I felt so moved since we'll be fighting against the calamity soon."

... Why was she murmuring this and raising her own death flag?

I'll protect her since it would be a pain if she died... Wait, that was so unlike me; I was being influenced by too much anime and manga.

Although this world was like a game, it definitely wasn't one. This world was real.

And look at that, those shitty heroes had such fine equipment. I didn't even know if my armor was strong enough or not.

It was likely that I would suffer some wounds.

It would be great if this battle ended with only injuries, since I might even lose my life.

If that were to happen, the trash heap of this country would rejoice at the sight of my corpse.

——A criminal's fitting end.

... Let's stop that. If I keep thinking this way then I won't be able to fight.

In order for me to survive for another month.

"The truth is that... I was enslaved due to the spawning of the first calamity."

"... Is that so?"

Certainly, I thought there was a slim chance that might have been the case.

"I used to live in a remote region of this country. The demi-human village that I grew up in focused on agriculture and farming; it was also the spawn point of the very first wave."

Her parents were kind and everyone in the village lived peacefully.

However, a huge horde of Skeleton Soldiers came out from within the wave of disaster.

The Skeleton Soldiers only had large numbers at first, so the adventurers within the vicinity were able to suppress them.

But the beasts and giant beetles kept overflowing in massive quantities. Because of that, the line of defense was soon breached.

Then a pitch black, three-headed Cerberus appeared. And the villagers were trampled upon like they were helpless wilderness buds.

As Raphtalia's village was desolated beyond recognition, the villagers desperately tried to escape.

Unfortunately, the monsters were merciless; they murdered everyone as if it was the greatest sport in the world.

And like all the others, Raphtalia's parents took her and also fled until they finally reached the edge of a sea cliff.

Knowing that escape was futile, both parents faced Raphtalia and smiled.

They didn't use that time to escape, but to gently stroke her frightened head instead.

"Raphtalia... from now on, you will surely find yourself in a terrible situation. You might even die from it."

"But you know what, Raphtalia? Both of us want you to continue living... so please forgive us for our selfishness."

Even though she was young, she knew in her heart that her parents were only trying to keep her safe.

"Noo! Mommy! Daddy!"

Don!

Their single greatest wish was for Raphtalia to live, and so they pushed her off the cliff.

While she was falling, Raphtalia witnessed the scene of her parents being pounced upon by vicious monsters.

Raphtalia plunged into the sea with a huge splash, yet she miraculously survived and was washed ashore at a nearby beach.

After regaining her senses, Raphtalia rose up and returned to the cliffside in search of her parents.

By then, the monsters were already subjugated by the adventurers and knight squadrons.

Walking through the sea of corpses with great difficulty, she managed to locate her parents.

On that spot was a vast amount of blood... and scraps of meat scattered everywhere.

Realizing her parents' death, Raphtalia dropped down as something deep within her burst opened.

[illegible]

She then wandered around aimlessly, sobbing and sincerely wishing for the warmth of her parents in an effort to escape reality.

And before she knew it, she had already been imprisoned within that dark corner of the circus tent.

That place... was comparable to hell.

Every day, someone would be purchased or returned.

Raphtalia was also among those cases.

In the beginning, they considered making her into a servant. A well-buffed noble bought her and tried teaching her multiple things.

But the coughing was trouble enough, and she also shrieked like a banshee at night on top of that.

Thus, she was promptly refunded back to the tent the next day.

The next buyer also attempted to teach Raphtalia various stuff, but again she was immediately returned the following day.

The owner before me was the cruelest buyer of them all.

They purchased her one evening, whipped her throughout the entire night, and resold her, tattered and torn, the very next morning.

I wasn't the least bit surprised that this country had sickos who would take pleasure in inflicting pain upon others.

She was wrecked by illness, her heart was almost broken from the recurring nightmares, and she was used and abandoned countless times... that was when she was bought by me.

"You know, I'm very glad to have met you, Naofumi-sama."

"... Yeah."

"You were the one who taught me how to live a proper life after all."

"... Yeah."

I absentmindedly replied to Raphtalia's story with a mechanical tone.

This didn't matter much at any rate.

"For that reason, please allow me a chance. A chance to confront this wave."

"... Yeah."

"With that said, I'll do my best!"

"Ha... ha... give it your best shot."

Even I thought that I was acting a bit too cruel.

However, my past self could only act in such a pitiful manner.

00:01

We have one more minute before it's time.

I took my stance, prepared for the teleportation.

00:00

Bikin!

A deafening sound echoed throughout the world.

The very next instance, my vision was flushed away and the scenery around me changed. I was probably being warped.

"The sky..."

Dyed an eerie wine red, cracks began peeling away and expanding outward through the sky due to the dimensional rift.

"So this is..."

While assessing the scene, three shadows dashed passed me, followed by twelve other people.

Those shitty heroes.

I also tailed them since it was the obvious thing to do, but where were they heading off to?

While sprinting onward, I saw enemies come crawling out and pushing against each other through the large crack in the sky.

"This is the vicinity of Riyuuto village!"

Raphtalia anxiously exclaimed after examining the surrounding area.

"Since this is all farm land, a lot of people should still be dwelling here!"

"But everyone should have already evacu--"

Then a sudden realization hit me.

We never knew beforehand where the Wave of Calamity would appear, right? Then how the hell would we know which locations needed to be evacuated?

"You fools, wait a minute!"

Refusing to heed my calls, the three idiotic heroes dashed straight towards the source of the wave.

During that time a group of monstrous spiders, having separated themselves from the overflowing monster horde, headed straight towards the village's direction.

Wait, the buffoon hero troupe had shot something like a bullet flare up into the sky, signaling a sort of message.

It must have been to inform the knight squadrons and rally them to their location.

"Tsk!! Raphtalia! Let's go protect the village!"

I was indebted to many of the people from Riyuuto village.

I'd definitely suffer from remorse if they got killed by the wave!

"HAI!"

We then rushed to a different direction, separating from those shitty heroes.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 20 – Wave of Calamity

---

We arrived right on time as the demons overflowing from the wave started to wreak havoc within the village.

The adventurers and soldiers stationed there were barely able to defend against the horde's onslaught. They were greatly outnumbered...

... and the line of defense was about to break.

"Raphtalia, please evacuate the villagers."

"Huh? What about Naofumi-sama..?"

"I will aggro the enemy!"

I flung myself into the frontline and bashed my shield against a group of locust-looking monsters.

The sound of metal colliding was there but the damage obviously wasn't.

However, I was able to grab their attention.

It was the same as what I had always done with Raphtalia.

"Gugi!"

The herd of tiny locust-like monsters charged at my direction. Moving on, I immediately decided on my next targets: the ghouls and the swarm of wasps.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Was it thanks to the barbarian's armor, or was it the shield? Either way I received zero damage as usual.

"Yu-yuusha-sama?"

"Ah, right... You guys go and reorganize yourselves while I hold them back!"

I saw a lot of familiar faces within the Riyuto village bunch.

"Y-yes sir!"

Fortunately, no one was fatally wounded among the survivors even though I was the only one on the frontline.

"What the..."

What was that thought just now? How unpleasant.

While I was dazed, the monsters attempted to knock me out of commission with their claw, fang, and needle attacks.

Even though there were the sweet sounds of impact, I didn't feel any pain, only a bit of an itch. However, the feeling of them crawling all over my body was beyond disgusting.

Hence I beat the crap out of the mobs.

WAMP!

Damn it, didn't any of the inhabitants of this world know how to leave people alone?

But I guess it couldn't be helped since the wave of great calamity was happening and all that.

"He-help m—!"

Behind me, the innkeeper whom I was indebted to was being attacked by a monster.

Right before the innkeeper got decapitated by the monster's claw, I shouted:

"Air Strike Shield!"

I casted the skill, and a lifesaving shield was immediately summoned and rescued the innkeeper.

He was surprised at the sudden appearance of the shield and looked towards my direction.

"Run for it!"

"... Ooh, thank you."

After he bowed from his waist and voiced his gratitude, the innkeeper left the scene along with his family.

"Kyaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

A stereotypical, ear-deafening shriek.

It was the sight of a damsel in distress fleeing away with a gang of pursuing monsters.

I approached the vicinity.

"Shield Prison!"

I called forth a box of shields to surround and protect the damsel.

With the shields' sudden appearance, the monsters switched their target to me.

That's good. Come over here. I'm very delicious.

Before the duration time of the Shield Prison expired, I lured the monsters away and returned to the frontline.

WAM! BAM!

Haah haah...

My body steadily became heavier with the increasing number of monsters.

Then, a rain of fire poured down on top of me.

Behind the horde of monsters, I could spot the knight squadron's arrival.

The magic users among their ranks were shooting out their magic; so this was the cause of the fire.

"DUDES! There are allies over here!"

Although, there was only me here.

The monsters were quickly ignited and turned into cinders.

Since there were a lot of insects they burned nicely.

Apparently, not only was my physical defense high but my magical defense was as well.

The front line was burning brightly with a crimson red. Anger swelled up from within me while questioning the motive behind this friendly fire; I glared and approached the knight squadron amidst the mayhem as my cloak fluttered, scattering the flames.

"Hmph, so that is the Shield Hero... He's surprisingly resilient."

The person who appeared to be the knight commander threw me a glance and spat on the ground while uttering those words.

Then a shadow dashed at him, brandishing a sword.

And with a loud 'Klang!', the knight commander quickly unsheathed his own sword and locked blades with his attacker.

"What was the meaning of your actions against Naofumi-sama?! I will cut you down depending on your answer!"

Raphtalia declared with great bloodlust.

"A companion of the Shield Hero, huh?"

"Correct, I am Naofumi-sama's blade! I shall not forgive any act of disrespect!"

"... How dare a demi-human try to speak on the same level as us knights?"

"You have neglected your duties of protecting civilians and attacked your own allies, specifically Naofumi-sama whom you tried burning along with all the monsters using your magic. For those reasons, you people are unfit to be called knights!"

"Isn't it fine since he's still safe and sound over there?"

"No it's not!"

Raphtalia passionately continued arguing with the knight commander while the others began to surround her.

"Shield Prison!"

"Damn, you basta——"

I confined the encircling knights with my shields and stared down at the knights who tried to usurp my hard work.

"... Aren't the real enemies here the monsters spawned from the wave? Don't mix up your objectives!"

Ashen-faced, the knights turned their heads away after my rebuttal.

"A criminal Hero doesn't have the right to say such crap."

"Oh well... I'm fine with anything. So I guess it's safe to say that you guys want to make an enemy out of me?"

The frontline was brimming with fire blazing monsters who were crawling all over my face, with more and more from the wave joining the fray.

Looking at me withstanding all of that, the knights' faces turned completely blue.

After all, I was the Shield Hero. 'Do not mess with this guy' or other lines of reasoning were there.

"Raphtalia, did you finish with the evacuation?"

"No... it's not done yet. I believe that it will take a little bit more time."

"Understood, then hurry up and evacuate the civilians."

"But..."

"Though our allies had rained fire on me, it wasn't even painful or ticklish. It just... left a feeling of being licked on my arms and legs."

I patted Raphtalia's shoulder and followed with a glare at the knights.

"... I will definitely kill you, no matter what it will take. I'll lure the worst monsters here and abandon you, for example, as well as all that other fun stuff too."

My threat was effective; the knights stopped chanting magic and gasped.

"Now then, Raphtalia. The fight's already started; let's remove the disabled away from the battlefield, discarding all this dead weight.<sup>[4]</sup> Wow, look at that. There sure are a bunch of enemies.<sup>[5]</sup> Yes, let's do just that."

Unexpectedly, since the knights can seemingly hold their own... it should be alright to ditch them here.

"Y-yes!"

Upon my orders, Raphtalia rushed back to the village.

"Shit! Putting on airs even though you're just a criminal Hero."

The knight commander bellowed at me like an idiot right when the Shield Prison's duration time expired.

"Alright, so you... want to die?"

Monsters began to stir towards me.

The idiot shuts up, knowing what would happen if I were to abandon them and only protect myself.

Geez, I couldn't seem to find a decent person amongst all of these people.

These guys were the type that thought that I wouldn't be able to do anything other than protect others since I was nothing but a Shield Hero. Who the hell would ever help others for the fun of it?

Afterwards, the cleanup of the stranded monsters from the wave was completed to some extent.

Once she was done with evacuating the civilians, Raphtalia returned to the frontline, that was when I commenced my retaliation.

Using the knight squadron as our human shield, we finished off the monsters by baiting them into our encircled formation. And a few hours had passed by in no time at all.

"Alright, I guess that's the end."

"Seems like it, this boss was a cakewalk."

"Yep, at this rate, the next wave will also be a cinch."

Our bravely fought heroes were simply chatting at the heart of the frontline; where the corpse of a Chimera, the wave's Boss, laid.<sup>[11]</sup>

It was as if the job of evacuating civilians were only the adventurers and knights' responsibility...

Even though a month had already passed, these folks still think that all of this is nothing but a game.

It was quite a hassle for me to ignore these shitty heroes, but I was relieved that I managed to survive this wave.

The sky's color was still pitch black. Although it was only a matter of time before it would be dyed orange by the setting sun.

With this, I should be able to stay alive for at least another month.

... Although I didn't receive any damage, that was probably due to the wave being weak: for now. I honestly don't know if I can endure the next one.

Sooner or later I'll be unable to withstand their attacks... what in the world would happen to me then?

"A job well done, oh brave heroes. The king has properly readied a feast in celebration for your achievements. We humbly invite you to join in since we will also be handing out your rewards there."

I naturally didn't want to participate. However, I had no more money. So I'll bless them with my presence. Let us depart together!

Indeed, it was expected for them to prepare our tributes, ones which equal our efforts for every wave.

500 silver coins. That was quite a sum of money for me at the moment.

"Ah, um..."

The Riyuto villagers saw me and came over to talk.

"What?"

"Thank you very much. We would all be dead if you weren't here."

"It would be the same if I wasn't around."

"No."

Another villager refused my comment.

"It was thanks to you being there that we were able to survive."

"If you think so, then just do whatever you want."

""""YES!""""

The villagers bowed to me and went back.

Their village was violently raided. I suppose that it would be quite a hassle to reconstruct it afterwards.

They merely expressed their gratitude to their life savior, whom they usually despise... what a calculating bunch.

"Naofumi-sama!"

After the long battle, a muddy, sweaty and smiling Raphtalia came running over to me.

"We really did it! Everyone is expressing their gratitude."

"... I guess."

"With this, there will be nobody who'll end up like me. It was all thanks to Naofumi-sama!"

"... Haaa."

So this was what they called a post-war bliss, famous throughout the history of my birthplace; Raphtalia was moved to tears.

"I too... tried my best."

"Right, you did well."

I praise her while patting her head.

That's right. Raphtalia had followed my orders and fought devotedly.

It would be a folly of mine to falsely evaluate that.

"I defeated a bunch of monsters."

"Haha, that certainly saved me."

"Guhehe."

I felt a bit uncomfortable with Raphtalia laughing so blissfully like this, dood;<sup>[17]</sup> we headed towards the castle.

"Well well! As expected of our heroes. I cannot contain my surprise after seeing the difference between the casualties from this battle and the last."

Once the sun had gone down and the night sky had taken over, the king declared loudly to his grandiose banquet held within the castle.

On that note, I had no idea what the casualty count was before, but this time the casualties were within the single digits.

... Though I had no intention of taking credit for that.

I didn't resent that bunch of muscle-headed heroes at all for charging in and beating the crap out of the monsters while leaving me behind to do all the cleanup.

However, I thought to myself that we'll eventually be left in a sorry state at this rate.

We were lucky this time, but who knew what would have happened if the knights didn't arrive on time. It was thanks to the sand hourglass for sending us close to them.

This was such a heavy subject...

Cry out for help, and aid shall come.

It was about the battle against the wave.

Mobilizing knights to accompany us when we got teleported by the hourglass was a valid possibility.

But didn't the knights get left behind right after we were teleported the last time?

It must have been their attitude! Those people didn't want to acknowledge me as a hero, so that's why they weren't teleported!

But... didn't the party of those shitty heroes get teleported too?

Just, how the hell?

This kind of setting was weird as hell if this was a game.

... Anyways, aren't we in big trouble? This is the part where they will drop their guard just because aid arrived.

In short, it's complicated stuff.

I ate my share in an appropriate looking corner while the banquet was being held.

"This is such a feast!"

Raphtalia stared at the mountain of food which she normally couldn't get a chance to eat with eyes shining like stars.

"Go and eat whatever you want."

"Yes sir!"

I don't usually give her a lot of good food to eat... so it would be wise to let her eat whatever she desired here. Once she ate her fill, she would be an even better war asset.

"Ah... But, I'll gain weight if I eat too much."

"You didn't even hit your growth spurt yet, right?"

"Urg..."

For some reason Raphtalia was making a very troubled expression.

"It's fine to eat whatever you want."

"Do you prefer fat girls, Naofumi-sama?"

"Huh?"

What was she saying?

"Not at all."

Just thinking about women would only make me imagine that bitch. A lot of unpleasant feelings would also pop up.

To begin with, that woman was a life form that was repulsive to the mind...

"I suppose that's right. That's just like the usual Naofumi-sama."

She said as if giving up on whatever was on her mind.

"Naofumi-sama, this is so good."

"That's nice."

"Yes."

Hmm... This banquet was such a waste of time. Just when will I get my reward?

This place was like a cesspool of garbage, just looking around made my anger boil.

... Thinking back, it was quite possible that the rewards would be handed out tomorrow.

Then this was a fool's errand? No, since the food was good I'll let it fly.

It's not the same for normal people since Raphtalia was in the middle of her growth spurt! By no means I am a fool to pass this chance up.

"I wonder if they have something like a container in order to bring food home."

One should always think about tomorrow and never waste money.

... I'll have ask them to let me have the rest and re-cook the food later. Anything that can be considered food will be fine.

Amidst the crowd, a raging Motoyasu was pushing his way through, heading towards our direction.

Really, just what the hell is wrong today?

Since it looked like a pain in the ass, the crowd split apart and made way for that trash, Motoyasu, as he glared at me with intense hatred.

"YO! NAOFUMI!"

"... What?"

He removed the glove on one of his hands and threw it at me.

If I was right, that guy wanted to challenge me to a duel.<sup>[28]</sup>

The crowd was stirred into motion by his following statement.

"Duel with me!"

"Just what are you talking about?"

Did his brain finally fry?

You'll turn into an idiot if you kept on thinking about games all day long.

The goddamned spear hero who charged in to kill the boss like a madman, ditching all the innocents that he should have defended.

"I know it all! Raptalia-chan was only tagging along with you just because she's your slave!"

He was burning with fighting spirit as he pointed at me and denounced.

"Hmm?"

The person in question was feasting upon her piled up delicacies.

"So, what about it?"

" 'So, what about it?' ... you say?! Did you seriously just say that!?"

"Haaa."

What's wrong with possessing a slave?

There was nobody that was willing to fight alongside me. Hence, I bought and used a slave.

And this country didn't have a ban on slavery anyway.

So, for what reason did he go on a rampage for?

"She's my slave. What's it to you?"

"It's... it's not the enslavement that's wrong! It's because we're heroes with different worldly ethics than the people here which makes your actions wrong!"

"Isn't that a bit too late... there were plenty of slaves back in our world, right?"

I didn't know anything about Motoyasu's world. But it was literally impossible for mankind's history to be without the existence of slavery.

A different way of interpreting it would be: members of society are slaves to the higher corporations.

"Unforgivable? Are you even using your head? Think with that goddamn brain of yours!"

Forcing others to follow their own biased beliefs... This guy's mind has problems.

"But it's such a shame that this is a different world. Slaves exist here. And what's the problem with me using them?"

"Bas... tard!"

Gritting his teeth, Motoyasu swung his fist at me.

"Duel with me! If I win, release Raphtalia-chan!"

"Why would I have to accept this challenge to begin with? What's in it for me anyways?"

"You can do whatever you desire with Raphtalia-chan! Just like now."

"Are you retarded?"

I attempted to ignore Motoyasu and leave, since this duel had nothing to offer me.

"I have heard Motoyasu-dono's story."

The excited crowd made room for the king to pass through.

"I heard that one of the heroes was using slaves... although only as a rumor. If you refuse Motoyasu-dono's proposal then I shall order it. Duel!"

"My ass. Just hand over this wave's reward already. I have no time to waste in a place like this!"

The king sighed and twitched his fingers.

The soldiers appeared out of nowhere and began to surround me.

When I looked over at Raphtalia, she was detained by the soldiers.

"Naofumi-sama!"

"... Are you threatening me?"

I said while staring him down with all the force I could muster.

This guy, he didn't believe what I said at all.

So that's the case, didn't know that I was intruding here.

"If you're in this country then my word is absolute! I can even forcibly confiscate the Shield Hero's slave if it comes down to that."

"... Tsk!"

Things like solving the curse placed upon a slave, the court magicians probably knew about such techniques.

In other words, to preserve my connection with Raphtalia, I have to fight.

Don't fuck with me! I barely even got any return from my purchase on this slave!

Whose money and time do you think was invested on her?

"This match is meaningless! I am——uuuuurg!"

A piece of cloth was rolled up and stuffed into Raphtalia's mouth so that she wouldn't be able to say anything.

"The owner has the power to strengthen the punishing curse of the inflicted individual. Therefore, let us stop this slave from speaking any further."

"... You just did that so that I would have to participate in the duel."

"Aren't we simply granting you the participation prize?"

"What! You bas——"

"Well then, the duel shall be held in the castle's garden!"

That asshole of a king interrupted my complaint and declared the duel location.

Shit, don't you people see that I have no attack power? This is like a gimped race!

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 21 – Contradicting Actions

---

At this very moment, the castle's garden had turned into a dueling arena. Along the edge of the vicinity, torches were brightly lit and the joyful folks from the banquet expectantly gathered around to witness a duel between heroes.

Unfortunately, the outcome of this duel was already predetermined.

I, who ultimately dealt zero damage, versus the Spear Hero, Motoyasu.

A match between the parties of both the Shield Hero and the Spear Hero! ...not! What was about to take place was a one-on-one duel between Motoyasu and I.

It seemed that the proposal for a team battle was rejected by Motoyasu due to his overflowing pride, and thus we came to have our solo matchup.

Everyone already knew how the duel would turn out.

No sounds of people placing their bet could be heard.

Although this event was taking place within the royal palace, among the varying mix of nobles were adventurers who aided in the wave-effort.

Hence it was natural not to start a gambling circle here.

Everyone unanimously believed that I would end up being defeated.

As spectators, Ren and Itsuki could be seen looking and laughing from within the castle terrace.

They seem to take anticipated joy in witnessing the moment when I have my slave stolen from me.

Shit. Shit! SHIT! FUCK IT ALL!<sup>[6]</sup>

Every last one of them thought of nothing but to harass me.

For example, raining fire down on me amidst the battlefield confusion during the wave.

In the eyes of the people in this world, I am nothing but the object of scorn and ridicule.

... That's just great. Defeat might have been the only choice for me all along. But, I won't be defeated without putting up a fight.

"Now then, let us commence the duel between the Spear Hero and the Shield Hero! The victor and the vanquished shall only be determined either before the finishing blow is directly dealt or when one of them accepts their defeat!"

I twisted my joints, cracked my fingers, and shifted into my battle stance.

"Who will fall first, the shield or the spear? Such a match... this will be a joke."

Motoyasu spitefully stared at me and hissed with his nose.

Are you mocking me?

"Well then——"

Motoyasu, I'll show you that only knowing how to fight won't defeat your opponent.

If one were to ask a merchant whether the sharpest weapon or the sturdiest shield is the 'strongest' equipment a person can have, then that merchant will just contradict themselves over the meaning of 'strongest'. As a matter of fact, the word itself holds no meaning.

However, even if the word is a contradiction in and of itself, I will accept such a contradiction.

And to begin with, what elements decide the outcome of this duel?

Isn't this just the same as Shogi and Go?

Even if that's the case, how would this affect the outcome of the duel?

The ultimate purpose of a spear is to kill your opponent.

The ultimate purpose of a shield is to act as your guardian.

If one was to carefully analyze and think about it, the sturdiest shield will always triumph over the sharpest spear.

Their purposes were fundamentally different. The spear and shield that is.

"Begin!"

"Uwoooooooooooooooooooooo!"

"Hyaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

I rushed at Motoyasu with a Falcon Punch while Motoyasu rushed at me with his spear leveled, preparing to pierce me.

The distance was shortened in an instant. Motoyasu thrust his spear at me, utilizing our momentum to amplify the penetrative force.

There is no attack that cannot be blocked if one is able to see the direction it's coming from.

"Chaos thrust!"

Motoyasu flicked his arm and his spear instantly appeared to have multiplied several-fold.

A Skill! That certainly came at an unexpected moment.

But my rush was unstoppable.

I charged through while holding the shield over my head.

Clang!

Whoosh!

Arg... I could feel pain run through my shoulders and into my legs.

Although they were only scratches, attacks from a hero sure were different as expected.

However, Motoyasu's Skill came to a sudden halt; it seemed to have entered its cooldown period.

"Eat this!"

But Motoyasu continued to thrust his spear at me.

The spear, its weakness lies within its range.

Like any other polearm, it is specialized for mid-ranged combat. Once inside of this range, its difficulty of usage becomes apparent.

Usually this doesn't matter as you only need to defeat your enemies before they have a chance to get close. Not for me though, my shield won't collapse to a single blow.

I dodged Motoyasu's thrust by a hair's length and charged with my whole body weight, focusing everything on a single point.

And thus my fist dug splendidly into Motoyasu's face.

Guh!

Tsk! It's impossible for me to deal any damage after all.

However, my attacks won't end with just that.

That bastard Motoyasu didn't even seem to move an inch from my attack and just rolled his eyes.

Let's see how long you'll be able to keep that face, hmm?

I pulled a deadly weapon from within my mantle and threw it towards Motoyasu's face.

GABUUU!

"GO!"

My stockpile was completely wiped out earlier during the wave and the fiery rain, so I picked up a few along the way to the castle for negotiation usage.

"Wait? WHAT!?"

Kukuku... look at that idiot Motoyasu speaking in a confused and puzzled voice.

NOM NOM CHOM!

"Ouch, OUCH!"

Motoyasu writhed in agony from the pain of his oh-so-precious face being bitten.

Yep, my attacks aren't just barehanded only.

There is also the existence of a convenient weapon invented by humanity's experts, BALLOON!

"ORA ORA ORA!"

Two on the face and an extra one to his crotch ensure that he's unable to get back up.

"Wh-, WHY THE BALLOONS!?"

The spectators shrieked.

Now you know!

I kept adding kicks with all of my weight to the balloon that was feasting upon his crotch.

"Kuh... Asshole! What sort of move is this?!"

"I can't win anyways so I'll just harass you to the utmost of my abilities! The targets are: the face – a popular guy's lifeline – and the crotch – the proof of your manhood! Inside those balls of yours are just gross otaku-substances!"

"WHAT!? STOP ETTTTTTTTTTTTTTTTTTTTT!"

"Don't ask for the impossibleeeeeeeeeeeeeee!"

I relentlessly knocked Motoyasu's loins with one heavy kick after another. Motoyasu managed to peel off the balloon on his face, but was unable to muster any of his impotent strength to lift his spear.

To buy even more time, I decided to throw the previously peeled off Balloons onto his face once again.

And of course the Balloons weren't the only weapons I had, there were Eggies too. Motoyasu's situation was like sitting on a throne of needles. I'll have my fill of harassing him this time around.

I will lose either way, so I'll carve the utmost trauma onto his soul.

"ORA ORA ORA!"

"ARG! DAMN YOUUUUUUUUU!"

Motoyasu concentrated all of his power into lifting my weight off his body, but I continued with my malicious strikes.

FUFUFU!

This is invigorating! Let me hear more of your tormented cries!

My laughter and smile naturally surfaced from deep inside me.

"GUAH..!"

Suddenly my back was forcefully pushed and I ended up staggering forward.

I looked back at the direction from where the staggering force came from.

What I found was that bitch!

Mein was hiding within the crowd of people with her hand extended toward my direction.

Most likely, that was a type of wind magic.

To be more precise, Wind Blow is a spell that accumulates and fires a condensed, fist-sized mass of air.

Since the condensed mass of air is transparent, it wouldn't be noticeable if not closely observed.

That bitch Mein smirked then pulled down one of her eyelids and provokingly stuck out her tongue.

"Biiiiiitch!"

I staggered again in mid-shout due to Motoyasu's counterattack, having regained his stance thanks to the reduced weight on his body.

Motoyasu panted as he pushed me down, threateningly holding his pike at my neck. All of my Balloons were shaken off at this point.

"Haa... Haa... My, WIN!"

While holding his spear, Motoyasu declared with a tone ever more desperate than when he fought against the wave of calamity.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 22 – What I Wanted to Hear

---

"What do you mean by 'win', you coward!"

Our one-on-one duel was interrupted, right!?

"What are you talking about? You lost because you couldn't stand up to my strength."

... You bastard, you're seriously saying that.

What was that crap about heroes! That they shouldn't own slaves!

You trash, acting like a hero while rigging this battle to satisfy yourself.

"Your comrade interfered in the middle of our fight! That's why I staggered!"

"Ha! Is that lie the bitching of a loser?"

"That's not it, you asshole!"

That coward Motoyasu looked down on me, ignoring my complaints while feeling victorious.

Even though there really was an intrusion... that bastard!

"Is that so."

The spectators had their eyes on Motoyasu.

Did they not see what happened..? Everyone was completely silent.

"There is no need to believe the words of a criminal Hero. Hero of the Spear! It is your victory!"

That asshole!

Just like that, the king boldly announced the result.

Even then, some of the crowd were unsure. They looked around as if they wanted to speak up. However, there was no one who would challenge what the king had declared.

Because the king had silenced all dissent.

This kingdom was a complete dictatorship!

"As expected of Motoyasu-sama!"

The bitch who was the instigator of this incident shamelessly rushed to Motoyasu's side.

Furthermore, the castle's magicians only cast healing magic on Motoyasu, treating his wounds.

Looks like they had no intention of helping me.

"Fumu, as expected of the Hero whom my daughter, Malty, has selected."

The king says as he places his hand on Mein's shoulder.

"W-what..!?"

Mein is the king's daughter!?

"Ah... I was also surprised at the time upon hearing that Mein is a princess. She used a fake name in order to slip amongst us."

"Yes... I wanted to help for the sake of world peace~"

... I see. So it's like that.

It seemed strange how easily I was labeled a criminal with just the victim's testimony.

So that's what it was... The king overlooked his idiotic daughter's selfishness and pushed a false crime onto me using fake evidence. For the sake of the Hero that his daughter had chosen, he sacrificed me and reclaimed my money because I was the weakest among the Heroes.

And because Motoyasu saved the princess from me, they ended up becoming closer, more so than all the other girls around him.

This also explains why I received additional funds at the beginning.

In other words, she was able to obtain good equipment for herself as well as support her chosen hero, Motoyasu.

If Motoyasu alone started off with equipment far better than the other Heroes, then even he would find it suspicious and be wary.

With such meticulous planning, there's definitely no way to find the truth other than from the culprits themselves. In the end the result was a worthless, criminal Shield Hero and the Spear Hero who magnificently saved the princess.

Piece by piece, everything began to make sense.

There was no evidence other than the blow I received, which did no damage apart from making me stagger. There was no clear evidence that the princess was cheating.

Any objections to this rigged match were probably silenced behind the scenes.

So she could interfere in our duel and cover for her favored hero, Motoyasu.

In that case, it must have been planned from the start for Motoyasu and I to have this duel.

...Oh, it's so simple. All she had to do was whisper this to him:

"That girl has been forced into slavery by the Shield Hero. Please save her."

A chance to both test her potential husband as well as to show herself in a good light. If it's her, she definitely won't let that chance slip by.

If they do get married in the end, this will become a heroic tale of how they rescued a slave from a criminal.

And in the distant future, her name will be carried on as the wife of the virtuous Hero who defeated the evil Hero.

Shit! This trash king and bitch princess!

No, wait... the princess, a bitch...?

This phrase, where have I heard it before?

Where? Where did I hear such a thing?

... I remember now. I read it in the 'Four Heavenly Weapon's Manual'.

In that book the princess was a bitch who whored herself to all the Heroes.

If the book I read in the library is related to this world, then it makes sense that the princess is a bitch. The same can apply to all these other shitty Heroes.

A seething rage from the very depths of my body enveloped me.

Curse Series

The conditions for unlocking this shield have been met.

My vision distorted as my shield was swallowed by the pitch black emotion overflowing from my heart.

"Now then Motoyasu-dono, the girl which the Shield Hero has kept enslaved is waiting."

The crowd separated as the magicians began to release Raphtalia from the slave curse.

The magicians brought a bowl overflowing with a certain liquid and smeared it on the slave mark etched onto her chest.

The mark faded away before my eyes.

Raphtalia was now officially freed from her enslavement.

My stomach churned as my heart was consumed by a dark feeling.

It's as if this world was ridiculing and scorning me, all the while laughing at my struggles.

All I can see... are the dark grins of the shadowy presences around me.

"Raphtalia-chan!"

Motoyasu rushed over to her.

Raphtalia, with the gag now removed from her mouth and tears flowing down her face--

--slapped Motoyasu.

"You... coward!"

"... Eh?"

Motoyasu had a dumbfounded look on his face after being hit.

"I never asked to be saved by your cowardly tactics!"

"B-but Raphtalia-chan was being exploited by him, right?"

"Naofumi-sama has never forced me to do anything! Only when I was too afraid to fight did he ever use the curse!"

Slipping in and out of consciousness, I couldn't hear what was being said.

No, I could actually hear it.

But I did not want to listen to anyone.

I just want to hurry and run away from here.

I want to return to my world.

"He shouldn't have done that!"

"Naofumi-sama can't defeat any monsters by himself. That's why he has to rely on someone else to defeat them!"

"You don't need to do that! He'll just use you until you're broken!"

"Naofumi-sama has never once let any monsters harm me! And if I become tired he lets me rest!"

"N, No... he's not the type to be so considerate..."

"... Would you be able to offer your hand to a dirty slave wrecked with illness?"

"Eh?"

"Naofumi-sama has done so much for me. He allowed me eat whatever I wanted. He gave me precious medicine when I was sick. Would you be able to do that?"

"I- I would!"

"Then you should have another slave by your side right now!"

"!?"

For some reason... Raphtalia ran over to me.

"S-stay away!"

This... is hell.

A maliciously created world.

Women - no - everyone in this world scorns me as if to torture me.

If she touches me, then I'll just be reliving those bad memories.

Raphtalia witnesses my condition and again glared at Motoyasu.

"I've heard the rumors... that Naofumi-sama forced himself onto his companion, that he is an awful Hero."

"A-Ah. He's a rapist! As a female slave, you should understand that, right!?"

"Why would I!? Naofumi-sama has never once laid his hands on me!"

Raphtalia then grabbed my hand.

"L-let go!"

"Naofumi-sama... How can I earn your trust?"

"Let go of my hand!"

Everyone in this world accuses me of a crime I didn't commit.

"I didn't do it!"

Pomph...

My frenzied self was covered by something.

"No matter what, I will always believe in Naofumi-sama."

"Shut up! You people are just going to pin more crimes on me!"

"...I don't believe those rumors. You are a person who would never do such a thing."

I heard the words that I've wanted to hear ever since arriving in this world.

Gently, the shadows that clouded my vision disappeared.

I received the tender warmth of another person.

"Even if the whole world blames Naofumi-sama, I am different... No matter how many times it takes, I will refute them all."

When I lifted my head, what laid in front of me was not a little girl, but a young woman around the age of seventeen.

While her features looked like those of Raphtalia, she was an unbelievably cute girl.

What should have been dry, cracked skin was now a healthy complexion, with beautiful hair that was slightly dusty in color.

The body that was once all skin and bones was now curvy with a fit, robust figure.

Most prominently, her eyes were no longer filled with hopelessness, but brimmed with a strong will.

I could not recognize a girl like her.

"Naofumi-sama, now let's go and place the curse on me again."

"W-who are you?"

"Eh? What are you saying? It's me, Raphtalia."

"No-no-no, isn't Raphtalia a little girl?"

She claimed to be Raphtalia. Troubled, she tilted her head while trying to convince me.

"Geez, Naofumi-sama is always treating me like a child."

That voice... is definitely the voice of the Raphtalia I remember.

However, her body was completely different.

No-no-no, this is strange even if she was Raphtalia.

"Naofumi-sama, I'll say this due to the circumstances."

"What?"

"When young Demi-humans raise their level, their bodies also mature quickly in order to match their level growth."

"Eh?"

"Demi-humans are not like humans. It is the same with monsters."

Embarrassed, the girl who claimed to be Raphtalia continued.

"Although my... my mind is still that of a child, my body has already become similar to an adult."

While telling me this, Raphtalia once again buried my head into her voluptuous chest.

"Please believe me. I believe that Naofumi-sama has not committed any crimes. You are the great Shield Hero who has saved my life, given me precious medicine, taught me how to survive and how to fight. I am your sword, and I will follow you no matter what hardships we may face."

Those were... the words that I wanted to hear.

The words spoken ever since Raphtalia swore to fight alongside me.

"If you don't believe me, then make me your slave or do whatever you wish with me. I will always stay with you."

"Ku...u....uu...."

From the first kind words that I received since arriving in this world, I unwittingly began to weep.

Although I felt that I shouldn't cry no matter what, I couldn't stop the tears from falling.

"Uuu..... uuuuuuuuuu..."

"The duel just now... Motoyasu, you are disqualified."

"Haa!?"

Ren and Itsuki appeared from within the crowd and said.

"We saw it clearly from above, your companion targeted Naofumi with wind magic."

"No, but... That can't be."

"The king has become silent. You understand from that much, right?"

"... Is that what happened?"

Motoyasu's head swept through the room, looking at the audience.

"But he attacked me with monsters."

"They did no damage. You can check it for yourself."

Acting self-righteous now, Ren scolds Motoyasu.

"But... He! He aimed for my face and crotch!"

"Using dirty tactics after being forced into a fight where he had no chance of winning. We should overlook something like that."

After hearing Itsuki's words, Moyotasu gave up arguing with a displeased look.

"This fight seems to be your mistake this time, so just let it go."

"Hmph... what a shitty result. I'm still suspicious that Raphtalia-chan is being brainwashed."

"How can you still say that after looking at them like this?"

"That's right."

With the atmosphere turning awkward, the heroes began to leave while the crowd returned to the castle.

"... Hmph! How boring."

"Yes... this was quite a disappointing result."

The two royalties who were dissatisfied with the match's conclusion left in irritation. Only Raphtalia and I were left in the yard.

"It must have been tough for you. I didn't realize it at all. From now on, I want to share in your hardships."

My consciousness drifted away when I heard her kind voice.

After that, I slept while being embraced by Raphtalia for about another hour.

I was surprised. I didn't realize Raphtalia had already grown up so much.

Why didn't I notice?

... I was too stressed, probably.

I didn't have the luxury of noticing Raphtalia's growth. All I could see were her rising stats in the status screen.

The feast has long ended. So I fell into a deep sleep in a dusty unused room, originally prepared for the servants.

Someone believes in me. With just that, I feel like a burden had been lifted from my heart.

The meaning of this became clear the next day during breakfast.

For the first time since I was betrayed by Mein, my sense of taste had returned.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 23 - Shared Pain

---

Just like last time, we assembled around 10.

This damn trash king is simply jerking me around... he should have just told us what was going on.

Now I have to meet up with these dicks. What if I end up getting an ulcer?

"Now then, I will distribute this wave's bounty reward and support funding."

Bounty?

An assistant appeared carrying bags filled with money.

"For each of the heroes."

I looked at the bags.

I see, just for monthly living expenses we would require at least 500 silver coins.

500 coins... would not be enough for preparation costs.

"Good job."

Raphtalia smiled while facing me.

"Ahh."

What should I buy with the money?

Maybe some weapon for Raphtalia would be for the best? Or maybe strong armor this time around?

Ahh, it's also about time to buy some new tools for mixing medicine. The truth is, the shield reacted to my current tools, so I'm curious what would happen if they were absorbed.

I fantasize about what to buy while hearing the coins clinking inside the bags.

I receive the bag and check its contents.

One, two, three... yup, 500 pieces.

"For completing requests and in expectation for Motoyasu-dono's other great deeds, we award 4,000 coins."

Oi!

I stare dumbfounded at the heavy looking bag that Motoyasu was holding.

I feel like I'll be endlessly complaining if I start now, so I hold it in, clenching my fists.

"Next is Ren-dono, for displaying similar bravery during the wave and completing requests, we award 3,800 coins."

You too!?

Ren coolly received the bag while making a face as if annoyed that he lost to Motoyasu. Even cursing silently, "All because the princess favors you..."

"Itsuki-dono... Your heroism echoes throughout the country. For your great work in times of strife, we award 3,800 coins."

Itsuki acts as if this much was to be expected while looking at Motoyasu enviously.

What are these 'requests'?

"Hmm... Shield needs to work harder, you only get living expenses."

That's my name! Who's 'Shield'?!

I felt like a blood vessel would soon burst.

Even after going through all that bullshit from yesterday!?

"Um, Sire?"

Raphtalia raises her hand.

"What is it, demi-human?"

"... That is, what are requests?"

Raphtalia was also curious. Ignoring how little we received, we should at least investigate the reason.

"Requests are assigned to heroes to resolve problems that occur in the kingdom."

"... Why did Naofumi-sama not receive any requests? This is the first we've heard of this."

"Ha! What can Shield do?"

Asshole!

The audience snickered.

Ahh, not good. I feel like I'm going to start rampaging.

Is what I thought until I feel Raphtalia grasp my hand as she whispered to let it go. I suppressed my anger while still trembling.

... It's fine, I can bear it.

"Be thankful for even receiving this much!"

"It's not like you helped us out at all."

"Right. I didn't see you during the wave at all, what were you even doing?"

"You're an embarrassment to us heroes. Completely useless."

My irritation had peaked. I spat out a sarcastic retort.

"Great heroes, abandoning the lives of the villagers to fight the boss sure was heroic."

"Ha! Just leave that stuff to the knights."

"The knights are useless, leaving it to them would have resulted in a massacre. You bastards who only aimed for the boss wouldn't understand that."

Motoyasu, Itsuki, and Ren all look towards the leader of the knights.

That bastard just nods back at them.

"Don't get ahead of yourself. Without the heroes dealing with the source of the wave, the casualties would have been far greater."

This bastard... how can you say that?

Acting all haughty while relaxing back at the castle.

Anyways, I'm also a hero. Or are you implying that the Shield Hero isn't one?

"Yeah, yeah. I'm busy with lots of stuff, so if there's nothing else we're leaving."

There's no point in arguing here. Let's just leave it at that and go.

"Wait, Shield."

"Hah? What. I'm busy unlike you assholes."

"You have been a disappointment; that money is our way of washing our hands of you."

Wha!?

So for all future waves I will get nothing. That's what you mean, right?

"That's great, Naofumi-sama!"

Raphtalia replied with a wide smile.

"... Eh?"

"You don't need to waste your time coming here anymore. Instead of dawdling, you can now focus on more important things."

"O... Oh."

It feels like Raphtalia has become really reliable.

She tightly held my hand while calming me down.

"We will be taking our leave now."

Cheerily, she pulled me along and we turned to leave.

"The whining of a loser."

Motoyasu said while Ren and Itsuki just shrug.

... Yeah. Rather than an uncomfortable partnership, this was much better.

"Now then, let's head over to the slave tent and redo the curse."

"Eh?"

Leaving the castle, Raphtalia said while turning to me.

"Otherwise, Naofumi-sama will not be able to trust me completely."

"Well... Not really..."

I recall her words from yesterday.

With those words I felt that I could trust Raphtalia.

"It's... fine if you aren't a slave anymore."

"No."

"What?"

"You shouldn't lie. Naofumi-sama doesn't trust anyone other than a slave."

... Maybe I raised her wrong.

Well, even though it's true that I only trust slaves, Raphtalia is an exception.
Yeah.

"Um... Raphtalia."

"What is it?"

"It's fine even without the curse."

"No, I want it."

... Why is she so adamant about this?

"I also want something to prove that I trust you, Naofumi-sama."

"Haaa..."

First, what a weird person... that thought came to mind.

Second, I was reminded of Mein and got annoyed.

Why? I don't know why, but it's not like I'm angry at Raphtalia.

Normally I would feel... something else? What a strange feeling.

"So let's go."

"Fine."

If she insists, then I won't stop her.

To handle this matter, we headed back to the slave tent.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 24 – Egg Gacha

---

"Oh, if it isn't Hero-sama. How may I be of service today?"

The gentle owner of the slave shop appeared flourishingly to welcome us.

"Oh?"

Surprised, he looked at Raphtalia curiously.

"What a surprising change. I did not think you would grow so well."

He said in a disappointed voice while slumping.

"... What?"

"I thought you would be more like us, how unfortunate."

What does he mean? But I'll just keep that question to myself.

"Real slave traders would raise high quality slaves by keeping them half dead."

He casually continued.

"Then the slaves you know of were discarded after being used, right?"

"N-Naofumi-sama?"

Raphtalia looked up at me concerned.

I've become a lot more confident now.

My current situation is much better than last time.

"Fufufu... Is that so, how exciting."

The slave owner, perhaps amused by my reply, let out a laugh.

"Then, looking at her condition... she has grown quite well. For a non-virgin... how about 7 gold coins?"

"Why are you talking like I'm going to be sold! Also, I am still pure!"

Shocked at Raphtalia's words, the slave owner let out a gasp.

"Oh my! Then how about 15 gold coins? May I confirm if she is a virgin?"

"Naofumi-sama!"

15 gold coins for Raphtalia!?

"Naofumi-sama! Hey, please say something?"

15 gold coins would be enough to buy the Level 75 male wolf!

While I was having those thoughts, Raphtalia tightly grabbed my shoulder with a scary look on her face.

"Naofumi-sama... If you keep playing around, I'll get mad."

"What's wrong? You have a scary look on your face."

"You're not defending me at all even though I might be sold."

"I'm just playing along."

--That's how I'll have to play it off as. Although I did think it over, Raphtalia saw right through me.

I shouldn't pretend to consider selling the one person in this world who believed in me.

"15 gold coins...."

Her grip became stronger when I murmured this.

"Ow, ouch!"

Raphtalia's offensive strength... had become greater than my defense.

This was reliable in a combat sense.

"... I'll run away, you know."

"It's a joke. I was just thinking of how amazing and beautiful you've become."

"T-that... Oh, Naofumi-sama..."

For some reason, Raphtalia became bashful all of a sudden.

It's kinda irritating.

... Is what I thought, but why? What did I say?

"Well, she's not for sale."

"I see... that's too bad. So how may I help you?"

"Ah, didn't you hear about the commotion at the castle?"

The slave trader grinned at my question.

"I have. The slave curse was removed, no?"

"If you understand already, then this will be simple... Don't ask in the first place if you know beforehand."

Since I'm already tired from dealing with Raphtalia.

Good grief...

"Of course, you know, despite what the king declared, the slave system will still exist."

"Hmm, I thought the nobles didn't buy slaves?"

"No, not at all. There are many slaves owned by the wealthy. After all, they are quite useful, of course."

"That trash king, saying those things while supporting Motoyasu, the Spear Hero... Won't the nobles become rebellious? I would if I were them."

It'd be quite funny if that happened.

Although it'd be quite bad for the kingdom.

"Well, there are many factions within the kingdom. If they did rebel, the ones who will end up losing would be the nobles themselves. Yes."

"That bearded old man has that much influence?"

Was it because this kingdom was a complete dictatorship?

Then maybe the kingdom will eventually collapse due to an uprising.

Since the kingdom currently had a trash king who will be succeeded by a bitch princess.

"Actually, in this country, rather than the king--"

"Um... back to the matter of the slave curse..."

"Ah, yes."

We've digressed. Now that I think about it, I don't care what will happen to that trash king.

"So, you've come to reapply the curse, yes?"

"Yeah, is that possible?"

"Whenever you wish."

With a snap of his fingers, an assistant appeared with the same jar used when we first marked her.

An embarrassed Raphtalia took off her armor and exposed her chest.

"H-how is it?"

"How is what?"

"... Haa..."

?

Why is she acting so embarrassed?

Even sighing afterwards.

Did I do something?

Just like last time, I added my blood to the ink and the mix was coated on Raphtalia where the old mark used to be.

"Although the mark was erased, it is possible to restore it."

"Ohh--"

The erased mark began to reappear as Raphtalia's chest glowed.

"Ngh..."

As expected, it seemed to hurt. Raphtalia tried to bear the pain.

The mark was restored before my eyes.

I need to check the reaction from disobeying orders.

... It should be fine to go easy this time.

Raphtalia became a slave again to gain my trust. So I should trust her now as well.

"Now then."

While thinking about what to do, I noticed that there's some ink left on the plate.

"Hey, can I have some of that ink? I can pay for it."

"Sure, go ahead."

I spread the remaining ink from the plate onto my shield.

Suu- my shield absorbed the ink.

-The requirement for Slaver's Shield has been unsealed.

-The requirement for Slaver's Shield 2 has been unsealed.

Slaver's Shield.

True power sealed... Equipment Bonus: Slave growth+ (S)

Slaver's Shield 2.

True power sealed... Equipment Bonus: Slave condition+ (S)

Slaver's Shield... well, that's somewhat expected.

Something new appeared in the tree, branching from Small Shield series. It was not that strong.

However, the equipment bonus caught my attention

Improved growth.

But two items were unlocked from just a little bit of ink?

I carefully look at Raphtalia.

"What is it?"

That reminds me that the shield absorbed her hair before. 'Racoon Shield' was unlocked at that time, but maybe that also fulfilled some of other conditions.

That was probably for Slaver's Shield 2. With those conditions fulfilled, two shields were unlocked.

I logically reasoned.

In that case...

"Raphtalia, give me a bit of your blood."

"What, why?"

"There's something I want to test."

Puzzled, Raphtalia makes a little cut on her fingertip and spreads some blood onto the plate. I drip it onto my shield.

-The requirement for Slaver's Shield 3 has been unsealed.

Slaver's Shield 3.

True power sealed... Equipment Bonus: Slave growth+ (M)

Yes! As expected!

"Naofumi-sama? You seem like you're having fun."

"Ahh, an interesting shield appeared."

"That's great."

I change my shield to the Slaver's Shield and waited for it to unlock.

"Now then... Hmm?"

We've finished our business here and began to leave, but a wooden box filled with eggs caught my eye.

I don't remember seeing these last time. I was curious.

"What is that?"

I ask the slave trader.

"Ahh, that is what we sell as our business front."

"What business is that?"

"A monster shop."

For some reason he answered excitedly.

"Monsters? In that case, are there also monster tamers?"

"How perceptive, was Hero-sama not aware of this?"

"I don't think I've seen any..."

"Naofumi-sama."

Raphtalia raised her hand.

"What?"

"Filo Rial are monsters raised by a tamer."

The name of a monster I've never heard of. I have no idea what she meant.

"What is that?"

"It's a bird used to pull carriages instead of horses within the city."

"Oh, those things."

Those birds that looked like chocobos.

I thought those were just animals unique to this world, but I guess they were monsters.

"In the village I lived in, there were also people who raised monsters. They were raised for their meat in many of the farms."

"Ohh..."

Is that how it was? In this world it seems people who worked on farms also count as monster tamers.

"So then, those eggs are..?"

"It's difficult for people to handle monsters otherwise. This way is easier to do business."

"Is that so."

"Would you like to see the cages with fully raised monsters?"

If I showed interest he would try selling them to me. The slave trader was a businessman.

"No, it's fine."

I have other matters to attend to.

"So what's that sign on top of the box filled with eggs?"

Although I don't know what's written there, I saw an arrow pointing to the box and characters which looked like numbers.

"One try for 100 silver coins, a monster egg lottery!"

"100 coins is pretty high."

We currently have 508 silver coins. That was a hefty price.

"Because they are expensive monsters."

"Just making sure about Filo Rials, how much are they normally?"

"Starting at 200 coins for a grown one. They also provide lots of byproducts like feathers. Yes."

"So chicks are cheaper than adults? So this is the price of a Filo Rial egg... but there's also the cost of raising one?"

"No no, we also have other types of eggs in there."

"I see... since it's a lottery."

So he's saying there are losers and winners.

So a loss is worth less while a win is more than the attempt.

"So there's probably no winners in there, right?"

"What! Hero-sama thinks that we would pull such a scam!?"

"Am I wrong?"

"We have pride in our business! Although we do like to trick our customers, we would never misrepresent our products."

"You like to deceive, but won't lie..."

What kind of logic is that. I wonder dumbfounded.

"So? What is the winning prize?"

"An easy way to explain it to you would be a Kiryuu."

Kiryuu? That's maybe... a dragon that a knight commander would ride?

"A horse-like dragon?"

"These are the flying types. They are quite popular... so nobles often vie for them."

Flying dragons... like in dreams.

"Naofumi-sama?"

"The market price for one of these winners is about 20 gold coins."

"What are the chances? Just for the Kiryuu."

"Right now there are 250 eggs in the lottery. Among those, one."

So 1/250.

"Strong magic has been cast so you can't tell from the look or the weight. Only after customers acknowledge they may not win do we allow them to play."

"What a good business."

"Yes, if one wins we make sure to get their name. And from the publicity we get many participants."

"Of course, it's just luck..."

"If one buys 10 attempts then we allow them to pick another one from the box. Yes."

"But, how about excluding the Kiryuu?"

"Yes. Nevertheless, there are ones worth 300 silver coins."

Hearing that made me smile.

Wait a second... Isn't this just CompuGacha? Hey!

It's easy to reap huge profits with something like this.

I was nearly tricked again.

"Hmm..."

Still, I ended up seeing something interesting here.

Thinking about it, I feel somewhat vulnerable with just Raphtalia.

So which would be better, buying another slave or raising a monster?

It would be interesting to try out the new Slave Shield. Raphtalia's level has already gone up, so it would be difficult to get the benefits of Slave Growth+.

However, I was reminded of Motoyasu.

That guy sure was annoying about freeing slaves... Although, maybe it was just because Raphtalia was a pretty girl.

There were also many times when Raphtalia was in a lot of trouble.

Additionally, I would have to buy equipment for the slave. This would be a problem for my penniless self.

"Okay, then I will buy a single try."

"Thank you very much! This time I will also throw in the slave ceremony for free."

"Oh, how generous. I like that."

"Naofumi-sama!?"

"What's the matter?"

"Are you going to buy a monster egg?"

"Ah, I was thinking that our last battle was tough with just Raptalia. Equipment for another slave would be expensive, so I thought raising a monster would be interesting."

"Haa... But monsters can also be troublesome."

"I know that. Don't you want a pet though?"

"... But aren't you aiming for a dragon?"

"Even a crappy Usapiru is fine."

It's not like I hate animals, even MMOs have pet taming features. Hopefully it's the same to raise and just as relaxing. Either way, as long as it's able to obey orders like a slave, then it should have a higher attack than me.

I notice that since I have a bit of extra money now, I'm starting to be reckless with my spending. However, this should be a good investment.

Anyways, with the Slaver's Shield it makes sense to own a monster.

"Selling it off after raising it won't be as painful like with a slave."

"Ah, I see. That makes sense."

Although we may end up becoming attached to it, we have no money so we'll just have to bear it should that happen.

Since a slave is another person, having to sell them would be very sad. If for some reason I need to sell a slave whom I've become close with like Raphtalia, I'm not sure I would be able to do it.

However, monsters aren't able to talk, so no matter what it'll just be slightly painful.

Leaving them behind with a 'I hope you meet a good master'.

"So you also provide those services?"

"I'm excited by how insightful Hero-sama is! Yes!"

This slave owner gets really enthusiastic.

Let's just look at the eggs for now.

He said something about there being no way to search through them.

Well, I guess just randomly picking one is fine.

"This one then."

Using my intuition, I pick one out from near the right.

"Please mark this seal with your blood to remember which one you chose."

Like he instructed, I smeared my blood onto the design on the egg.

A bright red light shined as an icon representing the monster tamer appeared.

I guess this is the same as restricting what slaves can do.

... Setting a punishment for it if my orders are ignored. I'll make it more severe than the one on Raphtalia.

It's a monster after all. Since it can't understand my words, then it would be better for the punishment to be harsh.

Though it hasn't even hatched yet.

While grinning, the slave owner opened an incubator-like machine.

"If for some reason it doesn't hatch, I'm going to ask for compensation."

"How admirable! For the Hero-sama who won't take a failure lying down."

I take note of the slave owner's mood and attitude. Geez, isn't this guy a bit of a masochist?

Although I don't get off on verbally abusing other guys... well, I do want to see the suffering faces of those shitty heroes.

"Even though it's just words now, I really will come. I'll unleash my violent slave on you."

"What are you going to make me do!"

"Duly noted."

The slave owner was seriously in a good mood.

"Around when will it hatch?"

I ask the slave owner after handing over 100 silver coins.

"It is written on the incubator."

"Hmmm..."

The number-like characters were changing.

"Raphtalia can you read?"

"Um, Just a bit... it says around tomorrow."

"So fast. Well that's good."

"We will await your next arrival."

In the end we left the tent with our egg.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 25 – Gift of Life

---

Now then, what's next?

I remember the leftover potions from the wave.

Even though I had them prepared beforehand, I never used them in the end. It might be better to just sell them to a medicine shop.

"Let's go to the medicine shop and then, the blacksmith."

"Naofumi-sama, we won't be receiving any more aid so we need to be more careful with our money. We should refrain from what we've been doing up until now."

"Understood."

"Right now, we'll be fine with our current equipment. Let's consider buying them only when we really need them."

"..."

Fumu, that is a good idea.

However, we only have cheap goods compared to the equipment of the other Heroes.

I think it would be a good idea to get Raphtalia a better weapon when we start fighting stronger enemies.

"It has only been a few days since we got new weapons. Imagine what Oyaji would think."

"Yeah..."

The Oyaji from the weapon shop has given us various services. Although he allows us to trade in our equipment, we won't be able to afford better gear with our current funds...

"Alright, let's save up then."

"Yes!"

Well it wasn't a bad idea to be frugal with your money.

"Then, let's go to the medicine shop."

And so, we went to the medicine shop. The owner had a friendly smile when he saw us.

"What? What's going on?"

Normally, he had a sour look on his face when he saw us, so seeing him smile sent a shiver down my spine.

"Nothing much. I just wanted to thank you if you came."

"Huh?"

We were both confused.

"I heard that you guys saved my relatives in Riyuuto Village. They told me to help you out if possible."

"Oh... I see."

When the wave ended, everyone from Riyuuto Village got together to thank us. It seems like his relatives were among them.

"So, thank you for that."

The shop owner retrieved a book from a closet and handed it to me.

"What's this?"

"You've been making beginner level medicines, this book has a bunch of recipes for mid-level medicines. This will be a good time for you try them out."

"..."

I gently opened the book of mid-level recipes. The binding was in bad shape, but the letters were printed clearly.

Yup. Can't read it.

"T-thanks. I'll try them out."

I should show him some gratitude for helping us out.

Recipes for medicines with higher sale value should probably be found in here.

"I'm happy to hear that."

I felt pressured because I might not be able to answer his goodwill.

I already gave up reading the language of this world... but it might be a good idea to learn.

"The owner of the magic shop also told you to drop by."

"Magic shop?"

"Naofumi-sama, it's the shop that sells magic books."

"Oh, I see."

I thought it was just a bookstore... but now that I think about it, they had things like crystal balls at the back.

"Where is that?"

"The big store along the main road."

... Ahh. One of the biggest bookstores in town.

"So, how may I help you today?"

"Ah, today's--"

I sold my potions for higher than the usual amount.

I also bought new tools using that money before heading to the magic shop.

"Oh, you're the Shield Hero. You've been a great help to my grandchild."

"Uh..."

I had no idea who she was talking about, but it was probably someone from the village. The old lady at the magic shop politely greeted us.

The old lady was a bit plump and wore witch-like clothing.

"So what do you need?"

I looked around the magic shop that I thought was just a bookstore.

There were rows of stale books and lots of crystals placed behind the counter.

Along with stuff like staffs, it definitely felt like a magic shop.

Anyway, how do you use magic in this world?

"Is that young lady over there your companion?"

"Hmm? Ah."

I nod at Raphtalia.

"Please wait a moment."

The old lady said and retrieved a crystal ball from behind the counter, then she began to chant some sort of spell.

"Okay, now then Shield Hero-sama. Can you take a look at the crystal ball?"

"Ah, sure."

What's going on?

Is what I thought as I gazed into the crystal ball.

... It was shining a bit but I didn't notice anything else.

"Hmm... it seems that Shield Hero-sama is suitable for support and healing magic."

"Eh?"

I'm suited for magic!?

Hurry up and teach me then... well I can't really complain since I wouldn't understand.

"Next is the young lady there."

"Ah, okay."

I step to the side as Raphtalia looked into the crystal ball next.

"Hmm. As expected, the young lady of the Raccoon race is suited for light and dark magic."

"As expected', as in that's normal?"

"Yes... her race is skilled at illusions using light distortion and darkness concealment."

I see. So the Raccoon race is similar to Tanukis. It seems that even in Japan, Tanukis are a sort of creature that can transform into humans.

"So what now?"

"Here, just something from this old lady at the magic shop."

The old lady then handed us three books.

Books again! Even though I said I couldn't read, why were you also giving us books?

"I actually wanted to give you a crystal ball, but this old lady's livelihood would be endangered if I did."

"What do you mean?"

"Doesn't Shield Hero-sama know that you can learn a spell by releasing compatible magic from a crystal ball?"

What!? That means that I can use magic even though I can't read?

"The country recently made a large order... of crystal balls for the Heroes. A lot of them were delivered, does Shield Hero-sama not know?"

"I had no idea."

Because of that trash king. They were probably given to the other heroes. Geez, they left me out to die.

"Although magic books are a bother, one could learn 10 spells in a single month with dedicated studying."

So, 1 spell with the crystal ball and around 3 spells per magic book; though I still can't read it yet. No, since she said a month maybe there's something more to it.

"My apologies."

"No no, these magic books are more than enough."

Raphtalia answered while smiling. I nod along.

"So how much magic will we be able to use?"

"These are all beginner level. For higher level... please buy them."

"Ah- Ah."

It is a shop. So we shouldn't be ungrateful since she was hurting her own business by giving these books away.

"Thank you."

It was hard to express but we accepted the magic books from her.

"Ha..."

I let out a sigh.

I don't really like studying. What could someone with low grades like me do with these?

Fine. I'll definitely decipher the recipes and spells in these books.

Is what I want to say.

I kind of wish my shield had a 'written language translation' ability.

There's a high chance that my shield has recipes for various medicines. I should be able to use them if I try.

However, I wonder which option would be better, spending the effort to search through the branches of my shield or learning the language to understand the medicine recipes from the books?

With the latter, I would have to deal with costs and other problems.

Still... just thinking about the possibility of my shield having a way to translate this world's written language made me lose my willpower.

"Let's learn magic together."

Raphtalia happily said to me.

"But I can't read the language of this world..."

"Eh, that's why we should learn it together."

"Well... I guess that's fine."

Well, it doesn't hurt to study while making medicine.

"Anyways, when is the next wave?"

"Hm? Ah, one moment."

I looked at the icon in the corner of my vision and check the menu for the next scheduled wave.

Next: 45 days and 14 hours.

"In 45 days."

Wasn't it every month!?

Hmm, well looking back, it has only been around 2 months since I was summoned here.

In that case, maybe the time limit is longer this time around.

It had only been a few days between Raphtalia becoming a slave and then meeting me.

A month is... a long time then.

"Well, having a lot of time is also good."

It's possible that there isn't much we can accomplish in that period.

"For now, have we finished all we needed to do here?"

"Hmm... we have reapplied the curse and sold the medicines. We have also received the books. I think that's it."

Raphtalia confirmed.

Since coming back here because we forgot something would be a waste of time.

"Let's get some food then grind some levels afterwards."

"Okay."

Today's breakfast surprised me. Because my sense of taste had returned.

I can now say that something tastes delicious.

Requirements for Mortar Shield has been unsealed. (note: mortar as in pestle & mortar)

Requirements for Beaker Shield has been unsealed. (note: beaker as in beaker & flask)

Requirements for Yagen Shield has been unsealed. (note: does this have an english name? it's pretty much the same as pestle & mortar)

Mortar Shield

True power sealed... Equipment bonus: Novice Mixing

Beaker Shield

True power sealed... Equipment bonus: Liquid solutions bonus

Yagen Shield

True power sealed... Equipment bonus: Harvesting skill 2

After eating, we left the town and headed in the direction of Riyuuto Village.

Nearby was a place with a moderate amount of monsters.

I don't know the grinding spots of the other Heroes. Because the only way to find these spots was either by asking the locals or searching for them yourself.

Finding a decent hunting spot just from looking at a map was pretty difficult; enough to be called a challenge.

Although it was not like we were competing, it was slightly frustrating to fall behind the other heroes. It was just that fighting new monsters and letting my shield evolve doesn't sound too bad.

While I've left out many details, a lot of shields have been unlocked. Although my abilities have risen, that was also a small problem on its own. Because of my shield, my defense had increased a lot. My other stats such as agility, stamina, magic power and SP have all risen. Everything other than attack.

For that reason, during the last wave I didn't really receive any injuries. While we were en route...

"... By the way, can I absorb any monsters from the wave?"

I completely forgot about it after returning from the invasion, but I want to see if my shield will react to them.

So near Riyuuto Village, we found the mob corpses from the wave.

Requirements for Netherworld Locust Shield has been unsealed.

Requirements for Netherworld Bee Shield has been unsealed.

Requirements for Netherworld Corpse Eater Demon Shield has been unsealed.

Netherworld Locust Shield

True power sealed... Equipment bonus: Defense +6

Netherworld Bee Shield

True power sealed... Equipment bonus: Agility +6

Netherworld Corpse Eater Demon Shield

True power sealed... Equipment bonus: Decay Prevention (S)

Next I checked to see if any other shields would be unlocked from these.

However, the requirements for this shield series were not fulfilled and only one of them was unsealed.

Requirements for Bee Needle Shield has been unsealed.

Bee Needle Shield

True power sealed... Equipment bonus: Attack +1

Special Effect: Shield of Needles (S) Bee's Poison (Paralysis)

With this we continued onward. The villagers were in the middle of disposing the Chimera corpse.

"Sup."

"Ah, Shield Hero-sama."

Because of our efforts the other day, the villagers warmly welcomed us.

"Is that the boss of the wave?"

I grumble while looking at the Chimera corpse.

I closely look at the thing called a Chimera, but for some reason... it doesn't quite look like the monsters in this world.

Maybe it's the color or something, but I can't pinpoint why.

"What a fearsome thing."

"... Yeah."

The villagers and I agree.

I wonder if the other heroes or knight brigade already harvested it. What's left of the meat and fur are carved up.

"Can I take some of it as well?"

"Please go ahead, we're having trouble disposing of it anyways. Do you need us to help process and prepare the parts?"

"That doesn't sound too bad... but there doesn't seem to be much I can use."

The fur was carved up so it isn't possible to make something like armor. So, all that are left are... the meat and bones... and the snake tail.

The heads have been removed and taken. Looking at it, it seemed that it had 3 heads.

Well whatever, Raphtalia and I cut apart the corpse and let my shield absorb the pieces.

Requirements for Chimera Meat Shield has been unsealed.

Requirements for Chimera Bone Shield has been unsealed.

Requirements for Chimera Leather Shield has been unsealed.

Requirements for Chimera Viper Shield has been unsealed.

Chimera Meat Shield

True power sealed... Equipment bonus: Cooking Skill+

Chimera Bone Shield

True power sealed... Equipment bonus: Darkness Resistance (M)

Chimera Leather Shield

True power sealed... Equipment bonus: Defense +10

Chimera Viper Shield

True power sealed... Equipment bonus: [Change Shield] skill, Antidote Mixing+, Poison Resistance (M)

Special Effect: Poisonous Snake Fang (M), Hook

The last one seemed to come with lots of useful bonuses. The defense increase was pretty high too.

However, using the shield requires a high level and unlocking more of the Chimera Series.

It should be fine to do this later, but there's a big chance it could be important for the next wave.

"What about the rest?"

I ask the villagers.

"We were going to bury it anyways, so take whatever you need."

"Okay..."

Although it was a bit of a waste, all that was left were mostly just meat and bones.

I guess we can hold onto the bones, but I think we can use the meat for jerky.

There was no way it would be edible though.

So it was like that. I felt like it could be used for ingredients in some magic potions.

... But I'm not sure if anyone would ever buy it... Plus, it'd be bad if the remains went rotten. It would also be scary if it somehow regenerated from not being preserved properly.

About the bones, I think they should be fine.

However, even then we should probably be careful.

"Then I'll take as much as possible."

"Um, but it will be quite heavy."

"Can I have the village look after the rest?"

"Eh? If Shield Hero-sama asks..."

"Just take the meat and dry it, but leave a bit and see if there's anyone who would want to buy some. That should help with the reconstruction. There should be people who would buy the meat of the wave monsters in order to research it."

"Yes, there should be."

The villagers seemed interested in the reconstruction fund so they accept my suggestion.

I dealt with the innards and other easily decayed parts by absorbing them into my shield. The sun has set by the time we finally reach Riyuuto Village. The village was half-destroyed, but the survivors all stayed together in the remaining, intact houses.

We received a room in a safe inn and quietly spent the rest of the day resting.

"... Although I do want to help out with the reconstruction, we don't have the luxury to worry about others right now."

Today, we were taken care of by the people of Riyuuto Village.

They were grateful for our help with the chimera parts, but for us to receive a free meal and room might have been overdoing it.

"You're right. But it would be great if we could do something that would be mutually beneficial."

A villager who could read and write had provided us with a chart of this world's alphabet.

In other words, the Hiragana table. Or the alphabet table in English.

Afterwards, since Raphtalia could read a bit, I had her point out characters and teach me the pronunciation until I slowly deciphered the table.

With this, maybe even words can be formed, but figuring it all out would be difficult.

For now I don't need to rush to learn the letters.

In between making medicine, I worked hard at memorizing the characters.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 26 – Growth

---

The next morning. Raphtalia overslept due to staying up late last night. I groaned with the magic book in one hand.

Eh? I was brewing medical herbs into medicine.

While I prepare to leave and regain some time from oversleeping.

“Ah, it’s hatching.”(Naofumi)

I left the egg by a window in the room. Raphtalia noticed that the egg which I bought yesterday started to crack.

A fluffy wing with feathers could be seen peeking out from the gaps.

It’s trying really hard to be born.

“Okay.”(Naofumi)

I’m interested in what’s going to hatch from the egg.

I watched the egg as more cracks appear.

The cracks noisily spread with a PikiPiki sound, the face of a baby demon emerged from the egg.

“Pii!”(Fledgling)

With soft, fluffy feathers and eyes of a demon the pink fledgling looked at me with a piece of shell on its head.

“Pii!”(Fledgling)

It jumped cheerfully and collided with my face.

It wasn't painful at all, and the demon seems to be very energetic despite just being born.

Although I don't know the race, it seems the physical condition is good and it will grow up well if it's properly taken care of.

"What kind of demon is this? Is this thing from the Pikyu bird race?(Naofumi)

Pikyu is a demon that's similar to a condor that cannot fly high due to being deformed.

I observed the newborn chick's body.

The body seems more agile than the balloons and I can expect it to attack when it grows up due to its beak.

"Hmm... Well I am not familiar with demons."(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia answers with an embarrassed face.

"It can't be helped. Should we go ask some villagers?"(Naofumi)

Because this is a purchased demon, it shouldn't be dangerous to bring around. If there is any trouble, it will obey my commands.

When I extend my hand to the demon chick, it runs up my hand onto my shoulder and jumps on top of my head to settle down.

"Piiii"(Fledgling)

*SuriSuri* slipping from my head to my cheeks

This is... really cute.

"Fufu, Naofumi-Sama It must think of you as it's father."(Raphtalia)

"Oh, it's probably due to imprinting."(Naofumi)

It might be registered beforehand because the one who moved it first was me, so it must have assumed I am its parent.

When I picked up the egg shards, my shield reacted.

It might informed me what demon this is if I absorb a fragment of the egg. Therefore, I let the shield absorb a fragment.

Requirement for Demon Trainer Shield have been revealed.

Requirement for Demon Egg Shield have been revealed.

Demon Trainer Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Demon Growth Correction (Small)

Demon Egg Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Cooking Skill +2

...A shield I wasn't expecting came out. I'll change it into Demon Trainer Shield from Slave Trainer 2 Shield because it seems more convenient.

"Did you discover something?"(Raphtalia)

"No, but a shield I wasn't expecting came out though."(Naofumi)

What kind of demon is this young chick? Hopefully the guys from the village will know.

I thought about where to Level Up today while walking through the village that's in the middle of reconstruction.

Maybe we could go to the bog area near the western part of the village? I also want to search for a suitable enemy near the North-west mountains. I saw a villager that I recognized.

"Ah, Hero of the Shield-sama."(Villager)

"Good morning."(Naofumi?)

"Good morning."(Raphtalia?)

This was where I was defending last week during the wave, it seems there's a lot of familiar faces here reconstructing the villager.

"Good morning."(Villager?)

He bowed his head very deeply. I'm feeling a little embarrassed

"Pi!"(Fledgling)

The chick on my head chirps rather cheerfully.

"Oya?"(Villager)

The villager looked at the chick on my head.

"What's wrong?"(Naofumi)

I pointed at the chick on my head.

"I bought an egg from a demon dealer."(Naofumi)

"Aah, I see."(Villager)

"However, I don't know which demon I bought. Do you guys know what kind of demon this is?"(Naofumi)

The villagers stared intently at the chick.

"Let's see…… Do you think that is a Philorial?"(Villager)

"Eh? The birds who pull carriages?"(Naofumi)

It would seem I made a little more than the money I paid…… Well, only if what the villagers say is true.

"Yeah, you can go see check with the ranch near the outskirts of the village."(Villager)

"Then I'm going to go see."(Naofumi)

We arrived at the house of the fellow who is managing the ranch.

The ranch seems have been damaged during the wave, half the bred demons were killed.

"In short, Is this demon a Philorial?"(Naofumi)

The ranch man nods when I ask.

"Let's see. This is a female Philorial."(Ranch man)

The young chick sits still while the ranch man appraises her.

"This breed of the Philo Aria Philorial species is good, however unless she pulls a cart she'll be restless."(Ranch man)

".....What kind of creature is that."(Naofumi)

"Is there something strange?"(Ranch man)

Oh, It's not strange if you're born in this world.

Hmm.....I wonder if to these birds the carts are treated as their nest that protects their eggs.

"Well, at least I didn't lose any money."(Naofumi)

This isn't bad, when she matures, she'll go for at least 200 silver coins. Quite a good deal for 100 Silvers.

Though, I don't know how much time and money she will need before maturity.

"Pi!"(Fledgling)

The young Philorial chirps on my head.

"What does this fellow eat?"(Naofumi)

"In the beginning something soft, like boiled beans. After she matures anything is fine."(Ranch man)

"I see, Thanks."(Naofumi)

I'm surprised I can bow and say thanks this easily.

For now I should look for boiled beans inside the village.

"Well, What should we name her?"(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia asked me while stroking the chick.

"You're going to name a pet which may be sold?"(Naofumi)

Well, you will be attached the moment a name is given, and when it is time to sell, you won't be able to.

"Do I call this Philorial chick all the time?"(Raphtalia)

"Mu·····"(Naofumi)

This is surely troublesome.

"Then···· let's call you Firo."(Naofumi)

"···· So cheap."(Raphtalia)

"Shut up."(Naofumi)

"Pi!"(Firo)

The young chick chirped cheerfully when she understood she was named.

After we had breakfast we head out to hunt with Firo.

"Where should we go today?"(Raphtalia?)

"Pii?"(Firo)

"Let's see···· A place we can walk to safely."(Naofumi)

"Okay"(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia is very reliable. Fights were very easy compared to before.

Firo is happily chirping on my head.

It is noisy, but very comfortable.

When evening approached I noticed some strange sounds.

There were a lot of unexpected encounters with demons, but they were defeated easily.

It was probably due to the brand-new weapons and armor. I could defeat enemies coming from the front.

Today's results are.

Me Lvl 23

Raphtalia Lvl 27

Firo Lvl 12

Though I hardly fought, I got enough experience for a level, while Firo's Level soared.

This is good. For young Demi-humans I heard the body grows rapidly when levelling up, it seems demons are the same.

But.....I wondered.....

Firo's appearance changed considerably.

Before, Firo was a small chick that could be held with both hands, but now she's big and grown up.

Well..... Her figure seems to resemble a steamed bun.

And her feathers grew lighter, the color changed from pink to light pink.

I stroke the wings slowly for feathers.

Requirement for Demon Trainer Shield 2 have been released.

Demon Trainer Shield 2

Unsealing completed……Equipment Bonus: Demon Status Correction
(Small)

Still, I noticed Firo's growth when I didn't even notice Raphtalia's.

"Piyo"(Firo)

She changed her chirp and is beginning to walk on her own with a pitter-patter, because she's heavy.

Guuuu……

There's an unpleasant premonition from Firo who is constantly chirping. Though I bought a little too much feed, it seems grass on the roadside is already a suitable substitution.

Her appetite is unending……This was the proof of her rapid growth.

"Umm…Naofumi-sama…"(Raphtalia)

"I understand. Demons are amazing."(Naofumi)

To grow so much in one day…It's only a matter of time before she can be rode.

Though her body is strong, it's a little scary that her mind will be immature. Therefore I performed a considerably severe limitation.

I returned to the hotel and showed the storekeeper Firo and asked where I can put her.

Afterwards, we were guided to the stable of the hotel and substituted straw for a nest.

"Hm? The meat and bone of the Chimera are put here."(Naofumi)

It seems this place hasn't been corrupted yet so the materials will rot slower.

"For the time being, I am waiting for it to soften so it will be easier to process."(Villager)

"Eh....."(Naofumi)

It isn't for food, does that make it easier to process and handle?

"After that, I'll make dried meat and look for buyers.I am still looking forward to selling them. It seems a few mages are coming."(Villager)

"That's good."(Naofumi)

Because it was quite a big chimera, there seems to be a lot of stock. It's probably around 2 cows.

It is inedible, but there are many who still want to research it.

This will be a place to acquire it.

"Piyo"(Firo)

Guu.....

Are you still hungry?

Though I got additional feed in the village and fed her, it still doesn't seem to be enough.

Where does it all go?

Biki ..... BikiBiki .....

Is that the sound of meat and bones creaking? You're still growing up?

"To grow up so much in one day..... That's pretty unreasonable"

The shopkeeper watches my face anxiously.

"She is still Lvl 12."(Naofumi)

"Eh? 12?"(Villager)

The storekeeper is surprised at my answer.

"I think It is necessary to be around 20 and needs a few days to grow up but as expected of the power of a Hero-sama"(Villager)

Hmm... There is the possibility of Demon Growth Correction (Small) having an influence.

It changes every time I check her status. What growth.

I still can't send her to battle yet.

"Piyo"(Firo)

Firo who is growing up quickly and healthily chirps.

After I petted Firo to confirm if she's asleep, I head back to Raphtalia and my room. I study this world's letters afterwards.

The problem is that there are too many letters in this language.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 27 - Growth

---

The next morning.

Raphtalia had been studying until late last night, so I woke up and discreetly slip out of the room in order to see Filo.

It would be particularly troublesome if she were to die from hunger.

I gathered the medicinal herbs since I hadn't finished compounding them yesterday.

"Kweek!"

I heard a hoarse voice coming from the stables.

Looking at her figure, the feet got long and the neck got longer, remolding herself as if she were a manjū. I say she looked very much like an ostrich.

It's an amazing change. Her growth was entirely different from the birds I knew.

Her height is around my chest level, so it is still impossible for a person to ride her.

Gū...

It seemed that she was hungry. That's why I bought some animal feed from the farm and brought it here.

The consumption of gold was quite severe but it is still cheaper than having to buy equipment.

Seeing how rapid she is growing in just a day... I have a terrible feeling about this.

"You. Only a day had passed since you were born."

"Kweeek!"

'Surisuri' Filo clung to me and I smiled softly and naturally.

This doesn't particularly mean my love towards animals has awoken.

I'm just excited about what she will do when she grows up.

Earning her keep as a substitute for a carriage... my chest swelled with anticipation.

Wait, I can see a tinge of white and cherry blossom colors when I look carefully at the feathers.

I let the shield absorb the feather as a way of grooming.

The requirement for Demon Tamer Shield III has been met.

Demon Tamer Shield III.

True power unsealed ..... Equipment Bonus: Growth Revision (Medium)

Nothing... So it didn't have to be blood. Then it might also be good to cut Raphtalia's hair and absorb it again.

She plays and runs energetically, even though Filo is still a newborn.

"Kwek!"

Although she wasn't a dog, I played with Filo by throwing a tree branch a distance away, where she then picked it up and returned it to me.

Her legs seem fast, swiftly catching the branch before it even falls on the ground and quickly returning.

She is quite intelligent.

Kukuku... it looks like my luck has finally turned around.

I was playing with Filo until Raphtalia woke up.

It's a rejuvenating type of therapy. These pets.

"Mu.. I've never seen Naofumi-sama showing such a refreshing smile until now."

Raphtalia came over to me while softly murmuring her displeasure.

If anything, it is an impish smile.

"What's wrong?"

"It's nothing."

"Kwek?"

Chon, Chon. Filo's beak peck lightly at Raphtalia.

It seemed she wanted to engage in some skinship.

"Ha~a... Guess it can't be helped."

Raphtalia smiled while caressing Filo's face with both hands.

"Kwee~ek..."

Filo snuggled up to Raphtalia, squinting her eyes from the pleasant feeling of being caressed.

"Now then, where should we explore today?"

"That's right. How about going to the southward grassland in order to save food expenses for Filo?"

"Fumu... I guess so."

The medicinal herbs as well as weeds have grown in abundance within that vicinity. I also think that it's a good place to go.

For now, the purpose is to save money for better equipment.

"Yoshi, Let's go then."

"Kwek!"

"Yes!"

Well, we blithely went to the grassland while fighting monsters and levelled up slightly.

Me: Lv 25

Raphtalia: Lv 28

Filo: Lv 15

Picking medicinal herbs among other things, we focused on Filo's food and several other harvests.

We defeated various monsters, releasing shield requirements at best status bonus around +1 or 2.

... The shield's Intermediate Compounding Recipe has still not been found.

Evening of that day.

Filo has grown into a splendid Filorial.

"It's early..."

The Inn's shopkeeper and the farm owner are both surprised.

The reason might be because of Growth Revision (Small) and (Medium)

"... Raphtalia, incidentally, when I bought the ink did you recognize..."

"A wa wa..."

I wonder if Raphtalia also wants to grow up like that.

Biki...

A sound similar to a bone creaking heard.

"Kwweek!"

Shortly, Filo, who grew up so much that a person can now ride her, sat in front of me.

"You want me to ride?"

"Kwek!"

Turning her head as I ride on her back, Filo chirps as if it's natural.

"Then let's go."

But is it all right to not attach a saddle or rein?

While thinking about it, I got on since she wanted me to ride her. It's sturdy thanks to the shield.

It will be all right even if I fall.

Riding her... wasn't so bad thanks to the feathers.

There seems to be no problem even with maintaining my balance properly.

"Kwek!"

Filo readily stands up.

"Uwa!"

The view is quite high.

I feel deeply move as I proceed to ride an animal, even though I don't know a thing about horse riding.

"Kweeek!"

Filo started running while I was thinking her chirp is very cheery!

"You, Hey!"

"Na, Naofumi-sama--"

Dotadotadota!

Wa, so fast! The scenery passes behind me in no time, and Raphtalia's voice became distant in an instant.

Dotadotadota!

I wanted to test Filo. When she lightly went around the town, and stopped in front of the stables.

And sat, then I got down.

"Are you all right!?"

Raphtalia runs up to me anxiously.

"Oh, yeah. I'm all right. But it sure is fast."

Filo appears to not even be that tired and started tending to her own feathers.

I was surprised when it exceeded the speed which I imagined. I might have done a good shopping.

"Well then, that's enough for today, let's return to our room."

And then, someone grabbed the collar of my armor.

When I looked behind, I saw Filo seizing my neck with her beak.

"What's wrong?"

"Kwweeek!"

I got called to stop by a chirp that seems like a wail.

"hn?"

Oh well.

And, when I tried to leave, I got grabbed once again.

"What is it?"

"Kwwwkek!"

Filo cried in a slightly displeased way and stamped her foot on the ground.

"Huh, have you not played enough?"

Filo shook her head when Raphtalia asked.

She understands words?

"Are you lonely?"

I nod impudently at the two.

"Kwweek!"

She started her appeal by unfolding her wing.

"That said..."

I'm reluctant to sleep in the stable, and I can't take such a big monster to a bedroom inside the inn.

"Let's accompany her here until she falls asleep."

"Mu... well, fine."

This girl has a big body, although it has only been 2 days since her birth. Whether if it's an animal, it's too early to leave her in a stable at night. That day at the stables, I study this world's letters together with Raphtalia. Filo watched us quietly while resting tensely in her nest.

Biki

"Ah...you really can't read letters easily!"

If there is a shield like that I want to find it fast.

"It can't be helped. I think the appearance of Naofumi-sama isn't good if it depends on anything like a legendary shield."

"...Raphtalia. You've learned to even say things like that now huh."

"Yes. Therefore, let's learn magic and language together."

...Shit.

There's nothing which will make this thing easier. While praying that my efforts won't be wasted, we continued to study at the stables until Filo falls asleep.

Afterwards, we return to our room and began making medicine with the newly obtained herbs.

The result, well, don't ask - since I wasn't able to decipher the recipe.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 28 – Exit by a Kick

---

The next morning, Raphtalia got up early today so we went to the barn together.

“Gua!”(Firo)

Firo happily rushed towards us as we arrived.

“Mou, the body is already grown up?”(Naofumi?)

Somehow…… compared to yesterday her head is bigger. It’s strange.

“Her body is almost balanced now.”(Naofumi)

“If you say so.”(Raphtalia)

Her appearance is similar to the other Philorials we saw in the castle town and on the highway.

Her colour now is white with some light pink mixed in.

It’s a beautiful colour.

That slave trader doing quite a good job.

“Are you hungry today?”(Naofumi)

“Gua?”(Firo)

Firo chirps while tilting her neck.

Yup. It seems the growing phase is over.

Biki……

A strange sound is echoing.

Is this ok?

We finished breakfast and think of our plans. Meanwhile…

“Gua……”(Firo)

Firo stares at the wooden carts that entered the village enviously.

“So you want to pull one too?”(Naofumi?)

“I guess so.” (Raphtalia)

“How’re you doing Hero of the Shield-sama”(Villager)

The villager sees me pointing at the cart and come to chat with Raphtalia.

“Ah because my Philorial wanted to pull a cart, I’m wondering what to do.”(Naofumi)

“Ma…… It’s second nature for Philorials to pull carts.”(Villager)

The man nods as if convinced and starts inspecting Firo.

“Right now the village is in the middle of reconstruction so we have insufficient manpower. Hero-sama, can you help with distributing supplies in exchange for a cart?”(Villager)

“Hmm……”(Naofumi)

That's not a bad idea. After all, I want to take advantage of the fact that I have a demon that is capable of these things.

I could also do other activities as the cart is being pulled.

"What do you need?"(Naofumi)

"I cut lumber in the nearby forest, can you bring it to the village for me?"(Villager)

"Forest huh·····"(Naofumi)

That reminds me, I didn't check out that forest yet.

"It'll take a while to return."(Villager)

"Sure."(Naofumi)

"Understood. Let's discuss the details."(Villager)

On the goodwill of the villagers, one cart was given to me.

Everything from the wheel to the stands was made of wood. Because it's free, it can't be helped that it's old and of low quality.

"Gua ♪"(Firo)

After the cart was prepared, Firo pulls it happily.

The villagers prepared reins for the carriage too, but it's only for looks.

"Yosh! Let's get to the forest today!"(Naofumi)

"Alright!"(Raphtalia)

"Gua—!"(Firo)

Firo cheerfully pulls the cart in the direction I pointed.

Goton Goton!

So relaxing……

Goton Goton Goton! Garagaragaragara!

Wheels turn noisily as the scenery passes at high speeds.

“Faster! Faster! Slow down!”(Naofumi)

“Gua……”(Firo)

After slowing down, Firo walks with a Tokotoko sound while seemingly dissatisfied.

“Ugh…… I feel sick.”(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia has motion sickness and is lying down in the cart.

“Are you okay?”(Naofumi)

“Eeh……Don’t sway so much…” (Raphtalia)

“I see, Raphtalia you have motion sickness?”(Naofumi)

“It seems so. Are you okay Naofumi-Sama?’ (Raphtalia)

“I’m fine unless I get drunk…”(Naofumi)

It seems for me that liquor is related to motion sickness. I remember back in grade school, during a field trip on the bus, I was reading manga and light novels while the person next to me got sick. In the end, I had to ask for a seating change.

In additional, I remember on a family trip to meet relatives on boat, I was playing games while my family got seasickness.

"Mah... just relax, Firo will go slowly there."(Naofumi)

"Please let me accept that kind offer." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia replies lifelessly as she lay on the cart.

On the way, I encountered someone I didn't want to.

"Buaha! What's with that! Haha, Fuahahahahahah!"(Motoyasu)

This fellow holds his sides while he laughs out loud and the fucking woman behind him starts laughing too.

It feels disgusting to be laughed at.

"What do you want Motoyasu?"(Naofumi)

Motoyasu and the women who follow him all burst into laughter.

"Come on! You look ridiculous!(Motoyasu)

"How so?"(Naofumi)

"You're so poor you began peddling? And that bird--!"(Motoyasu)

Hmm.....Peddling! That's not a bad idea.

It seems Firo's ability is more dependable. Let's actually consider it.

"That's so stupid! That's not a bird or a horse, and what's with that colour, it's not even pure white, there's pink in there. And furthermore-

!"(Motoyasu)

"What the hell is your problem?"(Naofumi)

I don't understand why this bastard is laughing.

This is a waste of time. I should just ignore these guys and move on.

Motoyasu approached Firo when suddenly.

"Guaaaa!"(Firo)

Firo strongly kicks Motoyasu right in between the legs.

I saw it.

Motoyasu face that was laughing was distorted and was sent flying back about 5 meters while spinning around by the impact.

"U-ge……"(Motoyasu)

"Ky-Kyaaaaaaaaaaaa! Motoyasu-Sama!"(Motoyasu's companions)

Haha, I think his balls got crushed.

That was extremely refreshing. My investment for buying Firo was totally paid/worth just by seeing that.

As expected of my demon, it seems to have retaliated for me

I'll buy you some good food tonight, Firo.

"Guaaaaaaaaa!"(Firo)

While flapping her wings, Firo runs around noisily.

Motoyasu is now disregarded and forgotten about.

Iyaaa……That was great. I couldn't even see that scene in a dream.

"Wh-what's going on?" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia asks while getting up.

"Huh?? Ah, don't worry about it, it's nothing."(Naofumi)

".....You have a cheerful expression on your face that I have never seen before." (Raphtalia)

Oh. It was reflected on my face?

But, that's some amazing leg strength, to blow off the hero of the spear like that.

(TI note: literally BTFO)

"Umm..... Please run slower." (Raphtalia)

I couldn't hear Raphtalia's voice from the back as I let Firo run with a great feeling.

By the time we reached the forest, Raphtalia hit her limit.

"Uu.....Uu....." (Raphtalia)

I reflected on going too far after seeing Raphtalia groaned and her pale face. It's all Motoyasu's fault, because that fellow let me feel so refreshed.

"I'm sorry."(Naofumi)

"Gua....."(Firo)

A disheartened Firo agrees apologetically.

"I'm, I'm alright....."(Raphtalia)

"You don't look alright at all. You should be able to rest around here."(Naofumi)

"Ah, it's Hero of the Shield-Sama."(Lumberjack)

There is a hut near the forest and a lumberjack villager comes out.

"Ah, so you came to get wood for the village."(Lumberjack)

"Umm..... is that person ok?"(Lumberjack)

"I think so. Is there a good place we can rest?"(Naofumi)

"There's a bed here, let's put her there."(Lumberjack)

The lumberjack guides us to the hut as I carry Raphtalia to the bed.

"Firo and I are going to fight enemies we can beat easily, while you pack the luggage."(Naofumi)

Raphtalia is vulnerable to vehicles, let's not use the cart for a while.

"Excuse me, I'm going to go put the wood in the cart. Come back in a few hours."(Lumberjack)

"Ah ok."(Naofumi)

Firo took off the cart and looked inside the cabin.

"Well then, let's go."(Naofumi)

"Gua!"(Firo)

With a kick that blew Motoyasu away, I expect great offensive power from Firo.

We went into the forest.

When we entered the forest, we did not encounter any demons.

We wandered around in the quiet forest.

In the forest, the atmosphere is clear and relaxing.

That reminds me, there are many sights that I have never seen before in this world.

I wonder why I never noticed it before.

It seems everything was blown off when I saw Motoyasu's face warped in pain.

...No, it's something else.

I think it's because Raphtalia believed in me.

Raphtalia isn't here right now due to motion sickness.

It's somewhat lonely, even though we have only been together for about half a month.

"I should create some pills for motion sickness."(Naofumi)

I look around and gather medical herbs.

"However, a demon may come out..."

Though we have been walking for a while, I haven't seen any signs of demons.

"Gua"(Firo)

"Hm?"(Naofumi)

Firo's voice is heard in the distance.

I turned around and see Firo with something in her mouth.

.....Is it my imagination? No, that's an Usapiru.

It got swallowed immediately.

"Gua!"(Firo)

Firo runs to me as if nothing happened.

EXP 34 Acquired.

.....I'll stop worrying about demons.

After about an hour, we return to the hut. Our cart has already been fully loaded by the lumberjack.

Raphtalia is still asleep in the hut.

This is an evil idea. Raphtalia can't last when Firo runs at full speed. But it is necessary to train Raphtalia who is not accustomed to the vehicle.

"It's necessary to train with a cart for a while."(Naofumi)

"U.....Uu" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia groans at my words. Did she hear it?

"Umm..... I have finished placing the wood."(Lumberjack)

"Ahh. Then can you watch over her while I go to village immediately?"(Naofumi)

“ Yes! If it’s a companion of Hero of the Shield-sama, I’ll guard her with my life.”(Lumberjack)

Though I am slightly uneasy, I can’t just sit here and wait.

“Then I’ll be back soon.”(Naofumi)

I prepare the cart and depart with Firo.

“Guaaa!”(Firo)

Firo dashed energetically.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 29 – Those With Wings

---

On the way back, we did not encounter Motoyasu.

Though, it's just a groundless fear of him angrily looking for me.

Raphtalia was energetic again after I returned from unloading the baggage in the village.

"Are you okay?"(Naofumi)

"Yup"(Raphtalia)

"Ha.....that was fast"(Lumberjack)

The lumberjack was surprised that I returned so soon.

"This fellow here has great legs"(Naofumi)

Was the answer I gave to the lumberjack while I pet Firo.

"Gua!"(Firo)

Firo also energetically answered. That's right, you're very fast.

"Did you search the forest?" (Raphtalia?)

"Yeah"(Naofumi)

"We must go slowly when we return." (Raphtalia?)

"Gua!"(Firo)

Piki.....

What's that? This sound…… Growth should have ended.

I heard something from Firo.

I hope it's not some strange disease.

Today's harvest was quite good.

Raphtalia moves naturally while Firo's offensive power and speed is eye catching.

To be honest, the strength of her blows may already have surpassed Raphtalia.

Me Lv 26

Raphtalia Lv 29

Firo Lv 19

Requirement for White Usapiru Shield has been revealed.

Requirement for Dark Porcupine Shield has been revealed.

Requirement for Usapiru Bone Shield has been revealed.

Requirement for Porcupine Bone Shield has been revealed.

White Usapiru Shield

Unsealing complete... Equipment Bonus: Defense +2

Dark Porcupine Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Agility +2

Usapiru Bone Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Stamina Up (Small)

Porcupine Bone Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: SP Up (Small)

My stats are improving wonderfully.

I should equip a shield that is efficient and has a high performance, but I still haven't found a place where farming gold and experience is efficient.

How many abilities have I already unsealed..... There are too many to keep track of.

In the first place, after unsealing lower class equipment such as the Orange Balloon Shield, I have never used the ability.

The most efficient shield I have is the Whetstone Shield and that is a necessity.

Though, I can use all my shields.

Today I unsealed 4 shields which probably won't be used.

We were walking slowly back to Forest Village, reaching only when evening arrived.

It seems cart training for Raphtalia is necessary.

We advanced leisurely a few times before she felt sick and had to stop.

As a result we arrived after the day was over.

"I am very sorry"(Raphtalia)

"It's fine, you'll gradually get used to it."(Naofumi)

I am pretty strange too, I can't get drunk. I'm not saying she doesn't have spirit, it's just in her nature.

Motion sickness is hard to get accustomed to.

Therefore, I want Raphtalia to quickly get used to the carts.

Well, I think Firo's explosive running speed is also part of the problem.

"Gua!"(Firo)

At this point, the change has already begun.

For a while, we didn't notice. No, I noticed but I chose to ignore it.

The next morning.

Raphtalia notices the changes and is lost in thought.

"Guaa!"(Firo)

When I arrived at the barn, the change was already over.

Firo..... In every aspect, has greatly deviated from the average Philorial and has become gigantic

The average height for a Philorial is 2m 30cm, about the size of an ostrich.

However, Philorials have bigger heads and necks.

Firo's current hight is 2m80cm.....

Her head reaches the ceiling when she stands up.

"Did we really get the egg of a Philorial? I'm beginning to think we bought something else entirely."(Naofumi)

"Yeah..... I think so too." (Raphtalia)

"Gua!"(Firo)

Firo swallows something with gusto.

There appears to be no more Chimera meat left in the stables.

2 cows worth of meat just disappeared.

Was that the last piece?

"I thought her appetite stabilized but....."(Naofumi?)

"She ate everything-!"(Raphtalia?)

"Gua-!"(Firo)

"Hahahahahahahahah"(Naofumi)

"This isn't a laughing matter!" (Raphtalia)

Well then, what should I do about her huge appearance.....

.....However

Piki.....

The sound of growth is heard again.

"Something is happening to cause that sound!"(Naofumi)

"Ummm Perhaps the cause of this growth is due to Naufumi-sama's shield?" (Raphtalia)

"That's possible. Maybe it's from Demon Trainer Shield 3's ability: Growth Correcting (Intermediate)"(Naofumi)

"Uh.....Naufumi-sama, what about the effects of Slave Trainer Shield?" (Raphtalia)

"Iyaaaaaaa"(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia cried and ran from the barn, so I had to chase.

"Ra-Raphtalia!?"(Naofumi)

"Recently, I thought my body was light. But that's because of Naofumi-sama!" (Raphtalia)

"Calm down!"(Naofumi)

"Wi-Will I become big like Firo!? I'm scared!" (Raphtalia)

"I don't hear any growth sounds from you"(Naofumi)

"Well... If you say so. Phew, that's good!" (Raphtalia)

That still doesn't change the fact that this is an unpredictable situation.

I glance at Firo and imagine Raphtalia growing to be like that.

"Are you thinking something rude?" (Raphtalia)

".....What are you talking about?"(Naofumi)

Raphtalia looks at me doubtfully.

"One moment, should we go back to the slave trader tent and confirm the situation?" (Raphtalia?)

"Yes, I think we should." (Naofumi)

It can't be helped. I don't want to return to the castle town because that place is unpleasant..... But we might have no choice.

"Gua!"(Firo)

We left Forest Village with Raphtalia fighting against motion sickness while Firo attracting attention.

On the way, Firo got hungry so we took a break and fought some demons to feed her. We arrived back in the castle town during the afternoon.

"Hey....."(Naofumi)

Firo's appearance changed again while I wasn't looking.

Her feet and neck shortened gradually, now she looks like she has the torso of an owl.

Though it changes the way the cart is being pulled.

The front of the cart that was pulled by rope around her body, similar to a leash.

Now, she uses her wings as hands and skilfully pulls the cart along.

"Kue!"(Firo)

Her chirp and colour have changed again, now she is pure white.

"Huh?"(Naofumi)

I got off the cart slowly and remeasure Firo's height.

She shrank?

Her height is back down to 2m30cm. But her width has increased and now it feels somewhat oppressive.

She resembles a certain mascot from an amusement park who gains weight unnaturally.

(TI note: I don't get this reference.Can someone explain?)

"Kue?"(Firo)

"No, this is fine."(Naofumi)

Does Firo herself notice the change?

I don't understand this creature any more.

"Well.....no matter how I think about it it's surprising. Yup."(Slave Trader?)

The slave trader continuously wipes cold sweat while observing Firo.

"Kue?"(Firo)

Firo became huge width-wise and now resembles an Owl-like demon.

Where did the figure of a friendly ostrich disappear to?

"Well, I want an honest answer. What was the demon that was inside of the egg you sold me?"(Naofumi)

In any case.....

When I point my finger threateningly, Firo prepares to attack.

"Kueeeeeee!"(Firo)

The slave trader hastily checks a bunch of documents.

"This is strange. It says here that the egg Hero-sama purchased was a Phirorial egg."(Slave Trader)

"This?"(Naofumi)

"Kueeee!"(Firo)

I throw some food at Firo, who skilfully swallows it all in one go.

"Well....."(Slave Trader)

That reminds me, I haven't heard that growth sound from Firo for a while now.

Is this her final adult form?

(tl note: Mega Evolution = Loli form)

"However, Hero-sama. It's only been a few days since you have purchased that egg, I take my hat off you."(Slave Trader)

"Don't deceive me with compliments. What kind of egg was that."(Naofumi)

"Umm... Is this the appearance the demon had in the beginning?"(Slave Trader)

"Nope"(Naofumi)

I explained about Firo's growth to the slave trader.

"It was a normal Philorial for half the time?"(Slave Trader)

"Ah, I stopped trying to understand this demon."(Naofumi)

"Kue?"(Firo)

I feel a little irritation at Firo who looks at me with a cute pose and tilted head.

Whose fault do you think it is that we're here.

"Kueeee"(Firo)

*SuriSuri*She snuggles her entire body on me. Then I'm embraced by her huge wing, It's hot, Firo.

"Mu....." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia raises her eyebrows and takes my hand.

"Kue?"(Firo)

Firo and Raphtalia stare at each other

"What's your problem?"(Naofumi)

"Uh, Nothing"(Raphtalia)

"KueKue"(Firo)

I say nothing. I wonder what's going on.

"So? How about it?"(Naofumi)

"Well, That is....."(Slave Trader)

It is pretty awkward in front of the slave trader.

Don't you know all kinds of demons? Aren't you supposed to breed and sell demons?

"Anyway, for the time being let me call an expert so she can be inspected, is that Ok? Yup"(Slave Trader)

"????"(Naofumi?)

"Kue!?"(Firo)

"I understand, it might take a while before the expert comes though.

Yup"(Slave Trader)

"Well that's fine. If anything goes wrong, I demand consolation money."(Naofumi)

"Kueeee!?"(Firo)

It seems Firo objects my answer by flapping.

However, a subordinate of the slave trader attached a collar to Firo and brought her into a cage.

Partially due to the fact that we are here, Firo enters obediently.

"Well then, I'll come pick her up tomorrow. Have an answer by then."(Naofumi)

Raphtalia and I then leave the tent.

"Kueeeeeeeee!"(Firo)

I was surprised at the loud voice from the tent.

That evening, the storekeeper of the hotel suddenly calls for me.

"Umm Hero-sama"(Storekeeper of the hotel)

"hm? What do you need?"(Naofumi)

"A visitor has come to see you."(Storekeeper of the hotel)

Who is it? While I was thinking the storekeeper points to the counter. A man who I don't recognise is sitting there.

"Do you have some business with me?"(Naofumi)

"Um..... I am on an errand from the Demon dealer."(Errand guy)

Demon dealer.....Ahh, that slave trader. Certainly you can't introduce yourself in public as such.

"So is there something wrong?"(Naofumi)

"Ummm, we want to return the demon that is being held there."(Errand guy)

"What!?"(Naofumi)

It's only been a few hours since then..... What could have happened?
When Raphtalia and I return to the tent, Firo's cry can still be heard.

"Iya, Iya, I apologize for the disturbance at this time of night."(Slave Trader)

The slave trader has a tired face while he greets us.

"So what went wrong? We had a promise to meet tomorrow."(Naofumi)

"Yes, that was my intention too, but Hero-sama's demon is slightly troublesome."(Slave Trader)

"Kueeeeeeee!!"(Firo)

Firo behaves violently inside the cage until she spots us.

"She destroyed 3 iron cages, injured 5 of my subordinates, and 3 other demons have suffered serious wounds. Yup"(slave Trader)

"I'm not compensating you."(Naofumi)

"I take my hat off to the Hero-sama who thinks of money at such a time.
Yup"(Slave trader)

Is this slave trader a masochist?

"So, what is it? did you find anything?"(Naofumi)

"Well..... It seems there's a witness report that says this one is similar to a King of Philorial."(Slave Trader)

"The king?"(Naofumi)

"Actually it's a lord of a group of Philorial, it's a story that is famous among adventurers."(Slave Trader)

This slave trader seems to have quite an extensive information network. Well, there is a big group of wild Philorial and there are stories that they have a king who manages them.

The master of Philorial which rarely appear..... And it seems Firo is one of them.

"Hmm"(Naofumi)

Is this information reliable?

Maybe removing the slave crest, killing Firo, and letting the shield absorb her body.

Even though I can absorb blood and feathers, it is still my demon. Only the demon trainer shield will appear.

Or the level I have is insufficient.

I stare at Firo.

".....Kue?"(Firo)

Though the race does not appear on the shield, she is not hostile.

"So, what now?"(Naofumi)

"She is called the Philorial King, or Queen."(Slave Trader)

"Is it because Firo is female?"(Naofumi)

"Yup, it is awkward for me to do business with Hero-sama under these conditions....."(Slave Trader)

I observe the destruction caused by Firo around the tent.

Everything is broken!

I have no plans to sell her.

".....Sama"(Unknown Voice)

"N? What was that unfamiliar voice I just heard?"(Naofumi)

"uh,Ummm...." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia holds her mouth and points to the cage where Firo was held. The slave trader is also speechless.

I look back at the slave trader and we trade puzzled looks.

"Masssterr~~~"(Yup, Firo)

A naked blonde girl with wings extends her hand towards me.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 30 – Transformation Ability

---

Naofumi: "Oyaji! Oyaji! Oyaji! Oyaji!"

(TI note: Changed the rest of Oyaji to Old man, it would be a little weird spam old man 4 times.)

I constantly knocked on the door of the closed weapon shop.

The old man from the weapons shop opened the door with a slightly annoyed expression.

Old Man: "What does the lad of the shield want now? I closed the shop long ago."

Naofumi: "This situation is special!"

I show Firo who was wrapped in a mantle to him.

Old Man: "Lad, did you come here to boast about buying a good slave?"

Naofumi: "Of course not!"

What does this old man think of me!?

Though, when I met the old man, I could kill without hesitation.

Firo: "Master~? What's wrong?"

Naofumi: "You be quiet!"

Firo: "Noo-"

Shit! What the hell is going on!?

After that affair, the noise never stopped.

I'm surprised that the slave trader wanted to buy her off me while not listening to the complaints of his subordinates.

Even Raphtalia was speechless.

I told Firo that if she wants to stick to me, she needs to be in human form. Thus, I carried Firo here to the weapons shop.

Firo: "Ah... Achoo!"

Bofun! Biriiiiii!

She transforms and all I heard was the sound of the mantle ripping. In the blink of an eye, Firo reverts back to her Queen of the Philorial (Temporary) form.

This bird! That mantle wasn't free.

Old Man: "Hey..."

Even the old man is at a loss for words. I looked up at Firo.

Firo returned to her human form and holds my hand.

All that's left of the mantle rests on top of her head.

Naofumi: "Do you understand the circumstances now?"

Old Man: "Yeah..."

The old man guides us inside the store with a really complex expression.

Old Man: "So, the reason you came to see me is to get equipment for this child?"

Naofumi: "Are there any clothes that can transform with the user?"

I asked the old man for the unreasonable.

Naofumi: "Please make it transform!"

Old Man: "Lad, calm down a little."

Right, now that I think about it, why does Firo have a humanoid form?

She has wings growing from her back, blond hair, and fair blue eyes. Very angel-like.

Furthermore, her face is cute enough to be a lovely picture.

Her age looks around 10 and is about the same height as the old Raphtalia.

Guuuuuu..

A very classic sound.

Firo: "Master~ I'm hungry."

Naofumi: "Endure it."

Firo: "Nooo-"

Damn! What am I supposed to do!?

Old Man: "Well, let's just have some dinner first."

The old man brings us to the back of the shop and takes out a pot full of something. It's soup.

Naofumi: "Sto-"

Firo: "Waaa, Itadakimasu~"

Firo takes the pot from the old man and pours all of the contents into her mouth.

Firo: "N-.....It tastes ok I guess~"

I returned the pot to the old man.

He was dumbfounded and just stared at me.

Naofumi: "Ummm, sorry."

Old Man: "Lad, treat me to a meal later."

I'll learn from this mistake.

Old Man: "Hmmm... Well, I know there are clothes for Demi-humans that transform... But this is a weapon shop, what you are looking for is in a clothing shop."

Naofumi: "I am with a naked girl in the middle of the night, where am I supposed to find a clothing shop that won't reject me!?"

Old man: "That's true... Wait here a little."

The old man went to the back of the shop and all I heard was rustling.

Old Man: "Don't expect too much since I don't have anything in her size."

Naofumi: "I understand"

After a while, the old man came back.

Old Man: "Damn. I don't have any clothes that will fit her transformed size."

Naofumi: "What!"

This is already my last resort... What am I supposed to do? How am I supposed to answer when people ask me why there is a naked little girl without parents in my care?

My reputation is already bad enough, but this will make it take another nose dive.

Firo: "Master-"

Naofumi: "Don't you dare transform!"

There is no item that keeps a demon in her human form. As expected, humanoid demons are extremely rare.

Firo: "Nooo-"

Ku.....What the hell is wrong with this child!

She's refusing everything I told her to do.

Is this the rebellious phase? No, that's impossible, she was born a few days ago.

Naofumi: "Then how about this. If you will stay in your human form, we can sleep together."

After hearing that, Firo has a big smile on her face and tightly holds my hand.

Naofumi: "Sigh..... why do we have to sleep together."

Firo: "Because I'm lonely"

Old Man: "Lad..... Are you serious?"

I did not come to this world to baby-sit...

Old Man: "Anyway, where is Raphtalia?"

Raphtalia: "I finally caught up"

Raphtalia entered the shop building while panting.

Raphtalia: "Because you suddenly ran off, I looked everywhere..."

Naofumi: "Sorry, my bad."

Firo: "Ah, Raphtalia onee-chan."

Firo energetically waves.

Firo: "I'm not giving Master to you~"

Raphtalia?: "What is this child saying!"

Naofumi: "No you're not, I'm not yours. In fact you two belong to me."

As slaves.

Old Man: "Well, there're no suitable clothes for you today, just return later."

Naofumi?: "Ah, sorry for the disturbance"

Firo: "Thanks for the meal."

Old Man: "I'm always surprised by you, lad."

We left the weapons shop and walked towards the inn when Raphtalia says.

Raphtalia: "Ah, the slave.....Demon dealer called."

Naofumi: "Hm? Understood."

We returned to the tent, only to be welcomed by the slave trader.

Slave Trader: "Well, that was certainly a surprising development. Yup."

Naofumi: "Yeah."

Slave Trader: "Well, as it turns out, because of eye witness testimony, that is actually a Philorial Queen."

Naofumi: "Oh? You know about her?"

Slave Trader: "Yup. I think I understand, Hero of the Shield-sama."

What's with this slave trader's pretentious expression?

Slave Trader: "You don't understand?"

Naofumi: "Hurry and say it."

The slave trader pointed at Firo who is in her humanoid form, wearing nothing but a tattered mantle.

Slave Trader: "The Philorial Queen has advanced transformation abilities. Therefore, it changed itself into a normal Philorial to escape attention. At least that's our hypothesis."

No wonder... If I was in a similar circumstance, I'm sure I would decide to disguise myself too.

That's reasonable.

Slave Trader: "Iyahaha. As expected of the Hero of the Shield-sama, to be able to raise a Philorial Queen in such a short time. Yup."

Naofumi: "What?"

Slave Trader: "Did you raise a Philorial Queen, or is it a Philorial Queen because you raised it?"

I understand what the slave trader is saying. This fellow is trying to learn a method on how to produce Philorial Kings from me, and then mass producing.

It is classified as a considerably rare demon due to its transformation abilities. Although it stinks, the profits would be massive.

Naofumi: "Maybe that's just the power of the legendary shield hero."

I believed this was due to the power of Growth Correction. I couldn't explain how to do this naturally.

Slave Trader: "Then, can you tell me how you do it? For a price of course."

Naofumi: "That's not what I mean."

Slave Trader: "How about raising another Philorial, for free of course-"

Naofumi: "No thanks!"

My wallet won't last if there is another mouth to feed. The clothes for Firo won't be free either. If the expenses increase any more, it will be dangerous.

Slave Trader: "Ha~a..... Well, if you change your mind, please come and find me."

Naofumi: "We'll see."

Uah.....This slave trader's eyes are sparkling
I feel sick.

Naofumi: "This fellow ate meat from the boss of the last wave. I think the possibility of influence from that can't be ignored."

Well, this feels a little forced anyway.

But it is the truth that Firo ate chimera meat, so I'm not lying.

Slave Trader: "I see...Well, that's too bad then."

The slave trader withdraws reluctantly.

Slave Trader: "Anyway, I'll buy your Philorial any time. Yup"

Naofumi: "I'll decline if I can."

Slave Trader: "You can accumulate money easily."

Naofumi: "Well, if the need arises."

I am aware of the fact that I have become a miser.

Raphtalia: "Is your conversation over?"

Naofumi: "Yeah."

Naofumi?: "Let's go over there."

Firo?: "What?"

Firo entered the conversation with a question mark over her head.

Naofumi: "This is your treat."

Firo: "Master~ let's sleep together~"

Raphtalia: "I forbid it!"

Firo: "Not Fair! Raphtalia onee-chan monopolises Master."

Raphtalia: "I do not!"

You guys are noisy.

Naofumi: "Well then, Firo, go to the barn and sleep."

Firo: "No!"

I was refused by this bird easily.

Firo: "I want to sleep with Master~"

I am reminded of a child who wants to sleep with their parents...

Naofumi: "Well, it can't be helped."

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama!?"

Naofumi: "It's fine to be selfish to this degree, it's just sleeping together."

Raphtalia: "Well... Me too"

Raphtalia muttered words that I couldn't hear.

Naofumi: "But, you must not be naked in public!"

Firo: "Okay!"

Do you really understand? Oh well, it's fine. I hope that the old man from the weapon shop has something tomorrow.

I head back to the inn and pay the storekeeper for another night.

Hmm... Should I study or continue compounding? Well, at least Firo is in human form.

Firo: "Waa! A soft bed!"

I decided to sleep early today while watching Firo bounce around on the bed.

It's hot...

Why is it so hot!?

Naofumi: "Uu..."

My body can't move.

What is going on?

When I open my eyes fearfully, all I can see is white.

I seem to be wrapped in feathers.

Firo?: "Suu.....Suu....."

The bed breathes!

I slowly lift my head, It seems the bed I was sleeping on is Firo's true form.

Firo seems to have returned to her original form after falling asleep.

Without her knowing, she started holding me as a hugging pillow.

Naofumi: "Get up you fat bird!"

I told you not to return to your true form!

Firo: "Yan"

It seems this fellow's true form is able to speak now.

Raphtalia: "Wh-What's going on!"

Raphtalia who is half asleep shouts at me.

Naofumi: "Oh, Raphtalia, Help!"

This fellow isn't even getting up after I hit her. It is my fault for lacking any offensive abilities.

Raphtalia: "Get up Firo!"

Firo: "MunyaMunya.....Ma~ster~"

Firo rolls and flops onto the floor.

MishiMishiMishi.....

I heard an unpleasant creaking sound from the wooden floor. It seems to be at its limit.

Naofumi: "Get up!"

But there is no sign of Firo stirring while hugging me.

Raphtalia: "Get up!"

Raphtalia wrenches open Firo's arm which was hugging me
I was somehow able to escape through the gap.

Naofumi: "Fu..... What a terrible morning"

Firo: "Nnya?"

It seems when the sensation of hugging me was gone, Firo woke up.
Firo noticed Raphtalia and I glaring at her and tilts her neck.

Firo: "What happened?"

Naofumi: "First of all, change back to your human form."

Firo: "Eh? When did I change?"

Ku! I didn't want to do this but it can't be helped!

I choose the demon icon from the status magic and change the settings to whatever I say becoming absolute.

Any order cannot be disobeyed if I do this.

Naofumi: "Become a humanoid!"

I commanded Firo

Firo: "No... I want to sleep with Master more~"

The demon crest appears on Firo's abdomen because she went against my orders.

Firo?: "Eh?"

Naofumi: "If you don't listen it'll hurt."

The demon crest on Firo's body glows red.

Firo: "Yan"

A Geometric pattern appears on Firo's wing and moves towards the demon crest.

With a fizzle, the demon crest became silent again.

Naofumi: "Ha?"

I checked the demon icon. It seems the command for absolute obedience was removed.

I tried to apply it again but nothing happens.

This demon won't listen to a thing I say?

Shit! I bought a demon because I expected it to follow my orders.

Slave trader... Wash your neck because I'm coming for you.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 31 – Carrot and Stick

---

I marched straight to the Slave Trader's tent first thing in the morning.

"What are you doing here so early in the morning Hero-sama."

"Your Demon Seal was a sham! Depending on your response I might have my dangerous slave and demon here to go on a bit of a rampage, you see?"

"Firo is hungry. Can I do that later?"

"... If you keep up that behavior I'll turn you into breakfast instead."

The Demon Seal that was placed on Firo didn't work as intended. Not only that, the option couldn't even be checked.

"Hm? Now what do you mean about that?"

I then explained to the Slave Trader about what happened this morning. It sure was rough. We somehow got Firo to calm down and had her change to her human form and from there headed to the tent.

Raphtalia was hard enough, but Firo on top of that. Having to constantly stay on watch to make sure they don't do anything out of the ordinary was stressing indeed.

"It seems the Philo Rial Queen can undo a normal Demon Seal, yes."

"Elaborate?"

"You can't restrain a higher order demon with a normal Demon Seal. The grand prize of the lottery, the Kiryuu, must have a special Demon Seal engraved."

"So you're saying a normal Demon Seal won't work on this thing?"

"Yes."

This bastard Slave Trader is happily jotting down this new discovery into some pocket notebook.

"So, will you be giving me this special Demon Seal?"

"Good gracious! That is outside the realm of our free services, yes."

"What did you say."

"As you would expect, this is not a cheap process and doing so for free would place me in a rather difficult position. The costs are starting to weigh down too much on my end you see."

Damn, it looks like getting any more free services from him would be pretty hard from now on. Well I guess it can't be helped considering all the damage I did...

"How much is it?"

"As I look forward to Hero-sama's future prospects, I will be taking a huge loss and price it at 200 silver coins. How does that sound?"

Shieeeeet that's expensive.

"Could you please---"

"By the way, the market price for this kind of service is 800 silver coins at the cheapest. I would not lie about this as I have much hopes placed for Hero-sama."

Ack!

That was a heavy blow to my consciousness.

I accept my defeat and so very reluctantly hand over 200 silver coins to the Slave Trader.

".....If I find that you're lying I'll have my dangerous subordinates start a bloodbath you hear."

"I understand indeed."

Firo, who was in the form of the Philo Rial Queen and looking around restlessly, was taken in by Raphtalia who was holding Firo's enormous wings.

"Stay right there, Firo"

"Why-?"

"If you do I'll let you eat something real tasty."

"Really?"

"Yup."

With her eyes gleaming, I had Firo stand still at the place that the Slave Trader indicated.

Alright, if you're going to do your magic now is the time.

I gave the Slave Trader the signal. The Slave Trader nods his head as well, and 12 of his robed subordinates with their faces covered and invisible, surround Firo.

Then they poured some kind of medicine or other substance onto the floor, faced towards Firo and began chanting their spell.

The floor began to shine, and a magic circle started to unfold with Firo at the center.

"Eh, W-What's going on?"

Bam, Bam. Firo tried to put up a resistance, but was unable to do so as the magic circle enclosed in on her further.

"I, It huuuuurts! Stop-!"

Firo rampages about as she bears the pain from the Demon Seal's renewal, and each time she slams against it, the magic circle shakes.

Slave Trader's subordinates let out a gasp of shock.

"Just in case, I had extra followers restraining her with magic but... for her to be able to move under such pressure, I fear what she will eventually become, yes."

Now that I think about it, she's still only level 19. If she's already like this, how strong will she be when she's around Level 70? I nod to the Slave Traders words.

Finally, the magic circle is fully engraved onto Firo's abdomen and it becomes quiet.

"It's over, yes."

In my view there's a Demon icon that looks like it has higher level commands than the one before. I promptly check the option labeled with listen to everything I say.

"Hah... Hah..."

She heaves as she walks towards me.

"Master that was mean. It hurt so much-."

As I wonder if there was a wicked smile was plastered on my face, I command Firo.

"First of all, turn to your human form."

"Whaat? That hurt so much I don't wanna-. Give me something yummy to eat!"

Taking little heed to my command and demanding food as if she was taking me lightly, the Demon Seal on Firo began to glow [in response].

"Eh, no-! Wha, stopitstopit!"

Firo fired some kind of spell at the Demon Seal, but this time the seal repelled it and the curse activated.

"It hurts, it hurts, it hurts!"

Firo crumbles to the floor in pain from the Demon Seal.

"If you don't listen to what I say, it'll hurt even more."

"It hurts, it hurts! Uuu..."

She reluctantly turns to her human form. When she does so the Demon Seal stops glowing.

"Yup... looks like it worked properly this time. Good work Slave Trader."

"Indeed, it is quite a powerful seal, so it won't be so easily tampered with, yes."

I walk stand in front of the fallen Firo and announce:

"You yourself costed 100 silver coins, and following that your Demon Seal costed 200 silver coins. That's a total loss of 300 silver coins. You're going to have to pay me back that much by listening to what I say."

"M, Master-."

As Firo was having trouble getting up, I extend my hand.

It sends pangs to my consciousness having to say these kinds of things to a child who is so pure, but I want to at least [have the funds to] keep a roof over this self-indulgent kid.

"Listen to what I say."

"N, No-"

"I see, I see. If you really don't want to listen to what I say, then I'll just sell you off to this scary man over there"

"...!?"

Firo seems to have finally understood her position as her face warped in fear.

That Slave Trader, he's looking at me with some expression that's both troubled yet happy...

"How much would she sell for?"

"Let me see. She's rare, so dealing with her will be a bit difficult, but 30 gold coins sounds like a price I would buy her for if I include that cost. Since she has a powerful Demon Seal engraved on her, she won't be able to rebel anymore. I can see quite a few ways to use her, yes."

Damn Slave Trader, he deliberately lays down the price the moment after he says it'll be difficult to sell her.

I don't actually know for sure, but if I hand Firo over to him, her life will probably be over.

And now Firo is looking at me with upturned eyes looking absolutely terrified.

This is tough... My good conscious that I thought had vanished is rolling back in full force here.

However, depending on Firo's attitude, such a choice may really have to be made in the future.

If I can't be a nice onii-chan [in regards to Raph], then I can't be a doting pet owner either.

"And so he says. So the next time you go on a tantrum, I won't be there to pick you up anymore... You'll probably be forced to drink some biiitter medicine, then they'll poke around all- over your body, until finally... you die."

"N, Noooo----!"

Firo screams out in dissent.

“Master, please don’t hate Firo- …”

Firo earnestly begs as she clings to my leg.

Shit! This is hard…

But I can’t back down now.

“If you listen to me obediently then I won’t hate you. Make sure you listen, got that?”

“Y, Yeah!”

“Good. Then when we’re staying at the inn, absolutely do not turn back to your original form. That will be our first promise.”

“Okay!”

At Firo’s beaming smile, whatever remnants left of my good consciousness aches in pain.

Well then, I also have to head over to the Armorer today…

When I look away from Firo, I catch a glance at the Slave Trader who now has the most jubilant smile I’ve seen him have on to date.

“I’m getting a shiver down my spine at your magnificent display of fiendishness. You are most definitely the legendary shield hero!”

I have a feeling there’s something wrong about what he’s extolling me for…

But I’m not sure if I should voice a complaint here.

And beside me, Raphtalia had on a rather complicated expression.

"Naofumi-sama... That might have been a bit much..."

"If I don't do this, then she won't listen to what I say. It was the same for you in the beginning right."

Raphtalia nodded at my answer.

"Now that you mention it, that was the case wasn't it."

"There are some things we can let her indulge in, and some things that we can't."

I won't mention my true intents behind this [statement] though.

"Carrot and the stick I see, yes."

"Slave Trader, I wasn't talking to you."

And quit understanding my motives.

"I sure gave you quite a hard time."

"If that's how you feel, then please, I will prepare for you an easy to handle Philo Rial chick to raise and-"

"Well then, I have places I need to be today. So if you can let me go then."

"Being able to not get swallowed up by my pace, I have the utmost respect for Hero-sama's strong will, yes."

With the conversation ending on that note, we left the tent.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 32 – Reward (aka Riverside BBQ)

---

Firo is wearing my mantle as we head to the weapon shop.

Old Man: "Hey lad."

The old man waves as we approach.

Naofumi: "Did something happen?"

Old Man: "Yea. Wait a moment."

The old man closes the weapon shop and guides us.

We arrived at the magic shop where I received the magic book.

Magic Shop SK: "Oh my."

The aunt from the magic shop beams when she sees the old man.

Magic Shop SK: "Why don't you guys come in?"

Naofumi: "Right, Firo, don't change into your true form until I permit you to."

Firo: "Okay."

At the back of the magic shop, there was a workplace that smelled of nature.

We were guided to the workplace.

The ceiling was quite high, about 3m.

In the middle of the floor was a magic square with a crystal.

Magic Shop SK: "I'm sorry it's a little crowded because I'm working."

Naofumi: "No it's fine. Anyway, is there any clothing for children here?"

Old Man: "This aunty from the magic shop is an acquaintance that could help you."

Magic Shop SK: "That's right~"

She removed the crystal and puts an old design sewing machine on a pedestal.

Remember the bobbin machine? That one from Sleeping Beauty.

(TI note: <http://i.imgur.com/fsS6pIV.png> )

Magic Shop SK: "Is that child really a demon?"

Naofumi: "Yeah, let me take off the mantle first before she changes. Firo, return to your original form."

There should be enough room in here for her original form.

Firo: "Ok"

When I gave the command, Firo removed the mantle and returned to her original form.

Magic Shop SK: "Oh my, Oh dear"

The magic shop aunty looked up at Firo who returns to her Philorial Queen form in surprise.

Firo: "Is this all right?"

The scene is very strange to do Firo's voice contrasting with her body.

Even though this is a fantasy world, it's still weird...

I looked towards Raphtalia

Raphtalia: "What is it?"

Naofumi: "Nothing"

That reminds me, Raphtalia is also a Demi-human.

Now that I think about it, in the past when I could feel something like romance, I might have been be very excited, it seems Motoyasu is the same, though that's in the past.

Magic Shop SK: "So what clothes do you need?"

Naofumi: "Can you make something that won't break when it transforms?"

Magic Shop SK: "Strictly speaking, I'm not sure I can make clothes."

Naofumi: "What!?"

Magic Shop SK: "Hero-sama, what do you see?"

Naofumi: "Magic shop... And a witch."

Magic Shop SK: "That's right. I only have some knowledge on transformation."

Though I don't really understand the common sense of this world... I know that witches can transform into animals.

Magic Shop SK: "Oh my, it takes a great amount of magical power and a very troublesome procedure to transform yourself into an animal. Wouldn't it be bothersome to put on clothes every time you transformed?"

Hm? So it seems it is possible for witches to transform.

The aunty answered while working on the bobbin.

By appearances alone it resembles a sewing machine from my world.

Magic Shop SK: "Staying in her true form at home is fine, but if she transforms in a crowded place, it would be pretty serious."

Naofumi: "Yeah, that's right."

Clothes are my main concern. Walking around naked would stand out.

Magic Shop SK: "Therefore, it would be best if the clothes could be stored safely when transformed and re-equipped when reverting"

Naofumi: "I see."

True, if the clothes just disappear after transforming, the problem would be solved.

Magic Shop SK: "It's a technique passed down by demon category of Demi-humans. A famous one is a vampire's mantle."

Yeah, like when they transformed into bats or wolves. That is in this world too?

Magic Shop SK: "Well, this bobbin machine makes the materials for those clothes."

Naofumi: "Interesting... What do the clothes transform to?"

Magic Shop SK: "Strictly speaking, what are clothes? Something visible to others, correct?"

I tilted my neck and gave the aunty of the magic shop a puzzled look.
What does that mean?

Magic Shop SK: "What I mean is, this item can transform thread to magical power and magical power to threads. Therefore, the user can change a thread to magical power at any time."

Magic Shop SK: "To put it simply, the user can change the thread to magical power and vice-versa."

Naofumi: "Oh, I understand."

Now I understand why the old man from the weapon shop brought us here. It'll certainly be weird to call these clothes. When not in human form the magical power circulates the body, and takes shape once back to human form.

Magic Shop SK: "This is Firo-chan right? Turn the wheel on this slowly."

Firo: "Ok"

Firo begins to slowly turn the wheel on the bobbin machine.

A thread comes out immediately and the aunty wraps it around a spool. Then, thread starts to gather on the spool.

Naofumi?: "Hmm? It feels weaker."

Magic Shop SK: "This changes magical power to threads. It should be tiring, but I just need a little more to make clothes."

Naofumi: "Hmm... Interesting."

Firo is still a child who is barely one week old.

Firo looks tired while spinning the machine.

Naofumi: "Endure it, I'll promise you something."

Firo: "Food? Delicious food?"

Naofumi: "Yeah"

I am a man who keeps his promises. I'll let you eat your fill of delicious food later, Firo.

Firo: "I'll do my best!"

Firo begins to energetically turn the bobbin machine.

Firo: "Yay, I'll do my best!"

The aunty seemed surprised at the speed.

Naofumi: "Old man, I owe you a meal. Are you free after this?"

Old Man: "I left a note at the shop explaining I'll be closed till early afternoon. What're you going to treat me to, lad?"

Naofumi: "How about this, can you prepare a big iron plate?"

Old Man: "What're you going to use that for?"

Naofumi: "I'm going to cook."

Old Man: "The lad's home cooking? I was expecting something different."

Naofumi: "What was that?"

I am slightly offended by the old man's disappointed expression.

Old Man: "Oh well, what did I expect."

Naofumi: "Raphtalia, go to the market to get meat, vegetables, and charcoal. Firo can eat enough for 5 people."

Raphtalia: "Understood"

I handed some silver coins to Raphtalia to go shopping.

Firo: "Food~ Food~"

Firo is in high spirits while spinning the bobbin machine.

Magic Shop SK: "That's enough. You can stop spinning now."

After awhile aunty told her to stop.

Firo: "Will there be more food if I turn it more?"

Naofumi: "No. you can stop."

Firo: "Yay~"

Firo returned to her original form.

Firo: "Master~ food~"

Naofumi: "Hold on a bit."

Firo: "Eh-..."

Firo sounded very disappointed. Raphtalia hasn't returned yet, so there is no food.

Naofumi: "When we leave the shop, return to your humanoid form."

Firo: "Ok"

Do you really understand?

Magic Shop SK: "You can use this to make your clothes."

The magic shop aunty shows us the thread.

Old Man?: "I'll go ask someone who knows how to weave this."

Naofumi: "I have high hopes for that fellow. Firo, let's go."

Magic Shop SK?: "What should I tell the young lady who went shopping?"

Naofumi: "Tell her we'll be waiting at the gate that leaves castle town."

Magic Shop SK?: "Understood."

Following the old man from the weapon shop, we left the magic shop.

Magic Shop SK: "As for the fee, I'll be sending it to the weapon shop~"

Naofumi: "How much would that be...?"

I asked a little anxiously.

Magic Shop SK: "Making the magic string? Because the crystal is expensive, I'll charge Hero-sama 50 silver."

Damn! Firo is expensive.

In the future, we need to be careful with clothes, it's like wearing money.
We head to the weaver with the thread.

Weaver: "This is some unusual material, I could do a lot with this. Go to the dressing room and measure your size. I should be able to complete the dress tonight. You can pick it up later."

We went straight to the dressing room.
Although there is only a mantle, it still took a while.

Sales Clerk: "Wow..... that's a very cute child."

The sales clerk is a girl with glasses and a scarf.
She seems a little plain. By that, I mean she looks like the kind of girl from my world who would write doujinshis.

Sales Clerk: "Her wings are just like an angel. She seems similar to a Demi-human... I'll work on your order now."

Naofumi: "Is that so?"

The old man puts a hand on my shoulder.

Old Man: "There are Demi-humans who have hands or feet that resemble birds. But this child only seems to have wings, so it's pretty great."

Firo: "Hm~?"

Firo tilted her neck while looking up at the sales clerk.

Naofumi: "Yeah... This fellow is a demon that can transform into a humanoid. When she reverts to her true form, her clothes break."

Sales Clerk: "Interesting..... So that's why you need clothes made from magical power."

Her glasses gave off a dangerous light.

As I thought, this girl reminds me of an Otaku.

I feel a little nostalgic because I had an acquaintance selling doujinshis within a circle.

She would often give me admission tickets for the circle and was quite friendly.

Sigh... There's no such thing in a different world.

Sales Clerk: "This material is perfect for a one piece dress, It will be unaffected as well since it'll just turn to magic."

Naofumi: "Eh? Uh sure?"

Firo is measured again after she puts on her mantle and then the clerk starts designing something.

Sales Clerk: "I want to see her true form!"

Firo looked at me with a troubled face. I gulp and looked around.

Naofumi: "It seems to just barely fit here."

Firo's changed form will just barely fit under the ceiling less than 2m.

Sales Clerk?: "Can you sit down?"

Sales Clerk?: "Yea, that's good."

Firo changed back to her demon form while paying attention to the ceiling, and stared at the girl.

Sales Clerk: "Oh-... This gap is good!"

Not even being shaken by Firo's true form... This dressmaker can do it!
As expected of a character who sells doujins. I'm glad this is a different world.

Sales Clerk: "I'll bet a ribbon will suit her."

Firo's neck size is measured by the dressmaker and she begins to design clothes again.

Sales Clerk: "Well I'm going to wait for materials to arrive!"

She seems excited while answering.

Old Man?: "This fellow is a good craftsman."

Naofumi: "I guess..."

She is the type to be absorbed in her work and will accomplish it by all means.

Old Man?: "Well, it will be completed tomorrow."

Naofumi: "That's fast. How much is this going to cost in total?"

Old Man?: "I recommended you to this place so it should be around 100 silver pieces."

Ugh... I received a shock.

Naofumi: "Firo, do you understand? I spent a large sum of 400 pieces of silver on you. I expect you to work diligently."

Firo: "Okay!"

Do you really understand? We left the shop with Firo in her human form. We joined up with Raphtalia, who was waiting at the gate of the castle town.

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama, I bought the ingredients you asked for."

Naofumi: "Firo costs 400 pieces of silver. Raphtalia was cheaper."

Raphtalia: "Please don't say it like I'm a cheap woman!"

Sigh... Is this going to be okay?

Naofumi: "Alright, old man, bring the iron plate. Firo, get a cart and carry it from the weapon shop."

Firo: "Ok!"

Old Man: "Alright..."

Firo left with the old man for the weapon shop and came back pulling a cart.

Why is she pulling it in her human form?

An iron plate within the size I was imagining was within the cart.

Naofumi: "Alright, let's leave the castle town and go to the riverbank near the grassy plains."

We arrived at the riverbank.

I took out the iron plate, put it on a griddle and immediately put charcoal under it.

Naofumi: "Raphtalia and Old man, take care of the fire."

Old Man: "Yeah yeah."

Raphtalia: "Okay"

As expected of the old man of a weapon shop, it seems managing fire is his forte.

Firo: "What about Firo?"

Naofumi: "Stand watch so that balloons don't approach us..."

Firo: "Okay~!"

I told Firo to do something else because she would likely fail doing anything here.

I cut the meat and vegetables that Raphtalia brought into appropriate sizes and put it near the grill.

Old Man: "Lad, the charcoal is ready"

Naofumi: "Yeah"

Raphtalia and the old man heated the plate as per my instructions, so I put the fatty meat onto the grill for the oil.

Then I spread out the vegetables and meat so they aren't directly on top of the fire.

Old Man: "You sure are skilful"

I used a stick and a knife to turn the meat and vegetables so they don't burn.

Naofumi: "Well, this should be fine."

Yup. Today's lunch is a barbecue by the riverbank. Firo's reward.

Naofumi: "Firo, it's ready."

Firo: "Okay~"

Firo was already drooling from the smell when she took the skewer I handed her.

Firo: "Yaay~! This is delicious!"

Firo starts throwing meat and vegetables that were just cooked into her mouth.

Naofumi: "Hey don't eat everything, this is for everyone."

Firo: "Mfkay~"

Firo nodded while stuffing her mouth.

Do you really understand?

Naofumi: "Let's eat I guess..."

Raphtalia: "Okay"

Old Man: "Sure"

I distributed the meat and vegetables onto some leaves and hand it
Raphtalia and the old man.

Old Man: "Oh this is delicious. I'm surprised grilled meat tastes so good."

Raphtalia: "For some reason, this dish that Naofumi-sama makes is strangely delicious."

Naofumi: "I'll take that as a compliment"

Old Man: "I'm not flattering you. Why does it taste so good?"

The old man looked at his plate with a puzzled expression.

Naofumi: "It's probably the result of the cooking skill from my shield."

Old Man: "The power of the shield?"

Naofumi: "Well, at least I think so."

From the corner of my sight I see, Barbeque is now available. Quality: Good
-> Great quality.

To think that such a strange icon would exist.

Old Man: "That's such a mysterious shield. I'm quite envious."

Naofumi: "I can't take it off so it's quite inconvenient."

Not to mention the non-existent offensive power.

Oh right, there was the special effect from the Bee Needle Shield that I can counter attack enemies with called [Shield of the Needle].

Although the enemy would have escaped before I beat it, unless it's slow like a balloon.

As expected, even if the demon runs away, I'm at a disadvantage.

Sometimes, a smart monster would ignore me and aim for Raphtalia.

Old Man: "Haven't you become quite strong?"

Naofumi: "I don't know... Compared to the other heroes..."

Old Man: "Is that so, are the legendary weapons that powerful?"

Naofumi: "That's right, I learned from experience."

Old Man: "I see"

Naofumi: "Then-"

Because skills could be acquired in various ways, the power of a legendary weapon is way above average.

Moreover, accumulating status improvements whenever a shield is unsealed is good.

There are a bunch of conditions that unseal new shields, such as absorbing monsters and other materials, levelling up and the skill tree.

Besides, any exclusive effects any shield that was released gives permanent bonuses.

Even a weak shield could be helpful if I unseal it.

Due to the Equipment bonuses carrying over, the more shields I unseal, the stronger the skills I use.

I can see how many bonus stats I got. My stats in general are higher than Raphtalia's. Maybe it's because I'm a hero.

Especially in the aspect of defence. I have 3 times more and that's not including the permanent bonuses from unsealing other shields.

Because I originally never attack, all the gear went to Raphtalia. After all, the potential ability as a Hero of the shield is in defence. The price for that is 1/10th of ATK.

The difference between a resident of this world and a hero would be from any effects granted by this shield.

Otherwise, I can never beat a monster with just defence.

After all, the only reason a hero is different from a normal person was because of the legendary weapon. It could be considered that you are only a hero because you have the legendary weapon.

I hate it, but I am only a hero because of this shield.

It seems there is an influence from being the companion of a hero.

Raphtalia is superior to normal Demi-humans because of the ability from Slave trainer Shield and Firo's abilities are on par with her despite the level difference.

I don't know how much effect Growth Correction had, but it seems to be quite large.

The effects of Slave Trainer Shield and Demon Trainer Shield are good. I wonder what effects Friend Shield would have, if that even exists.

It seems the existences called companions are essential for a hero.

Friend huh..... an existence I don't have.

Old Man: "I see... It seems heroes really are different from us commoners."

Naofumi: "That seems to be the case."

Travelling around the world, absorbing various demons and materials to grow stronger.

Honestly, there's just so much more to examine.

I don't understand how much I can improve the shield.

But if I don't do anything, the wave of disaster will strike.

I don't know how many times it will come either.

It's been twice already. Maybe 5 times, 10 times, or even 100 times, I don't know.

Whatever it is, I can't just sit around and do nothing.

That reminds me...There seems to be a worrisome shield called Curse Series.

At that time when I almost lost Raphtalia, the Curse series was released and started eroding the shield.

I've looked for that skill tree many times.

However, I can't find it no matter how hard I look.

I'll try asking for help.

Curse Series

I hesitated to ask.

I only type in that sentence. Besides, I checked many times. I feel a shock and the letters change.

Curse Series

Armour that grants power and consumes the user. Hero! Do not use it.

Therefore, I decided to stay away from this topic.

When I need it, the power will appear. This shield seems to have many limitations.

Firo: "Master~ there's no more meat"

Naofumi: "What!"

When I look there is no more meat. Everyone has already finished eating the stuff I prepared.

All that's left are vegetables.

Firo: "Is it already over? Firo still wants to eat more."

Naofumi: "Uhhh, well... Go to the forest and catch 5 Usapiru. I'll cook those too."

Firo: "Okay~!"

Firo rushed to the forest at full speed.

Old Man: "Oh man, that was delicious. Totally worth it."

Naofumi: "If you think that, then discount the price of clothes."

Old Man: "Lad, there's already a heavy discount, it'll be a large loss if I discount any more."

Oh well, we barbecued next to the riverbank till evening and then called it a day.

By the way, Firo caught 10 Usapiru.

I barely had time to eat. Mostly managing the barbecue and dismantling Usapiru to roast.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 33 - Peddling

---

The next day, that childish otaku greeted us with a smile when we enter the dress shop.

"Yes, it's here. The clothes have been made. It took me all night."

The tired dressmaker was ready to split, her eyes giving a tension-filled, red-eyed stare. She then brought Firo's clothes from the back of the shop.
[TL note: "red-eyed gaze" is placement for "gingin" which describes a tired stare with red eyes]

The dress's colour is mainly white. The colour blue contrasts it in some areas and decorating the middle is a large ribbon of the same hue. It can be seen as rustic and old-styled, but it's very beautiful all the same.

Firo: "Master, I'm going to wear this?"

[Edt: I changed "Goshujin-sama" to "Master" since "Master" is commonly used ltr.]

Naofumi: "Yeah."

Firo: "Yay!"

Firo, who had worn a cloak to cover herself until now, became nude on the spot.

Raphtalia: "Firo, no!"

Firo: "Eh--"

With Raphtalia urging her to stop, I guided them both to the back of the shop.

I was waiting for you to come get dressed in here...

Sales Clerk: "Alright, change into your demon form."

[Weaver=Sales Clerk= Dressmaker, for standardisation, I'll be using Sales Clerk]

I could hear the dressmaker's voice from the depths of the store.

Firo: "Why~?"

Sales Clerk: "If you wear this ribbon, I'll give you meat."

Firo: "Yay!"

Don't just casually say something so terrifying.

Firo: "Understood~"

I could hear the transformation sounds.

Sales Clerk: "Yup. As I thought you look good..."

I could hear an enchanted voice.

Sales Clerk?: "Alright, let's go."

Firo: "Ok!"

The two girls appeared from the back of the store.

My eyes turned towards Firo.

Alright, her figure which was already angel-like is even more stunning.

Pure white wings, matching the white one piece... And a blue ribbon on her chest. What was it?

Right, she looks like an angel heroine from the 2-D world.

Firo: "Master~?"

Naofumi: "Hm?"

Firo: "Well? Does it suit me?"

Naofumi: "Yea, it suits you."

This otaku dressmaker is able to take full advantage of Firo's specs and make suitable clothing for her. Her talent is quite outstanding.

Firo: "Ehehe"

An embarrass Firo laughs while her clothes flutter.

Seriously, what a terrible expenditure.

I let Firo pull the cart while we head back to Forest village.

When Firo changes to her demon form, the clothes dispensary and the ribbon turns into a collar.

[Do you mean "disperse" when you used "dispensary"? I googled the meaning, so it doesn't seems to fit in there.]

That function is very convenient.

Magic Shop SK: "Oh, it's Hero of the Shield-sama"

Before we leave the castle town, we coincidentally meet with the aunty from the magic shop.

Magic Shop SK: "Are you heading to Forest village?"

Naofumi: "Yeah"

Magic Shop SK: "I happen to have some business there too. May I tag along?"

The aunty from the magic shop asked with a smile.

Oh well, I don't really want to decline her since she has helped us out with various things.

Naofumi: "I don't guarantee it being comfortable, is that fine?"

Magic Shop SK: "Yeah"

Raphtalia looks ahead and already starts fighting against motion sickness.

Magic Shop SK: "Well then, let's get going."

The magic shop aunty gets on the cart.

Naofumi: "Good, Firo. Don't go too fast."

Firo: "Okay~"

The pedestrians who pass by look at Firo with surprise. Talking demons are probably rare.

The cart rolls along with a pitter-patter.

I feel that in these past few days, I have been really busy.

Actually, I'm usually busy, it's just that recently have been especially busy.

The whole situation could be summed up with Firo...

Magic Shop SK: "So, how's your study of magic going?"

Naofumi: "Uh..."

The magic shop aunty attacks where it hurts.

To be frank, I made no progress at all.

Should I retort with a "you should have given me a crystal ball"? No, she helped procure the threads to make Firo's clothes at a discount, I can't complain.

Naofumi: "Because I am from another world, I can't read these letters."

Magic Shop SK: "Oh... I'm sorry."

I felt bad to seeing her apologise. I lament at my insufficient studying.

I was defeated.

I repaid a good intention with bad feelings.

Therefore, I want to repay aunty for the help.

I must learn it as fast as possible.

I don't have any support, unlike the other fucking heroes. That's why I have to do my best to learn.

Also, I need to acquire better equipments to survive the next wave.

Let's not forget about translating the medical recipes either.

Though it would take a lot of time, I decided to learn the letters first.

Firo: "Fuua... it's light"

Firo was yawning while pulling the cart steadily.

You're calling a cart with 3 people light?

That's great. I already have a certain plan. This can't be done without Firo.

The aunty from the magic shop gives me 25 coppers when we arrive at Forest Village.

Naofumi: "What's this for?"

Magic Shop SK: "Transportation fee"

Naofumi: "Oh I see."

I can use this.

Forest village is reviving nicely. A storekeeper welcomes us pleasantly.

I have already apologised for the chimera meat.

Although keeping that meat there was my idea in the first place.

Naofumi: "Now then, Raphtalia, let's go on some motion sickness training."

I promised to help with the reconstruction to compensate for the meat.
Although it's only a little I still get some compensation.

Raphtalia: "Eh!?"

Raphtalia has a bitter face. Oh dear, it's not good if you can't overcome something like this.

Naofumi: "From now on, our transportation is Firo pulling the cart, so you must get used to it."

Raphtalia: "O-Okay"

Firo: "Okay~!"

Naofumi: "Firo, you're pulling."

Firo: "Yup!"

Philorials really like pulling carts. Firo's eye shines.

Raphtalia: "Uhm.....Are you thinking of something?"

Naofumi: "Yeah, I think we should start peddling."

Raphtalia: "Peddling? Why?"

Naofumi: "Although we don't have a lot of goods, I want to stock up on an assortment of medicine."

Raphtalia: "Sigh....."

Raphtalia doesn't seem to see the appeal. Oh dear, do I have too high expectations? However, to have such a precious cart, it's a waste not to make full use of it.

Naofumi: "Though when you get used to the motion sickness, Firo can pull the cart everywhere at maximum speed."

Raphtalia: "I understand the reason..."

Naofumi: "I know a place that would make it hard to get drunk. You should get accustomed there."

Raphtalia: "Is there really such a place?"

Naofumi: "Yeah"

Before starting the today, we head to the place where it is hard to get drunk. I told Raphtalia to get on Firo.

(TL note: I have no fucking idea with the drunk. 俺はラフタリアを酔いにくい場所 help.)

Firo: "I'm fine with master, but why is Onee-chan on my back?"

Firo muttered as Raphtalia gets on her back.

Raphtalia: "It's the same for me. This is embarrassing."

It's a strange sight to see Raphtalia in a semi-crouching position on top of Firo's owl shaped body.

Naofumi: "Is it hard?"

Firo: "Nope, this is easy."

Firo seems to have no problems at all.

Naofumi: "Well then, let's go."

Firo: "Ok!"

Firo pulls the cart with Raphtalia on her back.

Her weight shouldn't be too heavy.

I began decoding the book of Intermediate recipes while learning the letters.

Rumble...

Rumble.....

It is difficult to concentrate with the sound of a wheel as background music.

Raphtalia: "Uhhh..."

Rumble.....

Raphtalia: "Uh-Uhhh..."

Hm?

I looked at Firo and see her in human form piggybacking Raphtalia.

Raphtalia seems troubled and tried to get my attention while the passers-by whisper and point at us.

Naofumi: "A strange rumour is going to circulate!"

My reputation is going to drop again because there is going to be a rumour that I forced a slave girl to do manual labour by pulling a cart and carrying another person.

Naofumi?: "Well..."

Naofumi: "When you pull a cart, do not turn into a humanoid."

Firo: "Okay"

Firo nods and seemingly dissatisfied returns to her demon form.

I'm getting bored. Raphtalia doesn't seem to have motion sickness yet.

It will probably be okay if we go faster.

Naofumi: "Alright, Speed up!"

Firo: "Okay~!"

Firo nods energetically and begins running.

GaraGaraGara!

The wheels on the cart turn noisily.

Raphtalia: "Wa!"

Raphtalia was surprised and clings to Firo.

At least, we will arrive at our destination today.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 34 – Journey on Carriage

---

Hmmm...

“Uuu... Did we make it?”

As we’ve arrived at our destination, I take a look at Raphtalia who looks like she’s just about to collapse and I let out a bit of a woeful groan.

It didn’t look like she was having trouble earlier, but it looks like having Firo run amok may have been too much.

“We’ve made it to the hut?”

Looks like Firo didn’t have enough as even after she stopped pulling the wagon she was letting her legs loose and frolicking about.

Raphtalia looked dreadful as she staggered on her feet.

“Well, let’s load up the lumber now.”

I aided the lumberjack who came out of the hut in loading the lumber onto the wagon.

I also helped out a bit in cutting down some trees. Thanks to my [shield] skill, the quality of the lumber was raised.

While I did that, I had Raphtalia continue her riding training. On a side note I got a reaction from the lumber so I let [the shield] absorb it.

The requirements for the Kino Tree shield have been unlocked.

The requirements for the Les Tree shield have been unlocked.

Kino Tree Shield

Ability remains locked... Equip bonus – Woodworking Skill I

Les Tree Shield

Ability remains locked... Equip bonus – Low Level Wood Working Recipe

It's the Wood Shield branch. These two trees seem to be the most common types used for woodworking. The Kino trees are like the Hinoki (Japanese cypress) from my world but with a bit of an aromatic fragrance. The Les trees sort of resemble the Sugi (Japanese cedar), but the grain of the cut tree seems to differ depending on the location. It's a bit of an odd tree.

Well, not like that matters too much.

A few days later.

Pound, pound, pound.

With a wooden mallet in hand, I work vigorously in modifying our wagon into a full horse-drawn carriage.

It seems my skill has improved considerably which I suspect is due to the Woodworking Skill I I unlocked the other day.

I begin to affix a frame on top of our wagon. After that I'll need to cover the top with some thick cloth.

The Ryuuto village reconstruction is proceeding swimmingly, and it looks like they'll be fine without our help now.

The villagers noticed I was working on upgrading my wagon into a carriage and even lent a hand.

"Alright, this seems to be pretty ok."

"Looks like it's done."

I, along with the few villagers that helped me out, let out a bit of a cheer upon finishing the carriage.

It's a horse-drawn carriage, but the one pulling it will be a Philo Rial... Well, whatever.

"Thanks for helping me everyone."

"It's no problem at all. Hero-sama has helped us out so much, this is the least we can do."

The villagers all helped me out with kind smiles.

[They're treating me kindly as] I've saved their lives, but I can't spoil myself by staying here. Still, I'm honestly grateful to the people here.

"I'm glad you feel that way."

"You'll be peddling goods you said?"

"I'll mostly be a guy that does odd jobs. Traveling from village to village, town to town carrying transporting goods, selling whatever commodities I come across, escorting people."

"I see..."

Yeah, the villagers don't seem to really get what I mean.

Well it's true that it's not typical hero behavior like what Motoyasu would do.

It's not like I've envisioned a clear cut path to success here, but I've got Firo now, and it only makes sense to make the most out of her.

"Hm? Woah... The wagon turned into a carriage-."

Firo, who was in her human form and playing about, had a look of surprise as she notices how large the wagon has grown.

"Is Firo going to be pulling this?"

Firo asks, her eyes positively glimmering.

"Yeah, that's right. From now on you'll be pulling this carriage as we travel all over the country."

"Really!?"

Firo cheers, brimming with happiness.

Man if it were me I'd absolutely object to doing so much manual labor...

"Are we really going to."

Raphtalia mutters dejectedly.

It seems Raphtalia doesn't sound very enthusiastic about our journey on the carriage as she has yet to completely get over her motion sickness.

"You'll get over it eventually. Just bear it until then."

"Fine."

I face Firo and go over this multiple times.

"Firo, what is your job?"

"Uhhh, Firo's job is to pull the carriage to wherever master wants to go."

"Right."

"And to kick that spear guy if I ever see him."

"Correct."

"One of those is wrong! Just what are you making her do?"

Raphtalia objects to my words in bewilderment.

"What... You're looking at me as if I said something crazy."

If you see Motoyasu, kick him. I see nothing wrong here.

Seriously, I'll get nowhere if I have to micromanage each one of them so much.

"Alright then, we're off to peddle our goods. I'll be hiding myself in the carriage. Raphtalia, whenever we hit a village or a town, try to sell what we've got.

"Okay... I will."

Outside of Ryuuto village, I still have a pretty bad reputation. So if I were to come out and try to negotiate, things might go awry and I won't be able to sell a thing.

That's why I've appointed Raphtalia with the task of selling and haggling our wares.

She has a fairly attractive appearance and is not particularly shy either. She might be pretty well suited to jobs handling clients.

"Well, let's head out."

Our preparations complete, we load up the carriage with our baggage and have Firo draw us.

"Ah, Hero-sama"

"Hm? What is it?"

Within the mass of villagers seeing us off, a man stepped forward in front me and was dressed several notches above everyone else.

"I am the lord who is in charge of the area in which Ryuuto village resides. Shield Hero-sama, I thank you for everything you have done."

"Don't worry about it. This was just a nice place for me to set up a base.

"...Please, take this."

The lord says that as he hands me a sheet of parchment.

"This is?"

"As you'll be selling goods, I'm sure this will be useful. It's a Commerce Amnesty."

"A Commerce Amnesty?"

"Yes. In this country, if you sell goods, at each and every village or town you visit you must pay a fixed amount to that region's lord."

… Is that so. Well, if I just flaunt my authority as a hero then… Nah, since I have such a shitty reputation, that'll probably just backfire.

“But that’s when you can present this Commerce Amnesty with my stamp on it. If you have this then you’ll be exempt from paying the region’s lord. I hope you will find this useful.”

“Uhhh… Is it really ok?”

“Yes. I won’t be able to face my people if I don’t present to Hero-sama proper remuneration for the services he has done.”

Now that I think about it, this is the agricultural sector of the Merlot Mark region. It’s a place that gets quite a bit of traffic, so the lord of the region must have the same degree of influence and dignity to match its affluence. It must’ve been brought to his attention by the villagers that I minimized the possible damage that could’ve occurred to Ryuuto village during the wave. With my bad reputation spread about, the king would scorn [any nobles] that would assist me. So for his villagers he’ll force himself to bear such humiliation… But instead what faced me was a cheerful smile.

“… I give this to you out of concern that your poor reputation may detriment your future business.”

He’s giving it to me with purely good intentions. Then I can respond with honest gratitude.

“Thank you. I’ll make use of it.”

“May you have a safe journey.”

“…Yeah, I’ll be off.”

"If there's anything we can do you aid you Hero-sama, please allow us to help."

"If you guys can just live long and prosper, that'll be plenty."

"Of course!"

And with that our journey as a jack-of-all-trades doing odd jobs began.

At first we began with selling medicine.

We didn't have much, but we were able to sell it below the market price.

Our main items were remedies and nutritional supplements. These specifically I was able to make in higher level quality and we were able to sell it for a fairly high price.

And whenever we stopped by a village I would buy the medicinal herbs that I knew about and synthesize them into medicine on the road.

Firo was quite fast, so most of the time we made it to the next village within a day, but on some occasions we have to camp out.

When that happens we stop the carriage, set up a campfire and have dinner.

"Master! The space next to Firo is open! Let's sleep together!"

Pat, pat, in her Demon Form Firo signals to me to sit beside her.

"It's way too stuffy being next to you..."

It seems Firo really wants to sleep next to me. At an inn, I've ordered Firo to never change to her Demon form, so when we camp outside like this she indulges herself a bit more.

Well, if we're camping outside there's no one around so there won't be any trouble. I guess it's fine to let her off the hook a bit every now and then...

"Firo, you really do like Naofumi-sama don't you."

"Yup! I won't lose to you Raphtalia onee-chan."

"How did you end up with that!"

Whenever Raphtalia and Firo argue, it's in some fine line where I can't tell whether they're on good terms or bad terms.

Firo is still a kid, so she can throw a tantrum at just about anything.

Oh wait, Raphtalia is also actually a kid herself isn't she. So mentally they're about the same age.

"Yes, yes. Hurry up and sleep you two. I'll wake you up when it's time to switch- ."

"Ahh- you're treating Firo like a kid again-!"

"That's right! Please stop treating me like a child!"

"Oh that's right-! Raphtalia and Firo are both grown ups aren't they-!"

"You don't think so at all!"

"Yeah! Master you're so meeean!"

And with silly conversations like that, our days of peddling continue.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 35 – Rumours of Our Hero

---

Naofumi: "Hm?"

About an hour before arriving at the next village, I heard a strange sound while working in the carriage.

There are wheezing sounds coming from a carriage next to ours. When I look outside, I saw a man with an impatient expression on his face, holding onto a bag.

Naofumi: "What's the rush?"

The key to being proficient in business is the ability to act curious.

Naofumi: "Hey, you over there, what's wrong?"

Villager: "I need to return to the village on the other side of the mountain quickly."

Naofumi: "Why are you in such a rush to return to the village over there?"

The man wanted to buy medicine for his parents but Firo ran past him.

Villager: "Yes, every second counts."

I understand the circumstances of this man who caught up to my carriage. Hmm...The cost of getting to the other side of the mountain should be around 50 coppers.

Naofumi: "Firo, how fast can you get there if you go at top speed?"

Firo: "Uhhh, let's see... If I were to run without pulling the carriage we would arrive quickly."

Naofumi: "Understood."

I glanced at Raphtalia who read my mind and nodded.

Naofumi: "I'll take you there for 1 silver is that fine?"

Villager: "Eh!?"

The man has a shocked expression.

Villager: "I just bought medicine, I don't have any more money..."

Naofumi: "One silver is already cheap you know? You can repay me with medical herbs when we get there. That's my final offer."

Villager: "In that case....."

Naofumi: "Alright it's done. Firo!"

Firo: "Okay~!"

Firo leaves the carriage on the side of the road and turns around.

I pick up the man and put him in the wagon on Firo's back.

Villager: "Uwah!"

Firo carries the wagon with both hands and dashed at full speed.

Raphtalia is waving away from the carriage.

Firo: "I'm leaving!"

Villager?: "Oh!"

Dotadotadota!

When Firo runs seriously, she is two times faster than an average Philorial.
We arrived at the man's house in the village across a mountain in no time.

Villager: "What frightening speed....."

Naofumi: "Don't you need to give your parent the medicine? Don't drop it."

Villager: "Oh, right!"

The man enters the house. I enter after him as I have yet to receive my compensation.

It is a very normal house in a farming village.

I heard coughing sounds as I stepped inside.

Villager: "Mom, I brought medicine. Endure it and drink."

As I walked towards the voice, I saw a pale old woman who looks as if she is about to die at any time.

What medicine is that, the effects seem greater than any I know.

Hm...

Naofumi: "Hey. Before you let her drink it, boil it in hot water first."

Villager: "Is that ok?"

Naofumi: "Pass me the medicine"

I received the medicine from the man and fed it to the old woman while rubbing her back.

The skill Medical effect Up seems to be working.

Old woman: "Cough..... Cough....."

The old woman somehow managed to finish the medicine.

In my eyes, I can see some light scattering.

Apparently it was pretty effective.

The old woman's condition seems to have improved by leaps and bounds.
Some redness returned to her complexion and her coughing has decreased.

Naofumi: "You should rest for a while. Your son will bring you food immediately."

The old woman looks up at me while trembling.

Naofumi: "Now then."

I leave for the kitchen where the man is.

Villager : "Oh, did she drink it properly?"

Naofumi: "Yeah, her condition seems to have stabilised as well."

The man's shoulders sag in relief at my answer.

Naofumi: "You can pay me later."

Villager: "Okay"

I leave the house and head to where Firo is waiting.

Before we leave the village, the man's expression becomes tense.

Villager: "Um..."

Naofumi: "What's up?"

I answered the man while packing up peddling goods.

Villager: "Because of you, mother's complexion has improved remarkably."

Naofumi: "It's not necessary for you to thank me."

I have a bad reputation, so if people hear this, they will be doubtful.

Villager: "At least tell me your name."

Naofumi: "I have no reason to tell you. The medicine did all the work. Now, bring a silver piece or some suitable herbs."

Villager: "O-okay!"

The man brought some items and some food from his house and gave it to me.

Naofumi: "Thanks, best regards and see you later."

Villager: "Thank you very much!"

The man seems to be a lot more cheerful.

As a side note, on my next visit, the old woman seems to have become very energetic... Maybe a little bit too energetic for an old woman.

I got back on the wagon as we return and begin compounding medicine while translating the intermediate recipe book.

The intermediate recipe book seems to be easier to translate than the magic book.

I was exhausted after being able to barely translate a treatment potion. I've gotten pretty far.

Various things have happened in this past month, I wonder if I can meet my brother some time...

(tl note: He has a brother? or is it just my shit translations? "ここ一ヶ月色々あって忘れていたが、もしも生きて弟に会えたら何か言ってやるのも良いかもしれない")

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama, I've finished selling items."

We arrived at the village sometime in between evening and afternoon.

Naofumi: "Can you take this baggage and letter to the next village?"

Raphtalia: "Sure"

I get off the carriage and load the baggage.

This luggage must not be worth much to trust an unknown peddler with it. Since it might be stolen, it should be full of cheap things.

Well, it's not my problem since I can earn some pocket change.

I continue from village to village, town to town in this manner.

If I feed someone medicine directly, it seems the effects do improve.

After two weeks, I've become famous for being a peddler with a rare demon.

As my credibility increases, customers who want a ride also increase.

I've been saving up money slowly.

There's some merit in being a travelling peddler.

First is being able to sell medicine smoothly.

Then, any demons that were defeated on the way were absorbed, increasing my stats.

On this trip, I found out that every region has different demons.

As a result of peddling, my shield seems to be getting stronger.

I also overheard various information.

I didn't know what the other heroes, Motoyasu, Ren, and Itsuki were doing before.

Motoyasu seems to be in south-western region, I heard he solved a famine for a village by providing some legendary crop.

That knowledge seems to have come from a game.

Ren is in the south-east region where atrocious devils are residing. It seems there's a rumour about him dealing with a violent dragon.

And Itsuki... Well, he seems to have brought down a tyrant in a small country to the north.

But there's no evidence of who Itsuki took down. There are also vague rumours that claim Itsuki of the Bow is the strongest hero.

Before I came to this strange world, I read about the 4 holy weapons and the events that are happening resembled what I read...

The journey continues with these thoughts.

Our levels after two weeks.

Me Lv 34

Raphtalia Lv 37

Firo Lv 32

We have grown.

Firo's growth is abnormal because she is a demon...

Especially her physical abilities, before she needed both hands (Wings?) to pull the carriage, now she can do it with 1 while yawning.

(TI note: 両手 (翼 ?) <= that's in the actual chapter.)

The person in question says.

Firo: "This carriage is too light, my motivation is dropping."

Oh well. That's a good thing

It seems the Status Up bonuses from my shield is effective.

Though there are other changes.

Pickaxe Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Mining Skill 1

Crystal Ore Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Craft Skill 1

I wonder. When we arrived at a prosperous mining town, I found a broken pickaxe on the road and absorbed some crystal ore which was thrown away.

Although these two skill bonuses seem good for making money, I lack information.

If I fail in processing some ore, it would become trash, I think a recipe would be necessary.

In the first place, I had to solve the intermediate recipe book I got.

The deciphering was completed in 2 weeks. There were 3 weeks before that when I couldn't understand anything and had a staring contest with the book.

Antidote

Herbicide

Healing Ointment

Treatment Medicine (Already able to make)

Nutritional Supplement (Already able to make)

Gunpowder

Strong acid

Magic Power water

Soul Healing Medicine

Insecticide

That is what I have deciphered so far. The basic of the intermediate class is that the effects change depending on how it's mixed.

Although I can't be certain, understanding the recipe seems to provide a bonus.

I let my shield absorb some of the intermediate recipe book.

And the results were.

Book Shield

Unsealing completed.....Equipment Bonus: Magical Power Up (Small)

Yup. I had high hopes that an intermediate recipe shield would appear. It seems to be a waste.

Besides, the defence is very low.

However, during the next morning, when I finished deciphering the Intermediate Recipe book.

Demon treants appeared, which were quickly dealt with and then absorbed.

Requirement for Trent Shield has been released.

Requirement for Blue Trent Shield has been released.

Requirement for Black Trent Shield has been released.

Treant Shield

Unsealing completed.....Equipment Bonus: Plate Appraisal 2

Blue Treant Shield

Unsealing completed.....Equipment Bonus: Intermediate Compound Recipe

1

Black Treant Shield

Unsealing completed.....Equipment Bonus: Half Compounding

Is this some kind of bullying?

Right after I finished deciphering that book too!

All I learned was the Heal Ointment? Perhaps, those monsters are materials for a recipe.

I cried when recipe 2 and 3 pops up.

I don't know how to make gunpowder, but it seems these treants are materials for herbicide and the healing ointment.

It seems that gunpowder can be substituted with some king flammable grass called Crackling grass.

I experiment with the gunpowder by collecting it into bags and creating make-shift bombs.

After setting the bags on fire, I hurl them at an enemy.

After throwing it, I dive to the side. Oh my, it seems the power of the bombs was terrible, it just burnt the bag and turned to ash.

It seems I'm not even allowed to attack with tools such as bombs. That's actually kind of amazing.

The strong acid that I store in a glass bottle seems to be a little less acidic than sulphuric acid.

This is not a medical herb, but it seems I can mix it with water. I don't know what I can do with this yet so I'll just let my shield absorb it.

The Magic Power water restores magical power when drunk. But, the materials are rare and hard to get.

It is an expensive medical herb. If I create this, I should sell it.

The Soul Healing Medicine seems to restore SP. It also seems to be rare and difficult to prepare.

Insecticide was easy. I just dissolve and mix grass that repels insects until it hardens.

Of the new recipes I learnt, the antidote, heal ointment and insecticide seems to be popular.

However, the herbicide seems to only sell in small quantities since people don't need that much.

I let my shield absorb the extras.

Requirement for Anti Poison Shield has been released.

Requirement for Glyphosate Shield has been released. (TI note: <http://i.imgur.com/t82ZsY2.jpg> LOL)

Requirement for Medicine Shield has been released.

Requirement for Plant Fire Shield has been released.

Requirement for Killer Insect Shield α has been released.

Anti Poison Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Defence Power 5

Glyphosate Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: 5% Damage Reduction from Plants

Medicine Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Medicine Effect Range Expansion (small)

Plant Fire Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Fire Resistance (Small)

Killer Insect Shield  $\alpha$

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: 3% Damage Reduction from Insects

Perhaps I originally would have received the anti-poison shield, for Poison Resistance (Intermediate) but that probably changed because I acquired the Chimeric Viper Shield first.

The skills that I have acquired change due to the fact that I already have it, so instead of replacing the current skill, it gets replaced by something new. I am also confused as to what the range expansion from the Medicine shield does.

Does it make it so that medicine is effective at a range or will be it effective to its surroundings?

I think the latter makes it way too convenient.

I wonder if the Plant Fire Shield is also effective against magic.

What Is Glyphosate? It's the chemical name for an herbicide. As for the Killer Insect Shield  $\alpha$ ... Maybe it will turn into Killer Insect Shield  $\beta$  if I increase the amount of herbs mixed.

The effect of reducing damage from specific enemies seems to be convenient.

The problem is deciphering the magic book.

It seems to be considerably difficult.

Raphtalia seems to have gotten the hang of it, but she can't use any magic effectively yet.

A ball of light floats in front of Raphtalia for a few seconds.

You're making this prestigious hero look bad.

Therefore, after Raphtalia goes to sleep, I asked Firo to use transformation magic.

Though it's difficult to call that magic, I am grasping at straws.

Firo: "Uhhh. Imagine what you want to become and feel the power gushing from the bottom of your body."

Yup. I completely don't understand.

I'm done thinking.

It seems that even after deciphering characters to read, I can't use magic.

I can't get the feeling of magic flowing since I am originally from a world without magic.

Still... I must learn magic.

I must live up to the expectations of that magic shop aunty.

Not participating in a wave would be a problem. Since no one else is protecting the villages and towns, it has become my job.

Sooner or later, being able to use magic might make a difference.

Though there is also the option of buying a crystal ball, a book is much cheaper.

Therefore, recently while riding the carriage, I've been groaning with a magic book in one hand.

It seems Raphtalia's explanation on magical power is the same as Firo's, it's a feeling in your body that comes from the soul.

The feeling of sensing magical power that even Firo has, what kind of sense is that?

I continuously ponder that question in my head.

Oh well, such are the results of two weeks.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 36 – To Take Everything but Your Life

---

“Ohh… I am so fortunate as to be able to ride on the carriage of the Holy Bird.”

“The Holy Bird?”

That day we met a merchant who was looking to head over to next town so we gave him a lift.

“Did you not know? Uhm, you are the owner of this carriage correct?”

The merchant who was chatting with Raphtalia points to me rather than her. He pointed me out even though I try to make it seem like Raphtalia was the owner while I pretended to simply be the guy who synthesizes our goods.

“I am…”

“You guys are getting quite famous. Word has it that there is a carriage drawn by a Holy Bird whose proprietors wander about bringing miracles as they sell their goods.”

As the carriage rattles about as I take a look from within the carriage at Firo. People seem to think pretty highly of you. When in truth you’re just a glutton who wants to be spoiled.

But just what are these miracles that he’s talking about?

Hm?

“KWEEEEEEH!”

Firo suddenly lets out a strange call and runs rampant.

“Uwah!”

The three of us who were in the carriage (Me, Raphtalia, and the merchant) grasp at the carriage’s handrails to keep from falling.

“----GYAAAAA…”

“-----YASU-SAMAAAA…”

Gararara!

The wheels let out a loud rattle so I couldn’t hear what was going on outside.

Every now and then Firo flips out and causes a ruckus like this.

This is the fourth time since we’ve started peddling. Such a capricious creature.

“Watch it, it’s not just us two in here you know.”

“Oka-y, I mean… Kweh!”

I whisper at her so that the merchant doesn’t hear.

It seems that a talking monster sticks out quite a bit, and I’d prefer not to invite any needless attention

… Though I have a feeling I might already be getting that attention.

The merchant giving me a look in complete surprise.

“I’ve heard that it can understand our language, but it’s really amazing.”

“Yeah, I think so too.”

Now that I think about it, just understanding human language is pretty amazing, but being able to speak our tongue too? Such a high spec monster. I'll consider it as the expansive possibilities that the monster race can have. But even in that sense she might be something unbelievably rare.

“We just peddle plain old medicine and pick up any jobs that would benefit from our carriage.”

I respond going back to our original topic.

“It's said that a saint riding the carriage bears special medicine, and the sick and ailing who drink this special medicine from his hand will be saved.”

“Is that so…”

It's a bit expensive, but it's medicine that most anyone can afford.

On a side note, it seems I can change which kind of herbs to use to make medicine that would best target specific symptoms.

The first medicine I made was an all-purpose one so its Quality was quite low. It might've been pretty good at stopping a cough.

But now that I've gotten my hands on a wide range of herbs, I can cater the medicine towards a specific purpose.

Fevers, pulmonary problems, digestive problems, skin problems, the efficacy of the medicine towards each of these issues depends on the type of herbs I use. I've just got all kinds of these targeted medicines on hand.

This type of stuff was gone in pretty fine detail in the intermediate recipe book. Though I still use the shield skill [menus] to help me out when I mixing herbs.

"Plain old medicine you say?"

I pull out a bottle from our goods box and let him have a look at it.

"Is this the miracle drug?"

The merchant pulls out the top and takes a whiff.

"Well it certainly... Does smell like the medicine I've taken sometime ago."

"... Do you know what it is?"

Is this guy also an apothecary?

As such questions go through my mind, he shakes his head.

"Nope, that's just the feeling I get."

So you have no idea!

-I considered interjecting, but just let it slide.

"So, what kind of merchant are you?"

"I'm a jeweler."

When he means jewels he probably means that. It's probably in this world too.

He's probably off to sell accessories and the like to some bigshot nobles.

"A jeweler huh... You've got money selling valuables to the nobles and yet you're dealing alone?"

If there's that much money riding on this merchant then it would make sense to bring with a comparable envoy to guard him. And yet he's alone, which makes me quite suspicious.

"Your words hit a sore spot."

Hahaha, the merchant responds with a short laugh.

"Jewelers come in all kinds. If I had to be more specific then I'd say I'm an accessory merchant."

"What's the difference?"

"Well then would you like to take a look at my wares?"

As he says that the accessory merchant pulls out his baggage.

When I take a look inside I see things like broaches and necklaces. Seem to be a few bracelets in there as well.

But the ores used seem to most all be iron or copper. As for the affixed gemstone... How can I say this, actually calling it a gemstone would be somewhat of a gray area.

"This time around I mostly just have cheap goods."

"I see... Did your business not do too well?"

"Nope, this time I'm just selling low-profit accessories to adventurers."

"Is that right..."

According to the accessory merchant, accessories can be Enchanted which could boost the wearer's abilities.

"By the way, how much would each of these go for?"

"How much you say... This iron bracelet that increases the users Attack Power would go for about 30 Silver."

Ooh... That's quite pricy. Even my remedies don't sell that high.

"If it was Enchanted it would go for 100 Silver."

"Is that so."

"It would."

Hmm... I should definitely give this some thought.

My medicine business has more or less plateaued at the moment. I typically get pretty close to selling out, but since I have to buy herbs as materials, there isn't much profit.

I wouldn't be able to keep up with sales if I had to go out and gather the herbs.

They might have been fine for use back then, but the medicine made from gathered herbs are of too low efficacy to be sold.

"You would make these with Crafting correct?"

"Hmm... Indeed, making the accessories into this form would be crafting, but then I'll be Enchanting them. Till that point it would be Crafting I'd say."

… I see. So you could craft an accessory, but it wouldn't be effective until you Enchanted it.

Enchanting… this seems to be kicker.

It has an unpleasant ring to it. Why would it be, I've seen the term a few times when I was making medicine.

It came up quite a few times in the Magic Water and Spirit Water mixing instructions.

This is something you can't make unless you're able to use magic.

"This has been quite educational. Thank you."

"No problem at all, the pleasure is mine."

"Master-, looks like something is coming."

Firo warns me in a slightly wary voice as she brings us to a stop.

From the suddenly stopping carriage, Raphtalia and I take a look at our surroundings.

And from within the forest came several figures.

All of them bore arms and approached us with a look that was anything but good.

They looked rather ragged, but they had pieces of armor here and there which resembled barbarians. It's most certain that they're mountain bandits or something of the like.

"Bandits!"

The accessory merchant called out in distress.

"Hehehe… You lot, bring out your valuables and leave 'em here."

I was almost astonished at such a cliché line.

It's that sort of thing isn't it. Is there really any point in charging into these situations?

Ah, I'm sure Firo already realized it but charged straight in anyway.

It's written all over her face, 'I can beat these guys, they sure are making light of me.'

"We know you've got a Jeweler holed up in there!"

The bandits shout at us.

I look over at the accessory merchant.

"I thought you said you didn't have anything that was of really high value?"

"Yes... I don't have anything of the like this time..."

Very nervously, the accessory merchant puts his hand to his shirt pocket as if he's covering something important.

"I do have an accessory that would sell for quite a bit."

"I see... So that's what they're after huh."

Looks like I've let on a pretty risky passenger.

"I thought they wouldn't target a merchant that's carrying mostly nothing but cheap goods and going for personal matters rather than official ones, so I skimped on security."

"Are you stupid? Geez..."

All I can do is sigh.

"I'll be charging you an annoyance fee for this"

"... I understand."

The accessory merchant nodded with a solemn look.

"Raphtalia. Firo. They're enemies."

"Right!"

"Yup!"

On my signal, Raphtalia jumps out of the cart and arms herself.

I pull the accessory merchant with me as I follow suit.

"Do not leave my side."

"G, Got it!"

I change from a shield that I'm working on releasing the abilities from to a shield meant for battle.

"Y,You're the shield...?"

"Yeah..."

The owner of the carriage of the Holy Bird was actually the notorious Shield Hero. At that fact, the accessory merchant was dumbfounded.

"What's that? You guys wanna have at it?"

"Yeah. One must protect themselves from whatever danger comes after all."

I answer, glaring at the bandit.

The goal of this fight is to prevent the enemy from reaching their objective. In other words, it's to prevent them from stealing what the accessory merchant is holding.

"Raphtalia. Firo. Are you ready?"

"Yes, I'm ready when you are."

"I was just about to die of boredom."

"I see, then... GO!"

At my call the bandits also brandished their arms and charged forward. From what I can see there are about 15 enemies give and take. There are about that number of targets.

"Air Shield!"

I distract the enemies running towards me with the shield that suddenly appears out of thin air, then quickly activate my next skill.

"Change Shield!"

Change Shield is a skill that allows me to change the shields that appear from Air Shield or Shield Prison into another Shield that I know. The shield that I change it to is Bee Needle Shield.

Bee Needle Shield's Special Effect is Shield of Thorns (S) and Bee's Poison (Paralysis)

"Wha, The shield suddenly...! Gaah---!"

One of the people charging after me runs head first into the shield that suddenly appeared. He then tumbles to the floor gets paralyzed and starts convulsing. Nice, it looks like the Special Effect is actually kicking in.

"Shield Prison!"

"The hell is---"

The cage that comes from the shield then traps one of the other bandits. Each of the shields have different time limits. Change Shield's cooldown time is 30 seconds. It's not something I can really use repeatedly.

But it lets me bring down their numbers so it's quite effective.

Three bandits appear in front of me. They must think I'm stupid as even though I'm an escort I've got nothing on but a shield.

I stand in front of the merchant and block the attack.

Sparks fly from the point it hits the shield, and I deflect the robbers attack, a metallic clang reverberates. It seems his Attack Power is below my Defense Power.

The shield I'm currently equipping is the Chimera Viper Shield.

Its Special Effects are Poisonous Snake's Fang (M) and Hook.

The snake sculpture on the shield begins moving and bites the bandits who come to attack me.

The Poisonous Snake's Fang retaliates with a poisonous counterattack to whoever tries to strike me.

“Guaaaahhh!”

“I, I won’t go down with just… Ugh!”

“I, I feel sick…”

Poisonous Snake’s Fang poisons all who attack me. It’s not too effective on things that have resistance. It seems to be working. I’ve never tried it on people before but it looks to considerably effective. Also, it’s not really a detriment, but the poison is actually lethal.

I order the shield to use Hook. The snake ornament on the shield comes out and grabs one of the bandits. The Hook’s effect has no Attack Power, but just pulls anything from within 2 meters. It’s pretty useful when trying to climb a cliff.

The bandit’s movements begin to dull and a few of them start to fall over.

“T, This guy is the Shield Hero!”

The bandits start to get a bit spooked.

It seems they’ve just realized that they bumped into one of the countries famous heroes.

But it’s too late for them at this point. With that fear the bandits quickly affirmed their own disadvantageous position.

“Tei!”

“E-i!”

Raphtalia, with sword in hand, takes a swing at the bandit when she spots an opening. His armor protected him from the cut, but with the sheer force from Raphtalia's swing the bandit was flew to the floor, hits his head and collapses.

Firo moves at a breakneck speed kicking one, and another, with her powerful legs that sends the bandits flying. Each time, the bandit flies about 5 meters like Motoyasu did... No wait. He just flew 20 meters.

..... I'm pretty sure you would die from that?

In no time at all, the bandits' numbers dwindled, and those that can remain standing numbered 6.

"Shit! Retreat!"

"You think I'd let you?!"

I capture the guy who looks to be the leader of the bandits with Shield prison. The remaining bandits who try to run are captured by Raphtalia who is riding on Firo.

I'm glad they were weaker than I thought they'd be.

Though Raphtalia and Firo sure did quite the work.

"Now then."

I pass my judgment on the tied up bandits.

"Maybe I can turn you guys in for some kind of bounty?"

"At times like these I'm not sure there's money to give for that..."

Raphtalia responds with a troubled face.

"Do you know?"

I ask the accessory merchant, but as expected he shakes his head.

“Even so I believe you should turn them in anyway.”

“Hmm… Is that so…”

The leader of the bandit troupe is looking at me with a flippant smile.

I can easily imagine what he’s thinking.

“ ‘We were attacked by the Shield Hero. We’re just normal adventurers!’ is what you’re thinking?”

The leader gives an unpleasant scowl.

That’s right! The officials will probably take our word over yours, you no-good Shield Hero!

“Well, I can’t root out that possibility.”

Just why is my reputation so bad… I think about it now, and I just can’t really accept it.

Thanks to that fucking princess and king, even if I do good deeds, no one would believe I did it.

Sigh…

“It can’t be helped. I’ll just kill you all.”

As they didn’t think I’d fathom that choice, the bandits all instantly turned pale.

Within the bunch one of them was frantically trying to undo the ropes, but Firo quickly came in and kicked him and he fainted in agony.

"I guess I can have my dangerous monster here learn how human flesh tastes like..."

I say that to the bandit troupe in a low voice with a hint of duress.

"Food?"

Firo says that as she stares at the bandit troupe, drooling.

"H,Hiii---?!"

"I wonder what I'll do."

"Y-You're the Carriage of the Holy Bird aren't you!? You're supposed to being miracles and yet you're about to commit murder!"

"It's not like that's a title I made up. One must protect themselves from whatever danger comes right. I've been taking it up the ass from everyone else up until now. But now it's your guys' turn, so just give it up."

"A-At least spare our lives!"

"Then give me all your valuables and equipment, and tell me where your hideout is. You're fine to lie all you want. But you know, I hate being lied to to death. If you tell me one lie, I'll have my Holy Bird here rip out each one of your four limbs one by one and eat them."

I say that casually as the bandits tremble in absolute fear.

Since I'm the notorious Shield Hero, it's very much effective.

"I, I got it! Our base is---"

I confirm the location on our map.

It's close.

"Alright, looks like negotiations succeeded."

As I bring my hand down, Firo lets out a kick with such force it knocks out all of the bandits.

"In any case, let's strip off any valuables they may have. Oh? This guy has some pretty good gear. Raphtalia this will be yours."

"Stripping the bandits of their goods... What we're doing is exactly the same as them."

So Raphtalia says as she follows my orders and quickly strips the equipment off of the bandit.

"Now give the guys that are poisoned some antidote and load them onto the carriage. Quickly now, we'll be bringing these guys to the hideout as well."

"Oka-y!"

After confirming that the bandit's base is really there, I proceed to strip the guards who were on lookout of their valuables in the same manner.

We then crammed the considerably abundant stockpile of treasure onto the carriage, and got all the bandits and tied them up in their base.

The various treasures were quite bountiful.

Things like plain money, food, liquor, weapons and armor, precious metals, healing pills and other cheap medicine.

It's far more bounty than I imagined and an unexpected bonus income.

These guys might be the bandits that are raiding people all over the region.

"Such... Boldness."

The accessory merchant, who has been following my actions in a confounded manner, looks deeply at me.

"So, how much of an annoyance fee do I charge you?"

The accessory merchant comes to his senses at my question.

"Maybe a few Silver Coins..."

I proceed to threaten him.

Thanks to you, this whole predicament happened. I didn't put in all this effort just for that much.

[After negotiations] we agreed to one accessory as proper recompense.

"... That mindset to not just take the bandit attack without something back... I'm deeply moved."

Something seems to have sparked inside of him. The accessory merchant has been looking at me with a fire in his eyes. Yeah he's probably telling the truth.

"Okay then. I will tell you my secrets in Crafting and Enchanting as well as the trading routes."

"... Isn't that a bit much?"

That is way too much compensation, to the point it's making me a suspicious.

There's a good chance that he's trying to trick me somehow since I took an accessory off of him.

"Not at all. Greedy merchants such as yourself who wouldn't take a single hit without some sort of recompense are becoming a rarity."

"I'm sure there are countless people who are greedy out there."

"That's not what I meant. It's how you squeeze every last drop of profit out of someone. Not just using them then disposing of them, but to keep them going in order to wring out everything they have is what I'm saying is necessary."

"Using then disposing huh..."

I look over to the bandits whom I've wrung out everything from.

They seemed to be pretty well off judging by how good their clothing were, so I just snatched all the equipment they had.

They're just getting their just desserts. Having all of their goods taken away from them feels like a fair curtain call.

"By doing that?"

"These guys tried to take our money and our lives. However, you negotiated and compromised to let them live so long as they gave you all of their possessions. They were after your life, so it would've only been natural for you to kill them. From your standing, [who had their lives in your hands], this is the best possible outcome for them."

Well I do have a terrible reputation, so even if I tried to turn them in, there's a good chance the officials would believe their testimony over mine. Though there was also the chance they would believe me.

"They bought from you their lives by giving all of their possessions."

"I guess you can look at it that way..."

"And then, when you could have had your just revenge, you used that as leverage to increase your own profits and wrung every last drop out of them!"

The accessory merchant let out a heinous smile.

What's with this guy?! I can see that he's absolutely atrocious!

"W, Well, let's I'll let you off at the next town."

"No way, I have so much I must teach you. I won't get off until I'm done."

Just what is this accessory merchant aiming to teach me!

I'm a bit worried about how fired up this guy is getting...

But with that we carry on with the goods we snatched away from the bandits and this merchant who seems to have warmed up to us.

This bit might not be of any worth, but the one who sold out the accessory merchant to the bandits was apparently a merchant union member. It seems that after that act he was excommunicated from the union.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 37 – Magical Study

---

For some reason, the accessory merchant joined our peddling. I'm not complaining since there is payment, but I don't know what this fellow is up to.

The accessory merchant started teaching me various things after he found out about my Hero status during the bandit fiasco, which he seemed to have enjoyed.

Apparently accessory merchant wants to refine my talents...

While the accessory merchant on the surface is someone who is gentle and teaches apprentices kindly. He actually holds considerable influence within the merchant guild. Apparently, the thieves around this area are notorious. It seems that they were tipped off by associates within the merchant guild.

The first thing he taught me was where to mine for the gemstones needed to create jewellery. Next is processing precious metals into accessories. I am currently capable of making various designs. Because I am somewhat of a picture otaku, my creations were quite nice.

The tools needed to work are also cheap. In this world, there are magic tools that were powered by magic stones, similar to how fuel works. There are several points that seem similar to the burning and grinding process of metalworking in my world.

(TI note: <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Metalworking>)

To process any hard iron, I would need to go to the ironworks and work with a metal mould. Having crafting skills really help out with preventing any mistakes that might have been made. Although the Shield is reacting, I can't just let it absorb my work because it's expensive.

Back to the main issue, I wanted to start working on enchantment magic.

As expected, I need to be able to use magic. I groaned while holding the magic book in one hand and the accessory merchant is curious.

Accessory Merchant: "Is Hero-sama unable to use magic?"

Naofumi: "Yeah, even though my slave can already use magic"

Accessory Merchant: "Ah I see... "

The accessory merchant took out some small transparent fragment and handed it to me.

Naofumi: "What is that?"

Accessory Merchant: "It's a piece of an extremely rare ore. It's quite expensive."

Naofumi: "Wow..."

Accessory Merchant: "Can you read the letters?"

Naofumi: "Yeah... Only the simple ones though."

I've been seriously tackling the letters of this world for about a month. I can't read any of the more difficult words, but I can understand the simple ones.

Accessory Merchant: "It's enough for you to be able to feel magic first, learning how to use magic will come after."

Hmm... What you said just now is quite difficult.
I play with the fragment while thinking.

The fragment begins to shine.

What can I say... This feels like I just found another hand within myself that I had no idea about.

Until now, I had no idea of the existence of such an "organ", but it doesn't feel out of place. Seems quite similar to how even when a bird doesn't know how to fly, it still know how to flap its wings

Naofumi: "What a strange feeling."

Accessory Merchant: "I grew up knowing the magical power was there. However, you had no idea of its existence until recently, but you seemed to have succeeded"

Naofumi: "Is that so...?"

I am now conscious of another "arm" called magic power.

I open to the part of the magic book which I have already deciphered. The letter begins to shine. This is a magic engraved by me and only usable by me.

Naofumi: "I am the Hero of the shield who command the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. May the power of nature defend me!"

Naofumi: "Fast Guard!"

A target mark appears in my view. I selected myself as a test.

A light shines over me. Then I check my status and it seems to have risen.

Naofumi: "Oh..."

Naofumi: "I seemed to have learnt it somehow. Well then, teach me some magic."

The accessory merchant disregarded my excitement and begins another lecture.

Though, it wasn't that draining to use such a spell. Then I recall the enchantment magic taught by the accessory merchant.

I try and apply magical power to a processed jewel.

I had trouble at first but my shield corrected some of my mistakes.

It gets difficult when I try mixing power from a different gem. Also I seem to be able to draw out magical power from medicine and apply it.

Accessory Merchant: "Well, that's the basics. Please keep improving and apply it to your business afterwards."

The accessory merchant gets of the carriage and heads off.

Thus, I learn how to craft something besides medicine.

Because it is necessary to use ores, when we arrived at a mining town, I started mining immediately.

Owner: "Eh? Is that an introduction letter?"

The coal mine owner asked in surprise when I showed him the accessory merchant's letter of introduction.

Owner: "This is certainly a letter from him. How did you manage to get something from someone so stingy?"

Naofumi: "What do you mean?"

Apparently the accessory merchant is a very stingy person.

The owner of the coal mines was suspicious when I appeared with a letter of introduction from that scrooge, but was shocked when it was the real thing.

Owner: "Since the letter is real, how much do you want to buy? Since you have the letter, I'll be flexible."

Naofumi: "Uhm, may I mine it myself? It would be cheaper."

Owner: "Eh? Well... That's fine, take whatever you mine..."

I left the business to Raphtalia and Firo as I head to a cave with my pickaxe. I'm interested in the mining skill.

The sound of pickaxe striking stone echoes through the cave. To be honest, it's quite noisy and the air is hot and stuffy.

As expected of a different world, a crystal is exposed on the wall and shines.

Owner: "This cave is safe unless there are extreme circumstances, so there are no problems wherever you may want to dig. However, the risk of collapse is not zero."

I was guided to several places within the mine by the coal mine owner.

As I raise the pickaxe slowly, a cross-hair emerges on the wall.

What? Do I strike there?

Naofumi: "Tei!"

I swing the pickaxe down with momentum.

With a clang a crack emerges from the wall. The crack spreads and the wall falls apart.

Owner: "Whoa!"

That was a very fragile wall.

Naofumi: "Hm?"

The coal mine owner looked at me as if I'm crazy.

Owner: "That hard bedrock... In one strike?"

That was hard...?

Due to the mining skill, walls collapse whenever I swing and ores were collected at a terrifying pace.

But there are still walls that I can't collapse no matter what...

Maybe it's because of my low skill level.

Naofumi: "Well I'll just work with this."

Owner: "O-okay."

I filled a bag with gemstones and leave quickly.

By the way, gemstones were even able to be found near the entrance of the mine. I just had to dig near a few mulberry trees.

It is surprisingly easy to find in the neighbourhood.

Although the uncut stones close to the surface seems to be of a lower quality for magic.

According to my knowledge of my world, there seems to be a famous place where jewels were dug up simply by digging in the field.

Even though this is a different world, I believed the good quality gems will be buried deep underground.

Ruby Bracelet was made!

Quality: Good -> High Quality

Even though I originally made that as a trial, It seems to have turned out well.

I also tried to imbue the bracelet with magic.

Ruby Bracelet (Fire-Resistance +)

Quality: High Quality -> Normal

Ugh... The quality fell a lot after magic was imbued.

I dabbled in making accessories as the peddling continues.

By the way, it is very hard to make accessories on a moving carriage, so I can only work on them at night.

It seems my shield is not high enough level to absorb a finished gem.

Time to sell it.

The bracelet that was created earlier was for 80 silver pieces. The value of gems in this world seems to be lower than my world. It takes time to create the foundation.

It might be worthwhile to make new designs in the wagon. Though, it's a little inconsistent.

It seems anything will be popular. What's popular in my world might be popular here too.

Though I don't know much about expensive jewellery

However, production takes quite a while.

That said, there is money to be earned. It might not be a bad idea to improve our equipments.

Requirements for Iron Ore Shield have been revealed.

Requirements for Copper Ore Shield have been revealed.

Requirements for Silver Ore Shield have been revealed.

Requirements for Lead Ore Shield have been revealed.

Iron Ore Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Smelting Ability 2

Copper Ore Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Smelting Ability 1

Silver Ore Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: 2% Damage reduction from Demons

Lead Ore Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Defence Power 1

A skill which seems to be useful for the old man from the weapon shop appeared.

It's pretty useless to me at the moment anyway.

The Lead Ore Shield seems to have displaced another skill. I'm not going to use that skill anyway.

Every day of peddling was passed with such a feeling.

Having stopped at a southern town.

Through a certain reliable source (Accessory Merchant), I heard of a province that wants to acquire large amounts of Herbicide.

Apparently there's a lot of money to be made so we leave for a south-west village in haste.

Judging by speed alone Firo seems to be a match for a God Bird...

(tl note: No idea..... なんでも速度からして間に合うのは神鳥……フィー口位なものらしい。 )

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 38 – The Reason it is Sealed

---

After hearing that there was a village that had huge demand for herbicides, we quickly rushed over...

It might be that Firo was excessively fast, but we were able to make it to the region in just a few days.

"Master-"

"What is it?"

"Uhhh, the plants here are pretty crazy-"

"Huh?"

Raphtalia and I both look outside of the carriage.

And when we do, we see the road completely buried in some sort of viny, squirming vegetation.

"T, The hell?!"

It's advancing slowly and gradually, but the vegetation is most definitely expanding its domain.

"The village is..."

I take a look around and notice there were people gathered over at somewhere that looked like a refugee camp.

"Firo, head over that way."

“Okay.”

We head over to the camp and start to set up shop.

“Alright, what should I price these herbicides.”

I’m sure these will be used to try to exterminate those slowly encroaching vines.

I can see what the accessory merchant meant when he said I’d be able to make a killing here.

So then, just how much profit will I be making.

“Though there might already be a specialist here dealing them out.”

“You might be right.”

I get out of the carriage to try and gather some information.

On a side note, I changed my shield into Book Shield. I then turned the shield around to make it look like I was just any old peddler holding a book. By setting my shield to something that doesn’t really stand out, I can hide my identity as the Shield Hero.

“I came by since I heard I can sell herbicides for a good price here.”

I ask someone at the camp who looked like they had some authority.

“Oh, a trader. It would definitely help.”

