Sadina told us so while holding a harpoon.

Naofumi: "Is it safe for a level 1? I asked if necessary."

Sadina: "It's ok because it's getting accustomed to fights."

Sadina told me, I worry too much and walks to the sea.

Since I am speaking in a way a guardian would sound, I was saved when Sadina takes the trouble to bring the material from sea monsters which wasn't much since I wanted to status up quietly.

Naofumi: "Then the guy who wants to level up quickly..."

Firo had an instinctive dislike of Gaelion, because of me spending time raising him though it's not possible to complain since I am not concerned. Since Firo was counted as massive war potential to me....

Naofumi: "Firo help raise the level of Atlas, Fohl and Gaelion will you."

I call Kiel after pointing at Taniko and direct it to take Catapiland.

I wanted to cheat you to Firorial but was refused, the saying that a dragon and Firorial don't get along is true.

I feel Firorial is lower and weak if it grew up in the wild?

Atlas: "Naofumi, Gaelion-chan is better in such a arrangement."

Naofumi: "Oh is that so?"

Atlas: "Yes, because I am brought up with Gaelion-chan"

Naofumi: "Atlas!"

Is it synchronized, that such leveling up is almost nonexistent at such a time?

The intense training of Firo is serious and preparation is good for Fohl.

Naofumi: "Then Firo."

Firo: "What?"

Naofumi: "Do as much of hardest intense training possible so Fohl can rapidly raise levels."

Firo: "Yes"

Fohl: "You, such thing of all things you make me do!"

Firo picked up Fohl with its beak and place him on her back.

Firo: "Well I go now."

Naofumi: "Ah, go now."

Fohl: "the feathers of this bird don't come off! Atlas! ..Ahaha..Aahaha."

Dothing and ready to go the feathers on Firo are strange, making a strange song which grabs the person on her back.

Soon Fohl voice couldn't be heard.

Firo: "So we will now go."

Atlas: "Do your best."

Firo: "Naofumi doesn't want to go together?"

Naofumi: "I would of liked to go Firo."

Gaelion is pointed at while I explain the reason.

Firo: "It is serious, but I wanted to raise levels with naofumi soon."

Naofumi: "You are right, I should feel like recently because I hardly went monster hunting"

Firo: "It is a promise."

Naofumi: "I understand, since you're a fellow who won't change."

The people who wanted to go leveling up with me by monster hunting were rare in this village.

However, it may be important to coordinate with me since defense is my only option when I think about battling the wave. Well there is no one present with the combat experience of either me, Raphtalia or Firo to some degree.

Well the coordination in the village would be undone if they can't team up with me in a wave.

Fohl: "Come back at night time."

Atlas: "Understood, elder brother."

Thus I see of the group who were going to level up and resume the work in the village.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 173 – A Shield to Protect the Shield

---

A few days past. The days past way too peacefully.

The only problems I have to attend to are the maintenance of the neighboring village and Rat's Bioplant modifications.

And Melty is helping out a lot with the village.

But this seems to be largely due to her subordinates, who are well versed in politics.

There is no tax as of now, but we will have to levy one in the near future.

For now the villagers must focus on restorations.

And, without saying the villagers happily agreed to that matter.

Melty sometimes acts older than her age, but other times acts like a brat.

But after that assassination attempt I guess this village is one of the few places she can be at ease.

The Queen? I don't consider her an enemy, but she's not a person I should trust so easily.

The accessory merchant somehow opened a shop without me even noticing.

Because the shield is supposed to be the guardian of Demi-Humans, the bars are usually filled with Demi-Human adventurers.

We're relying on soldiers for security now, but after reconstruction finishes, I guess I can pass the task on to anyone with free time.

There are still too few slaves to start a village.

Should I go to the Slave Dealer again?

By the way, on the day he got back, Fohl was dragged off by Firo, and forcefully had his level risen to 18.

When he got back, he collapsed. To gain so many levels in an hour may have been too much for his body to handle.

"I'm levelling up quite fast." (Fohl)

"It's probably due to Firo. She can run at an amazing speed taking down all monsters on the way." (Naofumi)

"Y-you're mistaken... The Usapills just gave much more experience than usual." (Fohl)

"Is that so?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, I don't know why, but the numbers were definitely higher than when I had to fight them a long time ago." (Fohl)

Fumu... It's possible that Hero companions get more experience than other adventurers.

Why wasn't I told this earlier?

Would anyone even notice unless they reset their level?

No, the other heroes may have been able to figure it out from other adventurers... but I'm not really in a situation where I can converse with them normally.

The slaves in my possession saw such EXP from the beginning, so they couldn't find anything off.

I'll ask Sadina about it later.

"I'm home~!" (Sadina)

Sadina appears carrying a large quantity of fish.

The villagers surround me in high tensions, as if to demand that I cook for them.

Since things have been going well as of late, I guess I'll do it.

"The Hero of the Shield's power is amazing. I get more EXP and my stats rise higher." (Sadina)

"So that really was the case." (Naofumi)

I guess the EXP bonus is a default setting of being a Hero.

It's not specific to the shield. Otherwise Rishia would have noticed.

And so night fell.

"I'm back!" (Kiel)

"I have returned." (Atlas)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

Kiel's party returns from hunting.

The party consists of Kiel, Atlas, Taniko and Gaelion.

It seems that Kiel is the main fighting force.

When Fohl isn't frantically levelling with Firo, he also joins them.

But with this team, I see the balance of powers shifting away from Kiel soon.

"You took a while today." (Naofumi)

"It took a while to feed Gaelion-chan." (Taniko)

So they fed him before they got back.

Gaelion's neck is growing longer, while the rest of his body remains the same.

His evolution is heading in an ominous direction...

"I made dinner, so eat it and sleep." (Naofumi)

"Niichan's home-made?" (Kiel)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

"Hooray!" (Kiel)

Kiel seems happy.

Again, I question whether my food really is that tasty.

The shield's effects are in place, but I wonder about my actual cooking skill.

It's probably raised as well with all the experience I'm getting.

"The food Naofumi makes is superb." (Atlas)

"... yeah." (Taniko)

Even Taniko nods. The Shield is amazing.

Anyways, I take out food for Kiel's party and return to my house.

Wait. Where is Raphtalia?

... Ah right.

Raphtalia and Rishia are off doing training with the Granny in the mountains.

Firo went off to sleep with Melty.

It's been a while since I've found myself Alone.

I guess I should put more work into making sellable medicine.

I need to teach some Lemos as well.

Kon. Kon. I hear a knock on the door.

Who could it be? It's the middle of the night.

I open the door.

... No one's there.

Was it my imagination?

I close it and return to my work.

... There's another knock.

I once again open it to find the doorway empty.

Is someone trying to play a prank?

And so... Kon. Kon.

"Who is it! Who's trying to incur my wrath!?" (Naofumi)

"Eh? Wrath... is it?" (Atlas)

Atlas stares at me with a blank expression.

"You're not the one trying to annoy me, right?" (Naofumi)

"This is the first time I knocked..." (Atlas)

"What are you doing here at this hour?" (Naofumi)

"That is... um... Can I sleep with you?" (Atlas)

"Don't you share a house with your brother?" (Naofumi)

If I handle this poorly, I think Fohl will get annoying.

I'd like to avoid trouble.

"Onii-sama is currently out cold. So until I fall asleep, can you please keep me company?" (Atlas)

Out cold... was it blunt force trauma?

No, I don't think this pure girl would do such a thing.

I'm fine with talking with her, but sleeping together is a bit...

I find it hard to sleep around Raphtalia. My eyes sometimes fly open in the middle of the night.

Though Raphtalia herself seems to sleep just fine.

It might be due to my own Trauma, but I get a bad feeling whenever I'm sleeping in the same room as a woman.

I want to decline if possible.

"Rejected." (Naofumi)

"Then I shall sleep in front of Naofumi-sama's house." (Atlas)

"Why?" (Naofumi)

What's she up to?

She's acting strange.

"There's no choice. You can sleep in Raphtalia's bed." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Atlas)

Raphtalia is out, so we have an extra bed. I let her inside.

... I'm a little worried about Fohl's situation.

When Atlas falls asleep, I'll go check it out.

I lead Atlas to Raphtalia's bed, and tuck her in.

"Is Naofumi-sama not going to sleep?" (Atlas)

"Yeah, I have to work on making medicine." (Naofumi)

Medicine always sells well. If I leave all the work to the shield, the production speed is too slow.

I'll have to earnestly teach some villagers medicine making soon as well.

This village needs a set, steady source of income in order to expand.

I've begun selling some to the Apothecary in the neighboring village, but my stocks are limited.

Though Rat's bioplants have started being able to produce herbs, producing the medicine itself seems impossible. I could sell the herbs whole, but that severely drops the price. I also don't want to risk anything, so I want the plants to be processed beforehand. I have high poison resistance.

With the shield, I can judge whether or not a plant is poisonous, and I can handle them regardless.

"Naofumi-sama sure is a busy one." (Atlas)

"I'm only doing it for the money." (Naofumi)

"But... Because of your hard work I can now walk." (Atlas)

"..." (Naofumi)

I was only calculating loss and gain. Don't mistake it for good will.

But Atlas seems to have found confirmation of her statement in my silence.

Keeping up with this girl is... difficult.

Like Raphtalia, she isn't pushing any ideals onto me, but is treating all of my actions as positive.

If I told her to do something now, I'm pretty sure she would do it without question. How scary.

(TL: Naofumi is making sexual reference here. The actual text is not appearing to protect the innocent)

Though she's just a kid.

This is bad... Isn't it dangerous to be alone at night with that sort of person?

A shiver goes down my spine.

"Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"W-what is it?" (Naofumi)

"Raphtalia told me that because you couldn't fight, she became your sword."
(Atlas)

"Pretty much." (Naofumi)

The only thing I can do is protect.

This is the Shield's ability. One that hasn't changed since I got to this world.

The only exception is Counter effects, and the Wrath Shield.

The Frisbee shield was a shield that let me throw Frisbee-like projectiles.

Now I can finally attack! I got really excited, and tried to throw one at a monster but as expected it fell onto the ground upon impact without dealing damage.

Now it's completely become a toy to play with Firo and the other monsters. After it's been caught it disappears and returns to my hand.

"Raphtalia is working hard for my sake. I depend on her a lot." (Naofumi)

To fight the Wave. To save the world. Raphtalia really is working hard.

When I look at her, I feel motivated as well.

Raphtalia is the person I trust the most in this world.

(TL: Taken out of context, this sounds...)

Everyone else seems to have hidden intentions.

(TL: No, dat girl has plenty of hidden intentions)

"Because I am the Hero of the Shield, The only thing this world lets me do is defend." (Naofumi)

"... I know. When I look at this village, I see that everyone is being protected under Naofumi-sama's wings." (Atlas)

"Wings..." (Naofumi)

So I'm like a mother bird, protecting the chicks under its wings.

And that would make this my nest.

"If all you do is protecting, everyone will someday leave your nest." (Atlas)

"Anyone that wants to leave can leave, and I will still protect this village."

(Naofumi)

This is Raphtalia's homeland.

As long as I restore this land, she will be able to live on when I'm gone.

Even if I return to my world, she has people like Sadina and Kiel.

Firo has Melty, and Atlas has Fohl. This village won't fall so easily. And the inhabitants here should be able to take care of whoever tries to attack, be it a country or an army.

"But then... Who will protect Naofumi-sama?" (Atlas)

"Wha?" (Naofumi)

What are you saying? Why must I be protected?

Why would she direct that at me?

What point is there in protecting the Shield Hero?

"After coming to this village, I have heard all about Naofumi-sama's exploits. You... did amazing work. No matter what adversity you faced, you overcame it and persevered." (Atlas)

"Y-yeah... I see. I did receive a promotion too." (Naofumi)

"However, who is going to protect you, Naofumi-sama?" (Atlas)

"... It's not like I'm not protected." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia, Firo, Melty and even the Queen. If I ever get in trouble, I think that they would try to save me.

"This is what I think. If Raphtalia is Naofumi-sama's sword, then perhaps I could become Naofumi-sama's shield." (Atlas)

"Shield... That's not as easy as it sounds, you know." (Naofumi)

It doesn't feel good to become someone else's shield.

And I see no need for protection.

I've gone through painful experiences, but if I mulled over them I would never be able to achieve victory, and I would just sink further into depression.

Becoming my Shield is quite a goal.

It's probably because from the moment she was born, she had to be protected by others.

She wants to be the one to protect someone.

If my right arm is Raphtalia, then she wants to become the left.

However... I get an uneasy feeling when she says this.

"That sort of thing is something you should say after you get strong."
(Naofumi)

"Yes. I swear it to you that I will get strong." (Atlas)

"Good luck." (Naofumi)

Atlas's breathing calms down. She starts to fall asleep.

She sure has developed a strange goal...

If Fohl heard about it, he would probably get quite angry.

I carry Atlas and head over to her and Fohl's house.

... He's really sleeping.

"...Oy." (Naofumi)

"ZZZ..." (Fohl)

"ZZZ? This isn't a manga! Get up!" (Naofumi)

"Wha!?" (Fohl)

After putting Atlas in her bed, I wake Fohl up and take him outside to talk.

"Look after your sister properly. She came and said she wanted to sleep with me." (Naofumi)

"W-what!? Then... Atlas has already been..." (Fohl)

He glares at me as if I had insulted his ancestors. His slave crest begins to glow.

"Who would do anything to that brat?" (Naofumi)

"Are you saying my Atlas has no charm as a woman!?" (Fohl)

"For the love of... This is a pain! I really just have no interest in that!"
(Naofumi)

"Liar!" (Fohl)

These siblings really are troublesome.

Though I say that...

To want to become my shield... what a strange child.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 174 – Melty's Job

---

The next morning.

“Come to think of it, the messenger knight isn’t here.” (naofumi)

I didn’t see the female messenger knight. Where did she go?

Raphtalia, Rishia and some of the slaves were taken to a training camp by the Granny.

Gaelion was playing with Atla and Taniko…….. [T/N: Which is better Gaelion or Gaelion?]

*Growl*……..

Gaelion complained of hunger.

His consumption of the Bioplant’s fruit was so fast, its production couldn’t keep up.

“Then you guys go hunting again today.” (naofumi)

“Oka~y.” (taniko)

“Kyua!” (Gaelion)

“We’ll be going.” (atla)

“Atla! I’m going too.” (fohl)

Fohl joined the Party again today.

Well, isn’t it fine.

“I won’t let any enemies come near Atla!” (fohl)

“It’s alright, Brother. And besides, Gaelion-chan will protect me.” (atla)

“Alright shmalright! As if I’m gonna entrust Atla to this monster.” (fohl)

"Kyua!" (Gaelion)

"You're not a monster, Gaelion!" (taniko)

And so they left, with such a hubbub.

I'm glad that they seem to be having fun.

"Well I guess I'll also go hunting in the ocean~ I wanted to raise my level anyway." (sadina)

Sadina said that naturally, and headed to the ocean.

Now then, I should also go do some land management.

The villagers had my instructions, and it became relatively deserted in the daytime.

And when the peddling group leaves, the personnel will decrease.

I taught a simple medicine recipe to the Lemo slaves, the other dexterous slaves and also those with an interest in making medicine.

Just after noon, I announced that the food made by the slaves learning to cook was ready, and we had lunch.

Somehow it was a peaceful day.

I felt uneasy about what Rato could be doing, but she should've been looking after the monsters in the monster hut.

"Count." (rato)

Rato made an appearance as we were eating lunch.

"The Count is also letting the monsters Class Up, right." (rato)

"Yeah." (naofumi)

"I'll pick out some of the monsters to Class Up soon, so would you be able to take care of it?" (rato)

"Got it." (naofumi)

That reminds me, monsters can Class Up as well.

"The Caterpilland?" (naofumi)

"That's just it. If I research on the Caterpilland, it won't get much stronger even with a Class Up. It grew up but it's abilities aren't that high, despite this being the Count's place." (rato)

Hm…….

Speaking of which, she said that before when wondering whether to modify it.

Including that aspect, it's a rather weak species.

"Nevertheless, isn't it better than to not do it?" (naofumi)

"That's true." (rato)

After we finished talking about the monsters' Class Up and so forth, I made an appearance in the town.

The shops' products have improved, it seemed to have expanded favourably. The problem would be the formation of factions, but the Accessory Merchant seemed to have them all under his thumb and there weren't any big movements.

I made an appearance at Melty's estate.

…Melty was there struggling with a stack of official documents just like the Queen had been.

No way……she dealt with them promptly, just like her mother.

That Melty did.

That Melty did. [T/N: Repeated for emphasis. Not a typo.]

“Firo-chan Charm.” (melty)

“Yeah.” (firo)

She struck a pose at Firo to relieve some of the stress from her work.

At first glance, she looked like an idiot.

“You guys…….” (naofumi)

Every one of them were idiots.

But I won’t say that.

Yeah. I’ve heard before that intelligent kids have some sort of strange habit.

I’m sure this is something like that.

Look, Melty’s a bird enthusiast, so she probably has that kind of fetish too.

“Huh? Well isn’t it Naofumi. What do you want?” (melty)

“I came to see how the state of affairs are.” (naofumi)

“We’re doing well.” (melty)

Melty took a break and rode on Firo’s back while massaging her shoulders.

Why did she ride her.

Was she pretending to ride on a horse or something?

I really don’t understand the relationship between these two.

“The people in the castle are working hard and the people in the Commerce Guilds are also putting in effort for Naofumi’s sake. I guess the problem is the matter of the Demi-human adventurers not understanding the whole situation.” (melty)

“I see, sorry about all this. By the way, the knight who usually passes on messages hasn’t been seen……and I also don’t know the whereabouts of a number of the soldiers.” (naofumi)

“Huh? You didn’t hear? We received a leave of absence saying that she and a number of soldiers were accompanying the Battle Instructor and were secluding themselves in the mountain.” (melty)

I almost fell over.

What was that.

She did say she wanted to be taught, but she was going so far as to take a vacation for it!?

How motivated was she.

“Well, Naofumi’s obtained the warping skill so moving has gotten easier, right? We only need to receive messages from the castle now so the priority dropped.” (melty)

“So it’s that kind of thing……I’ve never tried using her to send instructions to the castle though.” (naofumi)

“It’s just that Naofumi didn’t use her. We relied on her when Shadow had other official instructions. Really……” (melty)

The documents in the seat Melty was sitting at……. there was some sort of cross written on it.

Should I write on it as a prank? I drew the design of a paper aeroplane.

“Which reminds me, was it a rule of the town? I’m sure it was written down somewhere.” (naofumi)

“Yes, this region is under the protection of the Hero of the Shield but nevertheless, the Demi-humans have been trying to discriminate against the humans.” (melty)

“That’s troubling.” (naofumi)

Discrimination is forbidden, the Hero of the Shield treats Demi-humans and humans alike; I had rules written down for everything.

It’s not like I didn’t understand.

But there were fools who felt like they could do whatever they liked here, just because I was the God of Demi-humans.

Of course, I won’t tolerate that sort of thing.

I won’t forgive anyone discriminating without a proper reason.

Just for the record, if they do have a reason, I may forgive them to a certain extent.

Otherwise I wouldn’t be able to discriminate against the other heroes, right?

“Ah, so lucky. Naofumi’s slaves are patrolling around so we’re managing without problems but when the town grows further, there might be some commotions we can’t ignore.” (melty)

“……..It should be similar to what happens in the castle town.” (naofumi)

“That’s true. We have to be tolerant to a certain extent, but I wonder if the people from Silt Welt and Shield Frieden know that.” (melty)

Melty took a deep sigh.

That this child has to be burdened with middle management, being a queen is hard work.

"I'll be honest. We kept it from Naofumi, but there are many abandoned Demi-human children, it's troubling." (melty)

"...huh?" (naofumi)

"Naofumi only made the Demi-humans he chose into his slaves, right? However, there's no end to the people abandoning their children near this town and village, wanting them to become Naofumi's subordinates without knowing that." (melty)

"What are you doing about it?" (naofumi)

"For now, we're deporting them back to what we think is their own country, judging by their language and species. It's not like we can't discern their species and we're also receiving the deportation costs from the other party. But we don't know how serious they are." (melty)

"So the Demi-human countries have really become active." (naofumi)

"Now, can you warn them in some public place? Its troubling." (melty)

"Is that so...I understand." (naofumi)

Not directly interfering with me was something they said when they were peeved.

I wonder if there's any way to handle this problem.

Of course, it's not that I can't pick up the abandoned children and turn them into slaves.

But if I do, it's likely there will be more children being abandoned.

I understand that, so I can't do it.

"It's true that we profit from the money left by the Demi-human adventurers, but regulating them is hard...and besides, humans come too."
(melty)

One way or another, there's an emphasis on Demi-humans.

Come to think of it, if you look at the streets, there are many Demi-humans.

"If Firo-chan wasn't here for the disturbance before, it would have been dangerous." (melty)

"I see, I've been helped in many ways." (naofumi)

"If you think that, won't you warn them? At least by the end of today."
(melty)

"I understand." (naofumi)

I brought Melty with me and headed to the town square.

I stood on the platform established in the square and vocalised loudly.

"Er...everyone who put in effort for the sake of the town's development, and all the adventurers who are utilising the town, I have some things I want you all to hear." (naofumi)

After I checked that everyone had gathered, I started talking.

I didn't have a memo but it was a simple task to say all the lines I had memorised earlier.

"Lately, some people have the misconception that we are a privileged class and have been causing some disturbances. That's why I'm giving this warning. In this town there are no social statuses between races."
(naofumi)

A third of the demi-humans started to make noise.

"I'm not really saying to forget the past and make friends. However, whether it's this town or the village, our purpose is the reconstruction. My goal is not to create a town in Melromarc that will provide Demi-humans with hospitality, but I want no more than to have a government like what the previous head who lived here created. Please don't forget this."

(naofumi)

As far as it goes, I heard that what the previous head wanted to do was to spread the awareness that Demi-humans and humans were equal living beings, in both hospitality and discrimination.

I also joined that cause.

"In the same way, my raising of slaves is a not a charitable enterprise, but for the sake of increasing the war potential during the waves. Please bear in mind that I don't have the intention of raising any abandoned children."

(naofumi)

This was a problem I had to bring up in public.

It's not something that can be forgotten.

Jeez…… did they really think they could ask anything of God.

Whether it was Silt Welt or Shield Frieden.

They're nations which I may visit eventually, but I hope that they're the kind of nation that doesn't like to be influenced if possible.

That is, when these problems occur.

I finished the announcement with no problems, and returned to the village. After that was the trivial addition of Melty coming to blame me for a delay in her work, which was actually by caused her playing around with a paper aeroplane. She had Firo teach her how to make one and had used the paper on her desk – the document with a cross that I had drawn on as a prank. [T/N: This sentence was combined with the one before it as a massively long sentence in the raws and I had so much trouble figuring out how to word it/split it up.]

Come to think of it, I've made paper aeroplanes with the children before. Although they didn't fly very well because we used the leaves of the Biopiant instead of paper.

I was told that that paper had the plans for the town written on it.

Indeed, you're still a child..

When I said that, Melty's face turned red, she became hysterical and left, together with Firo.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 175 - Ding-Dong-Dash

---

『Damn... This body's will is stronger than I thought. But given time...』

I think I've heard this voice before.

The voice seems to be in pain.

『Kukuku, luckily there are two parts of me close by. If only I could obtain one...』

This seems to be quite a Chuu2 situation.

Mostly the atmosphere.

『What is this feeling? ... Is this Windea's presence? She survived! But...』

It's been six days since Raphtalia left for the mountains.

That morning.

“*Sigh*...” (Naofumi)

It happened again.

Atlas has recently been sneaking into my bed.

Firo also occasionally sleeps here, so I just assumed it was her and went back to sleep.

Whenever this happens, I go and get Fohl, but his situation is also gradually changing.

On morning of the second day.

Fohl was deceived.

In her bed, Atlas had left a dummy.

The next day he was suddenly overcome with sleepiness.

I believe that Atlas put something into his meal.

The dealer of this drug was Gaelion.

Recently he has learned how to use Sleep Breath.

And then the next day... He was physically put to sleep.

He's already losing to the girl.

I wonder what will happen today.

"Naofumi-sama! I have returned!" (Raphtalia)

With a bang the door opens and Raphtalia enters.

She looked like she was looking forward to meeting me, but as soon as she steps in her face changes.

"Recently she's been sneaking in here. Is there anything you can do about it?" (Naofumi)

"Um... To clarify, nothing has happened yet, right?" (Raphtalia)

"What was supposed to happen?" (Naofumi)

I truly am troubled by her sneaking into my bed.

Both Firo and Atlas don't listen when I tell them to stop.

Perhaps the indecency of the situation is angering the pure Raphtalia.

Does she think I'm the sort of man who would do such a thing?

"*Sigh*... That's right. Naofumi-sama is just that sort of person."

(Raphtalia)

"Please go get Fohl. I'm more worried about him right now." (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Raphtalia)

Today he was imprisoned by being wrapped in a mattress. (TL: Think Erio from Denpa Onna)

Unable to move, he was left lying face down in his house the entire time.

"Naofumi-sama? Why don't you just deny her?" (Raphtalia)

"I definitely drove her out yesterday. And so she slept outside. The day before, I used the slave seal, but she ignored the punishment and came in anyways." (Naofumi)

"Is she some sort of Demon!?" (Raphtalia)

When I tried to drive her out, she slept outside. And her previous illness gave even more pain than the Slave Seal, so she was already used to it. She was able to sleep through the punishment.

Fohl is quite angry.

What exactly do you expect me to do?

Fohl himself was forcibly put to sleep twice already.

"That's right. Naofumi-sama is just that sort of person." (Raphtalia)

"Why did you repeat it? What are you trying to say?" (Naofumi)

"... What's wrong Naofumi-sama?" (Atlas)

Atlas slowly gets up and innocently asks this.

We're worrying over you, you know.

"... You don't get it?" (Raphtalia)

"I'm just sharing my sleeping spot with him. Is it that bad of a thing?"
(Atlas)

"To be honest, it's troubling me. Isn't the seal giving you pain as well?"
(Naofumi)

"The warmth my heart receives outweighs the pain. Why can I not sleep with you?" (Atlas)

"Your brother will get noisy." (Naofumi)

"Atlas! Why do you have to go to someone like that's house!?" (Fohl)

"See what I said." (Naofumi)

"Don't mind my brother. I only yearn for Naofumi-sama's attention." (Atlas)

"What are you saying!?" (Fohl)

Atlas has raised quite a commotion...

What could have possibly done this to her? There's one possibility.

"Raphtalia, and also Fohl." (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Raphtalia)

"What!" (Fohl)

"This might be a side effect of the Yggdrasil medicine." (Naofumi)

"Ha?" (Both)

Right. If that's the case then everything makes sense.

Many excellent medicines have troublesome side-effects. Perhaps it increases the psychological dependence of the person taking it.

That's the only possibility I can think of.

"Look at the Military Instructor. She's affectionately calling me Saint-sama. The Yggdrasil medicine might have a love potion like effect." (Naofumi)

So the high class medicine has a single defect. Yeah.

And the effect of the medicine on Atlas was greater than it was on the Granny.

But I can't increase the slave seal effects on her. She may die.

"Anyways, until the effects dissipate, we must be vigilant." (Naofumi)

"T-that's right!" (Raphtalia)

"Hah!?" (Fohl)

Raphtalia agrees with my hypothesis, but Fohl seems surprised.

"Are you unsatisfied with something?" (Naofumi)

"N-no! That must be it! It has to be a side-effect! It was a medicine strong enough to give Atlas a full recovery. It must have a strong side-effect!"

(Fohl)

"You're wrong, Naofumi-sama! I yearn for Naofumi-sama from the bottom of my hea-" (Atlas)

"Now then, Atlas let's level up a lot today!" (Fohl)

"Ah, Naofumi-samaaaaaaaaaa!" (Atlas)

Fohl grabs Atlas and leaves the premises.

This is the opposite pattern from before.

It's a bit refreshing.

Despite how they act, they're still siblings.

"Now then, Raphtalia. Did you finish your mountain training?" (Naofumi)

"No... We decided to switch locations, so I stopped by..." (Raphtalia)

"Saint-sama, has my disciple Raphtalia stopped by here?" (Granny)

I hear the Old Woman's voice from outside.

Disciple...

"I see..." (Naofumi)

"It seems... I must return to the mountains now." (Raphtalia)

Hengen Musou, was it?

It seems the training is tough.

Perhaps I will have to undertake it later.

Well I probably have to.

If I take on an attack that ignores defense, I'll probably die.

Yes. I'll find some free time and train on my own.

"... Boy, do you wish for greater power?" (Granny?)

Outside, I see the Old Woman trying to recruit Fohl.

... Female Knight is staring at him with jealous eyes from afar.

She took a vacation to go with the old woman, but she has yet to be taught?

"I-I have a duty to look after my little sister!" (Fohl)

"I won't accept it if you escape with such a lukewarm reason. For the Saint-sama, you must attain even greater strength!" (Granny)

"A-Atlas! I-I am! I aaaaammmmm!" (Fohl)

Was Fohl's fate decided from the beginning?

... This is no good.

If Fohl isn't here, how am I supposed to prevent Atlas from coming to my bed.

Hm? Atlas is waving her hands at me.

"Now there's nothing stopping me from sleeping with you." (Naofumi's mind)

Is what she must be thinking.

I must take drastic measures.

“For now, let me take some measures. Naofumi-sama doesn’t have to worry!” (Raphtalia)

“Ah, understood. I’ll rely on you.” (Naofumi)

“Yes. I definitely won’t let Naofumi-sama make any mistakes.” (Raphtalia)

If I leave it to Raphtalia it should be okay.

And what do you mean by make any mistakes?

And after breakfast, Raphtalia and the others once again set off.

And they took Fohl with them.

Kon, Kon.

Again. Recently I’ve been having my house Ding-Dong-Dashed quite a bit. They’re probably delighted over seeing me come out and find no one there. That’s why, after the slaves gathered at breakfast, I accessed the slave seal options and checked a box.

“Recently, someone has been doing pranks on my house. Does anyone have anything to say about this?” (Naofumi)

… Nobody stepped forward.

And none of their slave seals activated.

So it wasn’t a slave?

Then…

I stared at the soldiers, and other shopkeepers who have come to the village.

They all shook their heads.

… Who could it be?

I confirm it.

I open the door, and of course no one is there.

This happens on an average of three times a day.

I could get someone to watch the door, but then they probably won't pull any pranks.

But I can't really leave this matter alone.

Kon, Kon.

By the way, yesterday I waited in front of the door and opened it the second it was knocked.

It was Kiel.

And like Atlas, she claimed it was the first time that she knocked.

She asked what the orders were for today, and she was with a large group of slaves so she probably wasn't the culprit.

And today, Kiel and the others have left to go peddling.

The only slaves in the village at the moment are those that are good with their hands, and I have already told them not to come to my house this morning.

So this time it must be the culprit.

I won't let them away today.

「Shield Prison!」 (Naofumi)

I capture whoever's on the other side of the door.

I open the door.

The Shield Prison is shaking, it looks like I caught something.

"What's wrong, Count?" (Rat)

"Rat, what are you doing here at this time?" (Naofumi)

"I took a walk for a change of pace. More importantly, what are you trying to do?" (Rat)

"Recently someone's been knocking my door and running. I told you at breakfast, right?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, right. So that's the culprit?" (Rat)

"Most likely." (Naofumi)

"I wonder what sort of person it is." (Rat)

Shield Prison's effects wear off, and disappear.

"KYUAAAAAAA!?" (Gaelion)

...

Me and Rat stare at him with the same fed up expression.

Yeah, if it wasn't a slave, I should have suspected the monsters. But I didn't think there was a monster who would actually attempt to Ding-Dong-Dash.

Gaelion tries to escape by flying into the sky.

I open the monster seal and activate a punishment.

"KYUAAAA!?" (Gaelion)

Gaelion falls to the ground and begins thrashing about.

Including his tail, the dragon's full height is now two meters.

He definitely looks like a dragon.

But his tail is too thick.

His eyes are big, and he gives off the impression of an innocent child. He's also a bit fat.

His current level is 35.

His growth has begun to slow down. He didn't grow as big as I thought he would.

Taniko hears Gaelion cry out, and comes running.

"Gaelion, what's wrong!?" (Taniko)

"He's the culprit. I caught him red-handed." (Naofumi)

"Eh?" (Taniko)

Taniko seems to be deliberating whether or not to defend Gaelion. She looks at me.

"Don't defend him. If someone does something wrong, they will be punished." (Naofumi)

"Understood... bad Gaelion. You can't pull pranks. Bad!" (Taniko)

"Kyuaa..." (Gaelion)

"What's happening, Master?" (Firo)

Firo hears the commotion and comes over.

Wasn't she playing with Melty?

"Ah, you made him mad!" (Firo)

Firo taunts Gaelion and tries to rile him up.

"Gaelion made Master mad. That's why master belongs on only Firo's back."
(Firo)

"KYAUUUUUUUUUUU!" (Gaelion) (TL: His cry actually changes)

Gaelion begins to get angry.

I turn on Firo's punishment as well.

"AKYAAAAAA! W-why?" (Firo)

"Don't laugh at someone else's mistakes." (Naofumi)

"B-but Master laughs at others..." (Firo)

...Now that you mention it, she's right.

I deactivate the monster seal.

I understand Raphtalia's feelings now.

Though I don't plan on reforming myself.

"Why are you admitting defeat here!?" (Rat)

"I laugh at others mistakes, so I don't have a right to caution others on it."
(Naofumi)

"You know..." (Rat)

Rat puts her hand on her head. She seems amazed.

I laugh at Witch and Trash's failures. I laugh at the other heroes situations.

I can't be persuading others not to do as such.

Though I don't plan on reforming myself.

"Just because you think he's your rival, you can't go around saying things like that." (Rat)

"Bu..." (Firo)

"If you get me angry, you know what happens, right?" (Rat)

"No!" (Firo)

What's with this farce? Though this may be good therapy for Firo.

"Why would you do such a prank?" (Taniko)

Taniko pats Gaelion's face.

Gaelion calls out softly.

"It's because he wanted to play with you, he says." (Taniko)

"Ha?" (Naofumi)

"You never play with him. You only play with that bird." (Taniko)

"Mu···!" (Firo)

Firo and Taniko glare at each other.

When Gaelion is concerned, it seems Firo gets serious.

It's not like I particularly play with Firo, anyways.

"Wait, wait··· so if I don't play with him, he'll keep doing this?" (Naofumi)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

He nods.

I can't be bothered to look after him.

I look at Rat.

"Skinship is important. For both of them." (Rat)

Is that so? Well that seems like a pain.

"Then, Firo and Gaelion. I'll play with you guys every day on rotation. However if you bother the other person, your turn will be skipped."

(Naofumi)

"Mu···!" (Firo)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

They glare at each other and make sounds of complaint.

"Then I won't play with either of you." (Naofumi)

"I-I got it." (Firo)

"KYUA KYUA." (Gaelion)

Both sides give in and nod.

"Then today, we'll start with Gaelion." (Naofumi)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

"Eh···!" (Firo)

"Half the day has already passed. Tomorrow, you will get a longer turn, so endure it. Aren't you supposed to be the older one here?" (Naofumi)

"Mu··· I got it. Then." (Firo)

Reluctantly, Firo invites Taniko to go level.

Atlas also goes with them.

"Oh right, Count. I thought I should teach you how to make use of a dragon." (Rat)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"Dragon body fluids are high class medicinal ingredients." (Rat)

"I see···" (Naofumi)

"His saliva and breath might make for good materials." (Rat)

Oh right, Atlas was able to make a sleeping drug with Gaelion's breath.
In order to put her brother to sleep.
I wonder how he fell for that so easily.

"Similarly, some parts of Filo Rials can be turned into medicine, but... That child is extraordinary. I recommend getting closer to her and exploiting that later."(Rat)

"Oy, do you really love monsters?" (Naofumi)

Firo's saliva?

Motoyasu is the only one who would want something like that.
Maybe I'll consider it.

"Now then, Gaelion. What should we play?" (Naofumi)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

His tail wags like a dogs. He seems happy.

I guess I'll play with the Frisbee Shield.

I change my shield into a Frisbee and throw it.

Gaelion majestically chases it while flapping his wings.

The disc flies quite far.

He catches the thrown Frisbee, it disappears and returns to my hand.

Gaelion seems overjoyed. He flies straight at me and begins licking my face.
It's nice how pure he is. Unlike that talking bird.

And after playing with Gaelion for a while, I went back to my work.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 176 – Loser

---

“And so Raphtalia’s proposed Atlas countermeasure is you?” (Naofumi)

“Yes, I am also quite troubled.” (Sadina)

Sadina answers while pouring herself a glass of sake in my room.

Why was she even chosen?

“Well, just leave it to this Onee-san.” (Sadina)

“That’s just making me more anxious.” (Naofumi)

Sadina had a fast growth rate, and she is already level 35.

She hunts alone.

I wonder how strong the sea monsters she fights are.

Should I send the other slaves ocean monster hunting? I could build boats, and...

“And, what exactly should I do? Should I act like I’m having a good time with Naofumi-chan in front of Atlas-chan?” (Sadina)

“That sounds idiotic. What do you mean by, ‘a good time’.” (Naofumi)

She’s avoiding directly saying anything indecent, but Sadina is slowly taking off her loincloth.

Who wants to have a good time with you!? Please limit your jokes.

Raphtalia, your choice of personnel is wrong.

“If it’s with Naofumi-chan, I think I can have a good time.” (Sadina)

“Listen to people when they’re talking to you.” (Naofumi)

“Hm? What sort of good time did you have in mind? I wanted to invite you to drink sake with me.” (Sadina)

“*Sigh*...” (Naofumi)

My head hurts. And I haven’t even drunken anything.

So she was adjusting the cloth as not to spill anything on it.

I’m supposed to be past an age where I get flustered by something like that.

“Anyways, stop calling me Naofumi-chan.” (Naofumi)

“Isn’t it fine?” (Sadina)

“No, it’s not. That’s why I’m telling you.” (Naofumi)

Why am I spending my night under the same roof as this one? Dealing with people like this tires me out.

This is all Atlas’s fault.

“Don’t be so stiff. Gaelion-chan is also helping keep watch.” (Sadina)

“KYUA!” (Gaelion)

Just in case, we also have Gaelion standing on watch.

He’s too big to fit through the door.

But we somehow managed to squeeze him in.

Gaelion has curled up in a corner of the room.

He occasionally wanders around looking at the objects in my room with curiosity.

“Sleeping with Gaelion-chan feels quite high-class.” (Sadina)

“That’s all you’re thinking of?” (Naofumi)

This person... I’m not going to become her toy.

“Do you have any intention of answering Atlas-chan’s feeling?” (Sadina)

“Feelings? That person is a child. Raphtalia is the same. My relationship with them is like father and child.” (Naofumi)

They didn’t have anyone to look out for them, and suddenly I took up that role for them.

Even if they may mistake that emotion for love, it’s more like the love they will have for their family.

And as an elder, I cannot approach them based on those vague emotions. That’s something that comes after they mature mentally.

And even if they mature, we are in a situation where anyone could die in battle at any moment.

I only bought Raphtalia because she was the same Gender as Witch. I don’t have the right to be like that with her.

The same goes for Atlas.

“I’m a coward, you know. I’m building a place that may take them to their deaths here.” (Naofumi)

“And that’s Naofumi-chan’s reason?” (Sadina)

Sadina stares at me with serious eyes.

“Naofumi-chan sure does treasure everyone.” (Sadina)

“Did you hear what I just said? I’m nothing but a coward.” (Naofumi)

“I’ll leave it at that. But if you get really close to Raphtalia-chan, you better be prepared for stuff like that.” (Sadina)

“What are you even talking about?” (Naofumi)

I think the Sake is getting to her.

After talking for a while, she lies on the bed, and turns her back to the door.

“Um.” (Atlas)

What the hell are you doing? Before I can say that, Atlas quickly opens the door and enters the room.

“Oh my, Naofumi-chan is quite bold~.” (Sadina)

“Who is being b-!?” (Naofumi)

She lifts up the covers and pulls me in, interrupting my sentence.

What is this? W-wait!

“Ara, Atlas-chan? Naofumi-chan is currently doing something fun with this Onee-chan, so please come back later.” (Sadina)

Don’t screw with me.

I don’t want to get into a situation that could cause such misunderstandings.

Her large body is trying to crush me.

But, don’t forget that I am the Hero of the Shield.

Something of this weight feels like nothing.

“KYUA!” (Gaelion)

For some reason, even Gaelion climbs into the bed.

“I really don’t get that feeling…” (Atlas)

“Ara? You saw through it. Oh well. ‘Twas a Failure.” (Sadina)

“What do you mean failure!?” (Naofumi)

Was this Sadina's supposed Atlas Countermeasure?

She can't see, so if she doesn't feel that sort of presence, Atlas won't be fooled.

And even if it succeeded, my standings in the village would be crushed.

Everyone would look at me like a pervert.

What sort of situation would have me in this position with Sadina.

"Quit it!" (Naofumi)

"Then onto stage 2. Gaelion-chan." (Sadina)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

"Go try to have a fun time with Atlas." (Sadina)

"That's definitely impossible. Give it up." (Naofumi)

Stage 2...!?

Are these people even serious?

"Naofumi-sama and Sadina-san sure get along well." (Atlas)

Atlas ignores us and enters the house.

Don't enter my house without permission!

"Now then, Atlas-chan. You understand why I'm here, right?" (Sadina)

"...Yes." (Atlas)

"You're quick minded. Atlas-chan is quite a good girl, but please leave these sorts of things for when you become an adult." (Sadina)

"I can't." (Atlas)

"T-this Onee-san doesn't like kids who don't listen." (Sadina)

"I yearn for Naofumi-sama. I just want to get a little closer to him." (Atlas)

"Arara... This is quite serious." (Sadina)

Sadina seems to have given up.

So Raphtalia's countermeasures only go this far.

"Naofumi-chan, won't you have a fun time with Atlas-chan?" (Sadina)

"Hell no!" (Naofumi)

"Then there's no helping it." (Sadina)

Sadina puts her hand on Atlas's shoulder.

"Atlas-chan, Naofumi-chan is a wimp, so he can't bring himself to devour women." (Sadina)

"Wimp? Oy!" (Naofumi)

Somehow the situation has headed in this direction!

"It's alright. Naofumi-sama is someone who does things when the time is right." (Atlas)

Atlas seems to have developed a strange trust in me!

This is a pain! I want to run away.

Does this girl even know what she's saying?

"Your resolve is unwavering. Atlas-chan, me and Naofumi-chan are concerned about your age." (Sadina)

"My... age?" (Atlas)

"Yeah, Atlas-chan is still a child. You've just gotten over your illness, so please grow up healthily. And if you still love Naofumi-chan at that point... Naofumi-chan will consider it as well." (Sadina)

"I see..." (Atlas)

Atlas seems troubled. She tilts her head as she answers.

Nice follow-up.

Because she's a child, tell her 'After you grow up, we'll get married.'

Since I was raised in Otaku culture, I know the phrase works.

It will bring some problems down the road, but I don't plan to stay in this world for too long. So I don't have to deal with it.

Yeah, let's go with this.

...Wait. Isn't this the train of thought of a wimp?

Let's not think too hard about it.

"It's still too early for you." (Sadina)

"But I heard that he sleeps with Raphtalia-chan." (Atlas)

"Not that 'sleep with'. We just sleep in the same house. The only one who sometimes climbs into my bed is Firo." (Naofumi)

"Then, without any deeper meaning, please let me sleep in the same bed as you." (Atlas)

It was no good. Words aren't getting through.

No it seems that they are, but her will is unchanged.

"And this is a place where I may die tomorrow. If I have to wait to adulthood, it may be too late." (Atlas)

...So she realized it.

In this world, you don't know when and where you might die.

And the people of my village are eventually going to combat the wave.

It goes without saying that the people here may die.

But this is a child whose illness could have taken her at any time.

She must live treasuring every day.

"I can't live relying on my brother forever. I want to properly marry someone." (Atlas)

"... And that someone is Naofumi-chan." (Sadina)

"Yes, I can't consider anyone other than Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"Then it would be best for you to understand his feelings more." (Sadina)

"Naofumi-sama's feelings?" (Atlas)

"Right. Naofumi-chan is considering Atlas-chan and everyone else. It's not like he has no special feelings for you, but there is something more important than that. Do you understand?" (Sadina)

"... Yes." (Atlas)

Atlas answers after a long silence.

Sadina is quite good with words.

Is she just good with dealing with children?

I should caution myself not to get swept up into her pace.

"From Naofumi-chan's point of view, Atlas-chan is a precious villager. Everyone in this village is like family to him. Even his closest Raphtalia understands this." (Sadina)

Though I believe that Raphtalia is quite diligent, and uninterested in love. But if I bring that up here, I will get into trouble, so I'll keep quiet.

"So don't try to be selfish or Naofumi-chan will get mad. Please wait for the right opportunity to get him." (Sadina)

"I understand." (Atlas)

Sadina points at me... For some reason her index finger and middle finger are curled with her thumb in-between them.

In my world, that sign is quite dangerous.

I wonder what it means in this one.

It seems Sadina is using it in the way I know.

"Then I'll sleep in his room waiting for the opportunity." (Atlas)

"Nothing Changed!" (Naofumi)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

What am I supposed to do.

"There's no helping it. This Onee-chan will sleep with you. Don't go crawling into Naofumi-chan's bed." (Sadina)

"Got it." (Atlas)

For now... Does she understand?

I don't feel any safer.

Atlas lies down on Raphtalia's bed.

"Sadina-san, before we sleep can you tell me a story?" (Atlas)

"Let's see, then will one about the ocean be fine?" (Sadina)

Sadina soothes Atlas and begins speaking.

She's a strange person, but she seems to be nice.

She's trusted by the villagers, though I don't get what they see in her.

She's become about as trusted as me.

They rely on her more than Raphtalia.

She also seems to be good with children. If she doesn't mess around, there are a few jobs I want her to do.

“KYUA!” (Gaelion)

Gaelion was listening to Sadina’s story, but he soon got bored and began snooping around the room.

He sticks his head into the sack I keep the materials used to make new clothes and weapons.

“Hey, don’t tamper with that.” (Naofumi)

Gaelion is quite a curious one. He’s also easy to deal with. Firo was also like this once.

Is what… I thought.

But I never thought this would be the trigger for that big incident.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 177 – Level Drain

---

“KYUA!” (Gaelion)

The sack collapses and the contents fall out.

Recently Gaelion has acquired some bad habits.

Last time it was the Ding-Dong-Dash, this time it's the sack rummaging.

I scold him every single time but he still doesn't stop.

Just when I thought Atlas became more obedient, this time it's Gaelion.

Also, Firo does the same thing. Even now.

By the way, Firo while searching the garbage would refer to them as treasures.

After all, she is a bird. Gaelion is no different.

Ah, I'm sure the dumpster diving would also turn into a territorial dispute.

“Ah Jeez…… think about the cleaning I'd need to do.” (Naofumi)

Rolling out from the sack are demon bones, ores and the Zombie Dragon's core which was previously attached to the Barbarian's Armor.

The core of Zombie Dragon continues to roll.

Gaelion sees the Zombie Dragon's core, chases it with his eyes and starts playing with it.

His reaction is like a cat's.

This reminds me, Gaelion and Firo both like shiny things.

Didn't Firo's eyes shine brightly the same way when she saw the Zombie Dragon's core for the first time. It's the same habit they both shared. (TL: referring to the time Firo ate the Zombie Dragon's heart in Chapter 44)

"KYUAA!?" (Gaelion)

Though I am slightly calmed down by this happy state, I have no wish for such mood.

Let's end this quickly with a swift scolding.

Paku!

Gaelion grips the core of the Zombie Dragon with his jaws.

"Hey. That thing isn't yours. Return it quickly." (Naofumi)

But I might as well have been talking to the wind, Gaelion pays no attention to me.

The Zombie Dragon's core is deep within his mouth..... Honestly.

Gokkun.

He swallows it.

"Hey! Spit it out!" (Naofumi)

I grab Gaelion by the scruff and shake him.

Huh, didn't the monster seal have a punishment for that?

I tried activating the system at the same time.

“KYU!?” (Gaelion)

Gaelion convulses and writhes with his eyes wide open.

“KYU…… GYA…… KYUUU……” (Gaelion)

Gaelion breaks out into cold sweats with his eyes tightly shut and moans as if enduring something.

The sound of something creaking can be heard from Gaelion’s whole body.

“O-oi.” (Naofumi)

“What’s going on?” (Sadina)

“There’s a terrible ominous feeling overflowing from Gaelion-chan, is he all right?” (Atlas)

An ominous feeling?

Before I could ask, I see with my own eyes a darkish purple light being emitted from Gaelion’s body…… and the magical power is unleashed.

This color, I recognized it.

When I equipped the Wrath Shield, Firo was also enveloped by the same aura.

“GYA00000000!” (Gaelion)

With bloodshot eyes, Gaelion roars towards the ceiling.

A breath of magic is unleashed from Gaelion's mouth and the ceiling is blown away in an instant.

"GYA!" (Gaelion)

*Flap*..... the sound from his wings reverberates as they begin to expand, Gaelion leaps high into the air.

Great! I'll just open the monster seal and activate the punishment.

Opening the monster seal!

But the view for my status window is warped, the monster seal could not be activated.

"GYAOOOOOO!" (Gaelion)

As I was thinking of calling out to Gaelion with a loud voice, he begins to fly towards somewhere else.

"W-what?" (Naofumi)

"What just occurred?" (Sadina)

"Gaelion ate the Zombie Dragon's core which was used in my armor. Then that happened." (Naofumi)

"Something..... wrapped around Gaelion-chan.....and then—" (Atlas)

We exit the building and look at the direction Gaelion flew in.

"What is it?" (Rat)

The slaves who remained in the village begin to appear when they heard the commotion.

“What? Did something happen?” (Taniko)

Together, Rat and Taniko look in the same direction towards me.

“To tell you the truth-” (Naofumi)

I explained how Gaelion ate the Zombie Dragon’s core.

“The core of a Zombie Dragon…… the Count sure has strange things.”
(Rat)

“Do you have any ideas?” (Naofumi)

“I’m not that knowledgeable about dragons. Dragons are a species whose ecology is shrouded in mystery. Though I’ve heard the cores found in other dragons are highly desired…… but to make him lose control like this…….”
(Rat)

“We must chase after him.” (Taniko)

Says Taniko impatiently. Oh yeah, it’s her precious dragon.

The core of the Zombie Dragon is important for my armor and in the worse case, I’ll get it back even if I have to fight Gaelion for it.

“I understand. We have no choice but to call Firo and leave.”

It doesn’t mean we couldn’t just chase after him. But it will be much quicker with Firo.

I haven't even ridden him yet but I have to take him down, what kind of dragon is he.

"We need horses to go to the next town……" (Naofumi)

Riding on horses prepared by the soldiers, we are off to find Firo.

Halfway to next town, we meet several soldiers on horses riding in from the opposite direction.

"Ah, Shield Hero! We were just on our way to fetch you." (Soldier)

"What is it? I also have an errand to attend to." (Naofumi)

"Princess Melty urgently summons the Shield Hero. It seems something grave has happened to the Shield Hero's holy bird." (Soldier)

"What!?" (Naofumi)

While being guided by the soldiers, we head towards the clinic built in town. Upon entering the clinic, Melty comes rushing with a face that's about to break into tears.

"You know…… Firo-chan started suffering suddenly. Naofumi. Help Firo-chan!" (Melty)

"Suddenly telling me to be a doctor…… I do not understand because I'm not a treatment master. But if there's something I can do, I will do it."
(Naofumi)

"Absolutely!" (Melty)

That being said, if it's a really dangerous disease, there's no choice but to rely on the Yggdrasil medicine.

The problem is, there's only one left in stock, but if it's for Firo, then it's worth using.

I'm reminded of how deeply attached I am to Firo, I will spare no expense.

"Anyway, let me have a look." (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Melty)

I enter into the medical examination room accompanied by Melty and the Treatment Master.

There Firo lies wearily in her monster form.

"Uhh…… uhhh……" (Firo)

Around the abdomen, her body was being eroded like when I changed into the Wrath Shield.

Actually, it's worse. It would be better to say that the damage has greatly increased.

Though the erosion is being resisted by the shiny crown of feathers on Firo's head, you can feel that the erosion is winning.

"What's going on here? Can this even be cured by the Yggdrasil medicine?" (Naofumi)

"It is unknown. But because the magical connotation is so strong, I don't expect the Yggdrasil medicine to have any effect." (Treatment Master)

The bewildered Treatment Master answers my questions.

I check the status of Firo using the status window.

I can determine simple matters such as whether Firo is being invaded by poison or paralysis.

“Oh, Master……” (Firo)

Firo reaches out to me while groaning painfully.

I touch Firo gently on the cheek.

She wasn't in her human form but still, when stroking her cheek, even though she groans painfully, Firo lets out a comfortable smile and closes her eyes.

Then I continue with the status verification.

Firo's status screen flickers many times like in a sandstorm.

No matter how you consider it, it is unusual.

I also notice a big problem while I'm there.

Firo's level is lower than the number I know.

Level down? What is going on?

Multiple possibilities are surfacing.

The problem is its only circumstantial evidence for now so I can't be certain.

“……Bring in Rat from the village.” (Naofumi)

“Understood.” (Melty)

After a while, not only Rat, but even Atlas, Taniko and Sadina come in together.

“Firo-chan!? What happened?” (Taniko)

The worried Taniko runs up to Firo.

Usually, you are prejudiced against Firo whose relationship with Gaelion is bad, but now you're saying you are worried.

Is it natural because you like monsters?

"Rat, what you think?" (Naofumi)

"If I was to take a haphazard guess, I'd say she's being eroded by a curse, don't you think? Will you let me have a look?" (Rat)

Rat reads the diagnostic notes that the Treatment Master made, then she begins to medically examines Firo's body.

"If you can look at the status, you can see the level going down little by little." (Naofumi)

"Level down? Isn't that the equivalent of a high-ranked curse? So far I've never seen anything as terrible as this." (Rat)

"I'm willing to bet this has a connection with Gaelion losing control and running off at the same time. What do you think?" (Naofumi)

"I think there's no doubt. But..... is there a matching contact point between Gaelion and Firo?" (Rat)

"There is, if you assume the core of the Zombie Dragon as the cause."
(Naofumi)

"What?" (Rat)

"During the encounter with the Zombie Dragon, Firo ate his core. The one I received was only a small fragment." (Naofumi)

In fact, the reason why Firo managed to defeat the Zombie Dragon was at the decisive moment when Firo ate his core. When we assume that both events are connected, we become more convinced.

"Indeed, it is reasonable to consider something is influencing Firo who ate the core and Gaelion who is currently running out of control." (Rat)

"I suppose." (Naofumi)

"Then confirm it with Gaelion. I feel like it's not yet settled with that alone somehow." (Rat)

I verify Gaelion's status.

As expected, just like Firo's status window, a sandstorm happens, and there are a lot of things which could not be read.

However……

"His level has skyrocketed." (Naofumi)

It is visibly increasing.

Gaelion's level which is 35 has become 45.

……It's exceeded the class up limit.

"Umm…… I feel an ominous force is flowing out from Firo-chan." (Atlas)

"It is plain to see." (Naofumi)

"No, I don't mean that." (Atlas)

Atlas points her finger at something.

Although there's suppose to be nothing there.

“Atlas-chan is a child who can see things that are not visible to the naked eye, she might know where the force is moving towards.” (Rat)

“Hmm……” (Naofumi)

There is enough possibility.

She has a surprisingly useful ability.

The problem is the supposed destination in which Firo’s force is flowing towards.

It’s the same direction that Gaelion flew in.

“Is it possible for the core in Firo to be vomited out?” (Naofumi)

“It’s impossible. When I incidentally used my magical power of perception, I can see the core circulating throughout her whole body.” (Atlas)

I verified the status of Firo

To recall Raphtalia and the others to chase after it…… at the speed it is decreasing, we don’t even have two days.

Firo is fast becoming level 1 no matter what I think.

No, it’s still better if it becomes 1 and stops. At the worst, she may die.

“Also, I can see some additional force leaking out from Naofumi-sama.”
(Atlas)

“What?” (Naofumi)

I check my own status screen.

Apparently, it’s unnoticeable.

“That — it’s from around the area where the left arm is now.” (Atlas)

It's the place where I have my shield attached.

It comes from the shield…… I had let the shield absorbed half of the core fragment. (TL: Referring to the events in Chapter 44)

Does that mean the shield's ability is decreasing?

I check the list again for confirmation but there is no abnormality for now. Rather, my heart seems to be feeling refreshed.

What was I supposed to be angry about again?

……I sense danger.

“For now locate where the Battle Instructor is having the training camp and give instructions to come back. We are chasing after Gaelion immediately!”

Otherwise there wouldn't be enough time.

Atlas steps forward full of determination.

“Naofumi-sama, there is something I would like to try out for a bit on Firo.”
(Atlas)

“What is it?” (Naofumi)

“I would like to suppress the leakage of Firo's force even by a little.” (Atlas)

Atlas goes to the side of the laying Firo and puts a hand on her chest, then she affixes both hands lightly.

“Mm…… ah……” (Firo)

Firo moans painfully while opening her eyes and slowly gets up.

"It became a little bit lighter." (Firo)

"Firo!" (Melty)

Melty runs up to Firo.

"I think we've gained some extra time." (Atlas)

"Well then…… A carriage……" (Naofumi)

Shit. There are no guys who can run as fast as a vehicle.

Filo Rial is out peddling.

Do I have to rent a Filo Rial in town?

"The pursuit of Gaelion will be me, Sadina and……Tani…… No, you and Rat will——" (Naofumi)

"The one who will draw Master's carriage is…… Firo." (Firo)

Firo declares with a strong will in her eyes while being supported by Atlas.

"Firo-chan is no good! You have to stay still." (Melty)

"Yes. You rest quietly in bed." (Naofumi)

However, Firo shakes her head to refuse.

"No——…… Firo is absolutely going together with." (Firo)

There is none of the usual vigor. But she takes a step forward and insists to follow at any costs.

……If she was made to stay here, she will certainly come chasing.

No matter what, she is very stubborn.

“Well, if anything happens, I’ll leave you in a clinic. And then, I’ll get another guy to pull the carriage.” (Naofumi)

“Naofumi-sama!?” (Atlas)

“Atlas, you’ll also be there to suppress it, right?” (Naofumi)

“Ye- Yes!” (Atlas)

“Good.” (Naofumi)

“I will go too!” (Melly)

Melly declares even though she is on the verge of breaking out into tears.

Ah, her best friend is in a pinch. She insists on coming by any means necessary just like Firo.

I ignore the declaration of the princess.

“Do not act rashly. You are a princess.” (Naofumi)

“Being a princess comes second, Firo-chan is my friend!” (Melly)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

……Before was Firo throwing a tantrum about wanting to protect Melly.

[T/N: Corrected by Kookie]

Firo has a good friend indeed.

“We are setting off to chase after Gaelion. Soldiers of the castle must hurry and notify Raphtalia and the others.” (Naofumi)

""Yes!"" (Everyone)

Thus we let the stubborn Firo overdo herself and left on a carriage.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 178 – Grasping Forces

---

It's been four hours since we departed

Firo's status decrease is being suppressed by Atla

Firo's Lvl. points are declining steadily

The Lvl. down speed have decreased but it's still a severe situation

"Atla, Do you know where the power is going?"(Naofumi)

"Yes, Firo tells me which direction it's heading" (Atla)

"Okay" (Naofumi)

"Haaaa... Haaaa..."(Firo)

"Firo-chan?"(Atla)

Atlas is riding Firo's back and I entrusted driving the carriage to Melty

Rat and Taniko puts the situation in order, Sadina is watching the back

Firo is getting considerably exhausted

It'll be dangerous if we don't make it there fast

Motoyasu's beloved Firo is in a great pinch

Where and what is that fellow doing at such a time

Raising a flag is now impossible

That guy isn't even around when you needed him

"Where on earth did he intend to fly?"(Naofumi)

"I can sense that he is somewhere over there"(Atla)

It's still midnight. The sun will rise eventually, but it's still far.

"Worst case scenario, we have to get rid of Gaelion, Do you understand?"(Naofumi)

I told Taniko directly. Taniko was the closest one to him. Even though Gaelion is mine, I think that I have to say it

"...uhhnn"(Taniko)

"It is strangely logical, I thought that you'd refuse it more" (Naofumi)

"it's not like we're giving up just yet"(Taniko)

"Well, I know" (Naofumi)

"I understand that it is a bad decision to make. However, I refuse to consider not doing something about it" (Taniko)

"Is that so... then I will get rid of any hesitation" (Naofumi)

"I get it! It's our last resort! But we absolutely have to help Gaelion"
(Taniko)

I'm trying to be as casual as I can be about this matter

I understand that Gaelion is what's tormenting Firo

Gaelion is a huge asset for us, Ofcourse, getting rid of him is going to be our last option. I want to avoid that as much as possible

"I hate the Hero" (Taniko)

Taniko sheds tears and she kept on crying all the while

"I'm used to being hated"(Naofumi)

"It's not you" (Taniko)

I can somehow sympathize with Taniko, It is something unlikely a Hero would do but not me.

but the one she is thinking of... is it Ren? Saving people half-way, the barbaric Justice.

But this feeling is something different

Who exactly have I become?

Where would such a thing fly anyways?

"Rat.. Where do you think did Gaelion go to?" (Naofumi)

"If I were to predict it, I think it would probably be the East of Melromarc"(Rat)

"East huh?" (Naofumi)

If I remember correctly east of Melromarc is where we fought the rotting dragon... Ah right

"It's the area where we faced the rotting dragon" (Naofumi)

"I see.. It is merely going back to his own territory, right?"(Rat)

"I think so too" (Naofumi)

“What should this Onee-san do?(Sadina)

While I was talking with Rat, Sadina answers from the back. I still can't come up with a solution, there's also a probability of encountering monsters at this hour.

Actually, there are several monsters that are following from behind

But Sadina is intercepting them with magic and harpoons

The front is being manage by Atla, Firo and Melty. But Firo can't fight because she is already struggling on pulling the carriage

It's unreasonable to force yourself

I also used Meteor shield to protect Atla and Firo at the bare minimum

“I'm thinking of a way to return Gaelion back to his sense. You should be more vigilant of your surroundings” (Naofumi)

“Y-yes...”(Sadina)

“If you have other ideas to help Gaelion then spit it out. And make it faster” (Naofumi)

“..... Then maybe”(Rat)

“Can't we just pin him down and take it out of his mouth by hands? But we need to use a tool that he cannot bite through” (Rat)

“It'll be alright. My defensive power is no joke”(Naofumi)

“Well, we don't have to worry about the Count” (Rat)

“Rat, can you suppress Gaelion using your drug?”(Naofumi)

"Do you even need to ask me that?" (Rat)

Rats shows me a syringe with the drug in it

"This drug is quite strong. It is strong enough that even a dragon cannot move for a while"(Rat)

"I see, then I'm counting on you" (Naofumi)

Raphtalia is not here, but the Lvl. around here is not very high

Gaelion's Lvl. is increasing little by little and status is getting really high because of the shield's correction

Draining Firo's status indicates his status

It's like fighting a dragon-shaped Firo

I think I'll be fine but the other slaves will be in trouble if they were to receive an attack

If a god exist, it seems he wants to see me suffer

"First, let's have a meeting. Rat, It'll be good if you weaken him even if it's just a little" (Naofumi)

"Okay. Will do"(Rat)

"Sadina I will approach Gaelion and you will be on guard with enemies getting near us" (Naofumi)

"... And me?"(Taniko)

Taniko is shaking while asking

“Can you fight?” (Naofumi)

“errr… If I do Gaelin will be badly injured and it’ll be dangerous”(Taniko)

This strong sense of responsibility

“What can you do?” (Naofumi)

I don’t know how Taniko fights as well

Back then I saw her holding a stick but what is she doing now these days?

“I’m good with magic attacks, among everyone else this is something that I can take pride in”(Taniko)

“Hooo… What kind of magic?” (Naofumi)

“I don’t really understand. But as for the woman who’s teaching me magic, she said that the magic that I’m use is different” (Taniko)

The magic shop owner taught the slaves various kinds of magic. I did ask her to do that but what kind of magic did she teach Taniko?

“I don’t understand. You, what kind of magic are you using if you don’t understand what you are using?” (Naofumi)

“I’m using the one that I learned from my father”(Taniko)

I have a feeling that it is some kind of a unique magic

I don’t understand even a little of it. Maybe I’ll understand it better if we go into battle

I don’t have to the power to understand the slaves’ ability

In MMO there's a function that lets you monitor the guild member's current status when you are raising them

In Raids and Castle wars monitoring your allies will be your lifeline. In MMO I can choose my allies by considering their job and Lvl.

But I can't evaluate them if I don't see how they fight, Failure will occur again and again if the party is not organized

There's also a means where they could learn by letting them experience it first hand

Pairing them with people they know to teach them the strategy is a sure fire way of doing it

This is the evil truth because rules don't apply with it

This is the very reason that I feel like this is still a game

"If I pair you with Atla, can you cooperate with her?" (Naofumi)

"Uh yeah" (Taniko)

"What about Melty?" (Naofumi)

"That girl? What kind of magic is she using?" (Taniko)

"Isn't it water? I think that's what it is" (Naofumi)

I think Sadina is really suitable with Melty's strongest magic. Afterall Sadina is an Aquatic type of Beastman and has a high perception with magic that is close to her habitat

"How about you Sadina?" (Naofumi)

“Well, I can do both melee and magic”(Sadina)

Then Rat is the one who understands Demon ecology and Gaelion’s abnormal condition

“Well then, I’ll be the vanguard and those who are good with magic will be at the rear and Sadina…”(Naofumi)

Atla can’t fight because she’s suppressing Firo’s curse.

I need more assistance given the situation

“Sadina, Please attack from the rear with your harpoon” (Naofumi)

“Yes.. Yes..”(Sadina)

“Understood”(Melly)

“Uh yeah”(Taniko)

“We don’t have any choice but to go by this strategy” (Naofumi)

I just noticed, but this party has a high number of females in it

Although I’m not bothered with Raphtalia, Firo and Occasionally with Rishia. I think that this is a kind of party that Motoyasu would make

I should treat Fohl more kindly. He may be a SisCon but I’d like a male companion.

“Count, Are you thinking of something strange”(Rat)

How do you know that I’m thinking about something like that? Do the people in this world also have sixth sense?

Or is that what you would call a Woman's Intuition? Just kidding.

Furthermore, Several hours have passed and we've arrived at the east village. The sun also began to rise.

The means of transportation through Firo is really fast but Gaelion's flying speed is something else

The mountains in the Eastern Village is covered in clouds... It's really dark(TLN: just to clear he meant that the mountain side is covered in clouds.. not the entire eastern part...)

"Oh... It's Saint-sama"(Villager)

"It is the Shield Hero-sama"(Village)

The villagers spotted us and approached us... For some reason Taniko covered her whole body with a sheet of cloth

"This morning a Villager heard a cry from dragon that came from the mountains"(Villager)

"It's is true that there is a dragon that escape and ran over here, we are here because we are chasing after it" (Naofumi)

""Uwaaa!""(Villagers)

I didn't say that it came from our village because our reputation would be affected

But the villagers who can somehow understand what's happening fell silent

"Just..."(Naofumi)

I looked at Atla and Firo's situation

They seemed really tired

I was able to pinpoint the location where Gaelion ran away

"We haven't taken any rest since yesterday, go and take some rest for a while" (Naofumi)

"...but"(Melty)

"if you are not in your best condition, we may not be able to win. Overdoing it is unacceptable so please agree and wait a little bit" (Naofumi)

"U-understood"(Melty)

I registered the Village into the portal shield and it would be better If I leave a message to the Village(TLN: He's referring to the leaving a message to the demi-human village)

"Alright, It's best if we could return to the village when something bad were to happen. Portal Shield!" (Naofumi)

Ofcourse, I memorized the location and went back to the Village to check if Raphtalia and the others have returned

... I can warp 7 people including me

It says 6 people but I'm not included in it

In short I can warp 7 people including me

I suck at explaining things

Let's just say 7 people in total

Or is it based on 3 people + my Lv / 20 kind of condition?

Firo and Atla is leaning against the wall and is resting alternately

I reconfirmed her status

Firo's Lvl. is still decreasing little by little. This is dangerous

"Please rest more until it's time" (Naofumi)

"Understood"(Melty)

"Please understand that I can't make medicine strong enough to suppress it"
(Naofumi)

"uhnn"(Firo)

"Firo-chan...here's some water"(Melty)

"Thank you Mel"(Firo)

I asked if they've seen Raphtalia but the results are not good

I explained our escape with the portal shield and the cooldown

I hope that Raphtalia gets back soon so we can start immediately

Time is the problem

Judging from Firo's condition she won't even last for half a day

I can't do anything but pray that Raphtalia and the others gets back from their training soon

"I guess it's impossible afterall" (Naofumi)

The cooldown has finished but Raphtalia isn't back yet

We don't have a choice but to stop Gaelion with this people

We just have to prepare for the worst

"Atla and Firo please rest in the village"(Naofumi)

"Please Master"(Firo)

"We don't have to travel long distance anymore. Travelling is just a stone's throw from here. Don't overdo it" (Naofumi)

"But... I want to go"(Firo)

"Stop it.. If you force yourself, you would only be too much of a burden. You can barely move yourself, you're already at your limit" (Naofumi)

"no... no"(Firo)

"I said Atla and Firo" (Naofumi)

"I understand. Firo, Let's just leave it to Naofumi-sama"(Atla)

"But Firo..."(Firo)

"Naofumi-sama is saying that taking Firo along is too much of a load to take. But even if he doesn't say so I will still stop you"(Atla)

Firo reluctantly nodded in Atla's every word

Atla who has some trouble speaking because of her illness and Firo having the same situation because of the curse. This approach may become effective

"How about you Melty?" (Naofumi)

"If it's for Firo I would do anything"(Melty)

"Don't force yourself. Because you're the next queen." (Naofumi)

"I understand but this is something more important than being a Queen"(Melty)

Can't be helped they are close friends after all

After I leave and return to my own world Firo would probably stay with Melty

"Firo!, Please wait a moment"(Melty)

"Mel..."(Firo)

"Please rest quietly in bed"(Melty)

"uhnn"(Firo)

I held Firo's face and then she cried because of the feeling of helplessness

This is the first time that I did such a thing

This is too much to bear

"It's time to leave. Portal Shield" (Naofumi)

Then we came back to the east village and have begun to walk towards the mountain filled with dark clouds.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 179 – Lump of Desire

---

“It should be somewhere around here.” (Naofumi)

I climb the mountain, only to find that the ecosystem here is just as messed up as ever.

The soil is polluted, and it feels like the flow of magic here is abnormal.

I never thought that I’d have to return here someday.

Taniko stares back at the village with angry eyes. What exactly is she mad about?

Last time, Firo was able to send all of the monsters we encountered flying, but this time is different.

We wasted time fighting the battles.

Though having Sadina, Rat, Taniko and Melty here sped things up.

“I lead the flow of the power of the land, and give it the power of incarnation. Earth Pulse, become my power. 「Dark Firebolt」 !” (Taniko)

Taniko’s magic summons black flames that burn the monsters.

The incantation seems to be fundamentally different from the magic I know of.

“Her magic seems to concentrate the surrounding energy and release it.” (Melty)

“It really is a strange magic.” (Naofumi)

“Yeah… I’ve only learned the basics, but this is a magic that borrows powers from the surroundings.” (Taniko)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"Father could use much more powerful magic." (Taniko)

Taniko continues casting her strange spells. I wonder what sort of mage her father was.

Rat looks at the magic and cocks her head.

"That magic is..." (Rat)

"You know it?" (Naofumi)

"It doesn't seem to be a power of human or demi-human origin." (Rat)

But Taniko is a demi-human, right?

She has dog-ish ears and everything.

I never asked her exactly what race she was, because I wasn't interested, though.

"Could she have received special protection from something?" (Rat)

(TL: as in Divine protection, divine gifts.)

"By the way, what sort of magic can you use?" (Naofumi)

"Recovery Magic." (Rat)

"Ah, I see. I'll leave support to you." (Naofumi)

"That's what I planned on doing anyways." (Rat)

Sadina eliminates the remaining monsters in silence.

"It's not widely known, but it isn't an extinct form of magic. Perhaps I should teach her some advanced spells." (Sadina)

Sadina spins her spear and begins to cast magic on the monsters that begin appearing in great numbers. She pulls out a canteen of water and holds it out.

“I, Sadina, Draw out the power of Water to do my bidding. Dragon Pulse, eliminate my enemies. 「Saint Aquabolt」 !” (Sadina)

Using a similar chant as Taniko, Sadina unleashes a shining mass of water. Everyone there is taken aback.

“By the way, I can also use the main varieties of magic as well.” (Sadina)

“I who has understood the origin of power command you. Once again be read and come forth. Pierce all with spheres of water, 「Faust Aquashot」 !” (Sadina)

She takes out another monster with a magic I am familiar with.

It seems Sadina is needlessly skillful.

It’s not like she was hiding anything, I just don’t know too much about her in general.

“Understand? Magic that takes from one’s surroundings has power proportional to the surrounding environment. Make sure to prepare things to aid you beforehand.” (Sadina)

Sadina hands the canteen to Taniko.

“This flask contains holy water, so it works well on the monsters of this land. But if you use it too much, the effectiveness drops so be careful.” (Sadina)

“G-got it.” (Taniko)

“If you’re really in a tight situation, you can try borrowing power from the sky. It's hard to control, though." (Sadina)

"Amazing, you can use the same magic as father." (Taniko)

"Only a little. I usually use magic that changes the flow of energy in my own body." (Sadina)

"What sort of magic is that?" (Naofumi)

That sounds convenient, of course it's not like I'll be able to learn it.

"Humans and Demi-Humans need special blessings to learn it, so it's rare. Perhaps Naofumi-chan will be able to use it." (Sadina)

"What do you mean?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, but with Firo-chan here, that might be difficult." (Sadina)

I can't learn it if I'm with Firo?

I'm getting more and more curious as to what sort of magic it is.

"... Are you possibly referring to that?" (Rat)

Rat seems to have figured something out. She addresses Sadina.

"One of the extinct magics. Currently only known and passed down by high class monsters, Dragon Pulse Order?" (Rat)

"Correct. I was once taught it a long time ago." (Sadina)

"T-that's kinda amazing." (Melty)

Melty seems to have never heard of it before.

"Ah, Melty-chan might have the aptitude for Choral Magic." (Sadina)

"Eh!?" (Melty)

Choral Magic? What's that?

Is it similar to ritual magic?

In the magic books I've read, was that magic there? I think I've heard about it before, but I can't remember where.

"Impossible, Impossible, not happening." (Melly)

"It's fine. Melly-chan. Even your hair color signifies that you have the talent. Trust me." (Sadina)

Melly is frantically denying it.

Ah, I think Choral Magic was that thing Bitch was doing. Casting several magics at once.

"Anyways, you have the Talent, Melly-chan. Work hard." (Sadina)

"Uuu..." (Melly)

Even so, Melly's level isn't that high. I don't think you should expect that much from her.

"I'll teach you when you're ready. Shall I lecture on magic as we head there?" (Sadina)

This has somehow begun to feel like a Picnic. You know, Firo's life is on the line here...

Anyways, we talk as we climb up the mountain. We arrive at the area that the Dragon Zombie had previously lain. It's been 3 hours since we set out. There isn't a single blade of grass growing in the area.

Even now, this land is heavily polluted...

"Where could Gaelion be?" (Naofumi)

"... I think that way." (Taniko)

Taniko points further up the mountain.

What?

As if answering her statement, black fog begins rising from that area.

"My, my... That seems quite ominous." (Rat)

"But we have to go." (Taniko)

Taniko begins to lead the party.

"You know the way?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah... This way." (Taniko)

Taniko seems familiar with the area as she leads the party.

"I see, so that's it." (Sadina)

"What? What happened?" (Naofumi)

Sadina seems to have figured something out. If you don't explain it, I won't get it.

"Naofumi-chan, are you the type of person that digs up people's pasts?

Shall I tell you this Onee-san's past?" (Sadina)

"Don't care!" (Naofumi)

She seems to be dodging the subject.

Past? Did Taniko live here before?

Was she part of a reclusive village of Demi-humans that lived with the dragon... This area's population died out from plague. Perhaps she had tried to escape it and gotten sold off.

And the magic was passed down through that village.

Was it something like that?

...

"There!" (Taniko)

Two hours later, Taniko suddenly jumps and begins pointing. Of course, we had to fight a lot of monsters on the way. Firo's remaining time is running out, yet we were wasting time on the way here.

Gaelion is lying down in front of a cave.

Is he asleep? He's not moving at all.

We remain hidden as we approach him.

If we can get close enough, I can seal him with Shield Prison. After that, we can prepare magics and release them the moment the prison vanishes to weaken him. And then Rat can use her drug.

After that, I'll just need to get Gaelion to spit up the core.

But that's just the best case scenario.

Shield Prison's range is 5 meters. We are 20 meters from Gaelion.

I analyze him. His level is 55. He's stolen more than 20 levels from Firo.

"GYAOOO!" (Gaelion)

Gaelion suddenly opens his eyes and rushes into the cave.

"Damn!" (Naofumi)

A failure.

But now we can trap him in the cave.

We carefully peer into the cave.

Gaelion seems to be scampering around the cave, frantically looking for something.

“What is he doing?” (Naofumi)

“I think he is looking for his treasure... The villagers took it already.”

(Taniko)

“Dragons have a habit of collecting things. I think the soul in the core Gaelion ate had some lingering affections for his treasure.” (Rat)

I see, so Dragons are that sort of lifeform.

“...” (Taniko)

Taniko quietly murmurs something.

But I have no time to hear her out.

“Okay, let’s go.” (Naofumi)

“Gaelion!” (Taniko)

And we approach the target.

“GYAOOOOOOO!” (Gaelion)

Gaelion shouts out.

Thump!

The Shield pulses in response to the yell.

「GURUUUUUUUU……」

「流星盾！
エアストシールド！」

W-what is this!?

When Gaelion shouted out earlier, nothing like this happened.

“This seems to be dangerous. We should create a bit more distance.” (Rat)

“Gaelion! Come here! Please!” (Taniko)

But the shield continues to pulsate.

A visible black aura emanates from it and begins enveloping Gaelion.

And Gaelion even begins sucking up the pollution from the surrounding land.

Gaelion’s body gradually increases in size.

“I’m getting a very bad feeling, but Rat, do you know anything?” (Naofumi)

“How should I know? Isn’t it your shield’s fault?” (Rat)

“Probably… I think I absorbed some things like Firo did.” (Naofumi)

“Hey, Naofumi. Why do you look a little happy?” (Melly)

“Ha?” (Naofumi)

Well, this did give off a bit of a ‘Boss Battle’ vibe.

… But I’m getting a very ominous feeling. Something must be wrong with me.

“Naofumi, You got power from the Zombie Dragon’s core, right?” (Melly)

“Yeah, the shield I used to defeat the Spirit Turtle, the Wrath Shield used the core’s power.” (Naofumi)

“Didn’t that shield appear whenever you got mad at Sister and Father?”
(Melly)

“Sister? Ah… Why was I angry at her again?” (Naofumi)

“THAAAAT’S IT!” (Melly and Sadina)

Melly and Sadina point their finger at me and shout out.

“Naofumi, that thing sucked up your hatred for Sister, among other things!”
(Melty)

“W-what!?” (Naofumi)

Damn. I can't remember anything.

I get the feeling that it's something I'm better off forgetting. The world around me seems off.

Now that I think about it... Sadina is quite a beauty as well.

Why didn't I notice it before?

“Naofumi, your eyes are creepy. Go back to your normal self.” (Melty)

“Even if you tell me that~” (Naofumi)

Raphtalia. When I think of her, my heart beats faster.

Firo is in trouble. Even when shes a bird, she's quite cute. In her human form, I might fall for her like Motoyasu.

Melty looks like a standard Tsundere, which is quite nice as well.

Atlas is also a blind cute girl. I can imagine her growing up to be a beauty.

Fohl's Sis-con is understandable.

Fufufu. If this was an Eroge, it would be NTR.

... This is really bad! I don't know what's bad, though.

What's this about NTR? Useless!

Is the me without Hate, Resentment, and Killing intent just a mass of Klesha?

I must retrieve my negativity fast, or things will get dangerous.

In numerous ways.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

Chapter 180 - Good Fortune

I check the Wrath Shield.

... You have not cleared the conditions to unlock this shield.

I can't check its status!

And Gaelion's status is so corrupted that I can't make any sense of it.

"For now, the only thing we can do is defeat him!" (Naofumi)

"Defeating it is... correct, right?" (Taniko)

Gaelion was able to slip past us and get out of the cave.

His size is now greater than 20 meters, He looks like an authentic dragon.

His eyes are shrouded in darkness. I can't read his expression.

I can't find any part of this being similar to the Gaelion we know.

"G U R U U U U U U U U U U U . . . . ." (Gaelion?)

(TL: Note, this sound is written in alphanumerics)

"Ah... Yes. I'm fine. How have you been?" (Taniko)

Everyone snaps their heads towards Taniko... She's also at a loss for words.

She's one of the lower level slaves, who has yet to Class-Up.

Gaelion takes in a large amount of air.

He's, going to unleash a Breath Attack.

「Meteor Shield!」 (Naofumi)

I deploy Meteor Shield, and prepare for the impact. The others get behind me.

"I'm going to borrow the holy water for a second." (Sadina)

Sadina takes her holy water back from Taniko and begins to chant.

"I, Sadina, Draw out the power of Water to do my bidding. Dragon Pulse, Protect My Body. 「Saint Aqua Shield」 !" (Sadina)

Sadina's magic envelops the party.

I wonder what's its effect.

"Naofumi-chan, I made preparations in case his flames are able to inflict curses." (Sadina)

"Thanks." (Naofumi)

As long as I can withstand his blasts, we can stand a chance. It's not like it's as strong as the Spirit Turtle.

A Pitch Black Flame comes from Gaelion's mouth, and flies towards us. It immediately dissolves the Meteor Shield on impact.

W-what!? That shield was able to withstand being trampled by the Spirit Turtle, yet it was destroyed in an instant!

The Flame continues to fly right at me. I deploy E Float Shield as well, and block it.

My body feels like it's melting as my shield takes on the attack.

Just considering output, the attack rivals the Spirit Turtle's lightning!

"Saint Aqua Shield was dispelled... What a powerful breath and curse." (Sadina)

I quickly cast recovery magic and stare at Gaelion.

This is... without a doubt the flames of the Dark Curse Burning S.

Perhaps what I was doing was merely an imitation of Gaelion's power...

This is a monster with the power of the Wrath Shield.

It even sucked up Firo's level and status, making it a tougher opponent than the Spirit Turtle.

Retreating is always an option.

But if I run here, then I can't consider myself a Hero.

Hm? Did I just think something stupid? Something feels off.

"Rat, if we weaken it, can you get the core from its stomach?" (Naofumi)

"... By getting eaten?" (Rat)

"Possibly, but it might be quicker to cut its stomach open." (Naofumi)

"After we're done, we'll heal it, right?" (Rat)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

Hopefully that's enough to solve the situation. Taniko is desperately calling out to the Dragon, but it seems to have no effect. If this were an Anime... There would always be a slight effect.

"Then this Onee-san has to work hard." (Sadina)

Sadina spins her harpoon as she steps forwards.

"Can you do it?" (Naofumi)

"I'll try." (Sadina)

Sadina points the harpoon at the sky and begins chanting.

"I who has understood the origin of power command you. Once again be read and come forth. Rain down Spears of Lightning, 「Dreifach Thunderbolt」 !" (Sadina)

Upon Sadina's chant, the clouds in the sky begin to grow dark, and lightning flashes between them. The clouds gather around Sadina's outstretched Harpoon.

Dreifach... It's a level above Zveit. For the Level 35 Sadina to be able to cast that is quite a feat. Could she possibly be very strong?

Her previous level had capped at 40, but I wonder what level her strength was on.

"It's a bit dangerous, so step back." (Sadina)

Sadina leans forward, and begins rushing towards Gaelion.

She's fast. Though slower than Raphtalia, she's running at a speed unbecoming of her level.

「Thunder Impaler!」 (Sadina)

With a loud sound, Sadina kicks off the ground, and throws her harpoon at Gaelion's abdomen. The Moment the Harpoon leaves her hands, lightning comes out of it, blinding the dragon and preventing it from dodging.

And immediately following, the harpoon pierces Gaelion's chest...

Or is should have.

Gakin!

A sound like the one that occurs when something hits my shield rings out, and the harpoon sticks in Gaelion's skin for a moment, before being shot back in the direction it came from.

"Ara... It seems Onee-san's signature move didn't work." (Sadina)

Sadina lands, and catches the harpoon while stepping backwards. She then rejoins us.

“... So we’re in a lot of trouble unless Raphtalia gets back.” (Naofumi)

The Blinded Gaelion puts its hands over its eyes and lets out a moan.
We can see if other magics work... But the outcome doesn’t look good.
But we can’t just sit back and do nothing here. Our time is limited.

“Count, can’t you do anything?” (Rat)

“Even if you say that...” (Naofumi)

It’s sucked away my offensive abilities...

Hm? Sucking away abilities?

It at least seems to have the powers of the Wrath Shield.

What will happen if I try to strengthen that shield?

“I’m going to try to strengthen the shield that seems to be his source of power.” (Naofumi)

“ARE YOU AN IDIOT!?” (Rat and Melty)

Rat and Melty call out.

“Wait, Wait. Listen to what I’m saying. Strengthening occasionally fails.
What do you think would happen if I purposely made it fail?” (Naofumi)

“Is that how it works?” (Melty)

“Yeah, I think that Dragon is getting defensive abilities from my shield, blocking all attacks... Perhaps I can destroy his defenses.” (Naofumi)

“Got it.” (Rat)

Gaelion lets go of his eyes, and begins searching for us.

It’s only a matter of time until we’re found.

“Let’s retreat for now, and fight it again later.” (Naofumi)

“It will definitely stay within its territory.” (Rat)

“Probably.” (Naofumi)

I activate the Portal Shield…

… It’s not letting me select a destination.

Eh? Could it be that the abnormal flow of magic in the area is blocking the skill!?

“I can’t teleport. We’ll have to make a run for it.” (Naofumi)

“I don’t think it’ll let us.” (Sadina)

Sadina points upwards.

Gaelion is floating directly above us. We’ve already been found.

If we wanted to run away here, we would need Firo. Without her, it’s impossible.

“G Y A O O O O O O O O O O O O O O ! ” (Gaelion?)

He swoops down, and tries to slash at us with his massive claws.

I step forward and take the attack.

A great pain runs through my body.

It’s not as severe as with the Breath, but it’s still quite painful.

I had quickly deployed the meteor shield, but it’s only a matter of time before he breaks through.

The claws are followed up by his tail, and then his fangs.

All of them send great pain.

“Count! 「Zveit Heal!」 「Faust Guard!」 ” (Rat)

Rat casts Support Magic. That saved me. I didn't have the flexibility to cast it on my own.

"Then, Melty-chan. Try casting Choral Magic." (Sadina)

"Eh... But..." (Melty)

"You too. Help Melty-chan. Your Unique Magic should be more effective than the Standard Magic Systems here." (Sadina)

Sadina also issues orders to Taniko.

"Y-yeah." (Taniko)

"I'll take the front. Melty-chan, work on tuning and synthesis, you need to focus on support. Let's go." (Sadina)

I see Sadina and the others preparing their magics, and open up the Wrath Shield Strengthening window.

I have more than enough materials.

Wrath Shield +7 → +8. Do you want to carry out this reinforcement?

I select 「Yes」 .

Warning, if this reinforcement fails, the reinforcement will fall to 0-

I ignore the message, and select 「Yes」 again.

You have successfully Reinforced your Wrath Shield to +8.

Damn! Why did it have to succeed here!?

Beep...

I timidly look up at Gaelion.

Yeah, his scales begin to shine for a moment. In an MMO, when you enhance a weapon, it usually glows for an instant like that.

Why must I be so unlucky.

"U-um, Count? He... Seems to be getting stronger." (Rat)

"Ah, the strengthening succeeded." (Naofumi) (TL: Tehe)

"Are you an idiot!?" (Rat)

"Yeah, I'm sorry." (Naofumi)

"You're acting like it's a trivial matter. Count, there's definitely something wrong with you." (Rat)

"I'm well aware. If we don't beat Gaelion soon, I don't know what will happen to me." (Naofumi)

I immediately prepare to strengthen again.

I once again select 「Yes」 .

You have successfully Reinforced your Wrath Shield to +9.

...

Shit.

Gaelion's attacks begin to succeed in piercing my defense.

The pain is getting too great for me to handle.

Blood starts erupting from parts of my body.

"Count!?" (Rat)

Is this shield... trying to kill me!?

If the next one succeeds, we're screwed!

We'll get devoured.

I button mash 「Yes」 .

Do you want to carry out-

You have successfully Reinforced your-

Gaelion's tail attack is coming right at us.

Yeah, Gaelion shines for a moment. If this hits me, will I start seeing stars?

Gaelion's mouth is wide open. At this rate, we'll get eaten.

I continue the button mashing!

You have Failed in Reinforcing your Wrath Shield to +11!

A breaking sound occurs and the Wrath Shield Reinforcement fails.

Gaelion's scales darken, and his attacks get visibly weaker.

As he was positioned to eat me, he picks me up in his teeth and tries to bite down on me, to no avail.

"Get off!" (Naofumi)

I grab his fangs and wrench them open with all my strength. I fall to the ground.

Good, this finally seems like a battle we can fight.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 181 - Choral Magic

---

“Count, are you alright?” (rato)

“Do I look like I’m alright?” (naofumi)

My whole body ached….

Damn, it only succeeded at a time like this.

My luck is too extreme. This is harassment.

I’m not one of those inherently unlucky protagonists who appear in Light Novels. [T/N: But you are actually…]

“Zweite Heal” (naofumi)

I cast recovery magic along with Rato.

As expected of a fantasy world, my wounds healed before my eyes and the pain faded.

The injury I suffered was big, but the enemy had also been weakened. Our average level was still low. I wanted to lower another rank.

“Okay, next is to lower the Rarity!” (naofumi)

Should I attempt SR -> SR+?

I ignore the warning message and spam the button.

But for some reason, I had a bad sense of foreboding.

“H-he’s growing into a somewhat vicious figure again.” (rato?)

“Dammnnnnn!” (naofumi)

When my luck is bad, everything escalates. What was with this chain of successes!

I didn't see how many times it succeeded. If this was the Soul Eater Shield, it'd probably have been so much easier!

I was blown away when I saw the letters LR.

Not again! This probably had a success rate lower than +11 or thereabouts!

Behind me were my allies, I couldn't avoid it any further and took the attack as it was.

"Ugh!" (naofumi)

With his Rarity upgraded, Gaerion hit me with all his strength.

That hurt...I want to go home.

His offensive power rose to an impossible level just from absorbing Firo's abilities, but now even his Rarity has risen. How far will my misfortune go. It's because lately everything has been progressing smoothly. It might be the backlash from that.

Will there be another situation similar to before?

No kidding. I need to hurry up and fail the Rarity enhancement so that Gaerion will weaken.

Enhancement to AF failed!

In an instant, the rank fell to C and Gaerion visibly weakened.

The lustre of his scales disappeared and his physical strength also dropped.

At this rate, we should be able to break through his defence if we persevere.

“I’m done. How about you guys?” (naofumi)

<Earth of the Curse, flow of that cursed dragon pulse, for the sake of spitting out the congested blood, let us….>

When I looked, Melty, Sadina and Taniko was chanting magic, their voices merging together.

I saw glittering, firefly-like lights gathering in our surroundings.

“GURUUUUUUU…” (gaerion)

Gaerion inhaled deeply in order to use his Breath, as if trying to stop us.

I went out front and held out my shield in order to protect Melty’s group.

Gaerion leapt up high, faced this way and opened him mouth.

It’s coming!

“Meteor Shield! Air Strike Shield!” (naofumi)

I used the shield projected by Air Strike Shield as a foothold and protected Melty’s group from the Breath.

Gu… My whole body was roasted and I was scorched by the flames.

I was already weakened from the curse, the cursed flames added to it and caused me pain.

Gaerion leaned forward in pursuit and thrust out with his claw. At this rate, he’ll probably snap at us.

<Oh Dragon Pulse. Please grant our wishes. I, who is worthy of the origin of strength, implore you. I’ve read and understood the truth once again, grant us the power to overcome this evil!>

The light intensified, and I understood that the three had turned their attention this way.

It's hard because the defence role has to wait for this.

...The me who is protecting everyone is cool; large-scale magic is the best!

Those thoughts passed through my mind for a moment.

It was thanks to the stress you'd expect from the pain caused by the flames, but it was more or less normal.

"It might be surprising at first, but compose yourself. It'll definitely be fine, believe in big sis! Now, Melty-chan!" (sadina)

"Choral Magic!" (melty)

"Deep Sea!" (sadina)

""Ze Vire!"" (all) [T/N: ゼー・ヴィレ... The Veil?]

Was it just my imagination that it felt like each one of them cast a different magic?

Water suddenly appeared from the midst of Melty's group and surrounded us. It was as if we were in a giant water tank.

I can't breathe...

*Splash* Gaerion painfully tried to escape from the water tank by swimming.

"Naofumi-chan, are you alright?" (sadina)

I held my breath to prevent it leaking out but Sadina just came walking naturally and talked normally.

“It doesn’t have any effect on enemies and those you don’t acknowledge so it’s fine” (sadina) [T/N: Talking about the breathing underwater thing…]

“Eh? Ah…” (naofumi)

Just like in an anime or manga, I could move underwater and breathe normally.

I thought so before, but magic is really amazing.

If you think about it, we’ve been following the law of nature until now, or I should say, our battles have been rather simple.

I’ve been summoning my shields, we used concealing magic and Firo attacked with her claws.

We each had our own magic which would have made it more flashy~

…what flashiness. There was no need to excessively worry about outward appearances.

What’s important was the practicality and efficiency.

It looked like that has been absorbed substantially.

Let’s be a little more conscious. Otherwise my brain will turn crazy.

“Haa…Haa…no more.” (melty)

“Yeah…” (taniko)

Melty and Taniko sat down tiredly and breathed heavily. I took out Mana Potions from the shield and passed the potions to the two of them.

“Well, that’s right… then big sis shall do her best.” (sadina)

With a *pop*, Sadina rose to the surface of the magical water tank and swam to the escaping Gaerion.

She was very fast.

Well, it was expected from one who had been levelling up in the ocean.

Wasn't she fairly strong in water?

"As expected from the Ruka species, you're like a fish in water when it's your own field." (rato)

[T/N: Oh how punny...]

"Sadina's species?" (naofumi)

"Yes, they're famous for being the strongest in the Aquatic species and a rare species. It's been said that even Hakuko would flee when opposing them in the sea." (rato)

Amazing. So she's the strongest in the right conditions. Well, orca was written as the tiger of fish. [T/N: Orca = 鮪. 魚 = fish, 虎 = tiger]

Gaerion tried to spit flames but before his eyes, Sadina leapt out onto the water's surface, encased in water.

That form was a dragon made from water.

"Enraged Dragon's Twin Blades!" (sadina) [T/N: 激龍双刃?]

With a splash, Gaerion fell into the water tank again.

He looked to have received damage and blood trickled from his abdomen.

"Gaerion...." (taniko)

Taniko murmured quietly and stood up.

“Gaerio-n!” (taniko)

“One more time! Reverse Prong Attack!” (sadina) [T/N: 逆叉撃 ?]

The water current Sadina was clad in, formed a tail and hit Gaerion in the stomach.

“...so tough.” (sadina)

The tired Sadina descended and took some quick breaths. Gaerion spit out black flames in the water.

The encasing water was eroded by Gaerion’s black flames and disappeared.

“Ah...this is tough.” (sadina)

Sadina’s fatal technique only did this much. What a tough opponent.

The Wrath Shield’s enhancements couldn’t lower any more than this and it would be difficult for Melty and Taniko to fight.

.....What should we do.

We could retreat to safety for a moment. We should be able to beat an enemy of this level if Raphtalia was here.

However, if we took too long, Firo would be in danger.

If we fell back now, we’d veer off in a bad direction...

The options remaining are... there’s Rato.

If we use the drug or anaesthetic that stopped Firo before, we might be able to win.

"Rato, can you shoot your medicine?" (naofumi)

"Understood. I'll have a try." (rato)

Rato threw the syringe at Gaerion with a dark ability.

It hit the area Sadina had injured and seemed to have stuck.

However, Gaerion's movements showed no sign of stopping.

"GYAOOOOOO!" (gaerion)

Gaerion recovered from the shock received by Sadina's attack and cried out.

Then, he glared at us in irritation.

"Gaerion!" (taniko)

Taniko called out many times.

"Please! Come back!" (taniko)

"Hey! Wait!" (naofumi)

Taniko shook me off and ran in front of Gaerion.

It's not that I don't understand your feelings but think about the situation.

"GURUUUU...!" (gaerion)

"Gaerion..." (taniko)

With both arms spread out, Taniko glared as she couldn't go any further.

“Hey! I’m begging you, return to normal!” (taniko)

Taniko’s words resounded in the vicinity.

However, I felt that it didn’t enter Gaerion’s ears.

I quickly started running, and tried to head to the front in order to help Taniko.

However, Gaerion opened his mouth wide and snapped at Taniko before I could do so.

“Air Str——” (naofumi)

I immediately called up the Air Strike Shield.

But, before that—

“…..Father! Stop it already!” (taniko)

Taniko raised her voice and shouted.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 182 – Wrath Dragon

---

“G U R U !?”(Gaelion)

That way of speaking stopped Gaelion’s movements

Oh! Did the parent-child love move his heart?

Is that it?

“Father?”(Taniko)

“Eh?”(Naofumi)

“I had my hunch, I knew it I was right”(Rat)

Rat is muttering something, looks like she’s convinced

“Uhhh, My father… My father is the dragon that occupies this area”(Taniko)

Taniko nods and then talked to Gaelion

“It’s true. There are stories about children who grew up in the wilderness and those stories usually include demons, monsters and dragons” (Rat)

What the? That’s a typical wolf boy phrase(TLN: I think he’s referring to a player)

Eh? Is Taniko really raised by a dragon?

No matter how I look her, Taniko is definitely something related to a dog, there’s not even a single hint of her being a dragon

In the first place the rotten dragon is…….. Impossible. In this case, did the dragon become her parent while it's alive?

Then, is that the special way of chanting magic something she learned from the dragon?

Why does Sadina know how to use that magic?

Sadina looks this way

"SE..CRE..T"(Sadina)

She's annoying

I'll hear about it later

"Stop it already… Father. Soon, this place will become nothing. I understand your hate for that hero who took away everything from you. However, troubling other won't change anything in this word.. So please stop it!"

"G U ……"(Gaelion)

Gaelion is groaning it seems like Taniko's words are affecting him

I covered my ears with both of my hands; I don't want to hear it

"When will this stop? I know that the hero that took away my happiness, Father's happiness cannot be forgiven. But the shield hero is different. Everybody from the village is kind and gentle. They were different from the people of this country who beat and whipped me if I did something wrong. They were different from the people in the village who laughed while taking away father's treasures"

Taniko is crying from remembering all the things that happened while trying to persuade Gaelion

I simply covered my ears not wanting to hear their conversation

Don't tell me, when a dragon raises an adopted child... It violates one's process of maturity, Am I being influenced by games too much?

"Please... Please return that child's body back . . . . That child I'll raise it. . . . that child's name is Gaelion, the same as yours, I promise that your name will still live with him . . . and also please return Firo's strength back to her. Father, you don't belong here anymore"

"G Y A O O O O O O!"(Wrath dragon)

And then something began to move inside his head intensely

And. . . .

"Gyaa ... Gyaaa"

"Gyu aaaa"

Something that looks like a newborn Gaelion came out from the dragon's mouth

The experience level and growth element has been sucked along with him, Seems like that prevents the dragon from rampaging

And then... The figure of the dragon that we fought earlier became covered in black and started dissolving while glaring at us

After that I turn my gaze towards Taniko

"Father.. I will do anything... I will stop you"(Taniko)

When taniko came back to her senses Melty and Sadina took a huge breath

"Sadina onee-chan, Let's stop father" (Taniko)

"Understood"(Sadina)

"I have no choice but to do it" (Taniko)

The 3 of them gathered and started chanting choral magic

That was really fast, Taniko's chant seems like it's affecting him

I don't think so, and then the small Gaelion flapped its wings and flew to the 3 of them chanting the magic

Then I directed my focus at the black dyed dragon that's melting

"G Y A O O O O O O O ! "(Wrath dragon)

This is Taniko's father. . . . the one that I fought before. Back then he didn't even fangs and horns. Now he looks a lot more dangerous than before

"Count, Is your wound alright?"(Rat)

"How does it look?"(Naofumi)

It's the Dark Curse Burning's flame. Well. . .the flame is getting weak, so you cannot consider it as a fatal injury

Though it felt like receiving a curse combined with another curse for additional damage

"My curse resistance decreased but there's holy water so we don't have to worry about that and somehow chant that they're doing affects it"
(Naofumi)

I move closely to protect Taniko and the others

Gaelion leaped towards us, and I held my ground

"It's dangerous, get back"

『This is perilous (Gaelion)

"wha. . ."

Gaelion spoke

However, why is his voice so low?

『Don't lose your composure, we'll be exposed by wyndia』 (Gaelion)

"You. . ."(Naofumi)

So he's the father version of Gaelion.

It's not the child version of Gaerion who is doing the possessing.

『My daughter's growth has been a good one. Hero of the Shield, there is one thing that I'd like to teach you. Did you even notice? 』 (Gaelion)

“If I know what you’re talking about then you wouldn’t have teach me. So no, I don’t know what you’re talking about” (Naofumi)

I glared at Gaelion with hostility

It’s a different name, or should I say that I understand what his status have become

Wrath Dragon

The name of the black dragon slowly disappeared within my sight

『It is the corruption within me ate all your hatred away. All of the hate that it gathered took form and thus what’s making me lose control. Hurry, kill me before I start rampaging again』 (Gaelion)(TLN: although they were referring to killing the wrath dragon.. I think he’s talking to them via the little Gaelion)

“ Don’t you understand? I cannot attack you” (Naofumi)

Originally, I could attack enemies because of the Wrath shield. However, I can’t do it if I can’t summon the shield

(TLN: he can’t use it because his hate is being sucked by the dragon making him unable to summon the curse shield series)

『Be at ease, I will cooperate with you and release the attack. Hold your ground and endure it 』 (Gaelion)

“Yes yes, That is something that I always do”(Naofumi)

『I see that’s the case. Inside the shield、 resides the memories of the past events though it’s too much……I’m entrusting it to you』 (Gaelion)(TLN: this is how I understand this line.. if you have a better one please tell me

thnx :D そうだったな。盾の中で、汝の記憶とこれまでの出来事を追体験していた 我からしたら余計な事か……まかせたぞ)

Seriously, I can't shake this feeling off. I'm feeling a bit uneasy about this Gaelion joined the party to speed up the chanting

The Wrath Dragon released its attack. The attack power of each attack kept on increasing; it was definitely getting stronger

I'm starting to feel pain and numbness, It was a similar pain that I felt back then with the curse of Blutopfer. I can't hold out much longer. This will make me go crazy

However, I was able to push him back even though he's attacking me relentlessly

He bites with his full strength; He's attacking above me attempting to pin me down

I'm using meteor shield and shield prison each time he attacks, I also use air strike shield to avoid and stop his attacks

『The Cursed Earth that bring hatred but gives the thought of a clear stream washing all the grudges away. Dragon Pulse the power that comes from the desire to save the world. I wish for a miracle』 (Gaelion)

『 I Gaelion order the heavens, order the earth, and remove the laws and ties, in attempt to discharge the sea. My power, to feel once again the controlled power that's flowing within』 (Gaelion)

The shield translates it all so I understand what Gaelion was chanting. The shield was making a relentless noise; I displayed the translation within my sight. Does Sadina notice? I faced toward Gaelion

『 『Erase Aqua Splash ! 』 』

『 『Water Dragon Destruction Wave ! 』 』

The magic that the three of them chanted is finished, then magic power overflow around Gaelion

“Eh !?” (Melty)

Taniko's raising her voice and surprised Melty who's sitting down because of fatigue

Sadina with a harpoon on one hand started to run

Gaelion gathered the magic power and turned it into a ball

“Naofumi-chan and Rato-san, Support!”(Sadina)

“Ah!”(Naofumi)

“Tsuveit Aura” (Naofumi)

“Fast Power! Fast Magic!”(Rat)

I covered Magic support and Rat covered Physical Attack Speed

"Lets go!. Gaelion-chan"(Sadina)

"Gyauuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuu"

Gaelion cries out

Gaelion took a deep breath and blew the magic ball

Afterwards a huge amount of water gushed out from the ball, and then we attacked him

Sadina entered the gushing water, swam and raised a tornado.

These guys' attacks are a lot flashier than Raphtalia and Firo. Could it be possible that she is stronger than those two?

But if you think about it Sadina's status isn't really that high

Is this somehow because of the correction?

You can't say that it is strong just because it's flashy. . . . Its bothering me

If it's the old me, surely I would complain

It should be from a robot that transforms using electromagnetic waves to combine and then attacks the enemy with a fatal technique, Sadina runs through the Wrath Dragon while turning.

Gaelion took a hit and the mass of water disappeared at the same time

"H-how is that. . . ! ?"(Sadina)

Sadina lands beside the Wrath Dragon shoulder. Of course, I checked the Wrath Dragon's health

The dragon has a hole in his abdomen but still walked slowly towards even though he's stumbling and when he got near me he roared.

If felt like victory have smiled upon us

"G Y A O O O O O O O O O O O O O O ! "(Wrath Dragon)

"He has an amazing vitality. . . Onee-san don't overdo yourself"(Taniko)

『I underestimated the emotions of thou, I never expected that after they had been eaten by me, I would have have such specs』 (Gaelion)

All of the members have reached their limits

Is it only me and Rato the only ones that can move?

"Rato, Can you do something about this?"

""It's uh..... I only have a medicine that boosts defense at most."

"Give it to me"

"Alright. . . Alright"

Rato tossed the medicine into the bucket with hot water without any hesitation

It exploded with a bang, when it dissolved it created a strange smell; which smelled in various ways.

"It was quite expensive . . . but we have to do something before we die here"(Rato)

"Give it up. . . I'll lure him, let's retreat"(Naofumi)

It will end like this after all

“I will keep him here, you guys escape first I will follow you afterwards”
(Naofumi)

I don't like self-sacrifice. I mean, I don't want to do such a thing

Though I receive damage from it, it'll be fine as long as I can avoid it

We should escape first and kill it later. We should prepare when Raphtalia is already here

What about Firo? Is she okay? She can't die. . . She's too cute to die

. . . something's strange

I'm absolutely feeling strange somewhere

Do I always have this kind of character?

“. . . It's time.”

I heard footsteps and a voice that I'm familiar with

When I looked back somehow, Raphtalia and Atla riding Firo just arrived at the right time

“Raphtalia onee-chan. . . Please”(Firo)

“Leave it to me”(Raphtalia)

“Raphtalia-san please Naofumi-sama and the others”(Atla)

Are the preparations for combat done beforehand? Raphtalia's sword is shining brightly

As soon as the Wrath dragon saw Raphtalia, the dragon's mouth expanded and become frightened and turned away attempting to fly into the sky

Why is that? That composure that you're showing, are you not affected?

Raphtalia is scary

"I won't let you escape"(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia used Firo as a stepping stone, leaps and slash the Wrath Dragon

"G Y A ! "(Wrath Dragon)

I raised a big voice. Raphtalia slashed the dragon, it created a wind pressure and the dragon was cut in half. The 2 halves fell to the ground

"Father..... I'm sorry. I won't look back any more."(Taniko)

『.....』

I stared at Taniko's back who put both hands together and shed tears for Gaelion

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 183 – Strange

---

Raphtalia lands, and swings her sword to get the liquids off of it. She looks towards us.

“Hm?” (Naofumi)

Wow. When I look at Raphtalia’s face, I see sparkles for some reason. It’s a face I see every day, but somehow staring at it makes my heart race. She’s truly a beauty. She has a fluffy tail and ears, but her body is quite slender.

She doesn’t have most of the traits associated with Tanukis.

“Um…” (Naofumi)

I raise my voice to try and thank her, but speaking is difficult. Something’s strange. I could talk to her normally before, but now I can’t even look her in the eye.

“Amazing…” (Taniko)

“Raphtalia-chan. You’ve gotten really strong.” (Sadina)

“No, it was almost dead when it came into contact with my blade.”
(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia gestures towards the Wrath Dragon’s corpse.

“I believe that it was Raphtalia-san who saved you when the shield was going to control you, was it not, Naofumi-sama?” (Atlas)

“Yes, it was, but…” (Naofumi)

“It seems that Raphtalia-chan was the bane of this one throughout its existence.” (Sadina)

“Firo, are you alright?” (Melty)

“Yeah. I was in pain, but now I’m fine.” (Firo)

Firo, with Atlas on her back, goes off and embraces Melty.

“Raphtalia-san returned right after Naofumi-sama left. After explaining the situation, we quickly set out.” (Atlas)

“Firo seemed to be doing bad, so we intended to leave her, but she wouldn’t let us.” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia pat’s Firo’s head with a troubled expression.

I’m surprised they could get through these mountains in that short amount of time.

But Firo, without any carriage attached is unparalleled in speed.

“Firo was worried we wouldn’t make it.” (Firo)

“But it all worked out. Atlas-san, I am grateful to you as well.” (Raphtalia)

“All of this was for Naofumi-sama.” (Atlas)

Good. With this, the incident is resolved, I guess. I’ll have to talk to Gaelion later.

“KYUA?” (Gaelion)

Gaelion pounces on Taniko, and starts licking her face.

Did he return to normal? Or is he just acting?

“Gaelion, are you better?” (Taniko)

“KYUA!” (Gaelion)

"Give back the things you took from Firo!" (Firo)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

Gaelion and Firo are glaring at each other again. I shift my gaze to the Wrath Dragon.

"Your stats are probably over there." (Naofumi)

"Is that small dragon really Gaelion?" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah. He pushed himself too hard, and ended up small." (Taniko)

"Give me back my EXP!" (Firo)

Firo starts shouting at the Wrath Dragon Corpse.

She's an idiot, but she's cute.

But Raphtalia is better.

... Damn,

I've been holding hands with this girl and sleeping next to her.

"U-um..." (Naofumi)

I try to talk to Raphtalia without sounding suspicious.

And she returns a few words.

"Ah, Naofumi-sama...?" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia stares at me and tilts her head. She's too bright for me to look at. My heart is going to jump out of my chest.

"Um, you are Naofumi-sama, right?" (Raphtalia)

"Y-yeah." (Naofumi)

"But You're a little strange." (Raphtalia)

"What's strange?" (Naofumi)

"Your eyes are... strange. Also, the atmosphere around you is different."
(Raphtalia)

"Really?" (Naofumi)

This is a girl who's close to me. A girl who's travelled and fought next to me.
Alright, I'll use a cliché romantic line when we get back to the village.
...? What? I feel really bad for some reason.
I'm forgetting something.

No, Raphtalia has been working really hard as of late.
I should praise her for that first.

"You saved us. Thank you. We were in quite a bit of trouble. This is all thanks to Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama!?" (Raphtalia)

"If you'd oblige, perhaps we can talk a little later." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama, you're definitely acting weird. Your eyes are strange and you've never shown such a disgusting smile before. Your way of speaking has also completely changed. Did something happen to you while I was away?" (Raphtalia)

"Ah, Naofumi-sama has had various things sucked out of him by that corpse lying over there, and he became strange. He fought okay, but he's become somewhat creepy." (Melty)

Melty gives a strange explanation.

"Melty, were you a girl who said such rude things?" (Naofumi)

I pinch Melty's cheeks, and take on a smug attitude.

I always wanted to do something like this.

"Something's definitely wrong with this scene!" (Melty & Raphtalia)

Raphtalia and Melty both point and shout at me.

What are they on about?

"I'm concerned about my relationship with Melty from here on -" (Naofumi)

"Please shut up for a second!" (Melty)

I don't know why, but Melty backs off with a red face. Raphtalia and the others begin talking amongst themselves.

The beauties Raphtalia, Melty and Atlas are huddled together. What a perfect scene.

"What can we do to make Naofumi-sama turn back?" (Raphtalia)

"I'll follow Naofumi-sama no matter what." (Atlas)

"What are you saying. There's no way that creepy man over there is the Naofumi-sama we know." (Melty)

"The foundation is the same. This Naofumi-sama will be able to find happiness easier. Raphtalia-san, please accept this Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"Never!" (Raphtalia)

She plainly rejects Atlas's words, and looks over at Sadina and Rat.

Yeah, Raphtalia's beauty is a level above the others.

I think I will find happiness just looking at her.

But I feel... Strange for some reason. However, I feel really good today, so I'll let it slide.

“Can either of you revert Naofumi-sama?” (Raphtalia)

“This Onee-san has no idea.” (Sadina)

“How about chucking him into that decomposing mass of Dragon over there?” (Rat)

Both Rat and Sadina point at the Dragon corpse.

After hearing this, Raphtalia starts to approach me.

As I stare at her in admiration, she suddenly grasps both of my shoulders.

My heart skips a beat as I stare into her eyes.

And...

“W-wait! What are you people doing!?” (Naofumi)

Raphtalia and Melty, also Rat and Sadina all lift me up and throw me at the Dragon Corpse.

“I apologize, Naofumi-sama, but... Please return to normal.” (Raphtalia)

“If Naofumi-chan gets sucked into the dragon, then we’ll have a problem.

Raphtalia-chan, good luck.” (Sadina)

“Eh!?” (Everyone)

Think before you throw!

What are these girls trying to accomplish? They keep calling me creepy.

How rude!

“Master, what are you doing? Let Firo join.” (Firo)

And Firo nestles next to me in the dead dragon.

At that moment.

“Raphtalia! You are my…!” (Naofumi)

With a loud sound, the shield starts sucking something in.
At the same time, something appears to be flowing into Firo.

…Was I forgetting something?

That was something that I should never have forgotten. My grudge towards Witch and the people of this world.

And if I made a wrong turn at the beginning, would I have turned out that creepy?

Blood rushes to my head. Why did I try to hit on the diligent Raphtalia?
I even looked at Melty and Atlas with lecherous Eyes. Am I supposed to be Motoyasu!?

“Fumu… I’ve caused you some trouble.” (Naofumi)

Dammit. I still have my memories of a few moments ago.
Just thinking about it makes me angry.
I was acting like a dog in heat.
But at the end, what was I trying to say?

… I forgot.

It’s a thing of the past.

Anyways, it seems that being angry has become my default personality.

… At least it’s better than that previous state.
I think I should stop thinking about it.

"Ah, your eyes are back to normal." (Raphtalia)

"Naofumi-chan is more likeable when he's irritated." (Sadina)

"Ha? What are you trying to say?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, this Naofumi is the best one." (Melty)

It seems everyone can distinguish that my personality is back.

"Raphtalia, you were a big help. We'll be returning to the village from now, but what will you do?" (Naofumi)

"I'll accompany you to the village, but I still have training after that."
(Raphtalia)

"I see. I apologize for interrupting your training." (Naofumi)

"No, it was an emergency, so there's no helping it." (Raphtalia)

I turn my gaze back to Gaelion.

"KYUA? (Gaelion)

"Explain yourself." (Naofumi)

I think that he was speaking before.

Though he was only whispering to me.

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

He jumps at me and starts fooling around.

I stare at him with serious eyes, but his behavior doesn't change.

Has he completely returned to normal?

"Ah! Firo is the one who will play with master!" (Firo)

"You're making too much of a fuss! We're returning now. By the Way, Firo.

How is your condition?" (Naofumi)

"My body is better, but... I didn't get everything back from Gaelion." (Firo)

I look at her status.

Firo's level is... 41. It's dropped quite a bit.

And in contrast, even after separating from the Wrath Dragon, Gaelion's level is 60.

Their levels have pretty much flipped.

"Give them back!" (Firo)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

And the two glare at each other again.

"KYUA! KYUA KYUA!" (Gaelion)

"Gaelion is saying, 'I don't know anything about that, but the Hero of the Shield's favorite is Gaelion.'" (Taniko)

"Mu...!" (Firo)

Gaelion got a preemptive strike. He used his short tail to whip Firo's cheek. He laughs.

"Give them Back Give them Back Give them Back!" (Firo) (TL: Ora Ora Ora)

"KYUA KYUA KYUA!" (Gaelion) (TL: Muda Muda Muda)

The two are now exchanging blows.

Even though Gaelion was the cause of all of this, he doesn't seem to be repenting. He's even going as far as to feign ignorance.

That's one of my least favorite actions. I guess I should have him make reparations now.

“Okay, now then Gaelion. Please return it to Firo. If you become Firo’s dinner, perhaps she will get some of it back.” (Naofumi)

I quickly grab Gaelion, and move him towards Firo’s mouth.

“KYUAAAAA…!?” (Gaelion)

“NOOOOO!” (Taniko)

Taniko prevents it.

“Mu…! Master, what were you trying to feed me!?” (Firo)

“You’re a glutton, aren’t you? Dragon meat might bring you good luck.”
(Naofumi)

“I don’t want to eat dragon anymore!” (Firo)

Ah, so she’s developed a hatred of the Dragon meat that caused this.
I hope she keeps a balanced diet.

“Don’t be such a picky eater.” (Naofumi)

“No!” (Firo)

“Naofumi-sama… Please don’t give Firo any strange eating habits.”
(Raphtalia)

“It’s a sort of punishment. Firo needs to get over her fears as well.”
(Naofumi)

(TL: This is one of the rare times I need to ask for translation help. フィーロは恐怖の代名詞にするくらい受け入れるさ I know my translation here is wrong.)

“No!” (Firo)

“Stop doing strange things to Firo!” (Melty)

This time, Melty steps up to defend Firo.

And she starts glaring at Taniko.

“That child was the cause of this turmoil. Please dispose of him.” (Melty)

“He’s already better!” (Taniko)

Whatever. This is becoming a pain.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 184 – Purification

---

“For the time being, we’re heading home!” (Naofumi)

“Just like I thought, being by Naofumi-chan’s side is definitely interesting.”
(Sadina)

“Sadina stop laughing and use some purification magic already!” (Naofumi)

Since being recovered this late hurts you know!

Be considerate of at least that much.

“It can’t be helped.” (Sadina)

And so, Sadina uses holy water and casts magic on me. If anything, it seems like a special magic, but the fact that it’s effective at all on this curse is pretty amazing.

“Ah, Naofumi-chan. Would you give me a magic potion? Big-sis will run out of magic.” (Sadina)

“So what. We don’t plan to fight anymore.” (Naofumi)

“Ahh, it’s really troubling for me though. Please!” (Sadina)

She goes on and on but I ignore her and walk away.

“Firo, we’re going home.” (Naofumi)

“Kay.” (Firo)

“Kyua!” (Gaelion)

Once again Gaelion hangs around by my feet.

“It’s hard to walk. Move!” (Naofumi)

“Kyuaaaa!” (Gaelion)

Suddenly, Gaelion starts shining, and returns to his form from when he ate the rotten dragon’s core.

A little bit bigger than before actually, probably around 40 meters.

And then, he starts flying with me on his back, Taniko, Sadina, and Rato on his tail and in his hands.

“Ah, AHHHH-!” (Firo)

Firo lets out a regretful sounding voice.

“Naofumi-sama?!” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia was taken aback. Even I have no words for this!

Gaelion was able to transform?

“Kyuaa.” (Gaelion)

Gaelion placed the everyone he was holding in his hands onto his back and provokes Firo.

“Mu?!” (Firo)

“Kyuaa.” (Gaelion)

He begins to fly in descent off the mountain.

“Raphtalia-sis! Hurry up! Master should only ride on my back!” (Firo)

Firo, as if refusing to be defeated, takes off running.

Even though she has no cart, she probably can't catch up.

Although Gaelion is my slave, even when I order him to let us down, he won't listen.

I can't activate the slave crest either, else we would fall.

“Jeez. This child is too pushy, huh.” (Rato)

“Rato, did you know that dragons had this type of ability?” (Naofumi)

“I've seen it often in my research, but I don't know if the possible variations are to the same extent of the Fiolials. Kids around the Count seems to always grow in interesting ways.” (Rato)

“That's not the problem...” (Naofumi)

From the sky I look down. I noticed that the polluted ground's color was disappearing.

"Did the count notice too? I wanted to see what effect the rampaging Gaelion had on the vicinity, but I guess this is the result huh?" (Rato)

I see. With this the land also returns to its peaceful state.

I wonder if I could use Portal Shield.

I guess I'll test it out and see.

"Portal Shield!" (Naofumi)

Alright. As far as I can see, it looks like I can use it. Just to be careful, I should fly in and check the situation of the land here.

Are we out of Raphtalia and everyone's range? I'll need to think about how to fly in here later.

"Ah... Naofumi-chan. I'm begging you, would you give me a magic potion?"
(Sadina)

"Why should I?" (Naofumi)

I turn back and Rato, Taniko, and I are all at a loss for words.

"Please?" (Sadina)

Sadina... was pleading, no longer as a giant, but in the form of a human.

Huh?

"Who are you?" (Naofumi)

"That's why I was asking for a magic potion, else I can't keep up my appearance. Even alcohol will do." (Sadina)

She has long black hair, and skin and face that would rival even Raphtalia.

A beautiful traditional Japanese-style woman is here.

It really was a surprise to have been asked a favor by someone who looks like her.

"It can't be helped, huh." (Naofumi)

I throw her a potion.

"If I thought about it, I should have realized something when Gaelion brought you too." (Naofumi)

There's no way he could have flown with a four-meter giant on his back.

"Don't drink it here. We'll crash." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-chan you're not surprised?" (Sadina)

"I am." (Naofumi)

"Don't shed too many tears for me." (Sadina)

"Who would." (Naofumia)

"Did the Ruka people have that sort of ability?" (Rato)

"I'm not Ruka though." (Sadina)

Sadina answers Rato's question.

"Are you something else?" (Rato)

Now that think about it, these two are close in age so their characters look to be clashing.

Well, Sadina looks to be a little older though.

Whatever.

"I'm from the Sakamata race. Ruka is close, but they're different." (Sadina)

"How are the different?" (Rato)

"Can't you tell by looking?" (Sadina)

Well, if they're able to transform, they're probably another race entirely.

"Not at all. It looks like you're able to transform with magic in some way. I mean, there's a living example right in front of me." (Rato)

“Well, it’s too bad that you aren’t able to tell the difference. That’s all you get, I don’t have much of a migratory diet.” (Sadina)

“No clue.” (Naofumi)

By the way, I’ve read that Orcas are split into three types back in my own world. It feels just like I had seen it, but I think I remember something about their genes differing as little as between an average dog and a wolf. [\[1\]](#)[\[2\]](#)

“Kyua!” (Gaelion)

“Gaelion grow up to be handsome… Become a fine dragon like my Father.” (Taniko)

“Kyua!” (Gaelion)

“I know that Father of yours is feigning innocence.” (Naofumi)

“What are you talking about? Father…is dead.” (Taniko)

Taniko interrupts me and refuses to believe anything I had to say.

By the way, before flying towards our village, I landed by the east village.

It seemed like everyone at the east village was happy about how the mountain became pretty again.

As expected of the Shield Hero! Saying stuff like that but, you couldn’t fool me.

To be blunt, from what Taniko and Gaelion said, I imagine they got what they deserved.

My inner evaluation of the east village's people dropped quite a bit.

They can just go to hell.

"Master can only ride on my back!" (Firo)

"Kyuaaa." (Gaelion)

Once we returned to the village, Firo and Gaelion's bout continued.

By the way, Gaelion mode-changed again and is in his small form.

"Yes, yes. That's far enough." (Naofumi)

"No it's not!" (Firo)

Firo's still fixated on that.

"Ha... For now, I'll play with you from today onwards Firo, so don't worry about it." (Naofumi)

"Yaaay! But master.." (Firo)

"If you dwell on it any more, I won't play with you." (Naofumi)

"No!" (Firo)

"Kyua.." (Gaelion)

"You're the one who caused the problem, so you'll be disciplined for a while. If you have time, I'll let you play with Firo, so be obedient." (Naofumi)

Gaelion tots over to Taniko to cry.

"Kyuaaaaa." (Gaelion)

"Even though you're covering for that bird, why do you pink on Gaelion."
(Taniko)

"You don't understand? It's punishment." (Naofumi)

"U..." (Taniko)

The crying Gaelion glances over to me.

It's as if a child is fake crying to its parent to get what it wants.

"No way." (Naofumi)

"Kyuaaaa..." (Gaelion)

"Yaaa-y! Serves you right!" (Firo)

"Firo." (Naofumi)

After warning Firo, she turns her glance away and starts singing.

I swear, she's still a child. I wonder if she aware of the trouble she caused.

"Then I'll be going back." (Raphtalia)

"Ah, you saved us." (Naofumi)

"No problem. If anything, my apologies for being late." (Raphtalia)

"It couldn't be helped. I couldn't even imagine a situation like that."
(Naofumi)

With that, I express my thanks to Raphtalia, and see her off.

“About how much longer is it looking?” (Naofumi)

“For the basic training to finish… it looks like it’ll take a little longer. Rishia also looks like she’s growing pretty well.” (Raphtalia)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

That Rishia that the Old Hag took a liking too, huh?

In my head, Rishia turns into a muscle freak.

“What Naofumi-sama is thinking is probably wrong, you know.” (Raphtalia)

“You understand me well.” (Naofumi)

“Well, we’ve been together for a long while.” (Raphtalia)

It’s that thing where we understand each other by breathing the same air, huh.

“I see. Then I’ll keep something like this from ever happening again. Next time report to me where you’re training at.” (Naofumi)

“I understand.” (Raphtalia)

“Your level… hasn’t really risen much.” (Naofumi)

Her training doesn’t seem like it’s just fighting fierce monsters.

Is there some sort of standard for survival when training in the mountains?

Now that I think about it, I need the Old Hag to teach me too.

“Ah…If there is time, it seems like Naofumi-sama’s training will begin after ours ends.” (Raphtalia)

“Somehow I feel commonplace.” (Naofumi)

“Naofumi-sama is the type to learn though actual fighting experience, so she was saying something about your qualities already showing result.”
(Raphtalia)

“What?” (Naofumi)

“Not offence, but you can can’t afford a haphazard defense. Not a counter move either, but if you remember the basis for parrying, it’ll be enough to apply it later…I don’t really understand though.” (Raphtalia)

“I don’t really get it either.” (Naofumi)

Well, I heard that I should remember the technique to draw out the destructive power within…

Thinking back, in exchange for not being able to see, Atlas could see the flow of ki.

If I ask her, it she’d probably be my practice partner.

I’ll go and ask after all this is done.

After finishing our talk, Raphtalia left the village, albeit a little reluctantly.

I shall look forward to her return once her training is over.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 185 – Nickname

---

“Now that I actually think about it, doing this was for the best, right?”

(Naofumi)

--That night--

I informed Atlas, who was lying in Raphtalia’s bed like it was natural, and the drunk Sadina that I invited Firo to bed.

“Hehe- Master is petting me!” (Firo)

Says human-form Firo in a good mood, while clinging to me.

“You understand, right Firo?” (Naofumi)

“Yup. If Atlas-chan tries to get into Master’s bed, I drive her out.” (Firo)

“That’s right. If you mess up, I’m driving you out too.” (Naofumi)

“Ok. Got it!” (Firo)

If I’m going to pair up with someone weirdly, it’s best if I only give one side favorable treatment.

After all, Firo went through a lot. I probably should comfort her at least a little.

I need to raise her level that dropped down to 41 back up, so she, herself, needs to be motivated.

"Ah, Naofumi-sama. Why are you giving me such a trial?" (Atlas)

Says Atlas in a vexing tone.

Do you really want to sleep with me that much? I feel sick.

"Firo-chan gets to sleep with Naofumi-sama. I'm...very envious."(Atlas)

"Sleep with...You're too much." (Naofumi)

I'm not Motoyasu you know.

If that guy knew that Firo was in this situation, he'd surely exhibit some criminal-like behavior.

In the end that worthless guy, didn't even show up when Firo had a crisis.

Next time he appears, I'll have him listen to more of my complaints.

As I gently brush Firo, who's leaning on me while in a good mood, knocking is heard from the door.

"What is it?" (Naofumi)

"Please excuse me, Shield Hero."

Then as if it was the natural thing to do, Gaelion opened the door and came in.

I was surprised to see Rato accompanying behind him.

Taniko isn't with them? What happened?

"Hey. Your kid isn't here." (Naofumi)

I don't know if she's his actual child, or adopted, but the all-important Taniko isn't here.

"I came after confirming she was asleep." (Gaelion)

"I was doing research in my lab when I was suddenly invited. I was told to hear him out with the Count...I was surprised." (Rato)

Seems like it.

It looks like Gaelion just suddenly started using human words in front of her to call her over.

"You were Sadina, right? When I saw your transformation I was honestly surprised." (Gaelion)

"Well, you're in more shock than this young lady, aren't you." (Sadina)

Afterwards, Atlas gives her own response.

"Atlas can you understand what I'm saying?" (Gaelion)

"Yes. I always understood. Inside of Gaelion-chan was someone else."
(Atlas)

"I see. Why didn't you say anything?" (Naofumi)

"At first I didn't realize it but, since the ominous spirit left Gaelion, there was another instance where his conviction changed." (Atlas)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

This isn't a time where you should keep something like that to yourself.

"As if in hiding, you were dormant within Gaelion-chan, so there was no need to call you out." (Atlas)

"Fumu... as expected of the Hakuko, to see through my situation." (Gaelion)

"Muu..." (Firo)

Firo glares at Gaelion.

"The next Firolial Queen is it? It's because you ate my core that you turned out like this. Fool." (Gaelion)

"Return my experience!" (Firo)

"Fumu...It can't be helped. Is what I'd like to say, but it's mixed in with mine, so you have to be patient. (Gaelion)

Just when I was thinking about what Gaelion will do, he inhales deeply.

He spits out a large mass that looked something like a candy ball.

"If you lick that, a little of your experience will return. So be silent."
(Gaelion)

"Bu..." (Firo)

Firo protests while staring at the spit out mass in her hands.

I guess there aren't many ways for her to get her experience back.

"So, what is this you wanted to talk to me about? Were you doing some performance for us earlier?" (Naofumi)

"There's a lot to talk about. The owner of this body, for one, is the Gaelion you know. One day, when he reaches adulthood, our minds will fuse."
(Gaelion)

"Against your will?" (Naofumi)

"Most likely. The owner of this body also wants it to happen. Ever since you've warmed this egg up yourself, Shield Hero." (Gaelion)

"I see." (Naofumi)

Thinking about it, I might have seen a weird dream last night. I can't really recall it, but it was probably this guy's voice.

"In the first place, even though our minds have been fusing little by little, the moment when we ate the core, your rage occupied both of ours and wreaked havoc." (Gaelion)

"Then the reason why he flew in that direction was..." (Naofumi)

"According to my memory, he would have flew further. Over there the polluted land's energy was being absorbed, else he would have stored up enough power to wreak havoc at who you wanted to kill the most."
(Gaelion)

"Who I wanted to kill?" (Naofumi)

“The person you hated more than anything… if I say it like that is it easier to understand?” (Gaelion)

So it’s like that, huh.

He was planning to raise hell after finding Bitch and Scum.

Though indirectly, my rage would have brought upon the downfall of the country.

It was a really bad situation in a lot of ways.

“Thus, I can keep this appearance, but not for too long. That’s why I’ll explain it to you simply.” (Gaelion)

Hmm… To summarize, Gaelion can hold a deeper conscious for short periods of time, contrast to the child-like Gaelion. He made the judgment that now was a better time to talk than ever.

“Wait a second. Are dead dragons even capable of passing on their consciousness?” (Naofumi)

“Just a part. Our kind are sort of like immortal beings.” (Gaelion)

“Immortal… A pure-bred dragon!? The kind that marks territory around mountain recesses?” (Rato)

Rato, as if she saw something horrible, asks Gaelion. She really hates dragons, huh.

"How should I put this, I am that pure-bred." (Gaelion)

"What are the chances... Shouldn't the Sword Hero have killed you?" (Rato)

That would make him around level 40 when he lost.

Even so, that Gaelion shouldn't have been able to find a way to get stronger mid-battle.

Which means, originally Gaelion was pretty weak.

"It can't be helped. I am the weakest fragment left of the Dragon Emperor."
(Gaelion)

"What?" (Naofumi)

Dragon Emperor...the weakest of the four heavenly kings.

It's a famous phrase that I tend to remember.

I don't think anyone would listen to what I'm saying but...

For the weakest dragon to be boasting is pretty lame.

"Fragment of the Dragon Emperor?" (Naofumi)

"It looks like you don't know about the ecology of dragons. Let me explain from there. Wait, maybe it would just be faster to ask that shrine maiden over there?" (Gaelion)

Murmurs Gaelion while pointing at Sadina.

"Shrine Maiden?" (Naofumi)

"As far as I can tell, it's someone who's received divine protection from the Dragon Emperor. Correct?" (Rato)

"Yuuuu-p. I'm a Shrine Maiden. That's why I'm able to use Dragon Pulse~"
(Sadina)

Answers Sadina while playing with her hands, all curled up. It doesn't feel like she's motivated at all.

"That's also something that I've heard. A long time ago, the Firolial Queen had forced the Dragon Emperor to scatter." (Rato)

"I see...." (Naofumi)

So it's basically an already extinct being then.

It seems like it was because they were on bad relations with the Firolial back then.

"But speaking of the dragon's existence, in the first place, they were the only pure-bred existence on earth, everything else originated from a hybrid or cross-breed. Dragon Emperor was more of a label that us pure-bred dragons used for ourselves. Since we were able to breed with any living thing, our offspring increased. And then once extinction came, we sought whatever way we could to survive." (Gaelion)

"What a stubborn being. Like a cockroach." (Naofumi)

"That is why you didn't die while all scattered about. It could be that Gaelion-chan is the successor of a part of that Dragon Emperor from the past." (Rato)

"Fumu...For the most part, you're correct. It's because I've confirmed personally how weak I am that, to not get snatched away by the remainders of the Emperor, I lived near humans." (Gaelion)

Since he was discluded from his allies from being too weak, he was in always hibernating like a bear. The more I hear about it, the more pitiful I think this dragon is.

After talking like he was all that, now this? It's the worst.

"What I say from now is pretty important. The pure-bred fought among themselves, and the winner had power to control its fragments. Like that, they gathered for several hundred years in hopes for revival." (Sadina)

"Come to think of it...I've heard often about the hero of legend who defeated the revived Dragon Emperor." (Naofumi)

"...The battle of the struggling fragments turned into a death match of the same race. It came to a point where the next generation would lose its ability to breed." (Sadina)

"If you don't want to be aimed at, isn't it ok to just hand over the fragment?" (Naofumi)

"It's because I can't do that, that I ran away. As expected no other Dragon Fragments would do anything reckless like settling near humans. If the fragments gathered, they'd just be torn apart again." (Gaelion) *?

Pitiful.

Hasn't the Dragon Emperor itself already lost.

"That's all the information I've got." (Sadina)

"So then, let me supplement. I am but a single fragment of that Dragon Emperor, that's why I can exist right now. Originally, I was going to look for a different retainer, but in that situation I didn't have control over my common sense." (Gaelion)

Basically what everyone's trying to say is, Gaelion living on nothing but matters of the previous era.

That's why the remaining Dragon Fragments didn't realize it.

So, that Fragment's magical power reorganized into the flesh of the Zombie Dragon that Firo and I were defeated by, even though it should have been sealed.

As a result, the fragment my shield absorbed transferred over to the egg. A perfect revival with all fragments gathered...is what should have happened if the rage sleeping in my shield didn't take over.

How pitiful.

I should look down on this guy.

“Well, I am fine. Good job saving Windia. You have my thanks for her growing up into a fine girl.” (Gaelion)

“Windia?” (Naofumi)

For the most part, I didn’t have enough evidence to pick out someone.

“Mu? You surely aren’t planning to tell me you were planning to raise her without even knowing her name?” (Gaelion)

“It’s that Monster-loving idiot slave, right? So she had a name like that.” (Naofumi)

“Hold on, could it be that you don’t know the names of the children in our village, Count?” (Rato)

“There are ones I know, but a lot I don’t.” (Naofumi)

I can only remember Atlas… Kiel and Foulou thanks to Raphtalia.

Aside from those, I’m pretty unclear. I can find some way around using their names, anyways.

Now that I mention it, there are a lot of guys I don’t know.

Even the Woman Knight I talk to a lot… I don’t know her name either.

“Count, What do you usually call Windia?” (Rato)

“Probably just Taniko” (Naofumi)

"Why!?" (Rato)

"A great nickname isn't it? Or would fatty be better? OR-MAY-BE Mistress?"
(Sadina)

Sadina asks me in a really irritating pose.

If she turned into her human form, this would turn into a brawl.

"I remember people calling her name out, and other people calling out to her. But I've never called her by her name myself." (Naofumi)

"Ah...That's true, isn't it. Most of the time you usually just refer to people with "You" or "Over there"." (Rato)

"Hey Naofumi-chan, have you ever called anyone by name? Tell me."
(Sadina)

"Head chef, Imia's Uncle, Old Hag, and there are many others." (Naofumi)

"Wow... this is pretty serious. Naofumi-chan isn't fussing over it so it's fine, but you shouldn't call people by those names." (Sadina)

"Isn't Old Hag fine?" (Naofumi)

"I don't know who you're talking about." (Sadina)

"Battle Advisor."(Naofumi)

"Oh... she's definitely an Old Lady." (Sadina)

"Naofumi-sama, what do you call my brother and I?" (Atlas)

"Atlas is Atlas. I've started calling Foulu, Alps." (Naofumi)

"Like I was saying before, why!? I don't understand your naming scheme, Count." (Rato)

"That's certainly true." (Sadina)

I'm just basing it from anime in my world. If you want reasoning go ask another hero.

Even so, there's no way of telling if the other heroes had seen the same anime.

"What about Firo?" (Firo)

"Do you want to hear?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah..." (Firo)

"By the way Gaelion, you're Ping Pong Dash." (Naofumi)

"It's longer than my real name! I don't understand its origin." (Gaelion)

Ping Pong Dash protests while amazed.

I wonder which Ping Pong Dash was the one who actually Ping Pong Dashed.

Hmm, this name is hard to use.

"Well that's all well and good. I'll ask once but, that kid is your child?"
(Naofumi)

"That would be correct." (Gaelion)

“Then you kidnapped her with the intentions of violating her, huh? You’re deplorable.” (Naofumi)

It’s not strange that Taniko is in blind acceptance of Dragons. Since she was young she was intended to marry into Dragon nobility. Even if Gaelion didn’t feel like it, he could still have his way.

This type has his own intentions, and will stick it out until the end to fulfill his desires.

“How dare you speak like that! I’ll kill you! Since Windia was small-!”
(Gaelion)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 186 – Dragon's Anger

---

Apparently, a group of Demi-Human Merchants were attacked while passing through Gaelion's mountain range.

Of course, Gaelion was not going to let the culprits go Scot free.

But before he could do anything, a female Demi-Human came running to his cave with a baby in her hands. She collapsed at the entrance.

"Fumu, what are you doing in front of my cave. Depending on your answer..." (Gaelion)

The woman's vision was getting hazy. She could not see who she was addressing, but still she smiled and held the baby up with the last of her strength.

"Thank god. There was someone here... we were attacked in these mountains, and I somehow made it here... I beg of you, please, at the very least, save this child..." (Female Demi-Human)

"Nu..." (Gaelion)

"This is a harsh country for Demi-Humans. I understand that I am asking for a lot, but... I beg of you."

And with shaking hands, the woman tries to hand the child over. Her eyesight is slowly leaving her.

She doesn't realize that the one she is talking to isn't even human.

"... I understand. I shall care for thy child with my life." (Gaelion)

Gaelion listens to the woman's last wish. He picks up the child in his massive claws.

"Thank... You. That child's name is... Wyn... Dia..."

After saying this, the woman stops moving.

The only thing sustaining her lifeforce was her desire to protect the baby.

"Fuhihi... So she ran all the way to this place." (Bandit)

The bandits that had attacked her earlier arrived.

They were fools who simply gave chase without seeing where they were going.

There was supposed to be a famous story circulating in this region.

One of an Evil Dragon that made its home on these lands.

"A promise is a promise. I guess I have no choice." (Gaelion)

"He? Wha-!?" (Bandit)

Before the Bandits can say any more, Gaelion releases a Breath Attack.

And the thieves are immediately reduced to rotting ashes.

"Now then. Protecting my land takes most of my effort... What should I do with this?" (Gaelion)

Like this, Gaelion started raising the baby.

With the help of the other monsters inhabiting the area, he looked after Wyndea, while protecting his land. (TL: There is a side note that these monsters are Gaelion's lovers)

And because of that, Wyndea... This is a pain. Taniko learned to treat monsters as family.

It appears that Gaelion had many children.

And having a Demi-Human among them didn't hurt.

The story after that went into Gaelion's child-care journal, so I'll omit that.

Anyways, Gaelion awkwardly brought up Taniko.

He learned to treat her with love, but a dragon raising a Demi-Human is still difficult.

Melromark had always had a tradition of Human Absolutism, and Gaelion somehow wanted to give Taniko human happiness.

But because of that...

-

On that Day, Gaelion left Taniko in the care of the other monsters, and went on a walk.

"The Dragon plaguing this land is you, right!?" (Ren)

A person wielding what appeared to be a magic sword, and his companions, appeared.

Occasionally, some humans attack Gaelion's lair in search of his treasure. Though he understood human language, there was no real reason for Gaelion to converse with these thieves.

"GYA000000000!" (Gaelion)

With the cry of a beast, Gaelion attacks these humans.

But his opponents were too strong.

The Humans had somehow obtained an anti-dragon sword, and every hit from it put Gaelion in great pain.

Gaelion realized it.

That this was one of the summoned humans. The Hero of the Sword.

The fight itself took around 30 minutes.

The sword's properties put Gaelion at a disadvantage, so he wanted to retreat.

But in his cave was Taniko, and the monsters caring for her.

If he ran here...

The monsters would probably be fine. They were inhabitants of this mountain, and had the ability to run.

But Taniko was different.

If this cowardly fragment of the Dragon Emperor were to run here, then she would probably confront the Hero... and perish.

He thought back to what his crime was. It was his very existence.

Just by protecting his territory, he attracted greedy humans vying for his treasure.

Gaelion felt great resentment.

In the last moments of his life... Gaelion stared at the Hero of the Sword's face.

Those weren't the eyes of one who was prepared to die fighting.

He was killing him as if it were simply a job.

While Gaelion was fighting with his life on the line, this man was simply doing a job.

The irrationality made him think he was going insane.

Taniko's troubled, crying face.

Taniko's slightly lonely face when he went out.

Taniko's happy face when he returned home.

He could no longer see any of them.

The Dragon Emperor fragments are immortal.

But when will he revive? There's no guarantee he will ever see Taniko again.

If someone were to extract his core and use it, then revival would be impossible.

And with those thoughts of anger and despair, Gaelion died.

Luckily, his core was not taken.

From within the core of his lifeless body, he quietly waited for his resurrection.

He waited, and waited. Even when his body started to rot.

Gaelion wished. If only someone came by to help take on his soul.

But that wish never came true. His friends at the cave had probably been exterminated by now.

Eventually, he stopped thinking entirely, and his core's instincts took over.

He could no longer hear rhyme or reason.

His body began moving against his will.

Gaelion could no longer perceive the outside world or speak.

And all that surrounded him was tainted earth.

Taniko and the others were most likely dead.

When he finally regained his senses, he witnessed a Filo Rial eating his core.
It was the end.

-He no longer cared for reputation or pride.

Just one hit was enough. He just wanted to give that Sword Hero some form of retribution.

"But the one I found was the hero of the Shield. I watched and waited for my opportunity from inside your shield." (Gaelion)

"And I conveniently obtained a Dragon's egg, so you tried to shift your conscious to it?" (Naofumi)

"Pretty much. But I never expected to find Wyndea alive here. My luck was good." (Gaelion)

Gaelion turns to Firo.

It was a long story, so Atlas is sound asleep.

If someone tells a story while you're lying down, you will tend to fall asleep.

"As expected of a Filo Rial's body. You were able to contain my power and keep control of your body. You're quite a troublesome one, you know."

(Gaelion)

"Hmph-!" (Firo)

Firo shows open hostility towards Gaelion.

"And? How did Taniko get to this village? I just bought her from the Slave Dealer, so I have no idea." (Naofumi)

"I can guess. After the Hero of the Sword killed me, the villagers probably came to my cave for my treasure. They slaughtered all the monsters there and sold Wyndea along with the eggs there. She does have a good face.”

(Gaelion)

Ah, Dragon eggs are quite valuable, so they were probably sold off.
I was suspicious of how the villagers in the area were so wealthy.
They were pretty much getting their just deserts.

But that’s just from a dragon’s point of view.
Honestly, humanity is a race that only sees things one-sidedly, and commits crimes without remorse based on this arbitrary judgment.
I learned that myself here.
Monster hunting can be considered merciless slaughter from the monster’s point of view.

“You won’t get my sympathy.” (Naofumi)

“I know. How long do you think I hath inhabited thy shield? This world is based on Survival of the Fittest, and I think I’m resigning. I can’t forgive the one who killed me without any thought and left my body to rot, but I’ve already delivered retribution on many souls.” (Gaelion)

There were many casualties at the plagued village.
I guess that was his retribution.

“I was simply waiting for mine own revival. And now I hath been given a body here.” (Gaelion)

“Yes, yes. If you don’t intend to serve me, then you can take Taniko and leave. Otherwise, I don’t mind forgiving you for the trouble you caused us.”
(Naofumi)

“I never said I didn’t wish to serve thee. This body’s owner seems to have taken a liking to thee.” (Gaelion)

“Master is Firo’s!” (Firo)

“Quiet, future Queen! He who wins out is the winner! This time, I shalt obtain this hero’s favor, is what this body’s owner says.” (Gaelion)

“Mu…!” (Firo)

“My Favor…” (Naofumi)

My pets appear to be fighting over me.

If they get to be too much of a pain, should I kick them out?

But Firo is currently here as an Atlas countermeasure, so I can’t really kick her out.

“So, in the end, what do you want to do?” (Naofumi)

“I wish to gather the Fragments and obtain the strength of the true Dragon Emperor.” (Gaelion)

“Rejected. That sounds troublesome. Do that by yourself. I have no obligation to do that.” (Naofumi)

“Wa, you rejected him quite bluntly, Naofumi-chan.” (Sadina)

“The Count’s decision making ability is amazing. He can say that even when he’s offering you so much information about Dragons.” (Rat)

“Information? Think you can write a paper on it?” (Naofumi)

“I don’t think anyone will believe it. We can’t really write this guy up as a credible source.” (Rat)

Gaelion finally recovers from my sudden rejection. He starts speaking.

“Can you not at least hear me out?” (Gaelion)

“Rejected.” (Naofumi)

“Then I’ll just talk, and you can choose whether or not to listen. I wish to become strong. My vessel also wishes for this. We'll probably get much stronger than I was in life." (Gaelion)

"Then isn't that fine? Why must you search for the Dragon Emperor Fragments?" (Naofumi)

"The waves of calamity are causing the fragments to gather." (Gaelion)

"Hmm... As summoned enemies?" (Naofumi)

"No, as the world's..." (Gaelion)

"What's wrong?" (Naofumi)

"This is all the information I have on the fragments. All I know is that they are gathering to prepare for a large event." (Gaelion)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"If I win fights against those other fragments, then I can gain more and more of the Emperor's power. And here I swear, that I will use that power for your sake." (Gaelion)

"Of course you will. If you weren't going to lend me your power, I wouldn't let you get power in the first place." (Naofumi)

"Mu... Just listen to me. If you assist me in becoming stronger, then I shall grant upon you the knowledge of the Dragon Emperor." (Gaelion)

"I don't really need the knowledge of the people you beat..." (Naofumi)

I don't think this deal seems very credible.

"Even if it's forgotten knowledge on how to break the Lv 100 cap?"
(Gaelion)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 187 – Release

---

“Wouldn’t the ability to break through the level 100 cap be of appeal to you?” (Gaelion)

Damn... I really hate it when people tempt me like this.

Even so, this guy... made such an uproar just a few hours ago, and is asking me to lend him help.

If the situation had gotten any worse, I, along with the three other heroes would have just been killed off and re-summoned. That’s what this world’s people are like.

In the first place, with what previously was my most combat capable party member, Firo, halved in level, do you really think I’d take you on?

My concessions are at stake here, so I’m listening.

If this is just a promise to make up for what he did, I’ll drive him out and dispose of him properly.

If anything, I want him to actually act like he understands.

Honestly, it’s true that the conditions for exchange he’s speaking are exactly what I want.

But, my instincts are telling me to refuse.

In the first place, he’s still not reflecting on the time he fought with Firo at all.

It's that habit, the one where you make up whatever reason to get what you want. Have the Dragon Emperor's fragments not had proper manners from the very beginning?

"You know, why have you just been treating me however you please? Do you really understand?" (Naofumi)

".....Ahh." (Gaelion)

As expected of the Dragon Emperor, quick to understand.

Well, maybe it's because of how his feelings were synchronized with mine for a little while.

"I'm sorry. If you can overlook what happened, I'll help you as much as I can." (Gaelion)

"Alright. Let's hear what you have to say." (Naofumi)

Jeez, you should have just said that from the start.

"Huh? Count, is that all you wanted him to say?" (Rat)

"Naofumi-chan, you just wanted to be apologized to, huh." (Sadina)

"Shut up." (Naofumi)

Ignoring Rat and Sadina, I look over at Gaelion.

"I can inform you about the truth behind the wave, the reality behind the legend, and all other knowledge accumulated by the Dragon Emperor."

(Gaelion)

"If that's all you've got, I could just ask the Firolial Queen." (Naofumi)

"The Firolial Queen, you say? Why don't you take a look at the next Queen herself." (Gaelion)

"Ah..." (Naofumi)

I take a look at Firo, and it looks like she's playing with her ahoge.

What is she doing?

Well, Firo's an idiot after all.

The actual Queen might just be the same.

"Hmm~?" (Firo)

"It's no good." (Naofumi)

Firo's wiggles her ahoge.

What's up with that reaction?

"Well you see, I can hear Fitoria's forgotten voice." (Firo)

"Is that an antenna, or what?" (Naofumi)

The reason they fought with dragons was probably some silly reason like who would get the rights to be the hero's mount.

In any case, is she even capable of talking with that to Fitoria through that idiotic ahoge of hers?

It's probably something like telepathy.

I swear, the fact that anything's possible in this world makes me feel sick.

"Well you see~, Firoria is saying that since she was little, she hasn't understood much about the past." (Firo)

"...What do you think?" (Gaelion)

"Yeah..." (Naofumi)

That's really fascinating, but Fitoria... you shouldn't be so honest.

Firo and Gaelion start glaring at each other.

"Shouldn't we be on better terms by now? The Shield Hero's Shield will end up getting bottlenecked at this rate." (Gaelion)

"Huh?" (Naofumi)

What? Could it be that the dragon series shield being locked is Fitoria's doing?

In exchange for unlocking Firolial Series, the Dragon Series was sealed?

That huge bird... trying pass off as royalty only to do something petty like this.

This would probably limit my ability quite a bit.

Just doing whatever she wants. Damn that bird.

"Most of my power comes from that core of mine, you know." (Gaelion)

"Ah, that makes sense." (Naofumi)

With your level too low, you had no choice but to transform.

Is the dragon's core the same level of importance as Fitoria's ahoge?

If this was a game or something, it'd feel like you could only opt for one.

I've been thinking recently, but I really want to know if I've been living in reality, or just some game.

"If you're going to take me on now, do it. Even Firo knows you're the weakest of the dragon fragments. Ahahaha." (Naofumi)

"Gununu..." (Gaelion)

I don't understand the point of pets.

Somehow I can see things from an even lower perspective.

"Look. Take out your shield." (Gaelion)

"Ha... If you say so." (Naofumi)

Gaelion transfers some sort of energy into my shield.

It was as though the shield sparked for a second.

A part of the core was absorbed.

Dragon Leather Shield's conditions have been met. Dragon Leather Shield has been unlocked.

Dragon Scale Shield's conditions have been met. Dragon Scale Shield has been unlocked.

Dragon Meat Shield's conditions have been met. Dragon Meat Shield has been unlocked.

Dragon Familiar Shield's conditions have been met. Dragon Familiar Shield has been locked.

"Gu... This is it. Damn." (Naofumi)

"Even then it's better than nothing, right?" (Gaelion)

"Mu...!" (Firo)

Firo and her ahoge look mortified.

Well, at least the stats make it worth it. As expected of the Dragon Series, huh.

And the stats scaling is pretty good.

The condition for unlocking is to be level 50.

Fitoria really screwed me over.

Oh? The Dragon Familiar Shield has Growth Correction Up for Dragons.

In other words, if I gathered the other fragments, we could raise Gaelion's stats even further.

"After Class Up, I can do some support techniques. I'm also willing to teach you the Dragon Pulse." (Gaelion)

Let's try looking at the ups and downs.

With Class Up, we'll get stat correction...that ahoge had that kind of power huh.

I kind of understood but, the Dragon and Firolial's attributes are pretty different. Something like darkness and light.

"I can also handle the corruption of your cursed shield. I should be able increase its performance and duration too." (Gaelion)

Help with the Wrath Shield... Firo did it too, but Gaelion will join in, huh.
If that happens, it might be easier to handle.

"I understand. I'll help. In any case, we were planning on raising Gaelion as a dragon from the beginning." (Naofumi)

It's better if I set it straight now.

It's Taniko and the rest of the village's job to take care of the dragon, not mine.

"Also." (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Gaelion)

"I've already been using your core in my armor. Compensate for its loss."
(Naofumi)

"Ha... It can't be helped." (Gaelion)

He handed me a red ball just the time he gave Firo a candy ball.

"That ball is a part of my strength, and will borrow power from your armor.
I'll be able to strengthen yours further if you get more fragments too."
(Gaelion)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

This armor just became a lot more useful.

Firo's ahoge is showing some sort of strange response.

"What is it, Firo?" (Naofumi)

"Firo doesn't know. But it's trying to do something." (Firo)

"Wait, what do you mean by that?" (Naofumi)

"It's working together with my core to strengthen your armor further. I handed you a clone of mine, or so to speak." (Gaelion)

"Does this mean he'll be strengthened by both?" (Rat)

"Ah, if I recall right, Rat was studying weapons and the like used by monsters. In a way, it's close to what monsters use for protection, huh?"
(Naofumi)

"It looks like you're getting the idea. Fumu... now that I think about it, you know about monster modification, right?" (Gaelion)

"...What is it?" (Rato)

Rat hates dragons, doesn't she?

Although it seems to be because they supposedly have no honor.

It's just because he mated with too many monsters in the past, huh?

The fact that dragons are beings with no honor isn't something that's been proven.

"Don't lay a hand on Rat." (Naofumi)

"I wouldn't do such a thing. But, if she wanted to, I wouldn't mind playing with her for a bit. Claiming this place as my territory and mating with the monsters in the area doesn't sound too bad." (Gaelion)

"No way!" (Rat)

"Don't say that. I'm greedy for strength, enough to take down that Firolial Queen." (Gaelion)

"No... you're filth." (Rat)

"Fufu, I wonder how long you'll last with that mentality. Is this the extent of your motivation for research?" (Gaelion)

Rat glares at Gaelion with a somewhat bitter face.

What is up with this eroge-like development?

All of a sudden, I feel like driving out Gaelion now.

"If your daughter had heard this, she'd cry you know." (Naofumi)

"Gumu..." (Gaelion)

Taniko's completely against messing with monsters in research.

If her parent Gaelion is all for it, all her efforts are for nothing.

"The times are changing... is another way to put it." (Gaelion)

"What do you mean?" (Naofumi)

"I've forgotten the true meaning behind the wave itself. But, there is one thing I do remember." (Gaelion)

"What is it? Speak." (Naofumi)

"Well you see... Every time a wave takes place, monsters around the world get stronger." (Gaelion)

"What?" (Naofumi)

Stronger... somehow, what he said has a bad ring to it.

In other words, it's similar to online games from my world where the strength of monsters would scale with the player population?

"Come to think of it, how do wild monsters Class Up?" (Naofumi)

“Wild monsters work on a different system from humans. They get power from the earth itself, which is where humans also get experience from. Hence why there’s a level cap.” (Gaelion)

I’ve been told something I hadn’t known before.

“In the first place, is that knowledge a fragment like you should have?”
(Naofumi)

“From the beginning, I’ve been a wild dragon.” (Gaelion)

“Well that’s only natural.” (Naofumi)

“Of course. Like wild monsters, we also work on a different system.”
(Gaelion)

“How the hell do you know that!” (Naofumi)

“I heard it from an offspring of mine.” (Gaelion)

“…I see.” (Naofumi)

As a parent, Gaelion really doesn’t care about anyone aside from Taniko. Was the fact we worked on different systems supposed to be common sense?

Although, in Japan there’s no way I’d be able to talk with wild animals like this in the first place.

“I understand what you’re saying. Well, it’s not that I won’t consider it, but…if we get attacked by some dragon because of you, get out of here.”
(Naofumi)

“If it ever came down to that, I would fight. I need to protect what’s here, after all.” (Gaelion)

“You should probably tell that to the Queen.” (Naofumi)

If the waves were to continue on like this, and the people of this world didn’t find a solution, they would die sooner or later.

Just like an RPG, the monsters around the devil king are stronger, while the beginner area is a lot weaker.

“Well then, I’m tired and going to sleep soon. Would that be all?” (Gaelion)

“Well, I guess so. I guess next we’ll need to discipline your body’s actual owner, huh?” (Naofumi)

“He’s reflecting plenty enough. Probably because of how he went against orders.” (Gaelion)

“I see. If he shows results, I’ll believe that. Ping Pong Dash.” (Naofumi)

“Gumu… Ha… I understand. It can’t be helped.” (Gaelion)

Like this, the conversation was over and I retired for the day.

Of course, Gaelion and Rat left.

For some reason, Sadina is sleeping in the same room though.

Firo is sticking to me without a shred of dignity.

Something will probably come out of this.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 188 – Salute

---

It's been 3 days since I've started giving Firo preferential treatment over Gaelion.

In my free time, I've started training with Atlas.

"Training with Naofumi-sama. How delightful." (Atlas)

"Atlas, I believe you were able to read the flow of energy or something, right?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Atlas)

"Can you perform attacks that can breach my defenses, and damage me from the inside?" (Naofumi)

"Um... something like this?" (Atlas)

Atlas makes a gesture as if she's grabbing something out of the air, and then pushes her hand at me.

At that moment, I suddenly feel a sense of pain in my stomach.

This technique is the same one that granny used.

"Y-yeah... That one." (Naofumi)

It's good that I didn't have a powerful shield equipped.

I have the feeling that if I equipped one of my heavily strengthened shields, then I would have fallen to the ground with that attack.

But for her to be able to execute it simply after hearing the granny's explanation, Atlas truly is a genius.

"I thought I would try training to be able to control my energy to withstand attacks like that." (Naofumi)

“As expected of Naofumi-sama. You’re always trying to get stronger. Please allow me to assist you.” (Atlas)

“I’ll leave it to you.” (Naofumi)

And like that, I began sparring with Atlas.

Because of this, Atlas is too tired at night to force herself into my bed.

I’ve been able to understand the general concept through my sparrings, but applying it is difficult.

I’ve been able to use support magic to drive away the forces acting within my body, but something is different.

But I guess it’s best to learn little by little.

“Master~! Let’s play~!” (Firo)

Firo occasionally comes over while we’re training.

I wonder what happened to Melty.

So I occasionally spar with Firo as well. I also just play with her normally.

“Kyua…” (Gaelion)

I can see Gaelion watching us from the shadows in envy, but I ignore him.

“Don’t bully him too much.” (Gaelion)

The older Gaelion speaks out in protest.

“Bu…! Go Back!” (Firo)

Firo truly seems to hate Gaelion.

“Now then, Gaelion. Where shall we go today?” (Taniko)

“Gya… Gyau!” (Gaelion)

“Gaelion?” (Taniko)

Taniko is getting suspicious of Gaelion’s behavior.

Why must he hide his revival?

Even if he’s trying to fit into human society, I’m sure Taniko would be delighted if she knew.

Also, Kogaelion’s cry is Kyua. (Ko means child)

What the hell is Gyau supposed to mean?

Adult Gaelion stares at me for help with eyes like a calf that’s about to be sold. I won’t get involved.

Gaelion gets dragged off by Taniko.

He should be able to get through this with his own strength.

And so, 3 ordinary days passed.

“Firo is going to go level with Melty.” (Firo)

As I was walking around town with Firo, she suddenly blurts this out.

“… Are you sure you don’t want me to go with you?” (Naofumi)

“Yeah!” (Firo)

Her answer is very energetic.

Since reconstruction has been going smoothly, I thought I would go level myself, but…

But with an answer that energetic, I can’t really force myself into their group.

Oh? Melty looks troubled.

“Um, Firo-chan. I don’t have that much free time.” (Melty)

“Eh? But Mel-chan, you said that you felt weak and wanted to raise your level.” (Firo)

“I didn’t mean right now.” (Melty)

“But Melty-chan, the villagers told me that people that put things off to tomorrow, never really do it tomorrow.” (Firo)

“I have something else that I have to do.” (Melty)

“Eh… But Mel-chan, they also said that if you don’t mix in fun with work, then you’ll never get anywhere.” (Firo)

Firo enters inquisition mode again.

In this mode, she seems to lose the ability to read the situation, and just continuously asks questions.

But if I don’t do anything here, Firo’s level will remain low.

If I tell her to go level alone, will she get mad?

“Firo.” (Naofumi)

“What~?” (Firo)

“go level alone.” (Naofumi)

“No!” (Firo)

As I thought.

I look towards Melty’s subordinates.

I signal for them to open up a space in Melty’s schedule later.

It seems they were worried about Melty’s low level as well.

She hasn't been neglecting her magical studies, so her abilities go beyond her level, but it's probably better for one who is going to lead a country to have a higher level.

And there's also the problem of having a child do strenuous labor for a long period of time.

Melty also needs time to play.

Firo is more than qualified to be her bodyguard.

"There's no helping it... Future Queen, Melty. You must go on a journey to find yourself with that bird as your companion!" (Naofumi)

"Na-Naofumi? What are you talking about?" (Melty)

"And so, Firo. Go level up with Melty." (Naofumi)

"Hooray!" (Firo)

"Wait, Naofumi! Don't go deciding these things on your own!" (Melty)

"It's fine, Melty." (Naofumi)

"What is!?" (Melty)

"This isn't just my own judgment. Your subordinates have already given me permission. Even Shadow will guard you from the shadows." (Naofumi)

"That's even worse!" (Melty)

"After that, we'll have to decide whether or not to apply the slave seal on you for the stat boosts. That Queen will probably grant permission."
(Naofumi)

That Queen seems to want Melty to become my wife, so she'll probably do anything to get her closer to me.

I'll ask for the individual's opinion here.

"Never!" (Melty)

"I see. Then we won't. Firo, while you're away, what will we do for Atlas countermeasures?" (Naofumi)

"Hm... I'll ask a reliable person." (Firo)

Who?

Since it's Firo, will she bring in her subordinate Filo Rial?

"I have no intentions of sleeping next to a Filo Rial." (Naofumi)

"Then I'll ask Imya-chan." (Firo)

"How will that help?" (Naofumi)

I don't think Imya can stop Atlas.

It seems that she's gotten skillful enough for the Tailor to begin passing on her personal secret techniques.

Will she make Atlas a wedding dress? I don't know how she would accomplish that with nothing but monster skins, but that sounds like it will sell well.

"Then Firo will bring in someone stronger than Atlas-chan." (Firo)

"Who?" (Naofumi)

"Hm..." (Firo)

This isn't going to work. It doesn't look like she's even thinking about it.

"I think that person will be able to stop Atlas-chan." (Firo)

"And I'm asking who." (Naofumi)

"Well, then, we're off, Master~." (Firo)

"Wait, Firo-chan! I never said I was goin-" (Melty)

Before Melty can protest, Firo grabs the clothing on the back of her neck and tosses her onto her back.

And as soon as Melty lands, Firo runs off while flapping her wings.

“Naofumiiiiiii. Remember thiiiiisss!” (Melty)

“I expect great growth from you, Future Queen, Melty.” (Naofumi) (TL: As in Stats)

Going with the flow, I salute her. She seems angry, and tries to throw something at me. It appears to be a piece of scrap paper.

But as she’s on the back of a running Firo, the item that she throws doesn’t reach me. It just gets carried off by the wind.

She starts screaming hysterically.

But despite all of this, it’s not like I hate her.

“Now then.” (Naofumi)

I hold a meeting with Melty’s subordinates about the management of the village.

The area’s development is proceeding faster than expected.

This is in part due to the usage of the Camping Plant, which I lent to some of the stores.

This interesting plant will probably bring in a lot of customers.

-

“And… The help Firo hired was you?” (Naofumi)

When night comes, I once again hold my head in my hands.

Was that bird even thinking at all?

"That's right. This Onee-san really is troubled." (Sadina)

Raphtalia had already asked her, so why is Firo requesting her as well?
This is double booking.

Sadina is happily drinking sake as she sits on the floor of my house.

"Anyways... you have Raphtalia, and you have Firo. Why does everyone rely on you?" (Naofumi)

"No idea. This Onee-san also finds it amazing~." (Sadina)

She's being annoying.

I activate her slave seal for a second.

"Ahn. Naofumi-chan, how stimulating. Ahn!" (Sadina)

... As the pain sets in, Sadina releases a disturbing voice.

If someone were to hear her, they would definitely misunderstand the situation.

So she isn't someone the slave seal will work on so easily. I'm seriously considering kicking her out.

But if I did that, I might damage the relationship I have with the slaves.
For some reason, they seem to put a strange amount of trust in this person.
And I have no idea what Raphtalia will say to me if I do.

"*Sigh*..." (Naofumi)

"Do you really hate Atlas coming into your bed that much?" (Sadina)

"Yeah. It's just as I said before." (Naofumi)

"... Everyone really is having it tough." (Sadina)

"With what?" (Naofumi)

“Everyone really likes Naofumi-chan, but Naofumi-chan has no intentions of responding to them.” (Sadina)

“Their feelings are more like those they would have for a parent. You can’t call that love. I don’t want to be responsible for something like that, so I try to keep my distance. It seems Raphtalia also seems to get angry when such matters come up, and Firo… I’m not even sure if she understands what Love is.” (Naofumi)

“I can understand what Naofumi-chan is saying. I think it’s best if you don’t discuss these sorts of things with Raphtalia-chan.” (Sadina)

“You’re saying it as if it’s fine to discuss it with everyone else, though.” (Naofumi)

If Raphtalia harbored those kinds of feelings towards me, would Sadina tell me to take responsibility?

Her phrasing makes it sound like Raphtalia is keeping something from me. Well, we’ve known each other for quite a while, so Sadina might be mistaking our relationship.

“… I’m grateful that you’ve been protecting Raphtalia all this time. When the first wave hit, I wasn’t able to help her. I couldn’t protect her.” (Sadina)

Protect? What sort of relationship did they have?

Or is she regretting that she was unable to protect the other villagers?

Her sense of duty is quite strong.

“Now then… This Onee-san will offer Naofumi-chan a special idea.” (Sadina)

“What?” (Naofumi)

“Naofumi-chan, don’t you have quite a convenient shield? When you sleep, can't you just move to a different town? I don't think Atlas-chan will pursue you that far." (Sadina)

"But my money is..." (Naofumi)

The lodging fee will be quite a bit. The daily amount isn't much, but if I want to stay every night, the amounts will add up.

I can camp out in a camping plant and the wild monsters probably won't be able to damage me, but I don't think I will be able to sleep.

Perhaps I can sleep for free at Melromark Castls.

But Trash is over there, and I think I'll get dragged into something troublesome.

"Then should this Onee-san show you her secret base?" (Sadina)

"Secret base?" (Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 188 – Secret Base

---

“I see… So this is your secret base.” (Naofumi)

After that, Sadina dragged me towards the ocean.

She told me to get on her back, and started swimming.

Riding Sadina, it took around 30 minutes to get there.

I saw an island in the distance. It was too dark for me to see clearly, but the island didn't look particularly big.

It looked kinda like a crescent island I've seen in postcards.

I don't really see any monsters.

I'm not Motoyasu, but I can say that it's quite a romantic island.

After we reach the island, Sadina goes onto a hill and lights a torch. She leads me to a cave-like area.

The structure is man-made, and even has windows.

“This place is regularly maintained, so it should be able to stand against storms.” (Sadina)

“If we come all the way here, I guess even Atlas won't follow me.”
(Naofumi)

“Pretty much.” (Sadina)

If she decides to cross the ocean, or gets a boat, then there truly is nothing I can do to stop her.

… The fact that it actually seems likely scares me.

"You should be able to get back using your shield. How does the place seem?" (Sadina)

"If I'm only using it to sleep, then this will suffice." (Naofumi)

The location isn't bad. The only problem is that it will be a pain to bring over my medicine compounding equipment.

The island is very quiet, and perfect for work.

Perhaps Rat can move her laboratory over here.

"And so, Naofumi-chan." (Sadina)

Sadina goes deeper in the cave and brings out a large barrel.

It most likely contains alcohol.

"Where did you get that from?" (Naofumi)

"I salvaged it from a shipwreck. It's matured to a perfect age now."
(Sadina)

Ah, I see. For some reason, that barrel looks like illegal goods to me.
I mean, it is being hidden away in such a reclusive place.

"Why don't you have a little drinking contest with me?" (Sadina)

"Why would I do that?" (Naofumi)

"Onee-san wants to get Naofumi-chan drunk so he will spill out his true feelings." (Sadina)

"Did you think I would permit it if you just asked honestly? Anyways, I can't even get drunk." (Naofumi)

"This is the last time you'll be saying something like that~" (Sadina)

Sadina enthusiastically cracks open the barrel. She dips a cup in and starts drinking.

I guess I'll keep her company. I think I can sleep peacefully here.

"You said this was from a shipwreck, right?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah." (Sadina)

"Can you just take goods like that in this country?" (Naofumi)

"No problem~, This wasn't within this country's salvageable range."

(Sadina)

"Salvage range?" (Naofumi)

"There are laws that mandate the acquisition of goods from the ocean, but they aren't very definite. This barrel was picked up in international waters, so it's not subject to law." (Sadina)

It's not like anyone's going to ask for its origin anyways, so as long as we keep quiet, it's probably okay.

"With water magic, one can gain the ability to breath underwater for a while, but that doesn't mean they can match aquatic races. Melromark is a country of human absolutism, so even if they build salvage ships, most of the deeper areas of the ocean are untouched." (Sadina)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

"Fishermen will actively attack aquatic Demi-humans and Beastmen, and the reverse is also common." (Sadina)

The oceans here seem to be quite dangerous.

"Recently, the waves have gotten stronger and the currents faster as well."
(Sadina)

So the Wave is also effecting the normal waves.

I get the feeling that the ship captain said that on the way to Cal Mira.

“If I find time, do you want me to go treasure hunting? Though if I don’t raise my level a bit, it will be kinda dangerous.” (Sadina)

“Well, your level has risen quite a bit… If you think you can do it, I’ll leave it to you.” (Naofumi)

Treasure from the sea will definitely sell for a bit.

Sadina pulls out an ocean map with one hand, while she continues drinking with the other.

“U… Naofumi-chan is a strong drinker~.” (Sadina)

While we were in the middle of the second barrel, Sadina starts swaying a bit.

“Oh? You even have Lucor fruits here.” (Naofumi)

I was curious, so I walked past the drunk Sadina and look further into the cave.

I snack on some of the fruits before returning.

Apparently, because of its ridiculously high alcohol concentration, it almost never spoils.

These ones seem to be a bit old. The taste is deeper than usual.

Mass producing these and selling them is possible, but it’s probably best not to introduce alcohol to the slaves. I can imagine quite a few of them being bad drunks.

“Uu…” (Sadina)

Seeing me eating the Lucor Fruit, Sadina opens the window and begins throwing up into the sea.

"You really are strong. Oneesan is surprised. *Hic*." (Sadina)

"Yes, yes." (Naofumi)

"...Naofumi-chan. Will you not become my groom?" (Sadina)

"Don't. Want. To." (Naofumi)

"Ara. Onee-san said that she would marry someone who could drink more than her. I don't think I'll find someone better than Naofumi-chan."
(Sadina)

"Why should I marry you?" (Naofumi)

"How cruel~. Well, that's part of Naofumi-chan's charms." (Sadina)

And while we continued talking about it...

"...Samaaaa..." (???)

"Was that my imagination, or did you just hear a very ominous sound?"
(Naofumi)

"What a coincidence. I also heard Atlas-chan's voice. *Hic*." (Sadina)

I look towards the beach.

... Atlas is approaching, riding a transformed Gaelion.

"Gaelion! Go Home!" (Naofumi)

There is still around 100 meters before they reach shore.

At this range, Atlas shouldn't do anything stupid here.

"Kyua!?" (Gaelion)

It seems it's child Gaelion this time.

I had never even considered the possibility of her using Gaelion to follow.

Atlas isn't exactly stupid. She's using all of her resources.

I guess I'll have to deal with Gaelion later.

... With him here, no matter where I go, I will be followed.

What other options do I have left now?

"Ah, Gaelion-chan. Why are you turning around!? Naofumi-sama is right in front of us." (Atlas)

"KYUAAA!" (Gaelion)

"Then you've forced me to take drastic measures." (Atlas)

"Kyua!? KYUAAAAAAAAA!" (Gaelion)

"Even if it hurts, I'm going to do my best and jump off!"

He probably thought that getting any closer would only anger me.

Gaelion frantically tries to contain Atlas, and flies back along the route from which he came.

It seems that our aerial offensive power has greatly increased.

"... We were immediately found out." (Naofumi)

"Wow~... That child's the real deal." (Sadina)

"What should we do?" (Naofumi)

"Adult Gaelion will probably refuse her, and it seems child Gaelion has found out that you dislike him coming here, so it will probably work out fine."

(Sadina)

"Ah, I see." (Naofumi)

"But it's good that you didn't choose to sleep in another town." (Sadina)

"... She would have come on the Filo Rial or another monster." (Naofumi)

"Probably." (Sadina)

After a while, Gaelion comes flying back.

This time, it's the adult one.

"... That girl doth not know when to give up. Perhaps you may say that she's simply strong willed." (Gaelion)

"I've caused you some trouble." (Naofumi)

"No problem. Also... Oh? Is that Wine? Won't you offer some to me?" (Gaelion)

"Isn't your body that of a child? Will you be fine?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, yes~ Naofumi-chan is too strong of a drinker, and Onee-san is in trouble. Gaelion-chan please drink as well." (Sadina)

Ignoring my words, Sadina hands Gaelion some sake.

"Yes, the taste of this one isn't bad." (Gaelion)

"What did you want to talk about? Speak before you get too intoxicated." (Naofumi)

"I'd never challenge the Lucor eating Naofumi to a drinking contest. I wanted to speak concerning the class up." (Gaelion)

"Ah, there was that." (Naofumi)

The monsters we keep around here are getting to be around that level. After hunting for a while, a ★ appeared next to Gaelion's level value. It seems that the experience he stole from Firo let him level up past the preclass-up limit, but after a while, his level stopped growing.

"How about you, Sadina?" (Naofumi)

"Let's see, Onee-san will be able to class up in a little bit." (Sadina)

It seems this one is hiding quite a bit of information. Or she just won't say anything until you ask.

Let me try asking.

"Did you ever Level Reset before? Besides when you did it with me?"

(Naofumi)

"Ah? You could tell~?" (Sadina)

That was a bluff, but she happily responds.

I had found a few things strange about her.

"I was able to get all the way to 75 before, but then I reset. The reason is a secret. I think it was around when Raphtalia-chan was born... My age was around that of a child I think." (Sadina)

"I see, so does that mean you were a criminal?" (Naofumi)

(TL: Remember that Level Reset was initially a punishment.)

"Depending on the perspective you look at it from, I may have been a criminal." (Sadina)

She starts laughing out loud. What happened to her in the past?

"Exactly how old are you anyways?" (Naofumi)

"To ask a woman for her age is quite rude, you know. By the way, I'm 23."
(Sadina)

Her eyes twinkle as she says this.

And... she's much younger than I thought. I estimated her to be in her 30s. Raphtalia's true age is quite young, so when she was born, Sadina would be around 13.

"At that time, I was an Ocean Shrine Maiden." (Sadina)

"So you were fired, and had your level reset?" (Naofumi)

"Well, that's pretty much how it went." (Sadina)

Again, what exactly did she do?

Digging up people's pasts is a pain, and generally unproductive so I don't do it, but a former criminal...

"What~?" (Sadina)

"What did you do?" (Naofumi)

"I just went against my faith. It's not like I killed someone or something. I won't tell you more than that." (Sadina)

She answers seriously for once. I get the feeling that this is a secret she will take to the grave.

My mind wanders towards Raphtalia.

Like Raphtalia's parents, she used to be a wanderer I think.

Did she know Raphtalia's parents for a long time?

... Raphtalia sometimes treats her as if she were her mother... Or is that just my imagination?

It seems she has no intention of saying more, so asking won't do anything.

"And? Gaelion, what is this about the Class Up?" (Naofumi)

"You have the protection of the Filo Rial Queen, correct?" (Gaelion)

"Yeah, Firo's Ahoge is a sort of protection I guess." (Naofumi)

It seems that Filo Rials possess a wide variety of powers.

Or at least that's what I believe.

"I don't really know how it works, but the Ahoge sometimes interferes with Class Ups." (Naofumi)

Sometimes regardless of the individual's will.

"That power interferes with the land the Class up takes place on, and magnifies its effects." (Gaelion)

Power of the land...

I believe he said that also influences experience and Status magic.

"A Class up is the enhancement of an individual's power. Of course the Hero's protection also amplifies power, but I am referring to something different." (Gaelion)

"What do you mean?" (Naofumi)

"Most likely, the Filo Rial's protection will not work on people who can use the Dragon Pulse Order and other monsters. The reason for this should be obvious." (Gaelion)

"Mu..." (Naofumi)

So Neither Taniko or Sadina can use the special Ahoge-enhanced Class up. They'll only be able to depend on their selves for strength.

"I was worried about it, and thus I came here. You said that there were currently 2 who could Class Up, right?" (Gaelion)

"I think so." (Naofumi)

"Including me, that's 3. I may be able to give protection on the same level as the Filo Rial one. If you want to Class Up other Monsters, then bring them along." (Gaelion)

"Is your protection different from the Filo Rial one?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah... I forgot the reason. If you want to conduct a special Class Up, then... Ah, this is annoying." (Gaelion)

So he lost the knowledge on how to do it.

"I think doing it before I class up myself is dangerous." (Gaelion)

There's also a possibility he can't even do it.

"Sadina, do you know anything about this?" (Naofumi)

"Nope~. Though when I did it, I did get the Water Dragon Emperor's power to do a special Class Up." (Sadina)

"This one is probably incomparable to the other one." (Gaelion)

Says Gaelion.

So Sadina's conducted a special Class Up before.

"Understood. I'll have a monster that understands human speech ask them before they class up." (Naofumi)

If they truly wish to become stronger, then we can use Gaelion's protection. The monsters going to Rat for strength will most likely consider it.

"I guess I'll take Firo and Gaelion along when next we decide to go Class Up." (Naofumi)

Atlas... Still has a while to go. The Hakuko have a higher class up level than the rest.

But Sadina and Taniko, also some of the other slaves are almost ready.

"_

“And so-” (Naofumi)

I explain what Gaelion told me to the monsters over Level 40.

I have absolutely no idea whether or not monsters can understand human speech, but giving an explanation is better than not.

I feel like an idiot right now.

“Even so, if you still want to, come with me. Today, we’ll go to the castle to Class Up.” (Naofumi)

… The monsters here don’t even move.

So they really can’t understand human words.

“Everyone who wishes to get stronger, step forward.” (Naofumi)

“Kyu-!”

“Domomo…”

“Pyon!”

“Garu!”

A majority of the monsters come towards me.

Wow… They actually understood me.

Even the Usapill steps forwards.

By the way, this village Usapill has grown quite big. Big enough to ride it.

(TL: See manga for size comparison)

And all of these monsters are striving for strength.

“*Sigh*… I got it. Then we’ll wait for Gaelion to class up before we go.

You’ll have to stay that way for a while.” (Naofumi)

The monsters listen to my command and return to the monster stable.
My head hurts.

And so after speaking with the monsters, I took Sadina, Taniko and Gaelion to go class up at the castle.

I don't think I even have to talk about the Class up ceremony at this point. In the middle of Gaelion's Class Up, he began chanting magic, and the ceremony suddenly sped up and came to a close.

When I checked his Status, I found it had rose just as much as Firo's when she classed up.

Sadina's stat increase is also considerable.

Is it because she's the Onee-san that everyone relies on? She doesn't seem to be that strong on land.,,,

"Did you learn anything regarding providing providence during Class Up?"
(Naofumi)

"Yeah, Father's power came through Gaelion, and gave us power, right?"
(Taniko)

"No, your father is alive clinging to that dragon there." (Naofumi)

"What are you talking about? If you don't stop, I will get angry." (Taniko)

Taniko believes wholeheartedly that her father Gaelion is dead.

That very individual seems to be looking away and making a whistling sound.

What's with this scene?

...Who was it? They called me a Boomerang or something.

(TL: I don't really get this line, please help. Perhaps I'm just sleepy

(Knowing Naofumi, it's probably a pop culture reference, but...)…誰だれだ？
俺おれの事ことをブーメランとか言いった奴やつは？)

Anyways, like that we were able to obtain the Dragon's protection for Class Ups.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 190 – Formal Request

---

Though I went to the Old Man's shop during a class up occasion, a “shop closed” sign was hung and he is away. When I ask the next store, it seems the old man's weapons had sold so well that production couldn't catch up, looks like he's out to gather ores.

Perhaps the shop's popularity is due to Imya's uncle.

Originally the shop was already famous in Castle Town but its reputation has increased lately.

Though I am the reason for that, recently it's due to the good arm of the Old Man himself and his increasing skills.

Is Imya's uncle a surprisingly skillful craftsman?

Or is increasing due to the fact of a possible rivalry? (TL: Between the Old Man and Imya's uncle)

I don't know.

Well, I go to the Slave Trader's place, but he is also absent.

Are you still in Zeltbur? (TL: Zeltbur, the country of mercenaries, refer to Chapter 155)

Reconstruction is progressing, but to me Castle Town feels deserted. (TL: Naofumi is feeling lonely)

Or should I say, there are none of my acquaintances?

In the first place, what I mean is most of the people I know are in my territory.

Based on that understanding, I return to the village immediately.

“Oh?”(Naofumi)

When I arrived at the village, I see some familiar faces.

The fearful girl who always seems luckless and the strong woman who's dressed in a simple armor.

“Ah, Lord Iwatani has returned.”

“I'm back.” (Naofumi)

Rishia and the Female Knight greet me.

“Well, have you finished your training?” (Naofumi)

“Yes, I was told by the Instructor that because the training has ended I'm allowed to go back earlier.” (Female Knight)

“Yes, me too. I was taught various things. (Rishia)

“I see, the apprentices has advanced so much I can take a vacation. So how did it go? What are the results?” (Naofumi)

“Well, the Instructor was so impressed by my enthusiasm that she taught me the Peerless Transformation Style.” (Rishia) (TL: The Peerless Transformation Style: also known as the Hengen Musou Ryuu)

“Enthusiasm…… eh.” (Naofumi) (TL: Not sure how to translate the ね[Ne] sound to English)

So the apprentices has managed to pass through the gate—

It wasn't like the game that I've played before— the player's character was at the front of a master's house because he's required to be a disciple.

If the player's character isn't accepted, then the game/story won't advance. Among the disciples there are three people, the one with the most determined personality has the highest probability to succeed, such a thing didn't matter here.

"That being said, but I was only taught sword techniques. I was told to keep training like I did before" (Female Knight)

"Everything was all beaten into me……" (Rishia)

The Female Knight was only taught sword techniques, and Rishia was taught everything.

What I mean is they both came back from training at the same time.

The old hag had said before that there was no specific weapon with Hengen Musou Style. (TL: Refer to Chapter 167)

Yet the Female Knight only learnt about swords, was she not taught properly?

"What is it, Lord Iwatani?" (Female Knight)

"Is it really all right? I busted my gut trying to learn it, I'm afraid you seem to be suffering like an underdog." (Naofumi) (TL: Corrected by Kookie)

"Fuu…… Who do you think I am? I followed the Instructor to the point where Rishia-dono and Raphtalia collapsed from exhaustion." (Female Knight) (TL: Corrected by Kookie)

"The Instructor also gave her permission for an official apprenticeship enthusiastically. The instructor even cut into her own break to teach her sword techniques." (Rishia) (Editor's note: she taught her only focusing on sword techniques and it couldn't be helped if it cut into her break)

"It is a style where the basics of body movement, magic, and spiritual flow are more important than technique. It was very hard to get the hang of it."
(Female Knight) (TL: Corrected by Kookie)

So—…… according to that Style, weapons are for decorative purposes only.
There is a place that I do not understand too well.

"When Raphtalia's training ends, this is going to be taught in the village."
(Not sure who says this line or if it's correct)

"Is there a reason why you guys secluded yourselves in the mountain?"
(Naofumi)

"It is to build the basic foundation of our bodies." (Female Knight)

"When I wrestle…… I was touched by the mountain god's mind and felt the flow of the earth." (Rishia) (Yeah, I really need help with this line)

"Do you understand the explanation?" (Female Knight)

I do not understand at all. Is it because we are people from different world?
Even though I am able to use magic, I never fully understand its inner workings.

"Isn't it obvious." (Rishia)

Says Rishia with a blank expression.

Has it already become commonplace……

This girl is getting conceited with her powers?

I wonder if I will be defeated in the next battle with a single blow.
There was such development in a manga that I've once read.

……I hate it. Something like that.

“By the way, judging from the previous story Raphtalia is still continuing her training?” (Naofumi)

“Yes, there are a lot of things Raphtalia-san needs to learn because she is Naofumi-san's right-hand man.” (Rishia)

“I see……” (Naofumi)

I had a lot of problems that were solved because Raphtalia was there.

She's like a mosquito net for the foal exposed to the elements.

Besides, there are many slaves who felt the same way because she took care of them.

“What are Lord Iwatani's plans after this?” (Female Knight)

“Oh? I think will bring some people for a Class Up and improve their levels.”
(Naofumi)

Indeed there were some people who didn't receive a Class Up and were worried.

I was optimistic that when Raphtalia came back, she will accompany for a Class Up with Firo, but the person in question has yet to return.

I was thinking of gathering some people and making an official request for a Class Up.

But it would be bad for Firo to pull the carriage so I was planning on having Gaelion do it instead.

“Then I would also be going together with them. Rishia too as well.”
(Female Knight)

“That sounds good. I would like to see the Peerless Transformation Style.”
(Naofumi)

Oh, it's me, Atlas, Gaelion, Taniko, Rishia and the Female Knight.

It's a plain well-balanced party

If we are in an RPG, it's an old-fashioned formation that won't lose to most enemies.

Of course I know that it's only applicable in an adventure game and may not be true in reality.

“What about Sadina?” (Female Knight)

Annoying, the Female Knight raises that point like a meddling housekeeper.

I thought I had already familiarize myself with the village, — I forgot that the Female Knight is not one of my subordinates.

Speaking of, I should highly prioritize Sadina.

“She belongs in the sea—” (Naofumi) (Not sure if this line is correct)

“Oh, I see.” (Female Knight)

Well, I think putting Sadina in her original battlefield is what's best for her.

If I'm lucky then something might be gathered from this opportunity, I also want materials from the sea.

“Oh—…… It's Atlas—” (Naofumi)

“Yes. What is it?” (Atlas)

Atlas comes after I called out to her.

Though she should have been a sickly character at first, I quickly got used to it.

"I'm going to help you get a Class Up." (Naofumi)

"Okay. I'm looking forward to going along with Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"I'll be counting on you." (Rishia)

"Then let's go, Lord Iwatani," (Female Knight)

"Ah, yes of course." (Naofumi)

Looks like the Female Knight is adjusting comfortably in Raphtalia's role as my second-in-command.

But there's no need to seriously compete with Raphtalia for the role, it's a low rank position.

I haven't thought about it before.

"Gaelion." (Naofumi)

"Kyuaaaa!" (Gaelion)

Gaelion makes a happy sound when I call him.

I wonder if he was waiting for his turn. He is strangely excited.

I think its child Gaelion based on his noise.

If anything, I have a close relationship with Gaelion since I'm his parent.

"Well Gaelion, we're going for a Class Up but which way do you prefer, pulling the carriage or flying?" (Naofumi)

"Kyu·····" (Gaelion)

Gaelion's Child Mode.

Tilting his head, he decides to do an inquisitive pose.

“Kyua!” (Gaelion)

Gaelion raises his wings in the air. Oh, you want to fly in the sky.

But going by carriage is easier and more comfortable, isn't it better?

In other words, I could do some peddling since I have some products to sell.

(Not sure if this line is correct)

“Kyuaaaa!” (Gaelion)

Paa~tsu (the sound of transforming) and Gaelion becomes a dragon of about forty meters.

“Where are you going?” (Naofumi)

I ask Taniko who is climbing on Gaelion's back.

Don't act like that's the official place for you to sit.

What happened to the caterpillar which you got to ride first?

No, that guy is often with Taniko too.

“Then where is my place?” (Naofumi)

“Ah, another thing. Lord Iwatani, since you're going for a Class Up, can you carry out a formal request from the Castle? I will also help too.” (Female Knight)

“What is it?” (Naofumi)

“Recently, some bandits have built their stronghold at the base of the mountains.” (Female Knight)

"I see…… Bandits subjugation." (Naofumi)

"Why are you laughing gleefully? This is the first time I see you smiling like that, Lord Iwatani." (Female Knight)

The Female Knight tells me with a scared face. Did I make such an expression?

Perhaps it's the remnants of those guys.

When I think about it, it has been awhile, maybe now is a good time to harvest the crop. (TL: Refer to the events in chapter 152)

Those guys must have saved up quite a lot. I'm the perfect opponent to deprive them of it.

Also getting a reward from completing a formal request, it's like killing two birds with one stone.

"Can you pinpoint the place?" (Naofumi)

"Yes…… for the time being. The problem is the leader keeps escaping."
(Female Knight)

The leader?" (Naofumi)

I have a feeling it's the same guy as before.

Being attacked in a place where it was supposed to be a safe haven for you to rest, and me doing the capturing. (TL: Not sure if this is correct)

"Based on the testimony of a recently caught thief, it seems that person has become the leader of all the nearby bandits, looks like he turned them into a strong, well-armed group." (Female Knight)

"Is it a strong, well-armed group for him to escape?" (Naofumi)

"He's there. Though I do not know for sure, the suspicious leader rarely makes an appearance but he is able to defeat any brave adventurer."

(Female Knight) (TL: Not sure if this is correct)

"I don't understand……" (Naofumi)

The leader is someone like that?

It's good to hear that the guy is a tactician, but he's stingy too.

When I have an enemy, it's the troublesome type.

"The thieves disturb the streets based on the leader's orders, and the strategy is to hunt the person isolated in the confusion." (Female Knight)

It will be tedious if you fight me…… is that what your actions are saying?

This guy's objectives are unclear.

"It seems the leader's ability is to avoid getting captured even if his men are caught." (Female Knight)

This is a troublesome opponent for sure.

It's a situation where as long as the leader survives, the lower ranks can be replenished.

It looks like I can't do anything fancy at his hiding place. (TL: Not sure if this is correct)

That being said, bandits' subjugation is profitable.

It's regrettable the Firo is absent. I could really use her to make it more threatening.

Oh, how about I let Gaelion fill in the role.

I'll have to make sure Taniko stays silent.

"Well then, I'll go patrol the area where the bandits appear and you guys go hunt down some monsters." (Naofumi)

"Roger that." (Female Knight)

"Understood." (Rishia)

"Okay."

"Kyua!" (Gaelion)

That said, we set off while riding on Gaelion for a Class Up and some bandits hunting.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 191 – Later Bloomer

---

"Your movement has improved beyond recognition from before" (Naofumi)

Possibly the fruit of the Old Lady's training, Rishia took the initiative and is defeating the monsters. Weapons are a throwing knife attached to a short sword and a whip. While throwing the knife, the whip entangles the opponent, and as the knife lands, the opponent is drawn in and skewered by the short sword. Peerless Transformation style, Binding Thrust is what the attack seems to be called.

Though the name being too simple could come off as chuunibyo, but everything else I value highly. Not only that, it is a fast technique. As expected of the Old Lady's said favorite area of expertise.

Peerless Transformation, as expected from such an exaggerated name, seems painful just from seeing it. Mixing that technique with defence piercing seems formidable. If I recall correctly, I heard Rishia was taught everything from the style. Then that means she could fight with weapons besides the current ones I suppose.

On a side note, Rishia's current level is 70. Her strength that did not match her status honestly surprised me quite a bit. How should I put it, "Who is this girl?", is how it is.

Just guessing, but if Itsuki saw the current Rishia it feels like he'd say "Please come back." Well, Itsuki is doing a perfect hide in Zeltbur with a broken mind though. Just stay like this in perfect hide until the world becomes peaceful.

"Is that so? Though I can't really tell the difference myself..." (Rishia)

By the way, Rishia is currently wearing the Firo costume. Quickly taking out the outfit after returning was surprising.

I guess spiritual support was needed. Even when stronger, the base does not change it seems.

Maybe if Itsuki put on the Firo costume he could return to normal. No no....

"I've thought this from a long time ago, but why does Rishia-oneesan have the same form as Firo-chan?" (Taniko)

Taniko asked as she tilted her head. Well, the appearance of efficiency and practically are very different after all. Explaining is such a pain. Let's pretend I didn't hear.

"Is that so?" (Atla)

It appears Atla has only just now realized. -Thinking back, Atla's eyes cannot see so it's not like she should've known. As expected, ki does not seem to leave the costume. Though it'd be a little unpleasant if it did leak.

"It's just, I can see a stream of power coming from Naofumi-sama flowing around Rishia-san" (Atla)

"Ah, that so?" (Naofumi)

"Firo-chan and everyone from the village have the same power flowing, but that power is strong" (Atla)

Ha...Atla's perception ability is also considerable. While feeling such admiration, female knight defeats monsters with her sword.

Over here too, though not as much as Rishia, has considerable skill. After is the extent Atla will come along, and decide how far to get. Well, I tag along with her training so I know in general.

"Please look okay, Naofumi-sama" (Atla)

"Aa" (Naofumi)

Atla received the wild boar monster, Razorback's charge head-on with her empty hand and stopped it. Only one finger is on the tip of the Razorback's nose. The Razorback put forth all its efforts to move, but could not even take one step. What? It seems she has mysterious superhuman strength.

"I'm sorry" (Atla)

Tsun. Atla faced the Razorback's forehead, jumped, and poked it. From just that...the Razorback revealed its eye whites and foamed at its mouth as it fell over. Is it dead?

...I've experienced a new thing. It's almost like an assassination technique or something. Why is it scarier than defeating it normally I wonder.

"I did it!" (Atla)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

Geniuses are amazing huh. Even far stronger than Rishia and female knight it appears. Rather, even barehanded. Thinking carefully, she wasn't given a weapon. No, she was given a sword at first, seems she didn't use it.

The average level of monsters is...approximately 40 huh. This'll be smooth sailing. //面子?

"Kyua!" (Gaelion)

Just like how Firo does it, Gaelion came and threw a live Razorbaby, a miniature Razorback, into his mouth and chewed. There's blood at the edge of his mouth-.... Yeah. They're both carnivores, but Firo might be better. That side's a bird so there's no blood. I don't know about times when using the claws to tear apart and stuff cheeks with flesh.

"Somehow-...I'm kinda plain?" (Taniko)

After using magic in battle earlier, Taniko was feeling down. The mysterious style, Peerless Transformation style and the genius Hakuko tribe's Atla. Certainly against weak monsters it feels like power is lacking, but I think Taniko is also suitable. Like magic, or maybe Gaelion.

"Don't mind it. I'm pretty much just watching." (Naofumi)

The need for me to tank was not necessary, becoming reversed. Was there meaning in coming? For now I just use Hate Reaction to lure monsters, while focusing on strengthening.

Before long we flew deep into the mountains and a monster part dragon came out. Ah, dragons inhabited remote regions if I recall correctly. Because of Fitoria, the dragon series could not be released even if raw materials were put in. Well it'll grow along with Gaelion so I guess it wasn't pointless.

As expected my turn came, pinning down the monster. And in that opening, one of the others attacked it. After, the weakened monsters are each exterminated.

I turn to look at Gaelion during that time. Taniko was there so he stayed hidden but I needed to talk to the father side. If the Dragon Emperor were to appear here it'd probably be difficult too.

"Oh yeah, Iwatani-dono..." (Female Knight)

Looking for a chance, female knight asked me a question.

"What?" (Naofumi)

"I heard you've attached weird nicknames to us in your head" (Female Knight)

"Oh. That talk huh, let's see, I just call fellows by their image if they don't say their name in front of me." (Naofumi)

"...Is that so?" (Female Knight)

Taniko looks at me with doubting eyes.

"Mu, by that logic, I haven't said my name. How on Earth am I being called?" (Female Knight)

"Female knight" (Naofumi)

"That is not my name but my official position" (Female Knight)

"But there aren't many female knights in Melromark, and there is only you in my territory so isn't it fine" (Naofumi)

"Honestly...you're just like they say, Iwatani-dono" (Female Knight)

The amazed female knight stopped speaking. If you want to be called by another name then name yourself. What are you trying to do.

"What about me?" (Taniko)

"Taniko" (Naofumi)

"Why!? You know my name don't you?" (Taniko)

"Windia wasn't it? It's troublesome so isn't it fine?" (Naofumi)

"No good! Not good!" (Taniko)

Sadina said not to say it in front of the person but, whatever.

"It's better than Ping Pong Dash though" (Naofumi)

"Is, Is that about Gaelion!?" (Taniko)

The noisy gya-gya-Taniko is ignored, and I talked to Atla at the perfect spot.

"Atla knows about this matter right" (Naofumi)

"Yes...I also want a nickname" (Atla)

...Is she a pervert? Thinking about it would be fine, but I feel no need so let's stop. Well if speaking of necessity comes up, nicknames would be unnecessary.

"It's not really long enough to need a nickname right. I remember it anyways" (Naofumi)

Raphtalia...I don't really wanna call her by nickname. I wonder why. Firo is short so there's no problem. Originally the name Firo itself is something like a nickname for Firo Rial.

"But, I think receiving a wonderful name from Naofumi-sama would be nice" (Atla)

"Ye-ah...your brother would come any number of times though" (Naofumi)

Alps was at first, Sis-con, like an Ateuma so Ateuma. Recently, he's matched Rishia in plainness position, so something new might come.

"I see...big brother, is jealous. Envious" (Atla)

"By the way, Rishia. You are Itsuki groupie." (Naofumi)

"Fueee! I didn't say anything!" (Rishia)

"Besides fueee right" (Naofumi)

"Fueee..." (Rishia)

I'm already exhausted. While conversing about such things, I talk to Gaelion as Taniko's eyes are stolen. It seems from their presences that the dragons inhabiting this area no longer hold fragments. Though thinking it troublesome, on the other hand it is for Gaelion's stages of growth so it is just fine.

So, everyone has raised their level, but there is one who grew the most surprising amount. The moment when 70 rose to 71, every status remarkably grew approximately thirty percent.

Name is Rishia=Aiuiredd.

Is it the result of training?

No, I'm sure physical training and magic statuses were treated separately, so it should not have risen this rapidly. She leveled up to 72 that day, yet certainly it increased approximately thirty percent.

I calculated after I had her remove the Firo costume, her status has come up to half of Raphtalia's status that I last saw. Before the difference was one third so I am just speculating, but at this rate of growth Raphtalia would be overtaken by level 75. Speaking of, the Old Lady did mention before....

"This child is a talent found once every hundred years-!" (Old Lady)

Said something like that. Did the Old Lady foresee this? Rapid growth from level 70, I'd think even for late blooming great talents there is a limit.

By the way, Rishia was tossed away by Itsuki, becoming my subordinate at 68.

Anyways, from now on I must observe Rishia I guess.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 192 – Masked Man

---

"And so, since our levels have increased too, I think it's time to hunt bandits. We can resume levelling again after taking the treasure."

(Naofumi)

"Wait a moment! What are you planning with the stolen goods!?" (Female Knight)

The next morning. We, who rested with the camping plants, set up preparations at a mountain near the highway that the bandits had settled down at. By the way, female knight's tsukkomi was ignored. The bandits treasures are mine.

"About the bandits, at most 40 should be the limit"

If there is no credibility, Class Up can't be done. So the bandits levels aren't that high. Of course, some wanderers could have Classed Up in Zeltbur or something, but even now I have not encountered any. You'd probably need achievements in the Colosseum I guess. However it's hard to say if someone who earned income at the Colosseum would become a bandit. Well it has nothing to do with me though.

"For now, team up in twos and search for the base. There is not enough information on the boss." (Naofumi)

Inquiring bandits about information with threats is needed or we will get nowhere. Many bandits must be captured from the outset.

"Hmm, Rishia and Atla, Female Knight and Taniko, team up and search"
(Naofumi)

"Reason?"

"None in particular. If unpleasant then split up how you like" (Naofumi)

"Why is Gaelion with you" (Taniko)

"Since we're aiming for the boss, we'll have Gaelion scout and I will be a decoy with my high defensive power" (Naofumi)

"Ah, so it's like that" (Taniko)

"If your end finds them, fire illumination magic. I will quickly rush over on Gaelion" (Naofumi)

"Don't make Gaelion do dangerous things" (Taniko)

"Of course he'll be flying in the sky, Gaelion's mission will be to gather the members" (Naofumi)

"Kyua!" (Gaelion)

"I see, I got it. Then let's go" (Taniko)

Female knight patted Taniko who came to an understanding on the back to start walking.

"Atla, your perception ability is high so I'll be depending on you" (Naofumi)

"Please leave it to me" (Atla)

"Then, see you later" (Rishia)

Rishia is also settled huh, she and Atla started searching together.

"Well then..." (Naofumi)

Gaelion and I also began searching for the bandits hideout.

"Fumu...human hands have entered this mountain" (Gaelion)

"Because the highway is nearby, is there anywhere peculiar?" (Naofumi)

"Some...like, a naturally formed cave, or was something like a fortress made?" (Gaelion)

"It'll vary between bandits. This time I think it'll be a cave." (Naofumi)

"Then it'll be hard. This area has an extraordinary amount of caves."
(Gaelion)

"I see" (Naofumi)

Somehow chances to talk with Gaelion are increasing. I can talk with him normally, so even though he's a pitiable dragon I might be relying on him. Or rather, besides Fuol he's a rare male after all. Honestly, the conversations are comfortable.

"Then I will go higher to look for figures of people" (Gaelion)

"I'll leave it to you" (Naofumi)

"Aa" (Gaelion)

With a basaa- Gaelion flapped his wings and flew off. Well, I shouldn't be injured even from a bandit surprise attack, so this mission will go smoothly. With a walking mood, I strolled the mountain road alone.

There suddenly--

"Assassin Sword!"

"Guha-!" (Naofumi)

Suddenly I hear a voice and at the same time with a gusa- I felt a stabbing pain from behind. Well, it's about to the extent of "That really hurt", still though-.... Blood is coming out. My armor let out a sound like it was breaking.

Penetrating my defense, what the heck! If it was any of the other guys wouldn't they die?

"That hurt! What are you doing so suddenly!" (Naofumi)

With a bun- I turned around with my shield and received the idiot's thrust coming from behind. I confirm the identity of the one thrusting at me with a ba- sound.

"It's a fair and square match...!"

"Wha-"

Being aware myself that someone unbelievable appeared, I became speechless. Their face was hidden by a suspicious skull mask, but from the figure, voice, and stance, the masked man's identity rose to the surface.

Amagi Ren, the Hero of the Sword took a stance while wielding a pitch black, sinister-looking sword.

"Chi-!"

Maybe it's my imagination his equipment appears much cheaper than before, his eyes that were visible through the mask's cracks looked strangely sulky. No, it's being said by me but, it's not to that level. Maybe he's worn out emotionally, his pupils look empty.

"Re, Ren!?" (Naofumi)

"...Hide...Sword" (Ren)

With a yura- sound Ren's figure disappeared like a heat haze. What? Did I see a weird phantom made by illusion magic or something? Anyway, using a skill like hide is exceptionally suspicious. Thus I also entered a battle state.

In the first place, while saying it's a fair and square match, then suddenly attacking from behind or using a skill that erases your presence, what kind of nerves do you have? Do you intend to say it is fair from a game system perspective? Nevertheless, his voice was strangely lacking strength. Oh well, let's focus on the opponent for now.

"Hate Reaction!" (Naofumi)

A skill that lures monsters. Actually it has one other hidden effect that was confirmed on Cal Mira Island. It can drag out the real form and reveal opponents lightly concealed by magic and skills. It was when Raphtalia released Phantom Sword, and I used Hate Reaction. Raphtalia's state of concealment was cancelled. Therefore detection can be used in cases of concealment.

Trying to circle around to my rear again or something, Ren was moving to my left rear. It was a bit of an idiotic scene but, conversely felt annoying. If you're going to use a skill like that then retreat for a moment.

"Ku..." (Ren)

"You're...Ren right" (Naofumi)

"..."

It would've been fine if it was an illusion but-...I did not expect him to be lurking around here. Could it be Witch is the bandit chief?

...Amazingly suitable.

She's princess caliber isn't she. If I had to say one or the other then she'd be better suited to be a pirate or bandit.

"Rakshasa Meteor Sword!" (Ren)

With the motion of Meteor Sword, Ren swung his sword at me. Using Meteor Sword, the black fragments of his sword scattered like meteorites, then faced and headed towards me.

"Chain Bind! Chain Needle!" (Naofumi)

Gu...I was poised with my shield, but a slow pain spreading. In that interval, Ren used consecutive skills.

"The punishment I have decided for the foolish sinner goes by the name of execution by decapitation. With no time to cry, simply feel despair from the separation of your head and body!"

"Guillotine!" (Ren)

Suddenly chains came from the ground and bound my body, moreover, the thorns on the chains pierced into my skin. And then an enormous bladed execution tool appeared above me. This attack...the atmosphere feels like a similar type to the Shield of Anger's Iron Maiden I think.

Ku...No way I'm going to receive and bear it.

"Don't mess with meeeeeeeeeeeee!" (Naofumi)

The chains were torn off, the falling blade restrained with my hand. That hurt. Blood is coming out.

However, it appears to have not been an unendurable attack. Gu...but my SP is completely depleted.

"Ren...that's enough!" (Naofumi)

Should I switch to Wrath Shield too? I simply open the menu and go to the refining screen.

For actual combat, +4 and a rarity of R should be enough. Blutopfer should also not be needed, Iron Maiden will finish this. Refining failed consecutive times with a bokinbokin sound. Don't mess around!

"Gyaooooooooooooo!" (Gaelion)

Gaelion sensed the strange situation and came after a bit. Good, just like that go pin Ren down!

"Transfer Sword!" (Ren)

"Ah, you!" (Naofumi)

Faster than I could grab him, Ren had disappeared with his transfer skill.

Wh, What was that?

Was it a monster or human that pretended to be Ren? No, it would have to be a considerable monster if it could penetrate my defense. Other than that, something like the Old Lady's attacks that ignore defense or an attack proportionate to defensive power would be needed or it wouldn't work.

The Assassin Sword skill was released right behind me. It's fine to presume from its skill, name, and concealed state that it's a certain kill attack from stealth and hiding. Furthermore...it somehow smells of the Wrath Series, with that sinister looking sword.

Out of nowhere, that attack from behind...is he a PK that often appears in net games or something. Identifying Ren, now that I know the bandit boss is not a resident of this world, this matter has completely become PK...Player Killer. Well he did say he had a background with suspicious games like VRMMO.

To begin with, having experienced serious things to that extent, you still feel like it's a game huh. If it wasn't me it'd go beyond instant death, wouldn't they be split in two? Really, I feel like vomiting.

"Are you ok?" (Gaelion)

"Aa...but" (Naofumi)

"I understand, I also saw it" (Gaelion)

Gaelion gave off bloodthirst. It was the arch-enemy that destroyed the lifestyle with Taniko, his own life, and his wife after all.

"What's with this mountain"

For the time being, I cast recovery magic to heal the wounds I received. Aah, incidentally because of Blutopfer's curse, that Guillotine attack skill really hurt.

Not only that, the recovery is slow....

Meeting up with Taniko, with the holy water's Ability Restoration magic taught by Sadina, I was narrowly able to have a complete recovery.

Bandit searching lasted only 30 minutes. I became extremely uneasy about the future of the mission this time.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 193 – Seven Sins

---

We found and searched the bandit's hideout, but Ren was nowhere to be found.

He will probably take up a cowardly tactic such as dividing us and picking us off one at a time.

"Now then... What should we do?" (Naofumi)

"I never thought the Hero of the Sword would be the boss..." (Female Knight)

"I wish it weren't so. He should have Witch backing him right now."
(Naofumi)

"The former princess... There's been an order issued to arrest her, but how long will she continue this idiotic cycle." (Female Knight)

We didn't find any signs of Witch in the hideout either.
She may be waiting to ambush us somewhere.

"Hey, you." (Naofumi)

I approach the bandit that seems to be managing the place.

It's quite a familiar face.

One that I've seen quite recently... Wait, isn't he the one who was apprehended by Ren, and embezzled by me?

Why is he in a place like this?

"Oy... Didn't you get captured?" (Naofumi)

These are the thieves that I always threaten with Firo.

It seems they've been left to manage this hideout.

They had an arrogant atmosphere around them, but as soon as they see me, they start shaking in their boots.

"Ah, this time we don't have Firo with us." (Naofumi)

"S-shut up! I don't care about that!" (Bandit)

"Instead, we have..." (Naofumi)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

And Gaelion steps forward in a fighting stance.

"Your opponent is this guy." (Naofumi)

"Wha!? He seems even more menacing than that man-eating bird!"
(Bandit)

"I'll leave that to your imagination." (Naofumi)

Well Dragons give off more of a man-eating vibe than Filo Rials.

I guess my arsenal is improving. The Bandits' faces are blue.

I think I can easily draw out some info on Ren.

"Ha. Ha. Ha. Now then, Gaelion." (Naofumi)

"Kyua?" (Gaelion)

"Dinner is ser-" (Naofumi)

"We surrender!" (Bandit)

The bandit surrenders immediately.

Some of the people around him also have looks of resignation. The people who don't know me are whispering among themselves.

"Hm? If you want to fight then come at me." (Naofumi)

I provoke them.

And some of the bandits lift their weapons and rush at me while yelling.

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

"Earth Break!" (Taniko)

"Tei!" (Atlas)

"What is your relation with these bandits, Iwatani-dono?" (Female Knight)

"These people's movements are too poor." (Rishia)

We have quite a few people with us, so it was extremely easy.

"W-what are these people!? Are they monsters!?" (Bandit)

"T-that's right. This one is a monster stronger than that oppressive leader."
(Bandit)

"Flattery will get you nowhere, now pay up." (Naofumi)

"Ku..." (Bandit)

"Anyways, why are you still running rampant after getting captured?"
(Naofumi)

It's weird that they got out so quickly.

They should be in this country's equivalent of a prison.

"... The carriage we were transported in was attacked by robbers, and we escaped." (Bandit)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

What a messy reason.

So the carriage was attacked... That sounds really cliché.

This country's security is surprisingly unreliable.

"With the help of the leader." (Bandit)

"Reeeeeeeen!" (Naofumi)

I unintentionally shout out.

So that idiot saved the bandits.

He released the bandits he apprehended himself.

"How long ago was that?" (Naofumi)

"Um... Around 2 weeks ago." (Bandit)

That means... Right after Witch invited him, he made a Bandit Organization.

That was around the time when Gaelion was born I think.

I met Witch when I was still carrying his egg.

"I see, then Ren... wait. Did your leader have a gaudy redheaded woman with him?" (Naofumi)

"Woman? The Leader was always alone." (Bandit)

Well, he did always act alone.

In a Net Game, he would be a so-called Solo Player.

It doesn't appear that these Bandits are covering for her.

They really don't know. They really haven't seen her.

So Witch isn't with Ren?

Now that I think about it, Ren's equipment was quite rusted.

Assaulting adventurers seems to be quite profitable. But he hasn't been able to sell and live off these and profits.

Is he earning money for the Witch?

Yeah, the treasures that the thieves have saved up is quite large.

Could the hidden leader have already been cast away?

... There are a lot of possibilities, but I can't jump to any conclusions now.

He had a sword that seemed to be from the Curse Series.

From its skills and power, it's definitely related.

But I don't know what sort of curse it is.

Wrath... I think the series relates to the Seven Deadly Sins.

The skill he used was... Guillotine I think.

Like Blutofer, it summoned a torture or execution device. It had similarities, but the skill was clearly a different one.

If it's a sin besides Wrath, it probably summons a different weapon.

I think the Sins were...

-Pride Envy, Wrath, Sloth, Greed, Gluttony, Lust.

I think.

For me, my hatred towards Witch, Trash and the people of this world awakened Wrath.

I don't think Ren... awakened Sloth or Lust.

But all the others seem plausible.

I don't think I will be able to identify it.

“Anyways, why did no one notice that the Bandit Leader was the Hero of the Sword?” (Naofumi)

“Most likely, no one would believe someone if they said it. The fact would merely remain as a rumor.” (Bandit)

He did hide his face with a mask. If I didn’t see his Sword, I might not have recognized him myself.

If they haven’t heard his voice before, they wouldn’t have been able to identify him…

If he was so easily recognizable, he would have been captured as soon as he was found out as the cause of the Spirit Turtle Incident.

If everyone could recognize a hero, there would be a problem.

Is that why he began wearing a mask and asking as an adventurer?

Also, the lower soldiers of this country probably don’t know the whole truth. The Queen and other country leaders agreed to make Melromark the only country without restrictions on the Heroes movements, in order to gather them in one place.

It seems that that this method successfully drew in Ren and Motoyasu. Hide Justice is acting as a mercenary in Zeltburg.

However… The residents of this world believe rumors very easily.

They try to act on their own sense of justice, and cause trouble for those who are said to be evil.

But in this vast world, it is difficult to tell what is justice and what is vice. Some may arbitrarily believe that the cause of their misfortunes are the heroes.

(TL: Thanks Obama)

But a ridiculous claim such as The Hero of the Sword being the Bandit Boss would never spread very far.

“Did none of the bandits here recognize the Hero of the Sword’s voice?”
(Naofumi)

“He threatened to kill me if I told anyone else. He told me not to start a commotion.” (Bandit)

Ah, so Ren also has a habit of concealing himself.
And that’s the reason for his mask.

“Honestly, I’m relieved. I can finally stop working here.” (Bandit)
“I see.” (Naofumi)

What exactly is Ren doing?
I think as I tie up the bandits and collect the spoils.

“I guess I should report to the Queen later.” (Female Knight)
“Go do so. I think I have sufficient Authority to take these thieves’ belongings, and no matter what you report, it is of no concern to me.”
(Naofumi)
“*Sigh*...” (Female Knight)

Female Knight’s personality is troublesome.
Why must I make a compromise here?
These bandits have tried to swindle me and call me a fake. They’re a perfect example of the corruption that plagues this world.

“Really... Are all of the Heroes like this?” (Female Knight)
“No Idea, but don’t compare me with that guy.” (Naofumi)

"I am under the impression that Iwatani-dono is the most wicked of them all." (Female Knight)

"I'm more earnest than those guys that just do whatever they want."
(Naofumi)

They're always just living in a game. When things look bad for them, they'll follow whoever offers them sweet words.

On the other hand, I distrust whoever tries to be kind to me.

Those people are the most suspicious.

It's no concern to me whether or not they can get back up after their footholds are crushed.

"This world revolves on money." (Naofumi) (TL: Unlock the Shield of Greed)

"*Sigh*..." (Female Knight)

The Female Knight sighs deeply.

What is everyone else doing, anyways?

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

"Gaelion! You can't play with that!" (Taniko)

Child Gaelion is diving into the hoard of treasure.

Dragons are a race that loves treasure.

He seems delighted. Taniko is trying to calm him down.

Rishia is looking around with a very troubled expression. Atlas is facing me with a flirtatious pose.

"As expected of Naofumi-sama. Your ability to instantly annihilate the bandits is amazing." (Atlas)

"Really?" (Naofumi)

I left it to Atlas and the others, and didn't really do anything, though...

Though I am treating them as a harvestable crop.

How should we bring these back? The current Gaelion will probably happily carry them.

"And so, Taniko. You were listening, right?" (Naofumi)

"... What of it?" (Taniko)

"Ha?" (Naofumi)

Taniko's father's enemy is hiding in the area, but she seems calm.

"The one who killed my father is definitely the Hero of the Sword. But I am not the type of person who would enthusiastically vie for revenge." (Taniko)

"I see. I thought it would motivate you." (Naofumi)

"... No." (Taniko)

Taniko tilts her head sideways.

"After being killed by the Sword Hero, Father never came home... So I don't want to fight him. I don't want to see him, and I want him to die in a ditch somewhere. But I have decided that I won't involve myself with him."

(Taniko)

"...I see..." (Naofumi)

Her resolve is good. This is the first time I respect Taniko.

I always hold grudges. I want to see the people I hate suffer.

When I act as such, Raphtalia and the others get angry, but that's just my personality.

I know I'll have to get over it sooner or later if I want to be happy.

I somehow feel like I've lost.

“...”

Gaelion quietly stares at Taniko.

“So, what does Iwatani-dono plan to do? I think that reporting to the country is the best option.” (Female Knight)

“Let’s see... It is quite a pain, but if we let the Hero of the Sword do as he pleases, it will most likely affect my social status.” (Naofumi)

I don’t want people coming to the conclusion that all the summoned heroes are villains.

I’ve finally gotten a force to oppose the wave. I don’t need this sort of trouble now.

... Yeah, the Hero of the Sword is a problem that we have to deal with.

I never thought he would commit crimes of his own accord.

He needs to feel the pressure of being pursued.

Like what I had to face during the time with that Second Princess assassination attempt.

He helped me during that pope incident, so I thought I would leave him be for now, but I never forget.

“In the end, my workload will just increase after this, right?” (Naofumi)

“R-right. The 7 star heroes will probably send you requests after this.”
(Female Knight)

“Then we better take care of this while we can.” (Naofumi)

If it's something I'll have to do eventually, then there's no helping it.

I'll have to enhance the Wrath Shield.

Recently I've been having nothing but failures. My ingredients aren't going to hold up.

"Atlas, can you sense Ren's location?" (Naofumi)

She can sense something outside of human perception. She should be able to find him.

My Hate Reaction has a cooldown time, so I can't use it consecutively. Its range is large, but I don't think I'll be able to approach Ren so easily.

"Yes, I think I can, but... He has a teleporting power similar to Naofumi-sama, right?" (Atlas)

"... yeah." (Naofumi)

That's right.

Even if Atlas manages to find him, if he finds himself at a disadvantage, then he'll run away.

To capture him, we'll have to take him out in one blow.

He's a hero that has something like the Curse Series. This will be difficult.

"GYAU!" (Gaelion)

Gaelion runs at me and puts me on his back.

He puts his head near my ear.

"I have an idea. Will you not leave it to me?" (Gaelion)

He speaks in a small voice so Taniko doesn't hear.

"Do you have a reason?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, I have a desire to broil his entrails, so I would like to have a rematch with him." (Gaelion)

"Understood." (Naofumi)

And in whispers, we discuss a plan.

"I'm putting Gaelion in charge of drawing him out. Everyone else is on standby until he gives the signal." (Naofumi)

"What are you deciding by yourself!?" (Taniko)

Taniko raises an objection. Well, it's her beloved dragon. I guess she doesn't want him to face the same fate as her father.

Rishia... is as nervous as always.

It's as if she hasn't grown at all.

"Can we leave it to you?" (Female Knight)

Female Knight looks troubled.

"GYAU!" (Gaelion)

Gaelion makes a confident pose.

However, Gaelion.

Remember this. Child Gaelion says Kyua.

"Rishia, go with Taniko and keep watch outside." (Naofumi)

"Listen to me!" (Taniko)

"Gaelion says he wants to do it." (Naofumi)

"GYAU!" (Gaelion)

"Gaelion can't do it!" (Taniko)

"GYAUGYAU!" (Gaelion)

Gaelion makes several gestures in protest.

If only he would speak...

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

He returns his mind to the child one.

This one gestures as well.

It seems both dragons want to duke it out with the Sword.

"Mu... I don't care anymore!" (Taniko)

Taniko pouts and walks off.

Rishia rushes after her.

"Now then, Wyndia is away." (Gaelion)

"It Spoke-!?" (Female Knight)

Female Knight jumps back in surprise.

Ah, she didn't know.

I never told anyone, so the people who know that he can speak are quite few.

"Let me introduce myself once more. My name is Gaelion. I am the Dragon Emperor Fragment that acted as Wyndia's father." (Gaelion)

Female Knight points at Gaelion.

"I have a grudge against the Sword Hero, so I want to be the one to lure him out. Also, I have an idea." (Gaelion)

"What sort of idea?" (Naofumi)

"I haven't tested if it was possible yet... and the time between shots is quite long, but..." (Gaelion)

Gaelion begins explaining his idea to us.

"I see... That might work well. I'll leave it to you." (Naofumi)

"Much appreciated." (Gaelion)

"Somehow... I was surprised with Firo-dono, but it seems that strange monsters do gather around you, Iwatani-dono." (Female Knight)

Female knight scratches her head as she speaks.

Why does she seem so amazed?

With that attitude, you won't survive in that village.

Everyone there grows quite weirdly.

"Fufufu... I'll let that brat taste the true terror of the reincarnated me."
(Gaelion)

"Watch out for his surprise attacks from his concealed state." (Naofumi)

"Who the hell do you think I am? I'll never let such low class attacks effect me." (Gaelion)

His concealment skill isn't that high in level.

My Hate Reaction is unable to lift the current Raphtalia's invisibility magic.
Gaelion'll probably notice him.

Though I didn't notice him, and took a critical to the back.

Without the Shield's protection, I am but an ordinary person.

I don't know exactly how it works, but I'm merely using its power.
I can't call this power my own.

The only thing I can really brag about since coming to this world is my knowledge of the language.

But that's common sense to a large part of the population, so it's nothing special.

To draw the Hero of the sword out, Gaelion became the bait.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 194 – Dragon Sanctuary

---

“The problem is…” (Naofumi)

“What is it, Iwatani-dono?” (Female Knight)

“Will Ren go out of his way to target a lone dragon chick?” (Naofumi)

“Isn’t that the entire basis on which this plan is relying?” (Female Knight)

But he seems like the type of person to immediately pick a fight if he knows it’s an opponent he can beat.

Gaelion looks like a child. He’ll probably attack.

As long as Gaelion senses Ren, things will probably go fine.

As long as he pretends not to notice, he can launch a surprise attack.

If that sword is of the curse series, then the sin that would make him attack the lone Gaelion would probably be…

Gluttony… Ren may attack him to sate his desire for EXP.

He seems to like to have a high level, and Solo Players like him generally have such tendencies.

If those feelings of desire were to reach their peak, then he would definitely attack any lone enemy.

Another possibility is Greed… The fact that he’s become a bandit leader, and is collecting treasure may come from his desire for wealth.

I want to say that I have a monopoly on Greed, but I never unlocked that series.

It may be that each weapon has a different curse it can unlock.

Last is perhaps pride.

People who believe that level is everything, and look down on those of low level are common in Net Games.

Perhaps his lone wolf-like attitude is actually a form of conceit.

No, that's probably Itsuki.

There's also a possibility it's of the older variant.

The 7 deadly sins have changed over the years. There were original 8.

Gluttony, Lust, Greed, Dejection, Wrath, Sloth, Ostentation, and Pride.

(TL: Ostentation is pretty much showing off. This list is from Evagrius Ponticus' Logismoi (A.D. 4th Century). The version listed in the bible is once again a different one (Proverbs 6:16-19).)

Envy wasn't present, and Dejection and Ostentation were in its place.

Eventually, Dejection was fused with Sloth, and Ostentation with Pride.

Additionally, Envy was tacked on.

If it's the old version, then Ostentation, devoting yourself to showing off your possessions to others, is possible.

In Online Games, strength is merely an illusion, but an individual's attachment to such strength may be considered as such.

Of course, one can also gain true experiences and strengths through games as well.

In my former world, it was possible to find work with online connections. I had an online friend who asked me whether I wanted to work for them when I graduated college.

I had met him before in real life as well.

I'm not sure his true intentions, but he said something like, 'Your upfront personality and Guild master Charisma are wanted in this company.'

Now that I think about it, perhaps he was merely praising me to make me work harder down the line.

But from Ren's personality and relationships (lack thereof), it doesn't seem likely that he's had such an experience.

I can imagine him being a lone player going around and showing off the rare items he got off of a boss.

It's not like he was the strongest, so having him brag over every little thing would just get annoying. As I guild master, that's my opinion.

But there are plenty who find joy in doing as such, and that's one of the very reasons for the profitability of the Net Game Industry.

Perhaps Ostentation is the one that fits Ren best. But Itsuki fits it as well.

The activation requirements for the Curse Series are still a mystery.

Perhaps it's an explosion of emotions equivalent to the destruction of one's heart?

But... If I don't discover the specific triggers, I may be in trouble.

Greed is especially dangerous.

This is something I can understand well.

I have learned to control my Wrath, and I have companions to help me.

But Greed would make one covet wealth, right?

When I think of the pile of treasure behind me, a dark desire stirs in my heart.

And an unquenchable desire at that.

... I get the feeling that if I keep thinking about it, my mind will get corroded, so I switch my train of thought.

Anyways, the Curses that Ren is likely to have are Gluttony, Greed, Pride, and Ostentation.

Based on this, he will probably attack the lone Gaelion, as all of these sins deal with the gathering of EXP.

The problem is that he assaulted me, the Hero of the Shield.

Even if he beats me, I don't think he'll get much EXP.

And there are way too many risks involved in killing humans in this country.

"Ah, that's right." (Naofumi)

I approach the bandits we tied up.

"When your leader fought, did anyone die?" (Naofumi)

"No, there were no deaths. He knocked them unconscious without dealing the finishing blow, and left them in the middle of a field after stripping them of their equipment." (Bandit)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

So he still has the conscience not to commit murder. Even though he tried to assassinate me from behind.

Perhaps he was thinking rationally, and first tried to weaken me, the one with the strongest defense.

From that train of thought, Gluttony is out.

The other possibilities are...

"Iwatani-dono!" (Female Knight)

My thoughts are interrupted as Female Knight calls out to me.

“What’s up?” (Naofumi)

“That!” (Female Knight)

Female Knight points outside the cave to the spout of fire streaming above the forest.

“So you found him?” (Naofumi)

That’s probably Gaelion’s signal.

I thought this would take a few days, but it seems Ren’s still close by.

… Transfer Sword has probably finished cooling down.

Even with the Curse Series eroding his mind, he’s thinking quite well.

He hasn’t lost his rationality.

“The problem is… we can’t help until the preparations are done.” (Naofumi)

“Yeah.” (Female Knight)

The idea Gaelion suggested required some time to set up.

If we approach before that, then Ren will simply run away.

No.

“Hey, can you use any concealment magic?” (Naofumi)

“I’m not Raphtalia. I never learned how to do it.” (Female Knight)

“I see…” (Naofumi)

I thought we could Use Ren’s strategy and sneak up on him to unleash a powerful attack while he was distracted with Gaelion.

I never thought Raphtalia’s absence would be this irritation.

Taniko is skilled at some magics, but I don’t think she has any concealment magics.

… Wait, we have Rishia.

She's a jack of all trades. She may have something.

"Rishia!" (Naofumi)

I exit the cave, and approach Taniko and Rishia. Both of them look troubled.

"W-what is it?" (Rishia)

"Can you use any concealment magics?" (Naofumi)

"I know some low level ones…" (Rishia)

"What sort of effects do they have?" (Naofumi)

"Um, the range is me, and one other person. The time limit is one minute."
(Rishia)

That's surprisingly low.

Even when she just knew the basics, Raphtalia was able to hide for quite some time.

"So it's a different magic from Raphtalia?" (Naofumi)

"Raphtalia-san's magic affinity is different, so…" (Rishia)

It seems that Tanukis specialize in light and dark magic.

Even though it's a low rank, I guess it's amazing that Rishia even knows it.

On top of Hengen Musou, she can use almost all types of magic.

I guess it's fine.

"Then Me and Rishia will approach Ren and Gaelion to observe the situation.

If the plan succeeds, I'll call you so be prepared to come over." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Female Knight)

"Will Gaelion be alright?" (Taniko)

Taniko looks worried.

"Yeah, he'll be fine." (Naofumi)

Though he lost once, the current Gaelion is several times stronger than the other one, at least according to the older one.

I don't think he'll lose too easily.

It will be troublesome if Taniko rushes over in worry.

"Then, let's go Rishia." (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Rishia)

"Be prepared to come to our aide." (Naofumi)

"I shall also assist." (Atlas)

"Got it." (Naofumi)

I leave Atlas, Female Knight and Taniko, and depart with Rishia to observe Gaelion's battle.

We reach what I think is just beyond the edge of Ren's perception.

Keeping as low a profile as possible, we watch from the trees.

"GYAUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUU!" (Gaelion)

"Tei! Derya!" (Ren) (TL: Sound of putting effort into swinging a bladed object)

Ren and Gaelion are locked in a bout of fierce combat.

Gaelion is in his giant form. He avoids Ren's attacks as he fires his breath.

He's putting up a good fight.

Ren is moving at quite a fast pace. His style probably relies mostly on speed. Since I'm in charge of defense, I also focus on speed, and physical ability is a must. But people don't seem to understand this.

Ah, I started complaining.

Well, if they can get past the shield, then there's no real point.

Anyways, if we get any closer, Ren will probably notice us.

「Hide... Sword!」 (Ren)

Ren instantly disappears.

“Fool... Did you think such weak abilities would make me lose track of thee!?” (Gaelion)

Gaelion shouts out as he swings his tail at the area to his right which appeared to be empty space.

If I strain my eyes, I can see dust clouds rising as he steps.

There is also a trail of broken grass. Even from here, I can get an idea of his location.

It seems that Gaelion can sense him fully.

“Fueee... Gaelion-chan is speaking.” (Rishia)

“Ah, so Rishia didn't know either.” (Naofumi)

I didn't really tell anybody. And of course I keep it hidden in front of Taniko. Raphtalia probably doesn't know for the same reasons. I wonder how surprised she'll be.

「Flashing Sword!」 (Ren)

“That again!? You really don’t learn!” (Gaelion)

Gaelion uses his claws to hide his face as Ren uses his skill.

The area is illuminated for a moment.

“You keep using small, superficial skills… What are you trying to accomplish?” (Gaelion)

「… Rakshasa Meteor Sword!」 (Ren)

Gaelion twists his body to avoid the black projectiles coming out of the sword.

He’s putting up a really good fight.

Will he just win like this?

No, Ren will run when he is at a disadvantage. There must be a reason why he hasn’t run yet.

“There!” (Gaelion)

Gaelion unleashes his breath attack on Ren.

At that point, I clench my fist, thinking it was Gaelion’s victory.

But I was naïve.

Ren knocks away the Breath with his hand.

So an attack of that caliber isn’t going to do it.

Should I really be doing nothing and watching?

If I get closer, I’ll get in Gaelion’s way, and I may miss a chance.

Thinking back, it was quite good luck to have encountered him so quickly anyways.

If we let this opportunity get away, Ren probably won't approach us carelessly again.

『I, Gaelion now order the heavens and the earth. Cut and fasten the knot of reason- 』 (Gaelion)

While battling, Gaelion continuously chants magic incantations.

『The Creation of my territory, the reason of my existence-』 (Gaelion)

It seems he's building up quite a spell.

Ren seems oblivious to this, as he continues to unleash his skills.

The previous Ren would have noticed by now... So the Curse Series does deplete one's wisdom.

If he were a simple wild dragon with no fragment, I guess Gaelion would have fallen by now.

I don't know what sort of expression he has under his mask, but I think Ren's getting impatient.

Using his game knowledge, he must be thinking something like, 'This species of dragon shouldn't be anywhere near this tough.'

Even so...

"... Hey, Rishia." (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Rishia)

"When you look at the Hero of the Sword's stance, does anything come to mind?" (Naofumi)

"Let's see... Is it some sort of style? His footwork is strange." (Rishia)

Is it something from Kendo? He's using a shuffling movement, and I think I can see the Jodan Stance.

(TL: one of the stances of Kendo, I'm not really that familiar. <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/J%C5%8Ddan-no-kamae>)

But am I imagining it? Something's strange.

Recently, I've been sparring with Atlas and the castle soldiers so I can tell. In a real battle, Kendo isn't all that useful.

Of course, I can't really tell you its shortcomings, but Ren's swordsmanship and footwork seems a bit awkward.

He probably learned a bit of Kendo, and mixed in his own style.

Based on his age, he probably didn't get that far in it, and he spent a lot of time on VRMMOs, so he probably didn't devote too much time on it.

And so, after seeing masters such as Granny and Female Knight, his style seems a bit sloppy.

I look at Ren's movements.

His strokes are full of confidence, but he isn't putting his back into it, and he's swinging his blade quite recklessly.

He's relying on the abilities of the sword, and not displaying much of his own skill...

"Um, Female Knight-san can fight with much more elegance." (Rishia) (TL: Nicknames are spreading)

"Right." (Naofumi)

Female Knight's straightforward personality can be seen in her blade, and she has no wasted movement.

I've seen her and Raphtalia cross blades before during training, so Ren's swordsmanship looks childish.

Gaelion seems to have gotten a sense for it, and none of Ren's attacks are hitting.

But I guess there's no helping it.

Even if he's a hero here, he was originally a civilian from peaceful Japan. In this uncivilized world, Ren would have his share of troubles.

『And here, I proclaim the creation of my sanctuary. The dominion of a Dragon.』 (Gaelion)

"It seems it will be over soon. Rishia, let's get closer." (Naofumi)

"Ah, yes!" (Rishia)

"I, who has understood the source of power commands. Let the truth once again be read forth and manifested. Hide our form from the world." (Rishia)

「Faust Hiding!」 (Rishia)

The magic calls forth a rain of leaves that wash over us, and cause us to become invisible.

The time limit was one minute, right?

We start running forward as soon as the magic finishes.

... As we're running, I can see that we occasionally become semi-visible. It seems that the quality is lower in comparison to Raphtalia's.

"Mu!?" (Ren)

Damn. Ren noticed us.

「Transfer-」 (Ren)

"Too Late! 「Dragon Sanctuary!」 " (Gaelion)

With Gaelion's magic, a barrier like field is deployed around the area.

What is it specifically? I think as I look at it. Suddenly, I feel a light jolt on my skin. I get the feeling that something intangible just passed through my body.

「- Sword!」 (Ren)

Ren shouts out.

However...

"What!?" (Ren)

Ren's words are colored with surprise.

Gaelion had used his experiences 'til now... As a Wrath Dragon and an Emperor. He managed to make a skill that blocked off the use of teleportation.

"The game of tag ends here, Ren." (Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 195 – Greed

---

"Ku..." (Ren)

Ren let out a vexed sound.

Looks like it turned out well. The thing Gaelion planned with us was stopping the transfer skill. Referencing from when we did not run from Gaelion's former territory before, it seems Gaelion researched and was able to produce the magic. Normally it awakens the magic element from the vicinity, a power within the extent of power enhancing Dragon Pulse magic, but this time a large amount of magic element was activated to interfere and obstruct or so I heard.

Supposedly, specific attributes of normal human magic could be sealed if this magic was figured out. For example, the fighting power of Melty and Sadina would greatly diminish if water was sealed.

"Okay! Rishia! Fire a signalling magic!" (Naofumi)

"Y, Yes!" (Rishia)

My order was followed. The effects of concealment magic wore off on Rishia as a magic aria set in. Immediately after, magic flew upwards. Okay, everyone should gather within a few minutes. Until then it'll be fine if pursuit is maintained so there is no escape.

"..." (Ren)

Ren understood he could not escape, readying his sword. I'll acknowledge you for not losing your fighting spirit in this situation.

"Finally time to pay the piper huh. Ren." (Naofumi)

"Piper? That's my line" (Ren)

Running from reality as usual it appears huh.

"A guy who can't do anything without numbers looking at me. Even being accompanied by a dragon...let me judge personally" (Ren)

"...Do you understand your own standing?" (Naofumi)

I can't even say I'm surprised. Is the equation "dragon=evil" or something? Pride's Curse...?

"A coward who challenges me to a match with two, I won't lose to you!"
(Ren)

"Is concealing yourself against an opponent who has no attack power, even using a certain kill attack from behind not considered cowardly?" (Naofumi)

"Not being able to sense it is the fault" (Ren)

"So you say" (Naofumi)

As I thought, it's "my rules" full throttle.

His speech and conduct are somehow strange too, I wonder if his inner thoughts are coming to the surface. Almost like, or rather just like those who often appear claiming to be strongest in net games.

By Ren's terms, not having companions is bad, though it's fine to say dim things, in the end returning inflammatory words with inflammatory words will become a pissing contest. Frankly, I want to say his defeat was because of a lack of useful pawns, but he's not someone who'll listen.

"Here I come!" (Ren)

"Listen to me--" (Naofumi)

Ren started running faster than I could give caution. Then facing me with his sword he--or not, his target became Rishia as he ran.

Oi....

There's definitely something strange about the current Ren. Inconsistency or how should I put it, lacking direction.

"Fue!?" (Rishia)

Rishia raised her voice as the attack suddenly changed direction. This guy, aiming at the weakest looking person in this situation.... It's the basics of tactics but targeting the weakest first, where did fair and square go. Nevertheless, you've made a big mistake. Rishia is now....

"Deryaaaaaaaaaaa!" (Ren)

Ren brandished towards Rishia, letting out an enthusiastic shout at the same time. But Rishia promptly leaned over as if breaking her stance, threw a rope-attached throwing knife at a nearby tree, and quickly took distance with a su-. While in the motion of taking distance, four iron skewer-like things were thrown towards Ren.

"That surprised me" (Rishia)

"Rather I'm the one surprised" (Naofumi)

What was with that quick evasion. It pretty much took only an instant. Isn't it only this fellow who fights like from another world? No, it can be seen so it's not like it can't be defended against.

Where did she even get those iron skewers? Is it a hidden weapon of the Peerless Transformation style or something?

"Ku..." (Ren)

The skewers did not stick, but Ren let out a troubled voice since it did not go as he'd thought.

"It's troublesome if you forget about me" (Gaelion)

Gaelion threatened while flapping his wings with a basaa-. Oh yeah. It's three versus one, not like I don't feel unfair at all but it's a habit. Well, originally I can't fight alone after all.

"However, to only possess strength of this extent...the disappointment is tremendous" (Gaelion)

"I didn't see anything like damage being inflicted" (Naofumi)

"Of course I held back. Although, I shall not deny I lack the strength to defeat him." (Gaelion)

"Is that so" (Naofumi)

The more hands, the easier it gets I guess.

"Oi. Witch isn't coming?" (Naofumi)

"..." (Ren)

Ren's face distorted at my question and I sense the swelling presence of an ominous aura emanating from his sword.

"It appears you chose the wrong words. His power has increased" (Gaelion)

Mu...questioning him poorly backfired. In which case, getting information will be difficult. I wanted to at least know where that fellow was at though.

"Well then I'll have you let me get serious. Hero of the Shield. Take out the abominable Cursed Shield" (Gaelion)

"No" (Naofumi)

With the Wrath Shield at it's initial state from failed enhancements, the effects of the curse just makes it an item that puts my self in danger. Of course, it wouldn't be to that extent if I use the certain kill Blutofer, but I've been told that I could even die if I use it again while cursed. It's not that I don't have a technique using Iron Maiden to submerge, but I could probably win without it.

"It's okay. I have secret measures. Moreover...there is no need to drag it on" (Gaelion)

"Really-?" (Naofumi)

It's pretty suspicious to me. Ma, it should be fine just quickly changing shields if the corrosion gets out of hand.

I put my hand on my shield and change to the Wrath Shield. As expected, my vision becomes black with a bashi-.

...I still have my reason.

Hateful emotions are surging upwards, but still within bearable range.

Hm? 3:00 appears in my field of vision and decreases to 2:59.

"Gyaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!" (Gaelion)

Gaelion's body is swelling with a black shine. A sinister jet-black aura, overflowing sentiments of rage. An appearance like a Wrath Dragon. Materialized there was Gaelion as a Great Dragon.

"Fumu...my power is swelling" (Gaelion)

Letting out a dark flame, Gaelion spoke. A-...probably, this number is the transformation time. Since with Firo it lasted five minutes, the time is lower. Well, it probably also depends on how much ability Gaelion possesses.

Even so, Gaelion...what a villain-like appearance. It's starting to feel like I've become the boss-like character. The truth is that the Hero of the Sword is the bandit chief though.

"Lowly demon that takes the pretense of a hero. I shall pass you judgement!" (Ren)

Not giving up, Ren roars. Aren't you not looking at reality? If the opponent you've had a hard fight with until now powered up, no matter what you consider you can't win right.

"Awaken! My power! In battles I get stronger!" (Ren)

Oww! So painful! Chills ran down my back.

Stop going so far with your chuunibyou! This is settled.

Because what Ren awakened without killing was his chuunibyou.

There are those guys who suddenly, after cruelly committing atrocities until then, become enlightened and stop killing in anime right. I wonder if this is like that.

"How foolish...I will let you witness the difference in our powers" (Gaelion)

Oi...Gaelion, that line is for the losing side. Why are we only acting and speaking like the villainy role.

As the time fell to 2:30, Gaelion inhaled a large amount of air. This appearance...I guess there are Wrath Dragons too. The inhaled air was probably for a Breath. Because of the time limit, it seems to be a powerful Breath.

"Take this!" (Gaelion)

While flapping his wings, Gaelion let out a breath toward the ground. Oi! I'm here too! It was a jet-black flame. No mistake, it is the flame of Dark Curse Burning S.

"Instant - Dragonslaying!" (Ren)

Ren cut the flame, slashing at Gaelion. A fighting spirit in the form of a dragon flew up. I think I'll simply commend being able to cut through the flame.

Well, it is of no concern to me.

"Tsuveit - Aura" (Naofumi)

I chant support magic for Gaelion.

"...Fumu. How lukewarm" (Gaelion)

Maybe my support magic had an effect, Gaelion caught Ren's attack with one hand. The dragon made from fighting spirit was grabbed by the neck and crushed.

"Oh yes, you may not know it, but now I shall allow you to witness a dragon's...Dragon Emperor's serious Breath"

"I, Dragon Emperor Gaelion command the heavens, command the Earth, cut off reason, connect. My power. Manifest a strength to destroy the foolish one before me!" (Gaelion)

I saw the development of countless magic formations overlapping in front of Gaelion. Even though you had such a thing, why was it not used until now. I hate stinginess you know.

No, could it not be used? He's a Great Dragon right now as well, so that possibility is high.

"Fuee...somehow it feels dangeroussss" (Rishia)

"I suppose so. Let's run" (Naofumi)

We quickly escaped.

"Like I'll let youuuuuuuuu!" (Ren)

Ren is boldly attacking Gaelion. Energetically. I myself wish to pass on attacking in such a situation. Such work is for Heroes.

"I will become stronger than anyone. Yes...my desire has no limit...I will awaken to even more power in this place and defeat you, my desire has no limit! Feeding off of desire, I will become the strongest. Awaken power, triumph, prepare equipment, collect gold, increase power, become the strongest of all, everything wishes for me!" (Ren)

Is his head okay? This guy.

How many times are you gonna say the same thing. Desire, desire, annoying.

Awakening powers? You've already awakened as the Hero of the Shield....
Do you become that ridiculous if the curse erodes far enough? There's only a painful guy left now.

...Somehow, I've distinguished what curse Ren committed.

--Greed.

But I wonder why. It feels like a very pitiable small greed. It's hard to call that greed.

Greed is so to say, a bottomless desire right. To want anything and everything, desire with no bounds.

In Ren's case, it can be summarized by his wanting to become strong. Of course I'm not saying that is not a desire. But, guys truly driven by desire are more unsightly, coveting anything and everything.

After all, to be involved with just power...ah, I see, I understand why.

If I had to say, the process was the objective.

Desire is obtaining something because you want it. This has been obtained, but you also want that other one. That kind of feeling.

But in Ren's case, becoming strong is his intent, the reason he wants to become strong is not to attain something else. The result and process are reversed.

I understand all the more because I've had a similar experience. Previously, when I was peddling...I should have been earning gold to get equipment, but my objective became earning gold, something like that. Would the Curse Series lend power even to this degree.

That would also become the reason why it can't beat my rage. No matter how much you increase the power of the Curse, with that greed, you cannot beat my rage. That is a transient greed.

"I am the strongest hero who will save the worlddddddd! Obediently admit your defeattttttttttttttttttttttttttttttt!" (Ren)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 196 - Reality VS Ideal

---

"...Foolishness" (Gaelion)

Gaelion gazed at Ren with scornful eyes. I'm sure I have those same eyes right now, probably.

"Foolish one who acts superior. It is the way of the world for the strongest to be overtaken. The knowledge of the Dragon Emperor who was once the strongest speaks of such. Know that being the strongest is but a tower built from sand" (Gaelion)

The time left is 1:30.

"Let that one be carved! Flames of purgatory! Prominence - Dark Nova!" (Gaelion)

With a ka-, Gaelion unleashed a Breath with the might of a sea of flames towards Ren.

"Instant - Dragonslayer! Chain - Bind! Change Chain!" (Ren)

Ren boldly fired consecutive skills, but--.

"Useless! Foolish Hero of the Sword!" (Gaelion)

All of Ren's attacks were erased by the might of Breath.

"Not yet! It's not over yet!" (Ren)

Ren's sword changed once again. Grow Up huh? Certainly, there was the thing with my shield of anger changing into the Wrath Shield. There is no doubt this looks just like that. In that case, the chances of Ren's sword becoming stronger are high.

"That's right. I've discovered a new technique! Rakshasa - Meteor Sword" (Ren)

You just used that earlier!

Speaking as if you've just discovered a technique you've been using until now. Even by manga principles, that does not apply to techniques you've already put to use once. What is this. Really.

"For this sinner the punishment I have chosen is crushing by God's name! Using what is mine, have this one receive God's attack!"

"Goltaofushtant!" (Ren)

Ren raised his sword to the heavens and out of nowhere, gold and silver treasures gathered, forming a human shape in the air. Profoundly ominous, it was a gold statue made with extremely bad taste. The statue changed its shape and descended towards Gaelion.

What happened to Rakshasa - Meteor Sword. No matter how you look aren't you using a different technique. The means are gradually becoming foul. Are you going to say this is the Greed of wanting to win.

That's...probably, a skill equal to Blutofer huh. The compensation is the caster's possessions huh. Ah, so that's why Ren's equipment is so poor?

"Take this" (Ren)

"I can't even say I'm shocked. Decide your aim" (Gaelion)

"E!?" (Naofumi)

"Fueeeeeee!?" (Rishia)

Gaelion flaps his wings with a basa-, scoops up Rishia and I with both arms, and flies away. The distasteful gold statue summoned by Ren descended with the shape of a gigantic hand, but we had already escaped out of it's range. Only one minute was remaining by the way. Getting quite irritated, I'm at my limit.

"Oi. Hurry and finish it" (Naofumi)

"Fueeeee" (Rishia)

"Fumu, the conclusion has already been reached" (Gaelion)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"Did you think I was only breathing flames?" (Gaelion)

While I was wondering what he was saying, the sky was dyed red. What, a sphere that looked like meteorite magic fell from the sky in a second.

"Ku..." (Ren)

The statue Ren made instantly fell apart.

"Well then, Hero of the Shield. You surely understand what you must do"
(Gaelion)

"Indeed" (Naofumi)

Though there isn't much time left, it's not that I won't do it. Gaelion even left the best part. Letting me deal the finishing blow.

Kukuku, how long I have been eagerly waiting for this moment.

"Shield Prison!" (Naofumi)

The shield's cage appeared towards Ren who was trying to escape. Oh, Shield Prison's range is longer than before. Is it an effect of the Wrath Shield?

A gan gan sound came from inside. Ma, the Ren now will take a couple seconds to destroy it. Just that much time is plenty.

"Change Shield (Attack) !" (Naofumi)

Let's change to the Spike Shield. With a bashin-, damage was inflicted on Ren.

"Well then" (Naofumi)

Letting loose Iron Maiden would be fine, but.... The sun created by Gaelion had already fell towards Ren in an instant.

"Gyaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa--" (Ren)

The shield's prison was destroyed, Ren's scream and a flash like the sun enveloped the area.

The flash seemed to go on for eternity. It actually lasted probably 5 seconds.

"The short time it lasts relative to it's cost is a demerit" (Gaelion)

We landed on the burnt ground. Ah, the Wrath Shield has been changed to another shield for a while now. I am not dumb enough to maintain the transformation with less than thirty seconds. With that said, Gaelion returned to the size of four meters.

"Wouldn't there not be a trace remaining?" (Naofumi)

"I had no intention of holding back. If he is to die from this, then that is merely the extent of his existence" (Gaelion)

"Fueee...the Hero of the Sword has been killed" (Rishia)

Hmm. Nothing to do with me.

"Guha..." (Ren)

Turning to face the voice, aside from being burned black Ren was physically fine, while his mask fell after being charred and broken.

"Tough, huh-" (Naofumi)

Quite sturdy, this guy. Was it the influence of the Curse Series? Just vanish without leaving a trace after receiving such a flashy attack. Good grief....

"Well then, Gaelion" (Naofumi)

"Umu" (Gaelion)

Gaelion gently stepped on the fallen Ren, opened his mouth widely towards the head, prepared his fangs and--.

"What are you doing!"

Female knight shouted as she approached.

"What, you say, just giving Ren the finishing blow?" (Naofumi)

"If the hero can be captured then capture him!" (Female Knight)

"He might run away though" (Naofumi)

"Was that not why all paths of escape were made invalid!" (Female Knight)

"Ha! I accepted the request to subjugate the bandit boss, not to capture the Hero of the Sword" (Naofumi)

"What you are saying is sophism!" (Female Knight)

Female knight glares sternly at Gaelion with a ki-. Gaelion did not care and was about to bite.

"Stop!"

This time it was Taniko who came and raised her voice at Gaelion.

"That's not good Gaelion! Certainly that person is my father's enemy but, you can't do such a thing!" (Taniko)

"What are you saying! That guy is an evil to this world! More people will meet disaster if he's not killed!" (Naofumi)

I shouted, and Taniko just shook her head objecting with a bunbun sound.

"If we kill this person, next time it might be us who are killed. I don't want something like that!" (Taniko)

"No problem! Even if this guy is killed there will be those who rejoice but none who would mourn!" (Naofumi)

"That's not possible!" (Taniko)

Good grief, Taniko's righteousness is depressing. How much do you think I've wanted to make this guy drink boiling water.

"Wyndia-san, that is mistaken" (Atla)

"Eh?" (Taniko)

"If you show hostility once, you can no longer withdraw" (Atla)

"Why is that!" (Taniko)

"If you have sympathy now, the debt will someday fall on Naofumi-sama" (Atla)

Atla spoke with an unusually strong tone. Come to think of it, Atla is from the Hakuko...they were a war-minded species if I recall. Also taking from what I've heard Fohl say, the chances that they have the mindset of a military family is high. Either way, more than Taniko's idealistic words, I feel more familiarity with Atlas' views.

"I will answer contrarily. Even if this person is not harmed now, the hatred will not cease" (Atla)

"Atla, what are you saying!" (Female Knight)

"Then I wish to inquire, why is there a grudge between this person and Naofumi-sama?" (Atla)

"Hah...?" (Female Knight)

"Unfortunately, I do not wish to understand all of Naofumi-sama's thoughts. However, the gentle Naofumi-sama has been made to go this far. I think they are quite an evil person. And if this person is a hindrance to Naofumi-sama, I would gladly dirty my hands" (Atla)

"You...that idea is dangerous!" (Female Knight)

"Please say anything you wish. However, I will continue to stay by Naofumi-sama's side no matter what" (Atla)

Atla and Female Knight started glaring at each other. Though I say that, Atla can't see.

"Fuee...let's stop this..." (Rishia)

Rishia was just getting flustered and wandering around with oro oro uru uru sounds. Things like idealism and realism, either way is fine.

Right now, I want to kill Ren.

"Gaelion! Give the finishing blow!" (Naofumi)

And, as I was giving the order, Gaelion who changed to young dragon mode flew towards me.

"Why did you return. Quickly kill him!" (Naofumi)

Because Taniko was here, he whispered near my ear while acting playfully.

"I also had that intention. I recalled something" (Gaelion)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"Carelessly killing a hero must not be done. The Seven Stars are still fine, but something unthinkable will happen if it is one of the four saints...supposedly. That much is firmly engraved on the few fragments as something that must be prevented" (Gaelion)

"Don't lose your nerves from the kid's words! This good-for-nothing dragon!" (Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 197 – Flash

---

"If you won't do it then I will--" (Naofumi)

"No, I shall do it. Though I hold no grudge" (Atla)

Atla went forward saying that. Hou, I must raise my evaluation of Atla.

"Enough of that!" (Female Knight)

"You're in the way! Move! Shield Prison!" (Naofumi)

Because Female Knight was being annoying, this should silence her.

"Hmph!" (Female Knight)

Female Knight easily destroyed the Prison with a bakin- and got out. Oi. To destroy the prison in one blow when Ren needed a few seconds, just what kind of specs is Peerless Transformation style hiding.

"If Iwatani-dono has that intention, I also have my own thoughts" (Female Knight)

Female Knight drew her sword and took a stance toward me.

"...Having me as your opponent, I'm guessing you do know the significance of that?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, Iwatani-dono, can I have you obediently withdraw your weapon? I also want to avoid having you as an opponent if possible" (Female Knight)

"You have the prospect of winning?" (Naofumi)

"I wouldn't do this if not. Moreover I have no path of retreat" (Female Knight)

Honestly, this fellow doesn't know her own place. I've seen Female Knight's strength from the fights up until now. From what I saw, her status and fighting ability greatly fall short of both Raphtalia and Rishia. Yet still wanting to fight me, even foolishness should have limits.

"I've said this before. If the Hero of the Sword is captured, I said I'd personally educate him" (Female Knight)

"Like I'd know" (Naofumi)

"...That's fine. I'll have you be my opponent seriously" (Female Knight)

"Fuee!? Naofumi-san. Please put down your weapon here!" (Rishia)

Rishia says toward me while being oro oro-flustered.

"Even you are going to speak nonsense" (Naofumi)

"This person received the secret sword arts of the Peerless Transformation style in just a few days you know!? She is a very tough opponent for the Naofumi-san who's hung on with self-study!" (Rishia)

"Like I'd know!" (Naofumi)

I thrust Rishia away and confront Female Knight. Hmm, no matter what attacks this fellow tries, if we get within skill range or Atla reaches Ren, it'll be checkmate.

"Well then, I will accept this one versus two" (Female Knight)

Female Knight thrust her thin sword in front of me. The weapon did not appear to be that good. She'll stand in my way even then huh. Chivalry is a troublesome thing. I thought chivalry in reality was something filled with pride and ego.

"Go, Atla!" (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Atla)

Though she could not see, Atla nimbly ran towards Female Knight with a sutatata-. I followed after her.

"Here I go! Please go to sleep for a while" (Atla)

"Hmm...as expected of the Hakuko, so agile. However, Peerless Transformation sword technique...Four Cross!" (Female Knight)

"Kya!?" (Atla)

Female Knight parried Atla's certain kill thrust attack and slashed. It looks like two crosses engraved on top of each other, a magic sword technique. There appears to be a combined X and + attached to Atla.

"Let me say instead. For the time being, please sleep. Be at ease, the wound inflicted is not that strong" (Female Knight)

"Such...Naofumi-sama, I'm terribly sorry..." (Atla)

Atla was blown away, not moving as if she'd lost consciousness. It's probably fine to see this as having an additional effect. In the first place, there was too much difference between Atla and Female Knight's foundations, level, and experience.

"That's the so-called Peerless Transformation style's spirit?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, I'll have her sleep for a bit" (Female Knight)

She readied the tip of her sword. Female Knight stood in my way. Ku...to think there'd be a hindrance here.

"Next is Iwatani-dono" (Female Knight)

"You, think you can deal damage to me?" (Naofumi)

"Of course I think so, rather there is a perfect technique for Iwatani-dono" (Female Knight)

The technique the Old Lady used on me I guess. However, countermeasures for that technique have already been completed.

"If you can then try!" (Naofumi)

"Then here I go! It'll hurt a bit, but I must have Iwatani-dono hear what I say" (Female Knight)

Female Knight headed towards my chest. Fast! But, not faster than I can prepare defences. I parried Female Knight's first attack and took distance.

"As expected. It requires considerable capability to avoid this thrust" (Female Knight)

"So you say" (Naofumi)

"Then I'll have the next go" (Female Knight)

With her hand in front of her sword, Female Knight runs towards me preparing to lunge.

Female Knight's attack appeared to have the tip of her lunging sword multiply numerous times. It seems as hard to avoid as expected. Let's block it. The thrusts were repelled away one by one--. Gu....

"With the basics, I am aiming for various places that have a high chance of effectiveness. It's not good to forget" (Female Knight)

That fellow came and used internal attacks on my spirit flow whenever I blocked. You...thanks to the training with Atla it's not like I don't have a counter technique, but I can't defend against so many attacks. Isn't she stronger than expected.

Moreover, if I purposely give an opening to avoid the attack, I will likely be stabbed. Female Knight's barrage will end eventually. It was a good attack. And sharp.

I certainly thought she was capable but for it to reach this extent. As I thought, with just light sparring with Atla, it's too difficult in an actual fight? I'll be quickly caught up to even if I'm able to get past.

Alright, though there isn't much time left, I'll switch to the Wrath Shield. With Dark Curse Burning S's power, I'll create flames at the points of attack.

If my desire for vengeance burns stronger, the power should increase. Yes, immediately after deciding so, Female Knight opened her mouth.

"To begin with. Just how much resentment does Iwatani-dono hold towards the Hero of the Sword?" (Female Knight)

"Resentment? That's, any amount will come out!" (Naofumi)

First is when he did not cover for me when Witch deceived me. He only watched as Raphtalia was about to be taken away right? I was suddenly hit with an instant kill skill from behind. Starting with Motoyasu, Ren also said "annoying" while using the transfer skill to escape. After that, after that....

...Huh? Less than I thought.

Yeah. That's right. Thinking carefully, I don't have much resentment towards Ren. Exactly what is this?

He tried to help when I was suspected of trying to assassinate Melty. There was something wrong with that proposition so I did not negotiate, escaped, and only promptly attacked. Though it was Ren's mistake in Gaelion's case, I stuck my head in when actually, I had little relation to it. When Witch was spreading salt on my wounds with deceptive rumours too...he was just a spectator so the involvement is small. Rather, a complaint was raised when there was unfairness in my duel.

I just paid him back for using the certain kill skill from my back too...I enjoyed his miserable state to my heart's content. From Witch's sweet whispers, falling for her temptation is the crime. After was a situation where he'd be killed to spit out Witch's whereabouts. Thinking about that, there was no need to go as far as killing I guess?

That is to say, I have a preconception of resentment towards the heroes?

I see, I've also been corroded by the Wrath Shield. It is annoying but, I must reconsider a bit. Like Ren's weird speech and conduct, I've also been affected by my anger huh. Thinking about it, Raphtalia has not been nearby like up until now, so I've been absorbing anger like the time with the Wrath Dragon. Gaelion is suppressing it for the time being, but our time spent together is too short compared to Raphtalia and Firo.

Perpetrator of the Spirit Turtle issue...is said but, in reality the Spirit Turtle still would've revived someday. Whether or not diplomacy could do anything, with this guy's reasoning it seemed impossible. The authority of the heroes too, the world leaders seeing that the Spirit Turtle's brainwashing did not affect them is fine. Melromark is a good example.

After all heroes have the aspect of being pieces in religious and international diplomacy. Running away or dying poorly could trigger war, is what the Queen and the leaders of other countries have said. That's why I was able to survive in Melromark.

If running away is no longer an option...this is also a means.

"Won't you reconsider? If possible I want to have Iwatani-dono's name in history as an upstanding hero. For Raphtalia's sake as well" (Female Knight)

She hits where it hurts. However, this woman, she did nothing when I was suffering right. ...Come to think of it, I don't remember seeing her until the Queen arrived. Was she an imperial guard or something?

Well, thinking back on it, my grudge's basis is on Trash, Witch, and Motoyasu. Even that Motoyasu fell into sorrow, to the point that I don't wish to meet if possible, since it disturbed my mind. Only Trash and Witch remain...my own grudge with Ren is not to the point of killing.

"This concerns a prediction of the conclusion of this world. At the time of the waves, there is a theory that the killing of heroes will promote the end. For that reason, do not kill him so easily" (Female Knight)

Gaelion also said something similar. I don't know what is being promoted, but the question I've had since the start about what the waves are still remains.

Frankly, the incident with the Spirit Turtle was just the heroes' self-destructing as they pleased. If asked, I do not hold a grudge against Ren because of the Spirit Turtle incident. Well I heard the scope of damage was considerable, but whoever dies does not particularly concern me.

I can't say it out loud, but honestly I dislike the bunch from this world. Of course there are exceptions, but it's impossible for me to come to like those who badmouthed me as a devil and what not. Because of that, when a just cause is found, "kill kill", and a clamour is made. Like that, my hate for this world's lot won't change.

The inhabitants of this world are to judge the three heroes regarding the Spirit Turtle, not me...how should I put it, it's that. There is war in a foreign country, several hundred casualties occur, or similar...no skin off my nose or rather, somebody else's problem or something. Of course, I am involved since I fought the Spirit Turtle, but not to the extent of being angry for them.

Rather, the matter with the Spirit Turtle could be said to have improved my standing in many ways. I have no intention to give gratitude, but I do not hold much of a grudge towards Ren himself. Ren's pretending not to see too, that applies to this world's bunch as a whole. Towards Ren who came this far full of holes with a boko boko-, the sour feeling from the preemptive attack are settling down.

But, the sentiment can't be forgiven.

Left practically naked after being treated like a criminal for a nonexistent crime, called weak, small fry, disgusting, Trash, my feelings as I was thrown alone into a strange other world, no one could understand. No, I won't stand being understood.

There is no way this fellow could comprehend a rage able to make food lose flavor.

This woman is proudly enumerating these just arguments, yet she did nothing when I was truly in trouble. Coming after all that and acting like a good person...just who are you trying to be. You have no right to preach. I won't stand it.

It's the same with the Queen. When I was truly troubled, the one who put all else aside and became my ally, was only Raphtalia alone. What is this hypocrite who was not there at that time prattling on about.

But, Raphtalia who scolded my laughing at the misfortune of the other heroes, what would she think if she knew I had a hand in killing a hero? I wonder...I have a very bad feeling.

Or rather, saying "kill kill" repeatedly has made it hard to retreat. Thinking calmly, rather than hurting my reputation by untactfully killing a hero, making use of the situation would be better. Of course, because I may be punished if I overlook a criminal, for now capturing him would be the best course of action. Even if he's executed, my legitimacy will be damaged if the proper legal process is not used.

Alright, now to let Female Knight save face and while pretending to give up during discussions, I'll get advantageous bargaining chips to--

"U...uooooo"

I shifted my attention to the voice just as Ren was getting up.

"I...won't lose. I, to acquire the strength, to be the strongest, will take everything, take, this!" (Ren)

Ren's sword...the ominous one-handed sword transformed into a large, dusky great sword.

"Wha, what!?" (Naofumi)

Not only that, a black aura has been strongly gushing out for some time now.

"Fuee!?" (Rishia)

"Wh, What's this!?" (Taniko)

With a ba-, Gaelion grabbed my shoulder and whispered near my ear.

"This is bad. I sense a power stronger than even before. I dare say I cannot offer opposition" (Gaelion)

"Shit! It came to such a situation because we were doing something like chatting leisurely!" (Naofumi)

Should retreat be considered?

"Rishia! Taniko! Wake Atla up!" (Naofumi)

"...Iwatani-dono" (Female Knight)

"What!?" (Naofumi)

"I will take responsibility for this. In exchange, if I bring down the Hero of the Sword alone, could you entrust the dealings with the Hero of the Sword to me?" (Female Knight)

"You still say that even after causing this situation!?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, I must not stray from my own path you see. But if it is still too much to stop, people can be gathered to kill the hero. If it becomes like that, the Queen can make a decision" (Female Knight)

"Do you think you can win against that?" (Naofumi)

"I don't know! However, I do not have any swords so simply bent after deciding once!" (Female Knight)

It's fine if we directly bring Ren down while Female Knight is getting taken out. If comrades are taken out, even Raphtalia should compromise. It is not blind slaughter. Female Knight should know he's stubborn. I think Raphtalia understands too.

Besides, the plan was to settle by discussion anyways, it's all good. If it's genuinely dangerous, it'll probably be fine to sell a favor and owe a debt. Time to wait for a chance.

"...I guess so" (Naofumi)

"Is it fine to take that as affirmation?" (Female Knight)

"Aa, if you can bring Ren down alone that is" (Naofumi)

"You've promised" (Female Knight)

"I keep promises. Both good and bad. I'll lend a hand if it gets dangerous" (Naofumi)

"I understand. That's fine" (Female Knight)

While there was deception, I hate wasting promises. Well, I think I'll deceive you as many times as needed about making the promise though. Now then, let's watch Female Knight's fight.

"Try not to die" (Naofumi)

"Ha? A, aa-...n!? Iwatani-dono, can't possibly...!" (Female Knight)

"I don't know" (Naofumi)

Female Knight's face became incredibly amazed. You may think you've just been had, but it has only been deception since the middle. Hm, with this there'll probably be a misunderstanding if you use your head. Though nothing was actually used.

"Honestly! Then, let us name ourselves, Hero of the Sword. My name is Eclair=Siaette! To reform your spoiled nature as ordered by the Queen, I shall wield my sword!" (Female Knight)

She had that kind of name huh. I don't understand why she did not put on airs and give her name. You'll just be called by a weird name if you don't name yourself. I wonder if Raphtalia knows? I suppose she thinks I've already heard from Raphtalia.

Oh well.

In any case, the battle between Female Knight and the curse corroded Ren is beginning.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 198 - Purpose

---

Well then, let's bear witness to this public execution. How good of a fight Female Knight can put up against Ren corroded by the curse. For now let's try analyzing.

Of course, I have taken shelter. What is happening with the current Ren's status I wonder?

From Greed, the sword transformed. Looking carefully, there are various ornaments on the sword. On the sword guard is a dog-like being...a fox? In addition, something pig-like is on the handle. But...Ren's manner of speaking became strange after the transformation. Obtain everything and consume, huh.

Presuming from this, changing to consume, the possibility that he has also awakened Gluttony exists. There is a chance that the curse increases if one is easily defeated. I must be cautious if a chance to fight Itsuki comes.

Motoyasu? I don't want to get near that guy. It has been peaceful lately because he has not appeared. At that time, he will probably be chasing Firo.

...An intensely pointless thought. Let's concentrate in front of me now.

"I, will become the strongest! I'm growing even in this instant, gaining strength eternally from the future, watch me defeat someone like you and consume the EXP!" (Ren)

Raising the great sword overhead, Ren broke into a run. His movements have gotten quite fast yet not stiff. Just like Gaelion said, that he's stronger than before can be seen. In these circumstances, I probably can't use Portal Shield because of the effect of Gaelion's magic. For now, let's retreat and gather more people.

"Rishia, Gaelion, Taniko. Bring Atla. We're backing off further" (Naofumi)

I carried the fainted Atla like a princess in my arms.

"Bu, but..."

"As it is, that fellow will also have difficulty fighting right?" (Naofumi)

I used a random excuse, but if the plan is to use support magic, a little more distance won't matter.

"Deryaaaaaaaaaaaaa!" (Ren)

Ren began recklessly swinging the great sword. Not even a drop of style. By leaning backward or forward, Female Knight continued to dodge. It's hard to make a prediction similar to children's swordplay, like "how dare you see through my attack".

"I understand"

Taniko and Rishia nodded and backed away as directed. Gaelion may have sensed my intent as he kept alert with his wings spread and ready to escape at any time.

"Ku...hit! My attacks should have become able to blow anything away!"
(Ren)

"Like you'll hit. Though the sword contains power, swordsmanship with no depth is like having no intent to hit" (Female Knight)

I don't know Female Knight's status, but it might be unexpectedly high. She is dodging with no wasted movements.

"Why is it, why can't I hit!?" (Ren)

"...Why, is Iwatani-dono the Hero of the Shield? In my eyes, it'd be better if Iwatani-dono was given a sword" (Female Knight)

"Shut uppppppppppppppp!" (Ren)

If it was Raphtalia or Firo, how would they deal with it I wonder? Maybe instead of avoiding with paper-thin margins, dodge simply with speed? Let's ask their fellow student Rishia.

"Hey Rishia. What's your impression?" (Naofumi)

"Fuee? Um let's see. The Hero of the Sword's attacks are all dull. I think anyone with battle experience would be able to avoid it" (Rishia)

"Hoh-..." (Naofumi)

Well, I guess so. It does have speed, but even I'd probably be able to dodge it. He is swinging his sword that simply. Basically, he is only using vertical and horizontal slashes. They sometimes bend to a right angle, but it's completely obvious. My eyes are good from training with the troops so I know. Atla's good too.

The genius Atla's attacks have an instinctual depth, so even I have difficulty avoiding them. Rather Atla is the one who becomes stronger every time she fights. I have not seen anyone visibly grow stronger in the middle of a fight like Atla. In the way not relating to status.

Earlier, she probably lost to Female Knight due to lack of Class Up and level. Thinking about it, it's not likely a knight-like person would be below level 40. Atla has not gotten a Class Up yet, and has only fought monsters up until now. She's fought with me, but it'd be more correct to call that training.

Compared to that, Ren's current attacks amount to child's play. Rather wasn't he stronger when there was depth, before he was corroded by the curse? He's only gotten stronger status-wise right? I thought it meant something else.

"Well then, is your seriousness only to that extent? Then I will have my turn" (Female Knight)

"Ku...not yet! I will win one-sidedly!" (Ren)

What a line. Offense is everything, huh? Ah--oh yeah, the shield class died out in Ren's VRMMO games if I recall. Because of that, is he saying something like defeat before allowing counterattack? I think there was something about evasion as the premise...it's somehow suspicious.

Since the antiquity of net games, the meaning of defensive classes have affected many. Recently I've thought Motoyasu, Ren, and Itsuki as novices to anti-personel combat. Of course, the games are probably exactly as they describe. But it is different in this world. I am saying this with conviction.

"Take this!" (Ren)

Ren recklessly swung his sword downwards in a big manner. In the moment the tip of his sword hit the ground. Tremors were felt as cracks spread on the ground. O-, an attack able to open up the ground. High attack power.

...It's a match for Gaelion's showy magic if judging by appearance.

"An opening!" (Female Knight)

Female Knight struck at Ren's shoulder. Raising a thunk sound, the attack resounded fruitlessly.

"Kkukkuku...the sword I am currently using has the effect of Self-Recovery(Large). There is no meaning to your meager attacks. Obediently admit your defeat" (Ren)

Ren laughed evilly. His eyes are shining. Ah, he's laughing since he's figured that Female Knight can't deal a decisive blow.

Why was it explained? Well even my armor has a Self-Recovery effect.

"Fumu...you are soft compared to Iwatani-dono, but instant recovery huh. How troublesome" (Female Knight)

Female Knight muttered while looking at the tip of the sword.

"Obediently accept your defeat and become EXP! Instant - Meteor Sword!"
(Ren)

That again! Maybe because it's great sword, the scope of flying black meteors is bigger now. In the midst of all that, Female Knight...becomes a blur while avoiding.

"Th, that's one of Peerless Transformation style's evasive techniques, Heat Haze!" (Rishia)

...Yeah. Female Knight's chuunibyou percentage is no different. And Rishia, stop with explanation character. Even if you say that, "What!? That's!", is all we'll really get. Also, it'll feel like we're weak if you say that from the backline so stop.

"There's still more! Chain Bind!" (Ren)

"Hmph!" (Female Knight)

The chains summoned by Ren flew towards Female Knight, but she swung her sword and destroyed them.

"What!?" (Ren)

"As expected...if a point is used, even firm chains can easily be broken...simple compared to Iwatani-dono's prison" (Female Knight)

You dare say so even when you destroyed it so quickly.

"There's still more! Try receiving my certain kill skill! Hide Sword!" (Ren)

Ren's form vanished to darkness with a yuraa-. You...your attacks are getting repetitive. What happened to Handlet Sword and Thunder Sword? If you had countless methods of attack, even Female Knight would lose without tactics.

"How lukewarm. Even when Raphtalia becomes invisible, her ki cannot be tracked" (Female Knight)

Female Knight swung her sword with a supan-. With just that, Ren's concealment skill was erased, revealing him. Is Ki...possibly that power flowing out from Ren?

...Oi. Somehow, I've started to understand ki or whatever.

Wh, what is this? I'm getting stronger by watching others fighting! Do you think I'd say that, idiot.

...Have I gotten strange from being poked by Atla and Female Knight too much? I've become unable to understand myself.

In any case, immediately seems unreasonable, but with training I can probably get countermeasures for defense penetrating attacks. What's essential is creating a flow from the magical power within the body. Not softly and not shittily. It's fine to just place the flow of magical power before an opponent's attack grows violent. Making a soft portion would be the method for beginners. That Old Lady, trying to tell me something so hard to understand....

It's likely that the Peerless Transformation style uses this power to attack and sense. While Female Knight has been dodging, she probably does not use ki for defense. That might be why the Old Lady couldn't teach me.

Speaking of things I get now, the flow of my ki is strange because of my extreme defensive power. This is like saying please aim here. Ki, can also be called the flow of magical power.

I see, I understand a bit of what it means to be called strong now. Three more times. I'll understand if I receive that attack two, three more times...I think.

I say, this'll be useful in the future if grasped. The extent of Female Knight's talent is unknown, but though just the sword, it was learned in two weeks, could the village guys learn with a month? No, seriously trying to learn the Peerless Transformation style, even Rishia touted as a hundred years' rare talent is taking a month. Even Raphtalia who has been pursuing knowledge since very early on, has still not completely learned it.

I got a late start from half doubting. Offense being essential to martial arts, I thought it was unrelated my defense-focused self. There seems to be merit in learning this. Since such a rule like "heroes should not learn martial arts", does not exist.

Anyways, not matter how you look at it, the best plan is to have the fellows with high status learn this style. Not only martial arts like Female Knight and Rishia, I'll take them in if they are useful. Let's enquire Rishia or someone after getting back to the village.

Incidentally besides me, there is another fellow with a strange flow of ki here.

Hero of the Sword, Ren.

It might be the influence of the Curse Series, it is clearly different. If Motoyasu and Itsuki were also different, then it would be that heroes possess a special factor.

Hm? Rishia is...very difficult. So I say, but there is no flow of ki. No, not that there's none but...thin. What's going on?

But the Old Lady happily called her a rare talent, so why? There is too little to compare with. Let's confirm back in the village.

"That attack is for when the opponent can't be sensed. Hiding is futile"
(Female Knight)

While I was thinking hurriedly, Female Knight turned her sword towards the detected Ren. She's putting up an unexpectedly good fight. Though she doesn't have a decisive attack.

"Well then, let's have you receive from me as well" (Female Knight)

Female Knight stooped low and dashed, aiming a thrust towards Ren. Ren that guy too, thinking defense is unnecessary...no, he quickly jumped far backwards.

"Futile" (Female Knight)

Faster than the retreating Ren, Female Knight came to Ren's chest.

"Four Cross!" (Female Knight)

The attack that knocked Atla out was used on Ren.

"Fu..."

Female Knight's attack landed on Ren. It somehow looks like some kind of light passed through Ren's body. But the wound healed as damage was dealt, Ren stood up as if nothing happened and smiled.

"To hit me with an attack, you are pretty good. I'll be your opponent a bit seriously" (Ren)

...What's he saying? That Ren, even though he's had a hard time despite fighting with his all, is he acting?

By no means, how many times were you defeated. Running away after not defeating me with a certain kill skill, and completely losing to Gaelion. Then standing up with the Curse Series, you're receiving attacks again. Rather, is Ren not affected by the Curse Series' curse? He's just moving around like normal.

Chuunibyou is also a power or something? "The curse doesn't affect me, the curse itself is my power", is what he'll probably say so I won't delve.

"You jest, to hold back against your opponent in actual combat, there is a limit to discourtesy. Don't try to act composed, fool! Iwatani-dono came seriously to kill! Receiving my thought out certain kill attack, he just had a slightly pained face! How many years do you think it took to think that up!"
(Female Knight)

Oi, isn't that a complaint towards me?

Anyways, Female Knight can see right through Ren. He has speed, but everything's seen if he's just fast. Like that, there's no meaning in speed.

However, Female Knight also has a problem with offensive ability. The defense penetration attack like with me, cannot be used unless there is an extremely high defensive power. She's excelled at swordsmanship since the beginning, but it's difficult with a curse corroded hero as the opponent.

Moreover, there is something unnatural about that skill that seems anti-Hero of the Shield. I don't know where the Peerless Transformation style was born, but if it was Melromark, the technique might have been created for anti-Hero of the Shield purposes. It might have another side. Let's seriously think up countermeasures.

It's a relief I can come up with countermeasures because I've understood the general idea of ki. Couldn't this be used for something besides defense penetration?

"My attacks consume everything. Yes, even your EXP!" (Ren)

"No matter how strong your attacks, there's no point if you can't hit!"
(Female Knight)

But the battle has stagnated. Ren who can't hit and Female Knight whose attacks don't work. Female Knight is disadvantaged if the fight is dragged out. Because even if he can't hit, it's not like he doesn't have power. With this match as it is, Ren's prospects of victory are high.

Well, even if Ren is temporarily defeated, he might just awaken a curse and rise back up. If that were to happen, the only choice this time would be to dispose him. If it gets that far there's no turning back. Even then this guy....

"Now then Hero of the Sword. What is your purpose? By the way, Iwatani-dono seems to want to return to his former world it seems?" (Female Knight)

"Annoying! Don't compare Ren to me for every little thing!" (Naofumi)

My scream did not reach. Oh? Ren is a bit flustered.

"I..." (Ren)

"Purpose. What are you seeking strength for!" (Female Knight)

Oi oi. Even if you ask that kind of question, there'll just be an idiotic reply.
Ren's eyes are weird too, that's no longer thinking about anything.

"I can't stand not being the strongest! I will become the strongest in the whole world, all of time, all of space! That is my Greed, I will consume all EXP with my gluttony!" (Ren)

A pitch black aura spouted from Ren as he declared. Seems like a useful ki.

"That's why, you too, become EXP for me to become strong!"

"For this foolish sinner, the punishment I have chosen is consumption by God's name! I offer the power of my acquired lands to shred that one with decay, and consume!"

"Schtarkfuaafar!" (Ren) //シュタルクファアファル

Ren clenched his fist in a grandiose manner, and a firefly-like glow leaked from his entire body, disappearing into the ground. With a go go go-, the area started trembling, splitting the earth beneath Female Knight. Oh, a derivation of the attack that caused cracks on the ground earlier? The aria was similar to Blutopfer's. With a jyaki-, fangs grew from the fissure and tried to consume Female Knight.

"That attack has too many openings! Iwatani-dono would come to hit!"

(Female Knight)

"Like I said, annoying! Don't bring up comparisons!" (Naofumi)

Ren's attack was avoided by the way.

...Somehow, it's just like Blutopfer. Ah, but it seems to differ a bit.

With a doba-, some gray object came from the ground and gave off a stench. Like the disgusting gold statue used earlier, even I'd find getting hit by that to be severe.

That's in short, if Blutopfer too is avoided, the compensation alone has to be paid. It's indirect truth but, I won't even think about missing, considering my situation. Yeah. The next time I need to use it, I need to make sure it hits with certainty. Let's engrave into my soul that there was the Queen's help with the Pope, and the Spirit Turtle was just pointlessly huge that I was able to hit.

"Fu, Fueee...what is that!?" (Rishia)

"I wonder. But it seems dangerous to touch it" (Naofumi)

For now, it's probably still okay since there's distance, but the ground is dissolving into mud. Stuff like mushrooms or mold began growing around the affected area, giving off a dreadful stench. That decayed land, sea of rot...formed into a fly monster-like organism.

It's a parade of curse skills. Female Knight seems to be the only target. Before long, the fly monster headed incessantly towards Female Knight.

"Decide your aim. And the attack's readiness is lacking. The similar attack used by Iwatani-dono was more brutally powerful. I...thought that attack was coming, you could say I was disappointed" (Female Knight)

Female Knight quickly, regarding the fly monster...unexpectedly climbed over it from the front and stood before Ren. The fly monster who lost its direction soon crumbled and disappeared almost tragically. Ah-...hasn't it become awfully polluted around here? No matter how, he'll cause damage to people huh.

"Oi" (Gaelion)

Gaelion whispered close to my ear.

"You have a face like it's none of your business, but your curse's flames also polluted the earth" (Gaelion)

I don't know. That's something time can solve.

"Well then, I will inquire once again. After becoming the strongest, what do you desire?" (Female Knight)

"After...becoming the strongest, you say...!?" (Ren)

"That's right. You were aiming to be the strongest right? What will you do with that power?" (Female Knight)

"Gu..." (Ren)

He's stuck on his words. Ah, as I thought it's like that. I've thought about why Ren's greed is weak. I also thought before that the process and purpose were reversed. But, beyond that...Ren has no greed.

That might also be the reason I didn't awaken Greed. I want to greedily earn gold. But in the end, this world's money is just a necessity for me to survive the waves, nothing else interests me. Since I'll be returning anyways, before I go I'll just give it to Raphtalia as recompensation for everything up until now. Of course I've thought about living in luxury for a bit, but I'd just end up spending it on equipment and investing in facilities.

Gluttony is the same. His wanting to become strong derived it's awakening, but either way, there is nothing after consuming opponents as EXP. He'll become satisfied after becoming the strongest. It's a gluttony to the degree of being satisfied once the stomach is full. A hunger without bound, his Gluttony did not come from a hunger that cannot be satisfied.

My curse is anger. The rage dwelling in my body feels like it'll drive me crazy from irrationality. With Witch at the top of the list, it directs itself towards this entire world.

Of course, I expect this rage will disappear once I return to my world but...I think there'll probably still be unreasonable anger in the real world. I must bear it no matter what. Having to constantly suppress endless rage or futilely trying to become the strongest, which one is the greater burden on the body I wonder.

"I, I'm...once I'm the strongest...I, I'll save the world!" (Ren)

"Don't speak of things given by other people here!" (Female Knight)

Female Knight cut down Ren's reply with a zuba-.

"If you don't want to admit it that much, I'll personally tell you" (Female Knight)

"What!?" (Ren)

That Ren, his eyes are earnestly swimming around.

"You don't want to become strong. You just want to take back what's been lost!" (Female Knight)

"U..." (Ren)

"You foolishly pushed forward without thinking, wanting to regain everything, your lost comrades, people, and trust, desiring to become the strongest is just wanting visible power!" (Female Knight)

"Sh, Shut up!" (Ren)

"That kind of thing, even god, or rather god-like hero, cannot make it happen. Is becoming the strongest what you must do right now!?" (Female Knight)

"Shut uppppppppppppppppppppppppppppppp!" (Ren)

Ren brandished his sword toward Female Knight in a big manner. It seems to be barely dodgeable, but if I don't do anything I can't give a debt.