He responded quickly as if he was waiting for me.

“But what exactly is going on here?”

I inquire as I look towards the invading flora.

“What exactly… Our village was hit by a famine.”

Ah now that I think about it, I did hear of a rumor along those lines.
But didn't Motoyasu handle that?

“However, we requested aid from the Spear Hero and he returned with a miracle seed that has been sealed since ancient times. While it did resolve our famine it…”

“That can't be the miracle seed can it?”

I look towards the encroaching vines. Now that I observe carefully there are fruits and other vegetable produce stemming from the vines.
It doesn't seem like this camp is having any issues with food, and there aren't any food relief aids in sight. The vines also apparently have potatoes as I notice some farmers approaching the vines and digging them out.
In other words, the villagers have no trouble whatsoever with food, but because the plants are growing out of control, they've been driven out of their homes…

Are you retarded?

I'm thinking about it, the seed was sealed, was it not. There has to be good reason for it to have been sealed or they would have just ignored it and let it go.

So what the hell was Motoyasu thinking?

"Also it's not an issue outside of the growth, but when you're inside where the village is at, some of the plants have transformed into monsters."

Oh, so the plants can evolve.

Are you retarded?

Why must I feel this way in such a short span of time.

Seriously, that guy [Motoyasu] is a genius at rustling my jimmies.

"And that's why you guys need herbicide?"

"Yes."

Since they're farmers I'm sure they know about plant and weed control...

"At first we were overjoyed with all the harvest we were getting. But then it started growing from the fields to our homes... We tried our best to weed it out, but it just grew too fast."

"By the way, when did this happen?"

"It wasn't an issue two weeks after the Hero left. But ever since two weeks ago..."

"I see. Have you tried reporting this to the kingdom?"

"We have. But since the Heroes are all so busy, it would takes some time before they arrive it seems. So we're just trying to stop it from spreading further with herbicide."

Haaah... Before I knew it I let out a sigh.

"Have you tried just lighting it all on fire?"

"We've tried everything we can think of."

"Oh, so you guys already did."

I'm sure they've also called to adventurers for help.

I take a look around and see people with weapons who were clearly not villagers.

"Uwaaaaaah!"

A scream comes out from the village.

"What's going on?!"

"Some adventurers said they were going to go in to try and raise their Level. I tried to stop them, but they didn't listen. That scream might have been coming from them..."

The villager says that as if he's given up on them.

"Dammit...! Firo!"

"Yu-p!"

I point towards the village and Firo, who was stuffing her face with the produce from the plants, rushes in.

She then busts out of the verdure outgrowth shouldering three adventurers who were in tatters.

“What’s it look like inside?”

“Uhhm, there were plant monsters inside creeping about. There were some pretty interesting ones that spat out poison and acid. These guys here sure are dumb going in there when they’re so weak--.”

“You didn’t need to mention that last bit.”

“Fi-ne.”

The villager was flabbergasted at Firo’s fluent speech.

“A, Are you the rumored Saint who rides a carriage drawn by the Holy Bird?”

The villager now asks me, covering my hands with his own.

“Well… I don’t know about a saint, but I am the owner of a carriage and a bird.”

“Please! If you can, please help us! There are some people here who have been infested by the plants!”

“So some of them have parasitic capabilities huh…”

With a remedy and herbicide in one hand, I’m lead into a tent.

Inside I see some people laid down with half of their bodies blighted by plants.

"I don't know if I'll actually be able to cure them though. But I don't run a charity here, so you better make sure you pay the treatment fee."

"We will..."

It was barely audible, but I could hear people around lamenting in a low voice, 'If only the Spear Hero didn't come here...' It made me a bit giddy. In any case, I go to the nearest patient who was a sleeping child that had troubled breathing, and had him drink some medicine.

A dim light appears, and the child's breathing returns to normal. I then spread the herbicide along the diseased areas.

The child looked to be in a bit of pain, but the plants that were ailing him began to wither away and scatter about. What resulted seemed to be a full recovery.

"Oooh..."

"As expected of Saint-sama."

Voices of admiration start flowing out.

I continue on to the other patients, feeding them the medicine and applying the herbicide.

After I finish treating everyone, the air around the camp seemed to lighten up a bit for some reason.

Well, even if it's not that major, I guess good news would tend to brighten up the mood.

"Thank you, thank you so much!"

The people here give me their gratitude.

"Give me my treatment fee."

I charge them a tad bit above the market price.

I gotta be careful here. Since they've already requested aid from the kingdom there's a very high risk that I'll end up seeing one of the other Heroes.

If that happens then there's a good chance that these guys here will instead look to me in aversion.

The villagers are now giving me their money with smiles on their faces.

"Well then, I'll be here selling herbicides now. After that, I'll be off as I'll no longer have any business here."

"Ah... Saint-sama, if you can, could you please save our village?"

"The hell?! Why don't you go ask one of the country's Heroes?"

"But..."

Ugh... The villagers are now gathering around and begging me as if in prayer.

I'm not the type of guy that would do anything so long as they ask. On top of that I have no obligation to help them.

"I refuse."

"Please. If it's money we can gather some."

"...You pay me in advance. And after, no matter what happens don't come crying about it. Now, tell me everything you know about the seal that the Spear Hero released."

At my response, the villagers began to pull money out of their own pockets and amassed their funds. In the meantime I try to gather as much information as possible.

According to what they were told, sealed inside of the nearby ruins was the seed of a certain type of plant, and protecting it was a powerful guardian. Really, did you guys not have any doubts considering there was a fucking guardian protecting this seed?

I had an almost uncontrollable urge to scream that out but somehow I was able to restrain myself.

And that's all could get from the Spear Hero's... Motoyasu's story.

From what I got from questioning the villagers, long ago this region used to be the stronghold of an alchemist, and it was said that his one masterpiece was sealed here.

And some other details saying that some time ago, this whole area was under the domination of plants or something like that...

"If you had legends like that, don't go around undoing seals! Did no one really stop to consider?"

Everyone averted their gazes at the same time.

I'm sure they thought it was safe since a Hero brought it to them after all.

It doesn't seem like I can find any more useful information besides that. And while we had these discussions, the funds have finished collecting. ... This is quite the sum of cash.

Since they paid up front, I can get away with showing my identity now.

"Understood. I'll see what I can do."

I then change my shield into one meant for combat: the Chimera Viper Shield.

"T, The Shield Hero?!"

I ignore the voices of the villagers and head toward the mass of vines. Behind me follow Raphtalia and Firo.

I tie the ample bag of money I received to my hip, and walk down the road rife with the encroaching vegetation.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 39 – Plant Invasion

---

Naofumi: "Raphtalia, Firo, be careful."

Now then, the enemy is coming with a plant.

According to my vast knowledge of medical herbs, the plant in front is quite unique.

Various ripe fruits could be found from the vines and potatoes could be seen on the root.

That's not all, apparently it also has the ability to spit poison and attach parasites to the human body.

Is the herbicide even going to be effective?

Physically beating it up doesn't seem to be a good plan either...

It attacked us with vines as it advanced.

Raphtalia: "Haa!"

Firo: "Yaa!"

Raphtalia and Firo each cut down some vines.

But, we have already been surrounded by them.

Might as well try magic...

Naofumi: "I am the Hero of the Shield who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. May the power of nature defend me!"

Naofumi: "Fast Guard!"

I applied defensive magic on Raphtalia and Firo.

This magic improved the target's defence by a percentage. It is a support magic that shines when the target has high Defence.

Raphtalia: "Thank you Naofumi-sama"

Firo: "Thanks~"

The pair thanks me as they continue to decimate the attacking vines.

Although we are destroying plants left and right, it's still hard to advance.

It's got to be that. To clear a path, we must use some strong magic, I guess our only choice is to withdraw for now.

But at least, we'll annihilate the enemies here.

There is a high chance that a strong demon is lurking within the village.

According to the stories that have been passed down, there is no sure-fire way to exterminate the plants.

Then a full frontal assault...

Would be impossible, there has to be another way.

Due to the vine's lacking in attack power, my progress should be unimpeded.

Naofumi: "Anyway, I'll investigate myself first."

Raphtalia: "Okay!"

Firo: "Okay~!"

I started running towards the root of the plants in the centre of the village.

It's overflowing with plant demons.

Though, this level is still manageable by the three of us.

However, I'm quite uneasy about Raphtalia and Firo's defence.

Naofumi: "Humm....."

The names of the demons are Bio Plant, Plantriwe, and Mandoragora.

Bio Plant is the general name for all the common plants. Plantriwe Is a demon in the shape of a human made of vines. Mandoragora seems to be an immobile plant fortress.

According to Firo, the Plantriwe scatters poison pollen the big flower on top of its head.

The Mandoragora sprays acid from a vine to weaken and drag in its prey.

Bio Plant is the demon that is producing these two. Occasionally, a vine swells up and these demons burst from within.

I smile in satisfaction as the herbicide withers these demons.

It seems the shield does not consider scattering herbicide an attack.

Is it because these are just really aggressive plants and not actually demons?

I wonder what the criteria is.

Is it the same principal as sprinkling holy water and recovery magic on Zombie-Type Monsters?

There is also the fact that my medicine can cure the parasitic state to consider....

I don't understand.

Perhaps the parasites are pathogens and my treatment medicine is effective against sicknesses.

Naofumi: "So what do we do?"

Plantriwe and vines continued to attack me meaninglessly.

The attacks themselves do nothing, but my nose is slightly stuffed because of the poison.

The acid is also troublesome. It seems to be very effective in lowering the Defensive status.

Still, it's not as if they can break through. Snake's Poison Fang (Intermediate) makes those effects useless.

This is pretty common. The enemy is a plant and uses poison.

Naofumi: "Raphtalia"

Raphtalia: "Cough...! What is it?"

The air seems to be bad for Raphtalia...

Raphtalia's respiratory system was damaged before. Although she is cured, it might still be weak.

Naofumi: "Here, take this herbicide just in case."

Raphtalia: "Ah, Okay!"

I throw some herbicide to Raphtalia. I hope it will be useful in an emergency

Raphtalia is caught by vines and it looks like she's about to be violated.

The ways these vines wriggle about remind me of heroines from an erogé...

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama?"

Raphtalia: "You're thinking of something quite rude aren't you?"

However, when the vines wrap around Raphtalia, she tears them apart calmly.

Unexpectedly, it seems like they have no durability.

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama? Let's hurry up and go!"

Naofumi: "O-okay"

When I arrived at the centre of the village earlier, I saw a gigantic tree.
No wait, if I look carefully, that's a giant vine.

Naofumi: "That seems to be the main body..."

Suddenly, huge eyes appeared on the trunk and stared at us.

Monster: "!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!"

That's creepy.

But, that is the main body.

Firo: "Master~ Firo's going in"

Firo does a running jump onto an eyeball from the main body. However, she is intercepted by a giant vine.

Firo: "Ei!"

Firo kicks the vine mid-air, using it as a foothold, but the distance she gained is insufficient.

Firo: "Master~"

Naofumi: "I know! Air Strike Shield!"

I used Air Strike Shield on where Firo was falling to let her use it as footing. Firo jumped off the shield and straight for the eyeball again.

Firo: "Tei!"

Bicha! With a squish, Firo kicked the eyeball.

That was pretty gross...

Monster: "!!!!!!!!!!!"

The earth shakes as the vines tremble in rage.

Is it still not dead even after the eyeball was destroyed?

Hmm..... What happened?

Naofumi: "It's not falling over."

Raphtalia: "I noticed."

With a grotesque sound, the eyeball regenerated.

At the same time, I spotted a plant seed in the middle of the eyeball.

Naofumi: "Raphtalia, Firo. The main body is within that eyeball. Pour the herbicide in it."

The cool-down time is over. I can use Air Strike Shield again. By the way, Plantriwe and Mandoragora were attacking me together.
But it does nothing so I can take it forever.

Naofumi: "I understand!"

Firo: "Roger~!"

Raphtalia Jumps onto Firo's back while approaching the regenerating eyeball.

The eyeball must have registered them as the highest priority threat and unleashed a rain of vines at them.

Naofumi: "Shield Prison!"

I used the cage formed from Shield Prison to protect both of them.

The shield will stay in the air, unless an attack is strong enough to break through.

Effective time is 15 seconds.

Meanwhile, the vines are bouncing off the Prison.

Oops... Vines surrounded the Prison.

After 15 seconds, the Prison disperses. At that moment, I cast Air Strike Shield under Firo to be used as a foothold.

Raphtalia: "Tei!"

Raphtalia's sword flashes and the vines surrounding Firo was cut down. The vines were cut beautifully and Firo succeed in jumping off the shield. She kicked the Eyeball twice.

Monster: "!?????"

The eyeball's movements have stopped to repair itself. By taking advantage of this chance, Raphtalia spreads the herbicide over the eyeball's wounds.

Monster: "!!!!?????"

An enormous vibration which isn't exactly a voice spreads around the Bio Plant.

Naofumi: "Did we do it?"

I don't even care that I death flagged myself, these attacks aren't even enough to make me itchy.

However, the Bio Plant begins to move again.

Raphtalia: "I apologize. It seems I didn't spread the herbicide well enough."

Naofumi: "No, you did it properly. It seems the herbicide is not effective enough."

There must be something we can do...

Oh, that might work.

Personally applying medicine makes it more effective. I wonder what will happen if I apply the herbicide myself.

Naofumi: "Well, it won't hurt to try that next."

I ignored the enemies surrounding me and took out the herbicide with one hand.

Though recently, I've noticed that my defence is now ranged, I can proceed through enemies even though I'm surrounded.

However, this doesn't apply to my attacks.

I stroll through the large amount of demons like it's nothing.

At last, I've reached the Bio Plant.

Naofumi: "The effect might increase even more if I apply the herbicide while riding Firo."

I scattered the herbicide on all its roots.

Monster: "!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!?????????????"

The Bio Plant convulsed violently. It seems to be its death throes.

The Bio Plant is dyed brown as its eyeballs dries up.

With a poof, the whole thing started falling apart.

The whole Bio Plant crumbles and we evacuate.

Naofumi: "Oooh..."

All the other demons started turning brown and withering. Everything is gone except for fruits that grew on their bodies and us left.

And...Where the Bio Plant used to be is a shiny seed.

... It would be dangerous to leave that here...

Naofumi: "I'll keep it for the time being. Maybe my shield can absorb it."

Raphtalia: "Okay"

Firo: "Food!"

We were collecting seeds while Firo stuffed herself with the remaining fruits and potatoes.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 40 – Selective Breeding

---

Raphtalia: "Something like this?"

Naofumi: "Yea, we should contact the village after this"

Seed of Miracles... We who subjugated the Bio Plant, which was Motoyasu's failure, are currently collecting seeds.

I let my shield absorb any seeds that it reacted to.

Requirements for Bio Plant Shield have been revealed.

Requirements for Plantriwe Shield have been revealed.

Requirements for Mandoragora Shield have been revealed.

Bio Plant Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Plant Remodelling

Special Effect: Hook

Plantriwe Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Intermediate Compounding 2

Mandoragora Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Plant Analysis

I've unlocked the plant skill tree for my shield. Although it's been unlocked, it still seems insufficient.

Naofumi: "Plant Remodelling?"

I switched to the Bio Plant Shield and test out what plant remodelling does.
An icon appeared over the seed that I look at.
I fed some magic to the seed of a Bio Plant that I picked up earlier.
The seed floats in the air.

Fertility 9
Productivity 9
Vitality 9
Immunity 4
Intelligence 1
Growth Potential 9
Variability 9
Special Ability

What is that?
First of all, I'll lower everything.
The window makes a beeping sound as the values decrease.
All other statuses were decreased while increasing one.

Fertility 1
Productivity 1
Vitality 1
Immunity 1
Intelligence 1
Growth Potential 43
Variability 1
Special Ability

Hmm... I don't understand.

Well, all it has is growth powers, is that even good?

Oh, my MP decreases when I use this skill, it's almost empty.

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama?"

The modified Bio Plant seed that I made was dropped by accident.

"Oo!"

The ground immediately becomes lush and green

But...

"What?"

It grew in abundance for about 3 meters and then withered instantly.

Raphtalia: "What are you doing?"

Naofumi: "Ah, I'm experimenting with Plant remodelling using that seed"

Raphtalia: "Please don't do something so dangerous!"

I was scolded by Raphtalia.

Well, if it was someone else who did that, I would be angry too.

But, this skill is really interesting.

It seems I'll be able to make huge profits if I utilize it correctly.

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama, your smile looks rotten"

Oops, did it show on my face?

Naofumi: "Anyway, let's return to the village"

Raphtalia: "Yeah"

We were greeted by silence as we walked out of the brown plant zone.

Villager: "Thank you Hero-sama"

Humans work for profit.

After I save the village I am welcomed gratefully.

Well, it would be impossible to live in the village with all those dead plants.

That day, we ended up cleaning all the withered plants.

Even if the main body is destroyed, the fruit and potatoes remain, It seems there won't be a food shortage for a while.

But I'm a little worried about the soil.

Naofumi: "Aren't you going to return to a famine?"

Villager: "Well..... that's very likely"

In the near future, this village might be deserted.

After thinking it through, I push forward my plant remodelling plan.

I don't understand what special ability is yet.

By looking at a seed, the plant analysis menu pops up.

I equip the Mandoragora shield and go to bed.

The next morning, I change to the Bio Plant shield and continue remodelling.

Fertility 9

Productivity 9

Vitality 9

Immunity 4

Intelligence 1

Growth Potential 9

Variability 9

Special Ability

Upon death a seed is produced.

Mutation Range Expansion.

I see... This was the original ability of the Bio Plants.

Originally, it was made with the purpose of producing food, but due to its mutation ability, it became a demon.

It might not be a bad idea to nip the problem at its root.

Due to its low immunity the herbicide is effective.

I check the special ability. Various items appeared.

There are special instructions next to each item.

It seems I can choose abilities by sacrificing stats.

This village is troubled by the second coming of the famine.

That's why I'll experiment.

Fertility 4 is simply the power to increase. We don't need too much so I'll lower it.

Productivity 15 should be the ability that produced fruit. To combat the famine I'll increase it.

Vitality 6 is this the power to grow anywhere? Let's drop it a little.

Immunity 4 is the power to resist sickness. Because the herbicide is effective I'll leave it alone.

Intelligence 1 What the heck is this, does it give it a demon's intelligence? I don't know what increasing it might do.

Growth Potential 15 the speed at which it grows. Let's increase this.

Variability 1 this is probably the cause of plants becoming demons.

Special Ability, I add in an ability that increases quality of crops and cancel the Mutation ability.

Upon death a higher quality seed is produced.

Naofumi: "It's completed"

Raphtalia: "Is something wrong?"

Raphtalia stirs and asks me sleepily.

The villagers suggested that the saint, and holy bird stay overnight in the village.

The fruits and potatoes of the Bio Plant are quite delicious.

It's an annoying plant, but it tastes good.

If my remodelling succeeds, it will become the special product of the village.

Naofumi: "Ah, continuing from yesterday is a bit..."

Raphtalia: "You're still at it?"

Naofumi: "It's a little bad to leave things as is right?"

The famine will hit sooner or later. Therefore, I'll stop it by all means.

Even if I can go shopping from different areas, it's impossible for this amount of people.

It would be difficult for these inhabitants who have lived here a long time to move.

Naofumi: "Now then"

I got off the carriage and dropped the seed onto the withered ground slowly. The plant grows and covers a corner of the former village site.

Villager: "Wh-What's happening?"

The people who were resting near the camp run up to get a closer look.

Naofumi: "Ah my bad, it's just a little experiment."

Villager: "What are you doing?"

The villagers seem to be scared of the plants.

Naofumi: "Experiments to change this into a safe plant..."

Due to its low fertility, the plant stops growing.

And.....

Red and young fruit similar to a tomato appears. It seems the foundation for the plant is a tomato.

Naofumi: "I think that's a success"

Villager: "Yea..."

Naofumi: "Whether or not you want to use it is up to you. Whether this was in vain or be an asset is in your hands."

It seems the mutation range expansion and the variability status doesn't only change into demons, it also has the effect of producing various fruits and other plants.

I sprinkled some herbicide to wither the plant. I hand the seed over to the feudal lord there.

Naofumi: "Well then, we'll be on our way, bye-bye."

Firo who was already awake and stuffing herself with tomatoes prepares to pull the carriage.

Villager: "Please wait!"

Naofumi: "Hm? What's up?"

Villager: "We still haven't rewarded you yet. How abo-"

Naofumi: "Are you fellows having difficulty with stock processing, and going to push the problem on me?"

Villager: "Uh-uhm how about....."

My carriage has now become 4 vehicles.

3 of the carts were loaded with crops that came from the Bio Plant.

It seems they were gifts along with the carts.

I reluctantly received it because they presented it with a smile.

After connecting the carts, Firo pulls the carriage happily.

Firo: "It's heavy and comfortable~!"

As expected of a demon changed from a Philorial

The journey continues while the carriage shakes.

Additionally, after I realised the herbicide could be used as a weapon. I went to play with treants.

It seems to be effective only on plants which have a parasitic ability.

I don't understand its standards.

Perhaps there are no traces of any demons in the Bio Plant, it might be just a simple plant.

Well, it's fine. With Raphtalia and Firo, I don't have to worry about being attacked.

Let's think of a way to use the food that cannot be eaten first.

That reminds me... I heard a rumour about a famine up north. I should go sell there.

Naofumi: "Let's depart for the north."

Firo: "Okay~!"

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 41 – Shogun-sama.....

---

On our way north, we came across a town.

Naofumi: "What? There's a toll fee?"

The guards stopped us as we were about to enter the town and asked for a toll, so I showed them the note I received from the feudal lord of Forest village...

Guard: "These kinds of things aren't accepted! Pay quickly!"

Raphtalia: "But-"

The guard didn't even respond when Raphtalia tried to negotiate, only asking for gold.

Despite all that negotiating, the guard held his ground.

Naofumi: "What a stubborn bastard!"

Even though the guard looked like he was going to rush us, he stood there and just glared at me with hostility.

Hmm... Something must have happened here.

After I started peddling in this world, I learned a few things.

No one would perform such unreasonable extortion unless they had strong backup.

It seems whoever this person works with is powerful.

It seems we have to call this guy's partner to negotiate, we'll have to discuss about human relations.

It'll only work if his partner is not hostile though.

As for why this guy's partner isn't here, there are a few reasons...

Naofumi: "The Feudal lord here must be an outrageous bastard."

I muttered while looking at the town. The guard's expression changes upon hearing that.

Guard: "Don't you dare speak ill of the lord! Or else I will punish you!"

Ah I see. So it's a problem with the top dog. In this case, neither threats nor negotiations will be effective.

The road is closed so I can't pass. There will be punishment if caught.

Maybe if I make enough of a commotion for the lord to appear.

However, there is little reward for such a risk...

Naofumi: "I understand. You guys have it tough too..."

I hand the amount asked to the guard.

The guard looked a little shocked.

Guard: "Yeah... This is good"

The guard whispered to me.

Guard: "I'm sorry..."

Naofumi: "It can't be helped."

Is this in the jurisdiction of that trash king? Or is this country's feudal lord also rotten.

I intended to sell the food loaded in my carts, but I stopped when they collected tax.

The inn seems to be fairly high class, at least when compared to the neighbourhood.

Everything in this town seems to be taxed: daily necessities, food, weapons, armour, crafted goods and even the hotel fee. Everything is expensive. Living here must be hard.

The commerce is totally in decline and the markets aren't lively at all. The unreasonably heavy taxation must have taken its toll.

Naofumi: "Collect information on the village that's short on food"

Raphtalia: "Understood"

Firo: "Okay~! Master I want a souvenir~"

Naofumi: "You eat so much food and you still want more?"

This Firo, demanding a souvenir despite the high prices...

We head to the bar with Firo in her human form.

By the way, I changed my shield to the Book Shield.

There, I saw a fellow who I would rather not have encountered.

"Fellow": "It seems that way"

Although he has a bow, there is also a sword on his waist, his equipments also seems to be of low quality.

Similar to my Book Shield as camouflage, the bow is small and plain.

If this was our first meeting and if he wore a glove, I wouldn't have known him.

But, his companion was dressed in very conspicuous colours. It looks like he's trying to hide himself. Probably.

That's right, the hero of the Bow is having a discussion in the corner of the bar.

He doesn't seem to have noticed me.

What are they talking about? I'll get closer and concentrate on listening...

Villager: "The lord here..."

Apparently, they are gathering information about the lord's notoriety.

According to the story, he fill his own pocket with the raised tax money, accept bribes from merchants and employed bodyguards to severely punish anyone who object

It seems this feudal lord is also trash.

Itsuki: "That's overboard, I must punish him."

Whoops!

I almost fell over when I heard Itsuki's dangerous line.

First off, how am I supposed to respond to that...?

What are you trying to do staying concealed anyway, what kind of shogun are you?

Are you going to leave right after the revolution?

Didn't I hear some rumours similar to this about the Hero of the Bow?

In hind sight, rumours aren't really reliable since I am known as the saint of the holy bird. But I am almost known as the nefarious Hero of the Shield. Because nobody knows my real identity, I can still get by pretending to be a saint.

As for the reason why Itsuki is hiding, I do not know.

For example... Is the country asking him to hide?

I can't really speculate due to lack of information on Itsuki.

There's little to nothing on the Hero of the Bow either.

Are you hiding intentionally...?

Itsuki: "Everyone, let's go."

Itsuki finished his talk, left the bar, and disappeared into the night.

The next morning, the feudal lord was removed...

After making a mess of the feudal lord's mansion, Itsuki's subordinates revealed themselves to start preaching.

The trash king heard about it, and in the end, the Lordship was transferred to another person.

I am reminded of dramas about olden times and a journey of revolutions.

Are they retarded...?

This is too troublesome to be involved in.

I returned to the hotel after looking for what I originally came for, information on the village that wants to buy food.

Firo's souvenir? There's no way I'll buy something like that in such an expensive town.

I just read my magic book and ignored Firo who seemed to be complaining to me about something.

I learned another spell.

What the aunty from the magic shop told me about the Hero of the shield being good at using support and healing magic seems to be true...

Next morning.

As I expected, adventurers hired by the country are secretly investigating the town, stories about how the lord lost power are everywhere.

In the middle of the town, I see Itsuki engaging in small talk with a beautiful girl.

Girl: "Really, thank you very much."

Itsuki: "There is no such thing. Its secret you know."

That's a secret my ass.

Yup.

My suspicion has been confirmed.

Now I know why there are no rumours of Itsuki.

This guy is pretending to hide himself and creating the image of being humble.

And rejoices when people "finds out" and confront him about it, what an unpleasant hobby.

That guy's retarded.

Hiding your true identity to satisfy your "superhero unmasking for the public" desires, truly obnoxious.

Otherwise, you wouldn't be chatting in such a conspicuous place.

At least I understand the reason she would be indebted to such a guy.

It seems she was almost taken away due to being unable to pay the tax and she has to take care of a bedridden old man.

This is ridiculous. We left the town at a quick pace.

After travelling for half a day, we reached the village bordering a neighbouring country.

It seems that all the food that wasn't sold yesterday is in high demand.

Apparently the entire region is in famine.

However, it looks like there are a lot of guys that aren't residents of this village.

Their clothes don't seem to be from this country.

Naofumi: "Hey. You over there..."

It seems they are from the neighbouring country where their tyrant of a king was exterminated.

Are they here to peddle?

After they looked into my carriage, they came to have a talk about business.

They don't seem to have money so maybe they'll try to barter. Their medical herbs are good and maybe some lumber for woodworking... I got off the carriage and asked about their circumstances.

Villager: "Thanks for saving us money"

Even if I am handed string or coal, as long as I acquire enough, it will be useful.

Though I only traded because they had a nice amount of medical herbs.

Villager: "I'm sorry. For a while now, there has been little to sell....."

If I look closely, he resembles a thin twig, seems like he'll die at any moment.

Naofumi: "...Here's a little gift. Although it's not much, eat it sparingly."

Because it can't be helped, I borrowed a large pan from the group of villagers.

The village suffering from starvation cooperates willingly.

There's many things that are about to rot. Give or take 4 days until they go bad.

That's even after I got the skill Anti-corruption which delays rotting.

Villager: "Thank you very much!"

They hungrily devoured everything I made in the pan.

Meanwhile, I inquired why this is happening.

It seems that regardless of whether or not the king was a tyrant, life was fine.

Taxes weren't too high, and some people even took it easy.

But it seems that was over soon.

It seems that the known as the Resistance that took over, they increased the taxes.

Naofumi: "What? Didn't you guys overthrow the evil king?"

Villager: ".....Money is required to properly administer a country, hence taxes were raised, and military power was also reduced due to cost."

Indeed, rather than the king being bad, it is folly to not even keep a minimum amount of military power in order to defend the country.

It is said that it is not a country without its people, but what do you say about a country that cannot protect its people?

It seems only bad rumours of the king were being spread.

I don't know what the king was thinking but, I feel a strange sense of camaraderie with the king that was labelled as a tyrant.

Something could have been done if the king was negotiated with instead of being exterminated.

As for the trash king in this country, he's been evil since the beginning.

Villager: "Only the head changed and it's becoming impossible to live. So we bring what little wealth we have into this Melromarc country and try to live."

Firo: "I feel sorry for your king~! I wish everyone the best. Anyway, I'm hungry so who do I blame?"

Naofumi: "Shut up you bird! My spirit as the owner will be doubted!"

Firo: "Okay~"

I scolded Firo for opening another's wounds.

It seems recently she has become unable to read the atmosphere, and has become foul-mouthed.

Raphtalia: "I wonder who she is learning from..."

Raphtalia watched and commented under her breath.

Naofumi: "Did you say something?"

Raphtalia: "Nope, absolutely nothing..."

It seems Itsuki took part in the Resistance. He might have been bad behind it since the beginning.

Anyway, are these people entering this country illegally to buy black-market food?

It seems the prices of food have sky-rocketed in this area. And I can just rake it in.

If I'm not mistaken, Itsuki...Shogun-sama has done some reforms around this area.

Though the after service sucks...

Because his sense of justice was satisfied, he moved on.

Villager: "Although this nation could attack our country as it is weakening, it is simply impossible to live during a famine..."

Naofumi: "Hmm I see..."

The wave may also be influencing famines.

Villager: "This is?"

Naofumi: "This is a remodelled plant that was causing trouble down south of this country, I modified it with a special technique so that it will grow when planted. It will probably be okay, but pay attention to managing it. If it is handled carelessly, it could be dangerous."

Villager: "O-Okay....."

Naofumi: "I'll be around this neighbourhood again in the future. You can thank me then."

Because the three carts were sold completely, I gave two seeds as a bonus. As for what will happen to the village? That's a different story.

It seems that my true identity was revealed, but because the small neighbouring country was saved from famine, the residents weren't bothered by it.

Additionally, due to the large amount of medical herbs acquired here, it seems an epidemic was prevented in the east district after we decided to sell there.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 42 – The Village of Plague

---

We were camping outside that day.

Naofumi: "We were somehow able to dispose of that ridiculous amount of food at a high price."

Because the south's famine was already resolved, we had to come to the North and sell.

Though there is still one cart of food left, it is for that absurdly gluttonous bird.

Firo: "Food~~!"

The bird stuffs her head into the cart and starts devouring.

Firo: "Delicious~!"

I've heard the annoying phrase somewhere before.

Although this fellow's growth is over, she's still a glutton. Everyday food costs are nothing to scoff at. On the other hand, we travel extremely fast. However, the carriage went through quite a lot of abuse as various unreasonable actions are performed.

The repair costs are also quite hefty...

Naofumi: "What should I do?"

In this case, maybe the carriage should be made of metal instead of wood. Firo was also complaining about how light it was and considering the higher durability.

Raphtalia overcame her motion sickness, but the g-force from Firo's full speed is ridiculous.

Maybe the shock will be reduced if I add in a spring.

My money has been accumulating nicely. I'm looking forward to meet the old man from the weapon shop.

That weapon shop in the centre of the castle town sells the best weapons. I don't know where the other heroes buy weapons and armour, but I haven't found a shop that sells better equipments than the old man's weapon shop.

Firo: "Master~"

Squish..... Firo hugged me and pressed her feathers to my face
It's the North, so it's a bit cold. Therefore, Firo's feathers that have her body temperature are nice and warm.

Firo: "Ehehe~"

Raphtalia: "Muu....."

For some reason, after I sit down, Raphtalia also clings to me.

Firo: "Hehehe, everyone is nice and warm together"

Naofumi: "It's getting quite hot for me....."

Though, I didn't leave this position because it's still somewhat chilly.

Raphtalia: "Firo, get off. The temperature will be just right after that."

Firo: "No~, if anyone should get off, it's Raphtalia Onee-chan. Stop monopolizing Master!"

Raphtalia: "I'm not monopolizing anything!"

Noisy!

Naofumi: "Both of you go to sleep!"

Raphtalia: "But..."

Firo: "Master~ let's sleep together~!"

Naofumi: "I need to prepare medicine before we arrive at the east area."

In response to the large amount of medical herbs I've acquired, I started mixing treatment medicine zealously.

Though you never know whether or not you have enough...Such are the difficulties of peddling.

Firo: "Boo....."

Firo parted from me and sulked to sleep.

At the same time, Raphtalia entered the carriage. Rather than it being comfortable, it's preferable to sleeping on the ground.

Naofumi: "Now then."

I continue to work on the medicine while tending the fire.

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama"

Naofumi: "Hm?"

I heard Raphtalia's voice from the carriage.

Then I saw Raphtalia beckoning me to the carriage.

Naofumi: "What's wrong?"

Raphtalia: "... Can we sleep together?"

Naofumi: "You too...? Honestly..."

Though they looked like adults, they are still children. Being lonely is a given.

Naofumi: "How bout you sleep with Firo in her human form."

Raphtalia: "I'm not lonely... It's just..."

Raphtalia looked down shyly and fidgets.

That reminds me of the time she was crying non-stop at night... A considerable amount of time has passed since then.

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama... was there anyone you liked...? In your original world?"

Naofumi: "Huh? No not really."

Why would she want to talk about Earth?

I don't get her intentions.

Naofumi: "What's up with you?"

Raphtalia: "Um... I'm just wondering what Naofumi-sama thinks of me."

What?

Hmm... That fucking woman appeared in my mind, but there is no reason to get angry at Raphtalia.

As to the reason why that fucking woman is in my mind, I have no idea.

Naofumi: "At this moment, Slave isn't a very fitting position for you."

Raphtalia: "Then... Is there anything else?"

Naofumi: "Anything else...?"

While I tilt my neck questioningly, Raphtalia has a very delicate expression.

Naofumi: "You trust me. So I trust and value you too..."

Raphtalia: "O-Okay!...hmm?"

Raphtalia nodded with a smile, and returned to bed in the carriage with a puzzled face.

Naofumi: "Now then..."

I continued working for our next peddling trip.

By the way, our respective levels from the fights that happened occasionally.

Me Lv 37

Raphtalia Lv 39

Firo Lv 38

I'm even lower than Firo. Is it because I need more Exp to Level?

No, these two are attackers. Especially Firo, who is more aggressive and agile compared to Raphtalia, obliterates enemies in the blink of an eye.

So she would gain experience quicker.

Raphtalia's attacks gradually speed up and are very reliable.

We arrived at the eastern area of the country.

What can I say? The nearby trees are all dead and the air is heavy.

Though, it's not particularly cold around here.

I observed the soil and it's dark enough to be comparable to black.

When I looked at the sky, the clouds are thick and the big mountain range slowly grows.

What an ominous feeling.

Naofumi: "Umm"

I had to check the map again because the road was cracked.

Naofumi: "Firo, head towards the mountain"

Firo: "Okay~!"

Naofumi: "Also you two, make sure to cover your mouth with a cloth. An epidemic seems to be spreading in this neighbourhood."

Raphtalia: "Okay"

Before we arrive at a farm village I also covered my mouth for a minimum amount of defence.

Villager: "...Is that person... peddling? Sorry, but in this village a plague is spreading *cough*... Please evacuate."

A villager explained to us while having a painful coughing fit.

Naofumi: "I know. That's why I came to sell treatment medicine."

Villager: "Is-Is that true!? We're saved."

The villager starts running and reporting that a peddler with medicine arrived.

... The situation seems to have become considerably tense.

There is some anxiety about the amount I have.

My anxiety comes true, it seems the whole village needs medicine.

Villager: "It-It's the carriage of the famous holy bird! The village is saved!"

Uwaaa.....Such high expectations.

If the medicine is not effective, my hard earned trust will plummet.

It can't be helped.

Naofumi: "Where are the fellows who need medicine?"

I should use the most effective method of giving them the medicine personally.

Villager: "Here. Saint-sama

(TI note: Jesus shieldbro in the house.)

Though I've been called a saint for a while now, it feels a little unsettling. Still, it's a lot better than being looked at with disgust as the Hero of the Shield.

We were guided to a building where the people with the most serious symptoms were gathered.

This is probably an isolation facility.

There is a graveyard at the back and several brand-new grave posts were seen.

...No wonder this place smells of death. I'm sure this is an unpleasant atmosphere exclusive to graveyards and hospitals.

I'm not confident that this will be solved with only treatment medicine.

I shouldn't be conceited because I deciphered a mere Intermediate class recipe.

Moreover, if the treatment medicine is not effective then we're screwed, but if the treatment medicine works, I'll be able to make a large sum of money. Still... It's unsettling. Even though the deciphering was difficult, the effects may not necessarily be that much better.

Next time I stop by the Pharmacy, I'll ask for a High Class Recipe book.

Naofumi: "I would like to see you wife!"

Villager: "Okay"

I woke up a woman who won't stop coughing and give the medicine little by little.

Pa... Light spreads around the woman.

Was it effective? Colour returned to the woman's face. That's great. It seems to have worked.

Naofumi: "Next!"

When I looked up, all the villagers were staring at me with their eyes opened wide in surprise.

Naofumi: "What's wrong?"

Villager: "Uh-Uhmm....."

The child who was laid next to the woman is pointed at.

Some time ago, he was coughing just as bad as the woman.

Hm?

He's dead.....?

I confirmed the child's breathe.

What a relief, he's still alive. However, he was just having a coughing fit.

Why has it stabilised?

Naofumi: "What happened?"

Villager: "When the saint gave my wife medicine, the breathing of the child next to her also seems to have softened."

Hm..... Is this due to the effect of Medicine Effect Range Expansion (Small)?

If the range increases, it will be too useful.

It seems to be able to produce a similar effect of the medicine up to 1 metre of the surroundings.

Just how much potential is hidden within this shield?

But with this range, it will hardly be useful in combat. I'm considering clustering people up within 1 metre, unless the effect diminishes.

Naofumi: "I'll explain the story later! The medicine has an effective radius of 1 metre when drunk. Gather up!"

Villager: "O-Okay!"

Because the manpower is insufficient, the patients were carried into the vicinity by Firo and Raphtalia.

This will save medicine, the treatment of the isolation facility was finished quite early, but it only suppresses the symptoms. I am unable to completely cure the sickness.

Naofumi: "Is this the limit of the treatment medicine..."

Villager: "Thank you very much!"

Even though I was thanked while being unable to fix the situation, I do not feel satisfied.

The risk of being infected becomes apparent and I can't exterminate the sickness.

Naofumi: "That reminds me, where did this sickness come from? Was there an epidemic or something? This is no ordinary disease."

This illness is quite formidable for the treatment medicine to only be this effective.

There is also a risk that we are infected.

We might have to flee as quickly as possible.

Villager: "Umm... It seems the treatment master found that the cause is from a demon that lives within the mountains"

Naofumi: "Give me the details."

Villager: "Then, he..."

A treatment master is an occupation that is proficient in recovery magic and medicine, quite similar to a doctor in my world.

The treatment master was compounding medicine to combat the illness and came by the isolation facility to help out.

Naofumi: "You, can you make High Class treatment medicine?"

Treatment Master: "Yes. I am working on it now. Due to your help with the saint medicine, I can get back to work on it."

Naofumi: "Hurry it up, the treatment isn't complete yet. They will relapse sooner or later"

Treatment Master: "O-okay!"

Naofumi: "Wait"

I stopped the treatment master who is about to run.

Naofumi: "I heard you explained the cause of this sickness is from the mountains. Explain."

Treatment Master: "Ah yes. About a month ago, Hero of the Sword-sama got rid of a huge dragon in the mountain range territory."

Speaking of which, I heard that rumour too.

Treatment Master: "Dragons usually make a stronghold in rural areas. But this dragon was a straggler and builds his nest near the village."

Naofumi: "What does that have to do with anything?"

Treatment Master: "At one time, the villagers gathered to watch the feat of the Hero. So the adventurers go up the mountain and brought back the materials of the dragon that Hero-sama defeated."

It seems that excellent weapons or armour can be made with the materials of a dragon...

Quite enviable.

Naofumi: "Then?"

Treatment Master: "Here is the main issue. All the good material was taken and this deserted village was lively again thanks to it. However, the corpse of the dragon began to rot and a problem appeared. The adventurers who went to see the corpse got sick."

Naofumi: "...Understood. Is the corpse the cause of this illness?"

Treatment Master: "Most likely..."

Although all the materials of the dragon were taken, the corpse was left. The meat. If the dragon rots then what's affected will be the neighbourhood. Some gourmets may want it, but adventurers have no use for decaying meat.

Though I have no idea how dragon meat is treated in this world. It might be delicious but we don't know.

The entrails left behind, especially the liver will rot easily.

Ren that bastard seems to be after the materials, so the entrails are discarded.

There's also the heart... It probably works very well with magic.

Naofumi: "Since the cause is known, you should quickly dispose of it."

Treatment Master: "Removal is impossible for the farmers of this neighbourhood... The mountain range is infested by evil demons."

Naofumi: "Then ask some adventurers"

Treatment Master: "By the time we noticed, the ecosystem of the mountains changed dramatically and poison was mixed into the air. Any common adventurer gets sick immediately. Moreover, adventurers were warned not to approach due to the epidemic."

Sigh...

Ren that guy, dispose of the corpse properly.

Ren is the youngest hero.

I didn't know things rot, until I was a high school student.

Besides, that guy is the Hero most familiar with games.

Even if it is a product of Science Fiction called VRMMO.

It can be said that it is hard to tell the difference between a game and real life, this result seems to have been inevitable.

Treatment Master: "Saint-sama, what will you do?"

Naofumi: "Did you report to the country?"

Treatment Master: "Yes. Medicine is scheduled to arrive shortly."

Naofumi: "... What about the heroes?"

Treatment Master: "There is little possibility of them appearing because they are busy."

He seems to be referring to Motoyasu and Ren.

It is unbearably provoking.

Naofumi: "Has the request fee to the country already been paid?"

Treatment Master: "Yes..."

Naofumi: "Can you get it back if you cancel it?"

The Treatment Master looked at me with wide open eyes.

Treatment Master: "Is the saint-sama going to go?"

Naofumi: "How long will it be until you finish the medicine anyway?"

Treatment Master: "Uhm... it should be in half a day."

Naofumi: "Alright, I'll go get rid of the dragon corpse. Give the request fee to the country to me instead."

Treatment Master: "Un-Understood."

Thus, we went to dispose of a dragon corpse in a mountain.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 43 - Curse Series

---

The influence of the mountain has turned the land into nothing but barren rock.

We advanced slowly along a mountain path in the East of the country.

It's been 30 minutes since beginning to climb, while Firo is running and kicking a demon.

Right now, we have treatment medicine and antidotes due to the poisonous air.

By the way, we left the carriage at the village and only bringing a wagon before heading out.

Firo: "No~! Many of Firo's memories are in here~!"

Firo this fellow, she absolutely wants to pull everything, I'll ditch you here.

You were born last month and you're already talking about life?

Well, I can understand her attachment to the carriage because she has been pulling it for 90% of her life...

There are many demons here that are from the Poison class, such as Poison Tree and Poison Frog.

I diligently let my shield absorb it all after we defeated them.

Requirements for Poison Tree Shield have been revealed.

Requirements for Poison Frog Shield have been revealed.

Requirements for Poison Bee Shield have been revealed.

Requirements for Poison Fly Shield have been revealed.

All the Poison Resistance bonuses have been displaced, and have become status up as equipment bonuses.

The sole exception is the Poison Bee shield.

Bee Needle Shield II

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Attack Power 1

Special Effect: Shield of Stinger (Small) Bee Poison (Poison)

The defensive power hasn't really changed from the Bee Needle Shield, but the paralysis poison can now be changed to poison damage over time.

Well, enough of that, it seem the enemies are appearing quite frequently.

Even after defeating them, another one just takes its place.

Certainly, the wind is full of poison which scattered a plague, this is definitely too severe for a normal adventurer.

Naofumi: "There is no point to killing them all! Firo, run through!"

Raphtalia and I ride the wagon while giving instructions to Firo.

"Okay~!"

Firo pulled the wagon and ploughed through at full power.

Some experience was occasionally gained while running over enemies.

Along the way, Firo ran over a sludge-like demon, but because there was no time I didn't get to absorb it.

And after a few minutes...

Naofumi: "Is this our final destination?"

I saw the corpse of a dragon, leaking poisonous miasma and releasing a foul odour into the air.

The size is around a 10 meters and it resembles a Western-style dragon... However, the features can't be made out any more.

The extent to which it is rotten has made it hard for even the original colour to be seen, all that's left is black miasma-like skin.

It seems the fatal injury would be a single blow to the abdomen. There is a big scar in the abdomen, exposing its internal organs and releasing a putrid smell.

Poison flies gathered around the rotten meat of the dragon. This is quite disgusting...

Firo: "I'm hungry~"

Naofumi: "Is your appetite so great you can still eat after looking at that...?"

Firo began eating the food in the wagon.

Naofumi: "Raphtalia, are you okay?"

Raphtalia: "Y-Yup."

I need to make sure Raphtalia is okay because her respiratory system is weak and the miasma will damage it even more.

Naofumi: "Take a rest as if it gets hard."

Raphtalia: "Okay"

I checked out the other side of the corpse while swatting poison flies. The fingernails, scales, skin, and wings are all gone. Even the tongue was taken. Seem to have been stripped by Ren and the adventurers. It's not an exaggeration to call all that is left bones and meat. Excluding an extremely small portion of skin there is nothing left. The smell is extremely nasty. This is definitely severe. I might be faring better than Raphtalia because of my poison resistance. I have no idea about Firo.

Naofumi: "Raphtalia, exterminate the poison flies. Firo, come dismantle the corpse with me. It's too big for my shield to absorb."

I should let my shield absorb all of it. There is a risk of the soil getting corrupted as well if I bury it.

Firo: "Okay"

Firo finishes her meal with a bloated belly and nods.

Firo: "I feel a little sick."

Naofumi: "That's because you're over eating."

I approached the corpse to dismantle it as planned.

Goso.....

Naofumi: "..... Did it just breathe?"

Raphtalia: "Ummm....."

The dragon's corpse seems to have begun to move.

Oh my, it probably looked like it because of the poison flies flocking on the corpse.

Gorori.....

Yup.

Just my imagination.

The dragon's corpse began to move, and got on its hands and knees in attack mode.

Zombie Dragon: "GYA000000000000000000000000!"

The dragon raised its head and unleashed a roar with its fang-less mouth.

Naofumi: "How the hell can it move!"

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama, please calm down!"

The corpse of the dragon..... No, the zombie dragon began to move as I shouted.

牙も角も無いドラゴンの頭部が
持ち上がって咆哮をあげる。

「あれで動き出すってどうなってるんだよ！」

「ナオフミ様落ち着いてください！」

動き出したドラゴンの死骸……

ドラゴンソングを前にして俺は叫んでいた。

おいおい。幾らなんでも今の俺達には

荷が重過ぎる相手なんじゃないか？

What the hell. This is too much for us.

The Level is unknown and any ability this zombie dragon has is unknown.

What is wrong with this world!

The zombie dragon turned to face us while regenerating each organ.

A part of the wing and tail is regenerated. I don't know whether the fangs and claws will regenerate too.

It seems to be liquidizing the rotting meat and turning it into its wings and tail.

The fatal wound on the abdomen was closing and the internal organs were regenerating.

Dealing with this is impossible for me!

Naofumi: "Let's escape!"

Raphtalia: "But, Firo is already--!"

Raphtalia pointed at the dragon zombie.

Firo: "Terya!!"

At that moment, Firo jumped on the zombie dragon and kicked it in the head.

There was a nice smack and the dragon zombie bends backwards.

Naofumi: "That's unexpected…… Can we fight it?"

Firo's offensive power is high and there are no fangs or claws on this zombie dragon.

We may be able to win, but the opponent does not have the concept of stamina……

However, there is a risk of the zombie dragon coming for the village if we escape there.

Of course, there is also the possibility of it returning to its territory. But it might regenerate everything next time, so it must be defeated now.

Naofumi: "Don't be rash!"

Firo: "Okay!"

Naofumi: "Alright, we're stopping this thing here!"

Raphtalia: "Okay!"

The dragon roared threateningly and attacked.

I change into the Chimeric Viper Shield which has the highest defence, and I am able to block the dragon's attack.

But……

Zombie Dragon: "GYA0000000000000000!"

The zombie dragon shoots purple gas from its mouth at us.

Raphtalia and Firo run behind my back.

I set up my shield and prepare to block the attack.

Naofumi: "Ueh…….What is this!"

Raphtalia: "Cough, Cough"

The real nature of the breath attack is high-concentrated poisonous gas. Even with my poison resistance, I felt breathlessness and dizziness.

I had a coughing fit while Raphtalia behind me is barely able to breathe. While the zombie dragon was shooting its breath, Firo who seemingly unaffected by the gas kicked it and made it stop.

Naofumi: "Ra-Raphtalia, are you all right!?"

Raphtalia: "Coughcoughcough-"

Raphtalia wanted to answer me with tears in her eyes, but she was just coughing non-stop.

.....This might be really bad.

Firo and I can fight, but Raphtalia is out.

Naofumi: "Raphtalia, hurry up and get back, there is an antidote in the carriage. Drink it and rest."

Raphtalia: "Coughcough"

Raphtalia desperately points towards the zombie dragon.

I turned around and see what's happening.

In just a second, the zombie dragon opened its mouth and swallowed Firo who is jumping over it.

Naofumi: "A---"

Bagun!

A loud sound echoes, and from the zombie dragon's mouth crimson liquid drips down.

Naofumi: "FIROOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!"

My mind blanks out and I don't understand anything that Raphtalia is doing. The bird who act like a pampered child ever since being born a month ago, always clinging to me, hugging me……

Memories of Firo were recalled and shown like a revolving lantern.

What happened?

Something……

The zombie dragon chewed its mouth several times, something red leaks out of it, and then the zombie dragon swallowed with a large gulp.

Raphtalia: "Cough!"

Raphtalia slapped my cheek strongly.

I have tears in my eyes.

The situation is only getting worse as I am lost in my own world.

However, all I felt was the anger from my heart after losing an important companion right before my eyes.

---Power, Do you desire it?

I thought I heard a voice from the shield.

I looked at my shield almost unconsciously and listened for the voice.

---Everything, Do you wish for it?

Dokun.

My heartbeat is stronger.

I remember the feeling that is produced from the darkness shield.

This... It's the same feeling after that fight with Motoyasu.....

The skill tree section of the shield appeared.

The skill tree screen turns inside out and a weird background that is neither black nor red appeared another skill tree.

Curse Series

This phrase reverberates in my mind.

The shield glows brightly.

Curse Series

Shield of Fury

Mortar Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Skill "Change Shield (Attack)"

"Iron Maiden"

Special Effect: Self-Burning Curse Physical Strength Improvement.

Being born from the heart, Killer Shield.

On this shield is a particular explanation..... Am I even conscious? I hold my hand over the shield with these feelings.

Shield of Fury

Intense feelings were released from the shield and the shield changes with a red and black light.

There was a crimson shield with decorations of abominations and flames.

Dokun.....Dokun.....

Consciousness was swallowed in anger.

I hate everything in this world.

Everything in this world is black, all there is left are shadows sneering at me.

I am ruled by a single emotion.

Zombie Dragon: "GYA00000000000000000000"

A big black shadow stretched its arm towards me.

Naofumi: "UWAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAH"

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 44 – Shield of Rage

---

Naofumi: "UWAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAH!"

I unleashed a roar which rivalled the dragon's and caught the arm of the shadow with the shield.

I don't feel pain or anything else.

Zombie Dragon: "GYA!?"

The black shadow mouth distorts in astonishment and sneered at me.
Ridiculous.

Naofumi: "DIE!"

I caught the black shadow and throw it.

The black shadow flew while roaring in surprise.

Zombie Dragon: "GYAOOOOO!"

However, the shadow gets up immediately and rushed to attack.

…… Can this shield attack an enemy?

Not available.

The black shadow attacks me with its tail and arms, knocking me to my knees.

Naofumi: "It's not working!"

The attack of the black shadow is not effective on me.

Naofumi: "Haha…… Are you stupid?"

Though, I don't have any means to defeat it.

After that thought, a black flame immediately appeared around my arm and it burned the tail and arms of the black shadow.

Zombie Dragon: "GYAOO!?"

The shadow was surprised at that fact and fell down.

Naofumi: "Hm…… Is there a counter-attack offensive ability in here?"

The shadow is keeping its distance, seemingly afraid.

Naofumi: "Are you begging for your life now? It's too late for forgiveness!"

I slowly recite a skill.

Naofumi: "Iron Maiden!"

However, the skill is not activated and a skill tree appeared in my view.

Shield Prison -> Change Shield (Attack) -> Iron Maiden

Is this the activation conditions?

That's troublesome, I suppose to trigger the counter-attack, I have to trick the shadow into hitting me.

Naofumi: "Wait for me……I'll kill you by any means possible……"

The shadow swings its arm at me, frightened by my murderous intent and anger.

My shield was raised to intercept the arm and a black flame engulfed it.
It roasted the meat and melted the bone.

This amount of heat is insufficient…… I want to erase the existence itself.

Zombie Dragon: "-----OT!"

I see… The angrier I get, the more powerful the Shield of Fury get.

That's simple.

All I have to do is remember my feelings for those bastards.

Mein = Sofia…… Or was her name Malty?

I feel angry just remembering that name.

Next is Trash king, Motoyasu, Ren, and Itsuki.

I remember the things they did to me one by one.

Hate…… I want to kill them……

My anger begins to dissolve into the crimson shield, staining it black.

Naofumi: "This time I'll kill…… Everyone……"

I catch the arm of the shadow and everything is erased, exterminated by the flames of indignation.

The flame wrapped around the entire shadow and consumes it all.

Somebody touches my hand.

Dokun……

This is…… The same gentle feeling as that time?

Raphtalia: "I am different from the whole world which tortures and shuns Naofumi-sama…… I'll say it as many times as it takes, Naofumi-sama won't do something like that."

……Eh?

My visibility warped by darkness slightly shakes.

Somewhere inside of me, a voice is warning me that if I give in to the anger, I will lose what's most precious to me.

I want to deny it. But……

Raphtalia: "Please believe me. I am convinced that Naofumi-sama didn't commit any crime. You are a great Hero of the Shield-sama who gave me medicine to save my life and taught me how to live…… I am your sword and I will follow you no matter what road you take."

A voice whispered to me.

Don't be consumed by the urge to kill.

There is something you must protect.

Did you forget your anger?

I did not forget, but I want to repay the person who so sincerely believes in me.

Do you defy me?

Do not order me. I will decide for myself!

…… I am always here, waiting for an opening……

The black voice disappears and my view becomes bright.

Raphtalia: "Cough! Cough!"

When I noticed, Raphtalia was holding my hand while trying to hold down her coughing.

Naofumi: "Ar-Are you okay?"

She had suffered terrible burns.

There is no enemy here that can use fire.

Just… What…

Ah……

Special effect of the Shield of Fury, Self-Burning Curse.

Naofumi: "Raphtalia!"

Raphtalia: "Coug-"

Raphtalia smiles and collapses.

Because of me… Raphtalia suffered serious wounds.

Naofumi: "I am the Hero of the Shield who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. I call forth the power of nature to heal!"

Naofumi: "Fast Heal!"

Naofumi: "I am the Hero of the Shield who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. I call forth the power of nature to heal!"

Naofumi: "Fast Heal!"

Naofumi: "I am the Hero of the Shield who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. I call forth the power of nature to heal!"

Naofumi: "Fast Heal!"

Until my magic power run out, I did not stop healing.

Raphtalia... Raphtalia is the only person who believed in me!

There are severe burns. Using beginner class recovery magic is insufficient for treatment.

I must hurry to the wagon and use the healing ointments.

Zombie Dragon: "GYAOOOOO!"

I turned around and saw the zombie dragon roar. It faces us and uses its breathe while attacking with its un-burnt arm.

Naofumi: "Get out of my way!"

I intercept the zombie dragon's attack by raising my arm.
The shield shines with a black light and activates Self-Curse Burning.

Naofumi: "Stop it!"

The shield stopped as if responding to my voice.
If the shield activates again here, it will also burn Raphtalia.
I cannot do such a thing. However, the poison breath is very bad for Raphtalia's vitality.

As if in response to my intentions, the shield burns only the poison breath.
But this output is not enough to earnestly slaughter the enemy.

What should I do?

The urge to kill and anger is always supplied to me from the shield, I try to hold it down somehow as to not be swallowed by rage again.

My highest priority now is to return to the wagon quickly and treat Raphtalia.

Protecting Raphtalia is all that's left of my reasoning.

Zombie Dragon: "GYA!?"

While in the midst of attacking and defending, the zombie dragon begins scratching at its chest painfully.

Naofumi: "Wh-what is going on……."

What on earth is happening? Is the Self-Curse Burning burning it from the inside?

Zombie Dragon: "GYA OOOOOOOO!!!"

Eventually, the dragon stops moving and returned to its original corpse form.

Now is not the time to observe the situation.

There seem to be no more poison flies buzzing around.

They probably escaped as a result of the zombie dragon's rampage.

I returned to the wagon with Raphtalia and rub the burn cure made from healing ointments and medical herbs on Raphtalia's burns.

And an antidote was given to Raphtalia.

Raphtalia: "Ah…… Naofumi-sama"

Raphtalia's breathing becomes quiet and opens her eyes to smile at me.

Naofumi: "Are you okay!?"

Raphtalia: "Yeah…… Thank you for the medicine Naofumi-sama……"

Still, her burns are quite severe. Though the simple burns were cured with the medicine…… Because the effect was from black magic, a black trace is left. Though it's a little better, a complete recovery seems unlikely.

Raphtalia: "I-I'm fine…Hurry…the dragon"

Naofumi: "The zombie dragon isn't moving anymore"

Raphtalia: "That's not it…… dispose of the corpse quickly."

Naofumi: "…… Okay."

Raphtalia's strong gaze was directed at the corpse of the dragon.

Naofumi: "Is it safe to leave it here?"

Raphtalia: "If it gets up again, we have no way to fight it."

Naofumi: "I see…… Okay."

I got off the wagon and walked towards to corpse of the dragon.

It is necessary to dismantle the dragon and then let my shield absorb it.

And Firo…… even if it's only a corpse, I have to at least make a grave.

When approaching the corpse, I noticed its internal organs were wriggling.

What on earth is going to happen?

I can barely fight in this state.

Shield of fury……

It's a dangerous shield that erodes the mind, but it provides strong physical defence and a strong counter attack.

I still haven't recovered from when I used it earlier, so I changed to the Chimeric Viper Shield.

But I get ready to respond to anything while taking a stance.

And I approach the corpse.

The wriggling stops in one place, it's getting eaten? The chest is broken and something appeared!

Firo: "Puhaa~!"

A familiar bird that was dripping with rotten liquid walked out of the corpse of the dragon.

Firo: "Fu.....Finally Firo is out"

Naofumi: "Firo? Are you safe? Are you not injured?"

Firo: "Yup. Firo doesn't feel hurt."

Naofumi: "Then..... What about the blood that came out when you were eaten?"

Firo: "Blood? Firo threw up all the food inside the dragon."

Did Firo eat the red fruit that resembles tomatoes.....? Is that why It looked like blood was dripping?

She certainly was eating before the battle.

Naofumi: "Don't scare me like that! I thought you died!"

Firo: "An attack of that level is not even painful,Firo isn't even itchy."

Is this a bird or a monster?

No, it is in fact a demon.

Honestly..... I am surprised.

Firo: "Master, were you worried about Firo?"

Naofumi: "I don't know."

Firo: "Master is embarrassed~"

Naofumi: "Do I have to kill you myself this time?"

Firo: "Noo~"

Sigh..... She's safe, that's great.

I'm angry at the smirking Firo though. I'll remember this.

Naofumi: "So what did you do?"

Firo: "Oh right. There was a big crystal that shined purple inside the stomach of the dragon. So Firo tore it up and it stopped."

Naofumi: "Hmm....."

What does that mean?

Was the foundation of that zombie dragon the big crystal?

The place where Firo came out.....the heart?

But, such a thing.....

Because it's a dragon...? Did the magic that stay in the body all gather in the heart and crystallize?

That might be possible.

Naofumi: "So... The crystal?"

Firo: "Geffuuuuu!"

Yup. She ate it..... I want to smack this fellow.....

Firo: "Firo left a little. A souvenir for Master"

After saying so, Firo passes me a small purple fragment.

..... What can I do with this?

First, I'll let the shield absorb half.

As I thought, the amount of skill trees unlocked and level is insufficient.

Naofumi: "Because Raphtalia is hurt, Firo dispose of the corpse with me.

Firo: "Okay~!"

Honestly..... This bird really surprises me.

I watch Firo and think.

At that time, if I didn't give in to the anger.

After I changed the shield to defeat an enemy for Firo, I completely lost to the anger after that.

If Raphtalia did not stop me, I might have even burned Firo.

Anger..... The shield which was cursed.

Were you trying to take over the consciousness of the hero?

All that I can say is, it gave me an uncontrollable urge to kill.

.....At that time, that was all I could think about.

Firo: "Itadakimasu!"

Naofumi: "Hey Firo, don't eat that meat! It's Rotten!"

Firo: "Meat that's about to go bad is the most delicious, Master~!"

Naofumi: "This one isn't going bad, it's completely rotten!"

And without any tension, the zombie dragon was disposed of.

Though, I couldn't level any skill trees with the bone and meat of the dragon.

Still, the dragon zombie's skin and dragon's bone seem to be useful so I'll put in the wagon.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 45 - The Results of Peddling

---

This is a curse, isn't it?

After hurrying back to the village, I got Raphtalia to see the healers about her burns that I had caused.

Healer: "Even so, this kind is quite strong. The dragon corpse on the mountain had a curse that was this strong?"

Naofumi: "Eh... No... That is..."

Wondering how I was going to answer, I stammered.

Raphtalia: "Yes, I made a mistake and was accidentally burned by the dragon."

Raphtalia smiled while looking in my direction as if to say it was a secret.

Naofumi: "Can you do anything about it? If it's money, I'll pay whatever you need"

Raphtalia is a girl after all. If she has black marks like this, she would stand out which would be troublesome.

Healer: "It's not that it's impossible, but..."

During the preparation, the healers bring a bottle of transparent liquid to the room.

Healer: "It is quite powerful. It could heal her soon..."

Naofumi: "What is that?"

Healer: "It's holy water. To cure a curse, it's best to use holy power..."

Naofumi: "I see"

It seems the injuries would be slow to heal due to the effect of the curse shield until fully healed.

That is very dangerous.

There is no clear distinction between friend and foe. In addition, there is a counter effect on allies.

I can't even think about using it.

Also, after looking at the shield tree, the unsealing wasn't progressing at all. It was only for a short time, but I cannot unseal that shield. I remember having that sort of hunch.

Healer: "Soak the holy water into the bandage..."

The healers apply the holy water soaked bandage to Raphtalia's blackened wounds.

Healer: "Sorry it's so simple for now. Please use powerful holy water made by the church in a large town if possible."

Naofumi: "How much will it heal?"

Healer: "To be honest... it's a fairly strong curse. Whether it can be truly cured... when it comes to the work of dragons..."

The truth is that I did it though. But to think the curse was so powerful that it could be considered the work of a dragon...

Naofumi: "Oh right. How much more medicine will be needed?"

(TI note: all of above is translated by MIZUHOCHAN so all credit goes to him/her, I am merely copy/pasta and mtling the rest)

(TI note: Healer = Treatment master.)

Treatment Master: "This is all I can do for now. Saint-sama, please help the people who are suffering from the illness."

Naofumi: "Okay"

I left Raphtalia in the room with the Treatment master and head to the building where they gather the sick.

As expected of medicine made by a professional.

The sickness that could not be cured with my treatment medicine was easily cured by this.

I felt relieved looking at the sick people breathing calmly in their sleep.

..... I want strength, but not from relying on that kind of shield.

Saving someone from sickness is significant, but I still curse my weakness.

There may come a time where even Firo could get hurt. Thankfully, she was fine this time.

My head blanked in an instant when I thought she died.

I've thought this many times. This world is not a game.

Nobody will revive if they die.

I watch the graveyard behind the isolation facility deep in thought.

I was betrayed and swindled----But I want to protect the people who believe in me no matter what.

I returned to the Treatment room and spoke to Raphtalia who is wrapped in bandages.

Naofumi: "I'm sorry"

Raphtalia: "It's alright"

Naofumi: "But....."

Raphtalia: "I was afraid. Afraid that Naofumi-sama went somewhere far away."

Naofumi: "Eh?"

Raphtalia: "That power, it's trying to drag Naofumi-sama somewhere. That's what I feel. Therefore, this is a cheap price to pay if I was able to stop Naofumi-sama."

Raphtalia's laughing expression pierces my heart.

I must absolutely protect her. With determination, I swear not to lose to that shield.

Naofumi: "Raphtalia, is your sickness cured?"

Raphtalia: "It should be alright for now....."

Naofumi: "Next time I administer medicine, stay close to me. It will serve as prevention."

Raphtalia: "Okay"

Thus, we slept in the village that day.

We worked on the extermination of the epidemic as hard as possible on the next day.

I asked the treatment master if I could help make the medicine and the work was completed earlier than scheduled.

I wanted to learn, but I felt something inside me that was interfering.

(TI note: I'm a little confused with this 教わろうかと思ったが今の俺ではかえって邪魔になる気がした。)

People suffering from illness disappeared and the village becomes peaceful again.

Raphtalia: "Where will we peddle next? Did you ask the treatment master on how to make medicine?"

Procuring holy water for Raphtalia is top-priority now, but I do want to learn how to make High Class medicine.

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama? Won't the wave start soon?"

Eh!?

That reminds me.

What Raphtalia says return me from my thoughts.

I hastily open the arrival prediction window.

There are only 3 and a half days left!

Naofumi: "This is bad! We only have a little over 3 days remaining!"

Preparations will be insufficient.

Naofumi: "Firo, let's hurry to the castle town!"

Firo: "Roger~"

Village Chief: "Uhhh Saint-sama...this....."

I was presented a bag full of money by the village chief.

Village Chief: "Saint-sama this is the money you asked for. Please accept it."

Come to think of it, my real identity is still hidden.

Naofumi: "Yeah....."

I receive the bag of money and count how much is inside.

.....I put half in another bag and return it

Village Chief: "Eh?"

Naofumi: "It wasn't my power alone. This is for the outstanding treatment master who is in this village. Hand it to him."

Village Chief: "O-okay....."

Yup, it would have been really dangerous this time if that treatment master was not here.

Because just suppressing the illness is already my limit.

That person contributed just as much.

Naofumi: "See ya."

Village Chief: "Ah, thank you very much!"

The group of villagers saw us off together.

When these guys know my real identity, will they look at me in disgust?

It's a complicated feeling.

I stow it away in the corner of my head, because there are preparations to be made.

I can't care about the condition of the carriage at a time like this!

We rushed to the castle town.

There was a rumour about a carriage that was roaring down the road with frightening speed after that day.

On the way.

Firo: "Master~ something is-"

Naofumi: "Hm?"

I come out of the carriage.

Wild Philorial A appears!

Wild Philorial B appears!

Wild Philorial C appears!

Wild Philorials: ""Gua!?"""

Firo looked at the Philorial with an astonished expression.

Philorial A, B and C looked at Firo with the same expression and ran away.

Naofumi: "What was that?"

Running away right when encountering……

That is the behaviour pattern of rare monsters that have delicious experiences points and money.

Though, I can't expect a lot of experience from Philorials in such a place. Maybe they were just surprised to see a Philorial Queen and ran away.

Firo: "What an appetizing bird. Whenever we pass someone, they have one."

Naofumi: "They are from the same family as you."

I noted that Firo is licking her lips. Is there anything this fellow doesn't see as food?

It is scary that she is likely to perform cannibalism

Firo: "Master, if we chase now we can still kill them~"

Naofumi: "……Stop it."

It's still not too late now?

This fellow has no sense of tension at all.

That reminds me, I did not check our lvl after the fight with the zombie dragon.

Me Lvl 38

Raphtalia Lv 40 ★

Firo Lv 40 ★

★..... Star?

Naofumi: "Hey, do you guys know of the star next to your lvls?"

I have a bad feeling. What could it be?

Raphtalia: "No....."

Firo: "Firo has no idea"

Hmm..... Let's see, Help.

.....I don't understand it.

I can't find anything on the ★.

At long last, we arrived at the castle town.

Naofumi: "Let's go to the old man and get some weapons and armour to prepare for the wave"

After a long absence, the old man from the weapons shop just watches us with a hand on the middle of his forehead and seems to be lost in thought.

Old Man: "Hey lad, don't just appear so suddenly."

Naofumi: "Don't you know sudden events go hand in hand with business?"

Old Man: "Well, that's true. So, what's your budget?"

Naofumi: "Let's see"

I put my month's earnings on the counter in front of the old man. It's about four large bags of money.

Naofumi: "This is all the silver coins."

Old Man: "Count properly lad! How did you make such a killing!?"

Naofumi: "Hahaha, this is the result of peddling"

Old Man: "Seriously…… What a surprising hobby for you to have"

Naofumi: "It's not unfortunate."

Old Man: "Well, did you count how much there is?"

Naofumi: "Uhh"

The contents of the money bags were counted by Raphtalia, the old man and me.

Old Man: "So, how did the missy get injured?"

The old man points at Raphtalia while counting money.

Raphtalia: "Uhh, earlier I received a powerful curse attack by a powerful demon."

I stop counting and looked at Raphtalia.

Old Man: "Ah, yea curses are troublesome. Did you get any treatment?"

Naofumi: "Yeah, after this we will go buy some holy water at the church."

Old Man: "I see"

Why are you lying……? Is it because it's a curse that I gave?

Phew.

Naofumi: "After buying equipment, can I request a carriage made of metal?"

Old Man: "Don't order anything from me lad"

Naofumi: "You can't do it?"

Old Man: "Well…… I'm familiar with dealing with metal"

Though it may look like a lot, but there is surprisingly little after being converted from silver coins.

Old Man: "This is equivalent to 70 gold coins! Lad, your earnings are tremendous"

Naofumi: "I am aware of my business talents"

Though I'm not sure if I actually possess such talents, I am conceited.
I feel like I have done a few things similar to merchants of death.

Naofumi: "Oh right, there is various equipments taken off of thieves."

I gave instructions to Firo who has been restless within the goods store and told her to bring in the various armours from the carriage.

Naofumi: "This is for trade-ins"

Old Man: "Lad, this is too much"

Naofumi: "How much equipment can I get with only this much?"

Old Man: "Let's see…… The missy can get a new weapon and you can get some gauntlets."

The old man is rather impressive and I start to think.

Old Man: "I am thankful that you're favouring my shop, but go to another shop to trade-in."

Naofumi: "What do you mean?"

Old Man: "Recently, the other heroes haven't been seen, so you could go check out the other excellent shops."

Naofumi: "Hmmm....."

I haven't considered that. Because they have knowledge from games, the possibility of knowing where they can get better equipment than from the old man shop is quite high.

Let's assume that the best shop in this city is the old man's..... Are they somewhere in another country?

Naofumi: "Do you have any idea?"

Old Man: "There might be something in the neighbouring country."

Naofumi: "Your shop is good enough, I'd rather not waste time on speculations."

Old Man: "Lad....."

Naofumi: "Even the worse weapons and armours I've seen you make are quite good. Is that a skill?"

Old Man: "What are you saying! I was a disciple of a master craftsman in the east when I was young."

Naofumi: "Exactly. I'll be in your care because it's efficient."

Old Man: "Lad. I understand. I'll live up to your expectations!"

The old man left the counter and started browsing the wares in his own shop.

Old Man: "Let's see..... For the missy, a High class magic sword should be adequate. Needless to say the Blood Clean coating will be applied after it's completed."

It cost 10 gold. Of course there were some trade-ins included in the 10 gold.

Old Man: "Next is magic silver armour that has a magic defence within an appropriate range."

Naofumi: "Magic Defence?"

Old Man: "The process of absorbing the magical power of the wielder to boost defence."

Naofumi: "I see."

I want to make Raphtalia's defence as high as it can because there is a possibility I could hurt Raphtalia.

The old man moves 10 pieces of gold again. It's quite expensive.

But.....

Naofumi: "Hey, isn't there better equipment that I can buy?"

Old Man: "The metal carriage and the missy's treatment will be quite expensive. Also, it is absurd to have equipment that doesn't balance with you."

Naofumi: "That makes sense."

Old Man: "This is also the limit for equipment around here for now."

Naofumi: "Ah, so that's why."

I'll take the old man's word for it if the equipment is good enough.

Old Man: "From here on out it needs to be custom-made. Come back later."

Naofumi: "So for the trouble, but the wave comes in 3 days, will it be done in time?"

Old Man: "I won't have enough time if I have to procure the materials."

.....that's what I figured.

Old Man: "I already have various materials, but it's not enough."

Naofumi: "Well..... Can you use the skin of a decaying dragon?"

Old Man: "That's not a problem, what are you going to do lad?"

Naofumi: "What am I going to do?"

Old Man: "I can lighten the heavy equipment because you prefer it, and I can make new equipment with any materials you bring."

Naofumi: "By the way, will the performance be good?"

Old Man: "It can be done easily, the durability will be good too."

Naofumi: "Hmm..... by the way, would the performance go up if you add bone to the armour? Similar to the armour of the savage tribes."

Old Man: "Ah, I was going to recommend that. Chimera and Dragon materials are amazing! It would be perfect to protect the core of the armour with dragon skin too."

The core of the armour was that souvenir from Firo and a certain dragon. It seems it will become some good armour.

Naofumi: "Then…… can I order it?"

Old Man: "Thanks for business, there will be extra fees for processing costs and material charges."

After saying so, the old man moves another 5 pieces of gold and takes the materials to the inner part of the counter.

Old Man: "I can put the bone armour onto what you already have equipped."

Naofumi: "Okay"

I go to the changing room to change and put the armour on the counter.

Firo: "Master is just like a villager"

Naofumi: "Shut up"

This bird has a foul mouth.

Firo: "Hey Hey, What about Firo?"

Naofumi: "You're getting a new carriage"

I made the arrangements with the old man for a metal carriage. It was quite costly.

It cost me 10 gold coins.

Well, there were some bonuses added in.

Firo: "Firo wants armour like Raphtalia Onee-san and Master~"

Naofumi: "No"

Firo: "I want it! I want it! I want it!"

I'm pretty frustrated by this bird's whining.

Old Man: "Don't be like that lad. I'll do you a favour and lend you the equipment for that little bird missy"

Naofumi: "You see....."

I tell him this fellow's offensive ability already surpasses Raphtalia and that's with her bare hands.

That is already sufficient.

Naofumi: "Is there anything?"

Old Man: "Hmm. Does the Bird missy usually fight in her Demon form?"

Naofumi: "Yeah"

Old Man: "Well then that's outside of my jurisdiction. It's not impossible to acquire equipment from demon shops though."

Naofumi: "Demon trader....."

I am reminded of that nasty smile. The gentleman in my imagination.

Old Man: "Do you need me to introduce you?"

Naofumi: "No, I know someone."

Should we go meet him?

Old Man: "Then..... Come back two days later for the equipment."

Naofumi: 'Okay. So…… Old man"

Old Man: "What's up?"

Naofumi: "Do you know about the stars attached next to a Lvl?"

Old Man:"Oh? Did you get strong enough to Class-up?"

Naofumi: "Class up?"

Old Man:"The lad doesn't know? The class up is a growth limit breakthrough. When levels are raised to their limit, a class up can be done, after that power can rise even further."

What was that!?

In other words, it's a rite of passage for a job change in gaming terms.

Unless a Class up is performed, they can't get stronger?

Old Man: "Originally, if you are a knight loyal to the country or a magician adventurer, you can get a class up. But will you be granted one as a Hero?"

When I think about it, it was no wonder thief groups were so weak. The highest Lv is 40. Using the fact that, unworthy adventurers and villages cannot class up, power is managed.

The reason is that if the country does not deem you trustworthy a class up is not granted……

Old Man: "There are worries as to what direction to take during a class up…… But if you get a star, then all the possibilities are open."

Naofumi: "……Where can I class up?"

Old Man: "It can be done in at the Hourglass of the Dragon's era."

You can do it in such a place? No wonder the management was so strict.
..... Then meeting the other heroes there, Was it because of Class up?
I wonder what their Levels are.
As expected, I feel irritated.

Naofumi: "Then I'm going to head out"

If it's possible, I should do it as quickly as I can.
We left the weapon shop and hurry to the Hourglass of the Dragon's era.
Because our carriage has reached its limit, we left it at the back of the weapon shop.
Firo is in human form.

Raphtalia: "What are we going to do?"

Naofumi: "Um....."

Every day, I feel that there is some kind of weird atmosphere in the inn.
(tl note: Not sure what this means 毎日、宿屋で見ているはずなのに、何か珍しい構図になってしまっているような気がする。)
It seems there were many people with birds similar to this fellow.
That would be the result.

Naofumi: "Now that I think about it, what exactly does class up expand?"

Raphtalia: "I want to Class up as per Naofumi-sama's request."

Naofumi: ".....Stop that. Raphtalia, you must decide your own possibility yourself."

In the games of old, the class change would let you choose between a light route and a dark route, the person in question has to make the choice themselves.

Naofumi: "When the wave is over and I return to my own world, you must live for yourself."

Raphtalia: "Eh…… Naofumi-sama will go back?"

Naofumi: "Yeah"

I have no attachments to this world either. There are people that I want to repay, but I will do that by saving the world.

I do not wish to remain in such an unpleasant world.

Raphtalia: "Can you take me with you?"

Naofumi: "Where?"

Where would you stay? If someone like Raphtalia comes to my world, it would look strange.

Firo: "Firo wants to go too. Where are you going?"

Naofumi: "Firo is impossible……."

Firo: "Really?"

Naofumi: "Oh well. Firo what class up do you want?"

Firo: "Firo wants to be able to spit poison~!"

Naofumi: "…………."

I was at a loss for words. All I can muster is. What is up with this bird?

Was it that? Recently we've been fighting a lot of demons that had the ability to use poison.

Like that Bio Plant and Zombie dragon.

Naofumi: "You're already poisonous enough"

By that I mean your tongue.

Firo: "Really!?"

Firo exhales and checks her breath.

Firo: "It's not coming out?"

Naofumi: "That's not what I meant. Anyways, let's go."

As for us, we head to the Hourglass of the Dragon's era full of expectations.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 46 – Exit By A Kick, Again

---

We arrived at the Hourglass of the Dragon's era.

As usual, the facilities give off a solemn atmosphere.

Sister: "Hero of the Shield-sama right?"

Just like before the sister stares at me with a suspicious expression.

Naofumi: "Yeah....."

Sister: "What do you want this time?"

Naofumi: "I want to Class up"

Sister: "Then..... 15 gold per person."

15 gold!? No matter how you look at it, that's too expensive!

The sister's expression doesn't change but her eyes are smiling.

You want to make me look like a fool for not being able to pay?

Naofumi: "Just 15 gold."

I reluctantly reach for my bag of money and produce 30 gold coins.

The sister's expression changes and produces a document.

Sister: ".....It is prohibited for the Hero of the shield-sama"

Naofumi: "What did you say? What does that mean!"

Sister: "By the king's direct order, the Hero of the Shield is prohibited from getting a Class up"

That fucking king! I honestly want to kill him!

I especially need stats, and to top it off, that ridiculous Class up cost. Being turned down without even knowing about it.

At this rate it will be impossible to Level up!

Controlling any job changes without permission is just player control!

Naofumi: "Don't joke around!"

Sister: "That's the rules. In the first place, it is impossible for the Hero of the shield-sama....."

Naofumi: "Say that first!"

I burst into a fit of rage and knights start appearing from behind the reception.

Naofumi: "Tch! Fine! I get it!"

I stomp towards the Hourglass of the Dragon's era noisily.

Seriously, everything about this is unpleasant, especially this country!

Raphtalia: "But, what now?"

Raphtalia was troubled and muttered, this is certainly a big problem.

Firo: "Hey hey, what is that hour glass? Firo wants to see more!"

Naofumi: "Hold it"

While feeling unpleasant, I go take a look at the help section.

.....Class up was found.

Class up is a ceremony that expands the possibilities of members who become Hero companions.

Let's check the Hourglass of the Dragon's era.

It is recommended that I do it after a ★ appears.

There is no growth limit for a Hero.

Heroes have no growth limit?.....

Does that mean I can get past level 40?

But, this is still very unpleasant!

If Raphtalia cannot Class up, there will be problems with our attack power.

Raphtalia: "What should we do?....."

Naofumi: "Can't be helped, we'll do this later."

Fortunately, raising our levels was not scheduled until after this wave has passed, I'll think about it afterwards.

There is also the trump card of having Raphtalia become an adventurer and acquire a class up recommendation that way.

It can probably be done with more money.

But, there is no time now.

Searching for that would also be especially difficult.

That reminds me, the slave trader had slaves over Level 40. Wasn't I going to go there anyway to get a weapon for Firo?

Motoyasu: "Ahhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh!"

What's that?

I turned around and see Motoyasu pointing at me.

Motoyasu: "You! What are you doing!"

Naofumi: "What? Don't apply some strange connection to me."

Motoyasu: "Are you trying to play dumb? I know. The owner of that fat bird is you."

Fat bird..... is he talking about Firo?

Naofumi: "Come to think of it, how's your crotch?"

Motoyasu: "It was almost crushed, Thanks to this fucking guy!"

Naofumi: "What.....!?"

It wasn't destroyed!? Don't joke around!

To be kicked by such power and still not lose its function?

Naofumi: "You haven't lived up to my expectations."

Motoyasu: "You bastard-"

Naofumi: "It's not me who did it! Why would your crotch be destroyed?"

I asked Raphtalia who looks amazed.

Oh right, Raphtalia was not there to witness this guy getting blown away.

Raphtalia: "Why are you looking at me with pity?"

Naofumi: "Because you missed a really refreshing moment?"

Raphtalia: "I don't need to know such a thing!"

Motoyasu: "Fine, hand over the fat bird! I'll kill him!"

Naofumi: "You want my bird? What even happened? You are the one who approached carelessly."

Motoyasu: "Are you feigning ignorance? I was kicked whenever that bird spotted me!"

Hm? What did he say?

Is it fate?

Naofumi: "What do you mean?"

Motoyasu: "I said, whenever we meet with your fat bird, it chases me to kick!"

I look at Firo.

Then Firo says.

Firo: "Yup. I kick him every time I see him"

Naofumi: "I see, I see, that's great"

Firo: "Ehehe"

Raphtalia: "Why are you praising her!?"

I pat Firo's head.

I noticed that on Motoyasu's nice equipment, there is a crotch protector in the groin area.

That is hilarious! This guy has a trauma!

I burst out laughing.

Naofumi: "Ahahahaha!"

Motoyasu: "That's enough you bastard!"

Motoyasu's companions: "That's right! Motoyasu-sama, don't concern yourself with that unpleasant shield!"

What are you saying, you follower.

That fucking woman's face is red while denouncing me.

This is refreshing.

Raphtalia: "What a refreshing smile, I haven't seen Naofumi-sama smile like that before."

Motoyasu: "You-"

Motoyasu clenched his fist and grabbed my coat.

Firo: "Master~ Firo is hungry!"

The bird that cannot read the atmosphere asserted itself.

Motoyasu's gaze turns to her.

Pita.

Motoyasu stiffens when he makes eye contact with Firo.

.....What's the matter?

Motoyasu: "Deryaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

He takes a second look at me and throws a haymaker punch to my face, but I caught it.

Naofumi: "What was that? If you want to have a fight, use your spear"

Motoyasu: "Miss! Hurry up and run away! This guy is very dangerous"

Motoyasu shouts in the direction of Firo, trying to look like a good person.

That's the fat bird you wanted to kill not long ago.

Oh right, she's in her human form now.

Is it because she's pretty? That does seem like Motoyasu.

Firo: "Eh? Master is not dangerous, right~?"

Motoyasu: "That is your master!?"

Motoyasu's face is dyed with anger.

Motoyasu: "You have another slave again!"

Naofumi: "What's with you..... Do you have a problem because she's a woman?"

Motoyasu: "Wrong!"

I talk big.

Motoyasu: "Amazing..... This is the first time I saw such an ideal woman....."

Naofumi: ".....Ha?"

Motoyasu: "I did not think a girl so similar to Flonne-chan would exist in the world!"

Who is that?

..... It's a game character.

That reminds me, Firo's appearance is that of a certain pure daughter angel who is from a game in my world.

(TI note: <http://i.imgur.com/9wNrM5N.jpg> <- Flonne from Disgaea)

Motoyasu: "I, What a moe angel....."

Naofumi: "Shut up! I do not want to know your sexual preferences!"

Motoyasu: "Different worlds are the best!"

Motoyasu's tension reaches its climax.

The moods of his followers are the opposite.

I don't see the human being that flew into a rage a while ago.

However, I see Firo with a well-defined expression.

Motoyasu: "Miss, what is your name?"

Firo: "Uhhh It's Firo"

Naofumi: "Don't just answer honestly!"

Motoyasu takes Firo's hand affectionately.

Motoyasu: "This guy is probably working you like a coach horse. I will save you."

Firo: "Well, Firo deosn't pull the carriage like a horse."

You should just accept it. That's the kind of race she is.

Firo: "Firo pulled a heavy carriage everyday for more than a month!"

Annoying, I don't see this ending well.

Motoyasu: "You bastard-----!"

Motoyasu is being noisy.

I don't have a lot of time. I want to leave already.

Motoyasu: "Release Firo-chan!"

Naofumi: "This again!?"

It didn't work for Raphtalia, so it's Firo this time?

Do you want to take away my subordinates so much?

Motoyasu shouts with blood thirst and turned his spear to me.

At that time.

Firo: "What are you doing to master!"

Firo knits her eyebrows and asked.

Motoyasu: "Don't worry Firo-chan. I will save you!"

You're not listening!

Completely in his own world.....

Naofumi: "Anyway, that fat bird you were looking for. That's Firo."

Motoyasu: "Naofumi! You bastard! To say such a thing to a girl!"

Naofumi: "It's you. You're the one who has been calling Firo that. You even said you wanted to kill her."

Motoyasu: "Haa?"

This guy looks at me like I'm stupid.

Though, I do call her a fat bird.

Naofumi: "Anyway, stop complai-"

Firo: "Firo will protect Master~!"

With a Bofun, Firo returns to her true from.

Motoyasu: "Eh? What?"

Firo raises her foot and kicks Motoyasu in the groin while he is dumbfounded.

Motoyasu: "Ahhhhhhhhhhh-"

I was able to see it. With a perplexed expression, Motoyasu flies over 10 meters while spinning.

Furthermore, the crotch protector was shattered.

Motoyasu: "Uge!"

Were they destroyed this time?

No, they were probably okay. There was a crotch protector.

Naofumi: "Now then, let's ignore the fool and move on."

Raphtalia's face is blue and is muttering awawawa.

Still, his entourage is not trying to help him.

Well..... a lot of unpleasant feelings were blown away.

I must give Firo a reward.

Naofumi: "Alright, shall we go to the slave trader now?"

Firo returns to her human form with a frightened expression.

Firo: "Firo is going to be sold?"

Naofumi: "Don't worry, I'm not going to sell you, I'm going to buy you a reward."

It seems she has been faithfully following orders and whenever we come across Motoyasu, he is kicked, not to mention that blow just now. This good behaviour must be rewarded.

Naofumi: "I shall buy the equipment you wanted."

Firo: "Yay! Firo also wants food too!"

Naofumi: "Yeah, definitely."

Firo: "Then, Firo wants food cooked by Master~"

Naofumi: "Very well. This will be special."

Firo: "Yaay~!"

Firo begins skipping happily.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 47 – Welcome

---

Slave trader: "My my, if it isn't Hero-sama. Welcome."

Naofumi: "I certainly was not expecting this."

We show up at the Slave trader's after the run-in with Motoyasu.

Slave trader: "What business do you have today?"

Naofumi: "Putting that aside....."

I am quite concerned with how the slave trader is dressed.

Even his subordinates..... They are all wearing luxurious accessories that are shaped like wings.

Naofumi: "That wing design looks good"

Slave trader: "Thanks to Hero-sama. Yup"

Naofumi: "Ha?"

Slave trader: "These profits were due to the Hero-sama peddling."

Naofumi: "What do you mean?"

I can think of several reasons, but none of them are too significant.

Slave trader: "First of all, is the infamous Philorial Queen. Many nobles with demon collections are trying to obtain one. Yup"

Ah, so the reason his reputation rose is because Firo was pulling the carriage. Well, she is certainly a rare demon. If someone wanted one, they would of course come to the slave trader and check.

And whenever a noble comes, he just points them to my direction.

While knowing that, I will not sell Firo because of her rampage.

Slave trader: "So when they give up, they purchase various other demons.

Yup"

Naofumi: "That's just like you"

At the moment, the condition to become a Philorial Queen is uncertain.

Otherwise there would be a lot more sold.

Will it become a queen if it's raised by a hero?

Two is not a good idea..... Firo alone is troublesome enough.

Slave trader: "Next, because Hero-sama's slaves are seen, there is a rumour that my shop's slaves are high quality, so I get some extra profits.

Yup"

It's Raphtalia this time huh.....

Raphtalia is certainly a beauty with a great figure.

Once people know where she came from, they would give them credit.

Will everything I do raise the slave trader's reputation?

Slave trader: "So, what do you need this time? Another slave? Maybe your co-operation on Philorial experiments?"

The slave trader rubs his hands together happily.

Naofumi: "No, I came for demon dealer business this time."

Slave trader: "Then Philorial experiments it is."

Naofumi: "That's not it"

Are there only 2 options in this guy's head?

Slave trader: "So, what do you need?"

Naofumi: "Ah, I was wondering whether or not I could purchase equipment for Firo here."

Slave trader: "Equipment?..... That can be done"

The slave trader turned to observe Firo.

The slave trader hummed cheerfully as Firo ran and hid behind my back.

As expected, she is bad with him.

Slave trader: "Would a horseshoe shaped weapon suffice? There is also armour made for Philorials....."

Armour is probably impossible, it is unreasonable to tailor-make something considering Firo's body size.

Naofumi: "Do you have anything for charging?"

Slave trader: "You could equip a helmet. To use when tackling"

Naofumi: "Hmm....."

The horseshoes might work since she is not a horse.

Slave trader: "What about the claws?"

Firo: "Firo, what do you want?"

Firo: "Eh?"

Were you too scared of the slave trader to listen?

Naofumi: "You can get a helmet or have shoes attached to your feet."

Firo: "Umm..... When Firo transforms it will dig into my skin, No~"

Ah, is the threat from the dressmaker's still working?

It would be no problem in her demon form, but it would be very heavy for her in human form.

The horseshoe would dig into the foot too and the size of the armour might not be correct.

We head to the magic shop, it seems to be possible to add the string to metal plates, but it would be very expensive.

The defence would not increase that much either.

Slave trader: "How about de-attachable claws, yup."

Naofumi: "Firo, is that fine?"

Firo: "Yes"

Slave trader: "We need to measure the size so release her demon form please. Yup"

Naofumi: "Oh right"

Firo: "Okay~"

With a Bofun, Firo returns to her demon form and sticks her foot out.

A subordinate of the slave trader measure the size of Firo's foot.

Slave trader: "Hmm..... She is considerably larger than an average Philorial"

Naofumi: "Is there any you can prepare immediately?"

Slave trader: "I think we have one just barely her size. Are you all right with iron?"

I wonder what kind of offensive power I can expect.

Should I be looking for hardness? If it's sharp.....

Naofumi: "That's fine, I can afford to get this fellow something good."

Slave trader: "I understand. Iron with magical properties is the best I can prepare for now."

Naofumi: "By the way, how much is it?"

Slave trader: "Because of the help from Hero-sama, I will sell it to you for half the market price, which will be 5 gold coins."

Naofumi: "May I haggle further?"

Slave trader: "Hero-sama's greed is giving me the shivers. Fine, I'll compromise for 4 gold."

Naofumi: "Done. Also, throw in a good bridle."

Slave trader: "Sold!"

The slave trader's tension is high. Though he feels easy to deal with, I feel like I'm being used.

What scary business sense. This guy.

A big claw is brought out from the back of the tent.

The size of the metal claw seems to fit Firo's foot just right. That's good.

Naofumi: "This thing is huge"

Slave trader: "It's a claw meant for Wyverns. There is a bigger size too."

You're not even a Philorial anymore?

Firo: "Firo will wear this?"

Naofumi: "Yeah, it is your weapon."

Firo pick up the claw and equip it.

Firo: "It fits perfectly"

Naofumi: "Seems like it."

All that's left is to connect the claw to the foot with a cord.

Firo raises her foot to confirm if the claw is actually attached.

Firo: "Feels strange~"

Naofumi: "This will make your offensive power even stronger than before, you'll get used to it."

Firo's attack power with her leg is still ridiculous. Having it increase even more.....

The scene where Firo kicked Motoyasu is replayed in my mind.

This time, it seems Firo's kick will rip it apart.

Naofumi: "Firo, next time you kick that spear guy, do not use the claw."

Firo: "Why not~?"

Naofumi: "Because the balls will be completely crushed."

Though imperfect, he is a Hero. I do not know what consequences there will be if I murder him. I feel it's a little late now.

That guy's reason to live is to become popular with woman.

For Motoyasu being kicked in the groin by my subordinate would be very mortifying.

If that happened, who would be the one to inform that trash king?

Firo: "Hmm"

Firo concentrates really hard on the claw that we just bought.

Am I hearing properly?

Oh well..... Whatever happens to Motoyasu doesn't concern me.

I gave the slave trader 4 gold coins.

Firo: "Firo deosn't need the armour after all~"

Do the nails not fit? Firo seems to think that the armour is unnecessary.

Well, if you don't want it then that's fine.

Naofumi: "Now then, next....."

Hmm, I'm sure there was other business.

I can't remember after watching Motoyasu get blown off.

Certainly Raphtalia and Firo..... Ah I remember.

Naofumi: "Hey, slave trader. Is it possible for you to provide Class up here?"

Slave trader: "Class up you say?"

Naofumi: "Yeah, because the trash king won't let my subordinates who reached level 40 class up, I am having a little trouble. I remember seeing some slaves here above level 40."

I tell the slave trader my request and he puts his hand on his chin to think.

Slave trader: "Hero-sama, I regret to inform you that I cannot help with that. I do not have a letter of introduction."

Naofumi: "I see....."

Did this guy Class up from the power of a slave trader?

Slave trader: "If you obtain enough trust with neighbouring countries, you can use their Hourglass of the Dragon's era to perform Class Up."

Naofumi: "What?"

Wait a minute, this isn't the only country with a Hourglass of the Dragon's era?

Naofumi: "They are also in other countries?"

Slave trader: "Yes, though it might take you time to gain their trust....."

Time is very precious right now and I cannot waste it.

Will the Hero of the Shield have a bad reputation in the neighbouring countries?

This might be difficult.

Slave trader: "You can do it at the mercenary's country ZerutoBuru, the Demi-human country Silt Welt, and ShirudoFuriden is also available. Yup"

Naofumi: "There's that many?"

Slave trader: "Yes, for Hero-sama, I would recommend Silt Welt or ShirudoFuriden. You have a free pass there."

Naofumi: "Hmm..... How long would it take me to get there?"

Slave trader: "Let's see, by carriage it would be one month, and two weeks by boat."

The slave trader brought out a map and taught me the road.

Certainly, it is quite far from Melromarc.

It would take Firo a little over two weeks to arrive.

Though, if we don't push it, 3 weeks would be the case.

Two weeks on a ship sounds good, but I would not be able to do anything during that.

Slave trader: "If there was a wyvern around here, Hero-sama would be able to get there very quickly."

Naofumi: "It is far....."

However, it would be important to Class Up because of our situation.

It shouldn't be that bad if I get new materials and monsters for my shield to absorb.

There is no meaning to stay here any longer as Raphtalia and Firo cannot improve.

Should we just go to the country of Demi-humans?

Naofumi: "I suppose we'll go when the wave is over."

Seriously, that trash king is devoting so much passion into annoying me.

Naofumi: "I am indebted to you."

Slave trader: "If that's what you think then by all means-"

Naofumi: "I refuse. Oh right. Do you sell humans here?"

I was wondering if it would be better to sell thieves here instead of killing them.

Slave trader: "Humans are impossible in this country. If you look deeper, there are people who will buy, but there is risk and quality to watch for."

Indeed, so Demi-humans are fine in this country. I guess this is a country of human supremacy.

Naofumi: "Well then, see you."

Thus, we left the slave trader's tent. Firo returns to her human form and ties her claws with a cord to carry.

However, Raphtalia was quiet all the while during the conversation with the slave trader.

Well, it is admirable that she didn't intervene in a business talk and make it awkward.

Naofumi: "It's your turn, Raphtalia."

Raphtalia: "For?"

Naofumi: "Holy water. I'm sure it's sold at a church"

Raphtalia: "Ah, yeah"

Naofumi: "You're a girl, Raphtalia, these black bruises would be bad."

Raphtalia: "Well..... If Naofumi-sama is worried."

Raphtalia mutters bashfully.

Naofumi: "No, I don't mind them. It's because I caused them."

Raphtalia: "So that's what you mean..... It's nothing"

I don't understand Raphtalia sometimes.

Well, either way it's decided.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 4B – Accusations of Identity Fraud

---

We arrived at an outstanding church within the castle town.

Sister: "He-Hero of the Shield!?"

I was greeted by an extremely bitter face.

Just how much do you reject me to show such a face?

As I expected, due to the rape accusation scandal will I be refused entry to the church?

Priest: "Do not be alarmed."

The priest from the church came and scolded the sister who scowled at us.
..... Something feels off, but there is nothing I can do about it.

Priest: "What do you need from our church?"

Naofumi: "Ah, my companion received a strong curse, so I would like to purchase strong holy water."

This guy did not openly antagonise me, so let's stay neutral.

A price list is hanging from the wall.

Priest: "Then, please give an offering."

Are you asking for an offering because I am supposed to know the price from the price tag?

Naofumi: "How much is it?"

Priest: "The effect from the cheapest to strongest holy water is 5 silver, 10 silver, 50 silver, and 1 gold coin."

Hmm..... It seems that they are not overcharging.

I was expecting them to add sanctions but.....

Naofumi: "It doesn't seem like a good idea to negotiate for discounts in front of God, so I'll take the strongest holy water you have for 1 gold."

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama, you shouldn't get such an expensive thing just for me."

Naofumi: "It's fine. I already said so before. I cherish you. Compared to Raphtalia, one gold coin is nothing."

Raphtalia: "T-thank you very much!"

I give the gold coin to the priest while Raphtalia is thanking him.

Priest: "Understood"

The priest instructed the sister to bring a bottle of holy water.

.....I check the quality of it with the Judge Skill.

Low grade holy water

Quality: Bad

I glare at the priest who makes a confused face.

The priest then checks the holy water and his expression changes.

Priest: "Why did you bring something of so low quality?"

Sister: "But he is....."

Priest: "God is merciful. Repent for your barbaric act of satisfying your own sense of justice right now."

Sister: "I-I am sorry!"

Priest: "I apologise. Our church has been rude"

Naofumi: "I won't complain if you give me my money's worth"

Priest: "I appreciate your benevolence."

The priest personally went to get the holy water.

I check the holy water again.

Holy water of curse removal.

Quality: High Quality

Naofumi: "Well, this is what we came for."

I receive the bottle of holy water.

Firo: "Is that water delicious? Give Firo some too!"

Naofumi: "This is not for drinking. This is Raphtalia's medicine. Is there something wrong with you that require it too?"

Firo: "Yes. Firo is always energetic!"

Naofumi: "Then it is not necessary."

Firo: "Huh~?"

I turned to the priest while Firo has a question mark floating above her head.

Naofumi: "I am grateful. Later, please say the same to that sister at the Hourglass of the Dragon's era. That person tried to make a fool of me."

Priest: "I understand. They are shameful displays unworthy of a person of faith."

Naofumi: ".....I see. Well, Good-bye"

Priest: "Thank the guidance of God."

I feel that the priest is a pretty good person.

This country would be a better place if there are more people like him.

I left the church with that kind of impression.

Itsuki: "Ah! There you are!"

For some reason, Itsuki, Ren and their followers run up to us after we left the church.

What do these guys want?

Everyone is gathering in the castle town. What kind of situation is this?

This time, Itsuki isn't wearing low quality equipments. He is wearing all high quality equipments.

Itsuki is looking at me with displeasure and speaks first.

Itsuki: "You thief! You stole the achievements and rewards of my work!"

Naofumi: "What!?"

Why would I steal Itsuki's reward?

Ren: "Me too. The request that was meant for me was taken by you."

Ren is also denouncing me.

I don't know what they are talking about. Then I remember that plagued village that I helped may have requested help from them.

Naofumi: "I may have taken Ren's job, but I don't know about Itsuki."

Itsuki: "Are you playing dumb?"

Naofumi: "I just said I don't know."

Ren: "Wait wait. Even if Naofumi does not confess, I want to talk first."

Naofumi: "Don't talk as if I am a criminal."

Firo: "Did master do something?"

Naofumi: "I did not do anything! At least nothing that I remember!"

While soothing Raphtalia and Firo, I glare at Itsuki and Ren.

Naofumi: "Anyway, explain the situation."

Itsuki: "Then I'll start"

Itsuki started explaining his circumstances to me.

It seems Itsuki received a request to investigate and if necessary, exterminate the feudal lords causing problems in the northern area. The fellow dressed in armour that stood out was his companion and went to receive the reward from the guild that requested his help.

However, it was said that the reward of the request was already paid and Itsuki concluded that the only person to do something like that was me.

Naofumi: "You know, Shogun-sama..... While you are hiding in the shadows and defeating evil, never revealing your true nature, people won't know who did what. I know revealing you are a hero is your hobby but there are many rumours going around."

Itsuki: "Sho-Shogun!? Wh-What are you talking about!?"

Naofumi: "Placing a sword on your waist and pretending to be an adventurer. Shogun-sama."

Itsuki seems to remember and starts shouting at me. Yup, that's the attitude toward requests that is giving Itsuki a problem in the first place. No one will identify you as the Hero of the Bow with that kind of appearance.

Because of that, your recognition by the country has become either the Hero of the Sword's or Hero of the Spear's.

Why the hell am I actually evaluating something like this, it's meaningless. Being a secretive hero judging evil is cool, but it is not recognised by the world.

While I am still a university student, I understand that appearances are necessary for society to acknowledge you.

If somebody wants to take Itsuki's recognition for his job, all he has to do is announce he is the one who did it.

I mean that kind of hero will exterminate evil because he wants to, not for money or fame.

.....It's a painful topic. In the sense of being a Saint.

Naofumi: "Did you resolve the request as the Hero of the Bow? It is only in the town where the tax is high did I hear it was you. And at that time it was because I was there."

Itsuki: "Because I was keeping it a secret."

Naofumi: "Then, to confirm. Is the Adventurer with the bow in the Resistance of the north country you?"

Itsuki: "Yes that was me! I subjugated the tyrant king with the Resistance."

Naofumi: "..... Do you know what happened to the country after that?"

Itsuki: "The bad king was overthrown, it should be prospering."

Naofumi: "No it's not! They have become so starved that they have to smuggle food by bartering!"

Itsuki: "No way! Why!?"

Naofumi: "You know, the king may have been bad, but the whole country was originally going through a famine. As for the country, all that changed was its head."

Itsuki: "That has nothing to do with me. Please do not shift the problem!"

Sigh..... Irresponsible..... Worry about it a little.

Naofumi: "Then let's reset the story. Did your subordinate go get the reward? Can your subordinate explain the situation?"

Itsuki: "Yes he did! Explain! Explain it!"

Naofumi: "The guild? Is there anything that proves your subordinate isn't the one that accepted the reward?"

Itsuki: "That.....There's a deed. I showed a deed with the king's direct seal stamped on it."

Itsuki declares with a face full of conviction.

What are you saying?

Itsuki: "It is a deed made with special techniques! It is impossible to counterfeit easily."

Naofumi: "Then there is no way for me to get it."

Itsuki: "!"

It seems something clicked in Itsuki's head.

Itsuki: "Th-Then the weapon!"

Are you that desperate for an excuse?..... It seems you want to pin it on me no matter what.

Itsuki: "It is a Hero only privilege to be able to change the form of your weapon. You changed your shield to look similar to a bow, and somehow forged another deed."

Naofumi: "Is that so? Well, all that is possible in this world."

Itsuki: "Yes that's it, do you have any evidence to prove otherwise?"

Naofumi: "Firo"

Firo: "What's up?"

Naofumi: "Return to your true form"

Firo: "Ok"

Firo changed to her true form.

At that time, Firo's one piece disappears and what's left of it becomes the collar. I point at the collar.

Itsuki: "What!?"

Naofumi: "Do you understand? This is a world where something like that can be made. There may be a tool which changes shape into a bow. And it is possible for other heroes besides me."

Itsuki: "B-But-"

Ren: "Give it up Itsuki, with the present conditions and lack of evidence, we cannot conclude that Naofumi is the criminal."

Ren stepped in-front of Itsuki before he tried to accuse me again.

Ren: "In the first place, did you ask the appearance of the fellow who took your achievement?"

Itsuki: "Umm.....that....."

Itsuki ambiguously tried to answer Ren's question.

Ren: "Then give it up. Make yourself known as a hero more. Next is me."

Naofumi: "Is this the matter of the epidemic in the east?"

Ren: "If you understand then this will be quick. Why did you steal my request?"

Naofumi: "Because I was in the area. Did you know? The corpse of the dragon you defeated was causing the plague."

Ren: "What!?"

Ren was at a loss for words and just stood there.

He didn't know? I thought he was a more cold-hearted person.

Naofumi: "A lot of people were dying. There was a brand-new graveyard behind the storage facility. There would have been even more if I wasn't there."

Ren: "No way....."

With tottering steps, Ren tried to head east.

Naofumi: "Wait, you don't have time to go now. The wave is soon"

Ren: "But, this is my responsibility-"

Naofumi: "I already removed the corpse of the dragon. The locals and the Treatment Master took care of the plague. I did steal your request though."

Ren: "Is that so.....Well, it can't be helped."

Ren's complexion is pale.

Itsuki: "You believe that!?"

Itsuki calls out to Ren with a perplexed expression.

Ren: "He has no reason to lie. Besides, the request was cancelled because it was solved. That means it is not wrong."

Naofumi: "I was surprised when the corpse became a Zombie Dragon. Raphtalia received the curse at that time when fighting it."

I did not lie. But, it was my fault.

Ren: "Oh, is that why you came out of the church?"

Ren looked at Raphtalia and saw the bandages as his answer.

Ren: "I hope it heals quickly."

.....This is unexpected. I thought Ren was a cold-blooded guy, but he seems to be weak to problems he caused himself.

They say that weakness is evil though.

Naofumi: "Why did you leave the dragon's corpse there?"

Ren: "Because..... My companion wanted to give the materials to the other adventurers."

Come to think of it, the village did say they were raking it in.

Ren: "I left it to the adventurers and the village. But....."

Naofumi: "Next time, make sure to dispose of the corpse neatly. Corpses will rot. There is danger of causing sickness when rotting. Disposing of entrails and meat are the highest priority."

Ren: "Yeah....."

This is somewhat anti-climactic.

Still, I said nothing about the village.

To think that it was their own fault..... Well, this was the consequence of their own deeds.

Itsuki: "I do not believe it."

Itsuki is more persistent than Ren.

Itsuki: "I will absolutely bring evidence."

Naofumi: "Sure, bring it. However, do not fabricate it. Were you saying that you found the criminal as the Hero of the Shield? Don't interrogate too closely. You know my rumours"

Itsuki: ".....What do you mean?"

Naofumi: "Because after a thief attacked me and I retaliated, he went to a town and declared that I robbed him."

Itsuki: "Th-That....."

Naofumi: "It's the same for you. Shogun-sama I hope you think about it carefully."

Itsuki seems to feel pity for me from that rumour, his glance makes me feel sick.

Why are you looking at me with such eyes?

Itsuki: "For now, let's put this matter on hold."

Naofumi: "I am fine with that, I am not a criminal."

Seriously, I hate false accusations!

Don't just attribute anything bad to me!

Itsuki left in an irritating manner and Ren seemed to be unsettled as he left.

Naofumi: "Oh well, should we go?"

Today was an unlucky day. There were various experiences.

After all, this castle town is under the jurisdiction of that trash king, so there is no way they won't be biased.

Let's quickly return to the hotel.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 49 – Volunteers

---

The day was over, so we decided to go to a hotel and give Raphtalia treatment.

We re-dressed Raphtalia's wounds by soaking the bandages in the holy water I bought.

After the bandages have been applied, black smoke started rising from the wound.

Raphtalia: "U.....Ku....."

Naofumi: "Are you okay?"

Raphtalia: "Y-yes. There's a feeling of stiffness leaving the body and it's also quite itchy."

Naofumi: "I see....."

I want to heal her as fast as possible, because I injured her.

The black bruise seems to have gotten lighter.

Raphtalia: "The place Naofumi-sama wounded is healing quickly."

Naofumi: "That's good"

I want you to recover as soon as possible.

Firo: "Ah, Raphtalia Onee-chan is so sly, stop philandering with master."

Although Firo says that, she was clinging to me throughout the treatment.

Raphtalia: "I am not flirting!"

Naofumi: "That's right, all I'm doing is treating Raphtalia's wounds."

Raphtalia and I are philandering..... what's with that outdated slang? Oh well. Where did you learn something like that? Raphtalia and I aren't in that kind of relationship.

Firo: "Raphtalia Onee-chan's back is black."

Raphtalia: "Please don't say such things"

These two get along quite well.

Naofumi: "Well, the wave is coming soon so just relax"

Firo: "Okay~!"

Raphtalia: "That's right. We have been quite busy recently, relaxing occasionally is not bad."

Naofumi: "Yeah."

Firo: "Master, when are you going to make food?"

Naofumi: "Let's see..... How about tomorrow?"

Firo: "Yaay~!"

In this way, while giving Raphtalia treatment, we slept at the inn.

The next day.

The equipment I asked the old man to make hasn't been finished yet.
There's nothing particularly important to do, it might be a good idea to show up at the magic shop or the pharmacy.
Or should I go to the dressmaking shop and look?

Naofumi: "Now then, what should we do today?"

Raphtalia: "Let's see....."

Firo: "Food!"

Naofumi: "Yes Yes. I know."

As for recovery medicine, I have already prepared a lot in between the waves.....

Since Raphtalia and Firo have already hit their Level limit, only I need to get levels.

It might be a waste, but it would be fine to take a rest for a while.

Raphtalia's wounds aren't completely healed either.

Naofumi: "Should I go get more holy water?"

Raphtalia: "Eh? There's still some left"

Naofumi: "Is this enough for a complete recovery?"

Although the blackness has faded a bit, it is still far from a complete recovery. What is left leaves me uneasy.

The effect won't be as potent if holy water is not changed every day. At this rate, there will still be some damage left during the wave.

Naofumi: "I sincerely apologize."

Raphtalia: "It is a wound I got myself. Don't worry about it."

Naofumi: "Okay"

Naofumi: "Then, let's go to the pharmacy shop first, we can get food after."

Firo: "Yeah!"

Raphtalia and Firo nodded, we left our baggage at the inn and headed out.

When we got to the pharmacy, the storekeeper's attitude did not change as he welcomed me.

Pharmacy SK: "It's been a while"

I answer the storekeeper's first question.

Naofumi: "Ah, the intermediate recipe book was received and put to good use."

Pharmacy SK: "I see....."

Looking at the medicine handled, I am not up to par yet.

Pharmacy SK: "That reminds me, my old friend the accessory merchant seems be your acquaintance."

Naofumi: "Ha?"

I was surprised at the connection with an unexpected person.

Pharmacy SK: "How did you get so friendly with that miser? He praised you highly."

Naofumi: "You two are acquainted?"

Pharmacy SK: "We knew each other since the old days. That guy, he had an aptitude for using fragment medical herbs to make treatment medicine."

Back then, that guy knew I was making middle class treatment medicine from smell alone!?

Accessory merchant, what kind of person are you? I cannot fathom what else he might be hiding.....

Pharmacy SK: "Hm..... Are you still peddling?"

The storekeeper seems to have heard about me peddling from an acquaintance in Forest village.

Naofumi: "That guy was riding with us in the carriage when a thief that was after him appeared."

Pharmacy SK: "I don't think that guy would have been very happy about it."

I don't understand. Accessory merchant, are you some kind of celebrity?

Naofumi: "Ah, where was I? Oh right, after we captured the thief, I stripped him of all his possessions and confiscated everything from his hideout."

The store keep was silent, put his hand on his forehead and nodded.

Pharmacy SK: "That certainly does seem like you. Indeed, that fellow is also capable of something like that."

Naofumi: "Afterwards, he taught me a lot of things."

Pharmacy SK: "Oh, he was praising you as a quick learner and said you were his successor in commercial spirit."

Naofumi: "Please leave me alone."

I went peddling for equipment fee. The true purpose was not for money.

Pharmacy SK: "So, what do you need today?"

Naofumi: "Ah, do you have any High Class Recipes to sell?"

The storekeeper stops mixing.

Pharmacy SK: ".....That's fast, although I think you are not ready yet."

Naofumi: "Yeah, there is also medicine that is not on a recipe that I can make too."

Strong Acid water, Magical power water and Soul Medicine water can't be made yet.

There has been no need for these yet, but it is possible to acquire the rare materials through a distribution route learnt from the accessory merchant.

Naofumi: "But..... I was not able to save people with the medicine I made. Fortunately, the Treatment Master made Higher Class medicine. I felt inadequate in terms of ability."

The store keeper is convinced with my reply and nods.

Pharmacy SK: "I see..... But it is still too early for a High Class recipe."

Naofumi: "Is it that difficult.....?"

Pharmacy SK: "There are a lot of applications to medicine in Middle class recipes. Besides, there are other things you can make without a recipe."

Is it the materials necessary for compounding? Certainly, it can't be that bad.....

Pharmacy SK: "I can still sell a High Recipe book though, but it will be expensive."

Naofumi: "How much?"

Pharmacy SK: "It's 500 silver coins. It cannot be lowered any further."

I understand that I am getting a good deal.

Learning about medicine, I'm sure there are organizations and companies that are willing to teach, I can also imagine guilds trading information. But if I learn from somewhere, there will be pressure to help them. However, a recipe book will save me the trouble.

Naofumi: "I'll take it."

I obediently hand over 500 silver.

Pharmacy SK: "Hmm.....next is this"

I received a book called [Poisonous plants and Poison recipes].

I am slow but I am able to read the letters of this world, to some extent.

Naofumi: "Recipes for poison?"

Pharmacy: "It is impossible to avoid it when trying to be familiar with medicine. Those are intermediate recipes."

Naofumi: "Hmm....."

I skim through it. It contains a simple anaesthesia and other such drugs. This looks difficult, but it won't hurt to learn it. Beside, learning the High Class recipes are out of my reach at the moment

Naofumi: "Thanks. Do you have beginner class recipes such as the heal pill and regular medicine?"

The storekeeper of the pharmacy almost did a splendid fall.

Pharmacy SK: ".....You were making middle class medicine without even knowing the fundamentals?"

Naofumi: "I saw what you were making and remembered."

Pharmacy SK: "Are you a boy from a temple who can't read.....?"

Those words are a proverb from Japan. The shield is probably translating the corresponding phrase from this world.

The shop keeper sighs and fluently writes something onto parchment.

Pharmacy SK: "I wrote the basics of the beginner's class on this. Remember it."

Naofumi: "Yeah"

When we left, Firo was already outside because she disliked the smell from the medicine and Raphtalia was looking at medical herbs.

Soldiers: "Hero of the Shield-sama!"

I hear an unfamiliar voice after leaving the pharmacy.

There were five 14 year old kids dressed as soldiers who were out of breath. I start escaping at once. Raphtalia and Firo also start running. There are too many ideas in my mind.

Solder A: "Please wait! We are not here to capture you! Please Wait!"

Naofumi: "Then what do you want!"

Soldier A: "I only want to talk for a little!"

.....Doubtful.....Let's stop for now.

If it is a lie, should I let Firo rampage?

Soldier A: "Haa.....Haa..... At last, I can finally meet you"

The boy's shoulders are heaving while he gasps for breath.

Naofumi: "What do you want with me?"

Soldier A: "Umm. Can you please let me go with you during the waves.....?"

Naofumi: "Come again?"

What are you saying? I look at the boy with a puzzled expression.

Soldier A: "We are junior soldiers who were impressed with the fighting method of the Hero of the Shield-sama during the earlier wave."

The boy's story is like this.

During the previous wave, the low rank soldiers were impressed by the appearance of Raphtalia and I, who were the only ones to stay behind and protect Forest Village.

It seems the Knight's Order was complimenting me after the wave, seems like there were new rumours spreading about me while I was away.

Soldier A: "During town patrol, I heard that the Hero of the shield was here in town so I came over to have this conversation"

Naofumi: "Really....."

Soldier A: "Our duty is to fight against the wave, but our top priority is to prevent damage done to the people."

That's a noble thought. Though you should be telling the other heroes that.

Soldier A: "Therefore, please let us participate together with Hero-sama during the wave."

Naofumi: "I do not particularly want to fight against the wave, can't we just fight separately?"

There is a backside to this proposal.

Perhaps, with soldiers and knights more active in fighting the wave, security would be better.

Their position will also rise due to actively participating as a companion of a hero.

However, the Hero would also have to fight in the wave. I replied with sarcasm.

There is status magic that requires companions. Perhaps, I can test this during one of the waves.

Using this and establishing a party to fight the wave, it should probably be correct.

If anything, it may be something like offensive and defensive battles with guilds in a net game.

The enemies are not human, but mistakes can be made.

It would be extremely rash to fight alone against such a large amount of demons.

A Hero is probably carrying the duty of defeating the boss class demons because they are the aces..... But the small fries should be able to be dealt with by the inhabitants of this world.

The last wave proves it.

Because the wave spawned near the Forest village which was close to the castle town, the knight were able to rush there, but what about this time. This country is big. It would be catastrophic if the wave appeared somewhere far-off.

Once that happens, the damage could not be suppressed with such a small group of people.

Well, a standard strategy in fighting against the wave is the proposal I gave the boy, I want to hear his answer.

Did he come to me because there would be little competition compared to the other heroes?

Soldier A: "We want to protect the nation along with Hero of the Shield-sama."

On the surface I can say anything.

Naofumi: "Are you aiming for promotions?"

Soldier A: "No this is different."

The boy shakes his head and answers immediately. I beckon another boy who looks like a magician to me.

The robe he was wearing wasn't purple like the magic shop, but a cheap yellow colour.

They lined up in-front of me and bowed.

Soldier B: "I.....am a native from Forest Village. My family was helped by Hero of the shield-sama before.....Therefore I want to help, even if only a little."

Naofumi: "Aah, I see."

This fellow wants to repay the kindness of helping his family?

Soldier A: "As Hero-sama says, there are certainly people who want promotions. But, I want to help Hero of the Shield-sama"

Naofumi: "I see, well I was just curious..... Hm?"

Soldier B: "Umm.....Hero-sama"

The boy in the wizard clothes looks up, pulls up his robe, and gives me a quill pen.

Soldier B: ".....Please sign"

There might be a catch. Do I write Motoyasu in Japanese?

Hm?

When I look closely, this child is a Demi-human.

Even in this country of human supremacy, when it comes to soldiers there are room for Demi-humans.

Comparing his age and the cheap costume with the wizards and knights, he should be at a low level.

I silently write my signature on his robe according to the wish of the boy while preparing for any magic. There is no a strange feeling or magic effects after I signed.

Well, it does not mean that nothing will happen later. I'll deal with it later if something does happen.

The boy with the wizard clothes smiles happily with a slightly red face. What is this? It is itchy.

Soldier A: "This fellow is a fan of Hero of the Shield-sama. From a long time ago, he heard traditions of heroes from different countries and wanted to meet the Hero of the Shield."

Naofumi: "Wow....."

This party seems to extremely trust us and want to help.

This boy is not talking, but people from the village of Toka who were saved during peddling gathered with the same thought.

Well, should I try it?

I turn to the boy captain in front and muttered the party formation magic.

As for the conditions of the party, party leader is me followed by Raphtalia and then Firo.

Under that, the captain of the squad was given authority.

As for this party, my authority takes precedence. In other words, it is possible to steal all the experience points.

Soldier A: "This is....."

Naofumi: "You don't know?"

Soldier A: "Nope"

Naofumi: "If you are not in the party, go ask that fellow, and go gather any other people who want to participate. However, do not misunderstand. If you try to use me, or something impolite is done, I am dismissing you all immediately." [This sentence here feels weird... not sure if it's just me or that something is really weird here]

Soldier A: "Yes! Thank you very much!"

The two saluted me and left together.

I think that even in this country, I can trust a little.

It was only a moment where I felt that.

Naturally, as I said if anything happens, I will not be lenient.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 50 – Before the Storm

---

Old Man: "Lad, your armour is not ready yet. If you are here to use the kitchen, I would like to ask you to refrain."

Naofumi: "Why? I thought you gave me permission a while ago."

Old Man: "If you want to use my kitchen, some compensation is required."

After separating from the child soldiers, we stopped by the market to purchase large quantities of food.

Then we proceed to impose on our handy equipment store acquaintance and start cooking up a storm.

Is this food not my sincerity and gratitude for equipment store for providing cheap weapon and armour?

Firo: "Food! Food!"

For a while now, Firo has been consuming the roast meat and skewers that I have been making.

Old Man: "This smells great! Everyone who entered the shop was tempted by the smell. I went and checked when they left and they all went to the market to buy food."

Raphtalia brings the old man some food while he is making my armour at the counter.

Old Man: "Furthermore, some idiot stole some food from the dish the missy brought me, how did you produce such a taste! There is a crazy commotion since a while ago."

Naofumi: "Just kick the guy who stole food out."

Old Man: "The guy who stole food was generous and bought a weapon. Lad, with you here my sales record for the month is going through the roof."

Naofumi: "That's good. Take it as my thanks to you."

Old Man: "Alright. Not! This isn't some restaurant, it's an equipment store!"

For an equipment shop, you sure have a lot of additional pots and quite a big pan.

Thanks to that, I am borrowing a cauldron to make this world's unique curry.

Strangers: "....."

An aunt from the neighbourhood peeks through the ventilation window, along with several other adventurer-like guys.

I close the ventilation window with a bang.

The smell drifts to the front of the equipment shop.

Old Man: "Lad!"

I heard the old man's shout.

Seriously.....

After the curry was completed, we were evicted from the old man's kitchen and thus end our cooking session for Firo.

Firo still seems dissatisfied and wants to eat more. There are only half of the contents in the pot left.

Due to the pot left behind, the equipment shop later had a rumour about it having absurdly delicious food, but that is a story for later.

Firo: "Master, Firo wants to eat more food~"

I bought some skewers for Firo who inflated her cheeks with a dissatisfied expression while wandering the town for cheap food.

Naofumi: "Hmm, should we just go make something by the riverside?"

Firo: "Meat again?"

Naofumi: "Yeah, you're getting tired of it?"

Firo: "I will not get tired of anything Master makes~"

Naofumi: "Sure sure"

We head back to the equipment shop to borrow an iron plate, which Firo carried.

Well, we will probably become familiar with this place since we will barbecue here in the future too.

I buy the proper materials and start barbecuing by the riverbank.

Firo is concerned about insufficient meat so she went to the forest to horde Usapirus

(tl note: Rip poor Usapiru population)

We had to barbecue for a while until Firo was satisfied and started discussing about what to do next.

Raphtalia: "This is the first time we took it easy"

Naofumi: "Now that you bring it up, yeah it is"

Every day in this abnormal world has been a battle and now looking up to the blue sky gives off a very peaceful feeling.

Makes one forget about the wave of disaster that is only a few days away.

Unexpectedly, Raphtalia plays with the ball that I purchased for her a while go

Naofumi: "Isn't that..... the ball that I bought for you?"

Raphtalia smiles when I point at the ball.

Raphtalia: "So you remember"

I thought she lost it a while ago, to think she still had it.

Raphtalia: "This is the first thing that Naofumi-sama gave me"

Naofumi: "You were looking at it so wistfully that anyone would have bought it"

Raphtalia: "I don't think so"

Firo: "Na?"

After Firo cleaned up the rest of the barbecue, she turned around.

Firo: "Onee-chan, what are you talking about?"

Raphtalia: "It's just something that happened before Firo was born."

Firo: "Hmm....."

I watch the ball bouncing around.

It looks worn out and some parts are torn. Perhaps Raphtalia was playing with the ball while I wasn't looking.

Naofumi: "Do you want me to buy you a new one?"

It's not an expensive item. If playing with balls is Raphtalia's hobby, then for the sake of her relaxation, I would buy more.

(TL note:PFT anyone got a better translation? because this is too lewd.ボールで遊ぶのが趣味ならラフタリアの息抜きの為に買っても良いとは思う。)

Raphtalia: "No, that is not necessary because this is my memento."

Naofumi: "I don't get it, but....."

If she wants to treat it as a cherished memory then I will not question it.

Naofumi: "Do you want to play together?"

Raphtalia: "Eh!?"

Raphtalia look at me in shock.

Naofumi: "What's wrong?"

Raphtalia: "No..... I just didn't think Naofumi-sama is someone who wants to play with balls."

Naofumi: "Well..... It is unavoidable I would see someone who thinks like that. Though, today would be a good day to take it easy and play."

Can we play volleyball with only the two of us? Well, there is always passing the ball back and forth without dropping it.

The ball is thrown at me and I raise my hands to return it to Raphtalia. This is unexpectedly difficult..... Back then, I barely ever played beach volleyball.

Firo: "Master and Raphtalia Onee-chan are playing! Firo wants to play too!"

The bird finished her meal and started making a commotion while we were tossing the ball back and forth.

Naofumi: "If you want to play make sure to control your power and not destroy the ball."

Firo: "Okay~!"

Raphtalia: "Fufufu"

Raphtalia tosses the ball very happily.

Even though her body is grown up, she is still a child.

Naofumi: "When the wave is over, I'm thinking of going to another country to Class up"

Raphtalia: "Okay. I will follow you everywhere."

Firo: "Firo too~"

The ball flies from Raphtalia to Firo and then finally me.

Naofumi: "Ah"

The ball flew behind Raphtalia and is about to fall to the ground.

Raphtalia: "Ei!"

Naofumi: "What!"

The ball was skilfully hit towards Firo with her tail.

Firo: "Wa..... Firo too"

Firo hits the ball with the wings on her back.

You guys..... Don't use parts that common human beings don't have.

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama"

I wonder why this game is becoming one with strange conditions.

It can't be helped.

Naofumi: "Air Strike Shield!"

The ball is bounced back by a shield that appears in the air.

Raphtalia: "Ah, that's dirty!"

Naofumi: "It's not!"

Seriously.....This is child's play.

As a result of the cool down time, I lost. Afterwards we just played volleyball normally.

Raphtalia: "Well, what should we do now?"

It will be essential for Raphtalia to become stronger from Class up.
Additionally, whenever a wave appears, I am summoned. In the meantime,
I should work on levelling up and earning money in a different country.

Naofumi: "We still have time. Raphtalia, Firo. Are there any accessories that you want?"

Raphtalia: "Accessory?"

Naofumi: "Ah, I can craft some so I was wondering if you two wanted any."

From a while ago, I already decided to reward Raphtalia and Firo because of their hard work.

Naofumi: "Raphtalia, you're at the age where you want something like that right?"

Raphtalia: "Y-yes....."

Firo: "Firo too!"

Naofumi: "I understand. Now tell me what you two want."

Raphtalia seems to be dumbfounded.

Is this such a rare occurrence?

Firo: "Uhhh, Firo wants a hairpin"

Firo wants a hairpin huh..... that's surprising since I expected her to want a saddle or some reins.

Naofumi: "Hairpin? Why?"

Firo: "Because it won't dig into my skin after I transform."

You still mind that? Well, perhaps something to stick on her head would be good.

I guess it is appropriate considering how old Firo looks.

Naofumi: "Raphtalia what do you want?"

Raphtalia: "Me? Let's see....."

Raphtalia thinks for a while before answering.

Raphtalia: "I want a bracelet. Granting an effect is important. It will be useless if there is no meaning."

Naofumi: "Huh?"

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama, an item that can raise my abilities would be preferable."

I wonder what. My mind seems to have trouble understanding Raphtalia's answer.

A bracelet that gives an effect. I thought she would have wanted rings, earrings or a necklace.

Is my brain just bad?

Naofumi: "O-okay. I'll make it properly"

Firo: "Firo too~"

Naofumi: "Yeah yeah"

We played at the grassy plain till the end of the day, then returned to the hotel to prepare for the wave.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 51 – Third Disaster

---

Today is the day that the old man finishes creating the equipment I ordered.
We arrive when the shop opens.

Old Man: "Oh, it's the lad. You sure are early"

Naofumi: "I guess. So how is it? Were you able to finish it?"

Old Man: "Of course. By the way, your pot of food has become an enormous topic for some reason."

Naofumi: "How would I know? Ask the guy who is spreading the rumour."

Old Man: "That's impossible....."

The old man brings out my armour from the back of the shop.

Rather than making a barbaric suit by sewing bones to it, the dragon and chimera bones were grounded to a powder to make bone mail. Probably.
It's like Hokuto no Ken clothing Mark 2.

(tl note: Fist of the north star reference)

By the way is this called a racing suit or a rider suit?

Naofumi: "Old man, do you want to make me to be the king of thieves that badly?"

It may be because originally the materials were meant to be made in to savage tribal armour.

Old Man: "Huh? What're you saying lad?"

As for wearing this……. Despite this being a fantasy world all I can think about is the Showa Era.

For now I might as well test its performance.

Naofumi: “By the way, how is this armour?”

Old Man: “That was already quite difficult to custom-make, it’s as good as Barbarian Armour +1”

Naofumi: “This +1 looks like it’s not complete yet. Did you say whether or not there are clothes made from the Dragon skin to go with this?”

Even the design is different.

The front is from Hokuto no Ken, and the lustre from the zombie dragon skin reminds me of rubber.

Only the chest has a pitiful amount of metal protecting it.

What can I say? It’s perfect to ride on a motorcycle with.

Since there is no motorcycle in this world, will I be roaring across the lands on Firo? Stop thinking about it!

Barbarian Armour +1?

Defence Up Shock Resistance (Intermediate) Flame Resistance (High)

Darkness Resistance (High) HP recovery (Weak) Magic Up (Intermediate)

Enchantment: Automatic Restoration

There are various resistances.

Automatic restoration……. I don’t know the efficiency from this alone. I wonder if it will repair itself if it is ruptured…….

Based on these bonuses alone the performance should be great, I seem to have to wear these clothes that cannot be called armour.

Old Man: "What's up lad? Have you seen this armour before?"

Naofumi: "You do know I'm not from this world right? In my world..... the comparison for this would be clothes you wear while riding Philo Rial or horses."

Firo: "In that case, Master wear it and get on Firo!"

Firo stares at me with sparkling eyes.

Old Man: "Lad. What this little bird Missy just said sounds incredibly obscene."

The old man mutters with a bit of a disgusted look in his eyes.

Naofumi: "Shut up!"

Old man, did you make this armour with thoughts of harassing me?

Old Man: "What's wrong lad?"

.....Should be different. There is no malice.

Naofumi: "W-well. I'll take it."

Raphtalia commented that I looked good dressed like that.

Wearing this outfit around town.....I feel isolated.

.....It's not even armour, it's more like clothes. How very sad.

Well, the preparations for the wave have finished without a problem.

Raphtalia's black bruises have recovered completely thanks to the strong holy water used every day.

I heaved a sigh of relief because it was able to be completely cured.

There might still be a scar left. But, I wanted to heal her as soon as possible.

Accessories for Raphtalia and Firo were also completed today.

Naofumi: "Here is the accessories you asked for"

Firo: "Yay~!"

Raphtalia: "Okay"

Naofumi: "First off, Raphtalia"

I pass Raphtalia a bracelet made of jade.

Raphtalia "Thank you very much"

Naofumi: "The enchantment on that is Magic Up (Small). It will also act as a lightning rod for magic cast on you that lowers your Magic Defence."

Raphtalia: "I'll treasure it."

Naofumi: "Is that really all you want? I can seriously make you some nice looking jewellery if you want."

Raphtalia: "What are you saying? We can't afford to waste time on looks."

That's right.

It can't be helped if the person herself doesn't want it.

Naofumi: "Next, Firo"

I pass Firo hairpin made of amber.

I put emphasis on the shape to make it look like a wing, to match Firo's demon form.

Naofumi: "It has an enchantment for Dexterity Up (small)"

Firo: "Thank you master~"

Naofumi: "I was a little limited by the materials on hand. If you want any changes then endure it for now."

Raphtalia: "There are no problems with it. I will use this accessory to its maximum potential."

Firo: "Yup! Firo will work hard!"

Naofumi: "I have high hopes"

We take the rest of the time to prepare. I made some arrangements with the kids who volunteered earlier.

Firo has already been briefed about fighting against the wave. At first Firo had a question mark above her head asking about what the wave was, but after a while she understood.

Medicine has been prepared. The carriage.....Is broken, and since the new one isn't completed yet, Firo pulled a cart instead.

Anyway, it seems to have become my duty to protect any villages in the vicinity since the other heroes just run off.

Though I am not actually needed to participate, it would be despicable to just abandon people.

00:05

5 Minutes left.

It seems i can sense where we will appear so I let the volunteer soldiers know beforehand.

Change shield to the Chimeric Viper Shield.

00:00

It's time!

A loud sound similar to glass shattering echoes.

The scenery changes instantly.

We scan the neighbourhood calmly.

Naofumi: "This is....."

Yeah. Near the village with that man who was bringing medicine to his mother who was suffering from an illness.

No matter how much they rush the earliest anyone would make it here from the castle town would be a day and a half.
There are red cracks spreading through the sky.

Child Soldier: "Hero of the Shield-sama!"

The volunteers who were also summoned run up to me.
As for the other three heroes—.

Naofumi: "Firo! If you're going to kick that spear bastard do it so that he flies towards the cracks. It'll help him get there faster."

Firo: "Okay~!"

Firo listens to my order and runs off.
Due to her speed she catches up to the correct party.

Motoyasu: "Eh--?"

As soon as the spear bastard looks back he is kicked by Firo.

Motoyasu and his party: ""Waaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa""

His whole party was kicked away. It feels good to see that fucking woman also getting blown away.

Though there wasn't much damage since Firo held back.

Motoyasu: "Wh-What did you do that for!"

It seems the spear is trying to say something to us.

I ignore the spear and glare at the bow and sword.

(TI note: He's not saying any of the hero's names just calling them by their weapons)

Naofumi: "Stop being a fool by wasting time!"

Ren: "what is up with you right now!?"

Itsuki: "Yeah! We must defeat the enemies spawned from the wave!"

I am amazed at the anger of the foolish heroes.

Naofumi: "Listen to me first, you can hunt the enemy afterwards."

I direct the volunteers towards the neighbouring village.

They nodded and ran off towards the village according to my orders.

Itsuki: "Now…… Stop interfering with our work!"

Naofumi: "It's different!"

Itsuki is surprised by my roar and looked at me with bulging eyes.

Naofumi: "Calm down and think about it. Because I cannot receive aid money, I will not fight against the main body of the wave. As far as I am concerned I will be trying to defend the towns and villages within the neighbourhood. Do you guys understand?"

"Yeah"

"You are disqualified as a hero"

"that's right!"

(Ed note: I have no idea who is speaking the above three dialogues)

All their followers are taunting me.

Naofumi: "Now you guys. Defeating the enemies who spawn from the waves is your job. I do not know whether or not the wave is stopped if you defeat the boss."

Itsuki: "It is connected to the boss!"

Itsuki seems to have gotten excited and answers immediately.
Such a thing doesn't matter.

Naofumi: "However, besides that we have important work……do you guys understand?"

Ren: "What would that be?"

Ren even you don't understand? I mean you should know since this world resembles a game.

Why don't you understand? To ask that would sound very sarcastic so I'll hold back.

Naofumi: "Do you guys know about the Knights?"

The heroes close their eyes at my voice.

"They will come later"

I bring out a magic flare and show them.

Naofumi: "The distance from here to the castle town is one and a half days on horse or phlo rial. That's too far!

"Then, what should we do!"

"How did you get this information!?"

I point at the volunteers running towards the village.

"Now that I think about it…… How did you transfer with those people?"

Naofumi: "Seriously? You guys don't even know the Party function……?"

"For companions? I thought we couldn't have that many."

"This is different…… A party leader is nominated and everyone who is within the party is a subordinate, that also makes them all part of the transfer."

Perhaps……these guys. I have more knowledge about the wave compared to them?

"First of all that was confirmation. Now it is confirmed that we can bring help during the waves."

…… Nobody says anything.

Naofumi: "Do you guys know of the help and tutorial?"

Ren: "Yeah. We have mastered this world."

Itsuki: "Anyway, our top priority is to suppress the wave……so, see ya!"

Naofumi: "Then fighting against the wave for you guys…… is a game?"

Motoyasu: "What?"

Ren: "What about it?"

Itsuki: "Let's hurry and go!"

My question was disregarded by Itsuki who ran off.

Naofumi: "Motoyasu, do you know the meaning of my question?"

Motoyasu: "Well…… Instant dungeon?"

No……

Ren: "This is different. Is it a time attack wave?"

Ren……that is also wrong.

"Is it like a guild war? Or a game with large scale battles?"

There was a game in my original world where there was a big even in which the players had only a week to participate.

As expected, it seems that the only ones who can use the party system are the heroes.

In fact, the damage would have been tremendous if the knights were late last wave and if I had retreated.

Naofumi: "……Do you understand it completely because you used to run a big guild?"

Since their co-operation is top priority I'll just be subtle about it.
Of course the Heroes who are ace players have to lead the charge.
But, to minimize damage we must co-operate with the residents of this world.
The fact that they don't understand is amusing.

Motoyasu: "I managed a team before."

Is Motoyasu's answer.

He glances at Firo's demon form. Well he probably doesn't want to be kicked.

Naofumi: "Then you cannot understand."

Motoyasu: "I don't need to."

Naofumi: "Huh!?"

Motoyasu: "It will all work out one way or another."

Sigh..... Am I a secretary making sure you do your work?

Ren: "I'm not interested in this."

Ren.....I'm not good at talking to people about guild warfare since I didn't participate.

He is armour is quite cool.

I want to know if this guy is capable of managing a large-scale guild.

Naofumi: "Anyway, this time we need to do our best, and make sure to bring knights next time."

I need to lay a foundation to combat the waves.

Both Ren and Motoyasu run off without hiding their unpleasantness towards me.

Hey, don't spit on the road!

Naofumi: "Anyway. Let's go the village in the neighbourhood too."

Firo: "Okay~!"

We got in the cart, and Raphtalia hurried to the village with me.

"Ah-!"

We arrived at the village just as the wave got there. Everything is covered in shadows, wolves, lizardmen, condors, and some goblins.

These guys remind me of Demi-humans, but all dark and covered with shadows.

Respectively they are called, Dark Condor, Black Wolf, Assault Shadow Goblin, and Shadow Lizardmen.

(tlnote: ゴブリンアサルトシャドウ That is the best name for a goblin ever)

And there was "Dimensional" added before each of their names.

They are just like ghosts that disappear into shadows when defeated.

It's downright creepy.

These demons are totally different from the previous wave, is this going to be the case from now on?

At any rate, I'll leave all the troublesome things to those guys.

That is.

Old Woman: "Acha-!"

I hear a strange battle cry from the old woman whom I fed medicine to.
She is faring well with a hoe in one hand.
The volunteers are perplexed by this old woman as well.

Old Woman: "Ah, the saint! Thanks for the medicine! Acha-!"

The old woman bows to me after delivering blow after blow with the hoe to the demons that are rushing forwards.
This old woman is quite strong; there are demon corpses left and right.

Old Woman: "Hey, you come over here and say thanks."

Old Woman's son: "Uhm right, Thank you very much."

The son of the old woman bows to me too.

Volunteer1: "Anyway, for the time being please evacuate and take shelter, these enemies are spawning from the wave."

The volunteers are instructing the villagers to take refuge.
The intervals between more enemies arriving and eliminate the current demons is quite small.
We also join the suppression of the enemy.

Old Woman: "Acha-!"

The old woman casually slaughters the enemies.

Are these really the movements of a person who was about to die a month ago?

Old Woman: "My old strength was returned thanks to the divine blessings of the saint. Hahaha!"

The old woman glares at her son and he also starts fighting to his fullest but he seems quite shy.

However, he is not as good as his parent. The volunteers are barely able to put up a fight.

No one can compare to the old woman.

Old Woman: "Even though I look like this, back in my prime I was quite a famous adventurer. My level is the same as my age! Acha-!"

Noafumi: "What a reckless grandmother!"

I don't think even a thousand would be a match for her.

While I hold back the enemy, they are massacred by power that is comparable to Firo.

I'm scared that when the battle is over she will run out of battery and drop.

Noafumi: "What did I give that old woman to drink?"

Raphtalia: "Who knows....."

Raphtalia watches the grandmother with utter amazement.

I will have to question her son closely later.

Anyway, now is time to treat any injured people.

Naofumi: "It is top priority for those who are injured fall back from the defence line towards the cart."

I perform treatment on injured people while giving instructions.

Old Woman: "Acha! Saint-sama, it seems there's a suspicious one among the invaders."

It seems there is a fairly big Dimensional Shadow Lizardman mixed in. He is about twice the size of the others.

Naofumi: "Raphtalia, Firo, we'll kill that fellow together."

The volunteers will be a burden.

Raphtalia: "Okay!"

Firo: "Okay~!"

I run towards the big game.

The Dimensional Shadow Lizardman is brandishing a huge black sword.

I run in front of it and hold up my shield.

A loud screeching sound can be heard as sparks scatter.

Snake's Poison Fang (Intermediate) activates and poisons the enemy.

But there is barely any effect. This kind of enemy is a reptile after all.

However, poison is not what I was aiming for.

Raphtalia: "Eryaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

A fearless Raphtalia pierces her sword right in to the abdomen of the Dimensional Shadow Lizardman.

Firo: "Deryaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

The face of the Dimensional Shadow Lizardman is blown away by a single blow from Firo.

Dimensional Shadow Lizardman falls over and collapses on its back.

Volunteer2: "Amazing....."

One of the volunteers unconsciously lets his thoughts out.

Naofumi: "Good! You guys go around the village and do damage control."

If the grandmother, six volunteers, and some adventurers who live here go protect the village a lot of the damage can be avoided.

There should still be other villages in this neighbourhood. It will be dangerous if we do not go help as soon as possible.

Naofumi: "Use what medicine you need, the ride won't be comfortable. Let's get going."

Some volunteers get into the cart per my instructions.

Naofumi: "Let's go!"

Firo: "Roger~!"

Firo pulls the cart that has become heavier, and starts running with her explosive power.

When we arrived at the next village, some volunteers looked to be in pain, but it wasn't particularly bad so I ignored it.

This village seems to have taken a lot more damage than the previous one. Houses were burnt, and some villagers are injured.

Naofumi: "Hurry and go rescue anyone you can!"

Volunteers: "O-Okay!"

While slaughtering demons we were waiting for the wave to end.

Naofumi: ".....So slow!"

3 hours have passed since then.

We are barely able to defend the villages in the neighbourhood, but dealing with endless waves of demons is not very helpful.

The evacuation of villagers was done properly, and the casualties amongst villagers were minimal.

The refugees were not attacked when spotted because we were here. So our offences and defences continue as is.

It would be too late regardless.

How long are those heroes going to take?

Child Soldier: "Hero-sama, leave this place to us. Shouldn't you go support the other Hero-samas?"

The child soldier who greeted me first gave the proposal.

Naofumi: "There is no meaning if I go……"

If I go to help them defeat the boss, they will just complain that I went to steal glory.

Child Soldier: "But……"

The volunteers look exhausted. Fighting for 3 hours against unending enemies will do that to your stamina.

Raphtalia and Firo are also considerably tired. I am no different.

Firo: "Ahahahaha-!"

Firo kicks a Dimensional Assault Shadow Goblin while laughing.

Yup. Firo is still all right. That bird is a massive lump of stamina.

Naofumi: "Will you be fine?"

Child Soldier: "Please leave it to me!"

There seems they have some stamina left.

Naofumi: "Then I'll take you up on your offer. I'm counting on you."

Child Soldier: "Okay!"

Naofumi: "Raphtalia, Firo, let's go!"

Raphtalia: "Understood."

Firo: "Okay~!"

We left the village to the volunteers and adventurers, while we rode towards the boss of the wave on Firo.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 52 - Grow Up

---

"It should be around here.....I think"

"I think so too"

"Yup"

A big wine red crack is spreading from the ground, and is the foundation of the wave.

One after another demons crawl out from there.

"Hm?"

There is a fish-like ghost that is pure white, has red eyes, a big wide mouth with fangs, and a brutal countenance.

But, it's lying down.

Did the big game from the waves already die?

It's very ghost-like..... There is a feeling that physical attacks will not work on this demon.

"A fish?"

"What the hell is this....."

"Hmm..... This doesn't look like too difficult of an enemy."

"You think so?"

"Normal attacks won't be effective. Only magic should have an effect."

There is knowledge from net games about requiring magic attacks.

"Then Firo can fight!"

"Huh? Won't a kick not work?"

"Yup. Firo, can also use attack magic?"

"Say that from the beginning!"

"Noo. Kicking is faster than magic."

Sigh..... Firo does not understand how useful magic can be.

Asking the person in question for answers is like trying to grasp clouds.

"Did those guys beat the boss?"

Where are they?

As I look around restlessly there are sounds of clashing metal.

"Over there?"

"You're right. Let's go over there"

Firo also hears it, so we run towards the direction of the sound.

"Rinbu Rei no Kata ・ Gyaku Shiki Setsugekka!"

(TI note: I am not translating the name of attacks, unless you want something like Circular Dance Model Zero ・ Reverse of Sub Zero Flowers.)

The sky that is stained with red starts to shine.

When I look up there is a red moon that looks like it was cast by an antagonist.

Then, something in the form of a person drew a circle through it and then there was a red flash.

""Guaaaaaaaaa!""

We arrived as simultaneous screams erupted.

Motoyasu, Ren, and Ituski are trapped within a tornado, whole their companions are collapsed all over the place.

"Guha!"

What on earth happened here?

From what I can tell the enemy fired off a huge magic attack at this place.

No, no, these guys should be considerably high levelled. They shouldn't have been defeated so easily.

But, What is going on?

Motoyasu was tossed near us.

"Meteor Spear should have hit....."

Ren mutters in response to Motoyasu.

"Metoer Sword should have worked....."

And Itsuki.

"Meteor Bow should have done something....."

(TInote: 流星弓,流星劍,流星槍 10/10 naming sense.)

What?

".....Do you guys want to be popular?"

The heroes have all fainted. Well, I think they aren't dead yet.

Meteor..... is that hip?

"Are you their reinforcements?"

After the tornado stops a person appears from the centre.

This fellow is wearing a jet black kimono with silver embroidery, it feels like clothes that are to be worn during a funeral back in my world.

There stood a beautiful girl. Her face in no way inferior to Raphtalia.

Her personality seems serious, and her hair is long.

But, something is off. Sometimes, she looks slightly translucent, just like a ghost.

Her weapon is an iron fan. holding an iron fan with both hands, seems like a dance.

This human shaped woman seems to be victor here.

な、なんだ!? ソクツと背筋が凍りつくような嫌な感覚がする。
次元ノソウルイーターとは比べものにならないプレッシャーが辺りを支配している。
なんだこれ?

そして、シュタツという音と共に人影が現れる。

「この程度の雑魚に何を苦戦しているのか、勇者は貴方一人しかいないのですか?」

"The heroes of this world seem to be all bark and no bite, quite a disappointment."

That.....human shaped woman declares as she turns around.

"Master~, this person is very strong."

Firo informs me while all the feathers on her body stand on end.

"Yes, I feel a strong pressure here. This strength is far from a normal demon."

Raphtalia also warns me while her tail is standing up.

"So you defeated these fools?"

I step on the fucking woman's unconscious face while asking.

"Hmm..... Is that how you treat your companions?"

It seems the woman in the kimono does not like my attitude.

"I apologize, but you can't be any more incorrect about her being my companion."

After trampling her face about 3 more times my anger is a little appeased.

"Doesn't matter, what you are doing is unjust."

"Speaking of unjust, this bitch has done far crueller acts. I have quite a grudge."

"Master is like a villain~"

"Shut up"

"I do not have a just argument for the enemy....."

Raphtalia is a little amazed as she mutters.

The gallery is being annoying.

"Can Firo do that too?"

Firo raises her foot and aims it at Motoyasu.

"Stop it, if you do it he will die."

"Okay~"

The enemy seems a little amazed at our attitude.

".....Although they are not your companions, your actions are not that of a just human's."

"Say whatever you like"

"Well, I lost in this world, but I cannot leave."

The enemy charges with her iron fan.

That's fast!

I raise my shield at once.

Gagin!

Damn.....That's very heavy.

Even the zombie dragon did not have so much weight behind it's attacks. Such a heavy attack from an iron fan, it would seriously be dangerous if Raphtalia or Firo took one of these.

"Raphtalia, Firo! Be careful.....She's strong."

"Okay!"

"Sure!"

"I am the Hero of the shield who deciphers and calls forth the power of nature to defend!"

"Fast Guard!"

After I cast support magic on all three of us, the fight begins.

The opponent grasped my intention so she changed locations. We chased. So that other heroes and their companions would not wake up and interfere. She probably took down the boss of the wave too.

I receive painful wounds from the iron fan whenever I receive an attack anywhere besides my shield.

Whenever I have some room I cast heal on myself, but this is very intense. Her attacks are not only quick, they are also extremely strong.

She tried to change her aim to Raphtalia and Firo but I prevent her.

"As if I'd let you!"

So to obstruct her I pulled her leg.

"Ugh.....Release me immediately!"

However, you cannot remove my restraints with something like that.

"Are you the same combat type?.....This is more troublesome than those people before."

The enemy remains nonchalant even after being subjected to Snake's Poison Fang (Intermediate).

As for her defence, I had to put that under serious reconsideration after she blocked an attack from Raphtalia and Firo.

In any case, she's strong. In everything.

The fact that the other heroes got defeated is proof enough.

"Master, Watch Firo's magic~"

Firo crosses her left hand over her right, and rushes towards the enemy.

"Here I come~"

For a moment, yes only a moment, Firo turned into a blur.

GeshiGeshiGeshiGeshiGeshi!

A shock that vibrates from impact is felt through the enemy.

"Damn.....!"

The enemy has a face full of agony.

"Seriously..... this person is so obstinate. To receive Firo's attack and not fly away."

"such a heavy attack..... It's strength rival's that of the Hero of the Sword.
To kick me that heavily eith times in an instant....."

Eh? You can see Firo's attacks?

"Firo, do it again!"

"Eh.....Impossible, My magic power is exhausted and it takes time to prepare."

Was that Firo's sure kill attack?

"Eat this!"

Raphtalia pierces the opening.

"Naive!"

The iron fan intercept the sword at the last moment.

Bakin!

"Wh-"

Raphtalia's sword broke?

Just how much strength does she have. Originally iron fans can break swords, but that requires complete mastery.

Even though I applied Fast Guard, I am barely able to block with my shield.

And Firo has already used her trump card.

"Damn....."

Raphtalia backs off and pulls out a spare.

Is there any way to win.....

"Huff.....Huff.....That's quite enough."

No, we may have a chance if this becomes a battle of attrition.

This fellow fought against all 3 other heroes and their companions.

No matter who you are there should still be fatigue.

"I'll end it with this."

The enemy's whole body starts glowing.

That's bad! This is the same attack that took out the those 3"

"Raphtalia, Firo!"

The enemy starts to rotate at high speed like a dance.

Raphtalia and Firo hide behind me, although just barely they were able to make it.

"Shield Prison!"

A cage made out of shields and magic surrounds us.

"Rinbu Rei no Kata • Gyaku Shiki Setsugekka!"

A great storm descends from the iron-fan and starts cutting down my shields.

"Dammit....."

what an incredible attack. No wonder the other heroes got swept up in it, even I am barely able to hold.

"You two, are you okay?"

"Barely"

"It hurts....."

When I look back both of them looked like they've taken considerable damage.

I applied heal ointment onto the wounds.

Because of the ranged cure skill, their wounds were gradually cured.

"Really?.....To receive my trump and stand.....Your defence is quite something."

The tornado stops, and the enemy appears again.

"I am honoured by your praise."

Though I am quite beat up, we haven't lost yet.

But we have nothing to get us out of this pinch.

"Ei~!"

Firo moves at high speeds and damages the enemy little by little. This will be a long battle.

Whether or not we can win this battle of attrition is doubtful.

What to do.....

There is only one move in this circumstance that can reverse the situation.

"Raphtalia"

I catch Raphtalia who falls down.

"What's wrong?"

"Lend me your power....."

It seems Raphtalia guessed what I was going to do.

"Okay. I am Naofumi-sama's sword. Even if you go through hell I will follow."

".....I know"

I believe it.

There is no fear at all that my trust will be betrayed.

But if I lose here, then Raphtalia and Firo will die.....

Though I dislike to, I wish with all my heart that I want to protect by all means.

I will absolutely not get consumed by anger. I swear so.....

I place my hand on my shield and think.

Shield of Anger!

Growth Up due to stone of the Zombie Dragon.

Ability improvement of the Curse Series, Shield of Anger!

Shield of Anger 2

Ability Unsealed.....Equipment Bonus: Skill "Change Shield (Attack)" "Iron Maiden"

Special Effect: Self-Burning Curse Physical Strength Up Rage of the Dragon Roar Frenzy of Companions

Then-----

Is this the last memory of the dragon that I absorbed into my shield? A scene is projected.

A part of the chest and the middle of the forehead is pierced by the Hero of the Sword.

The anger felt is far beyond imagination.

I lost to that human. I was able to understand how much of a humiliation it was for the dragon

Grow Up.....Like hell!?

The shape of the shield changed from one surrounded by flame to one that resembles a dragon.

Furthermore, in conjunction with the shield, Barbarian Armour +1 also changed.

Is the cause from.....The decaying dragon core?

The Rider Suit changes to look like a Jet-Black Dragon.

And as compensation, a black shadow clouds my view.....

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 53 – Iron Maiden

---

Red Dragon Flame..... The Shield of Anger 2 that was changed by a black shadow.

"Uooooooooooooooooo!"

When I shout the air vibrates, it's as if the world resonated with me.

"What....."

The enemy stops fighting Firo and looks at me with a loss for words.

Just like the first time it is extremely dangerous to hold the Shield of Anger, it is trying to consume my heart.

The shield's anger has increased.....Is this the result of my upgrades?

Damn..... My view is warped.

"Naofumi-sama"

Suddenly, I feel a gentle touch.

It is probably Raphtalia.

I.....I will not lose here.

I shake the black shadow off and restore my vision.

And I look the enemy straight in the eye.

"U.....Uaaaaa"

What!?

When I look at Firo I feel a strange resonance with her.....The flame from my shield stays on Firo without burning her.

"Gaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

Firo sharpens her eyes like a bird of prey and kicks the enemy.
Is this due to the Dragon Core that was absorbed by the shield?

"W-What is going on. This is even heavier than before....."

The enemy is in dismay due to Firo's attacks
But, I can't tell if Firo is self-aware or not, all I can see in her eyes is rage in violence for the enemy.

"What happened."

The enemy approaches and asks.

"Oh, It's my trump card."

I still have my ego.

It's going to be alright. I did not yield to anger because there was someone who will believe in me.

I provoke the enemy despite all the cold sweat.

I also instruct Raphtalia with my eyes to stay away.

"Are you okay?"

"Yeah, I can still restrain it."

I approached the enemy

"Uaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa"

Special Effect, Roar.

It is probably something that increases the vibrations in the air.

"Gaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

In response to my roar, Firo recklessly charges the enemy with me.

"Damn....."

"Don't dodge please!"

"As If I'd do that!"

While the enemy is dealing with Firo using her iron fan. I also enter the fray.

Gagin!

Alright, the attack is lighter compared to when I had the Chimeric Viper Shield.

In this case it is not necessary to hunker down.

The fire from the Curse revolves around me.

According to my anger, the heat increases or decreases.

If I don't keep my anger in check, then the fire power would be extraordinary.

But, as for the flames, the power of the curse is still in there.

"What!?"

When Firo dived recklessly through my flames she falls to the ground instantly.

Good!

The black flame will take down the enemy.

"But.....It's not an attack that I cannot endure."

.....Though she took my flames head on it wasn't fatal.

"Rinbu Yabu No Kata • Kikkō wari!"

(TI note: 「輪舞破ノ型・亀甲割！」 If anyone's got anything better I'm all ears.)

The Iron Fan was retracted and came piercing towards me. It resembles an arrow.

Dangerous!

I ready my shield with that in mind.

Gatun, a heavy impact, and pain can be felt throughout the body.

My body was damaged through the shield

"Damn....."

"Hey, was I supposed to fall from that attack?....."

It is hard to stay calm from the pain. But if I lose my cool we all die here.

"It was quite a good attack"

That attack was probably meant for penetration, at least that's what it would do in games.

Even if defence is very high, it would be ignored and have no meaning.

There is also the possibility that it will do more damage the higher defence their opponent has.

Is this the weakness of the Hero of the Shield?

This is an old rule of thumb from net games, there are numerous ways to deal with any problem.

I do not know if my knowledge from those games apply to this world, but there are some-things that will always be true.

The enemy's offensive ability is simply too high while the shield is weak.

Next, avoid attacks. It is a common sense against enemies that use instant death attacks.

Finally, need some fire power. The way to overcome absolute offensive ability without dying is the role of a tank.

Until now, I tried to think of reasons that the shield is weak, but none of them really apply.

.....I don't understand.

Anyway, I need to concentrate now.

Using Fast heal I cure myself.

I don't know whether or not the other party can heal, but I won't take any chances.

"I know the weakness of your attacks."

The enemy declares grandly.

"Your only attack is the black flame which is close range. It cannot attack me from a distance. And that also makes your roar useless."

Damn..... It hurts to be analysed

She is quite suitable as a warrior. Insight is great. If it were someone else, she would not lose.

If someone like her is part of the wave then won't it become a disaster?

"However, once I take out your companions you are have chance of winning from a distance!"

The enemy changes her aim to Firo

"Gaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

"You think I'd let you!?"

Damn, it takes too long to catch up since Firo and her are so fast.

Anything.....Isn't there anything on hand I can use?

Then it hits me.

Change Shield (Attack) Iron Maiden

(TI note: Author typo'd here, it's supposed to be チェンジシールド but he wrote チェンジールド <http://ncode.syosetu.com/n3009bk/53/> for confirmation if you want.)

It is the skill that comes with the Shield of Anger.

Doing a last all-or-nothing attack isn't too bad.

I think it was..... Shield Prison -> Change Shield (Attack) -> Iron Maiden.

This is probably a skill that can only be used by consecutively using different skills.

It might be a combination skill.

"Shield Prison"

I use the skill that surrounds the enemy within shields.

"Please don't think I'll be stopped so easily."

However, it is extremely difficult to catch an enemy that moves with this skill.

Damn, this is also dangerous for Firo since they are moving so recklessly.

I don't know if you will receive a fatal injury.

The cage disappears doing nothing and only the cool down time remains.

"Naofumi-sama, did you think of something?"

"Yeah, is there any way you can stop her from moving?"

It would be very dangerous, but it would give me the best chance of catching her within the cage.

"I understand. I'll do my best"

"W-Will you be alright?"

"I'll be fine. I can fight today thanks to Naofumi-sama."

Raphtalia takes a stance with her sword and concentrates.
Her tail is also standing up.....Is she going to use magic?

"Match my timing because I'll stop her."

"Yeah!"

After some light appeared from her tail Raphtalia ran towards the enemy.

"Deryaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

"To come from the front is truly foolish!"

An arrow of light that is the iron fan is fired towards Raphtalia.

But, Raphtalia dodges it by lowering her posture.

"Deei!"

The enemy was slashed at with the sword.

"You're full of openings!"

Raphtalia resumes her posture but is slashed by the enemy.

Su..... Raphtalia scattered and simmered into the air.

"What!?"

There is a fizzing sound.

Then, Raphtalia appears from behind the enemy and knocks her down.

"Now!"

"Got it!"

I respond to Raphtalia's instructions. Firo has already moved away since she can tell I am about to use a skill.

It seems she can be manipulated by the Shield of Anger.

"Shield Prison!"

"What--"

The enemy is caged by shields.

The cage seems to break at any moment due to her attacks.

Not happening. I will not let the chance that Raphtalia made go to waste.

"Change Shield (Attack)"

I shout the name of the skill.

The shields that are available to the changed to appears.

The shield which I chose is the Bee Needle Shield!

"--!"

The shields change and the inside is attacked.

An impact spreads throughout the cage.

Iron Maiden!

When I was about to shout the name of the skill, a sentence appears in my head.

"The foolish criminal will feel with their whole body the embrace of virgin iron in a single blow. Release a cry full of painful agony that will not be heard!!"

"Iron Maiden!"

A huge iron torture device known as the iron maiden appears as I chant and wraps around the cage.

"-----!"

The cage of shield breaks and is confined by the iron maiden and pieced, not even the cry is let heard!

At the same time my Sp hits 0.

Th-this skill, does it use all of it's caster's SP as the sacrifice?

And the effect time of the Iron Maiden disappears.

"Gufu--"

With her whole body penetrated the enemy glares at me while breathing heavily.

"I am very dissatisfied.....But I have no choice but to withdraw for today....."

You can still stand after receiving such a skill?

"You think I'll let you escape!?"

"Ha!"

The enemy starts running towards the crack in the sky. When I look at Firo she doesn't seem to want to chase.

It seems Roar is necessary to order Firo to charge recklessly, but I cannot use it because I have no more SP.

We almost beat her.

"My name is glass..... You, what is your name?"

Before she entered the crack she turned around and pointed at me.

"Is it necessary for me to respond?"

"No it is not. But I want to remember the person who cornered me like this. That's it."

"As expected of a warrior, though there are a lot of things I want to know."

"Then, let me give the person who has the shield one piece of information."

What? What are you saying?

"It is a big mistake to think of me as a mere disaster. But, it is not I who will win, It is the one beyond the boundary."

Hm.....This information is surely important.

I know nothing about what kind of thing a wave is.

Glass..... It is necessary to know the meaning of her words, but also about the meaning of the waves.

At least the enemy is an intellectual living entity.

I have been too obsessed with that Bitch Princess and Trash King.
The true enemy that we Heroes fight are these fellows from the wave.

Hm.....It seems I have enemies behind and in-front of me.....

"Understood. Thanks for the information, My name is Iwatani Naofumi."
"Naofumi..... I'll remember it!"

When Glass declares that and enters the crack it starts to disappear.
Shortly after it vanishes.
I immediately change Shield of Anger 2 to another shield.
Although that shield gives me a temporary Power Up I cannot use it for too long.

"Haah....."
"We did it."
"I guess."
"Funyaa..... Did something happen?"

Raphtalia just catches up to me as I turn around, and Firo falls to the ground in exhaustion.

"Was the wave settled somehow?"
"I think so"
"Firo is tired....."
"Is that so. Let's ignore the other heroes and go clean up."

Thus, the third wave in this world ended.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 54 - Farewell

---

We returned to where the boss died to check up on those heroes who have fainted with volunteers and villagers.

So unnecessary.....

Well I had to return to get materials from the wave for my shield to absorb, since the Assault Shadow Goblin and Shadow Lizardmen were only shadows they could not be absorbed.

No, I have a feeling that if I make a lump of shadows and compress it I should be able to absorb it.

Shadow Shield

Ability Unsealed.....Equipment Bonus: Darkness Resistance (Small)

The other guys are omitted because the only equipment bonus they provided was for stats.

(TL note: It's not because I'm lazy he just says 他の奴等は全部ステータスアップ系の装備ボーナスしかないので省略する。)

The big ghost-like fish that the other Heroes defeated is quite desirable.

"Aan~"

"Don't eat it."

Because Firo was about to eat the head I ordered her to stop.

As for why this bird went berserk, the cause is still unknown.

My speculation is that it should be due to the dragon core that this fellow carelessly ate.

"But....."

When I was about to pick it up my hand fell through and onto the ground, it was quite surprising.

"How did you pick it up?"

"I used wind magic on my hand"

"Hah....."

I can't even touch it barehanded, this sure is quite the strange fish.

I asked the volunteer soldiers to bring the other heroes here, It seems their exclusive weapons are necessary.

Since one of them possess a weapon with a cheap attribute that is useful, I'll have to borrow it.

According to Firo, the item itself has to have magic imbued.

My shield absorbs a part of the head.

Soul Eater Shield

Ability Unsealed.....Equipment Bonus: Skill "Second Shield" Soul

Resistance (Intermediate) Mind Attack Resistance (Intermediate) SP Up

Special effect: Soul Devour Sp recovery (Weak)

Even though the demon head was dismantled the name did not disappear so it doesn't really matter.

I absorb another part but there is no change either.

However, I am curious as to what the Second Shield skill does. As for soul resistance.....It is probably resistance against attacks of this type.
the name Soul Devour makes me slightly anxious. It seems I can eat souls; it's quite unpleasant.
The shape of my shield changes slowly. The design seemed to be based off of this demon's head since it is attached to my shield.
..... It's defence is greater than the Chimeric Viper Shield.
It seems Soul Devour is a skill that is exclusive to this shield.

So I reach out my hand.

When I do so I am unable to touch the flesh of the soul eater.

But it still feels different somehow.

Good.

I don't want anything that will consume souls, I don't have such a hobby.
It's probably a counter effect. It will probably just absorb the enemy's SP.
Now then, what will the skill Second Shield do?
I'll experiment.

"Second Shield!"

Air Strike Shield -> Second Shield

An icon appears.

"Air Strike Shield!"

After I confirm the Air Strike Shield appearing I once again call out

"Second Shield!"

.....Another shield appears.

I see. It seems I'll be able to add another shield on top of Air Strike Shield within it's effect duration.

This will have various uses, but the performance of the second shield may be different.

I pay more attention to the remains of the Soul Eater.

"I want to absorb the rest, but then those annoying fellows won't shut up about it....."

They probably won't shut up.

This is troubling since there are beings stronger than the heroes who are already the strongest in this world.

If those three are this weak, even if I become strong I won't be able to take it easy.

Sigh..... Should I just leave?

"Master, can Firo have the rest?"

The bird is slobbering everywhere while being noisy.

"Can't be helped....."

I cut the area from the back bone to the tail and give it to Firo.

Who ate it it one gulp.

"This texture is like a slime~"

"Wait a minute bird. When did we encounter slimes?"

"Uhhh you see~"

I'll omit the details and abbreviate.

As a result I was angry.

In the meaning that I didn't get to absorb any by my shield.

"Alright, let's help out with the reconstruction of the village."

Along with the volunteers we started helping out around the village, by processing demon corpses and reconstructing any damaged buildings. Still, I cannot help everyone. So my top priority became making meals and treating injuries.

"Okay!"

The volunteers obediently did what I asked without question.

It seems I don't need to doubt them anymore.

One night passed after the long fight, it seems the knights have finally arrived.

Along with the volunteers I was summoned by an angry knight leader.

"Bastard! who gave you permission to selfishly take my soldiers!"

"This isn't the Hero-sama's responsibility! we were the ones who wanted to help and borrow his power."

"What? You lot call yourselves knights of Merlot Mark? By siding with the shield bastard?"

"You know..... this is quite the disgrace scene, if you have a problem with our behaviour just get rid of us right?"

The volunteers protected my by frankly expressing their opinions. According to the stories I head, the upper echelon of the knights had a meeting after they found out that the volunteers wanted to help a Hero.

"I think that if these guys weren't here there would be much more damage."

the villagers who heard what I said also nod.

"The other heroes and their companions were brought to that building to rest after they were defeated by the formidable enemy who appeared during the wave."

Though they weren't asked to the villagers take care of the Heroes and their companions.

Thanks to the prescribed medicine, they will have a complete recovery in a few days.

Due to the fast recovery they regained consciousness today.

"Hurry up carry out Hero-sama and their companions, send them to the Treatment Institute Immediately!"

"Hey..... They are going to be fine. Priority goes to the villagers and others who are severely injured."

"The Heroes are our top Priority, For this world and our country."

What an arrogant answer.....

Well, it seems their problem is that I prioritized the treatment of villagers.

"Whatever. Go away, I'm busy."

"Wait, Shield"

The knight leader calls for my to stop, so I turn around and ask for the circumstances.

"What is it this time....."

"You need to give a report, so come to the castle."

"No thanks, that place stinks."

"I'm telling you to come!"

Do you have the authority? Even though this is meaningless why does it still have to be prioritized.

The volunteers lower their heads and look down, but I just ignore it and turn around.

"Hero of the Shield-sama I beg you, please go....."

.....Oh, this guy obeyed my instructions and acted properly.

I cannot coldly refuse, though it is also necessary to go collect my metal wagon from the old man.

"Hah....."

I look back while scratching my head.

"Fine. I'll go. But I'll only meet this guy once."

"Thank you very much!"

I nodded to the volunteer who expressed his thanks.

This, we went straight to the castle.

Next day.

We arrive at the castle town and enter the castle.

"The shield's companions have to wait in another room."

"Why am I the only one that goes?"

Why is this guy acting so overbearing?

"Hey, can I leave yet?"

This is going to be a giant waste of time.

"Please don't go. There are various things that you must hear."

"I would have liked to talk about them before coming here."

The process of how the other heroes got smashed and how we defeated the enemy was already explained.

It seems one of the volunteers confirmed what I said since he happened to see it.

In any case, if the trash king tries to force something on me I'll just run away.

Due to Raphtalia and Firo I will not be easily caught.

"Quiet! You are in the King's presence!"

I was guided to the throne and the trash king greeted me with a grim expression.

It seems he already heard the story. He seems to be irritated.

"Although it is regrettable, thanks to the shield the wave was defeated. Though I don't believe it."

"Is that any way to thank a person?"

"Insolence!.....Well, it's fine. I only want to ask one thing. Though I'm sure you're lying."

".....What do you want"

It is a little annoying that he believes everything I say to be false.

"Shield, how did you outwit the other heroes and steal their strength? You have an obligation to speak, though I don't believe it. Now speak. Though I know you're lying."

.....So it's about that. The trash king is concerned that the other heroes are weaker than me.

Hah. I am so disgusted that I can't even talk.

Honestly, Glass beat the other heroes up.

Even though the Heroes outnumbered her they still lost.

Did I only win due to compatibility and the fact that the other party was worn out? Or were the other heroes weak and not even exhaust her.

I should look around that vicinity when I'm free.

But, what to do here.

Alright.

I showed a radiant smile to the trash and gave him a thumbs down.

"Prostrate yourself if you want to find out."

"What?"

All that's on the trash king's face is a dumbfounded expression.

that's a very interesting face. I want a picture.

"Did you not hear me? It seems trash has poor hearing. I told you to rub your head on the ground if you want to know."

"Yo-Yo-Yo"

"What's wrong? You sound like a screeching monkey. Oh I see, the trash king of this country is indeed lower than a monkey. Though I would rather be talking to a monkey."

The trash king's face is instantly dyed-red, and stares at me like I'm responsible for the murder of his parents.

Ah, this feels pretty good.

"You bastard-----!"

The cry of the trash king echoes throughout the castle.

Enemy from the wave in front, and trash king in the back.

But, I do not intend to be defeated by either.

And in this way I parted with the trash king.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 55 - Departure

---

"I demand Decapitatioooooooooooooon!"

As expected of trash. My answer is equivalent to your crown.

"Opps, it looks like you think your guillotine can hurt me"

With a clang, the knights of the trash take out their swords and surround me.

"Did you guys forget during the wave the I am the one who defeated the opponent those other heroes got trashed by?"

I equip my shield and answer.

As for the knights, none of them dare to move.

An appearance befitting a hero. These are people that know of what happened during the wave, so they do not attack.

Even if it was a half bluff.

"What are you doing! kill this impudent bastard already!"

"Hey....."

I glare at the trash king and repeat.

"Do you not understand? The present me can enter the castle from the entrance, murder you, and walk out just like that....."

"Grrr....."

At last, this trash seems to finally know his position. His face is mortified.

"Do you believe I can actually do it?"

I learnt that in this world threats and bluffs during negotiations are necessary. Therefore, against this trash I'll use it to the maximum.

"If you're going to request a hero to do it, do you think they can win against me?"

"Grrrrr....."

The trash is grinding his teeth with frustration.

"Being able to say such a thing--"

"If you harm my subordinates? I'll kill you."

Before I lose the possibility I will take the first move.

Since I have no clarification, I don't know whether or not the Iron Maiden skill can kill this trash.

But, I'm quite sure it will work.

If I also include the flames from the Self-Curse Burning.

The trash's expression turns blue when he understands his position.

"Do not bother me trash. I will co-operate during a wave, but once it is over do not disturb me."

This is my only threat but I cannot reveal my trump card easily. I'd prefer that to be my last resort.

Even if I kill him here nothing will be solved. This trash's successor will just appear and put me on the wanted list.

Even if I fight the other Heroes it is doubtful that I can win.

Besides, if all three of them team up on me I will lose.

"See ya"

I turn my heel and walk out of the throne room.

"Unforgivable! I won't forgive you Shieeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeld!"

The trash's scream resounds throughout the throne room.

"That's my lineeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeee!"

I pointed at the trash before leaving.

After leaving the throne room I pass by a noble woman-like person.

Concealing her lips with a fan and an expensive looking dress.

The face is too well concealed to be able to tell her age.

Perhaps late 20s.....?

Her hair is purple.....Quite a rare colour.....

"thank you for participating degojaru

Was whispered to me as we passed each other.

Gojaru?

Dangerous, I almost turned around.

Hm?

A girl just like Raphtalia when she was small and Firo's humanoid form is behind the woman.

Her hair colour is bluish. Also something you don't see much.

She is dressed well, is she her child?

However, they don't really resemble each other.....

Though she her looks rivals that of Firo's human form. Is this little girl also a bird?

Hm.....

I cannot remember who she looks like.

Oh well, that person is probably unpleasant. Remembering is just a waste of time.

So, at that time, we just crossed paths unintentionally.

I had no idea this kid would become an important figure in a future uproar.

By the way, Raphtalia and Firo were waiting for me in another room.

And the fact that they predicted I would cause trouble and was even ready for escape was icing on the cake.

Anyway, we left there in a hurry.

The next day.

I show up at the equipment store, to check on the requested carriage.

"Oh it's the lad. The carriage you asked for is done."

"Pretty quick. However old man, can you make anything as long as it's metal based?"

"I had my acquaintance help out, so I didn't make all of it."

Is this common for metal workers?

"Well, he's just one of those guys that can do anything as long as you have money."

"Lad, don't be sad just because you found out I can't do everything. I'm not versatile like you."

"I'm not omnipotent either....."

What does the old man think of me?

"Well it's parked in the back."

"Ah then let's check it out. By the way, Raphtalia-"

Raphtalia grasps my hand before I finish.

"What's wrong?"

"This sword is still fine. Let's conserve money for now."

"Well..... If Raphtalia says so....."

Though Firo is now our main attacker.

It shouldn't be necessary for Raphtalia to act unless it's urgent, the same goes for me.

This sounds bad, but there may be weapons somewhere else that are better than the ones in the old man's shop.

We went around the equipment store to check out the metal wagon.

The hood is metallic, and the whole carriage feels like an enlarged Christmas ornament that my parents bought.

"Wow~....."

Firo's eyes are shining with unprecedented brightness. She heads towards the front and grabs the handle.

"Firo is going to pull this right!?"

"Yeah"

"Yaay~!"

Firo is quite happy, both her feet and wings are flapping, as if wanting to bolt off at any moment.

She has such a face.

"For the time being let's carry in your luggage."

"Okay"

"Okay~!"

We transfer the baggage from our carriage that we used in between waves to the new one.

It took quite some time to carry the materials, merchandise, and tools.

"How is it lad?"

The old man from shows up when he has free time. And I answer with a thumbs up.

"yeah, it's as great as I expected."

"I see, but it seems to be very heavy, will the little missy be fine.....?"

"Yup!"

"This fellow here ran around the country with a carriage that had 3 carts attached."

"That's amazing"

"Rather, it's lighter than I expected so I'm a little disappointed."

"You know, stop being so stubborn!"

What are the standards for Philo Rial anyway? Why do they feel great when they pull carriages?

"Hahaha, do your best. So what'll you do from now on?"

"What will I do?"

"I heard about the commotion at the castle."

The old man says to me with a somewhat troubled face.

"That sure travelled quick"

"Rumours keep the town lively."

"Oh well. I did it so that trash would understand his position."

".....Though it's only a matter of time before you get falsely accused again."

"That's what I expected."

"If possible I don't want to know."

"I believe I asked this some time ago..... Are you going to go to Silt Welt or ShirudoFuriden to Class up?"

(TI note: Still need some help for names of countries. シルトヴェルト (Silt Welt) シルドフリーデン (Shirudo Furiden)

A few things come to mind when, and what I should have done when threatening trash is also get permission to use the Hourglass of the Dragon's era. But if the class up is controlled by the trash I will also fear for Raphtalia and Firo.

I would rather not have that unnecessary anxiety haunting me. It would be best to get a free pass for Class up in any of these two countries.

"Well, I expected you to go to be forced to leave this country someday."

"What?"

It seems the old man is nodding his head as if agreeing with himself. What does he mean?

"I would recommend you going to ShiruFuriden. Silt Welt is in turmoil....."

"Is that so?"

"Yeah, humans there are treated just like the demi-humans in this country."

No wonder..... It would be unsuitable for me who is a human.

"But--"

"Thanks for the help. I'll be going to ShirudoFuriden"

We finished loading and got into the carriage.

"Well then, I expect you to visit a great number of shops."

"Thanks, Oh right. Do you know of any weapons that have a soul attribute, or can damage ghosts?"

"I see, so you've gotten to the point where you need to prepare for such enemies."

"I can make something cheaply from certain materials."

"I cannot match you any more. If possible don't come back for a while. I'll tell you where you can get materials."

"I understand. Thanks for all the help. Then, let's go."

"Okay~"

"See ya. old man."

"Later"

Firo pulls the rattling carriage.

Our present goal is a Class up. It seems to be quite far into the future.

With Firo's running speed we should arrive in two weeks.

"Thats!"

I hear a loud voice outside.

Before leaving the castle town a something hits the metal carriage.

"I found you!"

".....What?"

After making Firo stop, a little girl looks into the carriage and points at me.

Behind the girl is a knight-like guy.

These guys seems to have followed us for a while.

"You did something terrible to father!"

"Hmm?"

What? The girl with blue hair that I am not familiar with gets closer.

"What's with you."

"Don't play dumb! I know that you can't hide it! You are an accomplished villain! The atrocious Hero of the Shield!"

This goddamn noisy kid. Is she some aristocrat?

That reminds me, I sold some cheap accessory to a noble before.

Though it wasn't just once or twice. I can't remember how many times any more.

"I see, your father just can't tell quality. I am just smarter."

"What did you say!?"

But, Hero of the Shield = Evil person..... That's quite unpleasant.

Oh well, it's too late now.

"Tell you father. To polish his aesthetic sense next time."

"Boo,Boo..... I'll never admit it, mother is wrong, the Hero of the Shield is a bad person! I'll punish you!"

The subordinate knights step forward according to the girl's order.

"Hm. can you keep them company Firo?"

"what~?"

"Just go."

"Okay"

"Ah....."

Firo stares at the goddamn kid and seems preoccupied.

"Holy Bird?"

"Eh?"

Firo inclines her neck and looks at the goddamn kid puzzled.

"Hurry up and go!"

"Okay~"

Firo nods, and the carriage suddenly takes off.

"AH Wait-----! Don'r run awaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaay!"

The voice of the goddamn kid fades into the distance.

The castle town sucks as expected. Other than coming for shopping I would rather stay away.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 56 - Shield Demon

---

"Let's continue peddling."

"I guess. Travelling expenses and the cost of weapons can get pretty expensive."

"I think so too."

"Though our food costs for a certain bird is the highest."

The Mileage to Food cost ratio on our bird is not negligible, but our horsepower is amazing.

Feeding a demon is ridiculous, the sheer quantity required is impossible to sustain.

So before all my money is consumed I need to earn more.

We should be fine selling things in the villages and towns we stay at.

While thinking so our treat begins. but.....

"I finally caught up!"

It is now evening.

The goddamn kid from the castle town caught up with us.

While peddling I decided on an inn.

"What a persistent brat."

"We haven't finished talking yet!"

"Whatever. It's about your father. So what?"

"So what!? You suck!"

The goddamn kid's face instantly turns red. Quite an emotional kid.
It's annoying and hysteric.

"My father is angry at the shield."

"I see, that's great."

"No it's not!"

This annoying brat.

After deciding on a place to stay the hotel charges are paid. I want to ignore her, but she is very persistent.

I wonder how far she intends to chase. I want to ask and make sure.

"What's wrong?"

Firo got bored of playing nearby and came back. By the way, even if a party member beats a demon far away I still get a little experience.

Sometimes all those minuscule experience gains block my view while peddling.

Though Firo brings me materials under the pretence of souvenirs.

"Ah....."

The goddamn kid stops and watches Firo again.

"Are you the Philo Rial that pulled the carriage?"

"Yeah, you understand."

"You are different from all the Philo Rial that I know of. It's my first time seeing one that looks like a child."

To be fair, only a few people have actually seen a Philo Rial Queen. We might be the only ones in the country.

"Master, did you need anything?"

"We are talking!"

"Start from the beginning."

Firo has been talking with her since they met.

"Shouldn't you be chirping?"

"Nope. Firo can speak words~"

"Wow.....Awesome!"

"Ehehe I'm amazing."

The goddamn kid approaches Firo and touches her.

Firo doesn't seem to mind.

Oh their mental ages are probably similar.

.....I can use this.

"If Firo agrees to it she can take her Philo Rial form and you two can go out and play together."

"Really!?"

"Yeah, go play until you're finished and then return."

"Yay~!"

The goddamn kid pats Firo with a smile.

"Master. What about Firo?"

"Play with the child. I order you not to injure her."

"Yay~!"

Firo saddles the little shit on her back.

Her expression instantly brightens.

"Yaay! We're so high!"

"Let's go play!"

"Ok!"

They happily run off together.

The knights chase after them with a perplexed expression.

"It's finally quite again."

"Naofumi-sama, your expression right now is very evil."

"There's no problems. That goddamn brat is probably going to forget any grudges she has after this."

"Goddamn brat..... Naofumi-sama do you dislike kids?"

"Not particularly. If I disliked them I would have abandoned you and Firo a long time ago.

"Well, that's true."

I hate her because she is accusing me.

I'd like to avoid any falling sparks if possible.

"When we enter the neighbouring country they should stop."

If she's an animal enthusiast and will just play with Firo it'll be fine.

".....I guess."

That day, Firo did not come back until very late.

It seems they were very exited about having new friends and played a lot, well it's good that they are happy about it.

By the way the name of that goddamn kid is Mel-chan.

Next morning.

After eating a light breakfast we leave the inn quickly. On the Road.

"Waaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaait!"

I crease my brows and face palm.

I knew this was going to happen, but to think she would be this quick.

I already forgot about the fellow when we departed this morning.

"Ah, it's Mel-Chan"

Since Firo stopped I got off the carriage to welcome the goddamn kid.

"You should be glad Firo-chan I won't have the Hero of the Shield apologize if we can play!"

"I'm sorry. Are we done?"

"Don't apologize to me, do it to father!"

So annoying.

I can't deal with her.

"If you don't apologize everyone won't be forgiven."

So she says, as the knight behind her pulls out a sword.

You want to fight?

Against a Hero?

Huh? The guy behind the goddamn brat is pointing a crystal ball at me.

What's that?

Suddenly I notice.

This guy.....He's not looking at me.

I feel a chill run up my spine.

This foreboding feeling ,and atmosphere reminds me of when I was deceived by that bitch.

This atmosphere that I encountered the past few months of trying to plunge another into despair.

I charge the Knight at once.

And my premonition becomes reality.

The knight aims his sword at the goddamn kid.

"Kyaaaaaaaaaaaaa!?"

"Air Strike Shield!"

The goddamn brats starts to scream. I immediately cast Air Strike Shield to intercept.

".....What the hell are you doing!"

I stand in front of the goddamn kid and glare at the enemy.

"You Shield! how dare you hold a princess hostage!"

"Huh?"

Princess?

Regardless of who you are looking after, isn't it weird to call them princess?

The goddamn kid seems to know what's going on and her face turns blue.

"The shield is evil! I've known since the beginning."

The enemies are attacking us while saying so.

I protect the goddamn kid by pulling her close.

Gakin, the clashing of metal resounds in the area.

"Damn....."

The enemy starts to cast magic that rains fire.

Can't be helped. I'll cover the goddamn kid with my mantle to protect her from magic.

"You.....Demon of the Shield!"

"Firo, Raphtalia!"

"Okay!"

"Okay~!"

As per my instructions. Raphtalia and Firo charges the enemy.

Just as we counter attack the enemy retreats on horseback.

"Fools."

Firo's leg power overwhelms horses. One of them is instantly blown off.

"Guaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

"Ah, it's the devil!"

Additionally, we pursue the enemy and continue attacking, one , two, some were captured but a few of them managed to get away.

"what the hell is wrong with these guys."

Were they not the goddamn brat's guards?

A princess huh.

I have no choice but to perform a few interrogations here.

I ask the enemies who are bound by rope.

"Now then, you bastards, tell me you are trying to kill a child. Only the reason."

"As If I have anything to say to a devil"

"Hooh....."

Devil, huh. It's been a while since I've been straight up called that.
Regardless of who it's always Hero of the Shield.

"You. Do you understand what's happening to you?"

I give instructions to Firo.

"Food?"

The enemy's face turns blue.

"I will sacrifice myself for god..... God will lead me to heaven."

.....Religion.

Against these kinds of fanatics threats will not work.

"Hey brat, you have any ideas?"

The goddamn brat shakes her head in fear.

"Say, what religion do you believe in? It'll probably be to some stupid god anyway."

"The three Heroes Church! You damn Devil! You dare mock God?"

As I thought. These fools can't stand it when their religion is mocked.

Now, if I can skilfully manipulate him with insults I may be able to get some information.

"The religion of this country."

Raphtalia mutters alone.

"Do you know about it?"

"This country mostly believes in the teachings of the Three Heroes. I did not believe since my parents were from a different religion."

".....Then this guy is just using religion as a tool for personal gains."

"Ah, Yeah"

I find a Rosary-like Accessory on the people who Raphtalia tied up.

"I'm going to place this on the ground."

"Hah....."

What a strange symbol. Three weapons pile on top of each other.

Sword, Spear, and Bow?

Quite an unpleasant line up of weapons.

"Now, I will step on this tool if you guys don't speak obediently."

"St-Stooooooooop!"

The enemy's cry stops me.

That was quite early.....

Is this lump of metal so important?

Rather than anything special, it just reminds me of a fashion accessory, it doesn't even have any special effects.

Though it might just be the case for me since people in my world start wars for religion.

"Look at this."

I repeatedly stomp on the strange symbol with my foot.

"You devil of the shield! God will never forgive such acts!"

"I know, now tell me quickly why you're trying to kill her. Or is this the degree of your faith? Huh?"

"Damn....."

"To think there would be a devil stepping on god's symbol right in front of you. Shouldn't god be on your side?"

It's the opposite of the loyalty test.

Since this guy recognizes me as the devil, he will not stand by as I perform barbaric acts.

"If you spit it out I'll stop."

"I'm not going to listen to anything a d-devil has to say."

"ah I see."

I stomp on the symbol hard enough that it sinks into the ground.

"You bastaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaard!"

Hmm..... I wonder what happened.

Did he finally realise his position?

"Hey brat, who is this guy anyway?"

"Aau....."

The goddamn brat still seems to be recovering from the fear of almost being killed.

"Mel-chan. Master and Firo is here so you'll be alright."

".....Firo-chan"

The goddamn kid collects herself, gives me a look and mutters.

"Uhm. These people are my father's knights."

"That reminds me, who is your father?"

"Father?"

"Yeah, which noble family are you from?"

"Uhm"

Not nobility? Then what is it?

She looks considerably well-bred, is she the daughter of a famous merchant?

Daughter of the accessory merchant? Though there should be no reason for malice if that's the case.

.....From this guy's speech and behaviour her dad should be quite powerful and respected.

I still think she's some noble's daughter.

"Father is the king of this country."

".....What?"

"Holt Clay = Merlot Mark the 32nd. I am Melty = Merlot Mark.....This country's princess."

(TI note: Holt Clay..... as expected of the trash. If anyone has a better name let me know.オルトクレイ = メルロマルク 32 世。私はメルティ = メルロマルク.....この国の第二王女)

Thus, I somehow became embroiled in a ridiculous conspiracy.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 57 – The Church of The Three Heroes

---

"Alright, let's throw this guy away and leave the country."

I declare immediately after finding out that this goddamn brat is the second princess of Merlot Mark, Melty.

"Please wait. Are you just going to abandon a child who is being targeted?"

"She's the daughter of trash. I'm also going to be convicted regardless."

"But I think the circumstances are quite strange."

Hm, Raphtalia's opinion does make sense.

The second princess who was almost murdered is shaking again, while Firo is babysitting her.

If she really is the second princess, there should be no reason for the knights of this country to kill her.

Is this just a big conspiracy, or factional strife? Why would they want the princess dead?

I am completely ignorant about the circumstances of this country's internal affairs.

"Mel-chan. Why were you almost killed?"

".....I don't know. I just came to complain to the Hero of the Shield because he hurt father."

"You came alone?"

"No. The imperial guardsmen knights wanted to come no matter what."

It seems the second princess is merely a puppet.

Even if I interrogate her it would be impossible to get any information.

"Firo will certainly help you!"

"Hey, don't just go making promises without my permission!"

"Master. Firo wants to help Mel-chan"

"No."

"I want to help! I want to help! I want to help!"

"Argg, so annoying!"

Shit, I have a bad feeling about this. What's going to happen.

The knight who was watching begins to laugh.

"Finally you understand your position as a devil."

"Shut up. I'm done with you."

"You can't escape. I'll be waiting here until the mission succeeds."

".....What do you mean?"

"Our goal is to kill the second princess and pin the blame on you, but even though the first condition can not be fulfilled it is fine. Your head will be worth a lot of money from now on."

That trash, to think he would do something like this.

You're willing to sacrifice your daughter to find a just cause for killing me!?

"Even if you escape abroad, the royal family's assassins will pursue you!"

".....Wait, why is it necessary to kill the second princess in front of me?"

If you wanted to pin a false charge on me all you needed is the Bitch's testimony.

Even if the second princess is murdered somewhere else, they just need to claim that I did it.

Why aren't they doing?

Suddenly, I recall that other knight's crystal ball.

Due to him fleeing first, he managed to escape.

If that was something that took photographs.

"Devil of the Shield, the fact that you participated in murdering princess Melty has been spread to the other countries. You will no longer be able to take refuge there."

No wonder. In this country, they cannot cross the borders to search for me. If I manage escape abroad then it will show that this country is weak. As for the other countries, they will help the Hero of the Shield to try gaining me as an ally.

However, that will be impossible now.

There is a crystal ball that shows the moment when the Hero of the Shield might have murdered the second princess.

That is plenty of evidence.

Once they show that to foreign countries I won't be able to seek refuge.

Wow..... I kind of respect how thorough they are.

That leaves me with 3 choices.

Choice 1

I ditch the second princess.

The knight of the trash that came to kill the second princess will fulfil his duty and give the country a just cause to hunt me.

I live as a wanted man with a bounty on my head.

It spreads to another country and the time that I stay as a wanted man becomes even longer.

It will be the most dangerous when the wave comes. I will most likely be caught.

Choice 2

I take the second princess to the trash and explain the circumstances.

The second princess will keep her life, but this is trash we are talking about.

The crime of kidnapping will not be cleared.

In other words I can save the life of the second princess, but my innocence will not be proven.

Choice 3

We go kill trash in an outrage.

The crime will be complete which will lead to the 3 heroes, the church, and a massive amount of knights hunting me down.

The possibility of failure is too high.

"No matter the choice my innocence will not be proven-! That trash king, to murder his own daughter to kill me!"

Very unpleasant!

Seriously why is everyone blood related to the king so annoying,

"Hahaha! It's over for the Devil of the shield. You will perish before the Church Three Heroes!"

"Shut up!"

I tell the knights to shut up while ordering Firo out of spite.

You are allowed to kill them, but it's meaningless since a lot of them already escaped.

But, if my false charges are dropped, they will ask about the homicide.

"Still, that Church of Three Heroes....."

Church of Three Heroes

Three, Heroes, Church.

Now that I think about it, aren't these things all connected?

The symbol contains the holy weapons of those three.

But isn't it strange?

Sword, Spear, Bow, and Shield.

According to legends these 4 are the only ones.

But the Knights view me as the devil, and the Church of Three Heroes are also hostile.

.....Is that it?

Upon arrival in this world, none of the adventurers wanted to become my companion.

Naturally, the only adventurers they prepare are ones trusted by the country.

It seems the religion known as the Church of Three Heroes is brought up a lot around the city.

Since the Church of Three Heroes calls me the devil of the shield, I am supposed to be an absolute evil within the country.

Who would willingly become the devil of the shield's companion? Were they not even aware of my situation, or were they trying to create a situation where I can be nothing but evil?

.....That seems to be the case. In this country just saying Hero of the Shield will earn you a dirty look.

The majority of knights are blind believers, of course the royal family is no exception.

Thinking back with this information, I can't help but be a little amused at the rape accusations placed on me.

Since I am treated as a religious enemy, I was ignored intentionally and branded as a criminal without evidence.

If I do anything bad the citizens will just say "Because he's the devil of the shield"

That sister's hostility towards me at the Hourglass of the Dragon's era proves it.

I can somewhat understand the trash king's thoughts.

If he wants to keep his standing as the king, he will not be able to treat the devil of the shield the same as the three heroes.

Currently, the reputation of the Hero of the Shield has improved within the country.

Since I have been going around various places masquerading as the Saint of the Holy bird and saving people.

Excluding the castle town, recently even as the Hero of the Shield, there has been no more hostility aimed towards me.

The problem is related to the prestige of the church.

I have no doubt they will also add threatening the church of three heroes to my list of crimes.

Is that why they played the trump card that is the second princess?

But, in the end this is all merely speculation.

No matter what I do it will be impossible to get rid of the false accusations.

"Fa-father won't do something like this!

Declares the second princess.

"Maybe....."

"Finish your sentence."

"Mother said that Father's forte is in warfare but, recently he also has quite a short fuse."

"Mother huh....."

Speaking of which, I still have not met the wife of trash.

Good at war huh.....That's certainly one hell of an enemy I've made. So far nothing good has happened to me.

"Mother always wins when they play intellectual games."

"Aren't you just calling her cunning?"

Whenever I talked to him all I felt was the he was a fool. Not sure how smart this mother will be.

"Father cherishes me so he won't do something like this."

"Then why did such a thing happen?"

"Uh....."

The second princess seems to cry at an moment.

"Master is awful~"

"That's right. To make such a small child cry."

"She is the same age as you."

Did Raphtalia forget she was the same size about two months ago?

Or is it because she has a big sister relationship with Firo.

Well, that trash king wasn't exactly a good person; However, he does not seem like a criminal.

I think that the trash treasures his relatives.