...It can't be helped. I'll lend my strength. From such contriving, I started running, getting within skill range.

"Air Strike Shield, Second Shield!" (Naofumi)

Letting out a baki baki sound, my attack is stopped. Female Knight is glaring at me, but I don't care. Is it like throwing cold water into a duel?

But, in doing this, Female Knight's grip on Ren is getting loose. Even if you complain, do you really think you could win against that Ren? Stirring it up like that, now I can butt in when Ren is being preached to as well. It's a little small-minded, but it'll eventually just end up like this later if you think about it.

"A hindrance has come. But I'll continue speaking. You actually understand it. If you have the time to rot here, prepare yourself to live while carrying the burden of your crimes, atone by fighting for those who've fallen!"

(Female Knight)

"Sh, Shut uppppppppppppppppppppppppppppppp!" (Ren)

Ren does not stop even with that, turning his sword to Female Knight.

"I will wield my sword in place of those who died while believing you until the end!" (Female Knight)

Female Knight lifted her sword to her chest and used a technique.

"Peerless Transformation sword technique! Multilayer Crumble Attack!"

(Female Knight)

The barrage Female Knight had used on me was now pouring towards Ren. Receiving that many defense penetrating attacks is not something that can be accumulated. The chill going down my spine tells the story.

"Gaha!" (Ren)

"Hero of the Sword, you are weak. For that reason, become stronger by accepting your weakness. People lost won't come back. But, it's fine if you atone for your sins from here on. I'll also lend as much strength as I can"

(Female Knight)

Informed Female Knight as she returned her sword to its sheath.

She tried to look cool, but it appears not much damage was actually dealt. Though rotten he's still a hero, he has two types of the Curse Series too. It was probably a considerably close fight even for Female Knight. For argument's sake, wouldn't she have been split in half if she'd received even one of Ren's attacks?

Also, you're trying to look cool, but if the people, King, or Queen want the death penalty then there's no meaning. Atoning for your sins is good and all, but your life might be taken for recompensation. Well I'm fine with that though.

"U...guha..." (Ren)

Immediately afterwards, Ren swoons and collapses. Ooh, he collapsed like in anime.

"Don't try to run from the sins you've committed. I'll stand in your way every time you try to run away" (Female Knight)

"U..." (Ren)

In his collapsed state, tears shed from Ren's eyes. Is he unconscious? Other than that, he did not even twitch. Then, the great sword returned to normal. The ominous look is also gone.

"Did you take care of him?" (Naofumi)

"Don't say it like I finished him off!" (Female Knight)

Female Knight glared at me. Therefore I said it.

"To strike at the mind, you're pretty skilled" (Naofumi)

"What an unpleasant way to put it..." (Female Knight)

He actually wasn't defeated physically, after all.

"Iwatani-dono has not run away from his own crimes" (Female Knight)

"Are you praising me?" (Naofumi)

"No! Without running, you continue to knowingly add to your crimes. Even more than the Hero of the Sword, a difficult nature" (Female Knight)

"I don't know" (Naofumi)

Female Knight let out a wholehearted sigh.

"Why someone like this is saving everybody...Iwatani-dono is the biggest enigma to me, I've no confidence you can be rehabilitated" (Female Knight)

"Rehabilitate? For what?" (Naofumi)

"...I can completely understand Raphtalia's hardships. Sorry Raphtalia, your request doesn't seem possible to fulfill..." (Female Knight)

Raphtalia, what did you request from this straight lace? Well whatever. Probably nothing good would come even if I asked.

"Well then, since it seems Ren has been defeated, I'll uphold the promise. His management will be left to you" (Naofumi)

"What do you mean promise. You just set me up!" (Female Knight)

"Hahaha" (Naofumi)

"Don't laugh!" (Female Knight)

Meanwhile, Atla finally regained consciousness. Honestly, what an unreliable fellow. Saying you want to become my shield is just a dream within a dream.

"Fuee...what are we doing from here?" (Rishia)

Rishia asked while looking at the rotten sea that was once burnt ground.

"Of course, we're escaping" (Naofumi)

"Iwatani-dono!" (Female Knight)

"What do you want me to do? The one who did this is that Hero of the Sword over there. You are Ren's patron right. Take responsibility!"
(Naofumi)

"Muu...is it like that? Haa...I'll report to the Queen and request a purification of this land" (Female Knight)

Female Knight said while greatly troubled.

"I'll leave it to you" (Naofumi)

"Why do you sound so self-important, Iwatani-dono!" (Female Knight)

"Because you are the one responsible. Pressing responsibility is fun after all. Let's complain to Ren too when he wakes up" (Naofumi)

Commonly referred to as middle management. After this, Female Knight will probably start a lifestyle like stress was opening a hole in her stomach.

"Can you not get carried away with rubbing salt in open wounds!" (Female Knight)

And while exchanging complaints and idle chatter, we teleported to the village with the fainted Ren. I don't know if I'll take Ren to the castle after this, but that's out of the question when Ren's consciousness has not returned.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 199 – Morning of the Shield Hero

---

I have to get up early in the mornings.

I wake up much earlier than the slaves.

Of course, this is only when I don't stay up too late into the night.

Occasionally I stay up making medicine or completing other miscellaneous tasks.

Yesterday, we dragged Ren to the village. I was tired from battle, so I slept early.

I look in the bed next to mine, and see Sadina sleeping peacefully with Atlas.

“Uu… Sadina-san. You're being too forceful…” (Atlas)

“St…op~…” (Sadina)

What exactly are these two dreaming about?

Are they training in their dreams as well? What sort of Manga is this?

“Kyua… Kyua…” (Gaelion)

Just in case, child mode Gaelion is on standby in my bed. If Atlas tries to crawl into the bed, he has to drive her out.

Now then.

I crawl out of bed and leave the room.

I randomly do some stretches, and quietly walk through the village, listening to the quiet sound of the waves.

I'm heading towards the Camping Plant house Ren is currently staying in.

Ah, by the way, Gaelion's Dargon Sanctuary has already been set up. When I asked him what the maintenance cost was, he said something like once it had been activated once, the spell permanently made an anti-teleportation area until he dispelled it. But as soon as the magic was activated, the Filo Rial ran away at an alarming pace.

It seems he has a bad affinity with it.

He will no longer enter the village, so we had to make another stable for him outside. But this is just a temporary measure. I don't know what to do later.

Perhaps I should teleport to the castle and report to the Queen.

But before that, there is something I must do.

The house Ren is in is used by Female Knight.

I reach a wall of the room Ren is in.

In order to stop Ren from escaping, many knights and slaves are stationed within the house. I can't go through the front door.

「… Emergency Exit」 (Naofumi)

I whisper these words to the Camping Plant while infusing my voice with magic.

And in response to this, a door appears on the wall.

The plants have been altered to take certain commands from me, and I can create a passageway anywhere.

Only me and Rat know of it. It's a secret function.

"Good." (Naofumi)

I infiltrate Ren's room, and confirm that he's asleep.

And then proceed to whisper in his ear.

"Among the Heroes, you are the weakest. You are nothing but a king of Thieves. All of this is your fault." (Naofumi)

"u...uu..." (Ren)

Whap!

From behind, a fan like thing made from folding numerous Bioplant leaves comes in contact with my head.

It doesn't hurt at all.

I turn around and find Female Knight staring at me angrily with her arms crossed.

"What do you think you're doing, Iwatani-dono!?" (Female Knight)

"Don't shout. You'll wake up Ren." (Naofumi)

I just wanted to give him a few nightmares.

Now then, to whisper more...

"The ghosts of those killed by the Spirit Turtle are..." (Naofumi)

"Won't you stop!?" (Female Knight)

"Where did you come from, anyways? This is Ren's room, right?" (Naofumi)

"That's what I should be saying." (Female Knight)

"Well, the Camping Plant was an innovation made by me and Rat. What about you?" (Naofumi)

In order to prevent his escape, the room should be locked.

Why is she in here?

Could they have possibly slept together?

No, that wouldn't happen with these two.

"It's too late to act once something happens. I was resting in the closet."

(Female Knight)

"You sure like to sleep in strange places." (Naofumi)

Like that blue cat thing.

The closet is the only difference.

"You're... wrong. Oh, Raphtalia. I am unable to contain Naofumi-dono.

Please come home soon." (Female Knight)

Female Knight complains as she drives me out of the room.

"Ah, so you fell for Ren." (Naofumi)

Though not as handsome as Motoyasu, he is a pretty boy.

I don't know Female Knight's actual age, but she seems young. Around my age, perhaps?

"There's a limit to fooling around. I have no time to spend on something like love. And also, I declare that this boy is not my type!" (Female Knight)

"How unexpected. He's not my type either." (Naofumi)

"Iwatani-dono enjoys getting people mad. I heard as such from Raphtalia. You really are quite a villain." (Female Knight)

"Yeah, that's right." (Naofumi)

"*Sigh*... why must all the heroes be like this..." (Female Knight)

Female Knight's sigh is quite heavy.

What could be troubling her so much? No, I know the answer.

Will she complain to Raphtalia about me?

I can't even count the misdeeds I've committed since I got here.

Quite a few nobles of this country have become my prey.

I sold second rate gems at a high price, and used cheap medicine to give pricey medical treatments using my shield's enhancements.

I guess I can't help it if Raphtalia comes to be skeptical of me for it.

She'll probably believe it if this diligent knight calls me a villain.

"Oh yeah, you're quite strong." (Naofumi)

"I was able to see the flow of magic from the beginning. But neither you nor the military instructor would train me. But still, I desperately tried, and finally got the instructor to train me. Even though she taught me techniques, those were only the basics. Most of my techniques were ones I made on my own." (Female Knight)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

"The move I used was one I just finished recently. I wasn't sure if it would work." (Female Knight)

Is she similar to Atlas?

Energy and Magic.

She can see the flow of the power known as magic, and can utilize it.

Though there's probably some differences.

Atlas reads the flow of Chi and Female Knight, the flow of magic.

Currently, the only one I understand is the latter.

When I returned, I asked the villagers, but besides me and Ren, there doesn't seem to be much of a difference in their magical flows. Though Rishia's flow is notably smaller than that of the others.

One thing that I did learn was that the flow of magic was something used in these people's everyday lives.

Like how we don't realize that our muscles are moving and that our blood is moving, magic flows within the body without their conscious input.

"Raphtalia has a technique where she fires the energy released by a defeated enemy and converts it into an attack, right? That's an improved version of my technique." (Female Knight)

Ah, that's right.

Raphtalia called it something like Ying Yang Blade.

I thought it was a strange technique. So this person taught it to her

I guess she's also a genius. And she isn't neglecting hard work. Even though her status is low, she manages to hold her ground all the same.

I guess I should ask.

"Hey, do you want to obtain strength by becoming a slave?" (Naofumi)

"The prospect does seem fascinating, but my status prevents me from doing so." (Female Knight)

"I see... By the way, why was someone as diligent as you not there when I was summoned?" (Naofumi)

"Let me first apologize. I'm sorry. The knights were unable to right the wrongs of this country because of my incompetence." (Female Knight)

Female Knight gives a deep apology before she continues.

"This may sound like an excuse, but when Iwatani-dono had been summoned and was being treated as a prisoner... I was in a jail cell in the castle." (Female Knight)

"Hm? So you were a criminal?" (Naofumi)

"If that were the case, I would never be chosen to become a knight. Though my status has fallen." (Female Knight)

Well, a criminal wouldn't be able to become a knight anyways.

But why was this straight-laced person being imprisoned?

Perhaps it was her straight-lacedness that put her in prison.

This country is full of trash, so I guess there's no helping it.

"Perhaps my heritage was a contributing factor, but the actions I took by myself were judged as crimes by the country." (Female Knight)

"What is your heritage?" (Naofumi)

"This territory." (Female Knight)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"I'm the daughter of the person who used to be the lord of this land.

Though I say that, I was away at the castle for a long time training to be a knight. I never spent much time here, so my memories of the place are vague." (Female Knight)

"Ah... I see." (Naofumi)

So that's why she could talk to Raphtalia so easily.

They got close to each other through common heritage.

Her face made me think she was from some noble family, but I never thought it was here.

"My father fought on the front lines during the first wave in order to let the people flee... and perished." (Female Knight)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"Before he died, my father told me to, 'Live nobly without any regrets'."
(Female Knight)

The Queen, then Raphtalia and Sadina all praised the lord. He must have been a good person.

I think Raphtalia said he was a kind man who treated Demi-Humans well. And this is his daughter.

I took over his role and am now a Count.

Perhaps the reason the Queen pushed a title onto me was to make me follow in his footsteps.

"Later, I and many others were stationed in this land, but... Adventurers, and a portion of the Knights and Solders began hunting Demi-Humans."
(Female Knight)

"Ah, so this is where the villagers got dragged in." (Naofumi)

"Yes. I objected to these people, and was imprisoned for standing up for the Demi-humans who were supposed to be living peacefully on that land."
(Female Knight)

"..." (Naofumi)

"Of course, I consider the slave system to be a necessary evil in this world. But for people who were being devastated by the wave, people who, until that day were citizens we were supposed to protect, What meaning is there for knights to assault them!? Just because father died, the world will treat them as such?" (Female Knight)

Yeah, this country truly is rotten.

Other people who thought the same as Female Knight were incarcerated as well.

Many of the knights helping out in the neighboring village are the ones who were imprisoned with Female Knight.

"Eventually, I was proclaimed innocent by the Queen and released. This was around the time Iwatani-dono was at Cal Mira Island." (Female Knight)

"I'm surprised you avoided execution." (Naofumi)

"It was quite close." (Female Knight)

"Really?" (Naofumi)

"Fufu. I was accused of having Demi-Human blood, and being a brainwashed follower of the Devil of the Shield. I was told that I was not a suitable individual for knighthood." (Female Knight)

"How the hell was I supposed to brainwash someone imprisoned before I was even summoned...?" (Naofumi)

Were they planning to execute her and all of those in support of Demi-Humans along with me when they caught me?

The Three Hero Church did hold resentment towards Demi-Humans so perhaps that would have happened if we lost.

Trash seems to have a deep-seeded hatred as well, so that's a likely possibility.

"Got it. I get that now and before, you lived as your father told you and became a straight-laced person. Now what you have to do is become a little more underhanded." (Naofumi)

"Rejected!" (Female Knight)

What she wanted to say was that she was in prison so she couldn't defend me, right?

If she were there, then if she raised an objection, Trash and Witch... would have imprisoned her anyways.

Either way, she would have gone to jail... how absurd.

This is a rotten society that punishes honest people.

I won't say the people who weren't there are in the wrong.

I consider Female Knight to be my ally.

Even though she tried to fight me yesterday, I'm the one who started it.

"And so? You said Raphtalia left something to you, right? What was it?"

(Naofumi)

"...Ah." (Female Knight)

Female Knight stares at the horizon.

There's nothing there, you know.

"To summarize, she told me to stop you if you did something bad. She told me a lot of other things too." (Female Knight)

"That does sound like something Raphtalia would do." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia complains whenever I do something unbefitting of a Hero.

Inversely, Atlas agrees to whatever I do, and it's hard to contain her.

I can't control myself well, so it's difficult for me to deal with that type of person.

She seems to see an illusion that everything that I do is just.

Because of that, Raphtalia's orders were correct.

If Raphtalia were there, she would have taken similar actions as Female Knight.

"Today I'm going to the castle. What will you do?" (Naofumi)

"That depends on the Hero of the Sword's behavior. After I question him... I'm tired. I'll just continue keeping watch over him." (Female Knight)

"Gaelion has set up a barrier, but if he escapes beyond its bounds there's nothing you can do so be careful." (Naofumi)

"It didn't look like he intended on running. If he runs, I intend to take full responsibility for it." (Female Knight)

After returning to the village, Ren regained consciousness.

But his expression was dark. He said he would take any punishment thrown at him, and he sat down and waited patiently.

He regained consciousness quite late at night.

We were all quite sleepy, so we let him sleep.

"Should I wake him and ask for his story?" (Naofumi)

"Stop it. Just let him rest peacefully for now." (Female Knight)

"... Then I guess I'll wait. It's no fun interrogating a sleepy person anyways." (Naofumi)

I guess I'm being too harsh.

If I do any more, Female Knight will tattle to Raphtalia.

Though I think it's already too late for me to worry about that.

After that, I stopped by the monster stables. I distribute food to the monsters, and let them run around for a bit.

I played with them using the Frisbee shield, branches and balls. We also played something similar to tag.

Some of the slaves who also woke up early joined the game.

It's only the people who aren't out peddling.

Dunes are domestic monsters, so they always participate.

They get along well with the Lemo slaves.

"Wan Wan! Shield Niichan! More!" (Kiel)

Kiel comes to me holding a branch in her mouth.

...Yes, this one's definitely a dog in every definition of the word.

When I returned to the village, the first thing that surprised me...

Was Kiel's dog form.

She looks exactly like a puppy. As for breed, she looks like a Siberian Husky.

(Google image search Siberian Husky Puppy. You won't regret it.)

"Niichan, welcome home!" (Kiel)

When I got back, I was greeted by a loincloth-clad puppy walking on two legs. I thought I was going crazy.

"You..." (Naofumi)

"Hehe, cool, isn't it? Sadina-nee-chan taught me." (Kiel)

Kiel seems very proud... but the other villagers have complicated expressions.

It is quite amazing. She looks like an animal you would keep for a pet.

She isn't menacing at all.

"Kiel-chan looked like she had the talent, so I taught her~" (Sadina)

"Talent..." (Naofumi)

Oh right. Sadina keeps up that form through transformation as well.

"Wa... Kiel-kun has become cute." (Rishia)

Rishia picks Kiel up and starts petting her.

I can understand her feelings.

I also have the sudden urge to pet her.

"So? Are there more people who can take up a beast form in the village? Is it even useful?" (Naofumi)

"It depends on the race, but the ability generally increases stats. Like me."
(Sadina)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

"There's also a matter of talent, so most people in this village probably can't do it." (Sadina)

"I see. How about Raphtalia?" (Naofumi)

"I don't think Raphtalia-chan can." (Sadina)

I'm slightly happy that Raphtalia won't transform like this.

For some reason, I imagine Shigaraki. (TL: Standard Tanuki Statue. Google it)

I don't really want to ruin my mind's image of Raphtalia.

If she were here, perhaps she would think the same.

"Niichan, are you thinking of something strange right now?" (Kiel)

Kiel asks with a curious expression. No idea.

"Well, is it really something that great?" (Atlas)

"Yes, Kiel-kun looks cute." (Rishia)

Atlas is tilting her head.

She can't even see the change, so her response is understandable.

"Don't call me cute! Aren't I cool?" (Kiel)

"Not with that appearance." (Naofumi)

After I say this, Kiel looks crestfallen. Her head droops.

"This can't be... I thought I had finally become cool..." (Kiel)

"Even your normal form is better in that aspect." (Naofumi)

Her face is quite girlish though, so she still falls into the cute category.

Watching us, Sadina starts laughing to herself.

Don't depress the girl any further.

"By the way, Fohl-chan also has the talent." (Sadina)

"What... was that?" (Atlas)

Atlas is at a loss for words.

What? What exactly could be pulling on her heartstrings to this extent?

"Onii-sama just got a wonderful nickname from Naofumi-sama, and on top of that he learns to take on a cute form. He must be aiming for Naofumi-sama's heart. I'm envious. I'm jealous." (Atlas)

... This is no good.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 200 – Repent

---

After I thought the time was right, I went off and made breakfast.

Some slaves had already begun preparing it, so I worked with them to cook.

After that, we distribute food to the villagers.

By the way, the second thing that surprised me was that the amount of child slaves increased.

While I was away, it seems the Slave Dealer stopped by and dropped them off.

He left the materials needed to engrave the slave seal with Kiel and the others.

The village has reached a point where the slaves will train the new slaves without my direct involvement.

Apparently, I'm too soft, so the actual manager is Raphtalia, and to some extent, Kiel and the other slaves I brought over first.

The fact that I'm the leader hasn't changed, but most of the training and tasks are done by the slaves themselves, so I don't have to do much.

Perhaps because of this, the new slaves are too afraid to approach me.

That's good. In a few days, they'll get used to me, but it feels good when someone actually listens to my orders.

"Now then, the people in the castle should be awake. I'm going out for a bit. Anyone who wants to go to the castle, follow me." (Naofumi)

"Ah, Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

Atlas raises her hand.

Ah, that's right. It's around the time when Atlas should be able to Class-Up. But she's only around level 50 now. It will take a while for her to reach 60.

"What is it? I'll be back really soon." (Naofumi)

"Is that so?" (Atlas)

"Yeah, and Firo isn't here, so I'm not taking anyone to Class-Up." (Naofumi)

"I see... That's unfortunate." (Atlas)

It seems that Atlas wants to stick to me...

I'm fine with some forms of friendship, but having her climb into my bed is a bit much.

I've compromised and said she can sleep close to me.

For some reason... Her appearance hasn't changed with her level.

I wonder when she'll grow up.

From what I've seen, Firo and Gaelion haven't had to drive her out of my bed yet.

She sleeps peacefully with Sadina.

After that, I step out of Gaelion's territory and activate the Portal Shield.

... The Queen was out.

It seems that she left to resolve local affairs, and she'll be back tomorrow.

But she has received Female Knight's report, and has left behind some orders.

The Hero of the Sword's punishment is currently on hold. We are to look after him until then.

There's nothing I can really do about it. This country is full of trash.

Next is... This may be serious. The Shadow who was watching over Itsuki issued a troubling report.

They had lost sight of him.

I have a bad feeling about this... What should I do?

Right after we capture Ren, Itsuki disappears.

Problems pop up one after the other.

After that, I stopped by the Slave Dealer to hand over money, but I'll omit that.

My money is beginning to pile up, but we are still shorthanded.

Perhaps I should buy any Demi-Human slaves as long as they're cheap.

At the Weapon shop... Imya's uncle was tending the store.

"Ah, Hero of the Shield." (Imya's Uncle)

"Yo. How've you been?" (Naofumi)

"Oh, that man's been in a good mood. He's working hard." (Imya's Uncle)

"How about you?" (Naofumi)

"I've been able to get back the skills I had before, and have begun working to improve my skills." (Imya's Uncle)

"The store is currently open, right?" (Naofumi)

The store's been exceptionally prosperous lately, and all of the shelves are currently empty.

"No matter how much stuff we make, it keeps disappearing. I've put a portion of my profits towards the villager's equipment fees." (Imya's Uncle)

"That'll really help. Imya and you, and the rest of the skillful slaves. I'm causing a lot of trouble for you all." (Naofumi)

“What are you saying? You gave me a job I enjoy. I should be thanking you. I’m having fun experimenting with the overflowing materials from that mountain.” (Imya’s Uncle)

So he’s making Spirit Turtle-based equipment.
I guess I should wait expectantly.

“Ah, right. Could you ask the old man to use this in the armor I ordered?”
(Naofumi)

I take out the core I got from Gaelion and hand it to Imya’s uncle.

“What’s this?” (Imya’s Uncle)

“The core of a formerly rotting dragon.” (Naofumi)

“I see, so this is it! It’s quite a pretty, red stone. It’s different from anything I’ve seen in the marketplace.” (Imya’s Uncle)

As expected of a skillful race. He could see the difference in a second.

“I planned to have that integrated in my new armor. I stopped by to see if it was possible.” (Naofumi)

“Understood. Even if it seems impossible, I’ll work to make it possible.”
(Imya’s Uncle)

“... I’ll leave it to you.” (Naofumi)

It seems that the Old Man’s shop has gotten livelier.

After that, I return to the village.

Thank god for the Portal Shield. Movement has become ridiculously easy.

“And that’s how it is. Before we receive further orders, you’ll be on house arrest in this village.” (Naofumi)

I tell Ren as such.

Female Knight is also in the room, watching us with her arms crossed. Between me and Ren, I wonder who she is watching.

“… I see.” (Ren)

Ren listens to me expressionlessly.

“For now, I’ll have you tell me Witch’s location.” (Naofumi)

“… I apologize. I don’t know.” (Ren)

“Cut the crap. Weren’t you a bandit under Witch’s orders?” (Naofumi)

“You’re wrong. The one who made me a bandit… was none other than myself.” (Ren)

Ren starts speaking.

Apparently, the day Ren joined Witch, she said there was a person she had to meet. The two proceeded to a certain village.

It was quite close to where they teleported.

And there, Ren was introduced to a man.

He got the feeling they had met somewhere before, but he couldn’t remember where.

That man drew out a sword, and offered to spar with Ren.

“I see, so you want to train with me.” (Ren)

Ren lightly exchanged blows with the man for a while… and then the man began exchanging words with Witch.

"Honestly... Expectation--. With this--" (Man)

"So— is what it'll be..." (Witch)

"But, won't that--" (Man)

"Right-- Stubborn, and hard-- advantage of." (Witch)

The two stared at him, making him feel nervous. But the Witch he trusted in was smiling, so he thought nothing of it.

"Now then, Ren-sama. You're tired, right? Let's go rest at the inn." (Witch)

And Witch dragged Ren off to an expensive looking inn.

"Truly, we look forward to travelling with Ren-sama." (Witch)

"Yeah! Ren-sama is much better than the Spear Hero." (Woman 2 I think)

"I-I see. I'll also work hard to save the world for you all." (Ren)

Ren strengthened his resolve for the people who believed in him.

Sick of the people of this world turning on him, he clung to whoever said they trusted him...

The next morning... all his possessions were gone. Besides his sword, they had taken everything.

In their place was a single letter.

"This is that letter." (Ren)

He was keeping it on him?

Ren hands that letter over to me.

It looks like it's been crushed before, but it's still barely legible.

“Let’s see… 『After much deliberation, we found that we would be unable to use you, so we took the liberty of taking everything we could use from you. I’m grateful you helped me escape from the Shield and the Spear, but neither your personality nor looks are of my preference. Let’s see… If you defeat the Shield, then perhaps I will show you some affection. But if it’s you it will probably be impossible. Ohohoho』 .” (Naofumi reading Witch’s letter) (TL: Can Ren even read?)

Annoying!

… Witch! She really deserves no salvation!

And to give up on Ren in only one day, that woman really works fast. Could she have been aiming at Ren’s equipment and loot from the beginning?

“That’s when my head started to become a little strange… My field of vision turned pitch black, and I unlocked the Curse Series.” (Ren)

The person he decided to trust turned on him immediately. I can understand his feelings.

If Raphtalia betrayed me right after I decided to trust her, then my Wrath Shield would have unlocked much sooner.

“After that… I fell. I left the inn, looking for money to replace what was lost… Just as it was taken, I wanted to take but I wanted to hide so I wore a mask…” (Ren)

He assaulted the bandit’s carriage, made them his subordinates, and built his Bandit troupe.

His story was very straightforward.

“Naofumi… I’m truly sorry for not believing in you. This may be asking for too much, but will you not forgive me for the things I’ve done to you?”

(Ren)

“I have no intentions of forgetting.” (Naofumi)

“I see… Then If I cannot be forgiven for the sins I’ve piled up, I will lend you power to make up for them. Please remember those words.” (Ren)

Ren faces me and earnestly lowers his head.

… It seems he’s really repenting.

The fact that I even considered forgiving him at that moment must be due to my weakness.

I have no idea whether I’ll ever forgive this world’s people.

And I plan to continue teasing him. I should at least have the right to do that.

“I never thought Witch was that low of a person. I had my doubts, but… She seemed to offer true kindness so I believed in her. It truly was a foolish move that shouldn’t be forgiven. That might have been out last chance to capture that woman…! No, I can’t let that be the last one!” (Ren)

“Well, she does have a needlessly good face, and she can tell lies without care. That woman.” (Naofumi)

“Badmouthing the former princess? Well it’s not like I don’t see where you’re coming from…” (Female Knight)

Female Knight scratches her head and murmurs to herself.

But where exactly could that woman have gone?

From Ren’s story, she definitely has a conspirator.

Someone we might have seen before... Someone connected to Ren.

Who could it have been?

I have no idea.

For now, let's put Witch's letter aside and worry about Itsuki.

After coming to me, Motoyasu and Ren, there's a high possibility she'll go to Itsuki.

I don't know what she'll do, but it definitely won't be anything good.

She never brings anything but trouble.

"Next is... Ah, right." (Naofumi)

I guess I should teach Ren how to get stronger.

He's repenting, and it doesn't sound bad to make him an ally.

Personally, I think he should suffer a bit more, but if Ren, the Hero of the Sword, were to grasp all the strengthening methods, and if he were to move at my command then he will have much more uses than leaving him be.

But I guess that depends on Female Knight.

"I'll be having you do training to polish your body." (Female Knight)

"Even when I might be executed?" (Ren)

"What of it? I want you to polish your heart along with it." (Female Knight)

"...Understood." (Ren)

Ren follows Female Knight's words.

I'm starting to see Female Knight as a muscle head. I wonder why.

"What is it?" (Female Knight)

"Nothing..." (Naofumi)

"It's fine if we move as long as we're within Gaelion's magic, right?"

(Female Knight)

"Yeah..." (Naofumi)

"You said that you would give your strength to Iwatani-dono. I will trust those words. Don't let down my expectations!" (Female Knight)

"Y-yes!" (Ren)

Ren immediately submits to Female Knight.

I guess it works out for me just fine.

"Ren, if I gave you freedom of movement, what would you do?" (Naofumi)

"... I'd help the people I caused trouble for." (Ren)

"I see. Then what will you do about money? The guild won't pay you, right?" (Naofumi)

"About that. There's something I want you to look at." (Ren)

Ren beckons me closer. I wonder what it is.

"Naofumi, please give me a copper coin." (Ren)

"Hm? That sounds like a pain, but I can lend you one." (Naofumi)

"I can't give it back." (Ren)

"Ha? Why not?" (Naofumi)

"It's fine, just hand one over. I'll trade it for drops." (Ren)

Ren pulls some fur out of his sword and tosses it over.

Its quality is poor...

But there's no helping it. It's worth more than one copper. I hand over one copper coin to Ren.

And... The second it comes into contact with Ren's finger, the copper begins to turn black and erode away. It crumbles to dust, and gets swept away by the wind.

"What!?" (Naofumi)

"... It's apparently the compensation for using my Curse Skill." (Ran)

My Blutopfer deals great damage to me and decreases my stats.

Ren's skill's compensation... is like this because it is Greed?

I guess the inability to hold anything precious can be considered a curse.

I guess Ren won't be able to hold money for a while.

"All the drops also become of poor quality. I think it also decreases luck."

(Ren)

"How long does it last... Wait, didn't you use another one as well?"

(Naofumi)

"... When I used that one, my level fell from 95 to 85... I don't know if there are any other repercussions as well." (Ren)

Oy, the price was quite high.

Though mine is as well.

But from the extent of its effects, the side effects shouldn't last as long as Blutopfer's.

"You seem to have a lot of problems. So what will you do?" (Naofumi)

"Honestly, I wish to assist you as thanks for returning me to normal. This world isn't a game. I need to make sure I don't become conceited again. If I make a mistake, I want you to tell me. I've decided to believe Naofumi's words." (Ren)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

... What's with this sudden change?

His face shows some resolve, but his obedience is quite suspicious.

I should handle this with caution.

"I won't run from my crimes anymore. If I am to be executed for my crimes relating to the Spirit Turtle, then I will gladly present my neck. But, I am to be forgiven, then Welt, Bakter, Terishia, Faully, I will fight to achieve the peaceful world my four comrades wished for. That's all I want now." (Ren)

Ren says, as he begins to do pushups.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 201 – Trash and Alta

---

“Firo-chan’s back!” (Atlas)

Atlas says as she comes into the house.

I wonder if she managed to get back the levels she lost.

With just a little more, Atlas will be able to Class Up. The two are actually quite close in level now.

“Her timing is quite good.” (Naofumi)

I leave Female Knight and Ren to their training, and go out to meet Firo.

『I, who has understood the source of power command. Let the truth once more be read forth. Wash away the origin of my hatred!』

「Dreifach Aquablast」

As I exit the building, I hear magic being chanted.

On reflex, I tense my body and prepare my shield... Like a baseball, I return the magic by batting it with my shield.

“Wa!”

The caster of the magic just barely manages to avoid it by a paper-thin margin.

Of course, I could identify the caster by voice from the beginning.

She’s more talented than her sister.

“What are you trying to do!?” (Melty)

“That’s my line, Melty.” (Naofumi)

"Can you not even think of a reason as to why you were being targeted?"

(Melty)

"Nope. Especially not from you." (Naofumi)

"What was that!?" (Melty)

Firo coming home obviously means that Melty came back as well.

What level has Melty become?

She was 18 before, I think.

That magic from before was quite potent. I'd say her level has at least doubled.

"Master, I'm home~!" (Firo)

"Yeah, welcome back." (Naofumi)

Firo is approaching me with a posture suggesting that she wants me to pat her head. I reluctantly pat it.

She just returned, but her feathers are strangely tidy.

Did Melty groom her?

She feels softer than when I pat her before.

Yeah, I guess I should groom her if I ever feel like it.

"Nope, you say!? You made Firo drag me off to a distant remote location to level without asking for my input." (Melty)

"That is, well... It's fine isn't it?" (Naofumi)

"I'm angry because it isn't fine!" (Melty)

As always, she's quite worked up.

If she toned down a bit, she might make a nice conversation partner.

Though I get the feeling that all of this might be my fault.

"Firo, how high did your level climb?" (Naofumi)

"Um, Firo got to 63 and Melty got to 40." (Firo)

"I see. That's higher than I expected." (Naofumi)

"I came back because I thought we could Class Up Melty-chan." (Firo)

"I see. I see." (Naofumi)

"... I smell Gaelion's scent from Master. You haven't been sleeping with him, right? I also have the feeling that Firo's territory has turned into Gaelion's!"
(Firo)

Ah, her intuition is sharp.

And I don't remember this ever being your territory...

Both Firo and Gaelion go around arbitrarily turning my land into their territories.

But I guess complaining to my pets won't get me anywhere.

"Yes, we slept. I'm not sure about territory, but I had him erect an anti-teleportation field." (Naofumi)

"Bu-!" (Firo)

She starts rubbing her head on me and clinging onto me with her wings.
It's a bit annoying.

"I'm never giving master over to Gaelion!" (Firo)

"Ah, yes, yes." (Naofumi)

This is a pain.

Oh? I just got an idea.

"We're going to Class Up soon, so go do some intense training with Atlas. If you do so, I won't sleep with Gaelion." (Naofumi)

"Sure! Atlas-cha~n!" (Firo)

Firo sure is energetic. She left Melty and ran off at an alarming rate. All of my annoyances have disappeared. It's finally quiet.

"..." (Melty)

Melty makes eye contact with me, and she stares silently.

"Hmph!" (Melty)

Melty stomps off. Some soldiers accompany her. The future queen is quite an unpleasant person.

After that, I went to make medicine with Rat. Recently, I've been having her teach me some alchemy.

After the sun starts to set, I take a break.

If Atlas were here, I'd train with her. As she's gone, I asked Rishia and Female Knight to help me.

After dinner, I returned to making medicine.

This has become my basic schedule in the village.

Ren trains with Female Knight deep into the night.

The next morning, Firo and Atlas returned.

That was quick.

"Firo-chan is cruel. I wanted to spar with Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"But Atlas-chan. You will Class Up soon, right?" (Firo)

"Are you sure you don't want to get to the level cap?" (Naofumi)

"Hm... It seems that Atlas-chan will be fine. Fitoria says that." (Firo)

"Why?" (Naofumi)

"Because Master is here, she says." (Firo)

Does she know the necessary conditions?

I can ask her, but I'll have to use Firo as a medium, so that sounds annoying.

"Then I guess we should depart for Atlas and Melty's Class Up soon."
(Naofumi)

With these two, I think just taking Firo will be fine.

"Then I'll go get Melty-chan." (Firo)

"Go get her." (Naofumi)

In around 5 minutes, Firo comes back with Melty. She's still pouting.

Perhaps I should leave Atlas to Firo next time too.

I think as I activate the Portal shield to take us to the castle.

"Now then..." (Naofumi)

"Amazing. We really warped to the Castle in an instant." (Melty)

Melty looks around the castle's courtyard in amazement.

It truly is a convenient skill. I knew that from the beginning.

Motoyasu said in his game it could only transport 6 people, but I should test that theory.

I haven't really played with this skill too much. The cool down time is a bit long.

"So this is Melty-chan's castle." (Atlas)

"Not mine, but my mother's." (Melty)

Is the conversation they were having when...

"The Shield brought a Hakuko again!" (Trash)

Trash comes running at us again.

"F-father!? What the hell are you wearing!?" (Melty)

This time... for some reason he's wearing what seems to be a bunny suit.

Is it Usapill based?

What sort of punishment is this?

I nod at Melty's embarrassment.

"Eh?" (Atlas)

Atlas turns her head towards Trash as she lets out a sound.

"Eh..." (Trash)

Trash's steps slow and he comes to a stop...

What? He has a very strange expression as she stands still.

He seems to be crying. But he's also smiling. It's quite a complex face.

"Onii-sama?" (Atlas)

"What are you saying?" (Naofumi)

How could she mistake Trash for Fohl?

They might be annoying in similar ways, but they are fundamentally different.

Mostly in age and stature... But Atlas can't see that.

"..." (Trash)

Trash seems to have come out of a trance. He turns around and starts walking off unsteadily.

"Oy." (Naofumi)

Trash doesn't seem to hear me.

What could have happened to him?

"Ah, Mother!" (Melly)

A few minutes later, the Queen makes her appearance.

I told her of how Trash caused a commotion as soon as we got here, but left when he saw Atlas's face.

"I see... Such a thing happened." (Queen)

"Do you have any idea why? That's the first time I've seen Trash like that."
(Naofumi)

"Atlas-san, was it? Please let me see your face for a second." (Queen)

"Yes?" (Atlas)

Atlas steps forwards, and turns her face to the Queen.

"...I see. So that's why." (Queen)

"Did you figure something out?" (Naofumi)

"Explaining will take a while, but is that fine?" (Queen)

"Let's see... That sounds annoying, but seeing Trash like that made me curious.” (Naofumi)

“I’ll omit what I can. Don’t worry.” (Queen)

The Queen stares at Atlas as she begins speaking.

“The Hero of the Cane, Luge Lancarose had a younger sister who was unable to see. Their ages were quite separated.” (Queen)

She isn’t going to call him Trash. I guess that’s fine.

So he had a little sister?

“There were a few complications with Luge’s birth, but that isn’t very important so I will omit it.” (Queen)

“Are you sure it’s not important?” (Naofumi)

“Then shall I tell you? Luge’s real name was Luge Lances Faubley. He was the third legitimate heir to the throne of Faubley.” (Queen)

“Faubley is the strongest country in this world, right? So he was that country’s prince?” (Naofumi)

“At first, but then an incident came that robbed him of that privilege. That incident involved the killing of his parents and many others close to him by the Hakuko.” (Queen)

So his life’s been a soap opera, that Trash.

Is that why he hates Atlas and Fohl of the Hakuko race so much?

“Luckily, Luge and his sister were not there at the time, but the country of Faubley did nothing in retaliation against Silt Welt for political reasons. Because of that, Luge began to despise both Faubley and Silt Welt. He moved to my country which discriminated against Demi-Humans and changed his own name.” (Queen)

And thus began Trash's fight.

"Luge hid the fact that he was of Royal Blood, and rushed onto the frontlines of the wars Melromark waged. Along the way, he was selected to be the master of the Seven Star Cane, and he began to spread his name as a Hero." (Queen)

What a smooth rise to fame. I'm jealous.

But... the Queen takes on a somewhat troubled face.

"At that time, I was still young. That man's resourcefulness and strength won my heart." (Queen)

"I don't need your love story. Please continue." (Naofumi)

"But while Luge ventured off, he had left behind his sightless sister. Soon, he received word that... She had disappeared with nothing left behind but a pool of blood. That the Hakukos had killed her. Luge's desire for revenge strengthened. After many years of war, He challenged and defeated the Hakuko king of Silt Welt." (Queen)

"... And? How is that related to this?" (Naofumi)

I do have a hunch.

Probably...

"Yes, Iwatani-sama. As you thought, Atlas-san's face looks exactly like that of Luge's younger sister. She looks like an exact replica of Lucia." (Queen)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 202 – Amnesty

---

“So it’s really that.” (Naofumi)

“Yes.” (Queen)

From here onwards is just conjecture, but a few thoughts come to mind. There is the possibility of the beloved little sister of Trash being treated as a plaything by the Hakuko from Silt Welt, getting raped and becoming pregnant with Fohl and Atla.

But why that wasn’t brought up in discussion and various other questions arise.

However, from Fohl and Atla’s descriptions of their past, they hadn’t been treated badly.

Then, had the little sister and her Hakuko partner actually been in love just like in a soap opera?

I didn’t really know the particulars.

But Atla’s confusing Trash with Fohl could be said to have been her sensing their blood ties.

Just that, they said that they had simply been rich but….

“Fohl and Alta are half human?” (Naofumi)

“Who knows…. I was really little after all…If you want to know the details, you will have to ask Brother.” (Atla)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

I'll ask Fohl when he returns.

In short, Trash became docile because he realised everything after seeing Alta's face.

Or perhaps he perceived it as the return of his dearly beloved little sister .

"His first name and surname were taken from my father. Our country has the tradition of having the husband's name decided by the wife." (Queen)

"Hmmm..." (Naofumi)

Trash used to be so famous but has now become like that.

It was said that he had children and then went bad...

"Then mother, does that mean that Atla-chan and I are related?" (Melly)

"That seems to be the case...he may feel at ease because she's the spitting image of his sister." (Queen)

"No way." (Naofumi)

That's right. Their connection was too much.

Atla must have been sensing her own blood.

Well, it may be better if the fact that the relatives of the King of the anti-demihuman Melromarc were Demi-humans was concealed.

Anyway, to reveal it now would just incur meaningless mayhem.

"I understand the story. By the way, we captured the Hero of the Sword but I wanted to ask what we should do." (Naofumi)

"That's right... The public rumours have been settling down lately so I'm worried about the punishment." (Queen)

“According to the legends or something, we can’t kill him during the waves, right?” (Female Knight)

The Female knight spoke. What does that mean, I wonder.

“Such a prediction has been written down.” (Queen)

“I previously killed the Pope with all my strength but…” (Naofumi)

“Do you really think that those who have faith in their own convenient beliefs will trust that sort of legend?” (Queen)

…It is pretty persuasive.

Nonetheless, it can be said that it is a plausible view.

Seeing as even Gaelion says so, it might actually be reliable.

“What happened to make them settle down?” (Naofumi)

“From the start, the country in which the Spirit Turtle had been dormant had a few diplomatic issues.” (Queen)

Ah, come to think of it, Ren mentioned that in his story.

That there’s no point in relying on the country, and that they’ve been brainwashed by the Spirit Turtle or something.

“The Seven Star Heroes, who were famous because of the seal, were originally from our country, they had to surrender, requests came despite not having an Hourglass of the Dragon’s Era, the legend of the Four Saint Heroes originated from our country and such… it was a country full of troubling problems.” (Queen)

...Every country has its troubles.

And because that country had a catastrophe...in the end there were still benefits...huh.

"It started in our country and caused a lot of damage in the neighbouring countries but in relation to the damage from the waves, we have started to acknowledge that the rumour about the masses also being concerned with the Four Saint Heroes is a lie. At present, we head to the frontlines beforehand to curb the damage, we can even say that there will be hindrances in the end and we may be stigmatised." (Queen)

"That's a favourable explanation." (Naofumi)

"The Heroes' legends are mostly spoken of with benevolence, the legends of the heroes exist in many countries...depending on the country, they could be deified, with bad deeds being blamed on an imposter." (Queen)

Speaking of which, even in my world, the great men of the past were really...actually, I haven't heard much about them.

Research would reveal that there were countless examples of being unexpectedly useless or lacking common sense.

Not to mention that compared to my world, news in this world was at least 1~2 steps behind so the heroes' actual situations were unexpectedly unknown.

"And besides...with respect to the waves, there is information about the unnecessary influence of the heroes and the damage this time being witnessed, and the necessity of the heroes being reviewed and invites being planned." (Queen)

"If a hero was killed with that kind of motive...you could probably hide it, but what would happen?" (Naofumi)

"We would investigate their survival using the equipment used during the summoning. Although we've already handed it back to Foburei..." (Queen)

"...Sigh." (Naofumi)

We couldn't execute him.

Moreover, even if we confined him, we would still have to call him out when the waves occur.

In actuality, the most we could confine him for was about two months.

Killing him during the next wave is an option but intentional killing may lead to war and it also seems risky to kill him while there are still waves.

"From the reports, I've heard that he's become obedient." (Queen)

"Yeah. Your subordinate, the Female Knight, is looking after him."

(Naofumi)

"That person, I see. She desired to be employed in Iwatani-sama's land. She also had some skill with swords and was familiar with the land so I encouraged her, but some problematic actions stand out." (Queen)

"Indeed." (Naofumi)

"If Iwatani-sama wishes, shall I demote her? She is excellent as war power so it will be more secure if she serves in the castle." (Queen)

"...She's Ren's reins. I'd like her to remain close by to deal with Ren."

(Naofumi)

"I understand. That person's father was a very excellent person but his daughter has a few unique set of values. I wanted her to observe Naofumi's land management and have more flexible thinking like her father, but it seems that's not going very well." (Queen)

She's a stubborn person indeed.

The cause of that is the will of her excellent father though.

In which case, the Female Knight may have a different idea about what flexible thinking means.

"If it's for the sake of the people, I wanted her to know the resolution of staining her own hand but..." (Queen)

"Well, the current her has the distorted hope for both herself and her opponents to be honourable."

As a person, it's fine if that's the case, but it would be hard to get a promotion.

And also, I can't leave the land to her.

Having too much of a shitty character will produce conflict and being so self-righteous means that people won't approach her.

A similar character would be Itsuki. If I think about it, our ideals have some similarities.

If I had to say though, Itsuki is more extreme and self-centred.

Well, he doesn't seem to have the sense of duty I, who has a mass of self-righteousness, have.

"And so, what's happening with Ren?" (Naofumi)

"I heard that the Hero of the Sword-sama is being cooperative." (Queen)

"You're not going to assign any punishment?" (Naofumi)

"It would be different if we were in peace, but right now we cannot predict the future. Therefore, fighting for the world is punishment enough for all the Heroes...is that not so?" (Queen)

"I'm not bad though..." (Naofumi)

"If you have feelings of guilt personally then <special> amnesty can be granted though there will be an increase of surveillance. At this rate, winning over allies is the best plan, don't you think?" (Queen)

My not being killed when I was falsely accused as a criminal was also due to this same reason, but those guys in the past probably had this kind of feeling.

Who knows, but I'm reluctant to consent.

"The world causes such pressure. This year, there was famine all over the world and we suffered a decline due to monsters. An omen of war could also be seen, and the loss of war power due to the waves so far, the damage caused by the Spirit Turtle... we couldn't impede criminals if we wanted was power for the waves. And above all, the waves will probably come many times. We want to have strong war power if we can, that is our motive." (Queen)

"...I got it. I'll tell Ren." (Naofumi)

"If I think about Iwatani-sama's feelings, I would like to assign a suitable punishment but... for requiring you to have patience, many apologies." (Queen)

"No problem. It's true that it's reassuring if the heroes are our allies and I can also be at ease. ...Also, have you found Itsuki?" (Naofumi)

"No... his whereabouts are unknown. We've also appealed to Zeltbur but finding him is hard." (Queen)

I don't know where he disappeared to but he probably has the Warping Skill as well.

As I expected, it's impossible for Shadow to follow his warping.

Huh? If I think carefully, didn't the Shadow surveying me lose sight of me many times for the same reason?

Well, it's not like anything bad happened so there's no problem.

"Even so, your daughter is really evil." (Naofumi)

"Really...it's already like the findings...no, never mind." (Queen)

Due to indulgence, was having a bad child rather tough?

"Ah, also." (Queen)

When the Queen raised her hand, Shadow appeared and handed me several jewel-like stones..

"These are?" (Naofumi)

"Dragon cores. Perhaps there may be a fragment of the Dragon Emperor in there. (Queen)

"I understand. Thanks." (Naofumi)

Were they a treasure of the castle or something added to a famous weapon?

Their assistance helps a lot.

I think this is to compensate for Ren not being punished due to political reasons though.

"We're going to go Class Up. See you." (Naofumi)

"It's been an enlightening talk, I also thank you." (Queen)

Then we went to the Hourglass of the Dragon's Era and completed the Class Ups.

Ah, Melty finished the ceremony at a frightening speed. The feather reacted before there was any contact.

Was it alright even though she wasn't a companion of mine?

But when I was sensing the flow of magic, I felt something escaping from my shield.

...It awakened some unpleasant ability.

Alta was also able to be influenced by Firo's ahoge.

When I asked Fitoria, using Firo as a proxy, she said that the divine protection of the dragon fragment was also engaged so it was hard for her to engage or something...

With this, our war power rose.

"Now then Firo." (Naofumi)

"Wha~t?" (Firo)

"Take the Future Queen Melty and Atla to—" (Naofumi)

"Naofumi...If you don't stop it, I'll get mad." (Melty)

"Yeah, yeah, aren't you always mad...I get it so stop with the magic."
(Naofumi)

Well, we have some flexibility this time so I'll let her go.

“Then take Atla and go level up.” (Naofumi)

“Ok!” (Firo)

“No way! Naofumi-sama!” (Atla)

Firo carried Atla on her shoulders and ran.

“Naofumi-samaaaaa—” (Atla)

With this, it will be quiet.

Now I have to return to the village and discuss Ren’s treatment.

From tomorrow, it’ll be unnecessary to start the Female Knight’s boot camp.

When it became night, due to weariness or something, that Ren made a refreshing face and came to be annoyed about sleeping, and therefore muttered sarcasm. [T/N: Help? 夜になると疲労からなのか、錬の奴が爽やかな顔をして寝ている事にイラッと来たので、嫌味を囁きまくってやった。]

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 203 – Flow of Magic Power

---

Firo and Atla came back the next morning. The noise settled down, people with a level of 66 stuck in my chest as an auspicious number.

"Now then Atla, focus on the attack I've requested, and use it nimbly for me to see" (Naofumi)

"Do you mean like this?" (Atla)

I received Atla's thrust, applying Peerless Transformation style's concept of ki to herself. It let out a good sound, bashin-.

The foreign substance coming into my body...the magic power, I release outside after attaching my own magic power. In the midst of receiving the attack many times, I became able to receive mostly no damage.

Do I not have a way to use the flow of magic power well? I tried experimenting with attack methods, but it seems my lack of offensive power is guaranteed as it did not turn out well.

...The chances that I can use anything but attacks are high. Perhaps it is because of my element as the Hero of the Shield, or maybe it is the nature of magic power.

And so I experiment even while not in battle status. While making lunch, I tried to cut using magic power on my hand holding the knife.

"Wa!"

The slave in charge of cooking raised their voice while watching me cook. Well I guess so. Even the chopping board's been cut. On a mail order tv program somewhere.

"Amazing..."

"As I expected" (Naofumi)

My shield is getting in the way. This. However...this, the cost is intense. A sizeable amount of magic power was taken from just cutting.

Female Knight and Rishia are using this on a regular basis? There are quite a few differences when used for defense.

...This, can't it be applied effectively to skills?

"Today's food made by shield-niichan is even tastier-!" (Kiel)

"Yeah! Delicious! It suddenly got even better!"

I'll resume experiments after lunch, the problem is fuel efficiency. What can be done to improve usage cost efficiency?

"Nii-chan, you listening?" (Kiel)

"Hm? Yea, I'm listening. My skill improved right" (Naofumi)

"Working at Nii-chan's place is the best! Wan wan!" (Kiel)

The excited Kiel became a dog. Her tail going wag wag. That happy huh. You loincloth wearing dog. If I make the food well this'll be said, so it's fine if I pretend to hear.

After eating lunch, while trying to include magic power with skills through trial and error, I use Air Strike Shield. Looking carefully, I observed that some parts of Air Strike Shield's flow of magic power have a weak spots. That Female Knight destroyed Shield Prison so extremely easily, isn't it because she hit these weak spots?

"Atla" (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Atla)

"Try breaking the magic shield I summoned" (Naofumi)

"Okay" (Atla)

When I gave the order, as I thought, Atla hit the weak spots of the flow of magic power. Letting out a bakin sound, the shield was easily destroyed. Just as I thought. In other words....

Concentrating the magic power in my body.

"Air Strike Shield!" (Naofumi)

I cast. But...it didn't go that well. Or this method rather, it's not much different from casting magic.

"The Hero of the Shield worthy of the origin of power commands. Decipher truth once more, protect that one!"

"Fast Guard!" (Naofumi)

I fired again to see magic power expenditure.

...The magic power diminished is even more than I predicted.

At least it succeeded.

Effects are...I check my status to confirm. The improvement is visibly better than the usual Fast Guard.

Then why doesn't it work as a skill? I think there is a chance that the concept of SP differs from magic power. What exactly SP represented as a number, I couldn't figure out even after thinking.

Soul point? Or is it stamina point? Only SP is written in English so I have no idea.

Is this what's called ki? Probably not. Having confirmed with the slaves' statuses, I'm well aware that none of the others have an entry named SP. There is probably no mistaking that this is a characteristic of heroes.

I have a feeling this will be even harder to learn than magic. But if I can understand this sensation called SP, if I become able to add magic power to them, I feel like skills can be further strengthened. As it is now, not only does the prison not work on Female Knight and Atla, it feels like I've reached the limit of just defending with the shield's defensive power. For now I'll just be happy that I can use magic to improve power.

Oh yeah...the cooking I made while practicing it during the day was highly praised, I tried applying magic to the compounding process and made medicine. Ingredients are inferior herbs made from the bioplant.

The Heal Pill has been completed!

Heal Pill Quality somewhat bad->high quality

Kuh...I put a bit too much magic power into it. But, if magic power is put into its production, even the quality of inferior materials clearly improves. Magic is sometimes conferred when you enchant but, as expected it's handled with a different system. I anticipate my hero characteristics will have an improved effect if I add magic power to my shield. The reason I can't reach the skill level of pharmacists may be...and so I show my face in the neighboring town.

Then I went to peek at the pharmacist's magic power used when compounding. Rather than bestowing magic power, I feel a thin magic power streaming out from the pharmacist's body to help with the compounding.

As I thought! This can be adapted to item production too! A large difference in skill will probably appear between I who is clearly aware when compounding and the pharmacist who is not.

I want to teach the pharmacist. But, will the pharmacist become able to manipulate magic power? Even I had to be poked a lot by Atla and told the general idea by Female Knight and the combat instructor before I became aware. Probably, the bunch of this world can use magic power subconsciously to do things. In which case, what factors into having talent? Mastering this power would become awakening to talent.

...No, the battle instructor called Rishia a rare talent. I thought Rishia's flow of magic power looked strangely low when I saw it. So it likely can't be judged by that alone. There'll be no end if we bring up exceptions, but that isn't everything. I think I'll gather a bit more research.

Imia who is studying at the dress shop is...what? She is zealously packing in magic power as she sews. Won't her magic power run out like that? However, Imia is sewing clothes as if there was no bottom to her magic power.

Concentration ability...?

I can't really get a grasp on the essence of this magic power. Racial ability correction? If I think the cost is low, and there only appears to be a lot coming out, I can nod. I understand now why clothes made by Imia is strangely good.

The skill to make a high-quality dress from a monster's hide, I've certainly gotten a look at it. Guess I'll bring refreshments or something after. The gloves she made looked so easy to use even I was surprised. The size is also perfect. Though I'm a connoisseur, the imperfections were intentional.

Well then, the neighboring town's reconstruction has been mostly completed. I don't see anything inconvenient. It is also thanks to Melty and her subordinates. Under my umbrella of power, demi-humans who worshipped the shield could not behave arrogantly. I'm giving speeches at fixed intervals, and patrolling when free.

"Ah, Master" (Firo)

Firo came with Melty on her back.

"What are you doing?"

"Studying and patrolling" (Naofumi)

"Wow-, you properly do stuff that needs to be done huh, Naofumi" (Melty)

Incidentally Firo's magic power appears like a giant clump. But I don't see the ahoge's reception. Atla has spoken as if she could see it.

"So you say, but it was you who said it'd somehow or other be bad if not managed right, Melty" (Naofumi)

"I guess" (Melty)

"You're not going on a levelling trip?" (Naofumi)

"I'm not going!" (Melty)

"Why? You're the next queen, having a high level shouldn't be a disadvantage"(Naofumi)

Though rotten, she's a magician type. My place only has Taniko and the matchless people with magic specialties. The slaves learning at the magic shop can remember magic, but demi-humans scarcely possess straight natures, they all seem plain or rather many are the physical strengthening type. Of course, there are some who can use attack magic, but those who specialize in it are rare.

...Thinking about it really, really carefully, both Taniko and Gaelion's flow of magic power was low. I can't figure out what factors are involved with the essence of magic power. I won't know even if I confirm with help, after all the shield works differently right?

"My natural role is as the rear command! Being able to defend myself is good but, why would the ruler of a whole country be standing on the front lines! (Melty)

"Certainly. But in my world, there were moving tales of splendid kings who fought on the front lines for their people?" (Naofumi)

"...There's that but still" (Melty)

Melty is honest if it involves the country huh. I wonder what is so hard to stomach.

"But I don't want to increase levels so simply by just riding on Firo-chan. I, in my own way, want to become able to fight" (Melty)

Ohh...as expected her thinking is fundamentally different from her older sister. Your older sister just levelled to increase status, leaving everything to Motoyasu. Thinking like that, it certainly differs from EXP, I can understand the feeling of wanting experience. While we were talking about such things, Gaelion in baby mode descended with a basa-.

"As I thought, you were here" (Gaelion)

Has whispering near my ear become your hobby? Oh yeah, the core stones I got from the Queen turned out to mostly be failures, but it seems to be a useful item for the Dragon Emperor to Status Up. That's why Gaelion has gotten a bit stronger than before. Moreover one was a Dragon Emperor fragment mixed in, Gaelion quickly ate it.

The knowledge that was obtained then...useless information about how heroes fought the waves many times. No, not that it wasn't necessary, but just how much tangible information can you not remember. Though it's helpful to have two people added as options for Class Up assistance.

"What?" (Naofumi)

"Have you forgotten? I had a promise to teach you the Dragon Pulse method" (Gaelion)

"...That's right" (Naofumi)

"Master, what are you talking to Gaelion about?" (Firo)

"About being taught magic" (Naofumi)

"If it's magic, Firo can-" (Firo)

"You are bad at teaching right" (Naofumi)

Let's see--. With the power from the bottom of my body--gyuu- and let it in baa- I think, what you want to be, you become. I haven't forgotten what she said. Firo speaks with nuance so it's difficult for her to teach someone.

"Also, it seems to be useful magic special to dragons so it's impossible" (Naofumi)

Seems you can't use it if you don't have the Dragon Emperor's divine protection. It is probably necessary to receive Gaelion's divine protection.

"Aa, the ones Wyndia-chan uses? Naofumi can use it?" (Melly)

"Who knows" (Naofumi)

"By the way, I suggest you give up on attacks. It is absolutely impossible" (Gaelion)

Gu...why can't I use attacks with this either. Thinking conversely, I'll become able to use restoration but still....

Probably stuff like the holy water's power increase huh. It'll be convenient if I can use it but still.

"Boo-!" (Firo)

Firo regrettably showed her displeasure with an uuh-.

"..."

And then Firo's feathers suddenly stood up while trembling. What? Did she sense a weird presence?

"What's wrong?" (Naofumi)

"Hm-?" (Firo)

I shake my head thinking Firo absent-minded.

"What is it?" (Firo)

"No, I thought you sensed something" (Naofumi)

"Firo doesn't know" (Firo)

What is it with this bird.

"Well then, I'll be walking back to the village so I'll have Gaelion teach me"
(Naofumi)

"Naofumi, can you talk with dragons?" (Melty)

It was broadcast pretty obviously, but Melty doesn't know either. Huh? Was she not there that time when Gaelion talked?

...He hasn't talked. No, he's been talking, just with only whispering near my ears.

"The information hasn't reached you? This guy can speak with human words" (Naofumi)

"Gyau-?" (Gaelion)

Showing this off, Gaelion winked many times in a cutesy manner. What are you trying to do.

"Oi..." (Naofumi)

"As I thought it's a false rumor. Naofumi too, stop saying irresponsible things!" (Melty)

"Mel-chan. Gaelion talks you know?" (Firo)

"I suppose. He can speak with monsters' language right. Come, let's go back to work Firo-chan" (Melty)

"Eh-?" (Firo)

With a ponpon-, directions were given for Firo to move, Firo repeated what she said many times as she walked.

"And? Specifically, it's no good if I don't study it right?" (Naofumi)

"About right. But, the divine protection itself is easily attained. Stay still for a bit" (Gaelion)

While mounting on my shoulders, Gaelion began muttering with a butsubutsu.

"I, Gaelion, command the heavens, command the earth, cut off reason, connect--" (Gaelion)

This phrase again huh, let's look at Gaelion's magic power when he's chanting the Dragon Pulse technique.

"Here I request of the earth to grant power through a new blessing--" (Gaelion)

I see magic power flowing from the ground into Gaelion's core. There seem to be differences from the magic I normally use as expected. If I'm not mistaken, it is something like changing into the embodiment of taking power from other mediums.

That's why the efficacy of mediums will weaken if its power is borrowed repeatedly....

I can see the nearby magic power shining fluffily, a bit fairytale-like. This, if I couldn't see magic power I wouldn't have known about it.

Does Atla see this kind of world? I feel like magic power and ki are a bit different.

"For the blessed one, the Dragon Pulse's divine protection..."

"Dragon - Breath Seal!" (Gaelion)

The magic loosed by Gaelion flared and poured onto me. And then, a soft light was absorbed into my shield.

"The divine protection itself has been set up successfully with this. After this, if you study the manipulation of magic power and method of drawing power you should become able to use it" (Gaelion)

"Ohh-..." (Naofumi)

"However, as far as I can see from your qualities, you only have restoration and support type I believe. I recommend creating a defensive membrane with water for training" (Gaelion)

"Fumu...I got it. Then come at night, I'll train at that time" (Naofumi)

"Met and understood" (Gaelion)

Gaelion rapidly spread his wings and took off. With this I've also become able to use magic like Taniko and Sadina huh....

Gaelion took power from the earth right.

Essentially extending my magic power like when enchanting, I tried forcibly extracting power from the ground. Mu...difficult to grasp. Even if you can grab sand barehanded, it mostly ends up spilling out, is what the situation is like. Furthermore this method feels somehow different. When Gaelion did it, the earth naturally released its power on its own.

I haven't learned the aria or anything so it's not like I should be able to use it. After that I groaned as I continued practicing to include magic power with my magic and skills.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 204 – Dragon Pulaw

---

Evening.

While drinking magic water, I continue my researching by compounding medicine. If this influences everything, then I might be able to assist with the weapon shop Old Man's efforts. At least, I can put magic power into the raw materials, even if I only help with the purification of metals, a something good might come out.

"I made you wait" (Gaelion)

"Mu-! Don't come!" (Firo)

Firo is being competitive again. Gaelion brought Atla with him. Sadina is already drinking sake in my room. This fellow can also use Dragon Pulse so techniques will be learned.

"I have come to sleep in the same room today too" (Atla)

"Ah I see. You came without learning your lesson" (Firo)

Though Firo was entirely causing the disturbance, well done. Incidentally, Ren was running laps around the village throughout today too. Well done. He also helped with the village's routine tasks, consisting mainly of manual or physical labor. Though Taniko has not realized how hard she is to deal with, her high-handed character is improving, and she appears to be opening her heart a little to the villagers. Though I don't really care.

"So, Gaelion. Do you remember any magic besides the ones you use?"

(Naofumi)

"There are several conditions, but there is nothing I cannot remember"

(Gaelion)

"Conditions?" (Naofumi)

"First, one who has received the divine protection of Firo Rials is improper"

(Gaelion)

The Class Up correction thing. In other words, I can assume Raphtalia can't do it. Similarly, Atla too? Or rather, the magic Firo Rials use seems to be of the same system as the magic we use after all.

"How about monsters?" (Naofumi)

"With the exception of a small fraction, they have the same system of magic organisation as Firo Rials" (Gaelion)

"Ohh-" (Naofumi)

As I thought, dragon exclusive magic was something like that.

"Sadina has used both types of magic. In which case, if the Firo Rials' divine protection is not received during Class Up, you'll be able to use it?"

(Naofumi)

"Let's see--is it like that?" (Sadina)

"No, I think it'd be considerably difficult. That aquatic beastman is heresy"

(Gaelion)

"Is that so?" (Naofumi)

While grinning, Sadina displays her laidbackness by releasing her clenched fist gesturing gu-pa-.

"Human, you can do anything if you persist-" (Sadina)

"That'd be good if so" (Naofumi)

It's troublesome because this fellow makes everything out to be simple. How should I put it, it seems simple when looking, but do it in practice and the endless difficulties are easily performed or something...that kind of idea.

"Well then" (Gaelion)

Gaelion pointed at the water in the jug.

"The training to draw out the power of that water is beginning, I'll show an example" (Gaelion)

Saying so, Gaelion held his hand over the water jug.

"I guide the power of this water, and desire embodiment. Earth vein. Give me power"

"Aqua Seal!" (Gaelion)

The power transferred from the water jug to Gaelion, becoming an embodiment of magic. If I'm not mistaken, this magic created a magic water membrane. It can be used to weaken the effects of fire attribute magics. It's probably useful when you want to go into fire. For practical uses, it seems like it could be used in place of air-conditioning when it's hot.

"I'm guessing there's no magic book or anything" (Naofumi)

"I suppose. This magic is completely different from the process of how you and others materialize magic from your own power. You use power borrowed from other mediums after all" (Gaelion)

"Before, you didn't embody power from yourself?" (Naofumi)

If I remember correctly, it was Dark Nova - Prominence?

"I don't recommend drawing power from yourself" (Gaelion)

"Why?" (Naofumi)

"Anyway, because it is me, you will end up taking out all of your own power if not moderated. At that time, I give guidance to the power in the Breath organ with me" (Gaelion)

So it's impossible if it's not Gaelion or something like that? In games there'd be an energy bar, though it seems you can attack life force.

"Though you may be from another world, you are still classified as a human so the Dragon Pulse will not work that well" (Gaelion)

"I see" (Naofumi)

"Also, conducting your own magic power to use Dragon Pulse techniques has bad efficiency. Using magic attained the usual way is probably best" (Gaelion)

...I somehow understand. Dragon Pulse that is invoked by power borrowed from outside, and magic that materializes as power is drawn out from within. This is probably a big difference. There isn't much meaning in taking the roundabout way and drawing out your own power with Dragon Pulse. Do they have the same roots? But, it feels like something is different....

"On a related note--Dragon Pulse has little magic power consumption"
(Sadina)

"That I know" (Naofumi)

"Yes, because you are receiving borrowed power, so of course it's cheap"
(Sadina)

I see. It appears in manga, an impression like borrowing power from the spirits of the deceased. In other words, it would be like a magic user and a spirit user by RPG classifications.

"Can it be used without cost?" (Naofumi)

"If you use the same medium too much, the borrowed amount will decrease. Incidentally, it will take some time to recover" (Gaelion)

"Is that so" (Naofumi)

"Also...it is possible to draw power from the precious metals of gems. They have lots of power" (Gaelion)

"Hm? Is it different from magic power?" (Naofumi)

"I'm guessing you mean in gem processing. Strictly speaking they differ. That is a technique that pours magic power into gems to release the power inside it. Dragon Pulse contrarily extracts from it" (Gaelion)

Opposite vector huh...this certainly seems difficult to learn. From there, about two hours were spent practicing Dragon Pulse while being taught by Gaelion and Sadina.

"Like I said don't put in magic power! I know just by seeing the weird magic power in the water" (Gaelion)

"You can see it?" (Naofumi)

"The water is quivering isn't it. Not only that, you can tell by a glance from the weird shining!" (Gaelion)

"Please hold on, Naofumi-sama" (Atla)

Atla is cheering me on. I know already so you hurry and go to sleep.

"Naofumi-chan. It's not good if you release magic power like when you use magic-. Rather, with the feeling of being empty, with the image of receiving power from the water" (Sadina)

"That's what's difficult" (Naofumi)

This is difficult because there is nuance, nothing more. Let's see, not by pulling out with magic power, but by receiving power from the water.... And, with even a slight response the water gave power. Ora! I consciously tried sending power.

"Like I said don't put in magic power!" (Gaelion)

Ah enough! So troublesome-! I feel like I understand why Taniko can only use Dragon Pulse now. Sadina who can use both is an abnormality. There is a genius here too. I'm not a genius but the hard-working type.

And, when I was suffering as two hours passed by. Just somehow or another I grasped the trick. Thanks to becoming able to see the flow of magic power, I learned by watching the flow when Gaelion and Sadina chanted and became able to do it.

It feels like requesting earnestly. At the same time make a cavity in your magic power. After, you gently touch the water with magic power like reaching out your hand. Through my magic power, the water's clean flow is conveyed to me.

"That's right. That is good. I'm surprised you progressed faster than I anticipated" (Gaelion)

"That's true-" (Sadina)

"What do I do after?" (Naofumi)

"The aria will appear in your head. Construct it" (Gaelion)

"Okay?" (Naofumi)

I comprehend up to what was said.

What!?

In my head...something like a puzzle is rising to the surface. A really fluffily indistinct enumeration was joined together like a puzzle. I understand that the magic invoked changes depending on this combination.

"Let me see" (Naofumi)

As I am, I cannot complete many shapes. I try to combine to consciously form the shape of Aqua Seal. However, the parts disappear while I am trying trial and error....

"It failed. Try it once more" (Gaelion)

Hey hey. Taniko and Gaelion are always doing this in actual combat? This is getting more more abnormal. Is there a need to memorize, it's become a staircase of problems. Though I say that, being made light of for not doing it is also objected.

I draw power from the water once more. I assembled the puzzle gently floating upward as quickly as possible. The construction shape is different from last time!

Now is probably not the best time to nitpick. But, the necessary parts are lacking. I can quickly assemble another one from memory.

"I guide the power of this water, and desire embodiment. Earth vein. Give me power..." (Naofumi)

With its completion, words unintentionally leaked out simultaneously. No, rather should I say I ended up reading it? It's somehow troublesome with all these differences between magics, like ease of use.

"Aqua Seal!" (Naofumi)

A target icon appeared so I designated myself. With a bashin-, it was confirmed that the magic was invoked.

"Fumu, you grasped it surprisingly fast. I suppose it's as expected of a hero" (Gaelion)

"That's true-. Naofumi-chan is a genius" (Sadina)

"Don't mess around. I didn't think it'd be this hard" (Naofumi)

"No, learning it in one night should not be a simple feat but..." (Gaelion)

Gaelion is scratching his head with his hind foot making a crunching sound. This fellow acts like a dog.

"Somehow or other Naofumi-chan is a hero you know? Being able to do it might be natural-" (Sadina)

"You're settling a person's efforts as being a hero" (Naofumi)

It was even more trouble to learn than magic. With magic it's fine if you just somehow use magic power and chant a chosen phrase after all. Thinking about it, memorizing the magic wasn't that hard, I feel like learning the written language was way more difficult. So with that said, magic would be simpler?

Hm? I wonder what it is. Something is sticking in my mind.

"Worthy of the origin of power. The Hero of the Shield commands. Decipher reason once more, protect that one!" (Naofumi)

In the middle of chanting, a puzzle arbitrarily formed in my field of vision like with Dragon Pulse, but it can be felt as it is.

...?

I was taught that magic and Dragon Pulse were made of different systems but....

It seems I could grasp something but, somehow it probably won't go well. This is also vital to research into.

"Nn~?" (Firo)

Firo moaned with sleepy eyes. Then her whole body skillfully began shaking with a buruburu. Like I said what is that behavior? It's unpleasant when done in human form so I want you to stop.

...It's gotten pretty late too. I'm also worn-out from magic practice.

"We should call it a night and sleep soon" (Naofumi)

"That's right, progress was fast so even I forgot about time" (Gaelion)

"Even if you praise me nothing will come out of it" (Naofumi)

"I'm saying it's not a lie but...oh, fine. Well then" (Gaelion)

"Kyua!" (Gaelion)

Right after he finished talking, Gaelion returned to child Gaelion, who tried to invade my bed.

"No!" (Firo)

"Kyuaaa..." (Gaelion)

There Firo kicked off the obstruction, and Child Gaelion let out a voice of protest.

"Give it up, your punishment for mischief as not ended yet" (Naofumi)

"Kyuaaaa!" (Gaelion)

Child Gaelion is also starting to want to sleep in my bed like Firo. Though, he's male so I could probably sleep with more peace of mind with him than Firo.

"Beh-!" (Gaelion)

Gaelion kept looking back like he was charmed by his back hairs while walking trudgingly, and left the house.

"Well then let's sleep" (Sadina)

"Su-..." (Atla)

Atla is already sleeping. Her ease of sleep is dreadfully good. Just, Sadina has said she occasionally moves suddenly as if she remembered something so an eye needs to be kept on her. Sadina is somehow or other doing her job properly, as expected of the one Raphtalia relies on...right?

"Well the children are asleep so does Naofumi-chan want to do something fun with oneesan?" (Sadina)

"As if!" (Naofumi)

Really this fellow, she started joking like this after losing to me in a drinking contest. It's not interesting and I'm telling you to stop.

"Too bad, but I'll keep you company any time-" (Sadina)

"Just hurry and sleep!" (Naofumi)

Honestly...oh yeah this fellow is also simply levelling up fast. Seeing she's already up to 62, isn't she fighting even more efficiently than Firo? It's limited to the sea though....

With the trivial chatter finished for the day, I went to bed. Never would I think even in my dreams, that the embers of the problem I overlooked would become such a big fire the next morning.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 205 – Season of Love

---

W...What? I woke up to a sensation like something heavy fell. But I can't move my body and felt really hot.

"Haa...haa..."

Awfully rough breathing can be heard. I took a look, and of all things, Firo was pressing on me in Filo Rial Queen form while she slept face up.

"Oi! Why are you on me! Rather don't break the rules we set!" (Naofumi)

"Haa...haa...n..." (Firo)

Firo's eyes are suspicious. I wonder what, the eyes of a carnivore or rather, her eyes now resemble times when she's about to attack a monster in battle. Nevertheless, her breathing is rough. She swallowed saliva with a gokuri, then once again stared at me with rough breathing.

...Chills ran down my back. For now I'll call out the monster crest item and invoke the penalty on Firo! Electricity ran through the monster crest item with a bachi-.

"Wh, What!?" (Naofumi)

The monster crest is not functioning again!? Exactly what is happening? Did something happen when I was sleeping!?

"Master..." (Firo)

With her feathers swelled, Firo leaned on me and continued talking as is.

"What? Heavy, move!" (Naofumi)

"Master...want to eat" (Firo)

Firo spilled drool as she muttered. She's finally revealed her true colors, this bird! To want to eat your owner of all things, you've no doubt revealed your true nature by attacking me.

"Don't mess around! Move!" (Naofumi)

I change my shield to the combat-use Soul Eater Shield and hit Firo with all my strength. But there was no point to my attack, as Firo took no damage. I tried pushing using all my strength but, that Firo, how did she escape my pushing power unperturbed.

"Want to eat, want to eat..." (Firo)

"Gu..." (Naofumi)

I didn't want to use this hand but....

"Atla!" (Naofumi)

"Nn...? Yes!" (Atla)

I'm guessing it's a situation where Atla is crawling out of bed after being awoken by my voice. She can't see but, she can probably understand with Firo on top of me.

"Wh, what is happening?" (Atla)

"This bird is revealing her true nature and trying to attack me of all things!"
(Naofumi)

"Is, Is that so!?" (Atla)

But...Atla inclined her head in doubt as she spoke.

"There is no hostility though?" (Atla)

"When you eat, do you direct hostility towards your meal?" (Naofumi)

"No, but I believe that sort of thing is different?" (Atla)

"That's fine already, hurry and get Firo o--" (Naofumi)

Before I gave my order, Firo pressed on me harder.

"Buwa--stop" (Naofumi)

"Master-" (Firo)

"!? That's no good. Firo-chan!" (Atla)

Atla ran over and thrust into Firo. I who understood the flow of magic power was able to see. She moved around and thrust at Firo's vitals.

"Ouch-!" (Firo)

Firo bent backwards from the pain and fell from the bed. Okay! I jumped onto my feet from the bed and set my shield towards Firo.

"Ow-...Atla-chan what are you doing-...?" (Firo)

Firo turned her head back as she rubbed spots poked by Atla with teary eyes.

"It's because you tried to attack me" (Naofumi)

"Firo did? Why?" (Firo)

...She seems somehow different from earlier. For now I'll call the monster crest again and try penalizing Firo.

"Ouch-! Ow ow, stop it master-!" (Firo)

Firo began to struggle with a dotabata. The monster crest is functioning normally. Exactly what is going on?

"What's the matter-?" (Sadina)

Sadina was woken up by the disturbance and was getting up.

"Ah, this bird violated our arrangement and attacked me" (Naofumi)

"Is that so?" (Sadina)

"Firo doesn't know! Master stop it-! Ouch-" (Firo)

Okay, well something like this. I stop the monster crest's penalty.

"Uu...Firo doesn't remember..." (Firo)

"For the time being, there was a promise to not go into monster form inside the house" (Naofumi)

"Yeah. Huh? Why is Firo in this form?" (Firo)

"I don't know" (Naofumi)

"Hey. What kind did you mean, saying you were attacked-?" (Sadina)

"She leaned onto me while breathing roughly, spilling drool while repeatedly saying she wants to eat me" (Naofumi)

"Firo won't eat master-!" (Firo)

"Who knows, after all you might instinctively think I look delicious"
(Naofumi)

"Boo-!" (Firo)

Firo changed to human form and protested again. The facts tell the whole story.

"That's-...hasn't Firo-chan entered her season of love?" (Sadina)

"Hah?" (Naofumi)

"Eh-?" (Firo)

I was taken aback by Sadina's words, even Firo tilted her head.

"Mating season huh" (Naofumi)

Firo was quickly brought to Rat's place after that. Ah, Melty was called over for mediating just in case. Firo received a medical examination from Rat while Melty soothed the struggling Firo. Oh yeah, after that Firo once again changed into her monster form, looked at me with the eyes of a bird of prey and muttered, "want to eat".

"Mating season huh-..." (Naofumi)

It's a troublesome thing, or rather estrus even though it's only been around half a year since Firo was born huh. Well, wild animals' breeding cycle should be short. Thinking back recently, she's been shivering and shaking, so that was a premonition huh.

"So, what should be done? Will it be cured if we put Firo into that test tube?" (Naofumi)

"No-!" (Firo)

"Stop any behavior that could break the equipment!" (Rat)

Rat gave a tsukkomi while looking fed up.

"There's medicine to promote it, but medicine to curb it huh-...even if medicine with a calming effect is prescribed, with a variation of Firo Rial it'll just be water on a hot stone..." (Rat)

Rat muttered while rummaging through her medicine shelf. Let's try asking Melty the Firo Rial mania here.

"Melty, do you know anything?" (Naofumi)

"If it's the season of love, I wonder if it'd be correct to let her do as she pleases...even if you repress it, isn't it something that can't be endured?" (Melty)

"That will become me being attacked though" (Naofumi)

"Hm-?" (Firo)

She herself doesn't seem to remember times when she's in estrus though-. Moreover she seems to realize I'd hate her if she did something like that, it's already a different personality.

"There are plenty myths of Firo Rials and humans having children together" (Melly)

"Melly, you know there will be no followup even if you say such things to me right?" (Naofumi)

Is it okay like that? Your important Firo is becoming something dreadful.

"If she gets sexually excited, isn't it fine to pair her with another Firo Rial" (Rat)

"No-!" (Firo)

After Firo raised her voice in protest, she again had bird of prey eyes saying "want to eat".

"Master...other, no..." (Firo)

What do you mean I'm the only target of your sexual urges. Ah really, what kind of face would Raphtalia make if she knew about this. Atla poked Firo to return her to normal.

"Ouch-!" (Firo)

"For now she's being calmed down with pain, but I don't know what will happen if she enters full-blown mating season" (Rat)

"You said something ominous..." (Naofumi)

Rat brings out her desire research as she takes out pen and paper for producing documents.

"Kyua!" (Gaelion)

Gaelion came in such circumstances and rode on my back, then whispered. Is it really necessary to expressly keep it hidden?

"Fumu...the Firo Rial Queen is in estrus hm, want me to suppress it?" (Gaelion)

"You can do it?" (Naofumi)

"Leave it to me" (Gaelion)

Okay, as expected of a dragon. If it's Gaelion he might be able to do something. He's a like a being that rules sexual desire after all.

"Then next time leave me alone with the Firo Rial's queen. Also make sure she cannot run away" (Gaelion)

I don't know what's going to be done but, he probably needs her kept from running while he is chanting the magic. Well, no choice but to try.

"Firo, come here for a bit. Melty and the rest of you wait there" (Naofumi)

"Ye-s?" (Firo)

I took Firo out of the laboratory with Gaelion on my back, pushed them both into another room and locked the door.

"Kukuku, let's have a go-between with a dragon and filo rial..." (Gaelion)

"No-!" (Firo)

"Nngh!? Eei! Be obedient!" (Gaelion)

Wait a moment hey! Not with magic or anything, isn't he trying to have Firo let it out physically!?

"No-! Firo...wants to eat master...dragons...I'll devour" (Firo)

"Nuaaaaaaa! S, someone help meeeeeee! Muu--" (Gaelion)

Looking inside after quickly opening the door, Gaelion looks like he's about to be devoured from the head down by Firo. Hearing the disturbance, Atla returned Firo to normal again. Trying to devour Firo with sexual desire, instead getting devoured from the head down...as I thought he's an unreliable Dragon Emperor.

"Master is cruel!" (Firo)

"I don't know" (Naofumi)

"Do you hate it that much?" (Gaelion)

"Isn't that obvious!" (Firo)

"Kyuaa..." (Gaelion)

Gaelion's shock from being defeated by Firo made him go back inside child Gaelion it seems. Honestly, what Dragon Emperor. You lost to Firo so easily didn't you. Firo in estrus somehow seems to lose various restraints. When she was pressing on me, she was even undaunted by my push so it's substantial.

What should be done.

...Suddenly, Motoyasu's face comes to mind. That pervert seems like he'd happily do it with Firo. But, I'm not a pervert.

"Mel-chan. Master is so cruel" (Firo)

Firo is tattling to Melty. I don't know.

"Why do you hate Firo-chan so much!" (Melty)

"Hate? If I hated her Firo would already be everyone's breakfast you know" (Naofumi)

"No-!" (Firo)

"What did you say!?" (Melty)

"Enough already-...isn't it ok if you just be her partner one time. It's nothing to fret over" (Rat)

"Not a chance" (Naofumi)

"The count is also stubborn-...even though I have some interest in the veracity of the legends" (Rat)

"Research into dragons or something" (Naofumi)

Rat probably also dislikes animals with a similar ecology to filorials. You're contradicting yourself.

"Really, what should be done" (Naofumi)

Won't even Atla become unable to stop it if it's left as is? Not only that, it doesn't seem like it'd stop unless I be her partner. But I'd rather die. There is also the method of having Firo endure it, but it doesn't seem to be something at the level that can be endured.

"Well then, how does pleading with the firo rial's queen sound? She might lend us some insight" (Melty)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 206 – Fitoria's Request

---

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

Fitoria, huh?

Looks like Melty's just as optimistic as ever. I guess for now, I'll ask the queen.

I grab hold of Firo's ahoge like it's a mic and try asking.

"You're seeing this right? Isn't there something that can be done?"
(Naofumi)

I wait for a response.

Before long, Firo starts nodding her head.

This ahoge of hers is just about as useful as a cellphone, huh?

It'd be nice if this world had some form of telecommunication, although I don't know much about radios and the like myself.

"Well you see~... It's not like there's no way, but she said she wants your help for something first." (Firo)

"Of course she does. Tell her no thanks." (Naofumi)

"She says nevermind. Letting Firo power up from eating you would probably be easier anyway." (Firo)

Gu...What a cruel suggestion.

If Firo falls completely into heat... Make no mistake, I wouldn't stand a chance.

Wait, could I just confront her about it directly?

It's not like I'm out of ways to make her give up, but I really don't want to have to resort to them...

After all's said and done, I do appreciate how hard she's trying.

...Come to think of it, couldn't Fitoria be the ring leader behind this whole mess?

I started getting a little doubtful.

The fact that she has control over other monsters is suspicious on its own. Gaelion is a Dragon Emperor, so it's not strange that he could slip through her effectiveness. But I do get that harem-loving dragon isn't worth much to her.

But, I'm in a situation where I can't really refuse, so I have no choice but to listen.

"I understand. What do I have to do?" (Naofumi)

"Well you see. She says, recently, in master's home country, a carriage was targeted by some bandits." (Firo)

"A carriage?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, come to think of it, I've heard that story as well." (Melty)

Melty joined in the conversation.

I guess the fact that she knows must mean these bandits are pretty infamous.

“From what I understand, the bandits only appear at night. Apparently, some peddlers and the like end up getting challenged to a contest, with their carriages on the line.” (Naofumi)

“Their cargo gets stolen, huh… that’s troublesome.” (Rat)

“That’s not it. The victims’ cargo is returned later. It looks like the bandits are just after the carriages.” (Melty)

“What?!?” (Naofumi)

What do you mean they’re just after the carriages?

Looks like there are some weird bandits around.

In the first place, I don’t get the point of using carriages at night.

I guess whoever’s doing this may not be human.

If that’s the case, this would have to mean that Fitoria can’t handle this on her own, huh?

Then I should commend her on asking me for help.

“I’ve heard that many nobles have had their carriages taken away from them by some weird bandits. Moreover, some beaten up carriages have been returning full of treasure. Enough to the point where traders are going out looking for the bandits.” (Melty)

“Wait a second. What’s up with that!?” (Naofumi)

If this is related to Fitoria’s request, then…

“Do Filorials have a trait of wanting to battle between carriages?” (Naofumi)

“Yeah… She says they do.” (Firo)

Jeez…

In short, she wants me to find a solution for some territorial dispute.

Although if they’re wild Filorials, it should be pretty easy.

“The loser has to hand over its carriage. And since it's mating season, Fitoria says that the loser won’t have its love recognized.” (Firo)

Are they hermit crabs, or what?

Huh? So in other words, all we need to do is win.

Moreover, Firo is good at racing.

If that’s the case, if I beat Firo in a race, she’d give up on me right?

“Alright Firo. Have a match with me. A race until the castle. Ready, go!”
(Naofumi)

As long as I make it outside of Gaelion's area of magic jamming in time, I could win easily with Portal Shield.

"Master is going to be cheap, so no!" (Firo)

Tch. She saw through it.

What's really sad is that I really have to race with Firo eventually.

There's no way I can beat her without Portal Shield.

"...So? What is Fitoria asking me to do?" (Naofumi)

"Somehow, you know~. The Filorial in that area aren't taking orders properly, so she wants you to go punish them." (Firo)

Hmm... It doesn't sound too bad, but...

From Melty's conversation, I feel like there's something else.

Is there some other Filorial Queen trying to expand her territory?

I guess I'll have to look into it myself.

"I understand. Tell me where. Just in case, let me take some people along that can fight." (Naofumi)

I'll take along Firo, Rishia, Atlas, and...

"Melty, are you coming?" (Naofumi)

"Somehow I have a bad feeling, but I'll put up since it's for Firo's sake."
(Melly)

Hmm...Female Knight is out of the question since she's still occupied with Ren.

Who else...

"Is Rat coming?" (Naofumi)

"What are you expecting from me?" (Rat)

"I thought you'd come with us for the sake of research." (Naofumi)

"Just hearing about the situation is enough. I'm busy with managing the monsters here anyways." (Rat)

Well it's a territorial dispute between Filorials, after all.

If finding out how to calm Firo down wasn't in the deal, I probably wouldn't have agreed anyways.

Whatever.

"How's your research going?" (Naofumi)

"Pretty well. If Gaelion would let me borrow his core, it'd go even better."
(Rat)

His core, huh... If I remember right, he refused initially because he hadn't gathered enough fragments.

I wonder what it'll look like when it's finished.

Aside from her, I guess there's only Gaelion and Taniko who I could take along.

Well, actually thinking about it, there's no limit to how many people I can bring since we're not going for EXP in the first place.

What kind of challenge will we be facing? Just like hermit crabs, maybe one of carriages crashing into each other? I don't have much of an idea.

Either way, Firo's still in heat, so it's probably better if we bring less people for less of a burden.

Taniko isn't necessarily on bad terms with Firo, but Gaelion is...

Yeah, I guess that's enough people.

"Firo and Rishia, Atlas and Melty. You guys will be accompanying me this time around." (Naofumi)

"Okay." (Everyone)

After deciding that and making proper preparations, we set off.

...I feel like I'm overlooking something.

Wait, I didn't even think about which way we're heading.

"Was it around here?" (Naofumi)

After that, Firo sometimes went back into heat, but for the most part, she was focused on pulling the carriage.

Soon enough, night was falling. We'll be unable to travel soon.

You can already see the moon pretty clearly.

We're currently in the mountain range of Melromarc.

Firo is trotting along the mountain path.

"Let's see. It seems like this should be the area." (Melty)

"I really took up a request from a Filorial. Will I do anything, or what?"
(Naofumi)

"I'm think I'm a little jealous." (Melty)

Says the Filorial Manic in an attempt to console me.

"Naofumi-san, are we going to punish the Filorial here?" (Rishia)

"Let's see. Whether we're crashing with other carriages or not, this'll probably turn into a battle one way or another. That's why I brought you guys along." (Naofumi)

"Okay. I'll do my best." (Rishia)

"Let's do our best, Rishia-san." (Altas)

Aside from Melty, this lot's an honest bunch, so they cooperate very well.

Rishia was also raised pretty well, so as long as the job isn't too difficult, it's an easy win... I think.

“...Nothing’s happening?” (Rishia)

“Yeah. It’s like we’re searching for bandits here, so it can’t be helped.”
(Naofumi)

Although they’re supposed to show up around here.

Will they not show up today?

“Don’t they have a hideout or something? Or rather, a nest since they’re Filorials.” (Naofumi)

“Fitoria says she doesn’t know-” (Firo)

What useless information.

In the first place, we’re looking for Filorials, right?

While thinking that, a torch-like object suddenly appears in the distance, and starts approaching amidst a cloud of dust.

It seems like they’re heading our way pretty quickly from across the mountain range.

It’s that thing where a torch being lit means you’re friendly, right?

We too left our lamp on in the carriage to lure them in the first place.

Now then, I wonder what kind of crooks they are.

Wha-, What?

I look at the so-called bandits... and wrinkle my forehead deep in thought.

The cloud of dust clears up.

The ones pulling the carriage were three red, blue, and green feathered little girls. And in their cargo was...

"Long time no see, Father-in-law. Street Racer Motoyasu, at your service."

With a flag tied to his spear... the so-called "street racing" Spear Hero had appeared.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 207 – Race

---

Ha? Eh? Street Racing?

What the hell is this idiot saying?

Street racing... He's drifting further and further away from being a hero.

What's more, he's giving off a very refreshing smile.

It's annoying. Insanely annoying.

It's a face I might unintentionally punch with all my might.

I don't really want to involve myself with this anymore.

I lift up my shield...

「Portal-」 (Naofumi)

"Wait, wait! You're leaving!?" (Melty)

"After seeing that, what other option do you want me to pick?" (Naofumi)

If there's an option B or C, please tell me.

"If you leave, what will happen to Firo-chan?" (Melty)

"Hm... I'll give up on her." (Naofumi)

"Say what!?" (Melty)

If I leave her be, Motoyasu will definitely do something. I've decided to believe in the man.

Though that's only for my own convenience.

"No!" (Firo)

Firo is resisting quite hard.

"Fuee... What is that guy doing, the Hero of the Spear!?" (Rishia)

"Ah, that person's been like that for quite a while." (Naofumi)

"What did you do!?" (Rishia)

"This person's sister broke him, and then Firo destroyed all remaining parts of his personality." (Naofumi)

"Sister...!" (Melly)

"The Sword person also turned strange due to the former princess, right? Are you not going to save him?" (Rishia)

"The individual is satisfied with his current situation." (Naofumi)

"Ah, and who is this 'Father in Law'?" (Rishia)

"It seems to refer to me." (Naofumi)

"And Why!?" (Melly)

Explaining sounds like a pain. I want to run away as soon as possible.

The one who isn't here when Firo was in a pinch was that man... Is it because he was raising Filo Rials?

He really does unnecessary things.

I was worried because I hadn't seen him for a while, but he was raising children.

He couldn't get Firo's attention, so he raised other Filo Rials to console him!

"Firo wants to return home..." (Firo)

"Yeah... I also want to return." (Naofumi)

Firo doesn't like being around Motoyasu.

But I need to put her somewhere while she's in heat.

"Um... Motoyasu, what exactly are you doing?" (Naofumi)

"Street Racing." (Motoyasu)

"That doesn't answer anything!" (Naofumi)

This is no good. Too many things aren't adding up.

The Curse Series... I want to believe that that is the cause.

"...Why are you operating a place for street racing?" (Naofumi)

"These kids said they wanted to, so I let them do as they pleased."

(Motoyasu)

"Ah, I see. Aren't you giving them a little too much freedom?" (Naofumi)

Filo Rials love carts, and like hermit crabs, occasionally steal them from each other... and he let them act freely.

I don't understand.

I never was able to understand all of Motoyasu's actions, but in the time I haven't seen him, he's turned even more unpredictable.

I should have noticed when Filo Rials came up.

I was deceived by being told tales of Fitoria and Bandits.

But let's see here, Ren was a thief, and Motoyasu became a Bandit... Is Itsuki aiming to become the Pirate King?

"Hey, why are you Father in Law!?" (Melty)

"Perhaps because I'm the one who raised Firo." (Naofumi)

Motoyasu seems to think owner = parent.

Firo may be my subordinate, but she's definitely not my child.

Even if I was her father, isn't this guy older than me?

Why is he calling someone younger than him 'Father in Law'?

"See, Firo-tan. It's our children." (Motoyasu)

"Is that true!?" (Naofumi)

So while in heat, she already did it with Motoyasu.

But she still wanted to do it with me? What a bitch.

What a troublesome person. I placed quite a bit of trust on her... I hate bitches, you know.

If it's true, she better be prepared for quite a bit of punishment.

"No! He's wrong, Master! Firo never did anything like that!" (Firo)

"There's no way Firo-chan would do such a thing! Please stop lying!"

(Melty)

"By the way, there are quite a few pigs around you, Father in Law."

(Motoyasu)

"Listen to me! And what do you mean by pig!?" (Melty)

"P-pig!?" (Rishia)

"Pig? What do you mean by that, anyways?" (Naofumi)

"I mean exactly as I say. Aren't there a lot of pigs around you?" (Motoyasu)

... um, well... Motoyasu did call some women pigs before at the inn we stayed at.

He also called Raphtalia Tanuki-pig.

Could it be...

"Oy, when you look at this, what do you see?" (Naofumi)

I point at Melty.

"A blue piglet. It's saying oink over and over again. I find it annoying. It's gross..." (Motoyasu)

"What was that!? When you say pig, are you referring to me!? Cut the Crap!" (Melty)

"Give it up. It's your sister's fault." (Naofumi)

"Idiot Sister!" (Melty)

Well, I guess I can understand Melty's rage at being called a pig.

But this seems to really be the case.

After being swallowed by the curse series, Motoyasu can only see women as pigs.

He's not reacting to Melty's words, so he can't even hear them.

But... He doesn't seem to hold any ill intentions.

"So are those Filo Rial really your and Firo's children?" (Naofumi)

"Nope." (Motoyasu)

... He answered very honestly... He probably bought them.

Don't make up stuff to send us into panic.

Now that I think about it, when I went to the Slave Dealer's place to drop off money, something was strange.

He didn't look me in the eye.

Was this the cause?

"Now then, Father in Law. I challenge you." (Motoyasu)

"Why!?" (Naofumi)

"We'll set the torch up by the cliff as a goal point. The first person to reach it will be able to select and keep one of their opponent's angels. Does that sound alright?" (Motoyasu)

"Don't go deciding things on your own!" (Naofumi)

"Mo-kun, is it time yet?" (Filo Rial)

"Almost, dear." (Motoyasu)

Who the hell is Mo-kun!?

Those three Filo Rials are Red, Blue Green. It reminds me of old racing games.

To complete the set, they would need a Yellow, but... Ah, I guess Human form Firo is blond.

Those three each seem to have distinct personalities...

But I don't really want to check.

"Now then, let's start the race!" (Motoyasu)

"O-oy! Listen to me!" (Naofumi)

Before I can stop him, Motoyasu disappears down the path he came from.

The sight of the Three Filo Rials running in little girl form...

In my world, this scene would have gotten him arrested immediately.

"W-what will you do?" (Melly)

"... Let's ignore them and go home." (Naofumi)

"Won't that become our loss?" (Melly)

"Probably, but I don't really care." (Naofumi)

Damn you Fitoria. Next time, I'll just have Rat shove Firo in a test tube.

It may be dangerous, but we'll fill her with sedatives until her mating season ends.

The scenes in my imagination shift to SF. This sounds like Cold Sleep.

She probably won't die, she'll wake up before that.

"Hm? What do you mean?" (Firo)

"Well, Firo-chan. If you lose to the Spear Hero, you will belong to the Spear Hero." (Melly)

"That's right Firo-chan. Thank you for the time we shared 'til now. I'll take up your role of sleeping next to Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"Eh!?" (Firo)

It's a bit late, but Firo finally realizes she's been made into a competition prize.

"No!" (Firo)

"Uwa-" (Naofumi)

Firo starts running off at a remarkable pace.

"FUEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEE!" (Rishia)

I agree with Rishia's shout.

With the difference in start times, we're already losing by quite a margin.

What is the course like?

I bet it's advantageous to Motoyasu. That man's been using this mountain as his territory, right?

Let's see. I take out a map.

With all the shaking, it's hard to read.

I look through the map, but... There are so many winding paths I have no idea which way to go.

There are plenty of paths that go alongside cliffs.

… It seems Firo’s motivated, so I guess I should support her.
He never said magic was banned.

「Zveit Aura!」 (Naofumi)

With this, her speed should rise.

“Firo, use the inertia of the carriage to maintain speed as we round that curve.” (Naofumi)

“Okay!” (Firo)

As I propose that, the bird begins a drift with the carriage.

What sort of turning method is this? I’m worried that the wheels will break.
But Motoyasu is doing the same. In a cliff ahead of us, I see Motoyasu far ahead, rounding a corner through drifting.

Firo’s base speed is higher, but Motoyasu’s familiarity with the course, and his early start make it hard to catch up.

“Right! Left! In that fork, the left path is shorter!” (Naofumi)

It’s hard to drive while looking at a map.

Also, our carriage is made of metal, and has quite a few passengers.
If we want greater speed, it’s probably best to leave then.

“Hey Firo.” (Naofumi)

“What~?” (Firo)

Inside the shaking carriage, everyone is frantically holding on to the sides to prevent themselves from falling out.

"Can you leave the carriage and chase them?" (Naofumi)

"I can't!" (Firo)

"Why?" (Naofumi)

"This is Firo's battle, right? Then Firo can't leave the carriage." (Firo)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

Is it something carved into her Filo Rial instincts?

... Now that I think about it, if I purposely lose then Firo will become Motoyasu's... but he seems to have sworn loyalty to me, so we can make that in name only, and he can deal with Firo's mating season without me. I don't need to know how he'll deal with it.

After we've saved the world, in the sunset, he'll meet with Firo and once again...

"Master is thinking something strange!" (Firo)

"Naofumi, please quit it with that face you make whenever you think something rude!" (Melly)

Ah, they saw through me.

Well, even if we lose, we won't lose that much.

"No matter how dirty Firo gets, as long as she works hard, I'll never abandon her." (Naofumi)

"Bu-! Firo's not dirty!" (Firo)

Firo's speed rose.

Does she know what that means? She must be mad because she does.

Should I make a mistake as the navigator now?

No, I'll need to have a reason she can accept.

"Firo, go left there. It should be faster." (Naofumi)

By the way, that way has a bridge suspended by ropes, apparently.
It will be difficult with a carriage.

"W-wait, Naofumi! We're heading for a rope bridge!" (Melly)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

If we fall, I'll use Portal Shield and warp us out.

Snap. Snap. We hear the sound of ropes snapping around us as we cross.

"KYAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA!" (Melly)

Melly's screaming voice is quite annoying.

"FUEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEE!" (Rishia)

Rishia's scream is also quite comparable.

Atlas nervously looks between the two screaming people, and grabs my shirt sleeve.

"I-it'll be fine, right Naofumi-sama?" (Atlas)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

"I-I see, What happened to those two?" (Atlas)

"They're shouting to distract themselves from an unescapable reality."
(Naofumi)

As if she heard me, Melty starts shaking my body back and forth as she screams.

"Mu!" (Firo)

With a final snap, the bridge splits in two.

Now then, to escape.

I prepare to use Portal Shield, but then...

Firo faces the carriage, dis-attaches herself from it, and grabs the rope of the broken bridge. As the Carriage passes over her, she delivers an amazing kick to it, sending it all the way to the other side.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 208 - Shortcut

---

“Fube-” (Firo)

With Firo’s acrobatic kick, the carriage was shot to the other side of the ravine.

The people inside, us, are all slammed against the sides of it. We’ve all developed some mental traumas now.

“To-!” (Firo)

Running up the collapsing bridge, Firo is able to catch up to the carriage at an amazing speed.

I knew that crossing the bridge would be an extreme shortcut, but it was outside the bounds of human ability.

… Well, Firo is a monster.

“Uu… I don’t think I had enough lives to spare for that.” (Melty)

“What a coincidence. I think the same.” (Naofumi)

“If you think that, then choose the route more carefully!” (Melty)

“We have to use this route if we want to win.” (Naofumi)

I leave it at that.

Honestly, I don’t care whether we win or lose.

But this was a great shortcut. We’ve pretty much caught up with Motoyasu’s group.

I pull out the map and check it again.

Let’s see, Motoyasu is… If I rely on the light of the torch, he’s quite ahead.

“Next comes five devilish hairpin turns. Be careful.” (Naofumi)

One wrong step will send us hurtling down the cliffs. Truly a devilish series of turns.

… When did my mind shift into Race Game mode?

“Yeah!” (Firo)

Firo takes the turns perfectly.

Yeah, this would be impossible with a car.

The carriage shakes up and down, and sways from side to side.

“Uge… Aga…” (Melty)

“Fue… Muwa…” (Rishia)

“This is quite amazing.” (Atlas)

Why is Atlas perfectly fine when we’re shaking this much?

I’m relatively fine, though.

Is it because of Magic Flow or Chi?

No, Rishia is no good, so that’s probably not it.

“Uu… I’m going to die. At this rate, we’re all going to die.” (Melty)

For once, Melty acts like a child.

You’re the one who wants to win. Deal with it.

Be thankful you were born in a world where this much isn’t enough to kill you.

“Fueee…” (Rishia)

“If you hate it so much, then let Firo become Motoyasu’s.” (Naofumi)

"No..." (Melty)

"To prioritize friendship over your life, you'll become a fine Queen."

(Naofumi)

"That doesn't make me happy. If you tell me that now, that doesn't make me happy at all..." (Melty)

I'm surrounded by corpses. Perhaps I should have taken Taniko and Gaelion. They could evacuate the people here...

"Now that I think about it, can't you just get off?" (Naofumi)

"How am I supposed to do that!?" (Melty)

"Use magic?" (Naofumi)

"There's no way I can chant Magic in this situation!" (Melty)

"It's not like anything's preventing you. Right. Can't you use water Magic, and use the recoil to fly?"

"Quit joking around!" (Melty)

The other option is to send them off with Portal Shield.

But if I do that, I won't be able to get back.

"Can't you even act a little motivated?" (Melty)

"Not with Motoyasu as my opponent." (Naofumi)

"I can understand your feelings, but don't you care what happens to Firo?" (Melty)

Ehehe. Master~.

... I guess Firo has been helping me quite a bit.

And I can't deny that looking at her soothes me.

But I can't forget how she looked at me as if I were her prey this morning.
Her head is only filled with thoughts of violating me. And food.
As I think that, my head seems to cool down.

"What? Even if Firo becomes Motoyasu's belongings, we'll still interact with her the same way." (Naofumi)

"After thinking, that's your conclusion!? Do you really hate doing it with Firo-chan that much?" (Melty)

"Isn't it obvious? I care for Firo, but I don't have the time to be doing things like that." (Naofumi)

"Ah... I never thought the day would come when I wished the creepy Naofumi were here." (Melty)

"Fuee, My head is spinning. I think I'm going crazy..." (Rishia)

"To say such a thing here. Rishia, you're quite a pervert." (Atlas)

"Why are you only speaking up to that!?" (Melty)

Even though I say that, we've almost caught up.

But we're also closing in on the goal.

At this rate, we'll lose.

Ah, the light is shining on Motoyasu from the torch on the cliff.

There's quite a turn before we can reach his location. If we were able to jump to the other side of the curve, we would be able to win, but I don't think that's possible.

"Firo, you can see a light on that cliff, right? That's the goal. At this rate we will lose." (Naofumi)

"No!" (Firo)

Firo veers off the road!

"Cliff! Firo, that's a cliff! We can't fly, you know! We'll Faaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa-!" (Melly)

"Fueeeeeeeeeeeeeee!" (Rishia)

It's over. Everything is over.

Was I satisfied with my short life?

It would be nice if we could survive.

Hm?

There's still something we can do... but there probably isn't enough time.

"To-!" (Firo)

Firo grabs onto the top of the carriage, and starts flapping her wings. The wind begins to pick up.

The wind whistles loudly.

Could it be that Firo is going to fly?

I recall how she was trying to beat Gaelion. Did she practice to be an aerial mount?

I forgot the obvious fact that Firo is a bird.

If she pushes herself, she should be able to fly.

Oh? We seem to be gliding for a bit.

"Wauuuuuuu..." (Firo)

What sort of island is this? (TL: this is a reference, but I don't know to what.)

Though she may fit, being a gluttonous character.

Does she plan to take a shortcut like this?

But I'm not sure if this will go well. There's a high chance of failure. We're slowly losing altitude.

Firo's body is not one modelled for extended flight.

Is it her weight? I'm surprised Gaelion can even fly with his massive body.

Could it be because physics work differently in this world? Then what of the usually flightless Filo Rial?

... I should probably lend a hand.

「E Float Shield! 」 「Second Shield!」

I deploy these shields at the very end of my range.

And...

「Change Shield!」

I choose the rope shield. It can be used as a grappling hook.

This was an ability that unlocked when I awakened it.

Using it, I can send a rope out of the Shield and pull things closer.

The Chimera Viper Shield has a similar effect, but its range is smaller.

Pretty much, I will be able to attach the carriage to the floating anchors.

After we swing on the first shield like a pendulum, I send the hook towards the next one.

「Shield Prison!」

My shield prison manifests below the carriage.

"Firo!" (Naofumi)

"Yeah!" (Firo)

When we get close enough, I release the Shields, and Firo Kicks the carriage with all her might. We arrive at the other side of the cliff. And Firo uses the Shield Prison as a platform to reach us.

We once again start heading for the goal.

"I definitely didn't have enough lives for that one..." (Melty)

Melty is collapsed on the floor of the carriage in exhaustion.

I feel the same.

I'm never racing with Firo again.

Next time a race comes up, I'm abandoning her with Portal Shield.

But I don't think a race will come up again in the foreseeable future.

"I'm dying. I'll definitely die." (Melty)

"I withstood the Shield Turtle's attacks. I'm here with you." (Naofumi)

"Is that supposed to make me feel better?" (Melty)

What's bugging her so much?

Worse comes to worst, I'd at least use a technique to cushion our fall.

Though we'd be left in pitch black at the bottom of the cliff.

Anyways, we've taken a massive shortcut. Motoyasu should be behind us.

We pass by the torch that marked the goal, and stopped.

"Victory." (Naofumi)

Since we fell behind in the start, we had to desperately grasp for victory. As expected of Firo.

The fact that Motoyasu's three Filo Rials were able to take on Human form, means they're probably Queens as well, though.

But they don't have Ahoges.

"Uu..." (Melly)

"Fue..." (Rishia)

"I won!" (Firo)

While surprised with her victory, Firo climbs onto the roof of the carriage and begins singing.

What sort of ritual is this?

She's really excited. Has she forgotten the resentment she had against me?

But our carriage is now on the verge of collapse.

The wheels can barely be called as such, and the frame is severely warped.

I'll have to buy a new one.

Wasted money...

Should I request it from Motoyasu?

No... I don't really want his beat up carriage either...

"It's Firo's win! Firo is number one. Firo is the fastest. She won't lose to the likes of Gaelion!" (Firo)

She's getting loud.

I have a feeling she's looking at me like I'm prey again.

"The only one Master will ride is Firo! The only one Master will ride is Fi... ouou." (Firo)

I tolerated the first half, but I couldn't forgive the second one. She was swaying her hips.

Until Motoyasu arrived, Firo kept singing of her victory.

Does she really hate Gaelion that much?

And soon after, Motoyasu and his noisy three come storming in.

"I-I lost..." (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu confirms that we arrived first, as he falls to his knees and places his hands on the ground.

—Author Note—

By the way, one of Motoyasu's Filo Rials is male.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 209 – Lust

---

"Victory-!"

Firo still won't stop doing the victory dance. Does she like competitions? Melty and the others are still groggy and suffering.

"Well then...the winner gets to take one firo rial from the loser, was it?"
(Naofumi)

I don't really need it, but that's how it's been decided. Umm, looking carefully, these three seem to have their own characteristics.

The red one with a short bob hairstyle gives a strong-willed impression from their eyes. The blue one with long hair gives a tidy young lady impression. The green one with braided hair seems like a docile, plain class representative type, I'd say similar Rishia.

Firo is like that so I won't judge to what's inside, but the green one looks easiest to use.

"Okay, then send over that quiet-looking emerald green one" (Naofumi)

"No gooooooooood! Green is no gooooooooood!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu protectingly clung to the three of them. Is Midori it's name? I have no duty to say it, but what terrible naming sense. It's very likely that the other two have been named by their colors as well.

"Really you..." (Naofumi)

Bringing up the match yourself and declining when you lose, what's with that. I don't really need you speaking your mind. I have a surplus with even Firo. I don't need just another two.

"Mo-kun!"

"Mo-chan!"

"Motoyasu-san!"

Call him the same way! Is what I will leave unsaid. It'd probably get noisy. The three clung to Motoyasu and were all crying together. Reluctant to part huh? I don't need this.

"It's fine already, just come back. Don't cause trouble. Follow the filio rial queen's instructions" (Naofumi)

Good, mission complete. Firo will quiet down too.

"Father-in-law!" (Motoyasu)

"Stop calling me that!" (Naofumi)

Honestly, you just keep getting broken.

"Please give me your daughter" (Motoyasu)

"Again!" (Naofumi)

Ah really...so troublesome. Or rather, to ask for more even when you lose the match huh.

"Uu...the bad feeling has finally been cured"

"I've found the spot that works for motion sickness" (Atla)

Before I realized, Atla was looking after Melty and Rishia. Recovery seems fast.

""Mu-...""

Motoyasu's followers are saying the same thing as Firo. They are identical on the inside after all.

"No-! Go home if you lost!" (Firo)

Firo declared loudly. As a matter of fact that's how it is. It'll take work to apprehend her, and Gaelion is not here so I don't want to get involved. Let's hurry back.

"Reach Firo-chan! My feelings!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu suddenly wielded his spear and took a pose. What? I didn't get a good look at that flag-attached spear, but the handle is black. Somehow...smells like the Curse Series.

"Temptation!" (Motoyasu)

It felt like something like a barrier was developing in the middle of Motoyasu.

"Wha-" (Naofumi)

What's this guy doing. A really disturbing word is floating into mind. There are many skills with this name that usually have charm-type effects. I concentrated my eyes and look at Motoyasu.

Huh? What? Motoyasu has become good-looking. There're glittering sparkles around him like a lame cloth and the background is dyed pink.

No way...such a hottie...if he's this good-looking even I'll fall for him....

"...Yeah right!" (Naofumi)

I maintain my sense by swinging my head. That was dangerous. I almost got to the point of no recovery.

"Are you okay!?" (Naofumi)

I look toward Melty and the others.

"Ah, yeah. I'm alright...I just thought that person looked a bit cool but I'm okay" (Melty)

"Fuee...I have Itsuki-sama so it's no good..." (Rishia)

"What do you mean?" (Atla)

Atla...was there no effect because she can't see?

"Naofumi-sama is the only one for me no matter what" (Atla)

"I see" (Naofumi)

Anyways, Motoyasu...what are you doing all of a sudden.

"Hey you-...what's that spear?" (Naofumi)

"It is L*st Spear IV. Father-in-law" (Motoyasu)

IV! Higher than Wrath!? Just how sick have you gotten. Or rather, answering so easily is a bad disposition! Last...it's not last. It's lust, no doubt. Why did he answer so honestly I wonder.

"Father-in-law. If Firo-tan desires it, please allow our engagement"
(Motoyasu)

"Don't you just want to brainwash Firo with your temptation skill?"
(Naofumi)

"It's different! It's a skill my heart summoned to convey my [love] to Firo-tan!" (Motoyasu)

"Other females have been tempted too. Even males were affected"
(Naofumi)

What are you learning a brainwashing skill for. Even though I wanted to know about the existence of a brainwashing shield so much, why are you using it. Because Motoyasu before he got broken was loud saying brainwash brainwash.

"I don't need any love besides Firo-tan's" (Motoyasu)

"I see" (Naofumi)

But to think his lust for Firo exceeds my anger....

Wow. Losing is fine already. I want to return. Speaking of...Firo is being quiet.

"Firo?" (Naofumi)

"Haa...haa...n..." (Firo)

This rough breathing, it's come huh. Motoyasu's dearest desire. It's over, I wonder if I should give up. Should I have Atla return her to normal?

In RPGs of the past, charm and confusion could be offset by an attack from an ally. Though sometimes it wouldn't work.

"Okay Atla, hit Firo" (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Atla)

Atla hit around Firo's flank. However....

"Haa...haa..." (Firo)

She won't return.

"Firo-chan?" (Atla)

Ah, she won't come back. Is it impossible to help Firo without defeating Motoyasu?

"Firo-tan! I am over here!" (Motoyasu)

""Muuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuu!""

Leaving behind the three burning with jealousy, Motoyasu opened his arms widely waiting for Firo. Tempting the other with the spear's power is love? However...Motoyasu's plan is--

"--aster. Want to eat" (Firo)

Heading in another direction, the box that must not be opened was opened. Of all things, Firo turned to face me and started walking plumpily.

"Haa...haa..." (Firo)

Her eyes look more dangerous than this morning. A chill ran down my spine. What is this. My instincts are sounding the danger alarm. The goosebumps and chills won't stop. It'll be bad if I don't stand and leave here immediately!

"Portal Shield!" (Naofumi)

I keep relying on this but it can't be helped. I won't get away if I don't rely on it. But....

Transfer failed!? Because of Motoyasu's skill huh.

"I won't let you escape..." (Firo)

Looking closely...something like a mist is enshrouding Firo, with firefly-like lights floating around nearby.

"...Sanctuary..." (Firo)

Firo lightly chanted a magic. It's probably the same system of magic as Gaelion's Dragon Sanctuary without doubt I think.

Dragon Pulse?

No, firo rials would not use it. But the atmosphere and area resemble the time when Fitoria appeared. Why can Firo use it.

Tell me how you were able to use it before me who's relying on Gaelion! No, there's no mistake...it's useful because of the current circumstances.

"Fi, Fitoria! Repay me now and send it!" (Naofumi)

Whether or not I was heard, Firo's ahoge is shining. But it had no effect, and something black was silently coiling about around the ahoge.

"Naofumi-sama!" (Atla)

Atla stood in front of Firo.

"Move" (Firo)

Firo nimbly held Atla's shoulder and moved her aside.

"Ah--" (Atla)

How fast. Even though Atla's movements were good too. Well, being compared to Firo is unfair. She's the fastest of my subordinates after all, this fellow.

"Atla, do you know what's happening to Firo?" (Naofumi)

"Yes! Something black came out from that person and is coiling around Firo-chan" (Atla)

Then, Atla pointed at Motoyasu.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 210 – Envy

---

Motoyasu put the end of the flag into his mouth and stretched it with all his strength as he glared at me with a look of jealousy.

"Wasn't it your own fault! What are you looking at me enviously for!"

(Naofumi)

"No way, father-in-law! Doing that as parent and child is a crime! It's not like I'm feeling jealous or anything!" (Motoyasu)

"Don't make it so obvious idiooooot!" (Naofumi)

Step by step, Firo is approaching me. Should I run away? I have a feeling Firo is only approaching slowly because I'm within range. Well, I'll confirm with the monster crest item first. It's unrefutably a sandstorm. Operation impossible. Next is, exclude Firo from the party!

"Meteor Shield!" (Naofumi)

"Hindrance-" (Firo)

The developed Meteor Shield was destroyed in one hit! H, hey! This is seriously bad. I'll get done by Firo at this rate!

"So jealous, so jealous-! I'm so jealous of you being loved by Firo-tan"

(Motoyasu)

"Shut up-!" (Naofumi)

Who's fault do you think it is! Motoyasu's spear...it seems that spear is granting power to Firo. It probably has an effect of lending power to those overcome by lust. What a bothersome ability to possess.

"Motoyasu, hurry and change that spear!" (Naofumi)

"What are you saying, father-in-law. There's no way I could change a spear that appeared from my love for Firo-tan" (Motoyasu)

"Your beloved Firo will run wild at this rate!" (Naofumi)

I am the main victim. Isn't it normally the opposite?

Defeating Motoyasu for Firo who was brainwashed by Motoyasu...won't happen. It's become to defeat Firo to stop her rampaging caused by Motoyasu.

If I am defeated in the former scenario, Firo will be done by Motoyasu. If I am defeated in the latter scenario, I will be done by Firo. Why is it.

"No goooooood! Firo-taaaaaaaan!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu rushed over and stood in front of me as if to shield me. Then he faced Firo and shouted.

"That's no good Firo-tan. Incest is no good!" (Motoyasu)

"We aren't even real parent and child!" (Naofumi)

I've had enough of this state of affairs. From the start.

"Firo-tan! That's no good" (Motoyasu)

"Move-" (Firo)

"Nuah! Even then, I'll show you that I can prevent you from going down the path of evil!" (Motoyasu)

Why Motoyasu is trying to stop Firo's advance with his back turned towards me, I want to consult this with Raphtalia. Why is Raphtalia not here.

Raphtalia would be able to understand. This resentment with no comparion.

"Like I said, hurry and change your spear!" (Naofumi)

"Master...haa...Firo's-...haa...n..." (Firo)

"Youuu! Father-in-law. I'm soooooooo envious. Being so valued by Firo-chan, soooo bitterrrrrr! Is, how I feel" (Motoyasu)

"Shut up!" (Naofumi)

Who's fault do think it is! It's you! You!

"So jealous, so jealous!" (Motoyasu)

Don't stamp your feet it's disgusting! Don't put on that disgusting smile while getting grappled by Firo. As to why I know what his face looks like, it's because he turned this way and spoke. The idiot.

"So bitterrrrrr..." (Motoyasu)

What!?

A black aura is gushing out of Motoyasu's spear. The flag tied to Motoyasu's spear tore...the spear's tip is revealed.

...Why does it look like the tip of Motoyasu's spear is covered by a mosaic?

"Wha...wha..." (Melty)

Turning to look towards the voice, I see Melty's flushed face. Identically, Rishia who stood recovered from motion sickness was using both hands to cover her eyes with a red face.

"Why do you have a spear with such a shape!" (Melty)

Her loud voice echoed.

"Umm...you can see it Melty?" (Naofumi)

"Naofumi can't see it!?" (Melty)

"Just on the spear's tip, there's a mosaic...it appears blurred" (Naofumi)

"Fuee...I saw it..." (Rishia)

What? I can't see because of the mosaic, but it seems Melty and the others can see it clearly.

"Why can't you see it" (Melty)

"What kind of shape is it?" (Naofumi)

On the other hand, I'm welling with interest since I can't see it. Rather why is it only me who can't see it?

"That's sexual harrassment! If you weren't Naofumi, severe punishment would've been dealt! Rather, aren't you just saying you can't see to humiliate me!" (Melly)

"Sexual harrassment...huh" (Naofumi)

Just...what kind of shape does it have? Things to consider...stuff covered by mosaics on television. Guro..probably not. There would have been mosaics when monsters were being dismantled.

In which case, I'm guessing it probably has the shape of that thing in the wagon of Elizabeth's portable shrine. //phallic festival

What kind of game did the men's thrusting spear appear in again. A spear that does double damage to females.

I'll confirm the shape of Motoyasu's spear once again. An ominous scorpion and snake ornament adorn the handle. The spearhead is still covered by a mosaic.

"Fa, ther..." (Motoyasu)

This guy is still calling me father-in-law at this point. Even while being corroded by the Curse Series. How admirable. It already feels like it'd be fine to call it my loss.

"I will steal, your daughter. With this Lust Envy Spear IV" (Motoyasu)

...Haa. I'm about to be corroded by melancholy.

"Firo-tan! I, will stop you, and take your purity!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu pointed his spear towards Firo.

...Just where are you pointing at. Don't set your aim at the lower half of her body.

"Uu...I'm not going easy if you get in my way" (Firo)

Firo also seriously gathered power and took a stance. Thus Firo and Motoyasu began slowly approaching each other as they looked for openings.

"...Um, what would be good for us to do?"

Atla and Melty ask with half-amazed expressions while standing as if to protect me. I don't know either.

Why is Motoyasu protecting us? Motoyasu is acting like an enigmatic ally. It's so baffling my head is starting to hurt.

"I don't know" (Naofumi)

I just want to quickly return. But, I won't be able to return at this rate. Motoyasu started circling towards Firo's rear with his spear still pointed downwards. Where are you intending to set your aim!

"Fire! Ressentiment!" (Motoyasu)

Again, something is passing through nearby. Temptation also affected me. But, the skill this time....

Fumu, for some reason I recall the incident when I was had by Motoyasu and Witch. But these feelings of resentment are a daily thing, nothing was affected by seeing the betrayed and ruined Motoyasu. Or rather, Raphtalia's face came to mind right afterwards but nothing happened. What kind of skill was that?

"Uu...my head is getting strange" (Melly)

"Fueee...Itsuki-sama-" (Rishia)

"Onii-sama...I'm envious..." (Atla)

Melly, Rishia, and Atla are moaning painfully. Is the skill a mind attack type? Temptation was also a mind attack type, you could say Motoyasu is a pro in that field. To be using it himself, even though he's badmouthed and attacked me over a brainwashing shield....

"Get yourselves together!" (Naofumi)

""Hah!?"""

"What did you feel?" (Naofumi)

"..." (Melly)

Melly quickly averted her line of sight. Next, Rishia muddled her words with the usual "fuee".

"The image of onii-sama and Naofumi-sama having a harmonious relationship appeared in my mind" (Atla)

"Why should I get along with Fohl" (Naofumi)

It seems to set a field with the effect of amplifying feelings of jealousy...that kind of feeling? Well, it wouldn't be strange even if everyone held one or two feelings of jealousy. As I thought, it was a mind attack type. Why did this guy use this kind of skill!

"The power in my heart, is increasing" (Motoyasu)

Ah, boosting yourself with the power of jealousy.

"Reach it! My! Heart of love!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu hoisted his spear up high.

...What part of Firo are you planning to thrust that spear.

"Don't, get in Firo's way-!" (Firo)

Firo was able to turn and dodge faster than Motoyasu could thrust. Maybe thanks to the curse, Motoyasu's movements are considerably fast. No, I have a feeling it's not just that. He's even faster than Ren. Not that he wouldn't be able to keep up at all, but I doubt he'd be able to catch up.

"Firo-tan! Meteor Spear!" (Motoyasu)

Bashii! Motoyasu fired his skill aimed at Firo.

"Nnnngghhhhh!" (Firo)

Firo dodged Motoyasu's Meteor Spear by a paper-thin margin and kicked Motoyasu's chest.

"Gu...Firo-tan's kick, I'm so happy..." (Motoyasu)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 211 – Internal Discord

---

“As expected of Firo-tan. My heart is beating so fast my chest will split open…” (Motoyasu)

Even though Motoyasu was kicked, he’s showing an expression of ecstasy as he gets up.

How long will this headache continue?

And from the sound, it didn’t seem like Firo held back at all with that Kick.

It was a serious kick, and she’s also receiving a bonus from the Lust Spear. My Zveit Aura should also still be in effect… Yet he withstood that. The past Motoyasu would have been split in half. Even the Curse Series shouldn’t increase his stats to this extent.

I don’t know why, but he’s still doing just fine.

“Motoyasu-” (Naofumi)

“WHAT is it, FATHER?” (Motoyasu)

(TL: Motoyasu is randomly switching between Hiragana and Katakana here.)

“… Never mind… Have you been trying out other reinforcement methods?” (Naofumi)

“YES Firo-taN’s fATHER’s words are absolute.” (Motoyasu)

… I don’t need your imitation!

So this idiot finally began using the strengthening methods I passed to Shadow.

The result… The current Motoyasu is probably stronger than me.

My Wrath hasn't been enhanced much, and it's only at level III.

Motoyasu is at IV. His weapon's definitely stronger.

If I make an enemy of him, will I lose?

What should I do in this situation?

Firo is putting up an amazing fight.

And he's counteracting with the boost of his curse skills.

... Isn't this bad? Motoyasu probably won't fight Firo seriously.

But Firo is coming at him with all of her might.

Right now Motoyasu hasn't taken too much damage, but if Firo continues like this things may get ugly.

After that, Firo will, without a doubt, come after me.

If Motoyasu fights to the death, we may have a chance, but we've been told that killing heroes is bad.

If possible, I wasn't to avoid that.

"Hah... Hah...n..." (Firo)

Firo takes an offensive stance.

This stance is...

Magic power begins swirling around her center of gravity. The current me can see it.

I think this is the stance to recover mana.

But in this situation, it probably isn't replenishment, but amplification.

"Reach Firo-tan! My feelings!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu sees this as an opportunity to attack.

But...

Firo's magic replenishment finishes much faster than I expected.

「High Quick!」 (Firo)

There's a flash!

A white afterimage passes through Motoyasu's body. The sight of a white ribbon continuously piercing through Motoyasu's body is burned into my eyes.

"Gufu..." (Motoyasu)

M-Motoyasu! Could he be done already!?

"Amazing. Firo-tan!" (Motoyasu)

Ah. He got up.

That's good. The meat shield protecting me is still alive.

"Um... Should we be doing anything?" (Atlas)

"You want to go into that battlefield? It'll be dangerous even for me, you know." (Naofumi)

"Right..." (Atlas)

But should we really just stay on the sidelines?

I should probably look for a way to escape...

"Rishia, try to run!" (Naofumi)

I order Rishia to try running alone.

“Fue!?” (Rishia)

“Naofumi?” (Melly)

“Now! Quickly!” (Naofumi)

“Yes, Naofumi-sama is saying it, so Rishia-san, please run!” (Atlas)

“Y-yes!” (Rishia)

Upon Atlas’s recommendation, Rishia begins running away.

But… she soon returns.

“Fueeee! Why am I back here!?” (Rishia)

As I thought. We’re in something like a special loop.

It seems we’ll be unable to escape for a while.

Motoyasu and Firo are still fighting.

I’m grasping for the means to do something, but I can’t think of anything.

I just hope that the two forces will collapse simultaneously.

But the situation is heading in a negative direction.

“Diiiiiee-!” (Filo Rials)

Motoyasu’s three subordinate Filo Rials begin attacking Firo.

“W-why is everyone-!?” (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu stands in front to protect Firo.

But the Filo Rials continue their assault, one with a kick, another with magic, and the last one with a battle axe.

The one who kicked was Red, the one who cast was Blue and the one rushing with an axe on their shoulder is Green.

All of them have strange looks in their eyes.

"Hate... The one who monopolizes Mokkun's love, while seducing another man. I hate you!" (Filo Rial)

"Mo-kun is ours..." (Filo Rial)

"Yeah... I won't approve of that person!" (Filo Rial)

"S-stop! Everyone!" (Motoyasu)

""""I Want to be the one to eat Mo-kun (Mokkun)! And that bitch is in the way!"""" (Filo Rials)

To protect Firo. Motoyasu begins fighting the three.

Though not as fast as Firo, they are still quite fast.

"Atlas." (Naofumi)

"Yes, something black is wrapped around those three. It's more potent than with Firo-chan." (Atlas)

"Ah, I see." (Naofumi)

From what I see, they have yet to Class Up.

The fact that they are able to hold off Motoyasu must be due to his own support.

I mean, they're clearly being effected by his Curse Series.

Lust and Envy.

Like Firo, Lust is putting them in heat, and Envy is making them attack Firo. With those three on the offense, Motoyasu has no choice but to defend her. But they're his precious daughters. I don't think he can hurt them.

Motoyasu is protecting Firo. Firo is approaching me with a dangerous aura. The three Filo Rials are trying to kill her.

It may be my imagination, but originally, Motoyasu was the enemy, Firo was an ally, and the Filo Rials were Motoyasu's subordinates, and by transitive property, were enemies.

In reality, Motoyasu is now an ally(?), Firo is an Enemy, and the three are... A third power?

I'm starting to have a hard time differentiating friend and foe.

And then...

"Master... Finally the nuisance is gone..." (Firo)

With her back to Motoyasu, Firo begins walking towards me, step by step. I've had a long time to think, so I have a few plans to test out. Among them should be one that should be able to handle this situation.

Idea 1: Activate the Wrath Shield and turn everything to ash.

Con: The wrath shield hasn't been strengthened, so the fire power may be lacking.

It will be difficult to beat Firo with it. Even including Iron Maiden and Blutopfer.

I can't even use the latter. Even if I get the chance, the chances of it hitting Firo are low. And if it did hit, Firo would die.

Idea 2: Use idea 1 to take out Motoyasu.

Con: I don't have enough information on the current Motoyasu to take him on with certainty.

I also don't know the exact effects of his skills.

Idea 3: Talk to and convince Motoyasu.

Con: There's no precedent showing he can even be reasoned with. To get him to agree, I may have to have Firo talk to him.

But with Firo like this, I can't really do that.

Idea 4: Talk to and convince Firo.

Con: She's not in a state where words will reach her. Convincing her seems impossible. I don't think she'll agree to anything I ask of her.

Idea 5: Cast support on Motoyasu's followers and have them take care of everything.

Con: Firo will get killed. I want to avoid that.

This is no good.

Even taking an uncertain gamble is better than these options.

I wondered about the power of a Wrath Shield reinforced Shield prison and E Float Shield.

My personal defense is very high, but I wasn't sure about external attachments.

And so I experimented with infusing these items with Magic.

But... in order to make them succeed...

"Master~..." (Firo)

I'm going to be defiled!

That is...

"A-at least in human form!" (Naofumi)

What the hell am I saying!?

But being violated by a little girl has to be better than being violated by a giant bird.

“No.” (Firo)

Ku… That’s a nostalgic line from Firo.

When we first taught her to speak, Firo repeated that word over and over.

So I’m going to be defiled by a giant bird. I would rather die.

Motoyasu may be delighted with this, but this is not my fetish!

I have to restrain Firo no matter what.

「Shield-」 (Naofumi)

I feel the flow of energy all around my body.

My desperation, my desire to succeed in this no matter what, makes my mind move faster. I begin to understand this power.

This is… Not Magic. Is it… the Chi that Atlas senses?

No, this power surfaced when I was about to activate Shield Prison.

This is probably the phenomenon known as SP.

「Pri-」 (Naofumi)

I feel the power flowing towards my designated target.

I see… Is that the point where I have to send my magic?

I get the feeling that I can do it.

But I don’t have time. Before I cast it, I cut it off.

「…」 (Naofumi)

The power flowing out returns to my body.

But there is something that surprises me even more.

When I was about to release it, Firo jumped away from the point that I targeted.

Did her instincts tell her to avoid it?

So even if I successfully infuse it with magic, Firo will avoid it.

I'm doing this without any practice. And it requires a lot of concentration to infuse the magic. And now I find that It probably won't even hit her.

I don't have any more options. I could try using this power to strengthen the Meteor Shield, but it's still cooling down.

But... If I give up here, my purity...!

Perhaps I should shift my target to Motoyasu?

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 212 – Love Hunter

---

"Kunu! Nuo! Angels! Stop!" (Motoyasu)

Ye-ah...looks like those followers are attacking Motoyasu to seal him. It'd be good if Motoyasu were sealed, but can these three do it? Two of them can hold him down, but there's still Firo. It's definitely my loss if this fails.

Not to mention Motoyasu is concentrating on the fight and moving around. It's hard to target him. It'd probably be best to take a chance against Motoyasu, but I'm not confident I can add magic power well from out of range. I think it's something like stretching just the added magic power, but without practice, I probably won't be able to do it even if it can be done.

"Master...want to eat" (Firo)

You're still saying that!

"Firo-chan!" (Melly)

Melly went protectively in front me and called out.

"It's dangerous so step back!" (Naofumi)

"No! I am Firo-chan's friend! I can't abandon Firo-chan who's like this!"
(Melly)

I'm doubting if this fellow is really Witch's little sister. The resolve to risk your own life for friendship huh...if Melty's life is in danger, I'll probably have to protect them too. If they have chosen to eliminate their friend Firo when she gets in the way, then I'll have to defend Melty and Rishia while directing attacks.

"Meru...chan?" (Firo)

Oh? Firo turned her face to Melty's call. Good, keep that up.

"That's right! Firo-chan! Naofumi does not wish for relations with you as you are, so...don't be manipulated by that guy's power, return to normal!"
(Melty)

"Gu...u..." (Firo)

Having heard what Melty said, Firo unsteadily approached her while trembling.

"Firo-chan" (Melty)

Melty reached out her hand to brush Firo's chest. I stay in the background tempering magic power and readying SP for the worst case scenario.

"Now, Firo-chan. Turn...back to normal" (Melty)

"..." (Firo)

Did the persuasion work? Firo was quietly lowering her head to Melty. Melty was also smiling while brushing Firo's head.

--Firo, wants to eat Mel-chan too" (Firo)

"Eh--" (Melty)

Firo firmly gripped Melty's shoulder.

"Ah, hey!?" (Melty)

Then she reached towards Melty's lower clothes--

It's a bit evil, but it'd be a waste to let this chance go. Apologies Melty. I'll definitely pay this debt afterwards.

"Now! Shield Prison!" (Naofumi)

"Wh, what are you saying!?" (Melty)

Both Melty and Firo were locked in the prison made by my shield. It's okay. Firo's conscience should recognize Melty as something important like with me. Like how she says she wants to eat me, it does not look like she intends to make food out of Melty...I think.

"Naofumi--wai!" (Melty)

The prison was completed as Melty was being attacked by Firo. Gu...I let out all the magic power I was holding. With this, Firo should be contained for a little while....

"Fuee...the princesss!" (Rishia)

"We've received Melty's noble sacrifice. It's fine. Surely" (Naofumi)

The worst case...let's not think about it. Let's just hope Melty is also a target of the lust-controlled Firo. It would've been dangerous if she was controlled by gluttony.

"Atla, how is it?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. I felt the enclosure cast by Naofumi-sama block the ominous power" (Atla)

"Is that so!?" (Naofumi)

That's good. In other words, Firo will return to normal while in the prison. Melty did a good job too.

"The prison made by Naofumi-sama is simply wonderful. There are still a few frayed spots but, the ominous power has been obstructed" (Atla)

"Ohh..." (Naofumi)

It seems adding magic power to Prison somehow gets rid of its openings. I've heard something good. Female Knight destroyed it easily, but next time won't be so. Training this is vital.

Next is Motoyasu and the others.

I didn't notice because I was focused on Firo but, they're still quarreling. It's ok for me to help out but...what to do.

"Nuoooooooooooooooo! I'll protect Firo-tan and father!" (Motoyasu)

He says.

"Angels! Stop already!" (Motoyasu)

Like that, they make a very annoying racket.

"Mokkun is mine--"

"No, Mo-kun belongs to me--"

"That's wrong. Motoyasu-san is mine--"

""""We won't give you to that bitch!""""

Ah really. Just do that forever! They're close huh, those guys. They're all similar to Firo, but there's no ahoge.

The red one will mostly use its claws but will sometimes breath flames.

Filorials can breath fire? There might be a magic variety.

The blue one mostly uses magic but also plucks and throws its own feathers.
An attack like Feather Shot.

The green one is always in human form. It looks like a human growing feathers and uses magic while wielding an axe. You could also say it has the most demihuman-like fighting method. This fellow is energetic despite appearing so docile.

How should I put it, all their fighting styles differ from Firo's. Is it the filorials' individuality? I don't even want to know.

And thus we're waiting for Prison to disperse, but its duration has extended probably because I added magic power. It's lasted three minutes even though it usually only lasts fifteen seconds.

"Long" (Naofumi)

"It sure is long" (Atla)

"Fuee..." (Rishia)

I don't even want to imagine what is going on inside. I wonder what will be awaiting us when this prison disappears. It's a kind of cat box. Was it Schrodinger's cat? I guess it's different. What will be going on with Firo and Melty once this prison disappears....

There are many possibilities. Firo might have come to her senses just as I imprisoned her. Conversely, it might have done something terrible to Firo. The possibilities are endless.

Melty may have successfully persuaded Firo. Then when five minutes passed, softly...the prison disappeared.

"Fuu..." (Firo)

Firo was sitting there with ecstasy visible on her face. She looks like she's feeling good with her feathers ruffled.

Where is Melty? I pray she has not been eaten by Firo. If I think about it, she's the princess so I'll have no choice but to flee the country if that happened. I shouldn't distrust the friendship between Firo and Melty.

"Oh?" (Naofumi)

Melty is also alive. Near Firo...she's lying down with the defeated pose of a fellow known for their pointless struggling. Her clothes have been removed and scattered about so I try not to look for the princess' dignity.

"Melty-sama!" (Rishia)

Rishia worriedly rushed over to Melty. Rishia turned Melty's face up to check for life, and a trickle of tears spilled out of Melty's half-laughing eyes. Umm, I feel like I've seen this scene somewhere. Like a light yuri manga with two girls I think.

"Melty...um...I'm really sorry. I'll definitely compensate for this after...um...sorry..." (Naofumi)

I reflexively said those words afterwards. To think a conclusion of this extent was waiting...though I did imagine the possibility. How should I put it, it was only a moment but...there may have been a better way. It's okay to begrudge my powerlessness. I'm really sorry.

The cat in the box was violated. What happened inside, only the cat knows. Well, I'll know if the person herself talks though. Melty probably won't say.

Then Rishia picked up the clothes of the rolled up Melty.

"Are you okay!" (Rishia)

"Uu...I faced something terrible" (Melty)

"Let's do it again ♪" (Firo)

"No!" (Melty)

The calmed Firo leaned her head on Melty.

"How's your condition?" (Naofumi)

"Umm--somehow refreshed" (Firo)

"Of course, since you rampaged that much" (Naofumi)

"Naofumi! I'll definitely kill you after this so prepare yourself!" (Melty)

"I do feel apologetic. I'll accept a suitable punishment. But, I just believed in the friendship between you and Firo" (Naofumi)

I won't say anything since your relationship has gotten to that point. It seems Firo also really loves Melty so there probably isn't anyone who can separate them.

"I won't be tricked even if you try to deceive me with skillful words! I absolutely, absolutely will not forgive you!" (Melty)

"Well...bear with everything being the fault of me and your older sister" (Naofumi)

"Muki-!" (Melty)

"Mel-chan. Why are you angry?" (Firo)

"U, umm...you see. Firo-chan. Umm" (Melty)

"Are you angry we kissed? But you said it was okay when we did it earlier" (Firo)

What did you say? These guys...they willingly developed quite an abnormal relationship when I wasn't looking. Even I am not boorish. Let's watch over them from a distance from here on. Also called by the name of fade out.

"Um you see. It's not about that" (Melty)

"Firo's first time was with master so it's ok" (Firo)

What did you say? When was I attacked? No, impossible. I'd probably notice even if I was attacked while asleep. She's saying whatever random thing she wants.

"...Firo-chan. My first kiss was taken by Firo-chan quite long ago..." (Melty)

"But Mel-chan was wondering what a kiss is like" (Firo)

"Second and third bases too Firo-chan...uu...I absolutely can't tell mother" (Melty)

Melty talked to Firo with a flushed face. I thought it was suspicious but it's because you went that far on your own huh.

Good for you Firo, your relationship with Melty has gone beyond close friends. So don't target me with your sexual urges. Resolve it with Melty.

Firo's first time? Kiss? Me? Umm-...I do remember being licked with all her strength but, is it that? Ugh...if that counted then even I have been kissed huh....

"Melty" (Naofumi)

"What!" (Melty)

"Let's not count Firo. It'll be the rule for you and I" (Naofumi)

"Don't mess around!" (Melty)

"I'm not really messing around" (Naofumi)

I don't want it. It'll become a matter of fact if Melty doesn't mutually agree to not mind it.

"That's unnecessary!" (Melty)

"Well? What will it be?" (Naofumi)

"Uu...fine!" (Melty)

"Good. Then let's move the next course of action" (Naofumi)

Fumu, looking carefully the barrier on Firo has dispersed, we'll be able to run away at this rate. Motoyasu's side is...still fighting. It's a miracle no sparks have come our direction. What should be done. It seems like they'd fight forever if left alone. It won't be funny if I use a skill poorly again.

"Firo" (Naofumi)

"Ye-s? (Firo)

I order Firo whose glaze has gotten better.

"Face Motoyasu and say as I say" (Naofumi)

"Eh-...no-!" (Firo)

Honestly, she's still defiant even if her reason is back.

"If you don't you'll be manipulated by Motoyasu again. I won't help you this time for sure...who knows what Motoyasu will do when you don't realize--"
(Naofumi)

"No, no-! Master! What should I do!?" (Firo)

"Say exactly as I do" (Naofumi)

"What are you intending for her to say" (Melty)

The unkempt Melty purified her body with magic, changed her clothes and asked.

"Ah, actually--" (Naofumi)

"Let's stop!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu continues trying to persuade his followers. You are the cause. It seems your followers love you so they feel jealousy towards Firo. You probably won't listen to what I say, so I'll have the now-calm Firo settle this.

"Umm-! Listen spear person-!" (Firo)

Motoyasu turned towards Firo's voice. He put on a happy-looking face that made me want to punch him.

"Ye-s! What is it Firo-tan!" (Motoyasu)

"Um, let's see. Firo likes platonic people, I'm not considering such things until the world is truly peaceful-. Besides that um, what was it? Umm, sincere and, kind to everyone, not be sneaky, and properly follows conditions set when gambling. Also, don't just promise in appearance, reliably keep them-" (Firo)

I have Firo say complaints toward Motoyasu. It'd be good if he'd improve with this....

Also, things about Firo's tastes are lies. A fellow who was attacking Melty until just earlier has no persuasive power. Even this situation may be resolved immediately. You could call it the sage time in Firo talking.

But Firo, you've left out one thing.

"Ah! Lastly, properly listen when people are speaking-. Especially listen to master's orders no matter what. Also, don't follow Firo around until the world has truly become peaceful!" (Firo)

I did not tell her to say that last part....

She has wisdom at a strange place.

"I, is that so!? Firo-tan!" (Motoyasu)

Good good, the negotiations with Motoyasu are successful. Firo, next is just to have him change his spear.

"And so-..." (Firo)

Firo's eyes swam and looked toward me. She's forgotten what I told her. This bird brain.

"Ah. That's right, I'll hate you if you don't change that spear to another one! That spear is especially no good-" (Firo)

"S, such a thing! Understood! I, Motoyasu. Will absolutely not transform to this spear!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu quickly changed to a different spear according to Firo's words. What an honest guy...way too readily. Or rather, this guy changed it so simply. Motoyasu's followers fell to the ground like they ran out of batteries the moment he changed his spear. Now it's gotten quiet.

"Well then..." (Naofumi)

I gave Firo her next message.

"Umm-...Firo-, likes heroes who fight for the sake of the world--so face your sins and surrender to the Queen-" (Firo)

"Understood!" (Motoyasu)

He should've already returned to normal but, Motoyasu is somehow strange.

"Motoyasu-" (Naofumi)

"What is it, father-in-law!" (Motoyasu)

"...What does this fellow look like to you?" (Naofumi)

Again, I point at Melty.

"A blue piglet" (Motoyasu)

He hasn't returned-!

But the spear is a normal one. Is it the influence of the Curse Series? Like when my sense of taste was obstructed, are his sight and hearing obstructed? Though if he's been saved by Firo then it'd be fine if he recovered. Well, that's that.

"Father-in-law, I, Motoyasu vow from here on to contribute for the sake of world peace, and also to become a love hunter to capture Firo-tan's heart"
(Motoyasu)

He's saying nonsensical things again....

"...For now, go to the castle. And never come back" (Naofumi)

"Understood! Come let's go! My angels! Portal Spear!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu's group disappeared instantly. Now it'll become quiet.

"We're returning too. I'm worn out" (Naofumi)

"Oh yes...Naofumi, I absolutely won't forgive you" (Melty)

"I know..." (Naofumi)

Melty sure is obstinate too. Well I guess it can't be helped. I do think just an apology is not enough, but doing that was my only option at that time. I'd come running without fail if Melty was truly in trouble so forgive me.

With this, it's one matter settled. Right?

"Naofumi-sama's ability was wonderful" (Atla)

...Atla said something random. Let's return now. Firo's estrus will probably be suppressed for recompensation.

"Uu...Firo's carriage-..." (Firo)

"You did it yourself" (Naofumi)

"Carriage-..." (Firo)

"Haa. I'll buy another one afterwards, so cheer up" (Naofumi)

"Ya-y!" (Firo)

"Fuee...I don't want to ride a carriage for a while..." (Rishia)

"What a coincidence. Me neither" (Naofumi)

Well, with that, we returned to the village in the same day. I think today is the most worn-out I've felt since I came to this world.

Somehow the sunlight is dazzling.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 213 – Nap

---

After returning to the village, I took a light nap.

Because of Firo's misconduct, I have forbid her from coming into my bed.

In order to keep up the Atlas countermeasures, I invited Melty over, but...

"W-w-why do I have to sleep with Naofumi!?" (Melty)

"Originally, it was Firo's duty, but as she caused quite an uproar, she has been banished as a punishment." (Naofumi)

I asked Rat for the reason for her suddenly going to heat.

She said it may be because I slept next to her so much.

Something about... Being attached to me, or something.

I have no idea what she's trying to say.

I have no intentions of setting up house in this world.

Building a Harem in another world?

I threw away such dreams long ago.

"And so her successor is you, Melty. I thought I would leave her duties to you. Despite what I say, you're pretty strong. You should be able to drive Atlas out." (Naofumi)

"I don't want to!" (Melty)

Melty's face is died a deep shade of red.

But of course.

I did sacrifice her to halt Firo's movement...

"I see. You hate it that much. Then there's no helping it." (Naofumi)

"Eh... ah, wait." (Melty)

"I was in the wrong." (Naofumi)

"Ah... Yeah..." (Melty)

What? Melty is making a strange expression as she hesitantly lowers her extended hand before leaving.

Now then, I have to find another tribute.

Besides Melty, is there someone else in this village who can fight on par with Atlas?

"Hero-sama, I've come to deliver your requested equipment." (Imya)

At that moment, Imya came with the peddling clothing I ordered.

Kiel and the others have good faces, so I thought of making them wear nostalgic Maid outfits, or some clothes that have niche audiences when they go out peddling.

The reception was quite good, and earnings increased.

"Faaaa..." (Imya)

Imya hands the clothing over as she stifles a yawn. Did she stay up all night making these?

Fumu... If she's sleepy, then her timing is good.

My Atlas troubles are common knowledge in the village.

She should understand.

I'm worried whether or not she will be able to drive Atlas out, but there's no one else here, so there's no choice.

"Now then, Imya." (Naofumi)

"What could it be?" (Imya)

"Won't you sleep with me?" (Naofumi)

"EEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEEH!?" (Imya)

After pausing for a few seconds, Imya lets out a loud voice, and falls over.

"Oy, what are you so surprised about?" (Naofumi)

"M-my heart isn't ready..." (Imya)

"What do you mean? It's just sleeping." (Naofumi)

"And I'm... dirty..." (Imya)

What is she saying? I stare at Imya.

I don't get the dirty feeling I got from Raphtalia when I bought her. Just from looking her, I see she has put a bit of attention into personal hygiene. The Raphtalia from back then hadn't bathed in weeks. Though I don't know why my mind is comparing them.

"Don't mind it." (Naofumi)

"I can't!" (Imya)

"I'm also sleepy, so hurry and come to the bed." (Naofumi)

"A...ah... Yes." (Imya)

Imya is shaking. Am I really that scary?

But if she's learned to remain vigilant, I guess that's a good thing.

Why is she loosening her clothing?

A half-naked Imya shakes nervously as she approaches me. Why is she half-naked?

I don't know what her customs are, but does she sleep half-naked?

Timidly, she lies down on my bed.

I put the covers over her and close my eyes, but Imya seems to be making pained sounds as she continues shivering.

As a Mole Demi-Human, are human Beds no good for her?

“What’s wrong? Calm down. You won’t be able to sleep like that.”

(Naofumi)

Maybe because I’ve been sleeping with Firo a lot, having something next to me when I sleep calms me down.

I no longer toss and turn from my trauma like before. I guess sleeping with Firo has been a good rehabilitation.

Oh? Imya’s body temperature is quite high. I lightly pat her head.

And Imya twitches violently.

“Hii!? Um… As I thought… It’s impossible for me! Sorry!” (Imya)

Imya says as she jumps up and runs out of the room.

“Oy. What happened to her?… O-y.” (Naofumi)

Did she think I would try to make a move on her?

No, I don’t think she’s someone who would make that big of a misunderstanding. The fact that Firo sleeps with me as an Atlas countermeasure should be common knowledge here…

As I chase after Imya, I find her discussing something with Kiel. As soon as she sees me, she runs away again at an alarming speed.

Should I invite Kiel instead?

“Niichan! What are you doing!? Don’t you have no interest in women?”

(Kiel)

Kiel acts rebelliously like she always does, but as soon as I get on the bed, she quiets down.

“Uu… Niichan. What do you plan on doing!?” (Kiel)

I pat dog form Kiel as I lie down.

Maybe because I’m used to stroking Firo’s feathers.

Perhaps that’s what lets me sleep easily with others.

In Puppy Mode, all of Kiel’s body is covered in fur. It’s similar and quite soothing. Though Imya would have been fine as well.

“Oh, if Atlas tries to come in, drive her out. Then I’ll be sleeping.”

(Naofumi)

“Ah, Niichan! What do you mean by that?” (Kiel)

“You’re being noisy. Quiet down.” (Naofumi)

“I-I got it Nii-chan.” (Kiel)

Following my orders, Kiel goes quiet, as she lies in the bed waiting for me to fall asleep.

“Niichan. Don’t cause so many misunderstandings… and don’t scare Imya-chan so much…” (Kiel)

“Ha? What are you talking about?” (Naofumi)

“… Niichan, is it true that you’re doing it with Atlas-chan and Firo-chan?”

(Kiel)

“I don’t know what you’re misunderstanding, but there’s no way that’s true.

Everyone should know, right?” (Naofumi)

"... First I'm hearing of it, Niichan." (Kiel)

"Is that so? I though Sadina passed on the information." (Naofumi)

"There's no way Sadina Nee-chan would tell the truth about situations like this! She said that you would be aiming for me next!" (Kiel)

What is that whale telling these kids!?

There's no way I would do such things.

"I did something bad to Imya. I'll have to apologize later." (Naofumi)

"... I don't think you have to worry about it. Imya-chan seemed happy."
(Kiel)

With question marks floating above my head, I went to sleep.

By the way, Atlas did indeed come, and Kiel drove her off with her barking.

Amazing. Kiel is acting like a guard dog.

My evaluation of her has risen ever so slightly.

By the way, because of her barking, I couldn't sleep well.

Anyways, after I woke up from my nap, it was the afternoon.

After distributing lunch to the slaves, I teleported to the castle.

Since Motoyasu surrendered, I have to tell the Queen.

If Firo continues manipulating him, he'll probably help work towards world peace.

I also have to stop by the Old Man's place to place in an order for a carriage.

When I appeared in the Castle, Trash was in front of me.

"..." (Naofumi)

"..." (Trash)

His clothes are quite normal today.

After silence ruled the area for a while... Trash turned and left.

After seeing Atlas, he's gone quiet.

The Queen always comes here to greet me, so this time I go to her office.

"If it isn't Iwatani-sama. How are you doing?" (Queen)

"You know why I'm here, right?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, it's about the Hero of the Spear, right?" (Queen)

"Yeah. Did he come here?" (Naofumi)

"... Early in the morning, he was standing in front of the castle, turning himself in... I went to see him after hearing the report, but he was a little... He wouldn't listen to me, and I had to speak to him through a male interpreter." (Queen)

The queen uses a fan to cover her mouth as she glares at me.

I can understand her feelings. Recently, I've been starting to doubt whether or not his mind even has the capacity to accept logic.

He follows Firo's words without question, but everything else is...

"This is all your daughter's fault." (Naofumi)

"I'm aware. But this change was mostly brought about by Iwatani-sama's pet bird, correct?" (Queen)

I can't deny it, but when you say it like that...

"So? What are you going to do with Motoyasu's sentencing?" (Naofumi)

"As you've probably assumed, we're not going to press further punishment as long as he participates in the wave. Though the individual has also honestly admitted to being a bandit in the mountains." (Queen)

The Queen's avoiding eye contact.

It seems evident that she's hiding something.

Or perhaps she's signaling for me to deduce it myself.

She probably had a hard time dealing with Motoyasu.

"And? What did he do?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, did you understand what I meant?" (Queen)

"You avoided eye contact to make me understand, right?" (Naofumi)

"I'm thankful for Iwatani-sama's deductive ability..." (Queen)

"Just get on with it." (Naofumi)

"Then let me report. The individual in question demanded that he be punished, but Iwe kept trying to tell him that we had no intention of doing so. He refused to pull back, so we told him attaining world peace was to be his punishment." (Queen)

That's a bit much, I told the Queen.

Well, it's not like he's repenting anything. He probably just wants to show Firo that he's starting over for her sake.

"After that, how should I say this. Up until that point, things proceeded relatively smoothly, but after that, the Hero of the Spear began to take increasingly troublesome action regarding the Filo Rials within the castle..." (Queen)

"Ha?" (Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 214 – Revolutionary

---

“Filo Rials again…Motoyasu really makes trouble wherever he goes.”

(Naofumi)

Most of which relate to Filo Rials.

He’s a troublesome man to no end.

He must have been ecstatic when he saw the castle’s Filo Rial stable.

Just how broken does he have to get to satisfy himself…

“There was no helping it, so we have him some Filo Rial eggs, and gave him a mission.” (Queen)

“… The mission was just a front to drive him off, right?” (Naofumi)

“Correct.” (Queen)

I’ve been thinking it for a while, but this country’s Queen is surprisingly honest.

Even so… That man wants even more Filo Rials? Just how severe is his ailment?

“When he came to the castle, he was already followed by 10 Filo Rial Queens…” (Queen)

… What?

10? Wasn’t it 3?

Now that I think about it, he kept referring to them as his angels, and he never said he only had 3.

Is that Idiot building Up a Filo Rial army?

“And the fact that he wants more Filo Rials on top of that…” (Queen)

Well, he is a pervert.

Though Firo didn’t notice it, before he warped away, Motoyasu collected all of Firo’s dropped feathers.

I don’t want to know what he plans on using them for.

“My daughter, Melty, also has a peculiar passion for Filo Rials, but the Hero of the Spear has one that far surpasses hers.” (Queen)

Melty?

She’s passed the ‘Friend’ line with Firo.

Her love for Filo Rials can be compared to Motoyasu… no, she loses out to him.

She couldn’t take all of Firo’s overflowing love.

In a sexual way.

“So Motoyasu is no longer here?” (Naofumi)

“Yes. He said he was heading to Iwatani-sama’s land.” (Queen)

“Don’t pass your problems onto me.” (Naofumi)

Motoyasu is coming to my place? This is no joke.

No matter what, I don’t want to have to deal with that idiot.

Now that I think about it, it’s suspicious that he never came there to see Firo before.

Uu… My stomach hurts.

“After he left, I received another report of him purchasing Filo Rial eggs from a monster dealer.” (Queen)

He bought more after getting them at the castle!?

How many does he need, that man?

This is already a disease. He had 10 from the start already.

"Okay, I understand what happened to Motoyasu. Is there anything else that happened?" (Naofumi)

"The Hero of the Bow has still yet to be sighted. Also, the Anti-Demihuman faction of this country has increased its activity." (Queen)

"Ah, you talked about that before. What do you mean by increasing in activity?" (Naofumi)

"It seems... from circumstantial evidence, and my intuition, mind you, that they're building up forces for a rebellion." (Queen)

A revolution... is it?

In the Human Supremacist Melromark, seeing the Queen give preferential treatment to Demi-Humans is leading to rebellion...

"Punishing Trash let us ease some tensions, but... the limit to that is approaching. We have yet to find definite evidence, but there have been some signs of suspicious activity." (Queen)

"But there's no definitive proof...?" (Naofumi)

"The amount of Nobles refusing to give quests to Demi-Human adventurers is increasing." (Queen)

"Can you do anything about it?" (Naofumi)

"If I take any drastic measures, the situation may explode." (Queen)

So it's a dangerous situation.

This country's contamination really runs deep.

"But Iwatani-sama's actions are gradually improving the public view of Demi-Humans. There is little signs of revolutionary action among the general populace." (Queen)

"Hm?" (Naofumi)

"The sight of your Demi-Humans travelling the country while peddling has left behind a good image. People are forgetting past prejudices, and learning that Demi-Humans and humans can cooperate to overcome the wave." (Queen)

"I see." (Naofumi)

For my peddling to have such an unforeseen effect.

Well, those slaves are uselessly motivated.

I guess it's not weird for them to be able to change some opinions.

"Oh yeah. I thought it was about time to expand the scope of my enterprise." (Naofumi)

"Outside of my country? The documents you have should be good enough for that," (Queen)

The Accessory merchant may have realized that. He may be laughing at me. He's been asking me to stock some of his wares in my peddling carriage. I probably should do so in order to ensure a steady stream of income into the village when I'm gone.

My current goal is to make a peaceful village for Raphtalia that will be able to function without me.

Of course, I'm also building up forces to counter the wave.

I see. Now that I think about it, my village bears the brunt of the political struggle of this country.

I may be seen as an enemy by the various groups here.

I need to proceed with caution.

"I wonder if I should report that as well." (Queen)

"Was there something else?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. This country's penitentiary area was destroyed during the Spirit Turtle attack. We have confirmed the deaths of most of the prisoners, but..."

(Queen)

"But?" (Naofumi)

"There's still a chance that some escaped." (Queen)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

So some prisoners may have escaped.

It's quite an ominous conversation.

"My intuition tells me that they may be involved in this rebellion. Also, another force was driven out by Iwatani-sama's work as well." (Queen)

... The Three Hero's Church is still laying low.

This may be a big problem.

So they're still within this country. I guess it's a good thing nothing's happened yet.

A lot of unreasonable things have been happening to me recently. It feels good to get prior notice for once.

"I'll leave information gathering to you." (Naofumi)

"I understand." (Queen)

"... Do you not carve slave seals into your prisoners?" (Naofumi)

"We do, but the people who held the slave ownership rights were the guards that died in the attack." (Queen)

Ah, I see. The people with the authority to send punishment are dead. This is quite troublesome.

"I think you should leave this situation to be solved by the heroes that caused it." (Naofumi)

Ren seems to be earnestly repenting, so he'll probably accept the task. It seems that he's slowly being accepted into the village.

"For what reason?" (Queen)

"You'll be able to drive out the revolutionaries all at once without the country at fault." (Naofumi)

"... Understood. Honestly, I don't think this is a situation where I should turn to the heroes. This situation is a result of my incompetence." (Queen)

"I know that isn't your true opinion." (Naofumi)

I think it's a good idea.

Honestly, it seems like a pain, and I don't want to get involved.

But if I don't get involved, it would be the same as abandoning my village. That would be extremely foolish.

"I thank you for your cooperation." (Queen)

"Omit your thanks." (Naofumi)

"Iwatani-sama, please remain vigilant. This issue is deeply connected to your land." (Queen)

"I know." (Naofumi)

If the Three Heroes Church attacks, I should get the support of the other churches. Though they denounce them as imposters.

And it's not like my villagers do nothing but eat. They're quite useful individuals.

"All of this is thanks to Iwatani-sama's benevolence." (Queen)

"... Let's leave it at that." (Naofumi)

She seems to be saying her genuine opinion. This makes it all the more suspicious. I don't trust her.

Melty is much easier to handle. By the way, that was a compliment.

... Sometimes, I wonder whether she was really born of the same parents as that Witch.

She prioritizes her friendship with Firo over all else, and is a generally good person. She was raised well.

She's also quite practical.

If I were asked if I had common sense, I would say no. Quite a few of the people around me are lacking in that field.

But I also have Raphtalia and Melty around me.

Discounting the slaves, to which I am like a parent, Melty is one of my most trusted people.

Though... she still might resent me for what I did to her the other day.

Now that I think about it, the Queen hasn't asked me about Melty.

What's done is done, so I was prepared for some punishment...

As long as it doesn't come up, it should be fine.

It may come up down the line, so I should think up some countermeasures.

... No, I think it will be easier to settle this now.

From my experience, putting things off never leads to anything good.

"What should we do about Melty?" (Naofumi)

"Meaning?" (Queen)

She dropped her formal tone.

Was it too troublesome to keep up?

"It's related to Motoyasu's case, so I thought I would bring it up."

(Naofumi)

"About the Filo Rials? Shadow was following your party to some extent, but a barrier-like item was erected, so I don't know what happened after that. I only have the Hero of the Spear's testimony. I believe he called Melty 'That Blue Pig' or something." (Queen)

Good!

She doesn't know anything about it.

I don't think Melty wants to spread the info. Perhaps I can hide it.

"Yeah, Motoyasu's attack sent my Filo Rial out of control, and Melty sacrificed her body to get it under control. If Melty wasn't there, we would have been in trouble. Please praise her later." (Naofumi)

... I'm not lying.

Melty probably won't tell the whole truth, and if her parent praises her she won't be able to.

If I silence Rishia, then the matter will be confined to oblivion.

"I see. Melty does love Filo Rials." (Queen)

The Queen seems satisfied with the explanation as she nods.

But still. Even when a calamity is hitting the world, the people prepare for a rebellion.

Just how rotten can this world be?

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 215 - Barbarian Armor+2

---

After I finished talking with the Queen, I made an appearance at the Weapon Shop.

“Oh. Well isn’t it Laddie. It’s been a while.” (Oyaji)

“So it has. I haven’t seen you guys much because of your thriving business.”
(Naofumi)

I was finally able to meet the Old Man from the weapon shop.

Imia’s Uncle was also there as a shop assistant, lining up weapons in the store.

There’s a better array of products than before.

They looked busy, and business seems good.

“How are you?” (Naofumi)

“We’re pretty good. Just a little longer and it’ll be finished. The shield for Laddie, that is.” (Oyaji)

“I see. How much should I pay?” (Naofumi)

“You let me work this guy freely so 10 gold for the material fees is fine.”
(Oyaji)

The Old Man from the Weapon Shop said generously, pointing at Imia’s Uncle.

It’s a masterpiece made with the materials from the Spirit Turtle. So it’s likely that it’s as fine as the products on auction in Zeltbur.

Moreover, it’s made by the Old Man so it might fetch an even higher price. The problem is what to do with the shield after I’ve Copied it….

Because amongst the guys I have faith in with handling it, there are none who use shields.

“The average market price would be 50 gold, right.” (Imia’s Uncle)

Imia’s Uncle replied, as if reading my thoughts.

It’s the Shield version of the displayed Spirit Turtle Sword that had been scheduled for auction in Zeltbur before.

It’s a product made by the Old Man, and its performance can be expected.

The problem is its cost.

Well the current me can afford to pay 10 gold.

Because I’ve earned that much from managing the land.

Or rather, when spending money to provide for war power to fight the waves, preparing weapons and armour is the most important.

It seems cheap, but if it was 50 gold then it would still cause some hesitation.

“Is it that much of a quality product?” (Naofumi)

“Yes. If there’s no way to use it then having the outlook of selling it is also part of a merchant.” (Imia’s Uncle)

The Old Man also nodded.

But still...to part with the product that they worked hard to make for me is a bit regrettable.

I want to have it on hand even if it ends up gathering dust.

“Well, I’ll think about that when the time comes. How’s the armour?”
(Naofumi)

“It was a good core. With that, there will be no problems inserting it. With those thoughts, we made that first.” (Oyaji)

At the Old Man’s instructions, Imia’s Uncle brought the armour from the shop’s interior.

Its appearance was very similar to the previously equipped Barbarian’s Armour.

However, looking again at the fundamental materials, the metal parts were appended with turtleshell material.

Also, a few of the dark-coloured joints became colourful.

“This is?” (Naofumi)

“We used metal yielded from the Spirit Turtle. There were a few problems with the weight but we’ve already fixed that flaw. Mysteriously, it became lighter after we affixed the core.” (Oyaji)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

I examined the Barbarian’s Armour.

Barbarian’s Armour + 2?

Defence Up   Shock Resistance (Large)   Fire Resistance (Extra Large)   Lightning Resistance (Large)   Absorbption Resistance (Mid)   HP Recovery (Weak)   Magic Recovery (Weak)   SP Recovery (Weak)   Magic Increase (Mid)   Dragon Emperor’s Divine Protection   Magic Defence Production   Automatic Repair Function   Earth Pulse’s Divine Protection   Dragon Attribute   Dragon Territory   Growing Ability

There are even more endowments.

A variety of things are increased in return for the loss of Dark Resistance.

Was the Fire Resistance thanks to the core?

There's also the Dragon Attribute. The dragon aspects probably correspond to Gaelion's core being used.

What's Dragon Territory? The growing ability was an effect I somehow came to expect.

I should ask Gaelion.

"How much is the fee?" (Naofumi)

"Laddie will make good use of it so take it as commission for being the liaison for the materials." (Oyaji)

"That's helpful." (Naofumi)

"It's because I profited from that. To charge you money here, my pride won't allow it." (Oyaji)

The Old Man really did a lot for me, I've always considered him the second most trustworthy after Raphtalia.

It's really disappointing that he won't come to my land though.

"Can I wear it immediately?" (Naofumi)

"Sure! Show us." (Oyaji)

I took the Armour and went to the dressing room to change.

For some reason, despite it feeling familiar, it feels brand new.

Such a mysterious feeling. This...

However, there's no great change in design. Just the colouring is different.

"Hm?" (Naofumi)

The cotton-like texture is different. I understand that something good has been used.

I've received a fine product.

The sizing is also correct, it fits perfectly.

"How is it?" (Naofumi)

"Oh, when speaking of Laddie, it's that kind of image as expected." (Oyaji)

"Um... I find it hard to understand but, some growth is...in regards to Hero-sama...there isn't any." (Imia's Uncle)

Imia's Uncle says ambiguously.

Of course it's like that...the Old Man was pleased, but I also thought it was a fin-de-siècle small fry at first. T/N: Fin de siècle = end of the century. [http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Fin\_de\_si%C3%A8cle]

However, I feel the illusion of being very powerful just by wearing this. Because as far as I'm concerned, this armour made with the Old Man's confidence is the most reliable armour.

Raphtalia said she wanted to be my sword.

And the Old Man granted me with this armour.

In regards to armour, the production of this Barbarian's Armour is the best indeed.

"Thank You." (Naofumi)

"It's been a while since I've heard Laddie's thanks." (Oyaji)

"I just said it." (Naofumi)

"By the way, where's the Miss? She hasn't come at all." (Oyaji) [T/N: Miss = Raphtalia]

"She's still in training." (Naofumi)

"Hmm..." (Oyaji)

"That's right. Old Man, can you see the flow of magic?" (Naofumi)

"What's that?" (Oyaji)

I tried explaining to the old man about how adding magic when cooking or compounding improves the quality.

"I don't see it. But I do understand about adding magic." (Oyaji)

"Is that so." (Naofumi)

Well, I probably don't do it as precisely as Laddie though. Will you try helping next time?" (Oyaji)

"I'll think about it." (Naofumi)

"And also, it's no good if you don't listen carefully to the materials. Pushing is good but pulling is also important." (Oyaji)

Hmm... Adding magic is also important but there must be a guide or something, right.

Adding magic is fine when improving inferior products but if the foundation is good then it shouldn't be put in?

Or was it like the Dragon Pulse method?

Hm? I feel like something flashed.

I should try it next time.

"Now then, I don't want to overstay my welcome...Ah, that's right. Can I have you make me another carriage?" (Naofumi)

"Hm? What happened?" (Oyaji)

"Firo's reckless driving made the carriage do unreasonable things."
(Naofumi)

"What the heck did she do." (Oyaji)

"A race on the mountain passes...she was competing on a mountain trail and jumped off a cliff." (Naofumi)

"What kind of situation is that!" (Oyaji)

As expected, the Old Man was also surprised.

Imia's Uncle was the same as well.

"There won't be a next time, so I'd like to request something similar to before." (Naofumi)

"I get it. I'll make the frame so bring Miss Birdie along once, it's better if I improve it to match her, right?" (Oyaji)

"Ah, then the next time we come." (Naofumi)

"Alright." (Oyaji)

"I will also return to the village soon." (Imia's Uncle)

"So in the end, you're coming?" (Naofumi)

"Temporarily. One way or another, it's better if we make equipment for everyone in the village, right?" (Imia's Uncle)

"Mn...That's true." (Naofumi)

Even now, they're still using second-hand weapons.

If I'm irresponsible and don't replace them then they'll get worn out.

I'm doing maintenance on them for now but it'll probably reach a limit.

Imia has been exhibiting such skills. I'm hoping Imia's Uncle also has a similar level of talent.

"I know who the Hero of the Shield-sama really wanted to come though."
(Imia's Uncle)

"No...that's.." (Naofumi)

Uugh. This is awkward.

Certainly, I wanted the Old Man from the Weapon Shop to come.

Usually I would curtly refuse but that's in comparison with the Old Man.

My apologies, but that's what I really think....

"Please don't worry about it. I don't have any intention to lose." (Imia's Uncle)

"That's right, Jeez, you're not any less capable. I don't think I could've finished that shield without you." (Oyaji)

"Because the Hero of the Shield has such expectations. I don't have any choice but to do it. Or rather, I must do it." (Imia's Uncle)

If the Old Man says so then his skills must be reliable.

Then I'll be anticipating it.

"I'll be looking forward to it. Should I gather materials from somewhere?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. And then, I'll be grateful if you could make a Blacksmith's Workshop for me." (Imia's Uncle)

"Understood. If you tell the neighbouring town, there are some knowledgeable guys so you can leave it to them." (Naofumi)

It's probably fine if I ask at the Accessory Shop.

One way or another, making accessories require the refining of metals and such anyway.

I know that such a workshop was built in the village.

Therefore, he should be able to make one in the village.

I'll haggle as much as I can. He also communicates with the Slave Merchant and is a masochist so he'll be delighted if I haggle.

Of course, I won't let him cut corners with his construction.

"Then until later, when the shield is complete." (Naofumi)

"Ah, I'll see you then..." (Oyaji)

And with that, I left the Weapon Shop behind.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 216 – Complex Ownership

---

“Well, Hero of the Shield, did something happen? Yes.” (Slave Dealer)

“Last we met, I had the feeling you were avoiding eye contact. Does that ring any bells?” (Naofumi)

I go over to the Slave Dealer’s place, and ask as such with my arms crossed. I’m not saying anything was his fault, but this man is one of the many reasons Motoyasu caused me such trouble.

“Absolutely none. Yes.” (Slave Dealer)

“...*Sigh*” (Naofumi)

He’s putting on a business smile.

He’s definitely faking it.

“I’m thinking of leaving my gluttonous Filo Rial in your care for a while.”
(Naofumi)

“T-that is...” (Slave Dealer)

“Of course, you’ll be footing the bill. I won’t let you refuse.” (Naofumi)

I have some political power now, but also this person is earning a lot by selling me slaves.

There’s no way the Slave Dealer would needlessly strain our business relations.

“I understand. Yes. The fact of the matter is that I did indeed offer some Filo Rials to the Hero of the Spear.” (Slave Dealer)

“So you admit it.” (Naofumi)

“He barged into the tent repeating the name of the Hero of the Shield’s Filo Rial, so I offered them to him as an experiment.” (Slave Dealer)

Ah, right. The Slave Dealer was trying to find out the conditions for a Filo Rial becoming a Queen.

But I had my hands full with my Glutton Firo, so I turned down his experiments.

I got my next Filo Rial much much later, and I left his care to Firo so nothing happened.

Could it be… I’m also at fault?

No no no.

I just didn’t participate in his research, and this isn’t my responsibility.

And the Slave Dealer was merely doing business. He sold his merchandise to the person looking for it.

I wonder how long ago he sold them.

The last time that I saw Motoyasu was… When Kiel and the others did their Class Up I think.

It was when I learned Portal Shield.

Back then, the Slave Dealer wasn’t there.

Perhaps I missed him and he later encountered Motoyasu.

I don’t really need to dig too deep into this.

“Regarding that matter, there is something I would like to propose.” (Slave Dealer)

“What is it?” (Naofumi)

“This morning, the Hero of the Spear paid a visit, and the contract ink with your blood is all gone.” (Slave dealer)

“What you say!?” (Naofumi)

Until this point, I never worried about its stock. It was something that naturally came with the slaves I bought.

Slaves aren’t free, and since testing the seal was easy, there wasn’t a risk of fake ink.

In this world, getting a slave without a seal is pretty pointless.

So Motoyasu is in possession of the Ink now.

“On the shelf where I kept the ink, I found several bags of Gold, and a sheet with a signature reminiscent of a Spear and a Filo Rial.” (Slave Dealer)

D-damn! When I had Firo persuade him, I never had her tell him that crime was wrong.

What Firo told him was to be kind and honest.

Because of that, he left money. But we never told him stealing was bad.

I thought that that was included in being honest, but I guess the term literally means simply being fair in one’s actions.

So Motoyasu raises his Filo Rials honestly, and leaves them under my providence.

I don’t know how he thinks, but in his mind, perhaps that is Honesty.

“Damn!” (Naofumi)

I hastily open up the monster management Window.

… The amount of names I don’t know has exponentially increased!

That idiot! He used my ink to contract his Filo Rials.

"I've heard of joint ownership of slaves and monsters... This is probably..."
(Slave Dealer)

I forgot to tell him not to take annoying action on his own.

If I don't do anything about him, then Filo Rial Queens will continue to be mass produced.

He received some eggs from the Queen, and got more from this Merchant.
I need to get back to the village quickly!

"The ownership rights can be annulled by you yourself so there shouldn't be a problem. The Hero of the Spear said he was going to the Hero of the Shield's place." (Slave Dealer)

... The Queen said that as well. What does he plan on doing there?

Even taking an army of Filo Rials with him...

This is serious. I need some drastic countermeasures.

"Got it. I'm going back to my village! 'Cya!" (Naofumi)

"What should I should I do about finding you slaves? Yes." (Slave Dealer)

"Please continue as before." (Naofumi)

"I understand. Yes." (Slave Dealer)

I care not for that at the moment. I run out of the tent and summon a portal.

Ah, I forgot. The Queen said it seemed like Motoyasu's followers had Class Upped.

I return to the village and quickly scan the surroundings.

Good. Motoyasu isn't here yet.

I need to prepare for when he gets here.

Or else...

Now that I think about it, the one who will be doing the work will be Motoyasu. I have no part in it.

Perhaps he opted for joint ownership to get my status boosts.

If he builds up forces, he may oppose me but I don't think that Firoholic will do such a thing.

No. If he takes action on his own I'll be troubled, but as long as I get Firo to tell him when he gets here... it should be fine!

"Hey, Naofumi. Do you know what's going on?" (Ren)

"Hm?" (Naofumi)

Before I realized it, Ren was in front of me.

"What is it?" (Naofumi)

"I don't know. There seems to be something going on outside the village. I can't leave, though." (Ren)

"Outside?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah. I can only see from afar, but... Isn't that Motoyasu?" (Ren)

What?

It suddenly feels like my blood temperature has dropped..

Ren, and Female Knight both stare towards the outskirts of the village...

Where we built the Firo Rial Stable.

The slaves seem to be gathered there.

I timidly approach the area.

"Ah, Niichan- wow! Your clothes are amazing!" (Kiel)

Kiel looks at me, and jumps back at the sight of my clothes.

I don't think I've worn my Barbarian Armor since I first established the village.

For me, this clothing is normal, though.

"Don't mind it." (Naofumi)

"No... I can't. Niichan, are you in to that sort of clothing?" (Kiel)

"I don't know whether I like or hate it, but it's abilities are high, and it was made by someone who treats me well." (Naofumi)

"Is that so?" (Kiel)

I'd like to move on from this topic already.

What is happening in the Filo Rial stable!

"Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"I just got back. What's happening?" (Naofumi)

"I think it was right after Niichan left. Or perhaps before that? It seems there were intruders in the stable." (Kiel)

"I-I see." (Naofumi)

"We were deliberating how to drive them out, but because Niichan wasn't here, we didn't want to take action yet..." (Kiel)

"Yes, Sadina-san isn't here either, and when we sent someone to ask Melty-chan in the neighboring village, we got a report saying Firo didn't want to come here no matter what." (Atlas)

The bad feeling in my chest begins to encompass more parts of my body. Motoyasu is definitely here.

“What should we do?” (Atlas)

“L-let me go confirm the situation there.” (Naofumi)

Perhaps I can talk to him.

I carefully walk up to the Filo Rial stable and put my hand on the large door.

I can hear some noises coming from the inside.

Firo should only have one follower right now. I did plan on getting more in the future though.

What is this? My blood goes cold again.

Every single instinct in my body is telling me not to open this door.

But putting this problem off won't solve anything.

I muster up my courage and swing the door open.

“Wha···!?” (Naofumi)

The inside of the building was pitch black.

No··· that's wrong. There are too many Filo Rials, and all outside light is blocked.

“Ah, the scent of Filo Rials··· Sniff. Sniff.” (Motoyasu)

Right before my eyes, Motoyasu was embracing a Filo Rial Queen, and taking in her scent.

Surrounding him is a large flock of Queens.

I hear the sounds of feathers ruffling as all heads turn to face me.

I'm surrounded by eyes.

""Who is it?"" (Filo Rials)

"Ah, I think he was the Master Moto-kun was talking about." (Filo Rial)

"Right. His eyes look mean, but he somehow looks nice." (Filo Rial)

"Yeah. That must be it." (Filo Rial)

"I get you man. Somehow looking at him makes me feel motivated." (Filo Rial)

"Right, right. The feeling he gives of is different than Motopi." (Filo Rial)

Goosebumps break out all over my body.

""Master! Let's play!"" (Filo Rials)

Bang!

I immediately slam the door and run.

A few seconds later the door opens once more. I look back and am confronted with the terrifying sight of a flock of Filo Rials gaining on me.

"MOTOYASUUUUU! GET OUTTTTT!" (Naofumi)

My heartless cry echoes through the village.

By the way, my salvation came in the form of Firo, who mustered up her courage and came to check the situation out. I now owe her one.

I won't say what sort of things happened to me until she came to my aid.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 217 – Shield Hero's Cheat Course

---

Now then, it's been a few days since Motoyasu has separated from the village and made his own Filo Rial farm (He built a fort with the stable at the center).

The shock from that incident made me unable to approach it for a while. I was attacked by an army of Firos straight out of my darkest nightmares. ...

But when I asked him if I could borrow a Filo Rial, Motoyasu obediently lent one.

Using a relatively cheap Prairie Schooner, I restarted my peddling enterprise.

Though not as fast as Firo, his Filo Rials are quite fast, so they're starting to take over the Caterpilland's jobs.

The problem is the fuel efficiency.

All of the food in the village's storehouse has vanished.

The new Filo Rials do nothing but eat...

If I don't do something, death by starvation seems to be quite a possible future.

As such, we decided to expand our Bioplant cultivation.

The plants have started to become like a forest encircling the village.

The Dunes are working very hard every day in order to maintain the soil for them.

I have to reward them sometime soon.

"Niichan! So Filo Rials really were scary animals!" (Kiel)

Kiel runs at me with her tail wagging in dog form.

Did they try to eat him?

Ever since she learned how to transform, she seems to take that form whenever she gets excited.

This loinclothed dog.

“Besides tables and chairs, they eat everything with legs. Be careful.”

(Naofumi)

(TL: Wow, this joke actually works in both languages)

“Okay! Imya-chan’s also being targeted, so I have to protect her!” (Kiel)

Well, I already told Motoyasu to make sure they don’t eat any villagers so it’ll probably be fine.

Also, since Firo is technically the future Queen of the species, they follow her with absolute obedience.

From the data I’ve collected in the past few days, it seems that all of the Filo Rials besides Motoyasu’s initial 3 will obey her.

I guess this is what you call a pecking order. (TL: puns…)

Filo Rial Queens require expensive slave seals, but with Firo’s Ahoge and Firo’s magic, it seems we will be able to manage.

The restrictions I place on them work as normal.

Of course, when I first met them, these birds had yet to fall under Firo’s dominion.

It seems that after Firo saved me, they battled it out for superiority.

I think I remember the slaves watched their fights enthusiastically.

But because of the shock, my memories of that time are kinda hazy.

“I wonder if Motoyasu is in today.” (Naofumi)

He went off to train his newest Filo Rials.

Before that, he saw Rishia wearing the Firo Plushy, and screamed, “You Fake Bastard!!!” at her, so I sent him off to shut him up.

For some reason, however, he was looking at the costume in envy.

By the way, to this day I still have no idea exactly how many Filo Rials Motoyasu has.

So I timidly peer into the stable from the window.

Hm? Insider, Firo is fidgeting around as she sits next to Melty.

Melty is looking at her while smiling.

As I thought. She is a pervert comparable to Motoyasu.

“Um, now then… Let’s start the conference on how to get Master to praise us.” (Filo Rial)

(TL: This is not Firo. Everyone besides Firo pronounces master wrong.)

… What are they doing?

“The Chairman will be our Future Queen Firo-sama, and I will be managing.”
(Filo Rial)

There is a loud cry from the audience. Or perhaps I should call it a whistle.
The sound of soft things coming into contact with each other is also there. I believe they are trying to clap.

They’re good at imitating human language. Is it because they’re birds?

The Filo Rial Queen speaking... I thing I've seen her before.

Motoyasu's follower? No I don't think so.

"Now then, let me give you the results of research I have carried out since my birth. To put it Bluntly, Master does not hold a high opinion of monsters that communicate in human speech." (Filo Rial)

The Filo Rials watching start talking amongst themselves.

"But Firo-sama is able to get close to him in human form isn't she?" (Filo Rial)

"Try to remember, everyone. Is there not always a set distance between the two of them?" (filo Rial)

"Hm? You know, Firo is liked by master~" (Firo)

"This is the opinion of Firo-sam a, but the truth has yet to be ascertained. Did she not get penalized after starting a commotion earlier?" (Filo Rial)

Melty cringes. I think she just remembered something she didn't want to. I wan't to forget it as well.

I'm surprised she doesn't try to escape from this absurd situation.

"At this point, swaying master's heart by normal actions may prove to be impossible." (Filo Rial)

"That's wrong~ Firo is Master's number one vehicle." (Firo)

"Is that true? Do you not think you have been losing to Gaelion as of late?" (Filo Rial)

Upon these words, Firo begins pouting.

It seems he struck a nerve.

Whenever anything happens, she competes with the dragon.

“What are you looking at?” (Gaelion)

Speak of the devil. Gaelion comes next to me, and peers into the window as well.

“Ah, the growing population of Filo Rials. If they do anything to my territory, I will eat every last one of them.” (Gaelion)

“What can you do when you were devoured yourself?” (Naofumi)

But I don't really care about that.

What exactly are they meeting for? Where is Motoyasu?

Perhaps he isn't here today. His usual three and... the freshly hatched chicks aren't there.

“Pii!” (Chick)

A chick jumps onto my shoulder.

The two left out chicks stand on Gaelion's head and look inside as well.

Didn't Filo Rials and Dragons not get along?

“Now then, everyone. Let us practice speaking out of human tongue. KUE!”
(Filo Rial)

“KUE!” (Everyone)

“That's right. Around Master, do not speak human tongue. Slowly build up fondness, and occasionally get close and offer your head to be pat. When he's in a good mood, he will play with you, so indulge in it to your heart's content. But if you are too persistent, he will hate it, so approach him in moderation.” (Filo Rial)

“YES!” (Everyone)

... The hell is this?

I'm at a loss for words.

It feels as if I just heard people I thought I got along with badmouthing me behind my back.

And what the hell are they trying to get my affection?

I know they can talk already so acting dumb won't get them anywhere.

"Now then, next is practice on making one's self appear loveable." (Filo Rial)

The chairman's eyes turn innocent and round as he tilts his head and looks at a point close to the ground.

Is that where I'm supposed to be?

"KUeee?" (Filo Rial)

He blinks numerous times while his eyes shine and he approaches that point.

It's as if I'm truly standing there.

... If I didn't know better, I think I would pat him.

How sly... It's somehow pissing me off.

Ah, I remember. That's Firo's umber one follower.

He has a bowtie on his chest, and his feathers are groomed as he gives the presentation.

He's the Filo Rial I've known for the longest besides Firo.

So he became a Queen.

I don't know the gender so he might be a King.

Even so... I found him more loveable than Firo, but that was all an act.

"Like that, in order to get close to Master, you need cuteness. Also, even if you can, you must refrain from using human speech. Does everyone understand?" (Filo Rial)

"Yes!" (Everyone)

"With Motoyasu-san, he'll be happy no matter what you do, but in order to be liked by Master, you must have diligence and patience." (Filo Rial)

"Yeah!" (Everyone)

"Now then, to practice." (Filo Rial)

"KUE!" (Everyone)

The Filo Rials in the stable begin practicing. It somehow feels like a cult to me.

What was that Filo Rial's name again?

I often played with him in the mornings, but I don't know his name.

I think the slaves named him.

Compared to Firo, he seems quite smart.

Perhaps because his boss is an idiot... he learned from having a bad example close to him.

Though I hate his slyness.

Now that I think about it, Firo is an airhead. Even if she can speak, she still has some genuine cuteness.

But... now I think I'll put up a bit more distance.

I know all of these birds can speak already.

It's pointless to say KUE! Just when you're in front of me.

I guess they're still birds in the end. They're too shallow minded.

Even Gaelion, who is currently sitting on my head has more cuteness.

Kogaelion Mode has a sense of Purity to him.

Though if I get close to him, Firo gets loud so I refrain from doing so.

Should I end his punishment and give him preferential treatment? I don't have anyone to sleep with me to drive away Atlas at the moment, so the timing is good.

Ah, why is Melty in there anyways?

Well she's a person who's a little more than a friend with Firo.

Does she come to relieve stress?

If I stay any longer they'll notice me, so I quickly retreat.

By the way, I learned later that Follower Number 1 became a Queen because of Motoyasu's influence.

Gaelion said it before, but it seems that if a Hero raises a Filo Rial, it transforms into royalty.

I get the feeling Firo said it too. That if I wished for it, he would become a Queen.

Motoyasu loves Firo, so he probably wishes for one of his Filo Rials to turn out like her. He tried caring for her subordinate.

And because of that, he became a Queen without Firo's orders.

It seems that a few days later the slaves and Atlas participated in this meeting as well.

Gaelion told me that they were researching my preferred type.

They plan to conquer me!? Cut the crap! (TL: Again, as in Galge)

I immediately called these meetings to a close, but... I get the ominous feeling that something's still going on in secret.

Skipping to the result, it seems my Filo Rials became more loveable, and sales increased.

A number of Nobles asked if we would sell them, but Motoyasu started complaining, so we ended up turning them down.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 218 – Fundoshi Wearing Loyal Dog

---

As a change of pace for the day, I felt like making a dessert properly (actually, it may be different) with the wheat flour I got as a gift from the town and sharing it.

I say the dessert may be different because it's made from honey produced by a mutated plant under Rat's research.

I made a sample and taste it.

“Nii-chan! What are you making?” (Kiel)

“Watch quietly. Ah, the fire.... it's good to have it as weak as possible.”

(Naofumi)

While the iron plate is being heated, I made the dough by mixing the wheat flour with monster milk.

I also whip some milk and let the fat float to the top to make some cream. I put some honey to the cream to add sweetness.

In addition, I also prepare some fruits.

While I am cooking, the slaves, monsters and Filo Rials gathers enticed by the smell.

.....Do I have enough?

For the time being, I have a few people make some other dishes using the same materials too.

“Are you doing this to become more popular?” (Female Knight)

“It's natural for Nii-chan!” (Kiel)

“Is cooking Naofumi's hobby?” (Ren)

Ren who had finished training with the Female Knight asks.
Isn't there language studies waiting for you next?

I wanted to know how much determination this guy has so I gave him an order to study.

For the time being, he obedient receives it.

If it was me, I would have disliked it if someone told me to study but he seems to be taking it seriously.

I've made a table of letters and have him transcribed it earnestly.

This is not as a means for him to quickly become stronger, I just wanted to see if there is no remorse.

"It's not particularly a hobby. I just learned it when I noticed it." (Naofumi)

"It's like the experience near the train station. The smell is good too." (Ren)

"That aside, what is it that you're reminiscing?" (Naofumi)

"If Naofumi wishes it……" (Ren)

"Just kidding…… If you would like to eat, wait." (Naofumi)

"Ah, I'm looking forward to the rice Naofumi makes because it is delicious."
(Ren)

Are you trying to get on my good side?

In spite of your habit of thinking yourself as better…… I'm still not used to it.

"Okay." (Naofumi)

The roundly dough that is stretched as thinly as possible is baked on the iron plate, I flip it to cook the other side.

I move the foundation to a different table, spread the fruits, apply the cream, and lastly wrap it like a cup.

"It's finished." (Naofumi)

"Ah, as expected you were making a crepe after all." (Ren)

"Well, I do know how to make them because I used to work at the Byte's Food Corner." (Naofumi)

"Byte…… what a nostalgic word." (Ren)

"Ren, you didn't do something similar like work part-time as well?"
(Naofumi)

"I couldn't. Even though I would have liked to." (Ren)

Ah, Ren is a high-school student, and there are students who are not allowed to have a part-time job by their schools or parents.

In fact, my younger brother goes to a school where part-time jobs are prohibited.

Me? As a high-school student, I worked at Byte's because I needed the money.

You can guess what I used the money for.

That being said, I pass prototype No. 1 to Ren.

Did I reproduce it well? The one who could give the best appraisal is probably Ren.

"Mu…… it's as good as expected. The taste is a little different than I remember but it's nothing to worry about." (Ren)

"So. It was delicious after all?" (Kiel)

Kiel's eyes sparkles when she hears it.

"Oi. This is one of the foods copied from my world. It's called a crepe."
(Naofumi)

I made a second one and pass it to Kiel.

"Crepe…… it's a food I've never heard of. Food from Nii-chan's world."
(Kiel)

Kiel smells and looks at the crepe intensely.

Right now, she is in her human form. But she's been acting more and more like a dog recently.

This girl says that while transforming using magic, her senses are sharper and her body is lighter and easier to move in.

Gulp, and Kiel takes a mouthful bite from the crepe.

"It tastes like nothing I have eaten before." (Kiel)

Mumbling while chewing, Kiel wags her ears and tail many times.

"It's tasty!" (Kiel)

"I see." (Naofumi)

When the slaves, monsters and Filo Rials heard Kiel's declaration, they express their desire of wanting to eat it too.

So I begin baking crepe one after another.

"Tasty! The crepe is deliciouuuuus—!" (Kiel)

Kiel begins to run around while saying that.

"Don't fall down!" (Naofumi)

I think it happened simultaneously as I said it.

Kiel trips!

"Oh…… Have I seen this scene somewhere before? Ah." (Naofumi)

"What a coincidence. I saw something like this once too." (Ren)

Furthermore, the crepe falls to the ground magnificently and is scattered everywhere.

"I think it was an ice-cream at that time." (Naofumi)

"For me it was shaved ice. I haven't seen something like this in a long time."
(Ren)

An event that happens in Japan also exists in the strange world of the VRMMO it seems. (TN: short for Virtual Reality Massively Multiplayer Online)
Kiel…… you're a person who cannot escape from it.

"Uhh…… the crepe that Nii-chan made is—aaaaaaahhhhhhhhh!" (Kiel)

Kiel screams while staring at the scattered crepe with teary eyes.

It's regrettable that such a huge amount was wasted at the same time.

After I have finished feeding the whole village, it's doubtful that there will be enough materials left to make another one for her.

“.....” (Kiel)

Kiel stares at the precious crepe strewn on the ground.

Other demi-human slaves reach out with their hands trying to stand her up, but she doesn't notice it.

Eventually.....

Gulp!

She ate it!?

While I was in deep thought, Kiel transforms into a dog and begins eating the splattered crepe on the ground.

“Kiel-kun! What are you doing!” (slave 1)

“You're going to get a stomach-ache!” (slave 2)

“Let me go! It's something Nii-chan made with great care. I can't let it go to waste.” (Kiel)

“It's no good! You cannot eat something that has fallen on the ground even if it's made by your older brother.” (slave 1)

“I can still eat it! Out of my way! The crepe is still edible!

Uwa~aaaahhhhhhhh!” (Kiel)

This Kiel, even while being restrained her eyes darts wildly around, one of her hand stretches out to the splattered crepe.

Ah..... did I put in something that made her become an addict?

I need to report the failure of the honey to Rat.

"Settle down! Hey, I'll give you my share!" (Ren)

"You would do so!?" (Kiel)

"Yes." (Ren)

The situation is barely contained by Ren shouting at Kiel and giving her his crepe.

Ren who hasn't have enough time to adjust to the village must find it hard to understand why Kiel is so upset.

Well, you'll get used to the village after you have lived here for a while.

Not long after that, Ren returns with a slightly troubled expression.

"To be this emotional……" (Ren)

"No. The honey might have some drugs in it." (Naofumi)

"I think it's different. So I want you to please not stop what you're doing.

Everyone is looking with expectant eyes, I too as well." (Ren)

Ren might be softening due to the pressure from the slaves.

There is a drug scandal, but everything is good since there is no conclusive evidence.

During our talk, Motoyasu comes over while being surrounded by Filo Rials.

"Father in Law. You are doing something that's making me envious!"

(Motoyasu)

Motoyasu says after seeing the Filo Rials receive the crepes and eating them with great pleasure.

That's the first thing you point out?

I always thought Motoyasu's remarks as annoying since the time he was being accompanied by Witch.

What is it that you envy even though you are calling me Father-in-law as usual?

Say something more appropriate…… but I stopped myself from preaching. Although dealing with Motoyasu is troublesome, I know how to handle him well.

“Father in Law!?” (Ren)

Rens asks in a shaky voice while pointing at Motoyasu.

“We didn't have the chance to speak, but what on earth happened!?” (Ren)

“Ah—…… I forgot to explain. Ren, Motoyasu is broken because he was betrayed by Witch.” (Naofumi)

“Is that so?” (Ren)

“Father in Law, it's impolite to say "broken". I was only just awakened to true love. Ren-kun must not make the same mistake too.” (Motoyasu)

“Ren……kun!?” (Ren)

Ren who is trembling with goose bumps seeks help from me.

What a relief.

Looks like it's not only me who is called with a strange name.

Motoyasu is the greatest for managing to creep out Ren.

“What's this about "true love"!?” (Ren)

“Ah—…… to make it easy for you to understand, Witch whispered something that made him depressed…… afterwards a foolish bird gave him words of encouragement. Rather than an owner, I who is the foster parent is considered as a father in law.” (Naofumi)

“Ha~a…… I'm not sure I understand it well, but he seems happy.” (Ren)

Ren analyzes Motoyasu who is laughing merrily while touching the Filo Rials.

“Hm? Motoyasu, are you doing anything? If you don't have any errands, then play with the Filo Rials.” (Naofumi)

Since you're so devoted to bringing up Filo Rials, and I haven't yet given any detailed instructions to you.

I think the number of Filo Rial queens will increase if you raise them and they could play an active part against the Wave.

“Okay. I would also like to know if I could buy new Filo Rials.” (Motoyasu)

“Yet you still want more! Stop being irresponsible!” (Young Filo Rial)

An angry young Filo Rial appears and berates Motoyasu.

This Filo Rial…… It's the one Firo borrowed from Motoyasu and entrusted to me. He disappeared before I realized it and whenever he reappears he is either embarrassed or angry. Though his Level is raised, there are no changes to his appearance. He has a lovely charm because of his really small appetite. (TN: Not sure if this is a male or female Filo Rial)

What kind of principle is this?

I mean, does the Filo Rials have a core stone like their dragon counterpart?

This Filo Rial would appear whenever I invite child Gaelion to sleep in the same bed, and they would proceed to intimidate each other.

Ah, they usually would get along well.

On the surface they are on good terms, but they have a cold relationship of checking and restraining each other.

"I see…… I will endure it then." (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu backs down meekly.

Or rather I want you to stop calling me your father in law.

However, it doesn't seem like he would concede over this and there's no sign of quitting.

"Hm? Ren, I think it's time for you to continue your studies." (Naofumi)

"Ah. It appears so." (Ren)

"Father in Law!" (Motoyasu)

"……What is it?" (Naofumi)

"I would also like to learn." (Motoyasu)

"Ah, yes. Then go ahead and study together with Ren and the slaves. When night comes, I will do a review." (Naofumi)

Ren is there to observe whether they are working seriously.

I will not forget. The thing at Cal Mira Island.

I remember how fervently these guys agreed with Itsuki when he mentioned the Different World Language Comprehension skill.

To receive sincerity, I must first show it.

"Let us go then! By the way, can something be done about how this pig smells? My nose is about to fall off." (Kiel)

"There are many women who won't deny that opinion, but it's impossible. I believe his body odor will only disappear once he's cured of his bird fondness." (Naofumi)

"Father in Law, isn't this a matured fragrance that is both noble and mellow?" (Motoyasu)

"Too annoying. Keep your opinions to yourself. If you don't like it, then leave." (Kiel)

This guy was seen through and given a swift attack by Kiel who is a girl. What kind of principle is this?

Kiel is certainly a female, but there are moments when she looks like a bishounen. (TN: beautiful boy)

When talking about androgynous faces, Ren also wears one.

Ren has certain insight which is why I can talk to him.

"Alright then, I will brace my nose and endure it." (Kiel)

".....Hurry up and leave." (Naofumi)

I finish distributing the crepes and resume studying for the day.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 219 – Peerless Activity

---

“Now then…” (Naofumi)

Recently I’ve been practicing adding magic to my skills.

I think it will be good if I can use it as easily as breathing.

My weakness is that the magic consumption is huge so it’s hard to regulate.

Even just Air Strike Shield, sending 2 is the limit of my magic consumption.

Also, as far as I know, what changes depending on the skill is that the cooldown increases proportionately.

And it seems that if I add magic to the Portal Shield, the number of people I can transport increase. With the 6-person limit according to Motoyasu, I was able to transport 7 people because I unintentionally added magic. That was probably it.

I can’t control the part that I’m aware of though.

I can’t do it no matter what, huh….

One way or another, the magic consumption is extreme. The natural recovery I have is troublesome.

Using Mana Potions are a waste so I have to save them. I use magic also when compounding.

But it’s good if I can use magic when making good things… and as the Old Man said, it seems that listening to the ingredients is important too.

When I think about it, there’s no end.

Lately I’ve also been doing self-study when Rato isn’t teaching me Alchemy. A part of my shield has an Elementary Alchemy Skill so I started to learn.

Letting the shield make it is fine but I know it'll turn out better if I can make it myself.

"Naofumi-sama." (Atla)

"What is it?" (Naofumi)

"I feel like your accuracy has improved, but there are still tears?" (Atla)

Atla thrust at the weak points of the Air Strike Shield I fired.

For now, it seems that its strength has improved but it often breaks while being prodded.

"There, right." (Naofumi)

I can't help feeling like it's still incomplete somehow.

I think something more basic is insufficient.

However, it reached a stage where the Female Knight's attacks became ineffective.

I proposed a contest with the Female Knight who had been training.

The Female Knight mastered the Peerless Transformation Sword Style.

Apparently because she could beat Ren, he happily became an opponent every day as well.

As expected, it seems that Ren's skills are better normally than when he's been corroded by the Curse Series.

Since long ago, the frequency of being hit by the Female Knight's attacks was high.

Well, I specialise in enduring. Even when I'm engulfed by anger, receiving the opponent's attacks is insignificant.

I think if I face being hit like this then it'll probably collapse.

It's fine if that's the case.

I want to test how well the Prison will work in actual combat on the Female Knight.

"A fight with Iwatani-dono, huh, then I'll be going at it seriously." (Female Knight)

"To overtake me and bypass my defence, I won't less you pass that point." (Naofumi)

"Well then, it's fine to see if you can take this! Multilayer Crumble Attack!" (Female Knight)

The Female Knight's special skill that bypassed defence faced me.

The first strike warded off the shield, and the second strike changed direction to my forearm.

The third strike repeatedly intersected, mixing together at high frequencies and when I was about to receive it, I followed the flow of her body and struck.

"Shield Prison!" (Naofumi)

Without overlooking my chance, I materialised the Prison to trap the Female Knight as she focused her consciousness on her attack.

"Ku...But—" (Female Knight)

The imprisoned Female Knight attacked with a bang.

However...the cage gave no sign of breaking.

I think the sound reverberated for around three minutes but before long, it became silent.

And then...Five minutes later.

"What's with my efforts? The style I finally learnt was also destroyed...."

(Female Knight)

She muttered complaints.

"What are you so down about?" (Naofumi)

When I called out to her, she suddenly came to her senses and glared at me with determined eyes.

"Pft! You may have beat me this time but I won't let you next time so prepare yourself. I've received full mastery but I've only used the basics."

(Female Knight)

"Is that so." (Naofumi)

It seems the Female Knight doesn't have the ability to strike the weak points like Alta can.

So next is Rishia.

"Rishia." (Naofumi)

"W-what is it?" (Rishia)

I call Rishia, who been making progress with her mood change lately, to test it out. [T/N: So no more Fue?]

This guy, she's levelled up and has gotten considerably strong.

"I'm going to trap you in the Shield Prison for a bit so can you try to break out?" (Naofumi)

"Right...I understand." (Rishia)

Rishia takes out and readies her sword, and I imprison her like the Female Knight.

"Ei!" (Rishia)

It took her around three hits. Her's was a relatively quick destruction.

As expected, Rishia is stronger than the Female Knight.

Was it only...the status difference?

I don't understand the disparity of the Peerless Transformation Style.

"Speaking of which, what kind of School is the Peerless Transformation Style? I can't tell from just the legends so please teach me." (Naofumi)

"Ah, Yes... Is what I heard from Master okay?" (Rishia)

"Yeah, I just heard from the Old Hag about how it's a famous School that rivals the heroes so it's fine." (Naofumi_

I heard that there was a legend that matched the Four Saint Heroes and the Seven Star Heroes but I don't know the actual circumstances so I'd like to hear.

"Lets see...In Master's story, it seems the origin was an adventurer wanted to overcome danger without relying on the heroes so he founded the School." (Rishia)

Without relying on the heroes, I see... well in this world, whenever something happens then they summon heroes or rely on the Seven Star

Heroes, or at least that's the image i get.

So it's a School made from searching for a method to become stronger without relying on those heroes.

Thinking about it normally, to leave the world to the Four Saint Heroes and the Seven Star Heroes, only 11 people, is an act of sheer madness.

Despite the difference between being able and being unable to do something, having people who will think of a solution by themselves is more natural.

In addition, to leave your own fate in outsiders summoned from a different world or something...

No, they probably had no choice but to leave it to them ability-wise, but there were people who couldn't consent because of that.

"To be able to handle the elements is the foundation, skills come after that."
(Rishia)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

"I was able to handle the elements and so I ended my absence-of-leave. The other techniques was one part but they were the application of the original School." (Female Knight)

"Didn't Master also praise you for achieving mastery?." (Rishia)

"Yes, but... Teacher has yet to teach me about the inner workings, isn't Raphtalia working on those hidden purposes now? Rishia, I also saw her teaching you things that I don't know." (Female Knight)

"Th-that's right, isn't it." (Rishia)

"Isn't it obvious that the continuation time of Peerless Activity differs too much?" (Female Knight)

"Peerless Activity?" (Naofumi)

“Ah, I only use it during the instant when attacking Iwatani-dono or avoiding. So to speak, it’s similar to handling protection magic. Rishia excels at maintaining that activity for a long time. If I try to imitate her, I can probably only hold it for a minute.” (Female Knight)

“Hmmm….” (Naofumi)

A technique that the Female Knight can only use for an instant, Rishia can invoke that for a long time?

It’s that. The so-called ‘Overdrive’ skill or attack in games.

Giving a massive Power Up for a certain time but it’s consumption is extreme or something, so Rishia has that kind of attack.

Or rather, was Rishia able to maintain it for a long time because her disposition was good?

The Female Knight who used it economically and the Rishia who could use it for a long duration.

It seems the Female Knight had a weaker effect as well.

Actually, I already succeeded in making the Female Knight’s special attack become powerless and unable to break open the Prison.

That Ren will probably be surprised. If he knew that I neutralised the Female Knight who was stronger than him.

I’m not going to tell him though.

Either way, the Female Knight can use it so I can probably use it as well.

Hypothetically, even if I can’t use it, I should be able to apply it as long as I understand the principle.

The problem is that I didn’t realise that that technique was being used until now.

I thought it was natural to have the magic swell up only during the instant of attack.

Actually, in all the battles I've seen, the attackers use magic instantaneously.

In that case, was magic a separate component to that?

Lately, there are times where I feel a discrepancy when I talk to Rishia or the Female Knight, and Atla.

It's when they start talking about 'the elements'.

I don't really understand but, I'll observe these three more attentively.

"I always worry about if my strength has reached its peak. But I can't lose to this level! Rishia! Practice with me!" (Female Knight)

"O-okay!" (Rishia)

And so, the Female Knight started training with Rishia.

"Atla, did you understand what she meant?" (Naofumi)

"Um...If I'm not mistaken, Eclair builds up essence inside during the instant she attacks or avoids. I think she was talking about that. Shall I imitate it?" (Atla)

"Please." (Naofumi)

"Then I'll be starting." (Atla)

After Atla built up her strength, she jumped towards me.

Fast! Her speed is several times more than her usual speed.

"This is... I'm sure the body and spirit doesn't possess this." (Atla)

And then she faced me and fired a hit.

Gu... I didn't dodge Atla's attack that disregarded defence and was injured.

There was a slight struggle in my body.

I see, this is really brutal indeed.

Or rather, Atla really is a genius to be able to copy this simply from watching.

Already, she can't be stopped by the Female Knight.

And so we trained with this kind of feeling.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 220 – Trap

---

(TL: The one that warrants Hououin Kyouma going, 'Daga Otoko' in the background. Not the Admiral Akbar type.)

Eventually night falls, and I invite Ren and Motoyasu to my house. I want to see how earnestly they've been studying.

I used this country's language to make up a test.

Though I don't know why the study hating me is acting like a teacher.

... Well the past few days have been pretty much like this.

Though Motoyasu starts today.

"Motoyaasu, if you're here to play with Filo Rials, then leave!" (Naofumi)

Motoyasu pats his Filo Rial followers as he looks over the questions.

"You can't! If I don't have them, how do you expect me to study in this room that stinks of pigs!?" (Motoyasu)

"... *Sigh" (Naofumi)

According to Motoyasu, my entire village stinks of Pigs, and he can't stand being in it.

The only way he can handle it is if he's surrounded by Filo Rials.

I ignore Motoyasu and go check over Ren's work.

"There are a few grammatical errors, but it seems you've gotten a grasp of the language." (Naofumi)

"That's because Naofumi diligently teaches me every night." (Ren)

He learning quite fast, while I took quite a while.

Of course learning from a chart is much easier than learning from scratch.

It was really difficult for me, who only ever managed to get average scores in English.

Learning a new language will always be quite tough.

Though it was an essential for my life, so I have been able to become quite fluent in it.

“So, Motoyasu, how are you doing?” (Naofumi)

I look at Motoyasu’s paper.

… His scores are higher than anticipated.

They’re just elementary problems, but he has around 80% correct.

He was quite a Realer (TL: Riaju) in his own world. He may be smarter than me.

I don’t know why such a man got hooked on Net Games, but it seems that it is no longer possible to get such information from the individual, and I don’t really want to.

“All is for Firo-tan. I am working hard.” (Motoyasu)

“… I see.” (Naofumi)

So he’s learning fast because they’re the letters of Firo’s world.

I guess this is what they call the determination of an idiot.

It seems that he’s highly motivated.

“Do you understand why I’m having you learn the letters of this world?”
(Naofumi)

“… To help in your peddling?” (Ren)

After thinking for a while, Ren answers.

If he had said 'In order to learn magic', then I would have stopped his lessons. I guess he gets passing marks.

It may be an essential skill to learn magic, but if he answered as such, that would mean that he was still lusting for power as he had been before.

"That's also a reason. Though I'm not sure if you're saying your true opinion." (Naofumi)

He seems to have some desire to save the world. I'll leave it at that.

I understand that I'm acting stuck up. But originally, this is a skill he should have picked up on his own.

He should be grateful that I'm even teaching him.

"Well, Ren's been busy with his sword training recently, so should we end studies here?" (Naofumi)

"About that..." (Ren)

"Hm?" (Naofumi)

Ren doesn't make eye contact. He stumbles over his words.

"Could I, like Naofumi... Be given a job?" (Ren)

He seems to be trying hard as not to be put under suspicion. He looks straight at me and stops talking.

It seems... He is motivated at least.

Though I don't know his prowess.

"A job... Do you mean like my compounding?" (Naofumi)

"Since I've come to this village, I've heard that Naofumi's been doing a lot.

Cooking, and compounding, making accessories, and even dabbling in alchemy. That's why I... want to learn to do something." (Ren)

"My dream is to become a Filo Rial herder." (Motoyasu)

"Motoyasu, be quiet for a second." (Ren)

I see... So Ren has gotten an interest in manufacturing.

Ah, is that why he's been so earnest in learning the sword?

As he's a Hero, if he unlocks the required weapons, then he should be able to gain manufacturing skills like mine.

If he really wants to, I don't see why I shouldn't...

"I see your enthusiasm. So you want to become a person who makes things." (Naofumi)

Because of the Curse of Greed, Ren can't touch money, and his monster drops are all bad.

I think it will take a month to recover. Though when coupled with Gluttony, I don't know.

It's only been a week and a half since he's gotten here, so it'll be a while.

"T-that's true... but when I see this village's children, I get the feeling that I can't continue doing nothing." (Ren)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

I see where he's coming from.

A majority of the villagers are good with their hands. They make goods to be peddled.

So he got such an impression.

"When your curse lessens, I'll leave it to you." (Naofumi)

"Got it." (Ren)

... Doesn't the Onsen at Cal Mira have Curse reducing effects?

Though you can't do anything else while recuperating.

I remember my curse, which was supposed to take a month, being dispelled faster while I was there.

Though I used Blutopfer again shortly afterwards, so my stats fell again.

Since we have a teleportation skill, I should probably look into it.

Should I go check it out tonight... Even though it's for treatment purposes, it sounds a little fun.

Can the other heroes warp there?

Though the island isn't really far or anything.

"Hey, can either of you warp to Cal Mira Island?" (Naofumi)

"Hm? Ah, it's a place I haven't set. The Island Activation prevented teleportation skills." (Ren)

"How about now?" (Naofumi)

"It's the off season. We won't know unless we try." (Ren)

Then it might not be so bad to visit for the onsens.

I'll send the nuisance Motoyasu away to check it out, and wait for his return.

I can leave it to Ren as well.

I wonder if Heroes are able to teleport each other.

"The next thing I need to ask is whether or not Heroes can teleport each other if they're in the same party." (Naofumi)

"That is... I never tried so I don't know." (Ren)

I guess I'll have to experiment.

I'll try teleporting somewhere with Motoyasu later.

"Mo-kun, are you still studying~?" (Filo Rial)

"I am, Marin-chan. I need to work hard to get Father-in-Law to approve of my marriage." (Motoyasu)

"Muuuu!" (Filo Rials)

Upon hearing that, Red and Green punch him simultaneously.

By the way, I wouldn't let them in my house unless they took on human form.

They made the same promise as Firo.

If they break it, I have punishment in store.

"Marin-chan?" (Ren)

"Don't get involved, Ren." (Naofumi)

"Well, I'm not really sure, but having a conversation partner is important, right? That's what I've been thinking recently." (Ren)

So he's speaking from experience.

It's not like he's wrong, but he should consider who he's speaking to.

Motoyasu's a landmine. You should steer clear of him.

"I'm glad you asked!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu's eyes sparkles as he loudly proclaims this.

Ah, you stirred up the hornet's nest.

Motoyasu joyfully proceeds into a speech I have no interest in.

“First, this Red child’s name is Kuu-chan. The origin of this is Crimson. Next, the Blue one’s name is Marin-chan. Her name comes from Aquamarine. Finally, we have Midori. Her name is just as it sounds.” (Motoyasu)
(TL: Crimson = Kurimuson, so Ku. Aquamarine = Akuamarin. Green = Midori)

“Nice to meet you!” (Filo Rials)

The three quickly lower their heads.

But their eyes are different when they look at me than when they look at Ren.

These birds...

Including Witch, Motoyasu always had three women tagging along with him. Even when he became a pervert, he still continued to be surrounded by women.

But it seems that this time they actually like him.

“I-is that so?” (Ren)

“Motoyasu-san, is this how it’s done?” (Midori)

Midori picks up Motoyasu’s question sheet, and starts doodling all over it.

Now that I take a closer look, she got all the answers correct.

Was she cheating?

No, I was watching over Motoyasu when he filled it out, so that shouldn’t be the case.

“Midori, you’re smart.” (Motoyasu)

“Mu!” (Marin and Ku)

Red and Blue let out discontent voices.

They each seem to have different personalities... but I don't care.

"Ehehe..." (Midori)

The emerald colored one seems to be the smart one of the group.

"Ah right. That one doesn't fight in monster form, right?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, she says that angel form is easier." (Motoyasu)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

I see the other two's monster forms all the time, but I've never seen the emerald one.

Hm?

Does a ranking system exist among these three...?

The red one seems a little cold.

Is it my imagination?

I do hate red. I can't help but associate it with that woman.

I get the feeling that red things are strong-willed.

"It's because my legs aren't as powerful as Kuu or Marin." (Midori) (TL: Uses Boku)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

So she's of a Filo Rial race that isn't good at kicks?

Yet in human form, she wields a heavy-looking battle axe.

I might look into this.

It seems that there are many types of Filo Rial.

"Instead, Midori is good at identifying poisons, medicines and other things."
(Motoyasu)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"Master has mean eyes, and is worse at interaction than Motoyasu-san. But don't worry, I won't hold it against you." (Midori)

"What was that!?" (Naofumi)

Firo has been wishing to spit poison for a long time.

This one is toxic in another way... But I won't say that.

"It's something a child said. Don't mind it Father-in-Law." (Motoyasu)

"I mind it. Send her out! A mouth like that will bring disaster." (Naofumi)

"I see... I'm sorry Midori, please go home." (Motoyasu)

"Y-you can't! Motoyasu-san! Let me back in! As I thought, I'm..." (Midori)

Motoyasu swiftly transports the emerald one outside of the room.

Amazing! Are my orders truly absolute?

Though I won't order to kill anything.

Anyways, it seems that he knows who's boss.

"There's... something off." (Ren)

Ren looks over that exchange with a strange look on his face.

He seems to have caught onto something.

"Ah, Midori is the only male among the first angels that hatched. Could that be it?" (Motoyasu)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 221 – Release Time

---

“What was that!?” (Ren & Naofumi)

I unintentionally harmonize with Ren. But that’s to be expected.

That green bird was Male? By his appearance, I can see him as nothing but a little girl.

He’s a Filo Rial King?

“N-now that I think about it, you added a –chan to the other two, but didn’t for him.” (Ren)

“He seems to be self-conscious of the fact that he’s male, so he gets angry if I add a –kun.” (Motoyasu)

“He seems like quite a troublesome person.” (Naofumi)

Ah, I mean Filo Rial.

I guess based on this world’s system they would be classified as monsters…

I don’t think anything will come from thinking over it.

And so I gave up pondering the subject.

It’s already night, so I don’t want to stress myself out.

“Be he a boy or a girl, the love I give out doesn’t change.” (Motoyasu)

“Ah, I see.” (Naofumi)

Both me and Ren’s faces go stiff.

Does he just see all his Filo Rial as his dear children?

But… He wants Firo as his Waifu.

And these three want to become his lovers.

He's building up some twisted relations.

Though it doesn't seem that the other Filo Rials love him to that extent.

"He used I and spoke in formal tone... I wonder what Itsuki's doing right around now." (Ren)

(TL: this is difficult to convey to English audiences. Midori and Itsuki both speak in a form usually attributed to young boys. They use Boku to refer to themselves, and both speak very formally (With a hint of arrogance))

Ren seems lost in thought.

To get Itsuki from that Toxic green bird. His mind works in strange ways.

"Going with this flow, he'll probably be used by Witch around now."
(Naofumi)

"I hope it hasn't come to that yet..." (Ren)

But that's a fleeting hope.

Midori repeatedly knocks on the door in protest. It's annoying.

Motoyasu pats the blue one as he signals me to move to the next topic.

It's a pain, but to answer his expectations, I randomly think up a problem.

"Returning to topic, Motoyasu, do you want to get a job?" (Naofumi)

"I want to be the Lord of the Filo Rial Ranch." (Motoyasu)

"Besides that." (Naofumi)

"I'll do anything if Father-in-Law wishes for it." (Motoyasu)

His canines sparkle as he gives a refreshing smile.

I want to smack him very hard.

… Sigh.

Talking to this man is enervating.

I guess I should arbitrarily assign him some sort of work.

I want Ren or Motoyasu to learn how to make weapons and other equipment.

They could reduce the Old Man's workload by learning metallurgy.

Also collecting items, and mining doesn't sound bad either.

"For now, Ren. Soon a smithy will be built in this village, so when your curse weakens go help out there to learn iron working skills." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Ren)

Ren changes his sword's shape a few times.

Perhaps he's looking for one that has some iron working functions.

… Oy, go learn how to do that by yourself.

Still, unlike me he has a lot of copied weapons.

"Now that I think of it, Ren. What will you do about releasing the restrictions for your weapons? I don't want you to waste a lot of time, so I could give you some materials." (Naofumi)

"Releasing…? Ah, I see." (Ren)

"Why do you suddenly look like you've figured something out?" (Naofumi)

"Well, the status bonus from releasing weapons is really small, right? I knew Naofumi was strong, but that was the reason? I guess if you continue to stack up trash it will eventually become a mountain. I see… Naofumi really is amazing." (Ren)

Ha? What are you deducing on your own?

“Um… Let me ask this, but about releasing…” (Naofumi)

“Ah, besides the ones that give essential skills and bonuses, I’ve put them off.” (Ren)

My head hurts again!

So that’s why I found him weak for his level.

Most likely, the contents from his world, Brave Star Online, are still rooted in his head.

I believe he said that Level came first, and Status Boosts second.

His game was a VRMMO. I guess it can be compared to FPS. In those games, Offensive abilities are focused on, and many other stats are left to rot.

He’s begun to realize that this isn’t a game, but he still hasn’t come to terms with it.

“Motoyasu, what about you?” (Naofumi)

“Me? I guess I’ve released them to some extent, but I can’t say it’s perfect.”
(Motoyasu)

So Motoyasu is better in that aspect…

Since he played normal MMOs, did he try for absolute completion?

I go over to the village storehouse and come back with Spirit Turtle materials.

“Okay, go absorb these into your weapons. Or have you already done so?”
(Naofumi)

“No, it’s a material I haven’t seen…” (Ren)

Ren feeds the material to his sword.

“With me, the shield it unlocked gave a bonus of Defense + 15. How about you?” (Naofumi)

“Attack +10 and Defense +5. But it seems it will take a while to awaken.”
(Ren)

What?

Um I think I was able to release it in about 12 hours...

“How long do you think it will take?” (Naofumi)

“Hm? At this rate, around 3 days.” (Ren)

3 Days... That is a long time.

Does it differ based on the weapon?

I guess the Shield has a shorter release time to compensate for its lack of attack.

“That’s long. Is it fundamentally different from mine?” (Naofumi)

I give some of the material to Motoyasu in the same fashion.

“Motoyasu, how about you?” (Naofumi)

“Let’s see. I think I’ll be able to release it tomorrow.” (Motoyasu)

So there are differences.

That means...

“Take out your weakest unreleased weapon.” (Naofumi)

I look for a weak shield I haven’t used before.

But I can’t find one in my possession. I’ve released them all.

I go over to the kitchen, and borrow one of the fish monsters Sadina brought back.

Ren and the others probably haven't seen this monster before.

The shield it unlocked was the Blue Bonan Shield.

It was a monster that looked like a sunfish.

According to Sadina, if you boil it, and make it into Jelly, it goes great with Sake.

"Everyone, say the time needed for release." (Naofumi)

"Um... 12 hours." (Ren)

"Around 6 hours." (Motoyasu)

"2 hours." (Naofumi)

"..." (Everyone)

12 hours = Ren.

6 hours = Motoyasu.

2 hours = Me.

(TL: There are no speaker annotations, so that was ambiguous in the original text)

For Ren to take 12 hours, how slow is his sword?

"Does it just differ by weapon?" (Ren)

"That's a possibility, but Ren. Please bring out a sword you haven't released that has a really short release time." (Naofumi)

"I got it. What are you testing?" (Ren)

"The possibilities are as follows. Each legendary weapon has different release times for each weapon, each legendary weapon has a different release speed in general... or that release proficiency is a stat in itself.”

(Naofumi)

There the chance that the Spirit Turtle materials were defense-oriented, and thus had a good compatibility with the Shield.

But I think it’s probably the last one.

If Release speed decreases on a level like system, then I, who had diligently released all of my shields, would have a shorter release time.

That also explains the discrepancies in me, Motoyasu and Ren’s times. A simple experiment can prove or disprove this.

“After you’ve released about 30 of those, go check the release time of the Spirit Turtle sword again.” (Naofumi)

Ren nods, and changes to a weak weapon.

It’s at times like these that I wonder.

Just how many secrets do the Legendary Weapons hold?

“I’ve been putting this off, but I guess we should discuss the next wave as well.” (Naofumi)

“Ah, that...” (Motoyasu)

According to the hourglass, we still have a bit of time left. It’s not an urgent matter, but I guess I should tackle it at some point.

“Does anyone have any clues as to the meaning of the Blue Hourglass?”
(Naofumi)

“My apologies.” (Ren)

"... Motoyasu?" (Naofumi)

"No Idea." (Motoyasu)

... That was no help.

Itsuki is probably clueless as well.

"Then... After the Spirit Turtle, what will appear?" (Naofumi)

"Houou." (Ren)

"It's Houou." (Motoyasu)

(TL: If you want me to use Phoenix, I can)

Ah, so they knew ot.

That's quite amazing.

I did let them both off without much punishment. They have to be of some use in times like these.

"I think you needed to be level... 130 to beat it..." (Ren)

"To do the quest, you needed to be 70." (Motoyasu)

"There's a 60 level discrepancy here." (Naofumi)

Ren was a solo player so... he needed to be 130?

No, we have proof with the Spirit Turtle that that info is of no use.

"After that was the Quilin at level 90." (Motoyasu)

"Oy, it rose!" (Naofumi)

"There's no helping it. Houou and the Spirit Turtle were too weak, so they adjusted the game balance when they released the Quilin as a boss, and enhanced him greatly." (Motoyasu)

Ah... things like that happen in games.

Things start out easy, but enemies get harder as the developers release more.

Though I have absolutely no idea whether that info is useful here.

"With a party and appropriate team play, it was easy at 100... but that was info from a game, and I don't know if it applies here." (Motoyasu)

"From my experience 'til now, I don't think it will go so well." (Naofumi)

The Spirit Turtle was ridiculously strong. I shouldn't trust this information. This is just my hypothesis, but that Spirit Turtle... If they had fully enhanced weapons and party members with growth corrections, they probably would have won.

Ren and Motoyasu recommended a level of 60.

If they were fully equipped, that may have very well been possible.

Of course, I took massive damage from his special moves, and couldn't deal any.

No matter how strong you are, strong attacks still hurt.

"Then, here's my next question. What comes after Quilin?" (Naofumi)

"Ying Long." (Ren)

"Ah, as expected." (Naofumi)

An even bigger question would be why this world is being attacked by the Four Spirits.

Why would such knowledge from my world manifest in the wave?

Shouldn't the ones bringing misfortune be the Four Evils and not the Four spirits?

The four Spirits are supposed to be symbols of good luck, you know.

This knowledge is often referenced in literature, so I'm quite knowledgeable. I mean, I was a textbook Otaku by nature.

Thinking about it from another angle, if they're monsters essential to the world, that cause atrocities when they appear, that sounds strange as well. The Spirit Turtle went after and killed living things. It wasn't limited to humans. It also devoured monsters, so it simply tried to eliminate life.

The other monsters may possess similar traits.

... It's a thought that doesn't lead to an answer. I guess I'll end it here.

"The level required to fight it is 120. The recommended Solo level is 150, and the recommended party level 130." (Motoyasu)

"Ah, Yes, yes." (Naofumi)

Just how strong is that?

The inflation rate of these monsters is amazing.

I sense the ending of the Era of Net Games.

"I believe the story was... The fragments sleeping in the Dragons around the world assimilate and release the seal. The setting was something like that." (Ren)

I almost fall over.

... this is definitely a story I've heard before, oy!

Dragon Emperor Gaelion! Remember this! You are the Wave!

-

Author Note: I don't think I have to say this, but no, he is not the wave.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 222 – Game Knowledge

---

“... What comes after that?” (Naofumi)

I’ll put off shouting at Gaelion for now. Right now we’re thinking of plans for the future.

“To be decided.” (Ren)

“Yep, To be decided.” (Motoyasu)

“What?” (Naofumi)

“The next major boss hasn’t been released yet. The updates following that were all events in Local Maps, and they didn’t release anything pertaining to the main story for a while.” (Ren)

Ah, that’s right. If the world achieves peace, the game is over.

Long live preserving the industry. Damn you preserving the industry! Go bankrupt already!

“The Spirit Turtle was Update 7, right?” (Naofumi)

“Yeah, the seventh large scale update.” (Ren)

“Do you have any idea how that may relate to the wave?” (Naofumi)

“If you consider the time we were summoned to be the start of service, then that would make the first wave we participated in Update 2.” (Ren)

Then what of the first wave that decimated Raphtalia’s village...?

And would that make Glass’s appearance to be 3?

What of 4-6?

Since Ren and the others destroyed the Spirit Turtle seal, were they skipped?

Glass. She disappeared after leaving behind some ominous words.

Ren and the others lost not only to the Spirit Turtle, but also to Glass.

That means that it was probably an unforeseen event.

“Do you know if Humanoid enemies can appear in the Wave?” (Naofumi)

“No, that never happened in the games.” (Motoyasu)

Fumu...

It's not like I'm going along 100% with Ren and Motoyasu's game knowledge, but it seems like Glass's appearance was unexpected.

Now that I think about it, that woman seemed to be separate from the calamity of the wave.

The Black Lion that Raphtalia saw, and the Soul Eater that the Three Heroes defeated didn't appear to be beings with intellect.

The Spirit Turtle was no exception.

I don't know if Houou will actually manifest, but he probably won't be intelligent.

... Glass, was it? What exactly is she?

I don't know.

I don't even know the meaning behind her parting words.

Anyways, the Spirit Turtle that awakened with the Blue Hourglass, and the ones that may appear, Houou, Kirin and Ouryu. If we count those monsters as part of the wave, we've done 3 waves so far.

But the only enemy that ran from us was Glass.

Where did she come from, and where did she go?

Another dimension? Another world?

I have no idea what sort of existence she is.

“Did you lose because she was an unforeseen factor?” (Naofumi)

“Yeah, she was really strong. I was really suspicious when Naofumi beat her, but considering recent events, I guess it’s to be expected.” (Ren)

“I don’t need your praise. Anyways, how did the wave work in the games you played?” (Naofumi)

Quests and bosses?

Or were they large scale guild raids and event bosses?

“In my world, they would be fought on the server as Event Bosses, and the events could later be replayed through quests.” (Ren)

Fumu… It’s a common system.

I haven’t personally played such a game, but I’ll consider it as a TRPG-like system.

“In the actual Spirit Turtle event, a city became unusable due to massive destruction afterwards. In replays, you chose a city to protect and if you failed, you wouldn’t be able to access it until you defeated Houou.” (Ren)

“I see. That’s an annoying gimmick. So how widespread were the damages caused by it?” (Naofumi)

“… I think that it was great enough for some players to give up the game, and that the turtle was greatly weakened upon replays.” (Ren)

“You went up against such an enemy!? Wasn’t he supposed to be weak!?” (Naofumi)

“At that point in time, the level cap was 50. It was said that it would have been easy at 80… Is an excuse. According to the game, if you left it alone, it would gradually get stronger, so it was better if you killed it quickly.”

(Ren)

Just how low level were these players?

Well, in the games that I do know of, the starting level cap is low, and it rises with every major update.

In a First Person VRMMO, level is a very important factor.

A difference in level can easily decide the flow of battle.

Though patches do come around to make it easier for new players.

“Was it the same for you, Motoyasu?” (Naofumi)

“Yes.” (Motoyasu)

“Fumu…” (Naofumi)

I think that Motoyasu was the one who released the seal right before the Spirit Turtle was unleashed…

“In you quests, was it best to undo the seal quickly?” (Naofumi)

“Yeah, but it drops rare items if you leave it, so some people purposely let it rampage. For that, Level 80 was recommended. If it gets too strong, it’s best to run.” (Motoyasu)

The basics of Net Gaming. Everything is based on rare drops.

To summarize, the fact that he undid the seal this early in the game was partially for the sake of the world.

And as in MMOs, where discussing matters with the country bears no fruit, he refrained from doing so.

But it's weird that these guys couldn't beat an unpowered-up Spirit Turtle, but I could beat it after it was left alone for days.

"By the way, how wide-spread was the destruction in your game?"

(Naofumi)

"There will be some difference in area names, but is that alright?"

(Motoyasu)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

I take out a map, and display it to the two.

"Looking at the update history, the damage spread to these areas."

(Motoyasu)

Let's see...

The country the Spirit Turtle was sealed in, all the neighboring countries, Melromark, Schild Freiden, and some countries I've never heard of.

The only place I've been that wasn't effected was Zeltburg. That area seems like one that would have a lot of Minigames and easy money in an MMO. They made sure to defend it, I see.

It seems that Faubley and Silt Welt weren't effected either.

"During the event, players were forced to spawn in Faubley. The area around it was immediately rebuilt whenever it was damaged, but many players complained that it was a pain." (Motoyasu)

"I want to get a clearer picture. Melromark was..." (Naofumi)

"It was a popular city to start in. But it was completely destroyed at some point in time. It was something that happened before I started playing."

(Ren)

So I was able to prevent that.

Seeing the power of the Spirit Turtle back then, it's not weird for it to bring about this amount of destruction.

"I don't intend to run from my crimes. I don't think that spreading this information will offer me any salvation." (Ren)

"Yes, yes. I get it, so don't go killing yourself or anything." (Naofumi)

Asking any more of him will increase his sense of responsibility, so let's wrap this up.

"So next is Houou." (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Ren)

"Right." (Motoyasu)

An enemy strong enough to disrupt the game balance.

Though I have no idea how far this info will take me.

"Do you know where it is?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Ren)

Ren and Motoyasu both point to an area.

It's... a country west of Melromark.

So the Spirit Turtle was East, and Houou is West... This may be serious.

"It doesn't seem that the Blue Hourglasses have teleportation functions, so... We'll have to go and check it out." (Naofumi)

(TL: I think he's talking about how he gets warped to the wave, but not to the Spirit Turtle)

"About that." (Ren)

"Hm?" (Naofumi)

Ren once again breaks eye contact.

What is it now?

It seems that Ren has a hard time asking things of people.

I guess it is difficult considering his position.

"I want to leave Military leadership to Naofumi." (Ren)

"Well, I'll probably be the one to direct the battle." (Naofumi)

I did go in front during the Spirit Turtle Battle.

Of course, the plans themselves were handed to me by the Queen and other leaders.

I guided the troops, and did the actual execution of the plan on site.

"No, not like that, I mean I want you to give us orders." (Ren)

"... I understand what you're trying to say, but..." (Naofumi)

My analysis is that Ren and Motoyasu are no good at large scale battles.

Though Motoyasu seems to have some Guild experience.

"Do you have experience of doing so?" (Ren)

"A long time ago... I wasn't the strongest, but I did help in directing a large guild." (Naofumi)

"As I thought." (Ren)

"You could tell?" (Naofumi)

"When I first met you, you gave off a similar feeling to someone I knew."
(Ren)

"A friend?" (Naofumi)

“Yes. Her personality was somewhere between the past and the present Naofumi. She was good at taking care of others, and people naturally gathered around her.” (Ren)

The past me...

Back then, I felt like I could strike up a conversation with anyone.

Rather than worrying about being deceived, I think I just wanted to have a fun life.

“She managed a large guild. So I thought that Naofumi might have some experience as well.” (Ren)

“I did manage some raids and sieges in my day.” (Naofumi)

That’s one of the major appeals of Net Games.

In order to see just how strong we could get in the virtual world, we would fight. We would aim to enter the strongest dungeons and obtain the rarest items.

Among the countless event presented on the server, there are thousands of things that can’t be experienced Solo. That’s the appeal of Guilds and Teams.

But it’s a little hasty to compare the wave to that.

I can’t imagine what sort of things may happen during them.

I always try to avoid battle as much as possible.

“In games, it’s usually obvious which guild will win which event.” (Ren)

And if you can’t beat these large scale events, then you won’t get the exclusive items.

You’ll miss out on major EXP, and rare items. This is why major guilds scramble for these victories.

But in order to preserve relations, some guilds instead vie for alliances.

Allied guilds sign non-aggression pacts, and repel other guilds in order to not cut their losses any further.

Of course, there are always problems in these agreements, and some people want to protect their positions.

For the leader of a Guild or Team, it is essential to look for the route that gives one's own members the most advantages.

As such, the most important thing for a Guild Master isn't being the strongest, but to make one's team the strongest.

"I don't think it matters who leads, though." (Naofumi)

Team play is important, but in a battle of hundreds of people, it's impossible to watch everything.

(TL: Get on Shiroe's level)

Besides basic commands like 'Advance' or 'Retreat', it's difficult to make appropriate decisions.

Though there are meetings beforehand.

At least in Net Game large scale battles, I don't have the experience of holding major strategy meetings, and making plans to weaken the enemy before the battle.

"In the games you've played, how large of a guild did you manage?" (Ren)

"In one server... we were the third largest alliance guild. But we weren't large enough to compete in world competition." (Naofumi)

We were quite strong, but nowhere near the strongest.

The character I owned wasn't at the level cap, and instead of raising level, I raised money and human relations.

One of the reasons for this was that it was a game that relied on expensive equipment and recovery items.

Basically, I went to college and did part time work during the day, while leaving my character's AI to complete simple transactions. At night, I played with my Guild Members.

If there was an event, I would spend more time with them. But I didn't limit myself to games. I also spent a lot of time on Manga and Light Novels.

So I didn't feel an intense need to be the strongest.

I was satisfied with having weaker characters commanded by strategy and teamwork, rather than raising many strong players.

Though I did rise to around 5-10 levels below the max quite easily.

When I went out to help other guild members gain EXP, I would play whatever role was needed.

I think it was a common playstyle.

Anyways, with the power balance, it is impossible to become the strongest in a Net Game.

Even if you do, the next update may weaken you, or increase the abilities of another job, and that's the end.

In the end, it just turns into a competition of who has the best build and skills.

And here is where the game differs from Reality.

"Then you have much more experience than me." (Ren)

"For argument's sake, yes. But the amount of times such experience has some in handy here is close to 0." (Naofumi)

In the First wave, the only thing I could do was protect the villagers. The next one was the same.

In the Spirit Turtle battle, the Queen and other country leaders were the ones doing the planning, and I was merely their stepping stone.

Though I may be the one with the most experience among the four summoned heroes.

Ren only knows how to play Solo.

Motoyasu was in a small guild.

Itsuki was on Console Games, right? It may have been a strategy game, but I don't think that counts.

We'll have to think up a plan if Houou appears in the next wave.

It's probably best to venture to that land to search for methods to defeat it.

There was the Mural in the Spirit Turtle village. The past heroes probably left something else.

"How did the Quest go with Houou?" (Naofumi)

"According to the game story, after the Spirit Turtle attack, the countries began seriously investigating the matter, and They found the seal and tried to strengthen it, but eventually they failed and it revived." (Ren)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"It's fine, Father-in-Law. I, Kitamura Motoyasu will defeat the Houou with ease." (Motoyasu)

"Please be quiet for a bit." (Naofumi)

He says whatever's convenient to get in my favor... Motoyasu, you weren't able to do anything to the Spirit Turtle, right?

I'll deal with him later. He'll probably have something important to input.

Wait... When fighting the Spirit Turtle, the sealing magic failed.

The reason is unknown. Perhaps the turtle was too strong, but that's probably not everything.

I still haven't solved the puzzle left by the past heroes either.

The mural was destroyed and decayed, so only the important parts were hidden.

-because of the wave, the world will ... so this monster to prevent...

Was it?

in the end, what was supposed to be in place of the ...?

Collapse? Ruin?

To prevent that, this monster harvests life?

I'm back to thinking about this.

Anyways, there is a high chance that the countries will fail to seal Houou.

I should probably report this to the Queen.

---

Author Note: You've probably realized from the beginning, but original Naofumi was a Frivolous and diplomatic person.

He participated in many offline meetings.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 223 – Desire of Devotion

---

“Then I’ll ask some more questions. You know about the Class Up, right?”

(Naofumi)

“What about the Class Up?” (Ren)

“Apparently the level cap for the people of this world is Lv100. However, I’ve heard that a Class Up to surpass that limit exists, but it has been lost.”

(Naofumi)

“Ah… it looks like it’s different from the game in my world. There was no such thing as being unable to exceed 100, even with the job changes.”

(Ren)

“I see…” (Naofumi)

“The level cap of 40 was there though.” (Ren)

The knowledge from Ren’s world is also quite doubtful.

It’s very likely that Motoyasu will be the same as well.

It’s all just useless information. It would be great if we could establish a Class Up method to surpass the limit like this though.

And yet, Gaelion wasn’t able to.

“By the way, Father-in-Law. How did Father-in-Law come to possess that little angel that is sticking to him?” (Motoyasu)

I ignored Motoyasu and continued the conversation.

“I thought so, but don’t you also feel like this world just keeps leaving out important information?” (Naofumi)

“That’s right. Honestly speaking, normally we wouldn’t forget something like a Lv100-surpassing Class Up.” (Ren)

Isn't that right... even regarding the Peerless Transformation Style, why has such an excellent martial art become something only the Old Hag knows.

The past conflicts are also on my mind but the investigation would be endless.

I'm not getting the information I want, as if it's intentional.

Somehow it's an unpleasant atmosphere. I can sense an invisible malice. I know that the mystery is still ongoing but the trouble is increasing.

"This is just my guess, but is it alright?" (Naofumi)

"Tell us." (Ren)

"It's the possibility that they need a hero to surpass the limit. It might be that it wasn't attempted so the method was lost." (Naofumi)

"Ah, I also inferred something like that. It's just that apparently Heroes are sometimes summoned and sometimes selected so it's somehow doubtful."
(Ren)

"Is that so... if they were summoning periodically then there's no way it would be forgotten." (Naofumi)

This wasn't a case of discussing with Ren and coming up with an answer either.

Discussing things that we don't know, there's a low chance of thinking up a solution.

"Really, what the hell are the waves." (Naofumi)

"Yeah..." (Ren)

"Father-in-Law. Please tell me about the little angel." (Motoyasu)

“Do you have any information about efficient hunting grounds?” (Naofumi)

“Right, in that case—” (Ren)

And so I inquired to Ren about everything and procured information.

As far as it goes, it seems that Melromarc is a country with an abundance of good hunting grounds according to the knowledge from the game Ren knows.

I had him tell me about hunting grounds for Lv90 ~ Lv100, but it just confirmed the hunting grounds stated in the Monster Book. If I remember correctly, there should be around 60 locations.

It might not have been taking into account the negative effect of the change in ecosystem or the change due to the waves.

It looked like the enemies were becoming stronger with each wave, and the deployment modifications of net games is probably there.

Well, this world isn't a game though.

“Sorry for not being of much help.” (Ren)

“Don't worry about it. I wasn't relying on it that much.” (Naofumi)

From the start, it was knowledge from guys who caused such a debacle. I had asked with the assumption of failure so it's the same as not taking any damage.

“Naofumi isn't really questioning me about being responsible for the Spirit Turtle, huh.” (Ren)

“Oh? I remember you speaking disagreeably though?” (Naofumi)

“No, I thought you wanted me to compensate with my life or something.”
(Ren)

You said it with all your heart though... it's because he was corroded by the curse.

Oh well. I'm trying to recruit the good Ren as an ally.

"To put it bluntly, I dislike the people of this world. Whether they live or die has no relation to me. It's enough to just protect those who have been improving before my eyes." (Naofumi)

"That's pretty dry." (Ren)

"I don't need you to tell me that." (Naofumi)

"That kind of direction...may be good." (Ren)

Ren stared at me enviously.

He's misunderstanding something though.

"Hey—" (Naofumi)

"Huh?" (Ren)

"You, I think you're quite a naive fellow so I'm saying this. The monsters you've defeated also have families, and you might be ruining their happiness though?" (Naofumi)

At my question, Ren's expression gradually turned blue.

Ah, he never even considered that kind of thing.

"To those guys, 'the one who killed your family was me'. Can you go around saying that you're responsible for that? If you make a separation, thinking monsters are monsters, then what will happen to the beloved Filorials of Motoyasu's?" (Naofumi)

"Eh, ah...u..." (Ren)

Sigh... it's a troublesome age.

"You might be confused as to why I'm saying this, but there's a girl looking after monsters in the monster hut, right?" (Naofumi)

"Y-yeah." (Ren)

"She's a Demi-human that was raised by the dragon you killed. It's your fault she became so unhappy." (Naofumi)

Ren hurriedly put his hand on the door as if he was going to exit the house.

"Where are you going?" (Naofumi)

"If I don't apologise quickly.." (Ren)

"What will you do to apologise? Say 'I'm sorry for killing your father. I will die here in exchange'?" (Naofumi)

In this situation, should I call Taniko?

Well even if I call her, she'll probably be very sullen.

Ren didn't actually know, but she already knew.

She did say that she wanted to stop this chain of hatred, and it seemed that she didn't going so far as to take revenge against Ren.

Because wild animals, or monsters in this case, lived severely.

They didn't know when they would die, so they didn't need something like vengeance.

She had a firmly-rooted conscience, thanks to Gaelion's teachings.

To not be thinking of rene deserves some merit.

I do respect it, but it's something I can't do in practice.

"B-but—" (Ren)

"You'll just be striking at her. That's why you should leave it." (Naofumi)

"Even then...I.." (Ren)

“It’s the same as eating meat and eating vegetables. In the end, you’re living by sacrificing something else. The world won’t turn with just the lip service the Female Knight spoke of. Or rather, it’s better if you have the resolution to survive by trampling on someone and make up for your sins.”
(Naofumi)

“Isn’t that a contradiction?” (Ren)

“Huh? What are you, a hero who grinds monsters and becomes stronger in order to save the world, saying? It’s survival of the fittest, right? I wouldn’t prefer to just kill as if in a game.” (Naofumi)

This is a world where experience can even be gained by killing humans.
Don’t say nonsense such as humans and monsters being different.

“That’s why, Ren, if you want apologise to her then when you kill monsters, kill them with proper determination.” (Naofumi)

“I-I got it.” (Ren)

He made a reluctant face.

It’s because Ren is similar to the Female Knight. He probably has high ideals.

“But even so, I… want to apologise, and protect everyone.” (Ren)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

This is already a disease.

It’s just a complete change from a gamer’s mindset to aspiring to be a saviour with dedication.

Moreover, there’s even the addition of masochism.

"Father-in-Law. Please tell me." (Motoyasu)

"Shut up. Hurry up and go back, study and then sleep!" (Naofumi)

That Motoyasu, he probably didn't listen to what I said.

Ignoring that, I turned to a different problem.

What was it that I wanted to ask Motoyasu?

For now there's that.

"That's right. Motoyasu, the spear you used... Lust Envy Spear, was it.

What sort of compensation does it need?" (Naofumi)

"?" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu tilted his head in confusion.

Hey, what's with the question mark.

"Did I use something?" (Motoyasu)

"The Temptation thing. The other one was Ressentiment, right?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, that skill was something that appeared when I reached IV."

(Motoyasu)

What the hell!?

In other words, it's a skill superior to Blutofer?

A skill that can be invoked with no compensation, how much of a cheat is that.

"Did anything happen when you used it?" (Naofumi)

I don't really understand, but I didn't feel envious of Father-in-Law after I used Ressentiment. I didn't feel like changing it but that spear couldn't be changed." (Motoyasu)

...It was invoked at the cost of Envy?
Then what about Temptation?
Thinking about it, it probably uses Lust.
However...

"Motoyasu, what do you want to do after being engaged to Firo?"
(Naofumi)

"Hahaha, Father-in-Law is quite hasty. Of course, it would be building a happy family. I want lots of children." (Motoyasu)

"Muuu!" (Filorials)

Motoyasu's followers started hitting him repeatedly.

No matter how I interpret his words, I feel like Motoyasu just wants to do obscene things with Firo.

Motoyasu has so much Lust that it can't even be completely taken away by the Curse Skill.

Or rather, it's apparent that his condition has a foundation of Lust, with Envy mixed in.

Therefore, it's fine to think that Motoyasu's incomplete Envy separated from him.

How was he as a human?

"Yes, but I have one thing I must apologise to Firo-tan and Father-in-Law for." (Motoyasu)

"It's not just one thing." (Naofumi)

You need countless apologies.

Enough to apologise to the underworld even.

Because you could've become a demon lord or something.

"Actually, there's one other eye-catching person apart from Firo-tan."

(Motoyasu)

"Oh really, then head that way." (Naofumi)

"However, I only met her once so I do not know her. She looked like an extremely large Filorial." (Motoyasu)

Fitoria...so you had encountered Motoyasu before.

You didn't go yourself that time because you had such a reason. [T/N:

Refers to Fitoria making Naofumi deal with the carriage stealing problem (which turned out to be Motoyasu and his harem of Filorials)]

"It seems she came because these children were candidates to be the next queen but when I realised, they had already lost their candidacy."

(Motoyasu)

"...What happened?" (Naofumi)

"Who knows? Before I knew it, all that was left was a lot of loose feathers."

(Motoyasu)

...He embraced her.

And so she frantically teared him off and ran away.

"Ah...she was beautiful like Firo-tan, and so my tolerance...excuse me. I, Motoyasu, am devoted to Firo-tan!" (Motoyasu)

"No, it's fine because she's eye-catching." (Naofumi)

That stupid Bird Queen. In the end, she dumped this troublesome thing on me.

It wasn't a disobedient Filorial, she probably wanted Motoyasu to meet with me.

...Firo's sexual urges were also suspicious.

Jeez... After our conversation, Ren and the others each returned to their own homes.

After that, Atla and Sadina came to my house to sleep.

It's already become routine.

By the way, Firo was grounded so she slept at Melty's.

Sometimes Gaelion will come so I'll ask him, but recently Kiel or Imia will be sleeping in my bed.

Apparently they've been switching around because it's a 'daily special'.

As far as it goes, Kiel is a veteran among the slaves so her friendship is widespread, and Imia has deep relationships with the production team. Hence they are the perfect people to inquire to about the status of the village.

And incidentally, they can also be good as a countermeasure against Atla.

"Nii-chan. We came together to sleep." (Kiel)

"Please treat us well." (Imia)

"Ah, let's go sleep early. Imia, how are your colleagues?" (Naofumi)

"Right. Everyone is working day and night to make products." (Imia)

"...Be careful not to harm your health. Mass production is important but I'll be troubled if you guys get sick." (Naofumi)

"Yes, I understand." (Imia)

I don't know if it's because those dexterous Lumo and Aquatic slaves liked it but if I didn't caution them, they would work all night to manufacture goods. It's been profitable thanks to that though...

I've given them a portion of the proceeds and when I ask what they'd like as thanks, they request that I cook some food.

I wonder if that much is fine...

"Uuh, Naofumi-sama. Why is it that only I cannot sleep together with you?"

(Atla)

"Atla, I get the shivers when I sleep with you. That's why it's no good."

(Naofumi)

Mainly, I feel like she will target me as a carnivore.

If I didn't have the intention of running a household, staying in this world would be unthinkable.

The next morning, Ren tried hard to look after Taniko, which she hated.

Taniko also didn't do anything about Gaelion but she glared at me for Ren's situation, although I didn't really care.

"Now then, Gaelion. Shall I have you explain the meaning of this?"

(Naofumi)

While Taniko and Ren had their little dialogue outside the monster hut, I crossed my arms and glared at Gaelion.

Firo, in her monster form, lay in wait behind him.

That was so I could threaten him depending on his answer.

"Wh-what?" (Gaelion)

"I heard from Ren that the fragments will form a being on the same scale as the Spirit Turtle – Ouryuu. What's that about?" (Naofumi)

"Wha!? I-I don't know!" (Gaelion)

Gaelion declared, his eyes swivelling around frantically.

"You better not be lying. Depending on your answer, I might feed you to Firo." (Naofumi)

"Hmm? You'll do that to Gaelion?" (Firo)

I knew she disliked him but that Firo, she opened her mouth in jest.
So you hate him that much.

"I really don't know! So the that sort of thing will happen after I collect all the fragments!?" (Gaelion)

Hmm... this panic, it seems he really doesn't know.

"Even if that happens, I can always explain the pretext and won't betray thou!" (Gaelion)

"It's possible the assembled fragments will take over." (Naofumi)

"In that case, defeat me without hesitation!" (Gaelion)

"Ah, yes yes. I get it, I get it." (Naofumi)

"By the way, the Hero of the Sword seems to be making a pass at Wyndia.
Will you please move aside?" (Gaelion)

"He probably wants to take responsibility. Let him do as he likes."
(Naofumi)

"Thou... if that's so then explain." (Gaelion)

"Why is that? It's because only his sense of responsibility is strong. I have expectations for Taniko's response." (Naofumi)

Ah, I heard the sound of a slap.

That Taniko got angry and hit Ren's cheek.

"Even if you apologised, Father won't come back!! So if you want forgiveness then go save the world!" (Taniko)

Such a thing could be heard, spoken in a loud voice.

Well, there wasn't any need to peep.

I don't know the details of what happened, but Ren started hanging around Taniko a lot afterwards.

Or rather, Taniko...even though your father has changed his form, he's still nearby.

Even now, I don't understand Gaelion's reason for hiding.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 224 – Fiancé

---

Ren: "I'm fine like always"

Naofumi: "I see"

I decided to not go peddling today.

This time, the one going was the Hero of the Sword.

I still don't completely trust Ren yet, but since he was wasting time at the village, I decided to let him go peddle while being escorted by the Female Knight.

If he doesn't return, I will definitely kill him.

Ren: "Well then I'll be heading out"

Naofumi: "Yeah"

Incidentally, Taniko is also going along to peddle.

She was reluctant, but I convinced her to leave the village.

It was quite the noisy struggle.

I also convinced Rat to watch over the monsters since she wasn't that busy lately.

The reason being is thanks to Motoyasu and his army of Philorials.

Naofumi: "Don't fight"

Taniko: "But the Hero of the Sword is-"

Taniko immediately came to me to complain.

She didn't want to be near Ren. And of course I knew she had no interest in him either.

Naofumi: "I know that taking responsibility is useless. So I'm counting on you to watch over his feelings. Along with that arrogant and selfish Female Knight. It'll be just like a romantic comedy."

Taniko: "...Romantic comedy?"

Well, Taniko wouldn't be affected, but it would be an amusing situation to throw her in-between Ren and the Female Knight.

Though I might wake up the next day to find out that it turned into a murder mystery.

Naofumi: "Hurry up, get going"

Philorial: "Kue~"

...In front of me was a Philorial that just cried out kue.

You do realize that I know you can talk.

The carriage vanished at a remarkable speed.

Naofumi: "Well then, I should get ready to make lunch"

I began some small preparations in the kitchen.

Naofumi: "Do you want to eat something uncooked?"

Melty arrived while riding Firo.

Melty: "How rude. We came with a request for the village"

Melty: "Whether you take it seriously or not, you are still an Earl and I am your subordinate.

Naofumi: "Well, I suppose you're right"

Melty: "I guess it can't be helped, since you are the Hero of the Pot Lid"

Naofumi: "Melty... I never expected you to say that too!"

I thought it was only the soldiers who treated me as nothing but a cook, but it seems to have spread to the entire village.

Sometimes they try to make me cook for them, but I won't let them have a single bite now.

Melty: "Huh? Did it offend you? I was under the impression that the Shield wouldn't mind"

Naofumi: "Firo, you have exceeded the bounds of everyday friendship. That's why, Firo I leave Melty to you."

Melty: "Stop bringing that up! It was an emergency situation-"

While we were talking, I finished all my preparations.

By the way, the request that Melty mentioned was that the Queen was coming to visit in the near future.

That was the official reason... but.

It seems to be a trap to draw out all the revolutionaries.

Whether it is ally or foe, there seems to be various conspiracies going on.

And, finally Melty who had enough of my teasing, left the village.

Damn, treating me like a babysitter. I'll get my revenge later.

Speaking of which, the village is pretty quiet-

Motoyasu: "Father-in-Law!"

It can't be.

Naofumi: "What is it, Motoyasu?"

Motoyasu: "What is it that you would like me to do?"

Naofumi: "Go to Cal Mira and make a portal there"

Hmm? His three followers looked confused when I mentioned Cal Mira Island.

Naofumi: "Go visit the hot springs, you can bring those guys as well"

Followers: "Yay"

That reminds me, Firo said that the Philorials had begun losing interest in work.

While there are many reasons, I had no clue.

Just what kind of compounding did he make them do.

Motoyasu: "Well then, Father-in-Law when will you accept the engagement between Firo and I?"

Naofumi: "I already told you... wait until we achieve world peace!"

At least once a day we end up having this conversation.

I had enough of it already.

Do you really like Firo that much?

Naofumi: "So, Motoyasu, give up on Firo and settle for those three"

Upon my order, the three's eyes started to sparkle.

Eh? What, is it really something that would make you guys that happy.

Motoyasu: "Hahaha, Father-in-Law that is a great joke"

Naofumi: "It is?"

Motoyasu: "After all, it's a crime to lay ones hands on children"

...What?

Huh? Does that mean he hasn't done anything to them yet?

That lecherous pile of lust Motoyasu?

This is unbelievable.

Midori: "It is as Master said, that going into heat won't bring us happiness"

Motoyasu: "That is absolutely correct!"

Midori: "That's right. We believe that Motoyasu-san is the one who can bring us true happiness"

The three stated chirping away in an uproar

Too noisy.

And lastly Green, just what are you planning to do with Motoyasu.

Naofumi: "So Motoyasu, I take it that you haven't laid a hand on any of the Philorials in the village?"

Motoyasu: "Isn't it obvious"

Naofumi: "Ah...I see"

Huh?

I recall seeing the Philorials carrying around eggs from their stable.

...

Philorial: "Kue-"

Naofumi: "Were those eggs Motoyasu's?"

Philorial: "Kue! KUEKUE!"

To deny my accusations, the Philorial shakes it head.

Although its head's motion is good, I still find it strange.

Naofumi: "Do their species lay edible eggs?"

Motoyasu: "I think so"

Philorial: "Kuekue"

Midori: "As I thought Serenity is fond of Master too. How popular" (TL note: I have no idea what name this could be スリネタ for now I'll go with Serenity)

...Hang on.

Midori: "The Future Queen Firo said that if she wasn't here, we should give Master lots of love in her place"

I'm...I'm finished.

Calm down me, its just something a bird said.

Motoyasu: "Hahaha, Father-in-Law sure is popular. But I won't lose either"

Naofumi: "Shut up!"

I'm at my limit with this ridiculous situation!

How do I get rid of this idiot.

Naofumi: "Hurry up and leave already"

Motoyasu: "Yes, the preparations are ready but I still have some time left, right? So I want to spend it bonding with Father-in-Law"

Naofumi: "Get out!"

Motoyasu: "Hahaha. Father-in-Law, getting angry like that is bad for your blood pressure"

Dammit. I want this to end already.

Then I made a realization.

Right now I could have the best revenge on Melty for treating me like a babysitter.

Naofumi: "Motoyasu, I wanted to tell you earlier but... the truth is that Firo already has a Fiancé"

Motoyasu: "Of course Father-in-Law is referring to me"

Naofumi: "Your wrong"

Motoyasu: "Eh...?"

Motoyasu had an expression as if he was on the verge of collapse.

Fufufu... That's the kind of face I wanted to see.

But then again, completely believing that you were already engaged is a problem itself.

Naofumi: "Her name is Melty Melromark. She is the future Queen of this country"

Motoyasu: "Wha..."

Naofumi: "Ah, Incidentally don't think about killing Melty. She is taking care of Firo's heat. I believe Firo is with her right now. Of course you realize how bad it would be if you killed her and Firo found out, right?"

Motoyasu: "Melly, if I remember right, she is the sister of Witch?"

Naofumi: "Yes, she is the younger sister of Witch and the legitimate heir to the throne. And I believe the right to choose belongs to Firo. But against those odds do you think you can win?"

Motoyasu: "W-well..."

Oh? Is he starting to get jealous?

Motoyasu: "Firo-tan's Fiancé...I will make you recognize that it could only be me!"

Naofumi: "Okay?"

Motoyasu: "I will show you that the only one worthy enough to be Firo-tan's Fiancé is me"

Motoyasu declared as he held his spear to the sky.

With that can you finally calm down?

It sounded nice, but it was going to end up a problem later.

Motoyasu: "Everyone, lets go!"

Followers: "Yes!"

Motoyasu goes to the carriage that is pulled by those three.

Followers: "Please give us your orders"

Motoyasu: "Isn't it obvious!"

With Motoyasu's reply, the three charge off to the town at an amazing speed.

Slave: "Did I see something amazing just now?"

A slave came to ask me.

Naofumi: "Well, I guess so"

With this the village is once again peaceful.

I still have some time before I meet with Atla for her compounding lessons.

Later that day, Melty, in a fit of rage, came firing magic at my home.

Furthermore, she wouldn't stop until her magic was completely exhausted.

As a result, my house was completely demolished.

Well, It can't be helped since I did think that I went a bit too far.

But it was something that was unavoidable when dealing with Firo.

Also, it seems that Motoyasu was able to converse with Melty without treating her like a blue pig.

Motoyasu must have recognized Melty as someone he could respect.

Motoyasu: "[I won't give Firo-chan to the like of you!] I will make you accept it as fact! I will save Firo-tan from this impure relationship!"

Naofumi: "How did you end up talking with Melty?"

Motoyasu: "At first I thought that she was just a blue pig. But, since it was someone Firo wanted to get along with, I realized that it couldn't be a pig. Although it hurts to admit it, she was indeed the future Queen"

Hmm, it seems that Firo can affect whether he sees someone as a pig or a women.

I should handle Motoyasu more carefully or it could end up badly.
Then again, Firo flirting with a blue pig was not the story I had told him.

Motoyasu: "But even so, I will not give up"

Motoyasu: "...I see hypnotism"

Of course the odds that Melty brainwashed Firo is zero.

Will Motoyasu ever grow out of that?

No, No. Motoyasu already has a complete monopoly on brainwashing.

I glad for you Melty.

Motoyasu seems to have recognized you as the only human women.

Not only that, the future Queen as well. And also as a rival in love.

Naofumi: "Now that everything is settled, hurry up and go make that portal at Cal Mira"

Motoyasu: "I understand, Father-in-Law. Let my actions be testimony to my worth as her Fiancé"

After hearing my words, Motoyasu left in earnest.

As a result of our experiments, I found out that it was possible for Heroes to use the portal of allies.

Although the system message said it wasn't possible.

Either way, the village is once again quiet.

That being said, I told his three followers to try and stay at Cal Mira Island for as long as possible, but given his last words I shouldn't expect too much.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 225 - Disagreement

---

"Now then, today we'll be going to the Weapon Shop to order Firo's carriage so get ready." (Naofumi)

"Carriage~?" (Firo)

Firo, who sent Melty back to the town, inclined her head and asked.

"Yeah, I want to to come, Firo, so you can choose what kind of carriage you want." (Naofumi)

"Okay! I got it~!" (Firo)

I don't have anyone else I want to bring at the moment..... just Firo is fine.
Using the Portal, I jumped to the Castle Town with Firo.
And then we made an appearance at the Weapon Shop.

"Oh? So it's Laddie. You have bad timing." (Oyaji)

The Old Man looked at my face and muttered a little regreably.

"What's wrong?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, we finished your Shield and were waiting for you. But we didn't know when you would be coming so I guy took the opportunity and had that guy deliver it." (Oyaji) [T/N: That guy = Imia's Uncle]

"Is that so." (Naofumi)

Well, I hadn't asked when it would be completed and similarly, we hadn't clarified when to come for the carriage commission either.

The Old Man took in the situation and did the smart thing, but it was bad timing indeed.

"I think it'll be arriving any time now." (Oyaji)

"Then I'll be looking forward to it. Is it okay to pay you the money now?" (Naofumi)

"It's fine to pay after you've recieved the goods." (Oyaji)

"Hmmm... Then I'll give you 5 gold as a deposit and I'll pay the rest after I've recieved it. Is that okay?" (Naofumi)

"Laddie is stubborn like that. It's fine to just pay me afterwards but it makes you feel at ease then it's alright." (Oyaji)

The Old Man nods when I pass him the money.

His generosity is nice and really helps a lot.

"So? Today you've come for Miss Birdie's carriage, right?" (Oyaji)

"That's right. You told me to bring her along last time, so I did." (Naofumi)

"Hm~? Yeah. Carriage~!" (Firo)

Right then, Miss Birdie. What sort of carriage is good? An iron one like before?" (Oyaji)

"How much would that cost?" (Naofumi)

"How much is your budget?" (Oyaji)

"For the time being... I can afford it. It depends on its value." (Naofumi)

"Alright." (Oyaji)

The Old Man showed Firo the blueprints and asked which was good.

"The last one was broken, right? Should I make it more resiliant? Or should I make it lighter so it's easier to move? Then it'll be able to handle more unreasonable movements, to a certain extent." (Oyaji)

"Hmm... you know~ the heavy one is better." (Firo)

"That is, well...." (Naofumi)

"Miss Birdie is strong so it might not satisfy you, but lightness is important for running quickly." (Oyaji)

"Is that so?" (Firo)

"Yeah, if the carriage is light and durable then you can transport heavy items. It all depends on Miss Birdie though." (Oyaji)

The Old Man also lets Firo take part in most of the discussion. Frankly, I'm afraid to ask because it seems like their realising a child's dream. It seems that it'll turn out to be a seriously weird carriage.

"If you want a heavy one then it's fine to just request that Laddie fill it up with items. That's why I recommend a sturdy and light one." (Oyaji)

"Then that's good." (Firo)

"What will you do about the metal?" (Oyaji)

"Let me see~ I'd like something that will react when I charge it with power." (Firo)

"Alright. Do you want two wheels? Four?" (Oyaji)

"Four~" (Firo)

"With a canopy roof? Or enclosed?" (Oyaji)

"A big house-like one would be good~" (Firo)

"Haha, don't go overboard with your dream." (Oyaji)

I fear it may turn into something like a campervan.

"And then~ it'll transform with a bang~" (Firo)

No such carriage exists. Or rather, we don't need it.

If possible, I'd prefer a normal carriage. I seriously think so.

We don't need a Robo! We really don't need it!

I'd be trouble if a carriage-shaped Golem was made.

"Do you want it to be two-storied as well?" (Oyaji)

"Hmm..." (Firo)

The Old Man and Firo continued the conversation like that, and in the end they decided on a design that was slightly larger than the previous carriage.

I couldn't be as patient as the Old Man.

If he was inferior, it would've turned into a house-like carriage.

Apparently the metal used would be an ore that would react to Firo's magic to become lighter and sturdier to a certain extent.

"If I remember correctly, Laddie will be supplying the ore, right." (Oyaji)

"Yeah, I can borrow a mine from the Queen. I should be able to tell them to lend it to me with precedence for you." (Naofumi)

"That's right. A somewhat rare ore is mixed in so if you can provide that afterwards then the production cost will be cheaper." (Oyaji)

"Understood. Please give me a memo with the materials. I'll bring them later." (Naofumi)

"Thanks for your patronage. I'll also be taking some materials from Laddie's warehouse in the Castle." (Oyaji)

The Old Man wrote the memo while muttering, which I received and then proceeded to check the materials.

Yeah... there are some ores mixed in that I haven't really heard of. I'm doubtful as to whether I can supply them.

It seems it could be handled in Zeltbur, but can they be mined in Melromarc?

I'll try to ask the Queen later.

Well, it wouldn't be bad to take the Lumo slaves in the village and go mining either.

Imia's Uncle is now a blacksmith in the village, and he'll also need a large supply of materials.

"Then I'll come again after I've gathered the materials." (Naofumi)

"Alright. I'll be looking forward to your next visit." (Oyaji)

"Yeah, I'll come again." (Naofumi)

Well, I am a regular of this store. I can have him make a shield again if I collect good materials.

If I think about it, it seems he can make it if I bring monster materials.

Anything apart from the Spirit Tutyle would be fine.

It seems I can increase the efficiency if I also get Imia's Uncle to make them.

The problem is money though. I can manage to some extent.

"So how much will the production cost of the carriage be?" (Naofumi)

"I'll be making various things so it won't break. For you, it'll be 20 gold coins." (Oyaji)

"It's rather high but... I'll take a gambit." (Naofumi)

Because it's something that will counterbalance Firo's actions.

The expenses are quite severe but I can probably manage with my current finances.

"Ah, also, there might be a disturbance in the Castle Town soon so please be careful." (Naofumi)

"I got it, Laddie." (Oyaji)

"Worst case scenario, there may be an incident with the reason being that I am a regular here. Please take care." (Naofumi)

"You're too prone to worrying." (Oyaji)

"Because I wouldn't be able to survive if I wasn't." (Naofumi)

The Old Man nodded many times in reply to my response.

"Even so, this is a famous Weapon Store in this Castle Town. I'm accustomed to jealousy and harassment, and I used to fight a lot of bandits in the past. Don't worry, Laddie, I won't lose to such superficial things." (Oyaji)

"....That's right."

One way or another, the Old Man appears to be strong, there's no need to worry.

"Well, soon I'll be away for a short while though." (Oyaji)

"Is that so?" (Naofumi)

"For material supplies. We might even meet in the mines, perhaps." (Oyaji)

So he's short on supplies.

The Spirit Turtle incident caused the facilitation of the arming of citizens all across the country.

As a result, many of the ores used as weapon materials were used up.

It's not like I don't understand, and that was also proffitable.

Above all, everyone's sense of danger grew and there a large number with a strong interest in the waves as well.

Back in my world, even if there was a calamity somewhere in Japan I had thought my own surroundings were fine as well, but I've probably improved my awareness by looking at this damage that I can see.

"It's regretable, but I should leave it as it is."

With that feeling, I exited the shop.

Ah, when I show up at the Queen's place to ask about the progress, it seems the plan has been advancing in these few days.

It's a dangerous state of affairs.

Come to think of it, I feel like the Castle Town was also a little tense.

For some reason, there were several adventurers directing their animosity at me and looking into the Weapon Shop.

....For preliminary arrangements, huh. I've already warned him, so I can't help thinking it'll be alright.

Just to be sure, I'll leave a report for the Queen.

We returned from the Castle Town and resumed my studies with Atla while I waited for Imia's Uncle.

"He's late." (Naofumi)

The sun had set and dinner was finished, and yet Imia's Uncle had not turned up.

Speaking of which... the slaves who were supposed to return today haven't come back either.

Were they delayed?

Even if I'm worried, I can't do anything. They've probably been delayed by some other delivery.

I didn't really think too deeply about it.

Until... there was a disturbance in the neighbouring town the next day.

"Hero-sama!" (Imia)

When I was preparing lunch, Imia turned up with a change in facial expression.

"What's the matter?" (Naofumi)

"U-um...Uncle is...." (Imia)

"What happened to your uncle?" (Naofumi)

"That is, he came to the town with a huge injury." (Imia)

"What!? I'm heading to the town immediately. Everyone is to suspend their work, arm themselves with weapons and armour and remain vigilant until I return." (Naofumi)

Leaving those words behind, I ran to the town with Imia.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 226 – Abnormality

---

Elena: “Oh, well isn’t it the Hero of Shield”

Naofumi: “You are-”

At the town’s clinic, was someone that I knew.

If I remember right, she was one of Motoyasu’s companion, Elena.

Like before she was attentive and calm, even as a clinic receptionist.

Her personality when she was a companion of Motoyasu seemed like a complete lie.

Naofumi: “Why are you here?”

Elena: “To help my parents”

Now that I think about it, her mother was a merchant.

And I recall her saying that she might come and visit my land soon.

Elena: “While I was going to your town, I somehow was attacked by bandits but I was saved. I believe the one who helped me was the demi-human right next to you.”

Elena: “Just as I thought, the nice man that saved me was you! You have my utmost gratitude”

You already have gone under a class up, so fight them yourself.

Elena explained that while she was under attack by the bandits, Imia’s Uncle protected her and let her escape, but he sustained pretty bad injuries in the process.

When we found Imia's uncle, he was covered in wounds and his carriage was nowhere to be found.

Even though Imia's uncle should be at the level where he can easily protect himself.

Imia's Uncle: "You shouldn't worry about me. If anything I should be more concerned about the sparks from the forge."

Naofumi: "I see"

Imia's Uncle: "Also...I was debating whether to tell the Hero of the Shield this, but the bandit was well-dressed despite being a bandit, though I could be mistaken. "

Hmmm...Right now, I am more concerned about the condition of Imia's Uncle.

Should I tell the Old Man of the Weapon store?

For now, I decided to wait and see what kind of state he was in.

Naofumi: "For now, I'll keep quiet about your condition."

Imia's Uncle: "Yes!"

Naofumi: "Elena, was it? It's a shame but for the time being please help out with the investigation"

Elena: "Ah, of course. I also recall a place that was very suspicious"

Naofumi: "To make sure your innocence, we will go and investigate it"

Melty immediately had sent her subordinates to investigate the incident, as to ensure that no false charges were made.

As we talked with the receptionist, we explained the situation.

Afterwards, she showed us the way to the healer.

At the examination room, Imia's uncle underwent a treatment of recovery magic.

Imia's Uncle: "Ugh..."

Imia's uncle had lacerations covering his body, they were quite bloody.

Imia's Uncle: "I'm fine...is what I would like to say"

To help with the treatment, I took out some medicine as it can work in combination with the magic.

Imia's Uncle: "Hey, Hero..."

Feebly, Imia's uncle tried to talk with me.

Imia's Uncle: "I would like... to apologize... All the effort we put in...was stolen so easily"

Naofumi: "Don't worry about. Its fine that it was taken. More importantly, I am glad that you are still alive."

Imia's Uncle: "I'm so sorry... ugh..."

Imia's uncle painfully grasped his head.

Would the old man be okay? The bandit's blade may have been coated with poison.

I use an antidote just in case.

When the treatment had finished, Imia's uncle's condition had stabilized. Looking at his body, you could see the traces of a stab wound and the remainder of a cut.

It did not look like it could be fatal...but it still seemed strange.

Recovering from this would be rough.

There was a possibility of him being under a curse, if so we might need holy water or the dragon pulse to completely cure him.

Right now Imia's uncle is fast asleep.

Naofumi: "Well then..."

Since he is nearby, I should inform the Old Man of the Weapon shop on the current situation.

Since I can't let them run free, I should go and immediately subjugate the bandits in the area.

Those who go against the shield would not be forgiven.

But for now, should I go report to the Old man of the Weapon shop?

Though I should refrain from saying too much.

Imia: "Uncle..."

Imia looks anxious while looking at her Uncle's sleeping face.

Naofumi: "Don't worry. His life isn't in danger. Once he wakes up, you can take him to the village to recover."

Imia: "Okay..."

Naofumi: "Well then, I'm going to do a little bandit hunting"

Imia: "Okay!"

I won't stand by and turn the other cheek.

I will hit back when hit.

To steal in my territory, you better be prepared to lose everything.

While Imia is looking after her uncle, I leave with Firo, Atla and Rishia to the place that Elena informed us about.

It was near a forest at the edge of my territory.

It is along one of the routes I use to reach Castle town from my village.

Naofumi: "Firo, can you tell if there is anything here?"

Firo: "Hmm... There probably isn't anyone around, I suppose?"

Hmmm.

I guess that they won't be that easy to find.

Naofumi: "Their hideout might be nearby. Go look for it"

Rishia: "Yes"

Firo: "Yes~"

Naofumi: "Atla, can you sense anything?"

Atla: "Well... there seems to be some remnants of a malicious power"

Naofumi: "Malicious?"

Atla: "It is similar to the power that the Hero of the Spear had, as well as the Hero of the Sword..."

Naofumi: "Eh?"

It seems that Rishia noticed immediately.

As much as she tried to avoid it, she should have known that it was only a matter of time.

It seems like our encounter with Itsuki was vastly approaching.
But what could he gain from using bandits to steal from Imia's uncle?
It is possible that it was under Witch's influence that caused the attack on the Demi-Human.

But...for Elena not to notice would be strange.
Anyway, how did Imia's Uncle normally bring shields to me?
Though I was unable to ask him, it could have been with a push cart.

Also, Imia's uncle did not have anything else on him.
And Elena wasn't at the scene of the crime, so she didn't know where they fled.
I can't expand the search area.

Naofumi: "Anyway, I do not know what they are planning. So everyone be careful"

Rishia: "U-Understood"

Atla: "Yes"

Firo: "Yes~"

Well, ambushing Atla and Firo would be impossible.
Just in case, I activate Meteor Shield, in the off chance they do launch a surprise attack.
We spent rest of the day searching, but we were unable to find a single thing.

Naofumi: "Was it a waste of time?"

I went back to the town to inform Melty of the situation.

For the time being, we will let everyone now that there are bandits in the area.

If I'm lucky, an adventurer will take care of the bandits.

Melty: "Ah, that's right. There is something I think Naofumi-san should know"

Naofumi: "What?"

Melty: "Lately, there have been less people visiting and leaving the town."

Naofumi: "Is something going on?"

Melty: "Now that you mention it...there is something strange going on...Some merchants have suddenly become rather unfriendly, and they seemed like different people"

Naofumi: "Hmmm..."

Somehow, I have a bad feeling about all these strange incidents, as if there were indirect attacks.

Is what I would want to believe.

Melty: "I have contacted Mother about it, but it is possible that we were infiltrated by a spy"

Naofumi: "Is security that bad?"

Melty: "It isn't bad, rather it seems strange. It best to be careful"

Naofumi: "I know. But you should be careful too, since you are the next in-line Queen, it would be best to increase your guards"

You could tell that Melty was nervous.

I decided to part ways with Melty and Firo, and return to the village.

Naofumi: "I'll be going now"

Melty: "Oh, then take care"

I saw Ren unloading luggage from the carriage.

Since they were with a Hero, they all seemed safe.

Rather, I want to ask him if he saw anyone suspicious.

Naofumi: "There seems to be bandits in the area you were in, did you have any trouble with them?"

Ren: "No? There was nothing out of the ordinary"

It seems like Ren didn't encounter them.

Ren: "However, I was able to understand my curse a bit better"

Naofumi: "Ooh..."

Ren: "Apparently, I won't gain any experience points that I earned through fighting"

The Curse of Gluttony.

I believe the price paid was only a large drop in experience but it seems that it may also stop any experience gain.

Naofumi: "Was I nearby when you fought?"

"Ah"

Before this, I tried investigating the penalties of the Four Saint Heroes with Motoyasu.

It turns out that experience would not be gained if another Hero was nearby as they would interfere with each other's growth.

There may be other penalties, but the experience loss was the most concerning issue.

As long as there isn't another Hero within range of one kilometer, the experience gained would be fine.

The area wasn't small, but quite large.

This area would not allow any experience gained by fighting.

Of course, to be that far away and be affected, would not normally be possible.

But Ren was outside of that range so the possibility it was his curse was quite high.

Really now, to be hit by the effects of two curses, Ren sure has it tough. Well, as long as he puts in some serious effort, even with a little curse, he should have no difficulties.

Naofumi: "Did Female Knight and Taniko go in already?"

Ren: "Taniko? Is that what you call Windia?"

Ren that bastard, does he not know any of the nicknames I've given?

Well, I guess it's fine.

Naofumi: "Yeah. So, did they enter or not?"

Ren: "No, it was only me"

Naofumi: "I see"

Well, they would normally come back soon, since I can trust them to that extent.

Naofumi: "Ren, there are some guys trying to do something in my territory. One of my subordinates was attacked and suffered grievous wounds. Be cautious"

Ren: "What? I-I understand. I'll help out as much as possible. Just say the word"

Naofumi: "Is that so. Then I'll leave patrolling to you"

Ren: "You can count on me"

I gave the Hero of the Sword the duty to patrol. As it should be something that he can handle.

I should also be on guard.

Naofumi: "That reminds me, the others haven't returned yet"

I look around restlessly, for the other group that went peddling today.

Now that I think about it, those guys that left two to three days ago still haven't come back.

Did they run away?

Just in case, I check on the status of the slaves.

...?

I both see it and don't... what's going on. It seems to be slightly flickering while being filled with static.

They are alive, and they haven't violated any orders, but...?

Naofumi: "That reminds me, Kiel isn't here either"

She should have gone peddling in the morning.

Rather than taking one of the many Philorials, she went out with a Caterpilland.

Its hard to imagine that loincloth wearing dog who would eat a fallen crepe off the ground, to run away.

Though I can't deny the possibility that it was all an act, but the reason for leaving the village was weak.

And it makes more sense to obey all my orders if you were a spy.

Taniko: "The Caterpilland has come back!"

Eh?

Looks like I was worried for no reason.

But, as I turned around I was left speechless by a scream.

Taniko: "What happened!?"

Taniko was screaming as she rushed over.

The Caterpilland came back, completely covered in wounds.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 227 – Poison

---

The Rope that had connected the caterpillar and a carriage broke, and the Carriage was gone.

Kiel and the others were nowhere to be seen.

“What happened!?”( Naofumi)

As soon as caterpillar saw me, it came running at me with a great speed

It mumbled while staring and cling to me.

“I was attacked when I was peddling! Children who was riding in the carriage were kidnapped? EH? Different?”(taniko) taniko tried to hears words of Caterpillar but she does not seem to understand its words well.

It’s being transmitted only that something has happened.

“Where’s the place!”(ren)

Ren asks taniko.

“Well ……”(taniko)

“It must be in the direction where this fellow came from?”(ren)

“Probably”(taniko)

Ren traced back caterpillar foot prints and starts running.

“Oh, wait! Do not leave me!”(female knight)

the female knight chase after him

Only that wouldn't be enough.

“firo go with ren”( Naofumi)

“que!”(firo)

The firo which was next to me,on my instruction starts running and accompanies them.

It's okay if the case is resolved by this, but ...

I suppressed the Uneasiness in my chest.(not sure about this)

“First, we're treating this guy. Call rat”( Naofumi)

I tell taniko to call rat while chanting recovery magic.

Effects of recovery magic is very low in the monsters.In this case natural recovery or recovery by medicine will work.

Taniko run into rat laboratory.

Suddenly, a problem started.

until rat arrived,the caterpillar starting to behave violently and tried to return the way he came.

It's hard to say but a desire to want to become strong was strong, he grieved over cowardliness for not going after ren(cannot make a better translation than this)

"Okay? What happened?"(rat)

"Apparently thieves attacked the carriage and kidnapped the slaves."( Naofumi)

After hearing the commotion Gaelion came flying.

The caterpillar begins to tell something to gaelion.

"Hmm... Hmm... What?"(gaelion)

"Did you understand something? "( Naofumi)

"Although it is a fact that their was a surprise attack and attack came from both front and back"(gaelion) (this took the longest to translate and i think its still not good.someone can check this for me)

"what do you mean"( Naofumi)

I vaguely thought that the protection shield for slaves which they recieved are rotten .

To be frank, they are much stronger than any ordinary adventurers

I was thinking that the uncle of imia class up was done but they were defeated by smaller force although it seems to have been different.(this may be wrong)

Still, i would like to investigate thoroughly

Motoyasu,who is not at this place comes to mind first, but I think its different.

It would be reasonable to think its itsuki way of doing things

However, a question still remains.

Despite selfishness, as for the Itsuki, sense of justice is all.

As expected, it was my evaluation as a guy who investigate throughly

However, even the possibility that itsuki is moving with the mystery theory like ren and motosuya is conceivable sufficient, because itsuki that I saw in Zerutoburu(name of city) got broken with various ways

Even though it it remains the same and doesn't appear , I think it is really insidious.

These events are extremely annoying

This bad feeling doubles,because former motosuya that did not hide anything didnt seems pretty

Well,I think isn't it perfect-Hidden-justice.

Huh ..... anyway, Its bad he didnt get captured

although it was my work but the former ren and motosuya are good already they Change dynamically but The way they are now is much better.

“caterpillar also says he received the attack and fled for his life”(gaelion) after conveying his message properly,caterpillar felt relieved and losed all his strenght(this is the best meaning i can make)

Dead!

I think so and confirm his pulse.

its breathing,not dead Probably that he overdo it in the the State of emergency.

Well,he reached me properly and lost consciousness in a relieved place.

But ... ..why Did ren go to such a dangerous place?

Is it dangerous?

however i need to rush after them

It can't be helped. I confirm that rat also comes, and I get ready to go out.

“Filorial”( Naofumi)

” ” “KUE!””(Filorial)

“Also gaelion,Rishia and Alta will go with me!”( Naofumi)

“Yes.”(gaelion)

“Okay!”(rishia)

” ” “KUE!?””(Filorial)

“What is it? Are you dissatisfied? the remaining members is to guard the village! Maintain the cautious condition until I return!”( Naofumi)

i lead the group while i was riding on the back of gaelion

Firorails and others also runs and follow me from the ground.

Though I caught up with ren and others before long from the sky but there was nothing in the spot where Kiel and others were attacked as expected.

Though I let gaelion to track them by the smell but he was not able to track them halfway.

the sun has set,I was forced to abandon the search.

ren was not done yet but he finally resigned after i warned him to not let it become a second accident

I returned to the village, while counting the number of monsters and slavers both and begin to prepare for dinner.

Certainly …… recently the numbers have been reduced little by little.

It is not the reason that I did not notice. But I thought that peddling took time.

its not the time to look away.

Slave Crest is still functioning and not been removed

The numbers have not decreased and should enter the range according to which i remember.

Yet i do not know their whereabouts.

I feel that the air in the village is heavier.

because today,no Conclusive evidence has been found will Raphtalia be okay?is she doing training well? i pray that nothing has happened.