There is also the possibility that this situation was entirely cooked up by the fanatics that are trying to label me as a devil at all costs.

Besides, is the current royalty even stable?

This might be a little forced, but what if there are two factions: one supporting that bitch and one for the second princess?

"What about your sister?"

The successor would want to nip a bad bud early.

That bitch would pull off such a plan.

"wouldn't it be something like, I am the next queen. I need to prevent my younger sister from somehow taking the seat?"

"If it's elder sister.....maybe."

"Well I'm not denying that possibility."

"Since the old days mother would tell me not to imitate my sister in entrapping people to get whatever she wanted."

Is this the bitch's plan?

I mean, even her own relatives are wary of her.

"Mother said that Father does not understand."

"Now that I think about it, you've been saying mother a since a while ago but, who is she?"

"Mother is the queen of this country. All year round she is in charge of diplomacy. I am always with mother."

"So what does that have to do with us?"

"Mother will occasionally return visit father."

"Uhh.....So about her diplomacy."

"Because I do not want war I try my best everyday. Because of the wave the world is in danger, since I am the queen It is my duty to protect my country."

From what I hear she seems to be superior to the trash.

She might not patronize me.

Though a dangerous fellow may come after me to protect trash.

Hmm?

Thinking back seriously, did I not pass by this fellow in the castle after I parted from trash?

"The day before yesterday, were you with your mother? Is it that person with the purple hair?"

"That is my mother's body double."

"Body double huh..... Was there really such a feeling?"

Her outstanding purple hair left an impression.

"Yup. That's her disguise, and she talks funny."

"Wow"

Doesn't matter.

"She is greater than father."

The second princess just said something outrageous.

".....What did you say?"

"She is greater than father."

"What?"

"Naofumi-sama, in Merlot Mark the queen has the power. This country's royal family is of the female line."

Raphtalia supplemented as if it was natural.

Then is that it?

That trash is a son-in-law!

"Naofumi-sama why are you laughing?"

"This is too funny, that trash is just a son-in-law taken into the family?

Ahahahahaha!"

"Master you seem to be having fun~"

"Do not speak ill of father!"

"Isn't it fine? He deserted you."

"I wasn't thrown away! Uwaaaaan"

Oh, the second princess has begun hitting me while crying.

What a healing scene. I see an annoying fellow crying.

"You're the worst, making a child cry and then laughing."

"I know."

Rapthalia got mad as expected.

"So is there any way we can clear the suspicions and save her life.....?"

In the first place why should I defend relatives of the trash and bitch?

Still, I cannot murder her.

Though this fellow's blood is bad I would rather not dirty myself with it.

Sigh.....

However, I do sympathize a bit with her situation.

Being betrayed by blood relatives whom you believe in, the second princess has tasted the bottom of despair.

All right. There must be some method.

"Do you know where your mother the queen is?"

This is the first method. If trash is of no use, I'll meet and talk with the queen.

Since she has more power than trash, our problem should be solved.

In this scenario, the second princess's survival has become a necessary condition.

We will be heavily depending on whether she lives or dies.

It also seems that from our talks her mother is quite intelligent.

Though I still have my doubts considering how stupid trash is.

".....I don't know."

The second princess shakes her head.

"I see."

There is no reason to flee to another country aimlessly in this situation.

I recall my talk with the old man of the equipment store.

If I'm not mistaken, the country of Demi-humans Silt Welt is one that dominates humans. Merlot Mark's influence will be very low there right?

The possibility is quite high that the queen will find out and come to negotiate when she finds out that the second princess leaves Merlot Mark.

Of course, it would be very dangerous for us humans, but we have Raphtalia who is a demi-human.

It might also be good if we disguise ourselves.

"Alright, let's run away to Silt Welt for the time being. We might be able to overcome this situation there."

"That's the country of Demi-humans..... I see, It could work."

Raphtalia seems to understand.

"I'll leave the negotiations to enter the Demi-human country to you."

"Okay!"

"Now second princess, I will have you come with us. Rest assured, I will protect you by all means. If you do not wish to die then follow me."

".....okay"

The second princess unwillingly joins our carriage.

I do not dislike children if they understand.

But in this case. It would be better to tell the truth about this trash king and bitch princess who are no better than filth to this world.

Since the situation demands it our destinies have become intertwined, if either of us die it's over.

The second princess is also still a child.

If we teach her about what's correct starting from the beginning she might be able to understand.

"Then we'll be together from now on Mel-chan."

"Yup.....I'll be in your care Firo-chan."

Firo is in a good mood now that she found out she'll have a new friend to journey together with.

The second princess will be the key that leads us to victory.

If we lose her we are done.

I covered the knights who fainted in the forest and changed our direction to Silt Welt while staying cautious.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 58 – Wanted

---

"Umuu....."

I am observing the situation behind a bush.

It's been several hours since we picked up the second princess. Since there is a village nearby we must be cautious.

Nearby is the village that was plagued by the dragon corpse a while ago.

It seems what the knight said was true.

"Devil of the shield Iwatani Naofumi slaughtered imperial guard knights and kidnapped the second princess while escaping. Wanted dead or alive. The prize-"

On the notice board within the village, there piece of paper that has quite a large amount of price money declared on it by the soldiers of the castle.

Is this seriously only a few hours after? They seemed too prepared for this.

I knew this was a set up since the beginning.

For some reason they also assumed I killed off those knights that I caught.

I heard it.

If you strap a bomb on yourself and charge you will go to heaven.

These guys are putting similar insane thoughts to practice.

"The Imperial guardsmen knights have memorized an image of the criminal! The Imperial guardsmen knight who brought the crystal ball to the castle also died after duty was completed."

Furthermore. It seems that a hologram of me is being projected by the crystal ball.

My face was twisted with wickedness and, I am strangling the second princess by her neck, which also appears to be bleeding.

.....Is that amount of fabrication even possible?

Should I make a habit of avoiding crystal balls at all costs in the future?

Though she looks pretty healthy despite being on the verge of death.....

When I look closely at the second princess's face, despite the fact that she is being strangled, her expression is more shocked than painful.

By the way, the country of Silt Welt is located south east of Shirudo Furiden which is north east of our current location.

It seems that it's for us necessary to cross two countries.

That is considerably further than before.

We will somehow have to advance without being found.

"If you see the devil that has a strange bird pulling his carriage. Contact the Country immediately."

The crystal ball then shows Firo's image, and her expression is that of a bird of prey spitting poison from the mouth.

That's good. I can use poison since they put that in the forgery.

This is going to be a problem though, since Firo is our main means of transportation.

We might have to leave Firo somewhere.

"So, Firo you understand right?"

"Noo~!"

As I finished scouting the village, I went to Firo and to let her know.

If we continue letting Firo pull the carriage to refuge she will attract a lot of attention.

If it comes down to it Firo could just abandon the carriage and run off with her superior speed.

They would have a hard time catching her but we would lose everything.

So, I have to explain the situation.

"We can't help it. Because you stand out."

In the sense that she's an unusual demon.

She is the reason I am known as the saint of the holy bird after all.

"Can't Firo just change into a different form before anything happens? Firo will work hard!"

"How are you-"

Firo's body shines and starts transforming.

She will probably pull the carriage in her human form anyway.

Her neck and feet started extending.

"Gueeee!"

Firo has transformed into a normal Philo Rial that resembles an ostrich.

Well, the size is considerably bigger than average I guess.

"Can you maintain this figure?"

"Gueeee!"

She nods.

"Can you only chirp in that form?"

"Guee!"

"I see."

I guess we will be fine if she can keep this appearance.

"Firo-chan is amazing!"

The second princess's eyes sparkles as she begins playing with Firo.

"Gueeeee"

This high pitched screeching is better than her toxic mouth anyway.

"When you're in that form be quiet."

"Guee!"

My head was gripped by her foot.

Naturally since Raphtalia and Firo rarely attack me they forget that it violates the slave mark.

The demon crest appears on her chest and she rolls over in pain.

"Gueee!?"

"Firo-chan!?"

"Seriously, what is it you don't like?"

"Don't use violence on Firo-chan!"

"I didn't. The demon crest only activated because she attacked me."

Though she is still sort of cute in this form, although her communication is lacking.

But like this I don't know what Firo is saying.

It seems that this could be from my inner thoughts of "it would be nice if I had a pet that will unconditionally listen to me and not be noisy."

Firo returns to her human forms and starts whining like a child.

"It's painful!"

"You asked for it. Even you understand. Demons can't attack their masters."

"Ueh....."

The second princess is strangely worried about Firo.

Is it because they are friends?

"For the time being, I'm assuming you are fine with disguising ourselves."

Up until now we were fine staying hidden as a saint, so it should work out somehow.

"Raphtalia..... can you make yourself look a little shabby, and wear a hat?"

So like this, the princess and I hid ourselves within the carriage while the transformed Firo and disguised Raphtalia took care of passing the village.

"Ah....."

Raphtalia meets the villager's eyes.

"....."

"....."

We pass silently.

"....."

"....."

The metal carriage passes the village as the soldiers watch.

"Wait."

We were halted.

I begin preparing for being found out, we should be able to deal with the people in this village.

"O-okay. What's wrong?"

"The other side of your carriage has a wing mark. It resembles the one on that devil bird....."

"N-no. I'm just a merchant.

"Hou.....May I confirm what is inside?"

This is dangerous.

The soldier puts hand on the door of the carriage.

What to do. I may be fine since I am wearing common clothing and my shield is in the form of a book, but the princess will be recognized immediately.

"Ah!"

The villager who made eye contact with Raphtalia suddenly spoke.

"What's wrong!?"

The soldier turns around to face the villager.

"I heard that someone spotted the demon of the shield a while ago over there."

"Really!?"

The villager nods his head.

The soldier starts running towards the direction indicated by the villager.

"Over here."

The villager knocks on the carriage.

"Hurry, before it's too late."

It seems he's going to provide a hiding place for us.

What to do..... the deceived soldier will come back soon and that will be disastrous.

"Please go. I'll stall them here."

Raphtalia senses my hesitation and decides for me.

"But-"

"I planned to do this since the beginning."

Is that so?

The second princess and I get off the carriage when we arrive at the house, I cover her with a mantle as the villager guides us.

"There is nothing."

"Huh? Was I wrong?"

"No, you reported as ordered and even gave details, he just got away."

"I see"

The villager finishes deceiving the soldier and he checks the carriage.

"Hmmm.....there are only miscellaneous goods. Is this medicine?"

"Yeah, an adventurer asked me to transport it. hahaha"

While in disguise Raphtalia answers with a wry smile.

"I see, well sorry I bothered you."

"No it's fine."

The soldier leaves to patrol somewhere else.

The villager points Raphtalia in the direction of the inn and she responds obediently.

"Hmm....."

We were peeping from the window of the private house.

I was very nervous.

That was pretty dangerous. If that villager choose not to help us there would have been an uproar.

"Saint-sama are you all right?"

"Ah yea.....somehow."

"After saint-sama saved the village we noticed you were actually the Hero of the shield-sama."

"And you guys don't condemn me?"

"Condemn!? No way. The saint saved the people of this village. There is no way we will repay kindness with enmity."

".....Are we safe?"

The second princess anxiously asks.

"You're going to side with the devil?"

"We received various things from the Three Heroes church. But, the devil of the shield kindly saved us from the disaster that the god of the sword caused."

The fight here was harsh. I also learned various things from this village. It seems that the village is still recovering from after-effects of the plague.

"Although you might be called a devil, under these circumstances we would be even worse than devils if we do not repay our favour."

The villager points at the second princess is about to ask.

"This is just a little conspiracy."

"Well it's fine if the princess went willingly."

The princess nods at the villager's words.

"Currently there are those within the country aiming for my life. The Hero of the Shield-sama saved me....."

The villager nods in understanding at the princess's answer.

"I get it. Some of us might be ungrateful though. So you should quickly escape."

".....I know."

"There is a cart in the back that is fully loaded with straw. Please hid in it, and several villagers will carry you to your companion who is at the inn."

"I am grateful."

Thanks to the villagers who carried the cart of hay and distracted the soldier, we rejoined Raphtalia.

"As I thought we are in considerable danger in this carriage. Let's ditch it for something else."

"Gueee!?"

Transformed Firo informs me of her displeasure.
Her neck is shaking back and forth.

"Gue! Gue!"

"We can't help it! Do you want to be found and caught? The second princess, Mel-chan will be killed."

"Gu....."

Firo reluctantly falls silent at the mention of the second princess's life being in danger.
It seems she has become quite an important friend for her to care this much.....

"You're great, Firo. You can let go of important things for your friend."
"Gue?"

I pat her kindly.
Even if I don't understand what she is saying, she choose correctly.

"After this is over we'll certainly take it back."
"Gue!"

Absolutely. I understand.

"Sorry. Would you mind looking after the carriage here?"

".....Sure."

The villager seems to understand the situation and accepts it.

"I will be very grateful."

"You've already done enough for us."

"I see. alright, second princess, come here. Change your clothes, we'll be discovered instantly with what you're wearing now."

"O.....okay"

The second princess doesn't seem very happy about the idea of wearing cheap clothing but given the situation she has no choice.

It seems that the apprentice's clothing from villager barely fits.

It's probably due to the villager having no children.

Compared to the second princess's usual clothing, now she looks like a shabby little villager.

Albeit a well-bred one since blue hair is only asserted with noble born children.

Well I can worry about that as we travel. There is no reason to discard her old clothes.

It will be a little awkward to bring it around though.

"Fill the bags with miscellaneous goods."

I put the more valuable things inside the straw cart and cover it.

Anything bulky was given to the villagers.

We should be fine going for two weeks like this. This stuff will be useful for the revival of the village.

"Alright, let's go."

"Okay"

We leave the village quietly and while the villagers see us off.

Well, we were still seen by another villager.

After this, our best bet would be to avoid towns and villages as much as possible.

The wagon made a rumbling sound as we began to run north east.

If possible I hope the village won't be punished for helping us.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 59 – Firo's Secret

---

The crackling of the camp-fire was the only thing that could be heard while we sat around.

There haven't been any enemies so far, but we cannot just take it easy. In the first place we are in disguise. From the first glance it would be hard to tell that I am the Hero of the Shield.

But that's to be expected.

"Ahahahahahaha Firo-chan"

"Ahahahahahaha"

The second princess and Firo are running around the clearing without a care in the world.

Pleasant things in life include food, sleep, and a close friends.

Since I participated many times in school events in a country school and excursions to seaside summer houses, I understand how they feel.

Once I became a university student I also lodged at my friend's house.

But..... To think these two would be so chummy.

It might be because ever since Firo was born she never had anyone around her age or size to communicate with, so it is understandable.

No, the feeling I'm getting is what an owner feels for their domestic animals. This second princess is a little surprising though.

I thought that this culture looked down on animals and such.

It might also be how she is coping with this unexpectedly long journey that she had no say in.

"Don't be too loud! We may be found."

"Okay~"

After replying they go right back to playing.

Seriously, after Firo made a friend it's gotten very noisy.

"Mel-chan, Firo will show you a treasure."

"Yay!"

After saying so Firo opens a bag that is concealed within the wagon, and shows the second princess it's contents.

I wonder what's in it. I am a little worried.

The treasure of that bird. Is she just collecting the stuff I throw away?

"Master wants to see too~?"

"Ah, yeah."

I approached Firo and took a look inside.

Oh, a piece of a broken sword. Also trash jewels which I threw away after failing to make accessories with.

An empty bottle. Glass marbles.

"It's shiny and beautiful"

"Yeah, it's beautiful."

The second princess is putting on quite a subtle mask.

Well, it's just garbage.

Is it because birds like shiny objects? I heard something like this before, it was an uproar caused by a crow stealing valuables.

This might be related.

Hmm?

"What's this?"

Since there was something strange mixed in the bag I took it out.

A big brown..... furball? It has the shape of a ball, but it is very soft.

It kind of stinks.

I have a really bad feeling about this.

"That is..... something that came out of Firo's mouth."

It came out of the mouth..... of the bird.

Is this comparable to a cat's hairball? In human terms it's barf.

Bullet of the bird = Vomit.

In other words the hard objects like bones and whatnot that Firo eats are dissolved into.....this.

"It's finished!"

What is? I just realised I'm still holding onto the hairball.

I threw it away.

"Ah Firo's treasure!"

"That's not a treasure! That's waste! If I see another one of those in your bag I'm throwing it all away!"

"Boo....."

Firo and the second princess seems to have a few subtle exchanges in front of me.

"Hey, Second princess."

"Hm?"

"When Firo changed into her human form you were not surprised."

"Yup. Because I saw it yesterday."

"I see."

So you already knew.

Well that's good.

Today's dinner is grilled skewers consisting of meat from the demons we encounter.

"Master is good at making food!"

"How is this skewer so delicious!? It's just meat on a stick!"

The second princess eats anything without flinching. It seems my fears of her not eating barbaric cuisine is groundless.

I was expecting her to take a while before she was able to eat this stuff.

My expectations were betrayed. It seems the queen brought her up nicely.

"If it's with Naofumi-sama we can eat this everyday."

"Yay~!"

"I see, that's good."

Now then, for my spare time. I'm getting quite used to camping out.
Should I study the beginner class magic book and try to learn new magic?
After a few minutes the second princess and Firo quiet down.
They are probably tired and sleeping.
Raphtalia is going to take a nap.
I can't sleep soundly if Firo or the second princess is watching the fire.
And I have to prepare for any night attacks.

"Hmmm....."

Despite it being beginner class, there are various kinds of magic.
There is a ranged version of Fast Guard and Fast Heal.
Though I haven't read the book completely some beginner class magic was learnt.
I now have magic that will increase offensive ability and speed.
I would like to learn the more difficult spells, but deciphering difficult concepts and grammar is hard.
As the firewood burns, time passes.
While mixing medicine I am unable to calm down. I haven't advanced much in poison compounding, but I can sort poisonous herbs and understand a few recipes.
There is no time to look for materials though.

"N....."

Raphtalia woke up with an absent-minded look.

"Oh? Did I wake you?"

"No.....Do you want to change?"

"If you're fine with it."

"Okay."

Since Raphtalia is taking my place I decided to lay down.

"Umm, Naofumi-sama?"

"What's up?"

"About Firo and Princess Melty....."

Raphtalia points towards Firo's Philo Rial · Queen form with trembling fingers.

The second princess's clothes are taken off and lying around Firo who is sitting alone and rocking back and forth in her sleep.

"Ummmm"

Based on circumstantial evidence.....Where is the second princess?

There is nothing behind Firo either.....

Even her shoes are there.....Where is her body?

"No way....."

No matter how much of a glutton you are.....

"Naofumi-sama, I don't want to believe it but it seems you threatening other humans with Firo eating them may not be a bluff....."

"Nonono! No way!"

"But.....Firo is"

"U....."

Can it be? Did you recognize Friend = Edible partner?

Is that what you meant by wanting to help her no matter what?

"Raphtalia, let's do our best as fugitives."

"Yeah. Our crimes are certain now....."

Seriously, this Fat bird does the most outrageous things.

"Funya?"

Firo wakes up and tilts her head.

"Raphtalia Onee-chan? Master? What happened?"

"Firo, where is princess Melty?"

"Melty-chan? Melty-chan is sleeping within Firo's feathers."

"What? Not inside you?"

This is something that must be verified.

"Melty-chan. Wake up"

Firo lets her feathers on her back stand on end.

"N~?"

It is a strange sight to see, the second princess appearing from within Firo's back.

"What!?"

How is there enough room for a person inside of Firo's feathers?

But it is undeniable that the second princess came out of a strange place.

"Firo-chan How did you do that?"

"Master did you wake me up to look for Mel-chan? Here she is."

"Firo's back is very warm....."

".....Why did you take your clothes off?"

"Because it's hot."

Ah.....That's not surprising.

"How did you get so deep?"

"Firo-chan's feather's are soft and fluffy, they are also mysterious and thick you know? You want to feel it?"

"Ah, Yeah"

What the heck is happening in Firo's body?

Since the princess is becking I stretch my hand out.

The princess catches my hand and puts it into one of Firo's feathers.

"Uwaa.....This is quite deep."

I can put my whole arm into her.

As I thought, her temperature is hot.

If the princess snuggles up in here I may not notice.

It seems to only swell a little.

"What the heck is with this bird's structure."

"I know right....."

"Should we examine by plucking all her feathers? I might even make a profit from selling the feathers."

"No~!"

"No roughing up Firo-chan!"

Hmm.....Today it seems I have had a glimpse at the strange anatomy of this bird.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 60 – Deviltry

---

Several days later.

Firo is pulling the wagon across the highway, while looking like an ordinary Philo Rial. We are mostly trying to ignore villages and towns.

Repeatedly camping out at night.

We're almost at the border.

"Gueeee!"

Firo cries in alarm.

Is it an enemy!?

The second princess and I hide in the straw to observe.

"Hehehe, hand over all your money and you may leave."

A familiar sounding voice.

Why look at that, if it isn't the thief who tried to rob the accessory merchant before.

What is wrong with this guy?

He's seriously going to attack a wagon full of straw?

"Hey! Hurry up and leave all your valuables! Oh? you look pretty famili-"

The bandit's complexion instantly pales after he takes a look at Raphtalia in disguise.

"You look different."

It's probably not necessary to hide any more, so I jump out of the wagon. Firo who senses that it's not necessary to disguise herself returns to her Philo Rial · Queen form.

"Are you fighting?"

The second princess anxiously asks from the midst of straw.

"Yeah, probably. Don't worry about it."

"Why not? Will we be okay?"

It seems about two thirds of the bandits haven't fought with us before, most of them look at me with a puzzled expression while the rest turn blue.

"D-D-D-Don't be afraid. Th-This guy has a bounty now. I-If we beat him we can get it."

He declares while stuttering and trembling.

That's one hell of a stutter.

"Even though I ransacked you last month, you're already back on your feet. Quite quick if I do say so myself."

One of his companions who had a puzzled expression prepares to attack.

"Sh-Shut up! Because of you I'm just a lackey in another group of thieves now!"

"Ah, so you guys merged?"

"The boss has returned to his country!"

"That's great. You should also resign from these types of jobs."

"Sh-Shut up! You're going to get it!"

They all take up their weapons and charge us.

"Firo! Raphtalia!"

"Okay!"

"Okay~!"

I step back to protect the second princess.

Neither Raphtalia nor Firo will lose to thieves of this level.

"Eat this!"

One of the thieves swings his sword at Firo.

"Firo-chan!"

The second princess pops out of the straw, extends her hands and starts to chant.

What? The second princess can fight?"

"I command the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. blast them with water!"

"Ars ・ Tzuvait ・ Aqua Shot!"

(TI note: 「アル・ツヴァイト・アクアショット！」 Anyone got a better name let me know.)

Huh?

Water erupts from the second princess's hands and speeds towards the thieves.

Tzuvait. It is an adjective that makes a magic intermediate class. As for Ars, it means multiple magic systems.

"Uge!"

"Gawa!"

"Ugu!"

The thieves near Firo are blown away.

That packs quite the punch.

"I command the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. Cut them with blades of water!"

"Tzuvait ・ Aqua Slash!"

The second princess follows up immediately with another spell.

More water erupts from her hands but this time instead of a ball of water, blades of water released.

Somehow, I heard something dangerous.

She missed her target, but the tree that she did hit was cut in half.

"Next.....I'll use....."

She's gasping for breath. It seems to be difficult casting continuously.

"They have a magician! She's also an expert!"

"Firo-chan!"

"Okay~!"

The bandits who are staring at the second princess in surprise are kicked like toys by Firo.

"I'm finished over there."

"Not yet~!"

One of the thieves snuck around us by taking advantage of the confusion, and tried to jump the second princess.

"Air Strike Shield!"

"Argg!"

Right as he jumps I summon a shield in between them.

"Not yet!"

The remaining thieves start charging at the second princess who is our weakest link.

"Second shield, Change Shield"

I call another shield to protect her and then I instantly change shields.
I'll just use the Bee Needle Shield this time. they may accidentally die from sustained poison damage. I'll just stun them with paralysis.

"Ugh,arg....."

One of the thieves is hit by my the second shield and falls down convulsing.

"Still not done yet!"

The first thief who approached the second princess begins to crawl.

"No, it's over."

"Ah....."

A big shadow looms over the thief. It seems he noticed too. I hear crying.
Probably one of thieves crying in resignation.

"I'll help Mel-chan!"

And with a thud, Firo just body slams him.

"You guys know the drill. Tell me where your hideout is."

I ask after tying up all their members.

"We'll never talk-"

"Firo"

"It's over there!"

"H-hey!"

It seems the newbie thieves don't know their position.

"What's wrong?"

One of the thieves who encountered us last time desperately pleas.

"That fat bird will eat us if we don't accept obediently!"

"Are you joking?"

"Does that guy look like he jokes?"

I was surprised as the thief talks.

"Who is that anyway? He used some strange skills and magic."

'Don't you understand!? That's the shield!"

"Eh!?"

The remaining members of the group of thieves all turn blue.

"The devil and his man-eating bird!?"

"That's right! that bird eats everything including the head. I'd rather just get kicked and get away!"

"Please just spare our lives! We'll give you all our property, even the leader's!"

It seems another rumour has been added to my notoriety.....

Raphtalia sighs and face-palms.

"If you tell a lie-"

"I know! so please spare our lives!"

The thieves inform me of their hideout location. Of course, we occupied it with overwhelming combat power.

That day, we spent the night at the bandit hide- I mean inn. And took everything the thieves accumulated.

It was mostly just food. But since we have been living like fugitives recently, and only eating demons, a decent meal was appreciated.

When we entered the second princess was scared, but after a while she settled down.

Anything that was valuable was collected, and anything that was too troublesome to take was burnt.

Well if anything is missed, and the thieves reclaim it, I don't really care.

I half-smiled at the thieves who were despairing.

They were then rolled out of the hideout.

"Hey second princess, it seems you practice magic."

"Yup. I learnt it for self-defence."

"How much can you use?"

If the second princess joins our party we could fight better in the future.

"What level are you?"

"Uhhh, I'm level 18..... I can use a few Intermediate class water spells."

That's unexpectedly low. Well, if we're judging by appearance and age she would be very high levelled.

But intermediate magic huh?

"So you are good with water?"

"Yup"

Her hair is blue. Are they related?

"I can use a little earth magic too."

"Hoh....."

Her repertoire is unexpectedly wide.

"Oh right, does your elder sister use wind magic?"

I would rather not remember her.

I was hit in the back during that duel with wind magic.

Damn, I'm getting irritated just thinking about it. Let's stop.

"Older Sister? she is proud of her fire magic, and uses a little wind."

Oh, it makes sense due to her hair colour.

"Your mother is good with fire and water?"

"That's right"

Not that it matters.

"This is probably for the best. for the time being enter my party."

"Okay"

I don't intend to rely on her.

But this is insurance in the case of an emergency. It would be best if we didn't fight though.

There is always the risk of death.

I don't want to go in a direction that would not require us to rely on the second princess.

"Hey. Why did Hero of the Shield-sama make father so angry?"

"Now that I think about it I didn't tell you. It all started when your sister framed me-"

That night, I told the second princess everything that trash and bitch did to me.

Firo also seemed to be listening to my story for some reason, but she stayed quiet.

I did not hide anything or lie, I just told her the truth.

Well my feelings and grudges were mixed in a little, but I'll just think of it as education.

"Father and Elder sister are cruel! Even though Hero of the Shield-sama said bad things to them I can't complain."

"Right, right."

"Mother even said to value the Hero of the Shield-sama as much as possible."

"What?"

What did you say? Doesn't the religion of this country designate the shield as the devil?

Is the queen different?

"What's wrong?"

"Nothing, I'm just wondering what your mother thinks of me."

"Um.....I don't know. But she sent a letter to father telling him to treat all the heroes the same."

I understand the second princess's story a little, it seems the queen was worried this would happen to me.

Oh well, since it all happened anyway thanks to trash.

"Master, a lot of things happened before Firo was born."

"That's right"

"Eh?"

The second princess has a dumbfounded look.

"Uhhh Firo-chan how old are you?"

"One month and three weeks old."

"Ehh!?"

Being surprised is correct. Her growth was rapid even for a demon.

"Firo-can is so precocious"

"Ehehehe.....I was praised."

"You were praised?"

"Then I'm the older sister."

"Well, in the age category. Raphtalia over there is about the same as you."

"Raphtalia onee-chan is....."

Firo looks at Raphtalia with an extremely disappointed expression.

Raphtalia looks at me coldly.

Well, I understand your feelings since the bird said something like that.

"Wh-what?"

"Demi-humans..... even if we are the same age she feels older."

"Well..... I was not allowed to lose."

The atmosphere is delicate.

"Well, despite Raphtalia's age, her appearance suits her."

That would have immediately labelled me as a lolicon.

Also, both the second princess and Firo are children.

Not to mention, Raphtalia became my slave when she was a little girl.

"This is just how things work out."

"Naofumi-sama....."

These three would be considered a Loli-Harem.

I wonder what the other heroes would say.

"Anyway, we'll rest here today and cross the border tomorrow."

""Yay~!""

"Okay!"

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 61 – Persuasion

---

"Wow....."

I muttered unintentionally while looking around the checkpoints at the border to the north east.

The reason I muttered is due to the enormous amount of knights patrolling the border.

Did they bring a while army for this?

What're you going to do if another country attacks. That trash.....

Well, I was certainly expecting soldiers, but this amount is ridiculous.

"The devil of the shield will surely escape to Silt Welt! Do not miss him!"

"Roger!"

So insufferably annoying.....

They are being strict enough with the border patrol that not even ants can escape.

If it were just Raphtalia, Firo, and I we may be able to break through the front, but now we have to worry about the second princess.

It is probably impossible.

Even If we do charge in from the front the other Heroes may also be here.....

Well they shouldn't have recovered completely from the last wave yet though.

Me charging in alone while they try to sneak past is also not going to work.....

However, how did they find out I was going to Silt Welt?

They probably figured that would be the most disadvantageous country for them.

Either way, my imagination is running wild.

"What do we do?..... We can't pass the barricade, should we change roads?"

"Impossible....."

The second princess mutters.

"Why would it be impossible?"

"This seems to be an emergency deployment. Warnings will resound once people cross national borders, and soldiers will rush there."

"That's pretty severe....."

I imagine something like an infra-red alarm system. These guys probably have something like this set up along the border.

Even if we just camp a mountain it will only be a matter of time before we are discovered.

"Firo can you evade them while pulling the wagon?"

"They were warned. It is impossible to get away since they have the warning line."

"Hmm..... They are strangely detailed."

"This is my mother's emergency plan, no expenses were spared since it will be used in emergencies after all."

"It's quite elaborate....."

My Killing intent rises.

Though there is nothing I can do to release it.

"Can't we escape to Silt Welt through another country?"

The closest border is here, and we cannot choose any others.

We ended up bumping to a villager from the neighbouring village.

Since we are in disguise it should be fine. The second princess and I are hiding within the straw.

"Ah....."

Raphtalia and the villager makes eye contact and there is a mysterious silence.

"Hero of the shield-sama. It is dangerous here. I recommend you take a detour."

We were found out immediately?

I must reconsider Raphtalia's disguise.

"Ah, our country has improved a lot thanks to the seed Hero-sama gave us. Thank you."

Now that I look carefully. This guy is from the neighbouring country.
Moreover, this guy looks like he's been peddling.

"I think your disguise will be fine if you add a little more dirt. I only recognized you since she is such a beautiful Raccoon Demi-human.

This is my fault. As expected, Raphtalia seems to be one of the better looking raccoon demi-humans.

Or did she become a celebrity when we were peddling?

In the first place when I bought Raphtalia the slave trader said that the raccoon class's appearance is slightly bad.

Since they are very wary, they are able to disguise themselves.

"I'm sorry for everything."

"Don't even think about it. Compared to what Hero of the Shield-sama has done for us, this much is nothing."

I give him some silver in exchange for food.

Our food problem is quite serious due to Firo.

During our fugitive life-style her stomach rumbled non-stop.

I'm afraid she'll drop in speed.

Our only advantages are Firo's speed and disguise ability.

It is practically our life line against bounty hunters and adventurers on the road.

"Oh a peddler? I want to buy something....."

Oh shit!

A soldier approaches the guy from the neighbouring country.

".....Hero of the shield-sama?"

Shit, we've been discovered by a soldier! Just as I was about to order fire to silence him and run-

"It's me. I co-operated with Hero-sama during the wave."

Ah now that I look carefully he's one of the volunteer soldiers.

That reminds me, after parting with trash I couldn't follow up on any of the others that came with me to the castle.

I was a little worried, but it seems like they're co-operating with us?

Though at that time I did not know about the story of the Devil of the shield.

It must have been a considerably hard decision to go through with.

They might even have been demoted.

".....Did you get demoted?"

"No, for some reason there was no blame."

"I see, then you're on border patrol without getting demoted?"

"It's not like that. the majority of the knights are concentrated here."

Just for me!?

Hey hey. Just how much does trash hate me? It seems they really don't want me to go to Silt Welt.

Catching me might not even be their true purpose here though.

There must be something I don't know concerning the country called Silt Welt.

It might not impossible to proceed after all.

My best hand = Whatever the enemy hates.

I don't know what, but there is certainly something I can exploit here.

"Anyway, It's dangerous here. Please escape as soon as possible."

"I am grateful."

"Don't mention it..... Hero-sama, are you troubled by the fact that we bumped into each other here, and that I recognize you as the Hero of the Shield-sama?"

.....Certainly.

At the time of the last wave, the other Heroes may have contributed to Glass's withdrawal.

They may consider my abilities above them but.....

I would be murdered if we encounter again.

In any case, we change Raphtalia's clothes for some even worse ones and plaster her face with mud.

"For the time being let's get out of here."

"I pray that your suspicions will be cleared up."

After parting with the villager from the neighbouring country and the volunteer, we headed south to take a detour.

We had only advanced a little.

According to the volunteer's story Motoyasu and Itsuki were on their way in a carriage.

.....I barely steal a glance.

One of their magicians seems to be chanting something.

"There! That cart of straw!"

I seriously hope that was not us. Immediately I have a very bad feeling.

Motoyasu and Itsuki rush up to our cart.

Shit! Why are you guys heading here?

It's probably that bastard that used magic.

I suppose it's some analysis magic.

I brush off the straw and jump off the wagon. Firo sensed the situation and returned to her Philo Rial · Queen form.

"So it was you after all!"

To they they were so close. Ren also appears.

Shit..... Can this situation get any worse?

"We found you! Free princess Melty!"

Itsuki points at me like he's some messenger of justice and makes a provoking face.

"Release what, I'm not restraining the second princess."

"Stop playing dumb, we have evidence!"

"That's right. You have no justice."

"Justice.....huh?"

Are the knights acting based on justice during the wave?

The reality is, everyone has their own sense of justice.

Wait..... If I think carefully this guy's sense of justice is very straight forward.

Back in the castle town Ren was worried about the village of plague, while Itsuki just wasted my time on his useless justice impression.

Can I use this?

Well, there is no way they will believe me but I might as well try.

It will still be worth it trying to explain it once and the matter gets settled.

In other words, If I can turn their sense of justice against each other we may get out of this yet.

An evil plot is hatched.

It is one of the situations that game enthusiasts long for.

If it works this will make them doubt the country.....

"Are you guys saying that what you believe in is truly justice?"

"What are you saying?"

"The second princess is here without any injuries."

I show the heroes the second princess while maintaining readiness to defend from any attacks.

The second princess looks at me anxiously, and nods.

"Hero of the sword-sama, Hero of the spear-sama, Hero of the bow-sama. The Hero of the Shield-sama is innocent. Rather he has saved my life."

the second princess is not speaking with her usual childish tone, but rather with the authority of an authentic princess.

The expressions of those 3 visibly change.

In fact, they are just finding out they were used for evil.

Since these guys are basically lumps of justice, this will be extraordinarily disgraceful.

"Please believe me. There is a big conspiracy hidden behind this."

"But why did princess Melty go to this guy?"

"I just asked him to protect my life."

The second princess explains what happened to them.

"Isn't it unnatural? Who would profit if the Hero of the Shield-sama kidnaps me?"

"Th-That's....."

Are you trying to look for a reason?

Your eyes are swimming.

"But, this guy is-"

"Did the country Merlot Mark not give the Hero of the Sheild-sama different treatment?"

"Certainly....."

"In the first place Mother was saying. When the time of misfortune comes, the people must join hands and unite to repel it..... There is no room for Hero-samas to be fighting each other. Please lower your weapons."

The 3 heroes weaken their grips on their weapons and stood down.

Though they are still wary.

They were defeated in the last fight after all.

As the second princess said, we need to train together and get stronger.

If we are going to fulfil our missions as Heroes, we cannot just increase our levels. Both our weapons and levels must be sufficient.

"Do you understand? This is a conspiracy. I will tell you everything that I know. Whether or not you decide to fight will be up to you."

After I say so the bitch steps forward.

"Do not listen to the words of the Devil of the shield!"

Shit! You bitch, I was just about to explain our circumstances.

What should I say.

In the first place is she even worried about her younger sister?

"The latest incident is already solved! the devil of the shield used powerful brainwashing on the second princess!"

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 62 – Common Destiny

---

"Ah.....Melty.....To think you would be brainwashed by the devil of the shield."

"Elder Sister?"

The second princess gives the bitch a look of astonishment.

That bitch.....

This is absolutely disgusting.

What kind of shield can brainwash. If I had such a thing, I wouldn't be having such a hard time.

To think she would claim I brainwashed someone without even flinching.

I mean the purpose of religion is brainwashing.

What a joke.

"Does the wicked shield possess the power to brainwash? It seems fake....."

"I don't know if you have heard, but this was a suspicion of the church's from a month ago."

That's when I started peddling.

Selling medicine to sick people was my priority back then.

After that, rumours of me being the saint of the holy bird started spreading.

Indeed, that cannot be a coincidence. It turned out to be convenient for the church in various ways.

"this situation proves it. Were you guys not being clouded by the information he provided? And also about to help him? Is it common to help out with criminals?"

"Some of the countrymen are also acting strange. If the Hero of the shield can make an old grandmother energetic, he also might be capable of brainwashing."

That grandmother.....I instantly know who that is.

However, don't I have a say in this? These guys.....

It is true that a lot of people have helped me recently.

However, that's just repaying me for saving them.

What I don't know = The enemy's strategy.

These guys are also stupid enough to believe it.

"He is probably brainwashing his companions to talk for him too. We are currently preparing some church authorized personnel with the power to remove the brainwashing."

"What kind of power is that!"

No one reacts to my retort

No, Raphtalia, Firo, and the second princess are also dumbfounded.

Let's think about this situation, The government is ordering the country to gather information, and also placing a high bounty on me.

A lie that I have the power to brainwash was fed to the three heroes by the bitch, she also has convincing fake evidence. Is that it?

Realistic forgeries. That's not impossible.

"Is the hero of the shield-sama that powerful?"

The second princess looks at me anxiously.

"Do I look like that to you?"

"Umm.....I don't think so."

"I kind of hoped for an immediate answer."

I wouldn't be struggling so hard if I had such a convenient shield.

If I can brain wash the soldiers, knights, magicians, and villagers I could just become the lord.

I need to defend myself in this situation.

In other words this was arranged when they put that bounty on my head, the authenticity that the shield can brainwash is doubtful to say the least. Do you god damn heroes not understand something so simple?

"So Raphtalia-chan and Firo-chan are being brainwashed forcefully by that guy!"

"You're wrong! We're not brainwashed!"

"We'll rescue you!"

"Firo wants to be with master!"

Motoyasu you bastard, still not given up on Firo and Raphtalia yet!? Just how much do you like women?

"We've heard enough! Hand over the second princess!"

"Eh!?"

The second princess was surprised to gasp.

".....Will you tell us what happened?"

Ren takes the lead and asks. This is a volatile situation. I want to avoid wrong choices as much as possible.

"In the first place I have no such power as brainwashing-"

"I do not believe it!"

"Shut up! You're annoying, Shogun!"

Since Itsuki prevented me from explaining I told him to shut up.

Aren't you a hypocrite deciding on right and wrong only after you get one-sided information?

"Anyway, this is a conspiracy. The King, that woman over there, or the church attempted to assassinate the second princess and frame me for it."

".....I understand what you said. We'll just have to take you into custody first. I promise not to harm your companions. Just wait till the inspection is complete."

"You actually believe it!?"

"That's right!"

"Hero of the Sword-sama! Don't listen to the words of the devil!"

"I would rather end this without fighting. The truth can be confirmed later."

As expected Ren is the only one staying calm in this situation and analysing.
.....Should I consider it?

".....No"

The second princess clenches my hand tightly and begs.
She is trembling and her face is pale.

"I will most likely be murdered....."

I confirm the surrounding situation.

The second princess probably will receive treatment different from us.
Since in order to remove the brainwashing the second princess will be subjected to magic by magicians of this country.

And what happens will be as follows: A brutal curse will be removed from the second princess, but she will die because of its power.

Such a scenario will play out.

Ren will surely believe it and I will be branded the culprit.

The possibility that this is an event orchestrated by Bitch to frame me is very high.

To even aim for your younger sister.....

"Help....."

A small voice could be heard.

There is also no way to prove my innocence.

Sigh.....

"Didn't I promise?"

"Eh?"

During that day I was falsely accused to rape. Nobody believed me.
And now this matter concerns the life and death of the second princess.
Brainwashing..... what a convenient plot used by those that want to kill the second princess.

This is too obvious.....

Even I know that much.

The second princess's death means our defeat.

We definitely have a common destiny. Who would trust an untrustworthy person?

"Too bad. You cannot be trusted. Even if the second princess is handed over I will still be screwed. I promised her that I would absolutely protect her."

I place the second princess on Firo's back and tell Raphtalia to get on as well.

"Firo I know you hate it but abandon the wagon and run!"

"Okay~!"

"See ya."

I also jump on and Firo takes off.

"Ah, wait-"

"Okay let's go-!"

We are instantly 7 meters away. As I expected, Firo's leg strength is truly fearsome.

But those three aren't falling behind and keep pace.

"You think you can escape!?"

Itsuki shoots magic arrows at us.

"Air Strike Shield! Second Shield!"

I turn around and chant the skills. Blocking the attacks aimed at us. The shield shattered with a loud crack, but the attacks have been neutralized.

"You won't escape!"

Itsuki's starts to prepare another arrow.

I cannot use the shield any more due to cooldown time.

"Eagle Piercing Shot!"

Itsuki's arrow glows after being shot and flies straight at us.

What the hell. The one you should be protecting, the second princess is here too.

Why are you using such a strong skill!

While riding on Firo I am forced to change my posture to receive the arrow.

"Master are you okay?"

Firo supports me so that I don't fall over.

"That arrow..... Firo! It's coming!"

"Yeah, It's very fast."

The arrow which Itsuki shot is fast enough to catch up to the light-footed Firo.

At first glance I understand that it's a lump of energy. This doesn't look like a beginner skill.

I change my shield to the Chimeric Viper Shield and prepare.

I hope I can endure this.

I stare at the lump of energy. Then, I see an arrow.

It's flying fast and in a straight line.

.....Can it be done? Firo might fall over from the impact if I take it badly.

No.....Judging by the name of the skill, this is meant for penetrating.

Because I played a fair amount of Net Games, the name of bow system attacks aren't unfamiliar.

This arrow is meant to pierce a hole right through me.

It is a skill used specifically since I am here, such high efficiency.

Then it's not possible to receive this arrow.

Can't be helped..... the only way to escape this penetration attack is to either get out of range or to catch it.

Can I do it? If I fail this will be dangerous.

Seriously, you guys totally forgot about the second princess right?

.....I start to focus.

I intensely concentrate on the flying attack, While lightly putting my hand over it's energy, I catch the arrow by it's shaft just before it reaches me!

"What!? He caught my Eagle Piercing Shot with his hand!?"

Itsuki responds to my action by expressing his shock.

The shot of energy is unexpectedly weak, I just dispersed the power and caught the arrow.

"Wait!"

Ugh! Ren and Motoyasu catch up and take out their weapons.

I had to make some unnecessary movements to catch Itsuki's arrow and just barely stop falling off.

Our speed fell a bit as a result.

To think that they would have companions that could catch up.

"I do not want to attack Firo-chan, this is all your fault--Gefu"

"Hindrance."

Firo stomps Motoyasu in the face. Was it that unexpected?

This isn't the time now. Ren aims his sword at me.

Dokun.....

The shield pulsates, and I unconsciously stretch my right hand towards Ren's sword.

Fresh blood scatters and pain runs through my hand.

Why!? It is different from what I expected. Ren's eyes do not shift, as if he's being manipulated by something.

My shield suddenly glows red, and black flames are fired at Ren.

"Wh--"

This was probably unpredictable. Ren desperately defends with his sword. Is that Dark Curse Burning? Did the core of the dragon killed by Ren react and counter attack from the shield?

To think the shield would change without permission and flash red.

Dokun.....Dokun.....

Oh shit. It would be impossible for Firo to run away from here if the shield of anger comes out.

"Raphtalia, give me your hand....."

"Yes? Naofumi-sama!? You are injured!"

An anxious Raphtalia looks at me with concern and stretches out her hand. The pulsations settled down and subsides.

"Firo are you okay? Escape as fast as possible!"

"Okay~!"

Firo regains her balance and runs at full power.

We lose the heroes in no time.

After that, Firo ran at full power till she was exhausted.

"We should be safe for a while here."

"Yeah, Firo-chan is fast~!"

"Firo is a little tired."

"That's fine.....but we lost all our luggage and our wagon."

"Can't be helped."

I have some stuff on me, portable rations, money, a knife, and simple cooking utensils.

But we lost Raphtalia's armour.....

I feel uneasy. I think it's showing on my expression.

"Since we did not cross the border, what will we do now?....."

We can probably run around the country aimlessly.

But we have to at least try to get to Silt Welt by a detour route.

We'll continue our fugitive lifestyle

By the way, I cured the injury with a Fast Heal.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 63 – Shadow

---

We are travelling south along the border, searching for any gaps within the border patrol.

Motoyasu is extremely annoying. He's been chasing us ever since.

There hasn't been any situations where we were truly in danger, since that one back at the border thanks to Firo's swift running.

the strange thing is that there has been no sign of either Ren or Itsuki.

Did they give up? Or are they laying an ambush somewhere?

In the first place trying to accuse me of brainwashing was irrational.

Did they lose interest in this event and go back to levelling?

I would understand if Ren gave up since he was already sceptical, but was it good luck for us that Itsuki is also nowhere to be found?

On the contrary, Motoyasu is way too persistent.

Either way, it is fortunate since his attacks aren't as strong as Ren's and he doesn't have any ranged attacks like Itsuki.

To be honest Motoyasu seems more interested in Firo than actually bringing the second princess back.

Still problems are piling up non stop.....

"What should we do?....."

It is irresponsible to just pass everyday being disgruntled, I must consider what we should do.

Border patrol is too strict. Isn't there somewhere we can sneak over?

Living as a fugitive everyday won't solve anything, and my life is over when the next wave arrives.

In this case, recklessly crossing the border may not actually be a bad idea. As it stands our names will never be cleared. Those chasing me may also avoid Silt Welt.

That night we discussed our course of action over the camp fire. Since Firo is stupid, she is not listening.

The second princess and Raphtalia had some reaction, but that was to be expected.

"It might be a little tough, but if we want to break through, then here is our best bet."

It would be hard to pull off. But, as long as the other heroes don't interfere my defence should be able to break through.

"You're right, we won't last if we continue escaping like this....."

"Yeah....."

"Mel-chan!"

Firo returns to her human form and starts playing with the second princess. Kan!

Hm? I heard a strange sound coming from the scruff of my neck.

What? It's not painful but.....

I immediately turn around, and see a needle fall down.

"Master, enemies!"

"What?"

Was that a blow dart just now?

Or was it something Itsuki fired?

I cannot confirm anything due visibility since it's night time.

"I didn't notice until he attacked."

"What?"

Bofun! a bunch of darts fly out of nowhere and Firo expands her wings to cover the second princess.

Can Itsuki even fire so many at once?

No, Leaving that aside!

The main usage of blow darts are to apply poisons. Firo and I will be fine due to our poison resistance, but it will be dangerous if Raphtalia or the second princess gets hit.

I have no idea what kind of poison they are using either.

If I know what poison they are using I can make an antidote.

There were a bunch of antidotes in the wagon and carriage too.....

But I can't treat anyone in these conditions!

"Ah....."

I turn my gaze to Raphtalia. At that moment a blowgun dart aimed at her appears.

"Air St-

I shout for Air Strike Shield in haste, but I don't know if I can make it.
Immediately, a high-pitched screech is heard and the dart was stopped.

"That was dangerous degojaru."

Suddenly, someone in jet-black clothes appears and defends Raphtalia.

His face is covered by cloth so I can't see it.

I can't tell if his voice is male or female. Who is that? A ninja?

Degojaru?

"Hurry up and flee degojaru!"

In the shadows of the trees and bushes fighting could be heard.

"Hero of the Shield-dono, leave this to us and run away degojaru. Wait for me after you have escaped, I want to talk with you degojaru."

"What is going on!"

"There is no time to explain right now, I'll do it later degojaru!"

"Tch! Firo, Raphtalia, Second princess!"

"Okay~"

"Yeah"

"U-understood!"

While riding on Firo, blow darts were flying around us.

"Do you know who that person was?"

"I think so, that is probably my mother's secret guard corps....."

Explains the second princess while we were getting away.

"Really?"

"Yeah. I know the person who helped Raphtalia-san. She is my mother's body double."

"Now that I think, about it her way of speaking is familiar."

Is she that woman I passed in the hallway after parting with trash?

Her behaviour and appearance left a strong impression.

"So what exactly is going on? We got ambushed, but we have no idea who did it."

I would say it was Itsuki, but that guy should not be capable of such things. Judging by his character, he would confront me head on.

"Assassination corps of the country.....maybe"

"There's an assassination corps?"

Now that's dangerous. Well, places where the nobles and kings completely trust each other do not exist.

That leads to a great deal of problems being handled behind closed doors. It's quite simple actually.

"Though in reality they are the same as the secret guard corps....."

"You guys have separate assassination corps?"

".....I don't know"

"I see....."

I guess there's no choice but to hear from someone who knows.

After running a certain distance on Firo, we prepared and waited in case of more enemies.

"Hmm?"

Firo reacts immediately.

"Here it comes."

Suddenly, the ninja-like person appears in front of me.

"Sorry for the wait degojaruna"

"Ah don't worry about it. Thanks to you we got away safely."

"First of all, I should introduce myself degojaruga..... Have you already heard from princess Melty degojaruka?"

"I heard you are a body double. And you are either from the secret guard crops or some assassination unit."

"That is not entirely correct degojaru. We are the special duty corps of the country, and our aliases is [Shadow] degojaru."

"I see."

"By the way, I do not have a name degojaru. I believe shadow shall suffice degojaru."

Shadow huh..... Trying to sound cool?

I wonder if it's just the difference between my world and the inhabitants of this world.

Since there are ninjas I'm reminded of the Showa era.

"So, who did you fight?"

"Shadows of the country and church degojaru."

"Aren't you from the same organization?"

"The organization is not unified degojaruyo. There are factions within the organization that are fighting each other degojaru."

There are so many things wrong with that but I'll refrain from commenting for now.....

"Why did you help us?"

Since that's what I'm most curious about I'll ask.

I have a few guesses, but none are concrete.

"I cannot answer that degojaru."

"I see. Are you sworn to secrecy?"

"All I will say is that this one works as princess Melty's guard degojaru."

"I don't believe that."

She didn't even show up when the second princess as being attacked.

"I did not appear because I knew the Hero of the shield-dono could protect her degojaru."

"You bastard....."

That means she knew but stayed silent.
Although, she seems fairly competent.

"Originally I was somewhere else with her majesty the queen but I was ordered to watch over Hero of the Shield-dono degojaru."

The self-named shadow shows a map and points.
What she was pointing at was the neighbouring country to our south west.
The opposite direction of Silt Welt.

"Right now her Majesty the Queen is there degojaru. Since this country is in the opposite direction of Silt Welt where Hero of the Shield-dono is escaping to, patrols are scarce degojaru."
"Oh....."

For some reason, I feel that if I run away to the country to Demi-humans I would receive some recognition.

It occurred to me that there may be something in the country of Demi-humans that believes in the shield, similar to how this country believes in the Three Heroes Church.

I can probably safely go into exile there in cases like this, and it would be very bad for trash.

Though since they are putting so many resources to guard the border that it makes it impossible to break through.

This distance can be covered by Firo in two and a half weeks, but it will be hard to advance since the other heroes are anticipating it.

Even though we have to take a detour I want to go.

"This latest case has many things behind it degojaru. I will cooperate with Hero of the shield-dono as much as possible degojaru."

"What do you mean?"

"Right now the higher ups of the Three Heroes Church are discussing about the activities of hero of the shield-dono degojaru. So I had no choice but to move and inform you degojaruyo."

"Hmm.....So in other words, they had a reason to maintain that farce of claiming I have the power to brainwash."

My activities recently consisted mostly of selling medicine and helping people who were in trouble.

However, as a result of those actions I solved problems that the other heroes have caused.

It seems that due to these events, people are starting to question the legend of the Hero of the shield spread by the church.

If they can prove that I am capable of large-scale brainwashing, then the people's faith in the Church would be restored.

But won't it also mean that if I can prove my innocence the Three Heroes Church will receive a devastating blow?

"What should we do degojaru? If you are planning on going to Silt Welt, would you require help degojaruka?"

"That's....."

Giving someone else a difficult job and relaxing myself is not one of my hobbies.

Even if I do just escape, when the wave comes I'll be summoned into the midst of enemies.

That's very inconvenient.

The church, The bitch, and the trash king will all want to capture and torture me.

Rather than going into exile recklessly, and then getting summoned into a trap, this might be more effective.

If this goes well my remaining days here will be easy.

But.....

"What would the queen gain from helping me. The Three Heroes Church may get destroyed."

"I cannot answer that degojaru."

Shadow is only giving me answers about the queen, but not what I should do next.

Though she is certainly the queen's subordinate.

The second princess is someone we both need to protect, and since she is a subordinate of the queen, I cannot do anything that might disadvantage her. As far as I am concerned meeting the queen would be more beneficial for me.

Frankly, I cannot see what the queen's goal is.

From what I can make out of the second princess's speech and behaviour, her goal would be to prevent wars between this country and another.

Furthermore, she understands what is happening to me, due to the deep-rooted and crazy legends in this country about the devil of the shield.

The shadow also said "I want to cooperate".

It seems the queen does not share the same views as the Three Heroes Church.

That is just a safe line though.....

Hmm..... Perhaps she isn't my enemy.

Though it is also doubtful whether or not she can be called a friend, it is still better than my current hand and the present conditions.

"You saved Raphtalia, so I'll hear you out. Do I only have to meet the queen?"

This is nothing but a farce, and I don't really have any choice but to willingly participate.

"I don't like the idea of acting based on someone else's ideas, but it seems to be for the best. But if you deceive me....."

"I know degojaru. Then I'll leave at once degojaru. We don't know when the shadows on the church's side may show up degojarukara"

After saying so she disappeared instantly.

Though my last words were a joke, it seems to have been taken seriously.

"Can we trust her?"

Honestly, I am slightly suspicious.

"It's alright..... because mother trusts her."

"I can't understand your mother....."

Though at least her thinking seems to be different from both trash and bitch.

So far all I have is that she seems to be friendly, but that is only based on information from shadow and the second princess, her true purpose still remains unknown.

I also cannot deny that this could all be another a plot to assassinate the second princess by the Three Heroes Church.

I have no other choices so if this is a conspiracy by the queen to kill me, I am doomed.

In the end, we advance in the opposite direction of Silt Welt.

I do not want to believe it, but there is also a chance that the second princess was truly abandoned.

But, it is necessary to know the queen's agenda.

I cannot just view this situation as black and white any more.

"Anyway, I have decided on our destination."

"Okay. Let's go."

"All right.Let's go. Firo-chan"

"Firo will do her best!"

We have taken a step from escaping abroad aimlessly.

Now we will set a course towards the south west.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 64 – Names

---

We changed our course and advanced south west.

Since we have been riding on Firo for a while without a wagon, I'm getting cramps.

"Is there a cart somewhere that we can steal?"

Since I already have a bounty. It's just a wagon.....

"Noo~!"

Firo seemed to have a reaction to that

"Firo won't pull a cart that is stolen."

Is this perhaps some Philo Rial sense of justice?

"Stealing aside, it's quite uncomfortable to ride Firo for a long time."

"Does the second princess also think so?"

"Ummm....."

The second princess gives me an unpleasant look and avoids my question.
what's wrong?

"Even though it will be dangerous, maybe we could have Raphtalia buy a wagon in a village....."

It would be nice to just have something to ride in.
Should I ask that shadow?

"Oops, it looks like nightfall soon. Shall we take a break?"

Just as we were about to rest.

""Gua!?"""

A wild Philo Rial A appeared!

A wild Philo Rial B appeared!

A wild Philo Rial C appeared!

The Philo Rials saw Firo and raised their voices.

They look familiar. Ah, they're the ones that ran away immediately before.
Somehow these Philo Rial have the expressions of those determined to complete their mission, but after a while they run away again.

"What's that?"

"How rare, being able to encounter Philo Aria and Firiru classes in the wild."

The second princess seems to be looking at those Philo Rial with entranced expressions.

"I've this suspicion for a while now, but second princess, you really like Philo Rials right?"

"Yup! Ah....."

After the second princess nodded, she looked at me with an unpleasant face.
Just what did I say?

Gu.....

Firo's stomach growls.

"I'm hungry."

"Do not eat each other."

"Firo-chan is such a glutton."

The second princess pokes Firo with her fingers.

"Ehehe"

It's good that they are close, but their behaviour is a little disgusting.
Like some idiot couples.

I finish preparing the camp-fire and start cooking.

"Hey, second princess."

I give her today's dinner but she refuses it with a frown.
What on earth did I say?

"Mel-chan doesn't want to eat?"

"I'll eat. But....."

The second princess seems to be at a loss.

What is going on?

"What's wrong?"

"Nothing."

When Raphtalia asks the second princess picks up her dinner.

"What's wrong Mel-chan"

"Um....."

Firo asks the second princess and she shows a troubled face.

"I don't have the power to brainwash you know."

"That's not it!"

The second princess turns away and pouts.

Her usual attitude doesn't change. She happily chats with Firo's human form and, talks with Raphtalia happily.

But for some reasons she only gives me an unpleasant face, or just ignores me.

I can't understand at all.

After finishing our meal, I heard a few strange cries in the distance.

"The cry of Philo Rial!"

The second princess strains her ears to listen carefully.

"The second princess really likes Philo Rial huh."

"Yup!"

"Why do you like them so much?"

When the second princess noticed I asked the question she gave me another unpleasant look.

Another Philo Rial cry is heard.

"Because.....Philo Rials are legendary holy birds....."

"Legendary?"

"Yes. It is a common belief that Philo Rials are companions of Heroes that save people from demons in the olden times."

"That so?"

"Yes, in the past during another wave of calamity, the heroes used them as mounts."

"There were waves back then?"

Since it was something I heard from trash I disregarded it.

However, there was a prophecy of the wave.

I wonder if that was it. Glass also said that thinking of the wave as a simple disaster was a big mistake.

Though I don't know if I'll get an answer, I might be able to get some hints from the second princess's story.

"When travelling with mother, she told me the story of Philo Rials."

"Interesting.....What stories?"

"You see Philo Rials are the mounts of heroes, their support, and also their protectors."

"Right now Firo here is the same."

Raphtalia answers while looking at Firo.

Certainly, Firo is the cornerstone of our offensive power. Her legs are fast and strong.

Without Firo, earning money through peddling would have been very difficult. Not to mention our lives right now as fugitives are only possible thanks to her.

"Yes. The legends also describe the Queen of Philo Rials."

"Is that so?"

"Umm, the Queen of Philo Rials was also a hero's mount, and she helped them fight against the wave. It is said that the Queen of Philo Rials who also participated in the wave at that time is still alive and watching over the world to this day."

Did I just use such a legend as a substitute horse?

That also explains the reason why Firo was called a holy bird.

"You see, my dream is to one day meet the Queen of Philo Rials."

The second princess embraces Firo affectionately while saying so.

"The Queen of Philo Rials. They are capable of various transformations."

"Well, Firo is probably also the Queen of Philo Rials. She has all kinds of transformations abilities too."

"That's right! And since I could become friends with Firo-chan my dream was realized."

Second princess, is that the reason you wanted to become friends with Firo?

"Queen huh....."

Incidentally I start thinking about the second princess's mother.

I don't know what kind of persons she is, but if possible I would like to have a talk with her and ask about the story.

Since she is also a parent of that bitch. Half in expectation, half in resignation, according to degojaru's story.....I have to admit she does seem to be a good person.

Hmm?

I have a feeling there was some sense of incongruity just now.

I compare Firo with the second princess.

"Ahh, so that's what it was."

"What's wrong?"

"Well, according to legend the Queen of Philo Rials is still alive now, does that make Firo a princess of the Philo Rials?"

"Eh, so are you saying Firo-chan is not the Queen?"

"Who knows. Though there is no way to prove that the actual Queen still exists right?"

As if the second princess understood something she shook her head.

"Then are you saying that my dream of meeting the queen still hasn't been fulfilled?....."

"Did I say something bad?"

"No. Just that I would like to meet her some day."

"What do you want to do after meeting her?"

"I want to be friends!"

"I see I see, when the time comes I'll help you out, second princess. After the world becomes peaceful together with Firo you can search for her."

"What about Master~?"

"I'm going back to my own world."

There is no reason to remain in this world, and if I had the choice I would go without hesitation.

Though I do not say that.

"No~! Firo wants to go with Master!"

"No, There's no way people of this world can come."

"I want to go! I want to go!"

"Endure it. Because the second princess will be your new master."

"No~!"

Oh my, its gotten quite noisy.

"Really.....Naofumi-sama will leave if it becomes peaceful."

"Yeah, what about it?"

"Nothing....."

Raphtalia mutters while looking at the camp-fire with deadpan eyes.

"----Don't call me that!"

"Hm? Second princess what's wrong?"

The second princess seems to be talking about something while trembling.

"What did you say?"

"Stop calling me the second princess!"

While looking at me with tears in her eyes the second princess shouts.

"What is with you suddenly?"

"The second princess is not a name! I am Melty!"

"What? Isn't that obvious?"

"Why does the Hero of the shield-sama not call me by my name!?"

It seems the stress from the journey has finally exploded.

Raphtalia and Firo were just as surprised as I was and looked at the second princess with eyes of bewilderment.

"How many times do I have to say!? My name is Melty! However, Hero of the Shield-sama just keeps calling me second princess, second princess! That's not my name, that's a position!"

"What? Did you just want me to call you by your name?"

"That's not what I mean! why is Hero of the shield-sama ostracising me!?"

"Ostracised? Well, you are an outsider from the party after all."

"But we are friends sharing joys and sorrows now! Don't just call me by my position!"

"Hmm.....But don't you call me Hero of the Shield?"

I can say the same about this second princess.

My name is not Hero of the Shield.

"Then I'll call you Naofumi in the future. So Naofumi has to call me by my name too!"

"Haah....."

"Hey! Call my Name! Naofumi!"

To call me by my first name without even adding honorifics.

Though if I don't reply she is going to become even noisier.

Since I am troubled that there may be night-attacks despite camping out, I don't want to make too much noise.

In the first place..... the second princess even calls Raphtalia with honorifics.

But I remember the bitch calling my name with "sama".

That bitch called me Hero-sama but.....

Well, this is probably alright.

"Fine. Melty. Is this fine?"

"You better remember it!"

"Yeah Yeah."

Was she just displeased recently because I was calling her the second princess?

such a troublesome fellow. Or is it because she's a girl?

"Firo was surprised."

Yeah. Firo is noisy, but she's not hysterical.

Is it just noisiness peculiar to children?

Though for Firo it's fine, since her age is correspondingly short.

"So princess Melty did mind it."

Raphtalia.....How did you know?

My name was called without me noticing.

"Since you helped me, give me your hand."

Since she insisted I shook her hands.

Her fighting style is reliable, but unlike Firo it has good affinity with me who uses a shield.

She can help with my business when peddling, and it should be easy for her to disguise herself.

"Are you praising me?"

"Is there something wrong?"

"Seriously....."

Why does Raphtalia looked troubled?

I feel like something strangely annoying happened.

"Well should we sleep early to get ready for tomorrow?"

"Understood."

"Okay~"

"Uh huh."

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 65 – Legend of The Divine Bird

---

Several days after changing the way I address the second princess to Melty. We have been making considerable progress in the opposite direction of Silt Welt thanks to Firo.

Setting that aside.

Recently we have been encountering a lot of wild Philo Rials.

At night their calls remind me of howling wolves in the distance, it is very annoying, especially in the middle of the night.

Is there a Philo Rial habitat around here?

I wonder while sleeping.

It was midnight when and I was sleeping when suddenly.

""Gua~!""

"Firo, shut up."

"It's not Firo."

That was fairly close to us though, if it wasn't Firo then what was it?

Are there more wild Philo Rials?

"Umm.....Naofumi-sama? I heard a lot of Philo Rial cries."

I notice another cry, and this one is quite near.

"Thanks for reminding me. Firo, do you know how many there are?"

"I don't know."

"Are they far off?"

"Well, They are coming."

"What?"

We look at Firo with strained expressions.

"Be cautious."

"Everyone said they are coming to meet with Firo ."

"Are they speaking to you with this cry!?"

"Yep."

She nodded. I feel uneasy at large amount of Philo Rial cries that could be heard.

The bushes all around us start shaking, and silhouettes of Philo Rials could be seen.

"What the hell is going on!?"

"Waa.....There are so many Philo Rial!"

Melty's eyes start to shine as she watches the Philo Rial.

"Umm, Melty. Listen well because I'll teach you something important."

"What is it?"

"Philo Rials eat everything. Firo and I may be alright, but if these Philo Rial attack, you and Raphtalia will be eaten."

"What are you saying Naofumi. Philo Rials are gentle demons. There is no way they would do something like that."

It's hard to keep a straight face after all that.

"Shit..... I can't get to the neighbouring country to meet the queen,if joke-like developments with wild demons happen."

The Philo Rials stop hiding and surround us.

There are way too many to count.

A bunch of Philo Rial eyes glowing in the darkness too.

There are Philo Rial as far as the eye can see.

The on earth is happening?

Maybe this is a territorial despise between Philo Rial.

But Firo shouldn't be able to understand the concept of territory.

Firo may be recognized as an extremely high ranked Philo Rial, did they come thinking of her as a menace?

However, since Firo didn't give us a warning cry, this may be different.

Or rather..... Did they come to scout Firo into their territory?

There is a possibility that is happening.

Alright, let's go with that.

"Firo, I hope you find happiness with these guys."

"What are you saying suddenly,Naofumi-sama!"

"Firo-chan is going to leave!?"

"We can't help it. These guys came to pick up Firo."

"Really!?"

"Separating from Master? No~!"

Firo, don't you understand the situation?

It's already too late. If we don't give up Firo here we'll be mobbed by a large amount of Philo Rials.

"Do your best for us, for these guys. Firo."

After this situation is solved I'll have to go buy a new Philo Rial. I hope the next one won't be so annoying.

"No~!"

While we were bantering.

""Gua~!""

A group of Philo Rials just to divided into two like that one scene from Moses and the Ten Commandments.

what the hell?

"Gua~!"

One Philo Rial walks leisurely towards us. It is also pulling some luxurious carriage.

..... There are jewels fitted onto that carriage.

I think I've seen some of those jewels before.....Where was it?

I suddenly look at the shield.

There is a jewel that looks the same as those on the carriage.

""Gua!""

A group of Philo Rials salute and bows towards the Philo Rial that is pulling the carriage.

Rattlerattle, the Philo Rial pulling the carriage stops before us.

"Wow..... that is cool. I'm jealous!"

Firo's eyes are sparkling as she watches the carriage.

I hate it. It's such an upstart carriage.

If I had the choice, I would rather not ride something like that.

瞳の色は赤、フィーロに比べて

覇気が無いように感じる。

顔はフィーロに勝るとも劣らない

整った作りをしていた。

服装は、白と赤のゴシックドレスっぽい。

人型フィーロの服は青と白だから、

なんとなくフィーロと比べてしまう。

「じゃあ自己紹介から……」

世界のフィーリアルを統括する女王をしている、フィトリア」

"Gua!"

The rope that tied the Philo Rial to the wagon comes off and it steps forward.

Another Philo Rial walks up to the rear.

"What's that? What's going to happen?"

"Gueeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeee!"

When the Philo Rial surrounding the carriage calls out, the surrounding plants start glowing green and wind arises.

"Ah.....did they put up a barrier!?"

"Barrier?"

Melty's voice is full of surprise.

"Yes. Naofumi, doesn't it look brighter? From a distance all you would see is fog."

I pay more attention to the group of Philo Rials.

There doesn't seem to be anything like a dense fog.

"This is a high-class sanctuary type barrier."

"What's that?"

"There is a Forest of Illusion, according to legends, equipment of the old era heroes are said to be kept there; However, the fog of magic prevents all who approach."

"You know quite a lot."

"Mother likes stories about the Forest of Illusion. This fog resembles the one described in the stories. I'm surprised."

Does that mean? We can't escape from here even if we run?

"Will you be able to return if you enter the fog?.....We seem to have set foot inside the sanctuary of Philo Rials."

Melty seems totally entranced.

That reminds me, this fellow loves Philo Rials. Isn't this like a dream come true?

"Now's not the time for this!"

The plants shine until it's as bright as day.

What on earth is happening?

The Philo Rial that pulled the carriage starts to swell up, up the point where it's just a black silhouette.

Huge.....

The silhouette swells flabbily. There is probably a big chance that Firo will end up like that.

At first it had the appearance of a normal Philo Rial, but now it's 6 meters tall.

And..... it stops expanding when it reaches 9 meters. This figure is the same as Firo's demon form.

The same as Philo Rial · Queen (Temporary)

(TI note: フィロリアル・クイーン(仮) not sure why there is a temp in the raws.)

"Wow~.....Big"

I mutter, and Melty looks like she cannot contain her excitement.

Compared to Firo's colour which is light pink and white, that Philo Rial · Queen is white and azure.

A big difference would be a wing-like crown on top of its head that Firo doesn't have.

"Kueeeeeeeeeee!"

With just it's voice, The vibrations could be felt to the bones.

"Yes.Yes. I understand."

Firo nods a few times and turns to us.

"Umm you see. It seems visiting in human form is impolite. she says."

Firo translates the words that it says. Oh, is it natural that you can communicate since you are from the same race?

"Because there is an ancient pledge and oath, I cannot speak with people easily. I hope you understand. She says."

".....Well, that's fine. But what business do you have with us?"

"Kueeeeeeeeeee!"

"First let's have some self-introduction. I am the Queen of Philo Rials. My old name is Fitoria. She says."

"Fitoria!? That's the name of the Philo Rial from the legends."

Meltly yells with an expression full of astonishment.

"Are you by any chance the Hero of the Shield? She says."

"Ah, yeah....."

"I apologize for the sudden visit. I have a little business here. She says."

"Wh-what would that be?"

I have a pain in my neck from looking up at the big Philo Rial.

"Kueeee"

"Eh.....No~"

Firo gives her a dirty look. What are they talking about?

"Kueeee!"

"Really!? All right. I understand."

"What did you talk about?"

"Umm you see. She wants to know Firo's ability , and she seems to want to fight Firo."

"Just Firo?"

Fitoria nods at my question.

"You see. I think we will have a good fight."

"Are you going to avoid killing each other?"

Fitoria nodded again. Although I was busy trying to meet the queen..... A different queen shows up.

".....Isn't it fine then?"

"Kueeeeeee"

"Thank you for listening to my request Hero of the Shield. She says."

What a troublesome conversation. you should talk from the start if you are capable of it.

The Philo Rials surrounding us backs up when Fitoria expands her wings.

"Kueeeee"

"Hero's party should fall back too. She says."

"Okay okay."

Raphtalia, Melty, and I went to the edge of the circle made by Philo Rials.

"Kueeeeeeeee!"

"Here I go~"

Firo returns to her demon form and charges at Fitoria.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 66 – Ahoge

---

"Ya!"

Firo attacks first.

She jumps with all her might and reaches the belly of Fitoria's gigantic figure.

"Kue"

Fitora flaps her wings and dodges swiftly.

"Ha!"

While Firo was landing back on the ground, Fitoria slices at her with a wing.

"Oops!"

Firo barely avoids the wing by diving to the side.

"Firo-chan do you best!"

Melty loudly cheers her on.

""Guaaaaaaaaaaaa~!""

The Philorials similarly support Fitoria with their cries.

"I will not lose~!"

Firo charges up to Fitoria.

"Kue!"

Fitoria tries to bat Firo away using her wings, but Firo dexterously uses the wing as a scaffold and jumps for her face.

"Wow! Amazing~!"

Firo's attack unfortunately ends in failure, but she calls out in admiration.

"Very fast. But I won't lose."

After taking a stance with her wings Firo begins preparing.

Are you going to suddenly use your special ability?

"Yay, here it come~"

Firo's body becomes a blur.

In the next moment, a loud wham could be heard.....

"Kue"

At first glance, it seemed Fitoria was slowly waving her wings up and down.

"Waaaaaaaaa!"

Firo was blown into the air and knocked around.

After being Forced to expand her wings to control the air flow, Firo lands.

"To think you would dodge Firo's trump card so easily-"

"Kue"

Fitoria puts one of her wings on her waist and taunts Firo.

To act in such a carefree attitude.

Amazing.

Brushing off Firo's ultimate attack just like that.....

"As expected of the legendary Philorial."

Melty expresses her admiration.

I agree.

What can I say. Our combat expert Firo is being toyed with.

"How about this!"

Firo flaps her wings again.

"Firo commands the origin of power. Firo has read and deciphered a law of nature. Blow her away with a raging tornado!"

"Tzuvait • Tornado!"

"What?"

To think Firo could use intermediate magic! I doubt she could teach me.....

If you could have always used it, then you should have.

We could have ran away from those heroes easily if that spell was used.

The tornado brought forth from Firo's hands flies towards Fitoria-

"KueKueKueKueeeeeeeeeeeeeee"

"Kueeeeeeeeeeeeeee!"

Firo's magic was enclosed and dissipated like it was never there.

"Counterbalance?"

Oh, that's a phenomenon that was described in the beginner class magic book.

Interfering with magic. However, that is only possible if the user has sufficient power and is able to analyse the magic as it is cast.

The proper magic system required varies every time.

It is difficult because the magic cast to counterbalance must be from the proper system, and also must be cast right before the magic hits.

It is easier to counterbalance high class magic than intermediate class magic due to longer cast times.

"Wow.....Firo's magic is not effective either~"

Firo charges rapidly Fitoria again.

Without delay Fitoria strikes at Firo with her massive wings.

"Ha!"

With a thud, Firo raised both her wings to catch the colossal attack

"Ugh.....It's heavy.....But"

After barely withstanding the attack, Firo kicks Fitoria's wing away and jumps.

As expected, Fitoria who had her wing kicked away was not in position to defend against Firo who flew up to her face.

Thanks to coating herself with wind Firo's jumping power improved.

"Tei!"

Firo spun her whole body and unleashed a roundhouse kick at Fitoria's face.

It should have hit.

Yet despite all that,

"Kue!"

Fitoria was also coated with wind, and Firo was blown off into the sky.

Basaa~!

Still, Fitoria was slightly grazed and a feather was hit off.

"Kuee"

Fitoria was watching the feather that Firo hit down with a smile.

I noticed it.

Fitoria still has a something besides magic and physical attacks. There is still something she is hiding.

She hasn't moved one step either.

Just how strong is she?

Legendary Philorial. She certainly lives up to those words. Firo is being taken lightly.

She has absolutely no chance of winning.

"Boo....."

Firo is whining with an ill-humoured expression.

"I will not lose!"

All of Firo's feathers start to stand on end.

"Suuuuu....."

She takes a giant breath. I see, Firo is absorbing the surrounding magic.

Such a thing is possible?

And for nearly 30 seconds she does not move.

"Ok---"

Firo flaps her wings.

Everyone can see that wind magic is being condensed behind her.

This is most likely Firo's strongest finisher.

The prerequisite is too severe. It's not usable in actual combat.

"Here it comes!"

Firo flies at Fitoria with the speed of a bullet.

She rotates her beak, by dashing off the ground and flying low. This attack is the fastest by far.

Usually Firo's attacks consist of basic kicking and pecking.

What can I say. This attack resembles the finisher from an air-plane shaped robot in a strategy game.

(TI note: An anon kindly informed me of what this was referencing.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=UxkzaMVj2UE#t=140> )

"Kue!?"

Even Fitoria widened her eyes in surprise.

With a large step, Firotia takes a step back and.....

It was over.

Fitoria stretched both her wings and her expression changed, her posture resembled one killing bugs with both hands, and squishes Firo.

"Kyu....."

When Fitoria opens her wings and a knocked-out Firo falls down.

"Firo-chan!"

""Guaaaaaaaaa!""

The Philorials start cheering.

We follow after Melty who rushes out first.

"Are you okay?"

"Yup.....ah....."

As Melty rushes up to Firo to check on her, Firo looks up at me.

After looking around restlessly I look down at her.

"Firo lost."

"But you did great.You fought well against the Queen of Philorials."

"She wasn't even trying, Firo couldn't hit her at all."

As Firo was sulking Firotia called with KueKue.

"What are you giving me?"

Oh, we're going to receive something?

"KueKue"

"I pass? Pass what?"

Fitoria pulls off a single piece of her beautiful feather crown and gives it to Firo.

Suddenly, the feather glows and is attaches itself to Firo's head.

Then it splits and disperses.....

On Firo's head is now an ahoge bouncing around.

"....."

Raphtalia and I are left speechless.

What just happened?What was that a reward?

"Eh?"

"Firo-chan is so cute!"

Melty is excitedly admiring Firo while the bird in question doesn't understand what is going on.

"Did something happen?"

"Umm....."

When I point on top of her, Firo timidly touches her head.

"Something strange grew! No~!"

Buchin!

Eh!?

She yanked it out with all her might.

"It hurts~!"

Firo is delighted about getting rid of the ahoge, but is also in pain.

Pyokon!

However, from where it was pulled out another ahoge appears.

"It grew again!"

"Ehh!?"

With watery eyes Firo sadly gave up on removing the ahoge after pulling it out several times.

Well, the ahoge isn't that bad.

"Kue Kue"

"You're terrible~!"

"What did she say?"

"Give up on pulling it because it will always grow back."

"Kue Kue"

"Eh.....So its become like that....."

Firo looks at Fitoria's feather crown.

What on earth did this legendary Philorial pass down to Firo?

I swiftly check Firo's status screen.

.....Her abilities have improved from before.

Perhaps, this is divine protection or something like a correction ability.

It's a good reward for Firo who is unable to level up.

"Kue Kue"

Fitoria points at me and beckons me with a Kui Kui.

"It's a gift for master."

"I don't need an ahoge."

"Ahoge?"

I'd rather not explain. If I tell her she'll annoy me about it.

"Kue Kue"

"She said it's even better."

"Hmmm....."

I don't know what it is, but I hope it's nothing strange.

I can't really refuse, so I approach.

"Kue Kue"

Fitoria points at my shield and gestures upwards.

"Like this?"

I lift up my shield. Fitoria pulls out another crown feather and puts it on the shield.

The shield has a huge reaction and absorbs it.

All of the the Philorial series has been unsealed.

"What?"

I check the skill tree and confirm that all of the Philorial shields are lit up and active.

Most of them are basic ability and equipment bonuses, there are Speed Ups too, Philorial ability correction, Growth Correction (Big Middle Small), Growth○○Correction (Big Middle Small) there are also shields received that I cannot wear.

What stands out is, Riding ability Up (Big Middle Small).

However, there are a lot of shields I cannot use since my level is insufficient. It is nice to have unlocked all the Philo Rial shields though.

"I am extremely grateful."

"Kue Kue"

Fitoria nodded while smiling.

I was given quite an amazing reward.

Are the powers of Philorials condensed into that feather?

This is also very helpful since Firo cannot Level.

That reminds me, Melty said that in the legends the Queen of Philorials fought together with heroes.

Is Fitoria the origin of the legend of the holy bird?

Does that mean Fitoriea gave me her feather because she understands how the hero's weapon works?

"Kue"

"I have finished my business here so I will take my leave."

"Ah, Umm....."

Melty timidly calls out to Fitoria.

"Kue?"

"Please shake my hand!"

It is Melty's cherished wish to meet and befriend the legendary Philorial so she pleases excitedly.

For a handshake..... Are you meeting an idol or an athlete?

"Kue Kue"

Fitoria was dumbfounded for a few seconds before she stroked Melty's head with her large wings.

And she was embraced kindly with a smile.

Melty sunk quite deep into Fitoria's bosom.

"Wow....."

It seems Melty has also received a large service and was placed on top of Fitoria's head.

"So high!"

Melty is extremely thrilled.

Fitoria tells us to get back, and as we fall back.

She expands to twice her size.....18 meters.

That's as big as a building already.

"This is amazing!"

Melty's voice could be heard in the distance. Isn't that a bit too high?

Can this still be considered a Philorial? Just how much can it grow?

No, this form or it's 9 meter form should be it's original size, she is probably transforming.

.....Will Firo become that big too?

I look at Firo suspiciously.

"What's up?"

"Nothing."

If you seriously grow that big.....it'll be quite a problem.

To sustain that size the food expense would be astronomical.

Fitoria lives in the wild. Moreover, she's the genuine queen of the group. In those conditions eating regardless of amount would be fine.

But Firo is a pet Philorial. I have to take care of her.

Should I reuse the Bio Plants?

After Melty and Fitoria finished played, Fitoria changed back into form of a usual Philorial that pulled the luxurious carriage and shook Melt's hand.

"You see. I have an old oath, I can only say words of parting to humans."

"I see."

I wonder if this is just courtesy.

"See ya-"

"Eh!?"

That voice is the same as Firo's! That bird!

I mean she can even speak in the figure of a normal Philorial?

The Philorials surrounding us scattered when Firoria disappeared.

"Ha....."

Melty sighed while seemingly enchanted.

"That was dreamlike....."

"It was a good dream."

I feel that was a monster that is capable of Armageddon.

To effortlessly toy with Firo who has the strength to kick around a dragon.

Anyway, I am looking forward to how much Firo has powered up.

Our journey South West continues.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 67 – Jungle

---

"There's a village just south west of here."

Two days after the battle of monsters with Firo.

We are approaching the village where Motoyasu caused the plant problem.

By the way, the Ability correction from the Philorial Shield series takes precedence over the other equipment bonuses.

It is necessary to use any abilities that will help in combat since Raphtalia and Firo cannot level up.

The lower level Philorial shields finished granting their equipment bonuses after an hour or so.

Of course, this is a very generous gift, and at this point I'll take anything.

In the first place, releasing all the Philorial Series was more than what I could have hoped for.

furthermore Firo's speed became even faster due to the effects.

Well, this is great. We were very lucky.....

The problem is that the village south west of us has become a dense jungle again.

"This is my fault....."

"Probably."

We advance through the flourishing forest by pushing aside plants.

Metly was surprised to know that this was my fault.

To think the Bio Plant seed I gave to the villagers turned them back to square one.....

I don't have the right to judge Motoyasu.

"There are no strange demons."

Firo mutters while investigation the neighbourhood.

"I see."

Perhaps the changes I made are more powerful than I thought.

While pushing through the foliage we encounter a villager.

"Ah, Hero of the Shield-sama."

What should we do? Escape? No, I hear that a lot of villagers do not believe I did the things that warranted that bounty.

If that wasn't the case we would have been reported by those villages in the beginning-

"Thanks to Hero of the Shield-sama we can work in peace."

"Pardon?"

I question the villager as I look around.

"This?"

"Yes, can't you tell this is already an agricultural area?"

"All I see is a dense forest."

"We developed a large scale farming business thanks to the seed that Hero of the Shield-sama gave us."

The villager proudly points around while saying so.

There are bright red fruit-like tomatoes hanging off a bunch of plants.

"The only drawback is that only the same fruit is growing, but it has become a village specialty already."

"you guys are fast."

Hasn't it only been a month?

That is quite amazing.

"Then there have been no problems at all?"

"Nope."

"Then.....isn't it fine?"

The villager smiles wryly at my answer.

Long ago, the creator of the Bio Plant may have wished for this.

Now, his dream is being realized in front of my eyes.

.....It really is quite a spectacle.

"So where is Hero of the Shield-sama heading to? Isn't Silt Welt in the opposite direction?"

"Well, we are escaping this way."

I am troubled as to whether or not I can tell the villager. So I'll just give him a vague answer.

"Hah.....Seems to be quite serious."

"It is definitely not easy."

Well it's not their problem.

"Don't worry we will not inform any of the soldiers from the castle."

"Leaving aside whether or not that is true, you have my thanks."

Gu.....

"Firo is hungry"

Firo hungrily looks at the growing tomatoes.

That reminds me, a lot of Firo's food supply came from here.

"Go ahead."

The villager points towards the big fruits and tells Firo to eat.

"Yay~"

We also get some fruits while Firo begins gorging down.

These tomatoes have a subtle mandarin orange taste to them..... It is delicious, but I feel it is a little lacking.

Raphtalia and Melty eat while exclaiming their deliciousness though.

While resting and eating lunch, several villagers come and I give them some food that I cooked.

"I am grateful, in various ways."

"Don't worry about it."

"For the time being..... be careful."

I was indirectly warned about a dangerous plant.

"I understand."

We finish our meal like this.

"See you."

"Yup. I pray that Hero of the Shield-sama can prove your innocence."

We cross the dense forest for the border.

50 meters after parting with the villagers we are caught by a magical cage.

"Kya!?"

"What's this?"

"Wh-what is going on?"

It's about 40 meters in every dimension. A cage comprised of lightning.

Is this.....magic? Or is it some trap?

Did the villagers set us up?

So that they could capture us here!?

"T-Trouble! Hero of the Shield-sama is being attacked by someone-!"

Villagers that were watching yelled towards the village and it gets louder.
This attack.....It's not from them?

"I finally caught up, Naofumi!"

"You.....Motoyasu!"

Motoyasu's party appears after pushing aside the dense forest.

Did you hide yourselves in the jungle?

that must have been difficult.

"Naofumi, you won't be able to escape from this magical instrument [Thunder Cage]"

Melty inspects the cage and informs me.

"This is a setting trap, it must have been used by someone experienced."

"What is the purpose of this trap?"

"Never letting whatever it captures free."

I see, so this trap was used because we always rely on Firo's leg strength to escape.

"Maybe I can break it, but it will take some time."

"You know a method to definitely remove this trap?"

"If you can get the key away from the user....."

I consider for a moment, stare at Motoyasu, and then Firo.

"Are we going to fight?"

"That seems to be the case."

Raphtalia gets down from Firo and takes up a stance with her sword.

"Raphtalia, you don't have armour. Fall back."

"But....."

"Can Firo fight?"

"Yeah."

Motoyasu is vulnerable to any beautiful girls.

So far he has been treated roughly by Firo.

Possibly.....

"Melly can you remove the cage?"

"I can try.....But don't expect anything."

"Raphtalia, while we fight protect Melty."

"Okay!"

"I'll solve this brainwashing problem, with three people."

Seriously, who in their right mind would believe a shield has the power to brainwash.

I honestly honestly think that the ones framing me are the ones capable of brainwashing.

However, this guy is one of the Heroes referred to by the holy weapons manual.

Companion's thoughts = Not suspecting a Companion.

There is also the bitch and trash king supporting this guy.
I would be a fool to really believe this guy to be friendly.

"Motoyasu-sama, please save my younger sister from the brainwashing of the devil of the shield."

Hey bitch, stop adding oil to the fire.

"Hero of the shield-sama! And.....Spear....."

A villager calls towards us from outside the cage.

The villager looks at Motoyasu with a troubled expression.

I can easily imagine the reason. For the cause of the village's disaster to appear again, even if he is one of the three heroes it wouldn't be pleasant.

"You guys are also brainwashed too."

Motoyasu, that guy is absolutely infatuated with himself.

He looks me in the eye and prepares his spear.

"I won't be defeated like last time."

"..... What's with those lines."

I was summoned to a different world, and on the second day was already being looked down upon by Motoyasu.

Wouldn't it be fun to retaliate here?

I change the Chimeric Viper Shield and take a stance against Motoyasu.

Motoyasu's companions, that bitch and two other woman.

.....There should have been another man.....But it's just Motoyasu. Did he throw away the unnecessary element in his harem?

We face each other with Firo standing in front of me, Melty trying to release the trap, and Raphtalia protecting her.

"What will win if the Spear and Shield fight?..... Of course it'll be me!"

Motoyasu declares while smiling full of conviction.

"Don't be a coward this time. Are you going to cheat again? Know your place, clown!"

Motoyasu was about to say something, but stops immediately.

It seems words have become unnecessary.

Very well. I am different from before.

Melty cannot fight, but I have Raphtalia and Firo.

In this situation where I can utilize the shield to its full potential, I will not lose.

Now.....Let's see who is stronger!

""Uoooooooooooooooooh!""

We both step forwards and charge towards each other.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 68 – Battle between Spear and Shield

---

"Firo, You take Motoyasu-"

I give Firo instructions as the battle begins.

Motoyasu cannot lay a hand on women. Especially Firo, Motoyasu even hesitates to point his spear at her.

Even if Motoyasu was able to attack Firo properly, she would be able to stop the spear.

"I am the queen who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. Rain flames upon my enemies!"

"Tzuwait • Fire Squall!"

The arrogant bitch sings an aria and casts Fire system magic.

"Naofumi! Firo-chan!"

"I am one who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. Hinder the rain of flames that pours on us!"

"Anti • Tzuwait • Fire Squall!"

Melty instantly counterbalances the intermediate magic that the bitch chants before going back to work on the cage.

However, she could not perfectly counterbalance it and the rain of fire still poured towards us.

Fortunately, it only hit Firo and I who were in front.

The jungle is set ablaze.

The area nearby instantly becomes a sea of flames.

Many villagers start to panic as the fire spreads.

"I will not forgive you for kicking Motoyasu-sama so many times."

The bitch is casting magic towards us seriously.

Melty is good at magic, but she is pretty good too.

There is a big difference between the bitch and Melty known as Levels, due to her being in Motoyasu's party.

"Firo, Are you okay!?"

"Yep. I'm fine-"

Firo doesn't seem affected by the rain of fire.

Well..... during the first wave I also barely felt anything when the knights barraged the area with magic.

But the biggest problem now is the surrounding Bio plants which have been set ablaze.

What kind of dumbass uses fire magic inside a jungle? Are you even thinking about your surroundings?

"I am one who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. Bless us with the rain we eagerly long for!"

"Tzuwait • Squall!"

Melty directs her magic towards the jungle while Raphtalia protects her.

"Mein, Thank you."

Motoyasu who received the bitch's help shows his gratitude by giving her a thumbs up.

Everything this guy does is infuriating.

"Now! Motoyasu-sama please concentrate onto the devil of the shield! We'll hold that damned bird back with magic!"

Under bitch's comand Motoyasu's subordinates begins to chant.

"Here I come-!"

Firo ignores the chanting and charges straight at Motoyasu.

"Wait Firo--"

I don't understand what they are doing, but charging recklessly is not going to help!

"Wing • Tackle!"

Firo tries to tackle Motoyasu with her giant body coated in wind.

"Fube---"

As a result, Firo is blown off while spinning, she unfurls her wings to make a landing.

"That was surprising. But, here I go!"

Firo charges at Motoyasu again without learning her lesson. However, I have no idea as to what magic it was that Blew Firo off again.

This is not a feasible combat strategy.

While Firo is being pinned down, Motoyasu rushes at me--

"Eat this Naofumi! Meteor Spear!"

Motoyasu's spear shines brilliantly as shouts and leaps.

The energy condenses to cover his spear as it heads towards me.

"Guu.....!?"

I receive the attack with the thickest part of my shield.

Through the shield I receive a heavy blow that affects my whole body.

I'm guessing that was a finisher move.

Well, there is no reason to hold back in a real fight.

All the bones in my body groan under the pressure.

I think this is the worst attack yet.

Glass's attack wasn't as heavy thanks to the shield of anger.

"How's that! There's still more! Disorder Piercing! Rising Dragon Spear!"

(TI note: SHORYUSPEAR)

Motoyasu unleashes his skills continuously. I fire the special ability of the Chimeric Viper Shield, Snake's poison fang.

Shit..... It's not effective because his level is too high!

An intense pain could be felt from the attack that I failed to block.

I understand that I'm bleeding even without looking.

Recover magic..... But Motoyasu won't give me the room to heal.

"Shield Prison!"

I trap Motoyasu within a cage of shields.

"Giant Windmill!"

Motoyasu swings his spear around like a baton, and cuts down the shields that I summon.

Damn..... His offensive power has already greatly exceeded my defensive power.

Whenever a cool down is off I cast a skill.

As expected there is no chance to win in a defensive fight.

What do I do.....

Firo can't even get close to Motoyasu thanks to the bitch and her subordinates.

"Firo commands the origin of power. Firo has read and deciphered a law of nature. Blow her away with a raging tornado!"

"Tzuwait • Tornado!"

"I am the queen who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. The Tornado shall disperse and disappear!"

""I am one who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. The Tornado shall disperse and disappear!""

""""Anti · Tzuvait · Tornado!""

The magic that Firo casts overpowers the counterbalancing of three people and breaks through, but it loses a lot of power.

"Yaay, Here I go~"

"Wing · Tackle!"

Firo tries to take advantage of the situation and charges Motoyasu immediately. but, she is blown off again.

This is.....looking bleak.

It seems those three are well prepared against Firo, and have taken measures in advance.

Motoyasu you bastard, I really want to kill you.

Fortunately Raphtalia and Melty were excluded as targets.

Are they looking down on us because we lack the power to kill them?

Perhaps if Raphtalia joined the fight, and Firo was not being suppressed.

It is evident that it requires three people, and they are barely stopping Firo.

Melty's speciality is magic. It would be possible to counterbalance, but her Level is too low.

I told Raphtalia not to step in because of her lack of armour.

No wait, if I approach together with Firo I should be able to hold back their magic.

At this point both bitch's magical power and my physical strength is starting to decline.

"Hm!?"

Bitch and her lackeys drink something.

Is that possibly a potion that recovers magical power?

Dangerous.....I don't think we can hold out until they run out of potions.

"What a tough guy. Thanks to the shield's skills he will not to fall down....."

Motoyasu seems to be out of breath as he continues using skills. I have also received considerable damage!

I feel blood dripping from my body.

"I received good information and gotten strong in a different way."

So far, after coming to this world, everything has been developed through trail and error.

I did not choose the means of becoming strong.

Avariciously, I stacked equipment bonuses of unsealed shields.

Nonetheless.....I am still unable to win?

"Kyaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

"What's going on!?"

Motoyasu got distracted. One of his companions cried out.

I follow Motoyasu's line of sight and check.

One of Motoyasu's companions had a sword piercing her shoulder from behind.

Melty was considered too weak, and since Raphtalia was on defence she was ignored.

"You are only paying attention to Firo, there are too many openings!"

Raphtalia's figure suddenly appears.

"You!"

After her companion was stabbed, the bitch brandishes her sword and slashes.

"Hide • Mirage"

When Raphtalia was about to be stabbed she disappeared like smoke.

Raphtalia used concealment magic that uses a magic sword skill to produce a phantom, hence Hide • Mirage.

It appears to be concealment magic that utilizes illusions.

"Do not get carried away with mere illusion magic!"

"I am the queen who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. Cut down the illusions!"

"Wind Flasher!"

The illusion magic Raphtalia was using to hide disappears. Raphtalia emerged from the mist that the wind cut down.

"There!"

The bitch thrusts towards Raphtalia.

Raphtalia.....is receiving the attack!?

Raphtalia has no armour. She's wearing villager clothes.

Bitch's sword is probably of a high quality. If something happens then we are finished.

There is no time to choose the means.

Shield of Anger!

With the thought of losing Raphtalia I activate the Curse Series Shield.

"Ah, Wait!"

"Uooooooooooooooooo!"

Make it in time.....Make it in time.....Make it in timeeeeeeeeeeeeeee!

The world instantly slows down. While my mind was being eroded I cast my skills.

"Air Strike Shield! Second Shield!"

Two shields appear between Raphtalia and the sword

With a clang, bitch's sword was repelled.

"Haa.....Haa....."

I made it in time, somehow.

"Eat this!"

Motoyasu aims his skill at me who sighed in relief.

If I'm not mistaken, those are the movements for the Meteor Spear.

It seems while using the Curse Series, not only is my body enhanced, but also my kinetic vision.

I powerfully grasp the the shining spear head.

"Im-Impossible! Grabbing the Meteor Spear!?"

"You retard, you just used that skill a while ago! What kind of idiot would forget!? Fool!"

The counter effect of the shield of anger is based on the attack's strength.
Self Curse Burning is activated.

The strength of this flame is influenced by my anger.

I was almost consumed by rage when I saw Raphtalia about to be stabbed.
This generated an enormous amount of power.

"Uwaaaaah!"

Motoyasu's whole body was covered in black flames, and he was rolling around in pain.

Guu.....If I don't change shield I'll forget myself in anger.

"Not yet!"

The bitch hasn't learnt her lesson yet and tried to stab Raphtalia again.

Shit..... Cooldown time!

They are just about to end!

"Shield---"

Not in time!

Raphtalia was.....

The bitch's assassin's knife hits Raphtalia.

"Ahahahahaha, trying to deft me.....What!?"

Raphtalia disappears and all that's left is an after-image.

"Your magical power was not enough to completely nullify my illusion magic.

Now it's my turn!"

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 69 – Judgement

---

Raphtalia appears behind the bitch and slashes.

Clang! The bitch barely blocks Raphtalia's sword with her sword by turning around.

There was probably another illusion piled upon the one that was dispelled.

"You're just a pebble on the side of the road!"

"To treat others as pebbles..... Is that that attitude of one meant to rule!?"

Raphtalia and bitch continue their game of cat and mouse while also insulting each other.

Bitch's sword must have been expensive. However, she is unable to break Raphtalia's sword.

I don't know if it's simply because Raphtalia's ability exceeds hers, I have to hurry and help...

"I will not collapse just yet!"

Motoyasu who was on the ground from Self-Burning Curse gets up with great difficulty and is barely able to stand in front of me.

"You think you can stop me with these kind of burns? I will not acknowledge it!"

Although Motoyasu has taken considerable damage from Self Curse Burning, he continues on without consideration for his body. His steps are a little unsteady.

"This amount of damage is nothing that can't be fixed with recovery magic."

"Do you have someone who can apply it?"

I do not know what kind of magic Motoyasu uses.

When I look at his companions I see the one that wasn't stabbed desperately using recover magic.

Raphtalia and the bitch are still engaging each other in close combat, neither of them are backing off.

"Don't forget about Firo either~!"

"Firo!? Are you okay?"

Firo should have been induced into a state of frenzy when I took out the shield of anger. But she's showing no signs of losing her mind.

After the shield of anger's second form shield of anger 2 was unlocked, it's power increased without changing to that form.

I am also able to send my companions into a frenzy with the angry dragon's roar.

Maybe that's why I can stop the shield of anger 1 from from sending Firo out of control.

"Whats up?"

When I look at Firo's head..... her ahoge is glowing.

"Somehow my body has become extremely light"

Black flames are covering Firo, her white limbs are being dyed black.

Firo's mind doesn't seem to be eroded though.....

It seems the reward from the Queen of Philorials is amazing.

"I am one who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. Cure this person!"

"Al • Tzuvait • Heal!"

Motoyasu's companion casts healing magic him after a long chant.

Range recovery, they had such a hand available?

"You saved me!"

But.....Motoyasu, you have made one big miscalculation.

The light of recovery falls onto Motoyasu and his group to heal.

"Alright.....Huh?"

The recovery magic that Motoyasu was waiting for barely did anything for him. Motoyasu tilted his neck looking puzzled.

"Did you think you could recover completely with just one cast? I'm sorry to disappoint you. I have my own hand to prevent that."

This is funny, the side effect of Self-Burning Curse slows down healing. His long awaited recovery magic barely did anything.

"I think the outcome is decided."

His companions turn towards Raphtalia and starts chanting magic.

"Firo"

I give instructions to support Raphtalia.

"Okay~!"

Firo charges even faster than earlier.

As Firo approaches Raphtalia who is preparing to defend with her sword, both Raphtalia and the bitch back off to start preparing magic.

"Not yet!"

Without learning his lesson Motoyasu tries to stab me with his spear.

"Air Strike Javelin!"

A thrown spear flies towards me.

"Like that would work!"

I catch the flying spear.

Gakin! Sounds of metal clashing rings out when I grab the spear.

When I completely stop the spear, it disappears from my hand and reappears in Motoyasu's.

Throwing skills..... Certainly Self Curse Burning is ineffective at a long distance.

If you are a gamer you would understand after seeing it once.

"I won't.....I won't lose here! If I lose then princess Melty, Raphtalia-chan, and Firo-chan will all become tools for the devil of the shield."

..... In a way coming all the way here believing in justice in itself is somewhat praiseworthy.

But I am treated as the villain.

No way, In Motoyasu's eyes am I a mid-boss within a game?

What an unpleasant treatment. Who is a boss character.

"I will absolutely help you!"

"A buffoon of a womaniser coming here, it's too pathetic."

Don't you understand you're the one being brainwashed?

It's such a waste to not be directing your passion somewhere more productive.....

"Damn....."

He doesn't even respond to my remark. His Companions are being trampled on by Firo.

Well, his unyielding will is certainly Hero-like.

However, if you insist of blindly following justice like that, then there is no saving you.

"Give it up, you cannot beat us."

You don't even know your allies are the ones behind this.

I look at Melty anxiously while thinking about what's to do next.

Victory or defeat is also decided on whether or not the cage can be destroyed.

It is admirable that she can act so bravely knowing her own older sister is trying to have her assassinated.

.....Killing intent surges within me.

But if I murder anyone here my innocence will never be proven.

If I murder anyone, I will be no different than that trash who is trying to frame me.

I refuse to become an existence similar to trash.

To even sacrifice your own flesh and blood without hesitation.

Is that really alright?

No, I will prove my innocence!

"Not yet.....I haven't lost yeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeet!"

Motoyasu suicidally charges me, it's like he's trying to die an honourable death.

It will be decide with the next move-right before a decide a foreign sound echoes.

Applause is heard from a strange place.

"Iya~..... as expected of the spear, truly a strong will. It was a good show."

The area is filled with magical pressure.

All of Firo's feathers stand on end as she covers Rapthalia.

"Eh--"

"Mel-chan!"

"Kyaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

"Uwaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

"I-I am a princess! how dare you treat me with so impolitely--"

"Firo-cha--fube!"

And without any hesitation, everyone including Bitch and Motoyasu were kicked towards me, freely using high-speed magic Firo appears in front of me

Everyone, whether friend or foe is gathered together at my feet by Firo.

"Master! We'll defend with everything!"

"What's happening Sudden-"

"Hurry up! Something big is about to come!"

"Damn! I know!"

While Firo was watching with a threatening attitude, while I use Shield Prison, Air Strike Shield, and Second Shield.

Just as the shields appear a huge pillar of light poured down on us from the sky.

"Guu....."

It was a heavy attack that shook my body to its core

I endure it while chanting Fast Heal.

Air Strike Shield and Second Shield are blown away immediately, and Shield Prison is barely holding up.

As the shield is protecting everyone from the sky a Bakin sound could be heard.

The Prison is destroyed and the light falls onto me. My shield is somehow blocking the thick beam of light.

As I was about to slip Firo wraps her wings around me and supports me.

"Uguguguuuuuuuuuu....."

The light reduces my physical strength.

"A little more.....It's over!"

The light suddenly vanishes but I still hold my shield ready.

Firo stands up and covers everyone with her wings.

The area around us.....It's all scorched-earth.

It looks like a meteor fell and we were at it's epicentre.

There were some villagers groaning outside the crater that was part of the aftermath of the magic the enemy cast.

It was horrible.

"Wh-What on earth....."

"Oh my what's this? To think the devil of the shield could withstand the High class synthesis magic [Judgement] and remain calm."

When I look towards the voice, what greeted me was the smiling face of the priest back in the church of castle town.

Followed by a dozen church officials, with some knights mixed in.

"You.....!"

Motoyasu looks at the priest in frustration.

They're not your reinforcements?

No wait, Motoyasu would have been caught up in that blow as well.

This is.....

"Oh dear oh dear, How could I forget to introduce myself. I am the pope of the Church of Three Heroes."

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 70 – The Pope

---

"The pope.....huh"

Wasn't that too extreme of a greeting? The power of that spell earlier was just barely tolerable even with the shield of anger.

Firo that fellow, why did you help Motoyasu's group too?

You should have just brought Raphtalia and Melty.

Well, it's fine. I'm curious as to what the Pope's real intentions are.

"To fire such magic at the two princesses of this country and the Hero of the Spear.....What are you thinking?"

"Hero of the Spear-sama.....You say?"

If I'm not mistaken, Heroes of the Sword, Bow, and Spear are objects of worship for this guy.

I don't know what is going on but.....

The Pope does not stop smiling while looking at me.

I wonder what. I am getting a weird feeling.

Will he keep that expression plastered on his face like a mask even if someone dies in front of him?

Does his face even understand how to change expressions?

That's the kind of feeling I'm getting.

"I have faith that the Three Heroes will save the people, and the world from the wave. The problem is, that fake pretending to be a hero."

"What do you mean?"

The pope answers as if it's an everyday conversation.

Motoyasu watches the pope with a dumbfounded expression.

"The queen candidates have already been killed by the devil of the shield. Don't mind worry about your corpses, they will be verified later."

"No way....."

Raphtalia was so disgusted that she didn't even feel angry.

The Pope, before he seemed like a fair and unbiased person, but it seems that was just my imagination.

"The devil of the shield acted aggressively, but god has granted him mercy. Therefore, I am here as god's spokesman to complete the purification."

What an amazing reason. In other words, the reasonably priced holy water offered to us was available because we could have been dealt with at a moment's notice?

At that time I had no idea of the big picture.....

Back then I would not have considered this a possibility either.

"Don't joke around! I am the next Queen! I cannot be murdered by a shield!"

"No no, don't worry about that. Be at ease, princess Malty. The person inheriting this country has already been prepared. All is as god's will."

Bitch' face instantly paled from that conversation, it seems this was all a conspiracy from the pope.

"It's a lie.....Right?....."

"Hahaha, No way."

"Stop joking around!"

Motoyasu yells at the pope and points his spear towards him.

"Did we not fight to save this country and princess Melty?"

"Oh right. This country, in the end will be used in the holy war for the world. After our church expels the 3 fake Heroes and the devil of the shield, the church's authority and power will consolidate."

"Fake hero....."

My face cramps as the Pope's answer is way too unpleasant.

"Yes..... The belief in the Church is shaken in various places since the fake heroes are causing trouble everywhere. Fake hero of the Sword caused an epidemic, The fake hero of the bow does not bow to my authority, and the fake hero of the spear caused an ecosystem to go mad."

All the things that I made up for.

Now I understand what Itsuki did, he usurped a bad lord who raised taxes to contribute to the church.

"Therefore, I already disposed of the sword and bow imposter."

The pope answers calmly.

"What!?"

"I have summoned the bow and sword to different locations, and the devil of the shield will be wiped from existence with [Judgement]. Such is the will of god."

Ren and Itsuki.....They were investigating too forcefully, and got themselves in trouble.

I expected Ren to at least be suspicious, but Itsuki too.....

To think they would behave in such a way. If Itsuki noticed wickedness he would act for justice.

No way.....Did they get ambushed?

Does that mean both of them are.....

"Did you murder them!? Everybody fought for the sake of this world!.....Ren!.....Itsuki!"

Motoyasu has an incredibly angry look.

Were you guys that friendly with each other?

I feel bad for those two, but I feel nothing besides sympathy.

"Do not call it killing. We are merely purifying the devils and imposters who deceived us."

"Wha....."

"We will inform the King and Queen like this. This country is being controlled by the fake Heroes, although we purified them, the princesses were unfortunately....."

Wow~.....That's pretty farfetched. Will they even believe that?

Hm.....I can see the trash believing it. He might co-operate solely because I was killed.

We can barely fight, since all of us are exhausted.

Even though in this world I ostracised-- I will not become a pitiful person after the truth has become apparent.

In wars, regardless of whether or not you have weapons of mass destruction, if you win then it does not matter.

Truth is, I don't really understand either, but I can say this. I will not forgive ass-holes who are trying to destroy us for a selfish reason.

Motoyasu is at a loss for words and slowly turns towards me.

"Naofumi, a truce. I want you to lend me your power!"

"What an extremely selfish speech. I will not let you say you forgot what you said to me before."

Making a situation where I was attacked one-sidedly and not even able to escape.

In the first place this guy really did believe the shield was capable of brainwashing just a little while ago.

"I beg you! I.....I want to have a funeral for those guys. I can never forgive this guy!"

"Whatever. Only if we can win.

It will take time until the next strong magic is fired. However.

"Will you lend me your power? Do you think nothing of that guy!?"

"I am thinking of many things. I was going to be made a scapegoat. But Motoyasu, I have no obligation whatsoever to lend you my aid."

The situation is, the cage was broken so we should be able to escape by riding on Firo.

"Rather."

I smile at Motoyasu and show him a thumbs down.

"Die please ♪ "

"Yooooooooooooou!"

Even while unsteady Motoyasu tries to punch me.

"Are you sure you want to hit me?"

If Self-Burning Curse activates after you hit me, you will die.

"Damn....."

Well, I can control it because of Raphtalia, Firo, and Melty.

"As expected, the devil of the shield and his companions the fake heroes will fight each other."

"Who the hell is this guy's companion?"

"Shut up! I won't depend on you! I'll take that guy down alone!"

"fufufu, I wonder if you can really defeat me."

The pope instructs his subordinate to bring him his weapon while laughing.
I wonder what it is.It's a big ass sword.....

It was a silver white sword decorated with ornaments.

Is that similar to a game where in the second half they get a sacred sword that talks?

(TI note: Anyone know what game he is referencing?)

Such complicated decorations.....It's probably quite strong.

The jewel buried in the middle of it gives off an unpleasant feeling.

"Wha.....That's-"

Bitch and Melty both pale at once.

"Naofumi! Take care, That-"

"First, the devil of the shield. You shall receive god's judgement."

Despite the Pope being far away he swings down the sword with a shout.

A shock-wave through the ground is coming right at me.

I ready the shield to receive it.

"Ugh....."

The impact was so strong I was almost blown off. Its damage rivals that of Motoyasu's meteor spear.

A big fissure is created in the ground.

Wait a minute, right now I have the shield of anger equipped!

What kind of weapon can deal such damage that Motoyasu's skill can't even compare.

"Naofumi. That. It's a replication of a legendary hero's weapon."

"A replication?"

Just how strong was the original!?

Ren who also uses the sword.....Motoyasu would be stronger, but they simply cannot compare to that.

I mean Glass completely ruined Motoyasu.

Her attacks would be around 5 times stronger.

I was still able to defend against them with the shield of rage.

But this attack just now surpassed it by far.

"Why is such a thing.....They should have been lost hundreds of years ago....."

"It was not lost, it was stolen. The Three Heroes Church stole it."

There was a bomb conspiracy theory in a certain country during World War Two, that claimed they lost a large quantity of bombs, and to this day have never been found.

To think that is just a replica of the legendary weapon, will Ren's sword become that strong in the future?

Although I may be the Hero of the Shield, is it safe to give an individual such power?

If you have that kind of power from a mere replica, do you guys even need to summon heroes?

I am curious.

"If you have such a think why are you summoning heroes. Can't you just mass-produce those and defeat the waves?"

Melty shakes her head at my question.

"To have similar power equal to a legendary weapon.....The fuel consumption is too huge."

"What do you mean?"

"To use that weapon once, several hundred people's worth of magical power must be sacrificed. Moreover, it is impossible to mass-produce now, that technology was from a lost era. It is a legendary weapon after all."

"That's great."

I have seen the anime. A giant robot using all of Japan's electricity to shoot one shot.

Something like that?

"Everyday believers have devoted their energies and risked their lives. This is for a crusade!"

Well they certainly are prepared.

Bringing out the replica of a legendary hero's weapon in such a place?

They said it was lost for several hundred years.

Was the thing accumulating magic for that many years?

Shit! To bring out something so troublesome.

.....No, it's just evidence of how cornered they were.

If we can overcome this, then our counter-attack will begin.

Right now is a crucial moment.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 71 – Replica

---

“Well then, time to end the little test here, I shall start taking this seriously.”

The pope readies his sword.

Then, the form changes to a spear. The shape changed but it still retained its luxurious design.

Looking at the weapons you can tell it was made by the same person.

“It can transform!?”

“Of course, it is a legendary weapon. Sword, spear, and bow…… What shall I purify you with?”

Holy weapon of the Three Heroes……?

The power of Three Legendary Heroes collected into one weapon, turns its fangs against the Hero of the Shield.

Quite the composition.

Even if I try to escape……Can it even be done against an opponent who wields such a weapon?

That shock-wave was too fast to dodge.

If he takes this seriously and uses a bow skill, it might be impossible for even Firo to escape……

“You see, our power from the believers are limited. So allow me to end this with a single blow.”

Knights are wholeheartedly supporting the Pope in the background.

The weapon was pointed towards us.

The replica spear shines and the light forms into a three-pronged spear.

“..... High Class Skill, Brionac!?”

Hero of the Spear Motoyasu cries out.

It is probably a skill name from a game which Motoyasu played.

That means, this is a considerably high-class skill.

It would normally do an enormous amount of damage. Will that skill kill us.....?

Escaping is impossible, have to block it..... Motoyasu and the others won't be able to, only the shield can.

Is this thing going to attack from all sides?

No matter what I have no intention on giving up.

“Firo!”

“Okay!”

Firo grasps my intention and throws me at the pope.

The moment the pope entered the range of my skill. I shouted its name.

“Shield Prison!”

A cage of shields imprisons the pope.

After I will use Change Shield (Attack) and then Iron Maiden to surely kill him-

“.....What kind of imitation is this?”

He didn't even need to take a posture, the prison was destroyed merely by the skill's after effect.

No way!?

No, I need to calmly think about this.

The requirements to activate Iron Maiden weren't met. It is my only other means of attacking.

I'll just burn him with Self-Burning Curse.

However, he grips the spear and starts to attack.

I think not.

"Firo, Throw Motoyasu at me!"

"Eh!?"

"Okay!"

Firo hurls Motoyasu at me, who has yet to land.

"Dowaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

Motoyasu shouts in panic while flying towards me at high-speed.

"Motoyasu attack me!"

"Ahhh!? Oh I see, Okay!"

Motoyasu turns out to be quite sharp.

While I turn around Motoyasu readies his spear.

With a thud the spear hits the shield.

That's right.

This is good.

“Meteor Spear!”

Next, Motoyasu releases his skill towards the Pope.

“Foolish.”

However, Motoyasu’s meteor spear was stopped by an unknown barrier around the pope.

“What!?”

“Now try this!”

With me at the centre Self-Burning Curse flies out and covers the pope, even Motoyasu is hit.

The barrier surrounding the Pope vanishes, and the flames–

“It’s useless!”

The believers accompanying the Pope start singing in unison.

“”””Our god commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. Purify this curse with a miracle!””””

“High Class Purification Magic [Sanctuary]!”

The area was dyed pure-white and my Self-Burning Curse was removed in an instant.

No way!?

Certainly the curse power conflicts with holy power.

Was I deceived into buying holy water? Oh well, it did enough.

High Class Holy Water should still be required to completely cure the curse.

Instantly…….

“Air Strike Shield! Second Shield!”

Before reaching the Pope I call the shields as a foothold, Motoyasu and I both use it to back off.

It seems the flames that also burnt Motoyasu were purified.

There is nothing I haven't used.

“Okay. Motoyasu's companion heal us with recovery magic.”

“R-right! Tzuvait • Heal!”

Motoyasu's wounds heal considerably.

This is be quite useful.

What's sad is that I have to work together with Motoyasu.

“Now then, are you done with your farce? I would like to attack now.”

As the Pope activates a skill, the tip of his spear glows.

“This is as far as you go.I bid the devil and imposter good-bye.”

The spear shines even brighter and the pope smiles at us. His attitude is just like he completed an exorcism.

"Mel-chan!"

Firo instantly covers Melty. Raphtalia grasps my hand.

"So this is it....."

Motoyasu mutters as if he has given up.

"I-I am going to become the queen of this country. How dare you be so rude-"

The bitch is screaming before death.

Motoyasu's companions lose their composure and break down crying.

Is there any possibility that I can withstand this?.....

It's sink or swim, with nothing to lose I step forwards.

Of course I would rather not defend those guys.

I just want to protect Raphtalia, Firo, and Melty, they are the ones who believed in me.

I ready my shield and step forward.

"I'll accompany you."

Raphtalia follows me as I step forward. Her hand on mine.

We've gotten this far together.

I was brought to this world against my will and become the devil of the shield, I was forced to buy a slave to become my fighting force.

Of course even to now there is no sense of guilt.

Still, even in those days she believed in me.

“I’m sorry……To bring you to such a place……”

“No, Naofumi-sama I believe you can protect us all.”

“……That’s right. I don’t know how the previous Hero of the spear was, but this is definitely one of his skills.”

Not yet. I will not be finished in such a place.

The chance to finally counter-attack the mastermind is right in front of me.

Brionac……I don’t know which Celtic Myth it is from, but I will stop it.

The Pope raises the spear towards the sky–

“Hundred Sword!”

“Meteor Bow!”

Suddenly, a wave of swords and arrows rain down on the Pope.

“What’s going on!?”

Since I broke the Pope’s barrier, he had to stop casting his skill and twirl the spear around to deflect all the swords and arrows.

I turn my gaze to where the voice came from. There I see–

“Oh my. You two should have been purified by the judgement of god, why are you here?”

Ren and Itsuki are standing in a line with their parties.

“Don’t just kill me off without my permission. Did you even confirm our corpses?”

“That was a close call. I barely made it in time.”

Ren and Itsuki call out to us while preparing for battle.

“Oh dear, if there was a need to confirm your bodies, there would have been no reason to use that magic.”

I look at where the attack landed.

Certainly, there is barely a chance of finding a corpse within that crater.

Not even a trace would remain.

I endured it though.

When looking at Ren my body feels heavy.

The shield makes a commotion about who I should be directing my hatred at.

The rage of the dragon is producing anger meant for Ren.

Endure it…… I cannot act violently now.

“You guys, how did you……”

Motoyasu is looking at Ren and Itsuki like he’s looking at dead people.

Well Motoyasu isn’t wrong, it is definitely strange that all the heroes have gathered in such a remote place.

The last time I saw them was in the opposite direction towards Silt Welt.

"A group called shadow helped us."

"Yeah, it was a close call."

"Eh? Did a guy called shadow tell you Naofumi's whereabouts? He said he was on the church's side."

If I think about it, it is strange that they were able to predict our escape route and lay an ambush.

In other words, Motoyasu was able to pinpoint my location thanks to the shadows on the Three Heroes Church.

We also met a shadow while escaping.

That reminds me……

"…… I was told the shadows are splintered."

"Yeah, the shadows who saved our lives said they worked for the queen."

I see, the queen's shadows are collaborating.

I assume the shadows that helped Itsuki and Ren are from the queen's faction.

Is it because the queen is in a hostile relationship with the pope?

At least now the queen, and us four heroes are hostile against the Pope and his Three Heroes Church.

However……These guys look like they came from an old weekly manga.

It's like they were waiting for this timing to appear.

The leader of the heroes side is Motoyasu.

The Arch-enemy position is me……? I'm not kidding.

Would it be possible to clear up that misunderstanding if I had a companion character there? Like in the manga.

Unfortunately, I have no intentions of becoming a companion of Motoyasu or any of them……

“A punitive force will arrive soon! Quietly surrender!”

Ren declares as if he already won.

However, the pope does not seemed worried at all.

“Our victory is certain no matter how many you bring. No matter what armed forced come, numbers are meaningless!”

The pope gets in position for the his skill again.

“I wonder about that”

“Of course.”

The two heroes both shoot a skill at the pope.

“Meteor Sword!”

“Metero Bow!”

Arrows and Swords made of light head towards the Pope—

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 72 – Wrath Shield

---

“Meteor Sword!”

“Meteor Bow!”

Ren and Itsuki’s prided Meteor Series attacks are fired at the pope, but the pope is covered by another barrier, keeping a cool face while wielding the replica spear.

Ren and Itsuki’s companions also use their skills and magic, however the barrier is deployed again so nothing comes close to harming the pope.

“As expected of imposters, you only have this degree of strength.”

“Damn…….”

“This is harsh. To think he would have such a hidden-card to play.”

“What did you guys even come for?!”

Even with these guys our chance of success is still almost nil.

“Do you guys even have any plan in mind?”

“Just how much long do you plan on making fun of us?”

Ren and Itsuki’s weapons start to glow, but this time they charge up their energy before attacking.

“Thunder Slash!”

“Thunder Shot!”

The pope looks startled and his eyes open wide as he receives the attack, his barrier creaking.

"It's too late! I've already bought enough time!"

The barrier was destroyed due to my Self-Burning Curse last time, and Motoyasu and the rotten heroes were also able to break through it this time.

"I could still fight…… But I'm out of SP."

"That's just the whining of a loser."

I haven't helped them so far because I did not expect them have such strong skills.

Is it too late to jump in? Have I been too cautious?

"Fufufu…… foolish heroes. Did you truly think you could beat me, the wielder of the legendary weapon?"

The believers immediately use recovery magic on the Pope to heal him. This is troubling. The attack that took so much effort to land was healed in one go.

"If the others help suppress you, I'll defeat you. It is my duty as a hero."

"Everyone. The aria of judgement will now commence."

The pope's believers nod and begin to recite magic.

"All of the imposters and their companions are evil."

Wow. Quite fanatic.

I'm not sure we can win this fight even if the reinforcements that Ren and Itsuki called show up.

"Now then, shall we finish this?"

The pope is going to seriously kill us. Brionac has been ready for a while and now he charges at us.

"Naofumi"

"What?"

Ren approaches me and asks.

"Let's combine our power and beat this guy."

"Honestly, co-operating with you guys is far too unpleasant."

It's impossible to successfully escape.

Furthermore, if they use the spell, "Judgement," again, I don't think that I can endure it.

"Someone must attack me with hostility, and then I must get in close proximity of the pope. After that, get away from me - my attack will affect anyone in range."

The only effective weapon I have is Self-Burning Curse. If it comes to close range I should somehow manage.

"I understand."

"Then, what are you waiting for!?"

I cast support magic on everyone and issue instructions, preparing myself to protect those who will attack with close combat from both physical and magical damage.

The heroes attack, supported by magic, their defence buffed, in an unexpectedly organized formation.

"Let's go!"

We rush towards the pope first.

The pope is ignoring us and concentrating on his skill.

The only way for me to deal a decisive blow is to receive a hit myself.

Since I regularly develop my defence, this skill requires a lot of damage to activate.

"Naofumi!"

Motoyasu's spear hits my shield, activating Self-Burning Curse.

"Uooooooooooooooooooooo!"

The believers not singing the Aria of Judgement try to purify the flames, but of the barrier shatters anyway.

Immediately I cast Air Strike Shield and Change Shield, then use Hook to withdraw behind the other heroes. Hook's special effect lets me manipulate it however I want, so I tie it around my arm and use it as an anchor.

"Thunder Slash!"

"Lightening Spear!"

"Thunder Shot!"

The other heroes use their strongest skills against the pope.

"Brionac!"

However, the pope counters with his skill!

The Pope's skill and the heroes skills clash against each other, and the two side's conflicting energies fill the air with the electric crackling.

"Goooooooooooooooooo!"

"Yooooooooooooooooou!"

"Deryaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

I am reminded of an old anime where two beams collide and fight for superiority in both offence and defense.

(TI note: KAMEHAMEHAAAAAAAAA)(Ed note: AVADAAA KEDAVRAAAAAAAAAA)

The heroes' companions are also support them with magic, pushing the pope back little by little.

Or so I thought……

"Fufu……Is that it?"

The pope's smile remains undiminished.

No way! He was holding back!?

"No…… Not yet! I will not be defeated yet!"

"That's right! We can still fight!"

"Yeah, let's raise the output!"

The three of them use all their SP on their skills.

Though it's just a little I'll try to help too.

But… I cannot rid myself of the ominous feeling that something is wrong.

"Now then, shall we end this soon?" The pope murmurs indifferently, increasing his power.

Shit! If we die here it would be troublesome!

I mean, I wanted this the other's to die, but the timing right now is terrible……

I push away the Heroes to stop their skills and step forward.

I almost can't withstand the pain as energy passes through my body, but I hold out my shield and endure it desperately.

After what seems an age, the energy dissipates.

"Haa……. haa……"

"Interesting…… I did not expect the Devil of the Shield to be able to withstand that." The pope declares quietly, swinging the spear around.

"A-Are you okay?"

I look back, but all I can see is a blur.

Everything except for a small area behind me was completely destroyed.

Fortunately, I did not receive too much damage, thanks to those supporting me from behind.

""Tzuvait • Heal!""

My wounds were immediately healed thanks to the recovery magic.

If the other three heroes hadn't reduced that attack's power with their skills, I would have died.

"Damn.....Our SP....."

"Me too."

"Same here."

I give the three of them SP recovery potions.

We probably won't have enough time to completely recover though.

I suddenly hear a loud war cry. It seems the reinforcements that Ren called have arrived.

"Now then, I have had enough of this farce with the devil. I shall dispose of all of you and summon the true heroes. But first, why don't I keep those people occupied for now."

The pope changes the spear into a sword and takes up a stance.

The sword blade's shape takes on the semblance of a phoenix.

Perhaps this skill is even more superior to Brionac.

Dangerous…… those guys from the punitive force have no idea that the Pope has something like this up his sleeve.

There is the possibility they will all be wiped out at once.

“Everyone, Let's provide judgment together.”

He intends to attack together with his subordinates. Although only a bit, we have gained some time.

“So we could only come this far……”

The other heroes are all pale.

No matter how reckless we act, our chances of success are low……

No, wasn't it also like this against Motoyasu? Can I say that I did my best?

Did I do my best…?

Suddenly, it comes to me.

It's a desperate gamble, but we're dead anyway. We might as well give it all we have.

“Ren, come here for a moment.”

“What's up? Do you have a plan?”

After I tell Ren to approach, he does so suspiciously.

Dokun, Dokun. (Sfx: Pulsing)

The shield's pulsing strengthens, and it begins to vibrate.

I was intentionally sealing off the dragon core's rage towards Ren up until now.

The memory is being projected in my vision again, and the shield wants to slaughter the enemy before me.

That's right... More... Give me more anger!

Thanks to Raphtalia, I can control the massive amount of rage pouring from the Shield of Anger.

"Raphtalia, your hand....."

"Okay"

I join hands with Raphtalia and point my shield at Ren.

I look at Motoyasu and the Bitch to remind myself of the anger that I wanted to avoid.

All the hatred, and everything else is forgotten, all that is left pitch-blackness and anger.

Grow Up has been achieved due to released emotions.

Curse Series: Ability improvement of the Shield of Anger! Shield of Anger changed to Wrath Shield!

Wrath Shield 3

Ability Unsealed... Equipment Bonus: Skill [Change Shield (Attack)] [Iron Maiden] [Blutopfer]

(TI note: Blutopfer means Blood Sacrifice in German.)

Special Effect: Dark Curse Burning Physical, Strength Up, Roar of the angry Dragon, Roar, Frenzy of Companions, Magic Sharing, Clothes of Anger (Intermediate)

Instantly my heart is consumed by dark emotions.

"-----!"

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 73 - Price

---

“————!”

I shouted at the heavens.

Hate!

This whole world is hateful, I hate everything!

I'm going mad from everyone reproaching and accusing me.

Oh right. I should just burn down everything with this power!

My vision is stained red and black, everything I see is an object of my hatred.

“—!”

Someone's voice enters my ears, but I cannot hear it, I feel as if I'm being submerged under water.

“—!”

Something touched me and held on. Do you want to burn!?

“Master, do you really hate everything in the world?”

I am trapped, and everything that torments me will die by my hatred!

“Really? Is that what you really think?!”

Yeah, so what?

"Then, did you hate the days with Firo and Raphtalia onee-chan?"

That voice……I am reminded of something.

A young girl loyally follows me wherever I go and nothing separates us.

Even if she is injured she still listens to me…… The story fills my view.

And then a young bird hatches from an egg, grew up, and feelings of love continue to be transmitted.

"That……That is……."

"It's different. Because, master works hard Firo can do her best."

The darkness is gradually clearing up.

"That's why. Firo will eat master's anger and hatred."

My visibility completely clears up and I look around.

"Naofumi-sama!"

"Are you alright!?"

A few seconds have passed after I screamed. I am being looked at with suspicion.

"Master are you alright!?"

"Did you help me control it?"

"Yup. Master was in trouble."

Firo hugs me from behind. If I look closely I can tell that she has been severely burnt by the black flame.

Not even Firo's body could withstand the Improved Shield of Anger's flames. It must have been very painful. But Firo still worried about me without complaining.

(TI note: I cried a little.)

"Firo, Raphtalia onee-chan, and Mel-chan. Everyone believes in Master. So, do your best."

"Yeah."

It is not necessary to be swallowed by anger.

After all, I can crush one of the ring leaders who made me suffer.

All I wanted to do was to simply beat the wave.

That bastard conveniently used Melty, the other heroes, all of us.

I will.....kick that bastard's ass!

".....I'm going."

"There's still a chance, even in this situation?"

"Yeah, I'll be sure to kill him with my strongest shield."

"What's with that confident figure. You looked like shit just a little while ago."

Shield of Anger 2's dragon-like figure has become even more ominous compared to before.

The dragon's features have morphed to be more devil-like, the horns curl around.

"I have a skill that I need to use. Please help make an opportunity for me to use it."

"You…… Can't be helped. I'll rely on you for now."

"Right. It is difficult to trust you, but we have no other choice."

"All-or-nothing."

"We'll use magic to help somehow……"

The heroes and their companions nod and turn to face the pope.

"Oh dear Oh dear…… To think you would continue this futile resistance. I hope you are prepared because this is already over. Shall I perform the coup de grace?"

Magical power gradually fills the area.

High-density light is going to be unleashed any moment now.

"Firo!"

On my signal the heroes charge at the pope.

Firo faithfully carries me as ordered.

"Fly!"

"Okay~!"

Firo jumps while the enemies start to chant.

""High Class Synthetic Magic [Judgement]""

A baptism of light falls from the sky.

"Gooooooooooooooooooooo!"

I raise my shield up high.

Crackling sounds can be heard as the light pours down on me.

But, it is impossible to penetrate Wrath Shield 3's defence. It barely did any damage to me who was right under it.

"To not even suffer a wound from Judgement."

The pope's expression is one of surprise. His smiling mask is gone.

What a suitable price for using the shield.

I'll teach him his place.

"No way. You won't be able to block this!"

The pope points his sword at me and yells.

"Phoenix Blade!"

A Phoenix takes flight from the Pope's sword and rushes towards me.

"I'll receive it!"

I lower my shield in front of me.

Firo can understand what I'm thinking and casts support magic.

A chant comes to mind. Are these the conditions for the Clothing of Anger (Intermediate)?"

"I am the Hero of the Shield who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. May the devouring flames become my power!"

"Wrath Fire!"

Anger is now my power.

The flaming phoenix collides with us and doesn't burn anything.

"Wha! To nullify my skill!"

"That's quite ironic. Your bird became food for my holy bird."

The barrier protecting the pope was shattered by the other heroes attacks, and Firo's powerful kick.

"Phoenix Strike-"

Firo's sure kill dash!

Firo's finishing move is strong enough to combat the pope.

"Meteor Sword!"

"Meteor Spear!"

"Meteor Bow!"

The pope changes his sword to a spear and prepares.

“The stance of Heaven and Earth reversal!?”

Motoyasu yells in surprise.

Is that another High class spear skill?

“Tch…… How dare you go against God’s will.”

Firo’s skill is repelled as light overflows from the spear.

“Gua!”

“Gufu!”

“Gu…….”

Is that a counter skill?

Just how tenacious are you!

“But, I will not be stopped!”

“I wonder about that.”

This time the pope’s weapon becomes a giant bow and he jumps away.

“You think you can run!? Firo!”

“Yep. Let’s go~”

We instantly catch up to the Pope, and Firo adds a kick.

However, as Firo’s attack hit, the pope vanished.

If he escapes here he loses.

Where is he hiding.

"Hide Arrow!?"

Itsuki's voice.

"That skill creates a large amounts of mirror images! Be careful!"

Damn.....If I can't target him I can't do anything.

There are currently 10 popes and increasing.

"fufufu, I was a little surprise, but shall we end this now?"

The popes hold up their bows and begin to cast a big skill.

"This is the strongest skill. Let your body have a test of it, devil of the shield."

The bows shine.

Shit, I should be able to block it but I can't counter attack.

"I am the queen who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. Restrain him with ice!"

"Doraifa • Icicle • Prison!"

The lower half of a bunch of the pope's mirror images froze.

"Now!"

Who is that!?

No, there is no time to worry about that.

I have to defeat this bastard now.

Blutopfer!

As expected, a chant floats into view.

“The name of the punishment for the foolish sinner who shall be sacrificed as a scapegoat to god! Become a sacrifice to the steel trap while experiencing the intense pain of a being drained of all your blood!”

“Blutopfer!”

Gufu……

Wh-What!?The moment I cast the skill, blood begins to overflow from my body, my muscles begin to tear,and my bones start to creak.

This……Was it a suicide skill?

The pope smiles as he sees me heavily injured.

But, the next instant– a giant red and black steel trap appears under his feet.

Unlike a normal steel trap, this one has multiple layers. It looks like the ground grew a shark’s mouth with the Pope in the middle.

“Wha-”

Gatun! A sharp metal sound can be heard the instant the Pope is bitten by the steel trap.

“Gugyaaaaaaaaa—”

A scream echoes.

Red bloods splashes over the steel trap and shines.

“Something of this degree—”

This is····harsh.

The pope tries to take countermeasures, but the steep trap repeatedly opens and shuts as if ridiculing him.

“Guha····It was all—for····Go-God····”

The pope fires off a single skills, but the steel trap wasn't even scratched. Two , three cracks start to appear on the replica of the legendary weapons, and as the fourth crack appears a shattering sound could be heard. And then the steel trap falls to the ground and disappears, leaving the pope who has become nothing more than a lump of flesh.

“.....”

It was so gruesome we couldn't breathe.
All skills from the Curse Series are bloody.
Is it because the shield erodes the mind?

I am reminded to refrain from using this too much.

“Th-the Pope has been defeated by the devil!”

The Three Heroes Church mutters in utter despair.

“Yes…… It is also the end of the line for you lot.”

The punitive force surrounds the The Heroes Church remnants and captures them.

Now that the pope is gone our victory is certain.

But…… as the punitive forces work I slipped off Firo.

A new attack skill, Blutopfer was added to the Wrath shield.

It is strong, but the price is too great……

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 74 – The Queen

---

"Master!?"

Firo holds me anxiously as I was covered in blood.

The shield changed to the Chimeric Viper Shield by itself.

"What horrible wounds! Someone! Help master!"

A woman who looks like the commander of the punitive force runs towards Firo who was calling for help.

"Mother!?"

Melty exclaims in surprise towards the commander.

That reminds me..... The head of the punitive force looks like the person that was with Melty in the beginning.

I couldn't get a good look because of the fan though.

"Your efforts this time were quite amazing. Hero of the Shield-sama."

It might be because of her that the pope was trapped.

"Everybody! Treatment for Hero of the Shield-sama is top priority! This is a royal order. We must save Hero of the Shield-sama's life Without fail !"

""""Yes Ma'am!""""

The treatment team within the punitive force gathered around me and began chanting magic.

"Doraifa • Heal"

Light surrounds me.

However.....There is no sign of the pain receding.

"Ar-are you cursed?..... For it to be so strong....."

The treatment team cast de-curse magic with surprised expressions.

But..... It had no effect.

"Do a thorough examination! Everyone please hurry!"

The queen issues instructions to the treatment team and Firo follows hastily.

"Ugh....."

My whole body is screaming in pain. But I will not lose consciousness here.

Because I still do not know whether or not the queen is friend or foe.

"Y-you are the queen?"

"Yes, I am the queen of Melromark, Mirelia Q Melromark. I'm sorry for helping so late."

(TI note: I have corrected Merlot Mark to Melromark and removed the = since they are just spaces.)

".....You were definitely slow."

What does it matter.

Do you have power? Are you the true ruler of this country?

Do you even see the big picture behind this event?

there are a mountain of things I want to say.

My grudge towards her daughter and trash start to surface.

"Really.....this time was all my fault."

"Mother....."

"Mama, why are you apologizing to such a person!?"

When the bitch impeached, I could see a few veins appear on the queen's smiling face.

"Malty..... Prepare yourself because there are a lot of things I need to say to you after we return to the castle."

Gogogo..... The air trembles.

Though I'm not the one that this anger is directed at, a chill still runs up my spine.

With the snap of her finger a shadow appears behind the bitch and arrests her.

"Wait mama!"

"Silence this fool at once"

"Yes Ma'am!"

The bitch's mouth is covered by a cloth.

"W-What are you doing to Mein!?"

"I am Mein.....Malty's mother. By my authority, the fight between heroes is finished until we get back to the castle. Let's return to Melromarc castle and rest."

Motoyasu and the other heroes fall silent due to the queen's aura of authority.

"Now then, Hero of the Shield-sama.....No, Naofumi Iwatani-sama.Your treatment is our top priority, so please rest. Everything will be prepared immediately."

The treatment team starts bringing out various magic tools, medicines, and holy water to use on me.

I feel like an emergency patient in an ambulance from my world.

"But....."

Why did the queen come here? Various questions appear as to why she isn't in the country south-west of us.

"I know what you want to ask. Why was I outside of the country for so long, why I am leading the punitive force, why did I not come defend you sooner?..... There are a lot of things I need to tell you. However, that can be settled after you are healed."

"Naofumi-sama!"

Raphtalia anxiously runs to my side while crying.

"I thought your heart stopped! Are you okay!?"

"Who.....knows....."

I feel that I have suffered some grievous wounds.

My whole body seriously hurts, it would be too troublesome to stand up.

In her human form Firo and Melty come from the carriage.

"What terrible wounds.....Hurry come over here."

One of the treatment team members see Firo's burnt limbs and calls her over.

However, Firo doesn't want to leave my side to receive their treatment because she is worried about my wounds.

"But, Master is....."

"It's alright Firo, Naofumi-sama will be cured by these people. Go have your wounds healed."

Raphtalia gently strokes Firo's head and whispers in an anxious voice.

"But....."

"Naofumi-sama would hate to see Firo getting a scar because of him."

Will you listen, Firo? She stares at me while tilting her neck.

Can't be helped. Normally being so selfish and carefree, to be so anxious for my sake.

"I'll be fine, so go over there."

I squeeze out some instructions for Firo. When Firo reluctantly left to receive healing the treatment member nodded at me.

The treatment team use different recovery magic that seems to be effective against the curse.

"What a strong curse!....."

Mutters one of the healers.

Yeah, this is certainly a strong curse.

It literally says Curse Series.

Since it's very effective, the price for using it is equally as high, such as directly receiving the curse myself.

It is very different from a mere spell.

"Prepare for Group Synthesis Magic [Sanctuary]"

Are you going to use that to remove the rest of Self-Curse Burning?

They aren't believers of the Three Heroes Church right? Then What religion are they following?

It does not seem to be the Shield religion.

As I think about such things my eyelids become heavy and it starts getting dark.

"Naofumi-sama!"

"Naofumi!"

Raphtalia and Melty shake me awake.

"Yeah? What's wrong?"

"Please stay conscious properly."

"What are you saying, it's like you think I died."

Well, in this situation I certainly might die.

Though I have no intention to die in such a place, I am tired in various ways.

I want to sleep.....just a little.

But, I can't sleep yet. We are still far from the safety zone.

However, I am unable to do anything in my present state.

In that case.....

"Raphtalia, if something happens run away with Melty on Firo."

"Understood. But I will be taking Naofumi-sama too. So no matter what, please wake up."

"Okay. I'll just sleep a little..... if anything happens wake me up."

During this exchange a memory appears.

..... I remember it.

The story where Raphtalia still looked like a child and would always cry and scream at night.

Raphtalia had to be ordered to do everything back then.

"My bad. It looks like there's no breakfast this time."

".....It's fine. Because, this time I'll defend Naofumi-sama while you sleep.

(TI Note: Referring to where Raphtalia was crying and screaming at night by the river and Naofumi defended her all night from monsters)

After the conversation was over my consciousness went blank and I started dreaming.

It has been two days since then.

"Ugh.....Heavy."

"Su.....Su....."

"Munya.....Master~"

"Heavy.....Help.....Firo-chan....."

When I awake I see Raphtalia, Firo, and Melty all on my bed.

"What the hell is this! Get up!"

I wake the three of them up immediately and scold them.

Instead of them looking down, all three of them smiled.

I was told that I got urgently rushed to receive treatment in Melromarc Castle.

The curse caused by Blutopfer was very serious, and even specialized curse treatments couldn't remove it completely.

When I ask how to cure it, the answer I got was it cannot be cured by magic or medicine. It seems that the only way to cure it is through time.

But the burns and scratches were healed and my physical fitness has recovered, I just feel lethargic.

When I check my stats, everything except defence dropped by 30%.
It seems until Blutopfer's curse is cured completely they will stay debuffed.
This is the price which I paid for meddling in troublesome things.

"So how long till I recover?"

"The rough estimate is a month for complete recovery."

A month huh.....that's long.

Will it happen before the wave?

That reminds me, I was unable to go to Silt Welt after all.

For the purpose of Raphtalia and Firo's class up, we ended up in a strange position.

"How is your condition?"

While I was lamenting about the absurdity of the world, the queen came over and asked about my condition.

I do some stretches to show my body's condition.

"....."

I feel that I can trust her a little since she gave instructions for my treatment even while I was unconscious.

The queen also asked the treatment team at the hospital how I was doing.

"I see. Then could you follow me?"

"Where are we going?"

"We are going to the castle."

The queen produces her fan and hides her face, generating a strange pressure.

"Mother is scary when she's angry....."

Melty hides behind my back and starts trembling.

I feel an unpleasant atmosphere, is that anger?

"Are you going to execute me?"

"I will do no such thing. Iwatani-sama."

I feel her smiling as the atmosphere changes.

Does the fact that I wasn't attacked in my sleep mean this is safe?

"I just think Iwatani-sama would like to witness what will happen. Hohoho."

"What do you intend to do?"

"Please come to the castle, I'm sure you will enjoy it. There are various things I need to talk to you about as well, shall I answer everything Iwatana-sama asks after that?"

It seems the queen has created a situation where I have no choice but to go to the castle.

She is necessary for me to prove my innocent, so there is no way I can refuse.

Well there is no reason to decline for now.

"I want to ask one thing."

"I would like to talk after we arrive at the castle but.....what is it?"

"You.....Did you send Melty to me so she would get involved in this incident?"

This is the problem I am worried about most.

Depending on the answer there is a possibility that all the heroes will be rounded up at the castle and gotten rid of, all according to the queen's plan.

".....That concern is only a baseless fear. Would that be the correct answer?"

"Eh!?"

Melty trembling while staring at her mother.

"Melty didn't say it, but she wanted to meet her father so much that she couldn't sleep at night. So I let her be selfish and meet him."

Meeting that trash. I was feeling uneasy when I thought the queen sent Melty to meet him.

" There is nothing to worry about. When such a thing happened I told shadow my ideas."

"Idea?"

"Yes, I entrusted Melty to the Hero of the Shield, if he tried to murder her then he would have been arrested."

The queen snaps her fingers.

Suddenly a group of assassins appear.

"What an annoying story."

".....I apologize to have troubled you. However, I think a lot of problems have been solved."

"That's not it. What would you have done if Melty died!?"

I cannot hide my sympathy for Melty as she looks down sadly.

"There were always two bodyguards following her and supporting Iwatani-sama in various ways."

"I see....."

"For example, the one knight who tried to assassinate her."

One of the shadows transforms into the shape of a knight, just like that anime with the phantom thief!

"Villager."

One of the villagers who helped us in village to the east.

"Merchant from neighbouring country."

Even the guys from the neighbouring country that thanked me.....

Certainly, it was strange for a person from the neighbouring country to show up there.

"I'll explain the circumstances later. Do you still doubt me even after the shadow appeared when Melty was truly in danger?"

That reminds me..... a shadow did appear when the Church ambushed us. However, that was a really dangerous situation so I couldn't think straight. Firo and I were the only ones able to nullify the Three Heroes Church shadow's poison.....

"Mother..... did you know I might have been killed?"

"It was a possibility."

Melty hangs her head when the queen answers flatly.

well, as expected of the parent of bitch and wife of trash. Quite suitable to being a bad person.

"Are you people really parents?"

"I cannot argue about that even if I am one. There are a lot of lies that can be told.....Let's see. Do you understand what it takes to be queen of such a country for years?"

Well.....Even if I impeach I don't understand.

This fellow. I can only agree that she is trash's wife.

"But.....I believed in Iwatani-sama. Is that a suitable answer?"

".....Coward."

"Otherwise I cannot protect this country."

"Hah.....Wouldn't it be better if you didn't arrive?"

"Naofumi-sama!?"

Raphtalia speaks anxiously.

"It seems you are unable to refute it. I won't spread it. In the first place, if we were enemies I would not have received treatment."

"Yes, certainly, I think you would want to be present for what is about to happen."

If we share a mutual interest, then there would be no problems in lending a hand.

I don't know what you are after, but if necessary I will use the Wrath Shield again.

"I brought the carriage of the holy bird here. Let's return with the luggage."

"Really!?"

At the queen's words Firo steps forwards.

"Yes of course. It's in front of the hospital, please confirm it."

"Yay~! Mel-chan! Let's go!"

"Okay!"

Firo and Melty run out of the room together.

She really loves that carriage huh.

After watching the both of them run off, I stare at the queen.

"I feel disgusted."

Although I have received some goodwill, I do not know her real intentions. The queen antagonized the Three Heroes Church, and furthermore treated the devil of the shield favourably, I wish to know why.

I can't even think of a reason.

I do not believe in some noble reason such as fighting the wave together. Or is there still information that I am lacking?

"I have a goal. I will use any means necessary to achieve it. Although the way we go about things is different, I believe I have the same feelings as Iwatani-sama."

Similar feelings as me.....

I don't know why, but I feel that I somewhat understand.

After coming to this world, I have experienced various things.

At least this person is talking to me as an equal.

"I will follow your instructions for now."

"I am grateful. Iwantani-sama."

After obtaining my consent, the queen smiles.

The smile has a strong will mixed in.

"Auckley.....Malty..... This isn't over yet....."

(TI note: Auckley = trashking for those who forgot.)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 75 - Sermon

---

Trash: "Oh! Malty and Melty! It's great that you defeated the shield and came back. Why is Malty tied up and gagged?"

The queen entered the castle with Melty and Bitch first to issue orders. The other Heroes followed after.

Those three didn't like that I was leading the way. Though they cannot complain since the queen grandly declared in the latest incident, I was the one who contributed the most.

Firo pulled the carriage that we all rode in, and the queen informed the three heroes of the situation.

The pope's death still hasn't spread within the castle town yet, the Three Heroes Church is still active and that preventative measures have already been taken.

All parties concerned are currently being captured and transported.

Queen: "It is noisy when you talk. Can you shut it?"

Declares the queen as she briskly enters the room.

I can hear some extremely angry sounds from here.

As soon as I arrived behind the queen, trash's face distorts in anger.

Trash: "Why is he here!? Execute him at once!"

Queen: "I won't let you!"

The queen's authority is above Trash's so the Imperial guardsmen don't move.

Trash: "Grr. That queen is an imposter! Arrest them!"

Queen: "You……Mistaking me for…… Can't be helped then."

Queen: "I am the queen who commands the origin of power-"

Trash: "Wha!? This aria-"

Queen: "I have read and deciphered a law of nature. Restrain him with ice!"

Trash's whole body is frozen in a cage of ice.

He tries to talk to the queen but his voice doesn't pass through the cage.

Queen: "Seriously…… When did you become so foolish?"

As she closes her fan the cage of ice disappears.

Trash: "That amount of magical power, and quality, you are certainly this one's wife! What on earth happened!?"

Trash asks the queen with disbelief.

Trash: "Did the shield possibly-!?"

Are you just going to pin any bad thing that happens on to me!?

Stop it.

This is why I didn't want to come to the castle…

Queen: "That's not it. Seriously, do you actually believe that Hero of the Shield-sama has that power?..... Foolishness."

The queen approaches the king and — slaps him on the cheek.

Dumbfounded, the trash takes a few steps back while trembling, and for some reason glares at me.

Queen: "This is not Iwatani-sama's fault, I have already said this a while ago."

Trash: "Urgh!"

He was slapped again.

Just as the trash was about to retort, the queen gave him another slap.

Queen: "Listen to me, you dared to disregard my order of not abusing your power and discriminating the hero while I'm outside the country!? Do you want a war!?"

Trash: "But, But he—"

Queen: "There are no buts! It is necessary to work together to prepare for the wave, and you are supposed to help with that!"

The queen scolds trash severely to the point that he is not allowed to object. The purpose of this is to show that all the heroes are equal.

Queen: "Well then, let us reintroduce ourselves. I am the queen of Melromarc, Mirelia Q MelroMarc. I hope you all will take care of me."

Itsuki: "Ah……Yeah."

Ren: "Same here……please."

Motoyasu: "Wow……amazing"

The other heroes all express their thoughts.

They are completely dumbfounded.

Queen: "Hero of the Shield-sama, I would like to request a little of your time later today."

Naofumi: "For what?"

Queen: "Let us chat over a meal. Hero-samas except Iwatani-sama please rest in the guest room."

Motoyasu: "What about Mein?"

Motoyasu asks while looking worryingly at the bitch, but she is being held down and unable to talk.

Queen: "We'll be having a little conversation about her standing in the country. Depending on the circumstances you may get another companion, please prepare accordingly."

Motoyasu: "O-Okay……"

Thanks to the queen's attitude, the other heroes were driven out of the throne room.

All that's remaining is Raphtalia, Firo, Melty, and I.

Trash: "Fu……"

The trash breathes a sigh of relief as he just shown the other heroes an unsightly scene.

Queen: "What's with the "Fu……" Huh!? Our talk isn't over yet!"

Trash: "This one is not wrong! This is entirely the shield's fault!"

Bitch: "That's right!"

The bitch's restraints were removed and she stands by trash.

So noisy.

Bitch: "Mama! I was raped by that devil over there!"

Queen: "And what's wrong with that?"

Bitch: "What's wrong with that!? Mama, that was my first time! Does that mean nothing to you!?"

Queen: "You were a virgin? Did you think I wasn't aware? You already lost your virginity."

Oh, so she wasn't a virgin from the start?

Now that I think about it, pinning a rape accusation on me as she acted like a small fry adventurer, even if the princess declared that she was raped……

Since the Hero of the Spear saved her, it was at best an attempt, but rumours about me already spread.

The woman adventurer who the Hero of the spear saved, did he even notice she was being treated like a princess in society?

Either way, the bitch turned out to be an outrageous whore.

This is the best.

Bitch: "H-How do you know!?"

Queen: "You're thinking I had no idea about your affairs, is downright presumptuous. In the first place, if you were actually in a relationship with Hero of the Shield Iwatani-sama, then you might still be saved……"

The queen turns her gaze at me for an instant.

Me? With this goddamn bitch?

Naofumi: "Don't joke around!"

Queen: "Then I won't pursue. I expect it with Melty."

A bomb was just dropped.

Trash: "What are you saying!? Cute Melty is still young!"

Naofumi: "Seriously!"

It pains me to have the same opinion as the trash, but being in a relationship with Melty is a little……

I haven't fallen so low that I would want to be in a relationship with a child.

Melty: "That's right! What are you saying!"

Firo: "What are you talking about-"

Melty: "Firo-chan does not need to know!"

Well, I'll just leave this alone.

Queen: "Refused! Melty will marry Hero of the Shield Iwatani-sama."

Trash: "What did you say……!"

Queen: "Do you really understand? There are very little opportunities as perfect as this one to befriend old enemies, and what did you do?"

Trash: "What do you mean?"

I also understand.

Silt Welt probably believes in the Hero of the Shield. That would make them this country's arch-nemesis.

If the object of faith, Hero of the Shield, marries a woman of Melromarc and is a saint here.

Something like that happening will greatly improve relations between the two countries, and they may even become allies.

The situation would be perfect if the Hero of the Shield also has a child under these circumstances.

There would be no chance that they could become enemies after that.

Naofumi: "Unfortunately it is already too late."

Queen: "You think so?.....Melty, do you best for Hero of the Shield Iwatani-sama."

Melty: "N-no!"

At the queen's proposal of a political marriage, Melty refuses and blushes a deep red.

Well, it would be unpleasant to be married for politics at this age.

Of course, I won't take any actions to let this country prosper.

Just give it up on this.

Queen: "Oh? I heard from the shadow that Melty might have a chance."

Naofumi: "She had bad eyesight."

Melty: "Mu……"

Naofumi: "What. Oh…… did you hate having been seen as a child?"

What a troublesome age.

Queen: "It seems there is still some hope left. How about it? Melty will be the queen in the future. Won't it be good to break this country from the inside with a puppet?"

Naofumi: "In that case I would have been made your puppet. More than anything, I do not wish to remain in the world."

Queen: "There are no problems then…… Just get Melty pregnant with Iwatani-sama's child."

……What an unpleasant thing to say.

In short, I can only return to my original world if I father a child as the Hero of the Shield with the royal family.

Indeed, this would be very effective for diplomacy.

It's actually quite brilliant. Is this a manga?

Queen: "All the chances of having an incompetent daughter and husband are removed. It is good that Iwatani-sama is still single. You will win over an ally. If you domesticate her, then the next queen will be in the palm of your hands."

Bitch: "Who would be with someone so ugly!"

What does this bitch want?

Can't you guys just understand my viewpoint–

Raphtalia, Firo, and Melty: ""He is not ugly!""

Raphtalia, Firo, and Melty refuted all at once.

What is up with all of you?

Bitch: "What? I just stated the facts. You all being angry and retorting just makes it true."

Queen: "Let's see. The fact that you are not a virgin is also undisputed."

Bitch: "There is no evidence anywhere. Ask Motoyasu-sama. I was a virgin."

Queen: "No, I've known this a long time ago. Your speech and behaviour does not match. Malty, if you're going to lie at least make it believable.

Although you may be able to deceive the Hero of the Spear-sama, it is impossible for you to deceive me..... In the first place, you used your body to have your way since the old days--"

And so the queen begins a sermon on the bitch.

However, it's clear that the bitch isn't actually listening; in fact no one is actually listening.

It seems the queen's preaching has become a habit.

Queen: "When your younger sister was involved in a conspiracy, you not only took advantage of it without protecting her, but you even tried to dispose of her with the help of the church."

Eh?

The bitch wasn't taken advantage of by the church? Was it trash?

Perhaps, these two, are just stupid.....

Queen: "You probably thought you were going to be the next queen too."

Bitch: "N-No you're wrong!"

Well……based on her magic chant she certainly desired it. In her chant she actually called herself the queen.

The queen just announced that the next queen is -, and it was not Bitch, despite what she believes.

After hearing this I was momentarily lost for words.

Bitch: "It's a lie!"

Queen: "It is the undeniable truth."

Bitch: "……something so trivial, it doesn't even matter."

Wow… I just figured it out.

Even if you guys are corrupt you're still family. The queen is completely in control,

Queen: "Next Aultcray"

At her gaze the trash winces and backs up.

Queen: "What were you doing? Without investigating the truth, and throwing out the Hero of the Shield, who our country should specially protect……I am extremely disgusted. Where did the generosity of the old you that I fell in love with go?……"

Trash: "Th-That's because the shield is evil!"

Queen: "Malty was not raped. It was a farce. Now……what else do you have to say?"

Trash: "Grrr…… The shield is evil!"

It seems no matter what this trash will still see me as evil.

In this situation it's just pouring oil on fire though.

Queen: "Seriously……Where did all your wisdom go to……? You've completely change!"

The queen's veins are showing as she places her hand on her forehead.

Queen: "It seems you're not even going to defend yourself."

Bitch and trash both averted their gaze at that.

Well I understand that they're not going to apologize to me.

It's to be expected. Why did the queen have to show such a scene to me?

These guys aren't going to reflect on their actions.

Queen: "There is only one way to finish this, but that goes without saying."

The queen closes her fan and points at the both of them while declaring.

Queen: "I permanently deprive you two of the authority of the imperial family."

Trash: "What!?"

Bitch: "Ehh!?"

Trash and bitch both call out in surprise. It seems they don't understand just how heavy their crimes are.

This is reasonable.

Ah, this feeling is quite pleasant. I want to see more.

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama…… what are you laughing at?"

Naofumi: "You don't know?"

Raphtalia: "It's not like I don't understand, but it is rude……"

Melty: "Mother…… is serious."

Firo: "Hm-?"

Firo tilts her head. She is completely lost does not understand anything that is going on.

Well she is a bird. The only thing she thinks about is her carriage and food.

Trash: "Why!?"

Queen: "Because your actions greatly deviated from the range of your authority. If you're really sorry, beg Iwatani-sama for forgiveness somehow……"

Trash: "You will forgive me?"

Queen: "Maybe various bribes can help you consider."

Bribing huh……I am interested, today is turning out to be pretty good.

Bitch: "If I am no longer considered royal, what will happen to this country?!"

Queen: "There is Melty. She is far superior compared to you, so this country will prosper."

Well, it would obviously be much better if Melty succeeds as the queen, compared to bitch.

It seems she grew up a lot due to the latest incident.

Trash: "If this one stops being king then our allies will not remain silent."

Queen: "I have already silenced them; Did you think I was doing nothing for these 3 months? That's quite a large mistake."

Trash: "What-"

Trash is surprised to the point his voice stopped working. He just opens and closes his mouth.

Queen: "In the first place who gave you the authority to summon the Heroes? This talk is over."

Naofumi: ".....What do you mean?"

Queen: "Did Iwatani-sama not doubt it earlier? Why I the highest power in the country, not attend the hero summoning? I was out trying to improve diplomatic relations."

I certainly did wonder about that.

If this person was in charge of the Heroes summoning then things would have been a lot smoother.

We would have been manipulated and be utilized to our full potential.

At least, I was sure to have been easy to manipulate when I arrived in this world.

Maybe the queen would have somehow pushed Melty the second princess on me, and it might have been a political marriage masked as a love marriage.

Queen: "First of all there is a problem that needs to be addressed. This country..... was only 4th in line to summon the four holy Heroes, as designated by the world conference."

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 76 – Trash and Bitch

---

Naofumi: "Wait a second!"

An outrageous statement was just dropped.

Other countries can call heroes? There are turns?

Then that means this country did something crazy.

Naofumi: "Explain it in detail."

Queen: "Sure."

The queen's story is like this.

Damages from the wave were reported all over the world, there was a world conference and every country was represented by their king or queen. Of course there are countries that are on bad terms with each other, Melromarc and Silt Welt for example. There is a prophecy that states the world is facing its end, so their hostilities were put on hold, and the conference was complete.

During the conference, the country Melromarc was fourth in line to perform the summoning.

By the way, each hero summoning is only supposed to summon 1 Hero. In many cases, they do not even appear at all.

Of course, which hero summoned is determined by discussion with the other countries.

Naofumi: "So, how did this country manage to summon us?"

Queen:"During hero summons it is customary to use a holy relic. A time and ceremony is then decided upon according to the summoning....."

It seems the Three Heroes Church took advantage of when the queen was absence to summon the four holy heroes.

Queen:" The Three Heroes Church is a religion that has deep roots within this country, but from what I know they were very conservative. Therefore, I overlooked this unexpectedly big plan."

Naofumi:"That is quite the problem, is it not?"

To gather all the heroes are supposed to save the world in one place.

Queen:"Yes.....That lead to a lot of criticism from other countries. It was the problem I was taking care of."

Naofumi:"What were you thinking, leaving the country to a fellow who might have caused a war."

There was a big problem. The person entrusted with responsibility is horrible.

Trash:"What are you implying!"

Queen:"Silence!"

Trash shuts up after the queen's thundering roar.

Queen:"It was not a problem before. Before the waves even started I was involved in diplomacy, our domestic affairs were also excellent, and I left the country to the one I trusted as my right-hand man but....."

Naofumi:"But?"

Queen:"He died during the wave.....That person was respected by demi-humans too....."

Quite unlucky.....So is that why all that was left trash and some other useless guys?

.....As expected, that level of incompetency was unnatural.

Right now the posts within the country need new and talented personnel, otherwise things will remain the same.

Worst case was trash having all the power, and those around him never speaking up due to fear. This was such a place.

Trash:"The truth is, it just came to me to perform the hero summons, and as a matter of fact all of the heroes appeared!"

The queen slaps trash.

Trash:"Fuguu--"

Yeah, it would be weird if she wasn't extremely angry after returning to her country and finding a mountain of problems.

Queen:"Even though it was foolish I had to depend on my successor because of a useless husband like you! When he died an unnatural death you didn't even investigate. The culprit was the Three Heroes Church!"

Trash:"Gufu!"

Queen:"Furthermore, the day right after the heroes were summoned you framed the Hero of the Shield! At least doubt the conspiracy a bit!"

Trash:"Guha!"

Queen:"And yet, I even told you not to discriminate against the Hero of the shield! do you understand that those actions could have caused a war!?"

Trash:"Geho!"

Queen:"And during the end of the second wave, you intentionally tried to take away Hero of the shield's slave, which I had to arrange through a lot of trouble!"

What!?

What did she just say?

Naofumi:" Wait a minute, you set up my meeting with Raphtalia?"

Queen:"I'll explain later. Right now I'm dealing with this guy."

Uwa.....she snapped.

Queen:"While you were acting beyond your authority the nobles started planning behind your back to take power. A riot started in Silt Welt, and Shirudo Furiden started preparing for war!"

Somehow.....I sympathize with the queen.

The people you can rely on within the country are all dead and you are protecting the country alone against other countries that might attack. Amazing. I wonder what she had to go through to talk like that.

This hysteria, I only thought it was possible for women in their early twenties hitting their husbands.

I mean..... She is the mother of Bitch and Melty. Yet still looks so young.

Queen:"To cap it all off Melty wanted to selfishly meet you! I was at the limits of my patience. Therefore I set a trap!"

Trash:"Wh-What did you say!?"

Queen:"Did you even investigate the events happening around you? I let you dispatch a large amount of soldiers for emergencies! That was the start of this whole incident!"

The queen declares during her outburst.

Queen:" The Three Heroes Church is a heretical religion! Melromarc's religion is the Four Saint Faith!"

Trash:"Wh-What did you say!? That tradition was abandoned since the start of this country!"

Queen:"There are heretical religions that have no value and cause nothing but problems!"

Four Saints Faith?

Naofumi:" What is that?"

Melty:" A religion believing in the Four Saint Heroes equally."

Melty explains.

Well, now that I think about it, there should be a lot of countries that believe in the legend of the Four Heroes who saved the world.

Melty: "Even though originally the Three Heroes Church were an extremist faction that split from the Four Saints Faith.....I would explain more but I would need to start from the beginning of this country."

Naofumi: "I see....."

If Silt Welt has a religion following the shield, then it should be natural for other countries to believe in all four.

In other words, Melromarc's dispute with Silt Welt is over the Hero of the Shield being hated.

The other country believes in the devil of the shield, and our religion is correct, did that lead to the Three Heroes Church's creation?

Where was the royal family in all of this?

Queen: "Fu....."

After slapping and abusing trash for a while, the queen covers her lips with her fan and turns to me with a refreshed look.

Queen: "There are various things about Iwatani-sama's actions.....that I want to talk about it later."

Naofumi: "I'll pass..... I would rather not hear those heroic tales."

Queen: "It is necessary to hear it. Because Iwatani-sama has also caused a lot of problems."

Uh..... I wonder what they are. I would rather not hear it.

To be frank, ever since coming here I did a few bad things

Of course I am not going to reflect on it, and I do not intend to.

Queen:" For example, that incident at the demon dealer's with your demon."

Naofumi:"Hmm....."

Queen:"That uproar at the bar."

To know about so much.

Queen:" I wonder who covered it up before my husband heard."

Naofumi:"Do I get a lecture too? It's regrettable, but I am not like this guy."

Queen:" No way..... I only want you to listen."

Naofumi:" I do not think what I did was wrong either."

Queen:"I guess. Though I was able to relax a bit while staying in foreign countries thanks to your efforts. That isn't the problem."

Naofumi:"Hrmm....."

Queen:" For the time being, there a plenty of things before your punishment."

Trash and Bitch turn very pale.

It's the end of their road.

Queen:" Are you dissatisfied?"

Trash:" O-of course!"

Bitch:"That's right! Mama! I'm not to blame!"

Queen:".....Wasn't our parent and child relationship cut a little while ago? I literally disowned you. Go somewhere else.....No, pay for your crimes in the country."

The queen almost expelled her on impulse, but stopped halfway.

A sheet of paper with an amount of money written on it was handed to the bitch. The bitch turned even paler than a little while ago.

Bitch must have been spending money carelessly due to her social standing.

Bitch: "This is not an amount of money I can pay!"

Queen: "That is the price demanded from you from the guild. Trying to steal it from the treasury without permission.....You think I wouldn't notice? you will serve this country as a slave from now on....."

Bitch: "That's unreasonable!"

Queen: "If you hate it then save the world along with the heroes. I'll think about it if you play an active role."

The queen silences Bitch, and then looks at Trash.

Queen: "Why are you looking at me like I'm a different person!? You changed too, Aultcray."

Trash bends backwards.

Truthfully, there is no way this guy can go against the queen.

He should have acted more tactfully.

Queen: "Fight as a commander at the front line of this country against the wave, or lose your position and become an adventurer."

Trash: "Ku.....My wife, My queen. This one was swindled. Have mercy."

Bitch: "That's right. Mama, please postpone your judgement."

Queen:"Both your mercy and postponement are both over already.....Oh, I have a good method."

The queen beckons me over.

I stepped forwards and waited.

Queen:" Iwatani-sama, what kind of punishment do you want to give these two? You have the right to choose."

Naofumi:" Death! Capital Punishment!"

I answered almost on reflex. I must hate them unconsciously as well.
Honestly, other than killing no other choice exists for me.
This grudge of mine can't even be solved with death.

Trash:"Gunu! You Bastard--"

Bitch:" Stop joking around--"

The queen raises her hand and silences the two.

Queen:"Really..... you will be satisfied with just killing?"

The queen suspiciously wraps her magic around me.
A chill runs up my spine.Annoying..... I instinctively realise who I am dealing with.

Queen:"Assuming you kill them. They would be released from whatever torment or fun you would have with them, for just a moment's of satisfaction."

Naofumi:"You.....No, keep talking."

Queen:" Killing them is too half-hearted. If a dog is useful, you stroke it affectionately, keeping them tamed till death."

To act so cold despite them being relatives.....

Queen:"Please think of this as my last feelings for them."

Naofumi:"Yeah..... So that's how it is."

Basically, besides murder and forgiving, I will grant you anything else.

Queen:"Originally the authority of the country is with the queen, but following the scandal of the Three Heroes Church, the royal family's position is being questioned by foreign countries."

Naofumi:" Crucifying two incompetents would persuade the foreign countries wouldn't it?"

Trash:"Shieeeeeld.....You bastaaaard.....!"

The queen ignores trash's howling.

Queen:" Normally that would be the case. But, that does not apply to Aultcray."

Naofumi:"Why not?"

Queen:"He is a fool now, but he was amazing back in the day..... since his name is well-known outside the country, settling this by killing him is impossible....."

I don't know what this trash did, but I understand the situation.

He is too well-known.

In the first place, I thought he had too much power for such an incompetent king.

Was it due to his past actions? It seems those concerned will not stay silent.

It would be extremely interesting to look down on such a man who has been deprived of all his past glory and dragged through the mud.

Naofumi:" I understand. I'll listen to your plan,"

Queen:"I am grateful."

Naofumi:" However, I wish for these two to taste hell on earth. That is the minimum condition."

Queen:"Yes, of course..... Then what punishment would you like to start with?"

It's a good idea..... I shouldn't kill them.

Naofumi:" I'd like to start by pulling off their hands and feet....."

I see the look in Raphtalia's eyes and think about it again.

Although I have every right to do this, even I think that might be a little too far.

.....What should I do? Something that would break them.....

Still I don't want to miss this chance that has finally appeared.

Raphtalia:".....Naofumi-sama."

The bitch holds both hands in front of her and starts crying.

Wow, what a performance. If I didn't know how she truly was I would have been deceived.

I'm quite sure she approached Motoyasu with this face.

I mean, when I was summoned she was the first one to approach me.

Raphtalia:" Stop acting foolish, and please stop with this revenge. Revenge only produces more vengeance. Naofumi-sama please endure it here. If possible, be more considerate for the queen."

.....

.....

.....

.....Sigh.....

"I guess so....."

That day, messengers on Philorials ran around the country of Melromarc, reporting to every village and every town.

Messengers:"Due to taking responsibility for recent events, king Aultcray Melromarc and Princess Malty, have changed their names to Trash and Bitch forever! Anybody caught speaking the wrong names will be severely punished!"

In every signboard in every city, every town, and every village, a similar letter was posted.

Everybody who saw or heard this message, regardless of social position all reacted the same.

""""What!?""""

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 77 - Dogeza

---

Trash:"Who would endure something like that!?"

Bitch:"Only a devil would do something like this!"

Bitch's face distorts terribly in anger.

Wow~ so refreshing. I did not think such a moment would be possible.

Naofumi"Hahahahaha! I wanted to see that face!"

Trash:"Bastard-----!"

The names Trash and Bitch's have become official.

Naofumi:" Revenge only gives birth to vengeance..... You should endure. It is a splendid phrase. You should practice it.....Bitch."

Bitch:"Shut up! I will absolutely never forgive you!"

She tried to attack me, but the queen's assistants hold her down.

Queen:"Since Bitch can use a pseudonym as an adventurer. What do you wish to call her there?"

Naofumi:"Whore"

Queen:" Then that will be her adventurer name from now on. Other than those two names, you can not use anything else."

Bitch:"I'll kill you! Once there's a chance I'll murder you without fail!"

Wow, even faced with such killing intent, other than feeling refreshed I feel nothing else.

Oh well!

Naofumi: "Hahaha! Try it if you can. If you put a hand on me it will be capital punishment!"

Queen: "Yes, so you have been deprived of that right."

I see, if it was me who executed a part of the royal family then it would undermine the queen's dignity and authority, so she deprived me of the privilege. Well it's that sort of thing.

Naofumi: "This is so refreshing!"

Queen: "Now then, there is something that I wish to get Iwatani-sama's co-operation with."

Naofumi: "What is it?"

Queen: "During the last incident, didn't Iwatani-sama ask Trash to prostrate himself for an explanation?"

The queen's shadows and knights forced both Bitch and Trash on to their knees.

Bitch: "Stop it! Who do you think I am--"

Trash: "That's right! This one is--"

Queen: "Aren't the both of you just an adventurer and a general?"

(TInote: 冒険者と将軍 Shogun is for Itsuki, so I changed it to general.)

The queen suppresses their complaints by informing them of their place.

Queen: "Prostrate yourselves."

Trash:"What, My queen!This one is--Stop it--This one will not bow! This one will never bow! nuooooooooooooo!"

Bitch:" Stop joking around! I will never kneel for this bastard! Iyaaaaaaaaa"

Trash and Bitch were surrounded by several people, forced to prostrate themselves, and their heads are being rubbed against the ground.
A shadow in between the both of them speaks.

Shadow:"Go ahead-"

Trash:"Nuooooooooooooo!"

Bitch:"Aaaaaaaaaaaaaah!"

Trash and Bitch are yelling extremely loudly.

Queen:" Shut them up!"

On the queens orders clothes are used to gag Bitch and Trash.

Trash:"Fumuuuuuuuuuu!"

Bitch:"Muuuuuuuuuuu!"

They are violently resisting with everything they have, but they are outnumbered and overpowered.

Shadow:"Please, Hero of the Shield-sama! Lend us your power!"

Shadow#2:"Hero of the Shield-sama, please fight for this country!"

Their voices are imitated by a shadow and such phrases were spoken.

Queen:" How was that?"

Naofumi:" How was that you ask....."

Being asked like that while watching them kneeling on the ground by force..... It is extremely refreshing, but.....

Although it is refreshing, the request is a little.....

Queen:"Maybe if you step on their heads?"

Naofumi:" Oh!"

Oh damn, I didn't even think of that.

Raphtalia:"Naofumi-sama"

I ignore Raphtalia's voice and trample on the Trash and Bitch's head.

Maybe Raphtalia wants me to be a hero that everyone respects.

It is regrettable, but I am part of the commoners.

It would be troublesome to be misunderstood as a saint. Well, where would you find a commoner stepping on the head of a king?

But I don't understand Raphtalia. This degree of punishment is nothing compared to the humiliation I suffered.

So, at least give me this much.

By the way, I did not stop even though Raphtalia called out.

There was a time I thought Raphtalia was another Bitch as well.

There is no reason to support Trash and Bitch, they have been agonizing us until now. This is natural.

Trash:"Muuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuu!"

Bitch:"Fumooooooooooooooooooooo!"

Regardless of how much Trash and Bitch are being suppressed and humiliated, they are still resisting.

After a while Trash quieted down so he was released.

Somehow.....He has the eyes of a raped woman, in his eyes there are tears overflowing.

Just how much were you humiliated by bowing to me?

Bitch is still resisting.

Queen:"Oh my, this amount of torture should be about enough don't you think?"

The queen raises her hand and gives instructions.

Queen:"Pick them up and throw them out of the throne room."

Shadows&Knights:"""Yes Ma'am!"""

Both of them were thrown out.

Whoa, that was a sight to see.

Besides Firo who seems happy..... Raphtalia and Melty look at me with strained expressions, I feel that my evaluation may have dropped.

They don't voice their complaints, but I can understand that I may have gone overboard.

Queen:"Anyway, in order to request the co-operation of Iwatani-sama I gave them this punishment."

Naofumi:"Well....."

There is no reason to decline since so much was already done.

Against someone who can make their family do something like this, it is impossible to refuse. It's my own fault.

Queen:"First of all, did you have something you wanted to ask?"

Naofumi:"I want to ask about the Hero summoning and Four Saints Faith, the story of the legendary heroes and history of this country, how you arranged Raphtalia's purchase, and the reason you never showed yourself until now."

There are still some other things I wish to ask, but this is generally it.

Queen:"I see. Then, shall I tell you the story concerning the legendary Heroes?"

The queen began her talk.

Queen:"The story of the four holy heroes is a favourite of mine. Though it differs for every country."

Naofumi:"How is it different?"

Queen:"I think Iwatani-sama already has a vague idea right?"

At the queen's question I nod.

Queen:"You are already aware that in this country there is no story about the Hero of the shield. They were deliberately erased.

Naofumi:".....I see.

In that book I read before being summoned to this world, the shield was mentioned but not described among the four holy weapons.

I thought that was a story based on when I arrived to this world.....That book may be describing the legend of this country.

Queen:"A great achievement that the Hero of the Shield accomplished was mediating between humans and demi-humans, but that was omitted. As a result, the other heroes had a hostile relationship with him.

I see, does that mean the shield will be trusted by the demi-humans unconditionally, because he was their ally?

Queen:" As you can see, our country's principle is human supremacy, you already know how demi-humans are treated here."

Naofumi:".....Yeah"

I have been in this country for more than three months, I am aware that demi-humans are this country's slave labour.

Queen:" Due to such circumstances, we have very bad relations with Silt Welt. Our countries have been fighting for a long time."

The country with demi-human absolutism, Silt Welt. These countries are like oil and water."

Certainly, making peace with them would be ideal.

Queen:"by the way, Iwatani-sama, the religion in Silt Welt is also a sect of the Four Saints Faith, and they believe in only the Hero of the Shield."

Naofumi:"I roughly guessed it, but that seems to actually be the case huh."

Queen:" Yes.....Now then, I'm sure Iwatani-sama understands how the Three Heroes Church came to be....."

Silt Welt and Melromarc are oil and water. Both have religions branched off from the Four Saints Faith, divided to the Three Heroes church and Shield Religion.

According to the Queen's story, they have been fighting for a long time. That means.....

Naofumi:"So I was summoned right in the middle of enemy territory."

I see, I can only accept it.

It would certainly be troublesome if the enemy's Hero was being treated as a saint here.

In the Three Heroes Church, the Hero of the Shield is written to be brutal and treacherous.

Even in my world religion is the same. Every other god apart from yours is the devil.

It's quite a common thing.

Did trash participate in the war against Silt Welt? Is that why he looked at me with such hostility?

Queen:"Now, returning to the story. When the wave was upon us, the conference of every country in the world agreed. Heroes needed to be summoned."

The queen was in another country attending the world conference as Melromarc's representative, and it was decided they would be fourth to perform the hero summoning.

The legendary heroes are traditionally summoned by the most powerful countries, hero summons were supposed to be performed in Foburei.

(TInote: フォーブレイ <= If anyone has a better name let me know.)

I do not know how many were summoned. However, whichever country succeeds in summoning them will get a big lead on other countries.

However, the four legendary heroes did not respond to the summons.

As a result of an investigation, it was found out that a holy relic was required to summon the Four legendary heroes, and Melromarc unexpectedly summoned them.

It was even news to the Queen. Ignoring the order in which the world decided, and to use a holy relic for the summons.

Queen:"Let's omit my struggles and just clarify that after a long investigation it was found out that all of this was caused by the recklessness of the Three Heroes Church."

Naofumi:" I can only sympathize."

Queen:" I appreciate it."

Naofumi:"So what holy relic was used?"

Queen:"At first glance, what used was just a metal fragment. But no matter how much we try, we cannot understand it....."

Naofumi:"In other words, the reason we were summoned here is because of that holy relic?"

Queen:" Yes....."

If the summoning here failed would the holy relic be used in some other country until it succeeds?

Queen:"And so the biggest problem is, the four legendary heroes were summoned here by that holy relic."

Naofumi:".....Were only four people summoned?"

Queen:"Yes.....Therefore, that relic has become the most important item."

Naofumi:"If it is such a huge problem, did the other countries blame this one?"

Queen:" After I negotiated.....not likely. Iwatani-sama and the other heroes are greatly related in this. It would be a good idea to have a talk with them after this."

Naofumi:" Then why did the Three Heroes Church not just kill me and be done with it?"

Queen:"It is necessary to keep you alive to avoid war. They would have hope you died in a wave.....Probably."

Indeed, that is the world's enemy so the blame won't fall on the Three Heroes Church.

Naofumi:" Were they waiting for the other heroes to get stronger?"

Queen:" That also may be the case."

If I was murdered immediately there would be war. Was it because they could not cheat the other three heroes when we just got summoned?

Queen:" Well the other Hero-samas are a bit..... They do not understand the consequences of their actions."

Naofumi:" Yeah, I figured."

Those guys still believe this is a game. Only doubting visible evil and not doubting their friends.

Queen:"Of course, there were others who acted as well. There have been large quantities of invitations from each country, particularly for Iwatani-sama. There were also plenty of donations towards the heroes. But you rejected all of them."

Naofumi:"What!?"

What the heck is she saying?

Queen:"Don't you have the memory of having done so yourself? It was on the third day you were summoned....."

Naofumi:"What?"

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 7B – Agreement

---

I recall the third day I was summoned.

During that time I was doubting everyone after that false accusation.

Moreover, I was getting tired of people trying to deceive me by pretending to be friendly.

.....Eh?

Was there a chance that one of them actually wanted to be friends?

Everything back then that sounded good to me was just a lie for people to get close.....

Naofumi:"Do not concern yourselves with me!"

There were even some people who saluted and said he understood.....

Eh?

Then does that mean I drove away everyone from Silt Welt because I told them not to concern themselves with me!?

Because I keep rejecting people.....?

Shiiiiiiiiiiiiit!

I drop on my knees and hug my head.

Queen:" As expected, I was also troubled. Moreover, Iwatani-sama was causing problems and crimes in a various places."

Naofumi:"Urgg....."

The queen was thinking of me like that. The reproach in her voice was severe.

Queen:" Well there were situations solved that were thanks to you, so I'll overlook it."

Naofumi:".....What do you mean?"

Queen:"You see, the heroes acted in order to remove the bad from this country."

If looking at the results they would be successes.

Queen:" Iwatani-sama was crucial in solving the problems the other heroes caused."

The other heroes caused problems, and I was the fire-man going around the country putting out their fires.

Queen:" After the Three Heroes Church lost power, We are asking for co-operation with the Four Saints Faith to right the lies they spread about you."

The Three Heroes Church sure didn't choose their methods.

Naofumi:"What about the other heroes?"

Queen:"As for the Spear, Bitch was with him, sword, and bow seem to have been misled by false information from the guild."

Did they just trust whatever they heard first.....?

Well, if the evidence they had to work with was little, it would make sense.
Though if it were me, I would just refuse the burden.
But since I don't know, I cannot judge.

Naofumi: "Then next, Raphtalia..... did you have the slave trader show me her?"

Queen: "The more correct answer would be I gave instructions to a shadow.
I do not know what kind of person this slave trader is."

That reminds me, that fellow didn't talk to me like it was our first meeting.

Slave Trader: "There was a customer who wanted to enslave a hero. So I intended to approach Hero-sama with that open possibility, but I've changed my mind. Yup."

Those were the words that guy said on our first meeting.
Wanting a hero as a slave. It's funny that such a person exists in this country.

Queen: "I heard the details. Please recall and think carefully. Do you think you can buy a slave with merely 20 pieces of silver?"

Naofumi: "Well.....I don't think so."

considering the condition she was in I was not suspicious about the price, though I didn't actually check the price of any other slaves.
It is doubtful that the wolf-man's would have been sold to me for its actual price.
It seems compared to other shops it was remarkably cheap.

Seriously, that slave trader, what an outrageous fellow.

To help me and not talk about it.

Raphtalia:" Regardless of the circumstances in which I met Naofumi-sama, I am still grateful."

Raphtalia says so with a smile.

.....That's right. Even if there was something behind it all,it doesn't change the fact that I bought Raphtalia from the slave trader.

If Raphtalia wasn't there protecting my back, then it would have been dangerous.

Raphtalia probably would have died if she had not met me either.

At that time, the slaves beside Raphtalia were put there to make sure I choose her.

In the end I used most of what little money I had accumulated. Buy a slave that should have been sold.

I would have likely doubted it if I was sold an excellent slave cheaply from the beginning.

However, betraying his expectations, Raphtalia grew up to be.....First class goods.

Thinking back carefully, that slave trader really helped me.

Naofumi:"Alright, next. The reason why you did not come back to the country?"

Queen:"I think you understand from our talks. I was at the limits of my patience. Melty wanted to meet Ault.....Trash, so I laid a trap. Also, because the preparations for cornering the Three Heroes Church were completed."

Thanks to her arrangements..... The fight swung in our favour.

Queen:"I did not think they would possess a replica weapon of the Four Legendary Heroes."

Even if I was warned earlier about the existence of such a weapon, the fight still would have been incredibly difficult.

Queen:"The pope was a foolish man..... If he changed the replica weapon to a shield to receive Iwatani-sama's attack, perhaps his life would have been saved."

Naofumi:" It can become a shield too?"

Queen:"Of course. However, the replica only had one-fourth of the original legendary weapon's power."

Naofumi:" That was one-fourth?!"

Multiplying that power by four times.....That's too ridiculous.

To be fair, if it wasn't at least that strong it would not have become a legend in the first place.

Queen:"And my husband who fought against our country's nemesis Silt Welt in the old days, Trash has become a fool due to the long peace. If he was competent, or if his old wisdom returned, I would not feel this way now."

Yeah.....I figured they did not want me to reach Silt Welt due to that kind of border security.

Is it possible that Trash was not the one that sent all the knights to the border?

Oh well. We are still in the middle of talking.

Queen:"Afterwards.....Let's see. I happened to be in range and helped out Iwatani-sama against the pope. After hearing all of this, do you still wish to go to Silt Welt and start a war?"

Naofumi:"Hrmm....."

Even if the queen thinks of me like that, is there any reason to protect them?

But.....

Queen:"By the way, Silt Welt, or Schildfrieden, whichever one Iwatani would have went to, I will tell you the results."

Naofumi:"Hm?"

(TLnote: Sirudofuriden is changed to Schildfrieden which means Peace of the shield)

What does the queen intend to say?

Queen:"First, the Demi-human princesses, and nobles of various races will approach Iwatani-sama, and a harem will be formed."

Naofumi:"That is disgusting!"

I feel nauseous thanks to the result of Bitch's actions.

A bunch of women approaching me with ulterior motives.

Queen:" Anything you want would have been given to you. If you wanted to conquer this country the people would gladly throw themselves to war."

Hmm.....that does sound good. but a harem.....
I'll endure it.....

Queen:"Though you will be fine till then. However, for all countries and all religions, those in power will be corrupted and their beliefs dyed black."

Naofumi:"What?"

Queen:"Iwatani-sama would be risking.....unidentified illnesses and unfortunate accidents."

Naofumi:".....I don't really understand."

Queen:" It was how the Hero of the shield in the past met his end."

I would rather not hear this.

Queen:"By the way,do you remember those adventurers who lied about wanting to be in your party?"

Naofumi:".....Yeah."

It was several days after I arrived in this world.

Queen:" Their horribly disfigured corpses were discovered several days later."

Naofumi:"Ge!?"

Queen:"There was also a soldier that asked for you signature a while ago."

Naofumi:"Yeah."

I gave it to him because he asked.....No way.

Naofumi:"Did he die!?"

That fellow did his job properly. I would rather not see him meet his end like this.

Queen:"No.....But, the clothes that Iwatani-sama signed were stolen. It seems he was stalked everyday until it was gone."

Holy shit.....That's very troublesome.

Queen:"Afterwards, that clothing was found to have sold for a large amount of money in the black market."

Next time I meet him I'll apologize.

Queen:"I had to protect those soldiers who co-operated with Iwatani-sama."

Naofumi:"Ahh, are you blaming them?"

Queen:" The knight leader was attacked by someone and murdered. The culprit was not caught yet. Perhaps....."

I concluded that Silt Welt is an extremist country.

What can I say?.....Would going to Silt Welt be heaven or hell?

Of course, the queen's story may not be entirely correct.

Queen:"I think that it would be safer for you to build your own relationships that you can trust."

Naofumi:"....."

However, there is no reason to co-operate.

The pain that I have received until now is not something that will just fade away with the queen using her power, I am still not convinced.

Although I was concerned indirectly, the punishment and explanation the queen gave a little while ago was done as the one in power in this country. Yet, she was too benevolent and showed mercy.

I admit that I do recognize her abilities, but I do not trust her.

Anything can be said.

Because it would be troublesome for them if I went to another country, I am being kept here.

If what she says is correct, then I would be highly received regardless of Shirudofuriden or Silt Welt.

There is no special reason to staying in Melromarc.

Queen:"....."

The queen is staring into my eyes while I think.

Queen:" Up until now, I have been covering for all the damage that Iwanati-sama has received until now. I understand this is a selfish.

However, to me.....No, to this country, there is no other choice but to rely on you. If I can appease your anger with my head then I would gladly pay the price. If you wish I can even change my name. Therefore, please postpone your decision. I Mirelia Q Melromarc will take a magical contract, and vow that you will not be treated as you have been previously."

The queen bows deeply.

Melty is speechless at this scene, and Raphtalia can only watch with her eyes wide.

Firo seems to have sensed something is happening from the atmosphere.

She..... Is really only thinking about what is best for the country.

If I really wanted Trash and Bitch dead, then there is no doubt they would have died.

Is Melromarc really in such a dangerous position on the global scale?

In other words, the fate of this country has been entrusted to my hands.

If I wished I could destroy Melromarc.

But-

Naofumi: "Only once."

Queen: "What do you mean?"

Naofumi: "Your shadow has saved our lives before."

Queen: "That means....."

Naofumi: "I will believe you only once. Regardless of reason, there will be no next time."

Queen: "Thank you very much."

The queen lowered her head and bowed to me in appreciation.

This might sound good.

But I cannot go on doubting everything.

I.....No one is perfect.

The enemy of a Hero is not the country, it is the wave.

If Glass attacks while the countries are fighting each other, we will be done for.

I will not forget that the three heroes were defeated by her in the previous wave.

There is no need to forcibly increase my enemies.

The situation of being attacked from the front and behind has changed.

If I defeat the wave, then I can return to my original world.

I will concentrate on fighting the wave..... and Glass from now on.

This is actually quite a big step forwards.

Naofumi:" Are we safe diplomatically?"

Queen:"I get what Iwatani-sama is asking, for the time being all the problems have been dealt with. The only problem is not having a dependable Hero-sama. Therefore I wish to ask for Iwatani-sama's co-operation even if I have to take an oath."

Naofumi:"Are you going to punish the other heroes that you will be relying on?"

Queen:"Certainly. Due to the Hero-samas actions and assistance in subduing the Three Heroes Church their punishment won't be too severe, but I still have to punish them due to criticism from the surrounding countries are increasing....."

Naofumi:"Is that so.....that's unfortunate."

Well, I was hoping to show those fellows hell. Either way, if a chance comes I'll take it.

There are still a lot of things to discuss, but I suppose this is our position now.

Queen:" Could you keep our conversation a secret from those three? Heroes are human too. I don't know what they will do if weakness is shown....."

Certainly, there were a lot of things that probably can't be said to those three heroes.

I don't know about Motoyasu or Ren, but Itsuki might go into a frenzy. Above all, the situation around me will improve greatly.

Naofumi:"Understood. One of those guys....."

Queen:"Yeah. Afterwards, I have the responsibility to watch over."

Naofumi:"Is that so, well after this one enemy has finally disappeared....."

Queen:"I am very sorry..... Please forgive me for summoning you without permission and forcing you to fight."

Naofumi:" It's fine already. So what will you do from now on? Are you going to speak to those three?"

Queen:"Yes, we will talk about matters of your participation over dinner."

Naofumi:"Understood."

The queen gives instructions to a subordinate walks towards the throne.

Queen:"Melty.....Let's go."

Melty:" Ah.....Okay."

Queen:" Iwatani-sama, thank you for protecting Melty."

The queen lowers her head and bows in gratitude.

Firo:" Is Mel-chan going somewhere?"

As expected, Firo seems to have understood and looks troubled.

Naofumi:" The world Melty lives in is different from us. It is unlikely we will be able to journey together like before."

It was difficult to say that while I turn to the queen.

Firo:"Really?"

Firo looks at Melty who is crying.

Melty:".....yeah."

Firo:"We can't meet anymore?"

Melty:".....No. We will meet again. Many times. But travelling together is impossible."

Melty faces the queen.

The queen nods in confirmation.

Firo:"But..... I won't say good-bye."

Melty:"Alright. However, Firo-chan is always welcome."

Melty tells Firo in a tearful voice.

It is a fact that our journey had a big influence on Melty.

When the waves are over I made up my mind to leave Firo with Melty.

Firo: "Even if we separate Mel-chan will always be Firo's friend right!?"

Melty: " Yeah! No matter what I am Firo-chan's friend."

It was a touching scene, but goodbyes..... I'm not sure you should be saying that now since we will still be in the castle today.

There is also no schedule for talking with the queen in the future.

But I'll stay silent.

Because this will cause both of their friendships to deepen.

Having a good friend is important, for both of them.

Raphtalia holds my hand as I watch the conversation.

I clench her hand silently and understood without turning around.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 79 – Dinner

---

We were being guided to dinner with the queen after resting in a VIP room. As the soldiers were guiding us, we looked around and saw luxurious tables throughout the hall.

Isn't this even more luxurious than the time Motoyasu and I duelled?

.....It took a long time.

My innocence was finally proven after so long.

I see the queen and Melty entered the hall holding hands.

The two of them approach while looking like they have something to say.

Naofumi: "What's wrong?"

Queen: "Well.....Oh dear, I'll just tell you truthfully."

Naofumi: "?"

While I was looking puzzled, the queen muttered about something being deplorable.

It seems that Bitch and Trash proposed to carry a dish from the kitchen to me.

They reflected. Therefore they want to bring me a dish as some kind of atonement.

This information is immediately heard by the queen

The two of them snatched two dishes by force in the hallway to bring to me.

This happened while the queen was in the hall preparing.

Queen: "It is an admirable attitude to carry the food."

Both of them had cold sweat running down their back as they tried to put the food on my side.

However, the queen ordered the soldiers to arrest them.

I heard the circumstances from the shadows supervising them in advance.

Trash:"Wh-What are you doing!?"

Bitch:"I did not do anything!"

They were protesting while being arrested.

When caught, their reaction is as follows.

Queen:"Yes, I pray you did nothing too. Now then, both of you..... eat a mouthful of the food you tried to serve Iwatani-sama."

Trash:"Such an impolite thing will not be done!"

Bitch:"I did not do anything!"

Their pitiful selves repeat an excuse while resisting.

Queen:"Yes, I believe you. So eat."

Trash:"That would be rude to the shield!"

Bitch:"That's right! Something that was already have eaten should not be served!"

Queen:" That's alright. Just take a bit with some clean tableware."

Trash:"Certainly Not!"

Bitch:"Disgusting!"

Queen:" Eat it!"

The soldiers force-feed the two of them the dishes they carried.

Naofumi:" So, what happened to them?"

Queen:" Trash went to the toilet, and Bitch was carried to the hospital."

Are they retarded?

Trash used a laxative, and Bitch used poison.

I should be fine thanks to poison resistance, but I don't have a hobby of consuming poison.

However, these guys aren't reflecting at all.

It would have been an excellent assassination. But their execution leaves much to be desired.

Naofumi:"They are going to be punished for this right?"

Queen:"Naturally I will. I'll give Trash and Bitch a painful experience every day until they give up."

Naofumi:"Uh huh....."

Queen:" It was good that they were caught so early. There was a chance that Iwatani-sama might have actually taken damage."

Naofumi:"I guess....."

Those guys didn't learn their lesson..... they don't deserve any praise for their tenacity.

It would be fine to be angry here, let's try to evaluate the queen's enthusiasm in punishing them.

Naofumi:" Observe them closely. If they are unhurt I will withdraw our agreement.

Queen:" Of course. Originally, the contents of their punishment would be supervised and then reported to Iwatani-sama periodically, until they stop misbehaving."

Naofumi:"Well.....That's obvious."

The queen also adds that there is always a shadow watching Bitch and Trash.

So if they do something bad then it will be reported immediately.

Each time Trash and Bitch does anything, I can choose to reward or torment.

They can even show me what's happening. It sounds very pleasant.

Queen:"Yes. So please think about the extent of their punishment. They will surely do it again. Since all attempts will be prevented beforehand, so punish them accordingly, since Iwatani-sama is necessary to Melromarc.

Naofumi:".....I understand"

The queen then declares grandly to all the visitors that have gathered.

Queen:"I, Mirelia Q Melromarc, would like to thank everyone here for participating in this event. Everybody, please enjoy the feast and have fun!"

The participants who gathered in the hall cheered, and my reason for participating in this event is completely different from last time.

Last time I participated for the money.

I understand that the country's situation will become a lot harsher in the future.

Firo:"Wow~....."

Firo's eyes shine at the amount of food put on display.

This party seems to be a restaurant style buffet.

Everything is in placed like a luxurious restaurant for the important guests.

If you still want to eat more, just head to the buffet and refill.

We were guided to our designated table with our plates full.

Last time we just stayed in a corner and ate.

Naofumi:"You may go get more food after you finish that plate."

Firo:"Really!?"

Naofumi:"There is a rule. You must maintain your human form."

Firo:"Okay!"

After devouring the expensive cuisine in front of her, Firo begins to skip towards the buffet looking for more.

For Firo is it quantity over quality?

Somehow, Firo's attitude reminds me of how Raphtalia was before.

incidentally, I look at Raphtalia.

Raphtalia:"Wh-What is it?"

Raphtalia spoke bashfully while I stared at her.

Naofumi:"Is that enough? When you're done go get more."

Raphtalia: "I do not eat so much anymore!"

Naofumi: ".....It's bad for your health. Even during forced marching, replenishing nutrition is important."

Raphtalia: ".....Haah....."

Raphtalia sighs deeply.

What on earth did I say?

Raphtalia: "Uhm.....Naofumi-sama what kind of girls do you prefer?"

Naofumi: "What?"

There isn't really any kind of girl I particularly prefer.....

I would like to avoid such a topic since it makes me recall Bitch.

Raphtalia: "Err.....In your original world, did you have someone you liked?"

Naofumi: " What are you saying? There is no one like that."

That is not my reason of wanting to return to my former world. Why would she think that?

Raphtalia: ".....Haah....."

Raphtalia sighs again.

Naofumi: " I don't really understand, but I am only returning because I want to go home."

After everything is concluded I will not hesitate to return to my original world. If I had to look for a reason.....

Then, suddenly I recall when I first arrived at this world.

Is my wish to return coming from the fact that I was deceived by Bitch?

These feelings, after recognizing them again seem to have become stronger.

Mysterious Voice:"Hero of the Shield-sama!"

Naofumi:"Hm?"

When I look at the direction of the voice, a volunteer who I recognized is heading towards us.

Ah, these two,one of them was the one that asked for a signature.

Naofumi:"I'm glad to see you safe."

SoldierA:"You have nothing to worry about.....That's not it."

I look at the soldier who received the signature.

Naofumi:"Were the clothes that I signed stolen? My bad."

The soldier shakes his head.

SoldierB:"It's all right."

Naofumi:"I see, if it's fine then I won't worry. So how did the signature get stolen? What happened?"

It seems to be a group of from the extremist country.

He got caught up in this unfortunate event.

Naofumi:"Can't be helped. Extend your hand."

SoldierB:"Yes?"

It's not the best thing I can give, but it can't have an actual form.

I shake hands with the soldier who wanted a signature.

SoldierB:"Ah....."

I wonder what the standards for handshakes in this world are. It would be bad if this was rude.

Naofumi:"I apologize for troubling you. I am grateful for your co-operation given the circumstances. Forgive me with this for now."

SoldierB:".....Okay!"

The soldier nods very joyfully. His cheeks are dyed red.....

This child is probably one who believes in the Four Saints Faith or the Shield Religion. That's probably why he wanted my signature.

.....I hope some dangerous guys don't want the hand that I shook.

Was this too rash?

Naofumi:"If there is an opportunity I'll thank you properly."

Soldiers: ""Okay!""

When I was about to speak.

Mysterious Voice:"Naofumi!"

Naofumi:"Hm?"

Motoyasu walks towards me while fuming.

.....Haah.

Soldiers who realized the situation rushes to stop Motoyasu.

Soldiers:"Please wait!"

Motoyasu:"Out of the way!"

The soldiers were knocked away and Motoyasu continued on.

Motoyasu:".....Let's duel!"

Naofumi:" What's with you suddenly."

Did you suffer an illness that forces you to fight me at every feast?

Motoyasu:" I heard about it! That you changed Mein's name selfishly!"

.....Haah. Were you seduced by Bitch?

Bitch is clinging to Motoyasu while crying.

Bitch:"Hero of the Shield-sama selfishly asked mama to change my name without permission....."

Her acting isn't very good.

Hm? Looking carefully, Bitch's equipment is different from before.

All her luxurious equipment is gone, all that's left are cheap products.

Oh, was her equipment seized by the queen?

Well that's too bad!

Motoyasu: "Why are you acting so childish?"

Naofumi: "Hahahaha!"

Motoyasu: "It's not funny! Such a pitiful name!"

Naofumi: "I know right!?"

This is the consequence of Bitch's deeds.

I mean Bitch was carried to the hospital earlier as a result of her actions.

Motoyasu: "If I win change her name back."

Naofumi: "I already beat you--"

Motoyasu: "This time is different."

Naofumi: ".....I guess so. You are that kind of guy."

I have no reason for fighting at all.

I'm also getting a bad feeling.....

The crowd parts and the queen walks in.

Motoyasu: "Queen-sama! Please grant a duel between Naofumi and I!"

Motoyasu seems to think the queen would do the same thing that Trash did.

Queen: "I will not."

Motoyasu: "Eh?"

Motoyasu expresses his surprise and seems flabbergasted by the queen's words.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 80 – Invigoration

---

Queen:"Kitamura-sama, do not get Bitch's name wrong."

Motoyasu's mouth is hanging open in astonishment.

What did you think would happen?

Queen:"As a princess her name is Bitch, and as an adventurer she is known as Whore."

Motoyasu:"Wha.....You! Are you really a parent of Mein?"

Queen:" Yes, that's right. But that was her previous name, now she is Bitch."

The queen instructs the soldiers with her eyes.

Bitch was peeled off Motoyasu.

Bitch:"Wait! What are you doing! I am--"

Queen:" What is a mere adventurer saying? You have no authority here."

Motoyasu:" What are you doing to a girl!"

Queen:"Kitamura-sama..... If you do not address her correctly, every time that you call her incorrectly I will have to add another burden for her to shoulder."

Motoyasu has an unbelievable face and glares at the queen.

Queen:"There were many reasons to change her name. First of all, she falsely accused Iwatani-sama of rape, and then pettily took advantage of her younger sister Melty's life and death crisis, there are various other reasons but these are the main problems. It is already a rather weak punishment."

Motoyasu:" What are you saying!?"

Queen:"I believe you would want to thank Iwatani-sama for this lenient punishment."

After not getting what he wanted, Motoyasu glared at me in displeasure.

Motoyasu:"The brainwashing-"

Naofumi:"There was no such power."

Queen:"Yes, That's right. Do not be deceived by false rumours spread by the Three Heroes Church. Iwatani-sama has gained the trust of the people with his own strength."

Naofumi:"That's right."

It seems that the queen is getting slightly irritated.

Since her daughter's reckless behaviour is uncontrollable.

Did she not learn her lesson?

Though I still don't believe in her completely, the queen is really quite pitiful.

The queen raises her fan upwards.

Queen:"I declare that any allegations that have been placed on Hero of the Shield Iwatani Naofumi-sama about raping adventurers to be nonsense!"

Applause breaks out.

When I glance at Motoyasu he is looking around the hall restlessly with an incredible expression.

Motoyasu:" You, you think this is funny?"

What? You still think I'm a sex offender?

Is your desire for a harem so strong that it doesn't matter what a woman does?

Queen:" Now then, Kitamura-sama..... Please use her correct name.Keep in mind that every time the wrong name is used, her debt to the country will increase."

Motoyasu:"Stop joking around!"

Motoyasu glares at me for some reason.

Queen:" Iwatani-sama is not related to this. Now, call her name."

Motoyasu:"Wh-Who would call her that!?"

Queen:"Then I shall separate you and Bitch, and she will have no way to repay her debt.Isn't that right, Iwatani-sama?"

Naofumi:"Mhmm"

Queen:"This child--"

Bitch:"No, no way!--Motoyasu-sama!"

Bitch notices the situation deteriorating and begs Motoyasu for help.

However, everybody except for Motoyasu understands this is only for self-protection.

There is no way she could change so quick.....

Motoyasu:"Gu....."

Queen:"Kitamura-sama should understand. Because she was born a coward, and grew up looking down on others."

Motoyasu:"She is not like that! This guy is the evil one!"

Motoyasu points at me and declares.

Do you even understand that the ground you are standing on is gone? Are you still blindly believing the lies you were fed?

It would be fine to leave it to the queen. But, maybe I can solve this without violence.

Naofumi:" Very well. If you want a match so badly, I'll keep you company."

Queen:" Iwatani-sama.....Is this fine? It is fine to fight each other to prove who is correct, but killing is forbidden."

Naofumi:" Yeah, I understand. But, this is one-on-one."

After being struck in the back from magic.

Motoyasu:"That's a given!"

Naofumi:"Well, it can't be helped if you want to fight. But, stop and think for a second. Who was it that you could never land a finishing blow on?"

Motoyasu was a little startled and continues to stare at me.

Naofumi:" If you seriously fight me without your companions, can you win?"

Motoyasu:"Ku....."

Naofumi:"By the way, I can heal myself..... I'm sure you can imagine the outcome in a war of attrition."

Though at that time I couldn't attack, unlike right now.

As expected, Motoyasu's fighting spirit has been dampened thanks to that experience.

Naofumi:"Hey, if you've given up just say her name."

Motoyasu:"Shit....."

Queen:"If you do not say her correct name then I will separate you two."

Bitch:"Mama!"

Motoyasu:"Ah....."

Bitch shouts at the queen with a mortified expression. Motoyasu murmured inaudibly with an expression full of distress.

Motoyasu:"Whore....."

Bitch: "Shield! I'll never forgive you!"

Naofumi:"Say what you want, Bitch!"

The queen gives instructions to release Bitch.

Queen:"That's enough, please understand that you cannot make absurd demands against Iwatani-sama by abusing your power any more. Because my policy is to treat the heroes equally."

Motoyasu:"What about this is equal!?"

Queen:" Oh my. Did you think I would just overlook the misfortune that Iwatani-sama put up with while I wasn't here? Did you ever treat all the other Heroes equally?"

Ren and Itsuki approach while this was happening.

Queen:"Hero of the Sword-sama, Hero of the Bow-sama, please understand. My daughter, Bitch falsely accused Iwatani-sama. As her punishment her name has been changed to Bitch. This was the result of sympathy as well."

Ren:"Ah.....Sure"

Itsuki:"U-Understood."

Queen:"Please treat the current situation as repaying Iwatani-sama for his past troubles. Since the rest of you hero-samas have already received plenty of preferential treatment compared to Iwatani-sama."

The queen said I would be receiving preferential treatment only for now.....But these fellows don't look convinced.

Motoyasu is standing worryingly beside Bitch while she looks at the queen with an unpleasant expression.

After Ren and Itsuki confirmed the situation and figured out it was all under control, they just stood there with unreadable expressions.

Rather, a feeling of "That's right....." could be felt from them as they look at Motoyasu and remember him being favored.

Queen:"Bitch. I'll be adding to your punishment seeing as the change of your name was not completed thoroughly, and that brought trouble to Iwatani-sama."

Bitch:"Shut up! Do not call me Bitch!"

Queen:"It seems you haven't reflected in the slightest.....It can't be helped."

The queen claps her hands and a wizard brings a familiar ink bottle to her.

Motoyasu: "Wh-What are you going to do!?"

Motoyasu notices the threatening atmosphere and raises his voice.

The soldiers hold Motoyasu back while the magician begins the ceremony on Bitch.

The queen pricks her finger with a needle and drips her blood on the ink. That is.....I see, so that's what is going to happen.

Bitch: "N-No! Release me!"

As expected of Bitch, she also knows what is about to happen.

She violently struggles but the soldiers keep her steady.

Although Motoyasu doesn't understand what is happening, he recovers and readies his spear.

Motoyasu: "Stoooooooooooooop!"

As if they would.

Naofumi: "Shield Prison!"

While controlling my anger I change to the Wrath Shield and trap Motoyasu.

Bitch: "N-No! Stay away! Who do you think I am!?"

Queen: "Aren't you just a plain adventurer? No wait, you're a criminal. This is punishment for the failed assassination attempt of giving poison to Iwatani-sama."

As the queen is reminding Bitch, she gives the signal.

Ink is dropped onto Bitch's chest, and a pattern is carved there.

Bitch: "Kyaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

After Bitch screams for a while, then the pattern disappears as if it was never there.

It's different from Raphtalia's. Raphtalia has a tattoo, while nothing can be seen on Bitch.

Queen: "This is a high-class slave crest. Usually it's not visible until the conditions are met, and when it appears, punishment is dealt."

Something like Firo's demon crest?

Queen: "The condition is attacking Iwatani-sama. Whether by direct attack with magic or indirect attack with poison, nothing is allowed!"

Bitch glares at the queen with watery eyes.

Motoyasu: "Mei.....Whore, are you all right?"

Motoyasu is released from the prison, runs up Bitch and holds her.

I wonder if that was a smart decision. After receiving a serious counterattack, Motoyasu and Bitch must be extremely frustrated.

Queen: "Now then, shall we get down to business?"

Ren:".....What would that be?"

What a quick change of gears.

Is this the dignity of a queen?

Quite nasty.

Ren and Itsuki's expressions are also cramping up.

Queen:"Yes, I think Hero-samas would enjoy this news very much."

What the queen is going to say?

While holding some doubts I listen attentively to the queen's story.

Queen:"A country that is off the coast.....Cal Mira Island has become active.

I request the participation of all Hero-samas."

.....What island? How is it becoming active?

""Uooooooooooooo!?"""

The three of them have gotten excited.

Motoyasu.....are you forgetting Bitch?

You were looking extremely mortified a little while ago.

Naofumi:" What's that? Is there something there?"

Queen:"Since Iwatani-sama does not know I'll explain. That island is only active once every 10 years, there is a phenomenon where experience earned in that area greatly increases for that time."

The queen's long story summed up is like this.

The island called Cal Mira Island is famous as a holiday resort, and various devils inhabit the location.

It is also famous for adventurers who want to Level up quickly, during its active period every 10 years.

It seems this event will greatly help the four Heroes who are a bit weak right now.

Queen:" Of course, we have already borrowed the island. Everyone, please participate."

In online gaming terms would this be an event dungeon?

Do the enemies have an extremely good Experience to strength ratio?

If you are a gamer you would be extremely pleased with this event.

If anything.....

Queen:" Preparations have been completed already, and I would like Hero-samas to participate as in a big event."

Naofumi:"Event?"

Ren:"What will we be doing?"

The queen answers after hearing our questions.

Queen:"It is just Hero-sama's will be having a staff and information exchange with each other at Cal Mira Island. Of course, only if all four of you agree."

.....

""""What-----!?"""""

The queen drops quite a ridiculous request.

The next day.

Trash:"Nuooooooooooooooooo!"

The queen is torturing Trash by freezing him in front of me.

While looking at Trash's pained face, I feel refreshed.

Queen:"Seriously.....Iwatani-sama sure is resourceful."

After hearing the story of Cal Mira Island, I agreed so that we could increase our levels.

According to my conversation with the queen, Cal Mira Island is also a great location for hot springs.

Moreover, it seems the hot springs have a healing effect on curses.

But there is a bad problem.

Even if I am good, Raphtalia and Firo still haven't Classed Up yet and cannot gain levels.

When I told the queen, she brought Trash and such a situation happened.

After Trash finally confessing due to being frozen.

Queen:" It can't be helped. Please start your journey after receiving Class up at the Hourglass of the Dragon's Era for your companions."

Naofumi:"Are you not coming to the island?"

Queen:" I have some internal affairs. Instead, I will be dispatching the shadows."

Well, I figured.

Naofumi:"Speaking of which, why are we doing an information and staff exchange.....?"

It seems the atmosphere has become unpleasant.

Queen:"Did you not like the idea?"

Naofumi:"Nope, I hate those guys."

Queen:"You might be able to learn a different method to get stronger from the information exchange with the other Hero-samas."

Naofumi:"Well....."

That is one possibility.

What can I say.....It would be a problem to beat those guys without the Curse Series though.

It should only be a matter of time before those guys obtain their own Curse Series, though they will be quite behind.

I don't like it, but it might be helpful.

Naofumi:"Why do we have to exchange personnel?"

Queen:"So that you can take into account how their companions fight when working together."

Naofumi:" Is that it?"

Queen:" No, this also doubles for information exchange. If they are careless you might be able to learn how they get stronger."

I should consider this very carefully. The reverse is also quite possible.
But if I consider the wave, it s important for all of us to get stronger.
In the future when we will be fighting together, it would be helpful to know how these guys fight.

Queen:"For Trash to have such a good idea."

Naofumi:"This was proposed by Trash!?"

Queen:"Yes, though originally the plan was to give preferential treatment to Kitamura-sama."

I see.

In order to steal information from the other heroes.

What a cunning old man. This Trash.

Though I don't think I was included in the trip to Cal Mira Island.

Queen:"With that said, will you be going?"

Naofumi:"It's a good idea. It may be beneficial."

Queen:"I do not know how much aid money I can provide to Iwatani-sama yet since the treasury count is still incomplete. Please look forward to it after returning."

Naofumi:"I'm assuming that living expenses there is already paid for."

Queen:"Of course, those expenses have already been prepared. Now then, shall we go to the Hourglass of the Dragon's Era? Since preparations are completed, let us make a magical contract there."

Naofumi:" Understood. Let's go."

Raphtalia:" Okay"

Firo:" Okay~!"

By the way, Firo slept with Melty last night.

Melty wanted to sleep in Firo's feathers..... I remember the teacher who walked in on that in the morning and screamed.

And so, with the queen and Melty, we headed towards the Hourglass of the Dragon's Era.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 81 - Class Up

---

When we arrived at the Hourglass of the Dragon's Era that sister at the reception desk before was gone.

Naofumi: "Where did that other sister go to?"

Sister: "She was arrested because she was part of the Three Heroes Church."

Oh, so she was labeled a criminal.

Well she was infuriating anyway. Too bad.

Naofumi: "Now what? Can we go Class Up?"

Queen: "First of all, please tell me who wants to do a class up."

After listening to the queen I look at Raphtalia and Firo.

Though we have already decided which Class to take, there is no telling what might happen.

Firo: "Okay~! Firo wants to go first!"

Firo raises her hand and declares that she wants to go first.

I look at Raphtalia and she nods.

Raphtalia: "Then Firo will Class Up first."

Firo: "Yay~!"

Melty: "Firo-chan do your best!"

In her human form Firo steps forward with a pitter-patter.

Sister:"Please get into a comfortable position,touch the Hourglass of Dragon's Era and focus your consciousness on it."

Firo:"Like this?"

Firo reverts to her demon form and slowly touches the Hourglass of Dragon's Era.

The sand near Firo's wing shines and ripples.

Queen:"Now then, let's proceed with the Class Up ceremony."

On the queen's orders the soldiers surrounding the hourglass pour some kind of liquid into the grooves the shape of a magic square etched into the floor.

Firo:"Huh?What is that sound?"

Firo strains her ears.

Queen:"Concentrate"

Firo:"Okay~"

Firo shuts her eyes and spreads both her wings.

The hourglass continues to glow, and the magic formation on the floor also starts glowing.

Firo stands in the center, and is being surrounded by light.

Queen:" Now, please choose your future possibility."

Firo:"Ah, Something popped up"

Firo mutters with her eyes closed.

The icon in Firo's view also appears in mine, a class tree appeared.

Queen:"Since she is Iwatani-sama's demon, you must choose."

Naofumi:"Ah, is such a thing even possible?"

All the possibilities of Philorials and their various abilities appear.

However.

Naofumi:"What Firo wants for herself, may not be what I choose."

If I don't choose, does it automatically pick the demon's choice?

I press the decline button on the screen.

Firo:"Wa! something came into view!"

It was probably what appeared in front of me earlier. It might be due to the influence of the demon crest.

Firo:"Which one to pick~....."

With her eyes closed Firo happily picks her possibility.

I'll allow Firo to decide for herself, since this will affect her whole life.

That's right. I'll tell Raphtalia the same.

Naofumi:" Raptalia, I will let you and Firo choose whichever Class Up you want yourselves, since I will be leaving the world after the wave is over. It will be fine."

Raptalia:"As long as Naofumi-sama chooses, it will be good....."

Naofumi:"Nope."

Raptalia:".....I understand."

Raptalia mutters while seeming dissatisfied about something.

If I decide selfishly and they don't like it, then it would be rough for both of us.

I want them to choose for themselves, because I trust them.

Now then, I wonder what Firo is going to choose.

Firo's ahoge is growing and shining brilliantly.

Naofumi:"Eh?"

The light shines brighter and buzzes, and then with a flash it was gone.

I was momentarily blinded.

When my vision recovers, I look at Firo who is blinking repeatedly. Her appearance.....There are no big changes.

But, her ahoge has become more luxurious, now it gives off the feeling of a mini-crown.....

Queen:"It seems the Class Up was completed successfully."

Naofumi:" I see."

I check her status. The ★ has disappeared wonderfully.

Her stats have nearly doubled.

Isn't this too amazing?

Melty: "Firo-chan is amazing!"

It seems Melty is pleased that Firo has powered up.

However, Firo has a delicate expression while walking over.

Firo: "You see.....Firo wasn't able to choose....."

Firo mutters, looking like she is about to cry at any moment.

Naofumi: "What went wrong?"

Firo: "Firo wanted to choose the one that can spit poison. But what came out was not what was selected."

Naofumi: "I saw your ahoge shine brightly."

Firo: "Mu....."

Melty is coaxing the depressed Firo.

Naofumi: "Then, next is Raphtalia."

Raphtalia: "O-Okay."

Before it even starts I'm getting a bad feeling about this.

Raphtalia touches the Hourglass the same way Firo did.

When the light shines, the soldiers pour the same liquid inside the magic formation.

As I thought, an icon pops up in my view again.

Now then.....pushing the refusal---

At that moment, Firo's ahoge splits in two and one enters my view.

Naofumi:"Wha!?What is this!? You bird!"

Firo:" It's not Firo!"

Not Firo you say!? Are you telling me that your ahoge can act independently?

Raphtalia's eyes open wide and she stares

Raphtalia:"Naofumi-sama!?"

The ahoge lands on the pop-up, disappears, and reveals a possibility that didn't exist before.

Light flows from me to Raphtalia.

Raphtalia: "Kya!?"

Raphtalia screams.

And the light disappears.

Thick smoke covers the room. This is quite different from Firo's.

The smoke clears up.....

I watch Raphtalia coughing. There are no apparent changes other than her hair colour being a brighter shade compared to before.....

Naofumi: "A-Are you alright?"

Raphtalia: "Oh, uh yeah. I'm fine....."

What happened? I worryingly check Raphtalia's status.

.....Just like Firo, the ★ disappeared and her stats have nearly doubled.

Raphtalia: "What happened?"

Naofumi: "I have no idea either. The Class Up was chosen by itself.....I had a bad feeling, but there seems to be no problems."

Queen: "I see, that's fine then..... I wonder what chose the Class Up without permission?"

Naofumi: "What are you talking about?"

Melty: "Ummm you see. I think Firo-chan's ahoge did it-"

Melty retells her story about meeting the Philorial Queen.

Queen:"I see, I would have liked to meet the queen of Philorials too."

Naofumi:"That's not the problem right now."

Is the queen's hobby searching for legends?

Wait wait, this isn't the situation to think about those things.

Naofumi:"I wonder why. I was uneasy and thought that there might be some abnormal transformations!"

Raphtalia:"Yes, me too. Though I had a feeling my body was shrinking, but that doesn't seem to be the case."

Firo:"Master~, what are you saying?"

It seems something absurd in the world occurred.....

At any rate, there is nothing we can do about it, and nothing bad happened. Maybe it was due to my luck finally turning around.

Naofumi:".....Don't worry about it. Anyway, how are your abilities and conditions?

Raphtalia:"I feel that power is surging through my body."

Naofumi:"I see, that's good....."

Queen:"Is it due to the Queen Philorial feather?..... I don't know what it was, but it seems to have chosen for you. I'm sure that you will be unable to change it."

The queen regretfully informs us.

Queen:"There are specific items that you can use during Class Ups to get more benefits. I pray that was a good thing....."

Naofumi:"Yeah....."

Queen:"So how much did their abilities grow?"

Naofumi:"Their abilities almost doubled."

Queen:"Doubled!?"

The queen is surprised.

Perhaps this is way better than usual?

Maybe it's due to the Philorial Queen's feather. If the growth rate is high, then I am glad.

Queen:"Originally.....any item that would increase the growth rate by 1.5 times is already amazing. They would generally be very strong."

Naofumi:"Is that so? Then this is great."

However, both of them have a delicate expression.

I understand your feelings.

Class Up----I am familiar with that since in games you should be able to choose your own.

Naofumi:"Well.....Do your best."

Raphtalia:"uuu.....somehow I'm feeling quite melancholic."

Firo:"Firo too."

Melty:"Cheer up, Firo-chan."

Like this, our Class Up was complete.

Queen:"Next is the contract."

The queen shows a contract written on parchment to me.

Queen: "Please read it."

Naofumi: "Sure....."

The contract contains the following:

1. If any situation occurs that would harm the Hero of the Shield, the country will stop it at all costs
2. The country will co-operate and arrange preparations for the Hero of the Shield against the wave.
3. The Hero of the Shield will receive various preferential treatments.
4. Nothing is demanded of the Hero of the Shield except for fighting against the wave.

Lastly, the country will take responsibility when the contract breaks.

I request for a copy of the contractual document.....For insurance. So a copy of the parchment was given to me.

The contents are very advantageous for me.

I confirm many times that there are no play on words or contradictory terms.

I feel that I may have went too far, but after inspecting it for a while there were no abnormalities.

Naofumi: "Well, this should be fine."

Queen: " Then, please finish the seal with a drop of your blood."

I poke my own finger with a knife and write my name in blood on the parchment.

The queen does the same, and the parchment begins to shine in the middle of the magic formation.

The light disappears and a golden bracelet appears around the queen's arm.

Queen:"If the contract is broken, then it will punish me accordingly. Please rest assured."

Naofumi:" Understood. So I guess it's official now?"

Queen:"Indeed."

There is a feeling of relief.....

Naofumi:"I should reconsider exchanging companions on the trip....."

Queen:"Please consider carefully."

Seeing as I am having trouble deciding, the queen answers.

Naofumi:"Hm?"

Queen:"If it goes well wouldn't Iwatani-sama be able to increase his companions?"

Naofumi:"Ah.....So that's what you mean."

This could be a chance for all the heroes, including me, to find out how the other hero companions operate.

Queen:"The Hero of the Shield is already not associated with anything evil. There may even be some companions that are dissatisfied with following their chosen hero."

Naofumi:"In other words..... a repicking from the first day....."

I am still holding a grudge from when no one helped me.

There is also no way I will lose Raphtalia and Firo thanks to them being slaves.

Queen:"Even if Iwatani-sama is not aware, some of the hero companions have already been changed. So, it might not be a bad idea to try it out."

Naofumi:"Change? Who went to who?"

Queen:"Every Hero-sama. More or less, compared to before their party is a little different....."

Since I never took a good look, I did not notice it.

What can I say? The companions of those fellows must have sobered up. Their true colours must have shown.

.....That reminds me, that man in Motoyasu's party disappeared.

I thought he was just hiding and waiting for a chance, but he did not appear at all.

Well, as a man in Motoyasu's harem it was probably hell for him.

Besides, I feel that each Hero had an increase in companions.

Definitely. There are people who become friends in the middle of a trip.

If an adventurer, villager, knight, or magician has talent then they would be scouted.

It's a common development that happens in my favourite mangas and light novels.

I see. I am the unorthodox one, only taking slaves.

Anyhow.....

Naofumi:.....haah. I understand."

Queen:"There may be someone who wants to follow Iwatani-sama."

Naofumi:"But I do not trust anyone except for those with absolute obedience."

Queen:"Oh ho? But I thought you are developing a good relationship with Melty?"

At the queen's words, Melty trembles and blushes a deep-red.

It is probably from being humiliated.

Naofumi:"She's going to die if she didn't follow me, so there's no other way.

She might be Firo's good friend, but she doesn't respect me at all"

Melty:"R-Right!"

She nods energetically. As I thought, Melty disliked me after all.

Queen:"It doesn't seem so though."

Melty:"Mother!"

The queen laughs and shows a heart-warming smile.

Did I say something funny?

Raphtalia:"Mu....."

I look over at Raphtalia and she seems to be sulking.

Naofumi:"What's wrong?"

Raphtalia:"Absolutely nothing!"

Firo:"Hm~?"

I tilt my head together with Firo.

Queen:"Isn't this fine? We have finished our business here, you should depart soon."

After leaving the building of the Hourglass of the Dragon's Era, we depart for the Island.

Queen:"Please look forward to your various rewards when you return."

Naofumi:"Rewards? What is it?"

Queen:" Iwatani-sama I heard you wanted to learn magic, so I will prepare magic books and crystal balls."

Ah, so it's something like that.

Mhmm.....Besides, if I do get another companion then I will need supplies.

Queen:"Crystal balls let you acquire magic quickly, but there is a lack of power. Whereas for books, it takes a lot longer to learn, but it is much stronger."

Naofumi:"So there was such an effect....."

When I read the magic book, it was explaining the basics of basics.

Besides, in the book it also explains how to adjust power, and other ways to tweak the spells.

Of course, in order to learn these things it will take time.

This is not a game, and time is limited. But, I should also avoid learning too much from the crystal balls since it's efficiency will be bad.

Judging from the other heroes actions, I am currently the only one that can read this world's letters.

It may be important to make use of this advantage.

Queen:" Will crystal balls be alright Iwatani-sama?"

Naofumi:"I can read a little of this world's letters, so..... If there is someone to teach me properly, and a book, it would be fine."

Queen:"I see. I'll arrange it."

Naofumi:"Also, can equipment be procured?"

Queen:"It is possible to give you weapons from the country's arsenal but....."

That reminds me, I still haven't visited the old man from the weapons shop yet.

It might also be good to see if there are any requests for materials from Cal Mira Island, perhaps it would be nice to get some materials myself.

Naofumi:"In the meantime, please prepare some degree of armour and weapons for us."

Queen:" Alright. Now then, I wish you a good day."

Melty: "Naofumi, Firo-chan, Raphtalia-san, Good luck! Have a nice day!"

We parted from the queen, got on the carriage, and hurried to the town where the ship to Cal Mira Island is.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 82 – Grave Visit

---

Naofumi: "We should be arriving at the harbor town soon."

The meeting spot for this event is at the harbor town.

The other heroes seemed to have travelled on a carriage the country prepared.

They started sooner, but it is likely that Firo overtook them.

Since we haven't been travelling on a carriage in a while, Firo is happy.

Raphtalia: "Ah, Naofumi-sama.....May we take a little detour?"

Naofumi: "Hm?"

Raphtalia informs me of the place where she wants to go.

It's not very far so there should be no problems.

Naofumi: "Sure, that's fine."

Raphtalia: "Firo, please turn here and head inland."

Firo: "Okay~"

The place we arrive at.....An abandoned village.

You can tell from the tattered building that this was a village.

There are houses without roofs and walls. Some are even burnt down.

The collapsed feudal lord mansion.....gave off a very plain feeling.

It looked brand new before it was abandoned..... However, I can't say for how long.

I should consider when this place was abandoned.

Raphtalia:"....."

Raphtalia was just staring at the abandoned village until we passed it.

When I look, there are numerous graves at the edge of the village.

Come to think of it, I heard that Raphtalia was part of a farming village near the sea, and it was the first to be attacked by the wave.

Could this possibly be.....The village where Raphtalia was born and raised?

Three months have already passed since I arrived in this world.

Considering the Hero summoning ceremony, four months at most.

I only need to look at this demi-human village that was here four months ago to imagine the intensity of the wave.

Certainly the queen did say that the one she entrusted internal affairs with died during the first wave.

Considering that he was also popular with the demi-humans, he might have been the feudal lord of this village.

Firo:"Raphtalia onee-chan, where are we going?"

Raphtalia:"Just going to the cliff to watch the ocean."

Firo:"Alright, understood."

As the carriage rattles and continues on, I continue to stare at the village that Raphtalia might have been born in.

Before long, we arrive at a cliff overlooking the sea, and Raphtalia gets off the carriage.

There is a pile of small stones at the tip of the cliff..... I think that is a grave.

Raphtalia picks some flowers blooming in the vicinity and places it before the tomb.

Then she clasps her hands together to pray.

The sun is setting, covering the area in an orange hue.

I could not talk to Raphtalia today.

If I think about it, Raphtalia lost her family approximately four months ago.

I think she is already very strong mentally.

Losing her family and living on.....No wonder she had such dead eyes when I saw her.

Isn't there anything I can do for Raphtalia?

No, what will happen to Raphtalia when I return to my original world?

Though Firo will have Melty, Raphtalia has nothing.

Occasionally, Raphtalia anxiously asks about my reason for returning to my original world when this is all over.

Raphtalia:"Sorry to have kept you waiting."

Naofumi:"No problem. Let's go."

Raphtalia:"Okay!"

.....When this wave is over, I'll have to think about what to do with Raphtalia.

Ren:"Uuu....."

Motoyasu:"U-....."

Itsuki:"U-n"

After all the heroes arrived at the harbour town, we all boarded the ship. Incidentally, due to the ship's size, even Firo's carriage was able to be loaded.

So we were covered there.

Ren, Motoyasu, and Itsuki were all downed by sea-sickness after half a day. Since cabins were allocated, there shouldn't be any problems. However, all the heroes were gathered because the sailors wanted to greet us, and the three of them are vomiting into the sea while groaning painfully.

Naofumi:"Sea-sickness huh....."

Ever since I was small, for some reason, no matter the vehicle, I was never affected.

Probably due to the sea-sickness, the three heroes are overly friendly. To be frank, I have no intentions of getting friendly with them, but.....

Motoyasu:"Naofumi seems to be fine....."

Naofumi:"Yeah, I don't get motion sickness easily."

Firo:"Kyahho~"

By the way, Firo is in her demon form and is swimming around the ocean. No wait, is she swimming or floating?

Since this is Firo's first time at sea, she excitedly dived in. Occasionally she would ride the boat, and then jump back to play afterwards.

Although this is a big ship, I am still a little uneasy. It should be fine since Firo can use wind magic though.

In a crisis she should be able to hold her own.

Naofumi:"Ah....."

There is a big fish approaching Firo from behind.

Naofumi:"Firo, it's dangerous."

Firo:"Hm~?"

As Firo turns around, a shark-like demon opens its giant mouth to attack.

Firo:"Tei!"

Firo kicks the jaw of the demon shark and it flies through the air.

It was sent flying right onto the ship deck.

The sailors and adventurers scream.

As the demon shark struggled violently on the deck, Firo finishes it off.

Firo:"It is a big mistake to treat Firo as your food."

Then she proceeds to stuff her face with demon shark meat.

Naofumi:"Don't dirty the deck."

Itsuki:".....I think you're glossing over something important there."

An extremely pale Itsuki mutters at me.

Well, it is indeed amazing, and speaking of amazing, I think of Firo.

Since the ship's rear has a ballista attached to it, I do not need to fight either.

By the way, this is already the second shark.

The first one was dismantled and absorbed by my shield.

Requirements for Blue Shark Shield has been released.

Requirements for Shark Bite Shield has been released.

Requirements for Shark Leather Shield has been released.

Requirements for Shark Meat Shield has been released.

Blue Shark Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Swimming Skill 1

Shark Bite Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Shipboard Combat Skill 1

Special Effect: Shark's Fang

Shark Leather Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: 2% Damage Reduction from the Aquatic System

Special Effect: Shark's skin

Shark Meat Shield

Unsealing completed... Equipment Bonus: Agility 3

The swimming skill's description.....I can swim like everyone else.

Motoyasu:"....."

Ren:"I'm sure you are a hammer."

Itsuki:"Yeah....."

Naofumi:"If you guys think I'll drown if I fall into the ocean, tough luck; I can swim."

The seasick heroes are whispering with each other about whether or not I will fall into the sea and drown, so I warn them.

Ren:"that's not what I'm talking about"

Naofumi:"What is?"

Ren:"I think Itsuki is a hammer....."

Itsuki:".....I am?!"

Motoyasu:"I think Ren is also one....."

Itsuki:"I think Motoyasu-san is one too....."

Did you guys analyze each other's swimming abilities?

Oh well, does Shipboard Combat Skill 1 improve my movements on a ship? Is there even going to be a situation where I fight on board? Let's try it out when I have some free time.

Since this is the same demon I'll leave it alone. It seems even on the move my experience value and materials are increasing.

Sailor:".....Are you guys alright?"

Some guy wearing clothes that make him look like a pirate, is anxiously asking the other heroes their conditions.....

Naofumi:"It's merely sea-sickness. Your worrying is unnecessary. They will get used to it after a while."

Sailor:".....Right."

Naofumi:"And you are?"

Sailor:".....Captain."

After looking closely I can see it's a woman. Her height is a little lacking. Raphtalia is taller. Though I did not get a good look at her due to her clothing, she is a considerably beautiful girl. Her face is probably good enough for Motoyasu to flirt with her. She also seems young. To be a captain of a ship at that age, what is wrong with this world?

Captain:"I am the captain.....I also made the ship."

Naofumi:"Captain and Shipbuilder!?"

Captain:".....Right."

Naofumi:"What a skillful fellow."

Captain:".....Right."

Since a while ago all she is saying is ".....Right". What a downer. Though she is skillful, she has problems talking.

Captain:".....The sea is acting up."

Naofumi:"I see."

Captain:".....A storm is coming."

Naofumi:"You can tell?!"

Captain:".....No problem. Hero-sama should rest in the cabin."

Naofumi:"That reminds me, I haven't introduced myself yet. I am the Hero of the Shield. Those three over on the floor there are the other heroes.

Captain:".....Right. Best regards."

As the captain mutters, a sailor yells about an incoming storm.

And so, we returned to the cabin.

Firo felt the waves rising, returned to her human form, and entered the cabin.

Though the captain speaks little, she is a hard working fellow.

The ship kept advancing, despite the storm."

Naofumi:" Raphtalia, it seems you aren't getting sea-sick."

Raphtalia:" Because I am from a village near the sea."

Naofumi:" Ah, do you have experience on a boat?"

Raphtalia:" Yup."

By the way, as for what happened to the other Heroes and their companions.....They rested in their cabins the whole trip.

The ship was rocked in all directions throughout the heavy storm, but we arrived at Cal Mira Island the following morning.

Firo was extremely excited, and even Raphtalia widened her eyes.

Well you can guess the reactions of the other adventurers and new sailors.....

Cal Mira Island is a volcanic island that exceeds my imagination.

Is it because I am using Hawaii as a standard.....?

There is also no guarantee this map is accurate.

By the way, Cal Mira Island is a nickname, its official name is Cal Mira Archipelago. It seems that there are also various islands nearby.

Rather than the rough sea voyage from Melromarc, the waves near the archipelago are calm, and you can even walk across the islands during low-tide.

.....Can we ride Firo to another island?

Here and there, other islands could be seen.

Naofumi:" Now then, we have arrived at Cal Mira Island but....."

I was amazed at the other heroes appreciating the island and being grateful. All of them look quite sleepy since it was virtually impossible to sleep last night with all the rolling around.

Bitch's face is pale, and she vomits. Serves you right.

Naofumi:"Are you guys weak to vehicles?"

Motoyasu:"Naofumi.....you are the strange one."

Ren:"When the cabin was turned upside down, I thought we sank."

Itsuki:"Coming to this strange world, there are many amazing things."

Certainly, the ship was turned over a several times.

Every time I expected the ship to sink, but I was surprised.

Since it was troublesome to roll around, I made a hammock in the cabin and slept.

I wonder if the sailors are used to such things. They recommended that I make a hammock to sleep in when the storm came.

Even the captain said that such a big storm was rare.

Is it due to the wave of calamity?

If such a storm were to appear in my world, then any ship would surely sink.

After this boat trip, I am again realising this is a different world.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 83 – Magic Lore

---

Raphtalia: "Fortunately, the ship did not sink, cast us adrift, and force us to start living on an uninhabited island."

Naofumi: "Don't joke about those things."

Raphtalia: "It wasn't a joke."

Naofumi: "Anyway, let's get to the hotel early today. We can't start the member change if we don't know the schedule right?"

That reminds me, the queen told me to go and greet the one in charge of this island.

Although this is a remote region, he should have quite a lot of authority since a lot of people visit.

Mysterious Person: "I welcome the four holy heroes and their companions."

A suspicious fellow who is holding a flag like a tour guide approaches us, while we wait for the other heroes to recover before departing.

He is wearing a Melromarc military uniform, and he looks to be a little past middle age.....That flag does not suit him.

Hapenburg: "I am Count Hapenbug, and I have been entrusted with this Cal Mira Archipelago."

Naofumi: "I-I see....."

The only hero who is completely fine is me, so I have to respond.

Hapenburg:"I look forward to our subsequent acquaintanceship."

Naofumi:"Ah.....Best regards."

Every hero greets Count Hapenburg and the guide employees following him.

Hapenburg:"Now then, Hero-samas I will tell you all about Cal Mira Archipelago, starting from the beginning."

Eh.....

He really was a tour guide. This is troublesome and annoying.

Naofumi:"We did not come here particularly for sightseeing....."

I would rather not go on a sightseeing tour and learn the island traditions, while there is delicious experience points to be earned.

Hapenburg:"Now now, since ancient times, the four holy heroes have trained here--"

While the count explains, we are guided past a market.

There were some strange objects.

Is that a penguin, rabbit, squirrel, and a dog with a santa hat? There is a totem pole made of four animals on top of one another and decorated.

The penguin has a fishing rod, the rabbit is using a hoe, the squirrel has a saw, and the dog is equipped with rope.

What the hell is that?

Hapenburg:"Oh? Hero of the Shield-sama has a good eye. Those are the pioneers who developed this island, Pengy, Bunny, Squirrley, and Doggy." All Japanese-like. No, it's probably due to the legendary weapon's translations.

Hapenburg:"By the way, the Four Holy Hero-samas were the ones who named them."

For the Four Holy Heroes naming sense to be-
Ah, the count is still talking.

Hapenburg:"The Hero-samas befriended these demons, and gave them names similar to the animals in their world."

Their naming sense is terrible anyway.
Couldn't they have changed a little more?

Naofumi:"Then, are they somewhere on this island?"

Hapenburg:" No, when pioneering was completed, they left to look for new land. Afterwards, they were never seen again."

.....In short, they went extinct.

Also their existence is doubtful. Not to mention, demons pioneering.....

Firo:"Ehh..... they look delicious."

Firo says while drooling.

.....If I think carefully, this demon gets supreme joy just by pulling a carriage.

It is quite mysterious.

Something besides the totem pole catches my eye.

Naofumi:" What's that?"

Hapenburg:"It seems to be an inscription left by the Four Holy Heroes."

Naofumi:" Interesting."

I approach it slowly.

The possibility of the Four Holy Heroes being Japanese is high.

Even if it's not Japanese, there might be some significant information from somewhere else on Earth.

It's not written in Japanese, what is it?

What.....

Motoyasu:"Oi! This isn't Japanese. It's a fake!"

The other heroes approached the inscription and verify that it cannot be read.

Hapenburg:"That is strange.....There is a tradition that this was prepared for when new heroes would appear....."

Motoyasu:".....Are you joking? This is a magical letter from this world."

Magical letter..... This is rather troublesome. Besides me, the other fellows didn't learn any letters.

What can I say.....The letters change according to the person. Such is the existence of magical letters.

For example, If I try to read Raphtalia's magic book on illusions, I won't be able to decipher it.

They just become funny words when I translate it.

However, Raphtalia can decipher it and chant the magic.

Though there is a common language for magic letters, it is still impractical, and unless you have an aptitude for it, you cannot use it.

Motoyasu:"Can you read it?"

Naofumi:"All of you relied on the crystal ball that trash gave, while I didn't receive any. I had to learn to read."

Motoyasu:"So what does it say?"

Naofumi:"Lets see....."

I read and try to decipher the inscription.

It is written in unexpectedly simple words.

"The Hero of the Shield.....commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a legend. Enhance everything!"

"Tzuvait • Aura....."

I can use it on someone else. Let's see.....Shall I test it on Firo?

After waving my hand at Firo, she is coated in a film of transparent magic.

Firo:"Wa! Somehow Firo is full of power!"

Firo bounces around.

Even in her human form she jumps very high.

The status screen says that all stats have increased.

Itsuki's companion:"Aura.....Used by the legendary hero. It is an origin magic that raises all abilities."

Mutters one of Itsuki's companions in a quiet voice.

There is such a legend?

Itsuki:"Awesome! We'll learn it too!"

They start trying to read the magic I deciphered together like it's a game.
However.

Itsuki:"Huh.....I can't read it."

Naofumi:"That reminds me, you guys don't know the magic language."

These guys are frustrated, since they learnt magic from the crystal ball easily.

Itsuki:"Naofumi-san"

Itsuki turns to me and calls my name.

Naofumi:"What?"

Itsuki:"When did you get magic language comprehension on your shield?"

Naofumi:"I learnt it myself! Don't depend on your weapon for everything!"

Itsuki:"So stingy!"

Motoyasu: "That's right! Tell us!"

Seriously, these guys.....

It's like they have a problem understanding what I say.

The efforts you put in yourself will show in the power of your weapon.

Naofumi: "I was able to learn aura magic, but that does not necessarily mean you are able to as well."

Itsuki: "If you say so. If that's the case then there should be better magic for us."

He looks offended.

The reason is probably from thinking he is beneath me, even though I told him the truth. He was barely able to do anything against the pope.

He also already lost to me once.

Naofumi: "So where are we going next?"

Hapenburg: "Moving along, there are various inns located at Cal Mira Archipelago and the transportation--"

I will sum up the count's long story.

Since Cal Mira Island is active now, the demons are starting to increase.

Due to the increase in demons, the situation is troubling, so heroes and adventurers are called to subjugate them.

While we take advantage of the situation to raise our levels.

That's why, he would be grateful if we could go get rid of demons as quick as possible.

It is unnecessary for us to yield for any adventurers, but it would still be better to avoid any possible confrontations.

.....Just like manners in a net game.

There is always a small boat ferrying passengers across islands.

Worst case scenario, I should be able to cross it by swimming.

The hotel prepared by the queen was of the highest class.

It is better than all the hotels I've lived in before..... It could even equal the top-class ones in my world.

.....Was this originally a castle or something?

Anyway, it was gorgeous and the atmosphere was nice. The walls are made of marble and shining.

There is a stone statue in the middle that acts as a fountain from my world.

Did I come to Hawaii?

There was a luxurious carpet to walk on as we were guided to our rooms.

The hotel also took responsibility for the luggage and Firo's carriage.

Shadow:"Here is the schedule explaining the upcoming events degojaru."

The shadow that had a familiar speaking pattern was disguised as Melty.

Naofumi:"Melty?"

Firo:"Master~, That's not Melty?"

Shadow:"That's right degojaru."

Naofumi:"You....."

That's a confusing disguise. I seriously thought for a second that Melty came.

I can't even retort at how she was able to change her height.

Shadow: "Right degojaru. I was appointed to exclusively help the Hero of the Shield-dono degojaru."

Naofumi: "I know disguising yourself is your specialty.....But why Melty?"

Shadow: "So that Hero of the Shield-dono will feel at ease degojaru."

Naofumi: "This makes me feel sick instead, so stop it."

Shadow: "Understood degojaru."

The shadow takes off her Melty disguise and returns to her ninja garb. It is disgusting seeing an acquaintance's face getting peeled off.

Naofumi: "Speaking of which.....What's with the way you talk?"

Shadow: "Gojaru?"

Naofumi: "Yea, that."

Shadow: "Just a habit degojaru. I can stop if necessary degojaruyo"

That reminds me, of when I had a bounty, and that villager in disguise helped me.

I didn't notice at all that time.

Shadow: "This is the result of princess Melty enjoying the way I speak, so I was made her exclusive bodyguard degojaruga."

Naofumi: "Ah, well it certainly makes you easier to distinguish from the other shadows."

Shadow: ".....You should not believe you can identify an individual shadow degojaruyo."

What? That is a very suspicious comment. It's like that shadow at the time was a completely different person.

Well, if I think about it, then it would be a problem if a shadow could be identified.

Naofumi:"So you are a different shadow from that one?"

Shadow:"You are mistaken degojaru."

Naofumi:"....."

Pain in the ass-!

Shadow:" I am just warning you not to identify me with just my speaking habits degojaru."

Naofumi:"Whatever."

I don't intend to learn how to tell you all apart either.

What I just learned changed nothing.

Shadow:"Let us continue our talk degojaruka. I will explain our schedule degojaru."

Naofumi:"Ah.....the staff exchange, wasn't every hero's agreement necessary?

Shadow:" Does Hero of the Shield-dono disagree degojaru?

Naofumi:"No, I don't.....It's just."

The other heroes will dislike it.

I don't know about Motoyasu, but Ren and Itsuki seem to have a habit of hiding themselves.

Actually, these guys have no idea of what I was doing

Also during this event an information leak is unlikely.

Shadow:"I have already received the approval of the other Hero-donos degojaru."

Naofumi:"What?"

Shadow:" I said, I have already received their approval degojaruyo."

Naofumi:"I see....."

I am disappointed at how unexpectedly co-operative they are.

Am I just mistaken?

Calm down, I didn't think they would participate.

Shadow:"The queen has dispatched other shadows to reason with the Hero-donos, and get them interested in the strength of Hero of the Shield-dono degojaru."

Naofumi:"Well....."

If I think about it, their companions look down on me. If I perform outstandingly, what would they think?

Though there has to be a fine line while participating, since the cost of the Curse Series is too big.

Shadow:"All the Hero-donos are especially interested in Firo-dono."

Naofumi:"I see."

Firo is certainly extraordinarily strong.

According to Glass's analysis, Firo's strength rivals Ren's, there is also her movement speed and magic.

Firo:"Fue?"

Firo who was dozing off beside me, wakes up and looks at me sleepily.

I mean.....All of those guys are interested in Firo.....

That's a little irritating.

As expected, it must be a misunderstanding.

Naofumi:"And? What time will the staff and information exchange take place?"

Shadow:"I asked each Hero-dono degojaruka. For some reason all of the Hero-donos besides Hero of the Shield-dono wants to do the staff exchange earlier degojaru."

Naofumi:".....Is information exchange unnecessary?"

I wanted to hear more about the Cal Mira Island's surroundings.....Though It doesn't feel good to ask those guys.

Naofumi:"I would like to exchange information first, some complications might pop-up. Is this request acceptable?"

Shadow:"It should be fine since the information exchange is done on the day of the staff exchange dogojaru."

Naofumi:"Understood. So how many days are we staying here?"

Shadow:"The whole trip is twelve days. Half of that will be the staff exchange degojaru. If Hero of the Shield-dono desires it, the staff exchange can happen immediately degojaru."

Naofumi:"Well..... it's a bit early at the moment."

Shadow: "Time is being wasted you know degojaru."

Naofumi: ".....We just received a sightseeing tour a while ago."

Shadow: " Can't be helped degojaru. Since Hero of the Shield-dono still has many things that you don't know degojaru. I will explain as best as I can degojaru."

The shadow's long story goes like this.

It seems that the staff change includes everyone, but it's only the hero that moves.

How the rotation works is, first I change with Motoyasu, second Ren, and third Itsuki. Raphtalia and them don't move.

Naofumi: "What kind of punishment game is this to be with Bitch right off the bat?"

Shadow: " Half a day has already passed since our arrival degojaru. Please consider carefully degojaru."

Indeed, the time spent with Bitch and her party will be shortest.

I need to think properly.

Naofumi: " Then I'm off. You guys do your best too."

As I walk to the door I pay attention to Raphtalia and Firo.

Our party will be temporarily disbanded. Well, it's fine since they are slaves.

Raphtalia: "Okay....."

Raphtalia nods uneasily, and Firo doesn't seem to understand what is happening.

Naofumi:"You guys are going to Motoyasu. Be careful. That fellow thinks with the lower half of his body. You must never permit it. Firo, if that guy causes a problem just kick him away."

Firo:"Okay~"

Raphtalia:"Naofumi-sama.....I expected it but....."

Raphtalia seems to be a little restless.

Speaking of which, the Hero of the Spear has been our enemy until now. Maybe that guy is trembling in excitement.

It seems reconciliation with that guy is impossible for now.

Let's try to endure and befriend Motoyasu for now while analysing him.

Shadow:"Then I'll guide you degojaru."

With an uneasy feeling that I can't get rid of.....I headed out.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 84 – Cal Mira Island Jinx – Origin Story

---

「This room is where the Hero of the Spear's party is staying」

After saying that, the shadow abruptly disappeared.

It's probably standing guard somewhere, but……for what?

I have no reason to be polite to Bitch so suddenly opening the door is an option, but I'll knock anyway.

「……」

There's no reply.

When I enter the room there's a super displeased Bitch chatting with 2 other women.

「——and then」

「Got it— ? 」

Somehow, they feel like easy women. Not really a type I like.

She closely resembles what in my world would be called a stupid woman, the loose kind that prostitutes and sits cross-legged on the ground.

To not even respond to a knock.

We have fought before, but after all this bitch really is detestable.

「Hey」

When I speak Motoyasu's women glance at me with a mocking expression.

「I'm the one who ended up partying with you until tomorrow evening in this comrade exchange, the Hero of the Shield」

For the time being I introduced myself, since this type of woman nags about every bit of rudeness.

Frankly, I want to return quickly.

「There, you guys say something as well」

I'll be careful to not be made into a laughing-stock.

「Don't wanna—……」

「Right—……」

「Tch ! 」

They sure have quite an attitude.

Bitch even had the nerve to click her tongue.

Hmm ? When I look closely Bitch's equipment looks good now.

Aah, Motoyasu must've bought it for her.

Meh I guess it's fine.

Do I have to spend another day and a half with this bitch?

Give me a break.

「Then it's sudden, but we're going monster exterminating right now」

「 「Eh～」 」

The women other than Bitch let out a stupid sounding voice. Bitch on the other hand ignores me.

I also don't want to talk with this person. Each of us ignoring the other is probably best.

「Let us relax a bit」

「Yeah yeah」

「Yeah yeah. Why not do it yourself——」

This is bothersome. Monster hunting is being put off…….

「That would be a problem」

There's a voice coming from the wall.

……Haa.

「And, this is instructions from the country. If you disregard I wonder what will happen to your beloved Hero of the Spear's standing…… ? 」

After my reply, the women reluctantly stand up and start getting ready.
Name……I wasn't told but oh well. In the first place I don't want to know.
After all, it's absolutely impossible for me to ever travel together with these bitches after this.

「I'm sending a party invitation」

To invite to a party.

While I made a really annoyed face, the women were of the same opinion.

Shadow: 「First after shopping head to the place for entering」

With a clink a bag of money falls into my hand.

……Just where is Shadow hiding?

Just in case I check the money in the bag and there is quite an amount.
With this I can live a week let alone 2 days.

「This time if you show up at the harbor the ferry will agree to transport you this time」

「Yeah yeah」

I disliked being together with this person for even one second, so I quickly left the room.

I walk around the marketplace at Cal Mira Island's harbor.

I have to go shopping, but what would be good to buy ?

equipment ?

supplies ?

Stuff like potions and healing items ?

And, when I look away for a bit Motoyasu's women are happily shopping at a store that sells accessories.

「Hey Hero of the Shield—」

They seem to be beckoning me in a fawning voice.

It's an annoying attitude. Just being with them gives me a stomachache.

「……what ? 」

「I want you to buy this necklace—」

「Why would I」

「Motoyasu would buy it—」

「I'm not Motoyasu. Why do I have to buy it for someone like you」

「If you're not a bit nice even the shield will anger people, no ? 」

Bitch said as if she's making fun of me.

Just how belligerent is this bitch.

But, she makes a point.

Would it be bad if I didn't even appear to try getting along…… ?

Even if I'm approached I don't need something like Motoyasu's used women.

In the end I'm just a money source for shopping anyway……right.

While thinking that, I checked out the accessories' price tag and all such thoughts vanished.

Expensive !

「What's this ! 」

No matter what this is too expensive.

I glared at the merchant: it was such a price tag that I forgot about the women in my want to yell at him not to underestimate peddling so much. If it was just the twice the market price I can stand it as a peculiarity of a tourist highlight.

But, what is four times for.

「Hey」

「Yes. What is it ? 」

「No matter what isn't this too expensive ? 」

I snatch and point at the necklace Motoyasu's used women wanted.

Dummy sapphire necklace (mp+)

quality poor→ (concealed) →normal

If it was Melromarc's currency it would be priced dirt cheap as an inferior good.

On top of that, just a glance would reveal that he's attempting to make it seem normal.

Even if he's working a fraud there are still limits.

It's 4 times a price that would get you change even for a high quality good.

Even if he's underestimating me this is too much.

Looking at his other goods, they were all fakes as well.

「This is an archipelago separated from the continent; it's only normal for prices to be a bit high」

「A bit? Even though you're going to the extent of fraud and putting these inferior goods out for sale」

「……I'm running a business after all. When you consider this is a tourist spot, of course it becomes pricey」

This merchant, he plans to feign innocence.

The look in his eyes is disturbing.

He probably thinks he's just dealing with a normal claimer or something like that so he tries to shoo me away.

I have no choice.

「I happen to know a guy like this」

I show him the accessory merchant's introduction letter.

That accessory merchant seems to be quite famous in this neighborhood, so it might be helpful.

That merchant, he acted like he was ignoring me, but he snuck glances at the letter turning paler with each one.

「I think I'll turn this into a story. I'll make sure to remember you」

「P-please wait」

He came out of the store at an amazing speed and started groveling at my feet.

「What ? I'm busy you know?」

「Looking closely I got the price wrong! I'll sell it at the correct price, so please wait a moment!」

「No no, there's no need to fix it. I'm just going to tell him a story after all」

「Well, just wait a second! I'll offer it 30% off」

「30% off that price is still…」

「Of course, it's 30% off the normal price ! 」

「No……don't want it」

「Please wait! I'll make it fi, no 60% off」

「That accessory merchant, where did he go again—」

「Se, 70%——」

「Wasn't it a trader's guild ? 」

「E, 80%——」

「To have even have been using fraud to sell low quality work at 4 times the market price——」

「There! I won't lower it past 90% off ! 」

Well, this is about right.

「Bought」

In business using connections, as well as threats and a danger to one's life, is the best way to make money. If the accessory merchant heard this guy is selling these kind of fakes, he'd definitely be shut down.

No matter what, this merchant was underestimating business. This amount of punishment is about right.

「It's not like I'm telling you to sell it cheap for little profit though. The ones who would be troubled would be merchants, including you」

Someone else who can also force him to sell far below the market price can deal with it after all.

If these guys pretended to be nice it would cause deflation. It's not always best to make stuff cheap.

If you try to sell something over-priced, it's no good unless there's something to attract customers.

It's normal to mark-up prices because the sight-seeing area is so far from the mainland. Furthermore, looking around it seems nobody else is trying to sell genuine accessories.

I don't know if this guy is chasing competition out, or possibly crushing them though.

That's why even though prices are so high people have to buy.

And as a result, the merchant guild's reputation drops.

「Just make it so as long as they earn money your customers will happily pay you large amounts of money」

「Meaning ? 」

「Just think about it, this place is in the middle of the activation period right ? 」

「Yeah……」

「Just spread this kind of rumor. If you wear accessories made from this island's ore then lvling up will be easier」

「Huh ? 」

「You don't understand ? You'll put a jinx which has no practical effect on the accessories. And then what ? People aiming to lvl up will come buy an accessory here for good luck」

「I see ! 」

At the least, that's how I made money until now.

If I hear medicine is wanted I come sell it, if herbicide is wanted I come sell it, and if food is needed I come sell it.

The price was high, but most people smiled as they paid me.

In other words, when the price is high the customers' satisfaction is much more important than when it's low.

Hearing my idea the merchant stands up and clenches his fist tightly in comprehension.

「You got the rest right ? You just have to sell it expensively while warning whether it helps or not depends on oneself. With just this they'll be happy to pay. Then if you spread rumors about how much of an effect it had on the customer who bought it smiling, more customers will come」

The probability it will go perfectly is very low, but the first part will likely succeed.

That it's in the activation period mean experience points are increased. Even though if lvling up goes faster than usual it is because of the activation period, people will think maybe the accessories' rumors are true. Afterwards observing the numbers and ability of the incoming adventurers will cause wishful thinking.

「I will go get to work immediately ! 」

The shopkeeper gave me the necklace, closed the store, and started to work.

「Fuu」

I did a good job.

The necklace was obtained for practically nothing.

「Here, you wanted it right」

When I tried to give Motoyasu's women the necklace they backed away.

「To get a discount you suck」

「Unbelievable」

「What were you thinking」

Kuh !

As blood rushed to my head, My mouth opened involuntarily.

「……Don't you hate how you were fooled like a complete idiot ! 」

Annoying !

Such annoying people.

What the heck were they thinking to buy something that expensive without haggling.

At the least I did nothing wrong.

It's a good plan: the shopkeeper can profit and his customers will be happy.

「 「 「As expected the shield is the worst」 」 」

What's the worst.

If you don't think before you do you'll spend money like water !

Motoyasu's women kept grumbling about my haggling as we left the town behind us.

「You're the worst ! Fine. You'll get what you asked for! I'll show you hell ! Wrath Shield——」

(Shadow) 「Calm down ! Hero of the Shield ! The Hero of the Spear's companions will die if you do that ! 」

「Let! Me! Go ! I can't kill them like this can I ! 」

「I came out to stop that from happening ! 」

The fact Shadow appeared and calmed my rage is of no importance.

Ever since this personnel exchange started I wanted to return.

That Motoyasu, just what's fun about being friendly with these kind of guys.

I can't understand that guy's crotch at all.

Shit ! Won't it end soon.

I don't care about lvling anymore, so let's find a way to quickly make now become tomorrow's evening.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 85 – The Companions of the Spear Hero

---

After getting off the ship, and passing through a hot spring, we arrived at the demon's habitat

Now then, let's hurry up and level with Motoyasu's women so we can go home.....

Naofumi: "I want you guys to understand that your non-cooperative attitude isn't going to work, you are forced to help because I am a hero."

Bitch: "I don't need you tell me."

Woman 1: "Are you an idiot?"

Naofumi: ".....You guys are the fools."

Good grief, Why do I have to put with these goddamn women to go demon hunting?.....

We are currently in the middle of a Level grinding event.

I saw several adventurers fighting demons here and there.

This event feels very similar to ones in net games on Earth.

Well, the problem is with my companions.

Naofumi: "Hmm....."

This area is inhabited by Violet Blobs, Magenta Frogs, Yellow Beetles, and Cactus worms.

They don't seem very strong.

As I was analysing the area, a Magenta Frog jumps out of a bush to attack us.

Naofumi:"Yotto."

I hit the Magenta Frog's stomach in mid-air with my shield.

With a splat, the Magenta frog stuck to my shield.

Naofumi:"Hey"

I give instructions to Motoyasu's women.

Bitch:"What do you want?"

Naofumi:"Use your sword or magic to fight."

Bitch:"I know!"

Good grief, if you know then why are you making me explain.

Bitch:"Fire Slash!"

Bitch's sword erupts in flame as she recites her magic.

The fire shoots out from the tip of the sword and tears the Magenta Frog apart.

95 Exp acquired.

Hmm.....As expected, the strength to experience ratio is very good.

Naofumi:"Now then,for the time being, let's hunt properly."

Bitch:".....fine."

Naofumi:"Good grief."

There is a limit to being uncooperative. Irresponsible participating is fine to some extent, but.....

No matter how much I think about it, there is no way they can become strong like this.

Naofumi:"Truthfully, I cannot attack on my own-"

Bitch:"Right. So lame."

Naofumi:".....Mu!"

Who the hell is lame!?

Naofumi:"That reminds me, isn't your hero just a fool who thinks with his lower half and chases any women?"

Bitch:"What are you saying! Are you going to insult Motoyasu-sama!?"

Naofumi:"Am I wrong? If I am wrong then tell me how you usually fight."

Bitch:"Fine, I'll teach you."

Bitch, Woman 1, and Woman 2. These are Motoyasu's companions.

Woman 1 uses a sword and seems strong. I can see that her reflexes are good. She is the one who Raphtalia stabbed. Her hair is brown and medium length.

Woman 2's facial expressions constantly change, and she has a rod. Is she in charge of magic?

There hasn't been any magic support so far.....How do they usually fight?

When it was Bitch's turn she just disregards her explanation and says.

Bitch:"Our job is to support Motoyasu-sama in an emergency."

Naofumi:"What!?"

I yelled unintentionally.

What the hell is this bitch saying?

Woman2:"Other than that, Mal.....Whore-sama instructs us to cover Motoyasu-sama with magic."

Naofumi:".....You don't fight?"

Woman2:"I'll fight if there is a melee. But, Motoyasu-sama protects us so that won't happen."

Protecting them.....

I have a headache.

In other words, while Motoyasu fights, these women just sit back and cheer him on?

Occasionally supporting with magic.....All the fighting is done by Motoyasu?

Woman1:"That's pretty much it. Sometimes I cut up weak demons with my sword, while she sometimes uses magic."

Naofumi:"What about Whore?"

Woman1:" Whore-sama burns them."

Other than the small fries left for the women, Motoyasu mows down all the stronger enemies.

That's like a Princess play in Net Games.....

Oh wait, Bitch used to be a princess.

Bitch:"Motoyasu-sama would always say to us:"Levelling up through such dirty methods does not suit cuties like you."

Woman1:"Therefore, our fight is to support and restore his spirit."

Woman2:"Right! So I put my efforts in cleaning equipment and learning support magic."

Bitch:"It is our duty to heal Motoyasu-sama's spirits afterwards. Every minute and every second of our attention is focused on Motoyasu-sama."

.....Feels disgusting.

I just imagine them behind me.

These women are strong enough to kick around the demons around here..... If they were to participate, would Motoyasu even need to fight?

Woman1:" I hope that Motoyasu-sama would rely on us a little."

Woman2:"Right. However, even without our power as support,he is cool."

Bitch:"Yeah, completely different from the Shield who cannot do anything at all, and has to rely on his companions."

Everytime Bitch opens her mouth she compares me to Motoyasu.

Naofumi:"Is that right!? But, right now you are hunting demons with me. I don't know about Motoyasu, but you have to attack for me."

Bitch:".....You suck."

Naofumi:"You're the one who sucks!"

Good greif, does Motoyasu actually enjoy accompanying these three parasites?

Bitch:"Motoyasu-sama would help us attack theses demons."

Woman1:"He really is wonderful!"

All 3: ""I know right~""

Bitch: "How can the shield compare? Forcing us to stay and defeat demons for him."

All 3: ""I know right~""

Annoying!

I want to return already!

What is wrong with these girls.

Anyway, they are just putting on appearances for Motoyasu.

Something like.....

Wonderful! Hold me! Like that?

I can never understand the charm of such sluts.

To me it's like, they become the background.

Suddenly a strong demon appears and I take the lead to engage it!

A figure fighting with wind and flying freely comes to mind.

I mean, why am I being severely criticized here?

It's probably just Bitch and her followers, that influenced Motoyasu in the first place.

Feels disgusting.

At least, Bitch, Woman 1, and Woman 2 are fighting with the demon as per my instructions.

I cannot fight.

However.....Bitch keeps chanting magic and discontinuing it.

Somehow.....It's like she is waiting for something.

I'm trying to think of a what, but.....

And so, with these feelings 30 minutes has passed. I wonder where shadow went.

As I engage a demon with my shield, and wait for support magic to come.

"I am the next queen who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. Target him and-"

""I am one who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature--""

As they chant an unusually strong spell is about to be activated, Shadow instantly appears behind Bitch and puts a knife to her throat.

Bitch:"Hie!?"

Shadow:"Whore-dono and companions, your magic is giving off too much blood-thirst dogojaruyo."

Bitch:"W-We did not do anything. Just co-operating with the shield."

Shadow:"That's not what it looks like degojaru."

Naofumi:"What's wrong?"

Bitch stops her magic as Shadow watches her closely.

Shadow:"A while ago I heard her muttering to herself degojaru."

Naofumi:"And? Did you understand it?"

Shadow:"I did degojaru."

Naofumi:"What was it?"

Shadow: "Seems to be about investigating the limits of the slave crest degojaru."

Naofumi: "Ah.....I see."

There were several conditions on the slave crest that prevent certain actions.

I understand because I tried it with Raphtalia and Firo.

Since Raphtalia is strong, it occasionally went off when she was overly familiar with me.

Forgetting about the mark is easy since I don't use it.

Shadow: "The queen does not use contract slaves deogjarukara. She seems to be searching for a loop-hole degojarou."

The queen's conditions. Possibly.....

I recall the conditions the queen set up.

"The condition is attacking Iwatani-sama. Whether by direct attack with magic or indirect attack with poison, nothing is allowed!"

An attack aimed at me.....If there was one.....

Naofumi: "Were they targeting the demon with magic while I was in the way, so that the attack would hit me?"

Shadow: "That is correct degojaru."

Bitch: "Y-you're wrong!"

Shadow: "Then why did you stop and move to cancel your spells earlier degojaru?"

Bitch:"Th-That is because.....It was not to involve the shield in anything!"

What a desperate excuse.

Woman1&2:"That's right! We just cast magic according to the Shield's instructions!"

Shadow:"That spell I stopped earlier was at full power degojaruna."

Bitch:"There was no other way to defeat the demon!"

I wonder.....

In fact, not even 5 Cactus Worms can wound me a little.

Frankly, they are all small fries.

They would instantly become Firo's food.

Shadow:"It doesn't hurt for Hero of the Shield-dono degojaru?"

Naofumi:"Not at all."

Shadow:"Quite sturdy deogjaruna....."

Shadow just said something in a goofy voice.

Shadow:"Anyway, it doesn't seem like you are reflecting degojaruna."

Bitch:"I didn't know!"

Bitch has been completely seen through.

Shadow leaks a sigh.

Shadow:"Can't be helped degojaruna."

She extends her index finger and activates a status magic.

Bitch's slave crest appears.

Bitch:"Eh!? Why!?"

Shadow:"The queen has entrusted former princess Bitch's slave control to me degojaru."

Well, that's just how it is.

Bitch:"Kyaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

The pattern glows and Bitch rolls on the floor in pain.

Seriously.....To do something so stupid.

Woman 1 and 2 are pale as they watch.

Shadow:"I hope you understand degojaruka, treat Hero-dono with respect, or else I'll punish you until you understand degojaruyo. After, I'll notify the queen degojaru."

Bitch:"Th-That's--"

Shadow:"If you understand then obediently listen to Hero of the Shield-dono degojaruyo."

The women held their breath.

A minute of punishment is not enough. I am also reaching my limits.

Naofumi:"Shadow."

Shadow:" What degojaru?"

Naofumi:"I am reaching the limits of my patience."

Shdaow:"....."

Shadow seems to think about my promise with the queen anxiously.

Naofumi:"Shadow, please remove all prohibitions on Bitch temporarily."

Shadow:"I have to report what you do to the former princess you know degojaru?"

Naofumi:"Yeah, I know. Hey, Bitch. You really want to kill me? I'll keep you company. Let's not play with unnecessary strategies."

Bitch:"Ku....."

As the restraints from the slave crest are lifted, Bitch stares at me with intense hatred.

Naofumi:"Hey, Bring it."

If you attack in close proximity I'll burn you with Wrath Shield.

Naofumi:"Ah, just Bitch. Hey guys,just watch."

Woman 1:"Ah, sure....."

Woman 2:"O-Okay."

Woman 1 and 2 nod and withdraw.

Bitch:"I'll absolutely kill you with this!"

While glaring at me, Bitch doesn't even conceal her killing intent and activates her magic.

"I am the next queen who commands the origin of power. I have read and deciphered a law of nature. Burn him to a crisp with the fires of hell!"

That magic.....Well, it's an appropriate selection. It's probably Bitch's strongest magic.

Now then, I wonder what magic will shoot out.

"Doraifa • Hellfire!"

Bitch summons a gigantic fireball in front of her.

Bitch:"Dieeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeee!"

I prepare my shield to catch the fireball speeding towards me.

Naofumi:"Are you a retard? Your strongest magic is only this---What!?"

Bitch:"Uuaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

The ball of flame hits my shield and just like a baseball against a bat, it's shot back at Bitch.

Until now, fighting in various ways and gaining experience, I have discovered that receiving magic at a specific angle deflects it.

So I thought it might be possible to reflect it back at the opponent.

That retard, shooting magic in a straight line, caused me to remember about it.

Bitch:"St-Stay away-----gyaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!"

Bitch is swallowed by the flames and throws herself on the ground to roll.

Naofumi:"Hahaha, you burn well!"

This is refreshing. Watching Bitch struggle.

Oh man. I wasn't content when the queen selfishly imposed penalties.

Finally I punished her with my own hands.

Woman2:"Mal.....Bitch-sama!"

Woman2 casts water magic to put out Bitch.

Woman2:"Raising your hand against a girl, you are the worst!"

Naofumi:"You reap what you sow right? She wasn't even thinking about her magic getting rebounded."

Woman 2 applies healing magic on Bitch to heal her wounds.

Well, there's no way that can be cured easily.

Shadow:"Now then, I will impose the penalty degojaru."

Bitch:"GyaaaGuuuuuuuuuuuuuuu!"

Bitch rolls over from the double whammy slave crest and the burns.

Woman2:"Wait a minute, this is too cruel!"

Shadow:"Punishment is punishment degojaru. Furthermore, I will notify Hero of the Spear-dono to increase the penalties degojaru, Prepare yourself degojaruyo."

Woman2:"Unbelievable!"

Naofumi:"Well then, shall we continue hunting?"

Woman2:"Who would follow you!?"

Woman2 shoulders Bitch and leaves without permission.

Naofumi:"Sure. Go away!"

This was completely her fault. Shadow seems to understand and speaks in a delicate voice.

Shadow:"The queen expected something like this degojaruga.....At least this much."

Naofumi:"By the way, since they are useless now, shall we kill some time together?"

Shadow:".....Haah. I understand degojaru. I am a poor substitution, but I will co-operate with Hero of the Shield-dono degojaruyo."

Naofumi:"Oh? You're going to help?"

Shadow:"If such a situation was to happen, I was ordered to assist degojaru."

Naofumi:"You are quite prepared."

Could have prevented this from even happening.....

In the first place, was exchanging parties even necessary?

Woman1:" Hey....."

My shoulder was tapped as I was talking to shadow.

Naofumi:"Hm?"

When I turn around I see Woman 1 with her arms crossed unpleasantly.

Naofumi:"What's wrong? You didn't return?"

Woman1:"Return? Don't joke around. That would trouble Motoyasu-sama."

Naofumi:"Ehh....."

Somehow she seems to be strong-minded, I don't think she would return even if she hated it.

Compared to Bitch and Woman 2, it looks like she has a sense of responsibility,.

Woman1:" Haah.....It was a lot to stand, trying to match up to those children."

Woman1 declares unpleasantly while scratching her head.

What's that?

Woman1:"Don't misunderstand alright? I still hate the Hero of the Shield."

Naofumi:"I was just wondering if you were like those foolish women, you seem to be a bit different."

Woman1:".....That's rude. I am honest to myself. I don't want to fight, and if possible I would like to live luxuriously. The mission of Heroes or the World's fate doesn't matter to me."

Naofumi:"I agree with that."

If I could I would instantly throw out such a mission. In fact, I would rather not participate in the wave at all.

Woman1:"Do you understand? If I return here, it would be impossible to live luxuriously."

Naofumi:"You are very calculative."

Woman1:"You're annoying. I love taking it easy in the shadow of someone strong. But that's it."

Naofumi:"And what's the reason for not returning?"

Woman1:" You are strong as well. Though I hate it, I will follow you."

Knitting her eyebrows in seriousness Woman 1 answers unpleasantly.

Woman1:" I do not discriminate against the strong."

Naofumi:'What strange logic."

Woman1:"Don't say that. So what now. I didn't cause any problems. So my stock with Motoyasu-sama should go up. I would rather not be in the same position as that parasitic princess."

I see.

They exist in my world as well. This fellow.

The women getting involved in delinquent groups in school, following those who are strong. Probably.

Following the leader around, receiving the overflow.

Generally the types to think in the long-term and take it easy.

Since I am Japanese, I can understand to some extent.

Woman1:"I think that former princess would abandon Motoyasu-sama at a suitable time. I don't think Motoyasu-sama likes troublesome women, and there will be a limit to how much he can cherish women."

There is a possibility that Motoyasu would trust those that didn't cause problems over the ones that do.

As for Motoyasu's part, Bitch seems to be at the top of the pecking order. Is she aiming for an usurpation?

Woman1:" My father is a noble who earned his rank by distinguishing himself in the military, and my mother is the daughter of a merchant who made a fortune in business. When you haggled to buy that accessory I was amazed. Though it is the worse to haggle using blackmail when buying something for a girl."

Naofumi:"Yeah yeah."

Let's just disregard it, because I'm getting angry just remembering.

Woman1:"I also understand the point of this. I will analyse how the Hero of the Shield fights and report to Motoyasu-sama everything."

Naofumi:".....You really are aiming for being the best."

Woman1:"Let's leave it at that. Let's resume hunting quickly."

I have no choice but to change my evaluation of Woman 1.

She is calculating, but unlike Bitch she doesn't seem to gain pleasure from looking down on others.

I'm thinking about Bitch again.

I feel she can be trusted in business. I don't want to trust as a friend though.

Naofumi: "Well the headcount is the same as before. Shadow, do you accept?"

Shadow: "I understand degojaruyo....."

I send a party invitation to Shadow and remove Woman 2 and Bitch. Thus we resume our demon extermination.

Woman 1 was a magic warrior so she could fight up close or far away.

Shadow is a very swift attacker. As expected of this country's assassination corps, quite strong.

By the way, they are not slaves so I cannot see their status or levels, so I can't tell what level they are.

Woman1: "You really are sturdy. I am surprised at how different you fight compared to Motoyasu-sama."

Woman 1 says while defeating a demon.

From the conversation a while ago, I know that they only cheer on Motoyasu from the rear.

Woman1: "However..... That Raccoon woman is reliable."

Raccoon woman.....Raphtalia?

If she hears that then she would probably make a delicate expression.

By the way, Woman 1 is good at using me as a shield.

She observes the demons well, and uses adjusts in battle, she is accustomed to fighting.

The way she is pushing everything on me while fighting is pretty efficient, compared to Raphtalia and Firo who try to do everything themselves.

It's not a good feeling when pressed against a demon though.

However, she is not as good at ranged, she is distracted while chanting magic. Shadow had to defend her several times.

Demons are defeated, dismantled, and absorbed into the shield.

Woman1:"Hooh..... You can absorb the dismantled demons into your weapon?"

Naofumi:"Motoyasu doesn't know about it?"

Woman1:"He doesn't do it usually. Only on big game, like a Chimera or a strong demon."

Motoyasu should have absorbed some demon parts into his spear.....Does he not bother with meat and bone?

But, that doesn't really make sense.

I have unsealed most of the basic shields. Therefore, my ability has risen considerably.

The Meat system is inferior to the Bone system if released.

That must be why I cannot beat Motoyasu unless I use the Wrath Shield.

Of course, it could also be due to the fact that I started leveling late, but I can feel the difference between Motoyasu and my basic specs.

The same could be said for Ren and Itsuki.

It is funny that I thought the shield was weak a while ago.

At least in present conditions, the shield isn't inferior to any of the other weapons.

Or is it because in-game terms, we are still in the early stages?

.....I don't know.

Naofumi:"Oh right, there was something I wanted to ask."

Woman1:"What is it?"

Naofumi:"Were you Motoyasu's first party member?"

For some reason that memory is very vague.

But if I remember correctly, then it wasn't her.

Woman1:"No I'm not."

Naofumi:"Ah, is that so?"

Woman1:"I joined Motoyasu-sama one week after I started adventuring.

When I entered the only other man in the party left."

Naofumi:" I see."

Woman1:"The former princess and her lackey tormented him until he left.

Anyone who joined after me was antagonized."

I see, if you don't pretend to be stupid then Bitch would torment you until you disappear.

What an unpleasant party managed by women.

Are real harems like that?

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 86 – Murmurs

---

We returned to the main island after hunting all day, and Shadow guided us back to the hotel.

I took a bath in the hot springs provided by the hotel.

Naofumi: "Fuu....."

Today's results. 4 Levels. 10 new Shields, all of them increasing stats.

Honestly, the only word I have for the efficiency is delicious. As expected, the activation period is astonishing.

At this rate, when we leave the island, we will have gotten considerably stronger.

That reminds me, Woman 1 said something about Motoyasu's women only party.

Ones who joined along the way, and did not fit in were chased out.

Woman 1 noticed this from the start and played dumb.

Originally, Bitch was one of Motoyasu's first four companions. Where did the remaining three go?

Where did that man go anyway. Maybe he joined Ren or Itsuki.

Shadow: "How is the water's temperature degojaru?"

Naofumi: "....."

Shadow's voice could be heard in the men's bath.

Where is it coming from? Where are you?

Shadow: "Even if you look, you won't find me you know degojaruyo."

Naofumi: "Are you a man?"

Shadow: "Secret degojaru."

Naofumi: "....."

Shadow: "The queen has assigned me to ask about the situation of your curse and its recovery degojaruyo."

Naofumi: "Well, there is a light prickling, but other than that I feel nothing."

When I look at my status, I can see that the stats are returning one by one.....I don't really mind either way.

Taking a leisurely bath isn't too bad either.

Hot spring therapy is also something I was looking forward to.

I look at the dimly lit area.

The hot springs that I entered remind me of ones made in ancient Rome.

Is it bad that I was expecting a Japanese-style hot spring?

Naofumi: "Hey, Shadow."

Shadow: "What degojaru?"

Naofumi: "The way you talk, and the way you dress is very similar to something called a ninja in my world."

Shadow: "That might be the case degojaruna."

What?

Shadow: "This is a secret matter, but it is fine for the Hero of the Shield to hear degojaruna. Us shadows, are a culture taken from the east degojaru. Therefore, we are an existence that can be called both assassins and ninjas degojarushi. We are also knowledgeable about the East degojaruyo."

Naofumi:"Hmmm....."

The East huh.....That reminds me, the Old Man from the weapon shop said he apprenticed there.

Are they Japanese-styled?

Or something Japanese like in this strange world. Something that reminds me of a game.

Naofumi:"Do you guys know how the East design their hot springs?"

Just recalling it makes me nostalgic.

I want to enjoy a Japanese-styled hotspring, since up until now, it has only been western-style baths.

Shadow:"The design you are speaking of is available on the main island degojaruyo."

Naofumi:"I see, I'll be looking forward to it."

It is also my job to relax in a hotspring.

After staying in the hotspring for a long time, I returned to my room and the day was over.

The next day.

I feel refreshed since I rested plenty last night.

Since Firo and Raphtalia are always there and making noise. Last night was very quiet.

Now that I think about it, how are they doing.....?

Staying together with Motoyasu who can only think with his lower half.

.....I hope there will be no big problems.

If there is a problem, do I have Shadow deal with it?

Woman1:"What are we doing today?"

Just as I finished breakfast at the hotel, Woman 1 talks to me.

Naofumi:"We'll hunt until noon, and then head back to the main island."

Woman1:"Ah, understood."

To raise our levels, Shadow and Woman 1 helped me defeat demons until noon.

For lunch I made sandwiches for Shadow and Woman1 with ingredients taken from the hotel.

Shadow:"Since I am working, I cannot eat degojaru."

Naofumi:"I see."

Woman1:"Then, I'll take it....."

Woman 1 takes the sandwich and eats it.

Woman1:"Nn.....Quite skilled. Why don't you open a shop?"

Naofumi:"Everybody who ate my cooking said the same."

I'd rather not elaborate on how something so simple can taste delicious.....I don't even know myself, but the food is delicious so it's fine. Might be the cooking skill from the Shield.

Woman1:"Motoyasu-sama would occasionally cook for us too.....Nevermind its nothing."

Ah, Motoyasu can cook, does it not taste good?

Is it the handsome appeal?

It seems that men who can cook in Motoyasu's world are popular.

Somehow, that fellow makes me think of French pasta.

Popular with women and cool.

Oh right, since we are in the Southern-like Cal Mira Island, will he have surfing as a hobby?

No way, before that fellow came here, Net Gaming was his hobby.

Now that I think about it, why does that fellow play Net Games as a hobby?

Well there is no way I can find out at the moment.

Every since he got here he has been trying to make a harem.

Seems difficult.

Especially since there was a man in his party.

Oops, did I say that out loud?

Naofumi:"That reminds me,yesterday you said there was a man in Motoyasu's party."

Woman1:"Yes. In fact, after I joined two other men also did."

Naofumi:"Motoyasu had that many replacements? All I know is that including Bitch, there should also be a man and four other women."

Woman1:"Eh~, when I entered there was 5 women and two men."

Naofumi:"Hey.....That's a lot."

Woman1:"After I entered, several of the members got replaced repeatedly. Though there hasn't been a new member for a while now."

In short, Bitch was driving away the women with insidious harassment, while the men were disgusted with Motoyasu's flirting and left.

That seemed to be a common occurrence.

.....Whatever.

Naofumi:"Seems troublesome with that fellow."

Woman1:"Not really. I just play along with princess Bitch, and watch Motoyasu-sama fight. Besides, I can be extravagant, and get free experience. To me, that place is like heaven."

Naofumi:".....That's fine then. As long as you are okay with it."

Woman1:"Well, feels like it will become dangerous soon. So I came here to investigate the secrets of the Shield to help Motoyasu-sama get stronger. Recently, there hasn't been much growth so I wondered if there was something to learn here. Plus, it's also for beating that disgusting princess Bitch. Once that is done and I become Motoyasu-sama's favourite, I will take it easy."

Those are some amazing lines.

If Raphtalia thought about such things, I don't think I could recover.

Though it's not my problem, I feel a little pity for Motoyasu.

Naofumi:"Are you fine with saying that to me?"

This girl, complaining to me because her companions aren't here. She is troublesome in a different manner compared to the hysterical Bitch. I mean, I am the Hero of the Shield, why do I have to listen to complaints from Motoyasu's party.
.....Though I can't really complain since I have learnt various things from our talk.

Woman1:"Can't be helped. When you purchased that poor quality necklace, my opinion of you changed."

Naofumi:"You'll have to excuse me then. You knew the quality and still had me buy it.

Woman1:"I guess. Haah.....Motoyasu-sama's power comes from the kingdom, he doesn't attach any strings to the gold he gives out. Ah, I want to live luxuriously."

Naofumi:"Hey.....your family's social standing is pretty good, why are you sticking to Motoyasu? Wouldn't it be safer to live luxuriously away from this?"

There should have been a few life or death situations.However, she is still sticking with him.

Well, nothing will change even if I do find out.

Woman1:"My father is annoying since he is a Hero devotee. Frankly, living with my parents is uncomfortable. My mother does business, and if I stop being the companion of a hero, I would probably be married to some noble, or knight, and help my mother out in business. I can't take it easy there."

Naofumi:"Why are you telling me this?"

Woman1:"Do you think Motoyasu-sama would believe anything you say?"

Naofumi:"No way."

Woman1:"See? Though I did almost die. If I stick with him and raise my Level, then the rest should be easier."

True, I remember the time before the Four Heroes, namely us were just summoned.

The wave suddenly happened, families were lost, and orphans were sold into slavery.

If you are with a Hero then Class Up is free, and there are few humans above level 40. Isn't it a great deal?

Though I smell trouble in the future.

Woman1:"Well, Motoyasu-sama is not just a Hero, his face is also to my preference."

Naofumi:"Yeah yeah. That reminds me, Shadow."

Shadow:"What degojaru?"

Naofumi:"Are my companions being guarded?"

Shadow:"Of course degojaru. Nothing bad will happen to them degojaru."

Naofumi:"I'm just afraid of Motoyasu becoming a wolf."

Woman1:"Ah.....That's possible....."

Woman 1 recalls Motoyasu's nature and nods indifferently.

Your adverse nodding makes me more anxious.....

Woman1:"However, That girl's behaviour seems stiff,and I don't understand the bird."

Naofumi:"Raphtalia? That fellow doesn't match her looks. Her appearance is like that, but did you know she is a child?"

Woman1:".....I understand that girl's troubles."

Naofumi:"Hm? Troubles?"

Woman1:"You don't need to mind it. Either way is fine."

Naofumi:"I see. Firo.....Will probably be tempted by food."

You can be friends through food, but for love.....I wonder.

What can I say, breeding should be standard behaviour for a wild animal.

I don't know much about her biologically, but I don't think there is such thing as a mating season.

Woman1:"That reminds me, Motoyasu-sama seemed to be devoted to the human form of that bird. Princess Bitch was jealous."

Naofumi:"That guy just has an angel fetish."

This fellow just won't stop talking about women. I'm getting tired of it.

Firo's appearance.....In short,a blond European blue-eyed angel, is probably his favourite.

Motoyasu came from Japan, there isn't anyone like that. As for the rest of the planet.....

That reminds me, there doesn't seem to be any angelic beings in this world.

Though the Demi-humans can grow wings, their hands and feet have claws.

Woman1:"Spending two days with Firo-chan and Raphtalia-chan! And like that he skipped out."

Naofumi:"And you are fine with Motoyasu doing that?"

Woman1:"The reaction from the other two was amazing. But, great men have great fondness for sensual pleasures, so I will overlook something like that."

Naofumi:"You're unexpectedly cold."

Woman1:"Whatever!"

In a sense, sticking with this guy is like touching poison.

I don't know what attitude she takes when talking to Motoyasu, she is easy to talk to.

Perhaps, that's what it means to be a good talker.

Naofumi:"I will not accept Bitch."

Woman1:"That's already water under the bridge. If you cannot forgive, then just push her away! Or something like that."

Naofumi:"Those words suck terribly."

Woman1:"Are you my father? Well, up until recently everything was just handed to her. Her plan did not go well because of you, so her unjustified resentment made her want to kill you, at least that's my analyses. How is it?"

Naofumi:"That's about right."

So you did have a good look.

In other words, it couldn't be helped since Bitch wanted to murder me.

No, I still don't know, and it is bugging me.

Woman1:"When I heard you tried to rape her, I thought it was suspicious, but I didn't have any obligation to stand up for you, and there was also another girl who got framed when she suspected something, so I pretended it had nothing to do with me."

Naofumi:"I don't buy it."

Woman1:"Well, I'll just end up getting myself strangled somewhere and die.
I have no relations with that girl though."

Naofumi:"....."

Woman1's words were cold, I was frozen for a second.
Are all women like this?

With such feelings, we finished the demon hunt and returned to the main island.

Compared to what I imagined would happen, it was unexpectedly decent.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 87 – The Spear Hero & My Companions

---

Firo:"Ah, Master~!"

When I returned to the main island hotel, Firo came out to greet me in her demon form.

I thought I told her to stay in her human form at the hotel.

Woman1:"See you. Keep your distance though."

Naofumi:"I know."

Woman 1 says good-bye to join up with Bitch.

Naofumi:"So what happened?"

Firo:"Uhhh you see, Raphtalia onee-chan got angry."

Naofumi:"Angry you say....."

Motoyasu, you've finally caused a problem.

The person in question was sitting there stargazing while pressing his cheeks together.

I wonder why. It feels like he's deep in thought.

Woman1:"Motoyasu-sama?"

Woman 1 is dumbfounded, as she sees Motoyasu like that.

.....I don't understand the situation. What's going on?

Naofumi: "Firo, what happened?"

Firo: "Hm~? Firo doesn't know."

Thought so.

I am an idiot for asking Firo

Can't be helped, I'll go look for Raphtalia, Motoyasu can be left to Woman 1.

And there she is. Her back is turned, but it is clearly Raphtalia..... even from a distance, it's obvious to me that Raphtalia is fuming.

The hair on her tail is bristling, and her body is emitting enough magic power to make the air around her vibrate.

Naofumi: "I-I'm back."

Raphtalia turned around when she heard my greeting, and the anger seemed to have dissipated.

Raphtalia: "I was waiting!"

Raphtalia rushes towards me with a tearful expression.

Naofumi: "Wh-What happened?"

I pray that it is not rape.

I don't think that is the case based on Motoyasu's reaction, but I have no idea what is going on.

Raphtalia: "That's--"

I'm told about Raphtalia's experience.

Raphtalia tries to explain to me what happened from her point of view.

Firo:"What's happening?"

After I left, Firo asked Raphtalia anxiously.

Raphtalia:"It's alright. All we are going to do is hunt demons with the other hero-sama until tomorrow night."

Firo:"Boo~. What about master?"

Raphtalia:"We'll join him a bit later."

And so, the situation was explained to Firo. Raphtalia was doing push-ups while waiting for Motoyasu to arrive.

I will explain. Because it has already become a routine, I forgot about it, whenever Raphtalia has free time, she trains her body.

During our travels on the carriage, when not tanning demon skins, chin-ups and push-ups are performed.

Recently, her arm strength has increased to the point where single fingered pushups are possible.

The physical training influences her status. Little by little, her status increases.

Motoyasu:"Sorry for the wait--"

Motoyasu walks in the room with a bouquet in one hand.

Firo:"Munya~....."

Firo is taking an afternoon nap.

Raphtalia:"677.....678....."

Raphtalia wasn't paying attention and continued doing push-ups.

(sfx) Rustle* Motoyasu dropped his bouquet.

Well, entering the room of a girl who is waiting for you, only to see her doing push-ups, Motoyasu was left speechless.

Motoyasu:"Ummm....."

Raphtalia:"680.....Ah."

Raphtalia stopped doing push-ups and turned to face Motoyasu.

Raphtalia:"Welcome. Hey, Firo, get up. He's here."

Firo:"Muu.....Firo is sleepy."

Motoyasu:"Ah, right....."

While picking up the bouquet, Motoyasu enters the room.

Raphtalia:"My best regards until tomorrow."

Firo:"Best regards~!"

Motoyasu:"Gotcha, we have already met,but let's introduce ourselves again.
I am Kitamura Motoyasu! Hero of the Spear. Please take care of me."

Raphtalia:"Raphtalia."

Firo:"Firo"

Motoyasu fashionably hands the bouquet to Raphtalia.

Motoyasu: "These flowers suit you cuties well."

Raphtalia: "Haa....."

Raphtalia receives the flowers and, it seems she was thinking of where to sell it.

Was it bad that I raised a girl with efficiency as a principle?

Furthermore, Raphtalia heard that flowers could be made into medicine.

I think it was an aromatic drug.

Firo: "This isn't very tasty."

Firo puts some flowers in her mouth.

Well, Firo prefers dumplings over flowers.

Raphtalia: "Now then, shall we go Level up at once?"

Motoyasu: "Let's go shopping at the market first."

Raphtalia: "I guess....."

Thus, Raphtalia followed Motoyasu to the market.

Raphtalia: "This shop.....It's closed."

Motoyasu: "That's strange. I could've sworn it was selling accessories a little while ago."

It seems Motoyasu wanted to browse the store that was closed.

After a little looking around, it was revealed that they were just a little late.

Motoyasu:"Oh well, let's look at various others."

Raphtalia:"Ah, okay."

Like that, following Motoyasu, various shops were visited.

Several hours were spent at the market.

Moreover, he would stay and talk to any pretty girl.

Random Girl:"Eh! You are the Hero of the Spear-sama?!"

Motoyasu:"That's right. Is there something you want to ask of me?"

It seems they wanted to ask the hero to show off a few spear tricks.

As a result, each girl gave him a note with the hotel they were staying at.

Skirtchasing.

While watching his gentleman act, Raphtalia's evaluation of Motoyasu fell.

And so, after shopping..... the day was almost over.

After shopping and leaving the market, Motoyasu walked in the direction of the pier.

Raphtalia:"Um.....To go back we have to return from the market."

Motoyasu:"It's fine It's fine, let's take a look."

Raphtalia:"Eh? But, today's leveling....."

Motoyasu:"Oh right, Firo-chan. Can you return to your angel form?"

Firo:"No!"

Since leaving the hotel, Firo has been in her demon form.

Afterwards, they went to the tourist spots of Cal Mira Archipelago main island, when the sun began to set, they moved to another island.

Crossing the middle of the sea during a setting sun, on a small boat.

Motoyasu: "I found something good in the shop a little while ago."

A souvenir made with a shell was handed to Raphtalia.

Raphtalia: "Umm....."

Motoyasu: "Don't worry about it, it's just a small present."

By the way, Firo was swimming next to the ship in her demon form.

It's a situation I can easily imagine.

I was listening to the story with a delicate expression.

Ignoring Bitch being violent at first, we listened to the story quietly. Firo didn't have to be there though.

Motoyasu: "Look, the setting sun is beautiful."

Raphtalia: "Yes, it is beautiful."

The scenery of a setting sun on the ocean is beautiful for Raphtalia. There was a mood, from the aquatic sea demons jumping out of the sea with the evening sun in the background.

While Raphtalia was staring blankly into the evening sun, Motoyasu grasps her hand.

Rejecting it, Raphtalia pulls her hand back.

Motoyasu just shrugs his shoulders with a feeling of "Don't worry about it".

At that time some veins appeared on Raphtalia's forehead.

Afterwards, she just smiled at Motoyasu, while not letting him grasp her hand.

After arriving at the island.

The sun already set. Raphtalia was preparing for a night battle against demons while Motoyasu dashed into the hotel.

Raphtalia:"Um.....'

Motoyasu:"Hm? What's up?"

Raphtalia:"Are we not going to Level up?"

Motoyasu:"The day is already over you know. It would be dangerous to fight in such a situation."

Raphtalia:"W-Well.....But-"

Motoyasu:"Now, let's have a meal and take a good rest at the hotel. I'll make dinner, so look forward to it."

Raphtalia consented and bought various ingredients at the market place. Raphtalia also bought various light medicines, such as a heal ointment.

Firo:"Food?"

Motoyasu:"That's right Firo-chan. So take your angel form."

Firo:"No!"

Firo was in her demon form while cautiously watching Motoyasu.

She used to kick him in the groin a lot.

After that, Motoyasu started cooking in the hotel's kitchen while showing off to the two of them in the corner.

Raphtalia seems to have thought that I would eat the food provided by the hotel.

Well, I didn't cook unless we were outside. I was making medicine and accessories at the inn. Recently, I have also been studying magic.

Motoyasu:"The food I cooked is ready."

Raphtalia:"S-sure....."

Motoyasu announced to Raphtalia while the dish was still sizzling, Raphtalia ate Motoyasu's food slowly, while Firo ate heartily.

Firo:"It isn't as tasty as Master's!"

Raphtalia:"Shh! Hero of the spear-sama will mind it....."

After hearing that Motoyasu has a cramp in his smile.

Motoyasu:" I'll make even tastier ones if you want. So, Firo-chan, Angel form!"

Firo:"No!"

Just how much of an angel-lover are you.

After that, they entered seperate rooms. At that time, Firo finally returned to her human form.

Well, it's because I ordered Firo to be in human form whenever we were at an inn, to avoid damaging the place.

Firo:"Not sleeping yet?"

Raphtalia:"Not yet....."

Before sleeping Raphtalia streches and studies magic.

Motoyasu: "Wa! Firo-chan's angel form is so cute!"

Firo: "Stay away!"

It seems Firo hates Motoyasu.

Did Motoyasu do something that Firo hates?.....He has.

Before Firo grew up, he called her lame and laughed out loud.

Furthermore, calling her a fat and plain bird. It would be weird if he wasn't hated.

Raphtalia: "Don't worry, nothing will happen."

Firo: "Really?"

Raphtalia: "Really Really."

Firo: "Muu~....."

Firo lies on the bed in human form and breathes deeply.

But her ahoge is standing on end, and she isn't sleeping soundly.

Motoyasu: "....."

Motoyasu silently approaches Firo.

Raphtalia: ".....What do you intend to do?"

Motoyasu: "I just want to look at Firo-chan's sleeping face."

Raphtalia raises her eyebrows at Motoyasu's suspicious actions.

Motoyasu: "Anyway, while Firo-chan is sleeping, want to drink some liquor in a bar?"

Raphtalia: "What?"

Motoyasu: "Ah, you never drink alcohol before. Don't worry, just have a little and enjoy the charm of being an adult."

Raphtalia: "Charm.....huh"

Unexpectedly, Raphtalia was tempted by Motoyasu speaking about charm, and followed him to the bar.

While sitting down, Motoyasu orders the liquor.

It arrived after a few minutes.

The first drink was for Raphtalia. It seemed to be some red alcohol.

Motoyasu pours it into a glass.

Motoasu: "A toast to your eyes."

Raphtalia: "....."

When Motoyasu winked fashionably at Raphtalia, something inside her seemed to have snapped.

Raphtalia: "There are things to do tomorrow, I'm returning."

While suppressing her urge to kill with a smile, the cup containing the alcohol she didn't drink vibrated with magic released from the body.

Motoyasu: "Eh? Ah-"

Like that, she returned to the hotel with the spare key and slept.

And, the next morning.

Raphtalia: "Good morning."

With the intentions to forget yesterday, Raphtalia greeted Motoyasu.

Motoyasu: "Ah, good morning. Raphtalia-chan. Firo-chan."

Firo: "Morninn-"

Firo sleepy returns the greeting with a yawn.

After having a light breakfast at the hotel, it was finally time to hunt demons.

However.....

Motoyasu: "I understand your strengths."

After a while of hunting demons, that line was said.

The demons aren't very strong, after advancing for a while, Motoyasu called for a stop.

Raphtalia: "What?"

Motoyasu: "Leveling up with such bloody fighting doesn't suit your lovely selves. Why don't you watch me fight?"

Raphtalia: "Huuuh!?"

After saying that, Motoyasu rushes a demon that appeared alone.

By the way, if it was Firo, that demon would have been small fry.

It also should have been dealt with by a single blow from Motoyasu.

Motoyasu: "Meteor Spear!"

Certainly, Motoyasu is strong.

But he kept sending amorous glances, somehow causing his sweat to glitter, and winking whenever a demon was killed.

Motoyasu: "How was it?"

Raphtalia: "-----p!"

Raphtalia's patience finally reached the limit.

Raphtalia: "I don't know, so please stop it!"

It seems her head blanked out, and it seems that afterwards Motoyasu was shaking like a lamb.

While repressing her anger with a straight face, they returned to the main island hotel a little before noon.

By the way, Raphtalia and Firo only got 2 levels, so presently they are at 42.

What the hell, yesterday I got 6 levels, and am now level 44.

I wonder why Raphtalia is lower level than me.....

Motoyasu..... This is even less than what I expected.

I feel that there is some kind of conspiracy, but I can't tell based on the story I just heard.

Anyway, Raphtalia's evaluation of the Hero of the Spear dropped fatally.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 88 – Intuition and Analysis

---

I was amazed after hearing Raphtalia's story.

Rather.....It was expected.

So it's like this. Spending the first day like a date.

Shopping at the market and visiting tourist spots, crossing the sea during a beautiful sunset.

At night, cooking home-made food, and drinking liquor at a bar.

Then, the next day, showing off and being cool while acting all handsome.

Tentatively, after approximately analysing their strength, he tries to steal my subordinates by trying to appear appealing to them.

Though it seems Raphtalia and Firo didn't fall for it.

Naofumi:"How should I put it....."A toast to your eyes." you say, Is this the Showa Era?! Did you not have any lines that is a little more effective?"

Motoyasu:"In this world, all the older women were pleased with that....."

Ah, was it learnt from experience?.....In any case, think about who your partner was.

Though it is probably my fault, Raphtalia was raised with efficiency as a principle. Those who show leadership will have a higher evaluation.

Firo:"The person with the spear complimented onee-chan a lot."

Naofumi:"I see....."

Raphtalia:"What did you come here to fight for? Did you come here to hit on girls?"

Raphtalia continues to attack the dejected Motoyasu.

Are you denying Motoyasu's reason for existence?

Raphtalia: "If you do such a thing, when you encounter a formidable enemy , your companions won't be able to help you!"

After declaring that, Raphtalia returned.

Raphtalia: "Is the next exchange tomorrow?"

Naofumi: "Ah, yeah....."

That's amazing. To make Raphtalia this angry.....

There was only one other time that I've seen Raphtalia this seriously angry. It was during the results of the duel.

Well, that was Motoyasu's fault as well; Motoyasu himself is mopping about over there.

Woman1: "That reminds me, where did Bitch and company go?"

Woman1 was listening to the story too? She was comforting Motoyasu with a hand on his shoulder.

Naofumi: "Even though a day was wasted, experience still increased....."

Raphtalia: "Sorry....."

Naofumi: "No, that's not what I mean Raphtalia."

When listening to the story during the activation, contrasting with her usual habit of composure, her voice is full of emotion.

Was it because of that, it has nothing to do with levels, but the chances of victory against the wave?

Hm?

Woman 1 came over to us and said.

Woman1:"Is that assassin still watching?"

Naofumi:"Probably."

Woman1:"Then I'll supplement. Motoyasu-sama goes off and hunts alone at night.

Naofumi:"....."

I think I just gave a very unpleasant look.

In other words, when Raphtalia.....and the other girls were asleep, he was leveling up alone at night?

An image of a cool hard-working guy pops up, to make an effort in secret here, it seems a little strange.

Naofumi:"You think I have control of Shadow?"

Woman1:"Maybe."

Hmm, it isn't a bad hand to present yourself stronger to your comrades. Certainly, if this can be kept up, then some in-fighting could be avoided. Above all, Motoyasu's date plan needs to be investigated, but there isn't enough time.

It's not a bad hand, but it was Raphtalia that it was shown to.

That means this guy isn't thinking about leveling. so he's fooling around.

In the first place, the biggest drawback of this is.

His companions will not gain any levels, I can't do that.

For me who can only use a shield to defend, a companion is essential.

Therefore, it is necessary to always take care of the conditions of your comrades.

There is also the fatigue of constant night battles accumulating.

Of course, it is also limited to hunting the demons that appear only at night.

Naofumi:"Oh right. Raphtalia"

Raphtalia:"What is it?"

We talk in whispers so that it won't reach Motoyasu and them.

Naofumi:"How does Motoyasu fight?Is there something special you have to do, Like when fighting with me?"

Raphatalia:"Yup, the demons are not dismantled, the weapon isn't changed..... The weapon absorbs the same way as Naofumi-sama's."

Hmm.....It feels like there are corners being cut.

So for that strength.....Does Level mean everything?

There are those kinds of Net Games.

Raphtalia:"Though.....He took a tool out of the spear."

Naofumi:"Tool? It wasn't absorbed into the spear?"

Raphtalia:"Yup. It was different from a tool that was absorbed."

A tool from a spear.....How was it done?

At last, a chance to get proper information has appeared.

Naofumi: "Motoyasu, There's something I want to ask--"

The Motoyasu that should have been absent mindedly sitting there disappeared.

Woman 1 is also gone.

When I want to ask they are gone!

When did they disappear!?

Firo: "The person with the spear returned with that woman. They apologized to onee-chan."

Naofumi: "I-I see."

That's quick.....I wanted some time to exchange information.

What Motoyasu does, may not be the same as Ren and Itsuki.

Well, there are a lot of disadvantages, but there are also many benefits.

In any case, the heroes like Motoyasu are just existences that are a lump of information.

Though during the activation, it's only a matter of time before their secrets are exposed.

At least I learnt that Motoyasu has something that I don't know.

Simply because there is a possibility, that Motoyasu is playing around to hide it.

If I was Motoyasu, I would refuse the staff exchange, and during the activation, work hard and level up.

It might be simple to turn down if I think about efficiency. However, I may only find out here.

Even if it's just experience points, I'll gulp it down like a beggar, I have a feeling those three know something different.

My intuition is telling me that it would be wrong to decline it.

There is something.

Those three heroes, without fail, are hiding something other than level. Because if it's just level, then it would be no different from adventurers.

This is supported by my knowledge and experience of Net Games up until now.

In Net Games there is something related to this event, and elements other than Level effect skills in real.

There is also the possession of rare items via financial power.

How many times have I encountered a person with only high Levels?

In a Net game, the administration makes equipment and rare items through trial and error that become important.

Levels are important at first, but later on it just becomes a comparison between acorns.

Therefore, the appearance of funds, organization strength, and rare items is required.

This world is not a game, but for some reason those three heroes still think that this is a game; I am curious.

It is common for activation events such as these to have a limit on Levels gained.

Beginner relief and Class Up promotions. Are job changes similar to a game?

In guilds, the members that have reached the level limit will help the new members in raising their levels.

Because Motoyasu was so laid-back, there was a similar feeling.

As far as he is concerned, his purpose is probably gathering information and looking for new companions right?

There is also a possibility of using the remaining six days after the exchange completed.

Otherwise, I cannot explain the composure of Motoyasu.

Ah.....

Naofumi: "Shadow"

Shadow: "What degojaru?"

Naofumi: "Is there some kind of law during activation? Like rumors, theories, even something that has low credibility is alright."

Shadow: ".....When I participated in the activation of Cal Mira Island, The experience worsens after Classing Up at level 80 degojaru. Of course, I entered more after that degojaruka, there is an upper limit to the inhabiting demons degojaru."

Right on the money huh.

In other words, those actions were in anticipation of that.

There is an upper limit.....just like a game.

If I had the same gaming knowledge as those guys, I might have fallen under the illusion that this world is a game as well.

I can roughly grasp the level of their party by counting backwards from here.

Assuming the Hero is level 70-80, their companion should be between 40-70?

It is safe to assume that everyone can reach level 80 in at least a few days. After that, it wouldn't be so easy to gain when hunting. If there are demons on this island higher than 80, it would not be very delicious.

I know that in games, regardless of what, it is just a calculation.

Though I originally wanted to take my time with the hunting grounds during this activation, would it be better to look for shortcuts?

I feel like looking at a Walkthrough for net games.

However, the mystery has gotten even deeper.

In other words, taking Motoyasu as the lowest, Ren and Itsuki should at least be around level 70.

Though, why are they equal to me when I use the Wrath Shield?

It is a fact that Wrath Shield is especially strong, but I am level 44. 20 levels lower than them.

Moreover, when fighting the pope, there was also an ability above him. The mysteries don't end.

While deliberating such thoughts deeply, and returning to the hotel, Motoyasu was forgotten about.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 89 – The Birth of Cal Mira Island Sports

---

After listening to Raphtalia's story, it was already evening, and the timing to go out has been missed.

If we go out now, it would be to another island for a night hunt.

Though time is precious, I would rather not night battle too much. It is dangerous.....

Shopping at the market would be fine, but.....I already went yesterday.

Till now I was making medicine and accessories, or studying magic, but as for the former, I am out of materials.

After returning I will be taught the latter by someone the queen prepares.

We who had free time were bored.

With that said, we decided to play at the beach until dusk.

Firo:"Wahoi~!"

Firo is playing in the sea.

She is having fun in water and noisily trying to dive underwater like a waterfowl.

It's that isn't it.

I feel that is swimming practice.

At first glance it seems she is drowning.

I mean, can you even sink?..... floating while her feet stick up through the surface. It is a very funny appearance.

Her pose reminds me of a guy that was killed in the same position somewhere. What was it again?

It was a village with a dog. I cannot remember the details.

These four months here of being separated from the Otaku culture, and originally I could only inference animes based on their titles.

Naofumi: "Levels did not rise at all. Bad Raphtalia."

Raphtalia: "Ehh.....It can't be helped. After moving it was night..... It was also trouble since we had to return the next morning."

Naofumi: "This staff exchange is evil."

Raphtalia: "That's right.....I hoped that time back then would pass faster, though it is enjoyable right now."

Naofumi: "I guess....."

We borrowed bathing suits from the hotel to play at the beach.

What can I say, a tropical country's sea is beautiful.

Really, I've had this thought before, it feels like I came to Hawaii and Guam.

Naofumi: "Looking carefully, a lot of other fellows are playing on the beach like us."

Raphtalia: "Yeah, certainly....."

Naofumi: "Raphtalia, do you have the ball?"

Raphtalia: "I put it in the room at the hotel....."

Naofumi: "I see.....It should be possible to rent a ball somewhere."

For some reason even though I look around, there is no shop dealing with recreational goods.

There is a resting place, like a seaside clubhouse, but there are no stores for toys in order to play at the sea.

Since it's hot, there is a store that sells cold items.

However, a shop meant for playing at the sea doesn't exist.

.....There are no surfboards either.

For a guy like Motoyasu, surfing cannot be just a hobby. That's it.

While thinking and looking around I spotted Motoyasu.

It seems he has recovered from earlier, and is accompanying Bitch.
He didn't learn his lesson. It would be annoying to speak to him since Bitch is there, I don't feel like it.

Raphtalia: "What are you thinking about?"

Naofumi: "With great pains we are finally playing on the beach. I think beach volleyball would be fine."

Raphtalia: "There is training for the lower body on the beach that requires keeping the ball in the air! I'll get it!"

After listening to my suggestion Raphtalia ran selfishly.
.....I seemed to have raised a little bit of a muscle brain.

This was not aimed at training in particular.....

Raphtalia's criteria is fundamentally mistaken.....Though that's probably my fault.

Firo: "What happened to onee-chan?"

Naofumi: "She went to fetch a ball."

Firo: "Hmm. Play ball?"

Naofumi: "It seems so."

Firo: "Firo is bored. Going to play more."

Naofumi: "Oh. Do your best."

Firo: "Yeah!"

While drawing the lines for beach volleyball.....Raphtalia brings the ball.
The ball that was made from balloon for children, has been cherished by Raphtalia for a long time.
Training to strengthen the lower body on the beach, huh.....

Naofumi:"Raphtalia, you got a second?"

Raphtalia:"What? Go ahead."

I take a good look at Raphtalia's upper arm.

Always doing muscle training, though her muscles don't seem to be in proportion to her status gained from killing monsters.

Raphtalia:"What is it?"

Naofumi:"Raphtalia, are you hiding your figure with magic?"

Raphtalia is part of the raccoon race, specializing in illusion magic, and has affinity with light and darkness systems.

In other words, it is possible to fake her own appearance.

Raphtalia:"Why would I do something so useless?"

Naofumi:".....Raphtalia, stay as you are."

Raphtalia:"What.....? I understand."

Raphtalia's aspiration to improve herself is excellent.

After that, I explained the simple rules of beach volleyball.

It's not the full-fledged ones, just not dropping the ball, how to handle the ball, and passing to the other party.

Raphtalia:"Then I'm starting! Tei!"

Naofumi:"What kind of-!"

A fierce beach volleyball match on the beach began between Raphtalia and Firo.

From the beginning they start rushing to spike, it has already surpassed a competition and has become a fierce battle.

Both of their movements are quick. It's like watching wire action

When I looked around, I noticed that people began to gather and happily mimic what they were doing.

Well, since there aren't that many people with balls, there is one that substituted a ball with a round cloth.....

Those who are imitating the offense and defense of Raphtalia and Firo can be called beach volleyball.

Raphtalia: "Is Naofumi-sama not going to do it?"

While performing a dash Raphtalia asks me.

Naofumi: "Nope..... I cannot do that."

Raphtalia: "?"

Did I say something strange? Raphtalia and Firo look like they are playing with the ball leisurely.

What a high level.

I could not keep up with their physical strength.

Naofumi: "I'm fine with just watching."

Firo: "Really? It will be more fun if Master plays together."

Naofumi: "This is closer to actual fighting than playing."

Is this is influence of Class Up, they've become superhuman. These guys.
If I keep them company I will have to get serious, and that's tiring. I'm also still in treatment.

Naofumi: "Oh right. There is also beach flag."

When I say that, Firo's eyes sparkle. The beach volleyball game was interrupted, she runs up to me.

Firo: "What is it!? How do you play!?"

Uh.....

Naofumi: "Anyway, stab a stick in the ground first"

Firo: "Okay!"

I pick up a stick and stab the ground with it.

Naofumi: "Afterwards."

Walk 20 meters from the stick and turn around.

Naofumi: "In the mean time, Raphtalia and Firo, come here."

Raphtalia: "Okay."

Firo: "Okay~!"

Both of them obediently come to me.

Naofumi:"Then, face each other on the other side of the stick while lying down."

Raphtalia:'Like this?'"

Firo:"This way?"

Both of them lie down according to my instructions.

Naofumi:"I'll say Ready, and Don! After I say that, get up immediately and pick up the stick I stabbed in the ground, the one who gets the stick wins. However, you must not interfere with your opponent."

Raphtalia:"That sounds fun."

Firo:"Yup!"

Naofumi:"Now for practice."

A gallery was made. It looks like some adventurers are excitedly watching with expectations.

Is it because this is a different world? There doesn't seem to be much playing here.

Naofumi:"Ready....."

Both of them are waiting for me to speak.

Naofumi:"Don! Go-----!"

Immediately after, I was blasted with, and buried under a mountain of sand. Raphtalia and Firo are the criminals. Even if just a little quicker, for the sake of winning they simultaneously kicked the sand.

By the way, it seems Firo won.

I was buried in sand and couldn't tell.

Firo: "This is Firo's victory!"

Raphtalia: "Next time I won't lose!"

Naofumi: "Kicking sand everywhere with such power! Know some limits!"

What we were playing at that time..... Carried on to become a major competition after.

Having said that, I did not know that this was a prototype for something else in this world though.

Raphtalia and Firo played at the beach until the day was over.

Some adventurers joined too, and the beach volleyball and beach flag ended in success.

Well, it was good for killing time.

Raphtalia seemed to be satisfied with body strengthening as a principle.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 90 – The Significance of Personnel Exchange

---

The next day.

Returning to the hotel yesterday, I entered the hotspring and took a rest. Entering the japanese-styled hotspring that Shadow talked about, little by little, I feel that my body is getting lighter.

It was a mix between Chinese and Japanese though.....

There's a paper umbrellas and a Kaminarimon..... The paper sliding doors and various other things are chinese-styled, it feels like a Japanese bath made by a foreigner.

(TInote: <http://imgur.com/timuF01,XG18l6a> with <http://imgur.com/timuF01,XG18l6a#1> )

I have no complaints though, I'm just interested in what kind of country the East is. Regardless of if they are Good or bad.

Naofumi:"Then, I'm off."

Raphtalia:"Take care."

Naofumi:"I think it was Ren today.....I hope it's not a repeat of Motoyasu, be careful though."

I cannot deny the possibility of him being a pervert.

There are cases where those who act cool will turn around and chase after girls.

They will not help guys, and only help women.

I mean, I don't really know anything about that guy.

At least.....When he hurt someone else he obediently listened to the story.

To me, Ren just seems like a cool juvenile boy who is a self-proclaimed ally of justice.

Raphtalia:"Okay."

Firo:"Have a nice day~"

On the way to the room of Ren's companions.

Naofumi:".....This is unproductive."

I voice my dissatisfaction about the staff exchange to Shadow.

I understand the queen's idea, but the stress doesn't go away.

Shadow:"I see degozaruna. Why the queen suggested the staff exchange degozaruka. There have been no problems until now, I thought this would be fine too degozaruka."

Naofumi:"You.....still don't understand even after following the queen for so long. Well, after thinking about it, there are some things that I do agree with."

Shadow:"What are they degozaru?"

Naofumi:"Do you guys make back-ups for the information collected?"

Shadow:"It seems you already understand degozaruna."

Naofumi:"Because it's that queen, it would be possible to think about with a little consideration."

There is a limit to objective observations.

Naofumi:" You can certainly try to explain the behaviours of the other heroes. But you cannot explain it to someone like Raphtalia."

It is difficult to distinguish the real information from all the miscellaneous information.

Naofumi:"Let's assume you collected information on the heroes. However, you guys are forgetting something important. How are you supposed to understand the secret to a hero's strength?"

Where are you supposed to find weapons that can absorb any materials!? I mean, in the middle of that how do you understand the difference from me?

There are multiple shadows, and the same one might not be watching.

The result, is different information collected becomes messy.

If it is reported by letter, the contents of the investigation on the objective would not be conveyed properly without voice.

It's something that cannot be understood by someone who doesn't hold the hero's weapon.

It won't work unless asked directly from, in this information exchange. It also serves as a backup for that purpose.

Considering their habit to hide themselves, it is also likely that lies would be told.

There's no choice, It's my special thing! And then hide it.

Of course, they will not talk easily, so there is no choice but to examine ourselves.

Shadow:"It can't be helped degozaru. This is exclusively for Hero of the Shield-dono, it also hasn't been long since I have worked with Hero of the Shield-dono degozayue."

Naofumi:"Ah, can't be helped. If this could be finished in a day, it wouldn't be so difficult."

Besides.....This is also important, The hero's companions will be easily dyed with their standard of values.

In fact, Raphtalia objects against Motoyasu's policies. I think Motoyasu's companions also feel the same about me.

However, if a personnel exchange is done, then our prospectives should broaden a little.

It also serves a chance for the ones who are used to the princess treatment to experience battles with the other heroes.

Bitch is not worth explaining, Woman 1 kept calm,and she was able to broaden her view, and Woman 2 just looks at me like an abnormal person. However, when fighting with Ren and Itsuki, they should more or less understand.

It seems that fighting alongside Bitch..... If you don't understand her then you'll risk death.

I'll just complain up till here.

Naofumi:"It would have been better if I could just watch the other heroes and their companions during a crisis."

Shadow:"A crisis degozaruka? Being with a Hero-dono, means always being side-by-side with danger degozaruka."

Naofumi:"It's the opposite. The whole world knows heroes are good. In short, do not approach enemies stronger than yourself."

Shadow:"I see.....There are such thoughts too degozaruka."

Usually, their levels are steadily rising, and the sense of crisis is always insufficient.

It feels like a game to the heroes. Only fighting enemies that you can beat, any sense of urgency disappears.

The companions might even be under the illusion that they are part of the privileged class themselves.

As long as they claim that they are a hero's companion, they will receive preferential treatment.

Of course, being with a hero is not perfect, there will be at least a few times where it is truly dangerous.

Even if those fellows survive from luck, they would still be relieved along with the hero.

Because all three heroes are confident in themselves.

In the first place, those in Motoyasu's party that had a sense of impending crisis started falling out.

Naofumi:"Afterwards, it might be difficult for hero companions to understand since they watch the heroes everyday. They would only notice a small difference. Besides, there are also friendships being cultivated."

Shadow:"I'll accept it degozaru. If any disturbances occur they will be stopped degozaru."

Looking at Melromarc from the world's standpoint, it should be obvious they want to get along with the heroes.

Internal discord among companions did not occur after the loss at the wave, though they are on bad terms with each other.

I don't really want to make friends, but I understand that co-operating is necessary.

If it was just us, we couldn't have beat the pope.

From now on co-operation will be important. Even after this island event is over, and we get dispatched to some foreign country, it doesn't change the fact that we will still be acting together during the waves.

However, the opportunity to talk is decreasing quickly.

I welcome it but, If I am selfish, it would be impossible to fight against the wave.....and Glass.

Even though I hate those guys, since we belong to the same side there is a need to co-operate.

come to think of it.....How do we participate in the waves all over the world?

Does the wave only concentrate on Melromarc's vicinity since that is where the heroes were summoned?

That's something I have to ask the queen.

Perhaps, after the personnel exchange, Shadow will report the investigation results.

Or is there no intention of that due to the habit of hiding things from the heroes?

If anything, at least this time there is a mutual understanding with the other heroes about the companions.

The heroes are introduced to skillful people.

That or, they heard something about their companions, resulting in a lack of trust.....huh?

That fellow, I can not hear or see anything even when looking up. It is too early to jump to conclusions.

Well, it could simply be about recruitment.

That bastard Motoyasu solicited my companions.

The possibility of Ren and Itsuki also soliciting is not zero. It's actually rather high.

If they like it, then just raise one yourself.....

Do demi-humans and demons become stronger there? Just a feeling that I have.

However, there is a big contradiction when it comes to this theory.

They are not supposed to be strong. that means, the games those fellows played did not have any demi-humans or demons that become strong..... I wonder about that.

That or it was never tried.

Is this strength from improving themselves?

I don't know.

What can I say, it feels like the queen's goal is to raise all the heroes.

There seems to be some intention to treat me favourably, but it will be awkward from the world-wide standpoint if the other heroes are weak.

Was it just a compromised plan?

Rather than examining only the shadows, I should check ourselves to be certain.

If it's not one or the other.....

At first glance, this personnel exchange seems useless, but it might be a decoy in order to collect information easier.

Gathering the heroes in the pretext of the island being active.

.....Am I over-interpreting?

If I am over-interpreting, let's just assume that Ren and Itsuki's actions are based on this.

If nothing happens, it wouldn't be troublesome, but it would be a large loss if anything happens.

Shadow: "This is the room where the Hero of the Sword's companions are staying degozaru."

While I was deep in thought, I arrived in front of the room where Ren's companions are.

Naofumi: "Right."

I nod and knock on the door.

No Name: "Go ahead."

This time a proper reply comes. Big difference from Motoyasu's place.
I open the door and step inside.

No Name:"Welcome Welcome. Hero of the shield-sama."

Naofumi:"Ah, Sure....."

Compared to last time, it is somewhat of a disappointment.

Umm.....Ren's companions number four people.

One more than Motoyasu. However, it still decreased by one from the five in the beginning.

It is reasonable to assume that some members were replaced.

Naofumi:"Though I'm sure you already know, I'm the Hero of the Shield, Iwatana Naofumi, we will be working together for today and tomorrow during the staff exchange."

In addition three of the people I saw on the first day, is one of them a new addition?

No Name:"My best regards, Hero of the Shield-sama."

Naofumi:"Yeah."

All the members are polite.

But these fellows..... all of them went to Ren instead of being my companions.

I will not forget that.

I cannot be careless and let my guard down.

No Name:"I apologize for that time."

Naofumi:"Hm?"

A man who looks the representative.....is he a soldier? He bows to me.

Representative:"Anyway, the king of Melromarc criticised the Hero of the Shield-sama, and spoke of how he would treat his companions."

The other guys lowered their head to match the representative.

Representative:"Though such are the circumstances, so please instruct us well in these two days."

Naofumi:"U-Understood."

Somehow.....when the partner is strangely polite, It's a little disappointing. The experiences up until now leads me to suspect there may be something going on behind me.

Representative:"Shall we leave immediately?"

Naofumi:"Sure."

It's still too early to say.

Since Motoyasu's party was like that. I appreciate the quickness though.

Magician:"So, where would be a good place for us to raise our levels?"

A magician like fellow behind me asks naturally.

Naofumi:".....Yes?"

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 91 – The Companions of the Sword Hero

---

Naofumi: "Sorry. Could you repeat that?"

Magician: "Where should we go to level up?"

It's not a hearing mistake.

What is this guy saying?

Naofumi: "hold on a second, what are you talking about?"

Magician: "Haah.....Umm, away from Hero-sama, where on Cal Mira Archipelago should we go to raise our levels? That's what I'm asking. Also, what materials would you like for us to collect?"

.....Uhh, the story was explained, but I still can't understand.

No, I can understand but.....What should I say?

Difference in policy?

Naofumi: "We'll go together this time. I'll send a party request."

Magician: "Understood. Hero-sama is going to a difficult place."

Hmmm.....Ren, what is your method of teaching?

What can I say, it feels like these guys are distanced from Ren.

After leaving the room, we head to the port to go demon hunting. While moving between islands I inquire again.

Naofumi: ".....Could you tell me about your hunting methods with more details?"

Magical"Sure. So--"

The story of Ren's companions is like this.

Ren's policy is to have his companions fight at places appropriate for their level. And then, as they work to increase their levels they collect demon materials, ores, and tools.

Occasionally, when a powerful demon appears they defeat it together with Ren.

Magician:"Afterwards, we are always careful to absolutely never receive any attacks from the enemies."

Somehow.....

It's that isn't it.

Since I have a little bit of net gaming experience, this feels like guild managing, where high level players advise low level players.

I mean, it's completely like that.

Naofumi:"What does Ren himself usually do?"

Magician:"He is able to fight alone. He is probably waiting until we get stronger."

That's.....Just an optimistic interpretation.....

I understand the self-proclaimed cool guy Ren's policy.

He thinks it would be awkward to fight together with another. Or maybe difficult.

That's not his character. He is probably bad at talking with others.

I feel that he was playing solo even in his net games.

And the only companions he got were from an organization he belonged to, which would only come together to defeat strong monsters during large-scale events.

Or.....he was invited to a small guild by someone he knew.....

Maybe after coming to this strange world he is indulging in a superiority complex.

Oh, while thinking of various scenarios about Ren's behaviour towards his companions, we have arrived at the hunting grounds.

Representative:"Shall we go?"

Naofumi:"Right, since I am a shield, I will have the enemies focus on me while you guys defeat them."

Magician:"Eh? But won't it be dangerous to be attacked?"

Naofumi:".....Don't worry. My policy is different from Ren's, my job is to endure."

Magician:"Okay....."

While going in first, I attract the demon's attention.

Cal Mira Island has many demons that only focus on attacking the first aggressor.

Therefore, they concentrate on the one leading the charge.

I am surrounded by 4 Yellow Beetles.

Well, in these hunting grounds everything is pretty much small fry that can't even make me itchy.

By the way, each of the islands of the Cal Mira Archipelago have their own demon ecosystem, there are still some demons native to their islands that I haven't encountered yet.

It seems that the further center you go in an island, the stronger the enemies become.

The island that I went to with Bitch's party was a big mountain, but this one is like a forest.

Magician:"Y-You sure are sturdy."

One of Ren's companions mutters while I block an enemy attack.

Naofumi:"I guess, here. Defeat it quickly."

Magician:"O-Okay!"

What can I say.....I recall the training aid provided for novices in net games.

I think Ren's party has a good balance.

Two vanguards, and two rearguards. Those in front beat the enemies down with physical attacks using an axe or sword, while their backs are being covered with magic attacks and recovery magic.

Without a doubt it's a reliable formation.

However, the only defense plan in a melee is to avoid the enemy attacks. While concentrating on evasion, an easy battle will take longer.

Naofumi:"For the time being, receive some of the enemy's attacks.

Concentrate on attacking, because the enemies aren't dying instantly."

While approaching the middle of the island, adventurers are becoming increasingly sparse.

Oh, Bitch and her party also came to this neighborhood.

Magician: "Hero of the Shield-sama fights completely differently compared to Ren-sama."

Naofumi: "I guess."

Certainly, compared to the other heroes, the shield's job is completely different.

Yet, I can still fight.

That reminds me, there are several things that I have analyzed and understood since coming to this abnormal world.

First of all, it is possible for the shield to fight evenly with those guys.

Next, the shield's way of fighting works on endurance, and counterattacking, it's the type of fighting that uses sure-kill skills.

It may only be the Wrath Shield, but by paying a great price, it is possible to mortally wound the opponent.

Like the Iron Maiden, or Blutopfer. There is also Dark Burning Curse.

However, it's a pain that they can't be used without the Wrath Shield.

Iron Maiden could be used with another shield, but the prerequisite is tough, it's still useful, but.....

The other heroes are still in their first stages.

Is there even an upper limit to levels?.....Can it exceed 100?

In net games there are many cases like that.

If ordinary person's limit is 40, how much effort would it take to get to 100?

If that happens it would be impossible to know the upper limit.

Naofumi: "Now then."

There's no use thinking about it.

It's a demon that I have already defeated with Woman 1.....

It wasn't dismantled and absorbed since I already got a new shield from it.

Representative: "Umm.....Are you not going to absorb it into your weapon?"

Naofumi: "I already unsealed it."

Representative: "Huh?"

The representative like man is surprised by something.

Representative: "Ren-sama did not say such a thing....."

Naofumi: "What?"

Does he still absorb more even after unsealing?

What's the reason?

Naofumi: "Do you know why?"

Representative: "No idea.....anyway, Ren-sama doesn't talk that much."

Hmm.....You don't tell your companions the details either?

Well, I also didn't tell Raphtalia the details of my version.

It is not something worth going into detail about.

Naofumi: "Oh well. I'll just follow Ren's example and absorb it. Even if the skin is tanned it's not worth selling."

Thus, demon's corpse was absorbed into the shield.

The next day.

After hunting till night fell yesterday, we rested at a hotel.

Ren's companions who didn't seem keen on night combat agreed obediently.

We split up after agreeing to go level up early, after finishing breakfast the next morning.

As a result, by evening I gained eight levels.

Representative: "It was very easy fighting, Hero of the Shield-sama."

Magician: "Yeah, after coming here our levels have raised significantly."

Huh, that was.....

What is there to say? These past two days have passed anti-climatically and without incident.

If compared to a net game, this is a party that feels very efficient.

The members are equipped with the necessary talents, being able to repair equipment, and being diligent in leveling.

It feels like being invited into a guild party as a temporary member.

It's already been four months huh.....sure is nostalgic.

I wonder how the management of the guild I ran is going after I disappeared.

By the way, it is evening by the time I returned to the main island with Ren's companions.

Until now we worked diligently on leveling up.

As a result, it was quite comfortable. at least to my knowledge it was also fruitful.....

Ren's companions don't seem like bad people.

However.....They are too dependant.

Being told to level at assigned locations to raise their levels. Therefore, at first when co-operating with companions it was awkward.

Well, on the second day after getting accustomed to co-operating they were able to fight well.

Naofumi:"I'd like to ask one thing, what do you guys feel about Ren."

Representative:"Very strong. We believe that if we are by his side, then we can save the world."

Naofumi:"Hmm....."

Apparently, to his companions Ren is a pretty reliable guy.

I thought about recruiting them based on their actions these past two days, but I stopped because I don't want to lose the trust that we build up.

It probably won't happen unless Ren dies.

In the first place, I would like to gather those with talent.

These guys aren't inferior, but there is no one truly remarkable.

That's my impression of Ren's party.

Compared to Motoyasu's party they are much better, but compared to Raphtalia and Firo, they are considerable inferior.

Though if they come to me I would not deny anyone.

At least my relationship with the party seems good.

Naofumi: "That reminds me, you guys fought with Itsuki.....Hero of the bow before right?"

Representative: "Yes."

Naofumi: "How did it go?"

This is going to serve as a reference, I just want to ask about it.

Representative: "It is similar to acting with Hero of the Shield-sama, he was using a bow in the rear."

Naofumi: "Hmm....."

Representative: "However, he did not help very much. We were not able to advance as far into the island as we did with Hero of the Shield-sama."

Is it his usual habit of concealment?

Ren is one thing, but Itsuki has a habit of hiding himself, I can't really use anything as reference.

I mean it's only natural to attack from the rear with a bow.

Well, I'll ask Itsuki's companions about it tomorrow.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 92 – The Sword Hero & My Companions

---

Firo: "Welcome back Master~"

After returning to the hotel at the main island, Firo greets me at the main entrance.

I wonder. I have a very bad feeling about this.

Naofumi: "I'm back. How was it?"

Firo: "Nn~.....Umm you see. Onee-chan got angry."

Naofumi: "Not again....."

I wonder what the reason is-.....While hunting together with Ren's companions I had a foreboding feeling.

I enter the hotel timidly.

There I see Raphtalia, sitting where Motoyasu was last time waiting for me.

Naofumi: "Where is Ren?"

I mutter while looking around.

As I say so, from the entrance of the hotel Ren walks in.

Should I heard what he has to say before speaking to Raphtalia?

Ren: "Y-You....."

Ren sees me and his facial expression turns grim.

Ren:"What is with your companions? They don't listen to my instructions and go to other hunting grounds without my permission."

What's that? He's speaking like he's the victim.

Even if Ren is blaming her, Raphtalia is not one to cause problems without reason.

Ren:"If you don't mind, I would like to point out that the problem lies with your training policy."

I determined that I should hear it with Raphtalia.

I don't really want to approach Raphtalia, so I'll just call her over.

Naofumi:"Heeey"

Raphtalia:"Naofumi-sama! And....."

When Raphtalia sees me she smiles, but once she finds Ren, it turns into an angry look and her tail bristles up.

I think that she is even angrier than that time with Motoyasu.

Naofumi:"What the hell did you really do?"

It wasn't simple when Motoyasu angered Raphtalia that much.

To be honest, I am a little anxious to find out what upset Raphtalia so much.

Ren:"No clue, she just operated as she pleased."

Raphtalia:"As I please? Don't joke around!"

When Raphtalia approached and heard Ren's complain she snapped.

Raphtalia: "This person--"

This is Raphtalia's description of the events.

After I left, Raphtalia was becoming anxious when waiting for Ren, due to what happened with Motoyasu.

Firo: "Is someone coming today?"

Raphtalia: "Yes, like Naofumi-sama who is a hero, the person coming today is called Ren-sama."

Firo: "Hmph."

Much earlier than Motoyasu, Ren showed up at the room."

Ren: "I'm coming in."

Raphtalia: "Please."

Ren enters the room after a knock.

The first impression Ren received seemed to be a more tranquil feeling compared to Motoyasu.

If anything, Ren doesn't talk very much.

Ren: "First of all I'll introduce myself. I am Amaki Ren, also known as the Hero of the Sword. My best regards for these next two days."

Raphtalia: "My best regards. My name is Raphtalia."

Firo: "Firo."

Ren crosses his arms and looks at Raphtalia and Firo from head to toe.
An awkward atmosphere was covering the area.

Raphtalia:"Umm....."

Ren:"Levels?"

Raphtalai:"What?"

Ren:"Tell me what level you are."

Raphtalia:"Ah, sure it's 42. Firo is the same as well."

Firo:"Yep!"

Ren:"42 huh.....Isn't it impossible then?"

Raphtalia:"Eh?"

Raphtalia did not understand what he meant by saying it was impossible so suddenly.

Ren's companions were the same, they did not ask for any explanations.
Maybe they got used to it after being together with him for so long.
Well due to following my efficiency principle.....Raphtalia listens obediently.

Ren:"Oh well, let's just go raise our levels for now."

While saying that Ren sends a party invite and Raphtalia accepts.

Ren:"Before we leave, buy some medicine if necessary."

Raphtalia:"Ah, Okay."

Though Ren is blunt, Raphtalia responds willingly since they will be leveling up properly.

Since I already distributed medicine, there was no need to buy any, thus they arrived at their island.

Ren:"Well then, I'll judge how much you are able to fight. I will watch while we advance."

Raphtalia:"Yes.....?"

Raphtalia has a sense of discomfort from the words Ren said.

And so, they fought demons that came from the mountain-side of the island.

Ren:"Hmm.....well, the enemies around here should be at an appropriate level."

Raphtalia:"There is little resistance though....."

Firo:"Teei!"

Due to the Class up, Raphtalia and Firo's offensive power rose considerably. As a result, the few demons felt weak.

In fact, the enemies are being slaughtered with a single attack.

What would the appropriate level be? Actually, is it even something you can compare with game knowledge after seeing?

Ren:"This area is appropriate for level 40s. You guys continue leveling here, I'll be heading somewhere else. Well, you guys seem pretty strong for level 40 anyway."

While leaving that message, Ren runs off from the party.

Those last words were a little unnecessary. If this is a net game, I'll return.

Raphtalia: " Ah, Excuse me-"

Ren: "I'll return in the evening. Fight until then. Gather the demons."

Raphtalia: "S-Sure....."

Though the demons were weak, they still gave good experience, so Raphtalia continued to defeat demons.

When it was evening, Ren returned and absorbed all the demons Raphtalia defeated into his sword.

Raphtalia had slight feelings of having her commission stolen from the demons she defeated herself.

Is she an NPC? Respect the other party a bit more.

Raphtalia: "That....."

Ren: "What's up?"

Raphtalia: "Are we not going to fight together?"

Ren: "Your levels are not sufficient enough to fight. It is common sense for the weaker ones to make an effort to catch up."

.....Raphtalia felt irritation at Ren's attitude.

Do you lack common sense?.....I feel there is a large gap of common sense between me and Ren.

If it was me, I would be going with them first and then ranking them.

But, in net games there are restrictions one experienced gained when the levels are too far apart, however in this world there doesn't seem to be such a restriction.

Otherwise, when Firo was still a chick she would not have been able to level up so fast.

Anyway, after they entered the hotel they had a meal.

Ren:"Well I'm off to level up a little more. See ya."

After Ren says so, he leaves quickly.

Those words show that he is at least diligent in this world.....Raphtalia convinced herself to go take a rest.

So, the next morning.

Ren:"What is your level now?"

Raphtalia:"Let's see, it is 48 now."

Raphtalia and Firo both leveled from yesterdays fights.

By the way, even if they aren't in the same party as me, the growth correction is still in effect since I am their master.

Ren:"Well.....It might be a little harsh....."

Ren looks up and mutters to himself for a bit before answering.

Ren:"Let's go deeper today. We'll defeat demons together this time."

Raphtalia:"O-Okay."

Firo:"Okay~!"

Raphtalia was secretly relieved that she could finally have a proper fight.

But not even an hour passed before she noticed that was a big mistake.

Along the way, Ren asked about the magic and skills that Raphtalia and Firo could use.

So Raphtalia explained her illusion magic, and Firo's sure-kill technique.

Ren:"Hmm.....There was a similar skill, is it an original name?"

Raphtalia:"Huh?"

Ren:"Nevermind."

While crossing the mountainside, they entered the hinterland in the middle of the island.

A big demon with a single head called Karma Dog Familiar showed up.

It seems to be a demon with long ears, and it resembles a big black dog.

I wonder if the enemy was unpleasant enough to trigger Raphtalia's trauma.

Ren:"Alright! You guys, fight as per my instructions!"

Raphtalia:"Okay!"

Firo:"What are we going to do-?"

Ren:"First, attract the demon's attention and avoid its attacks. Then, use your finisher attacks on it!"

A very sloppy strategy.

Assault! Smash! Victory! Nothing is going to change.

Raphtalia gave up on attacking the Karma Dog Familiar according to instructions and dodged.

However, Ren was dodged to the spot first, so she had to move somewhere else.

Ren:"Don't stay so close to me! Think about it!"

Raphtalia:"O-Okay!"

If it was me I would have praised her. While I think about it, Raphtalia and Firo pulled maximum aggro on the enemy.

Thanks to having never co-operated with Ren before, their timings didn't match, and his order to prioritize dodging.

The result was, battle time was prolonged, and the battle with the Karma Dog continued while tiring out.

During the fight, Firo concentrated on attempting her arrow attack called High Quick.

Ren:"Meteor Sword!"

Firo:"Ah-! Move-!"

Just as Firo was charging out of the thicket, Ren appeared in front of her. Due to that, the magic was forced to change direction and fail. Karma Dog Familiar screamed and attacked Ren.

Ren:"Damn, so it was too shallow! What are you doing!? Hurry up and fight!"

Firo:"Fue-.....?"

Raphtalia:".....Illusion Sword."

Raphtalia as uses her special skill and hides herself to attack the Karma Dog Familiar's rear.

However.

Ren:"Tch!"

Ren failed an attack and dodged towards Raphtalia, while he clicked his tongue.

Raphtalia:"Wh-Why did you come here!?"

Ren:"Think about it a little!"

After a while the Karma Dog Familiar was finally defeated.

No wonder. Not only Raphtalia, but I am also getting irritated just listening to the story.

Ren:"Seriously, when you guys fight, look around a little! You guys should be focusing on attracting it's attention!"

Ren told Raphtalia, while confirming the Karma Dog Familiar's death. Immediately afterwards, something inside of Raphtalia snapped.

Raphtalia:"Look around? That should be you!"

After watching Ren fight, Raphtalia brought it up.

First of all, the Karma Dog Familiar is a boss-class demon that Ren had trouble fighting with himself.

Also, during the fight, Ren was only focused on fighting alone.

The boss was one that even Firo's kicks only bent it back slightly.

In Raphtalia's honest analysis, it would have been stronger than the Zombie Dragon.

Raphtalia: "You are the one that lacks strategy. You were the one that told us to avoid the attacks and use our finishers. However, you kept blocking our way!"

Ren: "There is no mistake in my strategy. You guys just suck."

Raphtalia: "Please don't joke around! I explained our finishers properly! Yet, why did you still obstruct us!?"

Ren: "I didn't obstruct anything! You guys just had to attract the enemy's attention."

Raphtalia: "Then why did you not explain it!?"

Ren: "You should have known from observation."

Raphtalia: ".....Please stop it!"

Raphtalia's patience reached the limit.

Raphtalia: "We do not get along well enough to co-operate together, there is no way we can fight together easily!"

Ren: "That's why I am the damage dealer, defeating this guy--"

Raphtalia: "Honestly, you are a hinderance!"

Raphtalia personally disables the party and instructs Firo.

Ren: "Wha----You, what are you doing without permission!"

Raphtalia: "Please remain silent!"

While wading through the bushes, another Karma Dog Familiar appears.

Raphtalia made a party with Firo who consented.

After that, Raphtalia and Firo killed the second Karma Dog Familiar in one-third of the time it took fighting with Ren.

Raphtalia:"We shall take our leave now. Since it is more inefficient with us here."

While being sarcastic, Raphtalia left with Firo and fought easily until evening. Being concerned about the time wasted with Motoyasu, they hunted until it was very late.

Ren:"Do you think such selfishness will be permitted!?"

Raphtalia:"What are you arguing about. Whether or not I have permission.....Who are you to decide?"

Ren:"What was that!?"

Truthfully..... He is talking with a lot of assumptions.

Requiring permission.....It's something that players get reported to administration for.

Naofumi:"Hey.....You, who are you to give permission for anything?"

Ren:"....."

Ren averts my gaze and mumbles under his breath.

Did you say it carelessly in a fit of rage?

Still, I don't think Raphtalia is in the wrong after all.

Though it wouldn't be beneficial to leave on bad terms.

Naofumi:"Or do you really have such power? Raphtalia is my companion. If there is something she did wrong then I will punish her. If Ratphalia did something, then explain the reason so I can understand."

Ren:"Ku!"

Hey there, something might be said to Shadow later.

In any case, no matter the circumstance I will defend Raphtalia. There is no reason for her to do anything wrong.

Naofumi:"What do you think a companion is? Do you think they are a chess piece that attracts attention from the enemy so that it doesn't come for you?"

In any case, this morning meeting.....is even shorter than with Motoyasu?
Oh my.....

Raphtalia:"If you keep doing such things, you will kill one of your companions someday!"

With that, Raphtalia angrily walks off back to the room.
Ren shrugs selfishly and glares at me.

Ren:"Your companion is selfish. Selfish people will die sooner."

That remark could be called the howling of a loser. I sigh while looking at the sky.

Ignoring your own rules and complaining.....

What can I say, there are more important problems to be worried about.

Representative:"Are you alright? Ren-sama!"

Ren:"Yeah, it's no big deal."

Ren walks off with his companions.....It is a little ironic, it looks like he's walking off with a junior in a guild.

I should stop worry about it.

There are such.....types. Those people who follow rules without question, and those that make them selfishly.

There are those that will take their juniors to a strong hunting field and kill them off, there's no meaning in co-operating.

With that said, I would rather not challenge someone who I might not be able to beat.

Well, that guy puts on a show of hunting alone. That might be the cause of their blind belief in Ren.

They are annoying in games, guys that only seem reliable at first.

When rare items appear those types monopolize the rare items. The only thing you can do is watch while that happens.

MO Type..... an episode is chosen while going through the story, in net games it's possible to enjoy it by solo beating the last boss of the stage..... However when compared to a complete MMO game, the bosses there are terribly stronger.

(TInote: Multiplayer Online and Massively Multiplayer Online. MOタイプ )

I remember attempting such challenges and some one not getting the equipment he wanted.

I remember the complaints of that guy.

His occupation has a strong finisher, and he used a junior to stall for time in order to shoot it.

In addition to challenging first-class dungeons, it was a wipe-fest for members. Those that usually played solo would start complaining.

And then, when participating in fights at a high level, their friends were unable to catch up.

There are some net terms fit that hero-sama. There are various other nicknames as well. Besides, those that don't abide by the rules and slander others are reported to administration.

since I also ran a guild, I remember having to ban a few of those types.

I thought he would be a bit more competent, was it just my misunderstanding?

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 93 – Tavern

---

Evening that day.

Accompanying an ill-humoured Raphtalia, we entered a bar on the island for a change of mood.

At first Raphtalia had an unhappy expression, but after a few minutes it was replaced with a smile.

The bar was overflowing with vigor and noisy adventurers clamoring over each other.

Some were talking about hunting grounds to raise levels, some were talking about accessories purchased that increase experience gained.

That fraud trader is doing quite well.

By the way, any bar fees for the heroes are paid by the queen.

Such a place truly feels like a different world

Firo:"Ah! This place seems fun!"

Since Firo is a bird. Did she take an interest in the music being played here?

Naofumi:"Go for it. Don't cause any trouble though."

Firo:"Un!"

Firo runs off with a pitter-patter and starts dancing to the music.

As we sat down on a counter seat, our liquor was provided.

I drank lightly.

U-.....n. Even after coming to a different world, the taste of alcohol doesn't change.

Feels like juice.

Raphtalia: "This is alcohol....."

Naofumi: "Well, it should be fine for you Raphtalia, since your body is that of an adults."

Raphtalia: "Okay!"

Somehow, the feeling of Raphtalia putting her mouth gingerly on the cup is one of a child drinking alcohol for the first time.

Raphtalia: ".....It's slightly bitter."

Naofumi: "Yeah, I guess."

Though for me it still feels like juice and water.

I have never gotten drunk.

Raphtalia: "What does Naofumi-sama think of drinking alcohol?"

Naofumi: "Nothing particularly special.....I don't have a hobby of it. I just drink due to social situations."

Raphtalia: "So that's how it is."

Naofumi: "There are people in my world who don't drink it at all, it should be the same in this one."

Ren and Itsuki are minors, but in this different world, they are probably drinking.

Ah..... I discover Itsuki participating in a feast outside the bar.

I thought you were a minor.

Oh well, it's a different world after all. There shouldn't be any laws to punish him.

The possibility of Ren drinking is also quite high.

Naofumi: "It might be good to measure how much you can drink."

Raphtalia: "Right....."

Raphtalia puts the cup to her mouth and gulps down all the alcohol.

Naofumi: "How are you feeling?"

Raphtalia: "Let's see."

I recall a banquet in my former world.

There wasn't a sense of girls particularly avoiding alcohol.

Well, Raphtalia has been accumulating a lot of stress recently, I wonder if this would be good for her.

Since alcohol's original purpose since the primitive ages was to relieve day-to-day fatigue.

She's a patient one after all. I'm quite interested in her real thoughts.

Naofumi: "Hey, don't worry and drink."

Raphtalia: "Okay."

While recommending Raphtalia to drink, the bard's singing could be heard quite clearly.

When I look, Firo's demon form is singing along with the bard's performance.

At first the bard was surprised, but after hearing Firo's unexpectedly good singing, tension started to heat up.

It's fine if they are enjoying it.....

Hm? It seems Motoyasu also notices Firo singing.

Leave it alone. Even you wouldn't pounce on her demon form.

Motoyasu:"Sing in your angel appearance, Firo-chan~!

Firo:"No!"

.....Alright. Everything seems fine.

After thirty minutes.

Raphtalia:"Can we please raise our levels with Naofumi-sama today?

After drinking fifteen cups of alcohol, Raphtalia speaks her thoughts to me.

The line of being drunk is crossed ambiguously.

Except for her slightly red cheeks, she appears somewhat sober still.

The alcohol seems considerably strong.

Though it's nice for keeping company, it would be troublesome for the effects to appear tomorrow.....

The boss of the bar couldn't hide his surprise at how heavy of a drinker Raphtalia is.

Apparently, the demi-humans aren't especially resistant to alcohol.

However..... The grape-like fruits put on the counter are very delicious.

The impression they give me are like condensed grapes, but also have a very refreshing after taste. Yet, after eating one..... My hand inadvertently extends for another.

No Name:"And that's game--!"

A guy that lost arm wrestling fell down over here.

Raphtalia:"Hey! We are talking here, please stop disturbing us."

Raphtalia declares while in a bad mood.

Usually she wouldn't say such things. Is it the effects of alcohol?

Her stress was accumulating quite a lot. The cause may not be just Motoyasu and Ren.

Thinking back, there was almost no rest while peddling, fighting the wave, and living as fugitives.

Venting may be necessary.

No Name:"Ha! Don't complain until you win in an arm-wrestle."

Raphtalia:"Is that so?.....Fine. I'll be your opponent."

Raphtalia rolls back her sleeve and declares her participation in the arm-wrestling match.

Well.....It should be fine. It would be troublesome if some-one got hurt though.

But.....These delicious grapes.

Boss:"Umm....."

The boss of the bar anxiously talks to me.

Naofumi:"Hm?"

Boss:"Is this going to be alright?"

Naofumi:"Well, there shouldn't be a problem."

Boss:"No, that's not what I mean....."

Naofumi:"Yes?"

For some reason the boss of the bar's expression is pale.

Why is he pale?

No name:"Alcohol! Bring more alcohol!"

And with a very loud voice, a man brings a big barrel of grape-like fruits from the corner of the tavern and stirs it.

Is this the secret ingredient? Oh well, the fruits are delicious so it's fine.

The bar continues to bustle with such a feeling.

As for Raphtalia's arm-wrestling match, she insta-killed her opponent.

Who the hell can defeat her in arm wrestling?! And, there's yelling.

Firo is singing enthusiastically with the bard.

It seems this change of pace was good.

While thinking that, I throw more grape-like fruits into my mouth.

No Name:"Ah, What are you doing!

A man points at me and yells loudly.

The whole bar falls silent in an instant.

No Name:"You, eating the Rukoru Fruit directly, do you want to die!?"

Naofumi:"Haa? Rukoru Fruit?"

Since there was another bunch in the vicinity I threw more into my mouth.
Immediately after, the surroundings grew noisy.
Is there something strange?

Raphtalia: "Na-Naofumi-sama. What did you do?"

It seems Raphtalia has awoke from her drunken state due to the commotion.

Naofumi: "Who knows? I don't understand why these guys are making a commotion."

This taste could become a habit. It might even be my favourite.
Let's have another.
I throw more into my mouth.

No Name: "Ah, You're still eating more!?"

For some reason, the whole bar's attention is focused on me.
Why on earth are you guys so surprised?
Another one is thrown in.

Motoyasu: "What's wrong?"

Motoyasu sees what happens and approaches me.

Naofumi:"I don't know, these unpleasant guys are complaining about me eating this fruit."

Motoyasu:"Interesting.....That fruit must be very expensive right?"

Naofumi:"Is that so? My bad. I'll pay later, so endure it for now."

Shadow will pay the money if I ask. Since the queen is on my side. I can eat in peace.

Boss:"Uhh.....They are indeed expensive.....but that's not the problem....."

The boss of the tavern answers badly.

What is it?

Boss:"Uhh.....Err, The Rukoru Fruit can only be drunk after mixing it with a big barrel of water. When you just eat such a thing....."

Naofumi:"Haa? What are you saying? I won't be fooled easily."

Boss:"No.....The truth is....."

Motoyasu:"Naofumi not getting drunk. Such a lie won't work on me."

While saying that Motoyasu picks up a Rukoru fruit and throws it in his mouth.

Motoyasu:"Oh.....What a rich taste, This is delicious--"

Right after Motoyasu said so, he fell forward and collapsed.

A loud crash resounded throughout the room.

Haha! This guy's eyes turned all white.

Speaking of which, is this fruit dangerous?

No name:"B-Big trouble! The Hero of the Spear-sama ate a Rukoru Fruit and collapsed!"

No name:"Quickly make him vomit it out!"

No name:"Right!"

The bar was thrown into another commotion and Motoyasu was carried off. Seriously.....Isn't the fun atmosphere completely ruined now? However, this thing seems to be highly condensed alcohol.

Naofumi:"Raphtalia, you want to eat one?"

Raphtalia:"No....."

Naofumi:"Then, does Firo want one?"

Firo stopped singing, came to me, and brought the fruit close to her mouth. Suddenly, Firo snapped her mouth shut and took her distance from me.

Firo:"No!"

Naofumi:"You not being a glutton sure is rare."

Firo:"That fruit, It's disgusting!"

Hmm.....For some reason her reaction is very bad.

I didn't think Firo could possibly refuse.

No Name:"It's an Uwabamiiiiiiiiiiii!"

(TI note: With the power of Rikai-kun and context, I figured out Uwabami ウワバミ means heavy drinker. Google gave me an elephant inside a snake.)

No Name: "It's a monster!"

No Name: "Even the god of alcohol would run away with his tail between his legs----!"

The surrounding dissolves into chaos.

This fruit.....Is there some kind of joke?

I won't be fooled.

Naofumi: "I'm sorry for causing a disturbance. Shall we return to the hotel?"

Raphtalia: "O-Okay."

As we are about to leave the bar that was still in an uproar.

Naofumi: "Oh right, the gold will be paid later, a messenger from the Hero of the Shield will pay it, I think."

While saying that to the boss of the tavern, we left the bar and headed back to the hotel to sleep.

Later, there was an exaggerated rumor going around the island.....It was about the Hero of the Shield being a monster in the shape of a person.

Is the power of the Three Heroes Church still alive?

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 94 – The Companions of the Bow Hero

---

Morning the next day.

Naofumi: "Today I'll be heading to Itsuki's place."

Raphtalia: "....."

Raphtalia frowns slightly.

For something to already happen twice, I hope it isn't going to happen a third time.

Since Itsuki has a strong sense of justice. He shouldn't be doing the same thing as Motoyasu and Ren.

Naofumi: "Itsuki only cares about his sense of justice, so don't worry too much. The other guys had their reasons. And it's only for two days....."

Just to be sure, I caution her. I think they would be fighting around that neighborhood.

I'm not saying they should get along. I just hope that they can level normally.

Still, unlike Motoyasu and Ren, the bow can't fight alone.

If I remember correctly, Itsuki's vanguard was his companion with flashy armour.

Raphtalia: "O-Okay. I'll do my best."

Firo: "Have a nice day master~"

After leaving the room, something pulled on my hair.

Shadow: "The Hero of the Spear-dono is taking a rest for today's companion exchange degozaru."

Naofumi: "Did something happen?"

Shadow: "Treatment for Rokuru Fruit poisoning degozaru."

Naofumi: "That fruit huh--....."

Is it due to constitution? I had no problems with it at all.

It seems even in a separate world, I'm still as unaffected as I was in Japan.

Isn't it a little strange that my body's constitution didn't change at all?

Or, maybe the one Motoyasu ate was just laced with poison.

Also.....The reason I am fine might be due to the poison resistance granted from my shield.

Is Motoyasu going to be sleeping all day?

Since it's that guy, there should be a delicious event of being nursed by various women.

His party structure is totally one from a Gal Game as well.

.....I don't doubt that he'll rebound without trouble though.

Shadow: "Due to that, the exchange between Hero of the Sword-dono and Hero of the Spear-dono will just be for tomorrow degozaru."

Naofumi: "Hmph."

It's just right for Motoyasu. As for Ren.....There shouldn't be any changes.

Well, it's good for him since he won't have to deal with Bitch and her party for another day.

Shadow:"I received a strange report saying that the Hero of the Shield-dono can really hold his alcohol degozaru."

Naofumi:"Those fruits were extremely delicious. Did you pay the bar for me?"

Shadow:"It was paid properly degozaru."

Naofumi:"Then it's all good."

Shadow:"There is a rumour on the streets that you became the Hero of the Liquor you know degozaruyo."

I got attached to a strange rumour.

How can I be anything with alcohol if I can't even get drunk.

Naofumi:"That's not me. Stick that title to Motoyasu."

Shadow:"It has already been stuck to Hero of the Shield-dono degozaru. Rather, I am interested in why you are denying it degozaru."

Seriously.....It's gotta be one of those. Either the poison resistance keeps me from getting drunk, or the alcohol here doesn't work on humans from my world.

Shadow:"You have arrived while we were talking degozaru. This is the room where the Hero of the Bow-dono's companions are staying degozaru."

After saying so, Shadow's figure disappears.

Naofumi:"Now then....."

I knock on the door to the room anxiously.

No Name:"Go ahead."

A normal reply came.

It seems Motoyasu's place was the strange one.

The door opened from the inside.

No name:"Please come in. Hero of the Shield-san."

After entering the room, I see Itsuki's companions all in relaxed positions.

Different from Motoyasu's place where they were selfish, they are polite like Ren's.

They are very relaxed as well.

However.....Didn't Motoyasu come earlier?

Naofumi:"I am Iwatani Naofumi, Hero of the Shield, I will be responsible for the last personnel exchange. We will be acting together for two days. Nice to meet you."

I confirm the number of companions Itsuki has while exchanging greetings.
Hmm.....5 people huh? That guy wearing the armour is crossing his arms patronizingly.

I have a bad feeling about this.

However, when our eyes met, he stopped.

Armour: "Right, nice to meet you too. We are Itsuki-sama's bodyguards, please watch us fight Hero of the Shield-san."

Bodyguards!

An amazing word just appeared.

Crap.....I just laughed. What the hell is that guy doing.

I somehow suppress my smile.

Armour: "Indeed, we five are Itsuki-sama's guards--"

Girl: "I'm sorry! I was asked to go buy something!"

The door behind me flew open and someone ran in.

When I turn around, I see a single girl carrying a tool bag on her back.

Girl: "Eh, Ah----Hero of the Shield-sama has already arrived?"

I wonder how old she is.....Should be around 14 years old? She gives off somewhat of a childish feeling.

She looks to be brought up well, and her genes look good. If it was Motoyasu, he would have hit on her.

She's petite though. Doesn't seem very suitable for combat to me. Does she fight by magic?

Though this voice is familiar.

If I'm not mistaken, she was the one that explained the Tzuvait • Aura that I learnt.

You can't really tell at a glance, but it seems she may be extremely knowledgeable.

No Name:"Rishia is so slow! Hey, introduce yourself."

Rishia:"O-Okay!"

Armour:"The six of us are Itsuki-sama's guards!"

Didn't you just say there were 5 of you a while ago?

It seems one of them went shopping.

The atmosphere somehow feels disturbing.....

No Name:"Then, should we just go for now?"

Armour:"I guess so. We must receive teachings on our battling from the Hero of the Shield-san ."

Naofumi:"Ah, sure....."

I wonder. This tension.

I feel that I can't keep up with it.

It seems there is no need to prepare anything, thanks to that girl going shopping earlier for all the necessary items.

As our party sets out, a feeling of anxiety remains.

When passing by the market, I witness a huge crowd gathering around the swindling merchant.

It seems he's doing quite good.

We got on the ship for transportation but.....

The ship is quite small for the seven of us.

Well, there isn't any space to walk, but since it's low-tide we should be fine.

The coral reef sure is beautiful.....

No Name:"Rishia, move close to the edge more."

Rishia:"A-Anymore and I'll fall over."

What is it.

Is the child-like Rishia's position very weak.....?

Before long, following a big wave a loud splash was heard.

Rishia:"GaboGabo....."

(TInote: I assume she is drowning, as I do not know proper drowning noises besides Glug Glug or something along those lines. I will be sticking with the Romaji. ガボガボ"

Sure enough, Rishia fell into the sea.

No Name:"She fell!"

I grasp Rishia's child-like hand and pull her back on the ship.

Armour:"Seriously.....you are bothering the Hero of the Shield-san!"

Naofumi:"Nah, the reason she fell was cause of you guys."

Since the boat is narrow, there should be no problem for her small child-like stature.

Frankly, these other guys are taking up way too much space.

Naofumi: "Perhaps if you guys remove your armour and equipment, there would be more room."

That flashy armour is taking up the most space. What on earth is up with this guy.

Rishia: "It can't be helped."

Naofumi: "What, can't be helped....."

What is going on.

Anyway, I pass Rishia a towel so that she can wipe off her child-like body. (TInote: Yes he is calling her small alot, I'm feeling a little creeped out as well.)

Rishia: "T-Thank you very much!"

Naofumi: "Make sure not to catch a cold."

Rishia: "O-Okay!"

She seems like a timid child.

The ship arrived at the island, and we got off.

This place seems to be full of hunting grounds

Seven people is a lot.

Naofumi: "Well then, the question now is, how do you guys usually fight with Itsuki?"

Armour: "Hero of the Shield-san. Can you do something about how you call Itsuki-sama?"

The guy who the flashy armour has an attitude and asks me.

This guy again?

Naofumi: "Wha?"

Armour: "Please, at least add some honorics when saying his name."

.....What did you just say?

Whatever I call Itsuki is up to me to decide. To think someone wants to correct me and tell me to add honorifics?

It seems that they are extremely loyal.

Naofumi: "Let me warn you, I am the Hero of the Shield, and I will be treated the same as the other heroes. Why should I have to address him like that?"

Armour: "Incorrect, Hero of the Shield-san you are not as active as Itsuki-sama, therefore Hero of the Shield-san must show respect to Itsuki-sama."

What a complaint.

It's an irrational argument. What this guy is getting at.....When looking around I see that, excluding one person, everyone has the same opinion. Furthermore, that one person is the child-like Rishia.

I don't know what their real intentions are, but this is quite problematic.

Naofumi: ".....What do you think you're saying?"

In respect to activity.....Since Itsuki is operating under cover all the time, wouldn't his activities not be recognized?

He's been going on a journey of social reforms, but there are barely any rumors.

Naofumi:"Activity? Isn't Itsuki's reputation as a hero the plainest? I haven't heard anything about the Hero of the Bow's activities anywhere."

Armour:"Bastard.....You're just a criminal."

In an instant, Shadow appears behind him with a dagger to his throat.

Shadow:"Hero of the Shield-dono is not guilty degozaru. By the authority of the queen, anyone ridiculing Hero of the Shield-dono will be punished accordingly degozaru."

Armour's face is full of surprise from the sudden events.

Just like Bitch, his eyes are swimming.

He's just being warned for slandering though.

Shadow:"Especially since denouncing Hero of the Shield-dono is a felony degozaru. The act of betraying a hero's trust is something that must never be done degozaru."

It's fine to think it, but don't say it.

Oh well, did Itsuki's companions not believe in my innocence yet?

Itsuki's sense of justice is unusually strong. Did his narrow-mindedness infect his companions as well?

Armour: "Gu....."

Armour glares at me bitterly.

Naofumi: "Hey, I think this guy wants to return first."

Shadow: "Hero of the Shield-dono saying something like that is troublesome degozaruga."

Naofumi: "Well....."

It's just one person not raising his level.

I think it would be better for our hunting as well.

It seems I have become a synonym for evil somehow.

This guy has probably been with Itsuki for too long, he has been brainwashed.

Shadow: "At any rate, I expect you to answer properly when asked degozaruyo!"

Armour: "Tch!"

After Shadow disappeared, Armour clicked his tongue in vexation.

Naofumi: "Hey, let's talk for now."

Armour: ".....When we fight, Itsuki-sama is always defending us from the rear."

Naofumi: "I see-....."

Well, he does fight with a bow after all.

Do the people in this world even understand the advantage of Long-ranged combat?

When anything life-threatening happens, Itsuki will always save them.

Though I think he's only attack at long-distances when he gains favour, I'll refrain from asking now.

Rishia:"L-Let's just go defeat some demons for now!"

Rishia said aloud shyly, we began to talk one after another.

And then, we encounter a demon.

Armour jumps in front, and his companions follow him.

Armour:"Now! Hero of the Shield-san. Attack it."

Naofumi:"Why are you depending on me suddenly?"

Would Itsuki nock his bow here?.....

Naofumi:"Use your head a little, think about my job."

Armour takes some damage from the demon's attack to buy time for his companions.

Meanwhile, his companions are attacking the demon.

I get that they have co-operation, but with me here the strategy is wrong.

Naofumi:"You, stand back."

I tell Armour to get back, and I stand in front of the demon.

It's still small fry. It's not even itchy.

Armour:"Gu....."

Armour voices his vexation.

Are you envious at how calm I am?

I think you being able to use a weapon is even more enviable.

Naofumi:"And then, Itsuki would get the final attack with the bow."

Armour:"Right, even a little of his power does major damage."

Well.....It's just an average way of fighting.

However, it feels like these guys are a human wall.

No Name2:"Itsuki-sama has the most outstanding offensive power among us all. Our role is to maximize his power."

A different warrior in armour answers.

There is no reason to approach if he can attack from long-distance though.

In short, wouldn't this make Itsuki have to be careful of friendly fire by mistake?

Rishia:"Afterwards, I assist in recovery."

Naofumi:"What about magic support?"

They can't be just dealing with Itsuki alone.

Naofumi:"I guess I'll do it if the occasion demands it."

Rishia:"M-Me too!"

Well, that's about it.

Their co-operation with me isn't the same as Ren's part, but at least it works.

.....Though the degree of co-operation from Ren's party is unnecessary.

Naofumi: "Alright, since the defence can be taken care of by me, you guys in armour just focus on attacking."

Armour: "Can you take it all?"

Armour declares with a provoking feeling.

This guy again?

Does Armour have a grudge against me or something?

Naofumi: "Of course, I don't have to act like I'm uninjured, unlike you."

There is no need to be cautious against small fry of this level.

In the first place, I could fully block the pope's all out attack.

This guy was there too, so he should understand.

Armour: "Bastard....."

For some reason this guy in flashy armour has quite a lot of pride.

He complains whenever I do anything.

Though I say that, our hunt proceeded without problems.....Not.

Random Adventurer: "You bastard! To kill-steal the demon that I knocked down! Your right to live is forfeit--"

Rishia: "Hii!?"

Armour dealt the finishing blow to a demon that a random adventurer was fighting.

No Name: "Don't break the rules of the island! Our bad, This guy just had a slight misunderstanding."

Enough already, I just want to return soon!

This is as difficult as Motoyasu's party.

The lecture on our first day here was completely forgotten about.

We were warned to never steal a kill on a demon that another adventurer is fighting.

This guy seems to be convinced that he is a special existence.

What the hell did Itsuki teach.....

Naofumi: "My head feels heavy....."

And then, after fighting a while, I noticed that the child-like Rishia fights very clumsily.

When I think she would stab the enemy with a sword, she recites magic and casts recovery on someone who is injured.

Though, it was already too late.

It feels like she doesn't have a grasp on her own role. I should pay close attention.....

Armour: "Rishia, Move forward more!"

Armour: "Rishia, Fall back!"

Armour:"Rishia, Recovery. Hurry up!

Armour:"Rishia, Recite magic!"

Rishia:"O-Okay!"

I gave up thinking about it, since her bumbling about was always late.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 95 – The Disease of Justice

---

It was around noon, so I went to get something to eat, but...

“Rishia! It’s time for lunch” (Armor) (TL: lunch is said in English)

“Y-yes!” (Rishia)

The armored guy orders the childish Rishia to bring out lunch.

He’s acting quite high and mighty. And why English?

Well, my shield is currently acting as a translator, I shouldn’t worry about his phrasing.

“You can do that much by yourself” (Rishia)

“What are you saying? In this party, you are the newest. You’re assigned to odd jobs.” (Armor)

“Ha...!?” (Naofumi)

What? Newest?

Eh?

The Hero party system member system may be organized like a company, but it’s a bit different, isn’t it?

Rishia is distributing lunch among her party members.

There also seems to be a Hierarchy she has to follow when giving out the food. Each time, she stops in front of a different person, bows, says their name and goes on.

The first person is the one with flashy armor. He gets a large piece of meat still on the bone, and a sandwich with another large piece of meat in it.

The second person looks like a soldier. He gets a sandwich and a piece of grilled fish.

The third person...

And so it went on.

From the remaining bag, Rishia takes out some fruit, and starts eating them.

What the hell is this, can't they just share food evenly?

This is...

"Do you have a hierarchy going on here?" (Naofumi)

In response to my question, the other heroes nod as if stating the obvious.

"Of course, our positions are decided by how much we are trusted by Itsuki, and our contributions to the group. Isn't it great? Does the hero of the Shield wish to hear more about Itsuki-sama's greatness?." (No Name)

"No, not particularly." (Naofumi)

"Don't be like that, after we met Itsuki, the first time we awakened to the voice of Justice was-" (Armor)

And the companions of the bow went into a lengthy story about the Hero of the Bow's accomplishments, praising him at every corner.

I don't remember the contents of the story, and I don't want to either.

The stories were all about him hiding from the public eye and purging evildoers.

And about how through these actions, Itsuki convinced his party that he was the Hero who would save the world.

Is this supposed to be a religious cult?

He already seems to be their Messiah.

Anyways, here is my analysis.

The fact that Itsuki is always punishing evildoers leads to the belief that these people are always on the side of good.

And thus anyone who opposes them can immediately be labelled as evil. This eventually led to their current Tyrannical behavior.

Hmm... I believe there was a name for this type of person.

In a movie I saw a while ago, a foreign police officer continually defeated evildoers. Is he delusionally trying to be like that?

The police would be in big trouble if those people actually existed.

I can't remember the name of the movie now. I believe it was derived from...

As no large criminals were at large, his twisted sense of justice would cause him to issue the death penalty to small scale sinners as well.

He would then kill them, giving the excuse that 'they resisted'.

"This is tiring..." (Naofumi)

Even after we had finished hunting, Itsuki's companions continue to speak of his accomplishments at the inn.

I didn't really level up.

My attacks became dull after I had learned about their hierarchical behavior.

I'm not getting any good organizational advice either, am I.

They even continued talking when I was in the bath. I am sick of it.

"Fu..." (Naofumi)

After the bath, I go outside to look around.

More like I can't stand to hear those people anymore.

It's quite nice out here. I think I'll hide until they're finished.

Is what I thought when I hear footsteps behind me. I turn around.

And see the childish Rishia coming back with a bag from the Island's convenience store.

"Ah, It's the hero of the Shield" (Rishia)

“Yeah, Why are you here.” (Naofumi)

“Um… I was sent out to buy stuff.” (Rishia)

“I see…” (Naofumi)

Because she’s at the bottom of the pyramid?

I’m surprised she can stand this environment that is getting infinitely close to bullying.

She’s treated like a pack-mule. She didn’t even get to introduce herself.

This is like a company with Itsuki at the top, and this girl at the bottom.

I’ve been through a lot, so I can kinda understand. I’m also a little interested.

“Hey.” (Naofumi)

“Yes?” (Rishia)

“Why do you remain in that party?” (Naofumi)

It’s probably uncomfortable, and they are a group that will do anything to accomplish their ‘justice’. I would never be able to remain in that group.

I won’t ask her to come to my party, but both Motoyasu’s and Ren’s would be more bearable than this.

“There’s nothing I can do… I mean I just got here.” (Rishia)

"I'm asking why you don't leave despite everything they do to you."

(Naofumi)

"Ah, that's because I have been saved by Itsuki before." (Rishia)

"Is that so?" (Naofumi)

"Yes..." (Rishia)

Rishia began to explain the circumstances surrounding her joining of Itsuki's party.

To put it simply, Rishia was the daughter of a fallen nobleman.

Her family had little money and just barely scraped through.

The village was ruled by a Noble family that was obtaining their funds through illegal means and Rishia's parent tried to sabotage their operations.

But all of their money was secretly taken by those people. All the villagers who also raised complaints against the noble family were silenced.

And then... as Rishia's family had no money left to pay taxes, the Noblemen proposed that they could give Rishia in place of money. They threatened that they would kill her family if her parents didn't comply.

It seemed like a situation that Itsuki would pounce on readily.

That evening, Itsuki and his companions infiltrated the Villainous Nobles' Mansion and used the authority of the Hero to put an end to their dealings and save Rishia.

It seemed that Rishia felt greatly in debt to her saviors, and decided to join Itsuki's party.

"I... really want to repay Itsuki for saving me." (Rishia)

From my point of view, everything that Itsuki is doing is pointless, however, from Rishia's point of view, he must seem like a true hero.

I clearly felt Rishia's gratitude towards Itsuki in her story.

She had much more purpose than those other members who were just feeding their egos by playing hero.

"I see, so you have it tough." (Naofumi)

"Yes. It's not going very well." (Rishia)

"From the way I see it, you are more suited to play rear guard." (Naofumi)

She seems to be adept in magic, and on the front line, everyone treats her as a nuisance.

Her companions are also to blame. If she can use a sword, cast magic and perform healing, shouldn't they be making better use of her?

This may be because the party has too many members. No one notices the specialties of an individual member.

"I've never had any talent, I scare easily and I'm a klutz... If I had to pick something, I guess magic is my specialty, but Itsuki prefers members who take the vanguard, so when classing up I selected a class with higher close-combat skills." (Rishia)

"..." (Naofumi)

So because she has ignored her strengths and focused on her weaknesses she has been unable to improve.

While Itsuki's fighting style does involve everyone being on the front line, if you throw an amateur on the front line, there's no point.

"Try not to be a Jack of all Trades, but a Master of all Trades" (Naofumi)

(TL: He is saying don't be halfhearted. If you're going to do them all, master them all.)

"Yes!" (Rishia)

She seems to have a lot of heart despite her size, she should be fine.

I had fallen to the very bottom before, and had crawled back to where I am with my own strength.

If Rishia works hard, she should become a useful party member.

"I'm sorry for keeping you for so long. I'll return with you so the others don't get mad." (Naofumi)

"Thank you." (Rishia)

The next day was just one long headache.

Why must I put up with this. Like a curse, rumor had spread that a merchant was selling fraudulent goods. Itsuki's companions were discussing how to deal with the situation.

By the way, I told them that I had already dealt with the fraudulent merchant and that he had had a change of heart, so the curtain had closed on that problem.

If it was just me, I doubt they would have believed me, but Shadow helped corroborate my story.

It took a while before they seemed satisfied with my explanation.

...

"For the love of..." (Naofumi)

We were hunting Karma Rabbit Familia in the deeper parts of the Island.

They weren't strong, but they weren't exactly weak.

I kept the monsters contained, so defeating them wasn't exactly difficult, but this party's attack power was way below expectations.

The party seemed to be based upon acting as a barrier to allow Itsuki to attack from afar, so its damage output was severely lacking.

If I was with Raphtalia or Firo, it would only take a few minutes to defeat these monsters.

I finally completed the conditions to unlock the Karma Rabbit Familia Shield.

-

Karma Rabbit Familia Shield

Abilities (Sealed)··· Equipment Bonus, Scan (Small)

-

I'm not sure if he simply disliked my fighting style, but Armor left the party.

If Raphtalia or Firo had a problem, they would probably tell it to me before leaving.

After Armor left, the soldier-like guy began to act strange. He initially took on a high and mighty attitude, but he eventually left the party as well.

This continued for a while until the only one left was Rishia.

Of course, this allowed Rishia, who could take on any role to shine. By the time the sun reached its peak in the sky, we had safely finished hunting and had boarded the ferry back to the previous island.

Not that I care at this point, but Armor and friends are on the same ship.

I'm not sure if they think that Itsuki will be mad at them, but they seem to not want to return to the inn.

Talking to them will be a pain. I look at the ocean and calm my heart.

These two days were the worst.

I didn't even get much information on Itsuki and I wasn't able to recruit anybody.

But finally this crappy Information Exchange is over...

As I stare at the sea, I remember the events of the morning.

That's right... This morning Rishia gave me a piece of ore.

She said it was her way of saying thanks for listening to her story last night.

At the time, I had thought, 'As expected of nobles, even if they have fallen, they still raised such a nice girl', however now that I look back at it, her behavior back then was quite strange.

"It's a jewel that Itsuki regularly collected, though I don't know its use."
(Rishia)

Is what she said.

At first I thought it was a material for modifying accessories, but if he regularly collects it, it must be for daily use.

Once I get back, I have to meet with the other heroes.

I guess I'll ask Motoyasu or Ren at that time.

AUTHOR NOTE (TL: Yes, the actual author):

Note, The mental state Naofumi is referring to is called Dirty Harry Syndrome, I did not write it as it is the name of a movie.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 96 – The Bow Hero & My Companions

---

I returned to the main island on boat by the afternoon.

.....I pray that Raphtalia isn't angry.

As I pray and walk back to the hotel, I see that as usual, Firo is waiting for me at the front.

Again?.....While thinking that, I notice Itsuki sitting nearby with a fed up expression.

Firo:"Hey, come on, heeey. Why? Whyy?. Come on"

Itsuki:"No.....I am-"

Firo:""I am" isn't an answer. Tell me. Hey, come on, heeey."

So, contrary to my expectations, instead of Raphtalia, Firo is constantly inquiring Itsuki about something.

What is it? I have no idea what is going on.

Itsuki:"Ah, Naofumi-san!"

When Itsuki see me, he approaches with Firo is still clinging to him, and points at her.

Itsuki:"Please hurry up and take this child back. Ever since I got back here, she has not stopped barraging me with questions."

Firo:"It would be bad to leave since master told me to stay with you all the way while he wasn't here right? Anyway, tell me the real reason, Hey, come on, heeey. Why won't you tell me?"

Firo is extremely curious about something and continues barraging Itsuki with questions.

This is the first time I've seen Firo like this.

Naofumi:"Errr, did Raphtalia tell you to pester him?"

Firo:"NNn~ It's different. Firo just wants to know. Though after that, Raphtalia onee-chan got mad."

Naofumi:".....So it happened after all."

I expected this after seeing Itsuki's party.

The leader of Armour and them is Itsuki after all. Every action follows his code of justice.

Itsuki:"This girl did more than that other one who left half-way, but she keeps bothering me with the same question."

Firo:"Come on, tell me. Heeeeeey"

Armour:"This bird! To think you have the nerve to annoy Itsuki-sama."

Firo:"Hm~? You want to play with Firo?"

Itsuki:"Stop it. She is not someone you can easily beat, she is the companion of a hero afterall. So you shouldn't be fighting."

Itsuki warns the flashy Armour who is about to go berserk.

Well, to be honest, it's pretty obvious that the end result would be Firo toying with Armour.

In the worse case, we would be seeing dirty fireworks being launched. I guess Itsuki would also know what would happen to Armour if he got kicked by Firo as well.

Naofumi:"I'll warn you now. What did you do to Raphtalia?"

She got angry, even after I warned her to turn a blind eye to his sense of justice.

Though, Raphtalia shouldn't have snapped over something like that.

I'm not saying Raphtalia is at fault, maybe she just lacks some patience.

Even so, regardless of what Raphtalia may or may not have done, I won't hold back venting on his group.

Since Armour and his buddies have boycotted me wonderfully.

Naofumi:"Also, make sure you manage your companions a little better. The only one who fought seriously to the end was Rishia."

Armour:"Th-That's not it! We just couldn't fight well together with the Hero of the Shield-san."

Naofumi:"No matter how you word it, it's the same thing."

Itsuki:"It's the same here! What is with your companions?!"

.....Oh my, it seems that we have an unproductive and mutual dispute with each other on our hands.

Frankly, I'm getting tired of dealing with Armour.

Naofumi:"For the time being, let's not try to decide who is in the wrong. Since we are both calling each other's companions terrible."

Itsuki:".....Fine. then it's over, but I request your help..... without you, it seems that stopping Firo-san is impossible."

That's quite rare, since he is the Itsuki with an unusually strong sense of justice.

Is Firo's question that hard to answer?

Itsuki:"This matter is merely on hold. We will meet and talk about this tonight."

Naofumi:"We'll talk then. Since your companions were terrible as well."

It seems that the situation is too tense to exchange information.

I just pray that I won't be blamed for this situation by the other heroes.

Firo:"Heeeeey, He still hasn't told me yet."

Naofumi:"Firo, give it up. No matter how much you ask that guy, he won't answer."

Firo:"Muu-....."

Really.....It seems Firo really wants to know.....

I'm quite worried about what happened.

Naofumi:"So? Where is Raphtalia?"

Firo:"Over there."

Firo points to the same location as before.

Haah.....Good grief. Is it my fault that all the heroes are causing problems?

Just like before, as Raphtalia was waiting for me, her tail is all puffed up.

Naofumi:"I'm back."

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama!"

As soon as Raphtalia hears my voice, she starts running to me.

Naofumi: ".....What in the world happened?"

Raphtalia: "Actually--"

I don't really want to hear it, but Raphtalia began talking about the staff exchange with Itsuki.

While feeling uneasy, Raphtalia was waiting for Itsuki.

Firo: "Who is it today?"

Raphtalia: "It's going to be the Hero of the Bow, Itsuki-sama."

Firo: "Heeh-..... That person with the strange hair is coming."

Raphtalia: "Seems like it."

It seems in consideration for me, she decided that she would try not to get mad at Itsuki and endure it.

Itsuki came later than Ren, but earlier than Motoyasu.

There was an audible door knock.

Raphtalia: "Go ahead."

Itsuki: "Excuse me."

After knocking on the door politely, Itsuki entered the room.

Itsuki: "I am the Hero of the Bow, Kawasumi Itsuki. My best regards for these next two days."

Raphtalia: "Yes, and my name is Raphtalia. Please teach us well, Hero of the Bow-sama."

Firo: "Firo."

The self-introductions ended simply.

At that time, out of all the heroes, she had the best impression from his politeness.

It's like she is saying I'm bad.

.....Am I actually? Though I was rarely ever courteous, since I would have been taken advantage of.

Itsuki: "Shall we go level up at once?"

Raphtalia: "Yes, preparations are already done."

Firo: "Yeah! Let's go-"

Thus, Raphtalia departed with Itsuki.

It seems that before arriving at the hunting grounds, Itsuki had a meeting with Raphtalia regarding the methods they would use to fight.

Well, since time travelling is wasted anyway.

Raphtalia and Firo explained the characteristics of their finishers, and their levels, while also explaining what types of demons they have fought on the island.

Itsuki wanted to gather a large quantity of demons in one area. then he would special skills to defeat them.

That was it. It seems that besides me, Raphtalia found that Itsuki was a hero worthy of respect.

There were also some stories about his strong sense of justice too, but that should be natural for heroes.

She said that, it didn't take too long to discover how big of a mistake that was.

Itsuki: "Alright, Raphtalia-san, you guys can do quite a lot, so we should be able to go quite far."

Raphtalia: "Okay!"

And so, they advanced towards the middle of the island.

Itsuki: "I found a demon. I'll pull it so get ready to fight!"

Raphtalia: "Eh?"

Itsuki nocked his bow and shot an arrow at a demon that was quite far away.

The arrow hit the demon right-on, and it started approaching, but.....

Adventurer: "Wha?"

An adventurer who was trying to fight the demon watched it go with an astonished expression.

Adventurer: "Ummm....."

Itsuki: "Do you have a problem? Didn't we take the first attack?"

As a matter of fact Itsuki answered what Raphtalia and the adventurer have been thinking.

The rules weren't broken, but it's still quite provoking.

This behaviour is called "Mobbing" in net games. Whether it's acceptable or unacceptable depends on the game, so I can't make any sweeping statements, speaking of which, wasn't Itsuki under the impression that this was a console game world?

Well, it's not something worth worrying about. Or can he still not tell the difference between this and a game?

Adventurer: "Nevermind....."

It's not a violation of the rules. However, while they were thinking of it, the demon approached and Raphtalia attacked it with her sword.

Since it was a weak demon, it was easily killed.

Firo also slaughtered the demons that Itsuki attracted with his bow in one shot.

Though, Raphtalia felt that Itsuki's attacks unexpectedly lacked power.

The time he attacked was little as well.....

By the way, I didn't know, but it seems Itsuki's quiver endlessly produces arrows for his bow, the arrows appear simply by tightening his grip on the bow.

While deep in thought, they kept advancing.

Wherever they went, Itsuki would do a preemptive attack on the demons that any adventurers were trying to go for.

Raphtalia: "Umm, Itsuki-sama..... Could you please not perform those actions against the demons adventurers want to fight?"

Itsuki: "What are you saying? It's the law that we can kill it since we attacked first. Even the lord of this island said that there are too many demons and it's troubling, so we are fighting any demons we come across."

Raphtalia: "But....."

Itsuki: "A demon is coming. Please fight."

Raphtalia felt that something was off.

And then, while Raphtalia was in the middle of thinking.

She felt that Itsuki's attack power and the times he attacks is very little.

Raphtalia learnt Itsuki's level earlier. Since 75 was quite high Raphtalia decided to trust him.

Compared to Motoyasu and Ren, that attack power was too low.

While approaching the center of the island her convictions changed to doubt.

Demons called Karma Squirrel Familiar appeared.

They were attacked by a group of small black demon squirrels.

They were hard to fight due to their quick attacks and numbers. Raphtalia and Firo both fought, but it seems that these demons have a habit of calling their companions.

For any one that got knocked down, another one take its place.

Furthermore, the reinforcements weren't just from the same family, they also called in high level demons like the Magenta Frog.

Raphtalia: "Itsuki-sama! Hurry up.....use your area of effect attacks."

Itsuki: "Understood! Please wait a second! Arrow Shower!"

Itsuki aims his bow to the sky and shoots an arrow.

The arrow flew up and started multiplying itself, and rained down.....But it wasn't enough to defeat the Karma Squirrel Familiars.

Raphtalia: "Tei!"

It couldn't be helped due to low attack power.

While following Itsuki's strategy, Raphtalia continued to exert herself and fight.

"Firo is the origin of power. Firo has read and deciphered a law of nature. Blow them all away with a raging tornado!"

"Tzuvait • Tornado!"

With perfect timing, Firo sends a bunch of demons flying.

Though, the disadvantage due to numbers is still prevalent. Raphtalia expected that if I had been there to trap all the demons in a prison, she could have blown them all away with magic.

At the time, Raphtalia was about to receive a serious attack from a demon when----

Itsuki:" Falcon • Strike!"

At that moment, Itsuki fired off an arrow that turned into a bird of flame and instantly destroyed the demon that was about to attack Raphtalia. Furthermore.

Itsuki:"Fire Arrow Squall!"

Arrows of flame started pouring around the vicinity, and all the demons were wiped out.

Itsuki:"Are you alright?"

Raphtalia: "Y-yes....."

While looking at Itsuki with a skeptical gaze, Raphtalia looked around at the demon corpses.

In that instant, Raphtalia was ashamed to admit she thought Itsuki was cool.

Why? I think, at that moment he should have been naturally cool.

Raphtalia: "I was saved."

Itsuki: "That's good."

Firo: ".....Hey"

Firo pecked Itsuki's back with her beak.

Itsuki then turned around to look at Firo.

And Firo asks Itsuki with a face full doubt.

Firo: "Hey, why did you hold back your power?"

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 97 – Lies

---

“Eh?” (Naofumi)

At that time, Raphtalia was explaining things to me. I felt an unexpected aura coming from her.

Firo also has some aptitude for sensing presences.

Well, it's more like she lives by her instincts, she can interpret subtle signs.

Raphtalia was able to link all the unfortunate events that occurred until now, and make deductions based on that.

“W-what could you be talking about?” (Itsuki)

This is that, isn't it?

Itsuki did nothing until Raphtalia and Firo were in trouble. It's like that...

In action anime, when the hero's comrades were mere millimeters from death, the main character would make a flashy entrance and rescue them. That situation comes to mind.

I was an Otaku before I came to this world, I did think those scenes were cool

But those scenes don't really exist in reality.

“Do you think Firo didn't realize it? From the start, the bow person was watching without doing anything wasn't he?” (Firo)

"I'm asking what you mean by doing nothing." (Itsuki)

"The spear guy, the sword guy and master have relaxed before, but the bow guy was wa~y more relaxed. But whenever we were about to get hit, the arrow would come flying out." (Firo)

Firo extends her wings and gestures to show a rain of arrows.

So Itsuki was loafing around waiting for the moment to act cool.

"I'm saying, I wasn't doing nothing!" (Itsuki)

"Then why didn't you use the skill you used before again?" (Firo)

"T-that's because of my SP and the cool-down time..." (Itsuki)

"Shouldn't you have thought of that beforehand? I think that would make fighting easier." (Firo)

Firo's inquisition began.

Raphtalia, who had pretty much reached the same conclusion, does not stop Firo.

"Firo knows. Bow person, you didn't prepare any arrows until Raphtalia-oneechan was getting into a pinch." (Firo)

"Wait, what?" (Raphtalia)

"You're wrong. There's no way I would do that." (Itsuki)

"Then why didn't you fire any arrows?" (Firo)

(TL: Firo is asking questions like a child, you know when small children just ask long series of questions without visible animosity.)

“No, I did fire them” (Itsuki)

“No, the gap between your skills this time was longer than the gap between the previous skills” (Firo)

Firo corners Itsuki with a barrage of questions.

And from Firo’s mouth, complaints come one after the other.

“At first I thought that it was just that sort of weapon, but back then, I realized I was wrong. Hey, hey, why is Bow Person holding back?” (Firo)

“And I’m saying that I wasn’t holding back!” (Itsuki)

“And whenever Oneechan seemed like she was going to get hit, why did you look a little happy?” (Firo)

“…W-what?” (Itsuki)

I was getting close to my boiling point, and was about to release my frustration. I think Raphtalia sensed this.

Firo’s childish inquisition shows no signs of stopping.

“You’re wrong. Why is this child saying such things?” (Itsuki)

“Hey, Hey, why won’t you tell Firo?” (Firo)

Firo continues to pressure Itsuki, while tilting her head with a face full of curiosity

Finally, Raphtalia, who has also had enough, joins Firo in her questioning.

“... If you could shoot attacks that powerful, why didn’t you do that from the beginning?” (Raphtalia)

“And I’m saying there was a problem with my SP and cool-down time so...” (Itsuki)

“We had bought you plenty of time to recover SP. If you had shot an arrow at the beginning, the previous battle would have been much easier. Also, if you are that strong, why don’t you shoot your arrows, do you have any intention of winning?” (Raphtalia)

“I-I have my reasons. Every time I use my bow, I lose SP.” (Itsuki)

“Hey, Hey, why won’t you tell us the truth? The Bow Person is lying. Firo can tell.” (Firo)

“... Is what she says. What do you have to say for yourself?” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia is so angry that I can sense Magic power seeping out of her.

I think Itsuki could sense Raphtalia’s anger as well.

“When you shoot your bow, do you really lose something?” (Raphtalia)

“Y-yes” (Itsuki)

“Well, if something is draining it should also replenish. Naofumi told me that SP recovers quite quickly” (Raphtalia)

Even if it drains that quickly, there should be a limit.

He should have enough SP to fire off consecutive skills to some extent. But there’s no reason for him to hold back at this point.

“Hey, Hey, are you possibly trying to act cool like the Spear guy?” (Firo)

“Y-you’re wrong. Do I look like someone who would show off like Motoyasu” (Itsuki)

Itsuki’s proud demeanor has vanished, and he is desperately denying the accusations.

But the perceptive Raphtalia only saw confirmation of her statements.

“Um, you know. I thought that because whenever me or Oneechan seem to get into a pinch, your eyes seem to sparkle.” (Firo)

Firo points her finger at Itsuki and strikes a pose. Her eyes are also sparkling

(TL: they describe what seems to be the OBJECTION! Pose here)

Raphtalia is staring holes into Itsuki.

“And when we get out of pinches by ourselves, you seem to make a sad face and you put down your bow.” (Firo)

“There’s no way I would do that, I’m a hero, you know!” (Itsuki)

"Then tell me, how much SP does each skill take, how much cool-down time do you need?" (Raphtalia)

"Um... Each shot takes around half of my SP, and the refill time is 15 minutes" (Itsuki)

"Your eyes are looking down. Bow Person, that's the same face you were making when you were lying." (Firo)

Raphtalia's hate is only growing.

It seems she will cut him down if he lies again.

Well, Raphtalia probably won't go that far...

"I-it's not a lie! What could this child be saying?" (Itsuki)

"... Then the next time we meet that enemy, please shoot it in the beginning. It's already been 15 minutes, so you should be able to do it. We'll watch over you."

"What the hell are you saying?!" (Itsuki)

"I want to check if you're telling the truth. I believe in you. Please use your arrows until your SP runs out. After that, retreat to a safe area, and we'll help you." (Firo)

"D-do you plan on making me fight alone!?" (Itsuki)

"There's no problem, we want to see just how strong the Hero of the Bow really is. The Hero of the Spear did this too." (Raphtalia)

And so, Raphtalia pressured Itsuki into fighting.

And, as if on command, another Karma Squirrel Familia appeared.

Raphtalia went into hiding and began counting with her own heart rate.

The Karma Squirrel Familia Charged, and Itsuki fared quite well... He unleashed a large rain of arrow on the incoming enemy. It dealt a lot of damage.

"That attack was much more potent than any of the ones he used when fighting with us." (Raphtalia)

"T-twas a coincidence... how strange." (Itsuki)

"Your arrows had much more power behind them than before." (Firo)

Firo continued to corner Itsuki

And then...

「Falcon • Strike!」

In one shot, every single one of the Karma Squirrel Familia lay down dead.

Itsuki wipes off his sweat.

"You're out." (Raphtalia)

"Hah?" (Itsuki)

"It has only been 6 minutes since you last attacked. Even for exaggeration, this is too much." (Raphtalia)

"A-are you sure it's not your imagination?" (Itsuki)

"That's enough. I can no longer trust a liar like you." (Raphtalia)

And with that, Raphtalia left the party.

"Wha- Are you just going to leave like that?" (Itsuki)

"As long as you lie, I cannot leave the back line to you, and I cannot fight in the front to protect you." (Raphtalia)

The road back had little danger, and Raphtalia was easily able to return by herself.

Firo was still curious about why Itsuki was holding back, so she stayed in the party and kept pestering him.

"Oneechan, Firo will fight with the Bow Person." (Firo)

"Yes, that will probably bring less trouble to Naofumi. But you shouldn't trust that man." (Raphtalia)

"Understood!" (Firo)

And that's how, in just the first day, Raphtalia left the party and went to level on her own.

She vented all her anger on the poor monsters, and eventually calmed down.

It seems she hates lies.

And Raphtalia is a warrior, she hates people who hold back.

...

"In just an hour, you lied to your comrades. I can't believe you. I have no desire to leave my back to your bow." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia confronts Itsuki and says as such.

Her gaze is colder than ice.