But i still need to issued her instructions to come back because the problem has occurred.

the problem is ..... whether the instrustions passes.

I cut today's material with a kitchen knife and throw it into the pan.

Though I stew it,it's being boiled, it doesn't stick to a hand so much.

ren also seems restless.

But the situation does not improve for the better even if we search at night.

Because I cannot calm down, I cook at Such time, heros are powerless. It is rare that I can do it.

for now,its only possible to wait for something to happen(cannot make a better translation)

"oh! what with this? "( Naofumi)

I try the soup which I cooked today while saying so.

Its dangerous!

Alert sounds in my head.

"Huh ……"( Naofumi)

What is it? Did I add anything dangerous to a dish, and also make a failure?

There were no such things so far.

A connoisseur about soup operates in my sight.

Toxic substance, toxicity…middle degree, breathing hindrance nature poisonous

I used an antidote, the detoxification magic cured me immediately.

what?

No,no one can make such a dangerous poison with materials right here.

Did i mix it, and maked a dangerous thing with alchemy by mistake?

"Is it done?"(slave)

he slave in charge of cooking asks it while seeing the soup.

"No, look like I failed"( Naofumi)

“EH? It smells so good?”(slave)

“Indeed”( Naofumi)

While saying so, i put away the soup in the bottle of water

Danger!

Same alerts like a little while ago was reflected in my field of vision.

what! ?

Is it water?

i carefully make connoisseur of water

“Hey,this water has been taken from where?”( Naofumi)

“what? It’s from the well which is always used,……”(slave)

but what do I say that it is mixing or it is poisonous?

I have an unpleasant hunch.

“It’s useless!”( Naofumi)

“I don’t get it”(slave)

“anyway its no use and its painfull”( Naofumi)

When i see outside at the dining room, Firorail pick quarrel with the slave and prevented him who wanted to drink well water they are fellows with wild intuition because i am not there he is talking and interfering

Filorial did well,i will prepare one reward for him later

“All members do not drink water”( Naofumi)

I gave instructions in a loud voice.

“What happened?”(slaves)

“There is the possibility that the poison is mixing with the well”( Naofumi)

“Is it so?”(slaves)

“It is like that and i will investigate it a little”( Naofumi)

I called for rat that finished treatment of caterpillar and investigate the well nearby river and the river.

As a result, poison is mixed in both.

Fortunately bio plant is detoxifying and it's said that they don't sink into the earth.

However,If you look closely monsters of fish type was dead and floating in the river.

The sun sets and search of the criminal letting a poison run in the river in the dark didnt go well.

However, I found the corpse of Demi-Human adventurer upstream.

"Is this fellow the culprit?"( Naofumi)

"I don't know"(rat)

rat checks the corpse like a doctor.

Did demi human pour the poison into my village? Even if I make a mistake, it isn't person of my village.

In the village which I command for the time being though I seem to be their God on the religion?

Is it people of the Silt Welt or Shirudo Furiden?

I cannot pinpoint which it is by the corpse who doesn't speak.

"Earl, here, I wonder if you know?"(rat)

rat point at the corpse of Demi-Human.

"a paper is held in the hand.something is written on it"(rat)

"You can read?"( Naofumi)

"it is the judgment for the person who calls himself a god.But aren't these letters are Melromarc official language?"(rat)

"What?"( Naofumi)

Waited a minute,did the radicals of the religion of the shield attacked me?

No, it's doubtful to say its Melromarc official language.

An official language of Silt Welt or Shirudo Furiden should be used in such case.

“Looks like you wrote and translated it well,it’s feeling that you got used to by understanding the habit of the characters.”, right?(cannot find any better translation)

“Such a thing?”( Naofumi)

“yes,then?”(rat)

rat picks up a medicine and drips it on the chest of the body of the demi human.

Then on the chest of the body … … A slave crest rose faintly.

It is the slave crest which disappears if I die. Though they intended to cover it well but it cannot deceive me

“It’s a slave I …… Oh, it is white”( Naofumi)

“Well”(rat)

The slave who is demi human of Silt Welt and Shirudo Furiden lets a poison run by a religious reason and commits suicide…,… would be impossible.

i hear in such countries that demihumans human slaves have the same family/tribe crest

The possession of the paper and mystery of the slave crest is that to conceal a decisive reason.

Moreover it's obvious that their wrath is aimed at me.

It's to display that they want me to be suspected

I will let you make a human slave if it is me.

It is a very childish trick.

The one which made the criminal demi humans affiliates or gave a bad impression and stood up …, ….

"Bury it carefully"( Naofumi)

"Good?"(rat)

"It is a victim. He would have come through a lot of hardships so far. At least I will treat the dead politely"( Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 228 – Brainwash

---

Now, for the guy who put poison in the well

The water... might not have been from the river.

The water of the river is fundamentally different from the water of the well.

I think it would have taken time if the poison that flowed through the river arrived at the well via underground.

We can also consider if it went through the soil, but I think the poison was poured directly into the well.

Still...

A major problem remained.

My village wasn't made so that anyone can come in easily.

Because I was wary, I placed a guard originally so that only slaves and people who I trust can enter.

Needless to say, Gaelion and the filorials would have said something to me if there was a guy around.

Thus, the evidence suggests that the well was poisoned by internal perpetrator.

I do not like to doubt.

I mean, I should have set it up so if you performed such an estranged act, you would pay with the price of life.

“Gaelion!” (Naofumi)

In accordance to my call, Gaelion came flying.

“What is it?” (Gaelion)

“You were in the village today.” (Naofumi)

“Yeah.”(Gaelion)

“Was there a fellow who did something to the well?” (Naofumi)

“Even if you say that… There were not any particularly strange people.”
(Gaelion)

“What about soldiers and visitors from the castle?” (Naofumi)

“No.” (Gaelion)

Identification of the criminal was getting difficult.

Slave crests were not working.

Also, Gaelion said no soldier or magic person/seller came to the village.

Well, it could be that the precautionary ability of Gaelion cannot be fully trusted.

Therefore, I went back to the village and gathered slaves to ask them.

"I want to identify the time when the poison was poured. Who was the last to drink the water and be safe?" (Naofumi)

To my question, a few slaves raised their hands and took their time to talk respectively.

I heard that the well water was moved to the water jars for cooking a little while ago.

"I wonder who the culprit was?" (Naofumi)

"Excuse me, Naofumi-sama." (Atla)

"Hmm, what happened?" (Naofumi)

Atla raised her hand and made a proposal.

Her face seemed tense or something.

Was there something that only Atla can sense?

Atla slowly returned to the clinic and pointed at Imia's uncle who was resting in the corner of the dining room.

"Imia's uncle, something abominable is coiling itself around you." (Atla)

"Huh?" (Naofumi)

Imia's uncle looked around in a perplexed expression after being confronted by Atlas.

"I'm, what are you saying? Please be careful while joking." (Imia's uncle)

“Yeah Atla, no matter what, for uncle to do such a thing–”(Naofumi)

“It’s, so… No… actually, I remember causing something-” (Imia’s uncle)

Imia’s uncle was at his wits end and began to groan.

He pushed Imia away toward the other slaves and staggered away unsteadily.

“Hero of the Shield, please, I…” (Imia’s uncle)

Imia’s uncle asked for help as he suffered.

No, wait…

“Please punish me… Before I commit a crime again!” (Imia’s Uncle)

“When the thieves caught you, did they put a curse on you!?” (Naofumi)

“I understand, oh… Guu…”

I opened Imia’s uncle’s slave status.

To state the problem… It was different.

There’s noise! <This kind of Noise>

It was apparent that something strange was going on .

If you thought about it calmly, he was found a day after he was supposed to arrive.

Basically, where he was attacked was uncertain.

What would have happened if Elena hadn't passed by, I don't know.

What would I do if I happened to pass by and had to escape from a strong adventurer?

Imia's uncle was taken to the clinic for treatment.

And there was no doubt that he specifically came back to the village to pour poison in the well as he was ordered.

The problem is that whatever was eroding Imia's uncle might escape the eye of treatment.

"Hero of the Shield!" (Slaves)

"Naofumi." (Ren)

The slaves, Ren, and Atla asked me for help.

'I am not almighty,' I want to say that, but I can't. I understand the feeling of wanting help.

"We,··· oh, huh!" (Atla)

"It's no good!" (Ren)

Rishia stepped forward and stood with Imia's uncle.

"Even though, I know how it is done!? For me,····· I can't hold out my hand"
(Imia's uncle)

Even Ren, who's acquainted with the slaves, can't lend a hand?

Similarly, even the female knight cannot move it.

I think, this is an abnormal situation.

If she slays Imia's uncle, I'll have to banish Female Knight.

I've been called indecisive.

I cannot follow the situation.

What should I do?

Well, if it was a game, persuasion would be the means to restore a former companion who was manipulated by someone, but it's quite difficult in reality to break free from brainwashing. This is not a game.

Still, I cannot deal with everyone

By no means is it easy. It's quite troublesome.

"Uncle! Please stop! 'I'd like to be of assistance to the Hero of a Shield,' wasn't it you who said that!?" (Imia)

"Oh, that... GUU..." (Imia's uncle)

Imia's uncle's consciousness was becoming cloudy. This was not the situation for persuasion.

"Everything... justice..." (Imia's uncle)

He began to chant in a strange tone.

"Please... Stop me-" (Imia's uncle)

Imia's uncle began to chant magic.

The Lemo species knew the appropriateness of the soil.

He used magic that manipulated the earth to make a hole and pushed out a rock using magic.

"Reliable source of power.

I order.

I read once again and decipher a law of nature,Earth.

Slaughter these people!" (Imia's uncle)

"Zweit Earth Drive! ( ツヴァイト・アースドライブ)"(Imia's uncle)

"I as the root of the power give an order.

I read once again and decipher a law of nature,earth.

Hinder the magic of the person in front!"

"Anti-Zweit Earth Drive! ( ツヴァイト・アースドライブ)"(Imia)

From the same species, Imia interfered with the magic that Imia's uncle chanted, and there was simply a crack in the ground.

"Naofumi!" (Rat)

"What is it?" (Naofumi)

"Please confine the Imia's uncle by creating a wall in four directions! Needless to say, the strongest one. Please." (Rat)

I see! Such a thing!

I started building magic power and mix SP into it.

"Uhh..." (Imia's uncle)

Imia grappled his uncle and looked at me.

"Now! Hero!" (Imia)

"Are you sure?" (Naofumi)

"Stop me! Please! I request it." (Imia's uncle)

"Understood! Shield Prison!" (Naofumi)

The cage made with shields confined Imia's uncle together with Imia.

"Atla?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, the abominable power was interrupted by the cage, and its power was cut." (Atla)

"So did it go elsewhere?" (Naofumi)

"No one among these here." (Atla)

"That's fortunate." (Naofumi)

It would be serious if there someone began to behave violently like Imia's uncle did.

Afterward...

"First of all, for now, let's figure out the situation before the cage disappears." (Naofumi)

"Oh."

"Yes."

It is certain that Imia's uncle was the one who poured poison in the well.

Perhaps it's a kind of curse.

Thinking about it, the same as back then with Motoyasu, it looks without a doubt like a Legendary Weapon skill.

Ren has not used his.

He's been under tight watch from the start.

If he used it, he'd be noticed. Immediately.

Motoyasu is currently on Cal Mira Island.

He may be coming back soon, unfortunately for Firo, and it would be troublesome for me.

Also, there are Motoyasu's beloved mass-produced Filorials among the victims.

If that ridiculous condition was an act, there would be no helping it, but probably not.

Above all–.

“Itsuki-sama” (Rishia)

“The possibility is high.” (Naofumi)

From the fact that Imia’s uncle muttered justice.

To begin with, I am concerned with what kind of power was used to control Imia’s uncle.

When I think about it, the missing slaves may be related to this.

I cannot cover it anymore.

“Rishia. There are things I need to tell you.” (Naofumi)

“Oh, What is it?” (Rishia)

“Actually, quite some time ago, I saw Itsuki.” (Naofumi)

“FUE!? ( ふええ ! ? )” (Rishia)

“Do you remember when we went to buy Atla?” (Naofumi)

“Yes.” (Rishia)

“At that time, I found Itsuki in the Colosseum. Like some crippled person, he seemed to fight to receive people’s praise.” (Naofumi)

“.....” (Rishia)

Rishia looked down.

Well... I knew this would happen, but it can't be helped since I had reasons for hiding it.

“It looked like Itsuki was lost, and if Rishia were to see such a figure of Itsuki—” (Naofumi)

“That's enough. Thank you Naofumi.” (Rishia)

Even if Rishia became estranged here, I cannot stop her.

“It's okay. So what happened to Itsuki?” (Rishia)

“The Shadow of the country was monitoring Itsuki but lost sight of him, so his whereabouts are unknown.” (Naofumi)

“Is... is that so.” (Rishia)

We may already consider this an attack by Itsuki already.

Do not come with more nasty methods than Ren and Motoyasu.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 229 – Multiple Offender

---

Ren: "Itsuki..."

Ren mutters his name bitterly.

I wonder how I should deal with this matter.

Atla will probably be able to find Itsuki's location.

Soldier: "There, there's trouble!"

A soldier from the castle burst into the dining room.

He was covered in wounds and his clothes were in tatters.

Naofumi: "What happened?"

Soldier: "Large scale riots have broken out at one of the towns! Its terrorism aimed at the populace"

Naofumi: "What did you say?"

Soldier: "Its a emergency request from Melty-sama! Hero! We need your strength!"

There are more riots than Firo can take care of?

The scale of their attack must be massive.

Naofumi: "I understand!"

Ren: "Can I come with?"

Ren stepped forward with his request.

Hmmm.

It would be simple to let Ren accompany me.

And the Female Knight can also come along...

But, something is bothering me.

Imia's uncle was attacked by bandits, Kiel and the others were abducted, the village was targeted with poison, Imia's Uncle was controlled, and a riot broke out in town.

Their timing is too good.

If this was a planned attack, then why?

The purpose behind the enemy's motive...

The Queen's story about the Church of the Three Heroes, seems to be connected with Itsuki.

Perhaps, the riot at the town is just a clever diversion.

Which means.

Naofumi: "Its possible that there will be an attack targeting Melromark castle"

Ren: "Wha-"

Ren looked pale.

Well, its not too surprising.

I will not let the malicious acts that transpired here be repeated.

Now that I think about it, the people carrying out these acts could be manipulated just like Imia's Uncle.

What could be done to stop all of this?

For now, the only method for the brainwashing is to use Shield Prison to seal them off, nothing else would work.

But, the problem is that the scale is too big.

I would have to take into account the magic consumption and the cool-down, as well as finding the ones that Itsuki was controlling.

Just like Ren, he could be corrupted by a curse, but someone must have given him the idea.

But, manipulating him would be difficult.

It could be similar to Ren, where he keep on repeating what he believed in.

Just what kind of person is Itsuki.

He has an usually strong sense of justice, yet he is also conceited.

How would one manipulate such a guy?

Naofumi: "Ren, this is a hypothetical. But what would someone have to do to manipulate a Hero of Justice?"

Ren: "Eh? ...Wouldn't you just need a villain?"

It was such a simple textbook answer, but it is believable.

Furthermore, he targeted both my land and Castle town for his acts of turmoil.

Then his target would be either me...or the Queen.

Now, I try to think of his intention.

If he was in a place where he could see the messenger go out for help...then there is a good chance the enemy is in Castle town.

Motoyasu: "Father-in-Law. I have returned"

Oh? Motoyasu had returned just at the perfect time.

He suddenly appeared through the use of a portal.

Naofumi: "Oh! Motoyasu, I know its sudden, but can I ask you to do something?"

Motoyasu: "What would you like me to do, Father-in-Law. Even if it is an act of evil, I, Motoyasu will gladly serve you."

Naofumi: "...I need you to go to the castle in Melromark and check its situation. If a problem were to arise, crush it. Motoyasu, I also want you to go with your Philorials."

Motoyasu: "Understood, Father-in-Law. I, Motoyasu, will stake his life to carry out this task! Let us go, my angels!"

Having just returned, his three followers, obeyed Motoyasu's order with a slightly tired expression.

I take it that you guys spent your time running around sightseeing.

The real problem is that we can't identify the target of Itsuki's attack.

Even with a large military force, our enemy would be able to advantage of it. Motoyasu proved that one's consciousness could be altered, and at worst Firo may end up in the hands of the enemy.

Ren: "So should I go too?"

Naofumi: "No, Ren should stay here. Just in case"

Spreading my forces too much would be dangerous.

We would have walked into a trap if it wasn't for my earlier foresight.

Motoyasu: "Then let us depart!"

Followers: """"Yes""""

Taking his Philorials, Motoyasu headed towards town.

The portal is not usable during its cool-down, but he should be fine since he runs fast.

With this I hope nothing happens, but...

Afterwards, I go to see if the Cage of Shields had dissipated.

Imia's Uncle: "My deepest apologies! Please forgive all the inconveniences I have caused!"

Having arrived, Imia's Uncle bowed his head down in apology.

Imia is also with him.

Naofumi: "Don't let it bother you. More importantly are you alright?"

Imia's Uncle: "Y-yes!"

Naofumi: "Can you explain to us what happened?"

Imia's Uncle: "Yes"

As I thought, Imia's Uncle was attacked the day before.

He recalled that there was a sudden attack from the bushes that he was unable to avoid.

Did it cause that scar I saw at the clinic?

Huh, it didn't look like an arrow mark...

From that point his memories became hazy, but he continued to fight until his mind became muddled.

He began having mixed thoughts that the bandit wanted to help him, even though he was an enemy.

He then escaped the fight, but he vaguely remembers protecting Elena.

Naofumi: "He escaped?"

Imia's Uncle: "...When he left, I felt relieved. Then on my way back with Imia...I recalled our arrangement to intentionally bump into a person"

Naofumi: "It was arranged?"

Imia's Uncle: "Yes. I believe it was at that time I was given the medicine"

Of course, what he gave you was really poison.

Brainwashed into using the poison, Imia's Uncle was tasked with poisoning the well with his own hands.

It would be quite troublesome to make these arrangements, but it avoided suspicion.

To have planned that elaborately ahead, must have been difficult.

Imia's Uncle: "Then I was to put the entire village to sleep with sleeping pills, and during that time-"

Naofumi: "Wait...sleeping pills?"

If the poison wasn't discerning enough, there were also sleeping pills.

An appraisal of the poison showed that it was a moderate toxin, and when taken it would affect the repository system.

Most would die suffering upon taking it, it was truly a horrible thing.

It was quite a severe way to die. It would have caused them to suffocate to death.

Did you make a mistake in using the sleeping pills?

There is a large difference between the testimony and reality.

However there was still something puzzling.

There was the Demi-Human slave whose death was disguised as a suicide.

If Itsuki is behind this, according to Imia's uncle story, he would have finished him with the brainwashing.

But even though he had a slave crest he wasn't brainwashed. The reasoning behind this, is something I don't know.

Was the slave crest placed simply because I used them as my subordinates. Or was it for a completely different reason.

...What if there were multiple culprits?

If he isn't working with anyone then, its likely Itsuki is being manipulated by someone.

That wouldn't be surprising. Itsuki is just a big lump of justice. He would hate such evil deeds.

Well, if it was for the sake of justice he could probably do it.

The possibility that Itsuki is corrupted by the Curse series is also very high. In fact, compared to Ren and Motoyasu, Itsuki's mental damage seems to be the highest.

Its probable that Itsuki can't suppress the feelings caused by the curse, since it consumes your will and is virtually impossible to control.

That would mean that those controlled by Itsuki's brainwashing couldn't be controlled by others.

He would probably say it was for the sake of justice or something.

Even though the use of the sleeping pills and poison would be unforgivable, for the sake of justice he would allow it.

Lets think about the facts.

Itsuki and the three other groups... the remnants of the church, the revolutionaries, and the missing Witch and her companions, most likely one of these groups are acting separately.

It is unclear if they are cooperative relationship, but there is not doubt they are involved in this turmoil.

Each of them work on different ideologies which means the enemy wouldn't be under a united leadership.

Which means, Itsuki could have been given those sleeping pills and poison by another party.

While being corrupted by the curse, it wouldn't be strange for him to ally himself with one of the groups.

Assuming that there are four groups, including Itsuki, their targets would be our footholds.

My village, the Town and Melromark Castle.

A considerable force would be needed to overwhelm the three at the same time.

Of course, it would be impossible for the Remnants of the Church and the Revolutionary Faction.

And there were people brainwashed by Itsuki at all three locations.

Me, Melty, and the Queen.

From these three, one will be targeted for death.

After some planning, Ren is going to head to the town, while I defend the village.

Since the power to brainwash is already well known, Ren will be careful.

Naofumi: "Please continue"

Imia's Uncle: "From them on...I'm not sure"

Naofumi: "Hmmm"

The question is, after knocking out the villagers with the sleeping pills, what would be his next step.

They could attack using a force controlled by Itsuki.

Itsuki may have also thought the poison and the sleeping pills would be enough.

The group that is behind Itsuki, uses poison as their main method of elimination, or am I wrong to assume so?

Otherwise their actions are just too random.

After all, the reason they used they poisoned the village was to weaken our war potential.

Which would mean, Itsuki is a puppet.

Even if he isn't working with anyone, Itsuki would be unlikely to use the sleeping pills in the first place.

Actually, the poison used by Imia's Uncle when he was controlled and the one the culprit used for the river was different.

After using the pills and forcing me to deal with the riots in town, just what was he going to do?

The answer was obvious. I wouldn't have to think hard to figure it out.

Gaelion: "What about the Philorials and monsters?"

Gaelion: "Most of the Philorials went with the Hero of the Spear, but there were some that stayed"

Naofumi: "The remain Philorials, monsters and Gaelion. Along with the slaves, go suppress the situation in town. If you succeed, please act under the orders of the future queen Melty who is at location"

Gaelion: "Understood"

Philorial: "Kue!"

Gaelion: "And the others?"

...The truth is that it would be best for all forces to help out in town and leave the village empty.

Among my forces, there was one that could crush Itsuki and all his forces. But if Itsuki were to come and capture this village, it would be difficult situation.

Honestly the Three Heroes Church and the revolutionary faction are not that big of threats.

If Itsuki was captured, we could undo the brainwashing.

Therefore, it would be best to solve this in the shortest manner possible.

In that case, walking into a trap wouldn't be too bad.

Naofumi: "The others-"

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 230 – Infectious

---

The village was silent. Everyone held their breath.

Dinner casually finished in silence without anyone lighting any lights. It was as if the entire village had already gone to sleep.

A large number of missing carriages arrived at once.

The Filo Rials pulling them and the slaves riding them were probably being controlled.

One by one, they stepped off of the carriages and began walking towards the village.

And then, carrying off the slaves who were pretending to be asleep, they returned to the carriage parked farthest from us.

There...

"That's enough!" (Naofumi)

I stepped out of my hiding place from a nearby house.

At the same time, the slaves being taken away began to resist.

"Oh, Niichan. What's wrong?" (Kiel)

Kiel stood in front of me, who responded as if nothing was wrong.

I opened up Kiel's slave management screen and tried to activate punishment.

But... as if the battery had died, nothing happened.

"Kiel, I know that you can't act. Tell me honestly. Is the mastermind controlling you inside of that carriage?" (Naofumi)

"Control? What are you saying, Niichan?" (Kiel)

Kiel's eyes looked strange. She stared at the other controlled children, and they all tilted their heads in confusion.

"We were finally released from Niichan's brainwashing. That's why it is our duty to free the others as quickly as possible." (Kiel)

I see... they were released.

That's the lie Itsuki implanted in their skulls to control them.

With such a reason, it sounds like Itsuki is on the side of justice.

At least, within his head.

That is... If they were truly being released...

It would be just as Rishia said.

A while ago, when I proposed the plan, Rishia said as such:

"Naofumi-san. Even after all that's happened, I still love the legends of the Heroes. When I was little, I would read about them whenever I could."

(Rishia)

"What are you saying all of a sudden?" (Naofumi)

"Do you know of the enemy that appears in the Heroes' tales... The Demon King with the power of control?" (Rishia)

"The Hero of the Shield, right?" (Naofumi)

Rishia slowly shook her head from side to side.

“At least, within the world of fiction, he was called as such. But according to history, there were many Heroes at the time, and along with the heroes, much death came.” (Rishia)

Was that why people kept saying I have a Shield that can brainwash?

That means that it didn't have to be the Hero of the Shield.

The people of this world just arbitrarily developed a grudge and arbitrarily placed it on the Shield. As long as they could shift the blame, then any weapon would do.

I've heard about it in Manga.

The Hero and the Demon King are just two sides of the same coin.

Yet here, they are one and the same.

All the bad things are the fake's... The Demon King's fault.

There's no way that someone with such dark power can be a hero.

... A Hero rejected by history.

“And... According to legend, everyone working under the Demon King was a victim bent to his will.” (Rishia)

To summarize, it's like this:

If I don't get rid of Itsuki quickly, it's going to get troublesome.

Worse comes to worst, I'll have to capture each person in my Shield Prison one at a time.

I wonder just how much magic that would take.

I guess I should tell about Ren as well.

If Itsuki decides to show his face in the village, I want to capture him alive if possible.

If that turns out to be impossible, we'll have to kill him. I'll take responsibility for it.

That's what I told him.

But Ren was opposed to killing Itsuki.

I feel that his emotions are getting deeper as of late.

Before, he tried to put up a... Cool, indifferent atmosphere. I guess this is better.

By the way, if he tried to use his dark past to elicit sympathy, I planned on kicking him out.

Though, it appears that there are no problems at this point in time.

No matter what happens, I don't think he will kill.

Also, though I made him unlock the other reinforcement methods, his curse makes him unable to get materials or money, so he can't really use them. It will be difficult to crush Itsuki, who is currently being devoured by his own curse.

"I'm home~."

A carefree voice came from the coast.

"Is it already sleeping time? I planned on getting Atlas-chan and heading over to Naofumi's place, but what's happening?" (Sadina)

Sadina had a relaxed expression as she stretched her arms and walked towards me.

“Why are you coming back so late anyways?” (Naofumi)

It’s obvious that she had no idea about the emergency situation.

Why was this idiot waltzing in so easily?

“Why, you ask? …Didn’t Naofumi-chan ask me to try my hand at Salvaging?”
(Sadina)

Ah, right!

Sadina told me that plenty of interesting treasures slept at the bottom of the sea, so I asked her to try her hand at them.

Recently, she had been coming back with things like old coins.

They were things that would drive collectors insane. We got a good price for them.

That’s why I got happy and asked her to do it on the spur of the moment.

“Today, I found some nice wine and a good harpoon.” (Sadina)

Sadina held out an ornate harpoon that looked as if it were made out of coral.

Is that really something that someone lost in the sea?

“It seemed like it’d been at the bottom of the sea for a while, but it still held its shape. Its blade is quite a nice one.” (Sadina)

“Ah. Anyways… Can you step back a bit?” (Naofumi)

Sadina playfully spun the harpoon around her body before returning it to the bag on her back. She looked around her.

"Sadina-nee-chan. Niichan is being cruel." (Kiel)

"Ara? What could be the problem?" (Sadina)

Kiel slowly stepped towards Sadina.

"No! Sadina-san! Get away from Kiel-kun!" (Rishia)

It happened the second Rishia shouted out her warning. Kiel changed into dog form and bit the space Sadina was in.

But at that moment, Sadina backed off at a surprising speed and created some distance between her and the dog.

"Damn... I missed." (Kiel)

"... What are you trying to do? Based on your answer, this Onee-chan may have to issue out some punishment." (Sadina)

Sadina immediately readied herself for battle as she pointed the harpoon at Kiel.

Kiel's attack put her on high alert.

I should have warned her quicker.

"Hypothetically... If like in the story, we slaves were just moving at the Demon King's whim, then..."

Rishia's words echo in my mind. I can imagine the worst possible outcome.

"I see. Itsuki isn't directly issuing brainwashing. He's made a status effect that can be spread... Atlas, what can you sense from Kiel and the others?"
(Naofumi)

I asked Atlas who was in hiding.

This is merely a single possibility, but I should have Atlas look into it.

“The dark energy that is wrapped around Kiel-kun has begun extending tentacles towards Sadina-san.” (Atlas)

Damn. This is troublesome.

Kiel, the controlled Filo Rials, and the controlled Slaves took offensive stances.

Currently, Kiel’s level is 70.

Just based on stats, she falls short of Raphtalia, but that doesn’t mean she isn’t strong.

Due to her race, Kiel can make quicker movements.

However, I can probably withstand her attacks.

The problem is the infectious nature of this brainwashing.

It’s like a game where you have to defend single a point from countless enemy units.

And there’s nothing we can do about it.

Neither side will seriously try to hurt the other, but when any of my side gets infected, they’ll become enemies.

“Is there anything I can do here?” (Naofumi)

Ren should also be in quite some danger right now.

I guess I should warn him.

“WAOOOOOOOOOOON!” (Kiel)

With Kiel's battle cry, the slaves began their assault.

... The slaves I trained as soldiers have turned against me.

I had planned to end this by capturing Itsuki.

Of course, I had considered the possibility of fighting Kiel and the others.

But what the hell is it with this contagion factor.

It's even worse than a plague.

"The stories told of the Hero's companions having strong wills and being able to withstand the control. It was quite a touching tale..." (Rishia)

Rishia answered as she blocked Kiel's attack.

The village has already been swallowed by battle.

Though I shouted out a warning, the enemies' preemptive strike rendered quite a few of my combatants unconscious. We were doing worse than I predicted.

I stepped in front to protect the slaves to the best of my ability, but still, I can't handle everything.

"Are you alright!?" (Naofumi)

"S-somehow." (Slave)

"It seems that the effect isn't that contagious, but if we continue to take attacks, then it will definitely spread." (Naofumi)

I have confidence in my own defense, but when facing an army of Kiel-class enemies, there's no way either side will come out unscathed.

If I want to use my Shield Prison trump card, I'll have to gather them in one place.

Though, the quickest solution would just be to find and capture Itsuki.

"Atlas! Can you still not sense Itsuki anywhere?" (Naofumi)

"...It's no good. An ominous aura is filling the area, and I can't pinpoint anything." (Atlas)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

I guess I shouldn't get my hopes up.

Damn. Everything is turning on me.

I got the idea to defeat Itsuki and end everything from Motoyasu, but that seems to be impossible.

If the brainwashing is infectious, then it will just spread naturally.

Itsuki doesn't even have to be anywhere near the village.

"Niichan, prepare yourself! How dare you use all of us!" (Kiel)

"Ha! Just go eat a crepe covered in dirt!" (Naofumi)

From my bad habits, an angry line escaped my mouth. The line of a cheap villain.

I really shouldn't be provoking her right now.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 231 – Miscalculations

---

Sparks fly as Kiel's claws brush lightly against my shield.

Though she can't overcome my Defense, it doesn't feel good to intercept the momentum from a full-body attack.

All of the attacking slave's attacks seem to be centered on me.

I've narrowly managed to block everything without taking damage, but I wonder how much longer I can keep this up.

As I receive attacks, I feel the curse afflicting them dealing additional damage to me.

It feels like my internal organs are twisting around each other. I feel dizzy. Damn. At this rate, my body isn't going to hold up.

"All is in the name of Justice. Niichan must be defeated!" (Kiel)

"Kiel... you better remember this later. Even if you were brainwashed, that doesn't mean I'm lessening your punishment for this at all." (Naofumi)

... This justice crap is getting annoying!

Aren't they getting something wrong here?

I'm no saint. I'm no philanthropist.

Of course I would use all of you people.

I mean, aren't I always saying it?

'Get back to work,' and such.

No, the normal Kiel should be well aware of that.

I should think of the person in front of me as a separate entity controlling

Kiel's body.

What should I do? Should I use Wrath and turn everything to ash?

"You're wrong! Naofumi-san is... definitely not evil!" (Rishia)

Rishia cautions Kiel with a strong tone of voice.

What?

I didn't know she could speak with such a tone.

"Naofumi-chan, should this Onee-san do something radical to gain control of the situation?" (Sadina)

"What do you plan on doing?" (Naofumi)

Ah, by the way, Sadina is level 75. Her stats are also quite high.

Honestly, if you don't count Raphtalia and Firo, her stats are some of the highest I've seen. They're higher than Kiel's.

Her weak points are Speed and Attack Range.

But, when in the water, these weaknesses disappear.

"Just... a little." (Sadina)

"... I asked what you were going to do." (Naofumi)

"Let's see. The result of this plan will probably make you forgive Kiel and the others." (Sadina)

"Oi! You couldn't be..." (Naofumi)

『I who has understood the source of power command. Let the truth once again manifest itself. Oh lightning, shoot down all that stand before me! All Dreifach Chain Lightning!』

From the tip of Sadina's harpoon, several streams of lightning bright enough to cause permanent eye damage shoot out towards the brainwashed children.

"GYAAA" (Children)

Kiel and the others fall to the ground.

The lightning continues for a while. I smell the scent of burnt hair.

"Sadina, you..." (Naofumi)

"It's alright. I controlled the output. If I was serious, it would look even more amazing." (Sadina)

I see. (TL: Naofumi uses sarcastic slang here)

"Is everyone alive?" (Naofumi)

"We're fine, but some people are beginning to spout words similar to Kiel-kun." (Rishia)

Ah, so they awakened to the wonderful world of Justice.

Is this some sort of religious cult?

... The situation is quite unfavorable.

"Brother of the Shield, prepare yourself!" (Slave) (TL: This is not Kiel)

So there were still some hiding around.

More of the missing children begin pouring into the village.

Dammit... They're putting my subordinates to good use.

They're definitely cutting their losses here.

Even if Itsuki was consumed by his curse, I doubt he would have enough power to beat me and my subordinates head on in battle.

But, the people standing before me are those I personally raised and gave stat growth increases to.

These children are already leagues above the average knights and adventurers.

And for many of them, like Raphtalia, this is their homeland.

Normally, this would be a group that even entire countries would hesitate to challenge.

I have to congratulate him for the brilliance of his idea, but it's quite inhumane.

He probably lured out the weakest of slaves, brainwashed them, sent them back, and had them bring their friends. In the end, everyone would happily try to kill me.

He probably spent a long time planning this.

Ah... This really is hitting below the belt.

Among the seven sins, I wonder which one would grant such an ability.

"Is this all of the slaves that went missing?" (Naofumi)

"No... I think it's less than half." (Rishia)

As I thought.

Honestly, if he suddenly gained such an amazing fighting force, he would start off by spreading it out.

Also...

"That carriage is..." (Naofumi)

The slaves were carried off towards it, but the battle's been going on for a while, and I've seen no activity from it. Is Itsuki there?

Did he miss his chance to make a dramatic entrance?

I wonder. Something seems fundamentally wrong here. I have a bad feeling about this.

"How long do you think Kiel's group will be knocked out for?" (Naofumi)

"You shouldn't expect too much. Kiel-chan's become quite strong." (Sadina)

"Then we'd better investigate that carriage while we can. We may find the source." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-san..." (Rishia)

"What is it, Rishia?" (Naofumi)

"..." (Rishia)

Is she going to ask me to spare Itsuki?

Female Knight did something like that as well.

Well it depends on the situation. If I find a way to free Itsuki of his curse, I may be able to use him later.

And from his ability to cause such chaos, I think the boy will be quite useful. At least in battle.

I wait for Rishia's question, but it doesn't come.

"If you've got nothing to say, then we're heading out." (Naofumi)

"... Okay." (Rishia)

I guess she's dealing with many conflicted emotions. I wonder what she'll do when she meets Itsuki.

Anyways, I hope it doesn't come to her betraying me.

That would really be a pain. I'll have to use the slave seal to stop her then.

I open Rishia's slave management screen just in case.

"Oi, whoever's hiding in the carriage! Just get out already." (Naofumi)

I should out as I approach it.

... Is there really no one there?

That can't be. From Kiel and the others' movements, there's got to be something here.

"Oi!" (Naofumi)

This isn't getting anywhere.

"Sadina, go cast your magic on that carriage." (Naofumi)

"Are you sure?" (Sadina)

"I gave enough warning. Use your full power on this one." (Naofumi)

"I guess there's no helping it." (Sadina)

Sadina approves my proposal to attack the carriage.

『I who has understood the source of power command. Let the truth once again manifest itself. Rain down thunder on my enemies! Dreifach Thunderbolt!』

Thunder sounds out as a bolt of electricity strikes the carriage.

And a human figure quickly scrambles out just in the nick of time.

"What!?" (Naofumi)

I-it's not Itsuki...

The figure held a cane in his hands and wore a long robe. On his head was a needlessly pointy hat. It was the stereotypical clothing of a mage you would find in a child's story book.

The robe had intricate embroidery stretched over the trim, and the cane gave off an expensive feeling.

I can tell from a glance that the hat was also made of good materials.

But the thing that surprised me the most was the fact that the man was not Itsuki.

He was clearly a mage of some sort. I have the feeling that I've seen him somewhere before, but I can't remember where.

And... he pulls out a dagger glowing with a strange light from the chest area of the robe.

"You bastard... Devil of the Shield! Treating your own subordinates and ours in such an inhumane manner." (Mage)

Who was this guy again?

I'm pretty sure I've seen him... somewhere.

He seems to know me, but... is he the guy Ren mentioned as being Witch's companion?

That means that there's a possibility I may have met him before.

I have some familiarity, but... It's just not coming to me.

"Could it be..." (Rishia)

Rishia's face becomes increasingly pale.

What? Do you know him?

As I thought about it, I remembered.

I'm pretty sure this guy was the mage in Itsuki's party.

The time I spent with that party was short, but I think this guy may have been there.

I do feel a little guilty, but you can't expect me to remember every little stupid detail.

The reason Ren didn't remember clearly was because he went off and did Solo Play on Cal Mira. He probably only saw him for a few minutes.

I shouldn't be criticizing him for it though. Besides Armor, I don't remember any of them.

I mean, they all said pretty much the same things.

To put it bluntly, I don't remember anyone from Itsuki's party.

But... This is quite a miscalculation.

The contagious nature of the brainwashing was one thing, but Itsuki isn't even here.

And the wound Imya's uncle received was not by bow.

Kiel seemed to refer to more than one person when she spoke as well.

Did I think it was Itsuki due to the continued utterance of the word 'Justice'?

No, there's still a possibility he's involved in this.

Okay, I'll capture this guy and make him spill everything.

“Welst-san! Why are you in a place like this!?” (Rishia)

He had a name like that? First I’m hearing of it.

It’s not like I care or anything.

Among the other heroes’ companions, there are very few that I even remember.

And wasn’t Itsuki abandoned by his companions?

I assumed as such when I saw him acting independently, but I guess I should have investigated further.

Ren’s died, and Motoyasu’s ran away.

I see. So Itsuki’s companions survived.

Then, why was Itsuki mentally broken and fighting in Zeltburg?

“Why? That’s what I should be saying. Rishia, to think you would be conspiring with the Devil of the Shield… What could you be thinking?”

Nonono, the ones who drove Rishia out were you people.

You were there—you saw everything.

You can’t just conveniently forget that at this point in time.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 232 – Effort

---

“This is… the village Naofumi-san built from the ground up. I am merely here to assist him. Welst-san, so you survived?” (Rishia)

“I find no joy in having found you like this. So you assisted in establishing this filthy Demi-Human village? That’s an insult. An act of rebellion towards all of the proud people of Melromark! I need to punish you!” (Welst)

The mage person begins chanting, and Kiel’s group’s injuries are healed. Ah, he realized that his own half-assed magic would be useless against us. Kiel and the others slowly pick themselves up off the ground like zombies. … Perhaps because they’re not fully conscious yet, they sway back and forth as they walk.

But if we attack them anymore, I can’t guarantee the slaves’ safety.

“Where is Itsuki? Is this situation his doing?” (Naofumi)

“That fake who pretended to preach justice? Why would I speak with such a demon?” (Welst)

Fake who pretended to preach justice?

So there’s been a shift in the hierarchy of the group.

It seems they didn’t get along as well as I thought.

The possibility that they were working with Itsuki has decreased.

Itsuki may even be completely unrelated.

Though he’s probably the instigator of much of it.

“Please tell me! What happened to everyone and Itsuki-sama?” (Rishia)

“Why must I answer to evil!? Now then, my messengers of justice, rid this world of the source of evil!” (Welst)

In response to the mage’s shout, the slaves begin swarming around me.

“Messengers of justice, we’re going to chant Choral Magic!” (Welst)

「 「 「I who has understood the source…」 」 」 (Slave)

What?!? I feel the magic in the air gathering and solidifying.

I’ve heard a bit about Choral magic from Sadina and the Magic Shopkeeper, but it shouldn’t be something with an output this high.

Perhaps it is because all of their minds are thinking the exact same thing or that their chants are in perfect sync.

I prepare myself for a large impact.

“Please stop it now!” (Rishia)

Rishia appears right in front of the Mage person.

“Wha- So fast!” (Welst)

It’s a speed the past Rishia wouldn’t even have dreamed of.

This mage must have been imagining the old Rishia and underestimating her.

“However, with this, you will become my follower!” (Welst)

The mage faces Rishia and thrusts a glowing dagger at her.

“Your movements are too easy to read!” (Rishia)

Rishia easily dodges the attack and uses her own rapier to knock the dagger into the air.

“Damn… 「I who has…」 ” (Welst)

“ 「Zweit Elemental Blow!」 ” (Rishia)

Elemental magic… I believe it’s a synthesis of Fire, Water Earth and Wind magic. It’s apparently hard to control, and there are few people with the necessary magic attributes to use it.

A rainbow mass of light slams into the mage’s chest and sends him spinning into the ground.

It gives off a feeling like that Ninjutsu involving a sphere of wind. (TL: Rasengan from Naruto)

The Magic Shopkeeper tried hard to get Rishia to learn it. She said that there were very few people with the potential to use it.

But, it was the perfect magic for the Jack of All Trades, Rishia.

“How absurd… Could this be the extent of the Devil’s power?” (Welst)

“My power? No, this power is the accumulation of all of Rishia’s effort.”
(Naofumi)

It isn’t Stats.

Of course, stats always help, but Rishia put all of her being into getting as strong as she is now.

I won’t let you write it off as my power.

The mage who was the center of the Choral magic collapses, and the chant ends in failure.

However, that doesn't mean the slaves' attacks have stopped.

They begin attacking me with physical blows.

"If I use any more magic, Kiel and the others will be in trouble. What should I do?" (Sadina)

"They've gathered in such a small area. I can just capture them now."
(Naofumi)

「Shield Prison!」

I activate Shield Prison with myself as the center.

"Ah... Uu..." (Naofumi)

I'm locked away in the dark cage with the slaves, but...

They're still attacking me!

What's the meaning of this?

That hurt! Don't hit me there! Don't stab me! It's not piercing me, but the curse hurts!

...

And for the next 5 minutes, Kiel's group treated me as a sandbag.

It seems that the Brainwashing Contagion doesn't work on me.

At least that's something to be happy about.

As the cage disappears, I find Atlas and the others watching us.

"Hm? Naofumi-sama, Kiel-san and the others aren't returning to normal?"
(Atlas)

"That seems to be the case. Can you identify the cause?" (Naofumi)

I cast healing magic on myself as I start dodging the attacks.

“The power influencing their actions from the outside was cut off by Naofumi-sama’s cage… but the second the cage disappeared…” (Atlas)

I see… So if it’s just one person like Imya’s uncle, I can save them, but it’s impossible for this large group.

If one of the candles goes out, the other ones will simply relight it.

Something like that.

The sinister powers encircling the brainwashed form a spider-web like structure in between them while in the cage.

That’s why I can’t dispel the brainwashing on a group.

This is truly a pain.

I guess we’ll have to deal with that guy first. He seems to be the cause anyways.

“Our first priority should be to draw information from that man. Can you get these guys off of me?” (Naofumi)

“Yes~… Can I be a little rough?” (Sadina)

“No more lightning.” (Naofumi)

“I know.” (Sadina)

On Sadina’s signal, the aquatic Demi-Human slaves rise from the water.

Now that I think about it, they were living in the ocean with her.

And they begin chanting Choral Magic. And… For some reason, the unaffected slaves begin backing off.

“Naofumi-chan.” (Sadina)

“What?” (Naofumi)

“I’m sorry. Grit your teeth for a second.” (Sadina)

“Wai-” (Naofumi)

「 「 「Choral Magic! Daidal Wave!」 」 」

(TL: This is a pun. Dai is big in Japanese, so they mixed Dai with Tidal Wave)

This is that. What Witch was trying to do while she was testing the limits of the Slave Seal.

The target of the attack isn’t me, but the swarm of slaves surrounding me.

“Gyaaaaaaaaa!” (Naofumi)

Upon the chant’s completion, a Tsunami rises and washes away everything in its path. Including me.

The world spins around me, and I can’t breathe.

As I think about it, Sadina steps into the wave and drags me out.

“It’s a bit like a defensive wall of water, but the duration has been shortened and the impact has been increased to make it an offensive magic.” (Sadina)

“Won’t they die?” (Naofumi)

“No, don’t worry about that. I controlled the output.” (Sadina)

Just as Sadina said, the water is only covering a limited area.

The village’s buildings aren’t damaged.

The effect time was probably around 90 seconds. After which, the large wave of water disappeared as if it had never existed.

The only things left were the bodies of the brainwashed slaves collapsed on the floor.

“Now then, everyone tie them up so they can’t move.” (Sadina)

‘Why have you become the leader,’ is what I wanted to say, but I don’t have the energy to do so.

And then...

“Now spill everything.” (Naofumi)

I speak to the tied-up former comrade of Itsuki.

“Why must I answer to Evil?” (Welst)

“You know... Do you know who you’re directing your words at?” (Naofumi)

I have quite a bit of confidence in my psychological torture skills.

Firo isn’t here, but there are still plenty of Filo Rials here.

“Even if I were to die here, that would just be a sacrifice for the sake of justice.” (Welst)

“Justice... is it?” (Naofumi)

Doesn’t this man have anything else on his mind?

He’s acting like those annoying knights of the Three Heroes’ Church.

But I guess he’s of a similar type.

“Rishia, what sort of person is he?” (Naofumi)

“Um, among the companions in service to Itsuki, he’s been there the longest.” (Rishia)

Ah, so he was there when no one wanted to be my companion.

I no longer feel any mercy.

Though I never really had any from the beginning.

“And I’ve heard that his family was nobility within Melromark.” (Rishia)

“Were they related to your family?” (Naofumi)

“They were in different territories. There are quite a few noble families in Melromark.” (Rishia)

Well that sounds about right. As long as there wasn’t a large-scale event, I guess they would never meet. What’s more, Rishia’s a fallen noble.

He must have used a few of his connections to get himself into the Heroes’ starting party.

Just like the princess mixed in among them.

Does that mean some seditious nobles are backing him?

I turn my gaze to the suspicious dagger the mage held.

I can’t appraise it. It’s quite a suspicious item.

I wonder what it is.

“Rishia.” (Naofumi)

“What is it?” (Rishia)

“Use this to stab him.” (Naofumi)

“Fueee!?” (Rishia)

Rishia reveals a surprised face as I turn her on her former comrade.

However, the mage’s face is even paler.

He’s turning blue.

"Stop! Don't turn that thing on me!" (Welst)

"So you can use it on others, but the reverse is forbidden? You're quite a selfish fellow." (Naofumi)

I should begin threatening him.

This weapon is definitely related to the brainwashing.

Looking at it closely, it has a strange gem embedded into it.

"Atlas, can you feel anything from this?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, from the weapon Naofumi-sama is holding, a sinister aura is being emitted." (Atlas)

"I see." (Naofumi)

There's no doubt.

If this stabs him, he will be corrupted by Justice.

"Well, Rishia? This is a good opportunity to get back at the guy who planted false charges on you and got you kicked out." (Naofumi)

"Fueee....." (Rishia)

Rishia wears a troubled expression and shakes as she approaches the mage one step at a time, dagger in hand.

So she's really going to do it.

"Stop it! Don't get any closer! The hammer of justice will punish all evil!"
(Welst)

"Yeah, that's right. You're evil, and I'm justice. And Rishia is the hammer that'll punish you." (Naofumi)

"Evil should stay silent!" (Welst)

"I'm fine with evil. But you will be the one yielding to such evil. How unfortunate. Where is your justice now?" (Naofumi)

I wonder just how deeply the belief that he is justice is embedded in his head.

Even if we stab him, I'm not sure he'll even change at all...

I guess I should at least dispel the brainwashing on Kiel.

I drink a mana potion and enclose Kiel in my Shield Prison.

"Fue..." (Rishia)

"If you don't want that dagger in your ribs, then spill out your guts."

(Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 233 – Dagger of Justice

---

“...Rishia, weren't we comrades? Just defeat that devil behind you, and together, we can spread Justice throughout the world. I'll put in a word to Mald. I'll convince them to let you be our comrade. So let's come to an agreement here.” (Welst)

Who the hell is Mald?

An important member of the Itsuki party... Is it Armor?

I get the feeling that there were a few more, but I'm not sure they even told me their names.

I mean, they were selfish beyond reason.

“... Where is Itsuki-sama?” (Rishia)

“If you save me now, I'll tell you. So won't you offer your hand here?”
(Welst)

Silence surrounds the two figures.

Eventually...

With the sound of the wind being cut, the ropes tying the mage fall to the ground.

“Good work! Now go die in a ditch with the Evil over there!” (Welst)

The mage picks up his cane and begins chanting magic at Rishia.

“Gah-” (Welst)

And then he suddenly stops moving.

“As I thought, it was a lie. You have deluded yourself into thinking that in the name of justice, everything you do will be forgiven…” (Rishia)

I witnessed it.

Rishia didn't just cut the ropes, but the Magic User's body as well.

Rishia didn't believe from the beginning.

“Justice… Purge the evil…” (Welst)

“I won't let you.” (Rishia)

Rishia picked up the ropes and quickly bound the mage once more.

“Naofumi-san, I apologize. I was unable to draw out any useful information.”
(Rishia)

“No, just bring him to the prison. We'll just torture him until he confesses everything. Nothing has been lost.” (Naofumi)

Anyways, so this dagger is able to brainwash.

And Itsuki was not needed in this plan.

But then, why is everyone repeating the words of Justice?

Eventually, the magic user awoke in the prison, and I once again began the interrogation.

“W-what!? I am…” (Welst)

“Now then, as I said before, I'll have you spill everything.” (Naofumi)

“Ku…” (Welst)

This man sure is stubborn.

But I have plenty of ways to make him talk. And there are plenty of things I want to experiment.

"Okay, now I'll have you drink this water." (Naofumi)

"W-what are you trying to do!?" (Welst)

From that reaction, it seems he's not the one who ordered the poisoning of the well... Or was he just not told?

If he plainly refused, then that would clarify it.

"Just drink it." (Naofumi)

"Guha! Sto-" (Welst)

I order the slaves to make him drink it forcefully.

"Gaba... uguuuuuuu... hah... hah..." (Welst)

He violently grasps at his own throat. His eyes are bloodshot.

"If you speak, it'll be easier for you." (Naofumi)

I take out an antidote and hold it at the tip of his nose.

You can use poison like this as well.

I don't know who set the poison, but he did me a favor.

"Hey, hey, messenger of justice. If you don't confess soon, you'll die."
(Naofumi)

"Naofumi-chan, you look like you're having fun." (Sadina)

"I'll bet it's quite a refreshing smile. I can tell from his voice." (Atlas)

The peanut gallery is getting loud.

Though if Raphtalia was here, she would get mad at me.

“I won’t help you until you confess… If I’m able to capture all of your comrades, the nobles should retreat.” (Rishia)

“Ugu… I’ll speak… I’ll speak, so…” (Welst)

Ah, so he is afraid of death.

And he seems to be in a bit of pain.

“Then speak. Based on the contents, I may free you. If you lie, you’ll be drinking more poison.” (Naofumi)

And so, we drew out information from the mage-like person.

Backing him was this country’s revolutionary faction, and he confirmed that Witch was with them.

Mald was their leader, and though he was their comrade, the mage didn’t know too much about him.

“Then tell me. What happened during the Spirit Turtle incident?” (Naofumi)

I could see the whites of the mage’s eyes, so I fed him the antidote.

“I think you already understand, but if you stay silent, then you’ll be drinking poison again.” (Naofumi)

“Ku…” (Welst)

The mention of poison makes the mage cough. He glares at me as if I were a piece of garbage.

And then he begins speaking,

Itsuki's group arrived before Ren and Motoyasu's. Half a day faster at that. And he destroyed one of the statues just like the others. But nothing happened, and the group was captured by the soldiers of the country.

Armor pushed all of the blame onto Itsuki. Armor shouted at him, telling him that he was no hero of justice.

With their trust broken, the group was thrown into jail. They were set to have an audience with the king... but the Spirit Turtle revived, and Itsuki was forced to challenge it.

But without lifting a finger... His comrades came to a silent agreement. They got together behind Itsuki's back. They ran away, leaving him as a sacrifice to the Turtle.

Later, Armor declared that Justice without power was no Justice. Since Itsuki was unable to stop the Spirit Turtle, he was no justice.

And that was the story, apparently.

Most of the story was the mage's biased opinion, so I omitted it.

But that's quite something. I think I've heard those words in my world as well.

I see, so his comrades told him that he was no justice. They left him behind to give themselves time to escape. I guess that was enough to break him. His current state was brought about by him denying the reality he was facing.

And, it seems that Raphtalia's experience on Cal Mira was no coincidence. His party had long since noticed his habit of lying and holding back.

To satisfy his sense of justice, he went off to challenge the Spirit Turtle, and his comrades had had enough.

"Next is this." (Naofumi)

I take out the dagger.

I have a pretty good idea already, but just to make sure.

"What is this?" (Naofumi)

"..." (Welst)

"Will you let your silence destroy you?" (Naofumi)

"I got it from the people supporting Princess Malty." (Welst)

Malty? Who the hell is that?

Ah, it's Witch.

That name should have been forbidden.

But, I guess it's natural for the revolutionary faction to call her as such.

I guess I'll ignore it for now. The dagger is more important.

It seems that all he knew was that anyone slashed by the dagger would awaken to the concept of justice.

This is quite a peculiar item.

It's not... A legendary artifact, or something, right?

"Atlas, can you sense anything?" (Naofumi)

"Let's see... Aside from its ominous Aura, there seems to be a strange power coming from the center." (Atlas)

Is it from the strange jewel?

Its design looks a little familiar.

Witch... so she really was involved in this case.

But she isn't here.

Is she in the Castle Town?

It'll probably be dangerous if I don't come to their aid soon.

I thought everything would be solved when I defeat Itsuki, but the situation is beyond my expectations.

Witch is backed by the Revolutionary faction and probably the Three Heroes Church, and the poisoning of the water supply was conducted by one of these parties.

Three Heroes Church... I recall the weapon the pope held.

This is just a hypothesis, but...

Could this be the same? A replica of a weapon wielded by a Hero? Or perhaps an item that merely replicates its effect?

"N...niichan" (Kiel)

I had previously dispelled Kiel's brainwashing with my Shield Prison. She unsteadily walks towards me with a hand on her shoulder.

I had left her outside of the prison.

It's been a while since I started the interrogation, so I guess she came to her senses.

"Oh, loin-clothed dog. How do you feel?" (Naofumi)

"There's no way I could feel good. What the hell happened, Niichan?" (Kiel)

"You were brainwashed. You acted as if I were some sort of grand villain."
(Naofumi)

"Haha. Niichan can't be that great of a person. You're minion class at best."

(Kiel)

“What was that!?” (Naofumi)

Well, there are some things I want to say, but it seems that the brainwashing has been dispelled magnificently.

Though, there’s still a possibility that she’s just acting.

“Do you remember what happened while you were brainwashed?”

(Naofumi)

“Not really. But, I do remember being taken to a strange cave somewhere.”

(Kiel)

“Cave?” (Naofumi)

“Yeah, it seemed like everyone was gathered there… I had the feeling that someone told me to go there… I had a vague idea that a trustable person like Niichan was there for some reason.” (Kiel)

So the main justice is inside of that cave?

Wait.

If the dagger was a Replica, then where’s the original?

How was it even produced in the first place?

The infectious attribute on it was exceptionally high.

In Kiel and the others’ case, they had to take quite a few hits before they became infected.

But, it seems this dagger only has to pierce you once.

That means…

Witch is directly reporting to the Three Heroes Church and is receiving funds from the nobles.

That's why their cooperation is all over the place.

The sleeping drug was from the nobles, but the revolutionaries themselves didn't want to use Demi-Humans so they switched it to poison.

This sort of ad-libbing... Perhaps they'll try to masquerade as one of my slaves next.

Anyways, I'll have to seal off this Dagger's ability for now.

Based on all of this justice, this replica may have been based on Itsuki.

I heard that they were researching into the field of making replicas. If I assume they had some success in it, then this may have been the result.

The situation is much worse than I thought.

I don't think I could have expected such a situation even in my dreams.

"Do you know where the cave is?" (Naofumi)

I can probably find out with some more interrogations, but Kiel may know already.

"I think I'll be able to go there by scent." (Kiel)

"Good! Then let's go slaughter... no I should go to the neighboring village and check the damages." (Naofumi)

"Understood!" (Kiel)

And so, we left the tied up, brainwashed slaves in the hands of the free slaves and set off for the neighboring village.

Of course, we took the magic user with us just in case.

If he tries to attack us again, he'll get what's coming to him.

“...” (Rishia)

Rishia seems to be lost in thought.

“Are you pondering over whether Itsuki is the culprit or not?” (Naofumi)

“... Yes.” (Rishia)

“For now, we can assume it’s only his comrades. This may be wishful thinking, but Itsuki may be innocent.” (Naofumi)

“I understand. For now, I’ll just fight as Naofumi-san orders.” (Rishia)

I wonder. Will she say the same if Itsuki steps onto the battlefield?

I think that Itsuki is definitely involved in this riot in one way or another.

We need to be prepared for when he chooses to show himself.

But, for now, I’m worried about what became of the village I left to Ren and Firo.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 234 – Mob Mentality

---

As I approach the city, I could see fires blazing even from afar. The people were not evacuating. They were taking refuge in the mansion Melty was using as her residence on the outskirts of the village. The Justice Zombies were attacking while shouting out negative propaganda about me and the country.

These brainwashed people would usually be difficult to distinguish at a glance.

However, if they took a sufficient amount of damage, and the host's consciousness faded, then the bodies would continue to walk around like typical zombies without wills.

Their behavior is also a problem.

The situation has devolved as such: The zombies would attempt to climb the stone walls surrounding the mansion, while the people inside would knock them down with wind magic or physical force.

And within the fire, Ren and Firo were taking the initiative, going around and knocking out the insurgents.

The others would then use rope to tie them up.

"Are you alright!?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, Master~! Well, you see..." (Firo)

"Naofumi, how did your side go? Did you find Itsuki?" (Ren)

"No." (Naofumi)

I summarize the events of the village while I step in front to act as the shield I am.

These brainwashed people should have a sense of priority instilled within them.

They should be prioritizing killing me or Melty.

"For the sake of Justice, Perish!" (Merchant)

A merchant who had been laughing and conversing with me just yesterday thrusts a dagger at me.

And without a word, I activated Erst Strike Shield and Change Shield, creating a combo that inflicted Paralysis.

"What about the people you're supposed to be protecting?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, this kid says that matter is fine." (Ren)

"Well, you see. I somehow know." (Firo)

I see, so Firo can sense it with her feral instincts.

She can sense the actions of the other Filo Rials and their support.

"And this is that dagger?" (Ren)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

I take out the dagger and present it to Ren.

Of course, in order for him to analyze it.

Trying to insert it into my shield seems dangerous, so I'll have Ren make a Copy of it.

It's a dangerous item, but if he makes it his own... It might be fine.

"Try holding it for a second." (Naofumi)

"Okay." (Ren)

Ren grasps the hilt of the dagger, and his sword shines for a moment.

“Curse Series… The Dagger of Mob Mentality?” (Ren)

So it comes down to that.

And wait, it’s a Curse Series?

There’s more than the 7 Deadly Sins?

I see, so this dagger makes one’s mind a single part of a whole and prevents an individual from making decisions on their own.

“Wait a second… Let me check it for more details.” (Ren)

Ren opens his status screen and reads through it.

“I apologize, I don’t really know what this is supposed to mean.” (Ren)

He answers as he knocks down several zombies with his sword.

“Does it have any strange effects?”

“Equipment Bonus… Release by Brainwashing; Mutual Understanding;
Don’t worry, I understand you.”

… That’s seriously suspicious.

Ren probably thinks so as well. He has a complicated expression.

“This is Release? Mutual Understanding? Can you even call that understanding?” (Ren)

“Does it mean your troubles will fade away?” (Naofumi)

So it stains you with the ideology of another…

Anyone who objects to that psychology is an enemy, and if you infect them, they'll be comrades once more.

This isn't a game...

This is quite a disgusting dagger.

"Where is Eclair-san?"

Rishia looks around and asks Ren.

Eclair... Is that Female Knight?

She's probably being useful around now.

I mean, the girl knows nothing but how to fight.

"Ah, she is..." (Ren)

Ren's face darkens.

And he points to the mansion.

"Is she defending from the mansion?" (Rishia)

"It seems that she received quite a shock upon seeing the strange actions and speech of the enemy." (Ren)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"How can I get them to understand me? The Justice I seek is nothing like this. She couldn't raise her hands against her former comrades." (Ren)

Ah, Female Knight had a strong sense of justice.

If the enemy takes on the name of Justice and spouts incomprehensible nonsense, I guess she would get mad.

The citizens she vowed to protect were fighting her.

Though they were being controlled by others, they still maintained some of their selves. It would be impossible to attack at full power.

They may even pretend to be allies.

This possibility could lead to suspicion and infighting.

This really is an annoying ability.

“‘A world without Slavery or Discrimination. An equal world,’ she said as the amount of turned allies around her increased. It must have been tough.”

(Ren)

Well, she does have a point.

In this country’s eyes, it is impossible for humans and Demi-Humans to live side by side. If a Demi-Human is officially treated as an equal, then people accuse the government of giving them preferential treatment.

One side says that I’m doing the brainwashing, while they spread their argument through brainwashing. There’s no end to it.

This village had no one who could undo the brainwashing, so there’s no helping it.

Equal? No Discrimination? Those are some expressions that make me sick to my stomach.

Even in my ‘equal’ world, there’s been no one who’s been able to practice true equality.

Superiority exists in all worlds.

When someone is born, he’s already being judged. Equality is a laughable concept.

(TL Note: Yoraikun does not endorse any views offered by our protagonist. )

The quest to make an impartial, equal world without war is merely a trigger to unleash more war.

It's like when she beat up and performed minorly tortured Ren in order to teach him a lesson.

Anyways, what does the word Equality even mean?

The meaning I know has all humans treated equally without discrimination or favorable treatment.

It's unattainable and merely something to be strived for.

But in a world with Slavery as a set system, if such things are preached, no one will lend their ears.

My world only got rid of slavery recently.

If anyone actually supported such a cause, they would have ulterior motives.

And the reason slavery became extinct in my world was largely due to the changing times; slaves were no longer needed. (TL: He's talking about Japan here)

This world is still in need of some form of labor.

To try and preach such a concept that's realistically impossible, I can only see her as a child.

That's a concept that the Three Heroes Church and the Revolutionary faction would simply use to their advantage.

"I'll put lecturing Female Knight off to a later date. Do you think we'll be able to manage here?" (Naofumi)

"The enemy numbers are too great. At this rate, we can tie all of them up, but it will take too long." (Ren)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

Even if the people I brought along also fight, it will still take a long time.

“Naofumi-cha~n.” (Sadina)

… Ah, right. Sadina was with us.

“Hey… Sadina. Do you have a way to take out the overflowing mass of brainwashed children and put out the fire all at once?” (Naofumi)

“Leave it to me! Everyone!” (Sadina)

Sadina began swinging her harpoon like a conductor’s baton.

Perhaps because she brought along more people this time, I can feel the magic in the air condensing to greater levels than before. It’s already a large scale magic formation.

Ah, this person is comparable to Firo in useful abilities.

Hm? Firo?

“Firo, mobilize the other Filo Rials to cast Choral Magic as well!” (Naofumi)

“Got it~! N… Nn…” (Firo)

Firo cleared her throat and began singing.

And in response to that, the other Filo Rials in the area began chirping.

“Naofumi-chan, go evacuate the children who aren’t brainwashed.”

(Sadina)

“Understood.” (Naofumi)

By my orders, I evacuated everyone who was still sane.

I won’t let the situation devolve to the level it was before.

“Wait!”

“Submit to the will of justice!”

“Devil of the Shield!”

All the brainwashed people say the same things.

“Ren!” (Naofumi)

“Leave it to me! 「Hundred Sword!」 ” (Ren)

The pursuing slaves are blocked by countless strikes from Ren’s area of effect skill.

Heroes with offensive capabilities sure are useful.

「 「 「Tidal Wave!」 」 」

「 「 「Sweet Song!」 」 」

Upon Sadina’s magic, a large wave washes away the Justice Zombies in front of the mansion, and upon hearing Firo’s song, other Zombies turn white-eyed and fall down on the spot.

It’s probably a magic with a sleep effect.

It seems that Firo’s singing ability has reached magical levels.

“I guess that we succeeded in the suppression for now.” (Naofumi)

“No, not yet.” (Ren)

Ren points deeper into the city.

And from that direction, Brainwashed Zombies continue to pour in, one after the other.

Where the hell did these people come from anyways!?

They must have grown in number from the inhabitants of this village.

“... The person leading all of them probably isn’t here.” (Naofumi)

In a situation like this, the person leading the charge, like the Magic User in my village, probably retreated already.

“No, there’s one suspicious place.” (Ren)

Ren signals towards the village plaza.

Hm? For some reason, I see a Gaelion-like object breathing fire all over the place.

On its back is someone who looks like Taniko.

“Naofumi, there was a church built behind there, right?” (Ren)

“Yeah.” (Naofumi)

“The Brainwashed army’s built up their defenses there. We can almost break through. Won’t you come with us?” (Ren)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

Itsuki may be there. Maybe...

“We’re going over to the church. You guys should continue to bind the defeated enemies. Find a way to contain them all.” (Naofumi)

“Understood, Naofumi-chan.” (Sadina)

Yeah, it’s best to leave the defenses to her.

It would be bad if we thinned our forces enough for them to break through.

And the constant battle has fatigued both sides.

Just raising one's level doesn't change sustained injury, fatigue, or hunger.

"Then Firo and the Filo Rials will go over to where Gaelion is fighting!"

(Naofumi)

"Eh?... I have to go to Gaelion?" (Firo)

Firo states her opinion.

It seems the other Filo Rials agree.

"Just shut up and go." (Naofumi)

"Oka~y..." (Firo)

"Is Melty alright?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah. Melty-chan is strong, so she's fine." (Firo)

"I see. Well, she was strong enough to blow away my house." (Naofumi)

A militaristic princess... It's a common theme in literature, but it makes me see just how much Melty has changed.

Even though I'm the cause.

But that doesn't matter for now. I just need to find a way into the church.

I get on Firo's back and gallantly rush onto the battlefield.

Ren is with us.

On the way, we encounter attacks from brainwashed people, but they are no match for Firo's speed.

My place's Filo Rials sure are high class.

Though, besides Firo's first disciple, Motoyasu raised them all.

Is he going to become the Filo Rial Master?

What would I do if he actually becomes one...

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 235 – Remnants

---

“KYUA!” (Gaelion)

Aboard Firo, we assault the heavily fortified church.

People fly left and right in the face of Firo’s charge.

… They’re fine, right? I don’t think they’ll die from something like this.

I somehow feel invincible right now.

And we reach the area where Gaelion was fighting.

Firo and Gaelion lock eyes and begin intimidating one another.

They’ll still fight in a situation like this?

They stare at each other, fighting with their gazes for a while. Suddenly,

Gaelion lets out a laugh.

“Mu-!” (Firo)

“This isn’t the time for that! By the way, what is supposed to be here?”

(Naofumi)

I pose the question to Rishia and Atlas, who are riding the same Filo Rial.

“A sinister aura is intertwined with the flow of energy here. I’m not exactly sure.” (Atlas)

“Fumu.” (Naofumi)

It would be nice if we finally found Itsuki, but that’s just wishful thinking.

We step over the Church’s threshold.

Inside are several people I have never seen before, busy at work tampering with the arrangement of the building

They are mainly scratching out the shield mark on the four saint symbol and destroying any shield-related objects of worship. (TL: The four saint symbol is the border of my header)

"Good job coming all the way here." (???)

A slightly familiar face steps forward and boldly greets me.

Who is this again?

There are too many people who I've seen before but can never remember. It's quite troubling.

All of these people are wearing work clothes.

They're probably not the people who are supposed to be managing the church.

I have way too many enemies to remember them all.

"To the Devil of the Shield, let me inflict God's Judgment." (???)

"... Ah, so it's like that." (Naofumi)

So the people who infiltrated the temple and began to desecrate it were the remnants of the Three Hero Church.

I think I saw some of these people when I tried to buy holy water and they tried to sell me low quality ones.

And, I remember the person in front of me.

It's the Sister who drove us away from the Dragon Hourglass.

"So this is where the rebels went." (Naofumi)

"No matter what the Devil says, the religion of Melromark is the Three Hero Church. We will follow the late pope's wishes and govern the world."

(Sister)

Govern... the world.

It's a psychology that runs rampant in cults.

A united world would just be unnerving.

"And... You've fallen into our trap, Devil of the Shield!" (Sister)

A large magic circle lights up on the floor beneath my feet.

And at that moment, my body suddenly feels several times heavier.

"Ku..."

Ren, Rishia and the rest groan.

"Kyuaa!?" (Gaelion)

Gaelion covers Taniko with his wings as if to protect her. He readies himself to attack.

"What did you do?" (Naofumi)

"It would be troublesome if you moved, so we set up some magic to restrain you." (Sister)

Hmm... So this magic circle can prevent movement.

"Hm? It's heavy?" (Firo)

Firo slowly lifts her feet and begins walking towards the Three Hero Church remnants.

I guess they're witnessing the overwhelming difference in power.

Firo received my stat corrections from birth, so I guess a normal level of restraint won't hold her.

“Raise the output!” (Sister)

The magic circle begins to glow brighter, and Ren slams onto the ground.
Where are they supplying the power from? I can’t tell…

“Naofumi-sama, what should we do?” (Atlas)

… I wonder why Atlas is still fine.

She’s standing next to Firo as if nothing happened to her.

I’m also able to handle it to some extent with my stats.

… If I think about it, isn’t my situation still really advantageous right now?
As I thought that, brainwashed slaves begin pouring into the church.
It seems things just won’t go my way today.

“Those who have awoken to our faith. Even if they be stupid, vulgar Demi-Humans, if they are willing to lay down their lives for us, then perhaps God will forgive them in heaven. Now, fight to repent for your existence!”

(Sister)

That was a really dubious speech.

I really want to retort something now.

Why am I only ever surrounded by idiots?

Why are they sending them to fight with the assumption that they’ll die?
Maybe it’s because they’re people of the Devil’s village.

… And what does she mean by ‘perhaps’? She really left it open ended.

But, this is kinda bad. Rishia might be able to move, but Ren and the Filo Rials are immobile.

I think Gaelion and Taniko are fine as well.

Besides Ren, it seems that everyone above Class-Up level is alright.

“Kyua!” (Gaelion)

Gaelion lashes his tail out at the approaching slaves’ faces, but the magic circle makes his movement too slow.

Ah… It seems that this magic is only affecting us.

What should I do? With Firo’s help, these guys won’t be a problem.

But if we leave Ren and the others behind, they’ll be in danger.

I’ll have to fight anyways, but I get the feeling there’s a better strategy here.

And then, I suddenly remember something.

I put my hand on the shield and change its form.

The shield I select is the Spirit Turtle Carapace Shield.

I’ve strengthened it to some extent.

It’s not as strong as the Soul Eater Shield, but its defense is considerable.

And its Equipment Bonus is Gravity Field.

“Oh? My body is lighter?” (Firo)

“Yeah, a little bit.” (Ren)

Everyone affected by the magic begins to rise up.

Right, the Gravity Field ability allows me to manipulate Gravitational force to some extent. This restraint magic simply made one’s body heavier. If they used something like magical rope to bind us, then we would be in trouble.

Imagining the feeling of becoming lighter, I deployed a field.

Of course, it's an ability I've tested before by myself.

Its weakness is that once one becomes lighter, they are unable to put the same amount of force into their attacks.

Contrarily, by increasing gravity, it becomes harder to move, but you can put more force into your attacks.

Another disadvantage is that it can't differentiate between friend and foe.

An interesting use is that if an enemy is sent flying, it can increase their impact, and if you are sent flying, it can decrease yours.

There's no question why this was such a difficult material for the Old Man to make a weapon out of.

"This should let you move a little. Please endure it until we can dispel this trap." (Naofumi)

"Ah, like this, I can fight." (Ren)

"I'll also try hard." (Atlas)

"Yes." (Rishia)

Rishia and Atlas nod

"Let's go!" (Rishia)

Rishia throws her knife, and it rapidly blocks the escape of the Sister who deployed the trap.

As I thought. She's moving well under these conditions. Atlas follows her lead and thrusts at the brainwashed slaves.

"Ugu-" (Slave)

The slaves that take on Atlas's strike cry out.

"I'll have you sleep for a bit." (Atlas)

"I apologize! 「Meteor Sword」!"

Ren apologizes as he uses Meteor Sword to send Shockwaves at the Slaves and Remnants.

"What are you doing!? Increase the radius and output further!" (Sister)

As the enemy formation is thrown into disarray, some of us are able to step out of the circle.

I sit on Firo's back as I direct the battle.

Well, the difference in power is quite evident. They're all pretty much small fries.

The representative, annoying Sister continues to scream out orders.

"Rain down your spells on the Demon!" (Sister)

Finally!

I've been waiting for this.

I bring out the Spirit Turtle Heart Shield.

Equipment Bonus: C Magic Snatch, C Gravity Shot, Tenacity Enhancement.

C is short for counter. I need to be attacked to use them.

I'll finally be able to test out Magic Snatch and Gravity Shot.

The Three Hero Church faces me and begins to cast Choral Magic.

「Choral Magic! Lightning Judgement!」

An electrified mass of magical energy in the shape of a cross flies towards me and Firo.

I lift up my shield and take it head on.

“Naofumi!?” (Ren)

“Naofumi-sama?” (Atlas)

“Naofumi-san!” (Rishia)

I feel some static coursing around my body, but I don’t feel any pain.

“Waaaaaah… Firo’s feathers are standing on end, master!” (Firo)

The static electricity seems to have made Firo ecstatic. Ignoring her, I look at the enemy. (TL:… Are those Crickets I hear?)

I even needed to protect the brainwashed slaves from the large scale magic assault.

Aren’t they supposed to be allies now? These guys are scum as always.

“There’s no problems.” (Naofumi)

“As expected of Naofumi-sama!” (Atlas)

“Amazing…” (Taniko)

“Yes.” (Rishia)

“KYUA!” (Gaelion)

Taniko and Gaelion also chime in as they prepare their magic.

Both of them specialize in the same magic system, so they can do joint spells.

『I order of thee to guide Gaelion’s power, and to request for it to materialize. Earth Pulse, give me power.』 (Taniko)

『KyuaKyuaKyua!』 (Gaelion)

「High Fire Blaze!」 (Taniko)

As Taniko finishes the chant, a large ball of fire appears from Gaelion's mouth and flies towards the Remnants of the Three Hero Church.

Oh, it's got quite a bit of power to it. It also gives off a joint attack-like vibe, which is cool.

Not that I really care or anything...

Anyways, while Gaelion and Taniko were busy showing off, I had just been hit with Choral Magic.

My shield shines blue, and the Counter Effect begins to activate.

And from the shield, several Blue and White balls fly back out at the casters.

"Wha-"

It must have been an unexpected attack. Quite a few people are unable to avoid it.

Well, the balls are quite fast. Besides people who have classed-up and people that are hiding special powers, most will find them difficult to dodge.

"W-what!? Nothing's happening isn't it? Devil of the Shield, don't surprise us like that!" (Sister)

"The surprise comes later." (Naofumi)

I give a wide smile.

These people have no idea just what sort of attack they just took.

"Gu... My body is!?" (Sister) <ED: Surprise Muther F'ker>

All of a sudden, she puts her hand on the floor. She desperately struggles to lift herself, but it's not working.

Oh? The restraint circle is fading. I guess the casters lost their concentration.

And the blue and white lights leave their targets and return to me.

I check my status and find that my Mana has recovered.

Right, Magic Snatch and Gravity Shot fulfilled their duties.

These two will be a useful counters against mages.

Magic Snatch, as its name suggests, steals magic from its target. Gravity Shot immobilizes them with Gravity Magic while Magic Snatch does its work. But, as expected, it doesn't do any damage.

"Attack!" (Naofumi)

On my orders, my comrades nod.

"Okay!" (Atlas)

"Leave it to me!" (Ren)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

The Three Hero Church remnants use the brainwashed people as shields to retreat further into the church, and we eventually lose sight of them.

Of course, we tried to pursue, but there were too many enemies.

"Damn... Running is all they're good at." (Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 236 – The Demon Lord of the Shield

---

The shouts of justice from the brainwashed slaves fill the air, and I can no longer hear anything else.

I am getting the urge to burn them all with my Wrath, but I can't really be inflicting damage on these people.

I'll have to pay them compensation when all of this is resolved, and if they ask for medical fees... Should I just play dumb?

"Firo." (Naofumi)

"What~?" (Firo)

"Throw them off! With enough force to kill!" (Naofumi)

"They're people Firo knows, so no!" (Firo)

Ku... she's fine with leaving them on the brink of death, but she won't kill.

It may be because she spends much more time in this town than me.

Her memory isn't to be underestimated, so she can probably recognize the villagers.

But this swarm is making it hard to proceed.

"Naofumi sometimes makes some dark jokes, doesn't he?" (Ren)

"Everyone usually understands when he does." (Rishia)

"Right, we all know of Naofumi-sama's kindness." (Atlas)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

"No idea what you're talking about. I just want to end this and go home."
(Taniko)

The one who wanted to return was Taniko. She seemed to be fed up.

I don't know what sort of misunderstanding everyone was making, but I was pretty serious there.

But correcting them would be a pain.

Fighting is also getting to be a pain, so I gather my comrades into a single area and deploy a magically strengthened Meteor Shield.

It seems that if I charge it with magic, I can increase its range.

I expand it to a radius of 5 meters.

With the barrier deployed, we drive all the enemies out of it.

Ren and Co. protect the barrier while we walk forward. But this is also a pain.

The slaves keep on breaching my defenses.

When that happens, the infiltrator gets knocked out and tied up.

It's a common setting in Zombie franchises, but having to deal with it in a fantasy setting is annoying.

If the culprit was a vampire or something, then I might look forward to fighting them, but this setting isn't fun at all.

And we reach and open a large door in the depths of the church.

Inside is...

The room looks quite important. It has multiple platforms of raising elevation.

In the center is a ceremonial alter, or perhaps I should call it a ritual alter.

I think that I remember being told that that point had geographic significance or something.

It seems we've fallen into a trap once more. The remaining remnants of the church and Itsuki's former companion, Armor, are sitting on a high place, looking down on us.

"So you finally arrived, Devil of the Shield. I was getting tired of waiting."

(Armor)

"... Does the fact that you're here mean that Witch is here too?" (Naofumi)

"Are you referring to our comrade, Princess Maltz? Unfortunately, she is not present." (Armor)

"Damn! By the way, am I right in assuming that you're the primary culprit in inciting this ruckus?" (Naofumi)

"Ruckus? You call our crusade in the name of Justice a simple Ruckus!?" (Armor)

"Crusade? You sure love to joke, you terrorist." (Naofumi)

I laugh as I provoke him.

Armor's face dyes red as he visibly gets increasingly angry.

It's because this guy has a needless amount of pride.

It'll be easier to make him self-destruct with words.

"What was that!?" (Armor)

"Could it be that you're a believer of the Three Hero Church sect? That heretical one?" (Naofumi)

"No, the Three Hero Church sympathizes with our Justice. They are merely our kindred souls." (Armor)

"Is that so." (Naofumi)

As always, he's carrying a self-centered sense of Justice.

This Armor always had a stuck up attitude. Perhaps that came from his status as a noble.

Even so, he answered quite naturally.

I guess using his compatriots to provoke him won't work.

“And, like, did I even do anything to make you mad at me?” (Naofumi)

Though the Three Hero Church has its own reasons, I don’t remember offending Armor or the rest of the Itsuki Party to that extent.

I’m sure that they do dislike me, but only to the extent where cooperation would be impossible.

I didn’t even interact with them much.

We were only in the same party for an hour or two on Cal Mira.

“Don’t play dumb. You use your power of brainwashing to obstruct our Justice!” (Armor)

… The hell?

Um… You’ve lost me, mate.

Let’s put aside the fact that they’re the ones brainwashing for now.

What exactly is his justice supposed to be doing?

“Let me ask for argument’s sake. What is your Justice?” (Naofumi)

He probably won’t say anything good.

“Our Justice is one where evil does not exist. It is to make a peaceful world based on our glorious ideals. And as such, we must Judge all evil with our power!” (Armor)

Totally self-righteous.

The thing that shocks me the most is that people with such a dictatorial mindset actually exist in this world.

Isn’t there something they find strange about calling themselves Justice in the first place?

I guess the result of Itsuki’s loss is starting to take root in them.

“And? What exactly did I do to get in your way?” (Naofumi)

“You… No, the Fake Heroes caused our party’s prestige to drop, and caused us to be pursued by the country. You all destroyed our status! Atone for your sins!” (Armor)

… So because of Itsuki’s loss, their prestige from being of a Hero’s party fell, and they were unable to reform the world and convince others to follow them as they pleased. And all fault lied with the Four Heroes?

What’s more, the fact that my peddling within Melromark helped raise the morale of the populace and was looked on as an act of good simply pissed them off further.

Oh, I think I’ve received requests from villages to send peddling carts over. Because I made sure to regulate the pricing, I didn’t really pay attention to the orders themselves.

Because of my work, they were unable to gain ground, so they came to resent me.

Please just get over it. These people with broken thought processes are gathering against me.

I’m getting the urge to punch them into silence. And that will take a while with my attack.

“Devil of the Shield… No, Demon Lord of the Shield! We, the new Heroes, will defeat you!” (Armor)

With a flash, he takes a familiar sword out of his scabbard and takes the shield off of his back. He gets into a battle position.

So I’ve finally surpassed the stage of Devil, and evolved into the Demon

Lord.

For a Hero's enemy, a Demon Lord is standard fare, but no matter how I look at it, this situation is a bit off.

And why does he get to be the New Hero?

Just proclaiming it yourself doesn't make it so.

If I lose here, will all the fault of this incident fall to me?

Now that I think about it, there's no need for them to use my slaves in their rebellion.

They could simply have them rampage and then kill them in the name of Justice to earn fame.

Something similar will probably happen here as well.

They'll kill all the Demi-Humans and sweet talk the Humans into silence and eventually abandon them.

Just how self-righteous of an organization are you making here?

"Evil, is it... Naofumi, what should we do?" (Ren)

"Justice and Evil are idiotic concepts. The reason we were summoned was to prevent as many casualties as possible from the wave. We can't really choose the means." (Naofumi)

"That sounds like something you would say. No, now I think you're actually in the right. Next is... Ah, the person who was with Witch was that person."
(Ren)

Ren holds out his sword and glares at Armor.

Ah, so I was right.

Why couldn't he remember until now anyways?

Well, the Ren back them thought Solo Play was cool, so he didn't put anyone besides his own comrades to memory.

Not that I should be talking, but I bet he never looked at their faces more than once.

"Someone who would do things like this, even if they were deluded, even if they were seen as Heroes, will never be Justice." (Ren)

"Yes, I think so as well!" (Rishia)

Rishia seems motivated.

For her to give such a definite response with her former comrade, Armor, as the enemy... Rishia sure has changed.

She would have trembled before him if it was the Rishia I first picked up.

"What course of action should we take, Naofumi-sama?" (Atlas)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

"Should we just take them out?" (Taniko)

Atlas, Gaelion, and Taniko are also quite motivated.

"Mu... Is the one standing there Rishia? As I thought, you were a filthy traitor!" (Armor)

"What do you mean traitor? You were the ones who drove her out."
(Naofumi)

"...I ... can't accept anyone who would lead things such as this!" (Rishia)

Rishia boldly declares at Armor.

Did she just nonchalantly ignore me?

Don't just treat me as a background character. I'll smack you.

“There’s no way this is Justice!” (Rishia)

Ah, and the thing that caught my attention, armor’s sword and shield…

I remember the sword quite clearly.

It’s the one I saw at the Zeltburg auction, the Spirit Turtle Sword.

It was an item so expensive, I would never dream of holding it. Why does Armor have it?

He probably used the influence of the nobles backing him.

Or perhaps it was stolen.

Steal… Now that I think about it, there are plenty of Heroes who break into houses and look through the drawers and chests.

This is magnificent. He’s definitely a Hero.

But that doesn’t really matter. It’s not like that sword is mine.

But that Shield that looks like the counterpart of the sword.

Could that be…

“Oy! Is that Shield stolen goods?” (Naofumi)

“Surely you jest. I merely purified a wicked item manufactured by the Demon King.” (Armor)

Oy, that’s the Shield the Old Man and Imya’s uncle worked hard to make.

The Shield made just for me.

I won’t forgive this! It’s time for judgment!

What do you mean purify, you thieves!?

“That Shield is mine!” (Naofumi)

If it's used carelessly gets scratched, its value will drop.

"That Armor is my prey. You guys go deal with the rest. There's no need to keep them alive, so fight with all your strength, but don't kill the brainwashed ones." (Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 237 – Spirit Turtle Armour

---

I'm reaching my limit here.

I don't plan on letting these people live. My stress has reached its peak.

"Understood! But... They're Itsuki's former comrades, right? Will you be alright?" (Ren)

"They're no one's comrades right now. They're the scum of this country... no, of this world. We need to deal with them as soon as possible. There's no merit in leaving the Three Hero Church alive either." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Ren)

With Ren's reply, the other members run forward.

I get off Firo and begin walking towards Armor.

I left Firo to deal with the others. If I let anyone else fight this one, then the shield I've been waiting so long for would get damaged.

"Die!" (Armor)

Assured of his victory, Armor swings down the Spirit Turtle Sword at me with all his might.

It seems that the remnants of the Three Hero Church are continuously casting support magic on him as well.

They don't have any time to discuss the matter. They're unorganized 'til the end.

However... I use one hand to catch the blade just before it reaches me. Sparks fly everywhere as the metal collides.

"Gunu!? He stopped it unarmed!? What is this farce!?" (Armor)

Armor's expression is colored with surprise.

I apply pressure to my hand as Armor puts all of his weight into withdrawing the blade. Did he think that someone who never received any growth corrections would be able to defeat a fully-strengthened Hero? I've never seen his stats, but the only thing I can compare him to is the Rishia of the past.

The support magic doesn't seem to be helping much.

"Nuo! Unhand me, Demon King! Don't grace me with your foul presence, you fiend!" (Armor)

(TL: This is more of a literal translation. If you didn't get it, he's saying he doesn't want to be near him.)

Even though he was the one who rushed at me.

Since when were counterattacks off limits? Are you a child?

Should I feed you a poison mushroom?

... I don't think that I'm bullying him, but I'm getting a strange feeling.

"How absurd! The Hero of the Sword is only at that level... I guess the true Demon Lord can't be dealt with with such half-hearted measures..."

(Armor)

"Shut up." (Naofumi)

I use the principle of leverage to steal his sword.

Without taking any damage, I managed to take my opponent's weapon. I think I've seen this scene in a game before...

I didn't think I would be able to do such a thing in real life, but it was surprisingly easy.

Though, it's probably due to the defense I'm getting from the Shield.

This sword was quite valuable, right? I bet I could sell it for quite a bit.
Though I could also let Raphtalia or the other slaves use it.
But first, I better let Ren copy it.

“Ren!” (Naofumi)

Before the system rejects it, I throw the sword at Ren.
And Ren catches it by reflex.

“Wow… This is quite a sword.” (Ren)

I’m not sure if the Weapon Copy is working, but it looks like he’s reading its stats.

As a result… The sword suddenly became worn out beyond recognition.

“Ah! The Sword I was going to put to good use!” (Naofumi) (TL: Literally recycle)

“Um… Sorry.” (Ren)

I had completely forgotten about his curse!

Dammit.

I have to move on. It’s not like losing it hurt me.

It wasn’t mine to begin with.

“Wha… The Holy Sword Rusted… You Monsters!” (Armor)

Yes, it is quite a spectacle when you’re seeing it for the first time.
Just as surprising as when I first witnessed the brainwashing dagger.

No, for now, I have to think of how to get the Shield away from him.
The shield the Old Man made is special.
I can't let Ren touch it.

"Ren, no matter what, you can't touch the Shield he's holding." (Naofumi)
"G-got it. So please don't glare at me with such bloodlust." (Ren)

Ren changes his sword to the Spirit Turtle Sword.

"Now then, I'll have you return that shield." (Naofumi)

As I step forwards, it seems evident that Armor lost all of the momentum he had before. He draws back, as if to retreat.
Did he lose his confidence from having his prided weapon destroyed?

"You seem to be the ringleader here. I'll have you spill everything. It may be a bit messy, but I'll have you pay the tab for picking a fight with me as well." (Naofumi)

Without a moment's delay, I grab Armor's collar and drag him towards me. Armor immediately puts the shield in front to protect himself, but it's too late.

This guy's been pissing me off for a while. I'll take the opportunity to inflict a bit of torture.

His Justice is a nuisance.

"There's no choice. Mald, I won't forget your sacrifice!" (Three Hero Church Member)

"What!? Are you betraying me!?" (Armor)

One of the Three Hero Church followers takes out a bomb-like item and throws it towards us.

“There!” (Rishia)

Rishia throws her dagger at the projectile, causing it to explode in midair. And the explosion encompassed the thrower as well.

“GYAAAAAA!?” (Three Hero Church)

Did he plan to take everyone out, enemy and ally?

There should be a limit to idiocy! (TL: And then came the internet)

As soon as he was at a disadvantage, he cut off all his comrades. As expected as the people Witch sided with.

Now then, how do I take this shield…

“Atlas!” (Naofumi)

“Yes!” (Atlas)

“What about Firo?” (Firo)

“You’re overkill. Go play with the slaves.” (Naofumi)

“Got it!” (Firo)

“Do you have any way to render them unconscious?” (Naofumi)

“I’ll try.” (Atlas)

Now then, as per my order, Atlas comes running over.

I push Armor in her direction and issue orders.

“Keep pricking his vital points until he can’t feel anything anymore.”

(TL: The phrase used here is これでもか, which means, ‘And still more!’)

This pretty much means do it so that onlookers will say, you're still going to hit him after that 10000 hit combo!?)

"Yes, as Naofumi-sama commands." (Atlas)

"Guru... Uge... Sto..." (Armor)

Atlas circles the man while thrusting at him. He desperately lifts the shield to defend, but Atlas is too fast.

Every time she hits, his facial expression changes. It's quite interesting.

And after a while, he drops the Shield, and I lift it up.

As soon as I touch it, a light goes off, and Weapon Copy begins to activate.

You have activated Weapon Copy.

You have unlocked the conditions to use Spirit Turtle Armor.

Spirit Turtle Armor 0/70 C (TL: Yes, it says armor, not Shield)

Ability Bonus

...

Equipment Bonus

Skill:

「S Float Shield」, 「Reflect Shield」

Special Bonus:

Gravity Field, C Soul Recovery, C Magic Snatch, C Gravity Shot, Tenacity Enhancement, Magic Defense (Large), Lightning Resistance, SP Drain Block, Growing Power

Weapon Proficiency 0

Amazing... It has all of the best bonuses from the other Spirit Turtle Shields.

Excluding Wrath, its base stats are the highest of any Shield in my possession.

I wonder what sort of effect Growing Power has.

Can this Shield Evolve like Wrath?

S Float Shield is probably an extension of E Float Shield and a Semi-Passive Skill.

It'll probably let me extend beyond 'Second Shield.'

What could Reflect Shield do?

From its name, I expect it to reflect received damage to some extent, but I guess that makes it useless against small fries.

I'll have fun unlocking more powers by awakening it.

But, I don't think it can get much better than this.

This is the best part. I probably already have many of the needed materials in order to strengthen this shield.

It's made of the same materials as the other Spirit Turtle Shields I have, so I'll assume that's the case.

It's unfortunate that I don't have the free time to strengthen it right away.

"Let's go!" (Atlas)

""Pii!"" (Filo Rial)

Matching Atlas's timing, a Filo Rial chick joins and kicks Armor.

"Guhaaaa!" (Armor)

Armor twirls in the air as he flies several meters.

You reap what you sow.

Remember kids, stealing is bad.

This man's thought process sure is strange.

Could it be that? He thought he could win against a stronger opponent through resourcefulness and skills?

Their group is unorganized through and through.

If he won, he would claim that it was because I was foolish.

And saying those lines would make his side seem like the righteous one.

Throughout history, most tacticians can be seen as cowards if you change your perspective.

... I don't mean to criticize; I'm a fan of Manga and Light Novels, so I get it. From the enemy's side, I'm most definitely a heinous villain.

"Now then, have you finally understood the difference in power, self-proclaimed 'New Hero?'" (Naofumi)

"Gu..." (Armor)

Looking around, it seems that all but the brainwashed slaves have been pretty much taken care of.

Seeing the annoying Three Hero Church that put me through such agony in such a state puts my heart at ease.

"Take them all in. Everyone who resists gets a death sentence." (Naofumi)

"You sound just like a villain, Naofumi..." (Ren)

Ren retorts. How annoying.

I won't say I'm not one.

I glare at Ren, and he shifts his gaze back to the enemy.

"Running also warrants death." (Ren)

Says Ren in a yakuza-esque voice, pointing his newly copied weapon at the Three Hero Church remnants and threatening them.

"G-god... Please deliver us from the Demon Lord's curse..." (Sister)

A sister of the church pleads.

Aren't the people before you supposed to be fake heroes who go against God?

Begging for one's life now is unsightly.

"I don't think I'm wrong, and I don't believe you're right. Even without the brainwashing." (Ren)

"That's just because you've been brainwashed!" (Sister)

"... This isn't getting anywhere. You people only believe whatever's convenient at the time. Because I've been wrong many times, I'll say this. You people are wrong! If you want to make amends, now is the time. I'll plead for everyone here to keep their heads. Surrender." (Ren)

How soft. I doubt these people have any hope of rehabilitation.

... Looking at it from Ren's perspective, he made many mistakes, and Female Knight was the one who preached to him and woke him up. He probably wants to do the same for another, but he's picking the wrong group.

Just as I thought. Ren's words fall on deaf ears, and the Sister pulls a dagger from the inside of her robe.

"Submit to our Justice, you fake!" (Sister)

She stabbed at him.

But that was a meaningless action.

Firo is already behind her.

"Hup! (Firo)

"Gyah!" (Sister)

Firo lightly drops her heel on the sister's head, and the sister falls onto the floor.

... Is she dead? I hope so.

The other remnants are pretty much the same. Besides the brainwashed slaves, they pose no threat whatsoever.

Gaelion starts making a game of lightly tossing them at one another.

There is no need to hold back against the ones who acted of their own volition.

More and more Zombies are pouring in, making escape impossible.

Annihilating all of the forces here should be enough to set back their plans.

"Damn..." (Armor)

Armor slowly rises to his feet.

He's surprisingly tough.

“I guess it’s about time to finish this. There’s no need to keep you alive.
Shall I make you regret baring your fangs at me?” (Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 238 – Chasing Too Far

---

Ren and Motoyasu are Heroes, so I can't kill them, and there are some things I need to make Witch do, so I'd like to leave her (barely) alive if possible.

But these guys are different.

In fact, in order to prevent them from harming more people, it's best to make them leave the stage early. For the sake of the world.

"And, like, did you seriously think you could beat me with such low power?"
(Naofumi)

A possibility is that Armor challenged Ren when he was a bandit and thought he could beat me if that was my power level. But, the Ren of that time had not yet learned strengthening methods.

To face me, he kept himself in perfect condition and got his hands on the strongest equipment he could find.

He used brainwashing to amass an army to wear me down so he could strike the finishing blow.

But those assaults had pretty much no effect on me.

He seriously underestimated his enemy. I should use this as reference. (TL: Learn from his mistakes)

Though, I have no idea if an enemy with that large of a gap in strength will ever appear before me. I have no idea how strong Houou is supposed to be. I should do what I can for now.

My current mission is to take care of this ridiculous farce.

"You're cowardly otherworlder who does nothing but rely on the strength of your Legendary Weapon! This World will be saved by its own people!"

(Armor)

"Cowardly... You're in no position to tell me that!" (Naofumi)

You people arbitrarily summoned me. I don't need your complaints.

What is this person even trying to say?

It doesn't seem that words are getting through.

Though I get the feeling they weren't getting through from the start.

"This world's people will save themselves? That's quite a noble thought, but it was those very same people who decided to rely on the heroes and perform a summoning ritual. Your argument lacks persuasive power."

(Naofumi)

And just because you happened to summon someone you didn't like, why must you abandon him?

I should direct those words at Trash.

The Queen supported me to the best of her ability, but it seems the country has lost some economic power.

When I see her tackling a mountain of paperwork, I find it hard to ask for funding.

I acknowledge that I may be a devil, but at least I have a conscience.

I'm surprised she hasn't ruined her body from stress yet.

No, perhaps she has.

I've seen her swallowing medicine before.

She's also been patting her stomach. She's definitely acquired stomach ulcers.

Now that I think about it, how's the Castle Town doing?

I think Motoyasu and his Filo Rials will be able to suppress any uprisings.

I also sent a messenger to Raphtalia's group when this mess started, so I wonder what happened to them.

... It's been around half a day since this mess started.

If Raphtalia immediately came running back, I would suspect her of being brainwashed.

"Anyways, it's best for your sake if you honestly tell the whole story."
(Naofumi)

From the Magic User's testimony, this guy's the ringleader. Perhaps I can wring Witch's location out of him.

"If you don't, my subordinates will torture you until you wish you were dead." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama, leave it to me." (Atlas)

Atlas happily starts shadowboxing. She punches the air in front of her. What's with her movements?

"Yeah, Firo wants to do it too." (Firo)

Firo begins imitating her.

Is that the new fad? Not on my watch.

When I turn around, I find that the others of my group have driven the brainwashed people outside and are in the process of setting up a barricade.

And just like I'm doing, Taniko borrowed a dagger from Ren, and began threatening the Three Hero Church remnants.

Ren cautions her that she shouldn't be doing such things, but she shouts at him to shut up.

Gaelion has a delicate expression on his face.

I wonder who the girl takes after.

Rishia has just finished binding all of the remnants.

In the confusion created from throwing the bomb, they had scattered all over the place inside of the spacious church.

Rishia's quite skilled.

She even ran on the walls... though I don't know the logistics behind it. Could she be concentrating magic on her feet to temporarily bind them or something?

Perhaps she'll be able to run on water as well.

Hey, I told you people to kill them...

"Hey... just talk. You'll lengthen your lifespan by a bit." (Naofumi)

As I declare this, Armor retreats a few steps and catches his breath.

Has he finally gotten a grasp of the situation he's in?

His face is blue.

He assured himself that he would win and that his enemies were all evil, and now it's come to this.

Caught up in Itsuki's justice, he began to believe that he was justice itself.

"I'm waiting." (Naofumi)

"Ku... If I have to talk to you, then I'd rather di-" (Armor)

Just as he was speaking...

The roof of the church caves in, and three brainwashed Filo Rials rain down from the sky.

"Wha-" (Armor)

"KUEEEEEEEE!" (Filo Rial)

"You're in the way!" (Firo)

"Please, Move!" (Atlas)

Two of them grapple with Firo and Atlas while the last one forcefully throws Armor on its back and starts running.

"Like I'd let that happen!" (Naofumi)

Just as I'm about to deploy Shield Prison, I remember something.

Where are they running to?

I thought I would leave Itsuki up to Kiel, but if I follow them there, I may find Witch and her compatriots. I can capture them all at once.

And it seems that Armor would rather commit suicide than be captured.

There's no point in capturing a dead man.

So I should use him as much as I can while he lives.

"Move!" (Firo)

Firo kicks away the Filo Rial blocking her and begins to give chase.

With her speed, catching up will be easy, but the destination is the important part.

The situation is this dire. It's probably not a trap.

If we just manage to find the enemy stronghold, then no matter the situation, we'll be able to apprehend them sooner or later.

Of course, if they run towards Castle Town, I have no intention of letting them get far because I'll probably find Witch and Itsuki there.

"Wait, let's chase them too far!" (Naofumi)

(TL: I can't think of an English alternative. Pretty much, the term means to pursue a goal too far, and is usually used with a negative connotation, but Naofumi means to chase them to the end.)

What's with that line?

It's something I said myself, but I have no idea what it means.

Aren't you usually supposed to say 'Don't chase them too far'?

Well, I do plan on pursuing them until the end.

"What's wrong Master? You don't want to capture them?" (Firo)

"If they're going to run... then we'll just use that. Haha. It's hunting time."
(Naofumi)

"As expected of Naofumi-sama. You let one escape to capture them all, right?" (Atlas)

"You can see through everything, can't you?" (Naofumi)

Atlas's comprehension ability is scary.

Could this be an instinct of the militaristic Hakuko tribe?

She can cut off her anxiety and calmly view the situation.

For now, I should get the Filo Rials on our side. They're Motoyasu's, so their stats aren't bad.

I lock the one Firo kicked away in my Prison.

"Good. Now, you guys will be bringing the Three Hero Church Remnants to Melty's estate! I'm leaving Gaelion's group in charge." (Naofumi)

"Understood!"

As if they were expecting the order, Rishia and Taniko were already holding a net which they use to hold the Three Hero Church Remnants together after gathering them in one place.

The situation reminds me of a large haul of fish on a fishing boat.

All of the Remnants are directing foul language at my group.

It's truly a stupid sight. I'll apply some torture later.

If I don't let them suffer a bit, I won't be able to calm down.

... For this to be a possible stress-reliever... I've changed as well.

In a bad way.

Though, I have no intentions of correcting myself.

"Gaelion, you catch up with us later. And Taniko, I'll leave the command of the people at the mansion to you." (Naofumi)

"Taniko!? Do you mean me?" (Taniko)

"I told you before, right? Why are you so surprised?" (Naofumi)

"No, I knew! But hearing it directly is..." (Taniko)

"I'll pursue the cause of this ruckus. You guys should focus on suppressing the violence in this village. Tell Kiel, who's supposed to be good at tracking, to follow me." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Taniko)

“And after you deliver that message, send Gaelion over. Decide whether you’ll come or not based on the situation.” (Naofumi)

Taniko nods at all of my orders.

“Then everyone else is following that Armor with me. Get on a Filo Rial.”
(Naofumi)

“Understood.” (Rishia)

“Let’s go!” (Naofumi)

“Ya~y!” (Firo)

With Firo at the head, Rishia, Atlas, and Ren all board Filo Rials and follow to chase Armor.

“Are you sure they went this way?” (Naofumi)

“Yeah, I thought that if we were too close, they’d notice, so Firo is keeping some distance.” (Firo)

. . .

Without any lights, we rely on Firo’s instinct to give chase. It’s already been two hours.

All of the Filo Rials from my place are quite fast.

Without a cart, their normal running gait is around the max speed of a wild Filo Rial.

And such an amazing Filo Rial is running at full speed with Armor. They’re already outside of my territory and on the mountain roads.

I wonder where they’re running to.

But, I'm not about to waste time. Atop Firo's back, I begin Reinforcing the Spirit Turtle Shell.

It will take a while before it awakens, but I've already managed to raise its abilities beyond Soul Eater Shield.

What's more, it has a Growing Power ability, so I can't wait to see what happens next.

As expected of the Shield the Old Man made.

Ah, right. About the non-copy one, I had it carefully packaged and sent to the Mansion with Taniko.

It may get taken again, but taking it with me here would provide the highest chance of it getting scratched.

I won't let anyone touch it.

I don't think it will be able to get any more skills, but it's still an amazing Shield.

By the way, I tested out Reflect Shield to find out its ability.

When I shouted out the skill name, a list of the Shields I had with offensive power popped up.

There are a few I can't choose, but it seems this ability can temporarily give my Shield some offensive features.

It will be useful for attacking when using shields with high defense.

E Float Shield → Change Shield → Reflect Shield is also a possible combination.

Then, the manifested shield can have greater durability.

My possibilities have increased.

"Master, it seems they've entered a building." (Firo)

There's a building out here?

I see a mountain fortress with some traces of light leaking out of it.

We've finally discovered their base.

I'll make this a splendid massacre.

"Is that their stronghold?" (Ren)

"Seems like it." (Naofumi)

I nod at Ren's question.

Though it could just be a resting spot, it's a fortress built in the middle of the mountains.

There's a high probability that it's an important point.

They're probably recycling a fortress abandoned by the country.

It would be nice if Witch were somewhere here, but...

"Itsuki-sama..." (Rishia)

He may be there.

Either way, we'll have to apprehend them.

But, Armor sure is a fool. Did he think he had outrun us?

That Filo Rial used to be mine, you know.

But I guess he had no choice but to run.

'It was all a trap, now die Demon Lord!' is also a possibility.

But I have confidence I'll win. He's a small fry.

I don't know his level, but he wasn't even able to scratch me when his blade was in direct contact with my skin.

At this rate, whether it be the Three Hero Church, the Nobles, Witch, the Rebels, or Armor, I don't think any of them can hurt me.

It would be strange for them to have someone with such capabilities.

… Now that I think about it, can the current me only be hurt with attacks on Curse-Series-level strength?

Then, my first objective should be to defeat Itsuki.

And with me are Firo, Atlas, Rishia, Ren, and the other Filo Rials. A perfect Battle Party.

With this party, it will be easy to capture him alive.

… The only problem would be if Rishia betrays us, but I have an idea for that.

“What’s wrong, Master?” (Firo)

But, I can be certain that some of my own brainwashed subordinates are there as well.

I’m also taking that into account.

Firo and Ren can only inflict fatal blows, so I’ll save them for enemy management and Itsuki.

Atlas and Rishia can manipulate the invisible force of Chi, so I should send them to deal with the brainwashed slaves.

Anyways, to stop two Heroes, a Filo Rial Queen, and an awakened Rishia, is probably impossible.

All that’s left is to trample them.

“Now then, Itsuki or Witch… Who’s hiding here?” (Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 239 – Opportunity

---

“Anyways, the only thing we have to do is infiltrate the fortress and take out the leader.” (Naofumi)

“Um, about that…” (Rishia)

After hearing my order, Rishia timidly raises her hand.

Though I have a general idea of what she’s going to say.

“What?” (Naofumi)

“Hypothetically, only hypothetically, if we encountered Itsuki-sama… If we ended up fighting him, could you leave it to me?” (Rishia)

“Hmm… what’s the reason? Like Female Knight… Eclair, do you plan on trying to persuade him?” (Naofumi)

“Um, yes. Could you leave that mission to me?” (Rishia)

“Well, if we did encounter Itsuki, I planned on detaining him. I want to avoid killing him if possible. But if he resists, it may escalate beyond that.” (Naofumi)

“I know. I… still want to try talking to him.” (Rishia)

Rishia has been working hard for the sake of my village.

“Rishia, will you let me participate as well?” (Ren)

For some reason, Ren begins pleading to me as well.

“Just like I was offered a second chance, I want to try offering one to Itsuki. And for that purpose, I wish to lend my power.” (Ren)

It's not that I don't see where he's coming from...

I don't know how his situation is, but it may be similar to Ren's.

And this is where we establish their relation.

I do plan on harassing him a bit, but if he can become a convenient piece like Ren and Motoyasu, I should consider it.

And it seems that killing Heroes is bad. It's probably best to leave persuading him to others.

Even if he ends up dying, we can say something like, 'We tried to persuade him, but he showed great resistance' or something like that.

"Understood... But Rishia, if you and Ren end up cornered, you need to abandon that mission. Is that alright with you?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Rishia)

"Thank you, Naofumi." (Ren)

"Don't say such disgusting things." (Naofumi)

Ren's dedication sends shivers down my spine.

If he were broken like Motoyasu, I could just keep my distance, but he seems to have developed a strange sense of justice. I don't have a good compatibility with him.

And wait, was Ren always this hot-blooded?

He was supposed to be a cold-blooded cool person. Though he wasn't a bad person from the start.

"Kyua!" (Gaelion)

I hear a voice from above, and when I look up, I see Gaelion with Taniko aboard his back.

I'm surprised they were able to track us.

"So you're finally here." (Naofumi)

"Did you manage to turn over the remnants?" (Ren)

"Yeah. I handed them to the princess." (Taniko)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"And I told them the situation, and was sent to bring a message. She said it was something the heroes probably didn't know." (Taniko)

An order from Melty?

She seems to be well informed about the Heroes.

The Queen also seems to love the legends.

But the only part of it that shows normally is her love of Filo Rials.

"Um... what was it again? It was something she found out from an old book in Faubley..." (Taniko)

Taniko tried hard to remember.

Why didn't she just bring Melty along?

Though Melty's probably busy with dealing with the rebellion.

Is it okay over there? Sadina's there too, so it should work out.

"According to the childrens books, after the Demon Lord was defeated, the people had their brainwashing dispelled, and everyone lived happily ever after. But according to the old book, the brainwashing persisted even after he was defeated." (Taniko)

"What?"

Then What?

Even if Itsuki is the mastermind, if we defeat him the brainwashing won't be dispelled, and the only cure for the infectious pandemic is my Shield Prison?

My head hurts.

So to save everyone, I have to take them one by one and put them into a magically reinforced shield?

Just how tedious is that supposed to be.

Though it's eventually something I'll have to do.

"I didn't need to know that." (Naofumi)

I had considered the possibility, but I wanted to believe there was some other way.

"Fueeeeee..." (Rishia)

"That sounds... rough." (Ren)

"Then we must simply quell the fire by killing everyone who opposes us."
(Atlas)

Ah, then there's no helping it. Atlas's heartless words draw me back to reality.

She truly is from a violent race.

The amount of people potentially saved, and the amount of victims don't balance out.

In a situation where the vaccine itself is limited, it's just a dream to be able to save every patient.

“Anyways, for now our mission is to charge their base and bring out the ringleader! Let’s go!” (Naofumi)

“Yeah! We can figure out the details later. Perhaps we may even find the solution in there.” (Ren)

“Let’s go! No matter what happens, I won’t give up!” (Rishia)

Rishia has grown...

She still goes ‘Fueee’, but she’s started complaining a lot less.

She’s been obediently following my orders, and I’ve given her an opportunity to face Itsuki.

Though I have no idea whether she’ll be able to convince him or not.

And so, we stormed the fortress. Armor retreated into from the front.

Inside the fortress were some remnants of the Three Hero Church, and some brainwashed soldiers and Adventurers protecting them.

But none of them were particularly strong.

There are none of my former slaves here.

Perhaps it’s because they’re right in the middle of an opportunity to take down the country. They’ve dispersed their forces away from the base.

The Filo Rial Armor was on was collapsed, exhausted, near the entrance, so I quickly put it in a Shield Prison.

“For the sake of Justice, Die!”

“Demon Lord! Prepare yourself!”

“All is for the Three Hero Church!”

The remnants shout to incite the Justice zombies. But they’re the smallest of small fries.

Ren and Rishia knock them out in an instant.

They are victims, after all.

These two can't bring themselves to kill them.

"Tah!"

It doesn't seem that they're holding back against the remnants, though.

Rishia embedded her throwing knife into the arm of a priest-like person, cancelling out the Choral Magic he was preparing.

"Guaaaah! You Bastard!" (Priest)

「Gravity Sword!」 (Ren)

Ren's sword changes to a dark transparent material as he slashes his enemy.

And the enemy collapses as if a force was pushing them towards the ground.

"Ugu..."

"A new move?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, it came with the Spirit Turtle Sword." (Ren)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

This was the perfect time to test it.

I'm also testing out my S Float Shield.

As I thought, it was a skill to increase the amount of Float Shield.

And it works in tandem with E Float Shield.

Its maintenance cost is low, so it feels like my E Float Shield has powered up.

“Naofumi, that floating shield is kinda cool.” (Ren)

“Really? It moves as I wish, so it’s quite convenient.” (Naofumi)

In the past, there was a protagonist who fought with two floating shields.

‘It was a game where girls crossed blades.

If only I could use swords and bows like that protagonist. My life would be much easier.

(TL: Apparently the Game is Valkyrie Profile: Lenneth. I can’t vouch for it, as I only played covenant.)

“And Ren, what sort of skill does your blade have?” (Naofumi)

“It seems to use Gravity to obstruct an enemy’s movement. It also has a skill called Soul Steal.” (Ren)

… That’s an ominous sounding skill.

I’ve seen a protagonist take an attack of the same name, and die instantly.

Though that was just an Event Battle.

The game didn’t end there, and some bosses who could use that skill popped up later.

(TL: I think this is Romancing Saga 2)

「Soul Steal!」 (Ren)

As I’m lost in thought, Ren uses the skill without restraint.

His target is a Three Hero Church follower, so I guess there’s no problem with an insta-kill skill.

“Gufu!”

Ren slices the opponent he had immobilized with Gravity.
A blue light flies out of his target, and assimilates into him.
I check the follower he defeated.

(TL: There's no response... It's just a corpse)

... He's not dead.
But his face is pale.

"Gu... My magic is... Gu..." (Follower)

Ren's blade robs targets of their ability to move, and he follows up with this skill.

And it seems it was no Zantestuken.
But insta-kills sound way too convenient... probably.

"Ah, this is... an SP recovery drain skill." (Ren)
"It seems that this one has no magic left." (Naofumi)

There seems to be a difference between SP and Magic, but I still can't understand it.

"Its cooldown time is long, so I can't use it consecutively." (Ren)
"I see, but it seems convenient." (Naofumi)

Atlas pokes me in the side.

"What is it?" (Naofumi)
"The magic that entered Ren-san resonated with his weapon, and changed in nature." (Atlas)
"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

So Atlas can sense that sort of thing as well.

She's quite convenient.

Should I nickname her Convenient Woman... No that's dangerous. In multiple ways.

"Ei!" (Firo)

Firo lightly kicks the left over enemies, and we proceed forward.

The Gaelion+Taniko Pair seems to be competing with the Firo+Filo Rial group in taking down enemies.

"This building is larger than I thought it would be." (Naofumi)

The building had an arena-like institution, and was littered with strange statues. I can't figure out its purpose.

Another surprising thing was that the entrance was an ornate Western-Style door.

It rivalled the Melromark palace door in construction.

Eventually, we reached a door that was locked.

Though I just order Firo and Gaelion to break it down.

What are these strange items that are littered all over the floor?

It's like a game I used to play, where fiddling with the needle of an old clock would make a key appear.

Just what was the maker of this building trying to accomplish?

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 240 – Research Material

---

“Is this supposed to be an old RPG Dungeon…” (Naofumi)

There were plenty of traps, but we managed to destroy them through physical means.

Rocks chased us, and the ceiling fell on us, but Firo and Gaelion dealt with these one way or another.

The rocks were kicked to oblivion.

The ceiling? I acted as a pillar of support while Firo and Gaelion competed in destroying it.

How should I put this. The Justice Zombies and traps made a certain post-apocalyptic game play back in my head.

We’ve been scouting for around 30 minutes, and we’ve managed to proceed quite far.

At one point, we found a passage that led outside. The exit was a cave-like structure.

Could this have been the one that Kiel was talking about?

There were also prison-like rooms arranged in a grid formation. ‘The Devil of the Shield’s Subordinate Asylum’ was scribbled on them.

Finally, we emerge in a room that seems to be a research lab. Looking over the documents scattered around, a certain one catches my eye.

“We did an analysis of their combat strength, but it seems that was all based on secondhand information. Their actual strength is estimated to be much lower.”

Various plans to harass my territory, such as the commandeering of my Bioplant Field, are written, but it seems they’ve been put on hiatus.

There are plenty of test tubes like the ones in Rat’s lab, so it seems that an alchemist has been here.

Also…

“Just how large is this building?” (Naofumi)

“There’s a document about me here too.” (Ren)

Ren begins flipping through a document with his name on the cover.

The problem is that his reading skills are not that high, so he doesn’t seem to understand what’s written.

“Estimated level: 75, but actual level estimated to be higher.

Skill level allows for him to take out a group of twenty level 80 enemies.

Danger level: (Average)”… How sad.

“According to Mald, his swordsmanship isn’t very high.

According to the Princess’s testimony, the possibility that he will help our cause is low. And as such, we will decrease his power by taking any useful equipment or funding he may hold.”

Well, you know… Ren wasn’t really fighting for real, so it’s not like you can estimate his strength from that.

And the Ren of that time really wasn’t particularly strong.

However, just by relying on the power of the legendary weapon, he was without a doubt stronger than Armor.

"It seems that the reason for Witch abandoning you is documented here."
(Naofumi)

"Really?" (Ren)

"Apparently, 'the possibility that he will help our cause is low'." (Naofumi)

"Of course... Naofumi is one thing, but if a group wanted to take over the country, I'd probably refuse... I think." (Ren)

"No, that's where you should be certain." (Naofumi)

"Yeah, the me of that time was a little messed up, so I don't really have confidence that-" (Ren)

"The old you was supposed to be a (self-proclaimed) cool, analytical character, right? You'd probably have left them without saying anything."
(Naofumi)

"Don't put it so bluntly... but you're probably right." (Ren)

My document is next to his. It's quite thick.

"Estimated level: Impossible to Determine.

Danger Level: (Maximum).

God Class.

Reports indicate that he was able to block the Spirit Turtle's attacks, but the truth is unclear.

Still, it can be concluded that he has very high defense.

His weak point would be his low attack, but he has been starting to build up forces.

Urgent countermeasures are required."

"Without careful planning and resources, defeating him will probably be impossible...

Within my forces, the most detailed reports are ones about Raphtalia and

Firo.

My forces had planned to have their subordinates dress up as robbers, and attack Raphtalia when she was out training, or Firo when she was peddling. They were to awaken them to the notion of 「Justice」 . But the plan failed, and their agents' whereabouts have yet to be determined."

I don't know where, but it seems we've already had a victory against them. Raphtalia's group probably apprehended them and turned them in to the nearest town.

Only people like Atlas would be able to see anything special about that dagger anyways.

There's also a report of using the Sword Hero to test my ability. This one seems to be quite recent.

"Estimated Level 100.

If we send a large amount of disposable pawns trained in dealing with his Shield, victory may be possible.

We will send our Trump Card, Mald, to finish him with the strongest equipment.

This is theoretically the most effective measure."

"This... is..." (Naofumi)

A grave mistake! The work of a fool.

I'm sorry, but it seems your expectations have betrayed you.

I was already able to stop their strongest equipment. I guess that's something they weren't expecting.

The next few documents about me seem to be a little older.

They're things like learning Hengen Musou in order to break through my defense. Apparently, acquisition of the techniques proved to be too difficult, and the plan was put on hiatus.

Well, that martial art required quite a bit of talent and a lot of experience. They didn't have that much time, so it was impossible to learn for people who only wanted strength to inflate their own egos.

Besides, the current me can negate a weak defense-breaching attack.

There were many other plans proposed, but in the end, they shifted towards infecting my subordinates with 「Justice」 .

How troublesome.

Put your useless efforts toward something more productive.

"Master, there's something strange about this wall." (Firo)

"For reals? Destroy it!" (Naofumi)

What about solving puzzles? Don't care.

There's probably a key somewhere around here, but searching for it is a pain.

An officer of the Three Hero Church is probably holding it, and I don't need it.

"Ye~s!" (Firo)

"Kyua!" (Gaelion)

Firo and Gaelion competitively reduce the wall to rubble.

It seems there was a secret door somewhere in it, and behind it is a single room.

"It's more research data." (Naofumi)

Upon entering the room, I found many more documents piled up.

“What is this? Reproducing… the Heroes’ weapons?” (Naofumi)

I read the document from the start.

… It’s a report on the weapon the pope used.

It spoke of maintenance cost and how to imbue it with magic. They looked at the problem from quite a few angles.

Apparently, these weapons were items of a lost civilization, and reproducing them with modern alchemy was difficult.

Yet, they planned to aim for mass production.

In the end… It ended in failure.

However…

“If we can capture a Hero test subject… Research will advance leaps and bounds?” (Naofumi)

After that was a sketch of… something labeled as a fragment of a weapon.

A sketch of a fragment of the Demon Lord’s weapon.

I’m pretty sure that Legendary Weapons couldn’t be damaged.

So there was something like that?

Also, where the hell did Armor run off to?

He probably proceeded smoothly with a key.

I’m fed up already.

I’ll have the Queen send people to look over this research later.

There’s no end to these stacks of paper.

And, continuing our pursuit, we end up going deeper and deeper into the lab.

We pass by a test tube. It is filled with a strange liquid, and a dagger is suspended in it.

This seems to be the origin of those weapons.

“Atlas, can you see anything?” (Naofumi)

“Yes. The evil aura… is coming from over there.” (Atlas)

Atlas points to the source of the pipeline connected to the test tube.

Well that’s obvious.

“It’s gotten stronger than before.” (Atlas)

“Then the origin may be over there.” (Naofumi)

Should we go over and do some collection?

I think Rat would be delighted here.

I wasn’t able to procure that much funding, so maybe I’ll repossess some of these facilities and recycle them.

“Kyua!” (Gaelion)

Gaelion looks ahead as he tugs on my cuff.

“What is it?” (Naofumi)

“I smell the scent of treasure from over there.” (Gaelion)

“Leave it.” (Naofumi)

In the end, he's still a dragon.

Later, I'll repossess that too.

Though I have no idea where they got their treasure from.

"Yay. You got him mad." (Firo)

And Firo is Firo.

Anyways, while we were messing around as such, we arrive in a wide room.

There, Armor is tapping on a stone tablet as if it were a keyboard.

"So this is where you went. Thanks for leading us here. As a reward, I'll send you to the other world." (Naofumi) (TL: As in the afterlife)

"Ku... So you're already here, Demon Lord of the Shield!" (Armor)

"There were quite a few interesting gadgets set up, but we destroyed them all. Didn't you hear us get here?" (Naofumi)

What is he doing, anyways?

Armor gives a wide smile as he places his finger on the stone tablet.

"But you're too late. We've already fulfilled our purpose!" (Armor)

By this pattern, something's going to pop out, right?

As I think that, the ground behind Armor splits in two, and something rises out of it.

From the looks of it, it's another test tube.

"Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"There's a fearsome, ominous aura emanating from over there. I assume it to be the progenitor of this incident." (Atlas)

"I see." (Naofumi)

What's going to come out?

Usually in these situations, a large monster is summoned.

And then Armor would become a sacrifice and get killed by it.

"Ha ha ha." (Armor)

I ignore the laughing Armor and gaze into the test tube.

"Wha-" (Naofumi)

The Hero of the Bow, Itsuki, was lying down inside of it.

But he seems a little strange.

"Bufu!" (Itsuki)

His eyes are covered, and a Gag ball is in his mouth, preventing him from speaking.

What sort of joke is this?

He's probably been forcefully apprehended. The fact that I'm imagining S&M scenarios makes me question my own psyche.

Anyways, it's not a pretty scene.

I want to laugh.

Just when I was wondering where he had gone, I find him confined here.

"I-Itsuki!? What happened to you!?" (Ren)

"FUEEEEEEEEEEE!?" (Rishia)

In a contrast to my amusement, Ren and Rishia seem highly troubled.
But, I guess their reactions are the correct ones here.
I feel that if Raphtalia were here, she would put pressure on me.

“Is that your trump card?” (Naofumi)

Isn't Itsuki supposed to be a false prophet to this guy?
Did he lose hope and come crying to Itsuki for help?
Then why is Itsuki in a test tube?

“Now awaken! It's time to annihilate the Demon Lord of the Shield!”
(Armor)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 241 – The Bow of Justice

---

A glugging sound fills the room as the liquid drains from the tube containing Itsuki. Eventually, the tube opens.

Armor lifts Itsuki up and removes the blindfold and gag ball.

It's quite a scene.

I... kinda want to run away.

His appearance is a gag in and of itself. I find myself holding back laughter.

"..." (Itsuki)

Itsuki slowly opens his eyes and drowsily looks around the room.

"Now! Awakened Hero of the Bow! The evil who defies our justice has infiltrated our base all the way up to here! Use your power of Justice to slay him!" (Armor)

"What the hell are you saying, you bastard!" (Naofumi)

You infiltrated my base and ran back here with your tail between your legs!

"And to start with, didn't you guys have a fight with Itsuki!?" (Naofumi)

From the Magic User's testimony, they cut off their connections.

"How foolish. In order for the Hero of the Bow to discover even greater power, we merely let him experience some difficulty." (Armor)

I guess it's all a matter of phrasing. But, the truth is leaking out.

This man hasn't called Itsuki by his real name once.

I can assume that he still does not place any trust in Itsuki.

The reason he ran all the way back here was because Itsuki was all he had left.

Itsuki looks at me with a dazed expression, and he begins releasing a dark aura so thick that even I can see it.

That's the aura that surrounds a Hero devoured by their Curse.

So what is it? What curse is eating at Itsuki's mind?

"Naofumi..." (Itsuki)

This is amazing bloodlust.

Out of all the people I've faced, it's top class. It makes my blood go cold.

"Your actions are unforgivable! You've done things that I will never forgive!"
(Itsuki)

"What are you saying all of a sudden? Keep your sleep talk to when you're asleep." (Naofumi)

He's a troublesome fellow even right after he wakes up.

Is it due to his curse, or was he like this from the beginning? It's a delicate line.

"Itsuki-sama! You can't believe Mald's words!" (Rishia)

"Right! That man's a criminal!" (Ren)

Rishia and Ren try to persuade him.

But Itsuki's gaze remains fixed on me, and he doesn't even glance at the two.

“Then let me say it. You gather slaves, put them through heavy labor, and keep all of the profits to yourself!” (Itsuki)

“Isn’t that just common sense?” (Naofumi)

This man… I think I’ve heard him say similar things before.

Isn’t that what slaves are supposed to be?

Of course, manual labor requires appropriate compensation, but slaves are supposed to work without one, right?

If you ask whether there’s a problem with buying and selling humans, I’d say there is one, but that’s just the sort of world this is.

If you want an extreme analogy, then perhaps slaves can be compared to vacuum cleaners.

Do you feel sorry for a vacuum cleaner for having to deal with the garbage on the floor every day?

Slaves are like appliances. Convenient means to an end.

Wait, something’s popping up in my head.

“Niichan! Make me dinner! Crepes~, Crepes~!”

“Food!”

“Crepes are tasty!”

“Make some good food, please!”

“Play with me!”

Don’t mind it. Don’t mind it.

Get out of my mind!

"That is nothing but evil! I heard! In exchange for giving a girl high quality medicine, you forced her brother into heavy labor! One of the slaves Maltysan saved told me the story!" (Itsuki)

"There's no way that Witch would help someone!" (Naofumi)

"Who is this Witch...? Oh, and as expected of Naofumi-sama. You saved a pair of siblings besides us?" (Atlas)

"No, that's you." (Naofumi)

He's most likely talking about the girl tilting her head towards me and her older brother.

I don't know how much info he's got, but he's clearly cherry picking here. And for Witch to help a Demi-Human is more unlikely than a girl falling from the sky.

"And you sell medicine to rich nobles without doing anything for the poor!" (Itsuki)

"I'm no philanthropist. If you're running a business, you can't just give things away to those without money. It's common sense to take something as compensation." (Naofumi)

Those nobles just barged into my place and demanded medicine, all while looking down on me.

Also, I do have memories of giving medicine to the poor. After they pleaded to me with the few copper coins they could scrape together, the least I could do was give them some.

"Just when I thought the Evil Nobles would die from illness, the Hero of the Shield stepped in and hindered our plans!" (Itsuki)

"You're pointing fingers at the wrong person there. I merely sold medicine to the people who paid money for it. What they did afterwards is of no concern to me. It's stranger to think that just because they had done something bad, I would refuse to sell them medicine and leave them to die."

(Naofumi)

And what is this? When did selling medicine to rich buyers become a crime? If I didn't sell it to them, would you be shouting at me for denying medicine to those who asked?

No matter what I do, it's a crime. Stop screwing with me!

"Even though you were granted the power to help people as a Hero, I've heard a person shouting that you couldn't save their daughter!" (Itsuki)

"... I have no idea who you're talking about here." (Naofumi)

Nope, nothing's coming to mind.

Couldn't save? If it was illness, I would at least do what I could do.

Though, I would demand some compensation, as little as it may be.

Of course, people have tried to run away without paying.

But, I simply asked around for their destination and apprehended them anyways.

"A girl came crying to me saying she would never forgive you!" (Itsuki)

Do people hate me that much?

...

"Is the daughter... dead?" (Naofumi)

"Yes! Naofumi's shield can bring about such miracles, and yet, you deny people its power!" (Itsuki)

Itsuki isn't using any honorifics with me.

But, I guess I'll leave that as it is.

"Surely you jest... Even the Legendary Shield doesn't have a power that can revive the dead." (Naofumi)

I think I have an idea of who it is.

Occasionally, when I go to villages, some people come to me asking me to bring their loved ones back to life. They come crying, carrying the dead bodies.

There are people who come to me after hearing rumors of the Saint or the Hero of the Shield.

Logic does not get through to those people.

When I say I can't do it, they continue pleading in tears.

Some even transfer their anger onto me.

I've had some corpses abandoned in front of my village.

If I tried to give them proper burials, the culprits would come out and shout at me. I've had the soldiers send them out a few times.

That's why the sign on the village's entrance says as such. The dead can never come back.

Because of this, I've made it so that I only personally treat patients in the special clinic building.

"That's just unjust resentment. You just want to label me as evil no matter what. Why don't you then bring them back? You're a Hero too." (Naofumi)

"No, princess Malty told me. It's a special power only granted to the Shield!" (Itsuki)

That Witch. She's left me with an outrageous parting gift.

Itsuki has no way of proving logically that statement to be false.

What's more, with Itsuki as it is, I don't think that anything I say will be able to persuade him.

"Itsuki, that sounds wrong. With Naofumi and Motoyasu, I've gone over the weapon systems. The effects differ slightly, but each legendary weapon generally has a corresponding weapon with the same effects. If Naofumi has such a power, then my Sword should have an equivalent one. Or, does your bow have a power that our weapons do not?" (Ren)

Ren offers a plausible argument.

There's definitely a difference in defensive and offensive capabilities between weapons, but the effects themselves are generally the same.

It's something I learned from talking with Ren and Motoyasu.

The only one who doesn't know is the lonely Itsuki.

But, perhaps I've just yet to find it. I can't deny the possibility of there being a weapon that can bring the dead to life.

And, if there were a single weapon that would have it, I guess it would be the Shield.

But if I could use it, then I would.

Who knows just how much I could rake in if I advertised that I could revive the dead?

"And there are still many other sins you have to answer to! I definitely won't let you off!" (Itsuki)

"And I don't need you to forgive me. The true evil here is probably that Armor behind you. He attacked my subordinates and launched several attacks. He provoked much needless violence. Is your justice merely a word? He even conspired with the Three Hero Church you know so well.”

(Naofumi)

Upon my word, Itsuki turns his gaze to Armor.

“Those are merely the Demon Lord of the Shield’s lies! You mustn’t be swayed by them!” (Armor)

“Whether that’s the truth or not is something I’ll determine with my own power.” (Itsuki)

“A-Ah, wait… Stop!” (Armor)

Itsuki sprouts white wings. Though they’re supposed to appear divine, they somehow give off a sinister feeling. He takes out a highly ornamental bow and shoots an arrow at Armor. <ED: In the knee>

“Guha!” (Armor)

Is he dead?

“Naofumi-sama, the ominous aura gathered at one point and pierced through the person we were pursuing.” (Atlas)

And the Armor in front of me collapses forward.

Did he dispose of a foolish subordinate?

As I thought that, Armor suddenly rises from the floor.

“Itsuki-sama, it is as the Demon Lord of the Shield said. In order to satisfy my selfish desires, I engaged him in battle and lost. I ask for your forgiveness.” (Armor)

... What?

Armor's behavior is clearly strange.

What is that bow's ability?

It's without a doubt the foundation for those daggers.

"I accept your apology. From now on, let's work together to lead this world towards peace!" (Itsuki)

"Yes! Itsuki-sama!" (Armor)

His eyes are weird.

His face is not one led by his own ambition. It's not one that only strived for self-satisfaction. Just like the brainwashed people, he carries an abnormal expression filled only with a lust for Justice.

"Itsuki... That bow..." (Ren)

As Ren points his finger at the Bow, Itsuki answers with a bright smile.

"Isn't it amazing? It's an amazing bow that I just got my hands on. Its name is the Justice Bow! It's clearly a weapon meant for me. One shot from this bow dispels brainwashing and lets others understand me." (Itsuki)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 242 – Denial of Justice

---

Justice Bow?

It dispels brainwashing and lets others understand you…?

There's no way that others would sympathize with you so easily.

And Itsuki, you aren't even trying to come to an understanding with me right now.

You're the one who's doing the brainwashing.

What do you mean, Justice?

"Princess Malty told me that this bow was too much for me to handle. She told me to rest here until my power stabilized, but it seems that things won't go as planned." (Itsuki)

I see… I skimmed through the data on the way here.

There was an important piece of information among them.

And from it, I can come to a simple conclusion.

Itsuki is… their Hero Research sample. In order for him to act as a power source for those daggers, he's been put to sleep here.

Most likely, Witch tempted him with sweet words and got him to feed a strange weapon fragment into his bow. They then analyzed the resulting bow.

And, because the effect was useful, they put him to sleep so he could assist in their mass production.

They probably were able to advance their ability to replicate Legendary Weapons as well.

Let's consider it from Itsuki's perspective.

After losing to the Spirit Turtle, Witch's influence allowed him to unlock the new power known as the Curse Series.

It's a plot right out of Mecha Anime, and, out of those same Anime, he would have to rest until the power of his Bow settled within him. (TL: I don't know what reference this is)

Even so, there's no doubt that Itsuki has been devoured by some form of curse.

Though, that seemed apparent from the start of the incident.

"Itsuki, let me tell you something. There's no Justice in that bow. It's a sinister weapon with the power of brainwashing." (Naofumi)

"You're wrong! This Bow is without a doubt my Justice! How else would Mald, who I was at odds with, come to an understanding with me so quickly?" (Itsuki)

He's acting like he's some sort of protagonist throwing out an irrational argument. Like in Manga and Anime, he thinks that everything's fine as long as he can get his enemies to understand his cause.

It may appear to make sense at first, but there's no way an enemy can come to understand you just because you beat them.

That just means they didn't have enough willpower to stand up to violence from the start.

"Now, everyone, fight with me! I'll make you understand what's right and what's wrong!" (Itsuki)

This is a different matter altogether from Ren's case.

Ren knew in the depths of his mind that what he was doing was wrong.

Itsuki is different.

He honestly believes in his idiotic Justice, and he feels obligated to force it onto others.

If I were to equate it to a deadly sin, I guess it would be pride... But that's also a delicate line.

It could also be Vainglory. But there's something about that that feels off.

With his Chuuni imagination, he could have created his own, new sin altogether.

If he did create an eighth sin, I guess there are two possibilities.

The first is Justice.

When Justice goes too far, it can be crueler than any sin.

No small sin will be forgiven. Everyone has to atone with death.

Another possibility is... Fanaticism.

Believing too much in a single idea and forcing it onto others, continuing even when you know that what awaits is nothing but destruction.

There's also the chance that his power could be a mix of the four.

Motoyasu got the Lust and Envy Spears or something.

And Ren was simultaneously devoured by Greed and Gluttony.

I've only confirmed that having two at once is possible. But, I can't deny the possibility of three, or even four.

Anyways, I've once again confirmed my belief that Justice is a disgusting existence.

I've caught a glimpse of just how twisted the Justice that Itsuki wants to enforce on the world truly is.

"You're wrong!" (Rishia)

In a very loud voice, Rishia denies Itsuki's words.

"Itsuki-sama is misunderstanding Naofumi-san's actions!" (Rishia)

"Is that you, Rishia-san? You are merely one of the many who are being brainwashed by that man." (Itsuki)

"Itsuki-sama, you said it, right? That Naofumi-san put slaves through hard labor and reaped all the profits, right?" (Rishia)

Itsuki nods with an unpleasant face.

"Then why are all the people working at Naofumi's place always healthy? Did you ever hear of a slave he abandoned? Have you ever heard of any slave he's worked to death? Have you ever heard of any slave he's even shown cruelty towards?" (Rishia)

"That's none of my concern. The information I have comes from the many people who live in this base." (Itsuki)

"Then, that's nothing but hearsay! Itsuki-sama, I'm asking whether you, yourself, have witnessed any of this man's misdeeds!" (Rishia)

What's this? Rishia's acting much more outgoing than usual as she's conversing with Itsuki.

At least, in the time I've known her, I've never seen Rishia this angry before.

Wasn't Rishia supposed to be a childish girl who said 'Fueee' whenever she was troubled and trembled when faced with hardships?

"I've been watching Naofumi-san for a long time. I saw him extend his hand to the slaves and build them a home from scratch. The slaves... the Demi-humans who work at Naofumi's village are always working happily as they earnestly try to make the village a better place! Itsuki-sama, for the people who had lost their status as human beings and dropped into slavery, do you know just how much of a savior Naofumi-san was to them!? And he... put them through hard labor and reaped all the profits? Please don't make a fool of him!" (Rishia)

"Right! I've never seen a single child unwilling to do the work given to them there!" (Ren)

Ren hops on board the bandwagon and tries to persuade Itsuki.

For some reason, Taniko is being especially quiet. I hear her whisper under her breath to Gaelion, 'Are all the Heroes like this?'

I think the current Gaelion will only respond with 'Kyua's though.

"No matter what happens, until the culprit confesses to his sins, my resolve will not be shaken!" (Itsuki)

"Confess? About working my slaves hard? Yeah, I do that." (Naofumi)

"... The people at Naofumi's place are a bit different. Classifying them as slaves is difficult." (Ren)

... Are they different?

From society's perspective, as long as they have slave crests, aren't they slaves?

"It's more like Naofumi-san is the one being treated as a slave there."
(Rishia)

"Wha...!" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, every day he works late into the night assisting everyone in their work! After that, he works on compounding medicine by himself! I can't tell who's the slave here!" (Ren)

"What are you... What the hell are you people saying!?" (Naofumi)

Rishia, are you asking me to activate your slave crest?

I'm definitely no one's slave.

"Naofumi's pretty much a parent to the children in the village!" (Ren)

"Wrong!" (Naofumi)

What are these people misunderstanding?

Is it that they're acting out of desperation and saying whatever comes into their heads?

Hm? Taniko pokes me in the side.

"Are they wrong? Everyone says you're like a mother." (Taniko)

"They're wrong! I work all of you hard as slaves." (Naofumi)

"That was your intention? I think you're failing." (Taniko)

"You know-" (Naofumi)

"Master may have a bad mouth, but he's really kind. The only time he scolds us is when we actually do something really bad." (Firo)

Even Firo hops on board.

Isn't it stranger to scold people when they haven't done anything?

That would impact morale.

In the past, I remember my neighborhood convenience store's manager had a bad personality. The employees would constantly change.

After a few years, when the manager changed, the nostalgic, help-wanted sign disappeared from the window.

And of course, when you have a good leader, you can work people beyond their own limits.

My thoughts may be going astray here. Anyways, the point is that there's no reason to unnecessarily drop troop morale. It's clearly not kindness at work here.

"You're all definitely wrong!" (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama, I believe." (Atlas)

Believe in what!?

These people... Along with the other villagers, they're going to get a lecture.

"No matter what you say, the truth is as it is! Naofumi is definitely evil!"
(Itsuki)

Itsuki won't step down.

But Rishia continues speaking.

"Itsuki-sama? Does that mean you're a perfect, honest, and upright person?
Right now, it doesn't seem that way to me." (Rishia)

"Please quit it with your trite performance. It makes me want to vomit.
Your evil is making me nauseous!" (Itsuki)

Itsuki has a bitter expression as he stares at Rishia.

He's giving off quite an oppressing aura.

Should he really be saying such things?

"Yes, I have committed sins. I can't deny the fact that my actions have led to many deaths." (Itsuki)

"Itsuki-sama..." (Rishia)

"That means there is one thing I must do. I must destroy all of the evil in this world. I must destroy it personally. For eternity!" (Itsuki)

"That's not happening." (Naofumi)

As long as humans exist, there will be conflict. Itsuki will never be satisfied until the end of the world.

And so, based on Itsuki's criteria, Ren, Motoyasu, and I have been labelled as evil.

Perhaps everyone who does not bow down to his ideals will be labelled as Evil.

That means that the only time Itsuki will be able to end all evil is when all life comes to an end.

"...My powers may be insignificant. Even so, I... I can't forgive this unfairness!" (Itsuki)

Itsuki shouts a line from some main character as he points his bow at me and draws it back.

And on it, an arrow appears.

"Naofumi! Let me pierce through your unfair existence!" (Itsuki)

I hear the air being cut as the arrow Itsuki releases flies towards me. I use my Float Shield to redirect it.

"Unfair... is it?" (Naofumi)

That's my line.

I wondered what the man ruining the country with his brainwashing bow was going to say.

Oh, but I'm not allowed to kill heroes.

"...Itsuki-sama, no matter what, you won't try to understand?" (Rishia)

Rishia draws her sword and enters a fighting stance.

"Itsuki-sama, I deny your justice. My own justice prevents me from accepting you!" (Rishia)

"Itsuki! Return to normal! If you lose yourself to that cursed power, there will be nothing left of you in the end!" (Ren)

"Don't get in my way!" (Itsuki)

Itsuki raises his bow once more.

Another arrow comes flying.

The target is... Me again.

This time, I just grab the arrow out of the air.

「Shining Arrow!」

Itsuki pulls back his bow once more, and an arrow made of light manifests. But it seems it will take a while before he can shoot it.

"I understand that nothing will change your opinion. So I will step forward as your enemy and fight you with all of my might!" (Rishia)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 243 – The Conditions for a Duel

---

Rishia holds her blade out as if to challenge him.

What's this? I can feel Chi gathering en masse with her at the center.

It's not coming from within her body.

Chi is collecting from the outside and lending her power.

「Musou Kassei!」

(TL: Peerless Activity. I didn't change Hengen Musou, so I'm keeping this as is)

I hear a loud snapping sound, but perhaps it's just my imagination.

However, as soon as I heard it, I suddenly felt Rishia's strength increasing.

The current Rishia's Chi rivals Firo's... no, it exceeds her's.

Amazing... Is this how Rishia is when she's serious?

Hengen Musou. The style that was born out of the desire to save the world without having to rely on Heroes.

Rishia has grasped the essence of it and is utilizing it to increase her power level.

Right now, I cannot measure just how high her basic strength is.

I'm not sure if she can breach my defenses, but she's at least an opponent I would have to be wary of.

The anxiety I had when Female Knight challenged the cursed Ren isn't present here.

"I see... So you can gather Chi like that. How interesting." (Atlas)

Right.

I'm in agreement with Atlas's words.

Like that, she can fight using an outside energy source and without expending any of her own Chi.

It looks easy, but I bet actually putting it into practice is ridiculously difficult.

"Hmm?" (Firo)

And wait, I think I've seen those movements used by someone else before. That bird who's tilting her head right now.

Those movements are exactly like Firo's when she's recovering her magic.

"Hah!" (Rishia)

Rishia takes off at an amazing speed and rushes right at Itsuki.

"Hengen Musou Sword Skill! 「Spiral Slash」!" (Rishia)

Chi begins gathering around her blade in a spiral pattern.

"Ku!" (Itsuki)

Perhaps he sensed that he wouldn't get off lightly from such a blow. Itsuki dodges by a paper-thin margin and releases his arrow.

... For some reason, it draws an arc in the air and heads towards me again!

「Meteor Shield!」

I promptly activate Meteor Shield and strengthen it to take on Itsuki's arrow. The glowing arrow splits and multiplies, and countless blasts rain down on my shield.

I angle the Shield on my arm upwards just in case.

With the sound of breaking glass, my Meteor Shield crumbles, and the leftover arrows come down on me.

By the way, I take no damage.

When he's fighting Rishia and the others, why must he focus on me!?

"I won't let you escape!" (Itsuki)

With her first attack dodged, Rishia continues her assault on Itsuki.

It seems the only skill she's using is that one called Spiral Slash.

It's amazing that she can fire it off so consecutively.

Unlike Female Knight's barrage of light blows, I feel that each and every one of Rishia's attacks are at full power. I can tell just by looking.

"Don't forget about me! 「Gravity Blade」!" (Ren)

"Gu..." (Itsuki)

However, perhaps because his weapon had high specs, Rishia's and Ren's attacks are unable to inflict any deep wounds on him.

And it seems that the wounds he received are regenerating.

Perhaps that damn Witch went as far as to perform Body Modifications on him.

"Just this much... Isn't enough to stop me!" (Itsuki)

The Curse Miasma around Itsuki explodes and knocks down his enemies.

“How troublesome… Eclair beat me when I was using this kind of power!?”
(Ren)

“Itsuki-sama, you can’t lose yourself to that power! You’ll definitely regret it!” (Rishia)

“You’re the ones who will regret it! Just awaken to Justice already! 「Arrow Squall」 !” (Itsuki)

“Like I’d let you! I’m sorry you two!” (Naofumi)

Before Itsuki can use his skill, I gather my magic and release it.

「Shield Prison!」

My prison manifests with Itsuki at the center.

Rishia and Ren wanted to persuade him, but I need to get the situation under control.

Our first priority is to seal the cause, Itsuki.

“Wha- No matter what attack you throw at me, I-” (Itsuki)

Luckily, I manage to lock him up before he could dodge.

“Itsuki-sama! You bastard! What did you do to Itsuki-sama!?” (Armor)

Armor rushes at me unarmed, baring his fists.

“Tei!” (Atlas)

“Deyrah!” (Firo)

“Ugu-” (Armor)

Atlas and Firo's kicks and strikes land on him simultaneously, sending him flying. He crashes into a wall and faints.

I wish you sweet dreams. For the rest of your life.

"Atlas, how is it?" (Naofumi)

"... It's no good. Even though you sealed the source of the ominous aura, the people infected with it are connected like a spider web. They're sending power to each other, and the power isn't dispelling. The person we chased hasn't changed at all." (Atlas)

"Damn." (Naofumi)

There's no doubt about it. Even if we defeat Itsuki here, the brainwashing won't be dispelled.

The prison shakes violently, and cracks begin to spread across it.

His Curse weapon seems to have high abilities.

"Rishia, Ren. The cage is going to break now. Prepare for battle immediately." (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Rishia)

"Got it!" (Ren)

"I'll help out a bit. 「Zveit Aura」 !" (Naofumi)

I start casting various support magic on the two while I wait for the Prison to shatter.

The cage should have lasted 5 minutes, but it broke apart just after I finished casting.

I can assume that it was destroyed through physical means.

"Is that all you have? Then it's my turn! 「Frozen Rain」 !" (Itsuki)

Arrows made of ice multiply in the air and fly towards me.

Again, why me!?

"Itsuki-sama, stop messing around! Your opponents are over here!" (Rishia)

"Gaelion! 「High Fire Blaze」!" (Taniko)

"KYUAAAAAAAAA!" (Gaelion)

The ice arrows melt and evaporate in the flames Gaelion release.

But mixed in was an ominous white arrow. The arrow was undeterred by the inferno as it flew straight at me.

"Master, get down!" (Firo)

"I won't let you!" (Atlas)

Firo and Atlas knock the arrow out of the sky.

"Even if I may be outnumbered, as long as I take you out, it's my victory."
(Itsuki)

So Itsuki's actually aware that he's at a disadvantage?

Sometimes, Television Heroes fight alone against many.

He may be basing his character on someone like that.

But to reach the king, you have to actually get through the castle.

Is Itsuki's only objective my defeat?

I think I'll be able to grab the arrows or use my Float Shield even if it does get through.

"Atlas and Firo. Gaelion as well. Please Listen. It seems Itsuki's only aiming for me, so back off a bit." (Naofumi)

"But Master..." (Firo)

"Firo-chan, Naofumi-sama is just trying to protect us from injury. Perhaps we are only in his way at the moment. It's alright. Naofumi-sama will never lose to a lowlife like that. Please believe in him." (Atlas)

"Uu... I got it." (Firo)

"Naofumi-sama, I wish you luck!" (Atlas)

Atlas quickly takes some distance, and Firo reluctantly follows her.

And I walk forward to distance myself from Gaelion and Taniko.

"Itsuki-sama, do you realize what you are trying to do?" (Rishia)

... 「Blaze Arrow」 !

Rishia and Ren narrowly avoid the rain attacks, sometimes taking blows. In the end, all of them end up heading towards me.

"Since I've met you, I've always been thinking about what Justice was supposed to be." (Rishia)

"I have no tongue to converse with evil!" (Itsuki)

"Evil... What is evil? What is Justice? To Itsuki-sama, is Justice not but whatever makes you satisfied!? Without talking, without understanding, and without thinking about the purpose behind people's actions, you simply take down your enemies. Is holding everyone down with violence truly your justice!?" (Rishia)

"I've heard that power without justice is violence, and justice without power is pointless. Itsuki, didn't you look up to Heroes of Justice? You never spoke about yourself, and the me of the past never bothered to learn about you. However, I want to know more about you now. What is your goal? What do you seek? Why are you sad? I want to know. I am... We are not your enemy. So please speak to us!" (Ren) (TL: ... The ship has sailed...)

Despite running off his mouth, Ren's still fighting him at full force.

I'd like you to consider me too. His attacks are all centered on me, here. But there is a bit of sense in Ren's words.

I have no idea what sort of person Itsuki is supposed to be.

I can see his personality, but I have absolutely no idea who he was or what sort of life he lived.

"Justice is power. It's the proof of righteousness. It's to save the weak and crush the strong!" (Itsuki)

That again.

Those were the words Armor acted on when he abandoned him.

... Hmm?

I think I'm getting something here.

Let's reverse engineer Itsuki's actions.

Perhaps this man is acting based on the depressed life he lived in the other world?

Itsuki wishes to be a Hero.

Quite a few commercialized heroes were normal kids or bullied kids. They would transform and take out the bad guys. They would become the main character.

Famous heroes like Su○rman and Spi○man were like that, right?

Was his Shogun-sama play based on that?

When inflicting his Justice, Itsuki acted undercover a lot.

Was that his Hero complex?

I see. Heroes of Justice are strong. They save people.

The stories can be summarized as 'Good deeds are rewarded, and Evil is always punished.'

Justice wins. Evil loses.

It would be nice if reality was that simple.

"Even if people call me evil, I am a Hero of Justice!" (Itsuki)

He desired praise and worshiped heroes... The conclusion he arrived at was...

"Itsuki, what happened to you was exactly what you did to Rishia. That's why you don't want to face her. That's why you don't want to fight her."
(Naofumi)

"What!?" (Itsuki)

"If you want to fight me, you'll have to beat Rishia first. Otherwise, there's no way you're worthy of being my opponent." (Naofumi)

If I don't offer up some conditions, Itsuki will never pull back.

Then, I just have to confront Itsuki as the Evil he wants.

Scenes like this are common in TV shows.

It's what Motoyasu did to me when I got to this world.

When one side has an absolute advantage, they make some conditions for the battle.

This time, I have no reason to offer these conditions, but... I promised I would leave this to Rishia.

"If you won't do such a simple thing, then you're not worthy of challenging me." (Naofumi)

"Ku!" (Itsuki)

As I say this with an expression looking down upon him, he clenches his teeth.

So I was right.

This is just my guess, but Itsuki was probably bullied in his past world.

And when Rishia held Itsuki as the center of her life, they drove her out with severe bullying.

Because looking at the timid Rishia reminded him of the past he wanted to bury.

She was an existence that he never thought would rise to stand in his way.

There's no turning back for a Hero.

"I see. If I have to defeat this girl who's being controlled by evil, then I guess I have no choice." (Itsuki)

While keeping his eyes locked on me, Itsuki turns his bow towards Rishia. And Rishia deeply bows towards me with gratitude.

川澄 樹

リーシア

ラトティル

ラフタリア

フィーロ

天木 錬

ガエリオン

岩谷 尚文

人物紹介
盾の勇者の
成り上がり

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 244 – Justice vs. Justice

---

“Naofumi-san, thank you. Please leave the rest to me. I’ll definitely persuade Itsuki-sama.” (Rishia)

“Yeah, I’ll wait expectantly. Just like Female Knight, the current you should be able to do it.” (Naofumi)

Understanding the situation, Ren backs off.

Perhaps he believed that two on one was unfair for a duel, or perhaps he was moved by Rishia’s resolve.

I don’t know the reason. Whatever the case, he understands that he shouldn’t get involved in this case.

It seems that Itsuki has finally recognized Rishia as an enemy.

The problem would be if Rishia lost, but we’d be able to kill him with my Wrath Shield combined with Gaelion’s flames.

Luckily, Firo’s also here. We can definitely win.

Anyways, it’s quite a development for Rishia to be fighting Itsuki.

She was always talking about her devotion to him.

It must be hard on her to fight to the death with her beloved.

“I’m coming! Haaaaaaaaaah!” (Rishia)

Rishia closes in on Itsuki at quite a high speed.

“Damn! 「Saint Arrow Rain」 ! 「Spread Strafing」 !” (Itsuki)

Itsuki steps back as he continuously fires off arrows at Rishia.

The arrows he fires straight and the ones he curves are timed perfectly to strike multiple locations simultaneously.

Evading seems to be difficult.

“Hengen Musou Rapier Skill, 「Circle」 !” (Rishia)

But Rishia twirls her rapier in a full circle, and her blade makes a high shriek as it passes through the air. All of the arrows fired at her are mowed down. I thought Rishia wouldn't go all out, but it seems she fighting toe to toe with this Hero.

Could I be witnessing the true Hengen Musou style?

Female Knight said that Rishia was able to master the difficult skills.

It may be due to the influence of her natural talent, but Rishia has gotten strong.

Having all his arrows knocked down, Itsuki glares at her with an irritated expression.

“Itsuki-sama? I'm your opponent right now. Please pay more attention.”
(Rishia)

Even now, Itsuki occasionally glances over at me.

He must be seeing the person in front of him as merely an obstacle to reach me.

There's no way he can beat Rishia like that.

The current Rishia's stats, techniques, and determination are among the highest of all of my subordinates.

“Fu... It seems that you've learned how to talk, Rishia-san. But my true power is higher than this!” (Itsuki)

The dark aura envelops him, and Itsuki readies his bow.

「Rechtfanatiker!」

(TL: レヒトファナティッカー )

I feel a barrier-like thing being erected.

It feels similar to Firo's and Gaelion's sanctuaries.

“UOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!” (Itsuki)

Itsuki's eyes turn red and begin to give off a suspicious light.

Then the miasma envelops his body, forming a sort of armor.

It's a winged, full-body armor, reminiscent of an angel... but some parts here and there seem demonic in design.

It's definitely a status buffing skill.

What's more, it even created a set of armor.

The armor reminds me of the combat suits for those Rider and Ranger people.

Rishia is silently waiting for Itsuki to initiate an attack.

Her expression is exceedingly serious.

If we step in here, I don't think she'll forgive us.

Ren tries to step forwards, but I hold my arm out to stop him.

I won't let anything happen like that time with Ren.

I'm a man who keeps my promises. Be it for better or for worse.

“I'm coming, Rishia-san. With this, I'll make you understand me and assist in defeating Naofumi!” (Itsuki)

“No, I definitely won’t approve of the current Itsuki-sama. Even if it costs me my life!” (Rishia)

Rishia sticks her sword into the ground and bends down.

She extracts Chi out of the ground and coats the entire body of her weapon with it.

It’s like what Female Knight does the moment she hits a target, but the amount is clearly different.

“Hengen Musou Style… Special attack. First Stance…”

『Let this foolish sinner experience the retribution of God’s justice! With my belief as compensation, carve this punishment upon your body!』

「Gerechtigkeit-」

Before Itsuki can finish chanting his skill, Rishia pulls the blade out and begins running.

「Alleinherrschaft!」 (TL: ゲレティヒカイトアラインヘルシャフト)

「Sun!」 (Rishia)

Rishia begins emitting light as she thrusts her rapier at Itsuki.

I wonder why. I get the feeling she just got some Super-Divine power up. And what’s Itsuki’s skill doing!?

Countless orbs of light are scattering from his body. They destroy the ceiling and take on lion-like shapes in the sky. They then begin raining down endlessly upon Rishia.

… This is bad.

No matter how I look at it, that's a Curse Skill rivalling Blutopfer.
Even a Super-enhanced Rishia will have trouble dealing with it.

"Second Stance, 「Moon」 !" (Rishia)

The light emitting from Rishia grows brighter, and the lions shatter into crescent shaped fragments.

Amazing… This is the first time I've seen someone take a Curse Skill head on.

I don't know what its effect is supposed to be, but Itsuki seems to have a shocked expression at finding his skill nullified.

"There's still more! I haven't used my trump cards yet!" (Itsuki)

"Third Stance, 「Star」 !" (Rishia)

Without any hesitation, Rishia appears in front of Itsuki and begins thrusting at him.

It's a consecutive stream of attacks rivalling Female Knight's multilayered attacks.

Each successful hit destroys part of Itsuki's armor and causes it to disperse into nothingness.

"Gu…." (Itsuki)

The rain of blows continues to pour down on Itsuki, and I can feel that each and every one has Chi imbued in it.

That's no joke.

Since I've trained, I may be able to withstand it, but it would probably breach the defenses of a Cursed Ren or Motoyasu.

It's an attack with that much power.

"Quit messing with me!" (Itsuki)

Itsuki's aura explodes again, sending Rishia flying backwards.

"Fuee... There's still more!" (Rishia)

Rishia rolls as she hits the ground and gets up. She takes a deep breath and prepares for battle.

"Justice is not something that can be stopped by the likes of Rishia-san!
Don't go around destroying my special attacks!" (Itsuki)

And why should we listen to you?

This isn't a turn-based RPG.

If this were a real-time action game, you would try to destroy special attacks when you saw them.

... Ah, in Hero Media, the opponent waits for the Hero to finish his attack. Those high powered beams and kicks and those things where five weapons unite into one.

"Itsuki-sama, please stop it already. For the current you, it is impossible to stop me." (Rishia)

Rishia shouts with a voice filled with emotion.

It does look like she's the one with an overwhelming advantage here.

“Itsuki-sama, your justice is misled! Please release that dark power at once.”
(Rishia)

“Wrong! With this power that I’ve gotten my hands on, I will save the world! I will save the people!” (Itsuki)

The shape of the bow distorts…

And in response to that, his aura changes in color as well.

… Most likely, he’s awakened to another curse series as well.

If he strengthens himself with the effects of multiple curses, will Rishia be at a disadvantage?

Besides Motoyasu, the other Heroes haven’t used strengthening methods, I think…

“Are you alright, Rishia?” (Naofumi)

“Yes. I don’t need any help.” (Rishia)

“… I see. Then do what you will.” (Naofumi)

The situation seems to be taking a bad turn, but if Rishia says that, then I guess I’ll continue observing.

I won’t help until she asks for it.

Whether she wins or not is a separate matter.

If persuading him proves impossible, we’ll have to knock him out.

But even if he’s rotten, he’s still a Hero.

We’ll need a decisive blow.

“Take this! 「Shadow Bind」 !” (Itsuki)

Itsuki begins moving. He shoots an arrow at Rishia's feet.

I get an ominous feeling from the ground.

"Rishia-" (Naofumi)

But it didn't hit.

The arrow lands in the ground behind her.

"M-my body is...! (Rishia)

Before I could warn her, Rishia's movement was sealed.

It's as I thought.

It's a skill that can block enemy movement by hitting their shadow.

「Bind Arrow」 !

Itsuki fires off another restraint skill at the immobile Rishia.

The Arrow pins her to the wall behind her.

"I-I can still fight!" (Rishia)

"No! This is the end!" (Itsuki)

『Let this foolish sinner be burned to death by the Brass Bull. Writhe and scream in anguish under the wrath of the raging bull!』

「Phalaris Bull」 (TL: The Brazen Bull Torture method was created for Phalaris, the Tyrant of Acragas in the 5th century BC)

Like my Iron Maiden... A statue of a giant Bull opens up and locks Rishia within.

Then the statue glows as it fills with fire.

“Rishia!” (Naofumi)

Itsuki smiles as he confirms his victory.

It’s a skill that rivals my Iron Maiden.

“With this, it is my victory. Naofumi, prepare yourself.” (Itsuki)

Ku… I thought victory was assured. Was I too naive?

But first, I have to save Rishia.

Ren’s already running towards her.

But just when I was contemplating this…

Cracks begin to surface on the bull Itsuki summoned.

“What?” (Itsuki)

Itsuki’s face is once again colored by surprise.

And with a loud sound, the Bull crumbles to pieces, and Rishia jumps out.

“Fourth Stance! 「Devil」 !” (Rishia)

Rishia walks towards Itsuki, swinging her rapier in wide arcs.

What is this? The tip of Rishia’s sword is glowing, leaving black tracks in the air.

“Gu… M-my eyes!?” (Itsuki)

Itsuki covers his face with both hands and cries out.

Is it an attack that inflicts Blind?

That’s quite an efficient attack.

“Don’t just go about claiming victory on your own.” (Rishia)

Rishia says as she holds her shoulder and breathes deeply.

She even managed to thwart an execution device... Rishia’s growth is beginning to surprise even me.

Excluding Motoyasu, She’s probably the strongest out of all my subordinates right now.

But, perhaps Raphtalia can enhance herself this much as well.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 245 – Awakening

---

“Again and again. Do you plan on standing in my way until the very end!?”

(Itsuki)

Itsuki rubs his eyes as he shouts at Rishia.

“I definitely won’t forgive you! For you to mess with me! For you to mess with Justice! You are but the opening act, and I will have you get off the stage!” (Itsuki)

Itsuki’s bow starts warping again.

It loses its pure white ornaments and takes on a darker, bat-like design.

(TL: Itsuki is now randomly switching between Hiragana, Katakana and Kanji)

(ED: 4 U tO mEs5 w1th M3! fOr yU 2 mE55 w/jUst1cE!)

“Die… Those who rise against me… deserve death!” (Itsuki)

“Itsuki-sama, I’ll say it as many times as you want. Please abandon that power and return to normal. That dark power isn’t something you need to rely on.” (Rishia)

… Rishia is crying.

Is she weeping at seeing her beloved falling into darkness?

But I believe the current Rishia has enough power to stop him. She once again swings her sword.

Itsuki can only see Rishia with eyes of Hatred.

“For Justice! Die! You are. This World’s. EVIL!” (Itsuki)

He desperately draws back his bow again and again.

All of his arrows fly directly at Rishia.

And she is able to knock all of them down. But I hear an undesirable sound as she hits them.

“Master!” (Firo)

“Yeah…” (Naofumi)

That was the sound of Rishia’s weapon, the Speckle Rapier, breaking.

Rishia… Reinforces the broken parts with Chi as she continues swinging it.

But, it’s probably quite hard to send Chi into an object without a definite shape.

Her face is getting paler and paler.

And while she seems to be getting weaker, Itsuki is diving deeper and deeper into madness.

“Why are you laughing? Itsuki-sama, I have not lost yet.” (Rishia)

“What are you saying? You have already been defeated.” (Itsuki)

“No… Itsuki-sama said it before, didn’t he? Justice never gives up until the end.” (Rishia)

“Kukuku… How foolish. From the start, you were nothing but evil.” (Itsuki)

“… Itsuki-sama, no matter how much pain you put me through, no matter how much despair you make me experience, I will not give up. That’s what Itsuki-sama taught me when he saved me from despair.” (Rishia)

Her breathing settles down, and she assumes a stance to cast magic.

Since her sword is gone, she’ll resort to magic, I guess.

A will to never give up.

I... somehow feel kind of proud of her right now.

For that no-good girl to grow up this much is shocking.

Rishia was a fallen noble who even had to sell herself into slavery for the sake of money.

And the one who saved her from such despair was Itsuki. He became her goal. Her aspiration.

That's why she can overcome the despair before her right now.

Though she did lose to it once and jumped into the ocean, you could also say that she had enough willpower to do such a thing.

There are plenty of things that humans can do only if they have the resolve to die.

"I'll say it again, Itsuki-sama. Please release that power. And once more, in order to regain your lost trust, fight for the people of this world." (Rishia)

"This power is something I will never let go of. I. I. I will use this power to Save the World!" (Itsuki)

"Itsuki-sama! I declare that your justice is wrong! I saw what became of the Spear and the Sword, so I can say as such." (Rishia)

"Evil should shut up!" (Itsuki)

At the same time, Itsuki builds up his power again.

It was enough power to shock everyone watching.

It was nothing human like Rishia's growth, or Hengen Musou, or anything like that. It was nothing of such a low level.

Itsuki's bow begins shining brightly. Itsuki himself has to close his eyes.
I can only see it because I am watching from afar.

... The light flies out of his bow and flies right at Rishia.

Rishia has no time to dodge. She meets the light head on.
But she comes out without a single injury.
The light from the bow quietly settles down in her hand.

And I see Rishia's Slave Seal crumble and disappear into nothingness.

"Too bright..." (Firo)

"Kyuaa..." (Gaelion)

"My eyes hurt." (Taniko)

Firo, Gaelion, and the others squint their eyes as they observe the mysterious phenomenon.

"W-what was that?" (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

Atlas approaches me and begins speaking.

"From the midst of the sinister aura... a single, pure power flew towards Rishia-san." (Atlas)

"... Pure? Do the legendary weapons have even more hidden functions?"
(Naofumi)

So Itsuki's bow sent power to Rishia?

Is it lending its power to her... Is that how I should rationalize it?

“Rishia?” (Ren)

Ren calls out to Rishia.

“This is…” (Naofumi)

I was also surprised.

Within Rishia’s hand was a single knife.

Its blade seemed normal in every way, but the hilt had a strange gem embedded into it.

The entire item is semi-transparent. Its existence itself seems to hang in the balance.

Is it an item made with magic?

What exactly is it supposed to be?

Rishia clenches her hand, and it changes to a Kunai used by Ninjas.

And then it turned into a boomerang.

Does it have the power to change shape like the legendary weapons?

What does this mean?

“Wha- What the hell is happening!?” (Itsuki)

Even (TL: Speedwagon) Itsuki is afraid.

At the very least, it doesn’t seem that he’s scheming something.

“Is that so?… I understand.” (Rishia)

Rishia speaks quietly. Eventually she holds the boomerang out towards Itsuki and shouts.

“Itsuki-sama, even the Bow of Heroes refuses to accept your justice. In order to put a stop to your madness, it has lent me some power!” (Rishia)
“That’s a lie! Like I’d let that happen! There’s no way my bow would betray me!” (Itsuki)
“Now I will use this power to stop you!” (Rishia)
“Shut the hell up!” (Itsuki)

More black miasma pours out of his bow.

It’s gathered so thickly that I doubt Itsuki himself can see through it. And with such a demonic form, Itsuki rushes at Rishia.

『Let this foolish sinner experience god’s wrath for the sake of never ending peace! With my heart as the sacrifice, let the executioner send you to eternal sleep!』

「Heldenkaiser Reich」
(TL: ヘルトカイザーライヒ)

Itsuki pulls back his bow with all of his strength.

The bow multiplies and sprouts many wings imitating those of angels and devils, and all the bows fire at Rishia.

The shots come together and form the shape of a bear-like beast as they fly at Rishia.

“Hengen Musou Throwing style, 「Rolling Spin」 !” (Rishia)

After pouring Chi into it, Rishia throws her weapon at Itsuki.

The shining boomerang beheads the bear, and its body falls to pieces.

“Wha… You bitch! Just how much more do you plan to resist my absolute justice!?” (Itsuki)

“You’re wrong. Because you stepped on the wrong path, your bow is merely trying to correct you.” (Rishia)

Rishia raises her right hand, and the boomerang returns to it.

And Rishia changes it to a Chakram.

Her eyes flicker for a moment. They seem to change color in my eyes.

She’s concentrating chi on her eyes.

“Right now, I can see everything. I can see the flow of the energy tying Itsuki-sama down. I can see the power taking over your bow… with this…” (Rishia)

Rishia faces Itsuki and tosses her weapon

「Erst Throw」！「Zweit Throw」！「Dritte Throw」！

Erst?

I thought that naming convention only existed with the legendary weapons.

Is that a legendary weapon?

One of the Seven Star ones?

The three weapons Rishia threw each take on different shapes.

A knife, a hatchet, and a short spear.

What sort of weapon is that?

Even if it is a Seven Star Weapon, I can’t tell what sort of weapon it is. The Spear is supposed to be Motoyasu.

And each of the three weapons thrown seems to fall into a different category.

「Tornado Throw」 !

The weapons circle Itsuki at a high speed, starting up a whirlwind. It blows away the black aura.

“GUAAAAAAAAaAA!” (Itsuki)

A Chakram appears in her hand again, and she tosses it at Itsuki’s bow.

“Itsuki-sama, by your word, I have proven that you are not justice… please, won’t you start over?” (Rishia)

The chakram come into contact with Itsuki’s bow and returns to Rishia’s hands.

And… Itsuki’s bow… makes a loud sound and begins crumbling.

“GUAAAAA… My… my new power… my salvation…” (Itsuki)

“I’ll say it once more, but you’re wrong. And Itsuki-sama, please remember this. There are as many forms of justice as there are people in the world. One’s Justice is… always evil in another’s eyes. My justice is the same. Because from the start, the opposite of Justice isn’t evil. It’s justice. Evil is merely the label for the loser’s justice.” (Rishia)

“Wrong… I am… I am… not evil. I’m not bad. I’m not wrong. Everyone is… He is…!?” (Itsuki)

“Even without justice, it is easy to judge and condemn others. But I think that accepting them is important as well. I’d like to believe that any person, no matter how bad, has a chance of rehabilitation.” (Rishia)

“U…uuuu…” (Itsuki)

The bow that had taken on a weird shape crumbles and reverts to the one I first saw when I came to this world.

And as if his plug was pulled out, Itsuki falls to the ground.

From what I can see, it seems that the sinister aura has vanished.

“Atlas, how is it?” (Naofumi)

“Yes. Rishia has completely destroyed the source of the bad aura with her new power.” (Atlas)

“I see. Rishia, what is that weapon?” (Naofumi)

“Um… I have no idea.” (Rishia)

Oy, you swung it around without knowing anything?

You even shouted out skill names!

“Gu… Justice!” (Armor)

Damn. Armor’s waking up.

He sure is tough.

And for him to be screaming out 『Justice』 as soon as he wakes up…

The justice cult is amazing.

So even though we beat up Itsuki, the Justice Virus will continue to circulate.

No, but, could the mysterious weapon in Rishia’s hands possibly be…

“Mu… There!” (Rishia)

Rishia throws her chakram.

They twirl around armor in a strange trajectory, cutting off the dark power flowing into him before returning to her hand.

“Ah… This… is!?” (Armor) (TL: SPARTA!?)

Armor’s eyes return to those of a man overcome by desire.

“Hero of the Bow! How could you be defeated!? How pitiful.” (Armor)

“You’re in no place to say that. What sort of king are you supposed to be!?”
(Naofumi)

(TL: Watch the Vocaloid song Shinde shimau no wa nasakenai! It’s not really referencing that, but it’s referencing the same line from old RPGs.)

He’s not dead or anything.

He’s not going to be dragged to that annoying save point inside of the castle.

Dammit! You’re making me remember Trash!

“Ah, right! I definitely won’t forgive you for using Itsuki-sama when he was injured!” (Rishia)

Changing her weapon to the boomerang, Rishia throws it at Armor.

It gives a nice sound as it collides.

Torment him more.

“Ugu…” (Armor)

Two more collide with his face and stomach. Armor faints.

Next time, I’ll be the one to beat the living daylights out of you.

"I've been wondering for a while, but what did you do?" (Naofumi)

"Eh? It seems that if I throw it, I can cut off the dark power surrounding the controlled people." (Rishia)

So that means we can undo the Justice Zombie's brainwashing!?

There's no need for me to use Shield Prison on each and every one of them. This situation got quite out of hand, but the result isn't as bad as I thought it would be.

"Good job, Rishia!" (Naofumi)

"Fuee!?" (Rishia)

"And like Atlas, you can now see Chi, right? Though it looks like you have to concentrate to do it." (Naofumi)

"Ah, yes. I can see it for some reason." (Rishia)

Rishia, you've grown.

Continue doing your part as my convenient pawn.

"Then Rishia, you understand what we have to do now, right?" (Naofumi)

"Fuee... I know. We have to solve the mess Itsuki-sama made, right?"
(Rishia)

"Yeah. And for your sake, let's just say that Itsuki was being used, and that the fault lies with the people who manufactured those daggers." (Naofumi)

Is it a legendary weapon? Is it one of the Seven Star Weapons? Its abilities seem to be high.

And Rishia owes me quite a few favors.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 246 – Revolution

---

“And like that, Itsuki’s out of the picture. Just in case, we should check out the castle town too.” (Naofumi)

“Firo is sleepy.” (Firo)

“Kyuaa…” (Gaelion)

The monsters yawn drowsily.

“It’s definitely late, but this is the time where we should be working hard!” (Atlas)

Though Atlas gave such a declaration, Firo and the others continuously relay their fatigue.

They’ve been constantly fighting for a while, and its long past bed time.

“Don’t worry about it. Everyone gather here.” (Naofumi)

Let’s see. I think the maximum for the Portal Shield was 7 people… but If I think about it, Ren has his Transfer Sword as well, so we can move even more.

It may be best to check the castle before returning home…

“Ren, can you teleport to the castle town?” (Naofumi)

“No.” (Ren)

Well he is supposed to be under house arrest at my place. It’s only been recently that I’ve been giving him the right to move around freely.

And the only ones who can undo the brainwashing are me and Rishia. What should we do?

"We also need someone to look over Itsuki. Rishia, you're one of the keys to resolving this incident, so I have to put you to work." (Naofumi)

"Fue..." (Rishia)

"Just think of it as if for Itsuki's sake." (Naofumi)

"I know." (Rishia)

"Now then, for now... Let's go to the Castle Town. Witch's probably there."
(Naofumi)

"Naofumi, want me to look after Itsuki?" (Ren) (TL: THE SHIP HAS SAILED)

Ren volunteers for the job.

I guess that's not a bad idea.

The Castle Town has Motoyasu, so they should be okay to some extent.

Instead of keeping all of the Heroes in one place, it's probably best for me to leave one here.

That means, including me, I need seven, so... Me, Atlas, Firo, Rishia, Gaelion, and Taniko?

The Filo Rials we used to get here should stay to help hold down Itsuki when he gets up.

They haven't class upped yet, so their levels are stuck in the 30s though. It's best not to move him around too much... But taking him with us seems dangerous.

I want to leave some people who can block teleportation with him as well.

"Then Ren, Gaelion and Taniko will be turning Itsuki in with the Three Hero Church remnants." (Naofumi)

"Got it." (Ren)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

"We just have to take these people to the village, right?" (Taniko)

“Yeah. Ren has a transfer skill, so you should be fine. Now the people left are…” (Naofumi)

The Filo Rials’ eyes are shining. They’re signaling for me to choose them. It’s good that they’re motivated, but don’t stare at me like that.

“You all…” (Naofumi)

“KUE!” (Filo Rials)

They cry out happily.

For the love of…

“I guess it should work out fine.” (Naofumi)

“Yeah…” (Ren)

And like that, Me and Ren divided into two groups, and activated our transfer skills.

The point I teleport to in Melromark’s Castle Town is the same one I always use.

The space I set is inside of the Castle, so that works out perfectly.

But as always, this spot reeks of dust.

I peer out of the door from the room I appeared in, and check the situation.

I hear the sound of multiple footsteps scampering all around the place.

“Bring down the Evil Queen who discriminates against her own people!”

Words like that echo through the hallways.

So they were here as well.

“Atlas and Rishia, can you feel anything?” (Naofumi)

Let Rishia look outside.

"Yes, there is some negative aura coming from that direction." (Rishia)

"Right." (Atlas)

Yeah, as I thought.

"Ah, right, Naofumi-sama?" (Atlas)

"What Is it?" (Naofumi)

"The nature of the dark Chi seems to have changed." (Atlas)

"Changed? What do you mean?" (Naofumi)

"How should I put this? Since Rishia defeated that person, it seems to be losing a sense of order." (Atlas)

"I see." (Naofumi)

I think Itsuki called it the Justice Bow or something.

That bow had some sort of controlling effect.

I don't really know what changed. We'll have to find out through battle.

"Alright, Rishia. You go around dispelling brainwashing with that weapon."
(Naofumi)

"Okay." (Rishia)

As I issue orders, I throw open the door and run out.

"W-who are you!?"

A group of eight soldiers with strange eyes turn towards us and get into battle formation.

"Tei!" (Rishia)

But before they can do anything, Rishia throws her chakram, and they circle each soldier individually.

Long range projectiles sure are nice.

I can only take attacks and counter to some extent.

My weapon is supposed to be a defensive armament. It has a good affinity with long range magic and weapons.

"Gaha..." (Soldiers)

As if they were marionettes who had had their strings cut, the soldiers all fall to the ground. But they get up soon after.

"What? Where... is this?" (Soldier)

"Are you up yet?" (Naofumi)

"The Hero of the Shield..." (Soldier)

"Are you guys part of the Three Hero Church?" (Naofumi)

"N-no... but for you to be an ally is... a bit..." (Soldier)

There are still quite a few soldiers who hate me.

But, work being work, they do follow the Queen's orders without complaint.

That doesn't change their opinion of me, though.

But it's not something I have to worry about. I don't really care what they think.

The soldiers are avoiding eye contact as they speak.

"Did something happen? What's the situation?" (Naofumi)

"My consciousness was vague..." (Soldier)

"Just tell me what you know. Speak already." (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Soldier)

The soldiers' story went as such.

This evening, various groups rose up, and started to perform revolutionary action.

They called for the death of the Discriminatory Queen.

The soldiers rushed out to suppress this rebellion.

But after a while, the soldiers that were supposed to suppress the enemy forces ended up joining them, and the situation went out of hand.

And by the time the sun had set, the rebellious faction succeeded in occupying part of the city, and various nobles began supporting them.

That's around the time we had begun our action.

The representative of the Rebellious Faction was Witch.

Quite a few people had anticipated that the nobles would rise up in protest at some point. A few people even tried to instigate them to get rid of them. But they never thought it would escalate to this level.

I can't really say anything here.

Well, you know... If I had the ability to predict that they would invent a weapon with brainwashing powers to try and usurp the country's royalty, I would be a prophet by now.

They do have the Shadow information system, but I guess they never managed to dig as far as their scientific research projects.

I didn't expect them at all until I encountered them myself.

And unless a random passerby casually took a stab at you, you wouldn't realize they were brainwashed.

And more than anything else, the existence of a weapon with such abilities would usually be denied by the general public.

Even if it were to be reported, there's a high chance the report would not be taken seriously.

But that doesn't matter for now. I can ask all the questions I want later.

The Shadows work as this country's secret spy service, but it's not good to rely on them too much.

There numbers seem to have dropped during the Spirit Turtle incident, so there's no helping it.

And if I think about it, there are some shadows in the Three Hero Church as well.

Could members like that still be running rampant in their ranks?

They're not just limited to working in this country, so they're definitely short on personnel.

(TL: Apply to be a Shadow now)

... Since the start of this incident, I haven't seen a single one. They may be doing something important.

"And? Why are you walking around brainwashed here?" (Naofumi)

"That it... When we were trying to evacuate people... A person began attacking from within our midst and... I can't remember anything else."

(Soldier)

So it was a Zombie Outbreak after that.

When even a single infected person gets in, a safe building becomes a prison with no escape.

In hind-sight, I'd say that their organization was bad.

However, only criminals would be able to immediately assume that their allies were suddenly being brainwashed.

Even though Melty told tales of the brainwashing Demon Lord, stories are stories. Jumping to a conclusion based on them is a tad bit hasty.

Even if I remembered the tale, I'd collect a bit more information first.

In that situation, perhaps the best course of action would be to hold down a fort, and wait for reinforcements.

At least at this point in time.

Or perhaps there is meaning in holding down a fort in itself.

Causing this incident in itself... probably isn't their final goal.

Even if the Revolutionary faction gets taken out, various problems will remain, and outside countries will take advantage of those.

Even if the Queen were only pretending to be my ally, based on her position, she wouldn't take such risks.

I don't have enough information. I need to gather some more.

"Then Witch is waiting for you guys to open up the castle?" (Naofumi)

"Unfortunately..." (Soldier)

I have no idea what state the castle is in. I guess I have no choice but to drag these guys along.

Looking at it from a different perspective, the fact that we... The fact that Rishia is here means that we're able to destroy the foundations of their plan. If we keep dispelling the brainwashing, their forces will be lower than expected.

“Okay. First, we’ll need a full grasp of the situation. We’ll need to confirm the Queen’s safety.” (Naofumi)

“Yes!” (Soldier)

“Do you know where she is?” (Naofumi)

“I think she’s holed up at the top of the castle.” (Soldier)

“Then we’ll head there.” (Naofumi)

Taking the soldiers with us, we headed towards the Queen.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 247 – The Castle Town Riot

---

On our way to the top of the castle, we meet multiple brainwashed parties, but each Time, Rishia throws her weapon and cancels it out.

The higher we climb, the more we encounter, and through our dispelling of the brainwashing, our forces increase.

While we climbed, I was able to look out of the windows at the situation below.

Many fires have broken out, and smoke rises from parts of the city.

Hmm?

Is it my imagination? I see dust clouds racing across the scenery.

That... It's best not to think about it.

I give up on the outside, and begin searching the castle itself.

Eventually, I run into a wall made out of a thick layer of ice.

It's most likely a barricade the Queen and her magicians made.

She did say her specialty was ice.

The brainwashed people are slamming their weapons into the wall in an attempt to break it or casting magic on it.

Since we can easily bring them to our side, there's no problem.

"What should we do? Should we break through here?" (Naofumi)

"You're smashing it?" (Firo)

"There doesn't seem to be another path..." (Naofumi)

We could scale the walls outside, but they probably have defences set up there.

"Firo will try." (Firo)

"Okay." (Rishia)

"I'll also help." (Atlas)

Firo and Atlas begin running towards the ice.

"Ah, oy!" (Naofumi)

If I just leave it to Rishia, we may be able to break it from afar.

"Deryaaaaah!" (Firo)

"Tei!" (Atlas)

Firo and the Filo Rial's kicks, on top of Atlas's... vital thrust... cause the wall to crumble easily.

"It was quite hard. Was that because of the magic?" (Firo)

"Probably." (Atlas)

In the end, they're all muscle-heads.

The guards we saved seem to be surprised.

Now that I think about it, I haven't encountered anyone from my village here yet.

We proceed, and run into a door sealed with ice.

I put my ear to it, and hear a familiar voice.

It's probably one of my slaves.

I see. So they've pushed the Queen back all the way here.
I'll be able to increase my fighting force.

"Firo and Atlas!" (Naofumi)

"Yes~." (Firo)

"As you command!" (Atlas)

We break down the door, and peer inside.
And for some reason, we find the slaves tied up lying on the floor.
I ask Rishia to dispel their brainwashing.

It's always nice to increase ally count.
But why are these slaves here? They don't seem to know either.
Were they defeated? Were they taken as prisoners of war?

The inside of the castle has been locked down.
So how did Witch slip them in this far?

"Oy, what did Witch declare, anyways?" (Naofumi)

I direct the question to the soldiers.

"Yes, she said that by giving preferential treatment to Demi-Humans, the Queen was trampling on the traditions the proud country of Melromark had carried out for generations. And that's why their position was the logical one." (Soldier)

That means that using Demi-Human slaves to defeat the Queen...
Wouldn't be a possible measure.
They need to have the Queen captured by Human hands...

But they could just order my slaves to kill the Queen.

And then declare that they would never forgive the Demi-Humans who would cause such unrest.

Or that she would never forgive the Demi-Humans who killed her mother. She could cause the public to harbor even greater resentment against them.

That's possible.

In the end, that means that they would turn their forces against me, and once again wage war with Silt Welt.

And like that, Witch, the Three Hero Church, and the Revolutionary Faction would all gain power.

That seems like a possible plan for that Bitch.

"Anyways, we have to march forwards." (Naofumi)

Taking the slaves with us, we proceed forwards by destroying more walls of ice.

We finally reached the top.

"... There's no one here." (Naofumi)

The room the Queen had apparently barricaded herself in was empty.

"What happened?" (Naofumi)

I search the rest of the castle. But there's nothing.

But some of the brainwashed soldiers we found after that claimed that they were helping the Queen before they were attacked.

It seems that these soldiers lured the enemy out, and sealed them behind walls of ice. Everyone was getting desperate.

“Is there some sort of emergency exit or something?” (Naofumi)

Though such an exit holds no meaning if one’s own forces are brainwashed.
For even Witch not to know is beyond wishful thinking.

I should have brought Melty along.

She would probably be knowledgeable.

“So the only thing we can do is to check the outside.” (Naofumi)

“Yes.” (Atlas)

“Fue… Where’s the Queen?” (Rishia)

The most important person here lets out a pitiful voice.

She looks really unreliable.

No one would believe that she shouted such powerful words at Itsuki, and defeated a Hero devoured by multiple curses.

“Ah, right Rishia. So in the end, is your weapon a Hero’s weapon or not?”
(Naofumi)

“Well… I have no idea.” (Rishia)

“Then why can it change form?” (Naofumi)

“A large selection of weapon options appeared in my field of vision, so I picked some.” (Rishia)

Is it different from my Shield?

I still don’t know if it’s a Seven Star Weapon or not.

“Can you see reinforcement menus or help screens?” (Naofumi)

“Reinforcement? Help? I don’t see anything like that…” (Rishia)

None?

Just what could it be, this transparent changing weapon?

It has quite a bit of power.

"But something called SP did appear on my status." (Rishia)

"Fumu." (Naofumi)

Let's just say she's a Hero for now. I can investigate it after this incident is resolved.

We talk as we go back down the path we came. We arrive at the Castle's gates.

The gates were wide open.

We walk to the plaza.

And there was a painting of hell. Corpses were piled all around... or not.

"Uu... J-justice..."

"Our cause..."

Justice Zombies were tied up and lying all over the place.

They are either unconscious or immobile.

Even so, they continue to preach out their Justice.

I keep all of this to myself. I say nothing to Rishia.

These people who were forced to use justice to judge people ended up being judged.

"What the hell happened here?" (Naofumi)

At the same time the words escaped my lips...

“Ha HA! Angels! Onward we march!” (Motoyasu)

“”Yes!”” (Angel Army)

Standing on a cart pulled by many Filo Rials, Motoyasu kicks up a large cloud of dust as he passes me.

“...”

And they simply run over everyone that looks like a Justice Zombie in their path.

Humans are being thrown into the air like garbage. I may get traumatized from this.

So Motoyasu is behind this terrifying spectacle.

... What is he even trying to do?

“T-thank you.”

“Don’t worry about it! My Father-in-Law, the Hero of the Shield asked me to protect this town!” (Motoyasu)

An Adventurer who had escaped brainwashing goes up to Motoyasu.

Um... Yeah. It seems that the Castle Town’s problems have all been solved through violence.

They sure are fast. Ah, right. I think Motoyasu’s Three have class upped.

“Oy, Motoyasu!” (Naofumi)

“Ah!? Could the person there be Firo-tan and Father-in-Law!? As you asked, I have been working hard to quell the Riot in the Castle Town!” (Motoyasu)

As I call out to him, he shows off his white teeth and approaches us at an amazing speed.

Now I really want to run away.

“Mu! Go away!” (Firo)

Ah, my hand instinctively went to my Shield.

I almost unintentionally used my Portal Shield.

It’s a good thing it’s still cooling down.

“Are you sure you haven’t become the cause of a disaster yet?” (Naofumi)

“What are you saying, Father-in-Law!? I’m working this hard for you. Won’t you offer some praise to the Angels?” (Motoyasu)

“”KUE!”” (Angels)

“…” (Naofumi)

My head hurts.

It’s a pain, so I randomly pat a Filo Rial’s head.

“Where’s Witch? I think she was making a base somewhere around here.”
(Naofumi)

“Witch? Who is that?” (Motoyasu)

Is he denying her very existence?

In reality, he only sees Firo anyways.

And like this, he does listen to my orders. I won’t complain… though I want him to change how he calls me.

“It’s the name of the woman who threw you away.” (Naofumi)

“Ah, now that I think about it, there was a pig like that. Though she wasn’t here when I came." (Motoyasu)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

Which means there's nothing but Justice Zombies in this town. And Motoyasu is offering relief to the survivors.

What's happening?

"Master." (Firo)

"What's up?" (Naofumi)

"Well, you see, I smell Raphtalia-oneechan's scent." (Firo)

"Raphtalia's?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah. Over there." (Firo)

The direction she pointed was outside the city. Towards Ryuut Village.

But it's finally come to tracking scent... Her monster abilities come out here. Or is that common sense for animals?

"For now, Rishia, you need to go around the Castle Town returning the Zombies to their senses. We'll look for the Queen, Witch and apparently Raphtalia. Everyone else should help out with Rishia's work." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Rishia)

"Father-in-Law! What do you want me to do?" (Motoyasu)

"Continue taking down the Zombies, and gather them in one place. Help anyone who hasn't been brainwashed." (Naofumi)

"Understood, Father! Now, my Angels, onwards!" (Motoyasu)

"KUE!" (Filo Rials)

"Ya~y!" (Filo Rials)

Later, this incident came to be known as the Witc's Rebellion, or not. It actually came to be known as the Melromark Holy Bird Riot. But that doesn't really matter to me.

I get on Firo, and she begins running.

"Ah, Naofumi-sama, don't leave me behind!" (Atlas)

With Atlas.

"Alright, Firo. If Raphtalia is here, we should go find her." (Naofumi)

I shout out as we barrel down the main road.

The Weapon Shop enters my field of vision.

... Is the Old Man alright? I don't want to find him as an enemy later.

I want to believe he's okay. I'll check quickly.

"Firo, stop by the Weapon shop." (Naofumi)

"Oka~y." (Firo)

I carefully scan the inside of the dark store.

The shelves... Have been cleared of all weapons.

"Old Man... Are you here?" (Naofumi)

...There's no response.

I cautiously enter the store.

I put my hand on the handle to the only door inside of it, and open it.

"You thief! For the sake of Justice, die!"

"Uwah!" (Naofumi)

The Old Man? No, it's an adventurer I've never seen before.

Firo and Atlas make him faint immediately.

Who's a thief? Isn't that you?

"Ah, that surprised me." (Naofumi)

I thought it was the old man, and my heart skipped a beat.

"Naofumi-sama, it seems that besides this person, there is no one else in the building." (Atlas)

"Yeah, there's no one." (Firo)

"I see." (Naofumi)

Atlas can see with Chi, so she can search the area to some extent.

And Firo has her feral instincts, so I guess there's no doubt about it.

I hope that the Old Man was able to escape safely.

He may be loitering around somewhere.

Anyways, why was this adventurer here?

I'll leave it as one of the mysteries of Zombies.

"Okay, we're starting again." (Naofumi)

"Ye~s!" (Firo)

And so we passed through the Castle Town gate that was supposed to be barred during the night. We run across the plains, barely illuminated by the rising sun.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 248 – Raising an Army

---

It's been a few minutes after that.

As we were heading towards Ryuuto Village, we encountered people who appeared to be seeking refuge.

It seemed a soldier was keeping a lookout so everyone could evacuate smoothly.

"Ah, Hero of the Shield-sama!" (Soldier)

The soldier saw me and began to speak with a relieved expression.

"Let me just ask. What are you guys doing?" (Naofumi)

"We're in the middle of evacuating citizens because of the violent revolutionaries in the Castle Town. We were able to rescue everyone safely, thanks to the Hero of the Spear-sama." (Soldier)

"I see. Now, let me release the brainwashing being caused by the revolutionaries in the Castle Town Plaza. I should probably also resolve this conflict personally." (Naofumi)

"I-is that so!" (Soldier)

Starting with the soldier, the refugees' faces brightened at my words.

"Where's the Queen?" (Naofumi)

"She has been directing the evacuation until just then, but she's taking a break now." (Soldier)

And with that, the soldier pointed to a carriage residing near the refugees.

"Shall I call for her?" (Soldier)

"No, I'll go directly so there's no problem." (Naofumi)

I get off Firo and approach the carriage.

There, Raphtalia and the Old Hag, as well as Fohl and some of the slaves, were resting.

"Naofumi-sama!" (Raphtalia)

"Atla!" (Fohl)

Raphtalia rushed over joyfully while looking at my face.

Futhermore, Fohl was running over to Atla in the same manner.

Over there is, it's inconsequential.

"It's been a while." (Naofumi)

"Yeah... I really...missed you." (Raphtalia)

"Well, there's a mountain of stuff to catch up on, but why are you guys here?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, right. We were coming to ask for Naofumi-sama's permission to Class Up and were just passing by some meadows when we saw smoke rising from the castle unexpectedly, so we came rushing over in a hurry."

(Raphtalia)

"That's right. We never thought that we'd encounter such a strange situation." (Old Hag)

The Old Hag added.

You haven't heard but...

Honestly, I'm not good with this old woman.

“Atla! Atla~! Big bro missed you!” (Fohl)

“Hang on big brother, don’t come so close, please. Naofumi-sama is watching!” (Atla)

Atla pushed Fohl away, looking like she really disliked him rubbing their cheeks together.

I haven’t seen Fohl in a while but he’s grown somewhat.

Atla still seems like a child, but Fohl seems to be approaching adulthood already.

That’s the reality when comparing visually.

Compared to Atla who is around ten years old, Fohl is probably around 16 ~ 17 years.

Speaking of which, his looks are somewhat reminiscent of Trash….

It’s what the Queen said so it’s better not to worry about it.

“So the ones who helped the Queen were Raphtalia and your group?”
(Naofumi)

“Yes. We rode in front of those who were trying to start a revolution.”
(Raphtalia)

“It’s Iwatani-sama….” (Queen)

While I was talking to Raphtalia, the door of the carriage opened and out came the Queen.

“Right now I’m learning about the situation.” (Naofumi)

“Is that so. Shall I report as well then.” (Queen)

“Where’s Trash?” (Naofumi)

The Queen silently points to within the carriage.

Trash was absentmindedly loitering inside the carriage with an extremely complicated expression on his face.

“Our beloved daughter started the revolutionary. It should be alright for him to utter his complaints freely.” (Queen)

“You also have it quite tough.” (Naofumi)

“I did try to comfort him though?” (Queen)

Really? I can only see a disheartened couple-like relationship though. I really don't understand the relationship of these two.

“That sort of thing is fine. Tell me about the incident from start to end. I heard some of it from the unbrainwashed soldiers in the castle but... it's probably better for me to tell you the good news on my end first.”
(Naofumi)

I reported to the Queen about the unaccounted Itsuki, the castle soldiers' tale, my land and the stronghold of the revolutionaries, and that Rishia became able to release the brainwashing.

I also spoke of the mysterious weapon obtained by my companion, Rishia. I suspect that it's most likely a Seven Star Weapon, but I wonder how it is really.

“Is this the Hero's Weapon-like thing that came from the Hero of the Bow-sama's Bow?” (Queen)

“Yeah, you can see it seems to belong to the projectile weapon category.”
(Naofumi)

There were throwing knives and throwing axes, spear, slings, boomerangs, arrows, as well as shuriken.

To summarise the characteristics, there were a lot of projectile weapons. There shouldn't be any mistake.

"That's strange. There should already be a Seven Star Projectile Hero but····." (Queen)

"What about them dying and the title becoming Rishia's?" (Naofumi)

"Just like the existence of the Four Saint Heroes are known, the Seven Star Heroes also have their existence known so that shouldn't be." (Queen)

"I see···" (Naofumi)

What kind of reasoning was that?

"Well let's leave that decision for later. Tell me about the other thing."
(Naofumi)

"Then—" (Queen)

The Queen talked about the events in the castle.

With Raphtalia supplementing some things in the middle.

A riot was caused in the Castle Town due to Justice Zombies, and Witch hoisted a flag in the plaza in front of the castle as a representative of the revolutionaries.

"I, Malty Melromarc, look down on Melromarc's traditions and I pledge to overthrow the racist Queen Mirelia Q Melromarc for the sake of governing this country!" (Witch)

Witch raised her sword and declared loudly, as if there had been no change in her name.

Surrounding her were the remnants of the Three Hero Sect and the revolutionary nobles, and it seemed the brainwashed citizens were also drawn along.

""Yeah~!"" (Justice Zombies)

The Justice Zombies raised their voices in agreement with Witch's declaration.

Apparently, the castle gates were closed for the time being and the Queen's preparations for ambushing were progressing.

Dragon Knights tried penetrating the castle walls at times but it seemed counterattacks were made in time.

However, there were justice zombies inside the castle as well, and the preparations were at an inadequate level so the soldiers opened the castle gates.

"Go!" (Witch)

At Witch's order, a suspicious robed person charges ahead and enters the castle.

Of course, this robed guy is one of my slaves who has been brainwashed. As I expected, it seems that the plot that Witch thought of was a plan which involved marching into the castle and having one of the slaves I raised kill the Queen.

"Wait right there!" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia's party arrived to calmly clear away the Justice Zombies immediately afterwards.

"Just what are you doing!" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia proclaimed with her sword pointing towards Witch.

"Oh? Well isn't it the Demon King of the Shield's right hand man?" (Witch)
[T/N: Naofumi has been promoted from devil 悪魔 to demon king 魔王 XD]

Witch quietly scowled at Raphtalia and replied.

"That speech of yours really... can't be called a surprise. To cause such damage while conducting a revolution!" (Raphtalia)

Sensing the situation, Raphtalia glared back at Witch and proclaimed.

"Such damage? I am a victim. Of the spear-wielding imposter, of the sword-wielding imposter and... well, let's leave this to later." (Witch)

Witch probably thought of Raphtalia as a summer bug flying in the flames. She laughed.

"So who is correct. Let us verify it here." (Witch)

Holding a strange dagger I have no recollection of in her free hand, Witch pointed her sword at Raphtalia.

"Two sword style...?" (Raphtalia)

"I'll let you watch me personally reform the Right Hand of the Demon King of the Shield." (Witch)

Cheers broke out in the vicinity.

If she refused the match then everyone here will probably attack.

It doesn't look to be an amount that can't be handled but that suspicious dagger is on my mind, and I don't understand why those in agreement with Witch are raging here either.

"...I understand. Teacher and everyone else, please watch quietly."

(Raphtalia)

Rather than using her power to settle the problem of being outnumbered, Raphtalia chooses to accept Witch's proposal.

Witch is also an idiot~

Does she really think she can beat Raphtalia?

...Come to think of it, Witch and Raphtalia have fought once before.

Back then was before Raphtalia had her Class Up and Witch pushed through with the difference in levels.

Witch hasn't seen Raphtalia since then and even with my sudden growth in strength, she probably doesn't expect Raphtalia to have become as strong.

I wonder if she looked over the documents gathered by the revolutionaries and remnants of the Three Heroes Sect?

...Nah. Witch is only concerned with knowledge about using others, she wouldn't think to make such calculations herself.

She probably intends to lure Raphtalia into a trap while calling it a 1 vs 1 battle this time as well.

Or rather, she intends to brainwash Raphtalia using the dagger.
She will win with if she gets a single hit in, so even if her ability is inferior, she can end it with one shot.

“Then as usual…” (Revolutionary noble)

A revolutionary noble raised his hand.

“Fight!” (Revolutionary noble)

He signalled the start of the match.

“Teryaaaaaaa!” (Witch)

Witch faced Raphtalia and brandished her sword with a large swing.

“Ha!” (Raphtalia)

With a small exchange, she stuck Witch’s abdomen with the hilt of her sword.

“Ugu—” (Witch)

“This is for luring Naofumi-sama into a trap.” (Raphtalia) [T/N: Refers to Malty joining Naofumi’s party in the very beginning and then betraying him (stealing the chainmail and funds)]

Incidentally, she made a kick.

“This is for framing Naofumi-sama.” (Raphtalia) [T/N: The false rape incident.]

And then she struck the top of Witch's shoulder with the sword.

"Gyaaaaa!" (Witch)

"And this is for instigating the 1-on-1 fight between the Hero of the Spear and Naofumi-sama and then using an underhanded trick in the end."

(Raphtalia) [T/N: Refers to the fight after the banquet where Raphtalia's slave status is revealed and Witch cheating with wind magic.]

She extracted the sword and this time cut at the legs.

"There's still more to come. This is for putting a bounty on Naofumi-sama and trying to kill Melty-chan." (Raphtalia)

"Eep!" (Witch)

Witch inhaled, after undergoing a torturous barrage of attacks during which she couldn't help but scream.

However, Raphtalia didn't loosen her hand.

Well, she did cause a lot of severe hardships, even if it wasn't to me.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 249 – Complete Victory

---

“Did you know? Melty-chan still thinks of you as her own sister. And for such a simple reason, she will always believe in you. Do you want to betray her feelings?” (Raphtalia)

Witch’s movements dull for a second, and Raphtalia launches a powerful slash at her.

Wait. I’m pretty sure Melty never really believed in Witch from the start… She may have talked about it with Firo and Raphtalia when I wasn’t listening.

“Wai-” (Witch)

“I won’t wait. Naofumi-sama is the same. Naofumi-sama believed in you as his only companion, and swore to himself that he would treat you dearly. He thought of you so highly, yet… you trampled on his emotions. You broke him.” (Raphtalia)

Even as she says this, Raphtalia’s movements are so calm and collected that even I am shocked.

It must be because Witch isn’t deserving of any mercy.

The only thing I can say is, “Good Job.”

“Do you know just how many people have grieved, suffered, and fell into despair because of your actions? … What I’m currently doing to you is less than ten percent of the pain Naofumi-sama suffered.” (Raphtalia)

Eventually, Witch emerges beat up with several cuts on her body. Raphtalia steps backwards to create distance.

“And now you’re going to resort to underhand tricks, right? Go, have your people cast their healing magic on you. I’ll just beat you up more to compensate.” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia confidently provokes her.

In response, Witch’s face turns red, and she screams out.

“You bitch! Who do you think you’re facing right now!? You turned your blade on the person who’s going to become this Country’s Queen!” (Witch)

“Like I care. Also, this country’s future Queen is Melty. There’s no space for you. Right now, you’re just a normal adventurer… no, a traitor.” (Raphtalia)

Cool headed ‘til the end, Raphtalia glares at Witch with cruel eyes.

“Now then, whether it be support or healing magic, have them cast whatever you want. I’ll still destroy you all the same.” (Raphtalia)

As if she was trying to kill Raphtalia with just her eyes, Witch glares at Raphtalia and clicks her tongue.

“Or, are you perhaps going to cheat already?” (Raphtalia)

“YYOOUUU BAAASSTTAARRDDD!” (Witch)

Recovery magic is cast, and Witch’s wounds heal. She swings her sword around violently as she comes at Raphtalia.

But Raphtalia sees through her sword and dodges her attacks easily. Even in the eyes of her brainwashed followers, Witch looks like nothing but a fool. But, she doesn’t know when to give up.

Pretending that she was overcome by rage, she begins casting magic.

「Dreifach Hellfire」 !

She quickly casts her magic. While Raphtalia was busy barely dodging one of her thrusts, she slams it at her.

“Hengen Musou Sword Skill, 「Circle」 !” (Raphtalia)

But, Witch’s last-ditch magic is calmly destroyed.

Witch is taken aback for a moment, but she immediately recovers and throws her dagger.

Her decisiveness and her ability to look down on people are her specialties. Raphtalia bends backwards to dodge the projectile, and Witch loses her trump card.

But it doesn’t end there. That’s one of Raphtalia’s good points.

Just as she dodges the thrown dagger, Raphtalia extends one of her hands and grasps it out of mid-air. She points it towards Witch.

“… What is this? I realized that you were unfamiliar with fighting with such a weapon, yet you still kept trying to hit me with it. It was quite obvious, you know.” (Raphtalia)

“Damn!!” (Witch)

Without answering Raphtalia’s question, Witch raises her hand in the air and loudly declares.

“Everyone! Kill this follower of the accursed Demon Lord of the Shield!”
(Witch)

“… I knew it would come to this.” (Raphtalia)

But Witch never noticed it.

Raphtalia had been chanting magic for a while. Her tail was slightly swelling.

『I, who has understood the origin of strength command. Let the truth once more be read forth. Let all mistake theirs' for mine.』

「All Trick Mirage」 ! (Raphtalia)

“Ho ho ho! As if I would go all out on a follower of the Demon Lord!”

(Witch)

With a victorious smile, Witch backs off to leave Raphtalia to her minions.

But that's where her plan collapsed.

All magic fire support suddenly turns on her.

Magic rains down on her relentlessly, and Raphtalia begins receiving support magic. She begins receiving healing even though she hasn't received a scratch.

“... You people! Why are you attacking me!? Don't come, stay away! Why!? You idddiiooots! (Witch)”

It seems having her own brainwashed followers turn against her was completely unforeseen.

“Why? There's no helping it. Everyone here simply sees the two of us reversed at the moment.” (Raphtalia)

“Y-you! GYAAAAAAAAAAAAAH!” (Witch)

Witch's screams are erased by the legions of people swarming around her. Her plans were completely destroyed by Raphtalia alone.

What a pitiful state she's in.

It's a fitting end for the ugly witch.

(TL: This time, witch is in Japanese. He means witch, not Witch)

My heart is filled with joy.

The only regret I have is that she was not dealt with by my hand.

Though, I have doubts whether or not I would be able to do that much damage.

"I don't know exactly what you were planning, but the show ends here."

(Raphtalia)

The brainwashed legions shout out their victory.

It seems they have yet to realize their own folly.

Raphtalia seems slightly shocked. She steps forwards and impersonates Witch.

"I will personally send the Queen to the underworld. Everyone, please bind the Shield conspirator. Seal her mouth and torture her. After that, you can wait on standby in the castle. This is—" (Raphtalia)

The legions answer with what they thought she was about to say.

"Our rebellion of Justice!" (Brainwashed followers)

The applause ends, and Raphtalia leads the Justice Zombies in infiltrating the castle.

Inside, she undid the magic and returned to the Queen. Apparently, she tied up my followers and sealed the rest behind walls of ice.

She had no idea how to undo the brainwashing, so she just sealed them for now.

And, the chain of command fell into disorder. Escape was difficult, and quite a few of them misunderstood the situation, thinking that they had barricaded themselves with walls of ice to protect themselves.

"After that, with Raphtalia-san's help, we escaped from the castle and took whoever wasn't brainwashed with us." (Queen)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

Witch's last days. I wanted to see them.

If I had just used my portal to jump here instead of chasing Armor, would I have seen them?

I get the feeling that I made the wrong choices.

But, we did manage to capture Itsuki, so I think that may have been the best option.

"After that, we don't really know what happened." (Raphtalia)

"Raphtalia, can you tell apart who's brainwashed and who's not?" (Naofumi)

"I can only tell if I look in their eyes, but it's possible." (Raphtalia)

I see. So her eyes are better than those who came back early from training.

Ah, perhaps Rishia could tell as well. I never asked.

She never really spoke up, and perhaps she was afraid of me cross-examining her.

But, it seems the current Rishia can see them clearly.

"Ah, right. Did you see the Old Man from the Weapon Shop?" (Naofumi)

"I met him. I left the evacuations to him. They've probably arrived at Ryuut village by now." (Raphtalia)

I see. So he's safe.

"Now that I think about it, I saw a cloud of dust enter the city right after we left it..." (Raphtalia)

"Ah, don't worry about that. That matter will be resolved soon." (Naofumi)

Witch may have even turned into a zombie and gotten run over by him.

That would be quite an amusing scene.

Rishia may find her as well.

"Naofumi-sama, you're laughing again." (Raphtalia)

"How nostalgic, that phrase." (Naofumi)

"It's been a while, but you haven't changed at all." (Raphtalia)

"Humans don't change that easily... No, that's probably wrong." (Naofumi)

Looking at Raphtalia and Fohl, I see that's not true.

She was just a small girl when I found her, but now she's practically an adult.

Fohl was just a cheeky brat, but he's grown up well.

I guess we can change.

And not just in appearance.

"Firo is sleepy." (Firo)

"Right. I'm also getting a bit sleepy. Raphtalia, do you think you'll be out training for much longer?" (Naofumi)

Seeing the situation resolve itself, the fatigue is starting to set in.

But now that I think about it, the matters at the village aren't resolved at all.

Do I have to interrupt Rishia's work?

"It's about time to end it. One more week should be enough." (Granny)

"Ah, I see. We're going to go pick up Rishia and then go to dispel the brainwashing in my village. What will you guys do?" (Naofumi)

"Are you sure the castle is okay?" (Raphtalia)

"Let's see... We've managed to stop the zombies, so it should be fine if we leave them for a bit. Can I leave this place to you?" (Naofumi)

"As you wish." (Raphtalia)

"Understood. Then, is it fine for me to borrow Raphtalia-san for a few days?" (Queen)

The Queen interjects.

I turn my eyes to the Granny, and she nods.

"Got it. After we've taken care of the village, we'll rest for a while and send Rishia over again. I trust you to hold on until then." (Naofumi)

"Leave it to us." (Queen)

"Then Firo, go grab Rishia. We're going home." (Naofumi)

"Ye~s." (Firo)

"Ani-sama, please go away." (Atlas)

"Aah, Atlas! Atlas!" (Fohl)

Atlas shakes Fohl off and jumps on Firo's back.

I also hop on and Firo gallantly runs off.

I see. So Raphtalia will only be gone for a little while longer.

And, when we return to the Castle Town...

“Fueeeeeeeeeeeee! Why is even Witch-san heeeere!?” (Rishia)

We hear a loud cry resound through the city.

And so, the curtain suddenly closes on the brainwashing incident.

I can't say I didn't gain anything from it.

Kukuku... We even managed to capture that bitch.

I feel happier than I was at the birthday party my parents threw me after I put a stop to my brother's delinquency. (TL: Read Chapter 1)

That metaphor is a bit questionable...

Now then, what will the Queen do?

Will she execute her when this all calms down? I pray for the day her head falls from her neck.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 250 – Promotion

---

It's been three days.

Me and Rishia endlessly worked towards putting an end to this incident.

After we dealt with all the zombies in my land, we finally got some time to rest.

These people know how to act normal, so we have to have Atlas or Rishia search for them.

In the Castle Town, Raphtalia and Granny had to look them in the eye to find them. But, they somehow managed.

Luckily, dispelling the brainwashing turned out to be surprisingly easy.

All Rishia had to do was throw her weapon.

Though, I still have to use a reinforced prison.

We've roughly dispelled all traces of the brainwashing, and after we look over the people again, we can bring this incident to a close.

The amount of brainwashed people has severely decreased, and it has been decreed across the country that anyone who spouts messed up logic and criticizes me will have to be apprehended.

Though, some may find this quite oppressing.

Whenever someone criticizes me, they get suspected of being brainwashed.

The people who truly hated me regardless have quieted down.

That's the big difference between them and the brainwashed party.

Anyways, this and that happened, and the incident headed toward resolution.

And on the morning of the fourth day.

The Queen invited all of us to come to the castle.

Ren and Motoyasu as well.

About Itsuki... I'll tell you later.

He's on house arrest in my village.

"I sincerely thank you for resolving this country's internal conflict." (Queen)

When we were called in for an audience, we found that Raphtalia and the others stayed in the castle and waited for us.

Trash was quietly sitting in a corner.

It seemed that Witch's revolutionary movement has caused him to age a bit.

He's also lost his confident atmosphere.

I guess I should call him pitiful.

This look really suits him.

"And? What did you need?" (Naofumi)

"I don't think Iwatani-sama will be pleased with it, but this is a sort of ceremony to reward you for driving out this country's filth." (Queen)

"Ah, so it's like that." (Naofumi)

"There are a few other things as well, but this comes first." (Queen)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

I did put a stop to the revolution trying to overturn the government. I guess the royalty has to give a large reward or they'll lose face.

Though, I think there's an inherent problem with Witch spearheading the rebellion.

I'll ask about that later.

"First, is the person who poured in his aid and led this conflict to a swift resolution. Hero of the Shield, Iwatani-sama." (Queen)

"Yes." (Naofumi)

I'm handed a ceremonial sword again. I stand before the Queen and lower my back. I unsheathe the sword and hand it to her.

The Queen takes it, touches it to both of my shoulders and declares,

"For your efforts, I hereby award you the title of Marquis." (Queen)

Uwaa... I really don't want it.

So I'm promoted from Count to Marquis. It is a step up, I guess.

There are way too many ranks in my world.

I wonder if this one is the same.

"The rewards for your subordinates will also be bestowed through Iwatani-sama. If you want anything specific, please ask him. The other heroes are also included in this." (Queen)

"Yes." (Naofumi)

So I'll be accepting praise for Raphtalia's efforts as a representative.

Ren is also nodding.

Motoyasu... Please stop staring at Firo. She hates you.

Though Ren and Motoyasu are Heroes, they're currently working under the pretense of making up for their sins. Even if they work hard, I don't think they'll be promoted.

Perhaps because she realizes that I find this to be a pain, the Queen makes it short.

And... Can a title be bestowed on Raphtalia as well?

I glance at Raphtalia, and she shakes her head.

It would be a pain. Though, I'll make her get one in the end.

"You did it, Naofumi!" (Ren)

"No, it's not like I'm happy or anything." (Naofumi)

"I-I see." (Ren)

My response renders Ren silent.

I'm honestly not happy at all.

And were Ren and I even close enough to quarrel about this?

"Father-in-Law, for my efforts this time around, I would like you to let me expand my Filo Rial Ranch." (Motoyasu)

"Motoyasu, shut up." (Naofumi)

I thought he couldn't understand the Queen's words.

Is he just saying whatever he wants?

"Now then, there is another here who is deserving of a reward." (Queen)

Hmm?

The Queen gestures towards Rishia.

"Rishia Ivyred." (Queen)

"Fuee!? W-what could it be?" (Rishia)

The Queen beckons her to come forwards.

Rishia timidly walks forward, observing the fixtures of the room as she comes in front of the Queen.

“Rishia Ivyred. During this incident, you have contributed greatly to the resolution of this incident and to the prosperity of this country. You have been highly evaluated by me, Queen Remillia Q. Melromark. This is a separate matter from Iwatani-sama’s work.” (Queen)

“Y-yes!” (Rishia)

That’s true.

The one going around and undoing the brainwashing was Rishia, and she may be considered the most important contributor.

What’s more, though we don’t know if it’s a hero’s weapon, she did obtain some form of 『Mysterious Projectile Weapon』 .

“The Ivyred House will receive a financial reward, and Rishia and her parents will both receive the title of Baron separately.” (Queen)

Wow. Rishia’s also promoted.

Is she going to receive land as well?

She probably won’t leave because she has to look after Itsuki though.

Even so, I can’t call her a Fallen Noble anymore.

“Pick whatever land you want from the plots I’m handing over to Iwatani-sama.” (Queen)

“I’m getting land?” (Naofumi)

“Yes… In this incident, a large amount of nobles were taken into custody, so there’s quite a bit of unattended land.” (Queen)

I really, really don’t need it.

“The fact that you don’t want it is written all over your face, Iwatani-sama.”
(Queen)

“I mean…” (Naofumi)

I just wanted some land to raise my army. If I have to take responsibility for the disputes of a larger area, I think I’ll collapse.
I’m leaving this world anyways, so getting land or status doesn’t really mean anything…

“Don’t worry. A portion of the items and taxes collected from that land will be presented unto Iwatani-sama.” (Queen)

“I see!” (Naofumi)

It’s not like the lord is the only one who does the managing, anyways.
I’ll have to send people there to govern.
I’ll just leave it all to Melty!

And if you suspect it’s going to turn out that way, then just leave it to your daughter from the start.

Since most of the rebellious nobles have been sentenced to execution, there are many vacant territories.

Also, if I get more land, my actions will be more restricted, but it will be easier to take greater action.

Since there will be at least two waves after Houou, I’d like to reinforce my forces.

In that sense, the resources and money derived from greater plots of land may prove to be invaluable.

And it seems that I'll have to cover the equipment enhancement costs for Ren and Motoyasu, who've glued themselves to my village...
Itsuki's case... depends on Rishia.

"... About that, Queen-sama." (Rishia)

Rishia has an apologetic face, but her voice has a firm tone.

"What is it?" (Queen)

"I am very grateful for the honor you have bestowed on me. However, I have one favor that I wish to ask of you." (Rishia)

"... I'll hear it out." (Queen)

"Please make it so that the status, land, and honors I've received never happened. Instead, could you forgive the crimes of the Hero of the Bow, Itsuki-sama?" (Rishia)

The Queen's aides and knights begin talking amongst themselves.

Itsuki himself was greatly involved in this event, though it was officially proclaimed that all the fault lay with Witch and the Three Hero Church Remnants.

It seems Rishia's been thinking as well.

This is the only chance she has.

"I understand your request. Rishia Ivyred, I shall discard all the awards bestowed onto you and exempt the Hero, Kawasaki Itsuki, from his crimes. Of course, with some conditions." (Queen)

"Conditions?" (Rishia)

"Yes, he must continue to risk his life fighting the waves that threaten this world, no matter how long they last. Also, the next time he brings harm to this world or its people, he will be sentenced to death without question. I'll leave his management to you, Rishia Ivyred. Please bear this in mind and do a splendid job." (Queen)

"T-thank you very much!" (Rishia)

That's quite a judgment.

It seems that they have decided to keep Itsuki alive. They vied for the safest option.

I also had a promise with Rishia. If she didn't speak up, I would have asked the Queen myself.

Just how much does that girl like Itsuki?

"Now, let's leave the discussions of rewards there and discuss who the responsibility for this event falls upon." (Queen)

I feel the atmosphere getting heavier.

But we all knew this would come up.

"Can I ask something?" (Naofumi)

"What could it be?" (Queen)

"The Three Hero Church remnants were able to flee during the Spirit Turtle incident, right? Why were they not executed on their capture?" (Naofumi)

"Quite a few of them never laid hands on Iwatani-sama directly, so they avoided execution. Also, many were citizens of this country and many of them were of noble birth." (Queen)

Ah... So that's it.

Even if they wanted to execute them, the noble families stepped in.

If they were executed without question, this revolution would have grown even greater in scale.

What I can't understand are these 『Nobles』 . Are they really that important to be respected?

In my world, I believe the Guillotine was a device reserved for noble criminals.

Is there a troublesome procedure to execute them here?

"Some were waiting for their execution dates, and some were still being interrogated. When we were in the middle of taking control of their facilities... the Spirit Turtle began to advance." (Queen)

Would it be like this in my world? A criminal was being held in a criminal cell, but an earthquake destroyed the prison and sent the country into chaos?

I've heard that in foreign countries, prisoners were held in detention for a while before their trials, so they have a chance to escape before it.

I didn't think it was even that long between us defeating the pope and the Spirit Turtle attack.

With the nobles involved... I guess it'd take around two weeks to argue for execution.

I can understand why they were still alive.

"And? What happened in the end?" (Naofumi)

"With an incident this large, I don't think it's possible for a noble to step forward to defend them. At the moment, it's impossible to even speak against Iwatani-sama, so their executions have been decided." (Queen)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

"I've also heard about the actions of the Hero of the Bow's former subordinates. It's been decided that they will be executed in Iwatani-sama's presence." (Queen)

So Armor and the others are being executed as well.

I can't wait.

And they're going to show the entire event to me?

I don't think that's good on the eyes. Is there really a need for me to be there?

"For crimes this large, we hold large scale public executions in the Castle Town plaza." (Queen)

"Heh..." (Naofumi)

"Even though we may seem peaceful, executions used to be really common here. Most of the criminals were the generals of enemy countries though."
(Queen)

Was that how it was?

Since I was born in the modern era, it's difficult for me to imagine such a scene.

For some reason, I'm getting an uneasy feeling. But enemies are enemies. You reap what you sow. It's a bit of a pity. My emotions are a mix of these two.

"The people who will be given a public execution are the people who led this revolt, the nobles of the revolutionary faction and the Three Hero Church officials. The others will be executed through other means."
(Queen)

"What's the method?" (Naofumi)

"We have quite a few ways, but do you have a preference?" (Queen)

"No, I have no idea what you have." (Naofumi)

And why would you ask me to choose it...

"For the nobles, it's the Guillotine. For the Three Hero Church, the Iron Maiden. For the former subordinates of the bow, the Brass Bull." (Queen)

... Those are the Curse Series arms, aren't they?

Did the former heroes use them, and they took them as reference? Still...

Ren has a bitter face like mine.

If we watched, we would get the feeling that our own skills were killing them.

"We also have impalement and using magic to make beehives out of them. Our repertoire is quite vast, so is there anything you would like?" (Queen)

Hearing the Queen calmly list execution methods scares me.

No, this may be normal here.

Trash and the Queen were at war with Shild Freiden for a long time, so things like that happen.

I had grown somewhat accustomed to this world's values, but I guess I'm still fundamentally different

"We also have electrocution by lightning magic. It's apparently great as a torture method." (Queen)

... Sadina's magic comes to mind.

She's quite skilled with lightning.

Hmm? Why is the Orca-ish Demi-Human good with electricity?

Not that it matters.

“Father-in-Law! What are you guys talking about?” (Motoyasu)

“You shut up! Ah, Midori, was it? Go interpret the words of women for Motoyasu.” (Naofumi)

“Okay, got it.” (Midori)

Motoyasu’s Filo Rial, Midori, begins talking with Motoyasu in private.

Motoyasu starts nodding. Eventually, he speaks up.

“Then let me offer a suggestion.” (Motoyasu)

“What is it?” (Queen)

“Sky Burial.” (Motoyasu)

Sky Burial!?

I believe that was… Where the criminal was left out for birds to pick at.

Wait a second. For the criminals to undergo a sky burial…

“Rejected!” (Naofumi)

What do you think will happen if you teach these birds the taste of human flesh?

They may begin eying other things.

And if they began to enjoy it, we would have created some troublesome monsters.

“Master, what’s a Sky Burial?” (Firo)

“You don’t need to know!” (Naofumi)

“Eh…” (Firo)

Motoyasu... If you're in charge of these birds, why is it fine for you?

He's become a bit... no, he's become quite scary.

This topic is dangerous. We must change it immediately.

"Next, I don't really want to hear about it, but what's going to happen to Witch?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, that matter. Bring the Witch in." (Queen)

The Queen issues orders to her aides.

Witch was presented to the crowd. She had a gag on to prevent speech, and she was wearing magical restraints to prevent movement.

"Mu-! N-!" (Witch)

From the look in her eyes, she hasn't given up on life just yet. She's glaring at me as her sworn enemy.

Based on the direction of her glare, it seems that Raphtalia is also included on her enemy list.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 251 – The Bloodline of Heroes

---

“Now let’s talk for a bit. Take off the gag.” (Queen)

“... Puhah.” (Witch)

Even though she was captured, Witch looks down at everyone gathered with conceit.

She must have confidence that she won’t be executed no matter what.

“Now then, Witch. Do you have anything you wish to say?” (Queen)

“Mama, I was being brainwashed. There’s no way I would take part in a rebellion against you.” (Witch)

Ku... Now that she’s here, she mouthing off some suitable lip service!

Even if she failed, she could simply say that she was one of the many that they had brainwashed to escape punishment.

Though Rishia and Atlas would be able to see through this, she would probably claim that they were acting out of personal prejudice.

Just how much of a Bitch is this Witch?

“Witch, did you seriously believe such an excuse would pass?” (Queen)

“Hmph! Mama, so how do you plan on executing me? I’m your daughter, you know. If you were to execute me, how would the country look at you, Mama?” (Witch)

“... I understand what you’re trying to say.” (Queen)

“And? How shall I be killed off? Or will you marry me off to another country? Perhaps you plan on cutting off my limbs?” (Witch)

You Witch!

She knows the situation she's in, yet she's using that fact as a provocation.
Just how rotten is she?

The Queen also seems to have seen through her intentions. I haven't raised a hand yet, though.

"No matter what you may do to me... I have no plans of yielding to you."
(Witch)

"Death! I demand Capital Punishment!" (Naofumi)

I shout out.

And no one stands up to object to my words.

Even the now-hot-blooded Ren doesn't raise a finger.

"And didn't I just say it? How will the people react to a cruel Queen who raises her hand to her own daughter?" (Witch)

I understand that she has confidence that her eloquence will at least spare her life.

I feel the blood rising to my head.

"... No." (Queen)

"Wha?" (Witch)

The Queen shakes her head with a fed-up expression.

"I'll have you become the bride of the king of a certain country." (Queen)

Witch's face becomes red for a moment.

"You're too soft! You need to kill her after force-feeding her all of the horrors of the world!" (Naofumi)

I raise my voice high enough to shock even me.

But, I have the right to say such a thing.

I was framed. Again and again, I was faced with disgrace. Sometimes people would come to kill me.

Every day was a living hell. I withstood it. I beared the pain and crawled my way here.

The simple fact that that woman was alive and well is enough to piss me off. And yet you arrange a political marriage!? Cut the crap!

"Is that so? Mama, that means I'm heading off to somewhere around Silt Welt, correct?" (Bitch)

That possibility is quite high.

The area worships the Hero of the Shield, and there are plenty of people angry with this bitch's harassment of me.

It may be a good place for Witch's final days.

Perhaps it would be nice to send her as a sacrifice.

But still, my grudge won't subside.

"No." (Queen)

"Eh?" (Witch)

Witch lets out a surprised voice.

The Queen expands the fan in her hand and covers her mouth... She continues in a manner-of-fact tone.

"The place you're going... is Faubley." (Queen)

"Hah?"

Both me and Ren raise our voices together.

Motoyasu? He's staring at Firo. Do you think he cares?

"What are you talking about? Isn't Faubley supposed to be the biggest country? Marrying her off to somewhere like that is more of a favor than an-" (Naofumi)

"NOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!" (Witch)

As I try to raise an objection, Witch begins shaking and her face turns blue. She screams out.

"Wha...?" (Naofumi)

My words are interrupted, and I turn to Witch.

I'm at a loss for words... I guess that's the term to describe my emotions. She was fine with executions and even being married off to her enemies, so why does Faubley scare her this much?

I don't get it. What does it mean?

"Mama! No matter the crime, that's too much!" (Witch)

"You've been bad. I told you before you set out for Cal Mira, didn't I? If you continue to perpetuate intolerable acts, I would marry you off for the sake of peace. I told you that if you didn't want that, you would have to work with the Heroes for world peace. If you did that, I wouldn't have gone this far." (Queen)

"Even so! Why must it be Faubley!?" (Witch)

"They said they would forgive us for monopolizing the Four Hero summon, so there's no helping it." (Queen)

"What do you mean?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, I never explained it to Iwatani-sama and the others, did I?" (Queen)

Hmm? Rishia's fainted with bubbles coming out of her mouth!

Really? Is it that bad of a place!?

"The current King of Faubley is a man who drowns himself in carnal pleasures. When he looks at women, he sees... and I'm quoting here... 'simple toys of pleasure.'" (Queen)

"I-is that so..." (Naofumi)

"He cares not for appearance and takes on beauties and uglies. Everyone. When I was younger, I dreaded the day my parents would try to marry me off there." (Queen)

Trash is also down for the count!

What's with you people!? Is this sentence really that bad!?

"And just how old is that king!?" (Naofumi)

"He's Trash's brother... so I think he's 13 years his senior." (Queen)

Um, I believe Trash was the prince with the lowest status.

Doesn't that make this incest?

"He's ugly and stupid, but he at least has the wisdom needed to keep his own power. Even though he's rotten, it isn't by luck that he's managed to hold the throne for so long in a country plagued by power struggles."
(Queen)

"But still... I can't understand why everyone here hates it so much..."
(Naofumi)

I still don't understand what makes marrying there worse than marrying into Silt Welt.

Since Witch is caught up in physical appearance, could she just hate his looks?

"Let me give some explanations. Faubley has had a long tradition of marrying the Four Summoned, the Seven Stars, and their children into their family. Because of that, they're known world-wide as the blood-line of Heroes." (Queen)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

Well, heroes are said to be an existence close to God. It's natural for a country to hold such beliefs.

The people summoned are treated nicely, so they're alright with it, and it seems quite safe.

If their children perform well, they're once again favored, and they carry on the line.

"And please understand that those children are usually divided into categories." (Queen)

"Divided?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. First, if they're male, many of them are born with exceptional looks. These people would play around a lot and make their own harems. They would try to surpass others and would fight often. Contrarily, quite a few become reclusive. These people are the targets of many foreign countries because whimsical princesses think they can get married off to handsome foreign princes and they happily give their hand in marriage. Ah, sometimes Heroes personally marry in as well." (Queen)

Um... By heroes, do you mean otherworlders like us?

I don't know the conditions required for a summon, but looking at the current heroes... We're all gamers.

When we first got here, even I had a dream of making a Harem.

That means these skirt chasers would mass produce children and carry on the bloodline. Plenty of unfortunate children would probably be born as well. I may not be in the position to say this, but the Heroes probably got through this new world with cunningness and craftiness. Their bloodline would have amazing power struggles.

And if I think about it, Trash is one of their descendants.

Is that why he's supposed to be wise? I don't know if that's true. I don't want to know.

"In the case of females, they are also usually blessed with good looks. There are some that even make reverse harems. I wonder if this is the grace awarded by the blood of heroes. The Heroes' descendants seems to be blessed with looks over knowledge." (Queen)

"Is there a greater chance of Heroes being male?" (Naofumi)

"There are also females, but their blood doesn't get spread as much as men." (Queen)

The fate of a harem.

Stallions and mares have different production rates, so there's no helping it. ... How lively these people are.

And wait, the Heroes may work hard, but if you look closely, they're a collection of failed human beings.

This may be limited to the summoned ones though.

Wait. Are the Seven Star summoned as well? I don't know the criterion, but I believe they were chosen from the people of this world.

Anyways, that means otherworlders like us got the idea in their heads to build a harem in another world, and their bloodlines mixed and brought forth the Faubley Royal Family.

"People with such blood get into power struggles with one another, win, become king, make more children... and prosper. The current king is more skilled at power struggles than Witch. What's more, he's a long-lived king."
(Queen)

"Ah, and..." (Naofumi)

He's more manipulative than Witch... I don't want to meet him.

"Let's see. His appearance is... one that one would hesitate to call human."
(Queen)

What sort of person is that?

Is he like one of those frog-like disgusting otaku characters that appear in anime?

"The closest description I could give would be an overgrown pig." (Queen)

Oh, really?

That's supposed to be the king? Of the biggest country?

And our Queen is getting hostile here.

"Rejoice, Witch. It seems the other party has been waiting months for your arrival. If you go, it seems that they'll turn a blind eye to our crimes."

(Queen)

“Hiii!?” (Witch)

Witch steps back with a pale face.

It’s not like I can’t understand where she’s coming from.

Still, is this a fate worse than death?

Shadow appears and whispers in the Queen’s ear. I haven’t seen her in a while

“Ah, Witch. It seems you’re going to be proudly welcomed as the 10000th toy.” (Queen)

“Ten Thousandth!?” (Everyone)

Wait a second… so he’s had 9999 female toys before this?

No matter how I look at it, that’s impossible.

Even absurd erogé don’t use such high numbers as a setting.

No, he’s supposed to be older than Trash, right?

I have no idea how many days are in a year in this world, but if I take a girl a day, assume 365 girls per year, then multiply that by his approximate age… I guess it’s barely possible.

… Even so, it’s shocking.

“Ah, please bring that item to make it easier for Iwatani-sama to understand.” (Queen)

The door behind me opens, and soldiers rush in with two items covered by cloth.

“When you Heroes were off on Cal Mira island, this is the item we presented to the king to stall for time. A life sized Witch Doll.” (Queen)

The first cloth is pulled off.

What’s revealed is a doll that looks exactly like Witch.

I already want to make it my punching bag.

Anyhow, it’s an exact replica. It’s as if I’m looking at a mirror.

And isn’t this what my world would call a Love Doll?

“Next is the item that we retrieved from a compost heap in Faubley, two days later.” (Queen)

S-seeing the next item made me doubt my eyes.

Um.. This is Witch… right?

The hair has been pulled out, the eyes are out of their sockets, both arms have been cut off, and the legs have been cleanly sheared off as well.

Are those burn marks? There are a few places that have swelled up from soaking too long as well.

The mouth, and another place, have strange holes cut into them.

The lopped off stumps of the arms and legs are the same.

Um… I’m definitely not looking into the holes…

“Those holes were made for the exact reason Iwatani-sama is imagining, you know.” (Queen)

“Geh!?” (Naofumi)

“The King of Faubley’s motto is 『Toys that have gone through enough pain that they wished they were dead feel much better』 . This is a good representation of that.” (Queen)

Wow... If you take sadism to an extreme, do you become like this?

These aren't dolls.

He's dealing with live women here.

"For girls of good birth that have caused problems, Faubley is the answer. Upon having such a sentence, most commit suicide on the spot. It's that famous of an execution method in this world. It seems that his favorites are kept alive for as long as three months through magic, Yggdrasil medicine, and other things. Apparently, he wouldn't permit them to die..." (Queen)

This marriage has already turned into an execution method.

And for him to be so famous, yet still keep his position, Faubley is a mysterious country.

I believe it was at the start of the Legend of the Seven Star Heroes, the Four Summoned Heroes, and this world's largest country.

They're the first people who received the right to perform the Four Heroes summon.

And from Rat's words, they apparently have several Seven Star Heroes as well.

From the previous conversation... from repeated breeding, a bad hybrid popped up.

It's a country with massive land and military might.

It's the birthplace of Heroes, so it must have a long history.

It may become troublesome in the future.

And for that famous fiend to hold the throne... Don't uprisings happen?

9999 Women are dead here. Isn't he really hated?

Ah... Does he oppress them through money and might?

He's already something like a criminal, so slapping more crimes on him doesn't really do anything.

Some people may sell themselves to him for the sakes of their families as well.

Like Rishia.

Starting with Melromark, going to Silt Welt, Zeltburg, and now Faubley.

Does this world have no decent countries at all?

It seems that no matter where I go... I'll have my share of trouble...

Even after the wave, I'm seriously worried about the fate of this world itself.

No, it's not like I care what happens to it.

It's a shitty world. And I'm tired of it.

"It seems the other party is very pleased with you, Witch. He plans to use you as his toy every night. My heart aches as I wonder what will happen to you. Now, how many days will you last?" (Queen)

"NOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!" (Witch)

Witch's voice resounds through the castle.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 252 – Pleading for Life

---

“They’ll back us up with medical facilities and military power if Witch agrees to attend to their king.” (Queen)

The Queen continues speaking in a calm tone.

Even though the restrictive clothes Witch is wearing prevents her from moving her hands, she desperately struggles to use them to cover her ears.

I unintentionally let out a smile.

And this is the first time Raphtalia doesn’t raise her voice at me.

Though, she’s probably just overwhelmed by the situation right now.

“In reality, it’s a crueller sentence than death. The woman who lived her life by bewitching men will die by a man’s hand.” (Queen)

“Even so…” (Naofumi)

From what I’ve heard, he’s an evil scum of a man, but the fact that he’s male bothers me.

What do we do if Witch works her wiles on him as well?

The only thing she’s good at is deceiving people.

She may abuse her needlessly good appearance to twist the King of Faubley around her fingers.

If that happens, then we’ll get a situation more dire than any we’ve faced.

“Is there any chance that Witch is the exception? That she’ll be able to make use of the King?” (Naofumi)

“I won’t say the chance of conciliation is zero, but up until now, the countries apart from ours have tried countless times. Because he rules the world's largest empire, getting him under your thumb is the same as taking control of the world. However, there's no precedent of him ever listening to the words of a woman." (Queen)

So he's like the current Motoyasu. In a bad way.

The current Motoyasu isn't a scumbag like the previous one. He's more like a broken madman.

And if you think about it, that king's a condensation of the blood of otherworlders. He may be like the past Motoyasu.

But Motoyasu is kinda a Feminist.

"Even Witch should be able to tell whether or not her words will get through. Right? When she studied abroad, she was chosen by him after a single glance, and she almost fainted. Perhaps this matter has been decided since that point in time." (Queen)

"Mama! I beg you! This is the only thing I'll ask of you in my life! Please! Please defer your decision!" (Witch)

"Let's see... It is a matter that strains my heart as well. But even if you claim to be brainwashed, society won't forgive you so easily... Alright. Then how about I entrust your fate to the heroes?" (Queen)

"What!?" (Witch)

The Queen closes her fan and smiles at us.

What does she plan on doing? It's probably nothing good.

"If there's a single hero here who wishes to take Witch under their wing, then I'll defer my decision to Faubley." (Queen)

"Cut the cra-" (Naofumi)

Before I can finish, Witch uses all of her strength to get away from the soldiers holding her and prostrates herself on the ground before me.

“Hero of the Shield-sama! I’ll do anything! Please… please take me up as your comrade once more!” (Witch)

“…” (Naofumi)

She’s really desperate.

She’s hanging her head while throwing teary side glances to everyone in the room.

I silently step on her head.

“Thank you! Trample on me as much as you wish! I’ll do anything. If you ask me to act as your pig, I will do it for the rest of my life!” (Witch)

The fact that this makes me really happy makes me once again realize that I’m a scumbag.

Raphtalia stares at me with a complicated expression.

But I’m not swayed.

“Get violated by that pig and die!” (Naofumi)

I kick her away with all my might.

She stares daggers into me once more, but realizing she doesn’t have the time, she moves over to Ren.

“Hero of the Sword-sama-” (Witch)

“Go to hell!” (Ren)

Ren's eyes are dead!

He's not going to forgive Witch here.

Though if he did, I would beat him to death.

"Hero of the Spear! Please offer me forgiveness!" (Witch)

"Firo-tan, do you want to go for a scenic drive after this?" (Motoyasu)

"No!" (Firo)

Witch finally kneels before Motoyasu, but he's flirting with Firo and doesn't hear her.

Firo seems terrified.

And for a drive... Where do you plan on going?

Is riding a Filo Rial even considered driving?

Anyways, Motoyasu doesn't react to Witch at all. Because she is a woman.
But Witch refuses to give up.

She desperately appeals to Motoyasu.

They've known each other for a while, and he may be the only one here who would willingly save her.

... The past Motoyasu that is.

"What is this ugly Red Pig? Firo-tan is finally looking my way, you know. Go away pig." (Motoyasu)

"Motoyasu, if you don't deny her, she'll follow you home." (Naofumi)

"Then disappear!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu swiftly pushes Witch away.

Amazing. He completely ignored his beloved witch when she was pleading to him with teary eyes.

Humans sure do change.

And Itsuki is absent.

“Mama! The Hero of the Bow isn’t present! This isn’t a fair trial.” (Witch)

“Should you really be saying that!? (Naofumi)

“Right! Whose fault do you think it is that Itsuki ended up like that!?” (Ren)

Ren accuses her loudly.

Itsuki’s absent because of you!

Even if it’s wrong… Well, I’ll explain it to him later, but once he calms down, he’ll surely reject you!

“Damn you all! Rather going to Faubley, I’d rather die here and now!”
(Witch)

A snapping sound resounds through the room.

Witch bit her own tongue with a lot of force.

Blood starts flowing from her mouth.

Did she commit suicide? Is this sentence really that bad!?

“Don’t let her die! Take her alive!” (Naofumi)

Why the hell am I saying such lines?

The soldiers run over to Witch, and the healers begin desperately casting healing magic on her.

A cloth is shoved into her mouth, and her life is saved.

“And that’s the result. What should we do for Witch’s trial?” (Queen)

“Nothing’s been decided, but I’m a little satisfied… or perhaps I should say bewildered.” (Naofumi)

I got to abuse Witch when she was desperately lowering her head to me. I guess I've calmed down a bit.

Perhaps Ren is the same. A cold smile floats on his face.

The current Ren is a person who would sacrifice his own body for his allies, yet...

Motayasu is... Stop chasing Firo around already.

"Then we'll reset Witch's level to 1 and ship her to Faubley... I'm a little worried with just the castle's soldiers, so could Iwatani-sama personally escort her?" (Queen)

"Rejected. What reason would I ever have to spend a long period of time with that Bitch?" (Naofumi)

But the Queen's opinion is sound.

With just this country's soldiers, there's too great a risk.

Even so, if I leave, then that would mean setting my land and Itsuki's matter aside.

Though with my Portal Shield, I would be able to jump back and forth. It would be a pain, but it's possible...

... Ah, right.

"Fumu... We don't know when or where Witch's conspirators will try and recover her. Could you put Motoyasu on transportation duty?" (Naofumi)

"Leave it to me!" (Motoyasu)

Before the Queen can speak, Motoyasu steps forward with pride.

"Then I'll leave it to you." (Queen)

The Queens words don't reach him, though.

Motoyasu can't hear any female voices.

"Motoyasu, when you're in the middle of transportation... if the pig ever tries to run, kill it without hesitation. Also, keep it under your watch until you confirm that it gets violated by the King of Faubley, and return after you have a magic crystal record of the scene." (Naofumi) (TL: .....)

"Yes! Understood!" (Motoyasu)

With this, I probably have nothing to worry about.

Well, if Motoyasu gets taken out, there's nothing we would have been able to do in the first place.

Even if the Queen turns out to be lying, I can order him to kill Witch.

"The ride of the Filo Rials at my place is said to be a living hell. And after that, an even greater hell awaits." (Naofumi)

Kukuku... I look at Witch collapsed on the floor and laugh to myself.

After that, I watched over Witch's treatment and her Level Reset. I left her in the care of Motoyasu and his Filo Rials.

In order to prevent her from biting her tongue again, her mouth was stuffed.

The tied up Witch glares at us menacingly from the carriage window.

This time, her eyes are colored with tears and despair.

Even if she tries to rebel, she can do nothing at level 1.

"Mu-!" (Witch)

"Enjoy your final trip to its fullest." (Naofumi)

And like this, Witch tumbles down the one-way road to hell.

But she got what she deserved.

...

...

Ah, let me offer a description.

The crystal Motoyasu used as evidence... It was that Camera-like crystal that my wanted poster was displayed on... I received the recorded footage of Witch being tortured by the pig... no, the King of Faubley.

By the way, it also had audio.

Honestly, there was nothing more disgusting in this world. But, I have to see Witch's last days through to the end.

It seemed that The King himself graciously let it be recorded.

Something about driving Witch into further despair... He was really human filth.

I want to avoid meeting him at all costs, but the King of Faubley personally invited me over to hear my opinion on the evidence footage.

Please leave me alone...

I had a lot to say, but for numerous reasons, I politely declined.

By the way, it seemed that it was very rare for Faubley's King to send out invitations like that.

Even the Queen was surprised at the message.

And after Motoyasu transported Witch to Faubley, we received news of her death two weeks later.

Her body was sent back as evidence, preserved with Ice Magic.
It was not a pretty sight.

And, it seemed the King developed an attachment to using those Crystals to record. He sent numerous ones to me after that.

I never looked through them. When I saw the first one, it recorded all the way to the subject's death.

Did he think sending such things would earn my friendship?

Don't send footage of any woman besides Witch...

(TL: And now, Naofumi's traumatized for life)

I'm still soft. I've only caught a glimpse of this world's darkness.

I want to stay out of it if possible.

I engrave these words onto my heart.

Like this, I finally cut my long ties with Witch... It was so abrupt that it seems anti-climactic. It doesn't seem real.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 253 – Yes Man

---

And like that, I saw Witch off and return to the throne.

The matter concerning rewards ended, so everyone went off to rest inside the castle.

The only people left here are the Queen, the Country's higher ups, and me.

"Now then, should I begin my report?" (Queen)

"That sounds good. There are plenty things I have to ask." (Naofumi)

"Let's see... First, would be just how Witch was able to escape and cross national borders to start up her rebellion." (Queen)

"How was it done?" (Naofumi)

"It seems that she salvaged a disguise magic tool from the corpse of a Shadow that died in the Spirit Turtle assault." (Queen)

Oh, right. The Shadows had that ability.

I'm surprised she learned how to use it.

After Witch separated from Motoyasu, she apparently crossed borders. She didn't plan on returning. She grasped for ways to live the easy life elsewhere.

"Ah, besides Elena, didn't Witch have another companion? Where is she?" (Naofumi)

"She's already been captured. She's going to be sent off much like Witch." (Queen)

"So she's also a noble?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Queen)

Hmm... So she'll face a fate similar to Witch's.

Take that.

Even so, I never learned her name in the end.

I'm sorry, but I'll be forgetting you soon... Um... Woman 2.

"Next is about her slave seal. That matter's already been settled." (Queen)

"Why didn't it work?" (Naofumi)

"It seems that the Spirit Turtle's presence caused some sort of bug, and after that, she stayed in an area with devices made to jam the signal."

(Queen)

"Oh, right. You investigated the building I reported about. Did you find the device there?" (Naofumi)

"Correct. During this incident, it seems that the aura causing the brainwashing had an interference effect as well. The seal's now in working order, and we plan on turning her slave rights over to Faubrey's King."

(Queen)

So there was a jamming effect. What a pain.

Hmm? I can hear some noise from the castle's yard.

I peek out of the window.

And I see Fohl holding Atlas while stepping away from Trash.

Atlas is frowning.

Trash is... holding his hand into the air as if to cut the sky.

In his hand... is that food?

Is he trying to bait Atlas?

Trash fainted when he heard Witch's sentence.

Is he searching out Atlas to fill the void in his soul?

I guess it's fine. I'll leave them be.

"Next is...

The slave release ceremony that's become a famous rumor on the streets was apparently done by the Three Hero Church." (Queen)

"Ah, I see." (Naofumi)

I heard it from the slaves when Taniko first came to the village.
Something about a charitable organization that granted slaves their freedom.

"The Three Hero Church is charitable? That's suspicious beyond doubt."
(Naofumi)

"Yes... It seems that in order to procure subjects for their experiments, they would lure slaves in with the pretense of breaking their slave seals."
(Queen)

So that's it.

They were those sorts of people.

"When we took them in, we heard something along the lines of, 『Sure, we released them... from this world!』 and 『They became sacrifices towards our noble cause』 ." (Queen)

Those are quite some lines.

But the time those people will be released from this world as well is swiftly approaching.

If there's anything I'm unsatisfied with, it's that there's no repose for the victims.

"They were being held in a section of the facility Iwatani-sama reported."
(Queen)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

"Many died from experimentation. However, there are just as many survivors." (Queen)

"... Are they alright?" (Naofumi)

The Queen quietly averts her eyes.

Ah, I see. So the situation isn't that good.

"Many of them will need treatment. However..." (Queen)

"I got it. I'll look at them at my place. Having a few more doesn't change much at this point in time. As long as they weren't directly related to the incident, I won't do them harm." (Naofumi)

"I give you my sincerest thanks." (Queen)

... I'll put my order to the Slave Dealer on hold.

It seems I'll be getting an influx of slaves soon.

My place has an alchemist, and if I give them the medicine, they should get better.

I hope.

"Do you know their home towns?" (Naofumi)

"About one third of the captives have homes. The others have had their villages destroyed by slave hunting long ago." (Queen)

So the same pattern as Raphtalia.

Why must this country detest Demi-Humans to this extent?

They may have their differences, but if you try to talk to them, it's not like they won't understand you.

Rather, it's the people that do the discrimination that refuse to understand.

Ah, right. I procured the research equipment from the facility and gave it to Rat. She was quite happy.

There were some machines she wanted, and some documents she wanted to use as reference.

However, she discarded all the information about replicating Heroes' Weapons after a quick glance.

She said it wasn't worth it.

Currently, the castle soldiers are rushing to perform a full investigation on the building.

"Iwatani-sama, what has become of the Hero of the Bow?" (Queen)

"I've entrusted him to Rishia... but he's not looking so well." (Naofumi)

It was the noon after we had finished resolving the brainwashing incident.

We heard the report from the slave we put on watch that Itsuki had opened his eyes. Rishia and I rushed to the Camping Plant where he was being held.

"Itsuki-sama!" (Rishia)

Itsuki had gotten himself off of the bed.

I crossed my arms and watched over the worried Rishia. Just in case Itsuki went out of control, I had Firo, Atlas, and Ren on standby outside.

"How do you feel, Itsuki?" (Naofumi)

"..." (Itsuki)

With an expressionless face and sleepy eyes, Itsuki slowly turned towards me and replied with silence.

“...” (Itsuki)

The silence continued.

Rishia seemed to be waiting for him to say something, but there were no signs of that happening soon.

“Oy, say something.” (Naofumi)

“... Something.” (Itsuki)

...!?

He’s got quite some courage to pickin’ a fight with me so soon!

“I’m sorry Rishia. It seems I’ll be breaking my promise to you.” (Naofumi)

There was no point in keeping someone who wouldn’t repent in the slightest.

“Fueeee! Wait a second. Itsuki-sama, just honestly apologize here.” (Rishia)

“... I’m sorry.” (Itsuki)

Expressionlessly and monotonically, Itsuki lowered his head.

What was this? Was Itsuki this sort of person?

“Itsuki, what happened?” (Naofumi)

“... I don’t know.” (Itsuki)

“Are you hiding something again? You sure like doing things like that.”
(Naofumi)

"... Am I hiding something?" (Itsuki)

"Umm... Itsuki, have you possibly forgotten just who you are?" (Naofumi)

I hope his curse cost wasn't something like amnesia.

From what I've seen, it wasn't strange for such a thing to happen.

But if that happened, it would truly be a pain.

"No, I am Kawasumi Itsuki, the Hero of the Bow. I had intentions of Justice, but I lost." (Itsuki)

"It isn't amnesia, right?" (Naofumi)

"I don't know." (Itsuki)

What didn't you know?

"Don't hide anything here. What are you planning?" (Naofumi)

"... What am I planning?" (Itsuki)

"Like I know! I'm asking you! Don't answer questions with questions!"
(Naofumi)

What was this?

Itsuki was still expressionless, and he seemed to be spacing out.

His ambition seemed non-existent.

He was not disabled... I think.

When I asked him to say something, he honestly said, 'Something.'

...

"Itsuki, do a handstand while taking off your clothes." (Naofumi)

"Yes..." (Itsuki)

Itsuki followed my orders and stood on one hand. He used the other to slowly undo his buttons.

"Itsuki-sama! Please stop." (Rishia)

"Yes." (Itsuki)

Upon Rishia's words, Itsuki stopped and stood upright.

Wait a second. He was just performing whatever people asked him to do.

"Itsuki, kill yourself." (Naofumi)

"Yes..." (Itsuki)

Itsuki pulled a rope out of his bow and began searching for a place to hang it.

He was not acting of his own will. If it was Motoyasu, it would be like that anime.

I mean, the weapon fits.

(TL: I think he's talking about Lancer always being ordered to suicide)(ED: From Fate/Stay Night. I concur)

"FUEEEEEEEE! Please stop, Itsuki-sama!" (Rishia)

"Yes..." (Itsuki)

"Itsuki, what do you want to do?" (Naofumi)

"What do I want to do?" (Itsuki)

... Oy, could it be?

I had the feeling that he shouted out that he was offering his belief and his heart, or something.

Without his own belief... he was unable to use his will to decide anything.

Inside his head, he's become unable to tell what was right and what was wrong.

"Why are you expressionless? What do you think of me?" (Naofumi)

"Am I... Expressionless? I don't really think anything of Naofumi-san..."

(Itsuki) (TL: The ship hath sunk)

"Then what do you think about evil?" (Naofumi)

"Nothing really... If it exists, then it exists..." (Itsuki)

"You don't get angry?" (Naofumi)

"I don't feel anything..." (Itsuki)

Expressionless and emotionless?

And, it was weird for the secretive Itsuki to be talking this much in the first place.

"For now, you have lost to us. You are our prisoner. Rishia is in charge of you, so stay put and listen to her." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Itsuki)

Itsuki stared at Rishia... and turned to me again.

"Is there anything I should be doing?" (Itsuki)

"What will you do?" (Naofumi)

"Um, what should I do? Should I just stay put? If I move..." (Itsuki)

His decision making power was null.

The curse took away his will in itself.

And, why are all the Heroes that come to my place cursed?

"Itsuki, what are you going to do from here on out? Think about it."

(Naofumi)

"That is... I don't know." (Itsuki)

"That's because of your curse. You'll eventually recover. At that point, I'm not sure if you'll oppose me, but if we do end up fighting, I won't hold back. Remember that." (Naofumi)

"... Understood." (Itsuki)

"Itsuki-sama, I will fight with you so you can make up for your crimes."
(Rishia)

As Rishia faced Itsuki with these words, he nodded.

"I look forward to working with you. Rishia... san." (Itsuki)

"Yes." (Rishia)

For some reason, Rishia was crying.

Well, this was pretty much someone else in Itsuki's form.

And he did whatever someone asked him to do.

With him like that, it was exceptionally dangerous to bring him to Witch's trial.

If he were there, he would have immediately forgiven Witch when asked.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 254 – Vol. 1

---

“Then, I’ll move to the next question.” (Naofumi)

“... Yes?” (Itsuki)

The current Itsuki seems to be incapable of lying.

I should take this opportunity to thoroughly interrogate him.

This way, it’ll be too late for him to lie when his curse clears.

“What nickname did you go by in the Coliseum?” (Naofumi)

“Perfect Hidden Justice.” (Itsuki)

“Fu-” (Naofumi)

Ah, I almost started laughing.

He said it expressionlessly without any tone in his voice.

“And why did you go with that name?” (Naofumi)

“Because Justice helps people even when they don’t realize it.” (Itsuki)

“Are you an idiot?” (Naofumi)

“Perhaps I’m an idiot to you. To you.” (Itsuki)

“... What was that?” (Naofumi)

Wait, this guy is just saying whatever pops into his head.

He’d usually refrain from making such comments.

But the fact that he thought such a thing pisses me off in itself.

... It’s fine. I’ll find out why he’s so fixated on justice later.

Or else I'll run out of patience.

I have quite a short temper.

And I don't care about this one's sense of justice whatsoever.

"... You said that this world was ridiculously close to a game you knew of, correct?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. I thought this world worked in a similar fashion to the game Dimension Wave." (Itsuki)

Past tense?

That implies that he thinks differently now.

So his game sense has weakened from the curse?

"Then here's the question. Why did you challenge the Spirit Turtle?"
(Naofumi)

"Because if you don't defeat it quickly, you'll have to fight it anyways in a Story Mission. But that is..." (Itsuki)

I'll omit the rest.

Most of his explanation overlapped with Ren's.

The conversation's pretty much going as expected.

"Next is Houou, right?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Itsuki)

"Fumu...Next Question. For this Dimension Wave game you played... What was the ending?" (Naofumi)

This is the fundamental difference between the games Ren, Motoyasu, and Itsuki played.

Ren played VRMMOs, and Motoyasu played MMOs. Itsuki was on console. Itsuki's the only one who could play the game to the ending.

"After you beat Ouryuu, the first part comes to an end. After that, it's a free world, and you can do side quests." (Itsuki)

"What!?" (Naofumi)

This is bad! Itsuki's info has proven itself to be useless.

And what does he mean by 'first part'?

There are games that come in multiple parts to make you have to buy the sequel.

Was it something like that?

Cut me some slack here. Finish the damn game before you get sent to another world.

"What sort of game was it, anyways?" (Naofumi)

"If I were to categorize it, it would be Hack and Slash. The game itself was made about 30 years ago in my world. An unnamed demo version was packaged with an Ero Doujin Game. It required 2TB of hard drive space to run, but it instantly became a sensation." (Itsuki)

"Hah?" (Naofumi)

He suddenly starts speaking eloquently.

In the first place, Itsuki's world had 2 Terabyte hard drives 30 years ago?

I thought his world was the normal one here. Even if he wasn't as technologically advanced as Ren, he was still from the future.

No wonder I wasn't able to get across to him.

Does that mean Motoyasu is the one whose world is closest to mine?

No, he must come from a world straight out of a Galge. Definitely.

Though, it might just be a Galge for him.

“And?” (Naofumi)

“This game was released without a known manufacturer. Eventually, the rights to manufacture and sell it were bought by a single millionaire under house arrest who gave up all his assets to obtain ownership of it. It was quite a famous event and was all over the news.” (Itsuki)

“... Please say it in a way I can understand.” (Naofumi)

“It happened before I was born, so I only have info from the internet. The rights to sell and manufacture it were bought at a very high price, it seems.” (Itsuki)

“Hmm... And?” (Naofumi)

“As soon as he obtained the rights, that millionaire went missing. Though, he did leave behind his name in the history books. The items he left behind were investigated.” (Itsuki)

“O-okay. What does that have to do with this Dimension Wave?” (Naofumi)

“It’s greatly connected. As a result of the analysis of the unnamed, unfinished gaming platform he left behind, the game Dimension Wave was born.” (Itsuki)

According to Itsuki, Dimension Wave was a game where anything was possible if you tried it.

Hero, Villain, Saint, Merchant, King, Lord of the Night. (TL: Yes, in that sense)

The amount of characters that could be created were endless. That was the game’s main appeal.

But, all classes were connected in that they had to complete the World Quests. They had to combat the waves of disaster.

This aspect was different from the original, in that the map wasn't as large. Not that I really needed that information.

Most quests could be redone besides these ones.

Anyways, it was pretty much a free form game.

And Itsuki came to this world after completing Volume 1. He convinced himself that he was a Hero playing a game.

In his game, you were able to finish off the Spirit Turtle quickly in order to prevent casualties down the road.

"So you don't know what comes after Ouryuu?" (Naofumi)

"No." (Itsuki)

This is useless...

"... Next Question. There was a blue hourglass inside of the turtle. Do you know anything about it?" (Naofumi)

"There was one in the game, but it was in a different location to the one Naofumi-san found." (Itsuki)

"Where was it?" (Naofumi)

"It was in the center of the town where it was sealed." (Itsuki)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

Was it treated as a background object?

It has to mean something, but the mystery will probably clear itself up next time.

Since it was only volume one, there must have been some sort of level cap.

"What was the max level?" (Naofumi)

"100." (Itsuki)

Uwah. This isn't helping me at all...

And how dare he call me a cheat when he only had this much info on the game.

"I'm surprised you went off to fight the Spirit Turtle like that." (Naofumi)

"It was supposed to be an easy enemy at level 60." (Itsuki)

"What about Houou?" (Naofumi)

"70." (Itsuki)

"... Kirin?" (Naofumi)

"75." (Itsuki)

Again... it seems I can't expect much from this.

This guy lost easily at level 80.

"Is Houou strong?" (Naofumi)

"He's not particularly strong. You have to deal with two of them, and the fact that they fly is annoying. But, I always used a bow to take them out easily." (Itsuki)

"Is that why you got the illusion that you were the strongest?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. Dimension Wave was a Hack and Slash on the surface, so most people didn't realize how powerful the long range weapons and skills were." (Itsuki)

"What do you think now?" (Naofumi)

"The Bow has some pros and cons." (Itsuki)

Well, I guess he would realize it after we continuously beat him up.
Or perhaps he had realized it, but he was simply denying it.
Right now he can't lie, so he's saying whatever he thinks.

"Fue... What are Itsuki-sama and Naofumi-san talking about? I can't follow the conversation at all." (Rishia)

He never even told his comrades about his world?
Just how secretive does he have to be?

"I still have more to ask you. What led to you being held in that building?"
(Naofumi)

"I was bounty hunting in the Zeltburg Coliseum, and princess Malty invited me over saying she wished to grant me power." (Itsuki)

Princess Malty... is it?
It seems Itsuki actually doesn't know.

"From here on, you are forbidden from calling the first princess by anything other than Witch. Of course, without honorifics." (Naofumi)

"Yes. Then Witch explained all of Naofumi-san's wrong doings, and I... agreed to assist her. When I followed her, she brought me to that building where I found Mald and all the others who used to work with me. They were all plotting schemes against Naofumi-san." (Itsuki)

"I see. Continue." (Naofumi)

"Mald and his companions explained to me that their previous treatment of me was in order to grant me an opportunity to mature. Witch and some researchers handed me some sort of weapon fragment. I inserted it into my bow, and I got a new power." (Itsuki)

Fumu... up 'til this point, the story shares some similarities with common Robot and Battle animes.

Upon receiving a strange power, one obtains a duty to fight for world peace. Unbeknownst to the public, they must destroy evil. After losing to a strong enemy, the group dissolves for a while.

But, the leader continues to fight his own battle. Eventually, his old comrades join him again, and he teams up with the princess driven out of her own country. Together, they defeat a great evil.

What's more, the former princess led him to discover greater power.

With a situation like that, I guess I can understand why he came to believe he was the main character... or can I?

The new power placed too much of a strain on his body, so he had to sleep in a test tube until the right time came.

I might actually watch an anime like that.

"Let me say this first. Those people were only using you. I'll show you the evidence later." (Naofumi)

"... Is that so?" (Itsuki)

When the curse clears, he'll go back to normal. I better clear this up while I can.

It's not like he lost his memory. If his curse starts weakening, he'll be able to think for himself.

"Do you still think that what you've done isn't wrong?" (Naofumi)

"... I don't know." (Itsuki)

He really has lost his power to make decisions.

Though, he does answer questions honestly.

‘What do you think about…?’ ‘Which is right?’

He can’t answer questions like that.

“Itsuki-sama…” (Rishia)

“Then, you don’t know what sort of item the Heroes’ weapons are, do you?”

(Naofumi)

“No.” (Itsuki)

He really isn’t useful.

It’s not like my expectations were that high for the people who lost to the Spirit Turtle though.

Even so, the fact that I can’t get any useful information is depressing me.

“… Is there anything else? Anything that changed?” (Naofumi)

“Now that you mention it…” (Itsuki)

“What?” (Naofumi)

“For a while, my SP and Mana haven’t been recovering.” (Itsuki)

Oy, does that mean he has a curse preventing him from using Magic and Skills as well?

This is the worst.

Ren can’t get any EXP, nor can he hold anything worth any money.

Motoyasu… doesn’t really have any problems. But he sees women as pigs and can’t understand their words.

And Itsuki complies to any order you give; he’s expressionless and emotionless. His sense of Justice is gone, and it seems he has no pride either.

But, Itsuki used even more curse-like skills than Ren, so he's being affected more.

"Is there anything else? Will you ask me anything more?" (Itsuki)

"Hmm? What's wrong, Itsuki?" (Naofumi)

"About what?" (Itsuki)

"Itsuki-sama?" (Rishia)

"Did I say something strange? What should I do? Naofumi-san is glaring at me." (Itsuki)

Itsuki starts exhibiting suspicious behavior.

... Something is strange.

For now, I'll try issuing an order.

"Itsuki, try lying. Tell me this room looks like a palace suite." (Naofumi)

"No, it's a strange house made of peculiar plants." (Itsuki)

Ah... so it's a curse that affects thought.

Even so, it seems he can't lie at all.

This room truly is a strange one made of strange plants.

"Itsuki, what do you think of Rishia?" (Naofumi)

"She was weak, but she somehow got much stronger. It has to be a cheat."
(Itsuki)

"Fuee!? What is a cheat!?" (Rishia)

"The word means that you broke the rules to abuse the system. I guess that means he thinks you're weird." (Naofumi)

"Fueeeeee..." (Rishia)

I can't confirm it with just this test, but I think it's like this.

The current Itsuki just says the first thing that pops into his head. He can't make up lies.

Probably.

I can't let this guy into the outside world...

Even if he's a Hero with high combat abilities, he only listens to orders. He's like a doll.

I have no choice but to watch over him at my village.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 255 – Starting Point

---

“And like that, it doesn’t seem that Itsuki will pose a problem. We’ll need to monitor him, but as long as Rishia’s there, it’ll work out. He can’t really run, nor does he seem to have the intention of doing so.” (Naofumi)

“I see, then I’ll leave him to you.” (Queen)

“Well, if he does end up running away again, then I’m really going to dispose of him.” (Naofumi)

“… That’s something I would like to avoid.” (Queen)

“Alright. Next, we can use Motoyasu’s teleportation to make use of Cal Mira’s healing onsen.” (Naofumi)

“The heroes all seem to have an overly convenient warping ability. Please make use of it to recuperate yourselves.” (Queen)

Before Motoyasu left for Faubley, I ordered him to take Ren there once to make sure we could open a portal if necessary.

We negotiated with the Count there and got permission to use the onsen that cures curses every night.

With this, the curses should pass faster.

“… We suffered quite some heavy damage during this incident.” (Queen)

“Yeah.” (Naofumi)

It’s the same at my place.

Though, it’s still within levels that we can recover from, and my Filo Rials are helping in procuring materials. It seems recovery will be faster than expected.

I didn't want to spread the Camping Plants too much, but I've had to distribute them to the village.

I also brought some here to use as temporary relief. We'll all be able to manage somehow.

Though, I dread what's become of this nation's finances.

Ah, right. The base the Three Hero Church used had some treasure piled up in it. Apparently, it came from the nobles.

The Queen decided that all of it would go towards financing the recovery effort.

This country's trash has finally been driven out.

"Again... and again, I kept telling her to correct her personality. Even from when she was little." (Queen)

"Like I care." (Naofumi)

"That's right... this is all due to my negligence." (Queen)

"You're also slacking on Trash duty." (Naofumi)

"... He was an extraordinary person at the start, but he's changed. He was swallowed by the power and authority he obtained." (Queen)

I peer out the window again. Fohl and Atlas are questioning Trash.

Trash is absentmindedly staring in the direction Witch was taken while he talks.

Hmm?

Fohl seems speechless.

What could they be talking about?

"The executions will start up tomorrow, but what will you do, Iwatani-sama?" (Queen)

"I'll stay for some closure. After the primary offenders are taken care of, I'll take my leave. I have to deal with Itsuki and prepare for the next wave. I can't really afford to waste my time here." (Naofumi)

"I see. Then we'll get into contact with you later." (Queen)

I can finally give the Wave my undivided attention.

I get the feeling that I've finally gotten to the starting point.

"Then I guess we should be off." (Naofumi)

After I finish my talks with the Queen, I prepare to head back.

"Ah, we'll be continuing our journey for a little longer." (Raphtalia)

"I see." (Naofumi)

So we'll be separating from Raphtalia... I feel a bit of regret, but it seems that she will be done soon.

"Atlas! Atlaaaaaas!" (Fohl)

"Onii-sama, just go on your trip already." (Atlas)

Ah, right. Fohl also completed his Class Up.

I sent Firo with him to the Dragon Hourglass, but it seemed he couldn't perform a special Class Up.

There was no choice, so I sent Gaelion over.

Just what standards does that Ahoge operate on??

With this, Atlas has taken the Firo route, and Fohl, the Gaelion route.

Even now, I can't tell just what makes them different.

Since their race is the same, perhaps I will be able to witness the difference between the two Class Ups.

"Because of Fohl-san, our journey is taking longer than it should. Please be obedient here." (Raphtalia)

With a fed up voice, Raphtalia reluctantly lifts up her hand and embeds it in Fohl's solar plexus.

"Ugu... I can still go on!" (Fohl)

"Then, me too." (Atlas)

Atlas chops the back of Fohl's head.

"Guha! A-Atlaa..." (Fohl)

Hey!

Why are you following up?

"Your training is running late?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah. If we give him the chance, he tries to run home. It's quite troublesome." (Raphtalia)

"Right. The instructor always leaves Fohl-san under Raphtalia-san's watch." (Rishia)

"Is that so?" (Naofumi)

Dammit, just how much of a Sis-con does he have to be?

He runs away from his own journey.

"I'm currently the strongest of master's disciples, so it naturally turned out like that... I can understand that he treats Atlas-chan dearly, but I think he should put his effort towards getting stronger for her." (Raphtalia)

"But, it's going to last for only a little longer, right?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. I look forward to coming home." (Raphtalia)

"Then, let me walk you to the outside of the Castle Town." (Naofumi)

"Thank you." (Raphtalia)

My group accompanies Raphtalia's to the edge of town.

"Look forward to the souvenirs." (Raphtalia)

"You got some?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. We brought a large variety." (Raphtalia)

Are they materials she got while training? If so, I'd definitely want them. Raphtalia has values similar to mine. She probably knows what would make me happy.

"Well then." (Raphtalia)

"Cya soon." (Naofumi)

I wave my hand as I watch Raphtalia set out.

"Then, should we be off as well?" (Atlas)

"Yeah, we already sent Ren and Rishia home ahead of time. We should..."
(Naofumi)

"Carriage..." (Firo)

Firo suddenly lets out a questioning voice.

For some reason she looks like she's going to cry.

"Ah, yes, yes. I haven't stopped by the Old Man's place yet, so I better go ask him." (Naofumi)

Does not having a carriage bother her that much?

But, I am also worried about the Old man, so it's not a bad idea to check. Though, I did talk with him a bit after the incident.

Apparently, the Three Hero Church remnants raided his shop and tried to stab him with the Dagger of Mob Mentality.

He could tell it was a strange weapon at a glance, so he immediately knocked them senseless, closed shop, and locked them up in an acquaintance's house.

I did warn him, so this was to be expected.

After the incident began escalating, he helped evacuate the populace.

He truly is a reliable person

More importantly, just what level is that Old Man?

Level isn't related to combat experience and technique, so perhaps it's a rude thing to ask.

But, he seems to have a lot of experience for some reason.

"Oh, if it isn't the young lad." (Old Man)

"How's your store been faring?" (Naofumi)

"Quite a bit's been stolen, but it seems that my money is still safe." (Old Man)

"I see. So do you plan on reopening soon?" (Naofumi)

"I can open at any time. Though, my variety won't be the best." (Old Man)

"Then won't you come over to my village this time?" (Naofumi)

"Again, laddie? I have no intentions of answering you at this point in time."
(Old Man)

Imya's Uncle has just returned, so I shouldn't be too insistent with my invitation.

"And, what are you here for today?" (Old Man)

"My bird is begging for her new carriage." (Naofumi)

"Ah, that matter. I'm sorry, young lady, it's not done yet." (Old Man)

"I see... Firo is sad." (Firo)

"As compensation, I'll use some techniques from Faubley to improve it. Don't worry." (Old Man)

"What do you plan on doing?" (Naofumi)

"They have something that lifts the wheels and body to lessen impact apparently." (Old Man)

... Suspension?

I see. This world has such things as well.

The old man unrolls a blueprint and shows it to me.

It involves attaching simple springs to the Wheel's couplings.

"Then..." (Naofumi)

I supplement the design by sketching a damper on it.

Even so, it only uses simple pipes, water and air pressure.

It's not like I'm that knowledgeable on the matter.

I'm only reiterating information that one of my friends who liked cars lectured to me long ago.

However, even with that, the Old Man's eyes shine with admiration. He nods a few times.

"Boy, you know some interesting things. I'll test it out." (Old Man)

"My world was one without magic. If you try using magic with this design, I think you may get a good effect." (Naofumi)

"I understand, boy. You don't need to sketch it all out. I have the inspiration." (Old Man)

"I see. I'll look forward to it." (Naofumi)

"Yeah! Firo will look forward!" (Firo)

After looking over the blueprints with the old man, we warp back to the village.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 256 – Superiority Complex

---

After that, I got busy.

I had to treat the new Demi-Human slaves from that facility, and there are too many things that need to be done in the village.

I also have to offer compensation for that damages to the merchants in the neighboring town.

Apparently, the Accessory merchant helped quiet everybody down.

He argued that the tax was ridiculously low, and that The Hero of the Shield was treated as a devil in this country, so such events were to be expected. It seems he thinks that there are great profits to be made here.

The main reason for this is the expansive trade network built on my Filo Rials' fast legs.

We agreed to carry his goods, so his profits rose.

Whenever Motoyasu gets his hands on some money, he goes off to buy and raise Filo Rials. We have no scarcity in that department.

And the repairs to the damaged buildings are proceeding at a good pace.

Even in such a time period, I cook every day, and spar with Atlas. It's getting really hectic.

And three days after I returned to the village.

Me and Atlas learned the technique Rishia used of sucking in Chi from the air.

"It's quite difficult." (Naofumi)

"Yes... Musou Kassei, was it? It seems that I'll be able to keep it up for quite a while." (Atlas)

Yes, Atlas learned how to hold up Mussou Kassei for long periods of time. But even though I learned how to suck in Chi, I can't seem to get a grasp of Mussou Kassei whatsoever.

"Master, are you doing it again? Let Firo join." (Firo)

When Firo tried to copy our actions, she immediately grasped how to do it. It seems that Genius type characters like to gather in my village. Even though Firo had experience using the pose to recover magic, in just a day or practice, she learned to suck in Chi and move around. For her to be able to obtain power so easily... how convenient.

What's more, it seems that Firo subconsciously activated Musou Kassei. Her movements are quicker than before.

Just how strong are these people getting?

Firo can't use pressure points, or Hengen Musou, but she can use her natural overflowing power to subjugate her enemies.

"Fuee... Naofumi-san and the others learned to use it without an instructor?" (Rishia)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

Rishia happens to pass by in the middle of looking after Itsuki.

"I tried so hard to learn it, and yet... This can't be..." (Rishia)

From Rishia's point of View, Atlas and Firo are absolute geniuses.

But that Granny said Rishia was the one with outstanding talent. From watching her fight with Itsuki, I'm pretty sure she's a genius in her own right.

I get the feeling that the Musou Kassei that Firo and Atlas picked up is somehow different from the one Rishia used.

They only learned through observation. There's no way it's as effective.

Even so, Rishia says their skill is not inferior.

Still, it somehow gives off a different feeling...

Ah, right. Just as I can't grasp Musou Kassei, Rishia somehow became unable to use it.

Even so, she fights without problem. For some reason, she seems even stronger than before.

Perhaps Heroes just can't use it.

"Then the two that learned to use it should proceed with caution, you know."

(Rishia)

"Why is that?" (Atlas)

"Why~?" (Firo)

"It's best not to keep Musou Kassei on for a long period of time. Your body won't hold up." (Rishia)

Ah, so it's that sort of boost skill.

In Manga and Anime, quite a few secret skills put large burdens on the body, and make it so that you can't fight again after you use them.

But when the main character faces an extreme dire situation, he uses it and loses his ability to fight. He either miraculously recovers, or awakens to some other power.

But it's not as if the world is that convenient for us.

It's likely that Rishia's ability to take in Chi is on another level.

The amount of Chi she had from the beginning didn't get that high even when she raised her level. That's the only reason I can think of.

And no matter how long Firo and Atlas can keep Mussou Kassei up, there's still a limit.

Using only internal Chi, it's one minute. While taking Chi in, five.

But Rishia was able to use it throughout her battle.

"That's correct. There are times when you can hear grinding sounds from your bones. When you see opportune moments, you should activate it right before you attack." (Rishia)

"Right." (Naofumi)

Female Knight's Musou Kassei wasn't very effective, and had a short active period. These aspects aren't really that important.

Fumu... Even though we just copied what we saw, it's surprisingly complicated.

"It's around time for food." (Naofumi)

I put my training on hold, and go to the dining hall to prepare food.

And I prepared it with the slaves I left the initial set up to.

We already set up a Bioplant to take care of the poisoned well and river.

The Three Hero Church didn't leave anything positive behind in their legacy. They were executed yesterday.

The head sister was sent to Faubley to become food for the pig. The rest were sentenced to the Iron Maiden.

In order to keep up the image, I had to go out in front of the public, and pretend to be one of the executioners.

Perhaps because I was raised in modern Japan, seeing a public execution was not good for my heart.

I had nightmares that night.

As the populace suffered quite a bit of damage, they booed and jeered at the convicts right through their deaths.

I've read in a book that such executions were held in the Middle Ages in my world in order to help the public vent stress.

Though I don't know if that's true.

Is it some instinctual stress reliever?

Like the feeling you get when you watch a public bonfire?

Why are they using a torture device like the iron maiden for an execution, anyways?

The victims' screams echoed throughout the town. It was traumatizing.

And Armor, along with all of Itsuki's other companions that I haven't seen since Cal Mira, were executed as well.

Ironically, they were burned inside the Brass Bull.

In my world I think it was called the Phalaris Bull.

It's one of Itsuki's curse skill.

Even though Armor had been informed beforehand that he was set to die, when the time came, he trembled and begged for his life. His legs gave way below him.

Dreadful screams came from the bull statue.

Yeah, this is quite a cruel world.

I do think that some criminals deserve death, but when I actually encounter such scenarios, my head starts spinning.

It wasn't refreshing in the least.

If I were to kill them by my own hand... would I feel any better?

Now that I think about it, I killed the pope with Blutopfer...

Back then, I didn't feel refreshed at all. The only thing I could think about was the pain coursing through my body.

Yep, I don't understand it.

At this point, I shouldn't be bothered by killing, but watching people die in such gruesome ways makes me sick.

Uu... After remembering what happened yesterday, I have become disinclined to cook meat dishes.

I had my nose filled with the smell of Itsuki's comrades burning, and I want to avoid blood for a bit.

"Niichan! Food!" (Kiel)

A loinclothed dog excitedly runs up to me, begging for food.

"Okay." (Naofumi)

I take out an item I had prepared. A crepe covered in dirt. I place the plate on the ground by the dog's feet.

Everyone is at a loss for words as they stare at me.

What's so surprising? I'm a man who keeps his promises.

Even if she was being brainwashed, I have to give some sort of punishment to the one who spoke so ill of me. (TL: Refer to the last lines of Chapter 230)

She should be thankful that her punishment ends with just this.
Anyways, for today, Kiel is the only one that gets a rundown crepe.

"I won't let you say you forgot about it. That's your meal for today."
(Naofumi)

By the way, I made the meal a little bit more extravagant for everyone else.
With this, she should reflect on getting brainwashed by the enemy so easily.
Though I'll probably end up giving her food anyways.

"Thank you, Niichan!" (Kiel)

"Wha-?" (Naofumi)

Kiel begins devouring the crepe like a dog.
The other slaves stare at her with their mouths wide open.

"Hehe." (Kiel)

With eyes brimming with a sense of superiority, the loinclothed dog looks over the other slaves in the dining hall.
The slaves swallow their spit as they stare at the plate she licked clean.
Taniko and Ren, who were eating together, are silent as well.

"W-what? How should I say this, it seems that only Kiel got the best food.
And it looks like he made is especially for her." (Slave)

"Yeah" (Slave)

"Shield oniichan, please give me a crepe too." (Slave)

"Me too!" (Slave)

"Gimme!" (Slave)

"That's not why I made it!" (Naofumi)

It's lecture time!

Why does it seem like I'm giving that loinclothed dog special treatment!?

These people... They're way too optimistic!

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 257 – Revelation

---

“Now then, where was I again?” (Naofumi)

We somehow finished lunch, so I returned to my training.

I’ll have to think of another punishment for Kiel.

Ren left with a group to go peddle.

It seems that he’s working diligently, and Female Knight is with him, so it should be fine.

Female Knight never got brainwashed during the incident.

However, she became greatly troubled over the nature of Justice due to it.

She sure likes to beat herself up.

But I’ll deal with that problem at another time.

Right now, I’m training for battle.

By sucking in Chi from the outside, I can hasten my SP and Mana recovery.

That’s efficient in itself. I can see it having a lot of uses.

However, it’s disappointing that I can’t use the convenient skill known as Mussou Kassei.

“Fumu…” (Naofumi)

“Master, what’s wrong?” (Firo)

“Well, I’m thinking of how to apply it to my skills. 「Shield Prison」 !”

(Naofumi)

I test to see what happens if I mix the Chi in the air, and my internal Chi…

My magic and SP when I use a skill.

Checking my status, I can see that the SP cost was cut by quite a bit.
Its flaw is that I cannot use it immediately. It's quite difficult.

"How is it, Atlas?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, the prison feels much more complete than before. I don't think even I would be able to find its weak points and break it." (Atlas)

"I see." (Naofumi)

It seems that the skill's effect also increased.

And with the cost reduction, I've learned something nice.

I need to get this to a state where it's usable in battle.

Take in energy from the outside, join it with my internal power and convert that energy into a skill.

The skills that haven't been able to protect anybody lately may become quite useful.

My Meteor Shield and Shield Prison seem to get destroyed every single time. I was worried if I would be able to use them in battles to come.

If I can decrease the activation time, and increase the accuracy, I can try strengthening my skills in battle.

Hmm?

Wait a second. Isn't this similar to something?

Isn't this the same fundamental theory as the Dragon Pulse Law?

... Right.

It was a magic where you gather power from the outside, and use your internal power to set it off.

That seems to be what I'm attempting at the moment.

If I can apply it to skills, can I use it in magic?

I can. Probably.

Yeah, I better test it.

“Did something happen?” (Firo)

“Wait there for a second.” (Naofumi)

I take a deep breath, and begin chanting magic.

I use my body as a medium to borrow power from the area.

Right now, I need to rely on the power on the outside… and the power called SP from my shield.

And my magic… I hold it back. I’ll use it separately

I take in Chi, and lead its flow like a complex puzzle.

At the same time, I picture a magic chant.

Uwah… This is really hard.

The puzzle I need to make shows itself to me.

If I don’t concentrate with all my might, it won’t be solved. If I move, it will immediately shatter.

Even so… I construct the puzzle under this pressure.

Good, with this, It’s complete.

It’s not the best, but I was able to make it.

『I, the Hero of the Shield, order the heavens. Cut off reason, retie it and release it. Power of the Dragon Pulse, with my Magic and my power as a Hero, I, the Shield, who has understood the origin of power command. Let the truth of creation once more be read forth and manifest, Give all his things to me.』

The Chant was freakin' long.

I'm impressed that I was even able to chant it.

It'll be a little difficult to use in real battles.

But still, I did it.

Using the Dragon Pulse, I can see just how different its structure is from normal magic.

The foundation is definitely the same, but the difficulty is different.

The magic I make with my own power from this world's words focuses on ease of release. But you need to be able to memorize the higher class spells from the start.

But casting magic to obstruct another's spells takes too much time.

Contrarily, the Dragon Pulse Law makes the user assemble the power flowing into them.

There's no set chant.

Because there's no set formula, you have to assemble it differently every time.

Perhaps this could be compared to the difference between English and Math.

If you want to make flames, normal magic just has you reading out the words for fire.

However, each level of fire has a different word. You need to remember what to use for blaze, inferno and hellfire.

However, using the Dragon Pulse, you have to figure out what = Fire.
Along the way, you can calculate Fire + Oil = blaze, or inferno + water = blaze.

Taniko can borrow the earth's power and still make fire. From Earth + Darkness, she somehow solves for the Darkness, and converts that to flame.

That's why obstructing the magic may prove simple.

By taking in the variables, and reasoning what the enemy is going to solve for, you can derive it first.

I can also see why it proves effective with choral magic.

Even if you don't solve a puzzle alone, as long as it's solved, it's solved.

I see why these two types are incompatible with one another.

However close the theory may be, like oil and water, their compatibility is terrible.

But SP is the link that connects these two worlds.

... That means that only heroes have the ability to mix them.

Okay, let's release this power.

「Revelation Aura」 !

(TL: I'm not sure if it's liberation of revelation)

Revelation... is it a level above Dreifach?

The words come naturally out of my mouth.

Now then, who should be my guinea pig?

I'll try casting it on the sturdy Firo.

"Firo, stay still for a bit." (Naofumi)

"Eh..." (Firo)

Firo's face shows blatant discontent.

What's with that attitude?

"Whenever master says something like that, nothing good happens." (Firo)

Ah, I get that feeling too.

Especially for Firo. Those are the words I used when she had the Monster Crest carved on her.

The Firo of that time was shaking. Did she get a trauma?

If that's the case, I guess I can understand why she would hate it.

"Well that's true, but it won't really hurt this time. I think. So just become my test subject." (Naofumi)

"No..." (Firo)

I hear Firo complaining, but I forcibly cast it on her anyways.

I really am a devil.

But it's support magic, so it shouldn't hurt.

Anyways, the magic eventually comes into contact with Firo.

The visibly dense mass of magic envelops Firo, and permeates into her skin.

Gu... My magic and SP's been drained clean.

That's just how much it cost.

"W-what did you cast?" (Firo)

"I used it before, right? It's the spell Aura, which increases all stats. I think it's a higher level this time." (Naofumi)

"Is that so?" (Firo)

"Yeah, so try jumping." (Naofumi)

"Okay." (Firo)

Firo tries to jump lightly while flapping her wings.