To be more specific, her eyes are dead. (TL: imagine Yandere stare)

This is the first time I have seen Raphtalia like this.

"Itsuki-sama! What do you think you are saying to Itsuki-sama!? I won't allow this!" (Armor)

An angry Armor tries to go after Raphtalia

Raphtalia stares at him expressionlessly.

"I hate people who care for nothing but their pride." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia grabs Armor's extended arm and squeezes it tightly.

His gauntlets are letting out a metallic creaking sound.

I am honestly afraid right now.

That's just how angry Raphtalia is right now.

“The hell, this girl is ridiculously strong.” (Armor)

Despite her looks, Raphtalia does possess high strength.

If you take away her self-control, this is what will happen.

“Please leave it at that.” (Naofumi)

At my command, Raphtalia stares at Itsuki for one last time, and finally lets go.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 98 – Evaluation Session

---

Itsuki: "St-Stop it."

Armour: "But Itsuki-sama!"

Itsuki: "That girl is only judging me. But the truth is different. I would prefer this opportunity to settle in a peaceful manner."

Armour: "I-Is that so. I understand."

Armour realises he's at a disadvantage and relaxes. Raphtalia also loosens her grip on his arm.

Raphtalia: "Don't bother lying. Now, when will you inform your companions about your need to satisfy your sense of justice."

This severe remark was fired at Itsuki.

Itsuki: ".....I pray that it doesn't come to that. At any rate, you will get to a point where you will be forced to rely on me."

What's that.

I have concluded, that is the howling of a loser.

In the first place, why would Raphtalia have to rely on Itsuki, before me.

I can't imagine that situation.

Is he similar to Motoyasu in one way or another?

Could it be, his sense of justice isn't strong, but he just wants to be praised?

Could what's strong actually be.....His sense of self-satisfaction?

Am I thinking too much?

I expect that It's probably not that awful.

I want to believe it. Otherwise, it would be hopeless.

Itsuki:"Well then, I'll be looking forward to tonight's meeting."

Naofumi:"Uh huh, there are a bunch of things that I need to ask as well."

Itsuki:"Right, this way I can also inquire some things from Naofumi-san."

And with that, Itsuki and his companions went back to their rooms at the hotel.

However..... Originally it was Motoyasu, then earlier it was Ren. Though it appears as if Motoyasu is the most decent one.

Raphtalia:"Good grief! Why are all the heroes except for Naofumi-sama like that!?"

She's at her wit's end.

It's not that I don't understand her feelings. Because regardless of merit, that guy is called a hero.

I know of a guy in a game that would call this so-called hero a hypocrite.

This Hero is like a thief after all.

Not to mention, that selfish sense of justice, concealment principle, and focus on self-satisfaction.

Though.....This one time evaluation meeting might not be any good.

Naofumi:"Raphtalia, Firo as well, listen to me together."

Raphtalia:"What is it?"

Firo:"What~?"

Naofumi:"Raphtalia, I think your ideals are just a little too far-fetched."

Raphtalia:"Eh!?"

Raphtalia answered with a surprised expression.

Naofumi:"I guess I may be the cause, but at the end of the day, they are still human beings before they are heroes. What you know about the heroes in legends, they are all most likely only their grandest activities, in reality they could have one, two, three, four, five, or even six kinds of defects."

Raphtalia:"That many?"

Naofumi:".....Don't mind that. Legends are meant to be dramatized.

Look,for example that saying of great men have great fondness for sensual pleasures, if this world's heroes were truly like that, would it have ended the way it did?"

Raphtalia:"W-Well....."

I just learnt this proverb, but I understood it since there are similar words in my world.

Naofumi:"So, there is no need to mind every single detail. Those guys have their own way of fighting. Just take a good look."

Raphtalia:"Okay?"

Naofumi:"If you take a good look at how Motoyasu fights, you will know that instead of having his companions get hurt, he would personally go out and fight. Is that the attitude of a hero?"

Raphtalia:"I-It is."

Naofumi: "If you take a good look at how Ren fights, he doesn't make his comrades do the impossible, and if they fight a tough opponent, he will lend his power as a hero."

Was I a little harsh?

Well, that guy has a lack of strategy, but I feel that's just from habit. It would be possible to judge if I experienced it.

Raphtalia: "Well....."

Naofumi: "If you take a good look at how Itsuki fights, he would absolutely never let his companions get hurt, it would be impossible to fight if he didn't have confidence in himself. Heroes are meant to be relied on."

Well, all of his followers are out of control.

Even I think it's a little painful.

However, we haven't even started looking at where they were bad, but we don't even understand our own bad areas.

Naofumi: "I am also the same, perhaps I was following my ideals too much."

Raphtalia: "....."

Naofumi: "From the beginning, there are no perfect humans. The reason why heroes are powerful is due to their weapons..... for example, even if they are strong, it doesn't necessarily mean they are also strong mentally right?"

Raphtalia: "R-Right....."

I am the same, before I came to this world I was very carefree.

Then, I had to deal with a world of swords and magic.

To know that it is reality is little unpleasant and instead embrace it as a dream.

Giving a normal guy special powers, and lifting him up with praises of "Hero Hero".

If you observe and think about it, the four heroes summoned, for better or for worse are all humans.

There is no perfect human.

I don't know the criteria used for the selection.....But, thinking about it there are certainly some heroic dispositions.

Take Motoyasu for example, he is a feminist who is incredibly fond of women,if you think about it, when he heard about Raphtalia being a slave, he took the righteous action to release her, though from my standpoint he is just an annoying guy.

Ren wanted to go save the village that was in trouble.

Even Itsuki, though he's a little inconsiderate, I think that his attitude on not allowing bad things to happen is to some extent, Hero-like.

While that may be true, I naturally still have no reason to get along with those guys.

Even after considering all that, their problematic behaviour stands out too much. However, It's not as if I am defending those guys, I just want Raphtalia's consciousness of a party to improve.

Naofumi:"After being with me up till now, do you know where I am lacking?"

Raphtalia:".....Naofumi-sama is.....There are times when you smile while looking at the misfortunes of others."

Gu..... I was self-conscious of that, but Raphtalia still had to say it.
In fact, when I heard about the misfortunes of merchants and villages, I was happy thinking about all the business and profits I would make.
Most recently, I was laughing at bitch while she burned from doing bad things.
I don't intend to fix it though.

Raphtalia:"Also, you are not a polite person, you don't lie, but there are times when you argue out of a promise."

Wow..... her words really cut.
Even if you don't say it, I am still somewhat self-conscious of it.
I think it would be fine to not keep some of those promises.
Though it's not like I'm going to change that, is that where I'm bad?

Raphtalia:"Your words are bad, you are naturally insensitive sometimes, and also naturally dense, you are not thoughtful and you don't understand what's on people's minds."

Naofumi:"That's an overstatement."

I question what was just said.
Who is naturally insensitive. I am aware that I'm not thoughtful though.

Naofumi:"W-Wow. When put like that, perhaps I am not even recognized as a hero by Raphtalia after all."

Raphtalia: "There is no such thing!"

Naofumi: "I'm glad that you think so. Still, just like I have bad traits, those guys are also the same. Just look at the big picture this time."

Though, it looks like she still doesn't understand.

If you understand the weakness of those guys, then it would be easy to set up counter-measures in the future.

Naofumi: "Raphtalia, if you don't mind me saying that your ideals are too high and wilful. When things get unpleasant, it is fine to run away. Just understand that."

Raphtalia: "Okay....."

Raphtalia casts her eyes downwards and stays quiet.

I feel that what I said is a little exaggerated, but you can improve yourself by observing others.

Something that could be applicable to the bad parts of those heroes, but there are many things that might happen in the future.

It is important to be cautious for anything in the future.

Firo: "Heeeey, What about Firo?"

Naofumi: "You're noisy."

Firo: "So mean~!"

Raphtalia: "Haha."

Our little party comes to a conclusion.....But when people gather, problems are sure to occur.

Though those three are having a problem now, doesn't necessarily mean that it won't happen to us.

In order to avoid that it is necessary to properly observe all the party members.

Naofumi: "You must pay attention to yourself and your companions, view things objectively."

Princess play, Solo play, and establishing recognition, looking at the companions of those guys I feel that I must prevent my companions from these problems.

As for hierarchy, give me a break. A New companion.....If I get a new slave or demon, it would be unpleasant if Raphtalia and Firo bullied them. I want to believe they aren't that kind of children but, it may take place necessarily.

That said, if a new guy joins, it would be impossible to promote him immediately.

This isn't just limited to Raphtalia and Firo, it also applies to me.

Hypothetical if the problem occurs from me, it would be likely that in the future there would be no improvements.

The Hero of the Shield is me, the companions of the other three have directly received my influence.

As expected, Raphtalia and Firo aren't enough, it is necessary to increase my companions.

If the number of companions increase, leading becomes more difficult. Considering the problems caused by the other three and the possibility of it happening, it is necessary to improve my party from now on.

Naofumi: "You guys must not think that just because you are a companion of a hero that you are right. Avoid causing trouble. During the meeting, try not to give up half-way."

With that said, it is troublesome to associate with that guy.

There is probably going to be some false accusations on Raphtalia at the meeting.

Honestly, I want them to give me a break.

Raphtalia: ".....I understand. I apologize."

Raphtalia seems to have understood my position and reflected.

Naofumi: "Well, it's not bad to chase your ideals, but it's not good to dwell on useless things."

Raphtalia: ".....Okay"

Firo: "Okay~"

Both of them mutter and nod their head as I watch.

Naofumi: "In any case, it would be good if it was someone like Raphtalia or Firo."

Before being strong or weak, it would be someone who will always avoid causing problems.

This week, I was painfully able to realise how easy it was to associate with Raphtalia and Firo.

Naofumi:"So with that said. I have high hopes for the both of you. My best regards for the future."

Raphtalia:"O-Okay!"

Firo:"Okay~!"

When finishing this reflecting meeting, Raphtalia was depressed.
There are still some other things I haven't heard.....

Naofumi:"By the way, Firo, you were together with Itsuki the whole time?"

Firo:"Uh huh."

Naofumi:"Did he do something different from me?"

Firo:"Hm-....."

Firo plays with her ahoge while thinking about it.
What could it be?

Firo:"Uhh,You see. He said Bonuses and Percentage about the demons."

Percentage? Bonus?

Was he hiding something after all? Bonus.....something like equipment bonus? As for absorbing the demons..... Let's try to use multiple materials. There is also that ore that I got from Rishia, I could possibly discover something from it.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 99 – Cal Mira Island Jinx

---

Since we came back early in the afternoon, deciding with Raphtalia and the others, the evening is still young.

While spending time studying medicine and magic is good… playing at the beach before was good too.

And, with that thought in mind, we went for a walk in the marketplace to enjoy a change of pace.

Naofumi: “Is there something here that you need, Raphtalia?”

Raphtalia: “Nothing this time.”

Firo: “Firo’s stomach is empty.”

Naofumi: “Yes, yes.”

Providing Firo with lighter meals from the food stands, we met with a crowd in front of us.

Just then…

Fraudster: “Please wait. We have lots of inventory so there’s no need to push. Please form yourselves into a line!”

This voice… it must be the merchant who was ripping people off.

He’s sure raking it in. I see selling based off of that jinx is going well.

Fraudster: “Ah!”

Hm?

My eyes meet Fraudster’s who’s directing the people in line from on top a high platform.

Fraudster comes down from the platform and pushes his way through the crowd in my direction.

Fraudster: "Hero of the Shield-sama!"

I don't remember ever identifying myself as a hero around here... well, I guess something like the heroes being on this island would be common knowledge. Somehow or other, it'd be possible to feel the difference in atmosphere.

And then, how could he not know when my hero equipment is a shield?

Naofumi: "Sure looks like your business is booming."

Fraudster: "Yep! It's all thanks to Hero of the Shield-sama!"

Raphtalia: "Did you do something?"

Raphtalia and Firo incline their heads to listen.

Naofumi: "Ahh, actually..."

I tell Raphtalia and Firo about what happened on the first day we came to the island.

Hearing about my actions that were bordering on bad, Raphtalia nods in consent.

Raphtalia: "Ahh, so that's why you were closed when we came by with Moto... Hero of the Spear a couple of times."

He's already not even getting a '-sama' any more.

Well, it can't really be helped.

It seems after being with the heroes she no longer holds any respect for them.

For the time being, I'll just have to reflect on it. I don't think an understanding can be reached.

It wonder if it's at the point where I, too, am called without honorifics.
...that's rather uncomfortable.

Naofumi: "Always address me with a '-sama'."

Raphtalia: "Huh...?"

I'll leave the '-sama' matter alone for now.

While Raphtalia looks at me perplexed, I turn back and talk to Fraudster again.

Naofumi: "So? Why did you call me? If you're only thanking me you still have many things to sell. We can talk when you're closed."

Fraudster: "Ch, it's not usually like this. Please come into the store."

Naofumi: "Why?"

Fraudster: "I want to show you my gratitude as well as various other things."

Naofumi: "Hmm..."

His financial standing must be quite good now from all the profits he received, so I should be able to expect some small expression of thanks. He might be on cloud 9 from the scheme consistently earning him money. To get something I should get it early.

I can work on the problem of being called with a "-sama" later.

Naofumi: "Sure..."

Fraudster nodded and led me into the store.

...the portable tent is gone. This is a proper shop built out of stone.

So the renovation has already been taken care of. I wonder how much profit has been flowing in.

It's obvious from the line in front of the store. The jinx trade must be formidable.

Fraudster: "It's over here."

Going around the store we entered from the back entrance. The sales people were bustling about in the shop selling accessories for the merchant. In the workshop at the back then, artisans were taking turns making lots of accessories out of processed ore.

...isn't this too profitable? If it doesn't die down I'll get anxious.

I mean, who's to say how many adventurers are coming to this island? Thinking about it is impossible.

Fraudster: "Soon, the island god festival will start and we'll be able to open a food stand by the alter."

Already, it seems they want to turn it into a special product for those who come visiting, by turning it into a kind of shrine amulet.

Naofumi: "Now, what was this gratitude you were talking about?"

Fraudster: "It's this here."

While saying that, he handed over a bracelet he was carrying. Calmira Island's own...

Miraca Bracelet (EXP Bonus Small)

Quality Top Grade

A red... a pure blood red gem was given to me.

The effect, too, is considerably good, and the quality is high.

Naofumi: "What should I say, it really does have the effect of increasing experience points."

Fraudster: "This is the highest quality bracelet made with the Miraca ore found on this island. So I could thank you by all means possible, I had it prepared. Ah, the granted effect came about by chance and won't be found in another accessory."

Well, that's how it is. It's not like they're selling things that really have a jinx attached.

Or rather, it was surprising that there really was a system where accessories could provide a boost to experience points.

Naofumi: "Miraca ore, eh."

Since the workshop had been opened to me, I took the opportunity to look through the ore.

The quality of any one of them was bad. What, all the gems here are nothing but garbage.

It seems it's not easy to find something that will help you out in battle.

Naofumi: "Isn't this one considerably expensive? From what I've seen, it seems this high a standard is hard to keep up."

Fraudster: "As expected you figured it out... that's correct. The biggest issue with Miraca ore is it's poor quality."

Naofumi: "Hmm..."

Fraudster: "Comparing the level of gems..."

Naofumi: "Is it okay to accept something that's so rare?"

Fraudster: "Yes. I received the cost for this piece a long time ago from the lessons I received from Hero of the Shield-sama."

Naofumi: "How do you mean?"

I should have only given him tips on how to make people happy to take out their gold.

Fraudster: "Until now, I thought that doing trade meant grasping the other person's weakness. However, I wanted to try using the same trade methods I saw the Hero of the Shield-sama using. Ahh, this is definitely the true way of commerce."

Up until that point, the Fraudster had tried to swindle all his customers. However, then I talked to him about how to do trade, how to sell things at an unreasonably high price, while the customers buy them with a smile on their faces.

Provoking resentment. That had been the only way he knew how to perform a good trade.

Naofumi: "Is that so... when the fad dies out, you have to be careful not to go back to the way you worked before."

Fraudster: "I've already played my hand. There's no need to worry."

Naofumi: "Oh? What makes you able to say that?"

Fraudster: "There's some small collaboration."

Saying that, Fraudster points out his collaborator.

...the accessory merchant smiles at me and waves.

You came to the island too, huh.

Accessory Merchant: "As expected of Hero of the Shield-sama, even in this backwater area you were able to drum up such an interesting and fresh new business."

Fraudster: "Please meet our store's merchant trade sponsor."

Naofumi: "Huh, you..."

Is your nose attuned to the smell of money? Well, that's the thinking that comes across.

While he's that kind of trader, I'm reluctant to associate him with money-mad people.

Accessory Merchant: "At the moment, the fame of Calmira Island accessories is going through the roof. Ha ha ha."

Naofumi: "Well, more or less."

There's no real efficacy.

At worst, we might have to put some countermeasures in place if the mood turns sour.

Accessory Merchant: "Yes, well. There are a great number of success stories verifying that rumour. Who would feel the need to pursue the truth?"

With a black aura coming out, both merchants laughed.

What unpleasant faces.

They'll chew it to the bone, this island.

Accessory Merchant: "Let's add a rumour about the colour later."

Naofumi: "...what do you mean to do?"

Accessory Merchant: "You'll just have to look forward to that."

Naofumi: "Not even..."

Accessory Merchant: "Won't Hero of the Shield-sama take stock in the store too? I'm fine with anything you'd like to do. Why don't you become the shop's store manager?"

Naofumi: "I'm not about to step into your shoes."

I know.

This guy wants me to eventually inherit the merchant guild and take charge of its success.

Accessory Merchant: "Is that so. Please feel free to drop in any time you like."

Naofumi: "...please pardon me as it's unlikely I'll be back once I'm done."

Fraudster: "Please choose something you'd like for your companions as well."

Naofumi: "Oh? You're sure being generous."

Fraudster: "Yes... since it's been so profitable I'm likely to explode from being overweight."

The Fraudster and the accessory merchant won't stop laughing with that face.

That face is one that has gotten drunk on the dark side of business dealings. It's a scary thing, doing business.

Some people hate the dark side and some people love it... that should be remembered.

In the end, both Raphtalia and Firo received Miraca series accessories.

Raphtalia got a strap to dangle from her sword. Firo got a shoelace strap.

Miraca Strap (Stamina Recovery, Medium)

Quality Top Grade

Miraca Strap (Magic Power Reinforcement, Medium)

Quality Top Grade

Naofumi: "This seems bad somehow."

Accessory Merchant: "Don't worry about it so much, just accept it."

I try to ignore my feeling that the shadows of those guys are laughing.

For those guys, that's their way of life.

I don't care if a riot happens and they get caught later.

In case my fault is unreasonably brought up, I can just show this accessory and play the victim after all.

Naofumi: "For the time being, we should probably get together if any problems come up."

Accessory Merchant: "Perish the thought. Hero of the Shield-sama worries too much. Well, I guess that's proper for a merchant."

Naofumi: "It's perfect because of the promise. Do you know what to do when I'm together with the other heroes?"

Merchants: " "Yes, we're ready." "

That harmonizing of words is unpleasant.

Honestly, do you really get it?

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 100 – Hot Spring

---

After that, Since we lightly played at the sandy beach while the day waned we returned to the inn, then I looked for the shadow to ask about the schedule.

Naofumi: "That reminds me, what time is the meeting?"

Shadow: "After Heroes bathing and meal degojaru."

Naofumi: "I see."

So after a bath and dinner is the meeting huh, and how much information I can draw out from those guys, everything is hanging on me.

Before that.....

Naofumi: "Then I'll go to the bath.."

Raphtalia: "Aa, Yes. We'll also take a bath shortly."

Naofumi: "Aah. "

So, leaving those two behind, I went to enter the bath.

Naofumi: "Fuuu..."

Soaked in a Japanese style hot spring of open air, I let out a sigh while looking to the sky.

*Since it's also a hot spring, lately it's good and refreshing entering the bath everyday.

Feels like my body's sluggishness is considerably improving too.

Though I've yet to recover from my status.

Or maybe despite my body being sluggish, I'm getting accustomed to it.

So, I had entered the bath with that good feeling but.

Motoyasu: "Oh? Well if it isn't Naofumi."

Motoyasu enters the bathroom.

Where is the spear?

After saying that, If I look well enough, there is a really small spear attached to his waist.

Figured it was like that.

I too had reduced the shield as much as possible and placed it on my back. Since I'm not able to remove it from the body, it helps to be able to change where it's attached.

After pouring hot water on himself, Motoyasu enters hot spring bath.

Naofumi: "You already fine after that hangover?"

Motoyasu: "Can YOU talk?"

Naofumi: "You ate that yourself right? I didn't tell you to eat it."

Naofumi: "Well, seems like your world is a different Japan, with a different constitution. "

Motoyasu: "Yea Yea."

Well, not like I was drunk though.

To begin with, I'm sure you had fun being nursed by the bitches.

Though you might have not realized it with a hangover and all.

Motoyasu: "Heeey. It's quite a good bath ya know."

Motoyasu raises a loud voice toward someone.

Who's he talking to?

Itsuki: "I can see that myself. How many times do you think we've come here?"

Itsuki and his male followers had entered.

Thus, seeing Motoyasu, Itsuki makes a turbid expression.

Itsuki: "Because I have a lot of things I want to say to you in the meeting, Please keep it in moderation."

Motoyasu: "Those are my words but it's an hot spring you know? You gotta enjoy it."

What are you enjoying?

Was what I was thinking but then I noticed Ren was among the group as well.

Well, today's the meeting after all.

Something like this happens too.

Firo: "Master-"

Jumping over the fence, Firo comes to the mens bath.

Of course, in her demon appearance.

Naofumi: "Hm? Something wrong?"

Firo: "I want to enter with Master. "

Naofumi: "You are a bird. Enter a different hot bath. Actually, rather than a normal bath, go to a bird bath."

Firo: "Noo"

Such a selfish fellow.

Well.....

Naofumi: "Get rid of any loose feathers."

Firo: "Yay"

Firo soaks in the bath next to me.

Motoyasu: "Bathing together with Firo-chan."

Motoyasu approaches here with some disgusting eyes.

Firo backed off and used me as a shield.

Motoyasu: "Firo-chan. Your angel form if you will."

Firo: "No!"

This guy is persistent.

How much can a guy like angels?

To begin with, is bathing together with a bird so much fun?

I don't understand.

Motoyasu starts bathing in high spirits.

Motoyasu: "With that, We all did the party exchange so, who do you guys think is the most beautiful girl?"

Uwaa... He thought of an awfully stupid topic.

This isn't a school trip.

No, Maybe for Motoyasu it's like a school trip from his world?

Ren and Itsuki are making questionable faces too.

But, maybe he thought this out for the sake of making conversation with Itsuki.

Motoyasu: "Next, have you guys already done it? I... heheh."

Motoyasu is endlessly annoying.

What does this guy want to do.

Rather, that statement reeks of a virgin.

Was this guy really a ladies man?

This is a tremendously unpleasant mood.

I just entered, but should I leave?

Motoyasu: "Hey, Naofumi, you've already done Raphtalia right?"

Naofumi: "Why are you turning the conversation my way?"

This guy, to talk as if there was nothing between us.

Rather, who was it that was glaring at me as if I was their parents enemy when it was the incident with the queen.

Is this light mood something a hero needs?

Can't be.

Motoyasu: "Isn't it fine. This time's festivities is for the sake of growing friendships right?"

Naofumi: "What are you misunderstanding?"

Well, The official stance may be like that, but truth is, it's for drawing out information.

No... If it's Motoyasu, It's likely friendship.

Though I'm sure it's less friendship than snatching women to him.

Ren and Itsuki have memories I'm sure.

Excessively unpleasant expressions shoot toward Motoyasu.

Motoyasu: "Anyway, I'll tell ya my particular cute girl rankings."

Naofumi: "I refuse."

Itsuki: "Unproductive."

Ren: "Not my hobby."

While saying that, Ren and Itsuki couldn't silence Motoyasu.

Just listening is useless.

Motoyasu: "My type of girl is Whore, Raphatalia-chan, Firo-chan, and Rishia-chan."

Naofumi: "....."

What the hell is Motoyasu's taste.

All members and types scattered all over.

It's fine as long as the face is good?

Itsuki: "That's so isn't it. Whore is a former princess after all. It seems her personality is bad, but I was normally interacting with her during my time."

And here Itsuki is joining into the conversation.

Aarmor is.... muttering something to Itsuki's ear.

I can slightly hear it.

*Something like talking to Itsuki about their own taste or so.

Every last one of them is going with the flow.

Ren: "Well, you say the Queen's personality is bad, But I don't mind it."

Then, Ren jumped in too.

You... Didn't you say this wasn't your hobby?

Ren: "Rather, Raphtalia-san personality is severe right? Or perhaps damn serious. she's hardheaded. But her face looks is very put in order."

Motoyasu: "Right?"

Itsuki: "...Certainly, her face is good. Though her personality is bad."

Again, why are you guys getting swallowed into Motoyasu's pace.

It's easy to spit out a complaint, but I don't want to play along with them.

Or rather, It's not that her personality is bad, You guys handled Raphtalia wrong.

Firo: "Is Firo cute?"

Firo asks me of all things in the world.

Naofumi: "Who knows."

Firo: "Buuu....."

Motoyasu: "In my heart Firo-chan is the cutest! So turn into your angel appearance."

Firo: "No!"

Motoyasu, is her human form really getting to you that much?
Even though if you raise a Philorial yourself, It'll become similar to Firo.

Motoyasu: "Rishia-chan has some praiseworthy cuteness too... I'm jealous of you Itsuki."

Itsuki: "No... that girl is..... "

Itsuki, somehow seems to be getting embarrassed.
The guy who will do anything for the sake of being an ally of justice.
*Doubt grows in me too about how Rishia became a party member of Itsuki's, with how he likes to stir up trouble just to get the fame for solving it and all.

Ren: "Was there such a person?"

Seems like she was outside Ren's view huh.
Well, I can't negate the possibility of Itsuki's party moving on his basis.....They may have feigned friendliness with Ren and Motoyasu.
In the first place, Rishia's weak good luck, or rather, she's not very self-assertive herself.
If you look at it from Ren's side, there were only plain people.

Motoyasu: *"Seems like everyone and me has the same realization."

Itsuki: "Well, in general that's right. If it's just the face."

Ren: "....."

Ren and I ignore in silence

Rather, what's with this conversation.

No, probably something between men.

Firo: "Firo's going back to Oneechan now. "

Naofumi: "Aah, Just go."

Firo: "Yea!"

And, the cheerfully nodding Firo jumped over the fence and returned to the woman's bath.

Now, guess I'll leave.

Somehow, it feels like Motoyasu is in high tension, and wants to open up a conversation with just men.

Motoyasu: "Hey, Naofumi, How far have you gone with Raphtalia-chan?"

Naofumi: "That again, As I said before, we don't have that kind of relationship."

Motoyasu: "Well, Surely Raphtalia thinks differently."

Naofumi: "What are you joking about..."

Motoyasu: "Then, was there no kind of action?"

Naofumi: "None."

Motoyasu: "Well, Then maybe Raphtalia approached you or so?"

Naofumi: "No Approaching or anything. In the first place, she's a kid."

Motoyasu: "Are you dense? Then Raphtalia hasn't undressed or anything? I can't tell with the clothes and armor but her proportion is good right?"

Seems like I gotta keep him company for us to move on.
He really is a troublesome guy.

Naofumi: "Come to think of it, Before..."

An event at the time I was peddling.

It was a time when we went to a famous region with hotsprings all over to sell things.

The inn I entered likewise had a hot spring.

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama....."

*The evening of that day, Raphtalia, who was wearing a bathrobe, entered the room and talked to me while I was in the middle of compounding. Somehow, in an appearance only of wrapped in a towel, I remember her seeming embarrassed to me.

Not knowing what she was thinking, Raphtalia undid the large cloth and displayed her own body.

Raphtalia: "H, how is it?"

She acquired muscles to an extent, I know her breast were big too, from that time she hugged before, I thought they would become a hindrance. How should I say, They are plump, I thought where did all that power come from.

Her hair was wet too.

Thought there were some scars on her back , now there's no trace of them left.

Because the time I got her to show me them before, since I had effective medicine for scars I smeared it on them..

Raphtalia was showing me its whole body shamefully.

Naofumi: "Well, It's gotten considerably better right? There's a huge difference between now and the time we met."

Raphtalia: "Eh? Um..... is it just that?"

Naofumi: "Is there something else?"

To my question, somehow Raphtalia had her mouth opened wide as if she was astonished and at a lost for words.

Naofumi: "Also, you'll catch a cold if you stay naked like...."

Firo: "Ah! Oneechan got naked!"

Firo returned to the room and raised a fuss.

Thus took off her one piece, got completely naked and charged here.

*Firo: "Let Firo mix in too!"

*Raphtalia: *"We aren't mixing! What is that?"

*Normally, from the standpoint of the naked Firo, She was eager to get naked.

Naofumi: "And that's what happened. "

Motoyasu: "This dense motherfucker-----!"

Motoyasu with a look of some anger, came swinging his fist at me.

I stopped and gripped that fist.

Naofumi: "What's with you so suddenly."

Motoyasu: "That was a open appeal! To not chow down on a meal set before you is rude!"

Naofumi: "What are you saying. I said it before didn't I? Raphtalia's a kid. And also 'damn serious', she wouldn't be thinking of such a thing."

Try having a relationship poorly, and when it comes time to fight waves she's pregnant and not covered as war potential.

Among other such things.

Raphtalia who gets fired up for a mission wouldn't desire such a thing.

Rather, I'm sure she'd hate it.

I view creating an environment for Raphtalia to fight easily as my motto.

Motoyasu: "That level of denseness, I can't believe it."

Motoyasu, seems like he willfully consents and backs off.

After that, Motoyasu instantaneously switches over, this time shifting his focus on the fence.

Motoyasu: "If we are men, then the obligatory pe-ek-ing, is our responsibility as Heroes!"

Naofumi: "How is that responsibility!"

Motoyasu: "Look, you guys are interested too right?"

And here, Justice dumbass Itsuki isn't keeping silent.

Itsuki: "You mustn't do such a thing!"

And while saying such things, Itsuki doesn't stop Motoyasu very much, instead he gets closer.

You too huh.

Armor and other men are interested too and are gathering around the fence.

Hey Queen.

Seems like Friendships are deepening in a difference meaning.

Ren: "Stupid."

While Ren grumbles such, he doesn't try to get out the bath.

I don't want to go along with these guys anymore.

Naofumi: "Bath in moderation."

Because I'm quite fed up I leave the bath.

Motoyasu: "What Naofumi, you aren't joining in?"

Naofumi: "I said it before, I have no interest."

To insist on what seeing the body of a real woman.

Even under normal circumstances, I recall bitch and become instantly unhappy.

In the first place, if I impudently stay in this place, I might be charged with an unjustified crime again.

They say a wise man keeps away from danger.

So if even Shadow and me are talking in the room safely, when something happens, I would have an alibi.

Motoyasu: "Seriously dense. I understand Raphtalia-chan's hardships."

Naofumi: "Whatever."

Maybe the Raphtalia in your head is in love with me, wants a relationship and is merely waiting for a chance to strike, but reality's different.

She only has respect towards me as a hero.

From such a Raphtalia it'll become a betrayal of expectations.

Sheesh.... they say great men have great fondness for the sensual pleasures, but how about loving it too much.

Motoyasu will surely, after the waves are over, have various experiences with women.

The party by the Bitch for the Bitch is on the verge of collapse.

Naofumi: "Fuu."

After the bath, I cool myself off in the room.

Up until just now, Shadow and I had some idle chat, but they said some kind of report came in and vanished.

Before long, I could hear the sound of footsteps and Raphtalia in a towel came rushing in.

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama!"

Naofumi: "What? Were Motoyasu and them found peeping?"

Raphtalia: "Aa, Yes! Just now, the other heroes are reflecting."

Sheesh..... Well, It was the Shadow's observations after all.

*Though this says as friendship is deepened, becomes silent, and is so.

Now that I think about it, what is the standard of peeping in this world?

The norm in my world is around Edo Period or so there appeared to be holes for peeping use in the bath.

Here the men's bath and such had been separated but comparatively in different inns in the region there was mixed bathing.

Raphtalia: "Not that! Naofumi-sama was?"

Naofumi: "Why do I need to peep?"

Raphtalia drops her head crestfallenly to my answer.

Raphtalia: "...I thought talking with the other heroes would have awoken something in you a little.. "

Naofumi: "Awoken?"

A different power or the shield's true strength maybe?

I want to awaken that.

Unfortunately, nothing.

Firo: "What's wrong with oneechan?"

Firo who came back, tilted her head to Raphtalia who head was dropping.

Naofumi: "Who knows."

What made Raphtalia get so depressed?

Naofumi: "What's got you depressed? Did being seen naked by Motoyasu put you into shock?"

Raphtalia: "I wasn't seen!"

Naofumi: "Then that's good. "

Raphtalia: "Haaaa, whatever.. "

Raphtalia returned with a weary look after just stepping out of the bath. By the way, after retuning I asked for the reason but, I didn't get a reply.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 101 – Hero Conference (Start)

---

“Now then, it’s about time to head to the meeting.” (Naofumi)

After eating at the inn, I proceed to the conference hall.

I go there following Shadow’s instructions.

“Well, I’m off.” (Naofumi)

“Good luck.” (Raphtalia)

“Luck~!” (Firo)

After a quick word, Raphtalia and Firo take their leaves.

I went outside of the large inn and go up a long spiral staircase.

The view of the island through the windows on the staircase is breathtaking.

…?

What is that? There seems to be a bridge of red light descending on the adjacent island.

It isn’t my imagination… right?

Was that there yesterday?

“It’s here-gojaru” (Shadow)

We had climbed a tower-like structure and reached the top floor of it.

I enter the room. In the center is a table with documents distributed in intervals around the edge.

Ren and Itsuki are already seated.

"Thank you for earlier" (Itsuki)

"Do you enjoy spying on others?" (Naofumi)

"You jest, do you think that we are actually having fun?" (Itsuki)

He seems to be making a bored face now, but just a few moments ago he seemed to be having the time of his life.

What convenient Justice.

"You were also there, so you are an accomplice." (Naofumi)

"...fuun. It seems that an unnecessary charge has been placed on me."
(Ren)

"Then you should have just gotten out quickly." (Naofumi)

I am accusing him because he stayed in the bath for a pointlessly long amount of time.

These perverts.

"So, where is the ever-so-important head pervert?" (Naofumi)

"Ah! Sorry. I'm late." (Motoyasu)

As we were talking, Motoyasu enters the room while laughing.

For now, we all sit in the seats prepared. The arrangement of the room gives off the feeling of knights sitting around a round table.

“From here on, the Four Heroes will begin their Information Exchange Meeting. I, Shadow, will serve as Moderator and Guide for this meeting.”
(Shadow)

Shadow gives a short introduction.

“From tomorrow onwards, Cal Mira Island will truly awaken, so we have called the heroes together to share information on greater methods of training to prepare for the next wave-gojaru. Please keep that in mind as you discuss-gojaru.” (Shadow)

“Wait a second!” (Naofumi and Itsuki)

Me and Itsuki chime in at the same time

Wait wait wait... what do you mean by ‘truly awaken’?

What does that mean we have been doing until now?

“What is it, Heroes of the Shield and Bow-jaru?” (Shadow)

“Are you saying the Island hasn’t awakened yet?” (Itsuki)

“It has started-gojaru. But the greatest awakening effects come starting tomorrow-gojaru.” (Shadow)

...?

I still don't understand.

"What are you so confused about? It's obvious isn't it?" (Motoyasu)

"I agree." (Ren)

Ren and Motoyasu act as if this sort of thing is common sense.

"Of course, the awakening comes in stages and the greatest prizes come at the end." (Motoyasu)

"Yes, yes." (Ren)

"How should I have known that! Please explain from the beginning."
(Naofumi)

"The Earl should have already explained it-gojaru" (Shadow)

?

Now that I think about it... he did say something about powerful monsters appearing at the center of the islands once they were awakened... something about how those monsters held the greatest EXP or something...

I thought he meant the monsters we had been dealing with every day.

Was the red glow a sign that the islands were awakening?

"I didn't hear anything about this!" (Itsuki)

Itsuki responds with a shout.

Ah, right. Itsuki's sense of this world comes from computer games.

Did his games not have events that raised gained exp in stages?

He may have ignored tht Count's speech because he assumed he knew everything already.

"Anyways, from tomorrow onwards, stronger boss-like monsters will begin to appear?" (Naofumi)

"Correct, It's the perfect place for raising levels." (Motoyasu)

"I can't wait" (Ren)

"And that's why the Hero Information Exchange is happening today-gojaru."
(Shadow)

Instead of heading forward without any information, I guess sharing info now would be best.

Fumu... I guess there's no choice.

It should be fine

...?

You people... what is that" (Naofumi)

I point to the strap that the other three heroes have attached to their weapons.

"Oh, this? It's an item famous on this island that speeds up leveling."
(Motoyasu)

"Yes, if you have this equipped, it increases the EXP gained."(Itsuki)

"You didn't know?" (Ren)

...I'll check it just in case.

Miracle Strap

Quality Very Poor

There are no exp increasing abilities. That man is doing well.

"Does it really have that ability?" (Naofumi)

"You really have never heard of it? It's quite famous." (Itsuki)

"You need to improve your information gathering skills." (Ren)

"Yes, Yes, It really works!" (Motoyasu)

... The one who is the origin of the accessory and the rumor is me, but...

Crap. I feel happy.

These people are being tricked.

"Why are you smiling creepily right now?" (Itsuki)

"It's nothing." (Naofumi)

"Since you didn't have this, you might have fallen behind." (Ren)

"Do you even have any motivation?" (Motoyasu)

"I'll buy one later." (Naofumi)

The ones who received them seem happy and they do technically have the genuine goods.

"Maa... *laugh sound* let's get back on topic." (Naofumi)

This is bad. My sides are hurting.

Is it possible that... the trust spawned from the lie created a realistic effect.

There is a chance that the games Ren and Motoyasu played had event items like this.

Well, they're not losing anything by wearing it.

"Well then, Heroes, please begin talking about what you learned about the other heroes' comrades-gojaru." (Shadow)

Comrades... huh...

And all of a sudden, my high spirits subside.

"Naofumi, you should train your party properly." (Ren)

"Right. To just leave the party, what the hell are you teaching them. Firo-san's inquisition was excruciating." (Itsuki)

It's time. They all suddenly turn on me.

Don't stay silent, Motoyasu. Well I guess Motoyasu can at least understand why he made Raphtalia mad. And he won't complain about a girl.

"That is my line. Raphtalia isn't very picky. It seems she couldn't accept or understand the actions of the other heroes." (Naofumi)

"What you say?" (Ren)

"I also understand why she was mad. In Ren's case, it was a lack of direction, and in Itsuki's case it was lies." (Naofumi)

"And I'm saying I didn't tell any lies." (Itsuki)

He's still saying that.

He's been cornered this far and he still doesn't give in.

Well, as long as he's next to Ren and Motoyasu, I guess he can act like he is correct and I am deluded.

"Falcon Strike, was it. It was a big skill that used half your SP and had a cool-down of 15 minutes, right?" (Naofumi)

"Really? I don't remember it being that sort of skill." (Ren)

"u....."(Itsuki)

"You said something like? That's a blatant lie, isn't it?" (Motoyasu)

As I thought.

If he had an amazing skill like that, he would have used it on the pope.

Well if you want to pace yourself in a battle, you wouldn't use your strongest skills.

"She looks up to all the heroes. She got mad because that very hero turned out to be a snob." (Naofumi)

"Aren't you one as well?" (Itsuki)

"Yes, Raphtalia gets mad at me quite often." (Naofumi)

I don't plan on helping these people, but I have talked to Raphtalia and convinced her that Heroes are people too.

I guess that's also an effect of the personnel exchange.

"I have already warned Raphtalia. I believe she acted based on strong emotions. Your Party members left my party as well. Should I point out your party's shortcomings?" (Naofumi)

"T-try it if you can." (Itsuki)

Itsuki seems to have no intention of giving up.

Well, I finally get a chance to tell him off.

"Then, Itsuki. What do you think a party is? There is a hierarchy, and they believe themselves to represent absolute justice. Do you plan to start a religion? Those people did nothing but talk of you." (Naofumi)

"Yeah, I felt that as well. They were polite, but they only talked of you. I was sick of it by the end." (Motoyasu)

"Yes, they spoke as if you were some sort of Messiah. That is dangerous business. Their hunting etiquette was also terrible."

Ren and Motoyasu also felt it. They side with me.

So those people acted the same with all the other heroes.

"T-there's no choice if I want to represent justice. I'm a hero, you know. They all just respect me. There is no Hierarchy." (Itsuki)

These are harsh accusations.

Ren and Motoyasu also seem to understand this. Itsuki is avoiding the main points

It seems he is afraid of rebuttals.

"They kept on spouting nonsense that sounded like the teachings of the Three hero Church." (Ren)

"They did not!" (Itsuki)

Is what Itsuki said, but, as the other heroes, including me, said as much so he cannot really refute anything.

"On to Ren. I sensed a large disconnection in your comrades. When they introduced themselves, they asked, 'So where do you want us to go train'." (Naofumi)

"That's right. At first I did not know what they were talking about. Can you really call those comrades?" (Itsuki)

Itsuki, should You really be saying that?

"I got the feeling that they were like the younger members of a guild. You choose what hunting ground they go to, but don't get involved any further... It's difficult to call those people comrades. You can pair up with whoever you want, but those people could have paired up with any other hero and nothing would have changed. " (Naofumi)

I don't know if I should say anymore, but from here on collaboration is important.

We also need to share information regarding our levels. It will be good information when fighting stronger enemies.

"Those people seem like they could operate even if you didn't exist."
(Itsuki)

"What are you saying? Isn't it better if they learn to fight even if I'm not there?" (Ren)

He's trying to approach this rationally, but I think he shouldn't deny his own existence.

"Your party seems like a group of adventures from a guild that could break off at any time and form their own guild. If left alone, they might grow without your knowledge" (Naofumi)

Wait, that's brilliant

That level party. If it grew, we might have an effective army to combat the wave.

It was a random idea, but it might actually be effective.

Now that I think about it, there is no real need for us to do anything. This world's adventurers can work something out.

"Shadow, that was a brilliant idea. Please report it to the queen." (Naofumi)

"Don't go deciding things by yourself!" (Ren)

Ren is quite nervous.

? Shadow whispers something into my ear.

"That will be troublesome-gojaru." (Shadow)

"Why?" (Naofumi)

"Actually, it is only the summoned heroes that get to hunt freely in this world. If the force gets too big, the environment will..." (Shadow) (TL: Monster Hunter)

I see, so it's a problem with the amount of available monsters...

Well, it doesn't happen in games but I guess that here, monster populations can decrease.

"Your comrades, you know. You should get closer to each other. If they get stronger, then they'll become like Itsuki's comrades." (Naofumi)

(TL: He's implying that if he will become more of a legend than a person if he doesn't interact more.)

"And I'm telling you you're wrong." (Itsuki)

"They Won't!" (Ren)

"When you're gone they'll say... Ren-sama is a wonderful person. Would you like to hear some wonderful stories of his exploits?" (Naofumi)

"Gu..." (Ren)

Ren can't say any more, so he stays quiet.

Well, there shouldn't be any more problems with him and my party. I warned Raphtalia, it should be fine.

"What about your places Raphtalia?"(Ren)

"I won't brag about her. Raphtalia gets mad at me for my behavior as well."
(Naofumi)

I want to believe I'm respected, but I don't really know.

"What do you want to tell me about Raphtalia?" (Naofumi)

"She... She left my party." (Itsuki)

"I could say the same." (Naofumi)

"Then this argument won't get anywhere." (Ren)

Understanding that chastizing my comrades won't get anywhere, Ren turns to Motoyasu.

"Motoyasu, do you have anything to say about Naofumi's comrades?" (Ren)

"None. Raphtalia is very diligent, and I was also at fault." (Motoyasu)

Now then on to Motoyasu...

I didn't really learn anything new from Raphtalia about Motoyasu.

I can berate his party as well, but it seems Bitch acts differently around the other Heroes, so I don't think I will get consensus.

If I go about this wrong, I might end up taking damage myself.

"Motoyasu's party is... does anyone have anything to say about it?"
(Naofumi)

"They just cheered me on. I was speechless, is that supposed to be a cheering squad?" (Ren)

"That's not a party. While I was out fighting, they had returned to the inn"
(Itsuki)

Ren and Itsuki say these statements with a bitter face.

So they behaved like that with everyone else as well...

"We're heroes aren't we? Shouldn't we be the ones on the front lines?"
(Motoyasu)

“Being the vanguard is fine, but this is completely different. Those people only fought when there was no other option.” (Itsuki)

“To be honest, I think you would be better off without those people. In my case, they said they wanted to watch me fight, and eventually returned to the inn without slaying a single monster.” (Ren)

Even as I stay silent, Ren and Itsuki pile on complaints.

But I am of the same opinion.

It seems those women were at least trying to act supportive in these cases, but I won't say anything.

“Naofumi, what about you?” (Ren)

“If I say anything, a fight will break out.” (Naofumi)

“I-I see.” (Ren)

Bitch and friends were acting differently with the other heroes. There is a possibility people will rise to their defenses.

There are many things I want to say, but I wanted to hear the others first.

I will let this opportunity slide.

“Now then, let's end the discussion of comrades at this-gojaru. Please keep these complaints in your heart as we continue the meeting.” (Shadow.)

“Understood.” (Ren)

“...I’m not satisfied, but I’ll leave it here.” (Itsuki)

“Okay.” (Naofumi)

“Yes, Yes.” (Motoyasu)

None of these people are repenting, are they.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 102 – Hero Conference (Middle)

---

Shadow: "Next, please inform each hero-dono of the problems pointed out from each other's comrades degojaru."

Naofumi: "Raphtalia did that at my place. Motoyasu is a skirt chaser, Ren has co-ordination problems and focuses on training his juniors, Itsuki likes to stir up trouble and then solve it himself, he is also a liar."

(TInote: Itsuki was described as a マッチポンプ (Match-Pump) and through googlefu I found it meant it means the person who strikes a match to burn something (in a fun more often than not) and tries to extinguish a fire when it flames up)

What can I say, I put myself in an unnecessary position, the companions of the heroes should have pointed all these out.

Motoyasu: "Now from my place."

Motayasu raises his hand and declares.

Motoyasu: "The opinions from my companions are as follows, Ren is cold, Itsuki is holding back, and Naofumi is out of the question."

That's so simple.....

Motoyasu: "Ren, you being cool is a good thing, but it would be better if you think about getting to know more people and befriending them. Itsuki, you should step it up as hero more. Naofumi.....As for you--"

Naofumi:"That's the opinion of someone firing an attack magic at me from behind you know."

Shadow:"I will act as confirmation of that degojaru. Since former princess Bitch has designated Hero of the Shield-dono as her sworn enemy, her remarks have no meaning degojaru."

Motoyasu:".....Understood."

With a light-hearted feeling, the complaints Motoyasu's companions have ended.

Rem:"Next is me."

Ren raises his hand and says.

Ren:"Motoyasu, my companions opinion on you is, for what reason are you fighting? I heard that you were a serious skirt chaser. Next is Itsuki, you are holding back. Naofumi seems to have no problems."

Itsuki:"Why is there nothing on Naofumi-san!?"

What do you mean by that. You're saying it as if I will cause problems wherever I go.

.....I did cause some though.

Ren:"No, those guys watched Naofumi fight and said:"Hero of the Shield-sama is very reliable." It's not my opinion."

Motoyasu:"Rather. Holding backhuh.....you are cutting way too many corners."

Motoyasu and Ren brought to light the issue of Itsuki cutting corners on a daily basis.

Itsuki:"That's not it! I'm just concerned about not standing out--"

Naofumi:"Concerned about waiting for your companions to be in a pinch? That was one of the reason's Raphtalia got angry."

Motoyasu:"That's terrible. I can agree with Raphtalia-chan about getting angry when you produce drama."

Motoyasu takes advantage of the situation and calls out Itsuki.
You did something similar too.

Itsuki:"That's why I said that wasn't it."

Naofumi:"However, you are still a liar."

Motoyasu:"Yeah.....looks like it."

Itsuki:"Please quit over it already!"

Itsuki interrupts with a half crazed feeling.
But I told him It is the consequences of his own actions.

Motoyasu:"Now then, It's your turn last Itsuki."

Itsuki:"My turn. What does Motoyasu fight for? You even tried to pick up women from my side. Ren-san. What about you? You left and went to fight alone..... Furthermore, I heard that Naofumi-san was selfish and cruel."

Naofumi:"They were a group of people who could only think about justice. Their manners on the hunting grounds were also bad. Shadow, have you already investigated?"

Shadow:"Yes I have degojaru. Hero of the Bow-dono's companions were extremely self-assertive degojaru. They blackmailed other adventurers and monopolized demons, there was also a bunch of other problematic behaviours degojaru."

Ren:"Speaking of which, in internet terminology, you were mobbing demons by attacking first. I'm warning you."

Ren takes advantage of the situation and warns him.

Right, this time it's Ren huh.

Itsuki:"What is that?"

Motoyasu:"It is impolite in net games to intercept a demon that someone else is trying to fight."

Explains Motoyasu.

Naofumi:"You shouldn't be relying on that kind of thing. That was already explained in the beginning during our island tour..... Since it would cause an uproar that we don't need. To be frank, your legitimacy as a hero is damaged."

I supplement with my input.

When pointed out by all the heroes, Itsuki had no choice but to withdraw.

Itsuki:"Gu.....I understand."

Naofumi:"Those hero companions saw Itsuki's conduct, and learned from that."

Itsuki:"Well, I'll keep Naofumi-san's selfish advice in mind.....You're the worst."

Though it's Itsuki's turn he bad mouths me.

Well, I had it coming.

Itsuki:"I-I say, Motoyasu-san. What is up with you!? Did you not pick anyone up!?"

Naofumi:"I thought so too. Don't you already have a woman? Yet you guys are peeping at the ladies bath like it's a manga!"

Though I resent Itsuki, Ren, and Motoyasu..... Didn't you guys think it would be bad and stop while peeping?

Motoyasu:"Oh man. Isn't it a man's duty to chase after girls? I do not regret it."

Naofumi:".....When you say it like that it feels like you're praising yourself."

In a sense he's great.

There is a sense of defeat when he just comes out and seriously declares he wants to make a harem.

Motoyasu:".....This is unproductive. Let's stop it."

While looking at our cold expressions, Motoyasu decides to stop it with a refreshing smile.

Since you understand and say that it's useless.

Shadow:"Now then, the main subject of the information exchange between heroes will start now degojaruyo."

When Shadow decided to move on.....Everyone fell silent.
Perhaps their habits of concealing themselves will be dealt with here.

Itsuki:".....Naofumi-san. Why don't you start speaking first?"

Naofumi:"Why me..... I came to this world without any of your background knowledge you know?"

Itsuki:"Nevertheless, your companions are unnaturally strong for their levels. This could also be related to that abominable shield you possess."

Ren:"That's right, I would also like to hear that story first. From the beginning that child Raphtalia, and that demon named Firo are unnaturally strong."

Motoyasu:"Right.The strengths of Raphtalia-chan and Firo chan are so remarkably dependable."

.....Is this their purpose?

That means, Raphtalia and Firo didn't let these guys know about their growth and the curse series.

If I simply speak about it that should be it.

Naofumi:"If I speak about it, can you guys compensate me with information?"

Itsuki:"What?"

In such a situation with this much recognition and materials, I can negotiate plenty with my opponents.

Do you guys assume that I'll just give up all my information just because you caught on I'm hiding it?

Naofumi:"How about it? You guys called the shield a weak job, and cut me off without teaching me anything. Even if I tell you guys the secret of my strength, there is no guarantee that you guys will tell me. This is necessary.....Do you understand?"

Itsuki:"There was nothing in particular to teach....."

Ren:"Look at the Help section."

Motoyasu:"Well.....I certainly didn't talk in detail."

Each one of them answers awkwardly.

Naofumi:"In any case, didn't you guys say nothing? The self-proclaimed cool one just told me to look at the Help section. Are there efficient hunting grounds in the Help section too?"

Your expressions all look like they want to draw information out of me.

However, with those attitudes you won't be hearing any stories.

It is a fact that during negotiations both parties are equals, and it is also a rule of negotiating to be able dominate to the atmosphere.

Right now, the atmosphere in the room is that if they want to hear information from me, then they must also speak.

Will you guys still push forwards even after I added this one element?

Naofumi:"Oh right, by the way, it is impossible for Shadows to grasp any secrets of your power."

Shadow:"That's Right degojaru. It is impossible for us to fully grasp how strong each respective hero-dono will become degojaru."

Naofumi:"Just like you guys have a habit of hiding yourselves, I do too. The time has come for us to speak unreservedly."

Ren:"Tch!"

Ren clicks his tongue in vexation.

Naofumi:"Before, During the last wave.....You guys already lost once. If that was handled poorly you guys would have died."

Itsuki:"What are you saying? That was a battle event. We were meant to lose."

Naofumi:"Ha?"

Ren:"No, if us Heroes or our companions are defeated, we are carried off to the hospital. We will not die. There is divine protection."

Motoyasu:"That surprise fight against the Pope was evidence, as we were carried to the hospital."

What the hell are you saying?

Are their head okay?

Shadow:"You were rescued by us degojaruga..... What are you saying degojaru? Sometimes Hero of the Shield-dono says words that I cannot understand degojaruga, What kind of thing is it degojaruka?"

Shadow speaks in an unusually perplexed voice.

I have the same opinion.

These guys, right now they are declaring "We are immortal. We won't die no matter what." opening.

Naofumi:"Tentatively, I defeated the one who you guys weren't able to beat."

All Three:"""We can defeat you(Naofumi-san), who has a weak job easily. """

.....What are these guys saying?

Revival at the hospital after defeat? Does this feel like a game? Did you guys seriously call that a battle event?"

So, even though they lost, they didn't count it.

Though my job was mocked as weak, I feel no anger at all.

Th-This is.....

Itsuki:"Since it doesn't matter,continue talking."

It doesn't matter.....Whether or not these guys treat this as a game.

Oh shit. Something is very dangerous. They need to rethink their consciousness immediately.

Naofumi:"You guys know this isn't a game right? There is no way to return if you die!"

Itsuki:"That's why we have divine protection."

Ren:"Indeed."

Motoyasu:"That's right."

This isn't working..... It's useless to continue talking.....

Right now, this sense of impending crisis can compete for the top or second worst problem ever since coming to this world.

Although, I can see why they aren't cautious, I can't do anything but adjust the conversation accordingly.

Naofumi:"Haah.....Let's scratch what we have and start the review from the beginning, let's start by discussing things you can get from the help section."

Itsuki:".....Can't be helped."

Ren:"Yes, there's no point for us heroes to work against each other."

Motoyasu:"Well, the results won't change."

The answers these guys give sound like they already given up halfway.

Anyway, let's inquire about their methods of powering up.

Let's reassure my pace that was ruined by their ambiguous answers.

Naofumi:"Right, there is someone who lies, so let's pool our information together first. So if a lie is told, it can be spotted. Surely a hero of justice that will save the world and keep the balance, won't just lie, am I right Itsuki?"

Itsuki:"I-I did not tell any lies!"

Naofumi:"I wonder about that. Lying feels awkward, am I right Ren?"

Ren:"Ah, Yeah."

Naofumi:"Liars are hated by women, am I right Motoyasu?"

Motoyasu:"Th-That's right."

Something like this? By building a premise of sealing off lies, we can start our discussion.

Off the top of my head I know that Ren dislikes anything uncool. Motoyasu always takes a good look at women. Itsuki is Righteous, well that justice is also for self-satisfaction, in this situation where lying would equal being evil, it would be difficult to lie.

If that is pointed out, it would be unlikely for false information to appear.

Naofumi: "Then Itsuki, you speaking about the most basics of basics is good enough."

Itsuki: "Wh-Why did the talk progress like this Naofumi-san?"

Though Itsuki arches his eyebrows unpleasantly, turns his face to us and starts talking.

Itsuki: "The Hero's weapons will unseal new skill trees."

Naofumi: "That's right."

Itsuki: "There was a game I played called Dimension Wave that had a skill tree resembled the one in the system, but the selections changed and it got bigger."

Naofumi: "Hm? It wasn't exactly the same?"

Itsuki: "Yes, it was almost the same, but there are many weapons that I don't know of."

Then that means he doesn't know all the information of the weapon.

Certainly if I know what the unsealed ability would do, I would know the effect of the shields from the demon system and slave system.

Itsuki: "After changing once, when you change your weapon back to before the difference would still be there."

The other heroes also nod.

Tentatively, are there other changeable parts too.....

Don't get caught up in that now.

Ren:"Next is me."

Ren raises his hand and speaks.

Ren:"This is a continuation of Itsuki's story. When the materials of a demon are absorbed and unsealed, Equipment bonuses can be gained by equipping it."

That is reliable information. It is something I do all the time.

Ren:"Well, this equipment bonus system is a little different from the Brave Star Online system that I was using."

Naofumi:"It's different?"

Ren:"Yeah, the acquisition of skill points and skill levels for skills. It means that even after equipping, it isn't available to use at any time."

Well, It's certainly something that isn't too different from what I can agree with.

Even in games that I played, your character got skill points to distribute, and in the game you could make your characters original.

What can I say, I don't think that I can acquire all of the skills from the trees from releasing the shields.

However.....so far there is already a difference, do these guys think it's the same as those games?

Ren:"That's right. I am not wrong."

Naofumi:"Yeah."

Ren:"But, us heroes are probably the only ones that can acquire all the skills."

.....Ah, I see. Usually adventurers can only learn a limited amount of skills. But we obtained cheat-like powers due to the legendary weapons.

Motoyasu:"Next is me, the weapon can copy another weapon from the same system. There is a weapon copy system."

Naofumi:"Ha?"

Motoyasu:"Yes, although this was a big difference, but I was saved due to the strong weapons available."

Ren:"Right, We are heroes. Such a thing can be done too."

Motoyasu:"I think everyone here understands that the assortment of goods in the weapons shops and the mercenaries in the capital of country Zeltbull are good."

At Motoyasu's words, the other two nod as if this was common sense.

Naofumi:"What is that!?"

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 103 – Hero Conference (End)

---

I reject the sudden accusation in a loud voice.

Weapon Copy?

There was nothing written about this on the help screen. I've been in this world for four months. I have committed the contents of the help screen to heart.

From this person's explanation, it seems he modified all of his weapons the second he got them.

"Naofumi... You don't even know that? I'm surprised you've survived until now." (Motoyasu)

Damn. It's pissing me off. This person's eyes are pissing me off.

No wonder I was getting nothing but strange shields.

I never got any normal shields like, 'Iron Shield' or 'Round Shield' or 'Buckler'. I did think it was strange.

"Did you find that function on your own?" (Naofumi)

"More like, isn't it common sense to use the weapons from the weapon store? The weapons were weak at first so I obviously visited the store." (Motoyasu)

Now that I think about it, I had previously decided to leave my shield as it was and had tried to equip a sword.

At that time, 'System Warning. To the holder of the Legendary Weapon. You have tried to equip a weapon besides your Legendary Weapon' had popped up.

At that time I had realized that I couldn't equip any weapons.

"I received a system warning, but Weapon Copy never came up."
(Naofumi)

"Ah" (Itsuki)

"Oh course." (Ren)

My head was starting to hurt.

Of course, I am the shield, but the first thing any adventurer looks for should not be a shield.

I already had a basic shield so I looked for a one-handed sword or anything else I could use as a weapon.

Is that why I never notices.

"... To advance the conversation, Ren, why did you already know which monsters to hunt to advance your weapon." (Naofumi)

"How?... Isn't it common sense to check the identity of your drops?" (Ren)

Drop!?

Ah... In normal Net Games, monsters do drop items.

Items that had no relations to the actual parts of the monsters.

"The Store also sold some high quality items. They had plenty of ingredients. It really gave off the feeling that I was in another world." (Ren)

"Yep" (Motoyasu)

"And there were a lot of useful items within the monster drops." (Itsuki)

It seems that a lot of useful information is coming out one after the other.

And it seems that it applies to all the weapons.

It feels like the time I first came to this world. The feeling is unpleasant.

"Preparing equipment was basic and then comes" (Ren)

"Learning skills, correct?" (Itsuki)

"... for argument's sake, please explain in greater detail." (Naofumi)

It feels like these people are teaching it as if it is common sense. I'll strengthen my heart, and inquire further.

"Once you acquire recipes and skills, if you feed them to your weapon, the system makes them for you. If you do it enough times, the weapon learns the skill by itself." (Itsuki)

The system does it by itself! What the Hell!

It seems that it will still boost effects if you make it by hand, but as long as you have the recipe, the weapon makes it by itself?

So the reason Motoyasu had Holy Water was because he made it himself?

And it seems the materials come from monster drops.

"The drawback is that the weapon can only store items made from drops."

(Ren)

"It really lightens the load." (Itsuki) (TL: there was a hammerspace system...)

It seems that the system has some shortcomings, but I lived without any of the benefits.

To think I would be getting so much useful information. I motion for Shadow to take notes.

"Regarding hunting grounds, we'll need to set some ground rules." (Itsuki)

"Right... We could divide by level, but the monsters will probably be the same across the islands." (Ren)

"We need to make sure our hunting grounds don't overlap." (Motoyasu)

"Correct." (Itsuki)

"Well then is there anything else?" (Ren)

I pound this information into my head as I listen quietly.

"Then I'll tell you my special method of becoming stronger." (Itsuki)

Itsuki sticks his chest out and begins talking.

"In this world, the rarity of equipment is everything. After that is Money. If you don't build these up from the beginning, there is no point." (Itsuki)

"What a blatant lie." (Ren)

"To mix in a lie after starting off with true statements, you really are the worst." (Motoyasu)

And all of a sudden, Ren Itsuki and Motoyasu are in disagreement.

In one sentence, the atmosphere had deteriorated.

"W-What are you going on about! This is definitely the truth!" (Itsuki)

"No, It's a lie." (Ren)

"Yeah, you really are a liar." (Motoyasu)

"N-no! I never lie." (Itsuki)

? Itsuki's behavior is clearly different from before.

It's not the same behavior as when he was defending his lie. He currently seems to be genuinely angry.

Well, Itsuki has been being called a liar for the whole meeting. Getting mad is understandable.

I suddenly remember something.

"Now that I think about it, Itsuki, you seem to gather this gem quite often."
(Naofumi)

I take out the gem that Rishia handed me and place it on the table.

"Y-yes, this is useful in strengthening weapons." (Itsuki)

Refining, huh. Well, it is a game-like system.

"It's important to strengthen your weapons to their limits." (Itsuki)

"I bet there are risks of failure. Please tell us all of the details truthfully."
(Motoyasu)

Motoyasu warns him.

"There is no failure!" (Itsuki)

No failure? What does that mean?

I don't get it.

"What are you talking about, there can't be such a convenient gem."
(Naofumi)

"For a while, you have been doing nothing but deny me. Ren, please explain it to him." (Itsuki)

"Me? Fine, I'll tell the truth to Naofumi." (Ren)

Why am I being singled out... But it's the truth that I want to know.

"In this world, level is everything. As long as you raise your skill level, things will work out." (Ren)

"Lies are not good." (Itsuki)

"Yes, please stop lying with a straight face." (Motoyasu)

So which is it!?

"Naofumi, it seems like you'll get nothing useful out of these people, so I'll specially tell you. To strengthen your weapons, you must increase your proficiency in them" (Ren)

"Proficiency?"(Naofumi)

"Yes, if you use the same weapon for a long amount of time, it will get stronger. And when a weapon becomes obsolete, you can convert that proficiency into energy and transfer it. Storing energy unleashes extreme powers. This is most important" (Ren)

"Why are you lying in the heat of the moment?" (Motoyasu)

"Don't be bothered by these people. All that's important is rarity. In normal games, low level rare items would lose out in late game, but the Legendary weapons are different." (Itsuki)

Just by listening to these people makes me want to try out different things.

However, everything they say is a mystery. I don't know what to believe.

"What a guy. He can say such lies with a cool face." (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu derides Ren.

"Yes, you shouldn't listen to him. He's lying." (Itsuki)

“I really don’t know what’s going on. What should I do?” (Naofumi)

“First open your weapon tree and check your weapon proficiency.” (Ren)

As told, I open my weapon tree and look at the Chimera Viper Shield, a shield I use quite often.

I just see the normal status window.

What am I supposed to check?

… nothing is happening.

“There’s nothing, but…” (Naofumi)

So it was a lie. It’s not like I believed him, but this guy is also a liar…

Weapon Copy also seems dubious.

“That can’t be! I know what you are doing, you’re making me out as a liar!”
(Ren)

“I also don’t have that function.” (Motoyasu)

“Me neither. It wasn’t written on the Help Screen.” (Itsuki)

“Wha… Never Mind! The me that tried to help you was an idiot.” (Ren)

Ren makes a dejected face and sits back in his chair.

The usually cool Ren has taken quite a bit of damage.

I have to assume that everything they told me is a lie.

It wasn't written in the Help, so...

"I was still in the middle of my conversation. To strengthen equipment, you take energy from items and then you can add percentage points to the equipment through enchantment." (Itsuki)

"Like +10% attack?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, this process takes up a lot of time, but there is a 0% chance of failure."
(Itsuki)

"That's a lie. You're giving Naofumi knowledge from a separate game."
(Ren)

"And I'm saying it's not a lie! By absorbing items dropped from monsters into our weapons, we can increase our stats. This applies to all forms of the legendary weapons. Like increasing the level of another job." (Itsuki) (TL: I don't know if this is a specific reference, it applies to a couple of games)

Ah, so that's why Itsuki was mentioning monsters and percents earlier.

To even lie to Firo, he is quite thorough.

"Yes, Yes, they keep saying bullcrap, so let's leave Ren and Itsuki aside and move onto me." (Motoyasu)

"I don't really want to hear it..." (Naofumi)

It seems everything I have heard so far has been a lie.

“To be blunt, this world is all about strengthening weapons! Using your equipment to their utmost level is exponentially more important than level. As long as you get status bonuses, you can overcome level gap. Even a terrible weapon can be strong if upgraded!” (Motoyasu)

“That’s a large lie!” (Naofumi)

“Let me continue Naofumi-san!” (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu starts talking to me out of nowhere.

“It changes based on the weapon, but you can then use a special gem to enchant weapons. In the original Emerald Online, there was a chance of losing the weapon, but for the legendary weapons, that chance is zero.” (Motoyasu)

“There is no such system!” (Itsuki)

“Yeah!” (Ren)

This has turned into nothing but a shouting match. Shadow also seems to be troubled.

I’m just as troubled as Shadow.

“It’s all about status enchantment. If you feed your weapon the souls of different monsters, the effect is different. If you fight the same enemy for a while, you get attack bonuses against that enemy.” (Motoyasu)

“Please stop it already.” (Itsuki)

"Yeah, you are speaking of a different game." (Ren)

Ran and Itsuki shout at Motoyasu in loud voices

"For the love of... Why must all of you speak such lies?" (Motoyasu)

"That would be you!" (Itsuki)

"Hello Mr. Pot, can I introduce you to Mrs Kettle?" (Ren)

(TL: Personal touch, the dialogue is getting boring)

"Um... I'm sorry to intrude, but..." (Naofumi)

I'm beginning to see the connection.

It seems that Ren, Itsuki and Motoyasu have seen different things.

"Could it just be that each weapon works on a different system?" (Naofumi)

"... Yes, it seems that way. It's the same for what happened with my skills."
(Itsuki)

"That makes sense. But Itsuki, we haven't confirmed whether or not you are lying" (Ren)

"But that means that none of this information will help me..." (Naofumi)

And the conversation was back on track.

Well these people got genuinely angry, so I guess they weren't lying

They had nothing to gain by lying here anyways. This meeting was organized by the queen to help combat the wave, anyways.

"Well, last is me." (Naofumi)

"Yes, you haven't said anything for a while, so now tell us everything."
(Itsuki)

"... I have take no responsibility in whether or not he lies or not."
(Motoyasu)

These people...

"First, what do you want to hear?" (Naofumi)

"Why are Raphtalia and Firo so strong?" (Ren)

Having these people understand my abilities may save my life one day.

So I just tell them the truth.

"Yes, that is the bonus from the Slave User and Monster User shield series. They speed up the growth of monsters and slaves. They pretty much increase stat gain, and the effects are quite potent. Firo also gets bonuses from the Filo Rial Shield series." (Naofumi)

Should I also tell them about the Ahoge Class up item?

"There was no such skills in the shield users of my game." (Ren)

"I agree. An ability that convenient comes close to Cheating. Where did you get such a shield." (Itsuki)

Cheating, huh. Well, I can't argue with that.

"I got the Slave User Shield when I absorbed the ink used for making the Slave Seal. I got the Monster User Shield by absorbing the Egg Firo was born from." (Naofumi)

"Well if you can prove your absorption ability, we will believe you." (Ren)

"He may be lying." (Itsuki)

"Say what you will." (Naofumi)

"Then next. When fighting the pope... Your battle abilities were surprisingly high. I've never seen such an ominous Shield in my games." (Itsuki)

Itsuki is staring at me with doubting eyes.

How troublesome. (TL: He says Fuyukai Desu if you wanted to know)

"Where did you get that power? No, let me rephrase that. Where did you meet god?" (Itsuki)

"Wha?" (Naofumi)

"Where did you meet God, and get the power to cheat? In the forums for my game, I have read about a User who was able to meet God and gain that ability. Answer me." (Itsuki) (TL: really? REALLY?)

You! Even if it's a joke, you shouldn't go that far.

... Since coming to this world, I have met much misfortune, but phrases that annoy me to this extent are rare to come across.

"I'm not cheating!" (Naofumi)

"For the Shield to have that much attack power, you must be cheating."
(Itsuki)

Ren and Motoyasu nod.

"Where did you get that power? If we were to obtain it, our powers would increase exponentially. Please tell us." (Itsuki)

He has already assumed that he is correct. I'm getting a bit angry.

"You don't think I could have gotten power through honest effort?"
(Naofumi)

"Like hell." (Itsuki)

He believes that the shield will always remain weak.

It's a legendary weapon. There's no way it can be as weak as he believes.

I just earnestly raised my stats by unlocking new shields and made use of the powerful Curse Series, that takes a toll on my body every time I use it.

Yet this person is asking where I obtained the ability to cheat.

"That shield originated from a shield called The Shield of Rage, and evolved into a series called the Curse Series. The conditions under which it appears are... uncertain, but it manifests whenever my rage crosses a certain boundary. I got it when I first fought Motoyasu." (Naofumi)

At that time, I was swallowed by an uncontrollable rage.

I can't imagine what would have happened if Raphtalia hadn't been there to restrain me.

"Isn't it written in the Help? That shield requires quite a high price. I wonder if you would be able to control it. By the way, all of my stats besides defense have been halved since I used that skill on the pope."
(Naofumi)

Ren's eyes look like they are going through the Help.

And as expected, he says...

"... There's no such item in here." (Ren)

Nonono, It's written in mine.

Well, only after I unlocked the Shield of Rage.

"Maybe it only appears after you have unlocked it." (Naofumi)

"Did your net games contain such potent cursed items?" (Ren)

"Nope, it also did not shields that need compensation to work." (Motoyasu)

"If you're going to lie, you need to make it more believable, Like Motoyasu and Ren" (Itsuki)

Itsuki's comment pushes Ren to the Limit. He stands up, points at Itsuki and says...

"You're one to talk, you compulsive liar!" (Ren)

"What? Aren't you the one constantly putting up a cool façade?" (Itsuki)

"Yeah, Yeah!" (Motoyasu)

"And you're a Skirt-chasing Idiot! Do you plan to self destruct defending another woman?" (Both Ren and Itsuki)

"What you say?!" (Motoyasu)

"And Itsuki, his shield may absorb things, but you have your meat shield to do that for you." (Ren)

"They are absolutely necessary!" (Itsuki)

"And you, Do you plan to act like this is a game, and play Hero? Death is the end! If death isn't absolute, then why did you people pursue me when I had that death warrant?" (Naofumi)

"I don't believe it's a game to that extent! I thought that only heroes could kill other heroes! That I would be able to kill you since you became a Demon Lord." (Itsuki)

"What a convenient brain you've got there. Are you sure you haven't played too many games that your brain is rotten? You might have thought it was a game event, but what you were trying to do was simple Murder." (Naofumi)

"The you that came under suspicion is at fault. And I didn't believe it was an event!" (Itsuki)

"Right! It's fine if you see this as an event, but you see us as nothing but villains." (Ren)

“Ren! Do you plan on saying more!? Do you plan on having it out with this hypocrite Itsuki more? Who do you think you are? This world’s savior? If god has sent you to punish me, then I want to go and kill that god.” (Itsuki)

If this world had a god, I want to smack the hell out of hm. He dropped me into this living hell.

Don’t outsource for heroes!

“What are you saying to the god who made this wonderful world?”
(Motoyasu)

“I won’t offer my thanks to someone with such a dubious existence.”
(Itsuki)

From here to the end of the meeting, I don’t really remember.

What followed was a long stream of verbal abuse.

Shadow tried to get the meeting back under control, but it was already way past the point of no return.

The first one to get fed up and leave was Itsuki. Ren soon followed. Finally, Motoyasu drudged off.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 104 – 1/4

---

Naofumi: "Ugggh."

I groan after the three of them left the meeting room.

After calming down and thinking about it, I couldn't help but grimace.

I'm thinking about all of the information drawn out of those guys.

But, I have no idea how to judge what is the truth, and what is a lie.

……As I compile their claims on a memo, I groan again.

It is common for us to absorb the dropped items from demons.

Come to think of it, I forgot to explain the reason for dismantling the parts.

Well, they should be able to understand this much.

Next is weapon copy. It seems this is where the differences in the games those guys played starts.

When a weapon is already found from the same system, it becomes possible to equip that weapon after unsealing it.

Besides compounding, the weapon can also act as a proxy for other creation skills.

All of their claims match up until here.

Let's come to a conclusion on the claims of their respective strengthening methods after seeing it myself. I don't know what each respective differences in characteristics their weapons have compared to my shield.

There is no game that I can use as a model, not to mention it feels like I'm reading an unfinished book.

.....Though they also took a stab at my shield's power to train companions.....

Ren.

Level dependence.

Proficiency: The more the same weapon is used, the more the power increases.

Energy Grant: Hidden power can be unlocked by using energy granted from resetting the weapon's skill proficiency. Additionally, items absorbed into the weapon can be converted into energy.

Rarity Increase: By using energy, it is possible to increase the weapon's rarity. Overall ability will improve.

Motoyasu.

Everything is decided by his weapon. The weapon's original strength doesn't matter much, everything relies on Spirit Enchants. The necessary stats are needed to wield though.

Tempering: Equipment can be strengthened with the use of ore.

Spirit Enchant: By giving a weapon the fragment of a demon's soul to absorb, special powers can be granted.

Status Enchant: Stats can be increased.

Itsuki.

Everything is decided by bonuses granted by a weapon's rarity.

Reinforcing: A weapon's power can increase by using a specific type of ore.

Item Enchant: Items absorbed into the weapon provides energy that has a chance to increase the weapon's attack percentage.

Job Level: Stats can be boosted up by absorbing items acquired from specific demons.

(TI note: ドーピング Doping, I couldn't really find a way to fit this into the sentence without it sounding weird. Example: Stats can be doped up by absorbing....." This makes me cringe for some reason.)

Something like this.

It's falling apart splendidly.

There's Energy for Reinforcement, Tempering, Skill Proficiency, and Rarity is also covered.

There's also as many as three enchantment systems.

In the first place, all three of them are from worlds where games are common, but each one of them is operating with a different game in mind. Moreover, even the genres are different.

VRMMO, Ordinary MMO, and Console Games.

I don't know VR well, but MMOs and Console games can't possibly have the same system.

Due to bad experiences with fan games.

For some reason or another, there was a similar system used in my old world.

If I think about it like that.....I can say that their insistence of knowledge on other games is a lie.

But.....Is that really the case?

I turn my eyes to the shield.

I think that the influence of previous owners has left the legendary weapons with these results.

I mean that would explain the curse series.

The series couldn't be found when I looked through the skill tree before, it only appeared at the time I thought Firo died.

I see. It's influenced by.....The heart.

It may not have appeared if I denied it from the beginning.

Weapon Copy..... Since all three of them agreed to it, it's not a lie.

The drops were the same. However, I did not understand it.

I open the weapon icon to investigate.

.....Of course It's still not there.

Is it in a completely different category? Is the system structure different from those guys?

Legendary Shield.

Negative..... Of course.

I denied it somewhere within my heart.

Perhaps.....Is that why I can't do the things that those guys can do?

If I look at it from a purely objective standpoint, my field of view should widen right?

There are drops! There is copying!

I recall those three at the same time. It's not impossible.

Believe it..... Believe in it. Imagine the screen with the drop list that pops up when a demon is defeated.

I press the system menu on the shield.

The menu opens with a ring.

A window appeared with parts of dismantled demons, and other items that were absorbed pop up.

Naofumi: "What the hell is this!?"

It seems the power of believing exists.....Didn't me being cautious and skeptical narrow down my own possibilities?

.....Somehow, when I press the item menu, I can open it and verify what the monsters dropped.

Ah, a plant that can be used for magic power water came out. The materials for soul healing water also appeared.....

Various things just appear. It would be amazing if everything was pulled out.

Beside that.....Ah, there's a considerable amount of garbage. There are some demon entrails too.

I turn my attention to Itsuki's ore.

That guy really purchased that ore. He even explained how to use it.

I can't help but try to believe it.

It exists. He was even angry to that extent. He shouldn't have told a lie.

.....However, nothing shown up.

I am denying this somewhere.

I just don't believe that a liar will tell the truth.

Is the power of my trust not enough? Feels like an anime for children.....

However.....I'll still believe it.

Shadow:"Hero of the Shield-dono?"

Shadow speaks to get my attention. But I decided that in order to preserve my life, I started a glaring contest with the shield.

Is it acceptable that you were deceived? You legendary shield. Believing helps. I will absolutely never lose.

Believe it!

Itsuki's Reinforcing happened. There is also Item Enchant.

Otherwise, we are only slightly stronger than the usual adventurers.

I believed in the idea, and pressed the icon on the shield.

ZaZa.....The icon distorted, but only for an instant.

The next moment.

With a ding, an item for Reinforcement appeared.

Naofumi:"Alright!"

I let the shield absorb the ore I got from Rishia, and let the shield search for the corresponding request.

Found it.

Shark Bite Shield 1/20

Ability Unsealed..... Equipment Bonus: On Board Combat Skills 1.

Special Effect: Shark's Fang.

To experiment, I reinforced the Shark Bite Shield.

I see, looks like reinforcing is easy, with the number 20 appearing next to it. This enhancement method is somewhat similar to a game in my world called Monster Hunter.

I mean..... Since there is a number in place, I can avoid jumping to conclusions.

I did not suffer so far without reason. There are many who use a shield and move sluggishly..... It would be a bad habit to only use strong weapons. A combination of a shield and a one-handed sword is by far the strongest, with it being easy to move, and strong to defend.

Though for convenience, in that game, a the bow was exactly that. Perhaps it might be similar. Well, the difference would be magic since it didn't exist,

Let's use the energy from an item that was absorbed before.

.....There are a variety of effects.

Oh? From the blue shark's intestines, I discover an aquatic monster damage mitigation skill. Let's try it out.

The probability of the first try will absolutely succeed.

Shark Bite Shield 1/20

Ability Unsealed..... Equipment Bonus: On Board Combat Skills 1.

Special Effect: Shark's Fang.

Item Enchant Level 1: 2% Damage Reduction of Aquatic Monsters .

Since there still a little left, I'll try it again.

Ah, a failure! It became zero. But, I'll continue.

I got it to level 2.

Shark Bite Shield 1/20

Ability Unsealed..... Equipment Bonus: On Board Combat Skills 1.

Special Effect: Shark's Fang.

Item Enchant Level 2: 3% Damage Reduction of Aquatic Monsters .

While getting carried away and apply more, I stopped at seven. The success rate for 8 is rather low.

Shark Bite Shield 1/20

Ability Unsealed..... Equipment Bonus: On Board Combat Skills 1.

Special Effect: Shark's Fang.

Item Enchant Level 7: 16% Damage Reduction of Aquatic Monsters .

.....This will be amazing when fighting against aquatic type demons.

At any rate, another gauge exists, I think Itsuki's word for it was Job Level.

Let's try it out.

Defense Job Level 1

Defense Gauge 0/5

A large number of the internal organs from demons was absorbed, and the button was pressed repeatedly.

It looks like after 1, the rate the gauge rises slows down.

Defense Gauge 5/5

Gauge up! [Defense +1]

Defense Job Level 2

And the Defense Gauge now displays 0/6.

Furthermore, when I wanted to add another item, a cool down time appeared.

It seem it is necessary to increase it regularly.

Quite long-term. Though, it doesn't seem too ridiculous to gather.

At any rate, the others probably didn't lie either.

First of all is Ren.

While praying as strongly as that time with Itsuki, I open a menu, I habitually use the Chimeric Viper Shield.

Chimeric Viper Shield 0/30 C

Ability Unsealed..... Equipment Bonus: Skill [Change Shield] Detoxification

Compounding Improvement Poison Resistance (Intermediate)

Special Effect: Snake's Fang (Intermediate) Hook

Proficiency: 100

Somehow, the stats have already risen enormously, but.....

Isn't it already increased by about 1.5 times? It's defensive power alone is formidable.

It seems the maximum is 100.

As I was playing around the menu with my finger.

Would you like to reset skill Proficiency?

A system message popped-up.

I press "Yes" with some hesitation.

Then, the ability reverts back to the shield that I knew.

2000 Skill Energy Acquired.

.....I select the Chimeric Viper as the target.

Ah, insufficient.....The requirement is 4000.

For the time being, I convert enough Skill Energy to upgrade.

I hear the sound of something being filled.

Chimeric Viper Shield (Awakened) 0/30 C

Ability Unsealed..... Equipment Bonus: Skill [Change Shield] Detoxification

Compounding Improvement Poison Resistance (High)

Special Effect: Snake's Fang (High) Long Hook

Proficiency: 0

Its base ability went up considerably.

What is this!?

Do I increase the rarity Now? C is an abbreviation of Common.

As I thought, Energy is still insufficient. Let's continue to convert and increase it.

Challenge!

Failure!

Like I'd fail!

Success!

Chimeric Viper Shield (Awakened) 0/30 UC

Ability Unsealed..... Equipment Bonus: Skill [Change Shield] Detoxification
Compounding Improvement Poison Resistance (High)
Special Effect: Snake's Fang (High) Long Hook
Proficiency: 0

UC.....Uncommon.

The ability has improved by about 1.2 times.

After several more challenges, I managed to raise it up to R. With just That It's ability went up considerably.

The amount of increase is abnormal. The Proficiency also increases.....Wait a Minute!

Furthermore, there is also Motoyasu's claim.....I believe and open the menu. I already believe all of it greedily.

Shit.....There isn't any ore that Motoyasu used for Tempering.

Let's test out Spirit Enchant.

Since I gathered a large amount of demon soul fragments from Magenta
Frogs on this island, let's use it!

Chimeric Viper Shield (Awakened) 0/30 R

Ability Unsealed..... Equipment Bonus: Skill [Change Shield] Detoxification
Compounding Improvement Poison Resistance (High)
Special Effect: Snake's Fang (High) Long Hook
Proficiency: 0

Magenta Frog Spirit: 16% Damage Reduction of Poison Monsters.

Let's also try out Status Enchant.

Do you use these materials?.....Oh! The results are random.

The Result, magical power was added.

Chimeric Viper Shield (Awakened) 0/30 R

Ability Unsealed..... Equipment Bonus: Skill [Change Shield] Detoxification

Compounding Improvement Poison Resistance (High)

Special Effect: Snake's Fang (High) Long Hook

Proficiency: 0

Magenta Frog Spirit: 16% Damage Reduction of Poison Monsters.

Status Enchant: Magic Power +20

Huge! That amount of Magical Power is huge!

Oh, I can reset. However, since the amount of materials I used isn't small, let's stop for now.

The shield has become remarkably stronger than before.

Though the stats are a little messy, it is still a plus for me.

Though I was bewildered about Itsuki and Ren's similar description of Rare and Rarity.

It wouldn't be wrong to remember it.

Let's take the opportunity to check Help.

Naofumi:"....."

Sure enough, everything is added.

This is good.....I can even use the systems from old net games which I know.

Naofumi:"Huh?"

No matter how much I think or pray, I have no idea what to say to them. Since I already strengthened myself considerably already, any complaints won't be convincing.

Anyway.....

Naofumi:"Shadow....."

Shadow:"What degojaru?"

Naofumi:"Notify the other heroes. Tell them that everything said here was true. No one told a lie. Tell them that unless they truly believe each other, it won't work."

To think that such a thing would happen. That reminds me, the queen did say so before.

The pope's replica weapon only had 1/4th the power of the real thing.

Due to the results here, I can understand. No, that already exceeded the worst-case scenario.

If they stalled to put the replica in its original form, and wasn't outwitted.....It would have been impossible.

After I give advice to Shadow, I leave the meeting room and head back to mine.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 105 – Weapon Copy

---

That day, I went back to the inn and tried feeding ingredients into my shield.
An Icon popped up.

For now, I want to make a basic Heal pill.

…To make one pill, the mix time is 5 minutes.

It seems the required time increases based upon the level of the recipe.

5 minutes later.

A chime sounded off, and the system message, ‘Mixing Complete’ appeared before my eyes.

I confirm the result.

-

Heal Pill

Quality: Normal

-

Did it come out as ‘Normal’ because the materials used were bad? No, the quality decreased too much

I’ll try using better materials.

-

Heal Pill

Quality: Normal

-

I ran some more tests, and it seems that the Quality is stuck at normal.

So even if all I have is 'Poor' materials, I will be able to make 'Normal' goods? This might be a good source of profit.

And the shield can make medicine while I do other work.

The quality might increase if I raise my level.

Well, right now, the Queen is sponsoring my living costs, so I don't have to worry about money though.

"Master, what are you doing?" (Firo)

"? Firo, huh." (Naofumi)

"Yeah" (Firo)

As I test a lot of things in the Carriage, Firo wanders over.

At the inn, Firo is usually either in the room, or in the carriage. If she has free time, she will come over to the carriage.

"Master, Firo was about to kick the person who was doing strange things in Firo's carriage" (Firo)

(TL: Referring to Naofumi)

This bird is saying some scary things. Well, I guess I can trust her to guard my merchandise at least.

It seems that Firo really treasures this carriage. Every morning, she comes and does maintenance on it.

Normally, the Iron Carriage would rust in the sea air, but due to her daily maintenance, that doesn't seem to be an issue.

It may be because we have taken a break from peddling, but the bird had a lot of free time. The Carriage is way too clean.

It's so polished that it is reflecting light like a mirror. The carriage itself seems to shine.

For a Filo Rial, the carriage is a precious item. If someone is messing around in it in the night, there is no surprise that she will come and check.

By the way, though she can do maintenance, she cannot do repairs.

Whenever something starts to look off, Firo comes shouting to me to fix it.

"Is Master going to sleep in the Carriage tonight? Let Firo sleep with you~."

(Firo)

"Wrong, I'm just testing a few things." (Naofumi)

"fu~n" (Firo)

I guess I should go to one of the weapon vendors on the island... Now that I think about it, it's already midnight.

I guess tomorrow is fine too.

After this, I will try reinforcing my equipment. I'll try modifying a normal shield.

"Welcome back. What happened? Did you have any progress?" (Raphtalia)

When I returned to the room, Raphtalia asks this to me.

"I learned quite a bit. I still need to test a few things, so I will be busy tomorrow." (Naofumi)

"That's good. Will we be making an honest effort to raise our levels starting tomorrow?" (Raphtalia)

"Well... I have to... I guess we could do that." (Naofumi)

I can get some monster drops as well.

I'll look for some monsters that look like they will drop something useful.

"Please step back." (Naofumi)

"Yes.....?" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia tilts her head and steps backwards. I had previously found a sword. I try to take it out of the shield.

With a bang, the sword falls out of the shield and hits the floor.

“Wa!” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia lets out a sound of surprise.

“W-what is this?” (Raphtalia)

“It’s something that a monster left behind.” (Naofumi)

“A monster was holding something like this?” (Raphtalia)

“Now then…” (Naofumi)

The monster that dropped this was… Brown Pill Rabbit.

I analyze the item.

-

Iron Sword

Quality: Normal

-

Well it was a small fry.

“Raphtalia, your sword is starting to rust. Please use this for a while.”
(Naofumi)

“Ah, Yes. Thank You…” (Raphtalia)

Picking up the mysterious sword, Raphtalia critically looks over it.

Firo starts to sniff it.

"It smells like Pill Rabbit" (Firo)

Wow. She got it right.

As expected of a Filo Rial. Even though she looks like this, she is still a monster.

Well, I guess tomorrow will be fun.

I looked through my drops, set my shield to produce some random medicine, and went to sleep.

The next morning.

I wake up, eat a light breakfast and go off to look for a weapon store.

They have them. A wide variety of shields.

"Can I look at this for a bit?" (Naofumi)

"Go ahead." (Weapon Dealer)

The price is really high. Probably because this is a tourist attraction.

Or because a lot of adventures have been visiting as of late.

On its off season, I wonder how the islanders make money.

Do they sell monster goods? There are some unusual ones here.

I don't really want to imagine cooking with Magenta Frog Meat.

Does this Island even have an active economy? I'll ask the Accessory Merchant later.

"Naofumi-sama?" (Raphtalia)

"Ah, Raphtalia, Firo, please wait a bit." (Naofumi)

"Okay..." (Raphtalia)

"What is master doing?" (Firo)

"Just Wait, you'll see." (Naofumi)

I take one of the Shields hung on the wall and touch it to the Legendary Shield.

Beep. An icon appears in my field of vision.

Weapon Copy activated.

-

You have unlocked the Iron Shield

You have unlocked the Red Iron Shield

You have unlocked the Pink Iron Shield

You have unlocked the White Iron Shield

You have unlocked the Brown Iron Shield

You have unlocked the Blue Iron Shield

You have unlocked the Sky Blue Iron Shield

Etc... (TL: looks like the Hero can accessorize.)

-

I unlocked the Iron Shield... and all its color variations...

Now that I think about it, my initial Small Shield did have color variation as well. At that time, I didn't really care, as it didn't unlock any extra stats.

I question the usefulness of such a system.

I wonder if the balloon shield also has such function. I have still yet to unlock that shield.

The monster came in Orange and Red variety, there might also be a Normal variety.

Anyways, I repeat the process for the other shields in the shop.

Round Shield, Buckler, Knight Shield, Copper Shield, Bronze Shield, Steel Shield, Gold Shield... There were also things like Leather Shield.

It also seems that all the store's shields have color variation as well.

The amount of shields I had greatly increased. I didn't feel like going through all the bonuses.

They all probably only raised stats, so there shouldn't be too much of a problem.

Some skills may have been mixed in, but going through all these shields will take time.

"I guess that's it." (Naofumi)

"What?" (Shop Vendor)

The Weapon Dealer tilts his head and stares at me.

Though the store's inventory wasn't the best, I still got a lot of shields.

Once I finish leveling up here, I'll go see the old man at the weapon shop. He probably has a better selection. (TL: Referring to SmithBro)

"Have you found something that interests you?" (Store Vendor)

"? No..." (Naofumi)

Now that I think of it, I got some useless weapons with the Monster Drops. I'll try to sell them.

"Please wait for a second." (Naofumi)

I go to a place where the vendor cannot see me and take out some weapons from the shield.

"Would you be interested in buying this item?" (Naofumi)

"Sure, can you let me appraise it?" (Vendor)

I hand over the Bronze Spear I had taken out to the Vendor.

"It seems to be quite solid. There also seems to be a minor enchantment on it..." (Vendor)

The dealer can see things that I can't.

"It doesn't appear to have an inscription, so the price will drop a bit. Is that okay with you?" (Vendor)

"Is there supposed to be an inscription?" (Naofumi)

Now that I think of it, it makes sense.

If someone famous made it, there should be a way of telling. Something like a signature.

"It's in good condition, so the price shouldn't drop too much. But where did you acquire this item?" (Vendor)

"That's a secret." (Naofumi)

If this person had been suspicious of me, I would have played it off by lying, but we haven't reached that level yet.

So it's a weapon without a maker...?

"Wait, if I look closer, there is something like an inscription on it... It looks like a shield." (Vendor)

Was there something like that?

"Some smith probably made it while thinking of the legendary heroes."
(Vendor)

“Things like that can happen?” (Naofumi)

“Yes, long ago, weapons like these popped up all the time. Even now, they sometimes come up. Many Smiths admire the Legendary Heroes and inscribe their creations with their Marks.” (Vendor)

“Then this mark won’t really raise the price will it.” (Naofumi)

“That would be correct. Though the quality is good, one who would put such a mark on their creations is simply a dreamer without a name.”
(Vendor)

The Vendor’s appraisal is a bit troubling.

“Well, an adventurer drawn to the magic of the Awakened Islands will probably buy it. I’ll take it for 20 Silver coins.” (Vendor)

“Understood” (Naofumi)

I give some other Items to the Weapons Vendor. My total profit is 90 Silver Coins.

If I had discovered the drop system earlier, I could have probably improved Raphtalia’s equipment early on… But there’s nothing I can do about that now.

After I left the Weapons Shop, I changed my Shield to an Iron Shield and look at the equipment bonuses.

Ah, it seems the Iron shield comes with a Skill

-

Iron Shield 0/10 C

Ability... Equipment Bonus: Shield Bash

Skill Proficiency 0

This is obviously an offensive skill.

I can't wait to see it in action.

"Um... That shield looks like the one that was being sold at the store but.."
(Raphtalia)

"Ah, the legendary weapons can copy the abilities of weapons sold at the store. That way, if a hero finds a good weapon, he will actually be able to equip it." (Naofumi)

"That... Seems a bit like stealing." (Raphtalia)

"It's not like I'm taking the item, I'm just making a copy of it. And what am I supposed to tell the store vendors?" (Naofumi)

"...yeah..." (Raphtalia)

Well, I also have complicated feelings about it.

Is this like pirating games and manga online?

It's like bootlegging a movie at the theater to watch later. (TL: No Moa)

It's a crime, isn't it. Yeah it is.

But this is an alternate world. Mine didn't have anyone with legendary weapons.

And in this world, the one who gets fooled is at fault.

I won't complain about it, and I won't avoid doing it.

I mean, the other three are doing it as well...

I do feel like I'm doing something bad... but I have to get used to it.

I think The Old Man will happily let me copy his shields if I ask.

I think the other heroes probably stopped at his shop and copied all his weapons first.

I'll have him make more equipment for Raphtalia as compensation.

"Next, let's go to the market place." (Naofumi)

I'll see if they are selling any of the Enchantment Gems that Motoyasu and Itsuki were talking about.

I wonder how much they will cost.

The result: very few people actually sold them.

They mostly only carried the Gem I had already got from Rishia. Its name was the Prani Ore.

I had already cleared the conditions to unlock the Prani Shield when I tried the weapon enhancement technique Itsuki had talked about. It gave +1 Defense.

Unfortunately, it seems that my Chimera Viper Shield requires a different Ore.

When I checked the Help Screen later, the required information had appeared.

-

About Reinforcing

You can reinforce an item up to the denominating number, which has a minimum of 5 . However to strengthen stronger items, you will need more valuable items as ingredients.

(TL: i.e., if a shield says 1/20, reinforcing will take it to 2/20 and 20/20 is the maximum)

-

And these ingredients seem to only be made by people with high Steel-working skills. But with my skills, it seems that I am able to extract Prani Ore by myself.

Originally, Prani Ore is a soft, cheap, malleable metal that is used to increase the volume of gold products.

It made something like Gold Alloy, if too much Prani was added, the value would decrease.

It seems Itsuki was able to feed it to his bow to produce other valuable ingredients.

I will probably have to learn some Metal Working Skills. That way, I could mold the items sold by stores into more valuable materials.

"Then, should we go hunting?" (Naofumi)

"Yes" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah!" (Firo)

We'll finally be able to do some honest-to-goodness level grinding.

And I can see the effects of my new shields.

My expectations are quite high.

"Now then, go quickly! Your body's still in good condition, isn't it? *Achoo*" (???)

"Mother. I can do it, relax!" (???)

"....." (Naofumi)

I hear a familiar voice from the market place... But I won't turn around.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 106 – Days Spent on Cal Mira Island

---

For the time being.....We are travelling by ship.

It seems Firo has completely mastered swimming. When she swims she looks like a penguin.

Firo:"Master."

While floating in the water Firo grabs onto the reins for the boat that I am holding .

.....I have a very bad feeling about this.

Firo:"Let Firo ferry the boat."

Naofumi:"Huh?"

While sitting on the boat with one hand on the oars, I think about the request.

Well, I understand what she is trying to do.

Naofumi:"Raphtalia, you don't seem to be vomiting."

Raphtalia:"I am fine on boats!"

That's a relief.

I nod and strongly shake the reins.

Firo:"Go~!"

Firo gallantly swims forwards while pulling the boat at high speeds.

Raphtalia: "Wa-Wa-Waaaaaah!"

As we were being ferried a funny voice was heard.

Well, it is normal to be surprised.

Raphtalia: " It's just like a foreign Dophi Ship."

What's that?

If I remember correctly, a Dophi is a demon that resembles a dolphin.

I can somehow imagine that.

Ships being pulled across the sea by large quantities of Dophi.....I imagine it to be such a place.

We are being very efficient, since Firo is able to do it herself.

Or rather, does Firo even know where she is heading towards? .....In more ways than one.

Firo: "Where is the island?"

Raphtalia: "Over there."

After confirming where the island Firo is supposed to ferry us to, she changes the direction she is swimming in.

This fellow sure adapts quickly.

Firo: "Master~, next time we play, dive with Firo to the bottom of the sea, it's very beautiful."

Naofumi: "I'll suffocate."

How long and how fast can you dive for in the sea?

I would hate it. Coming to a different world, and drowning while playing in the sea.

Firo: "Onee-chan can dive for a long time, she won't lose to Firo."

Naofumi: "Really?"

Raphtalia: "Y-Yeah..... Diving is my forte."

Well, if she couldn't swim, her parents would not have pushed her into the sea, away from the demons when the wave happened.

Raphtalia: " Shall I fetch some seafood for later?"

Naofumi: "That's fine..... But it always comes out at the hotel."

Raphtalia: ".....That seems be the case."

I'm getting slightly tired of seafood. Well, the dishes here are mostly in Meunière style, there is an absence of sashimi.

(TInote: Meunière: Rolled lightly in flour and sautéed in butter.)

Raphtalia: "Is it safe to eat it raw?"

Naofumi: "Dunno....."

Firo: "Is it delicious?"

Naofumi: "Let's feed it to Firo and see."

The problem with feeding it to Firo is that there is still the possibility that it isn't safe for us.

Naofumi:"Next time I'll make some food from my world."

Firo:"Yay~!"

Raphtalia:"I'm looking forward to it."

Naofumi:".....Though it'll probably be from the East."

A cook book would be something I would like to search for soon. Incidentally, it also seems that my shield has a cooking skill.

And so, while chatting idly, we arrived at today's destination surprisingly swiftly.

Well, we were able to see it from the start, it barely took us any time at all to get here.

Naofumi:"Th-That was surprising."

While getting off the boat, my legs were trembling, and I am having trouble standing.

Knowing the ridiculous speed that the boat travelled to its destination at is surprising.

Firo's speed is quite considerable.

After arriving at the island, we comfortably move to the hunting grounds.

As a result, the experience points that demons give are increasing every time. Of course that's excluding the Miraka Bracelet.

If equipped, the experience increased even more.

Anyway, for the time being since Raphtalia is the lowest level, she equips the bracelet first.

Raphtalia:"It's been a while since I hunted demons with Naofumi-sama."

Naofumi: "Now that I think about it, that's right."

Due to one thing or the other, from the fight against the pope all the way to Cal Mira Island, the only fighting that was done was from Firo.

Though I don't think it has been that long either.

I mean.... when we were living as fugitives we had to hunt demons in order to procure food.

Naofumi: "From now on let's level up together at this Cal Mira Archipelago.

Do your best."

Raphtalia: "Okay!"

Firo: "Okay~!"

As we chatted and worked on raising our levels, we noticed that there were more people on Cal Mira Island than the day before.

As expected, the adventurers don't really head towards the center of the island much.

Well, usually the upper limit for them is level 40. Unless they are a chosen adventurer it would be dangerous.

Though that might not be the reason I rarely met them.....

Just that.....How should I say it, those who are overly greedy will turn into bone.....

I am reminded of the law survival of the fittest.

How many adventurers have died on this island?

I refrain from questioning it too much since they aren't in the same class as us.....

Raphtalia: "Tei!"

Firo: "Taaaaa!"

Demons are cut apart in a single one of Raphtalia's sword strikes, and the demons that are kicked by Firo resemble meat paste.

.....Correction, Raphtalia and Firo still have quite a lot to spare.

Furthermore, since I was strengthened, I can efficiently and safely defend against large numbers of demons.

Oh right, there is that Shield Bash.

Naofumi: "Shield Bash!"

I set my sights on an enemy, chant the skill to hit with my shield. Therefore, the demon was hit by the shield.

I watch as the Yellow Beetle is smashed.....and I hear a nice smack.

Though, it didn't seem to do very much damage.

However.....Its movement stopped.

It seems to have been stunned for about three seconds.

This is a skill that inflicts an abnormal state called Stun or confusion.

Though it's still a problem that i can't do any damage.....

Firo: "Bug~"

Some munching sounds resounded.

.....During the opening that the yellow beetle shown when its movement stopped, it was pitifully finished off with Firo eating it.

Cool down time is 5 seconds. It is easy to use. Doesn't cost much SP either.

(TInote: WHAT!? 3 second stun on a 5 second cooldown that doesn't cost much SP? Can somebody yell: "NERF!"?)

As we approach the center of the island, the demons increase in levels, and Raphtalia was struggling slightly.

Naofumi:"Are you alright?"

Raphtalia:"There are no problems!"

Firo:"This is nothing~"

Well, by struggling I meant, instead of needing one attack, now it's two. So, at the center of today's island, we encountered a Karma Dog Familiar. Similar to a circular orb.....A big dog with a pitch black body, had wings growing out from some magic-lens object from it's back.

This breed of dog.....similar to a Golden retriever? It's an indescribably deformed demon. However, it doesn't change that this is still a brutal demon.

I confirm the displayed name as Karma Dog.

Is it the boss of this island?

I can't imagine the guy that summoned something like this Karma Dog Familiar as his familiar.

Naofumi:"Tzuvait • Aura!"

I use support magic on Raphtalia and Firo who challenge the Karma Dog. The Karma dog tries to attack me by biting me with its enormous fangs.

Naofumi:"Hmph!"

The karma dog clamps down on my hand with its mouth, as I try to hold it down.

With a loud clang, I stop the movements of the Karma Dog.

Naofumi: "Shield Bash!"

I use one strike of Shield Bash on the Karma Dog.

If Raphtalia and Firo can take advantage of this opening it would be good.

And, contrary to what I thought, the Karma dog wasn't showing any effects from the Abnormal state, does it have a resistance?

For just a moment, I felt the power of its bite weaken, but it seems to be recovering quickly.

Its movements are fast though, but thanks to me holding it down, we can fight it safely.

After defeating it, we are able to catch up since the experience gained is considerable.

And so our everyday life on the island continued as such.

The next day we defeated a Karma Squirrel. Of course, it included the Familiar.

During yesterday night I checked the skills included in the shields that I obtained.

It was quite fortunate that I got a skill called Highten Reaction that informed me of any hostilities from demons.

I used it in the beginning in the hunting grounds.

Naofumi: " Highten Reaction!"

I tilt my neck, puzzled, as nothing happened. Then Firo blinks several times.

Firo: "Master, there's a strange feeling of something flying around everywhere."

It was brought to my attention.

At first I didn't understand what happened, but I immediately thought about it.

It was due to the swarm of demons aiming at me.

Of course, it included the ones that other adventurers that were fighting.

The effective range is about 15 meters.

As expected, I had to return their demons and apologize to the other adventurers for troubling them, during that time it came to light that I was the hero of the shield.

I had no intention of hiding it, but there are some obstinate guys that have a problem with me.

Still, Highten Reaction has no effect on demons that are above a certain level of intelligence.

Similarly we defeated a Karma Rabbit, and I absorb it into the shield.

Ah, it had a charm that was considered a good rare item. Of course, when a demon is defeated it will be dismantled before absorbing.

I wonder what principle they appear on? It's quite likely that it could be from the dimensional crack.

And then, an ore called Oracle Ore dropped. After confirming the ore, it seems to be one of the necessary materials used to reinforce a weapon. Therefore I started gathering it.

Since a weapon called Karma Dog Claw dropped, I took it out and gave it to Firo to equip.

.....But its size didn't fit. We were fighting against Karma Dogs for a while, and a larger sized one dropped so we finished without trouble.

Though the size is all over the place.....Can't anything be done about it?

Firo:"Master~ This claw is ominous~"

Naofumi:"Don't worry about it. It's probably not particularly cursed."

Firo:"Though-.....When kicking, some black stuff sprays out and the demons become unappetizing. The enemies before were more tender~....."

Hmm.....I wonder if it's because the weapon has a darkness attribute. Do you want a different weapon to make your food with?

Naofumi:"How about you Raphtalia?"

A Karma Rabbit Sword dropped from a Karma Rabbit for Raphtalia.

Raphtalia:"For some reason my body has become very light, it is very peculiar."

Before coming to a different world, using weapons dropped from bosses would be very exciting, but for some reason it doesn't seem so good. I should probably ask the old man at the weapon shop to make weapons from the materials from the Karma bosses.

Well, it should be fine since the offensive power is good.

Though the bad point is that it doesn't have blood clean coating, so the weapon won't last a long time.

While staying at the hotel, I can make my shield a whetstone, and there are also a lot of other shields to go through.

Let's give priority to that.

I should take the weapon to the old man for the coating.....It is necessary to prepare for the next wave too.

It would be best for it to pass anti-climatically.

As our levels rise steadily, a sense of impending crises also rises.

For the time being, to combat the anxiety, I will continue to collect shields from new demons and open up more possibilities to deal with any problems.

I cannot do anything without being careful.....

Well, should I check out the area where unknown demons inhabit after the wave.....?

I have the queen's funding so gold should be no problem.

Anyway, Including Raphtalia and Firo, we started strengthening ourselves.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 107 – The Cal Mira Island Revolution

---

I defeat a boss called Karma Penguin and check the drops.

…penguin plushy?

What the hell is this?

I take it out of inventory.

“W-what is this?” (Naofumi)

“It looks like a stuffed animal.” (Raphtalia)

“It’s wearing sleeping clothes” (Naofumi)

It’s a Penguin Plushy in a Santa Suit. It seems familiar for some reason.

For argument’s sake, I check its status.

-

Penguin Plushy

Defense Up, Impact Resistance (Small),

Water Resistance (Large),

Dark Resistance (Small),

HP Restoration (Weak),

Magic Amplify (Medium)

Autonomous Repair,

Increased Swim Time,

Size Correction,

Skill Correction (Small),

Race Change – Monster (When Equiped)

-

…It has quite a few useful abilities. It's basic stats don't even lose to my Barbarian Armor +1.

Increased Swim Time… but I don't plan on swimming any time soon.

"It seems to be some sort of Legendary equipment. Raphtalia, please wear-"
(Naofumi)

"NO! There's no way I can fight while wearing that." (Raphtalia)

As I thought.

I also refuse to wear this.

"Then Firo, wants to wear it" (Firo)

"How are you going to wear it. Don't you hate clothes?" (Naofumi)

"It seems fun!" (Firo)

And the second Firo grasped the doll, it increased in size.

? Is that what they meant by size correction? How useful.

"Firo will wear it." (Firo)

Firo says as she equips the penguin.

Firo now completely looks like a penguin. A Santa bag also appeared for some reason.

"Wha... Don't those clothes look a little stiff?" (Naofumi)

"D-do they?" (Raphtalia)

"Ah, I can't put any power behind my attacks." (Firo)

"Then take it off." (Naofumi)

Was that the effect of Race Change? As her race changed to something besides Filo Rial, she no longer received any bonuses from my Filo Rial shield series.

It doesn't seem we can use this...

"Um, Firo wants to wear it to sleep" (Firo)

"Well, I guess that works." (Naofumi)

It does look like something you would sleep in.

“...Or Naofumi-sama could let me wear his armor, and then wear this. The stats won't be wasted.” (Raphtalia)

“Raphtalia...You want me to fight in this?” (Naofumi)

Well, if you just look at stats, this is most efficient. It is better equipment than my Barbarian Armor.

...

Because of my shield, my equipment isn't taking any damage, but Raphtalia's equipment needs to be repaired.

(TL: If Raphtalia wears it, she should get additional bonuses from Demon Tamer Shield)

“...fine.” (Naofumi)

“Then we'll decide by lottery who wears it. According to Firo, it is hard to move in.” (Raphtalia)

“I-I understand.” (Naofumi)

For some reason, it seems we both just don't want to wear it due to appearance.

The Result...

“Master looks so cute!” (Firo)

“Damn! I'm taking it off when we get to the inn!” (Naofumi)

I can't let the other adventurers see me like this! Just as Firo's shape had changed, I now look like a penguin.

I look like a stuffed animal.

But as I say that, Raphtalia's defense greatly increased upon donning my Barbarian Armor, and we had no problems hunting the other Karma Penguin Familia and Karma Penguin.

I can't let the other Heroes see me wearing this.

But my face has also changed so as long as I hide my shield no one should find out.

"By the way, did you dismantle the monsters?" (Raphtalia)

"Oh, right." (Naofumi)

I was so focused on drops that I forgot to dismantle and absorb the monsters.

For now, I dismantle and absorb the Karma Penguin we just defeated.

Now then what should we do about the others?

Firo begins running around eating the fallen penguins raw. It's not a sight for children.

"Don't eat too many." (Naofumi)

Starting a fire is a pain. When we get to the inn, food will be ready, so I don't feel like cooking.

“Yes~” (Firo)

For the love of...

Now then, I turn my back to the desolated field of penguin carcasses.

“Pe~” (Karma Penguin)

Paku!

“? Did you just hear a strange sound?” (Naofumi)

“Yes, I wonder what it was” (Raphtalia)

“Firo didn’t notice” (Firo)

Om nom nom, Firo answers while engrossed in eating penguin meat.

I thought it had come from Firo’s direction but...

“Was it my imagination?” (Naofumi)

Maybe a nearby Karma Penguin Familiar had cried out.

It did sound like that.

“Gefu~” (Firo)

“Firo, please eat in moderation.” (Naofumi)

“Yes!” (Firo)

That day, we were able to level without a problem. Twas a bit anti-climactic.

Maybe because of the things we have been experiencing until now.

But for Level Grinding to be this easy, I can see why the others still see this as a game.

It was a day like that.

Oh yeah, it seems that I unlocked Karma Penguin Familia Shield and Karma Penguin Shield some time along the way.

-

Karma Penguin Shield (Awakened) 0/25 C

Ability Bonus

...

Equipment Bonus:

Diving Level 2,

Water Resistance (Small),

Fishing Level 3,

Speckle Status Correction (Medium)

Special Effect : Diving Time Up

Weapon Proficiency 0

-

Karma Penguin Familia Shield (Awakened) 0/10 C

Ability Bonus

...

Equipment Bonus:

Diving Level 1

Fishing Level 2

Speckle Status Correction (Small)

Weapon Proficiency 0

-

It seems like it comes with various abilities and status corrections as a bonus.

However shields like the Chimera Viper just came with high stats. I don't understand the system.

And what is Speckle supposed to mean? It doesn't give any explanation.

It is then that the Penguin Plushy comes to mind.

Wearing that item did give a lot of miscellaneous bonuses.

"Raphtalia..." (Naofumi)

“W-why are you looking at me with those eyes? I’m definitely not wearing it.” (Raphtalia)

I pull Raphtalia’s name out of the cup we used for the lottery.

“Today is your turn.” (Naofumi)

Firo is… Well, I’m happy she was born as a Filo Rial.

By the way, this is something that we learned later, but if you wear this costume you can dive in the ocean for long periods of time. But that doesn’t really matter right now.

Later… Firo has learned to move in penguin form without issue.

It seems that she enjoys playing around in that form.

Once again, a normal day of level grinding has passed. It is now the dusk of the last day.

The EXP bonuses slowly subsided, and eventually disappeared altogether along with the red light.

“These days were quite useful.” (Naofumi)

“You’re…correct” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia answers with a troubled face.

Well, it’s not like I don’t understand.

We’re about to get on the boat set to return to the main land.

Though I had the initial advantage in levels, the result was

Me: Level 73

Raphtalia: Level 75

Firo: Level 74

We reached around the limit that the Island could help us. I was told the bonus was not particularly helpful past level 80, and getting through the 70's was difficult.

Motoyasu calls down to me from the boat.

"It seems you've gotten stronger. Isn't that nice?" (Motoyasu)

"Yeah!" (Firo)

Firo is currently floating next to the boat. It is still docked.

"Firo, he wasn't talking to you" (Naofumi)

"eh?" (Firo)

"Returning to subject, I am now 30 levels higher than when I got here."
(Motoyasu)

"Me too... but I expected a little bit more." (Itsuki)

"There's nothing we can do about it." (Ren)

"The monsters were just too weak." (Motoyasu)

“Ah… well that is true.” (Itsuki)

By the time we had reached level 70, the Karma Series bosses were nothing but small fries.

Firo and Raphtalia’s statuses have sky rocketed.

I have tested new methods and found different ways to increase my stats.

By the way, I still have many shields that are still sealed.

We may have been able to increase our levels, but that does not necessarily mean we have gotten strong. I think Raphtalia and Firo realize this too.

It seems that Level is a sort of magical property of an individual, and things like skill and intelligence are separate.

I don’t think I have the reaction speed or mentality to take on stronger opponents yet.

This is an unfortunate side-effect of grinding.

In the net games I used to play, there were mountains of players who thought they were strong simply by leveling up in special events.

They didn’t realize that level and skill level are separate items.

We should train to prevent that.

“Oya? Is it not the hero of the Shield?” (Swindler)

“…You.” (Naofumi)

The swindling merchant calls out from a boat that is docked next to the one we are about to board.

It seems to be some sort of Cargo ship. Many boxes are stacked on it.

“Well, the Awakening is now over, have you ended business?” (Naofumi)

“Ended business? Surely you jest. I am merely switching to another enterprise.” (Swindler)

“I see…” (Naofumi)

What does he plan on doing? I have a bad feeling about this.

“It’s a secret. I’ve been bound to secrecy.” (Swindler)

The swindler cuts off explanations.

It seems that the rumors of the EXP raising accessories he sold at Cal Mira have spread quite far.

However, rumors being rumors, some information is lost over time. Though the accessory was supposed to only work on the islands, people are now saying that they work everywhere, and testimonies are already popping up.

“I think you should get out of the accessory industry.” (Naofumi)

“What are you saying? Miracle Gem Accessories are still flying off the shelves.” (Swindler)

By the way, they supposedly have a property that makes them break easily. Once they have lost their effects, they shatter and the customer must purchase another.

It seems I have started quite a dubious industry. I have some doubts.

“I’ll work hard! See you Again, Hero of the Shield!” (Swindler)

It seems that his inventory has finished loading. His boat departs first.

“Well… There’s nothing I can do about it now.” (Naofumi)

All I did was give him some advice. The rest is up to him.

“Well, we should board our boat too.” (Naofumi)

“You’re right.” (Raphtalia)

“Board~!” (Firo)

And so, we boarded the boat and waited for it to depart.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 108 – False Charges, Again

---

The other heroes seem to have all boarded the ship. I was informed by Shadow as the ship departed.

I am thinking about the future while watching the sun set over the sea.

First of all, what are all the things that I need to ask the queen when we get back to the castle town?

Next, I need to go to the old man's place to prepare for the next wave. On that topic, should I ask the queen for materials?

If there is time, it wouldn't be bad to go demon hunting ourselves for the materials.

Afterwards, there is also that thing about completely tempering my shield.

There is a limit to how many reinforcement materials I can get on the island.

At night, I headed up to the deck after finishing dinner .

I watch the sea and feel the evening wind.

.....I found Firo exercising by swimming after her meal.

Just how obsessed are you with swimming right now.

(TLnote: マイブーム MaiBumu..... Apparently it means:" Something that a person is currently obsessed with."

I'll pretend I didn't see anything.

Naofumi:"Hm?"

I see Motoyasu at the corner of the deck..... And I also discover Rishia there.

Flirting again? That reminds me, Rishia was also included in Motoyasu's beautiful girl ranking.

Just how much do you want to make a harem.

Do you even know what Itsuki would say?

For the time being, I'll warn him a bit.

Naofumi:" Hey. Motoyasu, why don't you stop flirting here--"

Motoyasu:"Ah! If it isn't Naofumi! I beg you!"

Motoyasu seems to have a pale complexion and pushes Rishia to me by her shoulders.

Naofumi:"What's up with you?"

Motoyasu:"It's fine! I'll leave it to you!"

What's the matter? To think that womanizer would entrust me with something..... When I look at Rishia, she seems surprised.

For some reason.....Her eyes are swollen up and bloodshot.

Rishia was probably sitting down in that corner crying over and over.

Naofumi:"Wh-What's wrong!?"

Motoyasu:"Th-Then with this I'm done!"

Naofumi:"Wait! Surely you didn't.....Not on a ship....."

Did you fall so low as to commit a crime?

Since she didn't obey did you say: "It's alright, it'll only hurt in the beginning....." and rape Rishia?

It does seem like a Motoyasu's modus operandi. That guy seems like he could nonchalantly steal someone else's lover.

And so, it leads to her being so upset and crying.

What a terrible sleazebag. I'll never let you escape.

Motoyasu: "Th-That's not it!"

Naofumi: "Then prove it."

Rishia: "Mo-Motoyasu-sama isn't responsible....."

Rishia muttered in a hoarse voice.

Damn, was I just over thinking?

As expected even Motoyasu isn't rotten to this degree.

Naofumi: "Then what happened?"

Motoyasu: "There are certain circumstances. But I'm no good at dealing with it. Therefore I'll entrust it to you!"

After saying that while laughing, Motoyasu escaped back to his cabin while trembling after a large sigh.

That's the first time I've seen such an expression on Motoyasu.

Or perhaps, Is that guy the type that is not good at dealing with women?

Was it because of what type Rishia is? That guy's good luck looks a little weak.

Firo: "What happened~?"

Firo noticed the situation and asked after returning to the deck.

Rishia: "Please don't worry about it."

Naofumi: "I'm afraid I can't do that, I feel uneasy thinking you might have been raped by Motoyasu."

Rishia: "No.....I just couldn't put up with it any more."

Naofumi: "You couldn't put up with Motoyasu:"

Rishia: "Th-That's not it!"

Though still tearful, for a moment she looked slightly angry. Did she get a little vigor back?

Rishia: "Motoyasu-sama tried to cheer me up at first too.....As I thought, I don't think I should talk about it."

Naofumi: "Don't say something like that.....You help me once before, I am grateful."

It was Rishia that taught me about the ore that Itsuki uses.
If Rishia is troubled, I want to co-operate as much as possible.

Rishia: "No.....Really, please don't worry."

After saying that, Rishia escaped by departing.

Naofumi: ".....What was that about?"

In the end, only unpleasant examples of what might have happened remains.

Next morning.

I was reading a book in the cabin while questioning Rishia's attitude last night.

Naofumi:"I'm worried after all."

For some reason.....This is something that by all rights I could ignore, but my heart is noisy.

This feeling resembles the time when Melty was attacked by the guard and when I was falsely accused by Bitch.

I have a very bad feeling about this.

Raphtalia:"Is something wrong?"

Naofumi:"Just a little. I can't relax so I'll just go investigate something a little."

Raphtalia:"I see....."

I left the room as Raphtalia continued to do push-ups.

What on earth could have happened? I can't understand this by myself.

I feel a little anxiety as I eavesdrop on Ituki's cabin.

For some reason, happy voices could be heard.

Am I over thinking too much?

Rishia:"Ah....."

Then I see Rishia, who is for some reason staring enviously at the cabin.

When she noticed me, she ran away.

.....What is wrong? Really.

I might be able to discover the circumstances by questioning Motoyasu.

With that reasoning I knock on the door to Motoyasu's cabin.

Woman1:"Yes~"

Woman 1 Opens the door.

An amazing smile that I have never seen before was shown to me.

This girl.....She can make such a face?.....

Is this an act to get along with Bitch and Woman2? Frankly, it makes me sick.

To have the ability to make such a face when she habitually has a deadpan expression.

Women are scary.

Woman1:".....Ah, It's you! If it's just you, then I can remove the mask!"

After a few seconds, her facial expression dampened tremendously, vented her anger for acting towards me.

I absolutely cannot understand why she would be angry.

Naofumi:"Is Motoyasu here?"

Bitch:" Is there a reason why I must tell you?"

Naofumi:"Heey. Motoyasu--"

Bitch:" Don't ignore me!"

Woman2:"Yeah Yeah!"

Woman 2 is taking advantage of the opportunity. I pretend that Bitch isn't in my field of view and ignore her.

I would rather not come here due to the trauma from before.

This guy doesn't matter to me.

Motoyasu: "What's up with you Naofumi, everyone here seems to hate you."

Motoyasu talks to me while being sandwiched in a harem-like situation between Bitch and Woman2.

What an irritating pose.

It would be impossible to ask about his position without being sarcastic.

Naofumi: "Such a thing doesn't matter. I just want to ask about something."

Motoyasu: ".....What is it?"

Naofumi: "The matter from last night. Something about entrusting me before you left."

Motoyasu: ".....I understand. However, after that I'll leave everything to you."

Naofumi: "Leaving it to others.....well fine. I'm acting on curiosity. I'll accept the risk that comes along with it."

There is an idea forming in my mind, as that guy Motoyasu comes out of the cabin with a pale face while telling his followers to stay.

When we head up to the deck, he is still looking at me with a pale face.

Motoyasu: "About Rishia-chan's situation."

Naofumi: "Yeah."

I can't get the reason why Rishia was crying from questioning her.

So I'll ask Motoyasu about the circumstances, since I think he is kind to women.

Motoyasu:"To tell the truth--"

The situation was explained from Motoyasu's point of view.....

After hearing Motoyau's story, and realising that my intuition was right, there was a lump in my throat as anger surged up.

Naofumi:"Itsuki-----!"

I forcefull kick down the door to Itsuki's room.

The door opened with a loud bang, and everyone inside stared at me simultaneously.

Itsuki:"Wh-What is it!?"

Armour:"Hero of the Shield you bastard!What do you want!"

Naofumi:"What do I want? Ask yourselves! You trashes!"

Due to my loud voice, the whole ship felt noisy.

Itsuki and Armour flinched momentarily due to my oppressive attitude.

Itsuki was the first to recover and he raises his voice in anger as well.

Itsuki:"That's why I asked what the hell happened!"

Naofumi:"Do you seriously not understand yet!?"

This is dangerous, if I keep this resentment smouldering in my heart, then the Wrath Shield will appear.

If Ren comes, it would go on a rampage.

Armour: "I don't know what suspicions you have, Hero of the Shield!"

Armour tried to grab me.

So I avoided Armour's arms and applied a joint-locking technique.

[The rules of a legendary weapon, it is prohibited to have a weapon other than the exclusive weapon]

(Sfx*)Bashin*Bashin* I received pain through my arm, but I ignore it.

Am I prohibited from even doing a Joint-lock attack?

Throwing was okay though, what's the difference?

Armour: "Ouch! Owowow!"

Naofumi: "I came here to talk to Itsuki. Don't get in my way, you small fry!"

I thrust away Armour, and glare at Itsuki.

I haven't felt this anger in a long time.

Since I calmed down a lot thanks to Raphtalia.

I don't intend to suppress it now.

Naofumi: "You.....For someone who has a habit of claiming justice, you know nothing!"

Itsuki: "What are you....."

While angrily looking at Itsuki, I see that Rishia ran towards the commotion and is looking in to the room.

Itsuki:"Seriously, the reason I think you are so mad, is it that thing?"

Naofumi:"So you do know."

Itsuki:"She is the bad one."

Naofumi:"Don't joke around!"

The story that I heard from Motoyasu, it's---

The reason that Rishia was grieving that way.

On the last day of activation, Rishia finished shopping for the day and returned to her companions.

Itsuki:"Rishia-san. Was it you?"

Rishia:"Eh? What are you talking about?"

After Rishia returned, she tilted her neck to Itsuki's disappointed question.

Itsuki:"It's not use to pretend you don't know. You are the one that broke my accessory."

After saying so, Itsuki brought out his cherished bracelet that was cruelly broken.

Rishia:"Eh? I-I have no idea. What is that?"

Itsuki:"To think you would tell a lie like that.....There is evidence."

After saying so, Itsuki directs his gaze to his other companions.

Armour:"Yes, we all saw it. Rishia broke the bracelet that Itsuki-sama cherished and hide it."

No Name:"That's right."

No Name2:"I saw it."

Rishia:"Ehh!? Th-That's not it! I didn't do anything.....I really didn't know!"

Rishia pleaded desperately.

However, Itsuki doesn't believe it.

Itsuki:"So do I not believe in the eye-witness either?.....I can't be helped. I intended to forgive you if you apologized..... Rishia-san, please leave the party starting today."

Rishia:"N-No way! I really didn't know anything!"

At that moment, Rishia saw that Armour was chuckling faintly.

However, Rishia at that moment was clinging to Itsuki and pleading to not be thrown away.

Rishia:"I beg you! Please! Let me stay near Itsuki-sama!"

Itsuki's eyes swim around and seem to be tormented with a little sense of guilt.

Armour:"It's not okay to permit it here, Itsuki-sama!"

No Name:"There is suspicion that Rishia leaked information to the other Heroes."

Armour argued with his companion backing him up.

Itsuki:"It's regrettable, but.....Farewell."

Rishia:"Itsuki-sama!? I really really beg you! Please reconsider, I'll do anything!"

At Rishia's tearful begging, Itsuki turned his back and didn't respond.

Armour:"How long are you going to provoke Itsuki-sama's pity! You liar! You don't have the qualifications to approach Itsuki-sama!"

Itsuki's companions forcibly expelled Rishia out.

After that, even though she wanted to approach even a little.....The results were the same.

This was roughly the contents from Motoyasu's story on Rishia.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 109 – Reason for Dismissal

---

Motoyasu Relates Rishia's story to me with a pale face.

"At first I was curious as to why she was crying and got a little worried so I called out to her but... sorry... I... I can't stand to see girls like this... Can I leave it to you?" (Motoyasu)

I couldn't hear Motoyasu's words to the end.

Now that I think about it, Motoyasu was killed and sent to this world due to his popularity.

So he can't handle dark girls like this.

Those girls that appear in Galge, yandere was it? (TL: Galge: Non eros Dating Sim)

In my world, games with those types of girls existed as well.

They became famous for their morbid bad endings.

Listening to Rishia, who is getting close to being a stalker, might have awakened his trauma.

But Motoyasu, that isn't the important part.

From the story, it seems Rishia is innocent.

It seems that a separate culprit has framed her.

I hate false charges more than anything. There's no way I can let this be!

So I go after Itsuki to abate my own rage.

"When I said there was no room for further questions she went and tattled to the other heroes... Do you think that will make me take her back in?"

(Itsuki)

"Rishia didn't tell me anything. She went to the womanizing Motoyasu."

(Naofumi)

"What I said was the truth. Rishia lied. It seems that she forgot the debt she had to me and tried to use me. The result is obvious." (Itsuki)

"You have no doubts as to whether or not she is lying?!" (Naofumi)

"You... Do you think I cannot trust the comrades I have built trust with for months? The newcomer Rishia is the dubious one here. I will believe the words of my comrades." (Itsuki)

This person... He thinks I don't know anything so he's spouting bullcrap.

I made sure to gather information before coming here.

Did you think that I, who is used to false charges, would come here without evidence and act on feeling alone?

Rishia isn't the culprit, and I have already figured out the culprit's identity.

Well... my information mostly comes from Shadow, though...

It seems that the Culprit is another member of Itsuki's party.

Shadow already told Itsuki about it, but Itsuki chose to trust his Comrades words over Shadow.

Shadow even told me the contents of that conversation.

I've come this far, it's time for me to go on the offensive.

"No matter what you say, there was a witness! And it's an unrelated person, there's no reason they would tell a lie. And it's weird in itself that your comrades didn't catch the culprit at the scene of the crime." (Naofumi)

"For you to have investigated that far... There's no choice. It's all for her sake. The others are merely giving her what she deserved. They merely found that Rishia had been stained with the color of evil, and carried out the appropriate punishment." (Itsuki)

"Wait, what are you talking about." (Naofumi)

"Rishia called my party members villains and left the party. She cares not for her comrades." (Itsuki)

"...?" (Naofumi)

What is he saying?

I can't keep up with his explanation.

Could it be a conspiracy? An accusation in name only to get her to leave the party?

“And Rishia isn’t suited for fighting. We all discussed and decided it would be best for her to return to her home town and live in happiness.” (Itsuki)

“Yes, it was all for Rishia’s sake.” (Armor)

Armor comes in and confirms Itsuki’s words, but I have no idea where this conversation is going.

Doesn’t that just mean that Rishia had a false crime placed on her for no reason?

There’s no way she can return home like this.

And so,

As far as Itsuki knows, the matter with Rishia was settled. But Rishia, who was left in the dark, was troubled

So Itsuki and his comrades put a crime on her to force her to leave.

That is the real crime here.

Cares not for her comrades? Bull$h!t!

They were just too used to dealing with villains that they treated her as one as well.

This isn’t a game!

In a game you could just get her to leave the party with a press of a button.

This guy played console games if I remember correctly.

Does he think that Party Members are NPCs?

I feel worn out and look in Rishia's direction.

Even now, Rishia looks like she is about to cry. She is staring at Itsuki in silence.

"To be honest, in my party Rishia was the one who fit in the least... Instead of willingly rushing into dangerous situations, it is best to let her live in peace." (Itsuki)

"You're just avoiding the main issue! How about her feelings!" (Naofumi)

"That isn't what I'm saying. A battle for the fate of the world cannot be won on feelings alone!" (Itsuki)

"Then why did you fire her without telling her anything." (Naofumi)

"Then I will say it bluntly. She does not provide any useful manpower. I thought she would get stronger over time, but if she refuses to raise her skills, it's better for all of us if she just returned home!" (Itsuki)

Ah. He said it.

So he's just shifting the blame now isn't he.

"Then why didn't you just outright tell her that? Were you afraid of becoming the villain?" (Naofumi)

"Of course not! Where are you getting these ideas." (Itsuki)

"If you have to make her a scapegoat because he can't muster up the courage to tell her to leave, then it's the truth." (Naofumi)

"But in regards to her ability, the road ahead will be difficult. We are swallowing our tears and wishing for her happiness." (Itsuki)

"That's only you. What do you think other people's lives are?!" (Naofumi)

From what I can see, she has a high potential for magic.

However because of you, she forced herself to wield a sword and even classed up to aid your fighting style.

And yet you're just going to abandon her like this. You then justified your actions by making up reasons.

Dammit!

She would have understood if you just told her.

In the end, you just didn't want to become the villain.

Isn't this the same as what happened to me?

The end was decided before I could do anything. Itsuki seems to think this matter is already settled.

"This is a good opportunity. Rishia, I can't put up with you anymore. Frankly, you are weak." (Itsuki)

So he's finally become like this.

In order to make sure his situation doesn't worsen, he has decided to say the truth.

And because he sensed he was getting cornered, he decided to make Rishia out to be the bad guy.

Where is your justice now? What self-righteousness, what Hypocrisy.

Even the Swindler and the Slave dealer are better than this.

At least they understand that they are at fault.

They are much better than a kid who acts on a whim and then labels his actions as justice.

"..." (Rishia)

Rishia tries to let out her voice in response to Itsuki's accusation.

"Rishia?" (Naofumi)

"She's just trying to get sympathy. Now leave, both of you." (Itsuki)

"People like you... do you plan to put more charges on us?" (Naofumi)

"When did I ever place false charges on you!" (Itsuki)

"I won't let you act oblivious now! Remember when you ignored Bitch's cheating and acted like I was the one at fault? And that time when you accused me of taking your funds?" (Naofumi)

"The matter with Bitch had nothing to do with me." (Itsuki)

What do you mean 'nothing to do with me'?

How did your Hero of Justice spirit not go off there?

"Anyways, at this point in time, we cannot conclude that you did not take the funds." (Itsuki)

"But haven't we already found the culprit?" (Naofumi)

"Wha!? What nonsense are you spouting now?" (Itsuki)

"It seems you really don't know." (Naofumi)

"Don't look at us like that. If you know the culprit, just say it." (Itsuki)

He seems to be genuinely curious right now.

"It's the Three Hero Church." (Naofumi)

"Are you alright in the head?" (Itsuki)

"Itsuki, you're not actually very smart, are you?" (Naofumi)

"Gu-! What makes you think that." (Itsuki)

I myself don't consider myself to be smart.

I'm actually quite stupid.

If I was smart, I wouldn't have been fooled by Bitch.

My grades were average and my parents gave up on my education.

But if this person isn't the culprit, I think I can figure it out.

"The Church had one didn't it... A legendary weapon in the shape of a bow."
(Naofumi)

"Ah..." (Itsuki)

So he finally noticed. He seems stunned.

The Church was fundamentally against us summoned heroes. They definitely had reason.

And when he had accused me before, where had he been?

Right in front of the church. They had probably fed him the info that I was the culprit.

Now that I think about it, it was quite simple.

"That matter is irrelevant now." (Itsuki)

"Itsuki, you..." (Naofumi)

How selfish can this person get. Does he care not of the hearts of others?

I can feel my anger rising.

The blood is rising to my head.

This feels like when Bitch placed false crimes on me. No, it's different.

This is...

"I see, I thought you were a troublesome person, but you had a strong sense of justice and you would make a good hero. But your value as a person was only this much? You've betrayed my expectations. I've had it with you." (Naofumi) (TL: How I felt a few chapters ago)

I give him a cold stare and leave the room.

I've heard something like this before.

The opposite of love isn't hate. It is Apathy.

That means the opposite of Hate is also Apathy.

To me, it looks like Itsuki has already lost interest.

There's no point in getting mad at a person who no longer cares.

"You have no right to be telling me that. Please stay away from me from now on." (Itsuki)

Itsuki shouts at me as I leave. His voice is louder than I have ever heard it.

Ah. I see

So this stems from his childish desire for praise. He hates it when people's opinions of him drop.

"It's no longer of my concern. I have no intentions of dealing with your tyranny any more. I hope you don't break any more expectations."
(Naofumi)

"I'm telling you to get lost!" (Itsuki)

I ignore Itsuki, who has drawn his bow. And walk away.

“This is the last time you can get so full of yourself.” (Itsuki)

Like I care.

His opinion of Rishia… Remains unchanged.

It can't be…

As I head towards side of the ship, I witness Firo Jumping out of the water.

On one wing, she is carrying a drenched Rishia.

“This Onee-chan suddenly fell in. She was sinking, so Firo helped her out.”
(Firo)

“Suicide…” (Naofumi)

To be depressed to that extent…

I can understand Motoyasu's dislike of this type of person a bit.

Just because the person you like bad-mouths you, it doesn't mean you have to die.

“Good job Firo.”(Naofumi)

“Yay~” (Firo)

I pat Firo's head.

If it hadn't been for Firo, this story would have reached the worst possible ending.

If that happened, I would have trouble sleeping at night.

And there's something I have already decided.

"Now then, Rishia." (Naofumi)

"*Cough* *Cough*" (Rishia)

I pat Rishia, who is coughing up sea water, on the back and speak.

"Firo of my party has just now saved your life. What will you do with that saved life?" (Naofumi)

"...Let me die. Itsuki has abandoned me. There is no worth left in me living."
(Rishia)

"The person who decided that is none other than you." (Naofumi)

"Then please let me decide my own death." (Rishia)

"If you think that way there's nothing I can do about it... But there is one thing I can't forgive." (Naofumi)

If I just let it end this way, my anger will never subside.

"Will you accept these false charges? Do you not want to get back at them?"
(Naofumi)

"B-but I..." (Rishia)

“Don’t you want to make Itsuki say, ‘Please come back, I need you’?!”
(Naofumi)

“I-I knew I was weak from the beginning…” (Rishia)

“Who decided that a person has to stay weak forever? The only person who said that is Itsuki. All you have to do is get stronger.” (Naofumi)

Back at the start, I too had been called weak and useless. The other heroes looked down on me.

That’s why I can’t overlook this behavior.

“…Really? … Can I really become strong?” (Rishia)

“I promise you this. I’ll definitely force Itsuki to acknowledge your strength.”
(Naofumi)

I’ll make him regret ever abandoning her.

“That’s why Rishia. Until you find a way to get stronger on your own, I will help you. No, I’ll make you strong!” (Naofumi)

I’m merely acting on a grudge right now.

Rishia resembles me too much. She was falsely accused, and looked down upon. So for her sake and mine, I must make her stronger and let her get back at Itsuki.

“Join my party.” (Naofumi)

Rishia reaches out for my hand. She hesitates for a bit, but finally grasps it.

「……本当に……私は強くなれますか？」

「お前が強くなる方法を見つけるまで手伝ってやる。いや、強くしてやる！」
これは意地だ。

冤罪で嵌められ、弱いと蔑まれていた過去の自分と重なるリーシアを
絶対に強くして樹を見返してやる。

「俺の所へ来い！」

リーシアは俺が差し出した手を、戸惑いながら掴む。

“My heart still belongs to Itsuki…” (Rishia)

“Ah, I’m fine with that. I’m not asking you to believe in me. Believe in whatever you want to believe and you should be fine.” (Naofumi)

I’m not like Motoyasu. I’m not acting because Rishia is a woman.

I just cannot forgive Itsuki for picking her up and throwing her away at his own convenience.

I can also feel the similarities in our circumstances.

And that’s why I can say for sure…

“You will become strong no matter what.” (Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 110 – A Girl Full of Joy

---

Anyways, Rishia has become our comrade for now but...

When I was walking back to my room, I was stopped by Rafatalia.

“Um, earlier I heard Naofumi-sama shouting, but what happened?”

(Rafatalia)

“Ah, don’t worry about it. Itsuki just did something unbelievably infuriating.”

(Naofumi)

“Hm? Who is the person behind you?” (Rafatalia)

“U...um” (Rishia)

“I believe she was... anyways, let’s return to the room. We can talk then.”

(Rafatalia)

It seems that Rafatalia could read the situation to some extent.

We return to the room and I explain the circumstances to Rafatalia. I also conduct introductions and say that she will be a comrade from now on.

For obvious reasons, Rafatalia listened with a face composed half of amazement and half of anger.

“That person is...” (Rafatalia)

“U-um please don’t say bad things about Itsuki.” (Rishia)

“Even after going through that, you will still defend him…” (Rafatalia)

Rafatalia seems quite surprised.

I feel the same…

“If Firo hadn’t been there, she would have been dead.” (Naofumi)

“Praise Firo more.” (Firo)

“Yes, yes. But I just praised you earlier.” (Naofumi)

“Eh?” (Firo)

Looking for more praise, Firo turns into her human form and forcibly puts my hand on top of her head.

This sensation is… The Ahoge is annoying.

“Itsuki isn’t at fault. It’s all because I am weak.” (Rishia)

Rafatalia grabs Rishia’s hand. Rishia looks like she is going to cry again.

“I understand. He is important to you, right.” (Rafatalia)

“Yes…” (Rishia)

“I think I can understand. Let’s work hard together.” (Rafatalia)

“…Is Rafatalia like that too? Ok, I will do my best.” (Rishia)

? is it just my imagination or is there a strange aura directed at me?

Well, as long as they get along.

It's a hundred times better than forming an antagonistic relationship.

"Rishia, you will be travelling with us as a comrade. Please think of a way to make yourself stronger as you do that." (Naofumi)

"Do your best." (Rafatalia)

"Oh yes, and stalking Itsuki is henceforth banned." (Naofumi)

"I... I understand." (Rishia)

"We'll only be on the ship for a few more hours, so you should be able to handle it." (Naofumi)

It will be bad if she develops a stalking habit.

It's probably better for her to keep her distance for now.

"I'll make an effort." (Rishia)

"Also... Itsuki probably won't do anything, but for your sake I think you should avoid meeting him face to face." (Naofumi)

Time will probably heal these wounds.

I also try to avoid him. Dealing with him is a pain.

If I need to ask him anything, I'll use Shadow.

"Shadow" (Naofumi)

I call Shadow. And he/she/it appears immediately.

Where is this person watching us from usually?

But besides me, Shadow seems to observe the actions of the other heroes as well.

“What is it-gojaru?” (Shadow)

“What are the other Heroes planning to do? Oh and is there anything my party has to do?”

“The Sword and Bow will start on missions when we reach the main land-gojaru. I have been told to take the Shield and Spear to the Castle when the boat docks-gojaru.” (Shadow)

“Fumu…” (Naofumi)

So Ren and Itsuki already have jobs to do… and Me and Motoyasu have to go to the castle.

That’s fine by me. I have to ask the queen something anyways. Does Motoyasu have anything to do at the castle?

Ah, Bitch’s punishment.

Well as long as we head off after Itsuki departs there shouldn’t be a problem.

“Now then, what should we have Rishia do?” (Naofumi)

“Hiii-!” (Rishia)

“What’s with that voice? I won’t give you an impossible job.” (Naofumi)

She did all the odd jobs at Itsuki’s place.

Does she think I will do the same?

I just wanted to confirm party roles.

I hunted with Itsuki’s party for two days. I know her specialties.

Rishia’s specialty is being a Jack-of-all-trades.

CQC, Attack Magic, Healing, Support.

Having someone who can perform all of these will truly benefit my party.

The front line has Rafatalia and Firo, so that aspect is probably fine.

Should I assign her to the currently-vacant Magician position?

She can use all types of Magic and is quite resourceful, so there shouldn’t be a problem.

Level and Status aren’t everything.

If you use your head, you can achieve results past your stats.

This is perfect.

I give out the party roles.

I assign myself to defense, healing. The Support Role

There's no point if I switch now.

Rafatalia is the Vanguard.

In battle, she is weaker than Firo, but against skilled opponents she can use illusion magic to gain the upper hand.

Firo is on offense.

She has high basic attack and speed. She can also use ranged magic. Her specialty is crowd clearing.

And I have to make a new position for Rishia considering her strengths.

I begin the explanation to Rishia, who seems to be afraid.

"Don't worry Rishia, Naofumi may be sharp tongued, but he's not as bad as you would think" (Rafatalia)

"... I'd like to ask this once, but why are you two suddenly so close?"
(Naofumi)

What do you mean 'not as bad as you would think'?

Well, I am used to dealing with dangerous people like the Slave Dealer and the Accessory Merchant

"T-that is..." (Rishia)

Rishia looks in my direction but stays silent.

What is she looking at?

"Are you wondering what my position in battle is?" (Naofumi)

"No..." (Rishia)

"Don't say no. I'll gladly tell you." (Naofumi)

"He's this sort of person." (Rafatalia)

"... I see..." (Rishia)

For some reason, Rishia is no longer afraid. I don't understand women.

Why are women so complicated? In Galge, it was so simple...

"Now that I think about it..." (Naofumi)

I stare at Rishia from head to toe.

Her equipment is quite sub-par.

It must be because of the Hierarchy. The higher members get all of the good equipment.

To be useful, she must first have good equipment. To have good equipment, she must prove to be useful. This vicious spiral made it so that only her level rose and her equipment stayed the same.

"Rishia, what is your level?" (Naofumi)

"? I'm level 68." (Rishia)

She answered quite simply.

I can't check her status, but she will probably be a helpful asset.

Rishia's base specialty is Magical Attack and Healing. If I leave these to her, our party should become more diverse.

But I am worried about my own defensive capability.

Rafatalia and Firo are quite tough. I don't need to worry about protecting them to that great of an extent.

At 68, her defense will probably be behind the other two.

I also have to worry about the abilities she has that Itsuki never bothered to train.

"I feel bad about it, but for now, to make up for the difference in stats, you will have to wear this." (Naofumi)

I hand the Penguin Plushy to Rishia.

It's really durable and out-ranks Rafatalia's and my armor in stats.

"Naofumi... That is..." (Rafatalia)

"There's no choice. This is currently the best armor in our possession."
(Naofumi)

All of the other excess equipment I have right now is around the same level as Rishia's current gear.

By the way, I currently have 3 of the penguin suits in my possession. We hunted way too many of those things.

But we didn't get any other plushies from the rest of the Karma series.

"Ah, this is..." (Rishia)

"What's wrong?" (Naofumi)

"Itsuki also had something like this... It was a Squirrel Plushy." (Rishia)

"He-... So did he wear it too?" (Naofumi)

"He said it was powerful equipment and asked if anyone wanted to wear it. But everyone rejected it." (Rishia)

"So you ended up wearing it?" (Naofumi)

"Of course" (Rishia)

What do you mean of course? Don't accept it so easily.

She really is too positive.

That was definitely a form of bullying, and yet she can simply laugh about it.

"It was wonderful Equipment. But when I took it off, my comrades took it."
(Rishia)

"What sort of Equipment was it?" (Naofumi)

"When I wore it, I got a lot of bonuses, and fighting became easy." (Rishia)

"Well the enchantment on it is quite powerful..." (Naofumi)

The Squirrel suit probably also had Magic Amplify as an ability. It has a good compatibility with Rishia

But it also stands out in another way...

Itsuki is skilled at hiding so I think he can wear it just fine.

"Once we get off the boat, you can take it off." (Naofumi)

"You want me to take it off?" (Rishia)

For some reason, Rishia stares at me with a troubled face.

What is with this reaction?

"Are you bothered?" (Naofumi)

"It's good equipment, and if I wear it, no one will be able to notice if I am sad." (Rishia)

That is the logic of a loser.

She is acting like a bullied child.

"Are you really okay with that?" (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Rishia)

Yes!... really?

This will be difficult. It will probably work out fine, but if her heart doesn't get stronger then getting stronger will be difficult.

Saying no one will notice her crying if she wears the suit...

"You can wear that at the beginning, but you eventually have to graduate from it." (Naofumi)

"*Sigh*" (Rafatalia)

Rafatalia has a complicated expression.

Does she have a problem with Rishia's behavior?

I don't think their compatibility is bad... but I can't judge yet.

"Anyways, let's get stronger one step at a time." (Rafatalia)

"Yes!" (Rishia)

Only her response is high-spirited.

I feel she will get along well with Ren's people.

And so Rishia puts on the Penguin Plushy.

"How do I look? Dood" (TL: Please help me. I have no idea what sound a penguin makes)

"ah... It's... fitting." (Naofumi)

It makes her stand out quite a bit..

I remember the me that was there before I came to this world

It seems that there are now two people who will happily wear this costume including Firo.

As a Hero, I was supposed to gather human companions, but now it feels like I've gathered nothing but monsters.

"I will be under your care from now on." (Rishia)

"Likewise." (Naofumi)

"Welcome. Your clothes match Firo's" (Firo)

"Welcome to the party" (Rafatalia)

And so we welcomed Rishia as a new member.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 111 – A King I Can Only See as an Idiot

---

After Shadow told us that Itsuki had departed, we get off the boat.

After that, we use the carriage and comfortably proceed towards the castle town.

There seemed to be an event going on at the gate. I'm about to enter the city when-

I see something that makes me doubt my eyes.

Trash is wearing nothing but his mantle and some pants. He is walking around in a comical manner.

The Queen is watching from a lavish carriage parked behind him.

"Welcome back Iwatani." (Queen)

".....?." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia tilts her head in confusion at the spectacle. Firo cranes her head to see better, and Rishia is making troubled arm gestures. By the way, she is still in the penguin suit.

"What... is that?" (Naofumi)

"It's the king dancing around in clothes only stupid people can see of course." (Queen)

… The Emperor’s new Clothes? Clothes only stupid people can see? The person wearing them looks quite stupid already.

Right now I am experiencing two spectacles.

I’m not sure if I’m supposed to see a man dancing around half naked, or a man dancing around in stupid clothing.

Well, it doesn’t really matter to me.

“Is something weird?” (Firo)

Firo seems puzzled.

Ah… Firo is also an idiot.

Perhaps she can actually see all his clothes. (TL: Emperor’s New Clothes Fairy Tale Reference)

“That person is naked, is there a party?” (Firo)

… or not.

I occasionally treat Firo like a child, or a bird-brained fool.

However, I realize that she can sometimes be surprisingly sharp.

“I dread asking, but Why?” (Naofumi)

“Are you asking because you can see the clothes?” (Queen)

Which is it?

My head hurts.

Is he wearing them or not?

“Wisdomless Darling, where do you think you are going?” (Queen)

“gunununu…” (Trash)

The Queen watches over Trash with a sadistic expression.

Trash notices me and starts staring at me as if I was the boyfriend his daughter suddenly brought home.

But if he tries to do anything to me, he will only be punished further.

Why is it? For some reason, I am starting to pity the man. Perhaps I just question the Queen’s punishment methods.

I approach Trash and ask…

“Trash, why must you follow all of the Queen’s orders?” (Naofumi)

“you bastard-!” (Trash)

Trash looks like he is about to lash out, but then he senses the Queen’s stares and calms down.

“Please talk with the Shield.” (Queen)

“gu…” (Trash)

The Queen orders Trash around.

I really wonder why he is obligated to obey.

Is he in love? Nah, love should wither after a hundred years.

(TL: He's saying they've been married a long time.)

"Do you want me to raise your punishment?" (Queen)

"If you will." (Naofumi)

"Gu... I will listen to my wife, but definitely not you!" (Trash)

"Exactly. I want to see you suffer." (Queen)

Is this the Queen's fetish? Could she simply be a Sadist? Does that make Trash a Masochist?

The world of fetishes is quite wide.

I won't pursue this matter any further.

"But seriously, why?" (Naofumi)

"You'll never understand." (Trash)

And Trash runs off by himself.

I can't understand him, but he probably has his own reasons.

The people of the town watch Trash leave with troubled expressions.

This country is done for isn't it. In multiple ways.

“... That person understands that he is at fault. But his emotions do not allow him to forgive you.” (Queen)

“*sigh*...” (Naofumi)

Is this something that only his wife can understand?

But for the king of a country to act like that... I can understand it if no one is watching, but to run off down the central shopping district...

I'm surprised the Queen is able to understand this person. What does she see in him?

“Iwatani, please go ahead to the castle. I still have many things I must prepare.” (Queen)

“Understood... Wait, you're not making another set of 'Clothes only Idiots can see', are you?” (Naofumi)

“I wonder. Well, it's something I had ordered before you set out to Cal Mira.” (Queen)

“Understood” (Naofumi)

In a few hours

I was lead in front of the throne.

It seems that Motoyasu's party has just arrived here.

They took their time. I wonder what happened.

"I've been expecting you." (Queen)

The Queen says whilst looking at Bitch. Trash is... absent.

But if he were here, he would just complicate things more.

"Now then, how did you find Cal Mira?" (Queen)

"Couldn't you have just invited all four heroes to ask?" (Naofumi)

"That is a plan for another day." (Queen)

I think Itsuki and Ren were invited to come in a weeks' time.

"Queen, isn't it cruel to leave the King in such a state?" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu asks the Queen with a slightly worried face.

So he saw the spectacle as well.

That might be the reason they are so late.

"That is the severity of the crimes my husband committed, Kitamura. Even if you are a hero, this is not a matter you should interfere with." (Queen)

"But still-!" (Motoyasu)

"And there was a reason for that festival. We must somehow reclaim the valuable funds that that father-daughter combo frivolously spent." (Queen)

"ku..." (Motoyasu)

"Kitamura, please continue to oversee Bitch's punishment as well." (Queen)

"Moth- Queen! I was only doing what was necessary for the sake of the world." (Bitch)

Bitch realizes that Parental sympathy will not come. She tries to use logic

But...

"The bills came for Expensive Accessories, Precious Metals, Clothes. A luxury rental estate and several visits to numerous expensive night clubs. Is that what you call the sake of the world?" (Queen)

So the Queen was tracking Bitch's spending... Also that women seems to be ridiculously loose with money.

I would have fired her on the spot.

"Also, you also attempted to attack Iwatani during the personnel exchange. For that, the length of your sentence is increased." (Queen)

"You Can't!" (Bitch)

"If you are travelling with Bitch, you must shoulder her debt to some extent." (Queen)

"gu..." (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu looks angry. His fists are clenched.

How has he been handling Bitch's spending before?

"I will transfer some of her debt to Kitamura. Please be prepared to receive reduced rewards from missions for a while." (Queen)

“...Fine. But if I pay off the debt, then let her go! Change her name back as well.” (Motoyasu)

It seems Motoyasu is misunderstanding something.

“This and that are separate matters. Unless she puts an honest effort towards saving the world, she will not regain her freedom.” (Queen)

“Aren’t you being too cold.” (Motoyasu)

“For a princess of a country to frame a hero, and try to assassinate her sister this punishment is still too light. Does Kitamura wish for something more severe?” (Queen)

If this continues, Bitch’s punishment will only increase. Motoyasu senses this and stays quiet.

“Let’s turn the conversation back a bit.” (Queen)

The queen raises her arms, and Shadow appears carrying a plate full of Lucor Fruits.

“Bitch, you said before that Iwatani got drunk and tried to violate you, correct?” (Queen)

“O-of course!” (Bitch)

“That is odd. My report stated that Iwatani was a god of all liquor. That he doesn’t get drunk no matter what.” (Queen)

Motoyasu’s face turns blue at the sight of the Lucor.

Will this act truly prove my innocence? But... Where the hell did you get information on my alcohol constitution?

"Doesn't get drunk? What are you saying. That was just a trick to make a fool out of Motoyasu." (Bitch)

"Then have a bite." (Queen)

Shadow presents the Lucor fruit to Bitch.

"Why must I eat it?!" (Bitch)

"There's no choice... Iwatani, please taste test the Lucor Fruit." (Queen)

"? If you'll let me eat it."(Naofumi)

This fruit is slowly becoming my favorite food.

However, it is quite expensive so I don't think I will be able to eat it often.

I eat the Lucor Fruit presented to me.

Yep, this thing is delicious.

"u..." (Everyone)

Shadow, and everyone else in the room stares at me with their mouths open in amazement.

Is it that deadly?

"Now then, please eat one as well." (Queen)

"T-the one you gave him just now was definitely fake." (Bitch)

"Fine... Iwatani, only eat half of it this time." (Queen)

"Yes Sir." (Naofumi)

The thought of having an indirect kiss with Bitch sickens me. But if I follow the Queen's orders, I will be able to see something nice.

I bite off half of the Lucor and give it back to shadow.

Ah...Raphtalia and Firo are now making very weird faces.

I can't tell Rishia's expression as she is still in the penguin suit, but she seems to be facing a wall and putting her head against it in anguish.

Is this food really that disgusting?

"N-no! There's no way I'm eating it! There's no-" (Bitch)

"Just eat it already!" (Queen)

"S-stop it!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu steps in front of bitch and reaches toward the lucor.

Not happening.

I approach Motoyasu and look him in the eye.

"Oh yes, about that matter with Rishia..." (Naofumi)

"Why are you bringing that up at this time!?" (Motoyasu)

"She was deeply impacted by Motoyasu, who is a nicer person than me. She was always watching from afar. That's right... Broken under the Bow's oppressive regime she found solace in your kindness. She is now infatuated with you, she wants to monopolize you. She is now waiting for you behind every corner, sharpening her knife." (Naofumi)

(TL: If you didn't get it, he is awakening Motoyasu's Yandere Trauma)

"Wha.....t.....!?" (Motoyasu)

"He?" (Rishia)

Rishia lets out a surprised voice.

She is still wearing the suit so Motoyasu doesn't recognize her.

"Where could she be watching you from? She might be staring at you even now..." (Naofumi)

"Now that I think about it, I can feel a stare!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu, you're imagining it.

Rishia is definitely here, but I don't think she is staring at you.

Is Rishia even a Yandere?

As long as she only likes Itsuki, I don't have to be afraid.

"U...wa...a..aaa" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu is looking around frantically and moaning under his breath.

How scared can he be right now?

Motoyasu really REALLY hates Yanderes.

I seem to have found a good weakness. I'll try it next time as well.

This is even more effective than Firo's Groin Kicks.

"M-Motoyasu!?" (Bitch)

Motoyasu has frozen up, and Bitch gives an expression of surprise.

"Now!"(Queen)

Shadow once again advances on Bitch with the lucor.

"Why do I have to- Mugu!?" (Bitch)

It was quite a surreal experience. I saw Woman one trying her hardest to hold back her laughter.

With perfect aim and timing, Shadow had tossed the lucor into Bitch's mouth as she was speaking and forced her to eat it.

"Oh, also we have testimony from the innkeeper that you were seen taking the key to Iwatani's room that day. I bet you used your authority to silence him, but mine is greater than yours." (Queen)

The second after the Queen says this, Bitch's face turns red and she collapses.

"Bitch!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu recovers and catches Bitch before she hits the ground.

"Please take her to the Infirmary. She will be fine." (Queen)

That was a surprisingly satisfying event.

"Naofumi, you are laughing darkly again." (Raphtalia)

"Sorry, there's no way I can't laugh here." (Naofumi)

"a ha ha~" (Firo)

"... Firo, why are you laughing?" (Naofumi)

"Going with the flow." (Firo)

"You know, um..." (Rishia)

Rishia waddles over. She seems troubled.

She should relax more...

"There's a mountain of other evidence. For example, let's examine Kitamura's old chain mail." (Queen)

"W-what are you doing?!" (Motoyasu)

"I won't do anything. But can you please confirm the inscription on that chain mail?" (Queen)

"There's nothing like that!" (Motoyasu)

“Every blacksmith puts an inscription, a sort of magical signature on their creations. In this city, it is considered to be a sort of obligation to inscribe them.” (Queen)

“Really?…” (Motoyasu)

“They are usually made so that the Merchants guild can identify when where and by whom they were made quite easily.” (Queen)

I didn’t realize it. So the items I got from the old man also have inscriptions?

“By Iwatani’s testimony, the Chain Mail he bought was stolen. So I will just need to verify the inscription on it.” (Queen)

“T-this was a gift that Bitch saved up for and gave to me.” (Motoyasu)

“Yes, I understand and believe you. But to clear all doubt, let’s get it checked up just in case.” (Queen)

Old Man… So you are even helping me here.

He was the first person to believe me over Trash and Bitch.

“If that armor is proven to have been honestly bought by Bitch, then there is no problem but otherwise…” (Queen)

There’s no doubt about it. I already know the results

“… Understood, let’s check.” (Motoyasu)

“This parchment contains the inscription on the Chain Mail Iwatani purchased earlier. Please compare it to the one on your armor.” (Queen)

The Queen hands the parchment to Motoyasu.

Motoyasu takes out the chainmail and searches for the inscription

… When he finds it, his face turns pale.

“Next up, Naofumi, is this yours?” (Queen)

And she hands me a single set of clothing.

It is clothing I wore upon coming to this world. It gives off a nostalgic feeling.

“It’s something I found in a store in ShieldFreiden. It is Iwatani’s isn’t it?” (Queen)

“… Yes, it’s a bit dirty, but there is no doubt.” (Naofumi)

It might be a difference in culture, but this world’s fashion is completely different from mine.

There’s no mistake. It’s the cheap set I wore as casual clothes.

The pants are even there.

The entire set is around 3000 Yen, but it feels so nostalgic that I want to cry.

($28.10 USD last I checked)

Now that I think about it, was the selling of these clothes the cause of Trash's current stats?

Is that why he is currently half naked?

I had completely forgotten about them until now. This irritates me for some reason.

I should be angrier right now.

Not only does he summon me against my will, he frames me and leaves me penniless. I even lose all the Items I have on hand.

"Is this clothing from Naofumi's world?" (Raphtalia)

"Yes. I never thought I would get it back." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia stares at the clothes with interest.

I got Raphtalia after I already lost these. It's not unusual that she is curious.

I have a lot of better equipment now, so these clothes are not helpful, but they are still important to me.

Bitch had probably taken them and sold them. They were unique so they might have fetched a high price.

"That's good. We traced the route this item travelled, and found a merchant who admitted to purchasing it from Bitch." (Queen)

"This is a lie! You're just making things up! I won't believe it!" (Motoyasu)

Well, I expected this.

Motoyasu desperately shouts out these words and then runs off.

What a difficult person.

Where does he even plan on going?

"I told you didn't I, Kitamura. Please remove this person and take her to the infirmary." (Queen)

After the Queen confirms that all members of the Motoyasu party have left, she shuts the door.

Quite a few vicious things were said without any thought given to Motoyasu, Woman 1 or Woman 2.

Woman 1 understands, but Woman 2 is on Bitch's side.

That party is quite scary. I don't really want to meet them again.

"Well then, let's leave this matter here and go on to your job." (Queen)

Did she call Motoyasu's party over just to issue a punishment?

I find that fact more funny than the situation itself.

"You're smiling again." (Raphtalia)

"Ha Ha" (Firo)

"Please don't laugh." (Naofumi)

It seems that it will take a long time for my acquired cynicism to go away.

Rishia is also letting out a troubled voice.

By the way, she was saying

“Will the princess be alright?” (Rishia)

“Rishia, don’t misunderstand. That is not a princess. That is just the In-debt Adventurer, Bitch.” (Naofumi)

“Feeeee…” (Rishia)

Rishia pops out of the Penguin costume. She is shaking.

It seems her evaluation of me has dropped.

It wasn’t even that high to begin with.

“About her debt, the amount she currently owes is 5000 Gold Coin. I hope she can work it off during the next wave.” (Queen)

5000 Gold! That’s a lot. Last wave, Motoyasu earned 4000 Silver for his efforts. Paying it off will take a while.

Well, what to do next. Should I go to the weapon shop and see what they have?

I believe the Old Man said he would take custom orders.

“You’ll need better Swords, Claws and armor for the next wave. Perhaps the royal Blacksmiths can do something. Please follow me for a second.”
(Queen)

“Ah…” (Naofumi)

The Queen leads us to the warehouse building next to the castle.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 112 - Storage

---

At the warehouse that stinks of a dusty castle. It seems the equipments for the knights order is kept here.

A place where excellent equipment is located in a RPG.

I will confirm it one by one.

Wow.....Most of these are expensive all-purpose equipments but they have strict requirements.

Queen:"The demands of Iwatani-sama were not finished yet.....I apologize."

The swords that are lined up here are already better than the magic silver sword that Raphtalia was using..... The problem is that the offensive power of the Karma Rabbit Sword is still higher.

It seems quite hard to use..... Let's go ask the old man at the weapon shop. I mean, the direction this is heading in isn't bad

Naofumi:"Don't worry about it. Let's makes some compromises."

Queen:"Thank you very much. You can use the materials collected here instead."

Next, we are shown the warehouse keeping various materials.

The queen passes me a document that has letters written on parchment.

Queen:"This is a list. You can make a custom order to a blacksmith master for your orders."

Naofumi:"Mhm.....I appreciate your cooperation."

Material System.....

Naofumi:"May I take a little?"

Queen:"Go ahead."

I absorb a little bit of each material stored within the castle to unseal new shields.

There are a ton of things that are too far down the skill tree, but a lot of excellent ones increased.

It would be impossible to unseal all of them before the next wave.....

Naofumi:"Afterwards, for the blacksmith, I have a guy that I want to request from."

Queen:".....Is that so. If that's how Iwatani-sama wants it."

The image of the old man in the weapon shop that took the trouble to make my protective gear and our weapons springs up.

He has helped me out in various ways.

It feels like I would be returned good with evil if I order equipment or weapons from places besides the old man's weapon shop.

Above all, that guy's skill can be trusted.

There are a few more problems to deal with before the wave.

I just noticed something this place.

Naofumi:"Where did the other heroes go?"

Queen:"I had them go quell a wave in the neighboring countries."

Naofumi:".....Come again?"

That reminds me.....There certainly was such a feeling.

That waves are happening not just in Melromarc, but all over the world.

Naofumi:"How do they participate."

Queen:"TIt is possible to fight the waves of a region by letting your weapon resonate with the Hourglass of the Dragon's Era in their country."

Naofumi:"Wait.....That means it's possible to not participate when the wave is happening in Melromarc?"

Queen:"Yes. That's what it means."

Hey!

Won't it be bad for you if I found that out? to think she would explain it and point it out naturally.

If I knew about this before.....I would have already quickly escaped from this country.

But I wonder.....The situation right now isn't bad, and I will have to fight a wave eventually.

I wonder if the Hourglass of the Dragon is a device that works like a save point in net games.

I wanted to know this before!

Queen:"Iwatani-sama? Do you know there are appearances of heroes other than the four holy heroes?"

Naofumi:"Come again?"

That's the first time I've ever heard of such a story.

Queen:"Then shall I explain?"

The queen's eyes sparkle.

There was a time when I heard about the queen liking legends, from Melty when we were talking about the legend of the Queen of Philorials.

Queen:"There is a legend about the Seven Star Heroes almost as famous as the legend of the Four Holy Heroes."

Naofumi:"Seven Star Heroes?"

Queen:"Yes, it is a legend of heroes that are chosen by seven weapons, just like the Four Holy Heroes."

As many as seven huh.....

If all of the other weapons are on a different system, it feels more like a game.

In an RPG it would be certain that one of these guys will become a companion in the future.

However.....In this world, when I hear about guys that use legendary weapons.

I think about some people who only make matters worse.

Queen:"Due to the problem in our country created from Trash and the Three Heroes Church, we had to close our eyes and abandon the power of the Seven Star Heroes."

Naofumi:"Hmm....."

Queen:"The thing is, it is said that the Seven Star Heroes and the Four Holy Heroes are deeply related to each other, they are called Supplementary Heroes--"

The queen continues to talk about legends for a long time.

Raphtalia only knew about the Four Holy Heroes and listens intently. Firo is dozing off to the queen's story.

For some reason Rishia seems to already know about it and keep calm.

Naofumi:"Then, just like me, are there as many as seven other Heroes that were summoned?"

Queen:"No."

Naofumi:"Is it something else?"

Queen:"It is common throughout adventurers to yearn to become a Seven Star Hero. In short, there are those that become heroes by answering the summons, and there are those from this world that can become heroes."

(TInote: For those that read the christmas side story.....So many things just clicked.)

Someone from this world that can by-pass the summoning limitation and become a hero.....

Is it something from the common sense of this world?

Since I am called a hero, some strange person would probably not be chosen.

Queen:"Tentatively, if the hero summoning using a legendary weapon fails, the weapon will be available to look for chosen ones among the commoners."

Naofumi:".....Isn't there a feeling of a legendary sword sticking in the ground?"

Queen:" The sword is a weapon of one of the heroes among the Four Holy Heroes, I'm certain that it would not be stuck in the ground."

Indeed. There will be plenty of those that will want to challenge it.
If they are chosen, they get stronger and national aid will be received.
There is no reason not to yearn for it.

Queen:"There are many more heroic epics about the Four Holy Heroes around the world. There is a possibility of a Seven Star Hero appearing whenever a war occurs."

Naofumi:"Hoh-....."

Queen:"After the recent wave happened, a majority of the Seven Star Heroes appeared."

Naofumi:"Was it that much of a crisis?"

Queen:"Yes. Well.....Iwatani-sama has already encountered one of the Seven Star Heroes already."

Naofumi:"What? Who?"

Queen:"That is.....It's better for you not to know."

Naofumi:"Speak. I am bothered by who."

Queen:"There is no advantages to finding out. That one is already....."

Shadow:"Queen."

A cautioning tone could be heard from Shadow.

Queen:"That is a state secret. If it leaks out I don't know if it could lead to a war or not. Please excuse me."

Naofumi:".....I still want to know."

Queen:"If that person was as splendid as before, I would have gladly talked about it. Someday.....Please wait until that time comes to talk."

Naofumi:"Is just the name fine?"

Queen:"The name of that formerly excellent person is Rouge. Twenty years ago, he is the Seven Star Hero of the Cane that saved a lot of countries, including this one by faced off against Silt Welt, which at the time was scheming world domination.

Naofumi:"You're praising that guy very highly. Are you acquainted with this guy?....."

(TInote: Hoooh boy..... Must hurt to be the queen."

If it was twenty years ago, he must be considerable old.

When thinking about my acquaintances, the grandmother, slave trader, and accessory merchant.

The latter two are out of the question, the grandmother would be someone to consider.

That rampage after her dramatic revival with the medicine.

But, I feel it's someone different.

.....Who? I seriously don't know!

Queen:"It's a story you will hear someday."

In other words, the queen won't tell me.

Queen:"That person was remarkable back in the day too....."

..... She said the same thing about trash with this expression.....

Naofumi:"Rishia, do you know?"

Rishia:"Ah, yes. King-sama is the Seven Star Hero of the Cane-sama."

Naofumi:"Huh?"

Rishia:"Right now, it's a fact that thanks to the king the country of Melcromarc exists now. I heard stories from papa that he was a great person, known as the Virtuous King of Wisdom."

No No No way, that lump of foolishness called trash has the power of a Seven Star Hero?

Impossible! I couldn't even see a cane on him.

What Virtuous King of Wisdom. They might be mistaking it with Foolish King of Ignorance.

Naofumi:"Don't say such a funny joke Rishia."

Rishia:"It's not a joke though.....I think his figure a while ago is surely a plan or something. my mama said that as long as King-sama is hero, Melromarc would be peaceful."

Naofumi:".....Therefore your papa and mama become fallen nobles."

Rishia:"Fueeee....."

(Tlnote: Holy shit. Low blow dude.)

According to what I heard, it might be some famous scheme mentioned in my world.

Laying a trap by acting foolish or something. I have a feeling not to carelessly read too deeply into this.....

No way.

This has got to be that. That is the real thing.

The real one could be dead, and Trash is just inheriting the place.

Queen:"By the way, it looks like the one wearing the suit recently joined."

Naofumi:"Yeah, she came from Itsuki's place."

Queen:"I know the circumstances. Was it house Ivy Red?"

Was there such a name?

Incidentally, she is from a fallen noble family.

Queen:" I remember those local nobles. By all means, I hope that you fulfil the mission of saving the world with Iwatana-sama."

Rishia:"O-Okay."

With that, the conversation and getting was done.

Looking at the suit Rishia is wearing, it's impossible to tell whether or not she is embarrassed.

I mean, to be able to notice that is a human.

Naofumi:"That reminds me, Rishia what do you want to do in the future?"

Rishia:"What to do?"

Naofumi:"Yeah, did you not hear it from Itsuki? The reason why Raphtalia and Firo are so strong is due an ability within my shield. I am asking whether or not you want to apply it to yourself as well."

I explain the power of growth correction.

Rishia:"There is such a power? Just by raising levels..... To be strong."

Naofumi: "Normally you would have been strong, but you are a jack of all trades and master of none, I thought it would be best to apply some protection."

Rishia approaches me and leans forward.

Naofumi: "Rishia, do you want to become strong?"

Rishia: "Yes!"

(Tlnote: Is it just me, or is this really creepy?)

A good answer with strong enthusiasm.

To answer those feelings, I clearly say.

Naofumi: "Then, become my slave."

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 113 – How to become Stronger

---

Rishia:"Fueeeeeee~~~~~!"

A loud pathetic voice echoes throughout the warehouse.

And Rishia begins to run from me like an escaping rabbit.

She is demonstrating her judgement in a strange place.

Naofumi:"Catch her! Bring her back alive!"

Raphtalia:"What is with those strange lines!?"

Naofumi:"It's nothing, I just wanted to say that phrase."

Firo:"Okay~!"

Naofumi:"Do-Don't! Firo, I'm kidding! Catch her normally! Don't use any power on your feet!"

Raphtalia:"The beak is no good either! Rishia-san will die!"

Oh shit, my joke may have turned into a tragic disaster. Let's be careful.

Firo catches Rishia and carries her back on her shoulders.

Rishia is bahaving violently.

Rishia:"Please release me! I want to go back to my hometown! I want to return to papa and mama! Itsuki-samaaaaaaaaa~!"

Naofumi:"It was only a joke....."

Rishia:"About making me a slave?"

Naofumi:"That was the truth."

Rishia:"Wh-Why would you do that!?"

Naofumi:"My shield grants demons or slaves growth correction."

This is the biggest problem.

(TInote: ネック Nekku. Wut?)

The correction ability, multiplies with the demon and slave correction.

If I use this, Rishia should be remarkably stronger.

It would be good if there was something for companions.

Naofumi: "Do you want to try it out and see?"

Rishia: "Huh?"

Naofumi: "Rishia, cut your hair a little."

Rishia: "Sure....."

Rishia cuts her hair with a knife and hands it to me.

I let the shield absorb it.

Rishia: "Fue!?"

.....Nothing happens.

As I thought, the Companion Shield didn't unseal even though I got the hair from a companion.

Maybe it's due to my relationship with Rishia not being very deep.

Naofumi: "Anyway, there is not choice other than becoming a demon or a slave."

Rishia: "Demon? I heard there is a secret dark medicine called Ghoulish Powder. Shall I prepare it?"

Naofumi: "You.....won't you die?"

A companion with an immortal attribute huh?.....Perhaps it might be strong due to removal of the human limiter.

As expected, my conscience would hurt if I made Rishia a zombie, I would like to avoid that.

I mean, does Rishia want to become strong to the point where she stops being human?

Naofumi:"Well, you are free to choose Rishia, though you won't really receive any protection."

Rishia:"But....."

Naofumi:"Think carefully, what is necessary in order to become strong? You must greedily explore every single possibility. I am only showing you how."

Rishia:"....."

(TInote: Come to the dark side.)

Rishia was lost in thought and was at a loss.

It's something you have to deal with yourself. There is no other way.

All I can do is supplement here and there.

Naofumi:"Well, since you are already level 68, and considering the speed of level ups, you wouldn't receive that many benefits anyway, so it might not even be needed. But I still think that the growth potential is better than nothing."

It would be meaningful to do if we started at low levels.

Doesn't this feel like a game?

From the start the high level guys were betrayed and killed. Or their growth was just bad.

Queen:"Logically speaking, would putting someone under Iwatani-sama's care since level 1 be the case for the best growth?"

The queen asks me.

Naofumi:"That's right. However, there is no method to return to Level 1."

Queen:"There is."

Naofumi:".....There is?"

Such a convenient thing exists?

If we could use it, it would be perfect for Rishia.

The problem with being level one is the amount of time and effort required to grow.....Wouldn't it be a problem to have her shoulder such a risk?

Queen:"Yes, originally it was used as punishment to reset the levels of adventurers who commit crimes. The effect of Class Up disappears simultaneously."

Ah, there is such a penalty.

Thinking about it carefully, it would be a menace to have high level adventurer becoming a criminal and threatening nobles.

The punishment for those people would be to make all of their effort in vain. That's certainly scary.

Naofumi:"Where is it done?"

Queen:"It can be performed at the Hourglass of the Dragon's Era."

(TInote: What the hell is that thing, is it the box from Redshirts?)

Naofumi:"Is that so..... Rishia, what do you want?"

Rishia:"What do you mean?"

Naofumi:"I have a method that will help you become strong, I will only compel you to fight for me. You are free to choose your Class Up. Consider starting over again from level 1."

Rishia:".....Okay."

Naofumi:"Let's see. The deadline on whether or not you want to return back to level one will be after the coming wave. There is no time now."

Due to there being no time, I am concerned for Rishia's life if she would return back to level 1 then. It would be best to at least finish the wave.

Naofumi:"However, You only need to become a slave.....Don't run away! There are no restraints other than---Listen to me!"

Whenever I talk about slavery, Rishia tries to escape. What a troublesome fellow.

Naofumi:"I will not force you to do anything cruel, I just ask you to fight!"

Rishia:"Fueeee~~~~~!"

Naofumi:"Fine, Rishia I'm just showing you a method to become stronger. What are you going to do?"

At my words Rishia's eyes swim around.

Her answer is equivalent to whether or not she will become a slave.

.....Is it Raphtalia?

Naofumi:"By the way, Queen, would it be possible to apply the same slave crest that you did to Bitch?"

Queen:"Yes, if that is what Iwatani-sama desires."

Naofumi:"Then that means. Although I will hold the reins, I swear that I won't bind you to do anything."

Raphtalia:".....Unless you are being extremely selfish, he will not do anything. I can prove it."

Rishia:"Raphtalia-san....."

Firo:"Master. Is Firo being binded?"

Well, the words of Raphtalia and Firo that I have brainwashed will probably not reach Rishia.

Naofumi:"I won't force you. If you hate it then we'll leave it at that. Think about it until then."

The conversation ended here, and I turned to face the queen.

We'll let Rishia's matter slide for now, moving on to Trash abandoning the power of being a Seven Star Hero and staying in this country.

I wonder what the reason of doing something like that and not complaining. That reminds me, the queen did say this to Trash before.

[Fight as a commander at the front line of this country against the wave, or lose your position and become an adventurer.]

From a different viewpoint, that's telling to fight with the Power of the Hero of the Cane.

The bottleneck of this country, it's general.

In the first place. That manner of speech was as if the whole world recognizes him as a hero, wouldn't it be impossible to bind a hero?

For instance, if Melromarc lost the right to Trash who is a Seven Star Hero, Melromarc would then have to beg Trash to remain.

In short, that would mean recruiters coming from every country while Trash continues to stay here.

Was that parade meant to get them to leave?

However, seeing Trash's attitude, it doesn't seem like he will leave.

But why? Unlike me, he is probably not ignorant about this world's common sense.

To be made an ice pickle, and a naked king, some thought must have went into it.

Does he like the queen that much?

He did say "A bastard like you wouldn't understand your whole life."

Let's change my thinking for a second.

There is a possibility that Trash is troubled by the appearance of scouts.

In short, he already doesn't want to be a hero anymore.

When I look, I don't see a cane in his hands.

It could simply be that he doesn't have the will to fight anymore due to old age.

Oh well. Let's fix and prepare our equipment for the wave now.

Naofumi: "I'm going to go and order weapons."

Queen:"Understood. I will entrust it to the weapon shop that Iwatani-sama relies on."

Rishia:"Ummm--"

Naofumi:"Hm? What's wrong?"

Rishia has her hand in front of her chest..... I can't see her expression, but her voice is full of determination.

Rishia:"I have decided.....Please enslave me!"

Naofumi:".....Are you fine with it?"

She came to a conclusion quickly.

I thought that it would take longer, since it was Rishia.

Rishia:"Yes! I want to become strong!"

Rishia:"U.....Ku....."

The ceremony finished without any problems.

A High-class slave crest was engraved on Rishia's chest.

Just like Bitch, after a while it turned invisible and won't be seen again unless invoked.

A prohibition list appears in my view.

However, I take off all the checked items..... and, it was rejected.

Apparently, if I remove all the restrictions to activate the slave mark, it doesn't work.

I'll just check off a trifling item and be done with it.

.....I'll check down her ability to lie to me.

I also thought about the possibility of her doing something like Bitch.

Or in the case of her being a spy sent by Itsuki.

Though those possibilities were mostly gone when she selected to become a slave.

Rishia:"Haah.....Haah....."

Naofumi:"Are you okay?"

Rishia:"Yes. I'm fine."

Naofumi:"I see, then that's good."

While thinking that it's wrong, I confirm Rishia's Status.

Naofumi:"Tsu---"

Rishia:"What's wrong?"

Naofumi:"N-Nothing, it's fine. Don't worry about it.

I was involuntarily at a loss for words.

What is this.....This is fatally low compared to Raphtalia, Firo, and I.

Although she is level 68, her stats are 1/5th that of Raphtalia's.

I understand the reason Itsuki dismissed her as weak.

However, I will not abandon her. This is a chance for me to see just what I can do.

Are commoners the same?

Surely.....These stats are the same as Raphtalia's early period.....

A peculiar trait is that all her stats are around the same.

There isn't any weak or strong points.

However, due to it being originally low, the feeling now is that everything is lacking.

Are you really level 68?

If she didn't earnestly accept the strengthening method, it would have truly been dangerous.....

Naofumi:"Th-Then let's go to the weapon store."

Rishia:"Okay!"

Raphtalia:"Sure."

Firo:"Go~"

After a long absence, we headed to see the old man at the weapon shop.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 114 – Meteor Shield

---

Naofumi: "Yo. Old man, Long time to no see."

Our carriage was stopped behind the weapon shop, and we entered.

Old Man: "Oh. If it isn't the lad. I was surprised that you got a bounty a few days after departing."

Naofumi: "Guess so, I was in a serious trouble back then."

Old Man: "Apparently it looks like you were able to prove your innocence."

Naofumi: "Yeah, thanks to your help." Read more...

I felt glad finding out that the old man tried to prove my innocence to the false charges today.

It's not just that, he helped me out in various other ways as well.

Naofumi: "Thank you."

Old Man: "Stop it, it's making me itchy."

The old man scratches his head in embarrassment.

Old Man: "Though.....I don't think today's parade was a good idea."

Naofumi: "Well he's probably like that normally."

Old Man: "Back in day he was excellent though."

Naofumi: "Do you know about it, old man?"

Old Man: "Hero of the Cane? Was it back when I was ten that the king was still active? I was in another country."

Naofumi:"I see....."

Leaving aside Trash's story, I want to move on to the main topic.

Since it's the old man, I should be able to get favorable conditions for weapons without a problem.

Naofumi:"Since I obtained the queen's support, I want to ask you to make weapons and armour for me."

Old Man:"Oh? A special order? Aren't there other master blacksmiths within the country you can employ?"

Naofumi:"I came here with expectations of your weapons."

Old Man:"Lad....."

The old man seems to be deeply moved, and is holding his feelings back.

Since I bought most of my equipment till now from his the old man. There is also a sense of security too.

Old Man:"Then I'll work hard to answer the lad's expectations. What do you want made?"

Naofumi:"Here is the material list."

I show the old man the material list I got from the queen.

I don't know whether or not this amount of materials is too much or too little.

Naofumi:"Old man, I want you to make weapons and armour that you think are suitable for us from these materials."

Old Man:"Understood. However, there seems to be some fairly rare materials here. I'm itching to test out my skills. What about the money?"

Naofumi:"The country can foot the bill."

Old Man:"The lad has gotten a fairly good position."

Well it is certainly comfortable.

There are materials, tutors, social positions, and money for equipment.

If it's like this, there is no reason to not stay here.

I will fight against the wave after all. If there is an advantageous environment, I don't want to waste time.

.....I'm a little anxious about it, so I should take some precautions.

Naofumi:"Then....."

I glance at Raphtalia and Firo.

Both of them put their equipment, the Karma Dog Claw, and Karma Rabbit Sword on the counter.

I also point at the penguin suit, and put the ores obtained from Cal Mira Island on the counter.

Old Man:"You brought a lot lad. Is the missy wearing these like pajamas a companion?"

Rishia:"Fue?"

Naofumi:"Yeah, that's Rishia. Though she has that appearance, the contents are human."

Rishia:"Naofumi-sama, that explanation is indeed a little....."

Naofumi:"Can't be helped. You don't want to take off that costume."

Does Rishia like it very much? She seems to be wearing it all the time. Her face is always hidden, could it be possible a new fetish came out?

Old Man:"L-Let's leave it at that. You brought a strange weapon.....This is certainly the perfect weapon for the missy."

The old man answers while appraising the Karma Rabbit Sword. It is difficult to use in various ways, but the offensive power is very high. I want to ask the old man's opinion before we customize or replace it. There is also the option of melting and reforging too.

Naofumi:"The problem is that this thing doesn't have the Blood Clean Coating. Can you do something about it?"

Old Man:"To process it at this stage..... It's accuracy would decline. Is that fine?"

Naofumi:"I'll be relying on you."

Old Man:"Fumu.....That's fine, but it might be interesting to try some improvements."

Are you going to add some parts like the barbarian's armour? It might be good to ask about it.

Old man:"You keep brining me interesting requests lad."

Naofumi:"I guess. Oh right, old man. Can this child Rishia choose a weapon?"

Old Man:"Hm? Go ahead.....Take off the suit and show your hand."

Naofumi:"Rishia."

Rishia:"I-I like swords."

Naofumi:"I want to leave the rearguard to you though....."

After looking at her status I don't really want her to take the front.

If she suffers even a scratch, she may just die.

Both her defence and agility are low. Worst case scenario, she gets caught up in Firo's kick and dies.

If it's the power of magical attacks, even Rishia may be able to manage to some extent in the rear guard while I protect her.

I'll ask whether or not she can use ranged magic later, if she can use it, then she can support Raphtalia and Firo from the back with magic.

Rishia:"I can do either!"

Old Man:"I appreciate the enthusiasm, but for the time being let me take a look."

Rishia:"Okay....."

Rishia timidly takes off the suit and extends her hand to the old man.

Old Man:"Another beautiful woman. The lad must be happy."

Naofumi:"Happy? You think that I'm anything like Motoyasu?"

Old Man:"A blockhead as usual huh, the young lady's troubles increased again."

Raphtalia:"Yes.....Seriously."

The old man says that and Raphtalia nods in understanding.

Old Man:"Fumu.....It looks like you have good compatibility with a rapier. If you want to become a rearguard, then one with a defensive blessing will be good."

Rishia:"I see, can you choose one for me?"

Naofumi:"Wait, is there a bow or a spear she can use as well? She doesn't have any power so I can't really recommend it."

Rishia:"Fue.....A bow is no good!"

Naofumi:"Is it unpleasant due to Itsuki?"

Rishia:"That's not it, I'm just scared that I will hit somebody."

Naofumi:"Ah, so that's it."

Do I have to worry about friendly fire by accident now?

It seems her respect for Itsuki is still there.....Is he still a hero to her?

Naofumi:"Anyway, how long would it be?"

Old Man:"The wave is soon, so a little over a week. I'll do the best that I can within that timeframe."

Naofumi:"Understood. And....."

The Old man asks about the penguin suit.

Old Man:"How is this done? Can it be disassembled? I mean.....Who was it that made this."

Naofumi:"Ah, that. It's performance is excellent, but the appearance is bad. A demon dropped it.....it's bad, to put it simply the legendary weapon produced it from the demon's materials."

That's about it. These kinds of things are dropped by demons.

It makes me realize again that this is a different world. I didn't realise .
It's not funny that I didn't realise before. Those guys that knew before are strange.

In the first place, how does a porcupine like animal drop a weapon that has nothing to do with its physique.

Old Man:"Don't make such unusual things.....Though it's clear that its effects are excellent....."

Naofumi:"Can you transfer the effect on to something else?"

Old Man:"It would be difficult. I'll give it a try from various angles, but don't expect too much. At that time, I'll ask you again since some fine tuning would be needed."

Naofumi:"I'll be relying on you. Should I leave the barbarian's armour here?"

Old Man:"That's fine.....Just, I'll be using it as an experimental basis for the missy's armour."

For Raphtalia huh. I hope it goes well.

Raphtalia:"Wh-What is it?"

Naofumi:"Don't worry about it."

A rather unpleasant feeling aches, I don't know if it's a bad premonition.
This feels like a reconstruction that will go bad.

Rishia:"For some reason it feels exciting."

.....The expectations of a fan of stuffed animals.

It seems like this will go down a bad direction.

For someone like Rishia to excitedly anticipate something, it's quite a flag.

At worst, would I have Rishia wear it?

Firo:"Master~ can we go yet?"

Naofumi:"Yeah, ten more minutes.'

Throughout the whole thing, Firo has been quietly carrying the materials. That reminds me.....There are some other materials that I unexpectedly got on the island.

Materials not available when I give priority to drops.

Drops not obtained when I give priority to materials.

It was difficult.

Naofumi:"Oh right, I completely forgot about it. Hey old man, can you show me your shields?"

Old Man:"I don't really think you need a shield right.....? Ah, is it for the young ladies?"

Naofumi:"It's something else. It's fine to tell you about it."

I tell the old man about weapon copy.

As expected, he is frowning.

Old Man:"To blatantly say towards me the shopkeeper, that you are performing a theft."

Naofumi:"Should I do it silently instead? I think it should be a service provided by the country."

Old Man:"Well.....The other heroes are doing it silently..... Can't be helped. It doesn't matter is its the lad's request. I'll show you my favorite."

With that, I copied every shield that the old man had in his shop.

I copied various shields, such as the Magic Silver Shield, Heavy Shield, Iron Shell Shield, Magic Shield, and so on.....

Is the Iron Shield and Iron Shell Shield different?..... Magic Shield seems to be a shield that can convert magical power in to a shield.

I mean, I have heard it before, but is the shield an item that is considered a weapon after all?

It's naturally being sold at a weapon store.

I'm not complaining since I am copying the shields one by one.

Well I have consent from the owner.

Old Man:"That should be it, ah wait a moment lad."

After saying so the old man goes to the back of the store.

I heard the sound of him going upstairs, and there is a lot of clanking going on.

The old man returned after a while.

Old Man:"Thanks for waiting. This is a shield that is rare in this country."

It's quite boorish..... However the shield that the old man brought also has a strange luster to it.

Is the metal used iron? However, there is a strange atmosphere.

I appraise and judge it.

Iron Meteorite Shield Quality: Normal

Naofumi: "Iron meteorite?"

Old Man: "Yeah, this shield is made of an unusual ore that fell from the sky. It's a display product of Zeltbull. A prototype of the iron meteorite series."

Naofumi: "I see.....Hm? Display product? Why do you have it?"

Old Man: "It's from back in the day."

Naofumi: "Uh huh."

I wonder why this article is not for sale.

Ah, Motoyasu was saying that Zeltbull had a good assortment of weapons. Did he touch and copy one?

Old Man: "Here, try it."

Naofumi: "Ah, Right."

I take the iron meteorite shield handed to me by the old man.

And I activate Weapon Copy!

Iron Meteorite Shield 0/20 C

Ability Unsealed.....Equipment Bonus: Skill [Meteor Shield]

Proficiency 0

It finally appeared!

The shield version of the meteor series those other heroes used!

By the way, there are various colours, but that's normal in the status system.

Am I now part of the foolish four?

Well, that depends on its efficiency.

I change my shield to the Iron Meteorite Shield.

Old Man:"Ooh"

The old man speaks in surprise.

Naofumi:"A strange skill appeared, let me try it out."

Old Man:"Wha----Hey!"

Naofumi:"Meteor Shield!"

And, I shout. A thin wall of light appears around me. it's effect is 2 meters centering around me.

Sp consumption is.....Around 5% of it all. The cool down time is short, 15 seconds huh.

Based on what I saw, I have a feeling that this is a skill that creates a defense wall.

Raphtalia:"What kind of skill is it?"

Naofumi:"I think it's a skill that will create a defensive wall....."

Raphtalia:"Hah."

Raphtalia touches the wall surrounding me.....for some reason she slipped right through.

Raphtalia: "Is it something different?"

Firo: "Hmm~....."

Raphtalia and Firo slip through the same way.

Since the Meteor skills of those other guys had such high-efficiency, I didn't think it would be a garbage skill.

Old Man: "Seriously, don't do something strange within the shop---Fube"

The old man tries to pass through the wall but gets knocked back.

Naofumi: "Ah, can only party members pass through?"

Depending on its durability, it is a skill that can work as ranged protection. If I think of its uses, it's quite excellent.

And.....The effective time is about 5 minutes. While factoring in the cool down time, this is quite an excellent skill.

Old Man: "Good grief, think about it for a little before you do anything lad."

Naofumi: "Sorry, I wanted you to see it since it is your best."

Old Man: "If you say any more, it will become a complaint."

Naofumi: "I'll leave it at that for now."

Afterwards, I told him about Motoyasu's tempering technique with ore.

There is some in the material list, there is a delicate line to align until it's satisfactory

There is fewer compared to other ores.

It's possible that Trash wanted to gather it for Motoyasu, but the queen was a step ahead.

Since a lot of it is necessary, I need to think of a different way to obtain it.

Naofumi: "See you later old man. If you need anything for the weapon shop, just ask the castle with these documents."

Old Man: "I understand lad. Please wait expectantly."

Naofumi: "Yeah, I'll be relying on you."

Thus we left the weapon shop.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 115 – Weapon Shop Owner's Curiosity

---

The next few days passed without issue.

We went out every day to prepare for the wave. Sometimes we would go to the mine and search for rare materials, and other times we would fight monsters to raise our levels.

In the mine, I would feed all the gems we acquired into the shield and we would also eliminate any nearby monsters.

For Firo's legs, it doesn't even take a day to return to the castle.

At the castle, I would mix medicines or learn magic. Raphtalia and Rishia are also studying magic under the court magician.

For some reason, after the class-up Raphtalia has begun to be able to use magic other than Illusion. She has started absorbing new types of magic into her fighting style like a sponge.

But even for her, there is not much she can learn in 2-3 days.

The court mage says that in 2 weeks, she will be able to utilize Dreifach Class magic. I am waiting expectantly.

(TL: Apparently a magic level, if anyone has a better translation of ドライフ ア be my guest)

This will be useful in the future.

I was unable to save the people of the plagued village on my own, so I am studying medicine. For some reason the Medicine Shop owner went to the trouble of personally teaching me.

This world's medicine is very effective, however only a select few actually studied and sold it.

They seemed to make up a sort of Apothecary Guild.

However the Church and Apothecaries were constantly fighting over treatment methods, and there are very few skilled people among either of their members.

The Church is putting its resources towards researching Healing Magic. This magic can heal extremely severe injuries, however it is not effective on disease.

The Apothecaries are putting their efforts towards mixing medicine. They are making progress towards eliminating diseases, however are unable to heal severe physical wounds.

Both sides have few advanced equipment and skilled individuals, the Medicine shop owner complains.

I wonder what field I should direct Rishia towards for support.

In order to make her stronger, I have a lot to learn.

By the way, Firo is spending her time playing with Melty.

The Wave will come in 4 days.

I go to the Weapon Shop to check on the old man's progress.

"Oh, it's you kids." (Old Man)

"Are there any new developments?" (Naofumi)

"Let's see... The Bird Girl stopped by with her friend to play." (Old Man)

Friend?... He's probably talking about Melty

She's the princess set to take over the country, you know. Wait, for now she is the only princess.

He should already know as he saw my wanted poster.

And Melty is being too carefree, playing outside after all that stuff happened.

"You brought some mysterious ingredients, boy. I used the Black rabbit materials you gave me to try to reinforce the sword, and it immediately turned white." (Old Man)

"Ho-..." (Naofumi)

"I applied a Blood Deterring Charm to the sword. It's not as effective as the coating, but it should work for your purposes." (Old Man)

Blood Deterring Charm?

Is it a level below Coating?

"Ah, it somehow gives off a better feeling than before." (Naofumi)

"I sharpened the edge, and put some light enchantments on it. The process went well." (Old Man)

"This is incredible." (Naofumi)

"I tried to do the same on the Bird Girl's claws and it went well. For this one, I used the Black Dog Materials."

"Wow..." (Naofumi)

For some reason, Firo's claws have turned white as well.

It looks like a curse was lifted from them.

I inspect these two items.

-

Usauni Sword, Quality High (TL: Rabbit is Usa)

Item Effects: Agility Up, Magic Up, Pierce Power Up, Blood Deterrent

-

Inulut Claw, Quality High (TL: Dog is Inu)

Item Effects: Agility Up, Magic Up, Pierce Power Up, Blood Deterrent

-

"You do good work." (Naofumi)

"Thanks" (Old Man)

These weapons have increased in quality considerably. They will be a major asset. I wonder if they already had preset names, or if the Old Man named them.

Usauni... Inulut... I believe they were the legendary monsters of the islands.

"I also finished this spear." (Old Man)

-

Speckle Spear

... Effects pretty much the same as the others.

-

"Who here can wield a spear? Also where did you get that spear from?"
(Naofumi)

From that name, was it made from the Penguin Ingredients?

"I thought it was odd, but when I started using some of the remaining ingredients, this was the result. The ingredients almost ran out, it was difficult." (Old Man)

"That was unnecessary..." (Naofumi)

Well, I guess there's no harm. Worst comes to worse, I'll give it to Rishia. She's even wearing the Penguin suit, It will be quite fitting.

"This is still under construction. Try giving it to the Lady in the Costume."
(Old Man)

"Keep up the good work." (Naofumi)

"Sure. But... The problem is the modification of the Penguin Suit that you ordered..." (Old Man)

With a sorry face, the old man goes into the back of the shop and pulls out what used to be the penguin suit.