But...

"Wa-" (Firo)

With amazing force, she sends herself flying towards the ocean.

It was as if a rocket had been launched.

"Ah..." (Naofumi)

Yeah. For now, let's check Firo's status.

Uwah, this is amazing. Every single stat has more than doubled.

I guess moving with this status would cause her to blast off.

I chased Firo with Atlas.

"Ahahaha~! Master, this is fun!" (Firo)

With a rumbling sound, Firo is... running on top of the ocean.

Wow... before one foot sinks, she's already put her weight on the other one.

No matter how amazing she was, even Firo was unable to run on the ocean before.

So this is the power of my magic.

After about 10 minutes, the effects of Revelation Aura wore off, and Firo sunk.

She swam back to shore.

"That was fun, Master. Do it again~." (Firo)

"Rejected." (Naofumi)

That was ridiculously difficult! There's no way I could use it continuously.
But with this, I've understood the theory behind the magic.

Perhaps Mussou Kassei artificially creates something similar to SP.

When that's in place, Magic increases in effectiveness.

But without SP, Magic has its limits.

That means Hengen Musou may have been created in an attempt to become closer to the heroes.

Anyways, I should tell the Magic Shopkeeper about this.

Even if Revelation is impossible, I think I could use it to do a Dreifach Heal.

I can use it to reconstruct a magic that I already know to find another answer.

And if I just remember the chant that comes out, my life will be easier.

I never thought I would be able to master magic by studying Chi.

With this, I can get a discount on my payments to the Magic Shop.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 258 – Gaze at Both Sides of the Shield

---

The night of the next day.

I was watching over Ren's studying, when he suddenly let out a deep sigh.

"What's up? If you don't concentrate, you'll never learn the language."

(Naofumi)

If you don't have the motivation to learn, I'm not going to teach you.

"Ah... Just a bit. Won't you hear me out?" (Ren)

"That depends on the content." (Naofumi)

"As I thought. Actually, it's about Eclair-san." (Ren)

Eclair... Female Knight?

Just by hearing her name, I feel that this is going to be a pain.

However, I'm slightly curious as to why Ren could sigh over her.

"Did that woman cause any problems again?" (Naofumi)

Is it time to send her back to the castle yet?

Since Ren has begun working on his own, there's no point in me having her around.

Right now, she's sparring with Atlas outside of my house.

How diligent.

"Did something happen?" (Naofumi)

"Well, that is..." (Ren)

Apparently it happened around noon.

Some reckless thieves tried to go after them while they were peddling.

Even though everyone from my place has the ability to crush a bandit group or two.

I think the group Ren usually goes out with is Taniko's.

No matter how many bandits we capture, they still keep popping up.

But that doesn't really matter.

According to Ren, they subjugated the bandits immediately, and tied them up.

"Oy, jump up and down. I can see that you're still hiding something."

(Taniko)

"Uu..." (Bandits)

Taniko uses her magic to threaten the bandits like a gangster. She even takes all of their small change.

The threatened bandits desperately look to Ren for help.

"Wyndia. There's really no need for you to do that." (Ren)

"Shut up." (Taniko)

Ren is shut up immediately, and Taniko continues extorting the bandits. And at that point, even Ren starts to feel sorry for them. He grasps her shoulder and pulls her back.

Recently, Taniko's developed a sort of switch. She occasionally becomes very dark and negative.

In the village, she happily plays with Gaelion, the Caterpillands, and the other monsters.

She occasionally goes over to see Rat as well.

Because of her switch, Gaelion has come to consult me as well.

I'll have to think of something.

"Really, where could you have learned such a thing..." (Ren)

"It doesn't matter where, does it? More importantly, they still have some valuables, so move over." (Taniko)

Ren sighs at seeing how bad Taniko's upbringing was. Female Knight, who was busy tying up the other bandits, heard them and came over.

Taniko was in for a long lecture... she thought.

But Female Knight went over to the bandits that were being threatened.

"Hey, jump. You still have some valuables in your possession, do you not? How does it feel? To have your things taken instead?" (Female Knight)

She starts threatening them with her sword.

... Eh?

What does this mean?

Within my village, I thought she was on the honest side...

"O-oy... What happened to you!?" (Ren)

"Wyndia, help me carve the consequences of their crimes into their bodies."
(Female Knight)

"Sure." (Taniko)

"Now Jump!" (Female Knight and Taniko)

"H-hii..." (Bandits)

As the bandits jump, coins scatter across the floor.

The ground was covered with several copper and silver coins.

“Really, you could have just handed them over…” (Female Knight)

“What the hell are you doing!?” (Ren)

Ren got over his initial shock, and shouted as Female Knight kicked the bandits around with a cold expression, while loading them onto the carriage.

“Ren, this is a necessary evil. For someone who makes a good life off taking the belongings of others, it’s necessary for them to feel what it’s like to get taken from. They need to learn from experience.” (Female Knight)

“Wha-” (Ren)

After that, they turned them in to a nearby town, but Ren had believed that Female Knight was normally not a person to do such things.

But no matter how far he pressed her, she never gave an honest response.

“So that’s why you were troubled?” (Naofumi)

“Yeah.” (Ren)

What could have caused this change?

I can’t think of a reason why that stupidly stubborn Knight would go so far.

If there was one, it would be related to that brainwashing incident…

“Call Female Knight… Eclair over.” (Naofumi)

We call Female Knight inside from her training.

After a while, she enters the room.

I reiterate Ren’s story, and ask.

“What sort of change is this? To you, weren’t all of my actions cruel and unjust?” (Naofumi)

“Ah, so it’s about that.” (Female Knight)

Female Knight has a philosophic expression as she turns to me.

What? It’s rare for that diligent knight to make such a face.

“Do you remember that incident the other day?” (Female Knight)

“Yeah.” (Naofumi)

“Up ‘til that point, I thought it was best for me to only follow the justice I believed in. However, I realized that their justice also had some logical points.” (Female Knights)

“It did?” (Naofumi)

They had no logic, and their arguments were all over the place.

“I’m not sure what they told you, Iwatani-dono, but this is what they were screaming at me: 『In order to make a world without Discrimination, we can’t allow them to give Demi-Humans preferential treatment.』 『Even those that take can only live by taking. They have their own situations.』 ”
(Female Knight)

I’m not sure about the first one, but how about the second?

“There was definitely some logic. The second person added on, 『If it’s wrong to take from people, then how about monsters? There’s no reason for us to think about reaping crops. It’s human pride. For the sake of asserting out rights, we are waging this rebellion.』 ”

“You know…” (Naofumi)

That's like saying that bullying is right because the bully has reasons for bullying.

Even if that's true, that doesn't make it right.

I have no reason to empathize with those messed up zombies. Just hearing their arguments makes me tired.

"By that logic, I who aides one side of a war is definitely evil to the other. But still, I have my justice. That's what I believed. Even so, I kept seeing the people I protected, the people I trusted turning on me. Then what is justice... It must be something that constantly changes. The second I thought that, my own justice began to collapse. Perhaps I was evil from the start." (Female Knight)

"So that's why you've given up your honesty, and started doing bad acts?" (Naofumi)

That's way too extreme of a change.

She was always one who over fixated on small things, but she was still fundamentally a good person.

Just because your opinion clashes with others, that doesn't mean one of them is wrong.

"You're wrong." (Female Knight)

"What's wrong?" (Naofumi)

"Doing what you believe to be correct is definitely important. But there's a flaw in living only by that belief. In the end, it leads to using violence to solve problems, and silencing all that prove to be flaws. It's merely an endless cycle." (Female Knight)

"No matter how you're trying to live, your way of thought is too out there." (Naofumi)

I thought she was idiotically diligent, but isn't she getting a little strange in the head?

Perhaps I'll have to throw her in solitary for a while.

"And while I was worrying about all of this, I recalled my father, and Iwatani-dono." (Female Knight)

"... Why me?" (Naofumi)

"In a country of human superiority, my father established a land that favoured Demi-Humans. But were his actions truly correct? And Iwatani-dono continuously performs evil and brutality, but..." (Female Knight)

By evil, do you mean my treatment of bandits?

I don't really think that taking from them is particularly evil.

"If you change perspective, my father is the one who broke the rule of human superiority. Even so, I don't think his way of thought was wrong. But evil is evil, and the one who continued to protect this land was father. There's no way... he did something that could be called a crime to humanity."

Well it's not like I can deny that.

The Queen is the one who administers this country, and she does use her power to silence nobles.

There's a possibility that nobles who take unnecessary action are fated to get into accidents.

No, unless they cause an incident of this level, I don't think she would execute them.

She's more of the type to control their actions from behind the curtain.

“And the answer that came to me was one I learned by Iwatani-dono’s example. That is my conclusion” (Female Knight)

“Hah?” (Naofumi and Ren)

Both I and Ren make the same noise.

I can’t follow what part of the previous conversation led to this.

“Iwatani-dono is loved by his Demi-humans. Even if they are supposed to be separated by the wall known as master and slave. That isn’t just because he is the Hero of the Shield. However, Iwatani-dono calmly perpetuates acts of evil. Yet still, the people follow him… It’s because he has the resolution to do evil for the sake of his allies.” (Female Knight)

“That wasn’t really my intention…” (Naofumi)

“Don’t be humble. I had misinterpreted the words father left to me. 『Live nobly, without any regrets.』 I think he was asking me not to become like him… But I want to become a person like my father. I want to be a noble who fights for the people.” (Female Knight)

“And how does that lead to extorting from bandits?” (Naofumi)

“A long journey starts with the first step. Iwatani-dono and the people living here do whatever they can to make as much profit as possible. It was something I had labelled as evil, yet it was done with resolve.” (Female Knight)

Is that how it is?

No, Female Knight is being less stubborn, so I guess I can say she’s grown a bit. But that growth is in quite a strange direction. It’s a bit scary.

If handled badly, this may become the thought process of a tyrant.

“Ren, this one’s head is getting strange. I leave her guidance to you.”

(Naofumi)

“A-ah… I’ll do what I can.” (Ren)

Ren has a better sense for these things than me. He might be good at medicine.

From continuously witnessing malicious acts, she began to be dyed with evil… Since she lost her parents, she had no one to lead her back on track. Though I shouldn’t really be the one to say it.

“In the lands my father liked, Silt Welt, and Shild Freiden, there’s a saying like this. 『Gaze at both sides of the Shield』. Don’t just gaze at the front, look to the back as well. On the other side of glory, there is tyranny and disgrace. One can only make a judgment after carefully observing both the good and bad of a situation.” (Female Knight)

A word very familiar to me appears here?

No, my Shield may just be translating another word as Shield.

“Iwatani-dono is a one who displays both sides readily, I believe. His actions on his territory are worthy of respect, and he performs tyranny in order to protect his territory. In order to protect his people, even if he is a Hero chosen by god, he will dye himself with evil.” (Female Knight)

Female Knight’s eyes seem to have reached enlightenment.

She seems very excited.

Once she starts believing something, she’ll follow it to the death, this one.

I thought she had become more flexible, but… Her explanation leaves some to be desired.

“And so, I’ve decided to study land management under Iwatani-dono. Eventually, once Iwatani-dono leaves, I’ll protect this land with Raphtalia.”
(Female Knight)

Gu… She hit a good point.

Yeah. I was worried over what would happen once I left this world.

Even if the Queen prevents Demi-Human discrimination, the people may eventually revolt.

The Demi-Human slaves had always been abused as a source of labor. If the people were to see such Demi-Humans walking around normally in broad daylight…

It may be peaceful now, but plots are already in action, and the chance that my village will cease to exist isn’t zero.

We may have gotten rid of the extremist faction, but there’s no telling what the moderate faction will become.

And then, my village will be swallowed whole.

For its survival, Demi-Humans would have to be given preferential treatment, and political aide.

So Female Knight’s words aren’t wrong.

“I understand your thought. But extortion is going too far.” (Naofumi)

“What are you saying? I merely imitated what Iwatani-dono was doing.”
(Female Knight)

…Ah. When I took care of bandits with Female Knight, I did say the same things.

Though Female Knight complained to me afterwards.

She was just imitating me?

“Naofumi… you did such things?” (Ren)

Ren looks over me with doubtful eyes.

“There’s was no choice! And doesn’t this country have way too many bandits as it is?” (Naofumi)

“Now that you mention it, that’s true. I get the feeling that when we were summoned, public order was being kept better.” (Ren)

Though most of them were probably just in hiding.

There’s also the fact that I’ve expanded trade routes, and distribution recently.

The Accessory Merchant passionately gave me a speech on expansion.

The appearance of the Spirit Turtle, and the country’s internal conflict caused a surge of nervousness among the populace. In order to protect their lives, many people have loosened their purse strings.

Some merchants want to hop on to the bandwagon, and get with this flow of money.

With food shortages and such, there are plenty of potential money trees around.

Perhaps the sudden increase of commerce has caused the amount of bandits to naturally increase.

Some unruly adventurers made a guild to gather money behind closed doors, while amassing forces apparently.

That’s what’s now known as this world’s Bandit Guild.

I don't really have any relation to them, but the Adventurer Guild, the Merchant Guild, the Knight Brigades, the Church... Currently the Four Hero one... They're all supporting one another.

When they first got here, I think Ren and the others began earning at the Adventurer Guild.

I'm not someone who would get hired. I'm more on the hiring side, so they're unrelated to me.

Returning to topic.

For a Bandit Guild to emerge, it must be a den of criminals.

Since acting alone is dangerous, ruffians get together, and profit off of attacking merchants and towns.

The Spirit Turtle incident has, for various reasons, messed up the public order in Melromark.

"I may have to perform a grand sweep of them soon." (Naofumi)

"But what will you do?" (Ren)

"I have an idea." (Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 259 – The Chivalrous Thief

---

“And so, I thought I would dump this large job on you.” (Naofumi)

“I-I don’t want to! When I make up for my sins, I decided to return to my village and live a decent lifestyle.”

Right. The one who had an abnormally high encounter rate with me, and the one who was under Ren when he was devoured by his curse. I got special permission from the country to take him out of the state prison, after which he had his slave rights turned over to me, and I had a contract written up.

I’m in the middle of persuading him.

Despite his repeat offenses, he’s repenting nicely. Or perhaps he just doesn’t want to contract with me.

(TL: /人●●人\)

“Did you think you had the right to refuse?” (Naofumi)

“No matter what, I’m in rehabilitation so I can lead an honest lifestyle! I beg of you. Please don’t get in my way.” (Bandit)

“Calm down. First, listen to what I have to say. It’s not like I’m asking for the impossible. And you’ll also benefit quite a bit.” (Naofumi)

Even though I continuously beat him up, he continued carrying on his role as a thief. My evaluation of him is quite high.

He may just be cursed with bad luck.

“First, I’ll specially grant you a class up. I’ll even cover raising your level.” (Naofumi)

By the way, the sentences the country issued to him included forced farm labor after having his level reset.

Meaning his current level is 1.

He has no means of fighting. He's in the middle of hard labor in order to make up for his crimes.

Of course, he's treated as a slave, so if he tries to escape, his slave seal will kill him.

It seems that management is much easier here than in my world.

"I don't know where your hometown is, but I'll even give financial aid to your family. Under the pretense that you were hired by the country. You'll make your folks proud." (Naofumi)

"Gu..." (Bandit)

The bandit lets out a small grunt at my proposal.

"You're doing a good deed. If you do well, I promise you a large reduction on your sentence." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi, you look like quite a villain right now." (Ren)

"Can it. It's a plea bargain." (Naofumi)

"No, I think it's a little different." (Ren)

"Then Agent Provocateur." (Naofumi)

"He's an Agent?" (Ren)

Ren is looking at me with skepticism.

"Even so, I will..." (Bandit)

"Calm down. Don't be so hasty. This sudden situation must have made you hungry, right? Should I bring out some food?" (Naofumi)

And I bring out a dish I made to imitate a Katsudon. (TL: Usually given by the police. See Hataraku Maou)

It was impossible to procure all the ingredients, so it's really a different dish that only looks like one.

Guu...

The Bandit's stomach growls.

He looks at the dish I made, and gulps.

"Don't worry, it isn't poisoned. Do you want me to feed some to one of my slaves to demonstrate?" (Naofumi)

I call over the loinclothed dog, put some on a small plate, and give it to her.

"Niichan. This is delicious too! Give me more." (Kiel)

"Just wait a second. If this guy doesn't agree, you can have it." (Naofumi)

"Then decline, evil-looking person." (Kiel)

"I-I just have to eat it, right!? Right!?" (Bandit)

Fu...

The bandit starts eating the pseudo-katsudon.

"W-what is this!? It's ridiculously delicious, isn't it!? My hands can't stop! It reminds me of my mother's cooking... the tears are..." (Bandit)

(TL: Tate no Yuusha no Nariagari is a cooking Web Novel)

I stare contently at the Bandit, who is assaulting the bowl.

Now that he's relieved some stress, he'll probably listen to some of my words.

Now I just need to make an under-the-table deal with him.

Negotiations like this sure are fun.

“Gu…” (Bandit)

“If you just move by my words, I’ll write up a letter asking for your pardon.”

(Naofumi)

“Even so… I can’t do something like selling out my comrades.” (Bandit)

“Firo!” (Naofumi)

“I got it! When I succeed, you’ll make them let me free, right!?” (Bandit)

I have various methods to ‘negotiate’.

With that previous method, I think quite a few people would have agreed.

“Of course. It’s a promise.” (Naofumi)

That is if you succeed.

“Naofumi…” (Ren)

Ren opens his mouth as if he wants to say something.

“What?” (Naofumi)

“No… there’s no choice… right? I feel like I just started to understand what Eclair-san was getting at.” (Ren)

“Still, there’s a limit to going out and hunting bandits, right? In that case we better just cut them off at the source.” (Naofumi)

Using this bandit, we can investigate the cause of the sudden influx of bandits, and keep up public order at the same time.

If the coming of the heroes strengthens the world’s light, we have to manage the shadows that come as a result as well.

And just how many people in this world would deduce that a heroes would go around employing bandits?

Even if someone did, now that all four heroes are stationed at my camp, there's nothing to fear.

If I think about it, my position's changed quite a bit...

"First, you have to gather your thieving brethren. Then you have to build up your forces. Of course, you can't go around attacking any merchants from my place." (Naofumi)

By the way, I've already negotiated with the accessory merchant. He was ecstatic, and said something about making me his successor. I can't understand just what moves him so.

"If I can't attack merchants, how do you expect me to live!? Don't underestimate bandits!" (Bandit)

"I never told you not to attack them, right? There are actually some merchants I do want you to attack." (Naofumi)

According to the accessory merchant, there are several bad merchants who don't sign in with the Merchant's Guild. They break the rules and regulation, and sell in other's territories.

And backing them are the moderate faction of the anti-shield coalition. They didn't act up during the brainwashing incident, but even now they're building up wealth and power to get rid of me.

I remember seeing a few nobles like that glaring at me.

And people with so much influence are the ones more likely to be keeping bandits under their belts.

Though I don't know the truth of the matter.

"I can't see the difference!" (Bandit)

"It's fine. I'll report the routes and schedules for my merchants and peddlers. You will be choosing evil merchants, and taking their cargo."

(Naofumi)

People call this looking for trouble.

I guess he would be a thief of justice who would only steal from evil.

"And? What should I do about the load from that theft?" (Bandit)

"Let's see. You can bring it to my place, but it would be troublesome if they followed. Let's use half of it to pay your subordinates, and distribute the other half to the unfortunate towns and villages. If you do so, you won't be evil to the world. And the country will... Looking at me, you can tell, right?"

(Naofumi)

"Is that something a Hero should be doing...?" (Bandit)

I don't want to hear that from a bandit.

Covert operations are standard fare in a large organization.

Together with the Queen, I'll just carry out a large scale trash sweep.

"Will it be alright?" (Bandit)

"The Heroes will also go around under the pretense of getting rid of bandits. As a boss with good intuition, you'll manage the operation. If you find a troublesome subordinate or someone getting in your way, the people from my place will take care of them. But if you attack us for revenge, we won't show any mercy." (Naofumi)

And so I succeeded in taking a bandit as a disciple.

What about leveling him up?

I'll leave it to Firo's Spartan training program.

"Naofumi... aren't you getting darker and darker? It would be troublesome if Eclair and Wyndia were to imitate it, you know." (Ren)

"If you just cut off the top of a weed, it'll grow in again, right? We need to pull it out from the root to clean up the lawn." (Naofumi)

"No, it's not like I don't see where you're coming from..." (Ren)

And from my little protégée, I learned one thing.

As I thought, the main cause was the increase of wealth brought about from my land.

Since this country's bandits were regularly caught by my slaves, their forces decreased. And thus, many foreign bandits began to expand their area of activity here.

Because of that, the amount of bandits here increased.

It's like the cause and effect where if you hunt one animal too much, another increases too fast.

To summarize the result, a large organization known as the Chivalrous Thief Guild suddenly popped up in Melromark.

The country thought it was a good way to manage their more malicious bandits.

Well, the number of underworld organizations in this world merely increased by one.

(TL: Discworld, anyone?)

By the way, the Bandit that I personally trained eventually became quite famous, but that's another story.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 260 – Growing Worse

---

And so, the events of the morning after dealing with the bandits.

“Naofumi-sama! I’m home~!” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia opened the door and entered the house.

We met just a few days ago, but feeling like we haven’t seen each other in a while is because we’re now in the village, or because we’re in the house I live in with Raphtalia, huh.

I can’t tell.

“Hm…ah, Raphtalia, welcome home.” (Naofumi)

“Onee-chan, welcome home~” (Firo)

“Ah, welcome home Raphtalia-chan~” (Kiel)

“Welcome home, Raphtalia-san.” (Imia)

“Kyua!” (Gaelion)

Raphtalia looked around in wonder at my surroundings.

It’s not a reaction I see often.

“It’s gotten worse than before!” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia exclaimed in astonishment right after returning.

By the way, on the bed was Firo and Gaelion, as well as the loinclothed dog and Imia.

“What’s the meaning of this, Naofumi-sama!” (Raphtalia)

“Ah, I invited Firo to my bed as a countermeasure against Atla in the beginning, but Firo caused a problem after a short time so I had Kiel and

Imia stand guard instead.” (Naofumi)

“Sadina onee-san!” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia questioned Sadina, who was lying on the other bed with Atla.

“As I promised, I haven’t let Atla-chan into Naofumi-chan’s bed.” (Sadina)

“That’s not what I’m asking about!” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia staggered and then leaned against the wall.

Is she alright?

“Are you tired from training? You’d better rest well. I can cast recovery magic if you like. Recently I’ve worked out a way to increase its effects.”
(Naofumi)

“It’s not that!” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia was in denial.

I was thinking of showing her the newly thought up Liberation-type magic though.

“Naofumi, what’s up? What happened?” (Ren)

Hearing the commotion, Ren and Rishia and Itsuki exited their temporary house.

Their response is good.

It seems they’ll be able to cope when an incident occurs.

“…Why are the Sword and Bow Heroes here!” (Raphtalia)

“Huh? I haven’t told you?” (Naofumi)

She came out from the Castle as if it was natural so i thought she knew, but she didn't know?

To begin with, she should have heard that I was cooperating with Motoyasu to protect the Castle Town but... ah, that was after Raphtalia broke out, huh.

Speaking of which, Motoyasu views Raphtalia as a pig so they can't hold any conversations.

Because Raphtalia is female.

"I had some growth as a human being, and came to work in Naofumi's place after I thought about fighting for the sake of world but..." (Ren)

Even I would like you to hurry up and be independent.

Saying 'hey, hey', he came to reside in my village for some reason.

Well, it might be fine like this in terms of management.

"Atla!" (Fohl)

Fohl came into the room and embraced Atla.

"Nii-chan finally came home!" (Fohl)

"Please stop, Onii-sama, Naofumi-sama is watching." (Atla)

"Hmph! Now that I've returned, don't go thinking you can continue as you have been doing!" (Fohl)

"Ah, yes yes." (Naofumi)

It looks like Fohl's really glad to officially be back, that Sis-Con.

He's actually crying. So he liked Atla that much.

Huh, Fohl is alright.

"Naofumi-sama, please explain!" (Raphtalia)

"A lot of things happened." (Naofumi)

"A one-liner! Aren't those just some convenient words. If you don't explain properly, I won't be accountable for what happens." (Raphtalia)

"Ask the person himself." (Naofumi)

At my reply, Ren started talking about being deceived by Witch and then being defeated by us, which led to him coming here for rehabilitation.

How Rishia defeated Itsuki in the same way and Itsuki being in recuperation was also explained.

Because the current Itsuki has become a 'Yes Man' and will obey everything that is said.

"Sigh... I understand the circumstances. Come to think of it, such a terrible thing happened in the village so it's a likely situation." (Raphtalia)

"Is there really such a change?" (Naofumi)

"There is! Hasn't the village's surroundings become a dense forest!

Moreover, there's also a farm nearby with Filorials that look like Firo!"

(Raphtalia)

"It is like that, now that you mention it." (Naofumi)

"It really does look like a lot of things happened while I was away."

(Raphtalia)

"I suppose." (Naofumi)

Come to think of it, even though it's only been a month and a half since Raphtalia left for training, I feel like there's been a lot of fighting.

Bringing down each of the three heroes is still fresh in my mind.

Some of it can be called beating, but there are also some shady things mixed in.

It can be taken as lengthy too... or is it short, it's been a series of battles day after day.

"Now then, Raphtalia-chan's return means Onee-chan has completed her duty." (Sadina)

"That's right." (Naofumi)

"It's disappointing that you didn't understand what I meant, Sadina Onee-san." (Raphtalia)

As far as it goes, was she helpful?

Well, Atla didn't enter my bed.

"And so, Raphtalia-chan, I'll be taking Naofumi-chan~" (Sadina)

"What are you saying!" (Raphtalia)

"What are you saying!" (Naofumi)

"Er... I am.. seriously aiming for Naofumi-chan?" (Sadina)

Sadina calmly answered while swaying.

Stop it, that's disgusting

"Perhaps Naofumi-chan prefers this human form? Then shall Onee-chan gallantly take care of you in my human form?" (Sadina)

"Sadina Onee-san... are these your true feelings?" (Raphtalia)

"That's right~" (Sadina)

"Then now that Raphtalia san has returned, you can finally start the fight."
(Atla)

Atla asked for confirmation as if it was a matter of course.

This wasn't a preparatory period!

I can tell you like me from your attitude but all your heads are just filled with flowers.

Especially Raphtalia.

"That's right. I did as promised with Atla, and I waited until Raphtalia-chan returned. Now then, won't you assault Naofumi-chan together with Onee-chan." (Sadina) [T/N: ...3P rape?]

Raphtalia's expression turned pale before my eyes and she turned to face me.

"Naofumi-sama... could you possibly have ... had a drinking competition with Sadina Onee-san?" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah, we did." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia bent back and facepalmed as if she received a shock.

What's with that?

"Naofumi-sama... Sadina has been telling the villagers about a certain rule for a long time now." (Raphtalia)

"Sigh..." (Naofumi)

Kiel also nodded in agreement.

What the hell.

"Sadina Onee-san said 'My life companion must be someone who can drink more than me! If I meet someone like that, I'll never let them go so everyone should be prepared~'" (Raphtalia)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

"If Sadina nee-chan is designating Nii-chan as her future husband to that extent, then Nii-chan must have had a drinking competition and won or so everyone in the village has been thinking.” (Kiel)

“Come again?” (Naofumi)

Well it’s true I had a complete victory in the drinking competition against Sadina.

Eh? So that’s the reason Sadina wanted me as a husband?

I thought it was just a prank.

When I looked towards Sadina, she was in her human form, holding her cheeks with her hands and looking bashful.

“I really enjoyed the days of watching Naofumi-chan’s sleeping face every night.” (Sadina)

Ugh… not just Atla, the perverts are increasing!

I’m not interested in that.

“Nii-chan, how did you win against Sadina nee-chan?” (Kiel)

“I just ate a Lukor fruit?” (Naofumi)

“Of course…” (Kiel & Slaves)

Kiel and the other village-born slaves nodded unanimously.

It seems Imia also nodded.

Was it well-known because Sadina played the role of Big Sister in the village?

“It was shown sometime when we went peddling, I think.” (Naofumi)

“Eh? That was the Lukor Fruit? I thought it was a sign of welcome.” (Kiel)

It’s about the guy who made me eat Lukor Fruit as a countermeasure against impostors calling themselves the Hero of the Shield to become famous.

As expected, it seems there are no other guys who can safely eat Lukor Fruit apart from me.

It was thought to be some kind of reception and a tool to judge imposters.

“...I see, Naofumi-san is an ability wielder of Intoxication Neutralization. Everything points to that.” (Itsuki)

Itsuki just said something incomprehensible.

Ren and I slowly turned to face Itsuki,

“Ability wielder?” (Naofumi)

“Was there such a system?” (Ren)

I have abilities that resemble a resistance against abnormal status conditions.

Can I say it's like that?

Unfortunately, I don't recall an ability to neutralise intoxication.

“No, that's not it. Us dimension travellers only attained these abilities after we came to this world.” (Itsuki)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 261 – ESPer

---

“Abilities we’ve had since before we came to this world?”

Hmm?

What is Itsuki talking about?

Is it that?

Something like how Ren’s world had VRMMOs?

At that time, Ren called normal MMOs archaic, and threw us into confusion.
I feel something similar from Itsuki right now.

“Hey Ren, do you have any idea what Itsuki is talking about right now?”

(Naofumi)

“Sorry. There are a few possibilities, but I’m not sure.” (Ren)

“Fumu.” (Naofumi)

Like Ren, I have my guesses, but for now Itsuki cannot lie, so it would be faster just to ask him.

The current Itsuki just says whatever pops into his head.

If we ask him about these powers, he’ll probably answers.

“Itsuki, what powers would you be talking about? Do you mean about the power of the legendary weapons?” (Naofumi)

“No. The legendary weapons may have a similar function as well, but I’m referring to something completely different. Isn’t it obvious?” (Itsuki)

“Hah… Please elaborate. In the world that you came from… what were these powers?” (Naofumi)

I hold up my hand to quiet Raphtalia and Sadina.

“What do you mean what? Doesn’t Naofumi-san already understand? Or did Naofumi-san live in a rural area where power management hadn’t reached yet?” (Itsuki)

Oh my. He’s answering questions with questions again.
He should be answering honestly due to his curse, though.
Currently, he’s speaking expressionlessly in a disinterested voice.
Does that mean these 『Abilities』 are obvious facts of life to him?

It’s as if I just asked him how to breathe.
If asked such a thing, perhaps this is the natural response.

“Please. Explain what these powers are from the start.” (Naofumi)
“Understood. Abilities appeared in my world 25 years ago. Various incidents and calamities occurred, and by researching into the cause, it was discovered that each human possessed various abilities. They’re also called PSI and ESP, I think.” (Itsuki)

… Um…

That means Itsuki’s world is…

“Ren, did you get that? No, your world had VRMMOs, right? Were ESPers common knowledge?” (Naofumi)

“There’s no way they existed.” (Ren)

No… I thought that since Ren came from an SF world, he would understand.
Or perhaps they’re both from modern day fantasies?

So Itsuki's world is in the near future, and it has ESP?

In my world, it would be labeled as Psychic Battle! I would have been excited to go there.

The problem is just how Itsuki stood in such a world. What powers did he have?

"And? Itsuki, in your world, how were these powers treated?" (Naofumi)

"First, all the people with powers were each gathered into schools. There was one per prefecture. Though there were some exceptions." (Itsuki)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

Ability users...

Yeah. I don't get it.

"Powers are ranked from F to S, and classes are divided based on that rank. Of course, that also depends on the school." (Itsuki)

"Did your world contain nothing but power users?" (Naofumi)

"No, that's not the case, there were also zeroes. In fact, there were more Zeroes than ESPers." (Itsuki)

"And you were?" (Naofumi)

"I was from the E class, with the ability 『Accuracy』." (Itsuki)

Accuracy... is that why he's the Hero of the Bow?

How is it? Were there standards for choosing the Heroes?

Again, I don't get it.

"What sort of ability was Accuracy? I just want to confirm." (Naofumi)

"If you set your aim, you can hit things much easier than normal humans.

If needed, I can also act like a sniper from afar.” (Itsuki)

“Ah, I see.” (Naofumi)

So he never misses.

That’s why during the kidnapping incident, he kept firing at me without minding Melty.

If he didn’t have absolute confidence, there’s no way he would attack there. If so, I guess I can understand his behavior a little bit more.

Anyways, I don’t feel any doubt from Itsuki’s words, but I’m having trouble believing them.

『Accuracy』 , is it?

Just by looking at it, it has quite a bit of combat capabilities.

If the ranking is S-f, it’s around the lower end?

“Even though the ability’s combat ability seems to be high, why is it Rank E?” (Naofumi)

“Because there is the higher level 『100% Hit』 ability.” (Itsuki)

“What is 100% Hit?”

“Naofumi-san was able to interfere when I fired my arrows, but if someone with 100% Hit shot them, they would hit no matter what.” (Itsuki)

“Hmm…” (Naofumi)

“No matter which direction they were aimed, the arrows would come flying right at Naofumi-san.” (Itsuki)

So it’s Homing!

I guess we are dealing with ESP here.

"It's a common ability among Baseball Players. Of course, it is heavily regulated." (Itsuki)

"So that means, Itsuki, because you had a lower level ability, you were looked down upon within your ESPer School?" (Naofumi)

"Naofumi, I think you're saying a bit too much." (Ren)

"That's right. That's why I enthusiastically focused on games to run away from reality." (Itsuki)

Itsuki boldly answers. I don't hear any sarcasm or regret.

So Itsuki's Idiotic Justice... Hero Complex came from him not being granted a superior ability.

"I had always known I was special from the special ability screening in elementary school. From middle school onwards, we were all transferred to special schools. But there, I learned that there were plenty of people better than me, and fell into despair. Even in high school, that fact never changed." (Itsuki)

Since he was surrounded by normal people, Itsuki was filled with confidence when he found out he was special during elementary school

But when he finally went to the special school, he found out that his power was nothing. He ran to games to console himself.

In most Manga and Light Novels, the main character has some sort of superior ability.

However, in an actual society based on special powers, there are people all over the spectrum. It may be hell for the lower people.

Within his culture of ESPers, he saw numerous people perform amazing feats, and defeating evil. He wished to be like that.

"I understand what you're saying. And? I can ride any vehicle without getting sick, and drink however much I want. Are you saying that's a power?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. Naofumi-san's power is probably 『Intoxication Cancel』 . There's also a lower level version called 『Intoxication Resist』 . The lower one's F Rank." (Itsuki)

"Intoxication Cancel is?"

"Based on the future prospects, I'd say it's around C-D rank. Against ESPers with gravity and pressure controlling powers, it's conditionally classified as S." (Itsuki)

"Hmm. So what do you mean by future prospects?" (Naofumi)

"Think about it. Being invulnerable to dizziness makes attacks by people who change pressure in set areas ineffective. It also strengthens one's ears and cochlear fluid. It can change into a skill that lets one act in areas with absolutely no gravity. It's an essential skill for astronauts. The evolved one is 『Gravity Attack Cancel』 , a strange power. Its full extent has yet to be explored." (Itsuki)

Was it that great of an ability?

No no no. I'm just strong against vehicles, and I pretty much was like that in my world as well.

And I just don't get drunk, right?

Is what I think, but even I'm beginning to get my doubts.

I didn't feel anything when I stuffed my mouth with the Lucor Fruits that were enough to knock Motoyasu out, and even When Firo runs at her top speed, I'm unaffected.

Even if the others get used to it, it's not as if they enjoy it.

"I also have the suspicion that Naofumi-san has a double skill." (Itsuki)

"You mean that I have multiple skills?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Itsuki)

"What else is there?" (Naofumi)

I don't really have to listen.

Itsuki's world was one set in the near future and ruled by ESP.

And the reason Itsuki thought he could look down on us was because he thought we were all without abilities I guess. That makes sense.

Even so, Ren's world has Virtual Reality, and Itsuki's had ESers.

What does Motoyasu have?

Whenever he talks to girls, do options appear before his eyes?

Not that it matters. He's like that. Even if I ask him, I don't feel that I'll get a serious answer.

"I think you also have 『Animal Friends』, an ability that attracts animals to you naturally. You'd do fine as a veterinarian." (Itsuki)

"Ah, I see." (Naofumi)

"Master~ Pat Firo's head~" (Firo)

"Niichan, play~" (Kiel)

"Hero of the Shield-sama, um..." (Imya)

The Bird, the Loinclothed Dog, and Imya are swarming around me.

... I wonder.

I get the feeling that animals have liked me since I was young.

When I walked around the mountains, wild birds naturally perched on my shoulders, and I encountered wildlife easily.

I once encountered a bear, and played dead to try to survive. Rather than attacking, it started licking my face.

I later learned that playing dead doesn't actually work.

When I was in elementary school, the large dog in the neighborhood let me ride on its back.

No, it's more like it sat down in front of me asking to be ridden.

I rode around waving a stick, pretending I was an Ainu Girl from a fighting game.

(TL: Ainu is a native tribe of Japan. With naturally Reddish hair. This is apparently a reference to Nakoruru from Samurai Spirits)

The monsters of this world have a wild disposition, so I tend to avoid them, though...

The monsters in this village are strangely drawn to me. But that must be the power of the Shield.

Yeah. It's best not to believe everything Itsuki says.

He's talking about his own world, and mine doesn't come equipped with any such powers.

"Well, I guess Itsuki's world is just like that." (Naofumi)

I think I've caught a glimpse of why Itsuki's personality is as it is.

I forcefully bring the topic to a close, and signal for Ren to help me drive him out. I turn to Raphtalia.

"I've kept you waiting." (Naofumi)

"Umm... What were you talking about with the Hero of the Bow? I don't really get what you mean by ESP and everything." (Raphtalia)

"Ah, it seems that if you look at Itsuki's world, it's not that different from this one." (Naofumi)

"More importantly, Naofumi-chan, won't you do something fun with me?" (Sadina)

"I won't. I have no interest. Get out." (Naofumi)

"Oh, Naofumi-chan, but that's your charm." (Sadina)

Sadina ignores my rejection, and provokes Raphtalia with challenging eyes. I'd appreciate it if you didn't do that.

I don't think Raphtalia wants to witness a love scene, and I'd like to avoid unnecessary things like that until the world is at peace.

"Sadina-oneesan! You've done enough, so please separate from Naofumi-sama!" (Raphtalia)

"No, Oneesan isn't going to back down here." (Sadina)

"Just get away from him!" (Raphtalia)

"Ah, for the love of god! All of you are being too loud, so everyone besides Raphtalia, get out!" (Naofumi)

To clear up the misunderstanding with Raphtalia, I drive everyone else out of the room.

"Ah, Naofumi-sama, you're being too forceful, And Onii-sama, please go away!" (Atlas)

"Bu- Master is mean." (Firo)

"Yeah, Niichan! Make some food." (Kiel)

Atlas, Firo and the Loinclothed dog offer various complaints as I drive them out, but it's not my problem.

I close the door, and once again celebrate my reunion with Raphtalia.

"I'm sorry. It got very annoying." (Naofumi)

"Truly, that was a series of surprises." (Raphtalia)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

I look over Raphtalia again.

Yeah, though I get the feeling she's become stronger, her face is the same as always.

"With this, is your training over?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Raphtalia)

I open Raphtalia's status. I haven't checked it in a while.

Her level is... 100.

Her journey led her all the way to the max level.

I need to work hard to catch up.

"From now on, I can always be with you." (Raphtalia)

"That helps. There have been too many things happening beyond my power.

If Raphtalia's here, my life would be easier." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama... I'll try my best." (Raphtalia)

"I'm counting on you." (Naofumi)

I've been with her for a long time. She can understand what I want to do, and act based on it.

"The most pressing matter is... Atlas countermeasures?" (Naofumi)

Atlas and Sadina are peering in from the window.

Firo as well.

… What should I do? It seems that they'll sneak in regardless of what I do.

And Atlas is blind, right? Does she even have to be at the window?

She can sense whatever happens in here without looking. It's kinda scary.

"Naofumi-sama rejects her advances, right?" (Raphtalia)

"Isn't it obvious? The one who refuses to learn is Atlas." (Naofumi)

"I think Fohl-kun will be able to stop them." (Raphtalia)

"I have doubts as to whether he'll stop Sadina as well." (Naofumi)

"Right..." (Raphtalia)

"And so, Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

"W-what is it?" (Raphtalia)

"From tonight onwards, you're on guard duty. I'm leaving it to you."

(Naofumi)

"Y-yes!" (Raphtalia)

For some reason, Raphtalia's face is red as she nods.

Did I say something strange?

If I leave it to Raphtalia, who seems strict on public morals, I think I'll finally be able to sleep.

"Well, from here on out, I'll be doing my morning warm up, and then I'm going to make breakfast. Won't you accompany me?" (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Raphtalia)

And so, Raphtalia joined me in my daily routine, and I resumed my work.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 262 – Lab Visit

---

Noon, that day.

I head to Rat's lab to see her progress.

Atlas and Sadina went with Fohl to raise their levels.

I have no idea why Sadina's joining. Are they going to be training in the sea?

"So this is the equipment you procured from that facility you found while we were fighting in the Castle Town?" (Raphtalia)

I managed to obtain various magic tools and machines, as well as many large test tubes.

Rat, Taniko, the village's more intelligent slaves, and researchers from the castle are in the middle of setting them up.

"Yeah. In order to overcome the wave, we have to make use of whatever we can get." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia absentmindedly pokes an empty test tube.

The Granny is currently giving basic training to everyone in the village who wants to fight.

She's looking for people to send on her Spartan Training session.

The Loinclothed Dog is also a candidate.

Though if she goes, I would be troubled.

Despite how she acts, she helps bring together the slaves and acts as a sort of leader.

But since Raphtalia's back, I think we'll manage one way or another.
And that doesn't really matter right now.

Right now, I'm here to ask Rat about her progress.

The only thing I've personally asked her to do is the Bioplant research. I think it would be fine if she took on other projects as well.

There are jobs that need to be done, and I estimate that Rat's research will prove useful soon.

"Ara? Count... no, was it Marquis now? What's up?" (Rat)

Rat is facing a giant petri dish and tapping on what appears to be a stone tablet.

Is that supposed to be a computer?

Rat puts her work on hold and addresses me.

"It's a regular inspection. So has anything happened?" (Naofumi)

"Let's see... We're in the middle of tuning the new equipment you got."
(Rat)

Inside of the dish, Rat's favorite monster is swimming around. It waves its hand at me.

When I return the wave, it gives a happy expression and begins spinning in circles.

"Can you do something about that monster?" (Naofumi)

"Right now, it's still uncertain. I can't complete that child's body yet." (Rat)

"I see." (Naofumi)

Based on her actions, we may get a powerful fighting force. My expectations are high.

But there's the chance that she may trigger a Biological Disaster, so I still want to manage her actions.

In this instance... would it be a Magical Disaster? Or perhaps an Alchemic Disaster?

But Rat seems to be the type who takes care in her research. Maybe my worries are unfounded.

She's tending to the Bioplant matter with great care.

Though I can instantly make vague modifications, if I leave the fine tuning to Rat, it takes a while.

"I told you that I looked through the report on replicating Legendary Weapons, right?" (Rat)

"Yeah" (Naofumi)

She said something about it not being worth it.

"Does that mean that making growing weapons will prove impossible?" (Naofumi)

"That's not the case. I think I'll be able to do something about that one." (Rat)

"Specifically?" (Naofumi)

"It's incomplete, but could you look at this?" (Rat)

Rat strikes the tablet with her index finger, and a single blue display pops up.

An item is displayed on it in 3D.

From what I see, it looks like a carriage.

But... it somehow seems alive. Is it an insect...?

"What is that?" (Naofumi)

"As you can see, it's a Carriage-type monster." (Rat)

"Hah?" (Naofumi)

"It's still in the planning stages, but in order to make a weapon that grows... no, more specifically, a monster in the shape of a weapon, I'll need to start large and go down from there. This is trial number 1." (Rat)

Um... That means that she's going to make an artificial Carriage and downsize from there?

The problem is whether this thing can move on its own.

Will one of my Filo Rials be pulling it?

I get the feeling Firo would hate it.

With it being a monster, can you even put people in it?

It's scary that it looks like it'll eat anyone who sits in it.

"What will it be able to do?" (Naofumi)

"Magical Support and some other miscellaneous options. You can attach a crane to let it lift and bind enemies as well, I think." (Rat)

"Fumu... Can it function as a normal carriage?" (Naofumi)

"That's what I'm looking into right now. I don't think it will be capable of self-propulsion, so it's only a prototype. If it doesn't go well, I might just scrap it." (Rat)

"I see." (Naofumi)

I guess making something like this would require prototyping.

Though Rat may seem a little strange, I knew that when I hired her.

"If that succeeds, this is next." (Rat)

And, what appears on the display is the Firo Plushy I gave to Rishia. Various additions and augmentations are scribbled all over it.

"The only thing I see here is a costume. Is that just me?" (Naofumi)

"Nonono. It's a Costume-type Monster." (Rat)

"Is that so..." (Naofumi)

Rat hits the tablet again, and the Firo Plushy on the screen begins moving. It looks like the actual Firo running.

"The problem is that you have way too many Filo Rials, so I question whether this one will actually be necessary. It may just be a long, unneeded detour towards my goal." (Rat)

Yeah, that's true.

But the concept is interesting. It's an armor that levels.

Ah, right. My Barbarian Armor also got something called Growing Power. Though I have no idea what it's supposed to do.

"If that also turns into a success, I'm moving onto weapons, but that seems to be a bit far away." (Rat)

"Got it. It's good enough that you have a concrete plan." (Naofumi)

"... You're not going to speak of heresy? You're not going to reject me? That's surprising." (Rat)

"What are you saying at this point in time? Is your conscience finally acting up? I'm not from this world, so I don't care about you guys' sense of morals." (Naofumi)

And even though I look like this, I was a complete Otaku before I got here. I've read plenty of manga and played plenty of games with psychopathic scientist characters.

This one is much saner than I expected.

More importantly, she'll definitely add to our fighting force.

If the Carriage-type monster goes well, we might be able to upgrade to a self-propelling car.

No... if all goes well, we may get a giant mobile Robot. But that might be going too far.

We should stay away from Sci-fi stuff in this fantasy world.

It's nice to be able to dream of something besides combat ability.

The growing Costume-type monster is the same.

Instead of constantly mending and replacing armor, we may be able to grow the strongest equipment.

"All of these concepts are intriguing. You don't need to set growing weapons as your end goal. There are plenty more possibilities here."

(Naofumi)

"... This is the first time the Marquis has supported me to this extent." (Rat)

"If you have time to give thanks, then go get some results." (Naofumi)

"As expected of the Marquis." (Rat)

"Shut it. Let's get to work already... Ah, would the Bioplants be a good base for the Carriage? We could try making a plant-based trial product."

(Naofumi)

"Interesting." (Rat)

As I offer suggestions, I feel Raphtalia fidgeting behind me.

"You're having quite an amazing conversation there." (Raphtalia)

"There's nothing amazing about it. Ideas like these are born of the imagination." (Naofumi)

There's no way to attain progress without an insatiable thirst for knowledge and an ample amount of dreams.

Common sense rarely gives way to change.

In my world, the system of slavery became obsolete, but in this one, it's a fact of life.

If you cared for what everyone else thought, you would never get where you truly wanted.

"And? When will your precious partner's body be completed?" (Naofumi)

Rat's goal is probably related to strengthening that monster. Her entire career may even hinge on it.

"If I just wanted to bring him into the outside world, I could make a Homunculus body, but that won't make him strong. That's why I want to make a sort of replaceable... this may sound weird coming from me, but I want to give him a body with a system like that of the Dragon Emperor cores." (Rat)

"I see. Homunculus... is it?" (Naofumi)

She wants to make her partner out of the best materials possible.

And because she trusts her partner will answer to her good will, Rat continues researching.

Even if the body turns out to be a failure, she could merely switch it out... If she made a system like the Dragon Emperor's core stones, she could just switch its soul between bodies.

Gaelion's a good example.

The True Gaelion lives within the child one. If they want to switch, they can.

Though, it seems there's a time limit for switching.

Perhaps Rat wants to make her partner an emperor.

"Well, while you're at it, make sure to take care of my requests as well."

(Naofumi)

"... It's not like I can defy the Marquis." (Rat)

With a delicate expression, Rat scratches her head and nods.

"Now that you mention it, about dragon cores..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia lifts the bag that was hanging on her waist.

"What?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, yes. While I was out training with Master, we went Dragon Hunting. I brought these back as a souvenir. I heard they were valuable, so I kept them and sent the other items to the storage house." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia presents the contents of the bag.

Inside was a large quantity of dragon cores.

One. Two. Three... Anyways, there's a lot.

Just how much did she fight?

And what's dragon hunting supposed to be?

"Then let me call Gaelion over." (Naofumi)

And so, I called over Gaelion, who was conveniently in the area.

"Fumu. This is quite the amount of cores." (Gaelion)

"It spoke-!" (Raphtalia)

Watching Gaelion dig through the bag, Raphtalia raises her voice.

Ah, I never told her.

And during the Wrath Dragon incident, Gaelion refused to say a word.

"Yeah, Gaelion can talk. Remember when we fought the Zombie Dragon?

That was this guy when it was still alive." (Naofumi)

"A-alive...? Just how did he come back to life then?" (Raphtalia)

I give a vague explanation of Gaelion's situation.

Even Raphtalia seems quite shocked.

"With this amount, I'll get quite a bit of strength." (Gaelion)

Core stones are like doping items to dragons. I guess they'll prove useful.

It's quite a nice souvenir. And there are more surprises to be found in the storage house, apparently.

I'll look through them with Imya's uncle and get him to forge some weapons and armor.

"A nice ratio of them are Dragon Emperor Fragments at that. That's a life saver." (Gaelion)

Gaelion empties the bag into his mouth and gulps them down at once.

"Those would have sold for a lot. You should treat them better." (Naofumi)

"Hmph, in exchange, I'll get stronger for you, so avert your eyes to this one." (Gaelion)

This wimpy dragon... The only thing big about him is his talk.
Gaelion's scales begin to glow faintly.

"Fumu... I see. I see." (Gaelion)

"Did you remember something?" (Naofumi)

It would be nice if he finally obtained the knowledge on how to break the level 100 cap.

"Unfortunately, the information you're looking for was not in these fragments." (Gaelion)

(ED: Your princess is in another castle!)

"Dammit!" (Naofumi)

The information we get is random, and I'm not getting anything useful.

"However..." (Gaelion)

"However?" (Naofumi)

"I learned that only Heroes can achieve the level above Dreifach, Revelation." (Gaelion)

"I know!" (Naofumi)

Why. Why is it that I only get information I already know?

But I'll need to learn how to invoke it easier, so I won't call this information completely useless.

"Also, the previous four heroes, and the ones before that, though they were able to survive the wave, they were unable to win against it." (Gaelion)

Hmm? They survived, but they lost?

What does that mean? I thought beating the wave meant surviving against it.

Is it like winning the battle but losing the war?

The wave's identity remains a mystery.

"... The four must definitely not be killed... otherwise, overcoming the wave will become exceedingly difficult. It may even be impossible for the Seven Stars. Also, this wave is the last one. If you fail, the world is done for."

(Gaelion)

The last one... he probably doesn't mean the next battle, but the series of waves we were summoned for as a whole.

"And the Four Good Omens are..." (Gaelion)

(TL: They're the Spirit Turtle, Houou... etc series, if you forgot)

"They are?" (Naofumi)

"I can't remember any more. This is all I could get from the fragments."

(Gaelion)

"I see. It was a little useful." (Naofumi)

I'm thankful for the information, even if it may be broken up.

I didn't find what I wanted, but I cleared some things lingering over my head.

The problem is: what we have to do to win, or what must we do to lose?

Do we have to kill every single enemy summoned? Or is there another goal entirely?

Perhaps I'll have to actively start gathering fragments.

"Also, the amount of people I can grant a special Class Up to has increased. If anyone wants to do one, I'm free at any time." (Gaelion)

"Got it." (Naofumi)

I unfasten the core of my Barbarian armor and hand it to Gaelion for renewal.

... The Armors stats rose by a questionable margin.

"Ah, right. Alchemist, you examined my body, did you not?" (Gaelion)

"That I did." (Rat)

"I'm also greedy for power. If you have the tools, I'll permit you to modify my body at any time." (Gaelion)

"Taniko will get loud." (Naofumi)

"If it's about Wyndia, you needn't mind her. If I'm not strong, I won't be able to protect what I must." (Gaelion)

"Rat was looking into the inheritance properties of dragons. Please tell her what you know." (Naofumi)

"Even if I try, it would be like my trying to explain how to breath, you know?" (Gaelion)

Mu... Gaelion gives a troublesome reply.

I guess that would be difficult.

"Don't worry, I'll be looking into that by myself. Perhaps I'll add on some modifications while I'm at it." (Rat)

"Fufufu, first, I'll need to get strong enough to take down the next Filo Rial Queen." (Gaelion)

Gaelion lets out an evil laugh. He seems to understand that he's no match for his rival.

Well, like that, I ended my visit to Rat's lab.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 263 – Surprise Inspection

---

Now then, today I've decided to perform a surprise inspection on the slaves' and heroes' dwellings.

The reason being to make sure they didn't bring back something strange again.

Even though we can absorb things into my weapon, taking them out is difficult, so personal property must be kept safe.

Magic water and Spirit water are unexpectedly easy to compound, and quite a few useful items come out from monster drops.

But other drops and materials need to be kept apart, or we won't be able to find them when they are needed.

I warned Ren and Motoyasu not to rely too much on their weapon's automatic compounding abilities, so they should have some materials lying around.

And, I don't want them to be monopolizing rare items.

Things like those will be confiscated.

For this inspection, I'll be investigating behind everyone's back.

"Naofumi-sama, what are you doing?" (Raphtalia)

I was in the middle of secretly breaking into the Camping Plant we erected for Ren.

I turn around to find Raphtalia looking at me with doubting eyes.

"I'm investigating whether Ren is hiding anything nice." (Naofumi)

"Hah... That is... I understand. Naofumi-sama is just this sort of person."
(Raphtalia)

Though her expression indicates that she wants to give up, Raphtalia follows me.

She probably has something to say, but she holds it in.

I still get the feeling that I'm doing something wrong, so I guess I'm not completely devoid of human conscience yet.

There are people who praise me no matter what evil things I do, so I'm starting to lose track of myself.

Unlawful breaking and entering, as well as theft, are trademarks of Heroes.

Most of the Heroes I know of are habitual offenders.

But... that's just in games.

The first room I check is Ren's.

"Fumu... There isn't really anything here." (Naofumi)

It's a bare room with a desk and a bed. Imya's Uncle also taught him some smithing, so there are some broken swords and ores scattered around.

On the desk is a notebook he seems to be using to practice writing.

It looks like he's studying diligently.

Now that I think about it, it's impossible for the current Ren to get ahold of Rare Items.

His curse decreased his luck, and he doesn't get any EXP.

"Is this the Hero of the Sword's room?" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah, Ren's using this room." (Naofumi)

But he doesn't come by this room often.

He usually goes around with Female Knight or Taniko.

It doesn't seem like he has any hidden items, so I guess that's it.

"It's cleaner than I imagined. Is he studying Blacksmithing?" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah, I've left it to him. He seems to be diligently learning." (Naofumi)

Is this a copper sword? I guess he made it for practice.

Because he has no luck, its make isn't the best.

The desk has a few diagrams for sword designs.

They're like the ones I make for accessories.

Wondering if he had some black history involving Chuuni, I look through them.

But unfortunately, I don't find any dirt.

In retaliation, I looked under the bed for porn, but again, nothing.

He's no fun at all.

"Naofumi-sama, if you've lost interest, you don't have to search."

(Raphtalia)

"Was it showing on my face?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Raphtalia)

Fuu... Well, since I'm starting to act like a burglar, I better call it quits here.

Ren's in the clear.

I'll check the Heroes in order. So next is Motoyasu.

Motoyasu has a house built away from the village, next to the Filo Rial stable.

He lives there with his initial three.

By the way, it's quite a big building.

I'm the designer.

Though it's just a temporary Camping Plant-based house.

Currently, Motoyasu is transporting Witch, so he's not in.

If I want to search, I won't get a better time.

I can't stand dealing with him after he went insane. Though, I couldn't deal with him earlier either.

"Is this the Hero of the Spear's house? He seemed quite different when I saw him at the castle." (Raphtalia)

"Yeah, he'll call any woman a pig, and raising Filo Rials has become the meaning of his existence." (Naofumi)

"..." (Raphtalia)

I speak as I undo the house's lock.

In this village, locks are meaningless before me.

"Naofumi-sama, I think you should learn about something called privacy." (Raphtalia)

"Those heroes don't have the right to privacy." (Naofumi)

I mean, they are currently criminals.

I'm no demon. I won't seize anything without reason.

If it's just something like porn, I'll leave it as is.

"Hah..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia's sigh is quite heavy.

Anyways, I'm in Motoyasu's house.

The entrance leads to a mixed living room and kitchen.

It's much tidier than I thought it would be.

I remember Midori and the other two saying something about cleaning up the place.

Out of the three, I believe that Midori is the most reliable one on things like this.

Though the fact that the only male in the group is as such is strange in itself.

No, is Midori the one that's weird? Given his gender, he still targets Motoyasu.

And from the shared living space, the house divides into four rooms.

Each room had something drawn over it: a red feather, a blue feather, a green feather, and finally a spear.

I guess each room is assigned individually.

Without any hesitation, I proceed to disengage the lock on the room with the spear.

For some reason, there are three sets of locks on it.

His security is making me curious.

Could it be that his behavior is an act, and he's planning on framing me again?

The door opens.

Inside is an exceedingly ordinary room, though there are a few Filo Rial goods here and there.

It seems there's no bed.

Motoyasu sleeps while cuddling with Filo Rials, so I guess a bed is unnecessary.

"This room somehow feels nice." (Raphtalia)

"Yes... but..." (Naofumi)

Something's strange.

This room is much narrower than the one I designed in the house's construction plan.

There must be some secret passage somewhere, but... finding it is a pain.

「Emergency Modification, Door Creation」

I instruct the Camping Plant to create a door.

With a creaking sound, a door is made.

"... There is no privacy before Naofumi-sama, is there?" (Raphtalia)

"Yes, inside of a Camping Plant house, there is none." (Naofumi)

Otherwise, there's no way I could let Ren and Motoyasu live so freely.

I think as I open the door.

"This is-" (Naofumi)

I close the door.

"Naofumi-sama?" (Raphtalia)

I put my hand on my eyebrows and think.

'There are some things in this world better left unknown.'

Is what I really thought.

“What’s wrong?” (Raphtalia)

I silently beckon Raphtalia to open the door.

Understanding the situation, Raphtalia takes a deep breath and opens it.

“Wha…” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia is at a loss for words.

Right, as expected, Motoyasu’s hidden room… was colored with Firo.

In the literal sense.

The walls were covered with hand-drawn pictures of Firo, and they even extended up to the ceiling.

On a desk is a large stack of notebooks.

Scattered around them are drawings of bird form and human form, all forms of Firo.

He’s actually quite good…

That guy’s got a nice face, he’s a Hero, he can cook, and he can draw.

If he did something about that personality, he’d be ridiculously popular.

No, he really was quite popular.

But, Motoyasu’s love life doesn’t really matter to me.

I turn off my useless thoughts and look over the room once more.

Every corner of the room is sprinkled with Filo Rial feathers, and the bed…

no that’s a life-sized Firo stuffed doll (Filo Rial form) that has a life-sized Firo stuffed doll (Human Form) on top.

Using these two, could he…

(ED: OMG I’ve been looking all over for those! ME WANT)

No, thinking about it is dangerous. I don't need to look into it that deeply.
The doll's stuffing seems to be Firo's molted feathers.
Uu... The whole room smells of Filo Rial.

"W-what is this!?" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia takes in a deep breath and shouts out with a pale face.
I'm of the same opinion.

"It's the room of Firo's stalker. No, perhaps the room of a Yandere."
(Naofumi)

Why has the Yandere hater become the Yandere?

I try opening one of the books.

For some reason, I hear a high pitched squeal from behind me.
Inside, sketches of Firo were closely packed together.

And I open another book... It seems to be an Ero Doujin based on Firo.
Why does he even have one for her bird form? What's more, his skill is amazing.

The male character in these is Motoyasu? No, there are tentacle ones as well...

"Isn't Firo in grave danger?" (Raphtalia)

"That Firo? Motoyasu shows absolute obedience to Firo. He's under the illusion that she'll fall for him someday." (Naofumi)

"B-but even that man's a Hero. He may force Firo to do things like this."
(Raphtalia)

"I don't think that's happening." (Naofumi)

Even if he tries to force himself on Firo, Firo can fend for herself.
He doesn't lay hands on those three, so I don't think he'll be breaking soon.
I hope.

"And if I try to confiscate any of the items here, I fear for the future."

(Naofumi)

"... Right." (Raphtalia)

This is most likely where Motoyasu keeps all of his pent up desires.

If I try to suppress them, he may explode.

Right now, keeping the status quo seems to be best.

Anyways, I didn't have to see this.

Motoyasu's madness is endless.

... For now, let me just go check the other three rooms.

The result: Pets tend to resemble their masters.

If Motoyasu goes on a rampage, those three will probably resolve it.

"Next is Itsuki." (Naofumi)

"Umm... Can't we stop at this?" (Raphtalia)

"If I leave his unchecked, he may do something troubling." (Naofumi)

I won't let you say you forgot Motoyasu's room.

To see what they're planning and to make countermeasures is vital.

"But, you left the Hero of the Bow to Rishia-san, did you not?" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah, but it would be no joke if he brought Rishia over to his side."

(Naofumi)

"Hah..." (Raphtalia)

But Itsuki hasn't been here long, so he probably doesn't have much there.
Rishia is constantly watching him, so he won't do anything strange.
Today, he left with Rishia to assist in leveling the slaves.
Since he's been cursed to be a Yes Man, he won't run anytime soon.

And so, we proceed to Itsuki and Rishia's house.

For Rishia, is it her nest of love?

I told her not to do anything immoral, so it'll probably be fine.

"Fumu... it's all clear." (Naofumi)

"Yeah. And isn't this Rishia-san's house? I don't think you'll find anything."
(Raphtalia)

Well, Rishia's been here since the village started.

Her personality seems to be quite loyal, that girl.

The place seems to be cleaned regularly.

The rooms are decorated with weapons and armor, and it gives off the impression of an adventurer's house.

Inside of the bedroom is a single large bed.

Do they sleep together?

It is an ordinary house without anything out of place.

I wonder what fun things Itsuki will say about living here after his curse clears.

"Naofumi-sama? Are you thinking something strange again?" (Raphtalia)

Imagining Itsuki getting hooked on gambling and slowly whittling down Rishia's savings, leading to the collapse of the family, puts my mind slightly at ease.

After all, Itsuki abandoned Rishia, ran off to commit a crime, and came back after we beat him up.

“Naofumi-sama! Get a hold of yourself!” (Raphtalia)

“... What?” (Naofumi)

I’m just indulging myself in some pleasant fantasies, but Raphtalia scolds me.

I mean, Itsuki isn’t repenting at all, and he can’t think at all right now.

Though I admit from my imagination, that I am garbage.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 264 – Familiar

---

“Where to next?” (Raphtalia)

“Let’s see… let’s go to Firo’s room.” (Naofumi)

I gave Firo a room once. Specifically, a room in my house.

I originally thought a Filo Rial barn would be better, but since Firo had wanted it, it couldn’t be helped.

Kids seem to want your room. That’s the same everywhere.

That person hasn’t tried to get a room though. (ED: After fixing some things and looking at the raws, it’s probably Atlas.)

Just in case, I had locked the house. This would be the perfect time to check thoroughly.

We go into our house, and I open the door to Firo’s room.

“This is…” (Naofumi)

Children’s toys and bright things are scattered all over the place. It looks just like a little kid’s room. Don’t birds usually make nests with straw? Was she going for that kind of thing? Well, there’s no proof of that.

“I don’t know anything about these eggs lying around” (Naofumi)

“Can Firo even lay eggs?” (Raphtalia)

“Ahh… could they be Motoyasu’s?… No, they could be Melty’s eggs, I dunno.” (Naofumi)

“Melty’s a human girl!” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia makes a keen observation.

In any case, what Raphtalia doesn't know, she doesn't know. Firo and Melty are just that close.

The root cause is probably my fault somehow.

In the end, it's all over my head.

Though, a different person might argue it's my fault.

"I don't know, some might even be Naofumi-sama's." (Raphtalia)

"You really think it might?!" (Naofumi)

God, Raphtalia, who would think that?

Don't talk nonsense like making Firo my partner. (ED: In a sexual way)

...From a little before, the number of parents seem to have multiplied.

In any case, is such a messy room even worth investigating? But...

Somehow, it seems high-quality ore and decorations are casually lying around.

I wonder where they came from..?

There seems to be a bone lying in the middle of the nest. Is that a leftover?

There seems to be two sides to Firo.

A naturally pure side and a beast side.

Her true nature is most likely that of a beast. I realized that long ago.

It would be a good thing if there aren't any pellets in there though... (TL: word for Owl pellets/droppings used here)

This bone...is dragon-ish.

When did Firo reach such a ridiculously high level?

"She'd probably get mad if we take them away, huh?" (Naofumi)

"I also think she'd get mad if we did that without permission." (Raphtalia)

"Yeah..." (Naofumi)

...huh?

"Chirp!"

Filo Rial chicks come out from the insides of my armor and start examining the room.

"What is this?!" (Naofumi)

"Ahh Firo, these chicks of yours, where'd they come from?" (Raphtalia)

Even after taking my armor off, the chicks don't come out. My clothes are next, but the chicks still popping out here and there won't come out.

What's going on with these Filo-Rial chicks!?

"Naofumi-sama, could they be... parasitic?" (Raphtalia)

"What did you say?" (Naofumi)

Those two chicks, could they possibly be inside me?"

"Chirp"

The two baby chicks go and take something from the nest.

They come back with a gem a little bigger than my fist.

“What a pretty gem. It’s light-pink colored.” (Raphtalia)

“Yeah… What is it?” (Naofumi)

“Who knows.” (Raphtalia)

We could take them to be seen by a specialist.

Firo’s …Magic stone?

“Chirp”

With the magic stone, the two monster chicks jump into my hand .

“They moved…” (Naofumi)

“Chirp”

“Wouldn’t it be dangerous if they found Firo?”

“Chirp”

The two monster chicks buzz and shake their necks.

What are you two doing!?

While I was wondering about this, the magic stone in my hand melts and then evaporates.

“UWAAAA” (Naofumi)

A cloud of smoke billows up, and some kind of vapor flies towards me.

Ah Crap! Watch out!

Immediately after I thought that, the smoke wraps around me… and clears up.

“Wha, what was that?” (Naofumi)

“Naofumi-sama, are you all right?” (Raphtalia)

“I don’t feel particularly weird…” (Naofumi)

At once, I quickly check my status window.

Nothing seems to be problematic or out of the ordinary.

Some kind of magic power seems to be rising in my chest. Actually…What’s going on?

Something like Gaelion’s divine protection seems to have been applied.

And, I can feel Firo somewhere.

Presumably, she’s heading my direction.

Seriously, what’s going on here?

“Pii!”

“Seriously you-!” (Naofumi)

Having that thought, a change in the slave crests for the two chicks occurs.

My shield seems to glow.

Skill < Filo-Rial: Familiar> Mastered.

Skill <Filo-Rial: Mode-Change>

Familiar?

Is it a game-like kind of magic…?

What’s going on?

It seems kinda dangerous.

Firo will be back soon.

"Raphtalia. Hurry and get out. Firo is coming back!" (Naofumi)

"Eh? Um, yeah!" (Raphtalia)

We need to get out of here.

We hurry out of the room.

Immediately after that.

"I'm back!" (Firo)

Firo comes happily back through the front door.

"Welcome back." (Raphtalia)

"Hey, I understand that you come home often." (Naofumi)

"Somehow or another"

I don't get this?

Without considering where the feeling arose from in Firo's room, first, what is this Filo-Rial: Mode Change and Filo-Rial: Familiar?

"Oh, Master. Fitoria says, somehow or another, Fitoria remembers giving that skill as a courtesy to you from before." (Firo)

We were supposed to see through something like that?!

Then, it's not necessary to hide something like that, is there?

(TL: As in, why didn't she just tell me?)

"So, um, those kids were passed to Master from Fitoria... They're made of magic and are always there to protect Master." (Firo)

"Why didn't she just tell me then?" (Naofumi)

"Fitoria says they've been inside you, silently adapting to your magic power."

(Firo)

"They're not parasites inside me?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, um ...huh? I can't hear her voice anymore!?" (Firo) (TL: Fitoria's voice)

Firo's ahoge stopped answering.

I knew it.

These Filo Rial chicks ARE parasites inside of me!

"Not if they're attached to Firo" (Firo)

"Heh-" (Naofumi)

"It seems this magic of Master's can be transferred and granted to Firo, so where are they now?"

"Ah, that's right" (Naofumi)

"Before, they were in Firo's room?" (Firo)

Gulp...

Well, if Firo found out...it'd be kinda bad...

"Well, we went to go see your room. Be a little more organized." (Naofumi)

"Boo-" (Firo)

"In your nest, we found a cherry pink stone." (Naofumi)

"You found things like that???...Firo had no idea that was in there" (Firo)

"Didn't know huh?" (Naofumi)

"Come to think of it...Mel-chan also mentioned it this morning after sleeping together." (Firo)

"Wow-" (Naofumi)

"Lately, hasn't Mel-chan and master made this into a kind of baby raising/making house?" (Firo)

Melty, I don't know whether or not the things in here are parasitic but,
...Melty, your insignificant life's struggle...
Some people might say it's my fault.

"Pii"

In any case, no, that's why I won't hold it against Firo.
And in that moment, Firo softly pushes against me, and the two baby chicks jump out and enter Firo.

"Eh?"

Raphtalia is wide eyed.

Firo transforms into human form and shines.
An icon for FiloRial: Mode Change pops up into my view.

...It seems to have some sort of numerical pattern.

Default settings such as power, speed, and magic, as well as various other things, pop up.

For the time being, let's try power.

"Ah, I feel like some kind of power is surging out of me" (Firo)

"Hmmmm..." (Naofumi)

Ah, so I can tamper with Firo's settings with this?
Let's put it back to default. Setting off some weird rampage would be a pain.

"Pii"

The two chicks start crawling around inside my armor again.

Damn! GET OUT!

They don't come out when I take off my armor, and they're not under my clothes either.

Oh bother, these extra Filo Rial things are stuck to me.

Hey wait a sec, didn't Firo get some weird power up when she classed up from that weird guy? (TL: Fitoria)

What the hell?

Somehow, investigating Firo's room was a good idea.

I think I'll give her multiple, unreasonable instructions in spite!

"Firo, your room is surprisingly dirty. I want it cleaned regularly!" (Naofumi)

"YEAH!" (Firo)

Somehow happy, Firo starts cleaning her room as per my instructions.

The high quality ores and the like, we don't need, so we take them to the warehouse; hearing her happily clean felt a little good.

"You know what? I think I've come to understand Master a little more!"

(Firo)

"Is that so" (Naofumi)

"I won't lose to Onee-chan." (Firo)

"What are you talking about?" (Naofumi) (TL: Sorry Raphtalia, dense mofo)

"Does Master want to go inspect the other kids' rooms?" (Firo)

"Ah." (Naofumi)

I had thought about looking through the village once.

As long as it's not my stuff we're all going to see, it's all right.

So after that, we take Firo around the village to inspect things in everyone else's rooms.

Next, we go to the Loincloth dog... I mean, Kiel's room, and find her diary. Of course we read it. It's full of things like what delicious foods she ate that day, or who she ate with. It's full of that kind of stuff.

This Loincloth loving dog... Is this some kind of Kennel?!

Next is valley girl. (TL: Taniko)

The demon tree-hugger has a very organized room.

All of my monsters are cataloged and organized in books by size, shape, and personality, with details written very meticulously on each page.

She loves her monsters the same as ever I guess.

"Somehow, all this seems like a bad thing... I guess everyone's got a unique personality right?" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah!" (Firo)

"I guess so..." (Naofumi)

Next up is Atlas and Fohl's house.

Looking around the house Atlas had been sleeping in until recently... it looks really well taken care of.

Atlas had been invading my place after all.

Fohl would be pretty useless with that...

First of all though, that meant this is Fohl's room.

There's only a table and a well-made bed haphazardly shoved in the room. That's probably because I didn't tell anyone we were coming by today.

Inside Atlas's room, it somehow explosively became full of stuffed animals. There doesn't seem to be any one special animal that stands out either. Wait a sec, these couldn't be Fohl's belongings, could they?

Really?

Rather than Atlas's room...this is Fohl's room!?

I'd seen it before. It gives off a fancy feeling. Pink wallpaper hung on the walls. There's not much evidence that the bed was used.

Something..... seems to be floating in the air in this room.

Like a girl vibe for instance...

"That's a lovely room. Is this the room Atla-chan sleeps in?" (Raphtalia)

"No. It's probably more likely that the room won't be used until Fohl gets back." (Naofumi) (TL: poor Fohl)

"True, Atlas is usually always sleeping in the bed next to Master." (Firo)

"...In my bed, you said?" (Raphtalia)

"Now that you mention it, that's true. She and Sadina sleep together."
(Naofumi)

"The bed I sleep in is going to smell like Atlas and Sadina-nee tonight.....?"
(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia's eyebrows rise a little frustratedly.

Come on now, don't be like that.

What Atlas actually wants is to sleep in my bed, but pointing that out doesn't seem necessary.

Let's let things in Fohl's dream room be.

Then... Sadina's room is not in the village.

Her house is in that secret base.

After that is Imia's room.

The Lumo demi-humans created their residences under the village.

Despite all the building down there, it hasn't collapsed even once.

Because the rooms down there aren't made with camping plant, it's impossible to force the rooms open, but they weren't even locked.

The inside of Imya's room is full of drawings of clothes. A dressmaking model stood in one corner, serious work already put into the project it displayed.

Ah. Some sunglasses I'd made were hanging in the room.

Sometime later, I'd planned on making a better version of those.

Anything would be better than those improvised ones I first made.

Something important like that, I should probably leave to Imya. She's good with stuff like that.

The other earth slaves all seem to have some kind of special belongings as well.

Much like Firo's room, despite having been cleaned, they are all a bit dirty.

I'll make sure to mention during dinnertime that I'd checked in everywhere unannounced.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 265 – Late Night Combat

---

Night fell, and work pretty much came to an end.

I became quite sleepy, so I believe it's time to go to sleep.

"Are you going to sleep soon?" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah, I'll need to get up early tomorrow." (Naofumi)

I sit on my bed and ponder who to call for guard duty today... No, Raphtalia's here now, so I can just leave Atlas Countermeasures to her.

"Raphtalia, if Atlas comes here, make sure to kick her out." (Naofumi)

"Got it!" (Raphtalia)

She's quite energetic.

I get a different feeling than that of the usual Raphtalia.

"... Why are you taking off your sleeping clothes?" (Naofumi)

"Eh? Ah..." (Raphtalia)

As if she were trying to strip naked, Raphtalia starts removing her clothes.

I understand that it's hot, but I don't get why she has to be naked.

Hmm? I hear a knocking on the door.

I don't know why, but I get a bad premonition as I open the door.

"Yo, Naofumi-chan. I came here with Atlas to sleep." (Sadina)

"Naofumi-sama, I'll be sleeping in your room again." (Atlas)

A drunk Sadina with Atlas in tow gives a wide smile as she tries to come in through the front door.

I silently shut it.

"Go home!" (Naofumi)

"Why~? Isn't it fine~?" (Sadina)

"Right, Naofumi-sama. Up until yesterday, did you not let us sleep in the same room as you?" (Atlas)

"Now that Raphtalia's here, things won't play out the same. Sadina, the same goes for you as well." (Naofumi)

"Ara~? He's driving us out." (Sadina)

"Whatever shall we do?" (Atlas)

Atlas and Sadina begin talking amongst themselves.

If Atlas and Sadina form an alliance, there's no way Fohl will be able to stop them both.

He's weak against his sister.

"First, we must get a grasp of the situation..."

I can hear some suspicious conversation, but I ignore them.

"Um..." (Raphtalia)

"Just in case, let's sleep in the same bed." (Naofumi)

"Y-yes!" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia back suddenly straightens as she nods.

"I won't let it go as Raphtalia-chan plans. But first, I think we should see how things play out, Atlas-chan." (Sadina)

‘Can Sadina sense what’s going on through some invisible force as well?’ I think, but then I notice the two of them at the window peeking inside. I slide the curtains shut without saying a word.

“Fufufu, don’t think this is enough to stop our peeping~!” (Sadina)

T-they’re annoying as hell…

Ignoring Sadina’s words, I invite Raphtalia over to the bed.

“E-excuse me!” (Raphtalia)

It’s a response like the one I got from Imya when I first invited her into the bed.

Why is she so tense?

We slept together plenty of times before.

Ah, back then, she even wet the bed.

“Good, good.” (Naofumi)

I lie down flat and place my hand on Raphtalia’s tail.

“Hii!? N-Naofumi-sama, why are you touching my tail?” (Raphtalia)

“Hmm? I often touch Firo’s feathers, and Imya and Kiel’s fur, so I guess my hand naturally went to it.” (Naofumi)

Recently, I’ve been sleeping while touching one of them, so it’s become somewhat of a habit. Or perhaps a custom.

It’s like hugging a Dakimakura to sleep.

"You were doing things like that... You've changed quite a bit in the time I haven't seen you." (Raphtalia)

"It's not like anything really changed, you know." (Naofumi)

I gently stroke Raphtalia's tail.

"Ah... uu..." (Raphtalia)

The feeling is a mixture of all of the good parts of Firo's feathers and Kiel's fur.

I guess she's a good breed.

It's really fluffy.

I may make a habit out of this. The feel is top class.

"Hah... hah..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia's breathing becomes strained. Perhaps it's because she isn't used to having her tail touched

I pull the cover over myself and close my eyes.

"..."

What is this? I get a strange feeling similar to the one I get when Atlas crawls into the bed.

This is strange. Firo, the loinclothed dog, Imya and all the other Demi-Human slaves, I never got such a feeling with them. Is it impossible to sleep next to Raphtalia?

"Ah... uu..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia is shaking. It seems she can't calm down either.

Every time I stroke her tail, her whole body convulses.

How much time has passed? I'm this sleepy, yet I can't fall asleep. The feeling irritates me.

"N-Naofumi-sama..." (Raphtalia)

"Fumu." (Naofumi)

I sit up.

"Raphtalia, I'm sorry. It seems I can't sleep with you." (Naofumi)

"Eh!?" (Raphtalia) (ED: *TACTICAL FACEPALM!*)

Raphtalia's face goes red for a moment as she lets out a confused voice.

"I don't know why, but I can't sleep." (Naofumi)

"Fufufu, Naofumi-chan. Shall the two of us sleep with you, then?" (Sadina)

Sadina's voice emanates from the other side of the window.

What sort of cause and effect is that?

And those guys are still here? Go to sleep already.

"I heard all about it, Naofumi-chan. The reason you won't sleep next to Atlas-chan is because you don't want Raphtalia-chan to misunderstand, right?" (Sadina)

"Well..." (Naofumi)

The larger truth of the matter is that I'll wake up if something happens around me while I'm asleep.

But recently, I've been able to ignore it.

“Then, we just have to sleep with you with Raphtalia-chan’s permission.
Now let us start this carnival of lust!” (Sadina)
“What carnival!? Stop messing around!” (Naofumi)
“Naofumi-chan, the night has just begun~!” (Sadina)
“Sadina-oneesan, could you quiet down and go home!? Atlas-chan too!”
(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia opens the curtain and directs these words at the two.
Right. Drive them away.

The fact that she can put it clearly like that is Raphtalia’s strong point.

“What are you talking about, Raphtalia-chan? We are your allies, you know.
You want to do fun things with Naofumi-chan, right?” (Sadina)

“That’s right, Raphtalia-san. Let’s all sleep together with Naofumi-san.”
(Atlas)

“I’m not making any alliances here!” (Raphtalia)

“That’s right. It’s not like she has to sleep in the same bed as me. If she just sleeps in the adjacent bed and keeps watch over you two, there are no problems.” (Naofumi)

I close the curtains Raphtalia opened.

“And so, Raphtalia, can you sleep in the next bed?” (Naofumi)

“Hah… I understand…” (Raphtalia)

With an extremely regretful tone, Raphtalia sulks over to the next bed and lies down.

… Now then, I should sleep too.

I thought that as I close my eyes, but…

“Sadina-oneesan… I can tell that you’re in the room already. There’s no use in concealing your presence.” (Raphtalia)

Before I noticed it, Sadina had infiltrated the room and Raphtalia had scolded her.

It’s a pain to get up, so I pretend to sleep.

“I see. In order to pursue Naofumi-chan, I must eliminate the large obstacle known as Raphtalia-chan. Onee-san won’t lose.” (Sadina)

“Reinforcements have arrived!” (Atlas)

“Fine… Then I’ll be your opponent! Naofumi-sama, just sleep over there without worry.” (Raphtalia)

The three left the room with a bang.

I hear the sound of clashing metal and thunder from outside.

“Why can Atlas-chan use Musou Kassei!?” (Raphtalia)

“I learned from watching Rishia-san.” (Atlas)

“Just from watching?” (Raphtalia)

“Naofumi-sama also learned it.” (Atlas)

“For what purpose did I go on that journey!?” (Raphtalia)

“I won’t lose!” (Sadina)

“Even so, the one with the most experience is me! Hengen Musou Sword Skill-!” (Raphtalia)

Well, I can leave it to Raphtalia without worry.

Even Atlas shouldn’t be able to defeat her.

“Master~! Let’s sleep together~.” (Firo)

Firo, who was supposed to be sleeping at Melty's place, arrives.

Did she run here?

She came when I was half asleep, so I absentmindedly nod.

"Yeah, then in the one-in-a-million chance that Sadina and Atlas break through, you can be their opponent." (Naofumi)

"Okay. Kiel-kun and Imya-chan are with me too~." (Firo)

"Niichan, Raphtalia-chan, Sadina-nee-chan, and Atlas-chan are having an epic battle outside right now." (Kiel)

"Yes... The battle was getting intense, so everyone woke up to watch it."
(Imya)

"Yeah, I thought it was getting loud. So that was the reason. Well, I'm going to sleep, so see 'ya tomorrow." (Naofumi)

"Who do you think will win, Niichan?" (Kiel)

"Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

"I see. Well, when I get bored of the fight, I'll sleep with Nii-chan." (Kiel)

"Ah, yes, yes." (Naofumi)

By the way, it seems the three of them fought until dawn. When I left the house in the morning, I found the three of them sitting back to back.

I thought Raphtalia would be able to take both of them out easily though.

But, I'm the one who went to sleep by myself, so I can't really say anything.

Raphtalia told me I could sleep without worry, so I had faith though...

"T-that's quite some skill you've got there!" (Raphtalia)

"Amazing. If Sadina-san wasn't here, I would have lost instantly." (Atlas)

"Raphtalia-chan's gotten strong~. But still, I won't lose." (Sadina)

"It's already morning, people." (Naofumi)

"Eh?" (All Three)

These people continued fighting without realizing it.

Just how militaristic are these people?

Even Raphtalia's become a battle maniac.

Though the fault lies with me for leaving these two to her.

But, it's no joke if Sadina and Atlas have teamed up.

I can't have Raphtalia battling all night. I have to do something.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 266 – Tiger Man

---

“And that’s how it is, Fohl. In order to make sure that neither Raphtalia nor Atlas sleeps with me, I’ve decided to sleep at your place.” (Naofumi)

“Get out!” (Fohl)

I went to Fohl’s room the following night,.

By the way, Raphtalia is in the next room just in case. If Fohl acts up, or something bad happens, she’ll rush over.

This morning, Raphtalia said that Firo, the Loinclothed Dog, and Imya ‘got an unfair head start,’ but I wonder what they were racing in.

“What are you talking about? Does the man who was dead drunk yesterday have the right to refuse?” (Naofumi)

“Gu…” (Fohl)

Fohl gives a pained grunt.

“You’re able to prevent your sister from sleeping with me.” (Naofumi)

“You haven’t slept with Atlas yet!?” (Fohl)

“Yeah.” (Naofumi)

I mean, this guy apparently learned Hengen Musou as well, and he trained with Raphtalia.

He’s strong. Or at least, he should be.

Anyways, if he assists Raphtalia, the two-on-one would become two-on-two, so we should be able to win.

But, he can’t lay a hand on Atlas, so I doubt he’ll use his full strength…

When Ren gets back, I'll ask him as well. I bet he'd put up a better fight than this one.

"You bastard! Are you saying Atlas has no charm as a woman!?" (Fohl)

"What the hell are you talking about?" (Naofumi)

"I mean, isn't that right!? You had so much time, and Atlas was sleeping in the same room as you every night, right?" (Fohl)

"That's right." (Naofumi)

"So you're telling me my cute sister has no womanly charm!?" (Fohl)

"Like I care." (Naofumi)

I really don't.

Whenever I talk to Fohl, it turns out like this.

"Bastard! You're saying my Atlas isn't cute!?" (Fohl)

"I have no interest. And what do you mean by your Atlas...?" (Naofumi)

Ah, this is getting to be a pain.

When he learned I was sleeping with Atlas, he snapped. When I clarified that I wasn't sleeping with Atlas, he also snapped.

"Don't worry about it. Just lie down already." (Naofumi)

I lie flat on the bed and beckon Fohl over.

"Wha..." (Fohl)

Fohl's face gets paler and paler.

“Could it be… you…” (Fohl)

“What is it? Ah, I think you were able to beast transform, right? Transform and come to the bed.” (Naofumi)

I don’t know Sadina’s true form, but Loinclothed Dog’s is a puppy.
Perhaps Fohl can become a Tiger cub or something.

“S-stop it! I don’t have such preferences!” (Fohl)

“What’s this about preferences?” (Naofumi)

Is beast transform considered bad taste?

Then the Loinclothed Dog has bad preferences, I guess.

“Hah… Hah…”

From the ceiling, I hear strained breathing.

“I-intruder!” (Fohl)

Fohl releases an orb of magic from his fists.

A section of the ceiling smashes, and a human drops to the floor.

It’s the Tailor.

“I had the feeling that a glorious situation would present itself, so I came to watch. Thank you for the splendid meal!” (Tailor)

She’s energetically sketching something.

What’s she doing? I have a bad feeling about this.

There’s no doubt that she’s misunderstanding something.

“For now, get out.” (Naofumi)

I grab the Tailor's collar and toss her out of the house.

"And so, there will be no misunderstandings. Now transform and get in the bed." (Naofumi)

"N-no!" (Fohl)

I sense the Tailor putting her ear to the door.

"Be quick about it. I'm sleepy." (Naofumi)

I activate Fohl's slave seal and issue an order.

"Gu... You bastard... uu... I-I got it already." (Foahl)

I guess he isn't able to withstand the slave seal like Atlas. Fohl changes shape.

He's a splendid white tiger.

He seems quite muscular, and I'm a little disappointed that he's not a cub.

This is strange, the dog definitely gave off a cute impression.

But he seems powerful.

I wonder just how strong he is.

Right now, I get the impression that Atlas is the stronger one. She's already worked off her own debt without Fohl's help.

"Well, I guess that works too. Come to the bed already. If I have that fur around it'll be easier to sleep." (Naofumi)

"Uu..." (Fohl)

With the face of a dead man, Fohl lies on the bed.
As I extend my hand, he immediately jumps back.
Well, I just wanted to touch him a bit.

"A-Atlas, for your sake, your brother is willing to give up his purity. Even if I become tainted, I definitely won't lose!" (Fohl)
"Shut up. Go to sleep." (Naofumi)

It's not like I've awakened to homosexuality.
But if Sadina and Atlas get that impression and give up, then I guess that's fine too.
If Fohl's fine with it, then I...

No. The idea is rejected.

What sort of sad situation would lead to me sleeping with a tiger? But, it's better than not being able to sleep with Atlas and Raphtalia.
When Firo and Kiel slept with me, Raphtalia seemed to get unhappy, so...
'Then is the male Fohl fine?' I asked, and she permitted it, though she had on quite a strange expression at the time.

Of course, I have my reasons for choosing Fohl.
There's something I'm curious about.

"Right, during the brainwashing incident, you and Atlas were speaking with Trash about something, right? What were you talking about?" (Naofumi)
"Why do I have to tell someone like you?" (Fohl)
"If he was plotting something, would you be able to figure it out? He's the man that drove your entire clan into a corner, you know." (Naofumi)
"Uu..." (Fohl)

When they first met, I got some information from the Queen.

Without making any excuses, Fohl begins speaking.

"He tried to offer Atlas some food, so I tried to escape. He seemed to have aged a bit since when I met him with you. He had no energy." (Fohl)

"That seems likely." (Naofumi)

"What are you doing? I'm calling out to someone who greatly resembles Onii-sama. I'm not that old, and it doesn't make me happy if you say I'm like the enemy of the Hakuko race. Hmph." (Fohl)

"Start from the beginning." (Naofumi)

"... Understood. After that, the old man looked over me and Atlas, and started gazing far away. He said in a sad tone, 'No matter what happens, you've got to protect your sister, okay? Otherwise, you'll regret it for the rest of your life.'" (Fohl)

"... I see." (Naofumi)

That was within my expectations.

If the speaker wasn't Trash, those would have been wise words.

"What is that man doing? Why is he trying to approach Atlas?" (Fohl)

"That Trash had a sister that looked much like yours. She was kidnapped by the Hakuko and is still missing." (Naofumi)

"Wha-" (Fohl)

"So perhaps you guys are the children of that sister, is what he's thinking. Can you remember anything?" (Naofumi)

"Mother was... definitely human. Though she couldn't see, she was always very kind." (Fohl)

"What was her name?" (Naofumi)

"Alucia" (Fohl)

A different person?

No, there's the possibility that name is fake.

And I believe Trash's sister's name was Lucia. It's only a letter extra.

"A little while after giving birth to Atlas, she got dragged into the war and died... She entrusted Atlas to me." (Fohl)

"I see... So you knew you were half-human?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah." (Fohl)

"What about your father?" (Naofumi)

"Why do I have to give you so much of my personal information!?" (Fohl)

"That's true. But if I don't know, there's nothing I can do. I heard the Hakuko race was gathering quite a bit of power around Silt Welt. Since you're under me, the Hero of the Shield's protection, some of them may get jealous." (Naofumi)

"Uu... Understood. My father was... not someone who wished for fighting. He was a calm and kind person. Still, I get the feeling he was quite strong. In order to allow his subordinates, me, and Atlas to escape, he stayed on the frontlines 'til the end, decimating his enemies." (Fohl)

"So you lost both of your parents in that war." (Naofumi)

"Yeah... but that was quite a while ago." (Fohl)

Fohl's age shouldn't be that high.

He looked to be around 12 when I met him, so I guess if he says a long time ago, it would be 6 years ago at max.

I don't know the details, but it seems this world is filled with wars.

Due to Trash's leadership, it seems Melromark was able to avoid quite a few of them, apparently.

Using Witch's age as a basis, does that mean they've been at peace for around 20 years?

I don't know what sort of position his grandfather took in Silt Welt, but he was supposed to be famous.

His troublesome legacy surrounds me.

"I have to protect Atlas, even if it kills me." (Fohl)

"And that sister of yours seems to be yearning for a scoundrel like me. Do a better job at it." (Naofumi)

"... You really have no interest in Atlas?" (Fohl)

"No matter how I answer, you'll get mad. What answer do you want?"
(Naofumi)

"Uu..." (Fohl)

"Is what I'd like to say, but I have no interest in love. Atlas is... let's see... If I had to choose, I'd say she's like a child to me." (Naofumi)

Like I think of Raphtalia as a daughter, Atlas is like an adopted daughter who forcefully tries to approach me.

I'm getting the same feeling from the village's slaves as well as of late.

But at the moment, I don't seem to have any emotions like love in me.

"Aren't you in a similar position? Do your best to protect her and get strong enough as not to lose to her. Though, since I'm raising you to combat the wave, I probably shouldn't be saying such things." (Naofumi)

"I'll do it even without your input! I'll beat down anything that comes in my way, so Atlas won't have to fight." (Fohl)

"Yes, yes. Then, as you wish, I'll think of a way to make it so Atlas doesn't have to fight in the wave.” (Naofumi)

“Hah?” (Fohl)

Fohl seems taken aback.

“What’s so strange? I won’t take anyone who doesn’t want to fight onto the front lines, and it’s not like I’ll ignore people who say they don’t wish for battle. You don’t want Atlas to be thrown into dangerous battles, right?”

(Naofumi)

Though I’m the one putting Atlas through a lot of danger in the first place. Even so, if Fohl wishes for it, I could prevent her from participating.

“Are you sure that’s okay?” (Fohl)

“Only if you work hard enough to cover her share as well.” (Naofumi)

“…” (Fohl)

Fohl answers with silence.

“Well, the individual may wish to fight, so it’s your job to stop her then. I won’t pressure her decision.” (Naofumi)

“Got it.” (Fohl)

He gives a strangely honest reply.

“I think I kinda understand the reason Atlas has… taken a liking to you. But I still hate you.” (Fohl)

“Can it. Anyways, you need to try to stop your sister’s recklessness now.” (Naofumi)

“…” (Fohl)

“Then I’m sleeping. If they try to come in, make sure to drive them out.”
(Naofumi)

And like that, the night quietly descends.

As expected, Atlas and Sadina tried to intrude, and Raphtalia and Fohl fought them… apparently.

This time, they were able to repel them quite quickly.

When I woke up, Raphtalia was sleeping next to me while holding my hand. After apprehending Atlas, Fohl put her to sleep in her own room. His sleeping face was that of a man who had overcome the greatest obstacle of his life.

“Tomorrow, I’ll be the one on top!” (Sadina)

“Niichan will prevent Atlas from walking on the wrong path!” (Fohl)

And the next day, they fought again.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 267 – Temporary Truce

---

“Just give it up already, you people.” (Naofumi)

“Right, Sadina-neesan, cease this nonsense!” (Raphtalia)

“Don’t be so stiff, Naofumi-chan.” (Sadina)

It’s been three days. Through Raphtalia and Fohl’s actions, we have been able to put a complete stop to Atlas and Sadina’s night operations.

Raphtalia’s high level worked in our favor.

Then, while we were casually eating lunch, Sadina happily approaches us.

“So, Naofumi-chan. Tonight, won’t you come to my place to drink with Raphtalia-chan?” (Sadina)

“No.” (Naofumi)

She’s probably trying to get Raphtalia drunk to get her out of the competition.

“Don’t worry. I won’t bring Atlas-chan with me this time. I just want to talk with Naofumi-chan.” (Sadina)

“And you’re expecting me to believe that?” (Naofumi)

“Then, I’ll work with Fohl-chan to make sure Atlas-chan doesn’t come, so join me. This Onee-san keeps her promises.” (Sadina)

“I remember Onee-san breaking quite an important one.” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia smiles as she begins releasing bloodlust.

She’s quite mad.

Yep, Raphtalia is a child who shows her anger like this.

“But Raphtalia-chan, until you returned, I made sure to keep Atlas-chan out of Naofumi-chan’s bed. I never heard anything about keeping the other children out.” (Sadina)

“Uu…” (Raphtalia)

She’s getting into the technical details…

And I think I’ve heard sophism like this before.

Ah, right, it came from me.

I’ve begun to understand Sadina’s personality.

She acts lazy to prevent others from getting a hold of her, but underneath that, she easily obsesses over things.

To summarize, she’s someone you can’t let your guard down around.

She’s really capable, and her fighting power is quite something…

She denied the Granny’s training, saying it was unnecessary.

Though that very Granny said that she was one who could master fighting by instinct, so there was no real need.

I’ve also heard from Raphtalia.

Apparently, she uses lightning magic on herself to forcefully increase her own reaction speed to levels around Musou Kassei.

She can cast self-buffing magic and has plenty of ways to raise her own parameters.

What’s more, she can use echolocation to read movements, so illusion magic isn’t very effective on her.

Just how skillful is she?

But if I think about it, she’s supposed to be of a race stronger than the Hakuko when in the water.

That seems right on the mark. Her appearance definitely fits an aquatic Demi-Human.

“And Atlas-chan is a little different from the other children in that aspect.”
(Sadina)

“Is that so? Well, I just let the others into my bed as an Atlas Countermeasure, you know.” (Naofumi)

When I’m alone, I’m paranoid of the moment Atlas enters.
Especially on the days when Sadina is away.

“It’s because Naofumi-chan is a dense mutherfucker.” (Sadina)
(TL: The original text says dense. I have taken a bit of liberty here…)
(ED: …lol)

“Is this about love? I don’t have any interest, and Raphtalia is strict on public morals. I just don’t want to cause an unneeded conflict.” (Naofumi)

I’m no harem-making protagonist.

If a man didn’t realize anything from Atlas’s persistent approach, they wouldn’t just be dense. They would have transcended density.

“Ara?” (Sadina)

“And I’ve been saying this for a while, but once the wave has been dealt with, and the world is at peace, I plan on returning to my own world. I have no intentions of making a family here.” (Naofumi)

“Hah…” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia lets out a deep sigh.

Whenever this topic comes up, she always does that.

But these guys only ever talk about things like this, so perhaps Raphtalia is just tired of it.

“Then, Naofumi-chan.” (Sadina)

“What?” (Naofumi)

“After the world is at peace, and you’re ready to return, make sure to leave after you give love to all the ones who want to hold you close.” (Sadina)

“Listen to what I’m saying!” (Naofumi)

What is this whale woman saying!?

“Ara? This Onee-san doesn’t recall saying anything strange. Even when Naofumi-chan isn’t here, I think there are definitely some who wish to carry your child. Like me.” (Sadina)

“Like hell there are!” (Naofumi)

I think the Queen said something similar.

Something about marrying Melty.

If Melty married me, the fact that they had a hero in the family may increase the country’s authority, but I won’t let it end that way.

That strong-willed Melty probably won’t want relations with anyone besides Firo.

And wait, to obtain status from having a hero’s child, how calculating are these people?

“Ah, Naofumi-chan. I’m not sure what you’re misunderstanding, but Onee-san doesn’t want to become famous or have the child of a hero or anything.”

(Sadina)

"I wonder." (Naofumi)

"Onee-san... wants mutual love with the strong drinker, Naofumi-chan. Oh my, what am I saying?" (Sadina)

Annoying!

Raphtalia's bloodlust becomes stronger.

Their nightly battles may come to a conclusion here.

Should I assist in silencing this whale?

"Anyways, Onee-san wants time to talk to you tonight." (Sadina)

"Here is no good?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, it's a secret matter. Here is a bit..." (Sadina)

Sadina looks towards an area that seems devoid of people.

... Is there something there?

Is that where Shadow's hiding?

I don't see Shadow often, but she seems to be monitoring me.

She has the ability to disguise herself as the slaves in the village apparently.

I don't really care, because she helps out too, though.

"So come to the secret base with Raphtalia-chan tonight. If you do so, I promise I won't come to your room with Atlas-chan again." (Sadina)

"Ah, yes, yes." (Naofumi)

She's quite a stubborn person. Though, she'll probably fold at some point.

"It's a promise." (Sadina)

Sadina says this as she departs.

“I wonder what that was about.” (Raphtalia)

“Who knows?” (Naofumi)

That drunkard’s objective is as of yet unknown.

Starting with my village, Firo, and the people in the other village, she seems to garner great respect from all of them.

But, I can only see her as a loose person who likes to play around.

Though when the time comes, she does perform well.

Apparently, she does a lot of other things as well, but I haven’t seen anything.

I’ve seen her speaking with Melty as well. The princess wouldn’t tell me what it was about.

Even when Firo went into question mode, she continued to reply, ‘It’s a secret.’

Forcing it out of her wasn’t necessary, so I ignored it.

But where is this charisma coming from?

Anyways, that night.

Sadina had tied Atlas up and brought her to my place.

“Now, Fohl-chan. Atlas-chan. I’m going to be heading out with Naofumi-chan.” (Sadina)

She… actually did it.

“Sadina-san. Is this betrayal? Is that what it is?” (Atlas)

Atlas is bewildered as she presses Sadina for an answer.

Was she suddenly assaulted without warning?

“Tonight’s a temporary truce. Just calm down and leave it to Onee-san.

Atlas-chan should just sleep with Fohl-chan today.” (Sadina)

“Ah… Naofumi-sama, please save me!” (Atlas)

“Sadina, don’t betray those who believe in you as a joke. That’s the thing I hate most in this world. If you go too far, I’m kicking you out.” (Naofumi)

It’s probably a simple joke, but whenever I see someone deceive someone else, I get a strong sense of discomfort.

But Witch’s already gone.

… I have to forget her.

“Yes, yes~. Then, I’ll be deceiving Naofumi-chan only once more after this~”
(Sadina)

“Declaring it beforehand doesn’t solve the problem.” (Naofumi)

As we were talking, Fohl picks Atlas up in a princess cradle. He has on quite a happy expression.

“Now, Atlas. Today, you’re going to be sleeping peacefully. It’s too early for you to be doing things like this.” (Fohl)

His face and build are naturally good, so he looks like some sort of prince.

No, by blood, he is a prince.

Not that that matters.

Anyways, he’s carrying the young body of Atlas, which refuses to grow any older. The scene gives off an elegant feeling like one found in Shoujo Manga.

“Uu… Onii-sama, I won’t forget this disgrace. I’ll hold a grudge.” (Atlas)

Atlas complains as Fohl carries her off.

Wouldn’t it be best to keep her tied up like that forever?

Am I scum for thinking that? Yep, I am.

I evaluate myself as I turn towards Sadina.

“Will you get on Onee-san and we’ll swim there? Or will you ask Gaelion-chan to take you?” (Sadina)

“I guess Gaelion would be fine.” (Naofumi)

If anything happens, I can use Gaelion to buy time for my escape.

Like that, we ride Gaelion to Sadina’s secret Island Base.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 268 – Alcohol

---

“There are quite a few more things here than when I last visited.”

(Naofumi)

Like a pirate’s treasure cove, Sadina’s secret base is littered with stuff.

Gold and Silver… aren’t in high quantity, but there seems to be quite a few magical tools.

It’s probably best to appraise them later.

Sadina brings back items that seem to be worth money to me, and it looks like these miscellaneous items are left.

The amount of money her salvaging has brought me is enough to cover the price I bought her for several times over.

I guess I have to raise my evaluation of her.

“Now then, today, we’re all drinking until we drop!” (Sadina)

Sadina declares as she brings out a wine barrel.

“Fumu… Am I included?” (Gaelion)

Gaelion asserts his presence in response to the alcohol.

I’d tell him to go home, but Raphtalia also seems to want to drink as well, which sounds dangerous.

It’s better to have more drinkers.

“All green~ here, this is for Gaelion-chan.” (Sadina)

Sadina produces a two liter bottle and hands it to Gaelion.

(TL: It’s a 1 Sho bottle. 1 Sho is approximately 1.8 liters)

Um, is that Japanese Sake?

Perhaps the previous heroes left behind the method to make it.

"Then without further ado." (Gaelion)

Gaelion begins drinking straight out of the bottle.

"Oh... This is quite a choice sake, is it not?" (Gaelion)

"Yeah~ It's a good enough, strong sake to please even the dragon from my home town." (Sadina)

"I see..." (Gaelion)

Gaelion's mood improves as he continues to drink.

And where exactly did you get such a thing...

"Now, the two of you don't need to show any restraint. Drink. For Naofumi-chan, I even have some Lucor Fruit." (Sadina)

Sadina begins offering us alcohol.

It's not as if Lucor Fruit is my favorite fruit or anything.

I guess this is fine.

"And? What did you want to talk about? You didn't want Shadow or the others to hear, right?" (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-chan's too hasty~ Can you wait until I get a little tipsy?

Raphtalia-chan, drink too. Raphtalia's parents were strong drinkers, so you must be strong too." (Sadina)

"I-I am..." (Raphtalia)

Sadina pours some sake into Raphtalia's cup, and she timidly sips it.

I think she did drink some alcohol at Cal Mira though.

I get the feeling that she was quite strong.

"How does Raphtalia-chan feel about Naofumi-chan? Onee-san wants to know." (Sadina)

"I have great respect for him." (Raphtalia)

Is that so?

She always seems fed up with my evil acts, so I thought she had lost her respect for me.

It may seem strange coming from me, but many of my actions are quite cruel.

"Are those your true feelings?" (Sadina)

"Yes." (Raphtalia)

"You don't wanna get hitched or something?" (Sadina)

"T-that is..." (Raphtalia)

Eh? Raphtalia wants to marry me? She recognizes me as a member of the opposite sex?

Nonono, she's just trying hard to make sure the wave doesn't leave behind any unfortunate children like her, isn't she?

If she said she liked someone like me, I don't think I would hate it, but I think that there's something called priorities.

I remember what Sadina said during the day.

When the world is at peace, Raphtalia may... start thinking about things like that.

If we do well, her social status will be high by the time I leave.

“I am… that is… um…” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia’s eyes spin as her face goes red.

Her real age is still quite low. I don’t think she should really be drinking, and I don’t think she’s at an age where she should be concerned with love yet.

She only sees me as a replacement for her deceased parents, and she must be confused at being asked how she thinks of me as a member of the opposite sex.

Yes, it’s still too early for Raphtalia to love.

It’s like that.

When Raphtalia felt troubled from misunderstanding the situation where she found others sleeping in my bed, it was the unpleasant feeling and denial one gets when their parents remarry, and the child sees their step-parent. Something like that.

Even though nothing’s wrong, you still end up feeling nervous and uneasy.

Even I don’t want Raphtalia to feel like that.

Ah, but Firo, the Loinclothed Dog, and Imya are all children as well, so perhaps it’s fine?

“Nyaohyumi-sama isth my…” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia’s articulation is getting messed up.

“Ara? Raphtalia-chan?” (Sadina)

“Isth my…” (Raphtalia)

With a bang, Raphtalia falls flat onto the table.

“Yes… I’m also… a bit…” (Gaelion)

Gaelion sways side to side and falls on his back with his legs in the air.

“Well well well. As expected of the wines 『Dragon Killer』 and 『Tanuki』 ,
… I guess it was too strong for Raphtalia-chan and Gaelion-chan.” (Sadina)

“You… planned this, didn’t you.” (Naofumi)

This is bad. It seems Sadina prepared special sake to take down both Raphtalia and Gaelion.

At this rate, this whale woman may assault me.

Worse comes to worst, I can use Shield Prison and escape with Portal.

“And so, let’s continue drinking.” (Sadina)

“Don’t want to. I’m going home.” (Naofumi)

“Now, now, this Onee-san has something to talk about, and if you go back, what are you going to do about Raphtalia-chan and Gaelion-chan?”

(Sadina)

“I’ll take them with my Portal.” (Naofumi)

“Ah, that’s right~. But could you leave it ‘til after you chat with this Onee-san?” (Sadian)

“What talk? It better not be about a carnival of lust.” (Naofumi)

“Wrong, wrong, wrong. Tonight’s really a truce.” (Sadian)

With a relaxing atmosphere, Sadina continues drinking as she always does.
But, in the next moment…

“Naofumi-chan, I told you before, right? That if you wanted to get into a further relationship with Raphtalia-chan, you have to be prepared.”
(Sadina)

Blowing away the laid back mood, Sadina changes into her human form and stares seriously into my eyes.

“Yeah, you said that. You knocked out both Raphtalia and Gaelion, and that’s all you have to say?” (Naofumi)

To Sadina, who is the child known as Raphtalia?

I don’t really know, and it seems to be something she doesn’t want to bring up. Whenever I inquire about it, she shifts the conversation.

It was quite a while ago.

When I was still constructing the village, one of the forces that came to my aid was a group of Raccoon Demi-Humans… The Raccoon race rushed to help me.

“If the Hero of the Shield’s right arm is a Raccoon, then you’re the same as family to us. Please let us assist in the revival of this village.”

Sometimes, people like these would gather in my village under the pretense of offering aid.

At that time, I looked over the Raccoon Demi-Humans, and I was surprised at the sharp contrast they had with Raphtalia.

Should I say they were well built?… To say it bluntly, a large majority of them reeked of the sticks.

I can't say they were particularly handsome, and they smelled of earth. I also felt that they weren't particularly motivated.

But as they were of the Raccoon Race, I couldn't drive them out so easily. After they saw Raphtalia, they were quite insistent on pressing her for her lineage.

Eventually, I told them that I didn't make her my subordinate because of her race, but because of her ability, and that they had no relation to Raphtalia. I tried to get them to leave.

At that point, Sadina let out the bloodlust she usually concealed and pointed her harpoon at them.

"I apologize, but the child serving as Naofumi-chan's right hand is so separated from you people that she might as well be a complete stranger. Using blood relations to close in on this village... could you stop?" (Sadina)

Though her words were polite, upon sensing her bloodlust, the Raccoons' legs gave out.

There, I added on another thing to bring the matter to a close.

"Well, if you want to help no matter what, then please go work towards reconstruction in the other village. I'll decide whether or not you're competent based on your work." (Naofumi)

And after that, the Raccoon group left for the village, but... I didn't hear from them later.

Ah, I remember.

Three days after they were assigned work, most of them had quietly fled I believe.

Though, a few of them are still working diligently there, even now.
The ones who stayed didn't seem particularly concerned with me.

"Hey, what's your relationship with Raphtalia, exactly?" (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-chan, to me, Raphtalia-chan and her parents were my reason for living." (Sadina)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 269 – Truth in the Darkness

---

“Reason to live, you say……” (Naofumi)

What kind of relationship do you have? It’s getting harder to understand.
(TL: Between Sadina and Raphtalia)

Chivalry or Bushido, it seems such a culture existed long ago in my world, but is it close to that?

“During the first wave, I was unable to protect Raphtalia-chan’s parents. No, when the wave occurred, I was far away and did not rush over. Because it was too peaceful back then, I had let my guard down.” (Sadina)

Sadina drinks her alcohol while muttering something that sounds like regret.
This appearance is…… even if I’m wrong, it doesn’t seem like a prank.
Putting the helplessly drunk Raphtalia to sleep in a plain bed, Sadina continues talking.

If it’s a serious talk, there’s no reason to handle it cruelly.
I’ll hear you out sincerely.

“……But when I finally managed to return a few days later, there was no one left in the village.” (Sadina)

Sadina continues talking.

"I looked for her desperately, hoping she had surely survived. However, I was not able to approach the dark side of this country as a Beastman. That's why I became a battle slave in Zeltbur, which specializes in slaves, and began looking. That place has many connections so I thought I would manage if I accumulated some money." (Sadina)

"You took quite a detour." (Naofumi)

In reality, Raphtalia was sold ridiculously cheaply. Although Sadina was looking frantically, Raphtalia was in the unlikeliest of places.

"It took too much time trying to find a slave named Raphtalia with the appearance of the Raccoon species. I did find some children from the village though." (Sadina)

"Come to think of it, you were protecting slaves from the village." (Naofumi)

"Yes. And I was surprised when I found Raphtalia-chan. To think she was with Naofumi-chan, the Hero of the Shield." (Sadina)

"It's full of drama. Raphtalia's life is." (Naofumi)

If possible, I hope that Raphtalia can live in peace after the world has become peaceful.

Precisely because this child believed in me, I want her to be happy.

These feelings have not changed even now.

Even though I think the world ought to be ruined, I will endeavor to make the world peaceful for Raphtalia's sake. [TC: Naofumi hates the world but will save it so Raphtalia can live in it]

"You say the appearance of the Raccoon species, but isn't Raphtalia different?" (Naofumi)

"Just like I may be mistaken for the Ruka species, she is similar to the Raccoon species but is still a different kind." (Sadina) [TC: Ruka species = Dolphin species, but Sadina is an Orca]

"Hmm…… well, Raphtalia is Raphtalia no matter what race she belongs to." (Naofumi)

I see.

That explains why Raphtalia is a beautiful girl, despite supposedly being of the Raccoon species whose appearance is not valued very much.

"……That's the good thing about Naofumi-chan. Hey Naofumi-chan…… if you have no intention of taking care of Raphtalia-chan until the end…… why not make do with this Onee-san?" (Sadina)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"I hope you have the resolution to be in a relationship with Raphtalia-chan. If there is no resolution, please use Onee-san to let it out if you can no longer endure it." (Sadina) [TC: 'If you aren't resolved then do it with Onee-san if you get horny']

"Do you think I am the Devil or something?" (Naofumi)

Oh, I am aware of that sort of thing. But even if I die, I don't want any relations with women.

If I consider what you are saying… I think you're talking about a relationship with Raphtalia.

Of course, I trust Raphtalia.

If it's a question of like or dislike, I would say I like her.

This I can affirm. To the extent of being able to assent if I was told to say it to the person in question.

But when it is the feeling of love that is called into question... I don't know. For me Raphtalia is a reliable partner, she is the friend with whom I shared my joys and sorrows, and at the same time I think of her as something like a daughter.

Meaning I think of myself as a foster father, like what Motoyasu has been saying.

Raphtalia is prioritizing her mission until the world becomes peaceful, and she has parental affection for me rather than having an interest in romance. Hey, I'll lose if I get caught up in Sadina's pace.

"What is Raphtalia's race? I would like to ask for the time being." (Naofumi)

"Will you take responsibility since you want to know? Will you look after Raphtalia until the end?" (Sadina)

When Sadina said until the end, she probably didn't mean until the wave is over, but until the day Raphtalia dies.

.....I think that I can't take responsibility in that sense.

When this world has become peaceful, I intend to return to my original world.

"I understand. Then I won't ask." (Naofumi)

"Is that so... That's disappointing~" (Sadina)

Sadina's numerous acts of interference after Raphtalia came back is probably done out of fear that I will lay a hand on Raphtalia, and she's learning about my personality as well as making fun of me.

Sadina's repeated attack of annoying stories and harassment is probably so I don't do anything to Raphtalia.

This person usually plays around, but somehow she has developed the technique of calmly observing the behavior of people and guiding them. I've overlooked it because there's no mischief that has been done to me, but I wouldn't want to be her enemy.

She said this in a playful tone, but her smile doesn't reach her eyes.

"You had a reason to say all this, right? Tell me about it a little, otherwise I won't be able to protect her." (Naofumi)

"Oh, you've got a point. Then, just a little bit." (Sadina)

Sadina begins talking while lightly stroking Raphtalia's hair.

"You might not know, but Raphtalia-chan's father was of a noble lineage, and I was the priestess who governed that lineage." (Sadina)

"Oh…… Silt Welt or Shirudo Furiden?" (Naofumi)

"It was on the outskirts, but I can't give you a specific location. Because even this is big service." (Sadina)

Was it not a Demi-human country?

And what position did Sadina have?

She did say it was a priestess just now……

“To be honest Raphtalia’s father didn’t want to succeed his House so he eloped with Raphtalia’s mother. I wonder if he knew that I agreed with his thinking and escaped here?” (Sadina)

“Did you Lv reset then?” (Naofumi)

An image of the punishment for rebelling against the law comes to mind.

“Yes, various things were lost, but there was no dissatisfaction because I had gained a lot of things. I was essentially banished.” (Sadina)

“Did you get the divine protection of a water dragon by working as a priestess? And compared to the lineage of Raphtalia’s father, who was superior?” (Naofumi)

“Raphtalia-chan’s father was the most admired in the area.” (Sadina)

“More so than the Four Saint Heroes?” (Naofumi)

“There is no folklore of the Heroes, but they have been described by visitors.” (Sadina)

What kind of area is it?

It’s lacking in credibility and is becoming dubious.

But I feel like I have understood what kind of family Raphtalia came from.

In a certain country she would be worshipped as a descendent, like a child of God.

Let us deduce from the variety of material that has been provided until now. The atmosphere and the name of the knockdown technique Raphtalia invented by herself, the appearance of Sadina’s human form ……

She’s a Japanese beauty. Sadina in her human form, that is.

And she habitually uses a loincloth.

So with 'Japanese Style' as a keyword, the eastern place that the Old Man from the weapon shop was talking about before comes to mind.

"The country where Raphtalia father was born..... was it in seclusion?"

(Naofumi) (TL: Sakoku or "locked country" was the foreign relations policy of Japan under which no foreigner could enter nor could any Japanese leave the country on penalty of death)

"Wow, Naofumi-chan is amazing. It is so. It's been that way since the past. There are many of such countries besides our country but it is a particularly exclusive area among those countries. " (Sadina)

When I look and think about it, it's such rotten world.

I have heard that there was also cases where some heroes were summoned in a peaceful time without waves.

It's not strange for those guys to escape from the countries that summoned them, and use their knowledge of the modern world to make a Hidden village-like country. [TC: So a larger scaled version where the whole country is secluded]

That's why it isn't weird to have a Japanese country.

Or rather, it's weirder for civilization to be stuck in the middle ages despite heroes regularly being summoned from different worlds, especially if you include the super element of magic.

.....Perhaps there is a reason for that, but it doesn't really matter now.

"Are you worried about that country?" (Naofumi)

The country is secluded in the east.

There is a country which looks like Japan, and Raphtalia has relatives with noble lineage there.

Does she feel like a pursuer will come to retrieve Raphtalia if it gets badly exposed?

"You're only half-correct, but that's alright. I've been worried about Raphtalia's own happiness." (Sadina)

"Uhh……" (Raphtalia)

Sadina puts a cloth soaked in cold water on Raphtalia's forehead when she hears her groan.

"She will be waking up soon. Is there anything else you want to ask?" (Sadina)

"Why don't you speak to Raphtalia about this?" (Naofumi)

"It's the directive of Raphtalia-chan's father." (Sadina)

Pardon me for being involved with Raphtalia's family affairs like this though. Let's deal with this after the world is at peace.

But then the Church of the Three Heroes and the nobles are also like that.

"Is it alright?" (Naofumi)

"I think so. They won't come unless you know too much." (Sadina)

"……About their domestic affairs?" (Naofumi)

Sadina nods silently.

Ah, so it comes to that, as I expected.

So Raphtalia comes from a troublesome lineage.

To me, an ordinary beauty of the Raccoon species would have been good.

I see, so Sadina wants me to continue keeping it that way.

Lets assume I got involved with Raphtalia and made a child with her.

Then Raphtalia, pregnant with a child by me who is considered a God by some countries, might get targeted.

Sadina is concerned about the possibility and is taking precaution.

“If you really want a child with Raphtalia no matter what, do it after you stop worrying about the whole country being destroyed. It’s a promise with Onee-san. The current Naofumi-chan is capable of doing that.” (Sadina)

[TC: ‘Stop worrying about the waves and focus 100% on Raphtalia’]

“Aren’t you being too paranoid?” (Naofumi)

She’s thinking too much about understanding the big picture.

Of course it’s better to be a bit cautious.

“That may be true but you must not underestimate a priestess or user of unique abilities. If someone like me is idling about, they may be aiming for Raphtalia’s life.” (Sadina)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

A country full of people with abilities like Sadina…… I would like to ask them to help save the world.

Since Raphtalia is extremely strong, she won’t be killed easily.

But even so, I won’t do something so irresponsible.

"I wonder if Naofumi-chan has arrived at an actual decision. Onee-san doesn't want you to do things that would make a girl cry. Though it's fine because Onee-san is not a girl but an adult woman." (Sadina)

"Various reasons are being piled up now." (Naofumi)

"Nuu, Onee-san is troubled." (Sadina) [TC: Nuu = no, but more colloquial-ish? Idk how to describe it]

There was also the problem of Raphtalia's parentage of course, but Sadina wanted to ask about my own feelings.

That much was conveyed.

"Uhh…… Naofumi-sama?" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia, who has recovered consciousness, gets up.

"Are you okay?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, yes. I feel fine, strangely." (Raphtalia)

"That's good." (Sadina)

"Did anything happen while I was passed out?" (Raphtalia)

"……Not really." (Sadina)

Sadina probably doesn't want to tell her the truth.

I also pretend I didn't hear anything because I don't want to cause unnecessary trouble.

"That's right. I just said that Raphtalia is like a daughter to me." (Naofumi)

"Right!?" (Raphtalia)

---

“That’s right. I also mentioned that Raphtalia is something like a Fluffy-Tailed Waifu to me.” (Naofumi)*

“Hai!?” (Raphtalia)

*gag line by Rarstyak

---

Raphtalia, who raised her voice in surprise, tentatively nodded in agreement. ‘If I have come to like Raphtalia then show my resolution’…… it’s a troublesome topic.

I won’t permanently reside in this world.

I think so at least.

“I was told by Sadina, with her noninterference policy, to protect Raphtalia as a parent.” (Naofumi)

I say sarcastically and in an ostentatious way.

Because despite wanting to protect you, I neglected you while you were out training.

“Isn’t that called ‘If you love your children, send them out into the world’, Naofumi-chan.” (Sadina) [TC: Japanese idiom…. But Naofumi didn’t say that aloud, is Sadina reading his thoughts? o.0]

Sadina murmurs absent mindlessly.

"Naofumi-chan may not realize, but someone who becomes the slave of a Hero has an unnaturally good experience rate, and there's also the growth of the status. To the extent that half-hearted opponents are no match for us." (Sadina)

"How good is it?" (Naofumi)

"In my experience, it should have taken several years to reach the same Lv. Please keep that in mind." (Sadina)

I see, becoming a slave to a Hero can give you good experience gain.
That reminds me, Fohl also said something similar.
Moreover, there's the influence of growth correction.

"Then, getting a good Lv is possibly due to Naofumi-sama's influence?"
(Raphtalia)

"That's right. Onee-san has done many Lv resets and guarantees it."
(Sadina)

"Now that you mentioned it, Teacher also said something similar. About Leveling quickly." (Raphtalia)

Somehow it seems as though the Hero correction thing also has some influence on companions.

I have felt it a little bit though.

"That's why Onee-san has also become very strong." (Sadina)

"You couldn't possibly have been going easy on me as an opponent?"
(Raphtalia)

“I couldn’t have done something like going easy on you. Raphtalia-chan has become very strong. Onee-san could have been defeated.” (Sadina)

We finished chatting like this and returned to our respective homes to sleep. By the way, Gaelion enjoyed drinking the liquor he got from Sadina.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 270 – The Pig King

---

The next day.

Witch was successfully transported, and Motoyasu returns by portal. I'm made to watch the Guro movie of Witch being violated by Faubley's Pig King.

Some of the king's soldiers are here as well.

Apparently, they're here to confirm that I watched the video.

Even I don't want to watch it alone. I bring Ren, Motoyasu, and Itsuki along to do a private screening of it.

The soldiers caution me that it isn't a pretty recording.

Well, Raphtalia and Rishia are watching as well.

Female Knight... would be dangerous to show it to, so I drove her away.

"Hero of the Shield-san, are you watching~?"

Uwah... It's a fat, wrinkly, pig-like fatty.

I think he resembles something.

Ah, he looks like that monster that appeared in that famous movie about wars in space. (ED: Jabba the Hutt from Star Wars XD)

How old is he? He's definitely older than Trash, but his terrible looks take away any age-distinguishing features.

It's like he's an ageless demon.

"Noooooooooo!" (Witch)

Witch screams out.

"You're being loud. Like this, I can't send a message to Hero of the Shield-san."

He violently grabs her by the hair and swings the naked Witch around.

"Ugu... Noooooo!" (Witch)

It seems that at this point, Witch can do nothing but scream.

For some reason, it puts my heart at ease.

"I told you to shut up."

With his chubby hands, he grabs Witch's neck. His motions seem highly practiced.

Oy, that's the movement used to break a chicken's neck.

"Ah... ku..."

Witch resists with her life on the line, but to no avail. Eventually, bubbles start coming out of her mouth, and she faints.

After that, the Pig King enthusiastically introduces himself, and wakes Witch with slaps to the face. The Guro scenes follow.

It's a mix between a health video featuring the copulation of pigs, and an overly sadistic snuff film.

If you made something like this in my old world, it would be a matter left to the police.

I was right to bar the others from viewing it.

Melty may have been fine, but Kiel and Taniko would be shaking in their boots.

Regardless, this would cause quite a few traumas, so I probably won't watch if he sends another.

"Uu..." (Ren)

Within three minutes, Ren is covering his mouth and breathing deeply.

He and Raphtalia leave the room together.

Though I feel it's revolting as well.

How about Motoyasu, Itsuki, and Rishia?

"Fu-fufufun" (Motoyasu) (TL: Humming SFX)

Motoyasu is... spreading out a sheet of paper and sketching.

When I peek over to see what he's drawing, I'm not surprised to find that it is Firo.

To be able to draw while witnessing this footage, I'm amazed. I honestly want to admire him.

No wait, he's not even watching.

When I'm feeling this unpleasant, he's humming and singing...

"Don't get distracted. Just watch." (Naofumi)

"What's so fun about watching pigs mate? And I've already seen the scene happen, Father-in-Law." (Motoyasu)

"So you can remain cool while watching this?" (Naofumi)

"It's not really different from watching monsters get killed. Hahaha."
(Motoyasu)

Yes. I feel madness from Motoyasu.

His three followers are watching the film while drooling.

"That pig. It has a lot of fat on it. Doesn't it look tasty?" (Kuu)

"But doesn't it look a little tough?" (Marin)

"If you let it rot for a while, it'll become softer and tastier. Leave the preparations to me." (Midori)

They truly are beasts.

But I guess this is how Filo Rials are.

Ah, I found this out later, but Midori is of a subspecies that could control poison and decay.

But for them to watch this footage and stay calm, they really are monsters.

By the way, when I showed it to Firo the next day, she became sick.

Does it have to do with individual personality?

Ah, but at the start, she did say, 'That pig looks tasty.'

The Pig King can't even be classified as human at this point in time.

Now Itsuki and Rishia are...

Rishia's already fainted.

Itsuki has a calm expression... No, he has no expression as he silently watches it.

"Itsuki, what do you think?" (Naofumi)

"I don't understand what's fun about it." (Itsuki)

"What a coincidence. I'm of the same opinion." (Naofumi)

I'm already regretting ordering this video to be taken.

No, I wanted it as evidence, but I never thought I would have to watch it to the end.

Can I not fast forward?

"To make sure you're actually watching, we'll be taking a video." (Soldier)

The soldier holds up a crystal in my direction.

"I'll at least pretend to watch it." (Naofumi)

"Yes... Um... I'm truly sorry for the trouble, Hero-sama." (Soldier)

This soldier's perceptiveness is a life saver.

To avoid any complaints, I have to continue watching the video to the end. I absentmindedly stare at the screen while I use status magic to check my slaves' statuses, waiting for the end.

"Then, I'll be coming to deliver another one in the near future. The King was exceedingly happy to hear that the Hero of the Shield requested such a video, so he will continue sending them." (Soldier)

"... Could you reproduce and edit the footage you took right now to make it seem like I watched them? If need be, I can do some acting to increase the variety of reaction footage." (Naofumi)

"Yes, of course we can do that." (Soldier)

The soldier said as such, and when he brought the next video, we opted not to watch it.

Our hearts are as one.

If I had to see these videos again and again, I would go crazy.

At the end of the video, Witch was all beaten up, and she was put to sleep by strangling again. But only after she had lost an arm.

Her facial expression must have been appealing, because the Pig King gave a face of ecstasy.

I've played Guro Galge and Rape Galge before, but this is too much. With something like this, if you simply owned it, you would be liable for arrest.

And in the end, Witch was easily killed off. But as the Pig King was under the impression that I was still deriving enjoyment from his videos, he thought that I would like to see a large variety of woman being violated. Instead of playing with his favorite toys for long periods of time, he seemed to have found something else to take delight in. Go to hell. Why do I have to watch these guro videos of other women being violated?

The end result, is that a large amount of useless video crystals ended up piling up in the village store house. I really don't want to meet that pig. I once again pledge that in my heart.

"Ah... I feel sick." (Naofumi)

A few days later, in the evening. I mutter those words as I entered the onsen at Cal Mira.

I assigned everyone their jobs, and when evening came, I took Itsuki and Rishia here by Portal. Itsuki doesn't recover Mana or SP, so he can't use portal. That's why I have to bring them.

I got permission for Rishia to bathe in the men's side. She was worried that if I was the only one there, Itsuki would die from drowning.

Wearing a white robe, Rishia helps Itsuki submerge himself in the water.
Wouldn't a swimsuit be fine here?

Ah, Raphtalia, Firo, and Melty are also here, albeit on the women's side.
Atlas was going to come as well, but Fohl stopped her.

An onsen is perfect if you want to rest your body and mind.
I had just washed my body and was about to step in, when Firo jumps over the hedge separating the two baths with Melty on her back.

"Master~ Let's bathe together again~" (Firo)

"Firo-chan! This is the men's bath! Naofumi is here, isn't he!?" (Melty)

Melty frantically covers her important places with a towel as she embarrassingly complains to Firo.

Firo. You sure brought a troublesome person to a troublesome place.

"Don't worry, Melty-chan. Right now, only Master, the bow person, and Rishia-oneechan are here." (Firo)

"Isn't the fact that Naofumi and the Hero of the Bow are here the problem!?"
(Melty)

"Eh?" (Firo)

It may sound strange, Firo, but Melty's reaction is the correct one.

I should leave disciplining her to Raphtalia and Melty.

It would be strange for me to be telling her that.

"But bathing with master is fun, so Melty-chan should have fun too." (Firo)

"No! I'll get dirty!" (Melty)

"Hey." (Naofumi)

I submerge myself in the bathwater as I speak.

Seeing her love of cleanliness and her innocence, I'm beginning to doubt whether or not she's truly the sister of that Witch.

But I guess it's fine.

Firo ignores her, changes into human form, and sits beside me.

"Pii!"

From the towel wrapped around my waist, one of the Filo Rial familiars appears.

"Where did you come out of!?" (Naofumi)

"N-Naofumi gave birth to a Filo Rial!" (Melly)

Melly shouts out, but from her towel, a chick emerges as well.

I heard about it, but I guess they're parasitizing off Melty as well.

"Look who's talking!" (Naofumi)

"S-shut up!" (Melly)

"Ahaha~ Master and Melty are having fun." (Firo)

"We're not!" (Naofumi & Melty)

Dammit, these birds can't read the mood.

"Master, can you wash Firo's back?" (Firo)

"Ah, yes, yes." (Naofumi)

If I don't do it, she'll complain.

It's been a few days since I started coming here to alleviate my curse.

Firo coming to the men's bath has become a daily occurrence.

Though, this is the first time she's brought Melty along.

I use some soap and begin rubbing Firo's back. Because she has wings, quite a few bubbles form.

"Hey, Melty-chan should get her back washed too~" (Firo)

"Don't! Want! To!" (Melty)

Melty sure is stubborn.

Though, I think I'm an expert in that field as well.

But Firo sure likes taking people over to the men's side.

Ah, the first person she brought over was Kiel.

Apparently, for the male-hearted Kiel, the women's bath was uncomfortable, so she got Firo to bring her over.

After that, it became natural to scold Firo and Kiel, who swam around the male bath as if it were natural.

Why do I have to act like a parent and scold these kids when I'm supposed to be relaxing in the onsen?

Raphtalia always lectures them not to come over, but they don't listen.

"Look, you're all clean now." (Naofumi)

"Ya~y."(Firo)

I pour a bucket of hot water on her to wash away the bubbles, and Firo shakes her entire body like a dog to dry herself. Water droplets fly everywhere.

“Master, thank you~. Is Firo clean?” (Firo)

“If you doubt it, then wash yourself.” (Naofumi)

“Bu-” (Firo)

Firo pouts, and Melty refuses to take her body out of the water.

The bath is as lively as ever.

“Then I’m going to be soaking for a while, so you guys better return to the women’s bath.” (Naofumi)

“Got~ it.” (Firo)

I get in the water again to cure my curse, when Firo changes to Filo Rial form and sits next to me.

She’s floating. (ED: LOL)

Is she some sort of water bird? Though, Firo can swim.

“Ah!?” (Firo)

Firo seems to have figured something out as she lets out a noise. She puts Melty on her back.

“Firo-chan, what are you…” (Melty)

Before Melty can finish speaking, Firo jumps over the hedge and returns to the women’s side.

“W-what was that about?” (Rishia)

Rishia inquires.

“Who knows?” (Naofumi)

“Will Rishia-san not go to the women’s bath as well?” (Itsuki)

Itsuki tilts his head as he asks.

It seems that a little bit of common sense still lingers in his head.

Though, I have no idea how much we should trust Itsuki’s common sense.

“I’m alright, Itsuki-sama.” (Rishia)

These two are acting like an idiot couple.

Now that I think about it, since we started using this bath, Itsuki’s condition has gradually been changing.

He’s still expressionless, but his indecisiveness is beginning to heal.

The fact that he can ask things like this is proof.

“Oh my! If it isn’t Father-in-Law!?” (Motoyasu)

Aa, so this is the reason Firo quickly retreated.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 271 – King

---

"Hey if it isn't father-in-law. Should I wash your back?"

"It's fine. Rather, it's already been washed."

...Motoyasu came over.

There is the reason why Firo fled.

Together with him are his three companions. Behind them, Ren is also there.

Are you coming in the bath with that Motoyasu...?

If it were me I'd come up with some reason and enter at a different time.

Huh? The women's bath became noisy.

"Kyua!"

Even Gaelion came over.

Did Ren bring him along?

Which means, Taniko and Female Knight should be in the women's bath as well.

Gaelion came flying over here, then soaked on the bath.

"Among you three, two are female right? Go to the women's bath." [He's talking about Motoyasu 3 companions, the Filo Rials]

"What's with that! Are you trying to separate me from Mekkun!?"

"That's right, no matter what you say, I'll always be with Mo—chan!"

The red one declared that while looking agitated, the blue one agreed.
Right now they're in human form.

Looking it over again, though their colors and hairdos are different from Firo, their physiques are similar.

"Even though you're that female's owner, don't push it!" [red one]

For some reason, with a strong-willed expression she raises a shrill voice.
Motoyasu to be liked with this type of strong desire to monopolize, is he releasing some kind of pheromones?
To keep him company is a pain.

"Father-in-law said it's no good. C'mon you two, go to the women's bath."
"That's right. Ku— and Mamire are female so you're going to the women's bath."

And like that, Midori ["the green one"] happily pushed the two other's backs and forcibly drove them away to the hedge.
As I thought, she's a little black-hearted.
However, it's better than the usual noisiness.
Drive them away quickly.

""Bu—!""

As they leave behind the same complaint as Firo usually does, the two jump over the hedge.

After that, a very happy-looking Midori took Motoyasu's arm and walked over here.

"All ri—ght, I'm washing Midori—"

"Yes!"

In an extremely good mood Midori was washed by Motoyasu.

Ren was pleasantly watching that scene.

"So Naofumi also came over." (Ren)

"That's right. More importantly, the women's bath sure is noisy."

"There were some who said they wanted to come along so I took them over."

"So that was it after all."

Over there is really a noisy state of affairs.

"Kya—" those kinds of screams like they're having fun can be heard.

"This is a good water."

"Indeed. How is the situation of the curse?"

"I think it's probably getting better. Just a little but today I got some experience."

"Oh really?"

Me too, I'm confident that since I started entering the hot springs little-by-little I can see my Status Degradation getting cured more rapidly.

Well then... taking a long bath is also good but, is it about time to get up?

Thinking the same, Rishia and Itsuki get up from the spring.

"Then, I'm leaving first. Recover yourself at ease."

"Sure."

It was by the time I was having such a conversation with Ren, I think. Motoyasu was walking along the hedge and started peeping.

"Motoyasu-san. Stop this."

"What are you saying, Midori. I must confirm Firo-tan's growth with my eyes no matter what. For instance, even if there's a lot of pigs there, enough to make me nauseous, I'm not afraid."

Oh c'mon already... even if Motoyasu comes to the bath his broken state doesn't change?

Something troublesome seems to be starting.

This time, let me get up quickly.

"What are you doing!"

Ren took care of cautioning Motoyasu who started doing that.

Previously, you were aiming for the "cool", lucky lecher act, weren't you? Judging by appearance, he cautioned him seriously, but.

"Fue~..."

To the Motoyasu trying to peek in right before her eyes, Rishia leaked out her voice.

Indeed, trying to peek with a woman right next to you! That guy is a Hero.

In a different sense.

"Even though I was thinking of how much I want to see Firo-tan."

"Indeed, you would think to want to see Firo-san, right?"

Itsuki gets on board with Motoyasu's words.

What's with that? Why are you getting on board.

"Itsuki-sama! What are you saying?"

"But you heard it how Firo-san has become pretty too, right? That's in that meaning, isn't it?" [the word here is kirei, which means both pretty and clean. Firo became "kirei" when Naofumi washed her in the previous chapter]

Indeed, when I washed Firo she asked 'Is Firo pretty~?', is that what you're talking about?

So you're still a little weird after all.

"All right, then Itsuki, let's go peep in on the women's bath together!"

"Understood."

"Stop Itsuki!"

"Please stop, Itsuki-sama!"

"Understood."

This routine sure is troublesome.

Should I get up already?

"Come on, Midori, become a foothold!"

Now you're trying to make a foothold to peep in!?

It's dislikable isn't it. Midori wanted to come in the bath with Motoyasu after all.

"I don't want to."

Just as one thought, it was rejected.

"Nono, Midori, here you must follow my order."

And so, Motoyasu took off the towel that was wrapping around Midori.
Why did you take off the towel!?

""!?"

Ren, Itsuki, Rishia all petrified in an instant.

I was looking away as I was leaving so I didn't see it, what's up?

"A... u... It, it's embarrassing."

For the first time Midori went into his Filo Rial form in front of me.

It's huge!

Even bigger than Firo in her Filo Rial form.

While in human form they don't differ much, even though among the 3 she's shortest, in Filo Rial form she's the tallest?

Is it because he's male?

No, in our Filo Rial barn there are other males but they're not this big.

"Huge!" Ren

"It's big." Itsuki

"Fueeeeee..."

Motoyasu jumped on the embarrassed Midori's back and tried peeking over the hedge.

Certainly I also think he's big but... why are you all surprised that much?

"Naofumi also saw it?" Ren

"Saw what?"

"You didn't see it!?"

"Like I say, saw what?"

"Before that one transformed, underneath the towel——"

"Wa, Waaaaaaa!"

Midori flails about and Motoyasu slips off, he sinks into the spring.

Midori then shuts up Ren's mouth.

"Truly a King!"

However, Itsuki ended up giving the continuation.

Don't let your emotions show up only at a time like this!

Was it really something to be that astonished about?

"King? Isn't that because he's a male?"

"That's not it..."

"Waaaaaaaaaaa! Stoooooooooop!"

"Understood."

Huh?

I don't quite get it.

"Naofumi-sama, did something happen?"

Rafutalia peeks over from the hedge, showing her face.

"Yeah, apparently this idiot tried peeping again but, Midori here——"

"Please. Not one more word, don't cause an uproar!"

Midori who returned to human form and covered his nether regions with the towel supplicated.

What are you so afraid of?

"Is that so?"

"Naofumi-sama... didn't participate, right?" Rafutalia

"Yeah, I was just trying to leave."

Already at the vicinity of the dressing room I wave my hand at Rafutalia as I answer.

Or should I say, don't you peep on the men's bath.

"...A little..."

"A? Come again?"

I'm not particularly going deaf.

The words Rafutalia was muttering, I heard them word for word.

Therefore, I try asking.

"You wanted me to see, is it?"

It's a fact that it's of no interest, but well.

At any rate, Rafutalia saying that kind of thing sure is unusual.

Is there some reason... Ah, is that it?

"Were you playing some kind of game? If you made me peep you'd win, that kind of game?"

"Haa....." [indeed, that was god-like dense]

So it was like that.

That noisy bunch came over to the bath so you ended up playing some weird game.

Those guys seem to have a lot of fun teasing me so Rafutalia too got pulled into it.

The principal offender, is it Melty?

Kiel would also be a strong candidate, but it seems she came into the men's bath previously.

Who else came I don't know.

Well, if they're getting along it's fine.

"Fu...."

Ignoring that situation was Gaelion, who went flying over to the hedge happily.

You're trying to peep, aren't you. Moreover it's the papa Gaelion.

Don't get aroused over humans.

"Mu—! Don't come here!"

To the Gaelion who was trying to peep from the hedge, Firo threw a bucked right on his face, a clean hit.

"Kyuaa..."

With a splash, Gaelion sunk on the spring.

Are you an idiot?

Really an incorrigible fellow.

"Anyway, I'm leaving. Rafutalia and everyone else soak up at your leisure."

"Haa... Understood."

Motoyasu sitting in a seiza alone this time is a inconsequential complement.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 272 – The Second Conference of Heroes [ Start ]

---

I step out of the Onsen and expose my body to the nighttime breeze. While I bask in the cool air, Ren and Motoyasu get out as well.

Itsuki and Rishia are already out, and they're cooling off together.

I can see nothing but a couple when I look at them, but Itsuki's expressionless face makes it feel like they had just experienced a failed date.

"Naofumi." (Ren)

Ren calls out to me.

I'm not sure what Raphtalia and the others are doing, but they haven't exited the women's side yet.

They're taking a long bath.

"What?" (Naofumi)

"I asked this island's count when I got here. He allowed us to use the conference room we used last time. Can we gather all the heroes there to talk?" (Ren)

"Isn't the village fine?" (Naofumi)

"That's true, but if you think about it, that's the place where the heroes started arguing with and denying one another. That's why I want us to gather there and talk once more." (Ren)

"How unnecessary." (Naofumi)

"I've already talked to Itsuki and Motoyasu. Let's talk a bit before the women come out." (Ren)

"Waiting for them is a waste of time. I guess it's fine." (Naofumi)

There's nothing gained in waiting, so I'm fine with it.

It seems that Ren will be satisfied by it.

We climb the spiral stairs to the room we met in before.

Last time I climbed these steps, I was able to look out at the other islands.

When I try to look through the windows now, my vision is clouded by the darkness of night. I see nothing but shadows.

The island's activation period is long over.

It's like a resort's off-season.

This island will only be lively again in 10 years.

I remember hearing it from the lord here.

Even during off-season, adventurers still come.

The area's a tourist attraction, and the monsters have moderate strength, so hunting is permitted to a certain extent.

There are some rare monsters to be found. Are the materials rare as well?

I didn't get too much money for them though.

Ren, Motoyasu and Midori, Itsuki and Rishia, and I enter the room and find seats around the round table.

"Henceforth, the second official conference of Heroes shall commence."

(Ren)

Ren raises his hand and declares.

"There's no chairman, I'd like to act as a representative." (Ren)

"Got it." (Naofumi)

Recently, Ren's been overflowing with enthusiasm.

The goal of fighting the wave has ignited a flame within his soul.

My end goal is survival, so I doubt I'll ever become like that.

The fact that he's still obsessed with himself means that he hasn't changed that much from the start.

Though, I think he's on a better track than before.

"And? What did you want to talk about?" (Naofumi)

"Let's continue the discussion that was suspended last time." (Ren)

"I think we were arguing about reinforcement methods." (Naofumi)

"Yeah..." (Ren)

Ren raises his sword out front and starts reading something I cannot see.

"Naofumi gave Shadow... a list of our various methods of getting stronger. We can combine them to obtain greater strength. At first, I didn't believe it... but Naofumi was able to integrate all of them to put a stop to the calamity we caused. This points to the fact that his words were the truth."
(Ren)

"That's right." (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu and Ren both nod.

Itsuki just gives off the feeling of nodding.

"Because of my curse, I was unable to carry out smithing or enhancements well, but thanks to the daily usage of the onsens, I'm gradually getting better." (Ren)

"There's no way Father-in-Law would ever lie. I learned to put these methods to practice myself!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu announces this fact with a smile on his face.

"I know, so calm down. Itsuki, what about you?" (Naofumi)

"... I understand." (Itsuki)

Itsuki fiddles with the icons on his status. His eyes dart back and forth.

"I did it." (Itsuki)

It's because he can't think for himself right now.

The current Itsuki doesn't know how to doubt others.

I guess this makes his situation worthwhile.

"... So it was true. If I wasn't so prideful at that time, then perhaps all of that wouldn't have happened." (Itsuki)

Since his symptoms are slowly being alleviated, Itsuki is able to utter some words of regret.

Is this because of the curse? Or are those his true thoughts? Who can say.

"That's why, once more, I wish to continue this talk." (Ren)

"Are you sure there's more to talk about?" (Naofumi)

"No, there has to be something else." (Ren)

"What is there left to say?" (Naofumi)

I think I know everything I need to know from the other three heroes.

"Naofumi, recently, I've been travelling with Eclair, Rishia, and the others from your village. During that time, I discovered something that I want to show you." (Ren)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"This." (Ren)

Ren changes the shape of his sword and presents it to me.

It's a strangely shaped sword which looks like a bundle of strings strung around each other countless times.

Honestly, it doesn't look strong at all.

"What is that?" (Naofumi)

"It's a blade called the Comrade Sword. It's ability is 『Comrade Growth Adjustment (Small)』 " (Ren)

"What are the conditions to unlock it?" (Naofumi) (TL: Literally, the Nakama Sword)

"... I don't know. Before I knew it, it was unlocked." (Ren)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

Comrade Growth Adjustment (Small)... is it? It's the same as my slave enhancement.

Looking at the current Ren, I have no idea how he got it.

"If this were a game, would the unlock condition be something like trusting your companions from the bottom of your heart?" (Naofumi)

I start off with a vague enquiry, and Ren nods.

"Probably..." (Ren)

With a bitter expression, he continues.

"As I thought. I didn't fully trust my previous comrades. If only this sword came out earlier, then perhaps they wouldn't have died." (Ren)

"That's one possibility. But that doesn't make it useless now." (Naofumi)

"... As expected of Naofumi. That's why, like this, I want to discuss any new things we may have discovered." (Ren)

"I see. I understand where you're coming from." (Naofumi)

I think there are plenty of things I haven't discovered yet, so asking around may be useful.

There may be materials I have yet to feed my shield with highly desirable abilities.

Comrade Sword... It seems to have an ability like my Slave Use Shield.

... Wait a second. Do the effects stack?

I mean, Ren's trusted comrades are Female Knight and Taniko, right?

Female Knight's another case, but Taniko's my slave.

If his comrade growth correction stacks with my slave one, then it would be really useful.

I'll need to carefully look over Taniko's status later.

By the way, I'm also doing a bit of research on my own.

"Then, should I teach you something?" (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Ren)

"Yeah, when I fed my slave's hair and such to the Shield, more Shields with growth corrections came out. In Ren's case, I recommend feeding Kiel or Taniko's weapon to your sword." (Naofumi)

What I found were racial Shield systems.

But, there are plenty of skill-trees I'm unable to unlock as of yet.

Atlas, Fohl, and Sadina's races are currently impossible.

What I unlocked were race Growth Corrections.

"Recommend... Naofumi even knows that much." (Ren)

"But it's not like I've tried feeding meat and bone." (Naofumi)

As if I could do something that insane.

The Heroes must remain as humans.

"Right. Ren, try Female Knight's hair too. Perhaps you'll get a Comrade Sword II." (Naofumi)

"Eclair is a bit..." (Ren)

She looks like one who would complain a bit.

That girl seems like the type who would say, 'A girl's hair is her life' or something.

(TL: A Japanese saying)

"Father-in-Law, I've also tried absorbing everyone's feathers into my spear." (Motoyasu)

"I've already unlocked all of the Filo Rial series." (Naofumi)

"As expected of Father-in-Law! How did you get them all!? Please tell me!" (Motoyasu)

"Motoyasu, you're being loud. Think about it by yourself." (Naofumi)

My base stats have risen a considerable amount.

Now that I think about it... Sadina said that Raphtalia was not of the Raccoon tribe.

Though she's of some relation to them.

There was a Raccoon Shield on my shield tree, but it never unlocked.

I've always wondered why, but it must be because Raphtalia is a subspecies.

I guess I'm satisfied with that explanation.

By the way, Sadina's didn't unlock either.

I fed her materials to the Shield too, but the Luka Shield didn't unlock.

She said she was of the Sakamata Race, I think.

Taniko was of the Nui Race, and when I inserted Kiel's fur into the shield, the Wanui Shield was unlocked.

(TL: Nui is an anagram of Inu, which is dog. If I scramble Dog, they become too OP.)

(ED: God Kiel lol)

From a glance, they both have dog ears and tails, but it seems they're a little different.

I mean, Kiel can transform.

Anyways, with all the subspecies and relatives, even if I know the basic traits, I can't tell apart the specific species.

Raphtalia's race is pretty much like the difference between a Balloon and an Orange Balloon.

If I took some Raccoon hair, would I understand something?

No, it didn't help at all.

An icon did light up, but it didn't unlock.

I should have been able to see the name of her racial shield, but I couldn't figure it out.

Though several shields lit up, even if I knew the race, I couldn't change to it. The Shields linked to Raccoon are ones like High Raccoon and East Raccoon. There are quite a few.

Perhaps it would be good to look at the Filo Rial tree for reference.

After I received Fitoria's feather, though it unlocked the series, after a certain point, the names showed up as ???.

It's like that.

The Fio Rial series has had all the material requirements met, so as long as I raise my level, I should become able to use them. Even now, there are a few locked ones.

In Raphtalia's case, the materials are insufficient.

Is hair not enough?

But it's not like she's a monster, so I can't get any meat or bone.

... But if you think about it, could I use humans as materials too?

What exactly are these legendary weapons?

"Father-in-Law?" (Motoyasu)

"... What?" (Naofumi)

Is he going to talk about Filo Rials again?

"How about feeding death row prisoners to your weapon?" (Motoyasu)

"..... Ren, how about it?" (Naofumi)

"Nonono! I get the feeling that's a line that should never be crossed..."

(Ren)

"That's right, let's give up." (Naofumi)

Motoyasu. You're getting quite dangerous.

I think it's best to carefully distance myself from him.

I forcibly change the topic.

"Ah, right. The Hero Inscription on this island, did you people read it?"

(Naofumi)

Itsuki is still learning. His magic doesn't recover, so he can't read magic words.

Even so, he's learning the written language.

That's why I address this question to Ren and Motoyasu.

"Yeah, I read it." (Ren)

"Of course, Father-in-Law!" (Motoyasu)

"What magic did you get?" (Naofumi)

There's a possibility that the magic learned depends on the individual.

I learned Zveit Aura, but it's not certain that Ren and Motoyasu learned the same.

"Zveit Magic Enchant."

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 273 – The Second Conference of Heroes [ Middle ]

---

“Magic Enchant, right. Its effect is?” (Naofumi)

“It’s a magic sword. After casting, it endows magic that has been received, and I can slash at enemies while it improves the strength of my magic for a little while.” (Ren)

“There are some guys who can use something similar.” (Naofumi)

Sadina used a technique to pour magic into her harpoon.

I wonder if it’s different to that?

“It’s fine even if it’s not my own magic. Normally I can only improve my own magic for a short time.” (Ren)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

It’s quite convenient magic.

You can also aim for a counter after receiving the opponent’s magic.

“Its weakness is that you can only take up to Zweite. When I tried taking Dreifach as a test, it was impossible.” (Ren)

“Is that so. What about Motoyasu?” (Naofumi)

“I learned Zweite Absorb, Father-in-law.” (Motoyasu)

“Hm… its effects?” (Naofumi)

Well from its name, it seems like it would be able to absorb magic or something.

“It cancels Zweite-class magic and absorbs it. The problem is that I can’t move after casting it.” (Motoyasu)

It really is a problem for Motoyasu, who is good at fighting, to be unable to move.

So this magic can't be cast in advance.

"It's range is?" (Naofumi)

"From what I've experienced, it's around 5 meters." (Motoyasu)

"I see." (Naofumi)

Here, different magic was learned.

But they are useful in terms of convenience.

So what is written on that inscription, based on the current pattern, is support-type magic.

It's up to Zweite, but if I can use Revelation-level techniques then they should probably be able to use something superior as well.

Because they've got a wide range of use, they should also be able to use Dreifach if they tune it.

...I can only use Recovery and Support magic, but I wonder how it is with the others?

"What are your aptitudes in regards to magic?" (Naofumi)

"Speaking of which, we haven't talked about that. Naofumi was Recovery and Support magic, right?" (Ren)

"That's right." (Naofumi)

"Mine is Water and Support magic. Well, there are some water spells that can heal, so I can't say it's unconditional." (Ren)

Father-in-Law. I can use Fire and Recovery magic. Similarly, I can use Support magic with my Fire spells." (Motoyasu)

"I have Wind and Earth magic. Likewise, I can use a bit of Recovery and Support magic." (Itsuki)

Ren is Water and Support.

Motoyasu is Fire and Recovery.

Itsuki is Wind and Earth.

It's divided splendidly.

But they're able to use Recovery or Support Magic within their Systems.

"Our Recovery and Support magic don't have as high an effect as Naofumi's does." (Ren)

"My Fire's Recovery magic is better." (Motoyasu)

"Well obviously." (Naofumi)

Because Motoyasu can use Recovery magic.

Speaking of which.... I have no offensive abilities.

I'm sure the Magic Shop said so.

For some reason, when one casts magic, it is influenced by the caster's disposition and that disposition can be seen even in simple Recovery Magic or something.

Motoyasu's casting of Heal probably has some fire mixed in.

And when the caster doesn't have the disposition for it, for example when Motoyasu casts Support Magic, it is noticeably weaker.

Come to think of it... Recovery magic should have an attack-type...

I'm sure it was Fast Decay.

I tried casting it, but it failed.

According to the Magic Shop, it's rare for someone to have no disposition for Offence like this.

But on the other hand, the magic Fast Grow Heal was a success.

Its effect is Fatigue Recovery.

Nevertheless, it has a weak effect on severe fatigue, and is rather pointless to cast on myself.

This is Recovery magic from the Support Category. Wounds also get healed somewhat.

"I guess the magic from the inscription is special." (Naofumi)

Aura increases one's full capacity.

Magic Enchant endows a weapon with magic, and even has the capability of using the opponent's magic.

Absorb cancels out magic.

"What will Itsuki learn, I wonder." (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Itsuki)

"Itsuki-sama, do your best to go learn it, okay." (Rishia)

"Yes." (Itsuki)

Itsuki nodded many times.

Has he become a little better?

"Right, speaking of magic, do you guys know of the Dragon Pulse magic series?" (Naofumi)

There's probably no reason to untactfully conceal it any more.

Ren looks like he's reflected and no longer cares about coveting methods to become stronger.

There would be no point in this tug-of-war of arms if we lose the waves.

[T/N: Arms as in weapons. The actual word used was 足 (lit. foot/leg) but my sleepy brain can't think of the right word to use so arms will do for now]

"Is that the unique magic that Wyndia uses?" (Ren)

"It's the magic that Dragons and some monsters use." (Midori)

Midori supplemented.

Well, he is a Filorial like Firo.

They hate dragons, I wonder if he even understands the magic system those dragons use.

"I heard that Naofumi can use it. How is its use?" (Ren)

"Honestly, it's a pain. However, I know how Ren feels when he casts supporting magic with Water magic." (Naofumi)

I take power from the water in the pitcher and let them see it put into practice.

『I guide the power of this water and wish for its embodiment. Oh Dragon Pulse. Give me power』

"Aqua Seal" (Naofumi)

I cast water support magic on Ren.

"Uwa" (Ren)

Ren closed his eyes, blinking in surprise, and checked his status.

"Doesn't magic have something similar?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, it's a spell to increase fire resistance called Fast Resist Fire." (Ren)

Raising one hand, he cast magic on me the exact same way.

I see, indeed it's similar.

I can confirm my fire resistance increasing with my Status.

"So what's the trouble with that Dragon Pulse method?" (Ren)

"The main thing is that you can't use the Dragon Pulse method unless you do the calculations, unlike magic which you can cast as long as you can read the letters. The formula changes." (Naofumi)

"I don't really get it but it sounds difficult." (Ren)

"You probably won't understand until you're able to use it. I'll have you guys learn it eventually." (Naofumi)

I suppose it's better to ask Gaelion to also teach the others the Dragon Pulse method.

It's needed for Revelation and magic comprehension so it's better that they learn.

Or rather, I think so even now, but there's no doubt it was necessary to strengthen to this level.

"I got it. It must be true if Naofumi says so." (Ren)

"I don't want Motoyasu-san to learn it. It's magic that dragon's use."
(Midori)

"Midori, it's regrettable but since Father-in-Law is telling me to learn it, I have to learn." (Motoyasu)

"Buu...." (Midori)

Midori glared at me intently.

Not that I care.

“I’ve just been sharing so far, but have you guys discovered anything?”
(Naofumi)

For the time being, Ren brought information on his companion’s sword.
I wonder what Motoyasu and Itsuki have?

“Kuu and Marine and Midori’s pleasure point, the statistics of the pleasure points of all the Filorials is—” (Motoyasu)

“Motoyasu, shut up. Don’t talk any more.” (Naofumi)

“Motoyasu-san. Please stop. It’s embarrassing…” (Midori)

“Please wait, Father-in-Law. What did I say wrong?” (Motoyasu)

“I don’t want to know!” (Naofumi)

Does this guy only have Filorials on his mind?

Even Midori is getting embarrassed.

Jeez.

By the way, Firo likes it when I wash around the roots of her feathers. And also around her throat.

Firo’s number 1 subordinate, the cutesy kid, also likes being stroked around the throat. [T/N: The Purple Filorial, remember the one who was teaching all the others during the ‘Be loved by Master’ Workshop?]

“Let’s see…. then I’ll talk about what I saw when I went to Faubley. For some reason, there were Asphalt roads and cars.” (Motoyasu)

“By cars you mean those Cars?” (Naofumi) [T/N: Cars from their world/s]

“Yes. They were quite old, but there were other vehicles apart from carriages. This is something that differs a lot from games.” (Motoyasu)

Well, they do periodically summon heroes from different worlds, and it’s not like there’s no chance of some of those guys displaying their knowledge.

And Faubley is a country that embraces heroes the most.

I guess guys who possess that kind of knowledge appear a lot.

“Yes. They exist. It seems we can make them with alchemy from a different world.” (Rishia)

Rishia affirmed.

Alchemy from a different world, right.

Well, I have heard that the predecessor to science was alchemy.

In that case, calling it a different world’s alchemy may not necessarily be wrong.

“I haven’t seen any in Melromarc though…” (Naofumi)

“It’s no good if we don’t have paved roads, and supplying fuel is difficult so hasn’t really been implemented.” (Rishia)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

Because Heroes have a habit of keeping secrets after all.

It’s also very likely that the Heroes summoned in Faubley only use such convenient knowledge for themselves.

Which reminds me, the viewing crystals resemble a digital camera.

They might be a tool made by a past hero or their followers by combining modern knowledge with magic.

Come to think of it, do they use the parts that were in the carriage I requested?

Even I had the option of using that knowledge to attempt to improve my sales.

Well with the shield's capabilities, using items or the slaves and monsters was more cost-effective so I didn't, although I couldn't really do it anyway because I don't have the technical knowledge.

The fuel supply and such is also troublesome.

Would it be better use coal to move?

Or else use magic to move.... in that case, it's probable.

Frankly, it's a world that might even have aircrafts, so I shouldn't worry so much.

I should try consulting with Imia's Uncle or someone.

"Itsuki, what about you?" (Naofumi)

"Here." (Itsuki)

Itsuki held out something that looked like a card.

"What's this?" (Naofumi)

"The Dark Guild's Membership card. As long as you have this, you can procure information from the Dark Guild." (Itsuki) [T/N: Come join the Dark Side, we have Kookie(s) XD]

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 274 – The Second Conference of Heroes [ End]

---

Wait, the Dark Guild's Membership card…?

My face cramps for a second.

“… And why do you have such a thing?” (Naofumi)

“It was a prize for one of the Coliseum events.” (Itsuki)

“Ah, I see…” (Naofumi)

He brought out quite a dubious item…

Though, knowing Itsuki's circle of friends, it's not strange that he would have such a thing.

“As long as you can pay, there's nothing you can't get from them apparently.” (Itsuki)

“I'll use it if it becomes necessary.” (Naofumi)

Honestly, I don't really want to involve myself.

I mean, it's probably full of people like the Slave Merchant.

Even the Pig King's taken a liking to me. This may be a bit late, but I get the feeling that most of my acquaintances are villains.

It's that: “Birds of a feather flock together,” something like that.

… If I had to choose, I would say I'm a villain. I can't find any evidence to deny that.

I mean, my enemy, Witch, was sent to a brutal execution. From the point of view of some protagonist out there, my actions are befitting of a criminal. If this was a manga, perhaps some Hero of Light would be on his way to exterminate me.

But reality isn't so sweet, so I don't think that a messenger of justice will come for my head this late in the game.

Even so, why does Itsuki have this?

It's something the previous Itsuki would have detested.

"I'm surprised a justice idiot like you kept such a thing. I thought you would try to crush them or something." (Naofumi)

"If used well, even evil can become justice." (Itsuki)

Is it like how assassination can be used to keep order?

That's a statement befitting of Itsuki's justice.

He may have even assassinated in the name of justice already.

"I want us to gather up the various gems, plants, and drops we've all collected. Naofumi, is that fine?" (Ren)

"Yeah, that might actually be the main point of this meeting." (Naofumi)

Based on all of our operations, we're putting all of our knowledge down on paper.

Even I'm remembering things I was on the verge of forgetting.

I guess there are still things for me to learn.

And sacrificing my own knowledge isn't a terrible price to pay for that.

"Ren, though you may already know, I'd like to talk about the Hengen Musou style of fighting." (Naofumi)

"The one that Eclipse and Rishia use?" (Ren)

"Right. That style focuses on the use of Chi." (Naofumi)

"Eclipse also explained it, but I can't seem to understand it. Can you?"
(Ren)

"A bit. Since Atlas, who can see things others cannot, has continuously been punching the weaknesses I've never noticed in my defenses, I think I've grasped something." (Naofumi)

I start explaining from the first time Female Knight showed me the style. Even if the heroes cannot use Mussou Kassei, the ability to recover Mana and SP will come in handy. It also has plenty of applications in skills. As I was doing so, Ren, Motoyasu, and Itsuki begin reading screens invisible to my eyes.

"... It's true. It wasn't there before, but the item known as EP appeared in the help menu." (Ren)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"I think it's an abbreviation of Energy Points... Using SP and Magic to power up skills, and raising abilities... How to use it is..." (Ren)

"W-wait..." (Naofumi)

It can't be in the Help. It's something I discovered.

It doesn't even involve the legendary weapons.

"It also explains how to use it. There was an occupation that could do something like this in Brave Star Online. It was a bit simpler, but I think it's something close." (Ren)

"Father-in-Law, there was also something like this in the games I played." (Motoyasu)

"Same..." (Itsuki)

Um, so it's something like a job skill?

Something only a certain class can use?

Quit messing with me!

"Understanding the energy within the body... this is quite hard. But..."

(Ren)

The Chi emitting from Ren starts changing.

It starts flowing around his sword. Eventually, it settles into a steady flow around his blade. I can tell all of this just by looking.

The same happens to Motoyasu and Itsuki.

Now if they were to use a skill, the potency would definitely increase.

"Fuee... Why can you use it after just getting that vague description?"

(Rishia)

"Fuee..." (Naofumi)

"Fueeeeeeee!" (Rishia)

"...fue..." (Editor)

"Fuee!" (Translator)

As I imitate Rishia, she cries out sorrowfully.

"Ku... My Mana, SP, and EP were instantly depleted. I'll need to practice to master it. I feel really exhausted." (Ren)

"Right." (Itsuki)

"This is amazing! I, Motoyasu, will work hard for Father-in-Law's sake!"

(Motoyasu)

Belief can become power.

After listening to me, and believing in me wholeheartedly, it appeared in their help and they became able to use it?

Cut the crap.

Just how hard do you think I trained to learn that!?

At this rate, if I just show them the basics, they should be able to use it just fine.

I check the Help screen of my own Shield.

It's not there.

... Am I a non-believer?

Perhaps the way I feel right now is the same as when the other three saw me getting strong all of a sudden.

"This power... if I mix it into skills and magic, will it amplify their power?"
(Ren)

I'm at a loss for words as I watch Ren, Motoyasu, and Itsuki learning the basics of Chi control. The only thing I can do is watch.

I thought it was something I found on my own. They took it so easily.

How unfair this world is.

Even so, it seems that these three are finally starting to catch up to me...

Should I give up on telling them about Revelation?

I kinda want to be ahead, if even just a little.

However, as long as I'm in control, it would be best to teach them if we wish to overcome the wave.

If belief can become power, then if you don't believe, then you won't find power. I don't think these people will betray me soon.

That being the case, since these people have the potential to become stronger than me, it's best if I teach them.

No matter how far I strengthen the Shield, I can't use it for offense.

And I'm curious as to what sort of large scale magic will come out of them using Revelation.

"Since you're just learning the basics of Chi, I'll have to explain SP later. Are you fine with postponing my explanation of magic as well?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, I wanted to learn it, but if I have to figure it out one step at a time, I guess we'll have to postpone it. If Naofumi teaches, then I think I can learn it quite fast." (Ren)

Ren's lack of doubt in me is irritating for some reason.

Should I just make up some BS?

... But what if their belief in that BS makes it real!?

If it fails, they'll begin to doubt me, so I should probably give up on that.

Though it wasn't present at the time, when I checked later, it was clearly written in the Help.

And on my status, the stat of EP also appeared.

What I was able to confirm was that Heroes are unable to learn Mussou Kassei.

The Legendary Weapons make one different from the average person. Just by possessing one, the user is sent into a constant state of Mussou Kassei. The Help called it Energy Boost.

Since it was perpetually active, it couldn't be stacked on again.

It was quite a boring result.

"... Let's see. I've also used Item Creation to try to raise the quality of items. I may be able to put it into practice... That's about all I know for now."

(Naofumi)

"Alright." (Itsuki)

"Father-in-Law, I still have more to say." (Motoyasu)

"Yeah, that was quite a productive meeting this time around." (Ren)

I get the feeling that these people were simply listening to me give a presentation though...

"Naofumi-sama...?" (Raphtalia)

The door to the meeting room opens, and Raphtalia sticks her head in.

"So this is where you were." (Raphtalia)

"Have you cooled down from the bath?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. I think it's about time we returned to the village. I was looking for you." (Raphtalia)

"Ren wanted to restart the meeting that was put on hold earlier. We were just discussing a few things." (Naofumi)

"Is that so? So did you learn anything good?" (Raphtalia)

No, I feel like I've been the one teaching.

But since Ren, Motoyasu, and Itsuki are counted as part of my forces, I can't call this result bad.

I guess these people were called to this world for a reason. They all have a screw loose in the right place.

"In order to respond to Naofumi's trust in me, I will get stronger. Leave it to me." (Ren)

"Ah, yes, yes." (Naofumi)

Ren's turning into an annoying person.

I didn't like the old Ren, but the current one is simply oppressive.

"Yeah, Father-in-Law! I'll also work hard!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu is annoying.

Mostly his way of addressing me.

"For some reason, I get the feeling that everyone here has gotten stronger."
(Rishia)

Rishia holds Itsuki's hand as she collects her thoughts.

But with this, Ren, Motoyasu, and Itsuki are on the road to becoming stronger. Is that alright?

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 275 – Revival Festival

---

A little while after the Heroes held their conference.

Recently, Ren's curse's effects have been lessening. His loss of luck, and his decrease in EXP has gone below levels where we have to worry about it.

The Status reduction from my curse is almost trivial as well.

There's around one month left until the next wave...

Imya's uncle was quite a skilled craftsman, and he's been making weapons and armor for everyone.

As his disciple, Ren and his group are going around the country looking for materials.

Now, the villagers have become quite strong. The Granny also carries out training to increase their combat abilities as high as possible.

Isn't it about time for me to go raise my level as well? I guess I should go on a quest to some monster infested dungeon or something.

As I was thinking that...

"Revival Festival?" (Naofumi)

Melty came to my place carrying a stack of documents.

"Yeah." (Melty)

"What's that supposed to mean?" (Naofumi)

"Well, we've pretty much finished reviving the villages, and we resolved the Three Hero Church brainwashing incident, right?" (Melty)

"Hmm... Do we have the time to be doing such things?" (Naofumi)

Houou will attack in one month's time. Should we really be holding a festival?

Is what I think, but in a world like this one, it's probably best to have fun while you have the time.

"Then just go and hold one by yourself." (Naofumi)

"Are you sure? If you joined, you could expect quite a bit of profit." (Melty)

"How much?" (Naofumi)

"If you want a rough estimation, about this much." (Melty)

Melty presents a numerical estimate to me.

It was an absurd amount.

"Why this much?" (Naofumi)

"Because we're going to host quite a few attractions, and we'll be managing a bit of healthy betting." (Melty)

Gambling.

I don't hate that sort of thing.

Don't get me wrong. I hate participating in it.

I enjoy gambling others out of their money.

But that presents a problem.

"Isn't that dangerous?" (Naofumi)

"There's no problems. We're planning some Filo Rial races similar to the ones at the Coliseum. Naofumi's place has an abundance of good steeds."
(Melty)

(TL: Melty uses a word to describe good racing horses here.)

So we're using the Filo Rials.

I get the feeling they're living sedentary lives, so perhaps an event like this is a good opportunity.

"We're having other people challenge them. The earnings will definitely be great." (Melty)

"...Fumu. Got it." (Naofumi)

"We also have a music show by Firo-chan planned." (Melty)

"Music?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, Firo-chan's had experience singing in bars. She's become quite famous by word of mouth. If you find her, go call out to her." (Melty)

Yes, Firo's definitely good at singing.

If there's music playing, she can make words and tunes to complement the song perfectly, and she's got a nice sense of rhythm.

She also likes dancing, and in human form, she's a bishojo.

It's as if she's a...

"She seems to have a lot of fans. Last time Firo sang in the village bar, the bar was so packed that no one could fit through the door anymore." (Melty)

"Is she some sort of Idol?" (Naofumi)

"Some people even settle in that village for Firo-chan. Painters have sent in requests to use her as a model. Should I permit them? I think we'll be able to rake in quite a bit." (Melty)

I can't wait to see what sort of face Motoyasu will make.

Will he snap, and try to monopolize Firo?

No, his wallet will probably go to the great bin in the sky as he buys all her merchandise.

“In this case, should we open up a photography session, and sell each photo crystal for 1 gold?” (Melly)

“Fumu. That sounds good.” (Naofumi)

Excess gold is never a problem.

I’ve started instating small taxes in the village as well, so my finances are rising.

Well, making Imya’s Uncle’s workshop, miscellaneous costs relating to weapons and armor, maintaining Rat’s equipment, procuring medicine, and a lot of other things have cut it by quite a bit.

Still, Melly plans to exploit her best friend to earn money…

It seems she hasn’t realized it herself, but she definitely carries the blood of her parents.

No, she’s creating a place for Firo to shine… If you look at her like a Producer, I guess she’s trying to benefit her friend.

“Got it. The merchant association has already began progress, so we should be able to hold it in around three days.” (Melly)

“Should I participate as well?” (Naofumi)

“You’re the lord, so that goes without saying. Though things should proceed just fine as long as you signal the opening and closing.” (Melly)

“Understood. You can permit any event that guarantees profit.” (Naofumi)

And stuff happened, and three days passed.

“Then the Revival Festival will henceforth commence!” (Naofumi)

A grand opening ceremony was held in the town plaza, and the Revival Festival began.

The neighboring town's started expanding on a large scale, and it's becoming a town of magnitude second to only the Castle Town. I'm amazed that it's made this much progress in the two months since its founding.

Even though it was supposed to have suffered quite a bit of damages from the Three Hero Church brainwashing incident...

Well, the damaged buildings have all been supplemented with Camping Plants, so it's more of a temporary town.

The people give a loud applause in response to the starting signal. I haven't heard a single good thing about this country's state of affairs. Perhaps attractions like these are good for the people to vent off steam

"Then Firo will sing~!" (Firo)

Melty nods, and Firo races onto the special stage we erected for this event, in special clothes we prepared for it.

"YEAH!" (Crowd)

A cheer much greater than the previous one echoes through the area. As I look over the people, I see many of them reminiscent of Idol Groupies I saw only too often in my world scattered here and there.

Hold on... Just how many fans does that bird have?

Are those people behind her musicians?

A large number of people carrying instruments begin playing to match Firo's song.

The instruments seem to be gentle harp-like ones, but somehow, I get the feeling of a live concert here.

"L. O. V. E. Love Me! Firo-tan!" (Motoyasu)

... Behind all of the fans, Motoyasu is waving around a flag.

I feel disgusted.

Oh, the people around him are Kuu, Marin and Midori, I think.

The three Filo Rials are staring into space with extremely bored expressions on their faces.

The contrast in enthusiasm between them and Motoyasu is amazing.

"Ah... It's good to be alive."

"Since the first time we layed ears on Firo-tan's singing, we couldn't work up our motivation to do work until we heard it again."

"Yeah, who cares about Humans and Demi-Humans. We're all simply people united in listening to her voice. "

This was an unexpected result.

Because of my orders, fighting between races has stopped. I was also trying to end discrimination, but it seems some people have completely abandoned their discriminatory mindsets to pursue Firo.

Are they saying that whilst knowing her true form?

"Ah, I hope the curse that turned Firo-tan into a divine bird gets dispelled soon. We're praying for you, Firo-tan!"

... They're under the impression that she's under a curse.

How convenient.

When I asked Melty later, she said that Firo's backstory was arbitrarily decided by the fans.

Aparently she has to act as an idol and earn money in order to break her curse... or something.

It's a setting that seems possible for a certain TS Idol protagonist. (TL: Apparently an Idol Pretender reference.)

Though in truth, her true form is the bird one, people.

"Now, everyone! Let's cheer with all our might!"

"Yeah~!" (Crowd)

The village plaza's completely become a concert hall.

Hmm? In a distant corner, a person wearing worn out clothing is cheering for Firo as well.

I quietly leave the plaza.

"Firo's popularity is amazing." (Raphtlaia)

Raphtalia breaks out of the crowd, and follows behind me.

I nod honestly at her statement.

"That's true. Melty told me beforehand, but the sales of her goods are also quite something." (Naofumi)

Since he was convinced they would sell, the accessory merchant started producing and selling official Firo goods.

He set the price quite high, but with that many fans, they'll sell out in no time.

With this much popularity, perhaps we can have a handshake event, and charge one gold per time.

And finally, we can start producing dakimakura... or not.

"Ah... If I were to buy this... tomorrow's food will..."

The person in the worn down robes hesitates over his purchase
He obviously has not the financing... value your life more, dude.
It's not my problem if you starve.

By the way, I was informed afterwards that Motoyasu's three stole the stage and did a concert of their own.
Firo's show became really heated.

"It seems today's going to get really hectic." (Naofumi)

The people from my village wanted to participate as well, so they've taken various jobs...

It seems that Kiel's stall is quite crowded.

What was she selling again?

When I look over, I see it's a crepe stand.

"Ah, Nii-chan!" (Kiel)

"Oy, you knew how to make crepes?" (Naofumi)

"Of course!" (Kiel)

An excited Kiel, in dog form, dexterously handles the crepe skins on the pan.
She's selling them with the slaves usually on kitchen duty.

Hmph. I thought she was growing to be a gluttonous battle maniac, but she was able to cook as well.

I never expected to find a girly aspect in her at this point.

"Using Nii-chan's crepe as a base, and adding new ideas, this is my original crepe." (Kiel)

And what Kiel brought out was grilled fish...

She cuts the body into a texture like canned tuna, adds on sliced Bioplant fruit, and wraps it into the crepe skin.

"Crepes aren't just dessert, you know." (Kiel)

"Ah, yes, yes." (Naofumi)

That sort of crepe existed in my world as well, so it's not like I find it surprising.

It's a way of cooking befitting of Kiel.

"Imya-chan's also opened up a store." (Raphtalia)

In the Bazaar area, I found the stall Imya had opened.

The walls were lined with clothes she made especially for this day.

After appraising them, I find they are all of High Quality. Even so, the price is reasonable, and they're selling like hot cakes.

"Ah, Hero of the Shield-sama." (Imya)

"If they're selling this well, why not raise the price?" (Naofumi)

"But the cost of production was quite low, so selling it at any more than this would make me feel..." (Imya)

"Ah, so it's about virtue. But the cost of your work itself needs to be included, so you should charge higher. Take note of that." (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Imya)

She's quite an obedient child.

Raphtalia is carefully inspecting the cheap clothing. Wait, that's underwear.

I feel like I'm looking at something I shouldn't be.

It's that. The feeling I would get if I enter a lingerie shop. Perhaps.

"Is there anything you want?" (Imya)

"Let's see. Can you use slightly better materials to raise the defense?"

(Raphtalia)

"Um... Does underwear need defense? For Raphtalia-san, I would recommend these ones." (Imya)

And what Imya brought out was bright red... Victory Panties?

(TL: It's stuff you wear when you wanna get lucky.)

There's a hole in a strange area.

"Why are you selling something like that, Imya?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, yes. Master told me that these items would be in high demand, so it would be beneficial to stock them. I have something for Hero of the Shield-sama as well." (Imya)

"...Why is there a hole in the one you're recommending me as well?" (Naofumi)

And this one is around the anal region.

Even for a tailed Demi-Human, the placing is strange.

"That's odd... Master said the Hero of the Shield-sama would want something like this..." (Imya)

Damn Tailor. Just how rotten is her brain?

And for such depravity to exist in this alternate world where such a genre shouldn't exist yet...

How frightening. The Tailor is a genius. That wasn't a compliment.

Let me just declare this. If she were to come to my world, she would have no problems putting food on the table.

“Does it not look cool to you?” (Imya)

“Imya… I’m definitely raising you in a way that you won’t learn that garment’s true meaning.” (Naofumi)

“…? Understood.” (Imya)

“Naofumi-sama! If I were to wear this, what would you think!?” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia inquires with an excited expression. She’s holding the Victory Panties.

No matter how I look at it, she’s still a child on the inside. For her to see such a stimulating item, there’s no helping if she gets strangely excited.

“Raphtalia is already good looking, so I don’t think you have to dress up with things like that.” (Naofumi)

“Is that true!? Wait, Naofumi-sama?” (Raphtalia)

“I think Raphtalia would do fine with a normal pair. How about it?”
(Naofumi)

I point to a pair of undergarments similar to the one she usually wears.

“Um, Naofumi-sama. This may sound slightly rude, but you’re not getting aroused at all?” (Raphtalia)

“Meaning?” (Naofumi)

Is it like a daughter asking their father?

I think it would be best for her to look natural, rather than wearing those overly-stimulating items.

“Ah, never mind. You don’t have to answer that one.” (Raphtalia)

Before I can say anything, Raphtalia puts the underwear back.

What's wrong?

Did she guess my intentions?

It helps that Raphtalia's so understanding.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 276 – Bird Competition

---

“Instead, I think Japanese clothing like Hakama and such would suit Raphtalia more.” (Naofumi) [T/N: Think typical shrine maiden costume]

“Hakama? What do you mean by Japanese clothing?” (Imia)

Imia asked, tilting her head.

Because she usually specialises in Western dressmaking, she has an interest in this unknown genre.

“Er.. Japanese clothing also encompasses the Loincloth that Sadina recommended to Kiel.” (Naofumi)

“Ah, so you mean Eastern clothing. In that case, should I investigate and make some?” (Imia)

“That’s right… since it will probably look good, let’s request it.” (Naofumi)

Raphtalia in Japanese clothing, huh.

“I understand. I’ll make it later. Do you have any preference for the materials?” (Imia)

“It’s not being used for battle so it’s fin… no, I’d like you to use quality materials to make it if you can. I’ll be waiting.” (Naofumi)

“Oka~y.” (Imia)

Imia finished talking with me and started serving another customer.

Raphtalia in Japanese clothing, huh….

“Abstain from having a wooden umbrella, unrefined sake and leaves as clothing.” (Naofumi)

That could be passed off as a joke if she was still around 5 years old, but letting Raphtalia wear that kind of outfit now would be a crime.

“Why is it that sort of concept, Naofumi-sama!” (Raphtalia)

Well Raphtalia is a Tanuki….

So Shigaraki Ware only exists in my country. [T/N: Pottery & stoneware made in Shigaraki, Japan. Tanuki figures are a popular product.]

I don’t really know if Shigaraki Ware has Female Tanuki though.

Now, how should I pacify Raphtalia.

“Ah, Naofumi-sama.” (Atla)

“Why are you here!?” (Fohl)

I was wondering who Imia was serving, but it turned out to be Atla and Fohl.

“Is it bad that I’m here? More than that, what are you guys doing?”
(Naofumi)

“I have been searching for Naofumi-sama.” (Atla)

“Atla! Don’t approach him!” (Fohl)

“So, Fohl. What are you doing?” (Naofumi)

“He has been choosing clothes for Atla-san.” (Imia)

Imia replied.

In her hand was a cute dress and accessories.

So he’s already bought them.

"In addition to that, he has commissioned some custom-made items. He's requested cute clothes and stuffed toys." (Imia)

"I see, I see." (Naofumi)

As usual, he's been trying to turn his sister into a dress-up doll.

"Clothes that are easy to move in are better though...." (Atla)

Atla announced ostentatiously.

Well, Gothic Lolita and other cute styles are indeed unsuited for battle.

Besides, a resolute-type like Atla probably doesn't like them.

"Atla, you won't be fighting, so it's fine for you to be at ease. Because you're still too young to be mobilised!" (Fohl)

"Even if you say that...." (Atla)

Atla facepalmed and then turned to Imia, looking troubled.

"Have you finished the underwear I wanted?" (Atla)

"Ah, yes. It's an attractive pair of underwear."

...She took out a thin pair of underwear, adorned with pretty ornaments, that was more risqué than the pair she showed Raphtalia.

It was black.

However, the problem was that Atla had a child's body and appeared to be around 10 years old, so there was a disparity, or whatever it's called.

Or rather, Atla can't see so why would she even want such a thing.

"Wh—" (Fohl)

Fohl became speechless.

I also feel the same way.

What does Atla intend on by wearing that!

“Stop it, Atla! Nii-chan will never approve of that kind of underwear!” (Fohl)

“Onii-sama.” (Atla)

Atla grasped Fohl’s hand gently.

“The sister of your dreams doesn’t exist. Please look at the real me. I’m someone who would wear this kind of underwear and attack Naofumi-sama.” (Atla)

“What are you saying!” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia shouts with all her strength.

“Wah….” (Fohl)

Fohl looked away from Atla in disbelief and glared at me for some reason.

Why does it feel like I’ve stolen his lover?

I don’t need that kind of development.

“Right. Since you know my feelings of it being wrong, stop your sister’s rampage.” (Naofumi)

“Gu… I get it. Nii-chan will make Atla return to normal.” (Fohl)

“Do your best.” (Naofumi)

“Don’t you say that! Now, Atla! We’re going to the next store, there’s still a lot of things we need to buy!” (Fohl)

“Ah, Naofumi-samaaaaaaa!” (Atla)

Don't reach your arm out to me whilst still holding the underwear.
That just looks like you're trying to give me the underwear.

"Atla-san is amazing." (Imia)

"Yeah." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia and Imia gazed at the scene with a faraway look and nodded to each other.

Was it just in my imagination that they were looking as if it was dusk?

"...Maybe I should also buy some." (Raphtalia)

"What are you saying? I think normal underwear is fine for Raphtalia."
(Naofumi)

"...I understand Atla-san's feelings now." (Imia)

Atla's feelings?

While they were talking, I heard a somewhat noisy voice from outside the town.

If I'm not mistaken, that is where the hurriedly established grass racetracks that Taniko had sponsored were.

For the time being, Rato should be there, looking after the health of the monsters that we're in the Filorial category.

'Waaaaaaaah!'

I could hear cheers and angry bellows.

That was the mix of voices rejoicing their victory and the cries of defeat.
It was a little noisy but it might be good for improving Raphtalia's mood.

"Let's go look at the racetracks." (Naofumi)

"Ah, wait a minute." (Raphtalia)

When I look at the Filorial Racetracks, unknown Filorials and trainers hung their heads in defeat, and the Filorials from my place raised a victory cry. As far as it goes, they were all guys who had changed into Filorial Queens and Kings.

Ah, Ren and Itsuki were keeping a lookout as guards.

"Kue." (Filorial)

The Filorials located me and ran over.

""Kueee?" (Filorials)

You won? The Filorials faced me and held their heads high, seeming to say 'Praise me, Praise me'.

"Yes yes, alright." (Naofumi)

It looks like this is the race under the command of Firo's number one subordinate, the cutesy kid.

I don't really want to address them but I stroke them anyway.

And the angry bellows from before were?

Or so I wondered but when I looked around, I saw visitors crying from losing their bets in the audience stands.

"That's ridiculous! Our First Honor lost!?"

What's with that horse-like name. [T/N: Racehorses have weird names.]

"Even our legendary Shield Lion! What's with that!"

...It seemed there were similarly named racehorse-like competitors everywhere.

“Are you these Filorials’ trainer!?” (Filorial Trainer)

The losing Filorials’ trainer approached me, who the Filorials had gathered around.

“If I’m not mistaken, you’re the lord of this land, the Hero of the Shield-sama.” (Filorial Trainer)

“Yeah, that’s right?” (Naofumi)

“The Filorials from the Hero of the Shield-sama’s place are all excellent. By all means, would it be acceptable to let our Filorials breed with yours?”
(Filorial Trainer)

“””Kue!?””” (Filorials)

The Filorials from my place raised their voices in surprise.

And then... I looked at the Filorials of the fellow who brought up the conversation.

When I do, it seems like the losing Filorials were looking this way with somewhat heated gazes.

“””KueKue!!””” (Filorials)

Everyone shook their heads and tried to hide behind my back.

Because there were so many of them, they weren’t hidden at all.

Or rather, imitating normal Filorials despite being able to talk is unnecessary.

[T/N: Kueee!]

“Of course, we’ll provide a mating fee, so won’t you consider it?” (Filorial Trainer)

And then the trainer showed me how much he was willing to pay on an abacus-like tool.

…It’s a considerable amount of money.

From the audience stands came cries of ‘Ooh! Mating with those legendary Filorials!? That’ll be the start of a new legend!’, the audience holding their breath and watching attentively.

I want to nod along with the mood but…..you know.

I glance behind me.

When I do, all the Filorials had their wings together, praying for my refusal with eyes like a calf being sold off.

I see Rato and Taniko coming for a health check-up.

Rato shrugged casually and replied ‘And if the Marquis decides on his own?’

Taniko also said ‘Isn’t it fine if it turns out well?’ and nodded.

They knew just from experience.

“Ah… I’m the person in charge for now but the one who raised them is someone different, and I also want them have their own freedom. For that kind of thing…..naturally…that…” (Naofumi)

Why are my words not coming out properly.

It’s because it’s not alright for me to arbitrarily decide on their engagement.

Also, they’re Filorials raised by Motoyasu, I never had the right.

However, it might be good to accept the breeding charge.

If thoroughbred Filorials are added to my subordinates then I'm sure our combat power will increase.

""Kueeeee..."" (Filorials)

Don't cling to me, guys.....

I heard from Melty that the opponent is quite a big organisation.

Are they financed by Zeltbur? Betting is nearly everywhere there, like in the Colosseum.

Refusing is also a pain, and the prospects sound good.

If possible, I want the Filorial bonding to have been unsuccessful already and be done with it.

"Somehow it seems like these guys aren't interested. We can try to match my Filorials and your Filorials for a short time but if it doesn't go well even then, will you give up?" (Naofumi)

And so we're compromising.

"I understand." (Filorial Trainer)

Applause fills the racetracks.

It seems if it goes well, the Filorial Races get heated up.

""Kueee..."" (Filorials)

The Filorials shake their heads in refusal.

I entered the ring and muttered so the other side couldn't hear.

"Rest assured. It's fine if you guys dislike it. It's alright to send them flying if they approach against your will, as long as there are no injuries."

(Naofumi)

“Kuee…” (Filorial)

“Also, I don’t think Motoyasu, who deeply cares for you guys, will swallow the story.” (Naofumi)

Incidentally, well, this can also be said to the Filorials.

“There are those among you who aren’t that dissatisfied so please consider their feelings.” (Naofumi)

There’s the main group who want to refuse and the group who doesn’t really care.

“It’s not like the whole group thinks the same. You guys have the initiative until the end. Understand?” (Naofumi)

“””Kue!””” (Filorials)

I don’t know if they understand, but the Filorials nod vigorously.

By the way, the Filorials’ breeding season lasts for a month.

The neutral group mate with the Filorials in custody, the birds that become renown later are a different story, and Motoyasu heroically fighting those Filorials is yet another story.

Well, the trouble with that later care was when some of the Filorials in custody lost their minds and decided to target Firo of all things.

Firo’s kicks were quite capable of paying barely-outrageous retributions.

They tried to chase the future queen and so they were just getting what they deserved though.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 277 – The New Seven Sins

---

To celebrate the end of the Revival Festival, we raised a large bonfire in the plaza.

If a certain famous Japanese composition were playing in the background, it would be similar to a festival I knew of, but what's playing is Firo and her accompanying band.

When I head to my village to take a break, I see they're lively with some event over there as well.

It's already late, so it seems my villagers have already returned.

The Slaves, monsters and Filo Rials are gathering for some reason.

"Now it's time to announce the results of the fifth popularity poll."

... What are they doing?

Fifth?

I get Raphtalia to cast invisibility magic on me, and I sneak closer.

"First, we asked the monsters, 『Who do you like most?』 "

"The results were as follows. First place was Rat-san. Second was Wyndia-chan. Third was Hero of the Shield-sama."

The monsters let out their respective cries.

Seeing a gathering of Demi-Humans, monsters, and birds, is quite surreal.

I think that as I gaze at Raphtalia. But her expression indicates that she doesn't find anything strange about it.

"Raphtalia, what do you think about that scene?" (Naofumi)

"Meaning?" (Raphtalia)

“Well…” (Naofumi)

“Because of Naofumi-sama, everyone in the village can live their lives happily. I’m also having fun.” (Raphtalia)

“Ah, I see.” (Naofumi)

Oh, the chairman of this meeting is supplementing some info.

“By the way, last times results were Hero of the Shield-sama first, and Rat and Wyndia in a tie for second. It seems separating out the Filo Rials as a second category altered the results.”

The monsters nod among themselves.

“Next, we posed the same question to the Filo Rials. 『Who do you like most?』 ”

“The results were as follows. First place was Hero of the Shield-sama. Second was Melty-chan. Third was the Hero of the Spear-sama.”

“KUEE!” (Filo Rials)

The Filo Rials each begin chirping.

Why am I first?

Motoyasu tends to all of their needs, so isn’t he a shoe in for first place?

How would Motoyasu react if he learned about this?

I kinda want to know, but then again, I kinda don’t.

“The Hero of the Shield-sama’s popularity is overwhelming. Next, we posed this question to everyone. 『Which boy do you think is coolest?』 ”

Applause fills the area.

“This one gives divided results every time. This time around, the results were as follows. First place goes to the Hero of the Spear-sama, second to Imya-chan’s Uncle, and Third to Fohl-kun.”

This is beginning to get pointless. Should I ignore them, and go home?

But why is Imya’s Uncle second?

From what I see, he’s a diligent Mole-like Beastman.

And for Motoyasu and Fohl to be up there, they’re only polling about looks, right?

“As expected, Imya-chan’s Uncle has captivated everyone.”

“Of course. The way he coolly swings his hammer as he repairs all of our equipment is simply charming.”

I give Raphtalia a questioning glance.

“Is that how it works?” (Naofumi)

“Well… He does quite a manly job, but he doesn’t act like it. He’s a well-mannered person. But why won’t anyone call him by his real name?”

(Raphtalia)

It’s because Imya’s family’s names are way too long.

I’m more curious as to how Raphtalia can remember it.

I’ve heard it once, but I can’t recall it.

It’s on the tip of my tongue, but it’s not coming.

Tri… I believe it started with something like that.

How should I put this, his name doesn’t match his image at all.

In a fantasy story, a skilled blacksmith usually has bad habits, such as drinking. But that man is completely different.

He doesn't gamble. He doesn't drink. He doesn't use any luxury items like Tobacco

I feel that he does a good job looking after the village children.

Wait, with that many factors, I guess I can agree with his ranking.

Making armor and weapons is skilled labor, so he won't have trouble with money.

The kitchen knives he gave me after his workshop was completed cut really well.

He's also diligent with maintenance. He's quite a skilled man.

And it goes without saying, because my slave, but I can get him to make things for free.

The Old Man at the weapon shop's the same. The blacksmiths of this world are good people.

He's taken Ren as an apprentice. Ren said he was a kind and polite teacher.

"Next, we asked this question to everyone. 『Which girl do you think is coolest?』 "

Girls... is it?

This village has a high female to male ratio for some reason.

"This time, First place was taken by Sadina-neesan. Second was Rat-san. Third was the Magic Teacher."

Um... I don't think that's a ranking of coolness. That's just the three oldest...

More than cool, the Magic Shopkeeper gives off a reliable feeling.

In an intellectual way.

Oh, is it because they give off kind, polite impressions?

“Raphtalia, what’s your rank?” (Naofumi)

“Who knows…” (Raphtalia)

For them to have done this five times, these people must be bored.

No, these people are probably having fun doing this in secret.

Their polls are covering multiple genres.

But, it felt like a pain to deal with, so I went home, and slept.

The next day.

I was called to the castle, so I warped there with my Portal. The Queen requested that I have an audience with a messenger from Silt Welt.

It was a Turtle-like… Beastman.

His tail is a snake? It looks quite plump, but is that my imagination?

“He’s of the Genmu race. It’s a famous race among the Demi-humans. This person is a famous noble in Silt Welt.” (Queen)

Genmu… Genbu?

What sort of naming convention is that?

Hakuko was the same.

“If it isn’t the Hero of the Shield-sama. I’ve been informed of your exploits. I’m glad to be given the honor of meeting you like this.” (Genmu)

“I… see.” (Naofumi)

“During the brainwashing incident, they received word that a Demi-Human tried to poison The Hero of the Shield-sama’s village. They sent a messenger for the purpose of investigation.” (Queen)

“Yes. The culprit seems to be unrelated to us, but Hero of the Shield-sama, is it not time for you to leave Melromark behind, and pay a visit to our country of Silt Welt?” (Genmu)

“Even if you ask me that…” (Naofumi)

Silt Welt is kinda far, and I get a sense of danger from it, so I’d like to avoid going if possible.

“Iwatani-sama, the Hero of the Shield, is currently assisting in moral reform within our country, so he does not yet have the free time to visit another country. I offer my greatest apologies. ” (Queen)

The Genmu raced Beastman looks at the Queen with gentle eyes.

I thought the situation would explode, but it seems a peaceful resolution will be possible.

“I see. But just how much longer will our people have to chant, 『Give us back the Hero of the Shield-sama』 . Soon they will tire of it. I came here to ask the Hero-sama directly.” (Genmu)

Even though his atmosphere is calm, he says what he wants.

“More importantly, how much longer will you stay in battle form? Are you that untrusting of us?” (Queen)

The Queen lets off killing intent for a moment, and the Genmu messenger smiles.

“… My, my, I always assume this form to protect myself. I simply forgot.” (Genmu)

The Genmu messenger... changes his form.

His turtle-like figure changes to that of a plump man.

He's a middle aged man that looks to be around 50.

He doesn't give off a bad impression.

I bet he used something like the Beast Transform Sadina and Kiel use.

"Well then, around when will the Hero of the Shield-sama be able to return?

If I don't hear at least that, then I won't be able to return either." (Genmu)

"It's as of yet uncertain... I believe I already sent a letter asking to put this matter on hold until we overcome the next wave." (Queen)

"Yes, but the Shusakus are kicking up a storm." (Genmu)

"Don't act like I don't know your true intentions." (Queen)

What is this? It may be my imagination, but I feel the messenger's subordinate... The red youngster behind him is glaring at me.

As I direct my eyes to the young man, he breaks eye contact, but... His gaze was fiery.

"The people giving the orders are a bit overcome with desire, you see. They even sent the old, retired me to drag him out." (Genmu)

"Are you sure you're not the one pulling the strings in the first place?" (Queen)

"My, my. I don't think that this conversation had anything to do with that." (Genmu)

The Queen and the messenger's cold exchange continued.

But I've also begun to pick up the intent of the discussion.

That messenger is probably of the faction that does not wish for me to venture to his country. But for some reason, he was dispatched. The red one behind him is of the faction that wants to drag me there, so the messenger's glancing at him to make sure his behavior seems natural.

"Ah, right... Hero of the Shield-sama?" (Genmu)

"What is it?" (Naofumi)

"I've heard that some Hakuko are troubling your village, but what is the truth on the matter?" (Genmu)

Should I tell the truth here?

I'm counting on Atlas and Fohl to add to my fighting force.

From their stories, they've fallen quite a bit, but... what sort of position do the Hakuko hold in Silt Welt?

If I affirm the statement, I can't tell what will happen to the two.

Even so, deceiving him will be hard.

Here, I should give an answer that sounds like me.

"No idea. I'm only raising whatever slaves seem useful to me. I have no interest in their race. But from what I've heard, they're of mixed blood."
(Naofumi)

I subtly give the info that they're my subordinates. I'm well aware that these people won't listen.

"But if you plan on raising your hand to my subordinates, you'd better expect an appropriate response." (Naofumi)

"I see. Mixed blood... I understand. In the name of the Hero of the Shield..."
(Genmu)

The messenger put his hands together, and began praying.

Does this mean... he's pulling back? The red one seems like he wants to say something, but when I fix my gaze on him, he shuts his mouth.

It would be best to warn Atlas and Fohl about this.

After that, the conversation shifted to idle chatter, and ended with a lecture directed at the Queen to end all Demi-Human discrimination in its entirety.

Finally, it shifted to talks about the next wave.

The Next wave will call Houou, a monster sealed to the west.

A week before, we'll head to the place where it's sealed, and wait on standby. We'll evacuate the surroundings, and discuss matters with the other countries, and propose various plans. Etcetera.

Well, it was pretty much like a guild meeting.

Silt Welt would be dispatching a large amount of flying troops. Finally, the meeting was over.

After the messenger gave a salute, and left the room, the Queen untenses her muscles and addresses me.

"Iwatani-sama, I appreciate your cooperation." (Queen)

"I get the feeling the turtle-like person doesn't want to bring me back."

(Naofumi)

"He's of the moderate faction, and he's famous for objecting to relying solely on the Hero of the Shield." (Queen)

"What sort of country is Silt Welt?" (Naofumi)

If I think about it, I don't know anything.

"It's a country where the four great races sit on top. In the past, the Hakuko were at the very top, but at the moment, the other three are the ones in power." (Queen)

They were at war with Melromark for a long period of time.

But due to Trash's efforts, the Hakuko's forces were greatly ravaged

And the Genmu are of the moderate faction, and they don't have as great of a belief in the shield?

No, it's hasty to make a generalization about the entire race.

"The ones behind this are the Shusaku race. They're one of the top three."

(Queen)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

"If I had to say, then they're supposed to be neutral, but... That youth seemed to be a radical. Even though I understood that, it was quite tiring."

(Queen)

"You've known that turtle person for a while, haven't you?" (Naofumi)

"I'm surprised you guessed it." (Queen)

As I thought.

They were exchanging cold words, but I didn't feel animosity.

"It seems he was worried whether the Hakuko were meddling with affairs here. Whether they were getting special treatment as the Hero of the Shield's subordinates." (Queen)

"Would that be bad for the power balance there?" (Naofumi)

"The Hakuko were the head of the radical party. Well, the king's gone, and they've quieted down, but people are wary of whether or not they'll rise again." (Queen)

"So what was the result? I couldn't really see what was decided." (Naofumi)

"It seems that they were satisfied with Iwatani-sama's response." (Queen)

They're trying to avoid pointless war as well.

My actions should be more of a reason for celebration over there. There's no reason for them to be angry.

Their long time enemy, Melromark, has possession of the Hero of the Shield, and as a result, many of their enemies within that country were sent to execution.

"And besides those with the blood of heroes, mixed bloods are usually treated as separate races, so... The Hakuko that are your subordinates, will probably not be looked at as Hakuko." (Queen)

So just because that Trash's sister's blood runs through their veins, they're already a different category.

I don't get the reason behind that.

Well, I also don't know if it's the same with the other Hakuko.

"I've troubled you all day, haven't I?" (Queen)

"Don't mind it. Going to war would be even more of a pain." (Naofumi)

If the Queen merely sent them home here, we may have gone to war.

The Queen seems to be skilled in diplomacy, so it probably wouldn't have gone that far, but it would be best to quiet them down.

"I think that messenger group will be paying a visit to your territory soon. Be on your guard." (Queen)

"Will they cause trouble, even among my Demi-Humans." (Naofumi)

"There's a skillful moderate with them, so it should be fine." (Queen)

"... got it." (Naofumi)

I part with the Queen, and return to the village by Portal. Melty was calculating the earnings from the Revival Festival, so I went to her estate to check it out.

On the way, I met another idiot asking me to revive their deceased, and a poor-looking lazy man. I had the town's soldiers take them to appropriate places.

And I passed by a storeroom with bags of coins stacked up like mountains. Ah, I was overcome with greed for a second.

If I take this, I won't go to prison, right?

"Naofumi, just in case, can you check these?" (Melty)

"Sure." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia's training with Fohl in my village.

And Melty left managing the money to me while she left to manage the clean-up of the festival.

Wow... We earned this much from that festival alone?

I've climbed this high from having nothing on me but the clothes on my back.

I slowly lift up one of the money bags, and check the contents.

And gold coins chime as they fall to the ground.

... Fufufu. What should I do with this money?

Should I invest in something bigger? Should I improve the workshops, or expand the lab?

We'll need to get some progress from Rat's monster creation.

To complete it within a month's time, what do we have to do?

“Ku…!” (Naofumi)

It happened as I was laughing to myself.

All of a sudden, my head started hurting as if something were screwing through my brain, and my vision began warping.

Curse Series. The New Seven Sins.

You have unlocked the Shield of Gene Modification.

You have unlocked the Shield of Environmental Pollution.

You have unlocked the Shield of Social Injustice.

The amount of times you can modify the Bioplant has increased!

Curse Series, Shield of Gene Modification Enhancement!

The Extent to which you can Expand the Bioplant has increased!

Curse Series, Shield of Gene Modification Enhancement!

The Shield of Gene Modification has forcefully unlocked the Shield of Poverty!

The Shield of Gene Modification has forcefully unlocked the Shield of Excess Happiness!

etc…

_____!

My head hurts, and I stagger on my feet.

What!?

What the hell is happening to me!?

New Seven Sins?

What did I even do to unlock something like that?

Gu… I feel a dark power coming from the Shield It's corroding my emotions.

It's not like with my Shield of Anger. I don't feel an endless stream of rage erupting from my stomach.

If it was something like that, I could contain it.

But... It was completely different.

More of a... something... I have no idea what to do.

You have completed the New Seven Deadly Sins Series!

"Raph...talia..." (Naofumi)

My vision goes hazy as I begin to lose consciousness. I call out the name of the woman who saved my life, and extend my hand to the air before me as if to grasp something. I hit the hard ground.

And my consciousness drifted to somewhere far, far away.

---

Author Note:

The polls have been closed.

thank you for all of your votes.

Translator Note:

What the hell, those results were real!?

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 278 – Gene Remodelling

---

Day 1.

Slowly getting up, <I> checked my surroundings. [T/N: Naofumi changed the way he refers to himself. 俺 ⇒ ワシ (Btw, idk if it's important, but it's the same way Trash addresses himself)]

And then I was subjected to a feeling of ecstasy, more so than before.

Why was my thinking so incompetent before?

It would have been fine to solve everything with the shield's power, without using money.

I check the shield that transformed just now.

...It's already awakened from the start, and I can't enhance it at all.

However, there should be a surplus of abilities as a rule. [T/N: It's too much of a surplus though....]

Shield of the New Seven Sins (Awakened)      0/0      UR

Ability Sealed..... Equipment bonus, Gene Modification, Human

Experimentation, Social Injustice = Slave Labor Ability Increase, Curse of Poverty, Prosperity of Excess Depravity, Narcotic Compounding, Taboo Alchemy Technique, Forbidden Sorcery, Study of Seals, Cooking of Seals, Sleep Mechanical Engineering, Core of Magical Science.....

Special Effects..... Bio-Custom, Logic of Life, Dragon Pulse Control, Magic Up, Emergency Convening, Alchemic Correction, Harvesting Limit Breakthrough, Rapid Growth Supplement, Pharmacy Skill Increase, Alchemy Skill Increase, Ore Creation, Magic Gem Production, MP Recovery (Extra Large), SP Recovery (Extra Large), EP Recovery (Extra Large), Cooking Skill Increase.....

[T/N: Fun fact~ Alchemic Correction can also be read as Ren-Money Correction ;)]

It's really magnificent. And regarding Item Creation, there's everything I need all together.

There's a bit of a fatal flaw in Defence, but it doesn't seem like I'll need anything else as long as I have this shield.

If I try to inspect everything, the sky will darken. [T/N: Will take too long cos there's so many abilities....so OP >_>"]

My head has cleared, just by changing into this shield.

Now then, let's double check the conclusion I've come to.

What I have concluded after having my intelligence increased by the shield's power.

That is, in order to survive, I first need to prepare the environment before the world is ruined by the waves.

Unlike the steady small-minded methods so far, there's a need to change the environment on a grand scale.

Therefore, I should eradicate the majority of the people living in this world for once.

Immediately agitate them: the masses that are easy to manipulate, the religion that manipulates those masses, and the royalty that controls the country.

The people of this world are rotting.

First I should select those who should survive, exterminate the others, settle my anxiety about the future, then challenge the waves and save the world.

Otherwise this world will eventually perish on its own, without the waves. I must guide them.

"Now then, I need to use this shield's maximum power to prepare the environment at once." (Naofumi)

I exit the room and head towards the village.

That's right. I have Bioplant Seeds in my pocket.

I deliberately take out a Bioplant Seed and call on the Plant Modification icon.

With a *beep*, the modification icon appeared, and I smiled.

What the hell is this, it's too cliché.

No matter how much, I understand it to be at the level of a toy made by a child.

An introductory use that only raise and lower the established stats, it's too ridiculous.

I activate the Gene Modification skill simultaneously.

When I do, minor static occurs to the Plant Modification screen, and a new entry....the Free Word entry appeared.

What should I make?

Hmm... first I need a castle, to be used as a base.

I enter the word 'castle'.

A list of the equipment and materials required for the modification appears.

....It seems I'll be able to cover it with a large quantity of things from Rato's laboratory.

Let's immediately confiscate the things in Rato's laboratory.

I headed towards the village at a quick pace.

"Ah, it's Master~ Welcome back." (Firo)

"Oh, if it isn't Firo. What's up?" (Naofumi)

Firo, who is one of the monsters that submissively obeys me, comes to greet me together with the slaves.

I have faith in these guys to some extent.

They're my retainers that would be fine to leave behind in the case of the world being transformed.

"You see~ we're hungry so we've been waiting for Master to return~" (Firo)

"Sorry, Firo. Now is not the time for it." (Naofumi)

"Aw...everyone has been looking forward to it." (Firo)

"Is that so." (Naofumi)

But time was limited.

I have to quickly head to the laboratory and supply equipment.

....That's right.

I call up the Gene Modification skill again to modify a Bioplant.

I enter 'Bread-producing Plant' in the Free Word entry.

Oh?

I have both the required materials and the skill on hand.

I held out a Bioplant Seed and activated the skill.

"Master?" (Firo)

"Shield-niichan?" (Kiel)

The slaves all tilted their heads and watched my experiment intently.

The Bioplant shone, scattering the wind together with the light, and changing into the shape I imagined.

A remarkable radiance flared up, the wind was dispelled, and my intended Bioplant was complete. [T/N: Dear author, you just repeated the same thing twice. I think this sentence was unnecessary.]

"Watch." (Naofumi)

I dropped the completed Bread-producing Bioplant into the ground.

The Bioplant made a conspicuous sound and grew rapidly, producing large pieces of bread.

""Oooh!"" (Slaves)

Firo and the slaves let out their voices en masse and became dumbfounded. I'm a little shocked that they're surprised about something on this level, but they seem to be delighted so I don't feel bad.

"Can we eat this?" (Firo)

"Of course." (Naofumi)

""Ya~y!"" (Slaves)

Firo and the slaves each picked up a piece of bread and started eating.

"Delicious~" (Kiel)

"It doesn't have as much flavour as Master's cooking but it's yummy~"
(Firo)

It seems everyone is satisfied.

Then let's head to the next destination.

"Nii-chan! Can't you make a Crepe Tree?" (Kiel)

Kiel asked, tugging on my shirt.

This guy used to be a fellow of humble birth who clashed with me at first, but has turned over a new leaf and now serves me.

She's a friend of Raphtalia's, and is now quite a reliable guy.

I need to hurry up and go procure the goods in Rato's laboratory now, but I guess I could make something on that level as a reward for her efforts so far.

"I'll do it later." (Naofumi)

"You definitely have to, okay." (Kiel)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

When I nodded, Kiel started eating together with Firo, indulging in her piece of bread.

I enter Rato's laboratory and touch the slate established as the laboratory's core.

Hmmm.... As far as it goes, the security is flawless, possibly because it was made together with me.

The experimental Bioplant's defence mechanism functioned with no accidents.

Well, it won't allow a stupid situation like getting hacked.

However....the security is childish. If I was serious, I could break through in less than 10 seconds.

Access to the Kernel Seed....it's formed quite a childish frame.

I ought to modify it more extensively, it's tough to handle it from the beginning.

I use the Gene Modification skill, make good use of the items in the laboratory and attempt to upgrade the Kernel Seed.

It'll be around 30 minutes to completion.

Then I need to bring a reliable accomplice during the time until it's completed.

"Oh? Marquis?" (Rato)

While I was tampering with the Kernel Seed, Rato innocently came inside the room.

"What's the matter? There aren't any experiments, and the equipment I requested hasn't arrived so there's nothing to do." (Rato)

Right now, it would be a bother if I carelessly tampered with this woman.

"Yeah, I'm swinging by to do a sudden checking." (Naofumi)

"....to do?" (Rato) [T/N: Questioning Naofumi's weird speech]

"to engage in."

"I see." (Rato)

Dangerous, dangerous. Rato looked at me with doubtful eyes.

If I say something carelessly, I'll waste time.

Let's broadcast it as accurately as possible.

"Marquis, the next machine we need is a Chemical Amplifier—" (Rato)

Fu... when I look at such a childish thing, I can't stop laughing.

I wonder how much time was spent on such a vulgar experiment.

"Marquis, what are you laughing about?" (Rato)

"No, I'm just thinking that you're talking so happily." (Naofumi)

"I guess. Given that I've finally gotten to research genuinely, I've got to show my enthusiasm." (Rato)

Outside the room, Rato's beloved Monster was swimming at the cultivation chamber and waved its hand this way.

Hmmm....

Suddenly our gazes meet.

"!" (Monster)

With a banging, the Monster hit the cultivation chamber and pointing at me, it alerted Rato.

"What's wrong?" (Rato)

Hn? Did it notice my Hacking?

Should I modify that monster's mouth shut?

And, while I was wondering, it lost interest and began swimming again.

"I wonder what that was about? Mii-kun." (Rato)

Rato's partner waves at me from within the cultivation chamber.

Well, it's fine. If it doesn't plan on doing anything unnecessary, I won't do anything to it.

I don't know if this woman agrees with my thinking but it's sufficient to deal with it after we finish upgrading the Kernel Seed.

"So, Marquis. Did you discover any problems?" (Rato)

"Research seems a little delayed. You should be quicker." (Naofumi)

"Obviously it wouldn't be good if I don't ensure its safety." (Rato)

"Limit the duration. You should bring forth definitive results while it's safe."
(Naofumi)

"Marquis, did something bad happen? You seem to be in a bad mood."
(Rato)

Rato looked at me suspiciously.

At this rate, it seems my expected results won't be produced by the fixed date.

I expected to treat her like an assistant but.... I wonder how it'll turn out.

"We've decided to prioritise its life, right? Doing something dangerous and killing it will only cause regret." (Rato)

"I see, you have a point." (Naofumi)

It's useless to continue talking any more.

Her type probably needs to be shown results.

She'll probably want to be my assistant after she sees the masterpiece made after modifying the Kernal Seed.

"Now then, I have somewhere I need to go after this." (Naofumi)

"Marquis? Well, it's not like this is the first time the Marquis' behaviour has been erratic...." (Rato)

I constructed strong security and left Rato's laboratory behind.

"Ah, Naofumi-sama, I heard about it. Apparently you made another strange thing with the Bioplants." (Raphtalia)

"Oh, well if it isn't Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

When I left the laboratory and headed into the village, the person I was looking for, Raphtalia, noticed me and started talking.

Until I found Raphtalia, I had been reinspectng the village.

Currently, there are no problems with the goods.

When I made an appearance at the Monster Hut, the monsters all swarmed around me.

They seemed to sense it instinctively. That they'll become stronger if they follow me.

I can't understand why we stopped raising the monsters halfway.

Well, it's not like there aren't any that we can count on somewhat for combat now that Gaelion has been aiding the Class Up, but the foundation is too low.

They're all monsters that have already hit their limit just in regards to Levels and, to a certain extent, growth correction.

"Just then, Kiel-kun and Firo were boasting that Naofumi made it in front of them." (Raphtalia)

"Hm, isn't that natural. That level of things is no trouble at all." (Naofumi)

"....? Th-that's amazing. So Naofumi-sama's shield was capable of that sort of thing." (Raphtalia)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

Since it was just about midday, everyone had gathered in the Dining Hall. They noticed us, and came to greet us.

"Now then, Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

I think it's better to be frank with Raphtalia before I announce my intentions.

"I've discovered the conclusion to certain thoughts and have decided to change my actions from now on." (Naofumi)

"...I? Um, what are you doing?" (Raphtalia) [T/N: She's talking about Naofumi's new way of addressing himself]

I thought Raphtalia would understand and that there would be no need to explain, but it seems to be necessary to tell her personally.

"You see, the royalty of this world, the nobles, merchants, all the masses, they were all rotten from the start. And it's evident that even if they endure the waves, they'll still perish in the end." (Naofumi)

"Well... I won't deny it." (Raphtalia)

"And so I've come to the conclusion that we must first to clean up the rotten trash, and then challenge the waves with only the chosen people."
(Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama?" (Raphtalia)

I held out my hand towards Raphtalia and declared.

"Raphtalia. The world is now controlled by my hands, and I shall share half of it with you. Now, won't you rule the world together with me!" (Naofumi)

[T/N: That proposal XD]

"....." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia drew the sword on her back and took a stance, facing me of all things.

"Who are you! You're not Naofumi-sama!" (Raphtalia)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 279 – Floating Sky Fortress

---

“Wha…”

What was that!?

Why is Raphtalia glaring at me with such hostility!?

“What art thou saying, Raphtalia!?” (Naofumi)

“Even though the Naofumi-sama I knew was a bit twisted, he would never do something like this!” (Raphtalia)

“I’m always evolving. Mine values hath merely shifted!” (Naofumi)

“Even so, there’s a limit to that. Who are you?” (Raphtalia)

Ku… Why doth she be opposing me?

“Ah, Naofumi-sama. Did something happen?” (Atlas)

Atlas appears with Fohl.

“Atlas-chan, Naofumi-sama’s acting strange. Can you sense anything? No, he may even be a fake.” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia holds back her anger as she asks Atlas.

What be there to doubt? What’s strange about me?

The strange one is Raphtalia be it not?

Thy Raphtalia would never deny me.

She should accept my new thoughts.

“Let’s see…” (Atlas)

Atlas stareth fixedly at my face. Though she canst see.

“Dost thou continue to doubt me!?” (Naofumi)

“No matter how I look at it, it’s strange, Atlas!! There’s something wrong with him!”

“Ah, don’t worry. He’s no fake.” (Atlas)

“Is that true? Then what happened to him!?” (Raphtalia)

Perhaps she activated some Hengen Musou Skill. Raphtalia stares at me.

“He seems to be… wearing a strange aura. Is that shield the source of it?”
(Raphtalia)

“Raphtalia-san.” (Atlas)

“What is it?” (Raphtalia)

“There are no problems. There is nothing wrong with Naofumi-sama.”
(Atlas)

“Even with the way he’s speaking!?” (Raphtalia)

“Yes. I will continue to yearn for Naofumi-sama no matter what he becomes.” (Atlas)

“Doesn’t that mean you admit that something’s happened to him!?”
(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia and Atlas are more heated than usual.

Hearing the commotion, Ren, Motoyasu, Itsuki, Rishia and the other slaves exit the dining hall and come here.

“What? What’s up?” (Ren)

“Is it a fight? How rare.” (Itsuki)

"Father-in-Law, I'd like to speak with you about my Firo-tan's health."
(Motoyasu)

Ren and the others do come over.

"Oh my, is it not the pieces of garbage who self-destructed with their own useless knowledge. Wilst thy not stay back!?" (Naofumi)
"!?"

Ren's eyes lose color, and he looks towards Raphtalia.
She's not someone trash like you should be laying eyes on!

"Fuee... Did something happen!?" (Rishia)
"Then should I stay back? I feel that something's off." (Itsuki)
"Don't run away!" (Rishia)

I tire of these fools' questions.
More importantly, Raphtalia.
Why doth Raphtalia deny me!?

"Father-in-Law, what happened?" (Motoyasu)
"Motoyasu, you shut up." (Naofumi)
"Atlas-chan, can you still say the same things after seeing that?"
(Raphtalia)

Upon Raphtalia's enquiry, Atlas nods twice and speaks.

"Yeah, I'll declare it as many times as I must. There's nothing wrong with Naofumi-sama. Do you see anything strange about him?" (Atlas)
"Of course! A lot! What was with his line back there!? He declared something about world domination, you know!” (Raphtalia)

“Then let us set out to dominate the world. If Naofumi-sama wishes for it, it must be necessary.” (Atlas)

Atlas acknowledges me in my entirety.

Raphtalia never blindly accepted my like this, but at the very least, she understood me.

So why is the Raphtalia before my eyes failing to understand? What doesn't she see?

... That's it!

“You over there! Are you not an imposter!?” (Naofumi)

“What are you saying all of a sudden!?” (Raphtalia)

“It's true, isn't it? The Raphtalia I know would never display animosity towards me!” (Naofumi)

“Naofumi-sama, let's have a long talk after you return to normal. Now stay still for a second.” (Raphtalia)

Pointing her blade at me, Raphtalia lowers her stance, and prepares her Chi to use a Hengen Musou skill.

As I thought.

Raphtalia would never point her sword at me.

This must be an assassin sent by Trash. This must be his plan.

“I won't let you.” (Atlas)

“Atlas-chan, please step aside.” (Raphtalia)

Atlas throws Fohl to the floor, and steps forward.

The fake and Atlas began exchanging dialogue.

At that time, Firo appeared, and spoke with a curious look on her face.

"Onee-chan, what's wrong?" (Firo)

"Firo, there's nothing wrong with me. Naofumi-sama's acting strange, so please help me capture him." (Raphtalia)

"Eh... Master seems to be having more fun than usual." (Firo)

"There's nothing fun about it! Please help me! Quickly!" (Raphtalia)

"Firo." (Naofumi)

I call out to Firo, and she stuffs her face with some Bread Fruit, and turns to me.

The chance of this Firo being a fake is low.

I mean, the fact that she's still eating the Bread Fruit I made points to her validity.

"What~?" (Firo)

"Buy me some time by fighting that fake. I don't want to be anywhere near a faker like that." (Naofumi)

I haven't finished preparations for battle.

If I stay here, I don't know what sort of thing will happen to me.

Luckily, I had just completed the modifications for the Kernal Seed at the lab.

By now, it should be answering to my beck and call.

"Got it." (Firo)

"Firo, please move." (Raphtalia)

"No." (Firo)

"I will assist you, Firo-chan." (Atlas)

"Yay." (Firo)

Firo and Atlas step onto the front lines to defend me.

Next to the Fake, Ren, Itsuki and Rishia prepare for battle.

"I don't know what's happening, but Naofumi's been devoured by some curse, right?" (ren)

"... If Atlas-chan, who's infinitely more perceptive than us, says that's the real Naofumi-sama, then I'm certain that's the case." (Raphtalia)

"But for Naofumi to become like this at this point in time... What should we do?" (Ren)

"For now, let's stop him. We need to have him overcome his curse."
(Raphalia)

"That's how it is. Naofumi, I'm greatly in debt to you. That's why I'll lend my power to Raphtalia to return you to your senses." (Ren)

"Ren... Not once, but twice!? You damn traitor!" (Naofumi)

I saved him, and gave him an opportunity to rehabilitate himself, yet he sides with that imposter!?

Just how ungrateful are these bastards.

"Marquis! What's happening!?" (Rat)

It seems Rat heard the commotion and came over.

That means the research lab is currently empty.

How careless of her.

"Ah, if it isn't Rat." (Naofumi)

"I didn't ask you about me. I'm asking you what the hell is going on!" (Rat)

"That imposter over there is pointing her blade at me." (Naofumi)

"Imposter... No matter how I look at it, the Marquis is the strange one here."
(Rat)

"Hmm... So you'll be siding with them? In the end you're just an incompetent Alchemist, are you?" (Naofumi)

"What is the meaning of this. Why are you directing those words at me?"
(Rat)

"This is the meaning of it." (Naofumi)

"Wha-" (Rat)

I hit an icon on the shield, and remotely control the modified Bioplants in the Lab.

A cracking sound rings out. Using the power of the land... The dragon pulse's energy as food, the research laboratory begins moving. It lifts off the ground, and starts floating above me.

Since its size didn't change, it's about the size of a gymnasium.

A ladder descends from above.

I grasp it, and order it to lift.

"What the hell is that!?" (Rat)

"It's my newest Bioplant Modification. The Sky Fortress, the Castle Plant!"
(Naofumi)

"Oy, oy... Naofumi, are you really doing this!?" (Ren)

"It's a flying fortress?" (Itsuki)

"Fuee! What's that!?" (Rishia)

"Slaves and monsters of the village! From here on out, I will be venturing forward to create a new world. Those who wish to follow my dream, come aboard! I'll leave the choice to you. If you choose to become my ally, I'll be benevolent. If you wish to be my enemy, I'll have no mercy!" (Naofumi)

The slaves each turn to one another, and start speaking. The air is filled with noise.

What is there to hesitate about?

We'll be wiping out the fakes, and the traitors that follow them. We'll be reconstructing the world.

"Everyone, due to some strange influence, Naofumi-sama's gone strange. Don't be coerced by his sweet words." (Raphtalia)

The fake shamelessly puts on a Raphtalia-esque act to incite the slaves. It's useless.

Look at reality.

"Niichan! I'll follow you!" (Kiel)

"Uwah! Kiel, stop!" (Imya)

"Kiel-kun!" (Raphtalia)

Kiel changes to her puppy form, knocks down Ren, and grabs the ladder. Getting an attack from Kiel, who he thought was an ally, seems to have greatly confused Ren.

"Firo-tan's enemy is our enemy as well." (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu siding with our camp, it seems.

He may have some problems with his mind, but his skill is certain.

I'll use whoever I can.

"A-atlas! Uwah! Sto! Uwaaaahhh!" (Fohl)

Fohl starts running. He reaches out his hand.

Well, as long as Atlas is on this side, he'll listen to my orders.

I'll bring him along.

Motoyasu holds off Itsuki and Rishia. The fake party can't launch any large attacks.

While he held them off, the monsters were raising their voices in approval, so I ordered the Bioplant to retrieve them.

... Gaelion came flying over. Taniko's on his back.

"KYUA!?" (Gaelion)

"What's happening this time?" (Taniko)

"Naofumi-sama's become strange due to a curse." (Raphtalia)

"Again?" (Taniko)

"KYUAAAAAAAA!" (Gaelion)

Gaelion changes to his small form, and flies towards me.

Good. I'll grant you the modifications you always wished for.

Is what I thought, but.

"No." (Taniko)

Taniko grasps his tail to stop him.

"What do you plan on doing by following that Hero of the Shield?" (Taniko)

"He wants to become strong. Nature has its limits. He won't become strong as he is right now. As he wishes, I'll make him the strongest, so don't get in his way!" (Naofumi)

"Not happening! No good will come out of sending him to you as you are now." (Taniko)

"Hmph. I thought I would use you as a replacement for Rat. How foolish."
(Naofumi)

Now then. The slaves have each decided who they will follow.

"Henceforth, we will be moving to a location suitable for world domination. Farewell, imposter. How dare you imitate my Raphtalia. Eventually the real one will appear, and you'll have your comeuppance. You better be prepared for it." (Naofumi)

"Like I'd let that happen!" (Raphtalia)

The fake brandishes her sword, and jumps towards me.
Well well well. At least this fake's resistance is first class.

"I won't permit it!" (Atlas)

"Onee-chan, don't get in the way!" (Firo)

Atlas and Firo work together to block her sword. Firo kicks her away.

"Kya!"

It happened in midair. I immediately use vines from the Castle Plant to wrap around Atlas and Firo to recover them.

This much distance is enough.

I'll need to prepare magic and skills to intercept them.

"Farewell!" (Naofumi)

I order the Castle Plant, and it releases a smokescreen for escape, and a simple magic jamming to prevent counterattacks. I worry about the fuel consumption as I cast a barrier as well, just in case.

At the same time the smokescreen is released, the castle starts moving to escape.

“Ah, wait! Ku… smoke!” (Raphtalia)

“If I shoot it down, the Floating Fortress will fall to the ground, and the people onboard will take heavy damage. Do you want me to shoot it down?”
(Itsuki)

“You can’t, Itsuki-sama! If you do something like that…” (Rishia)

“Understood.” (Itsuki)

Fufufu The fake, and her useless Heroes watch us leave with dark expressions.

The faker extends her hand towards me.

“Naofumi-sama——!” (Raphtalia)

I have nothing to offer to a fake.

If I have time to look at that piece of garbage, I’d spend it looking for the real one.

Following my orders, the Castle Plant sets out over the ocean. No one can follow us anymore.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 280 – Human Experimentation

---

“Ara-?” (Sadina)

The place I specified the fortress to move to was Sadina’s Secret Base.
Below, I see Sadina waving her hand at me.

“Hmm? Master, we’re getting off already?” (Firo)

“Yeah, the fuel efficiency of Flying Castle Mode is really bad, so we can’t fly for long periods of time.” (Naofumi)

I change it back to Laboratory mode. The Castle Plant extends its roots deep underground and begins recharging.

I still have much that I have to do.

I’ll need to gather as much energy as I can.

“What’s up, Naofumi-chan? You made quite a grand entrance.” (Sadina)

“Fumu, I believe that you were Raphtalia’s guardian, right?” (Naofumi)

“No, right now that’s Naofumi-chan.” (Sadina)

“She was a fake. She trampled upon my ideals.” (Naofumi)

I explain the events that had just transpired to Sadina.

And Sadina blinks rapidly in surprise.

“... Ara... That’s what...” (Sadina)

She nods with an indifferent expression.

“What sort of guardian are you? You can’t even tell the difference between the real thing and a fake.” (Naofumi)

“To have fooled Onee-san, that must have been quite a fake…” (Sadina)

“Yeah!” (Naofumi)

What a useless protector!

How stupid is she, for her not to notice she was guarding the wrong person.

“Master, what will you do from now on?” (Firo)

“You’re going to set out for world domination, right? What country are we bringing down first?” (Atlas)

“Not yet!” (Naofumi)

Like I can invade when I don’t have a good grasp on my own forces yet.

What’s more, if Raphtalia isn’t here, there’s no point in me ruling this world in the first place.

That means there’s one thing I must do.

Within the Castle Plant, I must carry out greater modifications.

I order it to search for enemies.

I raise the output to the max.

I don’t need to consider the consequences. Just once is enough.

The Castle Plant’s internal lights flicker as the output raises higher and higher.

“Wha!?”

“W-what is this?”

Starting with the people in the Castle Plant, then the people of the world.

Every lifeform on the planet felt, for a single moment, the feeling of some magic passing through their body. The entire world turned its head at the strange phenomena.

But at most, the people would think of it as part of their imagination, or some minor earthquake.

From the power released by the plant, I could sense the location of each and every one of my slaves.

“Good!” (Naofumi)

The person I want to find. There is only one of them in the world.

Where is Raphtalia?

Of course, I don’t mean that fake. Where’s the real Raphtalia?

For that reason, I use the hair from her that I had fed into the Shield to designate her as a search target.

The stone slate in front of me displays the words, ‘Searching in progress.’

The system computes the large amount of data at a high speed.

… Search completed. Results…

“What?” (Naofumi)

I can’t do anything. I’m at a loss for words.

1 Match.

When I excitedly brought up the location, I saw that it was just the fake.

This can’t be… Does that mean the real one is already gone from this world…

Absurd! My Raphtalia would never be killed off so easily.

But, I have to look at the truth before me.

There’s no way the system I made would lie to me.

“U…uu…” (Naofumi)

Extreme despair clouds my heart. It feels like I’m being strangled.

“Master, you’re crying. Are you alright?” (Firo)

“Niichan, did something sad happen?” (Kiel)

“Naofumi-sama…? Please stop crying. If there’s something I can do to stop your tears, please tell me. I’ll do anything.” (Atlas)

“Atlas! Don’t say things like that. And this guy! He’s really crying! They’re real tears.” (Fohl)

How calm these people are.

Even when Raphtalia is no longer in this world!

If this is the truth, then for what purpose am I living in this world…!?

Anyways, when was Raphtalia killed?

I can’t remember anything of the sort.

Was it when she was out training? Or after she returned?

The fake did a good job of playing the part. She must have thoroughly investigated Raphtalia.

That means the quickest way to find out would be to capture her and torture the information out of her.

… No, if Raphtalia’s not here, there’s no point in the first place.

Right.

If Raphtalia is gone, then I just have to revive her.

But since I have no idea where or how she died, I have no way of finding her remains.

What do I do?

“Naofumi-chan, what happened? You were just crying, then you made a serious expression, and from then on, various emotions have been rolling around your face.” (Sadina)

“... If I recreate her through a Homunculus... No, that would just be making a fake like that other one.” (Naofumi)

Yeah, that fake is definitely a Homunculus in Raphtalia’s form.

From the information this Shield imparted unto me, I know the workings of Homunculi.

A Homunculus is able to perfectly mimic a person, but for them to have prolonged life, they must go through constant maintenance. Even with that, it’s difficult for them to live very long.

I can’t call something like that living.

I’ll need to bring Raphtalia back in a different way.

I realize that that statement seems very vague, but for the current me, nothing is impossible.

Okay. Let’s make reviving Raphtalia the first step to my World Domination.

I also have to strengthen these people who have chosen to be my subordinates.

As I was thinking that, the Castle Plant, which had just recovered from the overheat caused by my orders, began giving off an alarm.

I immediately put my hand on the stone panel used for management.

An image from far away is displayed on the screen.

“Wah, Amazing!” (Firo)

“What is happening now, Naofumi-sama?” (Atlas)

It's because Atlas cannot see.

She can't see the image displayed.

"Fumu, that fake has taken the Heroes, and they're on their way here aboard Gaelion." (Naofumi)

At this rate, they'll arrive here in no time.

My Castle is still under construction.

As it is now, they should be able to drop it out of the sky easily.

"What should we do?" (Atlas)

"No problem. I expected this, so I already prepared countermeasures."
(Naofumi)

I input commands into the stone.

The Fake is flying straight at us aboard Gaelion.

Sound also gets through, so I can hear their conversation.

"What is that building!?"

"A structure with a shape like a skull is covering the island..."

"KYUA!"

"For the love of... Let's just capture Naofumi-sama quickly and return him to his senses."

"Yeah..."

Like that's happening.

At that moment, my commands activate, and the seeds I spread on the way here sprouted.

They rapidly burst out of the ocean. The relative of the Castle Plant, the Tower Plant.

“W-what are these!?”

Gaelion concentrates as he avoids the rising towers.

It’s like a scene from an Action Movie.

But it’s not like the towers are enough to drive them away. Gaelion and the Fake aren’t that soft.

Gaelion continues flying.

There’s no way that’s all I’ve got.

The top floor of the newly grown towers begins shining, and together with the Research Lab, they erect a barrier.

Of course, the center is the lab.

With the lab at the center, a powerful barrier is formed in the shape of a dome while the towers act as protective walls around the base.

“W-what!?” (Raphtalia)

Gaelion has no time to dodge. He rams right into the barrier and is stunned for a moment. The next instant, the barrier repels him, and he’s sent flying while doing revolutions in the air.

“KYAAAAAAAAA-…” (Raphtalia)

“UWAAAAAAH-…” (Ren)

The fake and her Fake Heroes let out idiotic sounds as they’re sent flying away. The scene is quite humorous to my eyes.

"Now then, with this, those fakes won't be able to approach for a while. Shall we not make preparations while they're away?" (Naofumi)

"What could this be?" (Sadina)

Sadina asks while watching the screen.

Fumu, I guess I'll have to offer an explanation.

"Ah, this is a long-term barrier connected to my shield. Its origin is based on my Shield Prison and Meteor Shield." (Naofumi)

Relying on my own power, this much is nothing.

"... How convenient. Does it have any weaknesses?" (Sadina)

"Let's see. I guess if you destroy all of the Eight Towers I erected, it will lose its effects. Setting it up is difficult, so if it's broken once, I'll need to halt all activity in the towers to restore it. Well, you'll have to destroy the towers starting with the first one going up to the last one, so it's at least good for stalling for time." (Naofumi)

"Niichan, that means you want us to defend the towers, right?" (Kiel)

"Yeah, protecting them is one of your guys' duties. But those incompetent fakes will never figure it out. Because I made each and every tower have the same outward appearance. They'll never be able to figure out which one the first one is in time." (Naofumi)

"... Naofumi-chan, won't you teach us the order? I mean, we'll have to be defending them, anyways." (Sadina)

"This is number one, this one number two..." (Naofumi)

I carefully point out the tower's numbers.

The enemy probably won't figure it out, but if they do, we'll need to defend them in that order.

"Ren-chan and Itsuki-chan are there too, right? Will they not be able to break the barrier?" (Sadina)

"I guarantee the barrier's strength. What's more, if it does break, as long as the towers are there, I can deploy it again instantly. They'll never be able to break through with only those Heroes' powers." (Naofumi)

"Then we can't get out either? That's a little troubling." (Sadina)

"No problem. It uses the same concept as my Meteor Shield. Those I give permission to can leave and enter freely. Defend the seas however you wish." (Naofumi)

At the moment, it's troubling to keep up. But there's no way they'll pierce my absolute defenses.

We're not even the ones on the defensive here. We're the attackers. Trampling down the enemies before us will be my first step to World Domination.

But there's something I need to do first.

"Wow, Amazing." (Sadina)

"As expected of Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"Master is ama~zing." (Firo)

"Father-in-Law! Good Job." (Motoyasu)

"I-is this amazing? I don't really get what's... Atlas, do you really plan on following that man? I can only see him as a complete villain at the moment." (Fohl)

Everyone sings praise of me.

Of course I'm amazing. But having them say it makes me happy.

"Hahaha, praise me more!" (Naofumi)

"Isn't something wrong here?"

"Right, that bitch's owner definitely has a screw loose."

"Yeah, but that doesn't change what we'll be doing."

"And wait, I think this is the first time I'm seeing him smile..."

"He always has a bored expression on his face."

"No matter how I look at it, he's getting too full of himself."

Motoyasu's three talk amongst themselves.

Like I care.

"Niichan, Niichan! What will you do now?" (Kiel)

"First, I'll confirm our forces! Everyone, assemble!" (Naofumi)

"OKAY!" (Everyone)

The slaves and monsters gather by my order.

Fumu... It's about half of my village.

Ah, right. Should I use the slave seal to finish off that girl who thought she could take over Raphtalia's place?

I opened up her screen, but perhaps an error has occurred. It's too staticy, and I can't give the order.

I can't use the slave seal. How troublesome.

There's no choice. I'll leave that fake's disposal for later... wait.

I noticed something.

"Firo, you don't have many followers." (Naofumi)

Only about one-fifth of the Filo Rials followed.

This is way too few.

“Motoyasu, you too.” (Naofumi)

“Not everyone was there to follow us! There was too little time, so I’ll have to get them later.” (Motoyasu)

“I’ll leave it to you. Even so, with both Firo and Motoyasu here, why are there so few?” (Naofumi)

“Well, you see, Piyo-chan got in Firo’s way and didn’t follow master.” (Firo)

“Piyo-chan?” (Naofumi)

“Firo’s first follower.” (Firo)

Ah, follower number one. He had a name like that?

That goddamn traitor!

Even though he’s a faker himself, he chose to follow that fake. How foolish.
(TL: Naofumi calls Piyo a Burikko. Go to Oniichanyamete to learn more about the term)

I’ll have to deal with him personally.

“Also, there’s also some needing medical care inside of the lab.” (Firo)

“I see… then I’ll have to ask that one’s will first. Everyone else, get to work.”
(Naofumi)

“Got it.”

“What will we work on, Niichan? Peddling?” (Kiel)

“Wrong. In other rooms, you’ll find glowing stones. Just rest near them. They’ll automatically recover your magic.” (Naofumi)

“Got it, Nii-chan!” (Kiel)

Kiel leaves, and the other Monsters and Slaves follow.

The people left are Atlas, Fohl, Firo, and Sadina.

We head to the medical division of the lab.

(TL: I think these are the people Naofumi got from the Brainwashing incident.)

“Uu…”

“Don’t come closer… go away…”

There are Demi-Human children undergoing treatment there.

Rat and the medical personnel should have been looking after their injuries, but… It doesn’t look like they’re doing well.

There are slaves curled up in the corners, and one slave is shaking with a vacant expression.

Quite a few of them seem on the verge of collapse.

I know, because I’ve visited this room quite often.

Yggdrasil Medicine is all-purpose, but I’ve restricted the use as to prevent addiction.

The overuse of Yggdrasil will affect their lives, so I’ve limited it.

But still, we’ve given them a bit, so they’re at least alive.

We’ll need to treat them a little at a time. Their mental health also needs to be cared for.

Luckily, they’ve begun trusting me and Rat.

“Firo doesn’t like this place… She really doesn’t…” (Firo)

Firo mutters to herself.

Yes, if you have a healthy mind, you wouldn't want to spend a long time here.

"Every time, I feel a sad Chi from here. As if it would go out at any second."

(Atlas)

"..." (Fohl)

Fohl looks at the slaves in the room. He has a sad expression on his face, but he says nothing.

It's because the Atlas of the past was in a similar state.

"Now then, all of you." (Naofumi)

I raise my voice to the slaves undergoing treatment.

"KYAAAAAAAAAAA!"

One of them shouts out in response to my voice. It happens every time I come here. I'm used to it.

Eventually, the slave's voice dies down.

Various drugs have warped half of the slave's body, and its eyes have grown abnormally large. Perhaps I should say it became like a monster.

It's gradually recovering, but it's overly wishful thinking to believe that my Shield's power will grant a full recovery.

"Have you calmed down? Now then, do you want to follow me? Or do you want to rot here?" (Naofumi)

"..."

There's no response. The slave stares blankly at the ceiling with eyes filled with madness.

Fumu... This is troublesome.

I activate my Human Experimentation and Gene Manipulation powers, and use it on the slave before me.

My goal is to treat the warping to the best of my ability.

From my Shield, a light blue pattern of formulas and letters fly out. They wrap around the slave.

"!?"

Without any ways of escape, the slave shakes violently. It tries to let out a scream, but no sound escapes its lips.

The other slaves retreat further into their corners as they look upon the scene.

Perhaps they believe that this is the time when they will be disposed of. Eventually, the patterns shine brighter, and... The treatment finishes.

"Ah..."

The slave who had undergone treatment blinks as it stares at me.

"How do you feel?" (Naofumi)

"It doesn't hurt. I'm not in pain... My consciousness doesn't feel faint anymore."

"I see." (Naofumi)

"I think you were... The person who occasionally came by to give us medicine. Did you save me as well?"

"Yeah, now you're definitely back to normal. If you want, try running around outside. Firo, play with him a bit.” (Naofumi)

“Yeah!” (Firo)

“Thank You!”

The slave lowers his head to me.

And accompanied by Firo, he goes outside and returns a little later.

“It’s true. Again, thank you very much.”

“Now then, let me ask you once more.” (Naofumi)

“What is it?”

“Will you be my ally, and lend me power so that I can build my new world? Or will you foolishly oppose me, and join those idiots outside?” (Naofumi)

“... What will you do if I become your enemy?”

“I’ll drive you out. You’ll become part of this wide world. But this applies to everyone out there: If you attack me, your life will be a short one. Outside, you can go wherever you want. I’ll even dispel your slave crest.” (Naofumi)

The slave ruminates over my words again and again...

“Yes. You are the one who saved my life, so I wish to repay the favor as best as I can. What sort of person are you?”

“Who am I, you ask? I am-” (Naofumi)

“Naofumi-chan is the Hero of the Shield. The god of all Demi-Humans.”
(Sadina)

“Eh!?”

Sadina cuts off my self-introduction. The slaves undergoing treatment are all surprised.

"I've heard out your will. Now then, on to the next patient. I'd like to get you guys out of this facility and put you to work already." (Naofumi)

"U-understood."

Like this, I treat all of the slaves in the facility and gain new subordinates. The problem is that all of them are of low level.

I'll overcome that with the power of the Shield some way or another.

But there's a sequence to things like this.

If I have the time to grant them power, then there are plenty of things I have to do.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 281 – Life Ethics

---

Now then, on to the next task.

At the moment, the Slaves and Monsters are charging their magic through the Castle Plant.

I'll use that magic to create a magic amplification device to create even greater magic, and use it to expand my base.

"Good. Until the expansion is finished, I can devote myself to my own goals."
(Naofumi)

I step foot into the center of the Lab, the area Rat used for her own research.

"You all should get to work as well. If you need food, then go to the residential area. I have some prepared." (Naofumi)

"I want to stay near Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"Firo will... Go for a walk." (Firo)

"Atlas, let's get out of here already." (Fohl)

"No way, Onii-sama." (Atlas)

"I'll go patrol the outside." (Sadina)

Atlas will stay beside me, and Fohl will follow her.

Firo will inspect the laboratory's interior, and Sadina will patrol.

"Then get to it." (Naofumi)

On my orders, Sadina and Firo depart.

"Naofumi-sama, what will you be doing next?" (Atlas)

"Isn't it obvious? My goal is to revive Raphtalia!" (Naofumi)

I concentrate my Shield's power on a stone tablet, and the Castle Plant draws in more and more of the land's power... Using Raphtalia's DNA from the hair in my Shield, I began researching ways to recreate her body.

The probability this hair is from the fake is exceedingly low.

It's something I got when Raphtalia was still but a child.

If only I can recover her soul, it should work out.

It's not like I'm omnipotent. Even if I have been granted a complete understanding of Alchemy, there is no precedent to reviving the dead.

But reviving my lost Raphtalia is something I'm willing to risk my life for.

For that sake, I begin my experiments.

I won't make something half-assed like a homunculus.

This is a ritual to perfectly resurrect my ideal Raphtalia.

Inside of the large culture tube in front of me, magic-made electricity races back and forth. The power of the land gathers. My dreams gather.

And in order to make it go off without a hitch, I take care of all bugs and problems personally.

"From here on, I will be conducting research. Just watching will be boring, you know." (Naofumi)

"It's fine, Naofumi-sama. Just being near you is enough for me." (Atlas)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"Atlas! What are you saying!?" (Fohl)

"Onii-sama, if you have free time right now, won't you offer assistance to the people who Naofumi-sama just granted power to?" (Atlas)

"Uu..." (Fohl)

Atlas and Fohl whisper together, and after a while, Fohl heads off to the slaves I had just treated.

"Now it's finally quiet. Please research to your heart's content." (Atlas)

"Thanks." (Naofumi)

I immersed myself in the research.

Perhaps 6 hours have already passed.

I finally finished the first stage of my experimentation.

When I turned around, Atlas waved her hand at me.

She was watching me the whole time, was she? She has too much free time.

"Naofumi-chan. How are things going on your side?" (Sadina)

"Master~ The food is really good." (Firo)

"Yeah, though the taste has dropped a bit from when Niichan makes it personally." (Kiel)

Sadina, Firo and Kiel drop by together.

I installed an auto cooking function into the residential area's dining hall.

With the push of a button, it can instantly make pre-set dishes.

At the moment, the menu is a bit lacking, but at least it's edible.

"Oh, you came at a good time." (Naofumi)

"Niichan, what are you doing? Everyone's already well rested." (Kiel)

"I see. Just watch for a second." (Naofumi)

I flip a switch, and the culmination of my research materializes before us. Electricity fills the tube, and smoke rises. The Experiment finishes. Firo tilts her head as she focuses her eyes on the dish. Eventually the smoke wrapping around it clears, and the bubbles that formed in the liquid within subside. The form of a new Raphtalia shows itself.

“What is this?” (Firo)

I look upon my own results.

“Fumu… I guess this is the best I can do for a prototype.” (Naofumi)

Inside the tube floats something like a… Raccoon? A Tanuki? A Red panda…? A life form that I can only see as a mix of the three is suspended in the glass.

(TL: Raccoon, Tanuki and Red Panda, images inserted by Translator.)

With that form, I guess letting it out won't cause any problems.

Using the dragon pulse, I can rapidly elevate its level. This skill sucks up the experience lying dormant in the earth, and allows me to grant it unto people. It's a higher form of an ability wild monsters naturally possess. At the moment, the maximum I can grant is up to level 30.

I drain the liquid out of the tube, and take out the new life form I had created.

The new life shakes off the excess liquid on its fur, and looks over at me.

"Rafu~."

It slightly raises its front leg to greet me.

"Um... What's this supposed to be, Niichan?" (Kiel)

"Is it a monster? Its Chi is somewhat reminiscent of Raphtalia-san.

Somewhat." (Atlas)

"Fumu, It's a life-form born of my research to revive Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

"Amazing, Niichan. You created a new type of monster!" (Kiel)

"Ara, Naofumi-chan is incredible." (Sadina)

Firo approaches Raphtalia Prototype 1, and starts sniffing it.

Don't eat it.

If you eat it, I'll modify your form to be the same as it.

"Yeah, it's smell is like Onee-chan. Its looks are completely different, but its tail and the feeling that I get are similar." (Firo)

"Rafu~"

"Well, my research isn't over yet. Let's call this one the first generation of the newly formed Raph race." (Naofumi)

"Yay. Pleasure working with you, small Onee-chan!" (Firo)

"Rafu~!"

"It should have some ability for battle as well. I'll be continuing this until I can make the Real Raphtalia's body. The number of Raphs will be multiplying until then." (Naofumi)

Just in case, I've given it the ability to fight. I tampered with quite a bit.

Gene modification sure comes in handy here.

Honestly, to take over the world, I'm greatly lacking in manpower, so mass production is a possibility.

They're based on a person I trust. The Raph Race may prove to be a great asset.

"Next, I'll make a system to mass produce Raphs..." (Naofumi)

As I was preparing to give a fervent speech, the alarm went off.

"W-what?" (Naofumi)

I put my hand on a tablet to see what set it off.

What's displayed is the figure of that fake, Ren and Itsuki infiltrating the first Tower Plant.

"What!?" (Naofumi)

They got the first one on the first try?

No, this isn't the time to be wondering about that.

That tower's defense mechanisms won't be able to hold off against that fake, and those Heroes.

"Ku..."

Even if I send Motoyasu and His Filo Rials, it will be too late to stop the First Tower's destruction.

With their game knowledge, I can't deny the possibility Ren and Itsuki figured out the towers.

I focus the display on the tower's inside.

The fakes easily get through the tower and break the controlling device at the summit.

“Good! Let’s move on to the next one!”

Fu… How foolish. Don’t think the next one will be so easy.

I’ve prepared some things just in case something like this happened.

As soon as the device stopped functioning on the first one, the energy allotted to it flew towards the second tower. The power output on the second one greatly rose.

The Fake and her heroes gaze absentmindedly at the second tower.

And they head towards it upon Gaelion. But without accomplishing anything, they quickly return.

“It seems my Emergency Line is functioning correctly.” (Naofumi)

“emergency Line? Did you do something, Naofumi-chan?” (Sadina)

“Yeah, when one tower gets destroyed, it will send all of its stored energy to the next one, and strengthen it. The next tower gets a large boost.”

(Naofumi)

“Boost?” (Sadina)

“Yeah, for about 20 hours, that energy will impede anyone trying to proceed to the next one.” (Naofumi)

The barrier was made for the purpose of buying time.

In that time, I’ll be able to prepare myself.

But I never thought I would actually be using these emergency measures.

“I was going to rest for a bit, but it appears that that’s no happening. I won’t let those Fakers destroy the second tower. Motoyasu, use your portal to jump, and bestow retribution onto those that oppose me. Take this with you.” (Naofumi)

It's a memory crystal that I made with Magic Gem Production.

I also gave him a video one with my proclamation of war recorded on it.

With this, I am officially waging war on those mongrels.

"Understood, Father-in-Law!" (Motoyasu)

"Should we accompany him?"

"No, you guys should help supply energy to the second tower. Otherwise we'll run out." (Naofumi)

If the slaves leave the flow of magic, then managing the defenses and the system will be difficult.

The best option is to send Motoyasu to cut down their forces.

"Sadina, you go too. Motoyasu can't hear the words of women, so use Midori as a translator." (Naofumi)

"Got it." (Sadina)

"Next is... right. Why don't I present my new Raph race to them?"
(Naofumi)

While waving her hand, Sadina flies off with Motoyasu through his portal.
Good, now I'll be able to offer their sought-after retribution.

The sound from the display picked up.

"For there to be that sort of gimmick... Naofumi-sama sure likes being troublesome." (Raphtalia)

"How do we dispel that barrier? We'll need to destroy all of the towers to proceed, right?" (Ren)

"I don't know. But..." (Itsuki)

The fakes return to the village by portal to face Motoyasu, who returned in much the same way.

“Motoyasu just naturally returned through his portal. Aren’t we supposed to be seiging them right now?” (Itsuki)

Hahaha. Fools.

If you have no reinforcements, why would you initiate a siege?

Our forces have the option of going on the offensive at any time.

Eventually, Motoyasu begins carrying out my orders. He opens his mouth.

“By Father-in-Law’s orders, I have come for battle! Now fall before me for the sake of my promotion! ” (Motoyasu)

“Quit messing around, Motoyasu! You’re choosing the wrong people to side with!” (Ren)

“I’m not wrong. My enemies are Firo-tan’s, and Father-in-Law’s enemies.”
(Motoyasu)

Taking a stance with his spear, Motoyasu begins running towards the fakes.

“Ku! Like I’d let you!”

Ren steps in front of Motoyasu, and his sword collides with the spear.

“Motoyasu, snap out of it. There’s no way Naofumi would think of things like that. We should be resolving this incident as quickly as possible.” (Ren)

“No, Father-in-Law’s words are absolute. Meteor Spear!” (Motoyasu)

Ren parries the spear that came flying at him.

The blast makes a large crater as it comes into contact with the ground.

“Move aside!”

Raphtalia rushes in front, and consecutively slashes at Motoyasu.

“Gufu…”

It’s most likely a Hengen Musou skill that ignores defense.

Since Motoyasu can’t handle Chi as well as me, he begins taking damage.

“What are you doing to my Mokun!?”

The damage itself isn’t particularly high, but Kuu, Marin and Midori step up to protect Motoyasu.

“Motoyasu-chan ran forward too fast. You need to cooperate better, or you won’t even win battles where you have the upper hand.” (Sadina)

Sadina follows up close behind, and holds up her harpoon.

And from behind her, the new Raph Race specimen flies forward.

“Rafu~”

“W-what is… that?”

The fake, and the heroes. Everyone left in the village points their fingers. Hahaha. Tremble before my technology.

“It’s something Father-in-Law created… A new breed of monster!”
(Motoyasu)

“Rafu~”

“W-what is it…? It looks kinda cute, but it’s a monster I’ve never seen before.” (Ren)

“I wonder. It’s voice… sounds a little like Raphtalia’s.” (Itsuki)

Itsuki looks at the Raph race specimen, and points at Raphtalia.

The Raph runs forward, and releases illusion magic.

One by one, illusionary Raphs manifest, and cover the landscape.

“Uwah!”

“””Rafu~!”””

The illusionary Raphs begin their assault.

Since they aren’t real, they don’t cause any damage, but the Raph’s target is only a single individual.

“There!” (Raphtalia)

Damn! The faker finds the real Raph among the illusions, and slashes at it.

“Rafu~!”

It dodges by a paper thin margin, and does a flip before landing on the ground. It points its paw at the fake.

And it loudly proclaims.

“Fake~”

“What…?”

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 282 – Bio Custom

---

“Fake~”

“W-what exactly is this…”

The Raph race specimen continues repeating this line. The fake is dumbfound.

Hmph! This is the special function I installed into the Raph race.

A psychological ploy against the fake.

By the way, I haven’t gotten around to teaching it any other words yet.

“Fake~”

“… Is this supposed to be some form of harassment?” (Raphtalia)

“Who knows? It seems that he was trying to revive Raphtalia-chan when he made this child.” (Sadina)

“How…?” (Raphtalia)

“With a strand of your hair.” (Sadina)

“Naofumi-sama—!” (Raphtalia)

With a face that seems like it would burst into tears at any second, the fake cries out.

Fufufu, the mental attack was super effective.

“And this is a message from Naofumi-chan.” (Sadina)

Sadina takes out the video crystal, and presents it to the fakes.

“It’s been a few hours, fake, and traitors. Good job getting the order of my defense towers correct. Shall I praise you for that?” (Naofumi)

After a brief pause, my image continued.

“However, don’t think you will be getting here so easily. At dawn, when I have revived Raphtalia, I’ll make mincemeat out of all of you. Be prepared.”

(Naofumi)

"Ah... How should I react to this..." (Raphtalia)

The fake puts her hands on her head.

"I explained the situation to Melty-chan, and she said she would cover up the situation, but..." (Sadina)

"The next time you try to invade, I'll go all out as well. Don't think it'll ever be as easy as it was tonight. Then farewell, fakes!" (Naofumi)

And my video terminated.

"And like that, we've been sent to deliver the message. If you try to attack Naofumi-chan's fortress again, we'll shoot you out of the sky." (Sadina)

"... I see. So do we have to fight Sadina-oneechan here as well?"

(Raphtalia)

"Yeah, if I don't fight, Naofumi-chan will get mad at me." (Sadana)

"... Understood. Then let's fight." (Raphtalia)

The fake tightens the grip on her weapon, and rushes at Sadina.

Sadina is at a disadvantage, as she fights while defending the Raph specimen. But she puts up a good fight.

But why isn't she using magic?

When I asked later, she said that it would put the Raph in danger. I'll accept such a reason.

Motoyasu exchanges blows with Ren, Itsuki, Rishia, and the opposing Filo Rials.

"Trying to win with numbers won't get you anywhere!"

「Windmill!」

Motoyasu spins his spear, and creates a tornado.

But because of the Skill's cooldown time, and the fact he was fighting the long ranged experts, Itsuki and Rishia, he gradually gets pushed back.

“Motoyasu-san, we’re at a disadvantage! Let’s retreat.” (Midori)

After taking blows repeatedly, Midori calls out to Motoyasu.

“But I cannot betray Father-in-Law’s expectations.” (Motoyasu)

“We’ve fulfilled our objective. If we fight here and lose, then all will be meaningless!” (Midori)

“I-I see. But I haven’t convinced my lovely angels to switch sides yet.” (Motoyasu)

“It’s impossible! As long as Piyo-chan is here, they won’t listen to our invitations.” (Midori)

“Uu… I apologize, Father-in-Law. I, Motoyasu, will retreat for everyone’s sake!” (Motoyasu)

“Ah, wait! Where’s Gaelion? We need to take down the Anti-Teleport barrier…” (Midori)

“Rafu~!”

The Raph uses illusion magic to erase its own presence. At the same time, it created illusionary copies of Motoyasu and the others.

The fake saw through it almost immediately, but the spell was able to buy enough time.

Motoyasu, his three and Sadina were able to take the Raph, and escape out of the extent of the Anti-Teleport zone.

“And that’s what happened, Father-in-Law. I offer my greatest apologies.” (Motoyasu)

I saw the footage from the Memory Crystal I had Motoyasu carry.

“The results were satisfactory. It seems they truly intend to oppose us. They’re a group we must eliminate if we wish to conquer the world.” (Naofumi)

There's still some time before the barrier around the second tower breaks...
I'll increase our forces before that.
And my first day of lab construction concluded like that.

The second day.

I began my preparations to mass produce the Raph race.
I'm still doubtful as to whether they'll be that great of an asset, but having them is better than not.

Who should I send to defend the second tower?
Motoyasu is reliable, but He'll be at a disadvantage when taking on everyone by himself.
I should probably send Atlas, Firo and Fohl as well.

Even so... I have my doubts.
Even if they're rotten, they're heroes with their parties.

"Niichan! Is the crepe tree done yet?" (Kiel)
"Ah, Kiel. I'll do it later. I'm still busy." (Naofumi)
"I see..." (Kiel)

Kiel woke me when I was taking a short nap in the Laboratory.
Under my arm, Atlas is happily sleeping.
Fohl is also asleep.

"What will you be doing today?" (Kiel)
"Ah, today, I plan to make a powerful weapon to ready myself to defeat that fake army." (Naofumi)
"Ara? You're planning some interesting things." (Sadina)

Sadina, who was asleep in a corner of the room, gets up and joins the conversation.

“What sort of thing are you planning?” (Sadinaa)

“I’ll modify the monsters, and create a powerful one.” (Naofumi)

“Oh~! Amazing~!” (Kiel)

“There are quite a few monsters here, so there are quite a few things that I have to do.” (Naofumi)

To make a body for Raphtalia, the Shield told me I need to study the bodies of various monsters as well.

Monsters have overflowing vitality, and there are a few that can continue functioning as undeads even after death.

Gaelion is a good example.

If I study that, I’ll be able to improve my Raphs. I’ll be able to get closer and closer to the original.

Also, I promised the monsters. That I would make them strong.

AS I was thinking along those lines, the monster Rat cared for dearly started banging on the walls of its container.

I think she called it Mii-kun or something.

I took the research lab as is, so I guess he was here the whole time.

“Hmm? What’s up?” (Naofumi)

I can’t really tell what he’s thinking, but I can at least read his expression.

“You want me to use you?” (Naofumi)

Rat’s monster nods with conviction.

“Fumu…” (Naofumi)

He was a monster that wished to be strong.

I guess that’s fine.

“You have the resolve to go through all sorts of experiments… right?”
(Naofumi)

Upon my words, Rat's monster nods.

Good.

I press my Shield to the cultivation tank containing the monster, and flip a switch.

The effect I activated was Ability Bonus: Bio Custom, Alchemic correction, and also... Gene Modification.

Geometric Symbols and letters fly out, wrapping around Rat's precious monster.

... Strengthening it is all about imagination.

What sort of strength is he seeking? That's the most important.

Even though he isn't human, I shouldn't do any modifications he doesn't personally wish for.

"Now then, imagine what you wish to become. I'll assist you to the best of my ability." (Naofumi)

Rat's monster nods once more, and its ideal image enters my mind.

... Well then.

Rat wanted to make a monster like a dragon, with overwhelming vitality. One that wouldn't die easily.

That will has perfectly transferred itself to her precious specimen.

Perhaps their hearts are linked in some way.

However... This is a bit over the physical capacity of this monster.

If modifications exceed a monster's capacity, then my Human Experimentation, and Gene Modification capabilities don't work.

In that aspect, the Bioplants have an extremely large capacity.

Of course, to activate it, a large amount of magic and SP is consumed. But with the Shield's recovery ability, if I rest a bit, it will replenish on its own.

That's just how high my current level is.

What should I do...

"Sorry, but please lower your expectations a bit. Otherwise..." (Naofumi)

Rat's monster stares at me and conveys its strong will.

Well, if I do a slightly lower modification, there are still other ways of strengthening it.

I edit the image Rat's monster sent me, and lower it a bit, before presenting it back to the monster.

This much is quite possible.

Luckily, I already have all of the necessary materials in my Shield. Though some of them were a bit rare.

"I see... So this is the strength you long for? Show me that you can withstand any pain, any curse, and any suffering to attain this strength!"
(Naofumi)

I activate the Gene Modification.

The modification will take a bit of time.

Something bangs against the walls of the Culture Tank, and the water in it churns violently.

"Oh... wait, how long is this going to last?" (Kiel)

"It'll take a while." (Naofumi)

"I see..." (Kiel)

I take out Magic Water and Spirit Water from my shield to recover my SP and Mana.

"Let's move on to the next task." (Naofumi)

Rat's monster needs further modifications... I start framing the components. I made it so that the monster will live in a sort of core, and can be transplanted into different bodies.

For its first body, I do large modifications on a First Generation Raph body.

The current body I'm making is 3 meters in height.

A Raph even larger than Firo floats in the tank in front of me.

It's the body Rat's monster will inhabit.

Eventually the modifications finish, and Rat's monster shows its new form.

It's a red... round crystal.

Rat's monster has evolved to one that controls a body from a core.

In order to act as a vessel for that core, I made this giant Raph.

I take up Rat's monster, and transplant it into the Raph.

The body shakes for a while, but eventually they synchronize. The Raph opens its eyes, and lifts its arm.

Fumu... It should be able to move like this.

I press a switch, and drain the fluid from the tank. I remove the monster from it.

"Rafu~"

"How is it, your new body? When my research progresses further, I'll grant you one that's easier to fight in." (Naofumi)

"Rafu~!"

"Amazing! Niichan can even do things like this!" (Kiel)

"Isn't it obvious." (Naofumi)

"... Naofumi-chan is amazing. He's the alchemist of the century." (Sadina)

"Perhaps I'm of that caliber." (Naofumi)

"Master, good morning~!" (Firo)

Firo trods into the laboratory in a good mood.

Did she wake up and go to the Dining Hall already? Her stomach is swelling out a bit.

"Who is it?" (Firo)

Firo points at the large Raph, and turns to me.

"It's Rat's monster." (Naofumi)

"Ah, so this is Mii-kun?" (Firo)

"Rafu~"

As Firo waves at it, the monster known as Mii-kun returns the wave.

"He's become large and cute now. Firo won't lose." (Firo)

"Rafu~"

"Now then, I have an important mission to give you." (Naofumi)

"What~?" (Firo)

"Go protect the second tower with this one." (Naofumi)

"Yes~!" (Firo)

"Well, there's still a bit of time. Go accompany this monster until it gets accustomed to its new body." (Naofumi)

"Got it!" (Firo)

It's not like I strengthened that body too far.

It's like a disposable shell.

I'll need to update it to something that will become its main body later.

I explained all of that body's working functions, so... it should be fine.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 283 – Pros and Cons

---

Now then, on to the next one...

As I was considering my next action, Kiel started poking me.

"What?" (Naofumi)

"Umm, Niichan, could you make me stronger as well?" (Kiel)

"Hmm? Well, if you wish for it, I'll do it. If there are any other volunteers, I'll do it for as long as they want." (Naofumi)

I need to concentrate my attention on defending the second tower.

Reinforcing my forces is urgent.

If Kiel wants to become stronger, then granting it unto her is a simple task.

"Then do me next! I'll fight to pay it off!" (Kiel)

"... Kiel-chan, this Onee-san doesn't think you should rely on Naofumi-chan's power too much." (Sadina)

"It's okay, Sadina-oneechan. I just want to become stronger." (Kiel)

"The current Naofumi-chan is a tad bit different from the one you know, so I think you should think it over a bit carefully before you decide." (Sadina)

"What are you talking about, Sadina-oneechan? The only thing strange about Niichan is the way he speaks. He went off to save sick children with whatever power he had. Nothing's changed at all! Niichan is always Niichan." (Kiel)

"Well, that's true, but..." (Sadina)

"Anyways, Niichan! Make me stronger!" (Kiel)

"Fumu... understood." (Naofumi)

"Kiel-chan..." (Sadina)

Kiel's level is actually on the higher side. But she hasn't achieved overwhelming strength like Raphtalia.

She learned the basics of Chi later than the rest, so you could say she's a step behind the traitors.

As with Rat's monster, I put Kiel into a culture tank, and close the lid before activating my ability.

"What sort of modifications are you looking for?" (Naofumi)

"Let's see..." (Kiel)

Kiel senses the link I made with my power, and sends the image of her desired form.

But...

"This modification will break down the wall separating man and beast. Are you okay with that?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah! This is what I want to become." (Kiel)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

It's not outside of my ability.

Kiel's body is naturally healthy, so she should be able to withstand the changes.

However, this one would make her step out of the Demi-Human category, and tread into the monster one.

I'll... make it so that it's possible to change her back.

It's difficult, but this is Kiel's wish. For me, nothing is impossible!

"With this modification, you'll get some fatal weaknesses, so you better prepare yourself." (Naofumi)

"Weaknesses?" (Kiel)

If I want to add the function to allow Kiel to turn back, this is my limit.

I could discard some parts of her, and add functions to get rid of the weaknesses, but then there would be no point.

I don't plan on attaining victory after using my own subordinate as sacrifices.

"After this modification, you'll be weak against some things. If people use that to their advantage when they attack, you'll easily lose." (Naofumi)

"Is that true?" (Kiel)

"Yeah, so will you still... continue?" (Naofumi)

Unless I do the modification itself, I won't be able to determine what weaknesses will form.

However, the modification window notified me that some would form.

"Yeah! Niichan, just do it all at once!" (Kiel)

"It seems you have the resolve." (Naofumi)

"I... won't become an existence that merely takes! Using Niichan's power... I will be reborn!" (Kiel)

"Got it." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-chan. Please don't do something that you can never take back."
(Sadina)

I'm no fool I understand what Sadina's trying to say.

I'll make Kiel stronger, while keeping her as herself.

"No problem. When I make my new world, Kiel will graciously be accepted as a member of that world. There's no way I would ever use anyone as a disposable pawn." (Naofumi)

I activate the ability.

The liquid in the tank overflows, and bubbles cloud it. Eventually they cover Kiel's form.

"This modification will take some time. Kiel, rejoice at your rebirth."
(Naofumi)

Eventually, the processes concluded, and Kiel exited the culture tank.

"This is the result?" (Kiel)

"Yes." (Naofumi)

Kiel looks over her body again and again.
Her appearance hasn't changed at all.

"Nothing's changed, Niichan!" (Kiel)

"If you stopped being human, I would be troubled. I added another stage to your transformation ability. If you change to that form, you will gain great strength. The weaknesses are..." (Naofumi)

I teach Kiel her own new weaknesses.

If the fakes were to learn of these, Kiel would be taken out instantly.

"Now go and test your new-found powers with Firo." (Naofumi)

"Got it! Firo-chan, look at my new power~!" (Kiel)

And Kiel energetically ran off.

"... Then after looking over Kiel-chan and Firo-chan, I'm going to go on patrol again." (Sadina)

"Yeah, hop to it." (Naofumi)

After bidding farewell to Sadina, I immersed myself in my new Raphtalia creation project once more.

Eventually, the barrier protecting the second tower faded, and the fakers charged it aboard Gaelion.

The village's slaves have come by boat as well.

But this time, they won't be destroying it so easily.

With Motoyasu at the front, I've dispatched a large force there.

My numbers are greater than those invading. It's the reverse of before!

I watch the scene play out on a screen from a distance. I'll be able to direct the battle.

Oh? Is that nit Rat among the fake party?

I thought she was a non-combatant. What is she doing here?

"Breaking in from the front looks difficult." (Raphtalia)

"Yeah, if I went all out, it wouldn't be impossible; but these are Naofumi's comrades. If we're careless, we may put their lives in danger." (Ren)

"... How troublesome." (Itsuki)

The fake and Ren complain.

If you think that, then you could just refrain from getting in my way...

Know that as long as the battle takes place here, I can easily gather your information.

"Anyways, Let's try to break through, and make this a swift battle! We're heading out, everyone!" (Raphtalia)

Upon the fake's words, the Heroes, and Rishia, Rat and the others, nod.

Perhaps they infiltrated the last one like this as well.

Do you think the core is on the top floor?

Too bad, each tower is designed differently. Though the device was on top in the first one.

The barrier forming device is around the center of this one.

... It glows, so perhaps that gives away its location.

"They're coming!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu stands before the invaders.

"I'll hold down Motoyasu! Everyone go forward!" (Ren)

"Ku..." (Motoyasu)

Ren stands before Motoyasu, and the rest of them proceed.

They're both heroes, on approximately even footing. This battle will be decided by how Motoyasu's three contribute.

"Are you up for it? This is getting to be a pain."

"Mo-kun seems motivated, so we'll have to do a bit of work."

"Yeah. Or else Motoyasu-san will be troubled."

In front of the three unmotivated birds, a certain life-form showed itself.

“Kyua!”

It seems Gaelion and Taniko will be taking on the three.

Ah, by the way, because of my barrier devices, teleporting to run is impossible.

“Motoyasu! Quit it with this farce, and help us revert Naofumi!” (Ren)

Ren releases a Meteor Sword at Motoyasu.

Motoyasu holds his spear out front, and redirects it. And continuing with that movement, he proceeds to thrust.

“Revert Father-in-Law? What are you talking about? Firo-tan likes Father-in-Law as he is now, does she not? That means there is only one thing for me to do. For Firo-tan’s sake, I will protect him!” (Motoyasu)

“Stop! If you do that, do you realize what Naofumi will do when he regains his senses!? He’ll definitely be mad at you!” (Ren)

It seems I don’t have to focus on this battle.

I focus on the traitors that slipped past his defenses.

I scroll through the channels on my surveillance system.

There they are!

“Rafu~!”

“Rafu!”

“They’re coming one after the other!”

Damn! Those fakes are proceeding, whilst cutting down the Raphs I put so much effort into making.

The current Raphs can’t lift a finger against Heroes, I guess.

What the hell is Sadina doing!?

I searched the channels for her, and found her holding off another group of invading slaves.

She's surrounded by Raphs, so she's fighting without using magic.

Quite a number of people are getting by her.

I guess this is due to me not calling for a meeting earlier.

There's no reason to dispatch the Raphs and Sadina to the same place.

Ah! The defensive line was broken.

The only room left is the one with the device.

This time, Atlas, Firo and Fohl are defending it.

"Firo!" (Raphtalia)

"Oneechan, you came again? I won't let you break this one." (Firo)

"That's right, Raphtalia-san. Give up and go home." (Atlas)

"I will... I will make sure Atlas doesn't get injured... for that, I will... fight!"
(Fohl)

Even Fohl seems relatively motivated.

It was a good choice pairing him with Atlas.

"Just open your eyes already!" (Raphtalia)

"Oneechan is the one who's blind. Doesn't master look like he's having so much fun right now?" (Firo)

"That is not Naofumi-sama! Naofumi once told me that you once prevented him from going insane when he used the Wrath Shield. Then why won't you try and save him this time?" (Raphtalia)

Ah, something like that did happen.

To prevent my rage from going out of control, I needed the Real Raphtalia, or Firo to help me.

The bundle of instincts, Firo, is siding with me.

That means I'm not going out of control.

There's no way I'm wrong.

"Let me explain this one. That time, Firo saw that the power was corrupting Naofumi-sama's true nature. But this time is different. Naofumi-sama's nature hasn't changed much. That's why Firo and I will stand by this Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"Yeah, the current master is... really happy and... He treats Firo and everyone well. Firo is also having fun, so she like the current master." (Firo)

"Yes. Naofumi-sama lived in a different world from us, so no one can understand his true heart, or his values. But to reject him merely because his tone of speech changed... something like that is impossible for me." (Atlas)

"Is that something you should be saying to me? If he ever regains his senses, do you understand just how much pain and grief Naofumi-sama will go through as he reflects upon his actions? As he reflects on all of your actions?" (Raphtalia)

"Even so, I cannot become Naofumi-sama's enemy. No matter what happens." (Atlas)

"Firo, I'm going to give Naofumi-sama quite a lecture after this!" (Raphtalia)

"But master is master, you know? When Oneechan wasn't there, he cried to himself. Why won't Oneechan understand?" (Firo)

"N-Naofumi did...?" (Raphtalia)

The fakes' face seems to waver for a moment.

But she soon takes up her old expression.

"... Melty-chan is angry!" (Raphtalia)

"If Melty-chan were to meet Master now, I think she would accept him." (Firo)

Perhaps her anger reached its peak. The fake clenches her sword, and takes a stance.

She wraps an aura around herself, showing that she's prepared to use

Hengen Musou.

Where did she learn it? Why can this fake use Hengen Musou as well?

"It appears that this matter cannot be resolved with words alone."

(Raphtalia)

"It's good that you understand. I knew it would come to this sooner or later." (Atlas)

"I think the current Master is happier, you know. He laughs to himself a lot! Firo decided she would protect Master's smile." (Firo)

Responding to Raphtalia's aura, Firo, Atlas and Fohl release their own.

"Hero of the Bow-san, Rishia-san, and Rat-san. Are you ready?" (Raphtalia)

"Yes." (Itsuki)

"Fuee... I never thought I would end up fighting Firo-chan." (Rishia)

"Yes, I'm ready." (Rat)

The moment after they exchanged glances at one another, the battle started.

Atlas and Firo rush at their own choice of fakes.

Itsuki and Rishia intercept them from afar... or at least they try to. Fohl knocks their attacks out of the air.

"I won't let you get in the way." (Fohl)

"Rishia-san, what should I do? If I get serious, I think I may fatally injure Fohl-san." (Itsuki)

"Fuee! That's something we must avoid at all costs!" (Rishia)

「Illusionary Blade!」

The fake imitates Raphtalia, and hides herself.

But that is pointless.

"It's useless!" (Atlas)

Atlas doesn't trace objects with her eyes. She follows them by sensing their chi.

She runs after and thrusts at the hidden fake.

Firo's also able to see through it with her feral instincts. The fake is underestimating them.

This time, Atlas was the first to strike.

"Ku... Musou Kassei!" (Raphtalia)

"That's something we can do too~" (Firo)

"Yes, Firo-chan! Let's do it!" (Atlas)

Atlas and Firo power up to match the fake.

For them to have to double team her... perhaps it's due to the support fire that occasionally pierces Fohl's defenses. There's no helping it.

Be careful. Don't deal any decisive blows.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 284 – The Battle for the Second Tower

---

Hmm? The slaves that had split off into a separate regiment are approaching the central portion as well.

I change the channel.

“Kiel-kun!”

The slaves close in, to find Kiel waiting for them, taking on an imposing stance.

“Move aside!” (Imya)

Oh? Imya’s mixed in with the group.

I’m surprised she came. She admitted herself that she was unfit for battle.

“I’m sorry, but you’re not getting past! I promised Niichan.” (Kiel)

Kiel changes to her dog form, and the other slaves raise their various weapons.

“Even if it’s Kiel-kun, I won’t hold back. In the end, it’s all for Shield-Oniichan’s sake.”

“You’re wrong, everyone. Everyone’s misunderstanding something. Niichan… Niichan granted me power. If you all ask, then you too will…”
(Kiel)

Kiel jumps forward, and starts biting at the slaves.

However, perhaps due to the fact that they’re used to battle, the group is able to keep up with her movements.

The slaves with the highest level work together, and feign attacks at her. They must be trying to wear down her stamina.

“...Then there’s no choice. Niichan told me not to use it if possible, but I’ll show you my serious face!” (Kiel)

WAAAOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOON!

Kiel roars to the sky, and her form begins changing once more. Magic surrounds her, so all that is seen is a black silhouette. The sound of her bones creaking sounds out, as her form warps and changes.

“Ah... aaaah...”

Upon seeing the black shadow, a majority of the attacking slaves begin shaking.

Only Imya manages to remain calm.

“Hah... hah... How is it! This is my new power!” (Kiel)

Kiel shouts out in an excited voice.

Her form was now that of a dog with three heads. That of Cerberus, the guardian of hell.

But the problem is that her form isn’t particularly large. Since the base is Kiel, it still looks like a puppy... no, it’s a wolf cub-like Cerberus. Perhaps it would be best not to call it Cerberus, but Kielberus. Looking from afar, its outer appearance is still relatively cute.

(TL: This pun isn’t in the original, instead, Naofumi says Cerberus in Hiragana instead of Katakana, downgrading the name’s effect. I’m not sure how to convey that in English)

This is the form Kiel wished for.

“I’m coming! Prepare yourself!” (Kiel)

“Wah! Stay away! Get away, stop!”

“Father! Mamaaaa!”

(TL: Remember, the thing that assaulted the village was...)

The villagers run around in panic.

"Everyone, get down!" (Imya)

Imya runs forward, and stabs at Kiel with a dagger.
Kiel grumbles, as the dagger stabs into her shoulder.

"If it isn't Imya-chan. You don't find me scary?" (Kiel)

"No, not really..." (Imya)

... It seems Imya's surprisingly fearless.
Though I agree that Kiel isn't really scary.
No matter how I look at it, she's cute.

"Kiel-kun, you told me this on the day I was bought, right? The place I was going to would be somewhere where if you work hard, you'll get appropriate compensation. Is it still the same?" (Imya)

"Of course!" (Kiel)

"It doesn't look that way to me. That's why I want the Hero of the Shield-sama to come back. Kiel-kun, I will defeat you!" (Imya)

And Imya produced a cookie from her pocket, and threw it.
(TL: The Trojan Aeneas was able to pacify Cerberus with drugged cake.)

"S-sweets!?" (Kiel)

Kiel suddenly turns her attention to the thrown treat. She chases it and begins chomping on it.

"Everyone, now! Calm down; collect yourselves!" (Imya)

Imya claps her hands on one of the panicing slave's faces.

"B-but that monster's here! We have to escape... we have..."

... This reaction. It's somewhat like Raphtalia's panic attacks when she was younger.

Ah... I see why Kiel wanted to take on that shape.

She thought something like strength = evoking fear. She turned into what she feared to obtain strength.

However, it seems that Imya coincidentally noticed her weakness...

Did Kiel and Itsuki tell her tales of the other world? Or is it chance?

The monster Cerberus lives in this world, so perhaps it has similar qualities. I thought the same when I finished the modifications.

"If we don't do anything here, what do you think will happen? Didn't we get stronger as not to lose to the wave!?" (Imya)

"... Right, not to lose... We're working so we won't have to lose any precious people anymore!"

"I was scolded by Imya-chan, haha!"

"Kiel-kun! We won't lose!" (Everyone)

"Hah! Like I'm going down so easily!" (Kiel)

Kiel stops munching on the cookie, and starts running at the slaves. She's really fast.

As expected of my modifications.

She's making a fool out of the villagers!

"Ku! She's too fast. At this rate, we'll never get through!"

"GAUUU!" (Kiel)

Kiel snaps at Imya with one of his mouths.

"___!"

Overcoming the pain, Imya grabs and holds down the other two heads.

"Now's your chance!" (Imya)

"Yeah!"

... What is this?

The slaves have begun singing a lullaby.

Dammit! How do they know all of Kiel's weaknesses!?

(TL: The Hero Orpheus was able to get past him by putting him to sleep with his lyre. Also see Fluffy. )

"Ah... Uu..."

Kiel's jaw slackens, and she staggers from side to side.

"Uu... Not yet, I am... not done yet! Like I'd go down here!" (Kiel)

... I guess it's time.

I open the line, and connect it to Kiel's room.

"Kiel, retreat." (Naofumi)

"Niichan!? But..." (Kiel)

"They know your weaknesses. At this rate, you'll definitely lose. Just fall back for now." (Naofumi)

"Damn! Understood, Niichan." (Kiel)

Dammit... I never expected the situation to be this bad.

I showed off my massive modification of the Bioplant. Were they able to deduce Kiel's modifications from that?

And the monster that should have been a traumatic existence for a majority of them... Did they already prepare to overcome such a hurdle beforehand? That's the only thing I can think of.

Kiel obeys me, and leaves the room with haste.

I told him to go assist Motoyasu if something like this happened.

With his increased fighting ability, if he goes to assist Motoyasu, then something should change.

At that moment, the alarm rung out once more.

From the second tower's core piece, someone's accessed all of the other towers' cores. They're trying to shut them down.

I see... So that's why Rat participated in this mission.

But that's futile.

"Rafu~!"

The monster I had prepared as a final line of defense, Mii-kun, breaks through the ceiling to confront the hacker.

Some bugs were apparent when he sparred with Firo, so I didn't want to send him into combat so soon. But I stationed him above the core room just in case.

That's the place where the land's power, and magic gathers. It was perfect for tuning him. I'm lucky I placed him there.

"Ku... I was so close..." (Rat)

"Unfortunately, your efforts are pointless." (Naofumi)

I connect my speaker to speak with Rat.

"Do you think that is enough to breach through my security?" (Naofumi)

"Marquis, just quit it already!" (Rat)

"Hahaha, I'll make you regret ever thinking of opposing me. Go forth!"
(Naofumi)

How ironic. Rat, you shall be disposed of by the monster you cherished so!

"Rafu~!"

Mii-kun swings his thick tail at Rat.

Being familiar with monsters, Rat predicts and evades his attack. She throws a syringe at him.

Again, useless. Don't think that's enough to stop a fully strengthened Raph.

“The drug isn’t…”

Rat freezes as if she had seen something unbelievable. Her movements are quickly suppressed by Mii-kun.

Mii-kun pulls out the syringe, and starts walking toward his former friend.

“Rafu~!”

He raises his large arm, and lowers it with great force.

“Agu…”

It was a narrow room at the center of the tower, with various devices set everywhere.

Rat’s knees give out below her, and she falls to the floor. Mii-kun raised his arm overhead, as if to give the finishing blow.

“… Rafu~”

Mii-kun and Rat exchange glances.

“… Mii-kun?”

“R-Rafu~!?”

It happened at a moment’s notice.

Mii-kun grasped his head, and called out.

Ku… I guess his body’s tuning is still inadequate.

“Marquis! What is the meaning of this!?” (Rat)

“No idea. It’s what your precious monster wished for.” (Naofumi)

“Even so… you went and did something like this…!? ” (Rat)

“Rafu~!”

Mii-kun starts going out of control, and the core room begins crumbling to pieces.

Ku... This is exceedingly troublesome.

Eventually, with the sound of shattering glass, the core piece breaks.

The tower rumbles, and begins to collapse.

There's no choice.

I open all audio lines in the second tower.

"Those who follow me, the tower is crumbling. Retreat with haste. If you run to the third tower, the fakes will be unable to follow." (Naofumi)

I change the channel to observe the Fake and Firo's battle. It seems it was put on standby due to the rumbling of the tower.

They haven't defeated her yet?

I guess the fake's got some skills.

Due to Kiel's help, Motoyasu was able to drive off Ren and Gaelion. They were heading to assist Firo's group.

They joined up with Sadina on the way. I guess I'll have to honestly admit defeat here.

After I ordered him to return, Mii-kun took a last look at Rat, and climbed through the ceiling to escape.

"Mii-kun! Wait!" (Rat)

"... Rafu~!"

That isn't the Mii-kun you know anymore.

He's been reborn as one of my subordinates.

After that, Rat walked out of the room to meet the fakes.

At the same time, Motoyasu met Firo's group, and used his portal to teleport them away.

The last footage I saw before the tower collapsed was that of Ren and Itsuki meeting the fakes, and teleporting all of them back...

It seems Itsuki's getting over his curse. His SP recovered a bit.
That's bothersome.

Anyways, we lost the battle of the second tower.
I have to admit that.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 285 – The Second Generation

---

“Let’s start a strategy meeting!”

Kiel returned with a despondent look on her face. Before I could order anything, she gathered up all of my forces, and announced a meeting.

“This time, even after Niichan went to the trouble of modifying me, I wasn’t of any use at all.” (Kiel)

“Kiel-kun tried her hardest. Her new form was also amazing.” (Midori)

Midori turns to Kiel, and throws some honest praise at her.
Even though he can be toxic, he’s also relatively sociable, it seems.

“I think if Kiel-kun wasn’t there, then Motoyasu-san would have still been exchanging blows with the Hero of the Sword.”

“That’s right.” (Motoyasu)

Oh? Motoyasu can communicate with Kiel when she’s Kielberus?

That’s actually a bit surprising.

I thought Melty was the only woman whose words would get through to him.

“Motoyasu, what does Kiel look like to you?” (Naofumi)

“A dog with three heads, Father-in-Law.” (Motoyasu)

“Okay, Kiel. Return to your normal form!” (Naofumi)

“Got it, Niichan!” (Kiel)

Kiel assumes her human form.

And Motoyasu’s gaze changes to that of someone staring at filth. He averts his eyes.

“A dog that can transform into a pig… That’s quite a dirty power.”
(Motoyasu)

Ah... because Kiel changed into something close to a monster, she got out of the category where gender mattered, I guess.

But Firo is recognized in both forms, and Kiel only in monster... What's going on in Motoyasu's head?

"Niichan, I'm sorry. I wasn't helpful at all." (Kiel)

"Don't mind it. They grasped your weaknesses, so there's no helping it."
(Naofumi)

"Then what am I supposed to do?" (Kiel)

That's right.

Perhaps I should station her in an area that eliminates the effect of her weaknesses.

Honestly, more modifications than this will strain her body too much. It's very likely she won't be able to turn back.

"I'll provide Kiel with ear plugs, or earmuffs. The problem would be that I would have to give orders beforehand, and I won't be able to coordinate her movements." (Naofumi)

That's was one of the possibilities I considered, but I never expected the situation to call for it so quickly.

I need to somehow eliminate her weakness of being unable to look away from sweets, and being weak to lullabies.

For the latter, I can just cover her ears, but the former is difficult.

I could make sure they didn't have any treats on them... but I don't have a concrete plan for that.

If I drew it into an underwater battle, then they wouldn't be able to use it, but that would sacrifice Kiel's improved mobility.

Anyways, I'll have to consider how to use Kiel.

And wait a second...

“Kiel, if you’re fighting an enemy that you think you can beat, try your hardest to stay in your dog form. Only use your modified form when you need to.” (Naofumi)

“So the only ones I should use it on are Raphtalia-chan, Rishia-nee-chan, and the heroes?” (Kiel)

“Yeah, that seems to be the case. I guess you should steer clear of the Granny, and her disciples as well…” (Naofumi)

Though they don’t stand out, besides Raphtalia, Rishia and Fohl, there are some others who underwent the Granny’s training.

This time, the fear from seeing Kiel’s Kielberus form caused them to be unable to act. But if they meet again, Kiel will be at a disadvantage.

“I’ll access the third tower… and institute a scanning feature. I’ll make it so that people carrying food-like items will be unable to reach the area where Kiel’s deployed.” (Naofumi)

It will take up some time, but there’s no helping it.

“Um…”

“Hmm?” (Naofumi)

One of the slaves I treated trembles as it calls out to me.

This one didn’t participate in the Second Tower defense.

“Is there someone who’s threatening the… God of the Shield-sama?”

“Yeah, this world is full of people like that. A group of them are trying to invade this place. For that purpose, the people gathered here are putting a desperate effort towards defending this place, but the situation is turning stale.” (Naofumi)

They even managed to destroy tower number two.

The main reason for this failure was that I deployed Rat’s monster before tuning him properly.

It was my own lack of judgment.
My next plan won't have as many risks.

"Rafu~..."

Rat's monster, AKA Mii-kun, stands around with a dejected expression.
Though he had enough battle power, he went out of control. It seems he's repenting.

"Then... um..."

"What?" (Naofumi)

The treated slaves look at me with determination, and step forward.

"Please modify us like you did that child!"

"... You guys just overcame human experimentation by the Three Hero Church. I don't think you should be jumping at such notions." (Naofumi)

It's fine if they just help with magic supplying, and managing the lab.

Their levels and abilities are not fit for battle.

In the current situation, without the time to increase their level, I don't find it necessary to send them to war.

"I think I said this with Kiel-chan as well, but Onee-chan wouldn't recommend it." (Sadina)

"Sadina... should you be saying that? You were also quite useless this time around." (Naofumi)

"But I was fighting alongside the Raph Race that Naofumi-chan made with care. There's no way I could get serious." (Sadina)

"Then you'll be the one to finish off that faker." (Naofumi)

"That's impossible. I mean, it's Raphtalia-chan." (Sadina)

"That's just a fake making a mockery of her form." (Naofumi)

"... Naofumi-chan believes that. But still, it's hard for me to attack her, so I can't get serious. You understand?" (Sadina)

"I see." (Naofumi)

Even though she's evil, her appearance is the spitting image of the real one. I guess I can understand how she would be hard to fight.

"And that's how it is. You get it?" (Naofumi)

"... No, since you saved our lives, we would like to be of as much use to the God of the Shield-sama as possible."

All of them seem resolute as they face me.

I get the feeling that a half-hearted refusal on my part won't move them.

No, I can easily refuse.

But if I do, they might use that resolution to infiltrate and try to defend the third tower anyways.

Even in jest, I can't call their levels high. They're very low.

Using my abilities, I can forcibly raise levels, but 30 is my limit.

Over that, and the strain on the body is too high. I don't have enough energy to expend either.

"... Promise me this. When you march into battle, you will prioritize survival over all else." (Naofumi)

"If the God of the Shield wishes it." (All Treated Slaves)

"... Understood. I'll modify you to your hearts' content later. Before then, imagine your ideal form of power." (Naofumi)

"Ah, Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

At that point, Atlas raised her hand.

"What is it?" (Naofumi)

"As Naofumi-sama's power, I wish to get stronger." (Atlas)

"What are you saying, Atlas? Do you want to end up looking like that!?" (Fohl)

"Yes, Onii-sama. I'll change into anything be it for Naofumi-sama's sake. Also... I don't want Onii-sama telling me that." (Atlas)

Atlas spite her words out while emitting bloodlust at Fohl.
Perhaps she's referring to Fohl's beast transformation form.

"I heard about it. Onii-sama turned into a fluffy animal, and slept while being cuddled by Naofumi-sama... how envious am I." (Atlas)

"Uu... That's wrong! I... I am...!" (Fohl)

"That's why I want a fluffy form like Kiel-kun!" (Atlas)

"So you're completely ignoring combat ability!" (Naofumi)

The difference in these people is too great.

But... Atlas is applying herself a lot.

I don't mind modifying her to some extent.

If I fix her eyes, then perhaps her movements will become sharper.

At the very least, if I give her a transformation ability, she will get stronger.

"Okay, then I'll make modifications, with Atlas as my priority!" (Naofumi)

"You bastard-" (Fohl)

"Onii-sama! You're wide open." (Atlas)

"Gefu!" (Fohl)

Atlas pricks an enraged Fohl from behind, and he falls forward.

These two are the same as ever.

"I jabbed a pressure point. For a little while, you won't be able to muster up any strength. Firo-chan, can you restrain Onii-sama so he won't be able to move?" (Atlas)

Firo stands above Fohl.

Like that, even Fohl will be rendered immobile.

"A-Atlas! Sto- STOOOOP!" (Fohl)

I signal Atlas to enter the culture tank, and activate my Human Experimentation ability.

Symbols come from my shield, and bind her. A window appears before my eyes.

And as soon as I looked over it, I came to a conclusion.

"My apologies, Atlas. It's impossible for you." (Naofumi)

"W-why not, Naofumi-sama!?" (Atlas)

"You have not the constitution to withstand modifications. More specifically, your body is already at its breaking point. There's no room for any more."
(Naofumi)

Perhaps due to her body, making the necessary changes will be fatal.

She was at her limit from the start. She doesn't have the caliber.

She was originally weak, and she couldn't even walk. She was always blind.

Yet now that, child is walking on her own feet, and even rushing into battle.

With that, she's already near her own breaking point.

What's more, this modification will require too much energy, so I don't think I will be able to complete it. I'll have to pay quite a bit of compensation for it. After this, I must conquer the world, so using that much here would be a pain.

"Give up." (Naofumi)

"Uu... If Naofumi-sama puts it like that, then I'll reluctantly give up." (Atlas)

After getting out of the tank, Atlas motions Firo to move. He lifts her up in his arms.

"I'm glad. Atlas didn't have anything one to her." (Fohl)

"That's unfortunate. I thought I would at least be able to return her vision."
(Naofumi)

"H-her eyes... can be repaired.. you say!?" (Fohl)

Fohl glares at me in disbelief.
He truly is an excitable fellow.

"Then why didn't you!?" (Fohl)

"I just explained it, didn't I?" (Naofumi)

Even though he objected to it, why is he getting mad at me for not doing it?

"..." (Fohl)

With a regretful, yet glad, expression, Fohl steps back with Atlas in hand.

"Then... will Onii-sama be getting modified?" (Atlas)

"Wha- Atlas!" (Fohl)

"If Onii-sama become stronger, Naofumi-sama's defenses will become unbreakable." (Atlas)

"Fumu... fine. Upon Atlas's orders, I'll grant you some modifications. Firo."
(Naofumi)

"Yeah, got it!" (Firo)

Since he hasn't fully recovered, Fohl is easily lifted into the culture tank by Firo.

"Wait! Unhand me! Something like this... I'll never-" (Fohl)

"Onii-sama..." (Atlas)

"..." (Fohl)

Good, he quieted down.

I activate my powers, and direct them at Fohl.

... What's with this?

For different reasons, I can't do anything to him.

Perhaps I should say he's already in his perfect form.

He hasn't unlocked it yet, but if he raises his own abilities, he already has another form.

(TL: Insert obligatory this isn't even my final form)

He already has all of the abilities I granted to Kiel.

What is the meaning of this?

In Atlas's case... her screen had a vestigial remnant of something similar.

Does it have to do with their blood?

The Hakuko seem to be such a race.

"Atlas, what do you want me to do to Fohl?" (Naofumi)

"Please make him less fluffy." (Atlas)

That has nothing to do with battle. Rejected.

Ah, now that I think about it, when Kiel saw Fohl's beast form, she got really excited, and kept calling him, 'cool'. How long ago was that?

"If he concentrates harder, he can get another form much like the one I gave to Kiel." (Naofumi)

"For reals? Fohl-niichan is amazing!" (Kiel)

Kiel excitedly praises Fohl.

But Fohl doesn't care for any words apart from his sister's. He ignores it.

"R-really?" (Fohl)

"... What sort of form is it?" (Atlas)

"It seems to be a larger white tiger. Though his weaknesses increase, his abilities rise. It requires a lot of discipline to achieve. Actually, it seems to be impossible." (Naofumi)

I mean... there's too much. Fohl's raised his level quite a bit, but he hasn't even fulfilled half of the necessary requirements to unlock it.

The Hakuko race can climb up to level 120, but... he needs to be at least 180 to use it.

Anyways, I can't modify him further.

Ah, right. The messenger from Silt Welt could transform too.

The feeling he gave off was kinda like that of a monster. Is that related to this…?

The Hakuko blood's already been modified to its fullest.

"Anyways, until the third tower's boost runs out, I'll modify you all into whatever form you want. Of course, like Atlas over there, there may be some who cannot be changed. Prepare yourselves for that." (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Treated Slaves)

Good answer.

I guess I may be able to count on them a bit.

"Then everyone else, review your shortcomings, and prepare for tomorrow's battle." (Naofumi)

I signal the group to disperse.

You know, I actually have a mountain of things I have to be doing.

This time, I made improvements on the Raph race, and made my next creation. I had just finished my Tali race, and now this.

The second generation Raphs were made with fixing the low abilities of the first generation in mind. Their base abilities and intelligence were increased. Their appearance is as of yet the same, but they'll be more powerful than the first generation.

The Tali race was made in a form closer to that of humans.

I made it so they were bipedal.

As I was resting to recover energy to modify the slaves, Firo came with the other monsters.

"What's up?" (Naofumi)

"Well, you see, these children asked when it was their turns to get modified.” (Firo)

“Ah, so that’s it. What sort of shape do you want?” (Naofumi)

As I asked, the monsters turned to the Raph and Tali race specimens in the tanks, and cried out.

“They want to be of the small oneechan race. In a way different from with Mii-kun.” (Firo)

“I see…” (Naofumi)

What an advantageous proposal.

If they wish to aid in my experiments, then my research will progress.

And these monsters were of relatively high level too.

Combined with the Raph Race’s power, they’ll become much more useful than the mass produced models.

“If that’s the case, then it’s simple.” (Naofumi)

I’ve already established the foundation.

I’ll just have to implant the Raph race genes into them to whatever extent they wish it.

Based on the results of their changes, my research will advance.

“Well, I’ll leave it up to you guys to what extent you want to keep your original races.” (Naofumi)

Today will be a busy one.

Until the third tower became vulnerable, I poured my efforts into modifying the slaves and the monsters.

By the way, Firo left to invite Melty over, and returned in failure.

It seems that the princess is rejecting my plan.

I was going to purify all of the trashy nobility in Malromark, and spare only her, yet this is how she reacts.

She’s a stubborn lass.

"Ah, Firo. Do you want me to add anything to you?" (Naofumi)

"Um, you see, Firo is..." (Firo)

I heard out Firo's request as well.

"Let's see. I'll try to take care of it when I find time." (Naofumi)

"Yay!" (Firo)

She was depressed after being rejected by Melty, but she regained some vigor.

How selfish a bird.

"Ah, Naofumi-sama..." (Atlas)

As always, Atlas is sleeping near me.

Fohl failed in dragging her away.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 286 – War Reversal

---

The third day.

I grant the modifications to the slaves that wish for it, but...

To complete the modifications, a large amount of energy is required. By the time the Third Tower's boost runs out, I could only finish a couple of slaves and monsters.

The amount of boats on the Faker's side increased by a bit.

"I won't let you get in the way of the God of the Shield-sama's plans!"

The Third Tower Defense front is a maelstrom of discord.

It's an all-out war.

However... for some reason, they are able to make use of all of my new modified slaves' weaknesses, and we face a stream of defeats.

"As God-sama ordered, we have to run!"

"Yeah!"

Taking into account what happened in the second tower, I made secret escape passages to prevent capture upon defeat.

Just by entering the various escape ways within the tower, my subordinates can achieve safety when at a disadvantage.

Now then...

Those on the front lines are the monsters I modified to have the appearance of Raphs and Talis. The sight of them send Rat and Taniko into a frenzy.

"Marquis! I'm definitely not forgiving you for this one!" (Rat)

"Yeah! I'll make you regret it!" (Taniko)

Both of them are quite mad, but it's not like I care.

It's something the monsters wished for.

More importantly... those guys aren't saying anything about the new slaves assisting our forces...

Well, it's an emergency situation, so perhaps they got used to it.

... I've been thinking this for a while, but isn't our information getting leaked?

I need to deal with this immediately.

Oh? Even Melty's participating in this invasion.

Even though they were against it, I organized the group of Atlas, Firo, Fohl, and Motoyasu to guard the core.

Everyone else engages with enemies within the tower whenever they find them.

The situation is unfavorable. My forces are often pushed into unavoidable retreat.

"You came again, Raphtalia-oneechan... Can't you let master be free already?" (Firo)

"What do you mean free!? Wasn't Naofumi-sama planning on returning to his world? Why does he need to conquer this world anyways?" (Raphtalia)

"Firo-chan! Stop it already." (Melty)

"Ah, Melty-chan. Melty-chan will follow master, right?" (Firo)

Firo tilts her head as she asks.

But unfortunately, Melty cannot return Firo's smile.

"Firo-chan, there's no way that I could do that." (Melty)

"Is that so?" (Firo)

"Of course. I haven't met him yet, but he began scheming for world domination, started producing strange monster legions, and began modifying the children from his own village. I can't leave him be!" (Melty)

"Master is, you see, he has a great smile. Firo rarely ever saw master so happy before, you know." (Firo)

"Really? I kinda wanna see that... No that doesn't matter. Firo-chan! Please help us stop Naofumi.” (Melty)

“Eh~? Even if it’s Melty-chan’s request, I won’t do this one.” (Firo)

“... Firo-chan. Once Naofumi returns to normal, he’s going to scold you severely. You better be prepared for that.” (Melty)

“I won’t let you~” (Firo)

And the battle commences.

Or it should have. Motoyasu, who was being silent until now, addresses Firo.

“By the way, Firo-tan. Did you not call that pig over there Raphtalia-oneechan just now?” (Motoyasu)

“Mu! Don’t talk to me!” (Firo)

Firo bluntly shows her dislike of him and rejects conversation.

As I thought. This battle party is no good.

“Oy, fiancé over there! Did Firo-tan really call that thing Onee-san?”
(Motoyasu)

“Who’s anyone’s fiancé!? Are you still believing Naofumi’s bullcrap?” (Melty)

“Yeah, she definitely said that.” (Midori)

The one who supplements the info is Midori.

And wait, that is unnecessary.

“Motoyasu, don’t mind it.” (Naofumi)

I address him from a distance.

“Is that so, Father-in-Law?” (Motoyasu)

“Don’t just brush it off so easily!” (Raphtalia)

“Oya? I thought you were merely a pig, but you can speak human tongue.”
(Motoyasu)

“Words are...?” (Naofumi)

Mu... due to some strange reason, the fake's words enter Motoyasu's ears. Besides Filo Rials, Melty is supposed to be the only woman he can hear.

"Melty-chan! Please try telling the Hero of the Spear that I am Firo's sister."
(Raphtalia)

"Oneechan, prepare yourself!" (Firo)

Firo directs kicks at the fake.

The fake sidesteps them and gives a request to Melty.

"Ren-san!" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah!" (Ren)

Ren steps in front to confront Firo.

"Move, sword person." (Firo)

"I'm sorry, but I can't do that. I'm fighting to repay my debt to Naofumi here." (Ren)

"Mu!" (Firo)

"I can't go around accepting that Naofumi. No, this time, for his sake... I'll fight to return the home he made to normal!" (Ren)

As if resounding with his cry, the sword in his hands changes shape.

"Growing power...? This is..."

The double edged sword in his hands changed shape to that of a katana. Could this be?

"It leveled up... and turned into the Spirit Turtle Katana?"

Ren swings it a few times in front of him, and turns it in his hand, before taking a stance.

All of a sudden, the enemy unlocked a new power. It doesn't feel good to be on the receiving side of these situations.

“Mu…” (Firo)

Ren and Firo begin glaring at each other.

They both understand that a single move could be fatal. Neither of them can budge. That means one side needs to get support, or this won't go anywhere.

What is Atlas doing? I look around, and find her intercepting Rishia. She's not letting any support fire get in.

That fake! What is she plotting.

She has Ren and Itsuki and even Rishia for support.

Should I call the slaves who escaped and Kiel to help?

No, a large portion of the tower is already occupied by the slaves from the village.

I'll need to free up Firo's group to swiftly deal with them.

Ku… at a time like this, Sadina is… hard at work fighting the villages.

She's using magic this time, but perhaps due to her opponent's speed, she's not hitting with it. I can't count on her as a reinforcement.

“And Fohl-kun, what the hell are you doing?” (Raphtalia)

“M-me!? But…” (Fohl)

“From the journey we had together, I can understand just how important Atlas-chan is to you. However… you're just silently watching your precious sister going down a dangerous path… Is that really something a caring brother should do!?” (Raphtalia)

“Uwah… I am… I am always Atlas's ally!” (Fohl)

Fohl swings his fists at the fake.

But before the blows reach her, the fake slaps Fohl strongly across the face. Haha, what's with that attack? It had no power behind it.

“If Naofumi-sama starts doing bad things, then like now, I will do my best to set him on the right path. But what are you doing? You just act like a tumor on her side... like that, nothing will be resolved. This will end with... Atlas-chan getting with that strange Naofumi! Is that the result of your care for your sister?" (Raphtalia)

With eyes as if he just had an epiphany, Fohl looks over the fake.

"... That's right. I am... I treasured Atlas too much, so I never thought about her. I had approved of him a bit, but when he's like that, I can't be handing Atlas over to him!" (Fohl)

Through a turn of events, Fohl turns. He fires a skill in Atlas's direction. Seeing through it, she barely dodges.

"... Onii-sama, what sort of joke is this?" (Atlas)

"It's no joke! I'll use all of my power to prevent you from straying down the wrong path!" (Fohl)

"So you will betray Naofumi-sama?" (Atlas)

"Yeah, that guy isn't the one I know of. The one I know doesn't have such an ominous smile, and he had a kind of clumsy kindness. If it's that... clumsy guy, I think I would be fine with entrusting you to him. Just a bit." (Fohl)

Ku... The traitor Fohl starts battling Atlas.
What the hell is Motoyasu doing!?

"Hey, you're going to attack me? If you lay hands on Firo's fiancé, you know what's going to happen, right?" (Melly)

"Mu~. Melty-chan, you're going to get hurt. Go home!" (Firo)

Firo doesn't want to see Melty injured, but she also doesn't want to look at Motoyasu. She speaks without taking her eyes off of Ren.

"Gu..."

But Motoyasu isn't able to take on Melty's willpower?

Aren't you supposed to be a Hero?

Why is your heart losing to a little girl?

"About your previous question, you're right. Raphtalia-san is the person who fulfills the role of Firo's sister. From Naofumi's perspective as well."
(Melty)

Melty points to the fake as she answers.

The fake sticks her chest out, and glares at Motoyasu.

"T-that was the case!?" (Motoyasu)

"Can you hear my words now?" (Raphtalia)

"O-of course, Firo-tan's beautiful sister, my Sister-in-Law!" (Motoyasu)

This one... he begins praising the girl he had referred to as a pig moments before.

He looked to women as pigs, and lusted after birds. But just how rotten are his eyes?

"Then Motoyasu-san. Please help us stop Naofumi-sama. It's a request from Firo's sister." (Raphtalia)

"Don't listen to her words, Motoyasu. Just kill the fake already." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama, please stay out of this." (Raphtalia)

"There's no way I could. I am-" (Naofumi)

The fake threw her sword at the Bioplant I modified to act as a speaker. It will take 30 seconds to regenerate. What shall I do?

"The current Naofumi-sama has become strange due to a curse. Since you were with him, did you feel something off?" (Raphtalia)

"Is that so? I get the feeling that Father-in-Law always gave off that sort of feeling." (Motoyasu)

"... Your bad point is that you can't look at others at all. You only think about yourself! Naofumi-sama will never give Firo away to someone like that!" (Raphtalia)

"No way! Then I am..." (Motoyasu)

"It's not too late. I heard about it. When Firo turned strange, you worked hard to help her. Like that time... for now stop Firo, and then let's stop Naofumi-sama. All will be fine!" (Raphtalia)

"Understood Sister-in-Law! I, Motoyasu, will shed tears as I make an enemy of Firo-tan and Father-in-Law!" (Motoyasu)

"When Naofumi-sama turns back to normal, he will definitely praise you for your hard work. I promise you that." (Raphtalia)

"MUUUUUU! Oneechan is mean!" (Firo)

"Ara, Firo? Now your hated person won't be so close to Naofumi-sama." (Raphtalia)

"Ah, I see. Oneechan, thank you!" (Firo)

"Don't thank her!" (Naofumi)

I scream out of the fixed speaker.

Fohl and Motoyasu, for what have they reached the same consensus? If they pull out, our already-meager forces will suffer a heavy loss.

"Master, what's wrong?" (Firo)

"Look around you." (Naofumi)

"Eh?" (firo)

Atlas is fighting Fohl, and Firo's been drawn into fighting both Ren and Motoyasu. What's more, Melty is still there.

I'll also add on that making an enemy of Motoyasu means making an enemy of his army of three.

The battle immediately reversed.

Like this, we don't even have a 10000 to 1 chance of victory.

"Firo, lie all you want. Persuade Motoyasu to come back." (Naofumi)

"Okay. Please save Firo, spear person." (Firo)

"I'm sorry Firo-tan. That will have to wait after I stop Father-in-Law with Sister-in-Law." (Motoyasu)

"How mean!" (Firo)

"This is also for Firo-tan's sake, Ah... I, Motoyasu have awoken to my mission of love." (Motoyasu)

"Mu~! The result is fine, but I can't stand that bitch!" (Motoyasu's Three)

As always, the three Filo Rials mouth off, as they side with their Motoyasu, and glare at Firo.

These guys are idiots, but their presence can greatly alter the flow of battle. If I don't order for retreat, it'll be dangerous.

"... We've been put at a bit of a disadvantage." (Atlas)

"But Firo will work hard~!" (Firo)

"No. At this rate, we'll be made into hostages. Naofumi-sama, please grant permission for retreat." (Atlas)

"... There's no choice. Granted!" (Naofumi)

Following my orders, Atlas brushes off Fohl's hands, and activates an emergency escape passage.

Ku... my plans were crumbled all at once.

Now I fear for tomorrow, and the day after.

"Eh? ... Firo hasn't lost." (Firo)

"But you will soon."

"Mu... I won't lose tomorrow!" (Firo)

This is what you call numerical advantage.

Surrounded by the fake party, Firo stamps her foot in frustration. She kicks the floor hard enough to open a hole, and makes a run for the emergency exit on the lower floor.

"Wait, Firo-chan!" (Melly)

"Firo-tan!" (Motoyasu)

"That barrier blocks pursuit, so it's impossible. For now, let's destroy the tower." (Raphtalia)

You bitch... fake, you twisted your words to take Motoyasu and Fohl.
How could this... like this, I'm at an extreme disadvantage.
As expected, the third tower was destroyed, and I only had five left.

"Now then... for a strategy meeting."

In my main base lab and exhausted Kiel gathers the modified slaves and monsters.

"Following this incident, Fohl-Niichan and the Hero of the Spear-sama were taken by the other side." (Kiel)

Those goddamn traitors.

... Ah right, there should be one more traitor.

"Even though we worked so hard."

"Why were they able to learn our weaknesses so easily?"

"That's something I'll explain." (Naofumi)

I touch a stone tablet, and bring up a certain image.

That image was of the individual who was relaxing even in the strategy meeting.. The one who looked after everyone.

"Sadina, isn't that your fault?" (Naofumi)

"Ara? Why do you think so?" (Sadina)

"You have no motivation when fighting in the towers. Also, you were there most of the times I spoke of the weaknesses. There's also the fact that you go on patrol a lot." (Naofumi)

I did have a vague suspicion.

But I never thought someone would plan betrayal in front of me. Especially not someone as skillful as her.

No, as we both lost Raphtalia, I thought we were sharing sadness. However, in truth, she was leaking information to the opposition. My doubts led me to confirmation.

I would have let this slide had it not been for today's result. Perhaps it was my fault for not monitoring. For her to have sworn her life to Raphtalia, I didn't want to think that she was a traitor.

"Are you sure it's not a coincidence?" (Sadina)

"If you wanted it to appear that way, then you should have fought in such a manner. Unfortunately for you, I sentence you to confinement within my laboratory. If the slaves I modify for next time don't have their weaknesses taken advantage of, you'll be confirmed as a spy. As my research material, you'll be subjected to much harsher experiments than the other slaves."

(Naofumi)

"Ara..." (Sadina)

Sadina reaches behind her back, and reaches for her harpoon, but...

"If you try anything funny, I'll be your opponent." (Atlas)

"Firo too." (Firo)

Before she can, Atlas and Firo appear behind her.

"Arara, then should Oneesan surrender peacefully?" (Sadina)

Sadina raises her hands above her head.

"Why would you do such a thing?" (Naofumi)

"Because the child that Naofumi-chan thinks of as a fake is the real thing."

(Sadina)

"Hah! How foolish." (Naofumi)

That fake is real?

The real one is already gone!

That's why I'm reviving her, isn't it?

"Throw her in a cell!" (Naofumi)

The cells I made are of material even Sadina can't break. There's a device nearby that absorbs magic, so she won't be able to use any. I can control the output on it, and this time, I'll set it to suck every fiber of magic out of her body.

Within the cell, I made her change to human form, and hung her arms up in shackles.

"Repent in here for a while." (Naofumi)

"Ara..." (Sadina)

If you really turn out to be a spy, I'll be giving you hell after this.

"And so, we should expect some results next time." (Naofumi)

"As expected of Niichan! But Sadina-nee-chan, how mean." (Kiel)

"Right. If this proves to be true, we'll be torturing her for a bit when this is over." (Naofumi)

"A penalty game, right? Will you send her to be sold in Zeltburg or something?" (Kiel)

"No, torture." (Naofumi)

How peaceful this dog's brain is.

Our side lost our fighting force, Motoyasu, you know.

Even though he's rotten, he's a hero. The modified slaves are at a disadvantage... I see, doesn't Motoyasu have plenty of weaknesses?

"Firo." (Naofumi)

"What?" (Firo)

"Charm Motoyasu. If possible, make him swear loyalty. Like that fake did, you'll have to convince him to come over." (Naofumi)

"Eh?..." (Firo)

Firo clearly seems to hate the notion.

"The spear person doesn't listen to words at all." (Firo)

"Ah." (Naofumi)

Yeah, that's right. I'm surprised the fake managed to sway him.
Even I don't have that much confidence in my ability to talk to him.
For now, I've been able to use Firo as an intermediate, and things have worked out.

I thought I could have Firo persuade her, but now that he has a twisted goal, I'm not sure if we can stop him.

If I make Firo open her legs and seduce him... no, that's not happening.
That's not enough to stop the idiot.

Damn... what should I do?

"Niichan, everyone here decided to follow you. Don't worry about it alone.
Let's work hard together." (Kiel)

The slaves and monster look towards me with fiery gazes.

... That's right. I'll just have to try what I can.

"Then shall we commence the modifications?" (Naofumi)

I also need to devote time to researching the real Raphtalia.

I've proceeded quite far in Mii-kun's tuning, so I'll just have to give it my best.

I'm in the middle of using the data I got from the monsters to complete a third generation.

"First, let's start with Firo's powerup." (Naofumi)

"Yay!" (Firo)

I take Firo, and return to my lab.

I let Kiel and the others simulate a battle in the fourth tower.

For the slaves that had their weaknesses know, I told them to fight without transforming. To nullify enemy attacks before attacking.

The newly modified slaves are going to be a large fighting force next time.

If the fakes manage to grasp their weaknesses, Sadina is guilty. Otherwise, she goes free.

"Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

Atlas follows me around.

"In tomorrow's battle, you'll have to stop your brother." (Naofumi)

"Yes. Even if it costs me my life." (Atlas)

"If it seems impossible, retreat. Don't risk your life. If we sacrifice too much to win, then I can't call that victory." (Naofumi)

"Understood. But are you sure that's fine?" (Atlas)

"There's nothing I can't solve with my new intellect. As long as the last tower remains, I'll be able to do something. Before that, I must perfect my Raph race for the final battle! Once completed a single one of them should be able to hold off the lot of them." (Naofumi)

Right... Raphtalia's revival hasn't been granted yet, but research progresses. I must do whatever I can.

I put Firo into the culture tank, and activate my abilities.

"W-what!?" (Naofumi)

Before I could proceed with her own modification, I was surprised by her information window.

There are traces of experimentations like the ones I'm doing on the Raphs. This is like the time I tried to modify Fohl.

"What's wrong?" (Firo)

"No, don't worry about it." (Naofumi)

Oh? There's even a security program like mine.

I made it so that if anyone other than me raises a Raph, it won't grow as normal.

With this, it is impossible for anyone else to properly raise a Raph.

At best, they would be able to bring out one third of their true potential.

A system like that has been implanted into Filo Rials.

The coding seems cobbled together, and the important parts are blurry.

It's like the codes from my first and second generation were mixed together.

I worry whether or not this would make for good reference.

I want some specimens other than Firo. If I have a couple of Filo Rials, my research should make leaps and bounds

I had a few other than Firo among my subordinates. Should I take some samples later?

I also want some data from the treacherous Filo Rials. I'll think of how to capture them.

For now, let's copy Firo's information, and store it.

"So Firo, you said you wanted to be able to fly, right?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, I don't want to lose to Gaelion! The only one master rides is Firo."

(Firo)

"Fumu, understood." (Naofumi)

I look at her modification screen, and read over the individual entries.

Hmm? There's a strange, disconnected portion.

Looking at the modification tree, there a branch that I barely have the necessary materials to unlock.

If I connect this, what will happen?

It seems to have some relation to wings.

There's a high probability that it's a function the race lost over time.

In the storehouse, Melty had a treasure, that appeared to be the fossil of a flying Filo Rial.

If I analyze and tamper with this, She should be able to revert to her ancestral form. this strand, I should be able to connect it.

The materials are really rare. I only have one in my storehouse.

This may turn into a big problem later.

"What's wrong?" (Firo)

"Firo, how do you want to fly?" (Naofumi)

"How?" (Firo)

"Do you want to use your wings, or use magic to propel yourself? Do you want to make footholds in the air, or store up gasses within the body to float?" (Naofumi)

In the open tree, I can implant any one of those concepts.

By the way, for personal reasons, if she chooses the last one, I'm changing her name to Balloon Firo.

It's based on Firo's choice, but I recommend that one.

I feel a strong affinity for balloons.

If it's Balloon Firo, she should be able to defeat Motoyasu.

I just get that feeling.

"I don't want to just float." (Firo)

"... I see. Then wings or magic. The first one requires physical strength, the second magic." (NAofumi)

"What about Gaelion?" (Firo)

"I haven't confirmed it, but it's probably the latter. With wings, you can fly for a while, but if you don't lighten your own body, your all-around abilities will drop. With magic, you can use only magic to propel yourself, but you have a lower flight time.” (Naofumi)

In truth, Gaelion’s flight time isn’t that long.

He glides for quite a bit, and I bet he recovers magic while doing so.

And doesn’t Firo have ways of recovering magic?

“I think the latter will be easier.” (Naofumi)

“Then that’s fine.” (Firo)

“Got it.” (Naofumi)

The materials are scarce, but if it’s to power up Firo, I’ll gladly use them.

With a cracking sound, Firo regained one of the powers of her ancestors.

“Now Firo won’t lose to Gaelion~!” (Firo)

It will take a while until the modification finishes.

I use my Filo Rial research data, and that of the other modified monsters to create my third generation Raph Race… I also construct the concept for my Riya Race.

I also want to use a dragon for reference now.

“Once your modification finishes, I have a job for you.” (Naofumi)

“Got it!” (Firo)

After the modification finished, Firo flapped her wings. They left light afterimages behind as she lifted off of the ground.

“WaaaAAAH! I’m really flying, master!” (Firo)

In great excitement, Firo reports this to me.

“Yeah, but you’re using magic to fly. It will be difficult to fly for long periods of time.” (NAofumi)

“Got it!” (Firo)

"Then let me give you your mission." (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Firo)

"Well..."

—

"KYUA!"

"Why do I have to go get Gaelion?" (Firo)

"I wanted to use him for reference, and he'll provide some force."

(Naofumi)

I know Gaelion wanted to come to my side.

That's why I sent a flying Firo to infiltrate, and invite him.

"... Why did you invite me?" (Gaelion)

True Gaelion surfaces.

"The one I invited was not you. I said this before, but I'm replenishing my forces. Instead of following the fake, the child Gaelion wanted to follow me."

(Naofumi)

I give Firo another job.

She nods, and flies off again.

"Gu... Don't come out, just quietly... Kyua!" (Gaelion)

It seems the personalities within Gaelion are at war.

Fumu...

"Gaelion, you wanted power, so you went to Rat for modifications, did you not? Am I no good?" (Naofumi)

"No, you're fine. But I cannot stand being of the same position as that Filo Rial." (Gaelion)

“Fu… Kogaelion. If you work hard, I’ll modify you as you wish.” (Naofumi)

“Gunu! Sto- won’t you stop!?” (Gaelion)

Gaelion holds his head for a while, and cries out, but eventually, he raises his face.

“KYUA!” (Gaelion)

Child Gaelion was able to hold the older one down.

“What sort of modification do you want?” (Naofumi)

I’ll also see just how far along my research will be aided by studying a dragon.

To say the result, Gaelion wanted fast legs, even when pulling the carriage. Firo wasn’t the only one thinking of her rival.

Gaelion was quite troubled over his slow speed on land.

So along with my investigations, I increased his leg strength.

Of course, on the promise that he would follow me.

After that, I sent Firo out a few times, and got most of the traitor’s Filo Rials to join our side.

How?

Piyo was the one holding us back, but upon seeing Firo flying freely through the sky, very few Filo Rials chose not to follow me.

Now onto the results of the fourth day.

For all of the other heroes to oppose me was a fatal error.

But there’s something I was able to determine.

They were unable to pinpoint the newly modified slaves’ weaknesses. And that’s that.

Right before the fourth tower was destroyed, the faker even asked me.

‘What became of Sadina?’

"Sadina, as expected, they were unable to pinpoint my slaves' weakpoints."

(Naofumi)

"Ara..." (Sadina)

I attach handcuffs on her, take her out of her cell, and force her into my lab's cultivation tank.

"I wonder what shall become of me." (Sadina)

"I wonder. First, I'll cover your smooth skin in hair. The color will be brown. I'll make your tail striped in black and brown. So that whenever you enter water, it will soak into the fur!" (Naofumi)

"Oh my. How scary." (Sadina)

"After that, I'll give you two large fangs, and make people wonder whether you're a whale, walrus, or seal! You'll become a completely unidentifiable lifeform!" (Naofumi)

"Kya how frightening. While you're at it, can you increase my alcohol tolerance? I'd also like some gills, so I can spend all of my time underwater." (Sadina)

"... You sure are calm!" (Naofumi)

How impudent! When you're nothing but a traitor!

I'll do modifications painful enough that your life will hang in the balance!

But as I activate my ability on Sadina, I lose my ability to speak.

W-what?

I look at Sadina's screen, and find myself at a loss for words.

It's fundamentally different than Atlas, Fohl and the other children.

Traces of modification, vestiges of magic, there was nothing of the sort.

There was only data for her physical form.

Perhaps I should compare it to a sheet of paper.

Fohl, Atlas, Kiel and Firo were colored from the start. What's more, they had various things glued to them.

I wouldn't be surprised to find red where I was expecting blue.

But Sadina's sheet was that of a pure white Demi-Human.
The real thing... Are these the words that I should be using here?

"You... really, what are you?" (Naofumi)

"Ara? What do you mean by that?" (Sadina)

"There's something different about you from the other Demi-Humans."
(Naofumi)

"Ah, so that's it. Onee-san's family, you see... is a long-standing bloodline, with exclusive blood. Could that be it? Ah, this is a secret, but Raphtalia-chan's the same." (Sadina)

"Raphtalia too!?" (Naofumi)

That means... What sort of existence are Demi-Humans? The amount of mysteries increased by one.
... If I don't understand the concept, reviving Raphtalia will be impossible.

"But this is this, and that is that." (Naofumi)

I activate a painful modification on Sadina.

This is the punishment for betrayal!

But as she's Raphtalia's guardian, I made it borderline, within the scope where I could revert her to normal.

After she loses fighting spirit, I can implant a core into her to make her follow my orders, and have her fight the fakes.

"Ara, how stimulating, Naofumi-chan. Oneesan is almost going to..."
(Sadina)

"Just how carefree are you!?" (Naofumi)

I did enough that a normal person would faint from the pain, but Sadina remains calm throughout the process.

In order to fill the hole left by Motoyasu and Fohl, I tried to do some recruiting in the village, and plenty of other things, but... On the fifth day,

True Gaelion betrayed, and with our forces crippled again, we faced yet another defeat.

Sadina destroyed the core I implanted to control her, and she joined the fake's camp.

From the fourth to the seventh day, I had nothing but defeat.

–

And on the eighth day.

“Niichan! We can't hold them back any longer!” (Kiel)

The fakers destroyed the eighth tower core, and the barrier surrounding the laboratory collapsed in its entirety.

I have not the time to erect it once more.

I thought about it before, but since tuning the equipment is difficult, moving the base would mean abandoning the lab.

I finally made the eighth generation Raph Race, Tali Race, Riya Race, Rafuta Race, Taria Race. Even though I'm so close to reviving Raphtalia. (TL: I'm kinda glad he didn't make a Futa Race)

If I work to the very last moment, I will be unable to avoid death.

Also... I've already completed my ultimate weapon.

... If instead of making the Raph Race, I put my energy towards making perfect weapons of mass genocide, then perhaps I would have won. But I should dispose of such thoughts.

My goal was to conquer the world alongside Raphtalia.

She's more important than the domination.

I have no regrets.

“Niichan! We need to get out of here quickly! They're coming, everyone's already been captured.” (Kiel)

The fake and the heroes have infiltrated the lab. Without a place to run, my followers who risked their lives on the frontlines were all captured by the enemy. I saw all of the footage from here.

I guess this is a good time as ever.

"I'll go with you, so Niichan, we have to run away." (Kiel)

"So we surrender this fort to them... ah right, Kiel." (Naofumi)

"What? If you don't hurry, we won't make it." (Kiel)

"You told me to make you a crepe tree before, right?" (Naofumi)

I hand a modified bioplant seed over to Kiel.

"See, this here is a seed for a crepe tree. It's weak point is that it has no reproductive capabilities. You can't grow more than one." (Naofumi)

"Niichan..." (Kiel)

"No matter what happens, you have to survive. You got that?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah! I'll work hard for Niichan's sake!" (Kiel)

Saying that, Kiel ran out.

"Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

Atlas comes, together with Firo.

"Ah, so it's you... go with Kiel to the final battle. There are still things I must do." (Naofumi)

"What about master?" (Firo)

"In the case that you guys lose, I'll activate my last resort." (Naofumi)

I point towards a large tank, and display my final weapon.

"It's not like I have no ways to defend myself. Fight without worry."

(Naofumi)

"Okay, got it." (Firo)

"In order to serve as Naofumi-sama's shield, I'll stake my life on this fight."

(Atlas)

"I'll leave it to you." (Naofumi)

"Those words alone are enough motivation for me." (Atlas)

And Atlas and Firo left.

... Well the basic concept is already accommodated in the seventh generation.

Even without my input, if I increase my amount of Seventh Generations, an eighth will be born.

No matter how long it takes, I will revive Raphtalia.

I couldn't give her the ability to transform, and I don't have the time now.

No, it's more like this is the limit of my technology...

With as much time as I have, I need to increase the amount of Seventh Generation Raphs as much as possible. Then perhaps Raphtalia will one day be revived.

The probability is low, but the current me has no other option.

The final battle commenced.

---

Actual Author note: This extra arc will end in a day or two.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 287 – Research Result

---

“... Good of you to come all the way here. Perhaps the result of the war has already been decided, but I will not step down here.” (Atlas)

“Atlas, just give up already!” (Fohl)

Just in front of my lab’s final line of defense, Atlas, Firo, and Kiel waited for the fake party.

And Fohl screamed at Atlas.

“Onii-sama? No matter what sort of disadvantage they face, the Hakuko race is not permitted to run. That’s something I thought you of all people would understand.” (Atlas)

“... I see. Then Atlas, for your sake, I will harden my heart and discipline you.” (Fohl)

“Kiel-kun, Firo. When this is over, I’m going to give a hell of a lecture to Naofumi-sama, so you’d better be prepared.” (Raphtalia)

“I’ll be the one to protect Niichan!” (Kiel)

“I definitely won’t lose.” (Firo)

The person to make the first move is Atlas.

“TeEEEEEEEEEEI!” (Atlas)

Atlas uses her hand like a sword to slash at Fohl and the fake, and Firo rushes at Ren and Motoyasu in the style she’s accustomed to.

Finally, Kiel closes in on Itsuki and Rishia with an irregular step pattern and begins her assault.

“Fast!”

“Atlas-san... we fight every time, but it seems you’re progressively getting stronger.” (Raphtalia)

“I need strength... Getting stronger is my greatest desire. I still... need to become stronger to defend Naofumi-sama!" (Atlas)

"Atlas... You've grown up well... But still, I won't accept that man as he is right now!" (Fohl)

Atlas presses the fake and Fohl with questions as she keeps a low stance. She dodges and parries their blows waiting for an opportunity to strike. The battle is so tense, that you don't get the feeling she's at a disadvantage, even when it's two on one.

In that regard, Firo's battle is the same... no, Firo's at a greater disadvantage.

Her opponents are two heroes and three Filo Rials.

「High Quick!」 (Firo)

「Spiral Strike!」 (Firo)

Her battle experience and actual level are high, and she has gotten an understanding of both magic and Chi. She casts acceleration magic and hits Motoyasu's groupies, sending them spiraling off.

"Gu... Over this week, I've fought you a couple times. But once more, I must say you're quite an amazing child." (Ren)

"Firo-tan! Amazing! Even though I used the strengthening methods, you can push me back this far!" (Motoyasu)

Without dodging, Ren and Motoyasu lift their weapons and block the blows of Firo's onslaught.

"Atlas-chan is the same, but why do so many fighting geniuses gather around Naofumi?" (Ren)

"Because Firo is the one who will protect master!" (Firo)

The effects of High Quick wear off. Firo flaps her wings and releases traces of magic as she hovers to the ceiling, kicks off it, and sends her foot on a straight course for Ren.

Ren narrowly dodges it, and he swings his sword at her as she passes, but Firo kicks the flat of the blade, redirecting its path.

Aiming for that moment, Motoyasu lets loose a skill. The spear in his hand changes to... Sadina's harpoon.

Perhaps he borrowed it from her and made a copy.

「Triaina!」 (TL: It's trident, just not in English)

A single bolt of Lightning flies at Firo, and shockwaves course through her plumage.

“KYAN! ... No, I won't fall.” (Firo)

She is blown away by Motoyasu's skill, but she rolls before hitting the ground and recovers her stance.

“Woof woof! Rishia-oneechan, prepare yourself!” (Kiel)

Kiel continually assaults Rishia and Itsuki in her Kielberus form.

“FUEeE! Kiel-kun, just give it up already!” (Rishia)

“No way! Niichan is... even if it's just us, we'll always protect Niichan!”
(Kiel)

“... Kiel-kun, I'll apologize beforehand. I'm sorry, but you'll be sleeping for a bit.” (Itsuki)

Itsuki... aims a skill at Kiel. He pulls his bow fully and creates an arrow of light.

“As if an attack like that can hit!” (Kiel)

With a grand gesture, Kiel dodges Itsuki's arrow... or she should have, but as soon as it passes her, it turns around and returns, as if connected by some invisible wire.

Kiel frantically sweeps away the returning arrow with her tail.

... But...

"Splash Arrow... ability, Sleep Arrow." (Itsuki)

When the arrow comes into contact with Kiel's tail, it bursts open.

"Kyan! Uu... not yet..." (Kiel)

"No, unfortunately... you're done for." (Itsuki)

"Eh... Ah..." (Kiel)

Kiel's expression turns blank. Eventually, the whites of her eyes reveal themselves, and she collapses on the ground.

"As I guessed you would dodge like that from the beginning, I shot a Splash Arrow with a sleep effect. For a while, your conscience will not return..." (Itsuki)

"Kiel-kun... You really cared for Naofumi-san, didn't you." (Rishia)

"Well then, the battle still goes on. Let's assist." (Itsuki)

"Yes!" (Rishia)

Itsuki and Rishia set their aims on Atlas and Firo and each unleash their own skills.

"Kyah... No, I'm still standing." (Atlas)

"GYAN! Uu... Firo can't lose!" (Firo)

Even though they are sent flying and take various attacks, Firo and Atlas refuse to admit defeat. They continue fighting even when blood starts erupting from their mouths

"Atlas, just stay down." (Raphtalia)

"I- I still have fight left in me!" (Atlas)

"I see..." (Fohl)

Fohl clenches his fist and thrusts it into Atlas's abdomen.

Up 'til now, Atlas had been easily avoiding his attacks by bending backwards and spinning. She had gotten here with minimum damage. But this time, the attack lands exactly on mark. Atlas cries out and goes limp.

"Atlas... this time, it's my victory. Your brother is full of nothing but praise for you." (Fohl)

Holding the unconscious Atlas, Fohl mutters in an emotionless voice.
Last is Firo...

At this point, I activate my final weapon.

We're outnumbered. With just Firo, we have no chance to grasp victory. They'll arrive in the next room soon enough.

I'd like to see this battle through to the end, but I need to use the last bit of energy left.

I'm sorry Firo. Please buy me just a little bit of time.

Eventually, my weapon begins its activation.

"Rafu~"

I drain the liquid out of a large tank. What emerges is a fully armed, battle-ready body controlled by Rat's monster, Mii-kun.

Not only is his body bigger than the last one I made, I also bestowed various abilities unto him.

In the worst case, I've given him a self-evolving function, so perhaps he will become an Eighth Generation Raph. I've buried my research reports somewhere around his core.

After I die, perhaps someone will pick up my research. If they only follow my notes, Raphtalia will revive.

This one has done quite a bit in the battles up until now.

Of course, due to my own failure in tuning him, he's gone berserk numerous times. This time, we have no time for something like that. The battle data I loaded onto him is a compilation of that of all the Raphs I've made until now, and I've even given him the ability to change to liquid in case of emergency.

If the core piece gets damaged, it will endlessly regenerate. With this monster, I can force the fake party into an endless battle.

I guess a weakness is that its aerial abilities are below Firo's.

By sending magic to its tail, he can float, but it's only able to carry him for short amounts of time.

"You get it, right? You are the last line of defense. Wait for the fakes in front of the protective equipment in the next room and defeat them!"

(Naofumi)

"Rafu~!"

A large sound echoes with every step, and Miikun exits the laboratory room. Next is... I'll just have to accept what happens.

After activating Mii-kun, I used the energy that recovered to observe Firo's situation.

... As I thought, Firo was beaten as well.

She's been captured by the fakes, and is lying on the ground.

And... the Fakes confront my last defensive mechanism: Mii-kun.

"Rafu~!"

"T-this child is..."

Hmm? Rat joined them while I wasn't watching.

They've met numerous times, but besides his first breakdown, they've fought without much problem.

Even if they encounter each other now, I doubt anything will change.

"Rafu~!"

Now! Annihilate the Fake and her Heroes!

“Rafu~”

Mii-kun beckons them forward with his hand and surrenders the road to the fakes.

“What the hell!” (Naofumi)

He kindly destroys the defensive devices for them, forcefully opens the door, and even begins guiding them around the building.

“Um… what is this child doing?” (Raphtalia)

“Ah… Mii-kun. Could it be that you were using the Marquis, and you were waiting for an opportunity to join our side from the beginning?” (Rat)

“Rafu~”

He nods and gives a bright smile at Rat.

DAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAMMMMMNNNNN IT AAAAAAAAAALLLLLLL!

I thought he was working diligently, but he was using me from the beginning!?

I won't forgive this one!

Just in case something bad happened, I made it so I could modify him remotely.

How lucky.

I use a stone tablet and activate my ability from a distance.

“Rafu~”

Mii-kun spits out the remote control core I implanted and stomps on it.

Ku… Perhaps giving it the ability to turn parts of its body to liquid was my error. I didn't properly manage the parts his core could control.

DamnitDamnitDamnitDamnit! Sadina, Gaelion, and you all had no intention of serving me!

This isn't even a joke anymore.

I guess it's time to activate the self-destruct function.

However, there are still a few slaves in this facility that have yet to evacuate.

... For an emergency escape, there isn't enough energy.

The reason is that I put too much of it towards making the eighth generation.

I could use the portal to run alone, but after destroying the defensive armaments, Gaelion cast his Dragon Sanctuary, making that impossible.

At this point, I have no regrets.

That means there's only one thing I must do.

"I've finally found you, Naofumi-sama!" (Raphtalia)

The fake bursts into my lab with her heroes and various others she picked up along the way.

Hmm? Motoyasu's spear's shape has also changed.

"How good of you all to come and visit me, fakers." (Naofumi)

I activate my second final weapon.

It's something I made out of Bioplant. A vehicle form Plant Golem.

The ground rumbles, and the Golem appears under my feet. I settle into the cockpit and begin controlling it.

It has a skull motif, and I've granted it a flight ability as well.

I clear away the lab's walls and rise to the ceiling. I unload my main armaments on them.

I haven't tested the firepower, so that factor is an unknown.

Though I did set it to be something quite formidable.

"Now shall we start our final battle, fakes?" (Naofumi)

"Ah... Raphtalia-san, what should we do?"

"Let's destroy all of the defenses devices protecting him. If we don't, I doubt he'll even listen to anything we say." (Raphtalia)

The heroes all charge their various skills with EP and SP.

「Gravity Blade!」

「Triaina, new form Brionac!」

「Splash Arrow!」

「Tornado Throw!」

"Uguuuuu..."

The window in front of me notified me of the damage to various parts of the body.

I truly am outnumbered.

Losing even the ability to float, my Plant Golem falls to the ground. I move it to prepare for ground battle.

"Naofumi-sama, grit your teeth." (Raphtalia)

"Who would ever grit their teeth for a fake!" (Naofumi)

"... I'm at the limit of my patience. Even though you may be Naofumi-sama, I'm going to get a little bit violent." (Raphtalia)

The fake quickly approaches me while brandishing her sword.

"Take this!" (Raphtalia)

I move my Shield to take on her sword.

A foreboding snapping sound rings out.

At the same time, pain raced through my head.

And... I feel something passing through my body.

"...?"

With a perplexed expression on her face, the fake thrusts her sword at me again, and again.

Her speed has dropped considerably from the first blow.

However, every time, something within me... I feel Chi coursing through my body with every strike.

Manipulating Chi, was it? I can't remember how I was able to do that.

"Naofumi-sama, could it be..." (Raphtalia)

With her unarmed hand, the fake slaps my cheek.

It isn't a hard blow, but my body contorts quite a bit.

"UGUHAAH!"

I taste blood inside of my mouth.

This is bad. Did something in me break?

"As I thought." (Raphtalia)

"What's up?" (Ren)

"This Naofumi-sama has absolutely no defense. If any one of us were to seriously attack him, he'd die." (Raphtalia)

"W-what!?"

Ku... She saw through me.

That's right. As she stated before, my current Defense stat is... 0.

In exchange for all of its splendid abilities, this is the price for the New Seven Sin Series. It has absolutely no defense.

Or else there's no way I would stay holed up in my base the entire time.

"Why is his defense so pitifully low?"

"It may be due to his curse."

"Uwah... that's no joke."

"Rafu~"

"Marquis... isn't it time for you to surrender already?"

“Fu, who the hell would surrender!? I will continue fighting until I succeed in reviving the real Raphtalia.”

At this point, I’m simply desperate.

After I beat these fakes, I’m going to rule the world. There are plenty of curse skills I haven’t dared testing yet. I can’t go out here.

If I use a Curse Skill on the Castle Plant… right, I’ll make those who oppose me into fertilizer for my base.

Curse Skill-

“I won’t let you!” (Raphtalia)

Before I can even begin chanting a spell, the fake grabs me by the collar, choking me.

“Owowowowow.” (Naofumi)

The pain prevents me from collecting my thoughts.

“Naofumi-sama, please surrender. If you do so, we’ll be able to think of a way to free you from that cursed shield on your arm.” (Raphtalia)

“Hmph, I refuse! You false idol!” (Naofumi)

“Naofumi-sama!” (Raphtalia)

She shakes my collar violently, and I break free.

I prepare to use a Curse Skill again.

“Naofumi-sama! Please just quit it already!” (Raphtalia)

With teary eyes, the fake leaps at me.

She pushes my head to her breasts.

“Please remember. Naofumi-sama, I said this before, right?” (Raphtalia)

The imposter takes a deep breath.

“Please believe. I know that Naofumi-sama never committed any crimes. He shared his precious medicine and saved my life. He’s the Hero of the Shield-sama, the man who taught me how to live, and how to fight… I am your sword, no matter what path you choose to tread down, I will accompany you… For me, and everyone else who chose to follow you, please come back home.” (Raphtalia)

Eh?

Eh?

EEH?

What? These words are… I am… I am…

“Firo, Atlas-chan, and Kiel-kun. I understand why they chose to serve you. Even when under a curse, your base nature did not change. However, I… want you to turn back.” (Raphtalia)

A familiar rhythm beats out near my ear.

And the warmth of this chest…

But how could I accept this.

If this is so, then my… reason for existence… everything I strived for…
gu…

“The Naofumi-sama I believe in is quiet and unsociable. Because he has a trauma regarding women, he is incapable of loving someone else. He laughs at other’s misfortune. While he’s kind, he’s also strict. Yet there are many parts of him I have yet to come across.” (Raphtalia)

‘Ku… Let me go! Don’t touch me anymore!’

Is what I want to say, but I cannot speak.

“You are definitely one of those sides of Naofumi-sama. You lamented so much over my loss. I can tell by looking at the monsters you made. I understand just how much you trusted me. That's why I must offer my words of gratitude." (Raphtalia)

In front of me, the... fake...

"Thank you. Because you came out, I was able to understand yet another part of Naofumi-sama's heart." (Raphtalia)

Her face is red as she kindly looks over mine.

After speaking, she takes something out of the bag hanging on her waist. It's a ball made out of balloon skin and a small flag.

"I brought these to make Naofumi-sama remember. To him, perhaps these were merely cheap goods, but for the current me, they are priceless treasures." (Raphtalia)

And... the fake... no, Raphtalia puts her lips to my cheek.

"I really don't want him to return to his original world! However... more so than this world that does nothing but hurt him, I think it would be better for him if he went back." (Raphtalia)

At that moment.

Something shattered. The outside of my shield falls to pieces, and the New Deadly Sin tree disappeared.

And then I blacked out for a second.

... I see.

From the start, I was never Naofumi Iwatani. I was merely a personality created by the New Seven Deadly Sins series. Merely a false identity made with his mind as the base. A false mind with false aspirations.

"UGGUUUUAAAAAHHH...!"

Along with my scream, I feel my sense of self disappearing.
No, I'm merely returning. As part of the mass known as Naofumi Iwatani.

That may be... for the best.
I am... already satisfied.
I no longer care about the fate of the world.

Raphtalia is alive. She's living here. She's thanking me.
That's enough for me.

The ground shakes, as the Castle Plant begins to collapse.
The Castle is controlled by my Shield—my Shield is its centerpiece.
With a normal shield equipped, there's no way it can maintain its form.

"Rafu~!"

Mii-kun signals everyone to evacuate.

"Raphtalia-san."

"I know!"

Raphtalia starts to run, carrying me on her back.
It's... already time for me to go, it seems.
If the world grants me one last wish, then I wish that Raphtalia and the others get out of this laboratory safely. I wish with all of my heart.

Hey, that is the Hero of the Shield. The real Naofumi Iwatani.
You are... you should realize your true feelings already.

Otherwise... you will definitely regret it.

Now, I'm going to become one part of your heart again... the part of your heart that loves Raphtalia.

But still, I do regret it.

For me to call her a fake this entire time, yet be a fake myself.

There's little time left until the next wave.

Was this a complete waste of time…?

“I see… so that's it…”

With my fading consciousness, I come to a single conclusion.

Based on my brief eight days of existence, I realize that the waves are a fight for_____.

This pointless phenomenon will perhaps _____, but the world will _____.

I remember my enemy's words.

Why is he with Raphtalia…?

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 288 – Damage Restitution

---

Uu.. what is this?

I'm in pain. It feels like I've been forced to watch a strange nightmare over and over again. My head is spinning.

"Naofumi-sama!"

Raphtalia's voice returns consciousness to my body, and my eyes open, signaling the end of the dream.

Before my eyes is Raphtalia, who's carrying me with a worried expression on her face.

"This is...?" (Naofumi)

I look around and find Ren, Itsuki, Rishia, and various others gazing in our direction. We're in front of what appears to be ruins, near the ocean. I think I was supposed to be in Melty's manor...

"Raphtalia, where exactly are we? Why have I collapsed... I think I unlocked a curse..." (Naofumi)

"It's Naofumi-sama! Right now, the one who's here is definitely Naofumi-sama!"

"Hah? What do you mean?" (Naofumi)

I pick myself up, and I examine my surroundings once more.

The roar of the sea echoes in my ears, and I can easily understand that I'm not in the village.

From what I see, it's the island that makes up Sadina's secret base... yet still, something's strange.

Some sort of structure had collapsed and turned into ruins.

Is it some sort of plant?

What I saw next, is a nearby cage containing Firo, Atlas, and Kiel.

"Why are Firo and the others locked up?" (Naofumi)

"Do you not remember anything?" (Raphtalia)

"About what?" (Naofumi)

"I see... Firo and the others took advantage of a commotion and acted up a bit. They'll be in there for a while as punishment." (Raphtalia)

For some reason, those three are looking at me with a sad expression.

"Rafu~"

"Wha?" (Naofumi)

When I look at my feet, I see what seems to be a mix between a small raccoon and a tanuki. A strange monster.

Its size is around that of a small dog, I guess.

What could this be?

"Fake~"

It lifts its paw at Raphtalia and calls out.

"Be quiet!" (Raphtalia)

Even though she rarely gets mad, Raphtalia shouts at the monster and shoos it away.

Upon hearing her voice, the monster immediately flees.

What is the meaning of this?

Hmm?

Rat is glaring at me angrily.

Behind her is a tanuki-ish raccoon, larger in size than Firo's Filo Rial form. It looks like a bigger version of that other monster.

It has quite a sleepy expression on its face.

"Raphtalia, what happened here?" (Naofumi)

"You truly do not remember anything?" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

I have a bad premonition as I nod.

"Let me tell you exactly what happened. Listen carefully." (Raphtalia)

"Are you really Naofumi?" (Ren)

Ren comes over and asks me.

"What's that supposed to mean... did an impostor of me appear, or something?" (Naofumi)

"Well... I'm not sure if you could call that an impostor." (Ren)

Now that I think about it, I feel strangely refreshed.

It's a strange feeling, like that I had when fighting the Wrath Dragon.

... I'm getting a really bad premonition now.

"Um... Naofumi-sama had his consciousness stolen by a cursed shield.

Because of it, he became unable to use the slave crest... though that turned out for the best." (Raphtalia)

"... I see." (Naofumi)

I have a vague feeling something like that happened.

My memory goes up to unlocking some strange series.

I believe it was the New Seven Deadly Sins.

"So what exactly did I do?" (Naofumi)

"What, you ask!?" (Rat)

Rat angles her eyebrows as she retorts.

What? What did I do to make Rat this angry?

"Yeah, please tell me in detail." (Naofumi)

"Marquis, for some absurd reason, you occupied my laboratory, arbitrarily transferred it to this island, and on top of that, you went around modifying my precious Mii-kun to your whim!" (Rat)

"Rafu~"

In response to Rat's scream, the large... Raccoon?... Behind Rat cries out.

"Mii-kun was the monster you cared for in the test-tube, right? I modified him?" (Naofumi)

"Not only that. You preached about how you were going to purify the world, carried out questionable research, and proclaimed you were going to dominate the world." (Rat)

"What!?" (Naofumi)

"... Luckily, before you did anything you couldn't take back, everyone worked together to stop you. It didn't turn into anything serious." (Rat)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"Melly-chan proclaimed that the Hero of the Shield-sama was doing special training for the wave, so he was using unique powers to release monsters. The messengers from Silt Welt also came to our assistance." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia explains as she looks at Firo.

Firo starts shaking in fear as she extends her hand to me.

"Master... Firo wanted to protect that smile." (Firo)

"Yes, no matter what happened, we stayed with you until the last moment." (Atlas)

"It was really fun playing with Niichan." (Kiel)

The three in the cage let out their opinions.

Smile? There's no such thing. Don't protect it.

"Master, you talked about Raphtalia-oneechan the whole time." (Firo)

"Why Raphtalia?" (Naofumi)

"At the start, you approached me with strange mannerism and invited me to join you in conquest. But after I refused such an offer, you came to the conclusion that I was a fake and ran away." (Raphtalia)

"Strange mannerism?" (Naofumi)

"First of all, you used 'Thy' and 'Thou.'" (Raphtalia)

"That sure is strange." (Naofumi)

What the hell is 'Thy'?

I don't get what that's supposed to mean.

No, the same can be said for all the one's I've seen under the influence of a curse.

To summarize, I was not an exception. My head turned strange.

"Next, it was something about how the world was rotten. About how before the wave did its work, you would purge it. You asked for my cooperation as well." (Taniko)

From the sky, Taniko comes aboard Gaelion. She gets off and says as such.

"And after taking that old lady's laboratory, you took all the monsters with you as well. You carried off quite a few of the village children while you were at it." (Taniko)

"Is there no end to this?" (Naofumi)

"Firo, Atlas-chan, and Kiel-kun rode the wave and followed you. Next, you erected a huge Bioplant castle on top of Sadina-neesan's house. I believe you called it the Castle Plant." (Raphtalia)

Wow... what exactly was the cursed me thinking?

Could it be that I directly acted out my various dark feelings against this world's nobility...?

I must've been an unreasonable fellow.

Though there are some personal matters mixed in with these complaints.

"By the way, how much time did we waste taking me down?" (Naofumi)

"A little over a week."

"What was that!?" (Naofumi)

Wait a second, it's already been more than a week!?

I use status magic to view the countdown to the next wave.

Uwah!

It's true. There's only a week and a half left.

"... I performed human experimentation on that group?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. Kiel-kun." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia stares at Kiel, and she curls her tail into a ball in fear.

But sensing her intent, Kiel changes her form.

... It's a small puppy with three heads. Cerberus?

But since Kiel is the base, I get more of a Kielberus impression from it.

"Eh?"

"When I begged him for it, Niichan happily did it for me." (Kiel)

"No matter how strange I was, that's going too far." (Naofumi)

It's human modification, you know... Though she can turn back.

Did the cursed me plan to make her a disposable pawn?

"Niichan, your choice of words was strange, but you constantly worried about me, and you never hurt me. You made whatever changes that weren't too dangerous for me!" (Kiel)

With a regretful expression, Kiel begins letting out tears.

She truly adored that person, but though it was me, it wasn't me. I have no memory of it.

It feels like she's complimenting a stranger.

"That person, while being Naofumi-sama, wasn't Naofumi-sama!"
(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia cries out, and Kiel shuts up.

"Firo, you see, was given the ability to fly by Master." (Firo)

"What...?" (Naofumi)

In the cage, human form Firo bats her wings. Something glitters, and she begins floating.

She's really flying...

But how would she lift off her normally huge body?

She seems built to run on the ground. It's unsettling to imagine her flying around in the sky.

"FUOOOOOH! Firo-tan!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu assaults the cage with his overwhelming emotions.

"Mu! Go away!" (Firo)

With an extremely unpleasant face, Firo rejects him. Atlas thrusts at Motoyasu and drives him away.

"What about you, Atlas?" (Naofumi)

"You told me that it was no good... that I couldn't be modified." (Atlas)

"I see." (Naofumi)

For Firo and Kiel to have been experimented on to this extent... I turn my head towards Raphtalia, while a bad feeling fills my stomach.

"What about the others?" (Naofumi)

"... The slaves undergoing treatment in the lab all became your test subjects, and..." (Raphtalia)

NOOOOOOOOOOOOO!

I did something I can never take back.

There's no way I ever planned on doing anything this inhuman.

"They all underwent complete recoveries. After that, you modified them as per their own request, and they rushed into battle against us." (Raphtalia)

"... What?" (Naofumi)

"At the moment, like Firo's group, they are under our protection."

(Raphtalia)

"Ah, I see." (Naofumi)

Per their own request... what exactly happened?

"Your charisma while under that curse was amazing. Everyone desperately tried to protect you." (Ren)

"... That's right. For some reason, Naofumi-san is always the target of everyone's affections." (Itsuki)

Ren and Itsuki answer.

Itsuki is expressionless, but I feel that he's healing in a different direction from the past Itsuki.

Now that I think about it, since a week's passed, has his curse healed to some extent?

"Itsuki-sama." (Rishia)

"It's alright. The current me can understand that they moved for Naofumi-san's form of justice." (Itsuki)

"Ah, also, there's something that's been bothering me for a while."

(Naofumi)

What exactly are those Raccoon-Tanuki hybrid monsters staring at us from the shadows of the ruins?

They all seem slightly different, and there are a couple of distinct varieties. But without fail, each and every one of them looks like some sort of mix between a Raccoon, Red Panda, and Tanuki. Some of their parts seem vaguely familiar.

I point my finger at them.

“They’re the last remaining traces of the monsters that chose to follow you, mixed with a completely new race of monster you created, of course. They’re the first generation Raph race.” (Rat)

“Say what!?” (Naofumi)

Eh? Those are the monsters from my place!?

“Yeah. Everyone turned out like that, and they came to pick a fight with us.” (Taniko)

Taniko speaks with an irritated expression.

She definitely holds a grudge!

But she did hold the monsters quite close to her heart. I can’t really complain.

“And, like, why do they look like that?” (Naofumi)

There’s a bit of resemblance with Raphtalia’s tail and ears.

Their cries also sound something like: ‘Rafu~’ and ‘Tari~’ and ‘Ri~ya~’.

Connecting them gives a certain name.

Each and every one of them seems to have a conditioned reflex where if they see Raphtalia, they raise their arms and…

“Fake~”

Call out those words.

When I ask that, Sadina comes over, waving her hand. She gives a muffled laugh.

… Why is she brown? She’s also become relatively fluffy.

“After Raphtalia-chan rejected Naofumi-chan, you came under the impression that there was no way Raphtlaia-chan would betray you. You started calling her a fake and started using her hair to try and revive the real Raphtalia-chan.” (Sadina)

“Why!?” (Naofumi)

"Even I can't tell you that one. After my spying was exposed, you made me look like this." (Sadina)

"Are you alright?" (Naofumi)

"According to Rat-chan, it's fixable. I'll be fine." (Sadina)

Muu... what exactly was the other me thinking?

"And, in the end, what are we going to do with those monsters?" (Naofumi)

"They themselves wished for those forms, so... can't we just introduce them to the world as new races?" (Rat)

Rat replies with a defeated expression.

"By the way, the strange Marquis named them Raph race, Tali race, Rafuta race, Riya Race, and Talia race, or something like that, it seems." (Rat)

I truly can't understand what that guy-me-was thinking!

What exactly was he planning on doing by making these strange life forms?

"Wait a second, you called those the first generation, right? Is there a second?" (Naofumi)

"Of course there is. It goes all the way up to seven. You remade a new generation every day, Marquis. What's more, you made battle models, final weapon models, and some other specialized ones. They got closer and closer in appearance to Raphtalia-san, and it got harder for us to fight them." (Rat)

Taniko presents a specimen to me.

"Rafu~"

"This is the seventh generation." (Taniko)

An SD Raphtalia-esque lifeform greets me.

(TL: SD is super deformed. It's an art style, pretty much the one you may recognize as chibi, with large head and small body.)

(ED: I really hate the word super-deformed :( It sounds so nasty. Why couldn't we just leave it as chibi orz)

(TL: This is the original author's sketch of child Raphtalia. I guess you could call it a SD Raphtalia, but SD is to an even greater extent.)

(ED: OMG LOLI RAPHTALIA)

If I change my viewpoint, I guess she looks a little like Raphtalia when she was small.

But even in this form, all she says is Rafu~.

"I don't know what became of the eighth generation. There may be one exactly like the original walking around." (Rat)

Uwah... That would be quite a development.

When I put my hands on my hanged head, Raphtalia places her hand on my shoulder.

"Naofumi-sama." (Raphtalia)

"W-what?" (Naofumi)

"What happens after we overcome the wave?" (Raphtalia)

"I go home?" (Naofumi)

"... Yes." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia puts on a sweet smile and nods.

"It's alright. Though we had a late start, we can still get back on track. Let's work hard together." (Raphtalia)

"That's right... GUHA!" (Naofumi)

I vomit blood all of a sudden.

"W-what is this!?" (Naofumi)

"I bet it's the curse." (Ren)

Ren scratches his head as he mutters this.

Curse?

"You used your newly found intelligence to modify everyone using the minimum amount of your abilities, but it seems there's still a bit of an after-effect." (Ren)

Well, yeah...

Looking at Firo, Kiel, the Raph Race, and all the others I modified, I am aware that I must have done a lot.

I look at my status to find that my wounds are not healing. It's a very minor curse.

I think I can just cover this one with medicine.

Next is... my EP isn't recovering either. I can recover it through normal means, though.

I also found this out later. In daily intervals, the EXP that I got was taken away. The taken EXP went towards feeding the new Raph Race.

If I just fight, I can make up for it.

There may be more, but at present, these are the curses I've identified.

"Though you yourself, when under that curse, was quite weak." (Ren)

"Is that so?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. Your defense was fatally low, and you didn't strengthen that shield."
(Ren)

Muu. In the end, that may have saved me.

"Anyways... the one who's going to be compensating for all the damage done in this incident is me, right?" (Naofumi)

"Yup."

Ah... I feel that I'm going to be losing all the fortune I reaped in the festival. I may even go into debt.

"Luckily, a portion of the research the strange Naofumi-sama conducted was picked up by Rat." (Raphtalia)

"It was full of things I wanted to do. With this, my own research should take great leaps. Though I feel a bit regretful for using it." (Rat)

"Rafu~"

Mii-kun... was it?... puts Rat on his shoulders and begins walking off.

"If you didn't lend this child power, I still think he would have fought. You gave him a first generation Raph body, but he begged you for further strength, so you made him a special 'Final Weapon' body." (Rat)

"I see... didn't you want his body to function on the same system as Dragon cores? Something about versatility?" (Naofumi)

"It appears that you already did that." (Rat)

"Oh, really..." (Naofumi)

"He was the lead actor in the end. If he didn't turncoat in the end, I think we would still be fighting him right now." (Ren)

Ren supplements some information.

Ah, for the love of... What exactly was I doing!?

... Mii-kun, was it?

The word of his betrayal irritates me.

In Sadina's case, she stood by as Raphtalia's ally and worked with her to stop me. Looking at the wider picture, I can't really call that betrayal, and if I was in her position, I would have done the same.

And if I did regain sanity for a brief moment, that would be what I would request.

However this one made use of my insanity to strengthen himself.

From the start, he was an ally of Rat and no friend to me. It's understandable, but unsatisfying.

"Rafu~"

What?

Mii-kun starts Rafu-ing in Rat's ear.

"Eh? What? He made you a test subject, and asked for experimental consent, but never asked you to swear loyalty?" (Rat)

"..." (Naofumi)

What sophism.

Does that mean that if I had asked him to swear loyalty beforehand, he would have refused?

It's the same sophism that I use every day.

Since I was the one at fault this time, I can't complain. But still, how irritating.

To summarize, he wasn't an ally from the start, so it wasn't betrayal.

Because betrayal means to fool those who you think of as allies.

I just went and modified him, so he just quietly withstood it, is probably what he'll try and argue.

I have no memories of the incident, but based on their testimonies, I was the cliché villain, and Raphtalia the main hero.

That truly does seem to be the case.

Don't they appear a lot in fiction? Boss characters that get betrayed and attacked by their subordinates?

In Manga, after betraying the antagonist, the protagonists would welcome them onto their side.

It's not like I hate characters like that.

In literary production, that is.

When you're on the affected side, it feels quite unpleasant.

How disgusting.

Though that wasn't me.

Ah, right. I think Rat told me before that he was greedy for power.

It was the other me's fault for not understanding his personality.

But... I guess I just don't like him on a personal level.

I think I'll be ignoring him from here on out.

"Rat-san appears to be angry at Naofumi-sama, but she's truly quite thankful." (Raphtalia)

"I see. I hope all's well that ends well, but..." (Naofumi)

... I'm going to unload a few things.

It seems I went too far in various things.

Just modifying the Bioplant and displaying avarice was enough to awaken a curse series?

By the way, the current me cannot even bring up the New Seven Deadly Sins Shield. I can't even remember what sort of shield it was.

And like this, the curtain closes on my recklessness.

"By the way, where's Fohl?" (Naofumi)

"ANEKI!" (Fohl)

From a distance, Fohl runs towards Raphtalia.

Aneki? (TL: Older sister, occasionally female leader)

"Did it go well?" (Fohl)

"Yes. Because Fohl-kun was able to stall the collapse..."

"The moments afterwards were quite hectic. The castle started crumbling on us all. But we were able to guide and evacuate everyone."

When Fohl notices me, he starts glaring at me.

"Aneki? Did you start calling her that during the journey?" (Naofumi)

"No, during the current incident. When Atlas-chan went to Naofumi-sama's side, Fohl-kun reluctantly followed her and became your subordinate. I... encouraged him, and brought him over to our camp." (Raphtalia)

"Yes, Aneki told me this. If you truly cherish your little sister, then as a big brother, you shouldn't pamper her so!" (Fohl)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

How should I say this. It seems that quite a soap opera played out when I wasn't looking.

The rebellious Fohl now is this obedient to Raphtalia.

Will they marry when they grow up? I don't approve of it, by the way.

"... Naofumi-sama? Are you thinking something sinister right now?"
(Raphtalia)

"About what?" (Naofumi)

"No, there's no problem, but..." (Raphtalia)

"My eyes were blinded. I was pulled around by the selfishness of my sister, who recently started getting better. However, love must also be strict.

That's what Raphtalia-aneke taught me." (Fohl)

"Ah, I see..." (Naofumi)

He clenches his fist tightly. It was something I warned him about daily, but he was afraid of incurring his sister's hate. I mean, Atlas even occasionally says she will curse him one day.

"It's all your fault!" (Fohl)

"Yeah, that's fine..." (Naofumi)

I mean, it's true. I feel kinda tired.

"I definitely don't approve of you, you know!" (Fohl)

"Ah, yes, yes." (Naofumi)

Anyways, it seems Fohl became Raphtalia's younger brother (Follower).

... But I think her real age is lower than his.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 289 – Limited Time Offer

---

Finally, we returned to the village and started raising our levels until the waves came.

Within that time, I went on an expedition with the high-leveled Raphtalia and the other slaves.

Ah~... Speaking of which, it's about the events of the night we returned to the village.

I tried my daily work of compounding with the mortar.

"Huh?" (Naofumi)

After a moment of grinding, the herbs became a blackened waste and gave off a foul stench.

It's not at a level I should fail.

The more I grind, the more the waste increased.

I was only infusing the herbs, so I'm puzzled about why they would change into charcoal.

"Naofumi-sama. Is something wrong?" (Raphtalia)

"My compounding is..." (Naofumi)

When I try compounding something else, it also fails.

...It appears that I've become unable to compound because of the curse's influence.

This is like Ren's Item Creation system being destroyed.

I take a break from working, and go to bed early that day.

Ah, for the Atla issue, I have slaves deployed near the house and have made a perfect defense, so she can't come.

Well, Fohl is uncompromisingly restraining her, so it should be fine.

In addition, the so-called Raph species are keeping a watchful eye in the village.

Raphtalia begins swinging her sword outside for the sake of nighttime training.

“Rafu~” (Raph)

The tanuki-looking, raccoon-type monsters known as the Raph came inside the room without anyone noticing.

Come to think of it, they also can use the same illusion magic as Raphtalia. It’s quite convenient.

And yet, they came in a large group.

“Oh? I think you were the first generation Raph species, right?” (Naofumi)

Their appearance is relatively cute.

It seems there are generations of various types, but that part was pretty ambiguous, so I didn’t really understand it.

“Rafu~” (Raph)

The Raph extends its paw forward and strikes the ground seven times with a digit.

They’re the seventh generation Raph species? Or I should say, they’ve got a modest attitude.

They seem to understand human language in some respects and are greatly different from those noisy birds.

In terms of liking or disliking them, I think it would be more on the liking side.

The Raphs who entered the room were small, and they cry out while approaching me.

"Ra-Raphtalia-san. E-everyone of the Raph species! Onii-sama, I just want to go where Naofumi-sama is! Please move aside." (Atla)

"You cannot." (Raphtalia)

"You can't." (Fohl)

""Rafu~!"" (Raphs)

...For some reason it's noisy outside.

While they're talking, I casually stroke the Raphs.

Their feel isn't bad.

Apparently I made this when I was crazy, but...unexpectedly, I did a good job with them.

Hm? There are some shed hairs.

... What will happen if I insert them into the shield?

I insert some as a test.

You have unlocked the requirements for the Raph Shield!

You have unlocked the requirements for the Tali Shield!

You have unlocked the requirements for the Lia Shield!

You have unlocked the requirements for the Original Raph Shield!

You have unlocked the requirements for the Battle Raph Shield!

...etc

To receive a shield from a new, artificial species, what is this?

Well, if I think about it, species may naturally evolve, so it's not strange that the entries continue to increase.

...I investigate the Raph Shield.

Raph Shield 0/20 C

Ability Sealed...Equipment Bonus, Raph Species Growth Correction (Small), Raph Species Attack Designation 1, (Limited Time Offer) Raphtalia's Ability Correction (Small)

Proficiency 0

...err.

I don't know which I should comment about.

What is that Limited Time Offer thing?

Is that like raising an ability with their individual limits or something? What kind of ability is it?

Well, Raphtalia is the one I trust the most, so I wouldn't be upset if she got stronger.

Or rather...

"Rafu~" (Raph)

Is it just my imagination? I feel like this releasing method and pattern vaguely resembles the Filorial System.

The Shield Tree also unlocks with a similar feeling.

"Rafu~?" (Raph)

"Is this a kid or an adult? I think there was a large one, right? How about you?" (Naofumi)

How should I put it... that Mii-kun fellow is like a neighborhood sprite from the countryside, and I feel like trying to nap on his stomach one time. That fellow doesn't want to approach, but an unfamiliar Raph might be fine. Ah, that kid is a female. It seems there are male specimens. They were originally of a different kind of monster though.

"Rafu~!" (Raph)

With a *poof* sound, the Raph I was hugging became slightly bigger. It's just the right size for a body pillow.

And then I unreservedly throw myself onto its stomach and lie down.

...I want to try touching it a little.

While I stroke it, I lie face up as if it was a pillow.

Somehow, it smells like Raphtalia.

Ah~... somehow, I feel a strange sense of security.

After I modified them, I raised them with a lot of physical contact, and they've become considerably attached to me as a response.

They're pretty cute.

They're like the ideal pet I've always wanted.

"Rafu~" (Raph)

"Naofumi-sama! It's almost time for..." (Raphtalia)

The door of the room opens and Raphtalia enters.

"...What...are you doing?" (Raphtalia)

"Hm? It came to play, so I'm just keeping it company." (Naofumi)

"Fake~!" (Raph)

"Be quiet!" (Raphtalia)

Somehow Raphtalia's tail swells up, wary of the Raph.

"Ah..." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia seized the Raph by the nape of its neck and tossed it out of the room.

I unconsciously reached out with my hand, reluctant to part.

That sensation when I was stroking it... was so comfortable.

I thought it would have made a perfect body pillow.

"Naofumi-sama, please don't play with the Raph species so much."
(Raphtalia) [1]

"Why? I've always wanted this kind of pet. To be honest, it's my type of monster." (Naofumi)

"Promise me!" (Raphtalia)

"Why do you hate it so much?" (Naofumi)

Well, it's not like I don't understand.

It's sort of like an Otaku giving their girlfriend a model figure they made as a present.

Moreover, to be freely caressing it in front of their eyes...

If I think about it like that, am I a hentai otaku!?

No, she's not a girlfriend. She feels more like a daughter.

I doubt people sleep on their daughter's stomachs though.

When I check their status later, they're pretty exceptional.

I saw that their levels were low, but their potential was quite high.

I think it might be equal to the Filorials', and the subspecies are also quite diverse.

The specimens derived from the Caterpillands can even pull carriages like the Filorials.

Depending on their composition, I'll have them take on a role in either combat or peddling.

Yeah, like they said, the guys in the monster hut originally wished for the modification.

"Umm... how should I say it, it's embarrassing to watch." (Raphtalia)

"Ah, that makes sense." (Naofumi)

I understand her feelings.

Even I would dislike it if a clone of me was made and was caressed by Raphtalia.

By the way, the ability that from the shield, the Attack Designation 1, allows me to direct the Raphs to focus their attacks on the monster I indicate.

Also, a variety of other instructions appeared. There's even a strange skill like 'C'mon Raphs' that I can use to summon Raphs by portal. Seriously, the abilities this shield has...

For some reason, Raphtalia gets a weird expression whenever I use it, so I'm debating whether or not I should seal its use.

The Raphs that turned wild extended their influence and now they've created an ecosystem in my territory, but that's another story.

The next day.

"Now then, Naofumi-sama. Please scold Atla-chan, Firo, and Kiel-kun and punish each of them." (Raphtalia)

Atla, Firo and Kiel were kept in the village plaza and I was told to scold them by Raphtalia.

To be honest, I was the one who went crazy and they were just taking my side, so I think the fault should be mine.

I feel like I'm in no position to assign punishments…….

Or rather, I should be the one receiving a punishment instead.

It didn't become a big deal thanks to Melty making the necessary arrangements, but I caused quite a mess.

It seems I harassed the village and town occasionally and caused some destruction, but apparently it was covered by using the profits from the Reconstruction Festival.

I heard that I also assaulted the merchants in my territory.

According to Firo, I didn't have enough materials, and so Firo raided those possessing what I needed for the Sky Castle or something.

Well, even if they did receive compensation, they had been warned to avoid the village beforehand, so it was their own fault for staying in town.

Melty collected all the evidence in the area, so there shouldn't be any reports. Honestly, I want to receive penitence for these kinds of incidents. That being the case, let's obey Raphtalia's instructions if anything happens next time.

To be frank, I feel guilty about Sadina's brown coloring, but Sadina herself doesn't care and is just happily drinking alcohol.

It's good that her alcohol tolerance has increased, but it's my fault that it became such an outrageous situation, and I do my own self-reflection. If I am sternly cautioned by Raphtalia now ...but then those three won't get the message.

"Atla." (Naofumi)

"What is it, Naofumi-sama?" (Atla)

"...Why did you join me?" (Naofumi)

I asked her before, but I'll try again.

"Because that person was still Naofumi-sama, and I will always be by Naofumi-sama's side." (Atla)

"Firo too~" (Firo)

"You know, Master. You had a really great smile." (Firo)

And then she cries with flowing tears...oh Jeez.

Just how attached was she.

Were you that pleased about being able to fly in the sky?

"That wasn't me. I was being possessed." (Naofumi)

"Eh~ that's wrong~" (Firo)

"That's right." (Atla)

"Yeah! Nii-chan was nice!" (Kiel)

I wanted to say "I was an arrogant villain! I wasn't nice!" but...it seems like that might set off a land mine, so I'll stay silent.

"Then..." (Naofumi)

I have to figure out a punishment they will hate so that they'll reflect.

If I'm not careful, Atla might actually be happy with whatever I order her to do.

Alright.

"Fohl." (Naofumi)

"...What?" (Fohl)

"To drive Atla away, you'll be sleeping in my room." (Naofumi)

"You wouldn't!" (Atla)

"Then, what would she hate even more?" (Naofumi)

"Ughh...Onii-sama, if you do that—" (Atla)

Atla emits a negative aura towards Fohl.

"I-I got it! Nii-chan, I'll work hard in order to punish Atla." (Fohl)

"Raphtalia is also fine with that, right?" (Naofumi)

"Ah...yes... Fohl-kun. Please protect Naofumi-sama from the Raph species as well." (Raphtalia)

"I got it, Aneki." (Fohl)

That Fohl, he completely obeys Raphtalia.

Damn. Raphtalia doesn't need you!

Wait, what the hell am I thinking?

"Next is Firo." (Naofumi)

How should I punish Firo?

It seems like going three days without food or something will be enough for her to reflect. I can probably use the Monster Crest to reinforce it as well.

But... it could be dangerous because Firo might lose judgment from hunger and cause an outrageous incident.

"Father-in-Law!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu tries to get my attention.

He'll probably talk about something indecent again.

Let's ignore him.

"Ah, Naofumi-sama." (Raphtalia)

"What is it?" (Naofumi)

"The Hero of the Spear is... well, he was very cooperative during this last incident. Please give him a reward." (Raphtalia)

"Why?" (Naofumi)

"I promised him..." (Raphtalia)

Grr... so I asked for the details.

At first he obeyed the crazy me, but after Melty told him that Raphtalia was someone related to Firo, he recognized Raphtalia as a person and not a pig, and finally was persuaded to cooperate and such.

I didn't conceal my surprise at him being able to converse with a female other than Melty- but then, it has to do with Firo again.

So Melty is her fiancé and Raphtalia is her older sister.

In other words, all the women are pigs except for those with a relationship to Firo.

When I think about it, it's an inevitable result.

Back to Firo's punishment and Motoyasu's reward.

Alright!

"Firo." (Naofumi)

"Wha~t?" (Firo)

"Go on a date with Motoyasu for the rest of the day. You must always stay within thirty metres of him." (Naofumi)

I activate the Monster Crest and made it so she would suffer if she violated it.

"No~!" (Firo)

"Really, Father-in-Law?!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu's eyes shine!

Don't bring your face so close, it's disgusting.

"Yes. However, I absolutely won't forgive anything beyond a date, like forcefully pressing her for a kiss, or trying to have sex and such." (Naofumi)

"Yes! Now then, Firo-tan. Let's go on the date." (Motoyasu)

""Buuuuuuuuu!"" (Kuu, Midori & Marine)

Motoyasu's three followers protest while releasing bloodlust.

I don't care. If this much isn't done, then it won't be a reward nor a punishment!

Motoyasu untied the rope Firo was bound with.

When he does, Firo struggles and starts flying in the sky.

"No~! Master, save me!" (Firo)

"Sorry. I'm not in a situation where I can defend you." (Naofumii)

I'm the one who gave the punishment though.

"NOOooo~!" (Firo)

Flapping her wings, Firo flew at quite a fast speed.

She barely stopped within thirty metres.

"Hahaha, is it a rendezvous in the sky? Firo-tan!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu ran and chased after her.

"Don't come near~!!" (Firo)

Firo fled while flying.

Is that a date?

Well, whatever. It's fine since Motoyasu seems very delighted.

Yeah. With this, they won't come back for a while.

"That female's owner, what a reward! I definitely won't forgive him!" (Kuu)

"Yeah! Unforgivable." (Marine)

"Let's curse him." (Midori)

Those three are annoying.

In that case, you guys should go claim Motoyasu yourselves.

I found out later that apparently Firo and Motoyasu spent the day chasing one another.

Motoyasu reported back happily, but I could only wonder if that was enough.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 290 – Crepe Tree

---

“Next is Kiel, huh.” (Naofumi)

“Nii-chan. I want to quickly go to that tree’s side so please hurry up.” (Kiel)

What’s with that attitude.

Do you even realise that you’re being scolded right now?

Well, I’m also a perpetrator so I can’t speak so harshly, but I do feel a little irritation.

By the way, that tree Kiel was referring to is a seed she planted in the corner of the village and raised into a tree.

That seed grew very quickly, and was bearing fruit or something.

I haven’t looked around much because it was still early morning, but I notice a sweet smell.

Or rather, there was a tree that was producing bread in the middle of the village.

What’s with that. Stay within the limits of fantasy, what happens if someone gets sick from eating that! But when I complained in astonishment, I was told that it was something I made when I was crazy. Ah Jeez….

Kiel probably had me make something for her as well.

“Then should I chop down that tree as punishment?” (Naofumi)

“Nii-chan! Even if it’s Nii-chan, I’ll never forgive you!” (Kiel)

“It’ll grow back anyway.” (Naofumi)

“Nii-chan told me it can’t regrow.” (Kiel)

“The Bread Tree appears to have reproduction capabilities though?” (Naofumi)

Kiel transformed into her Kielberus form and growled.

Well, she's tied up so she can't move, and my slave crest should keep her quiet.

Hmm…… all the same, I can't bear to do something she'd hate so much. Assigning a punishment that goes beyond reflection is just abuse.

"Well then, Kiel." (Naofumi)

"What, Nii-chan?" (Kiel)

"Take the form of an ordinary girl from now on. Loincloths are prohibited. And you must wear the clothes that Imia provides." (Naofumi)

"Eeehhhh!?" (Kiel)

Kiel raised a fuss with all her strength, seeming very reluctant. This much shouldn't be considered abuse.

"And go peddling like that. Your assignment is to gather as many fans as Firo has, and you're to remain as a girl until you do." (Naofumi)

"I-I get it, Nii-chan." (Kiel)

"Is this much fine?" (Naofumi)

"I think that's a little soft." (Raphtalia)

Is that so?

I intended to provoke her with this quite unreasonable demand to reach Firo's scale though.

Honestly, the degree of difficulty is higher when compared to Firo and Atla. However, Kiel's peddling records are good.

If I send her out, she might be able to achieve it.

"But that's how Naofumi-sama is." (Raphtalia)

It seems like I'll be self-destructing if I butt-in awkwardly so I'll just agree. In reality, I feel reluctant to scold them harshly while having faults of my own.

Of course, I wouldn't feel anything if it were a complete stranger but even if they're bad, I won't be so heartless as to go so far with my subordinates. Yeah, I'd feel ashamed.

"God of the Shield-sama, what's the matter?" (Slave)

"!" (Naofumi)

It's this.

The slaves who were originally undergoing medical treatment in the laboratory, every one of them call me God.

Because of this, the damage to my heart every time they say it...

"Hey, please call me the Hero of the Shield if you can. Or, you can call me Shield-niichan like the other guys." (Naofumi)

"What are you saying. The great God of the Shield-sama, we cannot do such an awe-inspiring thing." (Slave)

Ugh...a refreshing smile pierces me.

To be called a God like this is painful.

"Next up is for Naofumi-sama to punish himself... that's it, isn't it?" (Raphtalia)

"Maybe." (Naofumi)

...That's right.

I don't have any memory of it but I'm aware that I caused quite a disturbance.

"I'll restrain myself from more of my miserly actions. I don't want to have to do much self-torturing though." (Naofumi)

"You do have a point. Sorry. Naofumi-sama has the task of fighting the waves so let's not do too much. I will inform everyone." (Raphtalia)

"Thanks." (Naofumi)

I feel like it's not really fair that I'm the only one not punished, but the only ones I punished for following the crazy me are Atla, Firo and Kiel so... it's fine.

"However.." (Naofumi)

I surveyed the village.

It's become rather big thanks to the population and monsters increasing on a large scale.

It's already on its way to becoming a town.

"It's been developing, hasn't it." (Naofumi)

"Yeah..." (Raphtalia)

The slaves recuperating in the laboratory were also able to recover so in the end... it was all good, or so I justify and console myself.

"Alright! Let's go raise our levels today as well and prepare for the waves."
(Naofumi)

"Okay." (Raphtalia)

Well... Firo is on a date with Motoyasu so I needed another monster to be our transport but when I request it, Firo's number one subordinate comes forward, pushing away the modified Raph species and Filorials.

I want to decline if I can, but somehow I'm in an awkward situation and there's unspoken pressure compelling me to bring her.

It's not like she did anything bad in particular.

Just that... I wonder what it is. The way she looks at me bothers me.

"Hey Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Raphtalia)

"Kue." (Piyo)

I point to Firo's number one subordinate who was resting at a distance and ask Raphtalia.

"That guy's acting rather weird but do you know anything about it?"

(Naofumi)

"Let's see... all of the Filorials in the village went to follow Naofumi-sama, so..." (Raphtalia)

"Is that so?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. In the beginning, they accompanied us but after that child was abducted... somehow she became strange after that." (Raphtalia)

"Kue..." (Piyo)

Don't look at me with such passionate eyes.

It's a vivid reminder of Firo when she was in heat, so it's somewhat unpleasant.

"Did she fight?" (Naofumi)

"Yes...she was caught at the seventh tower." (Raphtalia)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

Is she in heat?

"Kuee." (Piyo)

Firo's number one subordinate who defeated the monsters approached with her head lowered as if wanting to be praised.

You speak, don't you.

"Yes yes, alright." (Naofumi)

I stroked her appropriately, but for some reason she endeavoured to have me stroke the base of her throat.

Huh? Didn't this guy used to know when to quit?
Somehow she's changed a little.

"Kueeeee... ." (Piyo)

She looks like she's in an extremely good mood.
Well, it's fine to stroke her since it doesn't feel bad, but this guy is that cutesy kid so I don't really like it.
And when I find a good time to part, she cries out very reluctantly.
What's with that.

That mystery was established at noon the next day.
When Firo told us drowsily, having finished her one-day date.

"Hey Firo." (Naofumi)

"Huh~... wha~t?" (Firo)

"Subordinate Number One's behaviour is weird. Isn't she aiming for your position?" (Naofumi)

"What do you mean~?" (Firo)

I point to her number one subordinate who was staring at me from in hiding.

"Ah, Piyo-chan? It's alright~ That was, you know~ just her madly in love with Master~" (Firo)

"..... ." (Naofumi)

So that guy was called Piyo.

I had forgotten her real name. I feel like I've even been told before though.
Or rather, Hey.

"...Wait, you're saying something very ominous." (Naofumi)

"That's right. Why is that child madly in love?" (Raphtalia)

"You see~ it was after Firo became able to fly. Master, you see. You told me to go abduct Piyo-chan so I brought her, and then.. Master, Piyo-chan—" (Firo)

"Wh-what did he do?" (Raphtalia)

I also nodded to Raphtalia's question.

I'm worried about what it means by that cutesy kid becoming so clingy.

"...Firo was very envious, when I said to do it to me as well, Master said 'You've already pledged your allegiance to me so no, and I only did it because it's effective on this guy'" (Firo)

"What did he do!" (Raphtalia)

I don't understand Firo's explanation!

It can't be helped. It's regrettable but let's try asking Atla.

I head towards Atla's place, who was irritated about Fohl being a hindrance.

"Ah, you! Why is it your side that's coming!" (Fohl)

Fohl said in a displeased voice as I approached.

Yesterday was... well, he was an unrefined body pillow.

I want to ask something unreasonable of Raphtalia and invite a Raph.

"Sorry. There's something on my mind that I want to ask Atla about." (Naofumi)

"Well, I wonder what it is. Naofumi-sama? If it's now, I'll do anything for you." (Atla)

You'd do anything even if it wasn't now, I don't need you to tell me that. That is to say, it was already broadcasted...

"So Firo's subordinate, Piyo. What did I do to her?" (Naofumi)

"It was personal grooming." (Atla)

"Personal grooming?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. That is... the already captured Piyo-chan exposed her hostility and thanks to her pledging allegiance, turning her fury affectionate and doing a rich personal grooming, the Filorials converted to Naofumi-sama's camp."
(Atla)

"Rich?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. I cannot remember how many times Piyo-chan raised her voice in pleasure." (Atla)

"Naofumi-sama!?" (Raphtalia)

"He has no memory of it!" (Atla)

Eh? Is this a metaphor?

Was I raped by Subordinate Number One or something?

"Firo, was I assaulted by Subordinate Number One?" (Naofumi)

"Trying to conceive children? You're wrong~" (Firo)

Apparently I'm wrong.

Or I should say, don't talk about conceiving children.

"Firo also wants to be caressed like that~ ...I was envious.... to say something similar, it's like the feeling he had when Master stroked the little Onee-chan today, almost to the point of ecstasy~" (Firo) [T/N: Little Onee-chan = Raph Species]

"Naofumi-sama? When did you..." (Raphtalia)

Geh....

Actually, I was stroking the concealed Raph.

I really like the feel of them.

But Raphtalia gets upset when I stroke them so I had been doing it in hiding.

Why am I being treated like I've been unfaithful.

Anyway, to stroke them with that kind of feeling... so it was having them pledge allegiance.

I don't understand what the pledge means.

"Tell me if you saw me! Or rather, if the Raph are no good then Raphtalia! Let me stroke your tail." (Naofumi)

What am I saying? It's turning into sexual harassment.

It's a case of reversed anger. [T/N: Being angry at someone who would normally be angry at you]

"Eh...ah...uhh. I-I understand. It's fine to stroke the Raph as long as it's within my eyesight." (Raphtalia)

As I expected, it's better than stroking her tail. [T/N: Raphtalia doesn't want her tail stroked no matter what.]

I don't know which is proving fortunate.

"Then how do I make Subordinate Number 1 be obedient?" (Naofumi)

"I think it'll be fine if you did it for a while, Piyo-chan~? About Master, I said before that Firo's love is different." (Firo)

"Ah, right." (Naofumi)

"But stroke me occasionally." (Firo)

Sigh...Filorials are very weird.

As expected, the Raph are best.

They aren't vulgar.

No, it might just be that I haven't confirmed it yet.

Or rather, I'm probably too pleased with them.

"Ah, they said Kiel-kun's Crepe Tree is bearing fruit, Master, let's go eat."
(Firo)

"Wait wait, what Crepe Tree?" (Naofumi)

I've heard about the Bread Tree but... so it's what Kiel was talking about when she was being punished.

That was also made by me, huh.

"Naofumi-sama, me too." (Atla)

"You're not allowed." (Naofumi)

"Aww..." (Atla)

Atla really is a dangerous fellow.

She agrees no matter what I do.

Despite this, I know that it'll turn bad if she continues to obey.

If possible, I'd like her think for herself and not depend on me.

In the past, I said this to Raphtalia.

<From an objective point of view, you and your companions need to be careful>

Right, it's an objective point of view.

We must sharpen ourselves to be seen as splendid from a stranger's perspective.

I'd want put in a great effort and chase my ideals together with my partner, and have them acknowledge my current self, instead of depending on them. Furthermore, I followed those words.

<You can't believe that you can do anything just because you are a companion of a hero. Try not to inconvenience anyone.>

I don't care about the world after the waves.

However, Raphtalia will remain in this world, so I must secure a place for her to belong.

I will make a world where Raphtalia can be happy even without me.

One way or another, a problem is emerging with the slaves here being dependant on me.

From now on, I will have them rely on Raphtalia and the others first, and if it still isn't resolved then I can make my appearance.

...Huh? Isn't that no different to how it was before I turned crazy...?

Yeah, it's because Kiel, who should have been assisting Raphtalia, went on a rampage.

So I have no choice but have the slaves who are motivated, with the exception of Kiel, work hard.

"Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Raphtalia)

"Of the guys originally born in the village, please aid and train those who have leadership like Kiel. If possible, the guys who aren't too attached to me." (Naofumi)

"...Okay." (Raphtalia)

Kiel showed hostility from the start, but she's now become too attached. In the beginning, I somehow destroyed the ruins of the home she originally lived in, so how can she be so attached to me.

There's also the effect of food, but she's a charismatic person by nature. And she doesn't think too deeply but acts on her instincts like Firo, so I want an intelligence faction.

Piyo is like that but Firo is her superior so that's also troublesome.

And, as we were talking, we — became speechless.

"Wh-what is this!" (Naofumi)

Firo called it the Crepe Tree, but it really is a crepe tree!

There were flower-like things which were round dough pieces blooming, with fruit wrapped in their center, and they changed shape as they ripened.

Bugs or something seemed to be gathering, was that alright?
Then again, the nectar-filled depressions, where the bugs were gathering, were in various parts of the tree.
Somehow, when I peer inside... inside the depressions were carnivorous plants and inside, it seemed the bugs were being converted into nourishment

It was ripening with nutrients from this bug?
Ugh... it's quite a disgusting tree...

"Ah, Nii-chan!" (Kiel)

Kiel addressed me, picking crepes off the tree.
In her hand she grasped crepes intended for us to eat.

"Will Nii-chan eat too?" (Kiel)
"No...give me a break." (Naofumi)
"Is that so? It's super yummy though? But it doesn't have as much flavour as Nii-chan's handmade food." (Kiel)
"I've also become unable to cook because of the curse." (Naofumi)
"That's why this tree has the tastiest desserts right now." (Kiel)

Kiel answered with confidence.
As I expect, it'd be impossible for this guy to be a Sub-leader.
Her actions are too erratic.

"Kiel-kun. One of the villagers said this, but is it true that you won't separate from this tree?" (Raphtalia)
"That's right! Cos I never know when a thief might come!" (Kiel)

So Kiel has always been sleeping by the Crepe Tree ever since we returned to the village?
She must treasure it a lot.

"Keep it moderate, okay." (Naofumi)

"I've got it Nii-chan. Ah, does Firo-chan also want a crepe?" (Kiel)

"Yeah!" (Firo)

Firo stuffed her cheeks with the delicious crepe.

That...is a crepe produced with nutrients from bugs, right? I've lost my appetite...but let's not say that aloud.

Firo would be indifferent about eating bugs and stuff anyway.

Incidentally, Kiel started living in a kennel that was established next to the tree so I constructed a temporary dwelling using a Bioplant to stave off the wind and rain.

Kiel... you said you were going to protect your precious house, didn't you. The house you neglected will cry.

Or, has it become House = Crepe Tree? Please stop with the jokes.

Afterwards, Kiel poured her efforts into looking after the Crepe Tree, and the Crepe Tree also grew as if responding to her affection.

Subsequently, the legendary Crepe Wood became a local specialty and the moment of its birth... just kidding.

"I'd like you to not get carried away with any jokes." (Naofumi)

"That's right." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia replies while giving the Raph a sidelong glance.

I understand it. I'd feel the same if there was a copycat who resembled me.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 291 – Dragon Faith

---

Several Days Later

In order to consult the Queen about the forces that would assist against the wave, I head to the castle.

I also want to see if the Old Man had completed the carriage I ordered, so I bring Firo with me.

Raphtalia and Firo, and also Fohl, were dragged into my portal. I teleported him away right in front of Atlas's eyes. (TL: Not that it matters)

"We've arrived."

We immediately arrive inside of the castle, and Fohl instantly begins displaying hostility towards me.

"You..." (Fohl)

"What? This is also a form of punishment, you know. We need to get her to repent, somewhat." (Naofumi)

"Think about my position too!" (Fohl)

Ah, Fohl begins crying.

He's putting up with quite a bit right now.

I guess being the target of hatred for his beloved sister is too much to bear.

"I'm sorry, Fohl-kun. We're asking for the impossible, aren't we?"

(Raphtalia)

"There's no reason for Aneki to worry. The one at fault is that guy!" (Fohl)

"Naofumi-sama is... Well, he's just like that. This is also to help Atlas-chan develop independence." (Raphtalia)

"I know. I know, but..." (Fohl)

"Master! Carriage!" (Firo)

She can already fly by herself, so isn't it fine?

Ah, does she still prefer travelling by land?

And, like, couldn't I have just confiscated her carriage as her punishment? I guess it all worked out, though.

It's true that her leg strength is worthy of praise, and if we don't make use of them, Firo's reason for existence will be placed in jeopardy.

"Ah, yes, yes. We'll check in after our business in the castle. Until then, go rest in the castle courtyard or something." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Raphtalia)

"Got it." (Firo)

"Then will you spar with me, Aneki?" (Fohl)

"I guess I will. With the wave so close, it's not like I can relax." (Raphtalia)

"Is that how it is? Aneki fought that huge mountain over there, right? Tell me how it went. I want to use it as reference." (Fohl)

"That's fine. Firo's here too, so let's make a training regimen based on that." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia's party leaves for the castle yard, and I go to request an audience with the Queen.

When I finally got around to the audience hall, I see her hard at work.

Hearing the troubles of the people is work too, I guess.

The cabinet minister is conversing with her.

Hmm? Did the minister always look like this?

When I was summoned here, the minister who looked down on me wasn't this one.

"If it isn't Iwatani-sama. How goes your progress?" (Queen)

"I believe I already sent word of that." (Naofumi)

"I heard that your Shield went out of control and caused a bit of an incident. About that... In a few minutes, an official from Silt Welt will arrive. I would be grateful if you would stay in on our conversation." (Queen)

"... Got it." (Naofumi)

Regarding that matter, there is nothing I can refute.

I mean, the fault lies with me.

The door creaks open, and the two messengers I saw before step in.

Hmm?

The Shusaku youth's face is bright.

Perhaps he's in a good mood. He smiles as he glances at me.

"Ah, Hero of the Shield-sama. I had the opportunity to partake in watching over your practice war."

The Genmu messenger begins speaking in a light and refined manner.

Practice war?

Ah, right. My outburst was labelled as such to the public.

"Ah, I see... How did you find it?" (Naofumi)

"After seeing the plans and factors you put into practice to prepare for the wave, our side now feels satisfied." (Genmu)

I wonder what he truly believes... but the Shusaku messenger seems to be looking upon it favorably, so perhaps it will work out fine.

"I plan to combat Houou, who's set to revive in the west. What will you do?" (Naofumi)

"We plan to include our armies in the world's allied forces to combat the wave. Many of our soldiers are full of enthusiasm at the thought of seeing the Hero of the Shield-sama's performance in battle." (Genmu)

"I see... I hope they don't enter the fray with such light hearts." (Naofumi)

Why didn't such a force come last time? It's probably best not to bring that up now.

Since they had three and a half months, they finished preparations.

I can do nothing but put my expectations on the reliability of the Demi-Human country's forces.

"I've definitely seen some of your resolve. Many of my fears have been alleviated." (Ganmu)

"Fears?" (Naofumi)

Upon my inquiry, the Genmu messenger glares at the Shusaku.
The Shusaku holds his mouth open, as if trying to remember something important.

"What?" (Naofumi)

"No, there are no problems." (Genmu)

"... Really? If you've got a beef with me, it would be beneficial for me if you were to clear it up now." (Naofumi)

"That's true..." (Genmu)

Honestly, this is the time when we should be putting the upcoming battle over all else.

But if problems crop up immediately afterwards, that will be troublesome.
The Genmu grandpa starts stroking his beard and makes eye contact with the Queen before opening his mouth once more.

"One of the races that lead our country, the Aotatsu race is a little... Our country's higher-ups have begun to notice them secretly taking action against the worship of the summoned Heroes." (Genmu)

(TL: If you take separate readings for the kanji of Sei Ryuu, it can be read Ao Tatsu)

"So will they come and cause a disturbance in my place?" (Naofumi)

"No, no, no. Nothing of the sort. It's just that they have begun showing strong support towards Faubley." (Genmu)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

Faubley.

The land governed by a pig.

My image of the country is colored dark with personal prejudice.

However, why would people start raising objections to the Hero faith in the country of Heroes?

"Many of the Aotatsu tribe have migrated to Shield Freiden, and... recently, their leader has been working within Faubley. Our side is slightly anxious."
(Genmu)

"Leader?" (Naofumi)

"He works out of Faubley. That country employs a large amount of Dragons, so their relations are favorable." (Genmu)

Why...?

Ah, Aotatsu can be read Blue Dragon. (TL: Naofumi is remarking on the Kanji)

So they're a dragon race.

When I think of dragons, the wimpy one at my place is the only one that comes to mind.

But Rat told me about it before: The Dragonewt Demi-Human race.

"If you were to categorize the Aotatsu, they would be Dragon people. They have a deep belief in dragons. How foolish..." (Genmu)

Heh... I don't really get it, but there seems to be various factions over there too.

Even within the religions that I know of, there are moderate and radical factions.

Even though their scriptures are the same, people acting on them differently is common fare. I bet the Shield Faith has many sects too.

"So is there any problem with their current actions?" (Naofumi)

"There are fluctuations in the country's faith. Some say that if the Hero of the Shield refuses to come to our country, then our country is not one worth protecting... Some strong voices are protesting." (Genmu)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

I think I'll have to go at some point, but I don't have the time, and I don't want to be thrown into the middle of a conspiracy.

However, after we hold back this wave, I'll need to collect as many allies as I can.

I don't want to read a history book saying we lost due to infighting.

But, it's unnatural that people of a Dragon Faith are garnishing support in the country of heroes.

I have a bad feeling about this. It sounds like the time with Witch and the Three Hero Church.

With time being of the essence, I need to prioritize Houou, but still I must pay a visit afterwards.

More importantly, I want to meet the one leading those dragons.

I'm not sure if they have any cores, but I want to see if I can get any information like I can from Gaelion.

I'm not expecting anything great though.

If they had important, world-saving information, they would have sent it to the Heroes by now.

"But upon seeing the Hero of the Shield-sama training for the Wave up close, we have become satisfied with your resolve and have accepted the fact that you do not have time to stop by." (Genmu)

... Recently, I've been the target of quite a bit of good will. I'm really not used to it.

I mean, I almost committed a substantial amount of evil deeds without even being aware of it. It's scarier than performing evil while keeping my awareness.

"Perhaps they will come to trouble you, but if they do any harm to the Hero of the Shield-sama, my country will not keep quiet. It concerns the nation's pride." (Genmu)

"That really helps. Regardless of your reasons, right now, fighting the Wave is priority. I'd like it if we could clean up these troublesome matters later."

(Naofumi)

"Yes. In order to perform a grand sweep of Melromark's filth, the heroes stayed in this country. I thought their operations were extending to all countries but ours, but upon seeing the mock war, I was relieved."

The Shusaku youth says as such, as if it were a matter personally concerning him.

Melromark's filth... is it?

I really wish he would stop treating this as an enemy country.

But as long as he's willing to pull back out of good will, I have no problems.

"Rafu~"

"During the previous turmoil, we took one of these specimens under our protection." (Shusaku)

The Shusaku takes out a cage containing a Raph and presents it to me.
Geh!

"A divine beast created to defend against the wave... 'Tis the legendary second coming. Won't you turn one over for me to take to our country as evidence?"

No... I don't really want to let them off of my territory, but... I mean, it's embarrassing.

I turn my eyes to the Queen, but she tilts her head to the side and rejects me.

I guess refusing here would be bad for negotiations.

Even so, it's finally come to the Second Advent.

"Legendary Second Coming?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. The divine birds were said to be the creations of heroes long past. Or at least, the legends tell it as such."

"The truth is surrounded in mystery, but that does not change the fact that a new species of monster has come into being here. We would like to be able to take it as evidence.” (Genmu)

“Is creating a new monster that difficult?” (Naofumi)

Looking at Rat’s research, it seems relatively doable.

But unlike the Raph race, it’s more like she mixes the properties of different races.

The Raphs were made from Raphtalia’s DNA, so they’re closer to clones.

Though, they can already be classified as a separate existence entirely.

“A monster with this degree of completion is nothing to laugh at. I’ll have some authorized personnel look into it, but this is a situation befitting of the name, The Second Coming of the Divine Birds.” (Genmu)

“Is… That so…” (Naofumi)

Don’t dig too deep into it… but if this lets peace continue, then I’ll agree to it.

It’s that: sending over a rare animal to increase diplomatic relations.

This monster’s maintenance costs… won’t be a problem.

The Raphs have better fuel efficiency than expected. They’re light eaters and omnivorous.

They’re of gentle disposition and would probably make for nice pets.

“Then I’ll leave that one to you.” (Naofumi)

“RAFU!” (Raph)

As if to say ‘Roger!’ the Raph specimen faces me and salutes.

It seems to have a good head on its shoulders.

Yep, I’m slightly reluctant to send it off.

“Now that I think about it, I believe I saw a Hakuko in the palace courtyard.”

Uu… the conversation took a dangerous turn.

“In accordance with the peril plaguing the world, the Queen has begun a Demi-Human discrimination abolition movement… I have definitely confirmed this fact. This will become good fuel for our own country's Human discrimination abolition." (Genmu)

"Thank you." (Queen)

Eh? They're satisfied with ending it there?

It's not that I'm not thankful for it.

"By the way, Hero-sama?" (Genmu)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"Do you have any plans to tie the knot with anyone from my country?"

(Genmu)

... My shoulders drop.

After that, I was shown a series of marriage interview requests the messengers brought.

There are plenty of beautiful girls, but I replied I had no interest. I politely returned them.

Is the Hero of the Shield really that sought after?

"Iwatani-sama, then how does my daughter Melty sound?" (Queen)

... From this side too.

Quit it already.

Next, we went into the actual discussions. The negotiations with the country Houou was sealed in were already completed. We'll arrive five days before the scheduled time, have the country and Shadows look for the location, and have the other Heroes confirm it. For those five days, we would pound the ability to coordinate attacks into the newly allied armies.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 292 – A New Sort of Carriage

---

After my talk with the Queen, I met up with Raphtalia's group. We headed to the Old Man's weapon shop.

I handed him the necessary materials beforehand, so there shouldn't be any problems.

If there is one, it would be...

"Oh? If it isn't you, kid. You never stopped by, so I was wondering what happened." (Old Man)

"Well, stuff went down..." (Naofumi)

Ah, my heart aches.

I seriously set out for world domination.

Even if I get beaten half to death, I'll never admit it.

"You see, Master-" (Firo)

"If you say anymore, you get no carriage." (Naofumi)

"Uu..." (Firo)

Our little birdy is way too talkative.

And why can Firo figure out and say exactly the things people are trying to hide?

She's been reserved as of late, but from the start, she's been overly intrusive.

I quiet Firo, and ask about the carriage.

"And how goes the carriage I placed an order for?" (Naofumi)

"I finished it long ago. You didn't come by for a while, and I didn't have anywhere to store it, so I left it with an acquaintance." (Old Man)

The Old Man explains where he left the carriage, and I hand over the money.

Since I was gone for a long time, I ended up paying for parking fees as well.

“Okay, I’ve definitely received the payment. If you take this paper, and that Holy Bird girl with you, they should just hand it over.” (Old Man)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

“Then I’ll be off to get it now~!” (Firo)

I give Firo the paper the Old Man handed me, and send her to get it. She runs off energetically, and returns a few minutes later pulling a sparkling carriage.

That was fast.

She appears to be having a lot of fun.

“Um you see… It’s really sparkly, and well made… It’s really cool!” (Firo)

I confirm the carriage she brought over.

It’s a little bigger than the previous one.

It’s supposed to be a metal carriage, but… The axels and wheels give off a mechanical feeling. It looks somewhat like… the prototype for a car.

“If you get the guy at your place to make some new wheels for it, you can do various things.” (Old Man)

“Like those ones with spikes?” (Firo)

What do you plan on doing with spiked wheels?

Is this monster planning on running down monsters in our path?

“Next, well, if I put power onto this handle, the carriage becomes really light!” (Firo)

Firo firmly grasps the handle, and the body of the carriage appears to float. Fumu… does it have functions to control its weight?

"It's made of Graweik Ore, so it can float, you know." (Old Man)

"Is it based on the Air Walk ability?" (Naofumi)

"That's right. Have you never seen one? The rocks that fly in the sky?" (Old Man)

... I have.

It's rare, but occasionally, I see some rock-like things flying in the sky.

They helped me reaffirm that this was indeed another world. Is this made with that ore?

I look at the Old Man, and he nods.

"The raw ore can float, but when you use it in manufacturing, it just makes things lighter. In the past, we apparently had the technology to keep them afloat, but it was lost." (Old Man)

Ah, I think I saw it on the list of ingredients the Old Man had me procure. I just handed the sheet over to the Queen, and left it to her, though.

"Using it in abundance, the carriage can levitate slightly. The stronger you grasp the handle, the more magic it will take from the holder, and the lighter it will get." (Old Man)

"Wah... Then if Firo puts in enough power, can it fly?" (Firo)

"I just said it didn't I, bird princess. Flight is impossible." (Old Man)

"Eh?" (Firo)

"I wonder." (Naofumi)

The power of flight is lost upon refining the ore but you can increase its effect by pouring in magic.

I take out an item imbued with magic amplification I created with Item Creation, and mix in Chi. I grasp the carriage's handles.

... This sucks up quite a bit of magic.

"Wah!"

The carriage suddenly lifts itself slightly off of the ground.

"Firo too~" (Firo)

Firo flaps her wings to build up magic... something the strange me thought up.

The carriage begins floating even higher.

"Oh... Amazing." (Old Man)

The Old Man shows his interest.

But, with this...

"AUUUU..."

With a bang, the carriage crashes into the ground.

By mixing Magic and Chi, this was my limit.

"I could only get it to lift off for a short time." (Naofumi)

"... Flying carriage..." (Firo)

It's an idea overflowing with romance.

I also want one. Because it seems convenient.

"Anyways, you've shown me quite an interesting thing. What will you have me make next?" (Old Man)

"Let's see..." (Naofumi)

At the moment, I'm not in need of weapons or armor.

And I have no materials.

The strange me generously used all of my rare materials without remorse.

But since the wave is upon us, we're going levelling every day.

I can't compound, so I go out with Raphtalia and Firo to raise my level as well.

I get materials out of that, and have things made.

But I gave the orders to Imya's Uncle, so I don't really have anything to ask of the Old Man...

"I'd like a sword for Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

"Me?" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia seems confused.

Due to the effects of the Raph Shield, Raphtalia's been strengthened even further.

And that's on top of the three months she spent training with the Granny to power up.

Her level is maxed out at 100, so I want to get her worthy equipment.

According to Ren and the others, Houou is quite strong.

I'd like to fight him with my forces in perfect condition.

"Yeah, could you possibly make something with the Spirit Turtle's materials?" (Naofumi)

"That will be a bit expensive, but are you okay with that?" (Old Man)

"Yes. Can you make something like the Spirit Turtle Sword I told you about before?" (Naofumi)

It's the blade Ren damaged beyond repair.

If we still had it, I think Raphtalia would be stronger.

"Do you need anything, Fohl? Since you fight unarmed, do you want any gauntlets?" (Naofumi)

"I... no wait, do you plan on increasing my debt?" (Fohl)

"I'm glad you understand." (Naofumi)

I mean, he's fighting to pay off his debt. I bet he'll leave my village once he earns enough.

Though that will be after we take care of Houou.

"I don't need it!" (Fohl)

"I see. I thought you would want it to have an edge over your sister."
(Naofumi)

"Are you trying to get me to kill Atlas!?" (Fohl)

"Do you not know the concept of holding back...?" (Naofumi)

If you have a weapon, do you think you can defeat her?

That girl's great with dodging and rolling. She has a strange sense for it. She plays with Firo a lot, and she trained with me, so she knows how to defend as well.

Her fighting style is fundamentally defensive. It's a style where she waits for an opening in the opponent's stance before attacking.

Ah, does he mean Atlas isn't on a level where he can hold back?

If that's the case, then I understand.

"I recommend these nunchucks and tonfas from the far east." (Old Man)

"I refuse!" (Fohl)

Why is he acting up here?

I think having a weapon will help him in battle.

But I guess it's fine.

Next is Firo, but...

"What's wrong, master?" (Firo)

... I got her a carriage, so that matter's okay, I guess.

Imya's uncle said he could make something with the materials Sadina salvaged.

I'll have him make some claws.

Yeah. I'll have the Old Man make just the sword this time.

"Then please make a sword by the next wave. Don't skimp out on costs. I'll take the limited resources from my place over, so choose what you need from there." (Naofumi)

I remember Imya's Uncle looking through them and making a list.
I hand the list to the Old Man.

"Fumu... you have some interesting materials here. I'll need this and this.
I'll make a better sword than the one you saw before, just wait and see."

(Old Man)

"I'll do just that." (Naofumi)

"Got it." (Old Man)

"Then Firo, we can't take the carriage by Portal, so make sure to take it home." (Naofumi)

"Yay!" (firo)

I take the list of required materials from the Old Man, and return to the village.

The Filo Rials gaze at Firo's carriage with envy now, for some reason.

I believe Filo Rials had some form of pride among carriages.

Firo holds her head high among the flock of birds.

The others gaze at me, but... don't stare at me like that.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 293 – The Raph Species of the Raph

---

At night, I recovered in the hot springs and then returned via portal while still feeling hot. I wasn't able to work because of the curse and I even took time off from training and went to visit Rato in her new laboratory.

"Rafu~"

"Tali~"

"Li-a~"

...The monsters I remodelled when I was crazy come out to greet me. For now, we're treating them as a subspecies of the Raph species and their feel isn't bad. Or rather, it's good.

The monster based on the Caterpillands was very delighted about being remodelled into the Raph specie and was working hard to raise their levels in the Combat party. [T/N: There might be more than one but I can't be sure because Japanese doesn't really have plurals.]

Its appearance was of a jumbo Raph, and a few traces remained in its tail. To explain these traces, there were caterpillar legs still attached to its tail. Rather than a tail... it seemed to be more like an insect's abdomen.

I greet Rato, who was entering something into a slate.

Hm? Sadina is also here.

"How are things going?" (Naofumi)

"Rafu~" (Mii-kun)

"Naofumi-chan. Tonight is a fine night. Won't you go drinking with Onee-san?" (Sadina)

"I won't." (Naofumi)

Mii-kun came out to greet me like an assistant, but I ignored him. It might be prejudice, but this guy makes me sick somehow.

"Ah, Marquis... how can you just come in so calmly... that audacity is just like the Marquis though." (Rato)

Rato said bitterly.

Well, I understand her feelings but I can't be wallowing in guilt forever.

The battle with Houou draws near.

We have things we must do one by one.

Moreover ...Melromark doesn't have any direct involvement, but the Castle Town was becoming a little tense.

The waves were also like that but, as one would expect, now is a cautious time.

"The one who modified this guy wasn't me. It was something that possessed me." (Naofumi)

"I know that." (Rato)

"Were you in the middle of Sadina's medical treatment?" (Naofumi)

"No. That's already settled ...or rather, don't go drinking with Mii-kun." (Rato)

"Rafu~" (Mii-kun)

"Ahaha, but this kid has a high tolerance so Onee-san was enjoying it." (Sadina)

...Now that I look closer, what Mii-kun achieved was absurd. [T/N: In terms of how much he drunk.]

He looks like a Raph but something's different.

"Mii-kun. Go to sleep soon." (Rato)

"rafu~" (Mii-kun)

Somehow his intonation was odd... he melted!? [T/N: The last 'rafu' was in hiragana instead of the usual katakana.]

Dissolving into a syrup-like form, Mii-kun crawled with a sickening sound, and exited the room.

This might turn into a trauma.

"So? What do you want, Marquis?" (Rato)

"Ah, I was just wondering about the state of things." (Naofumi)

I've been worried for a while now.

"Let's see... it's frustrating to say, but in all honesty, your research when you were possessed deserves to be praised." (Rato)

"...." (Naofumi)

"I understand if it bothers you, and I don't want to acknowledge it but, how should I say it...a genius who can do this much isn't bad." (Rato)

"What's so ingenious about it?" (Naofumi)

"First is that there are hardly any side effects. And with that, the results are remarkable. For the kids in recovery, and for the monsters." (Rato)

"Side effects, you say..." (Naofumi)

"Before the medical treatment... there were kids who were undergoing medical treatment here, right? It used to just result in victims like that." (Rato)

"And you're saying I managed without guys like that." (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Rato)

I also examine them, the guys who received treatment and now call me a god.

I'm glad that it's only to that extent, the previous modifications were too excessive. [T/N: Previous as in Kiel, Sadina & Raph modifications]

As far as it goes, it seems they wished for it themselves, but a line that mustn't be crossed, shouldn't be crossed.

"It looks like you embedded your data into the gem inside Mii-kun in case you were in some accident. A considerable amount of blueprints for the things I've wanted to do was included as well." (Rato)

Rato operated the slate and projected an image... but honestly, I don't understand the contents at all.

In that regards, it's quite high-leveled.

Even though I was told I did it, I can't believe it.

"If I follow this, the majority of the things I've wished to do will be attained but...well, I've searched through most of it." (Rato)

"And? The results?" (Naofumi)

"It was a failure. It was so frustrating I feel like crying." (Rato)

"Then did it show how to make a growing weapon?" (Naofumi)

"That was something it didn't have. If I had to say, it looks like it's because you put your efforts into creating the new species." (Rato)

"The Raph species, huh." (Naofumi)

"Yes, however that's only an alias. What will you do about the official name?" (Rato)

Their image is already set as the Raph Species though.

No matter what you label them, it's because they were based on Raphtalia. It's too simple to call them Raph and Tali and Ria and so forth just because Raphtalia was originally used as the base though.

Well, it's also bothersome to think of something this late.

"Isn't Raph Species fine as it is?" (Naofumi)

"There are various ones like the Tari species and Liia species. So they'll be collectively known as the Raph species. I understand. Similar to the Filia species of the Filorials, it'll be the Raph species of the Raphs." (Rato)

Uh...let's think of a name to call them.

It seems like I'll be scolded if I decide on Raphtalia's Raph species or something.

All the same, I won't give them a name like that.

"I don't know the difference between the Seventh Generation Raphs and the First Generation Raphs though." (Naofumi)

They feel the same when I stroke them, and I don't really understand the difference.

It seems they differ in abilities though.

"There are only a few who look like a deformed Raphtalia, but what are they?" (Naofumi)

"They're the seventh... to make it easier for you to understand, I should call them one of the Raphs you made on the seventh day, I think?" (Rato)

The day count, huh.

So the hybrid of Tanuki, Raccoon and Red Panda was the foundation of the Raph Species, and it's probably fine to think of the deformed Raphtalia were one of its subspecies.

"It was Mii-kun, right. What generation Raph species is he?" (Naofumi)

"As far as it goes, that body was made on the eighth day, I think? I don't really understand but they differ between days, and you even have upgrades with different abilities. Their structures are very different." (Rato)

"Upgrades... it's like they're robots." (Naofumi)

"Robot?" (Rato)

"Like the Golems in this world, that would be the closest term." (Naofumi)

"I see..." (Rato)

"So, how does he differ?" (Naofumi)

"Firstly, that body was derived from the concept of Slimes. It uses a component known as 'lump of meat'." (Rato)

Lump of meat...

It catches my interest a little. That expression.

"He has a high resistance against shocks, slash attacks and even magic." (Rato)

"There are no gaps..." (Naofumi)

My intuition informs me.

His weakness is probably—.

“However, a flaw with the components is if he gets hit with highly conductive magic while encased in water, he becomes paralysed and the inner core receives damage.” (Rato) [T/N: Lightning magic]

“And if a huge impact splits open the lump of meat, the core will be exposed, right?” (Naofumi)

“Indeed, as expected of you, Marquis. The problem is that we can’t expose him to a strong force. It’ll be over if he gets struck by that.” (Rato)

“Doesn’t he have a habit of betrayal?” (Naofumi)

“Ah…Mii-kun? If I had to say, it’s just that he covets power. Thinking ‘I continue to be deprived because I’m weak’ …but I believe in him.” (Rato)

“Right. Isn’t it just you who thinks that?” (Naofumi)

Believing that your own child is cute.

Rato does have the position of a parent in regards to the monsters.

“You’re wrong. Because half of the towers were destroyed by that child’s rampage.” (Rato)

“That’s how it was!?” (Naofumi)

“That’s right. After he left the important position of defender, he made a hole and created a shortcut, destroyed the safeguard apparatus, and interfered with the kids who were trying to protect the towers. If he did it badly, he would have been discarded by you.” (Rato)

“It’s good that he wasn’t discarded.” (Naofumi)

“That is…. because he was fighting and participating as a Hero’s companion…. I think.” (Rato)

Rampaging while in position…he was that kind of fellow?

Taking my abilities into consideration, if controlling was possible then it would have been better and so he was left alone, huh.

“Marquis, you also went on quite a rampage, we didn’t know what to do with you. It seems you raised the security of anything important. Well, apparently Mii-kun tampered with those logs though.” (Rato)

Rato turned her attention towards the screen of the slate.

「ミー君。どうやらこの錬金装置を手にするように操れる様に技能を詰め込まれたみたいなの」
“Mii-kun. Somehow he managed to obtain this alchemic device and operate it to cram it full of abilities.” (Rato) [T/N: Not too sure about this]

Ugh… it’s just as complicated.

Er, using my common sense to simplify things.. to describe the internet world in terms of physical items, the logs are like using an erase to erase records in a notebook and rewriting them…. I think?

While I was operating the computer, even though he was narrowly able to guess my target in the network, he could destroy my imminent target with a finger… it might be close to that.

Well, even if there’s a computer in this fantasy world, I know the limits of what can be done. It’s not like the whole world is connected through the internet.

In other words, he looked at the logs and tried to fix my rampage, but he just struggled and became a hindrance himself.

Finally, after the modifications were finished, he betrayed the crazy me and followed Rato’s side.

What he did was the same as Sadina at least.

“For the time being, I have plans to upgrade the homunculus Raph body that was made.” (Rato)

“Why?” (Naofumi)

“It seems to be still incomplete. And that’s why it has problems. Be as it may, it’s almost complete.” (Rato)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

"I wonder, is your conversation over~?" (Sadina)

"Pretty much. By the way, how are you?" (Naofumi)

I inquire about Sadina's body.

"Ah, well.. I've gotten considerably better. I may lose all the fur tomorrow."
(Sadina)

Sadina's fur was slowly falling out in patches and I could see tinges of black and white.

The walrus tusk was already gone.

Well she did cheerfully say that what doesn't kill you makes you stronger.

[T/N: lit. No matter what breaks, you can grow from it.]

"However..." (Sadina)

"However?" (Naofumi)

"...Nothing~" (Sadina)

"Is that so?" (Naofumi)

I'll lose if I worry about it.

Besides, trivial matters are this girl's forte.

"What kind of Onee-san does Naofumi-chan like? Is being fluffy better perhaps? Like the Raph-chans." (Sadina)

"Well..." (Naofumi)

Your brown colouring pains me when I see it.

"Sadina's natural form is better. I feel like that streamlined body has more meaning." (Naofumi)

"Oh... I was praised. Onee-san feels embarrassed." (Sadina)

"Yeah, yeah." (Naofumi)

And so, I returned home after talking with two of the women whose ages were on the higher end even in the village. [T/N: They're two of the oldest ppl in the village]

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 294 – Collect • Wall • Ball

---

We continued leveling for the Wave. I got the Old Man to make Raphtalia a new sword and placed an order for Firo's claws with Imya's Uncle. With that out of the way, we zealously proceed to level grind.

Because of this, my level has already climbed to 105.

Raphtalia's and Firo's were frozen at 100, so they're prepared enough.

The others in the village are also reaching quite high levels.

Especially the Heroes. They're all somewhere around level 115. Their strength is also considerable.

It may have something to do with that peculiar weapon, but Rishia was able to break the level cap and advance to level 105.

Then... the problem lies with Atlas and Fohl.

Let me reaffirm the situation with the siblings.

Every day, Atlas tries to sleep by my side. To get through the strict defenses on my house, she attacks from the front and ends up fighting every night.

And every time, Raphtalia, Fohl, the Raph Race, or the Filo Rials try to halt her advance. But please remember something.

Atlas is a genius.

By experiencing something once, she can adapt 10 or 20 times faster than a normal person.

"Just a little bit more!" (Atlas)

"How unfortunate for you."

"I was told that interrupting Naofumi-san's sleep was a bad thing, so..."

I deployed a powerful force in front of the buildings. The Heroes, Itsuki, and Ren stand to confront her. They've grown to have ample ability to do so. I discussed it with Ren a couple of days ago...

"Honestly, among the children in the village, the one growing the most is that Atlas girl." (Ren)

"Yes." (Itsuki)

"I see." (Naofumi)

Since the Houou battle was approaching, I increased the amount of time I spent training with him.

Of course, Raphtalia, Firo, Fohl, and Atlas also spar. And Atlas's movements have become unbelievably sharp.

She even studied my style of defense, and even helps me study the application of Chi.

That Hengen Musou Granny said that Atlas's defensive techniques were lacking, so I worked together with the girl to develop new techniques from the ground up.

The name is just temporary, but we made the skills 『Collect』, 『Wall』, and 『Ball』.

First is 『Collect』.

This is for magic-based attacks. Using Chi, you can move and redirect a magic attack aimed at you.

It's convenient when facing large scale magic head on.

Its radius of effect is three meters.

Of course, if you infuse more chi into it, you can increase that.

Next is 『Wall』.

This technique manifests an invisible wall for a few seconds to obstruct enemies.

It mostly works like my Air Strike Shield.

It can stop physical and magical attacks to some extent.

It's much more all-purpose than the skill. Its deployable area is also really large.

Its weak points are its low defense, and its short effective time.

Last is 『Ball』. This one is a counter skill.

Using it, you can gather and condense a magic attack and send it right back at the caster. Of course, there are plenty of magics it cannot send back, so it isn't that effective.

It works on a different principle than hitting attacks back with my shield.

I made it so that Atlas was able to use these skills.

They're skills based on my natural ability of defense, and Atlas was just mimicking that, though.

"It's hard to read her movements, and she's fast. What's more, whenever I think I'm going to hit, she immediately diverts my attacks. I can't get any damage through to her." (Ren) "And on top of that, her attacks naturally ignore defense, so it's hard to develop countermeasures." (Itsuki)

"But do you think you will be able to do anything about it?" (Naofumi)

"Probably. But, if I fought her one on one, I would have to go all out, or it would be difficult." (Ren)

"It would be hard to stop her without giving her serious injury." (Itsuki)

For a fully strengthened Hero to have to go all out... Just how fast is she growing?

But since the Heroes try to avoid killing any villagers, they have to hold back. I guess it would be a hard fight.

"Fohl-kun can stop her, so I think we'll manage one way or another, but as expected of the strongest Demi-Human race, the Hakukos." (Itsuki)

Itsuki speaks with an uninterested tone.

By hearing him, I don't get the impression that they're strong at all.

Even so, Fohl is quite something to be able to stop her as well.

"Yeah, keeping up with her is the best I can do. She's way too agile." (Ren)

By the way, Fohl is at 110, and Atlas at 103.

Just how strong is my village getting?

Atlas always takes on a large number of opponents, so she gets a lot of battle experience unrelated to her level.

During the day, she trains with other strong geniuses like Firo and Sadina. She's constantly improving herself.

"Is she seriously that strong?" (Naofumi)

When I train with her, I can take her blows just fine.

Perhaps she holds back against me. I can't refute the possibility.

Should I ask her to come at me seriously next time?

If she manages to beat the crap out of me, I have no idea what I'll do.

"Since Naofumi can only be on the defense, it's hard to find opportunities to attack, I bet. We have to mix in offense as well." (Ren)

"This is the first time I'm hearing of it. Just taking attacks is hard in itself, you know. I mean, aren't you better off than someone who has virtually no offensive power?" (Naofumi)

"Well, I can't argue with that." (Ren)

Just keeping up defenses is easy... There may be some people who think that, but that's definitely not the case.

You have to catch and shift the impact of opponents' blows to stop them, and parry them as well. You can't just hold up a shield.

What's more, my self-made defense style also allows me to break opponents' weapons, thus aiding my party.

This does not work on Legendary Weapons, of course.

I can do Shirahatori, and grab weapons and arrows out of midair. (TL: Shirahadori is that thing where you clap your hands on a sword swinging downwards)

I can interfere with magic as well, and support magic is my duty.

And wait, that's kinda all I can do. I mean, there's no helping it. I just don't have offensive capability.

Back to Atlas.

When sparing with me, she uses her speed to feign and break through my defense.

I'm usually able to deal with it, but I don't think my speed is that high. Is she really going easy on me?

"But you definitely are good at stopping attacks. Perhaps you learned to keep up with Atlas's speed." (Ren)

"It's a matter of practice." (Naofumi)

"Well... That's true. Their race really does seem like it was born for battle. (Ren)

"Is that so? When she trains with Firo and the Raphs, she doesn't look like anything special." (Naofumi)

Looking at just speed, Firo is peerless.

Her attacks are extremely quick and heavy.

She can also accelerate herself to greater levels with Magic, so she's more troublesome of an opponent than Atlas.

The Raphs aren't as fast as Filo Rials, but they can use illusionary magic like Raphtalia. If you lose sight of reality, then they can easily sneak through your defense.

And also, they have their numbers...

"Firo-chan's really big, so it's easier to hit her. But Atlas's small build and dexterity make it really hard to land any blows on her." (Ren)

"Yes." (Itsuki)

Her size, is it?

Even though her level's grown to 103, she hasn't grown at all.

I don't know the reason, but perhaps it has something to do with her past illness.

Even so, enemy size...

Now that you mention it, Firo is big.

When trying to dodge, her size is a disadvantage.

And Atlas's size is troublesome in another way.

The threats are of different categories.

"Fuee... Atlas-chan is getting stronger by the day. It's really troubling."

(Rishia)

"I see... How's Raphtalia doing, then?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, she's gradually getting stronger too. Her movements are getting sharper and more intense." (Itsuki)

Fumu.

"If we have members of that level of strength, won't the Houou battle be easy?" (Ren)

"No, it seems Atlas won't be participating in the Houou campaign."

(Naofumi)

"Why?" (Ren)

Ren asks with a perplexed expression.

"I made a promise to Fohl that I wouldn't let her participate against Houou. That's why I'm taking up applicants for that battle, but Atlas won't be included." (Naofumi)

I think it's at the same moment I said those words.

Behind me, I hear the sound of something hitting the ground.

When I turn around, I see a sack on the floor and Atlas staring in our direction.

Her timing is bad.

And wait, isn't my probability of happening upon these cliché situations unreasonably high?

"What's wrong, Atlas?" (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama... You're not going to deploy me into battle?" (Atlas)

"Yep, most likely. I made a promise with your brother." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama! I declared that I would be your shield, did I not? Then I need to be by your side in battle!" (Atlas)

"Even if you say that, I already made a promise. I decided I would keep such promises even if it killed me. As long as I properly agreed to the deal, at least." (Naofumi)

"Onii-sama..." (Atlas)

Atlas unsteadily walks off. She seems anxious as she increases her pace.

"I'm worried about Fohl-kun, so I'm going to go check on him."

"Me too." (Ren)

"I as well." (Itsuki)

"Fuee... I'm also worried..." (Rishia)

Hmmmmmmmm... The trust placed in Atlas seems to be low.

For the first thing everyone assumes to be her assaulting Fohl, just how hasty are these people?

No matter how I look at it, it didn't seem that way.

"Fohl's off getting materials to make an accessory for Atlas, isn't he?"
(Naofumi)

Everyone has break time on rotation, and Fohl uses his to go fetch materials.

I won't speak up over what he does on his vacations.

He seems to have placed an order from Imya's Uncle, so he left Atlas in Raphtalia's hands and left.

He'll probably be back by tomorrow, so he's safe for today.

"Now that you mention it, that's right."

"Yeah."

"But tomorrow, I feel that something will happen."

It's a road we'll have to cross eventually.

Now then, will Fohl be able to stop Atlas?

I have to start preparing for the campaign.

So far, preparations have been smooth.

The Heroes have sufficiently recovered from their curses.

Besides his personality problems, Itsuki's curse isn't a hindrance anymore.

His level even recovered.

From my visits to the Onsen every day, I've fully recovered from my wrath.

Even the curses from when I went strange have disappeared.

The only remaining effects are that my experience gets sucked away at regular intervals, and whenever I compound, the product is dropped a few levels in quality.

The levels of those in the village that volunteered to fight in the wave are quite high as well, and the monsters are quite motivated.

I feel like praising myself for raising them 'til now.

By the way, the voice of the slaves, besides Raphtalia, is Kiel.

She doesn't have any delegated position, but she's quite powerful in battle.

Though, she's constantly bound to her Crepe Tree.

When I asked her if she would participate in the wave, she was overflowing with eagerness.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 295 – Sibling Fight

---

“Onii-sama! I will be fighting with you!” (Atlas)

“Not happening!” (Fohl)

Ever since Fohl returned, Atlas has been constantly berating him. Though, she didn’t suddenly attack him to silence him or anything. Well, if she did something like that, I definitely wouldn’t let her participate in it.

I would never be able to trust someone like that.

Atlas...

She treats my orders as absolute and agrees with whatever I say. And whenever my life is concerned, she will stay by me until the end. I am her absolute doctrine.

There was a time when I wanted a girl to be blindly obedient to me, but when I actually meet someone like that, I can do nothing but worry for her. I’m a villain, I laugh when misfortune befalls others. I’ve long forfeited my qualifications to be followed like that.

I’ve raised an army of slaves who would happily run forwards towards their deaths. For me to make a happy family would be... impossible, right? That’s why I silently watch over Atlas and Fohl’s bout.

I have a promise with Fohl, and under its terms, he will fight for me. That’s why the one who needs to persuade Atlas is Fohl himself.

“Even when I’m pleading this much, you won’t move?” (Atlas)

“Yes, Atlas. I can’t bring you with me to such a dangerous place.” (Fohl)

“Onii-sama, there is no place without danger. You don’t know when something will happen, and I could die. It doesn’t matter where I am.” (Atlas)

“Wrong. At least, if you stay here, you’ll be safe.” (Fohl)

“... Is that really the case? There’s no saying when someone may poison our water again when Naofumi-sama is out. I may die from a sudden plague. A group jealous of Naofumi-sama’s work may attack the village, and I may have the bad luck of being drawn into their conflict.” (Atlas)

She’s bringing out some extreme hypotheticals.

... Though all of them have happened already.

The poison, and Gaelion’s plague, and what happened here before I was summoned...

“Quit it with your sophistry!” (Fohl)

“I’m merely saying the concept of safety is but an illusion, Onii-sama. I merely wish to protect Naofumi-sama from unhappiness! Those countless possibilities may befall Naofumi-sama, you know. When I’m not there, a stray arrow may strike his heart.” (Atlas)

Eh? Now she’s bringing me in?

What logic.

This is a parallel world, you know. Something as simple as a stray arrow won’t kill the Hero of the Shield.

“I don’t want to be someone who’s only protected anymore! Please let me go into battle.” (Atlas)

“And I’m telling you that isn’t happening!” (Fohl)

“I’m no longer the weak girl I was before!” (Atlas)

“Your new-found pride will only lead you to misfortune.” (Fohl)

Ah, for the love of... Their dialogue continues.

But if I intrude here, I can’t see a good ending. What should I do?

Even if I tell her she’s too young, I have plenty of young children fighting, and if I tell her she just got over her illness, I have other treated slaves fighting as well.

... This may be late, but I’m quite a brute, aren’t I?

"... We've each said our part, right, Atlas?" (Fohl)

"Yes." (Atlas)

"Then as one who carries the blood of the Hakukos, you know what we must do, right?" (Fohl)

Fohl and Atlas raise their fists. They begin releasing bloodlust.
What do you guys plan on starting?

"Yes, if my will isn't enough to pierce your resolve... I just have to prove my strength to you first hand!" (Atlas)

"If you lose to me, you have to honor my promise." (Fohl)

"I won't go back on my words." (Atlas)

How did it come to this.

And I get the feeling that these two are constantly fighting regardless.

What's more, I get the feeling that Atlas is the one winning those fights.
I reflect on their record.

After I became strange, it seems that Fohl has been on a winning streak.
He stopped acting as a tumor on her side and started fighting her seriously.
The reason he didn't buy any weapons from the weapon store was that he couldn't hold back, and that he may end up killing her.
But even if you call those wins, he always had comrades. I wonder what will happen if they go one on one.

According to Ren and the others, Atlas's growth is higher, but if you consider willpower and stats, Fohl is at an advantage.

Whenever the genius Atlas feels at a disadvantage, she retreats and adjusts her position.

By that logic, Fohl's advantage lies in the first blow.

Since Fohl's been fighting long before I met him, perhaps he'll display their difference in battle experience.

"Then Onii-sama, I challenge you to a duel." (Atlas)

"Yeah." (Fohl)

Atlas points her hand at Fohl.

Their ways of fighting are quite different.

Fohl uses his fist to break down defenses and damage opponents. Atlas thrusts through them. Instead of hitting them straight on, she goes for the vital points and uses chi.

From this fight, we'll see if Atlas will challenge Houou.

The wind whistles, and along with it, comes a biopant leaf.

The moment the leaf hit the ground, it starts.

"DAAAAAAAAAAAAH!" (Fohl)

Fast!

For a moment, I couldn't follow Fohl's movements as he instantly closes in on Atlas and swings his fist down on her.

"Tei!" (Atlas)

Using her own hands, Atlas redirects his blow and dodges Fohl's hand with a paper-thin margin.

His fist hits the ground and gets embedded in it.

Following a bang, the earth begins rumbling. Cracks begin spreading from the area Fohl hit.

"Now!" (Atlas)

Moving to avoid the cracks, Atlas thrusts her hand towards Fohl's back.

"Like I'd let you!" (Fohl)

Using the hand embedded into the ground as support, Fohl does a handstand, and he twists his body to meet Atlas's hand with a kick.

“Damn!” (Atlas)

Atlas stops the blow with one hand, but has to twist her body backwards to absorb the impact of the blow. Regaining her posture, she tries for another attack, but this time, Fohl makes his body vertical and pushes off with his hands to get himself out of the ground. His hand dislodges, and his body flies quite high. He turns his body and aims a dropkick at Atlas.

By the way, this all happened in 5 seconds.

Just how militaristic are these people?

With a fed-up expression, I began calculating ways to deal with these siblings.

How to block Fohl’s fist… how to prepare for Atlas’s fist…

Is this what you call an occupational disease?

Both of them jump back and create distance. They readjust their breathing.

“As I thought, you’re stronger than when I fought you yesterday, Atlas. Nii-chan is always proud of you.” (Fohl)

“If you keep looking down on me, you’re going to lose, Onii-sama.” (Atlas)

“Three months… In just three months, you managed to reach this point.

It’s something worthy of praise. For both me and you.” (Fohl)

“That’s right. Three months may seem like a short time, but it’s enough time for people to change.” (Atlas)

“And you’ve changed, Atlas. Looking at you now, I would never have believed that just months ago, you were crying over how your very existence did nothing but cause trouble for people.” (Fohl)

“… That still hasn’t changed. Just by living here, I am troubling various people. That’s why, I want to pay off the troubles I caused. One of the people I am in debt to is you, Onii-sama. I want to protect you as well.” (Atlas)

After steadying their breaths, the two continue their conversation while exchanging blows.

Good for them.

"This current me is in a place you call safe, and you won't let anything happen to me. But that means that I am not truly living. If it's to protect Naofumi-sama, Onii-sama or the others in the village, I will happily step on the front lines. If it's for Naofumi-sama's goals, then I will gladly do my part in protecting him." (Atlas)

"Why must you continue to side with that man!?" (Fohl)

"You can't understand, Onii-sama? Don't you realize what lies in that man's heart?" (Atlas)

"..." (Fohl)

Neither of them can land decisive blows, and the fistfight continues.

Both of them possess considerable speed, and all the people observing the fight can do nothing but watch.

Huh? Why has the peanut gallery increased?

Ah, the people in my place are quite perceptive, so they'll come as soon as something happens.

How reliable.

More importantly, Fohl and Atlas.

I bet they're reliable as well.

Ren and Itsuki are probably thinking of how to deal with those two. They're both clenching their weapons tightly as their eyes follow the battle.

Looking at myself objectively, I'm thinking along a similar vein.

"I understand your determination. But still, I cannot accept it. It's time to finish this!" (Fohl)

Fohl holds his hands out front and concentrates.

"UWOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOH!"

Fohl changes to his beast form.

Doing that increases his abilities considerably in itself.

The only ones who can keep up with Fohl when he becomes like that are the heroes, when serious, Raphtalia, Firo, and the Granny.

Is Atlas included as well?

It appears they weren't even fighting seriously yet.

"Yes... I'll do just that. But in order to make you recognize me, I'll fight seriously as well!" (Atlas)

Both sides activate Musou Kassei.

The air feels like it's shaking under the pressure. And everyone present realized that different types of bloodlust existed.

The aura Fohl releases is that of a wild beast. It is sweltering and full of primal rage.

In contrast, Atlas's aura is... cold... and ruthless. It is also something that should not have entered the hand of humans.

An aura hot enough to melt an enemy, and an aura cold enough to silence them.

As the two sides clash, the peanut gallery holds their breath and swallows their saliva.

"Hengen Musou Fist Skill! Tiger Break!"

Fohl's Chi expands. And he points his arms and fists at Atlas, releasing a skill.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 296 – Clash of Tigers

---

“Kuh!”

Every time Fohl’s fist comes into contact with Atlas, Chi pierces through her body.

The released energy is in the shape of a tiger.

It’s also attacking pressure points. It seems to combine skills to put ignoring defense as its main focus.

It has quite a bit of output, so rather than the pressure points, Atlas is probably more worried about nullifying the impact.

I think I could handle it though. I’ve specialized myself in dealing with defense ignoring attacks. In both the theory and application.

But unlike Atlas’s, while it may ignore defense, it can’t scale off of it.

(TL: だがあの攻撃は防御無視むしに力ちからを注いでいる所為で防御力比例効果は無ない。)

And it looks like his power is flowing all the way through and out of her body, forcing her own chi out.

It’s like an energy attack.

Those things in games that would decrease the opponent’s energy gauge.

“Not yet! Tiger…” (Fohl)

Hmm? The lights leaving Atlas’s body return to Fohl’s hand. Is he recycling the energy?

He can use it like that too?

“Rush!” (Fohl)

Fohl unleashes a barrage of punches.

Each and every hit lands on mark, and every time one hits, a strange sound reverberates through the air.

A cloud of dust rises. Fohl finishes his attack, and jumps backwards out of the cloud.

"How was that!?" (Fohl)

I think that was overkill, dude.

Is what the crowd may be thinking, but I saw it.

"As expected of Onii-sama. I take that attack every night, but it's getting sharper by the day." (Atlas)

Atlas looks slightly beaten up, but she's still standing.

"Gu..." (Fohl)

Fohl is the one who seems to be more effected.

"At the moment of every impact, I used the technique I thought up with Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

A 『Wall』 appears on Atlas's hand.

"To put it simply, you've been banging your fists on an extremely sturdy wall this whole time. And while you were doing that, I was attacking your hands." (Atlas)

I see. So she wasn't being beaten up at all.

It was meant to be a defensive skill, but against an unarmed opponent like Fohl, it can be used like that as well.

Even so, just how crazy of a person must she be to sew attacks into the gaps of that relentless barrage?

"As expected of Atlas. To push me back this far." (Fohl)

"Not as far as you've pushed me, Onii-sama. Geho!" (Atlas) (TL: Sound of coughing)

Atlas vomits a small amount of blood.

Instead of redirecting some of the attacks, she took a few head on.

“Next is my turn, is it? Look, Onii-sama, make sure to watch me.” (Atlas)

On top of Atlas’s hand floats a ball made out of Chi. Its size increased, to show the shape of a tiger inside of it.

“… Is that my chi?” (Fohl)

“Yes, it is the chi you released at me. I was unable to avoid a little, so I’ve sealed it like this. Now you understand what I’m going to do with it, right?” (Atlas)

This isn’t going to be pretty.

『Ball』 is a counter I thought up with Atlas.

It collects power released at it, and returns it.

It’s mainly geared towards anti-personnel battles but it can equally be used against large monsters like the Spirit Turtle.

And this is the first time she’s using it against a single person.

“Now then, here I come. Onii-sama…” (Atlas)

Atlas immediately appears before Fohl, and presses the ball of energy to his chest.

It doesn’t look like she’s just returning what was given to her.

It’s a skill I see Female Knight, Rishia and Raphtalia use often.

In the counter ball, she put in much more of her own power.

If I were to think of a name for it…

“This is just a temporary name, but how about calling it『Point Ball』?” (Naofumi)

But… At that moment, Fohl condensed Chi on his fists, and pounded them at Atlas.

"Hengen Musou Fist Skill! Tiger Blow!" (Fohl)

The collision of the two causes the ground to warp, and dust rises once more.

Two shadows leap out of the cloud, and both spin in the air as they fly quite a distance.

"Ah... Gu..."

"Uu..."

Both of them find themselves on the ground.

It was that powerful of an attack. One of them, or perhaps both of them, may already be incapacitated.

I confirm both of their status screens.

No one's dead. But their stamina has decreased greatly.

At the moment, Atlas is at a slight disadvantage.

"Ugu..."

Atlas shakes back and forth as she picks herself off of the ground.

Fohl does the same.

And... Even though Fohl looks like he's going to keel over, he stands his ground.

But Atlas begins falling forward...

"Atlas, it's my win." (Fohl)

"Not... yet." (Atlas)

As she falls forward, Atlas kicks the ground strongly, and lifts herself up.

"This can't be... I thought the best you would be able to do now was to stand." (Fohl)

"Onii-sama... in a battle you have to win no matter what, will you just let yourself fall on the ground?" (Atlas)

"... No." (Fohl)

"Then there's only one thing I have to do. You're the same, aren't you?"

(Atlas)

"... That's right. This is the end." (Fohl)

Fohl directs his shaking fist at Atlas.

His footing is a bit strange.

This is the end. There will be only one survivor... It really does seem like that, but they'll be fine.

If someone were to die before the wave even hit, I would begin doubting the future...

Hmm? Ren's started talking to me.

"Naofumi, look. You're about to see why we think Atlas to be the stronger one." (Ren)

"What do you mean?" (Naofumi)

I rarely ever see Atlas fighting seriously.

So I don't know what's about to happen. The others seem to be expecting it, though.

"Suu... Hah..." (Atlas)

Chi begins gathering around the girl.

What?

Atlas's wounds have healed slightly.

"Right, that girl recovers her stamina in battle. That's why if you don't beat her quickly, you become at a disadvantage the longer the battle runs."

(Ren)

Just how high are her combat abilities?

But Fohl's similar. Just by adjusting his breathing, he seems to be regaining composure as well.

“TEEEEEEEEEEE!” (Atlas)

Atlas consecutively thrusts at her brother. Fohl also starts striking.
A bang rings out as the attacks hit their marks.

And... both of them stop moving.

I look over the quiet duo.

They both passed out while standing.

How convenient of a skill... just how much muscle do they have in their heads?

『I, the Hero of the Shield, who has understood the origin of power command. Let the truth once more be read forth, mend all that belongs to them. All Zveit Heal!』 (Naofumi)

I chant an AOE recovery spell, and heal their wounds.
The one who regained consciousness first was Fohl.

“Ha!? I was...” (Fohl)

“It was a draw. Both of you fainted.” (Naofumi)

“I see...” (Fohl)

Fohl picks up the yet-unconscious Atlas in a princess cradle.
This guy always holds her like that. Is that his fetish?
Not that it matters. I don't think I'll get a straight answer if I ask anyways.

“And? Will you leave her home?” (Naofumi)

“...” (Fohl)

Without giving an answer, Fohl started walking towards his house.
It's not like he was acting out to spite me. For some reason, his face is warping. Is he... laughing?
What's there for him to be happy about?
And he suddenly started spilling out words at me.

"I thank you for raising Atlas to be this strong. Thank you..." (Fohl)

—

The next day, Atlas and Fohl came to my place with bright smiles on their face. Apparently, Fohl approved of her participation in the Houou campaign.

"Are you sure?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, even if we leave her in the village, she'll follow of her own accord. It's best to watch her than to let her get hurt all by herself." (Fohl)

"Is that how it works?" (Naofumi)

"Yep, that's how it works. I just have to do my best to protect her. Nothing's changed." (Fohl)

"I see." (Naofumi)

In the end, this boy's still too soft on Atlas.

But I guess having their final showdown end in a draw makes leaving her home a bit difficult.

And I did use him as a dakimakura last night.

"..."

For some reason, he's staring at me.

Don't look at me like that. I don't have such hobbies.

"Rafu~"

Today, I am once again rubbing a Raph to relieve stress.

Their feel truly is the best.

Recently, I've begun getting hooked on petting things like this.

It's not like I've awakened to a love of animals or anything...

I didn't even keep any animals in my old world.

"Um, Naofumi-sama, are you perhaps patting a Raph?" (Atlas)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

"Where's Aneki?" (Fohl)

"She left for Melty's place." (Naofumi)

"Wait, you can't go around petting those things when she isn't here..."
(Fohl)

"It's better because she's not here." (Naofumi)

That's why I'm petting it in secret.

"Hah?" (Fohl)

Fohl's face has stiffened.

What's his problem?

"Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"What?" (Naofumi)

What is this? I'm getting a really bad premonition.

I immediately turn to the direction Fohl was looking.

What I saw was the village's usual scenery. Nothing was out of place.

... No one was there.

"Don't startle me like that." (Naofumi)

"O-okay..." (Fohl)

Hmm... I looked around again, but Raphtalia wasn't there.

Did these siblings awaken to a sixth sense recently?

What are they staring at... I continued patting the Raph.

A while later, Raphtalia returned with a strange smile on her face.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 297 – The Land of Houou

---

Now then, it's about time to finish choosing the members to take to battle. Tomorrow, we're going to set out for the land where Houou is sealed. The Heroes and their companions. Raphtalia and Firo are a given. Also Fohl, Atlas, Sadina, Kiel and the volunteers from the village.

Imya, and the others that specialize in manufacturing, will stay home. It's not like I'm forcing anyone to come along. I gave them all ample warning.

"Just so you know, the Wave is no game. I don't have the confidence to protect all of you. If you don't have the resolve to fight for your life, then don't come along!" (Naofumi)

I pray that my words actually reached these kids.

Right... I want to get over this with the lowest amount of casualties possible. The slaves all nod at me, but do they truly understand...?

Ah, right, right.

We did think of sending one hero there beforehand, so he could portal back, take us all there, and let us record it in our portals. But that sounded like too big of a pain, so the proposal was rejected.

If all four of us used our teleporting skills, how many would we be able to take along...?

Including the allied forces, just how many soldiers are there in Melromakr alone?

I mean, perhaps the slaves at my place would be fine alone, but if we have the manpower, then it's best to use it.

And so, it turned out that my place's Filo Rials would assist in transporting everyone, Slaves and Soldiers.

“Then we will be accompanying you.” (Queen)

The Queen is coming along as the strategist for the army.

It seems she left the castle to Melty. Melty’s guard was left to Female Knight.

We can’t use all of the country’s forces, and She’ll do fine as a guard.

And Melty and Female Knight seem to have compatible personalities, so I don’t think there will be any problems.

The person herself was frustrated that she would not be participating, though.

She is quite skilled, but there’s no helping it.

She shook hands with Raphtalia, saying she would leave it to her.

For argument’s sake, Trash is also in the Queen’s carriage.

… He’s staring silently from the inside. He seems to have aged even more than before.

His beloved daughter died horribly, so I guess that would cause a man to age.

And his beloved sister’s look-alike, Atlas, is serving under his hated enemy. He must be quite miserable.

He was scowling at me with vigor, but when Atlas sat next to me, his expression suddenly turned soft.

Anyways, that’s how our journey went.

“Ehehe~ It’s fine~” (Firo)

Firo is showing off to the Filo Rials pulling the allied forces’ carriages. She’s being annoying.

The Filo Rials themselves seem to look a bit jealous, as if… No that is not my concern.

By competing their Filo Rial-drawn carriages, and their dragon-drawn carriages, the Allied Forces are also proceeding at a reasonable pace.

I guess that's one way to use them.

"KYUA!"

Child Gaelion is pulling a carriage with the same happy expression as Firo.
He's competing well with our bird, and... his passengers are making some nice memories, involving much nausea and vomit.

"Rafu~"

I also took the Raphs with me.

Mii-kun wanted to join in the fray too, so Rat came along with her equipment under one arm.

By the way, the former Caterpilland Raphs are also helping draw the carriages.

The gazes from the army are painful.

As expected of the Hero of the Shield! To create a new type of monster to help us is amazing!

... I hear whispers all around. Everyone's bringing up my dark history. This was the result of something that was definitely not me.

Even if you praise me for it, it doesn't make me happy at all.

And, a few days of travel passed... We arrived at the land of the seal.

"So this is where Houou is sealed..."

The land we arrived in was... well, it gave off the feeling of a small, remote country.

There are quite a few people who wear china-ish clothing in Melromark, and it seems they come from here.

But the roofs are really low. It's quite different from the western style Melromark.

I get a different feeling than that of the town on the Spirit Turtle.
It's like it's from a different era...? I'm not too familiar with oriental fantasy settings, so I can't really say.
Anyways, let's just say it's Chinese-ish.

"That would be the equivalent of our country's castle, Iwatani-sama."
(Queen)

The Queen walks in front of us, as she shows us around the city.
She doesn't seem too knowledgeable on it, so I don't really think she has too, but...

"For some reason, I don't see many people." (Naofumi)

Right, despite the city's size, and wide roads, I barely see anyone walking around.

It's almost a ghost town.

If someone told me this was the country's capital, I would tilt my head in confusion.

"From three months prior, this land was informed that Houou would awaken. After a large uproar, most of the populace evacuated." (Queen)

"Well yeah..." (Naofumi)

Thinking about the casualties on the Spirit Turtle's land, the people would try to get out of here as quickly as possible.

The destruction of the Spirit Turtle became quite famous, and this is the result.

"..."

Ren is silently looking down.

Is he still conscious about that incident? Just don't do it here too.

Motoyasu is restlessly looking around the city.

Is he really repenting?

Itsuki is following Rishia with an apathetic expression as usual.

“... I’ll do my best.” (Itsuki)

He muttered to himself.

I really don’t understand what’s going on with his curse. Is it cured, or not?
I’m pretty sure it should be dispelled by now, but his emotions are still faint.

“And? Are we going to have a talk with this country’s head, or something?”
(Naofumi)

“That’s right. We’ll be talking with a representative, though.” (Queen)

“Hmmm...” (Naofumi)

In the room the Queen led us to, was a single young boy, sitting on a throne.

Is this the representative?

“Thank you for coming all this way, Four Heroes, and the Queen of Melromark. I am the one acting as this country’s king.”

“My, my. The king I knew of was quite a different man. What happened?”
(Queen)

“The previous king saw it fit to go on a long journey with his men, and all of the country’s priceless treasures.”

I let out a deep sigh.

Again... Why are all of this world’s royalty so rotten?

Heading for the hills out of fear of being drawn into the Houou Battle...

“Understood, then are you the representative I heard of?” (Queen)

“That seems to be the case. At the moment, my country’s soldiers are away, trying to capture the previous king.”

“Hey, Queen.” (Naofumi)

“What could it be?” (Queen)

"Why are all of this world's royalty..." (Naofumi)

"He was supposed to be a skillful leader carrying the blood of Faubley Royalty, but for such a thing to happen in an emergency situation... I can't really say anything about it." (Queen)

No... isn't he rotten because he has Faublian blood?

Is what I think, the kid in front of me is acting quite mature for his age.

He may be a person like Melty.

I guess he'll do better than the people that ran.

"We humbly welcome the Heroes, and the allied army. As you proposed earlier, we have compiled all information in our possession pertaining to Houou, so if you would please look through that later, I would be grateful."

As the boy waved his hand, a scholar-like person stepped out of the shadows. It looks like he will be guiding us.

"Then the armies will be on standby in the city." (Queen)

"Yes..."

For some reason, the boy's expression is dark.

Ah right, the land around the city seemed to be a barren wasteland.

From what I've seen, the few remaining residents are quite thin.

I heard that a few parts of this world were in famine.

Since I had my Bioplant, I didn't really worry about it, but... We need to secure a source of food for ourselves.

"Shadow." (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Shadow)

... This isn't the Shadow I know.

Anyways, I called a Shadow out, took some Bioplant Seeds from my pocket, and scattered them on his hand.

"We'll be staying here for a while. Go plant that somewhere to make a source of food. While you're at it, you can go fill this country's storehouse as well." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Shadow)

On my words, the Queen silently lowers her head.
At the same time, the boy bows as well.

"I'm thankful for the Hero's benevolence."

"If we try to send a starving army into battle, we're the ones that will be troubled in the end." (Naofumi)

Hmm... It's not my problem, but it seems that food problems are prevalent in this area.

I'm worried about how long the supplies we brought with us will last.

The other heroes have also unlocked the necessary weapons to modify Bioplants.

The problem is... if they keep at modifying, a strange weapon like that shield may pop up, so I cautioned them to do it in moderation.

I'm starting to wonder whether the Legendary Weapons have some sort of Karma system in them.

Ren and the others have done quite a bit. So... if they do anything strange, there's a possibility their weapons will send them berserk.

Even so, mass producing the Bioplant is essential for our profit.

If someone goes out of control here, it will be no joke.

"Will you kindly direct us to the information you compiled?" (Queen)

"Yes, this way."

We ended our short audience with the king, and followed the scholar to the place the information was stocked.

But before that.

"Raphtalia, Fohl, and Atlas. Go watch over the Allied armies." (Naofumi)

"I believe we've already made announcements to them." (Raphtalia)

"More forces will be coming soon, right? Go handle those additions. If something happens, report to me immediately." (Naofumi)

"Ah, yes. Understood." (Raphtalia)

Even if we look over the material together, I don't think the current Raphtalia is going to have too much of a role.

I sent Firo to find a place to put the carriage, and to investigate the area. So she already isn't here.

Perhaps I should get her to sing to raise morale. She's really popular, apparently

I believe there was that anime about that. Is it really effective?

(TL: I'm really not sure about this one, but perhaps it's Macross Frontier.

There are plenty of Animes that fit the bill here)

I think as I proceed forward.

"Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"If anything happens to you, call for me." (Atlas)

"Yeah, got it." (Naofumi)

It's not like anything will happen yet.

I think. I give a vague response to Atlas and went to go read up on our next foe.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 298 – Journal of the Hero

---

We began browsing through the Houou reports inside of the castle. There a couple of books documenting the damage caused by it. Apparently, the number of casualties was nothing to laugh at. As a last ditch resort, the Heroes were summoned, and Houou was sealed.

“Ren, Motoyasu, Itsuki, by your knowledge, where was Houou sealed?”
(Naofumi)

“That mountain.” (Itsuki)

Itsuki looks out of the window, and indicates a mountain… It looks like a standard oriental mountain.

He points his finger at it.

“Yep, there.” (Ren)

“That’s right, Father-in-Law, there.” (Motoyasu)

“Fumu… in your games, how exactly was the seal broken?” (Naofumi)

“It was during a quest, right? It revived from the stone structure acting as its seal.”

“I see.” (Naofumi)

In the Spirit turtle’s case, the vibrations caused by the monster destroyed much of the murals depicting it.

But now, we can go through the information at our own leisure. How relaxing.

Hmm?

It’s a journal left behind by one of the Heroes that sealed it.

From summoning to challenging Houou, it has multiple volumes depicting scenes from the start of his life in this world, to his death… apparently.

It's like that.

Using the wisdom of your ancestors.

Imitating some hero of old to beat or seal a monster.

I mean, school teaches us to act like great people long dead, right?

The journal detailed him being summoned, and chosen as the Seven Star Hero of the Gauntlet. It detailed his daily life of fighting.

I have no idea what his past world was like.

This report says nothing of VRMMOs or Espers. Is he from a world like mine or Motoyasu's?

This kinda reads like a Web Novel, though it's based on his real experience.

Something about beating up a guy who pissed him off. A majority of it was just about the guy bragging.

Quit talking about your Harem. That's just disgusting.

I really don't care about the touching scenes with your heroines.

His wife number 1 seems to be the princess present at his summoning, but mentioning princesses around us is like stepping on a landmine. The girl's real name is included.

Including me, are all otherworlders like this?

Anyways, I tried to skim through it, but worried about missing crucial info, so I started reading it carefully.

When will I find something useful?

And wait, leaving something like this for the future generation, what was this guy thinking...?

Was it simply a diary?

I mean, it's written in Japanese, so this world's people can't read it. That possibility exists.

That means that it might be highly dramatized.

At least, I don't think the individual planned for anyone else to read it.

Otherwise, it would just be embarrassing.

Ren has a doubtful expression.

Motoyasu is... having Midori read it, and is playing with his three's feathers.

Wait, Midori can read Japanese?

Itsuki is indifferently reading through it. But if he finds anything, I think he'll speak up.

Just tell us about Houou already.

And... I read through each and every volume of it.

The only books missing are the ones pertaining to Houou, and the ones pertaining to the wave.

If only he depicted his strengthening methods, of how to class up, or something like that.

"Oy, the most important parts are missing." (Naofumi)

"This is all the information we have on hand." (Scholar)

Again.

Oy... why do they only have this set of thin books, with the necessary info omitted?

Did someone intentionally get rid of it?

I really want to complain to someone, but it is as it is. There was no useful information.

"... In the past, a war raged on this land. At that time, much of our information went up in flames."

"The flame really was accurate in the information it swallowed." (Naofumi)

"I-I'm sorry..."

The scholar apologizes as he reorganizes the reports, and looks over them.

Uwah... this is useless.

But it's not like complaining will do anything.

"This is the last one. A single manuscript remained."

I was handed a bundle of paper.

This is more of a stack of scraps than a book. What's more, it's full of holes.
Ah, it has a minimal description of Houou.

Houou's goal is... to win... is prevented.

You cannot seal it during the last set of waves.

And to defeat it, you need to... both... or else...

Here is its attack pattern...

As expected, the writing was unable to withstand the ages. Much of it is impossible to decipher.

I mean, the above was the only thing I could figure out after consulting the rest of the Heroes.

For it to become illegible just before going into attack patterns, are they trying to insult me?

Who was it? Who was so negligent in taking care of this precious manuscript?

"Next is a mural left by the past heroes. Could you please look over that as well?" (Scholar)

"Sure."

Expecting murals like that in the Spirit Turtle's city, we stepped into a temple that seemed to be a tourist attraction.

"The armies are lined up strangely."

At the temple's front gate, a structure slightly separated from the main body, I noticed a queue forming.

Some merchants are walking around and peddling to the line... When Houou is this close... Their commercial spirit is admirable.

"That is also an area we would like to have the Heroes check out later."

"Hmmm."

So I won't have to ask about it now.

What we need right now is information on our foe.

There's a high probability that we're the only ones who can understand what's written on the mural.

It may just look like a strange pattern to those of this world, but to us, they should become letters.

Like with the Spirit Turtle.

And like that, we stepped into the building.

It appears that this truly was a tourist spot dedicated to the heroes. We continue walking through the stone structure.

The atmosphere feels heavy.

As we walk, our steps echo into the darkness.

A Buddhist priest-like person came to greet us... Even so, I see a few catholic priest-like people as well. What's going on with this world's religion?

Flickering candles light the dark temple.

The inside of it was decorated by several statues mimicking the beast.

The gloomy atmosphere only seemed to make me more nervous.

"And? Where's the mural the heroes supposedly left?" (Naofumi)

On the wall were several works with old writing, and murals of what looked to be from the Mayan civilization. I can't tell which one it's supposed to be. I feel like I'm being given a tour of a strange attraction rather than a monument.

"It's this one."

We were led to the deepest part of the temple, where we found a large... fresco.

But... It's dark. I can't see the whole picture.

"It's dark. 「Faust Glow Fire」."

The Queen lights the dark room.

What was before us truly was a depiction of Houou.

I don't know if it was done by Heroes, but what's shown are two large birds, surrounded by a sea of fire.

Just from its looks, I guess it attacks by using its wings, dropping fire, and using its claws.

The birds themselves seem to be like peafowls, with scales on their bodies.

Its tail feathers fanned out to form a... fish-like tail?

It wasn't red, but a collage of various colors. It was quite different from what I imagined.

One stayed in the center displaying its vibrant colors, while the other circled around it with opposing colors.

But perhaps due to its age, the damage to the mural is severe.

It seems that it's been preserved well, though.

Its method of attacks were made apparent by the mural.

The first bird would fly to a high altitude, and bombard the ground below with magic and fire. The second would fly low, and attack with claws, and breaths of flame. They coordinated attacks like that.

Of course, this could just be a work of fiction, or an over dramatization. But that's what was shown.

"It sure has some troublesome attacks."

It clothes everything around it in flames, and turns the scorched corpses into zombies...

The Spirit Turtle had a similar ability.

Also, the feathers that are produced from its wings can give birth to familiars.

Just how versatile is this monster?

But based on its depiction, and comparing it to the buildings in the background, I don't think it's as big as the Spirit Turtle.

Though it probably is of considerable size.

One was slightly bigger than parent Gaelion pre-mortem.

And we have to fight two.

"Ren, was you Houou similar?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, mostly... But it didn't have a breath attack." (Ren)

"There are a few attacks I don't know of as well. Mine never used its wings to stir up wind. But this one seems to create whirlwinds, and summon tornadoes." (Itsuki)

"Father-in-Law, the ability I don't know of is its ability to summon familiars." (Motoyasu)

So the games were different from reality.

Even so, I think this every time, but why are all the depictions and the other hero's information full of holes?

They have half-assed info, but with that, it seems anyone would make the mistake.

If I had information like them, perhaps I would have mistakenly challenged the Spirit Turtle as well.

...? Something's bugging me, but... I can't tell what it is.

It's like something's stuck in my throat.

But it feels like the sort of thing I won't figure out if I keep thinking about it.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 299 – The Last of the Seven Stars

---

And well, it was preserved decently, but the bottom of the mural was completely weathered away.

They probably thought it was just a pattern in the picture, but it was honest-to-goodness Japanese

Just like this... there...

There's barely any that I can read. Again, what's the meaning of this? But there was something amazing in the list of Houou's attacks...

The picture depicted the first one falling, and the second one swelling up. After that, the next pictogram depicted the remaining one exploding, leaving nothing but scorched earth.

After taking this attack once, the heroes retreated.

At least, according to this record.

Didn't they beat it?

I thought for a second, but looking closely at the exploding bird, I saw that it was dividing in two.

I guess this attack happens whenever you beat one of them.

And after the remaining one explodes, both of them revive, and the cycle repeats.

... This is like the Spirit Turtle.

Just by stopping the heart, you can't beat it. Just by severing the head, it lives on.

But this time, if you defeat one individually, the other releases a powerful counterattack.

Someone nicely sketched some stars around Houou.

It looks like these were added in later.

After that, the remaining drawings were too cracked for us to make out anything more. But I did learn that we have to defeat them at the same time.

“With the Spirit Turtle, you had to destroy both the head and heart to defeat it. Most likely, we’ll have to do the same with the two birds. Upon failure, the remaining one uses a powerful self-destructing attack, and both are revived.” (Naofumi)

“As I thought… The game was different. In the game, both Houous shared an HP bar, and if you beat one, both of them fell.” (Ren)

“Self Destruction… while reviving at the same time. How troublesome.” (Itsuki)

Once more, Itsuki reads in a monotone with an expressionless face. I feel no motivation from him.

But by his words, he’s earnestly analyzing the fresco.

“What’s more, as one flies higher, we’d naturally have to concentrate our attacks on the lower one.”

“That means a bomb will explode from above…”

With added revival.

According to Ren and the others, Houou was quite strong, but it looks like someone upped the difficulty.

“Then how bout me and Itsuki-kun attack the higher one, and Father-in-Law and Ren-kun concentrate on the lower one?” (Motoyasu)

“Well, I guess that’s how it’ll turn out. From her weapon properties, Rishia should help Itsuki with the higher one.” (Naofumi)

“What should I have the army do?” (Queen)

It would be nice if we could defeat it with only the Heroes, but I’m not really sure.

If the allied armies want to participate, then I should make use of them.
That means...

"Get everyone who can use long range magic. I guess the others will be using bows. The people skilled in magic should target the higher one, and everyone else, the lower. I'll leave you in charge of the precise organization and strategy." (Naofumi)

Well, we have four heroes strengthened to their fullest here. I want to end this one as painlessly as possible.

I don't want to run into some unknown factor later.

And this time, we have a slight grasp of their attack pattern, so creating countermeasures shouldn't be too difficult.

Of course, it's not certain that the words of the past are completely true, so we should proceed with caution.

"Understood. How should we ask them to train until the day?" (Queen)

"Let's see... If we have a flying target, it should work out if they just practice on it." (Naofumi)

Should we leave that to the Dragon knights?

No, both Firo and Gaelion can fly, so we can get them to imitate the supposed attack pattern, and train on that.

The flames and breaths can probably reproduced with magic, I bet.

"I understand. Then from here on out, the allied army forces will begin training to combat Houou. I hope the Heroes will assist as well." (Queen)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

"Leave it to me." (Ren)

"I'll try my best." (Itsuki)

I mean, isn't that why we're here?

Our main goal is to get the casualty count as close to zero as possible.

I'd like to avoid battles like what we've had until now. Battles without preparation.

I'll put my all into this.

"Then shall we look over the other temple we passed by once more."

(Queen)

After we finish looking over the Houou Mural, the Queen and the man from this country guide us.

"Is there something over there?" (Naofumi)

"At the moment, that is the only one of the Seven Star Weapons that has yet to select a wielder." (Queen)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

That piques my interest.

Honestly, we have absolutely no idea what sort of weapon the seven stars are.

It seems that the strange weapon in Rishia's hands is something else, and I've never seen Trash holding a cane.

"Why is there such a line behind it?" (Naofumi)

"Can't the Heroes understand?"

Well... It's not that hard.

The legendary weapons can be used by those of this world as well.

Of course, from that previous journal, it seems that otherworlders can use them too.

Thinking that they were worthy of it, they lined up to see if they would be chosen by the weapon.

With this many people, I think this would be a good chance for business.

Something like one silver coin to test your worth, or something.

... This world seems to worship Heroes, so I think such practices will breed animosity.

The long line parts for us, and we enter the temple.

In front of the line was... the center of the temple, in which there was a lone wall. No, in this case, it was a block of stone with the weapon embedded into it.

It appears that people are testing whether they can take it out.

"Gununu..."

An army soldier's face turns red as he desperately pulls at it.

"Yes, next person step up."

The soldier drops his shoulders, and stumbles down the path he came from.

... Is getting chosen that happy of an event?

Being selected as the Hero of the Shield was nothing but suffering for me.

Aren't these guys lucky? If I said that, these guys might think me prideful and selfish.

I think, as I gaze at the weapon.

... It's a gauntlet.

The Hero that sealed Houou apparently had a gauntlet. It's not strange for the weapon to be here... or is it?

By that logic, one would be in the Spirit Turtle village as well.

"Hey, Queen, why is this gauntlet here? Is there a reason Faubley doesn't come to collect it?" (Naofumi)

"Long ago, this country experienced great prosperity. By the legend of the Hero of the Gauntlet. It's one of this country's treasures." (Queen)

"Then what about the Spirit Turtle?" (Naofumi)

"It seems that it was sealed by a hero of a foreign country." (Queen)

"So it's like that." (Naofumi)

Does that make Houou a newer legend?

It's not like I have to investigate it thoroughly. I mean, that sounds like a pain.

... From what I see, it's of quite a simple design. You could also just call it a glove.

It's a basic shape like that of the Small Shield.

In the middle of the gauntlet, there was a single gem embedded.

Is there one of these in all of the Heroes' weapons?

I guess this is the first form of the weapon.

"This is the last Seven Star?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Queen)

This is the first time I've seen a real one... but I think I've seen something similar, somewhere. I wonder why.

Rishia's weapon remains semi-transparent, and I get a different feeling from it.

When I look at this one closely, I sense... a greater power.

"So it's waiting for a new wielder here?" (Naofumi)

"That's right. Most of the people visiting this country have come to test their mettle, and obtain this weapon." (Queen)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

I'll have the slaves from my place try for it as well.

It would be nice if Atlas obtained it.

Her talent is high, so it actually sounds highly likely...

But this line is way too long.

"When do you think this line will clear?" (Naofumi)

"I think it'll remain throughout the day." (Queen)

Wow... just how popular is this attraction?

“Well, with times as they are, many adventurers are challenging the weapon as well.” (Queen)

“Well then, this may be an unreasonable request, but can you let my places fighters try it as well?” (Naofumi)

“I’ll try negotiating for it. Until training starts, the Heroes and their party members are free to act as they wish.” (Queen)

Following the scholar of the country, the Queen headed towards the castle. The result: when night fell, my slaves were given special permission to challenge the Gauntlet.

I’d like to see those results.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 300 – A Seven Star Weapon

---

After that, we started training based on our assumptions of Houou.

“Why does Firo have to cooperate with Gaelion…?” (Firo)

With a frankly reluctant face, Firo complains. But following my orders, she flaps her wings, and releases fake attacks.

She’s responsible for the lower altitude one.

The real one should be much bigger, but this is just practice, so there’s no helping it.

“Kyua!”

Gaelion is happily flying at a high altitude. He deployed a complicated magic aria to seal the other Gaelion. Of course, he’s emulating the higher one’s magic bombardments from above.

When I asked Adult Gaelion later, the younger was overly happy at being asked a favor by me.

“As I thought, there’s a problem with dealing with the higher one’s attacks.”
(Itsuki)

After training ended, Itsuki stated as such.

“I see.” (Nafoumi)

When sparring with Firo, and the other Flying Dragons that took on the role of the lower ones, we concentrated too much on avoiding their attacks, and not those of the higher foe.

Of course, since the real one has the resolve to blow itself up, its attacks should be more vicious.

... I ride on Firo's back, to get a sense of Houou's field of vision. If I deploy my Meteor Shield, I should be able to block out the weaker attack. Deploying Float Shields should create good footholds too. Ren is the vanguard this time. Since Firo or Gaelion might get injured if he were serious, he's holding back.

Getting back to the previous conversation, regulating the damage on the higher seems difficult.

Itsuki's arrows are able to hit anything, so he does have an advantage, though.

He's also holding back, so Gaelion can intercept the arrows, but I wonder what would happen if he were serious...

Rishia's also using her throwing weapon.

That's fine, but the problem is everyone else.

Motoyasu is using multiple long-range skills, but his accuracy is nowhere near Itsuki's.

Houou seems large, so perhaps that won't be that large of a problem.

But the Army is the one with the greater problem.

Their bow and magic attacks are weaker than I thought they would be. I'm not sure if I should say it, but I don't think they'll contribute too much.

The slaves I have that are skilled in magic have paid their squads a visit, but I'm not sure we'll be able to use them well.

Sadina and the Queen have ordered them to use long-range support magic. The orca's good at Choral Magic, and group synthesis magic for some reason. The Queen is the same. When someone skilled at it leads it, the output really increases.

Since we're landlocked, Sadina's power output has decreased... but still, I'd like her on the front lines.

But I was worried about the back line's power, so I assigned her there.

We're just practicing based on assumptions, but the damage on the lower one always turns out too high, and I don't have the confidence that we can take them out at the same time.

Of course, if it were an enemy that the Heroes and their companions could beat alone, then we wouldn't have to prepare to this extent.

But caution is important, so we should prepare whatever we can. If it's stronger than our assumptions, I'm not sure if we'll be able to deal with it. If that were the case I would have no idea what to do.

I hope we'll be able to beat it alone. However, if that's not the case, we need to prepare for that too.

... I'm not placing much expectations on the allied army.

It's good that they're dabbling in a few things to get stronger. The problem is if they get conceited, and bite back at us.

If we just mildly regulate them, they may become like Itsuki's subordinates. That's a troublesome problem.

—

The training finished, and night came.

I took the slaves from my village, and brought them to the temple with the Seven Star Gauntlet.

"Hmm... So this is the Seven Star Gauntlet, Nii-chan?" (Kiel)

Kiel seems somewhat excited as she gazes at the glove in the stone.

"Apparently." (Naofumi)

"There was a long line of people here during the day." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia was watching as well?

People who want to be heroes exist in all worlds, I guess.

I mean, everyone loves them. And right here's a convenient sword in a stone.

Of course, I won't say I hate such situations either.

"Will you challenge it too, Raphtalia?" (Naofumi)

"If that reduces the burden on Naofumi-sama from the world, then I'll happily do it." (Raphtalia)

"Right..." (Naofumi)

I don't really want to see the sword-wielding Raphtalia beat up monsters with her fists, though. It would make me feel quite uncomfortable.

"Even if you're chosen, can you fight? Your weapon will deviate from your specialty." (Naofumi)

But as I said it, I remembered.

Hengen Musou doesn't have a specified weapon.

"Yes, I think I will be fine." (Raphtalia)

"I sense a power like the one from Naofumi-sama's Shield." (Atlas)

Both Atlas and Fohl are facing the weapon as well.

These two are my top choices, for obvious reasons.

Out of the slaves, they have the highest probability of being chosen.

"I see. Then I guess it's real." (Naofumi)

If it's just an objet d'art, I pity those who have tried for it.

They depressed themselves over nothing.

But shouting something like, 'This piece of trash didn't select me, it must be a fake!' would be futile regardless.

"Anyways, to let you guys try your hands at it, I got a slot at night, when it's usually sealed. Everyone should try it." (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Slaves)

At least their responses are energetic.

I'm not expecting much.

"Then let's start with Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

"Me!?" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

I get the feeling that Grappler Raphtalia would be a sight to see, but I kinda don't want to see it, but still...

It's that. She can use her illusion magic to create afterimages.

And maybe she'll be able to shoot beams out of her fists.

Wait, Atlas and Fohl are already doing similar things.

"What about Firo?" (Firo)

"If you think you can fight with gloves, then try your hand at it." (Naofumi)

She basically fights with kicks.

Will she stay in human form, and pummel the crap out of her enemies?

... That actually seems likely. It's quite scary.

At the moment, Midori is the only Filo Rial that fights in Human form. He swings an axe.

"I'll try~" (Firo)

The slaves started forming a line.

By the way, Ren, Itsuki and Rishia are already resting in the Inn.

Motoyasu arbitrarily followed us. No, he arbitrarily followed Firo.

"Now then, everyone form an orderly line~" (Sadina)

... Sadina's really acting like these slave's parents.

If a harpoon user like her got selected, how would she fight?

She does look kinda like a fighter, but something's off.

I get the feeling she would appear on the fighter training game.

"Gauntlets, is it..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia touches the gloves, and try to pull them out of the wall.

But the gauntlets show no change.

If someone gets selected, I expect a flashy light show, or something of the sort.

Do you have to defeat a powerful guardian monster to get accepted by it?

Eventually, Raphtalia gives up, and returns to me.

"It's not possible for me." (Raphtalia)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"Firo's turn!" (Firo)

Next was Firo, but the gauntlets didn't react to her either.

She tries to pull the gloves out of the stone with all of her might.

Hey, don't transform. Don't use your feet. The stone will be the one breaking.

Luckily, nothing moved at all.

"They won't summon a Hero for it in times like this?" (Naofumi)

I posed this question to the Queen. Why doesn't this weapon have a wielder yet?

I heard before that because the world was experiencing such a calamity, the four heroes were summoned at once.

That means it isn't strange for them to summon another to be the Hero of the Gauntlet either.

It seems that besides the Gauntlet, the other seven are already gathered.

So summoning another otherworlder doesn't sound that bad of an option.

Though I'm worried that a harem bastard like the one who wrote that journal may be summoned.

"It appears that they performed the ritual to summon one again and again, but the results were none to favorable." (Queen)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

The Last of the Seven Stars. The weapon that won't call anyone from another world.

But its criteria for selection should be looser than that of the four.

The four apparently have to be otherworlders, but the Seven can be selected from this world as well. What's more, they can be otherworlders as well.

"Ah, right. I have absolutely no idea what sort of weapons the Seven Star Weapons are." (Naofumi)

"Is that so? I was sure Melty told you already." (Queen)

Nope, didn't hear anything from her.

She seemed to think that four heroes was enough. I'm not sure she had any interest in the seven.

I've only really talked to her about the village's management, Filo Rials, peddling, and other business matters as of late.

She's a kid. She needs to dream more.

No, have her dreams already been fulfilled?

She's friends with the Filo Rial queens, Fitoria and Firo.

"Gloves are weapons... right? In the beginning, I had to beat up monsters with my fist, so I kinda understand." (Naofumi)

"You sure did that..." (Raphtalia)

When Raphtalia became my slave, I mostly did that to relieve stress.

"The Gauntlets are closer to your Shield, Iwatani-sama. If I had to say, they are a Seven Star Weapon that focuses on defense." (Queen)

"I see." (Naofumi)

My Shield does have something on its back that covers my hand.

I think the categories are overlapping here. What does this mean?

It's like my Frisbee Shield, and Rishia's strange weapon.

By the way, Rishia can produce a throwing spear like Motoyasu's.

"On the contrary, a Hero of the Claw also exists, you know." (Queen)

"... Oy, oy, oy." (Naofumi)

Aren't those pretty much the same?

Please tell me the difference between a Gauntlet and a claw.

I really wanted to shout out, but I endured it.

... For now, let's ask about the Seven Stars as a whole

"What weapons are there among the Seven Star Weapons?" (Naofumi)

"That's right. I guess I should start from there." (Queen)

The Queen began speaking in detail about the Seven Stars..

"First is the Cane." (Queen)

The one in Trash's possession.

For the Queen to start with this, I guess she still does care about the man.

Wait, when I first met him, perhaps he was holding something like that.

Trash is... I look around. He's sitting in a corner, silently staring.

Who is he looking at?

I thought it would be Atlas, but his gaze is off.

... Why is he staring at Fohl?

"Iwatani-sama?" (Queen)

"A-ah, please continue." (Naofumi)

"Next is the Hammer, the Projectile, the Gauntlets, the Claws, the Axe, and the Whip." (Queen)

It's a peculiar line up.

But the Four Heroes took the basics, so I guess the rest is a mismatched potpourri.

Especially the last one.

"Whip..." (Naofumi)

That's quite a strange weapon.

Where would you attach the Gem?

The Handle?

It may be strange for the Shield to be saying this, but it sounds a little weak.

But in a game I know of, it's the strongest weapon.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 301 – The Eve of Houou

---

“According to legend, it could turn into chains. It even changed into a flail.”
(Queen)

“That’s really not that different, is it…?” (Naofumi)

I mean, they’re all blunt weapons.

The boundaries between the Seven Star weapons seem quite vague. I’m jealous.

“The greatest difference would be that the Whip can draw out the power of monsters.” (Queen)

I scene of the Queen whipping a monster and forcing it into submission floats in my mind.

Do you mean like that? The Queen in front of me… does she do that to Trash?

No, I really, really don’t care.

“The Hammer and Axe are similar as well.”

It’s not like there are… no differences between a set of claws and gauntlets.

“Is that so?” (Queen)

So she wasn’t questioning it at all.

Since she was taught as such from the beginning, she doesn’t find it strange at all.

For now, let’s think of the difference between claws and gauntlets.

I look over at Firo, and noticed.

I see. The gauntlets are exclusive to hands, but claws can go on feet as well. Having Firo accepted as a Hero would be troublesome, but I get the feeling that it would feel natural.

Thinking along that vein, Hammers and Axes are weapons you lower on enemies, but they have different purpose.

"I don't think I've met any of the Seven Stars besides Trash." (Naofumi)

"I heard that they will be participating in the Houou campaign, but we have been unable to make contact with them. They're also quite busy, so we hope they'll be able to arrive on time." (Queen)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

Will I finally see them? The Seven Star Heroes?

They were being managed by Faubley, right?

There's Trash, and this Gauntlet here, so there should be five more in this world.

"By the way, how many otherworlders are among them?" (Naofumi)

"I believe that three of them were summoned." (Queen)

That means two of them are of this world.

If I meet them, we should talk.

Like about what weapons they have, and how they strengthen them.

But perhaps only the Four Legendary Weapons adapt to strengthening.

Should I ask Trash?

... No, I'll leave him be.

I haven't seen him wield his cane.

If he does step forward, perhaps, he will be KIA.

If that happens, I guess a new Cane Hero will be selected.

As I lost myself in thought, the slaves proceeded, and finally, it was Atlas's turn.

She puts her hands on the gauntlet, and tries to pull it out, but... it doesn't move an inch.

"I was no good." (Atlas)

She easily gives up, and returns to my side.

I think she should try a little harder.

"I used my Chi to analyze it, but it appears that I am insufficient." (Atlas)

"You can find out things like that?" (Naofumi)

"Somehow." (Atlas)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

Next is Fohl.

He doesn't seem particularly interested as he approaches it.

"Hmm? ... Go for it, Onii-sama. If it's you, you'll definitely be able to pull it out!" (Atlas)

"Yeah! Gunununununu!" (Fohl) (TL: Sound of putting effort)

Suddenly overflowing with power, Fohl pulls with all his might.

As he puts his hand on the Gantlet, Atlas starts shouting.

"What was that?" (Naofumi)

It's rare for Atlas to cheer on her brother like that.

There must be a reason.

"I felt something different from when I went up to it... but it may be my imagination. I thought Onii-sama would be able to pull it out, but that was disappointing." (Atlas)

"Atlas!?" (Fohl)

How cruel. It's the carrot and the stick.

I think, as I watch over the rest of the procession, but no one could take it out.

"Heave! Ho!"

They've started grabbing onto one another, and tried to yank it out as if it were a game of tug of war.

I was supposed to be watching them, but when I wasn't paying attention, all of the slaves started working together to yank the glove from the stone. For it to remain firm despite this. I guess it won't move until it finds someone worthy.

Anyways, a new hero was not born that day.

—

Like that, the day ended.

Reinforcements from other countries poured in by the day, so our numbers are considerable.

Our luck came with the force from Silt Welt.

Their battle abilities seemed naturally high, and their movements were nice. Tomorrow's the day when Houou's seal will break.

That night.

After attending a strategy meeting, I ran into Atlas and Firo.

"What? What's up?" (Naofumi)

"What's wrong?" (Raphtalia)

After talking with Raphtalia, something started bothering me about our troop deployment.

"Why are you letting Atlas be on the vanguard as well?" (Fohl)

"I must always be with Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"... Fohl, do you want to be deployed with Atlas?" (Naofumi)

It will increase his motivation, and let him get a greater grasp of Atlas's strength. But I guess he doesn't want his sisters on the front lines, even if she's beside him.

Well, I'm also going to be defending on the front-most line, but also, she won't have much of a role in the back.

"Atlas, by that logic, you'll have to be sent to the very front." (Naofumi)

"Yep, that's what I want." (Atlas)

"No! Atlas needs to be deployed in a safer station." (Fohl)

"Onii-sama? Then I would just be a tag-along. Would you be satisfied if you were deployed to the rear supports?" (Atlas)

"Uu..." (Fohl)

Why is he already making the sound of defeat?

Even so, a problem with deployment, is it?

"Naofumi-sama, I've said it before, right? I want to become the Shield that protects you." (Atlas)

"Well, you see..." (Naofumi)

What do you want to do by taking my job?

And just how noisy will Fohl be if you do something like that?

"That's why I compromised, and stationed you a little behind me, but if you want to be in front of me, then there's no point in me being there.

Raphtalia-, you understand that, right?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia nods.

There's a time and place for everything.

And if you try and protect me, the opponent this time is too strong.

I'd like this girl to learn some restraint.

"... Understood." (Atlas)

Atlas reluctantly nods.

"Even so, I want to protect Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"... I think this every time, but why are you so obstinate on trying to protect Naofumi-sama, Atlas-san? You seem strangely fixated on it." (Raphtalia)

"I think the same. I believe... well, I don't think I should be saying this, that unreliable guy over there, why must you try and protect him so?" (Fohl)

"Raphtalia-san and Onii-sama can't understand it?" (Atlas)

Atlas furrows her brows in an irritated fashion.

"I can't be spoiled by Naofumi-sama's kindness forever. Just by imagining the sight of Naofumi-sama standing in front, and taking damage in place of everyone else... shatters my heart." (Atlas)

I want to tell her not to deny my raison d'être, but a part of my heart finds affirmation in her words.

At the very least, her words don't make me feel bad.

Even if she denies the existence of the Hero of the Shield.

"... No, I'm mincing words here. I want to be by his side, not as a party member of a Hero, but as the one next to the Human, Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

Not the Hero?

I don't really get it, but it's an Atlas-like explanation.

"What are you saying!?" (Raphtalia)

"Right Atlas!? Why this guy of all people!?" (Fohl)

Hmm? ...Wait, wasn't that a love confession just now?

I didn't notice.

She says something similar every time, so I let it slide.

"Naofumi-sama?" (Atlas)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"I have been drawn to your deep-rooted kind nature. I don't want you risking your life trying to protect everyone." (Atlas)

You'll say something like that to someone who can do nothing but defend?

"Ah, yes, yes. I understand that. I understand what you're trying to say, but I'm a coward, you see. I'm leaving whatever I cannot do to everyone else. So in exchange, I'll do what I can." (Naofumi)

"Then, Naofumi-sama, if you were granted the power to slaughter enemies with your own hands, where would you stand on the battlefield?" (Atlas)

Fumu... If I could attack like a normal person, where would I stand?

An interesting question.

... In the end, I think I would still be at the front.

Though I don't know if I would still be relying on slaves.

If, at that time, I had offensive capabilities, I would go level by myself without buying any slaves.

"Naofumi-sama, please remember. Please don't believe that it's... natural for you to get hurt. Your true nature is one where you are always devoting what you have to others... but if you continue like this, who will heal you? Who will devote themselves to you?" (Atlas)

Atlas directs a sad gaze to Raphtalia.

What's she so bitter about?

"Naofumi-sama... if in a future battle, someone were to lose their life, please don't blame yourself for it. Those that live off your protection, those who can only take from you are miserable and rotten. They'll merely decay to nothingness, without even realizing their own corruption. I don't... want to feel like that again." (Atlas)

"... That's right." (Naofumi)

What she's saying isn't wrong.

Last time, and the time before that, and even before, there were many that died.

I want to save whoever I can, but I don't deny what I can't do.

But if Atlas continues agreeing with whatever I say, she's sure to rot as well. If you praise my every action, you'll rot in a different way.

Is what I think, but this isn't an atmosphere where I can voice such opinions, so I stay quiet.

"Onii-sama... I don't want to be someone who does nothing but take from you anymore. Like you and Naofumi-sama, I want to protect everyone."
(Atlas)

"Atlas, do you know what you're..." (Fohl)

"Onii-sama, aren't you thinking that as long as I'm safe, it doesn't matter who gets injured?" (Atlas)

"___!?" (Fohl)

Fohl is at a loss for words.

But there are some times when I think he cares for nothing but Atlas.

"I don't want to see Onii-sama act like that. Oh... this isn't something I should be saying. I'll be on my way." (Atlas)

And Atlas departed with a sorrowful expression.

What's with this?

"I... Think of nothing but Atlas? Then the real reason I got angry whenever I saw Atlas clinging to that guy was..." (Fohl)

"What's wrong?" (Naofumi)

I wave my hand at the dumbfound Fohl, when he comes to his senses, he returns a sullen face. Maintaining the same expression the entire time, he leaves the area.

“Should I keep the troop deployment as is?” (Naofumi)

Without answering my questions… those two left.
Really, what’s with everyone?

“Naofumi-sama’s kindness…” (Raphtalia)

Even Raphtalia’s brooding over something. Is there really a problem that needs everyone’s concern

–

The Next Day.

The blue hourglass icon in my field of vision enlarged.

00:12

There’s only 12 minutes left.

It’s something I’ve experienced time and time again, but my heart beats erratically.

Just like always… no, I just have to perform better than always. I understand it, but I can’t accustom myself to this feeling.

The people have already been evacuated. Left are the Heroes and their subordinates, and the allied armies.

It’s not a sudden development like with the Spirit Turtle, so evacuations proceeded without a hitch.

We made sure to give ample warning for people to stay away from this area.

The Queen and the other strategists are in the rear, and they’re the ones giving orders.

This is the battlefield of Heroes.

… Though Trash is still in the rear.

Right, right. Perhaps they were running late, but the other Seven Stars never came.

To not make it despite having all that time... how useless.

If I ever have the chance to meet them, I'd like to offer a complaint or two.

"It's been a long time since we had a serious battle. We've done what we could. Everyone, we need to reduce casualties to a minimum, so fight to survive." (Naofumi)

I stand at the front, and give an ultimatum.

"YEAH!"

With my order, the slaves and armies let out their voices as one.

Along with them are Ren and Motoyasu, Itsuki and Rishia.

... It's been a long time.

Originally, we would constantly have to challenge these waves, but why did it take this long?

I earnestly ponder the thought as I direct my eyes to the location of Houou's seal.

Based on prior investigation, halfway up the mountain was a temple with a stone monument that fit the bill.

A dubious statue of a distorted Houou.

We confirmed that the statue radiated its own heat.

By the way, through careful examination, the researchers were able to confirm that it would awaken by the time on the hourglass.

That's where Houou will appear.

To make it easier to fight, we're challenging it on a barren plain at the base of the mountain.

We've grasped for plenty means to fight it.

Like using the Gravity Field effects from the Spirit Turtle equipment to drop the higher one.

The problem is the skill's range... It's relatively small, so we'll need to test it on Houou to see if it'll work or not.

I'll have ride Firo or Gaelion, and board that Houou to see if it does anything. And if I use a shield with Gravity Field while riding a flying opponent, it's not like I'll fly. I'll fall.

Ren, Motoyasu and Itsuki have similar weapons, but we have no idea about the extent of their effects

"Naofumi-sama?" (Raphtalia)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"Let's do our best." (Raphtalia)

"Yep, let's." (Naofumi)

I nod at Raphtalia's words.

And Atlas also called out to me.

"Around us, a blazing chi is... gathering. Naofumi-sama, please proceed with caution." (Atlas)

"I understand." (Naofumi)

The hourglass drops to three.

"This time, I'll..."

"Yes..."

"I'll definitely do it this time."

Ren, Itsuki and Motoyasu confirm their determinations, and tighten their grips on their weapons.

Ah... right. Beating Houou is just part of our job. Even if we do beat it, it's not like our future fights will get any easier.

The four heroes are combining their powers. Why don't we end this one without any death?

00:01

I concentrate, and chant magic.

I pour in my Magic and Chi, and make my area of effect as large as possible. I cast the super buff I used on Firo on everyone in the front line. Like with Firo that time, we're now a squad of super-humans.

Ping. A sound like breaking glass, one I've heard before, enters my ear. Last I heard it, I received a huge impact.

Their forms were exactly that depicted on the Mural. The two Houous.

A loud shriek echoes through the air.

It was the sound signaling the start of our battle with the beast.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 302 – Vs. Houou

---

Just as I thought, like the Spirit Turtle, Houou also headed for the area with the densest population. It headed straight for our vast army.

The number 『8』 floats in my field of vision.

I assume this is meant to be the 8th wave.

“You guys, don’t make a mistake and land the killing blow too early.”

(Noafumi)

“We know!” (Ren)

Ren is near the front. He faces the low altitude Houou, and begins releasing various attacks at it.

“KYUIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIII!”

The higher Houou starts flapping its wings at us, raining feathers and fire down at us.

「Meteor Shield」!

I used my chi to raise its defense and scope quite a bit.

With this, I can protect the entire front line, but my powers are insufficient to cover the rest.

This battle is still within expectations.

“You all understand, right?” (Naofumi)

I turn around, and find my slaves, and the army nodding.

I don’t have the confidence to protect this large of a group.

But I need to scheme to protect as many as I can.

With Atlas’s help, I used a technique that wasn’t a skill. I deploy Collect at the raining fire.

As if it were draining down a large funnel, the rain gathers, and heads towards me.

Based on how strong this attack is, I'll change the battle plans.

In that time, the Heroes began concentrating attacks on the Lower Altitude bird that rushed at us.

The rain of fire comes into contact with my shield, and stops.

It just feels like a normal rain hitting the top of an umbrella.

What I currently have equipped is a reinforced Spirit Turtle Shell.

—

Spirit Turtle Shell (Awakened) +8 70/70 SR

Ability Bonus:

...

Equipment Bonus:

Skill 「S Float Shield」, 「Reflect Shield」

Special Ability:

Gravity Field

C Soul Recovery

C Magic Snatch

C Gravity Shot

Tenacity Enhancement

Magic Defense (Large)

Lightning Resistance

SP Drain Null

Growing Power

Proficiency Level 100

Item Enchant Level 8 Defense 10% Up

Dragon Spirit Defense 50 Fire Resistance Up

Status Enchant Magic 30+

—

Anticipating Houou's attacks, I enchanted my weapon perfectly.
With this, I can greatly reduce fire-based attacks.
My Barbarian Armor also has Flame Resistance, so normal attacks shouldn't harm me at all.

At the moment, the attacks coming down on me aren't doing anything.
However, the scale of the attack is too big, so I can't guard the entire army for long.
But that was also to be expected.

「All Zveit Resist Fire」!

The rear support forces cast Fire Resistance magic on the army.
With this, we'll be able to ignore the rain, and concentrate on attacking.

Hmm?

When the feathers Houou spread come into contact with the ground, a monster called Houou Familiar (Vassal Type) comes into being.

Just as the mural said.
The vanguard immediately rushes forward to annihilate the familiars.
Good!

“Rafu~!”

Rat's monster Mii-kun changes shape so something like a carpet. He catches all the feathers I fail to block.
He's good at changing shape, so he's useful in times like this.

“Let's go!” (Taniko)

“KYUA!” (Gaelion)

Firo, Gaelion and Taniko fly towards the higher level Houou.

“Tei!”

“Kyua!”

“Yesh, let’s go!”

Let me go into an explanation of the weaknesses of Firo’s new-found flight. By flying, she sacrifices a few of her abilities.

According to the bird herself, I explained it before, but she uses magic to fly. So flying greatly diminishes her magic supply.

What’s more, she can’t put as much power into her feet as when on land, so her kicking power decreases. The power in her beak and claws also decreases.

Also, because she has to concentrate on flight, using magic like Quick and Spiral Strike is difficult.

In that aspect, Gaelion, who could fly from the beginning, doesn’t have too many weaknesses.

Breath is his basic attack, and he can use his claws fine.

Because of his leveling, he even learned how to make and shoot homing arrows of fire.

Houou is more skilled in fire, so so if Gaelion doesn’t change the attributes of his attacks, he won’t do any damage, though.

But I guess a bird of fire has to have good fire resistance.

「Wing Tornado」

Flapping her wings strongly, Firo rotates her body as she rushes at Houou. It looks like her Spiral Strike, but it isn’t nearly as fast.

“Tei!”

And after she lands on the high Houou, she delivers a strong kick to it. Ah, I guess like that, her kick power doesn’t drop.

“Gaelion, let’s do this.” (Taniko)

“Kyua!”

『I lead the power of Gaelion, and desire its incarnation. Earth Pulse, grant me power.』

『KYUAKYUAKYUA』!

「High wing Slash」!

Gaelion’s wings begin emitting light, and by flapping them, he creates blades of wind.

Those blades pierce the higher Houou.

“KYUIIIIIIII!?”

They’re fighting well.

I need to concentrate on the enemy before me as well.

“HAAH!”

I grab Houou’s foot, and create an opening for Raphtalia, Atlas and Fohl’s attacks to land.

「Bagua Karma Blade Second Stroke」!

「Tiger Break」!

“Here I come!” (Atlas)

Raphtalia’s blade pierces Houou’s shoulder, and Fohl’s fist hits its abdomen. Upon Atlas’s thrust, part of its body bursts open.

“I can’t be losing to them! 「Gravity Blade」!” (Ren)

“Yeah! I’ll work hard for Niichan! Woof! Woof!”

Ren jumps at the lower Houou’s head, and stabs it multiple times, while releasing a skill.

Kiel also turns into Kielberus, and sinks her teeth into the bird.

Oh... like a knife through butter, Ren's blade goes through Houou.
Kiel's attacks aren't to be messed with either.

However...

Houou was a being like the Spirit Turtle. A being similar to a spirit or ghost. Whenever it got injured, flames gushed out of the wounds, and the injuries healed themselves.

"Ku... what vitality!"

Even if you cut it, you can't inflict any deep wounds.

How troublesome...

But by what I've seen, it's not like it isn't taking any damage.

Just like in our simulations, even if it blows itself up, it will be able to revive as if nothing happened. We can't frivolously kill it. We'll have to use tactics here.

But we prepared for these attacks. We don't get any damage from its wings or its breath.

There's no sign that the lower one will perform any SP draining attacks like the Spirit Turtle.

But just in case, I have re-strengthened the Wrath Shield that dropped due to Gaelion's meddling. It doesn't look like I'll have to use it, though/

The Spirit Turtle's Shell has high stats, but Wrath is also catching up.

The Shell doesn't seem to be evolving soon.

But it's impossible to predict everything.

Perhaps an attack like that is coming soon...

As I grasped the lower Houou to prevent it from escaping, I turned my eyes to the higher one.

I see Motoyasu, Itsuki and Rishia, Sadina, and the Queen releasing various long range attacks at the Higher Houou.

“Firo-tan, be careful! 「Brionac」!” (Motoyasu)

「Bird Hunting」! (Itsuki)

「Tornado Throw」! (Rishia)

“Choral Magic! 「Water and Lightning Fusion」!” (Sadina)

“High Class Covenant Magic! 「Rain Storm」!” (Queen)

Motoyasu throws a spear of light at the beast.

And wait, where are his three followers?

There, I remembered. They’re cooperating with the Filo Rial squad, and fighting on this front.

Itsuki’s arrow divides, and rains down on Houou. Rishia’s tornado of thrown goods spin around it. Finally, Sadina’s pre-prepared Choral Magic lands. By the look of it, though, it’s not taking as much damage as the lower one. Firo, Gaelion, the Dragoons, and the other flying monsters… are those Gryphons? Anyways, the soldiers riding them are dealing good damage, but still, we’re dealing too much to the lower Houou.

At this rate, taking them out together will be difficult.

“Hold back a bit more. Or else, we’ll kill it first! We need to match our timings as best as possible!” (Naofumi)

“Got it!” (Ren)

“Yes!” (Raphtalia)

I caution the people on the front line, as I deploy my First and Second Float Shields to block its attacks, as I continue pinning it down.

We just have to contain our DPS, and accumulate damage on the High Altitude one.

“!? Naofumi-sama, Houou’s Stamina is recovering.” (Atlas)

“Ku… how troublesome.” (Naofumi)

If it's Atlas's perception, then she's definitely right.
if we hold back, it just recovers.
Even so, we can't go at it seriously.

Management is difficult.
But this isn't an enemy we can't beat.
At that moment, I felt a great heat.

The leg I had grabbed slipped through my arms.
Houou converted its whole body into fire.

“Everyone get behind me! 「First Shield」! 「Second Shield」!” (NAofumi)

IS this an attack that was too faded on the mural to read?
I hold my Shield out front, and prepare myself.

[illegible]

Surrounded by a whirlwind of fire, Houou rushes at us.
It's a rush attack like Firo's Spiral Break.
Though this bird is clad in fire.

"Ку..."

It looks like I can't get out of this one unharmed.
I feel the skin on my body being grilled.

"Are you alright!?"

Because I took Houou's rush head-on, the people behind me are unharmed. But because of the familiars and raining attacks, it's not like the front line troops aren't damaged at all. We've avoided anything fatal, though. I felt an abnormality in my own Status. My magic is being sucked out. ... I have a bad feeling about this,

“KYUIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIII!”

「Meteor Shield」!

The Higher Altitude Houou takes in a deep breath of air, and lets out a breath like a red laser.

Just before it hits, I deploy my Meteor Shield barrier with me at the center.

“Wah!” (Firo)

“Kyua!” (Gaelion)

The people fighting it up close barely manage to avoid it. The breath was directed at us below.

“UWAAAAAAAAAH!”

A whole unit is blown away as if they were merely toys.

Damn... it was hiding an attack like that.

“It sucked my magic! The attack the lower one just used sucked the magic of the ground squadron, and the higher one used it to power its attack!”

But he made a grave mistake.

My Spirit Turtle Shell has C Magic Snatch.

After withstanding the blast, a bullet of magic flies out of my Shield towards the lower Houou.

But... before coming into contact, the bullet vanishes.

Getting back magic from it is impossible?

And I was able to tell when I was holding it, but Gravity Field doesn't work either.

How much will you trouble me?

“Uu...”

“To those who took damage, get treated immediately! 「All Zveit Heal」! If you die, you'll get controlled by the enemy! Rear Supports, we need assistance." (NAofumi)

On my order, the support squad runs forward, and provides relief to those that survived the impact.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 303 – An Unforgivable Flash

---

As always, the problem is his absorption ability.

The Spirit Turtle Shell cannot stop the drain of MP.

The Barbarian Armor has Absorb Resist (Medium), so luckily, my magic didn't fall to zero.

... I can't deny the possibility that he can absorb SP as well.

I could change to the Soul Eater Shield with Drain Null, but then my defense would drop.

It's not that I wouldn't be able to manage, but I think my Spirit Turtle Shell was just barely able to take that last attack.

I don't have to rely on Wrath yet... but I don't know what option to choose.

Hmm?

The Lower Level Houou has regenerated itself. Its damage is gone.

Oy... could it be that whenever this attack is released, its recovery hastens?

I turn my eyes to the higher one.

That one seems that it'll take a while longer before it fully recovers, but this is an annoying ability.

"Cut at it before it can heal itself!"

"Yeah!"

"I'll try." (Itsuki)

On my orders, the attacks resume.

Everyone releases their strongest attacks, and the Houou in front of my eyes gets visibly weaker.

There's a large difference between the Spirit Turtle battle, and this one.

That one took forever, but this one doesn't seem that it'll take too long.

That troublesome attack is... dangerous, but I'll try withstanding it with my Soul Eater Shield.

I instruct the supports to cast Fire Resistance periodically.

Good, I hold down Houou, as I pop a Lucor Fruit in my mouth to recover my magic.

And I cast All Revelation Aura once more after it wore off.

“Master~” (Firo)

Firo looks upon me from above.

“I need more power~” (Firo)

“Got it, come down!” (NAofumi)

“Yeah!” (Firo)

I control the Filo Rial Familia parasiting off of my body, and toss one at Firo.
The thrown ball of fluff sticks to Firo.

And it transfers its power to Firo.

“Thank you~” (Firo)

Firo spreads out her feathers, and rushes at the Higher Houou.

… Right.

Can't I do this to the Filo Rials supporting us in the rear?

By what I've seen, Filo's followers like… Piyo, was it… are in the back casting support, so if I give them these Familia… their output should increase. But that's only if it works.

“Pii!”

As if sensing my intent, the Familia exit my body, and run towards Piyo at a high speed.

After a while, an Icon besides Firo's popped up in my vision.

Good, this one's for regulating magic.

Now it should get a little easier.

Next is… Should I use Come on, Raph?

I slowly look at Raphtalia.

"What is it, Naofumi-sama?" (Raphtalia)

"Come on Raph..." (Naofumi)

"Didn't you already bring them with you!?" (Raphtalia)

Yeah, that's right.

There's no point in increasing their numbers at this point. And My SP will go down.

What's more, I can't have those guys get killed off for no reason.

Do I have anything to deal a finishing blow?

... yeah.

"Gaelion!" (Naofumi)

"Kyua?"

"Grab Ren, and go attack the higher altitude one." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi, are you sure?" (Ren)

"We have enough firepower here. Go assist in weakening that one. Once you think that one's about done for, release a skill in this direction."

(Naofumi)

"Got it." (Ren)

In accordance with my words, Gaelion and Taniko descend.

I hope this leads to a quicker resolution.

Its recovery is annoying, but taking care of the higher one is tougher.

The lower one has a higher recovery rate, but it's not that strong, it seems.

Ren hops on Gaelion, and flies off.

And wait... The higher one has powerful magic, so perhaps it's weak to physical attacks.

The Queen and Sadina's large scale magics didn't have much of an effect, so that's likely the case.

In this case, there's the chance that the one below is weaker to magic.

Perhaps she sensed that I thought of something. Shadow appears before me.

"By the Queen's analysis, we wish to try hitting this one with covenant magic-gojaru."

Oh? If it isn't the one I know. Where did she go?
But I can figure that out later.

"Got it! Everyone separate from me! A large Scale Magic is headed this way."
(Naofumi)

"What about you!?" (Atlas)

I hear Atlas's voice, and turn to it.

"I can stand it. When the magic is over, we'll continue attacking again."
(Naofumi)

"But-" (Atlas)

"I'll be fine. More importantly, hurry and get away." (Naofumi)

"Understood. Atlas-san, let's go." (Raphtalia)

"... Why are you always like that?" (Atlas)

Fohl has a fed-up expression, as he drags Atlas away, with Raphtalia.
After confirming that the forces had retreated, the Queen and Sadina face me and Houou, and activate their magics.

A tornado made of water comes down on me from the sky.

Gu... I can stand it, and it doesn't hurt or anything. But I can't breath.

"KYUIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIII!?"

The high-pressurized whirlpool lasted around 30 seconds, but I wonder if Houou took any substantial damage.

It's sorrowful that the attack wasn't near Ren's level of power, but it was around the level of a light barrage from Raphtalia and Fohl.

As I thought, the lower one was weak to magic.

For now, I think I can see the ending.

"KYUIIIIIIIIIIIIIII!"

The lower one changes its body to fire, and tries rushing again.
I change my shield to the Soul Eater Shield, and stop the attack.
The attack scorches bits and pieces of my body, and I feel that I'm going to lose consciousness.

It's a hard attack to take from the front.
And even with this, I have fire resistance cast on myself, so I wonder just how hot these flames are.
After the rush ends, I take a deep breath, and wait for the supports to cast recovery magic on me.
And I check whether or not the higher one is going to fire his laser.

... Yeah. It seems that if the lower one doesn't take any magic, he can't use it.
His mouth lets off a few sparks, but nothing happens.
The problem is that the lower altitude one's recovery didn't stop, though. I guess that was unrelated.

We can do this. At this rate, we should be able to kill him.
If we just whittle down the lower one, and crush them together, we'll win.

"Okay! It'll be over soon!"

It was at the same moment I declared that.
... I would never forget the events that unfolded.

-From the very back lines, a long stream of light... something pierced the greatly weakened higher Houou.

"Wha-"

We should have waited to inflict a fatal blow, I mean, the lower one had just recovered HP, so why...
I look towards the source of the light.
It was farther back than our armies extended. Way in the distance.

What the hell was that!?
Houou's hidden skill? Or perhaps...
No, now's not the time for that.

"KYUIIIIIIIIIII"

As if it had burned away to nothingness, the higher Houou vanishes, leaving nothing but its feathers.
The remaining feathers flutter in the wind, and scatter over the land.

This is bad...
The rear magicians had just finished chanting a large scale covenant magic. Even though we know the lower one is weak to magic, we can't take it out immediately.
Having regained our senses, we turn our eyes to the remaining Houou.

"KYU-"

It suddenly stopped moving altogether.
And...

Gobo...

A distorted and peculiar sound reverberated through the air.
Little by little, the Houou's form distorted onto itself, and expanded.
Magic and heat condensed around it.

"Everyone attack it at once! Quickly, we need to kill him as quickly as possible!"

We don't even have the time to retreat. It'll blow up in seconds.
We have to kill it before that, or the area will become a sea of flame.

「Meteor Sword」! 「Gravity Blade」! 「Hundred Sword」!
「Meteor Spear」! 「Brionac」! 「First Javelin」! 「Second Javelin」!
「Meteor Bow」! 「Bird Hunting」! 「Spread Arrow」!

Without even taking a breath, the heroes let out consecutive skills.

「Erst Throw」! 「Zweit Throw」! 「Dritte Throw」! 「Tornado Throw」!
「Bagua Karma Blade Consecutive Blows」! 「First Stroke」! 「Second Stroke」!
「Third Stroke」!
「Tiger Break」!
「High Quick」! 「Spiral Strike」!
“Naofumi-sama! We have to kill it quickly! Tei!”

Atlas quickly starts pricking Houou’s vital points.

We’re truly desperate! I raise Gaelion’s abilities by equipping my Wrath Shield.

Eroding my Heart? Like I care!

Giant Dragon Gaelion seems to understand the situation. He shoots a magic breath at Houou 「Prominence Dark Nova」!

With Taniko’s assistance, he immediately releases his strongest breath.

“Pierce through! 「Shield Prison」! 「Change Shield (Attack)」! 「Iron Maiden」!”

Right after Gaelion’s breath hits him, I bind him in my Shield Prison.

Of course, I strengthened it with my SP and EP, but that is only temporary. And using all of my remaining SP, I summon an Iron Maiden. It shatters the chains of my Prison, and eats Houou whole.

“Haa… hah… ha…” (Naofumi)

I take out and drink some Spirit Water just in case. I wait for the Iron Maiden to wear off.

"D-did we do it?"

"S-somehow."

Everyone is out of breath after that extreme barrage.

I even ended up using my Wrath Shield.

With this...

Snap...

Just before the Iron Maiden was about to wear off, the maiden of steel burst.

Inside was a swelling Houou, that had gotten too large to contain.

Gu... the cooldown time is...

"Damn! We can't be killed off here."

In order to prevent further casualty, I'll stain my hands with the move that I was still recovering from.

「Blutopfer」!

I immediately chant, and release my Curse Skill.

Gu... blood spouts from all over my body.

"Naofumi-sama!?" (Atlas)

"Naofumi-sama!" (Raphtalia)

Ren, Motoyasu and Itsuki didn't have the confidence to use their curse skills without getting swallowed by their curses.

They're forbidden skills we can never get used to using, and there's no time to think of something new on the fly.

Then I just have to do it myself.

I took heavy damage, as I release my Blutopfer at the expanding Houou.

Good!

From the ground, a tiger trap that resembled the mouth of a raging dragon emerged, and closed on...

“Wha!?”

With a bang, Houou burst!

Losing its target, the trap gets enveloped by the flames.

I sway back and forth, as I step in front of everyone. In order to contain the explosion, I use the skill I thought up with Atlas, Collect.

At the moment, if we get hit by this, everyone besides me will probably die. Perhaps the Heroes will be able to stand it, but the Army and the Slaves are here too.

I can't stand down.

Where Houou was standing, is now a ball of fire as brilliant as the sun.

And it's still expanding. The ground below it scorches and melts. Nothing is left in its path.

At the same time, far, far away... the flames could be seen, even from Melromark.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 304 – A Price Too Great

---

I step in front of the bursting Houou. To protect Raphtalia. To protect the Heroes, and the slaves, and the Allied Armies. I stand against the flames scorching the ground before me.

I have no time to worry about the damage from Blutopfer.

I can only count on the Wrath Shield's defense power.

Perhaps the Spirit Turtle Shell would work as well, but this one has higher defense at the moment.

"UWWWOOOOOOOHHH!"

I let out my voice, as I go forward, step by step, to push away the flames coming at us.

Besides the area I defend, everything is charred black.

Gu... It's gotten past my Shield's defenses, and I feel the excruciatingly hot flames eating at my flesh.

The sense of feeling in my arms disappears, along with the pain.

My instincts scream that my body is in danger.

Should I switch to the Spirit Turtle Shell?

It has high fire resistance. I imagine it changing in my mind.

And, from the Shield... I feel something screaming out.

If I change to that shield, I still won't be able to stand this.

「Change Shield」!

I change one of my Float Shields to the Spirit Turtle Shell.

... It was burned to a crisp in no time! I deploy the Shield again in front of me to buy some time.

Even with the Wrath Shield, I'm taking this much damage.

If this attack gets past me, those behind me will be reduced to nothing but cinders.

I feel the world around me slowing down.

I guess this is the sensation you get when your life is in peril. I think I read about it in a book somewhere, once. When humans sense their lives are in great danger, their thought process hastens, and time seems to pass slower. The merciless flames from Houou keep attacking me. In order to turn everything into ash.

Barely... I'm barely containing it, but I get the feeling that only 5 seconds have passed in real time.

How long will I have to do this?

I deployed Meteor Shield long ago, and it was instantly destroyed.

There's no point in using a reflecting Shield, and my Float Shields are already out.

But by deploying my floats one after the other, I'm just barely getting through this.

What do I do?

「Dreifach Resist Fire!」

Something from behind me... is it Ren? A magic that increases my fire resistance flies at me.

I guess it isn't Revelation level because there wasn't enough time.

A wise decision.

I feel that the damage I'm taking has reduced ever-so-slightly.

But that's merely delaying the inevitable.

!?

Houou's fire's output increased.

As if to tell me there was more to come, the fire power suddenly jumps up. The flames burn through me.

The heat seeps through the cracks forming on my Shield. My shoulder is now a nicely baked entrée.

"Naofumi-sama!" (Raphtalia)

"Naofumi!" (Ren)

"Gu..."

Raphtalia and the others call out to me.

A few of them cast recovery and support magic on me. I'm impressed they were able to muster that up in this short amount of time.

But it's still not enough to handle Houou's inferno.

Gugu...

I frantically put all of my strength to keeping my Shield arm steady.

The force hitting me seems like it'll blow me away at any moment. My limbs are turning into charcoal. The HP bar on my status is unsteadily teetering into the critical zone, and I guess I'll be burned away to nothing at this rate.

I'm impressed that the past Seven Star Hero was able to take on this monster.

Looking back, isn't this explosion more powerful than the one on the mural?

Ku...

In ten seconds or so, I'll be blown away, won't I?

No, there's a single way.

If I use that, I'll save everyone's life.

But if I do, I'll definitely die...

But...

"I just have to do it!"

It happened at the same time as my scream.

Next to me, a single little girl stood.

"It's fine. I'll protect... I'll fulfill Naofumi-sama's wish." (Atlas)

"What!?"

Me and... that girl's brother cry out.

The girl firmly nods... she holds out her hands as she jumps forwards.

I can't let her challenge the impossible. I immediately reach out my hand to grab her.

But my outstretched hand never reached Atlas.

Having studied defense under me, that girl... uses one of the attacks we made together. 『Collect』. She directs all of the flames towards her, and collects them. She creates a Wall to redirect them, and sends them in a direction devoid of human life.

"Atlas!"

In response to my voice, the girl's mouth forms a kind smile.

She's letting off an immeasurable amount of sweat... the meat on her arms has been burnt to a crisp, yet still, she uses her chi to redirect the flames... And in response to her great will, the flames obeyed.

What came next was an explosive sound strong enough to destroy my ears, and a flash too loud for me to keep my eyes open.

When I open them, the smoke prevents me from seeing anything.

"Geho, Geho! Atlas!" (TL: Sound of coughing)

I wave my arm as if to brush away the smoke. I shout out.

And I turn and ask a question.

"Are you okay! Is everyone safe!?"

The smoke clears, and behind me, I see everyone standing.

It seems that we managed to change the direction of Houou's flames, but the flames we missed came into contact with the army, and caused large casualties.

There are corpses all around. Many have collapsed on the ground.

More importantly, Atlas.

She ran in front of me, into the flames. I look for the young girl who took drastic measures to save us.

And... I look up.

And I realized the fact that something was falling down from the sky.

I hold out my arms to catch it.

"Ah..."

Heavy emotions run through my head, yet the item in my hands is so light... that thing, that item... was a girl missing an arm, with both of her legs turned to charcoal. It took me several seconds to realize that I had found Atlas.

"Atlas!"

Fohl runs over

"KYUIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIII!"

At the same time, the shadows of two large birds cover us.

"Naofumi! We have to retreat!" (Ren)

Ren shouts at me.

"Ah... bu-but..."

"The current you can't fight! We have to heal your wounds! And... We need to hurry up and treat that child! There are many injured people. This is the time where... the best healer among us should step forward. This is the time for you to act!" (Ren)

No words can come out of my mouth... what do I do? What can I do!?

"Quickly! Leave this place to us!" (Ren)

"U-understood." (Naofumi)

"Raphtalia-san, hurry and get those two out of here! Fohl, you get back too!"
(Ren)

"Y-yes! Firo!" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah!" (Firo)

In response to Ren's stern words, I was brought to the back lines. My mind was still blank.

"Ah... ah..."

I still can't form any words.

Atlas is on the verge of death.

Looking closely, it isn't just her legs that have turned to charcoal.

Everything under her stomach stomach has been burned to a crisp.

It's amazing that she's still alive.

"Hah... ha... hah..."

I leave her to rest in a temporary medical tent, and go around treating those on the verge of death with the rest of the medics.

But the most severely wounded is Atlas.

The rest are... only those that survived made it here.

In my blank mind, I look over everything I saw and heard once more.

"Atlas! Get a grip!" (Fohl)

Fohl grips Atlas's remaining arm, and desperately starts talking to her.
Atlas responds in a whisper.

Don't waver...

What I have to do now is treat the wounded.

I need to save as many lives as I can.

I'm a hero. I'm the Hero of the Shield.

Defense, Support, and Recovery. I'm perhaps the best in the world in those aspects.

... I can't concentrate.

Even so... I can't let anybody... I can't let Atlas die.

Calm down. Concentrate, and cast the highest level healing you can.

「Revelation Heal」!

The glow of my recovery magic envelops Atlas.

But... it didn't bring back her missing limbs.

“W-why!?” (Naofumi)

Healing Magic is all-purpose, right!?

Ah, right, when I got back, the magic they cast on me healed my wounds, but it didn't seem to have an effect on Atlas.

No... It's probably healing her, but her wounds are too severe...?

Then... I take out Yggdrasil medicine from my Shield, and apply it to Atlas. It works as an ointment, and if drunk, it can save patients on the verge of death. If I use it in all ways possible, she should get better.

But...

“WHY!?”

There's no sign of Atlas healing.

I take out my anger on a nearby healer.

“Why won't she heal!?” (Naofumi)

... She's crossed the line where healing is possible.”

Rat came forward, and muttered this.

"What... do you mean?" (Naofumi)

"The fact that Atlas-chan is even living is something close to a miracle. Starting with the healers, and the Marquis's magic and medicines, keeping her alive is the best we can do. Also..." (Rat)

"Rafu..."

Under Rat's arm, Mii-kun's core cried out.

"This child also had her body destroyed as he protected everyone. He did this much..." (Rat)

"Rat-san. Is there any way you can save Atlas?" (Raphtalia)

"Can't you do anything!? Can we give her life like that Mii-kun in your hands?" (Naofumi)

"Monsters and Demi-Humans are different. If we used homunculus technology, then perhaps we could get her arms and legs to move, but that girl's also burnt up most of her organs. Alchemy isn't omnipotent." (Rat)

"This can't be..." (Raphtalia)

"Even by replacing parts, it's not enough. No matter what we do, she won't be saved." (Rat)

"That's a lie!"

I won't believe it! Never! There has to be a way!

Where!? Where is the Shield that can save Atlas's life? There has to be one. What the hell is the Hero of the Shield? What the hell is with this hero that had to sacrifice a little girl to survive...

"Naofumi..... sama..." (Atlas)

I turn to Atlas.

"Did we protect everyone?" (Atlas)

"Yeah, but more importantly, you-" (Fohl)

"Onii-sama... please bring Naofumi-sama here..." (Atlas)

"... Okay." (Fohl)

Fohl grabs me, and drags me next to Atlas.

"... I know. I have no time left, right?" (Atlas)

"What are you saying? You have as much time as there's time in the world."
(Naofumi)

On my answer, Atlas, weakly shakes her head.

"Naofumi-sama... It's fine already. Don't worry about me." (Atlas)

"Of course I would worry about you!" (Naofumi)

Right. If one Yggdrasil medicine was no good, then if I use more, I should be able to save a single life.

But my supply is limited to two. But if I just get more, then definitely.

I signal the healer to come closer, and order him to bring some Yggdrasil medicine.

"Quit it already, Marquis! I just said it, but she's past the limit." (Rat)

"We won't know if it works until we try!" (Naofumi)

"And I'm telling you because we do know!" (Rat)

I ignore Rat, and apply the second vial to Atlas.

First, rub it on the wounds...

But as I touched her skin, I noticed.

The parts that had become charcoal wouldn't come off no matter what.

"Sorry, Atlas!"

I took a knife meant for medical use, and cut off the charcoal portions.

But... still, there's no sign of her healing.

"Hah... hah..."

It seems she can do nothing but breath. She puts her remaining hand on mine.

"Please... stop already." (Atlas)

"Never!" (Naofumi)

Don't say such things in front of me!

No matter what happened, I never gave up.

Even when I was betrayed by those I trusted, even when I was called a devil, even when I was almost killed, I never gave up.

Even so... I can't give up in the face of this... this unreasonable turn of events!

"Naofumi... sama. Please understand... I can't be saved anymore. I'm the one who understands that best. Every second, part of my chi, my life force leaves my body, so... I understand." (Atlas)

"But ,even so-"

Water scatters from my eyes, which I thought had withered long ago.

"With Naofumi-sama's miraculous power, I am... here talking to you. Please... calm yourself." (Atlas)

Weakly, as if her body would crumble at any second, Atlas stroked my face.

"Hah... hah..." (Atlas)

"..."

I close my mouth, and Atlas smiles. It's a smile like one a mother would give to comfort a crying child. Using her hand, she wipes away my tears.

"Naofumi-sama, I love you more than anyone else in this world. And I said this before, right? I wanted to become your shield." (Atlas)

"... Yeah." (Naofumi)

And that means you'll accept a fate like this!?

If you died because you acted as someone's shield, do you understand just what sort of emotions the person you protected would experience!?

When I was thinking that, I understood what Atlas was trying to tell me. What she did was exactly what I was trying to do.

Using Collect to gather the flames, and release them somewhere else.

If put into practice, what would happen? I was the one who understood that best.

If Atlas didn't step in front first... I would be where she is now.

"Even so.. this..." (Naofumi)

I can't muster up anything but a cracked voice from my throat.

"I am... satisfied. Like this, I was able to use the life you saved to save yours." (Atlas)

"No, you can't die. You can't die from protecting someone like me."
(Naofumi)

That was something that I should have been doing.

It's not like I wanted to die.

If it was me, I may have survived it.

"Naofumi-sama... I don't think I can... answer that request." (Atlas)

"Why!?" (Naofumi)

I know! I already Know.

But can't I pray for a miracle too?

Someone. Anyone is fine. God, I pray to you.

I don't believe in anyone, but I'll pray to you!

I'm well aware that this is a selfish request.

Even if the God of this world is the Four Heroes, even if I go against myself, if you can save the girl before my eyes, then... I...

"Naofumi-sama, please... listen to my last bit of selfishness." (Atlas)

"What? What is it? I'll definitely grant it. That's why you can't do anything like dying!" (Naofumi)

"... I wished to become your Shield. That wish hasn't changed... and... I don't want to return my blood, flesh, or soul to the earth." (Atlas)

"Eh?" (Naofumi)

The hand grasping mine moved to my Shield.

"I knew from the start I could never become Naofumi-sama's number one." (Atlas)

"What are you..." (Naofumi)

"But still, I wished for it. If at least this body can be closer to yours than anyone else..." (Atlas)

I remember the Atlas that came to my room every night.
She always wanted to be by my side.

"Even if I lose my form, please let... me be with you." (Atlas)

At this girl's goal... I trembled.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 305 – The Girl Who Became a Shield

---

“Quit joking around!”

I understand what Atlas is trying to tell me.
And I shake my head at it.

“Do you understand the meaning behind your words!?” (Naofumi)

“Yes… I’m well aware. And still, I ask it of you.” (Atlas)

Her face isn’t one of someone telling a joke.

I look towards Fohl.

He’s… standing still, and glaring at me.

Even when I want him to speak up here, he stays silent.

He’s gripping his fists so strongly that they’re starting to bleed, but why…

“And please allow me one more bout of selfishness.” (Atlas)

“Wha-” (Naofumi)

I return my gaze to Atlas from Fohl, and see her mustering her power to get up. She gives me… A kiss on my lips.

The first kiss I ever got from a girl… tasted like blood.

As if her power supply had run out, Atlas falls to the floor.

“I always wanted this. My wish has finally been granted.” (Atlas)

“Why are you acting love-struck in a time like this…” (Naofumi)

“Raphtalia-san.” (Atlas)

“Y-yes?” (Raphtalia)

Atlas calls out to Raphtalia, who had been watching over the exchange silently the whole time.

"The battle that I promised would definitely continue forever... It seems that it's finally over." (Atlas)

"No, it will still... continue forever!" (Raphtalia)

"Ufufu... for Raphtalia-san of all people to say something like that, I'm kind of happy. I think you understand, but I was always envious of you. No matter how hard I tried, I could never become Naofumi-sama's number one. I knew." (Atlas)

"That isn't certain yet! Your competition with me will still... go on... and on..." (Raphtalia)

Atlas smiles upon seeing Raphtalia shed large drops of tears. And she made a speech as if she had foreseen this outcome.

"You sure are kind, Raphtalia-san. I understand why he likes you, but please listen to these words." (Atlas)

"Not just these ones, I'll listen to whatever words you have to offer. I'm fine with yielding Naofumi-sama once or twice, so please continue." (Raphtalia)

"Raphtalia-san, Naofumi-sama... likes girls more than you think. He's a normal boy. That's why it's fine if you... watch over him a little more." (Atlas)

"... I know. But you're the same, aren't you? You can't give up here!" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia desperately pleads with her, but Atlas is already so weakened that she can't even tell where she is anymore. She can no longer sense the chi in the air.

That's just how little time she had left... the cold reality was approaching. Eventually, as if she just noticed something, Atlas lets out words not directed at anyone in particular.

"Ah... that was right. Perhaps it would have been nice if I could spend my time with Raphtalia-san and Naofumi-sama together. Why didn't I realize such a simple thing? ... Thinking about it, I guess I've gotten another wish that will never be granted." (Atlas)

"You'll live! If it's Naofumi-sama, you can definitely be saved!" (Raphtalia)

"Thanks." (Atlas)

Atlas slowly shakes her head, more weakly than before.

"Naofumi-sama... please notice." (Atlas)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"I was always doing my best to become number one in your heart. But... that wish was never granted." (Atlas)

"What are you..." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama, you yourself... probably didn't think about it due to the wounds you bore on your heart. But become aware of it. Raphtalia-san... likes you as a member of the opposite sex. Just like me." (Atlas)

"What are you saying at a time like this!" (Raphtalia)

"If it... weren't a time like this, I know that Naofumi-sama would never lend his ears. Please believe... geho." (Atlas)

I feel Atlas getting even weaker.

Ku... If I just use more Yggdrasil Medicine, and Revelation magic, then...

"Please... promise. I do nothing but ask things of you, so let this be my last request. Please... Naofumi-sama, please realize that there are people who like you. And please answer them. It's a... promise." (Atlas)

"Yeah! I understand! I get it, so don't push yourself any further!" (Naofumi)

God in heaven... please! Please save the people who believed in me.

Even from the moment I was born, I never wished for a miracle.

I never made a wish, even when Witch tricked me, and I wasn't allowed a voice in this world.

"It's a... promise. Though I already asked for quite a bit..." (Atlas)

"I get it... I'll think about it, so..." (Naofumi)

"Ufufu... for me to be this precious to Naofumi-sama... I... was... hap..." (Atlas)

Atlas goes silent.

"At... las...?"

I frantically shake her, but she doesn't move at all. Her expression is frozen in a kind smile.

"Atlas-san!" (Raphtalia)

"ATLAAAAAAAAAAAASSSS!"

My scream... finds no answer...

I have no idea how peaceful her mind was in the end.

Raphtalia is shedding tear after tear. Fohl just continues staring at me silently.

"..."

Atlas's life is no longer here.

What's lying here is...

I mutter at Fohl.

"Hate... me." (Naofumi)

The sister he valued more than his own life died protecting me, and I couldn't even save her... He has enough reason to hate me.

But the second the words exited my mouth, Fohl grabbed my collar, and stopped his clenched fist in front of my face.

"As if I could hate you! As if I could put your mind at ease by hating you!"
(Fohl)

"Wha..." (Naofumi)

"Atlas, you see, until the end, she loved you! For your sake, she chose to sacrifice herself! Then I cannot... hate or resent you. I wasn't able to save her either. If at the time, I had just stopped her, it would have never come to this!" (Fohl)

"But..."

Hypothetical possibilities floated in my mind.

At that time, if I stopped her, Atlas wouldn't have died.

At that time, why couldn't I answer to her feelings?

"At that time, if we had never met, Atlas... wouldn't have died." (Naofumi)

My field of vision took a 90 degree turn, and I was sent flying.

It was only after I hit the ground that I realized Fohl had hit me.

"Don't say such things, even by mistake!" (Fohl)

"But that's the truth-" (Naofumi)

"If she didn't meet you at that time, Atlas would be dead! I was never able to raise the money necessary for the medicine to prolong her life. The next time she had a spasm, she would have died! And still... the one who let us walk freely was you! I won't permit you to say things like that." (Fohl)

"Even so... something like this..." (Naofumi)

"Don't taint Atlas's pride any further!" (Fohl)

Fohl turns his back to me.

Blood drips from his hanging hands.

He hit me, and I'm supposed to be harder than steel. He should be in pain.

The blood slowly drops on the ground.

"Atlas said it. She told me to think of the kids at the village like her, and to protect them. I have to honor her will! You are... the person I would have called my brother in law! I won't let myself hate yoooooooouuuuuuu!" (Fohl)

Fohl's outburst echoes.

That voice... I'm not sure what power it held, but a bright light flew at him from the direction of the temple, and spun around him.

For a moment, a flash strong enough to make me close my eyes lighted the room, but it went out in an instant... On Fohl's hands were a pair of Gauntlets.

"These are..."

They were familiar pieces of equipment...

What answered Fohl's cry was the legendary weapon.

By scheme, or coincidence? The me of yesterday would have scoffed at this development.

But the current me doesn't have the heart.

It's already too late...

"I'll definitely keep my promises to Atlas! I am... I am going to protect the villagers!" (Fohl)

Fohl ran off with tears flowing from his eyes.

To protect those on the battlefield.

I am... I am...

I sooth the sobbing Raphtalia, and... I think over the will left by the young girl that loved me.

"Please leave me alone for a moment." (Naofumi)

I hold up the empty shell that was Atlas, and I... plead to Raphtalia, Rat, and the healers.

"... Understood. But don't forget that the battle rages on." (Rat)

"Yeah, I know."

Raphtalia and Rat nod, and depart.

With a dim mind, I think about my my memories with this girl.

That night when she first came to my room.

"Because I am the Hero of the Shield, The only thing this world lets me do is defend."

I scorned my own role as I spoke to her.

"... I know. When I look at this village, I see that everyone is being protected under Naofumi-sama's wings."

"Wings..."

"If all you do is protect, everyone will someday leave your nest."

"Anyone that wants to leave can leave, and still I will protect this village."

"But then... Who will protect Naofumi-sama?"

"Wha?"

"This is what I think. If Rafatalia is Naofumi-sama's sword, then perhaps I could become Naofumi-sama's shield."

"Shield... That's not as easy as it sounds, you know."

(TL: This is chapter 173)

That wish was granted at the cost of her life.

That means I have to honor her last will.

If I, who can do nothing but protect, can't grant a wish as simple as this... I would never be able to forgive myself.

Right... No matter who scorns me, no matter who abuses me, I, who was unable to protect this girl will honor my promise with her...!

".....!"

Now, I will commit a taboo.

I bought this girl's life, exploited her, worked her to death, and now I was going to torment her even afterwards. Why must a criminal like me feel this guilt?

I gaze at Atlas's body.

This is a girl who liked someone like me.

she unconditionally accepted everything in me.

I'm going to absorb that girl into my shield.

Panic. Fear. Despair. Lamentation.

Various emotions swirl around my head.

I can't stop the shaking in my body.

Even so, it's something I must do.

If praying that much won't bring about a miracle, if he is going to see this irrationality, and turn a blind eye... then god must not exist.

No, he's an existence that can't exist.

Like I'd let him exist!

If a god that permits this exists, I'll never forgive him.

No matter what happens, I'll kill him.

I mean, isn't it strange!?

Everything was working smoothly.

I gave ample warning.

We were going to return home without any casualties!

If that light didn't exist, Atlas wouldn't have died.

To hell with Heroes.

To hell with God.

To hell with the Wave.

To hell with...

Why the hell should I... for this unreasonable world...

"Atlas... I think I kinda understand the reason you don't want to return to the earth of this world." (Naofumi)

The body of the girl who wouldn't speak again was way too light.
But I will honor my promises.
I'll never break them.
I won't let her go to the heaven or hell of this shitty world.

"Ku...!"

The girl's body disappears into my Shield.
It was the exact same light as when the Shield absorbed a monster or an object.

—

Curse Series. Wrath Shield, Blessing!
Blessed Series. You have unlocked the Shield of Compassion!

You have fulfilled the conditions to unlock the Soul Shield!

You have unlocked the Demi-Human Series! Series Completed!
You have completed the Slave User Series!
You have unlocked the Comrade Series! Series Completed!

You have dispelled the Curse of Blutopfer!

『Blessed Series』

The Blessed Series is a series granted only to those who have overcome their curses. A powerful series of weapons.
There is a default form, and it can evolve to other shapes.
The Equipment Bonuses are based on the Shield it changes to.

Bless Series
Shield of Compassion
Ability Bonus:
...
Equipment Bonus:

Skill 「Change Shield (Attack)」 「Iron Maiden」 「Meteor Wall」

Special Ability:

Benevolent Temptation

Enchant

Blessing

All Resist

Spell Support

Along with the blind girl's disappearance... the Shield of Compassion was born in my heart.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 306 – VS Houou Final

---

The shield was very simple but it felt as warm and tender as the sunlight. Its stats are the highest of any of my unlocked shields.

On top of that, this shield's effect has the ability to give enchantments. My defence is rising endlessly.

And... the Slave, Demi-human and Companion series have all been completely unsealed.

This includes all of their bonuses.

In other words, all of my slaves and companions had all their abilities dramatically increased.

I change to my usual Spirit Turtle Shell.

Growing Power has been activated by Growth Up!
Spirit Turtle Shell had changed!

Increasing it any further is unnecessary.
Right now I can't afford to wait and see if it grants any bonuses.

Everyone here had miraculously finished their treatment.
The Healers are all treating it like a miracle.
...But.

As I leave the tent I look to the sky, and see the pests.

"Kyuuiiiiiii!"

What an annoying pest.

Right now I don't feel like dealing with it.

But because it is still here, the fight won't end and there won't be any peace.

Then there is only one thing I can do.

Naofumi: "Firo!"

I call Firo who was dealing with the pests with another party.

Firo: "Yes?..."

Taking a look at my face, Firo who was worried about Atlas' condition came down with a sad look.

Until now, I never realized how kind Firo was.

I wasn't sure if it was due to Atlas or the Shield of Compassion.

It wasn't just hate, there was also feelings of kindness... both emotions were conflicting within my heart.

But I don't believe what I'm feeling now is due to the shield's effect.

Naofumi: "Take me up higher than that bastard"

Firo: "Okay...I can do that"

Naofumi: "Ah, Lets hurry up and end this!"

Riding on Firo's back, we fly through the vermin while maintaining a high altitude.

Naofumi: "Firo, time this just right"

Firo: "Yes"

"Kyuuiiiiiii"

The pests notice us and come to attack us with their claws.

To remain calm and collected would be best.

To hate the enemy in front of me, would just cloud my judgement.

However I understand the pain.

I can see how unreasonable this world is.

The wounds that were suffered... and the sorrow for the lives that were lost.
But even though I know this, I mustn't get angry.

Naofumi: "Too noisy"

I catch the pests by their talons and throw them towards the ground.

"Kyuiii!?"

As we gain altitude the pests turn towards to swarms us.

Naofumi: "Firo, kick them"

Firo: "Y-yes"

Following my instructions, Firo lands a hit and the pests fall straight down.
It made a great noise.

Shortly after, I jump off Firo towards the pests.

Firo: "Master!?"

Naofumi: "Firo, I'm fine, but get ready to catch me when I fall"

Firo: "Y-yes"

I give Firo those instructions as I activate Gravity Field.
Before it wasn't that effective, but as it is now I can use it.

"Kyu...Kyuiii!"

The pests desperately try to remain airborne but under the new weight there was no way they could maintain altitude.

I begin to fall towards the pests that are at a lower altitude.

Naofumi: "Firo!"

I jump before I hit the ground, and was caught by Firo.
I grab two pests as I reach the battlefield and make a declaration.

Naofumi: "Everyone! Let do this!"

Fohl: "Nao-Naofumi!?"

Naofumi: "What are you doing? Lets hurry up and kill it"

Fohl: "I understand! Tiger Break!"

It was Fohl who acted first.

I expected as much.

Right now I can understand his feelings more than anyone else...as well as his thoughts.

Of course I don't know what it is like to lose a family member.

But, I knew what kind of girl Atlas was.

Naofumi: "Don't worry about me. Let us finish this as soon as possible.

Soon we will kill it!"

Everyone: "OHH!"

The Party, who was surprised at my words, stated to unleash their special attacks.

Ren: "Naofumi, how is Atlas..."

Ren came to ask me in-between attacks.

Naofumi: "..."

I look away in silence.

Right now, I don't want to think about it.

Naofumi: "Kuh..."

Though unintentional, I let out a pained voice.

Along with the power from the Sword, we strengthen the forces.

Kiel: "My body feels...so light!"

Kiel rushes out and bites through the pests.

Kiel: "Yes. It seems like my speed is different than before."

There is a visible difference in the movement of my slaves and the military forces, as well as their attacks.

It must be due to the bonuses of the completed Slave and Companion series.

I didn't check it but there must have been a huge boost.

And, it was all thanks to Atlas.

Naofumi: "Hurry. Lets end it quickly. For all of the pain and sorrow it has caused... we need to destroy it, even by a single second faster."

The two pests try to attack me but it doesn't hurt or bother me.

Their claws and bites are pointless.

If all the enemies are gathered in one place, they can all be eliminated easily.

Ren: "Gravity Sword!"

Motoyasu: "Brionac!"

Itsuki: "Bird Hunting!"

Rishia: "Tornado Throw!"

Raphtalia: "Bagua Karma Blade"

Firo: "Spiral Strike!"

The swarm of pests are hit by the sheer power of their special attacks.

"Kyuuiiiii!"

As one lets out its death cry, the other begins to make a strange noise.
So it is going to self-destruct.

Of course, you won't have the chance to use it.

Fohl: "Tiger Rampage!"

With Fohl's deadly strike, the enemy was wiped out leaving nothing but a pile of feathers.

Everyone: "OOOOHHHHHHH!"

The roar of victory echoed throughout the area.
Feathers float down like snow and calmly settle.

Naofumi: "Atlas...we did it"

I raise up my Shield to signal our victory.
The truth is that we should have won without any sacrifices.
I will never... never forgive that guy.

Naofumi: "Ren! You understand what's next, right?"

Ren: "Ah!"

Naofumi: "Inform the Queen. I need to make that bastard pay! I can never forgive him!"

It is very likely that he was a Seven Star Hero.
I have to find out who was responsible!

I called Firo and left to look for the source of that flash of light.
Ren also came along while riding Gaelion.
But even though we searched all day, we could not find the culprit of that attack.

Naofumi: "Damn it! Where did he disappear to!"

Ren: "Looking for him anymore is pointless. Naofumi please go on ahead and rest."

Ren came and told me this.

Naofumi: "What are you saying!"

Ren: "I'll call you if I find something. So please bear with it for now."

Naofumi: "But-"

Ren: "Please..."

Before I could argue, Ren pleaded with me.

His expression was mixed with both sadness and anger.

Ren: "Naofumi, you are not the only one who is mad. I am also filled with rage"

Naofumi: "...I see"

Ren: "Naofumi you are the only one I have told this to. Earlier I unsealed the Sword of Rage, of course I haven't used it, since at that time I was surprised at how you were behaving."

Naofumi: "..."

Ren: "I don't intent to forgive the culprit either. But, you need some time to calm down."

It true...I need time to calm down.

I was under the illusion that I was calm but in reality I was filled with anger.

What I am feeling right now...can't easily be described.

When I was betrayed by Witch, my head was filled with anger.

Right now I should rest for a bit.

I need to calm down so I can differentiate who my enemies are and who it is I should protect.

Yes, I need to calm down the feelings in heart.

Naofumi: "...I understand. I will leave the rest to you."

I sit down at the temple as the day was ending.

The search is still ongoing.

While I was resting, like Ren asked me to, I became aware of how angry I was.

By changing to the Shield of Compassion, my anger begins to fade.

But even so it was something I could not forgive.

That is because I can understand it...the unreasonable sorrow and suffering.

After the feelings of anger had calmed down, a sense of loss had filled my heart and dominated my mind.

Raphtalia stood by me before I could notice.

Raphtalia: "Atlas-san... that was unfair. I wanted to have Naofumi-sama turn around with my own power..."

Naofumi: "I see...but right now..."

Raphtalia: "I know. I understand completely...so it is okay for you to cry"

But, Raphtalia is probably the one who wants to cry the most.

The pain of losing someone, such a feeling was represented by tears.

Naofumi: "I am not going to cry"

I noticed something along my cheeks when I said that.

Is this...tears?

Since I had left the tent, I was unaware of it, but I was crying.

And...everyone else may have noticed.

I was crying.

Naofumi: "Uuh..."

Once I became aware of it, it was the only thing I could think about.

Raphtalia: "Naofumi-sama..."

I had unconsciously hugged Raphtalia and burst into tears.

After my duel at the castle, I decided to stop crying.

The tears won't stop.

My tears start to overflow when I try to stop.

This was the pain and sorrow of losing someone, that I knew.

It wasn't something shameful, I realize this now.

More than anything... for the feelings of the girl who became my shield...I just wanted to silently cry.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 307 – Funeral

---

The next day.

After we both tired ourselves out with lamentation, I slept with Raphtalia.

(TL: No, not like that)

“These are the heroes that risked their lives to win this battle… Salute!”

In front of the castle on the land where Houou was sealed, a funeral service was being held.

Those who were lost in the battle were respectfully buried.

We had to part with several people from my village as well.

I raised them to be my pawns for war… but I wanted all of them to return alive.

Should I… stop deploying them in waves?

If I’ll have to feel like this every time, then I don’t want to send them into battle.

I quietly stood in front of Atlas’s casket.

It’s empty. Her body is… inside my Shield.

I gently place a flower on top.

Fohl follows my lead, and places one as well.

“…”

For some reason, Trash also silently garnishes the casket with flowers.

His expression is dark.

He says nothing to either me or Fohl.

But I knew.

When I retreated with Atlas to the back lines, Trash stood outside the tent the entire time.

Even though he wasn't able to help at all, what does he plan to do at this point in time!?

But taking my anger out on Trash won't accomplish anything.

Getting angry is pointless. It won't bring anything.

... I couldn't do anything either.

And I learned that Trash wasn't the culprit.

He was with the Queen issuing orders when it happened. Many attested to that.

More importantly, Trash had little reason to do it.

Based on Atlas's positioning, she would have been brought into the explosion regardless, unless I did something about it.

"... I'm going to fight it. The wave." (Fohl)

Fohl declares this at me.

"Running away... will just lead to more of the villagers dying." (Fohl)

"... I see."

So that's Fohl's answer.

If I was in his position, I bet I would fight the Waves.

For everyone's sake. For Atlas's sake.

"Niichan..."

Kiel is quite worn out. She cries as she places a flower on the coffin.

"I'll... fight too!" (Kiel)

"But-" (Naofumi)

On hearing my voice, Kiel directs eyes filled with determination at me.

"Niichan always said it! That it was a fight where we could die, that it wasn't a game. Everyone was well aware of that when they chose to fight for you! I can't just pull back because it's dangerous!" (Kiel)

"Is what she says." (Fohl)

Fohl continues after Kiel.

"Everyone in that village fought out of love for you... Aniki. They decided to fight for you. You can't stop them anymore. Take... responsibility for what you've done." (Fohl)

"... Got it." (Naofumi)

But I don't want to have them die.

Every time I remember Atlas's words, my heart shakes.

What was I making these people do?

I never thought I was the one who didn't realize it.

In order not to have any more regrets, I...

Raphtalia just silently stands in front of Atlas's coffin.

Atlas told me that Raphtalia was in love with me.

I had pushed it out of my mind. It's not that I never considered the possibility, but I deluded myself into thinking she was just a diligent child working for me.

Atlas's will tightens around my heart.

I have nothing but regrets. They won't leave me.

She once said that she might die any day.

Then... so I don't have to feel like this anymore, should I answer those that say they love me?

What did I do for Atlas?

I took away her illness, but what else did I ever do for her?

I should have been able to give her more happiness.

... I'll stop it. This train of thought.

I'll leave if for after I do what I must. For after I know the world is safe.

—

The funeral concludes, and I address the Queen.

“Though this occasion may have given rise to many sacrifices, I am thankful for your efforts towards destroying Houou, Iwatani-sama.” (Queen)

“Spare me your pleasantries. I just want to see if you’ve identified the bastard who shot that unnecessary attack.” (Naofumi)

“… No, we have heard nothing of the culprit.” (Queen)

“What about the Seven Star Heroes that were supposed to come running here? They’re the greatest suspects.” (Naofumi)

“… I’m truly sorry, but we still have yet to get into contact with them.” (Queen)

“You sure are useless!” (Naofumi)

I’m getting pissed off.

I understand the Queen has done nothing wrong, but I can’t do anything about my emotions.

“Another important matter we have to attend to is the next of the four beasts. What do you think about it?” (Queen)

“Meaning?” (Naofumi)

On my question, the Queen lets out a small sound of surprise.

“Have you not heard from the other heroes about the timing of the next wave?” (Queen)

I confirm the blue hourglass in my field of vision.

… 2 Days and 18 Hours.

Short! We have no time left!

I’m at a loss for words.

Oy, oy. The next of the Four Good Omens is... Kirin, was it?
The place it's sealed... I never asked anyone!

"According to the Hero of the Sword-sama, the beast is set to appear around Faubley." (Queen)

Faubley... Are we going to drag our current forces all the way to Faubley to prepare for it?

In less than three days?

If Firo wanted to run straight without food or rest, I think it would take two days to get to Melromark from here.

How far away is Faubley?

"And wait, where was Houou's blue Hourglass?" (Naofumi)

"It manifested in the center of the city. According to witness reports, it just glowed blue, and there was no sand, though." (Queen)

Fumu... a sand less, blue Hourglass appeared.

That sure sounds strange.

Houou gave three months of long rest, but Kirin, only three days.

Both the turtle and the Bird moved to destroy as many life-forms as possible.

... The Four Good Omens.

The only answer I can think of right now is that the amount of lives they take extends the time to the next wave.

Those beasts were supposed to bring happiness and fortune.

So looking at the world as a whole, is this extension the fortune they bring?

Sacrifices... thinking about Atlas, and the others, I want to deny the possibility.

No, I should be denying it.

It may just be that the seal was going to break now by coincidence.

But more importantly.

“What will we do about Kirin? No, I should call Ren.” (Naofumi)

I raise my voice, and call for the Sword.

After a while, Ren answers my call, and comes towards me.

“What?” (Ren)

“What sort of enemy is Kirin?” (Naofumi)

“A monster on equal footing with Houou.” (Ren)

Kirin… I believe it was a set of two beasts, like Houou. Ki and Rin.

Is the Kirin sealed in Houou the same one I know of? The ones that would appear before kings of good virtue?

But Faubley’s under that Pig King, right?

That really doesn’t seem to be the case.

Perhaps the first time it manifested, the king was coincidentally a capable one.

But with only three days to spare, what will we do with the armies?

They were equipped to travel from the beginning, but there’s no time for weapon maintenance, and war conferences.

And what’s with this time limit? There’s no time to prepare or anything!

It isn’t even a distance easily trekked in three days, and even if we wanted to warp there, Motoyasu already erased it from his saved warp locations, so we can’t.

Is the only option to travel by land?

Dammit all.

“At the very least, the heroes should set out. With three days, I’m not sure if even Firo will be able to make it, but we have to go.” (Naofumi)

As it is, it’s a powerful monster.

Even if we can’t make it, we have to go.

Fauley is this world's largest country, so its population should be massive. If a monster that hunted life appeared in such a place, what would happen?

The answer is clear.

I have to reduce the casualties as much as possible.

Perhaps... we can beat it with just the Heroes.

It doesn't matter if I'm getting full of myself. We can only try.

If that's the case, the villagers won't have to become sacrifices.

"For now, let's warp back to the village, and set out." (Naofumi)

But we took all of the Filo Rials here to assist in the Army's transportation.

Do I have to make use of the monsters I turned into Raphs?

They do have some stamina, but they're not as fast as Filo Rials.

"Who should we take?"

"The Allied Armies have suffered heavy casualties, and moving them will be difficult. Queen, what will you do?"

"... I understand. I will accompany you with my Trash. I'll negotiate cooperation with Fauley's army." (Queen)

Fumu, she really is Melty's mother.

At times like this, she takes the initiative, and steps forward.

The Queen went to talk to the other army commanders.

It ended up that the Silt Welt generals would take charge of the Armies, and have them steadily proceed towards Fauley.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 308 – Kirin

---

After returning to the village by Portal, we immediately set out for Faubley.

“Firo’s carriage…”

“We had to leave it. There’s no helping it.”

“Uu…”

I can’t warp while taking something of that size along.

So Firo will have to use one of the cheap carriages in the village.

One of the other Filo Rials will carry her’s back to the village later.

“Let’s do our best.”

“Yeah”

I took whoever had high combat abilities with me.

The heroes were a given, and Fohl was included in that category now.

Raphtalia, Firo, Rishia, Kiel, Sadina, Taniko, Gaelion, and that Granny, whose combat experience is high (She apparently performed quite a bit in the previous battle, but I never saw it). Motoyasu’s three, and Female Knight were also brought along.

There’s also the Queen, and Trash. I don’t care about the latter, but the Queen will be useful in negotiating with their government.

“What sort of enemy is Kirin?” (Naofumi)

“I have knowledge of it from the game, but I can’t guarantee its accuracy…” (Ren)

Right… Ren’s right.

In the Houou battle, everyone’s info differed, and the real one was also different from all of them.

“Do you know anything, Queen?” (Naofumi)

“The tales describing Kirin? I’m knowledgeable of the legends, but… was it supposed to be in Faubley…?” (Queen)

“It wasn’t?”

The Queen is a lover of legends, right? At least from what I’ve seen.

Why doesn’t she know about it?

Perhaps the country of Faubley intentionally concealed the fact. It’s possible.

It’s a country made of the blood of Heroes.

There’s no way they didn’t know.

“Faubley’s gone through a long period of political upheaval, so I can’t deny the possibility of the information dying out. They also claim to be investigating the four beasts, so you may find something in their large national library.” (Queen)

National Library. I believe Melty was able to remember a bit of info from a book, but what book was it?

Ah, there were a lot of Seven Stars in Faubley, right?

I may end up fighting alongside them here.

… There may be the person who caused the incident mixed in as well.

If I find them out by how they attack, I may end up killing thme.

What’s more, if there are Seven Star Heroes summoned from another world, I may be able to ask it from them.

Not that I’m expecting anything great.

Our carriages proceeded at full speed, but…

The time came, and the hourglass in my vision enlarged.

This time, it displayed a 『9』.

But that doesn’t really matter.

The problem is what came afterwards.

I guess it was after about an hour.

Firo was surpassing her limits, and running at breakneck speed. We were storming down the streets of the country neighboring Faubley.

Suddenly... the number vanished.
I stopped the carriage, and called out to the Queen, and the heroes.

"What's this about?" (Naofumi)

"What happened?" (Queen)

"Yeah, the hourglass vanished. As if the beast had already been defeated."
(Naofumi)

"Naofumi, mine's gone too." (Ren)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

Faubley has their own heroes.

So it's not impossible.

How many of them are there right now?

Um... Trash and Fohl are Seven Stars... what about Rishia?

Unlike Fohl's, hers has settled into a translucent state.

I really don't think it's a Legendary Weapon, so what exactly is it?

Anyways, there are five more of the Seven Stars, so it's not that strange if they were able to beat Kirin.

Then why would people with that sort of power refrain from participating in the Houou battle? It's strange no matter how you look at it.

"Queen, does Faubley have all of the other Seven Star Heroes?" (Naofumi)

"I've heard that five of them mainly operate from their lands. Of course, they also visit other countries." (Queen)

So Faubley has all of the rest.

And Trash and the Four Summoned are centered in Melromark.

It appears we were equal in numbers.

There's someone among them that I can never forgive.

The enemies summoned in the wave... It's possible that someone like Glass appeared there as well.

If that's the case, they might be trying to get the Heroes to kill each other.

But I won't stand by false charges.

I'll deliver retribution unto the true culprit.

But...

There's one large problem.

The number on the blue hourglass is gone.

No, the blue hourglass Icon itself is gone.

In its place is the normal Red Hourglass, counting down time to the next wave.

One Week.

It's certain that something defeated the wave, be it the Seven Star Heroes, or something else. Then where did Ouryuu go?

I turn my eyes to Gaelion.

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

Taniko's cuddling with him.

I want to somehow call true Gaelion out, but...

From the start, he doesn't come out before Ren or Taniko.

... Kirin's gone. Ouryuu's left.

Even if he is set to appear, I have no idea where it'll be.

It would be troublesome if he appeared with little warning like this time.

I need to ask for the location.

"Ren, Itsuki, Motoyasu, where does Ouryuu revive?" (Naofumi)

"Over there." (Ren)

"Here." (Itsuki)

"That way, Father-in-Law." (Motoyasu)

They each point in different directions altogether.
They're all over the place...
We can't determine its location. I never expected this.

"I-it seems we don't know Ouryuu's location." (Ren)

Ren seems to be bewildered.
Yeah.
I mean, everyone's disagreeing here.

There's no choice.
We'll put Ouryuu off 'til later. I'll get what I can from Gaelion.

"I'm going to ride Gaelion, and observe Faubley's situation from the sky."
(Naofumi)

"What about Firo?" (Firo)

"You can come along if you want. Along with Gaelion." (Naofumi)

Perhaps that was a bit forced. But since Ren and Taniko are with us, we'll have to fly up high to speak.
Taniko tries to get on him, but Gaelion rejects her, and begins beating his wings.
I straddle Firo, and we lift off.

"... And? Tell me everything you know about Ouryuu." (Naofumi)

"Sorry. I know nothing." (Gaelion)

I look towards Faubley from up high.
I see something like a speck in the distance... Is that it?
I can't tell what's going down there.

"So you aren't the dragon?" (Naofumi)

"It may be an assimilation of the Dragon Emperor cores..." (Gaelion)

Fumu... because Ouryuu's seal isn't breaking, the blue hourglass didn't appear. Can I look at it like that?

—

After I conversed with Gaelion, we stopped by a small country. To easily cross Faubley's border, the Queen stopped by the castle of said country, and came out quickly.

"Iwatani-sama, I have found out what became of Kirin." (Queen)

Well, it's not like I didn't hear any gossip on the city's streets, but hearing the Queen's, and Shadow's information is for the best.

"The Heroes in Faubley led the army, and managed to subjugate it. The damage caused was 0. Absolutely none." (Queen)

"I see... that's good."

Still, the one who killed off Atlas, and our armies may be there. Just by thinking that, I feel I need to get there immediately, and make him taste the same, no an even greater pain than that he inflicted on Atlas.

"And? How many of their Seven Star Heroes participated?" (Naofumi)

"That's the strange thing. Apparently, it was only one." (Queen)

"One...?" (Naofumi)

One, is it? There seems to be a capable person among them.

But what the hell were the other heroes doing?

They didn't even go help out with Houou. They didn't fight the Kirin that appeared right next to them.

It's as if they're useless.

"We're still going to confirm the truth. For Atlas, and the other's sake as well." (Naofumi)

"I understand. I've already sent messengers ahead to grant us an audience with Faubley immediately." (Queen)

On the Queen's orders, the country we stopped in sent messengers to Faubley.

They were on flying dragons, so they shouldn't take long.

The problem is if we're setting out yet or not...

"Should we rush there?" (Queen)

"Fue..." (Firo)

Firo's collapsed on her own carriage.

She's just fought a series of battles.

Though she claims she's fine, she must be pushing herself.

We should rest, if only for a bit.

I bet Faubley will take a while to gather their Heroes as well, so we should rest when we have the chance.

"No, let's rest, and recover our strength." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Queen)

Like that, the third of the four beasts was defeated, and the wave's hourglass turned red once more.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 309 – Straying Off Course

---

We'll head to Faubley after Firo and the others rest for a night. Right now, we're staying in an Inn of the neighboring country. Raphtalia left to bathe in the public bath. Tomorrow, will we have a meeting with the Seven Stars?

There may only be one there, but we still need to go in protest. The King seems to have taken a liking to me, and he should have at least enough political power to gather the Seven Star Heroes. The Queen already sent a quick messenger, so they might be gathered by the time we get there. The message also contained a form of my request. He keeps sending over those disgusting videos one after the other, so I don't think he'll deny me so easily.

But... really, who is the culprit? That one hero who defeated Kirin probably knows of the others. I also can't deny the possibility of someone like Glass being behind the curtain. Whatever the case, we can't let the guy who tried to take out the entire continental army get away unharmed. Even so... I need to think of Firo, and our other beasts of burden's stamina.

Even though we're only staying a night, I feel that all of my time is being wasted. I'm irritated. Another emotion seems to have emerged in my heart. When I'm left alone in a room, I get depressed for some reason. I guess this is what exists between the me who only plots for revenge, and the me who can do nothing but cry tears of grief.

"What's up, Aniki?"

Fohl finished his shopping, and enters the room.

... He's Atlas's brother.

We've slept in the same bed before, though.

"Fohl?" (Naofumi)

"What?" (Fohl)

"Are you going to sleep yet?" (Naofumi)

"... Let's see. I'm a bit tired, so I guess I'll turn in early." (Fohl)

"I see. Fohl? Do you like me?" (Naofumi)

"What!?" (Fohl)

Fohl raises a strange voice as he stares at me.

... I guess he doesn't.

I mean, I'm the one who couldn't protect his precious sister.

"... I don't hate you. I promised myself that I would never hate the one Atlas loved." (Fohl)

"Then... sleep here." (Naofumi)

I point to a bed.

"Really, what's with you?" (Fohl)

Fohl makes a grandiose gesture of spreading himself over the bed.

I gently sat down on the bed Fohl was lying on, and put my hand on his back.

Ah, he smells kinda like Atlas... I think.

"HII!" (Fohl)

Fohl suddenly jumps up.

"W-what the hell do you think you're doing?" (Fohl)

"I thought I would sleep with you." (Naofumi)

For some reason, I see that girl's facial features in his.
It's makes me feel as if all that never happened.

"You bastard! Wait!" (Fohl)

Fohl's face turns pale, and he runs out of the room.

"Naofumi-chan?" (Sadina)

"...What?" (Naofumi)

I'm not sure if she returned earlier, but Sadina comes into the room with a Sake bottle in one hand.

"I heard from Fohl-chan... drink this, and regain a bit of your spirit."
(Sadina)

"I'm sorry... Alcohol just doesn't do it for me." (Naofumi)

"Ah, that's right..." (Sadina)

Before her, others have come to try and cheer me up.

I guess it doesn't matter what world you're in. People will offer alcohol to you when you're depressed.

If I was able to get drunk, I think that I would be drinking right now.

"Then will you do something fun with Onee-san?" (Sadina)

"... That's right." (Naofumi)

Atlas said she wanted me to answer to those that said they loved me...
Then I need to answer this woman who always said she harbored feelings for me.

"Naofumi-chan?" (Sadina)

"Sadina, do you like me?" (Naofumi)

"Oh my, you're asking quite an embarrassing thing. That's right. I love Naofumi-chan." (Sadina)

She wriggles her body and acts embarrassed as she answers.

"I see... then change to human form, take off your loincloth, and lie there."
(Naofumi)

"... Naofumi-chan?" (Sadina)

Sadina tilts her head, as she sits on the bed.

"Hey, human form, I said." (Naofumi)

"Ah, yes." (Sadina)

Sadina dispels her transformation, and changes to her Demi-Human form.
I lower my pant, grab her shoulders, unfasten her loincloth, and...

"Wait, Naofumi-chan, STOP!" (Sadina)

I was pushed away.

"Naofumi-chan, what were you trying to do right now?" (Sadina)

"I mean, wasn't I doing what you wanted me to do?" (Naofumi)

"... Wait a second, Naofumi-chan. Sit down there." (Sadina)

"If I sit on the ground, we can't do it, you know." (Naofumi)

"That's fine, just sit down already!" (Sadina)

What?

I feel that Sadina's mood is getting worse.

"I'll ask first, but you know there's things like atmosphere and foreplay and a lot of other things you have to take care of first, right?" (Sadina)

"Yes, I know. And?" (Naofumi)

I mean, I've dabbled my hands in plenty of Eroge.

There's no way I don't know.

Honestly, I know a lot of amazing things Sadina's probably never even heard of.

… Not that I'm trying to brag.

"Even so, you mechanically try to do it with me. Raphtalia-chan's going to get angry." (Sadina)

"… Perhaps. But Atlas wished that I answer to you." (Naofumi)

"You see, Naofumi-chan, everyone loves you a lot. But I don't think you should go around doing that." (Sadina)

"… Really?" (Naofumi)

She gives a serious answer for once.

With someone like Sadina scolding me about my actions, I was able to regain some composure, and understand what she was trying to say.

"Naofumi-chan, I'm the same. If you wish to have fun with me, and love me, then I'll accept. If you find things too sad to bear, then I'll comfort you as a woman. But the current you doesn't seem to have any of those feelings. Though I don't think you'll go after Raphtalia because of your promise with me." (Sadina)

"Um… I think I'll wait to give Raphtalia an answer." (Naofumi)

"Hmm… It seems you have some resolution there. Good. But I'm different, right? It seems you tried to do something to Fohl-chan, but you understand what I'm saying right?" (Sadina)

"Probably." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-chan, right now, you were thinking of nothing but making children with me. Isn't there something a little different with Raphtalia?" (Sadina)

"… Different? Fohl is… well…" (Naofumi)

Was what Atlas wished for… something else?

Didn't she want the children of the Hero of the Shield… or something?

Though I think I kinda understand.

I don't have any homosexual tendencies, but Fohl seems to have slight leanings, so I tried to push him a bit.

"You see, Naofumi-chan." (Sadina)

Sadina smiles, and puts pressure on me as she grasps both of my shoulders. I think she's acting similar to Raphtalia.

They aren't related by blood, but I guess she really is a sort of sister.

"Having children is supposed to be the result of love; the result, and not the goal. The journey is important. I think I would enjoy it if me and Naofumi-chan loved each other. Perhaps if you wanted me to comfort you, I wouldn't mind if I got pregnant as a result." (Sadina)

"Fumu... now that you mention it, that makes sense." (Naofumi)

"Even if you hate it, you think that as long as you can make the other party happy, you'll offer yourself, right now, right?" (Sadina)

"... Yeah." (Naofumi)

"Truthfully... I'm quite sure Atlas-chan didn't wish for something like that. So calm yourself." (Sadina)

My head clears from her words.

Even when I haven't found my enemy, I strayed off path to make sure not to leave any regrets.

I lost myself in the ideal of... 'As long as Sadina wishes for it.'

... That's right. Sadina's a human too, for argument's sake. Just as my heart wasn't in it, as long as her heart wasn't prepared, and she didn't ask for it, it was wrong of me to make a move.

I'm more than well aware that rape is a crime.

I was going to pledge myself to her, but as I was not the usual me, she refused. I wonder what the real me wants.

Then... what... should I do?

"I understand that you'll take responsibility, but if I accepted the current Naofumi-chan, the future Naofumi-chan would only have more regrets. That's why Onee-san will reject you for now." (Sadina)

"... I see." (Naofumi)

"I'll warn Raphtalia-chan and the other children, so think over what you have to do again. Make sure you reflect on trying to do things to me indiscriminately." (Sadina)
"..."

By Sadina's warning, my thoughts began wandering once more.
Right now, I'm no good... I understand that well.
Sadina warned me out of worry for my future.

So I don't have any regrets, I can't lay hands on those that love me.
Or the me of the future will repent.

I regretted not doing it, so she directed harsh words at me.
I could have given Atlas more happiness, and yet...
Instead of regretting not doing it, it's better to do it and regret... no, that's no good, right?

"Naofumi-chan, it may be impossible for you to smile now. But slowly get back on your feet... And once you have the resolve to live trying to find out Atlas's intentions, with me, Raphtalia, or the village children... Even Fohl. You can give us your answer. Your current determination is no good at all. I love you, so being embraced by you like this would disgrace me as a woman." (Sadina)

She gently strokes my face, and leaves the room.
... I am... Where am I right now?
Taking responsibility... resolve...
Various thoughts spin around my head.

I am... what exactly do I want to do?
Kill the one who did this to Atlas, defeat the wave, and bring peace to the world... Then what?
I have no intentions of being buried in this world.
That feeling hasn't changed from the start

This is probably what Sadina was warning me about.
With such half-assed resolve, what's more, with the intention of impregnating my partner... I'm scum. I didn't even wish for it myself.
Something like that won't make anyone happy.
She didn't want me to be treated like a breeding horse, I think.
When I realize just how much she was thinking about me, my mood worsens again.

Something was wrong with me back there. There's no way Fohl is homo...
And I can never replace Atlas.
Though I'd like to think they didn't have any twisted sibling love.

"... Yeah, that's right." (Naofumi)

I can't impose my selfishness on the villagers.
I have to live up to the expectations of those that believe in me.
But for that, I have to have the resolve to carry their lives on my back.

Now, Atlas is lending me her power as my shield.
Then when I return to my world... what'll happen to her?
I don't know, but... I guess that would be good bye.

My thoughts of going back home, and my thoughts of staying with everyone, and answering to their feelings, intersect.
Without me reaching an answer, the night came and went.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 310 – Firearms

---

It happened a little before we warped to the village to set out.

On the island I once used as my base when I turned strange, it awakened. It was sealed deeply underground, along with all equipment. Little by little, the machines worked on it autonomously, and as if it were a butterfly breaking out of a cocoon, it opened its eyes. It slowly dug its way up, and breathed its first breath of fresh air.

After shaking off the dirt that coated its body, it jumped into the sea, and swam out.

As if it knew where it was supposed to be... it eventually arrived at the village I knew all too well...

"We need to get to Faubley quickly! Get out the carriages!" (Naofumi)

"Eh?... Firo has to pull this carriage?" (Firo)

"Deal with it! Now everyone, hurry! Motoyasu, have your three pull carriages as well! Gaelion, you too!" (Naofumi)

"Yes, Father-in-Law!" (Motoyasu)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

Upon hearing my voice, it immediately ran to my carriage...

–

The next day. (TL: I think from the story, not from the events listed above)

"Do you think we'll be able to get an audience in Faubley today?" (Naofumi)

"Most likely." (Queen)

Us who had been resting in the inn met up with the Queen, who was staying in the castle.

"The other side also says they've finished their preparations to greet us, so there shouldn't be any problems." (Queen)

"I see. So they managed to gather the Heroes." (Naofumi)

By what command do they move?

Only one participated against Kirin. I don't get how they work.

Aren't they supposed to be fighting for the world?

The carriage bounced up and down as we proceeded forward. The roads changed to stone pavement at some point in time, but that doesn't really matter.

"Ren, what do you think the otherworlders like us are thinking? Apparently, they didn't participate against Kirin." (Naofumi)

Itsuki's silently and expressionlessly staring in the carriage, and Motoyasu only looks at birds, so conversations like this won't get through.

So I tried asking Ren

"There are a few possibilities." (Ren)

"Well, yeah." (Naofumi)

"The first is that they don't care about the wave, and that they abandoned their mission." (Ren)

"I really sympathize with that one." (Naofumi)

If I was only thinking about myself, then that wouldn't be a bad move.

It isn't strange for someone to drop out of protecting this crappy world and go into retirement.

Honestly, I also think it would be best off falling to ruin.

But thinking of it as Raphtalia and Atlas's world makes me protect it a bit more.

"Next is they thought the Hero they sent to Kirin to be capable enough, and just left the problem to him..." (Ren)

"If they can just push their problems onto that guy like that, I have a bad premonition of what's to come." (Naofumi)

I don't think someone who was happily summoned to this game-like world would let an event like this go.

Is it that? They really place their faith in one single person that much?

"Hmm... there's also the possibility that they were too focused on level-grinding to care." (Ren)

"Ah..." (Naofumi)

I guess there are players who focus on their levels, and ignore events as well.

They seclude themselves in remote areas, or something.

If that's the case, it would be exceedingly troublesome. For the world.

But if I look at these heroes gathered here, I guess it's not impossible.

"Rafu~..."

Hmm?

I hear a familiar voice calling me from afar.

"Did you just hear something?" (Naofumi)

"No, nothing." (Ren)

"Firo." (Naofumi)

"What?" (Firo)

"Stop the carriage." (Naofumi)

"Okay, got it." (Firo)

We stop, and I strain my ears.

"Ta~li~"

There's really something here.

Ah!

When I checked the bottom of the carriage, I found a single Raph holding onto the axel.

When our eyes meet, the Raph seems to give up his grip, and fall to the ground. It crept out from underneath the carriage.

I don't know why, but it was hiding.

"Did something happen?" (Raphtalia)

I hear Raphtalia dismount from the carriage.

"I heard a Raph."

"I'm surprised you could hear that. So..." (Raphtalia)

I hold up the Raph, and show it to Raphtalia.

"Did it follow us here?" (Raphtalia)

"Seems like it... wait...!?" (Naofumi)

When I was patting it, I realized.

"Who is this? He isn't one of the ones from the villiage." (Naofumi)

"You can tell them apart!?" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah, from their feel, and their cries." (Naofumi)

"When did you develop such an..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia stares at me with a questioning expression.

Isn't it fine? They all have childish cuteness.

It's like they're a large litter of kittens born of the same mother.

If you live around them long enough, you should at least be able to tell them apart.

Anyways, the Raph looks at Raphtalia.

"Fa..."

I shut him up before he could finish.

It's not that Raphtlaia was pressuring me to or anything.

I just didn't want him to say it, okay?

"But what should we do?" (Naofumi)

"Should we portal it back?" (Raphtalia)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

It followed us quite a distance, so sending it back is a bit of a pain.

If we confront the Seven Stars and fail to find the culprit, we'll be going back anyways.

"Rafu?"

"It's not registered as one of my monsters either." (Naofumi)

"Rafu."

The Raph nods, and releases some sort of magic at me.

A monster seal appears on it... It arbitrarily registered itself.

There are a few things I'd like to retort right now, but I check its status anyways.

... It's surprisingly high.

Among the Raphs in my place, this one's the highest.

Specifically, it's at level 80.

What is this one?

Did a Raph venture into the wild, train itself, and choose to join me now?

It was a monster made by the strange me, so perhaps it's just easy to register them.

"Hmm?" (Firo)

Firo brings her face close to the unfamiliar Raph.