"Oy... It's slightly different, but it's definitely still a costume." (Naofumi)

The whole suit has turned white.

"I think I am going crazy. When the Bird Girl came over to play, I got inspired to try something, and it turned out like this." (Old Man)

"... I have a really bad feeling about this. What sort of inspiration was that!" (Naofumi)

"What is that?" (Rishia)

"Come on, Rishia!" (Naofumi)

Rishia touches the suit. She is shaking.

...

"Hey, Old Man. No matter how you look at it, this is impossible." (Naofumi)

"I also think that it turned out wrong." (Old Man)

The Old Man looks like he is going to cry.

That's right... What was once a Penguin Suit is now a Filo Rial Suit.

(TL: Rishia OP, she will get, Demon, Slave and Filo Rial Shield Bonuses)

And no matter how you look at it, Firo was the Model.

It is pretty much a Firo Suit.

-

Firo Plushy

Defense Up,

Agility Up (Large),

Impact Resist (Small),

Wind Resistance (Large),

Darkness Resistance (Small),

HP Restoration (Weak),

Magic Amplify (Medium)

Autonomous Repair,

Pulling Skills Increased,

Carrying Capacity Increased,

Size Correction,

Race Change- Monster (When Equiped)

-

... Both me and the Old Man avert our eyes from the Costume.

"Wa- Is this imitating Firo?" (Firo)

"It definitely looks like you." (Raphtalia)

"What a wonderful Costume!" (Rishia)

"Hey! Don't just equip it by yourself!" (Naofumi)

Rishia immediately puts on the suit.

"How do I look? Kue! Kue!"

... There is now a bird-form Firo next to the human-form Firo.

Well compared to the real thing, it is a bit smaller.

It's quite a sorry sight.

I go and check Rishia's status.

High! Is this the effect of the shield?

What was once 1/5 of Raphtalia's stats is now 1/3!

For an equipment to be this effective... The Race change also gave her Filo Rial Shield Bonuses.

Well, as long as it's effective, I guess it's fine.

"Yes. Apart from the appearance, it is fine." (Naofumi)

"How cruel." (Firo)

Rishia seems happy with the Firo Suit.

However Firo seems to be protesting.

"This is all I can do for now. Next time, I'll make some actual equipment for the girl." (Old Man)

"How about me?" (Naofumi)

"I can make it, but I don't think it will be ready in time for the wave." (Old Man)

"I see." (Naofumi)

Well, with the defense of the Shield, my armor has taken very little damage to begin with. I guess I can leave it as it is for now.

"I'll pop by later. Thank you for your work." (Naofumi)

"Sure. Oh yes, boy?" (Old Man)

"What is it?" (Naofumi)

"I can also make you new shields." (Old Man)

That's right. With these strange ingredients, he can also forge new shields that I have yet to acquire.

Feeding materials to the Shield will not necessarily guarantee a new shield, it will be more efficient to have the Old Man forge shields out of the drops.

Should I leave some materials from the next wave's boss to the Old Man?

"If I run into some interesting materials, I might ask for that. Please wait 'til then." (Naofumi)

"I'll be waiting, boy." (Old Man)

And as such, we prepared for the wave.

I have been using the methods the other heroes gave me to strengthen the shields already in my possession as well.

-

Soul Eater Shield (Awakened) +6 35/35 SR (TL: Super Rare)

Ability Bonus

...

Equipment Bonus

Skill: Second Shield

Soul Resistance (Medium)

Psychological Attack Resist (Small)

SP Up

Passive: Soul Eater

Sp Recovery (Weak),

Drain Effect,

Intangibility,

Undead Control

Proficiency 67

Enchantment Level 7, SP +10%

Bonus against Undead (Defense +50)

Status Enchant (Endurance +30)

-

I am currently raising my proficiency. For some reason, upon strengthening, this shield's stats went higher than the Chimera Viper Shield.

I guess this is because this is from the boss that came after the Chimera. Its abilities' effectiveness also went up with reinforcement.

The abilities Drain, Intangibility, and Undead Control appeared after awakening the shield.

Just as its name implies, Intangibility allows me to pass through solid objects... But going through a single wall takes up all of my SP. And that was quite a thin wall at that. I wonder what will happen if I solidify inside a wall. (TL: The Wizardry generation knows)

Undead Control allows me to manipulate undead monsters to some extent. I tried using it on some Skeletons, but it immediately dried up my SP.

I don't think I can use these functions.

But by stats alone, my Defense is now 4 times what it was when I got back to the castle.

Yesterday, I let myself get attacked by all sorts of monsters, and I didn't even feel anything.

... However, I myself never let damage get through to me to begin with.

After leaving the Old Man's store, I go to the Castle's courtyard to experiment.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 116 – Blue Sand Sound

---

I called Rafatalia, Firo and Rishia to test something.

I plan studying magic after this, but that can wait.

"Naofumi, what happen?" (Rafatalia)

"I have something to ask of you, Rafatalia" (Naofumi)

I remove the slave limiter preventing Rafatalia from attacking me.

I do this prior to the test because she will suffer due to the slave crest if I don't.

"I wanted to test the defense on the shield I've upgraded. I gave you permission to hit me." (Naofumi)

"Huh...." (Rafatalia)

"Try bare-handed first. Don't hold back." (Naofumi)

"I see." (Rafatalia)

While hesitant, Rafatalia hits my chest with great force.

The impact let out a loud sound.

But i felt no pain, only a sentation as if bitten by a mosquito.

Was this the extent of Rafatalia's fist.....

How would it turn out if i was struck by a sword?

Though it may be foolish, and it would be unpleasant to get wounded, I want to test out how much i can endure.

"Lets use a sword next" (Naofumi)

"Oh, that. Are you sure?" (Rishia)

Rishia asks fearfully.

I understand her feelings. If you look at it from an ordinary person's view, this doesn't look normal.

"I'm trying to see how much i can withstand" (Naofumi)

If i can endure one of Rafatalia's attacks, I feel I'd be fine for the moment. I do not know how high my defense is, or if it's better.

"Here i go" (Rafatalia)

Rafatalis swings her sword at me with without serious intent, I can tell she held back somewhat.

A light sound is made as it hits my shoulder.

"This is hard...." (Rafatalia)

Rafatalia says in a tearful voice as she drops the Iron sword in her hand. I did not recieve any damage.

This is amazing, It's as if my body has become metal.

My body is normal meat and flesh when i touch it.

Did i gain more muscle since coming to this world?

Including Lvs I feel this body has become on suitable for fighting.

Well i have been involved in a lot of fighting these 4 months.

Well i use more physical strength like in older times where one got around by foot or carriage. Can't even compare to the time when I was a geek.

"Firo next." (Firo)

"Oh, good." (Naofumi)

"Yay!" (Firo)

I uncheck Firo's demon crest.

I'll know i have great defense if i block one of Firo's attacks, I want to know.

"Well then, let's go" (Naofumi?)

Firo changes into her demon form, she raises her leg high ready to kick.

Mississauga Mishimishimishi ..... Biki.[TL: this is onomatopoeia explained soon]

"Wh, what is....." (???)

The sound of Firo's powerful leg muscles contracting can be heard.

Past experiences can tell me. This is dangerous.

biki .....bikibikibiki![TL: More onomatopoeia ]

"It stopped"(Naofumi?)

"Yes!"(Firo)

I ready my shield at once.

With a roar, vibrations are felt. A shock runs through my whole body.

"You trying to kill!"

I may have been taken back if i didn't prepare myself. For this.

With a smile i gaze over at Firo, i can't complain.

I felt my eyebrows furrow for a moment.

"Wow, master is really sturdy" (Firo)

"What was that kick just now!" (Naofumi)

"Well, it's a kick using all the power, can't be used in real battle" (Firo?)

That was a serious kick from Firo..... She completely didn't take it easy.

"I use power as if kicking the Spear guy" (Firo)

I sympathize for Motoyasu, it's his end if he's kicked with this power.

I feel like watching that a little also.

"Want to go flying into the horizon?" (Firo?)

"You, think a little more about your actions!" (Naofumi?)

No, I'll definately be killed.

Wonder if the kick would send you into the horizon.

Or into a different world..... if you think of it like an anime.

However, I was able to establish the strength of my defense.

I was able to prevent all of Firo's power, which is comparable to Glass.
I do not know how much stronger, but i can anticipate further effects.

"Hmm.....Alright"

"That's not for you to decide, it's for me"

"Well i think that's ok"

Does this person have some wild perception?

That was a little scary, let's go check the items a second time.

"Well it's ok..... no one was injured... so let's go back for tonight" (Naofumi)

"Umm" (Rishia)

I turn slowly towards Rishia.

"Eh?" (Rishia)

"You don't need to do it, you are good." (Naofumi)

"Y, Yes" (Rishia)

I was not damaged by Firo, or Rafatalia. It would be impossible if Rishia tried.

It would be bad to strain oneself.

Though it feels like she has frail health, it is a defeat if it minds it.

"Since the next wave is near. Train you magic for today" (Naofumi)

You should raise your level in earnest.

Though Rafatalia seems to do simulation exercises with the knights.

"Yes"

"I understand"

"I'll go study with Firo and Mel chan"

"Let's go like that."

Because she is the princess of this country, it is natural, but Melty tends to only study in the castle.

Now that Bitch has been deprived of her inheritance rights, what such thing do you need as the next queen.

Maybe Monarch studies? There was a similar thing in my world.

It may be said that she studies every day and make it the utmost proper country.

Speaking of Melty, if i find spare time while being taught compounding and magic, i go to my place.

Studying with Firo can also be fun.

.....Let's forget how i complained about being caught up with Firo while studying a few days ago.

Firo's head is not good, Melty's might also be going bad. Yeah. [idk]

Now that i have to time to myself, i think I'll strengthen..... the Wrath Shield for the time being.

Wrath shield III (awakened) +7 50/50 SR

Ability unsealed ..... equipment bonus, Skill [Change shield (attack),] [Iron Maiden] [Blutopfer]

Special Effect: Dark Curse Burning S, Strength UP, Super( orMighty)
Dragon's Rage, Roar, Frenzy of Companions,
Magic Sharing, Clothing of Anger (medium).
Proficiency 0

I seems the shield can't preform item, spirit and status enchantments.
Still it's abilities imporved tremendously.

The problem is, that the moment i switched to this it started trying to take over my consciousness, a fearsome problem.

Preperations for the wave are coming along well.

The next day.

3 days until the wave.

"Queen Speaking"[Knight?]

"What? "(Naofumi?)

After lunch a meeting with the queen was hailed.

Preperations are almost done, then just wait for the wave.

As is expected, it would be severe to fight against Glass with only us.

Which is why we gathered the heroes now, but who knows if they'll listen.

"How are you Heroes? How went the waves of other countries?" (Queen)

"Heroes, except Iwatani, participated in the wave of other countries between these few days and seem to have let you suppress it safely. Iwatani is alright....it isn't a big problem treating our country exclusively."(Queen)

""I'm anxious to say its a big problem but - Tsu!?"(Naofumi?)

A sound that could break glass is heard from the corner.

A big shock shook our heads.

The sound was similar to the Wave starting, but it was.....delicately different.

"....Something happened just now"

"?"

I look around.

Althought i though i was trasnferred to the wave, I didn't go anywhere, I was still in the castle hallway.

"What happened?"(???)

"I don't know...but something just happened that is certain"(Naofumi)

The call the icon of a red hourglass to check the wave in the corner field of my view.

The timer had stopped at 3 days.

Next to it another icon appears..... a blue hourglass with a "7" engraved into it.

"Another hourglass has appeared, with a 7 engraved into it, but i don't know what this means" (Naofumi)

Calling up the Help menu, i verify if there are no new items.

But it seems.... Information can not be found.

What's going on?

7 ... the story of the Seven Star Heroes, i recently heard the story.

Could it be?

"A Hero may have been defeated in some wave somewhere"

"However, these brave heroes participated in other waves, but just in case...

I will look into other countries and seek information"

The Queen gave instructions to a messenger soldier to gather information.

The opening of the case was here .....

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 117 – When Gaming Knowledge Bares its Fangs

---

It was only a few hours later that we realized exactly what had happened.

A messenger riding a gravely injured dragon flew to us.

“What is happening?” (Queen)

The Queen shouts with the face of someone who has just failed a mission.

We are all gathered in front of the throne.

“T-there’s big trouble! The seal holding the legendary Magical Beast, the Spirit Turtle has been broken!” (Messenger)

“Spirit…?” (Naofumi)

Spirit? As in referring to ghosts?

The Spirit Turtle… In my world, I remember it was a sort of legendary beast.

He often appeared in games as one of the 4 minor holy beasts

Does this world have some system like that as well?

The major 4 are Seiryuu, Byakkou, Genbu and Suzaku. The minor 4 are Phoenix, Spirit Turtle, Quilin, and Dragon.

Many people think they are the same, but they are slightly different.

But from the feeling I am getting from this conversation, this beast is probably Genbu.

In Mythology, The Spirit Turtle was said to carry Mt. Horai on its back. (TL: In Chinese, Mt. Penglai)

Genbu was a tortoise-like beast with a snake for a tail, and long legs.

The Chinese said that Mt. Horai was a legendary mountain in the east inhabited by immortals. Whether it is based on a real location or not is still up for debate.

(TL: I know others may translate it as Tortoise but by his mythological reference, the beast that carried Horai was definitely a turtle. It was even often described as swimming through the ocean and being mistaken as an island. So I'm pretty sure it is Spirit Turtle, while Genbu is a Tortoise. Right now, the beast may very well turn out to be Genbu, so I cannot say for sure what to translate it as.)

"It can't be..." (Queen)

The Queen's face has turned pale.

... That means the situation is really bad. I might get dispatched.

"In my world, there was something similar so I can kinda understand, but is the seal breaking something that bad?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. Long, long ago, the beast suddenly came into existence. It's a monster that all four summoned heroes had to work together to seal."
(Queen)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

Did the seal weaken from the wave? Or did the seal just run out naturally?

The Help menu says that when the hour glass stops, a calamity even bigger than the wave is imminent.

"And to make it so that the seal never breaks, the four heroes of the time never told anyone how they set it. We do not know how to reseal the beast."
(Queen)

"Did it break because of the wave?" (Naofumi)

"Unfortunately, that is quite likely." (Queen)

"But that does not explain the 7 that appeared on the hourglass."
(Naofumi)

7- that number holds many ominous connotations.

I hope it just means that the situation has to do with the 7 star heroes.

If not, then...

"U-um..." (Messenger)

As he speaks, the messenger's face turns blue.

"What? Do you have some information?" (Queen)

"T-that is..." (Messenger)

The Messenger averts his eyes from our gaze.

? What is it? He's staring intently at my feet.

"Speak up." (Naofumi)

"T-the truth is..." (Messenger)

The Messenger began to elaborate on the situation.

"I was told that the seal was broken by the four summoned heroes, the Sword, Spear and Bow." (Messenger)

"Are you certain?" (Queen)

"Yes! They all visited the town it was supposedly sealed in and performed some strange ritual. After investigating the town thoroughly, they destroyed a statue in the shrine. It was only after that that the seal broke. The heroes were last seen heading for the beast." (Messenger)

The Queen looks pale.

But based on the messenger's words, this reaction is appropriate.

"Itsuki!" (Rishia)

Rishia tries to run off to some unforeseen destination.

"Firo, please capture Rishia." (Naofumi)

"Yes~" (Firo)

Firo chases after Rishia and promptly captures her.

“Unhand me! I need to go save Itsuki.” (Rishia)

For her to be devoted to this extent… Itsuki sure is lucky.

“But… Why would the Heroes take such idiotic actions… Why did they even know how to undo the seal?” (Queen)

“The heroes other than me should be quite knowledgeable about this world.”
(Naofumi)

They probably used the knowledge of the games they used to play to undo the seal.

Now that I think about it, Itsuki said some incomprehensible statements before.

He told Raphtalia, ‘You will come to rely on me someday,’ and he told me, ‘This is the last time you can act so conceited.’

Did the feelings of inferiority he got from those times cause his current actions?

The turtle will probably give a lot of EXP and some valuable items.

The three heroes probably headed there because they became overconfident after defeating the Level 80+ wave bosses of other countries.

Again with the Game Knowledge. They should quit it already

I bet they plan to beat the Spirit Turtle to one-up me.

Even after all of this, they only care about strengthening their own characters.

I'll bitch about it to them later.

"About that..." (Messenger)

"They unsealed it correct? So how are they doing in regards to defeating it?"
(Naofumi)

The Dragon Hourglass is still stopped. Those gamers will never pick a fight with an enemy they cannot beat.

They should soon be celebrating in a nearby village.

There's no food tastier than food on someone else's tab anyways.

"Well... After heading for the turtle, the heroes are currently MIA, and the Spirit Turtle has yet to be stopped." (Messenger)

"What?!" (Naofumi)

What the Hell

There's no way they would unseal it if there was no chance of winning.

Well, that's just my opinion as a hero.

I have a bad premonition.

There's a possibility that something is impeding them from fighting the Spirit Turtle.

But for a monster so powerful that it could only be sealed to be released into a populated area...

This is really, REALLY bad, isn't it.

"Shadow, what information do you have?" (Queen)

"I followed each hero, but..." (Shadow)

Shadow appears next to the queen and whispers into her ear.

It doesn't seem to be the shadow I know that says -gojaru

"... It seem the situation is ... uncertain." (Queen)

Two days later.

Me and my party had departed with a large squad of knights to a neighboring country to join the fray.

We will be the front line of this war.

Our job is to make sure the damage caused by the Turtle is kept to a minimum.

So far, 5 Cities, 3 Forts and 2 Castles have fallen to the beast.

The Spirit Turtle is a Gigantic monster, and it is usually surrounded by numerous subordinate monsters. These subordinate monsters are tasked with finishing off all those that flee in the Turtle's path.

It seems to be headed towards areas with high populations.

“Will the 7 Star Heroes be participating as well?” (Naofumi)

“We have sent out a request, but currently, we are the closest to the Beast. It will take several days for the others to arrive.” (Queen)

If I leave it to the 7 Heroes, the sacrifices will be great. This has to do with my duty as a hero.

And I don't know if those heroes are strong enough to depend on at this point.

Also... If the monster is strong enough to render the other 3 heroes missing, I myself am in quite a bit of trouble.

But it doesn't seem that I will be able to run.

If I weigh fighting here with being considered a traitor and having the other heroes come after me again, I would rather perish in this battle.

I have to do this.

The other heroes better have not just unsealed this thing and disappeared to show the queen my lack of worth as a hero...

However, I cannot deny that I do lack such worth.

The risk is too great, so they probably won't do that... probably.

I guess I should act as if the other 3 are dead.

Their Game knowledge... The item that allowed them to believe that they understood everything about this world. It finally betrayed them, and caused them to underestimate a terrifying enemy.

That is the only explanation I can think of for their failure.

Perhaps in their games, it was a different beast that had been sealed away.

"... No matter what happened to the other 3, I have no choice but to fight. So how powerful are our current forces?" (Naofumi)

"We have this country's knights, our soldiers, various vagrant adventurers and some other armed forces sent from neighboring countries... But some countries have already attempted to confront the turtle and have suffered crushing defeats." (Queen)

"They advanced without waiting for the heroes?" (Naofumi)

"There's no way a country can refrain from fighting when a monster is destroying it right before its ruler's eyes." (Queen)

"... I see..." (Naofumi)

It may have been rash, but there was no choice for those people but to fight.

It's not like I can't understand their feelings.

"So the only hero you can count on... is me." (Naofumi)

If I allow even one casualty, my reputation will only get worse.

If the other three heroes are the culprits of this calamity, then I, the fourth hero, must step up and act like a hero for once.

… Acting heroic isn't like me at all.

I am up against a monster that can destroy countries overnight, and I am fighting with nothing but a shield. This may seem very reckless. But if I do nothing, nothing will result.

"I can see it." (Queen)

The Queen calls out from the carriage Firo is carrying.

I'm speechless as I stare at the monstrosity on the horizon.

"Um… Is that Mountain over there moving, or is that my imagination."
(Naofumi)

I'm supposed to fight that?

It's far away, so I can't see it clearly but this is even larger than the largest dragons of the games in which you hunt monsters. (TL: Probably referring to Monster Hunter, but I don't know)

It truly is the size of the Turtle said to move an entire country on its shell in my world.

There seemed to be the wreckage of a town on top, and the Turtle is carrying it all on its mountain-sized back.

"Queen, in the legend of the heroes that fought this thing, how exactly did they fight it?" (Naofumi)

"It seems they got inside of it from the city on its back, and placed a seal on its heart." (Queen)

So that means we first have to stop that thing, and then get inside of it somehow... No, stopping it will take more forces than we can muster.

"Do you have a plan?" (Naofumi)

"There is one. The turtle seems to be headed for areas with high population. We can estimate its course, evacuate the cities and castles in the way, and set up ambushes to hold it down in those cities." (Queen)

"That isn't all is it?" (Naofumi)

"After that, we plan to follow the legend and send you inside to attack the heart." (Queen)

Should I try to damage it with Iron Maiden or Blutofer?

I had just gotten over the shield's curse... but looking at that thing, I don't think I have a choice.

"But with that plan, the casualties will be quite great, won't they?"
(Naofumi)

If we enter the Turtle, he will probably start rampaging.

So while we proceed towards the heart, a lot of damage will be done to the forces on the outside.

"...Yes" (Queen)

"Unhand Me! I... I Won't fight! The Shield. Send the Shield!" (Trash)

"....." (Naofumi)

Trash is sitting in the seat next to the Queen.

The Queen is currently performing an iron claw on his face to prevent him from escaping the carriage.

… This person does not look like he will be of any help.

“I understand the risk, however there is no other way we know of to rid the world of that monster.” (Queen)

Trash’s interjection completely ruined the atmosphere.

Why is this person even here?

He may be the general, but I feel the army would be better off without this idiot.

I guess he is here as the Hero of the Cane, or the former Wise King to increase troop morale.

“We’re done for… in many ways.” (Naofumi)

“Meaning?” (Queen)

“Well for one, Your husband is done for. Also, that plan will result in too many casualties.” (Naofumi)

It’s too risky and too rash.

But I can’t decide anything unless I can see just how powerful an attack from the beast is first hand.

All I know right now is how many people attacked it and lost.

“… Let me try fighting it as a test.” (Naofumi)

We'll decide our next course of action based on whether I can withstand its attacks or not.

"Fue..." (Rishia)

"Rishia, We are going to go scout out the power of the Spirit Turtle. Depending on the situation, I am counting on you to relay the information to the queen." (Naofumi)

"B-but I'm" (Rishia)

"I understand your concern. That costume should greatly increase your speed. You don't have to go on the front lines, but please observe the battle and report your findings." (Naofumi)

This doesn't look like an opponent I can beat with just the power of a Hero.

And it also doesn't seem to have any intention of backing down.

He's as large as a mountain. If I encountered such an enemy in a game, I would run. However if I ran here I would only be making more enemies of the shield.

I should start off by trying to fight it.

"Understood. I will help relay the situation." (Rishia)

"I'll also leave magical support to you. Worst comes to worse, we'll have to retreat and wait for the Star Heroes to arrive." (Naofumi)

"Iwatani, your performance will affect the morale of all of the troops fighting here. Please be careful." (Queen)

"Yes Ma'am." (Naofumi)

We unattach Firo from the Queen's carriage. Firo takes us all on her back.

"Firo, we'll be fighting that giant thing." (Naofumi)

"Yes~!" (Firo)

"Raphtalia, just fight as you always do. As the Queen said, if this doesn't work out, we can always think of another plan." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Raphtalia)

"Rishia, only think about your own safety. If worse comes to worst, retreat and report the results to the Queen." (Naofumi)

"Y-yes." (Rishia)

I give out orders and prepare for battle.

"Let's go." (Naofumi)

Firo starts running at full speed. We begin our assault on the Spirit Turtle.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 118 – Versus the Spirit Tortoise, Scout Battle

---

“It’s much bigger up close.” (Raphtalia)

Before my eyes, the large turtle is getting closer step by step.

There is an earthquake every time it takes a step, it is making me stagger.

“That seems to be the case.” (Naofumi)

“……We should escape.” (Rishia)

“I understand your feelings.” (Naofumi)

It’s been about a month since the heroes came and let this out…… It is reckless to fight against an opponent that those heroes from before couldn’t beat.

……There is a reason why I can’t leave, it can’t be helped.

Well, let’s test something.

It should be fine to withdraw immediately if it gets dangerous.

“That turtle is huge~” (Firo)

“Fueeeeeeee! Itsuki-samaaa!”( Rishia)

A swarm of demon bats are coming from the first mountain-like shell.

Are these the Spirit Turtle’s Familiars?

“Meteor Shield!” (Naofumi)

Immediately the Meteor Shield I learned expands, and I fall back to Rishia.

“Highten Reaction!” (Naofumi)

The swarm of Spirit Turtle's familiars fire rays of light at us from their eyes.
Thumping sounds could be heard as the barrier is struck.
so they can use long-range attacks huh.

[TL gagingagin was the sound in the original. I changed it to thumping since that's what i think of when i imagine a barrier blocking attacks.]

"Tei!"(Raphtalia)

"Teriyaa!"(Firo)

Raphatalia and Firo exit the barrier to attack the spirit turtle's familiars.

"Gyiii!" (Familiars)

The familiars die off as each attack hits.

However, they are too numerous.

Since this is just reconnaissance there aren't that many methods to go about things.

"Taha!" (Raphtalia)

"Oryaaa!" (Firo)

The familiars fall with a gasugasu, as Raphtalia and Firo cut them down.
It might be good to analyze the fight in case of something surprising.

"Are you alright?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah. But, I think it'll be hard to bring it down." (Raphtalia)

"I see."(Naofumi)

A thud could be heard, and something falls from the Spirit Turtle.

A gorilla-like Demon with a turtle shell on its back is now coming towards us.

“Zweit Aura!” (Naofumi)[TL: In reading some comments on Yoraikun's page I found out the author is using a lot of german in special skills. Zweit seems to mean second or tier 2 spells, and Raphtalia is capable of learning Dreifach, or third/tier 3 spells with practice. ]

I apply support magic on Raphtalia and Firo.

“Fast Guard!” (Rishia)

At the same time, Rishia applied defensive magic on me.

That was good judgement.

It seems that status and smarts aren't related.

“Go! Yin-Yang Sword” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia's sword alternates between black and white glows, as it cuts through the demon.

It was split into 2 black and white spheres, they collide and destroy the demons.

Is this a certain kill sword attack that Kills two birds with one stone!?

“Critical Quick~ ~” (Firo)

Firo becomes a blur as she quickly flies of towards the enemy and kicks.

What is that? The same attack?

That's what I thought, but Firo's speed doesn't fall, and unleashes a flurry of kicks onto the demon.

"Umm you see~, its an instant version of High Quick." (Firo)

It's an attack is easy to maintain.

That is certainly useful.

"Fue, Fast Water Shot!" (Rishia)

Rishia slips through the barrier and fires her Water Magic at the familiars.

Yup. They didn't die.

But, they have been slowed down.

"This may be good." (Naofumi)

Well, there is a large margin between us and familiars of this degree.

The problem is the main body. Maybe, the other heroes struggled against the main body.

There is also the possibility that they are fighting within the body.

"Anyway, let's try to fight it!" (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Raphtalia)

"Okaay~" (Firo)

"Fueeeeeee!" (Rishia)

And so, the closer we get to the spirit turtle the stronger the demons become.....As we arrive in front of the spirit turtle, it recalls all of its familiars.

Of course, it's gigantic when seen up close.

A village can be made on its face alone.

Now, what to do?

The turtle turns its gaze towards us.

“_____ ! ”(Spirit Turtle)

It lets out a tremendous roar, I have to cover my ears.

This is not a friendly attitude.

I activate Meteor Shield again, to repel the familiars as I check the status of the spirit turtle.

The turtle moves its foot towards us.

“That’s dangerous!” (Naofumi)

It sends forth a powerful kick. I raise my shield to prepare for the attack at once.

With the sound of glass shattering Meteor Shield is broken, immediately after, I’m hit by the Spirit Turtle.

The shock goes through my whole body.

“gu……” (Naofumi)

I am pushed back a few steps.

“Na-Naofumi-sama?” (Raphtalia)

“Master?” (Firo)

Raphtalia and Firo manage to get in behind the shield without trouble.

Rishia had slipped under my mantle understanding the situation, letting out a ‘fueeee’.

"I-I'm fine. Here it comes again." (Naofumi)

Despite being trampled, it doesn't seem I suffered any damage.

The cooldown for Meteor Shield has passed too.

Let's try a new approach.

Right after that, Rain clouds gather in the sky, and the familiars surrounding us are swept away.

It's the Queen and her guards, they're providing cover fire.

It's an attack that if not timed correctly, would have hit Raphtalia as well.

I think it's an attack that can only be fired after I used my meteor shield.

"Alright! You guys, attack it for the time being!" (Naofumi)

It's a problem that I don't understand this monster, but it might be weaker than it looks.

"Tooooo!" (Firo)

Firo lands a powerful kick on the enormous jaw of the Spirit Turtle.

"————— ! ? " (Spirit Turtle)

The Spirit Turtle's head was bent back.

"Waaaaa...heavy~" (Firo)

"It's not over yet" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia cuts across the limits of the Spirit Turtle's neck while it's head is bent backwards.

A crevice was made into the turtles neck, as the sound of vegetables being cut could be heard.

Blood gushed out.

However, the cut was shallow, the wound quickly regenerated, and the Turtle turned its angry gaze at Firo and Raphtalia.

……It's not going to fight, huh.

Raphtalia and Firo have become immensely stronger as well.

I'm aware that I got stronger, but is that enough?

This is a hard fight to some extent, but it's not an enemy we can't beat
If that's the case, those guys... they could have won, why did they leave?
Now, it is impossible to deny the possibility that it could have been left to annoy me.

"————— ! "(Spirit Turtle)

A large magic formation appears before the Spirit Turtle.

……I have a bad feeling about this.

Immediately, Raphatalia and Firo are forced to the ground.

"Gu~uuuuu" (Firo)

"Wha, What is that……." (Raphtalia)

"What happened?" (Naofumi)

"I-I don't know. But my body is stuck to the ground……It's heavy"
(Raphtalia)

That's Dangerous! I don't understand, but Raphatalia is in danger.

"Fuee?" (Rishia)

Rishia, who was under my cloak, let out a goofy sound.
This girl, doesn't have any problems……Right?
The Barrier created by Meteor Shield was vibrating.
It's good to see this defended against something.
I approach Raphtalia and Firo to get them into the barrier.

“Ah, It feels light again” (Firo)

They both stand up and approach.
From the looks up it, it's safe to say this is Gravity Magic.
However, the Spirit Turtles Magic wasn't able to break through my magic defense.
After confirming that we are not moving, the Spirit turtle tries to trample us.
You think I'd let you?!

“Shield Prison” (Naofumi)

I use Shield Prison on top of Meteor Shield.
A large clank sound can be heard, the prison breaks and the foot is blocked by the meteor shield.
……It seems to be supporting the weight of the spirit turtle for the time being……
The barrier starts creaking.
It'll break as it is.

“We're moving, come with me.” (Naofumi)

There is no reason to continue being trampled.

"Okay!" (Raphtalia)

"Okay~" (Firo)

"Fueee...I understand" (Rishia)

After those three understand what is going on, we escape from being trampled by the Spirit Turtle.

With a thud, the Spirit Turtle raises a cloud of dust.

Ah, it seems that Meteor Shield also prevents the dust cloud.

"We should be able to endure this for the time being" (Naofumi)

"It shouldn't be able to pinpoint our location within this cloud of dust."(Raphtalia)

"Firo thinks we should be able to beat it right? but only if its magic is stopped."(Firo)

"Fumu...That might be a chance to attack but..."(Naofumi)

The area rumbles as familiars drop down.

Is it being overly cautious? It seems to be verifying that we were defeated.

There's no time. What should we do.....?

"Isn't there something we can do?"(Naofumi)

".....There is. Block the next attack."(Raphtalia)

"Yeah. Firo will put everything in to the next attack"(Firo)

"Can I count on it?" (Naofumi?)

We can only attack the turtles neck. It may be possible to kill it if we attack seriously.

"I'll leave it to you" (Naofumi)

"Yeah"(Raphtalia)

I take a stance in order for Raphtalia and Firo to deliver their special moves.

Firo's stance looks familiar.

She flaps her wings.

The magic power is so condensed that you can see the flow of wind from behind.

"Whenever you're ready Raphtalia onee-chan" (Firo)

It's faster than before! Can it now be used in actual combat?

"Wait a little longer" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia's tail begins to puff up.

She has condensed a suitable amount of magic also.

"My preparations are complete. Let's go." (Raphtalia)

"Yeah!" (Firo)

Raphtalia gets on Firo's back releasing her magical power.

"Spiral····"(Firo)

"Eight Trigrams····" (Raphtalia) [TL: 八極陣 got any other suggestions?]

Dust swirls around them, light gathers around Firo.

The light forms into an Yin Yang symbol and parts into eight.

For some reason Raphtalia's attacks are oriental.

"Strike!" (Firo)

"Heaven's Sword!" (Raphtalia) [TL also Fate Sword. Karma Sword]

Becoming a straight light, Raphtalia and Firo pierce through the Spirit Turtles throat.

The Spirit Turtles eyes are colored in surprise.

No... because the head is already decapitated, it could not react.

The huge neck and body of the Spirit Turtles was pierced so beautifully, it tore off the head and sent it flying.

Fresh blood spewed from the Spirit turtles neck, and rained down.

It's huge body falls to the ground with a thud.

"We did it" (Raphtalia)

It should be dead since the head is blown off.

That was unexpectedly easy.

It doesn't appear to be the type of enemy we have to enter the body and seal the heart.

Cheers are heard echoing from behind.

"Fuhee....." (Rishia)

Firo touches down on ground with experience, Raphtalia does the same.

"We did it." (Raphtalia)

"Yeah, you guys did great" (Naofumi)

If we could hit high-powered moves like these, we'll never lose.

It feels like we may have become stronger than the other Heroes.

"That's amazing." (Rishia)

"Rishia, you work hard too, to become like that." (Naofumi)

"Fueeeeeeee?! That's impossible." (Rishia)

"It's not impossible. You can do it!" (Naofumi)

"That's impossible for me!" (Rishia)

Rishia thinks about tearing the head of the spirit turtle and fervently denies it.

I can't train her spirit.

"Well then, let's have a victory party—!" (Naofumi)

The sound of something wriggling comes from the direction of the Spirit Turtle.

Everyone notices the sound and turns their sight on to the spirit turtle.

The body of the spirit turtle stands up……The meat on its neck starts to wriggle……

The body and head regenerate and make it seem as if nothing happen.

"Wha……" (Naofumi)

What happen?

How strong is your regenerative ability? Didn't it just lose its head? Like a Hydra.

It seems this regeneration ability is related to the reason why those heroes of the past had to seal the heart.

"————— ! "(Spirit Turtle) [that's all he says, nothing]

"Argh!?" (Naofumi)

The Spirit Turtle let's out a roar.

No… I see something bright rise from the body through the throat.

A shiver runs up my spine.

I jump before everyone and use Meteor Shield, along with Shield Prison.

Highly concentrated lightning erupts from its mouth.

It's like a particle gun you see in anime.

"Gu...u..." (Naofumi)

"Na-Naofumi-sama!?" (Raphtalia)

"Waa!" (Firo)

"Fueeeeeee! ?" (Rishia) [she really loves making this noise.]

The cage is broken, the barrier is also penetrated, the smell of burnt skin passes through my nose.

However, with all of this pain passing through my whole body, I can't lose consciousness.

That brief moment felt like an eternity.

"haa...haa..." (Naofumi)

I feel light-headed, I see the Spirit Turtles attack has stopped.

This is like the damage I received when using Blutopfer.

No, more than that...

I feel some places with deep burns.

"Master!?" (Firo)

"Naofumi-sama" (Raphatalia)

"Hero-sama" (Rishia)

Ku...I try to chant recovery magic, but i can't concentrate.

At that moment, a warm light pours around me.

My wounds heal quickly.

However, there isn't enough time to heal completely.

"Zweit • Heal!" (Queen)

I use magic I had to learn these past few days, and I block the spirit turtle's finishing kick.

Good, I can think clearly again.

That was probably support magic from the queen.

I was saved. Soul Eater Shield was not enough to endure that attack.

Fortunately that finishing move from the spirit turtle needs time to recharge.

When I look back, everything that I wasn't guarding vanished, the mountain behind us is missing.

"Firo, restore your magical power." (Naofumi)

"Okay!" (Firo)

I throw Firo a magic potion I had prepared, she drinks it quickly.

"It's bubbly~ tastes like fruit." (Firo)

"...people, call it a carbonated soft drink" (Naofumi)

Indeed, I think that mana(mp) potions taste like soda without sugar a.k.a. carbonated water, but to sum up my world's drinks in one phrase.... as expect of this wild kid, she's quite sharp in unusual case

At any rate, with this Firo is at maximum potential.

"It looks like attacks from the outside will be impossible. Let's withdraw"
(Naofumi)

While blocking the attacks of the Spirit Turtle, I expand Meteor Shield. I dodge his foot.

The earth shakes every time as it raises its foot again to trample us. However, this is our chance.

“High Quick” (Firo)

Firo carries us and leaves in haste.

Really, it broke through my defense, it'll be impossible to win with a frontal attack against a guy that can even regenerate his head.

It looks like we have no choice but to attack the heart.

Riding Firo, we withdraw from the Spirit Turtle.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 119 – Measures to End a Battle

---

“As expected, this is quite tough.”

I have returned to base, and am resting with the rest of my party. I head to the Strategy Meeting taking place between the leaders of multiple countries.

“Ah, the Hero of the Shield.” (Someone)

“Please, save the world.” (Someone else)

“I beg you, because of that, our country is…” (Someone else entirely)

The faces of the country leaders are quite pale.

The situation is quite grim. There will be no hope if I run here.

But… The difference in their treatment of me now is annoying.

Well, these people are from different countries. They may not know about my false crimes.

“We were watching from the back line. For it to have regeneration power to that extent…” (Queen)

The Queen speaks up with a worried face.

Trash… Doesn’t seem to be present.

But I think he would be a nuisance if he was here, anyways.

"I thought we had a chance of victory... but I guess we will have to defeat it in accordance with the legend." (Naofumi)

"Yes... But the problem seems to be how to get you onto that giant."
(Queen)

"Now that you mention it, I have been seeing dragons flying around for a while." (Naofumi)

On the way here, I saw many soldiers preparing and riding on dragons.

I guess they were making preparations to infiltrate the turtle's insides.

"Will it be possible?" (Naofumi)

"The problem is the monsters that accompany the beast. It will be nearly impossible to break through a swarm of monsters that dense, and make it to the Turtle's back." (Queen)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

An impenetrable defense...

If it is just my party, we might be able to break through. But we have no idea how to seal the heart.

"Just to make sure, but you do have personnel capable of putting a seal on the heart?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, we have investigated the matter and have found a method we are certain will work." (Queen)

“Is it something that my party will be able to perform?” (Naofumi)

“That is…” (Queen)

The Queen stays silent.

It seems we will not be able to do it alone.

It’s not that convenient, I guess.

“I see…” (Naofumi)

“It’s something we’ll need an entire platoon of magicians to perform.”
(Queen)

“So we will need to infiltrate the Turtle with an entire army, and somehow reach the heart with minimal casualties?” (Naofumi)

“…Yes” (Queen)

If only the spell was long range, our lives would be so much easier.

So we need to buy enough time for an entire platoon to enter the body.

I look at the map on the table. It shows the location of the Turtle and nearby cities.

It’s getting very close, If we don’t hurry, more cities will be destroyed.

“Have you completed the evacuation procedures?” (Naofumi)

“That has been… Difficult.” (Queen)

"I see." (Naofumi)

Just by getting close, this monster causes large-scale earthquakes. The fissures themselves can collapse buildings and block off escape routes. This is very bad.

And this monster is proceeding with clear purpose and direction.

Now that I think about it, it hasn't shot out that powerful attack yet.

"What was that large scale attack that thing released on my party?"
(Naofumi)

"We are currently investigating it. It has not released one since." (Queen)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

It seems that it will take time before he can use such a large-scale attack again.

Or that it has yet to find another opponent worthy of firing it at.

Regardless, I will have to buy time for the Magician army to infiltrate the body.

And I need to help evacuate the populace...

"How far have evacuations progressed?" (Naofumi)

"It doesn't seem we will make it before the Turtle arrives." (Queen)

So this event will result in a really large amount of deaths.

What should I do.

I could try attacking it head on, while trying to destroy the heart, but there is a possibility that the result will be the same as when we destroyed the head.

It might be impossible to kill this monster.

“Why is it attacking densely populated areas, anyways?” (Naofumi)

“This is just from our investigations, but it doesn’t seem to be searching for food or resources.” (Queen)

So it isn’t trying to sustain itself.

So it is attacking of its own will.

I can’t think of a reason.

“Moreover, we have observed that it is not heading for the areas with the highest human populations.” (Queen)

“What do you mean?” (Naofumi)

“It also seems to be heading towards area with the highest monster populations.” (Queen)

So is it like an animal that enjoys going after ants’ nests, and that wants to make sure that no bugs build homes on its territory?

It’s not only attacking humans.

A monster like this...

I direct my gaze to Firo, who is resting outside.

This Filo Rial Queen may be able to attack it head-on and win.

Though I don't know exactly how strong either of them are.

But I guess I shouldn't try to test that.

"Will the ground troops be able to somehow board the Spirit Turtle's back?"
(Naofumi)

"It's taking all of their manpower just to hold back the subordinate monsters. The flying unit may stand a chance, but breaking through the wall of monsters will be difficult." (Queen)

The plan isn't perfect, but there's no choice.

"If I stall the Lesser Monsters and the Spirit Turtle, will the Army be able to get on its back?" (Naofumi)

If I can take on its strongest attack, then stalling might not be impossible.

When it was fighting my party and me, I was able to draw its attention, and its advanced slowed.

Worse comes to worst, I can just stall it until evacuation measures are complete.

Though I don't know if I can stand that attack consecutively.

“Well, I’ll need a bit of back-line support.” (Naofumi)

“… Please wait for a second.” (Queen)

The Queen and the leaders from the other countries begin to discuss the plan.

“How is it? Taking an all or nothing chance?” (Someone)

“We’re acting too fast! If we are to go with that plan, it is better to wait for the 7 Star Heroes’ Arrival” (Leader Person)

“But at this rate, several cities and castles will become sacrifices before they arrive.” (Person)

“You’re only saying that because your country has yet to face any casualties! This monster needs to be defeated as soon as possible.”
(Another Person)

This is getting quite heated.

Right now, the integrity of the four summoned heroes is in question, so I can’t really say anything.

Of course there are objections, and the counterarguments are understandable. Such is politics.

“That’s right, if we let that man defeat it, we can reduce the casualties to an absolute minimum.” (Someone)

“But he is the cause of this tragedy is he not?! One of the four heroes!”
(Person I do not like)

“Let me ask you, what is a hero?” (Naofumi)

It does not seem I can remain silent for much longer.

I am supposed to be the Shield Hero, the one who will save the world.

Even if I don't want to.

“T-that is…” (Person I do not like)

In response to my question, some people begin stammering out answers.

“A hero is a strong person who uses his power for just cause. It is someone with courage” (Queen)

The Queen presents this answer.

Good, if this person understands, then we may be able to proceed as planned.

“Heroes are all about Heart. No matter how hopeless the situation, they can never give up. Heroes must possess a will to protect the people!” (Naofumi)

What the hell am I trying to say.

Even though I'm the one who said it, I feel disgusted.

And anyways, I'm not that good of a person to begin with.

But don't these things appeal to everyone?

Things like Courage, Justice, Will and Heart?

"If the people stationed here do not have enough power, then I will become their shield and protect them". (Naofumi)

"Hero of the Shield..." (Person)

It seems I have left an impression on these people.

I spoke quite loudly. I bet my voice reached quite a few people outside as well...

"Hero of the Shield. Please forgive our previous words of cowardice."
(Person I didn't like)

"Don't mind it. I am used to being hated by the people. Let me take on the hate the people have for the four heroes." (Naofumi)

I hold out my hand to the person who looks like a Shogun from another country.

"So for now, I want all of you to lend me your power. Let's work together and defeat this monster." (Naofumi)

"YES!" (Shogun)

The Shogun-like person firmly grasps my hand and exclaims loudly.

How simple. (TL: Just as Keikaku)

And so the plan to defeat the Spirit Turtle was finalized.

And it seems I raised the morale of the leaders.

We'll work together to defeat the monster, and I will fight as a hero of justice.

"Now to return to topic, let us find a way to reduce the amount of casualties." (Queen)

...The Queen is staring at me with a complicated expression.

Well, she knows that I'm not this sort of person.

The Queen restarts the meeting.

"Even though the Seven Heroes have yet to arrive, do we have enough soldiers capable of using the sealing spell?" (Queen)

"That is.. As long as they learn it by the time we are ready..." (Someone)

"Then do you think they will be able to proceed without issue? The army will be advancing regardless of whether they learn it or not." (Queen)

"But to safely reach the heart, we need to..." (Someone)

"But that will only result in more damage. The best course of action is to seal the beast as fast as possible. Do you think the Hero of the Shield can hold out until the Seven Heroes get here?" (Queen)

...The leaders exchange some more words.

That's right. The 3 heroes that caused all of this are currently missing. Even if we amass the seven heroes, it is not certain that we will attain victory.

As the shield, I am probably the only one capable of restraining the Spirit Turtle.

"Iwatani, please protect the Magical Platoon as they proceed towards the heart." (Queen)

"I had that intention from the beginning. But once the platoon has infiltrated the turtle, I'll only hold them back. My job is to decrease casualties. I'll definitely buy those people enough time to complete their mission." (Naofumi)

"Understood. Does anyone have any objections?" (Queen)

"..."

No one spoke up. There was no way that they could.

There is a strong feeling of unity present in the room.

All that's left is to snatch victory.

"Well then, the mission will commence after all the preparations have been carried out." (Queen)

The meeting is adjourned, and I leave the tent. I take a deep sigh, and Raphtalia calls out to me.

"Naofumi-sama, did you do something again?" (Raphtalia)

I had purposely raised my voice so people outside could hear.

But by her reaction, it does not seem that she was listening.

"Yep, it was the same as what happened back at Cal Mira." (Naofumi)

"*Sigh*... I don't understand what you are saying, but I guess that's alright." (Raphtalia)

"Oneechan, Master said that he would protect-" (Firo)

"Silence Bird." (Naofumi)

If Raphtalia did not hear, then it's fine as it is.

Truthfully, she will probably just sigh and look at me strange

?

Rishia is staring at me with admiration.

Why are her eyes sparkling like that?

"I'm inspired! It's scary, but I'll do my best!" (Rishia)

So both Firo and Rishia heard my speech.

Why is Raphtalia the only one left out?

I later found out that she had gone out to fetch water.

Replenishing the water supply is also important.

By the time she had returned, the camp was already astir with the trouble I had caused.

Most of the things I have caused so far have been no good, so there's no helping it if she thinks I did something wrong.

"Now then, I'll tell you the decision reached by the meeting." (Naofumi)

"Yes" (Raphtalia)

"It's been decided that I will stall the Spirit Turtle to give the army an opportunity to infiltrate it. Raphtalia and Rishia will be helping out that squadron. Firo, help me fight on the outside." (Naofumi)

"Yay~!" (Firo)

"I understand, but will Naofumi-sama be alright fighting that beast without us?" (Raphtalia)

"I can't even feel the attacks of the lesser monsters, and after the army has succeeded in its infiltration, I will follow on Firo." (Naofumi)

If all else fails, I can use the Shield of Wrath to hold off the Monster.

I haven't tried to use it yet as I was testing my Soul Eater Shield. The Wrath Shield will probably be able to take the Spirit Turtle's attacks.

But I'm not sure if I can control my feelings.

Last time, Firo helped me get through it. I guess I'll have to count on her again.

“Rishia, don’t be afraid. There is a possibility you might find Itsuki inside of the Turtle.” (Naofumi)

“Yes! I’ll try my hardest!” (Rishia)

This girl is more energetic than usual.

“And fix that talking habit of yours.” (Naofumi)

“Fue…” (Rishia)

“Yeah, that. Every time you feel uncertain, you let out that sound. Listening to it is annoying.” (Naofumi)

“Fueeee!?” (Rishia)

“Hey, are you picking a fight or something?” (Naofumi)

“I-I’ll work on it…” (Rishia)

If she gets over it, she will mature mentally.

The first thing she must change is her own heart.

Raphtalia was like this at the beginning as well. It’s fine if she just progresses slowly.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 120 – Stalling for Time

---

“Illumination magic should be fired after the troops finish mounting the Spirit Turtle. Please hop on then, Iwatani-sama” (queen)

“Understood. Then, operation start!” (random soldier)

“Roger that. Everyone! We're going!” (shield)

“Okay” (raphtalia)

“Oka~y” (filo)

“I'll do my best!” (rishia)

Ans thus Filo and I faced the Spirit Turtle for another assault.

During that time, Raphtalia, Rishia and half of the Allied forces circled around the Spirit Turtle's back to mount it.

“Together with Master~” (filo)

Filo let me ride on her in good humour, and ran towards the Spirit Turtle.
Such a fearless kid.

I checked the number of Mana Potions and.... medicine.... and stood before the Spirit Turtle.

“—————!” (turtle)

As the Spirit Turtle detected us, it simultaneously released a swarm of familiars.

And then it used its body to trample down on us.

"Zweite Aura! Meteor Shield!" (shield)

I chanted protective magic while raising my voice, and deployed Meteor Shield.

The Spirit Turtle's foot rained down on us and caused an earthquake.

As if I'm going to take that obediently!

Just like that, we evasively dodged its foot before Meteor Shield could be broken.

Fissures formed in the ground.

In the midst of a dust cloud being raised, I used my whole body to grasp the Spirit Turtle's foot before it could lift its gigantic leg.

"—————!?" (turtle)

It seemed that the Spirit Turtle raised its voice in surprise at being unable to raise its leg at will.

Such a sorry state.

gu....gu gu..... *clench*

Nevertheless, if I show even a little hint of an opening then the Spirit Turtle will try to raise its leg. And in terms of strength, I don't have nearly enough to prevent from being thrown out into the air.

The good thing is that the neck didn't extend up to the tip of the forefoot that we were on. I'll try to make use of that.

"—————!" (turtle)

Familiars were released in our direction.

Now!

A large number of magic circles were deployed in the sky, and fire came raining down incessantly.

A wave of supporting magic swept down from the rear and descended upon the familiars, stitching up that interval.

“Tahh!” (filo)

Filo kicked the familiars away, protecting me.

“How long do we hafta wait?” (filo)

“Who knows” (shield)

gu gu..... *clench*

This is bad, if I lose even a bit of focus I won't be able to restrain the Spirit Turtle's foot.

All the same, it's only focusing in my direction so the rear was defenceless.

“Master.....that” (filo)

I looked behind the Spirit Turtle, through the gap in its legs. Well, what I could see was no larger than a speck.

A ladder or rope hung in order for the army and Raphtalia's party, who had circled to the rear, to climb onto the depths of the Spirit Turtle's shell.

It appeared that there were also wyvern-riding soldiers who boarded the Spirit Turtle favourably and were lending a hand.

All right.....

A crackling vibration transmitted through the Spirit Turtle.

This is.....

The Spirit Turtle turned to use and tried to fire its special move.

"Filo!" (shield)

"Kay!" (filo)

Filo hid behind my back.

The Spirit Turtle opened its mouth and fired that intense thunder, intending to wipe out its own foot together with us!

I immediately changed to the Wrath Shield.

Anger ignited in the depths of my heart

"Master" (filo)

Filo's arms and legs were covered in black flames.

Not yet..... I could endure it. Because Raphtalia and Filo were lending me their strength.

There was a dazzling flash, which was immediately followed by a loud roar one beat later.

I held out the shield and defended with the Wrath Shield.

..... There wasn't any pain like the last time.

As expected from the Wrath Shield. I'm unharmed.

As I thought that, and waited for the Spirit Turtle's attack, I realised a time counter had appeared in the corner of my vision.

4 : 37

This number that was decreasing every second.....

What the?

When the number fell to just below 4:30, the Spirit Turtle's attack ceased. All right, I withstood it. And then I realised. Somehow strength wouldn't enter my body.

"Master?" (filo)

What just occurred?

I checked my status.

.....My SP became 0!?

What the? Why was my SP 0?

It couldn't be that that Spirit Turtle's attack also drains SP, can it?

I changed to the Soul Eater Shield and recovered SP by stealing it from the swarming familiars with a counter-attack.

I summoned Meteor Shield.

The number that appeared when I changed into the Wrath Shield has disappeared.....

I have a bad premonition.

Could it be that that number was the duration that the shield couldn't control me, or otherwise Filo, converted into a numerical value?

It seems like something bad would happen if it reached 0.

The Spirit Turtle regenerated its burnt foot and trampled down on us.

"No way!" (shield)

Like before, I seized the Spirit Turtle's foot to halt it. If I changed to Wrath Shield, the Dark Curse Burning S would activate from the neighbouring attacks and Filo would be caught up in it. I can't change it until the very last moment.

When I did, the Spirit Turtle took a breath as though to say it was waiting. No matter how much, wasn't this a bit quick!?

Sweat dripped down my face unpleasantly.

It had an ability to drain SP.... would spit out a lightning attack with that recovered SP, and then sucked away the SP I acquired again.

I could remain uninjured with the Wrath Shield but my SP would be absorbed. I'd receive a lot of damage with the Soul Eater Shield but, because it invalidates the drain and steals SP, it would take time before the lightning attack could be fired.

So it's like this?

"Tsk! Shield Prison!" (shield)

I aimed at the Spirit Turtle's head and summoned a cage.

However, the cage was broken as soon as it appeared.

As expected, I can't encase something as large as that.

Well, it looks like I can't attack with Iron Maiden.

I withstood the next lightning attack by changing into the Wrath Shield.

However, I lost all the SP I had as compensation.

I changed back to the Soul Eater Shield to counter but.....

When I look to the vicinity, the familiars hadn't finished assembling together.

"Are you alright, Master?" (filo)

"Gu....." (shield)

Should I get on Filo and flee?

The power of that attack is no joke. If it misfired and hit the allied troops, it would have caused a serious loss.

I deployed Meteor Shield with the SP I just managed to recover.

"Filo, it might be painful but bear with it" (shield)

"Kay!" (filo)

I caught the lightning attack with Filo supporting me up.

"Guu....." (shield)

The lightning attack pierced through me for about 30 seconds.

It's a pain I've never felt when I was in my original world. This feeling was like receiving an electric shock together with the pain of my whole body being roasted.

..... My consciousness took a leap.

I chanted recovery magic concurrently with supporting magic invoked by the troops behind me.

My wounds healed but I lost physical strength and accumulated fatigue during the time I was recovering from the injury.

"Filo's also gonna go" (filo)

"I'll leave it to you" (shield)

If Filo could blow away the head, that would buy us some time.

Filo took the stance for her special move, established her aim and attacked.

"Spiral Strike!" (filo)

Filo's assault arrived at the Spirit Turtle's throat and pierced through.

And yet, it may be because Raphtalia wasn't there but, it didn't manage to sever the head.

Before our eyes, the Spirit Turtle's wound repaired itself with an unpleasant tearing sound.

"Fuee...." (filo)

Filo sought refuge in my barrier as she landed and dropped her shoulders in fatigue.

The Spirit Turtle once again opened its mouth to spit a lightning attack.

Wha..... did the time for the next attack shrink because of the damage!?

"Filo, get away the next time this guy tries to stomp on us" (shield)

"Kay!" (filo)

I braced myself so that Filo could have time for her magic to recover; Filo's feathers bristled as she concentrated.

Speaking of which, the duration of the Spirit Turtle's lightning attack and the time it takes for Filo to accumulate magic power is equal.

The Spirit Turtle spat out its lightning attack and I changed to the Wrath Shield to resist it.

And then, the Spirit Turtle's blackened leg regenerated again and it attempted to stomp on us.

"Now's the time!" (shield)

"Oka~y!" (filo)

Filo retreated back at a high speed and I stopped Spirit Turtle's trampling with the Wrath Shield, then started running towards its face.

Dark Curse Burning S activated and black flames coiled around with me as the centre.

The Spirit Turtle's leg and face was thoroughly burned by the cursed flames.

"How's that!" (shield)

Dark Curse Burning S has an effect of diminishing recovery. It might be able to seal that miraculous regeneration power.

If that's the case then stalling for time will be easy.

However.....the blackened leg and part of the face regenerated as if nothing happened.

"————— ! " (turtle)

W-What vitality.

"Master" (filo)

"Yeah, I know" (shield)

I changed the Wrath Shield into the Soul Eater Shield to economise the time. This will turn into.... quite a drawn-out battle.

Once again, I instructed Filo as I endured the lightning attack.

"Filo, please go and ask the queen, who's monitoring the timing, for the state of progress. This is quite relentless. Make them hurry up as much as possible" (shield)

"If I do that then Master will....." (filo)

Filo replied with a voice that seemed like it would break into tears at any moment.

"I'll be fine....." (shield)

".....okay" (filo)

That Spirit Turtle let out a mortifying cry, possibly because it couldn't steal any SP.

I think I can endure until the next discharge.

Filo kicked the enemy away.

"High Quick!" (filo)

With high speed, she ran down to where the queen was.

I materialised Meteor Shield with SP taken from the familiars, and repeated the action of pinning down the Spirit Turtle's foot.

It was difficult, because all the lightning attacks made the footing worse.

There were fissures caused by the earthquakes as well as crater ruins.

This is harder than I thought.....

The Spirit Turtle's familiars forcefully attacked the barrier made by Meteor Shield.

.....If I didn't learn those strengthening methods from the other heroes, wouldn't I have died?

Well, this situation is the fault of those other heroes.

<As one worthy of the origin of power, Filo is commanding: She's reread and understands the terms, blow away those creatures with a tornado of intense vacuum>

"Zweite Tornado!" (filo)

The familiars surrounding me were blown away by a tornado

"I'm back~!" (filo)

"How was it?" (shield)

"They're hurrying but said to hang in there for a bit longer" (filo)

"I see....." (shield)

"Ah, also, this is medicine to recover stamina" (filo)

Filo took out some medicine from a bag she wasn't carrying when she left, and gave it to me.

It was a candy-like medicine.

When I put it in my mouth, there was a minty taste. I felt like a bit of strength had returned to me.

"And this was also set aside for Master's use" (filo)

"What?" (shield)

....it was a Lukol pill [T/N: herbal supplement, used for Leukorrhea]

“Yes, yes” (shield)

I also put that in my mouth.

.....I felt more strength return than from the candy. When I checked the status magic, SP and MP was recovered.

The Lukol pill had a recovery effect. I'll remember that.

With this, the curtain closed on the long battle of suppressing the Spirit Turtle

I don't want to do this offense-defence thing a second time.

This repetition of sometimes using the Wrath Shield to resist, sometimes using the Soul Eater Shield to endure.

The barbarian's armour had become tattered here and there.

Its self-repairing was no longer able to catch up.

So intense.

“Haa.....Haa.....” (shield)

The Wrath Shield's time counter had dropped to below 0 : 30. Around this point, Filo also started tearing at her head seeming to be enduring something.

I also had a dark emotion taking over my heart, which made my mind start to become strange.

“M-Master..... Filo is already.....” (filo)

Filo, who wanted to release the anger that didn't have anywhere to strike, and I. We're almost at the limit.

I can't change to Wrath Shield any more.

"I understand. I won't change it any more! Endure it!" (shield)

"Okay" (filo)

I endured Spirit Turtle's lightning attack with the Soul Eater Shield.

How many times have I endured this roasting sensation. I'm already fed up with just this. Should we flee?

Just when I thought that, the illumination was fired at last.

"Alright! Let's go!" (shield)

"Hooray! Filo will do her best!" (filo)

The Spirit Turtle regenerated its foot, and in the instant it tried to stomp down, I got on Filo's back and passed through its legs at high speed.

Tsk! That Spirit Turtle, it's trying to crush us with its whole body.

The Spirit Turtle's stomach drew nearer second by second, as the ceiling was lowering.

"High Quick!" (filo)

Filo changed her course midway using a high speed movement, turned her back and escaped from the front, dodging earthquakes by leaping over them and changed direction as she landed.

And with a huge leap, she jumped onto the Spirit Turtle's shell.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 121 – The Inscription of the Heroes

---

“It’s good that we jumped on the Turtle, but…” (Naofumi)

The ground is shaking. More specifically, the Spirit Turtle’s whole body is shaking.

But its head can’t stretch far enough to look at its back. I don’t think it can concentrate on its shell.

I check my surroundings.

The place we landed is quite close to the ruined city.

The buildings give off a Chinese sort of feeling. Possible because of the Chinese legend that the Spirit Turtle carried the city of immortals on its back.

“Firo, can you sense where the army is?” (Naofumi)

“nn… Probably… that way?” (Firo)

Firo points to the mountain range outside of the city.

That direction is towards the back of the Turtle, so she’s probably correct.

“For now, let’s leave the city and meet up.” (Naofumi)

“Yes!” (Firo)

I get on Firo, and she runs towards the mountains.

... There are quite a few corpses littered around the ruined city. It seems the cause of death is attacks from the Spirit Turtle's familiars.

The cause of all of this is those three idiotic heroes.

Why would they do such a thing...

The putrid smell of rotting bodies is making me feel sick.

"Master, please hold Firo tightly." (Firo)

"Sure." (Naofumi)

Firo runs while kicking Familiars that look like Gorillas and Yetis.

Along the way, a familiars that looked like floating eyeballs and bats also appeared. These ones seem to be more powerful than the others.

But none of them are a match for the speeding blur that is Firo.

We still have yet to get out of the city.

... For a while, I have been seeing nothing but carcasses.

As I think this, I see the shadow of a person.

I wonder if it is one of the Army Soldiers...

But it is definitely a corpse. The dead bodies on the turtle's back have begun to move.

“Even after death, his body is being controlled by something… Something like that?” (Naofumi)

I’ve only ever seen Zombies in games. In reality, fighting them while looking at their decrepit faces is quite mortifying.

The only undead I have ever encountered before was Skeletons. Apparently, finding undead monsters that still had flesh is quite rare.

There’s no way I can fight these.

A child zombie appears and Firo is unable to kick.

“Let’s avoid it.” (Naofumi)

Even though Firo will happily eat most humanoid monsters, even she cannot bring herself to fight a child.

“I’m sorry master…” (Firo)

With amazing leg power, Firo jumps out of the swarm of Zombies that had begun to form.

If they were doomed to have such a fate after death, it would have been better if they had been hit by the Turtle’s lightning and been obliterated without leaving a trace.

But I’m just stating my opinion here.

“That girl… looked a bit like Melty” (Firo)

Melty is in the castle, but Firo’s imagination is running wild.

I couldn't see anything in that child that looked like Melty.

"Why would this Turtle make that child do such a thing?" (Firo)

Firo looks down at the ground.

That's right. I can't seem to see the turtle's goal.

It's not eating anything, it's just going around and killing as many things as it can.

As if killing in itself was its goal.

"We need to hurry to Oneechan." (Firo)

"Yeah...?" (Naofumi)

I see a building that looks like a temple.

The architecture is not of eastern origin. It looks like a Greek temple from my world.

In a game, a building like this would usually contain a useful clue or key item.

"Please stop by that building." (Naofumi)

"Yes~" (Firo)

I carefully peer inside.

Perhaps due to the Turtle's walking, the temple is half collapsed.

Is this the statue that the other heroes supposedly destroyed in here?

I search the temple but cannot find any artifact with a relation to the Turtle.

I should have probably gotten more information from the queen.

It seems that I am wasting my time.

“This is…!?” (Naofumi)

On a mural on the wall, I see some writing.

… It’s in Japanese.

“What is this…” (Naofumi)

If anyone is once again summoned here from Japan… if you are reading this, please… this.

Th… Monster was se… but the… Seven Eye seal will probably… ek someday.

From what we learned, his purpose is………… and to protect this world’s…………..

I pray that the blue sand…… and the seal never breaks.

Though having more victims may benefit this world.

Looking back, we have paid a large price by sealing this monster

But… be… greed. If you… read these letters… for the… living in this world… defeat… Monster.

...way to defeat it is......

... and then use the eight... courage... -Keiichi

(TL: The Hero's name, I don't know the exact pronunciation, 桂一)

(TL: BY THE WAY, THIS WAS REALLY A PAIN, I CAN'T REALLY HELP YOU DECYPHER THIS)

... The writing is faded and scratched out, so it is difficult to read.

But I can pretty much guess what is written by context.

Something like the seal we placed will someday break.

The dragon hourglass will turn blue and display a warning.

However, the Turtle's objective and the ever-so-important sealing procedure are illegible.

More victims may benefit the world? Even though this was left by a hero, I cannot make sense of it.

And this isn't an Anime or a Manga. Why is only the most important information omitted?

This writing seems to be very old, so I can't really complain to anyone.

The only piece of info I really got was the person's name, Keiichi.

I don't know his last name, but there was definitely a Hero of that name.

Apart from the cracks caused by the turtle's walking, this was already an old piece of writing. There isn't much else I can learn from this.

There's a high possibility he comes from a different Japan than me.

I don't know how long ago this Mural was painted, and I'm not sure that this world even records its history accurately.

But thinking about this won't really help anything.

Is the number eight connected to something? I can't read any of the text around it.

...

"Can Master read this?" (Firo)

"Yeah, sort of." (Naofumi)

"hm... these letters are a little weird." (Firo)

"Yes, these are not letters used in Melromark." (Naofumi)

By the way, it seems that the countries around here all have different languages and writing systems.

The shield acts as a translator, so I can probably manage with the language barrier, but as for writing...

"There doesn't seem to be anything else of interest, we should be on our way." (Naofumi)

“Yeah!” (Firo)

We leave the temple and continue towards the mountain.

“It will be difficult to locate Raphtalia and the others.” (Naofumi)

We enter the mountain range and continue heading towards the turtle’s rear.

It looked like a rocky mountain from afar, but the base of the mountains are surrounded by dense forests. It will be difficult to find the army squadron.

From what I know, the legends say that there is a cave that leads into the Turtle somewhere around here, so the army is probably searching for a cave as well.

There is also a possibility the entrance was somewhere in that village.

And where are the other heroes, anyways?

They could be inside the Turtle fighting, but they could just as easily be lost searching for the entrance on top.

“Firo, can you sense the others?” (Naofumi)

“Over there I think.” (Firo)

I leave navigations to Firo

Occasionally we find a soldier’s corpse lying around.

"We need to hurry." (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Firo)

Firo speeds up, and we find the army squadron locked in battle.

Since their forces are very large, it is difficult to miss them.

Raphtalia is on the front lines destroying the familiars one after the other. Those that can still move are aiding her in battle.

Rishia is frantically casting support magic from the rear.

There are also many who have deserted due to the onslaught of monsters.

"Alright Firo, We're helping them!" (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Firo)

Firo rushes in at the speed of sound and sends the familiars in front of Raphtalia flying with a kick.

"Naofumi-sama!" (Raphtalia)

"Yep, we've finally met up. What's the situation?" (Naofumi)

"We are in the middle of looking for the cave." (Raphtalia)

"You still haven't found it?" (Naofumi)

"According to the magic brigade, it is impossible to locate it with magic because the Turtle is constantly moving." (Raphtalia)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

So the troops have been manually searching for it whilst fending off attacks from these monsters.

The number of familiars seems to be infinite. That must have been difficult.

As I think this, an army recon squad comes running in.

"We have located a cave that seems to be the one we are looking for. Its appearance matches the one spoken of in legend." (Recon Person)

And the Recon squad leader points deeper into the mountains.

"That's good. I'll hold off the attacks, please lead us there." (Naofumi)

"Understood" (Recon Guy)

"Everyone, Follow the Hero of the Shield's lead!" (Army person)

"SIR YES SIR" (Entire army)

We continue to drive off the familiars and proceed to the cave the Recon Squad found.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 122 – Exploration

---

Naofumi: "Be careful."

Raphtalia: "Okay." "Read more..."

Raphtalia uses magic to create a ball of light that illuminates the cavern.

I am in the lead while Raphtalia, Firo, Rishia, and the allied forces follow along.

Eyeball-like familiars and caterpillar-like familiars were appearing from the walls of the cave, though they weren't that strong at fighting.

The problem is this cave.....This structure of it is as complex as a maze.....

The walls aren't living beings but stone and mud.

Naofumi: "Do you know the way?"

Soldier: "More or less, I was assigned to the reserves because I investigate caves in the past."

Naofumi: "That's helpful."

It would take too much time to map this place out from scratch after all.

We spread open the map to confirm the location.

As I thought, the cave has a complex maze-like structure.

The ironic thing is that there is another entrance at the back, where the town was.

Shit.....

Well, it can't be helped since I didn't know. In the first place, it was just Firo and I.

It would be meaningless if I didn't meet up with the group that is supposed to seal the heart.

The problem is.....it seems that the location of the heart isn't shown.

Perhaps it could be on the way, unless we can stop the spirit turtle from regenerating, we won't be able to stop it from advancing.

Doesn't seem very reliable huh.....

Naofumi:"Oh?"

After checking the map, I find a spot that is somewhat bigger than the rest. It would be a good idea to put together a search group and have the rest wait there.

Honestly, too many people would burden our movement.

There's no problems if there were guys that could match Raphtalia and Firo's level of performance, but it would be cruel to demand the same as these two from the rest.

Anyway, tricking the allied forces into thinking this is a break would be fine. Let's go with that.

deciding, I mark the large space on the map of the cave, and tell the allied forces the goal.

Eventually, the space opened up according to what was shown on the map. Originally I thought the map was based entirely on guesses, but it might be dependable after all.

It's good that we have arrived at our desired location, but.....

Firo:"There's some huge demon."

Within the large clearing is a large demon, which has a presence suitable to being the spirit turtle's familiar.

It would be useless to compare its huge total length to the other familiars.

Looks like the purpose of its deployment here at the plaza is to remove invaders like us, it's like that game prisoner's base.

(Tlnote: I'm sure most of you guys played this before in elementary.

http://www.gameskidsplay.net/games/chasing\_games/prisoners\_base.htm
)

It feels like a Mid-boss from RPGS.

It's the spirit turtle after all. This should be considerably stronger than the other small fries.

The problem is the number of them.

We can still keep our composure with just one, but if there are more it would be dangerous for the allied forces.

Raphtalia:"Since this is the case. What shall we do?"

It would be troublesome for another to appear after we defeat this one.....Should we just try it?

Naofumi:"Alright, fortunately there is only one, we will defeat it and then observe the circumstances. You guys in the allied forces, pay attention to the rear."

Soldiers:"Roger!"

Firo:"Okay~"

Rishia:"Fuee.....I'll do my best."

Naofumi:"Haah....."

As usual, Rishia said those words I warned her about.

Well, it's not like it's going to stop all the way just because I warned her.

Right now what Rishia needs is confidence and experience.

It would be nice if she could act like she did with the queen, I want her to become strong, not only from levels, but also from actual combat experience.

With that in mind, you could say that the spirit turtle is the perfect opponent for that.

.....Though it's just a slightly drastic measure.

Naofumi: "Alright, Charge!"

We charge towards the familiar that is occupying the plaza.

This is different from the gorillas and yetis outside.....A turtle-man type?

It's a monster that spans a full 4 meters in length.

Firo: "Teryaaa!"

Firo kicks the familiar's shell with all her might.

A loud crack resounded and the shell caved in, it was sent flying into a wall and its movements stopped.

Raphtalia: "Yaaaaaaa!"

With a flash of her sword, Raphtalia cuts off the familiar's head.

It's so unreliable.

Rishia was trying to attract its attention with weak magic attacks, and she also supported Raphtalia.

In the case that we are targeted, I have the meteor shield up to defend. For the time being her understanding of cooperation is lacking. Just a passing mark.

Or rather, the cooperation itself isn't a problem. We can expand on that after strengthening her body.

The problem is that her abilities are affected by her status.

.....What was she concentrating on before?

Raphtalia:"This thing is quite disappointing."

Raphtalia swings the blood off her sword after confirming the annihilation of the familiar.

It was certainly much weaker than expected.

I mean the spirit turtle was so tough. Was I too cautious?

No, the allied force is behind me. Being very cautious is just right.

Firo:"Yup. It was only a little bit hard."

Raphtalia:"Firo did you kick the hardest place intentionally?"

Firo:"Because everything else is soft~"

Raphtalia:"That's wasted movement."

The two of them are having a silly conversation.

It's like a conversation between a genius and a prodigy.

Rishia:"The two of them are very strong."

Naofumi:"Rishia."

Rishia:"Fuee-----I'll make that my goal!"

Hrmm.....Put in the effort and strive to get there, don't just say it.

This has completely become a habit.

Naofumi:"As for reinforcements.....it doesn't seem like there are any."

Raphtalia:"Seems that way."

Apparently there is no trap that causes us to defeat the thing endlessly.

Soldiers:"Amazing....."

The group of allied forces expresses to us.

To us, I can say that I thought it was weak, but.....

What is the average level?

If it's around level 60 it should cry.

Shadow:"Hero of the Shield-dono."

Shadow appears. Speaking of which, where were you?

The knife in her hand was drenched in the blood of familiars, so it looks like she was fighting somewhere else.

Naofumi:"What happened?"

Shadow:"I am investigating this place according to the plan degojaru."

Naofumi:"Right.....I mean, why did you come?"

Shadow:"As per the plan, I was assigned to guard the allied forces degojaru. Other than, the queen told me to ask Hero of the Shield-dono for orders deojaruyo."

Naofumi:"That's fine."

To have shadow guard the allied forces.....For the time being this guy can act as a military unit.

Are the familiars of the Spirit turtle that strong?

Well..... I should regard the allied forces as a special unit that seals the spirit turtle.

I'll calculate where I should assign our combat ability.

Naofumi:"Alright! To each of you from the allied forces, I intend to search for the spirit turtle's heart with this place as a base. It is important for everyone to protect this place. We will begin the search."

Allied Forces:"R-Roger that!"

The tension is gone as the allied forces cautiously being to rest in plaza. It seems they have become considerably fatigued from the extreme tension and continuous fighting.

I didn't expect that they would fight till they were this tired.....

Is it the shield's influence?

Or is it just that Raphtalia and Firo are strange?

In any case, without thinking about various things we won't be able to reseal the spirit turtle.

Naofumi:"Shadow.....Do you know the average level of the allied forces?"

Shadow:"The average level of the military units for sealing the heart of the spirit turtle is 65 degojaru."

.....It's not as bad as expected.

What? Is the difference with growth correction this big!?

Since Rishia's stats are so low, is this the standard without growth correction?

No no, I expect that's not the case.

Since Itsuki's reason for dismissing Rishia is because she is weak.

.....That Rishia at least has some war potential now thanks to the Firo costume.

Should I ask the old man to make more Firo costumes? There are only two pieces of material required.

Mass production of the Firo costume huh.....

I wonder if it's possible by plucking Firo's feathers.

Firo:"!?"

Suddenly Firo's feathers stand on end restlessly like a wave.

Raphtalia:"What's happening?"

Firo:"Something strange is in the air!"

I didn't say anything and she still noticed.

.....What a sharp fellow. It seems plucking her feathers is impossible.

Naofumi:"Shadow is stronger than that fellow though."

I know since we fought together a little back on Cal Mira Island.
Having a unit that is on Shadow's level is extremely convenient, they should be useful.

Shadow: "Temporarily, our assassination unit will enter the battlefield degojarukara, we are knowledgeable on levels and martial arts deojaru."

Naofumi: "Then take half of the shadow corps to defend, and the remaining half to search."

Shadow: "Understood degojaru. That being said, right now there are considerably less shadows degojarukara, please don't expect too much degojaru."

Naofumi: "I know."

The shadows tailing the other heroes are missing.....They probably can't move due to the situation, or dead in the worst case scenario.

To that extent the allied forces should be more dependable when including them.

Anyway, the strategy has been decided.

There is still a long way to go. We will look for the heart as the allied forces take a break.

Naofumi: "Rishia, you wait here and fight with the allied forces if demons appear."

Rishia: "U-Understood!"

Naofumi: "Raphtalia and Firo, you two are searching with me. Firo use your nose. I'll be relying on you."

Firo:"Okay~! I'll do my best~!"

Raphtalia:"Roger."

We left Rishia behind and we advanced towards the caves that started to diverge.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 123 - Blue Hourglass

---

How many dead ends does this make now?

I check the map, and confirm that everything is mapped out.....The road connected to the heart of the spirit turtle still hasn't been found.

Naofumi:"Hmmmm....."

Sometimes we encounter familiars, but they aren't a problem since Raphtalia and Firo are here.

Every time we come across a dead-end, we head back to where Rishia and the allied forces are to confirm it.

They encountered some familiars several times as well, but somehow they were able to defeat it with Rishia leading the way.

With those stats..... It's thanks to the Firo costume

Naofumi:"Shit....."

As this continued, the spirit turtle approached human villages and we started getting impatient.

In the first place, this kind of cave, as long as the spirit turtle isn't some artificial life form, shouldn't the dungeon walls be made of meat?

I wonder. It feels like we haven't even found the entrance yet.

Or is this cave itself a mistake?

According to the map this should be the bottom layer but.....

Shadow:"Hero of the Shield-dono."

Shadow appears and updates my map.

.....All the dead ends have been filled out.

Naofumi:"What happened? Was there a mistake in the legend?"

Shadow:"Not exactly degojaruka..... A hidden door has been confirmed degojaruga."

Firo:"Hey Master~"

Firo is having a good time kicking the ground.

Naofumi:"Can you check one more time? Or should I just go ahead and dig?"

A tool to dig will be necessary.....That reminds me, I have a digging skill.

Firo:"Hey."

Shadow:"The allied forces have already packed their luggage degojaru."

Firo:"Hey!"

Naofumi:".....What!?"

Firo is trying to get my attention by calling out.

Firo:"Umm you see. The floor.....Isn't it kind of strange?"

Firo rubs her foot on the ground and hits it.

By the way, there are no echoes, and I even confirmed that there is no hidden floor.

Naofumi:"What's strange about it?"

Firo:"It's a living creature."

Naofumi:"Of course we're inside the a mountain on the back of a giant monster."

Firo:"That's not it!"

Firo smacks her foot on the floor again.

The floor ripples with a boing sound.

Naofumi:"Hm?"

That sound.....It was strange.

Come to think of it.....That strong acid water from the intermediate class recipes that I wasn't able to make before should be suitable here.

I recall exactly how and make the it with my shield.

Naofumi:"Firo stay back a little."

Firo:"Okay~"

I take the strong acid water from the shield and pass it to Raphtalia.

Naofumi:"Scatter that."

Raphtalia:"Ah, Okay."

Raphtalia scatters the strong acid water on to the ground.

Spirit Turtle:"-----!"

The floor wriggles and reveals its true form!

The mucus bodied huge eyeball opens up like mochi, and a turtle shell appears in its place.

(TInote: Mochi is a japanese rice cake. As for what's happening, it's like this <http://imgur.com/EH3CyDz> but with a giant eyeball (ew))

Shadow:"I see, so it is a mimic type familiar degojaruka, no wonder we couldn't find it degojaru."

Naofumi:"Since it was dormant, it didn't show any signs of being alive, so that's why we were never able to sense it."

To think that even Shadow and Firo couldn't sense it.....What a splendid cheat-like familiar.

Naofumi:"Kill them!"

Firo:"Okay~"

Raphtalia:"Roger!"

Shadow:"I too shall go degojaru!"

Every attack on a mimic type familiar kills it.

The mimic type familiars shrink like a slug and then disappear into vapor when they die.

Shadow:"So the path was concealed in such a place degojaruna."

When we confirm the disappearance of the last familiar, a path appeared. That means, all dead ends up until now are doubtful.

That being said, let's proceed down this path first.

Naofumi: "Let's go."

All members nod and follow me.

After advancing a little, I felt the wall, temperature, and air change.

The wall itself is warm and pulsating.

Firo: "This feels strange."

Raphtalia: "That's right.....I feel a little sick."

Firo: "Does Firo's mouth feel the same?"

.....What an unpleasant thought.

It does seem like Firo to say something like that huh?

Naofumi: "I wonder if we entered the spirit turtle's body."

It still feels like a cave though, but it's for real now.

Our foothold is squishy, and pulsing could be heard.

Anyway, let's verify where the heart is.

Thinking about it, the demons and white clumps flying towards us are like platelets under a microscope.

(Tlnote: <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Platelet> )(Tlnote2: as for the white clumps 白い塊 I googled it and I lost my appetite.)

Thanks to my meteor shield repelling them , Raphtalia and Firo were able to kick them around.

Apparently, these familiars appear to be the immune system.

Every now and then, parasite-like caterpillar would appear, spreading potent acid wherever they go.

Naofumi:"It would seem that bringing the allied forces here would be hard."

The demons appear quite frequently. Since we are getting close to the heart, the defense would be stronger.

Shadow:"Shall I return and guide them here deogjaruka?"

Naofumi:"No, we haven't found the heart yet. In the first place, there is no conclusive evidence that this is the correct path either. We'll get to where it's at and clear it out."

Shadow:"Understood degojaru."

As we advanced forwards a little, a red muscle dangling from something is blocking our path.

.....Either way, a gimmick of this kind will just be cut open.

Naofumi:"Raphtalia, cut through it."

Raphtalia:"Ah, Okay."

Raphtalia cuts the red muscle.

The wall of meat opens up and a path appears.

Shadow:"Houu.....You understand it well degojaruna."

Naofumi:"I don't know about the other heroes, but frankly that muscle was suspicious..... I do know a few things you know."

Shadow:"So that's how it is degojaruka."

Now then, after advancing a bit, what blocked our way this time is a blue muscle.

Haah.....Even if you change it a bit, the path is still here.

Naofumi:"Raphtalia"

Raphtalia:"Okay!"

After cutting it down in the same fashion, the path in front opens up, but the red muscle behind us is restored.

Uggh. So troublesome.

Furthremore, just like a warning, every time we cut down a muscle, demons from the immune system appear.

Though.....We advanced quite far.....

We heard the beating of a giant heart from behind a door.

After cutting open a blue muscle we found it.

However, after seeing the inside, the double doorway in front of us closed.

That's troublesome, it seems that unless we cut somewhere else, this won't open completely.

Naofumi:"As if I'd let you! Raphtalia, cut the red tube!"

Raphtalia:"O-Okay!"

After cutting open the red one, the inner part of the door opened.....I rush forwards while deploying the meteor shield.

Naofumi:"Firo! There should be another muscle somewhere, tear it up!"

Firo:"Mkay!"

The meteor shield makes a cracking sound.

It seems the attack outside was more concentrated.

After Firo checks the area, she uses Spiral • Strike to tear apart the muscle on the wall, and that causes massive bleeding.

Spirit Turtle:"-----!"

I heard a voice that could be from the heart in the interior.

It was probably painful.

Regeneration.....Seems like it's trying.

Do we have 30 seconds?

Naofumi:"Let's go!"

Raphtalia:"Okay!"

I advance through the path opened to the heart.

After a while I discover a white muscle. The rear opened when it was cut.

Ha! Obediently let me conquer you!

Naofumi:"Shadow, if continuing through this place is the path, then it is your duty to report it."

Shadow:"Understood deojaru. Do you want me to carry out the order now degojaruka?"

Naofumi:"No, After a little more."

Before long, an out-of-place blue building came into view.....

It was a blue Hourglass of the Dragon's Era.

The size of it is smaller than the hourglass in Melromarc. Just that, I insist this is an existence floating inside the body of the spirit turtle somewhere. (TInote: I'm not sure about this line. No matter what I try it seems weird to me.)

Naofumi: "Hourglass of the Dragon's Era.....?"

Raphtalia: "It's blue."

Shadow: "That's right degojaruna."

Firo: "There's less sand."

Right, as Firo said, there is less sand in this blue Hourglass of the Dragon's era compared to the other one.

Firo: "Also, what are those letters of there~?"

On the middle of the Hourglass of the Dragon's Era are seven familiar letters that aren't of this world.

What on earth could it be?

Also on the hourglass..... there is a mark similar to a scale.

The whole thing seems to only have about 1/10th of its quantity left.

I try to gently touch it.

And my hand slips through, it seems I won't be able to touch the blue hourglass.

Something is different about this Hourglass of the Dragon's era from the country's.

That one has the function of informing us when the next wave will appear and Class up, but I don't understand what this can do.

Naofumi: "There's no use worrying. Our first priority is to confirm it."

Raphtalia: "Okay!"

Naofumi: "It will be fine to investigate it later."

Firo: "Okay~"

After advancing past the blue hourglass for a little, we discover the heart. Its magnitude was more than 6 meters, the heart is divided into two different colours.

Naofumi: "So this is the heart of the spirit turtle huh."

Shadow: "Looks that way degojaruna. It's a very ominous creature degojaru."

An eye directs its gaze towards our voices.

No matter how you look at it, that is not a welcoming gaze.

Spirit Turtle: "-----!!"

Do we seal this guy?

*Pew, light hits the meteor shield and is reflected off.

(TLnote: ジュツ I have no idea, but it's light so I'll just go with pew)

Furthermore, a high-powered laser is discharged from the eye.

The eye on the heart of the spirit turtle opens wide and vibrates.

Familiars of the spirit turtle appear out of nowhere.

What a troublesome opponent. It's not necessary for us to fight it, we'll have to group up with the allied forces to come and seal it.

It can probably call an unlimited amount of familiars.

Naofumi:"Should we weaken it for now? Shadow go back."

Raphtalia:"Okay!"

Firo:"Mkay!"

Shadow:"Understood degojaruyo."

Raphtalia and Firo jump out from the barrier and attack the heart of the spirit turtle.

Both of them can't help but unleash their respective finishing moves.

Raphtalia:"Yin-Yang Sword!"

Firo:"Critical Quick~"

Both their attacks hit the eye of the spirit turtle's heart.

Spirit Turtle"-----!!"

hey hey, it's raging it's raging. The vicinity around us vibrates.

A huge magic formation develops on the heart of the spirit turtle.

It seems to be doing something.

Naofumi:"Raphtalia, Firo, get back."

Raphtalia:"Roger."

Firo:"Okay~!"

Both of them fall back within the range of the meteor shield as I prepare for the attack.

The spirit turtles heart shoots..... a black ball of magic at me.

I receive it.

The meteor shield shatters like glass.

When the black ball hits the shield and light is distorted.

My body is heavy!

This magic is super gravity.

My body feels incredibly heavy.

However, my defensive power won't be suppressed by something of this degree!

Naofumi: "Deryaaaaaaaaa!"

I divert the ball of light to the right, and the ball of supergravity is repelled. As expected, I won't be hit with something as powerful as that electric attack from outside.

Well, that's what it feels like. I don't think the spirit turtle would do something that would destroy its own heart.

And so, the tube streaming around the spirit turtle's heart is analyzed.....Some kind of white spirit is circulating through it. it is scattered around the room centering from the heart.

Naofumi: "Meteor Shield!"

I once again put up the meteor shield.

.....I should receive it, once.....what kind of attack is it?

I must receive it to analyze it..... Though for now I should be careful.

Naofumi: "Alright, we're not going to fight now. We'll withdraw and bring the allied forces here."

Shadow: "Roger deojaru."

We postpone the battle against the spirit turtle's heart and withdraw.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 124 – Heart of the Spirit Tortoise

---

Rishia:"A-Are you guys alright!?"

When we came back, Rishia and the allied forces greeted us.

Naofumi:"We found the heart."

Soldiers:"Ohh!"

The allied forces let out delighted voices.

The problem is getting these guys there.

Just like a while ago, it would be difficult to get to the heart.

Naofumi:"How is the damage?"

Soldier:"Before Hero-sama returned we were attacked by demons nine times. There have been some victims."

Naofumi:"Fumu. Anyways, victory is before our eyes."

Rishia:"Umm.....did you find Itsuki-sama?"

Naofumi:"No we did not."

Come to think of it, the other heroes still haven't been found.

Did we just miss them?

That's a pretty painful thought. Since there are hidden floors here. They might have entered by destroying if they knew.

Could they be fighting somewhere else on this mountain?

No.....Surely they witnessed that disastrous scene in the town. Normally after seeing a scene like that, the subjugation of the spirit turtle would become top priority.

So far my analysis of those guys tell me that they aren't bad to that extent.

No way, did they get annihilated after all?

This thing is a monster. So I can't deny that possibility.

Should I prepare for the worst case scenario?

Rishia:"I see....."

Naofumi:"Don't be discouraged. It's better than finding a corpse."

Rishia:"Fuee---Okay."

Orders to protect would be evaluated higher. They shouldn't be that desperate.

(TInote: Not sure about this line.)

Naofumi:"It's fine to look for the other heroes after we seal the spirit turtle. You guys from the allied forces come with us. From now on, the demon's attacks will become even more intense. Prepare yourselves. Even heroes aren't almighty, if possible try to protect yourselves!"

Soldiers: ""Yes!""

The group of allied forces nod and raise their voice at my instructions.

After this..... Let's concentrate on which units that I expect will make it to the heart.

It has to be that huh. I had to rely on volunteers last wave since I was weak. Yup.

When I think about future waves and fighting with the strength of others.....it's harsh.

How many sacrifices will there be.....

We bring the allied forces and head back to the depths of the cave.

Along the way, I explain to the allied forces the various attacks of the spirit turtle's heart.

Also for them not to be defeated between the gaps of Meteor Shield, Air Strike Shield, and Second Shield's protection.

Soldier:" As expected of the Hero of the Shield-sama, to go through the effort of analysing the enemy to prevent our sacrifice."

Naofumi:"I.....guess so."

It's not possible to protect.

It's not possible to defend them against the attacks of the opponent when they are attacking as well.

I am only conveying that.

Naofumi:"Just that, I wasn't able to grasp the real nature of the white lump attack that the heart fired before our withdrawal. Be careful."

Soldiers:""""Roger!""""

The familiars that appeared along the way were barely beaten by Raphtalia, Firo, Rishia, and the allied force's attacks.

When the cave walls became walls of meat, the allied soldier's breathes got taken away.

As everyone carefully proceeded, the sound of the heart beating could be heard.

Opening the Red muscle and closing the blue line were assigned to the allied forces, while Raphtalia and Firo dealt with the attacks from the front and behind by familiars.

Those parasites that suddenly appear are a problem. They appeared when the meat walls were torn down so the response was late.

There were some casualties.

Mental fatigue started appearing on the group of allied forces.

When someone was caught by the immune-system like familiars.....He was melted right before our eyes.

(TInote: Ew.)

Those with weak spirits vomited on the spot.

Naofumi:"Don't stop! Anybody who stops here becomes their prey!
Anybody who is separated has no hope!"

I lead the way and protect, while Raphtalia and Firo defeat the enemies.
And shadow was standing by, at the last gate mechanism.

Naofumi:"Heeey."

When I call out the door opens.

Naofumi:"Are you okay?"

Shadow:"I wouldn't be opening the door if I wasn't safe degojaruyo."

Naofumi:"I guess so."

Since she is good at hiding, there doesn't seem to be any problems.

As I thought, Shadow is dependable.

This is just my selfish wish, but I want a companion like Shadow.

Naofumi: "Alright, the spirit turtle's heart is just beyond this point. Everyone from the allied forces, I'll be relying on you."

Raphtalia: "Right. But Don't start until we weaken the spirit turtle's heart."

.....That's right.

Well, there shouldn't be any problems considering Raphtalia, Firo, and Shadow's attack power.

Even Rishia and the group of allied forces should be able to have some effect due to their numbers.

Soldier: "It takes time to prepare the ceremony."

Naofumi: "So we should be playing for time then?"

There's this too?

Can't be helped.....

Naofumi: "You guys can't prepare the cast beforehand?"

Soldier: "Right.....The ceremony requires us to stay within a certain range."

So it's come down to that huh.

During that time, the power of defence from the shield will be useful.

Naofumi: "Then I'll protect you guys from the allied forces as you concentrate on the ritual. Everyone else will defeat the familiars that appear while Raphtalia and Firo weakens the heart."

Raphtalia: "Understood!"

Firo: "Okay~!"

Soldier: "Roger!"

I see Rishia making a face that asks what she should do.

Rishia: "What should I do?"

Naofumi: "You are--....."

What she should do is a delicate question.

(TInote: 微妙なライン Delicate Line?)

She is more reliable than the group of allied forces, but I feel anxious for her compared to Raphtalia.

Her movements have become faster, the person in question is also delighted about that.....Though there is fear that she doesn't understand what is ahead.

Naofumi: "I'll entrust Rishia to cover the rear. Before you go, your job is to report to me if something unexpected happens."

Rishia: "O-Okay....."

This is the only thing to do for now.

On the way, everybody held their breaths due to the blue hourglass. It is still somehow intimidating.

Huh? Did the sand increase slightly?

No, It's just my imagination. Some sand might have collapsed due to swaying slightly.

Now, let's head to the decisive battle.

Soldier: "This is.....the spirit turtle's heart....."

Somebody from the allied forces expresses.

It is certainly ominous.

The spirit turtle's heart lets out a sound that's like a roar.

The eye opens widely and its pulsation strengthens.

I remember from a while ago.

Yeah, we won't withdraw this time, and we will defeat you.

Naofumi: "Let's go!"

Everyone: ""Oohh-----!""

The magic corps from the allied forces starts preparing the ceremony by chanting magic.

Following up, Raphtalia and Firo start attacking the spirit turtle's heart.

And the other allied forces start cutting down the familiars that appear.

I interfere with the familiars aiming at the magic corps with Highten Reaction, Air Strike Shield, and Second Shield, I also use Change Shield to give status debuffs.

In addition Shield Bash is also utilised.

My SP decreases considerable, and I use the Soul Eat ability on the Soul Eater Shield to replenish. I also use a convenient Sp recovery (Small).

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama! As expected, there is a lot!"

Firo: "Yeah! There is no end."

Since the fight we had before was just reconnaissance, our combat time was short. Due to that, we couldn't measure the number of reinforcements.....

Familiars are appearing in the room with the spirit turtle's heart from the wall, the ground, and the ceiling.

The heart doesn't remain silent, and throws all of its familiars at us, and also shoots lasers.

The spirit turtle's heart is aiming towards the magic corps that is reciting the magic for the seal.

What's this? Does it intend to fire something?

A magic formation appears on the eye of the spirit turtle's heart.

Is it the supergravity magic!?

The magic begins to form at high-speed.

It's something else!

I stand in front of the magic crops and ready my shield.

Immediately after that I realise that my hunch was correct.

A high output laser was released from the heart's pupil.

Naofumi: "Whoa!"

Several people who were in the way of the laser were disintegrated without a trace, and when it hit my shield, I was blown a few steps back.

Naofumi:"Damn....."

This laser doesn't end like the normal ones, it is still going. It is a very thick beam. Sort of like a deadly attack from a game.

The firepower is lower than the electric shock, but it would do more than hurt if I was hit.

Naofumi:"Deryaa!"

I change the angle of the shield, and deflect the laser.

The ceiling of the heart room was scorched.

Fresh blood drips from the ceiling.

Well, it regenerates in a bit, as if it was never there in the first place.

Raphtalia:"Naofumi-sama!"

Firo:"Are you okay?"

Naofumi:"Yeah, No problems here."

The one outside was still stronger. The heart probably can't withstand it though.

We can win when the sealing ceremony is completed.

Naofumi:"Is the magic seal not completed yet?"

Soldier:"Just wait a little longer!"

Naofumi:"Alright, Raphtalia and Firo use your best attack to weaken it."

Raphtalia:"Okay!"

Firo:"Okay~!"

According to my instructions, Raphtalia and Firo use their finishing attacks.

Raphtalia: "Yin-Yang Sword!"

Firo: "Critical Quick-!"

The spirit turtle's heart starts to shake in agony as the ceiling starts to tremble.

Not yet?

Does damaging the monster's source of vitality weaken it?

For the time being let's concentrate our attacks.....I have a very bad feeling for some reason.

Raphtalia: "With this--"

Firo: "How's this!"

Raphtalia and Firo cut apart several tubes that are connected to the spirit turtle's heart.

Spirit Turtle: "-----!?"

The movement of the eye on the heart weakens remarkably.

With this we should be able to buy some more time before the sealing magic completes.

Soldier: "It's completed!"

Naofumi: "Alright! Go!"

Soldier: "Okay!"

""We command the origin of power. We have read and deciphered the truth, Four spirits of calamity, become the wedge that stops the spirit turtle here and now!""

Hm!?

The spirit turtle's heart starts to move suspiciously.

A large white mass circulates through the heart and scatters in all directions!

Solider: "High Class Group----!?"

The white mass flies everywhere, including towards the allied forces.

I use Meteor Shield, Shield Prison, Air Strike Shield, and Second Shield to defend the magic corps as much as possible.

Naofumi: "Whoa!"

Rishia: "Kyaa--"

Naofumi: "Damn....."

However, a small part of the attack wasn't prevented completely, and it hits the rear.

As I was holding the shield in front, I look back.

Damn.....There were an unexpectedly large amount of casualties.

Naofumi: "A-Are you guys okay!?"

Soldier: "My apologies, we have failed....."

A person from the magic corps reports to me.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 125 – Possibilities

---

“Not Yet! Report your situation!” (Naofumi)

“The people who received the attack have yet to recover. We are confirming the situation.” (Soldier)

How is the front line holding up?

I look towards Raphtalia and Firo, who are currently battling around the heart.

The assaulting familiars seem to be endless. Both of them are exhausted.

When the chance comes, they break through and reach my location, but their faces are pale.

“A-are you two alright?!” (Naofumi)

“Y-yes… but… my Mana is…” (Raphtalia)

“Yeah… you know… they absorbed our mana…” (Firo)

Ku… how troublesome. This attack has the same effect as the electric blast from the head.

I receive an information report from the back line.

“A large number of troops have died from Mana depletion.” (Soldier)

“How is the situation on the front?” (Naofumi)

"Because of the Hero of the Shield's protection, they have begun to prepare the sealing magic for the heart." (Soldier)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

For my Drain resistance to come in handy in a place like this...

The casualties are great, but we will still be able to carry out the mission.

"It might be difficult, but please finish the sealing preparations as quickly as possible!" (Naofumi)

"S-sir yes sir!" (Magicians)

By this pattern...

The Spirit turtle's heart begins releasing the magic energy it has stored up.

I rush in front and hold up my shield to deflect the blasts of energy.

"_____!" (Spirit Turtle)

"Gu-..." (Naofumi)

The output is even higher than before.

The white masses the heart had released are now re-assimilating with it to increase the output.

Long! The duration of this attack is much higher than any of the others I have withstood. My HP begins to drop.

“Guuuuuuuuuu-…” (Naofumi)

I can't change my position or the blast will be reflected on our forces.

“Mu… Don't use Firo's power to hurt Master!” (Firo)

Firo takes a stance.

“Raphtalia Oneechan, Costume wearing Oneechan! Please keep monsters away from Firo for a little bit.” (Firo)

“Y-yes!” (Raphtalia)

“I Understand!” (Rishia)

Raphtalia and Rishia get into formation and repel the swarms of monsters from Firo.

“Suuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuu-…” (Firo)

Firo takes a very deep breath.

I can feel the wind gathering around her.

The white masses that had returned to the heart are being pulled away.

More specifically, Firo is sucking them in.

The white clumps are forcefully pulled towards Firo, being drawn to her strong magic.

Soon, the magic blast weakens.

“Good job, Firo!” (Naofumi)

“Gepu-” (Firo)

I look behind me and see Firo waving happily. She looks slightly more inflated than before.

…Did she eat those things?

“Payback.” (Firo)

Firo faces the heart and opens her mouth. Something comes out.

I think it is the air that she sucked into her body.

A sphere of pressurized air flies towards the heart.

“_____!!!” (Spirit Turtle)

The turtle hastily deploys a magic barrier around its heart, as if it sensed the dangers presented by Firo’s attack.

The familiars, as if protecting the organ, fly head on into the ball of air.

But the sphere merely sucks in any monster that gets close, and continues to fly at the heart.

A large sound fills the area, and the magic barrier around the heart breaks.

The heart is reconstructing its defenses. It’s the perfect time to activate the seal.

“Now!” (Naofumi)

“Ha!” (Magicians)

『We have read and understood the origin of power. It is the time for the Truth of the world to manifest. Now become that chains that binds one of the four: the Spirit Turtle, this beast of Calamity! 』

A large magic circle appears centered around the heart.

The turtle is currently focused on healing the damage caused by Firo’s attack, it is unable to perform a follow-up attack.

This is the end!

「Large Scale Covenant Spell: ‘Magic Sealing’!」

Ribbons appear from the magic circle, and begin encircling the heart, which has almost finished repairing itself.

“_____!?” (Spirit Turtle)

Badump… badump… ba… dump… ba… (TL: If you have a better onomatopoeia, be my guest.)

The beating sound of the heart gets fainter, and eventually fades into nothingness.

The monsters outside seem to have also stopped. From the next room, I can hear some noise.

“YYYYEEEEAAASSSS!” (Soldiers)

They are celebrating.

“Victory! We Won!” (Soldier)

“Hooray!” (Soldier)

“It was long and difficult, but we finally did it!” (Soldier)

(TL: death flags all around)

Fuu……..

“Oneechan, Firo is returning these.” (Firo)

“? Firo, what are you doing?” (Raphtalia)

Firo suddenly throws up all of the white clumps she had inhaled at Raphtalia. Are they Spirit attribute? Maybe I should absorb them.

Raphtalia’s face color is getting better as the Drain effect wears off, but her expression is getting much, much worse. It’s as if a bug had dropped down her back.

Slapping the White clumps away, Raphtalia begins chasing Firo around in rage.

“Oy, Firo! I definitely won’t let you off easily!” (Raphtalia)

“Ahaha~” (Firo)

*Sigh* It seems we were somehow able to finish the sealing.

“...- Master!?” (Firo)

Firo suddenly stops. Her face is pale.

Badump! Badump!

The heart beat sounds resume.

With the sound of breaking glass, the magic circle breaks apart.

“How could this be!?” (Naofumi)

“Firo did her best, so why?” (Firo)

The eye on the heart grows very large, and releases the beam attack once more.

“This thing knows not when to give in!” (Raphtalia)

“Yeah!” (Firo)

“Was it a failure?” (Naofumi)

“No... the spell went perfectly... but it was able to shrug it off with ease.”
(Magician)

Dammit! Damn it all!

We don't have any forces left. The head has regenerated. We cannot seal the heart.

... No there still has to be a way. I can't give in.

“Raphtalia, Firo, can you handle it?” (Naofumi)

“Leave it to me.” (Raphtalia)

“Yes!” (Firo)

Both Raphtalia and Firo prepare to unleash their respective strongest attacks.

Even though it’s broken free, there must be some information I can gain from this exchange.

“Tell the troops in the back lines to fall back!” (Naofumi)

“B-but-” (Soldier)

“If possible, try to support these two, otherwise, tell them to focus on protecting themselves. Worse comes to worst we will have to retreat!”
(Naofumi)

“U-understood!” (Soldier)

The army follows my command and withdraws the back line.

And Raphtalia, Firo, Me, Shadow and Rishia prepare for battle.

「Zveit Aura」 (Naofumi)

I cast support magic on the party. The two rush forward.

「Spiral Strike!」 (Firo)

「Hakke Destiny Slash」 (Raphtalia)

(TL: Hakke, Japanese pronunciation for Bagua <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Bagua>)

Forward! This may be rash, but there are no other options.

“_____!?” (Spirit Turtle)

The two fighters rush the Heart of the Spirit Turtle. The turtle tries to summon familiars to protect it.

But those two are putting all their magic remaining into this strike. The familiars have no effect.

There is a grotesque sound. The heart has been pierced.

“...” (Raphtalia)

“This is the limit” (Firo)

“I understand... please stand down.” (Naofumi)

I observe the heart. Just as when it had been sealed, the beating has stopped. Did we do it?

Most of the arteries around it have been reduced to scraps of flesh. The heart itself has a large hole in the center.

If it could recover from this, it would truly be immortal.

...badump.

____!?

Before my very eyes, the arteries restore themselves and the hole begins to close.

“Wha…” (Raphtalia)

“What tenacity…” (Naofumi)

“Fueeeeeeeeeeeee…” (Rishia)

I also want to say Fueeee.

“The mission… was a failure-gojaru. We must call a retreat-gojaru.”
(Shadow)

“And after that? Can the seven star heroes win against a Monster like this?”
(Naofumi)

Out of rage, I unintentionally speak my mind.

“T-that may be so-jaru… but staying here will not accomplish anything-gojaru.” (Shadow)

“Ku…” (Naofumi)

Shadow’s right. Nothing has come out of fighting for hours inside of this thing.

Where is it getting all of this vitality?

If a monster like this appeared in a game, then no one would buy it.

“... I understand. We'll retreat for now and think of another plan.”

(Naofumi)

“... Sir yes sir.” (Soldier)

The hearts of the soldiers is heavy.

To fail after we had found victory. The mental damage inflicted is quite high.

Carefully avoiding danger, I lead the men away from the heart and out of the Turtle's body.

“It will be easier to escape from the town than from the mountains.”

(Naofumi)

The mountain path is heavily sloped. With the earthquakes caused by the moving turtle, the footing is unstable.

Though we may have to deal with the rubble, it will probably be safer to dismount from the town area.

“We are thankful to you for finding a safe escape route.” (Commander)

The army's commander gives me words of thanks.

“Don't mind it. Protecting is my duty.” (Naofumi)

But... for all our efforts to come out in vain...

The only information we got was that the sealing magic didn't work.

Is there no way to win?

I fend off monsters as we head towards the exit in the town.

"This is..." (Naofumi)

It's a building similar to the temple I investigated with Firo.

"It seems to be a temple-gojaru." (Shadow)

"You can tell?" (Naofumi)

"I have been trained in scouting out buildings-gojaru. There are lithographs of the messages left by the heroes all over the place -gojaru." (Shadow)

"Lithographs? Are they of the message I saw in the other temple?"
(Naofumi)

"Perhaps these were made using that as reference-gojaru. Selling lithographs of these messages was this town's specialty-gojaru. There were probably more but the entire town has been destroyed with the awakening of the Turtle-gojaru." (Shadow)

Reference? Could there have been people who could write in Japanese here?

Hmm... so this temple contains various lithographs...

Keiichi left the method of defeating the turtle. Perhaps, I may find a lithograph of his message.

"Can you let me look around for a bit?" (Naofumi)

"I do not believe now is the time for that-gojaru" (Shadow)

““The previous message I saw had writing regarding how to defeat the Spirit Turtle. However the most important info was left out. (Naofumi)

“How surprising, then we must search through these records-gojaru.”
(Shadow)

My party and the rest of the army search for and gather all the Lithographs we can find.

These paintings are not very well done, they seem to be mass-produced varieties, with a simple picture of the Turtle and words printed on them.

And these works have also been damaged by the Turtle’s movements.

“Can you read it-gojaru?” (Shadow)

“How is it?” (Raphtalia)

Like a jig-saw puzzle, I gather the pieces of various mass produced pictures. Many of these have shattered beyond recognition. I don’t think I can decipher this.

“I have found more.” (Rishia)

Rishia comes carrying a large fragment of a Lithograph.

… Finally, something I can read.

Even more so than the wave, his objective is… to stop…

I can also make out the words Head, Heart and Same.

I have to think, what would the Hero Keiichi want to leave behind?

Along with the head, you must... to defeat this monster, then... It's cut off here.

Now that I think about it, from the start, Keiichi has been talking of a method to defeat, rather than seal it.

So in the past, people had already figured out the method for defeating it.

So why was it sealed until now?

I don't understand.

If I can't understand this point, I have to move onto the next.

I must gather some useful information from this.

Head, Heart, Same were used on the same line.

... Could it be that? That thing in Games and Manga...

(TL: You know that thing in Megaman EXE and in Neon Genesis Evangelion, that thing.)

However there is no way of testing that theory.

"What?! Is that true?!" (Soldier)

As I am deep in thought, the army people are getting noisy.

"What's wrong?" (Naofumi)

“Look outside. The Spirit Turtle is approaching a city that hasn’t finished evacuation!” (Sodja Boy)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 126 – Versus the Spirit Tortoise, The Final Fight

---

… I guess I can't waste any more time.

Now that I think about it, we spent way too much of it inside of the turtle.

It seems that due to our nervousness, we hadn't noticed just how much time had passed.

If I don't leave to help out now, many deaths will result.

"There is something I would like to test." (Naofumi)

I pull out all of the medicine I have on hand and give it to Raphtalia and Firo.

"Naofumi-sama?" (Raphtalia)

"Master?" (Firo)

"Go back to the turtle's heart. I think I figured something out." (Naofumi)

It will probably take everything these two have to stop the heart again.

I know this, but there is no other option.

"Master?" (Firo)

"There's something I must do outside." (Naofumi)

"Outside?" (Firo)

"Yeah, I can only do it once, so I'll have to retreat after that, though. Rishia, please come support me." (Naofumi)

"Fueee... I understand." (Rishia)

"You couldn't be..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia is staring at me.

I'd like to speak with her more, but she probably already knows my intentions.

Raphtalia was there as well.

"If this plan fails, we have nothing left. At that time, please assist in the army's retreat." (Naofumi)

"I can't! What about Naofumi!?" (Raphtalia)

"I understand the danger. If I can't defeat it here, please return with the Seven Star heroes and try to hold it off." (Naofumi)

The number on the blue hourglass was most likely the Spirit Turtle's life span.

And the number never went down no matter how many times we killed it.

"If we do nothing here, many more innocents will die. Raphtalia, you understand that, right?" (Naofumi)

"...Yes, but..." (Raphtalia)

I put my hand on Raphtalia's shoulder and pat it gently.

"It's fine. I won't die. Even if the mission fails, I will do my best to allow the people to evacuate." (Naofumi)

"but..." (Raphtalia)

"I know I am acting out of character, but if we can't stop it now, then our journey will just get much, much harder from here on out." (Naofumi)

I mean a lot when I say this.

I plan to take on the crimes the other heroes have committed. Even after we deal with this turtle, the wave will continue.

The Blue sand and the Red sand. The message from Keiichi has made me certain this Turtle and the Wave are related.

The things I hadn't even thought about before are now coming together in my mind.

There are four heroes, and their weapons can be strengthened with no visible limit. That means that unbelievably strong enemies were set to appear where these bonuses were needed.

If I can't beat this monster here, stronger enemies will appear alongside it.

I want to avoid that at all costs.

"I understand, but still I wish to stand by Naofumi-sa-" (Raphtalia)

"Have you ever seen me hurt by an enemy attack?" (Naofumi)

“N-no…” (Raphtalia)

“Then worry not. I’ll say it again, but I’m not the kind of Good Samaritan that will sacrifice his life here. I will live and return to my old world.”

(Naofumi)

“……” (Raphtalia)

“Regardless, after I use that skill, I will be left unable to battle. Then Rishia can help drag me out.” (Naofumi)

If they launch a surprise attack on the heart, it shouldn’t have enough time to retaliate.

All I need to do is match the timing.

This is a last resort. If this does nothing, then this mission has had no meaning from the start.

I’ll put my hope on the small fragments of information I have gathered.

The risk is high… but worse comes to worst the Seven Star Heroes can take over battling the wave.

I am a little worried about the heart’s energy blast but Firo should be able to avoid it.

“The problem is getting back to that room.” (Naofumi)

“”I got there using an underhanded method, but for these two…”

“Leave that to me-gojaru.” (Shadow)

"Do you have something?" (Naofumi)

"I prepared something just in case we had to reach the heart again.-gojaru"
(Shadow)

"Thank You. I'll leave those two in your care." (Naofumi)

"Understood-gojaru." (Shadow)

"Now then, Raphtalia, Firo and also Shadow, Go take out the heart! Rishia, please back me up. This is the plan-" (Naofumi)

Rishia and Shadow show clear disapproval of my plan.

Rishia also witnessed my fight with the pope. She didn't know the long-term effect it had on my body, but she did witness the immediate effects.

"Fuee... You'll die!" (Rishia)

"Isn't that a bit much-gojaru?" (Shadow)

"This is something I must do. Raphtalia and Firo don't have attacks large enough to finish off a monster of that size. I have to do this." (Naofumi)

"If the Hero of the Shield retires here, it will greatly affect troop morale-gojaru." (Shadow)

"If I was sure of the Seven Hero's prowess, I might have been able to back down, but when there's a city that is about to be attacked right before my eyes, how can I stop?" (Naofumi)

“...understood-gojaru. I apologize for making the recuperation you did on Cal Mira meaningless-gojaru.” (Shadow)

“Likewise, I apologize for always relying on you like this.” (Naofumi)

I somehow managed to convince the other two, and I give Raphtalia and Firo the orders to assault the heart.

“I’m sorry for sending you back after we just escaped.” (Naofumi)

“Don’t worry about it.” (Raphtalia)

“No Problem~” (Firo)

“I’ll leaving the attack timing to you. It will be difficult, but I trust you can do it.” (Naofumi)

“I understand.” (Raphtalia)

The Turtle’s is almost at the city’s gates.

Even if the plan fails, I must fight the beast to bide for time.

If I can just slow it down a little...

“Naofumi-sama, We’re off. I wish you luck.” (Raphtalia)

“Master, fight!” (Firo)

“Remember to escape as soon as you destroy the heart!” (Naofumi)

“Yes.” (Raphtalia)

“Yep!” (Firo)

In truth, I also don’t wish to fight.

But to defeat this thing with the smallest amount of casualties possible, I must do this.

I don’t think I am wrong.

Raphtalia rides Firo, and disappears into the Cave we just came out of. With Firo’s legs, they should be there soon.

“Men, protect yourselves and follow my lead! Let’s go!” (Naofumi)

“Sir, Yes Sir!” (Army people)

“Y-yes!” (Rishia)

Before Raphtalia can make it to the heart, we must reach the head.

“Meteor Shield! Come on Rishia, I’m counting on you too. Fight on!”
(Naofumi)

“Yes!” (Rishia)

Rishia clenches her fists tight and follows close.

On the way, we run into a Yeti-like familiar.

「Zveit Aura!」 (Naofumi)

I cast support magic on Rishia.

“Amazing, my body feels light.” (Rishia)

Rishia quickly takes out the Familiar’s eyes and pierces it’s heart.

Though her base stats are low, due to the bonuses from the Firo Plushy and my support magic, her attacks have become quite potent.

She developed a knack for observing the situation when studying under Itsuki.

For her, seeing through a monster’s weakness is quite easy. I don’t have to protect her against monsters of this caliber.

The Yeti dies before it can even realize it has been hit.

“I-I did it!” (Rishia)

“There are more coming, don’t falter!” (Naofumi)

“Yes!” (Rishia)

Nice response, it seems she has gained some confidence.

We eventually get out of the town, and head into the mountainous area.

… The city is right at the Turtle’s feet.

Damn!

“Isn’t that Melromark?!” (Naofumi)

I see a Lo~t of familiar buildings.

The Turtle moves slowly for its size, but its stride length and lack of rest itself makes up for this

The Spirit turtle has crossed the Melromark national border. That's right, it was going for places with high population densities. Of course, Melromark's castle town is an obvious choice.

The Queen's predictions were quite off.

I can see people evacuating in every direction.

If they just run like that, who's going to help those who can't run?

Not yet...!?

The Spirit Turtle steps into the city. The buildings collapse like toys beneath its feet.

(TL: It was then that Melromark received a grim reminder. They had lived in fear of the Turtles)

Some attack spells are shot from the Castle's direction.

But this monster withstands it without even getting a scratch.

Its magical resistance is too high.

When we first fought the Spirit Turtle, the Queen's army tried to back us up with support fire, but it had had no effect.

Gu... The Turtle is headed directly for the castle.

Raphtalia, Firo, are you there yet?

Suddenly, the Turtle's body clenches, as if it had been hit by a heavy blow.

I can't see its full facial expression, but its eyes show that it is in great pain.

Good, the heart has stopped.

Wrath Shield!

A number appears in my field of vision.

30 Seconds Left. But 30 Seconds is more than enough.

"Rishia, I leave the army's safety to you! If something bad happens, call for an immediate retreat!" (Naofumi)

"U-Understood!" (Rishia)

The Target is the head.

It still hasn't noticed my presence, so I must act fast.

...wait.

If I stop here, Melromark will fall into ruin.

How much grief have these people put me through?

I will never be able to forget the humiliation this country made me feel.

This is my chance to get back at this country isn't it?

...wrong.

There are many kind people here as well.

Old man, Melty, Apothecary, the Volunteer Soldiers, The magic shop... Even though he doesn't really count, the slave dealer is there too

I still haven't thanked these people for the kindness they showed me.

Now isn't the time for vengeance. Now I can finally repay my debt.

「Blutopfer!」

Blood erupts from all over my body. My flesh rips apart and my bones creak.

The pain is even stronger than last time. My head is throbbing.

Is it because I strengthened the Shield of Wrath?

But I knew what was coming this time. I was mentally prepared.

I wonder if my body will hold up...

“*Hack*...” (Naofumi) (TL:Cough sound, throwing up blood)

Please endure, I can't fall just yet.

I've paid the price. Under the Turtle's head, an unbelievably large Bear Trap manifests from the ground.

The Spirit Turtle is still concentrating on healing its heart, so its reaction speed has dropped.

“_____!?” (Spirit Turtle)

A faint scream escapes its lips. The ground below my feet is shaking.

Then a loud metallic bang is heard. The trap closes, digging into the Turtle’s flesh.

With a creek, the trap opens again and once more...

“!!!!!!!?????????” (Spirit Turtle)

The Turtle lets out an unbelievable scream that echoes throughout the area. It tries to rampage

It’s too late.

You... Are already dead!

(TL: He really says Omae wa mou... Owarida!)

Bang! The Bear trap closes for a final time. There is not a shred of the Turtle’s head left.

Having finished its purpose, the Giant Bear Trap is swallowed by the ground.

...Will it regenerate again?

...

My conscious is fading. I change my shield to the Soul Eater Shield.

Wait! What about the Familiars?

When I turn around, the Army is rushing at me whilst cheering.

“The Spirit Turtle and its familiars have stopped moving entirely!” (Soldier)

As I hear this, my vision slowly fades to darkness...

(TL: The world is red... no the one that is red is me...)

“____mi-sama!” (Rishia)

I hear Rishia’s shocked Voice. I think she caught me. She’s wearing the Firo Plushy so it’s hard to tell, but it’s probably Rishia.

Firo... never calls my name, anyways.

Anyways... I can’t stay conscious any longer.

Did I act too rashly...?

“Rishia, please... Raphtalia... Queen... Report...” (Naofumi)

I’m sleepy. I pray I’m still alive when I open my eyes.

I wonder what death is like. I’m a bit scared.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 127 – Overprotective

---

「Uuu……heavy」

I remember this feeling.

I open my eyes and check the surroundings.

Looks like I was put to sleep in the healing house's bed.

When I look I see Firo is sleeping while leaning on me, and Raphtalia fell asleep while sitting in a chair.

This is still fine, but for some reason even Melty is sleeping with Firo.

Again huh. When I use Blutopfer it always ends up like this.

「Ah, you regained consciousness ! 」

Rishia just came into my sick room carrying a water bottle.

Unusually she's not wearing the costume.

Thinking about it Rishia looked like this didn't she.

She's always wearing the Firo costume so I forgot.

「Raphtalia-san, please wake up. The hero of the shield regained consciousness」

With a sway Rishia shakes Raphtalia.

While watching that I checked my condition.

There don't seem to be any wounds. The healing house's people probably dealt with the curse too.

But, the lethargy following my body around nearly makes my eyes spin.

As expected, the stat reductions are having quite an effect.

「You guys ! Heavy ! 」

I moved Firo and Melty and got up.

「Nnya ? 」

「Ah, Naofumi-sama ! You woke up ! 」

「Yeah, I must've worried you」

「Of course I was worried ! Truly, you were so unreasonable」

I ignore Raphtalia's grumpy scolding and look at Rishia.

If I obediently listened to this from the beginning the sun will set after all.

「What's the situation ? 」

「Are you listening ! ? 」

If I say no she'll probably get angry…….

Well, I am not listening though.

But there's no reason to start a quarrel.

「I'm properly listening. There's a lot of other stuff I want to know」

「Eeeeto…one day's passed since then」

One day……When I released Blutopfer before it took 2 days so it's pretty fast.

As usual my condition's bad, but it's the kind of thing you get used to.

「The queen ordered your treatment to be of the utmost priority」

Which means, it's probably safe to think I received expensive magical and herbal treatment.

There wasn't even a place to give treatment in the castle town before.

「What happened to that turtle ? 」

「It's life ended right before Melromarc was going to take casualties」

「I see」

While I was unconscious, it's good it didn't revive or something. It seems that method was right.

「Right now, they're in the middle of disposing of the remains」

「Understood. By the way」

「Nn……」

「Why is Melty here ? 」

「Etto, Princess Melty heard the hero of the shield was seriously wounded and——」

「Wa, wa, wa——— ! 」

Melty, who just woke up, yells in a loud voice to make Rishia, whose eyes are glittering, shut up.

Just what kind of situation is this.

Just as before, Melty still has a hysteric part to her.

「While I was still sleepy just what kind of made-up stuff were you trying to say ! 」

「I, I'm extremely sorry ! 」

Aah, when dealing with a princess Rishia is also unable to act strong.

Raphtalia and Firo are used to it after all. Rather she seems to dislike stiff attitudes.

「Then Melty, I'm already fine, so return to the castle」

「Is that the way you talk to someone who came to visit you worried ! ? 」

「Oh, that's right. While you're at it call the queen. There's a mountain load of things I want to ask her after all.]

「In the end it's that ! ? I got it already ! 」

Melty storms out at a pace unthinkable for a princess.

And then right after turning around, she stuck her tongue out and taunted me.

Like a child. No, she is a child.

Isn't it an action fitting for her age.

「Just what are you laughing for. Stupid Naofumi ! 」

「Wait Melty-chan ! You sure do talk the talk. Your Lordship」

「Follow her and come back」

「Yeah」

Firo followed after Melty and left.

「Then……」

The noisy person disappeared.

However, even then there's no need to stay on my side forever.

I get up from the bed and stand.

「Are you fine? Resting a bit longer would be……」

「The injuries are already healed so it's stamina only. Right now I want to check the situation for myself」

I check the status.

……Uwaa. There's only 30% of before I lost consciousness. My defense staying unchanged is the only relief.

While dragging my heavy body, I look outside from the healing room.

……I can see a shell as big as a mountain range is blocking out the sun.

Other than that, I can see guys doing repairs.

Losses ended up heavy. On the other hand, if it hadn't been stopped there the castle would've been destroyed.

.....That's right. The wave is coming in 2 days.

Preparations need to be made.

With that thought, I focus on the hourglass floating in my vision to measure the exact time.

Huh ?

The red hourglass' number is still frozen.

And then, I'm able to confirm that the blue hourglass' icon is still moving.

.....Etto。

The number is 8 ?

I have a really bad feeling.

Just in case I check.

This time the remaining time in the blue hourglass is displayed.

Roughly.....3 and a half months ?

What's happening?

If this is the time until the next wave, or alternatively, some seal dissolves then.....it's quite long.

No, if it's preparations to fight a monster that caused that level of damage then it's short?

I don't know.

「Excuse me」

When I turn to the voice the queen enters the room.

Behind the queen there's also the Allies' top brass.

「How does your body's condition seem to be ? 」

「Not that good」

「I have come with a message from an expert healer. You will need at the fastest 3 months to recover. Also even if you go with house rest, he wants that move to be prohibited until full recovery」

「Even if you say that, if I hadn't used it the castle and town would've been annihilated」

「……I understand. Regardless, it's the healer house's healers' appraisal that if you end up having to use it before you recover, you'll definitely die」

「I see……」

There's that large of a risk ? Well, even I knew it took a large toll.

To be honest, it's not like I used it because I wanted to, and if I can avoid having to use it I'd prefer it as well.

「I got it. As expected I won't use it」

I don't want to use a skill that damages me anyway. From now on I'll avoid using Blutopfer.

「Then, how about the repairs ? 」

「Yes, we took heavy damage, and the disposal of the upside-down turtle is holding us up」

「Can that thing even be disposed of ? 」

What can I say, it's currently as if an actual mountain came to the castle.

「Right……According to the investigation squad's analysis rather than dispose it's better to leave it」

「That's about right. It seems disposal is more getting rid of perishables such as the meat]

「Yes」

It's true the disposal of that mountain-like monster's body will be problematic.

However leaving it to rot until it spreads diseases would be a true problem.

「Currently, we're in the middle of butchering the meat」

「Are you collecting the familiars and materials ? 」

「Yeah, the kind of things Iwatani-sama would want were in advance」

That saved me.

There's the soul eater shield's example.

The turtle's shield will be really strong. Probably.

It seems's I'll also be able to absorb its heart and familiars.

「The rest I think I'll explain at the castle」

「Aah……By the way it's about the hourglass but」

「I know about that matter as well」

There were 2 days, so preparations are already finished by now it seems.

It's really helpful the explanation's fast.

「Then, guess I'll go」

「Wouldn't it be better to rest a bit more……」

says Raphtalia, who is worrying about my body.

I understand the feelings, but there are some stuff I might do at the very least.

It's best to rest my body only after I've dealt with the troublesome stuff.

「No, either way I only have to talk. Since I'm only tired there's no problem」

「……I understand. But no matter what don't overdo it, okay?」

「Yeah yeah」

It's true I'm exhausted, but not to the point that I'll die. I'd prefer if I wasn't treated like an invalid……。

Was Raphtalia always this overprotective ?

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 128 – A Hero's Treatment

---

“Thank you Hero of the Shield-sama~!” (random citizens)

“Hero-sama~!” (more random citizens)

I was heading towards the castle however, because Firo had already gone ahead, I rode in the carriage provided by the queen and the citizens of the castle town waved at me like I was in the middle of a triumphal return.

Such materialistic guys.

Well, I knew that the population has that kind of simplistic thinking from anime and history.

I waved back with no problems. If this was a few months ago, there wouldn't even be any trash flying around.

No matter what, I was the devil of the shield.

Speaking of which, after we overcame the first wave, I was glared at as if saying 'why are you there?'

I'd be delighted if I could just receive the proper appreciation but I just get cheated.

Before long, I entered the castle and proceeded to the conference room. The troops from the Allied Forces were waiting together with the queen.

“Hero of the Shield-sama, this is in appreciation of your efforts in suppressing the Spirit Turtle, really, thank you very much” (queen)

“Your introduction is good. I'd like to hear the status report. In relation to the wave” (naofumi)

The status of the wave and others, I have a mountain of things I want to ask.

The Spirit Turtle was a state of emergency so everything is in chaos but there should be a lot that they've investigated already.

".....I understand. Currently, the Hourglasses of the Dragon's Era throughout the world have stopped." (queen)

"Throughout the world?" (naofumi)

"Yes. Every hourglass has stopped" (queen)

"There was a blue object inside the Spirit Turtle that resembled an Hourglass of the Dragon's Era, that too?"

"Ah, Naofumi-sama" (raphtalia)

Raphtalia raised her hand.

Raphtalia and Firo came back after fighting in the heart so maybe they know.

"This is about when we suppressed the Spirit Turtle but when we were returning from the heart, I saw that hourglass go *poof* and disappear" (raphtalia)

"What?" (naofumi)

"Everything disappeared, I saw it turn into a light and vanish" (raphtalia)

What did that mean?

I looked again at the hourglass with the time of the invasion of the next wave.

As I thought, there's about 3.5 months remaining.

"That matter is currently in investigation. We will report it in due course"
(queen)

"I understand. I don't know if only the heroes can realise it but even on my side, the hourglass' arrival prediction time has stopped" (naofumi)

"Alright..... We'll also ask the Seven Star Heroes about their side" (queen)

"However, three and a half months is projected on another hourglass.
Objectively looking at that..." (naofumi)

Immediately, the atmosphere became heavy.

I don't think I was wrong to reveal that, like in a chain reaction, there would be an appearance of a monster after the spirit turtle.

Since it was the four spirits, there should be Phoenix, Kirin and Dragon.

"The time limit is 3.5 months. To prepare until then would be the appropriate action" (naofumi)

"As you wish" (queen)

"What's the damage count?" (naofumi)

".....it's fortunate that only 7 towns, 4 fortresses and 2 castles have been decimated. If more villages were included....." (queen)

"I see....." (naofumi)

"The victim total is.....the count has not been finished yet" (queen)

It's not looking great. There's still the danger of the more appearances of monsters that will cause this much damage.

"Jeez, what's become of those 3 heroes?" (naofumi)

To do this sort of thing and leave it behind yet not showing themselves.
They weren't inside the Spirit Turtle and they didn't come out from the back.
Where was Itsuki – who Rishia was worrying about – wandering about.
The most likely scenario was his death.
However, the image of them dying didn't cause any excitement in me.
Those guys are irritating rascals and annoying with their fake heroics.

“Is there no report of seeing them anywhere in the Spirit Turtle?” (naofumi)
“Not at present. We sent out a search everywhere but we don't even know they are” (queen)
“Hmm....” (naofumi)

It's an enigma. What were they trying to do by breaking the seal.
I hope that it's not something like there was a strong weapon hidden in a labyrinth underneath where the Spirit Turtle was sealed.
If that's the case, it won't be forgiven with just a punch.

“And, this is concerning those heroes who broke the seal but...” (queen)
“Hm? Do you have something?” (naofumi)
“In order to avoid more disorder, we've concealed the identities of the ringleaders who broke the seal” (queen)
“What?” (naofumi)
“We're concealing it for now but, an inquiry about who's responsible will produce a big risk so....” (queen)

.....Indeed, that's the case.

If the country announces that this great disaster happened because of the heroes, it's quite capable of causing a disservice to unrelated heroes as well.

Three of the Four Sage Heroes caused this calamity. It's not necessarily true that other heroes won't do it.

But before that, the chaos.....in this case, it's the heroes credibility.

Looking at the triumphal return, I can sympathise with how much the inhabitants of this world expect from the heroes.

If it was discovered that heroes were responsible for this, there might just be a riot.

And having to suppress the riot and the waves simultaneously, until finally everything falls together in mutual destruction.

The country should choose not to publicly announce the truth, but that the Spirit Turtle was defeated by the hidden heroes. That sort of visage is better.

This feels like the so-called result of 'playing hot potato with the responsibility issue'.

It's a common occurrence but, it's quite.....

"Also, the heroes are extremely powerful beings and so we will be needing an equal strength to administer justice" (queen)

.....Catching them will also be a pain.

Which is why we have to conceal the truth.

"However, isn't this truth already well-known?" (naofumi)

"It's still at the stage of gossip. That said, it seems each nation being silenced so there won't be much influence on the support of the populace.

We're persistent and announcing that this incident was from a wave”
(queen)

One's livelihood will also be affected when the heroes they believe in, even when there are waves that hint towards the end of the world, in promote havoc.

It can't be helped, you can't even understand it.

“.....Nevertheless, there are still rumours” (queen)

The queen added a supplement.

“I've spread a rumour about being punished so so that it won't appear to the other heroes as anything more than simple gossip. Of course, I've mad a large publicity campaign about the Hero of the Shield, Iwatani-sama, being very active but.... just from looking at the status quo in the castle town, it doesn't seem very necessary” (queen)

“Half-hearted! Catch the ringleader! Just fighting the waves! Isn't this all just punishment for me!?” (naofumi)

Couldn't put up with it all, guys raising a commotion appeared. [??]

In this case, catching said people and turning them into a slave would be good but....they can't do that, can they?

If enslaving was possible, it would have been more efficient to enslave us four when were were first summoned.

With the high-grade slave crest, it could even be hidden from the masses.

To begin with, the fact that that Trash didn't enslave me is proof enough.

It seems improbable even if I enquire about it now.

The problem is that hard to handle guys would be useless as slaves.

Well, thanks to that, I didn't end up becoming a slave.

"Have I mentioned it's because it was determined that Iwatani-sama and the Seven Star Heroes could do this?" (queen)

"Grr...Nevertheless, couldn't you just face everyone and say 'we are the country' or some other meaningless line!" (naofumi)

There problem is that isn't it.

Even if they've become rotten, those guys are still heroes so it's hard to tell their followers to arrest them.

Stopping a riot is also a pain.

If it was me, I'd fight but it'll be quite sever to fight with my status having fallen to just 30%.

At the least, I shouldn't be fighting until I've had a full recovery.

I do have the option of leaving it to Raphtalia and the others but I don't know about trying that.

I don't want to burden them with that risk.

"If course if it's possible, I'll have you participate in waves as you've been doing until now. However, heroes are people who possess power. There's always the danger of them going on a rampage. Can't you understand that we can't even say that there are no countries who watch vigilantly for the opportunity to try to assemble heroes?" (queen)

"Melromarc, you vixen! Are these your words!?" (naofumi)

“Certainly our country has its faults. But this argument should have already finished. What do you intend by bringing up this political question again? Are you saying that there aren't people who would use powerful heroes as government tools?” (queen)

.....So troublesome.

If Melromarc and the other countries could just offer heroes a prize and not penalise them, the heroes would immigrate to a nice country by themselves, but there's a risk of becoming a tool of the government.

That's why I can't judge them strongly.

I had already rejected any invites from nice countries before I even knew of them so I couldn't have done that though. If it's them, it might be possible that they have.

Really, this group is too much, we're not getting anywhere.

There's even 1 person in the party, me who also thinks that.....

“I understand the hero's treatment. Also, in regard to just this disaster.....is reconstruction possible?” (naofumi)

The tension of the Allied Forces suddenly dissipated with my query.

Ah, indeed it was quite intense.

“The Allied Forces have taken damage from the infiltration and induction”

“I'm sorry for not being able to defend against it all”

As the Hero of the Shield, I originally had to take action so there won't be any victims. In spite of this, a substantial amount of damage has been dealt.

"No.... they would have been satisfied, everyone who participated in the infiltration said that they could avoid death thanks to the Hero of the Shield-sama being there" (queen)

"I'm pleased to hear that" (naofumi)

"The neighbouring countries took a lot of damage and much time is needed to rebuild" (queen)

".....I see" (naofumi)

"To be honest, supporting Iwatani-sama is also quite difficult" (queen)

I could only nod at this. If they said they could still give me a lot of assistance even after suffering such devastation, I'd be concerned about where they would get the money from.

"We will assist as much as possible, but when compared to what we had planned....." (queen)

"Yeah, I know. If I want money, I'll do something about it myself."
(naofumi)

At this point, you should be gathering money for reconstruction instead.

I saw the damage in the castle town when I was coming here.

¼ of the castle town had been crushed by the Spirit Turtle. Land reclamation is essential for the sake of the people who lost their homes.

Reclamation.....that's it.

"Hey, aiding with something that's not money is okay right" (naofumi)

"Yes, it would be more helpful for us if it was something other than money with the current conditions" (queen)

This would solve the Allied Force's issue, as well as the thing I thought of so far.

“Then—”(naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 129 – Social Standing

---

“Can you grant me some land?” (Naofumi)

“Land? That will probably be fine, but can you explain your reasons? I thought Iwatani was indifferent to the state of this world.” (Queen)

“I understand I am asking for quite a bit.” (Naofumi)

Staying in the same city as the army is something I would like to avoid...

The Queen probably understands this.

“When we were inside the Spirit Turtle, I noticed something. To put it frankly, this world’s army is weak. If I do nothing about this, we will not be able to reduce casualties during the wave.” (Naofumi)

“You Bastard-” (Country Leader)

The one who spoke up is a commanding officer, but the soldiers around him restrain him.

I knew this would happen. That’s why I wanted to remain silent.

“Iwatani has made a rational analysis, let’s hear him out.” (Queen)

“We also have testimony from some soldiers. According to them, the Shield’s companions had super-human strength and preformed magnificently. Compared to that, we...” (Another Leader)

The other leaders hang their heads and say nothing.

I have worked with various branches of the military, including the fighters, mages and assassins. This is my analysis of them so far.

"I'll concede that if the army wasn't there, we would have been destroyed by the turtle. But that is exactly why." (Naofumi)

"Muu..." (Country Leader)

The commander that spoke up lets out a sound of defeat and sits back down.

These people are annoying because of their pride, however they can be quite easy to deal with.

"When I say they were weak, I'm talking about the entire army's attack power as a whole. As we have not established the exact connection between the Turtle and the wave, there is a possibility that even stronger enemies will manifest as the wave progresses. That's why I want to raise a fighting force to combat these disasters. I'll also need some money, but that is secondary. For now, I would like to request for some land to set up a base." (Naofumi)

"I see where Iwatani is coming from. We have also yet to reward him for his efforts, so I guess this will be a good opportunity." (Queen)

"Then my country can-!" (Leader Person)

"No, my country will-!" (Another Leader)

"I apologize, but I have already decided upon a location. I understand what you all are trying to say and am grateful, but I must ask you to stand down for now." (Naofumi)

It will be troublesome to build a base in a country I know nothing about.

And you people just had your towns destroyed by the Turtle. Your people are still suffering.

This isn't the time for you to be giving away money, land, or man-power.

"Someone please get a map." (Naofumi)

The Queen takes a map from Shadow and spreads it on the table.

"... I would prefer it to be close to the Castle Town, but what location does Iwatani wish for?" (Queen)

"Here." (Naofumi)

Without hesitation, I point to a spot near the harbor we went visited to get to Cal Mira. It is on the coast.

"...!" (Rafatalia)

Rafatalia has a shocked expression, but she doesn't speak up.

"I see... That land was the location of the first wave. It faced heavily casualties and has now been abandoned. Is that alright with you?" (Queen)

"I plan to start from scratch anyways. Instead of being close to the Castle, I think it is best to choose a location that fits my preferences." (Naofumi)

"I understand. But for you to own such land, I must present you with some sort of nobility." (Queen)

"I plan to return to my world after this. I don't think I need a permanent title or anything." (Naofumi)

"I shall present this land to you along with the title of Count." (Queen)

"Hey..." (Naofumi)

If I were to become a count, then I would have to deal with troublesome things like land disputes and inheritance.

If this was a light novel, wouldn't I have to work my way up from knight?

I know about the title hierarchy from a manga I read a while ago.

Though that manga was set in recent times instead of the medieval times.

(TL: I don't know what manga this is)

Duke, Marquis, Count, Viscount, Baron.

These are known as the five ranks of nobility, and the higher you go up, the more prestige you get.

Titles can be based on either Family or Land ownership rights. In my world... in Europe, nobility was decided by the amount of land one was given to control...

I think.

This gave birth to many different conquests for land and many different nobles arising.

And many people controlled more than ten-thousand acres of land.

But I don't know if that applies here as well.

"Iwatani might have a child in the near future, so we must prepare for that."
(Queen)

"Hell no." (Naofumi)

Her intentions are being revealed quite casually.

Do you really want me to marry Melty that badly?

"Whatever. If it is completely necessary, I will take the title of count."
(Naofumi)

"Please wait for a moment, there are rituals we must go through to bestow the title unto you." (Queen)

"That sounds like a pain." (Naofumi)

"However, you have really helped us this time around. I would like for you to properly receive the title as a reward for your efforts." (Queen)

I guess if a hero defeats a monster of that caliber, then simply handing over some money isn't enough.

It did kill many people.

“And I am excited to see the change that happens through the country. If the Shield hero who is worshipped by the demi-humans were to become a noble in the Human-dominated Melromark… I told you about it before, right? About the capable person of this country.” (Queen)

“Hm?” (Naofumi)

Now that I think about it, when Trash’s reign of terror ended I heard something about that. That a capable person of this country had died in the wave. He had helped facilitate Human- Demi-human relations.

The Tanuki-human Rafatalia lived in a province heavily populated by Demi-humans.

I see, the land I am asking for was formerly that person’s?

“The land that Iwatani requested belonged to that person. He was quite popular and trusted by the people.” (Queen)

… The Queen seems to be reading my mind.

The various leaders are listening to the conversation intently.

“This will create a lot of rumors, be they good or bad. Fine, I’ll leave the land to you.” (Queen)

“Don’t expect too much.” (Naofumi)

“Now then, please come to the throne room for the ceremony.” (Queen)

“Understood” (Naofumi)

We are led to the throne room.

The Queen hands me a ceremonial sword.

Unless I have the intent to equip it, the system will not give me a warning, so it is probably fine.

It won't look good if it shoots out of my hands.

Before reaching the throne, I receive some instruction from Shadow.

I'm supposed to draw the sword and present it to the Queen, after which she will touch both of my shoulders with it and present a title unto me.

"Hero of the Shield, Iwatani Naofumi, has arrived!" (Guard)

The Castle Guards are playing instruments reminiscent of Trumpets.

It's loud. It's annoying.

I confidently walk towards the Queen, who is standing in front of the throne.

I take a subservient pose and lower my head, while unsheathing and presenting the sword to the Queen.

The Queen grasps the hilt, and slowly taps both of my shoulders with it.

"Hero, for your valiant efforts, my country courteously bestows unto you the Title of Count." (Queen)

And the Queen returns the sword to me.

"We expect great things from you." (Queen)

I return the sword to its scabbard and stand up.

"That's how it is. It's supposed to be a more grandiose celebration than this." (Queen)

"Don't. That would be a pain." (Naofumi)

"Is what I thought you would say. However, the populace needs some form of celebration to advertise your newly gained authority." (Queen)

"I got it." (Naofumi)

With this, I think I will be unable to walk the Castle Town's streets anymore.

Is that the Hero of the Shield? Yeah that person. Hmm... Just like the rumors say, he looks like he is up to no good.

...

Is what I used to hear.

Ah! The Hero of the Shield! The one that defeated that Monster and saved us all!?

...

People point at me and shout. It is now difficult to walk around for a different reason.

It's not like I don't want to be noticed, but this is enervating in itself.

“Now then, I will be talking to representatives of another country for a while. If anything happens, please allow me to help.” (Queen)

Wait, where was Trash during all of this?

… Ah, there he is.

He is staring at me with an irritated expression.

Is he under surveillance, and unable to approach me?

As I think this… I notice he is wearing a collar. (TL: What sort of play is this?)

“___!”(Trash)

Whenever he tries to speak, the collar seems to glow.

It appears to rapidly tighten. Can I laugh?

I think I will laugh.

“_____!!” (Trash)

He seems furious.

But the collar shuts him up whenever he tries to scream.

I give a cynical smile.

“Naofumi-sama…?” (Rafatalia)

Rafatalia says in a stern tone.

"I mean, how can I not laugh? Look at him." (Naofumi)

"Anyways, I also have a lot of things I want to talk to you about."
(Rafatalia)

"I understand, but today I'm tired. Let's go back to our room and rest."
(Naofumi)

When I woke up today, it had already been past noon. The days are passing by too quickly.

"See ya, Trash of the world. Your bitch of a daughter's situation is uncertain, and the other heroes are yet to be found. You will be forever remembered as the Foolish King who led 3 of the 4 heroes to their demise. Good for you, you'll be famous." (Naofumi)

"_____!!!!" (Trash)

Trash points his finger and tries to advance on us as we leave the throne room.

But the soldiers surrounding him succeed in restraining him.

He can't even talk to me anymore. The Queen does good work.

Is that man really one of the Seven Star Heroes? That's definitely a lie.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 130 – Level Reset

---

I lie down on the bed in the guest room and rest my body.

Ah, indeed it's heavy. When I lie down, I can really feel it. The effects of the curse are strong and quite severe.

The sun has set already, what can I do.

By the way, Firo is with Melty. Their relationship is quite close.

“Thank you for your hard work” (rishia)

Rishia voices these words of gratitude.

“Come to think of it, you're not wearing the costume” (naofumi)

“Ah, Yes. I thought we weren't going to fight for a short while so I took it off, but is that displeasing?” (rishia)

“No, it's just become habitual, I wasn't telling you to wear it” (naofumi)

“Rishia-san is, how do I say it.... it seems like you enjoy wearing the costume” (raphtalia)

“Yes. When I wear that costume my body becomes lighter.” (rishia)

That's because there are various enchantments on it. It's quite convenient.

“It was amazing, Naofumi-san” (rishia)

“Ah, at last you call me by my name” (naofumi)

“Eh, ah....” (rishia)

“Don't worry about it. I'm not particularly angry.” (naofumi)

Perhaps Rishia gained some courage after prevailing in a big battle.
This is a joyous thing.

"There's territory. There's also court ranking.....this is quite a big promotion"
(raphtalia)

"I was originally a hero..... it doesn't really excite me though" (naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama, what is your desire?" (raphtalia)

Raphtalia asks me with distrust in her eyes.

Speaking of which, she started to speak out when I specified the territory I wanted to the queen.

"Is this about today? It's just as I said. It's unfortunate but the allied troops just aren't reliable. Judging from the tough battle from before, if we don't make a private army of troops, it'll be quite relentless from here on."
(naofumi)

"But still, why the damaged area from the first wave?" (raphtalia)

"That's also in accordance with what I said during the day, we'll be doing a variety of thing so please be prepared." (naofumi)

"Hah.....good grief, it seems as though we won't have any peace if we're together with Naofumi-sama" (raphtalia)

"This is all just until we finish overcoming the waves. Please bear with it"
(naofumi)

"I understand" (raphtalia)

"Fufu, you look just like an old married couple" (rishia)

Rishia dropped a bombshell-like announcement.

Well, Raphtalia is the one who I've known the longest in this world, I kind of understand.

We're not a couple though.

"Wha-wha-what are you saying!?" (raphtalia)

Raphtalia yells, her face colouring in embarrassment.

Ah, indeed, Rishia has stepped on a land mine and brought on imperial wrath by mentioning that love affair.

Originally she was just an ordinary slave, but Raphtalia is a more kind-hearted and meddling person than others.

She lost her family, her home was snatched away; I can easily imagine her grief.

In other words, Raphtalia is fighting so there won't be more people in the same situation as her.

With such a noble purpose, Raphtalia wouldn't be thinking of love affairs.

To begin with, Raphtalia's outer appearance may be that of an adult however, in terms of age, she is still a kid.

She's not old enough to be falling in love.

Well, Rishia is in love with Itsuki so those kind of feelings are, for better or worse, a woman's.

Which reminds me, how old is Rishia? Her appearance gives the impression of a middle school student.....so around 14 years old.

It seems a bit premature but it is another world.

"That's right, Rishia. Raphtalia doesn't like those kind of jokes. Be careful"
(naofumi)

"Na-Naofumi-sama....." (raphtalia)

A blushing Raphtalia regained her composure.
There there, provoking others isn't good.

"O-Okay....?" (rishia)

Rishia tilted her head in confusion whilst staring at Raphtalia and I.

"Well then, we'll be engaged in a variety of things tomorrow. Rishia, what are you going to do?" (naofumi)

"What do you mean by 'what am I going to do'?" (rishia)

"I'm referring to resetting your level. Since the wave has been pushed back considerably, if you want to re-level up, now is a good time" (naofumi)

"Eh, ah!? Tha-that's right isn't it.....umm" (rishia)

"The one to decide is Rishia. Consider your actions properly. Seeing as this is a good opportunity" (naofumi)

"Okay. I will think about it for a bit" (rishia)

Thus, we rested thoroughly and prepared for tomorrow.

"Now then" (naofumi)

After eating breakfast at the castle, we have a quick chat with the queen.
Since the timing was just right, I ask Rishia.

"Have you come up with an outcome?" (naofumi)

"Ah, yes..... I also want to become as strong as Raphtalia-san! Therefore I have decided to start over" (rishia)

"Is that so, well then...." (naofumi)

When I turn to face the queen, the queen also nodded.

"Then I will give instructions to perform the service by means of the Hourglass of the Dragon's Era" (queen)

"That'd be a great help. Today we'll be occupied with a lot of things" (naofumi)

We leave the castle and travel to the Hourglass of the Dragon's Era.

Ah, we should put on a robe to obscure our face. If we don't do this, guys will be following after us in groups, even the queen

"I heard the story from the queen" (soldier)

A soldier guides us to the Hourglass of the Dragon's Era.

.....As I thought, the hourglass has stopped.

For some reason, the sand has solidified and doesn't fall.

"Originally this is only used as a punishment for criminals though" (soldier)

"Just a bit" (naofumi)

"I heard the rumours. The Hero of the Shield's comrades possess strength rivalling that of the heroes', so what's the secret to that strength?" (soldier)

What a nosy soldier.

It would be a burden to get involved in something strange. I limit my answer to something ambiguous.

"No, it's just simple harassment. This kid is a subordinate of someone I hate, you see, I thought I'd reset her level and send her back to him"
(naofumi)

"Fueeeeeeeeeeeee!?" (rishia)

Rishia lets out a dreadful cry.

"I-is that how it is!?" (rishia)

Read the atmosphere.

Raphtalia looks at me with a shocked face

Where is Firo looking? She's gazing into the horizon.

Sigh....I bring my face close to Rishia's ear and whisper.

"The harassment thing is a lie. If I tell the truth to that kind of fellow, mercenaries and adventurers will swarm us, wanting to be strong. Your Itsuki also had a habit of concealing, right?" (naofumi)

"Ye-yes" (rishia)

Jeez, I'd like you to sense these things.

What adventurers, in the end it'd just be a gathering of ruffians.

After they acquire a certain amount of power, guys who are really eager should enlist to become soldiers in a country somewhere.

Even if they reach the level cap prior to a class up, guys who become adventurers either don't want to enter a guild or are wannabe criminals. What I want to make is a private army who will listen to my instructions, not guys who are just strong.

After the weak become strong, complaints will be raised. At any rate, I would have to deal with those kind of guys in the distant future.

"And, how do I reset the level?" (naofumi)

"Firstly, put on this choker and stand on the magic circle in front of the Hourglass of the Dragon's Era" (soldier)

I give Rishia the choker that the soldier was holding out.

Rishia put on the choker and stands on the magic circle just like the instructions.

Perhaps some sort of power of resistance will be removed by wearing the choker.

"Is this really alright?" (naofumi)

"Yes!" (rishia)

Rishia's decision was firm.

Hm? There are people to help with the service, just like during the class up, but they had prepared a stretcher.

"There is a reaction from the resetting. A few days of rehabilitation will be necessary, I think" (soldier)

I see.....

That's right, if the stats that were natural until suddenly drop, the body will become heavy....

Since I'm already like this, I think that if someone returned to level 1, then they would become unable to move for sure

"There are individual differences though" (soldier)

While saying that, the soldier starts the ritual.

The Hourglass of the Dragon's Era shines, filling the magic circle with power. It's similar to the scene from the Class Up.

"Right now in this place, there is someone here to release their power for the sake of choosing a new path. Oh, world. Show this person the path and give them a chance." (soldier)

"u....ku...." (rishia)

Rishia moans in the centre of the magic circle.

"A feeling of p-power escaping is..." (rishia)

As I thought, it's that kind of feeling.

Before long, something suddenly emerges from Rishia and I affirm it scattering in all four directions.

"It's over. How's your body's condition?" (naofumi)

"Eh?" (rishia)

Rishia repeatedly opens and closes her hands.

"It doesn't feel very different" (rishia)

"Was it a failure?" (naofumi)

"That shouldn't be the case?" (soldier)

I slowly check Rishia's status.

Right.

It's returned to level 1.

It's just that.... there's almost no change in stats.

The bit that rises from levelling up is almost non-existent, so there's no sense of discomfort even when returning to level 1.

..... If this was reversed, it would be considerably harsh.

If she has no disposition for battle, then what should I do.

I can't just depend on the shield's growth correction.

"By the way, should Raphtalia and Firo do it too?" (naofumi)

"No.....I am...." (raphtalia)

"Firo doesn't want to do it either" (firo)

Well, these two don't really need to.

Growth Correction started when Raphtalia was level 25 so its not like it would be meaningless.

Firo also has the Philorial Series Growth Correction to depend on so there shouldn't be any loss.

Well, if we don't proceed gradually, offensive power won't be enough and we'll become unable to fight.

Moreover.... it seems that the moment Firo resets her level, she'll become a baby chick.

I don't know what kind of growth Philorials have though.

Fixing her upbringing is good but since the one in question doesn't want to do it, there's no need.

"Is that so, then let's head to the next place" (naofumi)

"We're ready whenever" (soldier)

The soldier in charge bows his head.

The interaction is considerably different from before.

I'm aware that I'm staring back and inspecting him.

He's a bit childish but.....my evaluation of him rose a little.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 131 – Where We Met

---

Quite a few familiar faces from the Christmas Special have started to pop up...

Chapter 131: Where We Met

"Where do you plan to head next?" (Raphtalia)

"I think I have to see the guy I don't want to meet." (Naofumi)

"What?" (Raphtalia)

"Eh-?" (Firo)

"W-where would that be?" (Rishia)

Raphtalia looks at the path I'm following. She seems to understand. She holds back a sigh.

I'm surprised she could guess from that sentence. Is she an esper?

... I guess she had saw it coming when I obtained the land.

"Are you selling Firo?" (Firo)

"Is that man really that scary?" (Naofumi)

Firo seems to understand as well. She looks at me with the eyes of an abandoned puppy.

Firo usually acts quite carefree, but I guess she got a trauma from this place.

Though I think she could kill that man instantly if she set her mind to it.

Is it that phenomena where an elephant has his leg tied to a tree as a child, so he doesn't try to run away as an adult? (TL: See Baby Elephant Syndrome)

It might be something like that.

"Calm down, I'm not selling anyone." (Naofumi)

"I got it..." (Firo)

"Eh? Wha?" (Rishia)

Rishia... she's a noble so she probably knows.

Granted, a fallen noble. There is also a chance she doesn't.

I head down a back street and end up in front of the ever-so-familiar tent.

"My, my..." (Slave Dealer)

The slave dealer, who I don't want to meet, greets me with a bored expression.

If you think about it, there are very few people who would go out to buy slaves in the middle of the day.

This person is more famous in the town as a Monster Merchant.

"If it isn't the Hero of the Shield. It's been quite a while. I've heard much about your victory." (Slave Dealer)

"Yeah, it's been a while." (Naofumi)

"I was sure you had forgotten about me." (Slave Dealer)

"I wouldn't be able to forget about a shady character like you even if I tried."
(Naofumi)

It's quite hard to forget this man. He has a sort of unique aura.

It's a feeling similar to the accessory merchant.

I guess he needs to act like that to run this business.

The last time I was here was when I came to purchase Firo's claws. It was around the time I was forbidden from using Class Up.

At that time, I had tried to escape to Silt Welt or Shield Freiden to Class Up Firo and Raphtalia.

I believe that this man had some connection to the Queen... Though he has never personally met her.

"You've been quite busy. I didn't think you would have dubious ties to this country's government." (Naofumi)

"That doesn't change the fact that I approached the Hero of the Shield because I found him interesting." (Slave Dealer)

"Yes, I'm aware of that." (Naofumi)

“Now then, how can I help you today?” (Slave Dealer)

“It’s about your real profession.” (Naofumi)

“Oh!” (Slave Dealer)

The Slave Dealers eyes sparkle for a moment.

What are you so excited about. Don’t think it will be easy to short-change me.

Is he happy that a famous person like me is fighting with his slaves?

While this is a fact, that doesn’t mean they are powerful because I bought them from you, you know.

“What price range are you looking in?” (Slave Dealer)

Currently, I have 5000 silver coins remaining of what the Queen gave me.

I’ll need the old man to make some more weapons, so I shouldn’t spend to frivolously here.

“For now, I would like to purchase some Demi-Human slaves around the price of 3000 Silver Coins. If possible, I would like them to be of low level.”
(Naofumi)

“What do you plan to use them for?” (Slave Dealer)

“Why do I need to tell you?” (Naofumi)

“I know. You acquired some land and need some slaves there.” (Slave Dealer)

"I think I've said this before, but don't ask for things you already know."
(Naofumi)

Really, how much does this person know... If he told me he could see the future, I might believe him.

"Please come over here." (Slave Dealer)

The Slave Dealer leads me to the back of the tent.

As we start to follow him, Firo stops us.

"What is it?" (Naofumi)

"... I don't want to go." (Firo)

It seems the darkness of the tent and the smells are setting off her trauma.

I'm already used to it, but I know it isn't a nice scent.

"Do you want to wait over there?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah..." (Firo)

Fir nods as she stumbles towards the monster egg display.

You know Firo, that's where we first met you.

Don't eat those, I warn her, as I continue to follow the Slave Dealer.

"Um... What are we looking for?" (Rishia)

"We're going to get people in positions similar to yours." (Naofumi)

“Fueeeee!?”(Rishia)

“Even though fallen, you’re still a noble, aren’t you? And before Itsuki saved you, you were in a similar situation weren’t you? Please read the situation.”
(Naofumi)

This country has an active slave trade. Nobles and other rich folk should be well aware of its existence.

Why is Rishia so surprised?

Is she unexpectedly quite dense?

“T-this is a… I never noticed.” (Rishia)

“But they don’t deal in human trade.” (Naofumi)

“I see…” (Rishia)

We follow the slave dealer, and end up near the cages where I first saw Raphtalia.

“… This is where my fate changed…” (Raphtalia)

I am also reminiscing about that time.

Though it wasn’t that long ago, it feels like years have passed.

“Let me pick out some slaves that are within your budget. I’ll even give you a slight discount.” (Slave Dealer)

“How generous.” (Naofumi)

"I hear you are starting up quite an interesting town. It's quite exiting! Perhaps you will become my best customer after this." (Slave Dealer)

"Well... I just come to fulfill my needs." (Naofumi)

"Though business may seem to be slow today, I have already earned a large profit from The Hero of the Shield's fame." (Slave Dealer)

"What do you mean by that?" (Naofumi)

"During negotiations, if I bring up your name, they expect their new slaves to turn out like your companions. Even if I overcharge, they seem to knowingly accept it." (Slave Dealer)

Raphtalia did earn herself quite a bit of fame during the last battle.

She outclassed the entire continental army in ability. If people learned this is the place that sold her, I guess business will improve greatly.

"Ah, besides those, there is also another type of slave I wish to purchase." (Naofumi)

"What may you be interested in?" (Slave Dealer)

In response to the Slave Dealer's question, I turn my focus to Raphtalia.

I approach her head on and put my arm on her shoulder.

"W-what is it?" (Raphtalia)

"Raphtalia, is there anyone here from the village you used to live in? I don't care about the price, pick anybody you recognize." (Naofumi)

“!?” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia widens her eyes in surprise.

“U-um… Are you really okay with that?” (Raphtalia)

“What are you saying at this point in time? Employing people who used to live in that land is the most efficient option for reconstruction. They might have to fight a bit, but our main objective for now is resettling the land.”
(Naofumi)

Raphtalia probably has the wish to go back to the village she used to live in tucked in somewhere in her heart.

It occurred to me when I visited the graveyard with Raphtalia. I need to work hard so that when I leave this world, Raphtalia will still have a place to call home. Even if I’m gone…

Of course that isn’t my only reason.

Raphtalia’s former village is on the sea, and if you walk a few hours from it, you can reach the mountains

As people used to live there, the ground is relatively level and ready for agriculture.

It’s the perfect area for testing various things.

(TL: It’s perfect for both farming and Farming)

Because of the wave, I won’t be kicking anyone out of their homes either.

“Oh, Slave Dealer, can you ask around the store you got Raphtalia at? I’m willing to buy back slaves from nobles if I must. They’ll probably be willing to part with them if you mention the Hero of the Shield.” (Naofumi)

My popularity is rising in this country. There’s no reason I shouldn’t use that.

“You plan to motivate your slaves by giving them their previous homes, all while putting them to work? The thought process of the Shield intrigues me! I understand. I’ll ask around.” (Slave Dealer)

“Now then, Raphtalia, do you see any familiar faces?” (Naofumi)

“… Please give me a moment.” (Raphtalia)

On a side note, that silk hat… he seems to jump on board any idea I suggest.

I’m scared of his ulterior motives. I’ll investigate his movements later.

The Slave Dealer shows Raphtalia around the cages containing the slaves, and she carefully examines each individual one.

“-Found one!” (Raphtalia)

So there was one.

Raphtalia is pointing her finger at a Demi-Human child… It’s a man with dog-like features. His age seems to be around 10. He’s a little larger than Raphtalia was when I first met her.

“You’re Kiel-kun, right?” (Raphtalia)

“...Who are you? Why do you know my name?” (Kiel)

So he wasn't listening to our previous conversation.

“You forgot my face? I might have gotten a bit bigger, but I'm Raphtalia.”
(Raphtalia)

“Eh!?” (Kiel)

The boy named Kiel looks quite surprised.

“That's a lie. The Raphtalia-chan I knew was smaller than me, and she isn't as beautiful as you. Though she was kinda cute...” (Kiel)

Kiel says this as if talking about a deceased person.

“Then I'll prove to you I'm the real thing. Two months before that incident happened, you were looking for a pretty shell to give Father for his birthday so you dived into the ocean. You almost drowned, so Sadina jumped in to rescue you and together, you...” (Raphtalia)

“...Eh!? Are you really... Raphtalia-chan?” (Kiel)

“That's right, and after that, remember when you accidentally ate a poison mushroom you found in the field, messed up your stomach, and hid to avoid being scolded? You told me to keep it a secret when I found you. You had even wet your pa-” (Raphtalia)

“Wai-! Yes! I believe you! You're Raphtalia-chan.” (Kiel)

Memories from the past? How charming.

But the contents seem to be quite embarrassing.

“Raphtalia-chan. Why did you become so big… so pretty?” (Kiel)

“You know, I am currently the slave of the Hero of the Shield.” (Raphtalia)

“Eh!?” (Kiel)

“Naofumi-sama is quite a trustworthy person. And by his request, I am currently searching for the people who used to live in our village.”
(Raphtalia)

“D-do you mean me? Can I finally go back home?” (Kiel)

“Yes, but… You will be employed as Naofumi-sama’s slave, and put to work. I guarantee he won’t do anything evil, though. Do you want to come with us?” (Raphtalia)

The child Kiel fidgets and blinks a lot as he listens to Raphtalia’s request.

His face is slightly pale.

“Is the Hero of the Shield that man over there?” (Kiel)

Kiel stares at me.

What’s with that attitude.

“That’s right. He might have an evil look around his eyes, and he might have a habit of smiling cynically whenever something bad happens to the people he dislikes, but he’s a good person.” (Raphtalia)

“Are you even trying to persuade him?” (Naofumi)

She seems to be casually throwing in complaints against me. She’s grown to be quite confident.

But trying to persuade someone with those words is impossible.

If it were me, those words would make me even more cautious.

If I heard those words, I would think that Raphtalia had been brainwashed by a shady person.

… It hurts that her complaints are right on the mark.

“He’s the hero that saved this country. Don’t you know about him?”
(Raphtalia)

“Now that you mention it, it has been getting noisy as of late… Will I really be able to go back to that village?” (Kiel)

“Yeah. Your mother and father… won’t be there, but if we work hard together, we can rebuild that village.” (Raphtalia)

“…I understand.” (Kiel)

Kiel nods and grabs Raphtalia’s outstretched hand.

“I’ll add him to your purchase, Please continue to pick out slaves with that girl.” (Slave Dealer)

“I’ll need to prepare a few things in regards to that matter. Leave that to us.” (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Raphtalia)

"Fufufu, I feel that it will be getting interesting around here." (Slave Dealer)

"Let's go, Rishia." (Naofumi)

"How wonderful...Yes!" (Rishia)

Rishia follow closely with teary eyes.

Does Rishia not do well with these sort of stories? She seems like she would be an avid reader.

(TL: I believe Rishia is crying for joy at Kiel and Raphtalia reuniting)

Firo suddenly runs over.

"Are you done yet?" (Firo)

"Oh right... Firo, there's a favor I would like to ask of you." (Naofumi)

"What?" (Firo)

"Please take Rishi and go level grind for a bit. Go hunt until you feel satisfied." (Naofumi)

"Fue?" (Rishia)

Firo's eyes sparkle and Rishia lets out a confused sound.

What is so surprising?

Did you forget about wanting to get stronger?

“I’m going have to train my newly attained slaves anyways, so this will be good practice. Also, I will be troubled if Rishia stays at level 1 for too long.”
(Naofumi)

“B-but how am I supposed to train with Firo-san?” (Rishia)

“Don’t worry, you just have to ride Firo and make sure you don’t fall off. You’ll still gain EXP. Firo’s carriage is a rough vehicle to ride, you may need to train yourself. Raphtalia went down this road herself. This is killing two birds in one stone.”

It’s a leveling strategy often used in online games. It’s also used in various console RPGs.

A high level character fights with minimal support from a low-level one.

If I leave it to Firo, things should turn out just fine.

“Then, Firo will be off~!” (Firo)

“Fuee!?” (Rishia)

Firo turns into her monster form, grabs Rishia and throws her on her back. She then proceeds to sprint out of the tent.

“FUEEE-” (Rishia)

Rishia’s scream of terror fades into the distance.

“Now then…” (Naofumi)

I put on a cloak and leave the tent.

There are some other places I need to stop too.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 132 – Acquaintances

---

I don a cloak and begin to walk around the town.

As expected, the damages are quite severe. The effects of the Spirit turtle are still clearly visible.

There is also clear sign of damage caused by the onslaught of familiars.

As I'm walking, I arrive at a familiar store.

Good, this building is still standing.

There aren't really any visible damages. The building seems to be conducting business as usual.

I walk into the store... The Old Man's store.

"Welcome." (Old Man)

"I'm happy you're safe." (Naofumi)

"That voice... boy, is that you?"

I take off the hood of the cloak and greet the old man.

Luckily, he doesn't have any visible injuries.

"Why are you wearing such a suspicious cloak?" (Old Man)

"I don't want to stand out." (Naofumi)

"Well, you have become quite famous, lad." (Old Man)

Yep, that's my main problem right now.

I'm not like Itsuki. When people call out my name in praise, it sends shivers down my spine.

I don't think popularity is bad in general, but having the people of this country praise me doesn't make me feel good at all.

And right now, I have too many things that I have to do. I can't waste my time dealing with these people.

"Well I guess having people flock around you would get annoying after a while." (Old Man)

"By the look of it, this store hasn't really been affected." (Naofumi)

"Pretty much. I was able to drive off all the monsters that came this way."
(Old Man)

"Good job on that."

"I saw it. You stood on that monsters neck and suddenly started bleeding, but then a large thing came out of the ground and killed it." (Old Man)

"You saw that?" (Naofumi)

I guess it is quite a feat to be able to focus on that while being swarmed by monsters.

I wonder just how strong the Old Man is.

I don't really feel like finding out either.

"I was on the battlefield, so I was able to witness it: your power." (Old Man)

"I see. Old Man, What level are you?" (Naofumi)

"I have long since given up on becoming an adventurer. Please don't pry any further." (Old Man)

My question was denied. Really, what level is he?

He's at least done Class Up once, and he is on a level where he can fight on par with the Spirit Turtle's Familiars.

... at least 70, probably.

"You've been through a lot since you first came here. When I first saw you, I couldn't believe you would be able to change the world." (Old Man)

"I was of the same opinion." (Naofumi)

I casually converse with this Old Man. He really has done a lot for me.

The Old Man looks around me intently.

"Is it just you, today?" (Old Man)

"Yeah" (Naofumi)

"What happened?" (Old Man)

“Raphtalia is currently working on a different job, and Rishia has gone hunting with Firo.” (Naofumi)

“What about you, boy?” (Old Man)

“The city is quite damaged, so the castle has put all of its manpower into helping rebuild. Because of that, royal weapon production has been ordered to cease.” (Naofumi)

“I guess they’ve got no choice…” (Old Man)

“Yep.” (Naofumi)

I can’t ask him to make me anything right now. For now, I guess I should get his advice.

I’ll probably need something later. I’ll have to think about it.

“How’s the store going?” (Naofumi)

“A calamity of this scale just happened. Everyone is rushing out to buy weapons.” (Old Man)

“So Business is booming.” (Naofumi)

“Yeah, I’ve sold so much that my store room is almost completely empty.” (Old Man)

“Isn’t that just peachy.” (Naofumi)

“Yeah but… for people without any passion for weapons to just go out and buy them in a panic… It feels a little sad.” (Old Man)

There's no helping it. The town was almost destroyed. It's not surprising that people with no skill are rushing to obtain armaments.

It's probably like that. In preparation for the apocalypse, people are frantically looking for weapons and armor to increase their chances of survival.

From what I've seen, there's been no looting yet. They seem to be heading in a positive direction.

"Is that all you needed today?" (Old Man)

"Oh, about that..." (Naofumi)

I'm debating whether or not to ask him about arming the new slaves.

The Queen has already approved my proposal, so I can probably get some second-hand equipment from the army, but getting any more than that will be logistically difficult in this time of crisis.

These items are quite important. I don't want to risk it on second-hand goods.

There's also a problem of upgrades and maintenance. Well, first I should tell the Old Man the Situation.

"I received some land from the Queen, I'm planning to start a business there." (Naofumi)

The Old Man will be really helpful in procuring equipment, and various other tasks. I'll try recruiting him.

"So what relation does that have to me?" (Old Man)

"I've come to scout you." (Naofumi)

When starting up a new town, iron goods are essential

Plus, I'm already certain of his skill. I can place my hopes on his equipment.

"I had kind of figured it out. But I have this store." (Old Man)

"I know. I won't force you or anything. Perhaps... I may send someone to you to ask to be your disciple." (Naofumi)

"Ah, so it's like that... I got it, boy... Though my skills aren't that great, I'll try to train anyone you send me." (Old Man)

Okay, I've got some approval.

If there's a skilled slave, maybe I can send him to learn under the Old Man.

After that, I just have to buy the equipment. I don't plan to make the Old Man teach for free, either.

"Don't be so modest. I'm confident in your skill." (Naofumi)

"Ha, I'm working my hardest to meet your expectations." (Old Man)

"Next is... Oh right, do you have any information about the other vendors?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, right. The Magic shop collapsed, didn't it?" (Old Man)

So that big magic shop collapsed... It was on the Castle Town's main street. It was also on the side of town the Turtle attacked from.

...

"Were the employees Okay?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, the owner escaped without a scratch. The problem is that the Store is now gone. She's currently taking refuge in Ryut Village." (Old Man)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

"The Medicine Shop has gotten quite busy." (Old Man)

"There were quite a few injured in the disaster, so that business is thriving as well." (Naofumi)

"Something like that. But the clothing stores seem to be losing business." (Old Man)

Fumu... So no one I knew dies.

I don't have to go around the whole town to investigate.

"Well, I'm starting a business, so please give my regards to the other vendors. The place is..." (Naofumi)

I tell the Old Man about my land. I also talk about the village that it will be centered around.

Right now, The Hero of the Shield is popular. There may be some people willing to jump on the bandwagon.

It would be best if I could have some people that I trust among them.

The village isn't exceptionally far from the Castle Town anyways.

"Got it, Got it. Everyone was worried about you anyways, my boy. Some people may be willing to go with you." (Old Man)

"I have a debt to those people, so I'll give them some preferential treatment. Old Man, if you ever feel like moving, you can come any time."
(Naofumi)

"Got it, Got it." (Old Man)

And with that, the Old Man casually avoided the topic. However his gaze seems to be serious.

"You have something else to ask, don't you?" (Old Man)

"You can tell?" (Naofumi)

"Boy, every time you come here, you come with a mountain of requests."
(Old Man)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

I don't really want to show it. I take off the cloak and show him my armor.

The Old Man gives a look of understanding.

"It was an intense battle. It held up well." (Naofumi)

The Barbarian armor is in a terrible shape. Its defense has also dropped considerably.

It's autonomous repair function did not activate at all. I wondered if it was beyond repair, so I took it to the Old Man.

"The Core Piece is not very damaged, but... everything else is gone case."
(Old Man)

"Can you fix it?" (Naofumi)

"Hmm... It's not like it can't be repaired but... that depends on the materials. It will also cost a bit." (Old Man)

"Is that so?" (Naofumi)

"Will you put in a request? I got some rare materials from that Monster for cheap." (Old Man)

They have more of those parts than they can handle.

It seems that a large quantity of materials were set aside for me, but still the turtle has way too many materials for the town to get rid of all of them.

"I am overstocked on those materials. If you pay a little money, I can make a lot of stuff for you." (Old Man)

"Is that alright with you?" (Naofumi)

"Don't worry, if it's a request from you, I'll definitely carry it out. I also want to experiment with unknown materials." (Old Man)

“...” (Naofumi)

This man’s generosity towards me... it seems to be endless.

His skill level is also on a level I can respect. To be honest, I really want him to come work in my village.

Right now I am just starting out. Once I’ve finished setting up the village, I’ll invite him again.

“Well, in a matter of priorities, I guess the armor comes first... After that comes making a shield. You won’t necessarily lose any money on that one.”
(Old Man)

“Yeah, worse comes to worst, I can just copy it, and re-sell the original.”
(Naofumi)

“So you do get it. Well, please leave your armor here.” (Old Man)

“Understood.” (Naofumi)

I take off my wreck-of-an-armor and hand it over to the Old Man.

“As for the core piece, I think you should hold onto it.” (Old Man)

“Is that alright?” (Naofumi)

“I’ll embed the core in later. You can pay for it at that point in time.” (Old Man)

“Thanks.”(Naofumi)

“Boy, what do you plan to do while waiting for your armor?” (Old Man)

“I think I’ll borrow a second-hand one from the castle. Or maybe I’ll wear the Costume.” (Naofumi)

That costume does have some useful features attached. If only the appearance could be changed...

Rishia seems to be forming a strange affinity for it, but... that’s not my problem.

“Anyways, I’ll leave it to you.” (Naofumi)

“Got it!” (Old Man)

My negotiations with the Old Man are complete. I put the cloak back on and leave the store.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 133 – E Float

---

“Now then…”

I put in a few requests with the Old Man. I could go meet up with Raphtalia and the others, or I could go talk to the Queen. I have some questions about her plan from here on out.

I might be able to get some second-hand equipment as well.

I return to the castle, and ask for the Queen’s location.

It seems that after the meeting ended, she went to her office to do paperwork.

“Queen.” (Naofumi)

“Iwatani? What is troubling you now?” (Queen)

“Can you spare us some equipment?” (Naofumi)

“Sure, there’s no issues with me doing that. However, much of the equipment we currently have on stock has been heavily damaged during the previous battle.” (Queen)

“I know, but right now I don’t need anything high class. If you’re not using it, can you hand it over?” (Naofumi)

“It’s for managing your new land, right?” (Queen)

“Correct.” (Naofumi)

“Oh, right. Iwatani, I have a favor I would like to ask of you.” (Queen)

The Queen’s tone makes it sound like it is quite a big deal.

“What is it?” (Naofumi)

“I have finished speaking with the other countries… it’s about managing the heroes for the next waves.” (Queen)

“Fumu…”

Though we still don’t know the meaning behind the blue hourglass, the red hourglass may begin to move again soon.

The red one only had 3 days left on it. It will be difficult to prepare if it suddenly starts moving again.

The other 3 heroes are still missing, so there is a large problem regarding man-power.

“Many countries want to focus on Iwatani as a main fighting force. There are also plenty of countries that want to deny entry to the other heroes.” (Queen)

“Of course, after that…” (Naofumi)

The information has been hidden from the general public, but the leaders won’t want to let those who caused this calamity to enter their countries.

Even countries unrelated to the incident wouldn’t want the same thing to happen to them.

“Of course, that only applies if they are still alive. If they are found, can I leave it to you to arrest them?” (Queen)

“You remember that my stats won’t recover for another 3 months, right…?” (Naofumi)

“I know I may be asking the impossible. I do think that they will return to this country, if they do return, though…” (Queen)

“Why is that?” (Naofumi)

“Because of spreading rumors, most of the countries besides this one have decided to place restrictions on the movements of the heroes.” (Queen)

“Doesn’t that mean you can monopolize the heroes?” (Naofumi)

… What a fearsome woman. Somehow got to gain exclusive access to a massive fighting force.

“The belief is spreading that the heroes other than the Shield were false heroes…” (Queen)

Well I can understand their train of thought. They could have just obtained weapons that change shape.

It seems that in the past, production of such items was possible.

“The belief is spreading that the summoned heroes other than Iwatani were fakes, and that they should instead depend on the strengths of the Seven Star Heroes.” (Queen)

What sort of belief is that?

The mindset of people overcome by fear scares me.

...Though I don't know what sort of people the Seven Star Heroes are in the first place...

"The contributing factor to this belief was a rumor that began circulating during the last wave." (Queen)

"Ah, the fact that all the heroes other than me lost?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, there were many people who witnessed that battle, so it was impossible to stop the spread of such a rumor. The rumor had almost died down, but then they had to go off to another country and cause this disaster..." (Queen)

Fake Heroes...

It's the same thing that happened to me before. I have to be careful not to get any bad rumors spread about me.

"There is also the question of their strength. They are definitely strong, but they are not on a level that is impossible to attain by a normal person..." (Queen)

I don't really know exactly how strong those 3 are, so I can't really say anything in regards to that.

But they are probably still sticking to their own systems of enhancement instead of trying the others.

“But it will be troublesome if no country accepts charge of them… So I have decided to make this country the only one to accept them.” (Queen)

Shadow should have told them about how to unlock the other systems, but they stubbornly stuck to the belief that this was the world of the game they knew.

Looking back, their way of doing things was quite half-assed.

If they had only attempted to trust the others, they may have been able to get 3 times the enhancements as before.

Because I was oblivious, I tried out all of the systems and got my weapons to this level…

They’re just like Raphtalia and Firo when they had reached their level 40 cap before classing up.

Though their level rose beyond 80, that doesn’t mean they were getting particularly stronger.

Because I properly strengthened my equipment, I can keep up with Raphtalia and Firo, but I’m not sure about the others.

“Oh yeah, what about Bitch?” (Naofumi)

“There’s still a faint response from her… If I want to, I can still activate her slave crest.” (Queen)

“I wouldn’t really care if she died, though…” (Naofumi)

“... Bitch has some uses while alive, so it would be troublesome if she died. And she still owes me some money.” (Queen)

“Uses?” (Naofumi)

“Well, her punishment helps entertain Iwatani... plus if she never repents, there is still something we can have her do...” (Queen)

“Hmm...” (Naofumi)

What will you make her do?

I think I will feel motivated to find her if you tell me.

“Do you want to know what I plan to do to her?” (Queen)

“No, I feel it will be more fun to find out when the time comes.” (Naofumi)

If it's something cruel, I think it is better to hear it whilst in front of her. It will give off a 'surprise party' sort of feeling.

“Ah right, have you already gathered the necessary materials from the turtle?” (Naofumi)

“Yes. I was just about to call you to collect them. They are lying around the training grounds in front of the warehouse. You may do as you wish with them.” (Queen)

“Got it.” (Naofumi)

I part with the Queen, and look around the front of the warehouse as instructed, and begin to feed the large mountain of Spirit Turtle and Spirit Turtle Familiar materials to the shield.

...

As I was doing it, I noticed a giant eyeball, and a chunk of a brain inside of the mountain.

Did they go as far as to take apart the head and bring it all the way here?

This head is probably the one that Raphtalia and Firo were able to cut off during the Recon Battle.

There were also things that looked like parts of the heart, and a moss like substance. There's even some lumber.

If I want to feed the shield all of this, I'll have to stay up all night. I'll leave some meaty bits to cook later...

-

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Carapace Shield

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Skin Shield

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Flesh Shield

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Bone Shield

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Blood Shield

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Bodily Fluid Shield (TL: ( ° ㄣ ㄣ ))

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Leukocyte Shield

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Muscle Shield

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Heart Shield

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Myocardium Shield

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Capillary Shield

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Heart Eye Shield

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Iris Shield

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Sacred Tree Shield

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Familiar (Bat Form) Shield

You have unlocked the Spirit Turtle Familiar (Yeti Form) Shield

...etc (TL: Quite a pain to translate anatomy terms)

I unlock a ridiculous amount of shields from the Spirit Turtle Series.

All of them have really high base defense.

The one with the highest defense is the Spirit Turtle Carapace Shield. It's base is many levels above the Chimera Viper.

I guess enhancing this weapon will be fun.

Now then... to look at its stats...

It seems that a skill can be unlocked by awakening it.

-

Spirit Turtle Carapace Shield 0/40 C

Ability Bonus

...

Equipment Bonus

Skill: E Float Shield

Gravity Field

C Soul Recovery

Magical Barrier (Large)

Weapon Proficiency 0

-

E Float Shield... Is that short for Air Stream? (TL: Can someone translate エアスト)

What sort of skill is that?

I should probably test it.

「E Float Shield!」

The word 'On' appear in my field of vision. In the air, a shield manifests.

... Is it something like Air Strike Shield?

I think this as I try to approach the floating shield...

As I walk forward the shield moves as well to match my movement.

?

Is it a wall that moves with me as the base? It's like a combination of Air Strike Shield and Meteor Shield.

I wait for the skill to wear off.

...It's not disappearing.

Its effective time is quite long. I don't have time to wait for it to vanish. I'll figure out its effect time later.

C Soul Recovery is probably the ability that the Spirit Turtle had. The ability to steal and recover SP as you attack

Gravity Field is an ability that seems to be common in the Spirit Turtle Series.

I believe it will force objects to be drawn to the ground, but as I am the only person here, I can't really test it.

...

As I am deep in thought, the E Float Shield begins to spin in the air in front of me.

What is this?

It's getting in the way. Go away.

And with that thought, it does indeed move away.

...So it can move to whatever location I command it to move to.

This might be quite useful.

Its effective range is 1 Meter from me.

The on-off icon that appears makes me think it is probably a Semi-Passive skill.

My SP is slowly decreasing over time.

I think I will be able to keep it up for quite a while. As expected of something made of Spirit Turtle Materials.

"Change Shield!" (Naofumi)

I change my equipped shield. And instead of disappearing the floating shield changes to match my new shield.

Hmm... This could have quite a few uses. The only flaw is that I can only bring out one at a time.

This shield may become part of my main repertoire. But that depends on the quality of the shield the Old Man makes for me.

The other Shields are... There are some with nothing but high base stats, and others with plenty of Stat Increasing effects.

? I spot an abnormal shield within the list.

-

Spirit Turtle Heart Shield 0/45 C

Ability Bonus

...

Equipment Bonus

HP Recovery Increase (Small)

C Magic Snatch

C Gravity Shot

Tenacity Enhancement (TL: Literally Life Force Up)

Weapon Proficiency 0

C Magic Snatch... It probably lets me steal magic power. C Gravity Shot seems to be an offensive ability.

(TL: Though he may be stating the obvious, most of the skill names are in english while his explanation is in japanese.)

Tenacity Enhancement? If this were a game, it would increase my endurance.

There are still plenty of shields to examine. I'll look through them later.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 134 – Balloon Shield

---

“Naofumi-sama”

As I am testing out my new shields, Raphtalia comes running over.

She was gone for quite a while. Did she finish gathering her fellow villagers?

“I went to many different stores with the Slave Dealer, and managed to gather quite a few people.” (Raphtalia)

“I see… Okay, I’ll go check it out. Do you think I have enough funds?”
(Naofumi)

“Yes, I was sent over to ask what you wanted to do with the remaining money.” (Raphtalia)

“I see. I’ll head over to the Slave Dealer’s place then.” (Naofumi)

“Yes, let us go. Where are Firo and Rishia?” (Raphtalia)

“I sent them out to hunt. I think they will be out for a while.” (Naofumi)

I don’t know how far Firo went.

I don’t think she will go to a place where even she will have trouble.

Her feral instincts are quite sharp.

“Ah, but first I have to say something to the Queen.” (Naofumi)

It will probably be best to prepare to depart tonight.

Time is of the essence. I need to see just how much I can train these people.

“Hmm? Have you finished preparing?” (Queen)

The Queen appears behind me. It seems she went out for a walk.

I fed most of the materials to the Shield, so the mountain has pretty much disappeared.

… The Queen must be pretty busy right now. It’s not strange for her to look for a change of pace.

“For the most part. Please send the rest of the materials to my village. I plan to make the meat into a meal sometime in the near future.” (Naofumi)

With the new slaves I will be getting, the need for food has risen exponentially.

It’s not that I can’t procure food on my own, but there’s a lot I need to do right now. First I need to work on reestablishing the village.

“Then I shall dispatch a platoon of soldiers to assist in your work. Please use them as you will.” (Queen)

“Ah, thanks. I plan to head to the area now to prepare.” (Naofumi)

“If you need anything, please feel free to ask. We will do our best to meet your needs.” (Queen)

"I got it. The first things I'll need to do is to collect construction materials and put up theft countermeasures. I plan to depart tonight, so please prepare the men by then."(Naofumi)

If a hero were to load a carriage with a large load of slaves it would seem quite shady. That's why leaving in the night is probably best.

I thought Firo's eyes would be like those of a bird, but she can see at night just fine. Travelling at night is no problem.

"I understand." (Queen)

After hearing the Queen's response, I thank her and leave the castle. I head for the Slave Trader's tent.

"Hero of the Shield, I have gathered the slaves at your request." (Slave Dealer)

"Yeah, I heard from Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

When I enter the tent, I see some Demi-Human children, 8 in total, staring at me from inside cages.

All of them are watching my every action with fear.

Some of them are even shaking.

"I thought there would be adults here as well..." (Naofumi)

"In the wave, most of the adults perished... We don't know the fate of those that survived..." (Raphtalia)

Even if they survived, Raphtalia was unable to discover their locations. Or perhaps she found that they had died afterwards...

If they had fled during the First Wave, there is a possibility that they escaped to Silt Welt or something like that.

Finding them will probably be impossible.

Anyways, I don't plan to dig very deep into this.

"Now then, I'm sure you have already heard it from Raphtalia, but I will declare it again here." (Naofumi)

It's probably best for me to act strict here.

At the start, Raphtalia was a coward and Firo grew to be selfish.

To avoid these problems down the road, I should treat them with discipline.

"From now on, you all are my slaves. You will travel to your former village and rebuild it, while training to get stronger." (Naofumi)

If I show kindness here, I will be looked down upon.

"I hate lazy people the most. If anyone begins to slack off, I will sell them without hesitation. You got that!?" (Naofumi)

As I say this, I see the Slave Merchant issuing commands to his subordinates. One strikes an instrument reminiscent of a gong.

... Who told him to do that?

Look at them, they look afraid.

… No that's probably my fault.

"Hiiiiiii-!" (Child)

"R-Raphtalia-chan, is this really the guy!?" (Child)

"Mama-!" (Child)

My ears hurt.

But what I'm running isn't a charity. I must raise a force to combat the wave.

"Now then, I will start the Slave Contract." (Naofumi)

As I raise my hand, the Slave Dealer lets out a smile. He hands over some Slave Contract Ink.

I put a drop of my blood into the ink.

And the process of putting the slave crest on the children started.

"Yes, what do you plan to do with the rest of the money?" (Slave Dealer)

"I plan to continue peddling, so if you have a monster I can use for transportation, it will help." (Naofumi)

… The Slave Dealer's eyes are still sparkling. Please stop it with that look.

"Then, shall I contribute a Filo Rial to your cause?" (Slave Dealer)

“No, I have my hands full with a Filo Rial as it is. Please offer a different species.” (Naofumi)

“Are you not good with Filo Rials?” (Slave Dealer)

“I would prefer a monster that won’t lose to Firo in skill. One that may be able to help plow the fields.” (Naofumi)

While wandering town, I didn’t see only Filo Rials and Horses. I’ve also seen animals that looked like Cows and Caterpillars hooked up to carts.

And if I raise another Filo Rial… My hands are full with Firo.

“Master, I’m Hungry” (Naofumi’s imagination)

The thought of more of those things is enough to make my face pale. I only want to raise them one at a time.

Among magic beasts, Filo Rials need to be raised with quite a bit of discipline apparently.

They might add a good amount to our fighting power, but for now, we are still just reconstructing. I don’t think I can raise a Monster with an appetite of that level.

I still have a lot of Spirit Turtle meat, but I don’t plan to waste it all at once.

I should first start with something I can actually handle.

“I see… Then I shall find a beast for you.” (Slave Dealer)

“I’ll leave it to you” (Naofumi)

“Do you want to purchase one from an egg? Or would you rather have a fully grown one? Raising them from eggs makes them more compliant later on in life.” (Slave Dealer)

“I guess an egg is fine for now.” (Naofumi)

“Understood. Yes.” (Slave Dealer)

The Slave Dealer walks towards the part of the tent used for Monster Sales.

I look through the restrictions I can put on the eight new slaves.

It seems I can also put a punishment for revealing classified information.

I’ll decide on their specific tasks later.

It seems that the slave registration process has ended. As I look outside, I see the sun has already set.

We can leave after Firo and Rishia arrive.

After a while, Firo comes running in.

… There is no one on her back.

Did she fall off?

Firo skids to a halt in front of me.

“I’m home~!” (Firo)

“What happened to Rishia?” (Naofumi)

“?” (Firo)

“P-please let me down…urp…” (Rishia)

It seems that Rishia hasn't fallen off. She is grasping onto some of Firo's feathers on her rear as if her life depended on it.

It seems that she almost fell off when Firo was going at a high speed.

Firo sits down, and Rishia falls off of her quite abruptly.

“Urp…” (Rishia)

Rishia is making sounds quite unbecoming of a noble.

-Please hold for technical difficulties. (TL: Yes, it really says that)

“Now then, to check the results.” (Naofumi)

These two have been out since just before noon. The sun has already set, so…

Ah, Rishia's level has risen by 20. The results aren't bad.

Her stats are even higher than they were before the Reset. It seems that the Growth Correction effect is working properly.

“I can see stars. Itsuki-sama… Is that you in the afterlife?” (Rishia)

“That's an illusion. Firo, please snap her back to reality.” (Naofumi)

“Got it” (Firo)

Firo lightly slaps Rishia's cheek.

Is what it looked like, but Rishia is sent flying. Is she all right?

"Wha!!! Where am I!?" (Rishia)

"Oh, so you were okay." (Naofumi)

"I thought I was dead!" (Rishia)

"Yeah, but you gained 20 levels to show for the experience. Your stats are higher than ever before, aren't they?" (Naofumi)

"He?" (Rishia)

Rishia checks her own status.

"Wow, Amazing!" (Rishia)

For her to be this amazed at her own stats...

Now then.

"Rishia, I have a job I want to give you." (Naofumi)

"W-what is it?" (Rishia)

"I want you, Raphtalia and Firo to help me manage the new Slaves and monsters I have acquired" (Naofumi)

"I-I see..." (Rishia)

“Raphtalia and Firo are already strong, I want you to act like their elder and train with them.” (Naofumi)

There’s no point in just leveling up.

Rishia, who leveled up down a wrong path before is a good example of this.

I plan to have Raphtalia and Firo assist them, but I don’t just want to build a party with a high level.

Gaining combat experience is also important in itself.

So for a while, I’ll take Raphtalia and Firo off the front lines.

This way, these people will be able to gain a strength that can’t be measured in level.

“You’re going to get stronger, right? Good luck.” (Naofumi)

“B-but that was for Itsuki-sama, and he…” (Rishia)

“He’s not the type of person to die so easily is he? When you meet up again, don’t you want to make him tell you that he needs your power?” (Naofumi)

I think it’s fine if he is dead, but I’m saying this in order to further Rishia’s growth.

“I got it! I’ll do my best!” (Rishia)

Rishia seems to have gained motivation. She stands up.

Good. Her heart has become stronger than before.

All that she needs now is diligence. Probably.

“I’ll wait expectantly.” (Naofumi)

“Yes!” (Rishia)

“Master, what do you want Firo to do next?” (Firo)

“Please get the carriage. We’ll be carrying a lot, so also bring some carts. There should be a lot in front of the warehouse.” (Naofumi)

“Yes! Ah, I found this for you.” (Firo)

And with that, Firo begins to pull out the corpses of various monsters.

I’ve seen all of these before. Whatever, I’ll just feed them to the shield anyways.

-

You’ve unlocked the Balloon Shield

You’ve unlocked the Red Balloon Shield

You’ve unlocked the Orange Balloon Shield

You’ve unlocked the Yellow Balloon Shield

-

What?

The monster I absorbed was a normal balloon. And I unlocked all of the other Balloon Shields with it.

For arguments sake, I look through the new shields. All of them only effect stats.

But the Balloon Shield is the only one with a strange skill.

-

Balloon Shield 0/5 C

Ability Bonus

...

Equipment Bonus

Monster Book

-

Its stats are terrible. Even worse than my initial Small Shield.

But what does it mean by Monster Book?

I test it.

With a beep, a window appears in my field of vision.

... It displays all of the monsters I have fed the shield up until now.

It even says where I found them. It also seems to have the ability to lead me to a specific species of monster if I wish to encounter it.

How convenient.

It records the data of any monster I absorb.

However, it doesn't seem to display the number of monster species of this world.

In high spirits, Firo went and got the carriage I had parked at the castle.

To be honest, if it weren't for Firo, the voyage would probably take a few days.

"Hero of the Shield, as you have requested, I have prepared you some eggs. Yes." (Slave Dealer)

The Slave dealer appears carrying a number of eggs.

"Ah, I'm grateful." (Naofumi)

"Do you know when your next visit will be?" (Slave Dealer)

"Well, I still have money left over, so I may come again soon to buy more slaves." (Naofumi)

"Well then, I will wait expectantly for that time. If I find one of the slaves you were looking for, should I contact you?" (Slave Dealer)

"Yes, please do." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Slave dealer)

"Then I guess I should be off." (Naofumi)

I hear the sound of Firo pulling the carriage getting closer.

"...but before that..." (Naofumi)

I turn around and face the Slave Dealer, who is rubbing his hands together.

"I'll make dinner." (Naofumi)

I use the Spirit Turtle meat that Firo brought back with her, and begin cooking in the tent.

It's a basic hot pot consisting of meat and soup.

The turtle has a bit of a unique taste, but it shouldn't be a problem.

"Wha?! This is Delish!" (Child)

"What is this? It's better than what mom used to make!" (Child)

"Yeah! Why is that?" (Child)

"Naofumi-sama is a very skilled chef, you know." (Raphtalia)

"Yeah! Firo loves to eat master's cooking." (Firo)

The slaves seem to be getting closer over the delicious meal.

"This is just perfect. To eat a meal personally cooked by a hero. I might fall for you." (Slave Dealer)

The Slave Dealer also managed to obtain some of the food in the heat of the moment... If I worry about it, I lose. I'm cooking in his store, anyways.

"If you find more of the villagers, you might get to eat it again. Work hard."
(Naofumi)

But the Slave Merchant seems lost in his meal. I'm not sure if he heard me.

It's like a welcoming party. Things will get busy from here on out. I need to make sure they get proper nourishment or they won't hold up.

And like that, after the meal the slaves boarded the carriage and we leave the castle town in the darkness of the night. Towards our new home.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 135 – Artificial Feeding

---

I let Firo pull the carriage and we march in the middle of the night; we arrived at the outskirts of Raphtalia's village in the morning.

"Master, we have arrived." (Firo)

"Good." (Naofumi)

While I was sleeping Kiel tried to play a prank on me and got reprimanded harshly by Raphtalia.

Of course with the exception of Raphtalia and Rishia, the slaves got harsh restriction and the slave mark got set to activate immediately if they tried to attack me.

Also, because of what Bitch did before, now I immediately awake when something happened.

On the first day we went to work with the slaves to demolish the building wreckages.

"This house is important to me!" (Kiel)

Kiel shouted in rejection.

"it's important to treasure your house, but look, the roof has fallen, the wall has been destroyed. It's a pity, but you'll have to accept that there are house that can still be repaired and those that beyond repair." (Naofumi)

I searched for stuff that either have monetary value or can still be used but they are either robbed or there simply none, there are still some items left behind but they are already too rusted to be of use.

The water well seems salvageable.

The field... seems need some considerable maintenance.

"I understand the feeling of not wanting to discard your memories, but from the standpoint of reconstruction the stuff that are going to get in the way need to be discarded" (Naofumi)

"But-" (Kiel)

"Kiel-kun! Stop saying selfish things!" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia warn him. Well, it's not necessarily need to stop him.

Even so...

"This is the house that you once lived in." (Naofumi?)

"It is!" (Kiel)

"Then, the newly built house here will be yours." (Naofumi?)

"eh?" (Kiel)

The brat called Kiel looked at me with puzzled expression.

"Under the condition that you will become the one who manage the communal house. You will become responsible for the place where the others are gathering." (Naofumi)

"U-un." (Kiel)

Kiel nodded vaguely to my words

"That's why — NOW! Firo!" (Naofumi)

"YES!" (Firo)

The moment Kiel showed an opening. Firo charges at the deserted house and promptly did flying kick at the fulcrum of the house and destroyed it.

“AaaaaAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA!?” (Kiel) (TL: Yes, scream louder)

Leaving the dumbfounded Kiel, I went to the next task.

Before noon the materials for building houses and the castle’s soldiers that the queen prepared arrived.

Stones, lumbers… and is it plasters?

“Hero of the shield-sama objective are to reconstruct this place?” (Soldier)

The soldier seems to have heard the story from the queen.

“Aa, at the very least I want the roof to be constructed before the day end. I’m aware of this unreasonable request but I’m counting on you.”

(Naofumi)

“We might be soldiers but we do have some knowledge about construction. So please leave it to us.” (Soldier)

“Please do.” (Naofumi)

Construction and Conscription… are they even related?

(TLN : <http://thedefend.wordpress.com/2014/11/03/chapter-135-artificial-feeding/#comment-4>)

And then I realized it was about to become noon.

“For the time being we will left the building to the soldiers, Raphtalia, Firo, and then Rishia.”

“Yes.” (Raphtalia)

"Wha—at?" (Firo)

"What is it? (Rishia)

Those three replied to my call

"After this I will start making lunch, after you finished your meal you three along with the slaves will go out and begin demon extermination."

"Understood" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah." (Firo)

"I'll do my best." (Rishia)

"I'll leave the squad composition to you. Having too much people will be detrimental on the EXP that will be obtained okay." (Naofumi)

I haven't attempted to do an actual measurement, just how much will the amount decreased?

Rather, how does the distribution system works? I have no idea at all how the EXP distribution system work.

"Is there anyone who knew the details?" (Naofumi)

"Um..." (Rishia)

Rishia raised her hand apologetically .

"What?" (Naofumi)

"The people who are inside the party receive the same amount of EXP. The maximum limit for that is 6 people. Anymore than that will causing the amout of EXP obtained to decrease." (Rishia)

Oh, so that's why you were left out.

Though if I said that she would probably cry 'Fueee' so it's better to stay silent. It's annoying.

In an expedition with a large amount of people there doesn't seem to be a problem in dividing the group.

That mean that it is sufficient to organize 6 people in 1 team.

Instead of multiple team fighting against one demon, it's better to separate into different areas.

"I understand the explanation" (Naofumi)

"Alright. Then we will be splitting up." (Naofumi?)

"Leave it to me." (Raphtalia?)

I gave authority to Raphtalia to make a party.

At the present we had 8 slaves that's why Rishia led two person, and Raphtalia and Firo led 3 person.

"Then I'll start cooking lunch so lend me a hand." (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Raphtalia)

Then the three people begin to help as much as they can.

"Raphtalia-chan will be helping out?" (Kiel)

Kiel who just recovered from his absentminded state began to stare at me who are in the middle of cooking preparation while asking Raphtalia.

He recovered pretty quickly. Is it because he is still a child?

“Raphtalia-chan was always bad at housework.” (Kiel)

“Erm…” (Raphtalia)

With a troubled look Raphtalia send me a glance.

What? What do you expect me to do?

She seems want to show her friend his good side, Raphtalia timidly began to open her mouth.

“Should I help?” (Raphtalia)

“Should I just randomly grill some meat or make some soup? I would prefer it if it were a dish that I could just leave over a fire for a while.” (Naofumi)

The meal that I made taste good so I’ve been the one who did the cooking. I’ve already used to it. Lately everyone has been leaving the cooking to me.

“It’s enough if you just help me clean up.” (Naofumi)

I began to cut the ingredients to chunks. The meat was large so it was kind of hard to cut with a cooking knife.

With that said, when Raphtalia was the one who cook the food they didn’t taste good and Firo said to just leave all the cooking to me…

I ignore their complaints and began cooking.

By the way, It’s possible to cook the recipe with the shield but there is a very big flaw in this. Before fighting the turtle spirit cooking was already easy, I tried cooking with the shield at Calmira island but…

“Food is coming out of the shield!” (Firo)

Firo stared at my shield enviously with great excitement.

"Ah, It was made with the shield's skill." (Naofumi)

"It's awesome." (Firo)

The food that served is a spaghetti like food that is unique to this world.

The name of the food seems to be naporata. (TLN: Yes, that is what the raw said)

To be honest It sounded like the variety kind of pasta from my world, the shield seems to change the name of the item so it resembles the item from my world.

"It taste somewhat... normal." (Raphtalia)

"Yeah... normal." (Firo)

Seems like the food quality was affected, it tasted normal and it doesn't contain the subtle delicate tastes.

It doesn't taste bad. But it doesn't taste good either. It's definitely normal.

"Master's cooking is way better."(Firo)

"That's true. Even when it's cold the food that Naofumi-sama made is still a delicious." (Raphtalia)

"I- I got it." (Naofumi)

For some reason those two stare at me with reproachful gaze and it made me remembered that I've been looked at with those kind of eyes.

Come to think of it, these two no longer satisfied by food from restaurant and only pleased by the food that I cooked.

I don't think it's possible to become a gourmet after just eating my food once. But at least they seems to be motivated by my food. (TIn : raw said gourmet but I think it meant picky)

Come to think of it, what if the situation where I am the cook got reversed?
For the time being I better assemble cooking team because at the moment there is no restaurant in the surrounding area.

“Here, the food is ready, after you finished eating go out already.”
(Naofumi)

I distribute the meat that I grilled above the crude iron plate and the soup that have been cooked.

“As I thought this is absolutely delish.” (Slave A)

“Yeah! It’s really good.” (Slave B)

The slaves devour the food with smile on their face.

I also treat the soldiers that made the house some food as well.

“This…。 I’ve never eaten such a delicious grilled meal before!?” (Soldier A)

“Are you kidding? They made some of those at the castle and they didn’t taste good at all.” (Soldier B)

The shield’s handmade correction is endless.

Did you guys knead any salt and spice on the meat beforehand?

The slaves devoured the food that I cooked.

Nevertheless, there is no need to eat that much.

It’ll be bad if I don’t prepare enough food after they returned from levelling.

“Now then, you lots, each and everyone of you will be carrying a weapon and then you will fight.” (Naofumi)

And with that declaration the slaves become scared.

Just like the old Raphtalia, the girl turned pale when received the bladed tools.

I hand the second-hand weapons that I got from the castle to them. Most of them are dagger designed for beginners.

“Prepare yourself that if you did not fight you will feel pain on your chest. And if you do that, don’t ever think of returning to your hometown.”

(Naofumi)

“Gu···.” (Kiel)

Kiel tried to complain to me on behalf of the others.

But Raphtalia interrupt him and prevent him to say anything.

“I don’t exactly need you people for anything. Only for territory development. But, because Raphtalia has been obediently following my orders you guys will become her present. So don’t misunderstand or anything.” (Naofumi)

The slaves glaring at me provokingly.

I’ve used to playing the role of the bad guy in this world. Besides, I’m not doing this for charity or anything. There is no need to anxiously worried about the future since I’m planning to return to my own world anyway. I need to prepare a place for Raphtalia so she can spend her time peacefully.

“Now then··· Firo, I want you to place all the monsters that you defeat into the wagon. There are a lot of use for them.” (Naofumi)

“Yeess!” (Firo)

Mainly as food.

Later, just like what Ren did I should absorb those stuff into the shield.

(TLN : Probably as item instead of shield unlock)

Right now those heroes are still way ahead of me (TLN: either in term of absorbed material or EXP)

"Come on, off you go then. See ya." (Naofumi)

I point at Firo's carriage and ordered them.

The slaves reluctantly ride the carriage. Firo started to pull the carriage and went to hunt.

"Mind the speed." (Naofumi)

"ye-s!" (Firo)

The carriage made gotogoto sound as firo pulled them.

"I'll leave the house construction to you then." (Naofumi)

"U-understood." (Soldier)

I asked the soldiers to begin construction, set the shield to start compounding, and next is to start cooking.

It's only a little bit more until the demon egg hatched.

Before the Spirit Turtle meat ran out I need to find a way to supply food.

"Well then..." (Naofumi)

The slaves that went together with Raphtalia returned back at evening.

Everyone is exhausted. The demons that were defeated are loaded onto the chained carts. Right now we need food immediately, they did good.

But right now, there is something that is more awful.

Guuuuuu.....。

Guuu.....。

Kyururururururu.....。

Gugyururururururu.....。

The sound sounded like roar.

I wonder what would happen when they suddenly increased in level at an environment where food is scarce? I'm slightly curious.

Perhaps they won't die but they'll definitely starving. I think that while looking at Raphtalia.

The body which is undergoing rapid growth want nourishment thus they became hungry.

"You guys finally returned, did you guys fight properly?" (Naofumi)

"erm, everyone did their best." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia answered with a smile.

I saw the slaves faces and their expression are difficult.

I didn't ask for a Sparta kind of thing, but they seems to be unsatisfied.

"Fuee... So tired." (Rishia)

"Oh, Rishia, how was your condition?" (Naofumi)

"It feels easier to move than before" (Rishia)

Certainly her status are higher before the level reset. With this battle should become a little more easier.

“Rishia-nee-chan. Why are you wearing the plushie?” (Slave)

“That is because Rishia is a plushie mania.” (Naofumi)

“Fuee!” (Rishia)

Rishia tried to deny it while shaking her head left and right, but there is no mistake about that.

“I really have to accept after all.” (Kiel)

Kiel finally consented about the management.

He hate me so he can't trust me.

“If you work the it'll be good. It's dinner now” (Naofumi)

I put the spirit turtle stew and the steak that I have prepared beforehand on the table.

I do this because I've been expecting it.

I made a lot of them but they'll definitely disappear immediately.

“”””Waaaaaa.”””” (The Slaves)

The slaves began to eat excitedly.

Yoshiyoshi...

“Master, where is Firo's share?” (Firo)

“You have it.” (Naofumi)

I take out Firo's part.

They are about 1.5 times of the slave's part.

"Only this much? I want to eat more." (Firo)

"If you want more go hunt it yourself." (Naofumi)

"Buuuu" (Firo)

Firo sulks.

Sorry, but I've made pretty large amount. I can't just cater it to just one person.

""""Thank you for the meal."""" (The Slaves)

What? When I was in the middle of chatting with Firo they already eat everything!?

For the time being they are satisfied.

"Alright kids, go to bed immediately for tomorrow's preparation." (Naofumi)

"...Ye-s." (Slaves)

I crammed the slaves into one the house that the soldiers from the castle repaired for half a day, and the rest of us went into the house to sleep.

The house's windows are still broken; it can be used to defend from the rain but the wind are still blowing in.

I wonder what I should do for tomorrow's food.

"I'll sleep at the place where everyone is." (Raphtalia)

"Got it, I'm counting on you to make them used to it even if it's just for a little bit." (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia leave in order to sleep with her old friends.

Firo was already half asleep. She began to nodding off

Rishia are reading a book that she took out of nowhere. She is a hardworking person

I began compounding for the preparation of my next plan. While at it, I went and checked the level of all slaves. It seem the average level that they raised to is 15. Their status all rise as well. Judging from Raphtalia's growth pattern, I want to raise the level of them even for those that are unsuitable to combat to at least 30.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 136 – Nighttime Meal

---

And a while after that...

I hear a loud knock on my room's door.

"Um..." (Child)

Raphtalia has come, along with the other female slaves.

"What's wrong?" (Naofumi)

"Well..." (Child)

Raphtalia ignores my words, and makes a face as if she is asking for a favor. Is she asking me to make an inference based on the situation? That's impossible for me.

"Did she wet the bed?" (Naofumi)

"You're mistaken. Please tell Naofumi-sama properly." (Raphtalia)

"Um... Well..." (Child)

Gu...

The other female slaves are looking at the floor with an embarrassed expression.

"... I got it. Most of the kids will probably ask the same thing, right? Please gather everyone and wait here." (Naofumi)

"Thank you." (Raphtalia)

I head to the kitchen outside, and begin preparations for cooking.

Really, these kids get hungry really fast.

I look through the monsters gathered while hunting, and arbitrarily stick some on skewers.

It's a pain to deal with the smaller monsters, so I just pan-fry them whole. With all this cooking, my free time is rapidly disappearing.

The next day.

"Now then, you all even had room for a midnight snack, but I must declare something. Those who don't work, do not eat. My ingredient stock is rapidly decreasing. To replenish it, you all must perform some hunting. Basically, if you are able to defeat monsters, I might be willing to cook them for you. You got that?" (Naofumi) (TL: Food, the best way to raise a Loli army)

"Yeah!" (Kids in unison)

... They're being surprisingly honest.

Even Kiel, who had previously shown animosity towards me is replying with enthusiasm.

I'm a bit suspicious, but as long as they're motivated, I guess it all works out.

"I'll make today's dinner with what we have, but that's your last free meal. Don't forget that." (Naofumi)

"...Yes~" (Kids in unison)

Last night was quite hectic. No matter how much I made, they kept asking for more. What's more, they all seemed genuinely hungry.

I get the feeling that I will be stuck in the kitchen for the rest of my life.

What am I? A mother?

I only planned to look over their growth, and eventually help them hunt.

That's all it was supposed to be, but...

"Thank you for the food!" (Kids in Unison)

"You're welcome, now go hunt until the evening." (Naofumi)

"Got it~!" (Kids in unison)

They seem much more enthusiastic than yesterday, as they board Firo's carriage.

... I hope they get at least 20 levels by the time they get back.

"The Hero's cooking really is tasty. I should try my hardest as well."

(Soldier)

The soldiers from the castle are also finding motivation in my cooking. Well, these people are already doing important work, so I'll let it slide.

I... begin preparing for dinner. Am I wasting my time here?

I use the rest of my time helping the soldiers with their work.

There's another important thing needed in ingredient procurement.

And for that, I am having the Shield make herbicide in large quantities.

If a problem occurs, then I can deal with it immediately.

And for that purpose as well, I must raise the levels of the slaves.

If I used that carelessly, a mutation might occur, and I have no idea what will happen.

For now, I should handle the seeds in the carriage with care.

"We're home!" (Kids in unison)

They're all covered in dirt, but smiling as they return to the village.

They're even more energetic before. In contrast, Rishia seems to be quite worn out.

Raphtalia and Firo don't seem tired at all, though.

"So, did you hunt successfully today?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah!" (Child)

"Of course!" (Child)

The adaptability of a child is something to be feared. After two days, they are already used to it.

I get the feeling Raphtalia took quite a bit longer to adapt.

"Then, I'll cook as promised." (Naofumi)

"Hooray~!" (Kids in unison)

The children stampede towards the dinner I had prepared.

"Now then, Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Raphtalia)

"After eating, there's something I have to do... You might get angry."
(Naofumi)

"W-what are you planning?" (Raphtalia)

"A jungle." (Naofumi)

It seems she understands what I was trying to say.

Raphtalia stares at me with stern eyes.

"Are you planting that?" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah, this area is filled with forests anyways, so I don't see what difference it makes." (Naofumi)

"But still..." (Raphtalia)

"The soil around here probably needs quite a bit of work. I did ask the slave dealer for a monster that would help in tending to the fields." (Naofumi)

"... I understand. You have no intention of changing your mind." (Raphtalia)

"It helps that you're so understanding." (Naofumi)

"If you consider efficiency, then I guess there's no choice." (Raphtalia)

I did raise Raphtalia to value efficiency over all else...

Though she does care quite a bit about aesthetics as well.

"And I also completed quite a few tests. I learned to make many types of medicines." (Naofumi)

"Wait a minute, are you meaning to say you plan on modifying that thing even further?" (Raphtalia)

"Yes, I plan to turn it into something that will bring in money quickly."
(Naofumi)

Yes, my plan also puts money as a high priority. Rebuilding a village with only 8 slaves is impossible. Even if the Slave dealer manages to find another slave or two.

"I plan to modify it to make it easier to handle. I'll also watch to make sure no problems occur. Just in case, I have prepared a stock of pesticides. I'll keep at it until we gain a steady stream of food supplies." (Naofumi)

"*Sigh*... Well, be careful." (Raphtalia)

"I know" (Naofumi)

I won't do anything that will cause me to lose money. I only act to make a profit.

The thing I'm planning may be able to have combat uses as well.

As I'm mulling over these facts, I noticed the meal I had made had disappeared at an alarming rate.

"Thanks for the food!!" (Kids in unison)

"You're welcome." (Naofumi)

I can hear some lively conversations.

They've only been here a few days, but most of them are already used to their new lives.

I guess that because this is their home town, they are able to adjust quickly. They're not acting like slaves at all... But I guess that will make them mentally stronger later on.

"Now then, I have something important to tell you all. Make sure to listen well." (Naofumi)

"What~?" (Firo)

Firo and the other slaves tilt their heads in curiosity.

It's a bit of an amusing sight.

"Everyone follow me for a bit." (Naofumi)

I walk towards the fields. It seems everyone is actually following me.

"Here, I have a special type of seed." (Naofumi)

The slaves nod in unison.

"It was created in a faraway land, where it caused quite a bit of a problem."
(Naofumi)

I think the Soldiers have heard about it before. They are whispering amongst themselves.

"But I have modified it since then. You people needed a midnight snack last night, right?" (Naofumi)

"Y-yeah..." (Kiel)

Kiel is the one who responds.

"Please understand that I can't waste all of my time cooking for you people."
(Naofumi)

"But... The Hero of the Shield's cooking is delicious." (Kiel)

"Yeah, I want to eat it every day!" (Child)

"If I am chained to the kitchen, then I can't do my job. It's not that I'll never cook for you people. If you work considerably hard, I may consider it."
(Naofumi)

No matter how we progress on the village's reconstruction, we will always be in need for food.

So I absolutely have to do this.

Those who do not work do not eat, but those who do not eat cannot work.

If they get enough food to fill their stomachs, their progress should improve.

"Now then, for the times that I'm not cooking, you'll have to use this to sate your hunger." (Naofumi)

I drop the seed into the ground and pour some water over it.

The plant begins to grow before our eyes.

The Bioplant grows to about three meters, and begins to sprout tomato-like fruit.

"It may have other uses, but for now I will be filling the field with this seed. Your job is to manage this plant." (Naofumi)

"W-what will we have to do?" (Kiel)

"If it grows outside of its set area, you have to cut it. But for now, we haven't decided on its bounds, so I'll leave that decision to you." (Naofumi)

"Is that fruit... Edible?" (Kiel)

"Yeah, I think it has become the specialty of the village I got it at."
(Naofumi)

At least I've seen it in the Castle Town being advertised as such.

"You can eat it if you get hungry. But if you see any problems occurring, make sure to report it to an adult. That's all." (Naofumi)

I pluck one of the large fruits and hand it to Firo.

Firo starts eating it, but her expression shows that it isn't enough to satisfy her.

Following her lead, some of the other children begin to pluck the fruit and eat it.

"Amazing..." (Child)

"Yeah." (Child)

"At first I thought that rebuilding the village would be impossible, but if it's this person, he may be able to do it." (Child)

Perhaps my reputation has gotten better. Or that may be my imagination.

"I told you that's all. You are dismissed." (Naofumi)

If the cultivation of this fruit is a success, we can end our food supply problem all at once.

It can also be said that if we didn't end this problem, then I would never be able to train these kids to be competent fighters in the time we had left.

I think it's time for me to see how far the knowledge I brought with me from my world will be able to take me.

Now then... the moment of truth is upon us.

The Next Morning.

I give instruction to the group managing the Bioplant.

"Ow..." (Child)

The slaves are taking some damage while handling it. But that pain builds character.

I check everyone's level.

As I thought, they are all around level 20. Rishia got to level 27.

Raphtalia's level is unchanged. But the food shortage has been solved.

All's well with the world.

Gu...

I hear someone's stomach growling.

"When is breakfast?" (Child)

"Today I prepared it before-hand." (Naofumi)

(TL: He says, today I packed bento to be more specific)

I had made wooden boxes with steel reinforcement and loaded them on the carriage. By the way, the contents of them are Sandwiches containing thinly carved grilled meat.

"We're stopping already?" (Kiel)

Kiel says this with defiance.

He's been making quite a few such comments lately.

Perfect. Today is the day I correct his attitude.

"You're saying that because you don't respect my sincerity. Just go with the flow and take a break for breakfast. Otherwise, something terrible might happen." (Naofumi)

"Hm?" (Kiel)

"Firo, go take a walk." (Naofumi)

If you don't eat it quickly, the wild monsters may take it away.

But Kiel has gotten stronger, he should be able to deal with monsters of this caliber.

Firo probably gets it. She won't go to areas with too high difficulty.

With this, Kiel will be able to fight the motion-sickness that Raphtalia suffered from as well.

Just as planned.

What? If you get used to it, it's not a problem.

Well, if you expel the food right after eating it, I guess there's no point. If he learns to eat while riding it, it's killing two birds with one stone.

"Naofumi-sama... You're going too far." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia says this while poking her head out of the carriage.

"Rishia also had to learn to get used to it." (Naofumi)

"Fue..." (Rishia)

"Even though I warned you, you're still making that sound. Should I eat your breakfast for you?" (Naofumi)

"I-I'm working on it you know..." (Rishia)

Her voice is weak.

Well, it probably won't be fixed any time soon.

I hand over bags made of Bioplant to the slaves.

"What is this?" (Kiel)

"You'll understand soon. Now then, have fun." (Naofumi)

I lightly hit Firo's back, and she starts running.

"I'll be off~!" (Firo)

"Wa!" (Child)

"Wha-!" (Child)

"Gyaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa..." (Child)

With a rumbling sound, the carriage disappears into the horizon.

"I guess I should begin other preparations." (Naofumi)

Now that a steady source of food has been secured, I can move on to the next stage of my plan.

"Hero of the Shield?" (Soldier)

"What is it? Are we out of seeds?" (Naofumi)

"No, there are no problems regarding that but... what about our breakfast?"
(Soldier)

Your breakfast?

Why is it already determined that I'm supposed to make it?

"...Yeah, I've prepared it." (Naofumi)

I distribute food among the soldiers.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 137 – People of the Sea

---

Garagaragaragara...

On that day, a carriage with a supplies from the queen arrived.

"I heard the Hero of the Shield could be found here." (Knight)

"What do you need?" (Naofumi)

The knight who came with the carriage addresses me.

I think I've seen this face before... I think she was practicing swordsmanship with Raphtalia.

Her appearance is... that of a standard female knight from a game. If she takes off her helmet, I think her face will rival Raphtalia's in beauty.

Her hair is long and strawberry-blond. Most of it is stuffed into her helmet.

Her eyes are blue, like Firo's. She looks like she would fit the role of a Wicked Queen perfectly.

She is accompanied by other knights, one of whom I recognize as part of volunteer army that helped me during the wave before the last.

"Hero of the Shield!" (Volunteer)

"You... How have you been?" (Naofumi)

"We're working hard on rebuilding the city." (Volunteer)

"I'll bet. But, that's not what I'm asking. What has happened to you guys since then?" (Naofumi)

"Nothing major has changed. I've been sent here to act as a messenger while the others here are reinforcements." (Volunteer)

"Ah, I see." (Naofumi)

The Queen seems to have completely grasped my train of thought. She has already sent more personnel.

"For now, it's just me, but I have been instructed to act as the official messenger between here and the castle." (Volunteer)

"Not the Shadows?" (Naofumi)

"Those people are to act as the unofficial messengers." (Volunteer)

What's the difference?… Well it doesn't really matter.

"I've also been asked to act as a martial arts instructor for the slaves." (Volunteer)

"Ah, that will be helpful." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia is mostly self-taught. It's good to have someone with professional training experience.

"So… where are the ever-so-important slaves right now?" (Volunteer)

"I sent them out to level grind. I think they'll be around level 25 when they get back." (Naofumi)

"Fumu… Your lessons sure are fast-paced." (Volunteer)

"It's Spartan style. Also, I plan to have around 30 more people for non-combat related purposes." (Naofumi)

"For what purpose would that be?" (Volunteer)

"This and that. Well, we also need to rebuild the buildings." (Naofumi)

"Understood, I'll relay that to the castle." (Volunteer)

Now then, I need to move on to the next task as well.

Recently I've been researching various plants. I'm trying to see why I can't modify certain substances.

There are quite a few faults to my modification skills.

For some reason, there are some plants I can edit and some I cannot.

In that respect, the Bioplant is very easy to modify.

So I'll see if I can make that Bioplant produce some simple medicine.

I finish readying a plot for the plant without issue.

"The Hero of the shield sure is enthusiastic." (Kiel)

Kiel, who had just returned, stumbles out of the carriage.

He has stopped complaining to me about cooking, but...

Guu...

His stomach still growls.

A few days later.

"Ahaha~!" (Child)

The slaves are having fun climbing up the Bioplant.

Their levels have all passed 30. Their appearances also changed, and they now look to be around 14-15 years old.

They only look slightly younger than Raphtalia. They have started to look an age that can actually be sent out to battle. They seem to be growing quite healthily.

Their appearance... well I would put it above village children. But there is no one here who rivals Raphtalia in looks. It just seems that they are eating proper meals.

Out of the boys, the one with the best face is probably Kiel. His face looks like a girls. He might grow into a Pretty boy one day (TL: Bishounen).
Rather than saying he looks like a boy, it would be more accurate to say he looks like a boyish girl.
Not that it matters to me.

“Hey, Shield-Niichan! We’ve only been having meat and vegetables for a while. I’m tired of it.” (Kiel)
(TL: I’m debating whether or not to translate Shield-Niichan as Shieldbro)
“Don’t be selfish.” (Naofumi)

For some reason, he’s started to become quite impudent. It’s getting to be quite a pain to deal with.

I should try to set him straight, but he does his work fine, so there’s not much I can do.

He’s been acting quite familiar with me. He’s talking to me as a younger brother rather than a slave. He has also begin to say, ‘Thank you’ when getting food.

As long as he’s motivated...

It seems many of these children were used for physical labor before.

It may seem strange coming from me, but many consider it unethical to send child slaves into battle. They are mostly used for other purposes.

They are quite skillful at physical work.

“Hey, I’m going to go off to the ocean and catch some fish, so please cook them, Nii-chan.” (Kiel)

“I don’t remember becoming your brother!” (Naofumi)

Kiel is definitely looking down on me.

Should I lecture him?

Oh right, Kiel seems to be shorter than the other boys.

His voice is also higher.

"I would also like some fish." (Rishia)

Rishia and the other slaves voice out their agreement.

"Niichan, I want to eat Seafood!" (Kiel)

"Yeah!" (Child)

"Seafood!" (Child)

Damn, it seems I have mass produced Firos.

It's a good thing the eggs haven't hatched yet.

There's no way I could handle a strange monster joining in here.

"Ah, I got it. Today we'll go to the beach do get the fish. While we're there, Firo, go swim out and capture some aquatic monsters." (Naofumi)

"Yes~!" (Children in unison)

And so it turned out that we were headed for the sea.

Well, it has been getting quite hot lately.

Swimming around a bit won't hurt.

These people... They lived here before, so they can swim, right?

And so, after a short walk, we reach our destination.

"Kyahaha~!" (Children)

And so the slaves enthusiastically run out towards the water carrying harpoons. They all take off their clothes and enter in their underwear... In the middle of this, I noticed... Raphtalia and Rishia noticed as well.

"Naofumi-sama!?" (Raphtalia)

"Eh? Eh!?" (Rishia)

"Firo! Go catch Kiel!" (Naofumi)

"? I got it." (Firo)

"Wah!? What is it!" (Kiel)

Firo drags Kiel out of the ocean.

Kiel is violently struggling under Firo's arm.

"What is it, Shield Nii-chan!?" (Kiel)

"Let me say this first. I don't really care, but there is something I must point out a large problem in the way you act." (Naofumi)

"And I'm asking what it is!" (Kiel)

The other slaves notice the commotion, and come over.

They seem to have caught on to the problem.

"Kiel-kun... are you possibly supposed to be Kiel-chan?" (Raphtalia)

"Wha?! What are you talking about? I'm a boy." (Kiel)

Kiel's chest has a bandage wrapped around it, and he... she is wearing a loincloth below.

... For obvious reasons, Raphtalia is pointing at Kiel's nether regions.

Recently I have been unable to read Raphtalia's behavior.

It may be that meeting up with old friends has restored some lost parts of her personality.

"Kiel-kun... do you know the difference between a man and a woman?"

(Raphtalia)

"???" (Kiel)

"Um, you know... A man is someone who has..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia begins whispering in Kiel's ear.

"That can't be true. If I were god, I wouldn't do something so painstaking as to differentiate men and women like that." (Kiel)

"Then please look at the other boys No, look at Naofumi-sama. He's a bit different, isn't he? His chest isn't wrapped right?" (Raphtalia)

"What are you talking about? That's what happens when you become an adult. I just have a bit of excess fat so my chest sticks out. When I become an adult, it will fix itself." (Kiel)

The BS is spilling out at quite an alarming rate.

... How the hell was Kiel raised before becoming a slave?

I have too many questions.

Or was she perhaps raised without such standards? Was she allowed to freely choose her definition for Male and Female?

Whatever the case, she was definitely raised abnormally.

Anyways, how did no one notice during the time he was a slave?

...Was this part of the Slave Dealer's schemes?

If I were the Slave Dealer, I wouldn't go to the trouble of changing a slave's world view, and would just sell her as is.

This country is quite rotten. There's probably a perverted noble who would buy her thinking she were a pretty boy.

And maybe another pervert who found Kiel's lack of gender Identity to be a turn on. All this just raises her selling price.

It seems she has already been sold a few times.

I think I heard that she had broken too many plates at her last place and had thus been returned...

Kiel also has some signs of significant physical abuse, so I guess she didn't receive any preferential treatment.

It seems that the abuse of Demi-human slaves is quite common in this country.

Raphtalia also showed such signs of abuse.

I guess this is the aftereffects of the recent war with Silt Welt.

Out of the 8 slaves one of them said that they were saved by a hero before.

I guess even those people can't stand to see children being abused.

I see that they had left the issue to the country, and the child had eventually been resold as a slave anyways.

In the few days since she came here, I've gotten a good grasp on what personality Kiel has.

Around 6 of the new slaves still act cautiously when away from Raphtalia.

But that isn't an issue I have any influence over. I'll leave that to Raphtalia and Rishia.

At night, Raphtalia puts the other children to sleep, and sometimes sleeps next to them.

She also went through a similar experience, so she is able to understand their problems.

Even if I stay around, I don't think they will open their hearts to me.

Firo, being Firo is able to interact well with them.

She seems to be good with dealing with children in general, that bird.

This may be similar to the practice of Animal Therapy. (TL: google it)

However, the children still get nauseous at the sight of her prized carriage.

"B-but father said that a man is a man if he thinks he is a man no matter what." (Kiel)

So did the daughter began to imitate her father's manly attitude?

And anyways, that talk in itself is implying that you are a woman.

She was raised like someone from a story I had heard about.

(TL: I don't know the reference. Possibly Yukimura of Boku wa Tomodachi ga Tsukunai)

The other female slaves laugh amongst themselves.

I've heard some women like to imagine boys who cross-dress, but what do they think of a Girl who wants to be a man of the sea?

"This can't be... I mean, what's the point of separating man and woman anyways!? I don't even know anymore!" (Kiel)

Author note (TL: The Real one)

Kiel wasn't meant to be an important character, however the personality I gave him overlapped with another male character I planned to make down the road, so I decided to give 'him' a little... quirk.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 138 – Same Sex Only

---

“I don’t know the real meaning of being a man and a woman” (Kiel)

She had always known that she was a man, now she’s really confused.

Right?

Firo. Why are you butting in?

“The reason they separate man and woman, is it because they mate?”

(Firo)

Kiel was confused with Firo’s answer.

Read the situation… with a sweet sound reverberating in the air, Firo just defined what it is to be a man and a woman.

How straightforward, it looks like she understood most of what Firo was saying

I look at in Raphtalia’s direction and shook my head.

Well Rishia? Looked at their direction “It’s different!” she shouted.

“Why do you know so much? Bird!” (Naofumi)

“Come on! Firo knew from the start.”(Firo)

Is it genetic memory?

No No… Maybe something happened with a Male Philorial that she happened to meet in the forest.

"That certainly is suspicious." (Naofumi)

Firo shouted to complain about what I said.

When you think about it, Firo lays eggs.

"Booo!!" (Firo)

This has become really annoying.

Including Raphtalia, everyone's faces have turned red.

Young man... it's as if they've just immersed by the sea. Is every one alright?

"I don't like it! ... I can't do such a thing... I will never do such a thing with Shield-niichan" (Kiel)

(TLN: I think the one talking I kiel.. because you know the "niichan" thing)

"Why would I do such a thing?"(Naofumi)

I want them to stop saying things like I'm raising them because of my ulterior motives.

Damn. This is frustrating.

This topic of love-affair is really getting on my nerves.

I want Bitch to get captured soon to be punished and receive Divine Retribution.

“Stop already with this stupid topic... at least for the time being, love is prohibited.”(Naofumi)

“EH?!”(Children)

The slaves were protesting.

Whatever you say is useless.

This is to fight the incoming wave not the declining birth-rate.

I’m not here to take care of all of you, there’s simply no room for baggage.

“Don’t think about such trivial things, do that when the world is already at peace.” (Naofumi)

“I don’t get it.” (TLN: I don’t know who’s talking)

“Why? Why is such a thing decided? Because I don’t like it. Look Raphtalia doesn’t like it either.” (Naofumi)

“Raphtalia?” (Naofumi)

“EH?!” (Raphtalia)

For some reason I raised my voiced to Raphtalia.

Ah...! I was trying to change the topic. Seems like Raphtalia understood.

“Our purpose is to fight the wave. 3 ½ months from now I will take those who wishes to fight the wave with us, Off-course I will not force you if you don’t want to.” (Naofumi)

“EH?! That wave?”(Child)

“Right. I was summoned here to fight the wave that took the lives of your family. So tell me if you want to fight.” (Naofumi)

Just 8 people. I need more people, I want to establish several groups.

A guy from the battle squad that wants to volunteer would be ideal. These guys are still unsuitable for battle.

After hearing my words Kiel remains silent.

“Because I’m a woman, am I useless?”(Kiel)

“Ha? That’s not true, look around me.”(Naofumi)

I’m pointing towards Raphtalia, Firo and Rishia.

“Come to think of it why are they all women? Unbelievable!”(Kiel)

Kiel was sharp! This is annoying.

“You... What do you want to do? Are you joining?”(Naofumi)

“Love prohibition, you just want woman to serve you.” (Kiel)

(TLN: “恋愛禁止って、女はべらせて何言ってるんだ！” It was hard to understand)

“Apart from me Raphtalia has no problem with another man.”(Naofumi)

“EH?!” (Raphtalia)

“Yeah!” (Naofumi)

"See Firo." (Firo)

"Males have no problem." (Naofumi)

"Booo!" (Firo)

"Men and Women are equal, I use whoever is efficient, so don't be mistaken." (Naofumi)

"I see.. Shield-oniichan, I see two swords!" (girl)

One of the slave girls mutters alone.

Seems like she misunderstood something.

"That's wrong." (Naofumi)

"What? What two swords?" (Firo)

Firo doesn't know what I'm saying. After all it's just genetic memory.

"That... time when I heard that I was sold." (girl)

"To explain that... Anyways, it's troubling that love will make you unable to fight. Therefore love is prohibited"(Naofumi)

The slaves were satisfied except for Kiel who nods unwillingly.

"I see... I guess I need to give my best in fighting." (Kiel)

"Ah! However, thinking about after the war... no, my preference may become popular, Kiel must practice peddling." (Naofumi)

"What is that?" (Kiel)

"Your face looks good so I was thinking of using that. But you are timid so I guess you're unsuitable in peddling." (Naofumi)

"Me? N-No way!" (Kiel)

"It's okay. Oh! It'll be fine you should always go to the streets. Humans have more nasty ways of entertainment." (Naofumi)

"Shield-niichan the way you're saying that is scary." (Kiel)

Was it a strange thing to say?

Anyways, if I brought Kiel in peddling I'm sure that I'll be able to sell a lot of accessories to the ladies

Together with Raphtalia men and women would line up and give their money for the accessories.

"Ah! Kiel." (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Kiel)

"I accept same sex relationships. So have fun with Raphtalia as much as you want." (Naofumi)

It looked like I was jealous.

"Such a thing, do you want Raphtalia-chan to kill me?" (Kiel)

"You may unexpectedly fall and roll. Based on what I read in a manga Raphtalia is the type that is likely not to refuse." (Naofumi)

"What is a manga?" (Kiel)

"That thing is good. Anyways, I'd like it if Raphtalia was a little rebellious" (Naofumi)

Kiel began to tremble.

The look from earlier.

"Naofumi-sama?" (Raphtalia)

Oozing with blood thirst, Raphtalia approached me while smiling.

I think I might've touched a forbidden subject.

"It's for that reason. Everyone disband, bring that seafood." (Raphtalia)

"Yes!" (children)

After a while the female knight came to the beach.

"I heard you were playing in the beach, so it's true." (Female Knight)

"I'm just giving them a reward, these guys did their best recently." (Naofumi)

"I think they've been rewarded plenty enough." (Female Knight)

Certainly, but I also want to go to the beach and eat some seafood.

“Why don’t you have some fun as well” (Naofumi)

Female Knight came to sea with a swimsuit.

And began to swim together with Raphtalia.

Despite being so shrewd you prepared that kind of swimsuit... What kind of country is this.

Speaking of this woman, she has a strangely good relationship with Raphtalia.

Unrelated to the previous topic, it may be a little related.

Actually, to love another person is good.

It will increase your worries but they will be there to accompany you.

“Naofumi-sama!” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia waves her hands.

“What happened? Were you drowning?” (Naofumi)

“I won’t be speaking if I was drowning..., you are being rude.” (Raphtalia)

Why is Raphtalia being rebellious?

I also noticed Firo.

What’s with that expression? It’s as if they are doing some business.

“Deceiving is useless you know.”(Female knight)

“Ah! Yes, yes! It’s a good thing to become healthy.” (Raphtalia)

(TLN: I have no idea what they’re talking about)

This could be troublesome I assume.

“Shield-niichan, I caught it!”(Kiel)

You could see the joy in her face when she caught the shellfish in the net.

“Yes yes.”(Naofumi)

The grill is already hot. It’s ready for grilling.

Food supply is already stable so there won’t be any problems.

“Eat up, after eating we’ll go back.”(Naofumi)

“Understood!”

Such a feeling today again, I’m irresponsible, I want to stop cooking for them.

A little bit more time, the monster eggs will hatch soon.

It’s past noon and everyone is preparing to get back to the village.

I think the monster eggs are about to hatch.

Yesterday the Incubation period of the monster eggs in the contract is almost about done.

So I went to the shed to check the monster eggs’ status.

“Shield-niichan. What are you doing?”(Kiel)

“Just stockpiling food supplies, also the monster eggs are ready to hatch anytime soon.”(Naofumi)

“Wow!”(Kiel)

“Problem is… that Philorial.”(Naofumi)

That bird is really excellent at pulling carriages, but I feel anxious that there may become two monsters with really huge appetites.

“Firo?” (Firo)

Firo tilted her head curiously.

“It’s different, this egg is not a Philorial.” (Naofumi)

“Firo-chan has a younger sister and a younger brother?”(TLN: I don’t know if this is Firo talking in 3rdperson)

“Amazing!” (Firo)

“Wow!” (TLN:Again don’t know whos talking well for sure it’s either Kiel or Firo)

So noisy…. If you look at their appearance they’re just like middle school students, they’re child-like.

No such thing?

“Categorically speaking, that is right.”(Naofumi)

"Master, will the newborn child would like to become Firo?" (Firo)

It's a pain to answer Firo's question.

Well whatever.

"I want the monster to be able to pull a carriage, but the huge appetite is unnecessary." (Naofumi)

"Hmmp, perhaps. Okay." (Firo)

I faced Firo and gave such a reply.

"You're not what Master wants, you're probably like Firo."(Firo)

Firo's ahoge is moving towards the monster egg.

There's something in there.

"Is Firo's family born?" (Firo)

Family!

If you think about it this Philrial will become a follower to the Philorial Queen.

"Well then what will he become? Master, I hope he becomes something amazing." (Firo)

(TLN I: this is the best translation I could come up with)

"Will you do that?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah." (Firo)

Firo is pouring some magic on the egg as she touches it.

"This egg will never be the same as Firo." (Firo)

"Ah! I'm safe." (Naofumi)

But still there is a possibility that this new born will end up the same as Firo.

If you consider how huge Firo became, it'll surely become noisy. I guess there's no helping it.

Depending on the result, we may leave raising of the Philorial to Firo.

"The eggs hatched."

"Pii!" (baby chick)

One animal was a Philorial chick. It was a slightly purple-ish kid.

Next were two caterpillars..... When these grow up they'll be able to pull carriages. Their name is Caterpiland. I absorbed their eggshells into the shield but there was no effect.

Next there were three earthworms. They appear to be a monster called a Dune. Can I leave the soil maintenance to these guys?

I set the basic prohibitions....

"You... you're in charge of levelling this guy up."(Naofumi)

"Yes!" (TLN: same problem I don't know who answered, but probably this is Firo)

The children felt like they became a parent to the pet, they were carrying it with on their shoulders as they went to the carriage.

The Philoreal chick went to Firo and happily sat on top of her head.

“Pyaaa!”

The chick is singing.

In these past few days I was only watching if the kids were in trouble.

Me, who’s from another world, did I just become their foster parent?

If we lose the wave… I guess all the hard work that we invested will all go to waste.

“Ah, afterwards…” (girl)

“What?” (Raptalia)

“I’ll slowly learn how to cook so that I could make food for everyone anytime. Well mainly because I’m not good with fighting.” (girl)

“Then, I…” (girl)

The slave girl went down from the carriage.

“Good for you.” (Raptalia)

Certainly, the one wanting to learn how to cook was the one who requested midnight snack from Raptalia.

"Yea... I really like cooking... but fighting is a little..." (girl)

"Is that so... then do your best." (Raphtalia)

"Yeah." (girl)

The girl nodded and stood next to me.

"I'm going now." (girl)

Raphtalia waved her hands.

"Yeah, be safe!" (Raphtalia)

"Raphtalia-chan, is it alright to be that carefree?" (Kiel)

"Ha?" (Raphtalia)

While waving to the girl who wants to be a cook she muttered.

What are you talking about?

"Hey?"

"Don't worry."

What's that?

"Well then, I'm going."

"Yessir!"

The carriage made a clattering sound.

"Now, then assist me."

"Yes." (girl)

And thus I taught the child how to cook.

Though , for some reason the guy's food was a mess.

The food was was soo bad, the shield produced it a lot tastier.

"Shield-niichan is really good with his hands." (girl)

"Is that so?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, Fish demon was really good." (girl)

"Is that so?" (Naofumi)

I said not to feel bad about it.

"This delicious dish was made by the power of the shield. I just imagine the taste and then cook it." (Naofumi)

"Yeah, Then shield-niichan will teach me how to cook that dish." (girl)

I ended up stepping on a landmine, but I still answered with a smile.

It's good that I smiled.

Speaking of the results, I ended up in the position where I was taught...

Oh well, it's okay.

This child really likes cooking, I hope she becomes very good at it. She will become a big deal someday.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 139 – Shield Billboard

---

It's been a week since I acquired my land and began babysitting these kids. The Soldiers have pretty much finished restoring most of the salvageable houses. I guess it's time to start on the next stage of the plan.

Following Firo's orders, the new Filo Rial is pulling the carriage back and forth.

I guess it will be nice to ride in a carriage that doesn't talk back for once... I'm currently playing fetch with Firo in relatively good spirits. I'm doing it while the other slaves are asleep, as Firo does not care about her surroundings.

The Catipilands have also become quite large, and we are currently building a carriage for them. This monster seems to be a herbivore that enjoys gnawing on Bioplant stalks.

This kills two birds in one stone. The Slave dealer does good work, it's also quite easy to handle.

It's only fault is its speed. It can't go very fast, or far. Visiting the neighboring towns seems to be its limit.

The Dune Worms have become relatively large as well. I'm leaving the maintenance of the soil around here to them.

This monster is also quite docile. Wild Dunes seem to spend their lives peacefully underground. It is very rare for one to get into a fight.

Domestic Dune will fight if ordered, but they aren't very strong.

Well then, I think it's time to restart my peddling.

"H-how is it?" (Kiel)

I had prepared two sets of clothing for Kiel.

The first was one fit for her preferences, a manly set of armor.

The other one is a frilly one-piece.

Kiel is blushing and waiting for my appraisal.

"Perfect. Make sure you act clumsy and embarrassed while we sell things."

(Naofumi)

"Shield Nii-chan! Why do I have to do something like this!?" (Kiel)

"Of course, for the money. If we don't have funds, we cannot restore the village." (Naofumi)

"...I-I'm embarrassed, Nii-chan..." (Kiel)

I plan to have Firo manage the front, while I watch over the stock.

I also plan to sell medicines made by Kiel (with Raphtalia's help).

"Rishia, I leave the village's management and level raising to you."

(Naofumi)

"G-got it!" (Rishia)

I need to teach the slaves how to peddle.

If I don't then raising funds will get increasingly difficult.

If I circle the country with a carriage advertising my brand, rumors should spread quickly.

That's why I have been spending all of my free time making medicines.

By the way, due to the teachings in compounding I received before the battle with the Spirit Turtle, I can make some advanced medicines as well.

As long as I'm there, we should be able to solve most problems, including serious disease.

Though this is just my opinion.

“Then, we’re off-!” (Naofumi)

“Wai- Nii-chan! I still haven’t gotten used to vehi-” (Kiel)

Ignoring Kiel, we set off.

It only took one hour to visit the neighboring villages. This is all thanks to Firo’s legs.

I see some familiar faces as I go from town to town. It’s a bit of a strange feeling.

“Saint-sama was the Hero of the shield?” (Customer)

“Yeah… I thought it would be bad for business if my identity got out.”

(Naofumi)

“I apologize for my behavior back then.” (Customer)

“Don’t let it bother you.” (Naofumi)

The bad rumors about me have already died down.

Even though I hadn’t done anything at the time, I was still being called the Devil of the Shield.

I had been faced with quite a bit of undue resentment.

But I don’t have any reason to mull over it now. As long as I get paid, I don’t mind.

I don’t put customers before everything else. Those were the words of an actor. This is reality.

“I got some land, and am training some people to combat the wave. In order to prepare for it, I am also selling medicine and arms. If you need anything, please ask. You can find me in the carriage marked with the Shield insignia.” (Naofumi)

Right now, there is a Sign with a picture of a shield attached to the side of my carriage.

“It’s only been a couple of days since you defeated that monster, but the hero of the shield is already trying to help the populace. You must really care for this country’s people.” (Customer)

“Yeah, but there isn’t too much I can do by myself. If you would spread the word of the Shield Brand, I would be grateful.” (Naofumi)

And thus, like this, I spread the name of my peddling business.

Firo also serves as a form of advertisement, as she is a Filo Rial Queen.

But her constant chatter is annoying.

If I had someone to manage her, it would be helpful, but I don’t think there are many who would like to deal with her.

“I’ll buy some things to support the efforts of the Shield.” (Customer)

“Much obliged.” (Naofumi)

And, for once, the rumors were working in my favor.

The good rumors of my carriage spread like wildfire.

Some people rush to greet us as we arrive at certain towns.

It’s quite remarkable that gossip can travel faster than Firo’s legs.

“S-shield Niichan… Are you sure this is alright?” (Kiel)

Kiel, who is managing sales, comes up to me with an embarrassed face.

“Yeah, your business smile isn’t as good as Raphtalia’s, but some people might find your clumsy, awkward display to be a turn-on.” (Naofumi)

“Is that supposed to be a complement?” (Kiel)

Yes. Clumsy, innocent characters seem to have a healing effect on people. This holds true in any world.

Raphtalia and Firo are also doing well. It seems that I will be making quite a bit of profit from this enterprise.

Our sales are quite steady.

At this stage, we can’t really spare personnel to gather herbs.

However, even the worst of ingredients can be made into medicine of ‘Normal’ quality with the shield.

These ‘Normal’ medicines can then be compounded by hand to make higher level medicines of quality greater than normal.

I can expect quite a bit in this trip.

For now, I need to prepare enough medicine for all the towns we will stop at. It’s good that I prepared a lot before-hand.

We continue our peddling for the next three days before returning to the village. We occasionally buy herbs from passing merchants.

I feed these to the shield to make more medicine.

Kiel and the other slaves observed my actions and learn how to peddle, or at least that was the plan.

“My, my, if it isn’t the Hero of the Shield.” (Slave Dealer)

When it gets dark, the Slave Dealer appears at the village.
He is accompanied by some sturdy-built adults. It's a bit of a surreal scene.
The other slaves hide in fear.

"What is it? It's rare seeing you outside of your store." (Naofumi)

"How are you doing? How are the slaves?" (Slave Dealer)

"We're moving ahead on schedule. Anyways, why are you here? Answer me." (Naofumi)

"That's good to hear." (Slave Dealer)

So you won't answer!

Calm down... don't get swept up into his pace.

"Today, I came here to deliver the slaves ordered by the Hero of the Shield.
Yes" (Slave Dealer)

"Ah, so you were able to find them?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Slave Dealer)

The Slave Dealer goes into his carriage, and out come about 10 people.
They are all shaking in fear.

Raphtalia looks through them for people she knows.

She talks to them in the same way that she talked to Kiel.

But...

"There are 3 children here that I don't know." (Raphtalia)

"Hmm? Did I make a mistake?" (Slave Dealer)

The Slave Dealer claps his hands, and his men move to return the 3 children to the carriage.

"You don't have to worry about it?" (Naofumi)

"And why would that be?" (Slave Dealer)

The slave dealer tilts his head.

"I don't plan to only use people from this village. As long as they don't bear any extreme hatred towards me, I will take them in." (Naofumi)

(TL: Well, he literally says as long as they aren't radicals of the shield faith)

I planned to hire other people as well, anyways. There's no reason to go to the trouble of returning them.

There's no downside of having more manpower.

"You all. Just because they're not from this village, don't leave them out. If I see any bullying, then I'll sell the culprits without hesitation." (Naofumi)

"Ye~s" (Slaves)

My slaves answer as such.

Well, they may bond as fellow slaves... There shouldn't be too much of a problem.

But with increasing numbers, there may be more problems. I should be cautious.

After the slave registration process finishes, I unchain them.

"Are you alright?" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia, Firo, Rishia, Kiel and the other slaves comfort the shaking new recruits.

"... I'm fine..." (Slave)

It seems it will take a while for them to open up their hearts...

"Shield Nii-chan" (Kiel)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"Let's make some food and have a welcoming party. Of course, Nii-chan is cooking." (Kiel)

Kiel answers with enthusiasm.

What do you mean, 'Of course I'm cooking'?!

"...Well, I did it for you guys too." (Naofumi)

"Y-yeah!" (Kiel)

"The party was my intention from the start. Everyone, please help out."
(Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Everyone not new)

A strange sense of camaraderie has been born among the slaves.

...This may be helpful sometime later.

"For your slaves to be this motivated, you sure are good at handling them.
It makes my heart race." (Slave Dealer)

"Yeah, keep thinking that." (Naofumi)

I chuck a bag of coins at the Slave Dealer.

I don't think I will be seeing any of that money again.

"Please continue to collect some useful Demi-human slaves." (Naofumi)

"As you command." (Slave Dealer)

Now, excluding Raphtalia and Rishia, the village has a total of 18 slaves. Including monsters, I have amassed quite a few members.

"How about the monsters?" (Slave Dealer)

"Hmm... I will probably need more soon." (Naofumi)

"Then, I shall bring some with me the next time I arrive. Do you have any requests" (Slave Dealer)

"The same species as before will do just fine." (Naofumi)

"Understood. Now then, I must be taking my leave." (Slave Dealer)

"Yeah, just go already." (Naofumi)

And so, I drove away the Slave Dealer and his men... or not.

"I would like to partake in the Hero's home-made meal as well. Yes." (Slave Dealer)

Yes? Your voice is too loud!

I don't think he will leave until he eats.

Dammit.

"I understand. Though I don't understand what people like about it so much. Just eat and leave." (Naofumi)

"I appreciate it. Yes." (Slave Dealer)

The Slave Dealer's men follow him.

... Their presence is ruining the taste.

I have to think of some countermeasures for next time, or me having to cook will become standard practice.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 140 – Desertion and Discovery

---

Everyone's appetite had been sated, the slave merchant had also returned and night had descended.

“Hey? Are you really going to do it?” (anon slave 1)

“I-isn't it obvious” (anon slave 2)

“But....everyone was nice and the food was great?” (anon slave 1)

“No, those guys are definitely trying to deceive us!” (anon slave 2)

It was noisy outside.

It was dark and hard to see but, for some reason, the new slaves were running towards the fields.

“Haa....Haa” (anon slave)

There was a somewhat strained atmosphere.

Just what were they planning?

*Rustling* They tried to push their way through the Bioplant's field.

.....

“ “Waaaaaaahhhh!?” ” (runaway slaves)

Ah, they got caught in the defences I established.

Hearing the scream, the other slaves left the house and headed towards the fields to examine the situation.

*Sigh*.....For the time being, I have to go out and have a look.

“Shield-niichan. We heard a scream” (kiel)

When I exit the house, a concerned-looking Kiel rushes over to me.
It seems like Raphtalia went ahead to look at the situation.

“It's alright. There won't be any deaths. I've already prepared for the worst case scenario and only implemented some defensive measures” (naofumi)

“Worst case scenario?” (kiel)

“I could bind them with the slave crest but then there's the problem of being unable to give detailed orders. Well in short, I'm talking about desertion” (naofumi)

Yes, the slave crest has the possibility of prohibiting desertion itself.

Once they leave the grounds, inducing death was even possible but, as one would expect, I paid no small amount for these guys so killing them would be bad.

Besides, I have plans to designate slaves to peddle outside the village.

That's why I configured the penalties to only cause chest pains for all the slaves staying in the village at night.

“ “Waahhhh! He-help—!” ” (runaway slaves)

The monsters I used to maintain the soil, Dunes, had emerged from underground, coiled around the three slaves who tried to escape and hung them up in mid-air.

I had given instructions to the Dunes so that anyone fleeing from the established site would be apprehended.

"To abscond so suddenly, aren't these guys courageous." (naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama!" (raphtalia)

After discovering the circumstances, Raphtalia joined us with an urgent-looking expression.

I thought this commotion of escaping would happen sometime, but it was later than I had expected.

That was because Raphtalia's old friends became attached to me for some reason or another.

Moreover, many of them had lived here to begin with.

"Now then you guys, where were you planning to go after you escaped?"
(naofumi)

I faced the slaves who were hanging in mid-air and inquired.

"Wh-Who's going to say anything!" (anon slave 2)

The boy who was acting as the leader, replied.

Hm.... he definitely has a lot of spirit.

It would be a great contest between Kiel and him.

"Is that so, if you don't talk then I'll let that fellow play around, but is that alright with you?" (naofumi)

"Gr..." (anon slave 2 – runaway slave leader)

By the way, Dunes also have their own personality, their appearance may be of a huge earthworm but they're quite amiable and love to play. If it's this kind of rebellious kid then I should let them play all night. To be honest, I don't have any obligation to raise a slave who just attempts to run away. I'd like to sell them back to the slave merchant immediately but I will give them a chance.

“Look, just talk” (naofumi)

“Wh-Who's going to say anything!” (runaway slave leader)

“If that's the case, I'll turn you into bait for my followers?” (naofumi)

I looked at the situation and gestured indirectly to Firo. The slaves distanced themselves from Firo.

“Eh? Firo-chan also eats people?” (kiel)

“She does have quite an appetite” (naofumi)

“If you defy Shield-niichan you'll be bait? Seriously?” (kiel)

The slaves gathered together and whispered.

She was just standing around in her human form but, read the mood and turn into your monster form—— .

“No~!” (firo)

That Firo, she denied it!

Did she learn some culture when she came here? No way...such unnecessary knowledge.

Raphtalia whispered to the slaves quietly.

"Naofumi-sama is.....saying that kind of thing but....." (raphtalia)

"So really?" (anon slave)

"Shield-niichan is somewhat naive" (kiel)

"I can hear you. You brats!" (naofumi)

Jeez, now I can't use dignity or bullshit.

"....." (runaway slave leader)

The leader of the captured slaves also had a doubtful face.

You should read the atmosphere.

"But the thing about becoming monster bait is real? If I order you to, then it won't mean that no one will become bait." (naofumi)

Become a Caterpiland, become a Dune, if I say be bait then you might get eaten.

When I turned my attention to the monster hut, the Caterpilands were sleeping soundly.

Will they turn into butterflies?

I cast aside these needless thoughts.

The Dunes played with the slave children.

They're huge so they're great for using as threats. If this were an 18+ game, the caterpillars and worms would be used for sexual assault.

"Now talk" (naofumi)

"Eep!" (slave leader)

“Look, if you don't talk then the Dunes might get hungry and eat you~”
(naofumi)

The slaves who originated from this village arbitrarily gave the Dunes names and, “They won't eat him right?” was whispered around.

I want to say that they only eat dirt but now's not the time for that.

“At the worst, another Philorial will eat you guys” (naofumi)

“Eat us!?” (slave leader)

I could feel a gaze from the hut.

I shook my head with a *swish*.

Everyone was raised naively!

“Look, they're waiting impatiently!” (naofumi)

“Eat! Eat!” (slaves)

The chant changed the mood, but for those who didn't know what life in the village was like, it would appear to be excitement.

It would have been great if I could have used this from the beginning.

“What's your answer?” (naofumi)

“.....Fine. But you have to spare the others!” (slave leader)

The runaway slaves' leader reluctantly revealed their story.

It seems to just be gossip among the slaves but in Melromarc's harbour and other various places there exists a faction that's stipulating the release of slaves.

In that faction, a plausible rumour is being spread around saying that Demi-humans can have their slave crest unconditionally removed and will be set free in foreign countries.

Are these Silt Welt's people?

No, for argument's sake, even if they resembled Silt Welt or Schild Frieden's people, It seems that recognition of the same species is strong.

If I had a slogan that said that I would unconditionally free them in another country, I would have some sort of scheme to help me make a profit.

Someone who would do that with good intentions doesn't exist.

If we could use a boat, it would be convenient as transportation.

To become the working force or a foreign county from a safe place, or something like that.

That would be a crueller treatment than just being a slaves....it's felonious.

Or it could possibly be that slave merchants circulate it to recycle business.

At the least, I saw that these guys just couldn't wait for their desired ending.

However, it's a dependable technique for business. Using a smile to deceive the slaves who turn up.

Come to think of it, the slave merchant said so before he left.

No matter what, orphans have increased due to the Spirit Turtle's influence.

There are people who become slaves prior to ending up as orphans, and it seems there are few human slaves but I heard they make humans into slaves in other countries.

It seems like the slave merchant is busy thanks to that sequence of events. He did leave pretty quickly after consuming the food I made.

"Did you guys know?" (naofumi)

"Now that you mention it, I'm starting to remember" (anon slave)

"Yeah, there was that kind of story" (anon slave)

If you knew about it then tell me earlier.....Jeez.

"Shield-niichan's place is just so comfortable that we totally forgot about it" (kiel)

"Yeah!" (anon slave)

It was a good inclination but~..... somehow I feel like I'm being underrated.

"Next time you'd better tell me these things" (naofumi)

"Oka~y!" (slaves)

Because I have no idea where this money-making story comes from.

Until now, we've just been revising our actions after things happen but if we can read ahead of time, then we can not only keep damages to a minimum but it would even be possible to forestall them.

Knowledge is power.

“Now then, desertion is a serious crime. However, I'm not a demon. You guys have only just come here so I'll postpone it for a short while. Think about it carefully” (naofumi)

I instructed the Dunes to release the slaves, who were then taken in by Raphtalia and the others.

“Educate them properly. That's all” (naofumi)

The runaway slaves defiantly glared at me with hostility.

If it doesn't seem like they've reflected, I'll sell them when the slave merchant comes again.

I can recover my money back if I raise their levels and if they become stronger than usual with the shield's correction skill, he'll probably buy them happily.

.....Let's hope that they can get along with Raphtalia and the others until then.

“It's alright, this won't be like the other places where all you do is suffer pain, that's why we'd like you to help with our....village” (raphtalia)

“.....” (runaway slave)

The three slaves murmured to Raphtalia and the other slaves and averted their faces uncomfortably.

“It has been very painful for you, hasn't it. However.....a little bit, with just a short time it'll be fine so I'd like you to compare him with your previous masters” (raphtalia)

"....." (runaway slave)

"You know, that person is the Hero of the Shield-sama" (raphtalia)

"Eh!?" (runaway slave)

"You've heard the rumours, right? He's the one who saved this country and even become a legend in the country of the Demi-humans" (raphtalia)

"Y-yeah. I heard about it. Some day..... that he's the saint-sama who will save us Demi-human slaves" (runaway slave)

"Yes, and you know, that person may have a bad mouth but he has been rebuilding the village to save us slaves, and we'd like you to become a part of that power" (raphtalia)

"But....." (runaway slave)

"It's okay if you still don't believe it yet. Little by little, we'll show you proof that it's not a lie" (raphtalia)

Well, for the time being I'll leave it to Raphtalia and the others.

I returned to my room and resumed my compounding studies.

I've become able to do a considerable amount of the difficult compounding.

If I have all the ingredients I shouldn't fail.

I have the materials prepared by the queen so let's give it a try.

The next day.

"Is Iwatani-dono here!" (knight)

The female knight came intruding early in the morning.

"What's up? Did the Spirit Turtle appear again?" (naofumi)

"Can you even handle that much excitement!" (knight)

I'm still in the middle of recuperating. This time I'll have to rely on the Seven Star Heroes.

Well.....whatever happens, I also want to be able to participate in it.

"And? You seem to have some urgent business" (naofumi)

"I have a message from the queen. I was told to convey it immediately" (knight)

"The contents?" (naofumi)

"It seems we've discovered a companion of the Hero of the Spear" (knight)

What? Discovered a companion of Motoyasu?

From her words, it doesn't appear to be Bitch.

So it comes to either Woman 1 or Woman 2.

From this expression you can't tell who is who.

Well that's because I don't know their names.

"A corpse?" (naofumi)

"Wrong. Everything seems to be that an aristocratic father was worried about his daughter but she's fed up because she was forced to help with her mother's housework." (knight)

.....It's a story I've heard before.

It's about her. So now I'm supposed to use her to slay Motoyasu, huh.

And in the end, she returned home and helped with work.

Her assistance didn't seem very proactive, but that sounds like her. She would have felt it was troublesome.

"Don't you have to guard her?" (naofumi)

"It seems we've listened to her circumstances. And so. We'd like Iwatani-dono to meet with that companion and ensnare the Hero of the Spear"
(knight)

I see.....there's the possibility of her attempting to rejoin Motoyasu.
We'll be gambling on whether it'll go well or not, but it would be good if we could catch Motoyasu.

"Will Motoyasu's companion cooperate with that plan? She might double-cross us and pass information back to Motoyasu" (naofumi)

"We've already assigned a Shadow for surveillance. We've also received a report that she currently wants to cooperate" (knight)

"Hmm....." (naofumi)

Well, if my assumption is correct, she could discern right from wrong when she cut ties.

And now she was trying to protect her own position by plea bargaining.

"Understood. Where should I be heading?" (naofumi)

"Ah, I'll give you the map" (knight)

I received the map from the female knight and took Raphtalia and Firo with me to prepare for our departure.

"You guys, please help the newbies level up" (naofumi)

"Yeah. Understood." (kiel)

"I understand" (rishia)

Rishia stood in the front and nodded.

"Sorry, Rishia. If there's information about Itsuki then inviting you will take precedence"

"Yes. I'll be waiting" (rishia)

Recently, Rishia's level had risen up to 35.

It's almost time for a Class Up.

As that may be, I want her to Class Up together with the others so it'll be a bit later but....for now, the capture of Motoyasu has the highest priority.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 141 – The Plan to Capture Spear Hero

---

“Elena! Thank god. You’re alive!” (Motoyasu)

Upon hearing of The Spear’s companion’s discovery, we head to her location only to find Motoyasu hugging Woman 1 and shouting in a loud voice in front of the reception desk of a store. It gives off a feeling of a parent being reunited with their child.

Elena? did she have a name like that?

I don’t recall asking for her or Woman 2’s names back on Cal Mira.

“Ah, if it isn’t the Hero of the Spear.” (Woman 1)

Woman 1 takes on an oppressive attitude and answers Motoyasu indifferently.

Motoyasu lets out a bewildered voice.

“W-what’s wrong?” (Motoyasu)

“Wrong? Now what could possibly be wrong?” (Woman 1)

“You know, I was really worried.” (Motoyasu)

“I did nothing warranting your worry. I’m more surprised that you managed to survive.” (Woman 1)

“Isn’t it obvious? There’s no way I would die with you guys there to support me.” (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu answers with quite a bit of enthusiasm.

However, the aura around Woman 1 only seems to get colder.

Her gaze is apathetic. It’s as if she is staring at a pile of garbage.

“Naofumi-sama, are you not going to capture them?” (Raphtalia)

“Wait, let’s observe the situation.” (Naofumi)

I think something interesting is about to happen.

And as long as Motoyasu hasn’t captured us, we have the upper hand.

“-?” (Firo)

Firo would stand out in her monster form, so she is currently assuming her human one.

We are observing the affair from an alley outside the store.

“Let’s once again team up to save the world!” (Motoyasu)

“I’m sorry. It seems I will be inheriting my father’s business. I can’t go with you any longer.” (Woman 1)

Her voice is quite indifferent.

It seems she has no intention of listening to Motoyasu at all.

Motoyasu seems to understand this as well. He looks quite confused.

I bet everything had gone his way up until this point.

I envy him in that aspect.

Even though I’ve become a count and acquired some land, for some reason I’ve been stuck cooking and babysitting for my slaves.

I feel as if I’m their mother.

I can hear the soldiers calling me the Hero of the Kitchen behind my back.

(TL: He actually says this, I’m not taking it from the comments)

To be more specific:

"As expected, the Hero of the Kitchen's food really is magnificent." (Soldier)
"You're being rude, he's the Hero of the Shield... right?" (Other Soldier)
"Ah, right... But recently, his shield has started to look like a pot lid to me..."
(Soldier)
"I think you need medical attention." (Other Soldier)
"Hahaha" (Soldier)

To hell with Pot Lids.

Remember this. I'll work you especially hard when building gets under way.
... well that doesn't really matter now.
I need to focus on Motoyasu

"Hey, really, what happened? You're different from the usual Elena."
(Motoyasu)

"Even if you ask me that... You know this is a good time. Let me say it."
(Woman 1)

"What?" (Motoyasu)

"Motoyasu... No, Hero of the Spear-sama. I'm at my limit. I can no longer work with you." (Woman 1)

"W-what are you saying?" (Motoyasu)

"At the start, you had a good reputation, and quite a bit of money. Look at you now. What do you have?" (Woman 1)

"Hm? I'm still a hero..." (Motoyasu)

"Honestly, I'm tired of being your comrade. Sick of it." (Woman 1)

"W-what part of me is the problem?" (Motoyasu)

"You always try to hit on women, you don't understand a female's heart, and you only focus on your strength parameters." (Woman 1)

Motoyasu's hot-blooded personality has diminished.

Has he never been dumped before?

This is bad. I'm starting to smile at his misfortune.

"Naofumi-sama. You're smiling." (Raphtalia)

"But... I mean look. Motoyasu's face has turned blue." (Naofumi)

"Shouldn't you be trying to capture them now?" (Raphtalia)

"Wait a second. I want to watch for a bit more." (Naofumi)

Woman 1 has stopped hiding her thoughts and has begun talking rapidly.

"If you have enough free time to hit on me, then go to the castle and turn yourself in." (Woman 1)

"Gu..." (Motoyasu)

It seems that he does realize his own crimes. Motoyasu remains silent.

"You're already finished. If you want me back so badly, then go get some status. Like the Hero of the Shield." (Woman 1)

Woman 1 gives a rejection reminiscent of a character archetype that I hate. She's speaking as if she hasn't done anything wrong, and that everything is Motoyasu's fault.

If the Heroine of a Gal-ge did that, the company's building would be in flames.

But why is it?

When these words are directed at Motoyasu, I feel an extreme rush of happiness.

"Naofumi-sama!" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia is angry.

It seems I cannot observe the situation any longer.

“Then, shall we go?” (Naofumi)

I exit the alley and walk towards Motoyasu.

“W-what happened to you. I was sure you were more of an amiable sort of person.” (Motoyasu)

“Even if you ask me that…” (Woman 1)

Motoyasu is too engrossed in the conversation to notice my approach.
This is my chance.

“Hey, tell me this isn’t so.” (Motoyasu)

“I’m very serious, now leave already.” (Woman 1)

Woman 1 notices me getting closer.

It seems she understands the circumstances to some extent.

Please stall him for just a little bit longer…

When I wonder if my message gets across, she gives a quick wink in my direction. For some reason, it looks quite natural.

“And so, I am absolutely done with you. If you don’t give up already, I’ll report you.” (Woman 1)

It seems Woman 1 truly has had it with Motoyasu.

She’s even assisting in his capture.

Well, if she doesn’t do so, she will probably be treated as a conspirator in breaking the Spirit Turtle’s seal.

For argument's sake, it seems that the Spirit Turtle was set to awaken at some point during the wave.

But to willingly release it is still quite a crime.

I'm almost there. Just a little bit closer...

Damn... This one's instincts are not to be underestimated.

"Na-Naofumi!?" (Motoyasu)

"Yo. You understand what me being here means, right?" (Naofumi)

"...Elena, did you sell me out!?" (Motoyasu)

"You say some hurtful things. I am an ally to those with power. I was back then, and I am now." (Woman 1)

I can hear nothing but a villain.

If I were Motoyasu, I would have forgotten my crimes and stabbed her by now.

"Now, obediently get captured. The Hero of the Shield did that at well. It may be best for you to start from scratch." (Woman 1)

"E-Elena... You!" (Motoyasu)

I don't think her intentions are as bad as Bitch. But they're both still trash in my eyes.

Motoyasu doesn't intend to give up without a fight. He takes up his spear.
Do you plan on fighting in such a crowded area?

"I want to hear your story. Will you accompany me to the castle?"
(Naofumi)

"I'm sorry, but I won't go with you. I need to go and prove my own innocence.” (Motoyasu)

“Innocence, huh? Well, I don’t have the slightest intention of killing you. Right now, we’re looking for a way to push back the wave, like the time we gained with the Spirit Turtle incident. As I’ve said before, I’m only an expert on defense. I cannot hurt you.” (Naofumi)

“I’m not the culprit!” (Motoyasu)

“Listen to a person when they are talking to you.” (Naofumi)

“I’m going to find my comrades, and save the World!” (Motoyasu)

“And what I’m saying is… Ah, this is a pain!” (Naofumi)

Anyways, the culprit always says that they’re innocent.

But judging from Motoyasu’s reaction, he himself believes that he is not the cause.

Which would make the culprit either Ren or Itsuki.

No, it seems all three of them were in the same place at the time. There’s no way he’s not involved at all.

“Anyways, stop by the castle. If you’re not the culprit, then you have no reason to refuse.” (Naofumi)

“I refuse!” (Motoyasu)

“You know, you did the same thing to me right? But now that our positions are switched, you act like that? Is there some sort of reason preventing you from going like there was in my case?” (Naofumi)

“Nope!” (Motoyasu)

“You…” (Naofumi)

“But there’s no way I can let myself get captured here!” (Motoyasu)

I can’t talk with this man. For now, it seems I must restrain him by force. Can I defeat him with my stats reduced to this level?

No, Raphtalia and Firo are here. It should be fine.

From what I see, Motoyasu is alone.

“Please turn yourself in.” (Raphtalia)

“Wha-?” (Motoyasu)

The ones who appeared are Raphtalia, and Firo in her monster form.

It's 3 on 1... What will Woman 1 do?

“Shall I join you?” (Woman 1)

It seems she will assist us in capturing Motoyasu.

Her level should probably be around 70-80.

Her skills should be more than enough.

“Now then. It's time for you to pay the Piper, Motoyasu.” (Naofumi)

(TL: Literally, Time to pay the land tax, Time to reap what you sow.)

“Don't rampage too much. It will be troublesome if we break the store's merchandise.” (Woman 1)

As we approach, Motoyasu begins to Spin his Spear in a large circle.

「Portal Spear!」

Motoyasu's figure seems to bend in space.

What the hell!?

And in an instant, he vanishes completely.

Is it a skill? It probably teleported him to a set location.

Damn, I miscalculated.

In MMOs, Items that allowed you to teleport to a saved location or town usually existed.

And Motoyasu had found the skill to do it.

“He Ran!” (Naofumi)

Damn… It seems that capturing a hero will be more difficult than it seems. I’ll have to do something before he uses the skill, or find some place or magic that will interfere with its activation.

“H-he vanished… Where could he have gone?” (Raphtalia)

“Who knows.” (Naofumi)

If it’s to a set location, he’s probably at the Dragon’s hourglass, but if he himself can set the location, then the possibilities are endless.

How convenient. Teach it to me.

I don’t know how effective it is, but a warp skill will be priceless while peddling.

I don’t know if the effect is limited to me, or if I can take along comrades, but either way it seems really useful.

If I set my village as the warp point, it will make movement easier, and if any trouble arises I can be there in an instant.

I should probably ask Woman 1 if Motoyasu told her anything about it later.

“Well then, it’s been quite a while.” (Naofumi)

“It sure has.” (Woman 1)

I address Woman 1. Her real name was Elena… I think.

"You've probably already told the people at the castle, but would you mind sharing your story with me?" (Naofumi)

"I understand." (Woman 1)

Elena takes a deep sigh, and begins speaking.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 142 – The Day the Game Ended

---

After returning from Cal Mira and returning to the castle, the party managed to successfully defend against the wave of another country without issue. After that...

“Will we heading back to Melromark Castle after this?” (Bitch)

“No, there’s somewhere I want to stop to power up first.” (Motoyasu)

“What do you mean?” (Bitch)

And like that, Motoyasu took a detour, and travelled to the town where the Spirit Turtle was resting.

“It’ll be fine if we’re over level 60, and the materials and weapons that drop off of the guy that sleeps here are amazing.” (Motoyasu)

With that extremely light attitude, Motoyasu steps into the abandoned temple in the Spirit Turtle’s town. He’s being too easy-going.

Though it’s been abandoned, it is usually under surveillance by some monks. For some reason, Motoyasu knew all of the traps and puzzles in the temple, and solved them with ease.

Elena wasn’t really watching too closely, so she isn’t knowledgeable about how he did it.

So Motoyasu solved all of the puzzles and headed towards the statue hidden under the temple, when the monks on surveillance tried to stop him.

“Oy, what do you think you’re doing!?” (Monk)

As they were holding weapons, we assumed that they weren't simple residents of the temple.

"You're being quite rude. The one who stands before you is none other than the Hero of the Spear, Motoyasu-sama, you know." (Bitch)

Bitch goes ahead and names us.

"Wha... The Hero of the Spear!?" (Monk)

"Sorry for the intrusion. There's just a little event I have to go and clear, you see." (Motoyasu)

"I sure am unlucky today. To have a Hero invade this place as well..." (Monk)

These words left a great impression on Elena.

Invade...

So someone's causing a commotion at somewhere other than this?

Looking back on it, it was most likely Ren or Itsuki's party.

"Anyways, hurry and get out of here." (Monk)

"I won't be doing that. If I don't defeat the boss here, then something bad will happen later." (Motoyasu)

And Motoyasu casually destroys the statue.

"H-how could you!" (Monk)

The monks are enraged.

Well, if someone claiming to be a hero intrudes on a historic place, and rudely destroys an ancient artifact then I guess anyone would be mad.

"Now then, to defeat the boss." (Motoyasu)

...

.....

.....Nothing's happening.

"Hmm?" (Motoyasu)

"Anyways, can you please come with us?" (Monk)

The monks try to apprehend Motoyasu and party.

"Insolent Peasants!" (Bitch)

Bitch cries out.

Motoyasu looks confused at her outburst, and restrains her. He begins to explain his intentions.

"I was under the impression that this statue was a seal, and if I didn't hurry, something bad would..." (Motoyasu)

And then the ground began to shake.

"W-what is it now!?" (Monk)

"Yeah! It's finally showed up!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu starts running out of the Temple.

But those tremors had been the Spirit Turtle standing up from its long rest. The ground beneath us moved, and the entire mountain, town and all lifted up.

Bitch and Elena were at a loss for words.

How were they supposed to fight that monster?

"It may look like that, but it's strength is nothing special. Just fight it like usual! Let's go!" (Motoyasu)

"Yes!" (Elena)

"Here I come!" (Woman 2)

We all began to charge the Spirit Turtle.

And that's where everything began to fall apart.

The Spirit Turtle began summoning familiars, and killing innocent people left and right.

But ignoring that, Bitch and Motoyasu keep on running.

They eventually reach the Turtle's head.

"Let's go! 「Lightning Spear」 " (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu unleashes a strong move right off the bat.

But... The turtle lets out a grunt, and comes out of the attack with nothing but a scratch.

And what's more, that scratch begins to heal in an instant.

"W-what the!?" (Motoyasu)

The Spirit Turtle's familiars swarm us, and we have to drive them off.

But at this point, I don't see any way of defeating the Turtle.

"Hey..." (Elena)

"It can't be..." (Bitch)

"No, no, no..." (Woman 2)

Bitch, Elena and Woman 2 begin whispering amongst themselves. They had noticed that the Spirit Turtle had begun walking without minding Motoyasu's attacks. It didn't even consider us as a threat. Back when I fought it, it had been forced to stop and use its strongest attacks. But these people were even troubled by the familiars. I guess it was like stabbing a human with a toothpick. I'm surprised Raphtalia and Firo were able to wound it to that extent. (TL: Ginnoji, Push the end of it!)

"O-okay! Everyone, I'm going to try and draw its attention, so cast support magic on me." (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu starts screaming and running at the beast. It was then that Elena made her decision. She left the party then and there. She left without looking back, abandoning Bitch and Woman 2. And after getting far away from the Turtle, she hid until the commotion died down. Then she returned to her parent's home.

Her mother was quite happy that she had survived. She told her that being an adventurer was too dangerous, and that she should take over her father's company.

Her mother decided that she would talk her father into it. That Elena's safety was their top priority.

They used her Father's connection to prevent her from being turned in to the country and executed. It was negotiated that instead of putting her on trial, they would use her as bait to lure Motoyasu out.

...

“If that story is true, then there are several baffling points in it.” (Naofumi)

First of all, what did he mean by, ‘If the boss isn’t defeated, something bad will happen’?

Was something worse than the Turtle itself set to happen?

Anyways, it is probably quite impossible to defeat that monster at level 60.

This seems to be quite similar to that case with the Bioplants.

Motoyasu rushed to save a starving village with Bioplant seeds, but in the end he caused nothing but grief.

Is this Motoyasu’s supposed innocence?

Could Motoyasu possibly know anything about the Blue Hourglass inside of the Turtle?

I also wonder what Ren and Itsuki were doing at the scene.

All three of them have knowledge from the games of their world. For all of them to move at once, something important must be happening.

The problem is that Motoyasu didn’t tell his party much information.

Both Ren and Itsuki have a habit of acting aloof. Their party members probably have very little information as well.

…There’s still too little information for me to make any assumptions.

“I can’t believe he actually survived fighting that Monster.” (Elena)

“You know, you’re saying that to the person that actually defeated it.”

(Naofumi)

“Ah right, so you were the one who defeated it? You really are quite something. To get to this point from the very bottom... I chose the wrong person to follow." (Elena)

And Elena lets out a deep sigh.

If she was my party member, I would want to smack her.

It's surprising that I'm not mad after listening to her for so long.

"Well anyways, Motoyasu-sama has given me quite a few goods, and my level did rise thanks to him. I guess I can stand the boring task of doing my father's work for a while." (Elena)

"You..." (Naofumi)

"It's gotten quite cold. I thought I would feel warmer when I met that man again..." (Elena)

"Hmm~?" (Firo)

What was that?

It seems that Firo has been developing a strange speaking habit as of late.

"And so that's how it is. If he comes again, I'll report him but I don't think he will be coming again." (Elena)

"Most likely. By the way, do you have any idea where Bitch may be right now?" (Naofumi)

"No idea. But people like her tend to live unnervingly long lives." (Elena)

It will be difficult to capture Motoyasu, and Bitch's whereabouts are unknown.

And this one wants nothing to do with the spear anymore.

I can imagine the other women saying something like, 'we were just following the Hero, we had nothing to do with it' or something.

They'll probably receive some punishment, but the Queen isn't that evil.

"I understand." (Naofumi)

"Now, you'll have to deal with that annoying ability." (Elena)

Warping... how bothersome.

If he can warp, then there's no point in throwing him in prison.

If this were a game, we would have to afflict him with Silence to seal it off.

And if we didn't do it continuously he would run off the second it wore off.

Judging him will be difficult.

"He occasionally used it." (Elena)

"Do you know what sort of skill it is?" (Naofumi)

"Let's see... He was able to use it on all members of his party at once without a problem." (Elena)

4 people at once? It's starting to sound like even more of a pain.

He might be able to take an entire army regiment with him.

But there's probably a cool-down time. If we know where it sends him, then...

"Location. Did he tell you where he could go with it?" (Naofumi)

"How should I know? He didn't say that much. But we travelled by carriage quite a bit, so it's not all powerful." (Elena)

Can he warp to any town he's been to before? No, that would be cheating.
But by Elena's testimony, it seems the location isn't set. For now, I should report to the Queen.

"Thanks for your cooperation." (Naofumi)

"It's fine. It's not like... Ah, now that I think about it, you've started some sort of business, haven't you? I've heard the rumors." (Elena)

"Yeah, I need to procure funding in some way." (Naofumi)

"Though it's troublesome, I may start trading with you at some point."
(Elena)

"Well, that depends on your goods. And you really are quite lazy."
(Naofumi)

"I know. I just want to live the easy life." (Elena)

I can't see what Motoyasu saw in this woman... It's the same with Bitch.

"He's quite an amazing person." (Raphtalia)

From Elena's conversation, Raphtalia somehow comes to this conclusion.

"Don't ever fall for someone like that, Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

"I won't!" (Raphtalia)

"Firo wants to run." (Firo)

What is she saying all of a sudden?

Firo has begun acting more oblivious as of late.

I guess she is getting bored.

"Well, see you around." (Naofumi)

"Yeah, good bye." (Elena)

Elena sighs once more. She sits down at the reception desk with a bored expression.

She's really quite an easy-going person.

And so I have failed to capture Motoyasu for now.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 143 – Demon Problem

---

As I was about to get on the carriage to return to the village, Shadow appeared.

“It’s been a while-gojaru.” (Shadow)

“Even though you say that, you’ve been constantly watching me, haven’t you?” (Naofumi)

“Well, you’re not wrong-gojaru.” (Shadow)

As expected of Shadow.

“You should go to the Queen to report on your attempt to capture the Spear-gojaru.” (Shadow)

“I know, but in truth, I have no idea how to stop him from escaping. Can we put a collar on him, like we did with Trash?” (Naofumi)

If the collar can prevent him from speaking, we can cut off his incantations.

“That collar definitely prevents one from speaking, but its effect is not long in duration-Gojaru” (Shadow)

Ah, so it had a weakness like that. Also, unless we use an invisible seal like the slave seal, he will probably be able to break it and run off.

I think Trash didn’t break his collar, because he didn’t want to anger the Queen...

“Well then, excuse me-gojaru” (Shadow)

And shadow disappeared. This is quite an urgent issue.

In the Net games that I know, there are areas and skills that prevent messaging and warping, but how about this world?

It's not certain that he even has to chant the spell, so stopping it will be a pain in the ass.

And it'll be troublesome if he escapes to another country.

It seems that we will have to put off his capture until the Queen comes up with something.

When I get back to the village, I see that the new slaves are slowly adjusting to their new lives. They have begun to look happier as they do their work.

"Ah, so you're back." (Female Knight)

Female Knight comes over to greet us.

"I heard that you failed." (Female Knight)

"News spreads fast... He ran away with a teleportation skill." (Naofumi)

"Heroes sure have convenient skills. Can Iwatani-dono use it?" (Female Knight)

"If I get the corresponding shield, I should be able to... but I don't know any way of preventing it." (Naofumi)

This will be a really annoying job.

If I were being chased, I would spam that skill without remorse.

"What is Rishia doing?" (Naofumi)

If she spreads the Itsuki religion, I'll have to have her fired.

"She's trying her best to train the new slaves." (Female Knight)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

"By the way, will Iwatani-dono be doing restorations on the town where this area's feudal lord used to live?" (Female Knight)

"Ah, that town..." (Naofumi)

Due to the influence of the first wave, all of the towns in the entire area have turned into ghost-towns.

The place Female Knight is talking about is the adjacent village.

Its damages exceed that of this one. The stone buildings and walls have all collapsed, and the Feudal Lord's mansion seems to have been burned down. It's quite severe.

"The Queen asked whether or not you would be rebuilding that area."
(Female Knight)

"I still need an area for people other than slaves to live. If you're free, I won't mind it if you start reparations on that area by yourself." (Naofumi)

"I thought you would say that, so I have already sent a request for anyone wanting to immigrate here." (Female Knight)

"Immigrate?" (Naofumi)

"Due to Iwatani-dono's contributions, there are some who want to live on your land." (Female Knight)

"hmm..." (Naofumi)

"I've put together a list." (Female Knight)

Female Knight hands over a list of all of the applicants who want to live on my land.

… There are quite a few people from Ryut village. There are also people from villages destroyed by the Spirit Turtle. There's quite a variety.

"Well, isn't it fine?" (Naofumi)

"I think you should at least go talk to them at some point in time." (Female Knight)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

I idly pat the neck of the Filo Rial who was resting near me.

"Kueeee..." (Filo Rial)

I'm pretty sure that adult Filo Rials are supposed to cry, "Guaaa".

How the hell is Firo raising it? Is it because it is a vassal of a Filo Rial Queen?

Or is it just part of its personality?

As I pet the Filo Rial, I notice Firo glaring at me with jealous eyes.

"Master, why are you patting that child?" (Firo)

"? I have no ulterior motives." (Naofumi)

"Then pet Firo as well." (Firo)

Firo approaches me menacingly.

This will be a pain to deal with...

I sigh, and begin to rub under Firo's beak.

Her plumage is thicker than a normal Filo Rial's.

"Oh, right." (Naofumi)

"Hm?" (Firo)

"Why does this Filo Rial say 'Kue'? Isn't it supposed to be Gua?" (Naofumi)

"He was under Firo's care, so I messed around with him for a bit." (Firo)

Messed around? Can she modify objects like me?

"... Specifically what did you do?" (Naofumi)

"Firo fed him until his stomach was full." (Firo)

I don't care about that.

"Firo also... taught him how to swim... He is a little stronger than the other kids, and can pull the cart very well. But he gets hungry easily." (Firo)

So is this Filo Rial a new species?

"If Master wants me to, I can mess with him some more." (Firo)

"... I'll consider it." (Naofumi)

So his fuel efficiency is lower than the other Filo Rials... That'll be a problem. I wonder if Firo gets a pop up screen during modifications like I get when modifying the Bioplants.

"KUEEEEEEEeEE" (Filo Rial) (TL: The lowercase is in the original)

The other Filo Rial rubs against me with his head. Firo copies him.

What was his name again?

I think the Slaves randomly picked one...

"And so you don't confuse him with other Filo Rials, Firo made him say Kue. Now Master can tell recognize him even if he can't hear him talk." (Firo)

Is it a sort of signal inaudible to the human ear?

I believe my world had animals that could do that as well.

Though I'm not too knowledgeable.

"Then what is Gua supposed to mean?" (Naofumi)

"Fitoria's underlings use that." (Firo)

I see...

"Since I'm here, I'll ask, but if something happens to you, will he take over as King or Queen?" (Naofumi)

"Firo will be fine!" (Firo)

Firo starts pouting.

Was it that unexpected? Well, it's concerning her death, so I guess there's no helping it.

"Yeah, but we're talking about the worst case scenario here." (Naofumi)

"Mu..." (Firo)

Firo's puffs up her cheeks.

"Um, you know. If Master asks him to... I think he will take over." (Firo)

"I see." (Naofumi)

So he will take over Firo's followers if anything happens to her.

But what I was trying to find out was something else.

I wanted to know if he would be able to change his species to Filo Rial Queen.

"KUE!? KUEEEEEEEEE!?" (Filo Rial)

The Filo Rial's feathers suddenly stand on end.

"Master, what do you think you're doing!?" (Firo)

It seems his reaction speed is quite fast. I guess I should stop.

His feathers go down quickly.

"Mu..." (Firo)

Firo idly kicks the ground.

"Master, recently haven't you been being quite cruel to Firo?" (Firo)

"I'm not being cruel. I just think that the 'Kue's are more cute than the you that just talks non-stop. If you started to speak in 'Kue's, then I might pamper you more." (Naofumi)

"No!" (Firo)

I don't get why she wants to talk so badly.

Anyways, it seems that only Firo's followers say Kue.

"Hey... Did I just hear some amazing information?" (Female Knight)

Female Knight starts speaking with a dumbfound expression.

"Really?" (Naofumi)

"Filo Rial are mysterious lifeforms, you know." (Female Knight)

"They're Holy Birds, right?" (Naofumi)

"People may say that, but... I don't think that's true." (Female Knight)

'I may need to rethink these facts', Female Knight mutters to herself.
I've gotten used to Firo being like this, but normal Filo Rials are usually used in the same way as horses.

"Oh, right. Returning to topic. Will you be restoring the neighboring town?"
(Naofumi)

"Yes, I believe it will be an important asset. You're the count here, so oversee the work." (Female Knight)

"That sounds like a pain, but I guess I have to do it." (Naofumi)

I'll need to oversee the restorations here as well.

... Oh right. There has been something bothering me for a while.

"Hey, Firo." (Naofumi)

"What is it~?"(Firo)

"Do the Caterpillands have any sort of social organization like the Filo Rials?"
(Naofumi)

"Who knows?" (Firo)

The Caterpillands have also begun to grow in strange directions...
They are much bigger than other Caterpillands of the same level.
They're just large bugs, but the slaves use the Three Caterpillands to manage the growth of the Bioplants.

...Wait.

One. Two. Three...

There's one too many!

“Who is it? Who got another Caterpilland without my permission!?”

(Naofumi)

The slaves frantically try to hide one of the Caterpillands behind their backs.
The one they hide is the biggest one of the group.

“It’s way too late to hide it!” (Naofumi)

When did this thing appear?

“Damn, he found out!” (Kiel)

“How did you think I wouldn’t find out!” (Naofumi)

I can confirm it’s status. This means that it is a monster under my control.
A girl from the new slaves spreads her body out and tries to hide the monster, but it’s still clearly visible. Behind her is the Bioplant field.
I think I’ve seen this scene before.

“What do you mean? There’s nothing wrong here.” (Girl Slave)

“It’s huge! Do you think you’re hiding anything!?” (Naofumi)

I can see everything. What valley did this girl crawl out of?

The Caterpilland behind her back is bigger than any I’ve ever seen.

“Now then, explain yourselves.” (Naofumi)

The slaves hang their heads.

“Please tell me in detail exactly what happened.” (Naofumi)

“Well, it’s not like we were trying to make Shield Nii-chan angry…” (Kiel)

Kiel steps in front of the Female Slave.

Et tu brute?

"How did you manage to register it as mine?" (Naofumi)

"Well, it was kind of mixed it in with the new slaves that arrived." (Kiel)

"So you..." (Naofumi)

"By the guy who sold them." (Kiel)

"The Slave Dealer!?" (Naofumi)

When did he have the chance to do it? I never noticed him perform the registration on it.

Was his hunger act a way to sneak this one through?¥

"Why would the slave dealer..." (Naofumi)

"This is the first egg we all found together!" (Kiel)

"Wha?" (Naofumi)

It seems it went something like this.

When everyone had gone to level-grind, they had come across a monster nest. They then took back the egg that was there with them as a trophy. When they brought it back, no one knew how they were going to raise it.

"Raphtalia, did you know?" (Naofumi)

"I had no idea." (Raphtalia)

"If we told Raphtalia-chan, we thought she would report it to you." (Kiel)

Having a monster egg without a registered master is dangerous, so everyone was worrying about what to do. It was then that the Slave Dealer appeared.

So everyone gathered together the money they had saved through peddling with me, and begged him to register it.

And so the Slave Dealer distracted me while some of his men secretly went and registered the egg. Everyone worked together to raise it healthily, and... this was the result.

I see. I had been looking over the other Caterpillands level to make it so they didn't grow too big to handle. That's why this one, who grew freely, is so big.

It's 5 times bigger than a normal one. Its level is also quite high.

"Please don't kill it!" (Slave Girl)

"Hey, valley girl. You're being loud. Please be quiet for a second."

(Naofumi)

"What do you mean by Valley, Nii-chan!?" (Kiel)

Well. These people have been doing quite a bit without my permission.

I haven't lost anything, but it will be bad if they learn to act this way in the future. The slaves around the Valley Girl-ish slave rise and protect the Caterpilland.

"You know, if you act on your own like that, I'll be troubled. If you really want to raise it, make sure you tell me first." (Naofumi)

I've already asked the Slave Dealer for more monsters anyways. I won't have to put in too much extra effort.

"And make sure you raise it properly. If I see it lose to another monster, I'll sell it on the spot." (Naofumi)

"Y-yes!" (Female Slave)

Well... Problems are popping out one after the other.

"See, I told you. Shield Nii-chan will let us keep it." (Kiel)

"But Kiel-chan, you said that Shield Nii-chan would definitely sell it. You said he was greedy with money, so he would sell it on the spot. That's why we worked so hard to hide it..." (Female Slave)

"don't add a -chan to my name!" (Kiel)

"..." (Naofumi)

These people...

Wait, I didn't notice it before, but he said 'The First egg'...

"This is the only egg, right?" (Naofumi)

"Um... well..." (Kiel)

"Well?" (Naofumi)

The slaves hang their heads.

My head hurts...

I don't know if these kids are just skilled at finding monster nests, but when I look under the floor of the house the slaves are staying in, I see rows and rows of eggs.

"When we saved up more money, we planned to take them to the Slave selling guy..." (Kiel)

"There's a lot... If they hatch unregistered, what did you plan on doing!?" (Naofumi)

That would be a calamity in itself.

Well, dealing with freshly hatched monsters wouldn't be that much of a problem...

“Yeah, but…” (Kiel)

“*Sigh*… well for now, let me see what sort of eggs they are.” (Naofumi)

And wait, there are wild monster eggs as well? Of course that’s the case.

I guess I can make egg-based dishes as well now. But if I say that, I think the slaves will get mad at me.

“Are they all Caterpilland eggs?” (Naofumi)

“Probably not. We got them from all sorts of places.” (Kiel)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

These people plan to trouble me in many ways. I hope these monsters don’t cost me too much money to care for. I guess I can cancel my monster order to the Slave Dealer.

(Translator Note: Valley Girl is read as Taniko)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 144 – Determination

---

I head towards the town Female Knight told me about.

It's close enough to this village to walk there.

"Ah, it's the Hero of the Shield!" (Villager)

When I head to the village, I find that construction is already underway.

Many people are working on salvaging the pre-existing buildings here, and some are starting construction on new ones. Some people stop what they're doing, and come over to greet me.

I put on my best business smile to meet them. The leader of the group seems to be a youth from Ryut village.

"I've heard about your situation. Have any problems surfaced yet?"

(Naofumi)

"Well... There's a river and a well nearby, and food circulation is going quite smoothly. If I had to mention a problem, it would be that the management of personnel is difficult." (Leader)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"It seems there have been some disputes over property rights here and there." (Leader)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

Well, this was a town whose buildings were all destroyed in the wave.

What's more, the town is undergoing restorations under the supervision of a Hero. Some people will probably try to arbitrarily claim some land as their own.

“Even if they used to live here, it doesn’t matter. Please have anyone without the intention to cooperate leave the premise.” (Naofumi)

As I declare this, some people seem to rise to object, but they quickly give up.

“Also, if you need to extend past the boundaries of the village, feel free to do so.” (Naofumi)

I then begin to consider the possibility of flooding.

I will need someone to manage the roads, but I don’t think there are many people knowledgeable in that field.

“Anyways, for now try to build while focusing on bringing new businesses here, and expand accordingly. Also, we will need to build some inns.”
(Naofumi)

“Understood!” (Leader)

No matter how reparations proceed, getting businesses will be essential. They should build while keeping this in mind.

“Next, we’ll need some sort of security force.” (Naofumi)

For now, we are leaving this to the Castle’s guards, but I eventually plan to leave it to the slaves who wish to fight in the wave.

That way, it will be easier to reprimand them for excessive behavior.

“We’re getting new applicants who want to live here by the day.” (Leader)

“It will be troublesome if they start gathering at my village, though.”
(Naofumi)

"The Female Knight that was with you spread the rumor that this village was your actual base of operations." (Leader)

That Knight does good work. I should probably ask for her name at some point in time.

I can hear hammers pounding away as people resume their work.

"Ah, aren't you the Shield Hero kid?" (Magic Shopkeeper)

"Hm?" (Naofumi)

I turn around and see the old lady from the Magic Shop coming towards me. Ah, yeah. A lot of people had come here from Ryut Village. It's not strange that she would join them.

"Ah, you're from the Magic Shop. The shop collapsed, right?" (Naofumi)

"Well, yeah..." (Magic Shopkeeper)

"Did you come here to help with your family?" (Naofumi)

"I'm currently helping feed the workers." (Magic Shopkeeper)

"I see... By the way, how are the repairs on your store going?" (Naofumi)

"I don't know when they will be finished, but there are quite a few people in the Castle Town waiting expectantly for its reopening." (Magic Shopkeeper)

With all the damage done to it, I guess re-opening will take a while.

Though the Queen is doing her best to help, the country's manpower and resources suffered a large loss.

"If possible, I would like to set up shop here for a bit..." (Magic Shopkeeper)

"I magic shop will be an important asset. I'll give you special permission."
(Naofumi)

"I am very grateful for your words." (Magic Shopkeeper)

“But only after we get some usable buildings completed.” (Naofumi)

“I’ll wait expectantly.” (Magic Shopkeeper)

“Don’t worry. Oh, and if you have any free time, can you come to the neighboring village and teach some magic?” (Naofumi)

Some slaves have begun learning from books, but there’s a limit to self-study. We also don’t know anybody’s magical affinities. It will probably best to ask an expert in the field.

Recently I have been considering constructing a school-like institution. Right now, the slaves are learning combat from Female Knight and Raphtalia outdoors, but having a Dojo might also make things easier. For that purpose, it is very fortunate that we have a Magic Shop close-by.

“I’ll think about it once I set up shop.” (Magic Shopkeeper)

“You’re quite a resilient person. To take on more despite your current situation.”

“Even though I look like this now, I used to run the largest Magic Shop in the Castle Town, you know.” (Magic Shopkeeper)

“Please invite the Apothecary as well. It’s good for business to have many different facilities.” (Naofumi)

“It seems the Hero of the Shield is quite the Business Man.” (Magic Shopkeeper)

“Well, I have been called greedy on numerous occasions, and I can use the reasoning of, ‘It’s for the sake of the world’ as I please.” (Naofumi)

“Fufufu…” (Magic Shopkeeper)

“Hahaha…” (Naofumi)

The people around us have begun to distance themselves.

After that, I start to give orders regarding the construction.

...

One Week from that

Rishia's level is now 40, and the other slaves will be able to class up soon as well.

It's about time for us to go to the dragon hourglass.

Female knight already notified the Queen before-hand, so all we have to do is go there.

So I gather together the higher level slaves, and headed for the Castle Town.

"It's been a while since I last came here." (Naofumi)

We parked the Carriage at a near-by village, and entered the Castle Town by foot. This is because we will be recognized if anyone sees Firo pulling the cart.

It's been two weeks, and the Castle town is still recovering.

"Shield Nii-chan, Why are you wearing a cloak?" (Kiel)

The slave whose level is second highest to Rishia is Kiel. Her straight-forward personality makes her well suited for battle.

She's started to be able to coordinate attacks with Raphtalia and Rishia. Female Knight tells me that Kiel will become an amazing fighter someday.

"If I'm found out, it will become impossible to move." (Naofumi)

Hooray for the Shield! Is what people will say as they fence us in.

Though I'm a hero, I find that it's quite a pain to actually be treated as one.

“Is that so?” (Kiel)

“Firo, make sure you don’t assume your monster form unless you absolutely have to.” (Naofumi)

“Yes~” (Firo)

Should I stop by the weapons shop on the way back?

… I don’t have enough money. If I get something too expensive, and have him put it on my tab, I’ll feel bad.

Though I don’t think I should keep him waiting for too long.

I’ve been slowly saving up, but everyday expenses have been piling up…

I decide to stop on by on the way back anyways.

And so we reach to the Dragon’s Hourglass.

“We’ve been expecting you.” (Soldier)

A soldier, who looks quite talkative, comes out to greet us.

“Today, I’m here for my comrades’ Class Up.” (Naofumi)

“I’m aware, I received the message earlier.” (Soldier)

The Ceremony starts in the same way it did with Raphtalia and Firo. I order Firo to assume her Monster form.

“U-um… What should I try and class up to?” (Rishia)

Rishia looks over at me with a troubled expression.

“You need to choose for yourself…Though there is something here that may choose for you…” (Naofumi)

Firo’s Ahoge shows no signs of movement.

"Firo." (Naofumi)

"Yes~?" (Firo)

"If your Ahoge starts moving, you need to get out of the building."

(Naofumi)

"Eh..." (Firo)

"Do you want something like that time with Raphtalia and You to happen again?" (Naofumi)

The result worked out, but it wasn't good for the individuals. In order to let them choose their own paths, I need to caution Firo.

"Yeah... I got it..." (Firo)

Okay, I got Firo's consent.

"Hey, you. Wait for a second." (Naofumi)

"What, Shield Nii-chan" (Kiel)

"I'll ask just in case, but you do know that we have come here to class up, correct?" (Naofumi)

"Well, Yeah..." (Kiel)

"You told us earlier" (Slave)

The slaves all nod at me.

"And so, my belief is that you should be the one to choose your own destiny. This is something separate from preparing for the Wave." (Naofumi)

"What do you mean, Nii—chan?" (Kiel)

"I'll give more training to those that personally want to participate in the wave. But we also have to consider what happens after the wave is over."

(Naofumi)

“...” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia watches over me in silence.

That’s right, I started this village with Raphtalia in mind. But, everyone here will also have a life in this world after everything is over.

“The class you choose here may heighten your abilities, but it will also narrow the possibly roles you can play in the future. Does everyone understand?” (Naofumi)

The slaves nod.

I confirm this, and continue speaking.

“Your lives will take you to many places from now. You’ll experience many new situations and take on many roles. That’s why you should be the ones to choose your path here. It’s not always best to simply have someone pick the route that gets you the best stats for you.” (Naofumi)

“Can that really happen?” (Slave)

I give a heavy nod.

“Raphtalia and Firo here are victims of such a phenomena.” (Naofumi)

The two unenthusiastically raise their hands.

“Do you see the crest on Firo’s head? It arbitrarily decided their class-ups for them. But the class it gave them had higher stats than most normal ones.” (Naofumi)

“Really!?” (Kiel)

“Yeah, but for you guys, combat abilities isn’t everything. If there’s a role you really want to do, there should be a class that allows you to specialize in it." (Naofumi)

There's no perfect class. And among those present here, there are definitely no perfect people.

And that's why.

"Just make sure you don't regret it." (Naofumi)

The slaves whisper amongst themselves.

"I got it, Shield Nii-chan. I... Want to become as strong as I can possibly be. If such an option exists, then I don't need a choice." (Kiel)

Kiel speaks with determination.

The last time she went back to train, she suffered quite heavy injuries and had to be carried back.

"I want to Class Up like Rishia Nee-chan and lead the others."

"You won't be the only one taking damage. In the worst case scenario, some may die." (Naofumi)

"I know, Shield Nii-chan." (Kiel)

"You have a habit of being impulsive. If you screw up here, you may regret it." (Naofumi)

"Don't worry! It'll definitely work out!" (Kiel)

Is what she said. Though her enthusiasm was unmatched, she put too much focus on a single monster, and took an unexpected attack from a blind spot.

Her comrades were also quite injured.

“Shield Nii-chan. I think this is the first time I have tasted defeat… If I don’t do my best, will it turn out like that again?” (Kiel)

She said afterwards. I had healed her wounds with magic and medicine, but the experience still lingered in her mind.

“Shield Nii-chan always protected me… so I never noticed. That fighting was such a scary thing.” (Kiel)

“… In the end, It’s fine because no one died, but if anyone were to die under your watch, you’ll feel a pain greater than any other.” (Naofumi)

“Yeah… Nii-chan, I’m sorry for looking down on you until now. I’ll go tell the others.” (Kiel)

“…I thought it was supposed to be difficult to teach them discipline, but they went and learned it before I had even noticed.” (Naofumi)

And that experience gave everyone a lot to think about. It seems that Kiel cried that night.

Kiel still bears the scar of that incident, but the experience she gained outweighs the damages.

After seeing Kiel’s squad come back with injuries, the rest of the slaves have also begun to develop a fear of fighting.

They’ve become more diligent and have begun to develop tactics. If Raphtalia hadn’t been there to rescue them, who knows what would have happened to them.

Even I understood that I was being too light on them, but it seems Raphtalia and the others were harsh on them to compensate.

Raphtalia is supporting me in many ways.

The boy next to Kiel steps forward.

"I... want to pick my own future." (Boy)

"I understand. Please split into two groups, those who want to choose, and those that don't." (Naofumi)

The slaves follow my orders, and divide themselves.

"Now then, Firo. I'll have the people that don't want to choose go first, so please back off when those that do step forward." (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Firo)

"Rishia, what will you do?" (Naofumi)

"I... Want to become stronger by my own hand. If it means giving up my choice, then I don't need such an option." (Rishia)

I had anticipated that Rishia would pick that. She came with me for this sole purpose.

"Then it's fine. Pick a class that suits your tastes." (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Rishia)

The hourglass begins to shine, and Rishia closes her eyes.

The soldiers in the area surround the Hourglass, and liquid begin to flow into the grooves on the floor that formed a magic circle.

The Hourglass glows brighter, and the circle on the floor begins to shine with it.

Rishia's class up menu appears in front of me,
but I close it

...

"Hm?" (Firo)

Firo fidgets with her Ahoge
So it won't act up like last time.

"Okay, Rishia, it seems that there are no problems." (Naofumi)

"O-okay." (Rishia)

Rishia begins breathing slowly, and reads through the list.
The light begins to converge on her.

"I've made my decision." (Rishia)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 145 – Report

---

Class up was confirmed and then Rishia was engulfed in luminescence, Status confirmed.

Overall status increased, but not noticeably high.

“How is it? What did you possibly choose?” (Naofumi)

“As expected of me... In the end I chose the best way to help, I considered all of them, it is different from the last time so I chose the path to become universal.” (Rishia)

(TLN: Just to make it clear so nobody's confused Rishia now chose to be full time all-around back then even though she's all-around the class that she chose focuses more on close combat because itsuki is you know.. Range.. ref. Ch95)

“I see...” (Naofumi)

Rishia's determination took on a form and raised her status, but the numbers still weren't that high.

Rishia's status is balanced but if you compare it to Kiel you could say that it is inferior on some parts.

However, Rishia chose that personally, so I feel like when the time comes it will produce great results.

She is now braver than before, she now possess determination and strength.

I believe that Rishia's strength doesn't rely on her Lvl. And status.

Lvl. and status is not what makes Rishia strong I believe.

"I'm next" (Kiel)

Kiel touched the hourglass after Rishia.

Same magic formed, and an icon appeared in front of me.

"Wa?!" (Kiel)

This time Firo's ahoge disappeared, I saw Kiel's Class up got interfered.
(TLN: Firo's ahoge also went missing when Raphtalia classed up... ref.ch81)

Smoke screen came out and covered the area.

..... Just like when Raphtalia Classed up, Kiel's status jumped up.

However, if you compare it to the time when Raphtalia classed up it is slightly lower.

"Wow!... What is this? I can feel the power spreading all over my body."
(Kiel)

"What are you even trying to say?" (Naofumi)

Firo's ahoge activated with Kiel but not with Rishia.

Does it only affect Demons and Demi-humans.

Then the other slaves followed, but there are times when Firo's ahoge does not disappear.

I still don't understand the rules.

"Well then, Firo why don't you wait outside." (Naofumi)

"Uhn." (Firo)

I want them to choose their own path, so I instructed Firo to go outside of the building.

(TLN: Apparently Firo's ahoge interferes with the Class up making them unable to choose their own class. Remember when Firo was disappointed because she wasn't able to choose the one that spits poison so that's that)

The ahoge would probably not interfere with the Class up anymore.

Then the Class up ended.

"Well then, I have some little things to do so each and every one of you is free to do what you want. We will meet at the gates by evening." (Naofumi)

"Understood Shield nii-chan." (Kiel)

I don't think that anyone will try to runaway but even if they do the slave crest is still in effect

"What should I do?" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia asked.

Right, Occasionally I have arranged meetings with the Queen and exchange information.

In this case, I just have to send Raphtalia to the slave shop.

"Go to the Slave shop on my behalf, I still need to talk to the Queen."
(Naofumi)

"Understood." (Raphtalia)

"What about Firo?" (Firo)

"Go play with the Slaves." (Naofumi)

"Yay!" (Firo)

Thus I went to meet the Queen after a long time.

I headed to the Castle's direction to and speak to the Queen.

"Iwatani-sama, How's your Village's state of affairs?" (Queen)

"Oh well, The place is still small in number but I've taken actions to increase the population." (Naofumi)

"Is it?, Stories about immigrants have already come this way." (Queen)

"How's the reconstruction going there?" (Naofumi)

"To be honest, If a war were to happen our financial state would go downhill." (Queen)

The damage would be huge...

It's because of those Heroes' doing, I guess there's no helping it.

"I spoke with Elena the companion of the Spear." (Naofumi)

"Yes, I've heard of it, to have escape with a strange ability." (Queen)

"Yeah right, It would be really hard to catch him." (Naofumi)

"I'm aware of that, that's what I would like to discuss, how can we arrest him." (Queen)

A weak provocation would do the opposite effect. Still, letting him run loose would be troublesome. To awaken a demon class monster.

Well, Motoyasu is that kind of person, sudden change of behavior seems impossible.

Especially with those two, I would be in a great disadvantage if that happens as a matter of fact it would be really difficult to improve.
(TLN: He's talking about Motoyasu's companions)

"Hmmm." (Naofumi)

"The problem is when we catch him, we need a place where he cannot escape. Putting a reward on his arrest is unreasonable because he might just flee to another country and defect, it might also become a trigger for war, spreading the word that he is an impostor Hero, release an article that says that he is actually dead??? There's also a risk that the people will make a fuss if the hero is killed."

It'd be troublesome to get him aboard the boat with a stick or a chopstick.

I'd like him to participate in the wave if possible.

It's impossible, I'd like to have four times the firepower but in this situation it seems impossible.

The slaves also need to be combat ready in less than 3 months.

"Do you have some information regarding the other heroes?" (Naofumi)

"There are reports about some eyewitness." (Queen)

"For now, we only have reports about the Hero of the Sword and Hero of the Spear." (Queen)

"How's that?" (Naofumi)

"Rumors are not proven yet, we're still gathering evidence on that information." (Queen)

That was somehow inconvenient.

"How about your daughter?" (Naofumi)

"Just the same, There are some testimonies but no concrete evidence."
(Queen)

She is still alive somewhere.

"I also ordered shadow to search for them but the search is not going well."
(Queen)

"They can't be found anywhere?" (Naofumi)

"There are many possible reasons... One is maybe they're stuck somewhere or two they've been arrested by enemy country." (Queen)

"Hmm." (Naofumi)

"There's also a possibility of a Jamming tool." (Queen)

"Tool? Is there such a thing?" (Naofumi)

"The problem is the organization that frees the slave...

"That was a high grade slave crest so undoing it will be difficult so jamming it is the only possible way to make up for it." (Queen)

It seems that way.

Again the stories about an organization that frees the slaves...

"This story is of no importance to Iwatani-sama, however the news about the Seven-star Heroes is still not within our grasp." (Queen)

"but the story is that we will meet them when a much more pressing situation takes place." (Naofumi)

"Right, it will take place." (Queen)

"Anything else?" (Naofumi)

"Stories about an unknown metal has been excavated on the Spirit Turtle's cave, the city's liven up because of those stories." (Queen)

“Ho...” (Naofumi)

Such stories would definitely attract blacksmiths and merchants to come. As expected of the Turtle’s cave to give such opportunities.

This means, I should also go there to gather raw materials to enhance my shield.

Spirit turtle’s metal and Spirit Turtle’s crystal.

Those kinds...

“We should raise the tax around this area, if you do that it will help raise the city’s funds, it will help rebuild the city. Also the weapons made from that metal seem to be of high quality.” (Naofumi)

“I wish I could raise the tax.” (Queen)

It seems uneconomical. I guess I should go there instead, buying Raphtalia and Firo a gift seems impossible.

“Should I give special permission to Iwatani-sama to mine?”(Queen)

“I’ll think about it.” (Naofumi)

Selling the ores is likely to be profitable but on the other hand it feels like it’s such a waste.

"There are other problems, Lately there has been a rumor that an Alchemist Master awakened inside the Spirit Turtle."(Queen)
(TLN: If you read the Christmas special by Yoraikun you will understand)

"What is that?" (Naofumi)

Such rumors arrive at the Queen's ears, as expected of a problem child.

"The right person should be in charge on investigating the demon. Although problem is that the research will be different the normal course." (Queen)

"Ho." (Naofumi)

Research investigation huh? I should also start my research with the bio plant.

If it all goes well, I feel like it will be really profitable.

Business is back on track, for the first time it is something good. It looks like it'll be quite a challenge when I get back.

I need to gather talented people so that even if I fail I'll be able to cope up with it.

"Do you have anything else?"

"Please give me the used weapons of the knights. Then, please issue me the required documents for peddling." (Naofumi)

I deal with things in various ways and as for the weapon it is necessary because of the increasing number of slaves.

I need those documents for the Peddling team.

I feel that it is necessary so that there won't be impostors.

"I understand. However Iwatani-sama, impersonating you seems impossible." (Queen)

"What do you mean?" (Naofumi)

"Since the story about you eating the Rokoru fruit is true they would have to eat it to prove their selves." (Queen)

"Indeed... Such a thing does exist." (Naofumi)

It happened once when they gave it to me and I ate it, that guy's face became pale "It's real" he made such a fuss over it.

"Nope, I still need it in case they asked for proof. If the Queen's seal is there, impersonation will be really difficult." (Naofumi)

"I see, well then I shall deliver the weapons and the documents later." (Queen)

Weapons huh?

I wonder if there're prototype weapons, I wonder if they will send it to my place.

"What's the matter?"(Queen)

"Nothing." (Naofumi)

I have little expectation on that. For some reason I could see the Queen is calculating numbers, I understand that it is really tough for her.

Are you still alright financially? She's really anxious about those numbers.

"Let's help out each other in the restoration." (Naofumi)

"You're right." (Queen)

There's only this much words that I could hear from the Queen.

"Come to think of it... Where's Trash?" (Naofumi)

"I made him watch over the border." (Queen)

"A Watch keeper?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, No one will be stupid enough to invade if the wise and intelligent King is in the lookout... right?" (Queen)

“Is there any effect if that ignorant and fooling King is guarding?” (Naofumi)

“It’s been effective in these past several years, so there will be no problem. Moreover he’s the one who summoned all Four Heroes which the other countries failed to do.”(Queen)

“Right, such point of view exist.” (Naofumi)

The Queen sighed really deep.

“That man was really excellent till he had a child.” (Queen)

“I can only imagine.” (Naofumi)

“Just maybe, I hope that he becomes the person he used to be. Iwatani-sama it would be good if you could meet that excellent person.”(Queen)

That manner of speaking is just like a person who handles Human Affairs.

First child huh? I wonder if that child was bitch. I now understand why Trash’s head became so messed up.

I wonder about bitch but if I were to have children they would definitely be adorable.

As a matter of fact I became like a mother, there are times that I want to beat those slaves.

And Kiel would be the first one on the list but recently Valley Child is the one I want to beat the most.(TLN: Valley child is "Taniko")

"Such a thing, where would that charming person be?" (Naofumi)

"Indeed, but if you look at Melty isn't she adorable?" (Queen)

"You don't need to nod." (Naofumi)

Your daughter is really cute but to make me consider a child? What a terrible parent.

It is a game where my parents are good at.

If you think about it my parents' expectation towards my younger brother might've multiplied.

If you think about parents' expectation towards bitch, it seems Trash really loves Bitch.

Well it may vary.

.... I ended up thinking that terrible thing as something good.

"Well then, I still have some things to do."(Naofumi)

"Yes, Iwatani-sama I sincerely wish for your Village's restoration to finish soon."(Queen)

"You don't say."(Naofumi)

(TLN: This translation seems appropriate hahaha)

"Oya?!, At this rate it will definitely be a success because your reputation is now really good."(Queen)

Shameless.

As expected of Melromarc's fox lady.

Leaving such impression after talking with the Queen, I left the castle.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 146 – Beastman

---

“Ah, Naofumi-sama” (Raphtalia)

I stop by the Slave Dealer’s tent, and Raphtalia greets me.

“My, My. Is it not the Hero of the Shield?” (Slave Dealer)

“You. You did something unnecessary for my slaves. I am quite troubled, you know.” (Naofumi)

“Now then, what could you be talking about?” (Slave Dealer)

The Slave dealer forces a laugh.

If I try to push this point too hard, I will get sucked into his pace. I guess I’ll drop it.

“Anyways, I came across a large amount of monster eggs, so I would like to cancel my order.” (Naofumi)

“I thought you would say that, so I took the liberty of cancelling it for you. Yes.” (Slave Dealer)

“You…” (Naofumi)

Calm down… Calm down…

“Would you like another Filo Rial? I don’t believe there was one in the eggs you had.” (Slave Dealer)

“So you already checked them!” (Naofumi)

I’m reaching my limit here.

I hate feeling like I’m dancing on the palm of his hand.

"I think it would be more entertaining for you to find out when they hatch.
Yes" (Slave Dealer)

My head hurts.

This happens every time I see this person.

It's annoying, so I'll just finish my business here and leave.

"Then, did you find any more slaves from that village?" (Naofumi)

"Well..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia's expression becomes dark.

"I apologize, but we have yet to find any more." (Slave Dealer)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

"I even spread around the Hero of the Shield's name, and no one came forward. I don't think I will be able to find any more within the confines of Melromark." (Slave Dealer)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

Though we have been able to find quite a few children, I guess not to many people survived the wave in the first place.

I have found 15 already... (TL: remember, 3 of the 18 were outsiders)

"It may be beneficial to increase the search range. Yes." (Slave Dealer)

"Can you do that?" (Naofumi)

"If the Hero of the Shield asks for it, I have no choice but to oblige." (Slave Dealer)

This sounds fishy. The Slave dealer extends his hand to me as if asking for money.

"After that is... Do you have any skilled Demi-Human slaves that would be of use to me?" (Naofumi)

Having someone skilled at compounding, construction or black smithery may help the growth of the village.

The only one there who can make intermediate-advanced medicine is me. There are a few that have shown interest in the subject but progress has been slow.

"Then the Tanuki girl you have with you may be considered quite skillful."
(Slave Dealer)

I look at Raphtalia.

Now that I think about it, I haven't actually taught her anything... The most I've had her do is tan leather.

Well, she is quite clumsy in most aspects besides fighting.

"Were you just thinking something relatively rude?" (Raphtalia)

"Not really..." (Naofumi)

"Let's see... Well, the Lemo Race is quite good with their hands. They're also relatively docile." (Slave Dealer)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

"You've probably never seen one before, though. Yes." (Slave Dealer)

"Are they rare?" (Naofumi)

"They're not rare in other countries, but as they are considered Beastmen, their numbers in Melromark are few. Yes." (Slave Dealer)

I see...

Are they closer to animals than other Demi-humans? Now that I think about it, all of the Demi-humans I've seen so far have been quite humanoid.

"Do you have any here?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, you may be in luck. I one in stock." (Slave Dealer)

"Let me see." (Naofumi)

The Slave Dealer leads me into the depths of the tent.

"Here it is."

I look at the cage I have been led to.

In it is a child cowering in fear under a blanket.

It's dark, so I can't really see anything.

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

"Present her." (Slave Dealer)

At the Slave Dealer's command, a muscular man appears, and open the cage. He takes away its blanket.

"S-stop it!" (Lemo Kid)

"..." (Naofumi)

I look at the Lemo Child.

To describe it briefly, it looked like a mole. It's a werewolf-like fusion between a human and a mole.

It looks like the Lemo are a race of mole-people.

Its stature is quite short. Its height only comes up to my waist. Is it because it is a child?

"It is of a race who's eyes are weak to light. You may be able to use it for nighttime patrols." (Slave Dealer)

"awawa..." (Lemo Kid)

The Lemo Child huddles into a corner of the cage, whilst trembling. Raphtalia has a worried expression.

"Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

"Yes?" (Raphtalia)

"You understand that I'm no philanthropist, right?" (Naofumi)

"Y-yeah, I realize that." (Raphtalia)

Even so, it's a race that is skilled in craftsmanship...
but...

"Hey, do a lot of people in this country persecute Demi-Human slaves?"
(Naofumi)

Many of the Demi-human children slaves had remnants of scars left by whips all over their bodies.

"A while ago, this country was at war with Demi-Humans, there's no helping it. Yes." (Slave Dealer)

"So people are still taking out their anger from that time on these races?"
(Naofumi)

"Well, it's war. Many people lost their families to the Demi-humans, and this country's military campaigns brought an influx of cheap Demi-Human slaves.

Yes. There was no easier way for those people to get revenge on Demi-Humans as a whole.” (Slave Dealer)

This country’s darkness runs deep.

I wonder what the nobles think of me, who is making a Demi-Human village.

“Though slavery is legal in this country, mistreatment of slaves is punishable by law. Yes.” (Slave Dealer)

“Those actions were illegal… You seem to be selling quite a few of such illegal slaves…” (Naofumi)

Now that I think about it, this tent is quite well hidden, in a back alley…

“Don’t worry. I am conducting business quite legally. Yes.” (Slave Dealer)

Legal…

The Slave Dealer looks proud as he says this, but something in my head is screaming bull shit.

If so, then why do you carry abused slaves in the first place…

“Well, there’s nothing I can do about it.” (Naofumi)

I look at the wounds on the back of the Lemo kid.

…They look quite deep.

「Zveit Heal」 (Naofumi)

I use healing magic, and the wounds slowly close.

But the wounds were quite severe. I can’t heal them completely.

"Eh?" (Lemo Kid)

"Hey, you. I heard you are quite skillful." (Naofumi)

"...I don't know." (Lemo Kid)

The Lemo slave hides its face as it says this.

It's a better reply than claiming to do something that you can't.

"If I taught you something, could you do it?" (Naofumi)

"... if you order it, I would have to do it. So... don't hit me..." (Lemo Kid)

The Lemo slave sounds like it is about to cry. It curls itself into a tighter ball. But as the rest of the cage is empty, it still stands out.

"Fufu..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia looks at me and laughs a bit. What is she on about?

"Should I prepare the slave seal?" (Slave Dealer)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

And so we apply the slave seal to the Lemo child. I am already used to the process.

"Ah, I just remembered. Hero of the Shield." (Slave Dealer)

"What? I won't cook you anything." (Naofumi)

"That's unfortunate, but there is something I must warn you about." (Slave Dealer)

"Hm?" (Naofumi)

"There seems to be a Mad Alchemist in this country who focuses on monster experimentation. Be careful.” (Slave Dealer) (TL:

O···nii..chan···Da···ddy···)

The Queen said the same thing. Is he really that dangerous?

“The Hero of the Shield’s monsters all seem to grow abnormally. You may get targeted soon.” (Slave Dealer)

“Yes, Yes. Got it.” (Naofumi)

I casually let it slide as I exit the Slave Dealer’s tent.

“I-it’s too bright···” (Lemo Kid)

The Lemo Slave follows me while keeping both of its hands on its eyes.

Oh right. This race was weak to light.

Raphtalia casts some magic, and dims the light around the slave’s face.

“Will this be alright?” (Raphtalia)

“Ah··· Yes.” (Lemo Kid)

Right, Raphtalia’s best magic was Light and Darkness. She could manipulate them to create illusions.

The Class Up let her use more types of magic, but that magic seems to remain her specialty.

A mole Beastman.

Perhaps we should get some sunglasses.

What sort of environment does this race usually live in?

But sunglasses···

As I walk through town, I see a stand selling spectacles.

"Hey." (Naofumi)

"How can I help you?" (Glasses Vendor)

I address the person selling the specs.

"Do you have any glasses with darkened lenses? I'm looking for a pair."

(Naofumi)

"We have some." (Glasses Vendor)

The Vendor takes out a sample and puts it on the table.

The lenses are definitely black... what are they made of? It doesn't seem to be glass... Is it some part of a monster?

It seems to be made of 'Black Fly Wings'. It's a monster I've yet to meet.

I wonder where they live.

I understand it probably isn't common. It's probably in a cave, or in the mountains or somewhere else difficult to reach by carriage.

"...That will be 80 Copper." (Glasses Vendor)

It's basic business to increase the price if someone shows interest.

"Hmm... I see. Then I guess we should give up for now." (Naofumi)

I give the glasses back to the vendor and head towards another merchant's shop.

He should know my face.

However I make sure to conceal myself with the cloak.

"Do you happen to have any Black Fly Wing?" (Naofumi)

"Wha?" (Merchant)

Upon hearing my voice, the merchant seems a bit startled.
Perhaps he figured out my identity. He puts on a suspicious smile.

“Ah, remember the time with the balloons?” (Naofumi)

(TL: It is implied that this merchant was the first victim of the balloons Naofumi kept under his robe)

“I-I won’t treat you like that again!” (Merchant)

“Anyways, do you have any?” (Naofumi)

“I have some. I have some, so please stop pressuring me.” (Merchant)

“That depends on your actions.” (Naofumi)

The merchant frantically brings out the requested goods.

Black Fly Wing

Quality: Poor

“It’s quality is poor. How does 10 Copper sound?” (Naofumi)

“...*sigh*. I understand.” (Merchant)

“But as compensation, I’ll give you some publicity. Raphtalia, take the kid and get a bit away.” (Naofumi)

“Understood.” (Raphtalia)

“Eh? Eh?” (Merchant)

Raphtalia takes the Lumo Child’s hand and leads it away.

“Eh!?” (Merchant)

The Merchant raises his voice.

I take off my robe, and he makes a startled sound.

"Thanks! You've really helped me a lot. I'll continue to be a regular customer." (Naofumi)

I say it in quite a monotonous voice.

But the volume of my voice, and the fact that my face was visible causes the surrounding people to stop in their tracks.

"Well then, See ya." (Naofumi)

"W-wait!" (Merchant)

I hear the sound of people crowding his shop as I walk away.

"The Hero of the Shield is your regular!?" (Crowd)

"If that man shopped here, I bet the items will bring luck! Please sell me something." (Another Person)

"U-um..." (Merchant)

The Merchant lets out a troubled voice as he deals with all the swarming customers.

Now then, I should find a safe place to put the robe back on.

(TL: If you haven't noticed yet, Lemo is an anagram of mole. If you can think of a better anagram of it, please present it. (The Japanese is Lu-Mo, rearranged to form Mo-Lu))

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 147 – Flag, Again

---

“What do you plan on doing with that?” (Raphtalia)

I meet up again with Raphtalia.

“I’m going to make some simple sunglasses.” (Naofumi)

“But weren’t there some being sold back there?” (Raphtalia)

Well I guess this world already has the concept. The history of sunglasses dated back quite far in my world.

I guess it’s the same for this one.

“You have to think economically in times like this.” (Naofumi)

It seems that buying a pre-made pair is quite expensive.

If I just buy a cheap frame, and cut the wing to size…

“And it’s done!” (Naofumi)

I put the simple sunglasses over to the Lemo child’s face.

“Umm…” (Lemo Kid)

The Lemo Child shows a troubled face upon receiving the glasses.

“Raphtalia.” (Naofumi)

“On it.” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia casts darkness magic on the Child’s face once again.

"Ah..." (Lemo Kid)

"Are you alright? It's not too bright, is it?" (Raphtalia)

"I'm fine..." (Lemo Kid)

The Lemo Child replies while fidgeting with its hands.

"Then shall we go?" (Raphtalia)

"Yes." (Lemo Kid)

To make sure it didn't run, we hold hands with the Lemo.

Well, I guess the slave seal will prevent that anyways.

"T-thank you." (Lemo Kid)

"Don't mind it. Where I live, there are plenty of brats like you." (Naofumi)

"Eh?" (Lemo Kid)

"This person here is the Hero of the Shield." (Raphtalia)

"EEEH!?" (Lemo Kid)

To only realize that now... I'm pretty sure the Slave Dealer already called me that a few times.

We continue to walk down an alley.

"Is that one of your kids, Hero of the Shield?" (???)

A passerby calls out to me.

"Hm?" (Naofumi)

It's the manager of the clothing shop.

It really has been a while since we last met. Not since I requested the clothing for Firo.

I know why, but she gives off an Otaku-like feeling.

And one that tilts in the direction of a Fujoshi.

"You have a Beastman with you this time, what have you been up to?"

(Tailor)

"You didn't hear from the old man at the weapons shop?" (Naofumi)

I take off the hood of the cloak and begin speaking.

"Ah, right. I vaguely recall hearing something about it." (Tailor)

"You really..." (Naofumi)

"I've been thinking about it for a while, but the Demi-Human who's always with you really is pretty. Won't you stop by to dress her up?" (Tailor)

"Expensive clothes are... a bit..." (Raphtalia)

Due to my influence, Raphtalia has learned to live quite economically. I think she would prefer some armor for efficiency's sake.

"That's such a waste. Clothing is essential if you want to woo men." (Tailor)

"I-is that true...?" (Raphtalia)

It seems this will take a while.

I don't care one bit about woman's fashion, so I kinda want to leave.

"...and that's why it's good. Is this child a Lemo? I think I'm getting some inspiration." (Tailor)

"Wa, wa..." (Lemo Kid)

The Clothing shop manager pulls out a sketchbook and starts doodling in it. As expected.

"Lately with the calamity, the town's mood has gone down. No one's buying clothing anymore." (Tailor)

She continues speaking as she draws.

"My store also sells armor, but its main purpose is clothing." (Tailor)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"To be honest, I've been losing interest in making clothes lately. I haven't been getting much inspiration lately." (Tailor)

I think that she said that the material for Firo's clothes was very good.

"You know the girl you brought before. Making clothes for her was really fun. Could you bring her by again?" (Tailor)

"That cost quite a bit..." (Naofumi)

And Firo seems to be happy with just one set.

We're not particularly in need of it, so I see no need to buy her any new clothes.

If we had that sort of extra money lying around, I would use it on more useful things.

Anyways, Firo is usually in her Monster form, so the dress isn't even used often.

"Hmm... The Hero of the Shield has quite a few inspirational people."
(Tailor)

It seems that her Lemo Race design series is completed.

On the page are a pair of overalls, a vest, and various other designs.

My slaves' clothes... mostly consist of second-hand armor. This gives the town an adventurer's guild-like atmosphere.

Buying them casual clothes will cost a bit...

Some cheap clothes from the Old Man is as much as we can currently afford. I guess I should ask.

"I can only offer furs and some peculiar materials, but do you want to work in my village?" (Naofumi)

Her expression lights up.

"Are you serious!?" (Tailor)

"Y-yeah." (Naofumi)

"Are there more cute and interesting kids like this one?" (Tailor)

"I don't know if they'll meet your specifications, but my village has plenty of Demi-Human slaves."

"A-a-are there also male slaves there?"

"Of course." (Naofumi)

"Are you sure!?" (Tailor)

She seems to be extremely excited.

I have a bad feeling about this.

"I am a warrior on a quest for new inspiration. Please allow me to trouble you for a while." (Tailor)

W-wait...

The thing that hooked her seems to be the fact that there were male slaves...

This is bad. The people from my world who were of a similar personality to her, would think of 'that' when they heard the words 'Male Slaves'. (TL: Most likely BL)

My decision may have been rash.

"T-then stop by to check the place out some time." (Naofumi)

"Yes! Of Course!" (Tailor)

And somehow the conversation was over.

...

After that, we parted ways with the clothing shop owner, and kept walking, when...

Kyurururururu...

A sound comes from the Lemo Slave's stomach. The child begins acting embarrassed.

"... I guess we should stop somewhere to eat." (Naofumi)

"Yeah, we should" (Raphtalia)

"What does this one's race eat? Is it fine to feed it like the other Demi-Humans? Should I give it worms?"

If it's worms, then preparing food will be difficult.

I have the Dunes in the village, but those aren't food.

If it is necessary, I will cook the, but if I do, it will be troublesome.

Taniko would shout at me.

"Um...well..." (Lemo Kid)

The Lemo Child tries to speak up.

"I went ...from home... a few times... It seems we can eat normal food."
(Lemo Kid)

"I see, then should we stop by a food stall?" (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama won't cook?" (Raphtalia)

"We've come all the way to the Castle Town, and you still want me to cook?
The smell will draw that person to us."(Naofumi)

I have a classrooms-worth of hungry children here. Even if I cook on the River Bank, I think Firo will notice and bring them there.

"Isn't that fine?" (Raphtalia)

"Even if you're fine with it, I will find it a pain." (Naofumi)

Recently, I've been trying to keep my cooking duty to a minimum.
There's been a slave who came to me, wanting to improve her cooking skill.

"Eh-... I wanted to eat Shield Nii-chan's cooking." (Kiel)

Is what most of the kids said.

It was quite difficult to encourage her to cook again after that.

"Anyways. Today, we are eating out." (Naofumi)

"I understand..." (Raphtalia)

And so we head back towards the market.

The merchant's shop has a long line in front of it. And the merchant is happily selling his goods for many times the normal price. I applaud his skills.

Now then, where should we eat?

As I look for restaurants, I notice the place I first took Raphtalia to eat.

"Will here be fine?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Raphtalia)

"..." (Lumo Kid)

I hold the Lumo Slaves hand as we enter the building.

"Welc...ome" (Waiter)

The person who greets us frowns upon seeing me with a cloak covering my body.

"Sir. Serving a person suspicious person accompanied by a Demi-Human is a bit..." (Waiter)

"... If you have such a rule, then hang it on the front door." (Naofumi)

"B-but still..." (Host)

Fumu... the host looks at the dirty Lemo Kid accompanying us, but doesn't remark on it.

This reminds me of when I once brought Raphtalia here when she was still small. No one said anything at that time.

I guess I am being held up because Beastmen are feared more than other Demi-Humans.

There are plenty of people who wear cloaks, though many of them do so for suspicious reasons.

Most restaurants here should understand that. In my world most restaurants forbid the admittance of animals for sanitary reasons.

However in this world, Beastmen are supposed to be treated as Bonafide human beings.

But I guess the hatred of this country is quite deeply seated. There's no choice.

I take off the cloak.

"Is this fine? There's no suspicious person anymore. Will you still deny food to a Demi-Human and a Beastman?" (Naofumi)

"Ah...no... I-I understand." (Waiter)

With an amazed expression, the waiter leads us to a seat.

The Lemo slave fidgets as its eyes wander all over the room.

"This reminds me of the old Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

"Please don't bring up that time." (Raphtalia)

"Do you want another Kid's set lunch?" (Naofumi)

"I don't need one!" (Raphtalia)

The Lemo slave can't seem to calm down. Its gaze begins to drift to its feet.

"Is there anything you'd like to eat?" (Naofumi)

"Well..." (Lemo Kid)

The kid looks at the menu and gives a bitter face.

"I can't read..." (Lemo Kid)

"Then should we order something for you?" (Naofumi)

"Please..." (Lemo Kid)

I raise my hand and call our server.

“One Daily Special and two Kids se-” (Naofumi)

“Two Daily Specials and one Kid’s set lunch.” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia interrupts me before I can finish.

“What’s wrong?” (Naofumi)

“Naofumi-sama, you’re mistaken. You still think I want that set, don’t you?”
(Raphtalia)

“Even though you say that, you still kinda want it, right? It’s something the other villagers would happily eat.” (Naofumi)

The last time she ate it, Raphtalia had carefully taken out and saved the flag.

“It’s fine. Please don’t treat me like a child.” (Raphtalia)

Is she at a delicate age? Even though her body has gotten big, her mind should still be a child.

“I-is that everything?” (Waiter)

“Yeah, I’ll leave it to you.” (Naofumi)

The waiter disappears into the back of the store.

I can faintly hear him saying something about the Hero of the Shield visiting.
After a while, the food arrives.

“Thank you for waiting. Here are your Daily Specials and Kid’s set lunch.”
(Waiter)

The Kid’s set lunch is more flashy than usual. There are two flags in the rice.

“...It’s showier than it was last time we were here.” (Naofumi)

They’re definitely showing off.

Reputation is amazing... did the other heroes get this sort of treatment before as well?

Showing my face is inconvenient, but I guess I can get some things out of it.

“U-um...” (Lemo Kid)

I can hear the Lemo Slave swallowing its saliva.

“It’s fine, you can eat.” (Naofumi)

“Is it really okay?” (Lemo Kid)

“Yeah.” (Naofumi)

“You won’t drop the dish and make me eat off the floor?” (Lemo Kid)

“... Where the hell did you learn that? That’s a waste of food.” (Naofumi)

So this one’s previous master made it eat off the ground.

“It’s fine, just eat however you like.” (Naofumi)

It was like this with Raphtalia as well.

“You can eat when you want.” (Raphtalia)

“Y-yes...” (Lemo Kid)

Raphtalia makes this interaction much easier.

The Lemo Child timidly begins eating the Kid’s set lunch.

Its using its hands. I guess it never really learned manners.

But Manner is something you can always learn later.

...Right now the slaves take food from a single dish in the center of the table.

It's like eating with a large family.

I think back to around the time I got here. Back then I couldn't taste anything. I thought that as long it was cheap, any food would do.

I look out the store's window.

The Spirit Turtle's shell looms high over the city... There are still more battles to come.

"Thank you very much." (Lemo Kid)

The Lemo Race slave begins stuffing its cheeks with the Kid's set lunch in tears.

"If you think that, then eat it properly." (Naofumi)

If you leave any, I may get angry.

"But I won't force you to eat anything your race cannot eat." (Naofumi)

I hope there isn't too much of a difference in constitution.

"Yes" (Lemo Kid)

Like a mother, Raphtalia wipes the Lumo Child's mouth and begins feeding it.

It's quite a peaceful scene.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 148 – Failed Creation

---

“Ah!”

When I was feeding the kid’s lunch to the new Lemo slave, a loud voice could be heard from outside the shop.

“Big bro’s eating!” (kiel)

When I looked, Kiel was pointing at me from outside the shop while she entered.

“No fair, that’s sneaky! I also wanna eat” (kiel)

“You’re only saying that because you see the skewer in my hand” (naofumi)

I had given everyone pocket money and free time to celebrate their long-awaited Class Up.

As long as they have money, they should be able eat here.

Nevertheless, they shouldn’t be asking me for skewers from the food stall after they’ve eaten.

“Isn’t it okay~” (kiel)

“Kiel-chan, stop speaking so selfishly” (raphtalia)

"Don't add 'chan' to my name!" (kiel)

It's this dialogue again. How troubling.

"Hm? Who's this kid?" (kiel)

"Eeep····." (mole slave)

Startled, the Lemo slave curled into a ball.

It's not that he's timid but···. he's afraid of strangers.

"He's a new slave" (naofumi)

"I see, Shield-niichan may say scary things but he's rather indulgent so its alright" (kiel)

"You·····" (naofumi)

To say this kind of thing about someone whilst in front of the person himself.

"What's your name?" (kiel)

"····Imia Lucullan Lisella Tereti Quariz" (mole slave -> imia)

Such a long name! It's hard to remember.

"So Imia then. You a boy?" (kiel)

“No…” (imia)

Another girl. And I thought she was a boy.

It’s getting a bit much.

“You can’t get spoilt though. Me and Raphtalia-chan won’t allow it” (kiel)

“O-okay” (imia)

“The place we’ll be going to is somewhere where if you work hard, you’ll be able to see your improvement, but only for the part you worked on, so let’s work hard together” (kiel)

Kiel explained clumsily and smiled at Imia.

It’s a good development.

“And so, Niichan. Give me some too” (kiel)

“Nope” (naofumi)

In the end it was that. She was just making fun of me, this damn brat.

“What happened to the other guys” (naofumi)

Ever since I first gave food to Kiel to eat, everytime she finds me I end up having to feed her. Give me a break.

“They went shopping with the pocket money Niichan gave them. For souvenirs and stuff” (kiel)

Really, just what am I even doing.

I should be managing my land, but instead it feels like I’ve just become the big brother who looks after everyone.

“Well, we’ll be meeting up at the castle town’s gates. Don’t be late whatsoever” (naofumi)

“I already know that” (kiel)

Kiel left, as expected of someone who wasn’t usually treated. As she was going, she said this.

“Oh right, the friend Firo brought along is a bit prideful but she’s interesting!” (kiel)

Melty…she’s playing around incognito again.

I wonder what’s become of the education in this country.

Imia’s also in a good mood and has become cheerful.

It’s similar to how Raphtalia was in the past.

“For the time being, let’s go to the weapon store after we finish eating”
(naofumi)

“Yes” (imia)

*munch munch* Imia frantically devoured her Kid’s Lunch.

It seems like she would get along with Firo, with the way she’s eating.

After we finished our meal at the restaurant, we made an appearance at the weapon store.

“Oh, well isn’t it the young laddie. It’s been a while” (oyaji) [T/N: He calls him An-chan which is derived from Aniki/Nii-chan]

“It’s been around two weeks” (naofumi)

“It’s around that long” (oyaji)

“Ah……it’s about the shields I requested last time but……the money is still…….” (naofumi)

It’s very hard to say. That I don’t have money so I’ll just be copying.

“Ooh, I had also wanted to talk to you about that” (oyaji)

The old man also seems to have trouble talking. The atmosphere is oppressing.

"It's not finished yet" (oyaji)

"I see...then it's fine" (naofumi)

"I'll be frank. I've gotten the materials from the country, but they all have the characteristic of being resilient" (oyaji)

"Ho..."

"If I was to make them into weapons, adding enchantments or special options would be easy and because the foundation is solid, it could become a weapon just by shaving it into shape" (oyaji)

Hmm...is it the manufacturing part that's difficult...?

I haven't really looked at the other weapon stores so I don't really understand, but this one seems to have a bit of an appeal to it.

I remember that the spears and swords were quite conspicuous.

There was a blade that looked like turtle shell. So that was shaped by shaving.

"However, I also wonder if that can even be called a weapon. There's no need for skills. In the worst case, a clumsily hammered item could still end up on the market" (oyaji)

"Are you that fussed about it" (naofumi)

“Well, it would be affected by the maker’s skills so I’m fine with just wondering. That can’t really be said for making armour” (oyaji)

“Is that so?” (naofumi)

“Yes. Anyhow, this material seems to have bad affinity with the Air Wake feature. It has no effect” (oyaji) [T/N: Air Wake was originally translated as Air Walk in the early chapters but the pronunciation is 'ea' (air) 'ueiku' (wake)]

The Air Wake feature. If I’m not mistaken, it’s supposed to make heavy armour lighter.

This is due to a special effect that my shield has. Gravity Field comes to mind.

This special effect that uses a gravitational field. It has a high probability of developing in shields in the Spirit Turtle Series and it seems to have the power to somehow cause floating objects to fall.

If that was enhanced by the shield’s effect then even Firo would say it’s hard to jump around.

I nod at the fact that if the Spirit Turtle materials have even just a tiny bit of this effect then it’s affinity with the Air Wake feature would be bad.

“And these materials are intrinsically heavy, I can improvise something for a sword or spear if they were only being used as a blade but armour is different” (oyaji)

The Spirit Turtle’s shell itself can’t help but to repel attacks……however it’s heavy.

“There’s the concept of making it thinner but, you know…… the fundamental defensive power would diminish” (oyaji)

“I see” (naofumi)

It’s a difficult material. In my opinion it’s not perfected yet.

“I’ve made two prototypes. Have a look” (oyaji)

The old man guided me to the interior of the shop and I looked at his prototypes.

“Is this it?” (naofumi)

“Yeah” (oyaji)

“Is it alright if I hold it?” (naofumi)

“Go ahead” (oyaji)

One was an ordinary shield made from the spirit turtle's shell, the problem was it was quite big and bulky.

I thought I'd try to carry it to test it, but it was too heavy. I should've had the strength to stop the spirit turtle's foot but...was that simply the miraculous power of the shield?

It's not that I couldn't pick it up, but it would be hard to fight with this.

I can't wield it.

Just putting it down caused a *thud* sound.

And, there was a major flaw.

It didn't activate Weapon Copy.

In other words, this wasn't treated as a shield. The criteria was hard to understand but, it may appear as a...wall.

However, there was a tiny reaction so I feel like it's a delicate line.

"How is it?" (oyaji)

"Looks like it isn't a shield" (naofumi)

"Ah, it's a total failure" (oyaji)

"The other one?" (naofumi)

“This is it” (oyaji)

And what he gave me was a thin, semi-transparent shield made from the turtle shell. It’s appearance was really beautiful.

I try hold it for the time being. Its weight is not to the extent of being unable to hold it. It seems good to wield.

However…….huh? This one is more shield-like but there’s no reaction.

“Ah as I expected, even the young laddie thinks there’s a problem” (oyaji)

“What’s the meaning of this?” (naofumi)

“For this shield, I focused on making it as light as possible. In exchange for that, there’s barely any defensive power. It’d break in one shot” (oyaji)

……Wow. A disposable. Or should I say this is already…….

“Isn’t this a plate?” (naofumi)

“Even if you say that, I can’t refute it. When I first made it, I saw something similar shown in the souvenir shop and I wanted to cry” (oyaji)

“It’s also heavier than it looks” (naofumi)

“That’s right, isn’t it. It’s a strong property of these materials” (oyaji)

“Both extremes are too much, don’t you have any that are more of a compromise?” (naofumi)

“That’s just it though. Somehow if it exceeds a certain thickness, the weight won’t change” (oyaji)

“Eh?” (naofumi)

“If I made that plate just a bit thicker, its weight would have been the same. Its weight is proportional to its size. Having said that, I wanted to try making a smaller shield but then your forearm would be heavy” (oyaji)

…….It’s hard to handle.

Do the ingredients themselves emit gravity.

“How difficult” (naofumi)

“Yeah, but my intuition is telling me I should be able to make something good. So just wait with high expectations, young laddie” (oyaji)

“……I get it. Oh right, this is about the shield but”

I explained to the old man regarding the necessary items for strengthening the Spirit Turtle materials. Perhaps there might be something helpful.

“I see…that’s an interesting story, it might be better than making it with only those materials” (oyaji)

“Actually I will receive them in segments so I can deliver some afterwards”

“Alright. I’ll also try a variety of things” (oyaji)

And, while saying that, the two of us returned from the interior of the store.

Raphtalia and Imia were waiting near the entrance.

“Oh right, it looks like you brought a Beastman slave with you” (oyaji)

“Yeah, it seems this kid is from a skilful race so I bought her” (naofumi)

“Oh, so she’s the one who’s going to become my apprentice”

“I haven’t thought about that yet. I’ll bring someone after I’ve gathered and raised them some more” (naofumi)

“I see. I’m only waiting because it’s you” (oyaji)

“It’ll be very soon. Please wait a little” (naofumi)

“I’m strict though” (oyaji)

“Work them hard, but please don’t discriminate” (naofumi)

“I won’t do that sort of thing” (oyaji)

It seems he wasn't originally born in this country and I don't want to see the old man discriminating or anything.

Therefore it was a good reply.

"It's because beastmen are frightening as enemies but when they're allies they're very reliable. If it's that kid, I'd recommend a rapier" (oyaji)

"Speaking of which, have you finished the weapon meant for Rishia?"
(naofumi)

"Yeah, the improved weapon made with the money I received from the country. It's finished" (oyaji)

The old man took out a sword from underneath the counter.

Pekkle Rapier Quality: Good

Bestowed Effect: Agility UP Magic UP Blood Clean Grease

Compared to Raphtalia's sword, the bestowed effects are quite low.

Well, it was originally a spear so it seems to have degraded from the manufacturing.

"Then I'll be taking it" (naofumi)

"Alright. Please come back whenever you like" (oyaji)

"I'd like to come when I have money. I can't be spoiled forever" (naofumi)

"Hahaha, whenever you have that attitude it makes me want to work harder" (oyaji)

The old man replied in good humour.

He can really make me relieved with his words.

"And it's also thanks to your patronage that I can be so prosperous" (oyaji)

"Ah, so that influence is showing" (naofumi)

"Of course. It's to the extent where I'm so busy that it's difficult" (oyaji)

The equipment hanging in the store have been selling out considerably.

It feels as if the production side isn't fast enough.

"For a while, I've been saved by the seclusion for my manufacturing" (oyaji)

"It sounds quite envious" (naofumi)

"Come to think of it, the pharmacy has been taken away forcibly by the magic shop. Did you do something?"

"Is that so...so the magic shop succeeded then" (naofumi)

That stubborn old guy has been fished out nicely.

With this, the slaves can be taught pharmaceuticals.

"I heard something I didn't want to hear...." (oyaji)

"Next is....." (naofumi)

"Laddie. Please stop your recruiting" (oyaji)

"Hahaha" (naofumi)

"Stop hiding behind your smile" (oyaji)

I wish that the old man would also come to my land.

When I send a look saying that, he bluntly avoids my glance by turning away.

"Um... what are they talking about?" (imia)

"Shh....They're in the middle of an important discussion. Let's just wait for them" (raphtalia)

"R-right..." (imia)

Raphtalia and Imia had heard the chat between the old man and me.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 149 – Alchemist

---

I finished chatting with the old man and headed down to the entrance of the castle town since it was close to the meeting time.

By the time we made our way to the entrance, Firo and the slaves had gathered.

“Welcome back~” (slaves)

“I’m back, is everyone here?” (naofumi)

I count just in case.

Yep. The whole group has gathered.

“Hey Master~” (firo)

“What’s up?” (naofumi)

Firo approached with a question.

Melty is…not here.

“What’s that yummy-looking kid next to you?” (firo)

“Eep!?” (imia)

Imia let out a frightened squeak.

Firo’s humanoid form was of similar height but…to say she looks yummy, did Firo really think that she could eat her.

Nevertheless, the slaves who knew her real form took a few steps away from Firo and whispered together.

"So Firo-chan is really……" (anon slave)

"That's right" (anon slave)

"Is she gluttonous or…." (anon slave)

Firo looked around uneasily, did that kid even notice her own slip up.

"Wh-what? No~!" (firo)

Hm, I got to see an ostracised, flustered Firo which was rare.

"You know Firo……this child may look a little different from us but she's still part-human" (raphtalia)

"And of all the things to say, you had to say she was yummy-looking……so you finally reveal your true character" (naofumi)

"Fuee!?" (firo)

Firo opened her eyes wide and sniffed Imia's scent.

"No~! Don't avoid Firo!" (firo)

I can easily picture the motion of Firo, in her monster form, attacking Imia like an owl would eat a mouse.

This is probably what everyone here is imagining.

"I won't eat you! I won't eat you so don't be afraid!" (firo)

Firo tried frantically to persuade her but Imia's fear didn't go away.

Imia clung to me with extreme fright.

It's good that she was attached to me but……what's with this interaction.

“Master, help me!” (firo)

“Even if you say that……It's good as a threat so won't you become an embodiment of fear?” (naofumi)

“NOOOOooooo!” (firo)

Ah, she's so loud.

“I'm joking. Imia, you don't have to be so afraid of her. Firo is a nice kid who likes playing with children. She might look like a little girl now but her true form is…….”

……She's definitely not a normal Philorial……how should I describe it?

“H-her true form?” (imia)

Imia asked, frightened more than before.

“Naofumi-sama, if you just stop there, her fear will escalate” (raphtalia)

“Nooo!” (firo)

Firo let out an even louder cry.

“My bad. I was thinking of how best to explain it……er, this guy is something known as a holy bird in this country so it's alright” (naofumi)

Imia looked towards Firo while trembling anxiously.

Firo smiled sweetly.

However, that just seemed to backfire and Imia hid behind my back.

“Master~!” (firo)

“There’s no other way to raise her confidence but to show sincerity. Work hard” (naofumi)

“Aww…. I get it” (firo)

Somehow this incident became quite complicated. It seems that Firo is reluctant to be rejected by her friends.

Even though it was due to her own carelessness……

“From now on don’t go recklessly saying that someone looks delicious”
(naofumi)

“Yeah…….” (firo)

Firo learnt something today. Or I should say, just the fact that she’s choosing friendship over her appetite means she’s grown a bit.

“And, we went off topic. Didn’t you guys hear about this from Kiel?”
(naofumi)

“I thought it’d surprise them so I kept silent” (kiel)

Jeez……that Kiel.

“Well, we’ll do a self introduction” (naofumi)

I shifted the frightened Imia out of hiding.

"This child will be coming home with us from now on. Come on, introduce yourself" (naofumi)

Imia's demeanour was a mix of shyness, fear and embarrassment but she squeezed out a few words while constantly looking up and down.

"I'm Imia Lucullan Lisella Tereti Quariz. Please treat me well" (imia)

" "Such a long name!" " (slaves)

Ah, of course everyone thought that. Raphtalia and Kiel didn't react so I had thought it was normal.

"Then again, you are a girl. Nice to meet you Imia-chan" (anon slave)

"Right..." (imia)

Good. It seems she's quick to open her heart.

"We'll be returning to the village now. You guys haven't forgotten anything, right?" (naofumi)

"All good" (anon slave)

"Yes" (anon slave)

"Yeah" (anon slave)

After I checked everyone, we walked to the carriage.

And then, Firo changed into her monster form in order to pull the carriage.

“Wah!” (imia)

Imia let out her voice in surprise.

“Th-this is?” (imia)

“That’s right. This is Firo’s monster form. It’s hard to explain, right”
(naofumi)

“Yeah….” (imia)

Firo turned towards Imia and smiled. Imia timidly stretched out her hand.
“And just like that her mouth will open and……SNAP!” (anon slave)

One of the slaves tried to intimidate Imia.
Imia anxiously retracted her arm in a hurry.

“Aww~….” (firo)

A very dissatisfied Firo glared at the slave who had been doing the teasing.
Well, she was the one that had been made fun of……..
Firo is, how should I say it, usually the one causing problems so this is a little unusual.
Well, she is an omnivore so she can’t help eating everything.

This wasn’t the case when Firo was a child but now that she’s grown she seems like she will eat anything or was it just my imagination?
… Ah, is it because I used her to threaten people.

"For now, we'll get on the carriage and take it easy" (naofumi)

"If you get motion sickness, say so properly okay" (raphtalia)

"Ok" (anon slave)

There was no need to hurry so we'll go at a reasonable speed.

I ensured all the slaves had boarded and then instructed Firo to depart.

"Ah, Master" (firo)

"What is is?" (naofumi)

"Melly-chan will be coming to play sometime in the near future" (firo)

"I see" (naofumi)

So Melty will be coming to the village, just the thought of that loud, chatty girl coming makes my head hurt.

Well, she'll be quiet when playing with Firo so it's fine.

The next day.

After one night of camping, we arrived at the village. We changed the pace a little because last time Firo only slept when we arrived.

"Ah, Shield-niichan. Welcome back" (taniko)

Taniko came to greet us. How rare.

That she would approach me even though we're often conflicting when it comes to monsters.

"Nii-chan, some outsider came and was being very insistent, which was troubling. Please help!" (taniko)

“Huh?” (naofumi)

Taniko knocked on the door of the building the soldiers were lodging at and called for the female knight.

The female knight also seems a bit troubled.

“Just wait, you can keep a lookout without being so impatient” (female knight)

“But she seemed like she would run away quite a few times!” (taniko)

“It is indeed dangerous but, we haven’t got an arrest warrant yet. We can’t arrest her unreasonably and we ought to listen to the lord’s opinion”
(female knight)

“What’s the matter?” (naofumi)

“An unpleasant, a little eccentric visitor came. She wanted a meeting with Iwatani-dono post-haste” (female knight)

“Sigh……just who was she?” (naofumi)

“An alchemist who caused lots of problems in Faubley” (female knight)

[T/N: Pronounced Fo-burei. Seems to be a town/place? I'm accepting alternate name suggestions]

…….Come again?

The one whom the queen and the slave merchant had warned me about has already come to my village?

“She looked at the monsters that Iwatani-dono looks after many times, and by all means wanted to examine——” (female knight)

“Oh~…….So this is the rumoured holy bird” (???)

Really, before I knew it, an unknown woman came and probed Firo's body thoroughly.

"Master~!" (firo)

Firo let out a shriek.

"Oh, so she understands human language, this child seems to be of the legendary Philorial Queen species variant that I heard about" (???)

Her hair colour was platinum blonde, she had long hair and tanned skin. She seems human based on her appearance.

She seems to be in her mid-twenties.

What stood out stood out, what didn't didn't, a standard expression from my world would be that she gave the impression of a sultry young lady in a white coat.

"Her plumage is thick. I wonder how her internal organs are?" (???)

A fanatical alchemist? forcibly opened Firo's mouth and grasped her tongue. Firo resisted but she was dealt with it easily, the Herculean Firo was repressed as easily as taking candy from a baby. [T/N: Naofumi is not sure if she is an alchemist, hence the question mark]

And she even put her head inside her mouth.....

"Unh!" (firo)

A struggling Firo suddenly spit the alchemist? out.

"It's no good if she struggles. I suppose it can't be helped" (???)

Just before she fell, she pulled a syringe out of nowhere and threw it at Firo. Firo wasn't able to avoid it and with a *pop* the needle stuck in her mouth. What a feat.

"Funya……" (firo)

Firo collapsed with a thud.

"I-I can't summon any strength……" (firo)

"H-hey……" (naofumi)

"Just wait a minute. I'm currently in the middle of an examination" (???)

"No, if you do these kinds of thing at your convenience, I, the owner will be troubled" (naofumi)

"Oh dear……" (???)

The alchemist? changed her interest after hearing my words.

"Might you be the Hero of the Shield-sama?" (???)

"T-that's right but……. you are?" (naofumi)

"Me? I am Ratotil Anthreya. My friends call me Rato" (??? → rato) [T/N: Pronounced Ratotiru Ansureia. Any other name suggestions?]

"I-I see. My name is Naofumi Iwatani, Naofumi is my first name" (naofumi)

"So it's Naofumi-san. Nice to meet you" (rato)

Rato replied, pinning the limp Firo with her gaze.

“And so, will you let me examine this child?” (rato)

She took the opportunity to request my permission.

Judging from her behaviour, she probably wouldn't understand if I said no.
But Firo's ecology was still full of mysteries.

“Ma-master! No~!” (firo)

Hmm···· I feel like if I acknowledge it then the enigma that was Firo could be clarified but I also feel that it would heavily burden Firo in compensation.

“Wow, she took down that Firo-chan so easily” (anon slave)

“Isn't it amazing. If it had worked properly, the drug I used should have caused her to lose consciousness and yet she's still aware and able to talk”
(rato)

“So you used that kind of drug” (naofumi)

“It couldn't be helped. If she continued to struggle, it would have done more harm than good” (rato)

“Sigh···· first of all, I'll have to refuse” (naofumi)

“Oh, too bad” (rato)

“Ungh····” (firo)

Firo recovered and slowly got to her feet.

“My my, it seems that if I don't use a stronger drug it will be impossible to examine her” (rato)

"Noo!" (firo)

Firo ran away.

She won't be returning for a while.

"So you're the one who wanted a meeting with me" (naofumi)

"That's right" (rato)

"What did you want?" (naofumi)

"To be able to have a look at a variety of things. For example, a certain village's plant or the monsters in this village" (rato)

"Sigh..." (naofumi)

"You see, this really attracted my attention. I'd really like to fiddle around with some of them" (rato)

"To let you fiddle around, you say..." (naofumi)

Just what did this fellow intend to do?

It looks like she even knows the origin of the Bioplant, so it should probably be fine to just let her do some research.

Was she an alchemist? At the least, she can be called a specialist. She might be pretty smart.

To be honest, I wasn't very good at studying so I'm aware that I'm not good with this type.

Even if that's the case, I couldn't just let it go.

"I also heard rumours about you. That you're an alchemist who caused a lot of problems in Faubley" (naofumi)

“Problems? That’s not right. They’re just saying that because they’re too incompetent to understand my research. And so they fabricated some lies and exaggerated some mistakes to turn it into something big” (rato)

“Yeah yeah” (naofumi)

She said this like some mad scientist character. There’s no merit in looking after someone who’d follow that role too well.

Well, she took down Firo easily enough so that ability might deserve some appreciation.

She might have some war potential.

“Those guys, they called my monster research ‘an act that would even scare the gods’ and banished me of all things. And by gods, they were referring to the Four Sage Heroes and the Seven Star Heroes, I think?”
(rato)

“And so, did you come to approve of the current Four Sage Heroes yourself?” (naofumi)

“No. Their cries about the heroes were making me sick. They’re nothing but a hindrance!” (rato)

“…Who do you think you’re talking about. Why did you come here then”
(naofumi)

“I came to examine the monster that was the Spirit Turtle. Incidentally, I also took the opportunity to visit this place” (rato)

“Go off to Melromarc’s castle” (naofumi)

“That’s good too. My interest has already moved on” (rato)

Rato stuck out her hand enthusiastically, intending to grasp mine.

I replied while avoiding that hand.

"Don't touch me. I hate women like you" (naofumi)

"I see, then I won't touch you so let me play with the monsters" (rato)

"You can't!" (taniko)

Taniko rejected her arbitrarily.

If it concerns monsters then she'll charge unexpectedly, this kid.

"Wait, wait……First I want to hear your objective" (naofumi)

It might be good to recruit her depending on the situation.

She is a monster specialist. There'll be many uses for her.

I might be expecting too much of her but she might be able to take care of the modifying of the Bioplant and monsters in my place.

Well, that also depends on her motive.

If she's thinking stupid things such as seeking revenge on the country or trying to destroy the world, I'll drive her out without hesitation.

"My aim? It's to create powerful monsters of course" (alchemist)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 150 – Discrimination Even In Hospitality

---

“I see…” (Naofumi)

Making a strong monster.

Quite a simple and childish desire.

This world has a game-like modification system, so I can see where she is finding her enjoyment.

But I must admit that it is quite rude to experiment on living organisms.

“For that goal, I travelled the land and studied various monsters. I have learned and assimilated various sciences and magics. But those people… They said something about going against god’s creations and creating works of evil. They tried to kill my creations, it was quite troublesome.”

(Rat)

“So… to summarize, you’re learning how to strengthen monsters through alchemy. Can I think of you as a sort of monster tamer?” (Naofumi)

“Well… Close enough.” (Rat)

I expected her to deny it, but she seems to be fine with being referred to as such.

At first, I thought she was crazy, but it seems that she is just earnestly focused on a goal.

Is she the type of person that gets overly enthusiastic when it comes to research?

“Can I ask a simple question? Oh, Female knight, please listen as well.”
(Naofumi)

“Me too?” (Female Knight)

Female Knight, who had drawn her sword ready to attack, looks confused. Firo had recovered from the medicine and ran away. Raphtalia is also waiting with sword drawn.

As a matter of fact, Firo is the strongest one among us.

Because Rat was able to take her out without a problem, it's no mystery why everyone is wary.

Because of the Shield and my poison resistance, my guard isn't too high. Perhaps I should be more careful next time.

"There's one thing that has been bothering me for a while." (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Rat)

"Well... Strong Monsters... Are you able to take my already special monsters, and increase their powers even further? For example, could you fuse a Caterpilland and a Dune?" (Naofumi)

"It's outlawed by some sections of the Church. They only allow for the pure breeding of monsters." (Rat)

"Then, Rat, your research is..." (Naofumi)

"Yes, some may consider it illegal." (Rat)

...In many games I've played, the fusion of monsters happens on a daily basis.

Are the monster users of this world just plain breeders? Instead of aiming to make strong monsters, they just try to increase their numbers for labor purposes.

...wait, by her phrasing, does that mean that you can crossbreed monsters?

"Is it possible to get an egg with the properties of multiple monsters?" (Naofumi)

"Of course it is possible. It's like with Demi-Humans. If a Fox and Wolf

Demi-Human have kids, it will be a mixed breed. Monsters within similar categories can breed to make children sharing the attributes of both monsters. My research happens to deal with..." (Rat)

"No, I don't really care about that." (Naofumi)

I had never thought about what happens when different races of Demi-Humans mix.

But, I have heard that it is possible for a human and a Demi-Human to have kids.

So that logic also applies to monsters?

... How the hell does the ecology of this world function?

"So basically, what you are trying to accomplish is?" (Naofumi)

"I want to research what makes monsters strong, make new types of powerful life-forms, and add to your fighting force." (Rat)

Rat is extending her hand towards me. For some reason, Taniko's eyes are sparkling as well.

Taniko always loved monsters. Does she approve of Rat's research?

"Let her join." (Taniko)

"Who decided that monsters had to be evil entities that threatened mankind? I want to correct that attitude. Certainly, we can kill monsters and increase our own powers, but then doesn't that make monsters killing humans for power the exact same thing?" (Rat)

"Is that so?" (Naofumi)

"Murder, killing other humans, will also give you EXP, but it is not practiced because it goes against moral standards." (Rat)

Hmm... I see.

It's quite a black world here, isn't it.

"Everyone in this world was made equally, so why are monsters the evil ones? That's because they are weak." (Rat)

Well she may be a bit eccentric, but at least she speaks with conviction. But, there is a high possibility that she is only saying things that will further her cause.

"Look at Filo Rials, they're way too famous. Their Queens feast on the flesh of Dragons. They're called the holy messengers of God even though they're monsters like all the rest. I want to make a monster that gets a public reputation as good as that. A monster that will be able to help people, and be helped by them." (Rat)

I can't deny it. Firo did eat a bit of dragon meat, though it was rotting. I don't think an average Filo Rial can get that strong... But I guess that their legends earn them quite a bit of respect. Perhaps the legends are of monsters like Fitoria. That one is somehow even stronger than Firo.

"It's not like I don't see where you're coming from." (Naofumi)

I've played plenty of games which involved rearing monsters to be strong. All this person is doing is taking something that would be the common sense of another world, and trying to apply it to this one. Though she may be lying.

"So you wish to study the monsters of this village to aid your research?"

(Naofumi)

"Yes." (Rat)

"I hate liars more than all else. If you want to do such work in this village, then to prevent lies I will have to make you one of my slaves. Will you do it even with those conditions?" (Naofumi)

"Sure. If that's all I have to do, then I'll happily throw away my human dignity." (Rat)

She accepted it way too readily.

And... She worded it in quite badly.

It's not like I make my slaves sacrifice their dignity or anything

"If that's what I must do to advance my research, then I won't mind." (Rat)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

If I let her stay, then my monsters may be able to get stronger.

It's not a bad prospect.

If I place a slave seal on her, then I can act quickly if problems begin to surface down the road.

"I work my monsters hard, you know. Like slaves. You'll be treated no different." (Naofumi)

"There are Human and Demi-Human slaves as well. I see no need to give them preferential treatment out of pity." (Rat)

Mu... Preferential treatment is also technically discrimination.

Overseas, I believe that woman began objecting to receiving such treatment, calling it discrimination as well.

Some Japanese trains even have Women-only railcars as well. Quite a few people of all genders protest against them. (TL: Instituted quite recently- in the last 15 years- to prevent grope and molestation, they still exist during late night hours.)

It might be close to that.

"I don't like it when people protect one life-form. Filo Rials have more intelligence than other monsters, but why does that mean they have to make a law that prevents the consumption of them? And yet when a dragon appears it is immediately ordered to be slain?" (Rat)

"..." (Naofumi)

"I won't tell you not to use monsters. In fact, I support you. I hate people only thinking of monsters as something to be destroyed. Monsters are alive as well, and they can help combat the wave. By my theory, monsters are not born of the wave. They can make for strong weapons. Just like the heroes. Whether for good or bad, I hate discrimination. Everyone in this world can be helpful to everything else in it." (Rat)

Taniko is now glaring at Rat with inflated cheeks.

I don't know what part of Rat's ideology ticked her off, though.

"I understand your objective. You want to make my monsters an effective fighting force for the upcoming waves." (Naofumi)

"Yeah! But that damn Seven Star Hero! I was almost cut down for Heresy!" (Rat)

"Well then hypothetically..." (Naofumi)

I hand a Bioplant seed to Rat.

"This seed is definitely a plant, but if modified incorrectly it will become a monster. If handled properly, however, it can make abundant food, and medicine. What does this tell you?" (Naofumi)

"What are you talking about? That has nothing to do with my research. Anyways, hand it over. I tried working with seeds before, but they quickly deteriorated when I tried to work with them." (Rat)

Fumu... It seems this one can help in my objectives as well.

She might become trouble later on, but as long as I have the reins called the slave seal, I can control her to some extent.

"I'll allow it. If you will become my slave, then the village will assist in your research." (Naofumi)

"Understood. If the Hero of the Shield can only trust slaves, then this is the easiest way to gain your trust." (Rat)

I exchange a handshake with Rat.

"I'll count on you from now on. To gain your trust, I will become a slave. In exchange, you will permit and assist in the conducting of my research."
(Rat)

"I don't allow deceit. As long as you acknowledge that, then I have no problems with you staying here." (Naofumi)

And so the Alchemist Rat began to live in my village.

"Can I start with modifying that Filo Rial? I'd like to begin by adding another eye on its stomach for increased perception, and perhaps several tentacles to its back for increased movement and tactile manipulation." (Rat)

"NO!" (Firo)

I hear Firo's voice shouting from a distance. It seems that there are now more people in this village that she won't get along with.

"The individual is against it, so you should give it up." (Naofumi)

"Well that's unfortunate." (Rat)

"Why did you drug my Filo Rial in the first place?" (Naofumi)

"You don't know? Filo Rials can be surprisingly vicious monsters. If I don't immobilize it first, then I can't examine it." (Rat)

Is that how it is? Well I guess it is crazy to suddenly try and examine a wild animal without sedating it first. It might start attacking, or run away.

"Fortunately, your Filo Rial is in quite good shape. She has an annoyingly high amount of energy." (Rat)

Exactly.

From birth, Firo has had way too much energy.

I don't think she's ever been sick.

Perhaps I can also leave veterinary work to her.

Anyways, this is a person I don't really understand. Her ideologies contain multiple contradictions.

Discrimination is bad, but turning monsters into weapons is Okay. She wants to modify monsters to be stronger. Does she like monsters or hate them?

Anyways. It seems that my own research will be getting easier from now on.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 151 - Camping Plant

---

“It’s going quite well.” (Naofumi)

“Right. For me to make this much progress in just 2 days, could I possibly be a genius?” (Rat)

“Naofumi-sama…” (Raphtalia)

It’s been two days since then. Raphtalia is facing me with a serious face. I think I overdid it as well.

I had tried to modify the Bioplant with Rat’s help. Because of this, quite a few people are watching our work.

Having a specialist really helps.

Rat has already been registered as one of my slaves. I have set the crest to punish her if she tries to lie to me.

The punishment has been set to the highest level. Based on the severity of her actions, she may die.

I can’t be negligent. Though for now, she seems to be satisfied while being immersed in research.

The real work starts from here on out.

First, I modified a Bioplant seed to be more like the original monstrous variety in order to grant it sentience, and registered it as a monster under my control. I handed it over to Rat for research purposes.

Rat takes out some complex machinery and begins to perform further modifications on the plant.

There was the danger that it may have been able to break the seal, as Firo did, but this time it was a success.

As we plant the seed, the Bioplant begins to come to life and move as commanded.

The Bioplant we tried to make today was one that would be able to act as a house.

We'll be getting more slaves soon, so it would be useful if we could speed up the building process.

Which is why we began working on this interesting project.

The experiment was a success. As long as we issued the order, the Bioplant would take the shape of a house.

The new creation was dubbed, 'Camping Plant'.

Rat went off and arbitrarily named it on her own. I don't really care so I'll leave the name as is.

Flowers bloom to form an effective roof, and as long as we give a specific layout, the plant can take on the form of any building.

The flowers absorb light during the day, and can emit magic light at night if needed.

The slaves had high adaptability, so they readily moved into the dangerous-looking house.

I planned to use them for temporary lodging, but Kiel enthusiastically claimed the house as her own, so I guess it is what it is.

Are you sure you want the house of your dreams to be one built so easily?

A strength of these houses is that they can be easily cleared with herbicide and rebuilt if they got in the way.

This makes them exceedingly easy to manage.

And... Raphtalia is currently questioning me on the influx of green houses in the village.

"I'm sorry." (Naofumi)

"About what?" (Raphtalia)

"The village you lived in now looks like the dwelling of an evil sorcerer."
(Naofumi)

"Well... there's nothing we can do about that... I understand. I just thought that you were trusting Rat too easily." (Raphtalia)

"I think she's the one trusting me way too easily." (Naofumi)

She had been staring at me intently while I modified the plant.

I thought that our methods of modification were the same, but it seems that she has taken a great interest in my general modification method. I think she called it ground-breaking or something.

(TL: as in how he can change entire attributes without taking the steps leading up to that into account)

Even if you say it's ground-breaking, it's the Shield's capabilities so I can't really help her on that.

It seems I can only make general modifications, so I have to leave the finer details to Rat.

The next thing to work on is a plant to produce medicine.

It seems that this will be quite difficult.

Up 'til now I have made no progress in this field.

By the way, the prototype house we made was carnivorous.

I continually cautioned Rat not to enter it, but Firo and Taniko suddenly rushed in only to get eaten. Raphtalia and the rest had to cut it open and rescue them.

The villagers have been eyeing me with strange looks since then.

I also had Rat check the identity of the Monster eggs we had collected. Additionally she checked the growth of the monsters I had under my watch. I explained my Monster User Shield's 'Growth Correction' ability, and she began examining the Legendary Shield with zeal.

It seems that the Monster User seal had awakened, but I didn't get any extra growth enhancements from it.

I was hoping for something that would raise my monster's intelligence.

"I had heard that the Hero of the Shield's monsters had abnormal strength. So this was the cause?" (Rat)

"Probably. And I'm quite sure the other heroes should be able to unlock these abilities as well." (Naofumi)

It's not like I had this function from the beginning. The others should be able to unlock a Slave Series and Monster Use Series as well.

It's even more likely that they will be able to get weapons that allow modification of plants like the Bioplant.

However plants like this are hard to come across.

I've only ever seen them in the Bioplant's origin town, and this one.

"I won't claim to be an expert, but I've never heard of such abilities coming from the other heroes." (Rat)

"I see." (Naofumi)

To put it bluntly, we don't get along.

However from what I've heard, the Seven Star Heroes are supposed to be good people.

It seems that modifying monsters goes against the Church. Such straight-laced heroes probably wouldn't delve into such subjects.

I don't really want to trouble Rat further, and I honestly don't care so I won't ask what sort of people they are.

... If you look at this village objectively, how many laws are we breaking?

Now then, our food supply has become quite steady. The taste is also guaranteed, and it seems that Rat will be able to produce some variation in the fruits.

I'm leaving the training of the monsters to the slaves, and my peddling enterprise will soon be able to start in earnest.

The slaves have all passed level 30, so our fighting prowess isn't a problem either.

In just a few days, we've made quite some progress.

"I was able to create a research lab so easily. This seed really is miraculous."
(Rat)

Rat's lab... it is a large building made of Camping Plant.

She had brought lab equipment with her from the start, so it seems that the lab is now usable.

From the building, I can hear the screams of a monster. It's reminding me of a few Science Fiction stories.

At that moment, I had a few doubts about letting her set up shop here.

By the way, Taniko and Rat have become rivals in their treatment of monsters.

Taniko believed that monsters should get strong through battle and experience, while Rat opted for strengthening them through modification. Their opinions often clashed.

Due to their differing ideals, they often argued. It appears that they hate each other.

However, Taniko's education is severely lacking so most of the time it seems that Rat is just toying with her.

"Then I shall work on the Bioplants until I get bored. After that, do you agree to assist me in my goals?" (Rat)

"Yeah, I also hold an interest in Monster Modification." (Naofumi)

If we have monsters that can stand on equal footing with those brought by the wave, then fighting will get a lot easier.

I need to scrape a fighting force together no matter what, so modification may prove to be a useful asset.

I learned from that incident with the Spirit Turtle that having more comrades is always useful.

If they're strong then even more so.

It seems there was a Balloon egg mixed in with the rest.

No... It wasn't an egg. It seems that a hibernating Balloon had been mistaken as an egg and carried off.

According to Rat, Balloons usually fly. They break off from a larger being called Balloon Legios, and can henceforth freely float in the sky.

If you see a strangely colored object in the sky, it is probably a Balloon Legios.

Though Balloon Legion rarely come to the ground, the numerous Balloons born from come down quite often.

They become completely independent after separating from the Legios.

After the Balloon awakened, I quickly had a monster seal placed on it, and it is now my subordinate.

As the Balloon levelled up, it got bigger as if it were being inflated. I tied it to the carriage and attached a banner onto it.

With this, it is connected to the carriage and will receive a portion of the EXP gained by Firo, who is pulling it.

The banner on it read 'Hero of the Shield's Peddling'

Its monster name appears to be Ad Balloon.

What sort of bad joke is this?

It seems that Ad Balloon had previously been cared for by a human.

I'm a bit afraid of a large floating balloon-shaped monster, but... (TL: Balloon is usually in English, in this line it is said in Japanese.)

Taniko readily mounted the Balloon and rode it into the sky with both arms outstretched. Seriously, what Valley did she crawl out of?

It's really slow, but I guess I can assign it to guard duty.

I hold Balloons in high esteem.

I haven't forgot my debt to them from when I first fought Motoyasu.

"You are hereby deemed Test Subject #1." (Rat)

"Garu!" (Ad Balloon)

"Quiet." (Naofumi)

Perhaps due to the Shield's influence, this monster seems to possess a higher level of intelligence than other Balloons

"... Now then, I will be leaving for peddling." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Raphtalia)

"Then I will be continuing with my research. If you need me, you can find me in my lab, Count." (Rat)

Count... That's right, I got a title.

I had completely forgotten.

"Hmm? I had heard that you were a Count. Am I wrong?" (Rat)

"No, you're correct." (Naofumi)

"Anyways, if you have any business, please stop over." (Rat)

"Yes, Yes. Oh, and remember that just because I'm not here doesn't mean you can cause trouble." (Naofumi)

"I know. I won't do something that foolish." (Rat)

"I wonder." (Naofumi)

I think about how to produce a medicine generating Bioplant as I call Firo over. I get on the Carriage and set out for the neighboring village.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 152 – Official Business

---

In the neighboring town, a magic, medicine, and clothing shop have now been build.

They're still working from temporary stands, but business has already started

"Ah, Hero-sama. welcome."(Magic Shopkeeper)

The Magic Shop's owner greets me

The building she is working out obviously isn't as good as her previous shop, but I have been giving her preferential treatment.

We just started reconstruction efforts on this town, but my hopes are high

"How are you faring?" (Naofumi)

"I'm getting by. I think I will reopen the store in the Castle Town as well."

(Magic Shopkeeper)

"So here is just a branch?"(Naofumi)

"Yeah. I'll work here until that store opens, and I'll occasionally teach magic there……. Doesn't it sound interesting?" (Magic Shopkeeper)

Because Magic shopkeeper who also researcher for a while, she already notice the change in my village.

That's certainly progress worthy of the called magic.

"……. Hmph" (Naofumi)

Medicine-shop also probably smell it.

Sometimes my gaze turn toward the village.

"The research become advanced once the medicine-shop taking care to it. Makes me look forward, I'd like to thank you for helping me because the schedule in hand been increase" (Naofumi)

"...I see" (Medicine Shopkeeper)

"Now... Where is the clothing shop?" (Naofumi)

"I wonder if I've made a mistake. I was under the impression I would be living in the Hero's village." (Tailor)

Fumu... I give the various monster materials I had gathered to the Tailor. I had told her that I would give her various interesting materials. I think I can leave the sizing of the materials up to her.

"There's also been much reconstruction happening here" (Naofumi)

Unlike my village, this one has a lot of manpower, so I see lots of progress every day.

There seem a plan to re-built Feudal lord house.

Currently the foundations have been erected, and it is planned to be finished in two weeks.

"Sorry for many thing" (Naofumi)

"No problem. Most of the people here had a lot of free time on their hands anyways."(Leader)

"I see" (Naofumi)

"Instead of hating you, everyone is looking forwards to your cooking. Is it really as tasty as they say? I would like to partake in it once."(Leader)

...I would occasionally come over and cook food to support their efforts, but has that become their motivation?

The shield really does prepare good food.

"Well good. Also, I won't be cooking again until I return from peddling."

(Naofumi)

"Okay, I'll pass on the message."(Leader)

"yes yes" (Naofumi)

I shake his hand, and set out peddling start from the next town.

I am accompanied by Raphtalia, Firo and two other people.

There is a need for me to increase my combat forces. I'm not sure if Rat will be able to come out with any results in time.

On the second day of Peddling

I arrived in a big town.

"Hm?" (Naofumi)

There is commotion going on involving a squadron of Guards

I should probably ignore it, but....

"Why are these people getting off Scot Free, while I have to be taken into custody?!" (a familiar voice) when approaching i stop the carriage because heard a voice that sound familiar.

I can't see through the crowd, so I ask someone nearby.

“What’s happening?” (Naofumi)

“It seems that the Hero of the Sword helped capture a thief, but now he is being arrested.” (Crowd Person)

…It’s a story I have heard somewhere before.

“Hm? Aren’t you the Hero of the Shield?” (Crowd Person)

So I have been noticed. Well, my carriage does stand out quite a bit, and Firo is in her monster form, so this much is to be expected.

The crowd are breaking and ringleader comes into view.

There, I see a familiar group of thieves with smiling faces, and Ren being held down by some guards.

…I kinda understand the situation.

Capturing thieves. Something similar happened to me before.

There’s no choice. I make my way through the crowd.

“Yo.” (Naofumi)

Surprising them would be dangerous, so I call out from a distance.

“It’s Naofumi isn’t it?” (Ren)

“Been a while.” (Naofumi)

Ren looks happy upon seeing me. He waves his hand at me.

But the person I was talking to was not Ren, but the leader of the thieves.

As soon as the thieves see me, they begin to look pale.

Well… they’ve already gone through this twice. This will be the third.

They should really learn to live honestly, these people. Become mercenaries or something.

"You people really don't learn, do you. Did you really think that framing the person that apprehended you would really get you off so easily?" (Naofumi)

"S-shut up!" (Thief)

There's something I would like to test.

They may be a little afraid of me, but I have something that gives them nightmares.

"Firo" (Naofumi)

"Yes?" (Firo)

Firo come up by jumping over the crowd.

The bandit's face became paler.

"Enjoy your meal." (Naofumi)

"Yup" (Firo)

It seems she will eat anything that is not a child.

The thieves desperately face the guards and begin to beg to them.

"We are the culprit, Please Help!" (Bandits)

They confess... Is Firo really that scary?

Well Rat did tell me that Filo Rials are supposedly very vicious, and this happens to be their Queen.

"No, these people aren't thieves. The Hero of the Sword is mistaken."
(Naofumi)

It seems the guards have yet to discover their hideout yet.

These people have a bit of skill, and they're good at saving up money.

I think I'll make them a source of income again.

"Naofumi! You too!?" (Ren)

"I'm not saying you're at fault. Just be quiet for a second. I have an idea."

(Naofumi)

"We'll talk! We'll talk, so just keep that man's bird away from us!" (Bandits)

"Hey, master. Firo feels that she is being hated, but did Firo do something wrong?" (Firo)

"I think that the fact that you'll eat anything other than a child is fundamentally wrong." (Naofumi)

"Mu..." (Firo)

I can hear the crowd whispering.

"That Holy Bird eats people?" (Crowd)

"Nah, I hear the Hero of the Shield is quite skilled at deceit." (Crowd)

"Really? As I thought. I once saw the Holy Bird playing peacefully with children in the Castle Town." (Crowd)

That's good, Firo. You haven't become a public symbol of fear.

It's up to her whether she gets treated as a human or a monster.

"That's how it is. Those people once tried the same stunt with me when I had a notoriously bad reputation. Please make sure to wring them dry."

(Naofumi)

"W-what?" (Guards)

The guards are taken aback.

"These people's bounties, will you give them to me?" (Naofumi)

"Y-yes, but we haven't caught their leader." (Guard)

"Hey, where's your base." (Naofumi)

"Yes! Please bring out a map!" (Bandit)

They're being quite cooperative.

"Firo and Raphtalia, go catch the guys hiding there." (Naofumi)

"Yup!" (Firo)

"I understand" (Raphtalia)

I pass the map to Raphtalia and Fiol, and they set off.

"The rest of you, keep peddling" (Naofumi)

"Yes" (anon slaves) (Muel, what does Baek mean?)

I walk through the crowd towards my carriage.

"The Hero of the Shield handled the situation." (Crowd)

"Amazing. He got the bandits to confess by themselves." (Crowd)

"He must be really strong." (Crowd)

"Yeah." (Crowd)

For the love of...

Even if they speak the truth, I don't really want unnecessary abilities tacked onto my reputation.

"well, hasn't it been a long time, Ren" (Naofumi)

"ah, ah....." (Ren)

Ren slowly distances himself from me, while looking vigilant.

“wait wait, apart from it does not mean I came here to catch you. I want to hear the story” (Naofumi)

“I see… Everyone I’ve met so far has been suspicious of me. I’ve even had random people throw stones at me.” (Ren)

Ren answer defiantly.

I think it’s fine if it’s only at that level.

In my case, I was literally treated as the devil

The cause of all that was Trash, Bitch and the Three Hero Church.

“For now why not go to the tavern to talk?” (Naofumi)

I take Ren to the tavern. I notice some people from the crowd follow us there, but I don’t really care.

I sat at the bar counter, and order a drink.

Along with my drink, I am also given a real Lucor fruit.

The boss of the tavern looks at me with eyes full of expectation.

There’s no choice. I eat the fruit whole.

“The Real one!” (Boss)

“Unbelievable” (some guys)

My identity has been confirmed by all.

It’s quite a strange identification test.

“It seems you’ve been through a lot.” (Naofumi)

I talk to Ren without any ulterior motives.

It seems that he’s been being chased alone without knowing the exact reason.

When I was alone, before I met Raphtalia and Firo, the only thing I could think of was revenge.

“Yeah… the guild said they no longer accepted Heroes, I wasn’t able to slay monsters freely anymore, and I couldn’t claim bounties. To top it all off, that happened!” (Ren) (TL: Referring to being framed a few lines ago.)

Self-proclaimed cool Ren began complaining with an expose of anger. But it’s not like I don’t see where he’s coming from.

“So I began selling monster drops and began to live by the day… It got really annoying. Everyone I meet seems to try to turn on me. Why do I even have to defend this crappy world?” (Ren)

“That’s just how humans are. When I was called the Devil of the Shield, I was treated the same way. No, I was treated worse than that, you know.” (Naofumi)

“I-I see…” (Ren)

“First, let me ask. Are you involved in Spirit Turtle incident?” (Naofumi)

Now that I think about it, his party members are nowhere to be seen.

Did they run away on him?

Well, I think they’ll do just fine without him though. If he’s been cut off, he can’t really complain.

“No… that’s…” (Ren)

Ren suddenly begins stumbling over his words.

“So you’re going to avoid the topic?” (Naofumi)

“No, it’s not…” (Ren)

As usually this guy.

His insociability is getting on my nerves.

I have some grudges against this person, but he has done me enough favors to balance it out.

"At the time of the failed attempt to kill Melty. I'm still thankful. I'll listen to what you have to say, just as you did for me. I make sure to return favors."

(Naofumi)

"....." (Ren)

"Ren If you do not say it, your position will become worse. You'll become the next Demon of the Shield." (Naofumi)

"... I understand. I'll tell you my story." (Ren)

Ren sighs, and begins to speak.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 153 – Truthful Understanding

---

Ren and his comrades successfully cleared the Wave of another country, and then headed to the town the Spirit Turtle was sleeping in to search for greater strength.

He's exactly the same as Motoyasu, or so I want to retort.

According to Ren, the Spirit Turtle was going to be the mastermind behind an even greater calamity, so it was best to kill him off early.

"In the near future, a plague would have struck that land. The people would fall one after the other... And the cause of that would be the Spirit Turtle. He would manipulate their corpses and create an undead army with his powers of mind control." (Rem)

Apparently, in the games Ren played, if he didn't act fast a large calamity would befall this land. This event was big enough in scale to cause the fall of nations and the formation of several counter-measure organizations. That's why Ren's main goal was the prevention of this disaster. The boss was supposed to be beatable at level 60. Since Ren was over 80, he thought it wouldn't be difficult.

...It's the same as with Motoyasu.

"Can I ask something?" (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Ren)

I interrupt Ren.

"In your Net Game, were you able to visit that area before? Or was it a new area that became unlocked with the event?" (Naofumi)

"Let's see. I think it happened in Update: Episode 7, The Assault of the Spirit Turtle. Before that, it was a normal town and hunting ground. But after the update, you needed permission to enter the area. I read it on the internet." (Ren)

...Update: Episode 7?

The blue hourglass in the turtle read 7, but... it's a coincidence, right?

"Please continue." (Naofumi)

"Yeah." (Ren)

The reason he acted without the country's consent was that in the game he played, the Turtle's mind control was affecting the actions of the leaders of countries as well.

It seems that it was being treated as a sort of quest.

And that's why negotiations were pointless.

My head hurts. If you were under the assumption that the country's leader was being brainwashed, why the hell didn't you actually go check?

Like Motoyasu, Ren infiltrated a temple slightly outside of the village.

"Um, Ren-sama, are you sure we should be doing this?" (Ren Party)

"What are you talking about. The monster sleeping here has already infiltrated the upper echelon of government. Sitting around and waiting for negotiations to finish is pointless." (Ren)

"Oy, you people! Name yourselves!" (Monk)

As he was about to destroy the Buddhist statue that would awaken the turtle, a group of monks surrounded him.

Because they had appeared in the basement of an abandoned temple, Ren was able to conclude that they were under the Turtle's influence. He hurries to destroy the statue.

"Please stall them. For the people who still have their sanity, we must press onwards!" (Ren)

"Yes!" (Ren Party Plural)

Ren's comrades assist in the destruction of the statue.

"H-how could you... That was a priceless historic..." (Monk)

The monks shout out. They raise their weapons.

I thought he had done the same as Motoyasu, but it seems all he did was destroy a priceless artifact.

Well... It was probably a memento of the past Four Heroes or Seven Star Heroes.

I don't really know this world's history, so I can't say what would be valuable or not.

"Mu.. That Sword... Could you be the Hero of the Sword!?" (Monk)

"If you already know, then I guess there's no harm in telling you. I'm the Hero of the Sword, and I have come to vanquish the darkness that sleeps beneath these lands." (Ren)

As they were saying that, the ground begins to rumble beneath them.

"Okay! The Spirit Turtle has shown itself. Let's go!" (Ren)

Ren carefully knocks the monks out and runs in the direction of the rumbling sound.

“It’s big… Can we really fight something that large!?” (Ren Party)

“We can win! We have become strong!” (Ren)

With confidence, Ren rushes towards the Turtle.

While closing in, he thought he saw someone use a skill on the head, but he just assumed it was one of the adventurers fighting it.

Thinking that this world’s adventurers wouldn’t be enough, Ren raises his sword towards the Turtle.

「Handlet Sword!」 (Ren)

It’s a skill that takes a while to activate. He stacks on another attack.

「Thunder Blade! 」 (Ren)

But the Spirit Turtle is largely unaffected.

What happened afterwards was just like with Motoyasu, so I’ll abridge it.

Ren feels something is off, but he keeps fighting.

Without giving up, he fights for the people in danger of the beast.

“UUUOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!”

And when he was aware of his situation, The Spirit Turtle was already walking away without paying him any mind. Ren was surrounded by corpses… the bodies of his comrades.

They were cruelly mangled bodies. Destroyed so badly even Ren couldn’t identify them.

The only thing he could understand was that his party members were all dead.

“W-what the hell is this… It’s a lie… All of them were over level 80, yet…”
(Ren)

Ren’s brain could not comprehend the events that had just happened.
And Ren’s mind shut down for a period of time. He prayed for the slight chance that, like a game, he would be able to revive them.
But no gods would hear his wish, and Ren understood that from the beginning.

After that, Ren rushed through the swarm of Spirit Turtle Familiars, and tried to save as many people as he could, but he eventually lost consciousness.

When he regained consciousness, the Spirit Turtle’s reign of terror had already ended.

...

“I lost because they were weak… And because they were weak they died. If only we had worked together more, then winning would have been easy.”
(Ren)

He’s in complete denial.

… There’s no helping him. His companions must be turning in their graves.

“I’m not at fault. They were weaker than I had ever imagined. I’m not wrong. I’m not!” (Ren)

And he’s running from his own crimes.

I don’t even need to pity this one.

However a kind word isn’t what he needs right now.

"You are wrong. Don't think this will always be a game. What you did was clearly rash, and even your comrades saw that." (Naofumi)

"What!?" (Ren)

Ren looks at me angrily.

"If that's all you can say about the people who trusted in you and followed you to the end... then you don't only fail as a Hero. You fail as a Human Being" (Naofumi)

If you went to me for warm words, then you're very mistaken.

Saying that you're not at fault.

This one... Just as I thought, the only think he ever did was act as a selfish guild leader.

He fought an enemy out of his league, and as a result his party was annihilated. And in the end, he blamed them for being too weak. His conduct is just as Raphtalia said.

"This world is not a game. If you keep believing that, then more people will suffer." (Naofumi)

"S-shut up!" (Ren)

"No matter how much you scream, no matter how much you regret, until the wave is over we will never be able to go back home. We were summoned selfishly by the stuck-up leaders of this world, and given the pretentious title of Hero. In most worlds, that would be considered kidnapping. But if we want to do anything. If we want to change anything. Then the only thing that we can do is fight."

"Ku...!" (Ren)

"A while ago, you told me, 'If things get bad, you run away? You really are the worst.’ And look at you now. Are you aiming to become the worst of the worst?” (Naofumi)

Well, right now I’m just taking out my anger on him.

For him to continue to fight even after seeing the monster was too strong for their party… I would first test its attack power, and then create a plan from there. But this person can only fight as if this were a game.

He didn’t do any investigation beforehand, and placed his trust into the knowledge he heard on the internet. It’s as if he was following a walkthrough.

He’s a coward. Has he even tried to discover anything on his own?

“Your game is over. Your game information is useless now.” (Naofumi)

“You’re wrong! I’m… I’m not at fault!” (Ren)

“I’m not wrong. You told Raphtalia that you ‘Wouldn’t forgive her’. Well, now I’m going to tell you that I will never forgive you for your actions. You’re now a splendid murderer.” (Naofumi)

“Quiet…Shut up… Please, don’t say any more…” (Ren)

Ren has begun shaking over my continuous accusations.

When a lot of people died in the plague-stricken village, he had acknowledged that he was in the wrong. He even went there to apologize. Inside, he already knows the truth. But that truth is something that he doesn’t want to accept. He is unable to accept it.

Even though he already understands…

“I understand that you did not cause any of this on purpose. However, you are still alive. If you’re still alive, then isn’t there something you have to do first?” (Naofumi)

“Shut up!” (Ren)

“I’ll keep talking until you listen. You already get it, don’t you? Don’t you know what you have to do right now?” (Naofumi)

“QUUUUIEEEEETTT!” (Ren)

Ren unsheathes his Sword

I hold up my Shield.

I feel a light tap on it.

…Hm?

“Take this!” (Ren)

Ren tries to slash at my face.

I… don’t even try to defend myself

Bang… I hear the sound of metal colliding near my ear.

Ren starts to laugh. However, his eyes widen as if he has seen something unbelievable.

“H-how did you…” (Ren)

“That sword you have equipped right now. It looks to be made from Spirit Turtle materials, but isn’t it a bit too weak?” (Naofumi)

I took Ren’s attack head on.

Of course, my defense is being greatly bolstered by the shield on my arm. But if Raphtalia had attacked me like that, I wouldn’t have escaped unharmed.