"Don't eat it." (Naofumi)

"Why does master say that whenever Firo does this?" (Firo)

"I think this is the first." (Naofumi)

"No, you said it!" (Firo)

Fumu, perhaps it was the strange me again.

"And? What's up?" (Naofumi)

"Let's see. This child is the one closest to Raphta-" (Firo)

"Rafu~."

The Raph in my hands uses its tail to block Firo's mouth.

"It's a secret?" (Firo)

"Rafu~."

"I see." (Firo)

It seems that these beasts have come to an understanding.

But... its fur feels really good.

It may be the best of all the Raphs I've held 'til now.

They're monsters based off of Raphtalia, so they feel similar to Raphtalia's tail.

But this one's feel is similar but slightly different. It's strangely nice.

... What is it? Perhaps this is my ideal-

"Naofumi-sama?" (Raphtalia)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"You appear to be forming strange ideas as you're patting it." (Raphtalia)

Fumu. I got off track there.

Now should I bring it, or not. I believe that was the predicament.

"For now, there's no problems in taking it. I mean, its abilities are relatively high." (Naofumi)

"Rafu~"

"... I see. I understand." (Raphtalia)

"Nice meeting you, small Onee-chan. Or perhaps it should be... Raph Princess?" (Firo)

"Please don't call it that. Why princess!?" (Raphtalia)

"So princess is no good. Then how about Raphtalia MKII? Or how about Raph Queen?" (Naofumi)

"Why!? What's that supposed to mean?" (Raphtalia)

"Really? Then I guess Raph-chan is fine." (Sadina)

Sadina gets off the carriage, and names it.
Raph-chan...

"Rafu~!" (Raph-chan)

"Well, I guess that's fine." (Naofumi)

"... Understood. I have gotten an insight into Firo's and Naofumi-sama's naming sense." (Raphtalia)

Her reactions a bit unexpected.

"Rafu~" (Raph-chan)

Pat. Pat. Pat.

"Make sure not to pat it too much." (Raphtalia)

"Yes, yes." (Naofumi)

"Tali~" (Raph-chan)

But what's the deal with this one?

Its cries differ from time to time.

"Riya?" (Raph-chan)

—

We get on the carriage, and I continue to pat Raph-chan. The city scenery around me grows more and more modern as we progress. The Cityscape gradually steals my attention.

Ah, by the way, the 『Chan』 isn't a suffix. It's part of his name.

I guess if you were to call him properly, it would be Raph-chan-chan.

No, no, no...

"What?"

I'm a bit curious about the city's prosperity, and... I guess you would call it Steampunk. I see various car-like things running on what looks like steam-based engines.

What's lined in the shop are... guns?

It looks like Faubley is quite a modern place.

Motoyasu said he saw a car in this world before, but the technological growth here far exceeded my imagination.

Ah, there's a genuine car. It looks old fashioned.

It gives off the feeling of one driven by a famous novel's detective, or something of the sort.

"Guns. It looks like being shot with one of those is no joke." (Naofumi)

"Does Iwatani-sama have an interest in guns?" (Queen)

"It's not like I don't... I was just thinking of how different this place was to Melromark. I think that you would lose if we waged war." (Naofumi)

"Against the guns?" (Queen)

The Queen looks over at the weapon shop, and turns her eyes back to me. What is she so curious about?

Guns are quite fatal where I come from.

"Isn't that right? I mean, won't bows lose against them?" (Naofumi)

"I don't think guns are that powerful weapons." (Queen)

"... Really?" (Naofumi)

“Yes. Quite a few summoned heroes propose them as weapons, but most of their attempts failed.” (Queen)

So some otherworld Heroes thought they would use their advanced knowledge to cheat?

Or something like that?

“Why?” (Naofumi)

“I think that Hero of the Bow-sama over there understands.” (Queen)

I call out the spaced-out Itsuki from the carriage.

“Itsuki, what do you think about guns?” (Naofumi)

“Meaning?” (Itsuki)

“The Queen is telling me that they aren’t that powerful of a weapon.”
(Naofumi)

“Let’s see… if someone of high level uses one, it would be troublesome… I think.” (Itsuki)

???

I don’t get what he’s saying.

“Naofumi-san, while this is reality, we also have something called Status, right?” (Itsuki)

… Hmm?

“The conclusion is that firearms probably aren’t as powerful as they were in the Heroes world.” (Queen)

“Bullet speed is also effected by Status, and there are various problems involving reloading, and regulating gunpowder, and the like.” (Itsuki)

The Queen nods at Itsuki’s answer.

“Yes, there’s the danger of the enemy discharging the bullets with magic, and even if you get to fire, you can’t rely too much on the firepower unless your level is high.” (Queen)

Ah, I see.

I neglected taking Status Magic into account, and simply assumed they were stronger.

According to Itsuki, the momentum of bullets is also effected by Status.

Guns are good because they’re supposed to have the same firepower regardless of the wielder.

If you take away that point, I guess they aren’t as useful as in my world.

Hmm, they’re letting people practice over there.

A child is holding a gun, and aiming at a target.

Perhaps she noticed me concentrating my attention. Firo stopped walking.

The trigger was pulled.

With a bang, the gunpowder burst, and a familiar and unique sound entered my ear. The child threw his arms up from the recoil.

… Why is the bullet so slow?

I can see it moving. Perhaps at around the same speed as an arrow. From my experience, isn’t it supposed to impact almost immediately following the shot?

“Using gunpowder, you can definitely accelerate bullets, but the damage isn’t particularly high. In comparison to a bow, its maintenance and ammunition costs are higher, so they aren’t really used outside of Faubley.” (Queen)

“So that’s how it is.” (Naofumi)

“And since fire magic can discharge the shells, if you want to attack at long distance, most would use a bow, magic, or a throwing weapon.” (Queen)

"This is based on my game knowledge, but if you train, you can get quite strong. But I wouldn't call it the strongest weapon or anything." (Itsuki)

Itsuki answers without any visible interest.

Well, in the Net Games I've played, the treatment of Guns has always been a bit strange.

Most of them have the attack power of them fall far behind the sword.

Even though this is reality, it is also a Fantasy World. I'm once again reminded of that fact.

So bows also have the merit of being easy to restock ammo.

And because of all this, gun technology doesn't improve.

"So even firearms are subject to status." (Naofumi)

"Yes, range is also... if you shoot from too far away, the output drastically drops." (Itsuki)

"Does artillery work by the same principle?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, there is research underway towards the development of magic-firing cannons, but it would be much simpler, and quicker, to just cast the magic yourself." (Queen)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"Artillery and catapults can have quite a bit of output if they're used by people with high levels, so they're often brought forth in war, though." (Queen)

They're dependent on user ability.

So if a class-upped high-level general were to light the fuse on a cannon, its output would drastically increase.

And if Itsuki used one, would it be strong?

I think it falls under the bow category.

I don't see where Status starts and stops. What's effected by it, and what isn't?

It seems a bit complicated.

I've been participating in waves as if it were natural, but I never found it strange.

Then Bows and other weapons also take effects from Status.

... Of course.

However the outputs of Bows and Guns don't differ greatly.

Since Itsuki's the Hero of the Bow, can he not use firearms?

He should be able to use crossbows... I'll have him try it out.

As if he sensed my intention, Itsuki nodded, and left for the Weapon Store.

With this, I hope he gets a bit stronger.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 311 – Genius

---

Itsuki finished his copying, and returned.

Well, it's not like he can put those weapons to use yet. He'll have to strengthen them.

As we keep the carriage on course, we slowly draw near a castle much larger than the one in Melromark.

White dove-like monsters fly in the airspace above the structure, giving it a resolute fantasy-ish feeling.

If I had been summoned here, I would have been greatly moved by this scene.

It's more grandiose than Melromark, and it seems that living here isn't too bad.

If you think about it, this world is more medieval-ish than it is medieval. In those days, large cities like this one would have terrible sanitation. I've heard that waste matter was simply dumped out windows back then. High heels were apparently created to avoid stepping in such matter, but I wonder if that's true.

Unlike that, I don't see any lack of hygiene here.

Plumbing seems to have already been perfected here.

Though I guess the villages on the edges of the country should still be rural.

This area's been made with the knowledge of different worlds.

Zeltburg seemed to have bad public order, but this one seems more like a modern metropolis, or more like...

"Now that I think about it... it seems there's less of a difference in treatment between Demi-Humans and Humans here." (Naofumi)

Because of our efforts, Melromark is currently working to rid itself of Demi-Human discrimination.

But it's not like it'll settle in immediately, and I don't feel that any of the Demi-Human adventurers or merchants in Melromark are aiming to take permanent residence there.

Of course, there are plenty of Demi-Humans in the village on my territory, but Faubley truly seems to have... no discrimination.

I rarely see Demi-Human and Human children playing together, so the sight is quite fresh.

"That's right. I'd like to follow their example." (Queen)

The Queen looks over the scene.

Because of me, the country's Demi-Human conditions are gradually improving, but Demi-Humans in my territory have started discriminating against Humans too.

Oh?

We just passed by a large church.

It had an impressive emblem displaying four weapons out front.

I guess it's a Four Hero Church.

The churches near my place also have that emblem.

Next to it is another building, with clock-like circular plate hanging over the door. Around the edge of the clock, the shapes of various weapons are carved.

"That one is a Seven Star Church." (Queen)

The Queen points to both churches.

"Its altar contains various devices from past heroes. The proof of their existence is enshrined there." (Queen)

"Was that the stuff the Three Hero Church used?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, it seems they secretly swapped out fake items, and took the real ones from here.” (Queen)

“Hmm…” (Naofumi)

After the audience, perhaps I’ll pay a visit.

Though I might not get a chance depending on what I find out there.

“See, you can see it even from here.” (Queen)

“Eh?” (Naofumi)

Saying that, the Queen points her finger towards the stained glass above the emblem.

When I concentrate my eyes, I can make out four glass symbols above the first emblem, and seven above the second.

Each symbol glows with a strange light.

But the Seven Star stained glass is… a little strange, isn’t it?

There’s a single area that’s heavily chipped…

How should I say this? It looks like Pa○man, where only a single segment’s been chipped away.

Still, the seven symbols shine brilliantly.

“Until recently, only six of them were lit, but as the Hero of the Gauntlet was selected, the seventh one finally appeared.” (Queen)

Scholar-like people in front of the church are offering prayers as their eyes dart towards us.

They embarrassingly turn their gazes to the heroes inside of the carriage before breaking eye contact.

Motoyasu is in another vehicle, but it seems nothing’s happening to him. If the fact that we were heroes came to light, I think that these people would jostle us around, so I keep quiet.

“Heroes… Faubley has five of them, right? I’m surprised Silt Welt and the other countries permitted that.” (Naofumi)

"Strictly speaking, they don't own them, but are merely being aided by them. So I guess you could say their allied to this area." (Queen)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

"Silt Welt also has a Seven Star weapon, you know. That would be the Legendary Claw. The weilder is a Demi-Human native to this world."
(Queen)

Three were summoned, so two of the Heroes in this country should be native to this world.

"And the Cane is Melromark's?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Queen)

The Queen pokes Trash.

He quietly nods, and looks over at me and Fohl.

I don't sense any motivation or ambition from him.

"In the past... The previous Hero of the Cane fought to the death with Trash for the right to wield it, though." (Queen)

"No, I don't really care." (Naofumi)

I have no need for Trash's backstory.

I've heard more than enough about him.

"Because of Iwatani-sama, I was able to get all sorts of information about the Hero's legends from the generals of the Silt Welt army." (Queen)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

"First, you understand that their country worships the Hero of the Shield, right?" (Queen)

"Well, yeah..." (Naofumi)

I mean, people do come over to pay tribute to me.

I seem to be the only hero that gets that high of a treatment.

"Anyways, I heard their legends, and realized a certain something."

(Queen)

"That being?" (Naofumi)

I know that legends are apparently this Queen's hobby.

Melty also likes to talk of them.

And her love of Filo Rials apparently stems from the Queen telling her of their legends.

Forest of Illusions, was it? (TL: Chapter 65)

"Of the Four Heroes, the ones who were active in their country were the Bow and the Shield. Similarly, I also heard of the Seven Star Legends they knew of. Specifically, the Whip, Claw, and Hammer." (Queen)

Hearsay, is it?

Well, the Shield and the bow do have fundamentally good compatibility. And the claw is currently residing in their country.

"What I realized from reading into their legends was that Humans rarely ever made an appearance." (Queen)

"Well, it's a Demi-Human country, right?" (Naofumi)

"That's true, but the older the legends, the fewer humans, besides the summoned heroes, make an appearance." (Queen)

The older they are?

"Then the newer stories have more human interaction?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. I think that finding the meaning behind this fact may prove to be interesting." (queen)

Fumu... Old Demi-Human tales are devoid of Human characters.

By that same logic, perhaps old human ones don't have Demi-Humans.

The Human side mainly has tales of the Spear and the Sword, I guess.

"A similar phenomena takes place in Melromark. Strictly speaking, in the books left by the country that would one day become Melromark. The farther in time you go back, the less you hear of Demi-Humans." (Queen)

"Are they mostly stories of the Spear and Sword?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, the opposite of Silt Welt. Inversely, the legends we have of the Bow and Shield are few in number." (Queen)

It truly is strange.

It's not like Melromark and Silt Welt are separated by Sea, River, or Desert.

Could it just be that they had little cultural exchange?

I mean, in truth, the country of humans, and the country of Demi-Humans have a language barrier right now.

Because of the legendary weapons, the Heroes can understand all speech, but in the past, Raphtalia was troubled because she didn't speak the language of Demi-Humans.

In my world, I heard that the language barrier during the Meiji Restoration turned out to be quite troublesome too.

Because of that, Japan was tricked into signing an unfavorable treaty, or something. At least, according to history.

Was it Middle School, or High school? Where did I learn it? I don't really remember.

"Isn't it just a difference in their cultural sphere? They didn't expand, so they never met, or something?" (Naofumi)

"That is the current established theory. Anyways, both sides appeared in this world around the same time, and lived Neolithic lifestyles constantly fearing attacking monsters. In our country, Demi-Humans were categorized as monsters, and in theirs, Humans were treated similarly." (Queen)

Until they could come to understand one another, they each thought the other was a race of monsters. So they didn't include them in their stories. That sounds possible.

"But... the rest is just my speculation, so please wait a little bit for me to find concrete backing for it." (Queen)

"You've already made me curious. What is it?" (Naofumi)

"Even if you tell me that... just wait a while, okay?" (Queen)

I follow the Queen's eyes, and find that we're in front of the castle.
I guess we don't have the time for a long story.

"Then let's finish the entry procedures." (Naofumi)

The queen nods, and calls out to the gatekeeper.

"You're the Queen of Melromark, and the Heroes, correct? I've already heard... go ahead!"

We already declared we were coming, so the gatekeeper easily lets us through.

"...?"

Fohl looks over the scene, and tilts his head.

"What's wrong?" (Naofumi)

"No..." (Fohl)

I look back to the gatekeeper.

He's seeing us off with a smile? What's wrong with this scene?

"Is it my imagination? I sensed something was off somewhere." (Fohl)

"Really?" (Naofumi)

The keeper happily beckons us int.

I do find it suspicious, but if I'm too doubtful, I won't be able to get anything done.

The carriage enters the castle, and the gate closes behind us.

"Should we park Firo in the stables before we proceed?" (Naofumi)

"You can just leave the carriage in the courtyard."

"I see." (Naofumi)

We stop the carriage, and enter the interior of the palace.

Oh, it's grander than Melromark's, and it gives off more of a dignified feel.

The difference in the width of the passages is quite great.

It isn't this world's most powerful country for nothing...

A red carpet extends endlessly in every direction, and before us is a flight of stairs.

I feel we'll get lost if we stray.

There also seems to be a path to the basement, but I guess that one's to the dungeon.

Melromark has one too.

We're guided as a large group as we climb the castle.

"Oh, right. What sort of people are these Seven Stars?" (Naofumi)

I may be able to tell their personalities if I meet them, but I should at least know of their rumors.

It would have been best to ask earlier, but I don't have another chance anyways.

"Then shall I speak of the Hero of the Whip, the one who participated in the Kirin battle?" (Queen)

"Is the Whip from this world?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Queen)

The Queen starts explaining as we walk.

"First, the Hero of the Whip was born into this world a rare super geniuses."
(Queen)

"Born as a genius?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, around once per generation, special people come around who greatly reform this world's technology, commerce, magic, and many other fields."
(Queen)

"Hmm... what a peculiar phenomenon." (Naofumi)

"He was born into a noble family that served the Faubley royal family, and he managed to master the art of magic at the young age of three." (Queen)

... I guess geniuses exist in every world.

So someone like that was selected as a Hero.

Wait, wasn't Trash supposed to be some sort of master strategist in the past, or something?

Fohl is also... Among Demi-Humans, his battle prowess is top notch, and he's a member of one of the strongest Demi-Human races.

Is that sort of strength a criterion for selection?

"And when he was five, he reformed our process of making paper, and he rapidly revived the industry for book-making in this world." (Queen)

Five?

Well that's something.

... Itsuki matches the Queen's pace, and starts walking next to her.

Well Itsuki was born into an Esper world with half-assed abilities, so he may have a few things to say about a super genius.

"Because of his overwhelming talent, he was constantly surrounded by praise. At seven, it was alchemy. He absorbed the knowledge of mechanics, and various magical fields, he graduated at the top of Faubley's best academy, and left to be an adventurer. He quickly made his name as an S Rank, he won the martial arts tournament in Shield Frieden. Finally, just before the wave hit, he was selected as the Hero of the Whip." (Queen)

"A stereotypical genius, I guess." (Naofumi)

"Currently, he is researching transportation, I hear." (Queen)

The Queen points out of a window in the corridor.

Hmm? Something's flying this way.

I thought it was a dragon, or some sort of flying beast, but... is that an Airplane?

"He made that?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, a design left by past Heroes. A way to fly without using Dragons, Gryphons, or any sort of Magic. He's doing research to put that technology to practical use." (Queen)

Yep, that's a genius alright.

... What is this? For some reason, this sounds quite familiar.

But where did I hear it before?

I think it was a long time ago.

Even before I came to this world... no, that's impossible.

But still, I feel that someone told me something similar before.

Hmm...

I feel irritated, as if something were stuck in my teeth.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 312 – Stolen Power

---

“A genius, you say? I can’t say I like the sound of that.”

The Granny uses this opportunity to enter the conversation.

First Itsuki, and then this old woman. These people sure love listening in on other’s conversations.

But why does the Hengen Musou Granny hate geniuses?

“…Why?” (Naofumi)

“The Hengen Musou style was brought to ruin through internal discord caused by such a genius.” (Granny)

“Is that so?” (Naofumi)

“Yes. There was a certain talented individual who came under the impression that he was the one worthy of ruling the world, and our teachings forbid such ways of thought.” (Granny)

“Hmm…”

I guess you can find them everywhere.

This is a bit late, but are there any decent people in this world?

With the way things are going, I don’t have high expectations of the Whip Hero.

“It’s said that geniuses govern the prosperity and decay of civilization.

There’s always one or two present at the turning points of history. The Hero of the Whip has to shoulder everyone’s expectations and worry as he does his work.” (Queen)

And as we were talking, we reached the audience hall.

Is that pig king here?

I really don’t want to meet him, though.

Saying, ‘Oh, Hero of the Shield-san, we finally meet,’ he’d close in with his greasy body, and… I’m getting goosebumps.

... I turn my eyes to the throne, and see a young man I've never seen before sitting atop the throne. He has a crown on his head.

If I were to describe him in one word, I guess it would have to be 'Bishonen.' His face is well built. I think that his looks are in order, at least. His hair is gold, and his eyes are blue. He looks like a stereotypical foreigner, but... the impression his eyes give off is a little strange. It's unpleasant, or should I say, they're emitting a peculiar something that I haven't felt from anyone else in this world.

He closely resembles the old Motoyasu. Under his calm and refreshing atmosphere, I sense some deep ulterior motives.

And like that, he looks down on all of us. Something's pissing me off. I don't know what, but for some reason, my mind starts to wonder whether or not he's an enemy.

His clothing consists of a rough jacket and pants.

Since the city is quite modern, it doesn't seem too out of place, but isn't something off?

Under his crown is a bandana. It doesn't fit the look at all.

His hair is cut short.

"Good job leading them here."

"Sir!"

The soldiers who led us here close the door behind us.

I'm also reminded of the old Itsuki. Is it the look in the soldier's eyes...?

"Kyua?"

Gaelion, who's wrapped in Taniko's arms, lifts his head up and looks around.

"Hmm?"

At the same time, Firo tilts her head.

"If it isn't the Hero of the Whip, Tact-sama. Where is the king?" (Queen)

So his name's Tact?

This is the super genius... I can't judge him by his appearance.

I thought he would look more studious, but, he's without a doubt, a Bishonen.

"The King? Ah, that guy. Yeah, I already killed him." (Tact)

The Hero of the Whip speaks with a nonchalant tone.

Even the Queen loses her calm composure. Her face is colored with confusion.

"... Could it be that I misheard? Please repeat that." (Queen)

"That trash had no right to live, so I had him disappear from the world. The only thing he had going for him was his craftiness, so dealing with him was a bit of a challenge." (Tact)

On his words, everyone, including me, raises their guard.

"... An insurrection? This is the first I'm hearing of it, though." (Queen)

"Of course it is. I ordered the people of the castle into silence. And now, Melromark's Vixen, you're also not needed in this world!" (Tact)

Tact's hand lets out a strange light.

He's going to release something!

I immediately step in front of the Queen and hold up my Shield.

「Vanzin Claw」!

Claw!?

Yes, in Tact's hand, an ominous, black claw settles into place.

And a familiar light shoots out, collides with my Shield, and... pierces straight through it.

“Wha-”

It continued in a straight line through my left shoulder, and finally, it pierces through the Queen behind me.

Immediately following, an intense pain flows through my body, and blood flows out of my wound.

“Gu…”

Everything’s happening in slow motion. I turn my eyes to my Shield… and the Queen.

It seems his attack only hit the two of us.

–I perceive everything changing around me.

The first to move are Raphtalia, Fohl, and Female Knight. They concentrate Chi in their legs and run towards their enemy.

Next is Firo, Gaelion, and the Granny.

Finally, Raph-chan, Kiel, Sadina, and Taniko make their move.

Everyone enters a fighting stance.

The Granny lowers her hips, and Fohl follows suit.

Raph-chan rushes over to me.

The ones who are late to act are Ren, Motoyasu, Itsuki, and Rishia.

No, they prepared for battle at the same time as the Granny, but… the moment they saw the weapon in Tact’s hands, they froze.

“You–! You… Atlas–”

Tact dodges Fohl’s attack… no, before that, a blue shadow appears in front of Fohl, blocking him.

Standing there is a Demi-human woman. She seems to be a cross between a human and a Blue Oriental dragon.

Her hair color is blue, and it is long. Her eyes are amber, as if they are the incarnation of the harvest moon.

"Oh, what are you trying to do to Tact-sama?"

"That's right. What are you trying to do to our Tact?"

At the same time, in front of Raphtalia... a young girl with a fox-like tail stands with magic concentrated in both of her hands.

Her hair is black and glossy. Her clothes are that of a shrine maiden.

Her face did not lose to Raphtalia's despite her age.

"Hakuko brat."

"Aotatsu, move over!" (Fohl)

"Raccoon wench."

"You're in the way!" (Raphtalia)

"How rude are you being to the ones fighting for the world... base woman..."

Let's go, Raphtalia! We cannot allow such wickedness!" (Female Knight)

Raphtalia and Female Knight coordinate their attacks and let loose lightning-like swordplay.

"The place reeks of dog. Let's take them out quickly."

"Luka race... being on dry land like this must make you want to die."

Interrupting Kiel and Sadina's charge is a woman in a red hood, and a sharp-eyed woman with pointed teeth and ears that looked somewhat like the fins of a fish.

"What are you trying to do to Niichan!?" (Kiel)

"Ara..." (Sadina)

Trash embraces the fallen Queen and stares blankly into space.

"Ah..."

His shaking hands are stained with blood, but they maintain a firm grip on her.

“Anyone!? Someone, please cast healing magic on my wife! Quickly!”
(Trash)

Motoyasu’s three answer his call, and Midori starts chanting healing magic for me and the Queen.

“What are you doing all of a sudden!?”

Ren unsheathes his blade, Motoyasu begins casting a skill, and Itsuki pulls back his bow.

Since the situation came so suddenly, perhaps she was acting on pure instinct, but Risha threw her weapon at the curtain behind the throne, dividing the room.

I had found my hated enemy. My bloodlust begins to surge.

Injuries? Like I care.

I’m not going to fall here anyways.

I put my strength into my left foot, and forcefully raise my broken body. I glare at the bastard.

Him… because of him, Atlas… everyone…

I’ll kill him. I’ll definitely kill him!

Wrath Shield III has evolved!

It has changed to the Wrath Shield IV!

Wrath Shield IV has evolved!

It has changed to the Wrath Shield V!

Because of the Shield of Compassion, I can’t change my Shield to Wrath, but… To hell with compassion. I’ll change it anyways!

Even if it costs me my life, I’ll take out that man.

Wrath…

W-what? System Warning?

The Shield Icon seems to be getting smaller…

Ping!

A high pitched sound rings out, and... cracks spread across the Shield. The Shield attached permanently to my arm falls to pieces.

"What!?"

Isn't the Legendary Shield impossible to break!?

But more importantly, that man succeeded in breaking through my defenses and attacking the Queen behind me.

Just who the hell is he!?

My Shield withstood even Houou's flames, but he easily pierced it!

"Ah... the Shield, is it? I really don't need it, but I guess having it is better than not." (Tact)

"What are you..."

I prevent myself from toppling over, and cast healing on myself.

「Zweit Heal!」

It starts taking effect immediately.

But, it won't recover my lost blood.

"Naofumi-sama!? Are you alright!?" (Raphtalia)

"Don't mind it! More importantly, that guy is Atlas's killer! Kill him!"
(Naofumi)

I give an order with an angry voice.

Right.

That guy. The attack he used was without a doubt, the flash that took out Houou.

Its output was quite something, and as I look behind me, I see that it burned a hole through the door and continued to precede forward.

"Understood, Niichan!"

Kiel changes to her dog form and rushes at Tact.

But Itsuki stops him.

"Wait!" (Itsuki)

Itsuki grabs her by the scruff of the neck and holds her up.

"What are you doing!?" (Kiel)

"He was able to pierce through Naofumi-san's shield. If you attack him carelessly, you'll be taken out immediately! And with him being the Hero of the Whip, aren't you wondering how he pulled out the Claw!? Think before you act!" (Itsuki)

No, I know that.

I take one step forward.

But I can't get any power into my body.

I look at my wound.

I already cast healing magic, but it's not healing at all.

Why!?

Move. Move, and kill that guy.

"Ah, I thought you were all nothing but trash, so I thought to eliminate you all by exploding the bird, but I'm surprised you all survived. But, well, you were able to grant me some power, so I guess this outcome works too."

(Tact)

"Cut the crap!" (Fohl)

Fohl puts the Aotatsu woman into a judo lock, kicks off of the ground, and flies at Tact.

"Oh, my. Did you think that's enough to beat me? I sure am being underestimated here." (Tact)

"Acho!" (Granny)

At the same time, the Granny's chi is sent flying at Tact.

He easily dodges and raises his hand. And a new enemy emerges from the curtain Rishia threw her weapon at.

The hidden women take out what seem to be assault rifles and point them here.

Oy... guns are dependent on Status, right?

「Meteor Shield」!

I swiftly deploy my useful Meteor Shield.

But nothing happens. Nothing changes.

「Hundred Sword」!

「Brionac」!

「Piercing Shot」!

「Erst Throw」!

The heroes counteract with their skills, but...

“What? Shield... Prison?”

A large cage appears around Tact and blocks everyone's attacks.

“Wha-”

「High Quick」!

「High Quick」!

A large shadow appears from behind the curtain and runs at Firo.

Something collides with her at high speed.

「Fire Breath」!

「KYUA」!

「Freeze Breath」!

Gaelion and Taniko also try casting their breath, but just as with Firo, something behind the curtain neutralizes their attack.

"I won't let you get in Tact's way."

A Gryphon shouts out in human tongue and grapples with Firo.
A woman with a dragon's tail and wings, with large breasts like Rat and a pipe in hand, comes out and opposes Gaelion and Taniko.
It appears that she's the one who used Freeze Breath earlier.

"Right. I don't like you, but I agree."

"KYUA!"

The lizard woman who spewed out a breath lets out killing intent from every pore in her body and glares at Gaelion.

"Hmm. You're also a Dragon Emperor... then I can't really let you go here."

And my hated enemy, Tact, calls out to his female army.

"Everyone, don't kill the women and children. They're just being used, you see." (Tact)

"Don't make light of us, we understand."

"Yes, if they come to know Tact, they'll understand."

"Fire———!"

The gun-toting women pull their triggers at us.

Gunshots ring through the air.

Gu... ga... uu...

"Gu... ugu..."

"Ga... agu!"

"Ow..."

My body was pierced from every angle.

Why!?

I'm supposed to have the highest defense, so why am I taking this much damage?

"How does it taste? The assault of an army with the minimum level of 250?"
(Tact)

What... 250!?

So he even knows how to break the level limit.

No wonder he was able to easily take out Kirin.

He's essentially twice me... no, he said that was the minimum.

He probably has three times my level.

Motoyasu's three stood in front of Trash and the Queen, so they didn't take any damage, but everyone else is ridden with bullet holes.

Even Ren, Itsuki and Motoyasu have taken great damage.

But as he said, the women and children... Raphtalia, Rishia, Female Knight, and Taniko, aren't that greatly injured.

You hypocrite!

You're going to slaughter the men, leave the women, and conveniently act like the gentle protagonist, aren't you.

At the moment, Fohl, Firo, Gaelion, Sadina, the Three Filo Rials, and the Granny have taken heavy gun damage.

Kiel, who's currently a dog, and who looked like a man beforehand anyways, is also included in the count.

I remember this style of fighting.

Before he became strange... I remember Motoyasu, when he had his ulterior motives clearly displayed on his face.

And everyone here's asserting themselves as if they believe their actions are in the right.

Of course, they're mainly targeting us heroes.

But perhaps that's for the best.

If everyone were dealt that sort of damage, they would have died had they not been heroes.

Even so, this is bad... we'll all die at this rate.

Is my Shield gone? Broken?

And Ren, Itsuki, and Motoyasu have four methods of strengthening here.

Normal attacks shouldn't bother them at all!

Tact looks at me and gives a broad grin.

"It's just that your levels are all way too low. Just quietly get beaten by the level 350 me." (Tact)

"N-Naofumi-sama, look!" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia points to Tact with her shaking hand.

I lose my voice.

On Tact's arm is... a very familiar Shield.

"Ah, you'll probably hate dying with all of these questions on your mind, so I'll tell you. I have the power to steal the power of the legendary weapons."
(Tact)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 313 – Retreat

---

“What!?”

The power to steal… Legendary Weapons!?

What’s with that abnormal ability?

Wait a second.

The Hero of the Whip has the Claw because… he stole it?

“Yeah, the guy who called himself the Hero of the Claw had a rotten personality, so I already sent him to hell.” (Tact)

Again, Tact said it as if it were a matter of course.

Dead?

If you kill a hero, isn’t the world supposed to be in trouble… So this is why the wave came so fast!?

No, it isn’t just the Hero of the Whip.

Perhaps the same became of all the Seven Star Heroes we can’t come into contact with.

I don’t know when they were killed, but we haven’t heard anything of them in the past two months.

So that means that the Seven Stars have been dead for a few months…

“And, all of the heroes always have totally twisted personalities, you know. They never listen to what I’m trying to say.” (Tact)

Who would want to listen to a guy like this?

I sure as hell wouldn’t!

Anger is clouding the thoughts in my head.

Each and every one of them. Are all of the bastards that get selected as heroes people like this!?

"I'm going to be saving the world here, so all you guys have to do is die and hand over your weapons." (Tact)

"As expected of Tact-sama. You plan on saving the legendary weapons from the clutches of those vile heroes over there."

"What!?"

Upon hearing that voice, all of my comrades let out their voices before going silent.

Even Trash.

"H-how... Why are you here!? Aren't you supposed to be dead!?" (Naofumi)

Witch, whom we had presumed dead, showed herself from behind a pillar. She leans her body against my hated enemy and looks down at us as if she were looking down at piles of trash.

"And as you can see, I'm obviously not dead, Shield." (Witch)

I can't believe what I'm seeing.

She truly should have been dead.

In the frozen casket Faubley sent back, her corpse was definitely there.

And her death snuff tape couldn't have been faked.

"On my face, and my body. I won't forgive you for giving me these wounds. I'll give you a slow death after making you experience a world of pain! Right, Tact-sama?" (Witch)

There is a scar on her arm, as if it had been rejoined at the joint. Over one of her eyes hangs an eyepatch.

There's a similar mark on her leg.

If my memory serves me well, those are definitely the places the Pig King severed.

So how is she alive!?

... Alchemy?

I heard that the Hero of the Whip also partook in that.

I see. The Hero who reported Rat was probably him.

In the past, I've heard Rat speak about homunculi.

But creating a fake that is indistinguishable from the real article is ridiculously difficult. When did they have a chance to swap them out?

No, more importantly, Witch is alive. That's all I have to know.

Hero of the Whip... Genius. Head of his class. Faubley's academy. Witch's loss of virginity...

I see. So that's where he comes into play. (TL: I wonder if you all remember that)

Someone who I can't let live- Witch... And Atlas's murderer, Tact.

Even though my Shield's been stolen, an unquenchable rage sears through my body.

It's not related to the Curse of Wrath.

I just hate him. I just want to kill him.

"Yeah, the one who sent Malty to that pig must be quite a villain. If it's her fault that a lot of people died, then she'll have to make up for it with her life. But I'll make sure to put her through a world of pain first!" (Tact)

"And that's how it is, Mama. How dare you sell me to that Pig King. Now die for your sins. Papa shares the crime too." (Bitch)

"M-Malty..." (Trash)

Trash holds the Queen in his arms and stares in silence. His eyes are full of disbelief. He opens his mouth again and again, but no words come out.

Tact turns his Claws to Fohl, who was nearby, and thrusts.

"As if an attack like that will-!?" (Fohl)

He's fast!

Fohl's only become a Hero recently.

He can't follow those movements.

But Fohl emerges without a scratch.

"Hmm? If I have this shield out, my attack power disappears. How useless."
(Tact)

He makes the Shield disappear, and equips a claw on one hand and a small dagger on the other.

The dagger greatly resembles the one Rishia holds.

So that's how it is.

Rishia's mysterious weapon... No, the reason why her Seven Star Weapon is translucent is because its wielder was killed, and its powers were stolen. And the weapon itself doesn't accept Tact as its wielder. Perhaps it selected Rishia to rebel against him.

「Erst Throw」!

With a throwing motion, Tact embeds the dagger in Ren's shoulder. It seems that Ren won't be able to use his sword anymore.

"Gu!"

"Don't try anything funny. When you think about Heroes, it's gotta be swords, right? Hand it over already." (Tact)

We've already suffered heavy damage from gunfire. We're at an extreme disadvantage.

I can't let him take the other legendary weapons too.

My body won't move, but I strain every muscle in my body. I fill myself with killing intent

I won't let him take anything else from me!

"Go to hell!" (Naofumi)

I forcefully encircle my body with chi and magic. I use every bit of power I have left and kick the ground.
Just a second is enough.
Enough time for everyone to run…!

“Wha-”

Tact blocked the unexpected attack by materializing his stolen shield.
My fist impacts his body.

“Hah, how weak. Gufu!?” (Tact)

My magic and chi explode within his body, and he spits up blood as he’s sent flying all the way behind the throne.

“Tact!?”

The gun-toting women all turn their eyes to him, creating a large chance.
And the heroes don’t miss it.

“Now! 「Flashing Sword」!” (Ren)
「Shining Lance」!
「Flash Arrow」!

They let out their flashing skills to blind the remaining women.

“What are you doing!? Hurry up and shoot those guys to death!” (Bitch)

Witch screams out, but Ren had already kicked down the door.

“「Transfer Sword」! … As I thought, it’s no good.” (Ren)
「All Dreifach Heal」!

Through healing magic, the people who had been immobilized through injury somehow find the strength to escape into the castle.

Ren and Motoyasu lead the way, while Granny and Raphtalia keep the rear. Anyways, everyone got over their injuries, but that doesn't mean they recovered their energy.

The Queen's wounds are the deepest.

The clothes she was wearing have turned black from the oxidized blood covering them.

If we don't do something fast, we won't make it.

And I can say the same about myself.

My head is spinning from the pain.

I don't know why healing magic won't work on me.

It's a miracle I was even able to stand back there..

"Remillia! Stay with me!" (Trash)

Trash calls out to the Queen. He holds her on his back as he runs behind me.

"Naofumi-sama!" (Raphtalia)

"Niichan! Keep yourself together!" (Kiel)

I'm slumped over on Firo's back.

My body won't move at all.

The Shield's Icon has long since vanished from my vision.

"Naofumi-san, do you understand? Your anger is completely justified, but shall we not retreat for now?" (Itsuki)

Itsuki quietly orders me.

He's right.

If we fight in an enemy fortress where we don't know who's waiting to ambush us, the other heroes will have their weapons taken.

And what the hell is with his Cheat?

“Itsuki-sama?” (Ren)

“... Yes, let’s quickly retreat from here. Ren-san, how is it? Do you think you can at least transfer the Queen and Naofumi-san somewhere safe?”
(Itsuki)

“It’s impossible... My Transfer Sword won’t activate. Something’s interfering with it.” (Ren)

“KYUA!”

As if telling us to leave it to him, Gaelion chants magic.

It’s Dragon Sanctuary.

They’ve probably cast a magic similar to that on this castle.

In the past, Firo and Gaelion fought for turf, and when their fields clashed, they were both nullified.

『KYUAAA』!

I feel something pass through my body.

“I’m not letting you get away!”

I hear a voice from further down the hallway.

「Dragon Sanctuary」!

Ku... as I thought, that Lizard Woman was a dragon.

And she said she was an emperor like Gaelion.

“Fi...ro” (Naofumi)

I desperately let out my voice, and call out to Firo.

“Leave it to me.” (Firo)

Firo keeps running as she begins casting magic as well.

「Sanctuary」! (Firo)

“Nope, 「Bird Sanctuary」!”

Ku… the Gryphon-like one chants too.

The moment one’s nullified, another is deployed.

There’s no way we can use it.

If we do get to Portal, well need to select the members to evacuate as well.

In the brief moment when the field is nullified, it’ll be hard to use the skill.

The front line is also starting to get noisy.

We’re met by soldiers ahead.

「Gravity Blade」!

「Brionac」!

「Piercing Shot」!

By the sound of it, the standard soldiers aren’t particularly strong.

It seems that only a fraction of their forces have broken the level cap.

It’s safe to assume that all the women we met in that area have received the ability to do so.

But the support fire coming at us from the rear is troublesome.

“Acho!”

“Hah!”

“Tei!”

The Granny, Raphtalia, and Fohl concentrate their chi on a single point and stop the bullets in midair. But, it seems that it drains a lot of stamina.

“Again.” (Taniko)

Taniko rides on Gaelion and assists him in casting a spell.

It seems that Sadina is helping as well.

“Uu… Woof!” (Kiel)

Kiel changes to Kielberus and bites at the soldiers up front.

But it seems the soldiers aren't to be laughed at. Or maybe it's because My Shield was stolen. Anyways, she's not able to inflict any serious injuries.

Because the Shield's gone, the Ability Correction skill isn't in effect.

And because of that, Faubley's soldiers won't fall so easily...?

No, even if there's something rotten in Faubley, it's the most powerful country. They're probably elite soldiers with relatively high levels.

We can't crush them one-sidedly.

Luckily, they're much weaker than Tact's harem.

They're at most level 100.

Of course, those women are coming at us from behind as well.

If Tact uses that skill that breached through my defenses, we won't get away unharmed.

I think it's probably on cooldown, or perhaps he doesn't want to damage his own castle too much.

"Have you dispelled their anti-teleport field yet!?" (Ren)

"I'm trying!" (Firo)

Firo impatiently answers

"Ren, don't worry about us! Anything is better than letting those fiends get their hands on another legendary weapon! Just think about yourself and run!" (Female Knight)

"As if I could do that!" (Ren)

Ren quickly refutes Female Knight's words.

Damn... If we can't teleport, I guess we get irritated.

I can't move, and my consciousness is hazy, so I can only think and observe.

“If we could just get outside, we could escape on Gaelion, but…” (Itsuki)

“They probably have something ready to intercept us.” (Ren)

“Father-in-Law!” (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu runs up to my bloodstained body.

If you have time to talk to me, go fight!

We continue our escape, but soldiers block our path, and eventually, we’re led to a dead end.

「Meteor Sword」!

We break the wall, and run down the corridor beyond.

Ren’s ability to take action is worthy of praise.

“Leave the rear guard to me. Saint-sama, quickly run away!” (Granny)

Granny takes Raphtalia, Fohl, and Female Knight. In order to stop those pursuing us, they stay behind.

“No…” (Naofumi)

I reach out my hand.

That role is the one I’m supposed to be filling.

“Naofumi-sama, leave it to me!” (Raphtalia)

But as if they had expected this, the ones who kinda stood out—the red hooded woman, and the Aotatsu woman—are standing in front of us.

“As Tact-sama said, you came here.”

“Ku…”

As I look around, I see more of the people who were around the throne.

“Kyua!”

Gaelion deploys his second sanctuary.

“It’s useless.”

The enemy Dragon merely deploys her’s too.

It’ll just be an infinite loop.

Even so, we’ll have to teleport if we want any hope of escape.

The castle is crawling with enemy forces, and even if we reach the gate, this is their country… the civilians may even raise their arms against us.

If it was me, that’s what I would do.

Regardless of where we go, the Hero of the Whip is sure to follow.

Since we’ve already suffered injury and loss, we have no way to defend ourselves.

「Sanctuary」!

「Bird Sanctuary」!

“Bu-!” (Firo)

Firo stomps her foot, and impatiently cries out.

「I who… source… gufu」

I try to chant magic, but the wounds from Tact are deep, and I can’t concentrate.

That attack… no, that weapon must be cursed.

My wounds won’t heal with magic.

As if he cast a negative status effect, I can’t hold onto my conscience.

“Master!” (Firo)

Firo calls out to me, who had just failed in casting magic.

I can hear Tact shouting from the rear, where Raphtalia and the Granny are fighting.

"Just give up already, you trash." (Tact)

"Ku... who the hell would give up! You were tempted by that Witch, you intentionally stepped into our fight with Houou, and everyone... You even killed the Seven Star Heroes!" (Ren)

Ren prepares himself to bear the brunt of Tact's advance and declares as such.

"No matter what, the ones who handed Malty to that pig and revived the Spirit Turtle have no Justice. Just lay down quietly and die!" (Tact)

Tact readies his claw to strike, and...

"RAFU~~~~~!" (Raph-chan)

I feel the anti-teleport field dispel all at once.

Raph-chan's tail expands greatly, and she releases magic.

"Wha-"

The unexpected development creates an opening.

They probably thought that since Firo and Gaelion had already deployed their sanctuaries, they would be safe for a while.

But Raph-chan was an anomaly. Because of him, the heroes were able to use their transfer skills.

"Now!"

Ren, Motoyasu, and Itsuki clench their weapons and chant their skills.

「Transfer Sword」!

「Portal Spear」!

「Transfer Bow」!

"You're not going anywhere!" (Tact)

Tact finally takes out a whip.

And he swings it at Granny, Raphtalia, and Fohl, who were in the rear.

「Bind Whip」!

The whip expands as if it were a live snake. It thrusts forwards as if to intertwine itself around Fohl.

“I won’t let you!” (Raphtalia)

Sword meets Whip. Raphtalia halts the Whip’s advance.

“Firo, Fohl-kun, Eclair-san.” (Raphtalia)

“Aneki…” (Fohl)

“Raphtalia…” (Female Knight)

“If something happens to me… I leave Naofumi-sama to you.” (Raphtalia)

Yes, as if she was fully aware of her fate, Raphtalia speaks to Fohl. She smiles at me, who can do nothing but watch.

“Ra…ph…a”

When I try to speak, I hear an ominous sound from my lungs.

Move. Or else… I don’t want to lose anything else! Quickly, dammit!

“There’s no need for that, Saint-sama!” (Granny)

“Eh?”

The Granny kicks Raphtalia away, and sends her flying at me.

Raphtalia rolls on the ground dumbfounded.

“Run away quickly!” (Granny)

“But we don’t know if the Transfer will-” (Ren)

“If you don’t do anything, you’ll all die! Now, quickly!” (Granny)

Ren quickly nods at the Granny's words, and activates his skill.

"Saint-sama... I'm leaving the world, and everyone, to you and my disciples!" (Granny)

"W-what are..."

"My style existed to make one stronger and to punish evil. Even if my body were to crumble, as long as I know there are ones to carry it on, then my life was not wasted!" (Granny)

She declares that as she runs in the opposite direction from us.

"MASTEEEEEEER!"

Raphtalia, and Rishia, Female Knight, and Fohl's screams echoed.

After that, the scenery in front of my eyes changes, and at the same time, for me, the world gets darker and farther away.

I bet the transfer was successful.

The same goes for Motoyasu and Itsuki.

But... The Granny didn't come with us. We were only able to confirm that after we warped away...

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 314 – Will

---

My body's light, it feels as if I'm floating.

I shouldn't even be here. But the various events, and the actions of various people. I saw it.

Through Ren's portal, me and the Queen were sent to Melromark. And we were immediately rushed to the largest medical facility there.

Both of our wounds are serious, and our consciousness faint.

I'm hurt so seriously that if I were to merely look at myself, I wouldn't be able to bear it.

"This is terrible... a severe curse has been inflicted. Start the preparations for the ritual magic!"

A healer shouts out, and priests were called from the Four Hero Church. They're probably going to attempt everything they can.

"Please get a hold of yourself, Naofumi-sama!"

"Yeah, Aniki!"

"Master!"

"Rafu~"

Having had their wounds fully healed, the other heroes, Taniko, Sadina, and Kiel are resting in another room.

Good. Their injuries are comparatively light.

At this rate, they should be able to move around just fine.

"We'll be starting treatment now. Everyone else should rest and heal their wounds as well."

Raphtalia, Firo and Fohl kept on calling out to me until the end.

And I was once again shrouded in darkness.

What I saw next was the Queen and Trash.

Her wounds were severe, and everyone could plainly see the god of death lingering over her.

“...Goho!” (TL: Coughing sound)

Trash’s hand trembles as he grasps the Queen’s hand, and prays.

Luckily, he had escaped without injury, so he was permitted to stay with her.

“We’ll begin administering the Yggdrasil extract. We’ll simultaneously use our highest forms of healing magic, and our highest class of holy water. On top of that, ritual magic...”

The Healer gives out directions like a doctor as he begins casting healing magic on her wounds.

She’s undergoing extensive, heavy treatment.

But nothing seems to be eliciting any reaction from her.

“What a curse... It’s comparable to the one cast on the Hero of the Shield-sama over there.”

“Mirellia.” (Trash)

As if she was reacting to Trash’s words, the Queen slowly opened her eyes, and looked at him.

“Your voice... your exchange... I heard it.” (Queen)

“You can’t speak right now, Queen-sama!”

The healer warns her as he continues the treatment.

But the Queen slowly lays her head sideways, and answers.

“I know... there’s nothing you can do to prolong my life, right?” (Queen)

“T-that is...”

The healer stumbles over his words, before he glares at Trash, and stands back.

"What are you doing!? The one you're treating is the Queen of this country! If you call yourself a healer, then you have to put your life on the line, and heal her no matter what!" (Trash)

"You can't... give your people impossible orders, dear." (Queen)

The Queen weakly warns him.

It feels weird for me to come to an understanding with Trash, but I could empathize with him.

The situation was similar to how I lost Atlas.

The sadness of losing one dear.

The despair felt in one's own incompetence.

The hatred felt against the cause.

All of those mix together, and make it so you can't think anything anymore.

"B-but..." (Trash)

"This is... perhaps it's heavenly retribution. My ineptitude... caused me to sacrifice my own daughter. My obsession with protecting this country, the world..." (Queen)

"Wrong! That's definitely wrong!" (Trash)

Trash desperately refutes the Queen's words.

"... Is that true? I get the feeling that it's all my fault. My daughter... Malty grew to be such a child, because she emulated my own incompetence. Because of my lukewarm decisions, everything... turned out like this." (Queen)

"That is... me... my..." (Trash)

Perhaps Trash is blaming himself for the loss of the Queen. His voice shakes. But the Queen speaks to him once more.

"Likely, the Hero of the Whip... no, invaders will come and invade this country." (Queen)

"..." (Trash)

"Right now, Melromark is in a dire situation. Luckily, Iwatani-sama and the heroes, as well as their comrades are here." (Queen)

"Then, the Hero of the Shield is...!" (Trash)

"You... realize it already, don't you? Throw away your past grudges; you have to move forward." (Queen)

A trickle of tears runs down Trash's face.

He acts the same as I did when I wished, and Fohl did when he prayed. I don't know what he's asking god for, but I felt something warm, as if I could hold it in my hand.

"Lucia... Mirellia..." (Trash)

And he lightly calls Atlas's name as well.

"If it was the Wise King of Melromark... if it was Luge Lanceroise, then our hopes would be answered." (Queen)

"But... the Cane no longer answers to my call...!" (Trash)

"You're wrong. The cane lent you power, not because you were a Hero. It was because you were different from the rest. More courageous than them all, and much wiser." (Queen)

"..." (Trash)

"I believe. To turn around this disadvantageous situation... to save Melromark from its imminent collapse, we need your..." (Queen)

"I am... I am..." (Trash)

"Fufu... you have so many pieces this time around. Now what move will the Wise King make to surprise me today?" (Queen)

"... Mirellia." (Trash)

"Let me entrust this country's future to you. Please save the world... with Iwatani-sama. As the Hero of the Cane, and as my beloved..." (Queen)

Blood runs down her mouth as she smiles at Trash.

"You used your resourcefulness to make your enemies dance. You put awe into the hearts of all that opposed you... Go let the world know your name..." (Queen)

At the same time... the Queen ran out of whatever energy she had left.

"Queen-sama!"

The door slammed open, and a country leader came in.

"Faublely has declared war on the entire world! Under the creed of uniting the world as one under their flag."

The situation... Came faster than Trash expected. And people were already pleading to him for answers.

The next time scene I saw was two days later.

"Why the hell is Faublely messing around with World Domination at a time like this!?"

Having finished treatment, Ren and the others arrived at the castle participated in an allied army meeting, and shouted out upon hearing the information.

Everyone present's face is dark.

The country of Faublely's military might was just that high.

And they have individuals of triple our level. We knew their power first hand. It's not like the army didn't want to stop them, they just didn't have the means.

"They've sure done it. That cowardly Hero... When the waves going on, does he seriously believe he has the time to go around conquering the world!?" (Ren)

“... No, I actually think he does.” (Itsuki)

“He hurt Father-in-Law and Firo-tan, and on top of that, he hurt everyone else. I definitely won’t forgive him!” (Motoyasu)

The army is in agreement with the three Heroes’ words.

The events that transpired in Faubley were relayed to all.

Those from Silt Welt are also present.

That Genmu guy, and the Shusaku as well.

“Naofumi’s being treated... and we’re going to war with Faubley...” (Ren)

“Yes. Right now, Faubley is mobilizing their entire army. The first place they’ll attack is Melromark, then they’ll move on to my country. The countries on the way will be forced to submit to its might...Due to bombardments from their new weapon, the ‘Airplane’, many have already raised a white flag.”

“Is there a reason why they have admitted defeat so quickly?”

“Yes. They tried engaging them in dogfights with flying monsters, but they didn’t have the means to counterattack...”

“Meaning the people riding the planes must be of quite a high level.”

(Itsuki)

“Fuee...” (Rishia)

As Rishia lets out her speech habit, Itsuki starts patting her head.

Ren bangs his hand on the table.

“Naofumi’s wounds were severe... how is he doing?” (Ren)

“It’s not looking favorable. We’ve repeatedly tried extensive treatment on him, but...”

“Naofumi-san...” (Itauki)

“That Tact bastard, just who is he!? How does he have the ability to steal legendary weapons?” (Ren)

Just as Ren was complaining.

A soldier ran into the meeting room.

"New information! Shield Freiden has formed an alliance with Fauble!"

"What!?"

"And the Seven Star Hero, Tact Althaulan Fauble, proclaimed to his people that he was a child of god. That his possession of numerous legendary weapons proved his own divinity!"

The people taking part in the meeting stood up from their seats. There are expressions of shock all around.

It was quite a safe measure for him to take.

Showing his possession of many of the weapons of heroes would either prove that he went against god, or that god loved him.

Since Divine Weapon worship is prevalent in this world, he'll be treated as a special existence regardless.

Even if he's the one who killed the heroes.

"What's more, he stated he would be the one to save the world, the four summoned were evil imposters, and that he would use all his might to destroy them. Also, that he had already purged four of the 'Evil' Seven Star Heroes. He declared it to many of the world's nations!"

"Does he think he'll get away with spouting such nonsense!?"

"The upper echelon of Fauble's Church accepted his statements, but the ones on the outskirts of the country faced numerous rebellions. But those that received his power already went to subjugate and quell the revolts. It seems he made quite a bit of preparations beforehand."

At the same time, a Shadow-like person appears, and whispers into the Genmu's ears.

I bet it isn't anything good.

"... My country is also divided on which side to join." (Genmu)

The situation is... taking a bad turn.

"What does the Hero of the Gauntlet think of this?" (Genmu)

Though they weren't really acquaintances, even Fohl could understand that it had to do with his origin. That it would affect his fate.

"Should I answer as a member of the Hakuko Race? Or would you prefer me be the Hero of the Gauntlet?" (Fohl)

"You are not a pure-blood Demi-Human. I'm asking you as a subordinate of the Shield, and as a Hero. Or will you stand by my country as the descendent of Tai Ran Ga Feon?" (Genmu)

Fohl shakes his head.

And he gives words filled with certainty.

"I am the Hero of the Gauntlet, the protector of the village built by the Hero of the Shield. Lineage is of no importance to me, and I don't plan on doing anything foolish by throwing around my grandfather's name." (Fohl)

"Of course. No matter what fate awaits you, my dear, Demi-Humans will always stand by the true Hero of the Shield. Blood has nothing to do with it!" (Genmu)

The Genmu Old Man looks to Fohl with blazing eyes.

"That spirit is enough for me to ascertain your standing. It is my belief that we of Silt Welt should be lending you our power." (Genmu)

His words were continued by the Shusaku.

"Yes! The Hero-Dono shed tears at the loss of our comrades, and displayed his anger for our cause. Our pride, and our faith will not allow us to side with the one who caused the calamity that claimed the lives of many of our people. It would pollute the name of our entire race!" (Shusaku)

All the Demi-Humans present nod.

There's no way they would permit it.

He's the root of evil that killed the ones they fought alongside.

I'm not the only one wishing for vengeance.

For all that fell against Houou, there's no way we can forgive him/

That will remained in everyone's hearts

"..."

Fohl merely quietly gazed over the meeting.

According to the Genmu, his calm composure... overlapped with that of his grandfather.

"Now, what move should we make... Wise King of Melromark? We've already decided the path we must tread. How will you act on your beloved wife's dying will?" (Genmu)

"..."

Trash remains quiet, with a strained expression on his face.

"In the first place. From his personal history isn't there... isn't something off? Just how much of a genius is he? Airplanes and Bombs... it's as if he's a soldier from our world." (Ren)

Ren voices his complaints to the meeting hall.

And Itsuki quietly raises his hand.

"What's up?" (Ren)

"This is just a hypothesis, but may I continue?" (Itsuki)

"Yeah." (Ren)

"Ren-san, upon hearing his history, you didn't notice it? No, perhaps you did, but you just weren't able to piece it together." (Itsuki)

"What?" (Ren)

"What about you, Motoyasu-san?" (Itsuki)

"What could you be talking about?" (Motoyasu)

Itsuki takes a deep breath, and and continues.

“... Most likely, it exists in both of your worlds, if you search for it. It’s a common story.” (Itsuki)

Ren and Motoyasu tilt their heads.

“Naofumi-san seemed to have a vague idea, so it’s probably right.” (Itsuki)

“What is it? Just say it already.” (Ren)

Well, it’s not like I was oblivious.

But because I was sure that this wasn’t the world of Manga and Games, I didn’t want to deny the man’s personal effort.

But this incident was just too much.

Assault Rifles.

Planes.

Mastering magic at three.

All of his actions point to a single possibility.

Right, he’s...

“Yes. Most likely, that Tact, the Hero born of this world, was... reincarnated. He’s an otherworlder who was reborn into this world with his memories intact. At least, that’s my theory.” (Itsuki)

“Reincarnation... that thing? Samsara? The cycle of life?” (Ren)

“Yes. There are a few novels about that in my world.” (Itsuki)

“I really only play games, so... I may have read one or two, but I don’t really remember. The only thing I remember is that Game Over = Death, and respawn. With this being a world close to that of a game, it didn’t cross my mind.” (Ren)

“Oh, oh, me too!” (Motoyasu)

Ren and Motoyasu start thinking over the concept of Reincarnation.

I don’t know of the affairs of their worlds, but I’ve read books about that.

A reincarnated protagonist is born into a world of magic... a fantasy world just like this one.

And he becomes immersed in a world far off from the reality he knew.

This time, I'll do it right. I'll get status, and money, and women. I'll get everything.

"So I confirmed it. In books of that genre, the first things most protagonists do is learn magic at a young age, and get higher marks than other people. Also things like using modern knowledge to invent, and other stuff that stands out." (Itsuki)

"Something like that... I have a feeling I've heard about it before. One of my friends on the net spoke fervently about it." (Ren)

"Right. I don't think we'll be able to get any definite proof from the individual, but something dubious is oozing out of his story." (Itsuki)

"That means that he was summoned from another world, like us?" (Ren)

"It's a possibility, but... what he plans to do, what he's thinking. Do you think you can understand a little more of it now, Ren-san?" (Itsuki)

Ren crosses his arms, and starts thinking.

"He's thinking like I did before I broke the Spirit Turtle's seal." (Ren)

"I don't look back to the past! I'm buried in my memories of Firo-tan!" (Motoyasu)

"... Someone get Motoyasu-san out of here. He's in the way." (Itsuki)

"Yes!" (Three)

"Ah, Kuu-san, Marin-san, and Midori-san, was it? I'll leave it to you. Go keep him busy for a while, you can even go play. I'll personally explain it to Naofumi-san later." (Itsuki)

"Got it!" (Three)

"Nwah! My angels! Where do you plan on taking me!?" (Motoyasu)

And, carrying Motoyasu, the Three Filo Rials left the meeting hall.
I have no idea why they were there in the first place.

"To summarize, he's thinking like the old us... that the monarchy of this world was corrupt, and had to be destroyed." (Ren)

"Yes, then things start to make sense." (Itsuki)

"Then what's that power he has to steal legendary weapons?" (Ren)

"Perhaps it's an ESPer ability like one from my world. A power like that wasn't uncommon in books from my world. Something like stealing the power of others to strengthen yourself." (Itsuki)

"I see. If Itsuki says it, then it's a possibility." (Ren)

"The reason his power didn't become famous must be because he kept it hidden, and he didn't use it in front of others. Like how I acted before." (Itsuki)

With a bitter expression, Itsuki started explaining to Ren.

I guess that's possible.

Even in things I've read, when protagonists are granted too great of a power, they usually live while hiding it.

Usually, it gets exposed due to various unfortunate incidents, but Itsuki is living proof that it's possible.

"Having it known that he could steal legendary weapons would greatly hinder his actions. But now that the die's already been cast, he's using it to its full extent... I guess." (Itsuki)

"The fact that all of his comrades are women kinda reminds me of the past Motoyasu, too. So things have come together. I see." (Ren)

Ren nods, as if his questions were all answered.

In contrast, Itsuki seems to be lost in thought.

"What's strange is the lack of information... it's odd... No, we need to decide what to do now. In our fight with Faubley..." (Itsuki)

And the meeting continued.

And my dislodged conscience floated elsewhere once more.

Now I'm not anywhere. An empty space of flickering lights, looping in an endless pattern.

In that space, was me, and ____...

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 315 – Spirit

---

Where am I?

I understand that someone had appeared to explain why I had seen those scenes before my eyes.

But upon seeing the form of my benefactor, I was at a loss for words.

“Atlas…?” (Naofumi)

“Yes.” (Atlas)

The Dead Atlas was floating in the air in front of me.

I needed to… confirm whether she was real or not, so I hugged her.

“Ah… my ambition… my life’s goal…” (Atlas)

Yep, it’s the real one.

Even so, even death didn’t change her.

No, perhaps she’s an illusion created from my memory.

“Is this the afterlife, or something?” (Naofumi)

“Naofumi-sama, hug me more.” (Atlas)

“Enough of that. Please tell me!” (Naofumi)

Maybe my soul wandered around, and saw those dialogues.

I still feel that I haven’t died, but my injuries may have rendered my brain-dead, or something.

How unpleasant. I left the world a loser.

To finally die after being beaten to this extent isn’t something I wish for.

I thought I was surely bound for hell with my lifestyle, but is this really all there is to the world of the dead?

This strange space can’t be heaven.

"About your question as to whether this is the underworld. To put it frankly, it's not." (Atlas)

Atlas smiles brightly as she answers.

Ah, so I jumped to conclusions.

If this is neither heaven nor hell, perhaps I'm deep in my own unconscious. No, it may be a space created by the legendary weapon, or something like that.

I mean, that sort of scene appeared in a manga I read a while ago.

"I see. Atlas, are you in any pain?" (Naofumi)

"Nope, I don't feel anything." (Atlas)

"And where is this?" (Naofumi)

"If I had to say, it would be the world of Naofumi-sama's Shield... no, that's wrong. I guess it's the world of the Legendary Weapons." (Atlas)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

Now that I think about it, all of the scenes I saw were centered around the heroes.

Ren, Motoyasu, Itsuki, Fohl, Rishia, and Trash.

Everyone was selected by their weapons.

"Can I also look at that Hero of the Whip? Though it's stolen goods, he does have my shield." (Naofumi)

"Yes, but your Shield hasn't been stolen, you know." (Atlas)

"Hah? No, I definitely saw him take it." (Naofumi)

"With just that much power, it's impossible to completely take away one of the Four Great Weapons. He can only maintain its appearance, and a minimal amount of its power. He won't be able to tap into its full potential." (Atlas)

Atlas forms a ring with her arms, and when I peer in, I see the Whip... guy calmly looking over a battlefield with a smile on his face.

He's happily conversing with Witch.

After that, another woman came and talked to him, and Witch made an unpleasant expression. But her face quickly changed to the smile that she used to scheme.

It's truly an irritating scenario.

"I don't really think I want to observe this one." (Naofumi)

"That's right." (Atlas)

"And? Why am I in a place like this?" (Naofumi)

"The Spirit of the Shield, who's been lending you power all this time, called you here." (Atlas)

"I see... from that accursed Shield." (Naofumi)

"Yes, from that accursed Shield." (Atlas)

Next to Atlas, a ball of light bobbed up and down.

Is this the spirit of the Shield?

What an unreliable appearance it has there.

As if it had read my mind, the ball's bobbing amplitude increased.

"It's making an honest apology." (Atlas)

"Oh, I see. Let me punch it." (Naofumi)

He's your retribution for summoning me randomly without consent.

The Spirit of the Shield quickly slipped behind Atlas.

It appears to be shaking.

To hide behind a little girl...

"I understand how you feel, but apart from the first generation of Heroes, Naofumi-sama is the first one to ever make it here." (Atlas)

"Ah, I see. And what does that spirit over there want with me?" (Naofumi)

"It wants Naofumi-sama to make a decision." (Atlas)

Around me, balls of light similar to the Spirit of the Shield gather.

These are likely the spirits of the other weapons.

One, two, three... Why are there twelve of them?

Among them, including the Shield, four of them are differently colored.
There are eight left.
If there are seven stars, what's the last one?

"Me?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. Honestly speaking, the Spirit of the Shield-sama has made a decision to abandon the world to its fate." (Atlas)

"... Abandon?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. So the Spirit of the Shield has called you here to ask if you want to be compensated for your services ahead of time." (Atlas)

"Compensation..." (Naofumi)

"It's a reward given to Heroes who have saved the world, or to those that overcame the wave. A reward from the Legendary Weapons." (Atlas)

After asking a few questions to the floating orbs, she speaks to me.
A reward for saving the world...
You should have started out with that line.

"The first option: a return to your original world. In this case, you can get three wishes on that side. They can be for anything." (Atlas)

"Anything, you say..." (Naofumi)

"Are you worried about the law of cause and effect in your world? That can be tampered with to some extent... you can become rich, get a good job, and live your whole life without trouble without negative consequences. But things like immortality aren't possible, he says." (Atlas)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

"Since he's abandoning the world anyways, he can't grant you anything that lasts forever. The most is being able to bring the girl you like with you." (Atlas)

"Atlas, what about you?" (Naofumi)

"I am always with Naofumi-sama. So I am not included in the count. I will follow you to your world." (Atlas)

Hmm... it's not bad for a reward.

I truly do wish to return to my world, and there isn't much else I want.

"You can take Raphtalia-san and return to your world, forget about the battles, and live a peaceful life. At least, the Spirit of the Shield proposes as such. Of course, he'll make it so that that nothing bad will befall her from living in your world." (Atlas)

"... Why Raphtalia?" (Naofumi)

"Am I wrong? The Spirit of the Shield asks as such." (Atlas)

"Well..." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia can come to my world, and we can live our lives together... it's not a bad option.

Of course, Raphtalia's feelings are important as well, but she did say that she loved me.

We do have a bit of an age difference, but her appearance is that of an adult, and the Spirit of the Shield said nothing bad would happen to her. Yes, as a reward for my work up 'til now... it's not bad.

"Tell me the other options." (Naofumi)

Atlas continues speaking.

"Option two: stay in this world, and be revered as a Hero for the rest of your life. Most heroes chose this options, apparently." (Atlas)

I don't really get it, but I guess a Hero who performed his duty normally would choose it.

In truth, as long as they averted their eyes from the crappy reality of the Fantasy World, it would be heaven.

"That doesn't sound like a reward to me." (Naofumi)

"Fight for the people, make your own standing, and make the world you saved with your own hands shine brilliantly. Rise up in the world. Says the Spirit of the Shield.” (Atlas)

“And that’s supposed to sound good!?” (Naofumi)

How laid back is this Shield!?

For the love of god… Humans aren’t built well to be satisfied by an explanation like that.

“The third option is to be sent back to your original world, but to be given the right to return back to this one.” (Atlas)

“Is there any meaning in that?” (Naofumi)

“No idea…” (Atlas)

Ah… but if you were able to come and go as you pleased, it might be nice. Once you finish what you have to do in one world, you set up a home in the other.

It’s not like I don’t see where they’re coming from. But this world is rotten, so I refuse.

For a moment, the smiles of my villagers pop up in my mind.

I do want to return.

But…

“…There are plenty of things I want to ask.” (Naofumi)

The Spirit of the Shield bobs lightly, and conveys its will to Atlas.

“What is it?” (Atlas)

“Do I have to decide now?” (Naofumi)

“… Yes, that seems to be the case. If you wait, the Spirit won’t have the time. IF the world isn’t at peace, it can’t do anything.” (Atlas)

So I can return here.

What’s more, I can bring along Raphtalia.

I’m in the middle of treatment, and my conscience won’t return. Raphtalia is desperately calling out to me, trying to return me to the world.

“Why? Why has he come to say this now?” (Naofumi)

When I was silenced, when I went through hard times, when I was about to die, why did he never call out to me?

What meaning is there in him offering me these proposals now?

“To tell you the truth… Naofumi-sama’s life as the Shield has been crueler than any of those past, according to the spirit.” (Atlas)

The Spirit of the Shield, and the orbs of the same color begin spinning in a circle.

Well. I’m quite honored.

So I’m the only goodie-two-shoes who had the misfortune to meet a vixen like Bitch.

Though Ren and the others were deceived as well.

“By the end of this, us legendary weapons will have been so drained by the enemy’s hand, that we may be unable to fight any longer. So from this crumbling world, we need to at least save the heroes we forcefully summoned to it… The Spirits are saying as such.” (Atlas)

“Really? You’re a bit late on that one.” (Naofumi)

“The fact that you’re on the verge of death is another factor, apparently. They’ll also approach the Sword, Bow, and Spear, if they ever come this close to death, they say.” (Atlas)

“If I were to return here, the people from my village, and this country… what will happen to the world?” (Naofumi)

“It will likely… fall to ruin. Says the Spirit of the Shield.” (Atlas)

I can’t take them all.

That means in my world… there will only be Raphtalia.

If I made her abandon this world, and part with everyone, what would she say? What sort of face would she make?

And... I am...

I remember the words Atlas imparted unto me before her death.

"I... won't return yet. I'll go after I've saved the world. I'll return once I'm satisfied with the result." (Naofumi)

I truly wanted to return.

But the current me has things that I have to protect.

People I can't forgive. People that I have to defeat.

So until I'm satisfied, I have to stay.

More importantly, I don't even know if they're telling the truth.

If I said I wanted to return at once, I may achieve the, 'You're no Hero, now die!' bad end.

I've really been playing too many video games, haven't I...

I push these unnecessary thoughts to the back of my mind, and see the place the Shield was glowing brightly.

Does this mean the Shield Spirit thingy is happy?

"... Are you certain? Your decision here may spell your doom. Are you sure you won't regret it?" (Atlas)

"If you ask me if I regret it, I'm sure I will. But instead of returning, and wallowing in my regret, I'll regret while I'm here. I have too many burdens I have to carry... Unless I drop them where they're supposed to be, I cannot return." (Naofumi)

Instead of dropping out of the race, I select the good end where everyone has their own set of wheels.

Then I can load up my own emotional baggage, and drive away with ease.

If I can bring Raphtalia with me, then she'll have to choose that for herself.

And once I make that village happy, I'll go home.

I really have picked up too many troublesome things...

But for some reason, I don't feel bad about it.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 316 – The True Enemy

---

“... As expected of the Hero chosen by the Spirit of the Shield. The other spirits are praising him.” (Atlas)

“Yes, yes, that’s all fine, and dandy. Now in exchange, reimburse me with information.” (Naofumi)

I’ll bombard this spirit with all the questions that have been circling my mind.

It’s as if this world itself is intentionally hiding information from me.

“First is... right. Why was I summoned?” (Naofumi)

“That’s probably because Naofumi-sama had the qualifications to be a Hero. 『No matter the trouble, even if you’re vomiting up blood, you’ll still proceed forward. Choosing you was no mistake on my part.』 says the Spirit of the Shield in Hind-sight.” (Atlas)

The four spirits are trying to appeal to me.

And among them, the Spirit of the Shield seems to be inflating itself, and acting cocky.

“Vomiting blood... Whose fault do you think that is!?” (Naofumi)

Dammit...

Even so, the qualifications for a Hero...

Putting it that way doesn’t make me feel bad, but still, I definitely think there’s some ulterior motives here. With this mindset, am I really qualified to be a Hero?

“The Sword, Spear, and Bow spirits are complaining, 『Why the hell is it that you’re always the one to pick the best Hero candidate, you glorious bastard』.” (Atlas)

“By that phrasing, what are the others?” (Naofumi)

What do you mean best?

It's as if it was some sort of examination.

"Fumufumu... The other three have their ups and downs." (Atlas)

Ren, Motoyasu, and Itsuki are... still taking the test.

I can't bring this up to the humans.

And wait, the biggest problem is me being selected as the best. Are these spirits right in the head?

No, perhaps their expectations aren't that high to begin with.

And that's none of their concern, anyways.

"Even though he often summons the one with the most potential, they usually die quickly. So there's no real point in the title." (Atlas)

Oh, right. There was the possibility of me getting involved in a political struggle in Silt Welt.

I don't really have any expectations for them, and since there are some Heroes that drop dead right off the bat, I guess there's no real meaning in candidate ranking.

In that aspect, Ren did live up to this point, so perhaps they're not too bad.

"The other three have ample qualifications to be heroes, but they each have their own set of problems." (Atlas)

"Ah, I see... and?" (Naofumi)

"As an obligatory reward, they'll at least be able to escape death this time around." (Atlas)

Well, those guys did die before they came here, so I guess that condition is essential.

Even if they struggle to save this world, it's no joke if they were to die the second they got back.

"By that logic, I think I also have my share of problems." (Naofumi)

On my response, the Spirit of the Shield bobs up and down again.
What is it? For some reason, I think he's making a fool out of me.

“『There's no way the Spirit of the Shield, whose duty is to defend others, would allow any harm to come to you. Interference was out of the question.』 He says.” (Atlas)

Interference?

He's speaking as if he knows the source of this.

I need to ask that too.

“It seems you do not understand, but Naofumi-sama was specially selected to be the Hero of the Shield. You can be proud of this.” (Atlas)

“No, I get that. I have something else I need to know. Tell me.” (Naofumi)

“Anyways, the Legendary weapons don't seem to know much about things that don't pertain to their duty, but will you still ask? He says.” (Atlas)

“Yes, that's fine. What do you mean by interference?” (Naofumi)

“Interference from the enemy the Legendary Weapons are supposed to oppose.” (Atlas)

“And who's that?” (Naofumi)

“Unknown. At the very least, it's someone who's trying to destroy the world from the outside, apparently.” (Atlas)

One who's trying to bring an end to the world.

There's definitely some plotting and conspiracies at foot here.

But just who could it be?

The first one that came to mind was the woman born of the wave, Glass.

“Was it... Glass, the Human-Shaped enemy from the wave?” (Naofumi)

The Spirit of the Shield starts spinning vertically.

"It seems that that is not the case. She came to fight and fulfill a duty similar to theirs: to protect the world. She's one who brought power to this world." (Atlas)

Atlas shouldn't know about Glass.

But perhaps the Spirit of the shield taught her.

Even so, to protect the world...

That makes it harder to fight her.

"Next. What... is the wave, exactly?" (Naofumi)

"The wave is _____..." (Atlas)

(TL: ____, we meet again, my little friend)

What!? ... The Spirit of the Shield's words, translated through Atlas, put me at a loss for words.

"I-is that true? It's not a misunderstanding, or something like that?"

(Naofumi)

"There's been no mistake." (Atlas)

How could this be.

So that's why... The Four Legendary Weapons... that's why people came to call and revere them as such.

Perhaps this is the theory the Queen was going to present.

There, I remembered the conversation between Glass and Raphtalia.

Glass... despite being an enemy, she was surprisingly honest.

So this is why.

(TL: This is chapter 52)

"I apologize, but you can't be any more incorrect about her being my companion." (Naoflashbackumi)

"Doesn't matter, what you are doing is unjust." (Glass)

"Speaking of unjust, this bitch has done far crueler acts. I have quite a grudge.” (Naofumi)

“Master is like a villain~” (Firo)

“Shut up.” (Naofumi)

“I do not have an argument to offer to an enemy…” (Raphtalia)

Why was Raphtalia able to understand Glass’s words?

I was able to because my Shield acted as a translator.

But Raphtalia’s different.

We’ve already proven that languages differ across worlds.

Raphtalia can’t even understand the language of Silt Welt.

But she could understand that woman just fine.

That means that what the Spirit of the Shield is saying isn’t wrong.

… Why is such a thing happening?

This is definitely related to the one causing interference.

“The enemies you’ve fought so far have been but the vanguard. The Heroes of the past used the technology of those long gone, and to make sure these powers would fade away one day, someone schemed. Time was meaningless to them. They kept on sending enemies, no matter how many decades, or centuries…” (Atlas)

As I thought.

In this world, geniuses are the apostles of social growth and decay, but in truth, someone was actually reincarnating people from another world, and controlling them. To take away the means to fight against the wave.

I did find it strange.

The way to fight Houou and the Spirit Turtle. How to break the Level Cap.

The destruction of the Hengen Musou School.

Also, various pieces of information were conveniently eaten away by the ages.

Thinking back, the uselessness of the information Ren, Motoyasu, and Itsuki brought to this world all lead back to that.

That means, our true 『Enemy』 is...

"Next question. My Shield is gone. What should I do?" (Naofumi)

"There is no problem. The only thing he managed to take was the outer layer." (Atlas)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

The Spirit of the Shield sways back and forth in the air.

"His last attack was able to incapacitate you for a while, but if you were to wish for it... the Spirit of the shield would be able to answer to your resolve. An attack like that would be no problem. No, a small fry like him wouldn't be able to lay a hand on you." (Atlas)

"Even if you tell me that..." (Naofumi)

In front of the Spirit of the Shield, another Spirit asserted its presence.

"Naofumi-sama, in regards to that fake, do you want to deal with him personally?" (Atlas)

"Well, if it's within my ability." (Naofumi)

"This spirit says that it wishes to lend you its power temporarily. In that case, the Spirit of the Shield's functions will be put on hold until you call for it again." (Atlas)

"Meaning... I can fight with a weapon apart from the Shield?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, but you can call back the Shield when you wish. Until then, as long as Naofumi-sama has the permission of the Wielder, you should be able to use any of the Seven Star Weapons." (Atlas)

"It's just that in order to use their full power, you'll have to retrieve the stolen portions from that thief."

The eight other balls of light begin shining brightly, and one of them flies at me.

After being enveloped by its power, I was able to understand what sort of weapon it was.

And that Hero of the Whip... no.

That foreign invader. I know how I can defeat him.

I see. So this is how I can beat him head-on.

Yep, I can win with this.

No, it was because the loss of Atlas had blinded me that I was unable to do anything before.

But now...

"It's asking you to 『Get its Wielder back on track』." (Atlas)

"... I know. But I'll only be able to do it my way. Don't expect anything great." (Naofumi)

"They are no longer the Four Divine, and the Seven Stars. Please release their five brethren from the clutches of that small fry." (Atlas)

"I understand. And I know how. Last is... what is the Four Holy Weapons Manual I read before I was transported to this world?" (Naofumi)

"A vague record of a predicted future, and the gateway to another world, apparently. Though it seems its predictions were quite off the mark."
(Atlas)

Atlas starts rising into the air with the Spirits. She smiles.

"Remember that I am always with you, Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"Atlas... I couldn't protect you." (Naofumi)

"It's alright. I'm always with Naofumi-sama. And Onii-sama, and Raphtalia-san, and everyone in the village. Please hold them all dear." (Atlas)

"Sure." (Naofumi)

I hold up my hand... and our fingers wrap around each other.

Upon feeling her skin, tears start forming in my eyes. I'm not even sad, so why?

"Will we meet again?" (Naofumi)

"We've never parted." (Atlas)

"... That's right." (Naofumi)

Atlas's body changes into light, and disperses.

I watch over the scene, and head off to reality.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 317 – The Hero of the Cane

---

“Gu…” (Naofumi)

As soon as I awoke, waves of pain shot around my body.

“Naofumi-sama!” (Raphtalia)

I open my eyes, and raise my body. Raphtalia, who had been asleep in a chair by my side, sprung to life.

“I’m fine.” (Naofumi)

It’s likely that if I didn’t have the Shield, I would be unable to hold a conversation, but the Shield is… even if it isn’t with me in form, it’s still lending me power.

I overcome my pain, and stand up.

I feel the throbbing sensation in my body stabilize a bit.

“Are Ren and the others in the middle of a meeting?” (Naofumi)

“Yes… after that, we were able to escape, but master was…” (Raphtalia)

“I know.” (Naofumi)

“Rafu~” (Raph-chan)

Raph-chan appears from under the bed, and leaps at me.

I started patting him, and offering him sweet words.

“Good boy. It’s because of you we were able to get out.” (Naofumi)

“Naofumi-sama?” (Raphtalia)

“Even when my consciousness was gone, I was able to perceive the outside world through my weapon. I have a general grasp of the situation. The Queen is… already… right?” (Naofumi)

“… Yes. Two days after we left Faubley… the treatment bore no fruits.” (Raphtalia)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"Right now, Melty-chan and Firo-chan are performing the funeral services."
(Raphtalia)

"..." (Naofumi)

"What will you do now?" (Raphtalia)

"I'll awaken the last Hero The Star who refuses to open his eyes."
(Naofumi)

In the country-wide funeral, the populace shed their tears.

Of course, it's impossible to tell whether those tears were genuine, or not.
But during the events of the past half year, the Queen's been conducting large scale reform.

From her work, some gained, and some lost.

After the funeral... a single figure stood quietly in front of the equally quiet
Queen's casket.

Behind him, Melty is looking down with red eyes. She's holding Firo's hand.

"Melty." (Naofumi)

"Ah, Naofumi!" (Melty)

Melty rushes over to me with teary eyes.

"Mother was... she...!" (Melty)

"I'm sorry... I couldn't protect her." (Naofumi)

"No... don't worry about it. Naofumi risked his life to try and protect mother.
Firo-chan, Raphtalia-san... a lot of people told me that. And I also saw the extent of your wounds." (Melty)

"Even so, I failed." (Naofumi)

Right, I couldn't protect her.

The Queen put all of her efforts into assisting me.

Without any deception, she lent me her power. She moved the country for my cause.

"Melty, you don't have to hold back. Since I couldn't do anything... it's alright if you hate me." (Naofumi)

"U-UWAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAH!" (Melty)

Large teardrops fall from Melty's eyes, as she begins punching me.
I don't have the Shield's protection, so it kinda hurts.
But this is a feeling I have to accept.

Lured in by Melty's tears, Firo also begins crying.
After a while, I'm able to pacify the two.

"I'm sorry, Naofumi." (Melty)

"It's fine. If this made you feel a little better, then I'm fine with it."
(Naofumi)

"... Thank you." (Melty)

Melty stands up, and moves to leave the church.

"Are you sure you don't have to stay?" (Naofumi)

"I've already finished saying farewell to mother. Right now, I need to help make preparations for war." (Melty)

"I see... You sure are strong." (Naofumi)

"Firo-chan!" (Melty)

"Yeah!" (Firo)

Melty boarded Firo, and they ran off. They're probably going to attend the meeting Ren, and the other Heroes, are at.

"Now then..." (Naofumi)

I approach the one frozen in front of the Queen's coffin... I approach Trash.
The Queen's face sure is beautiful.
It's as if she would wake up at any second.

Trash silently stares at the empty shell that was once his wife.
Despite their differences, he loved her. The Legendary Weapon showed me that.

Perhaps he noticed my approach, but he continued to stare at the Queen.

“... Did you come to laugh at me? I, the fool Trash who couldn't protect anything dear to me?” (Trash)

“No.” (Naofumi)

I place a flower in the Queen's coffin.

Even though it's such a simple action, sad feeling flow through my heart.

The Queen would always lend me power.

And that's why I answered her requests to some extent.

If she hadn't been there, I would have crossed over to Silt Welt, and instigated them to go to war with Melromark.

But because of the Queen's continued efforts, Melromark and Silt Welt never went to war.

Now, I understand.

I understand just how hard that must have been.

The nobles of the country, and the religion seems to hate me by principle.

Various negotiations must have been carried out when I wasn't watching.
Or else, I would have never been able to live the peaceful life I had in that village.

She worked so hard for this country, for the world. But her work was left unrequited.

She tried again, and again to correct her daughter's behavior. I bet a lot happened even before I got here.

But her daughter's heart never opened. She should simply continue to kick people to the ground, and laugh at their disgrace.

I understand why she was so desperate to curry my favor, before letting me deal with her family.

If at that time, I were to order their deaths, rumors would have spread across the world, and I would never have gotten to where I am now.

But none of that good will ever came back to her.

Her daughter trampled on her maternal love, and even went as far as to take her life.

Her husband, Trash, was only able to watch as she committed such acts of brutality.

"Hero of the shield. Take care of this country... I cannot fight." (Trash)

I angrily grab at Trash's collar.

"Did your wife tell you to leave the country to me!? What the hell did you think she said!? You can't even understand something as simple as that!?" (Naofumi)

Upon my questions, Trash displayed an expression of anger for a brief moment.

But that quickly vanished, and he averted his gaze.

"Then what do you expect me to do? I am..." (Trash)

"If you stand there moping, will the Queen come back to life? If I keep on praying, will Atlas return? If we all keep wishing for a miracle, do you think the world will be at peace!?" (Naofumi)

"Shut up! What... what do you under-" (Trash)

Trash exposes his anger, and aims a blow.

I easily dodge it, and he glares at me. As if he had found someone to take his anger out on.

"Do you think I'm completely oblivious?" (Naofumi)

"..." (Trash)

I... quietly bring a picture of Atlas up in my mind.

Inside my shield, the girl who constantly clung to me exists. She's no longer in this world.

In order to protect us, she sacrificed her body.

"I will take revenge for Atlas. I plan to execute your Bitch of a Daughter while I'm at it. She'll definitely bring harm to this country if we let her go."
(Naofumi)

I'll just give it to him frankly. See my acting at work.

Spirit of the Cane, if this doesn't work, I'm abandoning him.

"If that happens, Melromark will become mine. No, even Faubley will fall into my possession, and the world will be mine." (Naofumi)

"What!?" (Trash)

"Silt Welt is a country that equates the Hero of the Shield to a god. I'll bet they'll happily submit to my rule. Melromark is already mine for the taking, and next is Faubley... I'll gain control of all the biggest countries, shall I not? Hahaha, this is the establishment of a new empire." (Naofumi)

"Ku..." (Trash)

"If that happens, Trash, your execution is the first thing on the menu. As a useless Hero. Perhaps I'll make Melty next. She seems to be under the misinterpretation that I'm some sort of good person, so I think I'll be able to see quite a scene. Perhaps I'll even keep her around as a sex slave, just as your wife wished." (Naofumi)

If Melty heard that, I think she would kill me.

Since I don't have my Shield, her magic should hurt quite a bit. It's a good thing she left.

But with this much, Trash should snap.

"I won't let you do such a thing!" (Trash)

Trash clenches his teeth, and thrusts his fist at me.

I... peacefully take the blow.

I don't know just how high his level is supposed to be.

Maybe he's weakened with the passage of time, but I never asked, nor do I care.

Anyways, since the Shield was in hibernation, I began to taste blood in my mouth.

"I am... the one who will protect the Melromark that Mirellia loved! As if I'd let it get taken away by the likes of you!" (Trash)

"... That's right. This is how it should be. You can do it if you try."

(Naofumi)

"Wha..." (Trash)

Trash falls silent at my reply.

"Let me ask you once more. Did your wife tell you to leave the country to me? The answer is no. She left it to you! The Hero of the Cane, and the King of Wisdom! You... need to honor the will of the woman you loved more than anything!" (Naofumi)

Trash opens his eyes wide, and takes a step back.

And he wipes away his tears.

"That's right... my eyes had been clouded. I lost myself, and refused to open my eyes, under the pretense of drowning in the grief caused by the loss of a loved one. And you, Shield... Iwatani-dono, I forced my old grudges onto you." (Trash)

In Trash's eyes, I see the spark he had when he opposed me before the Queen came... no, something even greater has been born.

"My wife left this country to me. Then my duty is to uphold her will. I won't ask you to forgive me. But will you fight with me to protect this country? No, please help me fight!" (Trash)

Trash bows down, and pleads to me.

"Raise your head. There's no need for that now... I'm going to honor my own promise to the Queen. I have no idea what comes after that."
(Naofumi)

The Queen asked me to lend her power to protect the country.

For that purpose, I'll assist with what I can.

For the Queen, who protected this land to her death, I'll have to work a bit myself.

Fauley's become a nest of the garbage of this world. In order to sweep out the true trash, I'll work with the Trash before me.

"I won't raise it! When I remember all I've done to Iwatani-dono, I know there's no way that I will be forgiven. By my own incompetence, my wife... There's no way I can compensate for her loss!" (Trash)

"... That's right. Even in a situation like this, when I remember what you've put me through, I can't forgive you... but..." (Naofumi)

Like Ren, Motoyasu, and Itsuki changed, and like I changed myself, this man can change as well.

Even if it's something he can never be forgiven for, he can still redeem himself.

For the Queen's sake, I'll at least offer him an opportunity.

"You're going to change from here on out, right? Then not in words, show it through your actions." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Trash)

"Then what are you doing? Get off your ass, and go save this country!"

(Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Trash)

Trash stands up, and with a stiff expression, he saluted.

As if in response to my orders, a shining rod manifested before Trash.

"This is..." (Trash)

"So you finally get it." (Naofumi)

Yes, the Seven Star Cane was waiting for this moment.

For this rotten Trash... no, for Aultcray Melromark to open his eyes.

Trash grips the cane.

And the light around it fades. He was selected as a Hero once more.

Spirit of the Cane.

I've upheld my side of the bargain

"... Let us go, Iwatani-dono." (Trash)

"Yes, Wise King of Melromark." (Naofumi)

"No, I was unable to do anything to protect my beloved. For a fool like me, there is no name more appropriate than Trash." (Trash)

"..." (Naofumi)

"I am Trash. Everything that has befallen me has been the result of my own actions. Please continue calling me Trash from now on." (Trash)

It's as if he's a completely different person.

It's been said that nothing good comes out of a guy who calls himself a genius, but what will come out of a man who calls himself Trash?

At the very least, he's more decent than he was before.

"... Got it. Trash, I leave the plan to you. I have some expectations for the Wise King inside of your head." (Naofumi)

"Leave it to me. I'll completely slaughter the enemy with the minimum amount of casualties." (Trash)

We turned our backs to the Queen's coffin, and quietly... started walking forward.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 318 – Strategy Meeting

---

We came all the way to the inside of the castle. To the room where Ren and the others were holding a meeting.

On the way, Motoyasu, Who was playing with his three, joined us.

“My, my. It’s the Hero of the Shield, and…”

Following me was Raphtalia and Trash, whose aura had changed beyond recognition.

The soldiers of the castle seemed to sense this too, and they swallow their spit.

For everyone to realize it so easily, I’m beginning to wonder if he’s truly the same person.

He definitely seems like someone else.

I felt it the first time I met him. This sort of… overwhelming Charisma circling around him.

“King-sama.”

The soldier carefully chooses his words as he speaks.

“Yes, I want to speak with the Heroes, and the Allied Forces. Won’t you open the way?” (Trash)

“Yes Sir!”

The soldiers salute as they open the door.

And like that, we entered the conference room.

“Naofumi!” (Ren)

Ren sees, me, and stands up from his seat. He runs over.

"Are your wounds alright?" (Ren)

"For now." (Naofumi)

It's not like I'm in enough pain to knock me out, and I'm gradually recovering.

I have the blessing of the Shield, and I should recover enough by the time I confront that bastard.

"Next is..." (Ren)

Ren looks at Trash, and hangs his mouth open.

"Hey, is that..." (Ren)

"Yeah, it's the same person. Even I was surprised." (Naofumi)

Trash looks over the ones in attendance with an intelligent smile. He displays the cane in his hand.

Who the hell is he?

"Hmm... so Melromark's Hero of the Cane has finally gotten the motivation to fight. Are you sure you aren't too late?" (Genmu)

The Genmu Grampa begins provoking Trash.

The Shusaku has a similar expression, and they're giving off an irritating impression.

"That's right. My eyes had been clouded, but now it's different. My wife... The Queen's will will be upheld. I must protect this country." (Trash)

The past Trash would have been enraged by those words. He would have been driven out of the room after throwing it into disorder.

But the current one honestly admits his shortcomings.

"Melly." (Trash)

"Y-yes?" (Melly)

Trash points at Melty, and she suddenly straightens her back.
To her, this man should be her father, but her face clearly shows that something is off.

"Won't you continue the meeting? Iwatani-dono and I wish to partake in it."
(Trash)

"Understood." (Melty)

Trash pulls back a chair for me, and sits down in the one next to it.
For some reason, with that simple action, everyone takes a deep breath.
The others must think that he's completely forgotten his past grudges. He's even treating me with respect.

Even I find it amazing.

He had an extremely diligent expression as he pulled a chair for me, but something feels really wrong.

Is it that?

When someone who acted as a fool shows his mettle, the gap makes him seem exceedingly cool?

Now let's see just how far he exceeds our low expectations.

"What are you doing? Hurry and start it up again. We don't have much time remaining, correct?" (Trash)

"U-understood!" (Melty)

Melty takes out a document, and sticks them onto a board fastened to the wall.

'According to the Heroes, Tact is also an Otherworlder' Is written on the front.

The evidence is his personal history, and his inventions.

And the battle looks hopeless.

It seems that Tact is proceeding directly from Faubley to Melromark in a straight line.

He's making all of the countries along the way surrender, and he gains control of their land as he progresses. His progress is way too fast. In a few days, his army will reach Melromark.

The enemy's new weapon... no, it's not really new, but the Airplane has been implemented for practical usage. Its dramatic appearance on the battle field spelled the defeat of a few nations already. That's how the situation looks.

"It seems that the Heroes of the Sword, Spear, and Bow won't be put on the defensive line." (Trash)

Trash asks.

Melty and the Genmu raise their hands, and respond.

"It's due to Faubley's hero's miraculous ability. As long as he's there, we can't carelessly deploy them, even if it means putting them on standby." (Melty)

"Fumu... a prudent decision. Airplanes... I have a vague idea of the kind of weapon they are, but are they truly that formidable?" (Trash)

"Yes. The one acting as their main base deploys soldiers by parachute, and it mows down all that approach it by machine gun. The high-leveled dragoons of the other countries have tried challenging their planes to dogfights, but it appears that their pilots levels exceed ours by too great of a margin..." (Melty)

Because of the large level gap, it's impossible to approach.

It's a simple advantage, but its simplicity makes for a firm groundwork. Dropping the planes with long-range magic and weapons seems possible, but their high levels buffer defense and speed. I'm not sure if we'll be able to hit them.

"What numbers are they coming in?" (Naofumi)

"They're attacking with only five planes. They board and stock away from the battlefield, and subjugate countries by raining soldiers down on their cities from above.” (Melly)

It’s likely that those five pilots are high leveled, and the rest are standard soldiers.

I don’t know about Tact’s Harem, but their general soldiers didn’t seem to be too high leveled.

That means they’re focusing their plans around their limited supply of pilots.

“… Hero-samas, I’d like to hear whatever information you have about Airplanes.” (Trash)

“Even if you ask that, I’m pretty sure we only have general knowledge. We may be able to implement one, but it’ll just barely be able to fly.” (Ren)

“In your worlds, by what concept did they move, and how were they handled in war? Also, what sort of functions did they hold?” (Trash)

“Is that stuff really important?” (Ren)

“Yes, if I don’t get whatever information we have, I can’t formulate a plan.” (Trash)

And Trash thoroughly absorbed whatever information we knew pertaining to planes. I wonder if most of it was actually necessary.

Also about firearms… in that field, Itsuki proved to be quite knowledgeable. He even explained the part names, and their applications.

You’re telling me that he not only not only comes from an ESPer world, he’s also a military otaku?

But he was useful, anyways, so I didn’t say anything.

Well, thinking about it, someone with 『Accuracy』 as an ability would need projectiles like guns and bows for battle, so perhaps it was inevitable.

“…It’s still not enough.” (Trash)

“Hah?”

“There’s still something bothering me.” (Trash)

Even after his incessant, inquisition, he still presses us for more information. At first, we looked at him with dubious eyes, but the military heads of the other countries, particularly the ones closer in age to Trash, looked on the scene in silence. They had confident smiles on their faces.

"Oy, do you know anything about that?" (Naofumi)

"That's proof that the Wise King has revived. He'll continue searching for information until he has enough of it to put together. But the answer he comes to is always correct. By doing that, he was able to make all of us taste defeat. He's nothing less than reliable."

"I see..." (Naofumi)

"Since he hasn't settled on a plan yet, that means that he hasn't been given the necessary information yet. Please cooperate with him."

I don't know where this trust is coming from, but this is the first time I've seen Trash like that.

"Iwatani-dono." (Trash)

"W-what?" (Naofumi)

It's already strange that he's stopped calling me, 'Shield'.

And his eyes are shimmering. I feel that I might get sucked into his pace, and start speaking everything.

"About their... Hero. I'll leave him to Iwatani-dono. Is that alright with you?" (Trash)

"Yes, I'll knock him off his high horse." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi, are you sure? Didn't you have your Shield taken?" (Ren)

"It's fine. Ah, right..." (Naofumi)

At the same time I remembered my meeting with the Spirits.

The weapons of the other Heroes in the area began emitting a faint light. Light seeps out of the Sword, Spear, Bow, and the place my Shield used to be. And flows towards Trash and Fohl's weapons.

"What? Convert...?"

"Strengthening method unlocked?"

They let out such words, as they seemed to be reading an invisible screen with their eyes.

And Trash held out his cane to me.

"The Cane has suggested that it be offered to you temporarily as a special case. It wants to lend you power. Please take it." (Trash)

"... Will you be fine?" (Naofumi)

"My focus is on strategy. It's not that essential." (Trash)

"I see." (Naofumi)

I grasp Trash's cane.

A similar Icon to the one I saw when I had the Shield appeared.

As an exception, the use of this weapon by the Hero of the Shield has been permitted!

Special Weapon Unlocked!

You have completed the conditions to unlock the Fenrir Rod!

(TL: Fenrir is a wolf, and Loki's son. He kills Odin at Ragnarok.)

–

Fenrir Rod 0/90 C

Awakening Impossible

...

Equipment Bonus:

Fenrir Force

Ability Bonus:

Gleipnir Rope

Rebellion Against God

Proficiency Level: 0

—

(TL: Gleipnir is the Red Thread used to bind Fenrir. It will snap during Ragnarok)

A status message appeared, and I checked my stats.
Comparing it to the Stats I had before, Quite a bit has changed.
I guess I'll have to change how I fight to match.

The cane changed shape to that of a staff with a wolf ornament on top. The wolf's mouth was biting down on the body of the staff.
There are chains wrapped around the base, and it's a bit hard to hold.

Looking at the weapon book, quite a few weapons have been unlocked.
The method the Seven Stars used to unlock weapons probably converted, and appeared in a form friendly to the Four Summoned.
With just this, my abilities have risen by a bit.

But... the numbers are lower than the ones I'm familiar with.
Is this because the Seven Star weapons are ranked lower than the four?
I open the screen to strengthen the staff.

"Fohl, read out the strengthening methods written in your Help Screen.
We'll also tell you ours, and then, we'll apply them." (Naofumi)

"S-sure." (Fohl)

"Ren, Motoyasu, Itsuki, you understand, right? Strengthening is all about belief. Believe in the strengthening method from Fohl Gauntlets, and from Trash's cane." (Naofumi)

"Got it!" (Ren)

"Understood!" (Motoyasu)

"Yes." (Itsuki)

And we shared the strengthening methods in our help screens.

"Wait a second, that strengthening method. Isn't that what we tried before, but failed in?" (Ren)

"It was used in one of the Seven Star Weapons. Unless the Heroes cooperate, I don't think it'll work." (Naofumi)

"... At this point, that just sounds like a pain." (Ren)

Ren complains. I agree.

But his complaints are on the mark.

Most likely, the enemy from the wave did some sort of interference... no, that doesn't sound right...

But despite the differences between the Cane and the Gauntlet, their strengthening methods were the same. How ironic.

I immediately strengthened the Fenrir rod in various ways.

My Status improved greatly.

Even so, it doesn't compare to the Spirit Turtle Shell.

No, that one received a boost from the Shield of Compassion Atlas unlocked, so it would be rude to compare them.

"I managed to awaken it, but I can't get any equipment bonuses." (Fohl)

Fohl reports as such to me.

"We don't have much time, but go do it. You can get materials from around the country, and you can take whatever you want from my ware house."
(Naofumi)

"Got it." (Fohl)

"Have the Heroes finished their discussion Then let's get back to planning."
(Trash)

Trash sits down again, and restarts the meeting.

After that, Trash wrung us dry of all the information we had of our world. So much that I think he would be able to make some groundbreaking technological progress here. By the time I noticed it, the sun had already sunk.

“Is there still anything more you need?” (Naofumi)

“... I’ll need to revise it a bit, but I guess this is enough information for one day.” (Trash)

Trash began scribbling away on the board.

And the soldiers of the Castle copied down his words.

Apparently, the Genmu ordered them to do so.

After seeing the content, we nodded. He figured out how to possibly turn their weapon against them. How frightening.

What does this man plan to start with the information we gave him?

“Now then, does this sound fine for a draft of the plan?” (Trash)

There are proposals numbered one through twenty. Trash orders his soldiers to make the initial preparations for each one.

“Y-yeah.” (Naofumi)

“I’ll have the Heroes work individually in their own squadrons.” (Trash)

“I understand that, but...” (Naofumi)

I look at Trash’s writing, and see the date he put for the day Tact was going to attack.

“Is the attack really coming on that day?” (Naofumi)

“Yes. Faubley’s hero will choose this day without a doubt. If I were on his side, I would choose it as well.” (Trash)

Yes, I truly would be at a disadvantage if he chose that day.

Right... the day the wave would come.

This truly was the most effective day for them.

Us Heroes are registered at Melromark's Dragon Hourglass.

According to Ren, and the others, the last one they registered at was Melromark's as well.

"How are the other countries dealing with the wave?" (Naofumi)

"The waves appear to be centered mostly around Melromark. The others still have time to prepare." (Trash)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

This is exceedingly troublesome.

We'll get called to some far off location when we're in the middle of the war with Faubley.

Even so, it's not as if we can neglect the wave.

That means we'll have to split our forces.

"And so, Heroes, please make preparations beforehand. If possible, act as swiftly as you can with your fastest Filo Rial." (Trash)

"Understood! Now, let us be off, my angels!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu randomly runs off atop his three.

Where the hell does he think he's going!?

"Then I'll assign the Hero of the Spear-sama to this brigade." (Trash)

And so, we were assigned our positions.

"Right, Trash. There's someone I'd like to introduce as a source of information." (Naofumi)

"Understood. Who is this individual?" (Trash)

(TL: I'd like to remind you all that Japanese Pronouns are gender Neutral)

It's quite a simple source

She does have quite a grudge, so I'm sure she'll assist me.

What's more, she's my slave. So she doesn't have the right to refuse.
The other one, no, that... it would be quicker to just bring him there.
Trash's probably seen her before, but he shouldn't know about her ability.

"Getting them here now is... impossible. Come with me." (Naofumi)

I walked away to introduce her to Trash.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 319 - Glamour vs. Loli

---

The sun's already set, but time is precious, so I ended up showing Trash my village's situation... specifically the ones there that would make for good manpower.

For argument's sake, he was with the Queen when we challenged Houou, so he should know, but I don't think he has a definite grasp of my forces.

"Ah, Niichan." (Kiel)

We used Ren's portal to return, and Kiel found us.

"Are you already okay?" (Kiel)

"Well, yeah. More importantly, have there been any problems on your side?" (Naofumi)

"None. By the way, I believe that person was the one who was always next to Queen-sama." (Kiel)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

"This is the first time we've spoken. My name is known throughout the country, so I think you've at least heard it, though." (Trash)

"I think it was..." (Kiel)

Kiel hesitates in giving her answer.

I mean, when I changed his name, there was a national uproar. It's become a bit of a famous story.

"Hey, try saying my name." (Trash)

"Niichan, are you sure it's alright?" (Kiel)

"The individual wishes for it, so go ahead." (Naofumi)

What sort of torture is this. Stop taking away our time. Isn't this kinda rude?

Did Trash act docile in order to accomplish this?

But the guy's face is quite serious.

"Um... King-sama?" (Kiel)

"I'm Trash. Remember the name." (Trash)

"Um..." (Kiel)

"Don't act so troubled!" (Naofumi)

Is he a masochist?

Do all the Heroes turn out like this?

"I also think this is harassment." (Ren)

No, it feels like the amount of Rens has merely multiplied.

But I don't really feel like scolding him.

(TL: As in, Trash's change was similar to Ren's)

"I agree... Why did it turn out like this?" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia's carrying her head in her hands.

I think so as well, but Trash himself accepts the name, so there's no helping it.

It was fun to use it to harass him, but when he says it with such a serious face, I'm the one that feels offended.

"What's wrong, Iwatani-dono? Hurry and tell me your forces." (Trash)

If he were just acting, it would be fine, but the current Trash is being 100% genuine.

If you wonder why I understand this, it's because my intuition has been sharpened from being in this world.

I'm especially good at seeing through merchants.

Anyways, my senses are telling me that Trash isn't lying. His personality is just twisted.

But for him to force the Demi-Humans who he looked down upon to call him Trash...

If he tries pledging loyalty to me, then I won't mind it, but I feel that's not happening.

"Kiel, don't think too hard about it... Just say it as if it's a foreigner's name."
(Naofumi)

"Got it, Niichan. Good luck, Trash-san." (Kiel)

"Yes!" (Trash)

...

This Trash seems to be more enervating than ever before.

Motoyasu doesn't listen to a word you say, so you can say anything. Trash listens to all arguments, and incorporates them into his own.

It's dangerous to mess around with him.

"Then... come with me. Ren, go give an explanation to the villagers."
(Naofumi)

"Understood." (Ren)

I bring Trash over to the place of the one I wanted to introduce him to.

"Ara? Marquis, are your wounds healed?"

"For the most part." (Naofumi)

I dragged Trash to Rat's lab.

Inside of a large culture tank... something is floating.

It looks like a carriage.

"Where's Mii-kun?" (Naofumi)

"In order to repair the body you made when you were out of it, he went off hunting." (Rat)

"Hunting?" (Naofumi)

"He spread out his body to cover everyone from Houou's self-destruction, so much of it was blown away. In order to regenerate, he'll have to supplement those lost parts." (Rat)

"... Supplement." (Naofumi)

"Fumu... I hypothesize that it's something similar to the theory of how Slimes grow. Am I correct?" (Trash)

"Yes, correct. He'll hunt monsters, and absorb their parts until he had enough matter to regenerate." (Rat)

I want to block my ears.

Just what sort of dangerous lifeform did I make!?

He seems likely to appear in some B Class Horror Film.

"Well, it'll take a while for him to completely regrow. Restructuring the genetic construction of his prey is quite a difficult task." (Rat)

"Yes, yes, I get it... Rat, you understand the relation between the previous incident, and the war, right?" (Naofumi)

"Right... that Seven Star Hero in Faubley was the one who gave you those severe wounds, right?" (Rat)

"Was he the one who exiled you?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, with the support of my rival Alchemist. Our areas of study clashed, so it was quite a trial." (Rat)

I've heard something similar before.

I heard a lot that time, but I never thought they would become enemies.

But it's beneficial for someone with information on the enemy to be an ally.

And it would be a poor move to ignore someone with skills similar to Rat.

"So there's an alchemist there too?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. One with the appearance of a child." (Rat)

"Is he specialized in mechanics?" (Naofumi)

"No, that's the Hero? Anyways, I thought she had died, but they managed to revive this country's former princess, right? It's definitely that girl's work. She's good at making Homunculus that imitate others. It's difficult to tell them apart from the real thing." (Rat)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"From my perspective, she's an exceedingly normal Alchemist. She's a bit more knowledgeable on artificial life than most, but not on my level. Though I do happen to specialize in monsters." (Rat)

An alchemist with the body of a child, and an alchemist with the body of a slutty onee-san.

Now, legendary Hero, who will you choose?

And in the end, that Hero chose the Loli.

I do get the feeling that there were several little kids around him. That man was a Lolicon... He's a complete criminal.

No... I'm also a bit past that line.

Despite Raphtalia's appearance, she's a child in age.

And there's also Atlas, so I can't really complain about him.

"Did you not get along with her?" (Naofumi)

"If I were to choose, I'd have to say that the Hero drove me out because his research and mine contradicted one another. Airplanes, was it? I remember objecting to his ideas, and asking why he couldn't just use Flying Beasts, or Gryphons." (Rat)

"I think there was also something called a 'Tank' on Faubley's front line." (Trash)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

And Here, Rat has a similar Carriage-type Monster.

This monster should have some long distance magic capabilities.

Their research areas truly do overlap.

Here, we have lifeforms, and there, they have machines.

It's uncertain how large of a gap this will create, but how about looking at it from Level?

The machines are based on the driver's level. Their flaw is that if they get too damaged, they'll have to be changed out.

With Monsters, you can simply cast healing magic on them, so prolonged fighting is possible.

For reasons such as this, Tact may have driven his theoretic rival out of Faubley.

"That woman always had a strange set of priorities. Even now, I find it irritating. She got smitten with that fool, and thus fell behind me in research!" (Rat)

Perhaps when Tact couldn't get Rat to fall for him, he got rid of her. Because for Rat, Mii-kun is the most important.

"This is?" (Naofumi)

I point at the cairage-like thing inside of the tank.

"It's something I set up before we set off to fight Houou. It's the monster the Marquis designed. I tried to make it." (Rat)

"We'll soon be drawn into war. Do you think you'll make it?" (Naofumi)

"Just barely. I plan to have Mii-kun ride it as its core, we'll probably have to go ahead without any practice, so I don't really want to deploy it." (Rat)

That's quite a bit of progress for a few days.

"I need to thank you for the versatility of the body you made." (Rat)

"So that's it..." (Naofumi)

A function of the body that version of me made.

"I see. If we were able to use this in battle, it would decrease the danger of the plan." (Trash)

Trash nods to himself, as he begins asking Rat various questions.

"Can it take in magic from the outside, and release it similar to the theory of Ritual Magic?" (Trash)

"An interesting thought. I'll test it out, but I ask you not to expect too much." (Rat)

On Trash's proposition, Rat takes out a diagram.

I'll have to pray that this will increase our forces however much it may...

"Rafu~?" (Raph-chan)

Oh? Raph-chan found me, and ran over.

Why can I tell? His voice is the one most similar to Raphtalia's.

Though it's a bit more childish.

I guess it's like the voice of Raphtalia when I got her long ago.

"Ta~li~?" (Raph-chan)

He seems to be worried about my injuries.

"I'm fine. Don't worry about it. You're the one who set up the barrier magic, so I thank you." (Naofumi)

"Li~ya!" (Raph-chan)

"... Naofumi-sama... please don't play around too much." (Raphtalia)

As I began petting Raph-chan all over, Raphtalia cautions me with an embarrassed expression.

Her reaction is interesting, so I want to continue, but since Raphtalia's saying it, I really should stop.

"Ah, right. Trash, This is one of the things I wanted to show you. Do you think you can use it?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, my wife told me it was a monster you created." (Trash)

"It's called a Raph. When I was possessed by a cursed Shield, I created it as a completely new breed of monster.” (Naofumi)

“I’ve seen it on the previous battlefield, There are a few variations of it, right?” (Trash)

“Yeah, the monsters of my village personally asked for modifications. They became new sorts of Raphs.” (Naofumi)

“I see…” (Trash)

“Rafu~?” (Raph-chan)

“He also wants to be used in battle. If you’re lacking manpower, go ahead and make use of them.” (Naofumi)

Honestly, the levels of Melromark’s soldiers are low in comparison to Faubley’s.

In close quarters, they would be at quite a disadvantage.

Of course, I intend to take applicants from my village as well, but we definitely don’t have large enough numbers.

So I think it’s time to deploy a new kind of monster.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 320 – Raph-chan

---

“Then what sort of ability do these children possess?” (Trash)

I turn my eyes to Rat.

“Their individual powers are all over the place. But… each one specializes in Illusion Magic.” (Rat)

Well they were modeled after Raphtalia.

And her specialty is illusions.

The specific category is apparently light and darkness, but she can become invisible, and affect enemy perception to lead them astray.

Raphtalia herself doesn’t use magic too much, though. She mainly focuses on sword skills.

“Users of Illusion Magic… I think I’ll be able to use them. And it looks like I can also depend on their strength.” (Trash)

“By the way, Marquis, about this child.” (Rat)

“What about him?” (Naofumi)

She speaks while pointing to Raph-chan.

“From what I see, that one seems a little different from the rest, but do you know anything about that?” (Rat)

“I’m not that knowledgeable either. He was hidden on the bottom of my carriage when we were going to Faubley. His level is also quite high.”
(Naofumi)

I look over his stats again.

… Why has it risen? It’s 90 now.

"Can I give it a quick examination? I don't think it'll let me hold it." (Rat)

"Sure. Stay still for a bit." (Naofumi)

"Rafu~?" (Raph-chan)

Rat begins performing light palpations on Raph-chan.

"Its fur, and its reaction to magic is different than the rest. I guess I should compare it to a Filo Rial's mutation to royalty." (Rat)

"Mutation, like Firo." (Naofumi)

So something influenced one of the Raphs I knew, and caused it to undergo a drastic change?

"What exactly is he?" (Naofumi)

"No idea..." (Rat)

"Hey, where did you come from?" (Naofumi)

"Rafu~." (Raph-chan)

He points in the direction of the sea.

In that direction is Sadina's secret base.

No, I understand that that's where you were made, but...

"It gives a proper response when asked. It seems quite smart." (Rat)

"Can you understand what it's trying to tell us?" (Naofumi)

"I can understand Mii-kun, and a portion of the monsters, but the Raphs you made purely from scratch are incomprehensible to me." (Rat)

"Rafu~." (Raph)

Raph-chan's making various gestures to illustrate its origin, but I don't believe the message is getting through.

However, I do hope that he never learns to speak like the Filo Rials.

"Well, it doesn't really matter. Can you do anything special? Are you the same as the rest? Is there a reason that you could use barrier magic back there?" (Naofumi)

I try asking.

Raph-chan tilts its head to one side, and begins thinking. He stands up on his hind legs, and crosses his front ones.

Uwah. That pose is cute.

Unlike a certain bird, he's not showing an excess amount of pushiness.

"Rafu~." (Raph-chan)

For some reason, Raph-chan points to Raphtalia, and starts walking towards her.

"Me?" (Raphtalia)

As he approaches, he swells his tail, and begins activating a skill.

All of the fur on its body stands on end...

With a poof... he transformed.

"Wha-"

Standing there, was a Raphtalia, much like she was when I first met her.

How nostalgic.

I had forgotten that she looked like this.

"Rafu~!" (Raph-chan)

Raph-chan raises both of his arms, as if to ask me to praise him...

But that's not the problem.

"Why are you naked!?" (Naofumi)

I avert my gaze.

"Is this a form of illusion magic?" (Rat)

Rat covers Raph-chan's body with her lab-coat. Raphtalia begins calming her down.

"For now, learn how to wear clothes, and how to walk around in them."
(Naofumi)

"Rafu~?" (Raph-chan)

Smoke surrounds her body, and clothes much like the ones Raphtalia is currently wearing appear.

Is this also an illusion?

Rat tries touching Raph-chan's face.

"Let's see. Is this an illusion so advanced that it can even deceive the sense of touch?" (Rat)

"Rafu~..." (Raph-chan)

As Rat continually pokes her body, Raph-chan lets out a sound indicating her dislike of it.

"Amazing. It's as if she's really there." (Rat)

"Rafu~!" (Raph-chan)

The mystery has deepened!

Just who is Raph-chan supposed to be?

His specs are much higher than any of the Raphs I know.

Rat may be correct in saying he's a special variant like Firo.

"Ara? The quality of the clothing illusion isn't that high. It's as if I'm touching his skin." (Rat)

"Rafu~." (Raph-chan)

It looks like it tickles. Raph-chan in Raphtalia (Little Girl) form runs, and hides behind me.

"Arara, he ran away." (Rat)

"Rafu~." (Raph-chan)

"Do you have any other abilities?" (Naofumi)

Raph-chan looks at Raphtalia again.

"I don't know why, but I'm getting a bad feeling about this..." (Raphtalia)

"Rafu~." (Raph-chan)

This time, she transforms to be identical to Raphtalia.

Amazing. His height and posture are identical to hers.

"Rafu~?" (Raph-chan)

I get the feeling that Raph-chan's form is a bit less defined than hers.

Well, Tanukis are supposed to be good at transforming, so perhaps this is supposed to be normal.

But I don't really like him taking on human form.

As if he had read my mind, Raph-chan changes back to Raph form.

Good boy. Unlike a certain bird over there, he can read the mood.

"So you can change into various things?" (Naofumi)

"Rafu~." (Raph-chan)

He gives a firm nod.

"I bet he's making it look like that with magic." (Rat)

Raph-chan turns his head, as if to deny the claim.

"Eh? Then you can actually transform?" (Naofumi)

Raph-chan shakes his head up and down.

Ku... that's right. The other me conducted strange experiments to try to reproduce Raphtalia.

So Raph-chan might actually have the ability to become her.

If he also got the ability to talk, it would be the birth of a new type of Filo Rial.

… What is it? I have a really bad premonition.

I get the feeling that they're going to be revered as divine beasts in the future.

"Rafu~." (Raph-chan)

Raph-chan sticks out his chest with pride, but I really hope he continues speaking like that.

"Anything else?" (Naofumi)

"Rafu~?" (Raph-chan)

On my request, Raph-chan begins thinking again.

"Can you grow like Mii-kun?" (Rat)

"Don't put in impossible requests." (Naofumi)

"Rafu~!" (Raph-chan)

On Rat's inquiry, Raph-chan transformed.

Oy… he turned into a bear-like Raph.

I think I saw a Raph like that in the village.

"Rafu~." (Raph-chan)

To put it clearly, he did not have any slime-like functions like Mii-kun. Raph-chan continued to gesture.

"Hmm…" (Naofumi)

I feel that I would be able to ride his back.

I actually like this one better.

If Firo stopped talking, I feel that I would be able to lean on her, and take a nice nap. Now this one can take that role.

This form looks like your friendly neighborhood youkai. (TL: Specifically, a certain Totoro)

At least, he gives off a feeling like that.

"How versatile." (Rat)

"Right." (Naofumi)

"Rafu~." (Raph-chan)

"..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia has a strange expression, and she hangs her head.

I mean, this monster was modelled after her, and heavily modified.

I kinda understand her feelings, but I don't hate this Raph.

"It seems he has quite a few abilities." (Trash)

Trash, who had been quiet up until now, spoke up.

"Yep." (Naofumi)

"Then would he be able to do something like this as well?" (Trash)

Trash offers a proposal to Raph-chan. I was also in agreement with the contents.

If all goes well, Raphtalia and Raph-chan will become significant players in this battle.

The problem is that that Raphtalia's expression seemed doubtful on hearing the plan.

If I were to be put in Raphtalia's place, I think I would feel the same.

No, since Raph-chan is good with illusions, perhaps I can take her place.

"Are we really doing that?" (Raphtalia)

"If we succeed, won't it be useful?" (Naofumi)

"Well, that's true." (Raphtalia)

"Rafu~." (Raph-can)

This Raph doesn't seem to call Rahtalia a fake.

Though he sometimes seem to come close to saying it.

After we practiced executing the plan, and managed to pull it off easily, Raphtalia's expression became even more depressed.

If we had just done it without practice, it probably would have been fine.

"Next is my village's fighting power. If you need anything built for the war, my Lemos should be able to make them." (Naofumi)

I would put in a request to Imya and her uncle.

They're skillful, and they're trustful of me.

"If we get them to work with those at the castle... understood. Iwatani-dono, your forces will be taken into account." (Trash)

"That helps. We're all counting on your strategy." (Naofumi)

"Leave it to me. Then after seeing your available combatants, let's go to the castle once more, and put our ideas together." (Trash)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

Like that, Trash began selecting forces from my village to participate in the war.

Since we would be fighting humans, Trash said that there were quite a few people who shouldn't participate even if they wanted to.

Since they did wish it, I went through some trouble calming them down.

But just as Trash said, many of their hands shook when it came down to it. They're fine with fighting monsters, but many people understood that they didn't have it in them to commit murder.

And I once again had to sooth the ones who couldn't go to war.

Looking at statistics, a large portion of our forces were unable to participate. The ratio of women in our village was high to begin with.

And while the night was drawing on, we used Ren to return to the castle.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 321 – Jealousy

---

“Ah, Naofumi-chan. Are your wounds healed already?”

I left today’s work to Trash, and went to rest early due to my recent injuries. But as I was back to my place, Sadina appeared from the ocean.

Why is that the first line everyone says when they see me?

I don’t really know myself, but were my wounds really that serious?

I was incapacitated for a few days, so I guess there’s no helping it.

“For the most part. And? Did you have some business with me?” (Naofumi)

“We’re going to war, right? This Onee-san wanted to make herself a bit more useful, so I went out to raise my level.” (Sadina)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

In the sea, she’s unmatched.

And when it comes down to war, she’ll make for excellent manpower.

What’s more, she seems to have anti-personnel battle experience, so I have a bit of confidence in her.

“So what level have you reached?” (Naofumi)

“95. I was able to venture deep into foreign, untamed regions!” (Sadina)

“Ah, yes, yes.” (Naofumi)

“And so…” (Sadina)

Sadina playfully approaches me, and speaks in my ear so Raphtalia won’t hear.

Why must she do something to purposely irritate her?

Well, she was kinda that sort of person anyways.

“Have your doubts cleared a bit?” (Sadina)

“… A little.” (Naofumi)

“I see. Ah, also, there’s something I’d like to report.” (Sadina)

“What”

“We’ll have to go to my secret island base. Oh, and bring a Lemo along.”
(Sadina)

Ah, right… Raph-chan did indicate that direction.

I’m a bit curious.

That structure named the Castle Plant…

It would be troublesome if it began acting on its own.

I’ll need to check it just in case.

“Rafu~?” (Raph-chan)

“Got it. There’s little time to spare, so lead the way.” (Naofumi)

“Then, Naofumi-chan.” (Sadina)

Sadina looks in Raphtalia’s direction, and gives a hand signal to me.

“Go on a date with me.” (Sadina)

By the way, the sky is already pitch black.

Raphtalia’s mostly oblivious of the content of our conversation.

This is bound to spring up some misunderstandings…

“Where do you plan on taking him?” (Raphtalia)

“Oh, my… What are you trying to make me say, Raphtalia-chan?” (Sadina)

“Naofumi-sama!” (Raphtalia)

Fumu… Raphtalia’s behavior is… jealousy… right?

It’s strange how that fact can make her actions seem kinda cute.

From the start, I did accept the fact that she was a bishojo, but I mean this in a different way.

The fact that I find teasing her like this fun may be because she’s like my daughter.

“That’s right. Ah, can you go ask Imya if she wants to join us?” (Naofumi)

The conversation follows Sadina's flow.

... For some reason, this pattern seems nostalgic.

Before I came to this world, I remember that I would often hop on board when other people were messing around.

Thinking back now, I wonder what I was trying to accomplish.

Haha... I can't laugh at the past Motoyasu anymore.

"Naofumi-sama!?" (Raphtalia)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"No... um... Where do you plan on going with Sadina-oneesan?" (Raphtalia)

Now how should I answer?

Just a month ago, I would have simply tilted my head, and answered, 'The Island'.

But now, I have a vague grasp of Raphtalia's feelings.

Since I have a bit of leeway, let's show a bit of appeal.

"On a date, right?" (Naofumi)

"Ara? You're taking me and Imya-chan out at the same time?" (Sadina)

"Yeah, let's bring Raph-chan along too." (Naofumi)

"Oh my. This sure is turning out to be quite the banquet of lust." (Sadina)

There's no end to this train.

Raphtalia firmly grasps my shoulder, starts releasing killing intent, and gives off a dangerous smile.

So I'm the one who's at fault here?

"Naofumi-sama? Can we have a little talk?" (Raphtalia)

"Well..." (Naofumi)

I'm not oblivious of her female heart.

But since Raphtalia became jealous, there were a few things that I wanted to test out.

I admit that it did feel mean.

"Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

"What could it be?" (Raphtalia)

"You... once the world is at peace, what will you do?" (Naofumi)

"Meaning?" (Raphtalia)

"You see, when I was on the line between life and death, I met some people. I met Atlas, and one who claimed to be the Spirit of my Shield."
(Naofumi)

I summed up my experiences before I regained consciousness to those present.

I was a bit embarrassed about my reason for deciding to stay, so I omitted it.

"So, when I return to my own world, I can take someone from herewith me." (Naofumi)

"I-is that true?" (Raphtalia)

Water is welling up in Raphtalia's eyes.

As I thought.

I don't know too much about the Legends of the past Heroes, but I bet there were a few that went to their home worlds.

I'm no exception. When I feel it's time to leave, I'll take her if she wants to go.

"So Raphtalia, what do you want to do?" (Naofumi)

"Ara..." (Sadina)

Sadina's eyes are showing clear signs of happiness.

She's having fun watching this scene.

The past me would have gotten angry at her. Definitely.

"Well... Um..." (Raphtalia)

"Will you stay in this world, and spend your days in peace here?" (Naofumi)

"..." (Raphtalia)

"Or will you follow me to my world, and live in a completely foreign land? I just wanted to ask that." (Naofumi)

"So the only option for Naofumi-chan is to return." (Sadina)

"Yeah. But if I left something unfinished, it would leave a bad taste in my mouth." (Naofumi)

"I..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia puts her hand on her chest, and takes a step forward.

"I believe that I want to stay by Naofumi-sama's side for however long I can." (Raphtalia)

"... I see." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia musters her courage, and answers.

"Understood." (Naofumi)

"Thank you." (Raphtalia)

"Then you can't really say anything against my outing with Sadina."
(Naofumi)

"...?" (Raphtalia)

"I mean, isn't that right? What's the legal age in this world?" (Naofumi)

"What?" (Raphtalia)

"Sadina, do you know?" (Naofumi)

"As soon as your parents or guardians recognize you as an adult, you will be treated as such. It also varies by the country, but Naofumi-chan's the lord here. What do you want to do with the village's law?" (Sadina)

"I banned love, but I'll loosen the regulations a bit." (Naofumi)

"Ara, how nice." (Sadina)

"And so, Raphtalia!" (Naofumi)

"Y-yes?" (Raphtalia)

"In my world, the legal age is 18 for men, and 16 for women. If you plan on coming to my world, you have to keep that in mind. Or else I'll get arrested." (Naofumi)

"...?" (Raphtalia)

It seems that it didn't hit home with her.

I guess the differences in worlds is like this. I went through some trouble when I came here too.

But if Raphtalia wants to accompany me to my world, she'll experience many things like this.

We'll need to practice beforehand.

"And in my world, I'm no Hero. Just a civilian. Life will be difficult, and I think we'll go through quite a few trials before we can establish a stable home and income." (Naofumi)

"N-Naofumi-sama?" (Raphtalia)

"In that place, getting permission to marry a minor, and building a family will be difficult." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia's face is getting paler by the minute.

But remember this. This is really important.

First and foremost, Raphtalia doesn't have any family register documents, and I have no idea what to do about her ears and tail.

I can't have her hide them with magic forever, so it'll be quite a task.

Even if the Shield adapts the world a bit, that won't do anything to affect her actual age.

Though we may be able to use its power to make life a bit easier.

"To summarize, Raphtalia, your age is a hurdle if you want to marry me in my world." (Naofumi)

"T-that can't be!" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia loses her words, and takes a step back.

Even if she looks like an adult Bishojo, she really is a kid.

But if I subtract from her estimated age, she'll only have to wait for 5-6 years.

If it's just that much, I'll wait for her.

I also want to see her wearing a school uniform.

I'll bet the Shield will grant at least this much.

"But for those that aren't coming to my world, they're already treated as adults here. It's 100% legal for me to date them, and I also have Atlas's will. I've started to believe that I'll have to answer their feelings a bit. Thinking about the future, this isn't the same as what the Queen wanted, but it isn't bad, is it?" (Naofumi)

If she gives birth to the child of the Hero, the country will guarantee her at least the most basic of rights.

That's something the people who said they liked me will have to consider down the road.

I'm not ecstatic about it, but I don't have the discomfort I felt before.

"B-but..." (Raphtalia)

"And so, Naofumi-chan is everyone's. I'm going to go on a date, and then do some fun things with him." (Sadina)

"N-no... Naofumi-sama!" (Raphtalia)

I guess I'll leave it at this.

Raphtalia looks like she's about to cry, and her hand is shaking as she extends it towards me.

"By the way, that was a joke." (Naofumi)

"... What?" (Raphtalia)

"It seems Sadina found something on her secret base, so we're taking Imya and Raph-chan to investigate it." (Naofumi)

Yes. I think I've gained a greater understanding of the psychology of popular boys.

Those three idiots that got stuck up in the fact that they were heroes. I think I understand their thoughts a bit more.

But even though I said such things to Raphtalia, I don't think she's enjoying it.

I had quite a bit of fun, though.

I mean, for the sake of the people in the village, doing something like this might make for a better result down the road.

I stroke Raphtalia's face.

"But you need to be conscious of it as well, Raphtalia. It really is difficult to live in my world... no. If you compare it to this world, holding onto your life is but a simple task. But there are so many systems and institutions that there's little room to breathe. So many that a large majority of the Heroes chose to live their lives in this world. You may regret it, you know."

(Naofumi)

"... Even so, I want to live with you." (Raphtalia)

"Yeah. I've always told you that I don't intend on staying in this world."

(Naofumi)

It's not as if I don't have any attachment, but my will to return is strong. If Raphtalia were to stay by my side, I would be able to return to my world without hesitation.

"Yes, I've a good understanding of the extent of Naofumi-sama's resolve."

(Raphtalia)

"And so, I need to think of all the ones in the village we'll leave behind. What I have to do, you understand right? Though this time, it was a joke."

(Naofumi)

"... Yes. I thought I had already understood it from Atlas-san's words."

(Raphtalia)

"So please be a little open-minded. The time will come someday."

(Naofumi)

"Understood. By the way, is it true that there's a problem with my age?"

(Raphtalia)

"That's right. Until it actually comes down to it, I'm not really sure. The Shield might make accommodations for it." (Naofumi)

On my answer, Raphtalia gives an expression of relief, and she drops her hand from her chest.

“Raphtalia, if you’re bothered by it, do you want to follow us here?”

(Naofumi)

“I wouldn’t recommend it, Naofumi-chan, I mean, we’ll be doing something fun afterwards.” (Sadina)

I drive Sadina away by flicking my hand, and ask Raphtalia once more.

“Yes, let’s go.” (Raphtalia)

“Got it.” (Naofumi)

Raphtalia prepares herself, and I go to get Imya.

We walk to the small boat anchored at the coast.

“Rafu~?” (Raph-chan)

I continue thinking as I rub Raph-chan.

He can change shape to be identical to Raphtalia, right?

In the future, will I be doing various indecent things with Raphtalia?

What should I do if she tells me I’m no good at it? I pause my hand on Raph-chan’s head.

Should I… gain experience with the villagers?

Just thinking it makes me want to kill myself.

“Ta~li~?” (Raph-chan)

In that respect, an identical model may make for a good test subject.

Raphtalia’s weak points are…

“… Naofumi-sama? What are you thinking as you pat Raph-chan?”

(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia grabs my shoulder.

The top half of her face is covered in shadows for some reason. My spine is giving way. The muscles in my body turn to ice.

“Rafuu…” (Raph-chan)

Raph-chan has both of his hands on his face. He looks down in embarrassment.

Are my thoughts really that easy to read?

Well, they were usually quite vile, so there’s no helping if she gets angry with me.

Anyways, we reached the island.

As always the sight of the ruins I built is poison to my eyes.

Honestly, the island’s unrecognizable from the time I first came here.

Sadina leads us to a hilly area.

“Here is it.” (Sadina)

What was there, was a small hole… but it was strangely deep.

It’s size is around…

“Rafu~?” (Raph-chan)

Yep, just enough to fit Raph-chan, and its depth is.. it’s too dark to tell.

“Raphtalia.” (Naofumi)

“Ah, yes.” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia creates a light with magic, and drops it down the hole.

… I saw a portion of the tunnel, but it extends much further.

Just how far does it go?

I see, so this is why we needed a Lemo.

Normally, I would have ignored this, but this might be the result of the other me's research.

I can't have some strange creature popping up, and causing havoc.

"Rafu~?" (Raph-chan)

"Imya, can you dig around for a bit?" (Naofumi)

"Y-yes!" (Imya)

Imya responds twice to my question, and nods. She begins casting magic.

『I, who has understood the origin of power command. Let the truth be read forth once more. Grant me the power to rend the earth.』

「Earth Blow」

Magic solidifies around the nails on both of Imya's hands.

"Then I'll be going." (Imya)

She starts digging out the ground.

"The more magic I put in, the easier it is to dig." (Imya)

Imya seems proud as she digs.

Amazing. The earth is breaking like pudding before her.

As expected, you should call a specialist for a special job. I was right to ask a mole-like Demi-Human

After a bit of digging, Imya popped out of the hole.

"Um, something seems to be buried really deep down." (Imya)

"Can you bring it up?" (Naofumi)

"It's too big... and it seems its of plant origin, so it's already decaying."
(Imya)

"I see." (Naofumi)

So it was made of Bioplant.

Do we have any hints as to its use?

“Ah, but I picked up the magical device that seemed to be its core.” (Imya)

Imya hands me a fragment of a stone.

This is… part of a stone tablet, right?

I remember the one Rat tapped on.

“Thanks.” (Naofumi)

I praise Imya as she gets out of the hole, and brushes the dirt off of her body. Imya scratches her head in embarrassment.

“No, it wasn’t much.” (Imya)

“Imya, is there anyone you like?” (Naofumi)

“Eh? N-no…” (Imya)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

I’ll have to circle the village, and ask slowly.

“Ta~li~?” (Raph-chan)

“So where did you come from?” (Naofumi)

I ask Raph-chan once more.

… He’s pointing to the hole. But it was quite obvious.

“I guess this is all we’ll find out today.” (Naofumi)

In a few days, we’ll be fighting.

This may be a… waste of time, but I’ll have Rat investigate it. We may find something useful.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 322 – The Eighth Generation

---

I immediately returned to the village with the Cane's portal, and went to Rat, who was busy constructing her Carriage-type body for Mii-kun. It would be nice if I got some good info out of this.

"There is a strange stone embedded in it. Do you understand anything about it, Marquis?" (Rat)

"I can't understand anything about the time I turned strange." (Naofumi)

Apparently, I was really smart, but that doesn't matter.

And wait, if I was able to grasp something about this, it would actually be amazing.

"Rafu~?" (Raph-chan)

"Do you know anything?" (Naofumi)

I ask Raph-chan, but there's no way he'll give an answer.

Is what I thought, but he let out a meek voice, and nodded.

"Rafu~." (Raph-chan)

Raph-chan jumps on top of the tablet we were analyzing, and beckons Raphtalia to come closer.

"This again... Why do I have such a bad premonition..." (Raphtalia)

"Even if you say that, it's best if we investigated it, right?" (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Raphtalia)

Raph-chan makes Raphtalia touch the tablet, and the rock around the stone begins to recede. The stone is on its way out.

The scene was quite Sci-fi.

"Oh."

With his tail held high, Raph-chan puts his hands in the newly-made hole, and begins decoding something, but after a while, a large X mark popped up, and it seems that he can't make any more progress with it.

"To get it out, we may need Raphtalia-san's DNA. Next is... the part Raph-chan managed to decrypt himself." (Rat)

To see what RAph-chan was stuck on, Rat started violently tapping on the keyboard.

"Ara. It's asking for a password. What's more, its protecting the most vital information." (Rat)

Password... I never thought I would hear such a word in this Fantasy Parrallel World.

But will we be able to crack the code?

It would be nice if there was a hint somewhere...

"Do you think ou can crack it?" (Naofumi)

"I think it would be simple if Mii-kun returned. You did make him so he was able to freely alter things like this." (Rat)

"Rafu~." (Raph-chan)

Raph-chan shakes his head left and right.

"He says it won't work." (Naofumi)

"Really... Ah, I see the system Mii-kun's equipped with installed here. This is an artificial lifeform in the shape of a stone tablet. I guess it won't work." (Rat)

"That so?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah. It's something made of the same design as Mii-kun. A conscious Fire-Wall system." (Rat)

Net terms are starting to pop up in this Fantasy. And it's of the same type as mii-kun... I guess we're out of our area of expertise.

"If we engaged it and won, that would be nice, but it may be designed to self-destruct upon death." (Rat)

"So force won't work..." (Naofumi)

After getting all the way here, going any further is impossible...

For it to be protected this carefully, it must be hiding something extremely important.

"You get three tries at the password. Marquis is the one who made it, so do you have any ideas?" (Rat)

"Even if you ask me... Wouldn't it just be 'Raphtalia', or something?" (Naofumi)

"It would be nice if it was something simple like that." (Rat)

Rat enters Raphtalia's name into the tablet.

The board beeps, and gives a warning sound.

"Yes, first try failed." (Rat)

"What should we do..." (Naofumi)

"We have two left." (Rat)

We'll give do all or nothing bet, and have Mii-kun try to access it anyways when we're down to one.

Now about the strange me... He made this when he thought Raphtalia was dead.

If I looked from that perspective...

Until recently, I was quite dense.

I thought of Raphtalia as my daughter, so perhaps that Password's in that direction.

"Try inputting, 'To my beloved daughter'." (Naofumi)

"What's with that phrase!? Who is whose father!?" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia's retort was on the mark.

But that's what came to mind, so there's no helping it.

"... It worked..." (Rat)

"Naofumi-sama..." (Raphtalia)

"Nope, not my fault." (Naofumi)

Daughter... she is my skillful right hand man, and she doesn't have any parents, so sometimes I do think I'm acting as their replacement.

There's no mistake.

Looking at the information that was displayed, Rat nodded.

"Fumufumu... It seems you had the Bioplant continue the research for the Eighth Generation of Raphs. You prepared it just in case you were to perish."

(Rat)

"Rafu?" (Raph-chan)

"This child's existence in itself is a sort of black box. His directive is unknown." (Rat)

"You weren't able to decode it?" (Naofumi)

"You need a higher authority than Mii-kun to control this one. If we tried to touch the stone, it would have fallen to pieces. It seems this child knew that." (Rat)

"And? Just what is he?" (Naofumi)

"A completed sample of the Eighth Generation. The Raphtalia that you were trying to bring to this world. Or perhaps he would be the threshold between Raphtalia and Raph." (Rat)

"Rafu~!" (Raph-chan)

As if he's saying, 'What do 'ya think about me now?' Raph-chan sticks out his chest with pride.

Ah, yes, yes.

I know that you're amazing.

There's no helping it, so I start patting his head.

"The Eighth Generation..." (Raphtalia)

"His specs are in a different dimension from the Seventh Generation." (Rat)

"Really?" (Naofumi)

"The time it took you to make the first through the seventh generations was only a week, you know. If this plant were to continue that research without rest for all this time... what do you think would happen?" (Rat)

Let's see. I was defeated at Raphtalia's hands, and about two and a half weeks passed before I met Raph-chan...

"Though the continuation was conducted by AI, it had quite a bit of success. It also seems that if the Raphs naturally carried on the cycle of life, one like this would be born someday." (Rat)

It somehow... sounds like a manga I read a while ago.

A researcher was killed by his own test subject, but a computer continued to finish his research.

Anyways, regardless of the outcome, an Eighth Generation would have been born...

"Uwah..." (Rat)

"What's up?" (Naofumi)

"It looks like all of the Raphs are connected. When greater power is required, they can pool their abilities, and the EXP they get is redistributed to this one... you're also included in that EXP pool, Marquis." (Rat)

Is it that?

When the curse was taking away my gained EXP, it was flowing to Raph-chan along with the other Raphs?

The reason Raph-chan's level was so high, and why it arbitrarily continued to rise, was because he was getting EXP from the other Raphs.

"If he wanted to speak human tongue, I think he could. I mean, with these specs, it's more than possible." (Rat)

"Rafu?" (Raph-chan)

"Can you speak?" (Rat)

"Rafu~?" (Raph-chan)

He's tilting his head.

Is he playing dumb...? No, it doesn't seem that way.

"It appears to understand your situation... does it really not have speech capability?" (Rat)

Since he sensed that I don't really like talking monsters, he decided not to develop speech?

The reason he fit a lot of my preferences was this?

"So if I taught him, he could?" (Naofumi)

"It's a possibility." (Rat)

Rat continues to read off the deciphered information.

"It seems you spliced some Filo Rial data into here too. You used their shape changing function as reference." (Rat)

"Ah, so that's why he can change form." (Naofumi)

"Yes, him changing form to Raphtalia was something like that. And that was your goal in the first place, so it goes without saying." (Rat)

Well, I did have a vague idea that it was something like that.

I mean, the research was intended to replicate and revive her.

"... Why did I take such a roundabout path, without making a Homunculus?" (Naofumi)

"That's a mystery. But as a fellow alchemist, it's not like I don't understand what you were trying to do." (Rat)

"How so?" (Naofumi)

"I told you why I stopped considering remaking Mii-kun as a Homunculus, right? By that Marquis's logic, a Homunculus is but a Homunculus. He wanted to make the real one, so he couldn't do that." (Rat)

"And so... Isn't this the same thing?" (Naofumi)

"Then let's do an experiment. Raph-chan, where did you first meet the count? 1. Near this village, 2. Somewhere else." (Rat)

Rat randomly picks up some stones, and lines them into a row of 1, and a row of 2.

Raph-chan goes and sits down by Row 2.

"Well... that's true." (Naofumi)

I mean, he's right.

"You probably continued to correct your research as you strove to create the real one. This should have led him to have some fabricated memories and experiences in his body." (Rat)

"That Naofumi-sama... thought about it that much." (Raphtalia)

"..." (Naofumi)

I have no idea what I was thinking back then, but I guess that's true.

And wait, just how much did I like Raphtaila?

Did I plan to take the organism I created myself, and make it my girlfriend?

Even so, the password was, 'To my beloved daughter'.

"It's good that Raph-chan understands, but if handled poorly, there was a chance he could have swapped places with the original." (Rat)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 323 - Change Raph

---

“Eh…” (Raphtalia)

Ah, Raphtalia’s smile became stiff.

Well it would be eerie if a creature that looked exactly like you were to put on a pretense and take your place.

It’s that. It’s similar to a doppelgänger.

When I think about it like that, it seems like a creepy being so it’s quite bizarre.

However there’s a distinction. They feel different.

Somehow the real Raphtalia differs a little from my ideal, and it feels better to pet Raph-chan.

In the end, there’s a gap between my ideal and the real Raphtalia.

“I can tell them apart when I pet them though.” (Naofumi)

“To pet Raphtalia enough to distinguish between them, you say~ even Onee-san is getting embarrassed~” (Sadina)

“That’s right… the reason I can tell the difference is because I’ve been travelling with Raphtalia until now.” (Naofumi)

“Naofumi-sama, that conversation is getting…” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia’s face turned red.

As usual, it seems that she’s not good with this subject.

“Then Raph-chan can become Raphtalia-chan’s body double, right~”
(Sadina)

Sadina said some unnecessary… well, it might be good to consider that.

To even reproduce Raphtalia’s memories… certainly, that may be more advanced than just making a homunculus.

That route is wrong though.

“Rafu~” (Raph-chan)

“Geh.. she’s even compatible with Mii-kun’s body. The affinity is the worst… she can possess Mii-kun.” (Rat) [T/N: I’m going with female because Raph-chan is Raphtalia’s clone.. kinda]

“Don’t you dare hurt her.” (Naofumi)

“I won’t. However, I won’t let it go if she does possess Mii-kun.” (Rat)

“Ria~” (Raph-chan)

Raph-chan nodded once, as if she understood Rat's threat.

Somehow she seems to have good perceptiveness.

"On that note, I'm having you finish making that carriage-type body, but she seems to be helpful. (Naofumi)

"Yes, she can even activate the cells so the efficiency of my work should be increased." (Rat)

"That's good. Even if it's just that, it's productive." (Naofumi)

"Ah, Marquis, if you're going to raise that child then you should Class her up properly. She should almost be at her limit." (Rat)

"Got it." (Naofumi)

Nevertheless, to Class Up at Level 90, huh.

I originally thought this in Gaelion's case as well, but what's the principle behind transcending the Class Up limit?

...What comes to mind is that it's because the one being leeched off has had a Class Up maybe? [T/N: Wrath dragon stole Firo's exp and levels but Gaelion didn't Class Up until afterwards]

Like this, Raph-chan's identity was established.

So she's the legacy of the crazy me.

I didn't expect anything other than combat.

By the way, this is something I learned later, but the Raphs with a higher ranked position have power, just like the Filorials. [T/N: Raph Queens (/Kings)]

It looks like the low ranked Raph obey them.

"Ah, I discovered an interesting project." (Rat)

"What is it?" (Naofumi)

"Marquis, you had Filorial familiars if I'm not mistaken." (Rat)

"Yeah, they come out even though I don't call them." (Naofumi)

""Pii!"" (Filorial Familiars)

They appeared as if they were called.

"Try giving one to Raph-chan." (Rat)

"Hm?" (Naofumi)

When I transfer one over, Raph-chan held the little Filorial with both hands.

Just like a raccoon.

"Rafu~" (Raph-chan)

...What the hell?

"Pii." (Filorial familiar)

And then a short while later it turned into a little Raph.

...Huh?

"Let's see..." (Rat)

Familiar: Raph was learnt.

Mode Change: Raph was learnt.

Familiar Change was learnt.

"As I expected, it looks like it worked." (Rat)

"What is this?" (Naofumi)

"Rafu!" (Familiar)

The little Raph started dancing with the Filorial familiar.

It's slightly bigger than the familiar.

"To summarise, this is the Expanding the Marquis's Abilities Plan? It seems there's a variety of things that are possible like the Filorials." (Rat)

"Ah.. I see." (Naofumi)

"If you wanted to restore it... it seems like you can use something to change it back but do you know, Marquis?" (Rat)

"For the time being."

I try using Familiar Change.

The familiar that turned into a Raph became a Filorial.

I see, so Raphs can also change into Filorials depending on the situation it's used in...

It's quite elaborate.

I haven't finished analysing it but it's something like this." (Rat)

“What kind of creature Raph-chan is…. I’ve also learnt a lot.” (Naofumi)

“Rafu~” (Raph-chan)

Raph-chan bows her head.

Is that slate your instruction manual or something.

“What’s the danger of a second or third Raph-chan being born?” (Naofumi)

“There’s none here but….” (Rat)

It’s not safe…. while thinking that, I leave the laboratory with Raphtalia.

Ah, Sadina and Raph-chan are also with us.

After this is…. there’s someone I need to speak to alone.

“Come to think of it, Granny’s son… where is he?” (Naofumi)

“He’s training with everyone.”

Right, Granny had a son.

He had been captivated by Granny’s fancy movements.

However, I mustn't forget.

Granny's death is unconfirmed at present... but the party formation is already...

"I want to speak to him alone. Please don't follow me." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Raphtalia)

I suppose Raphtalia, the Female Knight and Fohl have conversed with him.

It's getting considerably late. It's time for the villagers to finish training and head to bed.

At this time of day, many of the older slaves, like Sadina, and the soldiers staying in the village would be having a drink in the Dining Hall.

I make my way to the Dining hall, if he wasn't there then I'd head to the house I assigned to Granny.

Luckily, Granny's son was drinking alcohol.

"Is this taken?" (Naofumi)

I point to the seat beside the Granny's son.

“...Go ahead.” (Son)

Granny’s son nodded so I sat down.

“.....”

Silence rules the surroundings.

“I’m sorry I couldn’t protect your mother.” (Naofumi)

I break the silence and apologise.

When I do, Granny’s son puts down his glass and looks downward, absorbed in thought.

“No...” (Son)

Granny’s son sinks into silence.

The silence is heavy.

"I heard from Raphtalia and the others. I think mother would be satisfied."
(Son)

"But.." (Naofumi)

Before I could reply, Granny's son intercepts me with a gentle smile.

"My mother didn't originally plan to leave behind the Hengen Musou style. Apparently a lot of things happened when she was younger." (Son)

"I also heard about that." (Naofumi)

"However... she wanted to personally help with the Hero of the Shield-sama's efforts and made the decision to let someone succeed the school that she didn't even teach me." (Son)

"Come to think of it... I didn't see you fighting that much." (Naofumi)

He's dressed like what might not be normally understood as a soldier.

At first, I had thought he was a villager.

"Yeah... and I didn't even know that my mother was such a famous person."
(Son)

"Speaking of which... what about your father?" (Naofumi)

From what I've seen, Granny and her son look as distant as grandmother and grandson, rather than parent and child.

"I'm an orphan. So I'm not related to my mother by blood." (Son)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

"Hero of the Shield-sama." (Son)

"What is it?" (Naofumi)

"The Hero of the Shield-sama saved my mother's life. And so she said she wouldn't have any regrets no matter when she was to die, because the Hero of the Shield-sama bestowed her time."

This is... tough.

Fohl is also the same, but I never thought there would be times where I'd consider it better to be hated.

"Because she met the Hero of the Shield-sama, my mother shined the brightest I've ever seen. That's why I only feel gratitude towards the Hero of the Shield-sama. If my mother sacrificed herself to let everyone escape and so the Hero of the Shield-sama could live, then..." (Son)

"....." (Naofumi)

"We spent all our savings to purchase Yggdrasil medicine to extend her life but... if it was just me, I'm sure mother wouldn't have been able to live as long as she did. The time was increased, I was taught to fight and got stronger because of the Hero of the Shield-sama's miracle." (Son)

Fohl also said something similar.

Yggdrasil medicine, that medicine... it gave me a bitter duty.

It's karma.

"Hengen Musou is a style that exists for weak people to destroy the evil. My mother didn't die in vain. Hero of the Shield-sama, please, my mother's will... let us succeed it. So if you're troubled, take a step forward, you don't have to worry about me." (Son)

"But..." (Naofumi)

"I have a dream. The part of the Hengen Musou style that was lost when my mother was lost, that part... I believe it will be resurrected if it's here. So, Hero-sama... Please let me join you in fighting to protect the world. For my mother's sake as well." (Son)

"...I understand. I don't know when you might die though? Are you still fine with that?" (Naofumi)

"The Hengen Musou style will live on through this village. Even if I end up dying, it won't be a complete death." (Son)

"Is that so, you're strong." (Naofumi)

In that case, I will live up to her wishes.

I will defeat Tact with the Hengen Musou style.

After that, I exchanged a few drinks with Granny's son and then retired to bed.

In a few days, the war and wave will come.

The preparations are complete. I've done all that I need to.

And thus, the war began.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 324 – The King of Wisdom

---

“Are the preparations in order?” (Naofumi)

“Yes, Iwatani-dono.” (Trash)

The wave is coming… and at the same time, Faubley will attack. I’m speaking to Trash in the castle.

“You sure are good at thinking up plans.” (Naofumo)

From the day after the meeting, we’ve been meeting with Trash, and preparing for his operations.

Of course, we also train ourselves when we’re free.

Even if Heroes have no level limit, it’s impossible for us to overtake the level 350 Tact in the time we have.

But we have our own trump card.

Using the knowledge I gained, Trash, and Fohl’s Seven Star weapon, we’ve put our final plan together.

The country’s Dragon Hourglass is almost empty.

If you look over the walls of Melromark’s castle town, you can see Faubley’s army encroaching from the distance.

Yesterday, one of Melromark’s forts fell into their hands.

It’s likely that they’re using it as their base of operations right now.

But that was within Trash’s predictions.

Me, Ren, Motoyasu and Itsuki memorized the plan, and practiced to adapt it depending on the situation.

By the way, the ones who will be confronting Tact’s army are me and Ren.

The other two will deal with the wave.

Trash is responsible for giving orders for the battles on both fronts.

Ah, Fohl's with my team.

Rishia is going off with Itsuki.

The Heroes have divided in half to combat two forces.

Raphtalia and Firo, Raph-chan, Gaelion, and Sadina are going to go with my team.

Kiel and the other villagers are participating too. Those who can't bring themselves to combat human being are going to the wave.

The Filo Rials have been distributed as needed.

The Raph Squad will be moving as a detached corp.

The rest is up to you, Trash.

I can only pray that the measures in the sky will go well

"Iwatani-dono, at most, this will..." (Trash)

"I know." (Naofumi)

I had made light of Trash, but with this much, I can go into battle with some confidence.

At the very least, the success rate is a bit higher than my estimate.

It's best to leave this planning to those specialized in it.

As long as everyone does their part, I can at least say the result won't be a bad one.

No, I won't let us reach a bad ending.

"It's almost time." (Trash)

"Yeah..." (Naofumi)

With the meeting over, I lightly swing the cane in my hand. And I proceeded forward.

—

A few hours later.

Tact looked down on Melromark from a terrace on the fort he had captured. A black smoke was rising above the castle town.

"Status Update!" (Soldier)

He was surrounded by women, as he looked upon the battlefield. His expression completely portrayed his foreseen victory. He knew that the status report would be in his favor. And in reality, it was.

"Through the application of Tact-sama's new weapon, and plan, Melromark's capital has successfully been occupied by our soldiers. Their command structure is in chaos. It appears that all of their heroes were transported away to fight a wave. A few of them abandoned the wave, and desperately rushed back, and they are engaging with your forces, but they are severely outnumbered. It's only a matter of time before this war draws to its conclusion." (Soldier)

"Fufufu, as I thought. This formation has yet to see failure. They're no exception: this is their limit." (Tact)

"As expected of Tact-sama!"

"Amazing!" (Bitch)

"There's no army in this world that can withstand that fusillade!"

"They cannot raise a hand to the aerial bombardment and troop deployment that Tact-sama proposed."

"Don't praise me so much. This is also for the world; for the people. Let's end this war swiftly, and bring an end to that country governed by nothing but Trash." (Tact)

A slight smile surfaces on Tact's face as he declares this.

"Yes, I want to see those Heroes' executions already." (Bitch)

"I understand, Malty. There's no way I'd let the people who put you through such horrors live in this world." (Tact)

"Ah, Tact-sama." (Bitch)

"But it's not interesting if everything goes this smoothly. I guess there's fun to be found in a certain victory too. Especially if it was based on my plan.”

(Tact)

“Yes.”

“Exactly.” (Bitch)

“Hahahaha!” (Tact)

His loud laugh echoed through the empty halls.

“… Oh, right. That was a lie.” (Soldier)

“What?” (Tact)

Tact halts his laughter, and turns to the soldiers that came to report… no, he turns to us.

His security… was a joke.

To be more specific, we had already registered this building as a destination for our portal.

We easily infiltrated, and got all the way here by simply pretending to be scouts.

We got a few sets of Faubley Scout uniforms from our connections to the Dark Guild.

Faubley’s a country with a bit of history, so goods like that circulate easily.

“Are you an idiot? Do you think messengers come in groups like this?”

(Naofumi)

Tact is taken aback as we remove the illusion surrounding us.

Firo, Gaelion and Sadina are already in their battle forms.

Raph-chan… is as he is.

He managed to hide us with magic easily.

He’s riding hidden on Raphtalia’s back.

With Raphtalia and Raph-chan working together, they were able to cast illusion magic strong enough to even mask scent.

Illusions aren't just something of the eyes.

And it seems that Tact's sharp nosed Harem Members didn't even sense us.

"You seem to be laughing quite happily. I'm sorry, but that smoke you see over there is the result of your plane being turned into a ball of fire."

(Naofumi)

"That can't be! What about Lurina!?" (Tact)

Right, by Trash's idea, Tact's deployed airplanes should have been shot down.

I mean, I'm just saying what Trash told me to say here. I had no time to check Melromark.

Anyways, the report turned from fortune to disaster.

No... it's our fortune.

Right now, the planes should be colliding with the large collection of Graweick ore Trash set above Melromark's airspace.

(TL: See Chapter 292)

An early airplane's demerit is that it can't make sudden turns.

So with those in place, the bombarding became impossible.

Rocks that fly in this world aren't exactly rare, so they were probably trained to avoid them. But that's where the Raphs came in.

Their ability to conceal things is unusually high.

Using something like Choral Magic, they amplified their abilities, and made it so that nothing could be seen in Melromark's skies.

Luckily, today's weather is nice.

At a glance, it looks like the perfect day for a flight.

If only there weren't any giant invisible rocks floating everywhere.

Of course, there's plans for if that's not enough to stop them.

If they still try dropping soldiers from the ore, we have all of Melromark's mages ready with wind and Gravity magic.

Because Parachutes are as the look.

If the unfolded part gets damaged beyond use, you fall, and die.

They probably do implement a form of wind magic to slow their descent, but the gravity magic increases their terminal velocity beyond a controllable point.

What's more, our side is still bombarding them with magic and arrows, so even if they do survive, they won't get off unharmed.

The factor we were worried about, the flying Demi-Humans... and Tact's Gryphon. They're all here.

Which means that there are few troublesome opponents on Trash's side. The easy victories we let him face on Melromark territory made him negligent.

For once, the wind is blowing in our favor.

"H-how!?" (Tact)

"I have no intentions of explaining my plan to you. If I had to say, then it's because you forgot about our renowned King of Wisdom." (Naofumi)

"Damn!" (Tact)

Tact's followers take out guns, and prepare themselves.

"According to that king, your plan was the lowest of the low. Your decisions were also the worst." (Naofumi)

Apparently, this right here was the most foolish thought on Tact's part. The idea that we would never make it this far... he said.

The most dangerous possibility I saw was Tact himself standing at the vanguard of his forces but Trash said it would also be poorly planned out. Well, our plan was to use the Heroes to round up all their dangerous ones at once, so it's not anything amazing.

And before the battle started, Trash said as such:

『He's chosen the most foolish choice of the ones I surmised... It's as if he's just asking you to take his important pieces. Is he trying to lure us in? No, perhaps he's just perhaps he's underestimating us... okay, if it turns out to be a trap, then pretend to be caught, and observe his attitude. If it's not, then it'll end with this move.』 (Trash)

Or something like that, but I wonder if that move will show its effects soon. But that's fine.

I just have to do what I've been assigned to do.

I'll entrust the rest of the battlefield to Trash.

Since we've come this far, then at the very least, we won't go down without a fight.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 325 - Provocation

---

Now then, if you're wondering how we got here so fast, we left the matter of the wave completely to Motoyasu and Itsuki. The other Heroes went and registered at Zeltburg's hourglass.

Their dragon hourglass is managed by the country, but with Itsuki's membership in the Dark Guild, and the Slave Dealer's connections, we managed to get through.

And Heroes get a free pass to things like this.

The Hero in Zeltburg was killed a while ago, and the upper echelon of their government had their pride, so they happily cooperated.

The country's mercenary guild was also happy to help, and talking them over was too easy.

Apparently the murder of their hero was like smearing dirt on the name of mercenaries everywhere.

I guess that's what you get from the Hero of the land of Hired Swords.

I must offer my thanks to the late Hero of Zeltburg.

If you have money, you can make any sort of contract. That's where Tact's world domination plot falls short.

My side had the Slave Dealer from the start, and even the influential Accessory Merchant.

I also met the Swindler after a long time, and he seems to be raking in quite a bit.

Also, the noble Elena Haven-sama (lol) was led by her father to help Trash in the battlefield.

The individual herself seemed really reluctant, but if she does well, she'll get promoted, and she'll get more money. (TL: The lol is in the original text)

『If I get promoted, you're just going to push more troublesome matters onto me, so I refuse.』

Is what she said.

I'm not doing troublesome things like being a Hero or a Lord because I like it.

But as a merchant, Elena is supporting the country, so if the country comes out on top, the amount of troublesome work for her will increase.

Not that I care about her...

Anyways, this is the limit of suppression by force... Tact never had the resolve to set forth alongside death.

Right now, I have my doubts, but that's what I was doing.

My villagers are participating in this war, and those from Silt Welt as well. But it seems they have their own matters to settle, and some bad blood with Shield Freiden.

They're applying numerous tactics.

The Gramps who was commanding Silt Welt's army had a strange smile on his face as he saw Trash at work.

『I never even dreamed that my sworn enemy, the King of Wisdom, would become my ally. We truly were fighting quite a monster.』

He muttered to himself.

By the way, their forces are great at close quarters.

Due to the danger of an information leak, Trash didn't reveal much of his planning.

He said something about using a special system of communications to command the battle.

All we have to do is focus on taking down the enemy general.

If you beat Tact earlier than expected, go off and reinforce the Anti-Wave force, or so I was told.

I'm not sure if he's looking down on his enemy, or he knows something I don't.

For all further questions, go ask Trash's brain.

Is he supposed to be some sort of literary genius tactician?

When things go this well, I'm wondering if he's some sort of Esper.

"Then all I have to do is step on the battlefield, and slaughter everyone."

(Tact)

"Oh, I can't have you forgetting about us." (Naofumi)

Tact pulls out the Claw. It seems he'll rush off at any moment

I'll stop him. I'm here to defeat him in the first place.

And an army without orders is nothing more than a useless gathering.

For Trash to be able to do this much... Well, I haven't actually looked at the war situation, so I don't know about that.

"Do you think that people of your caliber will be able to do anything against me?" (Tact)

"Isn't it obvious? This is the Bad End Event that your life's led you to. All that's left is for you to contemplate which selection you made wrong as you wait for your Game Over." (Naofumi)

He appears to be acting calm, but it's become interesting seeing just how warped his expression is.

It's not like we came here with no plan at all.

We're here because we have an ample chance of victory.

"What are you saying? How splendid. You all came here in order to give your powers to me, right? I'll at least play with you." (Tact)

A clicking sound rings out as Tact's harems point and load their guns at us.

"And? You're going to do something as unfair as weakening us with a firing brigade before you go in for the kill?" (Naofumi)

That line was Trash's proposal.

Tact seems offended as he furrows his brow.

"It may sound nice if you label it as something like resourcefulness, but it's cowardliness in its essence." (Naofumi)

It's not like I don't have countermeasures for it, though.

"... Very well. I'm more than enough for people of your level. The level 350 me." (Tact)

Fumu. The provocation worked.

It seems he has a sense of fairness like an average person.

Or perhaps he's just an idiot with a large amount of pride.

This is my enemy, so I'll be the one to slay them! It seems he would say something like that.

Being the Hero of the Shield, it's a line that I'd usually never be able to say. But today is different.

Anyways, Trash's Anti-Tact plan went into phase 2.

This part is up to me. Trash won't have any input.

It would be laughable if I were to fall here of all places.

"Hmm? That should be my line. Why do you think it was that we didn't initiate a cowardly sneak attack like you? Do you understand?" (Naofumi)

"Because such things won't work on me." (Tact)

"I wonder. I'm merely fighting you head on, so I can destroy every last thing you've built up for yourself." (Naofumi)

The reason I didn't end this from the start was because of Granny's will.

The will of Hengen Musou, and my personal grudge.

I wanted verification of those.

"There was an old woman who fought to let us escape, right?" (Naofumi)
"Ah, her? Though she was just a weakling, she went on a rampage like an idiot. It took an unexpectedly long time to kill her." (Tact)
"... Then that person will be the one to drag you into your grave."
(Naofumi)

Now then, enough with this nonsense.

"Fake Hero, I'm more than enough for someone of your level." (Naofumi)
"Aniki!?" (Fohl)
"I'm sorry, Fohl. Bear with it." (Naofumi)
"But...!" (Fohl)

I ignore Fohl, take a step forward, and put my cane over my shoulder to show it off to Tact.

"My... that cane is..." (Tact)
"Yeah, it's one of the Seven Star Weapons you desire. Right now, I'm its wielder." (Naofumi)
"Then luck is upon me. I'll just have to take another weapon from you, like I did with your Shield." (Tact)
"If you can, then try it." (Naofumi)

Tact and I glare at each other.

While that was happening, a few women step forward, and offer proposals to Tact.

"Tact-sama."

"There is an opponent here I would like to engage."

We've encountered these ones before. It's the Kitsune-like one that fought Raphtalia, and the Aotatsu Woman that fought Fohl Also the fish-like onewoman who opposed Sadina

The other two... There's the lizard woman, and a woman with wings on her back like Firo.

They each lock eyes with Firo and Gaelion

"Tulna, Nellisen, Shatte, Lurdia, and Ashiel. I got it. It would be more effective than if you just watched. Let's show them the difference in our power. The real Hero will be the one to come out on top." (Tact)

"What do you mean by real!? You perpetrated a farce like this, and only listen to that Witch's words. There's no way that you're a Hero!" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia shouts out and the Kitsune woman responds. Her name seems to be Tulna.

"It seems that this even this Raccoon wench's heart is covered in mud. I've lived hundreds of years, and you say that the one I chose to follow isn't a Hero? Are your eyes rotten?" (Tulna)

"You're Atlas's murderer!" (Fohl)

"Wait right there, Hakuko Brat! I'll show you just how amazing a person you're making an enemy of. It's because they followed the Hero of the Shield that the Hakuko, and the whole of Silt Welt is declining!"

"Move, mob character!" (Fohl)

"Fohl." (Naofumi)

"What?" (Fohl)

"Once you beat her, you can participate in my fight with Tact. That is if I haven't beaten him up yet." (Naofumi)

"... Got it. I'll be over in a jiffy, Aniki! I'll leave him to you for now!" (Fohl)

Fohl and the Aotatsu... Nellisen lock eyes.

It's not time for Fohl to jump into my battle yet.

"Then are you the one this Onee-san will fight?" (Sadina)

"Luka woman... you're still alive. I won't forgive you!"

The mermaid-like woman transformed.

She's now a fish-like Beastman.

"Are you a mix blood of the Noid and Kusha race? What grudge do you have with me?" (Sadina)

"How shameless! You Luka are always looking down at the lot of us!"

"Um, I don't really know what you're talking about, but if you want to fight, then I'll accept." (Sadina)

So there are people that carry grudges within races.

It's of no concern to me.

But it seems Sadina is troubled with having a grudge she has no knowledge about stuck on her.

And wait, I'm pretty sure Sadina isn't even a Luka.

"You're one who possesses a fragment of the dragon emperor, I see. To personally come out to see me, are you just asking to be stolen away?"

"KYUA!"

"Fu... I'll teach a brittle fragment the true power of a Dragon Emperor."

A snapping sound echoes as the lizard woman changes shape to that of a Dragon.

She's really big. Even bigger than Adult Gaelion.

The pressure she releases is overwhelming.

I wonder what it is. I feel something from that dragon reminiscent of the Spirit Turtle and Houou.

Honestly, to defeat Tact, I don't understand why I had to take Ren along as well.

But Trash said he had a bad premonition, so he grouped me and Ren together just in case.

This may have been the reason.

The next woman, the one with wings, also changes.

She becomes a Gryphon.

"Miniscule fragment. Tact said to spare the women, so you're a different matter."

"Oh, I can't have you forgetting about me." (Ren)

Ren stands next to Gaelion with his sword drawn.

"Naofumi, who should I be fighting?" (Ren)

"The Dragon seems to be the stronger of the two. Work with Gaelion to beat her." (Naofumi)

"Got it." (Ren)

Ren nods, and jumps aboard Gaelion, who had grown to full size.

How ironic is it... for him to be fighting atop the Dragon, whose life he cut short himself?

But that's a line for Adult Gaelion to say.

"Did you think that the Four Heroes were enough to take us on!?"

"Reldia, do you think you can beat a Hero?" (Tact)

"Who do you think I am, Tact. If you leave it to me, I won't let a single soul past." (Reldia)

And Firo ends up dealing with the Gryphon.

"Filo Rial. My old enemy, cursed to grawl atop the earth. I will be the one to choke the life out of that accursed Queen's descendents."

"Wah, are you a bird? A cat? Whichever, Firo will beat you." (Firo)

And, as always, she seems relaxed.

For argument's sake, she should be much higher than Firo in level, but... Firo keeps her composure.

"Now then, let's start this bad play. The battle to bring an end to this farce."
(Naofumi)

When I say as such, Tact completely falls for my provocations.

“Of course! Let’s start the battle we were certain to win from the start!”
(Tact)

And everyone started their own battles.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 326 – X

---

As one would expect (maybe because it was too cramped), Tact, our followers minus the women who couldn't be found, and I descended from the terrace and started our respective battles.

Gaelion, Ren and Firo's battles were in the sky.

"Hahaha, do you really think you, who possess only a single Seven Star Weapon, can win against me, who possesses five Seven Star Weapons and one of the Four Saint Weapons, a total of Six?" (Tact)

"That power was obtained unfairly, after all. A fake can't win against the real deal." (Naofumi)

"...You're all talk." (Tact)

"What are you spitting at the sky for?" (Naofumi) [T/N: Proverb: to invite disaster onto oneself. If you spit up at the sky, it'll fall back down and land on your face.]

"Huh? What are you saying?" (Tact)

"Then I'll make it easier for an idiot like you to understand. Will you get it if I said to think of a Boomerang?" (Naofumi)

"What did you say!?" (Tact)

I immediately grip the Cane with both hands and start casting a spell. [T/N: Why is it cane? It can also be translated as Staff/Wand...]

This is the original ability of the Seven Star Cane.

It's an ability the Cane was endowed with, and it shortens the chant of a spell.

If it's mastered to perfection, Trash said it might not even need a chant but that's probably impossible for me.

Apart from that, it also allowed someone to learn magic they had no aptitude for.

This was really exceptional so I was surprised.

I reflect on how difficult the shield is to use, as I grasp the Cane tightly with appreciation.

I'm a little reluctant to return it to Trash.

I cast magic on all my allies here whilst combining my SP and Magic.

This spell needs an absurd amount of time to cast, but it was greatly reduced because of the Cane.

It's like a puzzle with five parts, which must be fully solved before it can be invoked, becoming something with only two simple ones.

And thus... I invoked the strengthening technique contained in the Seven Star Cane.

<I, the true hero, command the heavens and earth, remove and connect the principles, and expel the pus. Oh, Force of the Dragon Pulse. Build up my strength along with my magic and hero's might, I command you as the true hero who is worthy of the origin of power. I once more read and understand everything in nature, bestow everything unto thy subjects.>
"All Revelation Aura X!" (Naofumi)

Right, this was the Cane's strengthening technique.

To put it simply, it's of the Skill Acquisition class.

It's similar to how someone can raise the abilities of their favourite skills and magic by distributing points they earn from leveling up in net games.

Ren spoke about it in the past.

That Brave Star Online uses a system with Skill Points.

In other words, it's that sort of thing.

Raising your level and distributing the Skill Points to learn skills.

It's a standard system in many of the online games I know.

That was the strengthening technique of the Cane and Gauntlets.

The Cane could assign points to magic, and skills for the Gauntlets

Acquiring points from my current level and distributing them to my Magic and Skills respectively.

Well, if one were to focus on a single Spell, it would consume a comparable amount of points.

But apparently they can be reassigned if there's an issue, which is a relief. The required materials and the enchantment points inside the weapon... in this case, using the Proficiency Points that Ren taught us about seems to be the most convenient thing to do, but I can reassign the points after waiting one-day for the cooldown.

I think it's a befitting ability.

And the spell I just cast was an exceptional supporting spell that raises one's full capacity: Aura.

Furthermore, it was the Revelation Aura class that only heroes can cast. To explain the magnitude of this spell that was boosted by the strengthening technique of the Cane..

"Take this!" (Tact)

Tact set out and fired his Vanzin Claw or something in my direction. I dodged it by a paper-thin margin.

Why was I able to dodge it?

Tact's attack was awfully slow.

And honestly, it attacked in a straight line so I could actually see the beam that appeared.

Of course, it wasn't that the beam itself was slow but if I had to say, I suppose it was like a low-powered pea-shooter?

The beam looked like an orb traveling at a slow speed.

If I had been paying attention, Tact's words from before, the "Take this!" would have sounded more like "Ttttttaaaaaakkkkkkkkeeeeeee Thhhhiiiiisssss!"

Tact's attack flew past me.

Like this, our abilities have risen to an abnormal level.

The Net Game that Ren played wasn't like this, but each grade resulted in a big boost.

Not only for the effects, but for the duration and additional effects as well.

In other words, strong spells like All Revelation Aura needed a lot of points, but the effect also increased a lot.

It varied depending on the Spell or Skill.

There's the possibility that the complicated spells or skills from until now may transform.

This is the power of the Cane and Gauntlets.

With the intent of protecting this world... the Spirits have lent me all of their strength.

"You avoided it?" (Tact)

"What's wrong? You only have the certain-kill technique you always use?"
(Naofumi)

It seems Tact couldn't see my movements.

It was nothing more than my support magic's ability being improved to that extent though.

Or rather, to be surprised if someone suddenly dodges your special move... just which titan of light is that special move from. [T/N: Ultra Beam! (Ultraman) ...maybe?]

I wonder why I'm holding back, but I've thought badly of guys who fire from the onset.

I see, so if it's avoided then it becomes this sort of situation.

"Hmph. I missed on purpose. It's not fun otherwise." (Tact)

"Yes, Yes. So you say." (Naofumi)

I grasp the Cane tightly and fill it with power.

The Cane also has other skills.

Gamers might understand if I say it has a Charge Skill.

"Let's play a little." (Tact)

Saying that, Tact brandished his claw towards me.

I saw through it all and completely avoided it.

First I ducked, then I leapt, using Tact himself as a foothold.

The current me is not the Hero of the Shield.

I'm borrowing the defense from the Seven Star Weapons, and it's lower than Ren and the other Four Saints' defense.

It'll hurt if I get hit and will definitely be an inexcusable attack.

In addition, I might have my weapon stolen if I engage in a direct duel.

Just what martial art knowledge does he have? I feel like he's refined the stance and movements.

However, the opponents I always sparred with were prodigies. [T/N: Atla/Raphtalia]

Always laboring, revealing attacks that surpass my expectations.

I fought that kind of prodigy so it wasn't enough.

It was disappointing, but none of his attacks exceeded my expectations.

Continuously using feints, trying to kill me—

"Erst Slash!" (Tact)

He fired a skill but his feints were obvious, so it was lacking.

I delayed the timing of my dodge, and while watching the self-confident Tact's face..

"Yotto." (Naofumi)

I dodge it nimbly.

"Ku... well looks like the former Hero of the Shield, who couldn't do anything but defend, isn't bad." (Tact)

He's extremely boring.

What I'm seeing through are just simple attacks.

"...You seem to be misunderstanding something so I'll explain. Defending is more complicated than attacking. Like needing to shift the impact of an opponent's attack to reduce its power and such." (Naofumi)

"Now! Second Slash!" (Tact)

I stabbed Tact's arm with the tip of the Cane and averted his Claw Slash. Because of that, the skill Tact fired, Second Slash, didn't have sufficient power and vanished.

"I wouldn't say that's an opportunity." (Naofumi)

"Gu..." (Tact)

"Try firing your skill however much you want. I'll immediately destroy its power. This is how I fight as the Hero of the Shield." (Naofumi)

The Hero of the Shield has no need to receive all the opponents' attacks. To elude the attack, I can make it so the power doesn't come out in advance.

It's precisely for this that I've been continuously practicing since coming to this world, and I know techniques to interfere with the opponents' attacks. After that there were various things, like a barrage of attacks, but right now Tact was only focused on me so there's no problem. Like this, it seems like I have some room to spare.

I should pay a little attention to Raphtalia and the others.
Otherwise it might be dangerous.
I have to support them if anything happens.
I decided not to lose anyone a second time.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 327 – Looking Aside

---

Raphtalia and the Kitsune woman are exchanging stares.

From what I see, the Kitsune is but a little girl.

However, her speech pattern reeks of old age.

Is she that Loli-baba thing that's all the rage these days?

(TL: Loli = Loli, Baba = Baba, I.E. Shiroyasha)

"Raccoon Wench, do you think you stand a chance of victory with me as your opponent?"

"I don't really know. From what I see, you're a mix between a Fox Race, and a Zveal Race, but what sort of grudge do you hold against me?"

(Raphtalia)

"Foolish Raccoon, who knows not your place, don't get cocky because you tricked me once before!"

"... I think I've heard a story about that, but you're looking too far back there," (Raphtalia)

There is a Demi-Human legend about something like that.

I looked it up because I wanted to see what sort of Race Raphtalia's was.

Apparently, the Raccoons used their magic to... seal a great Youkai of the Fox race through deception. There's a legend like that.

They're still stuck up on that?

The amount of Tails on the Kitsune woman began increasing.

Eh? So she's a nine tailed fox. How grand.

"That humiliation... I definitely won't forgive you!"

"That's a false accusation, but you made an enemy of Naofumi-sama, and sided with that egotistic sunnavabitch. I won't hold back." (Raphtalia)

The Kitsune takes out a slender sword, and gets into position.

The air resounds with the sound of metal hitting metal. Raphtalia and the Kitsune Woman... Tulna, I think... they use illusions to make clones, and use a wide variety of magic as they exchange blows.

It would be accurate to call it a battle of deception.

The moment it looked like Raphtalia had pierced her, Tulna's sword had gone through her heart.

Of course, in the end, it was but an illusion, and none of those events actually happened.

It will be difficult for her to force her way through this fight.

We managed to cover the level gap with extreme Support Magic, but this woman seems skillful.

With this, neither side can concentrate on anything but the enemy before them.

"Rafu~"

Now then... I wonder if that Kitsune Woman's noticed that a single animal had snuck onto the battlefield.

—

Next is Fohl.

"If you surrender immediately, I don't mind forgiving you, Aotatsu woman."
(Fohl)

"What do you think you're saying to the strongest head of the Aotatsu Tribe? Hakuko... No, from your smell, are you a mix blood? How idiotic."

"Like I care. I have no interest in my roots." (Fohl)

Fohl changes to beast form, and holds his front paws out before him.

I'm worried about just how much of a gap exists between the Four and Seven, but from the look in Fohl's eyes, it seems that he'll be alright.

“Let me show you the true terror of the Aotatsu race.”

The woman opposing Fohl... Nellishen's Silhouette gradually expands in size.

“...”

Eventually, Nallishen changed shape into a large oriental dragon.

“Throughout our long history, the ones who could take on this form were named chief! Can a Hakuko Mutt keep up with me?”

“Worthless. Even if I had a form like that, I wouldn't use it against the likes of you.” (Fohl)

He hits his fists together, and provokes the dragon.

“Now, Hakuko Hero of the Gauntlet! Let's put an end to this long cycle of fate! The Aotatsu are the strongest race in the world!”

Nellishen chants water magic, and smashes it at Fohl.

Fohl lightly dodges it, and instantly closes in on her. He lands a kick in the center of her face.

“Were you trying to do something?” (Fohl)

“DON'T LOOK DOWN ON MEEEEEE!”

Thunder roars, as bolts of electricity begin raining down on Fohl.
A race that can use water and wind together... apparently.

「Erst Rush V」!

“Uguh!”

Fohl implants his fist into Nellishen's abdomen.

“Ah, ga... gu...”

Fohl isn't just some Hakuko kid. He's the Hero of the Gauntlet.
I'm doubtful that the Aotatsu chief is a match for the current Fohl.

With a storming sky as the backdrop, Sadina and that Shatte person exchanged murderous looks.

From the magic that Nellishen used, the area was now covered in a layer of water.

Shatte had assumed her battle form, in which she looked like a shark Beastman.

"Die!"

Shatte rushed straight forward, and launched an attack. In response, Sadina...

"You see, this Oneesan is never around when the important things are happening. But I'm glad that this time is different..." (Sadina)

Sadina takes the tail thrust from Shatte head on, and bends backwards to absorb the impact.

"Because I couldn't protect anyone. Because I found my hated enemy."
(Sadina)

"Just how long will you be able to stay on your high horse!?"

Sadina spits up some blood, and glares at Shatte.

"Even if it's me, I'll never forgive Atlas-chan's enemy. So please step aside this instant. If you do... you'll live a little longer." (Sadina)

Sadina firmly grasped the harpoon in Shatte's possession with one hand.

"So before you start regretting standing before me, Noid Kusha halfbreed..."
(Sadina)

Even though her skin was that of a shark, I saw what looked like goosebumps appearing on Shatte. She took a large step back.

“What will you do?” (Sadina)

“D… don’t look down on me!”

Shatte snaps, and swings her harpoon high above her head. She releases a magic attack.

「Maelstrom Spear」!

The attack leaves behind swirling trails in the air as it heads towards Sadina.

“Ah, right. You seemed to be misunderstanding something.” (Sadina)

Sadina casts her favorite lightning magic, and absorbs it into her Harpoon. Seeing sparks come from the weapon in Sadina’s hands, Shatte seems dumbfound.

“Wha… A Luka… used lightning!?”

“Oneesan never said she was a Luka, you know. I may be closely related, but… please don’t group me with those weaklings.” (Sadina)

Sadina’s lightning impaler, I think it was called, easily pierces through Shatte’s attack.

“You see, I’m a little angry right now. How long will you stand… as a target for me to take my anger out on? I’m going to fight seriously here.” (Sadina)

Sparks fly around her, and… Sadina does another level of transformation. There are plenty of things I’d like to retort here. I was even pretty sure she hadn’t undergone a full recovery yet.

“Let’s see just how powerful the power Naofumi-sama gave me is.”
(Sadina)

She looks like a sea lion. She's changed into a brown colored monster.

—

Last is the mid-air battle.

That's the front Ren's on.

IT would be a bit dangerous for Gaelion alone, but now they don't have a chance of failure.

That's just how great the difference in power is... with Heroes.

"I'll pound the terror of a Dragon Emperor into your body!"

The giant dragon Reldia spews out a fire breath much more powerful than the one Adult Gaelion can cast.

「Mega Prominence Nova」!

Ren held his sword up high, and cast magic.

「Revelation Magic Enchant X」!

The sure-death flames start flowing into Ren's sword.

I believe magic enchant was able to absorb magic attacks, and augment their abilities into the sword.

It appears that dragon breath is included in the attacks it works on.

「High Quick～」

「High Quick」!

Around that battle, zoomed a pair of shadows. It was Firo, and the Gryphon. Firo seems to be having an easier time.

"A flying Filo Rial... They should have died out in the war! How did you survive!?"

R-really?

The Gryphons caused the extinction of flying Filo Rials...?
That's the first true revelation I've had upon coming here.
Though I think they should just start fighting already.

"Wrong~" (Firo)

As they exchange various questions, Firo and the Gryphon circle around each other, and release various attacks.

「Dreifach Tornado」!

「Spiral Strike」! (Firo)

「Screw Strike」!

And in another area of the sky, Gaelion started inhaling air, as he prepared to release his breath.

「KYUAAAAAAAAAAAAA」!

It was white.

I think older Gaelion said something about that.

About practicing a special sort of breath attack.

What was it? Something about a difficult attack involving interference, or something.

Yep, that's probably what it is.

"Gu... What!?"

Reldia seems short of breath as she cries out.

"Next's my turn!" (Ren)

Ren declares as such, and points his sword.

The blades edge was basked in a red light.

「Flame Edge, Meteor Sword X」!

A dark crimson shockwave shot towards the giant Dragon Emperess.

Yeah, no one here seems to need my help.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 328 – Fenrir Force

---

“Where the hell do you think you’re looking!?” (Tact)

“Ah, sorry, sorry. My bad.” (Naofumi)

Now then, I should stop showing off.

Raphtalia and the others are alright.

It’s about time I take this battle seriously.

“Everyone, cast support! If we combine our power, we should easily be able to crush this guy!” (Tact)

Oy… the rules have changed, dude.

Didn’t you say you would be enough alone?

「Zweit Boost」!

「Zweit Magic」!

… etc.

And like that, various support magics were cast, but it doesn’t feel like anything’s changed that much.

In comparison, Revelation Aura X’s effects are amazing.

It was able to raise our basic abilities enough for me to stand on even ground with one thrice my level.

But it’s not like this guy’s a Hero, and if I didn’t distribute points into the skill, it wouldn’t have been this effective.

“Good, we can win with this!” (Tact)

“Hey, are you sure you’re alright?” (Naofumi)

“Just because you got a bit stronger, don’t be so conceited!” (Tact)

“That’s something I don’t want to hear from you.” (Naofumi)

“This is that last time you’ll be able to laugh. Now feel the power of my magic, after I’ve been given strength by everyone!” (Tact)

No, I'm not laughing. I'm just fed up...

As I was thinking that, Tact began a magic chant.

For argument's sake... he's casting quite fast.

『I, the True Hero who has understood the origin of power command. Let the truth once more be read forth. Let tempests of flame burn all that he owns』!

「Dreifach Firestorm」!

“Dreifach!?” (Naofumi)

Wait a second.

He was supposed to have mastered magic, yet it's only Dreifach.

What a joke.

But if you think about it, Revelation is a magic specific to Heroes.

Looking at it from the rest of the world's standard, I guess Dreifach is the strongest level.

In truth, this is the fastest casting that I've ever seen.

“Take this!” (Tact)

Tact has a smile on his face as he activates his magic.

A tornado of flames starts up, and begins flying in my direction.

『I, an ordinary Hero who has understood the origin of power command. Let the truth once more be read forth. Clear the tempests of flame that burns all before him』!

「Anti Dreifach Firestorm」

I analyze the magic Tact chanted, and activate one to nullify it.

And as if it had never existed in the first place, the twister of flames dispersed.

Even with the time lag in my cast, I was able to completely nullify it, you know.

"I can't say I'm impressed. You... did you really master magic? Just how many years did you live in this world again?" (Naofumi)

"Wha-" (Tact)

Upon having his special magic easily nullified, the man is speechless. It appeared to be an AoE spell, so is that what he used to level grind?

"So this is the power of the Cane... I'll definitely make it mine!" (Tact)

"Wrong, fool..." (Naofumi)

What a misunderstanding. This isn't anything from the Cane.

I remember the old Ren... It's been a while since I've heard bullshit like this. Well, I was able to analyze it quite quickly, but reading magic was the result of my own research.

"And wait, you have a Dragon Emperor following you, right? Shouldn't you know the Dragon Pulse Law? The one that lets you interfere with others easily!?" (Naofumi)

I'm really fed up.

Where's his mastery of magic?

It's true that his casting was quick.

It took him less than five seconds to cast Dreifach.

But I'm able to chant even faster than that with ease.

Though that power is the result of Trash's Cane.

From my conjecture, this one... No, I can think about that later.

Hmm?

I turn to the presence of magic.

I see Bitch chanting magic in my direction. She hasn't learned a thing.

She's probably trying to create an opening for Tact to attack, or something of the sort.

Like I'd let you.
I'll blow all of you away at the same time.

「Zveit Wing Blo-」
「Fenrir Force X」!

I weave in my chi, and get Tact and Witch in a line before releasing a skill.
I'll have my connection with you come to an end here, Bitch!
The Cane shines, and the clamped wolf head ornament opened its mouth. A beam of light fires out of the Jewel portion.

“Uo!”

A thick lazer-esque beam shoots out from me, and flies at Witch.
Or it should have. But my timing was off.
Even Tact, who was at point blank range, was able to dodge it.
His reflexes are just naturally good.

I guess it took 3 seconds to cast.
Since it missed, I cancelled it out. But the SP expenditure was high.

Ah... After I shot it, I realized it.
I kinda have to make them go through more pain before killing them.
Or my rage will never clear.
In that aspect, perhaps this was for the best.

“Damn! I missed.” (Naofumi)

A few meters from the beam's impact point, Witch's legs had given out on her.
Since I completely missed my mark, I hit someone I wasn't aiming for.
From what I remember, it was a human woman wearing maid clothing.
There was nothing left where she stood.
But she was pointing a rifle at me, so I don't care what happened to her.

Does this count as murder?

I don't have a sense of guilt welling up in me.

These people would have shot me to death if a chance ever came.

It's legitimate self-defense.

She was doing the same thing as Witch.

"Ah..." (Tact)

Tact is in a daze, as he stared at the scarf that belonged to the woman fluttering in the wind.

"The next one won't miss." (Naofumi)

But the Cool-Down time is quite long.

I grip the cane, and start charging it.

"YOU BASTAAAAAAAAAARD!" (Tact)

In a rage like the old Trash, Tact begins swinging around his weapons randomly.

Claws. Whip. Axe. Hammer. Projectiles.

But I dodge them all.

"You! You killed Eri! I definitely won't forgive you! I'll brutally murder you!"
(Tact)

"KYAAAAAAAAAA!"

Tact's Harem squad raises a scream after they realize the situation.

But because of the rage, Tact's movements are monotonous.

You often see anger changing to strength in anime, but I guess this is how reality works.

This brings to mind the scene of Female Knight fighting the cursed Ren.
I bet it felt like this when she was dodging his attacks.

I may be contradicting myself, but he needs to get angry in a calm manner.
Get angry while thinking about what to do to your enemy.
Like I am right now.

“Do you understand what you’ve done!? Eri was… my childhood friend who’s followed me around since I was young. My first partner, and one who accepted me. And you… you don’t even have the qualifications to kill someone as precious as her!” (Tact)

“Like I care! If you step onto the battlefield, you have to be prepared to die. Did you ever think of the ones you killed yourself!? Did you ever listen to them if they said the same!?” (Naofumi)

What sophistry.

Sending his precious onto the battlefield, and hoping they won’t die as he kills the enemy.

If you don’t want them to die, then you have to be prepared to sacrifice yourself to protect them.

Atlas was… always telling me that.

That I might die in a place, even without war.

That since I was precious, she always had to be there to protect me.

When I held up my staff, what did he do?

He didn’t even try to move to protect someone.

No, it’s because he dodged that the attack went off course.

If she’s that special, then at least stand in front of her. He even has my Shield.

If you think the attack is that powerful.

“Though I killed her, let me say as such: It’s your fault for not protecting her.” (Naofumi)

No, I don’t care about logic.

This war was a battle between murderers.

If he didn't want to bring about any casualties, then he should have bet his own life.

There were plenty of methods.

He truly lacks the resolve to jump into the flames.

Ah... this is irritating.

「First Float Mirror, Secon Float Mirror」

I deploy the Cane's version of the Float Shields, and have them circle around Tact.

"Kunu! Damn! Don't run away!" (Tact)

"And why do I have to stand and take your attacks? The Shield has its own way of fighting." (Naofumi)

It's not like my reflexes are bad.

I can't keep up with people who have amazing reflexes, but with this much support magic cast on me, dodging these is a simple matter.

This wouldn't change even if I had the Shield.

It's just that I usually opt not to dodge.

If the Shield dodges, what will happen?

My job is to stop the enemy's movement.

"I'm going to shoot some magic, so try taking it." (Naofumi)

"As if I would!" (Tact)

I'll use one with a fast chant.

「Zweit Fire」!

「Zweit Water」!

By the way, these are the only attributional magics I've learned so far.

I couldn't use them from the beginning.

Since I borrowed the Cane, I can cast them, but there isn't really a need for me to learn them.

"An attack like that-" (Tact)

My magic flew slowly in a straight line, so Tact easily dodged it.
But that wasn't my goal.

The dodged magic impacts Tact from behind.

"Gu!? What did you do!?" (Tact)

"You can at least understand that much, right?" (Naofumi)

It's Float Mirror's ability. If you angle them right, you can reflect some skills and magics.

"Then let me show it so you can understand." (Naofumi)

「Erst Blast」!

I grip the Cane in my hand, and release a skill.

My magic shoots out like a beam.

Tact merely dodges it again, but the mirrors that moved by my will reflect it, and let the beam circle around Tact.

I'm not trying to hit him. I'm really just playing around.

But this is surprisingly easy.

I move the mirrors continuously to create a cage out of the blast.

Ah, it seems I unlocked a combo.

So it can do things like this as well.

The mirrors are now moving by themselves.

How convenient.

Can Trash control them like this?

… He probably can.

I get the feeling that will be troubling later.

It appears that each and every weapon requires a different aptitude.

Trash should be able to use it better than me.

He said he could use quite a few high ranking skills.

Apparently, he can make angled structures out of the mirrors to split reflections, and hit simultaneously from all sides, or hit in a wide scope.

Its strong point is that it can hit behind defenses.

There's the chance that it may hit an ally, but he said it works out if you calculate it right. It's impossible for me.

The best I can do is move these flat mirrors to my will.

And that's because of my experience using the Float Shields.

Ah… I truly am the Hero of the Shield.

「Blast Prison」!

When I shouted the skill name, the prison made of my blast skill exploded.

“Guhah!” (Tact)

The explosion sent Tact flying.

His followers raise various screams.

A few of them get over the shock, and point their rifles at me.

“Not yet! I'm… not hurt at all. T-this is… but a scratch.” (Tact)

“Ah, I see.” (Naofumi)

He's being Stoic… as he said that, the surrounding women began casting recovery magic.

Some even begin casting support magic.

Does his pride allow that? Did his anger override it?

“Do you hate having your women die that much? Then if I target them, will you focus on protecting them?” (Naofumi)

Tact's face turns pale. He turns his eyes to the women around him. Those women were looking at me, and shaking.

What is it... I really do feel like a villain right now.

It feels quite nice.

For revenge to feel this refreshing... this is the first I learned of it.

Because my weapon's been the Shield up until now, I could only hurt enemies indirectly.

Who was it that said that Revenge doesn't bring anything?

If the target of your revenge doesn't plan on repenting at all, isn't it better to kill them?

Isn't that right, Witch?

But these thoughts are dangerous.

If I go too far, I'll get devoured by a curse, so I should stop.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 329 – Gleipnir Rope

---

“Well, I don’t hate that kind of rotten behaviour, but it’ll lessen the entertainment so I’ll stop with the hostages. Be grateful.” (Naofumi)

I feel a little refreshed but I’ll enjoy that later.
Otherwise it just stinks of villainy.

“Besides, I also feel like I should get serious soon.” (Naofumi)

As expected, it’s quite useful.

Although I wasn’t able to use it seriously when Ren and the others were my opponents.

I invoke the Fenrir Rod’s special ability, Gleipnir Rope.

Chains manifest from the ground, with Witch as their designated target.

“Sto—” (Tact)

I bind up Tact as well, who was still putting on an act.

It might be that the damage from before hadn’t quite faded, but I was able to bind him easily.

“Argh… my power..” (Tact)

“Ah, I don’t think those chains will come apart so easily.” (Naofumi)

The effect duration of Gleipnir Rope depended on the users’ magic.

In my world, these chains were used to bind the famous god-killing wolf.

[T/N: In Norse mythology, Gleipnir is a dwarven-made chain used to bind Fenrir]

It’d be a disgrace if it was easily torn apart.

“Ku… how about this!” (Tact)

Tact deployed the shield he stole from me with a frustrated countenance. The shield was, judging from its appearance, the Wrath Shield. I suppose he should be angry enough towards me.

I'll have to be wary of Blutopfer and Iron Maiden.

I don't know if he'll get any negative effects, but I suppose I'd have the advantage if he does use them?

No, dominating him with attacks would be safer.

"Right, I'll make an allowance then. Take it... properly. Otherwise it'll hit the women behind you, you know?" (Naofumi)

Tact turned towards the women who couldn't move due to fear, and then glared at me with eyes full of frantic determination to protect them.

Right right, that's the expression I wanted to see.

You – who stole the lives of Atla, the Queen, Granny, the villages, the Allied forces and the other people I have a relationship with – your face stained with hatred.

"Don't glare like that. You still haven't suffered enough." (Naofumi)

I finished charging and fired my Skill again.

"Fenrir Force V!" (Naofumi)

This time I foresaw the recoil, and without putting my spirit into it, I anticipated that he would probably be able to endure it and fired.

A thick beam fired towards the tied up Tact from the tip of the cane.

"Gu..." (Tact)

Oh, that's only to be expected of the shield stolen from me.

It seems the women behind Tact haven't received any damage at all.

But how was Tact, who had to bear the full brunt of it all?

“Uuuuuu…….” (Tact)

“Ah, I forgot. The legendary cane I’m holding is called Fenrir Rod. Its special ability is something called Rebellion Against God. Its effects are…”
(Naofumi)

This is something that was established when I first obtained the cane and sparred with Ren and the others.

Fohl had a measure for my attack and didn’t take much damage but Ren and the others were different.

I was told it hurt more than they anticipated.

Rebellion Against God’s effect must be that when a Seven Star Weapon attacked a Four Saint Weapon, the power increases.

Well thinking about it normally, a weapon whose ability rises when against the Four Saints is impossible based on the laws of the world.

There wasn’t any other weapon with the same skill, and the Spirit of the Cane might have lent the power to fight against the stolen shield.

In other words, I felt it was like a special, only for now kind of thing.

In reality, the Fenrir rod was a item.

“You probably used the shield because you anticipated its high defense but the damage you incur will rise with that shield, you know?” (Naofumi)

Of course, the shield itself has a high defense so there would be no problem if it was me.

The beam shot for 5 seconds and stopped.

There, emitting smoke throughout his body, was a worn-out Tact who was out of breath and barely managed to stand.

It seems Tact incurred a befitting amount of damage for taking Fenrir Force’s beam.

“Gu……u……” (Tact)

“Oi, oi. Don’t collapse yet. I’m still not satisfied yet, and we’ve got to continue playing until Fohl comes.” (Naofumi)

It kind of feels like bullying.

But I feel like doing what I like so it can't be helped.

Because I've been eagerly awaiting this moment since the day we fought Houou and lost Atla.

"P-protect Tact! Everyone!" (Woman)

The women came to their senses and at a earnest-looking, different coloured female knight-like fellow's supreme command, they readied their rifles.

Is that it, or rather, is there nothing else?

Or so I thought, but they also started casting ritual magic.

It looked like they were thinking somewhat.

With me alone, you can't stop me no matter how much you try.

Of course, this sort of thing was part of our expectations.

I feel quite nostalgic, but I experienced pain firsthand when I first had that duel with Motoyasu.

When this sort of fellow gets in a pinch, he composedly pulls off a cowardly attack despite in a fair and square fight.

So naturally we have considered the enemy's followers attacking and supporting.

We only provoked Tact to begin with, so we've assembled tactics with the assumption it'd be few vs many.

Fortunately, the ones high leveled enough to be a threat are fighting Raphtalia and the others so I can take it easy.

I feel like some of them could be reliable allies.

"SHOOT-!" (Woman)

The women aim their rifles at me and pull the trigger.

Gunshots resound throughout the surroundings.

But... in the middle of that, I deployed the defensive measures I had planned.

In an instant, lead balls came flying towards me.

Because it's the marksmanship of rifles fired by level 250 guys, they demonstrated an ability that wouldn't even lose to the rifles from my world.

Well... I've never seen an actual gun in my own world though.

The women probably believed their attacks hit me.

In reality, they showed a face of trying to protect their comrade mixed with a hint of impatience.

I wondered why they didn't understand if they could show this kind of expression, but it's not something I care about.

I'll trample over that kind of thinking.

The bullets that tried to penetrate me.

...Those bullets all hit Tact.

"Guhaa!" (Tact)

"Wha—" (Woman)

The women became speechless and dropped their rifles.

"Wh-why..." (Woman)

"Oh dear... what are you doing. You guys are merciless." (Naofumi)

I rile them up with a smile.

"Why did our bullets hit Tact!?" (Woman)

Right, I... used the techniques I thought out with Atla, [Collect] and [Wall], to change the trajectory of the bullets the women fired and deliver them to Tact.

Originally [Collect] was very effective for formless attacks such as magic attacks.

Solid bullets were difficult. However, the current me can do it.

After that I made use of [Wall] and had the bullets ricochet to hit Tact.

"How is it, Tact? The taste of the bullets fired by your own women, some of whom are even level 250." (Naofumi)

"H-how dare you! How dare you make us shoot Tact!" (Woman)

The woman repeatedly hurled abuse at me while in a rage.

I'm in a good mood.

...For me to be in a good mood with this kind of thing, I've also changed.

If the old me was flooded by women screaming jeers in my original world, it probably wouldn't be strange for me to want to cry.

It can also be taken as me getting stronger but it's questionable about whether it's a good or bad thing.

"As if I care. Or rather, what are you preaching about justice for when you guys used the cowardly tactic of outnumbering us?" (Naofumi)

At my reply, the woman was taken aback and sank into silence as if she came to her senses.

As expected, she probably understood that she had been lacking reason.

"I'm nice so I'll cast recovery magic on Tact. Dreifach Heal." (Naofumi)

Casting Revelation is a pain.

My Heal must have been effective, Tact's glare strengthened and he bit his lips.

"Now then, we're still continuing. Try putting up with it." (Naofumi)

In the middle of talking, lightning rained down from the sky.

If I'm not mistaken, it was the ritual magic, Judgement.

With their levels all above 250 and enough people to cast Choral Magic, they fired.

They converged the power of Judgement so that it wouldn't hit Tact.

"You're pretty obstinate." (Naofumi)

Half mixed with a sigh, I deploy my mirrors in the sky.

"Sto—" (Woman)

Oh? There were several people who realised.

But it's too late.

"Go to hell with this!" (Woman)

Thunder roared and Judgement rained down towards me.

and adjusted the angle of reflection.

Ah... as I expected, the strength is high.

One of the mirrors broke.

However the second one was fine, and successfully reflected in accordance with my predictions.

"Guhaa!" (Tact)

"Tact!?" (Woman)

"What are you doing! This guy... seems to have... the power to direct all our attacks to hit Tact." (Woman)

The women stared at the tattered Tact while lost for words.

Among them were some who tried to run up and stop it.

"Hmm... how is it? The taste of the magic your own comrades fired."
(Naofumi)

Even if it's bad, I have no obligation to take it.

Or rather, who am I fighting?

I was meant to be fighting Tact but I'm fighting his followers before I know it.

As far as it goes, Tact had prepared the shield so it seems he didn't receive that much damage but even so, it's only at this level, huh?

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 330 – An Ordinary Person

---

“Damn you! You made everyone’s attacks hit me!” (Tact)

“You devil!” (Follower)

The women hopped on board and started insulting me.
Devil, huh…. It’s been a while since I’ve been called that.

“Then I will be a devil. I am the Devil of the Shield, after all. Anyway, is making use of the enemy’s attacks a bad thing? Rather than that, it’s bad to be butting into someone else’s one-on-one fight. Well, it’s no fun if you collapse at this level. I’ll heal you.” (Naofumi)

I cast recovery magic on Tact again.
Soon my magic and SP will have been depleted.
I took out the recovery item that was the Luquor Fruit from my pocket and— [T/N: I know it was Lukor, but liquor -> luquor :D]

“As if I’d let you!” (Follower)

One of Tact’s followers suddenly appeared and tried to snatch the Luquor fruit I was holding.

Somehow she was in a ninja-like outfit.

Was she one of Faubley’s Shadows?

Ah, I had grasped it with all my strength so it got crushed.

This was expensive. What a waste.

“Ahh!” (Ninja)

A drop of the Luquor fruit splashed on the assaulting woman’s face
I heard this once before but apparently that’s undiluted alcohol, you know?

"Melris!" (Tact)

"S-so alcoholic! Uu···." (Ninja)

Oh, she already started swaying drunkenly.

Apparently it's poison to everyone but me.

At any rate, it's the thing that Motoyasu consumed on Calmira Island which caused him to sleep for a whole day afterwards, despite spitting it out immediately.

"Don't interfere with my magic recovery." (Naofumi)

I kicked it away gently, tossing it towards the followers.

Then I retrieved another Luquor fruit and put it in my mouth.

The followers seemed to be able to tell what I put in my mouth.

Half laughed mockingly, the other half turned pale.

Witch turned pale, I guess she knew about my constitution to some extent.

Tact inclined his head in bewilderment, with a provoking look in his eyes.

"Suicide by eating a Luquor Fruit directly? You probably thought that, but unfortunately you're wrong." (Naofumi)

"In that case, you···. were blessed with an ability!?" (Tact)

"What are you talking about? (Naofumi)

Who would I get the blessing from?

It was easy to imagine though.

"I was born with this constitution. It seems you were blessed by something though. That's the difference between you and me." (Naofumi)

My magic and SP have both recovered so let's continue.

Hm? Tact's glare got increasingly stronger.

Is it that? Despite being blessed with a special ability yourself, you can't forgive the fact that I was born with it?

How far will your superiority complex go.

"Now then, there were a few unnecessary hindrances but let's continue."
(Naofumi)

I finished charging and once again aimed the Cane towards Tact.
He won't be able to endure it completely. But I suppose he knows that the women will die if he avoids it.
Tact concentrated on the shield and frantically put all his strength into it.
Well, good luck.

"Fenrir Force VI!" (Naofumi)

Incidentally, I incorporated the refined Hengen Musou technique with the thick beam.

"Guu... guuuu...gu... ridiculous... it hurts so much... more than before...
What is this attack." (Tact)

"Haven't you experienced it before? I applied the concepts of the style from that Granny you killed. Realise the power of those you've killed!" (Naofumi)

Oh! After taking consecutive hits, I could hear the sound of Tact having received damage.

As expected, Hengen Musou is harsh on the shield.

"Uwaaaahh!" (Tact)

Soon, Tact became unable to bear it and fell with a spin.

Well, let's leave it at this much. I can even make it so the women in the rear are blasted away though.

With a *thud*, Tact collapsed on the ground.

"Tact-sama!" (Follower)

"Tact!" (Follower)

"TACT!" (Follower)

His followers tried to support him frantically.

Well, it seemed they didn't realise that they couldn't do anything to overturn the situation.

Nevertheless, Tact received their aid and stood up.

The followers didn't learn their lesson and cast recovery magic on Tact again.

"Hey you guys, don't just cast recovery magic, cast some spells to recover fatigue as well." (Naofumi)

Stamina is important, right?

He probably won't be able to win if he's so worn-out when he gets revived.

No? Can he win?

Speaking of which, wouldn't now be the time for a miracle to occur if it were to happen?

If there was something behind him, now would probably be the time to show his true colours.

And so I looked around, but there were no signs of anything happening.

"Not yet... You.. you're the only one I won't forgive." (Tact)

"That's my line. You're the only one so incredibly brutal, I've decided to make you regret being born in the world. And I'm not the only one. The whole of Melromark feels the same." (Naofumi)

Or rather, this isn't even my decision.

With their Queen having been killed, this war is a challenge of vengeance for Melromark.

As their sworn enemy, these guys can't be forgiven with just my private lynching.

It's because I feel the same that I'm beating the mastermind, Tact, until he's worn out and crushing his spirits.

Atla, the Queen, Granny and the villagers.

At the very least, there was this many people close to me who died.

If I consider all the lives lost in the war, that's not the extent of it.

The revival of the Spirit Turtle.

Ren and the others caused so many victims unintentionally, but they reflected on it and were making up for their sins for the sake of everyone who became victims.

That was achieved in the form of saving the world.

However, Tact was different.

He made light of the waves, killed the Heroes and annihilated the Allied Forces.

Furthermore, he created wars and tried to rule the world.

While I had no intention of offering him respite, it might have been possible if he showed signs of reflection.

Nevertheless, I must punish him for recklessly giving rise to the flames of war.

"I will…… kill you!" (Tact)

Tact declared, putting his hand on the Shield.

I'm afraid he might intend on firing a Curse Skill.

But…… it was too late.

I raised the Cane with one hand, and the surrounding magic and SP…… I gathered the energy scattered in the surroundings.

And then I invoked Gleipnir Rope and bound Tact.

"Fenrir Force and Hengen Musou's application skill." (Naofumi)

The name of my next skill floated into my field of vision.

This kind of application provides the effect of an amazing energy boost.

Glowing like the light of a firefly, the surrounding magic condensed and collected in my cane, just like... some sort of special skill from an anime.

"Now, try to take this!" (Naofumi)

I called out the name of the Combo Skill that floated in my vision.

Well, it was troublesome having to moderate it so that it wouldn't kill.

That's why I won't fully charge it. If I did charge it, he'd be blown away and then I wouldn't be satisfied.

"Blutopfer!" (Tact)

"Ragnarok... Blaster!" (Naofumi)

Fenrir Force's evolved skill.

The charging took quite a bit of time.

Until Tact stood up, being unable to move was for that reason, and the magic recovery was also for the sake of firing this.

As expected, a concentrated beam that didn't quite compare with Fenrir Force blasted Blutopfer away in an instant and flew towards Tact.

"GYAAAAHH!" (Tact)

What a terrible scream.

Tact was unable to withstand it completely, and was pushed by Ragnarok Blaster and thrown into the sky.

As far as it goes, I shifted the trajectory so the women weren't hit.

It would've been fine even if they had been hit, but I wanted to save that pleasure for later.

Ragnarok Blaster pierced through Tact's whole body and he flew all the way into the atmosphere while shaking.

Incidentally, he was caught up in the battle between Gaelion and the Dragon Emperor he was fighting.

"Wha— Guuaaaahh!" (Dragon Emperor)

The Dragon Emperor cried out in surprise at the sudden attack.
Well, it looks like the burnt Dragon Emperor was finished when he passed through though.

“Now!” (Ren)

“Kyua!” (Gaelion)

Using Gaelion as a foothold, Ren jumped and slashed at the Dragon Emperor.

“Phoenix Gale Sword!” (Ren)

“Kyuaaa!” (Gaelion)

Ren’s sword shone red and a tempest of flames passed by, together with a phoenix of fire made from energy.

Gaelion also charged forward, clad in flames.

It looked just like two phoenixes had pierced through the Dragon Emperor.

“Gu… for this diminutive fragment and the Hero of the Sword to…!”
(Dragon Emperor)

Oh, so receiving such an attack was not enough to be considered a fatal wound.

He’s not half bad.

And while thinking that, I turned my attention to Tact who fell before my eyes just at that moment.

“Oi~, are you still alive?” (Naofumi)

He was practically like run-down junk.

It’s not like my attack was proportionate to his defence so I think he wouldn’t be dead, and I moderated the power so he should be fine.

“Ku….” (Tact)

“Oh~” (Naofumi)

I clapped while watching Tact as he barely managed to stand up.
After being beaten up so much, you should think about withdrawing.
I won't let you though.

For that reason, I brought Gaelion, Firo, Sadina and Raph-chan. Land, sea, or air, you won't be able to escape no matter where you run.

Moreover, this guy personally cast a barrier preventing escape.
It was like being locked up in a cage you made yourself.
Well, I would cast another one if he released his barrier anyway.

"Did you think I'd let you escape? It's still insufficient." (Naofumi)

That's enough, I'm sick of this one-sided game already.

"Getting so carried away……. Cut it out already!" (Tact)

Oh? It seems like Tact wasn't cursed from Blutopfer.
How much of a cheat is that.

I had also included that in my calculations and lowered the strength, but it seems that that was unnecessary assistance.

"Now then, you already died once with this attack. You hate me as much as I do you, but you won't attain the upper hand, I will end the acting Hero of the Cane." (Tact)

Trash…… in reality, he probably wanted to avenge the Queen with his own hands.

I wouldn't be satisfied if it were me, but I will defeat Tact as the Hero of the Cane in your place.

Next is revenge for Atla and Granny, the Allied Forces who shouldn't have died by all rights, and the villagers.

"Uooooohh!" (Tact)

Tact mustered up his remaining strength, and attacked with a yell.
Tact changed his weapon to the Claw, and I purposely exchanged attacks with him for fun.
Ah, as expected, an idiot doesn't have any firepower.
There's no sign of him enduring it completely.
I promptly take my distance and then Tact lets his smile show.

"A trap! You could steal the Cane like this!" (Naofumi) [T/N: That sarcasm....]

At my words, Tact nods with a smile.
I don't know if they understood the situation, but his followers also displayed composure.

"That's right. The cause of your defeat is underestimating me. You're going to lose." (Tact)

Well, from ancient times there have been strong people who have underestimated their opponents and despite expecting them to be weak, end up suffering a severe injury with just one attack.
It's a common pattern.
And I like that kind of manga too.
But in this case, that's definitely impossible.

"Hey~ you seem to be getting unnecessarily cocky so I'll tell you, but there's too much of a gap when I fight with the Cane and it gets boring so I'm letting you have it on purpose, you know?" (Naofumi)

Rising and lowering by another name. [T/N: Help: またの名を上げて下げるである。]

Because it's not difficult to go from being elated to getting beat up.
Before long, Tact invokes his ability and the Cane sparks.
The Cane glows and flies into Tact's hand.
Tact grasps the Cane and smiles with confidence in his victory.

“Your grinning is disgusting. Are you really that happy about obtaining the Cane?” (Naofumi)

“It doesn’t matter what you say, you’re just a poor loser. I’m going to brutally kill you so prepare yourself!” (Tact)

“I’ve said this so many times. That’s my line.” (Naofumi)

I turn towards Ren.

Ren, having perceived the situation, takes out a sword from his back – one which was different from the Four Saints Sword he was holding – and throws it into the air towards me.

Raising my right hand, I catch the sword that Ren sent over.

“I… your pride, dignity and valuables… I’m here to brutally destroy all of those. First I’ll leisurely destroy half of your pride. Then the remaining half. You, the fake hero who obtained six of the Seven Star Weapons and the Four Saints Weapons’ shield. Know the reality of being defeated by an ordinary person who doesn’t possess a legendary weapon!” (Naofumi)

※ There is a rule about the characters who call out “Uoooh!” not meeting satisfaction in this work.

(Protagonist inclusive)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 331 – The Strongest Seven Star Hero

---

I draw my sword from its scabbard. I have no experience with sword fighting. However, I have taken Ren, Raphtalia and the Female Knight's sword techniques countless times. That's why I can use them somewhat.

This sword is something the Old Man from the Weapon Shop and Imia's Uncle whipped up for me, and it uses materials from Houou as its base. Apparently the materials have some of the characteristics of the Spirit Turtle's materials but the two experienced men easily dealt with them and made it. Its name was also Phoenix Sword. There were various effects but being unable to identify them with a half-hearted judgement was similar to the Spirit Turtle Sword.

The 'Phoenix Gale Sword' that Ren fired earlier is a skill that appeared after copying this sword. It seems its base stats don't differ much from Ren's Spirit Turtle Sabre's base values. Its special ability, the growing power, is the issue.

"I'll teach you that the Heroes' Weapons are more than just a toy. Bring it on." (Naofumi)

I declared, to crush Tact's Pride. It was probably at this time. There was a *thud* and I turn towards the sound. That was the exact moment that the dragon had her head blown off and collapsed. Of course, the one who blew her head off was no other than Fohl.

"I've kept you waiting, Aniki." (Fohl) "You're so slow, Fohl. I don't know how many times I could've killed this guy already. He was so weak I had to let him borrow the Cane." (Naofumi) "This guy flew away so I was delayed in taking her down." (Fohl)

I hurled insults at Fohl while I wait for him to come over. Tact looked over and then shouted with disbelief.

“Nellisen!” (Tact)

But the dragon was already dead and couldn’t reply.

“Even you!” (Tact)

Tact ran towards Fohl, with an expression like he was crying tears of blood.

“Whoops.” (Fohl) “Ugh—” (Tact)

Fohl avoided all of Tact’s attacks and spells, and kicks Tact’s face.

“What are you doing all of a sudden.” (Fohl) “I’m angry because you killed my precious companion. You killed her so cruelly, you know?” (Tact) “That’s what I should be saying. All your women put together don’t even measure up to Atla’s life.” (Fohl)

With a *kick*, Fohl even uses his body weight to trample over Tact and come to me.

“So? Aniki, even the Cane was taken by him?” (Fohl) “Yeah, because I have to drive him into hopelessness. The necessities of a hero… I thought I should teach him about perseverance.” (Naofumi) “I see, then I won’t be a hero, but one of the Hakuko… I want to fight as Atla’s brother.” (Fohl)

I see… so Fohl has the same feelings as I do. Then I will also fight as a human being instead of a hero… I will fight as Naofumi Iwatani.

“Unforgivable… I will definitely kill you guys!” (Tact)

Not learning his lesson, Tact brandishes the Cane and approaches Fohl. When Fohl used his Gauntlets to parry the attack, he cackled with laughter.

Sure enough, the Gauntlets shine and separate from Fohl, transferring onto Tact's arms.

Didn't Tact hear our conversation just now? Even though Fohl said he wouldn't be fighting as a hero in order to avenge Atla... Or was he so enraged that he didn't even understand that? Even if that's the case, we were the same.

"With this, I've obtained all of the Seven Star Weapons! I've become the sole and strongest Seven Star Hero in the world. You guys no longer have any chances of winning! Obediently... DIE!" (Tact)

At those words, his followers also raised a commotion. And yet they had huddled together until now, as if they had been watching a scene from Hell.

Even so, the world's sole and strongest Seven Star Hero... what's with that awful phrase. And I suppose he'd also be the strongest hero in history if he adds all the Four Saint Weapons to that, huh. Such foolishness.

"Ah yes, yes. It's just that your weapons have increased, don't get carried away. There's no meaning in it if you don't win." (Naofumi)

Female Knight said so in the past. What will you do after becoming the strongest, or something. [T/N: Female Knight asked Ren during his cursed-by-greed phase.] At the very least, it's something I can't understand.

"Now then, Mister Strongest Seven Star Hero..... let's start the second round, shall we." (Naofumi)

Holding my sword in front, I focus my senses. Fohl also did the same.

""Musou Kassei!"" (Fohl & Naofumi) [T/N: Peerless Activity]

Unlike Fohl, I learned this by watching others. Even so, I learnt the concept completely so I guess it's not impossible. It's not like I have a high disposition for it like Rishia and Atla so I don't really know how much of it I have though.

"Dreifach Boost III! Huh!? I can't use the same magic as that guy!?" (Tact)

That's because the Cane and Revelation are unrelated. Above all, the Cane isn't really lending him power so it seems he can't strengthen it to the maximum. Even if he could, I still have a trump card.

"Erst Slash!" (Tact)

Tact tries to slash at us horizontally. I dodge that by an evidently paper-thin margin and approach. When I received his attack earlier it was also like that, but it's not like I can't see it. However, the Hero of the Shield shouldn't be avoiding his enemy's attacks so that time was nothing more than stopping his attack. Aura's duration time still hasn't run out.

"Vanzin Claw!" (Tact) "It couldn't be!" (Naofumi)

Anyway, this guy likes the Claw too much. Is he a speed maniac? It seems it's the fastest among the Seven Star Weapons he possesses.

As expected, he's faster than when I had the Cane. Even so, it's not like I can't avoid it.

"Er... is the Magic Sword something like this?" (Naofumi)

I support the tip of the sword with my hand, endue it with Zweite Decay and thrust with all my strength. Of course, I took into account the defence-attack proportion. The Decay spell falls under the category of a recovery magic... attack.

This magic causes decay. [T/N: The spell uses the English pronunciation and this explanation is in Japanese.] In other words, its effect is corroding the target's cells. Originally it didn't have such power. It was a spell that caused a delay in recovery.

"Gaha····." (Tact)

I must take care so it doesn't break. The Old Man and Imia's Uncle took the effort to make this sword, so I plan to give this to Raphtalia later. Let's treat it with care.

"Gu···. Have a taste of my true terror! Dreifach Elemental!" (Tact)

Tact casts a spell while brandishing the cane. Ah, so he can reproduce it to that level.

"It's useless." (Naofumi)

Elemental. If I remember correctly, it should be the multi-attribute spell that was Rishia was good at. Fohl and I concentrated and used Atla's forte, Collect, to assemble the magic Tact fired and shot it back as a ball. Of course, it's power was high so it couldn't be helped if he died.

"Wha—" (Tact)

A white flash flew towards Tact and he was blown away as expected. His followers were dumbfounded and couldn't do anything in that time.

"Whoops, he was blown away so easily." (Fohl)

Fohl kicked Tact away and he flew over towards me.

"Gu··· even though you're just a level 100 small fry, you managed to get me with an attack!?" (Tact) "Haven't you forgotten who it was that received plenty of attacks and was in a pinch just before?" (Naofumi)

With all my strength, I use my sword to stab Tact, who had come flying over. Naturally, I used a sword technique that I had learned through watching others.

“Fake Multilayered Crumble Attack!” (Naofumi) “Uu...Gu...ga...ugu...”
(Tact)

I wonder what kind of face the Female Knight would make if she saw this. Even so, he’s stubborn. It might be because I’ve been using the Hero’s Cane until now, I still don’t understand very well. [T/N: The cane boosted his attack] So Raphtalia and the others used such low firepower to fight, huh. I guess the birth of the Hengen Musou school was inevitable.

“Tiger Rampage!” (Fohl)

While I was wholeheartedly striking, Fohl came running and started hitting with all his strength. I also slashed with the Phoenix Sword to match him.

“More, more!” (Naofumi)

Bombarding him with attacks, I repeatedly struck Tact with consecutive attacks. Honestly, my power wasn’t enough at all. I had no choice but to increase the number of hits, making good use of my spirit and magic. Luckily Fohl was here so the attacks were plenty. It felt just like a Combo Game.

“STOP IT!” (Follower)

Tact’s followers couldn’t bear it and ran over with their weapons in one hand. Fohl sent one of the women flying and they were all knocked down, just like bowling pins. And then I cut down the guys near me with no argument. It’s questionable that the current me, who was just an ordinary person, has the power to kill level 250 guys, but I’m concerned about if doing so was wrong.

“Don’t think you can influence me as I am now! If you don’t want to die then shut up and watch!” (Naofumi)

I was subjected to a fury that caused my blood to boil. It may be because I don’t have much combat experience with the exception of defence, or because the opponent was a hated enemy who I couldn’t forgive, I couldn’t tell. Either way, my emotions were so exposed that even I felt like the current me was a completely different person.

In the past I’ve read manga where characters would get a huge adrenaline rush during a battle which would enhance their fighting spirit, but it’s probably similar to that. Just like that, I resume pursuit of Tact and stab him repeatedly.

“Is this the level of someone with all the Seven Star Weapons? Don’t get carried away with the jokes.” (Naofumi) “Aniki, are we still going? I want to finish him off soon.” (Fohl) “Sorry, Fohl. We still have to make this guy suffer more. The world won’t forgive him. No, even if the world forgives him, I won’t. More… We have to kill him more brutally.” (Naofumi)

“Alright!” (Fohl)

I further besiege the prostrating Tact with attacks from my sword, and Fohl continues trampling on him.

“Hey, look! Suffer more. The people you killed didn’t just undergo this level of pain!” (Naofumi)

Do you even understand the pain of your whole body being reduced to charcoal! Do you understand the despair of a dying person, who’s suffered an incurable fatal wound, being looked after by their most beloved person! Do you understand the feelings of someone who understands what it means to die but chooses to sacrifice themselves for another person’s sake!

“Aniki, if we don’t stop holding back on him soon then we’ll be making it too easy for him!” (Fohl) “Haa…haa… that’s true.” (Naofumi)

I thrust with all my strength, to the point of running out of breath. Because the Cane had been a ranged weapon, and it had firepower. There was a chip in my composure.

However… even without a legendary weapon, I can still do quite a lot. His movements are obvious. Is he really level 350 with a total of eight legendary weapons, his strength is doubtful.

“D-don’t underestimate meeeee! Lightning Whip!” (Tact)

Maybe because he was too caught up in the moment, Tact took out his whip and fired an AOE skill. We both dodged, ducking and jumping respectively, and then Fohl did a dropkick while I used my hand to support the sword to pierce Tact’s shoulder.

“GYAAAAA!” (Tact)

Ah, as I expected it’s tougher than stabbing with the Cane….. Is it because it’s not the Shield which I can operate effectively?

“This is for the Hengen Musou school’s Granny who you killed. And this is for the Queen! And next is for the villagers! For the Allied Forces who fought with us!” (Naofumi)

I unfasten the clasp adorning the sword handle. I employ the mechanism splitting the Phoenix Sword into two, just like its namesake. What will happen when I separate the two pieces while they’re still stuck in him? In addition to that, the sword blades shine with a red light and burn Tact’s flesh.

“UGUUUUUUUU!” (Tact)

I've never tried the Nitouryuu style, and I'm not confident that I can pull it off well. [T/N: Nitouryuu = two-swords style (think Kirito)] Even so, I slice at Tact's chest with the swords crossed like scissors.

"And this is—" (Naofumi) "For Atla!" (Fohl)

Returning the swords to a single blade, I coordinate with Fohl and slash at Tact's whole body mercilessly. Tact's clothes are already in tatters and his whole body is bloody. This is the strongest Seven Star Hero, haha, it makes me laugh. And finally, the finishing blow.

"Dreifach Decay! That's right... Decay Sword!" (Naofumi) "Doom Dragon Blazing Fist! (Fohl) [T/N: 滅竜烈火拳]

I endow the Phoenix sword with Decay Magic which had my magic and spirit combined with it, and I use it to tear him to pieces. At the same time came Fohl's non-stop consecutive attacks. And then both mine and Fohl's blows intersected, as if resonating with each other.

"Guwaaahhhh!" (Tact)

I could see the wounds fester where I cut him. It's pretty nasty... this attack. However, this means its power was high.

Because that attack fully encompasses the concepts of the Hengen Musou style. It approaches the limits of an ordinary person but it can probably be called an attack equal to the limitless heroes.

Fohl's attack was the same. The technique Fohl fired was a reproduction of the Gauntlet's skill. He also used it when he blasted the dragon and killed her.

"Ka... Ha..." (Tact)

Tact collapsed from Fohl and my Two Platon attack. [T/N: ツープラトン攻撃]
[ED: It's a proper Japanese phrase along the lines of double-teaming.
Pronounced how it sounds, derived from "Two platoons".]

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 332 – A Kitsune has Seven Forms, and a Tanuki, Eight

---

“Hmm… now my anger is a little… no, it hasn’t cleared at all.” (Naofumi)

I kick the fallen Tact as I spit out these words.

“Exactly. I think we should just kill him already.” (Fohl)

“Don’t be that way. This man needs to face greater despair. For the crime of killing Atlas, the Queen, and my villagers, this isn’t nearly enough.”

(Naofumi)

“… Understood, Aniki.”

Now then, I look around.

I wonder how Raphtalia and the others are faring.

First, Raphtalia is… before I can turn my eyes to her, lightning surges, and I turn my attention to that.

“Oy, wait. This onee-san isn’t satisfied at all, yet…” (Sadina)

Sadina is lifting up her enemy, who now looks like nothing but a grilled piece of fish, while she continues to discharge electricity.

When I remember what I did to Tact, I don’t think I’m in a place to say this, but I think she’s going a bit too far.

So Sadina was someone this vicious… No, perhaps she channeled my rage.

Her opponent is… dead already, right?

Death by electrocution doesn’t sound too nice.

“Naofumi-chan, this onee-san hasn’t rampaged enough yet.” (Sadina)

“You’ve done enough.” (Naofumi)

“When I’m in this form, it makes me feel mildly drunk. It’s not a bad feeling~” (Sadina)

“Just turn back already.” (Naofumi)

“Ara, he got mad at me.” (Sadina)

Sadina follows my orders and turns back to her Orca form.
Now then, to lecture her... no, I'll leave that for another time.

"And wait, you still haven't recovered?" (Naofumi)

"Oh my, Naofumi-chan saw the colors he dyed me." (Sadina)
(TL: as in her brown form)

She makes an annoying embarrassed pose as she messes around, but her actions are no joke.

"She went and mistook me for a Luka, and I was still quite pissed off because of Atlas-chan and Naofumi-chan. That was quite refreshing."
(Sadina)

She says, as she points her harpoon at Tact and starts releasing electricity at him.

Her tone heavily implies that her stress is still built up. She's definitely angry.

She's the type that acts flippant when she's really angry, I guess.

I mean... She is the oldest one in the village, and the one's who's like everyone's older sister.

There's no way she isn't mad about Atlas.

"So after Fohl is Sadina, and..." (Naofumi)

Sadina points her harpoon at the remaining women, who were moving to do something.

"If you move around, you may become like this child, so stay still." (Sadina)
"Hii!" (Women) (TL: Sound of fear)

After seeing the end of the one who challenged Sadina, it seems these women won't make a move against her.

Tact's wrung out like a wet rag, the Aotatsu women had her head blown off, and finally we have electrocution.

Honestly, I don't think I would make a move if I was in their position.

"DERYAAAAAAAH!"

"KYUAAAAAAAAAAAA!"

"AAAAAAAH!"

Hmm? I hear Ren and Gaelion's voices shouting out.

When I looked up, I saw the moment when the giant body of the Dragon Empress colliding with the fortress.

Gaelion had his mouth clamped on the giant's throat, and Ren had his sword on her core.

A large tremor radiates from the building.

"KUUUUAH!"

Gaelion cries out in a muffled voice.

"Don't screw with me! Give you my Dragon Emperor Core!? A minor fragment like you, who needed a hero's assistance to challenge me shouldn't get so high and mighty!"

When it looks like the dragon is going to act up again, Ren applies force to his sword, and she roars.

The end is clear.

"Even if I perish, you shall not obtain it!"

"... Gyau."

She flipped a switch. That one is the Adult Gaelion.

Likely, they had switched places numerous times in battle as they assisted Ren.

And this is the time when he offers his words of parting to his fellow fragment.

An ominous sound rings through the air.

“Gufu…”

It was the sound of Gaelion piercing through the empress’s throat.
The giant body convulses and stops moving. Ren lifts his sword and skillfully uses the blocks of the fortress wall to climb up it.

“Is it over?” (Ren)

“For argument’s sake.” (Naofumi)

I place my foot on Tact as I declare this.
What is Gaelion doing?

Uu…

He appears to be in the middle of a meal.
Blood is gushing out like a fountain, and Gaelion digs around the inside of the Dragon Empress’s body.
I’ve seen Firo feast on wild monsters before, but this scene is much more grotesque.

Ren covers his mouth with his hand as he witnesses the scene.
He’s definitely stomaching his urge to throw up.

“W-what is… he doing?” (Ren)

“The enemy dragon spoke of minor fragments and Dragon Emperor Fragments, right?” (Naofumi)

“Yeah.” (Ren)

“The entity called the Dragon Emperor was split into thousands of Fragments, and their parts compete to complete the whole. Something about collecting past memories…” (Naofumi)

“I don’t really get it, but pretty much, Gaelion has a fragment, and he’s claiming one from that Giant Dragon?” (Ren)

“Apparently. And since the opponent didn’t submit, he killed her and is manually trying to take it.” (Naofumi)

The fragments were supposed to gather when the world was in peril. I thought that Gaelion didn't seem to have the instinct to collect them all, but he went and hunted Tact's Dragon.

Gaelion greedily gnaws on the Enemy Dragon's heart.

I'll bet the fragment is kept somewhere around there.

"He'll likely gain the knowledge of how to breach level 100. If all goes well, Gaelion'll be able to bestow that power too." (Naofumi)

"I see! So we'll be able to make the villagers and the people of the country stronger!" (Ren)

"It's only a possibility." (Naofumi)

But considering that, I can't really kill Tact yet.

If I don't get the knowledge of how to breach 100 from him, the future looks grim.

Looking at the air, Firo is still fighting the enemy Gryphon.

"You're quite... skillful."

"Firo won't lose!" (Firo)

But I can tell at a glance who has the better prospects of victory.

Firo's movements are sharper.

The Gryphon's already taken hits here and there, and she's on the verge of collapse.

The end will eventually come.

I should really get to Raphtalia already.

I concentrate my attention on her battle.

Raphtalia and Raph-chan continue their illusionary battle with the Kitsune woman.

"You're good for a Raccoon. I remember... the Raccoon who sealed me carried a scent like yours!"

"I don't know what you're talking about, nor do I have any interest."
(Raphtalia)

It really is a battle of delusion.

Fire rains, and water wells up. The surrounding landscape is warping.

Was Raphtalia that great of a mage?

Or is this just an illusion?

Raphtalia's ability to see through illusions is high.

I bet that's why she can keep up with that Kitsune's blows.

Affinity is important.

It's good that Tact didn't cooperate with that woman.

If I were to challenge her without the Cane, it would probably be impossible.

Well, if that were the case, I would need Raphtalia's help to dispel her illusions.

"Rafu~" (Raph-chan)

"Hmm, duplication magic, is it? Do you truly think I am unable to see through it?"

Raph-chan changes to a form identical to Raphtalia and stands next to her.

Oy... she didn't notice?

Ah, I see. This was what Raphtalia was training for.

If that's the case, this might prove to be an effective weapon.

Though, I feel this is a bit too light for a decisive blow.

"Raphtalia! Catch!" (Naofumi)

I throw the Houou Sword at Raphtalia.

"Rafu~!"

But Raph-chan jumps up high and catches the sword I threw.

Eh? Raph-chan's taking it?

And wait, there's a problem more important than that. Can Raph-chan even use weapons?

"So that one's the real one!"

Raph-chan uses the sword to deflect a blow aimed at him.

Ah, so that was his intention when he intercepted it.

Despite his cute appearance, he has a surprisingly good head on his shoulders.

"Hahaha, Raccoon wench. To think you thought an illusion of this level would -gufu!?"

The real Raphtalia stabs the smiling Kitsune woman in the back.

She really was deceived.

It seems Raphtalia was more skillful.

"Unfortunately, you were wrong." (Raphtalia)

"Rafu~." (Raph-chan)

"Impossible... an illusion with physical substance!? Even its scent is the same!"

"I have no reason to tell you the truth of the matter. Isn't it a battle of deception? Anyways... what did you think this child was supposed to be?"
(Raphtalia)

"Raccoon wench... so it wasn't you who used an illusion to breach the Dragon Emperor and the Gryphon's sanctuary..."

So Tact's side thought it was Raphtalia who used the sanctuary.

Even their most skilled illusionist was deceived, so I guess they thought Raph-chan was merely a part of her.

In truth, he was created with her genes, so even his scent is the same. His voice and feel are different, though. I'll investigate it later.

"Unfortunately, no." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia pulls out her sword, and starts a coordinated attack with Raph-chan.

Right, this attack was the one that Trash proposed.

Using one of them as bait, and making an opening for the other. And Raphtalia, and Raph-chan...

"Here we go! Make sure to keep up with me!" (Raphtalia)

"Rafu~!" (Raph-chan)

Raphtalia starts unleashing sword strikes at a high speed.

"Na.... gu.... u...."

Slash, thrust, rest, Karma Blade, kick, First Stroke, Second Stroke, Third Stroke, followed by a stream of Hengen Musou sword skills.

And Raph-chan imitates that as if a mirror was placed on the other side of the Kitsune's body.

This brings to mind a famous attack from a fighting game. I believe it was the attack of a Demon of Dreams.

The combo ended with them lifting their swords together, turning their backs to the Kitsune, and swinging downward to wipe off the blood.

「Illusion Mirror」!

「Rafu~」!

Raph-chan returns to his Tanuki form.

"I have... yet to... fall."

Though she should have collapsed, the Kitsune woman stands while covered in blood.

No matter how you look at it, it's her loss... the woman's form gradually begins to change.

... As if her transformation had been dispelled, her shape becomes that of a giant fox.

Is this the time for me to offer assistance?

When I took a step in their direction...

"Not... yet."

Tact's consciousness returns, and he suddenly stands up.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 333 – The Hero of the Shield Commands

---

What a calming number. My school ends next week, so perhaps translation speed will pick up then... or not.

Chapter 333: The Hero of the Shield Commands

"I... haven't lost yet!" (Tact)

Tact staggers to his feet as he directs his hostility towards us.

And the area begins to fill with a black miasma.

Is he going to use a Curse Series?

Well, I did kill his women out of revenge.

It's not strange for him to awaken a curse or two.

"I'll never forgive... you all! Eri, Nellisen, Shatte, Reldia, you killed them all! I, the strongest Hero... will definitely kill you!" (Tact)

Tact turns his eyes to Ren.

It appears that he believes that he will have a chance if he steals the Legendary Sword.

How nice.

For him to be able to stand after all of our beatings, is it the power of the Seven Stars?

No, it may be one of those main character powers like will-power or determination.

That's splendid and all, but it would be nice if he were to give up soon.

I hope he realizes that he won't be able to beat us no matter how hard he struggles.

"You'll still fight? Self-proclaimed hero, who couldn't even beat a civilian like me, your life is already at its end." (Naofumi)

"Cut the crap! I am... still standing! As long as I have these legendary weapons... if I don't have enough power, I simply have to steal it!" (Tact)

"Tact! Don't lose!"

The women get lively as they start cheering for Tact.

If Tact truly had the power of Narrative Causality on his side, I bet we would be at a disadvantage.

Some miracle would happen, and he would awaken to some new power or something.

"I see, I see. So the fact that you're a legendary hero is embedded this deep in your psyche." (Naofumi)

This is also just as planned.

And that's why I'll... steal away his last hope.

"Unfortunately, the current you won't be able to beat Ren." (Naofumi)

"I won't know if I don't try!" (Tact)

Tact takes out the claw, and prepares to release a Vanzin Claw at him.

"Just understand it already. The Seven Stars can't beat the Four Legendary. And Ren won't... no, I won't let you." (Naofumi)

I put my hand on the area where my shield once hung, and concentrate.

[... I, who has understood the origin of power, a simple civilian and an average Hero, the Hero of the Shield command.]

Just like how the body needs a soul to complete itself...

Just like how a Legendary Weapon needs a Hero...

We're bound by a single thread. I search for the point that connects me.

To counter this separation, that was supposed to be impossible, I need to form a stronger bond.

The body was made for the soul, and the soul was forged for the body.

「Let the truth be unraveled once more. My Shield is…」

Tact's weapon flashes, and a single light flies from his hand to mine.
A strong light fills the area, and blinds everyone present.
And in my field of vision, the nostalgic Shield Icon manifested.

“Wha- Impossible!”

Before he can use Vanzin, Tact turns to me.
And I prepare to take his attack head-on.

“Hmph!”

Using my Shield, I repel and nullify his signature move.
Now that our lost bond has strengthened, this attack is nothing to me.
My status has returned to that of when I had the Shield before… no, it's risen several levels.
Though my attack power is the same as always.

“What's wrong? Is your theft ability not working?” (Naofumi)

“Impossible! How absurd! How were you able to take back the Shield!?”
(Tact)

“I said it, didn't I? You have no way of beating me. You're already in checkmate.” (Naofumi)

Having seen a scene he had never expected to see in his life, Tact opens and closes his mouth again and again.
But, even so… he still has the will to fight.

“I can't help it. I just want to see your face colored by despair, time and time again.” (Naofumi)

“Aniki, you're making the face of a complete villain again.” (Fohl)

“Naofumi sure seems used to this.” (Ren)

“But that's where Naofumi-chan's charm lies.” (Sadina)

On Sadina's words, Ren and Fohl avert their gaze.

Yes, I can understand their feelings.

Though it seems that everyone has accepted that I look like a villain.

"Really? I think Aniki should be a bit more..." (Fohl)

"I think you're wrong. I think it's how he's good at looking after others."
(Ren)

"Ara? Onee-san likes this Naofumi-chan too~♥" (Sadina)

The peanut gallery should shut up.

I don't care what you find good about me.

"Now then, your final hope... let me steal it from you." (Naofumi)

I put my hand on my Shield, and use the trump card Atlas and the Spirit of the Shield showed me.

In truth, if I had used this from the battle's onset, the fight would already be over.

The events up until now have been but light entertainment.

Had I used it, we wouldn't even have to fight.

「The Hero of the Shield command. My brethren, heed my words. Undo the foolish restraints that bind you, and awaken.」

The Claw in Tact's hand gives off a soft light.

After confirming that, I continued.

「Strip him of the Qualifications to command you」!

One. Two. Three. Four. Five. Six. Seven.

It's not just the Claw. All of the weapons in his body begin to glow.

"W-what!? What's happenind!? Gu... my power is flowing out!" (Tact)

Tact can't hide his shock from the abnormality of the situation.

In the first place, it's wrong for a single person to assert his control over a large number of legendary weapons.

The Four and the Seven weren't made to work like that from the beginning.

「Fine wielders worthy of thine own glory」!

The seven lights from Tact... flow out, rise high into the sky, and start falling to the earth.

It's like those wish-granting balls in a popular manga.

Oh? There's a light flying in this direction.

Oh right, Fohl was the Hero selected by the Gauntlet, so that's natural.

... Wait? That's two too many.

“Eh? Ah, kya!”

“Wah? What is it?”

Light rains down on Raphtalia and Firo.

“This is... a Hammer?” (Raphtalia)

“What's this? Claws~?” (Firo)

Yes, It seems that Raphtalia and Firo were selected by those I called my brethren.

Their names vanish from the list of slaves and monsters under my control.

“W-what foolishness is this!? To steal a weapon from Tact!? Return it at once!”

“Who would return such a thing!?” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia lifts the large hammer up high, swings it downwards at the Kitsune Woman, who took up the form of a nine-tailed fox.

“Let's see... 「Thor Hammer」!” (Raphtalia)

The second Raphtalia's hammer hit the nine-tails, lightning struck down.

"GYAAAAAAAAAH!"

Along with the Kitsune woman's scream, I heard a splattering sound.

"Uwah..."

It appears that Raphtalia has smashed that woman's head.

"Rafu~."

Raph-chan, who had been covering his ears from the monstrous sound, made a pose of victory.

I believe the other end happened at the same time.

"Die! Filo Rial Queen Candidate!"

"Whoah." (Firo)

Firo suddenly... deployed something?

It only appeared for an instant, but isn't that the Wall that Atlas and me use?

Why is she able to use it?

No, well, Firo did train with us quite often, so...

"Eh? Ah?"

The gryphon crashes head-first into the wall.

Firo doesn't let the chance go. She puts her foot on the Gryphon's neck and...

「Erste Claw」?

An ominous sound echoed through the air.

And just like that, the Gryphon crashed to the ground.

Firo flaps her wings a few time, and lands.
Over her feet were the Seven Star Claws.

"These are really light! Firo accidentally overdid it!" (Firo)

"Turna! Ashiel! You... even took the Seven Stars from me!? What the hell is happening!?" (Tact)

Tact is trembling with fear, but I don't feel any pity in myself for him.

"From the start, we were merely playing around with you. Did you think that you were all that, you small fry?" (Naofumi)

"Go to hell!" (Tact)

Even so, without accepting reality, Tact was already moving to punch me.
A loud sound rings out as his hand collides with my face.
But I don't feel anything.

"Uu... ah... ah." (Tact)

"With this, you aren't a Hero, or anything more. Just try and turn around this situation." (Naofumi)

Having lost his Hero Status, we can execute Tact without having any negative influence on the world.

Of course, quite a few problems will pop up because of the Heroes he's killed himself...

"You get it? This it the difference between a real Hero, and a wannabe. You contented yourself with your transient power, but now your age is over. Your crime of playing with the world, make up for it with your body!"
(Naofumi)

「Shield Prison! → Change Shield (Attack)」

A cage made of Shields surrounds Tact, and through my Change Shield, they all become Shields furnished with spikes.

I'm holding back to an extent where it won't kill him, so there are no problems.

I really do want to kill him now, but there's a reason I can't.

At the very least, as long as the possibility exists that he's a reincarnated individual, I can't kill him so easily.

I'll need to know what god or demon is backing this bastard.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 334 – Two Thirds

---

“Now then, with this, we’ve pretty much finished cleaning up his forces. Go shoot some light magic.” (Naofumi)

As per Trash’s order, I give the command. Sadina raises her harpoon into the sky and chants magic.

Well, the Cane should have flown to the man, so he should already know the conclusion.

“Hmm? Wha-”

When I look towards the battlefield, I find myself at a loss for words.
It’s fine that smoke’s rising from the castle town.
I mean, the fires seem to have subsided greatly.

The problem is the area close to the fortress.
The remnants of about half the Faublian army come running… seemingly after suffering heavy damage.

“Naofumi.” (Ren)

Ren points to the battlefield.
At that moment, something glows, and a beam of light shoots through the Faublian army.

“Do you know what’s happening?” (Ren)

“… Probably.” (Naofumi)

It was fired from Melromark’s side, and based on the marks left behind, I think it’s heavy artillery.

(TL: How would you translate 四射目?)

After that, a thick laser-like beam pierces the sky.

"I think it's Rat's new weapon... and Trash's skill." (Naofumi)

A carriage-type... no, Tank-type Mii-kun is probably letting loose the armaments equipped on him.

Like a swarm of baby spiders, half of the Faublian army scatters and flees in this direction. The rest appear to have surrendered. There's no sign of movement from them.

"More importantly. We should arrest Tact and his followers already, and go fight the wave." (Naofumi)

"Yeah." (Ren)

I don't know if any force will come to assist him, so I wonder what I should do.

"Witch... don't think you can escape." (Raphtalia)

With hammer in hand, Raphtalia stands before Witch, who was quietly trying to escape. She glares at her.

Remembering the events up until now, there's not a single person who will let that bitch go.

Just how many things had to become sacrifices because of her?

"Ku..."

"Your life is already over. It's time for you to prepare for your painful execution." (Naofumi)

I point my thumb towards the ground and look to Sadina.

"Arara. 「Dreifach Thunderbolt」!" (Sadina)

As if she guessed my intention, Sadina casts lightning magic to prevent Witch's escape.

"GYAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAH!" (Witch)

It was quite a cry.

"KYAAAAAAAAAH!"

Seeing the tempest of lightning dancing before them, Tact's women raise up some screams.

It's paralysis. Moving will be impossible for her.

We definitely have no intention of letting her escape.

"Even if she's rotten, her level is unnecessarily high. Firo, look over her. If she tries anything strange, kill her without hesitation." (Naofumi)

"What about Master?" (Firo)

"I'll head to the wave with Gaelion." (Naofumi)

"Eh? Firo wants to be on that side." (Firo)

"Deal with it. Helping out here will help Melty out in the long run."

(Naofumi)

"Really? Then Firo will do it." (Firo)

For Firo, Melty's a precious friend.

I'll bet that having her look after the source of all of this world's evil will prove beneficial to her reputation.

"Gaelion, how long are you going to dig around in that? Let's go already."

(Naofumi)

"...Kyua..." (Gaelion)

Hmm? Gaelion's acting strange.

He flies to me in his child mode.

Oy, don't touch me when you're covered in blood.

Though, the blood on my body (Tact's) isn't something to laugh at either.

"Kyua." (Gaelion)

Gaelion chants water magic to wash his body.

… He could use something like that?

He gets on my shoulder and speaks in a soft voice.

“I’ve gathered a majority of the fragments. It wouldn’t be an exaggeration to say I’ve remembered mostly everything.” (Gaelion)

“I see. Even on how to breach the level limit?” (Naofumi)

“Yeah, something like that is of no trouble to me. More importantly, there was a piece of important information in that woman’s fragments.” (Gaelion)

What? I’ve already heard about the wave from the spirits, and Trash was able to deduce a bit from the memos left by the Queen.

“It’s about the Four Good Omens. You were talking about the wave earlier, right?” (Gaelion)

“Yes, and?” (Naofumi)

“The Four omens offer their souls to protect the world from the wave, and they hold the power to prevent it. That’s why the legendary weapon wielders, and their brethren, aren’t transferred to combat them when they appear.” (Gaelion)

I see. I did think it was something like that, but this clinches it.

It was something I thought up quite a while ago.

The Four Omens were definitely our enemies, but perhaps they were allies of the world.

That means…

“I am… No, if Ouryuu, who’s sealed within the Dragon Emperor Fragments were to be released, then he would sacrifice an estimated two thirds of the world’s population, and the wave will…” (Gaelion)

-Stop.

At that moment, my attention turns to the Dragon Hourglass icon in my field of vision.

Since I registered at Zeltburg's hourglass, what's displayed is the time until Zeltburg's wave.

Numbers representing the remaining time appear, and a world map with the indicated location pops up.

What's more, a window with 『Will you heed this summon?』 and the choices 『Yes / No』 float before me.

This may be quite a dire situation.

The location is close to Melromark's... southwest border.

It appears I can teleport there, but if the Heroes were to warp, then Tact and Witch would get away.

"Firo, Sadina, and Ren, you watch over these people. We'll respond to these summons." (Naofumi)

"Got it." (Ren)

"Leave it to onee-san." (Sadina)

"Firo too." (Firo)

With those three on guard, I don't think they can run.

Ren's become able to use a bit of support magic, so the 250-level gap shouldn't hold too much meaning.

They don't seem to have any growth corrections or status boosts, so our base power is different.

"Let's go." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia calls out to me.

Her raised hand is clamping around a ridiculously large mallet.

A Seven Star Weapon... no, a brethren of the four holy weapons.

"Are you fine with that weapon?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. Hengen Musou doesn't restrict itself to a single weapon." (Raphtalia)

"Ah, that's true. Fohl, we'll have to put off harassing that man to a later date. You understand?" (Naofumi)

"...Yeah." (Fohl)

He seems reluctant, but he nods anyways.

And Raph-chan jumps towards me.

He grabs onto the surface of my Shield.

"Rafu~" (Raph-chan)

"You want to come too?" (Naofumi)

"Rafu~!" (Raph-chan)

I'd like it if he stopped swinging that sword around in his Tanuki mode... but he seems to have the motivation to fight, so I'll bring him along.
I turn back to Gaelion.

"So, the wave... will stop. Will you do it?" (Gaelion)

Sacrificing about two thirds of the population to ensure the longevity of the world?

With the end result taken into consideration, I guess it's not a bad hand to play.

Thinking about the true enemy we have to fight, it's quite a difficult problem.

But, the cost is too great for me to make the choice.

"Yep, let's leave that as a final option." (Naofumi)

"... As it should be. The Dragon Emperor asked the Heroes of the Past to seal him. In order to prepare for an event like this. It's beneficial to us that that Fake Hero was unable to bring himself to kill that dragon and instead kept it close." (Gaelion)

No, I think that's just because she was a Bishoujo when in Human form.
But I won't say it.

I pick 『Yes』 from the options floating in the air.

At that moment, all those in my party and I were sent flying to the wave.

This wave has both Itsuki and Motoyasu fighting in it.

What could be happening?

We have to check the situation.

The scene I witness upon teleportation leaves me dumbfounded.

A large fissure has spread throughout the sky, and on the other side... was but another world.

And right now, the fissure gradually begins to increase in size.

The Apocalypse... the word crosses my mind.

It was a scene bizarre enough to warrant such a thought.

Even though I heard most of it from the spirits, I'm still this disturbed.

Raphtalia and the others might be looking at fear itself.

I look around.

The villagers were frantically repelling the raging monsters of the wave.

There was also an unfamiliar flock of Filo Rials and a Queen pulling a carriage resembling Rat's tank.

"KUEEEEEEEEEEE!"

In answer to the Filo Rial's scream, light gathers around the barrel of the mounted cannon. It releases a beam that cuts through the rampaging monsters.

「Energy Blaster」!

Itsuki changes his Bow to a Rifle and uses a skill.

The Legendary Bow sure encompasses quite a few categories.

Even firearms are allowed... I'm jealous.

But now's not the time to think about it.

I call out to Itsuki, who was concentrating on the monsters emerging from the sky.

"Itsuki! Reinforcements have arrived!" (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-san! You came at a good time! Quickly, the Wave..." (Itsuki)

"Y-yeah!" (Naofumi)

When I nod, the people I brought with me begin running towards the source.

Thinking about it, what should we do about the origin of the wave?

"Quickly, the enemy that... came from the wave. Please beat it with Motoyasu-san!" (Itsuki)

"U-understood! 「All Revelation Aura X」!" (Naofumi)

Upon receiving my support magic, we start off towards the boss monster. The Aura Spell, All Revelation Aura, casts a status buff on all those I consider an ally within a limited area.

"It's about time the first will wear off. 「All Revelation Down X」!" (Itsuki)

Ah, I forgot to mention it.

The magic Itsuki learned on Cal Mira was Down.

You can probably guess by the name, but it's a debuff that's the exact opposite of Aura.

It lowers all stats.

When used on an enemy, their abilities fall considerably.

With my Aura and Itsuki's Down, the battle should... become easier!

When I look at those who were fighting before we got here, their movements have gotten better. Their skills have risen, but the amount of enemies isn't decreasing.

It looks like monsters are appearing from areas outside of the fissure.
It's like they respawn the moment they're cut down.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 335 – United Front

---

“Just what the hell is happening!?” (Naofumi)

I ask Itsuki once more.

“Report the situation!” (Naofumi)

“Understood!” (Itsuki)

In the face of the raging wave monster, I deploy Meteor Shield X, and protect the villagers.

There, Itsuki raises his voice, and begins his report.

Next to him, Rishia throws her weapon to take out the monsters outside the barrier.

Her weapon has changed from transparent to solid.

Well, just as the Spirit of the Shield and Atlas told me, because the Seven Star Weapons were released, Rishia’s been formally recognized as the Hero of the Projectile.

I don’t know the situation about the wave itself, but the battlefield is quite wide, and is enlarging as we speak.

What’s happening at the center of this wave?

It seems that Motoyasu and his three Filo Rials are fighting there, but it’s quite far, and the sheer amount of monsters in our way make it difficult to make them out.

“We participated in the wave from the start, but the monsters that appeared had very high levels, so it is a close battle. That is the situation.” (Itsuki)

I confirm the levels of the monsters exiting the void.

Interdimensional Bird of Ruin Level 220

"220!? It seems their levels suddenly spiked." (Naofumi)

With numbers this high, I can see it being quite a struggle.

No, with 100 as the limit, they're treading in dangerous waters!

Well, with support magic, I guess it's not too bad.

Right now, everyone's relying on Itsuki's support magic to narrowly avoid defeat.

"That isn't all, right?" (Naofumi)

The air whistles, and behind us, Trash appears, Cane in hand.

It seems he's brought some Melromark and Allied soldiers with him.

"T-this is..." (Trash)

"Good timing! Trash, I leave the command to you. Make sure we don't run out of support magic." (Naofumi)

"Understood!" (Trash)

Trash is the Hero of the Cane, so he can use most forms of magic.

That includes the Magic of Heroes.

I went to the Magic Store, and learned how to transcribe spells, before teaching them to Trash.

Well, I only taught him the fundamentals, so I don't suppose he can use Revelation, but he should be able to manage a Dreifach.

"How does the other battlefield look?" (Naofumi)

"It was Melromark's complete victory, and the Faublian Army has surrendered. It seems something happened here, so I took your people who were fighting with us, and all those of the allied army that could still fight, and came here." (Trash)

With him are Kiel and Taniko. Also, Rat and Miikun.

"Niichan! I worked hard!" (Kiel)

"I see. Good job." (Naofumi)

I offer thankful words to Kiel.

The fact that she's this energetic means that she must have contributed a lot to the war.

Hmm? Looking closely, Taniko's carrying a whip I've never seen before.

C-could it be... she...

No, she does love monsters, so perhaps he has the proper affinity.

"It seems that this child has been selected as the next Hero of the Whip."

(Trash)

"KYUAAAAA!" (Gaelion)

Gaelion leaps in Taniko's direction.

You do realize we're in the middle of a battlefield, right!?

"I see. Then I'll leave it to you!" (Naofumi)

"No... It's not me..." (Taniko)

Taniko shakes as she answers me.

"That old woman! When the light came flying over, she used me as a Shield!" (Taniko)

"What are you talking about? The legendary Whip chose you." (Rat)

"You're definitely wrong!" (Taniko)

"Rafu~" (Mii-kun)

Tank-model Mii-kun calls out to calm both sides.

At the same time, Gaelion stands between them.

What the hell are these people doing...

"I definitely don't want to be a Hero! I'm just a researcher!" (Rat)

"It's not that I don't want to fight, but I don't want a Hero's power!"

(Taniko)

(TL: Whip-kun is sad. Noone wants him.)

The whip lets off a faint light, as it bounces back and forth between the two.
It still hasn't made a decision?
As long as it adds to our forces, I don't really care who gets it.
The Spirit seems troubled as well.

"You people... Just go fight already! The Whip chose someone, right!?"
(Naofumi)

Well, both of them are skilled at support, and from what I've seen, the Whip has high support capabilities.
Is it that they don't want to stand out?
Neither of them have particularly good images of Heroes either.

The Hero of the Whip chased Rat out of the country, and Taniko's surrogate father was killed off by a Hero.
I bet it's something like that.
And the Whip holds an affinity with those that use monsters.
Both of them have the qualifications.

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

Gaelion puts Taniko on his back, and starts flying towards the center of the wave.
Don't worry. The Gaelion you're riding isn't the Gaelion of the past.
After stealing the fragment of Faubley's Dragon Emperess, he's now the Dragon Emperor with the highest amount of Fragments in the world.

"Go! Gaelion!" (Naofumi)

"KYUAAAAA!" (Gaelion)

Following my order, Gaelion changes to his giant dragon form, and bathes the battleground in flames.
Oh my. This is quite a powerup.
It seems that Taniko's using the Whip's power to cast support skills on him too.

I'll have to teach her about her weapon later.

Raphtalia and Firo as well.

"And? Itsuki, what's happening?" (Naofumi)

We move our mouths as we fight.

That's just how pressed for time we are.

"Yes. The monster's have become stronger as a start... and the enemy Naofumi-san encountered at the last red hourglass, Glass, appeared." (Itsuki)

"As I thought... and?" (Naofumi)

"After that, the monsters went out of control, and we're currently dividing and conquering. Next... you'll have to hear it from Motoyasu-san and his Filo Rials, who're fighting in the source!" (Itsuki)

"Got it!" (Naofumi)

So Itsuki and Rishia don't know the whole situation themselves.

The remaining time on the Hourglass has dwindles quite a bit.

Like a warning alarm, the hourglass had begun flashing, alerting us of the danger.

"Raphtalia! Fohl! We're going to rush right through to the source of the wave! Follow me!" (Naofumi)

"Got it!" (Fohl)

"Yes!" (Raphtalia)

"Rafu~!" (Raphchan)

As if she understood my order, the Filo Rial drawing the tank-like carriage begins clearing the way for us.

That's... probably Fitoria.

That Tank is... no, it doesn't matter. I'll save that for later.

I shrug off the high leveled monsters with my Shield, as we rush to the center.

“DERYAAAAAAH!”

“Ku… That Shield… you’re Naofumi! Finally, a real one has arrived.”

There, for some reason, Motoyasu and Glass were combining their powers to shoot off skills towards the crack in the sky.

Protecting the two, Midori was at the front slaughtering the monsters headed in their direction. He was toting an unfamiliar axe.

“Why are… you fighting with Motoyasu’s group?” (Naofumi)

“At the start, I came to oppose him… but now’s not the time for such things! If we don’t contain the wave quickly, calamity will come!” (Glass)

“Yes… I know. But I don’t have any means of attack. So.. I came here to protect everyone.” (Naofumi)

The Shield told me just what sort of phenomenon the Wave was.

If it was telling the truth… then I guess I can understand why Glass would ally with us here.

This time, they’re directly attacking the crack itself.

This was something outside of Itsuki’s knowledge.

I concentrate my attention on the Shield, put in my Chi… and release.

「Meteor Wall X」!

This was a skill from the Shield of Compassion Atlas bestowed upon me.

It’s ability is… deploying a Meteor Shield around all those I recognize as an ally. A high-class skill.

What’s more, when the group enters a close formation, its area of effect grows.

Right now, all of those at the Wave’s origin point, starting with Motoyasu, Glass, and Midori, all get covered in a large barrier.

Of course, it also has its flaws.

I have to shoulder a portion of the damage dealt to the Meteor Wall.

But only if they're able to overcome my defense.

"This is..." (Glass)

Glass seems surprised at the barrier I deployed.

"If this is up, then... 「Rinbu Mu Stance, Musou」!" (Glass)

(TL: Glass has been shown so far to use two styles, Rinbu Mu (Circle Dance of Nothingness) 輪舞無, and Rinbu Ha (Circle Dance of Rupture) 輪舞破)

(TL again: The Kanji used for the skill name is 無想(Blank Mind). It a different kanji from the one in Musou Kassei and Hengen Musou, which is 無双(Peerless). I'm not sure if I should translate these, or leave them as is)

In an instant, Glass's body vanished, and in the next moment, a large impact sound rang out from the crack.

I only witnessed it for a split-second, but she appeared in front of the crevice, as if through teleportation, and proceeded to unleash a consecutive stream of blows on it.

I was only able to follow that speed with my senses heightened by Revelation Aura.

As expected of one who protects the world?

I don't know what's to come, but for now, she's an ally.

And while I was thinking that, the Meteor Wall surrounding Glass shattered. It was probably the effect of her skill.

In truth, I did take a small amount of damage.

From Glass's attitude, it must have been some double-edged-sword-like skill.

I recast the Meteor wall, and re-erect our defensive wall.

“Now! As fast as possible! Suppress the wave!” (Naofumi)

“Understood, Father-in-Law! 「Brionac X」!” (Motoyasu)

“Got it! 「Rinbu Sen Stance, Samidare」!” (Glass)

(TL: Rinbe Sen (Flashing Circle Dance) Samidare (early Summer Rain))

「Thor Hammer」!

「Rafu~」

「KYUAAAA!」

「Dragon of Ruin Inferno Fist X」!

(TL: 滅竜烈火拳 X)

「Accel Smash」! (Firo)

「Lightning Whip」!

All of my comrades who had reached the center released their ultimate attacks.

Large shockwaves collide with the crevice, and some explosion-like attacks hit it as well.

But without any change, the fissure continues to expand.

“Ku...”

The Meteor Wall is protecting everyone from the normal monsters’ attacks, but it’s becoming a bit difficult.

Even if they’re like this, they’re still monsters over level 200.

They have powers equal to or greater than Tact’s Harem.

If it was one on one, I think we could handle it, but these numbers are a pain.

It’s good that the wall has yet to fall.

Because of the influence of the Shield of Compassion, I can’t use my Wrath Shield, or Blutopfer.

I feel like I could do something about it if I was in the condition I had when I was beating up Tact, but it’s currently impossible for me.

I also order around my first and second float Shields to blow away the approaching enemies, and cover the allies they're focusing their attacks on.

「Heaven's Judgement X」!

「KWEH」!

Support fire flies from the rear as well.

All of the Heroes are working together.

Because of that, the wave's expansion... slows down, and stops.

“Good!” (Naofumi)

With this, it should end.

And...

A snapping sound resounded through the world.

A white light began flooding out of the source of the wave, forcing us to close our eyes.

“It seems we've barely managed to prevent the worst from happening, but...” (Glass)

Glass's words enter my ears.

And after the light abated... I was able to confirm what the wave had done.

I was able to confirm that the voices from the Spirit of the Shield had been telling the truth.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 336 – The Eighth

---

“The land…? What’s happening?”

I definitely told him about it before, but Itsuki raises his voice.
But even if he did know, there was no way he could remain silent.
The Time Icon in our vision reverts to the normal hourglass… Zeltburg’s hourglass, but now’s not the time to think about that.

“Quite spacing out! Right now… we have to concentrate on the monsters the wave left behind. What do you think would happen if monsters of that level were let loose on the populace!?” (Naofumi)

“Y-yes!” (Itsuki)

Including Itsuki, everybody was thinking about it.
It was… the expanse of unknown land stretching out before us.
Because the wave had died down, no new monsters were spawning, but it left quite a severe mark behind.

“Rebuild the formation, and kill as many monsters as you can! Keep the casualties to a minimum! Understand!?” (Naofumi)

My voice snaps everyone back to reality, and they nod.
Glass runs off towards the unknown land, and begins helping sweep up the monsters.

A few hours passed.
We finally killed every last monster from the wave.

“What is happening?” (Itsuki)

Itsuki comes, and poses the question to me.

"I talked a bit about it, didn't I? Looking at what was on the other side of the crack, it's quite clear, isn't it?" (Naofumi)

"But still..." (Itsuki)

"I want to confirm it too. Gaelion." (Naofumi)

"Kyua!" (Gaelion)

Small mode Gaelion lets me hop aboard, and he changes to his giant form. Taniko... isn't here.

Gaelion unfolds his wings, and begins lifting himself into the air.

The ground below us gets smaller, and smaller, and the clouds grow in size.

I concentrate on the changed earth below.

From the Shield, I bring out a map of the country, and survey the land I can see.

From here, I can't do a thorough investigation... at the very least, by looking down from above, I can see the new expanse of land.

"Fumu... the worst outcome didn't come about, but it came ridiculously close. We have to prepare ourselves." (Gaelion)

Gaelion seems to have a grasp of the situation.

"If I were to compare it to a cup, it's already got cracks running down the middle... just how long is it before the water bursts out?" (Gaelion)

"I don't know. It's not like we don't have emergency measures, but..." (Naofumi)

What should we do?

If I didn't hold Tact back, the situation would become even worse, so I wasn't able to prioritize one over the other.

I may be looking in hindsight here, but it's good that I didn't treat Glass as a complete enemy back when I first met her.

Well... it's not certain that she's our ally, and even if she's an enemy, it'll just be an extension of the wave.

"I decided to save the world. I'll just do what I can." (Naofumi)

"That's quite some wishful thinking you've got there. But I'd like to believe the same." (Gaelion)

After our conversation ended, we descended back down to the ground.

"..."

With the Wave's monsters gone, we approach Glass, and her comrades; a group that looked like a form of army.

This is quite a critical situation... isn't it?

I can't let down my guard.

Of course. These people were our enemies up until now.

"First, I'd like to create some space for a discussion. Would that be alright with you?" (Glass)

"Understood. There are a few things I'd like to ask you as well." (Naofumi)

Me and Trash act as representatives to stand before Glass.

I mean, with the King of Wisdom on our side, I think the conversation should head somewhere for the better.

"Let's see. What's become of the Heroes of your world? How about your followers?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. That world's four heroes have all but been reduced to one... the other three have perished." (Glass)

... This is quite troubling.

It's not my problem, but it's quite a dire situation.

"That's why, I alone, to prolong the life of the world, attacked this world with my life on the line. Without the opportunity to beat a single person here, I ran out of time, and this situation came to pass." (Glass)

Glass hangs her head.

Well, it's something I already knew.

And we did barely manage to contain it.

"It was a way to preserve your world, so there's no helping it. Since it's come to this, we have to think of how to bring the situation under control."
(Trash)

Trash soothes Glass as he responds.

"Naofumi-san, what does this all mean?" (Itsuki)

"I did tell you before, right?" (Naofumi)

I mean, before the battle, I talked with all the heroes.

About just what sort of purpose the Heroes' weapons originally held.

"That's right, but I'd like to confirm it." (Itsuki)

"Got it. Glass, I'd like to confirm the difference in our worlds. Can I ask?"
(Naofumi)

"Of course, though there are few differences to speak of." (Glass)

So everyone can hear, I reaffirm the truth.

"Then please listen. Originally, the four legendary heroes were... the keystone the world held in opposing the wave. If all the Heroes are to die in the middle of a wave... the world will fall to ruin. Of course, there are also vassals to uphold their banner, so it won't fall immediately." (Naofumi)

The Allied Armies begin talking amongst themselves.

I approached the representative of the Filo Rials, the one pulling the carriage... Fitoria.

"And It isn't... Seven Stars. Eight vassals existed to offer support to the Four Heroes." (Naofumi)

"Eight? There are Eight Seven Stars?" (Trash)

"That's right. It's likely that that Filo Rial is the Eighth one." (Naofumi)

"Kue." (Fitoria)

"A Filo Rial is?" (Trash)

"Is that strange? Right now, the Axe and Claw have both selected Filo Rials, you know." (Naofumi)

Trash crosses his arms, and gets lost in thought. He turns to the army, and speaks.

"It was written in my wife's memos. That there might be an eighth. And the reason why the legend of the eighth died out is... probably because they rarely interacted with humans." (Trash)

That's how it is.

Even if it was once common knowledge that there were eight, if no one knew where it was, or what it was doing, the legend would eventually become but a rumor in the wind.

I don't really know why Fitoria acted in such a manner, but...

"You're Fitoria, right?" (Naofumi)

"Kue." (Fitoria?)

"Why were you providing support fire this wave? You're strong, aren't you?" (Naofumi)

She may even have every single strengthening method of the ancient Heroes.

I don't believe her skills have dulled with age, but how is it?

"Kue." (Fitoria)

... Oy.

"If you're going to respond, please do it in a language I understand." (Naofumi)

"Kue, kue." (Fitoria)

“Umm, she says that a Hero of the past told her to avoid speaking in human tongue, apparently.”

Midori steps forward as an interpreter.

… I tell Firo not to speak too, but it seems a past Hero did the same.

“Cooperation is important, so she decided to at least offer some support. It takes a long time to re-awaken her legendary item, so she isn’t particularly strong, she says.” (Midori)

I see. It’s been too long, so her weapon has gone into a cycle of activity and hibernation.

So she only has strength around our current level… How troublesome.

“Got it. Then is there any information you can hand down?” (Naofumi)

“Kue?” (Fitoria)

…Yep.

I totally got that.

“Apparently, she doesn’t really remember. It’s just that hourglasses far removed from human habitation have been placed under the providence of Fitoria and the Filo Rials.” (Midori)

… So there’s a place like that too.

That means there are other hourglasses in places we don’t know of.

When you think about it, we’ve never been to Silt Welt, or Shield Freiden, or any of the other major countries with them.

Large mountain ranges, and vast forests… there are countless places we haven’t even thought of exploring.

It seems that Fitoria’s team was taking care of the wave in places like that.

To protect the world unbenounced to the populace. What sort of Ally of Justice is she trying to become?

Though it appears that her brain itself is around Firo's level.

"FUOOOOOOH! Giant Filo Rial-sama!"

"KUEEEEEEEE!?" (Fitoria)

Motoyasu notices Fitoria, and drops whatever he's doing. He goes on the offense.

He shouts countless words of affection in her direction, and sends her running.

Amazing. It looks like she's truly running for her life there.

Does she really hate him that much?

Motoyasu is also hated by Firo. Is he releasing some anti-Filo Rial pheromones?

No, he's built up a favorable relationship with a number of them, so it must be an issue with his actions.

"Midori, I permit it. Go silence Motoyasu." (Naofumi)

"Eh, ah, yes! EI!" (Midori)

"Fugu-"

Now possessing a legendary item, Midori thrusts his axe into Motoyasu from behind.

And with that, Motoyasu falls forward, never to speak again.

No, even if he's like that, he's a Hero. He isn't injured at all.

Even so, Fitoria's also bad at dealing with that man.

There's no doubt she's the one who put Firo in heat.

"We're continuing the conversation."

Motoyasu is quiet, so Fitoria regains her composure, and returns.

For the love of god, that man really needs to read the mood more.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 337 – World Assimilation

---

“And? Am I right in assuming your weapon is that carriage?” (Naofumi)

“Kue.” (Fitoria)

Fitoria firmly nods.

“Last we met, you were able to detach it, right?” (Naofumi)

“Kue, kue.” (Fitoria)

“If you use your weapon long enough, you’ll eventually be able to take it off temporarily, she says.” (Midori)

How envious.

I want to learn to do that too, but perhaps the Vassals and Heroes work on different systems...

The Shield did go into dormancy for a while, but it would be nice if I could do that consciously.

“Did you copy the Tank-type body Rat made? Is that also counted as a carriage?” (Naofumi)

“Kue.” (Fitoria)

“Yes. I got the feeling that could be copied, so I went and made use of it, apparently.” (Midori)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

I don’t know if there’s a gap in power output, but it’s amazing that she could copy Rat’s Tank-type monster.

With this, we may be able to advance Rat’s plans in weapon-shaped monster-making. Well, that doesn’t matter right now.

But... is a Tank really a carriage?

It’s more like a vehicle, or something like that.

"To summarize, originally, there were four weapons that could be called legendary. Each one was able to select two vassals, making for eight in total. All together, that means there are 12 holy weapons circulating in this world. Glass, how was it in your world?" (Naofumi)

"Let's see. In our world, there also existed twelve weapons. From them, I was selected as the vassal of the 『Fan』." (Glass)

"I see." (Naofumi)

"This world... hasn't experienced any particular damage. What happened to its guardian beasts?" (Glass)

"Guardian Beasts?" (Trash)

When the conversation had just gotten back on track, Trash posed a question to Glass.

I just learned about their duty from Gaelion a little while ago.

But perceptive people like Trash may have already picked up on it.

"In order to prevent the wave... the assimilation of worlds, there exist certain beasts. In order to protect the world, they collect the souls of its inhabitants. It may be a cruel method, but..." (Glass)

"So you mean the four spirits?" (Trash)

"That's right. In this world, three have already been eliminated. It seems that the descriptions of their nature and other explanations passed down by the past heroes were all destroyed by someone's hand." (Naofumi)

"... My world's have all been eliminated already. The only method left to me was to... kill all the heroes of this world." (Glass)

Glass puts her hand on her chest with a relieved expression.

It's not like she's attacking because she wants to.

At least, that's what I get by watching her.

It may seem selfish from our point of view, but the same can be said in reverse.

I mean, if we don't use the power of the Four Beasts, we'll have to eliminate Glass's world.

"It may be just a little, but the worlds have assimilated in some parts. At the moment, my world's inhabitants are now slightly closer to becoming yours, something like that." (Glass)

"I guess that's how it is. And what do your people wish for?" (Naofumi)

"To suppress the assimilation to as great an extent as possible. If possible, we also don't wish for any more sacrifices from our side." (Glass)

Sacrifices...

So Glass's world isn't completely gone, but the assimilation has taken most of it away.

Because of that, Glass came to seek aid from us.

"We hope that you will offer at least half of your lives to your guardian beasts." (Glass)

"... Are you sane?" (Naofumi)

Since Glass is on the asking side, there's no helping it, but asking us to sacrifice half our population...

She doesn't seem happy about proposing it either.

It's easy to imagine just how hard of a choice it is for her.

It's that. In an old Sci-Fi novel, I've read something like this

The world became too polluted for human habitation, so a small fraction of the population set out for the stars to find a new place to call home. I think.

I do believe that it is strange that the current fantasy situation overlaps with Sci-Fi though.

But, Glass's world seems to have been cornered quite far.

Of course, the situation is the same for us.

If we just stand back and watch, our world will definitely fall to ruin.

To save the many or the few. Such a choice has been imposed on us...

In that sense, those of Glass's world, who've already reached their decision, have a better grasp of the situation than us.

"I know. It's our final option. But since part of this world has already been eaten away, in order to ensure the survival of the races that live on your world, it isn't the worst option. Of course, if you have a better one, then it's a different story." (Glass)

If we had something like that, we would already be working on it. But those sacrifices aren't just going to say, "Go ahead," and let themselves be killed.

-but it may be something we have to do.

I can tell since I've survived up until now.
In this world, pretty words aren't enough to bring an end to anything.
Whenever someone gains, someone loses.
Having all parties benefit rarely ever happens.

In order to ensure a third survives, we kill the other two thirds.
This truly is... a shitty world.

Even so, we have to make a choice.
Of course, that truly is a final option.

"... What about your world?" (Naofumi)

Glass averts her gaze.

"The vanguard of the enemy forces, one with memories of another world, left our world in chaos. Suspicion raged on about who the reincarnated one was, and when the world was in grave peril, my comrades began killing one another... you can laugh if you want." (Glass)

It appears that a reincarnated like Tact caused the death of the Four Heroes and all but one of their vassals.

It's scary that with one wrong step, the same could have happened to us.

"I do feel like bursting into laughter, but we're on the same boat. How about you crack a smile?" (Naofumi)

The Seven Stars were assassinated.

Tact schemed.

Fauley went to war.

Really, he did a perfect job of making a mess of things.

An idiot like that thought he could save the world? That's too much even for a joke.

"Now then, let's leave that behind, and see what information we have left."
(Naofumi)

Info on the world we're opposing.

Looking at Glass's attitude, we aren't much different.

"Our world was left with information on what the wave was, but everything else was lost over time... just how many times... did we fight with other worlds to save our own?" (Glass)

"I see... Glass, your world's wave... what number is it?" (Naofumi)

This was the worst possibility I thought of.

Even if their world comes to a close, will their battle ever end?

If it was to be in a hundred years, it would be fine.

If it was in decades, we would still be prepared to make a bitter decision.

But what if it were in a few years, a few months, a few weeks?

Will we simply be fighting an endless battle?

No, if it will continue no matter what...

"We've fought a countless number of battles. At the start, we fought your world, but sometimes, a different world would appear in our sky. Perhaps it was because of the power of your world's Guardian Beasts." (Glass)

"Ah, I see... Our first meeting was... four months ago." (Naofumi)

"At that time, the only thing I knew was the nature of the wave. There's a world of difference between the me of back then and the me of now."

(Glass)

Yes the current us would easily be able to defeat Glass when she fought us back then.

And the same goes for Glass now.

In our joint battle, she displayed quite a bit of strength.

"Um, Naofumi-san, why is it that we cannot let the worlds to assimilate anymore?" (Itsuki)

Itsuki asks a question.

Ah, that's right. I explained what the wave was, but never why it had to be stopped no matter the cost.

"To put it simply... think of the world as a soap bubble floating in the wind." (Naofumi)

"I... see..." (Itsuki)

"This bubble floats, collides with, and gets stuck to four others of similar size. But it has its limit. The next bubble to hit it will cause it to burst. You get it?" (Naofumi)

"... Somewhat..." (Itsuki)

"I see... The wave is a phenomenon where worlds assimilate, and while the other Heroes were able to survive through it, they were unable to prevent the phenomenon itself. This fits with my wife's notes." (Trash)

Trash picks up what I really want to talk about.

"From the start, the world had one holy weapon and two vassals. Another world got stuck on, and it became two and four... and in the previous wave-" (Trash)

"Yeah, we now have four holy weapons and eight vassals." (Itsuki)

"To summarize, the stories of the past where Demi-Humans don't seem to exist are those that were passed down before the wave, and by the collision of worlds, we became bound to the Demi-Human world? Naofumi-dono and Kawasumi-dono's Shield and bow are... those of the Demi-Human side.

That's why they're looked down upon within my country." (Trash)

"Me too? I didn't feel that I got that bad of a reception compared to Naofumi-san." (Itsuki)

"In our long history, perhaps the Bow performed some feat and got accepted by the church. But the Shield..." (Trash)

"I'll bet the original weapon of the Demi-Human world was the Shield. The weapon probably had close ties to their land, so he probably didn't work near Melromark." (Itsuki)

These people are sharp.

Even without me saying anything, they reached their own conclusion.

You're incomparable to how you were at the beginning, Trash.

"The details are unclear, but in the waves before these ones, our world became tied to the Demi-human's, and this time, we've established a link with Glass's. Is that correct?" (Trash)

"Yes, your hypothesis isn't wrong." (Glass)

"But... why does the wave require so much time? Though my wife wrote not of it, I have my own theories." (Trash)

"Speak." (Naofumi)

"Fumu... First, it's because of the one controlling the one with memories of a life past. The ringleader of this incident." (Trash)

Trash crosses his arms and gets lost in thought.

"Another possibility is... the assimilation-prevention measures the four beasts perform happen every time the wave comes around, and as if waiting for a fruit to ripen, the ringleader waits for them to collect... but that would make this ringleader much too long lived." (Trash)

"No, you may be onto something. Try expanding your thoughts." (Naofumi)

“... Understood. The one behind this must reap some profit by sending the world into ruin. That’s why he causes waves to happen and worlds to go to war, eventually destroying them... Of course, the Four Spirits prevent such things, so they reincarnate someone to go dispose of them. But... this train of thought leaves too many things unclear.” (Trash)

“That’s right.” (Naofumi)

Why doesn’t this ringleader get involved himself?

It’s safe to consider that they have some reason not to.

Even if these deductions are correct, what they lead us to is...

“That ringleader cannot come to this world, or perhaps... it’s a magical or spiritual phenomenon. Like an automatic system to control the world’s population...” (Trash)

“Itsuki, do you have any ideas? You were able to tell Tact was a reincarnated, right?” (Naofumi)

“That’s right, but in my world, it would be explained as a power they were unable to awaken to in life, or something... I’ve got nothing.” (Itsuki)

In my world, the books I’ve read with this theme have been quite varied.

So my thoughts may be way off the mark.

But I’ve seen a situation similar to this.

“In the stories of my world, there’s a certain someone who mediates reincarnations like these.” (Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 338 – One who Claimed to be God

---

“There’s a troublesome guy like that? Who could it be?” (Fohl)

Fohl bears a repulsed expression on his face that seems to stem from the depths of his heart.

Troublesome… is it?

Otherworlders in themselves are quite a troublesome existence too.

They’re arbitrarily summoned, so they can’t complain, and they end up in situations like ours.

Before coming to this world, I did look up to epic otherworldly fight sequences, so it’s a strange feeling.

(TL: Because this world reveres otherworldly heroes)

Reincarnation, the existence you meet before you’re born anew- that is…

“It’s God.” (Naofumi)

“God… I see, so there are stories like that in Naofumi-san’s world. There was an NPC like that in a few games, but I was unable to connect the dots.” (Itsuki)

“Well, you probably get it already, but I’ll talk. To be more specific, it’s usually something that claims to be a god, I guess. Something like that.” (Naofumi)

If someone were to die in a tragic accident… like Ren, Itsuki, or Motoyasu, he would call out to them.

To those who faced such misfortune, he would say, 『Here, you died an unfortunate death, so shall I give you life once more in another world?』 He would whisper in their ears and tempt them.

Since they’re dead, there’s no way they can refuse.

If they decline, it’s 『Oh, I’ve developed a liking for you! How about I throw in a Cheat ability as well?』 forcing them to agree either way.

There's also the possibility of forceful reincarnation without any interaction. I've read novels like that time and time again.

If the one God chose was... someone like Tact, then what would happen? He was probably a man from some world somewhere out there who played a game that resembled this world. Or perhaps the game itself was his own creation. Perhaps Ren, Itsuki, and Motoyasu were merely following his lead.

Then this leads to a single answer. All God had to do was reincarnate a playing piece he could move to his will, to put those fighting the wave in an unfavorable position. The Queen and the Granny said it.

Geniuses control the prosperity and decay of society.

Hengen Musou... What would happen if this style were to be spread around the world?

It would definitely become a threat to the operation of the Wave.

So he sent a reincarnated and cut off its lineage.

There's no way we can confirm or deny whether someone perpetuating these events exists.

The fact that the various information about the wave spread around the world has all vanished is more proof than anything.

"God... Thinking back, I've heard that a religion worshipping something like that existed in the past. I see." (Trash)

Trash seems to have some sort of idea.

This is a world that has handed down tales of the heroes for generations. But, other religions must also exist.

They didn't gain traction due to the Four Heroes and the Seven Stars.

... But, there must have been one who started it. Perhaps the Hero who became the base for the brainwashing daggers.

The God that the Hero publicized... may be our enemy.

Trash proposed the idea of it being an autonomous system, but I think it's something else.

I spoke my mind.

"It appears my theory conflicts with Iwatani-dono's. But judging by the situation, Iwatani-dono's seems more accurate." (Trash)

With my proposal, Trash immediately topples his own System idea.

Well, I wouldn't say it's impossible, but... there are way too many things that theory fails to explain.

I mean, what system would make a world where they would have to outsource to destroy it?

I'm a bit concerned about the Holy Weapons.

What? The Sacred weapons preserve the world, and God destroys it. Does that make it a malign deity?

No, no... perhaps it's just too much work.

In the first place, what's going to happen to him after the world falls to ruin?

"Glass, do you happen to know anything... about the worlds that have fallen?" (Naofumi)

"... We have witnessed the fall of two worlds. The first had looked as if it had the life of every lifeform sucked out of it, and it was transformed to a desert wasteland. In the second one, the whole world vanished, as if it were never there before." (Glass)

In order to prolong her own world, Glass has experienced having to destroy others. Her words carry much weight.

Both situations seem hopeless.

Will we destroy Glass's world, or use Ouryuu... Gaelion to stop it. We have two options.

“So you’ve never experienced complete world assimilation?” (Naofumi)

“That’s right. But I’ve heard of it in legend.” (Glass)

Before it became so serious… I guess she took some measures.

When I first came to this world, we had too little information on the wave.

Even so, we knew it was strong.

However, we didn’t think we would be unable to overcome it.

But with internal discord… with a reincarnated’s intervention, Glass’s world was turned inside out.

“If your world were to end, how much time would you have left?”

(Naofumi)

“At the moment, I would say we have a month at most. Though, if we had the Sacred Heroes and their vassals all gathered, it wouldn’t be limited to that.” (Glass)

“How many holy heroes and vassals do you have that can still fight?”

(Naofumi)

Glass raises three fingers.

Three… I guess that’s rough.

(TL: Gender neutral pronouns here, so don’t quote me on it)

“What about the holy weapon holder?” (Naofumi)

“He was captured by the reincarnated, and my instincts tell me he’s being held somewhere. When a wave hits, it may be possible to rescue him, but that’s just wishful thinking.” (Glass)

Yep, this is serious. I can see why Glass came to a conclusion so quickly.

But, does that reincarnated have absolutely no intentions of fighting for the sake of the world?

Is he relying only on his own greed and ignoring all of the other heroes’ words?

… So people like that can get selected for reincarnation.

It depends on a god's abilities, but regardless of the time, place, or world, there are always one or two people with a few screws loose.

I won't say I'm a moral, upstanding human being, but I've seen too many people with something messed up in their heads.

If you gather up people like that and reincarnate them all, the world will definitely go into chaos.

There's also the idea that there's a form of brainwashing at work.

It may just be that God thought that the wave wasn't enough to destroy the world.

And, that this was but a trivial thing.

… No, I've experienced it.

I'm not sure when, but when Ren and the others didn't die when they lost, they ranted on about it being some sort of Event Battle.

I'm not planning to pin all of that on the enemy, but they may have ingrained an idea like that.

"Of course, he isn't someone who won't listen to reason if you talk to him… but for some reason, that reincarnated is hostile towards everyone, and he doesn't find satisfaction unless he's the leader." (Glass)

Ahh… what a pain.

A man like that is moving the world at his will… In order not to stand out, did Glass leave the world with her vassal weapon? This isn't something to laugh at.

But… is the wave truly a battle without end?

"He stains others in blood, and himself with their blood. He even turned his madness towards his own child… Perhaps even if we were to triumph here, our world would simply fall by that man's hand…" (Glass)

She's given up.

I can feel such emotion from Glass.

From what I see, Glass isn't a human brought from a world like ours. She was born in her world.

What sort of feeling is it, to give up on the world you were born in?

I won't swing a flag back and forth saying my world was a wonderful one, but...

"I beg of you. Your Guardian Beast still lives, and while our worlds have been connected, yours isn't on the verge of collapse. Please grant permission for those of my world to take up residence in this one. For that, I'll gladly cooperate, even in bringing an end to my own world." (Glass)

She speaks as she lowers her head to the ground.

I understand where she's coming from, but her idea is madness in itself.

Of course, it's an answer she's reached after a lifetime of hardships.

In my eyes, I see Glass acting out of madness. She isn't acting out of any desire for self-preservation.

But anyways, I should ask.

"Are you sane?" (Naofumi)

"Of course. We've all lost it. We've gone mad over there. But there are still some things we've built up; some things we'd like to save." (Glass)

Now that she's accepted her madness, there's something she has to do.

I've done something similar.

No, my rage is but foolishness compared to Glass's insanity derived from failing to save others.

Even so, I can more or less understand her.

And, even if it's for the world's longevity, someone who can ask for the sacrifice of two thirds of the world with a straight face can't be sane.

But among the Heroes, there was never a decent person to begin with.

Among our world, and her's.

"I believe it is overly hasty for us to make that decision here and now. Until the next wave, we should clean up. Will your group lend a hand in our efforts?" (Trash)

"I thank you for your swift judgement. I swear that I won't let this reach a bad conclusion." (Glass)

On Trash's words, Glass declares as such. Everyone present nods.

With the Allied forces at the lead, we first spread the information of Faubley facing an absolute crushing defeat against Melromark.

Of course, the matter of the guardian beasts was put to absolute secrecy. As if we could spread information like that.

And so, because we have plenty of Legendary Heroes and Vassals at work here, it seems we've been given a bit of an extension on the time until the next wave, based on the time recorded on Melromark's hourglass.

We'll have to set out to deal with other countries' waves, but there are plenty of things we'll have to do first.

We learn that some even more troublesome things are lying around less than half a day after we transfer back to the castle.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 339 – Enhancement Methods (Beginning)

---

“There’s trouble! The monsters throughout the world have increased in activity, and there’s also been a sudden rise in levels! The villages and towns in the country are in trouble!” (Soldier)

An injured soldier came into the throne room and reported frantically. We’re still in the meeting. Ren and the others have performed a Level Reset at the hourglass and admitted Tact into the country’s jail so he couldn’t escape for the time being, and then joined us.

They couldn’t hide their astonishment about Glass joining us or the appearance of new land.

The conversation with Glass still continues. It was at that point.

“S-speaking of which.” (Soldier)

Gaelion had said the monsters would have an increase in activity after each wave.

So the thing about the wave conditions becoming more severe was pointing to this sort of situation!

“What is it?” (Glass)

“According to the adventurers who just managed to crush them, just by defeating them… they managed to acquire more experience than they did on Calmira Island.” (Soldier)

Ha… An ordinary adventurer would go no further than 40 at best, and even soldiers could only reach 100.

That aside, the citizens might be in danger.

“Release the Hourglass of the Dragon’s Era. Let those who want to Class Up freely do so!” (Naofumi)

We don't have the time to choose our personnel.
Rather, if we don't raise the levels of all the citizens, they'll die.
At the lowest, 100 is the baseline.

Well, we have Gaelion here so we should manage the country before that.
How much time would be needed to re-establish the Seven Stars is the issue, but more than that, we first need to measure how much of Glass's world has assimilated.
Starting with the after-effects of the battle with Faubley, we'll be pressed to deal with the waves.

"What should we do about the waves throughout the world?" (Naofumi)
"Kue." (Fitoria)

Fitoria shrinks her carriage.
And then opens the carriage's doors for us.
Various scenes were reflected there.
It's a tool I've seen before somewhere. Oi. [T/N: "Don't rip off a certain robotic cat!" (Naofumi)]

"Er, Fitoria-sama said the Vassal's carriage has the ability to transport and warp, so it can be used to deal with the waves throughout the world."
(Midori)
"...How convenient." (Naofumi)

I won't say we should have done that from the start.
This is probably one of the abilities of the Vassal of the Carriage.
Is it a reduction of the Portal Skill's range expansion and transfer scope...?

"How long until the next wave?" (Naofumi)
"About five days."

...There are less days than I thought.
However, we have things to do until then.

“... Instruct the Allied Forces and the troops throughout the world to try raise at least one level before the time limit so they don't die and to protect the people of their country.” (Trash)

Trash gave instructions to the soldier.

What we need to do concerns the one calling himself God, but in order to stop letting him do as he pleases we must be aware about how fast the waves will descend.

“Glass. What will happen with the next wave?” (Naofumi)

“The monsters appearing because of the wave are the other world's screams when the worlds fuse or so I've been told. The monsters' strength won't lessen but as long as this world's Saint weapons and Vassals exist, we can buy time.” (Glass)

“Your world is...” (Naofumi)

Even now, the Four Saints and Vassals of Glass's world were in a damaged state.

“I am... past being resolved. For example, another world might assimilate while we're trying to hinder the assimilation with this world... We might be destroyed by some opposing world in the end. I will... take advantage of the wave and return though.” (Glass)

“You're not going to stay in this world and fight?” (Naofumi)

“Because I am a Vassal of that world. Until I accomplish my mission at least.” (Glass)

“I see... by the way, it's been on my mind but are you going to continually repeat these fights with no end?” (Naofumi)

Honestly, I can't see any sign of salvation for them.

The spirit of the shield sounded like there was an end and that there was salvation.

Of course, I only managed to get it to tell me the outline of what the waves were but since there's a reward, there should be an end.

"I also don't know the details of that. Just that the spirit of the fan told me. That an end will come eventually for this fight as well. And that even the being pretending to be God has limits." (Glass)

Until the enemy runs out of patience, we'll continue to hinder the assimilation.

No... Perhaps just like in a siege, the waves might be a fight to wait for allies against an assaulting enemy.

Like this, we solidified the plan of action against the waves.

Next is the issue regarding the Saint Weapons and Vassal weapons. If we don't power up all the Saint Weapons and Vassal Weapons, we probably won't be able to overcome the waves.

"Can Glass's fan and our weapons be connected through enhancement methods?" (Naofumi)

"...It seems like it's impossible. They're incompatible in regards to enhancing." (Glass)

"I see. Then Raphtalia, Firo, the other heroes newly chosen by the vassal weapons, and Fitoria. Check each of your enhancement methods in the help manual and explain them." (Naofumi)

"Y-yes!" (Raphtalia)

Beginning with Raphtalia, they each check their own status and help manuals.

Our weapons had mutual compatibility to convert those processes and operate them.

With this the Four Saints should unlock the parts released by the Vassal weapons.

There's quite a lot but if we don't listen and test them all we won't become stronger so it can't be helped.

"I suppose I'm first." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia raises her hand and explains.

“Er, the mallet’s enhancement method written in the manual is weapon synthesis.” (Raphtalia)

“Weapon synthesis…” (Naofumi)

Somehow it has something I can imagine.

How many will be able to apply this?

“Apparently it’s about conferring the weapon tree’s most characteristic special ability onto other weapons.” (Raphtalia)

For the time being, let’s go ahead with the enhancement and try experimenting on the Spirit Turtle Shell Shield.

Spirit Turtle Shell Shield (Awakened) +8 70/70 SR Blessed (Compassion)

Ability released… Equipment bonus, Skills [S Float Shield][Reflect Shield]

Special Abilities: Gravity Field, C Soul Recovery, C Magic Snatch, C Gravity

Shot, Vitality Up, Magic Defence (Large), Lightning Resistance, SP Drain

Nullification

Growing Ability

Proficiency 100

Item Enchant Lv8: Defence 10% Up

Dragon Spirit: Defence 50, Fire resistance up

Status Enchant: Magic Power 30+

○ ○ ○ ○ ○

When I checked, ○ icons appeared at the bottom.

Incidentally, what the Blessed series’ Shield of compassion does to the other shields… seems to be in a different category to Enchant or Synthesis.

The Blessed Series can’t enhance but it assimilates with the normal shield and manifests its abilities.

No matter how weak of a shield it may be, it’s fine to think of it being endowed with a part of the Shield of Compassion.

For the time being, let's try endowing this shield with the Soul Eater Shield. Ah, the Shield of Compassion has the special ability Spell Support but that has a weaker ability than Trash's cane.

But I've gone off topic.

Synthesize the Soul Eater Shield!

Spirit Turtle Shell Shield (Awakened) +10 70/70 SR+ Blessed (Compassion)

Ability released... Equipment bonus, Skills [S Float Shield][Reflect Shield]

Special Abilities: Gravity Field, C Soul Recovery, C Magic Snatch, C Gravity Shot, Vitality Up, Magic Defence (Large), Lightning Resistance, SP Drain Nullification

Growing Ability

Proficiency 100

Item Enchant Lv8: Defence 10% Up

Dragon Spirit: Defence 50, Fire resistance up

Status Enchant: Magic Power 30+

Soul Eater ○ ○ ○ ○

So it also increases the Enhancement value and Rarity?

Ah, Soul Eater Shield's Enhancement value and Rarity have been reset...

As a test, I tried synthesizing other shields which had been enhanced but whether it will increase or not depended on the weapon's strength, and it seemed there were limits.

So it won't go that well...

Or I should say, with this my skill, Reflect Shield, seems like it's turned into a dead skill but...

Well, it can still be put to practical use so it's fine?

"Naofumi." (Ren)

"What?" (Naofumi)

Ren enhanced his weapon many times and then came to address me.

"It seems there's a limit to how many times the material weapons can be synthesized like this." (Ren)

"Is that so?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah, after using it three times the weapon book entry turned dark. It's also impossible to alter it." (Ren)

"...Is it alright?" (Naofumi)

"It seems I can relight it again as long as I have the materials so there's no problem. Also, I unlocked a sword because of this." (Ren)

"Well, I guess it was possible." (Naofumi)

An image of entrusting a fully enhanced blade to a blacksmith and receiving a famous roguelike weapon comes to mind. [T/N: A reference to something?]

Or rather, did synthesizing to a specific rule turn it into the strongest sword?

"So it's one week of synthesis as I expected?" (Naofumi?)

"What are you talking about?" (Ren)

"No, it was on Monday or Tuesday.." (Naofumi?)

"The sword I experimented on was the one that appeared when I combined the Dragon slaying sword." (Ren)

"Ah, that one?" (Naofumi)

Ren showed the transformed sword he was experimenting with.

Oh, there was an incredibly pretty ornament added on the sword. A dragon scale glittered, it looked cool.

"The disappointing part is its basic attack power is lower than the spirit turtle sword and my fighting partner, Gaelion seems to hate it." (Ren)

Taniko glared with all her heart. She's angry since he possessed the sword that killed her father, huh.

"You might be able to use it after raising its level so isn't it fine?" (Naofumi)

"Well...I guess." (Ren)

Let's not go into why he synthesized together only swords that were effective against dragons.

I see, so the mallet was a vassal weapon with a smithing aspect.

...I wonder why it chose Raphtalia?

"What's wrong?" (Raphtalia)

A mallet for Raphtalia... A hammer, huh.

I wonder if Raphtalia would get angry and change it to a 1 tonne hammer and hit me with it if I went on a date with the villagers.

"You're thinking about something strange again." (Raphtalia)

"Don't hit me with that." (Naofumi)

"Why must I be hitting Naofumi-sama with the mallet! Or will you be doing something that I would hit you for?" (Raphtalia)

"I thought it might be possible in the middle of doing various things with the villagers or Melty." (Naofumi)

"I won't! Haven't we spoken properly about this!" (Raphtalia)

"Well, I suppose so." (Naofumi)

I'm thinking too much, huh.

Or I should say, it probably fits Raphtalia perfectly, her having a straight-man disposition.

Let's have Imia's Uncle make the PikoPiko Hammer and let her copy it.

[T/N: Squeaky Hammer]

Then... it probably won't hurt, and I'll be careful to never let her turn it into a 1 tonne hammer.

"You're still thinking something..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia completely suspects me.

“Now then~ let’s move on!” (Naofumi)

It would be bothersome in various ways so I diverted the conversation.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 340 – Enhancement Methods (Middle)

---

“Next, let’s continue with large weapons. Midori, you’re up.” (Naofumi)

“Ah, yes. The Axe’s enhancement is… let’s see, it seems to be Body Modification.” (Midori)

“What’s that?” (Naofumi)

“According to the Help, besides weapon bonuses, you can distribute points freely to your own status.” (Midori)

So it has nothing to do with weapons. The Vassal Enhancement methods sure are broad.

I confirm my Status with magic.

There it is… around the stats portion.

More specifically, around Defense, Agility, and Magic, an arrow mark appeared.

When I slowly concentrate on it, a window pops up.

‘Will you distribute Stat Points?’

I have quite a bit of points saved up. It’s like those old games where you can distribute stats to your liking.

This is… can’t I increase my attack so that I can fling myself at enemies!? Thinking that, I try to distribute points into Attack.

But there is no arrow next to the Attack stat…

I fell to my knees, and took on the pose of despair.

(TL: Zetsuboushita!)(ED: Orz)

Shield… why must you crumble my hopes so?

Thinking about how badly Tact failed to use the Shield when we were beating him up, I realize that I must have been forced into playing on lunatic mode!

It seems that Agility would be useful, but I wonder what I should do.

Ah, it seems resetting is possible.

But like the Cane and Gauntlets, there's a certain cooldown time.

This one is long. It takes three days before you can reset again.

"Is that it?" (Naofumi)

"No... it seems there's something else there." (Midori)

"Eh?" (Naofumi)

When I tried to exit out of the point allocation screen, something resembling a grid work appears.

□□□□□

□□□□□

□□□□□

□□□□□

□□□□□

What is this?

As I thought that, the points I input takes physical shape on the board.

■ ■

■

Could it be that I'm supposed to mess with the points on this board? It's a puzzle!

As expected, if I don't make the correct shape with the inputted points, the strengthening won't take effect.

"Father-in-Law!" (Motoyasu)

"What is it, Motoyasu?" (Naofumi)

"I want to distribute all my points en masse, but should I?" (Motoyasu)

"... I can't guarantee that you won't die, but knock yourself out." (Naofumi)

Oh right, I think that in Motoyasu's game knowledge, weapons were but ornaments and status determined everything.

“Understood. Then I’ll maintain some balance in stats.” (Motoyasu)

“I recommend raising Agility so you can execute countermeasures for enemies more easily.”

It’s a longstanding custom for agility to be the focus of strategy.

Of course, increasing Stamina is also important. Especially when working solo.

The problem is that neglecting agility will make it so that I won’t make it to defend in time.

This will require some research and experimentation.

By the way, thinking about what would happen if I drastically invested points…

Most of the Grid Panels were filled up. This strengthening seems to be based on Cellphone Games.

“As expected of Father-in-Law! You pick things up quickly!” (Motoyasu)

“No, I think anyone would be able to pick this up.” (Naofumi)

But… it’s a plainer enhancement method than expected… right?

And wait, I’m getting more bonuses than what I inputted.

It seems the arrangement can create some effects. What’s more, alongside stats, there are also resistance bonuses and special effects.

This may be a higher priority than equipment bonuses.

“Midori.” (Naofumi)

“What is it, Master?” (Midori)

(TL: Midori uses Goshujinsama in Katakana)

"Make sure you don't put everything into attack. You'll end up killing Motoyasu." (Naofumi)

"Why would I be doing such a thing!?" (Midori)

"I mean, you're..." (Naofumi)

One of Motoyasu's three stalkers.

Ah, Stalker 1 and Stalker 2 are glaring at Midori with envy.

"Why does only Midori get a weapon?"

"Mokkun is all of ours!"

Midori's broken into a cold sweat.

He's worried about getting alienated from his group.

They always fought together, but because of this weapon, they're going their separate ways.

What will happen from now on... I'm a little anxious.

Kuu is a Filo Rial Queen who uses Kicks and breathes fire, right?

Marin throws her feathers like darts and uses long-ranged magic.

Midori swings around an axe in human form and uses magic.

Having the Axe Vassal weapon fly to Midori is an inevitable result.

Isn't it just that there wasn't an axe wielder besides Midori around at the moment?

"Rafu~?" (Raph-chan)

Skillfully sitting on top of Raphtalia's hammer, Raph-chan tilts his head to observe the scene.

What's with his reaction?

A few glances were exchanged, but nothing really happened, so the conversation continued.

"Now then... Firo." (Naofumi)

"What~?" (Firo)

"It's your turn." (Naofumi)

"Ah, I see. Um, you know... My skills you see~! They get rea~lly strong!"
(Firo)

Yep, you've lost me.

I was an idiot for asking Firo.

What should I do... I don't get what the claw does at all.

The only one who can have a genuine conversation with Firo is Melty, I guess.

No, does Raphtalia work too?

"Raphtalia, ask Firo about her enhancement method." (Naofumi)

"U-understood. Firo?" (Raphtalia)

"Yes~?" (Firo)

"Can you explain it a little better?" (Raphtalia)

"Hmm? If you do it again and again, then Bang!" (Firo)

"Someone, anyone!? Call Melty over!" (Naofumi)

This isn't getting anywhere.

After a while, Melty appears, and she speaks with Firo a number of times, after which, she arrives at a conclusion.

"Putting together Firo's words, apparently, Skills that can only be used by Heroes, as well as Magic, are given a proficiency level, and they can get stronger with continued usage." (Melty)

"Oh... how amazing. I'm surprised you were able to get that much out of the girl." (Naofumi)

I truly admire how she was able to understand that much from the conversation.

As expected of Firo's best friend, and lover.

No... I have a slight hunch, but Melty... No, is that just my imagination?

"Naofumi, why are you fantasizing about something strange?" (Melty)

"No, well Melty, are you-" (Naofumi)

When I was about to ask, Motoyasu interjects.

"Gununu... I have no choice but to accept it. Your qualifications of being Firo-tan's fiancé!" (Motoyasu)

"You can stay silent!" (Melty)

Melty shut Motoyasu up with a single phrase.

But that's fine. The result is advantageous.

I truly applaud her efforts.

I confirm my skill list.

... Besides the Gauntlet and Staff's strengthening icon, a new bar with a % sign appears. Next to it is a number indicating skill level.

This number will probably rise with continued use.

If I increase the level of my Float Shields, would the shields get bigger?

I won't know until I test it out.

"Next is..."

Going in turn, I turn my eyes to Rishia.

She changed from the possessor of a ephemeral armament to the true possessor of the Projectile.

I guess the weapon had used the legendary bow as a medium, through which, it analyzed her compatibility.

But because Tact existed, it was only able to grant half its power, so it was left in a form like that.

"Rishia." (Naofumi)

"Y-yes. My Help menu mentions something about using up money to do something called Over Custom!" (Rishia)

An excited voice escapes from her mouth. Even though she's climbed her way up to being a Hero, she still doesn't have it all together. I'm a bit worried about leaving her as Itsuki's guardian. But Itsuki himself has become calm and collected.

"..."

"And what exactly is that supposed to mean?" (Naofumi)

"Well... I don't have the slightest idea, but... I can use physical currency to strengthen myself. But apparently, it holds no meaning if I don't know any other enhancement methods..." (Rishia)

"So it's a unique, yet generic method... is it not?" (Itsuki)

"Fumu, as expected of a Jack of all Trades..." (Naofumi)

It matches Rishia's way of life.

I see, I kinda get it.

"That's right." (Itsuki)

"Fuee... why are you all nodding to yourselves?" (Rishia)

Money...

Right, I don't think I've ever put any money into the Shield.

I slowly insert a single copper coin.

A clinging sound echoes through my head, and an icon displaying '1G' appears in my vision.

... Let's try silver.

The same sound comes, and the icon changes to '101G'.

I bring up the Axe's strengthening screen.

The grid's sides are a pain.

■ □

■ ■

Is there nothing I can do to extend it?

‘Do you want to invest some money?’

Ah, a window pops up.

… I reluctantly press ‘yes’.

A bar appears, requesting the amount, and I input 101.

■ ■

… Well, I didn’t really input that much, so while the shape changed, that’s about it.

It’ll probably work on other enhancement methods as well.

I found it out later, but the Whip’s Strengthening method, Synthesis Measure, is able to increase the amount of ○’s on weapon synthesis. How convenient.

Next is… Protector, a method that eliminates the chance of failure for the Refining method of the Four Heroes. It seems a bit redundant.

The amount of money we waste is tremendous!

Screw this, you bourgeoisie!

Though it’s useful, this isn’t some goddamn Freemium.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 341 – Enhancement Methods (End)

---

“Next!” (Naofumi)

Is Taniko...

When I look over at Taniko, she turns her head away and shows an expression indicating that she doesn't want to speak.

I'll bet it's because she didn't want to be a Hero.

What's more, she's that Tact's successor.

“...”

“Say something.” (Naofumi)

“Kyua?” (Gaelion)

“Um, according to the Help screen, it's Growth Elevation.” (Taniko)

“You mean something like the Slave User Series and the Monster User Series?” (Naofumi)

“Yes. You can set a specific parameter you want to improve when leveling, it seems. Also, it isn't limited to its user. As long as you have their permission, its effect extends to your comrades as well.” (Taniko)

“Hmm...” (Naofumi)

That's a useful one.

It further increases the stats gained during a level up.

“But when you activate it, your level will drop proportional to the extent of the growth elevations you want, so you have to use it with planning in mind.” (Taniko)

It's still kind useful.

It sacrifices level to increase potential, and when you level up again, you can use it once more for even greater elevation.

And now that the world's monsters are running rampant and distributing monstrous sums of EXP, leveling up is relatively easy.

The Whip has a strong image of being used alongside monsters.
When I concentrate on bringing up the screen for it, it easily appears.
Let's try increasing Vitality for now.

How many levels will you use up?

An icon pops up.

... I'll put it on hold for now.

If my level falls too far to fight these monsters, there would be no point.

"And... last is..." (Naofumi)

"Gua?"

There's no consistency in her cries; the current Queen of the Filo Rials...

"Midori." (Naofumi)

Melty's eyes are sparkling as she celebrates her reunion. While that's happening, I call Midori to translate.

It appears that this bird really likes to talk.

But it's more of a pain to persuade her to start talking.

She's the same as a certain bird I know! But I can't really voice my complaints.

"Gua, gua." (Fitoria)

"Um, Fitoria-sama says-" (Midori)

"NUOOOOOOH!" (Motoyasu)

"GUAAAAAAAA!?" (Fitoria)

"Firo!" (Naofumi)

"Yeah!" *kick* (Firo)

"Hau! I'm so happy to have received Firo-tan's kick!" (Motoyasu)

For the love of all things holy, this damn spear needs to get his shit together.

Having received the kick of the Hero of the Claw, Motoyasu squirms on the ground in ecstasy and agony, but let's get back on track.

"Continue." (Naofumi)

"Motoyasu-san... Um, if the amount of a certain type of item stored in your weapon crosses a certain point, you can get various status bonuses and abilities, she says." (Midori)

"Regardless of the weapon you have equipped, right?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. It's called Item Book, it seems." (Midori)

Having heard the information, I confirm it on my weapon.

It definitely appeared.

I do make a habit of diligently putting materials in, so many entries in the encyclopedia-like window are filled in.

The bonuses are quite moderate, and there are some things like a % damage resistance against a specific monster, or like raising the effectiveness of healing magic. There are many abilities apart from status bonuses.

It even registers items obtained by dismantling larger items. How convenient.

The problem is that you can no longer sell monster items if you use it. And it doesn't look like you can freely choose the bonuses you get.

It's really plain and simple.

But it can't be underestimated, this system.

Portal Skill Scope Up, Monster Drop Chance Up, Money Acquired Up, there are many skill bonuses I've never seen before.

But I guess the Carriage's power is... useful in itself?

Whenever Fitoria opens her carriage, it links to another location... it seems. It's like a magnified version of the portal. There doesn't seem to be many restrictions, and she says she's recorded the locations of multiple Dragon Hourglasses world-wide.

What's more, inside the carriage, your Stamina, MP, SP, and Stamina recover faster. She says that even Healing Magic is more effective. It's like the Tent from a game of the past.

Through Midori, she explained that inside, your body requires lower amounts of sleep. And let me say it.

What sort of Delivery Service is this!?

(TL: this seems to be a reference that I do not get.)

Like that, the Vassal Enhancement Methods were spread.

The so-called Seven Star Weapon Enhancement Methods can be summed up as follows.

Axe: Body Modification

Hammer: Weapon Synthesis

Gauntlet: Skill Enhancement

Cane: Magic Enhancement

Claw: Magic and Skill Proficiency Level

Whip: Growth Elevation

Projectile: Strengthening by Money

Carriage: Item Encyclopedia Bonus

First is the Axe's Body Modification.

Using an energy stored up besides EXP, you can add additional points to your Stats.

It's like doping. Like in some RPGs, how certain seeds and other items can permanently raise a stat.

It seems plain at first, but the amount of points you can distribute is high. Its main advantage is that you can get an additional bonus on top of those for the weapon you have equipped.

Next is the Hammer. This one allows you to transfer special abilities from one weapon to another.

To put it simply, if Ren had a Sword that was highly effective against Dragons, he could transfer that ability to one with higher stats.

Ren seems to have developed an interest in the system, and his curiosity has proven that new weapons can be unlocked using it as well.

Like, gathering all Dragon-Based skills on a single weapon will unlock something.

By the way, the amount of syntheses that can be performed depends on the weapon.

The Cane and Gauntlet need no further explanation.

You can distribute skill points onto Magic and Skills to increase their output.

The Claw is the growing form of that.

By using the same skill again and again, a point value separate from the Gauntlet's skill points are stored up, and the output and ease of use increases.

The one that's really easy to understand, but hard to use, is the Projectile.

Strengthening by Money is, as it sounds, using money to break the limitations of the Enhancement Methods we already know, apparently.

If the item you're modifying is of low ability, the amount you need is low, but it costs a fortune to modify high level stuff. Before awakening an item, you can even pay to unlock their hidden abilities.

The Whip is troublesome in another way.

Increasing Growth Potential may seem convenient at first, but it's a little different.

While it may increase the innate amount of stats gained during a level without affecting weapons, it decreases the level of the person it's used on in proportion.

That person will have to level up all over again.

But by the time they've reached the same level, their stats will have become much different than they were before.

The projectile's cost is too high.

By expending your wealth, you increase the bonuses brought by other weapons.

I've tried it on the Axe and Hammer, but based on the sum I spent, I can also increase the rate of proficiency gain for the Claw, and the amount of growth gain from the Whip.

Is the fact that it's practically useless if its user doesn't know the other strengthening methods based on the personality of the current user?

No, perhaps the fact that it cost money is based on the fact that projectiles were originally expendable items.

Whatever the case, now that I know all the strengthening methods, I can have grand expectations for the results.

Finally, the Carriage's Item Encyclopedia increases stats based on how much of a certain type of item has been placed into the weapon. It's quite a pain.

But as I've already put in quite a bit, I think I can expect something of it.

Putting together our conversations...

Just what sort of RPG is this?

Well, enhancement methods were just like that from the start.

"Mu... this is hard."

Firo is holding her head in her hands as she desperately tries to memorize the Enhancement Methods.

"Let's go over it again." (Raphtalia)

On the other side, Raphtalia was quick to pick it up.

Now that I think about it, Raphtalia's memory is quite something. It must be a sort of talent for her to have been able to recite Imya's whole name after hearing it once.

"Firo-san, as I was saying..." (Midori)

Even though he's also a Filo Rial, Midori has the capacity to remember it. For him to remain in Human form while swinging an axe around, Midori is a bit...

"Kue?"

Fitoria is... yeah. Is she smarter than Firo?

I'd like to believe that she's at least trying out the Enhancement Methods.

"In the time we have until the wave, let's raise our levels as high as possible. It's important that we work to the best of our abilities." (Itsuki)

"Yes, Itsuki-sama. And about that, where do you think would be a nice place to go to level?" (Rishia)

"Let's see. Ren-san, Motoyasu-san-" (Itsuki)

Rishia's been quite quiet lately, but she happily discussed the new methods with Itsuki.

As one of the Four Heroes, I need to find out just how high I can raise my level in the few days left. I participate in the conversation of where to find easy-to-beat monsters.

We have Fitoria's large-scale Portal Carriage, so we can go anywhere in the world to find easy prey. We need to concentrate on leveling.

Ah, right. From the forest Fitoria used as her base of operations, she brought back some armor made by a Hero of the past.

Well, as they're quite old, I get the feeling that there are plenty of modern ones out there with better abilities.

Magic Armor is definitely useful, but it's strange that there isn't much of a difference between it and the armor made out of the Four Beasts' materials.

I can't offer enough thanks to the Old Man and Imya's Uncle's skill with metal.

I usually just copy whatever shield I come across and have everyone use whatever defensive gear they can find.

I'd like to have those two take our armors apart and modify them soon.

I'll have to give something to the more powerful ones of my village.

Trash, Fohl, and Taniko were listening to our conversations, and they manage to implement the methods successfully.

The problem is Trash, I guess.

It's not that he can't fight, but his long hiatus may have lowered his senses. Another thing I was able to determine was that, while it's true that the Four Heroes repel one another, and they don't get EXP when fighting together, the same does not apply to vassals.

But if it's only Vassals alone, some problems may crop up.

It may have something to do with the system on which the weapons were made, but a party of a single Holy Hero and two vassals gains EXP as normal. The law works like that.

So we go and distribute the vassals among the Heroes.

I'm with Raphtalia and Firo.

This was already set in stone, or everyone just kinda went along with it. It's the same formation as always.

Raphtalia's gained a giant weapon in the form of the Hammer, so I'm a little worried, but she'll probably be fine. Occasionally, Raph-chan stands on top of the Hammer and makes various poses. I wonder why.

Next is Motoyasu. He's bringing along Midori and Trash.

He has a habit of charging the enemy. Midori is similar, so it's ideal if Trash were there to offer as much support magic as possible.

Next is Itsuki with Rishia and Fohl.

Both Itsuki and Rishia are long ranged, so I thought the close-ranged Fohl would be nice.

In truth, Trash seems to have an affinity with Fohl, so I thought about putting them in the same formation, but Fohl declined.

What's left is Ren with Taniko and... I guess he's in charge of Fitoria as well. Well, this is just the initial result.

Since Gaelion comes as a set with Taniko, it looks like there'll be some infighting there.

Ren seems to pay special attention to Taniko.

I think he's still trying to take responsibility for his actions.

But Taniko herself has an extremely sullen expression on her face whenever he tries to do so.

There's no helping it now that she's become the Hero of the Whip.

The Whip's ability is to raise the ability of monsters, so having more monsters in the formation is beneficial.

Despite how he looks, the current Gaelion is a Dragon Emperor. In a different Time Period, he may have even been called a Demon Lord.

It's a formation incorporating the Sword, which carries the strongest image of a Hero, and a Dragon, who carries the strongest form of a Demon.

The bad part of this party is that they don't seem to get along too well.

True Gaelion seems to hate Ren, but child Gaelion doesn't seem to be affected by that.

"Well, I guess that just about does it. Everyone set out to maintain public order and raise your levels in order to defeat the wave." (Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 342 – Interworldly Exchange

---

“Now then, I’ve got things I have to do too.” (Naofumi)

We want to make the battles of the wave as short as we can.

Because of Tact, the time between Waves has decreased, and I don’t know how to reset it.

… No one knows just how many waves we’ll have to survive before an end is in sight.

For the next few days, we all put our best efforts towards raising our levels and preparing for the wave with our parties.

Because we are able to utilize all the enhancement methods, despite the fact that all the hunting grounds had a huge level spike, we reach a state where could manage somehow.

Well, the problem is… the civilians.

After exiting the castle, even the mob Balloons are over Level 40… My peddling has also become quite a trial.

Normal people won’t just get away with a few injuries. Even veteran adventurers are struggling.

Our saving grace is that the amount of EXP received upon their defeat is massive.

And so, a long line forms outside the Dragon Hourglass every day.

At night, I receive a report at the castle and find myself overcome with emotion.

“Balloons… how nostalgic.” (Naofumi)

“Iwatani-dono… I humbly apologize for my actions at that time.” (Trash)

“I have no intentions of forgiving you, but don’t mind it for now. So even the Balloons are Level 40… how troublesome. That place is swarming with Balloons.” (Naofumi)

“What?” (Trash)

Trash tilts his head to one side.

What’s with that? It’s as if I said something strange.

I mean, aren’t they plentiful around here?

I have a feeling it was quite a while ago, but I spent a whole two weeks out there.

There’s no way I’m wrong.

“Even now, the Balloons that populate the Castle Town’s Plains are reported to be quite low in numbers.” (Trash)

“What are you talking about? I set those plains as my base and camped out every night. Whenever I woke up in the morning, my entire body was covered with Balloons biting at me.” (Naofumi)

“That’s strange…” (Trash)

Trash inclines his head once more.

Did I really say something that strange?

I thought their encounter rate would just be high around the starting town, but perhaps I was thinking of this as a Net Game.

“What’s wrong~?” (Firo)

Firo barges into the conversation.

“No, well, I’ve just been told that the plains surrounding the city don’t contain very many Balloons.” (Naofumi)

“Yeah, there aren’t too many. So?” (Firo)

… Yes?

Even Firo concurs with Trash.

"Now that I think about it, whenever I'm with master, I see a lot more monsters." (Firo)

"... Is that true?" (Naofumi)

I turn my eyes to Raphtalia.

I mean, she did spend a long time training in the mountains, so she should be knowledgeable about it.

"Yes. We encounter them quite frequently when we're around Naofumi-sama. Now that I think about it, it's actually quite rare to encounter that many monsters on the highways." (Raphtalia)

(TL: And that's pretty much the only place Naofumi trains)

What is this?

I have an exceedingly bad premonition.

"But didn't Firo encounter loads of monsters when she went to level up the villagers?" (Naofumi)

"Firo goes to places where a lot of them live. But, I think I would be able to find more if Master was there." (Firo)

Well, she does run through the mountains, and she does go through their natural habitats... Was encountering so many monsters while peddling due to my own bad luck?

No, my sales and threats turned out to be quite effective at that time.

"How about we go and test it out?" (Raphtalia)

"I don't really want to..." (Naofumi)

Stuff like that should be fate and luck. It must be a coincidence.

Is what I keep telling myself.

If the entire world doesn't begin raising its average level, even living will soon become difficult.

The reason monsters don't appear on the highway is because Humans are just that troublesome of an existence to them.

But now, even those roads experience frequent attacks.

That's the current state of affairs, apparently.

We suppressed Zeltburg's wave, and overcame another one from yet another country.

By the way, we've been able to handle these waves without too much of a problem.

I was a tad bit disappointed.

It's true that the monsters have become visibly stronger, but with all the Heroes working together, it was surprisingly easy to bring them to an end.

Nothing special to speak of... it was easier than the first wave we faced.

It's as if it's become just another job.

I was waiting for whoever was naming themselves as God to do some form of divine intervention, but nothing happened.

Glass went back to her side once and returned yesterday to give a report.

As the Heroes on that side cannot muster enough power to fight, their situation is taking a turn for the worst.

Because we're quickly dealing with it over here, the casualties from the wave are... well, they're few in number, but there's still a substantial amount of damage being caused.

Glass's world's vassals are being pressured into strenuous battles.

They were lamenting that it would all come to an end soon.

The fact that the war with Faubley was completely over and the fact that Faubley had declared its defeat are ringing around the world.

The end result is that Melromark became recognized as the world's greatest Superpower.

The true identity of the wave seems to have become known throughout our neighboring countries.

There was also an investigation conducted to see just how much assimilation had come about as a result of the wave worldwide.

Apparently, around half of Melromark's land had been assimilated.

The races of Glass's world seem to be... accepting the situation.

Because of the differences in language and writing, there's still some disorder, but as the Heroes are standing beside them, we're facilitating them in deepening their understanding with one another.

For that, today we ended up in a meeting with the representative of Glass's vanishing world.

"Hey, Glass." (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Glass)

"What sort of races does your world have?" (Naofumi)

"Meaning?" (Glass)

"Well... are there Humans like me, and is there anything different between them and the people of this world?" (Naofumi)

Honestly, I'm thinking Glass is of a different race than the people of this world.

In truth, her body occasionally becomes somewhat transparent, so I don't think she's quite human.

If I were to give it a name, I guess it would be 'half-spirit.'

There may be some ancient legend about a country where humans and ghosts lived alongside one another or something like that.

"Now that I think about it, I never spoke about it, did I? Yes. My world also contains Humans. And I am a Spirit... A race called the Soul People."

(Glass)

(TL: Naofumi thinks about the Japanese word for Spirit(霊), while Glass says her race is Spirit with an English Pronunciation(スピリット). Her people are called (魂人) Soul People)

"Spirit?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, unlike humans, we can get stronger through Status Magic." (Glass)

"I'll ask for argument's sake, but what do you mean?" (Naofumi)

"First, to put it simply... the Vitality, Magic, and Spirit Power that exist in humans exist in us as one Stat. We also don't have levels." (Glass)

Spirit Power?

I don't really get it, but it may be a term for EP and SP.

"No Level? Then how do you get stronger?" (Naofumi)

"Soul People measure their strength in something called Energy. That constitutes our Vitality, Magic, Spirit, and Level." (Glass)

"... Then when you use magic, you use up just as much Stamina and Vitality as you do MP... You mean?" (Naofumi)

"Something like that. It also influences our Attack and Defense. If there's too little energy, we will get weaker." (Glass)

I see.

That's why when we first fought her, we were able to defeat her after she had dealt with the other Heroes.

Or else, there would be no way we would be able to beat the enemy who made a fool out of Ren.

"By defeating monsters, does something change?" (Naofumi)

"When we defeat monsters, the Energy of the Land stored inside them... in Human terms, I guess it would be EXP, is absorbed into us as Energy. Well, if we use too much, we can go into negative Energy point values." (Glass)

"That sounds like quite a troublesome race." (Naofumi)

"It's not too bad. It automatically recovers itself every minute, you know." (Glass)

"Then with time, does your 'Level' rise as well?" (Naofumi)

"For that, I would have to increase the maximum capacity. The amount gained when defeating a monster is able to exceed the maximum capacity I can reach by automatic recovery." (Glass)

"Fumu, what happens if you use recovery magic?" (Naofumi)

If Energy is what's being restored, then the Shield sounds useful for a race like that.

We could gather healers from around the globe and supercharge people of Glass's race.

"Human Magic cannot heal us. Though, we can receive energy from others of our Clan." (Glass)

"I see... Then..." (Naofumi)

Well, it doesn't look like it'll work out that well.

I take out Spirit Water from the Shield and toss it at Glass.

"This water restores something called SP in this world. What happens when you drink it?" (Naofumi)

"I wonder. Let's test it." (Glass)

Glass begins drinking down the liquid.

"... My energy increased by quite a high amount. This is quite a convenient drink." (Glass)

"I see." (Naofumi)

Mass producing Spirit Water is difficult, but it seems that it can strengthen Glass.

I'll have all the Heroes start making some later.

"In exchange, this is a gem from my world. Please accept it." (Glass)

This time, Glass takes out a red crystal and hands it to me.

"What is this?" (Naofumi)

"It's called a Crystal of the Earth in my world. It's known to recover Magic. Try gripping it tightly." (Glass)

As I was told, I squeeze the gem in my hand.

'You have accessed the Dragon Pulse! You have gained 3000 EXP!'

A window like the one that appears after defeating a monster floats before me.

3000... I guess it's not a number to be laughed at.

"I got a bit of EXP." (Naofumi)

"It seems that different tools have different purposes across worlds. To put it bluntly, that drink from before was truly splendid." (Glass)

"If I can get EXP just by gripping a Gem, then I'm fine with trading."
(Naofumi)

... It isn't foreign exchange, but through otherworldly exchange, we can get some items we both want. It may be necessary to overcome the wave.

In this world, it was a simple SP recovery item, but in Glass's World, it lets her acquire Energy.

In Glass's World, it was just a magic recovery item, but here, it can give you EXP.

I'll have to have the Old Man analyze it, but I feel that a wide range of possibilities sleep within these gems.

"Okay, I understand what Spirits are. Are Spirits and Humans all that inhabit your world?" (Naofumi)

"No, there are also the People of Crystal, a race of people with gems at their cores called the Jewels." (Glass)

"What sort of race is that?" (Naofumi)

I've played some games with similar races in them.

They had a setting where they were targeted and hunted by people for the rare gems that made them.

From what Glass's saying, they have equal citizenship, but I wonder.

"If I had to say... certain gems that collected power gained their own will and wished to be human. As they're a bit hard to label as Human, they received some discrimination in the past.” (Glass)

“Hmm… Spirits too?” (Naofumi)

“Yes… in the past, Humans labelled Spirits as Ghosts lingering in the world. There were times when people called to purge them.” (Glass)

“And you’re not?” (Naofumi)

I feel that Spirits and Ghosts are quite the same.

Souls and Crystals, they have quite a spiritual feel surrounding them.

“Spirits are not left by Human souls. We may have similar natures, but we are fundamentally different.” (Glass)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

“Returning to topic, Jewels eat gems, and based on the minerals they eat, they can change the abilities they possess. Their status magic is the same as Humans, though.” (Glass)

“I see… Hmm? How do they reproduce? I don’t know their body structure, but…” (Naofumi)

“They can spontaneously generate from nature, but they can propagate just like humans, you know?” (Glass)

Stones multiply… I can’t imagine that at all.

“There are some coming in the meeting, so confirm it for yourself.” (Glass)

“I got it. Spirits and Jewels.” (Naofumi)

“Also, there’s some of the race that also exist in this world, Demi-Humans, though they’re quite scarce.” (Glass)

“Fumu.” (Naofumi)

By the way, the Demi-Humans Glass was talking about were Elves and Dwarfs.

Since the ones I know of all have fluffy animal ears, it’s rare to see a human subspecies.

Would the past me have been overly excited over this?

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 343 – Execution

---

Author Note

As noted in the tags, this chapter contains excessive and cruel depictions. But I thought it necessary for the sake of the story.

(TL: You cannot see the tags here. So sorry)

---

After that, Glass spoke of a representative of several small countries in the peace talks to come.

The ones who were to become new residents of our world seemed a little bit lost, but having understood the situation, they had no choice but to accept it.

“Then to protect the world from the wave, let us take each other’s hands and proceed forward.” (Trash)

Trash acts as our rep, as he shakes Glass’s hand. Negotiations ended without a hitch.

Well, due to differences in language, I don’t think we’ll be getting along too well, but that’s no different for us.

This and that happened, and we solved some peace-related problems.

Next is…

“S-STOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOP!”

The day after the peace talks, the one who declared the World his own property, the Fake Hero who plotted for World Domination, Tact, and his conspirators, were scheduled to have their public execution.

Due to the prestige of the Four Heroes, and the fact that we had all the vassals gathered to start with, it ended up that we were all forced to watch. The Dark Guild of Zeltburg, which was experienced in putting on showy executions, offered to carry it out... but it ended up so that it was carried out by our allied nations.

The method itself was proposed by Zeltburg, and it received approval among the other country's leaders.

I flip through the document to see what sort of method it was as well.

Trash is... sporting a face that seems it will break out into tears in at any moment. Despite how rotten she is, he's still being forced to watch his own daughter's execution.

When I caution him, he loosens his clenched fist and sullenly nods.

"Iwatani-dono... you have no need for worry. I won't use my authority to halt the execution." (Trash)

I find the sight of him silently consenting to his daughter's death with a pale face to be quite pitiful.

Now then, about the method...

After he was defeated by me, Tact had his level reset at the Hourglass before he could regain consciousness.

Of course, his harem included.

It seems that the young women fought in protest, but Ren, Sadina, and Firo were able to arrest them.

The result: the squad with the lowest at level 250 was brought down to a pitiful group of Level 1s. They can barely even move.

Well, there seems to have been a few militaristic-type women among them, so a few of them might be able to perform some action.

There's also... we also smoked out any women in Faubley who would rise up for Tact's sake.

Faubley has lost to Melromark!

Before we spread that information, we proclaimed Tact's victory and invited all of Tact's Harem to come to Melromark to celebrate. And they sure did gather.

It seems that we captured Rat's rival, the little girl in a lab coat, as well.

Just how many did we gather?

Just in case, I put Motoyasu in charge of apprehending them.

"There were so many pigs. How filthy." (Motoyasu)

Is what he said.

It's hard to imagine that there was a time when he would flirt with any woman he met.

And what sort of method did Zeltburg devise...

Tact's head and arms have been locked in a strong board so can do nothing but walk, and in order to bind his movement, he has shackles carefully attached to his feet.

The only part of his body he can control is his eyes.

It may be a bit severe, but as long as we don't know what strange powers he possesses, we have to be careful.

"KYAAAAAAAAAAH-"

And in front of the immobile Tact, we display various executions one by one, starting with burning at the stake. Then water torture, hanging, guillotine, the Phalaris Bull, shooting brigade, drawn and quartered, being run over. Death by various forms of Magic, administration of lethal poison, mauling by monsters, the scenery repeats over and over again, from dawn to dusk.

Sadina's Lightning Magic was amazing.

She seemed proficient with it, and without killing them, she skillfully put her targets on the borderline between life and death.

From the beginning, the country carried out the will of the church. As Tact besmirched the name of all Heroes, his crimes were quite heavy.

And while all of that was happening, the citizens were lugging rocks at Tact's static body.

The concept was to kill Tact after his heart had been completely broken. And that's what was happening.

Well, he did plot to overturn the world, and on top of killing Heroes, he proclaimed to have been the chosen one after parading around his stolen Holy Weapon, which was found out to be a fake.

In this world, where the Hero Faith runs so deep, he had become a target for a lot of pent up aggression.

And the one they believed in turned out to be a fake, so...

While remaining powerless, Tact desperately calls out to the women heading to the gallows. He calls their names one at a time.

From his neck, elbows, and ankles, blood flows from his attempts to break free.

"Gu...u... please... stop! If you need to kill someone, then aren't I enough!? Why must they be killed-" (Tact)

Hahh... (TL: No, this is not a laugh)

I let out a sigh of depression. Again and again.

"How many times must I say it!? Your crimes aren't so light that they can be made up for by killing someone like you!"

The Executor in front of Tact declares as such.

And he hits Tact's face with his bludgeon before casting recovery magic on him.

Keeping him alive with healing magic as they torture him. It's a method only possible in a parallel world.

Though I shouldn't be saying anything, as I did it to the man as well.

"... It really isn't something good for the eyes."

As I was sitting in the chair specially made for me at the Execution Ground, Glass calls out to me.

I understand how she feels.

Even if he's Atlas's killer, having a stranger conduct such a cruel execution on him is... I guess when I'm the observer, it feels like this.

I thought this during the coup d'état performed by the Three Hero Church as well.

I guess this just means I'm still a man of the modern era.

I can't look at execution scenes with pleasure. I must still be soft.

"That's right... but, the responsibility of making a toy out of the world is too much to push on him alone." (Naofumi)

Tact's parents, starting with his mother, and all of his relatives were executed.

His father... did he not have one?

I don't really know, but it seems he's already dead.

The one who was just killed was his sister.

『Please save me, Onii-ch-』

It was impalement this time.

I didn't want to watch, and if I heard her death throes, it would merely give me nightmares.

I can't understand having this shown as entertainment, but my world apparently had a time where this was popular, so I can't really criticize. More importantly, I have no obligation to save them.

"I do understand it in my head, but not my heart. In order to protect my own world, I have caused the collapse of others..." (Glass)

"If you were able to look upon this scene as something natural, then you truly would be insane. I guess you're still normal. And if you think too hard about it, it will affect you in battles to come.” (Naofumi)

“... That is... true.” (Glass)

By the way, Glass is also assisting in the executions.

What exactly she’s assisting in will be made clear shortly.

Tact turned his eyes filled with hatred towards me countless times today.
I stand up and approach him.

“Were you under the belief that prisoners of war were to be handled with care?” (Naofumi)

“Of course! There’s no way a Hero would be able to forgive something like this! You fake, who’s stolen all my weapons!” (Tact)

“I was wondering what you would say... don’t you know? Of the people you’ve killed, the most distinguished one was the Queen of Melromark. That means Melromark’s acting to restore their honor.” (Naofumi)

“What are you talking about?” (Tact)

Tact tilts his head, with an expression implying that he’s being made fun of.
He better choose his words carefully...

Well, it’s fine, is it not? Shall I teach this pitiful reincarnated?

“You and your followers are the detested enemy of this country, so is it not natural that they would want to execute you all? Being a Hero isn’t relevant to any of it. Especially not to a prisoner of war.” (Naofumi)

To put it bluntly, this is an era where the representative of the losing party and his cabinet get killed.

Melromark ain’t a republic. It’s a monarchy.

It has a Pyramid-like organization of power.

And he killed the top.

It’s easy to imagine what would happen if he lost a war against this country.

“Were you thinking the world was getting freed from oppression through your actions? For that selfish ideal, just how much blood did you get on your hands? As long as you were satisfied, you didn't care what it was you got your hands in. It's time for you to pay the bill. It's your punishment for readily calling the world yours for the taking." (Naofumi)

"I'll kill you! Even if I'm reduced to nothing but my head! Even if all that remains is my soul, I'll kill you!" (Tact)

"... Let me give you the words of a literary strategist from my world. 『Those who are allowed to shoot are only those with the resolve to get shot』. Just how many people died by your hand? Were killed by the firearms you built with your own hands? Is it possible that you don't have the resolve to take on the resentment of those that got involved in your schemes and died?" (Naofumi)

(TL: This line is given by Philip Marlowe, but the Japanese translation is used by Lelouch Vi Britannia in episode 1 (21:28) before he orders the troops to kill themselves. The original line is 'Take my tip-don't shoot [guns] at people, unless you get to be a better shot,' but the people who translated it gave it a different connotation. (Source: Moto-neta))

If I ever were to lose, then I'll lose everything, starting with Raphtalia. Well, since this Fake Hero is the way he is, he'd probably spare any woman with a nice face... and brainwash them after violating them, but there definitely would have been a massacre like this from his side. I understood that from the start, and I had the resolve to kill.

And, I swore it to Atlas... and to all the villagers who lost their lives. I'd definitely take revenge.

I came here prepared to do anything, no matter how cowardly or vile it was. I'm sure they never wished for such a thing, but still, I have no intention of stopping.

I may be extremely caught up in my own pride... but it's not like I'm standing here alone.

If this cruel execution is to be my crime, then I'll go to hell, or wherever, once it's over.

At the very least, I don't think I'm bound for heaven...

And wait, I need to go pick a fight with that bastard up there.

Heaven must be hell too.

"You're just facing the punishment for your selfish crimes. Accept it. If you win, you're the exalted new order. If you lose, you're the filthy rebel scum."

(Naofumi)

"DON'T SCREW WITH ME!" (Tact)

"Shut up!"

The executioner gags Tact with a rag.

Tact's eyes are losing their color. It looks like he's about to shed tears of blood.

No, his tears are already stained with a hint of red. I think his tear glands are broken.

So humans can withstand this much without breaking.

These thoughts run through my mind.

Well, I'm also fed up with the piercing cries echoing behind me.

"A...ah..."

Oh? It's the lab coat little girl. Yep, she fits the description to the point.

I can only see her as a kid playing at being a doctor.

So they brought her along... but what's that? That culture tank beside her?

A stairway had been built, and she was forcefully herded to the top.

"S-sto-"

When she was pushed forward, the lab coat girl drops into the tank.

"Gaboboboboboooooboooho-"

A large amount of bubbles build up.

A sulfuric acid dive?

I step backwards.

The one proposing these seems to be Zeltburg, but... I don't really want to get involved with that country.

It's a shitty country that earns money by putting on these shows as entertainment.

"N_____!" (Tact)

Tact tries to call out.

Eventually...

Yeah, no. It's probably best not to talk about it.

If I had to say something, she got the magical creature bad end.

"Now then, the next event is..."

When I was sick of it all, a special program that caught my interest comes up.

What is it, you ask?

Witch, and a few women, enter the stage.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 344 – Soul Eater

---

Witch and her women leisurely walk forward.

Ah, she's definitely under the impression that she won't be executed.
I mean, she's definitely looking towards me, trying to provoke me.
Should I kill her here and now?
Well, I know what's in the program, so I stay silent.

"Malty!" (Tact)

The gag on Tact's mouth is lifted.

"Oh, my. If it isn't the fake. 'Tis a pity your women were killed off." (Witch)

"M-Malty!?" (Tact)

"Don't call my name so easily!" (Witch)

Witch plants a kick in Tact's face.

"Fugu- W-what are you-" (Tact)

"Because you deceived me, just how much grief do you think I suffered!?"
(Malty)

The other woman follow suit, offering blows to his head, appendages, and nether regions while laughing.

It's truly the worst sight of all.

The one who thought of this one must be completely insane.

"I-I see! As long as you beat me up, then you guys will be..." (Tact)

"I'm telling you to stay quiet, you foul man!" (Witch)

Watching Witch kick him so seriously, even Tact can't seem to hide his doubt.

And Tact's doubt isn't wrong.
Maybe around half of it isn't.

"Ma... lty?" (Tact)

"And didn't I say it? Someone as low as you shouldn't be speaking to me. My papa is now the head of the world's strongest army, you know. And what about you, you fake? The leader of a ruined country. Do you get the difference?" (Witch)

"T-this can't be." (Tact)

Witch glances over at Trash and speaks.

"How dare you trick me." (Witch)

"When you're just a fake, you acted so high and mighty..." (Woman)

"Everyone died because they believed in you!" (Another Woman)

"You pretended to care about the world, when you were only ever working for yourself! You heartless bastard!" (Woman)

"Pervert! Fiend!" (Another)

"Because of you, how many people died?" (Witch)

I don't want to hear that from you, Witch!

A sudden urge to shout out wells up within me.

The woman continue to throw abusive words at Tact.

Since I know what comes next, even I feel some discomfort.

"We were merely tricked by you. So... we hold no crimes on our heads. As evidence, here we are rebuking you." (Witch)

Witch laughs to herself as she and several of Tact's other followers continue to torture him.

They order the executioner to break his fingers one by one and laugh like madmen.

You damn garbage.

“Gu… ii… you devil… when I… you…” (Tact)

Tact seems to understand Witch is coming at him for real. His eyes are dead in a different way than before.

“T-this must be…”

Ah… I think I know what he’s trying to say.

This must be a dream. And he glares at me having gotten caught up in that possibility.

And he cries out.

“This wasn’t how it was supposed to be! There’s no way this could ever happen. It has to be a dream! If it isn’t then… Oy! You’re listening, right!? I demand a redo! I’ll definitely be born anew and deliver revenge on these bastards!” (Tact)

All the heroes look upon the execution grounds. As Trash, Glass, and I expected, Tact proclaims this loudly.

… It’s about time.

“Unfortunately, even if you die, there will be nothing left for you.”

Glass stands up and speaks.

“What?” (Tact)

“I haven’t the slightest idea what sort of person your God is. But my side will be troubled if you and your companions were to be recycled by him.”
(Glass)

The way Glass speaks seems to change by the situation.

But that doesn’t matter.

It’s time.

I gave instructions to those below the platform.

Carrying the chain of a certain monster in hand, an executioner from Glass's world comes forth.

The monster's name was Soul Eater. (TL: If you remember, it's the second wave boss)

Just as the name implies, it's a monster that feasts on souls.

In Glass's world, where the concept of the transmigration of souls is believed in, it is used to prevent the process. It's a vicious beast that eats souls, though this one has been domesticated.

If we fought it and lost, our souls would have been eaten.

That's a bit of a scary thought.

I never fought it directly, but according to Ren, its face was blue.

This seems to be a different species than the Soul Eater they fought in the Wave.

"GAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA!" (Soul Eater)

By the way, there are several Soul Eaters within this area.

And their orders are to eat the souls of anyone killed within the execution grounds.

"If you die and get your soul eaten by this monster... will you be able to reincarnate?" (Glass)

Tact's expression gets paler and paler.

I mean, it's natural.

This must be a dream. If not, I can do it over again. Or perhaps I can meet God and get the power to deliver vengeance on those people. His thoughts were too naïve.

But what will happen if we use him as food for this monster that devours souls?

It destroys his hope that there's a second chance.

"Now then." (Glass)

"S-stop!" (Tact)

It's finally Tact's turn. For real this time.

U, what was it again? Sustain his life with healing magic, as he goes through the execution of all the women before him.

Just how much do these people want him to suffer?

But as I lynched him, I can't really say anything.

It's no longer my revenge alone.

There's the Allied Army, who had its forces disappear against Houou without any reason.

There's the Hero of Zeltburg and his honor that he killed.

There's the many Heroes he killed, whose names I don't even know, and the people who supported them. The countries he destroyed.

"GYAAAAAAAAAAH! UGUUUUUUUUAAAAAAAAAAAAAaaaaaa!"

And Tact's execution begins.

After he had been beaten to a pitiful state, the Soul Eater closes in on him. Like a fish, it floats and circles the air above him.

"Good bye. I am but a little thankful for having met you, but you treated people as property, and you were much too condescending. Because you gave such a fate to the women around you, it was all wasted." (Witch)

For some reason, Witch is wrapping things up.

What a waste.

The little pity I had for him after seeing his end has all disappeared.

"Aaaaa..."

He can no longer form words, and his eyes are dilated. Finally, the priests of the Four Hero Church activate their ritual magic, and Tact departs from the world.

“Good Bye.”

It was the ritual magic 『Judgement』 and 『Trial by Flames』. Tact disappears from the world without leaving a single trace behind.

“Now then, where is that Faker’s soul?” (Naofumi)

If I equipped the Soul Eater Shield, I think I could see it, but I ask Glass anyways.

“Over there.” (Glass)

Where Glass points, the Soul Eaters converge. They seem to be greedily devouring something.

Hmm… so that’s where it is.

But even his soul became monster food. This world is scary.

“And now I assisted in dealing with that fake. Hurry and release me!”

As soon as that was over, Witch and her women cry out.

“Yeah, I guess you’re right. .. do it!” (Naofumi)

As I call out, Witch and the women are covered in a rain of magic arrows.

“KYAAAAAAAAA!”

“Wha, what are you doing?” (Witch)

“Oy, Bitch… did you seriously believe your existence would be forgiven before my eyes?” (Naofumi)

Right, as for why Witch betrayed Tact, we have to go a bit back.

A few hours before the Execution, we gathered all of Tact’s Harem in one place and asked:

"Were all of you really in good relations with the Fake who called himself a Hero, Tact?"

All of his loyal women nodded at once. Others gave vague responses. It's not like all of those beside Tact were blindly obedient to him.

"I wasn't!"

The first one to break her allegiance was the bitch called Witch.

"My mama was... killed by that fake. And my papa was the one who was able to destroy all of his new weapons, the great King of Wisdom!" (Witch)

"You traitor!" (Woman)

"Know you no shame!?" (Woman)

"You repay his good will with scorn!" (Woman)

Witch was alienated from the group.

Of course, I was shown this scene later.

Her way of living truly is the lowest, this Witch.

"Hmm... then, you merely have to declare that when your time for execution comes about. If you're not his comrade, then perhaps you'll live."

The executioner stated what was asked of him, word for word.

At first, the women spoke ill of Witch, but a few of them sided with her to protect themselves. They spoke ill of Tact to preserve their lives.

The ones who were executed before were the ones who never betrayed to the end.

"Papa! I'm not bad. I was merely being used! Just when I thought I had been freed from that accursed Pig King, that fiendish fake Hero apprehended me. That's all!" (Witch)

Witch puts on an act and lets loose crocodile tears. She makes a play towards Trash.

Trash overlooks the scene with heartrending emotions. His hands begin to shake.

If we did something like sparing her here, nothing good will come of it. None of those who have been involved with the battles surrounding her can forgive this wench. And more importantly, I cannot forgive her.

This time, we won't let her escape. Unlike with the Pig King, we won't be negligent. In front of all of our eyes, we will promptly confirm Witch's demise.

He seems to have mustered up his resolve. He stands.

"Kill that shameless woman at once! That one speaks praise of our late beloved Queen, yet sides with the man who killed her! She is but a traitor we cannot forgive!" (Trash)

Trash utters his last words of farewell. Witch is held down by the executioners and is crucified on a large cross. Below her, a bonfire is built.

"No, it's hot. NOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!"

Gradually, the fire grows larger, and Witch bears the brunt of its force. She cries out.

Fu... this was quite an unsettling event, but Witch's screams make me feel refreshed.

This must be the proof of my own madness.

Witch's body is burned away, and her soul is offered to the Soul Eaters.

And like that, before my very eyes, Witch utters her true final breath.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 345 – Remorse

---

“... As I thought, I’m ‘Trash.’”

While watching the Witch burn, Trash murmurs under his breath.
I silently watch the scene beside him.

“My lack of control over my daughter’s actions, everything that has happened was brought about by my deeds.” (Trash)

“That may be true. But you still have work you have to do.” (Naofumi)

“I know.” (Trash)

His beloved daughter Witch used the world as her toy and put on a crude play up ‘til the very end.

Why can she use humans so well...

I do believe Trash to be a terrible person. But, there has to be another source.

I’ve begun to think of him differently than I think of Witch.

Trash’s life gave him ample reason to hate the Hero of the Shield.

The Hero was the bane of his very existence.

His parents and his beloved sister were taken by the men singing praise for their beloved Shield. By Silt Welt.

I’ve never had any direct relations with them, but it isn’t a story I can’t comprehend.

There are many a protagonist with backstories like that.

“My wife... tried to correct my daughter again and again... but I never thought too much of it at the time. And this is the result.” (Trash)

“...”

It would be easy to affirm his statements.

But a large question hangs above my head.

It's true that the daughter of Trash and the Queen, Witch, is an unredeemable devil of a woman.

The Queen lamented that Witch had inherited the worst traits from both of them, and she did much to try and correct her.

Even so, when looking at Trash and the Queen, I see too much of a disparity between them and that bitch.

The Queen was apparently skilled enough at negotiations that she was called the Vixen of Melromark.

But she acted for the country's sake by principle.

Even if she commits evil, she puts the country first, and she conducts them calmly while acknowledging the malice behind them.

Her evil deeds carry a greater goal.

For the Queen to do them knowingly suggests that she has a bit of a personality problem, but you can also say she cares for her people.

Next is Trash.

He's called the Great King of Wisdom, and there isn't a better man at scheming, it seems.

That may sound nice from afar, but when you're the target of his plans, it isn't something to laugh about.

But, you can say that that's standard practice in wars and conflicts, and if you don't plan, you can lose against enemies you could have easily defeated. For the weaker side, it's natural for them to have to use scheming to take down the strong.

And here's the big question.

Trash... he does a good job of using his knowledge for those dear to him. In the recent war, he did his best to fulfill his wife's will and protect the country.

But... what about Witch?

For what purpose did she find pleasure from getting people to fall for her traps?

I can only think she's acting for herself.

It's a bit rash to think the child of those two would only act for her own sake, is it not?

Am I thinking too much? Of course, Trash has gone senile after getting that child.

But looking at Melty makes me wonder.

Despite what she says, Melty treasures friendship.

When Firo was in trouble, she took the initiative, and she assists in the managing of my land.

Is it the influence of her growing environment... that's all I can think of.

But still, she was born to royalty.

And her birth mother, the Queen, spent her time trying to correct her.

For her to have turned out like that regardless of her environment, it must have something to do with her base personality.

Looking at the parent's personalities, I can see how someone like Melty could result.

Well, Witch's past isn't of any interest to me, and perhaps Trash merely pampered her too much.

I've thought about it a few times, but Witch truly seems cut off from the rest of that family.

If it was just the selfishness, I could point to Trash and nod, but she has no feelings for her family.

I'm not sure about the Queen, but I'm pretty sure she had as much familial affection as everyone else.

I mean, Trash's lineage is connected to Faubley, and with the blood of past heroes flowing in her, I guess it isn't unthinkable for her to end up on an evil path.

... Could it be that like Tact, there was a reincarnator among the Heroes of the past?

Or could it be that one of the ones summoned to this world had a twisted personality?

Honestly, I'm no saint.

The Spirit of the Shield called me the First Candidate, but I wonder how much of its words were true.

My thoughts are straying. Back to Witch's personality.

It's as if she existed merely to harm the world; merely to put the Heroes through pain.

I wonder whether she's a reincarnator herself, but judging from her actions, the possibility is slim.

But... it's scary that I can't deny it.

Could this be it...? The scary thing Glass said about reincarnators?

Including those at my place, I can't say there isn't a reincarnated individual among us.

Of course, I would know if they took flashy action like Tact.

But if someone was truly skilled at hiding it, then there would be no way for me to tell.

The people I trusted until now may betray me at the last minute. It's nothing to laugh at.

I can understand how Glass's world fell into the trap of suspicion.

Raphtalia was really a reincarnator, and in the last moments, she would attack me... If something like that happened, my heart would break.

But it's also hard to deny it. I pray that it isn't true, but I can't say it isn't with certainty.

From her statements and actions, there are too many things I have to analyze.

If I could read people's hearts, then all of this may be resolved, but that one calling himself god seems to be able to give some strange powers.

If I could, and they had the ability to block it, then I would be certain in my judgement, and that would be the end.

Well, it's more fun to try and find the reason that God didn't help out Tact.

To protect our sanity, we had all the Heroes assembled here just in case, but it was quite a letdown.

I got to see the execution, but... quite a few of us retired part-way through. I mean, it wasn't a good sight.

At the very end, Trash, Glass, and I stayed as representatives.

"I'll accept any work... This is my crime." (Trash)

Having lost his wife and having the one who prompted it be his daughter. Having the one his daughter was with be the one who destroyed the memento left by his sister. If I were in his position, perhaps my heart would break.

The current Trash has admirable ability and decisiveness.

Honestly, I see why the Queen put her faith in this man.

His strength of heart... If it were me, I don't think I would be able to imitate him.

For the first time, I sympathized with Trash. For the first time, I thought that perhaps I should stop calling him Trash.

But, because the individual himself wishes to condemn himself, I must continue to refer to him as such.

"I thought that that child should live as freely as she could. She responded to my parental love, and I often was too soft on her. For it to reach a conclusion like this..." (Trash)

"I'll bet it was the freedom. Where the hell did she learn to take pleasure from looking down on others?" (Naofumi)

"I have no answer... even so, when that child proposed the idea of accepting the Three Hero Church and summoning the Four Heroes, I felt I had awoken to my mission." (Trash)

"What?" (Naofumi)

Witch was the one who proposed the idea of summoning us?

Well, we aren't the only Heroes, and she already had the experience of looking down on everyone by a Hero's side.

But, I'm starting to understand Witch's motives less and less.

Was Trash's foolish state her doing as well?

She's good at getting others to pamper her, and looking at all the Heroes, me included, she's a master of having people fall into depravity.

Perhaps if Tact never associated with her, he would be a bit more decent of a Human Being.

The first time they came into contact was the Academy at Faubley.

This is just speculation, but Witch probably gave her first to him.

"You know how Witch studied abroad in Faubley, right?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, well, to some extent." (Trash)

"Then did you know Witch's first partner?" (Naofumi)

"No... but I learned it from my Wife's memos. It seems that child was trying to hide it." (Trash)

"I see." (Naofumi)

The Queen did say quite a bit.

Like how Motoyasu was far from being her first.

She created friction among the Heroes and kicked them down to the ground whenever she wanted. Up to the Spirit Turtle Incident, the Queen looked over her actions out of benevolence.

But after that?

If she was too scared to do anything, all would be solved if she came before the Queen. But instead, she seduced Ren and placed false charges on Motoyasu. After stealing Ren's belongings, she ran. After that, she took the Three Hero Church Remnants, and Itsuki, and started her upheaval.

No matter how angry she thought the Queen would be at her deserting the battlefield, I don't think she would have been executed, or sent to the Pig King at that point, at least.

When Motoyasu honestly admitted his fault, he only received minimal punishment.

Her mental state may have been affected by the bounty on her head, but though her status wouldn't have been what it was before, she would have been able to make up for it.

... Did she hate the rumors and hardships that much?

That was enough for a Coup d'état? She did proclaim she was the one worthy of being Queen.

Just how much was she acting for her own self-satisfaction?

Did Trash teach her to hate the Shield from a young age, and so she started emulating his worst parts?

"Did you ever teach her that the Hero of the Shield was the God of the Enemy and an existence to be hated?" (Naofumi)

"I didn't. Though it was in the country's policy." (Trash)

Well, she did seem to participate in their religion, so would her being a devout follower of the Three Hero Church constitute a proper reason?

But... her moves are a bit erratic for her to be a believer.

She did take advantage of them, but I don't think she had any firm belief. Honestly, it just doesn't fit her.

Religions like that seem to prohibit excess luxury in all worlds, so it doesn't fit the Witch's character.

It was quite obvious she was using them, and the Pope was enraged when he figured that out.

If she was a devout believer, she would have been accepted there.

Her objective is too unclear.

In the end, the fact that Witch was the one whose mischief dropped the world into chaos is undeniable.

Did she receive some interference or objective from the one naming themselves as God?

An answer probably won't come. Even if we tortured her, she would probably stay silent.

"It's all my fault." (Trash)

That day, Trash's back looked so narrow.

We were in a hate-hate relationship, but even scum like me feels like I should cheer him up a little.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 346 – Breaking the Limit

---

“Now then, Gaelion. I’m leaving the limit breaking Class Up to you.”

“KYUA!”

Because Raphtalia and Firo were selected by the legendary vassals, it’s unnecessary for them. But those unchosen ones still need it.

We ended up getting permission to use the Dragon Hourglass at night.

Gaelion jumped on top of the Hourglass, and cried out.

By the way… it seems that a vassal or legendary weapon is required to break the limit.

『Let us start.』

After getting a large portion of the fragments, True Gaelion became able to use something like telepathy.

He still won’t use it on Ren, or Taniko, though. He refuses to interact with them.

“Then first is onee-san!”

Sadina skips forward as she announces her candidacy.

But it’s a valid choice.

She’s top class in the village, and her base abilities are high.

And she hasn’t even been taught Hengen Musou.

Recently, she’s been watching the Granny’s son, and her disciples training, and she’s picked a little up.

Just how high are her specs?

“Well, that’s about right. You’ve been helping out with quite a bit lately, and you are acting as a test subject here.” (Naofumi)

“That’s right~ onee-san’s been dyed with Naofumi’s colors.” (Sadina)

Sadina seems to be in high spirits as she uses both hands to cover her face in embarrassment.

By the way, there's a reason why we didn't perform the Class Up as soon as Gaelion got hold of the Fragments.

It was because of the Growth Elevation from the Whip.

It was a useful enhancement that could be granted onto people other than the possessor of it.

It truly is the Whip... it may be a bit cruel to say, but it's perfect for Slaves and Animals... In this case, I guess it's the perfect method for one who raises monsters.

But there's a large flaw in this method.

For people who aren't Heroes, they can only level down within the scope of their Class Ups. In this case, it would be from 1-40, 40-100, or 100+.

Heroes have no concept of classing up.

So we can sacrifice our levels, and downgrade ourselves to level 1.

And proportional to our sacrifice, our growth will increase.

But if we fall too low, with the monsters around the world experiencing a spike in level, it's exceptionally dangerous and inefficient.

Apparently, Class Ups in themselves can be divided into those that magnify stats, and those that amplify certain possibilities.

The first one does something like doubling one's current stats, while the later lets you add a percent modifier onto a certain stats.

In the former, it's the stats right after the class up that are important, while in the later, it amplifies for times to come, so they balance out.

In order to figure this out, I have to do some experimentation.

The Class Up at 40 was the later.

So I think it will turn out fine, but just in case...

The Level 100 Class Up being the former sounds likely.

If we mess up, it's not like we're going to do something complicated like starting over from level 1. We don't have too much time.

We have to quell the waves worldwide.

Though we're able to buy a bit of time with all the Legendary Weapons and vassals gathered.

The Test Subjects were to be Firo and Sadina.

These two were the ones in the village with the quickest level growth.

Of course, their battle abilities are also high.

But Firo became the Hero of the Claw, so Sadina became our main testee.

We do have the consent of the individual.

"Take responsibility~." (Sadina)

"Ah, yes, yes. When must I do that?" (Naofumi)

Refusing her has gotten to be a pain, so I just go with the flow of her conversation.

"Let's see~. Then tonight, won't you do something fun with me?" (Sadina)

I get the feeling that Raphtalia is looking upon the situation with envious eyes.

Perhaps Sadina realized this. She grabbed and wrapped herself around my arm.

She's definitely playing around here...

"Do you mean something 18+? Or do you mean drinking?" (Naofumi)

"Let's see... Which one would you prefer, Raphtalia-chan?" (Sadina)

"W-why are you asking me?" (Raphtalia)

"Because it's fun." (Sadina)

"I will get angry." (Raphtalia)

"Ahaha, it's a joke~." (Sadina)

She sure likes teasing the girl.

Though I do believe Raphtalia's good reactions are the cause of it all.

If I were asked if I were an appealing person, I would deny it.

But for Sadina, who treasures the village, she's thinking about the future.

Perhaps she's merely pretending to be smitten with me.

She is one of the people I have to answer eventually.

... I put my hand on Sadina's face.

"Ahn, Naofumi-chan. Save that for when we return to the village." (Sadina)

"Hah..." (Naofumi)

It's really hard to tell whether she's being serious or not.

Sadina closes in on my ear, and whispers.

"If you've cleared up your doubts, and you still seek me, I will be nothing but happy, you know. This isn't a lie, or a joke, or anything." (Sadina)

This whale woman is...

Let's return to topic.

Recently, I've been going with her to raise my level in the sea.

Me, and the other Heroes are helping raise the villagers' levels. We're also patrolling, and visiting various places.

And I was left in charge of the coast. It's not like I was forced into the job, or anything.

It was quite an efficient place, and I was interested in Sadina's way of levelling. Under the pretense of patrolling we went to level grind.

The amount of aquatic Demi-Humans in my village isn't a small one.

There are ones like Dolphins and Octopii.

I'm had them level with Sadina, but according to them, Sadina was strong, so it was too easy... apparently.

If you ignored Hengen Musou, perhaps she's the strongest in the village.

Atlas couldn't see, but she could fight by sensing Chi.

And Hengen Musou is a style that trains people to sense things the same way. To hit pressure points where Chi is lax.

On the Contrary, like Firo, Sadina specializes in overpowering the enemy.

Well, Firo was able to do Hengen Musou's Mussou Kassei.

There seems to be a difference between being able to do is consciously or unconsciously... but Sadina can't grasp it at all.

In simple fighting power, in a battle without bluffs, she falls into Firo's category.

Probably, if Fohl wasn't recruited by that old woman, he would grow into a style like hers.

Another reason I'm leveling in the sea is because Fitoria notified us that there was a high chance the next wave would be happening over the ocean.

According to the convenient teleporter that is Fitoria's carriage, in an underwater temple, there's a single hourglass overgrown with moss.

Of course, its surroundings are underwater as well

We can probably combat it above water, but if the boss remained under, then we'd have to beat it to end the wave.

Now that I think about it... Ren's face was a bit pale, but could it be that he can't swim?

I'll have him spit it out later.

Fitoria prepared some underwater fighting equipment, and among them was a certain penguin suit.

What's more, its stats were higher than the one in my possession, and its color was different.

I really didn't want to, but when I trained underwater with Sadina, I was forced to wear it.

Yeah. It was a world of difference fighting with or without it.
But I'd really like to do something about its appearance.
And I'm digressing again.

In fights underwater, the physics were different, and I was pressed into a difficult stream of battles.

I mean, as if I were flying in the sky, I had to defend from attacks both above, and below.

And I had to go up for air at regular intervals.

Luckily, the special equipment let me breath in water to some extent, but it still requires regular resurfacing.

Additionally, water wraps around my body, making my body feel much heavier.

Many times, I could only stick to Sadina, and deploy something like Meteor Wall X.

I understand the importance of the Harpoon. I'll bet Motoyasu will be the most capable of the Four Heroes in this field.

Next would be Itsuki. He seems to have a special bow, and bow-gun.

"Sadina sure has grown."

When the wave caused the increase in monster levels worldwide, she went into the sea as a test run, and still easily came out victorious.

I think she fought... level 150 monsters. Monsters like that frequently appear about the coast.

Even if she had some support magic on her, I think she's way too strong.

"At that time, when you asked me to drop you to level 40, I thought you had a death wish." (Naofumi)

"Ara~? You worried about this onee-san?" (Sadina)

"I shouldn't?" (Naofumi)

I'd like to teach her the concept of recklessness.

Heroes have their own forms of strengthening, so we can manage against Level Gaps to some extent. It's too much a responsibility for one who isn't a Hero like her.

I cautioned her time and time again, she would shout, 'It's alright~, follow me!' and I would reluctantly move forward.

When it got too hard, I planned to have us flee through the portal, and level aboveground.

But... Level 40 Sadina with support magic beat a level 150 monster.

The fight lasted around three minutes.

What the hell is with this?

"Oh my, I'm happy." (Sadina)

She acts lax, but now that we've lost Atlas, the strongest slave in the village is definitely her.

After that fight, Sadina dragged me all over the ocean, and we encountered plenty of monsters.

I've heard that some aquatic mammals use sound waves to get a feel for their surroundings, but Sadina was able to sense the presense of monsters from a long ways away.

Well, it's no different from Firo on Land.

And while she was only level 40, she was able to get up to 70 while fighting with me.

The next day, she reached 90, and had me give her Growth Increases again. When we dived down real deep... the monsters were all 200.

But with support magic, they came down relatively easily, and our levels rose higher, and higher.

The ones with us were Raphtalia, and Firo. Also Raph-chan. It seems Raph-chan can swim. But if you think about it, he swam all the way from that island to the village.

Right now, I also dropped my levels to raise my abilities. I dropped to 80.

The increase from Growth Elevation... can't be laughed at.

And the villagers also have my growth corrections, so their growth is even higher.

In general, Sadina's stats are... past what could be called human.

Even after rising that high, Sadina said, 'I still don't think I can beat that monster I encountered last I went salvaging~.' These waters sure are dangerous.

Just how high is this world's max level?

Are the monsters outside of Human reach entering levels humanity can never surpass?

Are Dragons okay?

I also have to raise Gaelion's level.

It would be humiliating if he got attacked by another Dragon, and died.

And after repeating Growth Elevation a few times, Sadina's Status became something amazing.

She was ready to break the level 100 limit.

"Then let's start~." (Sadina)

"KYUA!" (Gaelion)

Sadina touches the Dragon Hourglass, and Gaelion begins chanting magic.

『Here... to save this world alongside the legendary Heroes, let us awaken the warrior of this world to their duty. Oh, world, oh Dragon Pulse, oh manifested destiny. Release the power stored within him !』

Through Telepathy, only I heard the incantation.

In truth, he did nothing but call out GyauGyau over and over again.

When I thought the chant was over, the gems raining down inside the Dragon Hourglass let out a single beam of light that extends out to my Shield before glittering to show their confirmation.

And as always, the display asking which route to take appeared before me.
Are there no special Class magnifications here?
I think as I look through the options before me.

… Um, raise her abilities in Human form, or raise her abilities in Beast Form.
These are quite restrictive.
There are also options to grant her special abilities.
It differs greatly from when the villagers chose not to use Gaelion or Firo on their first Class Up.

Those were small changes in status. Of course, special abilities were included.
But this time is different.
The scopes are much larger.

Shouldn't it be the other way around? Is what I think… but perhaps Gaelion's divine intervention is the cause of all this.
"I pass on the right to decide to Sadina.

"Ara~? I wonder what I should pick. Which one do you like, Naofumi-chan?"
(Sadina)

"It's your choice." (Naofumi)

"Hmph. Listen here, sometimes women like to have things picked out for them by the person they like." (Sadina)

"Is that how it is?" (Naofumi)

I look towards Raphtalia.

"Hmm… yes." (Raphtalia)

"so it was true." (Naofumi)

Even so… can I really choose Sadina's future like this?

“Otherwise, I’ll choose the option that produces plenty of children when I do something fun with Naofumi-chan.” (Sadina)

“For realz!?” (Naofumi)

This is bad. I don’t want to to bear that much responsibility.

No, just how serious is she?

And wait, am I really doing it with her after this?

Honestly, I can’t really imagine the two of us doing that sort of thing, you know…

“Sadina-onee-san? Please don’t trouble Naofumi-sama too much.” (Raphtalia)

“I know. I was just teasing him a little.” (Sadina)

She chuckles to herself.

Ah, for the love of all that is divine… please don’t play around with me.

“Hmph!” (Naofumi)

“I wanted Naofumi-chan to choose, but I guess there’s no helping it.”
(Sadina)

Sadina picked her choice, and the hourglass began emitting light. The light slowly soaks into her.

Eventually, the radiance dies down to reveal Sadina smiling.

“Well, I guess that’s about it. Naofumi-chan, please confirm my status.”
(Sadina)

“Sure.” (Naofumi)

I bring up her Status screen.

Uu… it’s elevated to an even higher level.

Her basic stats are many times greater than mine. Of course, I’ll bet there will be a bit of a gap between us when factoring in the power of the legendary weapon, but it’s the highest status I’ve ever seen.

It's twice that of Firo's when she grew with my growth corrections.

The stat amplification of the level 100 Class Up seems to be... percent based. I don't really know what Sadina chose, but her evenly distributed stats are now all over the place.

Of course, it may just be brought about by the path she chose.

"What did you choose?" (Naofumi)

"Agility and Strength, also Magic." (Sadina)

"I see." (Naofumi)

If she mastered Hengen Musou like this, then she truly would have entered the realm of true monsters.

I learned later, but apparently above level 100, the Whip's Elevation can sacrifice level for special abilities as well.

In Sadina's case, she had me grant Magic Enhancement, and Underwater Activity Time Up.

Transformation... are the modifications the strange me left behind still active?

That's how it went.

Honestly, we're becoming quite strong.

It seems I can count on our non-hero forces as well.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 347 – Coronation

---

“You majesty, Queen Melty!”

Having come out victorious against, Faubley, Melromark essentially became the world’s strongest country.

Having built up a favorable relationship with the Hero of the Shield, their relationship with Silt Welt improved, and Silt Welt’s evaluation of the new Queen was quite high.

The two countries formed an alliance as if their long years spent lashing at one another had been but a dream.

However, neither side made any changes to their slave policies.

Under the pretense that things would change someday, the two were merely in a union to rid themselves of the wave.

Having gained Faubley’s land, it was unavoidable that things like this would happen to Melromark. It became an unbelievable large country by the standards of the time.

Because of Tact’s influence, the royals that defied him had already been sent to hang.

The remaining ones, who hung onto their lives by clinging to him, had experienced a sharp drop in power.

The result was that Melromark was able to take control without much issue. Well, in a world with deep-rooted belief in the Heroes, there’s no way anyone would wage a war with the country holding all of them.

Because of the wave strengthening monsters, everyone’s in a panic trying to maintain public order as it is.

Ah, right. It’s about Shield Freiden, but after they learned that Tact had experienced defeat, they had a sudden change of heart, and a bit of a shuffling of leadership.

They placed all the blame for siding with Faubley on a representative.

It's an amazingly liberal country. When they feel the direction of the wind change, they take measures like this.

I guess all's well that ends well.

Normally, their actions would provoke further conflict, but Trash proclaimed that now wasn't the time for petty squabbles, and we hopped on his bandwagon.

Power is needed everywhere right now, it seems.

It's just that we shouldn't place too much confidence in them.

It's not hard to see the path Shield Freiden will tread down in the near future.

By the way, while the relations between Silt Welt and Melromark were being built, a lot of money was collected from all over the place in the name of world peace.

After peace is achieved, I can see quite a few places making excuses to reclaim it.

And like that, the various actions of various countries were shaken up by Melromark's victory.

For the general populace, it's just that the head has changed.

Even though he technically held the blood of Faublian Royalty, Trash immediately gave up his right to the throne upon attaining it.

He proclaimed that he would work to support the country as a Hero.

As a result, the one who bore the brunt of the responsibility was his daughter, the new Queen Melty.

"Long Live Queen Melty!"

The Grand coronation of the new Queen, that took place in Melromark, involved not only those of the country, but all the allied forces as well.

The enemy of the country, Silt Welt's Genmu Gramps messenger clapped his hands, and congratulated her.

Perhaps the past Queen's wishes have been granted, but Melty herself is...

The coronation took place on the castle terrace that overlooked the city plaza.

As a Hero, I was also present.

Trash acted as a representative, and he stood next to the throne, crown in hand, waiting for Melty's arrival.

"From here, we will begin the coronation ceremony for Melromark's Queen."

Melty trudged over to Trash wearing an extravagant dress that seemed ridiculously hard to walk in.

She stood in front of the throne, and lowered her head to the Trash in front of her.

"Now then, Melty Melromark." (Trash)

"Yes." (Melty)

We have consulted the girl, for argument's sake. She accepted the position. She was raised as the future Queen to begin with, so she had no reason to refuse.

"Up until now, you have been working to maintain order in the land governed by the Hero of the Shield. Through your efforts, the land that had once been left to rot has become prosperous once more. It is not a simple feat. With momentum like that, I hope that you will govern our country of Melromark."

The crown begins raising its voice.

"From this day forth, you will accept the Duties of Melromark's Queen, and gain the title in its entirety. Henceforth, you will be known as Melty Q. Melromark."

"I accept it graciously." (Melly)

"Then please take the crown."

Trash balances the crown on Melty's head before taking a step back.

"I hereby recognize Melty Q. Melromark's rise to the throne."

There was a moment of applause.

That goes without saying, as it was the moment a new Queen was born in Melromark.

And Melty set out from the Terrace to the plaza in order to let the populace get a better look at her. She waved her hand the whole way through.

"Long Live New Queen Melty!"

"Long Live the Queen!"

"Everlasting Prosperity to Melromark!"

The people shout out their various orders at her.

Though she's but a small girl, she smiles as she receives the hopes of the people all at once.

"Everyone! I am the one who has been crowned the New Queen of the country, Melty Q. Melromark. From here on, for the country and the world, let us fight together!" (Melly)

"Yeah!"

"Currently, the world is forming itself into a single lump in order to combat the menace that is the wave. The previous Queen, my predecessor, wished for this, and I am also in agreement. I hereby declare that we will succeed her will!" (Melly)

Deafening applauses sound out once more.

Well, that's how the coronation went. To put it bluntly, we were done showing the girl off to the people.

"Fuuu..."

In the throne room within the castle, Melty fell back into the throne. She seems exhausted.

The Heroes, and the leaders of the country. The representatives of the allied forces got together to congratulate her.

Her fatigue is understandable.

"Mel-chan is pretty~. Everyone was cheering for you." (Firo)

Firo stands next to her, praising her.

In the honest way that a friend would.

"Thank you, Firo-chan." (Melty)

"You've sure made your way up, Melty. For the princess of a small country to become the ruler of the world's largest must be quite a promotion. You rose up quite a way." (Naofumi)

I offer some cynical words of praise to Melty.

"What's with your attitude?" (Melty)

"Nothing really. I was just thinking of the sort of deeds Your Majesty, Queen Melty, would perform as the ruler of the world's greatest power." (Naofumi)

"Good grief... why must I go through something like this..." (Melty)

Melty unpleasantly grumbles to herself.

As always, her ambition is quite weak.

When her sister wanted to be so famous.

But it's not my problem.

"It's going to get hectic from here on out. You'll have to quite a few pain-in-the-ass jobs for the people, and the world... etc." (Naofumi)

"Isn't that the same for you, Naofumi!" (Melty)

"My term's 'til the wave's over, while you have a life sentence. What's more, unlike me, who just has to do well in battle, you have to do the work behind the scenes. Man, Heroes sure have it easy.” (Naofumi)

“Mu… I’ll have you eat those words. Just watch me!” (Melly)

With a stiff expression, Melty stands, raises both hands above her head, and declares.

“For his efforts in the previous war, I hereby grant the Hero of the Shield, Naofumi Iwatani, the title of Archduke!” (Melly)

Wha-

“You bastard!” (Naofumi)

“Ahahahahaha! You won’t get away with trying to push all the troublesome stuff onto me!” (Melly)

“I don’t want it even if it kills me! Hurry up and retract it!” (Naofumi)

“As if I would! This is an imperial command! Oh, I’ll add on some more.” (Melly)

Oh god!

The allied forces representatives begin clapping their hands.

Why is it? She’s acting so lax, and taking on a childish attitude, but no one tries to caution her!

“Then shall I award some of the Faublian Land we gained during this war to Iwatani-dono? Currently, with the monster problems, they’re facing a bit of trouble, but you should be able to levy a tax of some sort.” (Trash)

From the Shadows, Trash appears with a map, and Melty fills in the areas to be given to me.

Status is status, but this is quite a bit of land.

If I did end up staying in this world, I think I would be able to play around for the next 100 years with this much.

“Don’t proceed the conversation without me!” (Naofumi)

“But Iwatani-dono, it is a fact that your efforts led us to victory in the war.

If I do not award you with some form of reward, my country's honor will be affected." (Trash)

"Trash! That goes for you as well!" (Naofumi)

In fact, the biggest contributor should be him.

Without holding any heroic title, he commanded the battlefield.

"I merely acted as a representative of this country. My role hasn't changed before, or now." (Trash)

Trash's standing is a fact, and he's the next most important person next to the Queen... so I guess he's something like a manager.

But I'm still not satisfied with this.

"There are plenty of things I have for you to do, Archduke Naofumi!"
(Melty)

"Shut up! Don't push your troubles onto me! Screw being an Archduke!"
(Naofumi)

"It's not like I want to be Queen either!" (Melty)

"Um... both of you don't have to be that angry at getting promotions..."
(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia is holding her hand out towards us with an apologetic expression.
No idea what she's talking about.

Originally, I only wanted land so that Raphtalia would have a place to spend her days in peace once I was gone.

So why is it that I have to deal with so many stacks of paper?

I guess it's the same for Melty.

She was already fighting with the dreadful stacks at my place, but now that she's Queen, the amount of work will increase without end. It's easy to imagine.

I truly wonder why Witch wanted the position so much.

Did she plan to push all the work onto her retainers, and party?
That sounds likely.
But reality isn't so generous.

"How did the Pig King manage the country anyways?" (Naofumi)

Not much time has passed since Tact took office, so I can't really look to him.

I'll bet he entrusted it to the competent women of his harem.

"Besides crucial decisions, he left it to his subordinates." (Trash)

Trash explains.

He did live in Faubley's Royal Palace before, so I guess he has some knowledge about it.

"But a capable king who truly cares about the country and its people should take the initiative in tackling the country's problems. Like my wife did..."
(Trash)

Trash stares out into the distance, and Melty goes quiet.
Well, I'll bet she spent a long time watching her mother.

"Is it hard, Mel-chan?" (Firo)

The future Queen of Filo Rials seems to be completely at ease...

"Yeah, a bit. Firo, you have to make sure to support Melty properly."
(Naofumi)

"Sure! Firo will cheer for her." (Firo)

"Firo-chan, thank you..." (Melty)

Having lost her mother, and having the direct cause of her mother's death, her sister, be executed.

She's behaving all prim and proper, but Melty's going through a lot.

Trash has become decent, and he's supporting her, but I'll bet she'll feel a bit lighter with Firo by her side.

"However, for you to award Iwatani-dono with the title of Archduke... as expected of Melty. I'm proud of you." (Trash)

"Eh? Ah!" (Melty)

Melty's making an 'Oh Crap!' face as she looks at me.

I believe that Archduke is the highest rank among nobles.

Well, I'm not too sure about its level within this world.

"I'm not sure if Iwatani-dono understands or not, so let me explain. In this country, an Archduke is the one whose importance is only second to the Queen. A rank denoting one's position as the future king." (Trash)

Um... but Melromark is Matriarchal, right?

Trash was a representative when he acted as King.

"Yes, in the past, I held the title of Archduke as I acted as representative ruler." (Trash)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"You still do not understand? To summarize, our majesty, Queen Melty has just acknowledged Iwatani-dono to be her fiancé." (Trash)

"Ge!" (Naofumi)

Melty is covering her face, and grumbling.

Her face is screaming, 'ah, right. I forgot.'

"Due to your position as the Hero of the Shield, we'll need permission from Silt Welt now that we've formed an alliance, but... there shouldn't be any problems, right?" (Trash)

On Trash's proposal, the Silt Welt representatives nod.

"There is no problem. As long as your side agrees to let a few of ours get married to him as well."

Chance!

If I put Melromark at a disadvantageous situation politically, we can pretend this never happened.

"I refuse!" (Naofumi)

"Is what I thought he would say, so could you, by chance adopt the Demi-Humans from his village, or their children (when they come around) into your royal families? We'll permit that." (Trash)

"I refuse!" (Naofumi)

"Let's do that after we overcome the wave. I'll leave it down to the Hero of the Shield's generosity when the time comes."

Uu... this is like when I was teasing Raphtalia with Sadina.

Thinking about the future, if I want to keep the village alive for as long as possible... something like that.

I have no plans of refusing at this point.

Thinking about what's to come, the villagers, and my... when I think about it, my face turns red.

"This conversation is-" (Melly)

Just when Melty was about to bring an end to it...

"But there is an individual I would like to recommend if the marriage of Iwatani-dono and Queen Melty falls through." (Trash)

Trash starts staring at Fohl.

Why is it Fohl?

"Eh!?" (Fohl)

A chill runs down Fohl's back, and he throws his head backwards.
So he doesn't want to. Well, I guess that's obvious.
Seeing the scene, the Genmu Gramps nodded.

"Yes, if it's the Hakuko's lost memento, the Hero of the Gauntlet, I'll bet there will be a few takers, and it will help bridge the gap between our countries." (Genmu)

"Wait, wait, wait. Wasn't it that the Hakuko had lost their power in your country?" (Naofumi)

"Taking into account the Hero of the Gauntlet's deeds, I don't believe it to be a bad move. Even though he contains mixed blood, it's not that his lineage is bad, or anything... also, his position of following the Hero of the Shield no matter what will gain him some acceptance." (Genmu)

"Aniki!" (Fohl)

Fohl's eyes are asking me for help.

Don't look at me with those eyes. What sort of commercial is this?

(TL: I'm not sure of the reference, but I imagine a general humane society Ad here)

Fohl is starting to look like a kitten on the verge of tears.

"Naofumi!" (Melly)

Eh... if I refuse the marriage, then it looks like those two will be forcefully paired together.

But Melty will probably just keep it up in image alone, and their relationship won't be that good.

I'm not sure if Trash wants to treasure the keepsake of his little sister, but he seems to be going out of his way for Fohl.

"Then Fohl-dono, since you worked alongside Iwatani-dono, I'll have to award you with a title as well. In the unlikely case that something happens to me, I have to give you a position high enough that you will be able to pull this country together-" (Trash)

"Aniki! I'm seriously begging you! Please!" (Fohl)

"Naofumi!" (Melly)

Ah, I guess there's no choice.

"I get it, so calm down, okay? There's Queen Melty's age to consider, and her body can't deliver children yet, correct?" (Naofumi)

"Wha-" (Melly)

Melly's really glaring at me now.

There's no helping it, right? If I don't put it like this, they're going to find some excuse to get us hitched.

"Please do not worry about that. Melty has already developed a body capable of the feat." (Trash)

"Why would father know!?" (Melly)

"There was plenty written about Melty in my late wife's memos..." (TRash)

Oy, he's trying to end this on a melancholic note.

And wait, that Queen knew about Witch's virginity, and she knows about Melty as well?

Just how much surveillance does she have?

No, before that, why is she leaving things like that to future generations?

With one wrong step, she could embarrass them for ages to come.

"N-no, thinking about Melty's body, I would like to put it off for a while. By my standards, she's still too wet behind the ears. She's just a child."

(Naofumi)

I'll leave it vague, and pretend it never happened after I return to my world.

"What did you say!? I'm already plenty an adult already!" (Melly)

"Idiot! Be quiet!" (Naofumi)

It was then that I remembered the standards through which people were recognized as adults around here.

As long as the parents recognized them as such, they were treated as adults.

A smile full of good intention floats on Trash's face.

"Then there are no problems. As she has expressed her opinion, it appears that we can treat Queen Melty as a bonafide adult. And so... Iwatani-dono, I leave Melty to you. I really want to see the face of my grandchildren soon."

(Trash)

"Someone please save me!" (Melty)

When she's the one who instigated it, why is she crying out for help?

"Mel-chan, do you want to run?" (Firo)

Melty's scream reached everyone but the oblivious bird beside her.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 348 – Love Consultation

---

After Melty's coronation finished, we return to the village.

Stuff's been happening, and we've been busy lately.

It's the familiar village that puts my mind most at ease.

Hmm?

Ren's with Female Knight.

Come to mention it, he follows her around a lot.

As Melty's personal guard, it was decided that she would be promoted and stationed in the castle from here on out.

But to protect the country from the monsters that had been overly active due to the Wave, she went out with Ren to level.

"How are things going on your side?" (Naofumi)

"I guess it's going smoothly. It would be helpful if our levels rose faster, though." (Ren)

"I see... what about you, Female Knight?" (Naofumi)

"Iwatani-dono, can't you learn my name already!?" (Female Knight)

"Um, was it éclair?" (Naofumi)

"Is she supposed to be some sort of desert?" (Ren)

Ren's retort was quite sharp.

Though I'm not sure if she knows about the desert, Raphtalia often cautions me to call her Eclair-san.

(TL: Female Knight's name is エクレール(Ekure-ru) while the desert is エクレア(Ekurea))

I know. It was intentional.

"Even though you said you would pound a lot of training into Ren, it looks like you're the one being taught now. I thank you for the work you did up to your Class Up." (Naofumi)

"Why are you acting so self-important, Iwatani-dono!?" (Female Knight)

"Because I am. I don't really like getting status, but for some reason, I'm now an Archduke. I truly am important." (Naofumi)

"You got promoted again? Despite that, you don't look too happy." (Ren)

"Yeah, it was against my will. And thinking about what happens after the world's at peace, it's best if you treat me befitting of my title." (Naofumi)

"Mu... you're right." (Female Knight)

She's started to imitate me. She's really straying from her path, this one. What was she doing before this?

I think... she was in Trash's encampment during the war, repelling Faublian invaders.

"And? Did you learn how to manage land yet?" (Naofumi)

"Looking at Iwatani-dono and the Queen, as well as the King, I'm starting to see it." (Female Knight)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

In the end, Female Knight aims to be a lord of some sorts.

I guess you can call Melty and Trash her ideal.

"Eclair-san..." (Raphtalia)

"I'll bet that if we lost that battle, we all would have been labelled as Evil. Justice is... I must learn its true form." (Female Knight)

"Isn't it Justice as long as you win?" (Naofumi)

"You can say that. But is there justice in a land ruled by a strong lord? A country is made of its people. It is not based around its king... is what I want to believe." (Female Knight)

"Eclair is always looking ahead. I'd like to learn to do that too." (Ren)

Ren looks to Female Knight in praise.

In the end, he does look up to her, and he tries to look after Taniko.

That hasn't changed.

Though Taniko really seems to hate it.

I signal Ren to come closer and whisper in his ear.

"Did you confess yet?" (Naofumi)

"Wha... it's not like that!" (Ren)

"Ah, so you prefer little girls?" (Naofumi)

"T-that is..." (Ren)

Ren seems to want to say something, but he holds it in.

Was he trying to say I'm the one into them? Unfortunately, he's wrong.
No, is he?

Just a little earlier, I got engaged to Melty, so if I play this poorly, I'll be labelled a Lolicon.

And the ones who surround me, despite having larger physiques, are mostly young in age.

Raphtalia, Atlas, Firo, Kiel, and the others.

Thinking about it like that makes me feel a bit strange...

"Right... Naofumi is... never mind." (Ren)

"You seem to want to say something. Spit it out." (Naofumi)

"No... um..." (Ren)

Ren looks towards Fohl, who's lecturing the slaves training their skills.
Why is it Fohl again?

"What sort of misunderstanding are you getting?" (Naofumi)

"Eh? I mean, don't you swing-" (Ren)

"I get it so just shut up!" (Naofumi)

What sort of misunderstanding is this?

While it's true that I sleep with Fohl on occasion, there are a few things wrong with his assumption.

Well, it's a bit rough, but the feel of Fohl's fur isn't bad.

"Love is free, right? Recently I learned that." (Naofumi)

It isn't just about Atlas's will. So that I don't have any regrets, I decided it was necessary for me to learn to love.

To regret because I wasn't able to do anything is too much to bear.

"Ren." (Naofumi)

"What?" (Ren)

"After we restore peace to the world, what do you want to do?" (Naofumi)

"... Let's see." (Ren)

Ren signals for me to infer his meaning as he shifts his gaze to the village. The Holy Weapon will probably ask him whether he wants to return to his old world, or remain in this one.

I plan to return, but it's not a bad option if Ren and the others choose to stay.

"Will you remain here?" (Naofumi)

"I don't know. What do you think I should do, Eclair?" (Ren)

"Me? I don't know why you're asking me, but you have a place you have to return to, right?" (Female Knight)

"Yeah... I have my own world. Since this world was my ideal, I kinda forgot about it when I came here." (Ren)

"What you do is your choice, so I can't say anything by principle. But if you have lingering feelings for that place, then it's better that you return. If you save the world, I won't be able to declare whether you've atoned for your sins or not, but working for others is-" (Female Knight)

"Working for others is my path to atonement, right? I know." (Ren)

They've been together for quite a bit, these two. Can they sense what the other is implying?

"Female Knight." (Naofumi)

"And remember my name already!" (Female Knight)

"What do you think of Ren? No, if I ask like this, I have the feeling you'll just say, 'A trusted comrade!' or something, so let me get to the point.

What do you think about him as a member of the opposite sex?" (Naofumi)

I ask her with the slight intention of teasing her.

"I told you before, did I not? As a member of the opposite sex, I can say that he is not my type. Ren also dislikes matters like that, correct?" (Female Knight)

"... R-right..." (Ren)

Ah, a critical hit to Ren's heart.

I guess Ren has a long path ahead of him.

"Well, I'll say it once, Ren." (Naofumi)

"... What is it?" (Ren)

"Naofumi-sama, please restrain yourself." (Raphtalia)

I ignore Raphtalia's warning and proceed.

"How about making do with Taniko?" (Naofumi)

"GYAU!?"

My words elicit quite a glare from Gaelion.

Ah, so he really does hate it.

As if I would hand my daughter over to you! Something like that.

"Wyndia is... just someone I'd like to take responsibility for..." (Ren)

So their relationship hasn't improved.

Looks like he has it rough.

"Naofumi-cha~n. I'll be waiting for you in your room~." (Sadina)

From afar, I see Sadina waving her hand, inviting me.

Why the hell is that the first thing she says? Read the mood!

“So this is the gap between me and Naofumi…” (Ren)

“Hey… it’s just that the people you’re with are no good. Don’t you have plenty of people close to you as well?” (Naofumi)

Female Knight and Taniko… neither of them have any interest in love, so I don’t think Ren’s at fault.

“What are you doing, Niichan?” (Kiel)

A wild Kiel appears.

Through everything happening, she’s become quite strong.

But she has yet to pick up Hengen Musou. I think she’ll manage somehow as Kielberos, though.

She’s been placed in Itsuki’s group with Fohl.

“Kiel, what about you? How is your party faring?” (Naofumi)

I was dragged along with Sadina to level, and Kiel was in a different group. But she seems to like swimming, so she arbitrarily followed us anyways. It seems her parents were fishermen, so did she pick it up at home?

“I’ve gotten strong! I want to go with Niichan, but I’m having fun here too!” (Kiel)

Kielberos has a lot of weaknesses, but the form is strong.

Even so, for her to find battle fun, she’s becoming like Firo.

“So what were you talking about?” (Kiel)

It was about love, right?

No, about the people from the village close to Ren.

“It was about whether there were any people interested in Ren in the village.” (Naofumi)

“Naofumi, please don’t try to force the information out. I don’t think my heart can take it.” (Ren)

It's my duty to harass people!

Is what I want to do, but I think the current Ren will be fine.

"First there's Imya's Uncle, right? And there's Wyndia and Eclair-san. Also..." (Kiel)

Kiel fluidly starts listing the people in the village interested in Ren.

"So there are quite a lot. Did you think you were hated? I don't think you have to worry about it." (Naofumi)

"T-thanks..." (Ren)

Well, Imya's Uncle is teaching him smithing, and they often work together. Though, they're of the same gender.

But Kiel... doesn't seem to be in love with anyone. She's fallen for the crepe tree.

And Ren's affections lie with the people who defeated him: Female Knight and Taniko.

"Are you worried about people's opinions of you?" (Kiel)

"... It's not like that. During battle, things like that may become important." (Ren)

"I see, the mental aspect of battle is also crucial. It's when the people you want to protect are by your side, that you can manifest your true power. At least, that's what I've heard." (Female Knight)

It seems Female Knight's finally caught onto the topic of our discussion. Is it my job to give them a push here?

"Female Knight, what would you do if someone were to tell you they loved you?" (Naofumi)

"I think I would honestly be happy at their sentiments. But, unfortunately, I have no free time to indulge in love. I'll have to politely decline them." (Female Knight)

"Even if it's Ren?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Female Knight)

Ah... Ren seems really depressed.

He's quietly admitting defeat even before the battle.

While he says quite a bit, in the end, I think he still likes her.

But I don't think it's over here.

It would be terrible if his broken heart affected his morale in battle.

"Ren." (Naofumi)

"... What?" (Ren)

"People like her are just uninterested when it comes to love. When it actually comes down to it, her heart may waver. If you have luck on your side, then perhaps she'll begin to develop an interest in the opposite sex when you confess, so it's too early to give up." (Naofumi)

"U-understood." (Ren)

"However, read the mood. If you confess now, I highly doubt she'll accept. After you've grown stronger, and shown her your strength, I think the time will be right. Let's see... Right after we save the world, it may be good to try making use of the feel of exhilaration." (Naofumi)

"Y... yeah!" (Ren)

On my words, Ren energetically nods. He's surprisingly simple.

Well, I only have knowledge about this sort of thing from Galge, so my words may not be the best to follow.

This would normally be the time for Motoyasu to shine, but with him as he is right now...

By the way, I made sure to include 'maybe', and 'I think' so I have no responsibility if he meets failure.

"Then I will go with Ren to take up my post at the Castle. Iwatani-dono, I'll definitely repay you for all the things you've taught me. Now then." (Female Knight)

And Female Knight uses Ren's portal to teleport to the castle.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 349 – The Graveyard of Life

---

“Kiel.” (Naofumi)

After I confirm Ren and Female Knight had left, I call out to Kiel.

“What is it, Niichan?” (Kiel)

“Do you have anyone you like?” (Naofumi)

“Naofumi-sama, you plan on continuing that topic?” (Raphtalia)

“Let’s see. I guess I like Imya-chan.” (Kiel)

“Imya?” (Naofumi)

She’s of the same gender. I guess it’s hard for Imya as well. She’ll have to go through the same troubles as Melty.

Kiel was there to witness our lecture to Firo, so she should know.

And wait, I think Kiel’s ‘like’ is as a friend.

“Did you call for me?”

Imya, who was chatting with others in the dining hall, came at the sound of Kiel’s voice.

… Should I ask?

If I don’t confirm it here and now, there will be a bit of trouble in the future.

If I try to instigate them so to leave behind any regret, there’s a risk that I’ll damage their relationship.

Yes, I’ll proceed with care.

“Naofumi-sama, you seem to be planning something again.” (Raphtalia)

“Just think of it as me awakening to my responsibility as the Lord here.”
(Naofumi)

“Is it really that grand of a problem?” (Raphtalia)

No, I’m probably wrong.

But still, I won’t stop.

I need to take responsibility for my villagers.

I have to think of what happens when I leave... and there's also the matter left hanging at the castle.

"Kiel likes Imya despite being of the same gender. Well, Kiel is aiming to be an honorable man of the sea, so perhaps she'll make for a good husband."
(Naofumi)

"Eh!?" (Imya)

"W-wrong! I didn't think you meant it that way when you asked, Niichan!"
(Kiel)

"What did you think I meant?" (Naofumi)

"Since it was you, I thought you were asking about who I got along best with in the village! By not regret, I thought you meant not to get into fights with them."
(Kiel)

Ah, as I thought.

But, she should learn to follow the flow of the conversation.

"Then among the boys, who do you like? No, who do you like based on whatever sexual preferences you have?" (Naofumi)

Even now, subjects like these make me feel a little sick, but I have to consider the future.

Or else...

Ah, I am aware that I'm dragging out my own problems.

Even so, I don't plan on torturing myself by waiting until the end.

"W-what are you asking all of a sudden?" (Imya)

"Well, just in case. The world's on the brink of ruin, so I have to warn you all to live without regrets."
(Naofumi)

"Niichan's changed."
(Kiel)

"Right..."
(Naofumi)

I think so too.

I did ban love not too long ago, and I rejected Atlas's advances.
It's all Witch's fault. And mine.

"That's right... Niichan gets along well with Raphtalia..." (Kiel)

Raphtalia responds to Kiel's suspicious glance with a questionable expression.

"Well, I like Niichan most, but I guess next is Fohl-Niichan." (Kiel)

"Fohl?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah! I mean Fohl-niichan is cool, right?" (Kiel)

Thinking back, Kiel did call Fohl's beast form cool.

Fumu, perhaps Kiel's energetic attitude can fill the gap left in Fohl's heart after losing Atlas.

"Naofumi-sama, isn't it time to bring an end to this topic? I have a bit of a bad feeling about where this is headed." (Raphtalia)

"Okay Kiel! I'll permit it. Go sleep together with Fohl! He's a lonely man. Go heal his loneliness!" (Naofumi)

"Understood, Niichan!" (Kiel)

Kiel runs up to Fohl in dog form.

Her innocence is really something. She has a charm similar to Firo's.

"Ah... it seems we've made yet another needless misunderstanding."
(Raphtalia)

"I'd like Fohl to regain his spirit." (Naofumi)

That's my wish.

As I couldn't protect Atlas, at the very least, I have a duty to make Fohl happy.

He's made protecting the village his mission, but he's focusing too much on it and forgetting his own happiness in the process. I'm not sure if he'd be able to face Atlas like this.

He doesn't seem worried about his possible engagement, but as it's with Melty, I guess there's no helping it.

"Regardless of what comes of this, I won't hold any responsibility."
(Raphtalia)

"I'll be the one taking responsibility." (Naofumi)

I'd like for Fohl to find a special someone in this village he wants to protect, like he did with Atlas.

"Next is Imya." (Naofumi)

I'll have to confirm it with all the villagers anyways.

She's not like Sadina, but eventually... she'll like someone, right?

"W-what is it?" (Imya)

"Do you have anyone you like, Imya?" (Naofumi)

"Um... that is..." (Imya)

Her face is dyed red as she holds both arms together, and looks at the ground.

Eh? Could it possibly be me?

She arrived in the village in the same manner as Raphtalia, so perhaps it isn't too strange.

What's more, we do sleep in the same bed in regular intervals.

Like with Firo, I kept her around because she was fluffy, but she seemed strangely conscious of it.

"Well... that is... um..." (Imya)

"Hero of the Shield-sama, what seems to be the problem?"

It seems people are coming up to me one after the other today.

When I look up, I see Imya's Uncle.

"Well, I asked Imya if she liked anyone, and Imya, by your reaction, am I supposed to take that as affirmation? It seems that I cannot give myself to a single person, and in the end I plan on returning to my world, but even so, does your answer remain the same?" (Naofumi)

"Um... yes." (Imya)

Even with her face colored a deep shade of red, Imya nods.

And having sensed the situation, Imya's Uncle claps his hands in good humor.

"I see, I see! You've become a fine woman, Imya. I'm proud of you."
(Imya's Uncle)

"By the way, you're quite popular in the village. Do you have any intentions of marriage?" (Naofumi)

On my question, Imya's Uncle's expression stiffens. He slowly turns his head to look at me.

His eyes are screaming, 'What the hell are you talking about?'

"What? I'm just asking about your future plans." (Naofumi)

I know. I had hid and learned the village's popularity ranking. Imya's Uncle was within the higher part of the list. (TL: This was right before the Hououin Kyoufumi Arc)

"I have absolutely no idea what you're talking about, and I don't know why you're bringing marriage up!" (Imya's Uncle)

"Even so, you apparently have high popularity, man. It seems some people have become smitten by watching your smithing." (Naofumi)

"Eh!?" (Imya's Uncle)

"Is that true?" (Imya)

Imya puts her hands together and asks.

"I'll have to give out a few rewards to you all as well. If you ask for freedom, I'll happily grant it to you." (Naofumi)

He's done enough work deserving of such a thing.

Be it weapons or armor or anything else, this guy's the one who makes most of the things in the village.

"If you have a missing wife somewhere in the world, I could search for her."
(Naofumi)

"Uncle, I don't remember you having someone like that, right? Even though your looks are good." (Imya)

"I-I live for my work and a-as long as everyone's happy with that-" (Imya's Uncle)

So he isn't aware of it? Perhaps he's actually relatively dense.

Is he the type of person that spends so much time helping others that he passes his prime alone?

It's that. People's impression of him don't go further than, 'He's a good person.'

"Imya, do you know anyone for him?" (Naofumi)

"No..." (Imya)

Why is it that this mole is so popular?

It's probably for the same reason as me.

I make the food... and he makes the weapons.

The reason I wasn't on the popularity poll was probably because cooking is more of a domestic chore.

Does it have to do with his appearance? By Imya and the other Demi-Human's standards, it seems his face is on the nicer side.

Among the villagers, he's quite old.

Just like Sadina, it's like he's looked up to as a reliable adult.

And wait, just how old is he?

It seems he learned smithery with the Old Man.

By the looks of it, the Weapon Shop Old Man's in the latter half of his thirties, I guess.

This guy should be around the same, so he has a few years under his belt.

"Well, this is only a concern after the wave, so don't get too conscious of it...

I guess. But still, I'm slackening the regulations on love in the village.

Please pass on the message." (Naofumi)

"... Understood."

Imya's Uncle nods.

"Or is it that you're... gay?" (Naofumi)

"N-no, I'm not!" (Imya's Uncle)

Is he going to say Blacksmithery is the world of men?

When he was in a village of his own race, it seems he ran a metal goods shop... and it's true that he's good at making saucepans.

I believe I've heard him say raising kids was dreadful, or something.

He must have been part of a large family. That's why, instead of his own love, he tends to focus on the needs of others, I guess.

Through slave hunting, his clan was dispersed, and he made his way to my village, which is like a large family in itself. I guess he didn't have much free time.

"Anyways, just take it easy." (Naofumi)

"It seems that any and everything is meddled with by the Hero of the Shield." (Imya's Uncle)

"Don't mind it. From now on, the amount of things I'll ask from you will only increase. Ah, after this, it doesn't matter who, but go tag along with a Hero to level. If you level, won't your work become easier?" (Naofumi)

We've been able to make new equipment from the materials of the new, higher-level monsters.

As I thought, the higher the level, the better quality of the drops gained. And we have to do a complete reformation of the villager's equipment. Right now, Imya's Uncle's level is at 40. He kept saying any more wasn't necessary and refused to level, but in the grand scheme of things, his level's in the danger zone.

What's more, his job requires power. I'll bet a higher level will be beneficial. I wonder why he put it off.

"I'll be counting on you. Keep working hard." (Naofumi)

"Y-yes! For the Hero of the Shield-sama, I will do my best." (Imya's Uncle)

"M-me too!" (Imya)

It helps that the Lemo Race is one of stubborn hard workers.

Recently, Imya's started making armor that doesn't lose to those from the Old Man's creations.

Is it partly because I taught her how to make and enchant accessories? Right now, we have to prepare for war to the best of our ability.

"Now then."

The amount of times I've stopped by the Old Man's shop has decreased, and he's been earning mostly from local orders. He also has requests from the country, so I sometimes meet him in the castle as well.

But his good nature hasn't changed from the start.

Right now, he's working to use the Spirit Turtle and Houou's materials to make weapons for the Heroes.

There's now 12 of us, so he's been busy.

I'll bet Kirin's materials will reach him soon, so it'll only get harder and harder.

Sometime soon, I'll have to stop by to come to an agreement on the costs.

Ah, right. Through the carriage's enhancement method, I fed monster drops into the Shield to unlock temporary money acquisition raises, but I barely managed to get the value of what I put into it.

I didn't gain as much money as expected, and I barely broke even.

I also tried to cheat by placing a freshly minted silver coin into the Shield, but it only got registered as the material Silver.

It seems that money has to have been put into market circulation before it can be used in enhancements.

How troublesome.

"Aniki-!"

While I was lost in thought, Fohl burst into my house with Kiel under his arm.

"W-what happened?" (Naofumi)

"I heard it. You told her that I was lonely, so she had to sleep with me!"
(Fohl)

"Pretty much." (Naofumi)

"Niichan, Fohl-niichan's gotten a lot more energetic!" (Kiel)

How's that for ya?

And wait, why is Kiel being carried like that?

It's quite an interesting scene.

"Ah, as I thought, it ended up like this." (Raphtalia)

"Rafu?" (Raph-chan)

Firo's supporting Melty at the castle, so she isn't in the village.

I'll have to build a room for Raph-chan soon too.

"Fohl-niichan really is cool. Please transform again!" (Kiel)

"Perhaps another time." (Fohl)

"Eh? Even when it's so cool?" (Kiel)

"Please just be quiet for a second!" (Fohl)

Kiel sure is hyper... Seeing her obviously tease Fohl out of good will makes for a foolish back and forth.

Could it be that these two are surprisingly fitting for one another?

"Fohl." (Naofumi)

"What!?" (Fohl)

"You have the right to be happy. It's because Trash thought that as well that he proposed a marriage with Melty. You just have to show him there's someone you like to be with." (Naofumi)

I'm stooping to fooling the man.

"Show him?" (Fohl)

"Otherwise, he'll meddle with your life a bit. It's probably for that reason that he's going out of his way for both of us..." (Naofumi)

Fohl's face goes pale.

Is he no good at dealing with Trash?

Yeah, well they're likeminded people, so they repel one another. Or perhaps when someone approaches him so affectionately, he finds it scary.

It's like your aunt bringing a photo of a girl she wants to introduce to you. That sort of fear.

And wait, it may be my fault, but the male slaves in my village seem to be under the impression that marriage is the graveyard of life.

... Ah, maybe it's because I spoke of my experience with Witch with much zeal.

Be careful of women. You can't much confidence in those close to you, lest the life you know comes to an end.

Even if they're nobles, if they marry, they become slaves to their wives... I taught them quite a bit.

Since this is another world, I guessed that it was centered on men.
Is what I thought, but Melromark is matriarchal.
But I do feel that there are a lot more males among the nobles. In my village, we rarely come across those of such high status.
I think the most exposure we've had was some idle banter with them while peddling... but I made sure to teach them that other people are existences to make use of.

... Isn't this kinda bad?
Yeah. I'll need to provide some re-education.
Well, I'll just leave it to Kiel, Raphtalia, and Sadina.

"What's wrong, my good Niichans?" (Kiel)
"Wah!" (Fohl)

Fohl accidentally drops the dog he was carrying.
He doesn't have to be that scared.

"A-Atlas isn't like that. She can't be like this! She wasn't like this! The Atlas I knew used whatever she could and never wasted anything!" (Fohl)
"... No, she kinda did." (Naofumi)

Onii-sama, please don't get so close to me, she would often say.
Even though we both bought her medicine, she fawned over me so much, while she gave Fohl harsh treatment.
Ah, did he subconsciously look over that side of her and develop a fear of women as a result?

"Fohl." (Naofumi)
"What!?" (Fohl)
"I pray that you'll start a happy family." (Naofumi)
"Naofumi-sama, please decide whether you're supporting him or striking fear into his heart." (Raphtalia)

And like always, Raphtalia offers a retort.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 350 – Idealism

---

It made me slightly relieved that Fohl was acting so energetic.

So I left Raphtalia in the house and decided to take a quick night walk around the village. I step outside.

And there, I find Itsuki sitting in front of the Bioplant House looking up at the night sky.

“What are you doing, so late at night?” (Naofumi)

I ask the lone man.

Is Rishia asleep?

She should be the one looking over him… but from his actions up until now, I guess we can trust Itsuki just a little bit more.

“Ah, is that you, Naofumi-san?” (Itsuki)

Itsuki shifts his gaze from the stars to me as he answers.

He’s a bit… well, the recent Itsuki’s been so quiet it seems a bit eerie.

It may sound nice if you call him obedient, but I can’t tell what he’s thinking behind that façade.

“I just thought the moon was pretty, so I wanted to watch it.” (Itsuki)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

Even in another world, there’s a moon.

Well, this is a world with werewolves, and with Fohl and Kiel, there are Demi-Humans that can transform as well.

… Why only the wolf race is translated as ‘Werewolves’ by the Shield is a mystery to me.

(TL: Werewolf/ wolf man is written in Kanji, while the rest are katakana [Blank] Race)

When I was shown one by the slave dealer, at least, that’s how its name showed up.

Is it that once it's heard like that, the Shield will always translate it as such?

Thinking back to the status displayed back then, I'll bet it was my fault.

It's probable that when the Slave Dealer introduced me, he used a tool to display information in a way that could be read by anyone. It used my understanding from my own world.

But it only used it for a certain set of words

"..."

"..."

Silence surrounds me and Itsuki.

Should I leave?

When I think that, Itsuki breaks the silence of his own accord. He begins speaking.

"Naofumi-san, you know about it, right?" (Itsuki)

"About what?" (Naofumi)

"My... curse has mostly been lifted already." (Itsuki)

"... Yeah." (Naofumi)

I'm no fool.

There's no way I wouldn't suspect Itsuki, who continued to stand beside Rishia without asserting his presence.

"So you knew..." (Itsuki)

"Of course." (Naofumi)

What's more, he's even stopped being a Yes Man as of late.

Though I don't think that's so bad in itself.

Even so, for him to answer my questions honestly despite that, I wonder what sort of change has happened within him.

"A little while ago, when you were talking about the wave, and the reincarnated, do you remember?" (Itsuki)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

"I... couldn't think of an answer. And what I did remember was an NPC from a game who said similar things..." (Itsuki)

Come to think about it, Itsuki said something like that.

I think it's a cheat system the developer intentionally put into the game, or something like that.

"If you ask why I remain here even though my curse has been broken..." (Itsuki)

He suddenly changes the topic.

I don't think he's fully recovered yet.

"... I was wrong. Naofumi-san was right... it's just that I never had the courage to say it, is what I thought." (Itsuki)

"And now you think differently?" (Naofumi)

I did consider that possibility.

Itsuki's party instigated a rebellion against the state, and they were all executed.

They even conspired with Witch. He should have heard from Rishia about how he used an ability to brainwash others.

Because of his curse, he was forced to listen to and accept what others told him.

"Right now, because I'm like this... I can... muster my courage." (Itsuki)

"Ah, I see." (Naofumi)

"But, please... you definitely cannot trust me." (Itsuki)

"I never trusted you from the start. That's why you're under Rishia's protection." (Naofumi)

And there's also that promise with Rishia.

"Then you don't have to believe it, but please listen to what I have to say."
(Itsuki)

"Got it. And? What is it you want to talk about?" (Naofumi)

"First... about the progression of my curse." (Itsuki)

"It isn't cured?" (Naofumi)

"I cannot say. While I think it has been lifted, I can find plenty of places where it's still in effect." (Itsuki)

Well, his curse is something like the loss of individuality.

If something's off, those surrounding him can't tell, but I guess the individual himself can notice.

"My judgement and my will, I've lost various things to this curse. But... it seems that my memory was included as well." (Itsuki)

"What?" (Naofumi)

"I still... cannot remember the faces of my family in the other world, and there are parts of the game, and novels I've read online, that I cannot recall at all." (Itsuki)

"You never said anything about that." (Naofumi)

"It's not like I didn't want to... I didn't notice. I was able to recall a brief outline of things when I didn't have my sense of judgement, though."
(Itsuki)

"..."

"When Naofumi-san spoke of the novels of your world, I merely thought, 'so there are stories like that too,' but when I used Cal Mira's Onsen today... I remembered my world had them too." (Itsuki)

"I... see." (Naofumi)

He has partial amnesia, and he lacks the ability to feel anything was off?

"But why?" (Naofumi)

It's strange for him not to have noticed until now.

"Isn't forgetting your parents something serious?" (Naofumi)

"It's not that I can't remember. I can look back and see what sort of people they were, and what sort of things they did, but it's like I have slight lapses in memory in some places. I just can't remember them no matter what."

(Itsuki)

"But isn't that just natural? What's the problem?" (Naofumi)

"It appears in my gaming knowledge as well. I talked about the game Dimension Wave from my world, correct?" (Itsuki)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

"Isn't it strange? If there was a sequel or continuation on the market, then shouldn't I have at least researched the information on it or something?"

(Itsuki)

Well... he's right.

No matter how hooked he was on it, if he knew there was a sequel to his favorite game, he would at least look up an overview of the story.

But Itsuki didn't do any searching. He didn't read anything.

No, he didn't speak about anything?

"Of course, the information about what the wave was... probably wasn't in the game. But, what sort of waves there were, or what sort of new battle systems were in place would definitely be out there." (Itsuki)

"T-that's right." (Naofumi)

"Well, I remember visiting the country that Silt Welt currently occupies and the areas I didn't get to visit. But that isn't all." (Itsuki)

"What?" (Naofumi)

He's going around the main topic. I don't get what he's trying to accomplish. It's just that I understand this will transition into something important.

"The Sequel's wave... After defeating Ouryuu, Dimension Wave had the expansion... Let's Go to the New World linked by the Wave! A system like that. I remember... I was waiting for it to come." (Itsuki)

"That means..." (Naofumi)

"Yes... it was already too late to save that world." (Itsuki)

Every wave, Glass slowly leads her people here.

So what happens to the people here?

I'll have to ask later.

"No matter how you look at it, that's way too late." (Naofumi)

"... I know. But... as if intentionally, the information about the wave was... deleted. Is this also the enemy's meddling?" (Itsuki)

"No clue." (Naofumi)

The Cursed Weapon Itsuki got his hands on was one a Hero of the Past took in hand to try to conquer the world, it seems.

If that hero got the weapon from whatever god's up there, and Itsuki received its influence, then there's a possibility that whoever's running this took away any memories that would prove disadvantageous.

"And so, I am... perhaps I'm being used by the enemy. I can't even tell whether or not the curse has been completely lifted or not." (Itsuki)

Ah... so he was always thinking about something like that.

"So if I ever do something that would hurt you and the others... please strike me down without hesitation." (Itsuki)

"I can't do it, so can I leave that to others?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. I know this is something I should be confiding with Rishia-san... but I don't think that girl will be able to do something so heartless." (Itsuki)

"Understood. I'll make a promise with you." (Naofumi)

With Ren and Itsuki, if this was a story, then they'd be raising so many death flags right now.

While I was thinking that, Itsuki turns back to the village.

"This is a good village. It's a place I envy, a place Naofumi-san built from scratch." (Itsuki)

"Well, it isn't a bad place to live." (Naofumi)

It's next to the sea, and Bioplant fruits are plentiful. You won't have problems with food supply.

The Crepe Tree is... questionable, but it's a nice place to live.

"I can understand now. Naofumi-san isn't evil... if you just arbitrarily gather the worst information, even the greatest of saints can become but another villain." (Itsuki)

"No, I am a villain." (Naofumi)

... I look towards the village to condemn myself

It's a place I built. A place the villagers will happily lay down their lives for.

A place where I trained everyone to happily march off to war.

I learned that in business, you can make the most profit when you make the other side happy to buy your merchandise.

But I can't think the one who made a place where people happily sacrifice themselves to war can be a good person.

"I never taught the people here the futility and tragedy brought by battle."
(Naofumi)

"But... you're always protecting them so they don't have to experience it."
(Itsuki)

"... I couldn't protect them." (Naofumi)

I couldn't protect my own villagers.

Starting with Atlas, we had plenty of victims in the Houou battle.

In the war with Faubley, the amount of casualties on our side was unbelievably low, but that doesn't mean there were none.

"The past me would have chastised you for your lack of responsibility... but now, I can understand. Rather than a village without the means to fight, one that exists only to be protected by the Hero of the Shield, one filled with people who want to fight together with Naofumi-san and lend their power to him, shines much brighter.” (Itsuki)

“That’s just lip service.” (Naofumi)

“Yes, it sure is. That’s why Rishia-san, and Ren-san, and Naofumi-san are working so desperately. That’s what I understand.” (Itsuki)

“So I can continue working the villagers like slaves!?” (Naofumi)

I keep saying I’m not working hard, but two people have given me this speech already.

Now and then, I’ve never felt this conflicted before in my life.

“Us Heroes are… we can’t just work for our own self-satisfaction. Because Naofumi-san had many things we were lacking in, he was able to solve the problems we caused. In truth… like Naofumi-san, we wanted to make the people truly happy, without leaving them to rot.” (Itsuki)

“Rot?” (Naofumi)

“Let’s liken this to a person who knows danger is approaching. If they are merely protected, they will eventually think it natural to get protected, and eventually, they’ll even… forget their thanks.” (Itsuki)

… It’s not something I don’t understand.

That’s what the world of normality lives on.

It’s only when the unsung heroes disappear that we notice.

In this case, it’s again, much too late.

“That’s why, even if Naofumi-san returns to his own world, the village he made will definitely live on. He was just making a place like that.” (Itsuki)

“It was just my way of thanking a slave, Raphtalia.” (Naofumi)

“Even so. Everyone is being protected, but by protecting them, you show them the difficulty of protecting, and the meaning of strength. And that’s exactly why this village is a good place.” (Itsuki)

“… Power’s all about how you use it.” (Naofumi)

Even if I make them strong, there's no meaning if they use it for robbery or revenge.

This village can't be devoid of people with feelings like that.

Grief is followed by Hatred, and Hatred is followed by Strife... and what if someone gained strength to fulfill these means?

The answer is simple.

They become like me.

This might be plain self-satisfaction, but that's a fate I'll never wish upon those guys.

"That is... looking at Ren-san and Wyndia-san, everyone's learning how to deal with it as well." (Itsuki)

Ren and Taniko?

I think all the villagers know about it.

About how she gets along with the one who killed her father.

And it seems Taniko's resolved herself not to act in revenge.

"Also... everyone's learned that the world isn't filled with bad people.

Peddling was your way of getting them to deepen their understanding of people, right?" (Itsuki)

No, I just wanted money.

Is what I think, but I see.

The people grew to understand Demi-Humans, despite being hated by the country, through their peddling under the popular Hero of the Shield's banner.

For the villagers who had their parents killed by humans, and who were oppressed as slaves, they were able to learn, through peddling, that the human race had good people as well.

But, I don't get what's to celebrate.

Misunderstanding paving the way to war is a common story.

Well, Demi-human countries often go to war, so they should have some oppressed slaves themselves.

I guess it's a good thing for that system to gradually become obsolete.

Right now, Melromark and Silt Welt have an alliance.

Looking at the wars they waged in the past, I guess it's a wondrous outcome.

"If it were me... I'd definitely label the ones who mistreated Demi-humans to be an evil to defeat. I even delivered punishment onto humans back then." (Itsuki)

"There are true villains out there too. Don't look to me as an ironclad law." (Naofumi)

"Things can't be decided by the ideals of a single person... I knew. Perhaps I would have turned out like that reincarnator. I think I need to talk more with those I see as evil. Or else history will merely repeat itself." (Itsuki)

"Then... what would you do if the one calling himself god has his own reasons?" (Naofumi)

"... If he has something grand enough to require the deaths of so many people, then I'd definitely like to hear it. In order to read it out at his funeral." (Itsuki)

The reason for destroying the world...

I don't think it can be anything good.

"You mean of how, to save the world from the wave, we have to sacrifice two thirds of the population? For him, there may be a certain reason he has to do such a thing." (Naofumi)

"Each and every world has its limit, and worlds that are no longer necessary must be destroyed. If it was something like that I could understand, but I do not think it offers any respite to those that died as a result. I want him to find a better way, no, it's his duty to find one. Or else we will go against him." (Itsuki)

Fumu... it's idealism, but it doesn't sound bad.

Of course, in the end, we may have to bring about some victims ourselves. And it's us who have to make that choice.

But in the very end, we're going to oppose him.

"Rishia-san said it. It takes a good amount of courage to say someone else is wrong, but pushing justice onto another is something else entirely.

Probably." (Itsuki)

"Sure sounds like her." (Naofumi)

For Rishia to be able to say such things to Itsuki makes it sound like her pitiful start was but a lie.

The "probably" at the end really fits, though.

But, I can't think of her as the one who screamed "FUEEEEE" whilst trying to drown herself.

Hmm? Did she shout something like that when she jumped? I can't remember.

But even now, Rishia continues to "FUEEEEEEEEE" loudly as her ideals develop further.

"In order to fulfill one's own desire, to take from people you hate is evil. But how about taking from those you hate to protect the weak? If not to satisfy his own lust, but to save someone, a man took the wealth a nobleman had earned himself, would that be right?" (Itsuki)

"It's a hard problem." (Naofumi)

What sort of person is the noble he loathes? Why must he steal in order to gain the ability to protect the weak?

Additional factors pop up.

In the end, it's best to uphold the established rules.

But rules themselves are created by humans, and they need to adapt to the times.

“And so, I am… without going forward on a single ideal, I think I need to talk with the person I am to oppose and come to a conclusion afterwards. Up until now, I was merely ignoring them while they shouted at me. It was merely because they were of lower standing that I believed the weak to be the ones I had to protect.” (Itsuki)

“Itsuki, I don’t think you’ll reach an answer like that.” (Naofumi)

The person will definitely hide any inconvenient information.

And there are plenty of cases where conversations don’t lead anywhere.

Or perhaps… there are cases where both sides are rotten beyond repair.

“… I’ll bet. But if I were to go back to the start of it all, then I’d like to hear what both you and Witch-san had to say. I’d like to confirm the truth.

Gender doesn’t matter. Why did that happen, and if Witch-san was the one to fool Naofumi-san, then why did she do such a thing? I want to think carefully after asking all of that.” (Itsuki)

“I see. If someone like that had been there at the time, then perhaps things would have gone in a slightly better direction.” (Naofumi)

But it’s already passed.

Noticing he was wrong, it seems Itsuki’s trying to say he wants to save the me of the past.

I guess I’ll just take those feelings.

Well… if it’s just words, he could just be bullshitting the hell out of me, but is it my bad for thinking it?

“In truth, justice was… something as difficult as this. But I got drunk off the feeling of convicting others…” (Itsuki)

“Then what do you plan on doing once the wave is over?” (Naofumi)

“I think I want to stay in this world, and go on a journey.” (Itsuki)

“A journey… where do you plan on going? And wait, what do you plan on doing?" (Naofumi)

"I want to lend my power to those in need of help." (Itsuki)

"Using your arrogant justice again?" (Naofumi)

"Perhaps... but this time, I want to try hard so that I'm not the only one satisfied by the conclusion. A path where I won't have any more lingering regrets. And if in the end of all of it, I have rocks thrown at me once more, I won't offer any excuses." (Itsuki)

This is an illness. It's the return of the Justice Virus.

But, I feel he'll offer a bit less self-justification than the Itsuki of the past. I'd like to hope that he's made some progress.

With Itsuki's actions, there were definitely a lot of problems, but I guess there were people who were saved as a result as well.

Rishia's a representative case. Though his aftercare of her was the worst.

"I haven't told her yet, but when the time comes, if I make a mistake once more, please tell Rishia to stop me again." (Itsuki)

"Dude... that's quite a Death Flag, isn't it?" (Naofumi)

"Death Flag, is it? Now that you mention it, you're right." (Itsuki)

"Well, I'd like to believe such things hold no meaning in reality. Even so, it's ominous, so watch the way you phrase things. Ren even said something along the lines of, 'once this battle's over...' though I have the feeling I instigated that one." (Naofumi)

"Then I'll go tell Ren to avoid his imminent demise." (Itsuki)

"No, can you intentionally avoid Death Flags...?" (Naofumi)

Just as before, Itsuki is still a bit strange.

But either way, he has changed.

Eventually, he'll wander into a battle where there's no right answer, but he's resolved himself to search for one.

Will he find happiness on the end of his path? I can only pray.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 351 – The Holy Land of Filo Rials

---

A few days passed.

About the wave in the ocean... well, I'll just report that it ended smoothly. Ren turned out to be like a hammer in water and humiliated himself greatly, and against the large whale-shaped wave boss, Sadina performed magnificently.

I learned once more the Hero of the Cane's, Trash's, strength.

Using the cane's power, he can use most all forms of magic.

While he can only use up to Dreifach, even Aura and Down are fair game to him. I wonder if there's anything he can't cast.

I'm in the middle of teaching him how to cast Revelation.

"However..." (Naofumi)

"Gua?"

"Don't you guys have any concept of cleanliness!?" (Naofumi)

Right now, we were in Fitoria's carriage, headed to a temple that was supposed to be the Holy Land of the Filo Rials.

Fitoria brought us various items used by Heroes of the past, but among them were items that seemed to be no different from garbage.

So all the Heroes decided it was necessary to go to the Filo Rial Holy Land itself and sort through her equipment.

Trash is absent on this voyage. It seems that he's busy with supporting Melty.

Gaelion and Taniko also refused to come.

And... we arrived at some ancient ruins...?

We were surrounded by a forest, and there were the remains of what seemed to a village. Nearby was a slight open area with a temple-like building in the center.

I think Melty said something about it.

Within the Filo Rial legends, there appeared a Forest of Illusions in which people would find themselves lost if they were to wander in.

This is probably the center of it.

“FUOOOOOH! Let’s make this holy land our paradise!” (Motoyasu)

“GUAAAAAAH!”

Motoyasu was sent flying by Fitoria’s kick.

“Fubu! This isn’t enough to stop-!” (Motoyasu)

But, he didn’t take any significant damage and immediately stood up once more. He begins a one sided game of tag with Fitoria.

Again and again. Just how many times does he plan on repeating this scene?

Ignoring Motoyasu, we begin examining the inside of the ruins.

And the reason I voiced my opinion on sanitation was because the narrow passages of the abandoned temple were littered with trash-like items.

Is the abundance of shiny items among them because these guys are birds?

I remember the pile of goods Firo collected in the past and labeled as her treasure.

“Wa~ It’s sparkl~y” (Firo)

Yep, this place has gone to the birds. It’s pretty much the same.

This appears to be Fitoria’s nest.

The miscellaneous shiny items range from rare gems to cheap crystals.

“Anyways, we’ll be organizing this.” (Naofumi)

But… just how much junk is collected here?

This ruin is supposed to be a temple, but… I’m not sure if I should be saying this, but it lacks taste.

I was imagining something like finding treasure in a dungeon, but it is completely different.

Like trash, precious artifacts are casually tossed aside.

What's more, bird feathers are peppered everywhere. It's filthy.

"In this case, should we just burn away the feathers?" (Naofumi)

"But what if something important here is flammable?" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia's warning is on the mark.

So that idea is rejected.

Anyways, from Fitoria's many years of inhabiting this nest, it's become a castle of trash.

It's sad to imagine the rare items sleeping here.

If we find anything nice, we'll have to recover it and analyze it, so we have to go about organizing this place.

"Then, let's split up and start cleaning!"

I really should have taken the villagers with me.

Well, we started cleaning Fitoria's nest, and this and that happens.

"This is~? It's shiny, and pretty, you know. Was it called a crystal?" (Firo)

"It's trash! What's more, it's already been used up." (Naofumi)

"Um, was this a rare gem? Naofumi, what should I do with it?" (Ren)

"Keep it. We'll sort through them later." (Naofumi)

"Why are there swords just lying around!? Ren-san, what should we do with this?" (Rishia)

"Hmm? Wait... this is a sword I've never seen. Um... Ascalon? What's this? It's extremely effective against dragons." (Ren)

I get the feeling I just heard the name of a familiar powerful sword, but we'll continue working.

(TL: Ascalon is the name given to the lance Saint George used to slay a dragon. It has become a sword in popular culture.)

And wait, it's good that Gaelion didn't tag along.

"There's a spear wrapped in cloth and hung high up. Motoyasu-san, please go get it. You can leave feather collecting and sniffing for later." (Itsuki)

"Understood sir! Funu! I can't get it down." (Motoyasu)

"Then how about you try copying it?" (Itsuki)

"That's right! Cursed Beast Spear? Oh, this one can move by itself, how convenient." (Motoyasu)

I feel that we're finding some dangerous artifacts here. But I'll leave it be.

And like that, we arrange the various rare items and trash.

The shed feathers... yep, they're the same as my bird's back home.

I'll have the bird deal with them herself.

"There were also dragon bones lying around... for now, let's just collect them." (Naofumi)

There are even weathered bones... just how much history has been discarded here?

What's more, it would be nice if they were intact, but due to the lack of protection from wind and storm, they're all in terrible shape.

"This..."

In a ruined room lies the weapon the pope used against us.

This... is a replica, right?

Why is even something like this here?

I thought about reusing it... but that would probably be difficult.

It needs a large input of magic. I guess I'll take it to the castle and have the old man analyze it.

By the way, I tried to copy it, but an unrelated shield popped out.

Something called Ancient Shield.
Its abilities... aren't particularly high.
It only really increases magical defense.

Ren and the others also unlocked the Ancient Series from it.
Apparently, theirs were able to inflict a status ailment called Magic Jamming.
If you call it convenient, I guess it is, but it only works against individuals.

"Good grief... there's way too much garbage. How does it look deeper in?"

We continue to proceed towards the heart of the temple.
Eventually, we reached an area that seemed to be an altar.
Garbage hasn't been spread this far in.
On the ground, a stone-made clock-like gear system was installed.

"It seems gloomy here." (Itsuki)

"That's right." (Ren)

"Goodness gracious, there are so many wonders in Filo Rial-sama's house."
(Motoyasu)

"Motoyasu, don't go wandering forward without us." (Naofumi)

Motoyasu walks to the center of the clock and sticks his spear into the ground.

And something clicks into place.

...

An ominous rumbling starts to come from below us...

"Motoyasu!" (Naofumi)

"W-what could be happening?" (Motoyasu)

"How should I know! 「Meteor Wall」!" (Naofumi)

Just in case, I cast Meteor Wall and deploy a barrier to protect everyone but Motoyasu and his following Filo Rials.

"Fitoria, do you know anything about this?" (Naofumi)

"Gua?" (Fitoria)

Don't tilt your head like that.

She really is unreliable!

"Oh? Oh? Oooooo..." (Motoyasu)

Light starts pouring out of the hole Motoyasu had stuck his spear into.

And... while leaving a faint afterglow behind, the light is sucked into the shaft.

...

"F-fuee... w-what just happened?" (Rishia)

"No idea." (Naofumi)

It doesn't look like anything else is happening.

"Motoyasu, did anything change?" (Naofumi)

"Let's see... a spear called the Dragon Era Minute Hand was unlocked."

(Motoyasu)

Motoyasu changes the shape of his spear.

It's quite slender.

It looks like quite a simple design... Like the weapon name indicated, it looks like the hand of an old clock.

"Then if we stick our weapon into that hole, we can fulfill the conditions to unlock a weapon?" (Naofumi)

As a test, I searched for the hole Motoyasu thrust his spear into and tried inserting my Shield.

But there was no signs of anything happening.

"Could it be that it's limited to one person?" (Ren)

Ren asks as he tries as well.

“Motoyasu!” (Naofumi)

“I-I don’t know anything about it!” (Motoyasi)

Well, sticking his weapon into strange places… we would have never figured out it would unlock anything unless he tried it in the first place…

“Hah… it doesn’t matter anymore. For now, let’s proceed forward.”
(Naofumi)

There doesn’t seem to be any monsters.

And wait, this is the Filo Rials’ turf, and since the leader, Fitoria, is here, I don’t think we run the risk of encountering any.
Though, there are a few traps.

Like the old classic rolling rocks… and needles raining down from the ceiling.
Most of it could just be dealt with with Meteor Wall, so it seems traps are powerless before a Hero.

Once a giant rolling rock came into contact with the Meteor Wall and just stopped. I almost burst into laughter.

Well, it would be useless against things like puzzle solving, but it doesn’t seem they installed anything like that.

At the end of the ruins was… a stone room suspended in the air by magic.
A floating stone… is it made out of Graweik Ore?
I climb the floating staircase and take note of the inside of the room.

… What is this? The atmosphere feels very heavy in here. It’s somewhat oppressing.

I also feel a large quantity of magic hanging in the air.

“And? There has to be something special in an ominous place like this.”
(Naofumi)

In the depths of Fitoria's house, the ruins, was... a small bottle suspended in the air. Behind it was... what is that?

The form of a cat-like being with feathers protruding from it? There was a mural like that covering the wall.

There are also depictions of the sacred weapons... and the vassals are there as well. They glow faintly, and light dances around them.

When I reach my hand out to grasp the bottle, it regains its sense of gravity and falls into my hand.

Inside is a blood-like red fluid.

When I tested its smell, it smelled... like blood?

What is this?

"Is this supposed to be the Holy Grail, or something?" (Naofumi)

It's something that could appear in a fantasy like this.

A container with the blood of a saint of the past, or something of the sort.

"Gua." (Fitoria)

"It's not, she says." (Midori)

Midori starts acting as a translator.

"Then, what is this?" (Naofumi)

"Gua, gua." (Fitoria)

"Um... apparently, she doesn't know, but it's apparently poisonous. In the past, when Fitoria-sama was ordered to drink it by a Hero, she was suddenly overcome with pain." (Midori)

Poison... just by looking at it, I can't deduce anything

"At that time, the Hero said, 'the first sip is eternal pain, the second, eternal solitude, and the third... a dreadful end.'" (Midori)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

Anyways, I don't need a poison like that.

And why was such a powerful poison left in such a place?

Fitoria's taken a sip before, right?

"GUA GUA!" (Fitoria)

"Ah, I remember. I was told to put a drop of it into my weapon as a material." (Midori)

"The poison?" (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Midori)

Well... it's a strange mixture left by a Hero of the past.

I want to discard it, but that seems like a bad idea no matter how I look at it.

"Motoyasu." (Naofumi)

"What could it be?" (Motoyasu)

"It's punishment for before. Try putting some in your weapon." (Naofumi)

"Understood!" (Motoyasu)

I tilt the bottle, and let a single drop of it fall on Motoyasu's spear.

The liquid is thick, and the fact that I was easily able to let but a single drop fall might be the influence of some form of magic.

"Oh? The Spear of Ø appeared." (Motoyasu)

Ø?

As in the number Ø?

Motoyasu definitely said Ø, right?

"What sort of abilities does it have?" (Naofumi)

"Its special ability is Arbitrator of Truth and The Hand that Protects the World. There's also a skill. It's just the Spear of Ø." (Motoyasu)

???

So what sort of spear is it?

"How are its stats?" (Naofumi)

"All Ø!" (Motoyasu)

"Excuse me?" (Naofumi)

"Just as it sounds, it provides no additional stats, Father-in-Law."
(Motoyasu)

"Um... is it cursed or anything?" (Naofumi)

"It doesn't seem to be part of the Curse Series." (Motoyasu)

Fumu... by testing it on Motoyasu, it seems safe.

I let a drop run down my Shield as well.

You have cleared the conditions to unlock the Shield of Ø!

—

Shield of Ø (Awakened) 0/0 —

Ability Bonus:

...

Equipment Bonus:

Skill 『Shield of Ø』

Special Ability: Arbitrator of Truth, The Hand that Protects the World.

Proficiency Level: 0

—

Fumu, a Shield just as Motoyasu described is unlocked.

And as he said, all its stats are 0. It's worse than the initial Small Shield.

What's this?

Let's try changing to it.

Its appearance is exactly that of the Small Shield.

「Shield of Ø」

The moment I use a skill, the Shield starts emitting light.

Oh... it sure looks cool. I'll try it out later.

It doesn't seem to have any strange effects, so there's no problem.

The Shield itself is too weak to be of any use, but its abilities may be useful.

There are games where weapons like these make their appearance as well.

"Well, if Fitoria's okay with it, it's probably best to feed it to all of our weapons." (Naofumi)

And so, the contents of the bottle are depleted drop by drop.

Everyone unlocks the same Ø weapon with the exact same abilities.

"Firo, wanna try drinking it?" (Naofumi)

"Eh? ... Isn't it poison? No." (Firo)

"Well, that's true." (Naofumi)

Why did the Hero of the Past feed it to Fitoria despite knowing it was poison?

Could it be this bird was actually hated?

Though, I'm just as guilty for trying to feed it to Firo.

"GUA!" (Fitoria)

"Eh? ... don't wanna." (Firo)

"What was that?" (Naofumi)

"Um, you see, Fitoria says Firo has to drink it when Firo succeeds her."
(Firo)

Drink the poison?

Is this some custom, or ceremony of succession?

I'll stay silent here.

We finish cleaning up and return, but Gaelion refuses to come near me when I hold the bottle.

“KYUA!” (Gaelion)

“What’s wrong?” (Naofumi)

When I step forward, he follows suit and steps back.

『D-d-don’t come any closer! From thy being, I feel something ominous. Something that causes the muscles along my spine to turn to ice! 』

I hand the bottle to Raphtalia and try approaching the dragon once more. And Gaelion stops drawing back.

It seems the poison’s a natural Dragon Repellent.

It’s an interesting tool, Fitoria said to return it after giving it to all of the Heroes, so I’ll have to give it back later.

And now to report on the Shield of Ø’s abilities, or more like the abilities of the whole series.

It is a joke skill just meant to show off.

After unlocking it, I try using it to take on monster attacks, but nothing happens, and I can’t defend against them.

It shatters instantly.

Raphtalia’s 『Hammer of Ø』 and Firo’s 『Claw of Ø』…

They look flashy, but they can’t inflict a single point of damage against monsters.

It doesn’t have anything to do with holding back. The skill literally does 0 damage.

Raphtalia’s surrounds hers with light… and displays a special effect cool enough to make one want to shout out the skill name with great emotion… Its Cooldown time is 0, and its SP cost is 0. It really is a joke.

Was there a necessity to spread something like this around all of the Heroes?

Well, like that, we cleaned up Fitoria's house, and finished excavating the ancient ruins left by past Heroes.

As a result, we found some good equipment, so I won't offer any complaints.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 352 – Hammer the Nail that Sticks Out

---

We've pretty much set quelling the waves worldwide to be our goal. In the past, we could just do the ones around Melromark about once per month, but now, a wave happens every few days. But by regularly fighting the waves, it seems we'll be able to reduce the pace to one wave per week.

It's just that when the Holy Weapons and Vassals are in a damaged state, the waves get more and more severe.

If you do something about that, you can go about the Waves with more leisure.

That was the main point of Glass's speech.

"Did you manage to take care of it?" (Glass)

After calming the wave, we meet up with Glass again.

We're in the middle of investigating whether any problems occurred around the area where the wave hit.

Once this finishes, we'll end it by portalling back.

"How about your side?" (Naofumi)

Glass periodically enters and exits the rift made by the wave.

The world connected is generally Glass's... apparently.

She occasionally finds herself in an unfamiliar one and immediately returns, though.

The last time that happened was the wave in the sea.

And wait, that doesn't matter. I need to find out the situation in Glass's world.

"If the world on your side loses the wave, then what happens?" (Naofumi)

"Well, the vassals I worked with and I somehow managed to quell it this time. If the world on this side quickly contains it, then the monsters on the other side will continue rampaging for a while... and eventually die down by themselves... is how it is." (Glass)

"It doesn't look like your situation is very favorable." (Naofumi)

"Yes... as always, the reincarnators just run around with their weapons without helping in anything." (Glass)

"How troublesome." (Naofumi)

It's even becoming doubtful whether or not these reincarnators were ever the legitimate possessor of a weapon in the first place...

"I'm jealous of your team." (Glass)

"Once you gather yourselves, you're going to crush him, right?" (Naofumi)

"... Of course. Though I don't know what's there to celebrate." (Glass)

"Do you even have time for celebration?" (Naofumi)

To keep just a sprinkle of hope in her pot of misery, Glass is cooperating with this world.

If she truly had any fortune, it would never have come down to this.

"However... pertaining to the World Assimilation, what do you think about the reincarnator?" (Naofumi)

"Mostly, why must he interfere with us? Is my main question. He said it was something like apdeit, ... or something that made absolutely no sense to me." (Glass)

Update... the wave is?

So he's also functioning on his gamer instincts.

Well, by destroying his comrades, his enemies get stronger, and he gets new equipment. He's not exactly wrong, but this and that are separate issues.

"How deplorable." (Naofumi)

"Exactly my sentiment. Are there not many reincarnators within this world?"

(Glass)

"If I were to answer honestly, I don't really know." (Naofumi)

I mean, if they said it outright, or took actions that stood out, we could tell, but just by looking at the people and their histories, it's difficult to determine.

It's just that, to pick the bad sprouts before they grow, Trash has put surveillance on all those that stand out strangely in the world.

Starting with Melromark, various countries are keeping their eyes on their capable individuals.

Nobles, and people of royal descent, especially those that made groundbreaking discoveries with inadequate research in related fields. Those who didn't register with the country, yet still managed to break the level limit. Also those who were witnessed using powers that had never been seen before. All sorts of people were secretly detained.

But it's more troublesome than anything, since it's impossible to say whether they're guilty or not.

Before they were noticed, most would conceal their own ability.

And if they were truly skilled at deceit, then even more so. Apparently, a few individuals stayed conspicuous, so it wasn't... that hard.

"For now, we're keeping the existence of reincarnators a secret. If we do anything that stands out and causes unnecessary accusations, it will only get harder for us." (Naofumi)

They're at least skilled in avoiding danger, I'll bet.

The problem is if there are any hidden in our ranks.

"I'm in the middle of strengthening those I think are probably innocent."
(Naofumi)

Right now, those that stand out from the slaves in my place are but a small fraction, and it's mostly those who haven't tried finding groundbreaking ways to get strong.

Like this, if there's a reincarnator among them, it will only serve to strengthen my forces.

We've been together for a long time, so I hope... there won't be any problems.

Since Sadina seemed to be way too skilled, I looked at her with suspicious eyes, and she pushed me down once...

"Why are you staring at this Onee-san like that? I guess there's no helping it. It's time to do it in front of all the village children. Oh Naofumi-chan, how bold of you. Onee-san will try her best." (Sadina)

"Stop it! Hey, get off of me! Don't strip me! Uwah! R-r-Raphtalia, stop her!" (Naofumi)

"Sadina-neesan!" (Raphtalia)

That part's burned into my memory.

That really was dangerous. She actually pushed me down.

But she's probably fine.

She's a woman, and she doesn't seem like a gamer at all.

Most female Reincarnators I've read about aren't that militaristic.

If she was a man before reincarnating, then her brain is rotten.

Accepting that she's a woman now, she pushes down a modern person of Otaku heritage?

She also seems to have some connection to Raphtalia's parents, and she values the world.

If she was hiding and plotting against me, then her concealment skills are way too high.

Well, I can't deny the possibility completely.

Anyways, those challenging the wave besides the Heroes are being treated with a certain level of caution.

I'd like to believe we're alright.

It's the nobles and adventurers that Trash's investigating that are more suspicious.

I just remembered them, but they're being processed behind closed doors. Recently, they've been quietly... a number of them have suddenly vanished. Perhaps the ones competing with Tact were sensible fellows, but in Faubley, his political rivals were disposed of.

Is this good luck for us?

The prodigious and capable nobles of the country have been lessened to some extent...what an ironic conclusion.

"There's also completely unrelated adventurers, but adventurers are managed by the guild, and we really don't have to watch them so closely."
(Naofumi)

I've never used it, but apparently, the Guild records Level and things like that.

So they can distinguish special people at a glance.

People who suddenly managed to take down powerful monsters are put under their high priority surveillance.

Right now, we have a monopoly on limit breaking, so the Adventurer Guild is also troubled with the world's disastrous situation... or so they're acting to smoke out troublemakers.

We'll, I guess that's just how it goes.

The nail that sticks up gets hammered down. The ones that stay down are ignored.

We've left no space for a reincarnator to go out of control.

If they try anything, the Heroes will converge and deal with them.

It's scary that we don't know what sort of abilities they possess... but they won't be able to use weapon-snatching abilities like Tact's anymore.

"I see, so there are some here as well." (Glass)

"We only have our suspicions. They'll continue to live in the dark forever. They'll have no part in this." (Naofumi)

They're more like people who would neglect the wave.

For them to interfere to make the wave expand further seems... impossible at this point.

Because the world's become desperate to stop it.

"Glass, how is your world? How's the movement to take care of the wave?" (Naofumi)

"It's not that there isn't one, but now that a certain man's taken control of half the world, there's a large portion of the population who are convinced the world isn't going to ruin, and..." (Glass)

"In that respect... this side is better, I guess." (Naofumi)

Before he could flaunt his power any further, we took measures against him.

It is our small salvation that we noticed Tact as quickly as we did.

Well, it also brought about much casualty.

"The disposal of the reincarnator... it would be nice if we could do it. By the way, I'm a bit curious." (Glass)

"About what?" (Naofumi)

"The young woman who was burned at the stake after rebuking the false hero; she was one who traveled with you Heroes, correct? Did something happen?" (Glass)

Glass did fight with Ren, Motoyasu, Itsuki, and their parties.

They had all been beaten up, and Witch was among the fallen.

That was quite refreshing.

I was able to step on Witch's head all I wanted.

“That bitch is…” (Naofumi)

I began speaking of the tracks of evil Witch had been leading.

She was born to Trash as a princess, and raised with ample pride. In Faubley, she met Tact, and during the Four Hero Summoning, she involved herself with me and threw me to the wolves. She did whatever possible to bask in all the luxury she could, and whenever the wind took a bad turn, she would flee the scene. She made off with Ren, conspired with Itsuki, and tried to overturn the state.

After her arrest, she became a political scapegoat, but Tact saved her on the brink of life, and together, they plotted her mother’s death and the instigation of world war.

She was merely executed for those crimes.

“I see.” (Glass)

The next… words that came out of Glass’s mouth had nothing but sympathy behind them, and yet…

“So people like that exist, no matter which world you’re in.” (Glass)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 353 – Cheat

---

“What?” (Naofumi)

There are other bitches like Witch?

That’s no joke. As if I’d let multiple versions of that woman exist.

No, in my world, I’ve also heard of countries falling due to the work of evil vixens.

Meaning it isn’t all that rare.

“In my world… there are three whose stories resemble yours. She was accepted by the Sacred Weapon wielders, but those heroes fell into her traps, and faced the consequences. Right now, I guess you can say she act as sort mistresses to some of the other Vassal Weapon possessors…”

(Glass)

“A-and you’re alright with that?” (Naofumi)

“Well, they’re members of enemy countries… and since the reincarnators continues to neglect the wave anyways…” (Glass)

“I have the feeling you’re going to be opposing them in the near future.”

(Naofumi)

“That women isn’t directly taking any action to corrupt their hearts or interfere, so as long as we keep tabs on her, it should be fine.” (Glass)

“Well, I guess that’s best for a woman like that. Even so, just what is the situation in your world? At least tell me about those you think to be reincarnators.” (Naofumi)

I’m really starting to lose my grasp of her situation.

What the hell are they doing when there isn’t a wave going on?

“There are two countries led by Reincarnators at war, and it’s merely a scuffle of a large number of people who do nothing but aim to be the strongest every day.” (Glass)

Uwah... and Glass was acquainted with three who fell for the wiles of a Witch-like woman.

I have nothing but my utmost sympathy.

Well, thinking about the past heroes of this world, and Tact, I can't say it isn't my problem.

"Right now, my world is moving to locate our last Sacred Weapon Wielder. During the wave... I'm sorry, but if he's killed... then that will be the end. I really wanted to save that world, though." (Glass)

"I see." (Naofumi)

They exist in every world.

Even if I can't stand her very being, I learned there are plenty of women like that bitch.

It may be people like that who ruined the world.

But something's bugging me about these women.

It would be easy to conclude that there are corrupt women with power no matter what world you're in, but it would be too hasty to bring the topic to a conclusion like that.

In this world, could it be... were the heartless ones among Tact's followers like that?

This can only fall into the category of supposition.

There's no way an answer will come.

And like that, in our battle to stop the wave, since this one was over, the next one was set to be in Melromark, in a week's time.

00:10

"Once this wave is over, will it get a little more peaceful?" (Glass)

We have a tad more than a week until the next wave.

In that time, we'll do whatever we can to strengthen our forces.

“That’s right…” (Naofumi)

My level rose alongside Sadina’s so I was able to rise to 150.

40 through 100 was surprisingly easy when I tagged along with her, but as we crossed 100, the amount of EXP required suddenly jumped.

It’s good to overwhelm enemies with a gap in level, but with our Growth Elevation, we’re able to handle it as we are.

We’ll have to fight stronger monsters, and level higher. I’ll bet the waves will only get harder from here.

I learned that the Ocean is full of monsters, making grinding easy.

Raphtalia is 146, and Firo 155.

Firo occasionally makes mistakes in the enhancement methods, so it’s quite a trial to teach her.

The others are in a similar position.

Just how many years would it take to get to 350?

Since he reincarnated, he had much more time to battle and strengthen himself. I’m honestly jealous.

Well, I can only say this after he’s gone.

Anyways, thinking about Tact’s level leaves me a bit anxious.

It’s only been about two weeks and a bit since we fought and beat him, and wishing for more time is just my form of selfishness.

In these two weeks, we’ve challenged the wave again, and again.

There were even days where we had to fight twice.

Goodness… it only worked out because the Heroes were all gathered…

The sea battle was troublesome because we barely had anyone who could fight there.

“Rafu~?”

Raph-chan’s the same level as Raphtalia.

It would be nice if his strength was around the same as well.

By the way, his specialty is versatility.

Illusion Magic, and Transformation, right? He can also control the Bioplant to a certain extent.

My research with Rat gave birth to an ability raising accessory in the form of a leaf on his head.

We were able to give the Bioplant the power to raise some abilities. We used Raph-chan's DNA, and the concept of Firo's Ahoge.

But half of it was only possible because of Rat.

With this, Raph-chan's abilities will increase even further... it seems. The layer of foliage that bobs up and down on Raph-chan's head is somehow quite cute.

And Raph-chan generally fights in a combination with Raphtalia.

Like a mirror image, he usually performs pincer attacks with her.

I guess his weakness is that he's can't go as far as to reproduce skills. But he can copy most things besides that.

"After today, our free time will increase. And we'll be able to make more preparations." (Naofumi)

"Finally. I was getting tired of the consecutive battles." (Raphtalia)

"Firo only had time to sleep, talk to Mel-chan, and fight." (Firo)

"That's right... we'll have to put in more effort." (Raphtalia)

The equipment made by Imya, and her uncle, as well as the Weapon Shop's Old Man isn't arriving in fast enough.

Should I allot more manpower to that field?

But time is of the essence.

Anyways... once this finishes, we'll be able to do something about it.

Now, we can only wait.

"Let's go!" (Naofumi)

On my cry, the heroes nod.

00:00

The Hourglass runs dry, and we were all summoned to the place the wave would take place.

And right after that, the counter appeared in our fields of vision.

01:30

“What!?”

Short!

No matter how you look at it, it’s too short.

In the waves up until now, we never encountered a situation like this.

No, the one that happened while we were fighting Tact eventually devolved down to this, but in waves besides that this is the first. What’s more, the time limit is already flashing when the wave’s only started.

“Let’s hurry!” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia’s voice brings me to my senses, and we rush forward.

In the the sky, a wine-red crevice is… spread out wide.

We must end this as soon as possible.

“Everyone, hurry!”

“Yeah!”

Ren, Motoyasu, Itsuki, and Raphtalia… the villagers, and the allied armies, and the Filo Rial Brigade with Gaelion follow.

01:25

Eh? Wait a goddamn second! 5 minutes haven’t passed yet!

As I watch, the Wave’s crevice gets filled with the shadows of humans.

“!?”

Glass runs out in front of all of us.

And shills showing us her back... she begins talking to those that appeared.

“You people! Why are you on this side?” (Glass)

“The Vassal Holders and reincarnators have... overcome the wave...”

Looking at them, they were quite beat up.

“What?” (Naofumi)

I look at the enemy the Wave had manifested.

Who are they? There are plenty of humans, but there are also Demi-Humans and People of Soul mixed in.

“So this is the world the update added.”

“Let’s start it already.”

“I know.”

As if performing menial labor, their vanguard forces prepare for battle.

Those in the rear place their hands on the crack in the sky, and... manually start wrenching it open.

01:10

“This new power the goddess gave me is so totally a cheat.”

(TL: Lit. Megami-sama)

A really annoying voice rang out.

What’s this with cheats? Don’t screw with me.

Even so, is what they’re doing shortening the remaining time?

“Stop them as quickly as possible!”

“I know!”

I concentrate, and cast Revelation Aura X.

At the same time, Itsuki begins chanting Revelation Down X.

The rest of us prepare our attack skills, and magic.

"Oh, my."

The reincarnated(?) man standing at the front held his hand out front.

And a Meteor Shield-esque barrier manifested.

"Hurry up. Even if it's an absolute defense, I can't keep it up for long."

What the hell is up with that!

"Damn! That is... the reincarnator's special power." (Glass)

"A time-limited absolute defensive wall!? There was a power like that in my world too." (Itsuki)

Glass supplements some information, leaving Itsuki speechless.

There are many worlds, and many possible possibilities, or perhaps it's a gift from that goddess he mentioned.

"What sort of power is it!?"

"You couldn't catch it? It's the creation of a wall that cannot be destroyed no matter what. As long as that exists, our attacks will not get through."
(Itsuki)

"Ku... so it's come to that." (Naofumi)

They sure have quite a convenient ability on their hands.

Is he someone from Itsuki's world?

No, he may be a case like Tact's.

It may be a power he received by the one proclaiming to be God.

And they did say Goddess-sama~ just earlier.

"Its fault lies in the fact that they cannot attack either, I guess. In my world, it was one of the higher class skills. The highest level form allows for perpetual deployment.” (Itsuki)

“Ku…” (Naofumi)

One by one, the wave’s monsters start appearing.

But in order to get to them, do we have no choice but to fight Glass’s world’s reincarnators!?

Is it our saving grace that that guy’s ability isn’t of the highest class?

No, anyways, if we don’t bypass that wall, the remaining wave time will keep being chipped away.

If that happens, this world is done for.

“Now, Ciel-sama! It’s time for us to seek new powers in this brand new world. Let’s work together!”

And behind that reincarnator, the voice of a woman sounded out. For some reason, that voice pissed me off.

The figure of the one approaching the apparent reincarnator… it overlapped with the one who betrayed me for Motoyasu, the Witch of that time.

“Glass, is that the woman you spoke of before?” (Naofumi)

“Yes!” (Glass)

Her face isn’t anywhere near the same. Her voice is also different.

Her stature, physique, and pretty much everything else was different. In fact, I think it’s a completely different person.

And yet… my instincts scream out.

That woman gives off a similar feeling to Witch.

Basking in luxury, moving the world to her pleasure, thinking of men as nothing more than tools to be used, an aura conveying these feelings emanated from her.

01:01

Ku… every second, more and more is shaved off.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 354 – A Sky Dyed Crimson

---

“Ren, Motoyasu, Itsuki! Go all out!” (Naofumi)

“Sure! 「Phoenix Gale Sword X」!” (Ren)

Ren’s skill flies at the reincarnator’s barrier.

It takes the shape of a bird made out of the flames of hell.

But as it comes into contact with an invisible wall, the bird cries out as the flames die down. It was no use.

「Brionac X」!

Motoyasu releases Brionac, the skill that’s becoming his signature.

A spear of light shoots off from his own.

But as expected, the barrier intercepts it.

「Full Buster X」!

Itsuki changes his bow to a gun before activating an attack.

The Bow is quite a versatile category, and its repertoire even encompasses guns… I’m jealous.

The Skill: Full Buster… I’d like to think it’s a skill that fires off a thick beam from the muzzle of the gun.

The skills fired off by the four heroes merge, and try to destroy the barrier, but even so, the result is unfavorable…

These were all powerful skills, you know.

We’re using all of the strengthening methods of the Heroes and Vassals here, you know.

“Gu…”

But even while the wall holds, the person invoking it has gone pale.

Is it hard to stand?

"Oh, I thought they were just pests, but it seems I can't leave it to you alone!"

"Kya, how cool~!"

To help the one standing at the forefront of the wave, another holds his hand aloft and deploys another barrier.

And for some reason, the skills stray from their path.

"Ku... that was dangerous."

"It seems their attacks are quite heavy."

While their side looks a bit impatient, we are unable to destroy their defense.

"Why are you trying to expand the wave!?"

"That's right. Are you ignorant of what will come to pass?"

"You can't just listen to an enemy's words so easily!"

Witch MKII interrupts us.

She's ridiculously annoying. If our attacks could get through, she would be the first one to die.

"Be quiet. You, woman, shut up!"

I shout at Witch MKII.

By this woman's behavior, there's no doubt about it.

"You, do you know what exactly expanding the wave means?" (Naofumi)

"Of course. It means leading the world down the right path, though this is just something like a side expansion update."

"Wrong! If you do this, then both your world and ours will become ones where not a single blade of grass can grow!" (Naofumi)

"There's no way that's true. The goddess granted me power and asked a favor of me. This is something necessary for the world."

It's no good. Just like with Tact, words aren't enough.

There's no need to hold back. To protect the world, we'll have to dispose of them.

Anyways, we'll have to continue our volley of attacks.

"Everyone, have at it!" (Naofumi)

"Yeah!"

「Heaven's Judgement X」!

「Gungnir X」!

「Thor Hammer X」!

「Spiral Claw Ten」!

「Dragon of Ruin Inferno Fist X」!

Etc...

All the heroes of the vassal weapons release their skills, and from the rear, support fire rains down.

Perhaps because the weapons were made to protect the world, their attacks have good synergy, and they combine to form a large stream of power.

A large explosion surrounds the enemy and drags them in.

"Gu... so you're not all talk."

00:49

Someone blows away the resultant smoke cloud with magic. Because we don't have the time to wait for it to clear.

Cracks are spreading across the barrier.

At this rate, we'll make it. I'll have to do what I can too.

「Shield Prison」!

Oh? I succeeded in locking away just the one forming the barrier.

Is it because I can control where it manifests?

"I see!"

Ren approaches the enemy barrier as close as he can.

「Float Sword」!

The sword version of the Float Shield activates.

According to Ren, it's hard to control, and the output isn't that great, so he couldn't master it.

Anyways, he lets the floating sword run rampant within the confines of the barrier.

"As if!"

A reincarnator-ish person locks down Ren's sword with his own.

"Gugugu..."

It's not like it's his strong point, and because of the barrier, it's hard to control.

I guess he can only bring out about half of its original power.

It's all of nothing. Let's try setting up Iron Maiden!

「Change Shield (Attack)」!

Something clicks into place, as thorns sprout from the shields surrounding the one making the barrier.

I immediately transition to the next skill.

「Iron Maiden X」!

A giant Woman of Iron appears, dealing the finishing blow.

But the output shouldn't be more than half the original.

Of course, with the enemies being who they are, there's a possibility it didn't work.

We'll have to move again immediately.

“Hah… hah…”

I take some Spirit Water out of my Shield to restore my SP.

“T-that was dangerous.”

Dammit… I couldn’t inflict anything fatal.

It seems that in order to protect himself, he deployed another small protective wall around himself.

But as his movements are sealed, he is in a bit of a panic.

“Why are you getting beat up so one-sidedly?”

00:38

This time, a man steps forward with a large scythe in hand. From within the barrier, he releases a skill.

Wait a second. Wasn’t the barrier supposed to prevent their side from attacking as well?

“Take this! 「Aerial Grand Swing」!”

His energy-charged scythe flies at us like a wheel.

I stand at the front and take the attack.

Mu… it isn’t actually that powerful.

If it’s just this much, then…!

“Tei!”

I knock down the energy-filled scythe.

“Hyuu… he seems quite strong.”

It seems Mr. Scythe is a bit impressed.

Does he not have that many strengthening methods learned?

No, I'm not even sure what he's holding is a vassal weapon.

"Glass, is he the Wielder of a Vassal?" (Naofumi)

"Yes... he's the Vassal of the Scythe." (Glass)

I see.

But... for him to bypass the barrier, what does it mean?

The weapon's ability... no, that doesn't seem to be it.

Is it an ability given to him by some god-ish person like Tact's?

I mean, he did say something about Goddess-sama, so that's probably it.

For her to give her pieces the ability to cheat their way to victory, just what is she thinking?

00:18

Time's running out!

"Ah..."

The enemy's barrier finally shatters.

All of my comrades don't let this chance go to waste. We hold up our weapons.

"Hold them off for a bit! I'll be deploying it again!"

Good! If we want to attack, now's the chance!

"Anyways, stop the ones behind them!"

On my call, everyone answers by running forward.

“As if I’d let you!”

「Rinbu Mu: Musou」!

(TL: Rinbu means something like Circle Dance of Nothingness. Musou is Blank Mind.)

Glass releases a skill at the enemies rushing towards us.

“Quickly! As fast as you can! 「Rinbu Mu: Renge」! 「Rinbu Mu: Reido」!

「Rinbu Mu: Mugetsu」!”

(TL: Renge = Lotus Flower, Reido = Absolute Zero, Mugetsu = Moonless Sky)

Without giving herself a chance to breath, Glass consecutively fires off her skills.

I believe she’s of a race where the more skills she uses, the weaker she gets.

She’s prepared for that, as she continues to stack skills on top of each other.

Then we’ll have to fully exert ourselves too.

This is the world that’s made a hell out of our lives, but it’s still the one we need to protect.

We won’t let it end in a half-assed way like this.

“Let’s go!”

As I run towards him, the Scythe guy slashes at me.

I take his attack with the Shield and force him back.

“Don’t get in the way! If we clear this mission, then we’ll be granted a new power.”

“Granted?” (Naofumi)

“What, you don’t know? We’ll be able to unlock our new signature moves.”

I don’t know what the hell he’s saying, but I have no time to waste on him!

I can’t be anything good. It must be something self-centered.

“Move! You guys have no idea just what it is you’re trying to accomplish!”
(Naofumi)

“Nah, we all know. In a dream, all of us who had memories of a life past were given our orders. By the goddess.”

Goddess… so that’s the one behind all of this.

I thought she may have just been a concept they followed, but this settles it. She’s a sentient being.

“If we don’t let the wave be released, the world will fall to ruin. Please help me, she said! Aren’t you the ones trying to destroy our world!?”

“Don’t screw with me! Why would someone with that much power have to rely on the likes of you? Are you guys really worth that much?

Unfortunately, you guys are just being used!”

00:10

Crap! There’s no time left.

Dammit… this isn’t the time to be having a conversation!

“Move!” (Naofumi)

I rush through, fully prepared to take damage.

「Shield Bash」!

“Ugu…”

Good, it seems that was a good hit. His eyes are upturned.
His footing is also unsteady.

00:06

“Everyone! Take them out!”

We approach the reincarnator-esque people in the rear.
And we began releasing our various attacks.

「Meteor Sword X」!

「Meteor Spear X」!

「Meteor Bow X」!

With the Heroes at the forefront, the attacks all hit their mark.

“UWAAAAAAAAAAAAAH—”

The attacks fall like rain and reduce them to cinders.

00:03

Ku… quickly, we have to quell the wave, or else…

When I look behind, I see Trash and Fitoria, Gaelion and Taniko, and Rat and Mii-kun working together to take down the giant monster that had just appeared from the wave… a Cyclops-like monster.

Good! With this—

“Not yet! In our world, there’s—”

With Glass’s words, I look inside of the crevice.

On the other side, I see multiple human-like figures.

They’re also on our opponent’s side!

“There’s no time to rest, attack the ones inside the crack as well!”

“Yeah!”

Everyone present comes forward as one and shoots the most powerful attack they can muster.

Various wills, hearts, feelings… They overlap many times and form a great power. They merge and form a single straight beam.

The flash embodying our power hits the wine-red sky and explodes.
Everyone works together. It truly is the strongest attack I've ever seen.

But...

00:00

The Wine colored sky changes to the crimson hue of blood, and, like a door, the sky starts to swing open.

"No... the world is..."

So the world will end... in a place like this!?

The earth rumbles before us as the entire world begins to shake.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 355 – The Goddess Descends

---

The air reverberates as if the entire world is trembling. All clouds in the sky are blown away.

Hearing the rumbling, I promptly stand in front of everyone to protect them from what's to come.

Just doing this won't save anyone from a crumbling world, but even so, I've...

"No one step in front of me!"

I've decided to protect them.

Even through the inevitable collapse of the world as we know it.
No matter what happens, until my body erodes away.

The crack fills with light, and everyone shuts their eyes.

Ku... I wonder what sort of thing the collapse of the world is.

Like Glass said, will all life be sucked away, leaving this world an empty shell?

Or it could just be darkness... a black hole-like thing could appear to reduce everything to nothingness.

Anyways, right now... I'll just have to pray for a miracle.

As I think that, strong blasts of wind hit my body... I continue to stand before the blinding light.

Eventually...

The earthquake stops, and I focus my eyes.

"Wha..."

Before me is an unfamiliar land; an assimilated world stretches across the landscape.

But, perhaps you can say I've seen it once before.

"This is-"

Glass is dumbfounded.

Right... without the world falling to ruin, the assimilation ends.

"See? The wave wasn't going to destroy the world!"

The reincarnators hold their weapons out at us and direct their hostility.

What does this mean?

We take on our battle formation as we glare at our enemies.

The Hourglass in my vision has stopped moving. It's completely silent.

"Now, it's time for the Goddess to come down!"

One of the reincarnators shouts out, and Witch MKII begins releasing a faint light.

"Eh?"

Witch MKII closes her eyes, and without the light showing any signs of dying down, she starts to float.

And the light converges... as if radiance is being gathered from every corner of the globe.

"Ah!?"

Glass raises her voice.

"What's wrong!?" (Naofumi)

"All the Soul Eater monsters under my control have mysteriously perished!"
(Glass)

What!?

When I look to the sky... various clumps of light arrive and surround Witch MKII.

Eventually, many balls of dazzling light have gathered, and MKII disappears into a mass of light herself.

“Mary!”

The reincarnators call out her name.

Soon, the gathered light disperses… Standing there, is a familiar, yet unfamiliar… woman. She floats in space.

“Oh… my Goddess.”

“Everyone, I offer you my deepest thanks. Because of all of your efforts, I can finally return to this land.”

The reincarnators and their comrades silently look upon the scene.

… It’s that. The atmosphere where a powerful person joins your party.

Does that make this the birth of an ultimate enemy for us?

This may have become a heated scene in Manga or Games, but since we’re on the enemy side, the only thing that really comes to mind is, ‘what sort of bullshittery is this?’

“For Mary to be the Goddess…”

“Did I surprise you? In order to assist you, I let fragments of my soul be born into this world. They had not my memory, but I truly was close to all of you.”

“!?”

Fragments…?

I have an exceedingly bad feeling about this.

The one before us who proclaims herself a Goddess… I could guess just what sort of being existed as her foundation.

No… perhaps it would be better to say that everything was connected.

The discomfort I’ve been feeling until now was all caused by this.

The Goddess turns to us and greets us.

"It's a pleasure to meet you. No, perhaps I should say we've met many times before? I am Medea Pideth Machina. You are the ones who put one of my fragments, Malty, through quite a uncomfortable time, are you not?"

"M-Malty!?" (Trash)

Trash's voice resounds out.

Right, when you look closely, the woman who calls herself Medea resembles Witch to some extent.

"Trash, calm down!" (Naofumi)

"Y-yes!" (Trash)

"Ah, how cowardly were these people when they used their cruelest methods to torture a fragment of my being, only to execute her in the end. How pitiful an end." (Medea)

In a manner that showed she was making a play for sympathy, Medea weeps to the reincarnators while pointing her finger at us.

"I definitely cannot offer salvation unto you. For people like you, I cannot offer forgiveness as one who holds the title of god."

... Her eyes are laughing.

My memories whisper to me. Those are the eyes Witch made whenever she tried to fool someone.

I see. So Witch's true identity was a fragment of a Goddess's soul.

So that's why she developed a personality unbecoming of the child of the Queen and Trash.

From the start, she was merely the being trying to lead the world to ruin. No matter how hard you tried to fix her, she wouldn't change.

Perhaps the order engraved on her heart was to torment the Heroes, or to covet luxury and cause the declination of the world.

"Trash... please understand. The person who was once your daughter is now the enemy of the world. Don't forget it." (Naofumi)

"Papa, I'm over here!" (Medea)

With a perfect imitation of Witch's voice, Medea calls out to Trash.

"How dare you order my execution. Even though you were my father! I definitely won't forgive you."

"A-ah..."

Trash begins trembling.

The fear of having the daughter he killed come back... Is it?

For Trash, who cares deeply for his family, this must be torture.

"Trash! Get yourself together! What about the country your beloved Queen left behind.. and what do you think will become of Melty!?" (Naofumi)

"...!"

Having regained his senses, Trash begins glaring at Medea.

"Now, everyone! Let us defeat the enemy of the world!" (Medea)

"Yeah~!"

The reincarnators raise a loud cry, as they point their varied weapons at us. Behind them, lending them power, is an army from Glass's World.

Is this... an All-Out War!?

Damn! Having come all the way here, we get wrapped up in this pointless battle.

But, I can't be swayed here.

I just have to play my part. The Leader of my army. A Hero. Whatever works best. Just play the part.

Or else, we really will lose.

"We're intercepting them!"

"Understood!"

We also raise our voices and begin our clash with the opposing army.
One runs ahead of everyone, capturing his enemy's attention...

"Die! You heartless Heroes!"

A reincarnator... one holding a katana rushes at us.

"There!" (Naofumi)

I grab the blade with one hand to stop it.

"W-what!?"

"What sort of half-assed strengthening are you using?" (Naofumi)

Can we win like this?

Even if the Enemy's general went out of her way to appear, that doesn't mean they got any stronger.

"Motoyasu!" (Naofumi)

"I know! 「Brionac X」!" (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu's spear of life pierces the reincarnator.

"GUHAAAAAAAAH!"

Damn... he isn't dying.

I believe there is a guy who specialized in defense among them.

"Dammit, they're closing in!"

"Ren, Raptalia! Go pincer them!" (Naofumi)

"Got it!" (Ren)

“Yes!” (Raphtalia)

“Rafu~!” (Raph-chan)

Ren and Raphtalia, and also Raph-chan, draw closer to them and unleash consecutive attacks on their members.

“Ugu—gu…”

“Trash, from the rear, prepare ritual magic and continuous support fire!”
(Naofumi)

“Understood!” (Trash)

By my order, Trash prepares the rear forces to use Ritual Magic and loads the magic into Fitoria’s Vassal weapon tank.

Of course, the original she copied it off of, Mii-kun, is there too.

「Lightening Impact Whip X」!

「KYUAAAAAAAAA」!

A flexible whip coated in electricity repeatedly snaps at the enemy, and to match her, Gaelion breathes flames to envelop them.

Taniko and Gaelion’s combination is in good shape.

「Spiral Claw Ten」!

「Dragon of Ruin Inferno Fist X」!

The ones that approach Firo are relentlessly mowed down by her spiraling claw motions, and those that dodge are pummeled down by Fohl’s fist.

Good, the enemy’s formation isn’t complete.

I’ll bet they never met to discuss their strengthening methods.

“Arara… then I guess there’s no helping it.” (Medea)

Medea gently raises her hand and snaps her finger.

「Eternal Blessing」

The reincarnators and their allies are covered in a rain of light.
And right after that—

“Gu…”

The attacks I take suddenly become exponentially heavier.

Is it support magic?

But what I’ve cast on us is Revelation Aura X, you know.

Up until now, we’ve always had some room for leisure, but right now, the most I can do is endure it.

That means Ren and the other Heroes, as well as those in the rear, won’t be able to take these attacks.

“I offer my deepest thanks, Goddess!”

The Reincarnator turns to Medea, and offers thanks before glaring at me.

“Take this! [Cold Steel Vital Wave]!”

“Too soft!” (Naofumi)

From his katana, a wind-themed blade of light comes flying.

I take his attack and redirect it… towards the one who is fighting Ren.

Ren’s always made a habit of observing his surroundings. Noticing the sword wave flying towards him, he jumps back.

And the sharp edge tears the one who could make absolute defense barriers to shreds.

“Guhah!?”

Uwah. His legs are sent flying…

Just how high is his power output?

But the legs soon reattach themselves… As if time itself was rewinding itself, the man returns to his initial state.

"That was your fault for not dodging!"

"The hell you say!?"

In anger, the barrier guy seals the katana guy in his wall.

Oy, they're fighting each other.

Just how uncooperative are these guys?

... No, I can't really say anything against them.

Looking at the past selves of us heroes makes my head hurt.

Actually, I don't think Ren and the others would ever get into a fight before an enemy.

Though, they would call each other names afterwards.

"Don't think my absolute barrier can only be used for defense!"

When the barrier guy clenches his fist tightly, the barrier surrounding the katana guy begins to shrink.

"Gu... stoop..."

A cracking sound rings out as the Katana bastard is forced into a box much smaller than his own body.

Isn't this overkill?

There's a limit to not getting along.

... Could it be that they were trying to murder one another from the start?

I mean, Glass did say that some countries of reincarnators were at war, or something.

"Stop your fighting!"

Medea calls out to them, but the two aren't listening.

Eventually, the barrier breaks, and the Katana Bastard starts attacking the barrier maker.

There's no camaraderie here.

They're all solo players who claim to be the ace of the team.

Are those following these reincarnators party members? Women are cheering them on, and some rush forward to join the fray.

"It looks like they'll need a capable commander... Ahaha, I found an interesting soul floating around." (Medea)

Medea starts chuckling... she opens her hand.

What? The world stopped?

Only Trash, Medea, and I can still move.

"Come out." (Medea)

In the area above Medea's hand, a black, glass-like ball manifests... the person that emerges from it puts both Trash and I at a loss for words.

"That's--"

Everyone else is the same.

The deceased Queen stands there, holding up a folding fan to cover her mouth.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 356 – Levelling

---

“Oh, great Queen of Melromark!” (Medea)

“..”

The Queen indifferently surveys the area around her.

“M-Mirellia, is that you?” (Trash)

“...”

The Queen doesn’t give an answer to Trash’s question.

“Now, take lead of this army, and destroy those that oppose us.” (Medea)

“Understood!”

As she saluted, the Queen was teleported, perhaps through Medea’s magic, to an area much further back.

And from that moment forth, the coordination of those offering support in the back suddenly improved.

Is this betrayal? Could it be that she never actually died, and was but a pawn of the Goddess?

“Trash!” (Naofumi)

Was your wife a traitor?

Before I can ask, Trash shakes his head.

“That’s not possible! That is… that is!” (Trash)

Trash angrily scowls at Medea.

“Yes, I dragged her soul out and revived her to make her one of my pieces. Right now, she can only move by my will. Ara? Would it be best if I didn’t tell you that?" (Medea)

"DAMMMN YOOOOOOOOOU!"(Trash)

Trash's enraged voice echoes.

So that means... the Queen is forcefully being controlled.

... Right. There's no way that Queen would ever turn coat.

Just how much manga have you read, and how many games have you played, Iwatani Naofumi?

When the dead are brought back, they're usually being controlled, or zombies.

Just how low can she go, this one!?

Thinking about it, she can manage reincarnation.

That's ample evidence that she can revive the dead.

What's more, the Queen's become her marionette.

Damn! She'll be exceedingly hard to deal with.

And wait, the reincarnators aren't the slightest bit put off by her actions? Perhaps she made up a story to them, or perhaps... we were the only ones aware of that scene?

"[Arrow Rain]! Quickly! The ring leader... the enemy!" (Itsuki)

Itsuki unleashes a rain of arrows on those duking it out with Motoyasu.

Ah, that's right.

If we defeat Witch's origin point, Medea, then perhaps everything will be resolved.

From what I've seen, her forces have strong Support Magic cast on them, but since they have no cooperation, they're ridden with friendly fire.

... Okay.

"Let's go!"

"Yeah!"

Us, the Heroes at the front, will probably have to be the ones to take charge.

Or else the ones behind us won't follow!

「Phoenix Gale Sword X」!

「Brionac X」!

「Full Buster X」!

「Shield Prison→ Change Shield(Attack)→ Iron Maiden X」!

We all release our most powerful skills at Medea.

The bird of fire envelops the spear of light, which absorbs the beam fired from the gun. The combination collides with Medea, and the resulting explosion is contained within the Shield Prison. The shields change to ones laden with spikes, and an Iron Maiden envelops it all.

Did that do any damage!?

“... You guys aren't any fun.”

Medea stood there with a sullen expression, as if nothing had happened to her.

It looks like she deployed a sturdy barrier.

Ku... even the combination of our strongest attacks isn't enough to scratch her.

We'll have to get Raphtalia and the others to help us before trying again. But they're busy with the Reincarnators, and Glass's world's army. The situation is quite severe.

Luckily, the enemy's looking down on us, and floating annoyingly nearby.

“Naofumi.”

Ren glances at me.

I know.

An enemy this strong, and the weapons we've collected up until now.

Within our skills...

Ren nods.

It seems everyone else understands as well.

"Let's go!"

We ignore the entire army for a single moment. No...

「Meteor Wall X」!

The skill I use surrounds us, and everyone... chants a skill at Medea.

「... of Ø」

Right, it seemed too strange for a skill to do absolutely nothing.

I thought it odd that they mocked us with a skill meant for nothing but showing off, so me, Ren and Itsuki consulted one another.

If we ever encountered an enemy too strong, we would leave the possibility open to use it to see if it did anything.

I never thought a chance to use it would present itself so soon.

"Wha—"

Medea, who had continuously showed us her lax impression, suddenly got into a panic.

So it's true...

The Ø skills glow as they shoot off towards her.

"Goddess!?"

The warring reincarnators and their armies stop moving.

"Good!"

So we can beat her with this.

“Keep…”

Before I could finish my sentence, a single beam of light passed by me. No, I couldn't even follow what happened with my eyes. Something went through, and I merely looked in its direction by instinct.

“Guhaaaah!?”

What I saw was the moment when Motoyasu, who was standing in the middle of the battlefield, collapsed. He had been pierced by something.

“Eh…?” (Motoyasu)

“M-Motoyasu-san!”

“Mokkun!”

“Mo-chan!”

His party members rush over to him.

“…”

But Motoyasu's body isn't moving in the slightest.

“How dare you place an injury on my body!”

… The only wound left on Medea was a small scratch on her hand.

“M-Motoyasu…?”

Seeing his limp, motionless body, I couldn't muster any words. Eventually.

“Ah—”

Motoyasu's body glowed gold, and dispersed into the air. As if no one had been lying there to start with.

“That was a bit surprising. I didn’t think… you were this good. But how unfortunate for you. I’m not so fragile as to fall from something like this.”
(Medea)

Medea surveys the area, and scrunches her eyebrows, as she starts counting us.

“One… two… three… Eleven in total? That’s quite a bit. With this much, it feels a bit unbalanced. There are still three holy weapons left, and Vassals, was it? Even though I did so much, there’s still eight left. This is the worst.”
(Medea)

She glares at me.

“Just how far did you intend to get in my way, despite being but a measly shield?”

“Like I care! Don’t advance the conversation by yourself!”

What’s the source of all of this trying to say?

Motoyasu just died! But I can’t lose it here.

Ren and Itsuki probably get it as well.

They contain their rage as they calmly consider ways to defeat her.

“Just what is your objective!? For what purpose did you cause something like the wave!?” (Naofumi)

“Fufufu, you wanna know?” (Medea)

Looking down on all of us, Medea laughs.

“If I had to say, I guess it’s to make myself stronger. If I had to put it in your boorish words, then I wanted to raise my level.” (Medea)

“How… for something as petty as that… you started all this unproductive violence!?” (Itsuki)

Itsuki screams out as he clenches his bow.

Me too... no, all of the ones who heard her words share the sentiment.

Raising her level, you say!?

For something as worthless as that, we lived through our days of hell!?

Through the wave, many lost their lives, and many lost their loved ones.

Even so, we kept fighting on to bring an end to it all. And yet the enemy's goal was merely leveling.

Don't fuck with me...

"Say what you will. Now then, let's slay the evil heroes!" (Medea)

Medea's words send the enemy rushing forward at once.

Their powers seem to have been raised to a strange extent, and even for me, the most I can do is block them.

Gu...

"Ah, right, right. You guys are a bit too strong, so I'm going to have to kill a few of your Heroes to give us a handicap, kay?" (Medea)

Medea holds her hand in front of her, and a half-transparent sword made out of energy appears in it. She points it at us.

"Good bye." (Medea)

I immediately spring forward, and protect Ren, Raphtalia, Firo, Fohl, Midori, and all the heroes who were on the front lines.

「Shield of Ø」!

If the others had enough output to overcome a god's defense... then I should be able to withstand it with this.

"Ah, how sad." (Medea)

For me, it felt as if the world had just stopped.
And in that stagnant world, Medea was the only one moving.

“With defense of your level, it’s impossible.” (Medea)

_____!

“Let’s see. 100% Deadly Aim, 100% Death, 『Infinity Destroyer』. Yep, you’re dead.” (Medea)

(TL: Deadly Aim is the ESPer skill that’s a level above Itsuki’s described in chapter 261)

White, and black. Red was also mixed in. An infinite amount of lines circle. They merge into a single narrow beam, and fly towards me. Just like with the attack that killed Motoyasu, I can’t follow it with my eyes.

Yes… I guess you could call it death.

It’s like she materialized the concept of death itself. That’s the sort of feeling I got.

I don’t know why I was able to see it.

In truth, Medea’s attack was much faster than my own sense of perception, so there’s no way I should have been able to see it.

It’s as if she had bypassed the entire effect animation, leaving only the message 『Enemy has been Killed』 behind. A patchwork of time that left only the result.

W-what is… this!?

By luck, or miracle, I… block the attack with my Shield.

It felt as if I had successfully blocked it.

I also had confidence in the fact that I hadn’t died yet.

But…

“Ara? You blocked it? For you to be able to take an attack whose speed surpassed infinity, you must be quite the lucky one.” (Medea)

Speed that surpasses infinity?

Is this one alright in the head? Her words are going all over the place.

No, it was true that I was unable to understand the enemy's attack.

The fact that I was able to block it was truly just a miracle. It's like she had merely sent the blast flying to the area where my Shield was fastened.

If she shoots again... I'm dead.

"Then how about this? It wastes a needless amount of power, so I don't like using it, but I guess there's no choice." (Medea)

... The moment after Medea said that, I died.

"Eh...?"

As if a switch had been turned off. As if the power had been cut, my consciousness was instantly sent adrift.

I truly did not understand just what it was that Medea did.

"You'd probably hate dying without even knowing the reason, so let me tell you. Your past, present future. I directed an attack on all of the yous in all parallel and divergent worlds in existence." (Medea)

By the time I was aware of my surroundings once more, I was in the air.

In no time at all, the HP bar on my Status had reached 0.

Ren was the same, and...

"Naofumi-sama--"

Raphtalia immediately reached her hand out to me.

I try to answer her warmth by raising my arm, but I can't put any power in.

"In the name of god, just vanish into oblivion!" (Medea)

My body's been torn to pieces, but still, she continues to attack...

“Now fall into the rift between dimensions! AHAHAHAHAHAHAHA!”

Medea’s painful laugh echoes through my ears endlessly.

Not yet… move, my body!

I’m in the middle of being blown away!

When I looked down, what I was… was my torso being minced into miniscule pieces.

“Ara? The Hammer Wench got mixed in too? Well I guess that’s enough to balance the odds, right? I’ve kept you waiting for a while, but it’s finally time to start the game.” (Medea)

When I thought I had finally been freed from her laugh, my field of vision warped, and my mind went far away.

… So my end comes like this. Randomly killed for reasons I don’t even get? Up until now, I’ve tried so hard. I’ve desperately battled my way here, and without being able to save… to protect everyone, I’m going to die like a dog?

Then what the hell have we been doing up until now?

Was the reason they were all born simply to build up EXP?

Don’t fuck with me… as if I’d let that be reality.

Move.

At least let me offer some resistance.

But for the current me, that wish was impossible to grant.

If I close my eyes here, I’ll definitely be dead.

… No, I’m quite sure I already am.

I don’t know why, but I recognize the fact that I’m dead.

Ah… so that’s it.

So I’m… already dead.

Then this is the revolving lantern.

My memories start to revive, and spin around before me.

It really was a crappy life.

I immersed myself in Manga and Games at a whim, and after complained about my world all the time. Then I was summoned here.

In this terrible alternate world, I tried my best, and met Raphtalia.

I met Firo. I met Melty. I cleared my name of my false crimes.

I defeated a giant enemy, and I met Atlas. I met Fohl, and I met the villagers. I made up with Ren, the other Heroes, and Trash, whom I had made out to be my enemies.

And from here on, it was supposed to have gotten better...

Why, why must it be so unfair...

No matter how hard I struggled, no matter what sad things I faced, in the end... the Hero is supposed to beat the Demon King. He's supposed to bring peace to the world. He's supposed to make everyone happy...

Can't I get an ending like that?

Haha... In the end, I'm just the same as all of them. So I was just being dragged along by my optimistic ideals stemming from my game knowledge...

... I know. From that day, and all the days up until now, I've had the fact pounded in me enough to make me vomit.

It isn't that easy.

No matter what you do, it's always unfair, and there's despair you have no ways of fighting against. That's reality.

Raphtalia... Atlas... everyone.

If I can't move a single finger on my hands anymore, at the very least, let me move my heart.

Why I'm saying this, even I don't know... Ah, so that's how it is.

What's with this? While I kept saying this and that, didn't I actually like this world quite a bit?

"Everyone. My power was barely able to banish three of the Evil Heroes from this world, and to the gap between dimensions..."

And Like that, I dies meaninglessly. I was ripped appart without even leaving anything to bury.

_____

_____

_____

After sinking into deep darkness, my conscious resurfaced.
My mind was faint, as if I had just become a ghost.

The sound of pages flipping, and a slight dusty scent.
It was so quiet, and yet so nostalgic, I began to remember all I had forgotten.

This is...

"_____!"

Eh?

My voice works.

What is this? My eyes had been closed.

Then all I have to do is open then. Isn't that obvious? I open my eyelids... and lost my voice once more.

— I was in a familiar library.

While sitting in one of their installed chairs, I got up, as if I had merely dozed off.

I turn my eyes to the calendar and clock on the reception desk.

… Since I read the Holy Weapons Manual, and was sent to another world, only 30 minutes have passed.

I… confirm the cover of the book in my hands.

The Four Holy Weapon's Manual.

And this time, the Hero of the Shield's accomplishments were recorded as well.

It was… a recording of the tracks I followed. An outline of my story.

And like that, the Hero of the Shield was defeated by the enemy of the world, the Goddess Medea.

The remaining bow, and his companions continued to fight on…

The next page was blank.

I turn back, and start reading from the beginning.

It appears the contents of the book have changed quite a bit from the first time I read it.

In the start, the Hero of the Shield was set up to meet the Princess and the King, and his relationship with the other Heroes wasn't the best. Oh my, how kind of you to put it like that.

What does this mean?

A dream… like hell!

That's impossible.

There's no way that all of it could have been a dream.

I confirm my own appearance once more.

My garments were those I wore before being sent away.

Look closer. There's no way that was a dream!

Something, there has to be something! Like I'd let all of that be written off as a dream!

"Oww..."

"Hmm?"

I turn around to confirm the source of that voice.

And there...

"A-are you alright, Naofumi-sama?"

"Wha... Raph... talia?"

Raphtalia held one of her hands on her head, as she woke up.

"T-this is...?"

Without any words escaping my lips, I froze up.

There's no way I would let it end as a dream, but I never thought I'd find Raphtalia as my proof.

"Hmm? Naofumi-sama, your clothes are... mine too..."

Raphtalia tilts her head at the clothes she's wearing.

Just what happened?

I look at the place my Shield used to hang.

And there, was a pitiful strap made of chains, with a familiar jewel in the center. My Shield.

(TL: This is the original ending. The rest was written because people complained too much. It's text has been altered somewhat from its first publication upon the decision to continue the story.)

(TL Note 2: I think you guys are interpreting the word original wrong here.)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 357 – Undesired Return

---

Raphtalia is here.

I look around the area once more.

Yep, this isn't another world. It's the library of my reality.

"Um, Naofumi-sama?" (Raphtalia)

"Shh! This is a place where you have to be quiet. I don't get what's going on either, so let me think for a second."

I tell Raphtalia as such, and look through the Four Holy Weapon's Manual again.

... I notice the pages that were once blank start to revise themselves.

—Having the Hero of the Sword, Spear and Shield, as well as the Hammer Vassal defeated left the Hero of the Bow and his party in despair.

In the end of the battle, they all faced utmost defeat.

While the battle raged on, Medea raised a high laugh as she withdrew her forces, who destroyed in the name of fun.

By the whim of the enemy, their lives had been spared, but those left behind were unable to feel any joy at this fact.

The losses they faced had been too great.

It seems that Goddess showed off her advantage by drawing back.

I wonder what sort of vile development awaits.

It's a truly unpleasant feeling. Having that annoying face pop up in my head makes my want to punch something.

...

"Oy, what does this mean?" (Naofumi)

I try talking to the book.

But the book shows absolutely no signs of action.

Ku... what should I do?

"N-Naofumi-sama?"

"Y-yeah..."

The book and the bracelet showed no reaction. I tried fiddling with them, but nothing happened.

Perhaps if I continue doing this in silence, nothing will activate.

"We won't be able to talk much here. Let's move. Follow me. I'll explain where we are on the way." (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Raphtalia)

... How should I explain Raphtalia's tail and ears?

Well, I guess I can just say it's cosplay... right?

I take the Four Holy Weapons' Manual in hand, and lead Raphtala to the reception desk.

Wait a second, can I even borrow this book in the first place?

I lift the cover, and check all around it.

Yep, there isn't a security chip embedded anywhere in it.

But still, should I try?

I take out my library card, as well as a random book that was close, before placing them both on the counter. I silently pass them over to the receptionist.

"Um... this book is...?"

The receptionist looks all over the book before tilting his head.

It seems it's not anything registered to this library.

"Ah, I'm sorry. I forgot I brought that one from home." (Naofumi)

I casually take the book back, and successfully finish the borrowing procedure.

After that, I shoved it into the bag I had brought to the library with me, with all of the other books I borrowed. I led Raphtalia out of the building by the hand.

After leaving the Library, Raphtalia observes the area with wide eyes. The building was in a relatively urban area, so there are many bars and department stores around.

What's more, cars and traffic lights... there are plenty of things she wouldn't have seen over there. Her reaction is natural.

"Naofumi-sama, where exactly are we?" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah, it seems... we're in my world." (Naofumi)

"Eh!?" (Raphtalia)

What was reflected in my eyes was the usual cityscape surrounding the library.

Is it just my imagination that the quality of air seems to have gotten worse?

I guess the air over there was clearer.

It's the familiar world I longed for, but...

"For some reason, Raphtalia, I've returned to this world with you. In order to organize the situation, please just quietly follow me." (Naofumi)

"Y-yes! So this is Naofumi-sama's world." (Raphtalia)

She restlessly looks around as she walks behind me.

Random passersby are taking quick glances at her.

So her ears and tail really do stand out?

No, more importantly, Raphtalia's face may be what they're focusing on.

That's Japan's good point. Even if something looks strange, they just let it pass.

(TL: You can pretty much explain anything away by, 'Because Japan')

As I think that, I notice my stomach is empty.

... There's money in my wallet.

I crave Junk Food.

I've heard that once you go overseas, you begin to crave the taste of home, but perhaps this is the same.

It's because the food over there didn't have much taste.

I used to prefer foods with thick flavor, but I simply didn't have the necessary spices.

"Okay!" (Naofumi)

Let's go to a restaurant.

I drag Raphtalia along with me as I step into a family restaurant.

Perhaps I should have taken her to the ones in the mall to see her reaction.

This time, I just brought us to a Chain Restaurant called Storm.

"Welcome, how many will we be serving today?"

"Two." (Naofumi)

"Two, is it? Then this way please."

The host leads us, and we take our seats.

Raphtalia seems to be restless, but she doesn't seem all too shocked.

"Um, what sort of store is this?" (Raphtalia)

"Can't you tell?" (Naofumi)

"No, I understand it's a shop that sells food, but you told me to silently follow you, and it ended up being for lunch..." (Raphtalia)

"That's right... even so, I need time to think. I'm also hungry, so I thought we would stop by for food." (Naofumi)

"Understood. I'd like to try the food of your world." (Raphtalia)

"Then here's a menu. Order whatever you want." (Naofumi)

"Ah, yes! Wow, is there a slim projection crystal stuck onto it?" (Raphtalia)

Fumu... now that I think about it, that world had quite strange technological advancements.

Projection Crystals would be equated to something like 3D Holograms here, right?

Well, the immobile ones are just pictures, so... no, perhaps a painting?

"You won't call it a simple drawing?" (Naofumi)

"Hmm? But isn't it really detailed? There was a painter among the Lemos, but I feel there's something fundamentally different about this one..."

(Raphtalia)

Ah, so it's like that.

In that world there were oil and water based paints, as well as magic ways of coloring. There were plenty of ways to make an image.

It's not as if they didn't have a realist movement, but those weren't that high in numbers...

More than a painting, it's quicker to just call it a photo. And for that purpose, a Projection Crystal fits best.

"Then this one." (Raphtalia)

"Can you read the name?" (Naofumi)

"No..." (Raphtalia)

So she can't read the language.

Spoken words will get taken care of through her vassal, but writing is a bit...

And wait, if that was possible, I wouldn't have had so much trouble in that world.

I press the button to call the waiter, and make my order.

"You just pushed a button to call him, right? Is this a high class eatery?"
(Raphtalia)

If you think about it, Raphtalia's been to local restaurants countless times in that world, so she isn't giving that much of a reaction.

And it's not like there weren't any places where you had to ring a bell to call the server.

Though we rarely ever went into restaurants of that high a class.

"This is normal, even for my world's commoners." (Naofumi)

"Is that so? T-that's quite amazing..." (Raphtalia)

Well, I wonder if Raphtalia's reaction is wrong.

"Outside, cars like the ones in Faubley are going at speeds faster than Firo."
(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia expresses her thoughts as she gazes at the street outside the window.

Well, it's true that a car's speed is faster than Firo.

But that bird's full speed is much higher.

When she's boosted with Aura, it goes even further, and on curved and uneven roads, she can continue without dropping speed.

In that sense, the bird is more versatile than the car.

We should install one Filo Rial Queen per house.

"The bigger ones can even carry more things than her." (Naofumi)

"W-wow." (Raphtalia)

"Well, it's a matter of carrying capacity, so if we do something about the size, Firo should be able to carry it." (Naofumi)

And while we were engaging in pointless conversation, the food came.

That was fast.

No... here, this was normal.

Raphtalia was also startled at the speed of the food.

"Thank you for waiting~."

The waiter puts the items we ordered on the table.

What's laid out before me is the nostalgic taste of my world.

Ah... just how many times have you appeared in my dreams? I begin eating with knife and fork.

"Thank you for the food. Um, I believe the food Naofumi-sama makes is better." (Raphtalia)

"I don't need the flattery." (Naofumi)

"That's not what I meant... I think that this food is tasty, but the flavor is too deep." (Raphtalia)

I mean, it's not like I used to many spices in that world.

I've been told that foods with unfamiliar tastes are good.

But there was nothing I could do about the simple flavor.

In truth, I hear that many of the younger generation of this world cares not for nutrition.

But for me, that's irrelevant.

As I think upon those lines, the taste of hamburger fills my mouth.

"..."

To be honest, it wasn't really that good.

But for some reason, the first hamburger steak I had in half a year was the best I'd ever tasted.

We finish filling our stomachs, and leave.

... As I was leaving the family restaurant, a burger joint caught my eye.

"Okay, let's go there too." (Naofumi)

"You plan to eat more?" (Raphtalia)

"I'm just savoring the taste of my home." (Naofumi)

I was full, but the nostalgia whetted my appetite.

And with ¥500, you can eat quite a bit.

Right now's not the time to think about my financial situation, and if it's just that much, I can spend it.

"Now onwards, Raphtalia!" (Naofumi)

"Y-yes!" (Raphtalia)

And so I ate burgers, and whatever looked interesting until I was satisfied... I ate too much... I feel sick.

"So this is the taste of Naofumi-sama's home town." (Raphtalia)

"Pretty much." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia would say it was tasty every time, but in the end, she concluded the taste was too thick.

I don't think there's anything I can do about it, but is it really that bad? My saving grace came in the fact that there were many things Raphtalia said she liked in what we ordered.

She'll have to get used to the culinary culture over here, so if there isn't anything she likes, it will be rough.

Well, take out having a thick flavor is something natural.

I randomly select a park bench to lower myself onto, before taking the Four Holy Weapons' Manual out of my Knapsack, and look at it again.

"Is that the book you read before you were summoned?" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah, I just flipped through it earlier, but what we've done is recorded as well." (Naofumi)

... But nothing was written after what I read before leaving the library. It seems the enemy retreated, but in that world, the only Legendary Hero left is Itsuki.

There's Trash, and the other Vassals, as well as Glass, but this will be a hard battle.

The last scene I saw in that world flashes back in my head.

No... Even if we remained there, winning would be difficult.

Honestly, I can't imagine a scenario where we would stand triumphantly above them.

Because even now, I don't understand what it was that caused my loss.

"U...mu..."

Even so, I can't get a grasp of what I should do now.

I never thought I would find it strange that my status wasn't in my field of vision.

And wait, when I had felt something was off earlier, it was the feel of the air. Something's different.

It's like... something that was supposed to be there naturally had completely vanished.

What should I compare it to? I can only say it's a peculiarity in that world's air.

"Naofumi-sama..."

Raphtalia's looking at me with a worried expression.

In order to prevent her from standing out, her clothing consists of a shirt and jeans.

You can call it boyish if you want.

Raphtalia's hair is long, and her figure isn't bad, so I think she looks good in them.

"I don't have the slightest idea of what the cause was, but we lost. No, it's more accurate to say we died. By the time I noticed it, we woke up here, in the world I originated from." (Naofumi)

I show Raphtalia my Shield, which had been converted into a simple strap. And in return, Raphtalia showed me her strap-turned hammer.

"A possibility is that the Hammer and Shield let us escape here as an emergency measure." (Naofumi)

"But that doesn't sound correct." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia flicks the strap on her arm as she answers.

Right. It hasn't been giving any sort of reaction.

"Well, there's no point in worrying about it, so let's continue the conversation. We've come to my world, and I don't know any way to get back." (Naofumi)

"Yes... because we lost..." (Raphtalia)

"Yes, it annoys me to no end that we went out like that. So here is a single problem." (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Raphtalia)

"Raphtalia, it's about your life here. I told you that living in my world would be troublesome, right?" (Naofumi)

I mean, she is an otherworlder here.

She doesn't have an entry in the family registry, and she'll have problems finding a place to live.

No matter what happens, I'll shelter her, but I don't know how long I'll be able to do that.

"Also, it doesn't seem like anybody said anything about your tail and ears, but if they get found out, it may be dangerous." (Naofumi)

If they figure out she's from another world, they may bring her in for investigation.

I doubt they'll just go Oh, how wonderful~~. There's a high chance she'll be shipped to some research facility somewhere.

We'll have to avoid that as best we can.

“Y-yes.” (Raphtalia)

“Oh, right. Can you use magic? Try to conceal them as best you can.”
(Naofumi)

I concentrate my mind, and test to see if I can still use magic.

… I think Revelation will be impossible.

『I, The Hero of the Shield, who has understood the origin of power command. Let the legend be read forth once more, and grant all unto him』
「Zveit Aura」

Oh? Aura activated.

A target floats faintly in my field of vision.

Raphtalia also tries.

『I, who has understood the origin of power command. Let the truth be read forth once more, let balls of light come forth』
「Fast Light」

In Raphtalia’s outstretched hand, a faint ball of light appeared.

But it was quite a feeble light. It looked as if it would go out at any moment.
With this, a lighter from the ¥100 would be more reliable.

“Uu… how should I put it, controlling it has become really difficult.”
(Raphtalia)

The light immediately vanished.

Fumu… I can’t use the Dragon Pulse Order at all, and normal magic’s effect is faint.

It would be quite romantic to be able to use the magic of another world, but the output is really low.

It’s probably because the magic power comes from within our bodies, so we can use a little of it. That sounds possible.

I don't know if I'll be able to replenish our internal magic in the first place. But mulling over it doesn't accomplish anything.

"Anyways, for now..."

Just think about it.

There's nothing I can do. Neither the Four Holy Weapons' Manual nor the Shield react to my words.

Just what do you want me to do?

"Let's go to my house." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama's house?" (Raphtalia)

"Ah..." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama? What's wrong?" (Raphtalia)

For a bishojo to be adding -sama to my name... isn't this a bit bad?

She said it again and again in the restaurant, but now that I think about it, it's embarrassing.

I guess this is the proof that we've returned to the world of my reality.

"Raphtalia, while we're in this world, please don't call me -sama."
(Naofumi)

"Huh? U-understood." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia nodded.

"N-Naofumi... sa-" (Raphtalia)

She suddenly cuts herself off as her face is died a deep red.

"Naofumi-san." (Raphtalia)

"Yep, that's fine. Next, it's about you..." (Naofumi)

It would be nice if people thought of Raphtalia-san as her nickname, or pen name, or something...

What sort of name should I... I glance over at Raphtalia.
Her face make seems quite foreign, and her hair is brown.
Is she within the range where I can talk people into thinking she's Japanese?
No, it's not like saying she's a half won't work, but it'll be a bit tricky.

"Should I call you by a fake name, Shigaraki Tanuko, or something?"
(Naofumi)

"Are you sure you're alright with calling me that?" (Raphtalia)

Alright with that name? Me?
Of course not.

In the first place, Shigaraki just comes from the fact that she's a Tanuki girl.
And wait, Tanuko is insulting, isn't it?
Though I'm the one who proposed it.
Ponko, Rafuko... there's already a Raph-chan.

"If we get troubled, we'll think of one. Right now, I think Raphtalia's fine.
Then let's go." (Naofumi)
"Y-yes." (Raphtalia)

We walk through the town before arriving at my house.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 358 – Returning Home

---

Now then, let me offer a bit of explanation about my house.

To put it bluntly, it's a detached house that lies in a relatively quiet neighborhood near the city.

It has a yard, attached, and my parents bought it on a loan.

I slide the key into the door, and timidly look around as I enter.

"N-Naofumi-sa... n. What's wrong?" (Raphtalia)

It seems there's some resistance to her calling me -san as she asks me a question out of pure curiosity.

"Ah, no, if we ran into my parents here, it would pave the way to a mountain of misunderstandings." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sa... n's Father and Mother?" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia puts her hand over her heart, and takes a deep breath.

"Ah, it seems you don't have to worry. My mom's out at the moment."
(Naofumi)

After confirming no one was home, I opened the house door, and invited Raphtalia in.

"So this is Naofumi-sa, n's House?" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

I thought I would bring her here once the world was at peace, but I never thought we would end up here like this.

I guess that just goes to show you never know what's going to happen in life.

"Make sure to take off your shoes before coming in." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Raphtalia)

As told, Raphtalia takes her shoes off before entering the house.

Now then, my room is on the second floor. To organize the information on hand, it's best we go there, but... Here, I noticed something.

I'm an Otaku. An Otaku who invited a girl into his home, and is ready to show her his room.

The stereotypical development that comes with this situation is...

... Isn't this bad? I have quite a few embarrassing things displayed there.

"Raphtalia, please wait here." (Naofumi)

I stop Raphtalia, and lead her to the living room.

"Is something the matter?" (Raphtalia)

... Right now, I'm stuck between two big life choices.

I could take Raphtalia to my room now, without care for my hobbies.

But the Galge posters, the figures and the various character goods are out in the open.

It's not like I plan to hide the fact that I'm an Otaku at this point. I'm actually curious to see what Raphtalia will think of it.

But in that world, I continued to proclaim that love was useless and unnecessary.

If a guy like that's room was filled with books of women, and figures, just what would she think?

Is it not right to stop her for now?

Okay! First of all, let's clean the room!

"Please wait a second." (Naofumi)

"Ah, sure." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia sat down on the living room sofa as I quickly ran up the steps to my room.

And what I found was my nostalgic castle.

Just how many times have I dreamed of returning here?

But that isn't important right now.

Right now, Raphtalia's going to come here.

How about I just openly display this embarrassing side of me?

I'll stop that with all my might!

I stuff all the figures and Galge packages into the closet, and peel off the posters.

Oh? I had left my PC on the whole time, and Net Game Item I've put on the market has been sold.

... I'll close it for now.

Next is—

"I'm home~."

Geh! My brother has returned.

That goddam Riajuu, why must he return at a time like this?

(TL: Riajuu can be translated to something like Realer, the people of the world beyond, 3DPD... etc, but I'll stick with Riajuu here)

If that little brother of mine comes into contact with Raphtalia, it's going to get complicated!

I quickly leave the room, and run down the stairs.

"What's up, Nii-san?"

He had taken off his shoes in the entrance, and put his hand on the living room door when I called out to him.

"Wait, wait. Why don't we have a little chat?" (Naofumi)

"Did something happen? The look in your eyes are a bit strange...?"

Is my face really that weird?

"More importantly, Niisan. Can't you make some food?"

"Why?"

"What do you mean? Mom doesn't seem to be home, so I thought I would ask you. I mean, I'm busy with my studies."

"Just go to the convenience store. I'll give you some money." (Naofumi)

"Eh... Nii-san's food is much better than the ones at the store."

This is strange. Did my brother really like my home-made food that much? No, well, I've always helped my parents out with the house chores, and I did it willingly to give off a good impression to them.

I've cooked for him whenever our parents weren't home.

But even so, did he ever say anything so Kiel-like?

Is this déjà vu?

"Didn't I ask you this morning? You totally said yes back then."

Come to think of it... I get the feeling I made some sort of promise like that. I mean, to me, it's been more than half a year, so there's no way I really remember it.

"And Nii-san, you know, if you ever have trouble getting a job when ya graduate, you should try cooking school. Don't go off wasting your talent like that, dude."

Mu... this one, I do have a recollection of.

I remember. Whenever something happens, my brother is someone who asks me to go cook.

Unlike me, he doesn't really enjoy eating out.

Something about nutrition, and sodium, it's like he's a girl going through puberty.

"Anyways, today I have something to do. So go buy it at the convenience store." (Naofumi)

"Is it a promise with your Net Game friends again? How about you just stop playing around with those guys, and start taking stuff seriously, man?"

And as he said that, he opened and walked through the living room door.

"W-wait." (Naofumi)

"—I mean, you have someone like Raphtalia-san with ya, right?"

What…?

My mind can't keep up with what my brother's saying.

"Ah, Raphtalia-san. I'm home."

"Ah…?"

Raphtalia's gaze shifts between my face, and my brother's. A worried expression comes on her face as she inclines her head to one side.

I mean, it's true, isn't it? Raphtalia's never met this guy before.

I mean, we never went back far enough for the two to have had a chance to meet.

"What's wrong?"

"No, I was just wondering why you knew about Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

I mean, he greeted her quite naturally, just now.

"What do you mean by why?"

As if he thought I was mocking him, my brother makes a sullen expression.

"For argument's sake, you see." (Naofumi)

"Hah? Nii-san, are you going senile? Are you having premature dementia?"

"Shut up. Just tell me." (Naofumi)

"When you're just Nii-chan, you're trying to give me orders?"

This is the hierarchy of the Iwatani Household.

It may be a bit late, but that's quite a line he threw out there.

Since I went to that world, I get the feeling I've been harrassed by a lot of strange people, but it was like that from the start?

But that's not the problem.

"Like I care." (Naofumi)

"Seriously, what's wrong, Nii-san? Your usual loose eloquence and bullshittery is gone, man."

Who has loose eloquence!?

I always kinda wanted to return, but I shed tears upon receiving this treatment upon my return.

Why must my own younger brother wring me out like this?

"Don't worry about it, just speak." (Naofumi)

"Have you finally awoken to your role as the eldest son? How out of character of you."

"Why are your eyes sparkling at that? You've always just had to add on that one extra sentence, haven't you." (Naofumi)

"If it's against Nii-san, then I won't lose!"

My younger brother suddenly takes up a fighting pose.

Despite how he looks, this guy practices Kendo, I think.

He also did Karate.

Oy, there's a world out there in need of a Hero.

Ah, don't make a mistake and get hit by a truck, or anything.

I have a personal grudge against reincarnations at the moment.

"I didn't intend to get into fisticuffs with you!" (Naofumi)

"Now, be more and more willful! I'll take on your challenge anytime!"

What's with him?

Did he have this sort of personality?

"Just answer the question already!" (Naofumi)

"I-I got it..."

With a bit of sadness, but a lot more joy, my younger brother begins to speak.

Was he merely joking around?

"When Nii-san entered college, Raphtalia-san came to our house to homestay as a foreign exchange student."

"... Foreign exchange student. Homestay, is it?" (Naofumi)

"Wasn't she your friend on the net, Nii-san? You spoke to mom and dad, and she came over to our house, and just like that, she became your girlfriend, didn't she, Nii-san?"

Okay, let's organize this information.

It seems that here, Raphtalia is treated as a foreign exchange student staying in this house, under the same roof as me?

And she's my girlfriend. What's more, with parental recognition?

Just what sort of romcom is this?

"What country did Raphtalia come from again?" (Naofumi)

"I don't know that. I think you told me before, though. What was it again?"

Brother makes a tantalizing expression as he tries to recall the country name.

No, I don't think even Raphtalia knows the country she's supposed to be from.

It's that. Should I just say Melromark in another world?

Her nationality is otherworlder. That phrase pops up in my head.

No, I really can't laugh at that.

"Ah, Nii-san sure has it nice. Having someone like Raphtalia-san as your girlfriend."

"G-girlfriend..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia embarrassingly touches her hands to her reddening face.
Her reaction is top notch.

"But you have one too, don't you?" (Naofumi)

In the past, he said something like『Unlike me, the girlfriend-less Nii-san is pitiful. Do you plan on becoming a wizard or something?』 to provoke me.
Though I just laughed it off back then.
Thinking back now, it really pisses me off.

"Yeah, but compared to Raphtalia-san... I'm jealous of Nii-san! Raphtalia-san, can you forget Nii-san, and transfer to someone with better future prospects like me?"

"Not happening." (Raphtalia)

That was fast.

Raphtalia's quick and natural answer frightened me a bit.
It's a mixture of happiness and embarrassment. A strange feeling.

... Let's continue the conversation.
Lil' brother continues to speak fluidly while nodding.
Aren't you the one with the loose eloquence?

"As I thought."

"I'm definitely tattling to your girlfriend later." (Naofumi)

"S-stop! If strange rumors get around, I'll be troubled."

Well, he's a girlfriend-holding Riajuu in his third year of high school.
But if his girlfriend heard that line, I think he would be smacked the hell out of.

Just what sort of Galge heroine is he supposed to be?

"Anyways, don't going around saying strange things."

"That depends on your attitude." (Naofumi)

"Nii-san, what's wrong? You're much colder than before."

"I thought I would have to be stricter from here on." (Naofumi)

Is what I'll answer for now.

I see my long time spent in another world has changed me enough for people to notice.

"I see, yep. It looks like Nii-san has gotten just a bit cooler. In the past, you were kind, or how should I put it, too soft, so I like the atmosphere you're giving off right now. Good luck with that, Nii-san."

Is what I thought, but my brother takes the change positively.

"More importantly, you." (Naofumi)

I'll take this chance to gather some information.

I point to Raphtalia's ears.

"What do you think of these?" (Naofumi)

"Meaning?"

"No, I mean..." (Naofumi)

"What?"

... I lightly poke the ears.

Raphtalia reluctantly twitches them back and forth.

"I mean these." (Naofumi)

"And again, what?"

... Can he not see them?

I gently lift up the tail.

"Ah..."

Raphtalia lets out an embarrassed moan.

It is quite a sensitive spot, it seems. I'm a bit sorry, but there's no helping it.

"Next is this." (Naofumi)

"I have no idea what you've been trying to show me for a while. Are you bragging?"

Fumu... Raphtalia's ears and tail aren't being recognized by his senses. Then what people were looking at when we walked down the street was simply her beauty.

"Now then, Nii-san. Food, please."

... Why does he want my food so much?
Is he supposed to be some loin-clothed dog?

"Can't you just wait until mom comes home?" (Naofumi)

"You promised!"

Ah, for the love of god! Even when I'm supposed to be busy!

"Naofumi-sa, n, how about you make it for him?" (Raphtalia)

"Ah, see? Raphtalia-san gets it~!"

Little brother's tension rises.

In the end... I ended up making dinner.

Why is the first thing I do upon returning from another world making dinner for my brother?

What's more, while I was in the kitchen, mom came home. She walked to the living room, and started chatting with Raphtalia as if it were natural while munching on senbei.

(TL: Senbei are Japanese rice crackers)

She seems unnaturally close to Raphtalia, contrarily making my discomfort grow to massive proportions.

Well, the individual herself seems to be uncomfortable as well.

“Raphtalia-san, in the end, what did Naofumi-san do all day?”

“Umm…” (Raphtalia)

He went to another world, and ended up getting killed by a goddess.

Is something we can’t say.

“He was playing games again, right? You need to get him to pull himself together.”

From my experience over there, I’d like to offer a complaint or two.

But here… it seems my day = gaming.

In truth, it really was like that before I went to that world, but it grates my nerves when they actually say it.

“Y-yes.” (Raphtalia)

Being troubled with an answer, Raphtalia gives a response as not to cause any trouble.

After that, for some reason, I ended up making enough food for the whole family, and finally, I headed for my room with Raphtalia.

Well, it’s not like I didn’t do chores whenever I felt like it, but…

And for some reason, Raphtalia’s room was on the second floor as well.

If memories serves right, that should have been a storage room, or something of the sort.

“What do you think has happened?” (Raphtalia)

“A place for you in this world has been made… the Spirit of the Shield did say he could tamper with cause and effect to some extent so that I could bring someone along.” (Naofumi)

It’s likely that this is the tampered world.

Just how thorough was he?

Anyways, after finishing the menial labor, I led Raphtalia, and returned to my room.

I didn't notice it because I was depressed over being forced to cook, but I had casually brought Raphtalia into the room.

"It's a bit narrow, isn't it?" (Raphtalia)

Well, compared to the house in the village, of course my room is narrow. I thought my room would make her draw back, but it seems that's not the case.

If I had to decide I would assume she just didn't know what anything there was.

"T-that's right." (Naofumi)

"So this is Naofumi-sa, n's room?" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia restlessly surveys the inside.

The posters and figures are in the closet.

There's only Manga left around.

"Are these books?" (Raphtalia)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

"Is it alright if I read them?" (Raphtalia)

"Can you read them?" (Naofumi)

She doesn't know the lettering system.

But if you think about it, you can understand some manga just by the art.

Raphtalia pulls a volume of Manga out of the bookshelf, and opens it.

Its contents were of a normal high school boy and girl's club activities. It was a typical romcom.

"/is this about the place nobles go to study?" (Raphtalia)

"Well, it's a characteristic of our culture, per say, if I were to put it simply..." (Naofumi)

"This resembles the art from the Hero of the Spear, and the Tailor."
(Raphtalia)

Yep... those two did it.

It was actually quite popular in the village.

The Tailor did look like someone who would draw Doujinshi. And yes, she did end up drawing them.

Motoyasu's were ero-doujins. They were mainly of steamy love with Firo. But those were just him venting out his emotions.

In that sense, Manga existed in that world.

Though the genre was a bit biased.

I truly had absolutely no interest, so I didn't really remember it.

"Ah, right. Raphtalia, please remember this." (Naofumi)

"What could it be?" (Raphtalia)

"In this world, in the country I live in, almost all of the people around our age attends school. You're probably going to be treated as if you're attending as well." (Naofumi)

"M-me too? To study for nobility?" (Raphtalia)

The place for nobles to study... It seems I'll have to offer a bit of explanation.

Well, I'll put that matter aside for now. As long as she understands that.

"Yeah, so until we figure something out, we'll have to live our lives here. And so, let's try hard to get you to fit in here." (Naofumi)

"Y-yes.." (Raphtalia)

First, I'll have to teach her how to read and write.

Hmm.

By the way, I checked the Four Holy Weapons' Manual after that, and it showed absolutely no change.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 359 – Frustration

---

One week passed since then.

The Four Saint Weapons book had its contents updated little by little.

While wondering if there was anything we could do, we tried tampering with our straps at first and going to the library many times but there was no development.

The days passed with us worrying endlessly about what we should do.

[T/N: I wonder what would happen if they were to try writing in the book and changing the story... Does that not work?]

“I’ll be going to practice with your little brother.” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia started sword practice in the garden with my little brother.

It was only with Shinai though. [T/N: bamboo sword used for kendo]

My little brother was beaten black and blue by Raphtalia and was frustrated.

Kendo was different in many ways, but Raphtalia was still at an expert level.

Or I should say, she ended up being on the instructing side.

I think if I was in my little brothers position, I would parry lightly.

The weapons in our possession were currently in an idle state.

In one week, there were many incidents of cultural friction from Raphtalia coming to my world.

Being surprised by the television and home appliances was a given but... she adapted quicker than I imagined.

Well, everything could be settled with magic. In that world, that was.

It seems she thought the television was similar to recording crystals, which she had seen normally.

Although, she did show an interest in the program contents.

Movies and such were also... I considered being indiscrete at this kind of time but we did go see them.

I hoped she would mistakenly believe the movies were real, but it seems the Raphtalia with comprehension watched the movies and thought them to be fictional stories, or otherwise records of people who were summoned into another world like I was.

So she didn't make such a fuss.

Our courses were different but she also showed up at university like me, just in case.

In any case, everyone recognised Raphtalia as an obvious existence.

So in reality the reaction was this kind of thing....

Right now is the result of helping my mother with the housework. Raphtalia was helping with the laundry and cleaning.

I was cooking meals every day for some reason though.

"Um.. What is this?" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia brought a little Shigaraki ornament from the room and asks me. I was informed by my little brother that it was something I gave Raphtalia. To give Shigaraki ware to a girlfriend as a present, what kind of taste was that.

"Shigaraki ware." (Naofumi)

"Huh.... Doesn't it kind of look like Raph-chan? Naofumi-san gave Raph-chan this kind of appearance in the past." (Raphtalia)

"I think it doesn't resemble him much, although I guess it's true that it looks that way." (Naofumi)

Raph-chan has way more charm and fanciness.

I guess it's rude to confuse plushies and ornaments.

"So....why...." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia had trouble verbalising her words.

I knew what she was referring to.

“Ah……yeah.” (Naofumi)

Shigaraki ware has, you know… that stands out. [T/N: He’s talking about balls.]

Incidentally, although I haven’t seen them, there are female ones apparently.

“I think because they’re tanuki, maybe.” (Naofumi)

“Tanuki……” (Raphtalia)

“In my world, they’re also called Racoon Dogs.” (Naofumi)

While I was informing her, Raphtalia made a really sullen face.

Well, it’s because they’re not really a popular animal.

In reality, there aren’t many personified-tanuki heroines in manga or light novels, and they’re not very famous.

“In other words, Naofumi-san thinks I am like this?” (Raphtalia)

“No, I didn’t say that much. There’s also an animal with a similar name, the Racoon. They’re also called Araiguma though.” (Naofumi) [T/N: lit. Washing Bear, the Japanese name for Racoon.]

I used the computer to show Raphtalia.

When I tried searching, they appeared quite sufficiently.

“I feel like I know what Naofumi-san is thinking when he sometimes looks at me.” (Raphtalia)

Oh? I have a hunch that a strange misunderstanding has arisen.

Well, it’s also true though.

“And so you pictured this when you were giving me an alias, I see.”
(Raphtalia) [T/N: Shigaraki Tanuko]

“Don’t be like that.” (Naofumi)

“Hmph…….” (Raphtalia)

Ah, Raphtalia was sulking.

That is, it is quite rude to be compared to Shigaraki ware.

"It couldn't be helped. Because there was an animal that resembled a Demi-human." (Naofumi)

"Sigh... I understand. I understand but it's hard to accept it." (Raphtalia)

"And so, this is... It looks like a piggybank." (Naofumi)

"It seems so. There's a hole at the back for inserting money." (Raphtalia)

With sounds of jingling, Raphtalia shook the Shigaraki piggybank.

I wonder where it was bought?

"...Father wasn't this big though?" (Raphtalia)

"Huh?"

"Nothing!" (Raphtalia)

There was even something like that.

Apart from that, Raphtalia, who had been learning the alphabet little by little, tampered with my computer while I was in the toilet and was astonished at my playing of dating sims.

In the end, Raphtalia with an erotic scene reflected in her gaze was terrifying.

Well, I suppose it's similar to the slate terminal and keyboard in Rat's laboratory so it's not like she wouldn't know how to use it.

"R-raphtalia?" (Naofumi)

She clicked with the mouse as if she didn't hear me, her face bright red. I was worried she would decide nothing else mattered and kill time for a while.

However, Raphtalia was also of the appropriate age... No, based on her actual age, isn't this no good?

She was the same age as me in our census though.

"This is···." (Raphtalia)

"He~y." (Naofumi)

"Hyau!" (Raphtalia)

Surprised, Raphtalia stiffened and then fell off her chair with a thud.

She appeared extremely flustered and panicked.

I understand her feelings.

If someone came up to me when I was reading an erotic book, I'd probably feel considerably shaken.

"Ah, Naofumi-sa..n." (Raphtalia)

"I'd rather you didn't touch other people's computers that much but···.."
(Naofumi)

"S-sorry." (Raphtalia)

I have a hunch that it was too late, because Raphtalia had already quite a few of the manga in my room.

There were times where she'd read somewhat enthusiastically.

She had seemed embarrassed to ask me what was written. Moreover, going to my little brother and asking.

She was often seen with an erotic doujin that she got from somewhere.

When I speculated, it was established that she borrowed it from my little brother.

Despite telling others to buy doujinshi for him, what was my little brother planning by showing them to the pure-hearted Raphtalia.

And yet he goes and lends out doujinshi and dating sims from other people's rooms as if it were natural.

And well···. Various things happened.

I remember my dark history.

I think Raphtalia did well but···.

"Naofumi-sa..n···.. Come over here." (Raphtalia)

I'd prefer it if she didn't copy those dating sim characters and lie on the bed while saying that sort of thing.

Being influenced by a game and doing the same actions is just like someone from another world, huh.

One way or another, getting influenced by fictional works can't be helped. Because that's how pure she was.

Even so, I have to caution her when she's mistaken.

"It's fine if it's just fiction but I'll get weak in reality. In Sadina's case···.

Well, she does it as a joke but Raphtalia is fine as you are now." (Naofumi)

"I-is that so····." (Raphtalia)

She seems somewhat disappointed.

Raphtalia was relatively active though·····

She probably researched because she thought I'd be pleased by this.

In reality, I do feel a little happy but this course is wrong.

I kind of felt like Raphtalia is being contaminated by modern society.

I wonder if it's alright?

And that···. Let's think about that later.

Right now is the Four Saint Weapons book.

I think I should talk about the continuation.

Itsuki and the others who were left behind had sunken into despair at losing us, but they couldn't cry forever.

It seems the Goddess commandeered the resurrected Queen and invaded Melromark together with the Reincarnates.

They used the Queen, who was well versed in Trash's tactics, and because the opponent was the resurrected Queen, Trash was in a bad condition and wasn't able to seriously refine their tactics, putting Melromark at a disadvantage.

The Vassals were certainly strong, but the Reincarnates became strong due to being granted various abilities by Medea, and so apparently they had a handicap.

The story referred to them as the Hero of the Bow or the Hero of the Cane and such though.

The Four Saint Weapons book had written that Itsuki was fighting at the frontlines along with the people that the Hero of the Shield left behind. Within that were also descriptions which seemed to refer to Sadina, Kiel, Raph-chan and Gaelion.

Gaelion was treated as the Dragon Emperor.

In the text, there was an explanation saying that the unsealed Ouryuu was useless as the worlds had already assimilated completely.

Damn.... So it's saying we erred in regards to when to release our final measure.

But.. As if we could sacrifice two thirds of the world population.

I could infer from the text, that every day was leading to ruin.

Scenes in which Firo tried hard and played an active role were also mentioned.

She had been the one who mourned the most at our deaths.

It seems Melty somehow encouraged her.

Right now, Melty was proceeding to the frontline as a commander.

It seemed they were somehow trying to find a way out.

Even then, the result was poor, now was certainly when the collapse of the frontline commenced.

It was a scene in which showed the Reincarnates facing Melty.

We couldn't do anything.

It was extremely frustrating. It's like saying dead people can't do anything.

It looks like there haven't been any more casualties among the heroes since then but I don't know how long that will last.

I'm in the real world that I had longed to return to for ages, but when I see this kind of thing, I'm not sure what to do.

So far, we've been spending our days looking for a solution, wondering if there was anything we could do.

The Net Games aren't linked from that point anyway... if we were able to return, I'd procure weapons from modern society for everyone and—.. or so I considered.

I guess swords, spears, and small arms are probably things I can't obtain in Japan.

And so I bought various weapon encyclopedias from the bookstore as a substitute idea.

Because it seems like we could make some ground-breaking arms if I show them to the Old Man at the Weapon Shop.

In addition, I went to places like the hardware store and bought meaningless items that looked as if they could be absorbed into our weapons.

There were drills and such, but a Drill Spear?

If I had to say then it seems like they'll become Itsuki's equipment based on their shape though.

I wonder if Ren will be like us and do something in his own world?

Because his world is a Sci-Fi world.

If we could meet again, it seems like he'd bring some amazing weapons.

Meeting again... I wonder if it's possible.

At this rate, won't we just stay in the real world without being able to do anything?

We searched through various texts and all sorts of other things but we couldn't find any useful information.

We also investigated whether there were any humans who had been transported from another world, but well... we didn't discover any, fictional works were the limit.

I also wondered whether there were games or stories that were similar but the result was unfavourable.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 360 – Choice

---

“Oy! You’re listening, right? Do something!” (Naoumi)

How many times have I called out to the Four Holy Weapons’ Manual and Shield Strap up until now?

The day is already ending...

My parents cautioned me to go study for college, but my body is unable to. What do you want me to do?

“Oy!” (Naofumi)

I slam the book shut.

“Raphtalia.” (Naofumi)

“What is it?” (Raphtalia)

“... Perhaps we’re already too late.” (Naofumi)

We’ve had absolutely no progress since getting here, and perhaps there truly is nothing we can do.

As I was thinking that, I got the feeling that my field of vision was turning pitch black.

“I... think it would be best if I stopped reading this book...” (Naofumi)

The days pile onto each other, and I can’t keep reading the book that records the path leading to the deaths of my comrades.

“Forget everything, and as if nothing happened...” (Naofumi)

On my words, Raphtalia seems like she’s about to burst into tears.

“Please, don’t say something like that.” (Raphtalia)

“I know, but...” (Naofumi)

"Until the end, you cannot give up." (Raphtalia)

"..." (Naofumi)

"Didn't you want to return here after bringing peace to the world? I hate it. An ending that leaves such a bad taste in my mouth." (Raphtalia)

"That's true... but even if we were to return to that world, what would we do?" (Naofumi)

"What do you mean by that?" (Raphtalia)

"You know what I'm trying to say, right?" (Naofumi)

My question leaves Raphtalia silent.

Right, the identity of Medea's attacks remain unknown.

What's more, she took all the Heroes attacks as if they were on lower levels than mosquitoes.

Even if we got a little bit of damage through, it was but a scratch. It's best to think we had absolutely no chance of victory there.

My job was to protect. But, insufficient in my role, I wasn't able to do anything as I was taken out.

I don't even think it has anything to do with ability or anything.

"To her, that fight was just a game... wasn't it?" (Naofumi)

She flaunted her advantage so readily. There's no way I wouldn't despair over that loss.

Even if we were able to return to that world, we would only end up dead again.

"Even so... I will fight." (Raphtalia)

"Raphtalia..." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia puts her hand on my face.

“Naofumi-sa, n, even if you get the chance, please stay in this world. I am… going to follow the path I believe is right. I don’t want to choose the option that leaves me having died a pointless death.” (Raphtalia)

Her words made me remember my own irritation, and made me want to smack myself for becoming a coward.

“That’s right… we can’t just stop fighting because we lost. Even if we may just die over there… it would be for what we believed in.” (Naofumi)

Just what was I so afraid of?

Right now, there truly is a bitch trying to end the world for fun.

Medea said it was for leveling up or something.

As if I’d let it get destroyed for the sake of that!

Tomorrow onwards, let’s increase the scope of our investigations.

There may be some library out there with something like the Four Holy Weapons’ Manual.

“Raphtalia, don’t underestimate me. I would never be satisfied if I ran away here. Because when I met the Spirit of the Shield and Atlas, I made a decision. I would bring peace to the world, and then live in this world with you once I was satisfied with the conclusion.” (Naofumi)

In an instant, color drained from the world, and sound disappeared in its entirety.

“W-what!?”

When I look out the window, I saw that the birds had stopped in midair, with their wings positioned to flap.

The Four Holy Weapons’ Manual began letting off a faint light, as it floated in the air.

Even though it never reacted once ‘til now, what’s it doing?

The pages rapidly flip back and forth.

The Shield Strap starts emitting light as well, and the light took a form of a person.

That shape was... Atlas.

"It's been a while, Naofumi-sama."

"Atlas... san." (Raphtalia)

"Yes. It's been even longer, Raphtalia-san." (Atlas)

"Atlas? Why are you coming out of the Shield? Are you alright?" (Naofumi)

"For now, yes. As you can see, the time in Naofumi-sama's world is currently stopped." (Atlas)

"Well..." (Naofumi)

I already got that part from the window, and there's no sound or color coming from the rest of the world.

If it was in another world, I wouldn't be that surprised, but it's a bit disturbing over here.

"Is this really my world?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, it is indeed Naofumi-sama's world. This world's principle of cause and effect has been tampered with to allow Raphtalia to have a place in it, it seems." (Atlas)

"Fumu... and? Why did they do something like this?" (Naofumi)

"A reward... it seems." (Atlas)

Atlas closes her eyes part-way.

A reward, is it?

That's quite some nice service you're offering if you're going to give a reward to the guy who retired before reaching the goal.

Well, looking at Atlas's expression, I can see this won't be that nice of a chat.

"From the Spirit of the Shield?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. As an emergency measure, the Spirit of the Shield reluctantly sent you back to your original world.” (Atlas)

“Well yeah, I would have died at that rate.” (Naofumi)

“Yeah, it’s a blessing you had that medicine inside of your Shield.” (Atlas)

“That medicine?” (Naofumi)

“What you put in to unlock the Shield of 0.”

Ah, that dragon-repelling poison.

It had a skill effective against God, so I wondered what other powers it had, but it can even let you evade death?

“Because of that medicine, the Four Heroes were barely able to retain their power, and Naofumi-sama was barely able to fool death.” (Atlas)

That means the possibility Ren and Motoyasu are still alive is high. Also, if some of the other Heroes die once, perhaps it’d be alright.

“Let me say this first, but the Vassal’s lives aren’t guaranteed. Raphtalia-san was revived on a whim, apparently.” (Atlas)

With a somewhat sullen expression, Atlas says this while facing Raphtalia.

“It was a mistake, a miracle stemming from Raphtalia’s coincidence with Naofumi-sama, and her connection to his heart at the time.” (Atlas)

Sparks seem to fly between the two women.

No matter what happens, she never changes.

“And so? Why are you doing something like this now?” (Naofumi)

“According to the Spirit of the Shield, he wants to ask you what you want to do from here on out.” (Atlas)

“… You mean whether to forget everything, and live in this world in peace, or die in a foreign world?” (Naofumi)

“… Yes.” (Atlas)

Atlas gives her response after a heavy period of silence.

Those options are quite harsh.

For one week, I've lived here with Raphtalia. It's not as if I don't feel that it would be nice to do this forever.

That's just how comfortable it was.

"The Spirit of the Shield says your opponent was just too powerful. That there's no established way to defeat someone even the 0 Skills didn't work on." (Atlas)

"So they don't have any measures?" (Naofumi)

Until the wave ended, didn't they summon the Four Heroes because they would be able to overcome it?

"Originally, they would just wait for the wave to quiet down, and even in the worst of situations, there was a possibility to avert them with the 0 Skills." (Atlas)

"What do you mean by that?"

I think I heard something similar from her earlier.

That on the path to overcoming the wave, it would somehow work out. It's as if they have some sort of flaw, or disadvantage.

"That much is... it's just that based on the power offered by the medicine, those of the physical world should be put in a disadvantageous situation if the wave extends for too long... or it should be like that." (Atlas)

Disadvantageous situation...

Does that bitch of a Goddess have something like a weakness?

In the first place, there has to be a reason why she never came down to the world in the first place.

For someone with strange powers like hers, I'm sure she's destroyed various worlds before.

"But the world's already assimilated." (Naofumi)

"Yes. It's already... too late, says the Spirit of the Shield." (Atlas)

Too late...

I was summoned as a Hero, and I came all the way here. Yet it just ends with those words?

But...

"As if I could give up that easily." (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Raphtalia)

"Yes... and so, the Spirit of the Shield will wring out his last bit of power, and give it an all or nothing chance by opening the door to our world. He's asking for your decision." (Atlas)

"So it's a one-way ticket to hell?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. This time, if you lose, it's truly the end. You really will die. No... death may be one of the better fates you could receive." (Atlas)

That goddess can move even the dead to her will. Even if I die, I may end up her puppet.

How troublesome.

"Even so... will you go back?" (Atlas)

Even if I survive, I can't return. That's what the Spirit of the Shield is trying to tell me.

"I am... always with Naofumi-sama. Raphtalia-san is also here. I do feel bad for everyone, and Onii-sama, but... giving up is still a valid option. No one there would ever blame Naofumi-sama or Raphtalia-san for it." (Atlas)

"I don't want to. For me... Naofumi-sama, the world, they're all irreplaceable." (Raphtalia)

"As expected of Raphtalia-san. The Spirit of the Hammer is quite happy for you." (Atlas)

"Naofumi-sama, regardless of what decision you make here, I must follow that path I've chosen. I offer my deepest apologies." (Raphtalia)

"... No? Raphtalia, I just said it before, right?" (Naofumi)

When she class-upped, and in various other times, I said but a single thing.

I want her to choose the life she wants to live.

That even if I wasn't there, she had to choose her path for herself.

And by that right, Raphtalia has chosen to return to her original world, and fight.

I have not the qualifications to stop her.

This is my problem, and mine alone.

So what should I do?

Let's see... if all of this happiness was for the sake of this decision, then I think I would curse fate as I accepted it.

No matter what conclusion comes about, in order to not leave any regrets, I want to protect everyone with my life on the line.

"It appears that you've already come to a conclusion..." (Atlas)

"Atlas, I'm sorry. I'm going to have to waste the life you sacrificed your life to save." (Naofumi)

"No... as long as Naofumi-sama is satisfied with is, I will always follow and serve you." (Atlas)

"Yep, I'm going to return to that world. Even if it ends with my death."
(Naofumi)

As I give my response, the strap and manual glow brighter, and a pillar of light manifests.

"Next... if you enter this pillar, you will cross dimensions, and you'll probably be able to get there. I think." (Atlas)

"Oy, oy. Those are some really unreliable words there." (Naofumi)

"Well, the situation is as it is. Apparently, this path has been connected with the greatest possible conditions to ensure things go well. It took a while to accomplish that.” (Atlas)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

“Apparently, Naofumi-sama and Raphtalia-san’s strong desire to return was one of the necessary factors.” (Atlas)

“That sounds like the plot of an old game.” (Naofumi)

In that game, you win in the end, and get your Happy Ending, but I don’t have much hope for this one.

If you ask me whether I’m scared or not, I’m terrified.

In the first place, in all the fights I’ve been in, there’s never been one where I wasn’t afraid.

And I’ve never faced a supreme being who I had no means of dealing with.

Yep, I’m pretty sure I’ll die.

Even so, I just don’t want to give up.

It’s quite a strange feeling.

When I came to that world, I honestly wanted it to fall to ruin; but now my mind is filled with thoughts of saving it.

What changed me… Raphtalia, and Atlas. Our comrades that are still fighting at this very moment.

I’m not sure if I should say this myself, but my personality is quite twisted.

It isn’t the best.

But still, this isn’t a bad feeling.

That’s right.

We’re not returning just to die.

We’re returning to give it a shot.

If my feelings are what invited me to that world, then I’ll just follow what I believe in.

“The Spirit of the Hammer is in agreement. Please be careful.” (Atlas)

“Yes, thank you very much.” (Raphtalia)

As Raphtalia answers, Atlas smiles... she changes into a mass of light, and vanishes.

We gather up all the things we thought would be useful in that world. I'll bet they won't actually be of any use, but they'll at least be of some relief.

"Then, I guess we'll be off." (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Raphtalia)

We muster up our courage, and plunged into the pillar of light.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 361 – An Enemy of an Enemy is

---

It's not like we're just going there to die.
We're leaving to protect everyone.
I envisioned that wish strongly in my mind.

Even if we don't have the power to defeat Medea, I'll go.
But if possible, I want to protect them.
Even if my body is to rot away.

It felt as if I had suddenly run into a wall at full force.
But there was absolutely no pain.
It was as if I had crashed into a sponge.

What surrounded me was the darkness of night, and in the sky, stars much bigger than normal were glittering.
No, gem-like stars so big that it was offsetting glowed around me.
But the ground was too dark, and I couldn't really see it.
... As I looked around, I realized that Raphtalia wasn't by my side.

"Raphtalia!"

Even if I call out, there's no answer

"Raphtalia!"

I call out her name multiple times, but no voice rises to respond.
Is this already the other world?
I check to see if I can pull up my Status Magic.
... There's no response.

By the light of the stars, I began searching the area.
I trampled the ground of the gentle slope one step at a time as I rose up.

... Just how long have I been walking?

I think it's been around 30 minutes.

On top of the hill, on top of a large stone, I met someone clad in a robe that covered their entire body.

The figure was sitting on the ground as they gazed at the night sky.

Around him, many small lights gathered like fireflies.

His build was... short.

About up to my hip.

But, he had quite a bit of width to him, so I can't imagine him being human.

"You're finally here... I was watching from the top of the hill."

Like that, the robed figure called out to me.

He was watching? In this mountain so dark I can barely see my own feet?

Anyways, I'll try talking to him.

Depending on the outcome, I may end up fighting.

"I've lost my way. Did you happen to see a pretty girl anywhere?"

(Naofumi)

"Eh? What are you talking about?"

This guy looks really shady.

The robe covering his entire body is just way too suspicious.

While he's sitting, there's something off about the way he's wearing it.

There's a strange extension in the back.

I guess I should assume he has a tail under there.

A Demi-human, or perhaps a Beastman. That possibility is high.

"More importantly, if you tell Me where you were trying to go, I may be of some help."

"My, how kind of you. Sorry, but I don't have a personality that lets me trust people like that.” (Naofumi)

“I see… then why don’t I start by telling you about Me?”

He dismounted the rock, and started to walk towards me as he answered.
The light of his fireflies illuminated the area.

“To put it bluntly, you guys ran into Me. That’s why I was a bit curious.”

“What?” (Naofumi)

“When you got here, did you not feel yourself running into something? That was Me.”

“I… see…” (Naofumi)

So that back there was his fault?

Does that mean we failed in transporting to the other world?

“You sure made a mess of things!” (Naofumi)

“W-why are you getting angry? I was just walking around normally. The ones who suddenly changed your path and crashed into Me was you guys, wasn’t it?”

“Mu…” (Naofumi)

Thinking back, Atlas told me to wish strongly to return to the world. Instead, I… wished to protect everyone.

I was also thinking about beating that Goddess.

This train of thought… could it be it altered my course?

Ge… Then only Raphtalia was able to go back? What should I do!?

Shield! Please respond!

I think that as I confirm the Shield Strap.

A light comes out of it, and starts circling the robed figure before me.

And wait, aren’t those fireflies circling the area the Holy Weapon Spirits!?

"You... just who are you!? Why are you accompanied by the Spirits?"

(Naofumi)

"So you can see them?"

The dubious robed figure seems surprised.

"Well, even if you say I'm accompanied by them... unfortunately, I can't really see them, you know."

"Are you blind?" (Naofumi)

(TL: Not an insult, an honest question)

"No, it's not that. I can't see Spirits, or beings of that sort. I guess it has something to do with My constitution?"

...

Something clicks, and the robed guy started to bring something out from the robe's depths.

Is it a weapon!?

I braced myself without thinking, but the figure merely opened his hands to show it to me.

It was an expensive-looking necklace with intricate ornaments fastened on it.

"This is what's attracting the Spirits here. You see, the Spirits can't perceive Me either."

He threw the necklace to the ground at my feet.

And the surrounding spirits started swarming around it.

... He doesn't appear to be lying.

"Even if you ask me who I am, I'm not sure if you'd be able to understand any answer I give. If circumstances permitted, I would like to tell you, I guess. About how a normal person ended up in a place like this."

Even the Spirit of the Shield left it to approach him.

There may be some merit in listening to what he has to say.

In the first place, there's also the question of where it is I am.

"Can I ask you something?" (Naofumi)

"I'll give you as many answers as you want."

"... Then, where is this?" (Naofumi)

I do think the starry sky is pretty, but I really can't see where I'm going.

Even with the light of the spirits, that doesn't really change.

"Here? Would you understand if I called it the dimensional rift?"

"What?" (Naofumi)

"It's the space between one world and another. Each and every light you see floating in the sky is but another world."

(TL: Wait a second, does this robed figure happen to have a drill on him?)

The man points his finger to the sky as he answers.

As I squinted my eyes, I could see that they were, indeed, not stars.

They kinda looked like crystal balls floating in space, I guess? Not like true stars.

And they looked closer than I thought. As if I could reach out and grab one if I had a ladder.

"This is the rift you can reach from any world. You seem to have come from a world without magic, so I guess if I put it simply, this would be space?

Well, something similar to that. A rule-less world of disorder. A normal human would be guaranteed to get lost here."

"Well... I do understand that my sense of common sense isn't working here."
(Naofumi)

"So it isn't."

I gaze up at the sky.

I saw the circular stars shining brightly.

These orbs, so each and every one of them is its own world... Where is the one I want to reach?

Unless the Spirit of the Shield tells me, I have no way of knowing.

"What's next?

"Let's see... who are you?" (Naofumi)

Let's assume the Spirit of the Shield can guide me where I need to go. Now why did this spirit draw closer to him?

"Before that, I'd like you to tell me a little about yourself. Or else, I'll have no way of answering."

"Mu..." (Naofumi)

Yeah, before pressing a guy for information, it's best that I at least name myself.

Even I've hidden my rank to do things in that world.

If you want to ask for money, you have to find out what the other person wants first.

Meaning I'll have to give him an understanding of my situation.

His robe's been suspicious from the start, but he seems to be earnestly answering my questions.

"My name is Iwatani Naofumi. In a modern world without magic, I'm a college student, and in a certain world, I was summoned as the Hero of the Shield." (Naofumi)

"Is that so? About how far advanced is the world you call modern?"

"...?" (Naofumi)

"You didn't get that? The fact that there are so many worlds out there means there's magic civilizations, machine civilizations, and many, many more. So when you tell me a modern world... is it a world with robots, or one that runs on magic? I'd just like a general idea on what sort of world it is."

The only response I could give to that was silence.

What sort of civilization?

Just how far along is my own world?

I was raised on Manga and Games, so I have a slight grasp of it, but I only have my own world, and a magical middle age-ish world to compare, so it's a bit hard to determine.

"Let's see... Having an idea of its tendencies and structure is enough. How old is it? Does it have autonomous sentient AI robots? Just how great is its ability to transfer information?"

"Its age is..."

I answered the robe's questions to some extent.

And he nodded, as if he was satisfied.

"I see. Thanks. And so, you were summoned to another world by the spirits to lend them your power."

"Well... you're not wrong." (Naofumi)

"Well, that's just how most summons go nowadays. And?"

"Yeah, I was summoned to a world on the brink of ruin. And there, I fought the wave, a phenomenon of world assimilation. But a girl who called herself God used a mysterious attack, and when I thought I had been killed, I was sent back to my own modern world. After that... well, I'm in the middle of going back to the world I was summoned to once more." (Naofumi)

I make things short, as I explain my own situation to the robe.

He nods again and again.

"So you've made me say all that. I'll have you answer my questions."
(Naofumi)

"Naturally. Then I'll speak of everything that is within the scope of what I'm allowed to say."

He cleared his throat, before speaking once more.

"I'm a being who has crossed many worlds to kill the one you are fighting, a slayer of gods. That's perfect for you, right?"

"Wha—"

Wait, wait, wait. What's this supposed to mean?

Someone that convenient actually exists?

"It appears you don't believe Me."

"Of course not. If someone like you existed, then why isn't she dead yet?"

(Naofumi)

"Hey, you see... please look up at the sky."

As told, I look up.

Infinite worlds stacked up next to one another.

"I'm just a single person, you know? There are as many people plotting such things as there are stars in this sky. And for a long time, many of these problems have been breaking out simultaneously. There's no way I could deal with all of them."

"As many as there are stars in the sky?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah. Since you've kept up with me this far, I guess I can tell you what sort of beings they are."

The robe started explaining things one at a time.

"They're generally the results of worlds too ancient."

"Ancient?" (Naofumi)

"Putting it in your world's standards, if science and technology continued to advance without end, what do you think would happen?"

"I wonder..." (Naofumi)

I don't really like getting sucked into his pace, but let's try thinking about it.

A world with advanced technology.

The world I knew had magic, and heroes, and monsters.
If you were to give it a genre, it would be fantasy.

So a technological one would be Sci-fi.
ESPers, and giant robots. Things like that would fight.

“According to Manga, I guess there would be giant robot wars across the cosmos.” (Naofumi)

“After that. Try thinking of what comes next.”

“... I don’t know.” (Naofumi)

There are plenty of diverging possibilities.

Humanity could decline, it could continue to advance, it could migrate to another star.

“Well, they number few, but there are some who put their efforts into stopping death.”

“I... see...” (Naofumi)

“Eventually, that research comes to fruition, and the populace becomes immortal. Bodies that don’t die no matter how much you cut them up. Souls that don’t wither no matter how many millions of years pass.”

That’s already transitioning into the realm of literary creation.

I’ve read stories about immortal bodies. They were always harsh ones.

Even so, if they even modified souls not to wither, then maybe they could stand the test of time.

And it’s not like only a single individual’s immortal, so I guess that can be called the completion of one civilization.

(TL: And then there’s boredom, and sleep, and angels falling from the sky)

“When that happens, there’s always that one guy who proclaims themselves god, and looks down on all those that are of the same make as them. That’s still fine in itself. They make moves to control more and more, and conquer their entire world. Then, what's next? How about expanding to yet another world?"

... I see. How simple. How idiotic.

Stuff like that was done in my world, and that world as well.

"So they start invasions of other worlds?" (Naofumi)

"Correct. This time, they take the magic they call science to another world, and go to war. And the amount of worlds they control increases. In order to fulfill their greed, I guess. Some of them get killed, but I'll bet most of them see success."

"That's more troublesome than anything. So is that her identity?" (Naofumi)

"No, that was just an example, so it's probably different. There are countless ways to ascend to that level, and if you had to say, I think she leans towards the magic side of the spectrum. You can imagine it to some extent, right?"

"Then tell me. What is her goal? She said she wanted EXP." (Naofumi)

"It's probably just as she said. She wants to get stronger."

"Stronger?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah. She sucks magic and life out of the world, and converts it to her own power. And if that happens, the only thing left for the parched world is to disappear. Well, I'll bet the number of worlds she can turn to power is limited."

I tried to get into the robe's in-depth explanation.

So she came to suck all the power from that world, and she can't do anything to a world without magic.

"She used attacks with things like infinity, and 100% and unlimited in their names. If you don't know exactly what she did... I guess they were conceptual attacks. Since she attacked past, present, and future, it looks like she can do temporal attacks too. If she even attacked parallel worlds, she really, REALLY wanted you dead, man."

"Conceptual attack..." (Naofumi)

I try to remember that Damn Goddess's attack.
I died without knowing anything.
It was probably that.

"Right. She just faces her enemies, and declares as such. It's like the logic of a child's game. The means don't actually matter, as long as she transmits the message 『The Enemy has Died』 across. Even if you used all the means in the world I doubt you would be able to beat an enemy like that. She politely told you she was eternal, and immortal, and perpetual, or something like that, and she seemed to be obsessive over her speed too, so she must be quite the battle maniac."

Pushing messages onto people...

Honestly, I have no idea what he's talking about, but let's forget common sense for a second.

Normally, you would have to damage an enemy, and they would die in a pool of their own blood.

If you take away the damage and the blood, the enemy dies without anything happening to them.

I really doubt such a thing is possible, but she definitely did something crazy and illogical like that.

"For someone like that... how can I win?" (Naofumi)

"So I think it's best to wait for someone in a similar position to her, don't you think? The spirit lending you power was probably waiting for something like that to come."

"What?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, sorry, I forgot the explanation. Of course, for every world that tries to conquer another, there's another that tries to protect. There's an unlimited number of worlds out there. For pleasure, to satisfy their senses of justice, there are some like that too."

Sense of Justice, is it?

The past Itsuki, Motoyasu, and Ren pop up in my head.

It's true that helping others can make you feel good.

There's rarely a person who finds the honest thanks of others to be displeasing.

And that feeling is amplified the worse the greater the depravity of their opponents.

But this guy... the way he put it seems to be concealing some meaning.

No, that may be to make me feel relieved.

We were just having a normal conversation, but it's not like we're allies, and I'm not sure if I can trust him.

There's no defining rule that says the enemy of an enemy is a friend.

There's plenty a chance that the enemy of an enemy is but another enemy.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 362 – Immortality

---

“Did you find My explanation strange?”

“Yeah.” (Naofumi)

“But, I mean… rules are relative to each world. What’s right and wrong is dependent on the person, right? It’s not like I don’t see that. And to fulfill a sense of justice, there’s plenty a world that would lend its power and cause the fall of another.”

“What? Weren’t they supposed to save the world from its collapse?”
(Naofumi)

“In your world’s words, would you fight an armed criminal empty-handed? In order to replenish the power expended saving the world, they’ll probably use some of it as fodder.”

“That’s putting the cart before the horse.” (Naofumi)

“The larger bug kills the smaller ones to survive. Is that wrong?”

… I can’t deny it.

Rules are whatever was made by the people there. There’s some logic to that.

From my experience I can say that persecuting the Hero of the Shield is Melromark’s rule.

In truth, from the perspective of the many different forces I fought, I’m seen as the bad guy.

Since I’m evil, the right thing to do is defeat evil.

“But… she’s already descended to the world, right?”

“Yeah, and she’s dragged eight different worlds together.” (Naofumi)

“It’s probable that in the world that you’re trying to go to, the conditions needed for her to descend was the linking of eight worlds.”

“I don’t know the exact logic behind it, but that seemed to be the case.”
(Naofumi)

Putting together the information I have, that seems right.

Or else, all she would have to do is come down and kill everyone in order to level.

If there was a reason she couldn't, that's the safest guess by process of elimination.

"That's right. Let's compare this all to a paper. You can place a light stone on it, right? But what about if the stone were heavier? You'll need a paper thick enough to support it. The paper is the world, and the stone, god. No, it's probably completely different, but I guess if she just came down as she pleased, there would be terrible aftereffects."

A paper and a stone...

After the world assimilation started, the monsters levels all rose drastically. The paper's capacity wasn't high enough, so it spiked its level?

The world has its own width, and a set amount of weight it can carry. She gets it just big enough to sustain her before coming down. I guess there's some sense to it.

"... I get what you're saying. Then if we report it to a defending world, will we be saved?" (Naofumi)

"It's probably impossible. It'll be hard to get all the way there."

"What do you mean?" (Naofumi)

"The one who latched onto your world seems to be playing. Like a game, she makes the countries and people of the world fight just to see who will win. And regardless of whatever country comes out on top, if she senses a threat coming closer, she'll immediately suck up all the power in the world, pack up, and run away. In order to see those that believed in her, those that were delighted at their own victory, fall into despair, and laugh. I've heard about something like that. People who find delight in things like that."

Just how much of a bitch is she?

Nothing's happened yet, but I still feel anger building in my stomach.

“To put it simply, it’s devolved down to a situation where the world will be destroyed at the push of a button. It’s not within the scope where it can be saved. Too late. Even with her grand talks of the past, present, or future, once the world itself is gone, there’s no reversing time. There’s only something like migrating to another world.”

“But that doesn’t mean I can give up!” (Naofumi)

I have a single wish. To bring peace to that place.

I decided. I will save that world.

“I know. I never told you to give up. Even so… with her doing that much, I guess she’s at least being monitored, but there’s… Internal discord, was it called?”

As the robed figure muttered to himself, I imagined a criminal infiltrating the ranks of a police force.

While earning trust, he continues to perpetrate crimes.

Even if he makes a report to the Spirits, if the person reporting is on the other side to start with, help won’t come.

“Then are you… a citizen of one of those protecting worlds?” (Naofumi)

“No. I’m different. I’m just in this line of work because I want to be. I’m just doing whatever I believe in. And so, I have as many reasons to fight as there are people in this world.”

“Truly infinite?” (Naofumi)

“Right. Whatever’s the right course of action varies by place. Though I think the one you’re fighting has a bit too twisted of a personality.”

I see… I mutter, as the robed figure takes a few steps forward, and points.

“The world you’re trying to reach is probably that one. But even if you can see it from here, it’s quite far.”

He points into the distant sky.

And there, a single large ball floated.

But from a glance, I could tell it was warping into a more elliptical shape.

Inside, some force was acting to try to contract the ball, and make it smaller. That's how it looked.

"If it's that one, then I've been there before. There should have been someone to protect it as well, but it seems he isn't there anymore."

"So you've been to that world?" (Naofumi)

"I've lent a little bit of my power to that one. I sometimes lend power to children like you too."

"..." (Naofumi)

"Let's say I gave you three wishes. Now then, what is it that you want?"

He suddenly brought up a question.

... I suddenly remember a demon of a lamp.

"Will it be money? Reviving the dead? Power? Having the one you like look your way? Or could it be... immortality?"

"Y-yeah."

"I gave that world the power to kill those immortal. And that world on the other side just watched as an immortal made a mess of another."

So there are fiends in every world.

It's not just that Bitch Goddess... This really is an unfair place.

"Is your world a paradise? With the movies, and manga, and anime you know of, isn't that world like the story you've always dreamed of?"

"No, it's more of a pain." (Naofumi)

"I see. And, in the worlds I've stopped by, so that they can manage on their own, so with opponents of that level, they'll be able to manage to some extent, I lend them my power. The reason you were able to survive after getting hit by a conceptual attack is probably due to that..."

So that's why I was able to survive her attacks that had things like infinite and eternal in their names, and flee to my world?
Atlas did say something like that before we left.
I think it connects to that story before.

What is it that an immortal will do?
Make their own kingdom, and show off their own immortal status?

"What do you do about Evil Gods? If things go well, can't they be defeated?"
(Naofumi)

"Gods like that are just in it for the pleasure, so they give up quite quickly. As long as they can't die, there are plenty of opportunities, and plenty of worlds out there. But this time is different. She's just bloodthirsty. There's no way you can win."

"I understand what you're saying. I can only take this as an elaborate joke, but it's not like you're devoid of logic. Then what should I do?" (Naofumi)

"Want Me to go beat her? You won't have any part in it, but it serves to benefit both of us."

"If you get close, isn't the world done for?" (Naofumi)

"That's because she can sense protecting worlds. I... can't be sensed by the Spirits, so I can go undetected to some extent. I think it'll be fine."

He did say he can't be sensed by Spirits.
It's safe to assume there's something special about him.

"But protecting the world will be difficult. If I'm right before her eyes, then of course she'll notice me, and if I try defeating her from afar, I'll end up erasing all foreign matter in that world along with her. I'm not that skillful. In the worst case, she'll disappear along with the world."

"Foreign matter? Can't you just erase all of that from the world?" (Naofumi)

"Wait, what I mean by foreign matter is all those who came from another world. Those whose bodies are disjointed from the world's truth, and a few other things. I'll end up eliminating them regardless if they be friend or foe. That will probably end with the deaths of the Heroes too..."

The robed figure's right arm overflowed with light.

And what appeared on it was a claw of light identical in form to the Claw of 0.

But the size was quite different.

Firo's Claw of 0 preserved its shape and size as a claw while it was used.

But the claw the robe showed me looked as if several swords had been stacked next to one another.

It's probable that the power he lent that world was that bottle Fitoria kept in the ruins.

That means... this guy is my life's savior.

Then perhaps I should believe in him.

No, if you think about it, I came here knowing fully well I would probably die.

If there's any measure we have to beat her, if along with the world, we die, and this guy beats the bitch Goddess, then perhaps my regrets will fade.

... No.

If we beat her, then it's for the sake of protecting the world.

It's because we couldn't do that that we're so troubled. I can't let this come to pass.

"There's a possibility the world will fall to ruin, but I'm sure I can kill that Goddess. In order to prevent any more havoc by her hand, should I end it here?"

"Wait." (Naofumi)

I grab the shoulder of the robe.

I decided at that time. That I would protect the world.

"What's wrong?"

"Is there no other way?" (Naofumi)

"None... if I said that, would you give up?"

I silently shake my head.

"As I thought."

The robed man dissolved the claw in his hand, and turned to me.

"I... decided to save that world." (Naofumi)

"Then with that resolve in mind, do you swear to never look back? Can you live on without regrets? Will you hate the world if, in order to save it, you become a sacrifice to it?"

"How foolish. Would someone who couldn't do that crawl his way back from death?" (Naofumi)

There are people I want to protect.

There are people I want to save.

There are people I love.

If I become a sacrifice for them, then that's a cheap price to pay.

And wait, that really isn't any different than before.

"I've kept you talking for a while. I have to go there as soon as I can."
(Naofumi)

I turn my feet to the world the robed man had pointed to.

"If a normal person tried walking there, they'd get into a world of problems. I'll take you, so just wait a little longer."

"Like I care! There's a place I must go. I don't care what happens to me on the way." (Naofumi)

I say the words that had been on my tongue since the moment I decided to go.

"I'll never regret it." (Naofumi)

As if the robed man had given up, he hung his shoulders.

“... Got it.”

The robed figure took off his robe, and started folding it.

There... stood the strange lifeform depicted in Fitoria's murals.

Summing it all up, he was something like a cat. He was bipedal, and his width was a bit unnatural.

But not to the extent of the beckoning cat, or earless blue robot.

He was wearing overalls, and his tail had the appearance of that of a lizard's. I can only see him as some sort of cat beastman.

The Spirit of the Shield starts to circle me.

It's as if he's saying, 'I believe in you.'

“You're going to die, you know? You're fine with that?”

“When I first went to that world, I discovered that life itself was a battle. Even if you're simply basking in a warm bath one day, you know that an end will eventually come. There's a time when you'll die. And in order not to have any regrets, I'm going to go ahead.” (Naofumi)

Even if this choice leads to ruin... I won't hold a grudge.

“Well then... just keep on going far, far in that direction, and you should get there. That's the path you were on before you bumped into Me.”

“I see. I won't say this discussion was useless. Thank you.” (Naofumi)

Well, I really don't know. But I'll believe him for as much as the favor of indirectly saving my life is worth.

Hmm? Wait a second.

Can you get to a star in the sky by foot? No, I don't have any other means in the first place.

It doesn't seem the Spirit of the Shield can do anything to send me there right now.

Even so, it would be worse to have the suspicious guy I just met take me there.

I understand that he was going to do something with an unclear result. In the first place, the world I'm looking for is right before my eyes, so shouldn't I just get up and go?

"Come to think of it, you had me introduce myself, and you never gave your name." (Naofumi)

"My name? I have quite a few, but are you fine with the one I've been called for the longest amount of time?"

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

"Arc."

"I see. Well, Later then." (Naofumi)

"Just a moment. I'll cast a charm to make your journey go well."

"What is it?" (Naofumi)

"First, shake My hand."

Hmm... I don't really think I have the time for something like this.

"Now concentrate your mind... I'll know if you're not doing it, so make sure to do it properly."

"Quit nagging." (Naofumi)

"Calm yourself... yep, I'm done. Fare thee well."

I part from Arc, and started treading down the path.

The light given off by the Spirit of the Shield didn't go forward to lead me. Thoughts of stopping by another world to get a car or rocket pass through my mind.

But that's not my problem.

I mean, there's no looking back, right?

And if I waited for the Spirit of the Shield to guide me back there, I doubt anything would happen.

Atlas did say that was the last bit of his power.

It seems that Arc fellow wanted to take me, but I'll bet that would be just as slow.

Will things get hectic? Don't worry. They already are.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 363 – The Power to Protect Everything

---

And I continued walking down the dark path.

Luckily, it seemed that proceeding down it was possible in itself.

On the way... I'm occasionally forced to take a break before I walk again, further, and further.

Eventually, various worlds start passing me by.

Honestly, I remember hallucinating that I was lost.

Sometimes I found myself in a desert, or a forest... This really is the gap that connects worlds.

But I never met anything, be it monster, animal, or human.

A place without the breath of life... I guess.

I often found my legs sprained and bruised.

But in order to reach that world in the sky I... walked on.

In that world, there's Raphtalia. There's everyone.

I decided to protect it.

Even if I crumble away while seeking my goal, I will...

The Four Holy Weapons' Manual was in my hand.

I would regularly open it, and check for changes.

But the story isn't proceeding.

Many times, I thought there would be no point, but I decided not to give up.

As I continued walking, quite a bit of time passed.

Was it a day, or a week or a month, or even more?

My sense of time is really dull here.

And in the world of the rift, I can't really feel hunger.

In the desert, I was given the sensation of being so hungry I would keel over, and so thirsty I would wither away.

But still, I overcame it.

I get the feeling I've been walking for quite a long time, but still I have yet to reach it.

My body is telling me I've already walked the circumference of the world, but that's probably an exaggeration.

It's usually quite dark, so I really can't tell.

But without the need for sleep, only fatigue piles onto itself.

I forgot that Arc was probably something similar to that Bitch Goddess.

For a human like me, there's a great difference in our sense of time.

When I look in the sky, I see worlds other than the one I'm venturing to sticking to one another.

Is that... World Assimilation?

It really is like two soap bubbles.

My Hair is growing like crazy. Really, just how much time has passed?

But I don't stop moving forward. I don't plan on stopping.

I was sick of it when I wandered into a labyrinth-like world.

I wasn't able to proceed in the direction I wanted to go.

This isn't getting anywhere.

Occasionally, I see shooting stars collide with the worlds in the sky.

I wonder what those are.

I've started to lose a sense for just how far I've walked.

The scenery that remains constant for eternity, I'm sick of looking at the sky above me.

At that point, I was only walking by resolve alone.

It was around that time that my head started to go strange.

I began to hear voices.

If I turn around, I can immediately go to the world I came from.

I can forget everything, and write everything off as a dream. A voice whispered this in my ear.

But, I am... not going to stop proceeding.

I mean, I wasn't able to run away.

There are people who believe in me.

There are people who depend on me.

There are people who want to get stronger for my sake.

And for those people, what can I do?

I can only use up my body to protect them.

I don't intend to go out in that unreasonable way.

I started thinking as I walked.

I began to imagine how I would be able to combat that Bitch of a Goddess more efficiently.

At the start, I couldn't get the slightest grasp of what to do, but if Arc's words are true, then it's not impossible.

The 0 Series can inflict damage.

Similarly, the Shield of 0 can endure hers.

Well my defenses were breached.

The order of the world?

Then let's just rely on the order of another.

As I walk, I approach the problem again and again.

Just how can I get the order of the world to rest in my body?

I remember the concept of magic.

Magic is created in one's self.

If it's merely a manifestation of the power within, then I need to make it more efficient, so that it can help just a little bit more... Just one step closer. I want the power to defeat Medea.

My disposition is for Healing and Support. The Shield interfered, but it's still the same.

Then let's wring out that nature.

Let's refine the magic within me to its limits, and create one that can combat her.

Those thoughts eternally... until I began losing sense of myself, they continued circling around my head, and I remembered the Dragon Pulse Order.

Revelation was a mixture.

The Dragon Pulse Order manipulates the power outside.

With it... based on how you approach it, it's like... borrowing power from the world.

What if I change the borrowing to theft, and abuse it as power of my own. Isn't that how Medea's rules work?

That's why I'll place importance in the borrowing part.

Luckily, here I'm able to accomplish that.

In the worlds I stopped by, I began polishing the Dragon Pulse Law.

Eventually... I worked out a way to release my own magic outside, and take the pulse within.

I searched for a way to borrow the world's power, and fight.

In order to fill up your empty body, you borrow power from your surroundings.

While I was thinking about it, I felt the sensation of myself mixing with the world.

There's still a way. Let me... grasp the nature of this.

When there's nothing to do but walk, you really do think.

My body's sense of time sure is strange.

It feels like... I've been walking for years and years, but it also feels like it's only been a night.

As I think that... by the time I passed the next world, I felt something spill out from within me.

The next moment, I lost my voice.

“Wha–”

There... was the familiar village I revived.
But no one was there. It had completely been abandoned.

“Oy! Is there anyone here!?”

I’ve returned. As I think that, I search through the village’s buildings.
But there wasn’t a single soul anywhere.
Could it be... the world has already fallen to ruin!?

A black emotion welled up in my heart.
But my desire to deny it calls out to my rationality.
They must have just changed base due to the war.
Yes, that’s right. That must be it.

And I entered what was once my house.
As I thought... it isn’t much different from how I remember it. My house.
... What’s happened?
Did I not return?

I leave the house, and look into the sky again.
In it, a vast array of worlds was still spread out.
I’m still within the rift.

... I can’t give up.
No matter what happens... I decided never to give up.
I’m going to reunite with Raphtalia.
And with everyone.

Law of cause and effect, was it?
In the worst case, even if the Shield lends me power, will she be able to tamper with it to do unreasonable things?
Thinking back, wasn’t her attack based on that concept in the first place?
Then the changes my Shield carried out in my world were of a similar suit.

I can't use the Shield forcefully like she does. Or perhaps I don't have enough power.

I continue walking.

And I arrived at yet another world.

It was an infinitely expanding one-way staircase.

The place I just saw earlier was my own hallucination.

Then I'll just keep on climbing.

And in that time, I tried to polish my own skills as much as possible. Little by little.

And... eventually, I was unable to tell the difference between magic from the outside or inside.

"Good job getting all the way here."

At the top of the staircase, Arc was sitting as if he was waiting for me.

"Just a little longer, and you'll reach it. A normal person wouldn't be able to make it here."

"Back there, I was a village I knew of." (Naofumi)

"Right... that was a place you made with your own power, a place embedded in your memory, I think. Perhaps it was the shape created by your strong desire to return to that place? I mean, you have yet to reach the world you want to go to."

"Take me already." (Naofumi)

"When you're this close, I don't see the need to. It's right before your eyes."

"Muu..." (Naofumi)

... So that was something I created with magic.

Somehow, I get the feeling I've grasped something.

"Then I'll be going on ahead."

The agile Arc ran ahead of me on the path.
I tried chasing him, but I couldn't keep up.
Just what sort of logic does this place run on?

The next place I found myself in was Fitoria's ruins.
It's a place I've come to once before. It's nowhere unknown to me.
I tried to ignore it, and proceed, but I couldn't get through the Forest of Illusions.
So I reluctantly proceeded through the ruins.
Eventually... I reached the stone house that that bottle was housed in.

"You've reached the goal. For you to be able to come all the way here, your resolve is truly something."

"Yeah, yeah, yeah. Just let me go on." (Naofumi)

"Calm down."

Inside the house, the bottle still hangs.

"Have you heard anything about this bottle from the child who was keeping it?"

"Um... there was a bit of personal opinion added, but she did talk about it."
(Naofumi)

『At that time, the Hero said, 'the first sip is eternal pain, the second, eternal solitude, and the third... a dreadful end.'』

Was it?

"Having listened to me, does it sound familiar?"

"A little." (Naofumi)

I mean, there was that annoying word, 'eternal', mixed in.

"The first sip will give you everlasting pain, and the second will give you an immortal body to watch those around you die for eternity."

"The third was a dreadful end, right?" (Naofumi)

"This is, you see... The Elixir, Amrita, the Eternal Peach, Soma, Tajiku Nakaku. All of them are medicines of immortality. Well, it's something like that."

(TL Tajiku Nakaku is a mystical tree in ancient Japanese Legend whose fruit is said to give eternal youth. It is pursued by Tajimamori)

"Why something like that? She didn't speak a word of it." (Naofumi)

"I think it was a promise. Or else she would have been treated as an existence that threatened the world."

"I see." (Naofumi)

She may be a dim bird, but she's one who honors her promises I guess. Thinking about it, she was an existence that opposed the near-immortal Dragon Emperor, so she had to have been something like that.

"Dragons have a different role. I'm tolerating their actions for now."

"I see." (Naofumi)

"And I might add, in that world this medicine has been diluted several hundreds of times. Its effects are low. There are rules, you know."

"Rules, you say." (Naofumi)

"Looking at immortal beings, what do you think?"

"That's unfair." (Naofumi)

"Right. In this world, it's against the rules, right? If possible, I would like to have the heroes kill her."

I see...

"This is the undiluted form. If you take three sips of the diluted one, you're forcefully summoned as a Hero, eventually set to die. But what do you think will happen if you drink this one?"

"It's the concentrate... right? What's more, this is... not that world."
(Naofumi)

"That's right. What do you think?"

"In the first place, is there any need to kill... ah." (Naofumi)

For incidents caused by those immortal, I guess.

"I've left it with a trusted child, so I think it's fine for now. If something happened to it, I did plan on retrieving it."

So Fitoria is his acquaintance.

two sips will make you immortal, right?

Then after that...

"Yep, It will grant you power for a battle without end. If you look at it from another angle, you become something like god. Easy, right?"

"..." (Naofumi)

"But... it may not be necessary for you guys. I mean, after you've made it all the way here."

And Arc closed the bottle.

"Us guys? Unnecessary?" (Naofumi)

"Ah, I'm sorry. Should I have warned you? As I thought, you never noticed. You guys, slipped through dimensions, so your awareness of it seems to be a bit off."

I try using the new power I had attained.

Following his lead, I try to increase my perception. I try tuning into the channel of world where all my comrades are.

"Naofumi-sama!"

"Raphtalia"

And there, was Raphtalia.

From her power, I could tell.

Raphtalia also talked with him, and came here by following the path.

The fact that our thoughts coincided made me a little happy.

"You guys continued walking your paths, and in the end, you changed yourselves. Do you feel it now? You spent an unfathomable amount of time out there."

"Geh!? Then what happened to the world we were supposed to save?"
(Naofumi)

"Ah, don't worry about that. That's what the charm was for. I had the flow of time sped up around you. I thought that if your wills were strong enough, you would be able to handle it."

"What?" (Naofumi)

It's true that I thought about the concept of magic as I walked, but that was still within the bounds of humanity.

Is he making fun of me?

"To be more specific, you've taken the first step. What do you want to do? Will you go further?"

"Please keep your jokes in moderation." (Naofumi)

"It's not a joke, but... I still don't think you guys have a chance of winning. Just try increasing your perception a little more. If you don't decide your direction, you won't be able to find your power."

"Direction..."

I could somewhat grasp what he was saying.

What sort of fighting style do I have?

What I've been doing has always been protecting.

There were times when I did damage the enemy myself, but they number too few to count.

My essential direction... It's as if I'm deciding my path to Class Up.