“You thought you could take on the Spirit Turtle with that? Are you stupid?” (Naofumi)

It's crazy to think someone could win at level 60 in the first place.

No... perhaps if you properly strengthened all your equipment and status... and you ignored all of the casualties around you, focusing only on victory... The Spirit Turtle's attacks are slow, so it might be possible.

Of course, that only applies if you can take out the Head and Heart at the same time.

And from what I've seen, Ren has only been using the reinforcement methods from his own game.

"You didn't listen to Shadow at all, did you. Your weakness is because of-"
(Naofumi)

"Those were lies! There's no way the Shield can be that strong! It's a Cheat, a Hack! Don't monopolize it!" (Ren)

I don't want to hear that from you!

Is what I want to retort, however there's a time and place for everything.

"Improve your swordsmanship. Your weakness is-" (Naofumi)

"Che!" (ren) (TL: Tongue clicking sound)

Ren raises his sword High above his head.

「Flashing Sword!」 (Ren)

The sword glows brightly and clouds my vision.

"You... !" (Naofumi)

He tries to slash at me a few more times, but to no effect...

"UWWAAAAAAAAA!" (Ren)

He screams out, and I can hear him running away. By the time my vision started to return, he was already gone.

“M-mah eyes…” (Drunk)

The people in the tavern are rubbing their eyes.

“Don’t worry, it was just bright. There should be no negative effects. Stay still for a while. It’s dangerous if you can’t see anything.” (Naofumi)

On my word, everyone calms down. I wait for my eyesight to go back to normal.

They’re nothing but trouble, you know. These Heroes.

And Ren is only on that level? I thought Ren was supposed to be the strongest, but…

I can’t count on them at all.

Raphtalia would wipe the floor with him.

If he was actually trying to get strong, then he would at least be able to hurt me.

But for now, he is just focused on denying his crimes.

He can’t even doubt the knowledge he brought from another world.

And even after his comrades dies… I can’t accept the current Ren.

I could end his suffering now, but…

I’ll put that train of thought on hold.

It’s not something to be decided so easily.

And I think it will be fun to watch him suffer more.

Understand my pain, you bastard.

No matter what I did, I was considered evil. Now taste that living hell some more.

Heaven doesn't open in just a few weeks.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 154 – Independence

---

I return to the village and relate Ren's story to Female Knight.

"Fumu... It seems the Hero of the Sword is quite the spoiled brat." (Female Knight)

Female Knight speaks whilst cricking her fingers.

It's not like I can't understand Ren's feelings, but he truly is a wimp.

"Relying only on otherworldly knowledge to rashly rush into battle... There should be a limit to being naïve." (Female Knight)

"Well, that pretty much sums it up." (Naofumi)

"If you happen to catch him, turn him over to me. I'll personally make sure to re-educate him." (Female Knight)

"...He may have just overestimated himself." (Naofumi)

"What are you saying. It's a knight's common sense to fight a battle even if victory is uncertain." (Female Knight)

Well, that does seem to be logical.

Teaming up on a weaker individual may seem like bullying.

In Net games, it's common sense, but if practiced in the real world there would be a problem.

You can't just wait until a stronger enemy appears, and then run away because you don't think you can win.

That would really cause a lot of problems.

This country may be at peace, but small skirmishes and monster infestations keep the knights vigilant.

Female Knight participated on the front lines of some of the fights against the Spirit Turtle, so she is qualified to say this.

She's quite strong. Her stats aren't as developed as Rafatalia, but she makes up for it with skill.

"Anyways, I'll report this matter to the Queen. I'll be out for a bit, so is there anything else you'd like from her?" (Female Knight)

"Let's see... what should we do about Rat?" (Naofumi)

She's the person I have to be most wary of right now.

She's trying to make a larger fighting force, and I've given her a bit of time.

"As you've requested, the Shadows are watching her movements, but she's been surprisingly obedient." (Female Knight)

"Is there any indication that she is acting secretly?" (Naofumi)

"None." (Female Knight)

Mu... I was prepared to act in case she did something, but it seems that isn't necessary.

I thought she may have been a spy, but it seems that isn't the case.

"Well occasionally, she... Gets into argument with the girl who tends to the Caterpillands, but that matter seems trivial." (Female Knight)

"She does that even when I'm here." (Naofumi)

"It seems the subject of their disputes is a clashing of opinions." (Naofumi)

Their arguments always seem to be about the same things.

Taniko believes in the natural power of the monsters to level up, adapt and get stronger, while Rat opts for the use of surgery and other methods to forcibly increase stats.

And every time, Taniko brings up Firo, who got strong on her own.

And then Rat suggests a surgery to raise Firo's intelligence, angering Taniko further.

The arguments then seem to go around in circles, but it seems that each side now has a firm grasp of the other's ideologies.

On some rare occasions, they would agree on a matter, and have a happy talk over it.

... I wonder how Rat's modifications are going.

"Well, I guess I should stop by." (Naofumi)

"What should we do?" (Rafatalia)

"I'm thinking of sending the slaves to peddle independently, so go teach anyone who wants to learn the skills needed in peddling." (Naofumi)

"I understand." (Rafatalia)

"What about Firo?" (Firo)

"I'm going to Rat's place. Do you want to come with me?" (Naofumi)

"NO!" (Firo)

Rafatalia goes and starts ordering around the villagers. Firo ran off at an alarming rate.

Well, I guess her dislike is understandable.

Rat did give off a really bad first impression to her...

"Umm..." (Imya)

"Hm?" (Naofumi)

Imya fidgets as she comes over to talk to me.

"What is it?" (Naofumi)

"I started learning how to make clothes from the strange person... here is my first product." (Imya)

The item she handed over was a pair of gloves.

The material is monster skin. The size is just right for my hands.

"Hero-sama, this is so you don't get hurt when experimenting with medicine so..." (Imya)

"Yeah, Thank You. You're quite considerate." (Naofumi)

They're well made.

It seems the Lemo really are a dexterous race.

"Have you gotten used to the village?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, Yes." (Imya)

"If anything is troubling you, make sure to report it." (Naofumi)

"Yes..." (Imya)

"... Did something happen?" (Naofumi)

Imya begins looking at the ground as she speaks.

"Can I dig a hole here?" (Imya)

"... If that will make your working environment more enjoyable, then feel free." (Naofumi)

"Thank you very much." (Imya)

She does look like a mole.

I guess she felt uncomfortable in the Camping Plant houses.

"You can order around the Dunes. Make it any size you want. However, make sure to think about where you dig." (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Imya)

She's a nice, obedient child.

The exact opposite of Kiel.

"*Achoo*" (Kiel) (TL: It is Japanese superstition that you will feel a chill if someone talks about you behind your back.)

I hear Kiel sneeze from a bit away. I guess coincidences are scary.

And anyways, I went off to visit Rat's lab.

It's quite spacious, and has two floors. There is something like a sports playing field inside it as well.

... Exactly how far can these Camping Plants expand?

"Well, if it isn't the Count. What's up?" (Rat)

"I've come to check your progress." (Naofumi)

I find Rat in the farthest room from the entrance, staring at a monster inside of a large test tube.

Somehow, the amount of test tubes she has been steadily increasing.

Inside of them, various things are floating. In one of them floats a Bioplant stalk.

"Ah, about that. The Bioplant Research... hasn't really bared any fruit."
(Rat)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"I think you'll have to wait a few days before you see any results. It seems it will be difficult to try to make it produce medicine." (Rat)

"It was something that I wasn't able to do myself. I'll wait patiently."

(Naofumi)

"I don't think it's impossible. I'll work on it." (Rat)

"I'll wait expectantly." (Naofumi)

Rat taps on the test tube glass, teasing the monster within it.

I can't see the monster's form clearly, but it seems to be smiling in Rat's direction.

"What is that?" (Naofumi)

"Oh, this child?" (Rat)

As she speaks, her eyes wander around the room.

"There are kids that can't do anything no matter how hard they try." (Rat)

"Wha?" (Naofumi)

"I told you about this one before, right? The one the Hero tried to kill..."

(Rat)

"It survived?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, at least a portion of its body did... For now it can only live inside this test tube, but at least it won't die soon."

Rat speaks with a pained expression.

And the monster in the vial extend something towards Rat as if to console her.

"This one was able to understand human language well... It always worked hard to be strong." (Rat)

"You can understand it?" (Naofumi)

"For my thesis, I tried to see if monsters were able to think on the same level as humans.” (Rat)

“hmm…” (Naofumi)

“Monsters want to become strong too. And not just to survive, they want to be recognized as well. This child has an especially strong desire to do so.”

(Rat)

I see.

I didn’t want to be called weak, but I climbed all the way here.

“I can understand this one’s thoughts quite well. No matter how hard it tried, this one never got any stronger. Can you guess this child’s level?”

(Rat)

“… Around 40.” (Naofumi)

“Correct, but… this one would always work itself to the ground, and I would have to heal it back up.” (Rat)

So it’s a monster she likes personally.

Is this person’s passion for modification… based on that monster?

“Ah, don’t misunderstand. I had always loved Modification from the start.”

(Rat)

“Is that so…” (Naofumi)

I’m not getting that impression…

“No matter how much I research, there are still more mysteries. I’ve already stepped into the abyss of science, and I don’t think I will be coming out.” (Rat)

“Hm…” (Naofumi)

“When I introduced myself, I told you my ideals. But I won’t work on an unwilling subject.” (Rat)

“I wonder…” (Naofumi)

I get the feeling that she is the type of person who would secretly conduct research and take action on her own accord.

I’m not buying it.

“I told you no!” (Taniko)

“Hm?” (Naofumi)

With a shaking voice, Taniko runs in and blocks the door from an approaching Caterpilland.

“What are you doing?” (Naofumi)

“This Caterpilland suddenly decided to visit that old lady!” (Taniko)

“… Wha?” (Naofumi)

I look towards Rat, and see her walking towards the Caterpilland.

As Rat approaches it, the monster calms down.

“The monster the count raises are quite honest… This one has a good head, and a high level of ambition.” (Rat)

“Mu… I said no!” (Taniko)

“Please let this child act as it wishes.” (Rat)

“Wrong things are wrong!” (Taniko)

What are these two even trying to compete in?

I can kinda see what this argument is about.

No, I can just get the just of what’s happening.

That Caterpilland is getting close to Rat, and Taniko is unhappy with this.

"You know, the reason I do this sort of research, the reason I spent my childhood learning about the sciences and the reason I devoted my life to this work. It was so that I could give power to the children like these that came to me of their own accord. I like people to hold high expectations of me." (Rat)

As if I would accept such game-like logic.

... is what I think, but if there's a real-life example before my eyes, I guess I have to accept it.

"Well, Dragons and Filo Rials seem to hate me though. Most monsters seem to stay away from me. But this one seems to be okay. It may be because of the Count's influence." (Rat)

Is that how it is?

Is this the shield's influence, or did these monsters just coincidentally turn out like this?

I think this is the Caterpilland that Kiel and friends found, so there may be other factors.

"This child chose its own path by itself." (Rat)

"But...u..." (Taniko)

"Even though I say that, I don't have the funds or materials to carry out the procedures yet, so I'll put that matter on hold. Please go back home." (Rat)

Rat orders the Caterpilland to return.

And the Caterpilland is reluctantly dragged back to the stable by Taniko.

I think that Caterpilland was the one who dragged Kiel back when she got injured.

Because of its actions, we were able to avert a crisis.

It was supposed to be a slow monster, and yet...

"From what I see, if it grow naturally, it will soon hit its limit... That child still wants to become much stronger." (Rat)

"I understand." (Naofumi)

I should respect the monster's right of choice as well... Though that Caterpilland seems to hate me specifically.

So it wants to become strong. Monsters have that desire as well.

Firo was born a strong monster, so she never had to worry about that.

"What do you do for your research, specifically?" (Naofumi)

"Let's see... there are plenty of ways to carry it out..." (Rat)

"Such as?" (Naofumi)

"Monsters that can carry passengers. I tried to modify one act as a ship and swim across the ocean. When this plan got out, I was once again tried for Heresy, though." (Rat)

"In that instance, couldn't you just get an aquatic monster to pull a boat for you?" (Naofumi)

"But haven't you always dreamed of riding a monster?" (Rat)

.....?

In old RPGs, you would sometimes be able to ride on a dragon's back and travel, but... this is a bit different.

"Can't you just ride a flying dragon?" (Naofumi)

(TL: Flying Dragon is a race of dragons, not simply a dragon that flies)

"I hate Dragons!" (Rat)

Mu... I don't understand this person's logic.

If it ain't broke, don't fix it.

"Isn't that just your personal preference?" (Naofumi)

"Flying Dragons cannot carry heavy loads." (Rat)

"Then you could find a bigger dragon..." (Naofumi)

"I will work on anything other than dragons. I'll make a new race to replace them." (Rat)

She was just advocating Monster right of choice, but this is the result?

Did something happen to her involving dragons?

No... Did her modifications take her down this route?

"Next, I'll make an Armor-type monster." (Rat)

"Oh?" (Naofumi)

I heard something intriguing.

I think the shield will prevent me from wearing it, but if Rafatalia or Firo were to equip it it may heavily bolster their defense.

"Taking from the concept the Hero's weapons share of a weapon that grows over time... However, I'm not getting anywhere. It's quite difficult." (Rat)

If she succeeds, we may be able to mass-produce heroes... but it seems the research is at a standstill.

The imitation I saw before took up a ridiculously large amount of Mana.

If making a hero's Weapon was that easy, then they wouldn't have gone to the trouble of using that..

"I have some leads, though. There are some monsters that take on the shape of weapons. I thought I could use the Blood Sucking Demon Swords as reference... but that monster's sanity is quite low. It's hard to control."

(Rat)

"That seems to be an interesting idea, but it sounds expensive." (Naofumi)

"You're right. That's why I still have a long way to go. For now, I am looking for insight in modifying the Bioplant." (Rat)

It seems that in order for Rat to complete her research, she will need more time and money.

But I don't think I can really help with it.

"Anyways, if there's someone you want me to cut up and modify, give me a call ♪" (Rat)

"Yes. Yes." (Naofumi)

So there hasn't been any progress. But Rat's skills are growing.

The skills of the one who grants power to monsters, the Mad Alchemist.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 155 – Zeltbur

---

As I leave Rat's lab, I notice the Slave Dealer's carriage parked nearby.

"If it isn't the Hero of the Shield!" (Slave Dealer)

I've been seeing him a lot lately.

But I've given him the important duty of finding this village's former villagers, so I guess there's no helping it.

I don't really like dealing with him, though.

"Did you find more slaves or something?" (Naofumi)

"No! I haven't done anything of the sort. Yes." (Slave Dealer)

"Why are you here!? Go home!" (Naofumi)

Should I throw salt at him?

If he says that he came here to eat, then I'll smack him.

By the way, salt isn't particularly valuable here, as we're right next to the ocean.

"Can I not stop by without a reason? Your treatment makes my heart race."
(Slave Dealer)

"You seem to have the intention of making me into your chef." (Naofumi)

"Ah, by the way that was a joke. Yes." (Slave Dealer)

"Are you picking a fight?" (Naofumi)

"No, no. I came here to ask something of the hero of the Shield." (Slave Dealer)

"... Ask something?" (Naofumi)

The Slave dealer is raising his voice. He's trying to make it out as a big deal.
I bet he's up to no good again.

"I need you to go to Zeltbur to buy slaves." (Slave Dealer)

"Buy slaves..." (Naofumi)

"My relative has voiced a desire to sell some of his finest slaves to you."
(Slave Dealer)

"At a discount, right?" (Naofumi)

"He's offering you the best of the best." (Slave Dealer)

"That sounds expensive." (Naofumi)

It's not like I'm interested in purchasing expensive slaves.

My main priority is to gather Raphtalia's friends.

From what I've seen so far, this village's villagers are going for quite cheap.
As they're children, their base levels were quite low. And in terms of stats, they were well below those desired for manual labor.

"We will make sure that they are within a price range even you can afford."
(Slave Dealer)

"Well, I do have some spare change..." (Naofumi)

I'm earning a bit from selling the Bioplant fruit, and monster materials that Kiel and the others are collecting while hunting. Right now, the village has little financial difficulty.

It's almost time for me to stop by the Old Man to stock up on weapons.

The village has also improved greatly over time.

I think things will work out even if I'm absent for a bit.

Even if I stop cooking for a while...

... the only reason I have to cook now is because everyone makes a commotion if I don't.

"How long will the trip take?" (Naofumi)

"Let's see... Normally, a boat would be fastest, but on your prized Filo Rial's legs it should be around 3 days." (Slave Dealer)

3 Days, even on Firo. It must be quite far.

Well, it's another country so I guess that goes without saying.

I think I heard the other heroes say that the weapons from Zeltbur were quite potent, or something.

So those guys have been there already.

Is that why their levels were so high?

They had obtained excellent weapons?

There are plenty of weapons in their possession that I know nothing about.

Like the Flashing sword, the Thunder Shooter, and the Portal Spear

I have no idea what weapons would give those skills.

This is one thing I have to ask next I see them.

Though I don't think they'll tell me.

"How long by boat?" (Naofumi)

"4 days." (Slave Dealer)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

I glance at the villagers.

Everyone is earnestly working towards reconstruction.

Imya is working with the Dunes to dig a hole.

Because she is a mole, it looks quite fitting.

Raphtalia is lecturing on peddling, and Firo is taking a nap.

Rishia and Kiel are learning swordsmanship from Female Knight.

Other slaves who have decided to fight are getting drilled from the soldiers.

I guess I can leave the village be for a week.

"Then I guess we should go." (Naofumi)

"I thought you would say as such." (Slave Dealer)

"Raphtalia, Firo, Everyone Else, please gather here for a second." (Naofumi)

I call everybody here.

"I'll be away for around one week. The people accompanying me will be Raphtalia, Firo and..." (Naofumi)

Who should O take?

I think Itsuki had been witnessed in that area.

... Should I take Rishia?

"Rishia, want to come?" (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Rishia)

"Kiel, please take care of Rishia's duties while she's away." (Naofumi)

"Understood, Nii-chan." (Kiel)

"Don't get too carried away." (Naofumi)

"I-I got it." (Kiel)

Rishia and Kiel have different ways of working. Of the two, Rishia is more skilled at raising her level.

She's a bit more like a leader. I guess a Jack of All Trades is good at covering for the faults of a team.

People like Firo just take out enemies with powerful attacks, so nothing can really be learned from them.

The one truly teaching the slaves to fight is Rishia.

I'm a bit nervous leaving that spot to Kiel.

She can be quite rash at times.

"If anything happens, go to the medicine shop in the neighboring village. Otherwise, get the people who specialize in healing magic to help."

(Naofumi)

The Magic Shopkeeper came here and told people what their magic specialties were, so now quite a few people have started to learn basic spells.

I think nothing will happen in just a week...

"And... you." (Naofumi)

I stare at Taniko and think.

"Don't fight too much with Rat over monsters." (Naofumi)

"The old lady is doing mean things to them." (Taniko)

This girl likes monsters way too much.

How exactly was she raised?

I should ask her sometime.

"Ah, right. Kiel, try hunting with Rat at some point in time." (Naofumi)

"Hm? Sure, but why?" (Kiel)

"That woman incapacitated Firo in an instant. She should have quite some skill, and she is quite knowledgeable on monsters.” (Naofumi)

“Got it.” (Kiel)

“Should I report to the Queen that Iwatani is going to Zeltbur?” (Female Knight)

Female Knight speaks up.

“It’s not like I’ll be causing any problems.” (Naofumi)

“Understood. I’m sure the Queen will permit it. We aren’t on bad terms with that country.” (Female Knight)

“Oh, and keep up surveillance on Rat.” (Naofumi)

“Understood.” (Female Knight)

“… Is there anything I’m forgetting? No? Then let’s go.” (Naofumi)

And that’s how, following the Slave Dealer’s words, we set off for Zeltbur.

By the way, two of the Slave Dealer’s men had hooked up his carriage to ours when we weren’t looking.

“Wow, it sure is fast.” (Slave Dealer)

“Well, yeah…” (Naofumi)

“And I also feel a little Sick. Yes.” (Slave Dealer)

Though he is smiling, his face is pale. Is that really something to laugh about?

The men that came with the Slave dealer are already vomiting.

If you aren’t used to it, it is near impossible to ride Firo’s carriage for long periods of time. We aren’t travelling on paved roads, so the carriages are swaying.

I wonder just how fast Firo is running anyways.

It's definitely fast, but...

"Ahahahahahahahahah... This is fun!" (Firo)

Firo is laughing dangerously.

I hope we haven't been jinxed.

Is running her instinct?

And in Three days, we crossed the border without any harm and headed into Zeltbur.

"It's quite a busy place." (Naofumi)

Business is thriving here much more so than in Melromark's Castle Town. It is also much more crowded

My face isn't widely known here, so no one says anything to me.

"What sort of country is Zeltbur? I just realized I know absolutely nothing about it." (Naofumi)

"Then let me explain." (Slave Dealer)

The Slave dealer begins speaking with enthusiasm.

"Zeltbur, the country of mercenaries. Just as its name implies, this country is populated largely by mercenary organizations." (Slave Dealer)

"Well, that sound self-evident." (Naofumi)

"Do you know about Swords for Hire? There people make money by selling their strength to others. The adventurer's guild has deep ties to this country. This makes industries such as Weapon Shops and Medicine Shops prosper as well. It's a country in which an unbelievable amount of money circulates."

(Slave Dealer)

"It sure does seem lively." (Naofumi)

I peer outside of the carriage.

You can feel some energy from the Castle Town's residents, but the feeling here is overpowering.

Whether it be the shopping district or the slums, the people here seem to move with more energy than those in Melromark.

"By the way, this country has no monarchy. It is ruled by a council of merchants." (Slave Dealer)"

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

So it's like a Republic.

Well I guess a country of Mercenaries wouldn't care for monarchy. All that matters is ability.

"This country also has a dark history involving constant warfare, so you should caution yourself." (Slave Dealer)

"I know." (Naofumi)

"My clan has set up a base here. We are partaking in quite a profit." (Slave Dealer)

"... As I thought." (Naofumi)

How should I say this, yesterday I had a nightmare.

I was surrounded by thousands of people that looked exactly like the Slave Dealer. They tried to sell me things.

"And the most famous attraction of the Country is its Coliseum." (Slave Dealer)

"Coliseum?" (Naofumi)

A fighting arena. (TL: Coliseum is said in english)

Brawlers fight against one another, and people place bets.

"It's this country's trademark. Perhaps the Hero will want to visit as well."
(Slave Dealer)

"I'll consider it. Now where are we headed?" (Naofumi)

"Get off the main road, and go down that back alley." (Slave Dealer)

"Got it. Firo." (Naofumi)

We follow the Slave Dealer's instruction and head down a back alley.

And then...

From somewhere, a rope is thrown at Firo's neck.

"Hehehe, that's quite a rare monster you got there!" (???)

Some Delinquent-esque men appear.

These people don't know about Firo?

Well, I guess my wanted posters were only spread in Melromark, so they wouldn't know.

Anyways, these people remind me of someone.

But their fate has already been sealed.

"Ya!" (Firo)

"GUHAAAAAA!?" (Delinquent-esque Male)

The person who threw the rope carelessly approaches Firo, only to get kicked.

… This sure is a barbaric country.

“W-what’s with this one! Quiet down! GUHA!?” (Delinquent-esque Male)

“It’s a wild one! Quick, Tye it up… NUGUGUUUUAAAA!?” (Delinquent-esque Male 2)

And Firo bites down on Idiot number 1’s head. (TL: She doesn’t eat it, just bites it like Sadaharu)

He thrashes around for a while, but finally gives up.

“I-it’s a monster!!!!” (Delinquent-esque Male)

“Please save me!” (Delinquent-esque Male)

Firo drops the Delinquent, and then takes the rope off of her neck.

“I’d prefer them a bit more salty. Also, they don’t look too healthy.” (Firo)

“…” (Delinquent-esque males.)

Firo really looks like she will eat them.

I hope she doesn’t start maturing in a strange direction.

“Firo, remember that Humans are not food.” (Raphtalia)

“Hm?” (Firo)

Though she’s like this, she’s still a Filo Rial. Her base mental Capabilities are not that high.

It’s a pain. I would have preferred it if her intelligence was even lower.

"Firo, when it comes to people, Children are tastier. They're softer."

(Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama, what are you teaching her!?" (Raphtalia)

In games and novels, monsters often use that line. I'll try using it here.
But Firo shakes her head violently.

"No!" (Firo)

"Firo learns faster if you bring up children." (Naofumi)

"I'm not sure if she even learned anything or not..." (Raphtalia)

"Anyways, Firo. It's better if you don't act like you eat people, unless we're threatening them." (Naofumi)

"Yeah. I thought I could get them to run away." (Firo)

So she understood what she was doing.

She's picking up things surprisingly well.

It's a pain if she gets too smart, but I guess she's doing well.

"What was that about being salty?" (Naofumi)

"That's what I felt when I licked him." (Firo)

... Let's pray she hasn't gotten a taste for humans.

We stop the Carriage at the Slave Dealer's acquaintance's house.

"Rishia, what will you do from here?" (Naofumi)

"I want to search for Itsuki-sama." (Rishia)

Rishia had been silent in thought for much of the journey. So this is the conclusion she has come to.

I already knew, but Rishia is still chasing after Itsuki.

The other heroes have had some of their comrades captured or killed. But there is no information on Itsuki.

From the beginning, there had been little information circulating about him anyways.

He tried to act like a hero and work under the radar.

"I understand. When night falls, we'll meet up back at this carriage. Until then, you are free to act on your own." (Naofumi)

"G-got it." (Rishia)

"What about Firo?" (Firo)

"I'm a little worried about Rishia travelling alone, so please follow her."
(Naofumi)

"Yes." (Firo)

I leave bodyguard duties to Firo, who is not in her human form.

Rishia has gotten strong, so I don't really have to worry, but the chances of her getting wrapped up in something strange is not zero.

It doesn't seem that this country keeps good public order.

"Also, Rishia." (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Rishia)

"Take off the costume." (Naofumi)

"I-I know!" (Rishia)

Though she says that, it seems she had forgotten about it up until that point.

I want to believe that she had simply forgot about it, and hadn't intended on walking through town dressed like that.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 156 – Dream Fulfilment

---

After parting with Rishia and Firo, Raphtalia and I head to the Slave Dealer. At the end of the back alley we see a big coliseum.

In front of this stone dome-like building are sturdy men keeping watch.

Looking at the people standing in line, it seems to be quite popular.

"This way, please." [Slave Dealer]

Walking to the back door, the Slave Dealer lightly greets the men keeping watch.

The men clear the way and let us pass.

"This is just a coliseum on the surface. In the basement, we deal with slaves behind the scenes. Yes." [Slave Dealer]

"Ho~..." [Naofumi]

"Well, in this country, most coliseums are like this. Depending on the Union, the traded goods differ. Yes." [Slave Dealer]

"And what about your place?" [Naofumi]

"Needless to say, I'm mainly practicing slave trade." [Slave Dealer]

Unrelated to Humans and Demi-Humans...

After walking a bit, we get to a staircase and go down.

We can hear the cheers from above echoing.

The coliseum seems to be quite popular.

"Above us are mercenaries and slaves..... we also have monsters in the coliseum. Yes." [Slave Dealer]

"You handle quite a lot." [Naofumi]

"Because of that, I've turned down all the other fights down on that day.

There will also be an eating contest. Yes." [Slave Dealer]

"I want to let Firo participate." [Naofumi]

It's worth it just to see how far that monster's appetite can go.

Free food and prize money.

Well... I wonder if there's a penalty for losing.

"That would be interesting to see. Maybe it can somehow be done. Yes."

[Slave Dealer]

The Slave Dealer gives a strange signal to a bulky man with his fingers. I'll just take you by your word then.

"It would also be good for the Hero of the Shield to enter the drinking contest, otherwise some would suspect that you are a fake." [Slave Dealer]

"To become famous here is one thing but....." [Naofumi]

By eating the Rukoru Fruit raw I should be able to win... but the moment I eat it people around me get nauseated. I don't want to eat in that situation. Also, I'm not sure to what extent I can handle alcohol.

The Hero of the Shield gets poisoned to death because of drinking too much wouldn't be funny even as a joke.

First of all, I don't really drink that much, so it shouldn't happen.

"And? Are we still not there yet?" [Naofumi]

"We should be almost there." [Slave Dealer]

Saying this while leaving the staircase to a stone corridor, numerous cages become visible.

There are more cages than in the tent of the Slave Dealer. Inside the cages are Human and Demi-Human slaves milling about aimlessly.

Inside this prison, there is a small room visible. There, a tough-looking guy and merchant are waiting.

"Oh.....Melromarks-" [Slave Merchant]

"U-Uncle..." [Slave Dealer]

I doubt my eyes. This person... is happily hugging the Slave Dealer in a family reunion.

While the Slave Dealer is a strange gentleman wearing a messy tailcoat and over-sized sunglasses, the Slave Merchant has the same build with almost the same face. The only differences are the tailcoat and the glasses.

"Naofumi-sama, are my eyes fooling me?" [Raphtalia]

"What a coincidence, mine are too." [Naofumi]

Family business is one thing, but what's up with them being this similar? Dangerous. I almost wanted to see how it would be like to have the whole family gathered together. It would be like some sort of twisted dream come true.

An anime I watched had a similar family business of sisters managing treatment facilities, it was...

Anyway, if they wore the same clothes, you wouldn't be able to tell them apart.

"While we're at it, I would like to introduce the Hero to my uncle. Yes."
[Slave Dealer]

"Well, if this isn't the Hero of the Shield. What a strange expression and eyes... I'm about to fall in love. Yes." [Slave Merchant]

"Stop it." [Naofumi]

Ugh. I'm really getting goose bumps. I want to get away from here as soon as possible.

However, to go back just like that would piss me off, so I try to keep patient and stop my feet from retreating.

"Your voice seems to be the kind that's good at handling slaves... I'm thrilled. Would you like to marry my daughter?" [Slave Merchant]

I try to imagine a woman that looks like the Slave Dealer.

"Give me a break..." [Naofumi]

"Right! Did you call Naofumi-sama just to say such stupid things?! "
[Raphtalia]

Raphtalia responds angrily.

Ah, she's looking for comrades from her village. It's understandable why she is so angry.

Please get more heated up so that he stops his idiotic jokes. (もっと拒め、そうすればうやむやにできる I don't fully understand the meaning of this one)

"Hahaha, that was a joke!" [Slave Merchant]

"Uncle is bad with people." [Slave Dealer]

"Not as bad as you." [Slave Merchant]

The two of them laugh.

Creepy...

"Back to the story." [Naofumi]

"Oh, right. What kind of goods did the Hero of the Shield want to offer?"
[Slave Dealer]

"What, straight to the point? I wanted to deepen the friendship between me and the Hero a bit more. Yes." [Slave Merchant]

"That depends on Uncle. Yes" [Slave Dealer]

Yes yes yes yes... How long will this question and answer play go on?
It's getting really troublesome. Is it okay to leave?

"Fumu... since you told me that he is the kind of person you'd fall in love with, I wondered what he was like. Now I understand." [Slave Merchant]
"How could I be so charming?!" [Naofumi]

After all, I don't understand the Slave Dealer's sense.

The reason for that is, no matter what I do, he always talks positively about it.

But, on the other hand, I always have to worry about what he does behind my back.

"Fufufu... no matter where you go, you have this sinister air around you. Yes." [Slave Dealer]

"Am I something like the incarnation of evil?" [Naofumi]

"No no, it's your quality as a slave user. It appeals to our eyes (lit. foresight)." [Slave Merchant]

"This person, instead of forcing his slaves to work under penalty of death (生かさず殺さず any better way to put this?), has the kind of charisma that makes his slaves fight to the death for him." [Slave Dealer]

Big bro~ food~.

Master~ food~.

Hero of the Shield~ food~.

Why did I suddenly think about feeding these guys?

Is this what you call charisma?

...You lose the moment you begin to mind it.

"Fumu, if it comes to this person here, let's pretend that that story never happened." [Slave Dealer]

"What?" [Naofumi]

"No no, don't mind it. Yes." [Slave Dealer]

"Did something happen? Yes." [Slave Merchant]

"Actually--" [Slave Dealer]

Both slave traders start to whisper.

Huh? Which one did we come here with again?

"Shiruru..."(シル——ル—— guess that's a whisper sound)

I couldn't even understand a bit.

What are they talking about?

"I see, of course you would refuse at such a time. Yes." [Slave Merchant]

"What are you talking about?" [Naofumi]

"How about trying it?" [Slave Merchant]

"Like that, it will be quite convincing." [Slave Dealer]

"Listen." [Naofumi]

The slave traders begin to laugh while looking at me. Stop it.

"Well with that, let us head this way please." [Slave Merchant]

The Slave Merchant of this country starts to guide us.

We follow him just like that.

What the heck did they talk about?!

"This way please." [Slave Merchant]

So, while being guided, we look at the cages and prisons from before.

It looks like in this prison, there is a female Demi-Human sitting in a moldy corner.

She has brown skin and quite a good face.

Her body is quite big.

With a large chest, you could call her an incredibly beautiful woman... right?

Her face also has quite a good complexion.

But, even saying this, she is not a slave that I am looking for.

"I'm not interested in slaves for sexual use." [Naofumi]

"No no, even among the different Demi-Human species(kikispecies?:キキ種), this one is quite good at battles." [Slave Merchant]

"Is it?" [Naofumi]

Somehow, he begins to wave his hands with a business smile on his face.
I somehow get a chill.

That slave...

She has the type of face that makes me want to involuntarily hit it.
No, with this one, I would get quite a lot of problems.

"It's probably quite expensive. I don't need it." [Naofumi]

The slave makes a stuffy expression after my reply.

"No no, I'll make you quite a cheap offer." [Slave Merchant]

"Even so..." [Naofumi]

Somehow, I don't like it. Or, to put it in a better way, I don't want to make her my slave.

Even as a slave, if I'm caught up in anything again later, her resemblance to Bitch is too high.

"Do you want to take a look at the next slave?" [Slave Merchant]

"Ah yes, my bad, but I have to refuse this one." [Naofumi]

"Why!" [Slave]

The slave yells.

Did that hurt her pride?

I don't understand the disgraceful (分際 any better way to put it?) behavior of this sex slave.

"You're just not a slave to my taste. That's all." [Naofumi]

"Pedophile!" [Slave]

Shout as much as you want (罵声が五月蠅いな just guessed here), however, while I'm at it...

I glare at the Slave Merchant.

He quickly evades my line of sight.

"Pedophile... It's almost as if she knew about me ahead of time, right?"

[Naofumi]

After my reply, the Slave Merchant just keeps his mouth tightly closed.

As I thought, there has to be a reason behind it.

Even so, looking at me objectively, all the slaves I bought are children, and most of them are female.

Although it's just a coincidence, it's starting to trouble me recently.

"Uhm, Naofumi-sama? What country's language did she use there?"

[Raphtalia]

"You don't know? [Naofumi]

"Yes." [Raphtalia]

I almost forgot that the shield has a translation function.

Since it seems that this world has multiple languages, it's quite useful that the shield seems to translate all of them.

As I heard the word in Melromark's spoken language... it seems like it's a word spoken in countries with many humans.

Could it be...

"Well, you don't have to concern yourself with it." [Naofumi]

"Why! Why would you reject me?!" [Slave]

Like that, we continue to follow the Slave Merchant while ignoring that self-proclaimed slave.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 157 – Purchase

---

“Next is this one.” (Slave Merchant)

I look into the next cage, and see another healthy-looking Demi-Human slave.

But it’s a child… a girl.

The child is giving off a suspicious smile and waving her hand at me.

“Ah. Rejected.” (Naofumi)

“Why!?” (Child)

Of course, she objects.

Even though she looks healthy, that doesn’t really matter to me.

Most of the slaves I bought were malnourished, and had dead eyes.

Even Kiel wouldn’t stop shaking unless Raphtalia was nearby.

Someone who’s never been bought. I can’t call this dreaming adventurer a slave.

And I reject every slave that I am led to, and they object to my rejection.

This continues for a while.

I already understand these people’s objectives.

I glare at the Slave Dealer. Both of them. They are both sweating heavily.

“Yo.” (Naofumi)

“It’s unfortunate that there is nothing here to the Hero of the Shield’s liking.

Yes.” (Slave Dealer)

“*Sigh*... There’s no choice. I didn’t want to have to use this, but...”
(Naofumi)

I go towards the Child slave I was shown before.

“Oy, what are you planning. This is the Hero of the Shield’s orders. Resist and your country will be ruined.” (Naofumi)

I call out in a Yakuza-like voice.

I don’t think I’ve had to use it recently. The last time I had to was with the accessory merchant.

“Hiii... P-papa said... Become the Shield Hero’s bride, but the Hero only trusts slaves, so to get closer to you I went to a good merchant, and...”
(Kid Slave)

In response to my stare, the child slave answers in fear.
But as she is a small child, there’s no helping it.

“... And you’re okay with that?” (Naofumi)

“Eh?” (Kid Slave)

“Even though it’s for your family, do you really want to become the bride of someone you don’t even know? (Naofumi)

She’s even smaller than Raphtalia when I met her.

It feels unpleasant that someone wanted to use a kid this small to gain status.

“Anyways, just go home and tell them you were seen through. And if they aren’t satisfied, tell them that the Hero of the Shield only takes on people who actually need help.” (Naofumi)

It seems that quite a few slaves are here for that purpose.

The Slave Dealers are sweating profusely.

“And that’s how it is. I don’t want any of your merchandise.” (Naofumi)

It seems this was supposed to be a sort of marriage interview.

These people were only slaves in name, and were truly the children of nobles who wanted to get closer to me.

“I believe that my name holds some level of power. Should I write a letter of complaint directed at your enterprise?” (Naofumi)

“I understand. Yes. I think the other side will back off. Yes.” (Slave Merchant)

“As expected of the Hero of the Shield. You were able to see through the fake slaves in an instant. My heart is racing.” (Slave Dealer)

“Stay Away!” (Naofumi)

It was blatantly obvious that they weren’t slaves.

Put in more effort if you want to conceal them.

“How deplorable…” (Raphtalia)

Even Raphtalia is fed up.

“Don’t think it’s that easy to seduce Naofumi-sama… If he was that easy, then I wouldn’t be having so much trouble.” (Raphtalia)

Hm? What is she saying?

"Do you have anyone else? If you brought me here for nothing, I will get mad." (Naofumi)

"Of course we have more. That is our main business you know." (Slave Merchant)

"... Don't try to fool me again." (Naofumi)

That's why I don't like involving myself with these people.

"Does the Hero of the Shield have any specifications?" (Slave Merchant)

"Right now I am looking for slaves that can do skilled work. Also anyone who was from Raphtalia's village." (Naofumi)

I have already gathered several skilled individuals, but I need more people. We now have a medicine and clothing store, so perhaps I can get some people to learn those trades.

Imya is doing well, and I'd like a few more people like her.

"I see, then please step over here." (Slave Merchant)

"No lies, okay?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, I know." (Slave Dealer)

"Are you Raphtalia? Would that make your village that one that got hit in the first wave?" (Slave Merchant)

"Yes. It may be a difficult request, but do you have anyone?" (Raphtalia)

"I have already heard from my nephew and prepared some. Please wait a second." (Slave Merchant)

The Slave Dealers bring out... some from a familiar race.

"So there are Lemos here as well." (Naofumi)

"We have everything to fit your needs." (Slave Merchant)

So these are skilled slaves... There seems to be octopus Demi-Human among them.

"These individual is from the Opuscot Race. They are an aquatic race of Beastmen." (Slave Merchant)

"They look like monsters." (Naofumi)

"It pains me to hear you say that. We also have Kafe Race slaves Prepared."
(Slave Merchant)

This one looks like a dolphin... Albeit a bipedal dolphin.

There sure are quite a few types of Demi-Humans.

In such a war-stricken country they have collected a wide variety of slaves.

"My village is right next to the sea, so there shouldn't be a problem."
(Naofumi)

"Then I will prepare some for you. Would you prefer to have children?"
(Slave Merchant)

"I don't have such a preference. As long as they can do work, there isn't a problem." (Naofumi)

Ah, right.

"There are a lot of Lemos here. Please sort them out." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Slave Merchant)

I look at the large group of Lemos.

"Does anyone here know a child called Imya?" (Naofumi)

It would be best if they had someone familiar to help them get used to the village.

So I'll try to find people who know Imya.

"'Tis a common name. Just from that, we cannot be sure." (Lemo Slave)

... I guess it is a common name.

What was her full name again?

Lu... I can't remember.

I guess I should give up. I thought it was a good idea, but...

"Imya Lucullan Lisella Tereti Quariz-chan, Naofumi-sama." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia casually says Imya's real name.

Just how good is her memory?

Raphtalia may be more high-spec than I thought.

Though she is turning into a militaristic character as of late.

"Quariz's Imya!?" (Lemo Slave)

"Do you know her?" (Naofumi)

"There are quite a few people here from the same village." (Lemo Slave)

"Then I'll take those people." (Naofumi)

"I understand. Yes." (Slave Merchant)

"Oi, just who are you?" (Lemo Slave)

"Can't you tell? I'm a simple slave user." (Naofumi)

I don't want to cause a commotion here.

It would be a pain, so I won't say anything.

"So you're hiding it..." (Raphtalia)

"Is Imya healthy?" (Lemo Slave)

"Yes, she is working hard in our village." (Raphtalia)

She answered honestly.

I hope this doesn't cause any problems.

"I see. I can't wait to meet her again." (Lemo Slave)

For her long name to come in handy here, I guess I should pay more attention to the small details.

After that, Raphtalia was able to find 3 of her fellow villagers.

The first one was an Orca-like Beastman.

Her name was apparently Sadina.

I believe I heard her name when Raphtalia was talking to Kiel.

I can't really read her expression... her figure is large in all directions.

She's not fat, she's just giant. Apparently she is average sized for her race.

Somehow, I can imagine her standing out in that village.

"Sadina-nee-chan was a fisherman." (Raphtalia)

"Nice to meet you, I'm surprised that Raphtalia got so big." (Sadina)

"I've heard about you... but why have you become a slave?" (Naofumi)

"Well... I could have escaped into the sea alone, but... I got captured when I tried to protect the children." (Sadina)

So she's similar to Firo.

Anyways, can she be classified as human?

Beastmen display their race traits more readily than other Demi-Humans.

"Did you stand out in the village?" (Naofumi)

All of the villagers I've seen so far have been Demi-Humans. No Beastmen so far.

And most were of dog or cat-like races.

Now that I think of it, I haven't seen any other Tanukis like Raphtalia yet.

"Like Raphtalia's parents, I was a wanderer who only stopped by occasionally." (Sadina)

"I see." (Naofumi)

So it was a village kind to strangers.

It seems the previous feudal lord was supposed to be quite wise.

And as such the entire region fell to ruin upon his absence.

"Well... I guess that's that..." (Naofumi)

My wallet is crying. It will be difficult to purchase anything else.

"Thank you very much." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia lowers her head towards me.

"Don't worry about it. You've performed duties worthy of this sort of reward." (Naofumi)

"Truly, thanks..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia firmly grasps my hand in tears.

I owe her much more than just this.

"Then I guess it's time to go home." (Naofumi)

"Please wait a second." (Slave Merchant)

The Slave Dealer of this country stops me.

"What? Is there anything else?" (Naofumi)

"Before you embark on the journey back, there is a slave you must see."
(Slave Merchant)

"I don't want to see any more marriage candidates. I know it's your job, but please leave it at that." (Naofumi)

"No, not that... It's today's main attraction." (Slave Merchant)

"You do know my financial state, right?" (Naofumi)

"It's an amazing slave child, I think you will be able to put it to great use, so I'll make it cheap." (Slave Merchant)

Cheap...

I don't know whether the slave will be helpful or not, though.

I guess looking won't hurt.

I'll have to Weapon Copy the Old Man's new shield instead of buying it at this rate.

"I understand." (Naofumi)

I follow the Slave Dealers further while being followed closely by my new slaves.

TL: Opuscot is an anagram of Octopus. The Japanese is Kato, a anagram of Tako, the japanese word for octopus. I don't know what Kafe is an anagram of, so I left is the same as the original.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 158 – Medicine of the Sacred Tree

---

Slave Dealer: “Here we are.”

I was shown a group of slaves who were kept away due to illness. They were kept in poor conditions similar to those in the Tent at Melromark. Since there was no sign of their health being taken care of, their mental health also suffered.

Naofumi: “Wait for just a moment.”

I gesture to a sick slave and approach the cell. Even though the slave hesitates, as I take out medicine from the shield, it is snatched instantly. There wouldn't be much loss, since the medicine is cheap.

Naofumi: “Open your mouth.”

The medicine given to the first slave starts affecting the surrounding slaves due to the effect: [Range Expansion (small)]. While the medicine was cheap, it was still able to heal the slaves since their illnesses were only superficial.

Slave 1: “....”

Slave 2: “No way, it's a miracle!”

The medicine's effect seems to have worked, as the slaves skin color gradually returns.

Slave Dealer: "As expected of Hero of the Shield... giving strength to sick slaves at a bargain price instead of paying more for healthy ones!"

A voice of admiration was let out by the Slave Dealer.

Naofumi: "I had no intention of looking after slaves that can't be healed, since I am no saint. Show me around quickly."

I told the Slave Dealer, while giving out medicine as needed.

Slave Dealer: "As expected, you are truly a god of Demi-Humans."

Naofumi: "So noisy."

For the sake of my mental health, I gave medicine to whoever needed it, even in this world that thrives on commercialism.

Slave Dealer: "I think you understand."

Even if I understand, even if I lose profit!

Naofumi: "It still feels unpleasant."

The Slave Dealer begins skipping along.

How irritating!

However, at that moment... I was about to meet certain slaves.
It was a fateful encounter, different than the one with Raphtalia.

Slave Dealer: "Here they are."

Within the cell was a pair of Demi-Human siblings.

The boy seemed to be around 12 years old and appears to be healthy.

On the other hand, the girl is lying down in the opposite direction.

It was difficult to see in the cell. The floor was covered in straw and had one blanket.

The girl seems to be in a bad state.

Brother: "Keho... Keho..." (Yoraikun: Coughing sound)

I took a glance at the boy whose hair color entered my sight.

His hair was black and white and with just a glance, I could grasp that he was of a higher quality than the other slaves.

While his pupils were blue... a portion of his iris had vertical stripes which made me think of a cat's.

The whites of his eyes gave off an intimidating look and his savage facial expression spoke of his wild nature.

His ears were thick and roundish for a cat, and his tail had impressive black and white stripes.

Naofumi: "Seems expensive for a child."

Slave Dealer: "As expected of a hero, who takes immediately considers price even during first impressions."

Raphtalia was cheap in my opinion. Well, it's better to calculate price before performance.

Naofumi: "Doesn't he seem unique?"

Slave Dealer: "In a way. Yes."

Naofumi: "Compared to other Demi-Human slaves, there's something different about him."

Slave Dealer: "Yes, this is a famous species called the Hakuko."

Naofumi: "The Hakuko..."

Is it a white tiger subspecies?

The white tiger was a powerful animal in my world with enormous physical strength.

Slave Dealer: "The name was said to be given by the Four Heroes of ancient times."

Hakuko... why was it named in a provincial accent?

From Calmira Island, I learned that all of the past heroes had horrible naming sense.

Well, Firo isn't a name that I could be proud of either. Firo... Firorial...

Naofumi: "It passes. How much will it cost?"

Slave Dealer: "Would you like to see its stats?"

Naofumi: "I don't think he's that strong, but can his level and statistics be seen?"

According to the document given to me, the brother's level is surprisingly high.

However, his appearance is fairly young for a level 32.

If he was a member of my village, he would be fairly tall by level 30.

Naofumi: "His level is higher than expected, but are there any racial or individual differences for this kid?"

Slave Dealer: "The reason he is still a child at this level is because his race is special. Level 60 is his race's max limit and they can class up starting at level 50."

Naofumi: "So when he becomes an adult, he will get stronger?"

Slave Dealer: "That's correct."

Does this kid belong to a powerful race?

Although class ups are usually only possible at level 40 for even someone like Firo, what will happen when this guy classes up?

This kid sparks my interest.

By the way, the younger sister is level 1.

Slave Dealer: "The Hakoku are famous for acting against the plans of a hero called the Sage King of Melromarc in the past."

The example is wasted because that is a person I hold in low regard. Still, maybe he became foolish because of his power...

Raphtalia: "Even if he's called the Sage King..."

Naofumi: "Even if that guy wasn't there, Melromarc wouldn't be affected at all."

Slave Dealer: "Well whatever, even if you don't respect the Sage King, the Hakoku is a race that is counted among the Five Fingers of this world, a difficult feat indeed."

In any case, it would be a waste to miss this opportunity of greatly increasing my war potential. If I run into an opponent with tricky defense, the Hakoku's power may be a necessary weapon in my arsenal. That's assuming of course that they truly have that much potential power.

The Slave Dealer whispered into Naofumi's ear so that the siblings wouldn't hear.

Slave Dealer: "Although the elder brother is healthy, the younger sister suffers from a hereditary illness. She cannot see, she cannot walk, and she has a short life expectancy. However, the elder brother still cherishes the younger sister."

Even if he becomes a slave, he will still try to protect his sickly younger sister like some sort of hero.

Even if he was the bad guy in a manga, he would still be a popular character even if he's not the main character.

Furthermore, he also has the power of the Hakoku race. I'm a little interested in this fellow.

Naofumi: "Hmm."

Slave Dealer: "I have a plan. You can separate the siblings while the elder brother works for you. After the younger sister dies, we can make the elder brother believe that she is hospitalized in a clinic by imitating her voice. I've heard that you have a monster that is good at mimicking voices, yes?."

Was the vocal mimicry in one of my monster that good?

Although I am always peddling or fighting like the other heroes... Firo could have become a hit singer.

When she's in a good mood, Firo sing the song that the bard had just sung if we were at a bar.

Slave Dealer: "The brother will continue to fight thinking that his sister is alive, and will keep fighting until he dies."

An evil mob-boss-like proposal was made.

It would end up being an endless betrayal flag.

That's right. Then is saving both of the siblings how to reach the good ending?

Even if it was a joke, there's no need to become an enemy of the state.

Naofumi: "That is why a Slave Dealer like you can only amount to this much. Let me show you how it's done."

I gestured to the Slave Dealer to open the cell.

Brother: "What are you planning!"

Naofumi: "Whatever, just be quiet for now."

I enter the cell while approaching the younger sister who lying down in the back.

Brother: "Stop! Don't you lay a hand on Atlas!"

Atlas... That's a new name... In my world, it had many meanings such as a game or map.

Was it ever a girl's name?

The elder brother kept getting in the way, so I took out and showed him some medicine.

Naofumi: "I'm only going to give her medicine. Have you seen this kind of medicine before?"

The medicine was made using the Shield. I'm not actually able to make it myself yet.

It was a skill that came from the Sacred Tree Shield of the Spirit turtle... Making it was possible because of a recipe called Medicine of Miracles.

-----
Sacred Tree Shield of the Spirit turtle 0/40 C

Ability Unsealed

Equipment Bonus: Recipe: Medicine of Miracles.

Unique Effect: Divine Protection of the Sacred tree

Proficiency 0
-----

The effects of the shield were still unknown, but it seems to have something to do with a plant.

The medicine can only be made once for now. Some ointment, magic water, soul healing water and a few others ingredients were mixed together into a supernatant fluid with the toxic parts being filtered by exquisite distribution... in other words... it's sap from the Sacred Tree.

Tons of medicine had been used up in the process of creating the Medicine of Miracles. Preparing it involved a great deal of trial and error.

Trying to make it would be considered reckless by any drug store. It is so difficult to make that I could I barely make one, even with the power of the shield.

It is an extremely valuable medicine and it goes by the name... Yggdrasil.

Speaking of the Yggdrasil medicine, it's the same medicine that that cheerful Old Hag took saying that it wasn't strong enough.

In the case of a game, there would be of the Mega Elixir class.

Just how much money did that Old Hag think was spent for her to drink such valuable medicine?

For an adventurer that was retired in the countryside, the son must have been pretty foolish to spend that much money. Does he even care?

Well, in any case, the medicine is an extremely powerful one that cures most illnesses.

Naofumi: "I am going to be the owner of both of you. This medicine is a powerful medicine that will heal your sister. You can repay me the cost of this medicine with your life."

The pharmacist told me that it had an unbelievable price according to market value.

However, when it comes down to life that cannot be saved without it, people would do anything to get it.

Its powerful effect has many people asking for it. Although it would end up being bought for an incredibly high price, its power of practically giving life to the dying makes it much more important to keep rather than sell. It's better to keep a strong ally alive than it is to make money, which can be done at any time.

Brother: "... It's not a lie?"

Naofumi: "Can't you tell by its smell?"

The elder brother took a sniff of the medicinal smell.

He soon raised his face and cried!

Brother: "It's Yggdrasil medicine!"

Naofumi: "Correct"

Is he a dog or something? Does this place really have such excellent races?

Brother: "It still doesn't mean that there isn't poison in it!"

Naofumi: "How can you be alive while suspecting all medicine? Do you suspect that all the medicine given to your sister has been poisoned too?"

Brother: "..."

Naofumi: "I may not be trusted and I don't need to give the medicine to your sister, but isn't she in pain? Doesn't that mean anything to you?"

Brother: "..."

The elder brother groans regretfully.

Atlas: "Is someone here?"

The girl slowly turned her head while coughing.

They said that she couldn't see. She can only determine where we are by our voices.

Atlas: "I think... although his voice seems powerful and forceful... it is actually very gentle. Elder brother... how do you see it?"

Brother: "Ah... come on... how can that be..."

Atlas: "Even though such great power is felt..."

Slowly, the girl turns herself towards me.

The elder brother reluctantly guides her hand to approach me.

I approached the girl called Atlas.

How terrible. Her entire body is covered in bandages so that I couldn't even see her real face.

Her skin was also covered with festering sores, so much so that it's a wonder she's even alive...

Although her ears and tail were probably of the same race as her elder brother, it was difficult to say for sure.

Atlas: "You came for business..."

Naofumi: "You somewhat understand."

Atlas: "Yes... you want me to act as a hostage for my elder brother..."

To understand this much... and yet... her tone was of one who has given up.

Atlas: "Owner of the gentle voice... would you please tell me your name?"

Naofumi: "Naofumi."

Atlas: "Naofumi."

Her pronunciation was excellent, as she was the first one to say my name correctly.

Atlas: "Naofumi... if you can... please cherish my elder brother."

Brother: "Atlas! What are you trying to say!?"

Probably, she knew about her situation but wanted to ask for just this one small request.

Naofumi: "Unfortunately, I have no intention of listening to that request..."

Atlas: "Is that so..."

Naofumi: "...since I'm going to be taking care of you as well. I'm sure you know what this medicine is."

Atlas: "Ah... this is..."

Although she tried to say more, Atlas just nodded to my words while drinking the Yggdrasil medicine given to her.

The elder brother clenched his fist, but was stopped by Atlas without being able to complain.

Atlas: "Ku ... N ..."

Atlas drank the medicine obediently.

A strange and exceedingly expansive light from the medicine effect was emitted.

Is it because of the Sacred Tree Shield of the Spirit Turtle? It's obvious that the Shield clearly affects the power of medicine. It would not be funny if its effects have risen even further.

Atlas: "Fu~u... Fu~u..."

The medicine was effective and her breathing has become quiet.

Atlas: "W... hat? My body feels much lighter."

Brother: "Atlas..."

Atlas: "The back of my body feels warm and my skin is itchy."

Naofumi: "The medicine is effective, but since it takes time to fully work, you'll need to sleep obediently"

Atlas: "Yes... but... I'm not used to this... Thank you..."

I stood up and left the cell.

Naofumi: "Now then what is your name?"

The elder brother hides his face while staring at me.

Naofumi: "I see... Atlas? What a bad place this is to sleep..."

Brother: "It's Fohl!"

Naofumi: "I see... well, now you're my slave. As you can see, the medicine has worked.."

Fohl: "...Fine. It seems the medicine was real. I'll work off the cost of it."

Fohl answers reluctantly.

Even after I helped him this is what I get.

It seems that Fohl is a considerable siskon.

Naofumi: "So you admit that it worked?"

Fouru: "Maybe... but I'll never hand over my younger sister to... you."

Raphtalia: "What is that? It seems that the younger sister liking Naofumi has sparked his jealousy."

Fohl: " What! No! It's different! For this woman to say such a rude thing!"

Fohl bellowed and pointed at Raphtalia.

It's normal for this kid to not know his place. When he arrives at my village, I will give him proper Spartan training. I am looking forward to his growth.

The Yggdrasil medicine is the medicine that cured that grandma. If it can heal that old lady, it should be able to cure this younger sister. If the younger sister can be cured, my military power will be greatly increased. You could even say that the price of the medicine was worth it.

Raphtalia: "It's okay, Naofumi is not a bad person."

Raphtalia shows a small smile to Fohl.

Naofumi: "I'll perform the slave registration later."

Slave Dealer: "As you request."

In this way, I opted for the siblings purchase.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 159 – Perfect Hidden Justice

---

I apply my blood to the slave sealing ink and leave the rest to the slave dealers.

“Don’t register something else with it like last time.” (Naofumi)

“I already understand.” (Slave Dealer)

I’ll file a complaint if I get another random slave mixed in.

“Now then, while the registration happens, you will have free time, so why not check the Coliseum upstairs? Yes.” (Slave Merchant)

“Fine.” (Naofumi)

On the Slave Merchant’s orders, the Slave Dealer begins to lead me towards the Coliseum.

And, with nothing else to do, we follow him.

According to the Slave Dealer, today they are holding free matches.

Anyone can enter if they want money.

The spectators bet on who will win, and many will lose all of their money.

We get out of the dungeon area, and begin climbing some stairs.

“The crowd is quite large.” (Naofumi)

The matches have yet to start, and the reception desk is quite lively.

The atmosphere is like that of a baseball stadium.

“For my uncle’s work, I will be drawing in customers. Yes.” (Slave Dealer)

“This place seems to have a lot of money circulating around.” (Naofumi)

"Hero-sama should participate as well." (Slave Dealer)

"And why would I do that?" (Naofumi)

I can only defend, so how the hell am I supposed to win?

"There are also team games. I'm sure you will be a popular competitor."
(Slave Dealer)

"I'll consider it based on the rewards." (Naofumi)

I might be able to make a bit of money here...

If Raphtalia and Firo fight with me, I don't see how we would lose.

"Another Coliseum we manage has special events for monsters. Yes.
Perhaps you may be interested in entering your Filo Rial there." (Slave Dealer)

If Taniko or Rat heard of that, they'd throw a fit. They're both against the exploitation of monsters.

Having Firo fight for money doesn't sound bad though.

"I'll consider it." (Naofumi)

"I'll wait for a favorable response. Yes." (Slave Dealer)

The Slave Dealer leads us to some spectator seats reserved for him.

The seats are right above the Competitor waiting room. We can see the entire stadium from here.

Hmm... There are quite a few people with evil eyes. Quite a few of them look very muscular.

... And there I witnessed something I hadn't been expecting.

"I-Itsuki!?" (Naofumi)

Mixed in with the other contestants is, without a doubt, Itsuki.

I get up and head down towards the field.

"Is something wrong? Yes." (Slave Dealer)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

I tell the Slave Dealer that I saw the Hero of the Bow among the contestants.

"Here, anyone can enter the games, so it's not odd for a hero to participate. Yes." (Slave Dealer)

"Don't they have to register themselves?" (Naofumi)

"Participants can register under any name they wish." (Slave Dealer)

"What is he registered as?" (Naofumi)

I read out the number printed on Itsuki's chest.

"Um..." (Slave Dealer)

The Slave Dealer receives a list from a muscular man with a sack over his head.

"That number, 982.. That person seems to be registered under 『Perfect Hidden Justice』 ." (Slave Dealer)

I thought I would fall over.

So jokes really can make people fall over.

Perfect Hidden Justice!? What sort of bad joke is that?

Not even someone with Chuunibyou would use that one.

(TL: The imagination begins to explosively develop in the eighth grade.)

Doesn't he feel embarrassed? Even I'm feeling embarrassed here.

"Can you arrange to talk with him?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, my authority will allow it." (Slave Dealer)

The Slave merchant gives orders to his subordinates, and we are led to the contestant waiting room.

"Oy. Been a while." (Naofumi)

I call out to Itsuki.

I could have called Rishia, but I wouldn't be able to talk to him after the game started.

I'll find her later.

"I... right... everyone..." (Itsuki)

"Oy." (Naofumi)

"Yes, everyone's looking at me... yes. Everyone... looks at me..." (Itsuki)

"Listen when someone's talking to you!" (Naofumi)

Itsuki continues to mumble something to himself. I can't really tell what he's saying.

I hear a gong-like sound from the center of the Coliseum.

"I'm... a Hero of Justice!" (Itsuki)

My words don't even register to him. Itsuki follows the other competitors and leaves the room.

"The hell is up with him?" (Naofumi)

It's as if he didn't even notice me.

"Well... I looked into that competitor, but he seems to visit a coliseum every day. Yes." (Slave Dealer)

"Is that so?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. He has made himself known in this country as a mysterious archer. He has been recorded to become ecstatic when he hears applause." (Slave Dealer)

"...Did something happen?" (Naofumi)

His desire for praise had always been strong, but now he sounds like a mental patient.

What could have drawn him down to that level?

I can kinda imagine what his experience with the Turtle must have been like.

"Shadow." (Naofumi)

Let's see if she's here.

(TL: This is gender-neutral in Japanese, but it seems public consensus is that Shadow is female.)

"What is it-gojaru?" (Shadow)

... She really appeared.

"The ride on the Hero of the Shield's carriage was terrible-gojaru."
(Shadow)

If I worry about it I won't get anywhere. I won't confront her on the matter.

"Why were you unable to locate Itsuki when he's in such plain sight?"

(Naofumi)

"The Hero of the Bow has a habit of concealing himself, so there was little information on his appearance and location being circulated-gojaru."

(Shadow)

Well, that's true. The Heroes have changeable weapons, and common faces. If they change to a common weapon, then they are unidentifiable from the rest.

Though he still uses a bow, I guess he is smart enough not to change it in battle.

"Do you think you can capture him here?" (Naofumi)

"The Queen has given an order to keep tabs on him, but to wait until an order is given. That Hero is good at running and hiding-gojaru." (Shadow)

"Well, that's true... can you continue following him?" (Naofumi)

"I'll do that-gojaru. However our personnel has decreased from that time with the Spirit Turtle. I cannot call for reinforcements." (Shadow)

"Understood. Ah, right." (Naofumi)

I turn to Raphtalia

"Raphtalia, should we report this to Rishia?" (Naofumi)

"No! Absolutely not. If Rishia sees the Hero of the Bow acting like that, she'll develop a mental trauma." (Raphtalia)

"I... see..." (Naofumi)

He seems to have become mentally crippled, fighting in the coliseum only for praise.

If Rishia met Itsuki like that, there's no telling what will happen.

There's a possibility she will continue trying to talk to him and... Perhaps snap and stab him?

(TL: He really says, and I don't know what will result)

I can only see bad endings to that scenario.

And where are his comrades?

"Anyways, I'll start my investigation-gojaru." (Shadow)

"Ah, if you find anything out, please report it to me." (Naofumi)

"Understood-gojaru." (Shadow)

"Now then what should we do about Rishia?" (Naofumi)

"I'll meet up with her, and keep her away, so please... keep it a secret."

(Raphtalia)

"Understood, leave it to you." (Naofumi)

I use the slave system to track down Rishia. It gives me a general idea of her location.

I can't use it to find people who aren't in my party, and I can't use it to find people who are too far away.

"It seems she's in the Plaza south of here. I'll leave it to you, Raphtalia."

(Naofumi)

"Understood. I'll definitely keep her away." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia runs off.

Those two do get along quite well.

"Anyways... I wonder what happened to him." (Naofumi)

"Ah, about that-gojaru. We have some witness testimonies from the soldiers from the Spirit Turtle Village.” (Shadow)

“You should have brought that up sooner.” (Naofumi)

“Even though I say that, it’s information you probably already inferred.

Apparently the order in which the seal statues were destroyed was first, the Hero of the Bow; second, the Hero of the Spear; third, The Hero of the Sword-gojaru.” (Shadow)

“I see…” (Naofumi)

Ren’s story did give off the feeling that the turtle awakened almost immediately after he destroyed the statue.

“The Hero of the Bow was the first one to cause a commotion, and all of his companions were with him, or so it was recorded-gojaru.” (Shadow)

“What do you mean?” (Naofumi)

“…The Hero of the Bow destroyed a statue half a day before the other two. After that, taking advantage of the commotion, numerous treasure hunters began plundering the nearby ruins causing mass confusion. The Hero of the Spear used the chaos to enter a temple and break a statue, and almost immediately following him the Hero of the Sword destroyed one as well-gojaru.” (Shadow)

“So Itsuki and friends were apprehended after they first broke a statue, and had this action recorded by the area’s soldiers?” (Naofumi)

“And after a while, the Spirit Turtle awakened just as the Hero of the Bow testified-gojaru. In a panic, the guards released him so he could go fight it-gojaru.” (Shadow)

And after that he went missing.

Something must have caused the time lag in the Spirit Turtle’s awakening. That kid is a mass of half-assed justice.

What could have caused him to have to break laws with his Justice?

So the reason Ren and Elena were able to enter so easily was because of the Chaos caused by Itsuki's group.

The game starts, and I watch Itsuki fight.

I thought that a long range weapon would make the match unfair, but the playing field was a narrow maze where one would be unable to build up distance. He was at a disadvantage.

But Itsuki is easily able to win.

So he's at least stronger than the average fighter.

But his eyes look strange. Whenever the crowd gets louder, he raises both of his arms in the air and shouts out.

Is that really Itsuki?

The Itsuki I know is just a bit more mature. He was a relatively docile hypocrite.

I haven't talked to him yet, so the cause is still a mystery.

Though I'm not sure if he'll actually say anything.

I guess I should at least try.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 160 – Return to the Village

---

After Itsuki's game ended, the coliseum continued to host other events but I didn't feel like watching.

"I heard that the weapon shops here had a wide variety. I'm going to go check them out." (Naofumi)

"Should I show you around? Yes." (Slave Dealer)

"Yeah... I'll leave it to you." (Naofumi)

It's quite a bustling city. I think that it will be easy to get lost.

"Then, you there, please lead him around." (Slave Dealer)

A large muscular man raises his hand to announce his presence.

I follow him and arrive at the biggest market area in the city.

It reminds me of a mall from the other world.

"Well, well. If it isn't the Hero of the Shield." (Accessory Merchant)

"I don't know you." (Naofumi)

The Accessory merchant beckons to me from a nearby store. I act oblivious.

"This is one of the stores I manage. I'd definitely like to show off some of my wares." (Accessory Merchant)

So it's his own store.

I can see some rubys on sale.

If I keep ignoring him here, I may come to regret it later.

I take a deep sigh and enter the store.

"You have quite a big store here." (Naofumi)

"Yes, is there anything you are particularly looking for?" (Accessory Merchant)

"I'm looking for weapons and armor." (Naofumi)

"Then you will want the second floor. Are you certain you have no interest in the accessories on the first floor?" (Accessory Merchant)

I scan the store's interior. Sparkling gems are displayed in multiple cases and hung all over the walls. It's too bright.

"I'm not interested." (Naofumi)

"By the way, is Hero-sama still using the techniques I taught you? You can't make good equipment if you let your skills dull." (Accessory Merchant)

"I use them occasionally." (Naofumi)

I've made some accessories for the slaves out of monster materials.

Most of them now wear items made of monster bone.

The bone makes for quite potent accessories, giving numerous bonus effects. They also deteriorate slowly. The downside is that they don't grant much stat boosts.

"Here, though it may look rough." (Naofumi)

I hand over an accessory I had randomly made in my free time.

"Wow! A bone accessory!?" (Accessory Merchant)

"... Is something wrong?" (Naofumi)

"What are you saying... The materials used to make it may be cheap, but the bonuses it grants will make it sell high among adventurers." (Accessory Merchant)

"It's definitely cheap, but I've been practicing my design skills." (Naofumi)

"Obviously! By the way, is it true that you've recently acquired a large amount of land?" (Accessory Merchant)

"... If you want to set up a store there, then just go over." (Naofumi)

"I still have contracts here, you know!" (Accessory merchant)

The accessory merchant's eyes shine with an evil light as he says this.
I hesitate before proceeding. Anyone would.

"Anyways, if you come over, make sure not to interfere with reconstruction. " (Naofumi)

"I know... Fufufu..." (Accessory Merchant)

Why is it that all the merchants I meet seem evil?

"How goes the selling of the Miraka accessories?" (Naofumi)

"They're quite popular. After all, a great calamity did just occur... Even average civilians have begun training to protect themselves." (Accessory Merchant)

So his profit has increased.

"Well, I'm going off to check the weapon selection." (Naofumi)

"I look forwards to our next meeting." (Accessory Merchant)

"Yes, Yes." (Naofumi)

It enervates me dealing with this type of merchant.

I think as I proceed to the second floor.

Weapons are displayed everywhere like in an exhibition.

There are also various articles of clothing.

...hmm. There are some familiar weapons, such as the Meteor Iron Sword and the Meteor Iron Lance. They're on sale for a bargain price.

Oh? There's also Spirit Turtle armor here.

The variety here isn't much different from Melromark.

And the price is exponentially higher.

Well I guess the price of imports are higher than they are in their original country.

... I look around for shields, but I don't see many that I haven't seen at the Old Man's shop.

Well, there are a few unfamiliar shields. I guess I'll try touching one.

"Ah, can I try equipping this shield for a second?" (Naofumi)

"Go ahead." (Store Clerk)

With the clerk's consent, I lift up the unfamiliar shield. Weapon Copy activates.

Spike Shield, Frisbee Shield, Jewel Shield, Platinum Shield.

I copy all of the weapons unfamiliar to me.

I wonder how powerful these new additions are.

I haven't really been fighting as of late... My stats are still effected by the curse.

I remember the Old Man saying that Spirit Turtle Materials were hard to work with, but that seems to be true.

In this large store, I don't see any weapons made of the material.

"Hm?" (Naofumi)

I notice an item marked as 'Not for Sale'.

It's a single edged sword... With a glance, I can tell it is made for Spirit Turtle parts.

I try to appraise it.

Spirit Turtle Sword.

Quality ...

It's no good. My appraisal level isn't high enough to get any info.

But I can see that it is quite skillfully made... It's even being kept from sale.

Perhaps it shall be put up for auction in the near future.

So there really are skilled craftsmen in this world. However as I have no money, it doesn't really concern me.

I'll tell the Old Man about it later.

And so I stayed a little longer, then left

"You're already back?" (Rishia)

As I return, I see Rishia waiting at our meeting spot with a depressed expression.

"I need to get the slaves I bought to the village. I don't have any money for an inn for them all." (Naofumi)

I could just leave them at the Slave Merchant's place and pick them up later, or I could send them back with Firo, but... I don't want to risk Rishia finding Itsuki so it's probably best to leave early.

Raphtalia is comforting Rishia while sweating profusely.

"Hey hey hey, why is Raphtalia Onee-chan..." (Firo)

"Quiet, bird." (Naofumi)

Firo stares at Raphtalia and enters Inquisition Mode, but I use her slave seal to stop her.

"Mu..." (Firo)

Firo tries to raise a complaint, but I keep her quiet.

If things go wrong here, Rishia will develop a mental trauma.

Her mental breakdown flag has been raised for a while, but I don't want it to go off now.

After Itsuki... is able to collect himself some more, I can let Rishia deal with him.

I'm a little hesitant letting them meet. For moral reasons.

Rishia seems to hold a fantasy-like image of Itsuki.

I think their personalities will prevent them from making up.

That won't help Rishia's motivation at all.

But I guess I'll at least ask.

"Rishia." (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Rishia)

"You want to become strong so that Itsuki recognizes you, correct?"

(Naofumi)

"Yes." (Rishia)

"Then you'll still work to become stronger from here on out?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. I still have a long way to go. I want to get strong enough to fight alongside Itsuki-sama." (Rishia)

And that's why I can't let them meet now.

For Itsuki's sake and for Rishia's sake.

Though I only really care about the latter.

If they meet now, both of them will only suffer.

And so we all keep silent and turn our backs to Rishia.

We load the new slaves onto the carriage, and prepare set off.

There are now three carriages connected to Firo.

And she is having more fun than ever.

The Slave Dealer apparently has business in Zeltburg, so he stayed behind.

There's no need for us to return together. He seems to have taken a strange liking to me, but I don't really enjoy his company.

I look at the slaves on the carriage I'm in. It's quite cramped.

We've split them between the carriages to make the trip easier, but Sadina is too big... just her alone takes up much of the carriage's space.

"Hey, you're too big. Could you possibly get there alone by sea?" (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama!?" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia seems mad.

Her reaction is justified, however Sadina really is in the way.

She's too big to fit in a carriage. I could send her by foot, but would she be able to keep up with Firo's legs?

That's not possible.

Is having her go by sea that cruel?

"That sounds good!" (Sadina)

And Sadina happily accepts my proposal.

I was half-joking, you know.

"Really?" (Naofumi)

"It's much easier than walking on land, and if I use underwater currents, it will also be faster." (Sadina)

"Will you be able to deal with sea monsters on your own?" (Naofumi)

"Don't underestimate me." (Sadina)

I think her level was... in the 40s.

Even with a discount, she was quite expensive.

"Understood, then I'll leave it to you." (Naofumi)

"Yes. I can't wait to see everyone." (Sadina)

She says as she jumps into a river by herself.

Zeltburg is close to the ocean, she'll probably make it just fine.

"Sadina Neechan is really strong, you know." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia seems proud of the village slaves we found this time.

It doesn't seem Sadina had as many signs of abuse as the others.

"Oneechan helped protect us." (Raphtalia)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

Is it because she was older?

Her stats aren't particularly high, but I guess she is skillful.

The village's children probably relied on her quite a bit.

"...I see." (Fohl)

Fohl watches Sadina as she disappears into the water.

Can he sense her will?

He places a jug of water next to Atlas, who is lying on the floor.

"Thank you, Ani-sama." (Atlas)

"Don't worry about it. Is your health getting any better?" (Fohl)

"Yes... Most of the pain is gone." (Atlas)

"That's good." (Fohl)

"Naofumi-sama... when will we leave?" (Atlas)

(TL: Note, everyone pronounces Naofumi's name phonetically, but Atlas says it with the Kanji)

Atlas directs a question towards me.

She can't see, so I'm a little concerned.

"Yeah, we'll depart soon." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Atlas)

"I think it's best if you took some more medicine." (Naofumi)

I change my shield to the Sacred Tree Shield, and hand all of the Yggdrasil medicine I have left to Atlas.

Perhaps it will improve her condition further.

"Thank you..." (Atlas)

"Don't worry about it." (Naofumi)

I direct a condescending glare at Fohl.

"Gununu..." (Fohl) (TL: Grumbling sound)

He seems conflicted.

Well, I'll have him work hard to pay off the medicine costs.

It was expensive, so he better be prepared for hell.

"Naofumi-sama..." (Atlas)

Atlas grasps my hand.

"Please get along with my brother." (Atlas)

"We're not fighting! Right?" (Fohl)

Fohl approaches me amiably and puts his arm around my shoulders.

What's with his feigned friendliness?

If you think we're friends, you're wrong.

"You too, Onii-sama. Get along with this nice person." (Atlas)

"I-I know!" (Fohl)

"That's good." (Atlas)

Atlas seems tired.

Even though the medicine is working, she's still sick.

"I'm getting a little tired." (Atlas)

"Then rest. Our village is a bit far... And our carriage's bird is a terrible driver. It's best to rest now." (Naofumi)

"Your carriage's bird? She must be... that person with a strong aura like Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

Atlas points in Firo's direction.

Though she's blind, it seems she can sense some things.

"What's up master?" (Firo)

"Ah, our new slave, Atlas, is blind, but she could tell that you were strong."
(Naofumi)

"Ehehe, Firo has been praised." (Firo)

"That person... is very energetic and... has a lot of innocence. I can tell that she has been raised by Naofumi-sama's kindness." (Atlas)

"Yeah!" (Firo)

Firo puffs up her chest and answers.

Kindness? When have I ever been kind to anyone? What is this person saying?

I'll ignore it.

"Anyways, we have a sick patient here, so sudden accelerations are banned." (Naofumi)

"Yes~" (Firo)

"And Atlas, if you're sleepy then go to sleep. Let Fohl endure the ride by himself." (Naofumi)

"...ah." (Atlas)

Fohl glares at me with rebellious eyes. It's of no concern to me.

The coupling of the carriages is complete. We leave Zeltburg in the darkness of the night.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 161 – Princess Visit

---

With Firo advancing at a slow pace, we needed 4 days to reach the village.

We turned the monsters in our path into food and our carriage journey advanced with no problems.

All the slaves who ate my food for the first time had the same reaction. Was it really that delicious?

By the way, Fohl became sulky whereas Atla praised it greatly.

The third night of our trip.

“Naofumi-sama……um……my apologies but could you please change my bandages?” (atla)

“I’ll do that kind of thing!” (fohl)

“Well, I should apply a salve for skin disease while I’m at it.” (naofumi)

“Damn…” (fohl)

The medicine seemed to be working and Atla’s skin improved but she complained about itching so I took off her bandages.

“...Huh? It seems that the skin that had looked like it was burned has now healed.” (naofumi)

“Y-yeah.” (fohl)

Fohl stared at his little sister with astonishment.

Was this really such a surprising situation? Well it was a marvellous recovery though.

And so I removed the bandages covering her face and checked.

“Well……” (raphtalia)

When Raphtalia looked at her condition, her voice slipped out without thinking. It's unusual for Raphtalia to expose such behaviour because she always maintains her silence when it's quiet. It isn't really that surprising though.

The brother's face looked conceited but even though I had been prepared for it, when I looked at the little sister, I was also surprised.

Despite being a slave, her hair was glossy and her skin was smooth and pale.

I wonder how old she is...her brother looked about 12 or 13, so she should be younger than that...

Her eyes were out of focus and her pupils were dilated. I knew that if a blind person had their eyes open, their eyes would be like this.

That slave merchant said such unorthodox things but isn't he selling slaves of this class for a different reason?

Well, I should be saying this after the skin disease has recovered completely.

"I feel so refreshed. Naofumi-sama, thank you very much...for applying the salve for me." (atla)

"Mm..." (naofumi)

I'm lost for words. Raphtalia and Firo can be considered to be beautiful without being biased but Atla is a beauty of a different class.

She has a young appearance and yet, it could be said that she was as delicate as a doll.

"Ooh...Atla has become so pretty." (fohl)

Are you the father of a bride the night before her wedding or something!

"It looks like the progression is going well. The salve isn't really necessary any more." (naofumi)

"Is that so?" (atla)

The blind Atla touched her face with her hand.

"It's not rough any more." (atla)

"So it seems." (naofumi)

"It's all thanks to Naofumi-sama. Thank you very much." (atla)

Atla made a quick bow of her head.

"Don't worry about it." (naofumi)

Another slave peeked at us from a crack in the carriage. I could hear a small voice exclaiming something about a beauty.

She hasn't been completely cured yet, but she should be soon. As expected of the Yggdrassil medicine, the results are extraordinary.

"And there you have it, Fohl. You understand, right" (naofumi)

"...Yeah" (Fohl)

Fohl came to his senses with my words and nodded with vexation.

I've healed his frail little sister to this extent. I will have him work wholeheartedly.

"Naofumi-sama." (atla)

"What is it?" (naofumi)

"Please tell us……what will be awaiting us in the village that we're heading to? Raphtalia-san, please teach us as well." (atla)

When we journey in the carriage, I usually process monster parts, compound medicine and also study magic, but I wasn't doing those things right now.

Well, it's fine.

"The hell-like days of me working everyone hard are——" (naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama!" (raphtalia)

Raphtalia was rather loud.

I was only going to scare them a little.

Raphtalia hates these kinds of pranks, doesn't she.

Well, I have the feeling that I may have been the cause of that.

“Tsk! Let’s see…….” (naofumi)

Raphtalia and I told Atla about the other villagers and what would happen in the future.

It may have been trivial, but when I thought about how healthy this frail girl had become, I thought it was good that I had learnt to compound medicine.

“We’ve just returned~” (naofumi)

The slaves undertook Firo’s right of passage when she decided to play around just before we reached the village and by the time we arrived, they were completely exhausted.

“Ah, welcome back~ I arrived earlier.” (sadina)

……How did Sadina arrive ahead of us?

Honestly, it’s quite unexpected. She couldn’t have been faster than Firo.

“You were quick.” (naofumi)

“Hmph……If Firo was being serious she would have arrived earlier!” (firo)

“What are you being so competitive for.” (naofumi)

Firo glared at Sadina provokingly while muttering.

Is it her pride as a mount?

Such unnecessary…… Sadina’s not even a steed.

Besides, Firo had been giving a ride to lots of sick and inexperienced slaves.

It would have been troubling if she had made a serious effort.

“Brother, are you alright?” (atla)

“Y-yeah……I’m fin——*ugh*” (fohl)

Unexpectedly, Atla appears to be good with motion sickness.

Well, I’ll have to reprimand Firo later, for playing around when we’ve got sick people on board.

“So this is……Naofumi-sama’s village” (atla)

Despite being unable to see, Atla surveyed the village.

"Can you see?" (naofumi)

"No, but the aura..." (atla)

Speaking of which, she's been saying that sort of thing for a while.

It's amazing that she doesn't seem to be inconvenienced even though she's blind.

I mean, aura....

"It's good that you've returned. I also have a mountain of things to report that I'm starting to get impatient." (female knight)

The female knight was there but Melty had also come along.

Melty was almost angry enough for steam to come out of her head.

So she's becoming hysterical again.

"Why did you leave even though Firo told you I would be coming over to Naofumi-sama's place soon!" (Melty)

"Ah, now that you mention it, there was something like that." (naofumi)

She was completely infuriated.

Which reminds me, Melty was going to come and play.

"When I came to the village, Naofumi had already left and Firo wasn't here either, so there was no reason for me to even be here!" (melty)

"My bad, my bad. So, when are you leaving?" (naofumi)

"Asking me when I'm going home after I've been waiting for so long, isn't there a limit to your insolence?" (melty)

"But you're the princess." (naofumi)

"So what about me being a princess!" (melty)

What is with the next queen of a human nation coming to visit a Demi-human village?

"I have proper orders from mother." (melty)

"Ah, so it's like that." (naofumi)

It seems the queen was still plotting to set me up with Melty.

Well in her position, it would be best to win over the Hero of the Shield.

"So, how long are you staying?" (naofumi)

"A long time! I was dispatched by mother to help out with Naofumi's land management. To go learn to manage a village or town for the sake of the future...I've been forced to do such a troublesome job." (melty)

"Your parents are strange. In the head." (naofumi)

Both her father and her mother were.

She's superior to her elder sister at her age but learning land management at this age is a lot of work.

What's worse is that she might not have my obligation to push the demi-humans to grow rapidly.

"Shut up! I already know that." (melty)

"All right, you go and play with Firo." (naofumi)

"Why! Didn't you hear what I said?" (melty)

I did hear it but...fair enough.

Melty seems like she'll kick up a fuss again if I talk so let's take some countermeasures against her.

"Hey Firo, go and play with Melty-chan." (naofumi)

“Oka~y.” (firo)

“Wai..Firo-cha—I haven’t...talking with Naofumi——” (melty)

And so, Melty struggled while being dragged away by Firo.

With this, it should be quiet.

As expected, Firo is the best when it comes to Melty.

“How about treating Princess Melty a little kinder, Iwatani-dono?” (female knight)

“Our relationship is just like that. She’s strong-willed.” (naofumi)

“Is that so? She was really disappointed when she heard that Iwatani-dono wasn’t here though.” (female knight)

“That’s because Firo wasn’t here. They’re good friends.” (naofumi)

“I don’t really think so but... I suppose it depends on Princess Melty’s tenacity from here on.” (female knight)

“What are you talking about?” (naofumi)

“Never mind. More importantly, I have some information to report.” (female knight)

“Did that woman and the brat finally cause a problem?” (naofumi)

By that I mean Rato and Taniko.

Whenever I leave the village for a prolonged period of time, I expect something to happen.

“No, they’re quite docile.” (female knight)

“Is that so?” (naofumi)

“They seem to be joyfully playing with the monsters.” (female knight)

“Get to work!” (naofumi)

This passiveness is wrong!

Why the hell are they playing around!?

Jeez… they haven’t caused any problems but it’s practically the same as doing nothing.

“So? What’s the problem?” (naofumi)

“Ah, it kind of concerns that woman but, come to the warehouse for a bit.”
(female knight)

“What’s there?” (naofumi)

“Just come.” (female knight)

“Ah, just wait a moment.” (naofumi)

After I watch the slaves dismount from the carriage, I call the village slaves over.

And then I beckoned to Imia when she emerged from a hole. Is that a burrow?

“Imia, I’ve brought along some of your colleagues.” (naofumi)

“Eh? Ah, Uncle!” (imia)

“Oh, it’s really Imia. You’ve grown.” (lemo slave)

Imia and another Lemo reunited with pleasure.

“Thank you very much, Hero of the Shield-sama!” (imia)

“Eh? He was the Hero of the Shield!?” (lemo slave)

Come to think of it, I hadn’t told them.

Imia’s family bowed their heads deeply.

Their mood turned into admiration. There were also those who didn’t care though.

"I'd like you guys to learn a variety of detailed-oriented tasks. Can I ask that?" (naofumi)

"We owe you a debt of gratitude even if it costs us our lives." (lemon slave)

".....Is your home town in Silt Welt?" (naofumi)

"No? It's not but....the legend of the Hero of the Shield-sama is very well known and we've heard the rumours. Moreover, you've also let us meet with Imia again."

"I don't know if it will be pleasant, but I wanted to let you to live in even a bit of comfort. Because of that, I'd like you to hang in there." (naofumi)

"Okay!" (lemon slave)

And thus I ensured to a certain extent that I had some adept subordinates.

I'll think about what they should learn later.

"Now then, all you new slaves introduce yourselves make some friends so that you can get accustomed to the village." (naofumi)

Everyone started introducing themselves noisily. The village has become quite lively.

"Um, where shall we be residing?" (octopus slave)

One of the aquatic slaves inquired.

Indeed, it would appear to be hard for them to live in a normal village? or the camping plant houses. [T/N: Naofumi is rather dubious about calling this a normal village hence the question mark]

“You guys can live near the sea along with Sadina.” (naofumi)

“Ah, okay……” (octopus slave)

The dolphin and octopus-like Beastmen nodded obediently.

Ah, they’re probably surprised to know that I’m the hero of the shield.

“You guys seem pretty dexterous. You’ll also be allocated work soon, but I’d like you guys to level up enough to protect yourselves.” (naofumi)

“I understand.” (octopus)

The octopus-like Beastman assented with a wave of his hand and walked towards the ocean with his many legs.

The dolphin……I hadn’t really been looking but if I compared his height with Sadina’s then he’s rather small. And round.

Was it an issue of age? It was like Raphtalia when she was little.

I feel like I shouldn't ask his gender. It'd be bad if he turned out to be a girl when I thought he was a boy.

The high female ratio is troubling, it'd be better if I didn't know. There's no need to go and ask.

"Fohl and Atla are……." (naofumi)

Those siblings were…….Fohl was carrying Atla on his back and doing self-introductions with Kiel and them.

Fohl had a greatly displeased look on his face but Atla was happily chatting with her new friends in a gesture of friendship.

…….How far did Firo and Melty go?

What do I do if they don't introduce themselves here?

"I've kept you waiting." (naofumi)

"Ah, but I've become motivated from watching Iwatani-dono's actions, go figure." (female knight)

"Is that so?" (naofumi)

"It is. Everyone's desire for improvement has been circulating." (female knight)

"So it's that sort of thing……." (naofumi)

I came with efficiency in mind though……

“It’s rare for someone to do that subconsciously. Iwatani-dono really is a Hero.” (female knight)

“Nothing will happen even if you praise me. Besides, I’m doing things for myself. Those guys are just putting themselves to work at their own pleasure.” (naofumi)

“Fufu… and that’s why your dearest Raphtalia has been boasting.”

“Huh?”

I don’t understand what she’s saying at all.

Has Raphtalia been telling stories?

“And, what did you have to report?” (naofumi)

“I said so before but please come to the warehouse, Rato is also waiting there.” (female knight)

“Huh?” (naofumi)

Why is Rato also there?

For now I continue to follow the Female knight.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 162 – Filo Rials and Dragons

---

Following the Female Knight, I leave the slaves to themselves and proceed towards the Village Storehouse.

And there I find Rat with her arms crossed and an unpleasant expression on her face. Contrastingly, Taniko's eyes are sparkling. They are both waiting for me.

"What have you called me for?" (Naofumi)

"First, look inside the storehouse." (Female Knight)

I slowly open the door and peer inside.

Inside is... various armors and materials. There are also monster eggs.

Hm? There wasn't supposed to be anything in here.

"Did you use my money to buy these things?" (Naofumi)

"No, these were sent in a parcel addressed to you." (Female Knight)

"What?" (Naofumi)

Inside the storehouse, I see an open wooden box.

The words, 'To the Hero of the Shield, please give these gifts to the slaves blessed with misfortune' are scribbled on the side in terrible handwriting.

"...?" (Naofumi)

"They seem to be some sort of donation. There are some strong armors mixed in with the ones sent and some of the herbs, jewels and lumbers sent are quite rare." (Female Knight)

"The reason that Rat and Taniko are here is for the eggs, right... Who is it? Who sent them?" (Naofumi)

“... I got them from the Queen when I went to give my report. They were left anonymously, but are probably from Siltwelt or Shieldfrieden. Based on the handwriting and ink used, this is the most likely case.” (Female Knight)

“Is it fine for me to take them?” (Naofumi)

“All of the items sent are impossible to trace. Even the armor’s inscriptions have been destroyed. Even if we find the sender, it will be impossible to confirm it.” (Female Knight)

This is that, isn’t it. Some high up person sent it to get in my favor.

It doesn’t matter who sent it. Just the fact that I received a gift shows that their country gave favor to the hero.

A long time ago, a certain god of manga’s irritated editor got tired of the god’s son’s mischievous pranks and finally threw him into the pond in the yard.

After that, the editor honestly stated that he did it, and it became something he could brag about.

The truth is uncertain, but there is a high probability that something like that did happen.

(TL: Research leads me nowhere on that one.)

It doesn’t matter who gave the gift. Now anyone can brag and call themselves a benefactor of the Hero of the Shield.

“They really sent over some troublesome things.” (Female Knight)

“Yeah, and what are those eggs?” (Naofumi)

“They’re a wide variety from common Usapills to rare seasonal monsters.” (Female Knight)

So the contents have already been inspected.

But Rat is acting strange. She’s really mad.

“And the problem is that one. The huge egg in the back.” (Female Knight)

There is an exceptionally large egg in the back corner of the storehouse.
What could it be? Could it be on a monster on the same level as the Spirit Turtle?

“So what is it?” (Naofumi)

“It’s a flying dragon egg. It’s supposedly a kind, reliable, expensive species.”
(Female Knight)

Yeah, they really did send something troublesome over.
Though I don’t know why, Rat hates dragons.

“For a dragon to live in this village… How wonderful!” (Taniko)

Taniko seems very excited.

What’s with her? Is she the opposite of Rat?

“What should we do? The sender is unknown, but should we try to find them and return these?” (Female Knight)

“Even if you say that… I never thought we would be so troubled over a gift.”
(Naofumi)

I’m somehow troubled by the fact that someone sent me expensive goods.
Someone may try to take advantage over me with them later.
But is returning them seems impossible, I can only accept them.
If something bad comes of it, we just need to be ready for it.
If the package truly is from Siltwelt, then it is most likely an earnest donation to the Hero of the Shield.

"For now, let's accept them. If someone comes to claim them later, then ignore them. By the way, will we be able to place a monster seal on the Flying Dragon?" (Naofumi)

"We'll need a higher level of seal for it. But the sender kindly sent the tools necessary for the ritual with the eggs, so... If the Count wishes for it, then I can place a seal on all of these monsters." (Rat)

"Hey, why do you hate Dragons so much?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, I haven't told you yet." (Rat)

Rat angrily glares at Taniko and begins speaking.

"High level dragons, you know. Once they go into heat, they lose all self-control." (Rat)

"Wait, what?" (Naofumi)

"You don't know? Most dragons begin to corrupt the land they live in. Their homes are always quite dangerous." (Rat)

"Is that how it is?" (Naofumi)

The only dragon I know of is... the dragon that Ren defeated.

There the dragon's curse caused a plague.

It definitely was a contaminated area.

"Dragons, you know. When they lose their self-control, they will try to violate monsters of different species. That's why in the land that dragons live, many dragon-like monsters come into being." (Rat)

"This is quite a dangerous topic." (Naofumi)

Many fantasy games have half-dragon races, but is this the cause?

“Well, they do take the courtesy of setting up a territory and never leaving it, but the reason that I hate them is because they can easily screw up the ecosystem. By the way, Flying Dragons are a mix between a Dragon and some other weak monster.” (Rat)

Fumu... so that's how it is.

“The biggest problem is the purebred dragons. They really have absolutely no distinction, and will even violate human women.” (Rat)

It seems like quite a troublesome species.

Hm? Taniko is glaring at us.

“They do have dignity!” (Taniko)

Why are you angry? She's acting like someone directly related to the topic. Whenever monsters come up, this girl starts yelling. She takes turns with Rat managing the various monsters.

“There's already a race of Dragon Demi-Humans. The Dragonewts.”
(Taniko)

I think I've heard something about Dragon Demi-humans before.

“Of course, even if Dragons don't go into heat, that race will continue to exist, and they're quite a docile people. But the only ones who can withstand a Dragon's lust are the Filo Rials.” (Rat)

“Is that so?” (Naofumi)

“Yes, the Filo rials often have Turf wars with the dragons.” (Rat)

... Firo pops up in my mind.

That gluttonous demon bird doesn't seem like such a high-class race to me.

"And because that egg holds a Dragon, will you hate it?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, kinda. I believe the Monster seal has an option that controls sexual lust, so make sure to check that box. Or else this area's monster population will be corrupted." (Rat)

What is this feeling?

In the hunting games I've played before, I've had to hunt dragon couples before. From the amount of children they had, I've always wondered why they didn't just go and wipe out humanity already.

"The Dragon Emperor-sama won't allow such behavior!" (Taniko)

Taniko calls out.

That's quite a powerful-sounding name.

Why is she that knowledgeable on monster matters?

Is that just how she was raised? I don't care enough to ask.

"Yes, yes. The legendary King of Dragons. I believe he was at war with the Filo Rial Queen." (Rat)

"There's a legend like that?" (Naofumi)

"It's only a legend. Both of their existences are subject to doubt." (Rat)

... Well, I've met one of them before.

But an argument will break out if I bring it up here.

Anyways, I assume the story is something along the lines of the Legendary Dragon King threatening the lives of many civilians and the Holy Filo Rial Queen driving him out.

Or something about how both sides were continuously at war with one another.

“But… If they have such reproductive capability, why have I never met a live one?” (Naofumi)

“They usually live in very remote areas. Has the Count ever ventured that far?” (Rat)

I’ve only ever used the merchant roads for peddling… I’ve barely ever entered caves or mountains.

So that’s why…

“So that’s why.” (Naofumi)

“They pretty much keep to their territory. If you don’t try to expand a settlement into said territory, you probably won’t meet one.” (Rat)

“I see. Anyways, I have a policy of using what I can, so I’ll keep and raise the dragon.” (Naofumi)

“Make sure to be strict with it. I don’t want to become part of a Dragon’s Harem.” (Rat)

“Yes, yes.” (Naofumi)

As long as it has a monster seal, I should be able to manage. If anything bad happens, I can feed it to firo.

As if she can read my mind, Taniko’s glare intensifies.

“Don’t fall for a newly hatched dragon.” (Rat)

“I-I won’t fall for anyone!” (Taniko)

(TL: The actual text is don’t open your legs to, but let’s preserve the innocent children)

Does she know what she's saying?

"Please stop your vulgar conversation." (Naofumi)

Rat lets out a sigh.

Female Knight... Is staring at us with an amazed expression.

"Training a flying dragon is difficult. People who accomplish it are called Dragon Knights." (Rat)

"Ah, I remember seeing some when we were fighting the Spirit Turtle."
(Naofumi)

They didn't really help out, though.

Most of them fell to the ground screaming after taking attacks from the Spirit Turtle's familiars.

"There's a danger of falling off. And the dragons themselves are not particularly strong." (Rat)

"I see, well raising it shouldn't be all that difficult." (Naofumi)

"I don't know what will happen if the Count raises it. It might turn out like your Filo Rial." (Rat)

"Mu... You're right. I'll be careful." (Naofumi)

And so it was decided that we were going to keep the Flying Dragon Egg. But it seems it will take a while to hatch. I have to personally bind it to my blood.

Rat goes back to her lab with a disappointed expression.

The Bioplant research has continued, and it seems that Rat has finally completed a prototype that can grow medicinal herbs. However right now it can only produce herbs that can be found anywhere on the side of the road.

But still, the research has progressed.

...

"Why do I have to carry around the egg!" (Naofumi)

For some reason, I have been tasked with keeping the Flying Dragon egg warm.

As soon as she saw me, Kiel burst into laughter.

"If you don't do this, you won't be able to imprint yourself as the parent. If you don't start out with this, it may ignore your commands later!" (Rat)

Rat seems fed up.

Are Flying Dragons really this troublesome to deal with? I regret my decision to raise it already.

"Is that how it is?" (Naofumi)

"Yes! I happen to be an expert on the subject, so trust me." (Rat)

"I'm having a hard time believing because you're the one saying it..."
(Naofumi)

"What was that?" (Rat)

"Understood. I didn't say anything." (Naofumi)

This is a pain.

"AHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHA! Naofumi, what are you doing?" (Melly)

Melly appears, riding Firo. She points her finger at me and starts laughing.

"Shut it, second princess!" (Naofumi)

"You promised not to call me, 'Second Princess', remember!?" (Melty)

"Then don't laugh, idiot!" (Naofumi) (TL: Yes, he says Baka)

"Idiot!? Who are you calling an idiot!?" (Melty)

Ah, it seems that playing with Firo has caused her to forget her original objective.

"Um... You look... peculiar... Naofumi-sama." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia is trying to choose her words. I don't need her sympathy.

"Damn.. Just go off peddling already! This time, Me, Raphtalia and Firo will have to go alone." (Naofumi)

I can't be seen like this by all of the villagers. I'll have to send them out.

"You're running away from the issue~!" (Melty)

"Shut it." (Naofumi)

Melty is being overly obnoxious.

"Well, you'll have to keep this up for two to three days. After that, it should hatch." (Rat)

"Dammit all." (Naofumi)

"If you need anything done in the adjacent village, leave it to me.
Otherwise you're going to slip out of this duty and head over, right?"
(Melty)

"...!" (Naofumi)

Melty hit the mark right on.

For now... should I hide with it in the carriage?

"Master, are you carrying an egg?" (Firo)

"Yeah. I apparently have to do this because it's a dragon." (Naofumi)

"Hmm... Can Firo warm it?" (Firo)

Right, Firo is a bird so her body is quite warm.

Should I leave it with Firo?

"No." (Rat)

"No!" (Firo)

As soon as she hears Rat's warning, Firo runs off.

Does she really hate her that much?

"As I said before, Firo Rials and Dragons don't get along. You can't let her warm it." (Rat)

"... I see..." (Naofumi)

I thought I could push my troubles onto her...

Could I give it to Raphtalia?

"It's your dragon, right? You can't give it to someone else." (Rat)

"Damn!" (Naofumi)

How is she able to read my thoughts?

There's no helping it. I'll hide in the carriage and go on a little trip.

And like that, I go peddling to run away from my troubles.

I am wearing a cloak to hide the embarrassing egg on my back.

"It's been a while since we went out peddling with just the three of us."

(Raphtalia)

"Now that I think about it, you're right." (Naofumi)

The last time I went peddling with just Raphtalia and Firo was a long time ago.

Now we're always surrounded by Kiel and the other villagers. Before the matter with the Spirit Turtle, we were always running around by ourselves.

"A flying dragon. I wonder what sort of child it will grow up to be."

(Raphtalia)

"No idea." (Naofumi)

"Will Firo still be pulling the carriage?" (Firo)

"Of course." (Naofumi)

It seems Firo holds a strange sense of Pride. But I don't think a Flying Dragon can pull a carriage in the first place.

"Firo will always be Master's legs!" (Firo)

"I wonder." (Naofumi)

The ability to fly will be quite advantageous. If he turns out to be more efficient than the ground-bound Firo, then I'll use him instead.

However a Flying Dragon has very limited carrying capacity.

Only one person can ride it at a time. I'll only use it if I have to go in a hurry by myself.

Or so Rat told me.

"Mu..." (Firo)

"Firo, make sure to look ahead as you walk." (Raphtalia)

"But Master said..." (Firo)

"It's alright. If Firo works hard, Naofumi-sama will learn to rely on you more." (Raphtalia)

"... Really?" (Firo)

"I wonder." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama, please be quiet for a second." (Raphtalia)

I guess there's a limit to teasing Firo.

Perhaps this Dragon will be able to bring out Firo's competitive side.

She's getting a little too conceited over her leg power.

"Firo will work hard!" (Firo)

"Yes, let's work hard together." (Raphtalia)

"Yeah!" (Firo)

"Now then, I guess I should get to making some medicine to sell."
(Naofumi)

I also need to think of what jobs to give the slaves later on.

And... the first day of peddling went by with no problems.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 163 – Witch

---

That night, I heard a voice when I retired to bed.

“Kukuku…. ’twas that woman and pack-bird’s fault that I was repressed, but when the perfect host for mine spirit comes, it will be…. fun” (???)

[T/N: ‘Pack animal’ but with the character for animal replaced with bird, therefore Pack bird. Also, they’re using somewhat archaic pronouns hence the shakespearean-ness]

What? This voice……I’ve heard it before, but I can’t remember.

“The wrath of thou who burned me was exquisite….no, that’s wrong. I united mine strength to increase mine power. However, it’s insufficient, I’m unsatisfied.” (???)

This is….who? Who’s voice is this?

“I will be the ones to kill thee. I will have thee take responsibility for killing me, by compensating with thy body” (???)

I felt extremely unpleasant sweat flow from my paralysed body.

“I look forward to coming out.”

That was the kind of nightmare I saw that night.

I had the feeling that I knew who the owner of the voice was.

But this was lost as a part of the dream.

"I wonder how long left until the egg hatches." (naofumi)

"Yeah." (raphtalia)

"Firo also wants to incubate the egg." (firo)

"You were told that you couldn't though." (naofumi)

That was the sort of conversation we had while on our peddling trip.

And just like that, we arrived in a large town. We've come here many times to sell our goods so I recognise the faces of the townspeople, to a certain extent.

After most of our stock was sold, I stared out of the carriage wondering what to do in the future, when I recognised a familiar-looking figure walking away.

"Firo, stop." (naofumi)

"What's the matter, master?" (firo)

I stopped the carriage, covered myself with a robe to hide the egg and then approached the figure.

He stood in the shade of a building and seemed to be looking out onto the main street. Raphtalia also realised who it was and stopped her query midway.

"That's right. Raphtalia." (naofumi)

"What is it?" (raphtalia)

"I forgot about it last time but you can use concealing magic, right."
(naofumi)

“Yes. I learnt how to cast it so that everyone else will have difficulty sensing us.” (raphtalia)

Raphtalia was taught magic in the castle and therefore knew more advanced concealing magic.

Recently, she also studied this magic, saying that she was trying to think up a countermeasure against Motoyasu and Ren.

If Portal Spear was used then it would be over, but it seems like we can do something about the Flash Sword.

“Then please do so.” (naofumi)

“I understand.” (raphtalia)

We hid in an alley and Raphtalia grasped Firo and my hands while concentrating.

<As one worthy of the origin of power, I am commanding. I’ve reread and understand the principles, clad us in a coating of illusion>

“Al Hide Mirage”

Raphtalia’s magic wrapped around us gently.

“It should be fine now.” (raphtalia)

“Ah, this is helpful.” (naofumi)

We tailed our target with our hands linked.

Somehow it seemed like he was tailing someone as well.

No, more accurately, he was waiting for the right timing to talk to them.

“What should I do……I just hope it doesn’t end up like with Erena.”
(motoyasu)

Did he not even realise that we were behind him, filled with anticipation all by himself.

Just what was he so anxious about, that idiot.

And, as I was thinking that, I followed the idiot’s gaze.

And then the idiot’s face changed colour.

At first I thought the magic had released and we had been discovered, but I was wrong.

When I saw who the gaze was resting on, I was also speechless.

Somehow Bitch had brought along Woman 2……and was talking to Ren for some reason.

What were they saying?

I ignored Idiot Motoyasu and approached Bitch. Or I should say, I advanced in order to arrest her. Motoyasu and Ren will run away so I can’t catch them, but Bitch is different.

It seems something interesting will be awaiting if I arrest her, and I don’t have the option not to.

I sent Raphtalia a glance.

Raphtalia nodded. I’m not sure if Firo understood the situation or not but she followed silently.

A sound reached my ears. It was a pretty loud voice.

"I'm not the Hero of the Spear's weapon. The first time we met, I believed Ren-sama was also a hero who would save the world." (bitch)

Bitch is saying some terrible things.

I have a strong impulse to jump out and bash her face in.

"Besides... Spear forces us into unreasonable relationships, just like Shield. Needless to say, I... searched for Ren-sama with my new-found freedom." (bitch)

She's saying some really infuriating lines. And this outburst of emotions after so long.

You, I thought you were together with Motoyasu for a good many months. I promptly look towards Motoyasu.

"Gununu..." (motoyasu) [T/N: Sound of outrage]

Wow, he's peeping with such a prominent face.

"But I think the queen said that you've always had problems..." (ren)

As expected, Ren also felt the need to be cautious.

Well, she has to struggle that much at least.

"Ren-sama doesn't know Mama's true colours. Mama's the woman known as Melromarc's vixen. She invented a ploy to produce large profits by humiliating me. This gave credit to that demon, Shield, and Spear was also part of it too." (bitch)

“I-is that so····.” (ren)

What will you do? Will you raise your voice and object?

Or rather, say something with credibility.

Although I’ve also put my faith in her before, these are Bitch’s words so they’re definitely lies.

It would be better if you believed someone who has been antagonized by Bitch.

Like Melty, or the current Motoyasu.

Then, Bitch embraced Ren and stroked his hair.

“Ren-sama····.losing your comrades must have been very heart-breaking····.it’s okay to cry now. It’s alright. The whole world may be calling you a criminal but I believe. I believe that Ren-sama has been fighting for the sake of the world.” (bitch)

She’s pretty good at sucking up to weakened guys.

Raphtalia looked at Bitch with an incredibly doubtful face.

It’s similar to what she said to me.

Or should I say it’s a complete rip-off?

Right, in a bit····.just a little bit longer and I’ll grab Bitch’s shoulder.

“Wait!” (motoyasu)

Motoyasu rushed over at this point.

He looks as though he saw something really despicable.

Was this really the rumoured ladykiller.

No, no·····.

“Well if isn’t it the Spear.” (bitch)

Bitch flicked her hair back with an incredibly obnoxious face and deliberately gave Motoyasu a dirty look.

For some reason, my trauma was evoked and I felt pissed off.

Bitch, you won’t be laughing for much longer.

“That’s my line! What the hell are you doing! Sucking up to Ren, I’ve been searching for you!” (motoyasu)

“Ahaha, charging in recklessly, I’m not an idiot. Ren-sama, please listen.”
(bitch)

Bitch clung to Ren and declared this while crying fake tears.

“When we got into a pinch, that Spear focused the enemy’s attention towards us. He said he would defeat the enemy, but he just used us as a shield. We fled because we were scared but when we did, he chased after us obstinately, saying that he won’t forgive us for deserting in the face of an enemy.” (bitch)

“Lies!” (motoyasu)

I started to get a headache.

Bitch was following her usual pattern…….. I should probably hurry and arrest that Bitch.

Speaking of which, I recognise Motoyasu’s current expression.

Obviously. It’s the me from that day!

Bitch…….You're repeating the same things as before.

Sinking your fangs into three heroes…….you're a bitch who has transcended beyond a bitch, I'm renaming you Witch.

It even has the double meaning of being a sorceress.

I should just kill her and say she tried to resist.

Yeah, let's do that. I can't think of anything else.

"So you were trying that kind of thing, huh. You're as bad, or even worse than Naofumi. Betraying people's trust, you're a disgrace." (ren)

"Ren, Whore has been telling lies! Please believe me." (motoyasu)

"Who's going to believe that!" (ren)

"That's right! Forcing us into a relationship every night……. and if not, you would threaten to kill Papa!" (bitch)

"Stop lying! I……. really did worry!" (motoyasu)

I'd like to see more of Motoyasu's misfortune, but I can't stand it any more. Filled with murderous intent, I firmly grasped Witch's shoulder with my hand.

"Eh?" (bitch)

Raphtalia snapped her fingers and released her spell.

"How dare you spew out such lies, Witch." (naofumi)

"Shield!" (bitch)

Witch's eyebrows sprung up high. She looked as if she came across someone detestable.

But I feel the same way.

"Sorry but I'm going to have you come back to the castle. I'll arrest you, dead or alive." (naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 164 – Negligence

---

The first one to react to my words was Ren.

“Keep your hands off of Mein!” (Ren)

Ren brandishes his sword.

It lets out sparks as it collides with my arm.

Of course, I don’t take any damage. It’s not like he learned the other reinforcement methods in this short amount of time.

At this level, I don’t even need to use my shield.

“You know. If you call her that, her punishment will only increase.”

(Naofumi)

“Shut it. Get away from Mein!” (Ren)

Witch is also struggling. It’s become difficult to hold her with one hand.

「Meteor Sword!」 (Ren)

Oh, a skill might be able to inflict some damage on me. I’m holding a relatively rare egg right now.

It will be a waste if it breaks, so I back off.

In exchange, Raphtalia and Firo step forward.

Even Motoyasu takes up a fighting stance.

We’re all prepared to capture Ren, Bitch and Woman 2.

“Ren, it’s better if you don’t trust that witch. She’s exactly as the Queen described.” (Naofumi)

She can put false crimes on people without remorse, and she loves watching others struggle.

Ren will probably be tricked and discarded sometime soon as well. Just like Motoyasu.

“Look closely at Motoyasu’s face. Doesn’t he look pitiable? Is this the face of a person who would do such things?” (Naofumi)

“No, I heard Motoyasu was also coerced by the Queen! The Queen is the ringleader behind all of this.” (Ren)

“And isn’t that single woman the only one telling you that?” (Naofumi)

“Even so, I must fight for the people who believe in me!” (Ren)

“Calm down. Think Logically. The normal you would have figured it out by now.” (Naofumi)

“Shut up!” (Ren)

Ah… this is impossible. He seriously believes he is in the right.

I can’t really blame him here.

In my case, I had the slight feeling that something was off, but I never realized I had been deceived until the end.

And the current Ren is mentally unstable. He sides with Witch, who offered him plenty of soft words.

… Should I kill her?

I should have enough power now. Unlike before.

Wait, a Shadow should be somewhere around here.

If the Shadow utilizes the slave crest, I won’t have to fight Ren.

Perhaps I will be able to teach him proper reinforcement techniques and add him to my fighting force.

… Though earning his trust won’t be that easy.

As if responding to my thoughts, Bitch's slave crest begins to glow.

"Ku... Ren-sama! We should retreat for now." (Bitch)

"Understood! 「Flashing Sword!」 " (Ren)

On Witch's words, Ren unleashes a skill.

And as before, his sword starts glowing.

"Damn! Raphtalia, Firo!" (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah!" (Firo)

Right after I gave my warning, the sword releases a blinding light.

As if that will work forever!

"I, who has understood the origin of power commands you. I shall once again read forth the truth. Bind this foul light that clouds us from knowledge!" (Raphtalia)

「Al Anti-Shining!」 (Raphtalia)

Our eyes that were under the influence of Ren's flashing sword start to clear up.

And Firo jumps into the air in preparation for a kick. But she is too late. Ren picks up Bitch and Woman 2, and brandishes his sword once more.

「Transfer Sword!」 (Ren)

Just like when Motoyasu disappeared, Ren's image starts to fade.

And so does Witch's.

“Witch, it seems you were able to escape this time. But remember this: I’ll chase you to the depths of hell. All you have to do is wait in a corner, cowering in fear.” (Naofumi)

“Hmph!” (Bitch)

I hear witch snorting at my proclamation before she completely disappears. This skill truly is annoying.
I need to find some way to seal it.

“Dammit! She got away again! That damn Witch, I’ll definitely slaughter her later!” (Naofumi)

“Naofumi-sama, please calm down.” (Raphtalia)

“Aren’t you frustrated? Has she begun corrupting you as well!?” (Naofumi)

I’m madder then I’ve ever been in a long time.
What should I take my anger out on?
It’s immature, but I start to get angry at Raphtalia.

“… Naofumi-sama, your words are enough to keep me by your side.”
(Raphtalia)

“I see…” (Naofumi)

If Raphtalia is okay with this, then I guess I should endure my rage for a little longer.

But I won’t forget this, Witch.

This rage greater than I can handle. Someday it will be embedded into your chest with a ten inch rusty nail.

As I slowly stomach my rage, Shadow appears.

“...She has escaped out of my range-gojaru. I can only send out fatal punishment, but I cannot track her.” (Shadow)

I don't think killing her would be that bad, but Shadow also has orders. We can't kill her without due process...

And I kinda want her to suffer 100x more. Am I a bad person?

“So it seems.” (Naofumi)

“I never thought the former princess would be able to seduce the Hero of the Sword so easily-gojaru.” (Shadow)

“Just when I was looking for them, they suddenly appeared. Perhaps my luck is better than I thought.” (Naofumi)

“I see-gojaru... anyways I'm off to give a report to the Queen-gojaru. By the way, what should we do with the Hero of the Spear-gojaru?” (Shadow)

“...If we try something, won't he just run away?” (Naofumi)

If he has such a convenient skill, I don't think we can apprehend him.

I can't even begin to think of how convenient it would have been for me if I had it when I was on the lam.

“I don't think it seems that way-gojaru.” (Shadow)

Motoyasu has dropped his stance and is staring at the ground sighing. So his heart has already given up.

“What's up? Won't you run?” (Naofumi)

“It's fine... I wanted to find everyone. I believed in them, but this is all I get... The townsfolk all treat me coldly... I'm tired...” (Motoyasu)

His eyes look cloudy. If he were a magical girl, this is where he would turn into a witch.

(TL: Madoka reference... Yes, I watched it. Didn't enjoy it)

"So will you take him in?" (Naofumi)

"I don't think he will be punished that badly-gojaru. The world still needs him to fight in the wave-gojaru." (Shadow)

"Yeah, that's true... We can't really give him overly cruel penalties, and we can't kill him..." (Naofumi)

If killing was all we had to do, then Raphtalia and Firo would be able to do it in one blow.

But then we wouldn't have to capture him.

"For now, Motoyasu, you're under arrest." (Naofumi)

"... Yes, yes I understand. Take me wherever you will. Kill me if you want..." (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu seems to have given up all hope

But after what just happened it can't be helped.

"Everyone asks me to save them, and if I make the slightest mistake they throw stones at me... The Bitch and Elena that I believed with all of my heart turned out to be bad people... I don't even care anymore..."

(Motoyasu)

He had believed in his comrades, and had thus tried to search the globe for them, but those very comrades abandoned him.

There must be a reason it turned out like this. I'm not at fault. He must be thinking things like that.

And the sun is already setting.

“Should I take him to the castle now?” (Naofumi)

“It seems to be an urgent matter, so I’ll leave it to you, Iwatani-dono-gojaru.” (Shadow)

“Got it. Oy, Motoyasu.” (Naofumi)

“It’s fine. Just say I caused this disaster already… Will that satisfy you?”
(Motoyasu)

What the hell are you giving in to. You’re definitely a cause of this disaster.
Why are you acting like it’s someone else’s problem?

“… Can you use that Warp skill to go to the castle?” (Naofumi)

“That’s not its current registered destination, so it’s impossible.” (Motoyasu)

“So it’s no use here. What material did you absorb to get that spear?”
(Naofumi)

Learning that skill will make transportation convenient.
It can be used for peddling, level grinding and many more.
I should probably have the ability to learn it.

“… It’s the Dragon Hourglass’s sand.” (Motoyasu)

“When were you able to take it-gojaru!?” (Shadow)

So that’s what it is. Isn’t that kinda illegal?

Ren and Itsuki probably already absorbed some as well.

Why didn’t I try it yet?

"I didn't steal anything. The sisters gave it to me when I asked."

(Motoyasu)

Shadow glares at him.

"N-now that I think about it, there were some reports of that happening when the Three Hero church was in control... gojaru." (Shadow)

"Say that ahead of time!" (Naofumi)

Now that I think about it, there are a mountain of materials I have yet to try. I haven't been feeding the shield much lately.

The Yggdrasil medicine was too valuable so I didn't feed it to the Shield. I should start testing more things.

"What sort of skill is it?" (Naofumi)

"It lets you teleport to a preset location..." (Motoyasu)

"Are there any conditions?" (Naofumi)

"No idea... In my game you could use it in any area that didn't prevent skills." (Motoyasu)

I still have no idea how to prevent it.

Though there may have been areas that limited it while in the game, I have no idea if this world has such places.

Can you set to anywhere you've been before?

"What can you set the destination as?" (Naofumi)

"You can set up to Three locations. If you try to set another, the oldest one will be forgotten. The most people you can take with you is 6." (Motoyasu.)

He's being strangely compliant... Anyways, the castle is quite a distance away. If we can't warp there directly, I guess we'll have to stay the night in this town.

"Then we'll find a place to stay the night here." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Motoyasu)

"Understood-gojaru. I will depart to relay the situation to the Queen-gojaru."
(Shadow)

"How do you contact the Queen anyways?" (Naofumi)

"Secret-gojaru. I'll only tell you that I can't carry anyone with me-gojaru."
(Shadow)

Shadow disappears as she says this.

Her response somehow annoys me.

Firo begins poking the depressed Motoyasu.

Even after he saw what that women did to me, he's still this depressed? Perhaps he is finally feeling the fatigue of the lifestyle he has been living until now.

I don't really care, and I kinda like seeing his depressed face, but I notice Raphtalia glaring at me.

"Naofumi-sama? What's wrong? (Raphtalia)

"Nothing really. Let's go find an inn." (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Raphtalia)

And that's how we dragged Motoyasu with us, and found an Inn to stay at.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 165 – A New Awakening

---

The inn we stayed at didn't include food, so we all, Motoyasu included, went off to the bar.

As soon as we step in, Motoyasu rushes over to the counter and orders some alcohol. And he hangs his head while downing it at an alarming rate. He really has nothing but women on his head, this one. When he loses them, this is the inevitable result.

Some people who don't realize his identity try to hit on him, but he brushes them aside.

"Ara, do you want to have a drink with this Onee-san?" (Older Woman)

"... I'm sorry. I kinda want to drink alone now. Please don't mind me."

(Motoyasu)

He even brushes away the females.

This may be more serious than I thought.

Bitch was always like that. Did you really believe in her that much?

The rest of us order dinner.

Though I don't really think that a bar should have good food, after asking around, I found that this bar had the best taste in town.

The servings are also quite large and the price isn't that high.

And after having her fill of good food, the Human-form Firo begins to sing along with the bar's bard.

The egg on my back is a nuisance. I try to stay inconspicuous.

"Young girl, let's sing another one!" (Bard)

"Sure, let's go~!" (Firo)

Firo starts singing with an unnerving amount of energy. Her voice is quite good.

She gets carried away and begins singing a strange tune. It sounds like an Anime song.

It might be my imagination... but the people in front of the stage seem to have a strange look in their eyes.

"... Naofumi-sama, I've heard that there is a type of monster that uses its singing voice to lead ships astray at sea." (Raphtalia)

"What a coincidence, I was thinking of that monster as well." (Naofumi)

The people listening to the song seem to be mesmerized, as if they were being bewitched by the Sirens.

After Firo finally finishes her song, the establishment is shaken by an explosive cheer from the crowd.

Quite a few people call for an encore, but it seems Firo got bored. She shouts, 'No!' and gets off the stage.

She's become quite popular, and some people are handing her bouquets of flowers.

Someone also hands her a vegetable that looks like a carrot. Firo stares at it and licks her lips. After seeing this, numerous people begin giving her food. I don't know if she's lost her mind, but Firo, carrying a mountain of gifts, goes over and sits down next to Motoyasu.

"What's wrong? You're not energetic like usual. What happened?" (Firo)

"..." (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu directs an annoyed glance at Firo.

He's even acting this way towards his beloved human-form Firo. This truly is serious.

"Are you hungry? If you're hungry, you won't feel good. Do you want me to sing a song to give you energy?" (Firo)

Firo makes her way back to the stage, and starts singing again.

It's quite an upbeat song. Almost as if...

"Firo knows quite a few songs. I never knew." (Naofumi)

"Well we did travel around a lot. She loves to sing, you know." (Raphtalia)

Firo stares out Motoyasu as she sings. She also begins dancing.

Just looking at her seems to give me energy. It sounds like a song from that one anime with a transforming plane. (TL: According to the comments, this is a Macross reference. I'm off to go watch it.)

The song ends, and Firo goes back to Motoyasu's side.

"Please, just ignore me." (Motoyasu)

"Ye~s" (Firo)

Is what she says. She starts rummaging through the various items she received.

"Eat this. It always gives me energy." (Firo)

Motoyasu finally takes the food and flowers presented to him.

Firo is acting out of pure curiosity right now.

Her interest was probably peaked upon seeing the usually-energetic Motoyasu acting this down.

Wha?

“U, UWAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA!?” (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu lets out a cry and suddenly clings to Firo.

“NYAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA!?” (Firo)

And Firo lets out a surprised cry that doesn't lose to his.

And she begins twisting her body to get out of Motoyasu's grasp, but Motoyasu uses all of his power to prevent her escape.

“U·····uuuuuuuu·····” (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu seriously starts crying.

“Master! Save me!” (Firo)

Firo is also crying as she looks at me for help.

··· Is he an idiot?

“What the hell are you doing?” (Naofumi)

I approach the two to save Firo, but Motoyasu suddenly presses his head into Firo's chest and sobs harder.

Since Witch was no good, he turned to Firo?

No··· Motoyasu has been showing interest in Firo for a long time.

「う……うううううううう……」

元康の奴、
ガチ泣きしている。

「ごしゅじんさまー！
助けてー！」

“Return to your original form. Motoyasu will probably let go.” (Naofumi)

“G-got it!” (Firo)

Motoyasu should have a trauma for Firo’s original form.

He never approaches her when she looks like that.

Firo transforms as per my request.

The people in the bar begin screaming in surprise but I ignore it.

However.

“Super… Firo-chan’s smell… Sniff…Sniff…” (Motoyasu)

… Motoyasu continues to hold onto monster-form Firo, and takes in her scent.

How indecent!

“He’s not letting go! He’s not letting go, master!” (Firo)

He’s not even backing off from Monster-form Firo!?

How could this be! Wait, I can imagine his reasons.

“He’s like this because you offered kind words to him when he was depressed! Take responsibility, and look after him.” (Naofumi)

“Wait a second. Using that logic, Naofumi-sama has to look after me!”
(Raphtalia)

“What are you talking about, Raphtalia!?” (Naofumi)

Raphtalia seems to be caught up in the chaos as well.

“No!” (Firo)

“Firo-tan Firo-tan…” (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu begins nestling his face in Firo's plumage.

Firo tries to use her superhuman strength to lift him off, but Motoyasu grips her with his entire body, and he isn't moving.

When she tries to get him off, her feathers come with him. The pain prevents her from going all out.

Firo is one who hates pain.

"Save me!" (Firo)

Firo is pleading at me for help with teary eyes. What should I do.

"Fine... Motoyasu." (Naofumi)

This is no good. He can't hear me. He can't even hear Firo.

Motoyasu has finally broken.

Or perhaps... he has awakened to a new fetish.

He's even accepting Monster-form Firo. Has he become a Masochist?

"Master!" (Firo)

I'm supposed to take Motoyasu to the castle, but will it be possible like this?

"If you don't like it, just tell him and dump him." (Naofumi)

"Got it!" (Firo)

Firo walks out of the bar with Motoyasu still clinging to her.

"Eh..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia lets out a confused voice.

"Anyways... We'll have to have to put turning Motoyasu in on hold. If he doesn't suffer some more, I won't be satisfied." (Naofumi)

"I think he has transcended the state of suffering and reached some form of enlightenment..." (Raphtalia)

"If we get Firo to act like an evil woman, he'll probably snap out of it. Get her to tell him that she only approached him for food." (Naofumi)

"I see..." (Raphtalia)

"It'll probably work... Probably." (Naofumi)

I have a bad premonition about this. But if I don't do this, we'll never get rid of him.

It's fine. It's Motoyasu. He should be back to skirt-chasing in no time.

And so we spent a peaceful night, and morning came.

By the way, it seems Firo finally managed to dump Motoyasu. Down a cliff. The amount of feathers on her body has decreased.

"Now then, since we're putting turning Motoyasu in on hold, should we wait for Shadow to return, then head back to the village?" (Naofumi)

I planned to stay away until the egg hatched, but it should hatch any minute now.

I can feel it moving occasionally.

"We should do that." (Raphtalia)

"Master, Firo want's to leave soon..." (Firo)

Firo looks at me with fearful eyes.

She has developed yet another trauma. She hated the man from the beginning anyways.

Why did she approach him even though she hated him?

“Why did you try to cheer him on?” (Naofumi)

“Because he didn’t have any energy. He seemed like the village children when we first met them.” (Firo)

But the medicine was too potent for Motoyasu.

He’s going to become annoying.

“Next time you see him, tell him the lines I taught you in advance.”

(Naofumi)

“Yes~” (Firo)

“Well then, let’s get breakfast and prepare to depart.” (Naofumi)

I open the door to the room.

“Good Morning, dear father-in-law.” (Motoyasu)

I slam the door… Was that Motoyasu?

I must be going crazy. Let me recollect myself.

“What was that…” (Naofumi)

“Did something happen?” (Raphtalia)

“Well…” (Naofumi)

What was Father-in-Law supposed to mean? Why was Motoyasu on standby in front of the door?

I just got up, my mind isn’t working properly yet.

Explaining is a pain. I step aside and offer the door handle to Raphtalia. Raphtalia tilts her head to the side and opens it.

“Why is the Tanuki-pig in Firo-tan’s room!?” (Motoyasu)

...

“Fuge!?” (Raphtalia)

A vein pops up on Raphtalia’s forehead. While smiling, she whacks his head and slams the door.

Tanuki-pig... I’m hearing some amazing things so early in the morning. What is he doing?

“Well...” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia looks just as confused as me.

“I understand the situation. What should we do...?” (Raphtalia)

“And from when was he standing in front of the door?” (Naofumi)

“I heard a banging sound quite a while ago, but he couldn’t have been there for that long...” (Raphtalia)

“I heard it too. I thought it was an adventurer wandering around, but was that Motoyasu?” (Naofumi)

He seems too energetic for having been pushed off a cliff.

“Firo.” (Naofumi)

“No!” (Firo)

“If you don’t clearly tell him, he’ll never leave you alone, that man.”

(Naofumi)

“Uu····.” (Firo)

Firo opens the door while frowning.

“Oh, Firo-tan!” (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu jumps at Firo, but Raphtalia halts him with an iron claw to the face.

“Unhand me, Tanuki-pig! I must embrace my beloved Firo-tan!” (Motoyasu)

“...” (Raphtalia)

She’s smiling, but she’s letting out a dark aura.

What is Motoyasu doing?

“Um, I only approached you for food. Don’t misunderstand my intentions.”

(Firo)

“Love is something that stems from misunderstandings, dear Firo-tan. It’s fine, I’ll accept your selfishness as well.” (Motoyasu)

“No!” (Firo)

She’s shivering. This is no good.

I try to comprehend the current situation, and Motoyasu turns to me with serious eyes.

“Dear Father-In-Law. Please leave your daughter to me.” (Motoyasu)

“Who are you calling Father-in-Law!?” (Naofumi)

I don’t remember becoming the father of this gluttonous devil-bird.

I may have raised her, but I don’t remember making her my daughter.

“Father-in-Law. I was saved by your daughter, and have realized my true feelings for her. I’ll definitely make her happy. Please leave your daughter to me!” (Motoyasu)

“And I’m saying I’m not this girl’s father!” (Naofumi)

“You can’t say that! A father shouldn’t think that way about his daughter, Father-in-Law!” (Motoyasu)

“Are you even listening to me? She isn’t my daughter!” (Naofumi)

“That sort of relationship between father and daughter is immoral, Father-in-Law!” (Motoyasu)

“Just be quiet already!” (Naofumi)

Raphtalia drives Motoyasu out and slams the door again.

This is exponentially more serious than I had previously thought.

If I deal with this poorly he might end up with irreparable mental damage.

“Step down, Tanuki-Pig! Release Firo-tan and Father-in-Law!” (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu bangs on the room’s door.

My head is hurting a lot...

I could never reason with him before, but his brain was never this messed up.

He’s become a complete stalker now.

The reason for this is... probably because Firo treated him nicely.

If you corner humans, they may develop unimaginable levels of devotion to their goals.

My and Ren’s cases prove that.

Though I don't get what part of yesterday's events led to... this. But it seems that Motoyasu views Firo as his savior.

Motoyasu seems to be the type that gets obsessed easily.

From Motoyasu's reaction, is he the type of person who keeps trying until his target develops feelings for him?

... I really REALLY don't want to involve myself in this. This is a major waste of time.

"You're being too loud!" (Adventurer)

A female adventurer staying in the same inn begin to complain.

"You pigs are the ones who are being loud! Quit your squealing!"

(Motoyasu)

"P-pigs!? What is this man saying!?" (Adventurer)

... The skirt-chasing Motoyasu is now verbally abusing women.

What sort of woman could it be? I slowly stick my head into the doorway.

The woman Motoyasu is quarrelling with is quite a beauty.

I think it's the Onee-san that approached him earlier.

I can't understand what drove him this far.

What the hell is going through his head...

What do Raphtalia and that Woman look like to him?

"What should we do? We won't be able to leave like this." (Raphtalia)

"Firo, take responsibility and marr-" (Naofumi)

"No!" (Firo)

Really, what should we do? It doesn't seem Motoyasu will leave us alone any time soon.

"Let's leave through the window. We can explain our situation to the inn manager and run." (Raphtalia)

"U-understood." (Naofumi)

Is Motoyasu truly an idiot?

What could have led to this? I can't even imagine it.

Why do we have to run from him?

Shouldn't it be the reverse?

And so we left the Inn.

Afterwards, while we were travelling, Firo randomly began running off to kick things.

I can imagine what she's kicking.

To withstand Firo's kicks, he must have quite a bit of stamina.

Or perhaps Firo's trauma prevents her from finding the strength to kick with all her might.

Recently I've been seeing Witch's wanted poster hanging around.

She is to be captured on sight.

The problem is that she's travelling with Ren.

And we began our escape from the clutches of the Broken Motoyasu.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 166 – Hatching

---

We frantically drive the carriage to get away from the broken Motoyasu, and head for our village.

Paki... paki.

I hear some sounds from my back. It seems the egg is about to hatch. I take it off of my back and examine it.

“Is the egg ready to hatch?” (Raphtalia)

“It seems that’s the case.” (Naofumi)

The carriage is shaking. Firo is running with all of her might.

Well, something terrible did happen to her...

This egg is much bigger than Firo’s. It’s not big enough that I’d have to carry it under my arm, but it’s about as big as an ostrich’s.

Cracks begin to spread across the surface of the egg, and from it a small dragon begins to emerge.

“What do dragons even eat?” (Naofumi)

“I think it’s probably meat.” (Raphtalia)

“Did we have any meat?” (Naofumi)

We should have some extra smoked fish and jerky in the store house, so we should be fine...

“I’ll ask Rat later.” (Naofumi)

“Let’s do that.” (Raphtalia)

Even if she hates it, she will probably talk.

Taniko has been getting annoying lately.

“KYUAAAA!” (Dragon)

The dragon’s head is fully out of the shell. It lets out a cry.

“Did it hatch?” (Firo)

“Yeah.” (Naofumi)

How nostalgic. Firo was also born like this… no she was much more energetic than this.

The dragon chick is about the size of my head. Much bigger than Firo was.

“Doesn’t it look a little strange?” (Naofumi)

Its body is charcoal colored with a metallic gloss. On its back are wings way too small for the body.

Its tail is quite thick.

It has two horns, and it hasn’t grown any scales yet.

I try to lift it up and find it to be quite warm.

“KYUA!” (Dragon)

It starts blinking and rests its gaze on me.

“KYUAA!” (Dragon)

It raises one of its arms as if to greet me, and lets out a sound.

“What should we name it?” (Raphtalia)

“What would be good? Let’s ask the villagers.” (Naofumi)

“Fine, let’s decide one together.” (Raphtalia)

“Then should Firo rush to the village?” (Firo)

“We’re already quite close. There’s no need to rush.” (Naofumi)

It would be troublesome if it died on the ride right after we got it.

Ah, right.

I should feed the egg shell to the shield.

I touch the shell to the shield.

… bang!

What? The shield lets out some sparks.

… series is currently locked.

Lock?

Now that I think about it… I raised my level quite a bit, but I haven’t unlocked any dragon-cased shields.

The Zombie Dragon didn’t give me such a shield, and I haven’t met any other dragons.

I don’t know the reason, but my shield has yet to unlock any dragon shields. The closest thing I have at the moment is the Wrath Shield.

Should I take Raphtalia and Firo to the mountains later?

I don’t know how well I will be able to fight under this curse.

However there are many things I need to test out.

Ah, I forgot because of that incident with Motoyasu, but I have to go to the Castle Town soon.

I need to get some Dragon Hourglass sand to unlock the Warp Skill, and get some weapons from the Old Man.

“Fufu… It looks cute. It reminds me of when Firo was little.” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia gently pokes the baby dragon.

The dragon grabs hold of Raphtalia’s finger and lightly gnaws on it.

This is supposed to be an incarnation of carnal lust?

I better raise it carefully.

We arrive at the village, and I park the carriage next to Rat’s research lab.

Raphtalia goes off to talk to the other villagers, and Firo goes off to find

Melty in the neighboring town.

And I walk into the Laboratory.

“Yo.” (Naofumi)

“Hm? It seems the dragon has finally hatched.” (Rat)

“Yeah.” (Naofumi)

I lift the Dragon up and show it to Rat.

“Well then, let me give it a medical examination.” (Rat)

Rat carefully examines the chick, and does some light palpations on it.

“Okay, there are no problems to report. It is a male.” (Rat)

“That’s good.” (Naofumi)

There should be no problems if he gets the ability to turn human like Firo.

No, the ability to turn human is a problem in itself.

"What should I feed him? Is it meat?" (Naofumi)

"Though it has carnivorous tendencies, it is an omnivore. You can feed it whatever you want." (Rat)

As Rat begins speaking, the Dragon chick jumps out of her arms and starts climbing up my leg. What is he doing?

"Is there anything particular I have to watch out for?" (Naofumi)

"Don't feed it after midnight. Bad things will happen." (Rat)

What sort of Demon is that? (TL: Gremlins reference.)

Is it that one? The one you can't splash water on?

"By the way, that was a joke. Well just be careful what you feed it. It might end up chasing you to make you cook more." (Rat)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"I recommend taking it hunting soon. The appetite of a growing dragon is not something to be trifled with. You better get it out of the way quickly."
(Rat)

"... Is that something I should worry over?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, but Count, most of the kids in your village won't lose out appetite-wise even to a hungry dragon." (Rat)

Rat begins talking in a haughty tone. She seems to have arbitrarily come to her own conclusion.

"What species is this dragon?" (Naofumi)

"It's part of the Wiel race. It's a race with exceptionally high loyalty. It seems to be a mix of a pure-blood Wiel and a Tyrera." (Rat) (TL: ウィル
Can someone give me a better translation?)

"Tyrera?" (Naofumi)

"It's a monster that looks like a giant lizard. They don't fly but make for good vehicles. Though they aren't exactly common." (Rat)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

I've never heard of or seen one.

"It's not a monster native to Melromark, so you probably haven't seen one. I don't think anyone even keeps one in this area." (Rat)

"Is that how it is?" (Naofumi)

"It's much more common in Faubrey, Shildfrieden and Silt Welt. Its natural habitat is quite limited." (Rat)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

"Your area of operation is quite small, you know, Count." (Rat)

"I'm well aware." (Naofumi)

Don't stress over things that don't concern you.

When the other three heroes were sent to other countries, I had to remain here.

I never received any international missions.

If I can make a profit overseas, I should probably consider it but now is not the time for that.

But I don't think I will be freed of my work here soon... Perhaps I should let the slaves branch out my company.

I'll ask the Queen about it later.

"So you were over here." (Female Knight)

Female Knight arrives at the Lab with Taniko.

"What's up? Did something happen?" (Naofumi)

"Well-" (Female Knight)

"Is this the Dragon child that came from the egg?" (Taniko)

Taniko interrupts Female Knight and stares intently at the baby dragon.

"Kyua!" (Dragon)

The dragon seems to give off a smile. It doesn't seem to be afraid of strangers.

"For now, you can go play with the chick. I have some business to speak of with Naofumi-dono." (Female Knight)

"Ye~s!" (Taniko)

"Why do you listen to her words, but not mine!?" (Naofumi)

I'm technically your master, you know!

... Well, she'll be taking a burden off my hands for a while.

I hand the dragon chick over to Taniko and face Female Knight.

"And? What happened?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, it seems that the country has sent over a military instructor for you."
(Female Knight)

"Military Instructor?" (Naofumi)

"You know the definition, right?" (Female Knight)

"Well, yeah... someone who teaches how to fight, right? I thought you were already teaching the villagers." (Naofumi)

"You're not wrong. But the person sent is a specialist in the field." (Female Knight)

Female Knight seems to want to drag me over to him quickly. She starts explaining the situation.

“It’s a practitioner of a legendary style, Hengen Musou. That person volunteered to lend Iwatani-dono their power.” (Female Knight) (TL: Hengen Musou literally means Unparalleled Transformation)

“Hengen Musou? What is that? What sort of style?” (Naofumi)

It sounds like something someone with Chuunibyou would think of.

“It’s a legendary style that is said to have never lost on the battlefield I heard tales of it while growing up. The last remaining practitioner said that the style was no longer needed in this world, and planned to take it to the grave with them. But after being helped by Iwatani-dono, that person has decided to pass on the legend for the sake of the world.” (Female Knight)

“Hmm… Is it strong?” (Naofumi)

“Of course. The style has left its mark on the histories of countries around the globe. Just like the Four Summoned and Seven Star heroes.” (Female Knight)

“It’s that famous? It must be an interesting style.” (Naofumi)

“However half a century ago, internal discord caused the death of a majority of its practitioners. Those left all swore to never pass it on. And this is the last practitioner left standing.” (Female Knight)

Really, what sort of style is it? I imagine it coming from a land plagued by bandits.

Something like that one godly martial arts style. (TL: Fist of the North Star)

"That person is a famous individual who participated in Melromark's previous major war." (Female Knight)

"Who?" (Naofumi)

"They said they were on friendly terms with you, but..." (Female Knight)

Who is it? Did I know such a person?

"If you can't remember, I think it's best if you met them. I want to undertake that person's lessons as soon as possible." (Female Knight)

By Female Knight's behavior, a really amazing person must have come. Female Knight grabs my arm and begins pulling me away.

"I'm off. Is there anything you need to report?" (Naofumi)

"Could you come to see my progress on the Bioplant later? I think you will have to preform a modification on it." (Rat)

"Understood." (Naofumi)

"KYUA!" (Dragon)

"You should... go feed him something. I'm going to take him leveling soon." (Naofumi)

Taniko, who is cuddling with the baby dragon, nods at my orders.

I guess she'll listen to my words this time around.

She does not protest against the slaying of innocent wild monsters.

Her philosophy is closest to Survival of the Fittest.

What exactly is she trying to accomplish?

"Your name is now Gaelion." (Taniko)

"Don't go arbitrarily naming it." (Naofumi)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

The Dragon chick cries out. Was that a yes, or a no?

By the way, the villagers had also been trying to think of a name for the baby.

However after hearing that Taniko already gave it one, they lost interest.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 167 – Peerless Transformation

---

“Oh! This Child’s talent is only once every 100 years”(Battle Instructor)

“Fuuueeeeeeeeeee!?”(Rishia)

So I went to meet the Battle Instructor. I placed my hands in front of my face and looked down because of what I saw(TL: naofumi is doing a facepalm)

My head hurts

Why is this old hag keep on rubbing Rishia’s body?

What an extravagant equipment she’s wearing(TL: the sentence refers to the “musuko” or son but it doesn’t make any sense so I just referred to the old hag… correct me if im wrong)

The old hag is wearing a Chinese-style dougi, So she is the Battle Instructor of the Peerless Transformation Style huh?(TL: Dougi is a martial arts uniform and Peerless Transformation Style if you translate it. But it is read as “Hengen Musou Ryuu” but whichever you prefer)

“Oh my, Saint-sama it’s been a long time” (Battle Instructor)

“I’ve heard about you, but you are the Battle Instructor right?”(Naofumi)

“Yes Indeed” (Battle Instructor)

I shouldn't have asked, but I didn't want to admit it

I mean I somehow understood it

But inside my head I instinctively refuse to believe it

I think I've heard a similar voice back in Cal Mira Island, I also remember ignoring that voice

“Saint-sama saved many lives, so I rushed over to help save the world”(Battle Instructor)

“Ah....alright, I understand, but why are you keeping Rishia in this place?”(Naofumi)

“Don't you understand Saint-sama? Extraordinary talent is sleeping within this person. Her great qualities are suitable to be the next successor”
(Battle Instructor)

“Fueeeeeeee?! Naofumi-san please help me”(Rishia)

Recently, Her favorite word seems to have been running out in a full throttle

Was it really that unpleasant?

If I remember correctly, Rishia's been focusing on training is now around Lvl. 65

Her status isn't very high

Also her general status is inferior to Kiel who's only Lvl. 55

Her highest is only half as much

And if you compare it to Raphtalia...It's too terrible to look at

However, the level up speed is rather high

Still In this world the slave training level up speed is different from each individual

To think that Rishia is some sort of a genius

"I'm curious what Lvl. you are being the Battle Instructor, If I'm not mistaken I remember them saying that your age is the same as your level"(Naofumi)

"Oh that... Brings back old memories... It's Lvl. 100 with further training I was able to push it through its limits"(Battle Instructor)

100! The limit in this world is Lvl. 100?

"Is that so, The Lvl. limit is 100"(Naofumi)

"I thought it was, but the limit of the Hakuko kind that is one of your slaves Iwatani-dono is 120. It is said that they are the strongest kind"(Female Knight)

"According to the legend the Hakuko kind is believed to exceed the normal class up"( Female Knight)(TL: I think she was referring to second Class up or not but whatever)

Female knight compliments Rishia

To have someone who is knowledgeable sure is convenient

I don't know anything about this world, and the slaves can't provide any useful information either

Only various knights and nobles can.

"What about the Four Saint Heroes?"(Naofumi)

"There seems to be no limit"(Female Knight)

I see…… So the Heroes can exceed the Lvl. 100 limit, and the Hakuko kind is up to 120

However, there seems to be a method to break through the class up limit according to the legends, but that method is still unknown up to this day.

"That reminds me, where is Raphtalia?"(Naofumi)

"She's over there"(Rishia)

Raphtalia is sitting down , she looks completely exhausted

What's the matter? I can pretty much guess what happened

"Are you alright?"(Naofumi)

"Yes…… That old woman groped my entire body without my permission, she said that it was some form of tradition"(Raphtalia)

"It's because you seemed strong"(Naofumi)

In Lvl. she is above Raphtalia

But I don't know in status

"Earlier when I tried to move, nothing is happening it was as if my movement has been suppressed. No matter how much strength I use I still can't move"(Raphtalia)

"That's amazing"(Naofumi)

Was that a joint lock technique of some sort?

It's a shame that I don't know something like that

Back in my own world this will be a typical otaku thing , since grappling anime is the one that is watched the most(TL: Baki the grappler reference)

Well, to hold down Raphtalia just like that the one who cut the head of the Spirit Turtle together with Firo, She must be a considerably strong person

“I understand what Saint-sama is thinking, It is true that magic and status is the key to winning the battle. However, the true strength can only be measured by experience”(Battle Instructor)

“Well”(Naofumi)

If a person cannot handle his strength properly then you might say that it is useless in battle

I of all people knows it very well

Even high Lvl. ones can be a bunch of weak people in a party

True strength cannot be based with status

“So, What weapon are you using ?”(Naofumi)

Before I used a hoe to fight(TL: not a person but an object)

But it dismisses whenever I set it as a weapon

“There is no specific weapon with Hengen Musou Style”(Battle Instructor)

“What?”(Naofumi)

“Hengen Musou Style is an all-around combat art which utilizes a wide variety of weapons to fight different kinds of enemies”(Battle Instructor)

Then even a hoe is considered weapon too

It is a technique that does not specifically choose a weapon

“How about testing Saint-sama’s strength with mine?”(Battle instructor)

“Well my body is still recovering because of the curse”(Naofumi)

“Then will Saint-sama escape when a sudden occurrence were to happen because he is not ready?”(Battle Instructor)

“No… Well you could say that I have reliable companions to fight with although the only thing that I could do is to defend”(Naofumi)

“Well then as a handicap I’ll only use a wooden stick to hit you. A single blow should be okay right? Saint-sama try to endure the attack.”(Battle Instructor)

The Old hag broke a branch of the bioplant and took a stance against me

It was almost a personal thing

I consider my abilities to be weak, of all the people that I've encountered Motoyasu is the strongest so far.

Well, when Motoyasu and I fought he was in offense and I am on defense which will obviously only lead to a stalemate

He was a knight who pursues, except he was just a thief who robs the masses

I'll use the Soul-eater shield this time because it has the highest defense

The spirit-turtle series is not that strong yet because the materials for enhancing is not enough

"Well then, I'll start"(Battle Instructor)

The Old hag jumped in front of me in an instant

However, this speed is something that I can deal with

I was able to react and put the shield where the wooden stick is coming from

With this I can lower the Old hag's attack power

"As expected of Saint-sama, You got accustomed to my movements in an instant, but how about this?"(Battle Instructor)

In spite of being just a stick a shock ran through the shield

"!?"(Naofumi)

The shock transferred to my hand and then my body

Now it's reaching my abdomen

"Gufuuu"(Naofumi)

It's a strike to the stomach which made me lose my strength

What now?

"One technique of the Hengen Musou Style is used beat people with high defense such as yourself Saint-sama"(Battle Instructor)

My consciousness fading away but I endured it and started chanting recovery magic

"Tzuvaito Heal!"(Naofumi)

This power ..... is the kind of skill that can carry damage in proportion to the defense of the object that it is to be touched by the stick (TL: so it was like a defense cancellation technique.. just assuming things here)

It's the kind of power that will be really fatal for me

To think the Eagle Piercing Shot could possibly exist somewhere

"However, a reversal technique also exist"(Battle Instructor)

"There is?"(Naofumi)

"Ofcouse, and by all mean I would like you to master those techniques"(Battle Instructor)

"... understood"(Naofumi)

I understand that it is a powerful technique

She is an excellent Battle Instructor and she's not an enemy that I can possibly defeat

There's no reason for me to refuse and it'll be troublesome not to cooperate

Rather it'll be a great asset if it was taught to the slaves

"So what should I do?"(Naofumi)

“Since Saint-sama already has fighting experience I only need to explain the theory behind it. All you have to do is asses your opponent internal spirit and inject your own magic power to cause a disturbance and make your opponent’s magic power run wild”

“huh?”(Naofumi)

The image of a marble inside a vase that’s shaking floats in my head

That kind of logic is not probably wrong

If you shake the vase very violently sooner or later it’ll break because the inside is hollow

To receive such an attack will definitely break me from the inside

“to reverse the technique you just have to redirect the power outside of your body before it begins to get out of control”(Battle Instructor)

“I see”(Naofumi)

In other words I just need to let it go outside before the power begins to act violently.

If you compare it to ceramics it already has a hole so do I just have to push it forward?

Such things only happen in manga... Things became like such a fantasy

..... I can even summon a barrier from the shield

"I understand the theory but it seems really hard to do "(Naofumi)

Even though I have an idea on how it works I still don't know how to do it

This Old hag really is amazing

"I understand, I now appoint you as the Battle Instructor of this village"(Naofumi)

"Thank you very much ... then I'll be in charge with this child and this girl who seems to be your right hand Saint-sama"(Battle Instructor)

"Okay"(Naofumi)

"Naofumi-san!"(Raphtalia)

"Naofumi-san!" (Rishia)

Rishia and Raphtalia are protesting

"Do you not like it? But this person is really strong"(Naofumi)

"You're right"(Raphtalia)

“Do you want to be stronger? Then endure it, training by yourself will just get you nowhere”(Naofumi)

It's an opportunity to learn something

Because you are already close to reaching Lvl. 100, learning martial arts will make you even stronger

Raphtalia and Rishia both wants to become stronger

And I don't have a reason to hate that

“Starting today things are about to get tough”(Battle Instructor)

“U-understood!”(Raphtalia)

“Fuuueeee!?”(Rishia)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 168 – Alps

---

“It seems… that an amazing granny has arrived.” (Fohl)

Fohl arrives carrying Atlas on his back.

He’s acting as if he is uninvolved.

Raphtalia and the others have a level cap of 100, but these two can reach 120.

It’s true that having technique can balance out having low stats, but having high stats never hurts.

“What are you talking about? You’re taking her lessons as well.” (Naofumi)

“Ge…” (Fohl)

Fohl has recently been preoccupied with tending to Atlas, and he’s been ignoring my orders.

I don’t know why, but he is behaving quite rebelliously towards me like Kiel when she first got here.

I was able to tame Kiel with food, but it seems that won’t work on this one. The younger sister Atlas’s condition has improved quite a bit, and it seems a full recovery may be possible.

“Naofumi-sama, it’s been a while.” (Atlas)

“It’s only been two and a half days, you know.” (Naofumi)

“And still we meet here and now. Naofumi-sama suddenly left, so I was feeling… anxious.” (Atlas)

Ah, so she was afraid that her medicine supply had disappeared.

If I don’t feed it to her personally, the effect decreases.

"Nununu..." (Fohl)

Fohl begins staring at me menacingly.

What's he so bitter about?

"HM? Oy, little girl over there." (Granny)

The Old Woman approaches Atlas.

She looks over her body.

Please choose one student at a time, or I will be understaffed.

"Laddy, why are you carrying that girl around?" (Granny)

She begins questioning Fohl.

And in response Fohl shifts his glare to her.

Isn't it obvious that Atlas is sick?

From my point of view, it looks as if the granny is bullying the two siblings.

I'm quite skeptical when it comes to the elderly.

This trauma was probably brought about by Trash.

"Atlas can neither see nor walk!" (Fohl)

"Really? I don't sense that sort of aura from her. Can you have her stand up for a second?" (Granny)

"D-don't screw with me. Atlas can't st-" (Fohl)

"Dear brother, let me try it." (Atlas)

"... I got it." (Fohl)

Fohl slowly lowers Atlas, and grasps her arms to steady her.

Well... I don't think anything will come of this.

This may be a world of magic, but there are some wounds that won't heal so easily.

"Naofumi-sama, if I may ask for your assistance." (Atlas)

"Ah, got it." (Naofumi)

She won't be able to stand anyways. Someone with as weak a constitution as her won't recover this fast.

... The Yggdrasil medicine can't be that effective...

This old woman's standing right in front of us.

Perhaps the medicine will work.

"Hup..." (Atlas)

Atlas uses me and Fohl's hands, and manages to stand.

"Wow... Is this what it means to stand on one's own feet?" (Atlas)

"Ah... Atlas is... Atlas is standing!" (Fohl)

What sort of girl from the Alps are you? (TL: Heidi reference)

... If I never asked Fohl for his name, I would have given him the nickname 'Alps' here.

And I would have stuck to it to the end. Like with Taniko.

Now that I think about it, I don't know Taniko's real name. But I have no real intention to learn it, and I don't really care.

Atlas slowly starts walking while teetering from side to side. She smiles.

"Thank you, Naofumi-sama, Onii-sama." (Atlas)

"... Atlas, you've become healthy..." (Fohl)

"Yes, Onii-sama." (Atlas)

Her condition was horrible, but she has recovered to this extent.

That medicine really is miraculous.

It worked for the Old Woman and now Atlas.

"And so Naofumi-sama... what should we do from now?" (Atlas)

"Let's see. I plan to have your brother fight for me. He's been leveling up with the others, right?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, Onii-sama has been diligently leveling with the others." (Atlas)

"So what do you want to do?" (Naofumi)

Even if she can walk, I don't think I can count on her for hard labor.

Atlas is also a Hakuko, so she can reach level 120.

"I also wish to learn how to fight." (Atlas)

"Atlas! You don't have to do that!" (Fohl)

Fohl of the Alps shouts out.

But of course he will prevent his sick sister from participating in battle.

"No... I've wished this since I was small. If I was ever able to walk, then I wouldn't want to be the one who just got protected all the time. I want to protect you too." (Atlas)

"B-but..." (Fohl)

Atlas's strong will seems to have gotten through to Alps.

... If I keep thinking of him as Alps, I may end up saying it out loud and getting whacked.

I'll stick with Fohl for now.

Taniko? No idea.

"And so, Naofumi-sama, please let me fight as well... Please let me level up with everyone." (Atlas)

"Understood. So Fohl, what will you do?" (Naofumi)

"I'll fight! Protecting Atlas is my duty." (Fohl)

"No, I wasn't asking about that..."

I explained the powers granted unto me by my shield's growth correction abilities.

"And so if you want to truly become stronger, it will probably be best to reset your level. What will you do?" (Naofumi)

"T-that's..." (Fohl)

"With the Growth Corrections, Atlas may surpass you some day." (Naofumi)

My words seem to have affected him.

"I want to win against Onii-sama." (Atlas)

"Nu..." (Fohl)

Fohl hesitates and stares at Atlas's face.

I guess it will be painful for him if his precious sister gets beat up on the battlefield. He seems to have come to a decision.

"... I got it. I'll reset." (Fohl)

"You seem to be discussing something interesting." (Sadina)

Sadina suddenly appears.

"I wonder if I should do it as well." (Sadina)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

I was going to the Dragon Hourglass anyways, so I don't mind.

"We'll be leaving immediately. Military Instructor, please help Raphtalia and Rishia." (Naofumi)

"I understand." (Granny)

Sadina is large, so we'll have to couple a cart to the carriage... Oh, right.

"Are the Lemos here?" (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Lemo)

The Lemos gather.

"Are you people raising your levels as well?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, most of us were already over level 30 when we got here." (Imya's Uncle)

Imya's uncle begins explanations.

"I see, then anyone here who wants to learn blacksmithing, come with me."
(Naofumi)

"Blacksmithery? Then I'll go." (Imya's Uncle)

Imya's Uncle raises his hand.

What?

"I've already put the basics to heart." (Imya's Uncle)

"I see, then come along." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Imya's Uncle)

"While we're gone, everyone can dig burrows for themselves. Does anyone specialize in that field?" (Naofumi)

"Everyone is quite skilled in that aspect." (Imya's Uncle)

"Got it." (Naofumi)

It seems that at least that area will finish without a hitch.

"Where is Imya, anyways?" (Naofumi)

"Imya is currently at the clothing maker's place to learn how to make clothing. Is that alright with you?" (Imya's Uncle)

"I have no issues. Tell her that she can learn freely." (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Imya's Uncle)

Imya's developed an interest in making clothes.

If I leave it to the Tailor, it should be fine.

It seems that the people of my village will finally be able to wear decent clothes soon.

"Oy, why are you wearing a loincloth?" (Naofumi)

Sadina appears wearing a loincloth. She's also wearing a vest, but that doesn't make her appearance any less strange.

She's also given one to Kiel, and she walks around in it.

It's aesthetically terrible. It's up to Imya to prevent this town from turning into one of loincloths.

"Personal tastes." (Sadina)

Sadina offers a brief reply.

"I'm home~. Melty-chan was busy so she rejected me." (Firo)

Firo comes back from the neighboring village at the right time. I call her over.

"Then what shall I do?" (Atlas)

Atlas, who we are leaving behind calls out.

It's good that she's motivated to work.

Fohl is coming to the Castle Town with us to reset his level, but Atlas was level 1 from the beginning.

"Military Advisor, what do you think of this girl? Can we send her off to level in this state?" (Naofumi)

"... Her battle senses are of genius levels. She has learned to sense presence even without my teachings. It will be fine to throw her into battle now." (Granny)

"Quit spouting crap! Treat her more carefully!" (Fohl)

Fohl snapped.

Whenever I meet him he seems angry.

... Though I'm not one to speak.

"What's wrong?" (Firo)

"Firo-san, it seems that Onii-sama does not wish to send me into battle."
(Atlas)

"Hm... is Atlas-chan strong?" (Firo)

"No idea." (Atlas)

"Try Punching Firo." (Firo)

Firo tries to act as Atlas's senior and presents herself for Atlas's attack.

"Eh? Ah... Sure." (Atlas)

Atlas closes her fist, and hits it against Firo's chest.

It lets out quite a nice sound.

The next moment leaves me speechless.

"AKYAAAAAAAAAAAA!" (Firo)

Firo does a somersault and falls flat on the ground.

"I-it's the real deal. Atlas-chan's punch really hurt. Master, please heal me..."
(Firo)

With teary eyes, Firo stares at me.

Is she acting? That was a terrible performance.

"I just slightly disrupted the flow of the massive power within Firo... did it hurt that much?" (Atlas)

"Yeah..." (Firo)

"I'm sorry." (Atlas)

"No, I'm fine. It doesn't hurt anymore." (Firo)

"Stop it with the jokes, monster girl! Stop trying to send my sister into battle!" (Fohl)

"Atlas-chan, punch him." (Firo)

"Ah, yes." (Atlas)

On Firo's order Atlas smacks her fist into her brother's chest.

Fohl makes no attempt to block, and takes the attack head on.

"KAHA..." (Fohl)

He lets out a loud sound and falls to his knees.

He seems to be tearing up.

"I-I didn't feel... anything so... Please stay... home." (Fohl)

"You're obviously pushing it..." (Naofumi)

This is actually quite amazing.

How did she manage to inflict damage on Fohl and Firo?

Is she able to sense something else because she can't see?

She's... stronger than her brother.

If she grows from here, she may turn out to be amazing. As expected of the Hakuko race.

This was an unexpected development in a good way.

The Old Woman should get to work on her immediately.

"Well, just go level in a way that doesn't put yourself in too much danger.

We're off to go Level Reset." (Naofumi)

"Ye~s." (Atlas)

"I-I still don't approve of you making Atlas fight. (Fohl)

"Onii-sama, no matter what you say, I want to fight. Please follow Naofumi-sama's directions." (Atlas)

"B-but..." (Fohl)

"Firo, grab Fohl. We're going." (Naofumi)

"Yeah!" (Firo)

Firo grabs the resisting Fohl. The other slaves prepare for the harsh trip.

"Level up the dragon chick with you. Now then, we're off." (Naofumi)

"See you soon, Naofumi-sama." (Raphtalia)

"Yeah, I'll be back soon." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia's always seems to be seeing me off, but I've never had the opportunity of seeing her off.

But there's no need for me to mull over it.

And so I took the slaves that wanted to level reset, and those that wanted to learn from the old man to the Castle Town.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 169 – Weapon Shop Owner and Apprentice

---

“Yaaahhhhhh!” (firo)

“Firo-taaa———.” (motoyasu)

I saw Motoyasu off with a sigh as he flew off into space for the third time today.

He’ll probably arrive ahead of us with his transfer skill, but she did well.

“As I thought, being with the Hero of the Shield-sama is entertaining~”
(sadina)

Sadina cackled with laughter at the sight of Motoyasu flying into space. I feel like she was always laughing, but was that just my imagination? Even Fohl screamed in the beginning. [T/N: When he first saw Motoyasu go flying]

I also saw the other guys drawing away but Sadina was the only one who laughed so readily.

Was she someone who laughs easily? How should I say it, I think it’s too much.

Oh well, one way or another, the castle came into view.

Fohl looked to be suffering from very bad motion sickness but we were nearly at our destination.

Returning with the transfer skill…….I didn’t register my land or anything, so for the time being it’s not an option.

Well, I have various things to do in the castle so it’s fine.

Before we enter the castle town, I stop the carriage at the village nearby, like always.

"Heh, are we walking from here?" (sadina)

"Firo and I are famous, we stand out whenever we enter the castle town."
(naofumi)

"Hmm. Well then, wouldn't it'd be better for Fohl-kun to conceal himself as well, for the same reason?" (sadina)

"Why?" (naofumi)

"Melromarc has been in a feud with Silt Welt for a long time, you know?
And the Hakuko species is reknown because of it." (sadina)

Mmm...there's some truth in that. His appearance may be noteworthy.

"My kind is not seen very often but it's fine since we're not well-known."
(sadina)

"I see." (naofumi)

It seems kind of stupid. We might stand out for a different reason, but let's just go as eccentric adventurers.

It seems that the Lemo slave was fine for the same reason.

We were just going to leave him at the old man's place. It was Imia's uncle.
Was his a docile species?

Come to think of it, I haven't been fighting at all lately.

I'm afraid my senses seem to be dulling.

I should also do some training exercises with the Battle Instructor.

Firo kept a restless lookout of our surroundings as she walked behind me.
Did she really hate Motoyasu that much.

If she hated him, she shouldn't have given him such kind words.

I really didn't want to tell her, but she should be more secretive about this fear.

What will you do when Motoyasu proceeds to the village?

We entered the castle town as I thought that.

It would probably be good to ask the queen to prepare for the Level Reset first.

Or, should I turn the slave over to the old man before that?

Well, we pass the old man's shop on the way to the castle so the delegation is probably better.

"Oh, Laddie." (oyaji)

When we entered the weapon shop, the old man was standing at the counter as usual.

The shop seems to have settled down and stabilised. Well, I had confidence in the old man's business.

"How is it? Is there any progress?" (naofumi)

"Not at all. The ore from the spirit turtle also has the characteristic of being tough." (oyaji)

"Hmm.." (naofumi)

"That part is very challenging right now but I'm researching everything I can." (oyaji)

"I see. Which reminds me, in Zeltbur I—" (naofumi)

I told the old man about the Spirit Turtle Sword I saw in Zeltbur. In any case, I could tell that it was a sword made by a skilled craftsman at a single glance.

"If you say so, it must have been quite a sword....I can probably tell who made it or how they made it just by looking at it but...." (oyaji)

"I'd need to bring it here? Forgive me but such an expensive weapon is beyond me." (naofumi)

If I sell the weapons made by the old man, I could probably get a bit of money but that would be like putting the cart before the horse.

....Speaking of which, I also have the option of selling the rare or unique weapons gained from the drops. Since they're unusual, I should be able to get a good price for them.

I'll think about it.

"Oh right, I thought about who I should make your apprentice and brought the slave." (naofumi)

"Who is it?" (oyaji)

I pointed to Imia's uncle among slaves I brought.

"For a while now, I feel like I know you, but is that just my imagination?" (oyaji)

The old man inquired while pointing at Imia's uncle.

"Why it's been a long time. It looks like you've graduated properly from the Master's place." (imia's uncle)

"As I thought!" (oyaji)

"You're acquaintances?" (naofumi)

"Yeah." (oyaji)

"From the past." (imia's uncle)

It seems that Imia's uncle and the old man from the weapon shop were fellow disciples under the same craftsman when they were younger.

"Even if I say that...I dropped out in the middle. There were a lot of troubles at home and we had to raise Imia and the other children." (imia's uncle)

"The management was completely screwed up back then." (oyaji)

"Despite being craftsmen?" (naofumi)

It was a somewhat ridiculous story.

"Whenever there was a huge discussion, it'd be about women. My master was obsessed with love." (imia's uncle)

It seems like the master was similar to Motoyasu. In my head, the old man's master turned into Motoyasu.

Although, the Motoyasu I know has already turned into a Firo maniac.

What kind of life did Imia's uncle go through? Imia also became a slave, I really don't know any details.

A wave similar to Raphtalia's...was considered strange. Since it was huge.

"Speaking of which, how did you and Imia become slaves?" (naofumi)

"We were forced into slavery after being caught by slave hunters. During that time, quite a lot of corpses appeared and the village was also ruined. The only survivors are the ones with the Hero of the Shield-sama." (imia's uncle)

I see, there was also that kind of pattern. Raphtalia also experienced something similar.

"The orphaned Imia seems so happy now. I feel that I also want to lend my strength to the Hero of the Shield-sama" (imia's uncle)

The circumstances behind the slavery were things such as being sold by parents, having no relatives or slave hunting.

Sadina's reason was the same, being caught by slave hunters.

Then what about Fohl?

"What about you?" (naofumi)

"I couldn't pay for Atla's medical fees and we were also burdened with debt."
(fohl)

".....so it seems I'll receive a bill." (naofumi)

Should I sell him depending on the amount of money?

No, there's also the medicine costs. This guy owes me quite a debt.

"As far as I know, it disappeared when we were presented to you." (fohl)

"I see, that's good." (naofumi)

Those slave dealers. So that part was given as a service.

"Originally I worked and fought....the debt was gone, otherwise I wouldn't have been able to buy medicine." (fohl)

"I see...." (naofumi)

"Atla should've been able to have a more normal life. At the very least, she shouldn't have had to suffer from her illness." (fohl)

"What kind of background did you have?" (naofumi)

"Who knows...? I only know that grandfather was amazing. My parents were lost in the war when we were young, but I think they were also pretty influential. There were a lot of people who helped around." (fohl)

"What about servants to put on your clothes?" (naofumi)

"We didn't have those kinds of guys. But since we couldn't pay, our household belongings were distributed and we parted." (fohl)

Ruined by medical fees, huh……

To have loyal subordinates and stuff, what kind of noble were you?

"Where did you live?" (naofumi)

"Why do I have to tell you that much?" (fohl)

"Well, that's true." (naofumi)

Worrying about the background of this hero-ish guy, my mind was dwelling on something inconsequential.

"Well since you're already acquainted, it simplifies things." (naofumi)

"Well, that's true but….I never thought the smithing place I would be employed at would be yours." (imia's uncle)

"I was also surprised. I'm taking in an apprentice due to Laddie's request but, well, you're a fine partner so isn't it good." (oyaji)

"How nostalgic. It brings back the past." (imia's uncle)

"Including lodging fees, how much should I pay?" (naofumi)

"It includes boarding, right? If I can work him hard then I don't need it."
(oyaji)

"I'm grateful for your generosity." (naofumi)

"Hey….stop saying stuff like working me to death." (imia's uncle)

He's become more sturdy than normal Demi-humans due to there being some correction.

Will the old man also be Spartan when teaching?

How should I say it, pipes or cigars would probably suit Imia's uncle but he doesn't smoke.

He wears overalls and looks like a hillbilly.

Well, whatever.

"I'll have you work to a similar standard as we did in the past." (oyaji)

"That would kill me." (imia's uncle)

"Ha ha ha, it's not as bad as you think." (oyaji)

And with that, they started work as the old man chatted with Imia's uncle. It looks like it will be fine if it's like this.

"Well we've got some errands to do." (naofumi)

"Alright, I'll beat the shop's business into this guy." (oyaji)

"I want you to teach me how to beat the techniques into this guy, so won't you come to my land?" (naofumi)

Depending on whether his skills rival the old man or if they're just at the level of a salesperson, we'll be able to have weapons and armour made for the village.

"I haven't really thought about it. For now, I have to see capable he is."
(oyaji)

"I haven't done much. Only as far as continuing to do a bit of metal-work."
(imia's uncle)

"A modest attitude. I have you show me how well you swing your hammer."
(oyaji)

"Look forward to it." (imia's uncle)

It feels like a reunion between long-term friends. It's not bad.

"Well then, I'll come again if anything happens. If you need me, just contact the village or the castle." (naofumi)

"I know, Laddie." (oyaji)

"I'll work hard to learn the work, Hero of the Shield-sama." (imia's uncle)

And like this, we left the weapon store behind.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 170 – Trash and Hakuko

---

“Wow…… it's been a long time since I came here, the castle and town has greatly changed.” (Sadina)

“You have visited this place before?” (Naofumi)

“Oh yeah once, during Melromarc's National Day.” (Sadina)

Sadina answers me while looking at the mountain of the Spirit Turtle.

Reconstruction is progressing further than before. The feeling of ruin is wiped out considerably.

That said…… the shell of the Spirit Turtle? Hmmm, it's good to see the trees are cut and the reclamation advances.

A human being is strong. As the saying goes. (TL: I have no idea how to translate this properly)

We are working hard trying to overcome the disaster.

“Where do you want to go now?” (TL: Not sure who says this line)

“I'll go to the Castle at once. I don't feel ready suddenly.” (Naofumi)

I do not mean there is no possibility that Shadow's information network or Female Knight has me doing*, I will meet Queen for the time being. (TL: *I have no idea how to translate this properly)

Unlike a class up, a reset can't be done normally.

“It's the castle. I've seen it but I have never entered before.” (TL: Not sure who says this line)

"Yes. Me too." (TL: Not sure who says this line)

"That should be about right." (Naofumi)

Demi-Humans and Beastmen are not welcomed in the castle of a country which practices human supremacy.

"It is not that good of a place." (TL: Not sure who says this line or the accuracy)

"I guess." (Naofumi) (TL: Not sure the accuracy of this line)

I said while heading towards the castle.

.....Firo is still looking around the area restlessly.

"If Motoyasu is here, we will know. You're too cautious." (Naofumi)

"I know, that's why I'm still like this!" (Firo)

Being overly cautious has its weakness too.

Even if I startle her, it will have the opposite effect.

In addition, I don't think Motoyasu will come to the castle because of the warrant for his arrest.

When you're a known face in this town, it's impossible to hide.

He does not have the skills to hide like Raphtalia and he is dependent on crystals for magic.

Until then, when he finally acquires the skills to hide, based on his past behavior, he will come charging foolishly at Firo.

"Well, don't worry about it." (Naofumi)

“Muuu……” (Firo)

We pass by the castle gates while chatting.

The gatekeeper lets me through after I have taken my robe off to show my face.

Though there is a subtle change in his face when he sees Sadina.

Is the bitter face made for Sadina who is obviously a Beastman?

Ah, because I was a hero summoned at a victory party after the first wave was over…… Were there considerably few Demi-Humans?

The Demi-Humans have a low status in this country.

I realized it a few times before.

The strong sense of discrimination is so deeply-rooted that even the Queen admitted to it.

“By the way, where is the Queen?” (Naofumi)

Are you playing a staring game with the documents in your office?

I ask the Queen's whereabouts to a servant. It looks like she's in the middle of conducting an official business but it seems like a stalling tactic because she knew I was coming.

Will she come if I wait.

Oh, I'll just rest here in the castle's garden.

“Wait here.” (Naofumi)

“Hmmm……” (Fohl)

Fohl is wriggling uncomfortably in his robe.

Do you want to take it off here?" (Naofumi)

"Can I? Well then." (Fohl)

Fohl takes off his robe.

Garangaran ..... (TL: clanging sound)

I hear a sound of something falling behind me.

Turning around, I see Trash with his mouth hanging wide open while staring foolishly at me.

"And....."

I'm wondering whether Trash is still being forced to be the Naked King?

(TL: I have no idea how to translate this properly)

Moreover, there's a signboard attached to him that says "Do one lap around the castle as punishment. Do not help no matter what" signed with the Queen's name.

What is with this guy?

"Finally the Shield has revealed his true colors!" (Trash)

He declares loudly while pointing his finger at me.

"Come on everyone! It's time to erase the Devil of the Shield from this world! (Trash)

He comes running at me with the sign. While the soldiers standing around are dumbfounded, I am standing in front of Trash.
And Trash is immediately suppressed.

“Let go of me, Shield, he is the Devil and even brought a Hakuko (White Tiger) into the castle, kill him!”

……I hear some amazing threats from Trash about the Hakuko species.
Some famous lines come out.
Well, I have fun seeing Trash being overpowered.

“Why are you making racket now?” (Queen)

The Queen comes out while holding her head.

“Oh my wife! The Devil of the Shield is showing his true nature and bringing a Hakuko into the castle.” (Trash)

“Is that so?” (Queen)

“Is that so, that's all you have to say!? Those aren't the words I expected to hear!” (Trash)

“The world is in crisis now. Dealing with wave is more important than dwelling on the bad history. It is the law of nature for the Hakuko to be with the Shield, the God to the Demi-Humans. How could that make you angry?” (Queen)

The Queen does not mince her words.

I feel uplifted here, whether or not you are being brainwashed, it makes me think.

I do not have…… a shield with such an effect.

Yeah, I definitely don't.

“Guh…… even though you are my wife, I will not allow you to defend a Hakuko!” (Trash)

“I do not need your forgiveness. I cannot permit you to continue looking at the world with such clouded eyes forever. Take him away.” (Queen)

“Let go of me! Vulture, do not let that vulture take advantage Ja ah ah ah ah ah Aa!” (Trash) (TL: He actually says the word eagle here)

Trash is then taken somewhere else.

That guy is noisy everywhere.

“Is that…… because of me?” (Fohl)

“Don't worry. That guy's just crazy.” (Naofumi)

Fohl comes to me and asks while there is impatience hanging in the air.

“Is that so.” (Fohl)

“The law…… I seem to have a mysterious relationship with the law of cause and effect.” (Naofumi)

I mutter while the Queen looks at Fohl.

“What is it?” (Fohl)

“You…… perhaps the name of your grandfather is Tai Ran = Ga = Feon?”
(Queen)

"Ah…… it's likely. However, what of it? What did my grandfather do?"
(Fohl)

On hearing that, the Queen nods as she is convinced.

"By all means, please follow the Hero of the Shield. Your late grandfather would have been pleased." (Queen)

"I didn't know!" (Fohl)

Phew…… Whenever I'm in the neighborhood, Fohl becomes rebellious. Now he won't disobey me.

"How do you know my grandfather?" (Fohl)

"That person who was making those noises awhile ago, he was an enemy of your grandfather." (Queen)

"I see, what did you say……"

I am also surprised, and how could you say that with such ease? Well, I will never forgive such selfishness.

"The thing about your grandfather, did you know?" (Queen)

"I didn't know at all. My parents never told me." (Fohl)

"Is that so…… it was rude of me to say that. I ask that you do not mind."
(Queen)

"……"

Fohl has a subtle face. Are you anxious because you are in a place your parents never told you about.

No, it is pretentious of me. I am going to take care of my own roots.

"Iwatani-sama are you facing any problems. How are you holding up."

(Queen)

"Well, I'm well." (Naofumi)

"And your territory. Anything that happens reaches my ear." (Queen)

"Both areas are having difficulty dealing with your daughter." (Naofumi)

"In the end, is Melty useful." (Queen)

"Well…… I cannot leave the management of the town to her." (Naofumi)

Though it looks like due to the brat, the people of the town appears to not face much of a problem.

I cannot say anything more because she has just only taken over the management for a few days.

(TL: Warning. I kinda got lost translating the following section. My translating skills suffered a 30% reduction)

"Can't you do anything about Bitch, your other daughter? Or rather, I feel like killing her the next time we meet." (Naofumi)(TL: Not sure about the accuracy)

I took advantage by bringing up the information bounty, what a sweet feeling. (TL: Not sure about this line)

"There is something…… How will that child go over the border. Together with Ren and that other woman from the Hero of the Spear Party." (Anyone can better translate this line?)

"When putting together Motoyasu's and Elena's stories, certainly there are other countries."

All in all, if Bitch manages to pass through the barrier, I would understand. However, if I say a method to break through it……

Perhaps going over a mountain?

That Bitch? She will never go through such an undignified method to enter a country?

Smuggling? Or hiding in a cargo hold? Neither options would be acceptable for her.

"Can't you just smoke her out with the slaves crest?" (Naofumi)

"It's not possible. There are some interfere……" (Queen)

Mu……

"Can I kill her?" (Naofumi)

"If possible don't……" (Queen)

"Is it necessary to keep that girl alive and arrest her? Don't tell me it's because to keep what she did hidden."

"More or less. To put it specifically it's a means to avoid a war." (Queen)

"Say what?" (Naofumi)

"It is that child hates from the bottom of her heart. As she escapes without its writhing, and refusing it, and entreating, and being heated, and waving the eyes." (Queen) (TL: Not sure about this line)

"Hō……" (Naofumi)

"It's……" (Queen)

"Oh, I thought of something better." (Naofumi)

I want to be present without knowing such the thing by all means. (TL: Not sure about this line)

It seem I can have more fun mentally than making a Daruma doll. I seem to be able to cure it by recovery magic and a miracle of the alchemy even if I lend money to a Daruma doll I'd still have enough left. (TL: Yeah I really need help with this line)

"Is that so? Then this time, please tell me everything." (TL: Not sure about this line or who said it)

"Oh, it is better that you do not know everything by all means." (TL: Not sure about this line or who said it)

"But as punishment for the previous person will suffer by being branded in iron order to teach you." (TL: Not sure about this line or who said it)

"Sounds good to you?" (TL: Not sure about this line or who said it)

".....how is that good? (TL: Not sure about this line or who said it)

Fohl squirms uncomfortably as he is being branded. Because Raphtalia is not around, there is no helping it.

And soon it would be Raphtalia's turn to be branded too.

I feel like I've become some stand-up comedian. (TL: I think he's making a joke here about plunging/thrusting the branding iron and putting Fohl in an uncomfortable/unpleasant situation)

I mean I do not trust if it's normal sensibility for a Hero to be pleased with holding a branding iron like me.

I do not say that we should trust it, but lets decide to cover up the feeling inside a little bit more.

However, the opponent will be Bitch. It seems okay for me to laugh from the spot where I am standing.

"The woman that you hate, what kind of terrible person is she?" (Fohl)

"Well, to give you an example, she's the type of person who would use your sister's body to commit various crimes and once it becomes inconvenient your sister who's shedding tears will be thrown away with a kick while laughing loudly to oneself." (Naofumi)

The victims are mainly Motoyasu and me.

I'm sure the number of victims will grow until she is caught in the future.

"What did you say ! ? " (Fohl)

Fohl is enraged.

Even if you're that angry you don't have to grab me.

"That is something absolutely unforgivable! I will kill before I allow such a thing to happen!" (Fohl)

"Hey, it's me. I'm not going to." (Naofumi)

Why must you must treat Atlas in such a way.

Even though I'm considering selling you if you are worthless.

"It's the same thing." (Fohl)

Yikes, my mind was read?

Still I do not laugh aloud.

"May I continue speaking?" (Queen)

"Ah." (Naofumi)

"It's about the permission for the L v reset this time." (Queen)

"Did you already hear about it?" (Naofumi)

"It was within the reach of my ear. I have already made preparations for you to visit the Hourglass of the Dragon's Era at any time. Please receive the sand also at the same time." (Queen)

"If the Warp skill can be used, it will be convenient." (Naofumi)

"I am thankful if you can come to the castle anytime by all means. Because I can report it to Iwatani-sama as soon as there is a development." (Queen)

Ah, I must go and meet the Old Man, and I registered the castle for the time being, so there shouldn't be a problem.

"Based on the stories I heard from Motoyasu, 6 people seems to be the limit. You should find out what further conditions in order to catch the other Heroes." (Queen)

"I understand. I think I will attend to your request for their capture as soon as the conditions are met. In place, there is the thing about the Hero of the Spear." (Naofumi)

"That……" (Firo)

Firo leans back with a wince and hides under my robe.

I do not encourage it because it is unpleasant under there.

"I think I am bad. To decide who gets to escape. Do I still catch him?"

(Naofumi) (TL: Not sure about this line)

"Iwatani-sama is obligated to report anything that has to do with the Hero of the Spear, if it's possible to get him to fight in the Wave…… there is no problem as long as I get to hear a report." (Queen) (TL: Not sure about this line)

"What do you mean by that……" (Naofumi) (TL: Not sure about this line)

This person, does not listen to the people's stories at all. (TL: Not sure about this line)

Even if I say something, I think Firo is the only one who will be scared. (TL: Not sure about this line)

There is also the option of letting Firo say something, but it seems it will lead to a funny misunderstanding. (TL: Not sure about this line)

"It should be possible for a slave, but the slave crest does not have an effect on a Hero." (Queen)

"So it seems…… Looks like I'll have to persuade them once I catch them." (Naofumi)

"Thank you. We will also investigate anything that has to do with the Hero of the Sword." (Queen)

Because it has something to do with Bitch, there is an unpleasant feeling that's attached to it.

That woman…… What on earth happened to make her grow up into such a character? Though I didn't want to know about it for some reasons, I wonder how she turned out that way.

“Hey, do you know why Bitch became like that? A genius at lying, spitting harm and manipulating people.” (Naofumi) (TL: Not sure about this line)

“She inherited a few qualities from Trash and me, perhaps the reason is because Trash spoils her while she was growing up.” (Queen)

Is it the fault of Trash?

I mean you should have been aware of her bad personality?

Oh, I'm also aware that I have a bad personality.

“As for that person, the daughter is the apple of her father's eye even though she hurts others, and in the end they both became fools.” (Queen)
(TL: Not sure about this line)

The Queen speaks with distant eyes.

This is not the time for you to start reminiscing.

“Many times have I tried to fix her bad personality. I even let her study abroad in a school in Foburei to learn cultures. But the result is……” (TL: Foburei is the most powerful country. The hero summons was originally supposed to be performed there)

School of the Bitch.

I really don't want to see it in my life. (TL: Not sure about this line)

“By the way, it was the school in Foburei that the child graduated from being a virgin.” (Queen)

“The Bitch's past is not something I give a damn about!” (Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 171 - Portal Shield

---

Naofumi: "I knew that Bitch grew up being spoiled, but what about Melty?"

Queen: "That child was brought up with a dedicated teacher. But I don't want to be associate with that person if possible."

Oh, it's was a comparison to the older sister?

Even if the older sister is compared to last.

Whenever Melty speaking she gets very emotional.

She was also angry the first time we met, and the trouble it caused last time.

Queen: "Oh, It seems Iwatani changed the name of this child somehow, so I changed it's name officially."

Naofumi: "Even though it almost the same, I understand."

Queen: "I had heard the report from a shadow."

Naofumi: "Do you wish to know the origin of the name?"

Queen: "Probably, there is element likely in Iwatani world. Perhaps a evil spirit, demon or witch inspired theme for the name?"

Naofumi: "No, It's correct."

However, when i'm reminded of one's daughter, the only word that comes to mind is Bitch.

Queen: "What shall I do about the tax rate for your territory?, should I entrust it to Melty."

Tax rates...

What nobles originally did nothing by managing their territory by virtue.

But I don't know if it is the same in this world.

Naofumi: "I would like them not to be high, due to my territory still being under reconstruction."

Only in such times, can the power of people be influenced.

There was a bad feeling when tax is required when life doesn't go way we want.

In Japan vicinity where I lived it was always painful.

As high taxes only tend to make matters worse in a recession.

In bad times, taxes should be lowered if you were to consult history.

But it's an effort if income is expectable, as it's the only knowledge that I happen to know.

Naofumi: "In the meantime for reconstruction and life of luxury goods, they are still little high."

Queen: "Iwatani, why don't you show me your abilities?"

Naofumi: "I wanted to inform you but I couldn't."

I'm not that great is what I wanted to say, but it was a reason for doing something with the power of my shield.

If I think clearly, I could eventually produce medicine and herbs from the plants I was growing soon.

The acquisition would be strengthened and my property management is likely to come out right.

Still the medicine sells steadily.

Queen: "Wasn't there a interesting building in the report, about how a plant easily becomes a building?"

I didn't hear a thing from Rat indirectly,
I wanted to be cautious for the country as I am keeping watch over it.

Naofumi: "It was made by combination of me and that alchemist, what caused a problem in Fauvist."

I gave a camping plant seed to the Queen.

Naofumi: "This one is a prototype for now."

Queen: "Will this also be used for trade?"

Naofumi: "It is dangerous if distributed too much because of it variability which is a problem."

There is no problem for now, but who knows what might happen in the future.

Since it could become a danger if strange crossbreeding happen.

Naofumi "I was using it in a demonstration for business control."

By business, I intend to let sales of medicine be shown off by using such a technique on me.

Queen: "How about selling it to the nobles then?, though it's likely to become good value if sold, but it's disposable then if magic can't prevent it from crossbreeding."

Naofumi: "Well that is a option".

It is possible if I do it by plant remodeling, if the fertility is modified to the lowest value.

It would good anywhere at a noble party.

Naofumi: "Although I don't hear complaints, but is it good?"

Queen: "There is currently no complaints for the hero of the shield yet."

Naofumi: "It is uneasy but about what you said, I wonder.... "

The territory management won't be too difficult since Melty will be there, but Melty is a pain being so quick-tempered.

Naofumi: "How is the internal nobel affairs if I think about it? Isn't it that the queen gives me preferential treatment as the hero of the shield."

Queen: "There aren't any problems, even though its rather quiet and uncanny."

Naofumi: "Does there seem to be anything? "

Queen: "I being unable to accomplish a place is regrettable."

Though it is conclusive evidence, but a feeling that there seems to be something?

Although I manage a village in a country where the principle is of humans being superior, it is the queen who holds the hero of the shield worship as a god.

Queen: "The problem the alchemist caused from the report, seems to be familiar to Iwatani place."

Naofumi: "It was Fohl who seemed surprised with what occurred in Fauvist"

Queen: "According to testimony, because one of the seven star heroes of Fauvist had been researching there, It seemed to be banished as I suspect it's a religious problem."

There was that guy with the technology, so you did you expel him?

I don't know what Fauvist Ray studies.

I thought of certain trade war back in Japan when it competed against a certain country for import of cars, which is similar to how I was thrown by power.

Well the new weapon by Fauvist may come out soon, and it's good to take it easy when not dealing with life and the waves.

Queen: "Is the report right about such a place?"

Naofumi: "It sure looks like it, better wait for my next visit."

The queen lowers her head and was about to leave.

Queen: "It seems to be true, also please put any of the ore excavated from the spirit turtle carapace by the castle warehouse."

Naofumi: "Like that, don't forget to pass the material onto my favorite weapon shop."

Queen: "Sure"

I would like to be the father of such forces. As I finished talking with the queen, I had Sadina and Fohl get their level reset using the hourglass of dragon. At that time I had on hand sand of the Carved Dragon hourglass, which I let the shield absorb.

The condition for the Carved dragon sand shield was released.

-----

Carved dragon sand shield 0/60 C

Ability Unsealed

Equipment Bonus: Portal Shield.

Proficiency 0

-----

I checked for any additional skills but there was none, plus it's performance wasn't to high.

Naofumi: "Portal shield!"

A icon appeared in my view, Transfer ←.

I used a transition memory point but the early stage of transfer position was?

Melromarc the place where I was first summoned to this world, there seemed to be no one around as well.

I just transferred for trial which the range I became conscious of, can a ally be teleported by it intentionally?

It quite wide, is there no need involved in it since it would make a good emergency escape skill.

Naofumi: "I can use the transfer skill for an experiment."

All right lets try it out.

Naofumi: "It seems to be comfortable whether it's a fault or not"

Fohl: "Did you just do that?"

Fohl became frightened and was caught by Sadina.

Firo....

"Firo let me try it a little more."

"I was"

Firo moved slowly away from me, it was such a thing that I am conscious of transfer.

The scenery changed and I saw humid alter which smelled of soil.

That reminds me that such a place was here, while there was no one around since no ceremony was being held here.

Naofumi: "Haha...I really transferred".

It figures Sadina was laughing, but she does not need to do all the time.
Fohl eyes were left bulging., Though it was far Firo stood near me.
It is such a convenient skill, but what is the cooldown on it.

Naofumi: "Portal shield!"

A cooldown counter appeared showing a time of one hour.
It was unexpectedly long, if I was fighting short and I could use it.

Naofumi: "By the way, you can return?"

We finished the experiment and returned to the village this way.
The transition point of the portal shield seems to unable to be used in a cave or building.

It is impossible to teleport to places you have no distinct memory of,
besides I can transfer by just saying a word.

A icon would come out by pressing down on it and calling it portal shield.
It's possible to transfer any party member or ally in the surroundings.

Even if an ally is held captive by an enemy, the hostile party can not spurt.
Since neither is a hero, monster or Bitch they can't be taken by force.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 172 – Training

---

Naofumi: "Motoyasu wasn't encountered on our way back, since Firo doesn't want to meet him."

I thought I could persuade Motoyasu if he was encountered, but did he die from the beating he received?

But I cannot imagine that guy lying in the vicinity.

Naofumi: "Even though the level reset was unexpected, was a stretcher not necessary?"

Sadina: "Such frail making was not carried out!"

Fohl: "My body feels pretty heavy since I can't move."

Naofumi: "It was like you."

I tried poking Fohl arm since I was in the mood.... Firo is well.

Fohl: "Tsu ~~~~~!"

I thought it was tight.

Fohl is worthy whether he understands, I am making him try.

Sadina: "Ahaha, I'm ticklish"

Seemingly, it was a profound remark about the calm Sadina.

Is it calm when strengthening the body through training?

The level rise is in a different category compared to body strengthening.

As for any bad conditions does it matter since they received the divine protection of status readily?

I mean these two have been carrying out self-training, well Raphtalia did a similar thing too.

But such a thing is no lose since such training will likely be compensated on level reset.

Although the shield effect may be supplementing it to an extent.

The guy who needed the stretcher was mainly a practitioner in magic, even though he got his level up by strong will he still needed sleep. I seem to take the technique to employ noble candy or adventurer, but only level is raised.

I could anticipate some effect but I am not bad since the slaves in my village are given similar training method.

The problem lies in self-discipline and the hag after having gone to the level limit.

There didn't seem to be level restrictions for a hero, but training is always better to carry out, too?

The limit value in this world which is levels and status, naturally rises if you keep repeat training and magic every day.

It may be possible for myself to train like Fohl and Sadina for a small time to get used to being strong.

I don't know of training methods to calm a wave, since theres no writings of such in this world.

I wondered how levels or status would turn out if I returned to my own world.

Even this shield, since it already acts like a curse item which will not come of my hand.

But I could make it look like a book shield in my world to stop it being noticed.

I would become a laughing stock for being a man who carries around strange book.

The idea was dangerous, since coming back was neither a unreliable account.

I would think if there would even be a shield attached after it was time.

Naofumi: "When we return, raise your levels right away."

Sadina: "Yes"

Fohl: "I understand"

Sadina and Fohl were both told so, while the carriage trip home went smoothly.

A little while later, the village came into view.

Raphtalia: "Welcome back..... Naofumi-san"

Raphtalia seemed slightly tried when meeting us.

Raphtalia: "I seem to be tried."

Naofumi: "Well that old man took the lesson well."

Raphtalia: "Huh..."

Rishia fell down onto the ground, well I did hear a groan from her meaning she's not dead.

Naofumi: "Then rest like this!"

Rishia: "Feeee...."

Raphtalia: "I wanted to go out only a little."

Naofumi: "Where?"

Raphtalia: "The mountains to train."

Naofumi: "I see."

I said so, and Raphtalia was accompanied by the Hag on a trip.

Such a thing would be expected in a manga, in such case I learn martial arts after all, whether or not such training will be necessary.

Was it the place that the Hag asked about, since she advised Raphtalia who raised her levels and self-training meaning the shield got tired?

Atlas: "Welcome home, Naofumi and elder brother."

Fohl: "Why is this guy called first? Atlas"

Atlas: "It can't be helped."

Well there is no help for it?, even though it may because I am their master.

Fohl: "I, already became level 15."

Atlas: "Is that so?"

Fohl: "Ha, that is fast"

Well Rishia was level 20 in half a day, is he not the slow one?

There might be individual width around here, well Risha was a one to rise.

Naofumi: "Well Atlas growth was understood, how about the baby dragon?"

Gaelion: "Kyaaaaa."

Gaelion came speeding over here leaving a cloud of dust behind, and picked up Tainiko.

Judging from his size, it was about the magnitude of a wild boar...

compared to Firo, he is well bigger on second day after birth.

Taniko: "Oh, Gaelion came."

Atlas doesn't turn around, at the dragon who made the cloud of dust.

Is there anything for Taniko not to get on the back of?

Taniko: "Atlas-chan"

I suspected that Taniko found me.

Naofumi: "Why do you dislike me?"

Taniko: "Well hero because"

Naofumi: "....?"

Taniko: "It's nothing"

Taniko regards me with hostility for some reason, although she has devotion for the monsters.

The level raising she showed was not disliked, well she was level 10 when she initially came here even when it's a delicate direction.

The cloud of dust cleared up and the baby dragon is seen, its head was round with parts of a dragon but I feel sorry about.

I feel like it grew the tail of a lizard and wings of a bat, what is this?

Firo also became a similar form like this once, will it not become huge as well?

Gaelion: "Kyuaaa!"

Gaelion who's smile on his face bloated, drops Taniko and leaps towards me.

Do I let you do it?, as I hold the shield and prevent him.

However, it sticks to the shield and climbs over to cling onto my back.

Because it's so big, he is heavy.

Naofumi: "Let go, do not cling to me!"

Gaelion: "Kyuaaa!"

It keeps licking my cheeks easily, since it has become strangely attached to me two days after birth.

It probably thinks of me as its parent.

Naofumi: "Hey, quit doing that."

Gaelion: "Kyuaaa!"

Gaelion keeps licking me in moderation even though it's defiance of my order, as expected it knew I hated it and only clinged instead.

It's charm is unexpectedly, although it's the charm of being a childlike Firo only it did not talk.

Firo: "..peel..."

Firo was frustrated, as she stood in front of me.

Naofumi: "What is it?"

I was licked by Firo which felt wrong.

Naofumi: "What the hell?"

Firo: "That position of master is Firo's!"

Naofumi: "You know, I would not imitate something like that with you."

Firo: "It is Firo who loves master and is idle."

Naofumi: "I don't know."

Firo: "..peel... "

Firo ran off in spite of being angry, which is I say she is dissatisfied.

Well she did become displeased the same way when I had played with the new Firorial chick.

Was it jealousy? since I have heard a habit of dog to dislike other pets be given attention.

Well it's a bit severe to treat Firorial and dog the same, but was it the same thing or is it the personality of Firo?

I should ask Rat about this.

Gaelion: "Kyuaaa?"

Gaelion leaned its head as Taniko patted it, with its eye seemingly mysterious following the back figure of Firo.

Naofumi: "Hey, play with that fellow."

Gaelion: "Kyuaaa"

Gaelion stretches out a hand to me that it still wants to play, but I hand it to Taniko.

If such loveliness is in Firo then the charm of childhood is still there.

Naofumi: "It seems to be rather large?"

Taniko: "Yes!"

Naofumi: "It is not adult yet?"

Taniko: "He is still a baby."

Taniko told me while holding Gaelion, shes seems well informed about it did she hear from Rat?

Taniko: "Were you not getting on its back"

Naofumi: "That hag should be able to train that monster properly."

Taniko: "Huh!"

I trained with Firo by riding on her back around the vicinity, but is training with the dragon different?

Naofumi: "I like Galion very much"

Atlas seemed pleased as she says.

Atlas: "What will elder brother and Sadina do in that place in the future?"

Naofumi: "I'm not sure for the use of it, because just going out with Firo a while ago....."

Well that guy is convenient for movements.

Naofumi: "Is there anything?"

Well since I said Firo name, she came over from somewhere.

Naofumi: "Ah, whether to raise Fohl level, but isn't he tired?"

Atlas: "Is it safe?"

Naofumi: "It is."

Atlas: "Alright, may I also join too?"

Atlas asked Firo, Firo responded with a nod.

Firo: "Don't worry."

Gaelion: "Kyuaaa!"

A small arm was raised as if Gaelion was a candidate.

Firo: "No goodness!"

Firo stuck out her tongue in a provocative manner, refusing to partner up with Gaelion.

Firo: "This is area where suitable monsters live by the carriage."

Sadina: "Well I am not bother because I grew up in the ocean."