As the Hero of the Shield, I never was able to, but this reasoning isn't wrong.

I also feel there's something similar to that popping up in my field of vision.

"What possibilities do you want to expand?"

Ark puts his hands together, and asks.

"Ah, there was something called Class Up in your world, right? Please think of this as something like that."

... What is this?

Since I've met up with Arc again, I've become able to sense his presence better.

Something like blood lust. Something that sends shivers down my spine is coming from him.

But for some reason, the person himself doesn't seem to have any such intentions.

And wait, that doesn't matter.

Let's go become a god to beat up that Bitch Goddess.

"Even if you don't decide, you'll get power from the world you head to. But can you win with that? I think you'll need to get something extra to win."

"That's right. It's a half-assed power. I won't be able to win against her."
(Naofumi)

"But if you drink that medicine from before, you will get plenty enough power to defeat her."

Saying that, he held out that red drink.

My changed body could understand that it wasn't out of any ill intent.
But...

"... Understood." (Naofumi)

"Then take this—"

"Wrong, with a power given to me by a stranger, I realize that I have no chance of winning." (Naofumi)

Just like he has his own goal, I have mine.

If I get the power to Smack a Goddess, even after defeating her, my goal will not be fulfilled.

And with that, there's no point.

"Naofumi-sama..." (Raphtalia)

"Raphtalia... yeah, that's right." (Naofumi)

My eyes meet hers.

And what she was trying to say was transmitted to me.

... I am the Shield that Protects others, and Raphtalia is my Sword.

I have decided my direction.

From the start, I could only ever become a Shield for someone else.

Then what is there for me to change?

What Raphtalia's decision was, was also transmitted.

I... Iwatani Naofumi have the disposition to protect.

I won't go against it. I'll protect everyone from this absurdity.

From all unfairness... The power to protect everyone.

If I don't get a dream-like power like that, there's no point.

Raphtalia answered my feelings.

And of course, it wasn't just Raphtalia.

My power cannot stem from me alone.

There's only meaning in my power when I have those I need to protect.

"You guys really are connected. I think it's amazing. You trust the other person so much, and decided your directions to complement each other."

I feel the world expand around me.

I never noticed it before, but power is overflowing in my body.

A power that transcends the previous me.

... With this, I'll be able to fight on an equal power with the Goddess Medea.
I mean, isn't that right?

I've become the same sort of existence as the enemy.
Now all I have to do is develop a physical plan for victory.

It's simple to understand. A Symbol to protect everyone... It's simple.

I inject my own power, and the power outside into the Shield Strap, that had pretty much lost everything.

Three powers different powers fuse, and a new Shield is formed.

Its strength is incomparable to before.

All the power I have is sent directly to defense.

This is truly the power to protect, from all things.

"Trust is the key to power, but dependence is something else entirely.
Please take that to heart; though I think you two will do fine."

As our views expanded, we noticed that behind Arc was a gate.

"Don't you think it's about time you set off? I don't think you have too much time left, you know."

I open the Four Holy Weapons' Manual

It was written on the page.

The Melromark's army formation collapsed, and the reincarnators were closing in on Melty.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 364 – Two Years

---

“Melty…”

Right now, the only one by Melty’s side is Firo.
But it will be hard for Firo to defeat the Reincarnators alone.
Quickly. As fast as we can, we have to go save her.

“Don’t worry. You guys don’t seem to believe in me, but let me explain.
With your origin of power, and the Spirits’ help, I don’t think that Goddess can sense you.”

“In the end, are you an enemy? An ally?” (Raphtalia)

“I just fight by my rules. I’m a God Slayer. And by My rules, I will expel those who destroy the order of this world. As long as… the Spirits who chose you continue to want you around, then I’m probably an ally.”

Around Arc, spirits begin to circle.

“I can’t see them, but aren’t you guys quite well liked by the Spirits?”

The lights surrounding him crowd around me and Raphtalia.

“Those are the Spirits of worlds destroyed. So I think they’re praying for you to protect for their share as well.”

“Aren’t they invisible to you?” (Naofumi)

“I can’t see Spirits, but by listening to the wills dwelling in the weapons, I can hear them. Your Shield… has a Spirit with a relatively moderate personality, right?”

On his words, something rises to the surface of the Shield, and begins to take shape.

The figure that appeared suddenly clung to me.

“Naofumi-sama!”

It was... Atlas.

A soul resting in the Shield.

She really did work hard with the Spirit of the Shield for my sake.

Her will, the regrets of the Spirits, everything... I won't let it go to waste.

"Oy, you. The one who's been trying to talk to me for a while. Are you... a Spirit? Or are you a being with nothing but a soul left behind? You're half transparent, and I can't really see you, but it seems a strong power dwells within you."

After gripping me tightly for a while, Raphtalia wrenched her off, and Atlas answered the question.

"Yes. Together with the Spirit of the Shield, we're sharing our power to turn it into Naofumi-sama's. Eventually... My consciousness, and the Spirit of the Shield's will mix together, and I will become both a Spirit, and a being with a soul." (Atlas)

"Ah, good luck with that..."

Though Arc's explanations defined me as a God, I'm not really feeling it. It's just that I'm aware that the amount of things I can do has increased, so the only thing left is to test it in battle.

"Naofumi-sama, it's alright." (Atlas)

As she said that, the Spirits started rotating around Atlas.

I begin to feel my own power increasing.

"Just now... the Spirits have granted us some power. Naofumi-sama, do you feel it?" (Atlas)

I'm aware of the process Atlas describes.

We're being given something strange from them.

But while I can receive their power, I cannot steal it.

My nature as the Shield binds me, but it also becomes my power.

“Isn’t it about time you left? I have some other things to do, so I can’t really follow, though.”

“For teaching us quite a few things, I thank you.” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia and Atlas lower their heads to him

“Oh, don’t worry about it. It’s a power you guys realized yourselves, and built up from scratch. As long as you don’t forget the thing you wanted when you obtained that power, remember that you guys are not my enemy.”

And Arc smiled happily.

But if you look at it from the other perspective, if we stray from our paths in the slightest, it’ll be all-out-war.

Anyways, I understand my goal, which had once been unclear.

But for now, we’re in a situation where neither of us considers the other an enemy.

We’re pretty much unrelated now

He did do us quite a few favors, so if something happens in the future, perhaps helping him isn’t the worst option.

Of course, that’s only if me and Arc share the same interests at the time.

“If you ever find pain in the path you walk, and want to sleep; if you want it to end, just search for me. Granting an end to some things is my job as well.”

“Yeah… okay. If I ever get tired with life, perhaps I’ll leave it to you.”
(Naofumi)

“Well then, I’ll see you then. Best regards.”

For those barred from rest for eternity, they will eventually say this.

I just want a peaceful sleep.

I wonder if he’s the one granted that role.

But 'Best Regard'... he returned my cynicism with some of his own.

No, is it common courtesy?

Not that it matters. Now, we don't have the time to worry about such things.

"Listen here. Before you enter the world, the first thing you have to do is make sure you're not sensed by the enemy. Your Shield's become something like the lynchpin that protects the world, right? In order to put in a new pin, I guess you'll have to remove the old one."

Lynchpin... I see.

Right now, the one protecting that world is Itsuki... the Hero of the Bow, and his Spirit.

The heroes and Spirits from Glasses world probably hold similar positions. But that pin could easily be pulled out by the Bitch Goddess at any time. And when they're gone, the world falls apart.

Then... should I just increase the amount of pins holding it together?

Right now, me and Raphtalia can serve as a stronger and bigger bolt than before.

But with that, it's unreliable.

Even so, more. To increase the chances of our victory.

That means...

"Naofumi-sama." (Raphtalia)

"Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"Fine, I know. Let's go pick up Ren and Motoyasu." (Naofumi)

We should be able to find and bring those two back.

Like us, they should be clinging onto life somewhere.

We prepare ourselves to cross worlds once more, as we start drifting through space.

I concentrate... those two's locations.

... Motoyasu is close. He's somewhere parallel to that world.

On the contrary, Ren is far.

If I were to compare it to Outer space, it's like he's a world a galaxy away.
Is that Ren's world?

"Ah, when you're fighting, I think this will prove handy to you. Whatever happens, remember it's only for spirits. Don't go about drinking it."

Saying that, Ark tossed the medicine of immortality over to me.
It's not the watered down version, It's the real thing.
Just how high would be the output on the skills unlocked through the undiluted formula?

"I pray for success in your battle to come."

Ark waves his hand.

"Your arrogant attitude... I definitely will never be able to trust you from the depths of my heart." (Naofumi)

The way he offers trials to people is somewhat irritating.
The result is fine, but I hate how it feels like I'm dancing on the palm of his hand.

"Ahaha... as expected of you. But I don't hate you. Yep, good luck."

"I'll definitely pay back this favor. I'm a man who keeps promises."
(Naofumi)

"I see. If I need help, I'll call for you then. See, I'm just a single man."

Good grief... he doesn't seem to have everything in one place, this guy.
Anyways, we need to take action to save the world now.
Even if we do end up repaying that'll be after this mess is over.

"Raphtalia, Atlas. Let's go."

"Yes."

"Understood."

We change to light, and head off to Ren and Motoyasu.

—

Even from the outside, I could tell Ren's world was one out of a Sci-Fi novel. As I approach it, I could see it, but it seems that the fact that other worlds exist is common sense to them.

They can't traverse between them yet, but perhaps in a few decades, they could put their knowledge to practical applications.

"Then should we enter?"

"Yeah."

Me, Raphtalia and Atlas infiltrated Ren's world.

We materialize our bodies within it, and begin our descent.

The location is... it seems to be Ren's room, for when he's alone.

We land on the floor, and look around.

It looks like a world of the near future, but Ren's room's structure isn't any different from those of my world.

It just looks like an exceedingly normal apartment room.

There's curtains hanging on the windows, and when I look outside, I see there's not much of a gap between us.

I imagined flying cars, but there's nothing of the sort.

Well, even if our civilizations are on different levels, it's still Japan.

Ren is... sitting at his desk. On his head is a large helmet.

I'll bet it's some sort of tool to dive into the world of the net.

If we weren't in such a hurry, I would like to try it on for a bit.

I mean, I'm an Otaku, am I not?

Ren is... stuck in that position. He really isn't moving.
He's breathing fine, so he isn't dead and he's no vegetable.
Is he asleep?

"What should we do?" (Naofumi)

"For now, just try tapping his shoulder a bit." (Raphtalia)

"Yes, I think that's the best option." (Atlas)

I start poking the person I thought to be Ren's shoulders.
His body convulses for a second, before he slowly starts removing the helmet.

"... Who is it? Mom?"

And as he turned around and saw us, he was at a loss for words.
At the same time, I moved my hand to my chin.

"Sorry, I got the wrong person. Goodbye." (Naofumi)

Raphtalia and Atlas have a questioning expression on their faces, as they bow and prepare to leave.

I mean, even if he gave off a similar feeling as Ren, his appearance was completely different.

No, I'm not saying his face was bad.

It's not like he came to that world with his game character.

The person I thought was Ren really did look like him, but he was a head taller than him in stature.

From what I can see, he's a bit different than Ren, who still had a hint of his youth. He seems older.

And his physique is better than the Ren I know. It looks like he's never missed a day of training.

There's no doubt he's Ren's brother, or some other relative.

Where did that guy go?

I know for a fact that he isn't dead yet...

And when I was preparing to jump through dimensions...

"W-wait..."

The Ren-like man grabbed my hand.

"You! You're Naofumi, aren't you! And there's Raphtalia-san... and there's even Atlas-san, who's supposed to be dead. What's happening?"

"What?" (Naofumi)

The one who looked much like Ren made the face of a person meeting someone of their childhood.

Eh? Could it be that this is Ren?

"Wait a second, you're... Ren?" (Naofumi)

"That's right. More importantly, I'd like you to tell me. Why is Naofumi in my world?" (Ren(?))

So it really is Ren.

I spent a large amount of time in that space, so I'm not one to say it, but he's sure gotten big.

Right now, my overgrown hair was restored to normal when I got back my Shield.

And my body is telling me that not much time actually passed.

"Um... let's organize our information. Ren, why have you... grown so big?" (Naofumi)

"Why, you ask... because two years have passed since I returned here from that world, of course." (Ren)

... Ren's story goes like this.

As I thought, after he was killed in that world, it seems he was sent back to this one.

And after various things happened, he tried to see if there was any way to go back.

But in the end, the Sword remained silent.

Luckily, it still had enough power left in it to be used as a weapon if necessary.

So for the past two years, he did various things, and while wondering if the time would ever come, he continued to train for the day he would return.

Or so it seems.

This is a failure... before we entered his world, we should have looked into its perception of time, and taken that into account. I'll bet the Spirit of the Shield was doing various regulations for me in that aspect.

"And... why is it that you people haven't changed in the slightest? Well... it's possible you just didn't grow in that time, though." (Ren)

"The Spirit Dwelling in your Sword is..."

Atlas starts talking to Ren's Sword.

"Without enough power, the distance was just too far... it was waiting for the time when the worlds would approach one another." (Atlas)

"..."

With that distance, wouldn't it take quite a while for Ren's world to get there?

Perhaps they were on a path towards each other, but...

I wonder just how much time that would take.

And wait, two years... the flow of time in Ren's world seems fast.

"Um, it only took a week for me to be able to go, you know." (Naofumi)

"What?" (Ren)

Ren is dumbfound.

"Then is the final battle already over?" (Ren)

"No, the flow of time in your world is just fast." (Naofumi)

We explain the circumstances to Ren.

Of how, while crossing through worlds, we were able to work out the mechanics of various powers.

Ren fell into his chair, and sunk his head.

"Just what were my two years for..." (Ren)

It's not like I don't get where he's coming from.

If me and Raphtalia had to spend two years in that world, it would probably feel like this.

But perhaps that would have been okay in itself.

"Okay, then we'll jump through time, and grab the you right after you got here. Is that fine?" (Naofumi)

With the powers we have as Gods, and the Spirits abilities to change cause and effect, it's not impossible.

It will take a bit of power, but I don't think anyone will complain about it. It'll be like rewinding Ren alone.

"W-wait!"

Ren calls out again to stop me.

"What's wrong? You hate the fact that you wasted two years of your life, right?" (Naofumi)

"I'm stronger now than I was two years ago! So please take me with you!" (Ren)

"That means... your past self will have to spend two years waiting, but is that alright?" (Naofumi)

On my response, Ren's eyes fill with water for a moment, but after that, he clenched his fist strongly.

"Y-yeah! If I have to wait two years to go back, I'll bear it!" (Ren)

Well, for this Ren, I think he would hate it if we abandoned him for a Ren two years prior.

There's no guarantee what'll happen to him if we do that.

And messing with cause and effect is messy. In the worst case, he'll wait here forever.

"After that, I experienced various things. I'm confident that I'm definitely stronger than before! I mean I even went to another alternate world once!" (Ren)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

So the progress I saw in that field from the outside was no lie.

And Ren was dragged into that.

If I just go about dragging Rens from the past, perhaps the amount of Rens will just increase.

And he'll just become a person with a Ren-like personality. Though Ren will become him one day.

"I got it, I got it. Then I'll be taking you to that world now, but are you alright with that?" (Naofumi)

I think he'll be of help, but Ren has a place here.

He has the right to live peacefully in a world without war.

I ask Ren the same thing the Spirit of the Shield asked me.

"...Yeah. If it gives everything I've done up to this day a meaning, I'll nod without hesitation. I will return to that land!" (Ren)

"I see... are you prepared?" (Naofumi)

Ren nods right away.

Damn. He's saying things like me.

It's a bit late, but those are some embarrassing lines he's spitting out.

Though I said something quite similar.

"Then let's go." (Naofumi)

As if to make an offer to him, I extend my hand to Ren, and he grips it without hesitation.

I activate our dimensional transportation ability, and we cross the void with him.

The current me and Ren are different sorts of existences now, so while moving like this, we can't hold conversations.

Next is Motoyasu, right?

He's apparently in a space parallel to that world.

But by the world's order, or something like that, I can't enter it.

"What should we do?" (Raphtalia)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

I tried to touch the barrier surrounding his world a few times, but I was repelled.

Is it because it's a parallel world? I also get the feeling I'm not using my own power properly.

I can't get a grip on what the rules are.

If I get too close, I'm sure the Goddess will notice us.

On the other hand, Raphtalia can enter it just fine.

"Okay, in order to hit the lynchpin, I'll leave Motoyasu to Raphtalia."
(Naofumi)

"Understood, Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"Naofumi-sama, I'll pursue you after I retrieve the Hero of the Spear."

(Raphtalia)

(TL: And here starts Raphtalia's days of mental anguish)

And so we put off getting Motoyasu, and prepared to enter the world.

"Atlas." (Naofumi)

"Yes. I'll strengthen the power of the Spirits as much as I can, and try to conceal Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

Atlas changes to a ball of light, and returns to my Shield.

... The girl who wanted to become a Shield really did just that, and now she's protecting me.

It's worthy of praise just how far she stuck to her words.

In the world we're going to, what sort of form will she take?

Ren was able to sense her when we were in his world, but each world operates on different principles.

So we won't know what will happen until we go and see for ourselves.

Anyways, Melty's in trouble right now.

We were able to quickly recover Ren.

I strengthen my resolve, and broke into the other world.

(TL: So is he her type now?)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 365 – Defence Link

---

“Queen Melty, hurry and evacuate!”

“I am the Queen here! I cannot flee from the battlefield.”

The enemy’s forces had pushed all the way to Melty, who was giving orders in the rear.

Including Itsuki, and the other Heroes, even Firo is being hard pressed by the advancing armies.

In a situation like that, Melty rushed to the field herself, and started offering support fire.

“Guhah!”

One of the soldiers protecting her was cut down.

They’re at a complete numerical disadvantage.

If you think about it normally, they’ve been pushed to a state where their defeat is all but assured.

The reincarnators attacks are reaching back far enough to damage Melty, the commander.

“Ah…”

A weapon wraps around Melty, and drags her off. She lets out a small voice at the event.

But even the Reincarnator holding it hesitates when it comes to killing a small girl like her. He opens his mouth.

“Is this the enemy commander? She’s just a child, isn’t she?”

“Hey take her in, I’ll let her into my Harem.”

“Mel-chan!” (Firo)

“Queen Melty!”

Firo starts her assault to save her friend from the men who were saying things she didn't understand.

Her Vassal, the Claw, lets off a soft light.

Yes, while Firo is like that, she's the Hero of the Claw, and Melty's best friend.

There's no way she'll lose against any normal enemy.

"Don't get in the way, bird!"

"Move! Mel-chan!" (Firo)

But the Reincarnator halts her advance.

While Firo's gotten stronger as the Hero of the claw, her enemy also holds a vassal, and has received a strange power from the Goddess.

「Spiral Claw Ten」!

Ever since the Goddess Descended, the Reincarnators have been imbued with powerful support magic.

Because of that, they can be considered stronger than the Heroes.

Or else there's no way Firo and the others would be driven to a corner so easily.

"Whoa."

The powerful attack Firo unleashed was dodged by the man.

"That was dangerous, bird."

"Ku... move!"

Female Knight presses Musou Kassei to the limit, and starts slashing at him. But with his unnaturally high support effects, it's hard to contest with the reincarnated soul.

"It seems this she's pretty important, this girl."

"I mean, we were told it was alright if all we did was capture her, right?"

"She's a bishojo, so I'll have her fall for my charms."

"W-who would fall for someone like you!?" (Melty)

"This is the last time you'll be able to say that. You'll soon realize my true appeal."

"Melty! Get your hands off of my daughter!" (Trash)

Trash yells out.

But if he were to fire a skill, Melty would be hit too.

"Father!" (Melty)

"What a Foolish King... My planning was so many levels over yours, was it not?"

"What the hell are you saying!? You merely used your numerical advantage! And whenever anything bad happened, you relied on that woman!" (Melty)

Displeased with Melty's response, the Reincarnator began to glare at her. At the same time, Melty chanted magic.

「Dreifach Aqua Slash」!

A blade of water slices him point blank.

It inflicted a light cut on his face, before coming to a stop.

"So you'll lash out at me? Never mind, it doesn't seem you're worthy of my charms. Die! For world peace!"

The Reincarnator's scythe swings down towards Melty...

Melty clenches her eyes closed.

And...

"For me to appear at a time like this, there must be something wrong with me."

With perfect timing, I protect Melty in a heroic fashion.

I stop the Scythe with one hand, and hide Melty under my mantle with the other.

Just like that day... It was the same scene as when I protected her from the Three Hero Church Knights trying to kill her.

"So you were aiming for that timing?"

As he guessed the situation, Ren lifted his sword, and pointed it at the other Reincarnator.

Well, it's not strange for him to think that by looking at that display.

"No, I really did arrive at the nick of time." (Naofumi)

"N-Naofumi!?" (Melly)

"Yeah." (Naofumi)

It's an emotional reunion.

In Manga and Games, this would be where she would cry tears of Joy and cling to me, but...

『I who has understood the origin of power command...』

"Why are you firing magic at me without giving me a chance to speak!?"
(Naofumi)

"So she's finally revived Naofumi to torment us! Damn you Goddess!"

Ah... yeah, it seems quite a bit has happened.

So much that the Four Holy Weapons' Manual wasn't able to contain it all.
But why are they firing magic the second they see my face?

"Mel-chan! Fake Master, release Mel-chan!" (Firo)

Even Firo is glaring at me.

She even released a skill.

「Screw Claw Ten」!

I hold my hand out front, and stop Firo's kick.

Why do I have to take both of these girls on at the same time?

Even Female Knight's giving me the evil eye.

My risen tension's been crashed all at once.

Well, I also feel that I was getting a bit ahead of myself having gained a new power, so maybe this is for the best.

"Well, I know you won't believe me, but the Spirits allowed the Four Heroes to escape to their original worlds. And like this, I've now returned."

(Naofumi)

"That's a lie! The Naofumi I know can't stop Firo-chan's kick!" (Melty)

"I wasn't that weak!" (Naofumi)

If it was a Firo-Class attack, I think the past me could have stopped it.

... Right? I could have stopped it, right?

"Now then... For now, I was able to get in easier than I thought." (Naofumi)

I ignore Melty's magic, and turn to the Reincarnator.

This is... I don't think I'll have to show any of my trumpcards here.

From what I can see, it looks like Trash has mastered Revelation Class magic.

I can tell from the supports cast on Firo.

Itsuki is... fighting on the front lines, it seems.

Fohl is quite close by.

He's evenly fighting back right now.

"Fumu."

I activate the Shield, and look for a skill I can use.

As long as the world allows it, all skills that the Shield can use in the world have been unlocked!

... No, I can't really say that. Just how long is this list?

Well, if it's just to the extent of the skills a normal Hero can learn, I can use them. That's a bit of the power I have.

「Defense Link EX」!

I hold out the Shield, and call out a Skill Name.

This is the first time I'm using this one.

It's the first time I'm learning a skill directly from the Shield, but there's no way I can't use it.

The Skill Defense Link was just as it sounds.

Its effect was... all attacks those I consider allies take are treated as attacks directed at me. I can shoulder all the damage.

EX is... a Hero's limit.

There are some levels above, but so the Goddess won't notice, I'll stop at this.

A barrier-like membrane is deployed around a large area, as I activate the skill to protect my comrades.

With half-hearted defense, the skill is suicide.

Of course, the current me can take this with ease.

Protect everyone. That's my role.

Never again will attacks reach my comrades behind me.

The radius is about 20 meters. If I raise the output further, I feel the bitch will notice it.

I don't really have a reason to hold back, but I don't know what will happen, so I'll do it in moderation.

Now's not the time for me to get serious yet.

If they run after realizing they can't beat me, that would be terrible.

I'll wait for Raphtalia and the others to get here before I really start exerting myself.

“Ren.” (Naofumi)

“What?” (Ren)

“Don’t dodge, just cut at them.” (Naofumi)

“Wha—Are you telling me to die!?” (Ren)

“I used a power to make it alright. Just go do it!” (Naofumi)

The sound of metal hitting metal echoes all over my body.

I mean, I’m taking the damage of all those around me at once, so it’s to be expected.

“A-ah.”

The surrounding solders find themselves dumbfound after feeling no damage while being cut.

Seeing that, Ren timidly drops his defense as he struck his sword at the reincarnators.

“You’re not dodging? Are you an idiot?”

“Take this! 「Variable Messiah」!”

“What!?”

I’ll bet the Reincarnator intended to cleave Ren in half in that single swing. He was smiling, but as he saw Ren standing intact, his expression warped. And Ren’s sword starts glittering brilliantly. It becomes giant, and he starts swinging it downward on the enemy.

Oh, that’s quite a flashy skill.

Ren definitely didn’t know that one before.

Oh right. Ren did say he went to another world once.

It’s probably a Sword Skill he acquired at that time.

Does he hold anything else you can only find in another world?

No, I don’t really need them, but I’ll bet the others do.

“Uuu… I feel like I shouldn’t be alive, Naofumi.” (Ren)

“But you’re fine, right?” (Naofumi)

If you move your body along with the blade, and dodge by a manner of millimeters, you can eliminate all unnecessary movements, but that sort of style doesn’t suit me.

If the enemies can’t do any damage in the first place, you can just ignore their attacks without dodging.

That means, by nature, they can now attack faster than anybody else.

Well, it’s not really a strategy to be praised, though.

“Even so, it’s not something I’d like to use often. I’m scared for when the time comes where it seems natural.” (Ren)

“If you show such leisure before the enemy, you’ll die!”

The Reincarnator tries to act cool as he attacks Ren from behind.

“Leisure? I’d like to call it trust, you know.” (Ren)

“Guwah!”

Holding his sword behind him, Ren lightly parries the reincarnator’s attacks before slashing him.

“Oh my… you’ve gotten better.” (Naofumi)

His movements are sharper.

On the contrary, his basic abilities have risen a few levels.

It’s like a fight between an amateur and a novice, he’s showing a complete difference in power. Something like that.

It appears that his claims to be stronger were no lie.

“By the way… Melty, Firo. I’d like it if you stopped already.” (Naofumi)

For a while now, Melty and Firo have been unleashing a stream of coordinated magic attacks and skills at me.

'You must be in pain, being controlled by the enemy. Don't worry, I'll give you peace.'

'Master, Firo will get over your death. Firo will try harder, so you can sleep now.' It's like they're saying those sorts of words of parting.

I thought I had made quite a dramatic entrance, but I'm being treated like a Zombie.

"I keep telling you I'm not Dead!" (Naofumi)

"I'll reveal your true form!" (Melty)

"Yeah, Master is..." (Firo)

"Just quit it already!" (Naofumi)

"... This is a tragedy brought about by the trust they placed in you, and the Goddess's underhanded tactics."

Ren starts muttering with an amazed expression.

Please stop. My body doesn't hurt, but my heart can't take it anymore.

And as if he just noticed her, Ren started waving his hand at Female Knight, and calling her name.

"Eclair!" (Ren)

"Who are you!?" (Female Knight)

Ah, Ren looks really hurt.

He reunited with the person he liked after two years, but this is the outcome.

"It's me! Ren. Please believe me!" (Ren)

"the Ren I knew was a childish youth. He definitely wasn't someone like you! If you plan on deceiving me, try putting a little more effort into it!"
(Female Knight)

Should I just use some power to revert him after all?

But if I do that before their eyes, they'll definitely recognize me as an enemy.

"Trash! Just figure it out already!" (Naofumi)

"Nu!?" (Trash)

Since I had been standing still without showing any resistance for a while, it seems Trash figured something out.

"Melly, that Iwatani-dono doesn't show signs of being an enemy. I think it's alright if we trust him a bit." (Trash)

"Father... but..." (Melly)

"I understand your sentiment, but after he's done this much for us, we have no option but to rely on him in this battle." (Trash)

It's finally reached a stage where I can talk.

"Now then, Trash. I've a little bit of information about the situation up until I was able to get here. Fighting the Queen is definitely unpleasant, but will refraining from doing so make your wife happy?" (Naofumi)

"Nu..."

My words turn Trash's expression bitter.

He's been through some pain, but I won't let this reach a bad ending.

I'll definitely save Melty and Firo... Everyone.

"You don't have to give an answer yet. But in this war, just how much of Melromark will become victims? Will that delight the Queen?" (Naofumi)

"... Iwatani-dono's words are correct. Everyone! Follow Iwatani-dono's lead! Melty, follow my orders, and take command." (Trash)

"Y-yes father! ... It's not like I trust you or anything, Naofumi." (Melly)

She let loose some Tsundere-esque lines, that girl.

Similarly, Firo seems to have grieving over my death, so she's still half in doubt about me.

"I know." (Naofumi)

For the love of god, when I get back, I'm treated like a zombie.
That Goddess sure likes picking a fight.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 366 – Paranoia Begets Paranoia

---

“Anyways, for now…”

When I looked to see what Fohl was doing, I saw he was being hard pressed by an imitation of Atlas.

“Onii-sama, you’re in the way.”

“Ku…” (Fohl)

As if she could see, the fake followed Fohl’s movements with her eyes while she one-sidedly attacked Fohl, who was on the defense.

She looks a little more childish than the real one, and a little bit prettied up. What’s more, her breasts are strangely large.

Was someone’s wishes mixed into this one?

The Shield lets out a pinging sound.

Ah, so you want me to go there.

I lightly jump towards them, instantly arrive at the fake attacking Fohl, and grab her head with one hand.

『Onii-sama, are you telling me you can’t differentiate between the real me and an imposter?』

“!?”

Atlas exposes herself from the Shield, and begins glaring at Fohl.

And Fohl’s eyes expand as if he’s witnessing a portrait of hell.

Well, being attacked by comrades revived from the dead is a sort of Hell in itself.

『If you can’t tell a fake like this from me, I’ll scorn you.』

“Move aside, ugly!” (Nise Atlas)

“You’re not Atlas! Atlas would never talk to Aniki like that!” (Fohl)

Fake Atlas begins to abuse me.

At the same time, Fohl swings his fist towards her.

「Dragon of Ruin Inferno Fist X」,

「Vicious Tiger Piercing Foot X」!

Calling out finishers one after the other, Fohl aims kicking skills on the fake Atlas.

His attacks are deciding this.

Fake Atlas unsteadily retreats a few steps, before muttering.

“H-how foolish.”

Oh… like the Demi-Human Shadow I defeated once before, her body turns black before she completely fades away.

I guess that’s a fake for ya.

The real Atlas would have been able to dodge that.

『Good grief… it seems Onii-sama hasn’t changed at all.』

“Atlas… and Aniki?” (Fohl)

“Yeah.” (Naofumi)

“Are you… real?” (Fohl)

“It seems there was a Fake Atlas here. Did that Goddess look through someone’s head and make it?” (Naofumi)

It seemed to have no standard of quality.

That was probably what Fohl once desired.

Though that is questionable in itself.

“Aniki, what happened? Atlas too.” (Fohl)

“This and that. I’ll explain it in detail later, but now…” (Naofumi)

On top of being fused with the Spirit of the Shield, various powers from various worlds have been injected into her, so Atlas was able to show herself.

Seeing Atlas, Fohl rushed over to her with teary eyes.

"Atlas!" (Fohl)

"Ah, Onii-sama." (Atlas)

Fohl tried to hug her, but he merely passed through.

She's a mixture of a spirit, and a soul, so holding her may prove to be a bit difficult.

I guess if I had to say, Atlas is currently the highest level form of a ghost.

"I have no body, so it's impossible." (Atlas)?

"A-Atlas!" (Fohl)

"Ah, but I can touch Naofumi-sama, you know." (Atlas)

Atlas starts nuzzling me.

Please stop doing things to provoke people...

I mean, Fohl's finally started to get around to calling me Aniki. What are you trying to do by turning him hostile?

"Gununu..." (Fohl)

"Don't make such a jealous face. Oy, oy, don't cry, it's alright." (Naofumi)

Perhaps he's become overcome with emotions on having met his deceased sister. Fohl breaks into tears.

When Atlas is around, he really turns into an idiotic brother.

"Aniki!" (Fohl)

"What? By the way, I'm not a fake." (Naofumi)

"Aniki!" (Fohl)

Fohl clings to me.

I don't really enjoy being embraced by guys, but... I guess it's fine for today. I mean, he seems to be happy.

Even so, Firo and Melty won't come closer to hug me.
And their treating me as a mysterious enemy.
I'm well aware they have their reasons, but I'll remember this.

"You survived!" (Fohl)

"Pretty much. But I'm about to burst into tears because no one believes me." (Naofumi)

While that conversation was going on...

"Ara ara, if it isn't a little visitor from hell."

Medea instantly appears in the air above us. She calmly starts talking to us.

"I was sure I had killed you, but you're surprisingly tough." (Medea)

"It was just a bit of a miracle. Luck was on my side, and I was able to survive your attack." (Naofumi)

"..."

She seems to be laughing, but she's also thinking about something.

I assume she's figuring out that I was saved by what the God Slayer left behind.

She's not wrong, or anything.

But I don't think she'll be able to figure out I've become a being close to her.
If she had, she would have immediately erased me with a conceptual attack, or something.

If that happened, I would immediately counterattack, though.

I've even made countermeasures for that attack.

With the long time I've spent, I've thought long and hard about defeating her.

But to do that, I'll need to stall for a bit more time.

Honestly, it's best to think that I have absolutely no means of attacking until Raphtalia gets here.

"No matter. I'll retreat for today. Offer as many thank as you want to your miracle. I was just getting bored, but now it seems we can play a little longer." (Medea)

Medea snaps her fingers.

And the Reincarnators that had been on the field, as well as their comrades, the enemy soldiers disappeared in an instant.

"Well then, let's play some more games tomorrow. Goodbye." (Medea)

Just as with when she appeared, she vanished in an instant.

It appears that she's really gone.

Even so, games...

So this battle is nothing more but a bit of fun for her.

Damn her! Well, I'll let her have fun with her games for now.

We just have to be the ones preparing for battle.

"Well then, isn't it about time... you stop looking at me like that?"
(Naofumi)

Starting with Melty, even Firo is vigilant of my presence. It's an unpleasant feeling.

"Firo? You don't recognize me?" (Naofumi)

"Um, you're probably Master, Firo think. But like Mel-chan's mom, and the Musou Grandma, you may be being controlled after death, Firo thinks."
(Firo)

I let out a deep sigh.

Ah... this world really is crappy.

It never lets things go my way.

The second I get here, I'm already getting regrets.

Can't this world get destroyed already? Not that I'll let it.

"N-Naofumi-san!?"

Itsuki and Rishia ran over.

The enemy had completely disappeared, so it's natural that he reunited with the main forces.

"Yo, Itsuki. You sure worked hard. And, I understand that you may be wary of me, but please believe me." (Naofumi)

Itsuki seems half in doubt as he stares at me.

I think he'll be a reliable comrade, but it's troubling that he's approaching bow in hand.

"Itsuki! It's been a while!"

"Um... who is that over there? He looks kinda like Ren." (Itsuki)

"Yeah, that's Ren. Before coming back here, he spent two whole years in his original world." (Naofumi)

"Eh!?" (Itsuki)

Itsuki's face is colored with surprise.

I mean, even I was quite shocked at it.

"I know it may be a bit much to believe us here." (Naofumi)

Female Knight is still giving Ren a suspicious look.

Ren is trying to find words to return.

But that Bitch Goddess really never does anything decent.

"Rafu~."

"Oh? If it isn't Raph-chan." (Naofumi)

If even Raph-chan was wary of me, I'd get depressed, but Raph-chan lovingly brushes up against my side.

Oh... It seems the ones here who believe me are only Raph-chan and Fohl. I'll give him a lot of pats.

"Aniki is the real deal. I can tell that he's not being used." (Fohl)

"That's right. It is exceedingly unpleasant to see you handle Naofumi-sama like that." (Atlas)

"Looking closely, that Atlas-chan. She doesn't have a body?"

"I kinda became one with the Spirit of the Shield. I'm different from some fake that was made with someone's memories at the base, right?" (Atlas)

Seeing Atlas distance herself from Fohl, Melty and Firo drop their guard. Is that really enough to convince them?

"It's not like I believe you, or anything, you got that!?" (Melty)

"Ah, yes, got it." (Naofumi)

Paranoia really is something else.

"I know how things generally progressed, but I'd like the specifics."
(Naofumi)

"Um, so Naofumi. Raphtalia-san is..." (Melty)

Troubled with how to ask the question, Melty tries talking to me. It's not strange for them to think she died with me back then.

"She's in the middle of another job. Just like we brought Ren, she's off to go drag Motoyasu here." (Naofumi)

"Really!?"

Hmm? They were listening in? Midori and the other two draw closer. These guys love Motoyasu. It's probably best if I tell them.

"Is Motoyasu-san alive as well?" (Midori)

"Yep, he's still kicking. It seems he was sent to a world parallel this one, so finding him was quite a trial." (Naofumi)

"So Mokkun isn't in his original world?" (Kuu)

"That seems to be the case. I thought I would try searching his world, but I got a response from him around here." (Naofumi)

"Where's this parallel world? Is that where Mou-chan is?" (Marin)

"It's hard to explain. It's a different world almost exactly the same as this one, to put it simply." (Naofumi)

"Different, and yet the same?"

"If, at that time... wait, that guy can have regret? If, at that time, he had a regret, and wanted to make another choice, then he's in a world where that can happen." (Naofumi)

Midori, Firo and the other Filo Rials tilt their heads.

They're definitely not getting any of this.

But Midori is supposed to be smarter than Firo, so I think he understands more. He mutters to himself before seemingly accepting it.

"To put it so Future Queen of the Filo Rials, Firo, can understand it, there's a world where you never met Naofumi-san, and you were born and raised as a normal Filo Rial." (Midori)

"Really?" (Firo)

"That's how it is." (Naofumi)

"Hmm?" (Firo)

Firo tilts her head again.

With her head, I think it'll be impossible to get this through.

Well, that's just how she is.

I really don't want to meet a smart Firo someday.

"Anyways, there's no need for us to stand around here to talk. Shouldn't we return to somewhere safe?" (Naofumi)

I mean, we already intercepted the enemy.

"... Understood. Let's leave this to a person who can determine whether this Naofumi is real or fake. Until then, we'll put that matter on hold."
(Melly)

"There's someone who can do that?" (Naofumi)

What a convenient special ability.

Does that mean there's a reincarnator on our side?

"What are you talking about? It's Sadina-san." (Melly)

Ah, Sadina.

Does she have the ability to determine my authenticity?

No... I've been with her for a long time, so perhaps she can.

There's no helping it. If that's what it takes to get them to believe me, I'll undertake Sadina's appraisal.

And like that, we left Melromark's battlefield, and started moving towards the Castle Town.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 367 – Aiming for Number Three

---

After arriving at the Castle Town, we proceeded directly to the castle.

“Ara~ if it isn’t Naofumi-chan.”

Sadina glomped me.

Due to her experimentation with me, she’s become unbelievably strong. On the front lines, she’s a fighting force that even rivals the Heroes.

She has some deep scars here and there. I could tell how harsh the battles had been at a glance.

It’s like… there’s a certain dignity she holds with her scars.

Like some sort of veteran warrior.

I don’t think she really minds them, but I guess she really has been pushing herself lately.

Now, I can understand. She’s not a reincarnator, simply a resident of this world.

“Is it true that Niichan returned!?”

Kiel shouts out in an excited voice.

But she doesn’t try to draw closer.

“… Where’s Raphtalia-chan?” (Kiel)

“I just explained it earlier.” (Naofumi)

“Naofumi…!”

Glass let out a surprised voice upon seeing my face, after which she drew her weapon and made some distance between us.

Ah, so she was fighting as a pair with Sadina.

"Wait, wait. I'm not controlled by a Goddess, nor have I been revived!"

(Naofumi)

"I wonder. There's the saying a lack of doubt will bite you back." (Glass)

She's really wary.

Why is it like this no matter where I go?

I explain the situation once more.

As a result of various things, I got a power rivalling the Goddess's.

I passively activate barrier magic and set it so the goddess won't notice.

"And so, Sadina." (Naofumi)

"What~?" (Sadina)

"I know you may be wary of me, but please believe me." (Naofumi)

She's just acting friendly. She's probably suspecting me under that guise.

Because that's how Sadina is.

Right, the fact that my comrades don't believe me because of that damn Goddess's actions pisses me off.

I would really like to go directly pick a fight with her, but there's a chance I'll lose a good opportunity because of it.

To take her out without fail, there's a procedure I have to go through.

And it's not like the world power the spirits gave me is unlimited or anything.

"Ara~? Oneesan believes you, you know. This Naofumi-chan is the real one."

(Sadina)

"Is what you say, but how is it beneath that smile? Did you think I couldn't tell?" (Naofumi)

"I think Naofumi-chan is being the doubtful one here." (Sadina)

"Fumu... then Sadina, let's go to an empty room for a second." (Naofumi)

"Ara? Are you finally letting out your feelings for me? (Sadina)"

"Ah, yes, yes. That works, so let's go." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama I want in too." (Atlas)

For some reason, Atlas follows us.

No, I'm really not doing anything like that.

"Go seduce Fohl, or play with him or something." (Naofumi)

"I don't want to." (Atlas)

"Atlas! Your Niichan's been working hard you know!" (Fohl)

"That's right! Fohl-niichan's amazing! You can't see that, Atlas-chan?" (Kiel)

"I'm well aware. But His dignity dwindles in my eyes every time he tries doting on me." (Atlas)

"Is that true... then Fohl-niichan! Let's go show off together, and get Atlas to accept you!" (Kiel)

Kiel innocently intertwines her arm around Fohl's.

They got along well for a while, but aren't they closer than before?

"So you had that sort of relationship? Onii-sama, I will support you from the bottom of my heart?" (Atlas)

"What is she talking about Fohl-niichan? Did something good happen to you?" (Kiel)

"N-no! I... I am..." (Fohl)

Ah, Fohl looks a little happy.

For a misunderstanding like that to make him happy, he might just be a pervert.

... Well, he is happy at having met someone who died.

And she's unbelievably close to how she was in life.

"Ren, Atlas, can I leave the explanations to you?" (Naofumi)

"Got it! I'll explain it all to everyone." (Ren)

"Leave it to me." (Atlas)

I have Atlas and Ren take care of the explanations, as I go with Sadina to another place.

The second we become alone, Sadina raises her guard.

"... And? Naofumi-chan, was what you were saying before true?" (Sadina)

"What reason do I have to lie? Is what I'd like to say, but it seems you guys have been deceived quite a bit by that Bitch Goddess." (Naofumi)

"Yes, there were traitors among us... no, that's wrong. It's because some were killed and then controlled. Among the village children, quite a few were used like that." (Sadina)

"How troublesome." (Naofumi)

Reviving the dead... Unless I actually look at them, I won't be able to tell what she did to them, but if I were to put it honestly, I don't know how to deal with it.

If I had their soul, perhaps it would be possible, but I'm not going to go ahead and try it.

It's just that I know that revival isn't very good for the soul.

It will taint it, or...

This part depends on the laws of the world, it seems.

I don't think the way the Goddess revives them will guarantee them a long life to come.

I mean, this is a world she's going to destroy once she gets bored.

Even her reincarnations are more acceptable than this.

What's more, she uses brainwashing or something to control them.

"... I've had to end a few of them with these very hands." (Sadina)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

Holding herself steady, Sadina has it rough.

"Hah... Sadina, come over here for a second." (Naofumi)

"Ara? Are you going to comfort this oneesan?" (Sadina)

"If you want me to, I will. But looking at your wounds pains me, so let me heal them." (Naofumi)

I turn to Sadina's injuries, and cast Healing Magic on them. They're too deep for normal Healing Magic to have an effect, but the current me can do it.

"I said it before, right? Sadina, you're best when you're relaxed. That smooth body of yours has an appeal in itself, and it doesn't feel right when you have strange wounds covering it." (Naofumi)

"Is my skin really that appealing to you?" (Sadina)

"Yeah, that's right. Keep telling yourself that, and stay still for a moment." (Naofumi)

... When I look closer, I find her tail is fake, prosthetic.

Her swimming form is pretty to a human like me.

I can't leave that as it is.

I use high level healing magic... no in this case, I guess it's been elevated to regeneration magic, and start treating her.

Her wounds visibly start closing, and she returns to the Sadina I know. The simple fact that I've become able to do this gives the time I spent trekking down that endless path meaning.

When her wounds had disappeared without a trace, I cut off the magic.

"So in my last moments, I'm to become Naofumi-chan's play toy?" (Sadina)

"Hey..." (Naofumi)

"Well, it's not like this onee-san didn't know." (Sadina)

"Really?" (Naofumi)

"The revived children's flow or magic, or whatever it was, anyways, I could feel something strange mixed into them. Right now, I can tell them apart to some extent." (Sadina)

Sadina strokes her regenerated tail, and starts flexing it.

"What I'm curious about is the change in Naofumi-chan's magic." (Sadina)

"What sort of change are you talking about?" (Naofumi)

"To put it bluntly, there's an unbelievable amount of power mixed into Naofumi-chan I can't even sense it all. But I sensed it when you chanted magic, it's not something the enemy god did to you. It's close, but I feel something more benevolent. Something like the flow of the land." (Sadina)

"You have some strange sensitivity there." (Naofumi)

"Perhaps it's because Naofumi-chan tested a lot of things with me. It's a bit hard to explain this in words. But I'm just saying I can tell you apart."
(Sadina)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

At the very least, the fact that she's correct is amazing.

In truth, it's not just my power. I have the spirits of ruined worlds lending power to me as well. She's pretty much right.

"What Naofumi-chan is saying is probably true. But the enemy god may have simply found a way to get around my judgements. So I can't erase my doubts." (Sadina)

"So this becomes a Witch Trial?" (Naofumi)

Is there any way I can actually prove that I'm not being controlled?

Even if she says she can tell, if that Goddess could make a fake plausible enough to pass, then there's no way of telling for sure.

"I'll tell everyone you're a shade of gray quite close to white." (Sadina)

(TL: As in white = innocent, black = guilty)

"Just tell them I'm white already." (Naofumi)

"Oh, right. How embarrassing of me." (Sadina)

She makes the 'Tehe' face and I lightly stroke her head.

"Once Raphtalia gets here, we'll bring an end to this battle. Until then, it may be hard, but please help us." (Naofumi)

"It's fine... isn't Naofumi-chan protecting everyone?" (Sadina)

"Yeah, because that's the only thing I can do. Even having obtained this much strength, I can't inflict a single scratch onto my enemies, you know."
(Naofumi)

To prove it, I pounded my fist into Sadina's stomach with all my might.

"Ara... that didn't even tickle. As expected of Naofumi-chan." (Sadina)

"Just to let you know, I didn't hold back there." (Naofumi)

It's something I decided for myself, but was making it so I couldn't do a single point of damage going too far?

In the past, when I attacked a Balloon, I was able to do 1 Damage per hit. But the current me doesn't have a single stat point in attack, so even that 1 has turned to 0.

I do get the feeling it's a bit much, but there really isn't much of a difference between 1 and 0 anyways.

"Then does that mean I can just push Naofumi-chan down like this?"
(Sadina)

"Why did that lead to this!?" (Naofumi)

"Violating a Naofumi-chan who's unable to resist. Doesn't that sound a little fun?" (Sadina)

"It's not fun for me! And even if I can't attack, it's not like I can't resist or anything." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-chan's first has to be Raphtalia-chan, right? Then perhaps next will be Atlas-chan? After that... I think I can win against Firo-chan."
(Sadina)

"In what!?" (Naofumi)

She really doesn't change.

Anyways, like that, we had Sadina explain that we were alive.

It happened after that talk, but Melty stared at Sadina and said the reason she chose to believe me.

“Sadina-san. She seemed to be pushing herself, but after you returned, she seems to be having quite a bit of fun. That’s why I’ve decided to believe you too.” (Melty)

Sadina’s mysterious charisma demonstrates itself wherever I look.

I never thought she had even earned Melty’s trust.

Melty behaves differently around anyone but me. It’s like she has two faces.

“I’m thankful for your trust. I never thought I would have to go through something like that the moment I got back.” (Naofumi)

“I’ll give an honest apology for that one. But I’d like you to understand our circumstances.” (Melty)

I’d already heard it from Sadina, but Melty begins explaining.

Just like me, their missing comrades would suddenly appear gallantly, and after a few days of battle, they would just as suddenly turn coat.

Some representative cases are the Hengen Musou Granny, and the Fake Atlas.

At the start, they thought that the granny had survived, and come to save everyone… but the second the reincarnators gained the advantage, she launched an attack at Firo and Trash.

Since Sadina had been suspicious from the start, they were able to avoid catastrophe, but Sadina suffered a severe wound.

Her tail was severed, it seems.

Atlas appeared to Fohl in a similar manner.

She proclaimed that at the moment I died, the Spirit of the Shield decided to carry out my will, and revive her.

That does sound likely…

And that Atlas acted as their comrade for a while, before betraying.

"It really is master~." (Firo)

So Firo finally believes me now. She hugs me, and nuzzles her head against me.

Her Ahoge pushes against my body. I feel itchy.

"Rafu~!"

Not wanting to lose Raph-chan starts playing around with me.

It's this. This.

Once you appear to save someone from crisis, this is what you're supposed to get...

I appraise the situation satisfyingly, as I felt relieved having returned to this world.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 368 – A Fragile Place

---

“Even so, the situation is one where the enemy can see our every move…”

It's like the mental state I had right after I was summoned had infected everyone.

With something like this going around, there's no wonder why it was so hard to be believed.

“Naofumi-san.”

Glass came over, and called out to me as I was lost in thought.

“What's up?” (Naofumi)

“What do you plan to do from here on?” (Glass)

“I entrusted tomorrow's plan to Trash, did I not?” (Naofumi)

“Yes… but while that person may be skilled, his enemy is just a bad matchup…”

Ah, right, there was something recorded about that in the Four Holy Weapons' Manual.

And wait, record important things like betrayal and revival, you useless book.

Is it something like the scene of the crime is a trivial matter to the case? He had many schemes swirling around his head. It ended with that one sentence.

“And… when will Raphtalia-san be bringing the Holy Spear's Hero?” (Glass)

“Yeah, about that…” (Naofumi)

Raphtalia's arrival is much slower than expected.

Well, perhaps that parallel world was hard to enter, and she's going through some trouble.

I mean, if she uses too much power, she'll be noticed.

I can lightly sense her presence, but it seems that Raphtalia has yet to exit that world.

IT appears to fully gain their trust, I'll have to wait for Raphtalia to get here. And without Motoyasu here, it'll be hard to hit the lynchpin protecting this world.

As long as I'm here, I don't think we're devoid of ways to win, but there's the danger of that Goddess running away.

I can't let her get away.

If she does, she'll merely start perpetuating evil deeds somewhere else. We have to stop her breath here.

The Spirits wish for it as well.

I can use power as a god, but the source of it is the spirits' wills. And the will of the Spirits is also tied to the will of the world.

I am... well, something like their spokesperson.

The spirits and the land whisper me, alerting me of an opportunity.

"I think it will take a while. Until Raphtalia gets here, we have no choice but to keep fighting. Of course, we will get the enemy's front line to retreat, though." (Naofumi)

"... Understood." (Glass)

From here on, I won't allow us to lose to the reincarnators.

My power follows the rules of this world, and within their scope, I think I can win.

But that's only if she doesn't notice.

"By the way, Glass, you were a Person of Soul, right? Can't you see the souls of other people?" (Naofumi)

"I cannot see the souls of the living. In that respect, Sadina-san is more capable.” (Glass)

“Yeah…” (Naofumi)

Just how versatile does she have to be, that girl?

When I tried imagining her, the Sadina of my imagination winked at me, and made a peace sign.

Yay! She said.

That actually seems like something she would do, so it’s scary.

No, perhaps that doesn’t matter.

A-anyways, I’ll have to gather the necessary information.

“Melty, tomorrow, where will you be fighting?” (Naofumi)

“Right now, I’m assisting father. The enemy is really powerful, and there are times when he has to on the front lines and use magic. At time like that I issue commands from the command tower, and prepare choral magic.”

(Melty)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

“But recently, we’ve been pushed back by the reincarnators, and I’m often being protected by Firo-chan.” (Melty)

With a pained expression, Melty muttered it.

Her level has risen considerably.

In the past Firo dragged her around to level until she was completely worn out so she could Class Up, and it’s even higher now.

And in her battles with the reincarnators, it rose further… a difficult story.

『So you’re finally back.』

There, I heard Gaelion’s voice.

『I sensed thy presence manifest near mine own forces, so I was watching thee. 』

I matched channel, and answered.

『What were you doing, anyways?』

『It's not like we were being one-sidedly crushed, mind you. I and Wyndea, and regrettably that Filo Rial Queen were fighting at the enemy stronghold.』

A united front of rivals. A dream-like situation.

No, I know this isn't the mood for something like that.

Even so, Gaelion and Fitoria were working together and fighting?

I guess that's just how far cornered we were.

『How's the situation』

『Unfavorable. My power is unable to triumph over the Goddess. We've slaughtered her front lines many times.』

So they beat the reincarnators several times...

Whenever they died, they had some sort of revival granted to them.

Are they truly fine with returning from death like that?

That's just great.

But that Bitch Goddess's revival has plenty of demerits, you know?

Your lifespan shrinks immensely, and before you notice it, your soul is tampered with. If they knew about it, I doubt they would rely on it so much.

It may give off quite a game-ish feeling... but the world isn't that much of a game.

If you die, you generally can't come back, and even if you do, if the one doing the reviving skips parts of the process, your soul is tainted, and starts to fall apart.

At best... after two times, you may not notice it, but it should start shattering here and there.

I don't know what she's telling them to play it off.

They weren't made to be okay after death like the Dragon Emperor.

"Naofumi?" (Melly)

"Hmm? Ah, and?" (Naofumi)

I concentrate on the conversation with Melty.

It may have been a conversation in my mind, but it was pretty much me calling Gaelion on a cellphone while my body was still talking to Melty.

"Father is calling you. Pertaining to the battles from tomorrow on, there are some things he wants to report, and other things he wants to ask." (Melty)

"Got it." (Naofumi)

I nodded, and started heading for Trash's place.

... There was something I had to say.

"Melty." (Naofumi)

"W-what?" (Melty)

"You worked really hard. I'll definitely make it all work out." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi, those words don't suit you." (Melty)

"Yeah, the past me would definitely never say them." (Naofumi)

"Yes, but..." (Melty)

Melty cuts off her own words once.

"Yeah... thank you. Thank you for surviving..." (Melty)

With teary eyes, Melty said it loud and clear.

After parting with Melty, I headed to the meeting room Trash used to spin out plans.

It seems that he's thinking of ways to stop the enemy advance tomorrow. Even while I was talking with Sadina and Melty, he was here thinking. The boards in the room were filled with various ideas.

"Iwatani-dono, thank you for coming." (Trash)

"How does it look?" (Naofumi)

"..." (Trash)

Trash's face is deeply dyed with the color of fatigue.

I mean, the enemy is the Queen he knows so well, and she's the one taking command, so it's hard to do it.

During the day, it seems my scolding had a positive effect, but there are many times when Trash runs into obstacles on the mental front.

"It may be tough, but you have to protect the country of the woman you loved." (Naofumi)

"I know. I know!" (Trash)

It was a line he said to convince himself.

But I think the burden he bears should decrease now.

It's a bit of a worrying factor that the enemy is the Queen, but I'll assure him that it'll be fine.

As I was thinking that...

"Naofumi-sama!"

Atlas came in by passing through the wall.

With her, Fohl and Kiel came to the conference room.

"It's a misunderstanding! I'm not in that sort of relationship with Kiel!"
(Fohl)

"I think you have it wrong, Atlas-chan. From me, the Crepe Tree is number one, then second is Niichan, and third is Fohl-niichan!" (Kiel)

So they were still on about that!

Atlas uses me as a Shield to hide from Fohl.

Hey, don't go using me like that after wanting to become my Shield.

Also, Kiel, don't make an incomprehensible hierarchy like that.

Why am I under that disturbing tree?

"Ah..."

Trash and Fohl's eyes meet, and the atmosphere becomes heavy. Without reading the mood, Kiel continues to wag her tail in dog mode, while sitting on Fohl's head.

"..."

Perhaps because these two are so similar, they're often troubled with finding words to exchange.

Trash tries to concern himself with Fohl's affairs, and Fohl finds that annoying.

"What's wrong?" (Atlas)

"Atlas, I'd like you to show Trash that you're doing fine. He's someone who was worrying over you." (Naofumi)

"Really...? Understood." (Atlas)

In a half-transparent state, Atlas gently floated in front of Trash.

"Um, I've kinda become like this, but I'm fine. I would appreciate it if you put your mind at ease." (Atlas)

"..."

Trash wipes away tears, and turns his back to Atlas.

"... This time, the enemy you're fighting must be painful to go against. But... it's true that she is a very important person to you... please consider that. Are all the important things you've ever lost your enemies?" (Atlas)

"... Right." (Trash)

The Queen is currently an enemy.

But besides the Fake Atlas, no one with any relation to Trash has appeared. The Bitch Goddess didn't call up the one who was Atlas's mother, or his sworn enemy, the Hakuko.

You could look at it optimistically, or think that she just didn't want to send them out yet, though.

If she wanted to, I don't think it would be beyond her.

But... I'll bet the cost will be high for her if she wanted to do that.

"I'll also caution you. It's likely that those people may come out, but like with the Fake Atlas, they'll be fakes created from your memory. I doubt they will harbor their true souls." (Naofumi)

The shape of one's soul is a complex thing in this world. I guess they also reincarnate.

But those souls flow in the dragon pulse, and once they've become pure white, blank slates, they're reborn as new forms of life.

If the bitch were to drag Trash's family out from that, she would have to tamper with the world's laws.

That would take a considerably large cost, so for the Goddess who merely liked playing around and tormenting her enemies, there's no way she would do that.

The reason she could recycle the Queen and the granny was probably because it hasn't been too long since they died.

She could make them act so that even the ones in question wouldn't be able to tell the difference.

This is just hearsay, but apparently the granny acted exactly as she always did up to her betrayal.

No, perhaps she was brainwashed, or directly controlled. I don't know which.

I mean, the fake Atlas was a manifestation of Fohl's desires, so she tried to abuse me, it seems.

"Then... we'll be leaving..."

Fohl took Kiel, and left.

These sure are loud folk.

"Didn't you call me over to see if I was going to be reliable, or not?"

(Naofumi)

"Yes... just how much strength did you gain, Iwatani-dono?" (Trash)

"Replying to that is a bit troubling, but I can probably take an attack from that Bitch Goddess head on. Ah, I'll make a promise. If that Bitch tried to dishonor the dead by reviving them again, I'll stop her." (Naofumi)

I definitely can't forgive her for making use of those passed.

It'll be fine once Raphtalia comes, but for now, why don't I interfere with her a bit?

"So you... need to put the Queen to rest. For Melty's sake too." (Naofumi)

Melty has a strong will, but despite that, she has some fragile places like Trash.

It's because Firo's there that she can hold out.

If her father were to lose the will to fight, the burden would be too much for her.

"You have things you need to protect." (Naofumi)

"Yes..." (Trash)

Trash softly answered. He shook and sobbed, but he answered.

Even I could see how much pain he was in.

"Naofumi-sama, how about you use some of your power?" (Atlas)

"Reviving the dead is an act that twists the world's order and its law of cause and effect. I don't think it's impossible, but..." (Naofumi)

If I use it, she'll notice me instantly, and the recoil is too large.

What's more, the Queen's soul is already in the hands of that Bitch Goddess, so it'll be difficult.

"No... I do not think that Mirellia would wish to be revived. For your consideration, Iwatani-dono... I thank you from the depths of my heart."

(Trash)

"Yeah, sorry for that." (Naofumi)

There are people I want to bring back who died.

If, unlike the Bitch Goddess's instant revival, I used proper methods, I would be able to stop the soul's deterioration to some extent, the shield told me.

But I don't think I'll be able to use it too much.

Again, it has to do with the cost.

Any more resurrections, and she may become something that isn't the Queen anymore.

It's not a good thing at all. So we can't go around using it.

"Trash." (Naofumi)

"What is it, Iwatani-dono?" (Trash)

"Rest for now. Or else you won't get any good ideas." (Naofumi)

"... but..." (Trash)

As he was earnestly thinking up plans, on my orders, he slightly shook his head.

But Atlas approached him, and in the frame of his open hand, she tried to place hers.

"You really are tired. Please rest for a while." (Atlas)

"If Iwatani-dono insists... then for a little bit, I will rest." (Trash)

Trash leaned back in his chair.

I chant some fatigue-recovery magic, and remove some of his tiredness to a reasonable extent.

Even if I take away the fatigue with magic, I can't do anything about the mental fatigue he has.

“Atlas, please talk to him, so he has a good sleep.” (Naofumi)

“Yes. I think it went something like…” (Atlas)

Atlas put her hand on his ear, as if to hide her voice from others, and started whispering.

“Onii-sama, please… to prepare for the battles to come, take a nice rest. It may be painful, but please, for the people you love as well…” (Atlas)

“Iwatani-dono, Atlas-dono… thank you…” (Trash)

On Atlas’s words, a teardrop drifts down his face as he quietly closes his eyes. He began breathing like someone asleep.

From one of his aides, I received a blanket, and I draped it over him.

I’ll put some expectations on him.

Tomorrow, the sleeping king of wisdom will turn out an idea good enough to overturn the battlefield.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 369 – The Eve of the Decisive Battle

---

Making sure Trash was sound asleep, we quietly left the room.

When we descended the castle stairs, we found Glass, Ren and Female Knight. Also Itsuki and Rishia. They were meeting up to discuss the coming battle.

It's dependent on Trash's plan, but to what extent can we take action... in the battlefield, what sort of attacks could we expect from our enemies. That sort of talk.

"Ah, Naofumi-san." (Itsuki)

Itsuki notices us, and calls out to us.

"It's a bit sudden, but I'd like to have a little talk about our enemy." (Itsuki)

"It's because Ren-san didn't know much about our world's situation."

(Rishia)

"Yeah, that'll help." (Naofumi)

Even if I had a slight grasp of what was going on, I can't just go about using my powers for something like this.

It's not yet the time to use them.

And so, it's much more efficient to just ask for whatever information they have on the enemy.

"We were just in the middle of that conversation with Ren-san. But he really did grow big. I was quite surprised." (Rishia)

Rishia looked at me, turned to Ren, and spoke.

"He's grown quite splendidly, hasn't he?" (Rishia)

"R-really?" (Ren)

"No, he still has quite a way to go." (Female Knight)

Female Knight crossed her arms, and said it with a proud tone.
Even so, between Ren and Female Knight, there's a strange sense of distance, or some sort of uncomfortable atmosphere. Something like that.
Glass seems to have noticed the gap as well. She's a bit troubled.
Ah, right. She was fighting in our camp.

"No matter how big he's gotten, I have yet to see if his heart's grown as well! After this, I plan to have him show me his swordsmanship." (Female Knight)

"Ah, I see. Ren has it hard." (Naofumi)

"Fight on, Ren-san." (Itsuki)

Itsuki encourages Ren in a clear voice, but... for some reason, it sounded like he was muttering to himself.

"Until now, Ren was the youngest of all of us, but now that spot has fallen to me." (Itsuki)

Now that I think about it... Ren was sixteen, so in two years, he's become eighteen.

Itsuki was seventeen, I believe.

I'm twenty, and Motoyasu is twenty one, so Itsuki is the youngest among us.

Well, through my wanderings through the rift, I don't really know my actual age anymore, though.

But I'll keep that to myself.

"Ah, right. I thought I should give this to you guys." (Naofumi)

I take out the medicine Arc gave me, and showed it to Ren.

"I think this was the liquid from the Filo Rial's Holy Land, right?" (Ren)

"It's the concentrated version. Try feeding it to your weapon. Whatever you do, don't drink it. It's poison." (Naofumi)

It's a medicine that turns you into a god if you drink it... but I know it isn't something that should be used so readily.

In the first place, even from this world's perspective, it's a foreign object.

It's an exception among exceptions.

Even the current me is probably an exception from the world's perspective.

... When this battle is over, what should I do?

"I see... understood."

As I inclined the vial to one side, Itsuki took out his bow, and absorbed the drop that fell.

"This is... the Bow of XØ? How is it different from the Bow of Ø? Its effects and stats are the same." (Itsuki)

"I think it'll be much more effective on the Bitch Goddess than the Ø Series, you know. When the time comes, try using it." (Naofumi)

"Understood. Then you will be spreading this medicine around to the other Heroes, too?" (Itsuki)

"Yeah, tomorrow. Before the battle starts." (Naofumi)

After giving some to Ren and Rishia, I looked towards Glass.

"Glass, do you think it can be used on the weapons from your place?"
(Naofumi)

"Hmm... I don't really know." (Glass)

"I guess we should just test it." (Naofumi)

I dripped the medicine onto Glass's fan.

"The Fan of XZero..." (Glass)

So in Glass's world's weapons, the name gets written out?

Even so, it's good it came out.

"Next is..." (Naofumi)

I explained whatever information I thought necessary, and we organized our information.

And since our business with it was over, I closed the bottle. I mean, it would be terrible if it were to be abused.

It's supposed to give some godly power, but once you get the power, what sort of end awaits you?

... Even I don't know what the future holds for me.

The God Slayer who called himself Arc told me.

That no matter what happened, I shouldn't regret.

It's probable that he was implying this.

When this battle is over, what will become of me and Raphtalia?

"And? Your enemies... in this case, do you have anything to say about the Reincarnators?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. Of the ones we fought, I thought I should tell you two about the cost conspicuously strong ones we encountered." (Itsuki)

"Got it. Please tell me." (Naofumi)

The Reincarnators are like that Bitch Goddess's vassals.

No, they're just her pawns.

Do they understand that once she's done playing around, she's going to erase the world all at once?

No, if they did, I doubt they would be acting like this.

"First is about Glass's world's vassal Heroes. There are five we've encountered." (Itsuki)

Glass was the Fan, right?

And from what I've seen, there was a Scythe, and a Katana.

The wall guy just had a strange power, and he shouldn't be a legendary weapon holder.

"First, there's the Heroes of the Katana and Scythe. There was also the Harpoon, and Instrument, and the ship." (Itsuki)

"A Harpoon, an Instrument, and a Ship." (Naofumi)

They're all quite strange weapons.

What the hell's with the Instrument? I can't imagine what sort of attack's supposed to come out of it.

But there's one even stranger than that mixed in.

"What's with that last one. The Ship." (Naofumi)

"It had an ability much like the carriage Fitoria-san holds. It flew in the sky, and rained down attacks on us." (Itsuki)

"I didn't see it on the battlefield I appeared on." (Naofumi)

"It was fighting with Glass-san and Wyndia-san in a different squadron." (Itsuki)

I did hear from Gaelion. Fitoria was supposed to be there as well.

Just how much of an all-out-war is this?

What's more, they've enclosed in on Melromark, and the defense of the other countries is in shambles.

There are also many countries that have fallen, it seems.

Right now, a safe country... doesn't exist.

For the time being, the world's allied army is still fighting as one, but I can't foresee how that will work out in the future.

"So we should be wary of them?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, right now, those five seem to be the enemy's aces. But if you count the other reincarnators, the amount increases." (Itsuki)

"There was also a person who nullified Itsuki-sama's Down Magic through strange ability. When the Kin tried to use Naofumi-san's Support Magic to try to increase our abilities, the result was the same..." (Rishia)

It's an iron rule of support, that when the other side uses it, your irritation increases proportional to their stats.

That Bitch Goddess seems to make up for the lack of coordination in her own troops through Support Magic, though.

Even though the enemy is playing on hacks, we're using proper procedure and... Yeah, if it went like that, it's clear why we have more losses than wins.

What's more, she revives those involved with our side, and controls them. This is no joke.

But... I'm not going to let her do that anymore.

However... just what is Raphtalia doing?

She just went to go get Motoyasu, so isn't she taking way too much time? Is what I think, but the place Motoyasu was in was a troublesome parallel time-space loop, so perhaps it can't be helped.

"Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"Hmm?" (Naofumi)

Atlas lightly floats to my ear, and whispers a plan.

Fumu... that sounds interesting.

"Female Knight." (Naofumi)

"... Yes, what?" (Female Knight)

When I called her Female Knight, she gave an expression that showed she had given up in the deepest depths of her heart. She let out a sigh before answering.

"Do you want to become a vassal Hero?" (Naofumi)

"What are you saying all of a sudden!? Could it be that one of the four legendary Heroes plans to steal a weapon from another Hero?" (Female Knight)

"Naofumi... I don't know who you plan on taking it from, but please stop.

Everyone's working hard." (Ren)

"Don't misunderstand, I just wanted to try asking is all." (Naofumi)

Well, I guess that's the thought that would surface first.

But what I'm trying to do is nothing like that.

"I just wanted to ask those that distinguished themselves... you know."
(Naofumi)

No, perhaps I should act oblivious.

I don't plan on letting the chance slip by, though.

"I'm not sure if it's possible or not, so don't expect too much." (Naofumi)

"I don't know what you plan on doing, but can't you share it?" (Ren)

"That is..."

Atlas whispers into Ren's and the others' ears too.

I don't know if I can do it, so this talk is nothing more than a good luck charm.

Though it seems Atlas is sure of herself.

"You can do something like that?" (Glass)

Glass leaned her body forward, and asked.

"It's only a possibility, but if it worked, wouldn't it help our situation?"
(Naofumi)

"Can I... get my hopes up?" (Glass)

"Please don't hope too much. I'm only on the level of, 'It would be nice if that was possible.'" (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Glass)

I mean there's no demerit to having more people.

Well, I'm leaving the larger-scale plan to Trash.

Come to think of it... there was something I was curious about.

"Glass, you use Spirit Water to recover your strength, right? Are you still able to do that?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, Itsuki offered to give some to me." (Glass)

"We were able to overcome crises many times because of her." (Itsuki)

"That should be my line." (Glass)

"Naofumi-san, would you like to hear about Glass-san's forces? I think the information may prove useful." (Itsuki)

"Glass's forces. You mean her allies that acted with her when she was outside of her world?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, before the World Assimilation... my comrades that were quite active in my world." (Glass)

"One of them was a Person of Soul we almost mistook for that person. You know, the one who's part of this country's security. She ended her sentences with..." (Rishia)

And so we shared information to some extent.

After that, I left the castle, and started walking down the dark streets.

The light was still burning in the Weapon Shop..

It was already quite late at night.

I could hear the sound of a Hammer hitting metal from the back of the shop.

"Oy." (Naofumi)

"We'll be intruding on you." (Atlas)

We knock on the door to announce our presence.

"What. The shop's closed you know... if it isn't the young lad!"

For some reason, Imya and her uncle were with him.

Because of the constant battle, they've been making armor and weapons without stop, I've heard.

"Did you hear about what happened on the battlefield?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah. I was told you may be a fake, so I should wait for them to determine it at the castle, but from how it looks, there was no problem with that."

(Old Man)

"I'm sick of everybody doubting me like that, though." (Naofumi)

"Haha, that behavior fits you, boy." (Old Man)

Well... being doubted makes me remember the time I came to this world...

But if someone asked if such things fit me, I'd like to shake my head.

This all happened because Witch framed me, and if that never happened, perhaps I would have lived normally.

Well, that's fine.

"And? How are things on your end? Imya seems to be there too."

(Naofumi)

"The village is still safe, but they're making armor for those participating in the war." (Old Man)

The Old Man and Imya's Uncle are known craftsmen. I guess requests keep coming.

And the reason Imya and her uncle are here probably has something to do with materials and equipment.

Right now, they're not making things for the village, but for the world.

I've heard that the Castle Town's largest manufacturing workshop keeps going, making weapons day and night. Here.

The weapons they make go to the heroes and those close to them with the highest priority, but they're also distributed to the lower level soldiers as well.

Come to think about it, Itsuki, Female Knight and Sadina seemed to have some high-class equipment.

They even use their free time to develop new sorts of equipment.

"And to aid your work, I brought a few books from my world." (Naofumi)

I showed the weapon books from my world to the Old Man.

Truthfully, over that long journey, they got to the brink of falling apart, but before I got to this world, I used a bit of power to restore them.

“He~! So this is a book of your world’s weapons, boy. There are quite a few here.” (Old Man)

He can’t read the lettering, so I collected books that mainly focused on pictures.

They’re mainly books on the manufacturing of guns, though.

Of course, there are also a few with words tightly packed together explaining just what sort of weapons they were.

If we had time, I would help explain it in detail, but tomorrow I have to head to battle.

“In my world, there’s a process where you use charcoal to refine and harden things. So I think this may prove a little useful.” (Naofumi)

“Thanks, laddy. I’ll use it with care.” (Old Man)

“Making things harder with carbon… can it be applied to clothing too?” (Imya)

For some reason, Imya’s eyes are shimmering.

It seems she’s anxious to eat her way through the books.

“If I don’t teach it, it’ll probably be difficult. Just slowly analyze those books, and use them to make this shop flourish. That’s enough.” (Atlas)

On Atlas’s words, I also nod.

That’s right. As long as there’s war, his business will be booming.

But I think that the Old Man is one who wishes for a world at peace.

Because he’s been lending me power since the time my life was thrown apart, I can understand.

"Leave it to me, boy, and tiger girl. By the way, where's the young miss?"
(Old Man)

"Raphtalia is working on another mission. She's bringing Motoyasu."
(Naofumi)

"Ah, the Hero of the Spear, is it? I saw him a while ago, but she'll have it rough." (Old Man)

Rough referring to interacting with Motoyasu.

I'm of the same opinion.

So the Old Man's seen that Motoyasu to.

To put it bluntly, no matter who looks at him, they'll find him strange.

... No, I don't really care about Motoyasu.

"Make sure you don't work too hard and collapse." (Naofumi)

Well, I think this tough battle will end tomorrow.

Of course, the enemy's situation, and Raphtalia's arrival could delay it.

But we survived up 'til today. I'd hate it if they died from overwork.

"I know. Hey, all of you too." (Old Man)

"Y-yes!" (Imya)

"Yes." (Imya's Uncle)

"Ah, I see you guys are caught up in the books the young lad brought. Let me have at them too!" (Old Man)

And off they go. The three indulged in the books I brought, as they began debating things with one another.

If they collapse because of this, does it become my fault?

I'm a little worried, so I cast some fatigue recovery magic.

And after giving them a few warnings, we returned to the castle.

When I returned, at the castle gate, Firo and Melty were asleep. Perhaps they were waiting for me.

Melty had drifted to sleep while sitting atop Firo.

And Firo, as she was, slept with Melty on her back.

They must be tired.

They were quite peaceful, so I ordered a soldier to fetch me a blanket, and after draping it over them, I laid down to take a nap nearby.

Everyone's quite busy.

But this battle will soon come to an end.

I should find some peace of mind, and sleep for a while.

At that time, Atlas murmured, 『It's the first time that Naofumi-sama agreed to let me sleep by his side』, but that doesn't really matter.

Like that, the night before the battle passed by.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 370 – Barbarian Armor EX

---

The next morning.

We finished preparations for our strategy, and were waiting for their attack to come.

Trash was able to take a nap, and because of that, he was able to get a better look at his tactics.

Well, that Bitch Goddess's actions aren't something that easy to predict. I gave Trash all the info I put together by talking with Ren and the others, and he ended up finalizing his strategy, which was good news.

Starting with the goddess, the reincarnators and all their forces were going to attack Melromark and the area surrounding it.

The strategy was apparently something Trash made while taking the controlled Queen into consideration.

Apparently, he could tell what formation their forces would take excluding the reincarnators.

This will be a difficult battle.

And, in order to surprise the enemy, Gaelion, Fitoria and Sadina were going to infiltrate enemy land, and prepare to ambush, but due to my participation, we're changing it to a frontal assault.

If we had more time, we could have prepared more, but if we use too many petty tricks, that Bitch Goddess may get pissed. It's really troublesome.

Just how far does she go to have things go exactly her way?

She's just a coward that takes delight in victory.

And when it gets too easy, she says it's no fun.

Even so, she can't forgive it when the tides turn against her...

I think I've experienced that before.

In a network war cellphone game, when I was at a disadvantage, I would cut the connection.

Even so, when I won, I thought it was no fun anymore.

Even when I used underhanded tactics.

Fu... it's that rotten way of thought.

Now go make up for it with your death!

"Now then, let us depart."

"Please wait, Hero of the Shield-sama!"

When I was about to head off to war, a soldier called out to me.

"What?" (Naofumi)

"A renowned craftsman famous among the entire allied army says he wants to present a protector unto the Hero of the Shield-sama."

"... Do you mean the weapon shop I frequent?" (Naofumi)

The soldier nodded in silence.

With the time they had last night, just what did they make?

"Got it." (Naofumi)

"Then please take this."

And what he handed over was a set of armor.

Its name was Barbarian Armor EX.

It seems like a different piece than the one I always wore before.

Well, with that attack that Bitch Goddess Used, it was completely destroyed, so he probably worked hard to repair it.

This armor sure likes to reappear.

And right now, I judge the materials of the armor presented before me. The materials used are... Spirit Turtle, Houou, and Kirin.

Also, the concepts those people picked up yesterday are also included. On the material list, is the material Carbon.

Thinking back, it's been a while since I asked Dragon Emperor Gaelion to reknew the core of the armor.

I remove the corestone that was inserted to take the place of the core.

"Gaelion." (Naofumi)

"KYUA!"

『Well, well, well... you're the same as always. After attaining that much power, you still ask of me to share mine own?』

When I call him, Gaelion takes a step forward.

『You can never be too safe.』

As I used telepathy to answer him, he snorted back at me through telepathy.

"Kue!"

"Yeah! Firo won't lose to Gaelion!"

Fitoria steps forward to rival him.

Firo is with her.

And they both rip out one of their Ahoges, and hand them to me.

『Gu... then I cannot back down here.』

The Dragon Emperor who had his fill of the core stones of others, threw up a large one.

Its color is a clear red, the likes of which I've never seen in his cores before.

Its coloring was as if it were imbued with flames; a glowing gem.

It's like a crystallization of the Dragon Emperor.

"Rafu~!"

Raph-chan also steps forward, and and casts magic on the armor.

Oh, his is also amazing.

How am I supposed to use these feathers?

For now, I'll just keep them in the armor. When I tried to do that, the feathers glowed, and were absorbed into it.

And on its back, something appeared. Holes just right for wings, or something similar to fit through.

And when I put Gaelion's core in, the armor shined even further, and started to change.

Barbarian Armor EX

Destruction Impossible, Defense Up, Impact Resist (Large), Beheading Resist (Large), Flame Resist (Extra Large), Electric Resist (Extra Large), Absorb Resist (Very Large), HP Recovery (Strong), Magic Recovery (Strong), SP Recovery (Strong)

Magic Elevation (Large), Blessing of the Dragon Emperor, Magic to Defense Conversion, Autonomous Repair, Blessing of the Earth's Pulse, Blessing of Life, Dragon Attribute, Dragon Territory

Growing Power, Blessing of the Divine Bird, Familiar Abilities Doubled, Blessing of the Divine Beast, One who Controls Monsters, Magic Cruising Blessing of the Four Spirits, Blessing of the Spirits, Prayers of the people, A Link to the Spirits.

It had a wide succession of abilities.

I don't have the time to check all of them, but what is Magic Cruising?

What's more, it isn't even Barbarian Armor anymore.

Why must that name stick no matter what?

Does that Old Man think of me as some sort of savage?

No, I think it was truly named out of good will, but...

"Amazing..."

Ren looked at the armor, and said as such.

“There’s also equipment for everyone else as well. Please confirm them.”

“Ah, with this, I’ll be able to fight more!”

I put on the armor, and test out its feel.

It’s the first time I’m wearing it, but it feels really familiar.

I feel like I’ve been wearing it for many years.

And I felt magic passing through the holes in the back.

Let’s try directing some more there..

Fwish. From the holes on my back, wings of magic started to take form.

Their colors were sky blue, and the color of Sakura Petals.

(TL: If you don’t remember, that’s Fitoria’s color, and Firo’s original coloring)

“Uwah…”

Everyone around me falls silent.

That was to be expected.

And just how did they go about making this.

Flying through the sky isn’t impossible for me, but with this, it becomes a lot easier.

I stop sending magic through it, and land.

“Fumu… it’s not that I can’t wear it, but with something this high in quality, there’s the option of equipping it on someone else.”

I mean, I don’t have that great of a need for it.

Its ability is much greater than the previous version, and with this much functionality, someone else can…

“RAFU!”

“KUEeEE!”

“No!”

“KYUA!”

『You. Don't you think that's a bit much? I can't approve of it.』

… The monsters voice their objections.

I want to ignore them, but it was an armor made for me out of good will, so I guess there's no helping it.

“Yes, yes. I got it.”

It was something the Old Man and Co. put their best efforts into making, so I wanted it to be used to its maximum potential, but I guess that was a misplaced worry.

I mean, it was also exactly to my size.

And wait… I noticed it after putting it on, but this armor… perhaps It's linked to my Shield, but my defense was amplified by quite a large amount. The Defense listed in my Status Magic became something quite amazing. Of course, the parts that make me a god are separate from what I have as Status Magic in this world.

Amazing. I get the feeling that this piece of equipment could even handle the power of a god.

This is… I feel it would be a waste to give to someone else.

An armor made out of the world's hope… Perhaps a new spirit will come to inhabit it someday.

My own exclusive armor, what a nice sound. Unlike a certain Shield.

“Then I'll use it gratefully.”

“I turn to everyone present in the area, and make a declaration.

“I've kept you waiting. Now then, today, we'll bring an end to this idiotic battle!” (Naofumi)

“YEAH!”

Everyone lifts their weapons high up, and answers.

Today, we'll release this world from its vile divine invader!

When we made it to the battlefield, the enemy forces were already there waiting for us.

We maintain the formation Trash formed, and I lead at the front.

We'll keep ourselves vigilant for side blows from the Goddess, crush the enemy forces as we proceed forwards, and have them retreat. After that, we'll make our way the Bitch Goddess in the rear, and defeat her.

Truly a simple plan.

But our army has personally received specific instructions from Trash.

The Heroes are each to take on one of the enemy's aces. Well, as long as I'm here, that shouldn't be too much of a problem.

This time, Fitoria is also fighting on the front line with her full sized form. Can she even fight like that?

I haven't spoken to them about it yet, but Rat and Mii-kun, as well as Taniko and Gaelion are going to spur up chaos in the enemy's lines.

I think that Raphtalia will surely come sometime today, but if Motoyasu doesn't accompany her, I'll conclude he's impossible to deal with.

It's no joke if he plans to run away.

The problem is the clash of Trash and the Queen's opposing army.

"Iwatani-dono, about my wife, can you leave her to me?" (Trash)

"I planned to do that from the start. Just go and put an end to it."
(Naofumi)

"Father... I'll also assist you." (Melly)

Melly declared that she would be supporting Trash.

I'm counting on them.

"What about Firo~?" (Firo)

"Go work with Trash and Melty. Even if they plan on issuing orders, they're crossing quite a dangerous bridge here." (Naofumi)

"Yeah! Got it~!" (Firo)

Now, let's start the battle.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 371 – Proxy

---

We were locked in a stare-down with the enemy for five minutes.

Military formations kept shuffling round on both sides.

I have no idea how many times the Queen and Trash are going to try and read each other's plans.

I bring up my Status Magic.

The area's terrain and personnel make me slightly confused as I follow the changes again and again.

I've never personally experienced Trash's resourcefulness in war.

No, I did participate in that war, but I was sent to eliminate the enemy leader, so I worked separately. So in truth, I've never come to know it.

"Fortify the left flank! The Right as well... Center disperse!"

After these changes repeated countless times, Trash proclaimed something, and I stepped forward.

"Iwatani-dono, and the others, begin your assault!"

I follow the orders, and took the front.

And at the same time, I became speechless.

I mean large scale meteor magic fell and exploded on the enemy army.

I had wondered if it was going to go well, and went forth thinking failure as a possibility, but I'm surprised it actually hit the enemy so easily.

The Queen's incompetence... no, that's not it. It's the competence of the ones casting the covenant magic.

Originally, covenant magic had meaning through gathering the magic of multiple people in one place. The output directly correlates to the amount of magic gathered.

But Trash deployed his magic corps all over the place, and while divided, they still managed to complete the preparations for it. I'd call it a drastic move.

I can understand things like this due to my new sensitivity to magic.

Honestly, I can only call it madness.

You don't know where it will fall, and you can't guarantee the output, yet he used that magic with definite accuracy, timing, and output.

The guys from Silt Welt did say you can't predict what will happen while fighting Trash, but I guess they were right.

He probably timed it so even the Queen was unable to predict it.

No... she actually did.

That's why she changed her formation time and time again.

And in their battle of reading each other, Trash came out on top. Will these surprise attacks keep unfolding over the battlefield?

"UWAAAAAAAAAAH!"

I see the enemy troops getting blown away.

I activate Defense Link and Meteor Wall as we begin our assault on the enemy.

"E-everyone, don't forget we have the Goddess's protection!"

A non-reincarnator is giving orders to the army. He's entrusting his protection to the divine.

As usual, it seems the Bitch Goddess has used some support Magic. The worn-down soldiers scattered on the ground start rising like Zombies, and their wounds begin to visibly close.

They're even laughing about how they feel no pain. It's unnerving.

To counter attack our meteorites, they also cast meteorite magic, and magma begins to gush out from the ground.

“I’ve read your hand!”

When the troops take on Trash’s ordered formation, they splendidly dodge the falling rocks and magma.

Just who are you, Trash!

“Iwatani-dono, it’s about time for the Enemy commanders to show themselves! I’ll leave it to you!”

As Trash shouted out, I sensed a presence.

“There!” (Naofumi)

I activate Magic Cruising to float in the air, and hold up my Shield.

And immediately following, the guy with the katana suddenly appeared, and unleashed a skill.

“[Sky Running Crescent Moon]! What–”

A sharp blade of air appears, and approaches me in a shape like that of the moon as it tries to mutilate me.

As I stop that blade, a light metallic sound rings out.

The reincarnator louses his voice.

“Could it be…”

Is this the first time these guys are seeing Trash’s seriousness?

No, I don’t think that’s it.

I’ll bet he’s surprised at how easily I withstood his attack.

Or else, he wouldn’t have tried a surprise attack like this against Trash’s army.

“I’m not letting you run, you know.” (Naofumi)

I grab the reincarnator's katana, and concentrate my mind.

At that time, the magic Trash had been preparing in the rear collided with him and those around him.

「All Revelation Down X」!

Itsuki follows his orders, and uses his ability decreasing magic.

At the same time, I began casting... some magic of my own.

I interfere with Itsuki's magic, and change its scope and target.

And emerald light follows the enemy, as it spreads over their forces.

The essence of war is to strengthen your forces, and weaken your enemy's.

I shorten the incantation as much as possible, to make it faster than a single breath. And I use the strongest support magic I can outside of the scope of her suspecting anything.

「All Revelation Aura EX」!

The magic is transmitted to the soldiers through the Defense Link.

For all my allies on the battlefield, support magic activates.

Because of that, the forces the Bitch Goddess strengthened through magic can be combatted through direct methods.

In order to nullify our magic, a cheat ability mixed with magic begins to rain down.

"Ren, Itsuki, Fohl, Glass! Go stop the caster!" (Naofumi)

"Got it! What about you, Naofumi!?" (Ren)

"Me? I'll stop this one, and..."

Against the endlessly raining nullification magic, I chant a single skill.

「De Dispel Parry」!

... The skill redirected the attack meant to nullify our supports.

Originally, Dispel Parry was a skill to protect individual units, but I tweaked a bit.

Meaning...

"Wha- Their movements aren't getting any slower, you say!?"

Those reincarnators are shocked.

Right... I rendered their nullifications attacks null.

Of course, that's within the rules the Bitch Goddess set.

Well, she's just playing.

If it's just this much, I don't think she'll get serious.

"Good! Let's proceed as Naofumi said!" (Ren)

"Yeah!"

Ren and the others run past me.

The effects of Defense Link don't cut off.

While it originally had an effect time, I can make that optional and control it.

In all honesty, I can probably keep it active eternally.

Just like yesterday, even when they're attacked with killing blows, they take absolutely no damage.

"W-what's with these people! Even if I attack them, they don't even dodge!"

"It's a cheat! These guys are playing unfair! You cowards!"

I don't want to hear that from you! Is what I want to say.

The fact doesn't change that they're abusing their own cheat powers even now.

"Now then..." (Naofumi)

"Just how long are you going to hold that!? Let me go!"

"Why should I?" (Naofumi)

The guy with the Katana started shouting at me.

He must be pissed tht things aren't going his way.

I get quite a relieved expression when I see guys like this making this sort of face.

“Die!”

Perhaps they sensed something off, but a guy with a harpoon, and the one with the scythe stabbed at me with their weapons.

What’s more, behind them is one with an instrument in hand, and in the sky is a ship… Ah, I think they used a transport skill to get down here together.

Perfect.

“Atlas!” (Naofumi)

“Yes!” (Atlas)

From the Shield, Atlas answers to my voice.

She touches the Katana, and I match my consciousness with the Spirit’s.

『Ple… he… lp… me…』

Having been bound by a strange power, it was being made use of forcibly. I hear the voice of the otherworldly spirit.

Yeah, I’ll help you right away.

Originally, the Spirits that dwell in the weapons are the manifestation of the will to protect the world. In order to protect their own worlds, they oppose the spirits of others.

But right now, the worlds have become one.

Even if they’re from another world, we’re not enemies for them to oppose.

And the foundations of these vassal weapons, the four holy weapons of that world have mostly been lost already.

No… perhaps they’re out there somewhere, and are merely sealed.

I use this vassal as an intermediary to link to them.

… It seems that the four legendary spirits were able to escape their control. But they no longer have the power left to fight.

“You hate being controlled regardless of your own will, right? I’ll definitely let you free.” (Naofumi)

I… gently talk to the Spirit.

“Sacred Weapon Spirits of another world… please listen to my words. And please lend us your power.” (Atlas)

The Spirit of the Shield and Atlas try to call out to them.

Through me, I restore some power to them, and they answer.

Right now, I was able to link to all the Spirits fighting on this battlefield.

“Now is the time. Let’s help Iwatani-dono, and show the power we’ve attained! 「Kenbu Mu: Zetsukage Ten」!”

(TL: Sword Dance of Nothingness: Severed Shadows Ten)

In the middle of battle… Glass converted her power to match the sacred weapons of this world, and with a fan made of magic, the size of a sword, she blew away the enemies surrounding her.

Its output was much greater than she’s displayed up ‘til now.

From the start, she possessed monstrous power, and was of a race that specialized in short, decisive battles, and she used her skill at full power.

“Guaaaah—”

The Reincarnator’s party members and comrades that were gathered around her, as well as the army soldiers were sent away without leaving a trace.

The reincarnators called out their names frantically, but that’s not my problem.

"I definitely won't forgive you! I'll kill you without holding back!"

"Sorry, but for you guys, that's impossible." (Naofumi)

I proclaimed, after finishing the negotiations with the enemy's vassal weapon.

Honestly, I didn't think I would succeed.

But... it seems I'll be able to manage with just the power of the spirits.

It seems the Bitch Goddess didn't really care too much about it.

Countermeasures... it's not like I didn't have any, but from what I can see, I don't think the Bitch Goddess ever thought they would be released, so she was too soft.

"... In place of the Spirits who're supposed to lead you, The Hero of the Shield and his spirits shalt command. Lend us power. Vassals, break off these foolish restraints, and lend your powers to us!"

As I called out, the Katana, Instrument, Harpoon, Scythe, and ship changed to balls of light, and separated from their wielders. Other balls also came from them.

"Wha—"

And just as they began to let out voices of surprise, the vassals began flying towards our army.

Right... That was Atlas's proposal. I wanted to test whether or not I could indirectly cut their forces.

I activated the Spirits, and released them from the Goddess's curses. I stole their weapons.

First, I used the enemy's vassal to access their world's sacred weapons, and asked if they were okay with joint ownership.

But Glass's weapon had already sensed the situation, and severed its link, so I could only directly hack through the enemy's weapons.

In order to prevent interference, the Goddess put up quite a solid firewall, but it wasn't really anything special to me.

Well, there was the danger that I would be noticed.
But I think this will greatly alter the situation.

"No! I don't want to be a Hero!"

I heard Melty's voice echoing from the back lines.

"Wah, Mel-chan, now you're just like Firo. Mel0chan is good at playing instruments, so Firo will sing with you~." (Firo)

"Hoh... Now Melty has become a Hero like me. Let us overcome this crisis together." (Trash)

"Uu..."

She let out quite a defeated voice.

So Melty is the Hero of the Instrument.

She was the second princess of Melromark, and current Queen, and now she's obtained a Heroic title... Her deskwork will increase, now.

Even so, when I was wondering how one was supposed to fight with an instrument, I began hearing music from the back lines.

「The Hero's Melody Ten」!

That's quite a nice sound.

Melty... so she was able to play something so refined.

In the past, when Firo was earning through her singing, she did act as her manager.

And wait, I guess even if she's like that, she was a princess. She should be able to play an instrument or two.

As I was thinking that, my Status started to jump.

Oh, so it's a support skill. What's more, it even stacks over the magic.

"Firo will try hard~!" (Firo)

"I'll also put in a little effort!" (Trash)

Firo and Trash first long ranged skills from the back to the front.

Ah, by the way, the vassals I released this time have all been converted through my Shield.

Right now, the Heroes they select to wield them should have a list of easy ways to use them floating in their field of vision.

「Lightning Dragon Ten」!

A pillar of light large enough to pierce the heavens extended onto the battlefield.

"Yay! This weapon is easy to use. How nice~."

The Hero of the Harpoon, Sadina, began doing something that looked like swimming through the air, as she rampaged across the battlefield.

She was already monstrously strong from the start.

With the Hero stat bonuses, she becomes less and less human.

She's probably... stronger than Firo.

「Stardust Blade Ten」!

As I thought, Female Knight was selected by the Katana..

"UWAAAAAAAAAAH~"

Just as the name implied, a shooting star... is it a subtype of Meteor Sword? Together with Ren, she starts massacring the Reincarnators' companions.

"Fumu... It's a bit different than my short sword, but I'll manage." (Female Knight)

"Eclair, are you alright?" (Ren)

"Yeah, but I specialize in thrusts. Swords like these aren't my specialty."

(Female Knight)

"You should be fine. Thrusts are within a Katana's range." (Ren)

"... I guess you're right. 「Triple Strike Ten」!" (Female Knight)

The Triple Strike skill activated to meet the new soldiers approaching them. She was always quite fast, but I feel she's gotten even faster. That Stardust Blade she shot earlier was almost exactly Ren's Meteor Sword. I guess they're similar weapons.

"Midori, now even we've been selected by the weapons, so don't think you're so special anymore!"

"I-I know!"

"Then let's go!"

The other two of Motoyasu's flock were also selected by weapons, it seems. From what I can see, it's a mirror, and a book.

Kuu was the mirror, Marin the book.

What sort of attack is that? Is what I was thinking, but they immediately started to fight.

... Kuu chunked the mirror at her enemy, and spit up a highly compressed breath attack, while Marin opened the book, and began chanting magic. The mirror reflected Kuu's breath, hitting enemies from unexpected positions.

It seems Marin's book was something like Trash's Cane, And she started chanting Group Covenant magic alone.

Trash matches her... wait, so both of them can do that.

「High Class Group Covenant Magic 『Judgement』 X, Ten」!

Lightning surged around the area, and a enemies in a radius of thirty meters were blown away.

“Rafu~.”

“Kuee!”

『Fumu… I can’t see anything besides our own victory.』

It appears that the Ship has chosen Raph-chan.

Why? No… not that it matters.

Standing on the bow of the ship with his arms crossed, Raph-chan let out a loud cry as he unleashed it onto the battlefield.

Fitoria… put her carriage out front, and changed it to something like a steam roller. She started running over her enemies. Quite a vicious attack. Well, she usually uses her carriage as artillery.

Gaelion and Taniko work together to release breaths and skills from a high altitude, and the battle’s becoming quite one-sided.

Next is… the Scythe flew over to Kiel.

With her three heads, she skillfully maneuvered one of them to hold it in its mouth.

“Ku… you coward! How dare you steal weapons from us! You unfair bastard! You guys only exist in order to get beaten by us!”

Just how far ingrained is his sense that this is a game?

No, he’s a coward who found joy in outwitting others, and suppressing them with overwhelming power.

Now that we’ve come all the way here, I doubt there’s anyone who can stop us.

I’ll bet Trash had quite a few plans under his belt, but are they unnecessary?

No..

“Everyone… you cannot lose your calm.” (Medea)

Black lightning rained down on all of the Sacred and Vassal Weapon Holders.
My body stiffens.

That Bitch Goddess, I've heard about it, but whenever her side gets into a pinch, she interrupts the battle from afar.

"For using an unfair ability to steal the weapons of my people, that I will not forgive. Now, please return to your original wielders. And inflict divine punishment on those who would use such vile powers." (Medea)

"Ku... my power is..."

Ren moans.

All the weapons arbitrarily rise up.

Judging from the flow of power, she's forcefully trying to steal them.

Now then... what should I do?

It's possible to block it, but I'll have to cross the limits of a Hero.

Since Raphtalia isn't here yet, I can't go about showing my hand so easily.

"Naofumi!" (Ren)

"Don't go relying on others so easily! Trust in your own Spirit." (Naofumi)

"Got it!" (Ren)

Ren and Itsuki follow my words, and grasp their weapons tightly.

That goes for all those that were selected...

The Holy Weapons and Vassals move not a single inch from the Goddess's voice.

"You people are cheating. Please come and become my power. Leave these cowards." (Medea)

My Shield isn't actually affected in the slightest, though.

Well, I guess its Spirit's power is just too strong.

"Guaaa..."

As they were resisting, the lightning increased in strength.

... The Spirits begin to raise screams.

Perhaps she plans on killing everyone with the next blow, and forcefully reclaiming the weapons.

It's not like I'm going to let my comrades die, so if she tries doing that, I'll get serious.

Honestly, I didn't want to get into a situation like this.

My power was made so that only when Raphtalia is here does it shine to its fullest.

Similarly, Raphtalia's power doesn't distinguish itself unless I'm there.

If I got serious, then I could protect this world.

But to defeat the Bitch Goddess, we need Raphtalia here.

In order to corner this goddess to the limit, as I thought, I need Raphtalia.

Or else, this bitch won't get serious either.

"Even when you're nothing but cowards, you dare resist me... I'll make an example by slaughtering a few of you." (Medea)

... This is bad.

If I stay silent here, everyone's going to die.

「Perfect Slave」

Starting with me, she used a power that selected Heroes at random, and stole their weapons and spirits while killing their owners. A Conceptual attack.

If they took it upfront, no matter who they were, they would have died.

It's like running an electric current through a cable to her, a simple way to kill them.

There's no helping it... Even if she runs away, after we save this world, we'll just chase her down.

To the ends of hell!

『I, the proxy of the world, who has understood the embodiment of power command. Bend the truth, and become a, indomitable power so none shall lose』!

「Immortal Mind」!

I erase the conceptual attack the Goddess sent out, and grant the spirits the energy of the world.

Based on this, they shouldn't be able to be coerced by anyone. They can't be bound.

“As expected of the new power of that Shield. It won't let them get taken away so easily. Everyone, with this, I've nullified her attack!” (Naofumi)

Ah, I said that in an extreme monotone.

I know I shouldn't be saying this myself, but that was an obvious lie.

It's not strange if she notices, it's not strange if anything happens. I mean, it's the power of the Spirits.

“Ku...「Infinity Destroyer」!” (Medea)

Bitch Goddess uses the instant death attack she used on me before.

Because she wasn't having fun, she used quite a bit of power.

But she still isn't serious, I see.

I need to get this Bitch Goddess serious or else.

“... Is that all you got?” (Naofumi)

I just took the attack with my Shield.

The concept of death tries to encroach on me, but I repel it.

“Damn! Then-!” (Medea)

The Bitch Goddess used a power stronger than before.

I guess this is the limit of faking it.

To use the power I was keeping hidden from her, I made a move.

But there... I felt the flow of time being ripped apart as a presence approached.

"... Unfortunately, your plans end here."

Before the Bitch could do anything, a thundering roar so loud that it was as if the entire world was creaking sounded out.

A dust cloud covered the entire front lines.

"You're late, aren't you?" (Naofumi)

Someone blew the cloud away with Wind Magic.

And in the center of it, was Raphtalia holding her Hammer.

"The Hero of the Spear created quite a strange parallel world for himself. It was quite a trial to get him." (Raphtalia)

She's really late.

Motoyasu... what if the Bitch Goddess got away because of you?

Good grief... well, if he's finally here, then I guess I can get serious.

"Oh! If it isn't Midori and Kuu and Marin!? Have you been well, My ANGELS!?"

Motoyasu appears in high tension from behind her, and calls out to his three.

My Angels? Like hell.

And after cautiously looking around the area, he started sprinting towards Firo.

“FIRO-TAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAN!”

“Mu! Go AWAAAY! 「Spiral Claw Ten」!” (Firo)

He takes Firo’s attack head-on, and is sent flying with a refreshing smile on his face.

… He hasn’t changed one bit.

“Wha…”

The Bitch Goddess’s voice is colored with surprise.

It seems she’s finally realized that me and Raphtalia aren’t just ordinary heroes.

But it’s too late.

“Now then, it appears that you were planning on destroying the world with your power, but that won’t be happening. From here on, it’s…” (Raphtalia)

“The real battle.” (Naofumi)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 372 – The End

---

“Ku…”

I heard the Bitch Goddess raise an annoyed voice.

Well, she’s pretty much done for, but I don’t know what sort of thing she plans on doing.

I don’t have a reason to hold back, so let’s fight for real now.

“Well? Unfair power, was it? Why couldn’t you take it away, I wonder.”

The dumbfound reincarnators and their followers glare at me.

It seems there isn’t anyone with a special power effective enough to turn around this situation.

If they could their abilities would have to be ranked god class.

“This is…”

The various reincarnators exchange glances with their comrades, and each other, before nodding.

And they idiotically show their backs, and begin to run away.

“Ah…”

Seeing the pitiful backs of those retreating, many of the others give up.

But to protect them, the enemy soldiers block the path.

They take up formation, and even though they know they can’t win, they resolve themselves to fight. They’re much more capable than those guys, are they not?

Is what I thought, but they’re acting strange.

In my eyes… should I call it their life force or something?

I saw them burning that up as they prepared to risk their lives to attack.

Thinking about it, there are People of Soul in the enemy forces, like Glass. Could they have been preparing for this day, and using a last resort?

"Until the Heroes return, we shall stake our lives, and stop you!"

"Yeah!"

It seems that they're made up of people with blind obedience, of those the Goddess personally made into her own playing pieces.

What's more, the Queen is in the rear.

Like this, we'll have to give chase.

At this rate, me and Raphtalia would be fine chasing alone, but... that would be boorish.

"We're chasing them!"

On my words, everyone nods.

High Level Group Covenant Magic starts to rain down on us.

Through the Defense Link and Meteor Wall, we didn't have any casualties, but if I wasn't there, it would be dangerous.

It appears the Queen still wishes to fight us.

... No, she's trying to buy time by stalling us.

"Trash." (Naofumi)

"... Yes." (Trash)

"She's your woman. Go out and get her. We'll breach the enemy forces, so the rest is up to you." (Naofumi)

"..."

He clenched his fist strongly, and nodded.

Next to him stood Melty.

"Leave it to me, Naofumi." (Melty)

"Sure." (Naofumi)

"Firo-chan, go with Naofumi." (Melty)

"Okay." (Firo)

Me and Firo nod.

We go off to talk to Sadina, Kiel, and Glass.

"Onee-san will protect everyone here. Naofumi-chan, it's up to you."
(Sadina)

"Raphtalia-chan, do your best with Niichan!" (Kiel)

"The people of my world have caused you trouble. Let me give it my best effort." (Glass)

The enemy's People of Soul suddenly got stronger.

As their representative, Glass offers an apology.

"Glass, do you know what the enemy's doing?" (Naofumi)

"Probably... they activated the last resort of the People of Soul. Without thinking of the consequences, they use all their stored up energy in a single moment, and obtain a sudden frenzy of power. A forbidden move... it is. This ability also has a synergistic effect. When a number of People of Soul use it on the battlefield, the surrounding humans and Demi-Humans, even the Jewel People will experience a similar rise in power." (Glass)

So it's an attack in desperation.

It's not like such skills don't exist inside Net Games.

Those ones that make you invincible for a certain amount of time, but kill you once the time limit runs out.

Those guys... without any thought, they just want to eliminate the Heroes.

"I see... Trash. You'll be fine, right?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. I swear it on my name as the King of Wisdom. I'll show you an ending to this war." (Trash)

"... Got it. It's all yours." (Naofumi)

I leave the battlefield to Trash, Melty, Sadina, Kiel and Glass, and carried out my breach of their forces.

Well, I just took on the magic and weapons that came at me like rain, and proceeded forward.

“Rafu~!”

“Kue~!”

『Well, well, well. For me to be placed on the support role in the end… I’ll leave it to you.』

Raph-chan, Fitoria and Gaelion push back the enemy forces to support us.

Similarly, Taniko, Rat and Mii-kun, and the other villagers fight as well.

The enemies held back through the Meteor Wall take their attacks.

But…

“Acho!”

A single person directed a powerful blow to my Wall.

“I won’t let you proceed any further!”

… The Granny.

The Hengen Musou Granny stood in our way.

Hostile intent dwells in her eyes, and her body has been forcefully strengthened with magic. It’s like she’s forcibly sucking in the power of the land to raise her own abilities. Her muscles have swelled to a disgusting level.

What’s mre, there are even signs showing her body’s been modified…

I feel her soul calling out to me.

She’s telling me that, in the depths of her heart, she truly does not want to fight.

She’s praying for me to stop her.

"Naofumi-san!" (Rishia)

"Iwatani-dono." (Female Knight)

Rishia and Female Knight stand in front of her, and declare:

"Leave this to us."

"Are you sure?" (Naofumi)

"Yes. We have learned much from master. It's time for us... to show her that strength!"

"Rishia-san..." (Itsuki)

"Itsuki-sama, this is the one thing I will not step down on. Please, for the world's sake, move forward." (Rishia)

"Understood. Rishia-san, you definitely have to return alive." (Itsuki)

"Ren, I too will stay here. I leave the rest to you." (Female Knight)

"Got it. Eclair, take care of your master." (Ren)

It would be easy for Raphtalia to stop the granny here.

But I recognize that that way is no good.

It's because it's Rishia and Female Knight, that she has a chance of opening up... the Spirits are telling me that.

"Then... let's go!"

"DERYAAAAAAH!"

As I step forward, Rishia and Female Knight begin their assault on the Granny.

They take on the modified, and controlled old woman.

I use my power to confirm their battle as I head towards the enemy.

"Acho!"

Her muscles swell, and she uses the essence of Hengen Musou to attack.

By the Bitch Goddess's twisted support magic, she displays enough strength to even overwhelm a vassal Hero.

It's because I'm using my Defense Link on them that they can continue to fight, but if it were a normal battle, I'm sure they would have lost by now.

Thinking back, Hengen Musou was a style created for the weak to triumph over the strong, and for the strong to take down those even stronger than them.

It may look contradictory at a glance, but as long as you keep looking up, there is no end.

It's a style for the weak to rise to the top.

"GUAAAAA"

Female Knight is sent dancing in the air like a worn down rag. She falls to the ground.

"Not yet!"

But she immediately rose, and continued to fight.

Because of my protection, she doesn't receive any major damage.

But when she's sent flying, the Granny sends Chi through her body, breaching defense, and increasing their fatigue.

Granny... as an ally, she pounded various styles into various people, but when she appears as an enemy, she's this fearsome.

"DEEEEEEEEEEEI!"

Rishia changes her projectile to a knife capable of close quarter combat, and starts slashing at her.

「Dritte Slash Throwing」!

Right after she slashes, the projectile leaves her hand, and flies towards the Granny's face.

"So this is your level!? Hengen Musou Style Mangetsu!"

She grabs the weapon Rishia threw, amasses Chi in her other hand, and concentrates it into a large ball before throwing it at Rishia.

… This is turning into a fight that transcends dimensions, dude.

The swelling of the Granny's muscles, and the way she fights reminds me of a fighter from an anime I watched a long time ago.

A monster known as the legendary warrior.

She even uses the concept of Chi.

"Kaha…"

Rishia took the brunt of the ball of Chi the Granny threw, and after flying in the air, she collapsed.

"Not… yet." (Rishia)

"That's right, Rishia! If we don't stop Master, who will!?" (Female Knight)

"Yes… we have yet to give anything back to her. The power eating into her and controlling her may be great, but… the Hengen Musou Style is…"

(Rishia)

There for the weak to defeat the strong… a style that realizes the impossible!" (Female Knight)

Female Knight holds her sword out front, and uses a skill.

「Brave Blade Mist Cross Ten」!

On the Granny's body, a gash in the shape of a cross forms. At the same time, Rishia…

「Mjolnir X」!

A skill that governs thunder. A Skill unbelievable close to Raphtalia's own Thor Hammer… Both girls infused as much Chi as they could, and released their attacks.

(TL: Due to a flaw in it make, Mjolnir ended up with a handle too short to be practical. As such, it was often thrown by the god.)

“Gyaaaaa!”

The skills infused with the two’s feelings flew at the Granny.

The granny is burned black, and falls to her knees, but she immediately rises once more.

“You two aren’t bad… but there’s still much for you to learn!”

“Ku…” (Female Knight)

“Eclair-san, did you notice?” (Rishia)

“Yeah, when I put in all of my Chi.” (Female Knight)

Rishia and Female Knight looked at each other, and nodded.

“I will not fall. Naofumi-san told me never to give up, and I resolved myself. In love, and in dreams, in all of them, I will never give up.” (Rishia)

“I will find the path to the Justice I believe in. If, for that, I must face things as irrational as this, as long as there’s a chance for me to break down the irrationality of this world, I will put everything on the line without regrets!” (Female Knight)

Defense link doesn’t come with the function to restore their lost energy, or recover fatigue.

If they look to me for help, I’ll go there immediately.

But… looking at the two of them, which just sounds rude.

Their weapons shine in response to their wills.

“Hengen Musou Style Special Skill—”

The three’s Hengen Musou battle began to reach its climax.

—

I think about twenty minutes have passed since then.

We mow down the enemy troops gathering around us, and run towards the very back, the place where the Bitch of a Goddess is waiting.

The reincarnators are desperately running away.

Even if they may be unarmed, the fact that we're taking down everything in our way made them want to create some distance.

Just how large is the enemy army?

No, it's not as if I didn't see them before.

I could probably just fly over them, but then it will take a while for Ren, Motoyasu and Itsuki to catch up.

I confirm Rishia with my power again.

The explosions from behind me haven't been stopping for a while.

It's good that those annoying reincarnators aren't there, but perhaps as a compensation for their loss, the enemy soldier's attacks have become fiercer.

On the front-most lines of both armies, Trash and the Queen, as well as those around them gathered, for a clash of leaders.

The Queen's side has lost most of their aces. So at the very least, to take down the enemy leader, the very last ace, the Queen, stepped forward. That's how it was.

"Mirellia..."

Trash calls out to the Queen, who's using a fan to cover her mouth. Her eyes look dead.

"Father..." (Melty)

Next to him, Melty strums at her instrument, and activates a skill.

"Melty, everyone else. I apologize, but... this is my battle. For a little while, I would like you to grant me the permission to speak with Mirellia." (Trash)

Everyone around him looked worried, but they believe in their Great King of Wisdom, and nod.

“... This is the final battle. Whether my army triumphs, or yours comes our victorious... no, perhaps our loss has already been decided.” (Queen)

The controlled Queen offers some words to Trash.

Trash grips the Cane strongly.

The Queen begins forming a magic spell.

The fan in her hand gave off a dubious light. I'll bet that just in case something like this happened, the damn goddess hid something inside of it. A ray of light flies out of the center of the fan, and pierces Trash's shoulder.

“Ugu...” (Trash)

「All Dreifach Freezeflare」!

From both of her hands, the Queen produces fire and ice. A large sphere of magic was formed in the air.

If that were to fall, it would fill the area with frozen air, a realm of absolute zero, and with heat rivalling the sun, so great even bones wouldn't be left behind.

“Now what are you doing? Is that all your strength is, King of Wisdom!?” (Queen)

Trash Holds his shoulder as he quickly hides Melty behind him, and chants magic while crying out.

“U-uwwwwwoooooooooooooaaaah! (Trash)”

Trash's Cane started to glow.

Before I could confirm the result of that battle...

"Goddess! I beg of you, please grant new powers unto us! Power to kill them all; Power to bring about a miracle! The strongest power!"

The Reincarnators reached the damn goddess at their base at the very back. She had her legs crossed in something like a shrine.

He came all the way here to ask for more power? Man the hell up, man. Without thinking, his party members also start offering up their prayers.

This is the end... of someone who does nothing but receive powers from others.

I must be careful so I don't drown in my own power.

"..."

She put her hand on her fist, and moves her eyebrows as if to say, 'this looks fun'. The cross-legged Goddess took a single Glance at the Reincarnator before her.

"Okay." (Medea)

"Praise the Goddess!"

The reincarnated individuals' expressions turn bright, as they turn around, and glare at s.

"Now, Goddess! Bestow new powers unto us."

"Yeah... you've done enough. Rest peacefully already." (Medea)

As the Bitch Goddess declared that, Lightning rained down on the Reincarnator, and his comrades. It rained down all over the battlefield.

"GYAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAH! W-why!?"

"You guys were way too pitiful, so I thought it was time to end the games. Well, I guess I'll have a little bit more fun first." (Medea)

"T-this can't -"

"That. That face: That's the face I wanted to see. Ahahahahaha!" (Medea)

In despair, while being burnt to cinders by the heavenly lightning, the reincarnators and their comrades direct a look of absolute hopelessness towards the Goddess.

Right... the Bitch Goddess killed them herself. That was the scene she showed us.

There was no instant death.

The pain of their bodies crumbling to pieces. Fear. Despair. Regret. She made a show of all of them.

The expression of those betrayed by those they trusted. Their thoughts... Seeing all of them, the Goddess of all Bitches held a pleasant expression, and let out a ridiculing laugh.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 373 – A Couple's Strength

---

"This is..." (Ren)

"Merciless." (Itsuki)

Believing in their God... only to be betrayed, and then terminated. Ren and Itsuki watched those Reincarnates and muttered.

I strongly agreed.

Me, Ren, Itsuki and Motoyasu— we've all had the cruel experience of being tricked by Witch, so we understand all the more.

That this guy is someone we can never forgive.

"You did well to come this far. I honestly give you my praise." (Goddess)

The Damn Goddess declared, floating softly.

There was not a single enemy remaining nearby, with the exception of the Damn Goddess.

Excessive cold-bloodedness... It was a place where only sorrow and hatred swirled about.

There was only one person there, the extremely cheerfully smiling Damn Goddess.

"But playtime is over. To tell you the truth, no matter what happened in this game, my victory was decided from the start." (Goddess)

The Damn Goddess made a sword appear in her hands and pointed the blade towards us, with her left hand in front and her right hand above.

"Now, dear possessors of the sacred weapons, you believe in the victory of your country but you should just yield to my overwhelming power!"
(Goddess)

The Damn Goddess's sword shines.

“Infinity Catastrophe!” (Goddess)

It’s a certain kill attack targeting all the possessors of the Sacred and Vassal weapons, huh.

At the same time, it absorbs the world’s magic and builds up power.

I, in a shorter time than the instant in which she fired her attack…… I cast magic in the time-span of practically zero seconds.

『Oh Spirits. Oh World. The proxy of the world commands, and asks for power. Eternity, Unconditionality, Infinity, hinder the hopeless future due to that indefinite power, manifest the identity of that selfish power, and fire the lynchpin to save this world!』

“Infinity Zero!”

The sacred weapons of the world…… Mine, Motoyasu’s, Ren’s and Itsuki’s weapons shine and surround the vicinity.

The power to protect the world— Intent, Desire, Spirit.

Those were materialised and converted the attack on the verge of destroying everything.

“T-this is…….” (Ren)

“I wonder what it is, my spear is shining.” (Motoyasu)

“I feel an amazing power.” (Itsuki)

“What—!” (Goddess)

The sound of a large impact reverberated, the instant death attack that the Damn Witch tried to invoke, and the power of world decay, was curbed.

“No way…….” (Goddess)

The Damn Goddess’s face flushed with agitation.

“You didn’t notice even though we’ve been showing you for a while now? No, you realised but were underestimating us?” (Naofumi)

“She probably thought our power was just the Spirits covering for us.”
(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia brandishes her mallet, and prepares to use it on the Damn Goddess.

“It can’t be… you guys!?” (Goddess)

“Yeah, Raphtalia and I are on the same stage as you. At the same time, we differ from you… We’ve become beings that specialise in the power to kill you guys.” (Naofumi)

The source of Raphtalia and my power was the world’s magic and life force, just like the Damn Goddess.

However, the way we replenish that power is completely different.

Unless we receive the power from the world’s volition, we can’t replenish it. We’ve made it so that it’s impossible for us to steal the world’s power from its roots and consume it.

And… at the same time, we have the power so she can’t snatch away the world.

Now… A total of five lynchpins have been launched to prevent the Damn Goddess from using her power to steal this world.

Four of them are the Four Saint Heroes, and I don’t know where the last one is.

It’s the final Four Saint Hero of Glass’s world.

That one person is also fighting in a place unknown to us.

The heroes weren’t the only ones.

Everybody throughout the world was fighting as one body in order to protect the world.

The representative of that was the hero with the sacred weapon.

As long as us five lynchpins existed, the Damn Goddess changed into a being attached to this world, unable to destroy it.

Already, this world had multiple strong, gigantic barriers spread around it. To the inhabitants of this world, they became defensive walls protecting them from foreign enemies, and to the Damn Goddess, they became a prison preventing her from escaping.

“Don’t think you can win against me just by having the social standing of a God!” (Goddess)

The Damn Goddess used even more power.

However, you can’t use the power you’ve been counting on.

The spade work, protocol and ritual have already been completed.

Next is just killing each other until we reciprocally annihilate everything.

“Now, it’s time for some arithmetic. Don’t think such unreliable kid’s logic like infinity, eternity and immortality will pass by us!” (Naofumi)

Right now, a room that negates Godly powers has been created.

With us inside, the Damn Goddess has had her divine powers sealed and have been bound with the reason of this world now.

In other words….. Lv and HP and Magic and such float into her field of vision, and when those numbers become Zero, she will die.

Naturally the numbers ticking away will probably be enormous but they’re not perpetual, nor infinite, nor immortal.

“Don’t fuck with me!” (Goddess) [T/N: Of course not, don’t be such a slut Bitch/Witch.]

The Damn Goddess had on a furious facial expression and chanted a spell. It’s magic with another world’s logic.

The absorbed magic inside her body is kneaded together and fired towards us.

“Defence Link! Meteor Wall!” (Naofumi)

My defensive skills obstruct her magic completely.

"×0 Mallet!" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia swings her shining, huge mallet down on the Damn Goddess.

"Gubu!" (Goddess)

With a *thwack* it hits the Damn Goddess heavily and blood flows from her temple.

"You, you, you! How dare you injure the noble me!" (Goddess)

The Damn Goddess uses one hand to slash at Raphtalia in anger.
Even if she's rotten, she's the being called 'God' who split her soul into various worlds so she probably has some sword skills.

"My sword has infinite speed and is the infinite ultimate strongest sword technique! You shouldn't be able to see through it!" (Goddess)

How do you infinitely double infinity?

The word infinity isn't a number.

Well, she probably wants to express that it's that fast but...

The Damn Goddess's sword reaches Raphtalia.

Yeah.

Fast, it's certainly fast... However—

"Infinite speed? Infinity shouldn't have a limit though? The unit you should be using in this situation is this. Approaching zero without end... No, something like speed is unnecessary— a Zero-second attack..." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia's movements blur and she passed behind the Damn Goddess. Immediately afterwards, she uses a single strike and a loud sound reverberates.

"Wha-!? She transcended infinity with her own speed and I, the ultimate supreme being who even surpasses time was—" (Goddess)

"You just returned to the past? Is it time leaping? In that case, I'll also attack there!" (Raphtalia)

Zero-second attack.

Something similar would be Firo's High Quick, huh.

It'll probably be easiest to understand if I said it was close to that.

High Quick is a magic that raises one's own speed to its utmost limits temporarily.

However, Raphtalia's Zero-second attack has no need for speed.

Zero seconds... it's an attack that disregards the flow of time.

No matter how fast one can go, the attack can't be overtaken by a being who's just fast.

Even the sound of this one shot, this sound contains the continuous attacks of tens, hundreds, thousands of strikes all within zero seconds.

Receiving such an attack, the Damn Goddess faints in agony.

"Ugu..guu..... aaaaauwahh!" (Goddess)

"The innumerable grudges against you are as many as the number of stars in the sky. If only you didn't exist, I wouldn't know anything and lived in peace... Everyone around me wouldn't have cried with unreasonable grief!" (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia doesn't slacken the hand attacking the Damn Goddess.

Or rather, I wouldn't let her slacken it.

“Do you even know how much you did? You manipulated and tormented the world at will, ridiculed the people who were struggling to live and raised calamities… And the end is this! Never… it’s not a problem of ever forgiving you!” (Raphtalia)

Good grief.

If this fellow wasn’t here then this world… No, although eight other worlds were fighting, there probably wouldn’t be such a harsh battle like this. Even if there was, it should be nothing more than a problem of one’s own worlds.

Nevertheless, the world was assimilating relentlessly, and there was enough fighting even if it wasn’t.

Raphtalia and I did such a thing and we’re here now in order to stop this fellow.

Even if we’ll be subject to nothingness for near eternity, we just can’t forgive this guy.

The power for the sake of that…

Needless to say, I’ve established myself as the shield’s proxy and can’t do anything but defend.

Of course, I’ve been assigned to protect everything from the enemy’s annihilating powers.

The current me can’t even use the fighting method I employed when I lost my shield.

In terms of stat allocation, I’ve given up on all my attack and have specialised in nothing but defence.

In contrast, Raphtalia has completely abandoned the concept of defence, given that I will protect her.

Her method was similar to this, but the invader known as God has made her stats omnipotent, her infinite and eternal power reaching an unattainable domain.

Of course, she wasn't able to attack, and it's not like she had the ability to kill us in one shot.

However... It's for this reason that Raphtalia and I was supporting each other.

Relying on each other and abandoning the other components, splitting the remaining parts between us.

Me with the shield and— Raphtalia of the sword.

One can't be complete without the other.

Even so, if the two are together then no matter who... it'll become a power to destroy everything irrational.

...It's nostalgic.

The spear and shield paradox, huh.

Motoyasu told of such a story before.

A spear that can pierce everything, and a shield with absolute defence.

To have these two go against each other... There's no meaning in it.

The shield will protect everything and the spear will pierce everything.

It's fine like that.

That's why— Raphtalia and I as we are now... The sword and shield as a pair, there's no way we'll lose to this kind of opponent.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 374 – Trust

---

“...”

Hmm? Ren and the others are strangely quiet.

Ah, I forgot.

We're fighting the Bitch Goddess seriously, so those guys can't keep up with the speed at all.

It's like the world is moving at an unbelievably slow rate.

There's no helping it.

I use my power again, and chant magic on them.

『Oh Spirits. Oh World. The Proxy of this world orders, and requests for power. Grant unto them the power to fight!』

「All Revelation Aura Zenith」!

I raised it to its utmost limits. The strongest ability raising power is channeled through magic, and manifests.

“Eh... ah.”

As if they had been released from petrification, Ren and the others begin to move.

“This is...”

“To put it bluntly, it's just an accelerated world. I let you guys match that Bitch Goddess's speed. I'd like you guys to fight, and clear the resentment you held to this day.” (Naofumi)

“I-is that fine with you?”

Raphtalia is keeping the Bitch Goddess occupied as she takes her blows. And all of that damage is sent to me.

We were fighting on the premise that I was going to take them in the first place.

Or else Defense 0 Raphtalia wouldn't have a chance of fighting her.

"Isn't it obvious? What's the problem? You guys have no need to dodge or defend. With all seriousness... release your strongest attacks at her! Your spirits will show your weapons the way." (Naofumi)

"Understood!" (Motoyasu)

The first one to nod and start attacking the Bitch Goddess was Motoyasu. The Spear understands the situation, and through the Spirits' power, it changed to the Spear of X0.

Ah, I see... If it does that, they don't have to keep spamming the X0 skills. If they used another skill, it would still damage that bitch.

「Gungnir Max」!

Motoyasu chucks a spear made out of energy.

But... The spear has a lot of throwing skills. Brionac was, similarly, a skill that shot a Spear of light, right?

Max is the limit of skill enhancement. There are other names, but if you proceed any further, you get things like Unlimited and Infinite; the units of measure start getting crazy.

"I'll also go! Atlas, watch over me!"

Fohl approaches the Bitch Goddess, and unleashes a skill.

「Divine Demon Annihilating Blow Max」!

His entire body is tinted red, and all of his magic and Chi flow into his fists. With those fists, he struck the Goddess.

His blow landed in her abdomen, and the shockwave made it through her body, out her back.

"Don't underestimate meeeee!" (Medea)

If you think about it, it's obvious.

If there are things among the X0 Series that don't do enough damage, it's more efficient to just use another skill, and now, there's no one here but her.

What a miscalculation.

Well, she didn't use those strange abilities the Reincarnators had developed a dependence on, and right now, we've been able to nullify her warped support magic, so we're only fighting by the laws of this world.

No matter how high her level is, or how abundant her battle experience, we're pretty much the same. What's more, since the Legendary weapons are on our side, the reincarnators and their followers are little more than extra luggage for her.

Motoyasu's attack grazed the Goddess's face.

A clean line of blood was drawn across it, and as the Bitch Goddess put her hand on it, she began shaking incessantly.

"I'll kill you! No matter what happens, don't think you'll die painlessly!"

Her expression is that of the devil, but nothing but refreshing feeling are flowing up from within me.

That's Witch's main body. What's more, she played with the world as her toy, and plunged many souls into despair.

If you think about it, the reincarnators were merely victims used by her until the end. They had no other purpose.

Though their actions did pose quite a few problems in themselves.

"What are you spacing out for!?" (Naofumi)

On my voice, Ren and Itsuki snap back to reality.

"Yeah, then I'll be going ahead! 「Variable Messiah Max」!"

Changing to the Sword of X0, Ren lowered a blade of light on the Bitch Goddess.

While her movements were fast, by the power of my support magic, and the barrier I used to seal her power, it's not within a range where he'll miss. There's also the saying battle experience speaks in actions, not words.

"Ku... die!" (Medea)

The Goddess brandishes her own sword at Ren.

"Your swordsmanship is way too friggin' shabby!" (Ren)

Ren dodges the line drawn by her blade by a gap so small it made one doubt whether or not it had touched his skin. He stepped right in front of her.

「Meteor Sword Max」!

Just like that, he fires a point blank Meteor Sword, and all of the projectiles shot from it pierce her.

"GYAAAAAH!"

That really was an un-feminine cry.

But it's a scream quite suiting for her.

I get the feeling Witch had similar death throes.

「Artemis Max」!

To support Ren, Itsuki pulled his bow back, and fired a skill from his Bow of X0.

A single arrow drew a beautiful curve in the ai before plunging itself into her chest.

The next moment, a large explosion surrounded her.

Oh... how flashy.

“Raphtalia-san, Motoyasu-san, Ren-san. Stand Back!”

As he said that, the shape of Itsuki’s bow changed.

… Something like a gun, or a Bow… it had both a thread and a trigger.
Is it a weapon that only changes shape when a skill is unleashed…? It seems to be like the X0 Bow.

“Yes!” (Raphtalia)

“Understood!” (Motoyasu)

“Do it! Itsuki!” (Ren)

「Moonlight Buster Max」!

From the tip of his bow, a thick beam-like attack flew, and burned up the Bitch Goddess.

“GufaaAAAAAAAAAAAH!”

Good grief, this Goddess doesn’t sound feminine at all.

But… she sure is tough.

Even after taking all their attacks, she isn’t damaged enough to make it impossible for her to continue fighting.

No, perhaps it’s better to say that she’s recovering her wounds the moment after they’re inflicted.

I feel my power as a god slowly declining.

“YOU BASTAAAARRDDDS!”

Oh? Has rage made her come at us for real?

Well, I can cover all her special attacks, and endure them, though.

But the Bitch Goddess just started giving a ridiculing laugh again.

“Well then, so be it. I’ll leave it at this. There are plenty of worlds out there. Be as content as you will with your worlds ephemeral peace.” (Medea)

I was wondering what she was planning... Is she putting on airs, and fleeing?

If we give an opening, she's definitely going to kill us. Nothing good is going through her mind.

That Bitch Goddess is preparing to use Space Teleportation abilities.

But the wall that covers the world and the Legendary Weapons act as the lynchpin that binds her down. They don't let anyone get past them.

"Unfortunately, this world's been made to shoot you down, you know?

There's no way you'll be able to run away!" (Naofumi)

"DAMMMMMIIIIIT! So you want to die that badly, do you all!?" (Medea)

Having learned she couldn't run away, Her upturned eyes of conceit turned to ones full of contempt.

Just give it up already! I definitely won't let you run.

"Master, can Firo fight too?" (Firo)

"Why are you being so reserved?" (Naofumi)

"I mean..." (Firo)

Firo looks at me with a troubled expression.

Right, she's been quite for a while now.

"When Oneechan was fighting, she was really fast, and Firo couldn't keep up with her, and when Firo finally became able to see her movements, the spear person used his attack." (Firo)

Ah... well Firo hates Motoyasu enough to flee to the other side of the planet for his sake.

"Anyways, everyone go at her with the intent to kill her. You know how to deal damage to her, right?" (Naofumi)

"Yeah!" (Firo)

Floating lightly, Firo begins attacking the Bitch Goddess with the Claw of X0.

“Um… 「Kaiser Nail Max」!” (Firo)

As Firo swings her claws at the Damn Goddess, the protrusions from it grew into long blades, and cut her from all angles.

“I’ll also go! 「Grand Smash Max」!”

Midori calls out to Kuu and Marin, before releases a skill.

The Axe he hit into the ground send a shockwave through it that pierced the Bitch.

Quite a few skills are coming out here.

It’s like a succession of finishing blows.

“Ku, Don’t get in the way!” (Medea)

The Bitch Goddess slashed at those closest to her, Motoyasu and Firo, with her sword.

「Doppel Mirror Max」!

There, Kuu used a skill, and a mirror manifested right in front of the man and bird.

Oh? That’s a defensive skill… No, a counter skill.

The mirror shatters, and the fragments shoot into the Bitch’s body.

How convenient.

“GUHAAAAH!”

But immediately after that, the Bitch Goddess was cut by a sword identical to the one in her hand.

I see. It’s the sort of thing where what’s reflected in the mirror is reproduced…

That’s quite dangerous.

“High Class Covenant magic 『Meteor Fall』 activate!”

From the sky, meteorites...

“Think before you use that!”

Everyone takes refuge from the falling rocks.

Of course, the Goddess wasn't one to take the attack upfront either.

Just like us, she tries to run.

「Dimension Whip Max」!

「KYUAAAAAAAAA」!

『I can't have you forgetting about us.』

「Rafu~」!

Taniko binds the Goddess's feet with her whip, and Gaelion started breathing fire onto the Meteorites to increase their output. Fitoria changed to her tank carriage, and fired its cannon.

At the same time, Raph-chan started bombarding with his ship from above.

Right, I cast magic on everyone.

It's not like it was only on Ren and the other legendary heroes.

I targeted my magic on everyone I recognized as an ally.

At the same time, Defense Link and Meteor Wall are also up.

The world is granting me power to slaughter this Goddess.

Well, from her point of view, I may be acting extremely unfair, but compared to all the things she's perpetuated up until now, it's on the pleasant side.

The fact that Trash's arrived here means things have been cleaned up on his side.

“Did you deal with... your woman problem?” (Naofumi)

“... Yes.” (Trash)

“I see.” (Naofumi)

No matter the result, I left the Queen's matter to Trash.

"I... truly am naught but sinful Trash! No matter what punishment Iwatani-dono gives me, I will not find regret in my decision!" (Trash)

Right... next to Trash, the Queen stood quietly.

I don't see signs that she's being controlled.

Should I just wrap this up as a miracle brought about by the Spirits?

Nah, that doesn't seem fitting... could this be the fairy-tale ending where the Hero saves his beloved wife from crisis?

I'll tease them about it later.

"While I was supposed to have departed from this world, I continued to cause trouble for the people. I am... also going to lend power for the World's sake. With this life at stake!"

"You shall not! Because I've lost so much, made so many mistakes, and seen so many things, I can say this. I will not permit you to use up that life of yours!" (Trash)

"Yeah, even if you don't, me and Raphtalia will definitely do something about it. You just have to do whatever you can." (Naofumi)

"Aultcray, Iwatani-sama... For someone who was merely used by the enemy..."

Trash stands in front of the Queen, and starts chanting magic.

"Mirellia, it's at times like this that... you need a little magic!" (Trash)

Fast!

Even if he has my support magic, he was able to complete his magic much quicker than Marin.

"High Class Covenant magic 『Ice Meteor』 Max! My wife... it's your special... Watch me hit her with a synthesis of Fire and Ice!" (Trash)

"I won't lose either!"

Melty started playing an instrument that looked like a violin.

「Magic Amplification Max」!

A barrier-like thing is deployed, and the area is filled with highly concentrated magic.

This is... the world informs me.

It's a double-edged skill that raises the potency of magic by several times for everyone.

Well, as long as I'm here, we won't have any casualties among my comrades.

"You insolent rabble! Unhand me!"

The Bitch Goddess tries to sever the whip binding her legs.

As if I'd let that happen.

Before I could signal her to move, Raphtalia jumped into action.

「Gravity Hammer」!

A large gravity-magic-imbued hammer comes down on the Goddess from above.

The direct damage it inflicted wasn't great, but it restricted her movement to as great an extent as possible.

"Gununu..."

Crushed by Raphtalia's binding skill, the goddess is smashed into the floor. But still, one step, two steps. She continues to walk forward to perpetrate her escape. But it's too late.

The two giant meteorites hit her directly, and the area is covered in explosions.

Trash and Marin deploy magic barriers simultaneously, containing the explosive shockwave around her.

I also strengthen the Meteor Wall as not to have anyone injured.
With this, the Goddess should have taken major damage.
Those were magics chanted with The X0 weapons.

"___!!"

"As expected of the King of Wisdom..."

The Queen quietly whispers to herself.
Oh right, she's supposedly head over heels for the man.

"Uuu..."

The Bitch Goddess, with her conscious faint, and tears streaming from her face, looks towards Trash.

"Why... why is Papa putting me through something like this?"

Uwah! She still thinks that'll get through?
There's a limit to not knowing when to give up.

"You are no daughter of mine! You dropped people into despair, and laughed at them with scorn. You're just... a devil pretending to be of my own flesh and blood!" (Trash)

Trash directs strong words of rejection to The Bitch Goddess, who had changed her face to reflect Witch's.

"Everyone! Attack at once! This is the moment of truth!" (Trash)

Trash doesn't fall for her words in the slightest.
Even if they're father and child, she's long passed the limit to what could be forgiven.
It'll be best for him if he can let out his feelings here.

"Damn! It's too late for regrets!"

Around Trash, Melty and Marin, the allied army participates in Choral Magic. For the soldiers, approaching the Bitch is a bit too heavy a task. They participate in an attack at her like this.

“Naofumi-san!”

“I’ve kept you waiting, Iwatani-dono!”

Rishia and Female Knight ran over.

And...

“I have also... come!”

Having been freed from the goddess’s control, her body that was but a lump of muscle has returned to normal.

I see. So Rishia and Female Knight saved her.

This really is... an unnerving succession of miracles.

I’m being driven to shout out, ‘Is this supposed to be the last chapter of an axed manga or something!?’

No, I won’t say it, but...

“DIIIIIIIE!”

With an angry look like that of the devil, the Goddess takes her shimmering blade, and swings it horizontally.

With so much force emanating from the edge of her sword, we... were not sent flying.

My Meteor Wall prevents that.

In the space before the next magic hit, Rishia and Female Knight ran at the Bitch Goddess.

「Brave Blade Mist Cross Max」!

A cross shaped gash emerges on the Goddess’s body, and to follow up, Rishia lunged forward.

「Dritte Slash! Throwing Max」!

She slashed at her, and after retreating a distance, her knife came flying at her.

“Hengen Musou Style Special Move: New Moon!”

From the Granny’s arm, a black sphere of Chi is shot.

The three’s attacks stop the Goddess’s legs.

“You keep emerging one after the other like flies! Do you really want to end my life so badly!?” (Medea)

The Bitch Goddess saves up power.

Originally, if she was at her full powered state, I don’t think it would take any time for her to activate an attack.

“Ku… How utterly annoying! I’ll blow away this petty power that binds me all at once!” (Medea)

She points her sword downwards, and uses power to try and purify my defensive membrans.

“I guess it’s time for the Oneesans to step in.”

“That’s right, Sadina-oneechan!”

“It would be troublesome if you were to forget me.”

Sadina, Kiel and Glass came running they activate their skills.

「The Great White Whale’s Heroic Charge Max」!

When Sadina uses her skill, a giant whale made out of water manifests in the air, and crashes into the Bitch Goddess at the same instant Sadina threw her spear.

「Dark Soul Mist Dispersal Max」!

But even before Sadina's attack could land, with erratic steps, Kielberus disappears, and materializes behind the Bitch Goddess. She slashes multiple times with her Scythe that emits a black aura.

「Kenbu Kyoku: Mu Max」!

(TL: Sword Dance of the Strongest: Null)

Matching Kiel's dancing movements, Glass swings her fan at the Goddess consecutively.

"Gu...uu... dammmit! Quite it already!"

The moment before Sadina's attack landed, Glass and Kiel retreated. Sea foam splashes onto me as her skill rained down on the goddess, and after giving off the sparkle of a X0 weapon, the harpoon returned to Sadina's hand.

"Gu... without fail, you guys... even your souls will be tormented for eternity. I have no further need to care about what happens in the future. Everything, even my memories of this shitty world... I'll erase them all."

After all this smacking, it's amazing that she's still alive.

"High Class Covenant magic 『Sunlight』 Max!"

Trash and Marin, as well as all of the soldiers participating in this fight, merge magic... It becomes a flare as brilliant as the sun, and hits the Bitch Goddess.

Well, originally, their allies would have been dragged into it as well, but because of my influence, they aren't taking any damage.

And in order to ensure it hit, the other Heroes cast a few binding spells on her.

“Just how far will you insects go to tick me off!?”

Just where does her unwavering fighting spirit come from?

That’s the only point I give a high evaluation to. Witch was similar, though.

“Naofumi-sama.” (Raphtalia)

“Naofumi-sama.” (Atlas)

“Yeah.”

A Half-transparent Atlas pops out of the Shield, and nods.

Raphtalia looks to me for her next action as well.

That’s right… I’ll have to decide our next move.

『Oh Spirits. Oh World. The Proxy of this world orders, and requests for power. I wish for a world without gods, and for that I exercise your power. Pillars that bind the world, power unto me!』

In Raphtalia’s hand, a stake made out of light appears, and she uses her hammer to drive it in.

“Single Shot special! 「Infinity Bunker」!”

A heavy impact occurs, as Raphtalia’s stake bores into the Bitch Goddess. At the same time, a bright flash of light was sent out.

“GUAAAAAAAAAAAAAH!”

The light gets visibly stronger, and I can feel it through my skin that the Bitch Goddess’s power is dispersing.

With this… It would be nice if she were to die.

Raphtalia finishes her attack, and lands back by my side.

“Fu… fufu… for small fries, you did well coming this far.” (Medea)

… What a tough one she is.

“I’m just about sick of seeing all of your faces. Now let me brush away all your makeshift powers, and watch you as you wallow in regret, having even your souls burned away!” (Medea)

I feel the lynchpins I called down get pulled out, and the Goddess raises her speed even further.

The only ones who can keep up with her speed are Me, Raphtalia and Atlas.

“I’m done. Now that you’ve made a fool of me to this extent, I have no need to hold back.” (Medea)

Hold Back… for her to still display such leisure while being beaten to a pulp, I seriously question where this overflowing tenacity comes from.

I wonder just how much time it will take to defeat her.

But…

I break out into a smile.

The Bitch Goddess amasses power greater than ever before.

Her whole body shines, and a sinister magic manifests itself into wings on her back.

“Let me bring an end to all of this!” (Medea)

I hold my Shield out front, and prepare myself.

“100% Deadly Aim, 100% Death, 『Infinity Destroyer』. All that awaits you all is death. The past, present, future, parallel worlds, divergent worlds, the law of cause and effect. Not a single thing in the world will be able to stop it; you will merely perish! Infinity, eternity, speed of light won’t be enough. Now go die already!”

I perceive her targets. It’s everybody here, and every chain binding her to this world.

And… the Laws of this world that preside over them.

She has enough power output to reduce them all to nothingness.
It's completely different than any attack she's displayed before.
It's a single blow that will use up all of her being.

It's power deserving of the title of God.
This absolute power even transcends time, and after she repeatedly condenses it, she releases it.

I couldn't even see it before, but now I can follow it.

Red, and black.

Threads... each and every one links to death. They're imbued with a concept to bring an end to all possibilities.

And those threads, just how many hundreds, thousands, millions... She has an amount there beyond my counting prowess.

The past, present, future, parallel worlds, divergent worlds, the law of cause and effects, an attack to rob all of those away from me.

That attack...

"... I was waiting for it!" (Lord Geno... I mean Naofumi)

I... deploy my powers as a God, and from the Bitch Goddess's conceptual attack, I protect everyone. I take it all into myself.

The threads of death entangle around me, and send me through all time, all worlds, all possibilities...

"Aha, ahahahaha. Who are you trying to protect? With this, you're dead.
And with the next shot, it'll be my win." (Medea)

"Sorry, there won't be a next one."

The Shield absorbs all of the Bitch Goddesses Infinity destroyer, or whatever she called it, and absorbed it into a single point.

"I've had enough of your childish exchange. As a God Killer, I'll show you the greatest of counterattacks." (Naofumi)

This attack doesn't have a name.

But... In order to wait for her to use her skill, I had Raphtalia and the others work together.

There's wars of attrition, even in a battle between Gods.

But if two beings who won't die combat each other, then when will they reach an agreement... or when will they find an end?

Yes, in the end, one side is the loser.

To childish logic like that... I reached a single conclusion.

"Atlas." (Naofumi)

"Yes, Naofumi-sama." (Atlas)

"Raphtalia." (Naofumi)

"Yes, with this, it's over." (Raphtalia)

I nodded.

An end will come to everything

「– Positive Feedback Reflection」!

I changed the nature of the interweaving threads of death.

The red and the black change to green and white.

And I redirect them in the direction of the single person trying to destroy everything.

The altered power is amplified several times, and sent right back.

"You just sent back my Infinity Destroyer as is? How unfortunate. There's no way the attack I used myself would have any effect on myself!" (Medea)

"Were you not listening? I'm sure I included a positive feedback in there. I amplified your power, and sent it back." (Naofumi)

"Gu..." (Medea)

The conceptual attack flies towards her.

Ironically, it's the same scene as when I hit back Witch's magic on Cal Mira. While the firepower is completely different this time, the essence is the same.

In the end, the trivial battles between me and this woman are something like this.

"This cannot be! But with an attack of this level, I won't even get a scratch, and I can dodge." (Witch)

"Hey, are you getting forgetful about your own attacks? Your attack was 100% Deadly Aim, 100% Death. Past, present, future, parallel worlds, divergent worlds, the law of cause and effect. Not a single thing in the world will be able to stop it; you will merely perish! Infinity, eternity, speed of light won't be enough, wasn't it?" (Naofumi)

"Hmph. I have the ability to avoid such an attack, so there's no way it—" (Medea)

"Then try it. I don't plan to join you in your childish dialogue." (Naofumi)

"Even if you defeat me, the true incarnation of me is still in the outside world, so—" (Medea)

"Forgetting things again? Parallel worlds, divergent worlds, the law of cause and effect. Not a single thing in the world will be able to stop it, you said. All fragments and the main body will be killed at once, of course. The attack you launched against everything... wasn't it supposed to invite absolute death?" (Naofumi)

"Something like that won't work on—" (Medea)

"100% Deadly Aim, 100% Death, right? What's more, I added on Positive feedback. It's your attack, and not mine. If you can dodge it, then show me the results. Well, that only goes if you survive it." (Naofumi)

Justice Punch! Barrier! Justice Punch can go through barriers! This is a Barrier that Justice Punch can't go through! Then Justice Punch that can go through the barrier that Justice Punch can't...

It's like that sort of endless dialogue.
I'm not going to keep her company for that.
It's just that there's a definite result in this one.
Will it work? Will it not? That's it.

"Ku, my power has the ability to render an attack like this usele--"
"Do whatever you want. And if you manage to withstand it, I'll play with you." (Naofumi)
"Gu... an even more powerful infinite energy is... kuaaaaa..."

The Bitch Goddess's scream echoes.
When her words entered my ears, I remembered something.

"... Ah, right. Witch, you kept thinking the Hero of the Shield was weak, and that he had fallen behind in strengthening methods, so let me tell you."

She's not in a position where she can hear me, but I turn my back to her and continue speaking.

"The Hero of the Shield's Strengthening method is trusting people... It's the earning of their trust."

When you think about it, it's self-evident.
For the Hero who can do nothing but protect others, he has to depend on others to live.
He believes in those that fight by his side, and they believe in him as well.
Like that, the Hero of the Shield finally gets stronger.

And even going about their lives without knowing it, this method was transferred to Ren, Motoyasu and Itsuki as well.

To hate someone, to wound someone... for us, who continued to take on meaningless quarrels with one another, it may sound presumptuous.
But that's why we can believe in those by our side.

Raphtalia and Atlas, and everyone's gaze.

They give the Shield its power.

From now on, I'll probably still be tricked and betrayed by others.
And when that comes, perhaps I'll be driven by fear to hurt others.
But now, in this moment... I feel that my heart that trusts others is real.

And the fact that I can think this is only because I was hurt a lot, and had those wounds healed.

On that day, at that time—I was alone in the world... Because Raphtalia believed in me, I could get all the way here.

"If you have even the slightest understanding of that, then you probably won't die here."

Well, I don't think she can do that, though.

"As... as if something as stupid as that could— sto, GYAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAH!"

Eventually, the Bitch Goddess started a battle with her own power... I wonder just how fast time has been sped up.

And... It was the attack she had made herself, and from my amplification, it should usher in death. In all times. In Parallel, and divergent worlds. Even the law of Cause and Effect won't be able to effect it, and all that was left for her was to perish.

The remains of her enormous power flowed into me, and through using it for the disappearing world, I used it all up.

"Fuu..."

"So it's finally over."

Raphtalia said as such.

"That's right."

Atlas responded with a slight feeling of amazement.

I mean she's justified.

After playing out this farce, in the end, she fell by her own hand.

I'm sick to death of her stupidity, and her childish ways of attacking.

But I know there are many out there who would do things like her.

She was merely the tip of the iceberg.

"Even so, when I first got to this world, I thought I would partake in a glorious story of adventure... or something stupid like that, but I wonder how things turned out like this." (Naofumi)

"So you were thinking things like that?" (Raphtalia)

"No, I mean when I had just gotten summoned here, you know." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-sama is always glorious, be it now or back then." (Atlas)

"No, that's kinda undesirable in itself..." (Naofumi)

We exchanged such idle banter, as we stop the accelerated state, and return time to original rate of the people here.

"D-did you do it?"

"Yeah, but that phrasing raises a, 'Final Form' Flag, so please don't."
(Naofumi)

Those were the words I returned when Ren stepped forward as a representative of the rest.

I don't ever want to fight something like that again.

Well, when they came to it, the Bitch Goddess was gone. I can understand their surprise.

While she was supposed to be erased from the Laws of the World, the power she left behind made her remain in everyone's memories.

The Lynchpin had worked from the start, and most of it still remained.

Or else perhaps my own existence would vanish.
Along with the worlds' legend of the four heroes.

"That Bitch Goddess disappeared without leaving anything behind. It's our... victory." (Naofumi)

On my declaration, I hear cheers of joy.
The people smile, and let loose tears of joy, as they raise their voices.
And the Spirits sparkled like stars, offering us their blessing.

"UWOOOOOOOOOOOOOOH!"

An oppressing presence had left the world.
Perhaps all life on this world had sensed it.

Our long battle ended, and all the lifeforms in the world looked forward to a brighter tomorrow.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 375 – Banquet

---

That day, we returned to the castle town with the mood for a party. No matter where we look, people celebrate our victory as they offer thanks to the Heroes.

According to them, after the Bitch Goddess's Descent, the sand in the Dragon Hourglasses floated in place within them, but now they've fallen, and grown quiet.

It no longer moves to signal the next wave, and it's silent, or should I say that at a glance, you can tell that it no longer has a purpose besides being used for Class Ups.

And the shape of the Sky, or something changed, as the people sensed that peace had fallen onto the world.

Oh right, on the way back, monsters approached us, and lowered their heads.

According to Gaelion, now that the world's calmed down, they no longer have to live in fear... so they came to offer their thanks to the Heroes who brought it about.

That situation seems suspicious, but looking at the tranquil sky, I start to believe him.

Well, the Bitch Goddess's presence's been cut off.

I deployed a barrier around the world, so gods of the same type as that Bitch couldn't come closer anymore.

The waves won't come again due to someone taking up the position of God. My next course of action will probably be decided after talking with many different people.

"Thank you, Hero-sama~! Thank you!"

I hear a call like that from everywhere, and there's before I could enter the castle, I was roped into a parade.

As always, I can't get used to this.

Back then I wanted to destroy this world, though...

Even so, I think Melromark's changed greatly.

Right now, Humans and Demi-Humans exist in the Castle Town just fine, and they all offer us their blessings.

There are 20 Heroes... that's a bit much.

Perhaps Trash understood that, as he split up the four legendary, and put me as the main attraction at the back of the procession.

I thought that was a bit mean, but when I confirmed the front of it with my power, I ended up asking myself, 'Who the Hell is that? Is He also a Hero?'

The soldiers kindly explained that he was a Hero from Glass's world or something.

Of course, the inhabitants of her world were able to sense the world's change as well. They partook in the celebrations.

I mean, we stole the weapons from those reincarnators that made quite a mess of their world. I guess they're overjoyed.

"Fuu..."

I entered the castle, and experienced a feeling of relief...

"The Hero of the Shield-samais in attendance!"

Party crackers go off, and the world's nobles come to greet me.

Ah, will my soul find no repose?

"I'm sorry, but I'm a bit tired..." (Naofumi)

Mostly mentally, though.

Because of the various powers circulating through my body, I think I would be able to go a few centuries without sleep.

It's not like my mind really needs to rest either. I just want some peace and quiet.

"That is something that everyone understands. The people in attendance here were also part of the war."

The Queen and Trash explain it to me.

No, I knew that already.

"Then I understand you guys' feelings of having to celebrate world peace, but go to sleep. If you use all your high tension and adrenaline to burn through your life force, you'll die, you know." (Naofumi)

"Praise the compassion of the Hero of the Shield!"

"Yeah~!"

"They aren't listening!" (Naofumi)

"Now, now, Naofumi-sama, everyone. Peace has finally come down on us after so long, and everyone is merely shaking with joy." (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia calms everyone down.

Well, I know what she wants to say, but...

"As expected of Naofumi-sama. Now then, Onii-sama, in the next three second, you will be taking a rest here. If you call yourself a warrior, you need to be able to sleep regardless of the location." (Atlas)

"A-Atlas."

Ah, Fohl looks seriously troubled.

It's a difficult challenge for him to lie down here...

"Come on."

"Uu..."

He really did it! What an absolute madman!

"Zzzz... Zzzz..."

Wow. Even under the eyes of this many people, he actually fell asleep. I'm honestly impressed. This man will make it big some day!

"Ah, Fohl-niichan is amazing! I'll also sleep!" (Kiel)

With some mysterious sense of competition, Kiel curls up by his side in puppy mode, and begins sleeping.

"Now it's become quiet." (Atlas)

"Atlas-san..."

"As always, you're quite the cruel person."

I can't say I'm not impressed.

Even as a spirit, she messes with her brother.

Is this what the phrase, 'even death can't cure it' is supposed to mean?

Even so, I think Fohl has fun having these talks with Atlas.

I mean, his sleeping face is really peaceful.

... He isn't dead, right? Yeah, he's not dead.

"Ara~ onee-san will take Fohl-chan and Kiel-chan to a bedroom in the castle. If there are any other sleepy children, please come with me~." (Sadina)

Sadina takes the initiative, and takes the two away in her arms.

I know she's good at looking after people, but that was a smooth way to get out of this situation.

I also want to go with.

When I quietly try to follow behind Sadina, the guests, and Trash call out to stop me.

"Where do you think you're going? Iwatani-dono, I think there's something a little bit wrong with the Guest of Honor leaving his own banquet." (Trash)

I ran.

But I was surrounded by people.

Well, if I really wanted to get away, I could, but the situation isn't that drastic.

"Ah, Melty! You! What are you doing, trying to escape with Firo!?"

She was casually following behind Sadina with Firo.

I won't let you get away.

"Mel-chan, Firo wants to stay here." (Firo)

"There's something bad happening over there. Now, let's follow Sadina-san, and leave this place." (Melty)

"Eh..." (Firo)

"Hey... what's up with the Queen of the largest country being the first to run away?" (Naofumi)

"Ara, Mother is back, so my role ends here. I want to be a princess again." (Melty)

She tries to get away by feigning amiability, but...

"Don't worry, Melty. My body has already left this world. It is your era now, my daughter." (Queen)

"M-mother!?" (Melty)

"Because of my husband, I was barely able to remain in the world of the living, but I don't know how long that will last. Melty, you are the Queen of the world." (Queen)

"N-no! I am..." (Melty)

"Hmm? I thought the Melty I knew was a child who would prioritize her duty. Is this Iwatani-sama's influence?" (Queen)

"Uu..." (Melty)

"Melty, I'm happy that you grew up so freely. I'm sure a good time period is to come under you. You may be against it, but you will participate in this banquet." (Queen)

The soldiers grab the girl by the Shoulder, and drag her back.

"No! I still just want to be a normal girl!" (Melly)

Melly, what sort of Idol are you supposed to be?

Well, I guess Firo's the idol here.

"Mel-chan, let's play together!" (Firo)

Firo skipped after Melt as she was taken and confined to the guest of honor seat.

"Hah... I guess there's nothing I can do." (Naofumi)

It doesn't look like I'll be able to get away from this.

I resigned myself, and participated in the banquet.

Thinking back, there was also a banquet when we overcame our first wave. That was the worst, but now I'm acting as a representative, and the nobles offer their thanks to me.

As if they were special events, various happenings went on around.

"Eclair!"

A fairly drunk Ren calls out to Female Knight.

What is this? No, I should quietly watch over the situation.

"What business do you have with me, Ren?" (Female Knight)

"There's something I planned on saying once that battle came to an end."
(Ren)

"Speak." (Female Knight)

"Please go out with me!" (Ren)

"... What?" (Female Knight)

He finally confessed!

Female Knight doesn't seem to understand what's going on. She stares in mute amazement.

"That straight-laced Hero of the Sword confessed."

"But I heard Eclair became the Hero of the Katana, right? Don't they fit well together?"

"What sort of result awaits us?"

The area is astir with gossip, and inquisitive eyes follow the two swordsmen.

"Eh, ah..."

Having finally understood the situation, Female Knight's face turns bright red, and she starts walking away to escape.

"Wait! I want to hear your answer!" (Ren)

"S-shut ut! I-I-I have a mission!" (Female Knight)

"Please let me aid you in that mission!" (Ren)

"N-no. You have a duty to make the world peaceful!" (Female Knight)

"I know. Even the current situation is only us having crossed a large mountain. For the people, and for our comrades that have fallen, I will spend my days in atonement. And in that, Eclair, I'd like to be with you."
(Ren)

"Y-you're not repenting at all! Your willpower, let me beat it into shape!"
(Female Knight)

"Then... can I take that as a yes?" (Ren)

"Wha—no. I... to a young chick like you..." (Female Knight)

When she was about to speak up, her words got tied.

Yeah, the current Ren's much more grown than the old one, and his body's in good shape.

He's evolved from a Bishounen Swordsman into a sturdy Biseinen Swordsman.

So calling him a young chick is a bit difficult.

What's more, being a Hero who saved the world, the gazes of those around him are quite painful.

"You're just drunk and messing around. I'll be leaving!" (Female Knight)

"Please wait! These are my true feelings!" (Ren)

Female Knight ran away.

I mean, She ignores the eyes of the onlookers, and pushes through the crowd to get away from Ren.

"... Idiot."

(TL: Baka)

With a peevish expression on her face, Taniko leans on Gaelion and the former Catepilland Raph as she mumbles under her breath.

I get the feeling she was a much purer girl in the past...

『Why are you acting like this is someone else's problem? It's your fault that Wyndia's become like this!』

Gaelion is glaring at me with all his might. Not my problem.

Well, she was set against getting revenge, but I put her up to fighting Ren anyways... perhaps she's strayed from her path.

"Wyndia!"

Having had Female Knight run away from him, Ren starts walking towards Taniko.

His face is even redder than before. It seems he's really drunk.

"Stay away." (Taniko)

"Gyau!" (Gaelion)

With killing intent coursing through every fiber of his body, Gaelion roars.

“Wyndia, I’ll definitely take responsibility!” (Ren)

“Wait, why are you saying a line like that in a place like this…” (Taniko)

The whispering voices get stronger.

Is Ren just really, REALLY drunk?

He’s acting without and honor like the old Motoyasu.

Well, the responsibility he’s talking about is probably just for hilling her father.

But I think a feminizing label’s being stuck on him by the people watching. The second things didn’t go his way with Female Knight, he made an explosive announcement to Taniko.

“Wyndia! I’ll definitely make you happ–” (Ren)

“Don’t say any more than that! 「Lightning Dragon」!” (Taniko)

Ah… Taniko’s patience was at its end. What’s more, Gaelion even acted out. Even while piss drunk, Ren takes up his sword, and repels the attacks focused on him.
How skilled.

“Hmm?” (Firo)

Firo started singing and dancing in a nice mood.

Behind her, Melty is reluctantly strumming her instrument.

No, to prevent the talks of her engagement to me from getting to the Queen, she’s probably putting on a performance.

“FUOOOOOH! Firo-tan’s song!”

And as always, Motoyasu loves Firo. He’s standing at the front, and cheering for her.

Behind him, his flock of three are glaring at him with unpleasant expressions. Is this some sort of trial for them?

“Kue~ Kue~”

Fitoria starts singing too.

No wait, is she the back chorus? It's like a Capella was mixed in, raising the tension of the concert.

Where's the Trash that's supposed to be leading this?

I searched for him, and found him drinking wine on the terrace with the Queen.

That strange atmosphere around them prevents me from getting any closer. Well, I still walk up to them anyways.

"Oh, Iwatani-dono. What seems to be the matter?" (Trash)

"The concert has become something amazing, so I'm here to tell you to go stop them." (Naofumi)

"This may sound rude on my part, but I would like everyone to enjoy themselves without restraint. I do not believe there to be a need to stop them." (Queen)

The Queen covers her mouth with her fan as she says this. She really is a Vixen good with her mouth.

"Also, I think it would be much more effective if Iwatani-sama tried to stop them." (Queen)

"If I try doing that, they'll just start cheering for me again." (Naofumi)

No matter what happens, I can't stand people, or should I say large audience halls.

And from experience, I can only say it will heat up further if I get on stage.

"Isn't that fine? Now, we are simply enjoying the lively noise. Luckily, there doesn't appear to be any fighting breaking out." (Queen)

"No... there was." (Naofumi)

There's Ren and Taniko's fight.

The peanut gallery's having fun, and it did feel like everyone was grasping for peace, though.

Outside the castle... no, more like all around the world, joy surges up.
... I distanced myself from that idiot couple, and found Itsuki.

He was also snuggled close to Rishia, and talking.

Once he spotted me, Itsuki called out.

"What's wrong, Naofumi-san? Everyone will be sad if the guest of honor mopes around in a place like this." (Itsuki)

"Even if I'm not there, everyone will party." (Naofumi)

"But I think they'll have even more fun if you're there." (Itsuki)

"Yes, I also think that." (Rishia)

"Yeah, yeah. And? What are you guys doing here?" (Naofumi)

"Us? We're leisurely enjoying the banquet as we plan for what's to come."
(Itsuki)

"Despite that, you're letting out quite a sweet atmosphere, you know."
(Naofumi)

"Fue!?" (Rishia)

Let me harass them a bit for letting their duty slide.

Even when they're important guests too, they passed all of their responsibilities onto me, and are enjoying their time here. I'll curse them.

"Yes. I'm quite aware I was creating a sweet atmosphere with Rishia-san."
(Itsuki)

"FUEEEEEEE!?" (Rishia)

Rishia raises her voice even louder, as her face turns red.

"I-Itsuki?" (Naofumi)

"It may sound very selfish. But I wish to answer to Rishia-san's good will. I am a sinner. But... if I cannot make a single woman happy, I do not believe I will be able to save anyone. Especially if it's someone as sinless as her."
(Itsuki)

"Itsuki-sama... No matter what happens, I will not stray from your side."

(Rishia)

"Rishia-san..." (Itsuki)

And a dimension for only the two of them was created.

Ah, just go flirt however you want.

If you just take on my harassment like that, I'm the one who ends up looking stupid.

"It seems really peaceful over here, Naofumi-san. Can I have a word with you?"

"Yeah."

And there, Glass appeared. She saves me from the pink dimension surrounding Itsuki and Rishia.

"I'm saved. I felt like I was becoming one with the background, but I was unsure of what countermeasures to take." (Naofumi)

If Raphtalia was there, then perhaps I could have run, but right now, she's at my seat, conversing with the nobles in place of me.

I'll have to swap out with her later.

Atlas is in the middle of getting a lecture from Sadina for teasing Fohl.

Well, I doubt it'll have any effect on her, though.

Raph-chan is singing along with Firo.

Ah, he changed to child Raphtalia form.

And the real one got mad.

"And? How is it? The feeling of a world at peace." (Naofumi)

"... I guess I'm to find that out from here on. I'm sure that from here on, the people of my world and yours will start clashing with one another."

(Glass)

And so, she's not participating in the festivities.

It's not like I don't get her.

"If it's about that, it's not like I can't do anything." (Naofumi)

"Do you have something special planned?" (Glass)

"There's a way to separate the worlds sticking together. As long as the worlds remain divided, you won't have to deal with unnecessary clashes, right?" (Naofumi)

"Is that... what you called the power of God?" (Glass)

"Yeah, I can't do it, but Raphtalia is able to. Though your sacred weapons will have to be enshrined away somewhere." (Naofumi)

If they do that, a god wouldn't be able to get in. He wouldn't have the chance to.

Well, I have a barrier over this world, I'll erect one over the divided world as well. I'm sure that they'll be able to form a peaceful place there.

"Is that... so?" (Glass)

"So what do you want to do, Glass?" (Naofumi)

"... I do not know. There are definitely conflicts, but I think overcoming them and reconciling is also an important part of life." (Glass)

"That's right, there may be those around here that do not wish to accept others. Perhaps there will be persecution as well." (Naofumi)

"Then... will true peace ever come?" (Glass)

"No idea. This is what we find at the end of this strange world assimilation. There is fighting within those of the same race as well." (Naofumi)

My world's a good example.

In the end, living things live through conflicts with others.

Even if there's nothing but humans, there's still people grasping for supremacy, and wars as a result.

You can't call a single race world a peaceful one.

"This is quite difficult." (Glass)

"That's right. By the way, Glass, you won't celebrate with your own comrades?" (Naofumi)

I remember seeing them drinking to their victory a while ago.
But Glass is here talking with me.

"Yes, I was enjoying the banquet up until a little while ago. But after calming down a bit, all of my tension was put on brakes." (Glass)

"Calming down..." (Naofumi)

"... I used to have a very important friend. And in a certain incident, they went missing. Without that person here, I wonder if it is alright for me to have fun by myself." (Glass)

"Friend? Someone you liked?" (Naofumi)

"While we are close as friends, that person is a woman." (Glass)

"Ah, I see." (Naofumi)

"Now, where is that person, and what are they doing..." (Glass)

"Are you sure they aren't dead? Do you want me to search for them?"
(Naofumi)

"That's right. Having Naofumi-san find her is another option. But she said she would definitely return one day, so I'll wait here, and protect the world for her." (Glass)

With the world in a pinch, there was a missing person...

Glass is also something for waiting for her.

I'll try searching with God's power.

I found a strange point in Glass's past, and couldn't find that friend of hers in her memory.

Was she an otherworlder?

I don't think she's dead, but It'll be difficult to find her even for me.

IF I exerted myself, it would be possible, but with Glass herself like this...

"My fight has yet to end." (Glass)

"Make sure you don't collapse somewhere." (Naofumi)

"I know." (Glass)

And for a while, I quietly watched the night sky with her on the terrace. When I heard the audience getting loud again, I checked back to find the Old Man, Imya's Uncle, and Imya carving an ice sculpture.

It seems they had the castle's magicians cast ice magic to make a block of ice, and started chipping pieces off of it.

"Oh, if it isn't the laddie." (Old Man)

"What are you up to, Old Man? And wait, you were attending the castle's banquet?" (Naofumi)

"They asked me to put on some sort of show, and I had just gotten here. I wanted to congratulate you for the battle, so watch here." (Old Man)

Working skillfully with a hammer, the Old Man finishes the sculpture.

A life-sized Firo is carved, and I seriously think the skill put into it is amazing... but isn't something wrong with this picture?

What's more, it's a human form bird form set.

"If you have any requests, just say it. It doesn't have to be ice." (Old Man)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

"Then I would like to place a request on your arms."

For some reason, Trash crossed the sea of people, and made an order.

"I would like a large statue singing praise of Iwatani-dono's exploits. Of course, after these festivities are over. And make it grand." (Trash)

"What are you saying, old geezer?" (Naofumi)

"I was only talking about the realm of parlor tricks, but I got it. How large do you estimate it to be?" (Old Man)

"Fumu, from far away... Please construct a statue large enough that it can be seen in Melromark from afar." (Trash)

"Oh!? A statue of Father-in-Law!? There was one in a country of my world too. A Statue of a Goddess who sang of freedom!" (Motoyasu)

"The goddess portion sounds ominous, but if it's Naofumi-dono, then I can assure the people will revere and extol his form for many years to come."
(Trash)

"STOOOOOOPPPPP!" (Naofumi)

Why do they have to make something as disgusting as that?

Trash;s thought are leaping too fast, and I feel sick!

And Motoyasu, don't hop on board!

What sort of sad reasons do you have to coerce the Old Man into making a giant statue of me?

Let's try to calm them down, and foil their construction plans.

"You've been promoted quite a bit, laddie." (Old Man)

"Please quit it with the jokes." (Naofumi)

"Haha, the fact that it's become peaceful will mean my shop will finally get quieter." (Old Man)

"... Did I do something bad?" (Naofumi)

Weapon shops generally rake in profit when there's a feared enemy to combat.

In the age to come, there will still be monsters to fight, but I doubt there will be a time more profitable than during the waves.

"Don't mind it. Peace is to be enjoyed in itself. And it's not like I only sell weapons, you know." (Old Man)

I think... I heard that Imya's Uncle ran a metallurgy shop in the past.

In a peaceful shop, perhaps a weapon store becomes something like that. He did build Firo's carriage, and I think he can do business as a utility man with metal.

“This is all because of you, laddie. I guess that means there was meaning in me trying hard for ya. And for a while, my shop’s going to be stable.” (Old Man)

The Old Man winks, and points behind him.

“As expected of the store the Hero of the Shield-sama frequents! Please make equipment for me!”

“No, that will be my—”

Various requests started flooding in, and the nobles and representatives of other countries began whispering amongst themselves.

Well, the bulk of the armor I’m currently wearing was made by his store. Its abilities were so high, it was surprising.

After that we had a simple conversation with a few jokes mixed in.

Motoyasu demanded that the Firo Statue be preserved for eternity, and he made the impossible request to Marin. In the end, with the Old Man’s permission, Kuu melted the whole thing down.

“Old Man-san, thank you for all you’ve done up until now.” (Raphtalia)

Raphtalia comes over, and extends her thanks to the Old Man.

“Oh, if it isn’t the young lass! Haven’t you grown up nicely? It makes the first time I met you seem like a lie.” (Old Man)

Thinking back, it was quite a long road…

I was framed by Witch, bought the Slave Raphtalia, bought weapons from the Old Man… a lot happened.

“Now, now, Ladies and gentlemen, gather round. It’s the monster acrobatic show. Yes.”

Ah, the Slave Dealer I haven't seen in a while is using his monsters to put on something like a circus show.

A large tiger-like monster jumps through a ring of fire, and a mysterious monster called an Egugu rode a bicycle. The scene tells me that there are some monsters who know not the world has been saved.

Taniko is watching the show in anticipation.

Out of curiosity, she keeps asking the Slave Dealer what monsters will come out.

I understand that she likes monsters, but the person she's talking to uses slaves, and works monsters to the bone. He's a terrible person, you know. What's more, they started some incomprehensible rivalry, and Taniko took the monsters from my land up on stage to do a performance.

Those that were modified into Rhaps, and the Filo Rials. Gaelion's tricks also sent the audience into high spirits.

Ah, I found Motoyasu's former tag-along Elena.

She's making a really sullen face as she converses with her parents.

"... Ah."

"It's been a while." (Naofumi)

"No, it hasn't been that long. I mean, I was on the battlefield." (Elena)

"You were there?" (Naofumi)

"Of course I was. My parents wouldn't stop bitching at me." (Elena)

I think her father or something was some sort of military personnel in Melromark or something like that.

"I tried not to stand out, so perhaps you didn't notice me, though." (Elena)

"Ah, I see." (Naofumi)

"For the executed former princess to be a world invading deity... she should have made Given up at some point. A foolish woman." (Elena)

"Hey..." (Naofumi)

The woman who calmly indulged in depravity said it with a level tone. I think that if she had that much power, she could live life however she wanted. She could have indulged in as much luxury as she wanted. But I guess if you keep looking up, there's no end in sight.

"Well, I guess you worked hard. Good job." (Elena)

"I don't feel happy at all when I hear it from you." (Naofumi)

"I guess so... Ah, this is a pain. I'll have to set up shop in the Hero of the Shield's land soon, and my parents keep bitching on about profitability. Even when I just want to relax, why is life so hard?"

"That's your fault! Just be thankful you haven't been executed yet."
(Naofumi)

She really just spits out as much abusive language as she wants. As a form of punishment, I'll give her shop some special privileges. At the entrance to the hall is a sturdy merchant selling accessories with all of his commercial spirit. To clarify, the one who owns a department store in Zeltburg.

There's also the swindler, who's become something of a millionaire. He's formed an alliance with the accessory merchant to take control of the money of those partying in the Castle Town. But that's a story for later. I'm sure my land will continue to develop.

"Naofumi-cha~n!"

A drunk Sadina grabs me from behind.

"Whatcha doing? If you're bored, how about entertaining everyone with this onee-san?" (Sadina)

Having finished Atlas's lecture, it appears Sadina started a drinking competition, and one thing led to another.

“And so Naofumi-chan will be participating~! Everyone, let’s have a contest between this Onee-san and Naofumi-chan~.” (Sadina)

“Okay, everyone! The Hero of the Shield, and the Hero of the Harpoon are going at it!”

“Hey! Sadina, stop!” (Naofumi)

“Ahn, I love you, Naofumi-chan~.” (Sadina)

Sadina starts leaning on me.

“Hey, Raphtalia-chan, hurry and do fun things with Naofumi-chan. Then next is Atlas-chan’s turn, and then I’m up.” (Sadina)

“Ahaha…”

Raphtalia wipes away some sweat.

Just how serious is she, this woman?

“If you don’t hurry up, I might just end up eating him up.” (Sadina)

“Who’s getting eaten!? Hey, don’t bring your face so close! You stink of alcohol!” (Naofumi)

“No, I am Naofumi-sama’s number one!” (Atlas)

Atlas makes a dramatic appearance.

“Rafu~!”

“Ah, Master’s looks like he’s having fun. Let Firo and Mel-chan in~! Now, Mel-chan, let’s–” (Firo)

“I-I don’t want…” (Melty)

Melty and Firo approach us.

If you don’t want to come, then run away.

The villagers, and our other comrades also gather.

“P-please stop it! Naofumi-sama is with me!” (Raphtalia)

Good grief, there’s no end to this cacophony.

Like that, the banquet dragged on for a while.

Once I got worn out, I left and took a rest in a guest room before returning, only to be congratulated once more.

In the end, the banquet doors remained open for an entire week, but I guess that doesn't really matter.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 376 – Alternate Worlds and Modern Ones

---

A few months passed.

The wave, or should I say the bitchy Goddess's invasion plan, came to an end, and we've made some progress on reconstruction.

Ren, Itsuki and Motoyasu's deadline for giving their answers to their weapons is closing in.

My Shield, or should I say Atlas is... well, she teases her brother as she spends her days seducing me.

Though she did talk to me seriously at the time.

"And? Did you guys make your decision yet?" (Naofumi)

I was making preparations for lunch as I talked with the three Heroes.

"Yeah, I think I'm going to stay in this world."

The one who answered that was Ren.

It seems that he didn't reach a satisfying conclusion when he went to that other world from his own.

So he prayed to his sword so that he could return when he wanted.

Right now, Ren is working hard with Female Knight to stop the various cultural frictions brought about by the World Assimilation.

Female Knights achievements were recognized, and she was appointed to do diplomatic work with residents of Glass's world.

To make a world as free of discrimination as possible, she took the initiative, and started acting.

Taniko, along with Rat, Gaelion and Miikun went on a journey to investigate the distribution of Glass's world's monster in this one.

Well, when night falls, they do return to the village by portal.

"I never had any intentions of returning from the start! Now that the world's been saved, as promised, I will devote my long days and nights to winning Firo-tan's heart!"

"Hmph!"

Motoyasu is... yeah. He plays with his Filo Rials all day. Though it does seem he's learned a lot from a Filo Rial Trainer in Zeltburg. To put it bluntly, I think he would do better on the teaching side. And as always, his three are with him.

"I too... chose to remain in this world."

"I see." (Naofumi)

"Itsuki-sama... let's do our best." (Rishia)

"Yes." (Itsuki)

Itsuki and Rishia plan to go on a journey for world reformation. A while ago, they met Rishia's parents, and discussed what they would do from here on. It seems there was a bit of trouble there, but the matter was peacefully resolved.

I didn't ask for the specifics.

Well, according to Rishia, her parent were worried whether she was a match for Itsuki, and they quarreled a bit.

Her parents are weak to pressure as well.

If I told them I was going out with her with the intention of marriage as a joke, I feel they would die from shock.

"So everyone's staying." (Naofumi)

"What are you going to do, Naofumi? You wanted to return so badly before."
(Ren)

"Well, I already went back once. My determination around that area is... well..." (Naofumi)

"Then will you stay?" (Ren)

"Hmm..." (Naofumi)

What should I say?

Explaining is going to be a pain.

"For argument's sake... from your eyes, it's correct to say I'll be staying. But in exchange, I won't be able to use a majority of those oh-so-convenient godly powers." (Naofumi)

"Is that so?" (Ren)

"It's the result of a certain decision. It's like a compensation for having fulfilled the Spirits' wishes. In exchange, the waves will never come again, so don't worry about that." (Naofumi)

These powers were beyond me to begin with.

Raphtalia and Atlas thought the same.

—

Yesterday night.

"Naofumi-sama, please make your choice." (Atlas)

Atlas, or should I say the Spirit of the Shield and the other Spirits gathered to explain the situation.

Raphtalia was also there, and we spoke.

"My decision..." (Naofumi)

"That's right. What should we do?" (Atlas)

A choice.

The other summoned heroes are each getting different options from me.

I did receive an explanation about that.

I've already gone beyond the point of no return that Arc guy said, and now it's time for me to make a choice.

And wait, it isn't even a choice anymore.

It's just a course of action.

The first possibility is... well, to put it simply, stay in the world, and spend my days.

It's a bit of a hard world to live in, but as long as everyone's there, I get the feeling I would be able to live a fun life until I die.

If I think back upon it, I can make a Harem, and considering the future, there are a few advantages.

The rosy life I imagined when I first got to this world is before me.

I feel Raphtalia's going to go through some hardships, but I can't cast everyone aside.

And I do want to answer the people I trust who say they like me...

It may be my pride speaking, but we saved the world, so I should at least allow that.

And I have Raphtalia's permission.

The second is... return to my own world, and live with Raphtalia.

With the Shield's power, our lives will be pretty stable until the end.

And right now, I can make use of that power.

Even if we're in that world, it's not like we can't use magic.

That's not bad either.

But if I stay in this world, I get the feeling I'll have to deal with some lustful advances.

Especially around a certain whale. She's seriously gunning for me, and she asks Raphtalia when she'll score every day.

I understand that she'll honor the order, so right now, I can't lay hands on Raphtalia carelessly, or she'll come after me in a drunken frenzy.

I'll have to show my resolve.

So returning to my own world is also... an option.

I mean, I am satisfied with this conclusion.

And it's already over...

"I—"

I made a decision.

"Understood. It's a nice decision, befitting of Naofumi-sama. I'm also in agreement." (Raphtalia)

"That's right. As expected of Naofumi-sama, I think it's a greedy option that'll make everyone happy." (Atlas)

"Yeah, yeah. Then... do it." (Naofumi)

"Yes." (Raphtalia)

"Understood." (Atlas)

On my choice, both Raphtalia and Atlas nodded.

—

And as a result, here I am.

I decided to stay in this world, and the day after that, I'm here peacefully preparing for lunch.

"Na~ofumi-cha~n? Is it time for lunch yet?"

Sadina appeared.

Recently, she's started salvaging in the nearby sea, no, perhaps I should call it treasure hunting. She's also exploring the sea from Glass's world. Since she became the Hero of the Harpoon, she's gotten ridiculously strong. No normal monster will be able to stand on the same level as her.

And, at night, she comes back by portal, and aims for me.

To put it bluntly, apart from Raphtalia and Atlas, she pursues those topics more actively than Firo while in heat.

I often wonder what she sees in me, but perhaps she's just enamored with my drinking capacity.

"Ah, yes, yes, it'll be out soon, so just wait." (Naofumi)

"Ye~s! Now, everyone, prepare for lunch." (Sadina)

"Ye~s!"

As always, unfamiliar slaves are popping up in my village. It's due to the Slave Dealer's kind services.

I think it's rising from the scale of a village into a town.

People graduate, or more specifically, develop the skills to be self-sufficient and leave as well.

We don't need to combat the wave, so they don't have to stay here.

Now, they find employment as soldiers, or go sign up as adventures to do various odd jobs.

With the revived Granny's training as the basis, the slaves are quickly growing up.

But talent on the level of Rishia, Raphtalia and Female Knight is hard to come by.

Sadina level is completely out of the question.

Well, there are a few who still peddle. Is that my responsibility?

If you think of peddling, you think of Firo.

If you ask what she's doing, she's going on a world trip with Melty.

More specifically, it's Firo's Idol Tour.

In order to make sure relations with other countries go well, she visits them as the Queen, and as a friendly ambassador, Firo works as an Idol.

Firo has a sort of naïve innocence, so she's liked by people easily.

And Melty's idea worked well, so we're getting some nice results in other countries.

Well, since she's handling diplomacy for the world's largest country, the people of Glass's world are a bit vigilant of her.

Trash and the Queen are also working hard for the country.
The marks left behind by the war are deep, and it's a bit troublesome.

The revival the Bitch Goddess used was quite crude, so I'm not sure how much longer the Queen and Granny will live.
Even so, Trash, Rishia and the Granny's grandson are satisfied.
It would be nice if they live a long life.

"I see."

On my reply, Ren and the others nod, and wait for food.
Oy, don't just stand there. Help.
Why am I on cooking duty in the first place?

"Naofumi-sama, what do you want to do when lunch is over?" (Raphtalia)
"Let's see. I think that today's plan was to go apprehend a reincarnator the Bitch Goddess granted power to." (Naofumi)

People who that Bitch Goddess reincarnated are still hiding all over the place.

It's not like we defeated them all.
And now that peace has been obtained, they occasionally go out of control with their dreams to rise to the top.

Is it like training in the mountains to prepare?
Some follow the Bitch Goddess's words, and lust for strength, while others noticed her schemes, and used tools to sleep.

The last guy we encountered politely tried making a convenient device so he could survive in a destroyed world.
Though it reeked of suspiciousness.
I don't know how many centuries ago he was from, though.

He's supposed to have been an alchemist who left his name in the pages of history.

There are many legends like his, which is troublesome.

In all worlds, there are annoying legends of how, someday, this legendary Hero, so and so, will return.

Catching guys like that is one of the jobs of Heroes.

Ah, right.

A little while after the world was at peace, Glass disappeared.

I tried searching for her when I had my godly powers, but I ran into the same wall I did when searching for her friend.

And before that, Glass told me that, no matter what happens, don't try searching for me. As she was probably hinting to her current situation, I decided not to.

It'll work out somehow.

And Atlas can still contact the Spirit of the Fan.

According to it, there are no problems.

Glass was only a representative of her world as a Hero, and it's not like she represented a country.

When Melty was going around countries, she was just training with a bored expression on her face.

"That's right." (Raphtalia)

"Got it. Well then, food's done. After we're done with that, let's go."

(Naofumi)

After I finished cooking, I exited the kitchen, and left it to the others.

"Niichan's food! As always, it's great!"

The one who rejoiced was Kiel.

As always, she continues to look after that unnerving crepe tree.

When she's not doing that, she's either peddling, or accompanying Fohl.

Though Fohl's often teased by his sister he's made looking after the villagers, especially the ones who just got here, his life's work. Right now, he's something of a leader here.

"Rafu~?"

"Ah, yes, yes. You can eat it too."

"Rafu~!"

Raph-chan's become the supreme ruler of all Raphs, and he maintains the order of the monsters in the area... it seems.

As the Hero of the Ship, he also helps Sadina in her salvaging work. Honestly, Sadina's partner is Raph-chan.

There's also Fitoria, for an important monster, I guess.

From the start, she had to deal with turf wars, and the sort, so she isn't here.

Well, that was also Motoyasu's fault.

She left while running away from the man.

But she occasionally uses Firo to ask me for help.

No matter where she runs, Motoyasu will chase her...?

In his mind, she's his most-like Filo Rial next to Firo.

Well, I guess it's something like that.

The Weapon Shop's Old Man is as busy as ever.

Luckily for me, he moved to the neighboring town, and opened a shop with Imya's Uncle.

Imya helps out, and they deal in a wide range from clothing, to armor, to weapons.

There's a lot more happening, but I guess that's about it with the people I know.

The Slave Merchant, the Swindler, and the Accessory Merchant are just raking in profit as always.

I also carried out my planned harassment of Elena.

Like that, my days were filled with a bit of trouble, but they were fun.

From now on... I'll just have to pray that they'll go on like this.

"Ah, right! What should we call this village? You never decided, did you, Niichan!?" (Kiel)

"Name? Now that I think about it, I never gave it one. What was it called before? I'm fine with that." (Naofumi)

"Eh? Right now, it's become famous as, 'The village revived under Niichan'. Let's think of a new one, right Raphtalia-chan?" (Kiel)

"Yes, let's." (Raphtalia)

"Isn't that fine, though? It is the village revived under Naofumi." (Ren)

Ren gives a smile as he nods to Kiel's suggestion.

Even if you tell me that...

As I was thinking of what name to give it, Motoyasu opened his mouth.

"I think Firolove Village is good." (Motoyasu)

"Rejected." (Naofumi)

"I think it would be nice if Naofumi-san gave it a name." (Itsuki)

"That's right." (Raphtalia)

"Really?" (Naofumi)

"Eh?... Niichan's deciding it? Let's all talk about it together." (Kiel)

"Why's that, Kiel? I thought you would agree to that." (Naofumi)

"But Niichan, you have no naming sense." (Kiel)

"Ah, that's right." (Everyone)

Oy, why is everyone agreeing to that?

"You just took Firo from the Filo in Filo Rial, and you just cut off a bit from my name to get Raph-chan's..." (Raphtalia)

"Rafu~?"

"So I think it's going to get quite a lazy name." (Kiel)

"Kiel, you..."

I'll remember this. I'll definitely remember this.

"Then how about we just take the characters in Iwatani, and make it Rock Valley?" (Ren)

As if he had had an epiphany, Ren hits his hands together, and said that.
And are you telling me that name has good naming sense?
No, it doesn't.

"Oh, that has a nice sound to it. What does it mean?" (Raphtalia)

"In my world, Iwa(岩) means Rock. Similarly, Tani(谷) has the meaning of valley. And thus Rock Valley." (Ren)

"That's nice!" (Kiel)

"Ah, right... it was like that in the language of Naofumi-sama's world."
(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia remembers the time she spent in my world.
And English, apparently.

"Okay~! Then from today onwards, this villiage will be called Rock Valley.
Everyone! Is that fine?"

"Yeah!"

"Oy, while you can see cliffs here by the sea, there's no valley..." (Naofumi)

My opinion was ignored, and this village was given the name Rock Valley.
And like that, my days in the other world... continued.

---

Japan, a day in the present era.

"... in Sickness and in Health..."

Today, I held my marriage ceremony with Raphtalia.

We returned from that world, and things proceeded at a tempo so fast that even I was surprised. I quickly found employment.

Right now, I'm doing various work in a large company.

Well, I did always have some connections, and it turned out one of my net friends was actually an executive at a corporation. He insisted that he wanted to scout me.

What's more, right now in the middle of a recession, while other companies are going pale, our stocks are rising.

I'll bet it's the influence on the Law of Cause and Effect.

After graduating college, I got a job, and after one year, I ended up marrying Raphtalia.

Because the experience in the other world bolstered my commercial spirit, I was able to achieve good results in the past year.

We left the godly powers with the other us in that world, and now, we can only use a little bit of magic.

And like that, the Wedding spread out before me.

In the church, the priest speaks out the vows to bind the me wearing a tailcoat, and the Raphtalia wearing a wedding dress.

In the middle of that.

The Church doors slammed open.

What is it!? I don't want some cliché happening like some guy storming in to steal the bride.

Who is it? Who is it that wants to take away Raphtalia!?

And wait, Raphtalia, are you telling me you cheated on me with another man!?

No, no... with her, that's not happening.

"I have an objection to this union!"

... I timidly turn around.

There, Atlas was wearing a dress, sprinting towards me.

Her age in this world is recorded as 20.

By her unchanged appearance, I guess that makes her a legal loli.

Right, we ended up returning to modern times, but for some reason, even Atlas was here. What's more, she screwed around with the order of the world, and inserted herself as my childhood friend.

I imagined a sweet college life with Raphtalia, but Atlas made her dramatic entrance, and put a stop to that.

And wait, because of all that happened in that world, I don't hate her, I am fond of her.

But still..

"Now, now, Naofumi-sama! Become one with me!" (Atlas)

Atlas grabs me by the hand.

I'm not sure by what logic, but this world's Atlas's physical strength is still incredible.

And so, she was able to forcefully drag me along.

It wasn't the bride, but the groom that was stolen away.

"Wah." (Naofumi)

"What do you think you're doing at our long-awaited marriage ceremony!?"
(Raphtalia)

Raphtalia comes to her senses, grabs my other hand, and starts a tug of war with Atlas.

"Ow!" (Naofumi)

"Naofumi-san is getting married to me!" (Raphtalia)

"No, Naofumi-sama will be wed to me! I'll give you plenty of money, so Raphtalia-san, just give up already." (Atlas)

"Not happening!" (Raphtalia)

Ah, right. I forgot.

Due to all her messings with the laws of cause and effect, Atlas set herself as the daughter of a rich man.

So her assets are much greater than either of us combined.

Why is a commoner like me the childhood friend of someone like that?

I don't get how this lovecom setting is supposed to work.

"I will not give up!" (Atlas)

"Didn't you just give up earlier!?" (Raphtalia)

"That was but a lie." (Atlas)

"I can't believe you! Just how unfair of a person must you be?" (Raphtalia)

"I'll say anything I must in the name of love." (Atlas)

"Ow! S-someone save me!" (Naofumi)

"Niisan."

My younger brother seems to be directing an irritated glare at me.

He was accepted into a good college, and is in the middle of job hunting right now.

Well, I'm sure he'll find somewhere nice.

Apart from my brother, my other net friends are in attendance, and my college circle friends are gathered near him.

They started talking amongst themselves, and for some reason, my parents joined them. They all point their thumbs at the ground, and shout out in a large voice.

"All you riajuus should just explode!"

"Why!?" (Naofumi)

"Oh... god. Please offer thy divine retribution unto this sinful riajuu."

"Oy, Priest, don't screw with me!" (Naofumi)

The priest here is a foreigner working in Japan, right?

Despite that, the authenticity of that line was quite rare.

“Naofumi-san will get married to me! Please give it up already.” (Raphtalia)

“No, he will to me. It’s not too late yet.” (Atlas)

“GIVE IT UP, THE BOTH OF YOU!” (Naofumi)

My Japanese life is, just as my life back there, full of unfair happenings.

Well, they’re days I look back on with joy, so it’s fine.

From now on, I’ll give it my best at a happy life.

While my body was being pulled in both directions, I let out a laugh.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Epilogue: Rock Valley's Heroic Legend

---

Iwatani Naofumi

As the Hero of the Shield, he was the leader of the Heroes who saved the world.

For his achievements in saving the world, he was praised as a savior.

After that, he got drawn into numerous incidents in the world, and solved them. He continued to make sure the people relied on him, but never depended on him.

He was much yearned for by the opposite sex, and it's said that he had many descendants.

He was famed for both his business and cooking ability. The merchants who personally dealt with him created enterprises great enough that even now, their names are all around us.

Because of that, he became worshiped as the God of the Shield, presiding over business and culinary arts.

Rock Valley was the country he restored, and it's said that it was named in the tongue of his origin.

It's said that in the naming of Rock Valley, someone offered the following opinion:

"Oy, while you can see cliffs here by the sea, there's no valley..."

It is unknown who voiced these words.

—

Kitamura Motoyasu

His name has been engraved into history as the Hero of the Spear who saved the world.

He valued Filo Rials more than anything, and it's been said he was the Hero of Filo Rials, but after the world was at peace, he continued fighting for the Divine Birds. As he continued his battle, records of his whereabouts became vague.

Currently, specialists question whether he truly existed or not.

–

Amagi Ren

As the Hero of the Sword, he saved the world.

After that, in a separate organization than the Hero of the Shield, he resolved various problems around the world.

After pursuing affections for a single woman for many years, they finally married. And to make up the sin for killing a girl's father, in the form of a dragon, it's said that he also married that girl.

–

Kawasumi Itsuki

As the Hero of the Bow, he saved the world.

After the subjugation of the Goddess, he proclaimed that there was still evil in the world, and went on a journey with the Hero of the Projectile.

While records of him exist in all countries around the world, none of them told of exploits great enough for his name to be handed down.

–

Raphtalia

As the Hero of the Hammer, she saved the world.

Considered the right arm of the Hero of the Shield, she was always with him. As his first wife, she wed him, and they had children.

Right now, much of Rock Valley's royalty carries her blood.

But she never had a moment of rest with the Hero of the Shield's female relations.

She often appears as the main character of many literary pieces of adventure.

–

Firo

As the Hero of the Claw, she saved the world.

It's said that the Filo Rial raised by the Hero of the Shield became a human, and fought alongside him.

She got along well with the Hero of the Instrument, Melromark's Queen, and stayed by her side when the world was at peace.

But once that Queen passed away, she suddenly vanished from the records, and like the Hero of the Carriage, it is unknown whether she truly existed or not.

Right now, there exists a famous Idol of the same name, so a few people wonder whether or not they are the same person; however, this connection is doubtful.

–

Fohl

As the Hero of the Gauntlet, he saved the world.

He was one of the former slaves that make up the ancestors of Rock Valley, and he carried the blood of Silt Welt Royalty.

He achieved many things as the comrade of the Hero of the Shield, and was much loved by the villagers.

–

Atlas

Her name is left in records as the existence that supported the Hero of the Shield.

During the battle with the legendary beast Houou, she lost her life prematurely.

After that, it is said that she was revived as a Spirit, but specialists hold this fact in doubt.

–

Melty Q. Melromark

The daughter of the Hero of the Cane, and the Hero of the instrument. She became one of the Heroes to save the world, and the Queen of Melromark. Once the world was at peace, she offered assistance to the countries that had been lost in war.

She accomplished many feats, and her country experienced a long era of peace.

It's said that she was a lover of Filo Rials, and there are vague accounts that she had intimate relations with a Filo Rial of the highest class.

After that, she was married to the Hero of the Shield, and had children eventually.

–

Trash Melromark XXXII

As the Hero of the Cane, and the King of Melromark, he saved the world. In his youth, he left a name as the Great King of Wisdom, but he had a tendency to stray, and he formed an antagonistic relationship with the Hero of the Shield.

After that, they reconciled, and he poured his efforts into world peace.

Even after peace was achieved, he continued serving the country as his daughter's aide.

There were many who were inspired by the noble way he lived.

–

Mirellia Q Melromark

The wife of the Hero of the Cane, and the former Queen of Melromark.

According to legend, she once died and was revived under enemy control, but the Hero of the Cane was able to dispel the brainwashing binding her.

But it has also been said that the one who was killed was merely her body double.

After that, she left the country to her daughter, and aided her alongside the Hero of the Cane.

–

Rishia Ivyred

As the Hero of the Projectile, she saved the world.

After that, she went on a journey with the Hero of the Bow, and spread her name to various places around the world.

According to legend, she was married to the Hero of the Bow.

But a few tales recount her as the comrade to the Hero to the Shield, and some of her assisting the Hero of the Spear. She's a hero whose deeds are up to much speculation.

Even now, she's written in as the protagonist of many literary works aimed at women.

–

Eclaire Seattle

As the Hero of the Katana, she saved the world.

She was the daughter of a feudal lord who tried to offer the same treatment to Human and Demi-Human alike in the Demi-Human persecuting country of Melromark.

The land she was given later in life became, like the Hero of the Shield's village, a place where people passed their lives without discrimination by race.

Her relationship with the Hero of the Sword is often the subject of plays, but the actual individual's personality remains a mystery.

–

Midori, Kuu and Marin

They took up the titles of Hero of the Axe, Hero of the Mirror and Hero of the Book respectively as they saved the world.

Some say that they were Filo Rials raised by the Hero of the Spear, and others that they were slaves.

But as depictions of them are even scarcer than those of the Hero of the Spear, their existences are under suspicion.

–

Wyndia

As the Hero of the Whip, she saved the world.

It's been said that she was raised by the Dragon Emperor, and that she joined the Monster Tamer Guild. She is famous for solving various monster-related problems.

It has been said that the Hero of the Shield had given her a special title, but that name has been lost in transmission.

It has also been said she had some romance with her father's enemy, the Hero of the Sword, but the specific details are unknown.

–

Gaelion.

The Dragon Emperor that reigns over the monsters of the world.

The legends record that he participated in the fight to save the world, and much of his life was recorded by a researcher he encountered.

While it has been proven that these accounts are true, it has not been proven that the Dragon Emperor recorded in them was the real one, and the researcher is suspected of some fabrication.

–

Ratotil Anthreya

An alchemist who served by the Hero of the Shield's side.

She got along well with the Hero of the Whip, and they worked together to solve various problems.

She treasured the monster by her side dearly, and there are theories that state this monster to be the predecessor of the Raphshild race that exists today.

At present, there is a continuing debate to determine whether these monsters were brought about by Ratotil, or the Hero of the Shield.

–

Glass

As the Hero of the Fan, she saved the world.

Her legends live on in the lore of many countries.

She earnestly fought to prevent a process called world assimilation, she often appears in stories pertaining to the Hero of the Shield.

She seems to have been waiting for someone, but it is uncertain whether or not they were reunited.

Many plays and novels have her reuniting with, and marrying that person.

–

Kiel

As the Hero of the Scythe, she saved the world.

She is the progenitor of the race that continues to protect Rock Valley's God Tree to this very day.

Because of her, the God Tree continues to be praised as a symbol of world peace.

Later, it was said she married the Hero of the Gauntlet, but the truth is uncertain.

–

Sadina

As the Hero of the Harpoon, she saved the world.

She has earned fame for acting as a parent to orphans that gathered at the village that became Rock Valley, and for acting as a counsellor to the Hero of the Shield.

She has been described as a major lover of alcohol, and it's been said that she exchanged many drinks with the Hero of the Shield.
It has also been said that she was later blessed with his children.

–

Raph-chan

As the Hero of the Ship, he saved the world.

It's been said that he was a monster created by the Hero of the Shield, and a pure-bred of the Raphshild race.

After the death of the Hero of the Shield, he disappeared along with his Filo Rials.

Specialists question his existence, and attribute him to the accomplishments of a large number of Raphshilds being treated as a single entity.

–

Fitoria

As the Hero of the Carriage, she saved the world.

It has been said she was a Filo Rial raised by legendary heroes of times passed, but the truth is uncertain. She was a Filo Rial Queen.

A Monster Hero who's existence is up to much scrutiny.

As with the Hero of the Ship, specialists claim that the actions of many Filo Rials were attributed to a single character.

–

Elhart

A legendary blacksmith who supported the Heroes from the shadows.

If he had not existed, it has been said the Hero of the Shield wouldn't have existed either; an unsung Hero.

The Hero of the Shield's beloved armor is known to be one of his many creations.

It has been said that after that, with the aid of the Hero of the Shield, he gave birth to many masterpieces, but when he died, the Hero of the Shield's legend died with him. While his weapons lit the coals for many wars around the world, what put an end to them was also his equipment. His name continues to be honored as the God of all Blacksmiths.

–

Trinemier Lucullan Lisella Tereti Quariz

A blacksmith who supported the Heroes from the shadows, and one who learned the art alongside Elhart.

A Demi-Human who, together with Elhart, supported the Heroes, and created many weapons.

He was good at looking after others, and had good features. It is recorded that he was quite popular within Rock Valley.

Together with Elhart, he is honored as a God of all Blacksmiths.

–

Imya Lucullan Lisella Tereti Quariz

A clothing maker who supported the Heroes from the shadows.

Niece to Trinemier Lucullan Lisella Tereti Quariz.

A good friend of the Hero of the Scythe, and one who made various garments.

Her bloodline continues to produce prodigious tailors to this day.

–

Elrasla Grilaroc

A Hengen Musou style inheritor who supported the Heroes from the shadows.

She's the one who spread the once-dead Hengen Musou style to the Heroes, and the inhabitants of Rock Valley, and the style is still practiced to this day. It has been said that in order to let the Heroes escape from a vicious plot of the ex-country of Faubley, she stayed behind, and was once killed.

She was later revived along with Melromark's former Queen, and opposed the Heroes.

By the actions of the Hero of the Projectile, and the Hero of the Katana, the brainwashing affecting her was dispelled.

Whether or not she actually died once before is up to question.

–

Beloukas

A Slave Merchant who support the Hero of the Shield from the shadows.

This name is only a conjecture towards his true one.

Through the Hero of the Shield's aid, his name was spread around the underworld, but not out of the range of speculation.

–

Hickwaal

A Merchant who supported the Hero of the Shield from the shadows.

He was the founder and first president of the Hickwaal Company that exists to this day.

While his commendable commercial spirit did not earn him a place in the world of legends, he went on to found countless enterprises after his meeting with the Hero of the Shield.

–

Sweed

A Merchant who supported the Hero of the Shield from the Shadows.

He was the founder of the Sweed Company that exists to this day.

Together with Hickwaal, he stuck his hands into much of the world's circulating wealth.

It has been said that at first, he worked as a conman, but after an encounter with the Hero of the Shield, he gained an understanding of the true nature of business, and had a change of heart.

–

Elena Haven

A Comrade to the Hero of the Spear, and a merchant who conducted business on the Hero of the Shield's land.

For the Hero of the Shield, who was known to be overly suspicious when it came to business, she was a rare individual who could converse normally with him.

During the construction of Rock Valley, she lent her power, and later continued to pour in aid.

Presently, her descendants have married into aforementioned Hickwaal and Sweed companies, and have gained the status of nobles.

Whether she was a comrade of the Hero of the Shield or Hero of the Spear is still up for debate by specialist.

One theory states that Raphtalia extended her hand to her, but that voice is the minority.

–

Roudy

A Chivalrous Thief who left his own legend around the time of the Heroes.

He stole the gold of evil nobles and merchants, and offered support to those going through poverty. IT is said that he was the head and founder of the Chivalrous Thieves Guild.

He was an acquaintance of the Hero of the Shield, and a theory points to him being a bandit reformed by him.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 378 – The Rise of the Shield Hero

---

“What the hell is this?”

I unintentionally raised a laugh.

What I got my hands on and read was a book titled Rock Valley’s Heroic Legend.

Right now, the store I’m in is the Rock Valley Book Store.

It appears to be a magic shop, but they sell normal books too.

“What’s wrong?”

When I stood there reading, a child who looked like Elena came up and talked to me.

I silently pointed to the page and furrowed my brow.

“It’s quite a terrible story.”

“There are a few things that diverge from reality here.”

The person Glass’s waiting for is a woman.

Most of the monsters were attributed as concepts of the whole race. I feel sorry for the actual ones.

“What’s wrong?”

“Rafu~?”

Firo and Raph-chan look at me in wonder as I give a bitter smile.

“Hmm? You guys’ existences are in doubt, it seems.”

“Eh…?”

It’s mean to call them a collection of monsters with the same name.

Why can’t they just see her as a Filo Rial?

“But it’s been a while since I’ve come to this world. Quite a bit has changed.”

I walk out of the book store, and look at the sky.

A giant tree towered over the surroundings.

So that’s Rock Valley’s special god tree, is it?

Since it was written that Kiel was protecting it… I strain my eyes, and try to focus on it.

… Yep. It’s the crepe tree.

“Raphtalia, that tree is disgusting, so go level it to the ground. Kiel isn’t here anymore, so it’s fine.”

“I don’t want to. And if we do that, it’ll start an uproar!”

“I’ll bet. But as I thought, I can’t get used to that tree.”

And when I watched the traffic on the road, I see quite a few familiar races walking around.

After defeating the Bitch Goddess, when the Spirits pressed me for an answer, I chose everything.

Something close to the Bitch’s fragments. I divided parts of me between this world, and the modern one. The me. Raphtalia and Atlas who would be able to use our godly powers, to protect the world, went on a journey following the Spirits’ words.

After that, a lot has happened.

It’s because the rules vary by the world.

We exist as a spiritual force to protect worlds from invading gods.

Because of that, we’ve battled in as many places as there are stars in the sky.

The rule that eight worlds had to combine for the god to descend existed in some worlds, and not in others.

But without corresponding to that rule, well, we pretty much lowered ourselves to the absolute lines the world would permit, and come down. Once we figured out just where the god was pulling the strings, we would bring him down before he could do anything else. And with the repetition of battles like that, the months and years passed before I knew it.

That fragment was pretty much me sending myself on a holiday. The one who took up permanent residence in the world experienced various happenings every day, but in the end, it seems he had a fun life. And now, he's returned to me.

After he died, it seems much has happened in this world. But unfair calamities like the wave didn't come about again. In all the worlds I resolved matters in, I erected a barrier so no god could come down again.

Me being in this world after so long is like a well-deserved holiday. I mean, with all that's happening, I'm tired. Arc even said I could take a break if I wanted to.

That cat occasionally saves us, and is occasionally saved by us. There are plenty of worlds where it would have been dangerous if he wasn't there. And there are plenty of worlds that would have been in danger without us. While similar to mine, his fighting style is on another vector.

He specializes in killing gods, and he's no good in anything else. Instead of getting into a war of attrition between gods, he has a convenient ability where he just kills them. But in exchange, bluntly, if it was someone from the world, even a baby could beat him. IT seems he works by logic like that.

Well, if it has to do with punching, I guess I can't beat a baby either.
In exchange, Raphtalia fights for me, though.

Ah, I digressed.

Anyways, as a god, I've devoted myself to fighting.

Should I call this my main body?

"Is Rock Valley a monarchy? Or a republic? An empire? Each history book seems to differ a bit."

"I'll bet it's had a long history. Firo, do you know anything about that?"

"Hmm... when Firo was with Mel-chan, it was a monarchy."

Fumu... Firo's memory ability is a bit dubious, but I'll rely on it.

Ah, that's right.

We've paid a visit to this world after all this time.

When I was relying on the memories of my fragment to walk the streets,
Firo and Raph-chan sensed my presence, and appeared.

Their existences were doubted, but they're right here.

But... Raphshild... the Raph race has gotten quite the grand name.

Ah, I spotted one... it's a tanuki-esque bear.

It's pulling a carriage, and letting children ride on its back.

It looks like it's treated as a sociable, docile monster.

But it doesn't appear to have much battle prowess.

This is like a Filo Rial that wasn't raised by Heroes, I guess.

I also sense that Gaelion's still here.

I guess I'll drop by later.

Right now, I'm in the country, Rock Valley.

I'm not really sure if it's an empire or a republic.

But it looks like it's a peaceful country.

People resembling Kiel's puppy mode are taking care of the crepe tree. The crepes that grow from it are this country's specialty, just by raising your hand into the air, you can eat them. Well, all that that means it that this disgusting tree is towering over the world.

Around it, a large castle town spreads out. It faces the sea, and it was once... Raphtalia's birthplace. Right now, it functions as a sort of port city.

"Firo."

"What~?"

"You're in human shape, but you won't take up your Filo Rial form?"

Well, I guess it'll cause an uproar if she does it here. I mean, she's supposed to be a legendary bird.

"Well, you see, this place is a bit narrow."

Is that so?

I guess she's grown quite big.

"Yeah, Raph-chan is the same."

"Rafu~."

When I reunited with Raph-chan, I was shocked.

He was standing in quite a remote place.

The entire Raph-race came to greet us, and we were led to a tanuki the size of a mountain.

It took a while for me to notice it was Raph-chan.

Right now, he's transformed to the same size as when we first met.

"Firo, you see. Firo finally found master again. Don't leave me alone this time."

"Ah, yes, yes."

Does Firo even realize just how much time has passed since then?

She doesn't seem any different than before.

Well, her essence is getting closer to that of a God's, and I do think she'll be able to breach the wall around the world.

She's become able to clad herself in fire as she flies, and when a Bird of fire greeted us as we approached the world, I was surprised.

I think that form's one of her transformations, but I wonder.

"Rafu~."

"Raph-chan says he wants to protect this world from the shadows, so he'll stay home."

"I see, I see. Good boy, Raph-chan. Unlike some bird who doesn't mature no matter how many centuries pass."

"Who's that~?"

It's you. You.

"Rafu..."

I pat an embarrassed Raph-chan as I walk around the city.

The unfamiliar townscape. But there were some familiar things, and they bring back some deep emotions.

"Is Fitoria still around?"

"Yeah, she's really annoying. She keeps telling Firo to just succeed her already. She says she wants to retire."

I think that bird has lived long enough, but she has eternal youth.

I guess Firo drank that medicine too.

But it would be uncouth to ask about the others.

I'll bet Firo's met with many a painful farewell.

"Master is too mean. You did so many things with everyone, but never with Firo."

Firo starts talking about this and that with a pouty expression.

"You said Mel-chan was there, so it was no good, but you did stuff with Mel-chan too."

"Please, just leave it at that. I'll be with you for a while now, right?"
(Naofumi)

I pat the top of Firo's head.

In a good mood, Firo quiets down.

As not to lose, Raph-chan climbs up to the top of my head, and strikes a pose.

"Ah, yes, yes. You too, Raph-chan."

After patting them for a while, my mood improves too.

"Naofumi-sama, please pat me as well."

Atlas comes from within the Shield, and volunteers herself.

"You get pat every day, don't you?"

"Even if it's every day, that doesn't mean it's enough."

"Yeah, yeah."

"Firo wants to be with master. This time, you'll take me along, right!?"

"Got it, got it."

Now, this world only has a handful of people who know me.

Like that, I walked around the city normally, and no one noticed I was the Hero of the Shield.

No, perhaps it's at the level where they think I'm cosplaying a legendary Hero.

The culture doesn't actually seemed to have advanced that far.

Well, I guess magic-based societies are something like that.

According to Firo and Raph-chan, they're in a cycle of prosperity and decline.

They've created flying carriages and ships, and set foot into the realm of the sky, so does that mean the world has advanced?

But that period had planes, so I don't really feel anything about it.

Melty's bloodline and Kiel's as well as Sadina's exist, but they separate from royalty, and are reinstated at some times. It's a cycle of something like that.

After the Heroes died, this world still relies on Hero Summoning quite a bit. The Four Holy... no, now, is it the Eight? Anyways, they call for them, and sometimes summon vassal Heroes too.

But there's no record of a Hero of the Shield appearing after me, which has become a famous topic of discussion.

"It sure is peaceful."

The weather is nice, and I can hear the birds calling out happily.

We walk to the major road, and I make a light lunch in the grassy plains outside before presenting it to Raph-chan and Firo.

They were very satisfied with the first meal I made for them by hand in a long time.

"What should we do, Raphtalia?"

"What do you mean?"

"Do you want to lead a peaceful life here again?"

If it's just for a while, I think I can get permission to rest.

If it's just for about a hundred years, it would just be like a normal Sunday for us.

I mean, we've been fighting consecutive battles for a while, and I think the Spirits will wait for us.

"We could have some children in this world, and build a stable household until they become independent."

Just like the us that stayed in the modern world, and the us that stayed here, I get the feeling we could start something here.

I mean, despite everything, making a village was… fun.

Witch and the discrimination I faced are bitter memories, but besides that, my days were quite fun.

“This time, let Firo in~!”

“Rafu~!”

“Me too!” (Atlas)

“Ah, yes, yes.” (Naofumi)

I ignore the three unrelated parties, and ask Raphtalia.

“That sounds nice…”

Thinking back, we’ve come a long way.

It was a choice I made as not to regret, but it’s not like I never had regrets.

Mourning for the deaths of those close to me truly was sad.

But more than that, I encountered many people in many worlds, experienced many partings, and received many thanks.

“… But our battle still continues. For the people who are shedding tears due to a selfish being calling itself God, we have to keep moving forward.”

“… That’s right.”

I can make a fragment for a change of pace if I want.

I can just have him enjoy this world in my place.

Right now, we’re carry the duty of quelling the waves caused by those proclaiming to be gods. We’re more like concepts than anything else.

So, we can’t stop moving forward… I see.

I guess I should rest in moderation.

In the worst case scenario, I can do a time warp, and meet the people of this world. Melty and Sadina, Kiel and Fohl.

It's not like I've left for eternity.

"Ah, it seems there's another person planning world assimilation."

Raphtalia receives a request for support from another god hunter.
Right, just like Arc, we have comrades who share the same goal as us.
Though I've never seen ones who are acting from the Spirits' requests like us.

Within them, there are people who betray, and people who have changes of heart. How many times have I been deceived...
Luckily, I'm still here and safe.

This time, one of those comrades is asking for help.
Of course, I intend to go there immediately.
I can't let them lose to those that perpetuate such unfairness.
Because that is our will.

It's fine. I have Raphtalia.
I have a world a world I have to protect.
I have Firo, and everyone else.

I can't meet them at this moment, but it's not like we'll never meet again.
But those that claim to be god can even erase the past.

And so... I will protect everyone.

"Then to refresh ourselves, let's leave a fragment, and go."

In this world, where we've become the legends who saved the world, let's have a light hearted adventure.
If the world is troubled by war, I'll bet we can achieve peace.
It's fine. I'm the Hero of the Shield. This world will give me a warm welcome.

And I'll get deceived again.

... That sounds likely. I'm a little worried.

"Understood."

"Firo wants to go with Master."

"Rafu!"

Raph-chan is waving his hand.

Next time we come, will we be bringing Raph-chan with us?

And we left a fragment behind, and leapt through dimensions.

This time, Firo's with us.

I'm with my nostalgic comrades, and I feel that my motivation's raised itself a bit.

If I think about it, I was just an Otaku college student who was put under false charges, and was thrown penniless into another world. From there, I got up to being a noble, and even a God.

This truly is the Rise of the Shield Hero.

"Okay! Raphtalia, Atlas, Firo, I'll be in your care from here on as well!"

"Yes."

"Understood."

"Yeah!"

Our battle still goes on.

For the lives lost without reason, we will continue to protect.

From here on... eternally...

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 379 – Side Story – The Christmas of the Shield [I]

---

“Achoo!”

On that day, I had just finished my job and was in the middle of returning to the village.

It’s also fine to return through the portal, but the moment I reached the village I had work to do

It seems that I can only rest when riding the carriage.

It’s been about half a year since the end of the last of the waves

I look to the sky and see it covered in thick clouds.

The temperature is dropping by the day, and it seems that even colder days are coming.

My breath has also turned white

So Melromark also has four seasons.

It seems the climate had been in disarray during the wave.

“Ah… ” (Naofumi)

“What’s wrong?” (Rafatalia)

Rafatalia asks me from outside the carriage.

I hold up my hand, and look to the sky in silence.

“Ah…” (Naofumi)

Rafatalia follows my lead and stares at the sky.

"It's snowing." (Rafatalia)

"So it falls in Melromark too." (Naofumi)

"The summer is hot, and the winter gets this cold." (Naofumi)

It's not like we're in the tropics, but the summer was still pretty hot.
But the winter gets cold enough for it to snow.

"Naofumi, do you hate the cold?" (Rafatalia)

"I don't hate it, I just thought it would be a pain to put spikes on the carriage's wheels." (Naofumi)

"... Should the hero who became an archduke and saved the world be saying such things?" (Rafatalia)

Rafatalia words are correct

But when I think of the money and labor wasted, it still seems like a pain.

"It seems that you are still trying to increase our wealth, but what do you plan to use it for?" (Rafatalia)

"Nothing in particular, if I were to use it, it would go towards decreasing the aftereffects of the wave" (Naofumi)

And it never hurts to have extra

My experiences till now have made saving money a habit deeply rooted in my psych.

Well, this habit had helped us out quite a bit.

But as an Archduke, I was granted a large sum of wealth and an estate.

"And having money is better than not having it." (Naofumi)

"As expected of Naofumi" (Atlas)

Atlas left the shield and floated in the winter sky

What do you mean by 'as expected'.

Well then, half a year has passed since the wave, but even now, it's effects are still clear

Melromark's castle town still has the mountain of the Spirit Turtle occupying much of the town, and the casualties of the countries that had the dragon's hourglasses was very high.

Though we may have achieved peace, the everyday lives of the civilians is still harsh.

There's no way that reconstruction could have finished in a mere half-year. That's why our current job is to go around the world and sell supplies to the troubled populace, while helping the unfortunate.

Well, we are gaining a small profit from this enterprise...

As expected, this job is quite tiring and in order to take a well-deserved break, we are proceeding towards the village at a leisurely rate.

Well, I did return to the village by portal yesterday.

"Don't worry about it. The snow's picking up, isn't it?" (Naofumi)

"KUE!" (Filo Rial)

Oh, by the way, the bird pulling the carriage right now isn't Firo, but her number one follower Piyo.

Firo is currently travelling the world with Melty, so she got Piyo to pull the cart for us.

Piyo is staring intently at the falling snowflakes while walking.

"It sure is." (Rafatalia)

"How much snow does Melromark usually get?" (Naofumi)

No matter how many meters of snow cover we get, it will still be troublesome

We may even be troubled further by winter-specific monsters.

"It depends on the year, but every year we get enough to dye the landscape white" (Rafatalia)

"Fumu..." (Naofumi)

Based on Rafatalia, we will be getting quite a bit of snow.

Well, we don't have to be that worried...

We survived fighting that bitch goddess. We should be fine whatever comes our way.

"Anyways, the cold-resistant goods we prepared seem to be working fine."
(Naofumi)

"You're right... By the way, Naofumi, do you need anything?" (Rafatalia)

"Hm?"

Both me and Rafatalia have learned to use the power of gods... no let's call them spirits... to some extent

But in order to use it, we must offer our own power to them.

Anyways, we both gave up a majority of our godly powers, so we were pretty much indistinguishable from humans.

Well, we could use them to some extent...

We became a somewhat half-assed existence and we were still affected by the heat and the cold. All's well with the world.

Anyways, the armor I had equipped was quite useful, as it was temperature resistant.

"I'm not cold at all" (Atlas)

"Well that's because you're... By the way, Atlas, this conversation isn't getting anywhere, can you please be quiet."

Atlas was always like this. She would always interrupt the conversation and take it in a weird direction.

You're not cold because you became a spirit.

"I'll have to make sure no one in the village catches a cold." (Naofumi)

"Yeah, it seems that Kiel would run around, even in this weather."
(Rafatalia)

Would the Loin-clothed dog be circling the village in joy now?

"She seems like the type that would get excited in snow." (Naofumi)

Yes, it seems she would be the type to roll around in the snow.

Even though she is the hero of the Scythe, you know.

"KUE!" (Piyo)

Piyo cried out.

We could see the village that was our destination.

We had finally arrived huh...

"Niichan, Niichan! It's Snow! It's snowing!" (Kiel)

Kiel, who had been excitedly running around the village ran in front of me.
I get off the Carriage and start towards the Village.

There doesn't seem to be any noticeable change.

The Bioplant forest seems to be strong against the cold, and some tomatoesque fruits are growing

And, as expected, Kiel is extremely excited.

What a simple fellow.

"Yes, yes, it's snowing" (Naofumi)

What about it?

Is what I wanted to say, but dealing with her would be a pain.

And the happy feeling derived from snow was something that I could kinda understand.

But seeing my home covered in snow gave off a slight melancholical feeling.

"Welcome back, Hero of the Shield" (Imya)

"I'm Back" (Naofumi)

Imya, who had been chasing Kiel, arrived

As always, these two seem to come as a set.

Oh yeah, that's right.

"Imya" (Naofumi)

"Yes" (Imya)

"It's getting cold, so could you start making some cold-resistant gear?"
(Naofumi)

"I've already made enough for the villagers, do you want more?" (Imya)

How considerate.

To be ready even before I asked.

"If you find any free time, could you make some more?" (Naofumi)

"Leave it to me" (Imya)

I praise Imya and pat her head, then I start cooking.

Today will be cold, so I'll cook something warm

"Oh yeah, Niichan!" (Kiel)

"What is it Kiel, you're not running around in circles any more." (Naofumi)

"What do you take me for... never mind... Anyways, it's almost Christmas right? What will you ask Santa Claus for?" (Kiel)

"Well you are a dog... Wait, Christmas?"

Are you meaning to tell me that an alternate world also has Christmas?

"There is a Christmas here?" (Naofumi)

I'll ask Rafatalia later.

As it's Kiel, she may have just heard it from the other heroes.

...

"Of course there's a Christmas." (Rafatalia)

My question was reflected quite smoothly.

Fumu...

"Originally, it was a tradition spread by the former heroes. Melty told me about it." (Rafatalia)

“To see this Christian holy festival in another world…” (Naofumi)

“Holy Festival?” (Rafatalia)

What?

Isn't Christmas supposed to celebrate the birth of Christ?

Wait, the former heroes were Japanese weren't they

They may have spread Japanese Christmas customs.

“What sort of day is Christmas?” (Naofumi)

“Isn't Christmas just Christmas?” (Rafatalia)

I didn't get anything from that.

These people simply might not know the origin of the holiday.

“Do you know anything about this Atlas?” (Naofumi)

“Oh, the former Heroes simply said that Christmas was a day to give presents, and never explained its purpose.” (Atlas)

The former Hero's probably wanted an opportunity to celebrate with their party members so they had just given a general outline of the event.

It doesn't seem these people care about the birth of a holy man.

“And, who is this Santa Fellow?” (Naofumi)

“He gives presents to all the good boys and girls when they are asleep.”
(Atlas)

I see. So they only shared the fun parts of Christmas

They completely left out its religious aspects.

“That's how it is! So what do you wish for Niichan?” (Kiel)

...Kiel's eyes are shining

She seems to be having a lot of fun.

"Do adults receive presents as well?" (Naofumi)

"Oh right, Niichan was adult" (Kiel)

"What is that supposed to mean?" (Naofumi)

Are you trying to tell me that I'm childish (though I won't deny it).

"Anyways, Present! It's going to be fun!" (Kiel)

Does that mean that I am supposed to give out presents? What am I supposed to do

In my world, the role of Santa was usually played by the parents...

"Rafatalia?" (Naofumi)

"Yes?" (Rafatalia)

Hmm... The probability that she believes in Santa is quite high.

I don't want to break her, or any of the villager's dreams.

Ok, just in case, I'll ask someone who seems knowledgeable on the matter

I could go ask Trash or the Queen, but they are probably busy.

Oh well, I guess I'll have to ask someone else.

Now who would be knowledgeable on such matters?

I don't really want to, but the one who knows the most about the villagers is probably that person.

"Excuse me, I wish to speak with Sadina." (Naofumi)

"... Are you alright Naofumi" (Rafatalia)

"....." (Naofumi)

Recently, whenever I or Rafatalia go to ask Sadina something, we get assaulted.

But I am already getting used to that.

By the way, previously Sadina said,

"Oneesan, I'll definitely teach you some techniques."

Or some other irresponsible thing and slipped away.

The feeling of fear from being pushed down by her is still embedded in my skull.

I'm sure she's still aiming for me or something.

In a way, she might be a more troublesome person than Atlas.

For what reason is this person pressuring me to this extent?

It seems that person would act the same regardless of whether I was the Hero of the Shield, or the world's savior or not...

That's why dealing with her is an Extremely scary task.

"I'm coming with you." (Atlas)

"Go away! Rafatalia and Atlas, I don't need you monitoring us" (Naofumi)

"Yes. Come Atlas, this way" (Rafatalia)

Capturing the spirit Atlas was a task that, for now, only Rafatalia and I were capable of.

And so, I left Atlas to Rafatalia so she would not follow me.

"Ah. It's Naofumi" (Imya)

For the love of...

Yes, that's right, it's like that.

"Imya, your uncle is calling you."

I don't want to deal with Sadina and these two at the same time.

These idiots don't act rationally towards other people.

"I understand" (Imya)

"Kiel, you..." (Naofumi)

"What is it Niichan?" (Kiel)

"Let's have fun later" (Naofumi)

"YES!" (Kiel)

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 380 – Side Story – The Christmas of the Shield [10]

---

“That’s how it is, Sadina. Please tell me about this world’s Christmas.”

(Naofumi)

“Ara~? Naofumi, you don’t know Christmas?” (Sadina)

“It’s probably a different Christmas from the one in my world.” (Naofumi)

I decided to question Sadina, Imya and the other adults of the Village.

I have to tread carefully in the customs of this world. There may be different customs across races as well.

Well then, the one to first answer my question was Sadina.

“For adults, Christmas is the outlet for one’s carnal lust. Rather than the holy night, it’s more of the unholy night (TL: This is bad pun, Christmas eve is 聖夜の夜 (Seiya no Yoru) while Sex Night is 性夜の夜 (Seiyoru no yoru which can also be read a Seiya no yoru)). It’s also a night to drink a cup of Sake. Even I can have fun on it.” (Sadina)

...

“Can you explain it in greater detail?” (Naofumi)

Ignoring Sadina, I go to ask Imya’s uncle and the rest of the townsfolk.

“Christmas huh? Well, it’s the adult’s job to deliver presents to the children while they are asleep. We also cook large feasts in the evenings.” (Misc Townsfolk)

Fumu... It seems that they follow Japanese Tradition.

Most of the adults are telling me the same thing.

"Hey, Naofumi-chan" (Atlas)

"Shut up. Be quiet. Silence." (Sadina ...?)

This Woman is saying similar things to Atlas.

The only strange thing is that Atlas can understand with only his eyes.

I have to act as a moderator. Since the world has achieved peace, how does indulging in Sexual Harassment sound. (TL: I know. This does not make sense. This trial does not make sense. Can anyone translate 世界が平和になってからセクハラ三昧なのはどうなんだ)

"The problem is whether or not this village should take part in a Christmas celebration" (Naofumi)

"As the subjects of the Shield hero, that decision is left up to you."
(Villager)

Says an old villager as he averts his eyes from me.

It seems that they are hoping for my approval.

*Sigh*....

"So who will gather and distribute the gifts?" (Naofumi)

"Well..." (villagers)

Everyone's gaze is directed at me.

*Sigh*... I guess there's no choice.

Even though I am these peoples' overlord it seems that I have to do it.

"I understand. The people of the village are working hard, I guess I can prepare some presents." (Naofumi)

"Many thanks" (Villagers)

As the villagers are now lowering their heads in respect towards me, I can't really refuse.

But there will surely be a mountain of issues pertaining to my new job.

First, I must investigate what sort of toys the children would like.

"The problem is finding out what to get. It would be troublesome to go around town investigating, and what's more, there is a high probability we will be found out. " (Naofumi)

"Ha?!" (everyone in unison)

Everyone in the vicinity suddenly raised their heads and stared at me.

Did I say something funny?

"What's wrong?" (Naofumi)

"Can't you just find out from the wishes hung on the Christmas Tree?"
(Villager)

Wishes...

Aren't they thinking of that? Those things that people hang on bamboo stalks to make wishes to the gods?

"Children who cannot write ask their parents to write and hang it for them. They write their names and what they want and hang it on the Christmas tree for Santa to read. That's why the adults can see these wishes and prepare the presents."

... Why the hell is Tanabata getting mixed into this?... Is what I wanted to retort.

However, it would be too troublesome to explain.

This is probably the product of people mixing up the events made by the previous heroes.

Now that I think about it, these events had quite good compatibility from the start...

"Okay, then please get your children to write the wish slips, and tell me which tree you want to make the Christmas tree." (Naofumi)

"Understood!" (Villagers)

And that's how Christmas kicked off in my village.

"... Why did you people choose a Crepe tree of all things." (Naofumi) (TL: not a crepe myrtle, which is a real tree, this crepe tree seems to grow actual crepes)

The next day, the people of the village had gotten their children to write down their desired items. and they had decided upon a Christmas Tree, however...

For some reason they had selected a Crepe tree for that role.

The villagers all enthusiastically started hanging up their wishes on the tree.

That ominous tree was still bearing fruit even in the middle of winter.

In the summer, it mostly produced Chocolate-Banana Crepes, but recently it had started to bear Strawberry Cream-like crepes as well.

The villagers seem to eat from it a lot, but I do not find it very appetizing.

Kiel says that its fruit changes with soil conditions and temperature.

I don't know. I really don't care.

That Crepe Tree, now covered in decorations and wish sheets can only be described as bizarre.

"Are you celebrating Christmas?" (Ren)

As I was getting Bored, Ren started towards me.

Well, instead of Christmas, it seems to be some sort of pseudo Japanese-esque variety

There is a high probability that it is something completely different

Perhaps the world that Motoyasu, or the other heroes came from had the holiday attributed to a different person entirely.

“Yeah.” (Naofumi)

“I hope it turns into a fun event. By the way, why are you hanging up wishes?” (Ren)

“It seems that in this world, Christmas and Tanabata have been fused.”
(Naofumi)

“... I see...” (Ren)

Ren is currently leading the Monster Extermination Squad. He is watching over people like the Female Knight (TL: Seriously that is what the character is referred to as here) and Taniko.

They are, in a way, helping out the troubled populace as well.

That Female Knight, in order to gain the knowledge of how to lead people from me, has set up base in this village. Taniko is training with a monster user to learn how to fight monsters. Raht and his squad are at work surveying the area for monsters.

Well Gaelion and Mi are with him, so there is not much to worry about...

(TL: I don't know any of these people either. I'm just a lowly translator)

In order to get the weapons of the heroes, these people return to the village by portal once night falls.

“How about you?” (Naofumi)

I would have asked him to help out, but Ren has a troubled expression on his face.

“It seems that only during this time of year, certain monsters go on rampages and trouble the people.” (Ren)

“I don’t remember there being such monsters.” (Naofumi)

“In most games I’ve played, certain monsters only show up around Christmas. This seems to be the case here as well” (Ren)

Christmas Monsters?

Certainly many net games did have that feature.

Events where rare holiday monsters and stages appeared were quite common.

Now that I think about such mechanics would be plain weird in a realistic setting.

Anyways, limited time monsters, huh?

Event monsters exist within this world as well.

Though having the entire world be Christmas-ified for an event is strange in its own right.

“...” (Naofumi)

“I understand that these hardships are part of my job. If I find free time, I’ll help out.” (Ren)

“Okay, I’ll wait without expectations. By the way what did you usually do for Christmas?” (Naofumi)

“Hm… doing a light celebration with Eclair and Winea may be nice.” (Ren)

Since that time, Ren, who still feels a strong sense of responsibility, continues to look over Taniko.

Even though the world is saved, Ren seems to still feel as if he has to continue atoning for his sins, or something like that.

For now, that Taniko is trying to become more independent.

To put it bluntly, Ren is still hated by Taniko.

“Have you returned, Iwatani Naofumi?” (Female Knight)

As we were talking, Female Knight appeared.

She’s the second person Ren cares for. (TL: No, not like that… I think)

Female Knight stares at the wishes hung on the Christmas Tree. Her face seems lost in thought.

“Fumu… So it’s finally Christmas.” (Female Knight)

“It sure is. By the way, Female Knight, what do you plan on doing for Christmas” (Naofumi Probably)

It seems quite a few people will be accompanying Ren in monster hunting.

Though this person said she'd learn how to run a village from me, I don't see her around a lot.

She would occasionally imitate me and go hunt bandits, or practice my menacing business smile, but that's about it.

By the way, she is even worse than Kiel in sales.

Well Kiel is an interesting creature, so she has attracted a certain crowd of people.

(TL Note, while I write Interesting creature, the author actually says Masculine Maid Dog. As I do not want to imagine this, I will stick with interesting creature)

Even outside of Melromark, she has some dedicated fans. I've heard she even has his own official fan club.

By the way, the one who makes clothes for her is Imya. He does have a certain sense of style.

As a punishment game, we have had Kiel cross-dress... No, it can't really be called that... Wear some female clothing that she did not personally like.

Well, reaching the level of Firo, who is now a world-wide Idol, is probably impossible.

"Me? I think I'll try to stay up and wait for Santa." (Female Knight)

"... What?" (Naofumi)

Santa Claus? How old are you again?

It can't be...

I get a strange stare from Ren

"Why are you standing there with a perplexed look?" (Ren)

"What do you mean by wait for Santa?" (Naofumi)

"Fumu, well, until last year, I was on the receiving end. But after seeing the smiling faces of all the children I decided that this year, I want to be able to meet the old man and thank him for his work." (Female Knight)

This is... She really believes in him.

So she does have some surprisingly pure aspects to her.

Fu fu fu. (TL: Laughter. Maybe it should have been hohoho)

"Oy, Naofumi, you couldn't possibly be..." (Ren)

"Well, Female Knight. No, Eclair. Santa Clause is-" (Naofumi)

"WAA*#^&@$#@A! Eclair! Stay Strong!" (Ren)

Ren hurriedly shut my mouth.

Damn. I was going to pound the cruelty of reality into this dreaming adult's head.

“By the way, do you want to have a party before that?” (Ren)

Ren managed to invite Female Knight within the confusion.

Is he going to turn this holy night into an unholy one? (TL: They used the same pun as before. See above)

“I’m sorry, but I am not as free as I appear. I also have work to do.”
(Female Knight)

“How about…just for dinner…” (Ren)

Ren was shot down as soon as he took flight, but he recovered quite quickly

Good for you, Ren. (TL: Yes, he actually says (thinks) that)

Oh right, after saving the world, he did make quite a grand confession only to be rejected.

But it seems that Ren’s memory of the time is quite hazy.

Or he could just be psychologically blocking the memory…

“I also invited Windea.” (Ren)

“Fumu…” (Female Knight)

Well. This matter doesn’t concern me. Good luck Ren

Is what I thought when Taniko appeared to survey the area.

She was riding Gaelion.

Oh, right. Taniko probably fit into the 'Child' category.

I can imagine her saying that Christmas is a waste of time.

"Ah, Taniko. Are you here for Christmas as well" (Female Knight)

Anyways, does the girl who was raised by a dragon even know about Christmas?

"...?" (Taniko)

Taniko showed an extremely pure expression we hadn't seen since she first arrived at my Village.

... for a split second, after which she adapted a face that screamed, 'This is a waste of time'

"Yeah, I used to receive presents every year from Santa. My father got them from him." (Taniko)

I direct a cold glance towards Gaelion

He returns the glance with equal intensity.

Hey, in the wild, did children celebrate Christmas?

I feel that he will say something like, "Like Hell."

Keep your childish instincts in check.

"Ah perfect, Windea" (Ren)

“GYYYAAAWWOOOOOOOOOO” (Gaelion)

As Ren approaches Taniko, Gaelion shouts out.

It seems like he is saying, “Don’t worry, Papa will protect you from the scary man”

“What is it” (Taniko)

“Will you eat dinner with us on Christmas?” (Ren)

“Why should I?” (Taniko)

“I’ve decided to take responsibility” (Ren)

“How selfish, don’t go around taking responsibility without other’s consent”
(Taniko)

“It’s not like you have any plans, right?” (Ren)

“Well, I am free that day…” (Taniko)

Ren is desperately trying to invite these two women to a Christmas Party.

Their reactions annoyed me a bit.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 381 – Side Story – The Christmas of the Shield [III]

---

That night, in order to make all of the presents I found on the wish slips, I began to read up on the toys of this world.

“um… what? Stone Ore Sewing needle? What is that? The one who ordered it was… Imya huh.” (Naofumi)

I thought that should be labeled as more of a tool to make clothes than a present to ask Santa for… but… I would have gotten it for her even if it was not a request to Santa.

Well as long as she personally wishes for it…

She sure is Dilligent. Though that is supposed to be a good point.

“Next is…” (Naofumi)

By the way, Raphtalia is currently cleaning the room.

I wonder what Raphtalia would ask for if she knew that I was Santa.

Well that doesn’t matter. I should focus on the wishes of the Village.

「A steamy night with Naofumi」

The slip was shoved into the bottom of the pile of wishes I had collected.

Though a name wasn’t written, I had a general idea of the culprit.

Even though she cannot see, how did she write that?

No wait, Atlas being a spirit, the problem extends past not being able to see

Well it is also possible that Sadina let her use Ghost Writing

“Hm, next is… 「A night of carnal pleasures with Naofumi. 」 ” (Naofumi)

With a snap, my motivation was destroyed.

“Hey, Naofumi?” (I think this is Raphtalia)

These people… Every single time!

Don't turn this holy night into an unholy one. (TL: They keep using the pun.
I don't know if it is a famous joke or something. See part 2)

Oh well… next is

「Delicious food made by Niichan.」

It seems that this one is from Kiel.

That dog really is simple.

You eat it every day, don't you? I don't think Santa can do anything about your request.

Well, I would be more troubled if she wrote something like 'I want to meet my dead parents' or something like that… (TL: Water 35L, Carbon 20kg, Ammonia 4L, Lime 1.5kg, Phosphorus 800g, salt 250g, Saltpeter 100g, sulfur 80g, Fluorine 7.5g, Iron 5g, Silicon 3g, Trace amounts of 15 other elements)

For that, I don't think I can do anything. She would have a better chance writing to Sadina.

That woman may be messed up, but she is quite knowledgeable in this field.

Well, as long as Kiel is happy with this, then I guess it's fine.

The problem is food, huh. She didn't write what she wanted to eat, so I should probably do some research.

"? What is this? 「Play with me」 ?"

This is quite vague.

What does this person mean by 'play with me'?

What's more, I do not recognize this name.

I can recognize the handwriting, but the name is completely different.

Could this also be... an instance of Ghost Writing?

"Raphtalia, do you know who this is?" (Naofumi)

I'll show there unknowns to Raphtalia.

Raphtalia is really skilled at remembering names.

Even I have yet to memorize Imya's full name but she picked it up almost immediately.

"Ah, these are from the monsters of the village. The writer is ... Windea probably." (Raphtalia)

"Ah, I see..." (Naofumi)

I think I can put this one off for a while.

And wait, the Monsters also want Christmas presents?

It seems half of the monster requests involved playing, and the other half involved eating human food.

Well, I guess there's no choice.

We can fulfill them the day after Christmas.

"I'm home~!"

The door to the house slammed open followed by an energetic voice.

In the doorway stood the idol of the world; the Hero of the Claw; the energetic Firo.

Well, she did return home by portal regularly.

"I'm home, master" (Firo)

"Welcome Back" (Naofumi)

"A lot of people handed me gifts saying they were Christmas Presents!"
(Firo)

Ah, so that's why she arrived by carriage today instead of by portal.

A carriage fully loaded with presents was parked outside the house.

Since the end of the wave, Firo has been traveling the world with Melty as an international Idol.

"Where is Melty?" (Naofumi)

"Um, she said she was returning to the castle." (Firo)

"I see..." (Naofumi)

Well, I don't really have any reason to give Melty a present.

she's receiving gifts from all of the races of the world.

I mean, she is the Queen of the world. (TL: Oh god, spoilers)

Though I don't know if she personally wished for that or not.

"And so, Firo heard some good information." (Firo) (TL: She refers to herself in third person)

"What did you hear?" (Naofumi)

It's probably nothing important

But saying such things to Firo is dangerous. I should hear her out before she goes on a rampage.

I have no idea what she will do if I keep silent.

"You know~ , this event called Christmas~, It's apparently very fun!" (Firo)

"Of course it is, so? Firo, are you doing a Christmas live event?" (Naofumi)

"?... Melty said I would be free on Christmas, but that I had work on every other day." (Firo)

"Well, I guess that Makes sense." (Naofumi)

"And so, Melty's mother said that if I didn't stay here for Christmas, I would regret it." (Firo)

I have no Idea what she would regret... I don't understand what the Queen is thinking.

Anyways, it seems that Firo will be in the village for Christmas.

It's going to get noisy around here...

And that's how I made some progress on preparing the Christmas presents.

Oh, we put the presents that Firo had accumulated in the Village storehouse.

From my quick analysis, it seems that there are some extremely fancy presents mixed in.

Just how popular is that bird anyways.

I wonder how much trouble would occur if the populace found out that she was not an Angel, but a Filo Rial monster.

"Firo-taaaaaaaan~"

...Twas a voice I did not want to hear.

Despite the cold, that person is still needlessly energetic.

“Ya!” (Firo)

Firo escapes to her own room, and I can hear the sound of a lock clicking into place.

I deploy ‘Meteor Wall’ and make it so that no one can enter the house.

“Fube~! This is father in law’s barrier! Fuoooooooo! I, Motoyasu, will overcome all obstacles in the name of love!” (Motoyasu) (TL: Damn, He’s still alive)

Sure enough, it’s Motoyasu and his three Filo Rials.

Since then, Motoyasu has become a prominent member of the Filo Rial community, and is currently advising a group of Filo Rials from Shield Freiden.

He also leads the group to Firo’s live concerts, forming a sort of cheering squad. (TL: Oh, the eye-ro-nee)

The three Filo Rial at his side are the highest Filo Rial among his Filo Rial. They sometimes act as Motoyasu’s support, and they to various chores. Moyoyasu seems to be on good terms with them.

The one who speaks the most is Green.

Well, they only really speak among themselves.

Motoyasu is struggling to overcome the Meteor wall I had conjured, The three Filo Rials adapt fighting stances, but continue to watch in silence.

It seems that these three have gotten used to dealing with Motoyasu.

The three unleash a large-scale attack that probably would have killed me at one point at the wall and Motoyasu.

However, Motoyasu's toughness is not to be underestimated.

Just give up, Motoyasu. Firo hates you on a primal level.

A little while after that...

"Ah... It's cold." (Fohl)

Foul, who is in his true form, is shivering under a blanket in my house.

"Aniki, have you seen Atlas?" (Fohl)

"Atlas is currently resting inside the shield. Do you need something?"
(Naofumi)

Hearing my words, Atlas comes out of the shield and materializes in a half-transparent state.

"Did you call for me, Naofumi?" (Atlas)

"Ah, your brother came to look for you." (Naofumi)

"Ara, Fohl, it's been a while" (Atlas)

"It's been a while, Atlas" (Fohl)

"...Didn't you two meet just yesterday?" (Naofumi)

Fohl has currently made training the people of the village his life's work.

For now, he is trying to pound the basics of martial arts into the new slaves, and the villagers who wish to get stronger.

Deep in the mountains is a dragon disguised as an old woman who runs a Dojo. Fohl has made it his job to train people enough that they will be able to survive the old woman's training.

Excluding me, it seems that he has become the second most trusted person in the village after Sadina.

Even though he is rotten, he is the hero of the fist. (TL: is everyone a hero now?)

By the way, it seems that the opponent he has the most trouble with is Kiel, as he is generally put off by her sparkling eyes.

"You seem energetic, as always brother." (Atlas)

"Really? I feel as If I could die at any second" (Fohl)

"Did you catch a cold or something?" (Raphtalia)

Seeing Fohl's light equipment, Raphtalia asks with a worried expression.

"no... anyways, it's way too cold... That's strange, when I was looking over Atlas, the cold seemed like nothing to me... Ow..." (Fohl)

Fohl accidentally bites his tongue. (TL: It says bites his nose, but I do not see how that would work biologically speaking)

I go over and apply light healing magic while checking to see if he has a cold.

But there doesn't seem to be anything wrong.

"Fohl, do you possibly hate the cold?" (Naofumi)

"That can't be... ah... It's cold." (Fohl)

"Raphtalia, warm up the room. Firo!" (Naofumi)

"I understand, I'll add more wood to the fire." (Raphtalia)

"Yes?" (Firo)

"Go warm up Fohl in your Filo Rial form." (Naofumi)

"Understood." (Firo)

Firo changes to her Filo Rial form, and envelops Fohl in her feathers.

It looks warm.

"Ah... It's warm. Thank You (said in english), Aniki... everyone" (Foul)

"No... Your cold resistance is way too low." (Naofumi)

Foul, who looks like he will, fall asleep at any moment, thanks me, but I don't know what to think of this.

You're becoming a stereotypical cold hater.

(TL: I do not know what being a stereotypical cold hater entails.)

Do you plan to hibernate or something?

"It sure has become cold, hasn't it? What's up?" (Sadina)

Sadina appears wearing nothing but a loincloth.

Are you, conversely, extremely resistant to the cold?

"Ah, Sadina. Fohl did say it was getting cold. You people lack willpower."
(Atlas)

"Ara-? Has this person lost his mind" (Sadina)

"I'm more sane than you." (Fohl)

Well, Atlas is a spirit, and Sadina seems to have an abundant layer of whale fat. (TL: Spoilers, she's a whale)

Sadina even looks prepared to take a dive in the ocean.

Just how strong to cold can you be?

"It's warm under the sea. Will you come with me Fohl?" (Sadina)

"That sounds like a wonderful idea." (Atlas)

"Do you plan on killing Fohl? You too Atlas, don't escalate it anymore."
(Naofumi)

“Even if you tell me that, I’ve never been vulnerable to the cold.” (Atlas)

“?” (Naofumi)

“Fohl has always been weak to it, however, I’ve never been bothered by cold weather.” (Atlas)

Even though you were weak bodied, you were strong against the cold, huh?

Now that I think about it, the Slave crest wasn’t particularly effective on her either.

She was tough in some strange ways.

But I still don’t think she should be trying to make Fohl her compatriot.

(TL: He is saying, even if you can do it, don’t drag others down with you)

“Rafu~” (Rafu)

“Ah, Rafu, how are you feeling” (???)

“Rafu” (Rafu)

Rafu had become the hero of the Fleet (as in ships). He works as Sadina’s support.

This helps as Sadina’s job is supposed to be salvaging. She has good compatibility with Rafu, who has many strange and useful ships.

Rafu pulls a golden chalice out of his tail and shows it to us.

It seems like it will sell for quite a bit.

“You pulled up something nice today” (Atlas)

“Rafu~!” (Rafu)

“I see… Well isn’t that nice?” (Atlas)

Atlas praises and pats Rafu’s head, and then goes to check on Fohl.

“Oh right, Fohl. You still haven’t written your wish down yet.”

I take out a wish slip and hand it to Fohl.

He was originally from a warrior house. He probably knows already

(TL: I don’t really know what Naofumi means, maybe that he should know to hold his desires close or be honest to himself)

“Oh right, what do you want as a Christmas Present” (Naofumi)

“Ah, the one in charge of presents until now has been me, so…” (Fohl)

Fohl stares at Atlas and yawns. He reaches his hands towards her.

But without a sound, his outstretched arms simply pass through her.

And Fohl continues to stare with downtrodden eyes.

His melancholy is clearly visible on his face.

“Naofumi, have you finished researching what the kids of the village want?”
(Atlas)

“Pretty much…” (Naofumi)

“I wonder if Santa will give sister anything this year.” (Atlas)

(TL: I do not know who this refers to)

“Get out, Get out!” (Naofumi)

Please be a little more considerate of Fohl.

As Fohl found it way too cold that day, he spent the day cooped up in my house.

Is this person supposed to be a bear? Is what I wanted to retort.

Just how much can he hate the cold?

And so, time passed.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 382 – Side Story – The Christmas of the Shield [IV]

---

Two days before Christmas

“Niichan, Niichan!” (Kiel)

I hide the evidence that I am preparing presents as Kiel rushes towards me with a worried look on her face.

“What is it Kiel? Do you want to try to stack up some good deeds to cover up you usual mischievous behavior for Christmas?” (Naofumi)

“What do you think I am?! That’s not it! I noticed something about the houses in the village.” (Kiel)

“... What is it?” (Naofumi)

“We don’t have many chimneys.” (Kiel)

Well, now that I think about it, she is correct

Quite a few of the houses in the village are made of Bioplant.

I set it so the plants had self-heating functions, so very few houses actually need fireplaces.

Though a chimney would be needed for cooking as well, most people just used the dining hall I built in the center of the village.

And for these reasons, the amount of houses with chimneys is scarce.

"How will Santa get it?!" (Kiel)

"It's fine." (Naofumi)

"What is?" (Kiel)

"Santa can pick locks. He'll just break in through the front door." (Naofumi)

"I don't want that kind of Santa!" (Kiel)

This person is being quite selfish.

But it seems that the villagers agree with her.

"What are you discussing?" (Firo)

"Ah, we're discussing how the village doesn't have enough chimneys for Santa to go down. Kiel is worried." (Naofumi)

"That's it? We should be fine" (Firo)

? What is Firo trying to say?

"Santa you know, he's mast~" (Firo) (TL: Firo is trying to say Santa is master)

"Firo, Don't say any more than that." (Naofumi)

"Eh?" (Firo)

For the love of... If you say that, it will only become more troublesome!

This talking bird only ever says unnecessary things.

Anyways, why did she know?

“Kiel. I understand your request. You want me to install chimneys into the houses of the village.” (Naofumi)

“Yeah!” (Kiel)

*Sigh* she’s signing me up for quite a strenuous job.

But I guess this is also Santa’s duty. There’s no choice.

It’s a pain. I want to quit. But this is also my duty as Archduke.

I need to help the hardworking villagers celebrate this event that only happens once a year.

And that’s how I began going around installing chimneys into the houses made of Bioplant.

Well, it’s not that difficult. All I have to do is edit the attributes of each individual plant. It’s still quite tedious.

“Oh yes, what are we going to do about Santa’s sled and reindeer?”
(Naofumi)

I drove away Kiel, who seemed satisfied, and called a conference for the adults.

…Is it just my imagination, or did the Filo Rials just begin staring at me intently?

Firo is also next to me for some reason.

However, Raphtalia is not attending.

“Master!” (Firo)

“What?” (Naofumi)

“I know that master is Santa, so please let me contribute.” (Firo)

“But that would put you on the side that gives out presents. Are you sure you don’t need anything?” (Naofumi)

“Yeah!” (Firo)

What sort of turnout is this?

I thought Firo would have loved to remain on the receiving end.

“Because this side seems more fun.” (Firo)

I’m not good with impulsive people.

Is what I thought, but as long as she is motivated, it will probably work out.

“Returning to the subject, what are we going to do about the reindeer and sled? Should we order some monsters from the Demon users?” (Naofumi)

I’m pretty sure that these theatrics will be necessary.

“Firo will pull the sled.” (Firo)

“Moreover, do we even have a sled that flies in the sky?” (Naofumi)

“Firo will pull it and fly.” (Firo)

“Please be quiet for a second” (Naofumi)

“Well… The tradition does involve a flying sled and flying Aldirea… but I don’t think you have to go that far.” (Imya’s uncle)

Aldirea? If I remembered correctly, they were a type of monster. So they don’t use reindeer here…

“What sort of monster is an Aldirea” (Naofumi)

Imya’s uncle quickly doodles a picture of a monster.

It looks exactly like a reindeer.

“It looks annoying to capture” (Naofumi)

“Master!!!” (Firo)

“Ah. Yes. Yes.” (Naofumi)

We’re only going to be going around the village. I guess Firo will do.

If they see us capturing these animals, the kids will find out anyways.

Dressing up as Santa is also a no go.

If I just act natural I shouldn’t seem suspicious.

“Then Firo, you will take on the Reindeer’s… Aldirea’s job.” (Naofumi)

“Yay~” (Firo)

“Now what should we do for the Sleigh…” (Naofumi)

“Leave it to Firo.” (Firo)

“Do you have an idea?” (Naofumi)

“Yes!” (Firo)

“I see. I’ll leave it to you.” (Naofumi)

“Yes~!” (Firo)

“I’ve left it to you. Don’t forget to do it.” (Naofumi)

I’m a bit worried, so I tell Imya’s uncle to watch over Firo.

And with that, the day before Christmas eve was over.

...

“Merry~ Christmaaaaaaas~!!1!!!” (Motoyasu)

It’s early in the morning, Motoyasu is circling the village riding on his Filo Rials shouting.

Does he really like Christmas that much?

Motoyasu seems to be distributing something among the Filo Rials.

“Niichan! Niichan! Someone picked all of the crepes off of my Crepe tree. Help me find the culprit.” (Kiel)

Kiel runs towards me shouting this.

Of course, I point my finger at Motoyasu

While he was going around announcing the start of Christmas, he was also distributing Crepes.

“You BAAAASSSTTTAARRRRDDDD!!!” (Kiel)

Kiel gets seriously angry.

「I, who has understood the source of strength, The Hero of the Scythe Commands! Once again manifest before me, my Scythe! 」 (Kiel)

With a bang, a large Scythe appears before Kiel.

After the wave, it seems that the legendary weapons have gained the ability to appear and disappear on command.

But it seems… that I cannot do this… T.T

Kiel begins to spin her Scythe and approaches Motoyasu menacingly. The wind is acting up.

So this is the power of the Scythe Hero.

“MERRYYYYYYYYY~” (Motoyasu)

Motoyasu is still distributing crepes in unnervingly high spirits. Kiel quickly appears behind him.

「Soul Reaper X」 (Kiel)

All of the light in the area is absorbed into the Scythe. Kiel slashes a single time, and then starts spinning the Scythe. The light disperses and she strikes a cool pose.

“Enemy Eliminated” (Kiel)

… What sort of game is this.

Like a marionette that got its strings cut, Motoyasu falls off the Filo Rial.

“Mo-kun!”

“Mou-chan!”

“Motoyasu!”

The three Filo Rials shout out into the winter sky.

“What the hell are you doing!?” (Filo Rial)

“That’s my line!” (Kiel)

And the death match between the Filo Rials and Kiel began.

The result: Kiel eventually abated the anger she had attained from losing her Crepes, and the three Filo Rials left Motoyasu and went off somewhere.

“Really. What the hell are these people doing so early in the morning…”

I feel surprisingly worn out.

Motoyasu being Motoyasu, I can’t believe that he didn’t think of the consequences of plundering Kiel’s food supply.

“Uu… I wanted to give them to everyone for Christmas and yet…” (Kiel)

“So you were planning such things as well.” (Naofumi)

"Of Course Niichan. But that spear guy... he..." (Kiel)

"He was definitely in the wrong, but you already got your revenge. Were you trying to kill him?" (Naofumi)

"Naofumi, you shouldn't overexert yourself either." (Raphtalia)

"I understand" (Naofumi)

Raphtalia mutters with the same weary expression as me.

Well it's not as if I don't understand.

Why did Motoyasu do such a stupid act... I don't get him.

"Oh well. What should I make for the Christmas Feast?" (Naofumi)

"Yay, Niichan's cooking. Santa granted my wish!" (Kiel)

The villagers are also in high spirits.

As expected of Christmas Eve

It feels more festive than the Christmas of my old world.

Are these people really just that pure? (TL: as in childish)

"If we're talking about Christmas, maybe I should prepare Turkey. At least that's what we did in Japan..." (Naofumi)

"Bird?!?" (Firo)

"KKUUUEEEEEEEEE" (Filo Rials)

The Filo Rials that noticed me staring at them run away as if their lives depended on it.

I guess there's no choice. I am used to catching fleeing prey.

"Wait! Raphtalia, don't let them escape!" (Naofumi)

"Why should I do that?!" (Raphtalia)

"For Christmas, you obviously need some sort of Bird Meat" (Naofumi)

"But why do we need to use Filo Rial?! Even Firo is running away!"
(Raphtalia)

"I see, then let's settle for Dragon Meat or something. Go catch something bird-like!" (Naofumi)

"Kyua!?" (Gaelion)

At that moment, Taniko, Ratt, Mi and Gaelion returned through the Portal.

My timing was bad wasn't it.

"What are you talking about?" (Taniko)

"Ah, the perfect entrée has arrived. Gaelion, Change into your dragon form and give me your tail." (Naofumi)

"Kyuaaaaaaaaaaaa?!?!?" (Gaelion)

『What the hell are you thinking』 (Taniko Party)

"We need some meat for Christmas" (Naofumi)

"And why does that require Gaelion's meat!" (Taniko)

"I've heard that Dragon meat tastes very similar to chicken. If Filo Rial isn't allowed, then I have no choice but to substitute." (Naofumi)

I want to prepare something chicken-ish for all of the villagers.

"Naofumi. Please put an end to your bad jokes." (Raphtalia)

"mu... Fine." (Naofumi)

I kinda wanted to surprise the villagers.

"Ara? You're stopping?" (Atlas)

Atlas voice comes out of the shield.

She seems to be trying to defend my position

But in spirit form there is not much that she can do.

If she had a body, I'm pretty sure we could go hunt a Dragon.

"I was just joking. Go buy the ingredients we need for cooking." (Naofumi)

Everyone gives a relieved sigh and heads off.

"If you don't find enough, we may have to... substitute..." (Naofumi)

I threaten.

"Let's go, everyone~!" (Taniko)

"KUEEE!"

"KYUAAAAAA"

"wait, Gaelion?!"

"RAFU~!"

In a cloud of dust, the monsters run off towards the village. This experience will be a good wake up call.

My stance has and will always be 'Those who do not work do not eat'.

Is what I think when I realize that the scouting team was late in arriving.

"Ah, you can stay at home tomorrow." (Naofumi)

The representative of said team, Imya, fearfully approaches me

"Are you sure?" (Imya)

"Yeah, you guys helped spice up the event, and anyways it's Christmas. It'll probably be more fun to be with everyone." (Naofumi)

"Naofumi, please make sure you don't overdo it." (Raphtalia)

"It's fine, isn't it? Events are made to be enjoyed. Hmm... I need to think of a reward for the scouting team as well" (Naofumi)

*Sigh* (Raphtalia)

As I say this, Raphtalia holds her head as if stressed.

“Imya” (Naofumi)

“What is it?” (Imya)

“A while ago, your uncle taught me how to make your home town’s specialty. As a reward, I’ll make it specially for today.” (Naofumi)

“Ah, Thank you” (Imya)

Well it’s quite a strange dish, and I don’t think I can serve it in front of everyone.

So I’ll just make some for the scouting team that worked especially hard this month.

They contributed a lot, so I’ll give them a sort of pre-celebration.

(TL: It says the Scouting team’s Lumo race ルーモ種, but I don’t know how to translate this)

Let’s see the food they like is… well dishes that contain worms and ants. I guess this is what you call a delicacy.

If you have the courage to eat it, it’s apparently delicious. Something like that.

It seems to be popular with the Filo Rials and other monsters who are not caught up on the appearance of food.

“I have just returned” (Itsuki)

“Fueee… What is this?” (Rishia)

Rishia and Itsuki arrive with bad timing.

These two people had gone on a journey to see the world, and had left at the end of the wave.

They stopped back regularly, but no one told me they would be here for Christmas.

Rishia stares at the strange dish in fear. It seems that she is still a scaredy-cat.

These two are surrounded by a lovely aura. I don't want to approach them.

“Do you plan to turn this Holy night into an unholy one?” (Naofumi)(TL: Again, same pun)

“Or course not. Is there a band around, I would like for some Hymns to be sung.” (Itsuki)

“…” (Naofumi)

Itsuki gives an answer befitting of his character.

“Melly and her subjects aren't here. You'll have to make do with the townsfolk. If you want someone to sing, ask Firo.” (Naofumi)

And so the people preparing for Christmas had a light celebration beforehand.

By the way, Fohl is still sleeping in my house.

I mean, he really hates the cold.

As for food, Sadina caught some large fish in the ocean so there is no problem.

On that night, the villagers brought ingredients to the shared kitchen, and I cooked them.

And like that, the day ended.

Oh yes, and Firo did indeed end up singing the Hymns

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 383 – Side Story – The Christmas of the Shield [V]

---

“Well then… I’m sure you all understand this, but Santa doesn’t visit kids that try to stay up and capture him. Go to sleep.” (Naofumi)

“Niichan is the only one who would try something like that.” (Kiel)

“Fine, just go to sleep!” (Naofumi)

「Understood」 (Children)

After the Feast I had prepared, the villagers began going off to their beds.

The time is… Around 9:00 p.m. If I don’t get them to sleep soon, it will be troublesome for me.

I wonder how Ren’s night went.

He said something about eliminating monsters and never came back but… Female Knight was present at the feast. Taniko was as well.

I wonder what he’s doing now.

“Now then. Raphtalia” (Naofumi)

“W-What is it?” (Raphtalia)

“Good children should go to sleep early.” (Naofumi)

“Are you trying to imply that I am still a child?” (Raphtalia)

Well, yeah. That’s what I’m implying.

Anyways, aren't you still a child?

Raphtalia is still a child in age.

I have already read her request on the wish slips I had collected. I have already prepared all of the presents

"What will you do?" (Raphtalia)

"I'll also sleep." (Naofumi)

And so, we turned in early.

As if. As soon as I confirmed Raphtalia was asleep, I got out of the bed and took out the sack I had prepared.

(TL: ... They are still sleeping in the same bed... Also, that was phrased quite wrongly, but I don't know how else to say it)

When I think of what the adults would do to me if I lost it, I sigh.

"Well then." (Naofumi)

I take up the bag and leave the house, and find Firo cosplaying as a reindeer. Her eyes are shining as she watches me. She seems to be quite prepared.

On her chest, a bell is attached. On her feet, even bigger bells are attached.

What is up with her appearance.

"....." (Naofumi)

“I’ve been expecting you…” (Firo)

“Ah. Yes. Yes.” (Naofumi)

I wonder how the fans would see if they saw the world’s idol dressed as this…

It seems she has tied a fancy sled to her back.

The sled is covered in red, ornate decorations. Where could she have possibly acquired it?

“Rafu~” (Rafu)

Rafu pops his head out of the sled.

“Ah, This is a ship.” (Naofumi)

“Rafu~” (Rafu)

Rafu looks at me with pride.

I see.

Sleds can be labelled as ships as well.

This sled definitely has the right atmosphere, at least.

“Master, get on. Quick!” (Firo)

“Yes. Yes. I understand.” (Naofumi)

It seems that she has prioritized authenticity.

I get on the sled thinking to myself, 'This is going to be troublesome'

"Then, Were Off!" (Firo)

Firo starts running and flapping her wings.

Does she realize that she is still pulling the sled... The sled begins to float.

Oy! This girl actually managed to prepare a flying sled!

Shan Shan Shan Shan Shan!

The bells attached to Firo begin to sound.

"It's too loud! The kids will wake up!" (Naofumi)

"But Imya's uncle told me this is how Santa is supposed to travel" (Firo)

"Well... You're correct, but it's loud, so take them off." (Naofumi)

"Are you sure?" (Firo)

"Rafu~" (Rafu)

These two seem to be having the time of their lives.

As we fly, an Aurora-esque trail is left in the sky behind us. (Google Aurora Borealis)

This was supposed to be a village-limited event. The scale is way too large.

"Rafu~~!" (Rafu)

As Rafu barks, the Aurora-esqu trail turns into a cloud that begins showering the village with snow.

Yes, mood is important. But this snow is a nuisance. I can barely see.

“Let’s start around Kiel’s house.” (Naofumi)

She wanted food, so I made some candy and for her.

She loves Crepes, so I assumed she would like other sweet things.

Should I just put it next to her pillow.

Firo stops in the airspace above Kiel’s house. (TL: My physics sense is tingling)

“Why did you stop?” (Naofumi)

“Eh? Aren’t you going in through the chimney?”

“I can walk right through Bioplant houses. Stop at the door.”

(TL: As he grew them, they cannot stop him as he is their master)

“Eh~...” (Firo)

After some argument, Firo parks next to Kiel’s house.

「Emergency Exit」

On my command, a door appears on the Bioplant wall.

And that's how I infiltrated Kiel's house. Making sure to be quiet, I left the candy by her pillow.

"Alright, on to the next house." (Naofumi)

"Bu~" (Firo)

Firo lets out an unsatisfied voice.

I'd be annoying if I had to go through the chimney every time.

If Santa existed, I would applaud his patience.

Now, next is...

I look at the house next to Kiels.

...It's not made of Bioplant.

I take out the spare key the parents gave me, infiltrate the house and leave a present.

There is no door I cannot open!

"Hey, Master." (Firo)

"Yes?" (Naofumi)

"You're acting like a burglar." (Firo)

"Santa's pretty much a kind burglar isn't he? The only one who would walk up to a kid's pillow would be a parent, or a burglar. And the child gets a toy and is happy, right?"

"Eh~..." (Firo)

"Dreams are dreams because you don't know the reality. I guess this is one more step towards adulthood for you" (Naofumi)

"Firo doesn't want to become an adult!" (Firo)

"I see" (Naofumi)

Well having dreams is better than having none.

I think this as well.

"Now then... Next is Fohl and Atlas, huh." (Naofumi)

Atlas is currently taking up residence inside of my shield, but she usually sleeps inside of Fohl's house.

Well, she doesn't actually sleep.

I told her that Santa won't come if she doesn't sleep, so she is probably putting her best effort into trying to sleeping.

I'll do Atlas first.

I quietly enter her room.

She's doing a very obvious fake sleep.

If Rafu or Raphtalia did it, it would probably appear cute.

“Yep, This child is definitely sleeping.” (Naofumi)

I say in a deep voice, as I take the prepared items out of my sack and approach her. I take out another sack

I don’t think I can get any closer, or Atlas will drag me into the bed with her.

That’s why I came prepared.

Atlas cannot see, so she operates by sensing presences.

I prepare my present is one hand and the sack in the other

“Naofu-” (Atlas)

I quickly cover Atlas with my specially prepared sack. (TL: This is going in many bad directions on my mind)

“Wa, what is this!” (Atlas)

“Oh, I used materials specially so even spirits can’t pass through them. Atlas, I had already realized you were just fake sleeping. I’ll be capturing you now.” (Naofumi)

“Oh no, Naofumi has captured me! Is this what you call Kidnapping?”
(Atlas)

I tie the bag containing Atlas closed, and leave the room without doing anything.

This has proven the effect of the 'spirit capturing' material.

Even Atlas cannot escape it.

Her heart full of the expectation that I will kidnap her, Atlas remains silent.

"Now then..."

I go down the hall and arrive at Fohl's room.

"Z...ZZZ...U...UU...ZZZ...Z"

Fohl is still in a bear-like hibernation.

I quietly take an accessory that increases resistance to cold, and carefully put it around his neck. I can feel the bed warm up as I put it on him. I had put all sorts of useful charms on this accessory, making it quite valuable.

This is because out of the villagers, he has been working especially hard.

I have especially made his present a useful one... no, I'm just compensating for the share of presents that he would never receive from his parents.

"SU~..."

His sleeping sounds became slightly more peaceful.

After that...

I leave the bag that Atlas was in alone, and put on top of it a pair of gloves I specially made so that spirits cannot pass through them.

This way, Fohl can now hold her hands.

I'm planning to make more equipment like this for her later,

"Ah, Naofumi-sama! Please open me up quickly" (Atlas)

"Fine, Fine. Well, see you later." (Naofumi)

"Could this be the so-called Abandonment Play? I'll wait for you forever!"
(Atlas)

(TL: SM stuff, I will not elaborate)

Good luck with that.

By the way, for Atlas, who wished for 「A steamy night with Naofumi」, I have gotten Imya to make a doll in my likeness.

Imya said he put a special material inside of the stuffed animal, but I wonder what it does.

"T-this item! It gives off the same presence as Naofumi! How wonderful."
(Atlas)

Atlas seems happy as she hugs the doll.

(TL: the word used for hug here is not hug. It has a lewder intonation)

It seems this doll is a suitable replacement for me.

Now she can spend the entire night with 'me'.

Is what I think as I leave more presents for the two of them and leave the house.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 384 – Side Story – The Christmas of the Shield [V]

---

After that we continually travelled around the village using the flying sled.

Is this really necessary?

As I think this, I spot Ren.

He's inside of his house. His face is planted on the desk next to his window

"Jingle bells... Jingle Bells..." (Ren)

What is this person doing?

I knock on his window and call out to him.

Ren looks up. He looks like he is about to cry.

"What happened?" (Naofumi)

"I-It's nothing." (Ren)

I peer into Ren's room.

Inside, there is a table with an array of fancy food on it and a cake in the center. It is set for three people.

...So neither Female knight nor Taniko showed up?

I can understand Taniko, but Female knight... you too?

What do these people think the good intentions of others are? Why did they ignore Ren's offer?

...Wait, I am Santa right now. I should look at this from Santa's perspective.

Does she seriously intend to do that?

Christmas monster hunting may be over but does she plan to leave him like this?

(TL: They use a really bad pun that works in English but I will not use it here. They pretty much say she made his Jingle Bells into Single Bells)

How sad...He worked quite hard, and for this end to a holiday.

Is what I think from Santa's perspective. Not much of a difference.

*sigh*... There's no choice, I'll do a little bit of work for him.

It's on the way, anyways.

"Ren." (Naofumi)

"What is it?" (Ren)

I pull two presents out of my bag and throw them at him.

"Hold on to those, and don't open them. Something good will happen."
(Naofumi)

"Ah..." (Ren)

"See you later." (Naofumi)

I proceed to give Firo orders.

She starts running enthusiastically and we take off.

From afar, she looks like a reindeer running through the sky.

There. I see Female knight watching the sky from a well-hidden location. Taniko is there as well. They are practicing swinging their swords near the monster stable.

I get off of the sled in a place they can't see and approach them as if I was simply in the middle of a walk.

"What are you two doing? Everyone is already asleep." (Naofumi)

"? Naofumi huh. I've told you before, but today I plan to stay up in order to give my thanks to that old man. Windea has said that she wishes to accompany me." (Female Knight)

"Yeah! I want to thank Santa!" (Taniko)

Taniko is sporting a pair of extremely pure eyes.

I think Ren will regain his composure if I bring these two to him, but it seems they are dead set on meeting Santa Claus.

"About that. I came here because the white haired old man imparted a message unto me." (Naofumi)

"WHAT!?!?" (Female Knight)

"He told me that he had left the presents of the two people waiting outside the monster stable with the sword hero."

"KU! That old man did an unnecessary thing! Windea, let us go acquire our presents from Ren." (Female Knight) (TL: for acquire, she uses a word that is closer to steal, snatch, plunder...etc)

"Understood!" (Taniko)

Female Knight and Taniko leave in a hurry.

This will let Ren enjoy Christmas a little... Is what I want to believe.

"You..." (Gaelion)

Gaelion emerges from the stable and stares at me.

"You did something unnecessary." (Gaelion)

"I don't know what you're talking about. I just found The Hero of the Sword crying to himself to be too pitiful. You would have done the same."
(Naofumi)

"That is... You're right, but... Yes that is pitiful, but..." (Gaelion)

"I thought I would play Santa and give Ren a hand." (Naofumi)

"*Sigh*... I guess there's no choice. Those two had been giving off a strange aura and staring at each other the entire time. Now the monsters in the stable can finally sleep." (Gaelion)

It seems the stable's residents were still awake.

Until now. The night is now completely silent.

What? Did those two think they would miss Santa if they left for Ren's place?

Well... it didn't take much to get them to go

Even I found Ren's display pitiful

And with that, I have given Ren his Christmas present

"Oh yeah, Please give these presents to the monsters here." (Naofumi)

"There's no point if you don't give them yourself." (Gaelion)

"The monsters don't even believe in Santa. All of their wishes were addressed directly to me." (Naofumi)

They were all things like 'Eating Naofumi's homemade food' or 'Playing with Naofumi'.

I give the presents of the ones who actually asked for items to Gaelion.

"By the way, what does Kogaelion? He never hung up a wish slip"

"Fumu... I'll ask him."

Gaelion enters the stable and begins a long debate.

"... That's impossible. Order something else."

And as such, the debate continued. What could he want?

"He wants a hug from you." (Gaelion)

"Why do I have to..." (Naofumi)

"He says it is a form of Skinship" (Gaelion) (TL: bonding through physical contact)

"... I see" (Naofumi)

Is it that custom that is prominent overseas? (TL: Not where I'm from)

I hug Gaelion, who has changed into Kogaelion form.

"KYUAAAAAAA!"(Kogaelion)

And he lets out a loud cry. His spirits are really high.

"What a strange person" (Naofumi)

I would learn the meaning behind these actions a little later...

"Mu~..." (Firo)

Fire is glaring at me from the shadows.

Is she jealous? She really is on bad terms with Gaelion.

She should learn from Rafu. He gets along with Gaelion just fine.

As there is nothing left to do here, I board Rafu's Sleigh and we depart.

"Next is... Motoyasu and the Filo Rials." (Naofumi)

It is now snowing heavily.

Has Motoyasu fallen asleep yet?

Well, He's done a lot today. In eating and playing, he has been the first in line for everything. I have the present for Motoyasu himself, and the one for the Filorials. They would probably be happier receiving it from Motoyasu than from me.

I peer into the house. Motoyasu is indeed asleep, surrounded by Filo Rials.

I quietly get off the sled.

"Firo, can you lower your head" (Naofumi)

"? Sure!" (Firo)

Following my orders, Firo lowers her head. I carefully remove some feathers from her crest.

(TL: Her Ahoge evolved over time. Remember, the Filo Rial Queen gave Firo a feather)

I place these in a box and throw them at Motoyasu with all my might.

They made a soft sound as they hit the ground near Motoyasu. The Filo Rials near him turn in their sleep, but otherwise remain silent.

Well, Motoyasu should be satisfied with this.

Merry Christmas

I wonder why I am giving presents to Motoyasu as well. Well, I'm Santa for now.

After that I circled the village and distributed presents to Imya and the rest of the townsfolk.

Though Imya lives inside of a hole, so I left his present with his uncle.

While I was going around, I witnessed Rishia inside of the Dining hall.

What is she doing?

She seems to be staring Itsuki in silence.

The mood is quite Christmassy

"Ah, it's Naofumi, isn't it?" (Itsuki)

Itsuki spots the flying sled, and calls to us with his hand in the air.

I should ignore him. I would ruin the mood.

But there is no choice as he has noticed me. So I park the sled and go to meet him.

"What are you two doing up so late at night?" (Naofumi)

"Eh, We were watching the village. It puts our hearts at ease." (Itsuki)

"It seems like you were just flirting with Rishia..." (Naofumi)

"How cruel... I don't have such motives. Rishia merely admires me. There is no love involved." (Itsuki)

(TL: (-_))

"Fe~ T-that's right. We are only here for vacation, anyways..."

Rishia hesitated for a moment before she answered, however, Itsuki immediately confirmed her statement.

This is the opposite situation from Ren

"I'm wrong?" (Naofumi)

"Yes, I have no ulterior motives, and Rishia understands this. For now, I am simply training to make sure I do not go down the wrong path."

Rishia is nodding, but her face looks like it is about to cry.

Could this be what me and Raphtalia's situation looks like from an objective viewpoint?

"Ah... Well..." (Naofumi)

"If it's about delivering presents, then we can help." (Itsuki)

"N-no... It's fine" (Naofumi)

Instead of pushing this relationship with Santa's authority, it is probably best to leave it be.

These are the heroes that come to the village the least.

They should be allowed to rest for a while.

“Well, I guessed as much” (Itsuki)

“Ha…” (Naofumi)

Itsuki can sometimes be quite sharp.

It's not like he isn't thinking of me.

“Anyways, this is for you two.” (Naofumi)

I take out two bottles of specially brewed wine and give it to them.

“It's quite potent, so drink in moderation.” (Naofumi)

This is the product of the research me and Ratt had put into the Lucor fruit I had previously been unable to modify.

The alcohol content is quite high, but the taste is decent. I have also put a weak enchantment on it to help it's drinkers share their true feelings.

It is my hope that this will help the two of them open up to each other more

However, in the end, how well it goes is up to Rishia.

“Thank you” (Itsuki)

The result: both of them got extremely drunk and to this day, neither of them can remember what happened.

But it seemed that they had become closer than before by the next morning.

I could use the power of the spirits to check on them, but that would be rude.

After that...

"Na-o-fu-mi-cha-n!!" (Sadina)

Yep, it's the second woman who wishes to corrupt this holy night.

This is why I brought more of that wine.

I throw the bottle with all of my strength at Sadina.

The alcoholic Sadina catches it and starts glugging it down.

As expected, it seems she'll drink any sake if it's close by.

"Ah... this one is quite potent. To weaken me this much with just one bottle... As expected of Naofumi. *hic*" (Sadina)

"I made it with you in mind. I'll also have you speak your true feelings"
(Naofumi)

"I love Naofumi from the bottom of my heart. Hurry and do fun things with Raphtalia so you can do fun things with me... Enough that you forget about Raphtalia." (Sadina)

...These are her true feelings, huh?

Yes. I should run. It's dangerous here.

“Ah, wait~” (Sadina)

I signal for Firo, who is in the sky, to come to my aid, and keep running.

“I told you to wait!” (Sadina)

The drunk Sadina starts to cast magic.

「Revelation • Thunder Bolt X」

Above me, lightning begins to form.

However, I am the Shield Hero, this level of magic won't even feel itchy.

I point my shield to the sky and prepare myself.

But to use Revelation level magic, is she trying to kill me?

“Ara~” (Sadina) (TL: I assume Firo picks him up and flies off at this point)

“Master, let's go to Melty's place as well” (Firo)

“...Yes, lets.” (Naofumi)

This village is dangerous. We fly in the direction of castle.

TATE NO YUUSHA NO NARIAGARI

---

Chapter 385 – Side Story – The Christmas of the Shield [END]

---

The flying sled is on a coarse set for Melomark Castle.

“Wow… how unexpected.” (Queen) (TL: Note, not dead)

Trash and the Queen are on the Castle’s terrace. They seemed to have set up a romantic aura.

I guess even Royalty spends Christmas like this.

I feel bad for ruining the mood and turn to leave, but they call me back.

“I’m sorry for bothering you so late at night.” (Naofumi)

“Were you distributing presents to the villagers?” (Queen)

“Well, I had almost finished, but there someone who wished to corrupt the holy night, and…” (Naofumi)

“I see…” (Trash)

Trash nods with a knowing face. Well, his perceptiveness is his only good quality.

He had guessed the situation from looking at our faces.

“We’ll return by portal in a little bit.” (Naofumi)

“No, no, take your time. Melty is already asleep, but you can at least look at her sleeping face.” (Trash)

"Ah. I understand." (Naofumi)

Trash has changed a lot from back then. For some reason, he is trying to get me and Melty together.

"That's right Iwatani, take your time." (Queen)

The queen also receives us warmly.

"Do you plan to give Melty a Christmas Present?" (Trash)

What is this person saying.

I have no idea what sort of present to give her.

"Wait, Aren't you, Trash, more fit to play the role of Santa for her?"
(Naofumi)

I mean, he has a beard and he's around the correct age.

It seems he will look good in a Santa Suit.

"Your worry is undue." (Trash)

"I'm saying it's ironic. Don't salute me!" (Naofumi)

I don't really feel like dealing with Trash.

"And I'm not brash enough to take away the joy of a parent giving their daughter a present." (Naofumi)

“Well then, we have prepared a present to give her, so why don’t you and my husband put it by her pillow together?” (Queen)

The Queen starts nudging Trash as if she had said a good idea.

It was a terrible idea.

And why do I have to help give it anyways?

“Firo wants to give Melty a present too.” (Firo)

“.....” (Naofumi)

Perfect. This bird can go give Melty a Present, and I can make my leave.

I’ll leave this one to Firo.

“Wait. Master~?” (Firo)

The queen effectively seals off Firo’s movements with a ribbon.

The Queen lifts up Firo, and begins to carry her off.

“Ok, Trash, you go give your present with that Hero. I’ll prepare my own present.” (Queen)

“Eh?!” (Firo)

Firo is looking to me for help.

I didn’t see anything.

“su~.....” (Melty)

She's sleeping quite peacefully. But if I make a wrong move and wake her up, it will be troublesome.

She works quite hard for her age.

I lightly stroke her forehead, and leave the box along with the Queen's present.

"See you Firo. Play nicely with Melty" (Naofumi)

"Yes!" (Firo)

"Okay, let's go, Trash." (Naofumi)

"Iwatani, why don't you sleep with them as well" (Trash)

"Surely you jest" (Naofumi)

Why do I have to sleep with Melty?

I can imagine what sort of face she will make when she gets up

"But if Iwatani doesn't sleep in the same bed as Melty, what meaning does Christmas hold?" (Trash)

...Trash. It seems he has no plans of backing off.

Ku...Even here, there are people trying to corrupt my holy night.

But you have made some grave errors on your calculations.

Those would be the fact that I am a Hero that holds special power, and the fact that Rafu is here.

“Rafu!” (Naofumi)

“What are you doing, Iwatani?” (Trash)

I suddenly take out Rafu, who had been hiding. Trash is speechless.

“If you go any further, then your princess just might wake up…” (Naofumi)

“GU…” (Trash)

I stare at Trash in silence.

I don’t know if he gave up, but Trash left the room.

… or not.

“If you say that much, I will give up for now, but next time… I will have other plans.” (Trash)

…As expected of a king. This much isn’t enough to make him give up.

“See ya, Firo” (Naofumi)

“Cya, Good Night!” (Firo)

Me and Rafu went outside, and used the Portal to return home.

(TL: It’s a bit late, but this seems to be the equivalent of Teleport, Warp, Mr. Gency, Return Door, you get the point)

“Ah… I’m tired.” (Naofumi)

Rafu and I, who had warped back to my house, sit down and sigh.

Sadina? She was drunk and collapsed at the village entrance.

I look to the sky, and wonder if she’ll be okay… No, she’ll be just fine, let’s leave her be.

I mean, she’s really, REALLY strong against the cold.

“Good work.” (Rafatalia)

The door to my room opens, and Rafatalia comes out.

“You should go to sleep. Santa won’t visit you.” (Naofumi)

I have the last few present inside of my sack.

I planned to put one by Rafatalia’s pillow, but…

“Of course I know Santa isn’t real, Naofumi was doing Santa’s role this year, correct?” (Rafatalia)

“Say what?” (Naofumi)

“There’s no way I wouldn’t know” (Rafatalia)

“Hmm… That’s true, but I still hoped you hadn’t figured it out.” (Naofumi)

I wanted Rafatalia to remain as a dream-filled child.

Like Female Knight.

“Your actual age is quite low, isn’t it? Act your age, dream more.”
(Naofumi)

“What sort of logic is that…” (Rafatalia)

“Rafu~” (Rafu)

“Oh I have one for you too, Rafu” (Naofumi)

I take out Rafu’s present from the sack and hand it to him.

By the way, Firo’s present was the dinner and the task of delivering presents in itself.

Rafu didn’t really want anything, so I arbitrarily picked something out for him.

“Rafu~!” (Rafu)

Rafu, who had already opened his present, was admiring the Plush animal I had made of him.

Yes, Pets should behave cutely like this.

“And for Rafatalia is this.” (Naofumi)

And with that I have given away the last present.

Inside is clothing. I thought Rafatalia would look good in Japanese clothes, so I had them made.

I had placed the order a long time ago, but this and that happened, so I was only able to pick them up recently.

Which is why I am presenting them to her now.

“Ah, thank you” (Rafatalia)

“Then, should we go to sleep?” (Naofumi)

“What about you?” (Rafatalia)

“Me? Why would I give a present to myself?” (Naofumi)

“I see... then...” (Rafatalia)

And Rafatalia hands me two boxes.

The first one is quite big.

“This is...?” (Naofumi)

“It’s a present from everyone, and a present from me.” (Rafatalia)

The big one contained a letter, and materials used to repair and upgrade equipment

I guess the villagers had noticed. Recently my equipment had been getting worn down, and I was divided on whether or not to send them in for repairs.

The letter contained words of thanks towards me.

As for Rafatalia's... It's a plush doll of Rafatalia and me. It is the perfect scale to go as a set with Rafu's plushy.

"Thank you very-." (Naofumi)

I honestly thanked her.

Before I noticed it I had spoken my mind. I force a smile

"Now then, Let us go to sleep. There's still the Christmas present I have to prepare for tomorrow."

It's the monster's requests of 'Play with me' that I still have to fulfill.

"Okay." (Rafatalia)

"Rafu~!" (Rafu)

"Tonight is cold, so let's sleep together" (Naofumi) (TL: ( ° ۞ ° ))

"Y-yes!" (Rafatalia)

"However, we won't be corrupting this holy night, or the perverted women will take me away." (Naofumi)

(TL: I think the other women have come to agreement to be second in line.)

...

...?

When I get up, I find something on my pillow.

I start to get up to check its identity.

Lying there is a present I don't remember seeing when I went to sleep.

Who could it be from?

I look inside to make sure it isn't a present I forgot to deliver.

Inside is a single photograph.

It's a photo of my former world. I am in the center and around me are Rafatalia, Atlas, my family and my old friends.

It's quite a lively scene.

There aren't many people who would be able to obtain such an item

For me to be able to make this sort of face... I guess this a present from myself.

It's probably from the me in that world to the me in this world.

It looks like I'm having fun over there as well.

It's not like I have any intentions of returning

I had long thrown away such ambitions.

"Niichan, Niichan!" (Kiel)

I hear the sound of the children running around with their new toys.

That's right, right now I'm living a happy enough life that the me over there would be jealous.

Is what I think as I get out of bed.

キャラクターデザイン案
岩谷 尚文

Iwatani Naofumi

スモールシールド

裏の笑顔

Raphtalia

Firo (Human)

キャラクターデザイン案
フイロ (鳥型)

Firo (Bird)

キャラクターデザイン案
奴隷商&王

King Aulteray Melromarc XXXII

Slave Dealer

Melty Melromarc

Glass

グラス

キャラクターデザイン案
北村 元康

Kitamura Motoyasu

元康

決闘時装備・矛

初期装備・槍

Kawasumi Itsuki

(キャラクターデザイン案)
川澄 樹

初期装備・弓

樹

Amaki Ren

キャラクターデザイン案
天木 錬

初期装備剣

錬

キャラクターデザイン案
教皇

三勇教シンボル

Pope

教皇

Queen Mirelia Q. Melromarc

(キャラクターデザイン案)
女王

キャラクターデザイン案
人型フィットリア

Fitoria

フィットリア (人型)

フィットリア (クイン型)

Fitoria (Bird)

フィットリア (ソリアル型)

Malty Melromarc

(キャラクターデザイン案)
メイン

メイン

キャラクターデザイン案
キール

Kiel

キール

キャラクターデザイン案
サディナ(ナディア)

Sadina

サディナ

(キャラクターデザイン案)
アトラ

Atlas

アトラ

Fohl

フォウル